Description

The Bishops' version, the translation overseen by Matthew Parker.

Part of the exhibition: ’Manifold greatness: the making of the King James Bible’, 22 Apr. - 4 Sept. 2011. Caption: Annotated Bishops’ Bible, 1602. At the beginning of the translation process, forty unbound copies of the 1602 edition of the Bishops’ Bible were distributed to the translators to serve as the basis for their translation. The only surviving sheets from these Bibles are bound together in this copy described at the time of its acquisition by the Bodleian as ‘a large Bible wherein is written downe all the Alterations of the last Translacion’. The annotations appear in parts of the Old and New Testaments and reflect the work-in-progress of four of the six translating companies.

Part of the exhibition ’Babel: adventures in translation’ (February-June 2019). Caption: As many as 47 translators worked together to produce the 1611 ‘Authorized’ or ‘King James’ version of the Bible. They drew on previous translations, including especially the ‘Bishops’ Bible’ of 1568. One of the King James translators used this copy. His marginal notes reveal the collaborative process of translation in a community of faith.

Of the Golden nnmber.

THe Golden number is so called, because it was written in the Calender with letters of golde, right at the day whereon the Moone changed: and it is the space of 19 yeeres, in the which the Moone returneth to the selfe same day of the yeere of the Sunne: and therefore it is also called the Cycle of the Moone, in the which the Solstices and Equinoctials do returne to all one point in the Zodiaque.

To finde it euery yeere, you must adde one yeere to the yeere of Christ (for Christ was borne one yeere of the 19 already past) then diuide the whole by 19, and that which resteth, is the Golden number for that yeere: if there be no surplusage, it is then 19.

The Epact.

EPactæ hemeræ in Greeke, doth signifie in English, dayes set betweene, and therefore the 11 dayes and 3 houres that are added to the yeere of the Moone, are called Epactæ, and are added to make the yeere of the Moone, which is but 354 dayes, iust with the yeere of the Sunne, which hath 365 dayes and a quarter.

To finde out the Epact of ech yeere, do thus: To the Epact of the yeere that last went before that yere for which you would finde the Epact, adde 11, and the summe of these two make the Epact. If it surmount 30, then take 30 out, and that which resteth aboue 30, is the Epact you desire.

The vse of the Epact.

TO know how olde the Moone is at any time for euer by the Epact, do thus: Adde vnto the dayes of your moneth wherein you would know this, the Epact, and as many dayes moe as are moneths from March to that moneth, including both moneths, out of the which substract 30 as often as you may, the age remaineth: if nothing remaine, the Moone changeth that day.

For the more ease of the Reader, we haue placed here ouer an Almanacke, inclusiuely compzehending, not onely how to finde the Epact for the space of 30 yeeres to come, but also the Golden number afore specified, together with the Dominicall letter, Leape yeere, and seuen other moueable feasts, or dayes in the yeere, during the same time, as may appeare.

¶ Note that the Golden number and Dominicall letter doeth change euery yeere the first day of Januarie, and the Epact the first day of March for euer. Note also, that the yeere of our Lord beginneth the xxv. day of March, the same day supposed to be the first day vpon which the world was created, and the day when Christ was conceiued in the wombe of the virgin Mary.

¶ A Prologue

fol. B2v

A Prologue or Preface made by Thomas Cranmer, ſometime Archbiſhop of Canterburie.

CONcerning two ſundrie ſortes of people, it ſeemeth much neceſſarie that ſome thing be ſaid in the entrie of this booke by the way of a Preface or Prologue, whereby hereafter it may be both the better accepted of them which hitherto could not well beare it, and alſo better vſed of them which heretofore haue miſuſed it. For truely ſome there are that be too ſlowe, and neede the ſpurre: ſome other ſeeme too quicke, and neede more of the bridle: ſome looſe their game by ſhort ſhooting, ſome by ouer ſhooting: ſome walke too much on the left hand, ſome too much on the right. In the former ſort be all they that refuſe to read, or to heare read the Scripture in the vulgar tongue, much worſe they that let alſo or diſcourage the other from the reading or hearing thereof. In the latter ſort be they which by their inordinate reading, indiſcrete ſpeaking, contentious diſputing, or otherwiſe by their licentious liuing, ſlander and hinder the word of God moſt of all other, wherof they would ſeeme to be greateſt furtherers. Theſe two ſorts, albeit they be moſt farre vnlike the one to the other, yet they both deſerue in effect like reproch: neither can I well tell whether of them I may iudge the more offender, him that doth obſtinately refuſe ſo godly and goodly knowledge: or him that ſo vngodly and ſo vngoodly doth abuſe the ſame. And as touching the former, I would marueil much that any man ſhould be ſo mad, as to refuſe in darkeneſſe, light: in hunger, food: in colde, fire: for the worde of God is light: Lucerna pedibus meis verbum tuum. Thy word is a lanterne vnto my feete. Pſal. 119. 105. It is food: Non in ſolo pane viuit homo, ſed in omni verbo Dei. Man ſhall not liue by bread onely, but by euerie word of God. Matt 4.4. Luke 12. 49. It is fire: Ignem veni mittere in terram, & quid volo, niſi vt ardeat? I am come to ſend fire on the earth, and what is my deſire, but that it be kindled? I would marueile (I ſay at this) ſaue that I conſider how much cuſtome and vſage may doe. So that if there were a people as ſome write, de Cymerijs, which neuer ſaw the Sunne, by reaſon that they be ſituated farre toward the North pole, and be incloſed and ouerſhadowed with high mountaines: it is credible and like ynough, that if by the power and will of God, the mountaines ſhould ſinke downe, and giue place, that the light of the ſunne might haue entrance to them, at the firſt ſome of them would be offended therwith. And the old prouerbe affirmeth, that after tillage of corne was firſt found, many delighted more to feede of maſte and acornes, wherewith they had beene accuſtomed, then to eate bread made of good corne. Such is the nature of cuſtome, that it cauſeth vs to beare all things well and eaſily wherewith we haue bene accuſtomed, and to be offended with all things thereunto contrarie. And therefore I can well thinke them worthy pardon, which at the comming abroad of Scripture, doubted and drewe backe. But ſuch as wil perſiſt ſtill in their wilfulneſſe, I muſt needs iudge not only fooliſh, froward, and obſtinate: but alſo peeuiſh, peruerſe, and indurate. And yet, if the matter ſhould be tryed by cuſtome, wee might alſo alledge cuſtome for the reading of the Scripture in the vulgar tongue, and preſcribe the more ancient cuſtome. For it is not much aboue one hundreth yeres agoe, ſince ſcripture hath not bene accuſtomed to be read in the vulgar tongue within this Realme, and many hundreth yeres before that, it was tranſlated and read in the Sarons tongue, which at that time was our mother tongue, whereof there remaine yet diuers copies found lately in old Abbeys, of ſuch antique maner of writing and ſpeaking, that fewe men now be able to reade and vnderſtand them. And when this language waxed old and out of common vſage, becauſe folke ſhould not lacke the fruit of reading, it was againe tranſlated into the newer language, whereof yet many copies remaine, and be daily found.

But now to let paſſe cuſtome, and to weigh, as wiſe men euer ſhould, the thing in his owne nature: let vs here diſcuſſe what it auaileth Scripture to be had and read of the lay and vulgar people. And to this queſtion I intend here to ſay nothing, but that was ſpoken and written by the noble doctour and moſt worthy diuine, S. Iohn Chryſoſtome, in his his third sermon de Lazaro, albeit I will be something shorter, and gather the matter into fewer words and lesse roome then he doeth there, because I would not be tedious. He exhorteth there his audience, that euery man should reade by himselfe at home in the meane dayes and time, betweene sermon and sermon, to the intent they might both more profoundly fixe in their mindes and memories that hee had said before vpon such textes, whereupon hee had already preached: and also that they might haue their mindes the more readie and better prepared to receiue and perceiue that which hee should say from thencefoorth in his Sermons, vpon such textes as hee had not yet declared and preached vpon: therefore sayth hee there, My common vsage is to giue you warning before, what matter I intend after to intreat vpon, that you your selues in the meane dayes, may take the booke in hand, read, weigh, and perceiue the summe and effect of the matter, & marke what hath beene declared, and what remaineth yet to be declared, so that thereby your mind may be the more furnished to heare the rest that shalbe said. And that I exhort you (sayth he) and euer haue and will exhort you, that you (not onely here in the Church) giue eare to that that is sayd by the Preacher: but that also when you be at home in your houses, ye apply your selues from time to time to the reading of holy Scriptures: which thing also I neuer lin to beat into the eares of them that be my familiars, & with whome I haue priuate acquaintance and conuersation. Let no man make excuse and say, (sayth he) I am busied about matters of the commonwealth, I beare this office, or that, I am a craftesman, I must apply mine occupation, I haue a wife, my children must be fed, my houshold must I prouide for, briefly I am a man of the world, it is not for me to read the Scriptures, that belongeth to them that haue bidden the world farewell, which liue in solitarinesse, and contemplation, and haue beene brought vp and continually nuzled in learning and religion. To this answering, what sayest thou man (sayth he:) Is it not for thee to studie and to read the Scripture, because thou art encumbred and distract with cares and businesse: So much the more it is behouefull for thee to haue defence of scriptures, how much thou art the more distressed in worldly dangers. They that be free and farre from trouble and intermedling of worldly things, liue in safegard and tranquillitie, and in the calme, or within a sure hauen. Thou art in the middest of the sea of worldly wickednesse, and therefore thou needest the more of ghostly succour and comfort. They sit farre from the strokes of battell, and farre out of gun shot, and therefore they be but seldome wounded. Thou that standest in the forefront of the hoste, and nighest to thine enemies, must needs take now and then many strokes, and be grieuously wounded, and therefore thou hast most neede to haue thy remedies and medicines at hand. Thy wife prouoketh thee to anger, thy childe giueth thee occasion to take sorow and pensiuenesse, thine enemies lye in wait for thee, thy friend (as thou takest him) sometime enuieth thee, thy neighbour misreporteth thee, or picketh quarels against thee, thy mate or partner vndermineth thee, thy lord, iudge, or iustice threatneth thee, pouertie is painefull vnto thee, the losse of thy deare and welbeloued causeth thee to mourne, prosperitie exalteth thee, aduersitie bringeth thee low: briefly, so diuers and so manifold occasions of cares, tribulations, and temptations beset thee, and besiege thee round about. Where canst thou haue armour or fortresse against thine assaults: where canst thou haue salues for thy sores, but of holy Scripture: Thy flesh must needs be prone and subiect to fleshly lustes, which daily walkest and art conuersant among women, seest their beautie set foorth to the eye, hearest their nice and wanton words, smellest their balme, ciuet, and muske, with many other like prouocations and stirrings: except thou hast in a readinesse wherewith to suppresse and auoid them, which cannot elsewhere be had, but onely out of the holy Scriptures. Let vs reade and seeke all remedies that we can, & all shall be little ynough). How shall we then doe, if we suffer and take daily wounds, and when wee haue done, will sit still, and search for no medecines: Doest thou not marke and consider how the smith, mason, or carpenter, or any other handicraftes man, What need soeuer he be in, what other shift soeuer hee make, hee will not sell nor lay to pledge thy tooles of his occupation: for then how should he worke his feat, or get his liuing thereby: Of like mind and affection ought we be towards holy Scripture. For as mallets, hammers, sawes, chesils, axes, and hatchets be the tooles of their occupation: so be the bookes of the Prophets and Apostles, and all holy Writers inspired by the holy Ghost, the instruments of our saluation. Wherefore let vs not sticke to buy and prouide vs the Bible, that is to say, the bookes of holy Scripture, and let vs thinke that to be a better iewell in our house, then either golde or siluer. For like as theeues be loth to assault an house where they know to be good armour and artillerie: ſo whereſoeuer theſe holy and ghoſtly bookes be occupied, there neither the deuill nor none of his angels dare come neere. And they that occupie them be in much ſafegard, and haue a great conſolation, and be the readyer vnto all goodneſſe, the ſlower vnto all euill: and if they haue done any thing amiſſe, anon euen by the ſight of the books their conſciences be admoniſhed, and they waxe ſorie and aſhamed of the fact. Peraduenture they will ſay vnto me, How and if we vnderſtand not that we read, that is conteined in the bookes? What then? Suppoſe thou vnderſtand not the deepe and profound myſteries of Scriptures, yet can it not be but that much fruit & holineſſe muſt come and growe vnto thee by the reading: for it cannot be that thou ſhouldeſt be ignorant in all things alike. For the holy Ghoſt hath ſo ordered and attempered the Scriptures, that in them aſwell publicanes, fiſhers, and ſhepheards may find their edification, as great doctors their erudition. For thoſe bookes were not made to vaineglorie, like as were the writings of the gentile Philoſophers and Rhetoricians, to the intent the makers ſhould be had in admiration for their high ſtiles and obſcure maner and writing, whereof nothing can be vnderſtanded without a maſter or an expoſitor: But the Apoſtles and Prophets wrote their bookes ſo, that their ſpeciall intent and purpoſe might be vnderſtanded and perceiued of euery reader, which was nothing but the edification of amendment of the life of them that reade or heare it. Who is it that reading or hearing read in the Goſpel, Bleſſed are they that be meeke, Bleſſed are they that be mercifull, Bleſſed are they that be of cleane heart, & ſuch other like places, can perceiue nothing except he haue a maſter to teach him What it meaneth? Likewiſe the ſigns and miracles, with all other hiſtories of the doings of Chriſt or his Apoſtles, who is there of ſo ſimple wit and capacitie, but he may be able to perceiue and vnderſtand them? Theſe be but excuſes and cloke for the raine, & couerings of their owne ſlothfulneſſe. But ſtill ye will ſay, I cannot vnderſtand it. What marueile? How ſhouldeſt thou vnderſtand, if thou wilt not read nor looke vpon it? Take the bookes into thine hands, reade the whole ſtorie, and that thou vnderſtandeſt keepe it well in memorie: that thou vnderſtandeſt not read it againe, and againe: if thou can neither ſo come by it, counſell with ſome other that is better learned. Goe to thy Curate and Preacher, ſhew thy ſelfe to be deſirous to know and learne: and I doubt not but God ſeeing thy diligence and readineſſe (if no man elſe teach thee) will himſelfe vouchſafe with his holy ſpirit to illuminate thee, and to open vnto thee that which was locked from thee. Remember the Eunuch of Candace Queene of Ethiopia, which albeit he was a man of a wild and barbarous countrey, and one occupied with worldly cares and buſineſſe, yet riding in his charet, he was reading the Scripture. Now conſider, if this man paſſing in his iourney was ſo diligent as to read the Scripture: what thinkeſt thou of like was he wont to doe ſitting at home? Againe, he that letted not to read, albeit he did not vnderſtand: what did he then troweſt thou after that, when he had learned and gotten vnderſtanding? For that thou mayeſt well know that he vnderſtood not what hee read, hearken what Philip ſayth there vnto him, Vnderſtandeſt thou what thou readeſt? And hee nothing aſhamed to confeſſe his ignorance, anſwered, How ſhould I vnderſtand, hauing no body to ſhew me the way? Lo when he lacked one to ſhew him the way, & to expound to him the Scriptures, yet did he reade: and therefore God the rather prouided for him a guide of the way, that taught him to vnderſtand it. God perceiued his willing and toward mind, and therefore he ſent him a teacher by and by. Therfore let no man be negligent about his owne health and ſaluation. Though thou haue not Philip allwaies when thou wouldeſt, the holy ghoſt which then mooued and ſtirred vp Philip, will be readie and not faile thee, if thou doe thy diligence accordingly. All theſe things be written vnto vs for our edification and amendment, which be borne toward the latter end of the world. The reading of the Scriptures is a great and ſtrong bulwarke or fortreſſe againſt ſinne: the ignorance of the ſame is a greater ruine and deſtruction of them that will not know it. That is the thing that bringeth in hereſie, that is it that cauſeth all corrupt and peruerſe liuing, that is it that bringeth all things out of good order.

Hitherto all that I haue ſayd, I haue taken and gathered out of the foreſaid Sermon of this holy doctor S. Iohn Chryſoſtome. Now if I ſhould in like maner bring forth what the ſelfeſame doctor ſpeaketh in other places, and what other doctors & Writers ſay concerning the ſame purpoſe, I might ſeeme to you to write another Bible, rather then to make a Preface to the Bible. Wherefore in few words to comprehend the largeneſſe and vtilitie of the Scriptures, how it containeth fruitfull inſtruction and erudition for euery man, if any thing be neceſſary to be learned, of the holy Scripture wee may learne it. If falshood shalbe reprooued, thereof we may gather wherewithall. If any thing be to be corrected and amended, if there need any exhortation or consolation, of the Scripture we may well learne. In the scriptures be the fat pastures of the soule, therin is no venemous meat, no vnwholesome thing, they be the very daintie and pure feeding. He that is ignorant shall finde there what he should learne: he that is a peruerse sinner, shall there finde his damnation, to make him to tremble for feare. He that laboureth to serue God, shall finde there his glory, & the promissions of eternall life, exhorting him more diligently to labour. Herein may princes learne how to gouerne their subiects: subiects obedience, loue, & dread to their princes: husbands how they should behaue them vnto their wiues, how to educate their children and seruants: and contrary, the wiues, children, & seruants, may know their dutie to their husbands, parents, and masters. Here all maner of persons, men, women, young, olde, learned, vnlearned, rich, poore, priests, lay men, lords, ladies, officers, tenants, & meane men, virgins, wiues, Widowes, lawyers, merchants, artificers, husbandmen, and al maner of persons, of what estate or condition soeuer they be, may in this booke learne all things what they ought to beleeue, what they ought to doe, and what they should not doe, aswell concerning Almightie God, as also concerning themselues and all other. Briefly, to the reading of the Scripture none can be enemie, but that either be so sick that they loue not to heare of any medicine, or else that be so ignorant that they know not Scripture to bee the most healthfull medicine. Therefore as touching this former part, I wil here conclude, & take it for a conclusion, sufficiently determined and appointed, That it is conuenient & good, the Scriptures to be read of all sorts and kinds of people, and in the vulgar tongue, without further allegations or probations for the same, which shall not need, since that this one place of S. Iohn Chrysostome is ynough, and sufficient to perswade all them that be not frowardly and peruerstly set in their owne wilfull opinion, specially now that the Kings highnesse being supreme head next vnder Christ of this Church of England, hath approued with his royall assent the setting forth hereof, which onely to all true and obedient subiects ought to be a sufficient reason for the allowance of the same, without further delay, reclamation, or resistance, although there were no Preface, or other reason herein expressed.

Conclusion.

The Kings highnesse hath allowed § Scripture, as necessary for vs.

Therefore now to come to the second or latter part of my purpose: Here is nothing so good in this World, but it may be abused, and turned from vnhurtfull and wholesome, to hurtfull and noysome. What is there aboue better then the Sunne, the Moone, and the starres? Yet was there that tooke occasion by the great beautie and vertue of them, to dishonour God, and to defile themselues with idolatrie, giuing the honour of the liuing God and creator of all things, to such things as he had created. What is there here beneath better then fire, Water, meates, drinkes, mettals of golde, siluer, yron, and steele? Yet we see daily great harme and much mischiefe done by euery one of these, aswell for lacke of wisdome and prouidence of them that suffer euill, as by the malice of them that worke the euill. Thus to them that be euill of themselues, euery thing setteth forward and increaseth their euill, be it of his owne nature a thing neuer so good: like as contrarily, to them that studie and indeuour themselues to goodnesse, euery thing preuaileth them, and profiteth vnto good, be it of his owne nature a thing neuer so bad, as S. Paul sayth, His qui diligunt Deum, omnia cooperantur in bonum. All things doe bring good successe to such as doe lone God, euen as out of most venemous wormes is made triacle, the most soueraigne medicine for the preseruation of mans health in the time of danger. Wherefore I would aduise you all that come to the reading or hearing of this book, which is the word of God, the most precious iewell and most holy relique that remaineth vpon earth, that yee bring with you the feare of God, and that ye doe it with all due reuerence, and vse your knowledge thereof, not to vaineglorie of friuolous disputation: but to the honour of God, encrease of vertue, and edification both of your selues and others. And to the intent that my words may be the more regarded, I will vse in this part the authoritie of S. Gregorie Nazianzene, like as in the other I did of S. Iohn Chrysostome. It appeareth that in his time there were some (as I feare me there be also now at these dayes a great number) which were idle braglers, and talkers of the Scripture out of season & all good order, and without any increase of vertue, or example of good liuing: to them he writeth all his first booke de Theologia. Wherefore I shall briefly gather the whole effect, & recite it here vnto you. There be some (saith he) whose not onely eares and tongues, but also their fists be whetted and ready bent all to contention and vnprofitable disputation, whome I would wish as they be vehement and earnest to reason the matter with tongue, so they were al ready and practiue to doe good deeds. But forasmuch as they subuerting the order of all godlinesse, haue respect only to this thing, How they may binde and loose subtile questions, so that now euery market place, euery alehouse and tauerne, euery feasthouse, briefly euery companie of men, euery assembly of women, is filled with such talke: Since the matter is so (sayth he) and that our faith and holy religion of Christ beginneth to ware nothing else but as it were a sophistrie or a talking craft, I can no lesse do but say somthing thereunto. It is not fit (sayth hee) for euery man to dispute the high questions of diuinitie, neither is it to be done at all times, neither in euery audience must we discusse euery doubt: but we must know when, to whome, and how farre we ought to enter into such matters. First, it is not for euery man, but it is for such as be of exact, and exquisite iudgements, and such as haue spent their time before in studie and contemplation, and such as before haue cleansed themselues aswell in soule as body, or at least endeuoured themselues to be made cleane. For it is dangerous (sayth hee) for the vncleane to touch that thing which is most cleane, like as the sore eye taketh harme by looking vpon the Sunne. Secondarily, not at all times, but when we be reposed, and at rest from all outward dregs and trouble, and when that our heads be not encumbred with other worldly and wandring imaginations: as if a man should mingle balme and dirt together. For he that shall iudge and determine such matters and doubts of Scriptures, must take his time when he may apply his wits thereunto, that he may thereby the better see & discerne what is trueth. Thirdly, where, and in what audience. There and among those that haue bene studious to learne: and not among such as haue pleasure to trifle with such matters, as with other things of pastime, which repute for their chiefe delicates, the disputation of high questions, to shewe their wits, learning, and eloquence in reasoning of high matters. Fourthly, it is to be considered how farre to wade in such matters of difficultie. No further (saith he) but as euerie mans owne capacitie will serue him, and againe no further then the weakenesse or intelligence of the other audience may beare. For like as too great noyse hurteth the eare, too much meate hurteth the mans body, heauie burdens hurt the bearers of them, too much raine doeth more hurt then good to the ground: briefly in all things too much is noyous: euen so weake wits, and weake consciences, may soone be oppressed with ouer hard questions. I say not this to dissuade men from the knowledge of God, and reading or studying of the Scripture: For I say that it is as necessarie for the life of mans soule, as for the body to breathe. And if it were possible so to liue, I would thinke it good for a man to spend all his life in that, and doe none other thing. I commend the Lawe which biddeth to meditate and study the Scriptures allwaies both night and day, and sermons and preachings to be made both morning, noone, and euentide, and God to be lauded and blessed in all times, to bedward, from bed, in our iournies, and in all other workes. I forbid not to read, but I forbid to reason: neither forbid I to reason so farre as is good and godly: but I allow not that is done out of season, and out of measure and good order. A man may eat too much of honie be it neuer so sweet, and there is time for euery thing, and that thing that is good is not good if it be vngodly done. Euen as a floure in Winter is out of season, and as a womans apparell becommeth not a man, neither contrarily the mans the woman, neither is weeping conuenient at a brideale, neither laughing at a buriall. Now if we can obserue and keepe that is comely and timely in all other things: shal not we then the rather doe the same in holy Scriptures? Let vs not runne forth as it were wild horses, that can suffer neither bridle in their mouthes, nor sitter on their backs. Let vs keepe vs in our bounds, and neither let vs goe too far on the one side, least we returne into Egypt, neither too far ouer the other, least we be caried away to Babylon. Let vs not sing the song of our Lord in a strange land, that is to say, let vs not dispute the word of God at all aduentures, as well where it is not to be reasoned as where it is, and aswell in the eares of them that be not fit therefore, as of them that be. If we can in no wise forbeare, but that we must needs dispute, let vs forbeare thus much at the least, to doe it out of time and place conuenient: and let vs entreat of those things that be holy, holily: and vpon those things that be mystical, mystically: and not to vtter the diuine mysteries in the eares vnworthie to heare them, but let vs know what is comely, as well in our silence and talking, as in our garments wearing, in our feeding, in our gesture, in our goings, in all our other behauing. This contention and debates about Scriptures & doubts thereof (specially when such as doe pretend to be the fauourers and students thereof, cannot agree within themselues) doth most hurt to our selues, and to the furthering of the cause and quarels that we should haue furthered aboue all other things. And we in this, sayth he,

he, be not vnlike to them that being mad, set their owne houses on fire, and that slay their owne children, or beat their owne parents. I marueile much (sayth he) to recount whereof commeth all this desire of vaineglorie, Whereof commeth all this tongue itch, that we haue so much delight to talke and clatter: And Wherein is our communication: Not in the commendation of vertuous and good deedes, of hospitalititie, of loue betweene Christian brother and brother, of loue betweene man and wife, of virginitie and chastitie, and of almes toward the poore: not in Psalmes and godly songs, not in lamenting for our sinnes, not in repressing the affections of the body, not in prayers to God. Wee talke of Scripture, but in the meane time we subdue not our flesh by fasting, watching, and weeping, we make not this life a meditation of death, wee doe not striue to be lords ouer our appetites and affections, we goe not about to pull downe our proud and high mindes, to abate our rumish and rancorous stomacks, to restraine our lust and bodily delectations, our vndiscrete forowes, our lasciuious mirth, our inordinate looking, our insatiable hearing of vanities, our speaking without measure, our inconuenient thoughts, and briefly, to reforme our life and maners: but all our holinesse consisteth in talking. And wee pardon each other from all good liuing, so that wee may sticke fast together in argumentation, as though there were no moe wayes to heauen but this alone, the way of speculation and knowledge (as they take it) but in very deed it is rather the way of superfluous contention and sophistication.

Hitherto haue I recited the mind of Gregorie Nazianzene in that booke which I spake of before. The same author saith also in another place, That the learning of a Christian man ought to begin of the feare of God, to end in matters of high speculation: and not contrarily to begin with speculation, and to end in feare. For speculation (saith he) either high cunning or knowledge, if it be not stayed with the bridle of feare to offend God, is dangerous, and ynough to tumble a man headlong downe the hill. Therefore, saith he, the feare of God must be the first beginning, and as it were an A.B.C. or an introduction to all them that shall enter into the very true and most fruitful knowledge of holy Scriptures. Where as is the holy feare of God, there is (sayth he) the keeping of the commandements: and where as is the keeping of the commaundements, there is the cleansing of the flesh: which flesh is a cloud before the soules eye, and suffereth it not purely to see the beame of the heauenly light. Where as is the cleansing of the flesh, there is the illumination of the holy Ghost, the end of all our desires, and the very light whereby the veritie of Scriptures is seene and perceiued. This is the mind, and almost the words of Gregory Nazianzene, doctor of the Greeke Church, of whom S. Ierome saith, That vnto this time the Latine Church had no writer able to be compared, and to make an euen match with him. Therefore to conclude this latter part, Euery man that commeth to the reading of this holy booke, ought to bring with him first and formost this feare of Almightie God, and then next, a firme and stable purpose to reforme his owne selfe according thereunto, and so to continue, proceed, and prosper from time to time, shewing himselfe to be a sober and fruitfull hearer and learner: which if he doe, hee shall prooue at length well able to teach, though not with his mouth, yet with his liuing and good example, which is sure the most liuely and effectuous forme and maner of teaching. Hee that otherwise intermedleth with this booke, let him be assured that once he shall make account therefore, when he shall haue said to him as it is written in the Prophet Dauid, Peccatori dicit Deus, &c. Vnto the vngodly sayde God, why doest thou preach my lawes, and takest my testament in thy mouth: whereas thou hatest to be reformed, and hast bene partaker with adulterers. Thou hast let thy mouth speake wickednesse, and with thy tongue thou hast set forth deceit. Thou satest and spakest against thy brother, and hast slandered thine owne mothers sonne. These things hast thou done, and I held my tongue, and thou thoughtest wickedly, that I am euen such a one as thy selfe: But I will reprooue thee, and set before thee the things that thou hast done. O consider this, yee that forget God, least I plucke you away, and there be none to deliuer you. Who so offereth me thankes and praise, he honoureth me: and to him that ordereth his conuersation right, will I shew the saluation of God.

Praise be to God.

The whole Scripture of the Bible is diuided into two Teſtaments, the Olde Teſtament and the Newe, which booke is of diuers natures, ſome Legall, ſome Hiſtoricall, ſome Sapientiall, and ſome Propheticall. The old teacheth by figures and ceremonies, that the Lawe was giuen terribly in lightning and thundring, to induce the people to the obſeruance thereof by feare. The new Teſtament came in more glorioufly with the gentle name of the Goſpel, and good tidings, to induce men to obſerue it by loue.

¶ This Table setteth out to the eye the Genealogie of Adam, so passing by the Patriarches, Iudges, Kings, Prophets and Priests, and the Fathers of their time, continuing in lineall descent to Christ our Sauiour.

A. Adam, the first man, was formed by God of the dust of the ground, and placed in Paradise, out of the which do spring the foure notable floods. And Adam gaue name to the woman, which was made of his ribbe (while he was a sleepe) & called her Eua, as he gaue name to all other creatures. And after he had consented vnto her for eating of the apple which was forbidden them, their eyes were opened, and they knew they were naked, and therefore they made themselues aprons of fig leaues. And God driue them out of Paradise, and set Cherubins and a fierie two edged sword to keepe the way of the tree of life: And after he had rebuked him, his wife and the serpent, he cursed the earth with thorne and thistle, and he was enioyned to get his bread in the sweat of his face. Who begat thirty sonnes & thirty daughters, besides Cain and Abel, as followeth. He liued yeeres nine hundred and thirty. Gene. 5.5.

B. Cain was a husbandman, and being displeased that his offerings were reproued, and not his brother Abels, (although he was rebuked of God for his enuie) slew his brother, and offended seuen fold therby. After that, he was vnder a curse and a vagabond vpon the earth: for he was accursed of God, and was seuen folde punished vnto the seuenth generation. His sinne was seuen folde: For first, he did not rightly diuide: secondly, he enuied his brother: thirdly, he dealt subtilly: fourthly, he killed him: fifthly, he stubbornly denied it: sixtly, he despaired: seuenthly, being condemned, he repented not. Gen. 4. 13. This Cain was the first builder of the earthly city, in the which he bestowed his children for fear, because he vsed violence, rauine and spoile. Genesis 4.17.

C. Iabel did first deuise the shepheards cabones to be readily carried about. He was the first which made distinction betwixt the flockes of sheepe and the flockes of kinde, according to their age and qualitie, and did deuide them asunder. Genesis 4.20.

D. Iubal was the father of them which sung in harpe and organs, not finder of the instruments, but inuenter of the art of musicke, to the intent that the shepheards labours might be somewhat recreated: and lest that the art of musicke should decay, hee graued the whole science in two pillars, the one of marble against the floods, the other of bricke against the fire. Genesis 4.21.

E. Tubalcain was the first inuenter of Smiths arte, and of grauing worke in metall: by whose noise, Iubal his brother hauing delectation in the sound of his hammers, was the first that deuised proportions, and harmonies springing out of them. Genesis 4.22.

F. Of Heber came the name of the Hebrewes, because in his familie the ancient tongue of the Iewes was kept, notwithstanding the diuision of tongues. Genesis 11. 17.

G. Peleg liued when the diuision of the tongues was made, at the building of the tower of Babel in the land of Semnaar, in whose family the most ancient tongue of the Hebrewes did remaine. Hee was called Peleg, that is, Diuided from other: For God diuided all the children of men into three score and twelue tongues, of the which, onely eighteene haue their letters. In this time Idoles were worshipped in Babylon. Genesis 11.18.19.

H. Nachor after he was come out of Chaldea, hee tooke to wife Milcha the daughter of his brother Aram, he dwelt in Charran of Mesopotamia, he had three sonnes, Hus, Buz, and Bathuel, with other mo. Of Buz sprang Balaam, who is called in Iob, Elihu Buzites. Genesis 11.29.

I. Tarah maketh the end of the second generation, hauing one thousand two hundred and two and twenty yeeres, according to the Hebrewes, but according to the Septuagints, one thousand three score and twelue. This Tarah the father of Abraham, not able to beare the iniuries that were done vnto him of worshipping the fire in Chaldea, where the Chaldeans destroyed his first begotten sonne Aram, he sojourned as Pilgrime with Abraham and Nachor, and the family of Aram, in Aram of Mesopotamia, whereafter two hundred and fiue yeeres of his age, he died. Genesis 11.32.

K. Seth was begotten by Adam in the 130 yeere of his life, where Moses hath omitted one hundred yeeres, wherein Adam and Eua did bewaile Abel their sonne so slaine. Genesis 5.3.

L. Enoch pleasing God, was translated into Paradise, and liueth with Elias. Which Enoch by inuenting certaine letters, wrote a booke, as is to be gathered out of the Epistle of Iude, in whose time it is thought that Adam died. Genesis 5.24. and 22. In the 308 yeare of Enoch. 243 yeare of Mathusal. & 56 yeare of Lamech.

M. Abel was the first martyr, who began & builded the Church, which is the City of God, whereof he was the first Citizen, and because he was righteous, God accepted his oblation. Genesis 4.4.

N. Noe in the 601 hundred yeere of his life, vpon the rage of the waters, made his Arke by Gods mouition twenty yeeres before, and the waters encreasing vpon the earth, by the vehemency of the raine, which continued forty dayes and forty nights, he entred his ship with seuen soules, and after a hundred and fifty dayes the waters began to decrease, and the Arke did rest vpon the mountaines of Armenia. And after forty dayes, he sent out a Rauen, and after that, a Doue, returning with a bough of Olive in her mouth. And in the seuen and twentieth day of the second moneth, he came out of the Arke, the fiftesome day after the reuolution of the yeere, that he entred, and had granted him to eat flesh, excepting the blood therein, and builded an altar, and incensed to God, and God blessed him that he should growe and multiply, and had the figne of the rainebow giuen him, as a token that the world should be no more ouerflowen with flood. Hee first planted vines, and was drunken with the wine thereof, and was scorned of his sonne Cham, who cursed him, and blessed his other sonnes, and so died. Genesis 9.29.

¶ Here at Noe doth end the first age, hauing yeeres according to the Hebrewes, 1656. and according to the Septuaginta, 2242.

The eight ages of the world.

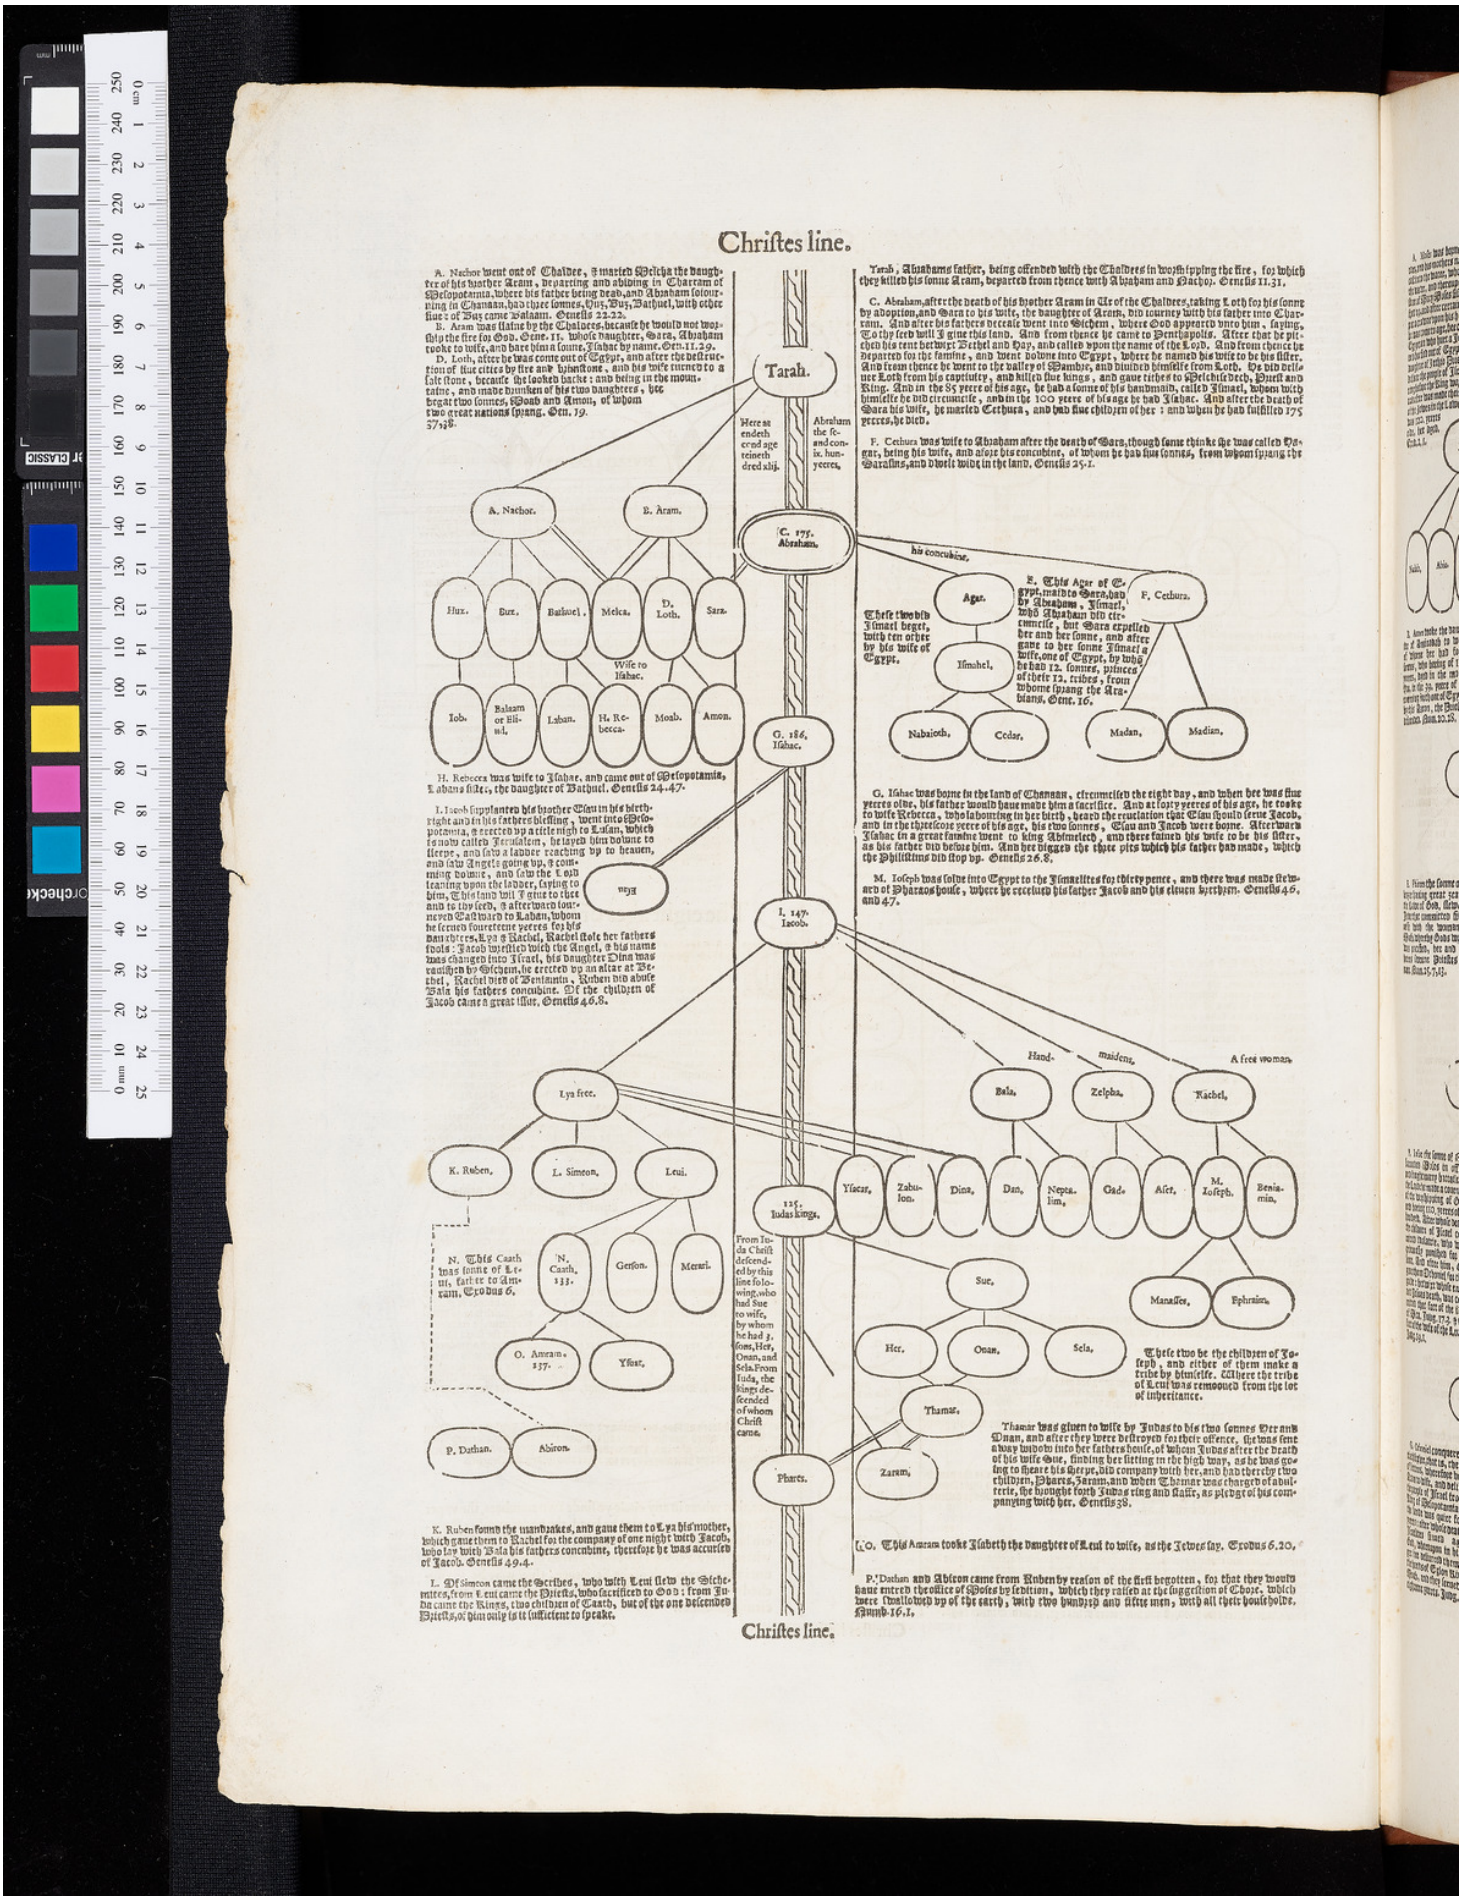
The first age was from Adam to Noe: the second, from Noe to Abraham: the third, from Abraham to Dauid: the fourth, from Dauid to the translingration of Babylon: the fifth, from thence to Christ: the sixth, from Christ to the end of the world: the seuenth, may be added as of them which be in rest, which may be accounted from Christes Passion to the day of iudgement: the eighth age, as of them which shall rise againe from the day of iudgement for euer.

And these ages be not so called for the distinct number of certaine thousand yeers, but for certaine notable acts which were wrought in the beginning of euery one of them. For in the beginning of the first age, the world was created: In the beginning of the second, the world was purged by the flood: In the beginning of the third, circumcision was giuen against originall sinne: In the beginning of the fourth, was the anointing of the Kings of Israel: In the beginning of the fifth, was the translingration of Gods people into Babylon: In the beginning of the sixth, was the incarnation of the sonne of God: In the beginning of the seuenth, were the gates of heauen opened: In the beginning of the eighth, shall be the resurrection of the bodies, the reward of good and euill. Austen. Hierom. Orosius.

✲ After the flood, sprang vp foure principall kingdomes.

Assyrians of the East, where Belus was the first king.
Scythians of the North, where Ninus was the first king.
Egyptians of the South, where Ogineus was the first king.

To this Belus succeeded Semiramis his wife, who did constitute Babylon the chiefe of his kingdome, to whom Ninus succeeded, who was the builder of Idoles, making an image to his father Belus after his departure, and caused it to be honored of all men. He obteined all Asia, and called the head city, Ninus, he reigned in Thracia, he was the inuenter of the arte Magicke, and grauen the seuen liberall artes in two pillars, one of braile, and another of bricke, he destroyed all maner of bookes. After him succeeded Sardanapalus, and after him, Arbaces, who translated that kingdome to the Medes, ouer whom reigned Astiages, whose daughter was wife to the Prince of Persia, of whom sprang Cyrus, who conquered Astiages: after his death, Darius, Astiages sonne, reigned, with the sayd Cyrus his nephew.



From these children of Noe, doe spring 72 generations: of Japhet 15, of Cham 30, of Sem 27: which was spread ouer all the whole world. Sem obteined Asia, Cham Africa, Japhet Europa, that is, the fourth part. The generation of Sem shalbe followed in this genealogy, for of the other two sprang the Gentiles.

✲ Note, that where in any circle ye finde two numbers, the vpper sheweth how many yeeres he liued, the vnder number sheweth how many yeeres he iudged or reigned. Note also, that where thorow these Tables any person or deed is mentioned not in the very words of the Scripture, they may be aduouched out of histories Ecclesiasticall, and other good and ancient authorities.

B. Herod Ascalonite made of his father lieutenant of Galilee, slew Ezechias a notable theef, with his company: being king of the Iewes, by Anthony and Augustus, and by Sosius, was after brought into the kingdome of Iurie, who slewe the infantes, amongst whom he thought to haue killed Christ, bee had seuen wiues, yee the scripture speaketh but of these foure. Dee slew Mariamne his wife, by accusation of her sister, for adultery with her husband, whom hee also slew: her slew his sonnes, Antipater, Aristobulus, and Alexander, & many other Iewes: at the last hee slew himselfe, and died miserably, leauing Archelaus his sonne after him. This Herod next him hath his brothers, under whom he his wiues, and vnder them, his fiue sonnes, of his foure wiues.

C. Archelaus after long hatred with his brethren, made lieutenant of Idumea and Iurie, of the Senate of Rome, being puft in pride for the promise of his roome, was accused before Cæsar, for tyrannie, and was taken out in exile to Vienna of Burgundie, where he died, which lands being brought vnder tribute, Coponius was sent of Augustus Cæsar, which Coponius was Procurator of Iurie. Matth. 2.22.

D. Herod Antipas slew Iohn Baptist, to whome Pilate sent Christ, vnder whom he suffered, being Tetrarch of Galilee, after long hatred with Archelaus, enuying Herod Agrippa king of the Iewes, after Christes death, went to Rome by the counsell of his wife: he was taken in exile by the accusation of Herod Agrippa, to Lions, where he died miserably with Herodias his concubine. Matth. 14.1.2.&c.

E. Herodes Agrippa oft troubled with variety of fortune, to whom was giuen the Tetrarchy of Trachonitis, by Caligula the which Philip resisted, and Claudius afterward added Samaria and Iudea, and called him King. And hee being desirous to please the Iewes, slew Iohn & Iames, imprisoned Peter, tooke vpon him Gods honour, and therefore died eate of wormes. Acts 12.

It is to be noted, that Mathan & Melchi descended from Dauid, but Mathan by Salomon, and Melchi by Nathan. Mathan had to wife one Litha, of whō he begate Iacob, and Iacob being dead, Melchi of the line of Nathan the sonne of Leui maried her to wife. of whom he had Heli, and Iacob and Heli were made brothers of one mother. Heli maried a wife, and died without children, and therefore Iacob maried her, of whom he had Ioseph, so that Ioseph was the naturall sonne of Iacob, and the sonne of Heli by lawe, and therefore it is that Matthew calleth Ioseph the sonne of Iacob, and Luke calleth Ioseph the sonne of Heli.

L. Iohn Baptist was prophecied to Zacharie by the Angel Gabriel, and was borne of Elizabeth when she was barren, sanctified in her woombe: whō hee was seuen yeeres of age, went into wildernesse, where he liued an austere life, and after Christ was baptised, and had preached penance, and shewed Christ, he was beheaded by Herod Antipas, at the request of Herodias his concubine, in the 32 yeere of his age. Luke 1.11.&c.

The Apostles dispersed thorow the whole world, to preach the Gospel of Christ, were for Christes sake slaine by diuers torments, except Iohn the Euangelist: Paul in the nine & thirtieth from Christs Passion, and the fourteenth yeere of Nero, was slaine at Rome, the same day Andrew in Patras, Iames both of them and Matthias in Iurie, Iohn the Euangelist was translated frō Ephesus, Thomas and Bartholomew in Indea, Simon and Iudas in Persia, Matthew in Ethiope, Marke in Alexandria, Luke in Bithinia, Barnabas was martyred in Cypres.

A. Antipater borne in Idumea, a Gentile, was confederated first with Hircanus, who went at his counsell to the king of Arabie, he toyned with Pompeius, and after his death, with Iulius Cæsar, whom Cæsar sent with three thousand men against Peluseum, in which battel being valiantly, yet he had many wounds, he was accused of Antigonus for the death of his father and brother, and for betraying of the Empire, before Cæsar. Whereupon he put off his clothes, and shewed the scarres of his wounds which he received for Cæsars sake, saying, Though my tongue speake not, let these wounds declare whether I haue beene a traitour. At the last, he was poisoned: he had Cripsis to wife, neece to the king of the Arabians, of whom he had foure sonnes and one daughter, as appeareth here.

F. Coponius and his followers, in this time, were Procuratours of Iurie: this Coponius was made Procuratour of Iurie by Augustus Cæsar, after that Archelaus was exiled, who because the Samaritanes entred in the night into Ierusalem, and to the Temple, and did cast the bones of the dead men about the Temple, he commanded the gates of the Temple to be shut vntill the day, who after his returne to Rome. Marcus was sent: after his returne was sent Annius Rufus, in whose dayes Cæsar was slaine, after whom Valerius was sent to be Procuratour of Iurie.

G. Valerius a Greeke borne, he was made Procuratour of Iurie by Tiberius Cæsar, he deposed Annas, and substituted Ismael, whom within a while he deposed and set vp Eleazar the sonne of Annas, and after a yere deposed him, and appointed Simeon, whom hee also deposed after a yeere, and constituted Iosippus, which was also called Caiphas, vnder whom Christ suffered, he after eleuen yeres forsooke Iurie, and returned to Rome, after him Tiberius sent Pontius Pilate, vnder whom Herod Agrippa, to the honour of Tiberius Cæsar, builded the citie of Tiberias. After the death Herod Ascalonita, the monarchie of the kingdome of the Iewes was diuided into two parties by the Senate of Rome, and one part was giuen to Archelaus vnder the name of the Tetrarch, that is, of Iurie and Idumea, and it was promised him, that if he did worthily, he should be made king. Another part was diuided into two Tetrarchs, and one part thereof was giuen to Herod Antipas ouer the riuer, and Galilee: and to his brother Philippus ¶ Heere at the Natiuitie of CHRIST endeth the fifth age, in the 42. yeere of Octauian the Emperour, and it conteineth yeeres fiue hundred foure score and sixe, whereunto if you ioyne the yeeres from Adam to Christes birth, they amount to fiue thousand one hundred ninety and nine yeres, and so beginneth the sixt age, which shall continue to the day of iudgement.

H. Pontius Pilate was made Procuratour of Iurie by Tiberius Cæsar, who comming to Ierusalem would haue the image of Iulius Cæsar to be set in the Temple: in the 17 yeere of his rule he pronounced false sentence against Christ, he would haue brought into the Temple the images of the Gentiles, contrary to the law of the Iewes, and the money received into Corbonam, that is, of the Arke wherein was put the offerings of the Priests to the repairing of the Temple, and also of the Treasure house, wherein was put the oblations of all passengers, he turned to his owne vse, and therefore Tiberius exiled him to Lions his owne countrey, where he died to his shame. Iohn 19.

I. Octauianus or Augustus Cæsar after hee came to the Empire, found pacified the whole worlde, and therefore he desired to know what Regions, what Cities, what Castles, what Villages, what men were vnder his Empire, for hee had the rule of the whole world, and this description was first made of Cirinus the lieutenant of Syria, and then was Christ borne. And hauing desire to build a notable Palace, he would know how long it should continue, and had answere from Sybilla that it should endure so long till a Virgine should bring forth a childe. Whereupon he called it Eternum, that is, Euerlasting: But Christ being borne of a Virgine, the Palace fell downe, whereupon he builded an altar to God, borne of the Virgine, and called it The altar of heauen: he reigned thirteene yeeres after Christes birth, and in the one and fortieth yeere of his rule, he numbred the people in Rome, and there were found nineteene times three hundred thousand, and foure score thousand and five hundred men. Luke 2.1.

K. Tiberius was the sonne of Augustus and of Iulia his wife, hee had two nephewes, one of his sonne called Tibur, and another of his brother called Gaius, he would haue substituted after him the sonne of his sonne, whom he loued better, but Herod Agrippa loued better Gaius, and wished him to be Emperour, for which with he put Herod in prison. In the fifteenth yeere of his reigne Iohn Baptist began for to preach and to baptize, and in his three and twentieth yeere Christ was crucified, and Tiberius died.

28 And God bleſſed them, and God ſaide vnto them, Bee fruitfull, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and ſubdue it, and haue dominion of the fiſh of the Sea, and foule of the aire, and of euery liuing thing that moueth vpon the earth.

14 And the Lord God sayd vnto the serpent, Because thou hast done this, thou art cursed aboue all cattell, and aboue euery beast of the field: vpon thy belly shalt thou go, and dust shalt thou eat all the dayes of thy life.

18 Thorns also and thistles shall it bring forth to thee, and thou shalt eat the herbe of the field.

19 In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eate bread, till thou be turned againe into the ground: for out of it wast thou taken: for dust thou art, and into dust shalt thou be turned againe.

20 And Adam called his wiues name Heua, because she was the mother of all liuing.

3 And in processe of dayes it came to passe, that Cain brought of the fruit of the ground, an [b] oblation vnto the Lord.

4 Habel also brought of the firstlings of his sheepe, and of the fat thereof: and the Lord * had respect vnto Habel, and to his oblation, 17 Cain also knew his wife, which conceiued and bare Henoch, and building a citie, hee called the name of the same citie, after the name of his sonne, Henoch.

18 Vnto the same Henoch was borne Irad: Irad begat Mehuiael, Mehuiael begate Methusael, Methusael begate Lamech.

22 And Zilla also bare Thubalcain, which wrought cunningly euery craft of brasse and of yron: the sister of Thubalcain was Noema.

22 [e]And Henoch walked with God after he begate Methuselah three hundred yeeres, and begate sonnes and daughters.

2 And the [a]sonnes of God ~~also~~ saw the daughters of men that they were faire, and they tooke them wiues, such as they liked, ~~from among them all~~.

3 And the Lord sayd, [b]My spirit shall not alwayes striue with man, because he is flesh: yet his dayes shall be an hundred and twenty yeres.

4 ~~But~~ there were ‖ giants in ~~those dayes~~ in the earth: yea and after that the sonnes of God came vnto the daughters of men, and had begotten children of them, the same became mightie men of the world, and men of renowme.

5 But God saw that the malice of man was great in the earth, and ~~all the~~ imagination of the thoughts of his heart was onely euill euery day.

The vij. Chapter.

AND the * Lord sayd vnto Noah, Come thou and all thy house into the Arke: for thee haue I seene righteous before me in this generation.

2 Of euery cleane beast thou shalt take with thee b seuen and seuen, the male and his female: but of vncleane cattell, two, the male and his female.

4 For after c seuen dayes, I will raine vpon the earth forty dayes and forty nights: and all substance that I haue made, will I destroy from the vpper face of the earth.

5 ¶ Noah therefore did according vnto all that God commanded him.

6 And Noah was d fiue hundred yeeres olde when the floods of water came vpon the earth.

7 And Noah came, and his sonnes, and his wife, and his sonnes wiues with him, to the Arke, because of the waters of the flood.

8 Of cleane beasts, and of vncleane beasts, and of fowles, and of euery such as creepeth vpon the earth, 9 There e came two and two vnto Noah into the Arke, the male and the female, as God had commanded Noah.

10 And so it came to passe after seuen dayes, that the waters of the flood were vpon the earth.

11 In the fire hundred yeere of Noahs life, in the f second moneth, the seuenteenth day of the moneth, in the same day were all the g fountaines of the great deepe broken vp, and the windowes of heauen were opened.

12 And the raine was vpon the earth fortie dayes and fortie nights.

13 In the selfe same day entred Noah, and Sem, and Ham, and Japheth, the sonnes of Noah, and Noahs wife, and the three wiues of his sonnes with them, into the Arke, 14 They, h and euery beast after his kind, and all the cattell after their kind: yea, and euery worme that creepeth vpon the ground after his kind, and euery bird after his kind, and euery flying and feathered fowle.

15 And they came vnto Noah into the Arke, two and two of all flesh wherein is the breath of life.

16 And they entring in, came male and female of all flesh, as God had commanded him: and God shut him in round about.

17 And the flood came fortie dayes vpon the earth, and the waters were increased, and bare vp the Arke, which was lift vp aboue the earth.

18 The waters also wared strong, and were increased exceedingly vpon the earth: and so the Arke went vpon the vpper face of the waters.

19 And the waters preuailed exceedingly vpon the earth, and all the high hilles that are vnder the whole heauen, were couered.

20 Fiftene cubits vpward did the waters preuaile, so that the mountaines were couered.

21 * And all flesh perished, that mooued vpon the earth, in fowle, in cattel, in beast, and in euery worme that creepeth vpon the earth, yea, and euery man also.

22 So that all that had the breath of life in his nostrils, thorowout all that was in the k dry land, died.

23 And euery substance was destroyed that remained, and that was in the vpper part of the ground, both man and cattell, and worme, and the fowle of the heauen, they were destroyed from off the earth, and l Noah onely remained aliue, and they that were with him in the Arke.

24 But the water preuailed vpon the earth, an hundred and fifty dayes.

The viij. Chapter.

3 The waters of the flood being diminished, Noah sendeth forth the Rauen & the Doue. 16 Noah goeth out of the Arke, and offereth sacrifice vnto God.

AND God a remembred Noah and euery beast, and all the cattell that was with him in the Arke: and God made b a winde to passe vpon the earth, and the waters ceased.

2 The fountaines also of the deepe, and the windowes of heauen were stopped, and the raine from heauen was restrained.

3 And the waters from the earth returned, going and comming againe: and after the end of the hundred and fifte dayes, the waters were abated.

4 And in the c seuenth moneth, in the seuenteenth day of the moneth, the Arke rested vpon the mountaines of Armenia.

5 And the waters were going and decreasing vntill the tenth moneth: in the tenth moneth, and in the first day of the same moneth, were the tops of the mountaines seene.

6 And after the end of fortie dayes, it came to passe that Noah opened the window of the Arke which he had made.

7 And he sent forth a Rauen, which went out, going forth, and returning, vntill the waters were dried vp vpon the earth.

8 And againe hee sent forth a Doue from him, that he might see if the waters were abated from the vpper face of the ground.

c God doth repeat it, for the certeinty of the flood, which by worldly thought impossible.

a The sonnes of the gods loued the daughters of the wicked, without all feare of God. b God inforceth the certainty of the flood, because he meaneth vnmercifully to hang his prophane repentance: how when he saw there shoulde no mercie and mischiefulnesse to be left, he would no longer suffer, but purposed vtterly to destroy them.

b Not seuen paire, but either, and one for sacrifice.

c God would not haue Noah to be in doubt of any circumstance.

d Age did not make Noah the flower to obey Gods will.

e As to Adam, so now to Noah, God ensured all cattell to come.

f In the latter end of April, when all things were most pleasant, then this destruction came.

g Both the waters in the earth rising vp, did ouerflow, and also the cloudes being open powred downe.

h This is oft times repeated, for that it seemeth vncredible to the sense of man.

i That is, all that liued.

k Of fish there is no mention made by the Poets.

l This was he rewarded that rather followed God then the multitude of the wicked.

a Not for God forgetteth his at any time, but when he tendreth succour, then he is said to remember them.

b As God by a vehement wind, in Moses time, dried vp the red sea; so here God raised vp a wind to deliuer the land from waters.

c The waters increased fifty dayes, & were at one stay an hundred & ten dayes, and so continued from the latter end of April, vntill the beginning of October.

fol. A3v

9 And the Doue found no rest for the sole of her foot, and shee returned vnto him into the Arke: for the waters were in the vpper face of the whole earth. Then he put forth his [d] hand, and tooke her, and pulled her to him into the Arke.

10 And hee abode yet other seuen dayes, and againe he sent forth the Doue out of the Arke:

11 And the Doue came to him in the euentide, and loe, in her mouth was an Olive leafe that shee had pluckt: whereby Noah did know that the waters were abated vpon the earth.

12 And he abode yet other seuen dayes, and sent forth the Doue, which returned not vnto him any more.

13 And it came to passe in the sixe hundred and one yeere, in the first moneth, the first day of the moneth, the waters were dried vp from the earth, and Noah remooued the couering of the Arke, and looked, and behold, the vpper face of the ground was dried vp.

14 And in the second moneth, in the seuen and twentieth day of the moneth, was the earth dried.

15 And God spake vnto Noah, saying,

16 [e] Go forth of the Arke, thou, and thy wife, thy sonnes, and thy sonnes wiues with thee:

17 And bring forth with thee euery beast that is with thee, of all flesh, both fowle and cattell, and euery worme that creepeth vpon the earth, that they may breed in the earth and bring forth fruit, and multiplie vpon earth.

18 And so Noah came forth, and his sonnes, his wife and his sonnes wiues with him:

19 Euery beast also, and euery worme, euery fowle, and whatsoeuer creepeth vpon the earth, after their kindes, went out of the Arke.

20 And Noah builded an altar vnto the Lord, and tooke of euery cleane beast, and of euery cleane fowle, [f] and offered a whole burnt offering on the altar.

21 And the Lord smelled a sweet or quiet sauour, and the Lord said in his heart, I will not henceforth curse the ground any more for mans sake, for the imagination of mans heart is euill from his youth: neither will I smite any more euery thing liuing, as I haue done.

22 Yet therefore shall not [g] seed time and harueſt, cold and heat, summer and winter, day and night, cease all the dayes of the earth.

The ix. Chapter.

1 God blesseth Noah and his sonnes. 3 God giueth libertie of meats, & forbiddeth the eating of Blood. 9 He promiseth no more to destroy the world with water, 13 and giueth the Raine-bow for a token thereof.

AND God blessed Noah, and his sonnes, and said vnto them, Be fruitfull, and multiplie, and replenish the earth.

2 [a] The feare of you, and the dread of you shalbe vpon euery beast of the earth, and vpon euery fowle of the aire, vpon all that mooueth vpon the earth, and vpon all the fishes of the sea: into your hand are they deliuered.

3 Euery thing that mooueth it selfe, and that liueth, shall be [b] meat for you, euen as the greene herbe haue I giuen you all things.

4 *But [c] flesh with the life thereof, which is the blood thereof, shall ye not eat.

5 And surely your blood of your liues will [d] I require: at the hand of euery beast will I require it, and at the hand of man, at the hand of mans ‖ brother will I require the life of man.

6 Whoso sheddeth mans blood, by man shall his blood be shed, for in the image of God made he man.

7 But be fruitfull, and multiplie you, breed in the earth, and increase therein.

8 God spake vnto Noah, and to his sonnes with him, saying,

9 Behold, I, even I stablish my couenant with you, and with your seed after you:

10 And with euery liuing creature that is with you, in fowle, in cattell, in euery beast of the earth, which is with you, of all that goe out of the Arke, whatsoeuer liuing thing of the earth it be.

11 And my couenant I make with you, that from henceforth all flesh be not rooted out with the waters of a flood, neither shall there be a flood to destroy the earth any more.

12 And God said, This is the token of the couenant which I make betweene mee and you, and euery liuing creature that is with you for euer:

13 I doe set my bow in the cloud, and it shall be for a token betweene me and the earth.

14 *And it shall come to passe, that when I bring a cloud ouer the earth, the bow shall be seene in the cloud, 15 And I will thinke vpon my couenant which is betweene mee and you, and euery liuing creature in all flesh: and it shall no more come to passe, that waters make a flood to destroy all flesh.

16 And the bow shall be in the cloud, and I will looke vpon it, that I may thinke vpon the euerlasting couenant betweene God and euery liuing creature, in all flesh that is vpon the earth.

17 And God said vnto Noah, This is the token of the couenant which I haue made betweene me and all flesh that is vpon earth.

18 The sonnes of Noah going forth of the Arke, were Sem, Ham, and Japheth, and Ham is the father of ‡ Canaan.

19 These are the three sonnes of Noah, and of them was the whole earth ouerspread.

20 Noah also began to be an ‡ husbandman, and planted a vineyard.

21 And hee, drinking of the wine, was drunken, and vncouered within his tent.

22 And Ham, the father of Canaan, seeing the nakednesse of his father, told his two brethren without.

23 And Sem & Japheth taking a garment, layd it vpon their shoulders, and going backward, couered the nakednesse of their father, and their faces being turned away, they saw not their fathers nakednesse.

24 And Noah awoke from his wine, and knew what his yonger sonne had done vnto him.

25 And he said, Cursed [h] be Canaan, a seruant of seruants shall he be vnto his brethren.

26 He said moreouer, Blessed be the Lord God of Sem, and Canaan shalbe his seruant.

27 God shall ‖ enlarge Japheth, and he shall dwell in the tents of Sem, and Canaan shalbe his seruant.

28 Noah liued after the flood, three hundred and fifty yeeres.

29 And all the daies of Noah, were nine hundred and fiftie yeeres, and he died.

The x. Chapter.

1 The increase of mankinde by Noah and his sonnes.
10 The beginning of Cities, Countreys, and Nations, after the Flood.

THese are the generations of the sonnes of Noah, Sem, Ham, and Japheth: and vnto them were children borne after the Flood.

2 The children of Japheth:
a Gomer, and Magog, and Madai, and Iauan, and Thubal, Mesech, and Thiras.

3 The children of Gomer: Ashenas, and Riphath, and Thogarma.

4 The children of Iauan: Elisa, and Tharsis, Kittim, and Dodanim.

5 Of these were the b Iles of the Gentiles diuided in their lands, euery one after his tongue, and after his kinred, in their nations.

6 The children of Ham: Chus, and Mizraim, and Phut, and Chanaan.

7 And the children of Chus: Seba, and Hauilah, and Sabtah, and Raamah, and Sabtheca.
And the children of Raamah: Seba, and Dedan.

8 Chus also begat Nimrod.

9 The same began to be mighty in the earth, for hee was a mightie c hunter before the Lord: wherefore it is said, Euen as d Nimrod the mightie hunter before the Lord.

10 The beginning of his kingdome was Babel, and Erech, and Acad, and Calneh, in the land of Sinar.

11 Out of that land came Asshur, and builded Nineue, and the citie ‖ Rehoboth, and Calah, 12 Resen also betweene Nineue and Calah, and it is a great citie.

13 Mizraim begat Ludim, and Anamim, and Lehabim, and Nephthuim, 14 Pathrusim also, and Casluhim (out of whom came Philistim) and Caphtorim.

15 Chanaan begat Sidon his first borne, and Heth,

16 And Iebusi, and Emori, and Girgasi,

17 And Hui also, and Arki, and Sini,

18 And Aruadi, and Semari, and Hamathi: and afterward were the kinreds of the Chanaanites spread abroad.

19 The border of the Chanaanites, was from Sidon, as thou comest to Gerar, vnto Azah, and as thou goest vnto Sodoma and Gomorra, and Adama, and Seboim, euen vnto Lesa.

20 These are the children of Ham in their kinreds, in their tongues, countries, and in their nations.

21 Vnto Sem also the f father of all the children of Heber, and elder brother of Japheth, there were children borne.

22 The children of Sem: Elam, and Asshur, Arphaxad, and Lud, and Aram.

23 The children of Aram: Vz, and Hul, Gether, and Mas.

24 Arphaxad begat Selah, and Selah begat Heber.

25 Vnto Heber also were borne two sonnes: the name of one was Peleg, for in his daies was the earth diuided, and his brothers name was Iactan.

26 Iactan begat Almodad, and Saleph, Hazarmaueth, and Jerah, 27 And Hadoram, and Vzal, and Dicla,

28 Obal also, and Abimael, and Seba,

29 And Ophir, and Hauilah, and Iobab: all these were the children of Iactan.

30 And their dwelling was from Mesa, as thou goest vnto Sephar a mount of the East.

31 These are the children of Sem, after their kinreds and tongues, in their lands, in their nations.

32 And to these are the kinreds of the children of Noah after their generations, in their peoples: and of these were the nations diuided in the earth after the Flood.

The xj. Chapter.

3 The building of the Tower of Babel. 7 The confusion of tongues. 10 The generation of Sem the sonne of Noah vnto Abram, which goeth with Lot to Haran.

AND all the whole earth a was of one language, and like ‖ speach.

2 And when b they went forth from the East, they found a plaine in the lande of Sinar, and there they abode.

3 And ‡ one saide to another, Come, let vs prepare bricke, and burne them in the fire. And they had bricke for stones, and slime had they in stead of morter.

4 And they said, Go to, let vs build vs a citie and a tower, whose top may reach vnto heauen, and let vs make vs a name, lest peraduenture we be scattered abroad vpon the whole earth.

5 But the Lord c came downe to see the city and tower, which the children of men builded.

6 And the Lord saide, Beholde, d the people is one, and they haue all one language: and this they begin to do, neither is there any let to them from all those things which they haue imagined to doe.

7 Come on, let vs go downe, and there confound their language, that euery one perceiue not his neighbours speach.

8 And so the Lord scattered them from that place vpon all the earth: and they left off to build that citie.

9 And therefore is the name of it called Babel, because the Lord did there confound the language of all the earth: and from thence did the Lord scatter them abroad vpon the face of all the earth.

10 *These are the generations of Sem. Sem was an hundred yeeres olde, and begat Arphaxad two yeeres after the Flood. 1.Chron.1. 17.

12 Arphaxad liued fiue and thirtie yeres, and begate Selah.

28 And Haran died in the presence of his father Tarah in the land of his captiuitie, in Ur of the Chaldees.
29 Abram and Nachor tooke them wiues: the name of Abrams wife was Sarai, and the name of Nachors wife was Milcha, the daughter of Haran, the father of Milcha, and the father of Ischa.
30 But Sarai was [h] barren, she had no childe.
31 And Tarah tooke Abram his sonne and Lot the sonne of Haran his sonnes sonne, and Sarai his daughter in lawe his sonne Abrams wife, and they departed together from Ur of the Chaldees, that they might goe into the land of Chanaan: and they came vnto ‖ Haran, and dwelt there.

The xij. Chapter.

1 Abram is blessed of God, and goeth with Lot to the land of Chanaan, which God promised to giue to him and to his seede. 10 Abram goeth into Egypt. 13 His wife calleth her selfe his sister, for whom Pharao is plagued.

Acres 7.2. a From the flood to this time, were 365 yeeres.
NOw the * Lord saide vnto Abram, Get thee [a] out of thy countrey, and out of thy nation, and from thy fathers house, vnto a land that I wil shew thee.
2 And I will make of thee a great people, and will blesse thee, and make thy name great, that thou shalt be a blessing.
3 I wil also blesse them that blesse thee, and curse them that curse thee: and in thee shall all kinreds of the earth be [b] blessed.
b Christ, the seed of Abraham, blessed all the cursed kinreds of the world.
4 And so Abram departed, as the Lord had spoken vnto him, and Lot went with him: And Abram was seuentie and fiue yeeres olde when he departed out of Haran.
c After his father was dead, and he chefe of the family.
5 And Abram [c] tooke Sarai his wife, and Lot his brothers sonne, and all their substance that they had in possession, and the soules that they had begotten in Haran, and they departed, that they might come into the land of Chanaan: and into the land of Chanaan they came.
d He wandred to and fro in the land, before he could finde a settling place. Thus God exerciseth the faith of his children.
e It was not ynough for Abram to worship God in his heart, but it was expedient to declare by outward deeds his faith before men.
6 Abram [d] passed through the land, vnto the place of Sichem, vnto the plaine of Moreh. And the Chanaanite was then in the land.
7 And the Lord appeared vnto Abram, and said, Vnto thy seede will I giue this land: and there [e] builded hee an altar vnto the Lord which appeared vnto him.
8 And remouing thence vnto a mountaine that was Eastward from Bethel, he pitched his tent, hauing Bethel on the west side, and Hai on the East: and there he builded an altar vnto the Lord, and called vpon the Name of the Lord.
9 And Abram tooke his iourney, going and iourneying toward the South.
10 And there was a famine in the land, and therefore went Abram downe into Egypt, that hee might sojourne there: for there was a grieuous famine in the land.
11 And when he was come neere to enter into Egypt, he said vnto Sarai his wife, Behold, I knowe that thou art a faire woman to looke vpon:
12 Therefore shall it come to passe, that when the Egyptians see thee, they shall say, She is his wife, and they will kill mee, but they will saue thee aliue:
13 Say, I pray thee, that thou art my [f] sister: that I may fare well for thy sake, and that my soule may liue through thy occasion.
f The weakenes of Abrams faith appeareth in this, that he vsed vnlawfull meanes for to saue his owne life.
14 And so when Abram was come into Egypt, the Egyptians beheld the woman, for she was very faire.
15 The princes also of Pharao sawe her, and commended her before Pharao: and the woman was taken into Pharaos house.
16 And he entreated Abram wel for her sake: and he had sheepe, and oxen, and bees alles, men seruants, and mayde seruants, thee alles, and camels.
17 But the Lord plagued Pharao and his house with great plagues, because of Sarai Abrams wife.
18 And Pharao calling Abram, saide, Why hast thou done this vnto me?
19 Why diddest thou not tell me that she was thy wife? why saydest thou, Shee is my sister, and so I might haue taken her to be my wife? Nowe therefore beholde, there is thy wife, take her, and goe thy way.
g Though Abraham were innocent touching Abimelech: yet this fact of Pharao declareth that his court was full of corruption.
20 And Pharao gaue his men commandement concerning him: and they conueyed him forth, and his wife, and all that he had.

5 Lot also which went with Abram, had sheepe, cattell, and tents.

6 And the land was not able to beare them, that they might dwell together: for their substance was great, so that they could not dwell together.

a His armie was of souldiers which were ramnagates out of diuers nations.

AND it came to passe in the dayes of Amraphel king of ‖ Shinar, Arioch king of Ellasar, Chodollaomer king of ‖ Elam, and Thidal king of [a] nations.

2 These made warre with Bera king of Sodome, and with Birsa king of Gomorrhe, and with Sinab king of Adma, and with Semeber king of Zeboim, and with the king of Bela, the same is Soar.

3 All these were ioyned together in the vale of Siddim, where now the salt Sea is.

4 For twelue yeeres were they subiect to king Chodollaomer, and in the thirteenth yeere rebelled.

5 And in the fourteenth yere came Chodollaomer, and the kings that were with him, and smote the ‡ Giants in Ashteroth Carnaim, and the Suzims in Ham, and the Emims in the plaine of Shauehaim.

6 And the Horites in their mount Seir, vnto the plaine of Paran, which bordereth vpon the wildernesse.

7 And they returning, came to Enmishpat, which is Cades, and smote all the country of the Amalekites, and also the Amorites that dwelt in Hazezon thamar.

8 And there went out the king of Sodome, and the king of Gomorrhe, and the king of Adma, and the king of Zeboiim, and the king of Bela, which is Soar.

9 And [b] they ioyned battell with them in the vale of Siddim, that is to say, with Chodollaomer the king of Elam, and with Thidal king of Nations, and with Amraphel king of Shinar, and with Arioch king of Ellasar, foure kings against [c] fiue.

10 And the vale of Siddim was full of slime pittes; and the [d] kings of Sodome and Gomorrhe fled, and fell there: and they that remained, fled to the mountaine.

11 And they, taking all the goods of Sodome and Gomorrhe, and all their victuals, went their way.

12 And they caried away [e] Lot also, Abrams brothers sonne, and his goods (for hee dwelled in Sodome) and departed.

13 And there came one that had escaped, and tolde Abram the Hebrue, which dwelled in the plaine of Mamre the Amorite, brother of Eshcol, and brother of Aner, which were confederate [f] with Abram.

14 When Abram heard that his brother was taken, hee armed his exercised seruants which were borne in his owne house, three hundred and eighteene, and followed on them vnto Dan.

15 And hee and his seruants were parted in companies against them, by night, and smote them, and pursued them vnto Hoba, which lieth on the left hand of Damascus:

16 And recouered all the goods, and also brought againe his brother Lot, and his goods, the women also, and the people.

17 After that hee returned againe from the slaughter of Chodollaomer, and of the kings that were with him, came the king of Sodome forth to meete him in the valley of Saueh, which is the Kings dale.

18 And Melchisedec king of Salem [g] brought forth bread and wine: and he was the priest of the most highest God.

19 And blessed him, saying, Blessed bee Abram vnto the high God, possessour of heauen and earth, 20 And blessed be the high God, which hath deliuered thine enemies vnto thy hande: and Abram [h] gaue him tithes of all.

21 And the king of Sodom sayd vnto Abram, Giue mee the soules, and take the goods to thy selfe.

22 And Abram answered the king of Sodome, I haue [i] lift vp my hand vnto the Lord the high God, the possessour of heauen and earth,

1 The Lord is Abrams defence and reward. 4 God promiseth seed to Abram, 6 and he beleeueth, and was iustified. 7 The land of Chanaan is yet againe promised to Abram.

‡He, words.

AFter these ‡ things, the word of the Lord came vnto Abram in a vision, saying, Feare not Abram, [a] I am thy shield, and thy exceeding great [b] reward.

a The victory which he obtained, caused him to haue much enuie, wherefore God comforted him.

b This outward victorie was not the onely reward he should looke for.

2 And Abram sayd, Lord, what wilt thou giue me, when I go childlesse? the ‖ childe of the stewardship of my house is this Eleazar of Damascus.

3 And Abram sayd, See, to me thou hast giuen no seed: loe, one borne in my house is mine heire.

4 And beholde, the word of the Lord came vnto him, saying, He shal not be thine heire: but one that shall come out of thine owne bowels shalbe thine heire.

5 And he brought him out, and sayd, Looke vp to heauen, and tell the starres, if thou be able to number them. And he sayd vnto him, Euen so shall thy seed be.

6 And Abram beleeued the Lord, and that counted he to him for righteousnesse.

7 And againe hee sayd vnto him, I am the Lord that brought thee out of Ur of the Chaldees, to giue thee this land, and that thou mightest inherit it.

c Whyfalling of signes is a speciall motion of Gods spirit, not permitted to all men, but to certeine, as to Gedeon, Ezechias, and to the virgine Marie, &c.

8 And he sayd, Lord God, [c] wherby shall I know that I shall inherit it?

9 He answered vnto him, Take an Heifer of three yeres olde, and a thee Goat of three yeres old, and a three yeres old Ramme, a turtle Doue also, and a yong Pigeon.

10 He tooke therefore all these vnto him, and diuided [d] them in the mids, and layd euery piece one ouer against another: but the birds diuided he not.

d This diuiding of beasts was an olde manner in making of leagues among many people, Ier. 34.

11 And when the fowles fell on the carcases, Abram droue them away.

12 And when the Sunne was downe, there fell a deepe sleepe vpon Abram: and loe an horrour of great darknesse fell vpon him.

13 And he sayd vnto Abram, Know this of a suretie, that thy seed shall be a stranger in a land that is not theirs, and shall serue them, and they shall intreat them euill [e] foure hundred yeres.

e These foure hundred yeres are to be counted from the birth of Isahac, vnto the departure of the children of Israel out of Egypt.

14 But the Nation whom they shall serue, will I iudge: and afterward shall they come out with great substance.

15 And thou shalt go to thy fathers in peace, and shalt be buried in a good olde age.

16 But in the fourth generation they shall come hither againe: for [f] the wickednesse of the Amorites is not yet full.

2 Sarai giueth Abram leaue to take Hagar her maide to wife. 4 Hagar despiseth her mistresse, 6 & being euill intreated, runneth away from Sarai. 7 An angel comforteth her, 9 willing her to turn againe, and nameth her first childe Ismael.

SArai Abrams wife bare him no children: but shee had an ‖ handmaide, an Egyptian, Hagar by name.

‖ Or, a bond woman.

2 And Sarai said vnto Abram, Behold, now the Lord hath restreined [a] me, that I cannot beare: I pray thee goe in vnto my maid, it may be that I may ‖ be builded by her: and Abram obeyed the voice of Sarai.

a She erred, in that she sought vnlawfull meanes, as though God could not giue her children in her olde age.

‖ Or, receiue a childe.

3 And Sarai Abrams wife, tooke Hagar her maid, the Egyptian, after Abram had dwelled ten yeeres in the land of Chanaan, and gaue her to her husband Abram, to be his wife.

b This punishment declareth the anger of God, against those that attempt any thing against his word.

5 And Sarai sayd vnto Abram, There is wrong done vnto me by thee: I haue giuen my maide into thy bosome, which seeing that shee hath conceiued, I am despised in her eyes: the Lord be iudge betweene thee and me.

6 But Abram sayd vnto Sarai, Beholde, thy [c] maid is in thy hand, do with her as it pleaseth thee. And when Sarai dealt hardly with her, she fled from the face of her.

13 And he called the name of the Lord that spake vnto her, Thou God lookest on me: for she sayd, Haue I not also here looked after him that seeth me?

14 Wherefore the well was called, The well of him that liueth and seeth mee: and it is betweene Cades and Bared.

The xvij. Chapter.

5 Abram is called Abraham. 8 The land of Chanaan is promised vnto Abraham the fift time. 12 Circumcision is ordeined. 15 Sarai is named Sara. 16 Isahac is promised againe vnto Abraham. 23 Abraham circumciseth himselfe, Ismael, and his household seruants.

WHen Abram was ninetie yeeres old and nine, the Lord appeared to him, and saide vnto him, I am the Almightie God, walke before mee, and be thou perfect.

2 And I wil make my Couenant betweene me and thee, and wil multiply thee exceedingly.

3 Abram fell on his face, and God talked with him, saying,

4 It is I, behold, my Couenant is with thee, and thou shalt be a father of many [a] nations.

5 Neither shall thy name any more be called Abram, but thy name shalbe called Abraham: for a father of many nations haue I made thee.

6 I will make thee exceeding fruitful, and will make nations of thee, yea and Kings shall spring out of thee.

7 Moreouer, I will make my Couenant betweene mee and thee, and thy seede after thee, in their generations, by an euerlasting Couenant, that I may bee God vnto thee, and to thy seed after thee.

8 And I wil giue vnto thee, and to thy seede after thee, the land wherein thou art a stranger, euen all the land of Chanaan, for an euerlasting possession, and will be [d] their God.

9 And God said againe vnto Abraham, Thou shalt keepe my Couenant therefore, both thou, and thy seed after thee, in their generations.

10 This is my Couenant, which ye shal keepe betweene me & you, and thy seed after thee: euery *man childe among you shalbe [e] circumcised.

11 Ye shall circumcise [f] the flesh of your foreskinne, and it shall be a token of the Couenant betwixt me and you.

12 And euery manchilde of eight dayes olde, shalbe circumcised among you in your generations: both hee that is borne in thy house, as hee that is bought with money of any stranger, which is not of thy seed.

13 He that is borne in thine house, and he also that is bought with money, must needes bee circumcised: and my Couenant shall be in your flesh for an euerlasting Couenant.

14 And the vncircumcised man-childe, in whose flesh the foreskinne is not circumcised, [g] that soule shall bee cut off from his people; because he hath broken my Couenant.

15 And God saide vnto Abraham, Sarai thy wife shalt thou not call Sarai, but Sara shall her name be.

16 And I wil blesse her, and giue thee a sonne of her: yea, I will blesse her, and she shalbe a mother of nations, yea and Kings of people shall spring of her.

17 But Abraham fell vpon his face, [h] and laughed, and said in his heart, Shall a childe be borne vnto him that is an hundred yeeres olde? and shall Sara that is ninetie yeeres old beare?

18 And Abraham saide vnto God, O that Ismael might liue in thy sight.

19 Vnto whom God said, Sara thy wife shal beare thee a sonne in deed, and thou shalt call his name Isahac: and I wil establish my Couenant with him for an [i] euerlasting Couenant, and with his seed after him.

20 And as concerning Ismael also I haue heard thee: for I haue blessed him, and will make him fruitfull, and will multiply him exceedingly: Twelue Princes shall hee beget, and I will make a great nation of him.

21 But my Couenant will I make with Isahac, which Sara shall beare vnto thee, euen this time twelue moneth.

22 And he left off talking with him, and God departed vp from Abraham.

23 Abraham tooke Ismael his sonne, and euen as were borne in his house, and all that was bought with money, as many as were men children, which were among the men of Abrahams house, and [k] circumcised the flesh of their foreskinne in the selfe same day, as God had said vnto him.

24 Abraham also himselfe was ninetie yeres olde and nine, when the flesh of his foreskinne was circumcised.

25 Ismael his sonne was thirteene yeeres olde, when he was circumcised in the flesh of his foreskinne.

26 The selfesame day was Abraham circumcised, and Ismael his sonne.

27 And all the men of his house, borne in his house, or bought with money of strangers, were circumcised with him.

32 And hee said, O let not my Lord be angry, and I will speake yet but this once: Peradventure ten shalbe found there? He answered, I will not destroy it for tennes sake.

32 Come, let vs giue our father wine to drinke, and lie with him, that wee may ‡ saue seed of our father.

33 And so they gaue their father wine to drinke that night: and the elder daughter went and lay with her father: and he perceiued it not, neither when he lay downe, neither when hee rose vp.

34 And on the morow the elder sayd vnto the yonger, Beholde, yesternight lay I with my father: let vs make him drinke wine this night also, and goe thou and lie with him, that wee may raise vp seed of our father. And they made their father drinke wine that night also.

35 And the yonger arose, and lay with him: and hee perceiued it not, neither when hee lay downe, neither when he rose vp.

n Thus God permitted him to fall most horribly in these solitarie mountaines, whome the wickednes of Sodome could not ouercome.

36 Thus were n both the daughters of Lot with childe by their father.

37 And the elder bare a sonne, and called his name Moab: the same is the father of the Moabites vnto this day.

38 And the yonger bare a sonne also, and called his name Benammi: the same is the father of the children of Ammon vnto this day.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Abraham dwelleth as a stranger in the land of Gerar.

o God bid him teach him, that he was but a stranger here.

ABraham o departed thence toward the South countrey, & dwelled betweene Cades and Sur, and sojourned in Gerar.

2 And Abraham sayd of Sara his wife, p She is my sister: And Abimelech king of Gerar sent, and fet Sara away.

p Abraham once againe giueth more to his owne deuice, then to the prouidence of God.

3 But God came to Abimelech by night in a dreame, and sayd to him, Seest thou art but a dead man for the womans sake which thou hast taken away: for he is a mans wife.

4 But Abimelech had not yet touched her: and hee sayd, Lord, wilt thou slay righteous people?

q Of a single heart, and innocent hands haue I done this.

5 Sayd not he vnto me, She is my sister? yea, and she herselfe said, He is my brother: with a q single heart, and innocent hands haue I done this.

6 And God sayd vnto him in a dreame, I wote well that thou didst it in the singlenesse of thy heart: I kept thee also that thou shouldest not sinne against me, and therefore suffered I not thee to touch her.

7 Now therefore, deliuer the man his wife againe: for he is a Prophet, and he shall pray for thee that thou mayest liue: But and if thou deliuer her not againe, bee sure that thou shalt die the death, both thou and all that thou hast.

r The wickednes of the king brought Gods wrath vpon the whole realme.

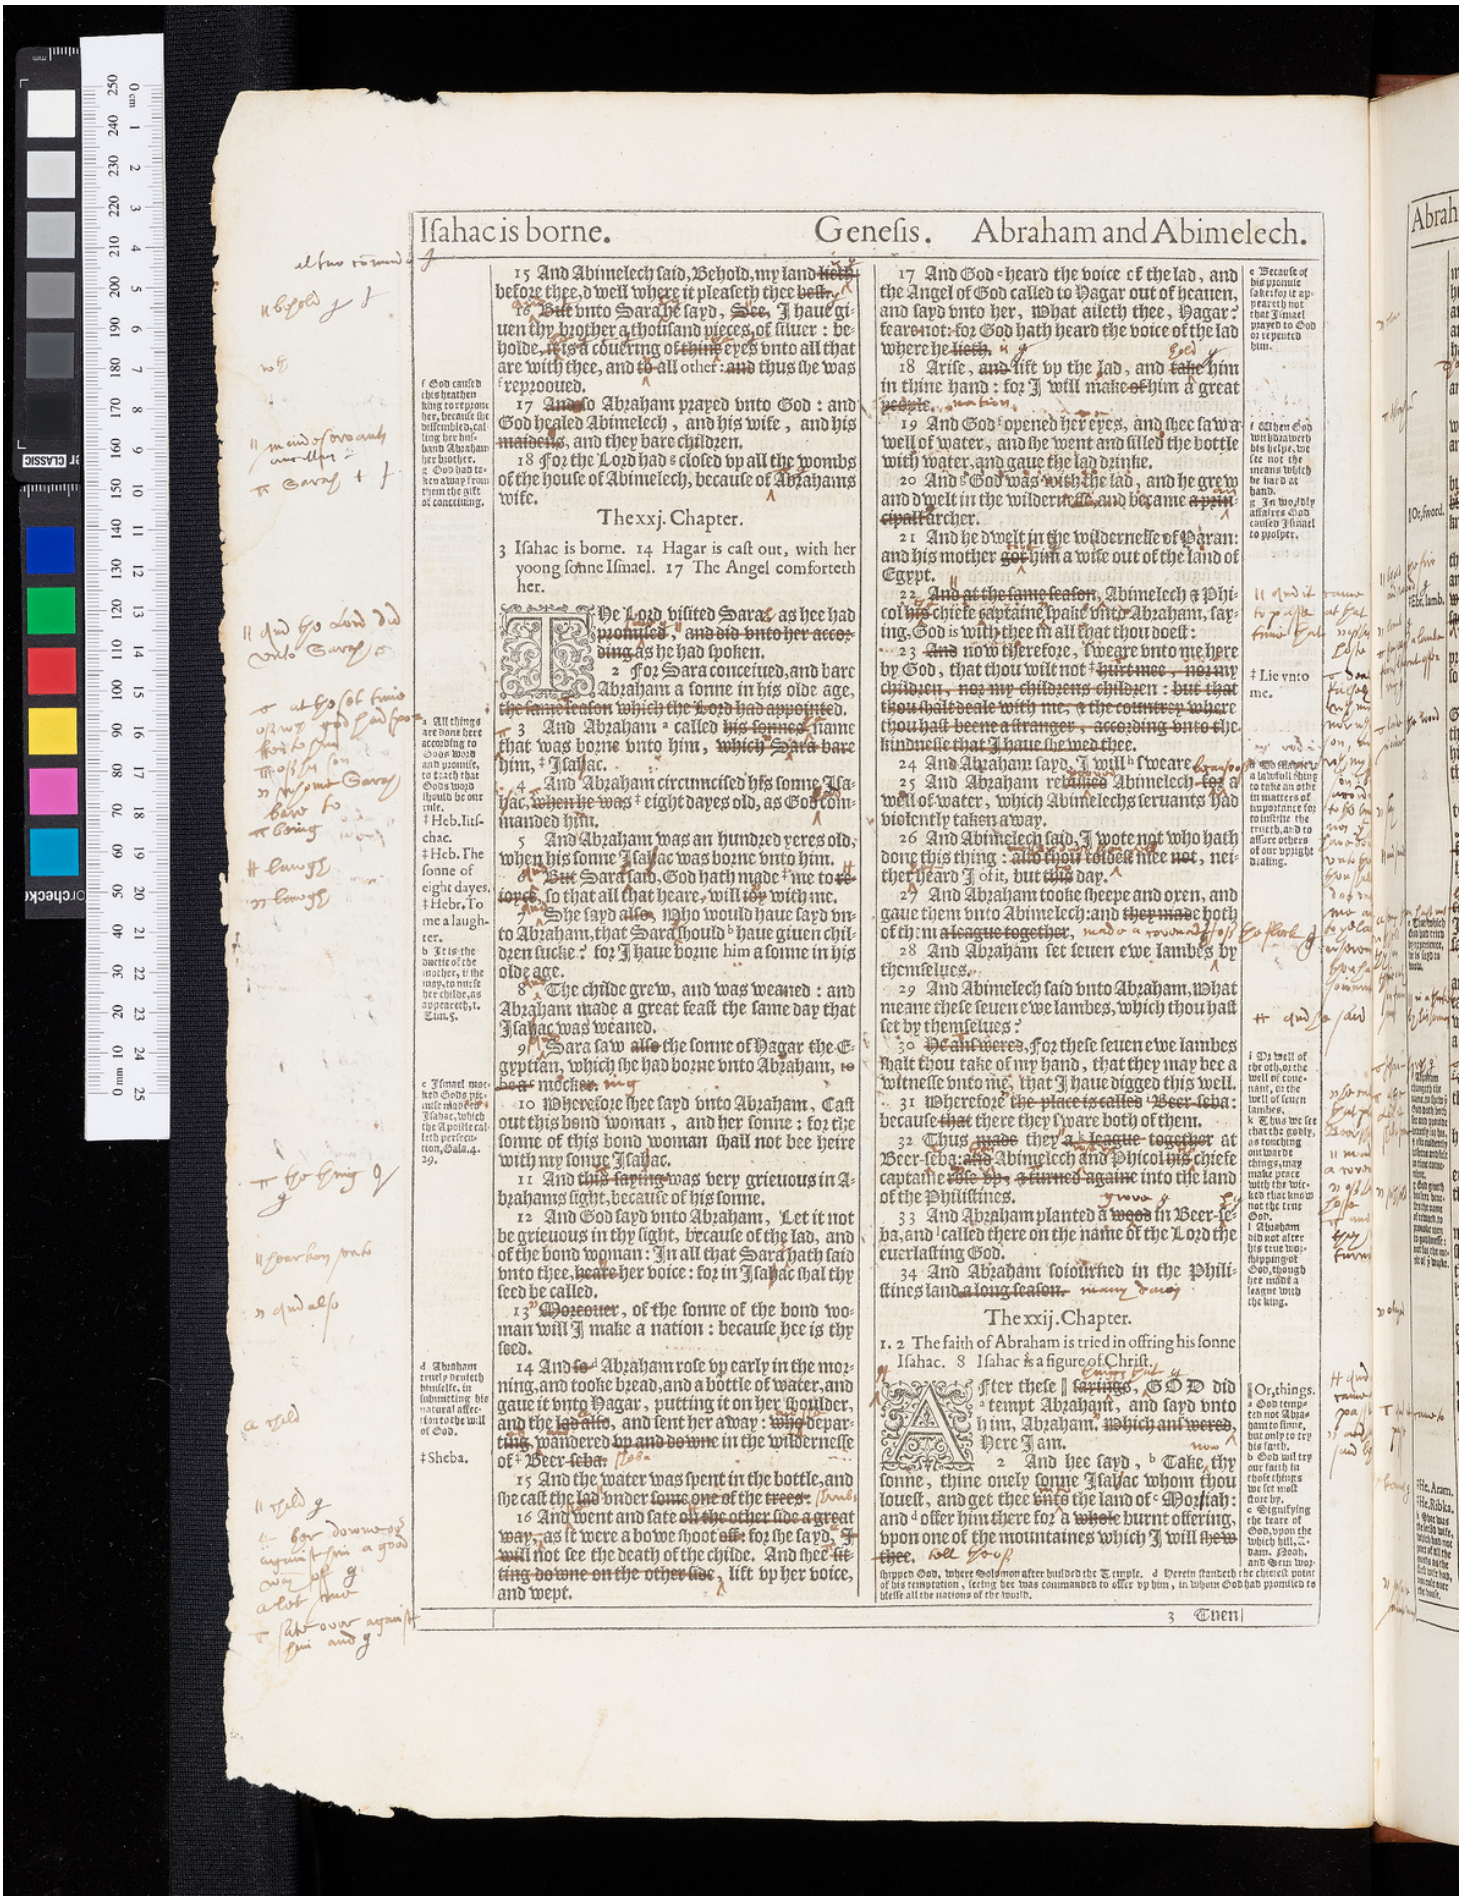
8 Therefore Abimelech rising vp betimes in the morning, called all his seruants, and told all these sayings in their eares: and the men were sore afrayd.

9 Then Abimelech called Abraham, and sayd vnto him, What hast thou done vnto vs? and what haue I offended thee, that thou hast brought on me and on my r kingdome so great a sinne? thou hast done deedes vnto me that ought not to be done.

10 And Abimelech said vnto Abraham, What sawest thou, that thou hast done this thing?

‖ Or, sayd.

11 Abraham answered, For I ‖ thought thus, Surely, the feare of God is not in this place: and they shall slay me for my wiues sake.



12 Yet in very deed she is my sister: for shee is the daughter of my father, though she be not the daughter of my mother, & she became my wife.

13 And after God caused me to wander out of my fathers house, I sayd vnto her, This kindnesse shalt thou shew vnto me in all places where we come, that thou say of me, He is my brother.

14 Then tooke Abimelech sheepe and oxen, men seruants, and women seruants, and gaue them vnto Abraham, and deliuered him Sara his wife againe.

15 And Abimelech said, Behold, my land lieth before thee, dwell where it pleaseth thee best.

16 But vnto Sara he sayd, See, I haue giuen thy brother a thousand pieces of siluer: behold, it is a couering of thine eyes vnto all that are with thee, and to all other: and thus she was reproued.

17 And so Abraham prayed vnto God: and God healed Abimelech, and his wife, and his maidens, and they bare children.

18 For the Lord had closed vp all the wombes of the house of Abimelech, because of Abrahams wife.

The xxj. Chapter.

3 Isahac is borne. 14 Hagar is cast out, with her yoong sonne Ismael. 17 The Angel comforteth her.

THe Lord visited Sara as hee had promised, and did vnto her according as he had spoken.

2 For Sara conceiued, and bare Abraham a sonne in his olde age, the same season which the Lord had appointed.

3 And Abraham called his sonne [a] name that was borne vnto him, which Sara bare him, [†] Isahac.

4 And Abraham circumcised his sonne Isahac, when he was [†] eight dayes old, as God commanded him.

5 And Abraham was an hundred yeres old, when his sonne Isahac was borne vnto him.

6 But Sara said, God hath made [†] me to reioyce, so that all that heare, will ioy with me.

7 She sayd also, who would haue sayd vnto Abraham, that Sara should [b] haue giuen children sucke? for I haue borne him a sonne in his olde age.

8 The childe grew, and was weaned: and Abraham made a great feast the same day that Isahac was weaned.

9 Sara saw also the sonne of Hagar the Egyptian, which she had borne vnto Abraham, to [c] mocke.

10 Wherefore shee sayd vnto Abraham, Cast out this bond woman, and her sonne: for the sonne of this bond woman shall not bee heire with my sonne Isahac.

11 And this saying was very grieuous in Abrahams sight, because of his sonne.

12 And God sayd vnto Abraham, Let it not be grieuous in thy sight, because of the lad, and of the bond woman: In all that Sara hath said vnto thee, heare her voice: for in Isahac shal thy seed be called.

13 Moreouer, of the sonne of the bond woman will I make a nation: because hee is thy seed.

14 And so [d] Abraham rose vp early in the morning, and tooke bread, and a bottle of water, and gaue it vnto Hagar, putting it on her shoulder, and the lad also, and sent her away: who departing, wandered vp and downe in the wildernesse of [†] Beer-seba.

15 And the water was spent in the bottle, and she cast the lad vnder some one of the trees.

16 And went and sate her downe ouer against him a good way off, for she sayd, I will not see the death of the childe. And thee sitting downe on the other side, lift vp her voice, and wept.

17 And God [e] heard the voice of the lad, and the Angel of God called to Hagar out of heauen, and sayd vnto her, What aileth thee, Hagar? feare not: for God hath heard the voice of the lad where he lieth.

18 Arise, and lift vp the lad, and take him in thine hand: for I will make of him a great people.

19 And God [f] opened her eyes, and shee saw a well of water, and she went and filled the bottle with water, and gaue the lad drinke.

20 And [g] God was with the lad, and he grew and dwelt in the wildernesse, and became a [†] skilfull archer.

21 And he dwelt in the wildernesse of Paran: and his mother got him a wife out of the land of Egypt.

22 And at the same season, Abimelech [‡] Phicol his chiefe captaine spake vnto Abraham, saying, God is with thee in all that thou doest:

23 And now therefore, sweare vnto me here by God, that thou wilt not [‡] hurt mee, nor my children, nor my childrens children: but that thou shalt deale with me, & the countrey where thou hast beene a stranger, according vnto the kindnesse that I haue shewed thee.

24 And Abraham sayd, I will [h] sweare.

25 And Abraham reproued Abimelech for a well of water, which Abimelechs seruants had violently taken away.

26 And Abimelech said, I wote not who hath done this thing: also thou toldest mee not, neither heard I of it, but this day.

27 And Abraham tooke sheepe and oxen, and gaue them vnto Abimelech: and they made both of them a league together.

28 And Abraham set seuen ewe lambes by themselues.

29 And Abimelech said vnto Abraham, What meane these seuen ewe lambes, which thou hast set by themselues?

30 He answered, For these seuen ewe lambes shalt thou take of my hand, that they may bee a witnesse vnto me, that I haue digged this well.

31 Wherefore the place is called [i] Beer-seba: because that there they sware both of them.

32 Thus made they a league together at Beer-seba: and Abimelech and Phicol his chiefe captaine rose vp, & turned againe into the land of the Philistines.

33 And Abraham planted a wood in Beer-seba, and [l] called there on the name of the Lord the euerlasting God.

34 And Abraham soiourned in the Philistines land a long season.

The xxij. Chapter.

1. 2 The faith of Abraham is tried in offring his sonne Isahac. 8 Isahac is a figure of Christ.

AFter these [‖] things, GOD did [a] tempt Abraham, and sayd vnto him, Abraham. [b] And he answered, Here I am.

2 And hee sayd, [b] Take, thy sonne, thine onely sonne Isahac whom thou louest, and get thee into the land of [c] Moriah: and [d] offer him there for a burnt offering, vpon one of the mountaines which I will shew thee.

3 Then Abrahám rose vp earely in the morning, and sadled his asse, and tooke two of his yong men with him, and Isaac his sonne, and cloue wood for the whole burnt offering, and rose vp, and got him to the place which God had appointed him.

4 The third day Abrahám lift vp his eyes, and saw the place afarre off:

5 And sayd vnto his yoong men, Bide heere with the asse, and I and the lad will goe yonder and worship, and come againe to you.

6 And Abrahám tooke the wood of the whole burnt offering, & layd it vpon Isaac his sonne: but hee himselfe tooke fire in his hand, ‖ and a knife: and they went both of them together.

‖ Or, sword.

7 Then spake Isaac vnto Abrahám his father, & sayd, My father. And he answered, Here am I my sonne. He sayd, See, here is fire and wood: but where is the ‡ beast for a whole burnt sacrifice?

‡ Ebr. lamb.

8 Abrahám answered, My sonne, God will prouide a beast for a whole burnt sacrifice: and so they went both together.

9 And when they came to the place which God had shewed him, Abrahám built an altar there, and dressed the wood, and bound Isaac his sonne, and layd him on the altar aboue vpon the wood.

10 And Abrahám stretched forth his hand, tooke the knife to haue killed his sonne.

11 And the Angel of the Lord called vnto him from heauen, saying, Abrahám, Abrahám. And he sayd, Here am I.

12 And he sayd, Lay not thine hand vpon the childe, neither doe any thing vnto him: for now I e know that thou feareste God, and hast not for my sake spared thine onely sonne.

e That which God had tried by experience, he is sayd to know.

13 And Abrahám lifted vp his eyes, looked, and beholde, behinde him there was a Ramme caught by the hornes in a thicket. And Abrahám went, and tooke the Ram, and offered him vp for a whole burnt offering in the stead of his sonne.

The xxiij. Chapter.

1 Abraham bewaileth Saras death. 6 He buyeth the field for her burial of Ephron the Hethite. 19 Sara is layed in graue.

SAra was an ‡ hundred & seuen and twenty yere old (so long liued she.)

‡ Heb. an hundreth yeere, and twentie yere, and seuen yere.

2 And Sara died in Kiriath-arba, the same is Hebron in the land of Chanaan: and Abrahám came a to mourne for Sara, and to weepe for her.

a The godly may mourne, so that they mourne not out of measure: for the naturall affection is not to be disalowed.

3 And Abrahám stood vp from the sight of his coarse, and talked with the sonnes of Heth, saying,

4 I am a stranger and a soiourner amongst you: giue mee a possession to burie in with you, that I may bury my coarse out of my sight.

5 And the children of Heth answered Abrahám, saying vnto him,

6 Heare vs my Lord, Thou art a b Prince of God amongst vs, in the chiefest of our sepulchres bury thy dead: none of vs shall forbid thee his sepulchre, but thou mayest bury thy dead therein.

b That is, godly, or excellent, for so the Hebrewes vse to speake of all things that are noble.

7 Abrahám stoode vp, and bowed himselfe before the people of the land, euen the children of Heth.

8 And he communed with them, saying, If it be your ‡ mind that I should bury my dead out of my sight, heare mee, and speake for mee to Ephron the sonne of Soar,

‡ He. in your soules.

9 That he may giue me the caue of ‖ Machpelah, which hee hath in the end of his field: but for as much money as it is worth, shall he giue it me for a possession to burie in amongst you.

11 Not so my Lord, heare me: The field giue I thee, and the caue that therein is, giue I thee also, in the presence of the sonnes of my people giue I it thee: bury thy dead.

12 And Abrahám bowed himselfe before the people of the land, 13 And spake vnto Ephron in the audience of the people of the countrey, saying, If thou wilt giue it, then I pray thee heare mee, I will giue siluer for the field, take it of me, and I will bury my dead there in.

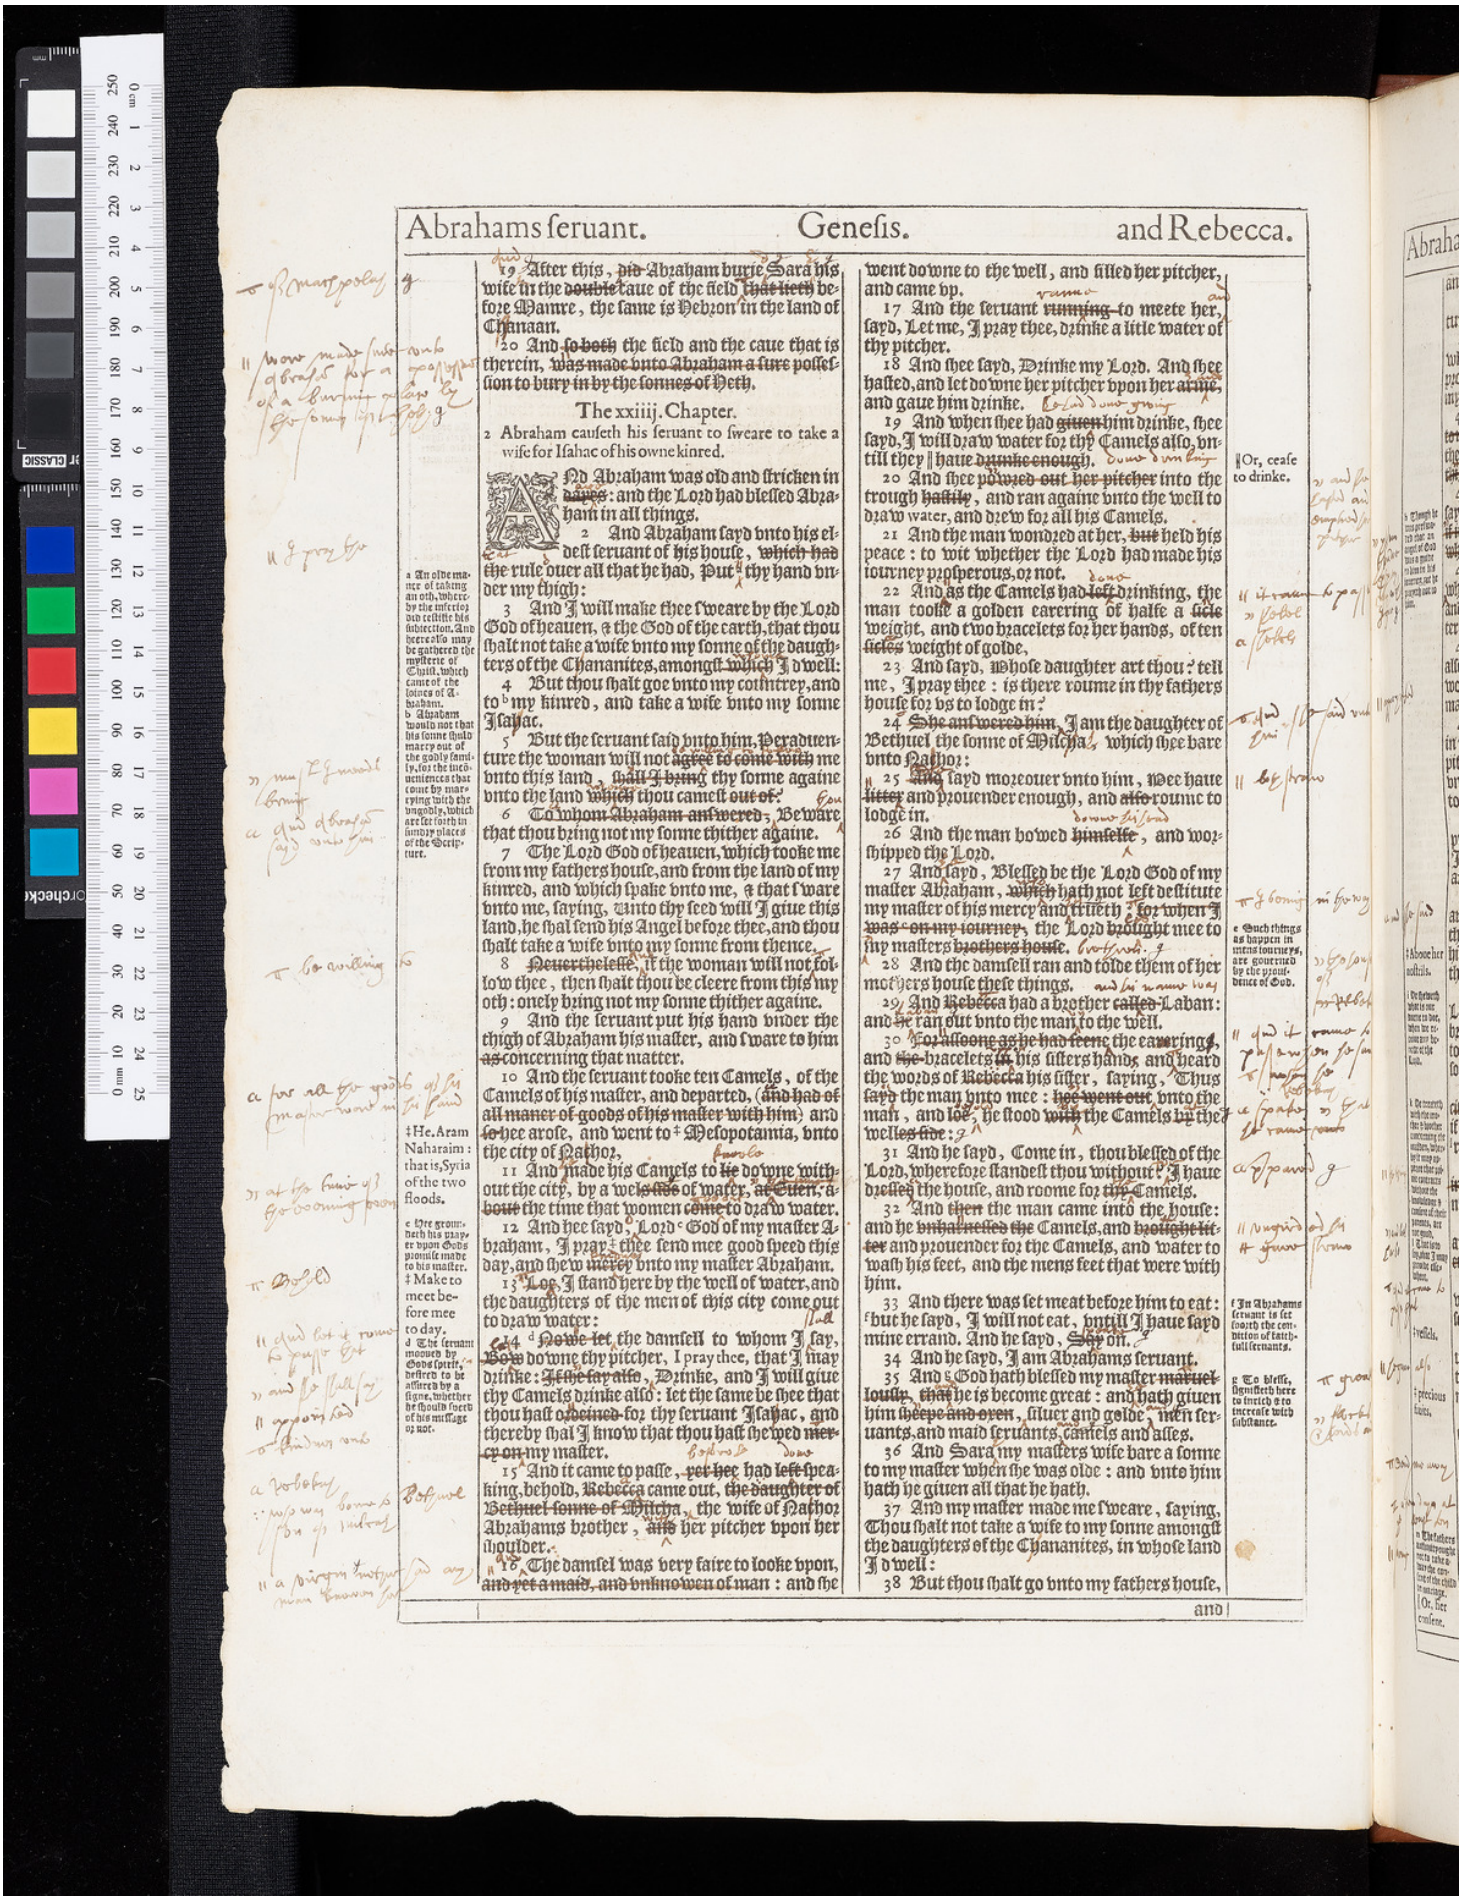
14 Ephron answered Abrahám, saying vnto him,

15 My Lord, hearken vnto me: The land is worth foure hundred d sicles of siluer, what is that betwixt thee and mee? burie therefore thy dead.

d The common sicle is about 20. d. so then 400 sicles amount to 33. li. 6. s. 8. d. after 5. s. the ounce.



16 And Abrahám hearkened vnto Ephron, and weighed him the siluer which he had named in the audience of the sonnes of Heth, euen foure hundred siluer sicles of currant money among the merchants.

17 And the field of Ephron in Machpelah, which was before Mamre, euen the field, and the caue that was therein, and all the trees that were in the field, and that were in all the borders round about, was made sure 19 After this, did Abraham burie Sara his wife in the double caue of the field that lieth before Mamre, the same is Hebron in the land of Chanaan.

20 And so both the field and the caue that is therein, was made vnto Abraham a sure possession to burie in by the sonnes of Heth.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

2 Abraham causeth his seruant to sweare to take a wife for Isahac of his owne kinred.

AND Abraham was old and stricken in yeares: and the Lord had blessed Abraham in all things.

2 And Abraham sayd vnto his eldest seruant of his house, which had the rule ouer all that he had, Put [a] thy hand vnder my thigh:

3 And I will make thee sweare by the Lord God of heauen, & the God of the earth, that thou shalt not take a wife vnto my sonne of the daughters of the Chananites, amongst which I dwell:

4 But thou shalt goe vnto my cotintrey, and to [b] my kinred, and take a wife vnto my sonne Isahac.

5 But the seruant said vnto him, Peraduenture the woman will not agree to come with me vnto this land, shall I bring thy sonne againe vnto the land which thou camest out of?

6 To whom Abraham answered, Beware that thou bring not my sonne thither againe.

7 The Lord God of heauen, which tooke me from my fathers house, and from the land of my kinred, and which spake vnto me, & that sware vnto me, saying, vnto thy seed will I giue this land, he shal send his Angel before thee, and thou shalt take a wife vnto my sonne from thence.

8 Nevertheless, if the woman will not follow thee, then shalt thou be cleere from this my oth: onely bring not my sonne thither againe.

9 And the seruant put his hand vnder the thigh of Abraham his master, and sware to him as concerning that matter.

10 And the seruant tooke ten Camels, of the Camels of his master, and departed, (and had of all maner of goods of his master with him) and so [‡] hee arose, and went to Mesopotamia, vnto the city of Nachor, 11 And made his Camels to lie downe without the city, by a wel side of water, at euen, about the time that women come to draw water.

12 And hee sayd, Lord [c] God of my master Abraham, I pray [‡] thee send mee good speed this day, and shew mercy vnto my master Abraham.

13 Loe, I stand here by the well of water, and the daughters of the men of this city come out to draw water:

14 [d] Nowe let the damsell to whom I say, Bow downe thy pitcher, I pray thee, that I may drinke: If she say also, Drinke, and I will giue thy Camels drinke also: let the same be shee that thou hast ordeined for thy seruant Isahac, and thereby shal I know that thou hast shewed mercy on my master.

15 And it came to passe, yet hee had left speaking, behold, Rebecca came out, the daughter of Bethuel sonne of Milcha, the wife of Nachor Abrahams brother, with her pitcher vpon her shoulder.

16 The damsel was very faire to looke vpon, and yet a maid, and vnknowen of man: and she went downe to the well, and filled her pitcher, and came vp.

17 And the seruant running to meete her, sayd, Let me, I pray thee, drinke a little water of thy pitcher.

18 And shee sayd, Drinke my Lord. And shee hasted, and let downe her pitcher vpon her arme, and gaue him drinke.

19 And when shee had giuen him drinke, shee sayd, I will draw water for thy Camels also, vntill they ‖ haue dunke enough.

‖ Or, cease to drinke.

20 And shee powred out her pitcher into the trough hastily, and ran againe vnto the well to draw water, and drew for all his Camels.

21 And the man wondred at her, but held his peace: to wit whether the Lord had made his iourney prosperous, or not.

22 And as the Camels had left drinking, the man tooke a golden earering of halfe a sicle weight, and two bracelets for her hands, of ten sicles weight of golde, 23 And sayd, Whose daughter art thou? tell me, I pray thee: is there roume in thy fathers house for vs to lodge in?

24 She answered him, I am the daughter of Bethuel the sonne of Milcha, which shee bare vnto Nachor:

25 And sayd moreouer vnto him, Wee haue litter and prouender enough, and also roume to lodge in.

26 And the man bowed himselfe, and worshipped the Lord.

27 And sayd, Blessed be the Lord God of my master Abraham, which hath not left destitute my master of his mercy and trueth: for when I was [e] on my iourney, the Lord brought mee to my masters brothers house.

28 And the damsell ran and tolde them of her mothers house these things.

29 And Rebecca had a brother called Laban: and he ran out vnto the man to the well.

30 For alsoone as he had seene the earering, and the bracelets in his sisters hands, and heard the words of Rebecca his sister, saying, Thus sayd the man vnto mee: hee went out vnto the man, and loe, he stood with the Camels by the welles side:

31 And he sayd, Come in, thou blessed of the Lord, wherefore standest thou without? I haue dressed the house, and roome for the Camels.

32 And then the man came into the house: and he vnharnessed the Camels, and brought litter and prouender for the Camels, and water to wash his feet, and the mens feet that were with him.

33 And there was set meat before him to eat: [f] but he sayd, I will not eat, vntill I haue sayd mine errand. And he sayd, Say on.

34 And he sayd, I am Abrahams seruant.

35 And [g] God hath blessed my master maruellously, that he is become great: and hath giuen him sheepe and oxen, siluer and golde, men seruants, and maid seruants, camels and asses.

36 And Sara my masters wife bare a sonne to my master when he was olde: and vnto him hath he giuen all that he hath.

37 And my master made me sweare, saying, Thou shalt not take a wife to my sonne amongst the daughters of the Chananites, in whose land I dwell:

and to my kinred, & take a wife vnto my sonne.
39 And I sayd vnto my master, Peraduenture the woman will not follow me.
40 And he answered me, The Lord, before who I walke, will send his angel with thee, and prosper thy iourney: & thou shalt take a wife for my sonne of my kinred, and of my fathers house.
41 Then shalt thou be free from this oth, when thou comest to my kinred: and if they giue not thee one, thou shalt bee free from this oth.
42 And so I came this day vnto the well, and sayd, [h] O Lord, the God of my master Abraham, if it bee so now that thou make my iourney which I go prosperous, 43 Behold, I stand by the well of water: and when a virgin commeth forth to draw water, and I say to her, Giue me, I pray thee, a little water of thy pitcher to drinke:
44 And she say to me, Drinke thou, and I will also draw for thy Camels: let the same be the woman whom the Lord hath prepared for my masters sonne.
45 And before I had made an end of speaking in mine heart, behold, Rebecca came forth, & her pitcher on her shoulder: and shee went downe vnto the well, and drew water: and I sayd vnto her, Giue me drinke, I pray thee.
46 And she made haste, and tooke downe her pitcher from her shoulder, and sayd, Drinke, and I wil giue thy camels drinke also. So I dranke, and she gaue the Camels drinke also.
47 And I asked her, saying, Whose daughter art thou? She answered, The daughter of Bethuel, Nahors sonne, whom Milcha bare vnto him: and I put the earering [‡] vpon her face, and the bracelets vpon her hands.
48 And I bowed my selfe, & worshipped the Lord, and blessed the Lord God of my master Abraham, which had brought me the right way, to take my masters brothers daughter vnto his sonne.
49 Now also if you will consent to deale mercifully and truely with my master, tell me: [k] and if not, tell me also, that I may turne me to the [l] right hand, or to the left.
50 Then answered Laban and Bethuel, & sayd, This saying proceedeth of the Lord: we can not but vnto thee either good or bad.
51 Beholde, Rebecca is before thee, take her and go, that she may be thy masters sonnes wife, euen as God hath sayd.
52 And when Abrahams seruant heard their words, he worshipped the Lord, bowing himselfe toward the earth.
53 And the seruant tooke forth [‡] ie wels of siluer, and ie wels of golde, and raiment, and gaue them to Rebecca, and to her brother, and to her mother he gaue [‡] costly gifts.
54 And they did eat and drinke, both hee and the men that were with him, & taried all night: and when they rose vp in the morning, he sayd, Let me depart vnto my master.
55 Her brother and her mother answered, Let the damsell abide with vs, and it be but ten dayes, and then shall she go.
56 He said vnto them, Hinder me not: behold, the Lord hath prospered my iourney: send me away therefore, that I may go to my master.
57 And they sayd, [m] We will call the damsell, and enquire ‖ at her mouth.
58 And they called forth Rebecca, and sayd vnto her, Wilt thou go with this man? And she answered, I will go.
59 So they let Rebecca their sister go, and her nurse, and Abrahams seruant, and his men.
60 And they blessed Rebecca, & sayd vnto her, Thou art our sister, grow into thousand thousands, & thy seed possesse the gate of his enemies.
61 And Rebecca arose, and her damsels, & sat them vp vpon the camels, and followed the man: and the seruant tooke Rebecca, & went his way.
62 And Isahac was comming from the way of the well of the liuing and seeing me: for hee dwelt in the South countrey.
63 And Isahac was gone out to pray in the field at the euentide: and he lift vp his eyes, and saw the camels comming.
64 And Rebecca lift vp her eyes, and when she saw Isahac, she lighted off the camel.
65 (For the sayd vnto the seruant, What man is this that commeth walking against vs in the field? And the seruant sayd, It is my master:) therefore she tooke her [p] vaile, and couered her.
66 And the seruant tolde Isahac all things that he had done.
67 And Isahac brought her into his mother Saras tent, and tooke Rebecca, and she became his wife, and he loued her: and so Isahac receiued comfort after his mother.

1 Iacob stealeth his fathers blessing from Esau by his mothers counsell. 41 Esau hateth Iacob. 43 Rebecca sendeth Iacob away into Haran to his vncle Laban.

AND it came to passe, that when Isahac waxed old, and his eyes were dimme, so that he could not see, hee called Esau his eldest sonne, and said vnto him, My sonne? And he said vnto him, Here am I.

2 And he said, Behold, I am now olde, and know not the day of my death.

4 And make me well tasting meat, such as I loue, and bring it to mee, that I may eat, [a] that my soule may blesse thee before that I die.

a The carnall affection which Isahac did beare to his elder sonne, made him forget what God spake to his wife concerning the younger. Gen. 25. vers. 23.

5 But Rebecca heard when Isahac spake to Esau his sonne: And Esau went into the fielde to hunt venison, and to bring it.

6 And Rebecca spake vnto Jacob her sonne, saying, Behold, I haue heard thy father talking with Esau thy brother, and saying,

7 Bring me venison, and make mee daintie meat, that I may eate, and blesse thee before the Lord, afore my death.

8 Now therefore my sonne, [b] heare my voice, in that which I commaund thee.

b She setteth her selfe vpon Gods promise and weyeth not the dangers that might follow.

10 And thou shalt bring it to thy father, that he may eate, and that hee may blesse thee before his death.

11 Then said Jacob to Rebecca his mother, Beholde, Esau my brother is a hairie man, and I am smooth:

13 And his mother said vnto him, [c] Upon me be the curse, my sonne: only heare my voice, and goe and fetch me them.

c The assurance of Gods decree made her bold.

19 And Jacob saide vnto his father, [d] I am Esau thy eldest sonne, I haue done according as thou badest me: arise, I pray thee, sit, and eat of my venison, that thy soule may blesse me.

d This setteth dealing of Rebecca and Iacob with Esau for conquered by it selfe, to altogether blame worthy: but if it be referred to the will of God and letting fourth of his decree, it is commendable.

21 Then said Isahac vnto Jacob, Come nere, and I will feele thee, my sonne, whether thou be my very sonne Esau, or not.

22 Then went Jacob vnto Isahac his father, and hee felt him, and sayde, The voice is Jacobs voice, but the hands are the hands of Esau.

23 And [e] he knew him not because his hands were hairie, as his brother Esaus hands: and so he blessed him.

e He stayeth not vpon Gods decree.

25 Then said he, Bring me, and let me eat of my sonnes venison, that my soule may blesse thee. And hee brought him, and hee ate: and hee brought him wine also, and he dranke.

26 And his father Isahac sayde vnto him, [f] Come neere, and kisse me, my sonne.

f He trusted not so much behold the outward things here, as the prouidence of God, who would by such meanes haue his election declared.

27 And hee went vnto him, & kissed him: and he smelled the sauour of his raiment, and blessed him, and said, See, the smell of my sonne is as the smell of a field which the Lord hath blessed.

22 Then Laban gathered together all the men of that place, and made a feast.

23 And when euen was come, hee tooke Lea his daughter, [e] and brought her to him, and he went in to her.

e The bride was brought to her chamber couered with a vaile, as the manner was in those dayes: So Labans deceit was not easily spied.

24 And Laban gaue vnto his daughter Lea, Zilpha his mayd to be her seruant.

25 And when the morning was come, behold, it was Lea. Then said he to Laban, Wherefore hast thou played thus with mee? did not I serue thee for Rachel? Wherefore then hast thou beguiled me?

26 Laban answered, [f] It is not the maner of this place to marry the yonger before the first borne.

f He esteemed more the profite that he had by Iacobs seruice, then either his promise or the maner of the country, though by allegation of some for his excuse.

27 Passe out this weeke, and then wee will giue thee this also, for the seruice which thou shalt serue me yet seuen yeeres more.

28 And Iacob did euen so: and passed out the weeke: and then he gaue him Rachel his daughter to wife also.

29 And Laban gaue to Rachel his daughter, Bilha his handmayd, to be her seruant.

30 So lay hee by Rachel also, and loued Rachel more then Lea: and serued him yet seuen yeeres more.

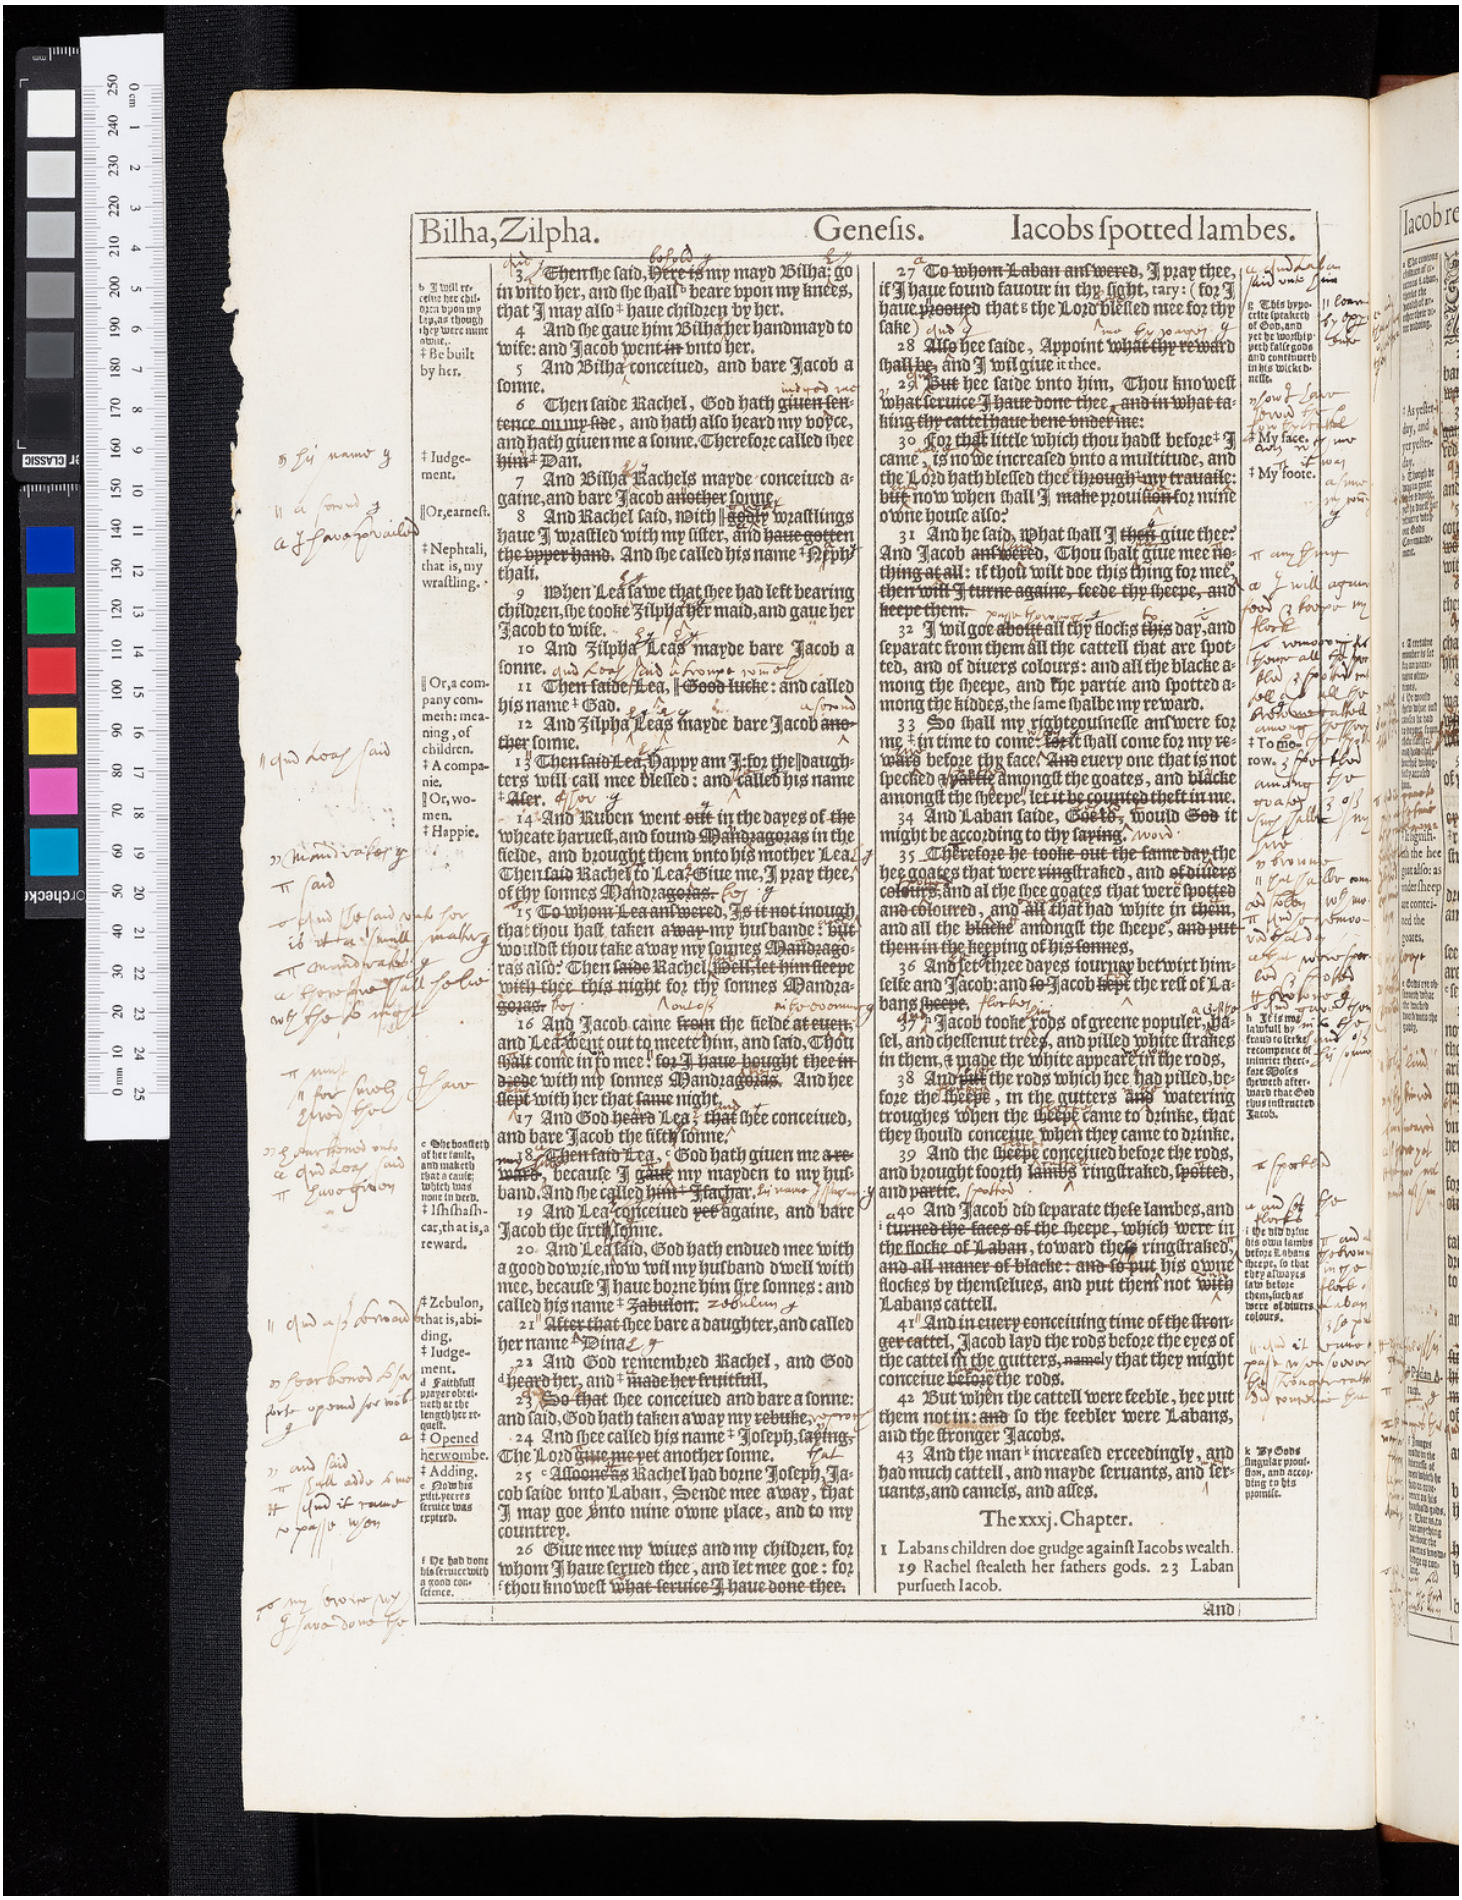
The xxx. Chapter.

4.9 Rachel and Lea being both barren, giue their maidens to their husband. 27 God enriched Laban for Iacobs sake, 43 and blessed Iacob with plentie.



RAchel when shee saw that she bare Iacob no children, shee enuied her sister, and saide vnto Iacob, Giue me children, or els I am but dead.

2 And Iacobs [a] anger was kindled against Rachel, and saide, Am I in Gods stead, which keepeth from thee the fruite of thy wombe?

a This was godly anger, which preferred the honour of God to this wife, whom he sharply admonished.

3 Then she said, Here is my mayd Bilha: go in vnto her, and she shall [b] beare vpon my knees, that I may also [‡] haue children by her.
4 And she gaue him Bilha her handmayd to wife: and Jacob went in vnto her.
5 And Bilha conceiued, and bare Jacob a sonne.
6 Then saide Rachel, God hath giuen sentence on my side, and hath also heard my voyce, and hath giuen me a sonne. Therefore called shee him [‡] Dan.
7 And Bilha Rachels mayde conceiued againe, and bare Jacob another sonne.
8 And Rachel said, with ‖ great wrastlings haue I wrastled with my sister, and haue gotten the vpper hand. And she called his name [‡] Nephthali.
9 When Lea sawe that shee had left bearing children, she tooke Zilpha her maid, and gaue her Jacob to wife.
10 And Zilpha Leas mayde bare Jacob a sonne.
11 Then saide Lea, ‖ Good lucke: and called his name [‡] Gad.
12 And Zilpha Leas mayde bare Jacob another sonne.
13 Then said Lea, Happy am I: for the ‖ daughters will call mee blessed: and called his name [‡] Aser.
14 And Ruben went out in the dayes of the wheate harueſt, and found Mandragoras in the fielde, and brought them vnto his mother Lea. Then said Rachel to Lea, Giue me, I pray thee, of thy sonnes Mandragoras.
15 To whom Lea answered, Is it not inough that thou hast taken away my husbande: but wouldst thou take away my sonnes Mandragoras also? Then saide Rachel, Well, let him sleepe with thee this night for thy sonnes Mandragoras.
16 And Jacob came from the fielde at euen, and Lea went out to meete him, and said, Thou shalt come in to mee: for I haue bought thee in deede with my sonnes Mandragoras. And hee slept with her that same night.
17 And God heard Lea, that shee conceiued, and bare Jacob the fifth sonne.
18 Then said Lea, [c] God hath giuen me a reward, because I gaue my mayden to my husband. And she called him [‡] Iſachar.
19 And Lea conceiued yet againe, and bare Jacob the sixth sonne.
20 And Lea said, God hath endued mee with a good dowrie, now will my husband dwell with mee, because I haue borne him sixe sonnes: and called his name [‡] Zabulon.
21 After that shee bare a daughter, and called her name [^] Dina.
22 And God remembred Rachel, and God [d] heard her, and [‡] made her fruitfull.
23 So that shee conceiued and bare a sonne: and said, God hath taken away my rebuke.
24 And shee called his name [‡] Joseph, saying, The Lord giue me yet another sonne.
25 [e] Afterward as Rachel had borne Joseph, Jacob saide vnto Laban, Sende mee away, that I may goe vnto mine owne place, and to my countrey.
26 Giue mee my wiues and my children, for whom I haue serued thee, and let mee goe: for [f] thou knowest what seruice I haue done thee.
27 To whom Laban answered, I pray thee, if I haue found fauour in thy sight, tary: (for I haue [g] proued that the Lord blessed mee for thy sake)
28 Also hee saide, Appoint what thy reward shall be, and I wil giue it thee.
29 But hee saide vnto him, Thou knowest what seruice I haue done thee, and in what taking thy cattel haue bene vnder me:
30 For that little which thou hadst before [‡] I came, is nowe increased vnto a multitude, and the Lord hath blessed thee through my trauaile: but now when shall I make prouision for mine owne house also?
31 And he said, What shall I then giue thee? And Jacob answered, Thou shalt giue mee nothing at all: if thou wilt doe this thing for mee, then will I turne againe, feede thy sheepe, and keepe them.
32 I wil goe about all thy flocks this day, and separate from them all the cattell that are spotted, and of diuers colours: and all the blacke among the sheepe, and the partie and spotted among the kiddes, the same shalbe my reward.
33 So shall my righteousnesse answere for me [‡] in time to come: for it shall come for my reward before thy face. And euery one that is not specked and partie amongst the goates, and blacke amongst the sheepe, let it be counted theft in me.
34 And Laban saide, Goe to, would God it might be according to thy saying.
35 Therefore he tooke out the same day the hee goates that were ringstraked, and of diuers colours, and all the shee goates that were spotted and coloured, and all that had white in them, and all the blacke amongst the sheepe, and put them in the keeping of his sonnes.
36 And set three dayes iourney betwixt himselfe and Jacob: and Jacob kept the rest of Labans sheepe.
37 Then Jacob tooke rods of greene populer, hasel, and chessenut trees, and pilled white straikes in them, & made the white appeare in the rods, 38 And put the rods which hee had pilled, before the sheepe, in the gutters and watering troughes when the sheepe came to drinke, that they should conceiue when they came to drinke.
39 And the sheepe conceiued before the rods, and brought foorth lambs ringstraked, spotted, and partie.
40 And Jacob did separate these lambes, and turned the faces of the sheepe, which were in the flocke of Laban, toward these ringstraked, and all maner of blacke: and so put his owne flockes by themselues, and put them not with Labans cattell.
41 And in euery conceiuing time of the stronger cattel, Jacob layd the rods before the eyes of the cattel in the gutters, namely that they might conceiue before the rods.
42 But when the cattell were feeble, hee put them not in: and so the feebler were Labans, and the stronger Jacobs.
43 And the man [k] increased exceedingly, and had much cattell, and mayde seruants, and seruants, and camels, and asses.

AND he heard the words of [a]Labans sonnes, saying, Iacob hath taken away all that was our fathers, and of our fathers goods hath he gotten all his glory.

2 And Iacob beheld the countenance of Laban, and beholde, it was not toward him [†] as it was wont to be.

3 And [b] the Lord said vnto Iacob, Turne againe vnto the land of thy fathers, and to thy kinred, and I will be with thee.

4 Therefore Iacob sent, and called Rachel and Lea to the field, vnto his flocke:

5 And saide vnto them, I see your fathers countenance, that it is not toward me as it was wont to be: but the God of my father hath bene with me.

6 And ye know how I haue serued your father to the best of my power.

7 But your father hath deceiued mee, and changed my wages ten times: but God suffred him not to hurt me.

8 [d] When he saide, The spotted shall bee thy wages: then all the sheepe bare spotted. And when hee saide, The ringstraked shall be thy reward: then bare all the sheepe ringstraked.

9 Thus hath God taken away the cattell of your father, and giuen it to me.

10 But in ramming time I lifted vp mine eyes, and sawe in a dreame, and beholde, the rammes leaped vpon the sheepe that were ringstraked, spotted, and partie.

11 And the Angel of God spake vnto me, in a dreame, saying, Iacob: And I answered, Here am I.

12 And he saide, Lift vp now thine eyes, and see all the rammes leaping vpon the sheepe that are ringstraked, spotted, and partie: for I haue [e] seene all that Laban doeth vnto thee.

13 I am the God of Bethel, where thou annoyntedst the stone, and where thou vowedst a vowe vnto mee: now therefore arise, and get thee out of this countrey, and returne vnto the land where thou wast borne.

14 Then answered Rachel and Lea, and said vnto him, Haue we had as yet any portion or inheritance in our fathers house?

15 Doth not he count vs euen as strangers? for he hath sold vs, and hath quite deuoured also our money.

16 Therefore all the riches which God hath taken from our father, that is ours and our childrens: now then whatsoeuer God hath said vnto thee, that doe.

17 Then Iacob rose vp, and set his sonnes and wiues vp vpon camels:

18 And caried away all his flocks, and all his substance which he had [f] gotten, the increase of his cattell, which hee had gotten in [†] Mesopotamia, for to go to Isaac his father, vnto the land of Chanaan.

19 But Laban was gone to sheare his sheepe: and Rachel had stollen her fathers [f] images.

20 And Iacob [g] stale away the heart of Laban the Syrian, in that hee tolde him not that hee fled.

21 So fled he, and all that he had, and made himselfe ready, and passed ouer the riuer, and set his face straight toward the mount Gilead.

22 Vpon the third day after, was it tolde Laban that Iacob fled.

23 Then hee tooke his [h] brethren with him, and followed after him seuen dayes iourny, and ouertooke him at the mount Gilead.

24 And [i] God came to Laban the Syrian in a dreame by night, and said vnto him, Take heed that thou speake not to Iacob ought [†] saue good.

25 And Laban ouertooke Iacob: and Iacob had pitched his tent in the mount, and Laban with his brethren pitched also in the mount of Gilead.

26 And Laban said to Iacob, What hast thou done? For thou hast stollen away my heart, and caried away my daughters, as though they had bene taken captiue with the sword.

27 Wherefore wentest thou away secretly, vnknowen to me, and diddest not tell me, that I might haue let thee go thy way with mirth and songs, with timbrell and harpe,

28 And hast not suffred me to kisse my sonnes and my daughters? Thou hast a foole now in so doing.

29 For it is in my [†] hand though God to doe you hurt: but the God of your father spake vnto me yesternight, saying, Take heede that thou speake not to Iacob ought saue good?

30 And now though thou wouldest needs be gone away, because thou sore longest after thy fathers house, yet wherefore hast thou stollen my gods?

31 Iacob answered and sayde to Laban, Because I was afraid: and thought that peraduenture thou wouldest take away thy daughters from me.

32 But with whomsoeuer thou findest thy gods, let him die. Now beside our brethren, feele that thine is by me, and take it to thee: But Iacob wist not that Rachel [m] had stollen them.

33 Then went Laban into Iacobs tent, and into Leas tent, and into the two maid seruants tents: but found them not. Then went hee out of Leas tent, and entred into Rachels tent.

34 And Rachel had taken the images, and put them in the Camels [k] sadle, and sate vpon them. And Laban felled vp all the tent, but found them not.

35 Then sayde shee to her father, My lorde, be not angrie that I cannot rise vp before thee: for the custome of women is come vpon me. So [n] searched he, but found not those Images.

36 And Iacob was wroth, and chode with Laban: Iacob also answered, and sayde to him, What haue I trespassed? or what haue I offended thee, that thou hast so pursued after mee?

37 Thou hast felled vp all my stuffe, what hast thou found of all thy houshold stuffe? put it here before my brethren, and thy brethren, that they may iudge betwixt vs both.

38 Behold, this twentie yeres haue I beene with thee, thy sheepe and thy goates [o] haue not beene barren, and the rams of thy flocke haue I not eaten.

39 Whatsoeuer was torne of beasts, I brought it not vnto thee, but made it good my selfe: of my hand diddest thou require it that was stollen by day or night.

1 God comforteth Iacob by a vision of Angels. 24 Iacob wrestleth with the Angel, who named him Israel.

BVt Jacob went forth on his iourney, and [a] the Angels of God came and met him.

2 And when Jacob saw them, he said, This is Gods host, and called the name of the same place [b] Mahanaim.

3 And Jacob sent messengers before him to Esau his brother, vnto the lande of Seir the ‖ field of Edom:

4 And hee commanded them, saying, Thus shal ye speake to my lord Esau, Thy seruant Jacob saith thus, I haue bene a stranger with Laban, and haue stayed there vnto this time,

5 And haue oxen, asses, and sheepe, men seruants, and women seruants: and haue sent to shewe it my lord, that I may finde grace in thy sight.

6 And the messengers came againe to Jacob, saying, Wee came to thy brother Esau, and hee commeth to meete thee, and hath foure hundred men with him.

7 But Jacob was greatly afraide, and wist not which way to turne himselfe, and diuided the people that was with him, and the sheepe, and oxen, and camels, into two companies:

8 And sayde, If Esau come to the one part, and smite it, the other shall saue it selfe.

9 And Jacob saide againe, O God of my father Abraham, and God of my father Isaac, Lord which saidst vnto mee, Returne vnto thy countrey, and to thy kinred, and I will doe well with thee:

12 Thou saidst, I will surely doe thee good, and make thy seede as the sand of the sea, which cannot be numbred for multitude.

13 And hee taried there that same night, and tooke of that which came to hande, [e] a present for Esau his brother, 18 Thou shalt say, They bee thy seruant Jacobs, and it is a present sent vnto my lord Esau: and beholde, he himselfe commeth after vs.

19 And so commanded hee the second, and the thirde, and all that followed the droues, saying, On this maner see that you speake vnto Esau when ye meete him.

The xxxiij. Chapter.

1 Esau meeteth his brother Iacob, 4 and is agreed with him. 19 Iacob byeth a possession, and buildeth an altar vnto God.

IAcob lifting vp his eyes, looked, and beheld, Esau came, hauing with him foure hundreth men: and he diuided the children vnto Lea and vnto Rachel, and vnto the two handmaidens.

2 And he put the handmaidens & their children formost, and Lea and her children after, and Rachel and Ioseph hindermost.

3 And he went before them, and bowed himselfe to the ground seuen times, vntill he came to his brother.

4 Esau ran to meet him, and imbraced him, and fell on his necke, and kissed him, and they wept.

5 And he lift vp his eyes, & saw the women and the children, & said, Whence hast thou these? And he answered, They are the children which God hath giuen thy seruant.

6 Then came the handmaidens forth, and their children, and bowed themselues.

7 Lea also with her children, came, and did their obeisance: and last of all, came Ioseph and Rachel, and did their obeisance.

8 And he said, What is all the droue which I met? He answered, That I may find grace in the sight of my lord.

9 And Esau said, I haue enough, my brother, keepe that thou hast vnto thy selfe.

10 And Iacob answered, Nay, I pray thee: but if I haue found grace in thy sight, receiue, I pray thee, my present of my hand: for I haue seen thy face, as though I had seene the face of God, and so thou hast receiued me to grace.

11 Oh take my blessing that is brought thee: for God hath had mercie on mee, and I haue enough. And he compelled him, and he tooke it.

12 And he said, Let vs take our iourney, and goe, and I will goe before thee.

13 Iacob answered him, My lorde, thou knowest that the children are tender, & the small and great cattell with yong vnder my handes, which if men should ouerdriue but euen one day, all the flocke will die.

14 Oh let my lord goe before his seruant, and I will driue faire and softly, according as the cattel that goeth before me, and the children be able to endure, vntill I come vnto my lorde vnto Seir.

15 And Esau sayd, I will leaue some of my folke with thee. And he answered, What needeth it? I shall find grace in the sight of my lord.

16 So Esau went his way againe that same day vnto Seir.

17 And Iacob tooke his iourney toward Succhoth, and built him an house, & made boothes for his cattell: and therefore is it that the name of the place is called Succhoth.

18 And Iacob came to Salem, a citie of Sichem, which is in the land of Chanaan, after that he was come from Mesopotamia, and pitched before the citie, 19 And bought a parcell of ground, where he pitched his tent, of the children of Hemor Sichems father, for an hundred pieces of money.

20 And he made there an altar, & called it, The mighty God of Israel.

The xxxiiij Chapter.

1 The rauishing of Dina Iacobs daughter by Sichem the sonne of Hemor 8 Who requireth her in mariage for his sonne. 13 The sonnes of Iacob doe guilefully require the Sichemites to bee circumcised. 25 The whoredome is reuenged by Simeon and Leui Iacobs sonnes. 30 Iacob reproueth his sonnes.

DIna the daughter of Lea, which shee bare vnto Iacob, went out to see the daughters of the land.

2 Whome when Sichem the sonne of Hemor the Heuite lord of the country saw, he tooke her, and lay with her, and defiled her.

3 And his heart lay vnto Dina the daughter of Iacob, and hee loued that damsell, & spake kindly vnto her.

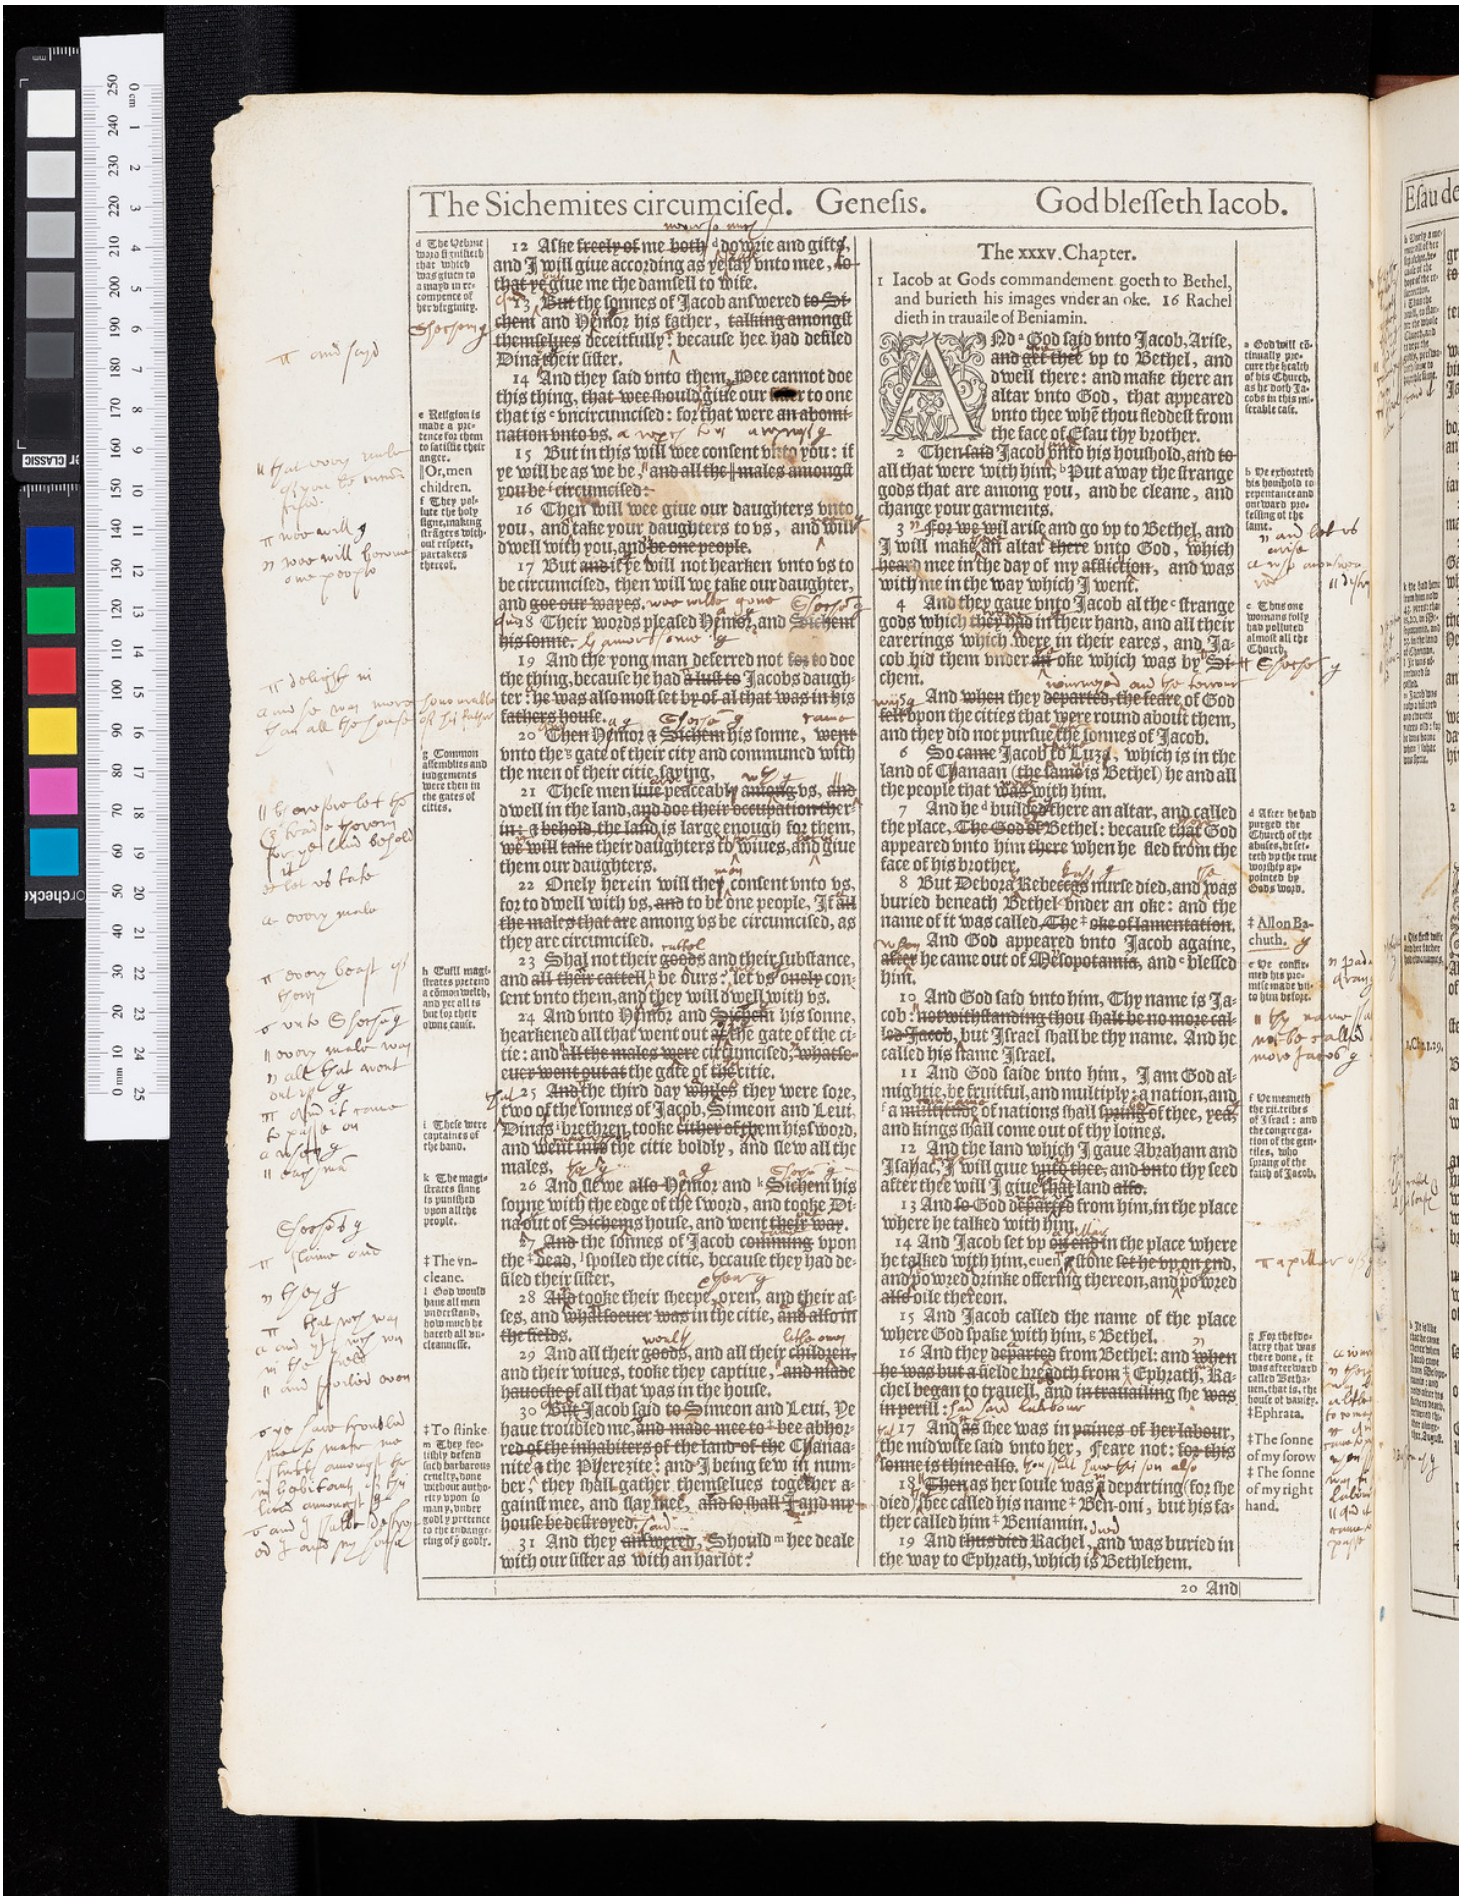
4 And Sichem spake vnto his father Hemor, saying, Get me this maiden vnto my wife.

5 And Iacob heard that hee had defiled Dina his daughter (his sonnes beeing with their cattel in the field) and Iacob held his peace vntill they were come.

6 And Hemor the father of Sichem, went out vnto Iacob to commune with him.

7 And when the sonnes of Iacob (comming out of the field) heard it, it grieued them, & they were not a little wroth, because he had wrought folly in Israel, in that he had lyen with Iacobs daughter, which thing ought not to be done.

8 And Hemor communed with them, saying, The soule of my sonne Sichem longeth for your daughter: I pray you giue her him to wife.



9 And make marriages with vs, and giue your daughters vnto vs, and take our daughters vnto you.

10 And yee shall dwell with vs, and the lande shalbe before you: dwell, and doe your businesse therein, and haue possessions therein.

11 And Sichem said vnto her father and vnto her brethren, Let me find grace in your eyes, and whatsoeuer ye appoint me, that will I giue.

fol. C1v

12 Aske freely of me both d dowrie and gifts, and I will giue according as ye say vnto mee, so that ye giue me the damsell to wife.

13 But the sonnes of Iacob answered to Sichem and Hemor his father, talking amongst themselues deceitfully: because hee had defiled Dina their sister.

14 And they said vnto them, wee cannot doe this thing, that wee should giue our sister to one that is e vncircumcised: for that were an abomination vnto vs.

15 But in this will wee consent vnto you: if ye will be as we be, and all the males amongst you be circumcised:

16 Then will wee giue our daughters vnto you, and take your daughters to vs, and will dwell with you, and be one people.

17 But and if ye will not hearken vnto vs to be circumcised, then will we take our daughter, and goe our wayes.

18 Their words pleased Hemor, and Sichem his sonne.

19 And the yong man deferred not to doe the thing, because he had a liuit to Iacobs daughter: he was also most set by of al that was in his fathers house.

20 Then Hemor & Sichem his sonne, went vnto the g gate of their city and communed with the men of their citie, saying, 21 These men liue peaceably among vs, and dwell in the land, and doe their occupation therein: & behold, the land is large enough for them, we will take their daughters to wiues, and giue them our daughters.

22 Onely herein will they consent vnto vs, for to dwell with vs, and to be one people, If all the males that are among vs be circumcised, as they are circumcised.

23 Shal not their goods and their substance, and all their cattell h be ours? let vs onely consent vnto them, and they will dwell with vs.

24 And vnto Hemor and Sichem his sonne, hearkened all that went out at the gate of the citie: and all the males were circumcised, whatsoeuer went out at the gate of the citie.

25 And the third day whiles they were sore, two of the sonnes of Iacob, Simeon and Leui, Dinas brethren, tooke either of them his sword, and went into the citie boldly, and slew all the males.

26 And slew also Hemor and k Sichem his sonne with the edge of the sword, and tooke Dina out of Sichems house, and went their way.

27 And the sonnes of Iacob comming vpon the † dead, spoiled the citie, because they had defiled their sister, 28 And tooke their sheepe, oxen, and their asses, and whatsoeuer was in the citie, and also in the fields.

29 And all their goods, and all their children, and their wiues, tooke they captiue, and made hauocke of all that was in the house.

30 But Iacob said to Simeon and Leui, Ye haue troubled me, and made mee to † bee abhorred of the inhabiters of the land of the Chanaanite & the Pherezite: and I being few in number, they shall gather themselues together against mee, and slay mee, and so shall I and my house be destroyed.

1 Iacob at Gods commandement goeth to Bethel, and burieth his images vnder an oke. 16 Rachel dieth in trauaile of Beniamin.

1 And a God said vnto Iacob, Arise, and get thee vp to Bethel, and dwell there: and make there an altar vnto God, that appeared vnto thee when thou fleddest from the face of Esau thy brother.

2 Then said Iacob vnto his houshold, and to all that were with him, b Put away the strange gods that are among you, and be cleane, and change your garments.

3 For we will arise and go vp to Bethel, and I will make an altar there vnto God, which heard mee in the day of my affliction, and was with me in the way which I went.

4 And they gaue vnto Iacob al the c strange gods which they had in their hand, and all their earerings which were in their eares, and Iacob hid them vnder an oke which was by Sichem.

5 And when they departed, the feare of God fell vpon the cities that were round about them, and they did not pursue the sonnes of Iacob.

6 So came Iacob to Luz, which is in the land of Chanaan (the same is Bethel) he and all the people that was with him.

7 And he d built there an altar, and called the place, The God of Bethel: because that God appeared vnto him there when he fled from the face of his brother.

8 But Deborah Rebeccas nurse died, and was buried beneath Bethel vnder an oke: and the name of it was called The † oke of lamentation.

9 And God appeared vnto Iacob againe, after he came out of Mesopotamia, and e blessed him.

11 And God saide vnto him, I am God almightie, be fruitful, and multiply: a nation, and a multitude of nations shall spring of thee, yea, and kings shall come out of thy loines.

12 And the land which I gaue Abraham and Isaac, I will giue vnto thee, and vnto thy seed after thee will I giue that land also.

13 And so God departed from him, in the place where he talked with him.

14 And Iacob set vp an end in the place where he talked with him, euen a stone set he vp on end, and powred drinke offering thereon, and powred also oile thereon.

15 And Iacob called the name of the place where God spake with him, g Bethel.

22 And as Israel dwelt in the land, Ruben went and laye with Bilha his fathers concubine: and it came to Israels eare. The sonnes of Jacob were twelue in number.

23 The sonnes of Lea: Ruben Jacobs first borne sonne, and Simeon, and Leui, and Iuda, and Isachar, and Zabulon.

The xxxvij. Chapter.

5 Ioseph telleth his dreames, and is hated of his brethren. 34 Iacob beeing perswaded that his sonne
Ioseph was dead, bewaileth him.

IAcob dwelt in the land wherin his father was a stranger, in the lande of Chanaan.

2 These are the a generations of Iacob: when Ioseph was seuenteene yeres old, he kept sheep with his brethren, and the lad was with the sonnes of Bilha, and with the sonnes of Zilpha, his fathers wifes:
and Ioseph brought vnto his father b their euill report.

3 But Israel loued Ioseph more then all his children, because hee begate him in his c olde age: and he made him a coat of many ‡ colours.

4 And when his brethren saw that their father loued him more then all his brethren, they hated him, and could not speake peaceably vnto him.

5 Moreouer, when Ioseph d had dreamed a dreame, he told it his brethren, which hated him yet the more.

6 And he said vnto them, Heare I pray you this dreame which I haue dreamed.

7 Behold, wee were binding sheaues in the field, and loe, my sheafe arose and stood vpright, and behold, your sheaues stood round about, and made obeisance to my sheafe.

8 To whome his brethren said, Shalt thou bee a king in deede ouer vs? or shalt thou in deede haue dominion ouer vs? e And they hated him yet the more, because of his dreames, and of his wordes.

9 And he dreamed yet another dreame, and told it his brethren, saying, Behold, I haue had one dreame more, and behold, the Sunne, and the Moone, and eleuen Starres made obeysance to me.

10 And when he had told it to his father and his brethren, his father rebuked him, and sayde vnto him, what is this dreame that thou hast dreamed? Shall f I and thy mother and thy brethren in deed come to bowe to thee?

11 And his brethren enuied him: but his father kept the saying.

12 His brethren also went to keepe his fathers cattell in Sichem.

13 And Israel said vnto Ioseph, Doe not thy brethren keepe in Sichem? come, and I will send thee to them.

14 He answered, Here I am. And he said vnto him, Goe, I pray thee, see whether it be well with thy brethren and the cattell, and bring mee word againe. And so he sent him out of the vale of Hebron, and he came to Sichem.

15 And a certaine man founde him, and be-holde, hee was wandring out of his way in the field, and the man asked him, saying, What seekest thou?

16 Hee answered, I seeke my brethren: tell me, I pray thee, where they keepe cattell.

17 And the man sayde, They are departed hence: for I haue heard them say, Let vs go vnto Dothan. Thus went Ioseph after his brethren, and found them in Dothan.

18 And when they sawe him afarre off, before he came at them, they took counsell against him,
h for to slay him:

19 And one sayd to another, Behold, this i no-

20 Come nowe therefore and let vs slay him, and k cast him into some pit, & we will say, Some naughtie beast hath deuoured him: and we shall see what will come of his dreames.

21 When Ruben heard that, hee ris him out of their hands, and said, Let vs not ‡ kill him.

22 And Ruben sayde moreouer vnto them, Shed no blood, but cast him into this pit that is in the wildernesse, and laye no hand vpon him:
this he said that hee might ridde him out of their hands, and deliuer him to his father againe.

23 And when Ioseph was come vnto his brethren, they stript him out of his coate, his partie coloured coat that was vpon him.

24 And they tooke him, and k cast him into an emptie pit, wherein was no water.

25 And they sate them downe to eate bread:
and as they lift vp their eyes and looked about, beholde, there came a company of Ismaelites from Gilead: and their camels laden with spicerie, baulme, and myrrhe, and were going downe to carry it to Egypt.

26 And Iuda sayd vnto his brethren, What m auaileth it if we slay our brother, and keepe his blood secret?

27 Come on, and let vs sell him to the Ismae-lites, and let not our hands be vpon him: for hee is our brother, and our flesh. And his brethren were content.

28 Then as the Madianites merchant men passed by, they drewe and lift Ioseph out of the pit, and sold him vnto the Ismaelites for twen-tie pieces of siluer: And they brought Ioseph into Egypt.

29 Then Reuben came againe vnto the pit, and beholde, Ioseph was not in the pit: then hee rent his clothes,

30 And went againe vnto his brethren, saying, The lad is not yonder, woe is me, whither shall I goe?

31 And they tooke Iosephs coat, and killed a kid, and dipped the coat in the blood.

32 And they sent that partie coloured coate, and caused it to bee brought vnto their father, and said, This haue we found, see whether it be thy sonnes coat, or no.

33 And hee knewe it, saying, It is my sonnes coate, a naughtie beast hath deuoured him, Joseph is without doubt rent in pieces.

34 And Iacob rent his clothes, and put sackcloth about his loynes, and mourned for his sonne a long season.

35 But all his sonnes and all his daughters rose vp to comfort him: n nevertheless hee would not bee comforted, but sayde, I will goe

6 And therefore he left all that he had in Ioseph's hand: and [d] he knewe nothing with him, saue only the bread which he did eate. And Ioseph was [e] a goodly person, and well fauoured.

9 There is no man greater in the house then I, neither hath he kept any thing from me, but onely thee, because thou art his wife: how then can I doe this [g] great wickednesse, and sinne against [h] God?

10 And after this maner spake he to Ioseph day by day: but he hearkened not vnto her, to sleepe neere her, or to be in her company.

15 And when he heard that I lift vp my voice, and cryed, he left his garment with me, and fled away, and got him out.

16 And she layed vp his garment by her, vntil her lord came home,

Thexl. Chapter.

12 Ioseph expoundeth the dreames of the two prisoners. 20 The trueth whereof appeared at the birth day of Pharao.

AND it came to passe after these [‡] things, that the butler of the king of Egypt, and his baker, had offended their lord the king of Egypt.

2 And Pharao was angry against his two officers, against the chiefe Butler, and the chiefe Baker.

3 And put them in warde in the chiefe wardes house, in the prison and place where Ioseph was bound.

4 And the [a] chiefe warde gaue Ioseph a charge with them, and he serued them, and they continued a season in ward.

5 And they dreamed either of them in one night, both the Butler & the Baker of the king of Egypt, which were bound in the prison house, either of them his dreame, and euery man a dreame of a sundry interpretation.

6 When Ioseph came in vnto them in the morning, and looked vpon them, beholde, they were sad.

7 And he asked Pharaos chiefe officers that were with him in his masters warde, saying, Wherefore loke ye so sadly to day?

8 They answered him, We haue dreamed a dreame, and haue no man to declare it. And Ioseph said vnto them, Doe not interpretings belong to God? tell me, I pray you.

9 And the chiefe Butler tolde his dreame to Ioseph, and said vnto him, In my dreame, me thought there stood a vine before me,

10 And in the vine were three branches, and it was as though it budded, and her blossomes shot forth: and the clusters thereof brought forth ripe grapes.

11 And I had Pharaos cup in my hand, and took of the grapes, and pressed them in Pharaos cup, and deliuered Pharaos cup into his hand.

12 And Ioseph said vnto him, This is the interpretation of it. The three branches, [b] are three dayes.

13 For within three dayes shall Pharao ‖ lift [c] vp thine head, and restore thee into thine office againe, and thou shalt deliuer Pharaos cup into his hand, after the olde maner when thou wast his Butler.

14 But thinke on me when thou art in good case, and shew mercie I pray thee vnto me, [d] and make mention of me to Pharao, and bring mee out of this house.

15 For I was priuily by stealth taken away out of the land of the Hebrewes: and here also haue I done nothing at all wherefore they should haue put me into this dungeon.

16 When the chiefe Baker saw that the interpretation was good, he saide vnto Ioseph, We thought also in my dreame, that I had three ‖ white wicker baskets on my head.

17 And in the vppermost basket there was of all maner bake meats for Pharao, and the birds did eate them out of the basket, that was vpon my head.

18 And Ioseph answered, and saide, This is the interpretation thereof. The three baskets, are three dayes: For within three dayes shall Pharao take thy head from thee, and shall hang thee on a tree, and the birdes shall eate thy flesh, from off thee.

19 And it came to passe the third day, which was Pharaos birth day, that he made a feast vnto all his seruants: and he ‖ lifted vp the head of the chiefe Butler, and of the chief Baker among his seruants.

20 And restored the chiefe Butler vnto his Butlership againe, which also reached the cup into Pharaos hand:

21 But he hanged the chiefe Baker, as Ioseph [e] had interpreted vnto him.

22 Neither did the chiefe Butler remember Ioseph, but forgate him.

The xlj. Chapter.

2 Ioseph expoundeth Pharaos dreames of kine and eares. 41 He is made ruler ouer al Egypt. 54 The dearth beginneth in all lands.

AND after two yeeres a Pharao dreamed, and behold, he thought that hee stood by a riuer,

2 And there came out of the riuer seuen goodly kine, and fatte fleshed, and fed in a medowe.

3 And seuen other kine came vp after them out of the riuer, euill fauoured, and leane fleshed, and stoode by the other kine vpon the brinke of the riuer.

4 And the ill fauoured and leane fleshed kine did eate vp the seuen well fauoured and fat kine: and Pharao awoke.

5 And he slept againe, and dreamed the second time: and behold, seuen eares of corne grew vpon one stalke, ranke, and goodly.

6 And again, seuen thinne eares blasted with the East wind, sprang vp after them.

7 And the seuen thinne eares deuoured the seuen ranke and full eares. And Pharao awaked, and see, it was a dreame:

8 And when the morning came, his spirit was troubled, and hee sent and called for all the soothsayers of Egypt, and all the wise men thereof: and Pharao told them his dreame, but there was none of them that could interprete it vnto Pharao.

9 Then spake the chiefe Butler vnto Pharao, saying, I do remember my faults this day:

10 Pharao being angry with his seruants, put me in warde, in the chiefe stewards house, both me, and the chiefe Baker.

11 And wee dreamed both of vs in one night, I each mans dreame of a sundry interpretation.

12 And there was with vs a yong man, an Hebrew borne, seruant vnto the chiefe steward: to whom when we told them, hee declared our dreams to vs, according to either of our dreams.

13 And as hee declared them to vs, so it came to passe: For he restored me to mine office againe, and hanged him.

14 Pharao sent therefore and called Ioseph, and they brought him hastily out of the dungeon: And he shaued himselfe, and changed his raiment, and came vnto Pharao.

15 And Pharao said vnto Ioseph, I haue dreamed a dreame, and no man can interpret it: and I haue heard say of thee, that as soone as thou hearest a dreame, thou canst interpret it.

16 Ioseph answered Pharao, saying, Not I, but God shall giue Pharao an answere of peace.

17 And Pharao saide vnto Ioseph, In my dreame me thought I stood by a riuers side,

18 And there came out of the riuer seuen fat fleshed and well fauoured kine, and fed in a medowe, 19 And then seuen other kine came out after them, poore, and very ill fauoured, and leane fleshed, such as I neuer sawe in all the land of Egypt, they were so ill fauoured.

20 And the seuen leane and ill fauoured kine, did eate vp the first seuen fat kine.

21 And when they had eaten them vp, a man could not perceiue that they had eaten them, but they were still ill fauoured, as they were at the beginning: and I awoke.

22 And I saw againe in my dreame, and behold, seuen eares sprang out of one stalke, full and faire.

23 And behold, seuen eares againe ‖ withered, thin, and blasted with the East wind, sprang vp after them.

24 And the thinne eares deuoured the seuen good eares: and I haue told the soothsayers, but there was no man that could tell what it meaneth.

25 And Ioseph answered Pharao: Both Pharaos dreams are one, God hath shewed Pharao what he is about to doe.

26 The seuen good kine, are seuen yeres: and the seuen good eares, are seuen yeres also: and it is but one dreame.

27 Likewise the seuen thin and ill fauoured kine that came vp after them, are seuen yeeres: and the seuen empty and blasted eares with the East wind, shall be seuen yeres of famine.

28 This word which I haue said vnto Pharao, is it that God is about to doe, and he weth it vnto Pharao.

29 Behold, there come seuen yeeres of great plenty throughout all the land of Egypt.

30 And againe, there shall arise after them seuen yeeres of famine, and all the plentifulnesse shall be forgotten in the land of Egypt: and the famine shall consume the land.

31 Neither shall the plentifulnes be knowen in the land, by reason of that famine that shall come after, for it shall be exceeding great.

32 And as concerning that the dreame was doubled vnto Pharao the second time: behold, the thing is certainly prepared of God, and God wil shortly bring it to passe.

33 Now therefore, let Pharao prouide for a man of vnderstanding and wisdome, and set him ouer the land of Egypt.

34 And let Pharao doe this also, that he make officers ouer the land, and take vp the fifth part in the land of Egypt in the seuen plenteous yeres

35 And let them gather all the foode of those good yeres that come, and lay vp corne vnder the hand of Pharao, and let them keepe foode in the cities.

36 And so shall that foode bee for store in the land, against the seuen yeeres of famine, which shall come in the land of Egypt, that the land perish not through famine.

37 And the saying seemed good in the eyes of Pharao, and in the eyes of all his seruants.

38 Then sayde Pharao vnto his seruants, May there bee found a man such as this is, in whom the spirit of God is?

39 And Pharao said vnto Ioseph, Forasmuch as God hath shewed thee al this, there is no man of vnderstanding or of wisedome like vnto thee.

40 Thou therefore shalt be ouer my house, and according vnto thy word shall all my people bee ruled: only in the kinges seat wil I be aboue thee.

41 And Pharao said againe vnto Ioseph, Behold, I haue set thee ouer all the land of Egypt.

42 And Pharao tooke off his ring from his hand, and put it vpon Iosephs hand, and arayed him in cloth of fine, and put a golden chaine about his necke,

43 And set him vpon the best charet hee had saue one: and they cried before him, Tender ‡ Breaking.

AND ‡ Jacob seeing that there was corne in Egypt, said vnto his sonnes, Why gape ye one vpon another?

2 And he said, Behold, I haue heard that there is corne in Egypt: get you downe thither, and buy vs from thence, that wee may liue, and not die.

3 So ten Josephs ten brethren downe to buy corne in Egypt.

4 But Benjamin Josephs brother would not Jacob send with his other brethren: for he said, Lest peraduenture destruction come vpon him.

5 And the sonnes of Israel came to buy corne among other that came: for there was dearth in the land of Chanaan.

6 And Joseph was gouernour in the land, and solde to all the people of the land. And Josephs brethren came & bowed themselues with their faces downe to the ground before him.

7 When Joseph saw his brethren, hee knew them, and made himselfe strange vnto them, and spake roughly vnto them, saying, Whence come yee? They answered, Out of the land of Chanaan, to buy victuall.

8 And Joseph knew his brethren, but they knew not him.

9 And Joseph remembred his dreams which he dreamed of them, and said vnto them, Yee are a spies: and to see where the lande is ‡ weake is your comming.

10 And they said vnto him, Nay my lord, but to buy victuall are thy seruants come.

11 We are all one mans sonnes, and ‡ meane truely, and thy seruants are no spies.

12 And he said vnto them again, Nay: but b to see where the land is weake, is your comming.

13 And they said, We thy seruants are twelue brethren, the sonnes of one man in the land of Chanaan: & behold, the yongest is this day with our father, and one no man weteth where he is.

14 And Joseph said vnto them, c That is it that I spake vnto you, when I said, Ye are spies.

15 Hereby ye shalbe proued: by the life of Pharao, ye shall not goe hence, except your yongest brother come hither.

16 Send out one of you, which may fet your brother, and ye shall be kept in prison, that your words may be proued whether there bee any trueth in you: or els, by the life of Pharao, ye are but spies.

17 And he put them al together in ward three dayes.

18 And Joseph said vnto them the third day, This doe, and liue: for I d feare God.

19 If ye be true men, let one of your brethren be bound in the house of your prison: and go ye, carie corne to put away the famine from your houshold.

20 But bring your yongest brother vnto me, and so shall your words be tried true, and ye shall not die. And they did so.

21 And one said to another, Wee haue verely e sinned against our brother, in that wee saw the anguish of his soule, when he besought vs, and we would not heare him: and therefore is this trouble come vpon vs.

22 And Reuben answered them, saying, Said I not vnto you, that you should not sinne against the lad, and yee would not heare: and see now, his blood is required.

23 They were not aware that Joseph vnderstood them: for he spake vnto them by an interpreter.

24 And hee turned from them and wept: and turned to them againe, and communed with them, tooke out Simeon from amongst them, and bound him before their eyes.

25 And Joseph commanded to fill their sacks with corne, and put euery mans money in his sacke, and to giue them victuall to spend by the way: and thus did he vnto them.

13 Iacob suffereth Beniamin to depart with his children.

AND the dearth was great in the land.

2 And it came to passe when they had eaten vp the corne which they had brought out of the land of Egypt, their father said vnto them, Goe againe and buy vs a little food.

3 Iudah answered him, saying, The man did solemnely protest vnto vs, saying, Ye shal not see my face, except your brother be with you.

4 If thou wilt send our brother with vs, we will goe downe and buy thee food.

5 But if thou wilt not send him, we wil not goe downe: for the man said vnto vs, Ye shal not see my face, except your brother be with you.

6 And Israel said, Wherefore dealt ye so cruelly with l me, as to tell the man that ye had yet a brother?

7 They answered, The man asked vs straitly of ‡ our state and of our kinred, saying, Is your father yet aliue? haue ye not another brother? And we told him according to ‡ tenor of these words:

Could we by any meane knowe that he would say, Bring your brother downe with you?

9 I will be surety for him, of my hand shalt thou require him: if I bring him not vnto thee againe, and set him before thine eyes, then let me beare the blame for euer.

11 And their father Israel said vnto them, If it must needes be so, now then doe thus: Take of the ‡ best fruits of the land in your vessels, and bring the man a present, a ‡ little of balme, and a ‡ little of hony, spices, and myrrhe, nuts and almonds.

12 And take double money in your hand, and the money that was brought againe in your sackes, take it againe with you, peraduenture it was some ‡ ouersight.

13 Take also your brother with you, and arise, and goe againe vnto the man.

14 And d God almighty giue you mercy in the sight of the man, that he may deliuer you your other brother, and this Beniamin: and thus I am as one that is quite robed of his children.

15 Thus tooke they the present, and twise so much more money in their hand, with Beniamin, and rose vp, and went downe to Egypt, and stood before Ioseph.

16 When Ioseph saw Beniamin with them, he said to the ruler of his house, Bring these men home, and slay, and make ready: for these men shall ‡ dine with me at noone.

The xliiij. Chapter.

2 Ioseph commandeth his cup to be put in the sacke of Beniamin. 5 The cup is found in the sacke of Beniamin. 12 Ioseph accuseth his brethren of theft. 33 Iuda offereth himselfe to be bound for his brother Beniamin.

AND he commanded the ruler of his house, saying, Fill the mens sacks with food, as much as they can carie, and put euery mans money in his sacks mouth.

a We may not by this example vse any vnlawfull practise, seeing God hath commanded vs to walk in simplicitie.

2 a And put my cup, my siluer cup, in the sacke mouth of the youngest, and his corne money also. And he did according to the word that Ioseph had said.

3 And in the morning as soone as it was light, the men were let goe, they, and their asses.

4 And when they were out of the citie, and not yet farre off, Ioseph said vnto the ruler of his house, Vp, and follow after the men: & when thou doest ouertake them, thou shalt say vnto them, Wherefore haue yee rewarded euill for good?

5 Is not that the cup in the which my lord drinketh? and in the which he b prophesieth? Ye haue euill done that ye haue done.

b He speaketh according to the opinion of the Egyptians, who thought that all the wisemen of Egypt could prophesie.

6 And when he ouertooke them, he spake the same words vnto them.

7 And they answered him, Wherefore saith my lord such words? God forbid that thy seruants should do so.

8 Behold, the money which we found in our sacks mouthes, we brought againe vnto thee out of the land of Canaan: how then should we steale out of thy lords house either siluer or gold?

9 With whomsoeuer of thy seruants it bee found, let him die, and we also will be my lords bondmen.

10 And he said, Now also let it be according vnto your words: hee with whom it is found, shall be my seruant: and ye shall be blamelesse.

11 And at once euery man tooke downe his sacke to the ground: and euery man opened his sacke.

12 And he searched, and beganne at the eldest, and left at the youngest: and the cup was found in Beniamins sacke.

13 Then they rent their clothes, and laded euery man his Asse, and went againe vnto the citie.

14 And Iuda and his brethren came to Iosephs house (for he was yet there) and they fell before him on the ground.

15 And Ioseph said vnto them, What deed is this that ye haue done? wote ye not that such a man as I can certainely prophesie?

16 Then saide Iuda, What shall we say vnto my lord? what shall we speake? or how shall we ‡ cleare our selues? God hath found out the wickednesse of thy seruants: behold, we are my lords seruants, both we, yea and he also with whom the cup is found.

c If we see no euident cause of our affliction: let vs search diligently the secrets of our hearts: for God punisheth not without a iust cause.

17 And hee answered, God forbid that I should doe so: but the man with whom the cup is found, he shall be my seruant, & get you hence vp in peace vnto your father.

18 Then Iuda went vnto him, and said, Oh my lorde, let thy seruant, I pray thee, speake a word in my lords eares, & be not inflamed with wrath against thy seruant: for ‡ thou art euen as Pharao.

‡ As thou, as Pharao.

19 My lord asked his seruants, saying, Haue ye a father, or a brother?

20 And we answered my lord, Wee haue a father that is old, and a yong lad, which he begate in his age: and the brother of the said lad is dead, and he is al that is left of his mother, and his father loueth him.

21 And thou saidst vnto thy seruants, Bring him vnto mee, that I may set mine eyes vpon him.

22 And wee answered my lord, that the lad could not get from his father: for if hee should leaue his father, he were but dead.

23 Then saidst d thou vnto thy seruants, Except your yongest brother come with you, ye shall looke that ye see my face no more.

d Ask of the hardnesse the cause that Beniamin came into Egypt: and therefore should be mercifull.

24 And when we came vnto thy seruant our father, we shewed him the words of my lord.

25 And our father said vnto vs, Goe againe, and buy vs a little food.

26 And we answered, We cannot goe downe: neuertheless, if our yongest brother be with vs, then will we goe downe: for we may not see the mans face, except our youngest brother be with vs.

27 And thy seruant our father saide vnto vs, Ye know that my wife bare me two sonnes, 28 And the one went out from me, and I said, e Of a surety he is torne in pieces: and I saw him not since.

e Ioseph might vnderstand what lie they had made before of his letting. So wickednes will be waye it selfe.

29 And if yee take this also away from mee, and destruction come vnto him, ye shal bring my gray head with sorow vnto the graue.

1 Ioseph maketh himselfe knowen to his brethren. 5 He comforteth them, and sheweth that he was sent thither by Gods prouidence.

2 And he wept aloud: and the Egyptians, and the house of Pharaoh heard.

3 And Ioseph said vnto his brethren, I am Ioseph, doeth my father yet liue? And his brethren could not answere him, they were so abashed at his presence.

4 And Ioseph said vnto his brethren, Come neere to me, I pray you. And they came neere. And he said, I am Ioseph your brother, whom ye sold into Egypt.

5 Now therefore, be not grieued here with, neither let it seeme a cruell thing in your eyes, that ye sold me hither: for God did send me before you to preserue life.

6 For this is the second yeere of dearth in the land: and fiue more are behinde, in the which there shall neither be earing, nor haruest.

13 Therefore tell my father of all my glory in Egypt, and of all that you haue seene, and make haste, and bring my father hither.

17 And f Pharao spake vnto Ioseph, Say vnto thy brethren, This doe yee, lade your beasts, and goe and returne vnto the land of Chanaan:

24 So sent he his brethren away, and they departed: and he said vnto them, See that yee fall not out by the way.

g Seeing Ioseph had remitted the fault done against him, he would not that they should blame or accuse one another.

b It was in the confines of the land of Chanaan, and Arabia, and in the extreme parts of Egypt.

17 And they brought their cattell vnto Joseph: and Joseph gaue them bread for horses, and sheepe, and oxen, and asses, and fedde them with bread for all their cattell that yeere.

18 But when that yeere was ended, they came vnto him the next yeere, and said vnto him, We will not hide it from my lorde how that our money is spent, my lord also had our heards of cattell: neither is there ought left in the sight of my lord, but euen our bodies, and our lands.

20 And Joseph bought all the land of Egypt for Pharao: for the Egyptians sold euery man his possessions, because the dearth was so sore vpon them: and so the land became Pharaos.

21 And he caused the people to remoue from citie to citie, fro one side of Egypt into the other.

22 Onely the land of the priests bought he not: for the Priests had a portion assigned them of Pharao, and did eate their portion which Pharao gaue them: wherefore they sold not their lands.

26 And Joseph made it a lawe ouer the land of Egypt vnto this day, that Pharao should haue the fifth part, except the land of the Priests only, which was not Pharaos.

8 And all the house of Joseph, and his brethren, and his fathers house: only their children, and their sheep, and their cattell, left they behind in the land of Goshen.

9 And there went with him both charets and horsemen: and it was an exceeding great company.

The first Chapter.

1 The children of Iacob which came into Egypt. 8 The new Pharao goeth about to oppresse them in vaine, by ouerburdening of them, by murdering and drowning of their men children. 17 The midwiues haue pitie on them, and be rewarded of God.

Gen.46.8.

THese are the names of the children of Israel, which came into Egypt with Jacob, euery man came with his houshold:

2 Ruben, Simeon, Leui, and Juda:

3 Issachar, Zabulon, and Beniamin,

4 Dan, and Nephthali, Gad, and Aser.

5 All the soules that came out of the loines of Jacob, were seuentie:

6 But Joseph was in Egypt already, and Joseph died, and all his brethren, and all that generation.

7 *And the children of Israel were fruitful, [‡] encreased, multiplied, and waxed exceeding mighty, and the [a] land was full of them.

8 But there arose vp a new king in Egypt, which [b] knew not Joseph:

9 And he said vnto his folke, Behold, the people of the children of Israel, are greater and mightier then we.

10 Come on, let vs deale wittily with them, lest they multiply, and lest it come to passe, that if there be any warre, they ioyne themselues vnto our enemies, and fight against vs, and so get them vp out of the land.

11 Therefore did they set taskemasters ouer them, to keepe them vnder with burdens: And they built vnto Pharao treasure cities, Pithom and Raamses.

12 But the more they vexed them, the more they [d] multiplied and grew: so that they abhorred at the sight of the children of Israel.

13 And the Egyptians [e] vsed the children of Israel in bondage without mercie, 14 And they made their liues bitter vnto them in that cruell bondage, in clay, and bricke, and all manner of worke in the fielde: for all their bondage wherein they serued them, was full of tyrannie.

15 And the king of Egypt [f] spake vnto the Midwiues of the Hebrewes women: (of which the one was named Siphrah, and the other Puah) and said, 16 When ye doe the office of a Midwife to the women of the Hebrewes, and see [‡] them vpon the stooles, if it be a sonne, then ye shall kill him: but if it be a daughter, she shall liue.

17 Notwithstanding, the Midwiues feared God, [g] and did not as the king of Egypt commanded them, but saued the men children aliue.

18 And the king of Egypt called for the Midwiues, and said vnto them, Why haue yee dealt on this maner, and haue saued the men children aliue?

19 And the Midwiues answered Pharao, That the Hebrues women are not as the women of Egypt: for they are more liuely women, and are deliuered yer the Midwiues come at them.

20 Therefore [h] God dealt well with the Midwiues: and the people multiplied, and waxed very mightie.

21 And it came to passe, that because the Midwiues feared God, [i] he made them houses.

22 And Pharao charged all his people, saying, All the men children that are borne, cast into the riuer, and saue the maide children aliue.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Moses is borne, and cast into the flagges. 6 Hee is taken vp of Pharaos daughter, and deliuered to his owne mother to be nursed.

AND there went [a] a man out of the house of Leui, and tooke to wife a daughter of Leui.

2 And the wife conceiued, & bare a sonne: and when she saw that it was a proper child, she hid him three moneths.

3 And when she could no longer hide him, she tooke a basket made of bull rushes, and daubed it with slime and pitch, and laid the childe therein, and put it in the flagges by the riuers brinke.

4 And his sister stood a farre off, to wit what would come of it.

5 And the daughter of Pharao came downe to wash her selfe in the riuer, and her maidens walked along by the riuer side: and when she saw the basket among the flagges, she sent her maide to fetch it.

6 And when she had opened it, she saw it was a childe: and behold, the babe wept. And she had [b] compassion on it, and said, It is one of the Hebrues children.

7 Then said his sister to Pharaos daughter, Shall I goe and call to thee a nurse of the Hebrues women, to nurse thee the child?

8 Pharaos daughter answered her, Goe. And the maid ran and called the [c] childs mother.

9 To whom Pharaos daughter sayd, Take this child away, and nurse it for me, and I will reward thee. And the woman tooke the childe, and nursed it.

10 The childe grewe, and she brought it vnto Pharaos daughter, and it was made her sonne. And she called the name of it [‡] Moses: because said she I tooke him out of the water.

11 And in those dayes, when Moses was waxed great, [d] hee went out vnto his brethren, and looked on their burdens, and spied an Egyptian smiting an Hebrew which was one of his brethren:

12 And he looked round about, and when he saw no man by, [e] he slew the Egyptian, and hid him in the sand.

13 And when hee was gone out another day, beholde, two men of the Hebrewes strooue together: And hee said vnto him that did the wrong, Wherefore smitest thou thy fellow?

14 Hee answered, Who made thee a man of authoritie and a iudge ouer vs? [‡] intendest thou to kill mee, as thou killedst the Egyptian? And Moses feared, and sayd, Of a suretie this thing is knowen.

15 And Pharao heard of it, [f] and went about to slay Moses. And Moses fleeing from the face of Pharao, dwelt in the land of Madian: and he sate downe by the welles side.

16 The [‖] priest of Madian had seuen daughters, the which came and drewe water, and filled the troughes for to water their fathers sheepe.

17 And the shepheards came and droue them away: but Moses stood vp and helped them, and watered their sheepe.

18 And when they came to Raguel their father, hee saide, How came it to passe that yee are come so soone to day?

19 And they answered, A man of Egypt deliuered vs from the hands of the shepheards, and so [‡] drew vs water, and watered the sheepe.

20 He sayde vnto his daughters, And where is hee? why haue yee so left the man? Call him, that he may eat bread.

21 And Moses was content to dwel with the man: & he gaue Moses Sephora his daughter.

22 Which bare him a sonne, and he called his name Gerhom: for hee sayde, [g] I haue beene a straunger in a strange land.

23 And in processe of time, the king of Egypt dyed, and the children of Israel sighed by the reason of [h] bondage, and cryed.

24 And their complaint came vp vnto God for the bondage: and God heard their mone, and God remembred his couenant with Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob.

25 And God looked vpon the children of Israel, and God had respect vnto them.

6 And he said, I am the God of thy father, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob. And Moses hid his face: for hee was afraid to looke vpon God.

18 And they shall heare thy voyce: then both thou and the Elders of Israel shall goe vnto the king of Egypt, and say vnto him, The Lorde God of the Hebrues hath ‖ met with vs, and now let vs goe, we beseech thee, three dayes iourney into the wildernesse, and doe sacrifice vnto the Lord our God.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 God giueth three signes vnto Moses, which doe declare that he was sent of God. 18 Moses taketh his leaue of his father in law.

[a] Moses answered and saide, See, they will not beleeue me, nor hearken vnto my voice: but will say, The Lord hath not appeared vnto thee.

2 And the Lord said vnto him, What is that which is in thine hand? He answered, A ‖ rodde.

3 And he said, Cast it on the ground. And he cast it on the ground, and it became a serpent: and Moses fled from the sight of it.

4 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Put forth thine hand, and take it by the taile. And therefore he put forth his hand, and caught it, and it became a rod in his hand.

5 [b] By this thing shall they beleeue, that the Lord God of their fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob, hath appeared vnto thee.

6 And the Lord said furthermore vnto him, Thrust thine hand into thy bosom. And he thrust his hand into his bosome: and when he tooke it out again, behold his hād was leprous as snow.

7 And he saide, Put thine hand into thy bosome again. And he put his hand into his bosom againe, and plucked it out of his bosome, and behold, it was turned againe as his other flesh.

8 Therefore if they wil not beleeue thee, neither heare the ‖ voice of the first signe, yet wil they beleeue for the voice of the second signe.

9 But and if they will not beleeue these two signes, neither hearken vnto thy voice: thou shalt take of the water of the riuer, and powre it vpon the dry land, and the water which thou taken out of the riuer, shall be turned into blood vpon the drie land.

10 Moses said vnto the Lord, Oh my Lord, I ‖ am neither yesterday, nor yer yesterday, a man eloquent, neither since thou hast spoken vnto thy seruant: but I am slow mouthed, and slow tongued.

11 And the Lord saide vnto him, Who hath made mans mouth? or who maketh the dumbe, or deafe, the seeing, or the blind? haue not I, the Lord?

12 And now go, and I will be with thy mouth, and teach thee what thou shalt say.

13 He said, Oh my Lord, send I pray thee by the hand of him, whom thou wilt send.

21 And the Lorde saide vnto Moses, When thou art entred and come into Egypt againe, see that thou doe all the wonders before Pharao which I haue put in thy hand: [e] but I will harden his heart, and hee shall not let the people goe.

22 And thou shalt say vnto Pharao, Thus saith the Lorde, Israel is my sonne, euen my first borne.

23 And I saide vnto thee, that thou let my sonne goe, that he may serue me: and if thou refuse to let him goe, behold, I doe [f] slay thy sonne, euen thy first borne.

24 And it came to passe by the way, in the Inne, that the Lorde met him, and would haue [g] killed him.

25 And Zephora tooke a stone, and cut away the foreskin of her sonne, and cast it at his feete, and said, A bloodie husband art thou vnto me.

26 Then [h] he let him goe: and she said, A bloodie husband: because of the circumcision.

27 Then [i] saide the Lorde vnto Aaron, Goe meete Moses in the wildernesse. And he went and met him in the mount of God, and kissed him.

28 And Moses tolde Aaron all the wordes of the Lord which had sent him, and all the signes which he charged him withall.

29 So Moses and Aaron went and gathered all the elders of the children of Israel.

30 And Aaron tolde all the wordes which the Lord had spoken vnto Moses, and did the miracles in the sight of the people.

31 And the people beleeued: And when they heard that the Lorde had visited the children of Israel, and had looked vpon their tribulation, they bowed themselues, and worshipped.

The v. Chapter.

1 Moses and Aaron doe their message to Pharao, who will not suffer the people of Israel to depart: but oppresseth them more and more.

MOses & Aaron went in afterward and tolde Pharao, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Let my people goe, that they may ‖ hold a feast vnto me in the wildernesse.

‖ Worship God solemnly.

2 And Pharao said, Who is the Lord that I should heare his voice, & let Israel goe? I know not the Lord, neither will I let Israel goe.

3 And they saide, The God of the Hebrues ‡ hath called vs: let vs goe, we pray thee, three dayes iourney into the desert, and doe sacrifice vnto the Lord our God, least hee smite vs with pestilence, or with the sword.

‡ Heb. iscalled ouer vs.

4 Then saide the king of Egypt vnto them, Wherefore do ye Moses and Aaron let the people from their workes? get you vnto your burdens.

5 And Pharao said furthermore, Beholde, there is much people now in the land, and you make them leaue their burdens.

6 And Pharao [a] commaunded the same day the taskemasters which were ouer the people, and the officers, saying, a The godly ought not to be offended if afflictions increase when God beginneth to deliuer them.

7 Ye shall giue the people no more straw to make bricke withall, as yee did in time past: let them goe and gather them straw themselues.

8 And the number of bricke which they were woont to make in time past, lay vnto their charges also, and minish nothing thereof, for they be idle, and therefore cry, saying, We will goe and do sacrifice vnto our God.

9 [b] They must haue more worke laide vpon them, that they may labour therein, and not regard vaine words.

b The more cruelly that tyrants rage the nerer is Gods helpe.

10 Then went the taskemasters of the people, and the officers out, and told the people, saying, Thus saieth Pharao, I will giue you no more straw.

11 Goe your selues and gather you straw where ye can find it: yet shal none of your labour be minished.

12 And so were [c] the people scattered abroad throughout all the land of Egypt, for to gather stubble in stead of straw.

c This intolerable labour was layd on the people, that they might driue away Moses and Aaron.

13 And the taskmasters hasted them forward, saying, Fulfill your worke, your dayly tasks in their due time, as if you had straw.

14 And the officers of the children of Israel, which Pharaos taskemasters had set ouer them, were beaten. And they saide vnto them, Wherefore haue yee not fulfilled your taske in making of bricke, both yesterday, and to day, as we las in time past?

15 The officers also of the children of Israel came & complained vnto Pharao, saying, Wherefore dealest thou thus with thy seruants?

16 There is no straw giuen vnto thy seruants, and they say vnto vs, Make bricke: and thy seruants are beaten, ‖ and the fault is in thine owne people.

‖ Or, they deale euill with thy people.

17 He said, Ye are idle, idle are ye: and therefore ye say, We will goe and doe sacrifice vnto the Lord.

18 Goe therefore nowe and worke, and there shall no straw be giuen you, and yet shal ye deliuer the whole tale of bricke.

19 And the officers of the children of Israel did see that they were in worse case after it was said, Ye shall minish nothing of your bricke, of your dayly taske in due time.

23 For since I came to Pharao to speake in thy name, hee hath sared euile with this folke: and yet thou hast not deliuered thy people at all.

The vj. Chapter.

3 God renewethe his promise concerning the deliuerance of the Israelites.

THen the Lorde sayde vnto Moses, Now shalt thou see what I will doe vnto Pharao: for in a mightie hand shall hee let them goe, and in a mightie hand shall he driue them out of this land.

2 And God spake vnto Moses, and sayd vnto him, I am the Lord.

3 I appeared vnto Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob, as an almightie God: but in my name Iehouah was I [a] not knowen vnto them.

4 Moreouer, I made a couenant with them, to giue them the lande of Chanaan, the lande of their pilgrimage, wherein they were strangers.

5 And therefore I haue also heard the groning of the children of Israel, whome the Egyptians keepe in bondage: and haue remembred my couenant.

6 Wherefore say vnto the children of Israel, I am the Lorde, I will bring you out from the burdens of the Egyptians, and will rid you out of their bondage, and will deliuer you with a stretched out arme, and in great iudgements.

7 And I will take you for my people, and will be to you a God: and yee shall know that I am the Lord your God, which bringeth you out from the burdens of the Egyptians.

8 And I will bring you into the lande concerning the which I did ‖ lift vp my hand to giue it vnto Abraham, Isahac and Jacob, and will giue it vnto you for a possession: for I am the Lord.

9 And Moses tolde the children of Israel euen so: but they [b] hearkened not vnto Moses for anguish of spirite, and for cruell bondage.

10 And the Lorde spake vnto Moses, saying,

11 Goe in, and speake vnto Pharao king of Egypt, that he let the children of Israel goe out of his land.

12 And Moses spake before the Lord, saying, Behold, the children of Israel hearken not vnto me: How then shall Pharao heare mee, which am of ‖ vncircumcised lips?

26 This is that Aaron and Moses to whome the Lorde sayde, ‖ Leade the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt, according to their [g] armies.

27 These are that Moses and Aaron, which spake to Pharao king of Egypt, that [†] they might bring the children of Israel out of Egypt.

28 And in the day when the Lord spake vnto Moses in the land of Egypt, 6 Moses and Aaron did as the Lorde commaunded them, euen so did they.

7 Moses was fourescore yeres olde, and Aaron fourescore and three, when they spake vnto Pharao.

8 And the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron, saying,

10 Then went Moses and Aaron in vnto Pharao, and did as the Lord had commaunded: and Aaron cast forth his rod before Pharao, and before his seruants, and it turned to a serpent.

The first plague.

20 And Moses and Aaron did as the Lorde commaunded: and he lift vp the rod, and smote the [d] waters that were in the riuer, in the sight of Pharao, and in the sight of his seruants: and all the water that was in the riuer turned into blood.

[d] The waters wherein the Israelites children were drowned, are now turned to the Egyptians sorow.

21 And the fish that was in the riuer, died: and the riuer corrupted, and the Egyptians coulde not drinke of the water of the riuer, and there was blood throughout all the land of Egypt.

22 And the enchaunters of Egypt did likewise with their sorceries: and he hardened Pharaos heart, neither did he hearken vnto them, as the Lord had said.

23 And Pharao turned himselfe, and went againe into his house, and set not his heart thereunto.

24 And the Egyptians [c] digged round about the riuer for water to drinke: for they could not drinke of the water of the riuer.

[c] These circumstances declare, that this was no vaine illusion.

25 And it continued seuen dayes, after that the Lord had smitten the riuer.

The viij. Chapter.

6 The plague of frogs, which dye at the prayer of Moses. 30 Moses prayeth againe, but Pharaos heart is hardened.

THe Lord spake vnto Moses, Goe vnto Pharao, and tell him, Thus sayeth the Lord, Let my people go, that they may serue me.

2 And if thou refuse to let them goe, beholde, I will smite all thy borders with frogges:

3 And the riuer shall fraule with frogges, which shall goe vp and come into thine house, and into thy priuie chamber where thou sleepest, and vpon thy bed, and into the house of thy seruants, and vpon thy people, & into thine ouens, and vpon all thy ‖ victuals in store:

5 And the Lorde spake vnto Moses, Say vnto Aaron, Stretch forth thine hand with thy rod ouer the streames, ouer the riuers, and ouer the ponds: and cause frogs to come vp vpon the land of Egypt.

The second plague.

6 And Aaron stretched his hande ouer the waters of Egypt, and the frogges came vp, and couered the land of Egypt.

7 And [a] the sorcerers did likewise with their sorcerie, and brought frogs vp vpon the land of Egypt.

[a] Thus God will exercise his seruants with aduersaries to their reliall.

8 Then Pharao called for Moses and Aaron, and sayd, Pray ye vnto the Lorde, that hee may take away the frogs from me, and from my people: and I will let the people goe, that they may doe sacrifice vnto the Lorde.

[b] Hypocrites feared with Gods iudgement, pretend a certaine repentance.

9 And Moses sayde vnto Pharao, [c] Glory herein because of me, and appoint when I shall pray for thee, and for thy seruants, and for thy people, to driue away the frogges from thee and thy houses: that they may remaine but in the riuer onely.

[c] This was the glorie of Pharaoh, that he might chuse the time when Moses should pray for him.

10 He said, To morow. And he said, Euen as thou hast sayde: That thou mayest knowe that there is none like vnto the Lord our God.

11 And so the frogges shall depart from thee, and from thy houses, from thy seruants, & from thy people, and shall remaine in the riuer onely.

12 Moses and Aaron went out from Pharao, and Moses cryed vnto the Lorde as touching the frogges which hee had brought against Pharao.

14 And they gathered them together vpon heapes, and the land [‡] had an euill smell through them.

18 And the enchanters ‡ assayed likewise with their enchantments, to bring foorth lice, d but they could not: and the lice were both vpon men and beasts.

19 Then sayde the enchaunters to Pharao, This is the finger of God. And Pharaos heart remained obstinate, and hee hearkened not vnto them, as the Lord had said.

20 And the Lord sayde vnto Moses, Rise vp early in the morning, and stand before Pharao loe, he will come forth vnto the water, and thou shalt say vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Let my people goe, that they may serue me.

21 Els, if thou wilt not let my people goe, behold, I will send ‡ all maner of flyes, both vpon thee and thy seruants, and thy people, and into thy houses: and the houses of the Egyptians shall be full of flyes, and the ground whereon they are.

24 And the Lorde did so, and f there came an intollerable swarme of flyes into the house of Pharao, and into his seruants houses, and into all the land of Egypt: and the land was corrupt with thefe flies.

25 And Pharao called for Moses and Aaron, and said, Goe and doe sacrifice vnto your God in this land.

26 And Moses answered, It is not meet that we so doe: for we must offer vnto the Lorde our God, that which is g an abomination vnto the Egyptians. Loe, if wee sacrifice that which is an abomination vnto the Egyptians before their eyes, will they not stone vs?

27 Wee will goe three dayes iourney into the desert, and sacrifice vnto the Lord our God, as he hath commaunded vs.

28 And Pharao said, I will let you goe, that yee may sacrifice vnto the Lord your God in the wildernesse, but go not farre away: pray for me.

29 And Moses sayde, Behold, I will goe out from thee, and pray vnto the Lord, that the flies may depart from Pharao, and from his seruants, and from his people to morow: but let Pharao from henceforth deale deceitfully, no more, that he will not let the people goe to sacrifice vnto the Lord.

30 And Moses went out from Pharao, and prayed vnto the Lord:

31 And the Lorde did according to the saying of Moses, and the flies departed from Pharao, and from his seruants, and from his people, and there remained not one.

32 And Pharao hardened his heart once more at this time, and did not let the people goe.

4 And the Lorde shall doe wonderfully betweene the beasts of Israel, and the beasts of Egypt, so that there shall nothing dye of all that pertaineth to the children of Israel.

5 And the Lorde appointed a time, saying, To morow the Lord shall finish this word in the land.

7 And Pharao sent, and beholde, there was not one of the cattell of the Israelites dead: And the heart of Pharao was hardened, and hee did not let the people goe.

8 And the Lord said vnto Moses and Aaron, Take your hands full of ashes out of the furnace, and Moses shall sprinkle it vp into the ayre in the sight of Pharao.

9 And it shal be dust in all the land of Egypt, and shall be swelling sores with blaines both on man and beast throughout all the lande of Egypt.

3 And Moses and Aaron came in to Pharao, and said vnto him, Thus saieth the Lorde God of the Hebrues, How long wilt thou b refuse to submit thy selfe vnto me? Let my people goe, that they may serue me.

b The end of afflictions is to humble our soules vnto true repentance vnto the mercy of God.

4 Or else if thou refuse to let my people goe, behold, to morow wil I bring Grashoppers into thy coastes:

5 And they shall couer the face of the earth, that it cannot be seene: and they shal eate the residue which remaineth vnto you, and is escaped from the haile: and they shall eate euery greene tree that beareth you fruit in the field.

6 And they shall fill thy houses, and all thy seruants houses, and the houses of all the Egyptians, after such a maner, as neither thy fathers, nor thy fathers fathers haue seene, since the time they were vpon the earth, vnto this day. And he turned himselfe about, and went out from Pharao.

7 And Pharaos seruants saide vnto him, How long shall he be ‡ hurtfull vnto vs? Let the men go, that they may serue the Lord their God: knowest thou not yet that Egypt is destroyed?

‡ A snare, or offence.

8 And Moses and Aaron were brought againe vnto Pharao, and he said vnto them, Goe and serue the Lord your God: but who are they that shall goe?

9 And Moses answered, We will goe with our yong, and with our old, and with our sons, and with our daughters, and with our sheepe, and with our oxen we must go: for we must hold a feast vnto the Lord.

10 And he saide vnto them, c Let the Lord be so with you as I will let you goe, and your children: take heede, ‡ for ye haue some mischiefe in hand.

c That is, I would the Lord were no more bent towards you, then I am minded to let you goe.

‡ For euill is before your face.

11 Nay, not so, but goe ye men, and serue the Lord: for that was your desire. d And they were thrust out of Pharaos presence.

d Moses is careful to haue Gods commaūdement in all points duely obserued, chusing rather to be hated for Gods sake, then to consent to a thing vnlawfull.

12 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Stretch out thine hand ouer the land of Egypt for grashoppers, that they may come vpon the lande of Egypt, and eate all the herbes of the land, and all that the haile left behind.

The eight plague.

13 And Moses stretched forth his rodde ouer the land of Egypt, & the Lord brought an e East winde vpon the lande all that day, and all that night: & in the morning the East winde brought the Grashoppers.

e Hereby wee learne that distemperature and noysome weather is chiefly to be ascribed to the iust iudgement of God, and not to any naturall cause.

14 And the Grashoppers went vp ouer al the lande of Egypt, and remained in all quarters of Egypt very grieuously: before them were there no such Grashoppers, neither after them shall be.

15 For they couered all the face of the earth, so that the land was darke, and they did eate all the herbes of the land, and all the fruites of the trees whatsoeuer the haile had left: there was no greene thing left in the trees and herbes of the field, through all the land of Egypt.

16 Therefore Pharao called for Moses and Aaron in haste, and said, I haue sinned against the Lord your God, and against you.

17 And now forgiue me my sinne onely this once, and pray vnto the Lord your God that hee may take away from me this death onely.

18 And Moses went out from Pharao, and prayed vnto the Lord.

19 And the Lorde turned a mightie strong west wind, and it tooke away the Grashoppers, and cast them into the red sea: so that there was not one grashopper in all the coasts of Egypt.

20 And the Lord hardened Pharaos heart, so that he would not let the children of Israel goe.

21 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Stretch out thy hand vnto heauen, that there may be vpon the land of Egypt darknes which may be felt.

22 And Moses stretched forth his hand vnto heauen: and there was a ‡ thicke darkenesse vpon all the land of Egypt three dayes.

23 No man sawe another, neither rose vp from the place where hee was by the space of three dayes: But all the children of Israel had light where they dwelled.

24 And Pharao called for Moses, and sayd, Goe, and serue the Lord: onely let your sheepe and your oxen abide, and let your children goe with you.

25 [f] And Moses sayd, Thou must giue vs also sacrifice and whole burnt offerings, for to doe sacrifice vnto the Lord our God.

26 Our cattel also shall go with vs, and there shal not one hoofe be left behind: for therof must we take to serue the Lord our God: neither doe we know with what wee must doe seruice vnto the Lord, vntill we come thither.

27 But the Lord hardened Pharaos heart, and he would not let them goe.

28 [g] And Pharao sayd vnto him, Get thee from me, and take heede vnto thy selfe, that thou see my face no more: for whensoeuer thou commest in my sight, thou shalt die.

29 And Moses said, Let it bee as thou hast said, I will see thy face no more.

The xj. Chapter.

2 The Lord commandeth the Hebrues to rob the Egyptians. 4 The death of the first borne of al things in Egypt is signified.

AND the Lord said vnto Moses, Yet will I bring one plague more vpon Pharao, and vpon Egypt, and after that hee will let you goe hence: when hee shall let you goe quite, hee shall vtterly driue you hence.

2 [a] Speake thou therfore in the eares of the people, that euery man borow of his neighbour, and euery woman of her neighbour, iewels of siluer, and iewels of gold.

3 And the Lord shall giue the people fauour in the sight of the Egyptians: Moreouer, Moses was a very great man in the land of Egypt, in the sight of Pharaos seruants, and in the sight of the people.

4 And Moses said, Thus saith the Lord, At midnight will I goe out into the middest of Egypt.

5 And all the first borne in all the land of Egypt shall die from the first borne of Pharao that sitteth on his seate, vnto the first borne of the maide seruant that is behind the mil, and all the first egedred of the cattel.

6 And there shalbe a great crie throughout all the land of Egypt, such as there was neuer none like, nor shalbe.

7 But amongst all the children of Israel, shall not a dog moue his tongue, from a man vnto a beast; that yee may know how that the Lord putteth a difference betweene the Egyptians and Israel.

8 [b] And these thy seruaunts shall all come downe vnto me, and fall before me, and say, Get thee out, and all the people that are vnder thee: and then will I depart. And he went from Pharao [Or, in a great anger.] with an angry countenance.

9 And the Lord sayd vnto Moses, Pharao shal not heare you, that my wonders may bee multiplied in the land of Egypt.

10 And Moses and Aaron did all these wonders before Pharao: & the Lord hardened Pharaos heart, so that he would not let the children of Israel goe out of his land.

The xij. Chapter.

2 The Lord ordaineth the Passeouer. 37 The number that went out of Egypt, and howe long they continue in Egypt.

AND the Lorde spake vnto Moses and Aaron in the lande of Egypt, saying,

2 This moneth shalbe vnto you the beginning of moneths: and the first moneth of the yere shal it be vnto you.

3 Speake yee vnto all the congregation of Israel, saying, In the tenth day of this moneth, euery man take vnto him a [a] lambe, according to the house of their fathers, a lambe throughout euery house.

4 If the houshold bee too little for the lambe, let him take his neighbour which is next vnto his house, according to the number of the soules, euery one of you according to his eating shall make your count for the lambe.

5 And let your lambe be without blemish, a male of a yere old, which yee shal take out from among the sheepe, and from among the goates.

6 And yee shall keepe him vp vntil the foureteenth day of the same moneth: and euery assembly of the congregation of Israel shall kil him about [Or, twilight.] euen.

7 [b] And they shal take of the blood, and strike it on the two side postes, and on the vpper doore post, in the houses where they shal eate him.

8 And they shal eate the flesh the same night, rosted with fire, and with vnleauened bread, and with sowre herbes they shal eate it.

9 See that yee eate not therof raw nor sodden with water, but rosted with fire: the head, feete, and purtenance therof.

10 And ye shal let nothing of it remaine vnto the morning: That which remaineth of it vntil the morow, shal ye burne with fire.

11 Of this maner shal yee eate it, with your loines girded, and your shooes on your feete, and your staffe in your hand, [c] and yee shall eate it in haste: for it is the Lords Passeouer.

12 For I will passe through the land of Egypt this same night, and will smite all the first borne of Egypt, from man to beast, and vpon all the ‡ gods of Egypt I will execute iudgement: I am the Lord. ‡ Princes, or idoles, 13 And the blood shall be vnto you a token in the houses wherein you are: and when I see the blood, I will passe ouer you, and the plague shal not be vpon you to destroy you, when I smite the land of Egypt.

14 And this day shall bee vnto you a remembrance: and you shall keepe it an holy feast vnto the Lorde throughout your generations, you shall keepe it holy for an ordinance for [d] euer.

15 Seuen dayes shall yee eate vnleauened bread,

The ninth plague. ‡ Palpable darkenesse.

[f] Moses will not yeeld to any point in such things as God commanded, for all that Pharao could doe.

[g] The wicked, the nigher they be to their destruction, the more furious commonly they be. Therefore the godly in such calesought to bee of good hope.

[b] Pharaos seruants shall desire Moses to depart with his people: for the king spake no more to Moses, as was said before, Chap. 10. verse 28.

bread, so that the first day ye put away leuen out of your houses: for whosoeuer eateth leauened bread, from the first day vntill the seuenth day, that soule shall be rooted out of Israel.

16 The first day shall be an holy conuocation vnto you, and the seuenth day shall be an holy conuocation vnto you: there shall be no manner of worke done in them, saue about that only which euery man must eat, that only may ye do.

17 And yee shall obserue the feast of vnleauened bread: for this same day haue I brought your armies out of the land of Egypt, therefore yee shall obserue this day, and all your children after you, by an euerlasting decree.

18 The first moneth, and the fourteenth day of the moneth at euen yee shall eat vnleauened bread, vnto the one and twentieth day of the same moneth at euen againe.

19 Seuen dayes shall there bee no leauened bread found in your houses: and whosoeuer eateth leauened bread, that soule shall bee rooted out from the congregation of Israel, whether he be stranger, or borne in the land.

20 Yee shall eate no leauened bread: but in all your habitations shall yee eate vnleauened bread.

21 Then Moses called for all the Elders of Israel, and sayde vnto them, Choose out, & take you to euery houshold of you a Lambe, and kill the Passeouer.

22 And take a bunch of hyssope, and dippe it in the blood that is in the bason, and strike the vpper poste of the doore, and the two side postes, with the blood that is in the bason: and none of you goe out at the doore of his house vntill the morning.

23 For the Lorde will passe ouer to smite the Egyptians: and when hee seeth the blood vpon the vpper doore post, and the two side postes, hee will passe ouer the doore, & will not suffer the destroyer to come into your houses to plague you.

24 Therefore shall yee obserue this thing for an ordinance to thee and to thy sonnes for euer.

25 And when yee be come to the land which the Lord wil giue you, according as he hath promised, ye shall keepe this seruice.

26 And when your children ask you, What manner of seruice is this that ye doe?

27 Ye shall say, It is the sacrifice of the Lords Passeouer, which passed ouer the houses of the children of Israel in Egypt, and he smote the Egyptians, and saued our houses. And the people bowed themselues, and worshipped.

28 And the children of Israel went and did as the Lord had commanded Moses and Aaron, so did they.

The tenth plague.

29 And at midnight the Lorde smote the first borne in the lande of Egypt, from the first borne of Pharao that sate on his seate, vntill the first borne of the captiue that was in prison, and all the first borne of cattell.

30 And Pharao rose in the night, he and his seruants, and all the Egyptians, and there was a great cry in Egypt: for there was not a house where there was not one dead.

31 And hee called vnto Moses and Aaron by night, saying, Rise vp, and get you out from amongst my people, both you, and also the children of Israel: and goe, and serue the Lorde, as ye haue sayd.

32 And take your sheepe and your droues with you as yee haue sayde: and depart, and blesse me also.

33 And the Egyptians forced the people, that they might send them out of the lande in haste: for they said, We be all dead men.

34 And the people tooke their dough before it was sowred, which they had in store, beeing bound in clothes, vpon their shoulders.

35 And the children of Israel did according to the saying of Moses: and they borowed of the Egyptians iewels of siluer, and iewels of gold, and raiment.

36 And the Lorde gaue the people fauour in the sight of the Egyptians, so that they ‖ graunted such things as they required: And they robbed the Egyptians.

37 And the children of Israel tooke their iourney from Rameses to Sucoth, h fiue hundred thousand men on foote, beside children.

38 And a great multitude of sundry other nations went also with them, and sheep, and oxen, and exceeding much cattell.

39 And they baked vnleauened cakes of the dough which they brought out of Egypt, for it was not sowred: for they were thrust out of Egypt, and could not tary, neither had they prepared for themselues any prouision of meat.

40 The dwelling of the children of Israel which they dwelled in Egypt, was foure hundred and thirtie yeeres.

41 And when the foure hundred and thirtie yeeres were expired, euen the selfe same day departed all the hoses of the Lord out of the lande of Egypt.

42 It is a night to be obserued vnto the Lord, in the which he brought them out of the land of Egypt: This is that night of the Lord, which all the children of Israel must keep throughout their generations.

43 And the Lord said vnto Moses and Aaron, This is the lawe of Passeouer: there shall no stranger eate thereof.

44 But euery seruant that is bought for money, after that thou hast circumcised him, shall eate thereof.

45 A straunger and an hired seruant shall not eate thereof.

46 In one house shall it be eaten, thou shalt carie none of the flesh out of the house, neither shall ye breake a bone thereof.

47 All the Congregation of Israel shall obserue it.

48 If a straunger also dwell among you, and will holde Passeouer vnto the Lord, let him circumcise all that be males, and then let him come and obserue it, & he shall be as one that is borne in the land: for no vncircumcised person shall eat thereof.

49 One maner of law shall be vnto him that is borne in the land, and vnto the stranger that dwelleth among you.

50 And all the children of Israel did as the Lord commanded Moses & Aaron, so did they.

51 And the selfe same day did the Lord bring the children of Israel out of the lande of Egypt, with their armies.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 a Sanctifie vnto mee all the first borne, whatsoeuer openeth the wombe among the children of Israel, as well of man as of beast: for it is mine.

3 And Moses said vnto the people, Remember this day in which yee came out of Egypt out of the house of † bondage: for through a mighty hande the Lord brought you from thence: there shall no leauened bread be eaten.

4 This day came yee out, in the moneth b Abib.

5 When the Lord hath brought thee into the land of the Chanaanites, Hethites, Amorites, Hiuites, and Iebusites, which hee sware vnto thy fathers that hee would giue thee, a lande wherein milke and hony floweth: thou shalt keepe this seruice in this same moneth.

6 Seuen dayes thou shalt eate vnleauened bread, and in the seuenth day is the feast of the Lord.

11 And when the Lord shall bring thee into the lande of the Chanaanites, which hee sware vnto thee and to thy fathers, and shall giue it thee:

12 Then thou shalt appoint vnto the Lord all that openeth the matrix, and euery first borne that commeth of a beast which thou hast, if it be a male, it shall be the Lords.

13 And euery first borne of an asse thou shalt redeeme with a Lambe; if thou redeeme him not, thou shalt breake his neck: All the first borne of man amongst thy children also shalt thou buy out.

14 And when thy sonne asketh thee in time to † come, saying, What is this? thou shalt say vnto him, With a mighty hand the Lord brought vs out of Egypt out of the house of bondage.

15 And when Pharao was very loth to let vs goe, the Lord slew all the first borne in the lande of Egypt, as well the first borne of man, as the first borne of beast: Therefore I sacrifice vnto the Lord all the males that open the matrix; but all the first borne of my children I redeeme.

16 This shalbe as a token vpon thine hande, and as a remembrance betweene thine eyes, that the Lord brought vs out of Egypt through a mighty hand.

21 And the Lord went before them by day in a pillar of a cloud to leade them the way, and by night in a pillar of fire to giue them light, that they might goe both by day and night.

The xiij. Chapter.

4 Pharaos heart is hardened, 8 and hee pursueth the Israelites.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake to the children of Israel, that they turne and pitch their tents before Pi-hahiroth, betweene Migdol and the sea, ouer against Baal-zephon: and before that shall they pitch by the sea.

3 For Pharao will say of the children of Israel, They are tangled in the lande, the wildernes hath shut them in.

4 And I wil harden Pharaos heart, that he shal follow after you, and I wil get me honour vpon Pharao and vpon al his hoste: The Egyptians also shall know that I am the Lord. And they did so.

5 And it was tolde the King of Egypt that the people fled: And the heart of Pharao and of his seruants turned against the people, and they said, Why habe we done this, that wee haue let Israel goe out of our seruice?

6 And hee made ready his charet, and tooke his people with him.

7 And tooke six hundred chosen charets, and al the charets of Egypt, and captaines vpon euery one of them.

8 And the Lord hardened the heart of Pharao king of Egypt, and he followed after the children of Israel: but the children of Israel went out with an high hand.

9 And the Egyptians followed after them, and al the horses and charets of Pharao, and his horsemen, and his hoste ouertooke them pitching of their tent by the sea, beside Pi-hahiroth before Baal-zephon.

10 And when Pharao drewe nigh, the children of Israel lift vp their eyes, and beholde, the Egyptians followed after them, and they were sore afraide: and the children of Israel cried out vnto the Lord.

Lord which hee wil shew to you this day: for yee that haue seene the Egyptians this day, shal see them no more for euer.

14 [c] The Lord shal fight for you, and ye shall holde your peace.

15 And the Lord sayd vnto Moses, Wherefore [d] criest thou vnto me? Speake vnto the children of Israel that they go forward:

16 But lift thou vp thy rodde, and stretch out thy hande ouer the Sea, and diuide it asunder, and let the children of Israel go on dry ground through the middes of the Sea.

17 And behold, I, euen I will harden the heart of the Egyptians, & they shal folow after them: and I wil get me honour vpon Pharao and vpon al his hoste, and vpon his charets, and vpon his horsemen.

18 [e] And the Egyptians shal know that I am the Lord, when I haue gotten me honour vpon Pharao, vpon his charets, and vpon his horsemen.

19 And the Angel of God which went before the hoste of Israel, remooued, and went behinde them, and the pillar of the cloude went from before their face, and stood behinde them, 20 And came betweene the tentes of the Egyptians, and the tentes of Israel, and it was a cloude and darknesse, and gaue light by night, and all the night long the one came not at the other.

21 And Moses stretched out his hande ouer the Sea, and the Lord caused the Sea to goe backe by a very strong East winde al that night, and made the Sea dry land, and the waters were diuided.

22 And the children of Israel went into the midst of the Sea vpon the dry ground, and the waters were a wall vnto them on their right hand, and on their left hand.

23 And the Egyptians followed, and went in after them [f] to the middes of the Sea, euen all Pharaos horses, his charets, and his horsemen.

24 And in the morning watch, the Lord looked vnto the hoste of the Egyptians out of the pillar of fire and of the cloude, & troubled the hoste of the Egyptians, 25 And tooke off his charet wheeles, and caried them away violently: So that the Egyptians sayde, [g] Let vs flee from the face of Israel: for the Lord fighteth for them against the Egyptians.

26 And the Lord sayde vnto Moses, Stretch out thy hand ouer the Sea, that the waters may come againe vpon the Egyptians, vpon their charets, and vpon their horsemen.

The last plague.

27 And Moses stretched forth his hand ouer the sea, and it came againe to his course early in the morning, and the Egyptians fled against it: and the Lord ouerthrewe the Egyptians in the middes of the sea.

28 And the water returned, and couered the charets, and the horsemen, and all the hoste of Pharao that came into the sea after them, so that there remained not one of them.

29 But the children of Israel walked vpon dry land through the midst of the sea, and the waters were a wall vnto them on the right hand of them, and on the left.

30 Thus the Lord deliuered Israel the selfe same day out of the hand of the Egyptians: and Israel saw the Egyptians dead vpon the sea side.

31 [h] And Israel sawe that great power which the Lord shewed vpon the Egyptians: and the people feared the Lord, and beleeued the Lord, and his seruant Moses.

The xv. Chapter.

1 Moses with the men and women sing praises vnto God for their deliuerance.

THen Moses and the children of Israel sang this song vnto the Lord, and said on this maner: I will sing vnto the Lord, for hee hath triumphed gloriously, the horse & man that rode vpon him hath he ouerthrowen in the Sea.

2 The Lord is my strength and praise, and he is become my saluation: he is my God, and I wil glorifie him, my fathers God, and I will exalt him.

3 The Lord is a man of warre, the Lord is his Name.

4 Pharaos charets and his hoste hath hee cast into the Sea, his chosen captaines also are drowned in the red Sea.

5 The deepe waters haue couered them, they sunke to the bottome as a stone.

6 Thy right hand, Lord, is become glorious in power, thy right hand, Lord, hath al to dashed the enemie.

7 And in thy great glory thou hast ouerthrowen them that rose vp against thee: thou sentest foorth thy wrath, which consumed them as stubble.

8 Through the blast of thy nostrils the waters gathered together, the floods stood vpright as an heape, and the deepe waters congealed together in the heart of the Sea.

9 The enemie sayde, I will follow on them, I will ouertake them, I will diuide the spoyle, and my lust shalbe satisfied vpon them: I will draw my sword, mine hand shall destroy them.

10 Thou didst blow with thy winde, the sea couered them, they sanke as leade in the mighty waters.

11 Who is like vnto thee, O Lord, amongst the gods? who is like thee, so glorious in holinesse, fearefull in praises, doing wonders?

12 Thou stretchedst out thy right hande, the earth swallowed them.

13 Thou in thy mercy hast caried this people which thou hast redeemed, and hast brought them in thy strength vnto thy holy habitation.

14 [a] The nations shall heare, and be afraide, sorrow shall come vpon Palestina.

15 Then the dukes of the Edomites shal be amazed, and the mightiest of the Moabites: trembling shall come vpon them, all the inhabiters of Chanaan shall waxe faint hearted.

16 Feare and dread shall fall vpon them, in the greatnesse of thine arme they shall be as still as a stone, till thy people passe ouer, O Lord, while this people passe ouer which thou hast gotten.

17 Thou shalt bring them in, and plant them in the [b] mountaine of thine inheritence, the place, Lord, which thou hast made for to dwell in, the Sanctuarie, O Lord, which thy handes haue prepared.

20 And Mary a prophetesse, the sister of Aaron, tooke a timbrel in her hand, and all the women came out after her with [c] timbrels and daunces.

[c] Signifying their great ioy, which custome the Iewes obserued in certaine solemnities. Iudg. xi. 34. which ought not to be a cloke for our wanton dances.

21 And Mary sang before them, Sing ye vnto the Lord, for hee hath triumphed gloriously: the horse and his rider hath hee ouerthrowen in the Sea.

22 And so Moses brought Israel from the red sea, and they went out into the wildernes of Sur: and they went three dayes in the wildernes, and found no waters.

23 And when they came to Marah, they could not drinke of the waters of [d] Marah, for they were bitter: therefore the name of the place was called Marah.

[d] It is called bitter, to signifie affliction & repentance, which through the crosse of Christ, in faith is made sweete.

24 [e] And the people murmured against Moses, saying, What shall we drinke?

[e] A sudden change of the inconstant and wrthinde people, neither considering Gods benefites, by whose ministery they had received such benefits, nor remembring the strange wonders that God had wrought for them already.

25 And he cried vnto the Lord: and the Lord [f] shewed him a tree, which when he had cast into the waters, the waters were made sweete: there he made them an ordinance and a law, and there he proued him, [f] Taught.

26 And saide, If thou wilt hearken vnto the voyce of the Lord thy God, and wilt doe that which is right in his sight, & wilt giue eare vnto his Commandements, and keepe all his ordinances: then will I put none of these diseases vpon thee, which I haue brought vpon the Egyptians: for I am the Lord that healeth thee.

27 And the children of Israel came to Elim, where were twelue wells of water, and three score and ten palme trees, and they pitched their tents there by the waters.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 The Israelites come into the desert of Sin. 32 Manna is reserued for a remembrance vnto their posteritie.

AND they tooke their iourney from Elim, and all the congregation of the children of Israel came to the wildernesse of Sin, which is betweene Elim and Sinai, the fifteenth day of the second moneth after their departing out of the land of Egypt.

2 And the whole Congregation of the children of Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron in the wildernes.

3 And the children of Israel said vnto them, Would to God wee had died by the hande of the Lord in the land of Egypt, when we sate by the fleshpots, & when wee did eate bread our bellies full: for ye haue brought vs out into this wildernes to kil this whole multitude with hunger.

[a] Go hard a thing it is to the flesh, not to murmure against God, when the belly is punished.

4 Then said the Lord vnto Moses, Behold, I will raine bread from heauen for you: and the people shal goe out, and gather a certaine rate euery day, that I may proue them, whether they wil walke in my Law or no.

5 [a] The sixth day they shal prepare for themselues that which they will bring in, and let it be twise as much as they gather in dayly.

6 And Moses and Aaron saide vnto all the children of Israel, At euen ye shal know that it is the Lord which brought you out of the lande of Egypt.

7 And in the morning ye shal see the glory of the Lord, because hee hath heard your grudgings against the Lord: And what are wee, that ye haue murmured against vs?

[b] He gaue them not Manna because they murmured, but for his promise sake.

8 And Moses sayde, [a] At euen that the Lord giue you flesh to eate, and in the morning bread ynough: for the Lord hath heard your murmurings which ye murmure against him: for what are wee? Your murmurings are not against vs, but against the Lord.

9 And Moses spake vnto Aaron, Say vnto al the Congregation of the children of Israel, Come foorth before the Lord: for hee hath heard your grudgings,

10 And as Aaron spake vnto the whole Congregation of the children of Israel, they looked toward the wildernes, and beholde, the glory of Lord appeared in the cloude.

11 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

12 I haue heard the murmurings of the children of Israel: tell them therefore, and say, At euen ye shal eate flesh, and in the morning ye shal bee filled with bread: [c] and yee shal know that I am the Lord your God.

[c] God worketh all that he doth for this ende, that the knowledge of him may stricke deepe roote in our mindes.

13 And at euen the Quailes came vp, and couered the tents, and in the morning the dew lay round about the hoste.

14 And when the dew was gone, beholde, vpon the ground in the wildernes there lay a smal rounde thing, as smal as the hoare frost on the ground.

15 And when the children of Israel sawe it, they said euery one to his neighbor, It is [g] Manna: for they wist not what it was. And Moses saide vnto them, This is the bread which the Lord hath giuen you to eate.

[g] Man, which signifieth gift.

16 This is the word which the Lord had commanded: [d] gather of it euery man for himselfe for to eate, a Gomer ful for euery man, according to the number of your soules, and take euery man for them which are in his tents.

[d] Hauing receiued gifts at Gods hand, we haue need of lawes for the ordering of the same, els should we abuse them to our destruction.

17 And the children of Israel did so, and gathered some more, some lesse.

18 And when they did mete it with a Gomer, vnto him that gathered much, nothing ouer, and vnto him that had gathered little was there no lacke: euery man gathered sufficient for his eating.

19 And Moses said vnto them, [e] See that no man let ought remaine to the morning.

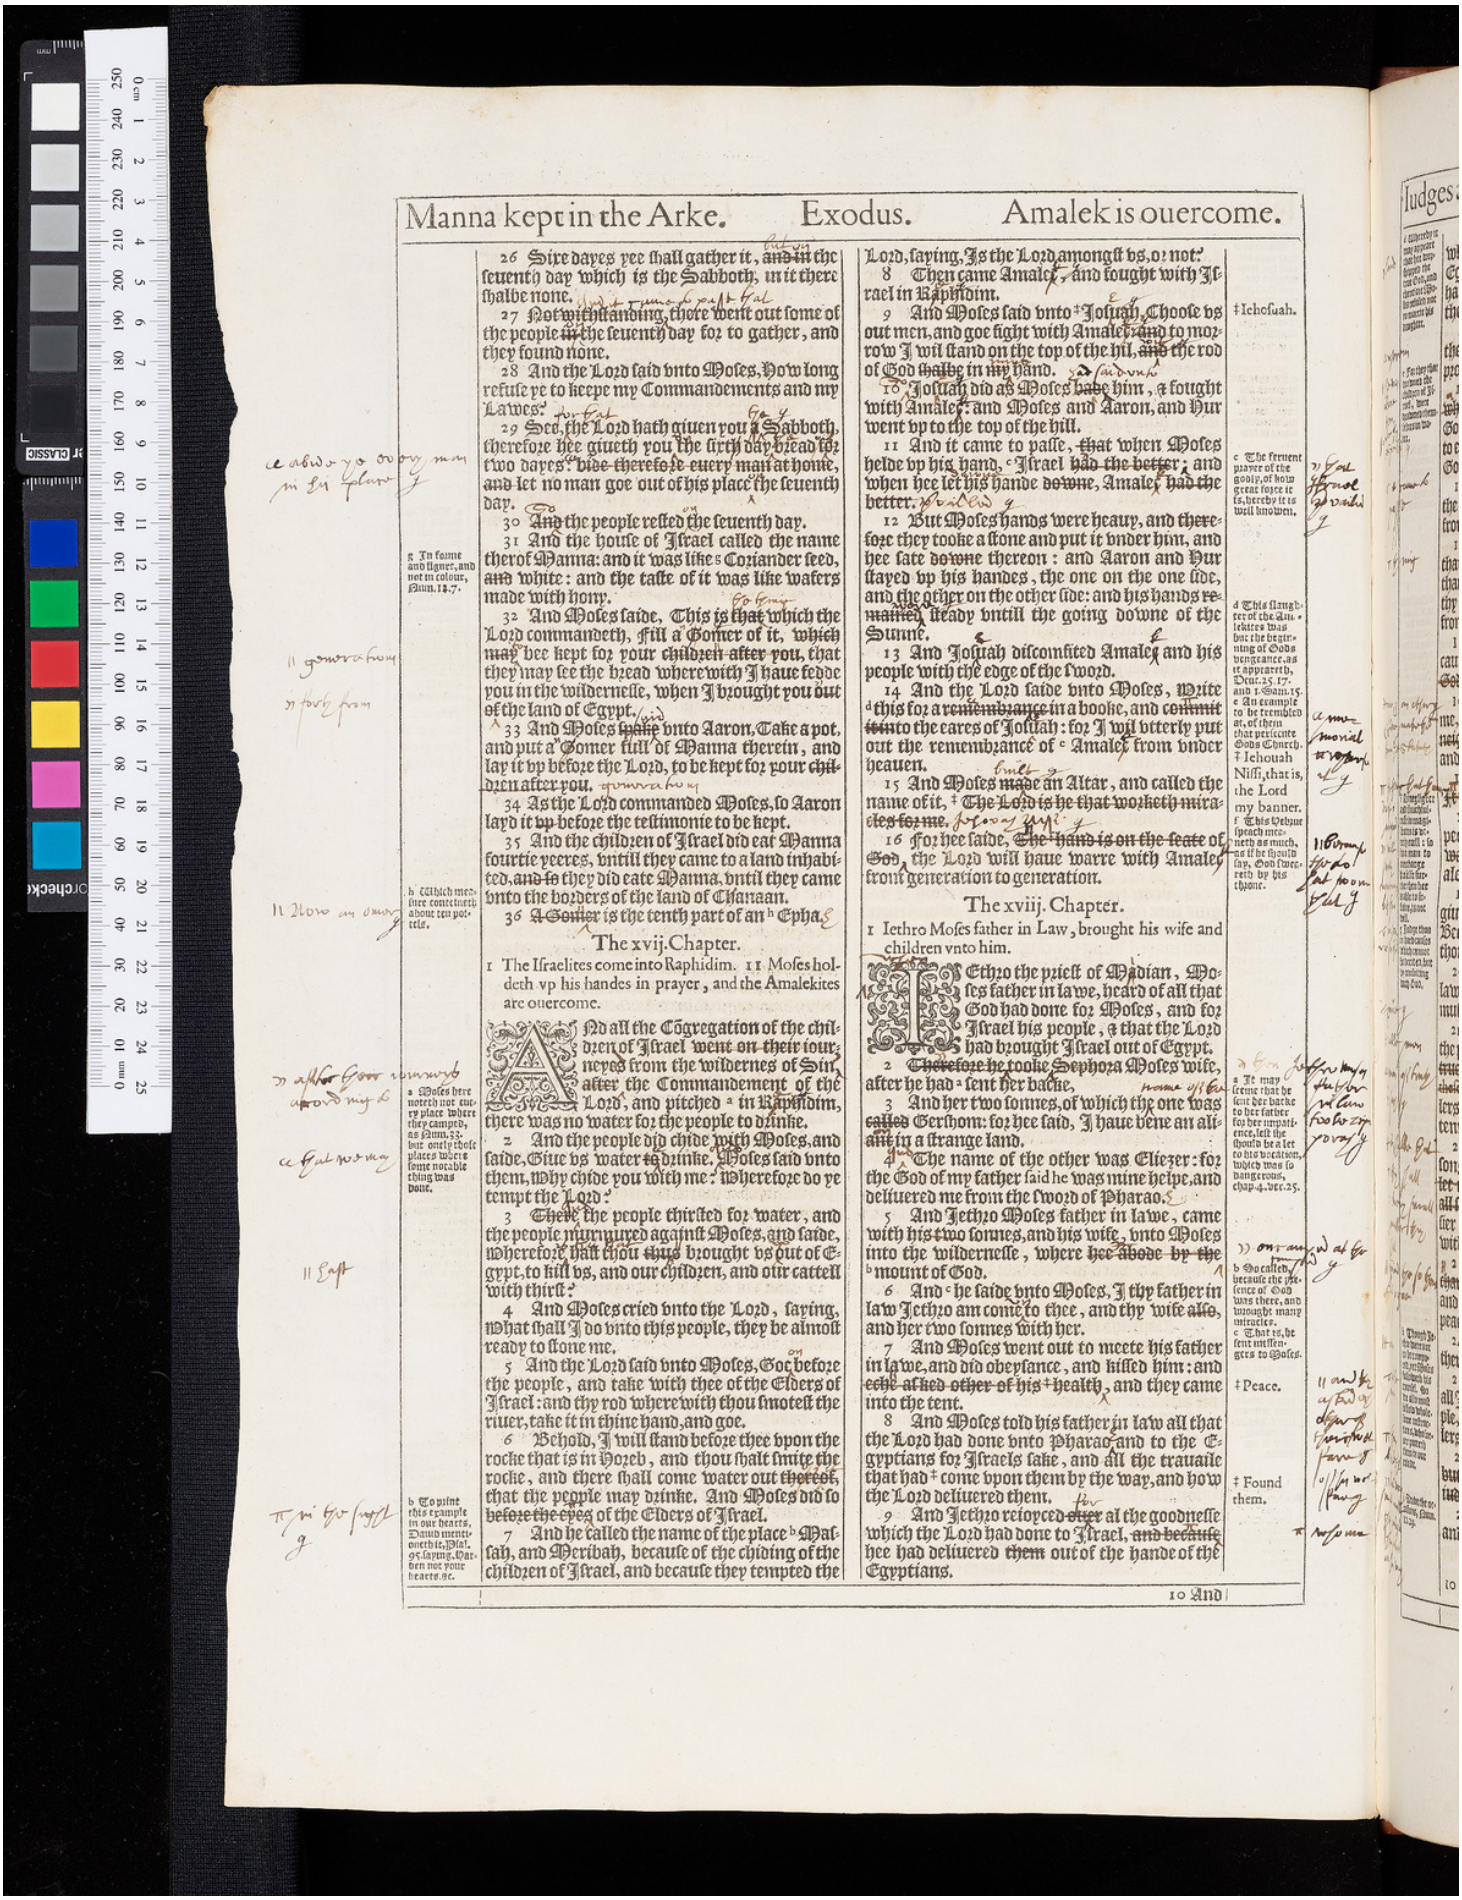
[e] This doctrine also pertaineth to vs, who are bidden to aske but our dayly food, and forbidden to be carefull for to morow.

20 Notwithstanding, they hearkened not vnto Moses: but some of them left of it vntill the morning, and it warred ful of [f] wormes, and corrupted: and Moses was angry with them.

[f] So God punisheth them that greedily gather goods, trusting rather to their owne riches and diligence, then to his goodnes and prouidence.

21 And they gathered al mornings euery man as much as sufficed for his eating; and as soone as the heate of the Sunne came, it moult.

22 And the sixth day they gathered twise as much bread, two Gomers for one man: and all the rulers of the Congregation came and tolde Moses.



23 He said vnto them, This is that which the Lord hath said, To morow is the rest of the holy Sabboth vnto the Lord, bake that which you will bake to day, and seethe that yee will seethe, and that which remaineth, lay vp till the morning.

24 And they layed it vp till the morning as Moses bade: and it did not corrupt, neither bred there any wormes therein.

25 And Moses said, Eate that to day, for it is the Sabboth vnto the Lord: to day yee shall not finde it in the fielde.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. E2v

26 Sixe dayes yee shall gather it, and in the seuenth day which is the Sabboth, in it there shalbe none.

27 Notwithstanding, there went out some of the people in the seuenth day for to gather, and they found none.

28 And the Lord said vnto Moses, How long refuse ye to keepe my Commandements and my Lawes?

29 See, the Lord hath giuen you a Sabboth, therefore hee giueth you the sixth day bread for two dayes: bide therefore euery man at home, and let no man goe out of his place the seuenth day.

30 And the people rested the seuenth day.

31 And the house of Israel called the name therof Manna: and it was like [g] Coriander seed, and white: and the taste of it was like wafers made with hony.

32 And Moses saide, This is that which the Lord commandeth, Fill a Gomer of it, which may bee kept for your children after you, that they may see the bread wherewith I haue fedde you in the wildernesse, when I brought you out of the land of Egypt.

33 And Moses saide vnto Aaron, Take a pot, and put a Gomer full of Manna therein, and lay it vp before the Lord, to be kept for your children after you.

34 As the Lord commanded Moses, so Aaron layd it vp before the testimonie to be kept.

35 And the children of Israel did eat Manna fourtie yeeres, vntill they came to a land inhabited, and so they did eate Manna, vntil they came vnto the borders of the land of Chanaan.

36 A Gomer is the tenth part of an [h] Epha.

The xvij. Chapter.

1 The Israelites come into Raphidim. 11 Moses holdeth vp his handes in prayer, and the Amalekites are ouercome.

AND all the Cõgregation of the children of Israel went on their iourneyes from the wildernes of Sin after the Commandement of the Lord, and pitched [a] in Raphidim, there was no water for the people to drinke.

2 And the people did chide with Moses, and saide, Giue vs water to drinke. Moses said vnto them, Why chide you with me? wherefore do ye tempt the Lord?

3 There the people thirsted for water, and the people murmured against Moses, and saide, Wherefore hast thou thus brought vs out of Egypt, to kill vs, and our children, and our cattell with thirst?

4 And Moses cried vnto the Lord, saying, What shall I do vnto this people, they be almost ready to stone me.

5 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Go before the people, and take with thee of the Elders of Israel: and thy rod wherewith thou smotest the riuer, take it in thine hand, and goe.

6 Behold, I will stand before thee vpon the rocke that is in Horeb, and thou shalt smite the rocke, and there shall come water out therof, that the people may drinke. And Moses did so before the eyes of the Elders of Israel.

7 And he called the name of the place [b] Massah, and Meribah, because of the chiding of the children of Israel, and because they tempted the Lord, saying, Is the Lord among vs, or not?

8 Then came Amalek, and fought with Israel in Raphidim.

9 And Moses said vnto [†] Iosuah, Choose vs out men, and goe fight with Amalek: and to morow I will stand on the top of the hil, and the rod of God shalbe in my hand.

10 So Iosuah did as Moses bade him, and fought with Amalek: and Moses and Aaron, and Hur went vp to the top of the hill.

11 And it came to passe, that when Moses held vp his hand, [c] Israel had the better: and when hee let his hande downe, Amalek had the better.

12 But Moses hands were heauy, and therefore they tooke a stone and put it vnder him, and hee sate downe thereon: and Aaron and Hur stayed vp his handes, the one on the one side, and the other on the other side: and his hands remained [d] stedy vntill the going downe of the Sunne.

13 And Iosuah discomfited Amalek and his people with the edge of the sword.

14 And the Lord saide vnto Moses, Write [d] this for a remembrance in a booke, and commit it vnto the eares of Iosuah: for I will vtterly put out the remembrance of [e] Amalek from vnder heauen.

15 And Moses made an Altar, and called the name of it, [†] The Lord is he that worketh miracles for me.

16 For hee saide, The hand is on the seate of God, the Lord will haue warre with Amalek from generation to generation.

The xviij. Chapter.

1 Iethro Moses father in Law, brought his wife and children vnto him.

IETHRO the priest of Madian, Moses father in lawe, heard of all that God had done for Moses, and for Israel his people, & that the Lord had brought Israel out of Egypt.

2 Therefore he tooke Sephora Moses wife, after he had sent her backe,

3 And her two sonnes, of which the one was called Gershom: for hee said, I haue bene an alient in a strange land.

4 The name of the other was Eliezer: for the God of my father said he was mine helpe, and deliuered me from the sword of Pharao.

5 And Iethro Moses father in lawe, came with his two sonnes, and his wife, vnto Moses into the wildernesse, where hee abode by the [b] mount of God.

6 And [c] he saide vnto Moses, I thy father in law Iethro am come to thee, and thy wife and her two sonnes with her.

7 And Moses went out to meete his father in lawe, and did obeysance, and kissed him: and eche asked other of his [†] health, and they came into the tent.

8 And Moses told his father in law all that the Lord had done vnto Pharao and to the Egyptians for Israels sake, and all the trauaile that had [†] come vpon them by the way, and how the Lord deliuered them.

9 And Iethro reioyced after al the goodnesse which the Lord had done to Israel, and because hee had deliuered them out of the hande of the Egyptians.

10 And Jethro saide, [d] Blessed bee the Lord which hath deliuered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, & out of the hand of Pharao, which hath also deliuered his people from the hand of the Egyptians.

11 Now I knowe that the Lord is greater then al gods: for in the thing wherby they dealt proudly with the, [e] were they destroyed themselues.

12 And Jethro Moses father in lawe, toke whole burnt offerings and sacrifices, to offer to God: and Aaron & all the Elders of Israel came to eate bread with Moses father in lawe before God.

13 And on the morowe Moses sate to iudge the people: and the people stoode about Moses, from morning vnto euen.

14 And when Moses father in law sawe all that he did vnto the people, he said, What is this that thou doest vnto the people? why sittest thou thy selfe alone, and al the people stand about thee from morning vnto euen?

15 And Moses said to his father in law, Because the people come vnto me to seeke counsell of God.

16 When they haue a matter, they come vnto me, and I iudge betweene euery man and his neighbour, and shew them the ordinances of God and his lawes.

17 And Moses father in law said vnto him, It is not well that thou doest.

18 Thou both wearest thy selfe, and this people that is with thee: for this thing is of more waight then thou art able to performe thy selfe alone.

19 Heare therefore now my voice, and I will giue thee counsell, and God shall be with thee: Bee thou vnto the people [g] to Godward, that thou mayest bring the causes vnto God:

20 And thou shalt teach them ordinances and lawes, and shewe them the way wherein they must walke, and the worke that they must doe.

21 Moreouer, thou shalt seeke out among all the people men of courage and such as feare God, true men, hating couetousnesse, and place [h] these ouer the people rulers of thousands, rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tennes, 22 And let them iudge the people at all seasons: and euery great matter that commeth, let them bring vnto thee, but let them iudge all small causes themselues, and so shall it be easier for thy selfe, and they shall beare a burden with thee.

23 If thou shalt doe this thing, and God charge thee withal, thou shalt be able to endure, and yet the people shall come to their place in peace.

24 [h] And so Moses obeyed the voice of his father in law, and did all that he had said.

25 And Moses chose men of courage out of all Israel, and made them as heads ouer the people, rulers of thousands, rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tennes, 26 And they iudged the people at all seasons: but brought the hard causes vnto Moses, and iudged all small matters themselues.

27 And Moses [i] let his father in law depart: and he went into his owne land.

The xix. Chapter.

10 The people are commanded to be sanctified.

IN the third moneth, when the children of Israel were gone out of the land of Egypt, the same day came they into the wildernesse of Sinai.

2 For they were departed from Raphidim, and were come to the desert of Sinai, and had pitched their tents in the wilderneſſe, and there Israel camped before the mount.

3 But Moses went vp vnto God, and the Lord called vnto him out of the mountaine, saying, Thus shalt thou say vnto the house of Jacob, and tell the children of Israel, 4 Ye haue seene what I did vnto the Egyptians, and tooke you vp vpon [a] Eagles wings, and haue brought you vnto my selfe.

5 Now therefore if ye will heare my voice in deed, and keepe my couenant, ye shal be as a deare [f] treasure vnto me aboue all nations: for all the earth is mine.

6 Ye shall bee vnto mee also a priestly kingdome, & an holy people. And these are the words which thou shalt say vnto the children of Israel.

7 Moses came and called for the elders of the people, and laid before them faces al these words which the Lord commanded him.

8 And the people answered all together, and said, All that the Lord hath said, we will do. And Moses brought the words of the people vnto the Lord.

9 And the Lord sayde vnto Moses, Loe, I come vnto thee in a thicke cloude, that the people may heare me talking with thee, and beleeue thee for euer. Moses shewed the wordes of the people vnto the Lord.

10 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Goe vnto the people, and [b] sanctifie them to day and to morow, and let them wash their clothes, 11 And bee ready against the third day: for the third day [‡] the Lord will come downe in the sight of all the people vpon mount Sinai.

12 [c] And thou shalt set bounds vnto the people round about, and say, Take heede to your selues, that ye go not vp into the mount, or touch the border of it: whosoeuer toucheth the mount, shall surely die.

13 There shall not an hand touch it, els hee shall bee stoned, or shot thorowe: whether it bee beast, or man, it shall not liue: when the ‖ trumpet bloweth long, then may they come vp into the mountaine.

14 And Moses went downe from the mount vnto the people, and sanctified them, and they washed their clothes.

15 And he said vnto the people, Bee ready against the third day, and come not at your wiues.

16 And the third day in the morning there was thunder and lightning, and a thicke cloude vpon the mount, and the voice of the trumpet exceeding loud, so that all the people that was in the hoste was afraid.

17 And Moses brought the people out of the tents to meete with God, and they stood at the nether part of the hill.

18 And mount Sinai was altogether on a smoke, because the Lord descended downe vpon it in fire, and the smoke thereof ascended vp as the smoke of a furnace, and all the mount [d] quaked exceedingly.

19 And when the voice of the trumpet blewe long, and waxed louder & louder, Moses spake, and God answered him by a voice.

20 And the Lord came downe vpon mount Sinai in the top of the hill: and when the Lord called Moses vp into the top of the hill, Moses went vp.

21 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Go downe, charge the people lest they breake out from their bounds to see the Lorde, and so, many of them perish.

22 And let the priestes also which come to the Lord sanctifie themselues, lest the Lord destroy them.

23 And Moses sayd vnto the Lord, The people cannot come vp into the mount Sinai, for thou chargedst vs, saying, Set bounds about the hill, and sanctifie it.

24 And the Lord sayd vnto him, Away, and get thee downe, and thou shalt come vp, thou, and Aaron with thee: but let not the [c] priestes and the people presume for to come vp vnto the Lord, lest he destroy them.

25 And so Moses went downe vnto the people, and told them.

[c] Neither diuine nor multitude haue authority to passe the bounds that Gods worde prescribeth.

The xx. Chapter.

1 The ten commandements of God are declared vnto the people. 23 Gods of siluer and gold are againe forbidden.

The first Table.

[a] When Moses and Aaron were gone vp, or had passed the bounds of the people, God spake this out of the mount, that all the people heard. Deut. 5.25.

AND [a] God spake all these wordes, and sayd,

2 I *am the Lord thy God, which haue brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

3 Thou shalt haue none other gods in my sight.

4 Thou shalt make thee no grauen image, neither the likenesse of any thing that is in heauen aboue, either in the earth beneath, nor in the water vnder the earth.

5 Thou shalt not bow downe to them, nor worship them: For I the Lord thy God am a iealous God, and visite the the sinne of the fathers vpon the children, vnto the third and fourth generation of them that hate me:

6 And shew mercie vnto thousands in them that loue me, and keepe my commandements.

[b] Not onely periury, but rash and light othes be condemned.

7 [b] Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vaine: for the Lord will not hold him guiltlesse that taketh his name in vaine.

[c] The day is halowed, when they that come together on the Sabboth be holy themselues.

8 Remember the Sabboth day, that thou [c] sanctifie it.

9 Sixe dayes shalt thou labour, and doe all that thou hast to doe,

10 But the seuenth day is the Sabboth of the Lord thy God: in it thou shalt doe no maner of worke, thou and thy sonne, thy daughter, thy man seruant and thy maid seruant, thy cattell and the stranger that is within thy gates:

11 For in sixe dayes the Lord made heauen and earth, the sea, and all that in them is, and rested the seuenth day: wherefore the Lord blessed the seuenth day, and halowed it.

The second Table.

[d] By honour is meant all duety vnto which we owe vnto them.

[e] Vnder the name of parents all Magistrates and superiours be conteined.

12 [d] Honour [e] thy father and thy mother: that thy dayes may bee long in the land which the Lord thy God giueth thee.

13 Thou shalt not [f] kill.

14 Thou shalt not [g] commit adulterie.

[f] Here not onely slaughter, but wrath and hatred is forbidden. [g] And here with the outward acte, the inward affection with all that proceedeth thereof, is condemned.

15 Thou shalt not [h] steale.

16 Thou shalt not beare false witnes against thy neighbour.

17 Thou shalt not couet thy neighbours house, neither shalt thou couet thy neighbours wife, nor his manseruant, nor his maid, nor his oxe, nor his asse, nor any thing that is thy neighbors.

18 And all the people saw the thundring, and lightning, and the noise of the trumpet, and the mountaine smoking: and when the people saw it, they remoued, and stood afarre off,

19 And said vnto Moses, Talke thou with vs: and wee will heare: But let not God talke with vs, lest we die.

20 And Moses sayd vnto the people, Feare not, for God is come to proue you, and that his feare may be before your eyes, that ye sinne not.

20 And the people stood afarre off, and Moses went into the thicke cloude, where God was.

22 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Thus thou shalt say vnto the children of Israel, Yee haue seene that I haue talked with you from out of heauen.

23 Yee shall not make therefore with me gods of siluer, neither shall ye make ye gods of gold.

24 An altar of earth thou shalt make vnto me, and thereon offer thy whole burnt offerings, and thy peace offerings, thy sheepe, and thine oxen: In all places where I shall put the remembrance of my name, thither I will come vnto thee, and bleese thee.

25 And if thou wilt make me an altar of stone, see thou make it not of hewen stone: els if thou lift vp thy toole vpon it, thou hast polluted it.

26 Neither shalt thou goe vp by steppes vnto mine altar, that thy ‖ shame bee not shewed thereon.

[h] We must withdraw both our handes, our eyes, and our minds from all other mans good. And here all auarice and vnlawful gaine is disproued.

‖ Or, filthinesse.

The xxj. Chapter.

1 Iudiciall and ciuill ordinances appointed by God, touching seruitude, stealing of men, manslaughter, cursing of parents, brauling, punishment of like with like, and of a goaring oxe, and such like.

THese [a] are the lawes which thou shalt set before them.

2 *If thou buy a seruant that is an Hebrewe, sixe yeeres he shall serue, and in the seuenth he shal go out free paying nothing.

3 If thee came alone, hee shall goe out alone: and if hee came married, his wife shall goe out with him.

4 [b] And if his master haue giuen him a wife, and shee haue borne him sonnes or daughters: then the wife and her children shall bee her masters, and he shall goe out alone:

5 And if the seruant say, I loue my master, my wife, and my children, I wil not go out free:

6 His master shal bring him vnto the iudges, and set him to the doore, or the doore post, and his master shall bore his eare thorowe with an aule, and he shall be his seruant for euer.

7 And if a man sell his daughter to be a seruant, she shall not goe out as the men seruants doe.

8 If thee please not her master, who hath betrothed her to himself, then shall hee let her redeeme her selfe: To sell her vnto a strange nation shall he haue no power, seeing hee despised her.

20 And if a man smite his seruant or his maid with a rodde, and they die vnder his hand, he shal be grieuously punished.

21 And if hee continue a day or two, it shall not be reuenged, for he is his money.

22 If men striue, and hurt a woman with childe, so that her fruit depart from her, and yet no destruction follow: then hee shall be sore punished, according as the womans husband will lay to his charge, and hee shall pay as the iudges men will appoint him.

23 And if any destruction [e] follow, then hee shall giue life for life,

AND he ſayd vnto Moſes, Come vp vnto the Lord, thou, and Aaron, Nadab, and Abihu, and the threeſcore and ten elders of Iſrael, and worſhip afarre off.

2 And Moſes himſelfe alone ſhall goe vnto the Lord: but they ſhall not come nigh, neither ſhall the people go vp with him.

3 And Moſes came, and tolde the people all the words of the Lord, and all the iudgements: and all the people anſwered with one voice, and ſayd, All the wordes which the Lord hath ſayd, will we do.

4 And Moſes wrote all the wordes of the Lord, and roſe vp early, and ſet vp an altar vnder the hill, and twelue ſtones, according to the twelue tribes of Iſrael,

5 And ſent yoong men of the children of Iſrael, which brought whole burnt offerings, and offered peace offerings of oxen vnto the Lord.

6 And Moſes tooke halfe of the [a] blood, and put it in baſons, and the other halfe he ſprinkled on the altar.

7 And hee tooke the booke of the couenant, and read it in the audience of the people: and they ſayd, All that the Lord hath ſayd, will wee do, and be obedient.

8 And Moſes tooke the blood, and ſprinkled it on the people, and ſayd, Beholde, this is the blood of the couenant which the Lorde hath made with you vpon all theſe wordes.

9 Then went Moſes and Aaron, Nadab, and Abihu, and the threeſcore and ten elders of Iſrael vp.

10 And they ſaw the God of Iſrael: and there was vnder his feet, as it were, a worke of a Sapphire ſtone, and as it were the heauen when it is cleare.

11 And [b] hee layed not his hand vpon the nobles of the children of Iſrael, and they ſaw God, and did eat and drinke.

12 And the Lord ſayd vnto Moſes, Come vp to me into the hill, and be there, and I will giue thee [c] tables of ſtone, and a law and commandements which I haue written, that thou mayeſt teach them.

13 And Moſes roſe vp, and his miniſter Joſuah: and Moſes went vp into the hill of God, 14 And ſayd vnto the elders, Tary ye here vntill we come againe vnto you: Beholde, here is Aaron and Hur with you. ‡ If any man haue any matters to do, let him come to them.

15 And Moſes went vp into the mount, and a cloud couered the hill.

16 And the glory of the Lord abode vpon the mount Sinai, and the cloud couered it ſix dayes: and the ſeuenth day hee called vnto Moſes out of the mids of the cloud.

17 And the ſight of the glory of the Lord, was like conſuming fire on the top of the hill, in the eyes of the children of Iſrael.

18 And Moſes went into the middes of the cloud, and gate him vp into the mountaine: and * Moſes was in the mount fourty dayes, and fourty nights.

4 And thou shalt make vnto it a grideiron of brasse like a net of brasse, and vpon that net shalt thou make foure brasen rings in the foure corners thereof.
5 And thou shalt put it vnder the compasse of the altar beneath, that the net may be in the mids of the altar.
6 And thou shalt make two barres for the altar of Sittim wood, and couer them with brasse.

16 And in the gate of the court shalbe a vaile of twentie cubits, of blew silke, purple, and scarlet, and white twined silke, wrought with needle worke: and foure pillars, with their sockets.
17 All the pillars round about the court shall be hooped with siluer, and their knops shalbe of siluer, and their sockets of brasse.
18 The length of the court shalbe an hundred cubits, and the breadth fiftie [‡] on euery side, and the height of the curtaines shalbe fiue cubits, of white twined silke, and their sockets of brasse.
19 All the vessels of the tabernacle in all maner of seruice, and the pinnes thereof, yea and all the pinnes also of the court, shalbe of brasse.
20 And thou shalt command the children of Israel, that they giue thee pure oile Oliue beaten, for the light, that they may make the lamps to burne alwayes.
21 In the Tabernacle [b] of the congregation without the vaile which is before the witnesse, shall Aaron and his sonnes dresse the lampe both euening and morning, before the Lord: and it shalbe a statute for euer, vnto the generations of the children of Israel.

1 The Lord calleth Aaron & his sonnes to the Priesthood; 4 and the forme of their garments is described.

fol. E6v

AND take thou vnto thee Aaron thy brother, and his sonnes with him, from among the children of Israel, that Aaron may minister vnto me in the Priests office, Nadab, and Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar, Aarons sonnes.

2 And thou shalt make holy rayment for Aaron thy brother, glorious and beautifull.

3 And thou shalt speake vnto all that are wise hearted, whom I haue filled with the spirit of wisedome, that they may make Aarons rayment [a] to consecrate him, that hee may minister vnto me in the Priests office.

4 These are the garments which they shall make, a brestlap and an Ephod, a tunicle, a brodered coat, a miter, and a girdle, these holy garments shal they make for Aaron thy brother and his sonnes, that they may minister vnto mee in the Priests office.

5 And let them take gold, blew silke, purple scarlet, and white twined silke.

6 They shall make the Ephod of golde, blew silke, purple, scarlet, and twined silke, with brodered worke.

7 The two sides shall come together, and be closed vp in two edges thereof.

8 And the girdle of the Ephod shall be of the same workmanship, and of the same stuffe, euen of golde, blew silke, purple, scarlet, and white twined silke.

9 And thou shalt take two Onix stones, and graue in them the names of the children of Israel, 10 Sixe names of them in one stone, and the other sixe in the other stone, according to their birth.

11 *After the worke of a stone grauer, and of him that graueth signets shalt thou graue the two stones, with the names of the children of Israel, and shalt make them to be set in ouches of golde. Sap.18.24.

12 And thou shalt put the two stones vpon the two shoulders of the Ephod, that they may be [b] stones of remembrance vnto the children of Israel: And Aaron shall beare their names before the Lord vpon his two shoulders for a remembrance.

13 And thou shalt make ouches of golde:

14 And two chaines of fine golde of a certeine length, like worke, and wreathed, and fasten the wreathed chaines to the ouches.

15 And thou shalt make the [c] brestlap of iudgement with brodred worke: euen after the worke of the Ephod thou shalt make it, namely, of golde, blew silke, purple, scarlet, and white twined silke.

16 Foure square it shall be, and double: and an handbreadth long, and an handbreadth broad.

17 And thou shalt fill it with foure rowes of stones: in the first row shalbe a Sardius, a Topas, and a Smaragdus.

18 In the second row a Rubie, a Saphir, and a Diamond.

19 In the third, a Lyncurius, an Achat, and an Amathyst.

20 In the fourth, a Turcas, an Onix, and a Iaspis: and they shall be set in golde in their inclosers.

21 And the stones shall be grauen, as signets be grauen, with the names of the children of Israel, with twelue names, euery one with his name according to the twelue tribes.

22 And thou shalt make vpon the brestlap twis fastening chaines of pure golde, and wreathen worke.

23 And thou shalt make likewise vpon the brestlap two rings of golde, and put them on the edges of the brestlap.

24 And put the two wreathen chaines of gold in the two rings which are in the edges of the brestlap.

25 And the other two endes of the chaines thou shalt fasten in the two sixe ouches, and put them on the shoulders of the Ephod on the forside of it.

26 And thou shalt yet make two rings of golde, which thou shalt put in the two edges of the brestlap, euen in the borders thereof, toward the inside of the Ephod ouer against it.

27 And yet two other rings of gold thou shalt make, & put them on the two sides of the Ephod beneath, ouer against the brestlap a low, where the sides are ioyned together, vpon the brodered girdle of the Ephod.

28 And they shall binde the brestlappe by his rings, vnto the rings of the Ephod, with a lace of blew silke, that it may lie close aboue the brodered girdle of the Ephod, and that the brestlap be not loosed from the Ephod.

29 And Aaron shall [d] beare the names of the children of Israel in the brestlap of iudgement, vpon his heart, when hee goeth into the holy place, for a remembrance before the Lord alway.

30 And thou shalt put in the brestlap of iudgement [e] the ‖ Urim and the Thummim, and they shall be euen vpon Aarons heart when he goeth in before the Lord: and Aaron shall beare the iudgement of the children of Israel vpon his heart before the Lord alway.

31 And thou shalt make the tunicle vnto the Ephod, altogether of blew silke.

32 And there shalbe an hole for the head in the mids of it, hauing a band of wouen worke rould about the coller of it, as it were the coller of a partlet, that it rent not.

33 And beneath vpon the hemme, thou shalt make pomgranates of blew silke, and of purple, and of scarlet, round about the hem, and belles of golde bet weene them round about.

34 And let there bee euer a golden bell and a pomegranate: a golden bell and a pomegranate rolling about the hem of the tunicle.

35 *And Aaron shall haue it vpon him when he ministreth, and the sound shall be heard when he goeth into the holy place before the Lord, and when he commeth out: and he shall not [f] die. Ecclus.45.10.

36 And thou shalt make a plate of pure gold, and graue thereon as signets are grauen, THE HOLINESSE OF THE LORD.

37 And put it on a blew silke lace to bee vpon the miter. euen vpon the forefront of it.

38 And it shalbe vpon Aarons forehead, that Aaron may [g] beare the sinne of the holy things which the children of Israel hallow in all their holy gifts; and it shalbe alwayes vpon his forehead, for the reconciling of them before the Lord.

39 And thou shalt make a coat of white silke, embrodered with knots, and thou shalt make a miter of white silke, and a girdle of needle worke.

40 And thou shalt make for Aarons sonnes

[a] Which is to separate him from the rest.

[b] That Aaron might remember the Israelites to Godward.

[c] It was so called, because the vse thereof could not stine sentence in iudgement without that an his brest.

[d] Aaron shall not enter into the holy place in his owne name, but in the name of the children of Israel.

[e] Urim and Thummim signifie light and perfectnes, out of the which it pleased God to giue answeres, oracles, and iudgement: but what they were, it doth not well appeare vnto any writer. They were placed in the priests brest, to admonish him that he ought to shine with doctrine, and to be perfect in conuersation of life. ‖ Or, Aurim.

41 And thou shalt put them vpon Aaron thy brother, and on his sonnes with him: and shalt anoint them, and [h] fill their hands, and sanctifie them, that they may minister vnto mee in the priests office.

42 And thou shalt make them linnen slops to couer their priuities: from the loines vnto the thighs they shall reach.

43 And they shalbe vpon Aaron & his sonnes, when they come into the Tabernacle of the congregation, or when they come vnto the Altar to minister in holinesse: [i] that they beare not sinne, and there die. And it shalbe a law for euer vnto Aaron and his seed after him.

h That is, consecrate them. For the ceremony of consecrating priests, was to put part of the sacrifices into the hands of them that should bee made priests for to sacrifice and to offer.

i Lest if they be otherwise apparelled, they sinne, and therefore bee punished with death.

4 And bring Aaron and his sonnes vnto the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation, and wash them with water.

5 And take the garments, and put vpon Aaron, the coat, the tunicle of the Ephod, and the Ephod it selfe, and the brestlap, and gird them to him with the broidered girdle which is vpon the Ephod.

6 And put the miter vpon his head: and put the holy crowne vpon the miter.

7 Then shalt thou take the anointing oile, and powre it vpon his head, and anoint him.

8 And bring his sonnes, and put coats vpon them:

14 But the flesh of the calfe, and his skin, and his dounge, shalt thou burne with fire without the host: it is a sinne offering.

15 Thou shalt also take one ram, and Aaron and his sonnes shall put their handes vpon his head of the ram.

16 And when thou hast slaine the ram, thou shalt take his blood, and sprinckle it round about vpon the altar:

17 And cut the ram in pieces, and wash the inwards of him, and his legs, and put them vnto the pieces, and vnto his head.

18 And burne the whole ram vpon the Altar: for it is a whole burnt offering vnto the Lord for a sweet sauour, a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord.

19 And take the other ramme, and Aaron and his sonnes shall put their handes vpon his head.

20 Then shalt thou kill him, and take of his blood, and put it vpon the tip of the right eare of Aaron, and vpon the tip of the right eare of his sonnes, and vpon the thumbe of their right handes, and vpon the great toe of their right foot, and sprinkle the blood vpon the altar round about.

21 And thou shalt take of the blood that is vpon the altar, and of the anointing oile, and sprinkle it vpon Aaron and his [b] vestments, and vpon his sonnes, and vpon their garments with him, and he shalbe hallowed, and his clothes, and his sonnes, and their clothes with him.

22 And thou shalt take the fat of the ramme, and his rumpe, and the fat that couereth the inwards, and the caule of the liuer, and the two kidneis, and the fat that is vpon them, and the right shoulder; for that ramme is a [c] full offering:

24 And put all vpon the hands of Aaron, and vpon the hands of his sonnes, and ‖ waue them for a [d] waue offering before the Lord.

25 And againe, thou shalt take it from off their hands, and burne it vpon the altar for a whole burnt offering, to be a sauour of sweetnesse before the Lord: for it is a sacrifice by fire vnto the Lord.

26 And thou shalt take the brest of the ramme of Aarons consecration, and waue it for a waue offering before the Lorde, and it shall bee thy part.

27 And thou shalt sanctifie the brest of the waue offering, and the shoulder of the [e] heaue offering, which is waued and heaued vp of the ramme of the consecration, for Aaron and for his sonnes.

shipped it, and haue offered thereunto, saying, These be thy gods, O Israel, which haue brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

9 And the Lord sayd vnto Moses, I haue seene this people, and beholde, it is a stifnecked people.

10 And now c suffer me, that my wrath may ware hot against them, and consume them: and I will make of thee a mighty people.

c Gods secret will that the parents of the godly stay punishment.

11 And Moses besought the Lord his God, and saide, Lord, why doeth thy wrath ware hot against thy people, which thou hast brought out of the land of Egypt with great power, and with a mighty hand?

Numb.14.13.

12 *Wherefore should the Egyptians speake, and say, For a mischiefe did he bring them out, euen for to slay them in the mountaines, and to consume them from the face of the earth? Turn from thy fierce wrath, and repent of this euill against thy people.

13 Remember Abraham, Isahac, and Israel thy seruants, to whome thou swarest by thine owne selfe, and saidest vnto them, *I will multiply your seed as the starres of heauen, and all this land that I haue spoken of, will I giue vnto your seed, and they shall inherit it for euer.

Gene.12,7.

14 And the Lord refrained himselfe from the euill which he said he would do vnto his people.

15 And Moses turned his backe, and went downe from the hill, and the two tables of the testimony were in his hand.

16 And the same tables were written in both the leaues, euen on the one side and on the other were they written: and these tables were the worke of God, and the writing was the writing of God, grauen vpon the tables.

17 And when d Josuah heard the noise of the people as they shouted, hee sayd vnto Moses, There is a noise of warre in the hoste.

d Josuah accompanied Moses in the mount, although there was not like reuelation vouchsafed vnto him as to Moses.

18 And hee answered, It is not the crie of them that haue the maisterie, nor of them that haue the worse: but I do heare the noise of them that sing.

19 And assoone as hee came nigh vnto the hoste, hee saw the Calfe and the daunsing: and Moses wrath ware hot, and he cast the tables out of his handes, and brake them beneath the hill.

20 And hee tooke the Calfe which they had made, and burned it in the fire, and stamped it into pouder, and strawed it vpon the water, e made the children of Israel e drinke of it.

e Partly to despight them of their idolatry, and partly that they should haue no occasion to remember it afterward.

21 And Moses sayde vnto Aaron, What did this people vnto thee, that thou hast brought so great a sinne vpon them?

22 And Aaron answered, Let not the wrath of my lord ware hote: thou knowest the people that they are set on mischiefe.

23 For they sayd vnto me, Make vs gods to go before vs, for we wote not what is become of Moses, the man that brought vs out of the land of Egypt.

24 And I sayde vnto them, Let them that haue gold, pluche it off: And they brought it vnto me: and I did cast it into the fire, and there came out this Calfe.

f That is, destitute of Gods grace, liuing licentiously, ready to fall into all kind of idolatrie, whereby they gaue their enemies an occasion to speake euill of their God.

25 Moses therefore saw that the people f were naked (and that Aaron had made them naked vnto their shame, amongst their enemies), 26 And Moses stood in the gate of the hoste, and said, Who perteineth to the Lord, let him come vnto me. And all the sonnes of Leui gathered themselues together vnto him.

27 And he sayd vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, Put euery man his sword by his side, and goe in and out from gate to gate throughout the hoste, g and slay euery man his brother, and euery man his companion, and euery man his neighbour.

g This fact did displease God, that he turned a curse of Jacob against Leui, Gene. 49.5. to a blessing, Deut. 33.9.

28 And the children of Leui did as Moses had sayd: and there fell of the people the same day about three thousand men.

29 And Moses sayd, ‖ Fill your handes vnto the Lord this day, euery man vpon his sonne, and vpon his brother, and that there may be giuen you a blessing this day.

‖ Or, consecrate.

30 And on the morow Moses sayde vnto the people, Yee haue sinned a great sinne: And now I wil go vp vnto the Lord, peraduenture I may purchase an atonement for your sinne.

31 Moses therefore went againe vnto the Lord, and sayd, h Oh, this people haue sinned a great sinne: and haue made them gods of golde.

h Moses prostrate, made a prayer for forty dayes and 40. nights, Deut. 9.

32 And now if forgiue them their sinne: or if thou wilt not, wipe me, I pray thee, out of thy i booke which thou hast written.

i Out of the number of them that be elect, and predestinated to life euerlasting.

33 And the Lord sayde vnto Moses, k I will put him out of my booke that hath sinned against me.

k I will make it knowen that hee was neuer any of the elect.

34 And now goe thou, bring the people vnto the place which I sayd vnto thee, Behold, mine Angell shall goe before thee: Neuertheless, in that day when I visit, I will visit their sinne vpon them.

35 And the Lord plagued the people, because they made the Calfe which Aaron made.

The xxxiij. Chapter.

2 The Lord sendeth an Angel before his people. 3 The people sorow because the Lord denieth to goe vp with them.

AND the Lord sayd vnto Moses, Depart, and go vp hence, thou and the people which thou hast brought out of the land of Egypt, vnto the lande which I sware vnto Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob, saying, *Vnto thy seed will I giue it.

Gene.12.7.

4 And when the people heard this euill tidings, they sorowed: and no man did put on his best raiment.

5 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, Say vnto the children of Israel, Ye are a stifnecked people: I will come once suddenly vpon you, and make an ende of you: Therefore now put thy goodly raiment from thee, that I may wot what to do vnto thee.

6 And the children of Israel layd their goodly raiment from them, by the mount Horeb.

7 And Moses tooke the tabernacle, and pitched it without the hoste, afarre off from the hoste, and called it the tabernacle of the congregation: And so it came to passe, that euery one which would pray vnto the Lord, went out vnto the 8 And when Moses went out vnto the Tabernacle, all the people rose vp, and stoode euery man at his tent dooze, and looked after Moses, vntill he was gone into the tabernacle.

9 And as soone as Moses was entred into the tabernacle, the cloudie pillar descended, and stood at the dooze of the tabernacle, and he talked with Moses.

10 And all the people sawe the cloudie pillar stand at the tabernacle dooze, and they rose vp, and worshipped euery man in his tent dooze.

11 And the Lord spake vnto Moses [b] face to face, as a man speaketh vnto his friend. And he turned againe into the hoste: but the yong man Iosuah his seruant the sonne of Nun, departed not out of the tabernacle.

12 And Moses said vnto the Lord, See, thou sayest vnto me, Leade this people forth: & thou hast not shewed mee whom thou wilt send with me. And thou hast sayd moreouer, I know thee by name, and thou hast also found grace in my sight.

13 Now therefore if I haue found fauour in thy sight, then I pray thee, shewe mee [c] thy way, that I may know thee, & that I may find grace in thy sight, and consider also that this nation is thy people.

14 And hee sayd, My presence shall goe with thee, and I will giue thee rest.

15 He said vnto him, If thy presence goe not with me, cary vs not hence.

16 For how shal it be knowen here that I and thy people haue found fauour in thy sight, but in that thou goest with vs? If thou goest with vs, shal not I & thy people haue preeminence before all the people that are vpon the face of the earth?

17 And the Lord said vnto Moses, I will doe this also that thou hast said, for thou hast found grace in my sight, and I know thee by name.

18 And hee said, I beseech thee shewe mee thy glory.

19 Who answered, I will make all my [d] good goe before thee, and I will [e] proclaime the name of the Lord before thee: and will shew mercie to whom I will shewe mercie, and will haue compassion on whom I will haue compassion.

20 And hee sayd furthermore, Thou mayest not see my face: for there shall no man see mee, and liue.

21 And the Lord said, Behold, there is a place by me, and thou shalt stand vpon a rocke.

22 And while my glory goeth forth, I wil put thee in a clift of the rocke, and will put my hand vpon thee, while I passe by.

23 And I wil take away mine hand, and thou shalt see my backe parts: but my face shall not be seene.

The xxxv. Chapter.

2 The Sabboth is commanded to be kept.

AND Moses gathered all the Congregation of the children of Israel together, and sayde vnto them, These are the wordes which the Lorde hath commaunded, that ye should doe them.

a Therefore was he put to death, that gathered sticles on that day, Num.15.

4 And Moses spake vnto all the congregation of the children of Israel, saying, This is the thing which the Lord commanded, saying,

5 Take from amongst you an heaue offring vnto the Lord: whosoeuer is of a willing heart, let him bring that heaue offering to the Lorde, namely, gold, siluer, and brasse,

6 And blew silke, purple, scarlet, white silke, goates haire,

7 And rams skins red, and Tarus skins, with Sittim wood, b Such as appertaine to the seruice of the tabernacle.

20 And all the congregation of the children of Israel departed from the presence of Moses.

21 And euery one came, as many as their hearts encouraged them, and as many as their spirits made them willing, & brought an heaue offring for the Lord, to the making of the tabernacle of the congregation, and for all his vses, and for the holy vestments.

22 And they came both men and women, as many as were willing hearted, and brought bracelets, and earerings, rings, and chaines, which is vels were all of golde: and all the men brought a waue offering of gold vnto the Lord.

23 And euery man with whome was found blewe silke, purple, scarlet, white silke, and goats haire, & red skins of rammes, and Tarus skins, brought them.

24 All that did heaue vp an oblation of siluer and brasse, brought an heaue offring vnto the Lord: and all men with whom was found Sittim wood for any maner worke of the ministration, brought it.

anoynting oyle, and for the ſweet incenſe.
29 And the children of Iſrael brought a willing offering vnto the Lord, both men and women, as many as had willing hearts, to bring for all maner workes, which the Lord had commanded to be made by the hands of Moſes.
30 And Moſes ſaide vnto the children of Iſ-rael, Beholde, the Lord hath called by name Be-ſaleel the ſonne of Uri, the ſonne of Hur, of the tribe of Juda.
31 And hath filled him with the ſpirit of God, in wiſedome and vnderſtanding, in knowledge, and in all maner of worke, made in golde, ſiluer, and braſſe, 33 In the craft of ſtones to ſet them, and in caruing of wood, to make any maner of ſubtill worke.

34 And he hath put in his heart, that he may teach, both hee and Ooliab the ſonne of Achiſamech, of the tribe of Dan.
35 Them hath hee filled with wiſedome of heart, to worke all maner of grauen, and brode-red, and needle worke, in blew ſilke, and purple, in ſcarlet, and white ſilke, and in weauing, and to doe all maner of worke, and wittie deuiſes.

The xxxvj. Chapter.

3 The great readineſſe of the people in offering toward the building of the tabernacle.

AND Beſaleel wrought, and Ooliab, and all wiſe hearted men, to whom the Lord gaue wiſedome and vn-derſtanding to know how to worke all maner of worke for the ſeruice of the Sanctuary, and all that the Lord had commanded.
2 And Moſes called Beſaleel, Ooliab, & all the wiſe hearted men, and ſuch as the Lord had giuen wiſedom vnto, & as many as their hearts couraged to come vnto that worke, to worke it.
3 And they receiued of Moſes all the heaue offring which the children of Iſrael had brought for the worke of the ſeruice of the Sanctuary, to make it withall. And beſide that, they brought free offerings vnto it euery day in the morning.
4 And all the wiſe men that wrought al the holy worke, came euery man from his worke which they made:
5 And they ſpake vnto Moſes, ſaying, The people bring too much, and more then enough for the ſeruice and worke which the Lord hath commanded to be made.
6 And then Moſes gaue commandement, and they cauſed it to bee proclaimed throughout the hoſte, ſaying, See that neither man nor woman prepare any more worke for the heaue offring of the Sanctuary: and ſo the people were forbidden to bring.
7 For the ſtuffe they had, was ſufficient for all the worke to make it, and too much.
8 All the wiſe hearted men therefore, and they that wrought for the Tabernacle, made ten curtaines of white twined ſilke, blew ſilke, purple, and ſcarlet, with Cherubims of broidered worke made they them.
9 The length of one curtaine was twentie and eight cubites, and the breadth fourre: and the curtaines were all of one ſize.
10 And hee coupled fiue curtaines by themſelues, and other fiue by themſelues.
11 And he made loopes of blew ſilke along by the edge of one curtaine, euen in the ſelfedge of the coupling curtaine: and likewiſe he made on the ſide of the coupling curtain on the other ſide.
12 Fiftie loopes made he in the one curtaine, and fiftie in the edge of the coupling curtaine on the other ſide, & the loopes helde one curtaine to another.
13 And he made fiftie taches of gold, and coupled the curtaines one to another with the taches: and ſo was it made one tabernacle.
14 And hee made eleuen curtaines of goates haire, to be a tent ouer the tabernacle.
15 The length of one curtaine had thirtie cu-bites, and was foure cubites broad, and they all eleuen of one ſize.
16 And hee coupled fiue curtaines by themſelues, and ſixe by themſelues.
17 And he made fiftie loops along by the border of the vttermoſt coupling curtaine, and fiftie in the edge of the other coupling curtaine.
18 And hee made fiftie taches of braſſe, to couple the tent together, that it might be one.
19 And hee made a couering vpon the tent of rammes ſkinnes, red, and yet another of Taxus ſkinnes aboue that.
20 And hee made ſtanding boordes for the tabernacle of Sittim wood.
21 The length of a boord was ten cubits, the breadth one cubite and a haife.
22 One boord had two tenons: whereby they were ioyned one to another: and thus made hee for all the boordes of the tabernacle.
23 And he made twentie boordes for the ſouth ſide of the tabernacle.
24 And fourtie ſockets of ſiluer, vnder the twentie boords, two ſockets vnder one boord for his two tenons, and two ſockets vnder another boord for his two tenons.
25 And for the other ſide of the Tabernacle which is toward the North, hee made twentie boordes,
26 And their fourtie ſockets of ſiluer: two ſockets vnder one boord, and two ſockets vnder the other boord.
27 And toward the weſt ende of the Tabernacle, he made ſixe boordes.
28 And two other boordes made he in the corners of the tabernacle, for either ſide, 29 And they were ioyned cleane beneath and aboue with a ring: and thus they did to both the corners.
30 And there were eight boordes, and ſixteene ſockets of ſiluer: vnder euery boord two ſockets.
31 And he made barres of Sittim wood, fiue for the boordes of the Tabernacle in the one ſide, 32 And fiue for the boordes of the Tabernacle in the other ſide, and fiue barres for the boordes of the tabernacle in the weſt end.
33 And he made the midſt bar to ſhut through the boordes, from the one end to the other:
34 And ouerlayd the boordes with golde, and made rings of gold to thruſt the barres through, and couered the barres with golde.
35 And he made a vaile of blew ſilke, purple, ſcarlet, and white twined ſilke: with Cherubims made he it of broidered worke.

36 And hee made thereunto foure pillars of Sittim wood, and ouerlayed them with golde: their knoppes were also of golde, and he cast for them foure sockets of siluer.

37 And he made an hanging for the tabernacle dooze, of blew silke, purple, scarlet, and white twined silke, of needle worke, 38 And the fiue pillars of it, with their knops: and ouerlayed the knops of them, and the hoops with gold: their fiue sockets also were of brasse.

The xxxvij. Chapter.

The making and framing of the arke of witnesse.

AND Bezaleel made the arke of Sittim wood: two cubits and a halfe long, and a cubit and a halfe broad, and a cubit and a halfe high:

2 And ouerlayed it with fine golde within and without, and made a crowne of golde to it round about,

3 And cast for it foure rings of golde for the foure corners of it: two rings for the one side, and two for the other.

4 And made barres of Sittim wood, and couered them with golde.

5 And put the barres in the rings along by the side of the arke, to beare the arke withall.

6 And he made the mercy seat of pure golde: two cubits and a halfe was the length thereof, and one cubit and a halfe the breadth.

7 And hee made two Cherubims of thicke gold, vpon the two ends of the mercy seat.

8 One Cherub on the one end, and another Cherub on the other end: of the mercy seat made he the Cherubims in the ends thereof.

9 And the Cherubims spread out their wings aboue on high, and couered the mercie seat therewith, and their faces were one to another, euen to the mercy seatward were the faces of the Cherubims.

10 And hee made the table of Sittim wood: two cubits was the length therof, and a cubit the breadth, and a cubit and a halfe the height of it.

11 And hee ouerlayed it with fine golde, and made thereunto a crowne of golde round about, 12 And made thereunto an hoope of an hand broad round about: and made vpon the hoope a crowne of golde round about.

13 And he cast for it foure rings of golde, and put the rings in the foure corners that were in the foure feet thereof.

14 Euen hard by the hoope were the rings, into the which the barres were put, to beare the table withall.

15 And he made the barres of Sittim wood, and couered them with golde, to beare the table withall.

16 And made the vessels for the table of pure golde, his dishes, his incense cups, his couerings, and his bowles to powre out withall.

17 And he made the candlesticke of pure gold, of a whole worke made hee the candlesticke: his staffe, his branches, his bowles, his knops, and his flowers were of one piece.

18 Sixe branches proceeding out of the sides thereof: three branches of the candlesticke out of the one side thereof, and three branches of the candlesticke out of the other side thereof.

19 And in one branch three bowles, made like vnto almonds, with a knop & a flower: and in an other branch three bowles made like almonds, with a knop and a flower: and so throughout the six branches that proceed out of the candlestick.

20 And vpon the candlestick it selfe were foure bowles, after the fashion of almonds, with knops and flowers.

21 Vnder euery two branches, a knop of the same, & a knop vnder two branches of the same, and a knop vnder two branches of the same, according to the six branches that proceed out of it.

22 And the knops and the branches proceed out of it: and it was all one piece of pure thicke golde.

23 And hee made his seuen lampes, with the snuffers, and vessels for the snuffe of pure golde.

24 Of a talent of pure golde made he it, with all the vessels thereof.

25 And he made the incense altar of Sittim wood: the length of it was a cubit, & the breadth a cubit: for it was foure square, and two cubits high, with hornes proceeding out of it.

26 And he couered it with pure gold, both the toppe and the sides thereof round about, and the hornes of it: and made vnto it a crowne of golde round about.

27 And he made two rings of gold for it vnder the crowne thereof, in the two corners of it, and in the two sides thereof, to put barres in for to beare it withall.

28 And he made the barres of Sittim wood, and ouerlayed them with golde.

29 And he made the holy anointing oile, and the sweet pure incense after the Apothecaries craft.

The xxxviij. Chapter.

1 The altar of the whole burnt offerings. 8 The brasen lauer. 24 The summe of that which the people offered.

AND he made the whole burnt offering altar of Sittim wood: fiue cubits was the length thereof, and fiue cubits the breadth, foure square, and three cubits high.

2 And he made vnto it hornes in the foure corners of it, proceeding out of it, and he ouerlayed it with brasse.

3 And he made all the vessels of the altar, the ashpannes, and beloms, and basons, fleshhookes, and fire pannes: all the vessels thereof made he of brasse.

4 And hee made a brasen gridiron of network like vnto the altar, round about alow, beneath, vnto the midst of the altar.

5 And cast foure rings of brasse for the foure ends of the gridiron, to put barres in:

6 And he made the barres of Sittim wood, and couered them with brasse:

7 And put the barres into the rings in the foure corners of the altar, to beare it withal, and made the altar hollow with in the boords.

8 And hee made the lauer of brasse, and the foot of it also of brasse, of the [a] glasses of the women assembling, which came together at the dooze of the Tabernacle of the congregation.

9 And he made the court on the South side, full South: and the hangings of the court were of white twined silke, hauing a hundred cubits.

10 Their pillars were twenty, and their brasen sockets twenty: but the hookes of the pillars, and their hoops were of siluer.

12 On the west side were hangings of fiftie cubites, ten pillars, & their ten sockets; but the knops & the hoopes of the pillars were of siluer.

13 And towarde the East side, full East, were hangings of fiftie cubites.

14 The hangings of the one side of the gate, were fifteene cubites long, with three pillars, and three sockets.

15 And on the other side of the court gate, were hangings of fifteene cubits long, with three pillars, and three sockets.

16 All the hangings of the court round about, were of white twined silke:

17 But the sockets of the pillars were of brasse, and the knops, and the hoopes were of siluer, and the couering of the heads was of siluer, and all the pillars of the court were hooped about with siluer.

18 And the hanging of the gate of the court was needle worke, of blew silke, purple, scarlet, and white twined silke: twentie cubites long, and fiue in height, and breadth, ouer against the hangings of the court.

19 And their pillars were foure, and their foure sockets of brasse, and the knops of siluer, and the heads ouerlayd with siluer, and hooped about with siluer.

20 And all the [b] pinnes of the Tabernacle, and of the court round about, were of brasse.

21 This is the [c] summe of the Tabernacle, euen of the Tabernacle of witnesse, as it was counted according to the Commaundement of Moses, for the office of the Leuites, by the hand of Ithamar, sonne to Aaron the Priest.

22 And Bezaleel the sonne of Uri, the sonne of Hur, of the tribe of Iuda, made all that the Lord commanded Moses:

23 And with him was Aholiab, sonne of Ahisamach, of the tribe of Dan, a cunning workeman, an embroderer, and a worker of needleworke, in blew silke, purple, scarlet, and white twined silke.

24 All the golde that was occupied for all the worke of the holy place, was the gold of the waue offering, twentie and nine talents, and seuen hundred, and thirtie sicles, after the sicle of the Sanctuary.

25 And the summe of siluer of them that were numbred in the Congregation, was an hundred talents, and a thousand, seuen hundred, and threescore and fifteene sicles, after the sicle of the Sanctuary.

26 For euery man an halfe weight, euen halfe a sicle, after the sicle of the sanctuary, for all them that went to bee numbred, from twenty yeeres olde, and aboue, euen for fiue hundred thousand, and three thousand, & fiue hundred, & fifty men.

27 And of the hundred talents of siluer, were cast the sockets of the Sanctuary, & the sockets of the vaile: an hundred sockets of the hundred talents, a talent to euery socket.

28 And of the thousand, seuen hundred, seuentie and fiue sicles, he made knops to the pillars, and ouerlayd the heads, and hooped them.

29 And the brasse of the waue offering was threescore and tenne talents, and two thousand, and foure hundred sicles.

30 And therewith he made the sockets to the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the brasen Altar, and the brasen gridiron for it, with all the vessels of the Altar, 31 And the sockets of the court round about, and the sockets for the court gate, and all the pinnes of the Tabernacle, and all the pinnes of the court round about.

The xxxix. Chapter.

1 The apparell of Aaron and his sonnes. 32 All that the Lord commanded, was done and finished. 43 Moses blesseth the people.

AND of the blew silke, purple, and scarlet, they made besliments of ministration, to do seruice in the Holy place: and made the holy garments for Aaron, as the Lord commanded Moses.

2 And he made the Ephod of gold, blew silke, purple, scarlet, and white twined silke.

3 And they did beate the golde into thinne plates, and cut it into wyers, to worke it in the blew silke, purple, scarlet, and in the fine white, with broidered worke.

4 And they made two ioses for it, to close them by by the two edges.

5 And the broidering of the girdle that was vpon it, was of the same stuffe, and after the same worke, of golde, blew silke, purple, scarlet, and twined white silke, as the Lord commanded Moses.

6 And they wrought Onix stones, closed in ouches of golde, and graued as signets are grauen, with the names of the children of Israel.

7 And hee put them on the shoulders of the Ephod, that they should bee stones for a remembrance of the children of Israel, as the Lord commanded Moses.

8 And hee made the breastlappe of broidered worke, like the worke of the Ephod, of gold, blew silke, purple, scarlet, and twined white silke.

9 It was foure square, and they made the breastlap double, an handbreadth long, and an handbreadth broad.

10 And they filled it with foure rowes of stones. The first rowe, a Sardius, a Topazius, and a Smaragdus.

11 The second row, a Rubi, a Saphire, and a Diamond.

12 In the thirde row, a Lyncurius, an Achates, and an Amathyst.

13 In the fourth rowe, a Turcas, an Onix, and a Jaspis: and they were closed in ouches of gold in their inclosers.

14 And the twelue stones were grauen as signets, with the names of the children of Israel, euery stone with his name, according to the twelue tribes.

15 And they made vpon the breastlap, two falling chaines of wrethen worke of pure gold.

16 And they made two ouches of golde, and two golde rings: and put the two rings in the two corners of the breastlap.

17 And they put the two chaines of golde in the two rings in the corners of the breastlap.

18 And the two ends of the two chaines, they fastened in the two ouches, and put them on the shoulders of the Ephod, vpon the forefront of it.

19 And they made two rings of gold, and put them on the two corners of the breastlap, vpo the 20 And they made two golden rings, and put them on the two sides of the Ephod, beneath on the forefide of it, and ouer against his fellowe, aboue vpon the broidering of the Ephod.

21 And they straines the breastlap by his rings vnto the rings of the Ephod, with a lace of blew silke, that it might bee vpon the broidering of the Ephod, and that the breastlap should not be loosed frō off the Ephod, as the Lord commanded Moses.
22 And he made the tunicle vnto the Ephod, of wouen worke, altogether of blew silke.
23 And there was a hole in the midst of the tunicle, as the collar of a partlet, with a band round about the collar, that it should not rent.
24 And in the tunicle they made hemmes with Pomegranates of blew silke, purple, scarlet, and white twined silke.
25 And they made little belles of pure golde, and put them amongst the Pomegranats round about vpon the edge of the tunicle.
26 A bell and a Pomegranate, a bell and a Pomegranate, round about the hemmes of the tunicle to minister in, as the Lord commanded Moses.
27 And they made coates of fine white silke of wouen worke, for Aaron and his sonnes.
28 And a miter of fine white silke, and goodly bonnets of fine white silke, and linnen sloppes of twined white silke.
29 And a girdle of twined white silke, blew, purple, and scarlet, euen of needle worke, as the Lord commanded Moses.
30 And they made ỹ plate of the holy Crowne of fine golde, and wrote vpon it with grauen worke as signets are grauen, THE HOLINES OF THE LORD.
31 And they tyed vnto it a lace of blew silke, to fasten it on high vpon the mitre, as the Lord commanded Moses.
32 Thus was al the worke of the tabernacle, euen the tabernacle of the congregation finished: And the children of Israel did according to all that the Lord commanded Moses, so did they.
33 And they brought the Tabernacle vnto Moses, euen the tabernacle, and all his furniture, his taches, his boards, his barres, his pillars, and his sockets, 34 The couering of raynnes skinnes, red, and the couering of Tarus skinnes, and the hanging vaile, 35 The Arke of the Testimonie, & the barres thereof, and the mercie seate, 36 The Table, and all the vessels thereof, and the shew bread,
37 The pure candlesticke, with the lampes thereof, euen with the lamps to be prepared, and all the vessels thereof, and the oyle for light,
38 The golden altar, and the anoynting oyle, and the sweete incense, and the hanging of the tabernacle doore,
39 And the brasen altar, with his gridiron of brasse, his barres, and all his vessels, the lauer and his foote,
40 The curtaines of the court, with his pillars and sockets, & the hanging to the court gate, and his pinnes and cordes, and all the vessels of the service of the Tabernacle, euen of the tabernacle of the Congregation.
41 The ministring vestments to serue in the holy place, and the holy vestments for Aaron the Priest, and his sonnes raiments to minister in, in the Priests office:
42 According to al that the Lord commanded Moses, so the children of Israel made all the worke.
43 And Moses did looke vpon all the worke: and beholde, they had done it as the Lord had commanded, euen so had they done it: and Moses blessed them.

The xl. Chapter.

2 The Tabernacle is reared vp. 34 The glory of the Lord appeareth in a cloud, couering the tabernacle.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,
2 In the first day of the first moneth shalt thou set vp the Tabernacle, euen the Tabernacle of the Congregation.
3 And put therein the Arke of the testimony, and couer the Arke with the vaile, and thou shalt bring in the Table, and order it according to the appointment thereof:
4 And thou shalt bring in the Candlesticke, and light his lampes,
5 And set the incense altar of gold before the Arke of the testimony, and put the hanging at the doore of the Tabernacle.
6 And set the whole burnt offering altar, before the doore of the tabernacle, euen the tabernacle of the Congregation:
7 And set the lauer betweene the tabernacle of the Congregation and the altar, and put water therein.
8 And make the court rounde about, and hang vp the hanging at the court gate.
9 And thou shalt take the anoynting oyle, and anoynt the tabernacle, and all that is therein, and halow it, with all the vessels thereof: and it shalbe holy.
10 And thou shalt anoynt the Altar of the whole burnt offring, and all his vessels, and sanctifie the Altar: and it shalbe an altar most holy.
11 And thou shalt also anoynt the lauer and his foote, and sanctifie it.
12 And thou shalt bring Aaron & his sonnes vnto the doore of the tabernacle of the Congregation, and wash them with water.
13 And thou shalt put vpon Aaron the holy vestments, and anoynt him, & sanctifie him, that he may minister vnto me in the Priests office.
14 And thou shalt bring his sonnes, & clothe them with garments,
15 And anoynt them, as thou diddest anoynt their father, that they may minister vnto mee in the Priests office: for their anoynting shalbe an euerlasting Priesthood vnto them throughout all their generations.
16 And Moses did according to all that the Lord commanded him, so did he.
17 Thus was the tabernacle reared vp the first day of the first moneth, in the b second yeere.
18 And Moses reared vp the tabernacle, and fastened his sockets, and set vp the boards thereof, and put in the barres of it, and reared vp his pillars:
19 And spred abroad the tent ouer the Tabernacle, and put the couering of the tent an high aboue it, as the Lord commanded Moses.

22 And hee put the table in the tabernacle of the congregation, in the Northside of the tabernacle, without the vaile, 35 And Moses could not enter into the Tabernacle of the congregation, because the cloude abode thereon, and the glory of the Lord filled the tabernacle.

36 And when the cloude was taken vp from off the tabernacle, the children of Israel tooke their iourneys throughout their armies:
37 And when the cloude was not taken vp, they iourneyed not till it was taken vp.
38 For the d cloude of the Lord was vpon the Tabernacle by day, and fire by night, in the sight of all the house of Israel, throughout all their iourneys.

The end of the second booke of Moses, called Exodus.

¶ The third booke of Moses, called in the Hebrew Vaicrah, and in the Latine Leuiticus.

This booke is so named, because that in the same is chiefly entreated of the Leuitical sacrifices, and other ceremonies of the Law, vnto the which the Leuites were ordained by the Lord.

The first Chapter.

2 Of whole burnt offerings for particular persons. 3 The maner to offer whole burnt offerings, as well of bullockes, as of sheepe and birds.

AND the Lord a called vnto Moses, and spake vnto him out of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, saying,
2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and thou shalt say vnto them, If any b of you bring a sacrifice vnto the Lord, yee shall bring your sacrifice from among the cattell, euen from among the beeues, and the c sheepe.
3 If his sacrifice bee a whole burnt offering of beeues, let him offer a male without blemish, and bring him of his owne voluntarie will vnto the dooze of the Tabernacle of the congregation before the Lord.
4 And hee shall put his hand vpon the head of the whole burnt sacrifice, and it shalbe accepted for him to be his atonement.
5 And hee shall kill the bullocke before the Lord: And the Priests Aarons sonnes shal bring the blood, and sprinckle it round about vpon the altar that is by the dooze of the tabernacle of the congregation.
6 And then shall he flay the whole burnt offring, and hew him in pieces.
7 And the sonnes of Aaron the Priest shall put fire vpon the Altar, and put wood vpon the fire.
8 And the Priestes Aarons sonnes shall lay the parts, euen the head and the fat vpon the wood that is in the fire on the altar.
9 But the inwards and the legs thereof shall he wash in water, and the Priest shall burne all on the altar, that they may be a whole burnt sacrifice, an offering made by fire for a sweet odour vnto the Lord.
10 And if his sacrifice be of flocches, namely of the sheepe, or goates, let him bring a male without blemish for a whole burnt offering:
11 And let him kill it on the Northside of the altar before the Lord: And the Priestes Aarons sonnes shall sprinckle the blood round about vpon the altar.
12 And hee shall cut it into his pieces, euen with his head and his fat: and the Priest shal lay them vpon the wood that lieth vpon the fire on the altar.
13 But hee shall wash the inwards and the legs with water, and the Priest shal bring all together, and burne it vpon the altar for a whole burnt offering, an oblation made by fire for a sweet sauour vnto the Lord.
14 If the whole burnt offering for the sacrifice of the Lord be of foules, he shall bring his sacrifice of turtle doues, or of the yong pigeons.
15 And the Priest shal bring it vnto the altar,

16 And he shal pluche away his crop with his feathers, and cast them beside the Altar on the East part in the place of ashes.

17 And hee shall breake the wings of it, but pluche them not asunder: And the Priest shall burne it vpon the Altar, euen vpō the wood that is vpon the fire: that it may be a whole burnt offring, an oblation, made by fire for a sweete sauour vnto the Lord.

The ij. Chapter.

1 The order of meate offrings. 13 All meate offrings must be seasoned with salt.

IF [a] soule that will offer a meate offering vnto the Lord, his offering shalbe of fine flowre: and hee shall powre oyle vpon it, and put frankincense thereon:

2 And shall bring it vnto Aarons sonnes the Priests: And he shall take thereout his handfull of the flowre, and of the oyle, with all the frankincense, and the Priest shal burne it for a memorial of him vpon the Altar, to be an offring made by fire, for a sweete sauour vnto the Lord.

3 And the remnant of the meate offering shalbe Aarons and his sonnes, a thing most [a] holy of the sacrifices of the Lord made by fire.

4 If thou bring also a meate offering that is bakē in the Ouen, let it be an vnleauened cake of fine flowre mingled with oyle, or an vnleauened wafer anoynted with oyle.

5 If thy meate offering bee bakē in the frying panne, it shalbe of vnleauened flowre mingled with oyle.

6 And thou shalt part it in pieces, and powre oyle thereon: that it may be a meate offering.

7 And if thy meate offering be a thing broyled vpon the gridiron, let it be of floure mingled with oyle.

8 And thou shalt bring the meat offring that is made of these things vnto the Lord, and shalt deliuer it vnto the Priest, that he may offer it vpon the Altar.

9 And the Priest shal take from the meat offring a memorial thereof, and shal burne it vpon the Altar, that it may bee a burnt offering for a sweete sauour vnto the Lord.

10 And that which is left of the meat offring, shalbe Aarons & his sonnes: It is a thing most holy of the offerings of the Lord made by fire.

11 All the meate offrings which ye shal bring vnto the Lord, shalbe made without leauen: For yee shall neither burne leauen nor [b] honie in any offering of the Lord made by fire.

12 As the oblation of the first fruits yee shall offer them vnto the Lord: but they shall not bee burnt vpon the Altar for a sweete sauour.

13 All the meate offerings also shalt thou season with salt, neither shalt thou suffer the salt of the Couenant of thy God to be lacking from thy meate offring: but vpon all thine offerings thou shalt bring [c] salt.

14 And if thou offer a meat offring of the first fruites vnto the Lord, thou shalt offer for the meate offering of thy first fruites, eares of corne dried by the fire, euen beaten wheate of ful eares.

15 And thou shalt put oyle vpon it, & lay frankincense thereon, that it may be a meat offering.

16 And the Priest shal burne part of the beaten corne, and part of the oyle with all the frankincense, for a remembrance: and it shalbe a sacrifice vnto the Lord made by fire.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The order of peace offerings. 6 Of Sheepe. 7 Of Lambes. 12 Of Goates.

AND if his sacrifice be a [a] peace offring, & hee take it from among the droues, whether it bee a male or female, he shal bring such as is without blemish before the Lord,

2 And put his hand vpon the head of his offring, and kil it at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation: And Aarons sonnes the Priestes shall sprinkle the blood vpon the Altar round about.

3 And he shall offer [b] some what of the peace offering, to bee a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord: euen the fat that coureth the inwards, and all the fat that is vpon the inwards:

4 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is on them, and vpon the flanks, and the hall with the liuer shall he take away with the kidneys.

5 And Aarons sonnes shall burne them on the Altar with the whole burnt sacrifice which is vpō the wood that is on the fire, to be a burnt sacrifice made by fire for a sweet sauour vnto the Lord.

6 If he bring a peace offering vnto the Lord from off the flocke, let him offer male or female, but without blemish.

7 And if he offer a lambe for his sacrifice, hee shal bring it before the Lord,

8 And put his hand vpon his offrings head, and kil it before the dooze of the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and Aarons sonnes shall sprinckle the blood therof round about the altar.

9 And of the peace offering let him bring a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord, the fat thereof, and the rumpe altogether, which they shall take off hard by the backe bone: and the fat that coureth the inwards, and all the fat that is vpon the inwards,

10 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is vpon them, and vpon the flankes, and the hall that is vpon the liuer shal hee take away, with the kidneys.

11 And the Priest shall burne them vpon the Altar, to be the food of a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord.

12 If his offering bee a goate, he shal bring it before the Lord, 13 And put his hand vpon the head of it, and kil it before the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and the sonnes of Aaron shal sprinckle the blood thereof vpon the Altar round about.

14 And he shal bring thereof his offring, euen a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord, the fat that coureth the inwards, and al the fat that is vpon the inwards, 15 And the two kidneys, and the fat that is vpon them, euen the flankes, and the hal vpon the liuer shal he take away with the kidneys.

16 And the Priest shal burne them vpon the Altar for the food of the sacrifice made by fire, for a sweet sauour: All the fat is the Lords.

17 It shal be a perpetual statute for your generations throughout your dwellings, that ye eat neither fat nor blood.

[f] Fire is the hebrew word signifieth to bee cut or pinched with the nayle of a finger.

[a] Because it doth remaine of that which was burnt in the honour of God, & therefore might not be eaten but of the holy, that is, the Priests.

[b] That is, all maner of fruite as sweete as honye: as figs, dates, and such like. Of these nothing might be burned, but kept onely to be offred before God.

[c] By this ceremonie is the nature of Christ set forth which is figured in all sacrifices. For Christ is the true & heauenly salt, by whō all that beleue in him, are made sauoure and pleasant vnto God the father, so that they shall neuer so putrifie that they shall perish.

[a] That is, a sacrifice of thankesgiuing, offered for peace and prosperitie either generally or particularly.

[b] One part was burnt, an other appointed to the Priests, and the thirde to him that offered.

[c] In the whole burnt offering all was consumed, but in this offering made by fire, onely the inwards were burnt.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 The offering for the sinnes, 3 Of the Priest, 13 Of the congregation, 22 The princes, 27 The priuate persons sinne done by ignorance.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say, If a soule shall sinne through ignorance in any of the commandements of the Lord which ought not to be done, but shall doe contrary to any of them:

3 As if the Priest that is annoynted, doe sinne according to the a sinne of the people, let him bring for his sinne which he hath sinned, a young bullocke without blemish, vnto the Lord for a sinne offering.

4 And he shall bring the yong bullocke vnto the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation before the Lord, and shall put his hand vpon the yong bullocks head, and b kill the yong bullocke before the Lord.

5 And the Priest that is anoynted, shal take of the yong bullocks blood, and bring it into the tabernacle of the congregation.

6 And the Priest shall dippe his finger in the blood, and sprinkle thereof seuen times before the Lord, before the vaile of the sanctuarie.

7 And the Priest shall put some of the blood before the Lorde, vpon the hornes of the altar of sweete incense, which is in the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall powre all the blood of the yong bullocke, vnto the bottome of the altar of the whole burnt offering, which is at the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation.

8 And he shall take away all the fatte of the bullocke for the sinne offering, the fat that couereth the inwards, and all the fatte that is about the inwards,

9 And the two kidneys, and the fatte that is vpon them, and vpon the flankes, and the kall vpon the liuer shall hee take away with the kidneys.

10 As it was taken away in the bullocke of the peace offrings: and let the Priest burne them vpon the altar of the whole burnt offering.

11 But the skin of the yong bullocke, and all his flesh, with his head and his legges, with his inwards and his doung, shall he beare out, 12 And cary the whole bullocke altogether out of the holte vnto a cleane place, where the ashes are powred out, and *burne him there on wood in the fire: by the place where the ashes are cast out shall he be burnt.

Hebr. 13. 11.

13 If the whole congregation of Israel sinne through ignorance, and the thing bee hid from the eyes of the multitude, and haue done somewhat against any of the commaundements of the Lord, which should not be done, and haue offended:

14 When the sinne which they haue sinned is known, the congregation shall bring a young bullocke for the sinne, and bring him before the tabernacle of the congregation.

15 And the Elders of the multitude shall put their hands vpon the head of the bullocke before the Lord: and the bullocke shall be slaine before the Lord.

16 And the Priest that is annoynted, shall bring of the bullockes blood into the tabernacle of the congregation.

17 And the Priest shall dippe his finger in the blood, & sprinkle it seuen times before the Lord, euen before the vaile.

18 And shall put of the blood vpon the hornes of the altar which is before the Lorde, in the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall powre all the blood vnto the bottome of the altar of the whole burnt offering, which is before the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation.

19 And he shall take his fatte from him, and burne it vpon the altar, 20 And shall doe with this bullocke as he did with the bullocke for sinne, so shall hee doe with this: And the Priest shall make an atonement for them, and it shall be forgiuen them.

21 And hee shall bring this bullocke without the holte, and burne him as hee burned the first bullocke: for it is an oblation for the sinne of the congregation.

22 When a lord sinneth, & committeth through ignorance any of these things which the Lorde his God hath forbidden to bee done in his commaundements, and hath offended:

23 And if his sinne be shewed vnto him which he hath done, he shall bring his offering, euen an hee goat without blemish,

24 And lay his hand vpon the head of the hee goat, and kill it in the place where the whole burnt offring is vsed to be killed before the Lord: for it is a sinne offering.

25 And let the Priest take of the blood of the sinne offering with his finger, and put it vpon the hornes of the whole burnt offering altar, and powre his blood vnto the bottome of the whole burnt offering altar, 26 And burne all his fat vpon the altar, as the fatte of the peace offerings: and the Priest shall make an atonement for him as concerning his sinne, and it shall be forgiuen him.

27 If one of the common people of the land sinne through ignorance, and commit any of the things which the Lorde hath forbidden in his commandements to be done, & so hath trespalled:

28 Or this sinne which he hath sinned come to his knowledge, hee shall bring for his offering a hee goat from among the flockes, without blemish for his sinne which he hath sinned,

29 And shal lay his hand vpon the head of the sinne offering, and slay the sinne offering in the place of the whole burnt offerings.

30 And the Priest shall take of the blood thereof with his finger, and put it vpon the hornes of the whole burnt offring altar, and powre all the blood vnto the bottome of the altar, 31 And shall take away all his fat, as the fat of the peace offering is taken away: & the Priest shall burne it vpon the altar, that it may bee a sweet sauour vnto the Lord, and the Priest shall make an atonement for him, and it shall be forgiuen him.

The v. Chapter.

1 Of othes. 2 The cleansing of him that toucheth vncleane things. 6 The purgation of an othe, 15 And of sinne done by ignorance.

IF a soule sinne, and heare the voice [a] of swearing, and is a witnesse whether he hath seene or knowen of it, if he doe not vtter it, hee shall beare his sinne.

a This is diuersly expounded, because the Hebrew word hath a double signification: this is the sense as some thinke, If a Iudge doeth minister an oth to any private man, to declare the trueth of any thing that he hath seene, and doe it not, he sinneth: other, thus: If any man see his neighbor commit any sinne, which is by the law of God execrable, or detestable, & did conceale it, and not open it as much as in him did lye, hee did sinne. Other taketh it thus: All such as did heare any man curse, ban and abuse the name of God, & did not open it vnto the magistrate, did sinne: the first sense is best liked.

2 Either if a soule touch any vncleane thing, whether it be the carion of an vncleane beast, or a carion of vncleane cattell, or a carion of vncleane creeping things, and is not ware of it: behold, he is vncleane, and hath offended.

3 Either if he touch any vncleannesse of man, whatsoeuer vncleannesse it bee that a man is wonte to be defiled withall, and is not ware of it, and commeth to the knowledge of it, hee hath trespalled.

4 Either if a soule sweare, and pronounceth with his lippes to doe euill or to doe good, whatsoeuer it be that a man shall pronounce with an othe, and the thing be hidde from him, and commeth to the knowledge of it, and hath offended in one of these:

5 When hee hath sinned in one of these things, he shall confesse that he hath sinned in that thing.

6 Therefore shall he bring his trespalle offering vnto the Lord for his sinne which hee hath sinned, a female from the flocke, a lambe or a goat, for a sinne offering: And the Priest shall make an atonement for him concerning his sinne.

7 And if he be not able to bring a sheepe, hee shall bring for his trespalle which he hath sinned, two turtle doues, or two yong pigeons vnto the Lord: one for a sinne offring, and the other for a whole burnt offring.

8 And hee shall bring them vnto the Priest, which shall offer the sinne offering first, and wring the necke asunder of it, but pluck it not cleane off.

9 And hee shall sprinkle of the blood of the sinne offering vpon the side of the altar, and the rest of the blood shall he powre by the bottome of the altar: for it is a sinne offering.

10 And hee shall offer the second for a whole burnt offering as the maner is: and so shall the Priest make an atonement for him for the sinne which he had sinned, and it shalbe forgiuen him.

11 And if he be not able to bring two Turtle doues, or two yong pigeons, then he that sinned, shall bring for his offring the tenth part of an Epha of fine flowre for a sin offring: but put none oyle thereto, neither put any frankincense thereon: for it is a sinne offring.

12 Then shal he bring it to the Priest, and the Priest shall take his handfull of it for a remembrance thereof, and burne it vpon the altar, to be a sacrifice for the Lorde made by fire: for it is a sinne offring.

13 And the Priest shall make an atonement for him as touching his sinne that he hath sinned in one of these, and it shall be forgiuen him: and the remnant shall be the Priests, as a meat offering.

14 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

15 If a soule trespalle and sinne through ignorance in things that are consecrated vnto the Lorde, let him bring for his trespalle vnto the Lorde, a Ramme without blemish out of the flocke, valued in money at two sicles, after the sicle of the sanctuarie, that it may bee for a trespalle offering.

16 And he shall make amends for the harme that he hath done in the holy thing, and let him put the fift part more thereto, and giue it vnto the Priest: And the Priest shall make an atonement for him with the Ramme that is for the trespalle: and it shalbe forgiuen him.

17 If a soule sinne, and commit any of these things which are forbidden to be done by the commandements of the Lord, and [b] wist it not, and hath offended, and beare his sinne:

b And doeth afterward knowledge himselfe to haue offended, and thinketh himselfe to be guiltie of that sinne.

18 Then shall hee bring a Ramme without blemish out of the flocke, that is esteemed to bee worth a trespalle offering, vnto the Priest: And the Priest shall make an atonement for him concerning his ignorance, wherein hee erred and was not ware: and it shall be forgiuen him.

19 This is a trespalle offring, for the trespalle committed against the Lord.

The vj. Chapter.

3 The offering for sinnes, which are done willingly. 20 The offering of Aaron and his sonnes.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 If a soule sinne and trespalle against the Lorde, and deine vnto his neighbour that which was taken him to keep, or that was put into his hands, or doeth violent robberie or wrong vnto his neighbour,

3 Or if he haue found that which was lost, and denyeth it, and sweareth falsly vpon whatsoeuer thing it be that a man doeth, and sinneth therein:

4 If he haue so sinned a trespalled, he shall restore againe that he tooke violently away, or the wrong which hee did, or that which was deliuered him to keep, or the lost thing which he found:

5 And all that about which he hath sworne falsely, hee shall restore it againe in the whole summe, and shall adde the fift part more thereto, and giue it vnto him to whome it appertaineth, the same day that he offereth for his trespalle.

6 And let him bring for his trespalle vnto the Lord a ramme without blemish out of the flock, that is esteemed worth a trespalle offering vnto the Priest.

7 And the Priest shall make an atonement for him before the Lorde, and it shalbe forgiuen him, whatsoeuer thing it be that hee hath done and trespalled therein.

8 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

9 Command Aaron and his sonnes, saying, This is the lawe of the whole burnt offering. (The whole burnt offering shall bee vpon the hearth of the altar all night vnto the morning, and the fire shalbe kindled on the altar.)

10 And the Priest shal put on his linnen garment, & his linnen breeches vpon his flesh, and take away the ashes vpon the which the fire consumed

13 The fire ſhall euer burne vpon the altar, and neuer goe out.
14 This is the law of the meat offring, which Aarons ſonnes ſhall bring before the Lorde, before the altar.
15 And one of them ſhall take his handfull of the floure of the meate offering, and of the oyle, and all the frankincenſe which is vpon the meat offering, and ſhall burne it vnto a remembrance vpon the altar for a ſweete ſauour, a memoriall of it vnto the Lord.

17 It ſhall not be baken with leauen: I haue giuen it vnto them for their portion of my ſacrifices made by fire: It is moſt holy, as is the ſinne offering, and the treſpaſſe offering.
18 All the males among the children of Aaron ſhall eat of it: It ſhall be a ſtatute for euer in your generations concerning the ſacrifice of the Lorde made by fire: let euery one that toucheth it, be holy.
19 And the Lord ſpake vnto Moſes, ſaying,
20 This is the offering of Aaron, and of his ſonnes, which they ſhall offer vnto the Lorde in the day when hee is annoynted: The tenth part of an Epha of fine floure for a meate offering perpetuall, halfe of it in the morning, and halfe thereof at night.
21 In the frying panne it ſhall be made with oyle, and when it is fryed, thou ſhalt bring it in: and the bakē pieces of the meat offering ſhalt thou offer for a ſweet ſauour vnto the Lord.
22 And the Prieſt amongſt his ſonnes that is annoynted in his ſteade, ſhall offer it: It is the Lordes ordinance for euer, it ſhall be burnt altogether.
23 For euery meate offering that is made for the Prieſt, ſhall bee burnt altogether, and ſhall not be eaten.
24 And the Lord ſpake vnto Moſes, ſaying,
25 Speak vnto Aaron and to his ſonnes, and ſay, This is the law of the ſinne offering: In the place where the whole burnt offering is killed, ſhall the ſinne offering be killed before the Lord, for it is moſt holy.
26 The Prieſt that offereth it, ſhall eat it: In the holy place ſhall it be eaten, in the court of the tabernacle of the congregation.
27 Whatſoeuer ſhall touch the fleſh thereof, ſhall bee holy: and when there dropped of the blood therof vpon any garment, thou ſhalt waſh that whereon it dropped, in the holy place.
28 But the earthen potte that it is ſodden in, ſhall bee broken: And if it bee ſodden in a braſen pot, it ſhall be ſcoured, and rinſed in water.
29 All the males among the Prieſts ſhall eat thereof, for it is moſt holy.
30 And no ſinne offering, whoſe blood is brought into the tabernacle of the congregation to reconcile withall in the holy place, ſhall be eaten: but ſhall be burnt in the fire.

1 Treſpaſſe offerings. 7 Sinne offerings. 11 Of peace offerings. 23 The fat and the blood may not be eaten.

LIkewiſe this is the lawe of the treſpaſſe offering: it is moſt holy.
2 In the place where they kill the whole burnt offring, ſhal they kill the treſpaſſe offering alſo, and the blood thereof ſhall hee ſprinkle round about vpon the altar.
3 All the fat thereof ſhal he offer, the rumpe, and the fat that couereth the inwards.
4 And the two kidneys, and the fatte that is on them, and vpon the flankes, and the hall that is on the liuer ſhalt thou take away with the kidneys.

6 All the males among the Prieſts ſhall eat thereof: it ſhall bee eaten in the holy place, for it is moſt holy.
7 As the ſinne offering is, ſo is the treſpaſſe offering, one law ſerueth for both: that, wherewith the Prieſt ſhal make atonement, ſhalbe his.
8 And the Prieſt that offereth any mans whole burnt offering, ſhall haue the ſkinne of the whole burnt offering which he hath offered.
9 And all the meat offering that is baked in the Ouen: and that is dreſſed in the pan, & in the frying pan, ſhall be the Prieſts that offereth it.
10 And euery meate offering that is mingled with oyle, and that is dry, ſhall pertaine vnto all the ſonnes of Aaron, one ſhall haue as much as another.
11 This is the law of the peace offring, which he ſhall offer vnto the Lord.
12 If he offer it to giue thankes, he ſhal bring vnto his thanke offering vnleauened cakes mingled with oyle, and vnleauened wafers annointed with oyle, and cakes mingled with oyle of fine floure fryed.
13 He ſhall bring his offering, with cakes of vnleauened bread for his peace offrings, to giue thankes:

15 And the fleſh of his peace offerings for thanks giuing, ſhall be eaten the ſame day that it is offered: and let him leaue nothing of it vntill the morow.
16 But if the offring of his ſacrifice be a vow, or of his owne free will, it ſhal be eaten the ſame day that he offreth his ſacrifice: and if ought remaine vntill the morow, it may be eaten.
17 But as much of the offered fleſh as remaineth vnto the third day, ſhall bee burnt with fire.
18 And if any of the fleſh of his peace offrings be eaten in the third day, then ſhall he that offereth it obtaine no fauour, neither ſhall it be reckoned vnto him, but ſhall bee an abomination: therefore the ſoule that eateth of it ſhall beare his ſinne.

3 And gather thou all the congregation together, vnto the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation.

5 And Moses sayde vnto the congregation, This is the thing which the Lord commaunded to be done.

6 And Moses brought Aaron and his sonnes, and washed them with water.

7 And put vpon him the coate, and girded him with a girdle, and put vpon him the robe, and put the Ephod thereon, which hee girded with the broidered gard that was on the Ephod, and bound it vnto him therewith.

8 And he put the breastplate thereon, and put in the breastplate the Urim and the Thummim.

13 And Moses brought Aarons sonnes, and put coats vpon them, and girded them with girdles, and put bonnets vpon their heads, as the Lord commaunded Moses.

14 And he brought the bullocke for the sinne offering: and Aaron and his sonnes put their hands vpon the head of the bullock for the sinne offering.

16 And he tooke all the fat that was vpon the inwards, and the hall of the liuer, and the two kidneys, and their fat, and Moses burned it vpon the altar.

22 And hee brought the other Ramme, the Ramme of consecration: and Aaron and his sonnes put their handes vpon the head of the Ramme, 23 which Moses slew, and tooke of the blood of it, & put it vpon the tip of Aarons right eare, and vpon the thumbe of his right hand, and vpon the great toe of his right foote.

24 And Moses brought Aarons sonnes, and put of the blood on the tippe of the right eare of them, & vpon the thumbes of their right hands, and vpon the great toes of their right feete: and Moses sprinckled the blood vpō the altar round about.

25 And he tooke the fat, and the rumpe, and al the fatte that was vpon the inwards, and the hall of the liuer, and the two kidnies with their fat, and the right shoulder:

26 And out of the basket of vnleauened bread that was before the Lord, he tooke one vnleauened cake, and a cake of oiled bread, and one wafer, and put them on the fat, and vpon the right shoulder:

27 And put all together vpon Aarons hands, and vpon his sonnes hands, & waued them a waue offering before the Lord.

28 And Moses tooke them from off their hands, & burnt them vpon the altar for a whole burnt offering: These were consecrations for a sweete sauour and sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord.

29 And Moses tooke the brest and waued it for a waue offering before the Lorde: for of the Ram of consecration it was Moses part, as the Lord commanded Moses.

30 And Moses tooke of the anointing oile, and of the blood which was vpon the altar, and sprinkled it vpon Aaron & vpon his garments, and vpon his sonnes, and vpon his sonnes garments with him: and sanctified Aaron and his vestures, and his sonnes, & his sonnes vestures with him.

8 The first offrings of Aaron. 22 Aaron blesseth the people. 23 The glory of the Lord is shewed.

AND in the eight day, Moses called Aaron and his sonnes, and the elders of Israel.

2 And he said vnto Aaron, * Take thee a yong calfe for a sinne offring, and a Ramme for a whole burnt offering, both without blemish, & bring them before the Lord. Exod.29.1.

3 And vnto the children of Israel thou shalt speake, saying, Take ye a he goate for a sinne offring, and a calfe, and a lambe, both of a yere old, without blemish, for a whole burnt sacrifice.

4 Also, a Bullocke and a Ramme for peace offerings, to offer before the Lord, and a meate offering mingled with oyle: for to day the Lord will appeare vnto you.

5 And they brought that which Moses commanded, before the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and al the Congregation came and stood before the Lord.

6 And Moses sayd, This is the thing which the Lord commanded, that ye should doe, and the glory of the Lord shall appeare vnto you.

7 And Moses said vnto Aaron, Go vnto the altar, and offer thy sacrifice for thy sinne, and thy whole burnt offering, and make an atonement for thee and for the people: and thou shalt offer the offering of the people, and make an atonement for them, as the Lord commanded.

8 Aaron therefore went vnto the altar, and slew the calfe of the sinne offring, which was for himselfe.

9 And the sonnes of Aaron brought the blood vnto him, and hee dipt his finger in the blood, and put it vpon the hornes of the altar, and powred the blood at the bottome of the altar.

10 But the fat, and the two kidnies, and the hall of the liuer of the sinne offring, he burnt vpon the altar, as the Lord commanded Moses.

11 The flesh and the hide he burnt with fire without the hoste.

12 And he slew the whole burnt offering, and Aarons sonnes brought vnto him the blood, which he sprinkled round about vpon the altar.

13 And they brought the whole burnt offring vnto him, with the pieces thereof, and the head: and he burnt them vpon the altar.

14 And hee did wash the inwards, & the legs, and burnt them vpon the whole burnt offering on the altar.

15 And then he brought the peoples offering, taking the goate, which was the sinne offering for the people, and slew it, and offered it for sinne, as he did the first,

16 And brought the whole burnt offring, and offered it as the maner was.

17 And hee brought the meate offering, and filled his hande thereof, and burnt it vpon the altar, beside the whole burnt sacrifice of the morning.

18 He slew also the bullocke and the ram, for the peace offring which was for the people: And Aarons sonnes brought vnto him the blood, which he sprinkled vpon the altar round about:

19 And the fat of the bullocke and of the ram, the rumpe and that couereth the inwards, and the kidnies, and the hall of the liuer,

20 And they put the fat vpon the breasts, and he burnt the fat vpon the altar:

21 But the breasts and the right shoulder Aaron waued for a waue offering before the Lord, as the Lord commanded Moses.

22 And Aaron lift vp his hand ouer the people, and blessed them, and came downe from offering of the sinne offering, the whole burnt offering, and peace offrings.

23 And Moses and Aaron went into the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and * came out, and blessed the people: and the glory of the Lord appeared vnto all the people.

2.Mac.2.11

24 And there came a fire out from before the Lord, and consumed vpon the altar the whole burnt offering, and the fat: which when all the people saw, they gaue thankes, and fell on their faces.

a This miracle was done to this purpose, to signifie that the Lord did allow this kind of sacrifice by Aaron.

The x. Chapter.

1 Nadab and Abihu are slaine. 6 Israel mourneth for them. 9 The priests are forbidden wine.

AND Nadab and Abihu, the sonnes of Aaron, tooke either of them his censor, and * put fire therein, and put, cense thereupon, and offered a strange fire before the Lord, which he commanded them not.

Numb.3.4. 1 chro. 24.2

a Not: taken of the altar, which fire was kindled from heauen, and reserued to the captiuity of Babylon.

2 And there went a fire from the Lord, and b consumed them, and they died before the Lord.

b This terrible punishment doeth declare, that vnlawfull seruice of God, though it seem to bee done of good deuotion, displeaseth God.

3 Then Moses said vnto Aaron, This is it that the Lord spake, saying, I will bee sanctified in them that come nigh mee, and before all the people I will bee glorified. And Aaron held his peace.

4 And Moses called Misael and Elsaphan the sonnes of Oziel, the vncle of Aaron, and said vnto them, Come neere, cary your brethren from before the Sanctuary, out of the host.

5 And they went to them, and caried them in their coates out of the hoste, as Moses had said.

6 And Moses sayd vnto Aaron, and vnto Eleazar and Ithamar his sonnes, Vncouer not your heads, neither rent your clothes lest ye die, and lest wrath come vpon all the people: But let your brethren the whole house of Israel bewaile the burning which the Lord hath kindled.

7 And goe not ye out from the doore of the Tabernacle of the congregation, lest ye die: for the anointing oile of God is vpon you. And they did as Moses sayd.

c Some think that Nadab & Abihu being ouercome with drinke, did not their seruice lawfully, whereby they should: but this law of forbidding of wine and strong drinke to priests, was made,

8 And the Lord spake vnto Aaron, saying,

9 Thou shalt not c drinke wine nor strong drinke, thou, nor thy sonnes that are with thee, when ye go into the tabernacle of the congregation, lest ye die: Let it be a law for euer throughout your generations:

10 And that yee may put difference betweene holy and vnholy, betweene vncleane and cleane:

11 And that yee may teach the children of Israel all the statutes which the Lord hath spoken vnto them by the hand of Moses.

12 And Moses said vnto Aaron, and vnto Eleazar and Ithamar his sonnes that were left, Take the meat offering that remaineth of the sacrifices of the Lord, made by fire, and eat it without leauen beside the altar, for it is most holy.

13 Ye shall eate it in the holy place, because it is thy duetie, & thy sonnes duetie, of the sacrifices of the Lord made by fire, for so I am comanded.

14 And the waue breast and heaue shoulder shall ye eate in a cleane place, thou, & thy sonnes, and thy daughters with thee: For they bee thy duetie, and thy sonnes duetie, giuen out of the peace offerings of the children of Israel.

15 The heaue shoulder, and the waue breast shall they bring in, with the sacrifices made by fire, of the fat, to waue it for a waue offering before the Lord: and it shalbe thine and thy sonnes with thee, by a law for euer, as the Lord hath commanded.

16 And Moses sought the goate that was offered for sinne, and see, it was burnt: And hee was angry with Eleazar & Ithamar, the sonnes of Aaron, which were left aliue, saying,

17 Wherefore haue ye not eaten the sinne offring in the holy place? seeing it is most holy, and God hath giuen it you to beare the sinne of the congregation to make agreement for them before the Lord.

18 Behold, the blood of it was not brought in within the holy place: Ye should haue eaten it in the holy place, as I commanded.

19 And Aaron said vnto Moses, Behold, this day haue they offered their sinne offring & their whole burnt offring before the Lord: d and such things are come vnto mee: if I had eaten the sinne offering to day, should it haue bene accepted in the sight of the Lord?

d I haue not left this vndone of any contempt, or negligence, but both my children bee dead, and how could I be merry in God a wofull and lamentable case of my children?

20 And when Moses heard that, hee was content.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Of beasts, fishes, and birds: which bee cleane, and which be vncleane.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, and Aaron, and sayd vnto them,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, & say, These are the beastes which yee shall eate among all the beasts that are on the earth.

Deut.14.4.

3 Whatsoeuer parteth the hoofe, and is clouen footed, and chaweth cud among the beastes, that shall ye eate.

e Ye noteth foure sortes of beastes: some chew the cud onely, and some haue onely the foote clouen: others neither chew the cud nor haue the foote clouen: the fowerth both chew the cud, and haue the hoofe clouen. This last onely may be eaten.

4 Neuertheless, these shall yee not eate of them that chawe the cud onely, and of them that diuide the hoofe onely, as is the camel, which chaweth cud, but he diuideth not the hoofe, therefore he is vncleane vnto you.

5 Euen so the cony which chaweth the cud, but diuideth not the hoofe, hee is vncleane vnto you.

6 And the hare, though he chaweth the cud, yet because he diuideth not the hoofe, he is therefore vncleane vnto you.

7 And * againe, the swine, though he diuide the hoofe, and is clouen footed, yet hee chaweth not the cud, he is vncleane to you.

1.Mac.6. 18.

8 Of their flesh shall yee not eate, and their carkeise shall ye not touch: but let them bee vncleane to you.

9 These shall yee eate of all that are in the waters, whatsoeuer hath finnes and scales in the waters, seas, and riuers, that shall ye eate.

10 And all that haue not finnes nor scales in the sea and riuers, of all that moue and liue in the waters, let them be abomination vnto you.

11 They shall be an abomination vnto you: yee shall not eate of their flesh, but abhorre their carkeises, 12 Let all that haue no finnes nor scales in the waters, be abominable vnto you.

13 These are they which yee shall abhorre among the fowles, and that ought not to be eaten, for they are an abomination: The Eagle, the Gothaule, and the Ospray,

14 The Vulture, and the Kite, after his kind,

15 And

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. G4r

15 And all Rauens after their kind,
16 The Estrich, the night Crowe, the Cuckow, and the Hawke after his kind,
17 The Faulcon, the Cormorant, the great Owle,
18 The Bache, the Pellicane, the Pye,
19 The Stozke, the Jay, after his kinde, the Lapwing, and the Swallow.
20 Let all foules that creepe and goe vpon all foure, be an abomination vnto you.
21 Yet these may yee eate, of euery creeping thing that hath wings, and go vpon foure feete: euen those that haue not bowings aboue vpon their feet, to leape withall vpon the earth.
22 Euen these of them ye may eate: the Arbe after his kind, the Selaam after his kinde, the Hargol after his kinde, and the Hagab after his kinde.
23 All other foules that creep, and haue foure feet, shall be abomination vnto you.
24 And in such yee be vncleane, and whosoeuer toucheth the carkeise of them, shall be vncleane vntill the euen.
25 And whosoeuer beareth the carkeise of them, shal wash his clothes, and be vncleane vntill the Euen.
26 And euery beast that hath hoofe, and is not clouen footed, nor cheweth cud, such are vncleane vnto you: euery one that toucheth them, shalbe vncleane.
27 And whatsoeuer goeth vpon his pawes, among all manner beastes that goe on all foure feete, such are vncleane vnto you: and whoso doeth touch their carkeise, shall be vncleane vntill the Euen.
28 And he that beareth the carkeise of them, shall wash his clothes, and be vncleane vntil the Euen: for such are vncleane vnto you.
29 And let these also bee vncleane vnto you, among the things that creepe vpon the earth: the weasell, and the Mouse, and the Toad, after their kind, 30 The Hedgehogge, the Stellio, the Lacert, the Shayle and the Mole.
31 These are vncleane to you among all that creepe: whosoeuer doeth touch them when they be dead, shalbe vncleane vntill the Euen.
32 And whatsoeuer any of the dead carkeises of them doth fall vpon, shall be vncleane, whether it be vessell of wood, or raiment, or skinne, or sacke, or whatsoeuer vessell it bee that any worke is wrought in: and it must be plunged in the water, and it shall be vncleane vntill the Euen, and so shall it be cleansed.
33 All manner of earthen vessell whereinto any of them falleth, shall bee vncleane, with all that therein is, and it shall be broken.
34 All maner meate also that is vsed to be eaten, if any such water come vpon it, shall be vncleane: And all maner drinke that is vsed to bee drunk in all maner such vessels, shalbe vncleane.
35 And euery thing that their carkeise falleth vpon, shall bee vncleane, whether it be ouen or kettle, let it bee broken: for they are vncleane, and shall be vncleane vnto you.
36 Neuertheless, yet the fountains & welles, and collections of waters, shall bee cleane still: but that which toucheth their carkeise, shall be vncleane.
37 If the dead carkeise of any such fall vpon any seed vsed to sow, it shall yet be cleane still:
38 But and if any water be powred vpon the seed, and a dead carkeise fall thereon, it shall be vncleane vnto you.
39 If any beast of which ye may eat, die, and any man touch the dead carkeise thereof, he shal be vncleane vntill the Euen.
40 Hee that eateth of the dead carkeise of it, shall wash his clothes, and be vncleane vntil the Euen: And hee also that beareth the carkeise of it, shall wash his clothes and bee vncleane vntill the Euen.
41 Let euery creeping thing that creepeth vpon the earth, be an abomination and not bee eaten.
42 Whatsoeuer goeth vpon the belly, & whatsoeuer goeth vpon foure, or that hath moe feete among all creeping things that creepe vpon the earth: of that see yee eate not, for they are abominable.
43 Yee shall not make your soules abominable with any thing that creepeth, neither make your selues vncleane with them, that yee should be defiled thereby.
44 For I am your Lord God: Be* sanctified therefore, and ye shalbe holy, for I am holy: and ye shall not defile your soules with any maner of creeping thing that creepeth vpon the earth:
45 For I am the Lord that brought you out of the land of Egypt to be your God: ye shall bee holy therefore, for I am holy.
46 This is the lawe of the beasts and foules, and of euery liuing creature that moueth in the waters, and of euery creature that creepeth vpon the earth, 47 That there may bee a difference betweene the vncleane and cleane, and betweene the beast that may be eaten, and the beast that ought not to be eaten.

The xij. Chapter.

2 A law how women should be purged after their deliuerance.

AND the Lorde spake vnto Moses, saying,
2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say, If a* woman haue conceiued seede, and borne a man child, she shalbe vncleane seuen dayes: according to the dayes of the separation of her infirmitie shall she be vncleane. Luke 2.21.
3 And in the* eight day, the flesh of the childs foreskinne shall be cut away. Luke 2.21.
4 And she shall then continue in the blood of her purifying three and thirtie dayes: She shall touch no halowed thing, nor come into the sanctuarie, vntill the time of her purifying be out.
5 But if she beare a mayde childe, thee shalbe vncleane two weekes, according as in her separation: and shee shall continue in the blood of her purifying three score and fire dayes.
6 And when the dayes of her purifying are out, whether it be for a sonne or for a daughter, she shal bring a lambe of one yere old for a whole burnt offring, & a young pigeon or a turtle doue for a sinne offring, vnto the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation, vnto the Priest:
7 which shal offer them before the Lord, and make an atonement for her, and she shall be purged of the issue of her blood. And this is the lawe for her that hath borne a male or a female.
8 *But and if she be not able to bring a lambe, Luke 2.24.

the shall bring two turtles, or two yong pigeons, the one for the whole burnt offering, and the other for a sinne offering: And the Priest shal make an atonement for her, and she shall be cleane.

The xiij. Chapter.

1 The Priests must haue a consideration, and iudge who are lepers. 47 Of the leprous garments.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron, saying,

2 The man that shall haue in the skin of his flesh a swelling, either a scabbe, or a glistering white, and the plague of leprosie be in the skinne of his flesh, he shall be brought vnto Aaron the Priest, or vnto one of his sonnes the Priests.

3 And the Priest shal looke on the sore in the skinne of his flesh: and when the haire in the sore is turned to white, and the sore also seeme to be lower then the skin of his flesh, it is a plague of leprosie: and the priest shall looke on him, & iudge him vncleane.

4 If there bee a white spot in the skinne of his flesh, and seeme not to be lower then the skin, nor the haire thereof is turned vnto white, the Priest shal shut vp him that hath the plague seuen dayes.

5 And the Priest shall looke on him againe the seuenth day: and if the plague seeme to him to abide still, and the plague grow not in the skin, the priest shall shut vp him that hath the plague seuen dayes more.

6 And the Priest shall looke on him againe the seuenth day: then if the plague be darker, and not growen in the skin, the Priest shall iudge him cleane, for it is but a scabbe: and he shal wash his clothes, and be cleane.

7 But if the scabbe growe in the skin after that he is seene of the Priest, and iudged cleane, he shalbe seene of the Priest againe.

8 If the priest see that the scabbe be growen abroad in the skinne, the priest shall pronounce him [a] vncleane: for it is a leprosie.

9 When the plague of leprosie is in a man, he shalbe brought vnto the priest,

10 And the Priest shall see him: and if the swelling be white in the skinne, and haue made the haire white, and there be raw flesh in the swelling:

11 It is an olde leprosie in the skin of his flesh, and the priest shall pronounce him vncleane, and shal not shut him vp, for he is vncleane.

12 If a leprosie breake out abroad in the skin, and couer all the skin from his head to his foote wheresoeuer the priest looketh:

13 Then the priest shall consider: and if the leprosie haue couered all his flesh, he shall iudge the plague to be [b] cleane, because it is all turned into whitenesse, and he shalbe cleane.

14 But if there be raw flesh on him when he is seene, he shall be vncleane.

15 And the priest shal see the raw flesh, and declare him to be vncleane: for the raw flesh is vncleane, for it is a leprosie.

16 Or if the raw flesh turne againe, & change vnto white, he shall come vnto the priest:

17 And the priest shall see him, and beholde, if the sore bee changed vnto white, the priest shall iudge the plague cleane, and hee shall be cleane.

18 The flesh also in whose skinne there is a byle, and is healed, 19 And in the place of the byle there appeare a white rising, either a shining white, and somewhat reddish, it shalbe seene of the priest.

20 And if when the priest seeth him, it appeare lower then the skinne, and the haire thereof be changed into white, the priest shall [c] iudge him vncleane: for it is a plague of leprosie broken out of the byle.

21 But if the priest looke on it, and there be no white haires therein, and if it be not lower then the skin, but be darker, the priest shall shut him vp seuen dayes.

22 And if it spread abroad in the skinne, the priest shall pronounce him vncleane, for it is a sore.

23 But if the spot stand still, and growe not, it is a scarre of a byle, and therefore the priest shal declare him to be cleane.

24 Or if there be any flesh, in whose skinne there is a whote burning, and the quicke flesh that burneth haue a white spot, somewhat reddish, or white,

25 The priest shall looke vpon it: and if the haire in that bright spot bee changed to white, and it appeare lower then the skin, it is a leprosie broken out of the burning, and therefore the priest shall iudge him vncleane, for it is the plague of leprosie.

26 But if the priest looke on it, and there bee no white haire in the bright spot, and the place be no lower then the other skinne, but be darker, the priest shall shut him vp seuen dayes.

27 And the priest shall looke vpon him the seuenth day: and if it be growen abroad in the skin the priest shall iudge him vncleane, for it is the plague of leprosie.

28 And if the spotte stande still in it, and growe not in the skinne, but is darke, it is a rising of the burning, and the priest shall therefore declare him cleane, for it is a scarre of the burning.

29 If man or woman hath a sore vpon the head or the beard,

30 The priest shall see the sore, & if it appeare lower then the skin, and there be in it a yellow haire and thinne, the priest shall iudge him vncleane, for that is a scall, even a leprosie vpon the head or beard.

31 And if the Priest looke on the sore of the scall, and it seeme not lower then the skinne, and that the haire is not blacke, the Priest shall shut vp him that hath the scalling sore seuen dayes.

32 And in the seuenth day, the priest shal looke on the sore: and if the scall be not growen, & there be in it no yellow haire, and the scall seeme not lower then the skinne, 33 He shall be shauen, but the scall he not shaue: and the priest shal shut vp him that hath the scall, seuen dayes more.

34 And in the seuenth day the priest shal looke on the scall: and if the scall be not growen in the skinne, nor seeme lower then the other skin, the priest shall cleanse him: and hee shall wash his clothes, and be cleane.

35 But if the scall grow in the skin after his cleansing, 36 The priest shall looke on him, and if the scall be growen in the skinne, the priest shall not seeke for yellow haire, for he is vncleane.

37 But

[a] As touching his bodily disease, for his vnclenesse was not imputed to him for sinne before God: yet it was the punishment for sinne.

[b] For it is not that contagious leprosie that entereth, but a kind of scurfe which rotteth not the flesh, called Saraath in Hebrew.

[c] None were exempted, but if the Priest iudged him vncleane he was put out from among the people, as appeareth by Mary the prophetesse, Num. 12. 14. and by king Vzias, 2. Chr. 26. 20.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. G5r

37 But if he see the fret stand still, and that there is blacke haire growen vp therein, the fret is healed, and he shalbe cleane, and the priest shal declare him to be cleane.

38 If there be many white spots in the skin of the flesh of man or woman, 39 The Priest shall looke vpon it: and if the spots in the skin of their flesh be somewhat darke and white withall, it is a freckle growen in the skin, therefore he is cleane.

40 And the man whose haire is fallen off his head, he is balde, yet cleane.

41 And hee that hath his haire fallen off on the part of his head toward his face, is forehead-balde, yet cleane.

42 If there be in the balde head, or balde forehead a white reddish sore, there is leprosie sprong vp in the balde head, or balde forehead.

43 And the Priest shall looke vpon him: and if the rising of the sore be white reddish in his balde head, or balde forehead, after the maner of leprosie, which is in the skin of his flesh, 44 Then he is a leprous man and vncleane: and the priest shall pronounce him vncleane, for the plague thereof is in his head.

45 The leper in whom the plague is, shal haue his clothes rent, and his head bare, and shal put a couering vpon his lips, and shal cry, vncleane, vncleane.

46 And as long as the disease lasteth vpon him, he shalbe defiled, and vncleane: he shal dwel alone, euen without the campe shall his habitation be.

47 The garment also, that the plague of leprosie is in, whether it be a woollen garment or a linen garment,

48 Whether it be in the warpe or woofe of linen or of woollen, either in a skin, or any thing made of skin:

49 If the disease be light greene, or somewhat reddish in the garment or skin, whether it be in the warpe or woofe, or any thing that is made of skin, then it is a plague of leprosie, and shall be shewed vnto the Priest.

50 The Priest therefore shall see the plague, and shut it vp seuen dayes.

51 And hee shall looke on the plague the seuenth day: which if it be increased in the garment, whether it bee in the warpe or woofe, or in a skinne, or in any thing that is made of skinne, it is the leprosie of a fretting sore, it is vncleane.

52 And he shall burne that garment, either warpe or woofe, whether it be woollen or linen, or any thing that is made of skin, wherein the plague is, for it is a fretting leprosie, it shall bee burnt in the fire.

53 If the Priest see that the plague is not growen in the garment, either in the warpe, or woofe, or in whatsoeuer thing of skinne it bee, 54 The Priest shall commaund them to wash the thing wherein the plague is, and he shal shut it vp seuen dayes mo.

55 And the Priest shall looke on the plague again after that it is washed: and if the plague haue not changed his colour, and is spread no further abroad, it is vncleane, thou shalt burne it in the fire, for it is fret inward, whether it be bare behinde or before.

56 And if the Priest see that the plague is darker after that it is washed, he shall cut it out of the garment, or out of the skinne, or out of the warpe, or out of the woofe.

57 And if it appeare still in the garment, either in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in any thing made of skinne, it is a spreading plague, thou shalt burne that wherein the plague is, with fire.

58 Moreouer, the garment, either warpe or woofe, or whatsoeuer thing of skin it be, which thou shalt washed, if the plague be departed therfrom, it shall be washed once againe, and then it shalbe cleane.

59 This is the law of the plague of leprosie in a garment, whether it be woollen or linen, either in the warpe, or woofe, or in any thing of skins, to declare it cleane, or vncleane.

The xiiij. Chapter.

3 The clensing of the Leper, 34 and of the house that he is in.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 This is the lawe of the leper in the day of his cleansing: hee * shall be brought vnto the Priest, Matt. 8.1. mark. 1.40.

3 And the Priest shall goe out of the campe: and the Priest shall looke vpon him, and if the plague of leprosie be healed in the leper,

4 Then shall the Priest commaund to take for him that is cleansed, two liue birdes and cleane, and Cedar wood, and a scarlet lace, and hyssope,

5 And the Priest shall command that one of the birdes be killed in an earthen vessell, and vpon running water.

6 And he shal take the liuing birde, with the Cedar wood, the scarlet lace and the hyssope, and shall dip them and the liuing birde in the blood of the slaine birde vpon the running water.

7 And hee shal sprinckle vpon him that must be cleansed of the leprosie, seuen times, and cleanse him, and shall let the liuing birde goe free into the field.

8 And hee that is cleansed shall wash his clothes, and shaue off all his haire, and wash himselfe in water, that he may be cleane: And after that shall he come into the host, and shall tary without his tent seuen dayes.

9 But in the seuenth day, he shal shaue off al his haire of his head, his beard, and his browes, all his haire shall he shaue off: And he shal wash his clothes, and also wash his flesh in water, and he shalbe cleane.

10 And the eight day hee shall take two hee lambes, without blemish, and an ewe lambe of a yeere old, without blemish, and three tenth deales of fine floure for a meate offering, mingled with oyle, and a [a] Logge of oyle.

11 And the Priest that maketh him cleane, shal bring the man that is to be made cleane, and those things before the Lord, at the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation, 12 And the Priest shall take one lambe, and offer him for a trespasse offering, and the logge of oyle, and waue them for a waue offering before the Lord.

13 And he shal slay the lambe in the place where the sinne offering and the whole burnt offering are slaine, in the holy place: for as the sin offring is the Priests, so is the trespasse offering, seeing it is most holy.

14 And the Priest shall take of the blood of the trespasse offering, and put it vpon the tip of the right eare of him that is to be cleansed, and vpon the thumbe of his right hande, & vpon the great toe of his right foote.

15 The Priest shall take of the Logge of oyle, and powre it into the palme of his left hand:

16 And he shall dip his right finger in the oyle that is in his left hand, and sprinckle of the oyle with his finger seuen times before the Lord.

17 And of the rest of the oyle that is in his hand, shal the Priest put vpon the tip of the right eare of him that is for to bee cleansed, and vpon the thumbe of his right hande, and vpon the great toe of his right foote, euen vpon the blood of the trespasse offering.

18 And the remnant of the oyle that is in the Priests hand, hee shall powre vpon the head of him that is for to be cleansed: and the Priest shal make an atonement for him before the Lord.

19 And the Priest shal offer the sinne offering, and make an atonement for him that is to bee cleansed from his vncleannesse, and then shall he kill the whole burnt offring.

20 And the Priest shall offer the whole burnt offering, and the meate offering vpon the altar: and the Priest shall make an atonement for him, and he shalbe cleane.

21 If he be poore, and can not get so much, he shall take one lambe for a trespasse offering, to waue it for his atonement, and a tenth deale of fine flowre mingled with oile, for a meat offring, and a Logge of oyle,

22 And two turtle doues, or two young pigeons, such as he is able to get: whereof the one shalbe for a sinne offering, & the other for a whole burnt offering.

23 And hee shall bring them the eight day for his cleansing vnto the Priest before the dooze of the Tabernacle of the congregation, before the Lord, 24 And the Priest shall take the lambe that is for the trespasse offering, and the Logge of oyle, and waue them for a waue offering before the Lord.

25 And he shal kill the lambe for the trespasse offering, and the Priest shall take of the blood of the trespasse offring, and put it vpon the tippe of his right eare that is to bee cleansed, and vpon the thumbe of his right hande, & vpon the great toe of his right foote.

26 And the Priest shal powre of the oyle into the palme of his owne left hand, 27 And the Priest shall with his right finger, sprinckle of the oyle that is in his left hand seuen times before the Lord.

28 And the Priest shall put of the oyle that is in his hand, vpon the tip of the right eare of him that is to bee cleansed, and vpon the thumbe of his right hand, & vpon the great toe of his right foot, in the place where the blood of the trespasse offering was put.

29 And the rest of the oile that is in the priests hand, he shal put vpon the head of him that is to be cleansed, that he may make an atonement for him before the Lord.

30 And he shall offer one of the turtle doues, or of the yong pigeons, such as he can get:

31 Such I say as he is able to get, the one for a sinne offering, and the other for a whole burnt offering, with the meate offering: And the Priest shall make an atonement for him that is to be cleansed, before the Lord.

32 This is the lawe of him in whom is the plague of leprosie, and whose hand is not able to get that which pertaineth to his cleansing.

33 And the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron, saying,

34 When ye be come into the land of Chanaan, which I giue you in possession, and I put the plague of leprosie in a house of the lande of your possession:

35 He that oweth the house shall come, and tell the Priest, saying, Me thinke that there is as it were a plague in the house.

36 Then the Priest shall commaund them to emptie the house, before the Priest goe into it to see the plague, that al that is in the house be not made vncleane: and then must the Priest go in, to see the house.

37 And hee shall see the plague: and if the plague be in the walles of an house, and that there be holow strakes, greenish or reddish, which seeme to be lower then the wall it selfe:

38 Then the Priest shall goe out of the house, to the dooze of the house, and shut vp the house seuen dayes,

39 And the Priest shal come again the seuenth day, and if he see that the plague be increased in the wals of the house,

40 Then the Priest shall commaund them to take away the stones in which the plague is, and let them call them into a foule place without the citie,

41 And hee shall commaund the house to be scraped within round about, and powre out the dust that they scrape off, without the citie into a foule place,

42 And they shall take other stones, and put them in the place of those stones, and other mozter to plaster the house withall.

43 And if the plague come againe, and breake out in the house, after that he hath taken away the stones, and scraped the house, and after that he hath plastered the house,

44 Then the Priest shall come and see it: and if that the plague hath growen further in the house, it is a fretting leprosie in the house, it is therefore vncleane.

45 And he shall breake downe the house, and the stones of it, and the timber thereof, and al the mozter of the house, and he shall carie them out of the citie into a foule place.

46 Moreouer, he that goeth into the house al the while that it is shut vp, shall be vncleane vntil the Euen.

47 Hee also that sleepeth in the house, shall wash his clothes: he like wise that eateth in the house, shall wash his clothes.

48 And if the Priest come and see that the plague hath not spread further in the house after that it is newly plastered: the Priest shal iudge that house cleane, because the plague is healed.

49 And he shall take to cleanse the house with all two birdes, Cedar wood, and a scarlet lace, and hyssope,

50 And he shall kill one of the birdes in an earthen vessell, and vpon running water,

51 And take the Cedar wood, and the hyssope, and the scarlet lace, with the liuing birde, and dip them in the blood of the slaine birde, and in the running water, and sprinckle the house seuen times.

52 And he shal clense the house with the blood of the birde, and with the running water, with the liuing bird, with the Cedar wood, and the hyssope, and the scarlet lace.

53 But he shal let the liuing birde ſle out of the towne into the broad fields, and so make an atonement for the house, and it shall be cleane.

54 This is the law for all maner plague of leprosie and tett,

55 And of the leprosie of garment and house,

56 For a swelling, for a scabbe, and for a shining white, 57 To teach when it is vncleane, and cleane: this is the law of leprosie.

The xv. Chapter.

2. 19 The maner of purging the vncleanneſſe both of men and women.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, Whosoeuer hath a running issue out of his flesh, is vncleane by reason of that issue.

3 And this shall be his vncleanneſſe in his issue: if his flesh run, or if his flesh be stopped from his issue, then it is vncleanneſſe.

4 Euery bed whereon he lieth that hath the issue, is vncleane: and euery thing whereon he sitteth, is vncleane.

5 Whosoeuer toucheth his bed, shal wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, and be vncleane vntill the Euen.

6 And he that sitteth on any thing whereon he sate that hath the issue, shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, and bee vncleane vntill the Euen.

7 He that toucheth the flesh of him that hath the issue, shal wash his clothes, and bath himselfe in water, and be vncleane vntill the Euen.

8 If he also that hath the issue, spit vpon him that is cleane, he shall wash his clothes, and bath himselfe in water, and bee vncleane vntill the Euen.

9 And what saddle soeuer he rideth vpon that hath the issue, shalbe vncleane.

10 And whosoeuer toucheth any thing that was vnder him, shalbe vncleane vnto the Euen: And he that beareth any such things, shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, and be vncleane vntill the Euen.

11 And whomsoeuer he toucheth that hath the issue, and hath not washed his hands in water, shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, and be vncleane vntill the Euen.

12 The vessel of earth that he toucheth which hath the issue, shall be broken: and all vessels of wood shalbe rinsed in water.

13 When hee also that hath an issue, is cleansed of his issue, he shall number him seuen dayes for his clensing, and wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in running water, and so shall he be cleane.

14 And the eight day hee shall take to him two turtle doues, or two yong pigeons, & come before the Lord vnto the dooze of the tabernacle of the congregation, and giue them vnto the Priest:

15 And the Priest shall offer them, the one for a sinne offering, and the other for a whole burnt offering, and the Priest shall make an atonement for him before the Lord, as concerning his issue.

16 If any mans seede depart from him in his sleepe, he shall wash all his flesh in water, and be vncleane vntill the Euen.

17 And euery garment, and euery skin, wherein is such seede of sleepe, shalbe washed with water, and be vncleane vntill the Euen.

18 And if he that hath such an issue of seede, doe lie with a woman, they shal both wash themselues with water, and bee vncleane vntill the Euen.

19 Also if a woman shal haue an issue, and her issue in her flesh shall be blood, she shall be put apart seuen dayes: whosoeuer toucheth her, shall be vncleane vntill the Euen.

20 And all that shee lieth vpon in the time of her separation shall be vncleane: like as euery thing also that she sitteth vpon is vncleane.

21 Whosoeuer toucheth her bed, shal wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe with water, and be vncleane vntill the Euen.

22 And whosoeuer toucheth any thing that shee sate vpon, shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe with water, and be vncleane vntill the Euen.

23 So that whether he touch her bed, or any vessel whereon she hath sitten, he shalbe vncleane vntill the euenning.

24 And if any man lie with her, and her separation come vpon him, he shalbe vncleane seuen dayes: and all the bed whereon he lieth shall be vncleane.

25 Also, if a woman haue an issue of her blood many dayes out of the time of her separation, or if it runne beyonde her separation, let all the dayes of the issue of her vncleanneſſe, be euen as the dayes of her separation: for shee is vncleane.

26 Euery bed whereon shee lieth as long as her issue lasteth, shall be vnto her as the bed of her separation: and whatsoeuer shee sitteth vpon, shal be vncleane, as the vncleanneſſe of her separation.

27 And whosoeuer toucheth any of these, shall be vncleane, and shall wash his clothes, and bathe himselfe in water, and be vncleane vntill the Euen.

28 But if shee be cleansed of her issue, shee shall count her seuen dayes: and after that shee shalbe cleane.

29 And in the eight day she shall take vnto her two turtles, or two young pigeons, and bring them vnto the Priest, before the dooze of the tabernacle of the congregation.

30 And the Priest shall offer the one for a sinne offering, and the other for a whole burnt offering, and make an atonement for her before the Lord, as concerning the issue of her vncleanneſſe.

31 Thus shall ye separate the children of Israel from their vncleanneſſe, that they die not in their vncleanneſſe, if they defile my tabernacle that is among them.

32 This is the law of him that hath an issue, and of him whose seede runneth from him in his sleepe, and is defiled therein:

The xvj. Chapter.

2 What Aaron must doe. 8 Of the Scape goate. 14 The cleansing of the Sanctuarie.

Leuit.10.1. AND the Lord * spake vnto Moses after the death of the two sonnes of Aaron, when they offred before the Lord, and dyed.

2 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Speake vnto Aaron thy brother, that he Exo.30.10 heb.9.7. * come not at al times into the holy place within the vaile before the mercie seate which is vpon the Arke, that he die not: for I will appeare in the cloud vpon the mercie seate.

3 But with this thing shall Aaron come into the holy place: euen with a young bullocke for a sinne offering, and with a ramme for a whole burnt offering.

4 He shal put the holy linen coate vpon him, and shall haue linen breeches vpon his flesh, and shalbe girded with a linen girdle, and with a linnen cap shall he be attired. These are holy garments: therefore shall he wash his flesh in water when he doeth put them on.

5 And he shal take of the congregation of the children of Israel, two hee goats for a sinne offering, and a ramme for a whole burnt offering.

6 And Aaron shall offer his bullocke for his sinne offering, and make an atonement for him, and for his house.

7 And he shall take the two hee goates, and present them before the Lord at the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation.

8 And Aaron shall cast lottes ouer the two goates: one lot shalbe for the Lord, and the other for the [a] Scape goate.

9 And Aaron shall bring the goate vpon which the Lords lot fel, and offer him for a sinne offering.

10 But the goate of which the lot fel to be the Scape goate, shalbe set aliue before the Lord to reconcile with, and to let him goe as a Scape goate into the wilderneſſe.

11 And Aaron shal bring the bullocke for his sinne offering, and reconcile for himselfe and for his house, and shall kill the bullocke for his sinne offering.

12 And he shal take a censer full of burning coales from off the altar before the Lord, and his hand ful of sweete incense beaten small, and bring them within the vaile, 13 And put the incense vpon the fire before the Lord, that the cloud of the incense may couer the mercie seat that is vpon the Witnesse, and he shal not die.

Heb.9.13. and 10.4. 14 * And hee shal take of the blood of the bullocke, and sprinkle it with his finger vpon the mercie seate Eastward: and before the mercie seat shal he sprinckle of the blood with his finger seuen times.

15 Then shal he kill the goate that is the peoples sinne offering, and bring his blood within the vaile, and doe with that blood as he did with the blood of the bullocke, sprinckling it vpon the mercy seate, and before the mercy seate.

16 And hee shall reconcile the holy place from the vncleannesse of the children of Israel, and from their trespasses in all their sinnes: so shall hee doe for the tabernacle of the congregation that is set among them, euen among their vncleannesse.

17 * And let there be no body in the tabernacle of the congregation, when hee goeth in to make an atonement in the holy place, vntill hee come out, and haue made atonement for himselfe, and for his household, and for all the congregation of Israel. Luke 1.10.

18 And he shall goe out vnto the altar that is before the Lord, and reconcile vpon it, and shall take of the blood of the bullocke, and of the blood of the goate, and put it vpon the hornes of the altar round about, 19 So shall hee sprinkle of the blood vpon it with his finger seuen times, and cleanse it, and halowe it from the vncleannesse of the children of Israel.

20 And when he hath made an end of reconciling the holy place, and the tabernacle of the congregation, and the altar, hee shall bring the liue goate, 21 And Aaron shall put both his hands vpon the head of the liue goate, and confesse ouer him all the [c] wickednes of the children of Israel, and all their trespasses in all their sinnes, putting them vpon the [b] head of the goate, and send him away by the hand of a conuenient man into the wilderneſſe.

22 And the goate shall beare vpon him all their [c] wickednes vnto the land of separation, and he shall let the goate goe into the wilderneſſe.

23 After, Aaron shall come into the tabernacle of the congregation, and put off the linnen clothes which hee put on when hee went in into the holy place, and leaue them there.

24 And let him wash his flesh with water in the holy place, and put on his [d] rayment, and then come out, & offer his whole burnt offering, and the whole burnt offering of the people, and make an atonement for himselfe, and for the people.

25 And the fat of the sinne offering shall hee burne vpon the altar.

26 And he that caried forth the goate for the Scape goate, shall wash his clothes, and bathe his flesh in water, and then come into the hoste.

27 And the bullocke for the sinne offring, and the goate for the sinne offring, whose blood was brought in to cleanse the holy place, shall one carie out without the hoste, to bee burnt in the fire, with their skins, their flesh, and their doung. Leuit.6.30. heb.13.11.

28 And hee that burneth them, shall wash his clothes, and bathe his flesh in water, and then come into the hoste.

29 And this shall be an ordinance for euer vnto you; that in the tenth day of the seuenth moneth, ye humble your soules, and do no worke at all, whether it be one of your owne countrey, or a stranger that soiourneth among you.

30 * For that day shall the Priest make an atonement for you, to cleanse you, and that ye may be cleane from all your sinnes before the Lord. Leuit.23.27

31 It is a Sabboth of rest vnto you, and ye shall humble your soules by an ordinance for euer.

32 And the Priest whom he shall anoint, and whom hee shall consecrate to minister in his fathers stead, shall make the attonement and shall put on the linen clothes, and holy vestments:

33 And shall reconcile the holy Sanctuary, and and the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall cleanse the altar, and make an atonement for the Priestes, and for all the people of the congregation.

34 And this shal be an euerlasting ordinance vnto you, to make an atonement for the children of Israel, for all their sinnes once a yeere. And he did as the Lord commanded Moses.

The xvij. Chapter.

4 All sacrifice must be brought to the doore of the tabernacle. 7 To deuils they may not offer. 10 They may not eate blood.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto Aaron, and vnto his sonnes, and vnto all the children of Israel, and say vnto them, This is the thing which the Lorde hath charged, saying,

3 What man soeuer of the house of Israel killeth an ore, or lambe or goate in the hoste, or that killeth it out of the hoste,

4 And bringeth it not vnto the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation, to offer an offering vnto the Lord before the dwelling place of the Lord, [a] blood shalbe imputed vnto that man, he hath shed blood, and that man shall be cut off from among his people.

5 Wherefore, when the children of Israel bring their offerings that they offer [b] in the wild fielde, they shall bring them vnto the Lord, euen vnto the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation by the Priest, to offer them for peace offrings vnto the Lord.

6 And the Priest shal sprinkle the blood vpon the altar of the Lord, which is before the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation, and burne the fat for a sweete sauour vnto the Lord.

7 And let them no more offer their offerings [c] vnto deuils, after whō they haue gone a [d] whoring: This shall be an ordinance for euer vnto them in their generations.

8 And thou shalt say vnto them, Whatsoeuer man of the house of Israel, or of the strangers which soiourne among you, that offereth a whole burnt offering or sacrifice, 9 And bringeth it not vnto the [e] doore of the tabernacle of the congregation, to offer it vnto the Lord, that man shall be cut off from among his people.

10 And whatsoeuer man of the house of Israel, or of the strangers that soiourne among you, that eateth any maner of blood, I will set [f] my face against that soule that eateth blood, and will cut him off from among his people.

11 For the life of the flesh is in the blood, and I haue giuē it vnto you vpon the altar, to make an atonement for your soules: for this blood shal make an atonement for the soule.

12 Therefore I said vnto the children of Israel, Let no soule of you eate blood, neither let any stranger that soiourneth among you eate blood.

13 And whatsoeuer man of the children of Israel, or of the strangers that soiourne among you, which hunteth a catcheth any beast or foule, that may be eaten, let him powre out the blood thereof, and couer it with dust.

14 For the life of the flesh is the blood of it ioyned with his life: therefore I saide vnto the children of Israel, Ye shall eate the blood of no maner of flesh, for the life of all flesh is the blood thereof: whosoeuer eateth it, shalbe cut off.

15 And euery soule that eateth it which died alone, or that which was torne with wilde beasts, whether it be one of your owne country, or a stranger, he shall wash his clothes, and bath himselfe in water, and be vncleane vntill the Euen; and then shall he be cleane.

16 If he wash them not, nor bathe his flesh, he shall beare his sinne.

The xviij. Chapter.

3 The Israelites may not walke after the maner of the Egyptians nor Chanaanites. 6 What degrees of kinred may marrie together.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, I am the Lord your God:

3 After the doings of the lande of Egypt wherein ye dwelt, shall ye not doe: and after the doings of the land of Chanaan whither I will bring you, shal ye not doe: neither walke in their ordinances.

4 But doe after my iudgements, and keepe mine ordinances, to walke therein: I am the Lord your God.

5 * Ye shal keepe therefore mine ordinances and my iudgements: which if a * man doe, hee shal liue in them: I am the Lord. Rom. 10.5. Galat.3.12.

6 None shall approch to any kinred of his flesh, for to vncouer their ‖ nakednesse: I am the Lord. ‖ Or, shame.

7 The nakednesse of thy father, and the nakednesse of thy mother, shalt thou not vncouer: for she is thy mother, therefore shalt thou not discouer her nakednesse.

8 The nakednesse of thy fathers wife shalt thou not discouer: for it is thy fathers nakednes.

9 Thou shalt not discouer the nakednesse of thy sister, the daughter of thy father, or daughter of thy mother, whether she be born at home, or without.

10 Thou shalt not vncouer the nakednesse of thy sonnes daughter, or thy daughters daughter, for that is thine owne nakednesse.

11 The nakednes of thy fathers wiues daughter, begotten of thy father, which is thy sister, thou shalt not discouer her nakednesse.

12 Thou shalt not vncouer the nakednesse of thy fathers sister, for shee is thy fathers kinswoman.

13 Thou shalt not discouer the nakednesse of thy mothers sister: for shee is thy mothers kinswoman.

14 Thou shalt not vncouer the nakednesse of thy fathers brother, that is, thou shalt not goe vnto his wife which is thine aunt.

15 Thou shalt not discouer the nakednesse of thy daughter in law: for she is thy sonnes wife, therefore shalt thou not vncouer her nakednesse.

16 Thou shalt not vncouer the nakednesse of thy brothers wife, for that is thy brothers nakednesse.

17 Thou shalt not discouer the nakednesse of thy wife and her daughter, neither shalt thou take her sons daughter, or her daughters daughter, to vncouer their nakednes: for they are her kinswomen, and it were wickednesse.

Therefore as Moses may not marrie with women that are of his kinred or aliance, according to that which is here aboue conteined: Likewise Marie Moses sister may not marie with the men which are of her kinred and aliance. 24 Yee shall not defile your selues in any of these things: for in all these, the nations are defiled which I cast out before you,

26 Yee shall keepe therefore mine ordinances and my iudgementes, and commit none of these abominations, neither any of your owne nation, nor any stranger that sojourneth among you:

28 Shall not the land spewe you out also, if yee defile it, as it spewed out the nations that were before you?

29 For whosoeuer shall commit anie of these abominations, the same soules that commit them, shall be cut off from among their people.

31 Ye shall not regard them that worke with spirits, neither seeke after Southsayers, to bee defiled by them: I am the Lord your God.
32 Thou shalt rise vp before the hoare head, and reuerence the face of the old man, and dread thy God: I am the Lord.
Exod.22.11 33 *If a stranger sojourne with thee in your land, ye shal not vexe him.
34 But the stranger that dwelleth with you, shall bee as one of your owne nation, and thou shalt loue him as thy selfe, for yee were strangers in the land of Egypt: I am the Lord your God.

The xx. Chapter.

1 They that giue of their seede to Moloch, must die
6 Against such as seeke after sorcerers.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,
Leui.18.21 2 *Thirdly shalt thou say to the children of Israel: whosoeuer he be of the children of Israel, or of the strangers that dwel in Israel, that giueth of his children vnto Moloch, let him be slaine: the people of the lande shall otherwise stone him with stones.
a That is, I will bend mine anger against that man. 3 And I will a set my face against that man, and will cut him off from among his people, because he hath giuen his children vnto Moloch, for to defile my Sanctuarie, and to pollute my holy name.
4 And though that the people of the lande hide their eyes from the man that giueth his children vnto Moloch, and kill him not:
5 *I will put my face against that man, and against his kinred, and will cut him off, and all that goe a whoring after him, to commit whoredome with Moloch, from among their people.
6 If a soule turne himselfe after such as worke with spirits, and after Southsayers, to goe a whoring after them, I will put my face against that soule, & will cut him off from among his people.
1.Pet.1.16. 7 *Sanctifie your selues therefore, and be holy: for I am the Lord your God.

Mat.15.4. prou.20.20. exod.21.17 9 *Whosoeuer he be that curseth his father or his mother, let him die: for that hee hath cursed his father and mother, his blood be vpon him.

Deu. 22.22 iohn 8.4. 11 *And the man that lieth with his fathers wife, and vncouereth his fathers nakednesse, let them both die.

committed an abomination: let them die, their blood be vpon them.

14 And if a man take a wife, and her mother also, it is wickednes: They shall burne with fire both him and them, that there be no wickednesse among you.

15 And if a man lie with a beast, let him die, and ye shall slay the beast also.

16 If a woman goe vnto any beast, and lie downe thereto, thou shalt kill the woman and the beast also: let them die, their blood be vpon them.

17 If a man take his sister, his fathers daughter, or his mothers daughter, and see her nakednesse, and she his nakednes, it is a wicked thing, they shall be cut off in the sight of their people: he hath vncouered his sisters nakednesse, hee shall beare his sinne.

18 If a man lie with a woman hauing her naturall disease, and vncouer her nakednes, and open her fountaine, and she also open the fountaine of her blood, they shall both be cut off from among their people.

19 Thou shalt not vncouer the nakednesse of thy mothers sister, nor of thy fathers sister: for he that doeth so, hath vncouered his neere kinne, they shall beare their vnlawfull doing.

20 If a man lie with his vncles wife, and vncouer his vncles nakednes, they shall beare their sinne, and shall die childlesse.

21 If a man take his brothers wife, it is an vncleane thing: he hath vncouered his brothers nakednesse, they shalbe childelesse.

22 Ye shall keepe therefore all mine ordinances, and all my iudgements, and doe them: that the land whither I bring you to dwell therein, spue you not out.

23 Yee shall not walke in the maners of this nation, which I cast out before you: for they committed all these things, and therefore I abhorre them.

24 But I haue sayd vnto you, yee shall inherite their land, and I wil giue it vnto you to possesse it, a land that floweth with milke and honie: I am the Lord your God, which haue separated you from other nations.

25 And therefore shall yee put difference betweene cleane beastes and vncleane, betweene vncleane foules and cleane: Yee shall not defile your soules in beastes and foules, and in all maner creeping things that the ground bringeth forth, which I haue separated from you as vncleane.

26 Therefore shall ye be holy vnto me: for I the Lord am holy, and haue seuered you from other nations, that ye should be mine.

27 If there bee a man or woman that worketh with a spirit, or that is a soothsayer, let them die: Men shall ouerwhelme them with stones, their blood be vpon them. 1.Reg.28.7.

The xxj. Chapter.

1 At what funerals the priests may be present. 6 How pure the priests ought to bee, touching themselues, and their families.

AND the Lorde sayd vnto Moses, Speake vnto the Priests the sonne of Aaron, and say vnto them, Let none be [a] defiled by the dead among their people: a By touching the dead, lamenting for them, or being at their burial.

2 But by his kinsman that is nigh vnto him, that is, by his mother and his father, by his sonne, and his daughter, and his brother,

3 And by his sister a maide that is [b] nigh vnto him, whom no man hath knowen: for her shall he ‖ be defiled. b Both of one father and mother. ‖ Or, lament.

4 But hee shall not be defiled vpon him that hath authoritie among his people, to pollute himselfe.

5 Let them not make baldnesse vpon their head, nor haue off the locks of their beard, nor make any cuttings in their flesh. Leui.19.27.

6 They shal be holy vnto their God, and not pollute the name of their God, for the sacrifices of the Lord made by fire, and the bread of their God they doe offer, therefore they shalbe holy.

7 Let them not take a wife that is a whore, or [c] polluted, nor put from her husband: for such a one is holy vnto his God. c Which hath an euill name, or is defamed.

8 Thou shalt sanctifie him therefore, for he offereth vp the bread of thy God: he shall therefore be holy vnto thee, for I the Lord which sanctifie you, am holy.

9 If a Priests daughter fal to play the whore, she polluteth her father, therefore must shee be burnt with fire.

10 He that is the high Priest among his brethren, vpon whose head the anointing oile was powred, and that consecrated his hand to put on the vestments, shall not [d] vncouer his head, nor rent his clothes: d He shall vse no such ceremonies as the Heathens vse.

11 Neither goe to any dead body, nor make himselfe vncleane by his father or his mother, 12 Neither shall goe out of the sanctuarie, nor pollute the holy place of his God, for the crowne of the anointing oyle of his God is vpon him: I am the Lord.

13 He shall take a virgin vnto his wife.

14 But a widowe, a diuorced woman, or a polluted, or a harlot, these shall hee not marrie: but shall take a virgin of his owne people to wife.

15 Neither shall hee defile his seede among his people: for I am the Lord which sanctifie him.

16 And the Lorde spake vnto Moses, saying,

17 Speake vnto Aaron, and say, whosoeuer of thy seede in their generations hath any blemish, let him not preare to offer bread vnto his God:

18 For whosoeuer hath any blemish, shal not conniueere: as if hee be blinde or lame, or that hath a ‖ brused nose, or that hath any misshapen member: ‖ Or, flat.

19 Or is broken footed, or broken handed,

20 Or is crooke backt, or bleare eyed, or hatte a web or other blemish in his eyes, or be scurfie, or scabbed, or hath his stones broken:

21 No man that hath a blemish, and is of the seede of Aaron the Priest, shall come nigh to offer the sacrifices of the Lord made by fire: when he hath a blemish, let him not preare to offer the bread of his God.

22 Let him eate the bread of his God, both of the most holy, and of the holy:

23 Only let him not go in vnto the vaile, nor come nigh the altar, because he is deformed, that he pollute not my sanctuaries: for I am the Lord that sanctifie them.

The xxij. Chapter.

3 Who ought to abstaine from eating the things that were offred. 19 How, what, and when they should be offered.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto Aaron and his sonnes, that they bee separated from the holy things of the children of Israel, and that they pollute not my holy name in those things which they halowe vnto me: I am the Lord.

3 Say vnto them, Whosoeuer hee bee of all your seede among your generations after you, that goeth vnto the holy things which the children of Israel halow vnto the Lord, hauing his vncleannesse vpon him, that soule shall be cut off from out of my sight: I am the Lord.

4 What man soeuer of the seed of Aaron is a Leper, or hath a running issue, hee shall not eate of the holy things vntill he be cleane. And *who so toucheth any man that is vncleane by reason of a dead body, or a man whose seede runneth from him in his sleepe, Leuit.15. 16.

5 Or whosoeuer toucheth any creeping thing, whereby hee may bee made vncleane, or a man of whom he may take vncleannesse, whatsoeuer vncleannesse he hath:

6 The same soule that hath touched any such, shall be vncleane vntill euen, and shall not eate of the holy things, vntil he haue washed his flesh with water.

7 And when the sunne is downe, he shall be cleane, & shall afterward eate of the holy things, forasmuch as it is his food.

8 *Of a beast that dieth alone, or is rent with wilde beasts, whereby he may be defiled, he shall not eate; I am the Lord. Exo.22.31. ezc.44.31.

9 Let them keepe therefore mine ordinance, lest they for the same lade sinne vpon them, and die for it, if they defile it: I the Lorde sanctifie them.

10 There shall no stranger eate of the holy thing, neither a guest of the Priests, neither shall an hired seruant eate of the holy thing.

11 But if the priest buy any soule with money, he shall eate of it, like as hee that is borne in his house: they shall eate of his meate.

12 If the priests daughter also be maried vnto a stranger, shee may not eate of the halowed heaue offerings: a Some think it was his seruant, which had his eare bored, & would not go out free, as Exod.21.6.

13 Notwithstanding, if the priests daughter be a widowe, or diuorced, and haue no childe, but is returned vnto her fathers house againe, shee shall eate of her fathers meate, as well as she did in her youth: but there shall no stranger eate thereof.

14 If a man eat of the holy thing vnwittingly, he shall put the fifth part thereunto, and giue it vnto the priest, with the halowed thing.

15 And the Priests shall not defile the holy things of the children of Israel, which they offer vnto the Lord:

16 To lade themselues with misdoing and trespasse, while they eate their holy things: for I the Lord doe halow them.

17 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

18 Speake vnto Aaron and his sonnes, and vnto all the children of Israel, & say vnto them, whatsoeuer he be of the house of Israel, or stranger in Israel that will offer his sacrifice for all his vowes, and for all his free will offerings, which they will offer vnto the Lord for a whole burnt offering:

19 Ye shall offer ‖ willingly a male without blemish, of the beeues, of the sheep, or of the goats. ‖ Or, that it may be accepted.

20 But whatsoeuer hath a blemish, that shall ye not offer: for it shall not be acceptable for you.

21 *And whosoeuer bringeth a peace offering vnto the Lord, to accomplish his vowe, or a free will offring in beeues or sheepe, it shall be perfite to bee accepted: there shall bee also no blemish therein, Deu.15.20. ecclu.35. 14.

22 Blinde, or broken, or lame, or hauing a wenne, or scuruie, or scabbed, yee shall not offer such vnto the Lord, nor make an offring by fire of any such vpon the altar vnto the Lord.

23 A bullocke or a sheepe that hath any member superfluous or lacking, mayest thou offer for a free will offering: but for a vowe it shall not be accepted.

24 Ye shal not offer vnto the Lord that which is bruised, or crushed, or broken, or cut away, neither shall you make any offering thereof in your land.

25 Neither of a strangers hand shall yee offer the bread of your God of any such, because their corruption is in them, and they haue deformity in themselues: and therefore shall they not be accepted for you.

26 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

27 When a bullocke, or a sheepe, or a goate, is brought forth, it shall be seuen dayes vnder the damme, and from the eight day and thence forth, it shall be accepted for a burnt sacrifice vnto the Lord.

28 And whether it be Cowe or ewe, yee shall not kill it and her yong both in one day.

29 When ye will offer a thanke offering vnto the Lord, offer ‖ it willingly: ‖ Or, that it may be accepted.

30 And the same day it shall bee eaten vp, so that ye leaue none of it vntil the morowe: I am the Lord.

31 Therefore shall ye keepe my commaundements, and doe them: I am the Lord.

32 Neither shall ye *pollute my name, but I will be halowed among the children of Israel: I am the Lord which halow you, Leuit.10.3.

33 And that brought you out of the land of Egypt to be your God: I am the Lord.

9 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,
10 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, When yee bee come into the land which I giue vnto you, and reape downe the haruest thereof, yee shall bring a sheafe of the first fruits of your haruest vnto the priest:
11 Which shall waue the sheafe before the Lord to be accepted for you: and the morowe after the Sabboth the priest shall waue it.
12 And ye shall offer that day, when ye waue the sheafe, an hee lambe without blemish, of a yeere olde, for a whole burnt offering vnto the Lord:
13 And the meate offering therof shalbe made of two tenth deales of fine flowre, mingled with oyle, to be a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord for a sweete sauour: and the drinke offering therof shall be of wine, the fourth deale of an Hin.

17 And ye shall bring out of your habitations two waue loaues, made of two tenth deales of of fine flowre, and that are made with leauen, for first fruits vnto the Lord.
18 And yee shall bring with the bread seuen lambes without defourmitie, of one yeere of age, and one yong bullocke, and two rammes, which shall serue for a whole burnt offering vnto the Lord, with their meat offrings and their drinke offerings, to bee a sacrifice made by fire, for a sweete sauour vnto the Lord.
19 Then yee shall prepare an hee goate for a sinne offering, and two lambes of one yeere olde for peace offrings.
20 And the Priest shall waue them with the bread of the first fruits, for a waue offering before the Lord, with the two lambes: they shall be holy to the Lord for the Priests.
21 And ye shall proclaime the same day, that it may be an holy conuocation vnto you: ye shall doe no seruile worke therein, let it be a lawe for euer in all your dwellings thro-wout your generations.
Leuit. 19.9. 22 And when ye reape downe the haruest of your land, thou shalt not make cleane riddance of the corners of the field when thou reapest, neither shalt thou make any after gathering of thy haruest, but shalt leaue them vnto the poore and the stranger: I am the Lord your God.
Deu. 24.19. 23 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,
24 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say, In the seuenth moneth in the first day of the moneth shall ye haue Sabboth, euen the remembrance of blowing of trumpets, an holy conuocation.
25 Ye shall doe no seruile worke therein, but offer sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord.

28 Ye shall doe no worke the same day, for it is a day of reconciling, to make an atonemen for you before the Lord your God.
29 For whatsoeuer soule it be that humbleth not himselfe that day, hee shall be cut off from among his people.
30 And whatsoeuer soule doeth any worke that day, the same soule will I destroy from among his people.

6 And thou shalt set them in two rowes: sixe on a row, vpon the pure table before the Lord.

7 And put pure frankincense vpon the rowes, that they may be bread of remembrance, and an offering made by fire vnto the Lord.

10 And the sonne of an Israelitish wife whose father was an Egyptian, went out among the children of Israel: and this sonne of the Israelitish wife, and a man of Israel stroue together in the hoste.

11 And the Israelitish womans sonne blasphemed the name of the Lord, and cursed, & they brought him vnto Moses: His mothers name was Selomith, which was the daughter of Dibri, of the tribe of Dan.

24 In all the land of your possession, ye shall [d] grant a redemption for the land.

25 If thy brother be waxen poore, and hath solde away of his possession, and if any of his kin come to redeeme it, let him buy out that which his brother solde.

26 And if [e] he haue no man to redeeme it, and his hand hath gotten & found as much as may be sufficient to buy it out againe:

27 Then let him count how long it hath bene solde, and deliuer the rest vnto the man to whom he sold it, that he may returne to his possession againe.

28 But and if his hand can not get sufficient to restore to the other againe, then that which is solde, shall remaine in the hand of him that hath bought it, vntill the yeere of Jubilee: and in the Jubilee it shal cease out, and he shal returne vnto his possession againe.

29 And if a man sell a dwelling house in a walled citie, he may buy it out againe within a whole yeere after it is sold: within a yeere may he redeeme it.

30 But and if he buy it not out againe within the space of a full yeere, then the house that is in the walled citie, shall be stablished, as translated to him that bought it, and his successors after him, and shall not goe out in the Jubilee:

31 But the houses of villages, which haue no walles round about them, are counted as the field of the country: and therefore they may bee bought out againe, and shall goe out in the Jubilee.

32 Notwithstanding, the cities of the Leuites, and the houses of the cities of their possession, may the Leuites redeeme at all seasons.

33 And if a man purchase of the Leuites: the house that was sold, and the citie of their possession, shal goe out in the yeere of Jubilee: for the houses of the cities of the Leuites, are their possession among the children of Israel.

34 But the fielde of the suburbes of their cities may not be solde, for it is their perpetuall possession.

35 If thy brother bee waxen poore, and fallen in decay with thee, thou shalt relieue him as a stranger, or a sojourner, that he may liue with thee.

36 And thou shalt take no vsurie of him, or bantage: but thou shalt feare thy God, that thy brother may liue with thee.

37 Thou shalt not giue him thy money vpon vsurie, nor lend him thy victuals for increase.

38 I am the Lord your God, which brought you out of the lande of Egypt, to giue you the land of Chanaan, and to be your God.

39 If thy brother that dwelleth by thee bee waxen poore, and be solde vnto thee, thou shalt not compell him to serue as a bond seruant:

40 But as an hyred seruant, and as a sojourner he shall be with thee, and shall serue thee vnto the yeere of Jubilee.

41 And then shall he depart from thee, both he and his children with him, and shall returne vnto his owne kinred againe, and vnto the possession of his fathers shall he returne.

42 For they are my seruants, which I brought out of the land of Egypt: and shall not therefore be sold as bondmen.

43 Thou shalt not rule ouer him cruelly, but shalt feare thy God.

44 Thy bondseruant, and thy bondmaide, which thou shalt haue, shall be of the Heathen that are round about you: of them shall ye purchase seruants and maides.

45 Moreouer, of the children of the strangers that are sojourners among you, of them shall ye buy, and of their families that are with you, which they begate in your land: these shall be your possession.

46 And ye shall take them as inheritance for your children after you, to possesse them for an inheritance, they shalbe your bondmen for euer, but ouer your brethren the children of Israel, ye shall not rule one ouer an other cruelly.

47 If a sojourner or stranger wax rich by thee, & thy brother that dwelleth by him ware poore, and sell himselfe vnto the stranger or sojourner by thee, or to the stocke of the strangers kin:

48 After that he is solde, he may be redeemed againe, one of his brethren may redeeme him:

49 Either his vncle or his vncles sonne may buy him out, or any that is nigh of kinne vnto him of his kinred, may redeeme him: either if his hand can get so much, he may be bought out.

50 And he shall reckon with him that bought him, from the yeere that he was sold vnto him, vnto the yeere of Jubilee, and the price of his [f] buying, shalbe according vnto the number of yeeres, according to the time of an hired seruant shal he be with him.

51 If there be yet many yeeres behind, according vnto them, let him giue againe for his deliuerance, of the money that he was bought for.

52 If there remaine but few yeeres vnto the yere of Jubilee, let him count with him againe, and according vnto his yeeres giue him againe for his redemption.

53 And he shalbe with him yeere by yeere as an hired seruant: and the other shall not rule cruelly ouer him in thy sight.

54 If he be not redeemed thus, he shall go out in the yeere of Jubilee, both he and his children with him.

55 For vnto me the children of Israel are seruants, they are my seruants which I brought out of the lande of Egypt: I am the Lord your God.

YE shall make you *no idoles nor grauen image, neither reare you vp a pillar, neither shall ye set vp any image of stone in your land to bow downe vnto it: for I am the Lord your God.

Deut. 28.1.

3 *If ye walke in my ordinances, and keepe my commaundements, and doe them,

4 I will send you raine in due season, and the land shall yeeld her encrease, and the trees of the field shall giue their fruit:

a There shall be such plentie, that corne hardly can scarcely be vsed before wine hareuest, and wine harueste scarcely ended before sowing time.

5 And your a threshing shall reach vnto the vintage, & the vintage shall reach vnto the sowing time: and yee shall eate your bread in plentifulnesse, and dwell in your land safely.

Iob 11.19.

6 And I will send peace in the land, and yee shall sleepe, and none shall make you afraid: and I will rid euill beasts out of the land, * and there shall no sword goe throughout your land.

7 And ye shall chase your enemies, and they shall fall before you vpon the sword.

8 And fiue of you shall chase an hundred, & an hundred of you shall put ten thousand to flight: and your enemies shall fall before you vpon the sword.

9 For I will haue respect vnto you, & make you encrease, and multiply you, and set vp my couenant with you.

10 And ye shal eate old store, and carry out old, because of the new.

11 And I will make my dwelling place amongst you, and my soule shall not lothe you.

13 I am the Lorde your God which brought you out of the land of Egypt, that yee should not be their bondmen, and I haue broken the chaines of your yoke, and made you goe vpright.

Deu.28.15. malac. 2. 2.

14 *But and if ye will not hearken vnto me, nor will not doe after these commaundements:

15 And if ye shall despise mine ordinances, either if your soule abhorre my lawes, so that yee will not doe all my commandements, but breake my couenant:

16 I also will do this vnto you, I will bring vpon you fearefulnesse, consumption, and the burning ague, to consume your eies, and gender sorow of heart: and ye shall sowe your seede in vaine, for your enemies shall eate it.

17 And I will set my face against you, and ye shal fall before your enemies: they that hate you shall reigne ouer you, and yee shall flee when no man followeth you.

18 And if yee will not yet for all this hearken vnto mee, then will I punish you seuen times more for your sinnes:

19 And will breake the pride of your power, and I will make your heauen as yron, and your earth as brasse, 20 And your labour shall be spent in vaine, for your lande shall not giue her encrease, neither shall the trees of the land giue their fruites.

21 And if ye walke contrary vnto me, and will not hearken vnto me, I will bring seuen times mo plagues vpon you, according to your sinnes.

22 I will also send in wild beasts vpon you, which shall rob you of your children, and destroy your cattell, and make you few in number, and cause your high wayes to be desolate.

23 And if yee may not bee reformed by these things, but shall walke contrary vnto me, 24 Then will I also walke contrary vnto you, and will punish you yet seuen times for your sinnes.

25 And I will send a sworde vpon you, that shall auenge my couenant: and when ye are gathered together within your cities, I will send the pestilence among you, and yee shall be deliuered into the hand of the enemie.

Ezec.4.16.

26 And * when I haue broken the b staffe of your bread, c ten wiues shall bake your bread in one ouen, and they shall deliuer you your bread againe by weight; ye shall eat, & not be satisfied.

b By prouerb this, because that man is sustained and strengthened by the bread that he eateth, like as a person is sustained by the staffe he leaneth vnto.

c The scarcitie shalbe so great, that one fertle coun shall serue for ten howsholds.

27 And if ye will not yet for all this hearken vnto me, but walke against me:

28 I will walke contrarie vnto you also in indignation, and will chastise you seuen times more for your sinnes.

29 And yee shall eate the flesh of your sonnes, and the flesh of your daughters shall ye deuoure.

30 I will destroy your high places, and cut away your images, and cast your carkeises vpon the bodies of your idoles, and my soule shall abhorre you.

31 And I will make your cities desolate, and bring your sanctuary vnto nought, and will not smell the sauour of your sweet odours.

32 I will bring the land vnto a wildernesse, and your enemies which dwell therein, shall wonder at it.

33 And I will throw you among the heathen, and will draw out a sworde after you: and your land shalbe waste, and your cities desolate.

34 Then shall the land enioy her Sabboths as long as it lyeth bare, and yee shall be in your enemies land, euen then shall the lande rest and enioy her Sabboths.

35 As long as it lyeth bare, it shall rest: because it did not rest in your Sabboths when ye dwelt vpon it.

36 And vpon them that are left aliue of you, I will send a faintnesse into their hearts in the lands of their enemies, and the sound of a shaking leafe shall chase them, and they shall flee, as fleeing from a sword: they shall fall, no man following vpon them.

37 They shal fal one vpon another, as it were before a sworde, no man following vpon them, and ye shall haue no power to stand before your enemies.

38 And yee shall perish among the heathen, and the land of your enemies shall eat you vp.

39 And they that are left of you shall pine away in their vnrighteousnesse in your enemies lands, and in the wickednes of their fathers shall they consume with them.

40 And they shal confesse their wickednes, and the wickednes of their fathers, for their trespasse which they haue trespassed against me, and for that also they haue walked contrary vnto me.

41 Therefore I also will walke contrary vnto them, and will bring them into the land of their enemies: and then at the least way their vncircumcised hearts shalbe tamed, and they shall willingly accept their d sinne.

d That is, the punishment for their sinne.

42 Then I will remember my couenant with Jacob, and my couenant with Isaac, and my couenant with Abraham will I remember, and will thinke on the land.

43 The lande also shall be left of them, and shall enioy her Sabboths while she lyeth waste without them: 44 they shal willingly accept their ‖ sinne, because they despised my lawes, and because their soule abhorred mine ordinances. 44 And yet for all that, when they bee in the lande of their enemies, I will not cast them away, neither will I abhorre them, to destroy them vtterly, and to breake my couenant with them: for I am the Lord their God.

‖ Or, the punishment for their sinne.

c God thinketh on his mercie in the middest of his anger.

45 I will for their sakes remember the couenant of olde, when I brought them out of the land of Egypt in the sight of the heathen, that I might be their God: I am the Lord.

46 These are the ordinances, & iudgements and lawes, which the Lord made betweene him and the children of Israel in mount Sinai, by the hand of Moses.

The xxvij. Chapter.

1 Of diuers vowes, and redemption of the same. 31 All tithes are due to the Lord.

AND the Lorde spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, If any man will make a a singular bowe of a person vnto the Lord, by thy estimation:

a As of his sonne or his daughter.

3 Then thy estimation shall be thus: Of the male from twentie yeeres old vnto sixtie, shalbe by thy estimation, fiftie sicles of siluer, after the sicle of the sanctuarie:

4 And if it bee a female, then thy valuation shalbe thirtie sicles.

5 And from fiue yeeres to twenty, thy valuation shalbe of the male twentie sicles, and of the female ten sicles.

b Ye speaketh of those vowes wherby their fathers dedicated their children to God, which were not of such force that they might be redeemed from thim.

6 And from a b moneth vnto fiue yeeres, thy estimation shalbe of the male, fiue sicles of siluer, and of the female, three sicles of siluer.

7 And from sixtie yeeres old and aboue, if he be a male, then thy price shall bee fiftéene sicles, and for the female ten sicles.

8 But if hee be poorer then thou hast esteemed him, he shall present himselfe before the priest, and the priest shall value him: according as the hand of him that bowed is able to get, euen so shall the Priest value him.

9 If it be a beast of which men bring an offering vnto the Lorde, all that any man giueth of such vnto the Lord, shalbe holy.

10 He shall not alter it, nor change it, a good for a bad, or a bad for a good: And if he chaunge beast for beast, then both the same beast, and it also wherewith it was changed, shall be c holy.

c That is, consecrate to the Lord.

11 If it be any manner of vncleane beast, of which men do not offer a sacrifice vnto the Lord, he shall set the beast before the Priest:

12 And the Priest shal value it, whether it be good or bad: as the priest setteth it, so shall it be.

13 But if he will buy it againe, he shall giue the fift part more about that it was set at.

14 If any man dedicate his house to be holy vnto the Lorde, the Priest shall set it, whether it be good or bad: and as the Priest hath set it, so shall it stand.

15 And when he that sanctified it, will redeeme his house, let him giue the fift part of the money that it was iudged at thereto, and it shalbe his.

16 If a man halowe a piece of his inherited land vnto the Lord, thou shalt value it according to the seede thereof: An ‡ Homer of barley seede shalbe set at fiftie sicles of siluer.

‡ Corus was an Hebrew measure, that containeth thirtie of our common bushels euery bushel hauing in weight 26. pound, 8. ounces.

17 If hee halow his fielde immediatly from the yeere of Jubilee, it shalbe worth according as thou doest esteeme it.

18 But and if he halow his field after the Jubilee, the priest shal reckon vnto him the money, according to the number of yeres that remaine, vnto the yeeres of Jubilee following, and it shal be abated by thy estimation.

19 If hee that consecrated the field, will redeeme it againe, let him put the fifth part of the price that thou biddest valye it at thereunto, and it shall be his.

20 And if he will not redeeme the field, but selleth the field to another man, hee that vowed may redeeme it no more:

21 But when the field goeth out in the yeere of Jubilee, it shall be holy vnto the Lorde, as a fielde separate from common vses, and it shall be the priests possession.

22 If a man sanctifie vnto the Lorde a fielde which he hath bought, and is not of the ground of his inheritance;

23 The Priest shall reckon vnto him what it is worth vnto the yeere of Jubilee, and he shal giue the price that it is set at the same day, as a thing consecrate vnto the Lord.

24 And in the yeere of Jubilee, the field shall returne vnto him of whome it was bought, to him whose inheritance of land it was.

25 And all thy valuation shall be according to the sicle of the sanctuarie: One ‡ sicle containeth twentie Gerahs.

‡ Exo. 30. 13. num. 3. 47. eze. 45. 12.

26 But the first borne of the beasts, that is the Lords first borne, may no man sanctify, whether it be ore or sheepe, for it is the Lords already.

27 If it be an vncleane beast, he shall redeeme it as thou shalt set it at, and giue the fifth part more thereto: Or if it be not redeemed, it shal be sold according to the estimation.

28 * Notwithstanding, nothing separate from the common vse, that a man doth separate vnto the Lorde, of all that hee hath, whether it bee man or beast, or lande of his inheritance, may bee solde or redeemed: for euery thing separate from the common vse, is most holy vnto the Lord.

* Ios. 6. 19.

29 Nothing separate from the common vse, which shalbe separate from man, shalbe redeemed, but die the death.

30 Euery tithe of the land also, both of the seed of the land, and of the fruite of the trees, is the Lords, and is sanctified vnto the Lord.

31 And if a man will redeeme ought of his tithes, let him adde the fifth part thereto.

32 And euery tithe of ore and of sheepe, and of euery beast that goeth vnder the d rodde, euen euery tenth shalbe holy vnto the Lord.

d That is, euery tenth as it effeth by rate, whether it be male or female without exception or respect.

33 He shall not looke if it be good or bad, nor change it: else if he change it, both it and that it was changed withall, shal be halowed, and may not be redeemed.

The fourth booke of Moses, called in the Hebrew Vaiedabbar, and in the Latine Numeri.

This fourth booke of Moses is called the booke of Numbers: because in the beginning of it Moses and Aaron did number the children of Israel, and that by their tribes.

The j. Chapter.

Moses and Aaron, with the twelue princes of the tribes, are commanded of the Lord to number them that are meete for warre. 49 The Leuites are exempted for the seruice of the Tabernacle.

AND the Lorde spake vnto Moses in the wildernesse of Sinai, in the * Tabernacle of the congregation, the first day of the second moneth, in the second yeere after they were come out of the land of Egypt, saying,

Exo. 29. 42.

2 * Take ye the summe of all the multitude of the children of Israel, after their kinreds and houshold of their fathers, with the number of their names, all that are males, ‖ head by head,

Exo. 30. 12.

‖ Or, man by man.

3 From twentie yeres old and aboue, al that go forth to the warre in Israel: thou and Aaron shalt number them throughout their armies.

4 And with you shall be men of euery tribe, such as are the heads of the houses of their fathers.

5 And these are the names of the men that shall a stand with you: of the tribe of Ruben, Elizur the sonne of Sedeur.

6 Of Simeon, Selumiel the sonne of Surisaddai.

7 Of Iuda, Nahasson the son of Amminadab.

8 Of Issachar, Nathanael the son of Zuar.

9 Of Zabulon, Eliab the sonne of Helon.

10 Of the children of Ioseph: of Ephraim, Elisama the sonne of Ammihud: of Manasse, Gamaliel the sonne of Pedazur.

11 Of Beniamin, Abidan the son of Gideoni.

12 Of Dan, Ahiezer the sonne of Ammisadai.

13 Of Aser, Pagiel the sonne of Ocran.

14 Of Gad, Eliasaph the sonne of Duel.

15 Of Nephthali, Ahira the sonne of Enan.

16 These were of great fame in the congregation, princes of the tribes of their fathers, and heads ouer thousands in Israel.

17 And Moses and Aaron tooke these men which are expressed by their names.

18 And they called all the congregation together, the first day of the second moneth, and they were reckoned throughout their kinreds, and houses of their fathers, according to the number of their names, from twentie yeeres olde and aboue, head by head.

19 As the Lorde commaunded Moses, so hee numbred them in the wildernesse of Sinai.

20 So were the children of Ruben Israels eldest sonne, throughout their generations, and their kinreds, and houses of their fathers, according to the number of their names, head by head, all males from twentie yeres old and aboue, as many as did goe forth to the warre:

21 The number of them that were of the tribe of Ruben, was fourtie and fiue thousand, and fiue hundred.

22 Of the children of Israel throughout their generations, and their kinreds, and houses of their fathers, the summe of them in the number of names head by head, al the males from twentie yeres and aboue, whosoeuer might goe forth to the warre:

23 The summe of them that were of the tribe of Simeon, fiftie and nine thousand, and three hundred.

24 Of the children of Gad throughout their generations, and their kinreds, and houholdes of their fathers, the number of the names from twentie yeres and aboue, all that went forth to the warre:

25 The number of them that were of the tribe of Gad, was fourtie and fiue thousand, fiue hundred and fiftie.

26 Of the children of Iuda throughout their generations, and their kinreds, and houses of their fathers, the number of names from twentie yeeres and aboue, all that were able to goe forth to warre:

27 The number of them that were of the tribe of Iuda, was threescore and fourteene thousand, and fiue hundred.

28 Of the children of Issachar throughout their generations, and their kinreds, and houses of their fathers, the number of names from twentie yeeres and aboue, which went all forth to the warre:

29 The number of them that were of the tribe of Issachar, was fiftie and foure thousand, and foure hundred.

30 Of the children of Zabulon throughout their generations, and their kinreds, and houses of their fathers, the number of names from twentie yeeres and aboue, all which were able to goe forth in the hoste:

31 The number of them that were of the tribe of Zabulon, was fiftie and seuen thousand and foure hundred.

32 Of the children of Ioseph, namely, of the children of Ephraim throughout their generations, and their kinreds, houses of their fathers, the number of names from twentie yeeres and aboue, all that went out to the warre:

33 The number of them that were of the tribe of Ephraim, was fortie thousand and fiue hundred.

34 Of the children of Manasse throughout their generations, and their kinreds, and houses of their fathers, the number of names from twentie yeeres old and aboue, all that went out to the warre:

35 The number of them that were of the tribe of Manasse, was thirtie and two thousand and two hundred.

fol. H6v

36 Of the children of Beniamin throughout their generations, and their kinreds, and houses of their fathers, the number of names from twentie yeeres and aboue, all that went forth to the warre:

37 The number of them that were of the tribe of Beniamin, was thirty and fiue thousand and foure hundred.

38 Of the children of Dan throughout their generations, and kinreds, & houses of their fathers, the number of names from twentie yeres old and aboue, all that went forth to the warre:

39 The number of them that were of the tribe of Dan, was threescore and two thousand and seuen hundred.

40 Of the children of Aser throughout their generations, and their kinreds, & houses of their fathers, the number of the names from twentie yeeres and aboue, all that went out to the war:

41 The number of them that were of the tribe of Aser, was fortie and one thousand and fiue hundred.

42 Of the children of Nepthali throughout their generations, and their kinreds, and houses of their fathers, the number of names from twentie yeeres and aboue, all that might goe forth to the warre:

43 The number of them that were of the tribe of Nepthali, was fiftie and three thousand, and foure hundred.

44 These are the summes which Moses and Aaron numbred, and the princes of Israel, those twelue men which were euery one for the house of their fathers.

45 So were all the numbers of the children of Israel throughout the houses of their fathers, from twentie yeeres and aboue, all that went forth to the warre in Israel:

46 All they, I say, were in number fiue hundred thousand, and three thousand, fiue hundred and fiftie.

47 But the Leuites after the tribes of their fathers were not numbred among them.

48 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

49 Onely thou shalt not number the tribe of Leui, neither take the summe of them among the children of Israel.

50 But thou shalt appoint the Leuites ouer the tabernacle of witnesse, and ouer all the vessels thereof, and ouer all things that are in it: Yea, they shall beare the Tabernacle, and all the vessels thereof, and they shall minister in it, and shall dwell round about the Tabernacle.

51 And when the tabernacle goeth forth, the Leuites shall take it downe: and when the tabernacle is to be pitched, the Leuites shall set it vp: and if any b stranger come nigh, he shall dye.

52 And the children of Israel shall pitch their tents, euery man in his own camp, & euery man vnder his own standerd, throughout their hosts.

53 But the Leuites shall pitch round about the Tabernacle of witnesse, that there bee no wrath vpon the Congregation of the children of Israel: and the Leuites shall keepe the watch of the tabernacle of witnesse.

54 And the children of Israel did according to all that the Lord commanded Moses, so did they.

b He is a stranger that is not of the tribe of Leui.

The ij. Chapter.

2 The order of the tents. 12 The heads of the kinreds of Israel.

AND the Lorde spake vnto Moses and Aaron, saying,

2 a Euery man of the children of Israel shall pitch vnder his owne standerd, and vnder the ensigne of their fathers houses: farre off about the tabernacle of the congregation shall they pitch.

3 And on the East side toward the rising of the Sunne, shall they of the standerd of the hoste of Juda pitch, throughout their armies: And Nahasson the sonne of Aminadab shall be captaine of the sonnes of Juda.

4 And his host, & the number of them, threescore and fourteene thousand and fiue hundred.

5 Next vnto him shall they that bee of the tribe of Isachar pitch: and Nathanael the sonne of Zuar, shall be captaine of the children of Isachar.

6 His hoste and the number thereof, fiftie and foure thousand, and foure hundred.

7 And then the tribe of Zabulon: and Eliab the sonne of Helon, shall bee captaine ouer the children of Zabulon.

8 And his hoste, and the number of them, fiftie and seuen thousand, and foure hundred.

9 So that the whole number of the whole hoste of Juda, are an hundred thousand, fourscore and fiue thousand, and foure hundred, throughout their armies: and these shall first moue.

10 c On the South side shall be the standerd of the hoste of Ruben, according to their armies: and the captaine ouer the sonnes of Ruben shall be Elizur the sonne of Sedeur.

11 And his hoste and the number of them, fourtie and fiue thousand, and fiue hundred.

12 And fast by him shall the tribe of Simeon pitch, and the captaine ouer the sonnes of Simeon, shalbe Salumiel the sonne of Zurisaddai.

13 And his hoste, and the number of them, fiftie and nine thousand, and three hundred.

14 And the tribe of Gad also, and the captaine ouer the sonnes of Gad, shall bee Eliasaph the sonne of Duel.

15 And his hoste, and the number of them, fortie and fiue thousand, fiue hundred and fiftie.

16 All that were numbred with the campe of Ruben, an hundred thousand, fiftie & one thousand, foure hundred and fiftie, throughout their armies: and they shall set forth in the second place.

17 And the Tabernacle of the Congregation shal go with the hoste of the Leuites in the mids of the campe: and as they lie in their tents, so shal they proceed in the iourney, euery man in his degree, and vnder their owne standerds.

18 On the d West side shall be the standerd of the camp of Ephraim, according to their armies, and the captaine ouer the sonnes of Ephraim, shall be Elisama the sonne of Ammiud.

19 His hoste and the number of them, fourtie thousand and fiue hundred.

20 And fast by him, shall be the tribe of Manasse: and the captaine ouer the sonnes of Manasse, shalbe Gamaliel the sonne of Pedazur.

22 And the tribe of Beniamin also: and the captaine ouer the sonnes of Beniamin, shall be Abidan the sonne of Gideoni.

23 His hoste and the number of them, thirtie and fiue thousand, and foure hundred.

a The twelue tribes were foure principal standerds, so that euery three tribes had their standerd.

b Juda, Isachar, and Zabulon, the sonnes of Lea, were of the first standard.

c Ruben and Simeon the sonnes of Lea, and Gad the sonne of Silpha her maid, were of the second standerd.

d Ephraim, Manasses, and Beniamin, make the third standerd.

11 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

16 *And Moses numbred them according to the word of the Lord, as he was commanded.

Exod.6.17. 1.chron.6. 11.

33 And of Merari came the kinred of the Mahelites, and the kinred of the Musites: These are the kinreds of Merari.

34 And the summe of them according to the number of all the males from a moneth old and aboue, was fiue thousand and two hundred.

35 The captaine and the most ancient of their houle that were of the kinred of Merari, was Zuriel the sonne of Abihail: and these shall pitch on the Northside of the Tabernacle.

39 And the whole summe of the Leuites which Moses and Aaron numbred at the commandement of the Lord throughout their kinreds, euen all the males from a moneth olde and aboue, was twentie and two thousand.

40 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Number all the first borne that are males among the children of Israel, from a moneth olde and aboue, and take the number of their names.

41 And thou shalt appoint the Leuites to me (for I am the Lord) for all the first borne of the children of Israel, and the cattel of the Leuites, for all the first borne of the cattell of the children of Israel.

42 And Moses numbred, as the Lord commanded him, all the first borne of the children of Israel.

43 And all the first borne males, rehearsed by their names, from a moneth olde and aboue according to their number, were twentie and two thousande, two hundred and three score and thirteene.

46 And for the redeeming of the two hundred and threescore and thirteene, which are more then the Leuites, in the first borne of the children of Israel, 47 Take fiue sicles of euery head, after the weight of the Sanctuary, the sicle conteining twentie gerahs.

48 And giue the money, wherewith the odde number of them is redeemed, vnto Aaron and his sonnes.

49 And Moses tooke the redemption money, of them that were redeemed, being more then the Leuites:

50 Of the first borne of the children of Israel tooke hee this money, a thousand three hundred and threescore and fiue sicles, after the sicle of the Sanctuary.

51 And Moses gaue the money of them that were redeemed, vnto Aaron and his sonnes, according to the worde of the Lord, as the Lord commanded Moses.

a Sicles were of two sorte: the one common, the other belonging to the Sanctuary: and that of the Sanctuary was double the waight of the common. The common sicle weighed two groates, and the Sanctuarie sicle foure. The Scripture in this place, and in the thirtie of Exodus, and Ezechiel fourtie and fiue, saith that the sanctuary sicle doeth weigh twentie gerahs, which the Grecians do cal Obolus, and wee in English, an halfepenie, when eight groates of our money was an ounce: and the Hebrues doe thinke that Obolus doeth weigh the weight of fiftene barley cornes.

The iiij. Chapter.

15 And when Aaron & his sonnes haue made an ende of couering the Sanctuarie, and all the vessels of the Sanctuarie, against that the hoste remoue, then the sonnes of Caath shall come in for to beare: but they shall not touch any holy thing, lest they die. And this is the charge of the sonnes of Caath in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

16 And to the office of Eleazar the sonne of Aaron the Priest, pertaineth the oyle for the light, the sweet incense, the dayly meat offering, and the anoynting oyle, and the ouerlight of all the Tabernacle, and of al that therein is, both in the Sanctuary, and in all the vessels thereof.

fol. I2r

17 And the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron, saying,
18 Ye shal not cut off the tribe of the kinred of the Caathites from among the Leuites:
19 But thus doe vnto them, that they may liue, and not die: when they goe vnto the most holy things, let Aaron and his sonnes go in, and appoint them euery one to his office, and to his charge.
20 But let them not go in to see when the holy things are folded vp, lest they die.
21 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,
22 Take also the summe of the children of Gerson, throughout the houses of their fathers, and throughout their kinreds:
23 From thirtie yeeres olde and aboue, vntil fiftie yeeres shalt thou number them, all that enter into the assembly for to doe seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.
24 And this is the seruice of the kinred of the Gersonites, to serue and to beare:
25 They shall beare the curtaines of the Tabernacle, & the tabernacle of the Congregation, his couering, and the couering of the badgers skinnes that is on high vpon it, & the valle of the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation:
26 And the curtaines of the court, & the valle that is in the entring in of the gate of the court, which is neere the Tabernacle, and neere the altar round about, with the cordes, and all the instruments that serue vnto them, and all that is made for them: and so shall they serue.
27 At the mouth of Aaron and his sonnes shal all the seruice of the children of the Gersonites be done, in all their charges, and in all their seruice: and yee shall appoint vnto them all their burdens to keepe.
28 And this is the seruice of the kinred of the children of Gerson in the tabernacle of the Congregation, & their watch shall be vnder the hand of Ithamar the sonne of Aaron the Priest.
29 And thou shalt number the sonnes of Merari after their kinreds, and after the houses of their fathers:
30 From thirtie yeeres olde and aboue, vnto fiftie yeeres, shalt thou number them, euery one that enter into the assembly, to doe the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.
31 And this is the office and charge according to all their seruice in the Tabernacle of the congregation, the boordes of the Tabernacle, with the barres, pillars, and sockets thereof.
32 And the pillars that are round about the court, with their sockets, pinnes, and cordes, and with al the instruments of it, for al their seruice: and by name yee shall reckon the instruments of their office and charge.
33 This is the seruice of the kinreds of the sonnes of Merari, according to all their office in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, vnder the hand of Ithamar the sonne of Aaron the Priest.
34 And Moses and Aaron, and the princes of the multitude, numbred the sonnes of the Caathites, after their kinreds & houses of their fathers, 35 From thirty yeres old and aboue, vnto fiftie yeeres, all that enter into the assembly, to doe seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.
36 And the number of them throughout their kinreds, were two thousande, seuen hundred and fiftie.
37 This is the number of the kinreds of Caath, namely, all that might doe seruice in the Tabernacle of the congregation, which Moses and Aaron did number, according to the commandement of the Lord, by the hand of Moses.
38 Also the numbers of the sonnes of Gerson, throughout their kinreds and houses of their fathers:
39 From thirtie yeeres olde and aboue, vnto fiftie yeeres, all that enter into the assembly for to doe seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation:
40 And the numbers of them throughout their kinreds, and houses of their fathers, were two thousand, fiue hundred and thirtie.
41 This is the number of the kinreds of the sonnes of Gerson, of all that did seruice in the tabernacle of the congregation, which Moses and Aaron did number according to the commandement of the Lord.
42 And the numbers of the kinreds of the sonnes of Merari, throughout their kinreds, and houses of their fathers:
43 From thirty yeeres old and vp, vnto fiftie yeres, all that enter into the assembly for the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation:
44 And the numbers of them after their kinreds, were three thousand and two hundred.
45 These be the summes of the kinreds of the sonnes of Merari, which Moses and Aaron numbred according to the worde of the Lord by the hand of Moses.
46 And so all the numbers of the Leuites, which Moses, Aaron, and the Lords of Israel numbred, after their kinreds and houholdes of their fathers:
47 From thirtie yeeres old and vp, vnto fiftie yeeres, euery one that came to doe his duetie, office, seruice, and charge in the Tabernacle of the Congregation: So the numbers of them were eight thousand, fiue hundred and foure score.
48 According to the word of the Lord did Aaron number them by the hand of Moses, euery one according to their seruice and charge: Thus were they of that tribe numbred, as the Lord commanded Moses.

The v. Chapter.

2 The leprous and polluted persons shalbe put out of the tentes. 6 The satisfaction for sinne. 12 The law of ielousie.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,
2 Command the children of Israel that they put out of the hoste euery leper, & euery one that hath an issue, and whosoeuer is defiled by the dead:
3 Both male and female shall yee put out, euen out of the hoste shall ye put them, that they defile not their tentes among which I dwell.
4 And the children of Israel did so, and put them out of the hoste: as the Lord spake vnto Moses, so did the children of Israel.
5 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,
6 Speake vnto the children of Israel, When a man or woman shall commit any sinne that men commit, and trespasse against the Lord: when that person shall trespasse, 7 Then they shal knowledge their sin which they haue done: and let him restore againe the hurt that he hath done, with his principall, and put the fifth part of it more thereto, and giue it vnto him whom he hath trespalled against.

8 But if the man haue no kinsman to restore the hurt vnto, let the trespalle be made good vnto the Lord, and it shalbe the Priests, beside the ramme of the atonement, whereby an atonement shalbe made for him.

9 And euery heaue offering that is made of the holy things of the children of Israel, which they bring vnto the Priest, shalbe his.

10 And euery mans halowed thing shall bee his: whatsoeuer any man giueth the Priest, it shalbe his.

11 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

12 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, If any mans wife goe aside, and trespalle against him,

13 So that another man lie with her flesh-ly, and it bee hid from the eyes of her husband, and is kept close that shee is defiled, and there is no witnesse against her, neither shee taken with the maner,

14 And the spirit of iealousie commeth vpon him, so that hee is iealous ouer his wife which is defiled: or if the spirit of iealousie come vpon him, so that hee is iealous ouer his wife which is yet vndefiled:

15 Then let the man bring his wife vnto the Priest, and bring her offring with her, the tenth part of an [b] Epha of barley meale: but let him put no oyle vpon it, nor put frankincense thereon, for it is an offring of iealousie, an offering for a remembrance, calling the sin to be thought vpon.

16 And the Priest shall bring her, and set her before the Lord.

17 And the Priest shall take holy water in an earthen vessel, and of the dust that is in the floore of the Tabernacle, the Priest shal take it, and put it into the water:

18 And let the priest set the woman before the Lord, and vncouer the womans head, and put the offering of memorial in her hands, which is the iealousie offring: and the Priest shall haue bitter and cursed water in his hand.

19 And the Priest shall charge her by an othe, and say vnto the woman, If no man haue lyen with thee, neither hast gone aside to vncleanneſſe without thy husband, then haue thou no harme of these bitter and cursed waters.

20 But and if thou hast gone aside from thy husband, and art defiled, and some man hath lien with thee beside thine husband:

21 (Then the Priest shall charge the woman with an othe of curling, and the Priest shall say vnto the woman) The Lord make thee accursed and detestable for the othe among thy people, when the Lord doeth make thy thigh to rot, and thy belly swell.

22 These cursed waters goe into the bowels of thee, that they may make thy belly swell, and thy thigh to rot. And let the woman say, Amen, Amen.

23 And let the Priest write these curses in a booke, and hee shall blot them out with the bitter waters:

24 And giue the woman those bitter and cursed waters to drinke, that those cursed and bitter waters may enter into her.

25 And then the Priest shall take the iealousie offering out of the womans hand, and waue it before the Lord, and bring it vnto the altar.

26 And the Priest shall take an handfull of the offring for a memorial, & burne it vpon the altar, and then make the woman drinke the waters.

27 And when hee hath made the woman drinke the waters, if she be defiled and haue trespalled against her husband, then shall the cursed and bitter waters go into her, and her belly shall swell, and her thigh shall rot: and the woman shalbe a curse among her people.

28 And if the woman hee not defiled, but is cleane, she shal haue no harme, but shal conceiue and beare.

29 This is the lawe of iealousie, when a wife goeth aside from her husband, and is defiled:

30 Or when the spirit of iealousie commeth vpon a man, and hee being iealous ouer his wife, doeth bring her before the Lord, and the Priest shall doe to her according vnto all this law:

31 And the man shall be guiltlesse, and this woman shall beare her sinne.

The vj. Chapter.

2 The law of consecration of the Nazarites. 24 How the Priests shall blesse the people.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, When either man or woman doeth separate themselues to vow a vow of [a] a Nazarite, to separate themselues vnto the Lord:

4 As long as his abstinence endureth, shall hee eate nothing that is made of the vine tree, of the cornels, or of the huske of the grape.

5 And as long as hee voweth and is separated, there shall no rasor come vpon his head, vntill his dayes be out in the which hee separateth himselfe vnto the Lord, he shalbe holy, and shall let the lockes of his hair grow.

6 As long as he separateth himselfe vnto the Lord, he shall come at no dead body.

7 He shal not make himselfe vncleane at the death of his father, mother, brother, or sister: because that the consecration of his God is vpon his head.

8 All the dayes of his separation hee is holy vnto the Lord.

9 And if any man die suddenly beſide him or he be ware, the head of his consecration shall be defiled: and he shall haue his head the day of his cleansing, the seuenth day shall he haue it.

10 And the eight day he shal bring two turtles or two yong pigeons to the Priest, before the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

11 And the Priest shal offer the one for a sinne offring, and the other for a whole burnt offring: and make an atonement for him as concerning that he sinned by the dead, and shall halow his head the same day.

12 And he shall consecrate vnto the Lord the time of his separation, and shall bring a lambe of a yeere old for a trespalle offring, but the dayes that were before are lost, because his consecration was defiled.

The vij. Chapter.

2 The offring of the heads and princes of Israel in the dedication of the Tabernacle of the Altar. 89 The Lord speaketh to Moses out of the Mercie seate.

Exo.40.18 AND when *Moses had full set vp the tabernacle, and anointed and sanctified it, and all the instruments thereof, the altar also, and all the vessels thereof, and had anointed them, and sanctified them:

3 And brought their sacrifice before the Lord, sixe couered charets, and twelue oren: one charet for two lords, and for euery one an ore, and they brought them before the Tabernacle.

4 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

5 Take it of them, that they may be to doe the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and thou shalt giue them vnto the Leuites, to euery man according to his office.

6 And Moses tooke the charets and the oren, and gaue them vnto the Leuites.

8 And foure charets and eight oren he gaue vnto the sonnes of Merari, according vnto their offices, vnder the hand of Ithamar the sonne of Aaron the priest.

9 But vnto the sonnes of Caath hee gaue none: because the charge of the Sanctuary belonged vnto them, which they did beare vpon shoulders.

10 And the princes offered for dedicating of the altar in the day that it was anointed, and brought their sacrifices before the altar.

11 And the Lord said vnto Moses, The princes shall bring their offerings, euery day one prince for the dedicating of the altar.

12 And he on the first day did Nahaſſon the sonne of Aminadab, of the tribe of Iuda offer his sacrifice.

13 And his offering was a siluer charger of an hundred and thirtie sicles, a siluer bowle of seuenty sicles, after the weight of the Sanctuary, and they were both full of fine flowre mingled with oile for a meate offring:

The viij. Chapter.

2 The order of the lampes. 4 The forme of the candlesticke. 6 The cleansing and offering of the Leuites.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,
2 Speake vnto Aaron, and say vnto him, when thou settest vp the lampes, the seuen lampes shall giue light toward the forefront of the candlesticke.
3 And Aaron did so, and lighted the lampes thereof toward the forefront of the candlesticke, as the Lord commanded Moses.
4 And this was the worke of the candlestick, euen of gold, beaten out with the hammer, both the shaft and the flowers therof was beaten out with the hammer: according vnto the paterne which the Lord had shewed Moses, so hee made the candlesticke.
5 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,
6 Take the Leuites from among the children of Israel, and cleanse them.
7 And thus shalt thou doe vnto them, when thou cleansest them, Sprinkle a water of purifying vpon them, and let them haue all their flesh, and let them wash their clothes, & so make themselues cleane.
8 Then let them take a yong bullocke with his meat offering, euen fine flowre mingled with oile, and another yoong bullocke shalt thou take for a sinne offering.
9 And thou shalt bring the Leuites before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, thou shalt gather the whole multitude of the children of Israel together, a In Hebrew it is called Din water, because it is made to purge sinne.

10 And bring the Leuites before the Lorde, and the children of Israel shall put their handes vpon the Leuites.
11 And Aaron shall waue the Leuites before the Lorde for a waue offering of the children of Israel, that they may execute the ministration of the seruice of the Lord.
12 And the Leuites shall put their handes vpon the heads of the bullocks: and thou shalt offer the one for a sinne offering, and the other for a whole burnt offering vnto the Lord, that thou mayest make an atonement for the Leuites.
13 And thou shalt set the Leuites before Aaron and his sonnes, and waue them for a waue offering vnto the Lord.
14 And thus thou shalt separate the Leuites from among the children of Israel, and the Leuites shalbe mine.
15 After that, shal the Leuits go in, to do the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and thou shalt cleanse them, and waue them for a waue offering:
16 For they are giuen and deliuered vnto me from among the children of Israel: for such as open euery wombe, * for the first borne of all the children of Israel haue I taken them vnto mee.

Num. 3. 13. exod. 13. 2. luke 2. 20.

17 For all the first borne of the children of Israel are mine, both man and beast: since the day that I smote euery first borne in the lande of Egypt, I sanctified them for my selfe.
18 And I haue taken the Leuites for all the first borne of the children of Israel.
19 And haue giuen the Leuites as a gift to Aaron and his sonnes, from among the children of Israel, to doe the seruice of the children of Israel in the Tabernacle of the congregation, and to make an atonement for the children of Israel: that there bee no plague among the children of Israel, if the children of Israel come nigh vnto the Sanctuarie.
20 And Moses, and Aaron, and all the Congregation of the children of Israel, did with the Leuites, according vnto all that the Lorde commanded Moses concerning the Leuites, so did the children of Israel vnto them.
21 And the Leuites were purified, and washed their clothes: And Aaron waued them as a waue offering before the Lord, and made an atonement for them to cleanse them.
22 After that, went the Leuites in, to do their seruice in the Tabernacle of the Congregation before Aaron and his sonnes: as the Lorde had commanded Moses concerning the Leuites, so did they vnto them.
23 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,
24 This is it that belongeth vnto the Leuites: From twenty and fiue yeeres olde, and vpward, they shall goe in to wait vpon the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.
25 And from the age of b fifty yeres, they shall cease waiting vpon the seruice thereof, and shall serue no more:
26 But shall minister with their brethren in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, to keepe things committed to their charge: but shall doe no more seruice. Thus therefore shalt thou doe vnto the Leuites, touching their charge.

b The Leuites after they were fifty yeres old, were discharged of all painfull offices, as to beare burdens, and such like: and were after appointed to sing Psalmes, to instruct, to giue counsell, to admonish, and to keepe things in order.

ought to keepe the Passeouer. 15 The cloud couering the tabernacle, leadeth the Israelites thorowe the wildernesse.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses in the wildernesse of Sinai, in the first moneth of the second yeere after they were come out of the land of Egypt, saying,
2 Let the children of Israel celebrate the Passeouer, at the time appointed thereunto.
3 In the fourteenth day of this moneth at Euen, ye shall keepe it in his season: according to all the rites of it, and according to all the ceremonies thereof, shall ye keepe it.
4 And Moses spake vnto the children of Israel, that they should celebrate the Passeouer.
5 And they kept the Passeouer the foureteenth day of the first moneth at Euen, in the wildernesse of Sinai: according to all that the Lord commanded Moses, so did the children of Israel.
6 And certaine men were defiled by a dead man, that they might not keepe the Passeouer the same day, and they came before Moses and Aaron the same day.
7 And those men said vnto him, wee are defiled by a dead man: wherfore are we kept backe, that wee may not offer an offring vnto the Lorde in due season, among the children of Israel?
8 And Moses sayd vnto them, Stand still, and I will heare what the Lord will command concerning you.
9 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,
10 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say, If any man of your posterity, shall bee vncleane by the reason of a coarse, or bee in a way farre distant from you, and from your generations, hee shall keepe the Passeouer vnto the Lord.
11 The fourteenth day of the second moneth at Euen let them keepe it, and eate it with vnleauened bread, and sowre herbes.
12 Let them leaue none of it vnto the morning, nor breake any bone of it: * But according to all the ordinances of the Passeouer let them keepe it.
13 But the man that is cleane, and is not in a iourney, & yet was negligent to keepe the Passeouer, the same soule shall be cut off from his people, because hee brought not the offering of the Lord in his due season: that man shall beare his sinne.
14 And if a stranger dwell among you, and will keepe the Passeouer vnto the Lord: according to the ordinance of the Passeouer, and maner thereof, so shall he doe. Ye shall haue one law both for the stranger, & for him that was borne in the same land.
15 * And the same day that the Tabernacle was reared vp, a cloude couered the Tabernacle, namely the Tabernacle of the testimonie: and at Euen there was vpon the tabernacle as it were the appearance of fire, vntill the morning.
16 So it was alway: the cloude couered it by day, and the appearance of fire by night.
17 And when the cloude was taken vp from the Tabernacle, then the children of Israel iourneyed, and in the place where the cloude abode, there the children of Israel pitched their tents.
18 At the ‖ mouth of the Lorde the children of Israel iourneyed, & at the mouth of the Lord they pitched: and * as long as the cloud abode vpon the tabernacle, they lay still:
19 And when the cloud tarried still vpon the Tabernacle long time, the children of Israel a kept the watch of the Lord, and iourneyed not.
20 And when the cloud abode a few dayes vpon the tabernacle, they abode in their tents according to the commandement of the Lord, and they iourneyed also at the commandement of the Lord.
21 And when the cloud abode vpon the tabernacle from euen vnto the morning, and was taken vp in the morning, then they iourneyed: whether it was by day or by night that the cloud was taken vp, they iourneyed.
22 Or if the cloud taried two dayes, or a moneth, or a yeere vpon the tabernacle, and remained thereon, the children of Israel remained still, and iourneyed not: and assoone as the cloude was taken vp, they iourneyed.
23 At the mouth of the Lord they rested in the tents, and at the commandement of the Lord they iourneyed, keeping the watch of the Lord at the commandement of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

2 The trumpets of siluer, and their vse. 30 Hobab refuseth to goe with Moses.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,
2 Make thee two trumpets of siluer: of an whole piece shalt thou make them, that thou mayest vse them, to call the congregation together, & when the campe shall iourney.
3 And when they shall blow with them, all the multitude shal resort to thee, before the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation.
4 And if they blow but one trumpet, then the princes which are heads ouer the thousands of Israel shall come vnto thee.
5 But if you blow an alarme, the hoste that lie on the East parts shall go forward.
6 And if ye blow the alarme the second time, the host that lieth on the South side shall take their iourney, for they shall blowe an alarme when they take their iourneys.
7 But when the Congregation is to be gathered together, they shall blowe without an alarme.
8 And the sonnes of Aaron the Priests shall blowe with their trumpets, and yee shall haue them as a law for euer in your generations.
9 And if ye go to warre in your land against your enemies that bere you, ye shall blow an alarme with the trumpets, and ye shall be remembred before the Lord your God, & be saued from your enemies.
10 Also in the day of your gladnesse, & in your feast dayes, & in the beginning of your moneths, yee shall blowe the trumpets ouer your burnt sacrifices, and peace offerings, that they may be a remembrance for you before your God: I am the Lord your God.

27 And ouer the hoste of the tribe of the children of Nephthali, was Ahira the sonne of Enan.

28 These are the iourneys of the children of Israel throughout their armies, and thus the hosts remoued.

29 And Moses sayd vnto Hobab the sonne of Raguel the Madianite, which was Moses ‖ father in law: We goe vnto the place, of which the Lord sayd, I will giue it you. Come thou therefore with vs, and we will doe thee good: for the Lord hath promised good vnto Israel.

32 And if thou goe with vs, loohe what goodnesse the Lord shall shew vnto vs, the same will we shew vnto thee.

AND ‖ Mary and Aaron spake against Moses, because of the woman of Ethiopia which he had taken: for hee had taken *to wife one of Ethiopia.

2 And they said, Hath the Lord in deede spoken onely through Moses? Hath he not spoken also by vs? And the Lord heard it.

3 (But Moses was a very meeke man, aboue all the men of the earth.)

4 And the Lord spake at once, vnto Moses, vnto Aaron, & to Mary, Come out ye three vnto the tabernacle of the congregation. And they came out all three.

5 And the Lord came downe in the pillar of the cloud, and stood in the doore of the Tabernacle, and called Aaron and Marie: and they went out both of them.

6 And he sayd, Heare my words: If there be a Prophet of the Lord among you, I will bee knowen of him in a vision, and will speake vnto him in a dreame.

7 My *seruant Moses is not so, which is faithfull in all mine house.

8 Vnto him will I speake mouth to mouth, in a vision, not in darke speeches and similitudes of the Lord shall he see: Wherefore then were ye not afraid to speake against my seruant Moses?

9 And the Lord was mooued vnto wrath against them, and hee went his way.

10 And the cloude departed from the Tabernacle, and behold, Mary was become leprous as it were snow: And Aaron looked vpon Marie, and behold, she was leprous.

11 And Aaron sayd vnto Moses, Alas my lord, I beseech thee, put not the sinne vpon vs which we haue foolishly committed and sinned.

12 Oh, let her not bee as one dead, of whom the flesh is halfe consumed when hee commeth out of his mothers wombe.

13 And Moses cried vnto the Lord, saying, Heale her now, O God, I beseech thee.

14 And the Lord sayd vnto Moses, If her father had but spet in her face, should shee not be ashamed seuen dayes? Let her be shut out of the host seuen dayes, and after that let her be receiued in againe.

15 And Marie was shut out of the host seuen dayes: and the people remoued not till Marie was brought in againe.

16 And afterward the people remooued from Hazeroth, & pitched in the wildernes of Paran.

3 And Moses at the commandement of the Deu.12.23. Lord, sent forth out of the wildernesse of Pharan, such men as were all heads of the children of Israel.

4 Their names are these. Of the tribe of Ruben, Sammua the sonne of Zacur.

5 Of the tribe of Simeon, Saphat, the son of Hori.

6 Of the tribe of Juda, Caleb the sonne of Jephune.

7 Of the tribe of Issachar, Igal the sonne of Joseph.

8 Of the tribe of Ephraim, Oshea the sonne of Nun.

9 Of the tribe of Beniamin, Palti the sonne of Raphu.

10 Of the tribe of Zabulon, Gaddiel the sonne of Sodi.

11 Of the tribe of Joseph, namely, of the tribe of Manasse, Gaddi the sonne of Susi.

12 Of the tribe of Dan, Amiel the sonne of Gemalli.

13 Of the tribe of Aser, Sethur, the sonne of Michael.

14 Of the tribe of Nephthali, Nahabi the son of Waphsi.

15 Of the tribe of Gad, Guel the sonne of Machi.

16 These are the names of the men which Moses sent to spie out the land: And Moses called the name of Oshea the sonne of Nun, Josuah.

17 And Moses sent them forth to spie out the land of Chanaan, and sayd vnto them, Get you vp this way Southward, that ye may go vp into the high countrey,

18 And see the land what maner thing it is, and the people that dwelleth therein, whether they be strong or weake, either few or many:

19 And what the land is that they dwell in, whether it be good or bad, and what maner of cities they be that they dwell in, whether they dwell in tents, or walled townes:

20 And what maner of land that is, whether it be fat or leane, & whether there be trees therein, or not. Be of good courage, and bring of the fruit of the land: and it was about the time that grapes are first ripe.

21 And so they went vp, and searched out the land, from the wildernesse of Zin, vnto Rehob, as men come to Hemath.

22 And they ascended vnto the South, and came vnto Hebron, where Ahiman was, and Sesai, and Thalmai, the sonnes of Anac. Hebron was built seuen yeeres before Zoan in Egypt.

Deut.1.24. 23 *And they came vnto the riuer of Eshol, and cut downe there a branch with one cluster of grapes, and two bare it vpon a staffe: and they brought also of the pomgranates, and of the figges.

24 And the place was called the riuer Eshol, because of the cluster of grapes which the children of Israel cut downe thence.

25 And they turned backe againe from searching of the land after forty dayes.

26 And they went, and came to Moses and Aaron, and vnto all the multitude of the children of Israel in the wildernesse of Pharan, to Cades, and brought them word, and also vnto all the congregation, and shewed them the fruit of the land.

27 And they told him, and sayd, We came vnto the land whither thou sentest vs, and surely it floweth with milke and hony, and here is of the fruit of it.

28 Neuertheless, the people be strong that dwell in the land, and the cities are walled and exceeding great: and moreouer, we saw the children of Anac there.

29 The Amalechites dwell in the South countrey: and the Hethites, and the Jebusites, and the Amorites dwell in the mountaines: and the Chanaanites dwell by the sea, & by the coast of Jordane.

30 And Caleb stilled the people before Moses, saying, Let vs goe vp at once, and possesse it, for we be able to ouercome it.

31 But the men that went vp with him, said, Wee be not able to goe vp against the people, for they are stronger then we.

32 And they brought vp an euill report of the land which they had searched, saying vnto the children of Israel, The land which wee haue gone thorow to search it out, is a land that [a] eateth vp the inhabitants thereof, and the people that we saw in it, are men of a great stature.

33 And there wee saw also giants, the children of Anac, which come of the giants: and wee seemed in our sight as it were grashoppers, and so we did in their sight.

a The giants were so cruell, that they stoned and killed one another, and those that came vnto them.

2 The people murmure against Moses and Aaron.
10 They would haue stoned Caleb and Iosuah.

ALl the multitude of the people cried out, and wept thorow out that night.

2 And all the children of Israel murmured against Moses & Aaron: and the whole Congregation sayde vnto them, Would God that we had died in the land of Egypt, either that we had died in this wildernesse,

3 Wherefore hath the Lord brought vs vnto this land to fall vpon the sword, and that our wiues and our children should be a pray? were it not better that wee returne vnto Egypt againe?

4 And they said one to another, Let vs make a captaine, and returne vnto Egypt againe.

21 But as truely as I liue, all the earth shall be filled with the glory of the Lord.

22 But all those men which haue seene my glorie, and my miracles which I did in Egypt, and in the wilderneſſe, and haue tempted mee now ten times, and haue not hearkened vnto my voice, 23 Shall not see the land which I sware vnto their fathers, neither shall any of them that prouoked me, see it.

25 And the Amalechites, and Chanaanites remaine in the valley: To morrow turne you, and get you into the wildernesse, by the way of the red sea.

26 And the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron, saying,

Psa.105.26 27 How long doth this euil multitude murmure against mee? I haue heard the murmurings of the children of Israel, with the which they murmure against me.

28 Tell them therefore, As truely as I liue, saith the Lord, I will doe vnto you as yee haue spoken in mine eares:

29 Your carcases shall fall in the wildernesse, and all you that were tolde thorowout your numbers, from twenty yeres and aboue, which haue murmured against me,

30 Shall not come into the land, ouer which I lifted vp mine hand to make you dwell therein, saue Caleb the sonne of Jephunne, and Josuah the sonne of Nun.

31 But your children which yee said should bee a pray, them will I bring in, and they shall know the land which ye haue refused.

32 And your carcases shall fall in this wildernesse.

33 And your children shal wander in the wildernesse fourty yeres, and suffer for your whoredome, vntill your carcases be wasted in the wildernesse.

c That is, their idolatry, and disobedience against God.

34 After the number of the dayes in which ye searched out the land, euen fourty dayes (euery day for a yeere) shall ye beare your vnrighteousnesse, euen fourty yeeres, and ye shall know my breach of promise.

36 And the men which Moses sent to search the land, and which (when they came againe) made all the people to murmure against him, and brought vp a slander vpon the land:

37 Euen those men that did bring vp that slander vpon it, as though it had bene euil, died in a great plague before the Lord.

1.Cor.10. 10.

38 But Josuah the sonne of Nun, and Caleb the sonne of Jephunne, which were of the men that went to search the land, liued still.

39 And Moses tolde these sayings vnto all the children of Israel, and the people tooke great sorow, 40 And they rose vp earely in the morning, and gate them vp into the top of the mountaine, saying, Loe, we be here, and will go vp vnto the place of which the Lord said: for we haue sinned.

Deut.1.41.

41 And Moses said, Wherefore transgresse ye thus the word of the Lord? it will not come wel to passe.

42 Goe not vp therefore; for the Lord is not among you, that yee be not slaine before your enemies.

43 For the Amalechites and the Chanaanites are there before you, and yee shall fall vpon the swoord, because yee are turned away from the Lord, and the Lord will not be with you.

e They confesse they sinned by rebelling against God, but consider not they offend in going vp without Gods commandement.

f Be ready to come against you.

44 But they presumed obstinately to goe vp into the hill top: Neuertheleſſe, the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, and Moses, departed not out of the host.

45 Then the Amalechites and the Chanaanites which dwelt in that hill, came downe, and smote them, and consumed them vnto Horma.

fice to fulfill a vow, or a free offering, or in your principall feastes, to make a sweet sauour vnto the Lord of the heard, or of the flocke:

4 Then let him that offereth his offering vnto the Lord, bring also a meat offering of a tenth deale of floure, mingled with the fourth part of an hin of oile.

5 And the fourth part of an hin of wine for a drinke offering shalt thou prepare, with the whole burnt offering, or any other offering, for one lambe.

6 Or if it be a ram, thou shalt prepare for a meat offering two tenth deales of floure mingled with the third part of an hin of oile.

7 And for a drinke offering, thou shalt offer the third part of an hin of wine, for a sweet sauour vnto the Lord.

8 And when thou preparest a bullocke for a whole burnt offering, or for a sacrifice, to fulfill a vow or peace offering vnto the Lord:

9 Let him bring with a bullocke a meat offering of three tenth deales of floure, mingled with halfe an hin of oile.

10 And thou shalt bring for a drinke offering halfe an hin of wine, for an offering made by fire of a sweet sauour vnto the Lord.

11 After this maner shall it be done for a bullocke, or for a ram, or for a lambe, or a kid.

12 According to the number that ye shall prepare, so shal ye do to euery one according to their number.

13 All that are borne of the countrey, shall do these things after this maner, to offer an offering made by fire of a sweet sauour vnto the Lord.

14 And if a stranger sojourne with you, or whosoeuer be among you in your generations, and will offer an offering made by fire of a sweet sauour vnto the Lord: as ye do, so he shall do.

15 One ordinance shall be both for you of the congregation, & also for the stranger that dwelleth with you: It shalbe an ordinance for euer in your generations: as ye are, so shall the stranger be before the Lord.

16 One law, and one maner shall serue both for you and for the stranger that sojourneth with you.

17 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

18 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, When ye be come into the land to the which I bring you, 19 Then when ye will eat of the bread of the land, ye shall offer vp an heaue offering vnto the Lord.

20 Yee shall offer vp a cake of the first of your dough for an heaue offering: as ye doe the heaue offering of the barne, so ye shall heaue it.

21 Of the first of your dough ye shall giue vnto the Lord an heaue offering in your generations.

22 And if yee haue erred, and obserue not all these commandements which the Lorde hath spoken vnto Moses,

23 Euen all that the Lord hath commanded you by the hand of Moses, from the day that the Lord commanded Moses, and henceforward among your generations:

24 If ought be committed ignorantly of the congregation, all the multitude shall offer a bullocke for a whole burnt offering to be a sweet sauour vnto the Lord, with his meat offering and drinke offering thereto, according to the maner, and an hee goat for a sinne offering.

25 And the Priest shall make an atonement for all the multitude of the children of Israel, and it shalbe forgiuen them, for it is ignorance: and they shal bring their offring, a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord, and their sinne offering before the Lord for their ignorance, 26 And it shalbe forgiuen vnto all the congregation of the children of Israel, & vnto the stranger that dwelleth among you, seeing all the people were in ignorance.

27 If any soule sinne through ignorance, he shall bring a thee goat of a yeere olde, for a sinne offering.

28 And the Priest shall make an atonement for the soule that sinneth ignorantly, when hee sinneth by ignorance before the Lorde, to reconcile him, and that it may be forgiuen him.

29 And both they that are borne of the children of Israel, and the stranger that dwelleth among you, shall haue one law, whoso doth sinne through ignorance.

30 But the soule that doth ought presumptuously, whether hee be borne in the land, or a stranger, the same blasphemeth the Lord: and that soule shall be cut off from among his people.

31 Because hee hath despised the word of the Lord, and hath broken his commandement, that soule shall vtterly be cut off, his sinne shalbe vpon him.

32 And while the children of Israel were in the wildernesse, they found a man that gathered sticks vpon the Sabboth day.

33 And they that found him gathering sticks, brought him vnto Moses and Aaron, and vnto all the congregation.

34 And they put him in ward, for it was not declared what should be done to him.

35 And the Lord sayde vnto Moses, Let the man die, let all the multitude stone him with stones without the host.

36 And all the multitude brought him without the host, and stoned him with stones, and he died as the Lord commanded Moses.

37 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

38 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and bid them that they make them fringes in the borders of their garments throughout their generations, and put vpon the fringe of the borders a riband of blew tinct. Deu.22.12.

39 And the fringe shalbe vnto you to looke vpon, that yee may remember all the commandements of the Lord, & do them, and that ye seeke not after your owne heart, & your owne eyes, after which ye vse to go a whoring.

40 But ye shall remember rather, and doe all my commandements, & be holy vnto your God.

41 I am the Lord your God, which brought you out of the land of Egypt, for to be your God: I am the Lord your God.

2 And they rose vp before Moses, with certeine of the children of Israel, two hundred and fifty, which were captaines of the multitude, famous in the congregation, and men of great renowme.

3 And they gathered themselues together against Moses and Aaron, and sayd vnto them, Ye take too much vpon you, seeing [a] all the multitude are holy euery one of them, and the Lord is among them: Why lift you your selues vp aboue the congregation of the Lord?

4 And when Moses heard it, hee fell vpon his face,

5 And spake vnto Corah, and vnto all his company, saying, To morow the Lord wil shew who are his, who [b] is holy, and who ought to approch nigh vnto him: and whom he hath chosen, he will cause to come neere vnto him.

6 This do therfore: Take you ‖ fire pannes, both Corah and all his company,

7 And put fire therein, and put incense in them before the Lord to morow: And the man whom the Lord doeth chuse, the same shall bee holy: Yee take too much vpon you, ye sonnes of Leui.

8 And Moses sayd vnto Corah, Heare, I pray you, ye sonnes of Leui.

9 Seemeth it but a small thing vnto you, that the God of Israel hath separated you from the multitude of Israel, and brought you to him selfe, to doe the seruice of the Tabernacle of the Lord, and to stand before the multitude, and to minister vnto them?

10 He hath taken thee to him, and all thy brethren the sonnes of Leui with thee: and seeke ye the office of the Priest also?

11 For which cause both thou and all thy companie are gathered together against the Lord: And what is Aaron, that yee murmure against him?

12 And Moses sent, and called Dathan and Abiram the sonnes of Eliab: which sayd, Wee will not come vp.

13 Is it a small thing that thou hast brought vs out of the land that floweth with milke and hony, to kill vs in the wildernesse: except thou make thy selfe lord and ruler ouer vs also?

14 Moreouer, thou hast not brought vs vnto a lande that floweth with milke and hony, neither giuen vs inheritance of fields & vineyards: Wilt thou [c] put out the eyes of these men? Wee will not come vp.

15 And Moses waxed very angry, and sayde vnto the Lord, Turne not thou vnto their offering: I haue not taken so much as an asse from them, neither haue I hurt any of them.

16 And Moses said vnto Corah, Be thou and all thy company before the Lorde, both thou, they, and Aaron, to morow.

17 And take euery man his censer, and put incense in them, and bring yee before the Lorde euery man his censer, two hundred and fiftie censers, thou also and Aaron, euery one his censer.

18 And they tooke euery man his censer, and put fire in them, and layed incense thereon, and stood in the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation with Moses and Aaron.

19 And Corah gathered all the congregation against them, vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation: and the glory of the Lord appeared vnto all the Congregation.

20 And the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron, saying,

21 Separate your selues from among this Congregation, that I may consume them at once.

22 And they fell vpon their faces, and sayd, O God, the God of spirits of all flesh, hath not one man sinned: Wilt thou bee wroth with all the multitude?

23 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

24 Speake vnto the Congregation, and say, Get you a way from about the tabernacle of Corah, Dathan, and Abiram.

25 And Moses rose vp, and went vnto Dathan and Abiram: and the Elders of Israel followed him.

26 And he spake vnto the Congregation, saying, Depart, I pray you, from the tents of these wicked men, and touch nothing of theirs, lest ye perish in their sinnes.

27 And so they gate them from the tabernacle of Corah, Dathan, and Abiram, on euery side: and Dathan and Abiram came out, and stood in the doore of their tents, with their wiues, their sonnes, and their little children.

28 And Moses said, Hereby ye shal know that the Lord hath sent me to doe all these workes: for I haue not done them of mine owne minde.

29 If these men die the common death of all men, or if they be visited after the visitation of all men, then the Lord hath not sent me:

30 But and if the Lord make a [d] new thing, and the earth open her mouth, & swallow them vp, with all that they haue, and they goe downe quicke into the pit: then ye shal vnderstand that these men haue prouoked the Lord.

34 And all Israel that were about them, fled at the crie of them: and they sayd, Lest the earth swallow vs vp also.

35 And there came out a fire from the Lord, and consumed the two hundred and fiftie men that offered incense.

36 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

47 And Aaron tooke as Moses commanded him, and ran into the mids of the congregation: and beholde, the plague was begun among the people, and he put on incense, & made an atonement for the people.

4 And put them in the Tabernacle of the Congregation before the Arke of the testimonie, where I will declare my selfe vnto you.

5 And the mans rodde whom I chuse, shall blossome: and I will make ceale from mee the grudgings of the children of Israel, wherby they grudge against me.

6 And Moses spake vnto the children of Israel, and all the princes gaue him a rod, one rod for euery prince according to their fathers houses, euen twelue rods: and the rod of Aaron was among their rods.

7 And Moses put the rods before the Lord in the tabernacle of witnesse.

8 And on the morow Moses went into the tabernacle of witnes, & behold, the rod of Aaron for the house of Leui was budded, and brought forth buds, bare blossomes, and ripe almonds.

9 And Moses brought out all the rods from before the Lord, vnto all the children of Israel: and they looked vpon them, & tooke euery man his rod.

10 And the Lord sayde vnto Moses, * Bring Aarons rod againe before the witnes, to be kept for a token to the rebellious children, and that their murmuring may cease from me, and that they die not.

11 And Moses did as the Lorde commanded him, so did he.

12 And the children of Israel spake vnto Moses, saying, Behold, we are wasted away, and perished, we all come to nought.

13 Whosoeuer commeth nigh, or approcheth to the tabernacle of the Lord, shall die: Shal we vtterly consume away and die?

The xviij. Chapter.

1 The office of the Leuites. 8 The tithes and first fruits must be giuen them. 20 Aarons heritage.

AND the Lord sayde vnto Aaron, Thou and thy sonnes, and thy fathers house with thee, shall a beare the iniquity of the sanctuary: and thou and thy sonnes with thee shal beare the iniquity of your Priests office.

2 And thy brethren of the tribe of Leui, and of thy fathers houshold, thou shalt bring with thee, that they may be ioyned vnto thee, and minister vnto thee: but thou and thy sonnes with thee shall minister before the Tabernacle of witnesse.

3 They shall keepe thy charge, the charge of all the tabernacle: onely let them not come nigh the vessels of the Sanctuary and the Altar, that they and ye also die not.

4 And they shall be ioyned with thee, & keepe the charge of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, for all the seruice of the Tabernacle: and let no stranger come nigh vnto you.

5 Therefore shall ye keepe the charge of the Sanctuarie, and the charge of the Altar, that there fall no more wrath vpon the children of Israel.

6 Beholde, I haue taken your brethren the Leuites from among the children of Israel, which as a gift of yours are giuen vnto the Lord, to doe the seruice of the tabernacle of the congregation.

7 Therefore shalt thou and thy sonnes with thee, keepe your Priests office for all things that perteine vnto the altar, & within the vaile: and yee shall serue, for I haue giuen your Priests office vnto you as a gift, and therefore the stranger that commeth nigh, must be slaine.

8 And the Lord spake vnto Aaron, Behold, I haue giuen thee the keeping of mine heaue offerings, of all the hallowed things of the children of Israel, euen vnto thee I haue giuen them for the anointing, and to thy sonnes for an ordinance for euer.

9 This shalbe thine, of the most holy things reserued from the fire of the Altar: all their sacrifices for all their meat offerings, sinne offerings, or trespasse offerings, which they bring vnto me, that shall be most holy vnto thee, and to thy sonnes.

10 In the most holy place shalt thou eat it, and all that are males shall eat of it: it shall be holy vnto thee.

11 And this also is thine: the heaue offerings of their gifts, with all the waue offerings of the children of Israel: I haue giuen them vnto thee, and thy sonnes and thy daughters with thee, to be a duety for euer: and all that are cleane in thy house shall eat of it.

12 All the b fat of the oile, and all the fat of the wine, and of the wheat, which they shall offer vnto the Lorde for first frutes, the same haue I giuen vnto thee.

13 And whatsoeuer is first ripe in their land, which they bring vnto the Lord, shalbe thine, all that are cleane in thine house, shall eat of it.

14 All things separate from the common vse in Israel, shalbe thine.

15 All that breaketh the matrice in all flesh, that men bring vnto the Lord, whether it be of men or beasts, shall be thine: Neuertheless, the first borne of man shalt thou redeeme, the first borne of vncleane beasts shalt thou redeeme.

16 Those that are to be redeemed, shalt thou redeeme, from the age of a moneth, according to thine estimation, * for the money of fiue sicles, after the sicle of the Sanctuary, which is twenty gerahs.

17 But the first borne of a cow, sheepe, or goat, shalt thou not redeeme, for they are holy: therefore thou shalt sprinckle their blood vpon the Altar, and shalt burne their fat as a sacrifice made by fire for a sweet sauour vnto the Lord.

18 And the flesh of them is thine, as the waue brest, and the right shoulder, these are thine.

19 All the heaue offerings of holy things, which the children of Israel offer vnto the Lord, haue I giuen thee, and thy sonnes, and thy daughters with thee, to be a duety for euer: let it be a c salted couenant for euer before the Lord, both vnto thee, and to thy seed with thee.

20 And the Lorde spake vnto Aaron, Thou shalt haue no inheritance in their land, neither shalt thou haue any part among them: * I am thy part, and thine inheritance among the children of Israel.

21 Behold, I haue giuen the children of Leui all the tenth in Israel, to inherit, for the seruice which they serue in the tabernacle of the Congregation.

22 Neither muste the children of Israel hencefoorth come nigh the tabernacle of the congregation, lest they beare sinne, and die.

23 But the Leuites shall do the seruice in the tabernacle of the congregation, and beare their sinne: It shalbe a law for euer in your generations, that among the children of Israel they possesse no inheritance.

24 But the tithes of the children of Israel which they pay as an heaue offering vnto the Lord, I haue giuen the Leuites to inherit: and therefore I haue sayde vnto them, Among the children of Israel ye shal possesse no inheritance.

25 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

26 Speake vnto the Leuites, and say vnto them, When ye take of the children of Israel the tithes which I haue giuen you of them for your inheritance, ye shall take an heaue offering of that same for the Lorde, euen the tenth part of that tithe.

27 And this your heaue offering shalbe reckoned vnto you, as though it were of the corne of the barne, or as the fulnesse of the wine presse.

28 Of this maner yee shall therefore offer an heaue offering vnto the Lord of all your tithes which ye receiue of the children of Israel, and ye shall giue therof the Lords heaue offering to Aaron the priest.

29 Of all your gifts ye shal offer all the Lords heaue offering, euen all the fat of the same, to wit, the holy things therof.

30 Therefore thou shalt say vnto them, When ye haue taken away the fat of it from it, it shalbe counted vnto the Leuites, as if it were the increase of the corne floore, or the increase of the wine presse.

31 And ye shall eat it in all places, both ye and your houshoides: for it is your reward for your seruice in the tabernacle of the congregation.

32 And ye shal beare no sinne by the reason of it, when ye haue offered from it the fat of it: neither shall yee pollute the holy things of the children of Israel, lest ye die.

The xix. Chapter.

2 Of the ashes of the red cow. 9 The water of expiation is made to wash away diuers vncleannesses.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron, saying,

2 This is the ordinance of the law, which the Lord hath commanded, saying, Speake vnto the children of Israel, that they bring thee a redde cow without spot, and wherein is no blemish, and vpon which neuer came yoke.

3 And yee shall giue her vnto Eleazar the priest, that yee may bring her without the hoste, and cause her to be slaine before his face:

4 And let Eleazar the Priest take of her blood with his finger, and * sprincle it directly before the tabernacle of the congregation seuen times,

5 And cause the cow to be burnt in his sight, with her skin, flesh, and blood: and the doting of her shall ye burne also.

6 And let the priest take cedar wood, and hysope, and scarlet lace, and cast it in the mids of the burning of the cow.

7 Then let the Priest wash his clothes, and he shall bathe his flesh in water, and then come into the hoste, and the Priest shalbe vncleane vntill the euen.

8 And hee that burneth her, shall wash his clothes in water, and bathe his flesh in water, and be vncleane vntill the euen.

9 And a man that is cleane, shall gather vp the ashes of the cow, and lay them without the hoste in a cleane place, and it shall be kept for the multitude of the children of Israel, for a water of a separation, it is a sinne offering.

10 Therefore hee that gathereth the ashes of the cow, shall wash his clothes, and remaine vncleane vntill euen: and it shall bee vnto the children of Israel, and vnto the stranger that dwelleth among them, a statute for euer.

11 Hee that toucheth the dead bodie of any man, shalbe vncleane seuen dayes.

12 And he shall purifie himselfe with this water the third day, and the seuenth day he shall be cleane: but if hee purifie not himselfe the third day, then the seuenth day he shall not be cleane.

21 And it shal be a perpetuall law vnto them, that hee that sprinkleth the water of separation, shall wash his clothes: and he that toucheth the water of separation, shall be vncleane vntill Euen.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Mary the sister of Moses and Aaron dieth. 12 Moses and Aaron shall not enter into the land of promise.

AND the children of Israel came with the whole multitude into the desert of Zin, in the first moneth, and the people abode at Cades: and there died Mary, and was buried there.

2 But there was no water for the multitude: and they gathered themselues together against Moses and Aaron.

3 And the people chode with Moses, & spake, saying, Would God that wee had perished when our brethren died before the Lord.

Exo.17.2. 4 Why haue ye brought the congregation of the Lord into this wildernesse, that both wee and our cattell should die in it?

5 Wherefore haue yee made vs to come out of Egypt, to bring vs to this euill place, which is no place of seede, nor of figges, nor vines, nor pomegranates, neither is there any water to drinke?

6 And Moses and Aaron went from the presence of the Congregation, vnto the doore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and fell vpon their faces, and the glory of the Lord appeared vnto them.

7 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

8 Take the rodde, and gather thou and thy brother Aaron the congregation together, and speake vnto the rocke before their eies, and it shal giue forth his water, and thou shalt bring them water out of the rocke, so giue the company drinke, and their beasts also.

9 And Moses tooke the rod from before the Lord, as he commanded him.

10 And Moses and Aaron gathered the congregation together before the rocke, and Moses said vnto them, *Heare yerebels, must we fetch you water out of this rocke? Exod.17.6. psal.77.15.

11 And Moses lift vp his hand, and with the rod he smote the rocke two times, and the water came out abundantly, and the multitude drinke and their beasts also.

12 And the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron, *Because yee beleeued me not, to sanctifie me in the eyes of the children of Israel, therefore yee shall not bring this congregation into the land which I haue giuen them. Deu.1.37.

13 This is the water of strife, because the children Israel stroue with the Lord, and hee was sanctified in them.

15 Our fathers went downe into Egypt, and wee haue dwelt in Egypt a long time: and the Egyptians vexed vs and our fathers.

16 And when wee cried vnto the Lord, hee heard our voice, and sent an Angel, and hath fet vs out of Egypt: and behold we are in Cades, in the vttermost citie of thy border.

17 Let vs passe, I pray thee, thorowe thy countrey, but we will not goe thorow the fields or vineyards, neither will we drinke of the water of the fountaines: we will goe by the kings high way, neither turne vnto the right hand nor to the left, vntill we be past thy borders.

18 And Edom answered him, Thou shalt not goe by me, lest I come out against thee with the sword.

19 The children of Israel sayd vnto him, We will go by the beaten way: and if I and my cattell drinke of thy water, I will pay for it: I will but onely (without any harme) goe thorowe on my feete.

20 He answered, Thou shalt not goe thorow. And Edom came out against him with much people, and with a mighty power.

21 And thus Edom denied to giue Israel passage thorowe his countrey: wherefore Israel turned away from him.

22 And the children of Israel departed from Cades, and came vnto mount Hor, with all the Congregation. Num.33.37.

23 And the Lord spake vnto Moses and Aaron in mount Hor, hard by the coast of the land of Edom, saying, and put them vpon Eleazar his sonne: and Aaron shall bee gathered vnto his people, and shall die there.

24 Aaron shall bee gathered vnto his people: for he shall not come into the land which I haue giuen vnto the children of Israel, because ye disobeyed my mouth at the water of strife.

27 And Moses did as the Lord commanded: and they went vp into mount Hor in the sight of all the multitude.

28 And Moses tooke off Aarons clothes, and put them vpon Eleazar his sonne, and Aaron died there in the top of the mount: *and Moses and Eleazar came downe out of the mount.

Num.33.43.

2 And Israel vowed a vow vnto the Lord, and sayd, If thou wilt deliuer this people into my hand, I will vtterly destroy their cities.

3 And the Lord hearde the voice of Israel, and deliuered them the Chanaanites: and they destroyed them and their cities, and called the name of the place Horma.

4 And they departed from mount Hor, by the way of the red sea, to compasse the land of Edom: and the soule of the people was sore grieued, because of the way.

5 And the people spake against God, and against Moses, Wherefore haue ye brought vs out of Egypt, for to die in the wildernesse? for here is neither bread nor water, and our soule lotheth this light bread.

6 *Wherefore the Lord sent fiery serpents among the people, which stung them, and much people of Israel died.

Wisd.16.5. 1.cor.10.9.

7 Therefore the people came to Moses and sayd, Wee haue sinned, for wee haue spoken against the Lord, and against thee: make intercession to the Lord, that he take away the serpents from vs. And Moses prayed for the people.

10 And the children of Israel departed thence, and pitched in Oboth.

11 And they departed thence, and pitched at the heapes of Abarim, in the wildernesse which is before Moab, on the East side.

12 And they remooued thence, and pitched vpon the riuer Zared.

17 Then Israel sang this song, Spring vp well, sing ye vnto it:

18 The princes digged this well, the captains of the people digged it with the law giuer, and with their staues, and from the wildernesse they went to Mathana:

23 But Sehon would not giue Israel licence to passe thorow his countrey: but gathered all his people together, and went out against Israel into the wildernesse: and hee came to Jaza, and fought against Israel.

25 And Israel tooke all these cities, and dwelt in all the cities of the Amorites in Hesbon, and in all the townes that long thereto.

26 For Hesbon was the citie of Sehon the king of the Amorites which fought before against the king of the Moabites, and tooke all his land out of his hand, vnto Arnon.

27 Wherefore they that speake in prouerbes, say, Come to Hesbon, and let the citie of Sehon be built and repaired.

28 For there is a fire gone out of Hesbon, and a flame from the citie of Sehon, and hath consumed Ar in Moab, and the lords of Bamoth in Arnon.

3 And Balaam sayde vnto Balac, Stand by thy whole burnt sacrifice, and I wil goe, if so be that the Lord will meete me: and whatsoeuer he sheweth mee, I will tell thee. And hee went ‖ higher.

‖ Or, foorth alone, or, speedily.

4 And God met Balaam, and Balaam sayde vnto him, I haue prepared seuen altars, and haue offered vpon euery altar an ox and a ramme.

5 And the Lord put a saying in Balaams mouth, and sayde, Goe againe to Balac, and say on this wise.

6 And when he went againe vnto him, loe, he stood by his whole burnt sacrifice, hee, and all the lords of Moab.

7 And he tooke vp his parable, and said, Balac the king of Moab hath brought mee from Mesopotamia, out of the mountaines of the East, saying, Come, curse Jacob for my sake, come and defie Israel.

8 How shall I curse him, whom God hath not cursed? or how shall I defie him, whom the Lord hath not defied?

9 For from the top of the rockes I see him, and from the hils I beholde him: loe, the people shall dwell by themselues, and shall not be reckoned among the nations.

b That is, the multitude of the children of Israel.

10 Who can tell the b dust of Jacob, and the number of the fourth part of Israel? I pray God that my soule may die the death of the righteous, and that my last ende may be like his.

11 And Balac sayde vnto Balaam, What hast thou done vnto mee? I tooke thee to curse mine enemies, and beholde, thou hast blessed them altogether.

12 Hee answered and sayde, Must I not take heede to speake that which the Lord hath put in my mouth?

13 And Balac sayde vnto him, Come, I pray thee, with me vnto another place, whence thou mayest see them, and thou shalt see but the vtmost part of them, and shalt not see them all: curse them out of that place for my sake.

14 And hee brought him into a fielde, where men might see farre off, to the top of ‡ an hil, and built seuen altars, and offered an ox and a ram on euery altar.

‡ Pisgah.

15 And hee sayde vnto Balac, Stand here by thy whole burnt sacrifice, while I meet the Lord yonder.

16 And the Lord met Balaam, e put a word in his mouth, and said, Goe againe vnto Balac, and say thus.

17 And when he came to him, behold, he stood by his whole burnt sacrifice, and the lords of Moab with him. And Balac sayde vnto him, What hath the Lord said?

18 And hee tooke vp his parable, and answered, Rise vp Balac, and heare, and hearken vnto me, thou sonne of Zippor.

19 God is not a man, that hee should lie, neither the sonne of man, that hee should repent: should hee say, and not doe? or should hee speake, and not make it good?

20 Beholde, I haue taken vpon me to blesse: for hee hath blessed, and it is not in my power to alter it.

21 Hee beholde no vanitie in Jacob, nor sawe transgression in Israel: the Lord his God is with him, and the ioyfull shoute of a King is among them.

22 * God brought them out of Egypt, they haue strength as an Vnicorne.

Num. 24. 8.

23 For there is no sorcery in Jacob, nor soothsaying in Israel, c according to this time it shall be saide of Jacob and Israel, what hath God wrought?

c As it is spoken at this time what wonderous workes the Lord hath done for Israel, so shall it be in time to come.

24 Behold, the people shall rise vp as a Lion, and exalte vp himselfe as a yong Lion: he shall not lie downe d vntill hee eate of the pray, and drinke the blood of them that are slaine.

d Vntill hee hath taken the spoyle from his enemies, and ouercome them.

25 And Balac saide vnto Balaam, Neither curse them, nor blesse them at all.

26 But Balaam answered, and said vnto Balac, Tolde not I thee, saying, All that the Lord speaketh, that I must doe?

27 And Balac saide vnto Balaam, Come, I pray thee, and I wil bring thee yet vnto another place, if at all it wil please God that thou mayest thence curse them for my sake.

28 And Balac brought Balaam vnto the top of Peor, that looketh toward Jesmon.

29 And Balaam said vnto Balac, Make mee here seuen altars, and prepare mee here seuen oxen, and seuen rammes.

30 And Balac did as Balaam had saide, and offered an ox and a ramme on euery altar.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

3 Balaam prophecieth prosperously of the kingdome of Israel, and of the comming of Christ.

AND when Balaam saw that it pleased the Lord that he should blesse Israel, he went not, as he did twise before, to seeke a for soothsaying: but set his face toward the wildernes.

a Hereof may be gathered that heretofore Balaam sought for soothsaying vnder the name of God, but the Lord was alway against him, & hindered his soothsaying that he might haue take both of Gods true word, in stead of soothsaying.

2 And Balaam lift vp his eyes, and looked vpon Israel as hee lay according to his tribes: and the spirit of God came vpon him.

3 Our father died in the wildernesse, and was not in the company of them that gathered themselues together against the Lord in the Congregation of Corah: but died in his owne sinne, and had no sonnes.
4 Wherefore then is the name of our father taken away from among his kinred, because he hath no sonne? Giue vnto vs therefore a possession among the brethren of our father.
5 And Moses brought their cause before the Lord.
6 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,
7 The daughters of Zalphaad speake right: thou shalt giue them a possession to inherite among their fathers brethren, and shalt turne the inheritance of their father vnto them.
8 And thou shalt speake vnto the children of Israel, saying, If a man die, and haue no sonne, ye shal turne his inheritance vnto his daughter.
9 If he haue no daughter, yee shall giue his inheritance vnto his brethren.
10 If hee haue also no brethren, yee shall giue his inheritance vnto his fathers brethren.

2 Command the children of Israel, and say vnto them, My offering, & my bread for my sacrifices, which are made by fire for a sweete sauour, shall ye obserue, to offer vnto me in their due season.

3 And thou shalt say vnto them, This is the offering made by fire, which yee shall offer vnto the Lord: two lambs of a yere old without spot day by day, for a continual whole burnt offring.

4 One Lambe shalt thou prepare in the morning, and the other at Euen, 14 And their drinke offerings shalbe halfe an Hin of wine vnto one bullocke, and the third part of an Hin of wine vnto a Ram, & the fourth part of an Hin vnto a Lambe: This is the whole burnt offering of euery moneth, throughout the moneths of the yeere.

15 And one hee goate for a sinne offering vnto the Lord shalbe offred, besides the daily whole burnt offering, and his drinke offering.

16 * And the fourteenth day of the first moneth, is the Passeouer of the Lord. Exo. 12. 18. Leuit. 23. 5.

17 And in the fifteenth day of the same moneth, is the feast: seuen dayes long shall vnleauened bread be eaten.

18 In the first day shalbe an holy conuocation, ye shal do no maner of seruile worke therein.

19 But ye shal offer a sacrifice made by fire for a whole burnt offering vnto the Lord, two yong bullocks, one Ram, and seuen Lambes of a yere old, let them be without spot,

AND Moses spake vnto the heads of the Tribes, concerning the children of Israel, saying, This is the thing which the Lorde hath commanded.

2 If a man vowe a vow vnto the Lorde, or sweare an othe to bind his soule: he shall not go backe with his worde, but shall fulfill all that is proceeded out of his mouth.

3 If a woman also vowe a vowe vnto the Lorde, and binde her selfe, being in her fathers house in the time of her youth:

4 And her father heare her vowe and bond which shee hath made vpon her soule, and holde his peace thereto: then all her vowes and bonds which shee hath made vpon her soule, shall stand in effect.

5 But if her father disalow her the same day that hee heareth all her vowes and bondes which shee hath made vpon her soule: they shall not be of [a] value, and the Lorde shall forgiue her, because her father disalowed her.

6 If she had an husband when she vowed, or pronounced ought out of her lippes, wherewith she bound her soule:

7 And her husband heard it, and helde his peace thereat the same day he heard it: then her vowes shall stand, and her bonds wherewith she bound her soule, shall stand in effect.

8 And if her husband disalow her the same day that he heard it, then he shall make her vow which she hath vpon her, and the opening of her lippes wherewith shee bound her soule, of none effect, and the Lord shall forgiue her.

9 But euery vowe of a widowe, and of her that is diuorced, that they haue bound their soule withall, shall stand in effect with them.

10 If she vowed in [b] her husbands house, or bound her soule with an othe:

11 And her husband heard it, and helde his peace concerning her, & disalowed her not: then all her vowes shall stand, and euery bond wherewith she bound her soule, shall stand.

12 But if her husband disanulled them the same day that he heard them: then nothing that proceedeth out of her lips in vowes and bonds where with she bound her soule, shall stand in effect: for her husband hath disanulled them, and the Lord shall forgiue her.

13 All vowes and othes that binde to [c] humble the soule, may her husband stablish or breake.

14 But if her husband holde his peace from [d] one day to another, then hee stablisheth all her vowes and bonds which shee had vpon her: hee confirmeth them, because hee helde his peace concerning her the same day that he heard them.

15 But [e] if hee breake them, after that hee hath heard them, hee shall beare her sinne himselfe.

16 These are the ordinances which the Lord commaunded Moses betweene a man and his wife, and betweene the father and his daughter, being yet a damsell in her fathers house.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

2 *Auenge the children of Israel of the Madianites, and afterwarde shalt thou be gathered vnto thy people. Num.25. 17.

3 And Moses spake vnto the people, saying, Harneste some of you vnto warre, and let them goe vpon the Madianites, and auenge the Lord of the Madianites.

4 Of euery tribe a thousand, throughout all the tribes of Israel, shall ye send to the warre.

5 And there were deliuered out of the thousands of Israel, twelue thousand prepared vnto warre, of euery tribe a thousand.

6 And Moses sent them to the warre, a thousand of euery tribe, and with them Phinees the sonne of Eleazar the Priest to the warre, and the holy vessels, and the trumpets to blow were in his hand.

7 And they warred against the Madianites, as the Lord commaunded Moses, and slewe all the males.

8 *And they slewe the kings of Madian among other that were slaine. Namely Eui, and Rekem, Zur, and Hur, and Reba: fiue kings of Madian, with [a] Balaam the son of Beor, whom they slew with the sword. Iosu.13.22.

9 And the children of Israel tooke all the women of Madian prisoners, & their children, and spoyled all their cattell, and all their flockes, and all their goods.

10 And they burnt all their cities wherein they dwelt, and all their goodly dwellings with fire:

11 And they tooke all the spoyle, and all the bootie, both of men and beasts.

12 And they brought the captiues, and that which they had taken, and the spoyle, vnto Moses and Eleazar the Priest, and vnto the company of the children of Israel, euen vnto the host that were in the fields of Moab by Iordane, ouer against Jericho:

13 And Moses and Eleazar the priest, and all the Lords of the congregation, went out of the host to meet them.

14 And Moses was angrie with the officers of the host, with the captaines ouer thousands, and ouer hundreds, which came from the warre and battell.

15 And Moses sayd vnto them, Haue yee saued all the [b] women aliue?

16 *Beholde, these caused the children of Israel, through the counsell of Balaam, to commit trespasse against the Lorde in the businesse of [c] Peor, and there followed a plague among the congregation of the Lord.

17 Now therefore slay al the men children, and kill the women that haue lyen with men fleshly.

18 But al the women children that haue not lyen with men carnally, keepe aliue for your selues.

19 And yee shall remaine without the host seuen dayes, all that haue killed any person, and all that haue touched any dead bodie, and purifie both your selues and your prisoners the third day, and the seuenth:

20 And purifie all your rayments, and that is made of skinnes, and all worke of goates haire, and all things made of wood.

24 And waſh your cloathes the ſeuenth day, and yee ſhall be cleane, and afterward come into the hoſte.

25 And the Lord ſpake vnto Moſes, ſaying,

26 Take the ſumme of the pray, that was taken, both of the perſons and of the cattell, thou and Eleazar the Prieſt, and the chiefe fathers of the congregation:

27 And deuide the pray into two parts, betweene them that tooke the warre vpon them and went out to battell, & all the congregation.

28 And take a tribute vnto the Lorde of the men of warre which went out to battell: one ſoule of fiue hundred, both of the perſons, and of the beeues, and of the aſſes, and of the ſheepe.

36 And the halfe, which was the part of them that went out to warre, was in number three hundred thouſand, and ſeuen and thirtie thouſand, and fiue hundred ſheepe.

37 And the Lords part of the ſheepe, was fiue hundred and threeſcore and fifteene.

38 And the beeues were thirtie and fiue thouſand, of which the Lords part was threeſcore and twelue.

39 And the aſſes were thirtie thouſand and fiue hundred, of which the Lords part was three ſcore and one.

44 And thirtie and fiue thouſand beeues:

45 And thirtie thouſand aſſes, and fiue hundred,

46 And ſixteene thouſand perſons.

47 And Moſes tooke of the halfe that pertained vnto the children of Iſrael, one portion of fiftie, both of the perſons and of the cattell, and gaue them vnto the Leuites which waited vpon the charge of the Tabernacle of the Lorde, as the Lord commanded Moſes.

48 And the officers of thouſands of the hoſte, the captaines ouer the thouſands, and the captaines ouer the hundreds, came forth, 49 And ſaid vnto Moſes, Thy ſeruants haue taken the ſumme of the men of warre which are vnder our authoritie, and there lacketh not one man of vs.

50 We haue therefore brought a preſent vnto the Lorde, what euery man found, of iewels of gold, bracelets, chains, rings, earings, and hanges, to make an atonement for our ſoules before the Lord.

51 And Moſes and Eleazar the Prieſt tooke the gold of them, all the wrought iewels.

52 And all the gold of the heaue offering that they heaued vp to the Lord, of the captains ouer thouſands and hundreds, was ſixteene thouſand, ſeuen hundred, and fiftie ſicles,

53 (For the men of warre had ſpoyled, euery man for himſelfe.)

54 And Moſes and Eleazar the Prieſt tooke the gold of the captains ouer the thouſands and hundreds, and brought it into the tabernacle of the congregation, for a memoriall of the children of Iſrael before the Lord.

12 And then go downe along by Iordan, and leaue at the salt sea: and this shall be your land, with the coasts thereof round about.
13 And Moses commaunded the children of Israel, saying, This is the land which ye shal inherit by lot, and which the Lord commanded to giue vnto nine tribes and an halfe.

The xxxv. Chapter.

16 The law of manslaughter. 30 For one mans witnesse shall no man be condemned.

AND the Lord spake vnto Moses in the fields of Moab by Iordane, ouer against Iericho, saying,
2 Command the children of Israel, *that they giue vnto the Leuites of the inheritance of their possession, cities to dwell in: and ye shall giue also vnto the cities of the Leuites, suburbes, hard by their cities round about them.
3 The cities shall they haue to dwell in, and the suburbs for their cattell, and for their possession, and all maner of beasts of theirs.
4 And the suburbes of the cities which yee shall giue vnto the Leuites, shall reach from the wall of the citie outward, a thousand cubites round about.
5 And ye shall measure without the citie of the Eastside, two thousand cubites: and of the Southside, two thousand cubites: & of the West side, two thousand cubites: and of the North side, two thousand cubits also, & the city shalbe in the midst, & these shalbe the suburbes of their cities.
6 *And from among the cities which ye shal giue vnto the Leuites, there shalbe sixe cities for refuge, which ye shall appoint to that intent that he which killeth, may flee thither: And to them ye shall adde fourtie and two cities more.
7 So that all the cities which yee shall giue the Leuites, may be fourtie and eight, them shal ye giue with their suburbes.
8 And these cities which ye shall giue, shalbe out of the possession of the children of Israel. They that haue many, shall giue many: but of them that haue few, ye shall take few. Euery one shall giue of his cities vnto the Leuites, according to the inheritance which he inheriteth.
9 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,
10 Speake vnto the children of Israel, and say vnto them, *when ye be come ouer Iordane, into the land of Chanaan, 11 Yee shall appoint you cities, to be cities of refuge for you: that hee which slayeth a person vnawares, may flee thither.
12 And these cities shall be vnto you a refuge from the a auenger of blood: that he which killeth, die not, vntil he stand before the b congregation in iudgement.
13 And of these cities which ye shall giue, sixe cities shall ye haue for refuge.
14 Ye shall giue three c on this side Iordane, and three in the land of Chanaan, which shall be cities of refuge.
15 And these sixe cities shall be a refuge, both for the children of Israel, and for the stranger, & for him that dwelleth among you: that all they which kill any person vnwares, may flee thither.
16 And if any man smite another with an instrument of yron, that he die, then is he a murderer, and the murderer shall die for it.
17 If he smite him with throwing a stone, that a man may die with, and if he dig, hee that smote him is a murderer: let the same murderer be slaine therefore.
18 Or if he smite him with an hand weapon of wood, that a man may die with, then if he die, he is a murderer: let the same murderer be slaine therefore.
19 The d reuenger of blood himselfe shall slay the murderer: when he meeteth him, he shal slay him.

him by laying of waite, that he die,
21 Or smite him with his hand of enmitie, that he die, he that smote him shall die the death, for he is a murderer: the reuenger of the blood shall slay the murderer, when he meeteth him.
22 But if he pushed him unawares, and not of hate, or cast vpon him any thing, and not in laying of waite,
23 Or any maner of stone, that a man may die with, and saw him not, and hee caused it to fall vpon him, and he die, and was not his enemie, neither sought him any harme:
24 Then the congregation shall iudge betweene the slayer and the reuenger of blood, according to these lawes.
25 And the congregation shal deliuer the slayer out of the hand of the reuenger of blood, and the congregation shall restore him to the citie of his refuge whither hee was fled: and hee shall abide there vnto the death [c] of the high Priest, which was anointed with the holy oyle.
26 But if the slayer come without the borders of his citie of refuge, whither he was fled:
27 And the reuenger of blood find him without the borders of the citie of his refuge, and the reuenger of blood kil the slayer, he shall be guiltlesse: of blood
28 Because hee should haue bidden in the towne of his refuge, vntill the death of the high Priest: and after the death of the high Priest, the slayer should returne vnto the land of his possession.
29 So these things shall bee a lawe of iudgement vnto you, throughout your generations in all your dwellings.
30 Who so killeth any person, the iudge shall put the murderer to death through witnesses: but one witnesse shal not testifie against any person, to cause him to die.
31 Moreouer, ye shall take no recompense for the life of the murderer which is worthy to die, but he shall be put to death.
32 And yee shall take no recompense for him that is fledde to the citie of his refuge, that hee should come againe and dwell in the land before the death of the high Priest.
33 So ye shall not pollute the land which yee shall dwell in, for blood defileth the land: and the land cannot bee cleansed of the blood that is shed therein, but by the blood of him that shed blood.
34 Defile not therefore the land which ye shal inhabite, for I am in the mids thereof: euen I the Lord dwell among the children of Israel.

The xxxvj. Chapter.

1 An order for the mariage of the daughters of Zalphaad. 7 The inheritance could not bee giuen from one tribe to another.

AND the chiefe fathers of the families of the children of Gilead, the sonne of Machir, the sonne of Manasse, of the linages of the sonnes of Joseph, came forth, and spake before Moses, and before the princes the chiefe fathers of the children of Israel,
2 And sayd, *The Lord commaunded [a] my lord to giue the lande to inherite by lotte to the children of Israel: and my lord was commaunded by the Lord, to giue the inheritance of Zalphaad our brother, vnto his daughters.
3 If they be maried to any of [b] the sons of other tribes of the children of Israel, then shall their inheritance be taken from the inheritance of our fathers, and shal be put to the inheritance of the tribe which they are receiued into, and so shall it be taken from the lot of our inheritance.
4 And when the Jubilee of the children of Israel commeth, then shall their inheritance bee put vnto the inheritance of the tribe whereinto they are receiued, and so shall their inheritance be taken away from the inheritance of the tribe of our fathers.
5 And Moses commanded the children of Israel, according to the word of the Lord, saying, The tribe of the sons of Joseph hath sayd well.
6 This therefore doth the Lord commaund the daughters of Zalphaad, saying, * Let them be wiues to whom they themselues thinke best: only to the family of the tribe of their father shal they marry.
7 So shall not the inheritance of the children of Israel remoue from tribe to tribe: for euery one of the children of Israel shall cleaue himselfe to the inheritance of the tribe of his fathers.
8 And euery daughter that possesseth any inheritance [d] in any tribe of the children of Israel, shalbe wife vnto one of the kinred of the tribe of her father, that the children of Israel may enioy euery man the inheritance of his father.
9 Neither ought the inheritance to go from one tribe to another: but euery one of the tribes of the children of Israel, shall bee ioyned to his owne inheritance.
10 And as the Lord commaunded Moses, so did the daughters of Zalphaad:
11 For Mahla, Tirza, Hagla, Milcha, and Noa, the daughters of Zalphaad, were married vnto their fathers brothers sonnes.
12 They were wiues vnto the families of the sonnes of Manasse, the sonne of Joseph, and so their inheritance remained in the Tribe of the kinred of their father.
13 These are the [e] commandements & lawes which the Lorde commaunded by the hande of Moses, vnto the children of Israel in the fieldes of Moab, by Jordane toward Jericho.

¶ The fifth booke of Moses, called in the Hebrew Elle haddebarim, and in the Latine Deuteronomium.

The first Chapter.

32 Moses reproueth the people for their incredulity.

THese bee the wordes which Moses spake vnto all Israel, on [a] the other side Iordan in the wildernesse, in the plaine ouer against the red sea, betweene Pharan, and Thophel, Laban, Hazeroth, and Dizahab.

2 There are eleuen dayes iourney from Horeb, by the way of mount Seir, vnto Cades Barnea.

3 And it came to passe in the first day of the eleuenth moneth, in the fourtieth yere that Moses spake vnto the children of Israel, according vnto all that the Lorde had giuen him in commandement vnto them,

4 *After he had slaine Sehon the king of the Amorites, which dwelt in Hesbon, and Og the king of Basan, which dwelt at Astaroth in Edrai.

5 On the other side Iordane in the land of Moab, began Moses to declare this law, saying,

6 The Lord our God spake vnto vs in [b] Horeb, saying, Ye haue dwelt long enough in this mount:

7 Turne you, and take your iourney, and goe to the mount of the Amorites, and vnto all the places nigh thereunto, both vnto the plaine, and hils, and dales, to the South, to the sea side, to the land of Chanaan, and vnto Libanon, vnto the great riuer, the riuer Euphrates.

8 Beholde, I haue set the land before you: Goe in and possesse the lande which the Lorde sware vnto your fathers, Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob, to giue vnto them, and to their seede after them.

9 And [c] I spake vnto you in the same time, saying, * I am not able to beare you my selfe alone:

10 For the Lord your God hath multiplied you, so that you be this day as the starres of heauen in number.

11 (The Lord God of your fathers make you a thousand times so many moe as ye are, & bless you, as he hath promised you.)

12 *How can I my selfe alone [d] beare your cumbrance, your charge, and your strife that is among you?

13 Bring you men of wisedom and of vnderstanding, and expert according to your tribes, and I will make them rulers ouer you.

14 And ye answered me, & saide, That which thou hast spoken, is good for vs to doe.

15 And so out of your tribes [e] I tooke the chiefe men of wisedome, and that were expert, and made them rulers ouer you, captaines ouer thousands, and captaines ouer hundreds, captaines ouer fifties, and captaines ouer tens, and officers among your tribes.

16 And I charged your Iudges that same time, saying, *Heare the cause of your brethren, and iudge righteously betweene euery man and his brother, and the stranger that is with him.

17 *Ye shall haue no respect of any person in iudgement, but you shall heare the small as well as the great: You shall not feare the face of any man, for the iudgement is Gods: And the cause that is too hard for you, referre it vnto me, and I will heare it.

18 And I commanded you at that time the same season, all the things which yee should doe.

19 And when we departed from Horeb, we went through al that great and terrible wildernesse, as ye haue seene by the way of the mountaine of the Amorites, as the Lord our God commanded vs: and we came to Cades Barnea.

20 And [f] I said vnto you, Yee are come vnto the mountaine of the Amorites, which the Lord our God doth giue vnto vs.

21 Behold, the Lord thy God hath set the land before thee: goe vp and possesse it, as the Lorde God of thy fathers hath saide vnto thee: Feare not, neither be discouraged.

22 And ye came vnto me euery one, and said, We will send men before vs, to search vs out the land, and to bring vs word againe what way we must goe vp by, and vnto what cities we shal come.

23 *And the saying pleased me well: and I tooke twelue men of you, of euery tribe one.

24 *Which departed, and went vp into that mountaine, and came vnto the [g] valley Escol, and searched it out.

25 And tooke of the land in their hands, and brought it vnto vs, and brought vs word again, and [h] said, It is a good land which the Lord our God doth giue vs.

26 Notwithstanding, yee would not goe vp, but were disobedient vnto the word of the Lord your God.

27 And murmured in your tents, and saide, Because the Lord hateth vs, therefore hath he brought vs out of the land of Egypt, to deliuer vs into the hand of the Amorites, and to destroy vs.

28 Whither shal we go vp? Our brethren haue discouraged our heart, saying, The people is greater and taller then we, the cities are great, and walled vp to heauen, & moreouer, wee haue seene the sonnes of the [k] Anakims there.

29 Then I said vnto you, Dread not, nor be afraid of them:

41 *Then ye answered, and saide vnto mee, We haue sinned against the Lord, n wee will goe vp and fight, according to all that the Lord our God commanded vs. And when ye had gird on euery man his weapons of warre, ye were readie to goe vp into the hill.

42 And the Lord saide vnto mee, Say vnto them, Goe not vp, neither fight, for o I am not among you: least ye fall before your enemies.

43 And I tolde you these things, and you would not heare, but disobeyed the word of the Lorde, and went presumptuously vp into the hill.

44 And the Amorites which dwelt in that mountain came out against you, and chased you as Bees vse to doe, and destroyed you in Seir, euen vnto Horma.

45 And ye came againe, and wept before the Lord: but the Lord p would not heare your voice, nor hearken vnto you.

46 And so ye abode in Cades a long season, according vnto the time that ye remained before.

The ij. Chapter.

7 A rehearsall of the benefites of God bestowed vpon his people. 9 Israel is forbidden to fight against the Edomites, Moabites, and Ammonites. 33 Sehon king of Hesbon is discomfited.

THen we turned our face, and tooke our iourney into the a wildernesse by the way of the red Sea, as the Lord spake vnto me: and we compassed mount Seir a long time.

2 And the Lord spake vnto me, saying,

3 Yee haue compassed this mountaine long enough: turne you Northward.

4 And warne thou the people, saying, Yee shall goe through the b coast of your brethren the children of Esau, which dwell in Seir, and they shall be afraid of you.

5 Take ye good heed vnto your selues therefore: Yee shall not prouoke them, for I will not giue you of their land, no not so much as a foote breadth, because I haue giuen mount Seir vnto Esau to possesse.

6 Yee shall buy meate of them for money to eate, and yee shall procure water of them for money to drinke:

7 For the Lord thy God hath blessed thee in all the workes of thy hand, and c knoweth thy walking thorow this great wildernes, and this fourtie yeres the Lord thy God hath bene with thee, so that thou hast lacked nothing.

8 And when we were departed from our brethren the children of Esau, which dwelt in Seir, thorow the way of the ‖ wildernes, from Elath, and from Eziongaber, wee turned and went by the way of the wildernesse of Moab.

9 And the Lord said vnto me, Thou shalt not fight against the Moabites, neither prouoke them to battell: for I will not giue thee of their land to possesse, because I haue giuen Ar vnto the children of Lot to possesse.

10 The d Emims dwelt therein in times past, a people great, many, and tall, as the e Anakims, 11 Which also were taken for Giants, as the Anakims, whom the Moabites call Emims.

12 The Horims also dwelt in Seir before time, whom the children of Esau chased out, and destroyed them before them, and dwelt in their stead, as Israel did vnto the land of his possession, which the Lord gaue them.

13 Now rise vp, sayd I, and get you ouer the riuer Zared: and we went ouer the riuer Zared.

14 The space in which we came from Cades Barnea, vntill we were come ouer the riuer Zared, was thirty and eight yeres, vntill all the generation of the men of warre were walled out from among the hoste, as the Lord sware vnto them.

15 For in deede the hand of the Lord was against them, to destroy them from among the f hoste, till they were consumed.

16 And so it came to passe, that all the men of warre were consumed and dead from among the people.

17 And the Lord spake vnto me, saying,

18 Thou shalt go thorow Ar, the coast of Moab, this day:

19 And when thou commest nigh vnto the children of Ammon, thou shalt not lay siege vnto them, nor moue warre against them: for I will not giue thee of the land of the children of Ammon any possession, I haue giuen it vnto the children of Lot to possesse.

20 That also was taken for a land of Giants, and Giants dwelt therein in old time, whom the Ammontes call g Zamzummims, 21 A people that was great, many, and tall, as the Anakims: But the Lord destroyed them before them, and they succeeded them in their inheritance, and dwelt in their stead:

dwelt in Seir, for whom the destroyed the Horims before them, and they possessed them, and dwelt in their stead unto this day.

[b] These are men of Cappadocia, as some men say. Josephus saith, that this people is unknown.

24 Rise ye up therefore, and take your iourney ouer the riuer Arnon: Beholde, I haue giuen into thy hand Sehon the Amorite, king of Hesbon, and his land, beginne to possesse it, and prouoke him to battaile.

25 This day will I beginne to send the feare and dread of thee vpon all nations that are vnder all the heauen, so that they which heare speake of thee, shall tremble and quake before thee.

Num.21.21

26 * And I sent messengers out of the wildernesse of Kedemoth, vnto Sehon king of Hesbon, with words of peace, saying, 27 Let me passe through thy land, I will goe along by the high way, I will neither turne vnto the right hand, nor to the left.

28 Thou shalt sell me meate for money, that I may eate, and giue me water for money, that I may drinke: Onely I will goe through on my feete,

[i] Because Sehon could be moued neither with examples, nor requests, his destruction was most iust.

29 As the [i] children of Esau which dwell in mount Seir, and the Moabites which dwell in Ar, did vnto me, vntill I be come ouer Iordane, into the lande which the Lorde our God giueth vs.

30 But Sehon the king of Hesbon would not let vs passe by him, for the Lord thy God hardened his spirit, and made his heart obstinate, because he would deliuer him into thy hand, as it is come to passe this day.

Amos 2.9.

31 And the Lord said vnto mee, * Behold, I haue begun to giue Sehon and his lande before thee, begin to possesse and inherite his land.

32 Then both Sehon and al his people came out against vs to fight at Jaza.

33 And the Lord set him before vs, and wee smote him, and his sonnes, and all his people.

34 And we tooke al his cities the same season, and slew the men, women, and children of al the cities, and let nothing remaine, 35 Saue the cattell onely wee caught vnto our selues, and the spoyle of the cities which we tooke.

36 From Aroer which is by the brinke of the riuer of Arnon, and from the citie that is in the riuer vnto Gilead, there was not one citie too strong for vs: the Lorde our God deliuered all [k] vnto vs.

[k] Into our hands.

37 Only vnto the land of the children of Ammon thou camest not, nor vnto euery place of the ‖ riuer Jaboc, nor vnto the cities in the mountaines, nor vnto whatsoeuer the Lord our God forbade vs.

The iij. Chapter.

Things that chanced from the victorie of the two Kings, Sehon and Og, vnto the institution of Iosuah in Moses stead.

Num.21. 33. deut.29.7.

THen we turned, and went by the way to Bashan: * and Og the king of Bashan came out against vs, hee and al his people, to fight at Edrai.

2 And the Lord said vnto me, Feare him not: for I wil deliuer him, and all his people, and his land into thy hand, & thou shalt doe vnto him, * as thou diddest vnto Sehon king of the Amorites, which dwelt at Hesbon.

Num.21.24

3 * And so the Lord our God deliuered into our hands Og also the king of Bashan, and al his people: and we smote him vntill none was left him aliue.

Num.21.33

4 And we tooke al his cities the same season, neither was there a citie which wee tooke not from them, threescore cities throughout the region of Argob, of the kingdome of Og in Bashan.

5 All these cities also were made strong with high walles, gates, and barres, beside vnwalled townes a great many.

6 And we vtterly destroyed them, as we did vnto Sehon king of Hesbon, bringing to nought all the cities, with men, women, and [a] children.

[a] As God commanded them.

7 But all the cattell, and the spoyle of the cities, we tooke for our selues.

8 And thus we tooke the same season out of the hande of two kings of the Amorites, the land that was on the other side Iordane, from the riuer of Arnon vnto mount Hermon;

9 (which Hermon the Sidons call Sirion: and the Amorites call it Senir.)

10 All the cities that lie in the plaine, and all Gilead, and all Bashan, vnto Selcha and Edrai, cities of the kingdome of Og in Bashan:

11 For onely Og king of Bashan remained of the remnant of Giants, whose bed was a bed of [b] yron: And is it not yet at Rabbath among the children of Ammon? Nine cubits doth the length thereof containe, and foure cubites the breadth of it, after the cubite of a [c] man.

[b] The more terrible this Giant was, the more Gods goodnes and power is to be magnified for the conquest.

[c] Of the common manner.

12 * And so we conquered this land the same time, from Aroer, which is by the riuer of Arnon, vnto halfe mount Gilead, and the cities thereof gaue I vnto the Rubenites, and Gadites.

Num.32.33

13 And the rest of Gilead, and al Bashan, of the kingdome of Og, gaue I vnto the halfe tribe of Manasse: euen all the region of Argob, with all Bashan, which is called the land of Giants.

14 Jair the sonne of Manasse, tooke all the countrey of Argob, vnto the coastes of Gessuri, and Maachati, and called them after his owne name, Bashan Hauoth Jair, [d] vnto this day.

[d] Till the time when this story was written.

15 And I gaue Gilead vnto Machir.

16 And vnto the Rubenites and Gadites, I gaue Gilead, vnto the riuer of Arnon, halfe the valley, and beyond, euen vnto the riuer [e] Jaboc, which is the border of the children of Ammon:

[e] Which departeth the Ammonites from the Amorites.

17 The [f] plaine also, and Iordane, and the coast thereof, from [g] Cinereth, vnto the sea which is in the plaine, euen the salt sea, vnder the springs of the hill, Eastward.

[f] The desert.

[g] Called also Genezareth, or the sea of Galilee, or Tiberias.

18 And I commanded you the same time, saying, The Lorde your God hath giuen you this land to enioye it: Yee shall goe harnessed before your brethren the children of Israel, all that are meete for the warre.

19 Your wiues onely, your children, & your cattell (for I know that ye haue much cattell) shall abide in your cities which I haue giuen you, 20 Vntill the Lorde haue giuen rest vnto your brethren, as well as vnto you, and vntill they also possesse the lande which the Lord your God hath giuen them beyond Iordane: and then shall ye returne againe euery man vnto his possession which I haue giuen you.

Num. 27. 28.

that the Lorde your God hath done vnto these two kings: so shall hee doe vnto all kingdomes whither thou goest.

22 Ye shall not feare them: for the Lord your God he shall fight for you.

23 And I besought the Lorde the same time, saying,

24 O Lord God, thou hast begun to shew thy seruant thy greatnesse, and thy mightie hande: for where is there a [h] God in heauen or in earth, that can doe after thy workes, and like to thy power?

25 I pray thee let mee goe ouer, and see the good land that is beyond Iordane, that goodly mountaine, and Libanon.

26 But the Lorde was angry with mee for your sakes, and would not heare mee: and the Lord said vnto me, Be content, speake no more vnto me of this matter.

27 Get thee vp into the top of ‖the hill, and lift vp thine eyes westward, Northward, Southward, and Eastward, and beholde it with thine eyes: for thou shalt not goe ouer this Iordan.

28 But charge Iosuah, and encourage him, and bolden him: for he shall goe before this people, and he shal diuide vnto them the land which thou shalt see.

29 And so we abode in the valley ouer against the ‖house of Peor.

‖ Or, church or Temple.

The iiij. Chapter.

An exhortation to obserue the lawe without adding thereto, or diminishing. 9 We must teach the law to our children. 15 We ought to make no image whereby we might be induced to idolatrie.

NOw therefore hearken, O Israel, vnto the ordinances, and lawes which I teach you, for to do them, that [a] ye may liue, and goe in and possesse the lande which the Lorde God of your fathers giueth you.

2 Ye shal put nothing vnto the word which I commaund you, neither shall you take ought from it, that yee may [a] keepe the commaundements of the Lord your God, which I command you.

3 [b] Your eyes haue seene what the Lord did against Baal Peor: for all the men that followed Baal Peor, the Lord thy God hath destroyed from among you.

4 But yee that cleaue vnto the Lord your God, are aliue euery one of you this day.

5 Beholde, I haue taught you ordinances and lawes, euen as the Lord my God commanded me, that ye should doe so in the land whither ye goe to possesse it.

6 Keepe them therefore, and doe them, for that is [c] your wisedom and vnderstanding in the sight of the people, that they may heare all these ordinances, and say, Surely it is a wise and vnderstanding people, it is a great nation.

7 For what other nation is so great, that gods come so nigh vnto as the Lord our God is nigh vnto vs in all things as oft as we call vnto him?

8 And what nation is so great, that hath ordinances and lawes so righteous, as all this law, which I set before you this day?

9 Take heed to thy selfe therefore, and keepe thy soule diligently, lest thou forget not the things which thine eies haue seene, and that they depart not out of thy heart all the dayes of thy life: but teach them thy sonnes, and thy sonnes sonnes,

10 Specially the day that thou stoodst before the Lord thy God in Horeb, when the Lord said vnto me, Gather me the people together, and I wil make thē heare my words, that they may learne to feare me all the daies that they shall liue vpon the earth, and that they may teach their children.

11 And ye came and stoode also vnder the mountaine, and the mountaine [d] burnt with fire vnto the mids of heauen, and there was darkenesse, cloudes, and mist.

12 And the Lord spake vnto you out of the mids of the fire, and yee heard the voice of the wordes, but sawe no similitude, saue heard a voice onely.

13 And he declared vnto you his couenant which he commanded you to [e] doe, euen ten commandements, which he wrote vpon two tables of stone.

14 And the Lorde commanded me that same season, that I should teach you ordinances and lawes, which ye ought to doe in the lande whither ye goe to possesse it.

15 Take therefore good heed vnto your selues, as pertaining vnto your soules: (for ye sawe no maner of image in the day that the Lorde spake vnto you in Horeb out of the mids of the fire,)

16 Lest yee marre your selues, and make you a grauen image and picture of any maner of figure, whether it be the likenesse of man, or woman,

17 The likenesse of any maner of beast that is on the earth, or the likenesse of any manner feathered foule that fleeth in the aire,

18 Or the likenesse of any maner worme that creepeth on the earth, or the likenesse of any maner fish that is in the waters beneath the earth:

19 Yea, and least thou lift vp thine eies vnto heauen, and when thou seest the sunne, the moone, and the starres, with all the hoste of heauen, shouldest be driuen to worship them, and serue them, and shouldest worship and serue the things which the Lord thy God hath made to serue all nations vnder the whole heauen.

20 But the Lord hath taken you, and brought you out of the [f] yron furnace, euen out of Egypt, to be vnto him a people and an inheritance, as ye be this day.

21 * Furthermore, the Lord was angry with me for your words, and sware that I should not goe ouer Iordane, and that I should not goe in vnto that good land which the Lord thy God giueth thee for thine inheritance.

22 But I must die in this land, and shall not goe ouer Iordane: but ye shall goe ouer, and possesse that good land.

23 Take heede vnto your selues, that yee forget not the appointement of the Lord your God which he made with you, and that yee make you no grauen [g] image or likenesse that the Lord thy God hath forbidden thee.

24 For the Lord thy God is a [h] consuming fire, and a [i] iealous God.

25 When thou shalt beget children, and thy children beget children, and shalt haue remained long in the land, ye doe wickedly and make any manner of grauen image, and worke euill in the sight of the Lord thy God, to prouoke him to anger:

26 I call heauen and earth to record against you

28 And there yee shall serue gods which are the worke of mens hand, wood and stone, which neither see, nor heare, nor eate, nor smell.

29 If from thence thou shalt seeke the Lorde thy God, thou shalt find him, if thou seeke him with all thy heart, and with all thy soule.

30 When thou art in tribulation, and when all these things that be here spoken of, are come vpon thee, euen in the latter dayes, if thou turne to the Lord thy God, and shalt be obedient vnto his voice,

7 The Lord did not ſet his loue vpon you, nor chooſe you becauſe yee were moe in number then any people (for ye were the feweſt of all people:)

8 But becauſe the Lord loued you, and becauſe hee would keepe the othe which he had ſworne vnto your fathers, therefore hath the Lord brought you out through a mightie hand, and deliuered you out of the houſe of bondage, from the hand of Pharao king of Egypt.

14 Thou ſhalt be bleſſed aboue all nations: there ſhall be neither man nor woman vnfruitfull among you, nor any of your cattell ſhall be barren. Exo. 23.26.

15 Moreouer, the Lord will take away from thee all maner infirmities, and will put none of the euill diſeaſes of Egypt (which thou knoweſt) vpon thee: but will lay them vpon all them that hate thee.

The viij. Chapter.

Moses putteth the Israelites in remembrance of al the benefites which God bestowed vpon them, and the afflictions which God sent them in the wildernes, 19 lest the forgetfulnesse therof should bring them to destruction.

ALL the commandements which I command thee this day, shall yee keepe for to doe them, that ye may liue, and multiply, and goe in, and possesse the land which the Lorde sware vnto your fathers.

2 And thou shalt remember all the way which the Lorde thy God led thee this fourtie yeres in the wildernesse, for to humble thee, and to a prooue thee, and to know what was in thine heart, whether thou wouldest keepe his commandements or no.

3 He humbled thee, and suffered thee to hunger, and fed thee with Manna, which neither thou nor thy fathers knewe of, to make thee know that a man doth not liue by bread onely, but by euery worde that proceedeth out of the mouth of the Lord, doth a man liue.

4 Thy raiment waxed not olde vpon thee, neither did thy foot b swell these fourtie yeeres.

5 This also shalt thou consider in thine heart: that as a man chastiseth his sonne, so the Lord thy God chasteneth thee.

6 Therefore shalt thou keepe the commandements of the Lord thy God, that thou walke in his wayes, and feare him.

7 For the Lord thy God bringeth thee into a good land, a land in the which are riuers of water, and fountaines, and depthes that spring out of valleyes and hilles:

8 A land wherein is wheate & barley, vines, yards, figge trees, and pomegranates, a lande wherein is oyle Oliue, and hony:

9 A land wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarcenesse, neither shalt thou lacke any thing: a land whose stones c are yron, and out of whose hils thou shalt digge braſſe.

10 When thou hast eaten therof and filled thy self, thou shalt blesse the Lord thy God, for the good land which he hath giuen thee.

11 Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God, that thou wouldest not keepe his commandements, his lawes and his ordinances, which I command thee this day:

12 Yea, and when thou hast eaten and filled thy self, and hast built goodly houses, and dwelt therein:

13 And when thy beastes and thy sheepe are waxen many, and thy siluer and golde is multiplied, and all that thou hast is increased:

14 Then beware least thine d heart rise, and thou forget the Lorde thy God which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, and from the house of bondage:

15 And which was thy guide in the great and terrible wildernesse, wherein were fierie serpents, scorpions, and drought without any water: But he brought out water for thee out of the rocke of flint.

16 Hee fedde thee in the wildernesse with Manna, which thy fathers knewe not, for to humble thee, and to prooue thee, and that hee might doe thee good at the latter end,

17 Lest thou shouldest say in thine heart, My power e and the might of mine owne hand hath prepared me this abundance:

18 But remember the Lord thy God, for it is hee which giueth thee power to f get substance, for to make good the promise which he sware vnto thy fathers, as appeareth this day.

19 And if thou forget the Lord thy God, and walke after strange gods, and serue them, and worship them: I testifie g vnto you this day, that ye shall surely perish.

20 As the nations which the Lord destroyeth before your face, so yee shall perish, because yee would not be obedient vnto the voice of the Lord your God.

The ix. Chapter.

4 God is not good to them for their owne righteousnesse, but for his owne sake. 17 The two tables are broken. 26 Moses prayeth for the people.

HEare, O Israel, thou passest ouer Iordane a this day, to goe in, and possesse nations greater & mightier then thy selfe, cities great, and walled vp to heauen:

2 A people great and tall, the children of the Anakims, which thou knowest of, and of whom thou hast heard say, Who can stand before the children of Anak?

3 Understand therefore this day, that the Lord thy God is he which goeth ouer before thee as a consuming b fire, he shall destroy them, and hee shall bring them downe before thy face: So shalt thou cast them out, & bring them to nought quickly, as the Lord hath said vnto thee.

4 Speake not thou in thine heart, after that the Lord thy God hath cast them out before thee, saying, For my righteousnesse the Lord hath brought mee in to possesse this land: but for the wickednesse of these nations the Lord hath cast them out before thee.

5 It is not for thy righteousnesse sake, or for thy right heart, that thou goest to possesse their land: But for the wickednesse of these nations the Lord thy God doth cast them out before thee, & to performe the worde which the Lord sware vnto thy fathers Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob.

6 Understand therefore, that it is not for thy righteousnesse sake, that the Lord thy God doth giue thee this good land to possesse it, seeing thou art a c stiffenecked people.

7 Remember, d and forget not howe thou prouokedst the Lord thy God to anger in the wildernesse: since the day that thou diddest depart out of the land of Egypt, vntill ye came vnto this place, yee haue rebelled against the Lord.

8 Also in ‖ Horeb yee prouoked the Lord to anger, so that the Lord was wroth with you, to haue destroyed you, of stone, written with the finger of God, and in them were contained all the wordes which the Lord had spoken vnto you in the mount out of the mids of fire, in the day when ye came together.

9 When I was gone vp into the mount, to receiue the tables of stone, the tables of the couenant which the Lord made with you, and I abode in the mount fourtie dayes and fourtie nights, when I neither did eat bread, nor drinke water.

11 And when the fourtie dayes and fourtie nights were ended, the Lord gaue mee the two tables of stone, the tables of the couenant.

12 And the Lord said vnto me, Arise, and get thee downe quickly from hence, for thy people which thou hast brought out of Egypt, haue marred all: they are turned at once out of the way which I commanded them, and haue made them a molten image.

13 Furthermore, the Lorde spake vnto mee, saying, I haue seene this people, and behold, it is a stiffnecked people.

14 Let me alone, that I may destroy them, and put out the name of them from vnder heauen, and I will make of thee a mightie nation, and greater then they be.

15 And I turned mee, and came downe from the hill, and (the hill from the hill that burnt with fire, and the two tables of the couenant were in my hands.

16 And I looked, and behold, ye had sinned against the Lord your God, and had made you a molten calfe, and had turned at once out of the way which the Lord had commanded you.

17 And I tooke the two tables, and cast them out of my two handes, and brake them before your eyes.

18 And I fell downe flat before the Lorde as at the first time, and fourtie dayes, and fourtie nights, I did neither eate bread, nor drinke water, because of all your sinnes, which ye sinned, in doing wickedly in the sight of the Lorde, in that ye prouoked him vnto wrath.

19 (For I was afraid, that for the wrath and fierceneſſe wherewith the Lord was moued against you, hee would haue destroyed you) But the Lord heard me at that time also.

20 The Lorde was very angry with Aaron also to haue destroyed him: And I made intercession for Aaron also the same time.

21 And I tooke your sinne, the calfe which ye had made, and burnt him with fire, and stamped him, and ground him very small, euen to dust: and I cast the dust thereof into the brooke that descended out of the mount.

22 Also at the burning place, at the place of tempting, and at the sepulchres of lust, ye prouoked the Lord to anger.

23 Likewise when the Lorde sent you from Cades Barnea, saying, Goe vp and possesse the land which I haue giuen you, ye rebelled against the word of the Lord your God, and neither beleeued him, nor hearkened vnto his voice.

24 You haue bene rebellious vnto the Lord, since the day that I knew you.

25 And I fell downe flat before the Lord fourtie daies, and fourtie nights, as I fell downe before, for the Lord had said, he would destroy you.

26 I made intercession therefore vnto the Lorde, and saide, O Lord God, destroy not thy people, and thine inheritance, which thou hast deliuered through thy greatnesse, which thou hast brought out of Egypt through a mightie hand.

27 Remember thy seruants, Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob, & looke not vnto the stubbornnesse of this people, nor to their wickednes & sin:

28 Least the land whence thou broughtest them, say, The Lord is not able to bring them into the land which he promised them, & because he hated them, therefore hath he caried them out, to slay them in the wildernesse.

29 Behold, they are thy people, and thine inheritance which thou broughtest out in thy mightie power, and in thy stretched out arme.

The x. Chapter.

1 The Tables are renewed, and put into the Arke.

AT the same season the Lord saide vnto me, Hew thee two tables of stone, like vnto the first, and come vp vnto mee into the mount, and make thee an Arke of wood.

2 And I will write in the tables the words that were in the first tables which thou brakest, and thou shalt put them in the Arke.

3 And I made an Arke of Sittim wood, and hewed two tables of stone like vnto the first, and went vp into the mountaine, hauing the two tables in mine hand.

4 And hee wrote in the tables, according to the first writing, the ten commandements, which the Lorde spake vnto you in the mount out of the mids of the fire, in the day when you were gathered together; and the Lorde gaue them vnto me.

5 And I departed and came downe from the hill, and put the tables in the Arke which I had made, and there they be, as the Lord commanded me.

6 And the children of Israel tooke their iourney from Beeroth of the children of Iaakan, to Mosera, where Aaron died, and was buried, and Eleazar his sonne became Priest in his stead.

7 From thence they departed vnto Gudgodah, and from Gudgodah to Jetherah, a land with riuers of waters.

8 The same season the Lorde separated the tribe of Leui, to beare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, and to stand before the Lord, and to minister vnto him, and to bleſſe in his name vnto this day.

9 Wherefore the Leuites haue no part nor inheritance with their brethren: but the Lorde is their inheritance, as the Lord thy God hath promised them.

10 And I tarried in the mount, as at the first time, fourtie dayes, and fourtie nights: and the Lord heard me at that time also, and the Lord would not destroy thee.

11 And the Lord said vnto me, Arise, and go forth in the iourney before the people, that they may goe in, and possesse the land which I sware vnto their fathers, to giue vnto them.

12 And nowe Israel, what doth the Lord thy God require of thee, but to feare the Lorde thy God, and to walke in all his waies, to loue him, and to serue the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soule:

13 That thou keepe the commandements of the Lord, and his ordinances, which I command thee this day for thy wealth.

The xi. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to loue God and alwayes to bee mindfull of his lawes, and to keepe them.

THerefore thou shalt a loue the Lord thy God, and keepe his obseruances, his ordinances, his lawes and his commandements alway.

2 Knowe you this day (for I speake not to your children which haue neither knowen nor seene) the chastisement of the Lord your God, his greatnesse, his mighty hand, and his stretched out arme,

3 His miracles and his actes which hee did in the middes of Egypt, euen vnto Pharao the king of Egypt, and vnto all his land:

4 And what he did vnto the hoste of Egypt, vnto their horses and chariots, how he brought the water of the red sea vpon them, as they pursued you behind, how the Lord hath brought them to nought vnto this day:

5 And what hee did vnto you in the wildernesse, vntill ye came vnto this place:

6 And what he did vnto * Dathan and Abiram the sonnes of Eliab the sonne of Ruben: how the earth opened her mouth and swallowed them with their houholds, and their tents, and all their substance that was ‖ in their possession in the middes of Israel.

7 Doubtlesse, your eyes haue seene all the great actes of the Lord, which he did.

8 Therefore shall ye keepe all the commandements which I commaund you this day, that ye may be strong, and goe in, and possesse the land whither ye goe to possesse it:

9 And that yee may prolong your dayes in the land which the Lorde sware vnto your fathers to giue vnto them, and to their seed, a land that floweth with milke and honie.

10 For the land whither thou goest vp to possesse it, is not as the land of Egypt that yee came out of, where thou sowedst thy seed, and b wateredst it with thy feete, as a garden of herbes.

11 But the land whither yee goe ouer to possesse it, is a land that hath hilles and valleys, and drinketh water of the raine of heauen.

12 This land doeth the Lorde thy God care for, and the eies of the Lord thy God are alwaies vpon it, from the beginning of the yere, vnto the end of the yeere.

13 If you shall hearken therefore vnto my commaundements which I commaunde you this day, that yee loue the Lord your God, and serue him with all your heart, and with all your soule:

14 I also will giue raine vnto your land in due season, the c first raine and the latter, that thou mayest gather in thy corne, thy wine, and thine oyle.

15 And I will send grasse in thy fields for thy cattell, that thou mayest eate, and all thy selfe.

16 d Beware that your d heart deceiue you not, and yee turne aside, and serue strange gods, and worship them:

17 And then the Lord, being wroth against you, shut vp the heauen, that there be no raine, and that your land yeelde not her fruit, and lest ye perish quickly from off the good land which the Lord giueth you.

18 * Therefore shal ye put vp these my words in your heart, and in your soule, and binde them for a signe vpon your hand, that they may be as ‖ frontlets betweene your eyes.

19 And ye shal teach them your children, that they may talke of them, when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, when thou liest downe, and when thou risest vp.

20 Yea, and thou shalt write them vpon the doore postes of thine house, and vpon thy gates:

21 That your dayes may be multiplied, and the dayes of your children, in the land which the Lord sware vnto your fathers to giue them, as long as the dayes of heauen last vpon the earth.

22 For if yee keepe all these commandements which I commaund you, to doe them: namely, that ye loue the Lord your God, and walke in all his wayes, and cleaue vnto him:

23 Then will the Lord cast out all these nations before you, and ye shall be heires of great nations, and of them that are mightier then your selues.

24 * All e the places whereon the soles of your feete shall treade, shalbe yours: from the wilderdesse, and from Libanon, and from the riuer Euphrates, vnto the vttermost sea, shall your coast be.

25 There shall no man be able to stand before you: for the Lord your God shall cast the feare and dread of you vpon all the land that yee shall tread vpon, as he hath said vnto you.

26 Behold, I set before you this day a blessing and a curse:

27 A blessing, if ye obey the commandements of the Lord your God, which I command you this day:

28 And a curse, if yee will not obey the commandements of the Lord your God, but turne out of the way which I command you this day, to goe after strange gods which yee haue ‖ not knowen.

29 When the Lorde thy God therefore hath brought thee into the land whither thou goest to possesse it, thou shalt * put the blessing vpon mount Garizim, & the curse vpon mount Ebal.

The xii. Chapter.

1 God commandeth the places of idolatrie to be destroyed. 5.8 God will be serued as hee doeth appoint, and not as man doeth fantasie.

THese are the ordinances & lawes, which ye shall obserue and doe in the land which the Lord God of thy fathers giueth thee to possesse it, as long as ye liue vpo the earth.

2 Ye shall destroy all places, wherein the nations which ye shal possesse serued their gods, vpon high mountaines, on hilles, and vnder euery greene tree.

3 You shall ouerthowe their altars, and breake their pillars, and burne their [a] groues with fire, and you shall hewe downe the grauen images of the gods that they haue, and bring the names of them to nought out of that place.

[a] Wherein they made sacrifice to their false gods.

4 Ye shall not doe so vnto the Lorde your God:

2.Chr.7.12

5 *But ye shall seeke the place which the Lord your God shal chuse out of all your tribes, to put his name there, and there to dwell, and thither thou shalt come:

6 And thither ye shall bring your whole burnt sacrifices, your offerings, your tithes, & heaue offerings of your hand, your vowes, your free will offerings, and the first borne of your kine, and of your sheepe.

[b] In the place where the arke is.

7 And there ye shall eate [b] before the Lord your God, and ye shall reioice in all that you put your hand vnto, both ye and your householdes, wherein the Lord thy God hath blessed thee.

[c] Declareth not that they now serued God after their olde instructions, but that neuerthelesse they would serue him yet more purely in the land of Chanaan.

8 Ye shall not doe after all [c] the things that we doe here this day, euery man that seemeth him good in his owne eyes.

9 For ye are not yet come to rest, and to the inheritance which the Lord your God giueth you.

10 But when ye goe ouer Iordane, and dwell in the land which the Lord your God hath giuen you to inherit, and when he hath giuen you rest from all your enemies round about, and that dwell in safety:

11 Then vnto the place which the Lorde your God hath chosen to put his name there, ye shall bring all that I commaund you: your whole burnt sacrifices, your offerings, your tithes, the heaue offering of your hand, and all your speciall vowes which ye vowe vnto the Lord.

3.Reg.8.29

12 And ye shall reioice before the Lord your God, ye and your sonnes and your daughters, your seruants and your maidens, and the Leuite that is within your gates, forasmuch as he hath no part nor inheritance with you.

13 Take heede, that thou offer not thy whole burnt offerings in euery place that thou seest.

14 But in the place which the Lord shal chuse in one of thy tribes, there thou shalt offer thy whole burnt offerings, and there thou shalt doe all that I commaund thee.

15 Notwithstanding thou mayest kill and eat flesh in all thy ‖ cities, whatsoeuer thy soule lusteth after, [d] according to the blessing of the Lorde thy God which he hath giuen thee: both the vncleane and the cleane may eat thereof, of the Roe bucke and of the Hart.

[d] According to the ability that hee hath giuen thee.

16 Only ye shal not [e] eat the blood, but powre it vpon the earth as water.

[e] This prohibition was made, that men might learne to abhorre cruelty.

17 Thou mayest not eate within thy gates the tythe of thy corne, of thy wine, and of thy oyle, and the first borne of thy kine, and of thy sheepe, neither any of thy vowes which thou vowest, nor thy free will offerings, or heaue offering of thine hand:

18 But thou must eat them before the Lorde thy God, in the place which the Lorde thy God hath chosen, thou, and thy sonne, and thy daughter, thy seruant, and thy mayde, and the Leuite that is within thy gates: and thou shalt reioyce before the Lord thy God, in all that thou puttest thine hand to.

19 Beware that thou forsake not the Leuite, as long as thou liuest vpon the earth.

20 If when the Lord thy God shall enlarge thy border, as he hath promised thee, thou say, I will eat flesh (because thy soule [f] longeth to eate flesh) thou mayest eat flesh whatsoeuer thy soule lusteth.

deut.19.9.

21 If the place which the Lord thy God hath chosen to put his name there, be too farre from thee, then thou shalt kill of thy oxen and of thy sheepe, which the Lorde hath giuen thee, as I haue commaunded thee, and thou shalt eate in thine owne citie ‖ whatsoeuer thy soule lusteth.

22 And as the Roe bucke and the Hart is eaten, so thou shalt eate them: both the cleane and the vncleane shall eat of them.

25 Thou shalt not eat it, that it may goe well with thee, and with thy children after thee: but thou shalt doe that which is right in the sight of the Lord.

26 But thy holy [g] things which thou hast, and thy vowes, thou shalt take, and come vnto the place which the Lord hath chosen.

[g] Things consecrated to God, or that are appointed for sacrifice.

27 And thou shalt offer thy whole burnt offerings, both flesh and blood, vpon the altar of the Lorde thy God: and the blood of thine offerings shall be powred out vpon the altar of the Lorde thy God, and thou shalt eat the flesh.

28 Take heed, & heare all these words which I command thee, that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee for euer, if thou doest that which is good and right in the sight of the Lord thy God.

29 When the Lorde thy God shall destroy the nations before thee, whither thou goest to possesse them, and thou succeedest in their inheritance, and dwellest in their land:

Deut.4.2. prou.30.6.

The xiij. Chapter.

1 The false prophets, 5 and the inticers to idolatrie, must be put to death.

IF there arise among you a prophet, or a dreamer of dreames, and giue thee a signe or a wonder,

2 And that signe or wonder which he hath said, come to passe, and then say, Let vs goe after straunge gods (which thou hast not knowen) and let vs serue them:

3 Hearken not thou vnto the words of that prophet or dreamer of dreames: for the Lord thy God proueth you, to knowe whether you loue the Lorde your God with all your heart, and with all your soule.

4 Ye shall walke after the Lord your God, and feare him, keepe his commandements, and hearken vnto his voice, you shall serue him, and cleaue vnto him.

5 And that prophet or dreamer of dreames shall die, because he hath spoken to turne you away from the Lord your God, which brought you out of the land of Egypt, and deliuered you out of the house of bondage, to thrust thee out of the way which the Lorde thy God commanded thee to walke in) and therefore thou shalt put the euill away from thee.

6 If thy brother, the sonne of thy mother, or thine owne sonne, or thy daughter, or the wife that lieth in thy bosome, or thy friend, which is as thine owne soule vnto thee, entise thee secretly, saying, Let vs go & serue straunge gods, which thou hast not knowen, nor yet thy fathers:

7 And they be any of the gods of the people which are round about you, whether they be nigh vnto thee, or farre off from thee, from the one end of the earth vnto the other:

8 Thou shalt not consent vnto him nor hearken vnto him, thine eyes shall not pitie him, neither shalt thou haue compallion on him, nor keepe him secret.

Deut. 17.7.

9 But * cause him to be slaine: thine hand shalbe first vpon him, to kill him, and then the hands of all the people.

10 And thou shalt stone him with stones, that he die: because he hath gone about to thrust thee away from the Lorde thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage.

11 And all Israel shall heare and feare, and shal doe no more any such wickednesse as this is among you.

12 If thou shalt heare say in one of thy cities, which the Lorde thy God hath giuen thee to dwell in,

13 That certaine men being the children ‖ of Belial, are gone out from among you, and haue moued the inhabitants of the city, saying, Let vs goe and serue straunge gods, which ye haue not knowen:

14 Then thou must seeke, and make search, and enquire diligently: and behold, if it be true and the thing of a surtie, that such abomination is wrought among you:

15 Then thou shalt smite the dwellers of that city with the edge of the sword, and destroy it vtterly, and all that is therein, and the beast thereof, with the edge of the sword.

16 And gather all the spoile of it into the midst of the streete thereof, and burne with fire both the citie, and all the spoile thereof euery whit, for the Lord thy God: and it shall be an heape for euer, and shall not be built againe.

17 And there shall cleaue nought of the damned thing in thine hand, that the Lord may turne from the fiercenesse of his wrath, and shew thee mercie, and haue compallion on thee, and multiply thee, as he hath sworne vnto thy fathers.

18 Therefore shalt thou hearken vnto the voice of the Lord thy God, to keepe all his commandements which I command thee this day, that thou doe that which is right in the eyes of the Lord thy God.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The manner of the Gentiles in mourning for the dead may not be followed. 4 What meates are cleane to be eaten, and what not.

YE * are the children of the Lord your God: Ye shall not cut your selues, nor make you any baldnesse betweene your eyes for the dead.

Deut.7.6. and 26.18.

2 For thou art an holy people vnto the Lord thy God, and the Lord hath chosen thee to be a peculiar people vnto himselfe, aboue all the nations that are vpon the earth.

7 Neuertheless, these ye shal not eat of them that chew cud, and of them that deuide the cleane the hoofe, onely the Camel, the Hare, and the Conie: for they chew the cud, but deuide not the hoofe, therefore they are vncleane vnto you.

8 And also the Swine, though he deuide the hoofe, yet he cheweth not cud, therefore is he vncleane vnto you; ye shal not eate of the flesh of such, nor touch the dead carkeise of them.

9 These ye shal eat, of all that are in the waters: all that haue finnes and scales shall ye eate.

10 And whatsoeuer hath not finnes & scales, of that ye may not eate, but it is vncleane vnto you.

11 Of all cleane birdes ye shall eate.

12 But these are they of which yee shall not eate: the Eagle, the Gorhauke, and the Ospray,

1 The forgiuenesse of debts in the seuenth yeere. 7 To helpe the poore is commended. 12 The freedome of seruants.

Leuit. 25. 2.

AT the terme of * seuen yeres thou shalt make a freedome.
2 And this is the maner of the freedome, Whosoeuer a lendeth ought with his hande vnto his neighbour, may not aske againe (that which he hath lent) of his neighbour, or of his brother, because it is called the Lords free yeere.
3 Yet of a stranger thou mayest call it home againe, but he that is thy brother, him shal thine hand remit.
4 In any wise there b shall be no begger among you: for the Lorde shall blesse thee in the land which the Lord thy God giueth thee for an inheritance ‡:
5 So that thou hearken vnto the voice of the Lord thy God, to obserue and to do all these commandements which I command thee this day:
6 For the Lord thy God hath blessed thee, as he hath promised thee, and thou shalt lend vnto many nations, but thou thy selfe shalt not borow: and thou shalt reigne ouer many nations, and they shall not reigne ouer thee.

a This is spoken in fauour of those betters that were poore or not able to pay.

b So that if the better be rich, he may be forced to pay his debt, this ordinance notwithstanding.
‡ To possesse it.

7 If one of thy brethren among you bee poore, within any of thy gates, in the land which the Lorde thy God giueth thee: thou shalt not harden thine heart, nor shut to thine hand from thy poore brother:
8 But thou shalt * open thine hand vnto him, and lend him sufficient for his need which he hath.
9 Beware that there be not a wicked thought in thine heart, that thou wouldest say, The seuenth yeere, the yeere of freedome is at hande: and therefore it grieueth thee to looke on thy poore brother, and giuest him nought, and hee then crie vnto the Lorde against thee, and it be same vnto thee.
10 Thou shalt giue him and let it not grieue thine heart to giue vnto him: because that for this thing the Lord thy God shall blesse thee in all thy workes, and in all that thou puttest thine hand vnto.
11 The land shall * neuer be without poore: and therefore I commaund thee, saying, Thou shalt open thine hand vnto thy brother that is needie and poore in thy land.
12 * If thy brother an Hebrew sel himselfe to thee, or an Hebrew woman, and serue thee sixe yeeres, in the seuenth yere thou shalt let him go free from thee.
13 And when thou sendest him out free from thee, thou shalt not let him goe away emptie:
14 But shalt giue him liberally of thy sheep, of thy corne, and of thy wine, wherewith thou hast blessed him of that where with the Lord thy God hath blessed thee.
15 And remember that thou wast a seruant in the land of Egypt, and the Lord thy God deliuered thee thence: and therefore I commaund thee this thing to day.
16 And if hee say vnto thee, I will not goe away from thee, because he loueth thee, and thine houle, and is well at ease with thee,
17 Then shalt thou take a naule, and pierce his eare to the doore therewith, and let him bee thy seruant for euer, and vnto thy mayd seruant thou shalt doe likewise.
18 And let it not grieue thine eye when thou lettest him goe out from thee, for he hath beene worth a double hyred seruant to thee in his seruice sixe yeeres: and the Lord thy God shal blesse thee in all that thou doest.
19 * All the first males that come of thy cattell, and of thy sheepe, thou shalt hallow vnto the Lord thy God: thou shalt doe no worke with the first borne bullocke, nor sheare the first borne of thy sheepe.
20 Thou shalt eat it before the Lord thy God yeere by yeere, in the place which the Lorde shall chuse, both thou and thy houshold.
21 * If there be any blemish therein: as if it be lame or blinde, or haue any other euill fauouredneste, thou shalt not offer it vnto the Lord thy God, 22 But shalt eat it within thine owne gates: the vncleane and cleane person shall eat it alike, as the Roe and the Hart.

The xx. Chapter.

3 The exhortation of the Priest, when the Israelites goe to battell. 10 Peace must first be proclaimed. 19 The trees that beare fruit must not be destroied.

WHen thou goest out to battell against thine enemies, and seest horses and charets, and people more then thou, be not afraid of them: for the Lorde thy God is with thee, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

2 And when ye are come nigh vnto battell, the Priest shall come forth to speake vnto the people,

3 And shal say vnto them, Heare, O Israel, you are come this day vnto battell against your enemies, let not your hearts faint, neither feare, nor be amazed, nor adread of them:

4 For the Lord a your God goeth with you, to fight for you against your enemies, and to saue you.

a Gods power and power is euer readie to helpe you.

5 And let the officers speake vnto the people, saying, If *any man haue built a newe house, and b haue not dedicate it: let him goe and returne to his house, least he die in the battell, and another man dedicate it.

Iudg.7.3. 1.mac.3. 56.

b When any took possession of an house, he rendred thankes to God for that benefite.

6 And if any man hath planted a vineyard, and haue not made ‖ it common: let *him goe and returne againe vnto his house, lest he die in the battell, and another make it common.

‖ Or, eaten of the fruit.

7 And if any man be betrothed vnto a wife, and haue not taken her, let him goe and returne againe vnto his house, least he die in the battell, and another man take her.

Leuit.19.9.

8 And let the *officers speake further vnto the people, and say, If any man feare, and bee faint hearted, let him goe and returne vnto his house, least hee make his brothers heart faint as well as his.

Iudg.7.3.

9 And when the officers haue made an ende of speaking vnto the people, they shal make captaines of the armie to gouerne the people.

10 When thou comest nigh vnto a citie to fight against it, offer them peace.

c If it alow thy offer of peace.

11 And if they c answere thee againe peaceably, and open vnto thee, then let all the people that is found therein, be tributaries vnto thee, and serue thee.

12 And if they will make no peace with thee, but make warre against thee, thou shalt besiege it.

13 And when the Lorde thy God hath deliuered it into thine hands, thou shalt smite all the males thereof with the edge of the sword.

14 But the women, and the children, and the cattell, and all that is in the citie, and all the spoyle thereof, shalt thou take vnto thy selfe, and eat the spoyle of thine enemies, which the Lord thy God hath giuen thee.

15 Thus shalt thou doe vnto all the cities which are a great way off from thee, which are not of the cities of d these nations.

d Of the Chananites, &c.

16 But of the cities of these nations, which the Lord thy God doth giue thee to inherite, thou shalt saue alive nothing that breatheth:

18 That they teach you not to doe after all their abominations, which they haue done vnto their gods, and so yee should sinne against the Lord your God.

19 When thou hast belieged a citie a long time, and made warre against it, to take it, destroy not the trees thereof, that thou mayest thrust an axe vnto them; but eate of them, and cut them not downe to further thee in thy siege: ‖ for the tree of the field is mans life, 20 Onely those trees which thou knowest to be vnfruitfull, those shalt thou destroy, and cut downe, and make bulwarkes against the citie that maketh warre with thee, vntill thou subdue it.

‖ For it is but wood vpon the field, and no man, and can not come & be bulwarkes against thee,

6 If thou chance vpon a birdes nest by the way, in whatsoeuer tree it be, or on the ground, whether they bee yong or egges, and the damme sitting vpon the yong, or on the egges, thou shalt not take the damme with the yong:

7 But shalt in any wise let the damme goe, and take the yong to thee, that thou mayest prosper, and prolong thy dayes.

8 When thou buildest a newe house, thou shalt make a battlement on the roofe, that thou lade not thine house with blood, if any man fall from thence.

10 Thou shalt not plowe with an ore and an asse together.

11 Thou shalt not weare a garment made of wool and linen together.

12 Thou shalt make thee *gardes vpon the foure quarters of thy vesture, wherewith thou couerest thy selfe.

13 If a man take a wife, and when hee hath lien with her, hate her,

14 And lay shameful things vnto her charge, and bring vp an euil name vpon her, and say, I tooke this wife, & when I came to her, I found her not a maide:

15 Then shall the father of the damosell, and the mother, bring forth the tokens of the damosels virginitie, vnto the Elders of the citie, in the gate.

16 And the damosels father shall say vnto the Elders, I gaue my daughter vnto this man to wife, and he hateth her:

17 And loe, hee laieth shamefull things vnto her charge, saying, I founde not thy daughter a maid: and yet these are the tokens of my daughters virginitie. And they shal spread the vesture before the Elders of the citie.

18 And the Elders of that citie shall take that man, and chastise him, 19 And mearse him in an hundred sicles of siluer, and giue them vnto the father of the damosel, because he hath brought vp an euil name vpon a maid of Israel: And the shalbe his wife, and he may not put her away all his daies.

20 But and if the thing bee of a sureetie that the damosel be not found a virgine:

21 They shal bring the damosel to the doore of her fathers house, and the men of that citie shall stone her with stones to death, because shee hath wrought follie in Israel, to play the whore in her fathers house: and so thou shalt put euil from among you.

22 If a man be found *lying with a woman, that hath a wedded husband, they shall both die, both the man that lay with the wife, and also the wife: and so thou shalt put away euill from Israel.

23 If a maide be betrothed vnto an husband, and then a man finde her in the towne, and lie with her:

24 Yee shall bring them both out vnto the gates of the same citie, and shal stone them with stones to death; the damosell, because shee cried not, being in the citie: and the man, because hee hath humbled his neighbours wife: and thou shalt put away euil from thee.

26 But vnto the damosell thou shalt doe no harme, because there is in the damosel no cause of death. For as when a man riseth against his neighbor, & slaieth him: euen so is this matter.

3 The offering of the first fruites. 19 To what honor God preferreth them which acknowledge him to be their Lord.

WHen thou art come into the lande which the Lord thy God giueth thee to inherite, and hast enioyed it, and dwellest therein:

2 Take of the first of all the fruit of the earth, and bring it out of the land that the Lord thy God giueth thee, and put it in a basket, and goe vnto the place which the Lord thy God shall choose [a] to set his Name in it:

3 And thou shalt come vnto the Priest that shalbe in those dayes, and say vnto him, I knowledge this day vnto the Lord thy God, that I am come vnto the countrey which the Lord sware vnto our fathers for to giue vs.

4 And the Priest shall take the basket out of thine hand, and set it downe before the Altar of the Lord thy God.

5 And thou shalt answere and say before the Lord thy God, ‖ The Syrians went [b] about to destroy my father, and hee went downe into Egypt, and so soiourned there with a fewe folke, and grewe there vnto a nation, great, mightie, and full of people.

6 And the Egyptians vexed vs, and troubled vs, and laded vs with most cruell bondage.

7 And when we cried vnto the Lord God of our fathers, the Lord heard our voice, and looked on our adversitie, labour, and oppression.

8 And the Lord brought vs out of Egypt in a mightie hand and a stretched out arme, and in great terribleneſſe, and signes, and wonders.

9 And hee hath brought vs into this place, and hath giuen vs this lande that floweth with milke and honie.

10 And [c] now we (Lo) I haue brought the first fruits of the land which thou O Lord hast giuen me: and thou shalt set it before the Lord thy God, and worship before the Lord thy God.

11 And reioyce in all the good things which the Lord thy God hath giuen vnto thee, and vnto thine house, thou, and the Leuite, and the stranger that is among you.

12 When thou hast made an ende of tything of all the tythes of thine increase the third yeere, which is the *yeere of tything, thou shalt giue it vnto the Leuite, the stranger, the fatherlesse and the widow, that they may eat within thy gates, and fill themselues:

13 And [d] thou shalt say before the Lord thy God, I haue brought the halowed things out of mine house, and haue giuen them vnto the Leuite, the stranger, the fatherles, and the widow, according to all thy Commandements *which thou hast commanded me: I haue not transgressed thy Commandements, nor forgotten them.

14 I haue not eaten thereof in my [e] mourning, nor suffered ought to perish thereof in vncleannesse, nor giuen ought thereof for the dead: but haue hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord my God, and haue done after all that thou hast commanded me.

15 *Looke downe therefore from thy holy habitation, from heauen, and blesse thy people Israel, and the land which thou hast giuen vs, as thou sworest vnto our fathers, a land that floweth with milke and honie.

2 They are commanded to write the Law vpon stone for a remembrance.

h In Gods Name.

2 And in that day when you shall passe ouer Iordane, vnto the land which the Lord thy God giueth thee, thou shalt set thee vp great stones, and plaister them with plaister:

3 And write vpon them all the words of this Lawe when thou art come ouer, because thou art come into the land which the Lord thy God giueth thee, a land that floweth with milke and hony, as the Lord God of thy fathers hath promised thee.

10 Thou shalt hearken therefore vnto the voice of the Lord thy God, and do his Commandements, and his ordinances which I command thee this day.

11 And Moses charged the people the same day, saying,

26 And thy carkeise shalbe meate vnto al maner of foules of the ayre, and vnto the beasts of the earth, and no man shall fray them away.

27 The Lord will smite thee with the botch of Egypt, and the emerodes, scab, and itch, that thou maiest not be healed thereof.

28 And the Lord shall smite thee with madnes, and blindnes, and dazing of heart.

29 Thou shalt grope at noone dayes, as the e blind groppeth in darknes, & shalt not prosper in thy waies: Thou shalt be oppressed with wrong, & be polled euermore, & no man shal succour thee.

12 It is not in heauen, that thou needest to say, Who shall goe vp for vs to heauen, and bring it vnto vs, that we may heare it, and doe it?

13 Neither is it beyond the f Sea, that thou shouldest say, Who shall goe ouer the sea for vs, and bring it vnto vs, that we may heare it, and doe it?

f By heauen & the sea he meaneth places verie farre off.

14 But the worde is very nigh vnto thee, euen in thy mouth, and in thy heart, that thou doest it.

15 Behold I haue set before thee this day life, and good, death, and euill:

16 For where as I command thee this day to loue the Lord thy God, to walke in his wayes, and to keepe his commandements, his ordinances and his lawes, if thou so doe, thou shalt liue, and multiply, and the Lord thy God shall blesse thee in the land, whither thou goest to possesse it.

17 But if thine heart turne away, so that thou wilt not heare, but shalt goe astray and worship strange gods, and serue them:

18 I pronounce vnto you this day, that yee shall surely perish, and that yee shall not prolong your dayes vpon the land, whither thou passest ouer Iordane to goe and possesse it.

19 I call heauen and earth to record this day against you, that I haue set before you life and death, blessing, and cursing: therefore g choose life, that both thou and thy seede may liue, g That is to say, shewe thy loue and obedience to God: which is not performed by our owne strength, but by Gods grace working in his elect.

20 That thou mayest loue the Lord thy God, and be obedient to his voice, & cleaue vnto him: For hee is thy life, and the length of thy dayes, that thou mayest dwell vpon the earth, which the Lord sware vnto thy fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob to giue them.

suah to rule the people. 9 Hee giueth the Law to the Leuites, that they ſhould reade it to the people.

AND Moſes went and ſpake theſe wordes vnto al Iſrael,
2 And ſaide vnto them, I am an hundred and twentie yeeres old this day, and can no more [a] goe out and in: alſo the Lord hath ſaid vnto mee, Thou *ſhalt not goe ouer this [b] Iordane.
3 The Lord thy God he will goe ouer before thee, and hee will deſtroy theſe nations before thee, and thou ſhalt poſſeſſe them: and Iohuah ſhall goe before thee, as the Lord hath ſaid.
4 And the Lord ſhall doe vnto them, as hee did to Sehon and Og, Kings of the Amorites, and vnto the land of them whom he deſtroyed.
5 And the Lord ſhall giue them [c] before your face, that yee may doe vnto them according vnto all the Commandements which I haue commanded you.
6 Pluck vp your hearts therefore, and bee ſtrong, dread not, nor bee afraide of them, for the Lord thy God himſelfe doeth goe with thee, hee ſhall not faile thee, nor forſake thee.
7 And Moſes called vnto Ioſuah, and ſaide vnto him in the ſight of al Iſrael, Be ſtrong, and of good courage: for thou muſt goe with this people vnto the land which the Lord hath ſworne vnto their fathers to giue them, and thou ſhalt giue it them to inherite.
8 And the Lord he doth go before thee, he ſhall be with thee, hee ſhall not faile thee, neither forſake thee: feare not therefore, nor be diſcomfited.
9 And [d] Moſes wrote this Law, and deliuered it vnto the Prieſts the ſonnes of Leui, which bare the Arke of the Teſtament of the Lord, and vnto all the Elders of Iſrael.
10 And Moſes commanded them, ſaying, Euery ſeuenth yeere, in the ſolemnitie of the free yeere, in the feaſt of Tabernacles, 11 When all Iſrael is come to appeare before the Lord thy God, in the place which hee hath choſen: thou ſhalt reade this Law before all Iſrael, that they may heare it.
12 Gather the people together, men, women, and children, and thy ſtranger that is within thy gates, that they may heare, and learne, and feare the Lord your God, and keep and obſerue all the wordes of this Law, 13 And that their children which [e] know [f] nothing, may heare, and learne to feare the Lord your God, as long as ye liue in the land, whither ye goe ouer Iordane to poſſeſſe it.
14 And the Lord ſaid vnto Moſes, Behoide, the dayes are come that thou muſt die: call Ioſuah therefore, and ſtand yee, in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, that I may giue him a charge. And Moſes and Ioſuah went and ſtood in the Tabernacle of the Congregation.
15 And the Lord appeared in the Tabernacle, in the pillar of the cloude: and the pillar of the cloud ſtood ouer the dooze of the Tabernacle.
16 And the Lord ſaid vnto Moſes, Behoide, thou ſhalt ſleepe with thy fathers, and this people will riſe vp, and goe [g] a whoring after ſtrange gods of the lande whither they goe, and will forſake mee, and breake the appointment which I haue made with them.
17 And then my wrath will ware hote againſt them in that day, and I will forſake them, and will [h] hide my face from them, and they ſhall bee conſumed, and much aduerſitie and tribulation ſhall come vpon them, ſo that then they will ſay, Are not theſe troubles come vpon mee, becauſe God is not with me?
18 And I alſo will ſurely hide away my face in that day, for all the euils ſake which they ſhall haue wrought, in that they are turned vnto ſtrange gods.
19 Now therefore, write ye this ſong for you, and teach it the children of Iſrael, and put it in their mouthes, that this ſong may bee my witneſſe againſt the children of Iſrael.
20 For I will bring them into the land which I ſware vnto their fathers, that floweth with milke and honie: and they ſhal eate, and fil themſelues, and ware fatte, and turne vnto ſtrange gods, and ſerue them, and blaſpheme mee, and breake my Couenant.
21 And when much miſchiefe and tribulation is come vpon them, this ſong ſhall [i] anſwere them as a witnes: for it ſhal not bee forgotten out of the mouthes of their ſeede, for I knowe their imagination which they goe about euen now, before I haue brought them into the land which I ſware.
22 Moſes therefore wrote this ſong the ſame day, and taught it the children of Iſrael.
23 And hee gaue Ioſuah the ſonne of Nun a charge, and ſaid, Be bold and ſtrong: for thou ſhalt bring the children of Iſrael into the land which I ſware vnto them: and I will be with thee.
24 And when Moſes had made an end of writing the wordes of this Law in a booke, vntil hee had finiſhed them,
25 Moſes commanded the Leuites which bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, ſaying, 26 Take ye the booke of this Law, and put it in the [k] ſide of the Arke of the Couenant of the Lord your God, that it may be there for a witnes againſt thee.
27 For I knowe thy rebellion, and thy ſtiffe necke: while I am yet aliue with you this day, yee haue bene diſobedient vnto the Lord, how much more after my death?
28 Gather vnto mee all the Elders of your tribes, and your officers, that I may ſpeake theſe wordes in their eares, and call heauen and earth to record againſt them.
29 For I am ſure, that after my death ye will vtterly be corrupt, and turne from the way, which I haue commanded you: and tribulation will come vpon you in the latter dayes, becauſe yee ſhall haue wrought wickednes in the ſight of the Lord, to prouoke him through [l] the woorkes of your handes.
30 And Moſes ſpake in the eares of all the Congregation of Iſrael the wordes of this ſong, vntil he had ended them.

ascribe ye honour vnto our God.

4 Perfect is the worke of the most mightie †God, for all his wayes are iudgement: He is a God of trueth, without wickednesse, righteous and iust is he.

5 Frowardly haue they done against him by their vices, not being his owne children, but a wicked and froward generation.

6 Do ye so reward the Lord, O thou foolish nation, and vnwise? Is not hee thy father that hath bought thee? Hath hee not made thee, and ordeined thee?

7 Remember the dayes of the world that is past, consider the yeres of so many generations: Aske thy father, and he wil shew thee, thy elders, and they will tell thee.

8 When the most high diuided to the nations their inheritance, and when hee separated the sonnes of Adam, hee put the borders of the nations, according to the number of the children of Israel:

9 For the Lords part is his people, and Iacob is the portion of his inheritance.

10 Hee found him in a desert land, in a voide ground, and in a †roaring wildernesse: Hee led him about, he gaue him vnderstanding, and kept him as the apple of his eye.

12 The Lord alone was his guide, and there was no strange God with him.

13 Hee caried him vp to the hie places of the earth, that hee might eate the increase of the fields, & he fed them with hony out of the rocke, and with oile out of the most hard stone:

14 with butter of kine, & milke of the sheepe, with fat of the lambes, and fat of the rammes, and he goats, with the fat of the most plenteous wheat, and that thou mightest drinke the most pure blood of the grape.

15 But he that was vpright, when he wared fat, † spurned with his heele: Thou art well fed, thou art growen thicke, thou art laden with fatnesse: And hee forsooke God his maker, and regarded not the God of his saluation.

16 They prouoked him to anger with strange gods, with abominations prouoked they him.

17 They offered vnto deuils, and not to God: to gods whom they knew not, to new gods that came newly vp, whom their fathers feared not.

18 Of God that begat thee thou art vnmindfull, and hast forgotten God that made thee.

19 The Lord therefore saw it, and was angry, because of the prouoking of his sonnes and his daughters.

20 And hee sayde, I will hide my face from them, and will see what their ende shall bee: For they are a verie froward generation, children in whom is no faith.

21 They haue angred me with that which is no god, and prouoked mee with their vanities: And I also will prouoke them with those which are no people, I will anger them with a foolish nation.

22 For fire is kindled in my wrath, and burneth vnto the bottome of hell, and hath consumed the earth with her increase, and set afire the bottomes of the mountaines.

23 I will heape mischiefes vpon them, and will destroy them with mine arrowes.

24 They shall be ‖ burnt with hunger, and consumed with heat, and with bitter destruction: I will also send the teeth of beastes vpon them, with the ‖ furiousnesse of serpents in the dust.

25 Outwardly shall the sword robbe them of their children, and in the chamber feare, both young men, and young women, and the sucklings, with the men of gray heads.

26 I haue sayde, I will scatter them abroad, and make the remembrance of them to cease from among men:

27 Were it not that I feared the wrath of the enemy, lest their aduersaries should ‡ waxe proud, and lest they should say, Our hie hand hath done all this, and not the Lord.

28 For it is a nation void of counsell, neither is there any vnderstanding in them.

29 O that they were wise, vnderstood this, that they would consider their latter end.

30 How should one chase a thousand, and two put ten thousand to flight, except their ‖ maker had solde them, and except the Lord had ‖ shut them vp?

31 For their god is not as our ‖ God: our enemies also themselues are iudges.

32 For their vine is of the vineyard of Sodome, and of the fields of Gomorra: their grapes are grapes of gall, and their clusters be bitter.

33 Their wine is the poison of dragons, and the cruell gall of aspes.

34 Is not this layd in store with me, and sealed vp among my treasures?

35 * Vengeance is mine, and I will reward, their feet shall slide in due time: for the day of their destruction is at hand, and the things that shall come vpon them, make haste.

36 For the Lorde shall iudge his people, and haue compassion on his seruants, when he seeth that their power is gone, and that they bee in a maner shut vp, or brought to nought and forsaken.

37 And when it shalbe sayd, where are their gods, their ‖ God in whom they trusted?

38 The fat of whose sacrifices they did eate, and dranke the wine of their drinke offerings: let them rise vp, and helpe you, and be your protection.

39 See now, how that I, I am God, & there is none but I: * I kill, and I make aliue: I wound, and I heale: neither is there any that can deliuer out of my hand.

40 For I will lift vp my hand to heauen, and will say, I liue for euer.

41 If I whet the edge of my sword, and my hand take holde to doe iustice, I will recompense vengeance on mine enemies, and will reward them that hate me.

42 I will make mine arrowes drunke with blood, and my sword shall deuoure flesh, and that for the blood of the slaine and for their captiuity, since the captiuity of the wrath of the enemy.

43 ‡ Ye nations * praise his people, for he will auenge the blood of his seruants, & will auenge him of his aduersaries, and will be mercifull vnto his land, and to his people.

16 And they answered Iosuah, saying, All that thou commandest vs, we will do, and whithersoeuer thou sendest vs, we will go.

17 According as wee obeyed Moses in all things, so will we obey thee: onely the Lord thy God be with thee, as he was with Moses.

18 And whosoeuer hee be that doeth disobey thy mouth, & will not hearken vnto thy wordes in all that thou commaundest him, let him die: onely be strong, and of good courage.

The ij. Chapter.

9 Rahab acknowledgeth the God of Israel to be the highest God.

AND Iosuah the sonne of Nun, sent out of [a] Sittim two men, to spie secretly, saying, Go, and view the land, and also Iericho. And they went, and came into an ‖ harlots house, named Rahab, and lodged there.

2 And it was tolde the king of Iericho, saying, Behold, there came men in hither to night, of the children of Israel, to spie out the country.

3 And the king of Iericho sent vnto Rahab, saying, [b] Bring forth the men that are come to thee, and which are entred into thine house: for they be come to search out all the land.

4 And the woman tooke the two men, and hid them, and said thus, Indeed there came men vnto me, but I [c] wist not whence they were.

5 And about the time of the shutting of the gate, when it was dark, the men went out, whither the men went, I wote not: follow ye after them quickly, for ye shall ouertake them.

6 But she had brought them vp to the roofe of the house, and hid them with the stalkes of flax which she had lying abroad vpon the roofe.

7 And the men pursued after them the way to Iordan, vnto the fourds: and assoone as they which pursued after them were gone out, they shut the gate.

8 And or euer they were asleepe, she came vp vnto them vpon the roofe,

9 And sayd vnto the men, I know that the Lorde hath giuen you the lande, for the feare of you is fallen vpon vs, and the inhabitants of the land faint at the presence of you:

10 For we haue heard how the Lord dried vp the water of the red Sea before you, when you came out of Egypt, and what you did vnto the two kings of the Amorites that were on the other side of Iordan, Sehon and Og, whom yee vtterly destroyed.

11 And assoone as we had heard these things, our hearts did ‖ faint, & there remained no more ‖ courage in any man at the presence of you: for the [d] Lord your God, he is the God in heauen aboue, and in earth beneath.

12 Now therefore, I pray you, sweare vnto me by the Lord, that as I haue shewed you mercy, yee shall also shewe mercy vnto my fathers house, and giue me a true token:

13 And that ye shall saue aliue both my father and my mother, my brethren and my sisters, and all that they haue, and that ye shall deliuer our ‖ soules from death.

14 And the men answered her, [e] Our liues for you to die, if yee vtter not this our businesse. And when the Lord hath giuen vs the land, we will deale mercifully and truely with thee.

15 And then shee let them downe by a coard thorow a window: for her house was vpon the towne wal, and she dwelt vpon the towne wall.

16 And shee sayd vnto them, Get you into the [f] mountain, lest the pursuers meet you, and hide your selues there three dayes, vntil the pursuers be returned, & then shall ye go your owne way.

17 And the men sayd vnto her, [g] Wee will be blamelesse of this thy oth which thou hast made vs sweare:

18 Behold, when we come into the land, thou shalt bind this coard of red thred in the window which thou diddest let vs downe by: and thou shalt bring thy father and thy mother, thy brethren, and all thy fathers houshold, into thine house.

19 And whosoeuer doeth goe out at the doores of thy house into the street, [h] his blood shalbe vpon his owne head, and we will be guiltlesse: and whosoeuer shall bee with thee in the house, his blood shalbe on our head, if any mans hand touch him.

20 And if thou vtter these our words, we will be quit of thy othe which thou hast made vs to sweare.

21 And she sayd, According vnto your words, so be it. And she sent them away, they departed: and she bound the ‖ red coard in the window.

22 And they departed, and came into the mountaine, and there abode three dayes, vntill the pursuers were returned: And the pursuers sought them thorow out all the way, but found them not.

23 And the two men returned, and descended from the mountaine, and passed [i] ouer, and came to Iosuah the sonne of Nun, and tolde him all that came vnto them.

24 And they sayde vnto Iosuah, Truely the Lord hath deliuered into our hands all the land, and all the inhabitants of the countrey faint at the presence of vs.

AND Iosuah rose early, and they remooued from Sittim, and came to [a] Iordan, he and all the children of Israel: and lodged there before they went ouer.

2 And after [b] three dayes, the officers went thorow the host,

3 And commanded the people, saying, When ye see the Arke of the couenant of the Lord your God, and the priests that are Leuites bearing it, ye shall depart from your place, and go after it.

4 So yet that there shalbe a space betweene you and it, about ‖ two thousand cubits by measure: and ye shall not come nigh vnto it, that yee may know the way by which ye must go: for ye haue not gone this way in times past.

6 And Iosuah spake vnto the Priests, saying, Take vp the Arke of the couenant, and go ouer before the people. And they tooke vp the Arke of the couenant, and went before the people.

7 And the Lord said vnto Iosuah, This day will I begin to magnifie thee in the sight of all Israel, that they may know how that as I was with Moses, so will I be with thee.

8 And thou shalt command the Priests that beare the Arke of the couenant, saying, When ye are come to the [c] edge of the waters of Iordan, ye shall stand still in Iordan.

9 And Iosuah said vnto the children of Israel, Come hither, and heare the words of the Lord your God.

10 And Iosuah said, [d] Hereby ye shall know that the liuing God is among you, and that hee will without faile cast out before you the Chananites, and the Hethites, the Heuites, the Pherezites, the Gergesites, the Amorites, and the Iebusites.

14 And it when the people were departed from their tents to go ouer Iordan, the Priests bearing the Arke of the [f] couenant, went before the people.

15 And assoone as they that bare the Arke, came vnto Iordan, and the feet of the Priests that bare the Arke, were dipped in the brimme of the water (for Iordan [g] ouerfloweth all his banks all the time of haruest.)

16 The waters also that came downe from aboue, did rise vp vpon an heape, and departed far from the citie of Adam, that was beside Zarthan: and the waters that were beneath toward the sea of the wildernesse, euen the salt sea, failed, and were cut off: and the people went right ouer against Iericho.

17 And the Priests that bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, stood [h] within Iordan, ready ‖ prepared, and all the Israelites went ouer thorow the drie, vntill all the people were cleane ouer thorow Iordan.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 Twelue stones out of the chanell be erected for a signe of the drying of Iordan.

AND ‖ when the people were all gone ouer Iordan, the Lorde spake vnto Iosuah, saying,

2 Take you twelue men out of the people, out of euery tribe a man:

3 And command you them, saying, Take you hence out of the mids of Iordan, out of the place where the Priests feet stood in aright, twelue stones, which yee shall take away with you, and leaue them in the [a] lodging where you shall lodge this night.

4 Then Iosuah called the twelue men, whom he had prepared of the children of Israel, out of euery tribe a man:

5 And Iosuah said vnto them, Go ouer before the Arke of the Lord your God, thorow the mids of Iordan, and take vp euery man of you a stone vpon his shoulder, according vnto the number of the tribes of the children of Israel:

6 That this may be a signe among you, that when your [b] children aske their fathers in time to come, saying, What meane these stones vnto you?

7 Yee may answere them, how that the waters of Iordan were diuided at the presence of the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, for when it went ouer Iordane, the waters of Iordane were diuided: and these stones are become a memoriall vnto the children of Israel for euer.

8 And the children of Israel did euen so as Iosuah commanded, & tooke vp twelue stones out of the mids of Iordan as the Lord had said vnto Iosuah, according to the number of the tribes of the children of Israel, and caried them ouer with them vnto the place where they lodged, and layed them downe there.

9 And Iosuah set vp twelue [c] stones in the middes of Iordan, in the place where the feet of the Priests which bare the Arke of the testament stood: and there haue they continued vnto this day.

10 For the Priests which bare the Arke stood in the middes of Iordan, vntill all was finished that the Lorde commanded Iosuah to speake vnto the people, according to all that Moses charged Iosuah: And the people hasted, and went ouer.

11 And when all the people were cleane passed ouer, the Arke of the Lorde went ouer also, and the Priests [d] before the people.

12 *And the children of Ruben, and the children of Gad, and halfe the tribe of Manasses went before, the children of Israel armed, as Moses charged them.

13 About fourty thousand prepared for warre, went before the [e] Lord vnto battell, vnto the plaine of Iericho.

14 That day the Lorde magnified Iosuah in the sight of all Israel, and they ‖ feared him, as they feared Moses all the dayes of his life.

15 And the Lord spake vnto Iosuah, saying,

16 Commaund the Priests that beare the [f] Arke of the testimonie, to come vp out of Iordane.

17 Iosuah therefore commanded the Priests, saying, Come ye vp out of Iordan.

19 And the people came vp out of Iordan the tenth day of the [g] first moneth, and pitched in Gilgal, in the East border of the citie Iericho.

20 And the twelue stones which they tooke out of Iordan, did Iosuah pitch in Gilgal.

21 And hee spake vnto the children of Israel, saying, If your children aske their fathers in time to come, and say, What meane these stones?

22 Ye shall shew your children, and say, Israel came ouer this Iordan on dry land.

The v. Chapter.

2 Of the second circumcision vnder Iosuah, and wherefore it was. 12 Manna faileth, and becommeth scarse.

AND when all the kings of the [a] Amorites which are beyond Iordan Westward, and all the kings of the Chanaanites which were by the sea, heard how the Lord had dried vp the waters of Iordane before the children of Israel, vntill they were gone ouer, their hearts fainted for feare, and there was no ‖ spirit in them any more, for the presence of the children of Israel.

2 That same time the Lord sayd vnto Iosuah, Make thee sharpe knyues, and go to [b] again, and circumcise the children of Israel the second time.

3 And Iosuah made him sharpe knyues, and circumcised the children of Israel in the [c] hill of the foreskinnes.

4 And this is the cause why Iosuah circumcised all the people, euen the males that came out of Egypt: because that all the men of warre died in the wildernesse by the way, after they came out of Egypt.

5 For all the people that came out, were circumcised: but all the people that were borne in the wildernesse by the way, after they came out of Egypt, were not [d] circumcised.

6 For the children of Israel walked fourtie yeres in the wildernesse, till all the people of the men of warre that came out of Egypt were consumed, because they hearkened not vnto the voice of the Lord: vnto whom the * Lord sware that he would not shew them the land which the Lord sware vnto their fathers that hee would giue vs, euen a lande that floweth with milke and honie.

7 And their children, whom he set vp in their stead, them Iosuah circumcised, for they were vncircumcised: because they circumciled them not by the way.

8 And when they had circumcised all the people, they abode in their places in the campe, till they were whole.

9 And the Lord said vnto Iosuah, This day haue I taken away the reproche of Egypt from you: wherefore the name of the same place is called Gilgal, vnto this day.

10 And the children of Israel abode in Gilgal, and held the feast of Passeouer, the fourteenth day of the [f] moneth at euen, in the plaine of Iericho.

11 And they did eat of the corne of the land on the morow after the Passeouer, sweet cakes, and parched corne, in the selfesame day.

12 For the Manna ceased on the morow after they had begunne to eat of the corne of the land, neither had the children of Israel Manna any more, but did eat of the fruit of the land of Chanaan that yere.

13 And, when Iosuah was nigh to Iericho, he lift vp his eyes, and looked: and behold, there stood a man against him, hauing a sword drawen in his hand: and Iosuah went vnto him, and sayd vnto him, Art thou on our side, or on our aduersaries?

14 And he sayd, Nay, but as a captaine of the host of the Lord am I now come. And Iosuah fel on his face to the earth, and did [g] worship, and sayde vnto him, What sayth my Lord vnto his seruant?

15 And the captaine of the Lords hoste sayde vnto Iosuah, Doe thy shoe [h] off thy foote, for the place whereon thou standest, is holy. And Iosuah did so.

NOW Iericho was shut vp and closed, because of the children of Israel, neither might any man goe out or in.

2 And the Lord sayd vnto Iosuah, Beholde, I haue giuen into thine hande Iericho, and the king thereof, & the strong men of warre.

3 And ye shall compasse all the citie, all yee that be men of warre, & go round about it once: and so shall you doe sixe dayes.

4 And seuen Priests shall beare before the arke seuen trumpets of [a] rammes hornes: and the seuenth day yee shall compasse the citie seuen times, and the Priests shall blowe with the trumpets.

5 And when they make a long blast with the rammes horne, and yee heare the sound of the horne, all the people shall shout with a great shout: and then shall the wall of the citie fall downe, and the people shall ascend vp euery man strait before him.

6 And Iosuah the sonne of Nun called the Priests, and sayd vnto them, Take vp the arke of the couenant, and let seuen Priests beare seuen trumpets of rammes hornes before the arke of the Lord.

7 And he said vnto the people, [b] Go and compasse the citie, and let him that is harnessed goe before the arke of the Lord.

8 And when Iosuah had spoken vnto the people, the seuen Priests bare the seuen trumpets of rammes hornes, and went forth before the arke of the Lord, and blew with the trumpets: and the arke of the couenant of the Lorde followed them.

9 And the men of armes went before the Priests that blew with the trumpets: and the [c] gathering host came after the Arke as they went, and blew with trumpets.

10 And Iosuah had commanded the people, saying, Yee shall not shout, nor make any noise with your voice, neither shall any word proceede out of your mouth, vntill the day I bidde you shout, then shall ye shout.

11 And so the Arke of the Lord compassed the city, and went about it [d] once: and they returned into the host, and lodged there.

12 And Iosuah rose early in the morning, and the Priests tooke vp the arke of the Lord.

13 And seuen Priestes bare seuen trumpets of rammes hornes, and went before the Arke of the Lord, and going, blew with the trumpets: and the men of armes went before them, but the [c] gathering host came after the arke of the Lord, which went before with the blowing of the trumpets.

14 And the second day they compassed the city once, and returned againe into the host: and so they did sixe dayes.

15 And when the seuenth day came, they rose earely with the dawning of the day, and compassed the citie after the same maner [e] seuen times: onely that day they compassed the city seuen times.

16 And at the seuenth time when the Priests blew with the trumpets, Iosuah sayd vnto the people, Shout, for the Lord hath giuen you the citie.

17 And the citie shalbe [g] accursed, and all that are therein, vnto the Lorde: onely Rahab the harlot shall liue, and all that are with her in the house, because she hidde the messengers that we sent.

18 And in any wise be ye keare of the accursed thing, lest ye make your selues accursed, & take of the accursed things, and make the host of Israel accursed, and trouble it.

19 But all the siluer, golde, vessels of brasse and yron, shall be [h] consecrated vnto the Lorde, and shall come into his treasurie.

20 And the people shouted & blew with trumpets: and when the people heard the sound of the trumpet, they shouted with a great shout, and the wall fell downe flat, so that the people went vp into the citie, euery man straight before him, and tooke the citie.

21 And they vtterly destroyed all that was in the citie, both man and woman, yong and olde, ore, sheepe, and asse, with the edge of the sword.

22 But Iosuah had sayde vnto the two men that had spied out the countrey, Go into the harlots house, and bring out thence the woman and all that she hath, as ye sware vnto her.

23 And the yoong men that were spies, went in, and brought out Rahab, and her father, and mother, and her brethren, and all that she had: and they brought out all her kinred, & put them [i] without the host of Israel.

24 And they burnt the citie with fire, and all that was therein: only the siluer and the golde, the vessels of brasse and yron, they put into the treasury of the [k] house of the Lord.

25 And Iosuah saued Rahab the harlot, and her fathers houshold, and all that she had: and [l] she dwelt in Israel euen vnto this day, because she hid the messengers which Iosuah sent to spie out Iericho.

26 * And Iosuah sware at that time, saying, Cursed bee the man before the Lord, that riseth vp & buildeth this citie Iericho: he shall lay the [m] foundation thereof in his eldest sonne, and in his yongest sonne shall he set vp the gates of it. 3.Reg.16. 34.

2 And Iosuah sent men from Iericho to [b] Ai, which is beside Bethauen, on the East side of Bethel, and spake vnto them, saying, Get you vp, and view the countrey. And the men went vp, and viewed Ai, b There were two Ais: One Ai of the Ammonites, which was the greater, and is here described: the other of the Ammonites, Ierem.49.

3 And returned to Iosuah, and sayde vnto him, Let not all the people goe vp: but let about two or three thousand men goe vp, & smite Ai: and make not all the people to labor thither, for they are but few.

4 And so there went vp thither of the people about three thousand men, and they fled before the men of Ai.

5 And the men of Ai [c] smote of them vpon thirty and sixe men: for they chased them from before the gate, euen vnto Sebarim, and smote them in the going downe: wherefore the hearts of the people for feare melted away like water.

d It was the gesture or maner, and of such as lay drowned in miserable cases that seemed to tend to the reproch of Gods name.

7 And Iosuah sayd, Alas, O Lorde God, wherefore hast thou brought this people ouer Iordan, to deliuer vs into the hand of the Amorites, to destroy vs: Would to God we had bene content, and dwelt on the other side [e] Iordan.

e Iosuah here is ready to distrust the manifest promise of God, which declareth that there is no stay in man without the continuall assistance of God.

8 Oh Lord, what shall I say, when Israel turneth their backs before their enemies?

9 Surely the Chanaanites, and all the inhabitants of the land, shall heare of it, and shall conspire against vs, and destroy the name of vs, out of the earth: and what wilt thou doe vnto thy mighty Name?

10 And the Lord sayd vnto Iosuah, Get thee vp, wherefore liest thou thus vpon thy face?

11 Israel hath sinned, and they haue transgressed my couenant which I comanded them: for they haue taken of the cursed things, & haue also stollen, and dissembled also, and put them vnto their owne stuffe.

12 And therefore is it that the children of Israel cannot stand before their enemies, but shall turne their backs before their enemies, because they be accursed: neither will I be with you any more, except yee [f] destroy the accursed from among you.

f To suffer wicke thinges vnpunished, is to refuse God willingly.

14 To morow morning therefore yee shall be brought, according to your tribes: and the tribe which the Lord [h] taketh, shall come according to the kindreds thereof, and the kindred which the Lord shall take, shall come by houshold; and the houshold which the Lord shall take, shall come man by man.

15 And hee that is found with the accursed thing, shall be burnt with fire, he, and all that he hath, because he hath transgressed the couenant of the Lord, and wrought folly in Israel.

16 And Iosuah rose vp earely in the morning, and brought Israel by their tribes, and the tribe of Iuda was caught.

17 And he brought the kindreds of Iuda, and tooke the kindred of the Zarhites: & he brought the kindred of the Zarhites, man by man, and Zabdi was caught.

18 And he brought his houshold man by man, and Achan the sonne of Charmi, the sonne of Zabdi, the sonne of Zared, of the tribe of Iuda, was caught.

19 And Iosuah sayd vnto Achan, My sonne, I beseech thee giue glory to the Lord God of Israel, and [i] make confession vnto him, and shew me what thou hast done, hide it not from me.

[i] God is glorified when the truth is confessed.

20 And Achan answered Iosuah, and sayd, Of a truth I haue sinned against the Lord God of Israel, and thus and thus haue I done.

21 I saw among the spoiles, a goodly Babylonish garment, and two hundred sicles of siluer, and a tongue of gold of fifty sicles weight, and I coueted them, and tooke them, and beholde, they lie hid in the earth in the middes of my tent, and the siluer is thereunder.

22 And Iosuah sent messengers, which when they ran vnto his tent, beholde, they were hid in his tent, and the siluer thereunder.

23 Therefore they tooke them out of the midst of his tent, and brought them vnto Iosuah, and vnto all the children of Israel, and layed them out [k] before the Lord.

[k] That is, before the arke of the Lord.

24 And Iosuah tooke Achan the sonne of Zareth, and the siluer, and the garment, and the ‖ tongue of gold, and his sonnes, and his daughters, and his oxen, and his asses, and his sheepe, and his tent, and all that he had, & all Israel with him, brought them vnto the valley of Achor.

‖ Some read wedge, others, a plate, and some, a rod.

25 And Iosuah sayde, In [l] as much as thou hast troubled vs, the Lord shall trouble thee this day. And all Israel stoned him with stones, and burned them with fire, and ouerwhelmed them with stones.

[l] That hardnesse of heart and grieuous punishment they ought to haue, that by wickednesse drawe Gods wrath vpon the multitude.

26 And they call vpon him a great heape of stones vnto this day: and so the Lorde turned from the wrath of his indignation. And the name of the place is called, The valley of [m] Achor vnto this day.

[m] That is, the valley of trouble.

The viij. Chapter.

3 The siege, 19 and winning of Ai. 29 The King thereof is hanged. 30 Iosuah setteth vp an Altar. 32 He writeth the Law vpon stones, 35 and readeth it to all the people.

AND the Lorde sayde vnto Iosuah, Feare not, neither bee thou faint hearted: take all the men of warre with thee, and vp, and get thee to Ai: Beholde, I haue giuen into thy hand the king of Ai, and his people, his citie, and his land:

2 And thou shalt doe to Ai and her king, as thou diddest vnto Iericho and her king: Neuertheless, the spoile and cattel thereof shall ye take vnto your selues: [a] lay thee an ambushment for the citie, on the backside thereof.

[a] Meaning, on the Occident side, as verse 9.

Iosu. 7. 20.

3 And so Iosuah arose, and all the men of warre, to goe vp against Ai: and Iosuah chose out thirtie thousand strong men, and valiant, and sent them away by night:

4 And he commanded them, saying, Behold, yee shall lie in wait against the citie, [b] on the backside thereof: goe not very farre from the citie, but be all ready:

[b] God would not destroy Ai by miracle, as he did Iericho, to the intent that other nations might feare the power and policie of his people.

5 And I, and all the people that are with me, will approch vnto the citie: And when they come out against vs, as they did at the first time, then will we flee before them:

6 For they will come out after vs, till wee haue brought them out of the citie, for they will say, They flee before vs as at the first time: and we will flee before them.

7 In the meane time shall yee rise vp from lying in wait, and destroy the citie: for the Lord your God will deliuer it into your hand.

8 And when ye haue taken the citie, ye shall set it on fire: according to the commandement of the Lord shall ye do. Behold, I haue charged you.

9 Iosuah therefore sent them forth, and they went to lie in wait, and abode betweene Bethel and Ai, on the west side of the citie of Ai: but Iosuah lodged that [c] night among the people.

[c] That is, with the rest of the armie.

10 And Iosuah rose vp early in the morning, and [d] numbred the people, and went vp, he, and the Elders of Israel, before the people, against Ai.

[d] That is, mustered them, and set them in aray.

11 And all the men of warre that were with him, went vp, and drew nigh, and came against the city, and pitched on the North side of Ai: and there was a valley betweene them and Ai.

12 And hee tooke vpon [e] fiue thousand men, and set them to lie in wait, betweene Bethel and Ai, on the west side of the citie.

[e] Ye see these few, that the other which lay in ambush might not be discouered.

13 And the people set all the host that was on the North side, against the citie, and the liers in wait on the west, against the citie: and Iosuah walked the same night in the middes of the valley.

14 And when the king of Ai sawe it, they hasted, and rose vp earely, and the men of the citie went out against Israel to battell, hee, and all his people, at a time appointed, euen before the plain, and wist not that there were liers in wait against him on the backside of the city.

15 And Iosuah and all Israel, as beaten before them, fled by the way of the wildernesse.

[f] As they which fained themselues to flee for feare.

16 And all the people of the citie were called together to follow after them: and they followed after Iosuah, and were drawen away from the citie.

17 And there was not a man left in Ai and in Bethel, that went not out after Israel: and they left the citie open, and followed after Israel.

18 And the Lord said vnto Iosuah, [g] Stretch out the speare that is in thine hand, toward Ai, for I will giue it into thine hand. And Iosuah stretched out the speare that he had in his hand, toward the citie:

[g] Lift vp the banner, to signifie when they shall vnmaske the citie.

19 And

19 And the liers in waite arose quickly out of their place, and ranne as soone as Iehoshua had stretched out his hand: and they entred into the citie, and tooke it, and hasted, and set the citie on fire.

20 And when the men of Ai looked behinde them, they saw the smoke of the citie ascend vp to heauen, and they had no ‖ place to flee, either this way or that: and the people that fled to the wilderneſſe, turned backe against vpon the followers.

‖ Or, power.

21 And when Ioshua and all Israel saw that the liers in waite had taken the citie, and that the smoke of it ascended, they turned againe, and slew the men of Ai.

22 And the other issued out of the city against them, and so were they in the middest of Israel: for these were on the one side of them, and the rest on the other side, and they laid vpon them, so that they let none of them escape nor remaine.

23 And the king of Ai they tooke aliue, and brought him to Ioshua.

24 And when Israel had made an ende of slaying all the inhabitants of Ai, in the fielde of the wildernesse where they chased them, and when they were all fallen on the edge of the sword, vntill they were wasted, all the Israelites returned vnto Ai, and [b] smote it with the edge of the sword.

b For the sleeing of the city was not to destroy it for they should take the spoile thereof for a pray: but was to signifie to Ioshua that they were entred.

25 And all that fell that day, both of men and women, were twelue thousand, euen all the men of Ai.

26 For Ioshua pluckt not his hande backe againe, which he stretched out vpon the speare, vntill he had vtterly destroied all the inhabiters of Ai.

27 Onely the cattell, and the spoile of the citie, Israel tooke vnto themselues, according vnto the word of the Lord, which he commanded Ioshua.

28 And Ioshua set Ai on fire, and made it an heape for euer, and a wildernesse vnto this day.

i That it could neuer bee built againe.

29 And the king of Ai he hanged on a tree vntill euen; and as soone as the sunne was downe, Ioshua commaunded that [k] they should take the carkeise downe off the tree, and cast it at the entring of the gate of the citie, and lay thereon a great heape of stones that remaineth vnto this day.

k According as it was commanded by the law.

30 Then Ioshua built an altar vnto the Lord God of Israel in mount Ebal, 31 As Moses the seruant of the Lorde commaunded the children of Israel, and as it is *written in the booke of the law of Moses, an altar of whole stones, ouer which no man hath lift vp an yron: and they sacrificed theron whole burnt sacrifices vnto the Lord, and offered peace offerings.

Exo. 20. 25. deut. 27. 5.

1 That is, the summe of the lawe, which is summed vp & contained in the ten commandements. Deut. 27. 2.

32 And he wrote there vpon the stones a [l] rehearsall of the *law of Moses, and wrote it in the presence of the children of Israel.

33 And all Israel, and the elders thereof, and their officers, and Iudges, stood part on this side the arke, and part on that side, before the Priests that were Leuites, which bare the arke of the couenant of the Lord, as well the stranger, as they that were borne among them: halfe of them ouer against Mount Garizim, and halfe of them ouer against mount Ebal, as Moses the seruant of the Lord had commanded before, that he should blesse the people of Israel.

34 Afterward he read all the wordes of the law, the blessings and cursings, according to all that is written in the booke of the law.

35 And there was not one worde of all that Moses commanded, which Ioshua read not before all the congregation of Israel, as well the [m] women and children, as the strangers that were conuersant among them.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Certaine kings are gathered against Iosuah. 3 The Gabaonites doe guilefully require peace of Iosuah 21 The Gabaonites are made ministers in cutting wood, and bearing of water.

AND when all the kings that dwel [a] beyonde Iordane in the hilles and valleis, and along by all the coasts of the [b] great Sea, ouer against Libanon, namely, the Hetites, the Amorites, the Chanaanites, the Pherezites, the Heuites, and the Iebusites, heard thereof:

2 They gathered themselues together to fight against Ioshua, and against Israel, [‡] with one accord.

‡ One mouth.

3 And the inhabiters of Gibeon heard what Ioshua had done vnto Iericho, and to Ai.

4 And they did worke wilily, and went and made themselues embassadours, and tooke olde sackes vpon their asses, and wine bottels olde, both rent and [c] bound vp:

c Because they were all wonte.

5 And old clowted shooes vpon their feet, and their raiment was olde: and all their prouision of bread was dried vp, and mouldy.

6 And they came vnto Ioshua into the hoste to Gilgal, and said vnto him, and to all the men of Israel, We be come from a farre countrey: and now make ye an agreement with vs.

7 And the men of Israel said vnto the [d] Heuite, It may be thou dwellest among vs, & then how can I make peace with thee?

d For the Gabaonites and the Heuites were all one people.

8 And they said vnto Ioshua, Wee are thy seruants. And Ioshua said vnto them, Who are ye, and whence come ye?

9 They answered him, From a very farre countrey thy seruants are come, for the name [e] of the Lord thy God: for wee haue heard the fame of him, and all that he did in Egypt, 16 But at the ende of three dayes, after they had made a league with them, they heard that they were their neighbors, and that they dwelt among them.

18 And the children of Israel slew them not, because the Princes of the Congregation had sworne vnto them by the Lorde God of Israel: And all the multitude murmured against the princes.

19 But all the princes sayde vnto all the congregation, Wee haue sworne vnto them by the Lord God of Israel: and therefore we may not hurt them.

20 But this we will doe to them, We will let them liue, least wrath be vpon vs, because of the othe which we sware vnto them.

21 And the princes sayde vnto them againe, Let them liue, and hew wood, and draw water vnto all the Congregation, and they did as the princes sayd vnto them.

22 And Iosuah called for them, and talked with them, and sayd, Wherefore haue yee beguiled vs, saying, Wee dwell farre from you, when ye dwell among vs?

23 And now are ye cursed, and there shall not cease to bee of you bondmen, and hewers of wood, and drawers of water, for the i house of my God.

i Which was the tabernacle vnto the time of Solomon, and after that, the temple at Hierusalem.

24 And they answered Iosuah, and sayde, It was tolde thy seruants how that the Lorde thy God commaunded his seruant Moses to giue you all the lande, and to destroy all the inhabitours thereof out of your sight, and therefore we were exceeding sore afrayde for our liues at the presence of you, and haue done this thing.

25 And behold, we are in thine hand: as it seemeth good and right in thine eyes to doe vnto vs, to doe.

26 And euen so did hee vnto them, and rid them out of the hand of the children of Israel, that they slew them not.

27 And Iosuah made them that same day hewers of wood, and drawers of water for the congregation, and for the k altar of God vnto this day, in the place which he should choose.

The x. Chapter.

1 Fiue kings make warre against Gibeon, whome Iosuah discomfiteth. 12 The sunne standeth still at Iosuahs prayer. 26 The fiue kings are hanged.

NOw when Adonizedec king of Hierusalem, had heard howe Iosuah Iosu.6.15. had taken * Ai, and had destroyed it (and how he had as he done to Iericho and her king, euen so he had done to * Ai and her king) and how the inhabiters of Gibeon had made peace with Israel, and were among them, Iosu.8.3.

2 They feared exceedingly, for Gibeon was a great city, as any citie of the kingdome, and was greater then Ai, and all the men thereof were very mightie.

a That is, Lord of iustice, so tyrants take to themselues glorious names when in deede they be very enemies against God and all iustice.

3 Wherefore a Adonizedec king of Hierusalem, sent vnto Hoham king of Hebron, and vnto Pira king of Iarmuth, and vnto Iaphia king of Lachis, and vnto Dabir king of Eglon, saying,

4 Come vp vnto me, and helpe me, that we may smite Gibeon: for they haue made peace with Iosuah, and with the children of Israel.

5 Therefore the fiue kings of the Amorites, the king of Hierusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of of Iarmuth, the king of Lachis, and the king of Eglon, gathered themselues together, and went vp, they with all their hostes, and besieged Gibeon, and made warre against it.

6 And the men of Gibeon sent vnto Iosuah to the hoste in Gilgal, saying, withdraw not thy hand from thy seruants, come vp to vs quickely, and saue vs, and helpe vs: for all the kings of the Amorites which dwell in the mountaines, are gathered together b against vs.

b As soone as thou makest a league with the children of God by regeneration, then shalt be sure to haue the wicked children of the world on thy top.

7 And so Iosuah ascended from Gilgal, hee, and all the people of warre with him, and all the men of might.

8 And the Lorde sayde vnto Iosuah, c Feare them not: for I haue deliuered them into thine hand, neither shall any of them stand against thee.

c Lest Iosuah should haue thought that God had sent this great power against him for his league with the Gibeonites, the Lord here doeth strengthen him.

9 Iosuah therefore came vnto them suddenly, and went vp from Gilgal all night.

10 And the Lorde troubled them before Israel, and slew them with a great slaughter at Gibeon, and chased them along the way that goeth vp to Bethoron, and smote them to Azeka and Makeda.

11 And as they fledde from before Israel, and were in the going downe to Bethoron, the Lord cast downe great stones from heauen vpon them, vnto Azeka and they dyed: there were moe dead with haile d stones, then they were whome the children of Israel slew with the sword.

d All kind of creatures shal destroy the wicked when the Lord of hostes will haue it so.

12 Then spake Iosuah to the Lord, in the day when the Lorde deliuered the Amorites before the children of Israel, and he sayd in the sight of Israel, * Sunne, stand thou still vpon Gibeon, and thou Moone in the valley of Aialon.

Esai.28.22. eccl.u.46.5.

13 And the Sunne abode, and the Moone stood still, vntill the people had auenged themselues vpon their enemies. Is not this written in the booke of the righteous? So the Sunne abode in the middest of heauen, and hasted not to goe downe by the space of a whole day.

14 And there was no day like that before it, or after it, that the Lorde heard the voice of a man: for the Lord e fought for Israel.

e By taking away the enemies hearts, and destroying them with haile stones.

15 And Iosuah returned, and all Israel with him, vnto the campe to Gilgal.

16 But the fiue kings fledde, and were hid in a caue at Makeda.

17 And it was told Iosuah, saying, The fiue kings are found hidde in a caue, which is at Makeda.

18 And Iosuah sayde, Roule great stones vpon the mouth of the caue, and set men by it, for to keepe it:

19 And stand ye not still, but follow after your enemies, and smite all the hindmost, and suffer them not to enter into their cities: for the Lorde your God hath deliuered them into your hand.

20 And when Iosuah and the children of Israel had made an end of slaying them with an exceeding great slaughter, til they were wasted:

the rest that remayned of them, entred into walled cities.

24 And all the people returned to the hoste to Iosuah at Makeda in peace, neither did any man mooue his tongue against the children of Israel.

22 Then sayde Iosuah, Open the mouth of the caue, and bring out those fiue kings vnto me out of the caue.

23 And they did so, and brought those fiue kings vnto him out of the caue, euen the king of Hierusalem, the king of Hebron, the king of Iarmuth, the king of Lachis, & the king of Eglon.

24 And when they brought out those fiue kings vnto Iosuah, Iosuah called for all the men of Israel, and sayde vnto the chiefe of the men of warre which went with him, Come neere, & put your feete vpon the † necks of these kings. And they came neere, and put their feete vpon the neckes of them.

25 And Iosuah sayd vnto them, Ye shall not feare, nor bee faint hearted, but be strong, and pluck vp your hearts: for thus shall the Lorde doe to all your enemies against whom ye fight.

26 And then Iosuah smote them, and slewe them, and hanged them on fiue trees: and they hanged vpon the trees, vntill the euening.

27 And at the going downe of the sunne, Iosuah gaue commandement, and they tooke them downe off the trees, and cast them into the caue wherein they had bene hid, & laid great stones in the caues mouth which remaine vntill this day.

28 And that same day, Iosuah tooke Makeda, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and the king thereof and destroyed hee vtterly, with ‖ all the soules that were therein, and let none remaine: and hee did to the king of Makeda as he did * vnto the king of Iericho.

29 Then Iosuah went from Makeda, and all Israel with him, vnto Libna, and fought against Libna.

30 And the Lorde deliuered it and the king thereof, into the hand of Israel: and he smote it with the edge of the sworde, and all the ‖ soules that were therein: He let none remaine in it, but did vnto the king thereof, as he did vnto the king of Iericho.

31 And Iosuah departed from Libna, and all Israel with him, vnto Lachis, and besieged it, and assaulted it.

32 And the Lorde deliuered Lachis into the hand of Israel, which tooke it the second day, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the soules that were therein, doing according to all as he had done to the citie of Libna.

33 Then Horam king of Geser, came vp to helpe Lachis: and Iosuah smote him and his people, vntill none remained of him.

34 And from Lachis, Iosuah departed vnto Eglon, and all Israel with him, and they besieged it, and assaulted it.

35 And tooke it the same day, and smote it with the edge of the sworde, and all the soules that were therein, he vtterly destroyed the same day, according to all that he had done to Lachis.

36 And Iosuah departed vp from Eglon, and all Israel with him, vnto Hebron, and they fought against it.

37 And when they had taken it, they smote it with the edge of the sword, and the king thereof, and all the townes that pertained to it, and all the soules that were therein, and he left none remayning, but did according to all as he had done to Eglon, and destroyed it vtterly, and all the soules that were therein.

38 And Iosuah returned, and al Israel with him to Dabir, and fought against it.

39 And when hee had taken it, and the king thereof, and al the townes that pertained thereto, they smote them with the edge of the sword, and vtterly destroyed all the soules that were therein, neither let he any remayne: euen as hee did to Hebron, so hee did to Dabir, & to the king thereof, as he had done also to Libna, & her king.

40 Iosuah therefore smote all the hill countreys, and the South countreys, & the valleyes, and the downes, and al their kings, and let none remaine of them, but vtterly destroyed all that breathed, as the Lord God of Israel comanded.

41 And Iosuah smote them from Cades Barnea, vnto Aiah, and all the countrey of Gosen, euen vnto Gibeon.

42 And all these kings and their land did Iosuah take at one time: because the Lord God of Israel fought for Israel.

43 And Iosuah and all Israel returned vnto the hoste that was in Gilgal.

1 Certaine Kings are gathered against Iosuah. 6 God deliuereth al the kings vnto Iosuah, which had conspired against him.

5 And all these kings met together, & came and pitched together at the waters of Merom, for to fight against Israel.

6 And the Lord said vnto Iosuah, Be not afraide at the presence of them: for to morrowe about this time will I deliuer them all slaine before Israel: thou shalt hough their horses, and burne their charets with fire.

7 And so Iosuah came, and all the men of warre with him, against them, by the waters of Merom, and suddenly fell vpon them.

8 And the Lord deliuered them into the hand of Israel, and they smote them, and chased them vnto great Sidon, and vnto Misrephothmaim, and vnto the valley of Mispah, which is Eastward: and smote them, vntil they had none remayning of them.

9 And Iosuah did vnto them as the Lord bade him: hee houghed their horses, and burnt their charets with fire.

22 There was not an Anakim left in the land of the children of Iſrael: onely in Azzah, Gath, and Asdod, there remained of them.

the Lord ſaid vnto Moſes the man of God about wilderneſſe of Zin Southward, euen from the vttermoſt part of the South coaſt.

a And their South coaſt was from the bunche of the ſalt ſea, from a roche that leaneth Southward.

3 And it went out to the Southſide, toward the going vp to Maale-acrabim, and went along to Zin, and aſcended vp on the Southſide vnto Cades Barnea: and went along to Hez-ron, and went vp to Adar, and fet a compaſſe to Karkaa.

4 From thence went it along to Azmon, and reached vnto the riuer of Egypt, and the ende of that coaſt was on the weſt ſide: this is their South coaſt.

5 Then Eaſt coaſt is the ſalt Sea, euen vnto the ende of [e] Iordane: and their border in the North quarter, was from the roche ‖ of the ſea, and from the ende of Iordane.

6 And the ſame border went vp to Bethhagrabah, and vp from thence to the ſtone of [f] Bo-hen the ſonne of Ruben.

7 And againe the ſame border went vp to Debir, from the valley of Achor, and ſo North-the going vp to Adummim, which is of the South ſide of the riuer: and the ſame border

8 And then went vp to the valley of the ſon

9 And then it compaſſeth from the top of the hill vnto the fountaine of the water of Neph-

10 And then it compaſſeth from Baala Weſtward vnto mount Seir, and then goeth along vnto the ſide of mount Iarim, which is Cheſa-

Bethſhames, and goeth to Thimnah.

11 And goeth out againe vnto the ſide of Ekron Northward: and then draweth to Shecroni, and goeth along to mount Bala, and ſtretcheth vnto Iabneel: and the ends of the coaſtes leaue at the ‖ weſt ſea.

12 And the weſt border was the great ſea, and the ſame coaſt was the coaſt of the children of Iuda round about, in their kinreds.

13 And vnto Caleb the ſonne of Iephunne did Ioſhuah giue a part among the children of Iuda, according to the mouth of the Lord, euen Kiriatharba of the father of Anak, which citie is Ebron.

14 And Caleb [h] droue thence the three ſonnes of Anak, Sheſai, Ahiman, and Thalmai which were the ſonnes of Enac.

15 And he went vp thence to the inhabiters of Debir: and the name of Debir in the olde time was Kiriath Sepher.

16 And Caleb ſaid, Hee that ſmiteth Kiriath Sepher, and taketh it, to him will I giue Ach-ſah my daughter to wife.

17 And Othniel the ſonne of Kenez, the ‖ bro-his daughter to wife.

18 And as ſhee went in vnto him, ſhee moued him to aſke of her father a fielde, and ſhee alightaileth thee?

19 Who anſwered, Giue mee a ‖ bleſſing, for thou haſt giuen me a South land, giue mee alſo ſpringes of water. And he gaue her ſprings of wa-

20 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the

1 The portion of the halfe tribe of Manasse. 3 A portion is giuen to the daughters of Zalphaad.

3 *But Zalphaad the sonne of Hepher, the sonne of Gilead, the sonne of Machir, the sonne of Manasses, had no sonnes, but daughters: whose names are these, Mahala, Noa, Hagla, Milcha, and Thirza:

6 Because the daughters of Manasses did inherit among his sonnes: and Manasses other sonnes had the land of Gilead.

7 And the coast of Manasses was frō Aser to Michmarath, that lieth before Sichem, and went along on the right hand, euen vnto the inhabitants of En-tappuah.

8 And the lande of Thaphuah belonged to Manasses: which Thaphuah is beside the border of Manasses, beside the border of the children of Ephraim.

9 And the coast descended vnto the ‖riuer Canah Southward, euen to the riuer: these cities of Ephraim are among the cities of Manasses. the coast of Manasses went also on the Northside of the riuer, and the endes of it go out at the Sea:

10 So that the South pertained to Ephraim, and the North to Manasses, and the sea is his border, & they met together in [d] Aser Northward, and in Issachar Eastward.

11 And Manasses had in Issachar and in Aser, Beth-sean and her townes, Ibleam and her townes, and the inhabiters of Dor, with the townes pertaining to the same, and the inhabiters of Endor, with the townes of the same, and the inhabiters of Thaanach with her townes, & the inhabiters of Megiddo with the townes of the same, euen three countreys.

12 Yet the children of Manasses could not ouercome those cities, but the Chanaanites would well in the same land.

13 Nevertheles, as soone as the children of Israel were waxen strong, they put the Chanaanites vnder tribute, but expelled them not.

14 And the children of Ioseph spake vnto Iosuah, saying, Why hast thou giuen mee but one lot and one portion to inherite, seeing I am a great people, and hitherto as much as the Lord hath blessed me hitherto?

15 And Iosuah answered them, If thou bee a great people, then get thee vp to the wood countrey, and prepare for thy selfe there in the land of the Pherizites and of the Giants, if mount Ephraim be too narrow for thee.

16 And the children of Ioseph said, The hill is not ynough for vs: and all the Chanaanites that dwell in the low countrey have charets of yron, and so haue they that inhabite Beth-sean and the townes of the same, and they also that dwell in the valley of Iezrahel.

17 And Iosuah spake vnto the house of Ioseph, Ephraim, and Manasses, Yee bee much people, and haue great power, & shall not therefore haue one lot:

18 Therefore the hill shalbe yours, and ye shal cut downe the wood that is in it: and the ends of it shalbe yours, if ye call out the Chanaanites, which haue iron charets, and are very strong.

The xviij. Chapter.

1 The Tabernacle is set in Silo. 4 Certaine are sent to deuide the land to the other seuen tribes. 11 The lot of the children of Beniamin.

AND the whole Congregation of the children of Israel came together at Silo, and set vp the [a] Tabernacle of the Cōgregation there, after the lande was in subiection before them.

2 And there remained among the children of Israel [b] seuen tribes, which had not yet receiued their inheritance.

3 And Iosuah saide vnto the children of Israel, How long are yee to slacke to come and possesse the lande which the Lord God of your fathers hath giuen you?

4 Giue out from among you for euery tribe three men, that I may send them: and that they may rise, and walke thorow the land, and describe it according to the [c] inheritance of euery one, and come againe to me.

5 And let them deuide it vnto them into seuen parts: and Iuda shall abide in their coast on the South, and the house of Ioseph shall stand in their coastes on the North.

6 Describe ye the land therefore into seuen parts and bring the description hither to mee: and I shal cast lots for you here before the [d] Lord our God.

7 But the Leuites haue no part among you, for the [e] Priesthood of the Lord is their inheritance: and Gad and Ruben, and halfe the tribe of Manasses, haue receiued their inheritance beyonde Iordane Eastward, which Moses the seruant of the Lord gaue them.

8 And the men arose, and went their way: and Iosuah charged them that went to describe the land, saying, Depart, and go thorow the land, and [f] describe it: and come againe to mee, that I may here cast lots for you before the Lord in Silo.

9 And the men departed, and walked thorow the lande, and described it by cities into seuen parts, in a booke, and returned to Iosuah vnto the hoste at Silo.

10 And Iosuah cast [g] lots for them in Silo before the Lord: and there Iosuah diuided the lande vnto the children of Israel, to eche their portion, according to their diuision.

11 And the lot of the tribe of the children of Beniamin came vp, according to their [h] kinreds, and the coast of their lot came betweene the children of Iuda, and the children of Ioseph.

12 And their north coast was from Iordane, and went vp to the side of Iericho on the North side, and went vp thorow the mountaines Westward, and they ended at the wildernesse of Beth-auen.

13 And went from thence toward Luz, euen to the South side of Luz (the same is [h] Bethel) and descended againe to Ataroth-adar, vnto the hill that lieth on the Southside of the nether Bethoron.

14 And the coast turneth thence, and compasseth the corner of the Sea Southward, euen from the hil that lyeth before Beth-horon southward: and goeth out at Kiriath-baal (which is Kiriath-iarim) a citie of the children of Iuda. This is the West quarter.

15 And the South coast goeth from the ende of Kiriath-iarim, and goeth out ‖ Westwarde, and thence it turneth to the well of waters of Nephtoah,

16 And commeth downe against to the ende of the hill that lieth before the valley of the sonne of Hinnom, euen in the valley of the Giants Northwards, and descendeth into the valley of Hinnom beside ‖ Iebusi Southward, and goeth downe to the well of Rogel,

17 And compasseth from the North, and goeth forth to [i] En-semes, & departeth from thence 48 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Dan in their kinreds, these also are the cities, with their villages.

49 When they had made an end of diuiding the land by their coasts, the children of Israel gaue an inheritance to Iosuah the sonne of Nun among them:

2 The Lord commandeth Iosuah to appoint cities of refuge. 3 The vse thereof, 7 And their names.

THe Lorde also spake vnto Iosuah, saying,
2 Speake to the children of Israel, and say, Appoint out from among you cities of refuge, *whereof I spake vnto you by the hand of Moses:
3 That the slayer that killeth any person vnwares and vnwittingly, may flee thither: and those cities shall be your refuge from the [a] auenger of blood.
4 And he that doth flee vnto one of those cities, shall stand at the entring of the gate of the citie, and shall shew his cause in the eares of the Elders of the citie: and they shall take him into the citie vnto them, and giue him a place, that he may dwell among them.
5 And if the auenger of blood follow after him, they shal not deliuer the slear into his hand: because he smote his neighbour ignorantly, and hated him not before time.
6 And hee shall dwell in the same citie vntill he stand before the congregation in iudgement, or vntill the death of the high Priest that shall bee in those dayes: for then shall the slayer returne, and come vnto his owne citie, and vnto his owne house, and vnto the city from whence he fled.

8 And on the other side Iordan ouer against Iericho Eastward, * they appointed Bezer in the wildernesse vpon the plaine, out of the tribe of Ruben, and Ramoth in Gilead out of the tribe of Gad, and Golan in Basan out of the [c] tribe of Manasses.

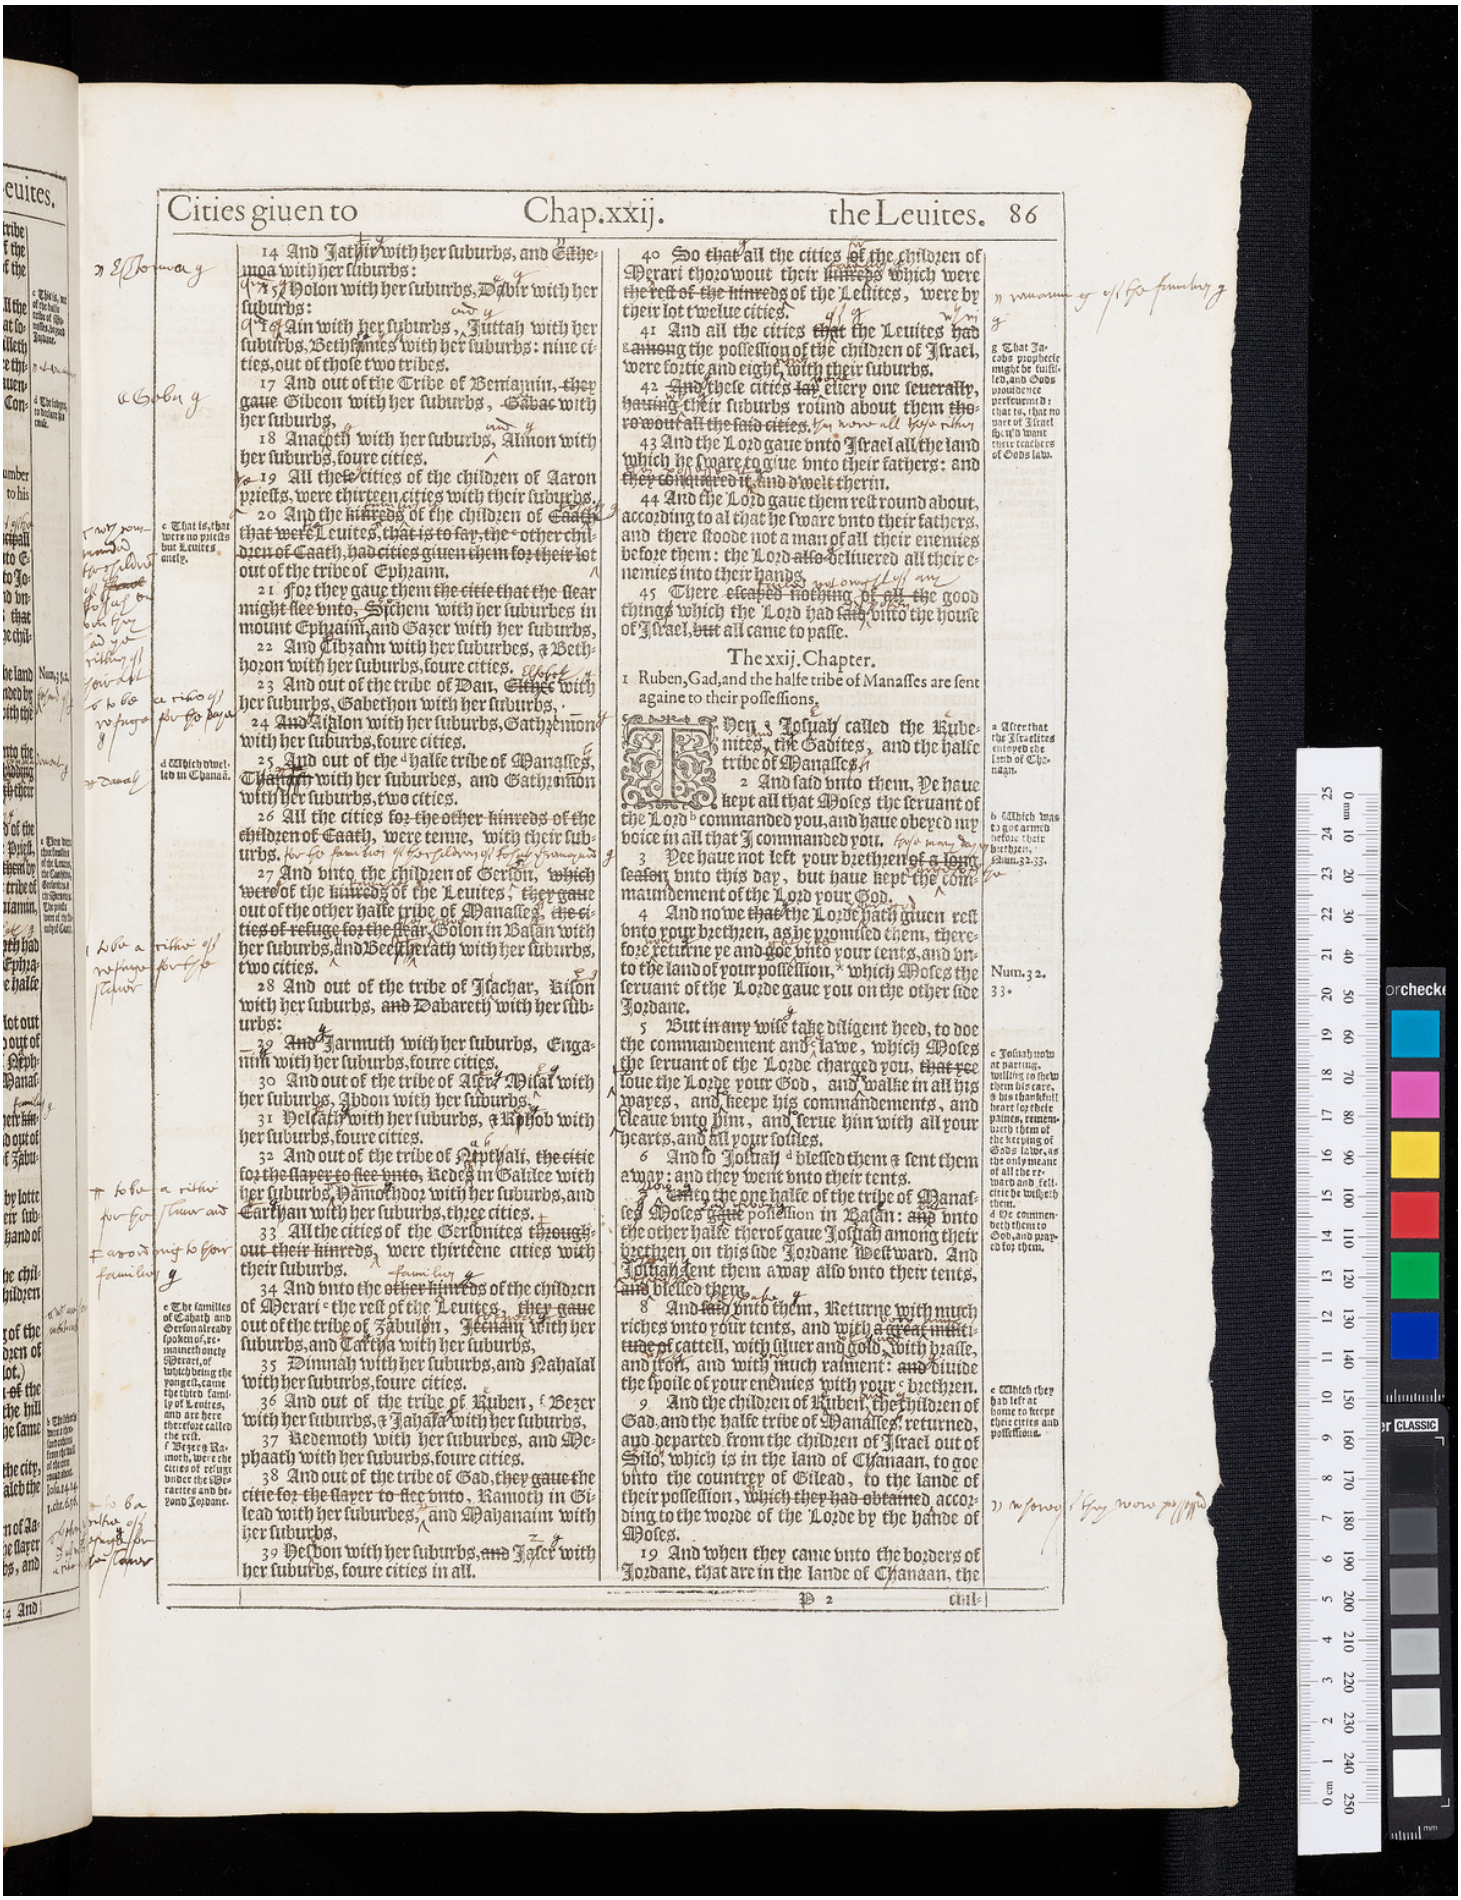
The xxj. Chapter.

41 The cities giuen to the Leuites, in number eight and fourtie. 44 The Lorde according to his promise gaue the children of Israel rest.



AND then came the principall fathers of the Leuites vnto Eleazar the Priest, and vnto Iosuah the sonne of Nun, and vnto the auncient fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel,
2 *And spake vnto them at Silo in the land of Chanaan, saying, The Lord commaunded by Moses to giue vs cities to dwell in, with the suburbs thereof for our cattell.
3 And the children of Israel gaue vnto the Leuites out of their inheritance, at the bidding of the Lorde, these cities following, with their suburbs.
4 And the lot came out of the kinred of the [e] Caathites: the children of Aaron the Priest, which were of the Leuites, had giuen them by lot out of the tribe of Iuda, out of the tribe of Simeon, and out of the tribe of Beniamin, thirteene cities.
5 And the rest of the children of Caath had by lotte out of the kinreds of the tribe of Ephraim, out of the tribe of Dan, and out of the halfe tribe of Manasses, ten cities.
6 And the children of Gerson had by lot out of the kinreds of the tribe of Iachar, and out of the tribe of Aser, and out of the tribe of Nephthali, and out of the other halfe tribe of Manasses in Basan, thirteene cities.
7 And the children of Merari by their kinreds, had out of the tribe of Ruben, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zabulon, twelue cities.
8 And the children of Israel gaue by lotte vnto the Leuites these cities with their suburbes as the Lorde commaunded by the hand of Moses.
9 And they gaue out of the tribe of the children of Iuda, and out of the tribe of the children of Simeon, these cities by name,
10 Which the children of Aaron, being of the kinreds of the Caathites, and of the children of Leui, obtained: (for theirs was the first lot.)
11 And they gaue them Kiriath arba of the father of Anak (which is Hebron) in the hill countrey of Iuda, with the [b] suburbs of the same round about it.
12 *But the lande that pertained to the city, and the villages thereof, gaue they to Caleb the sonne of Iephunne, to be his possession.
13 And thus they gaue to the children of Aaron the Priest, a citie, to the which the slayer might flee, euen Hebron with her suburbs, and Libna with her suburbs,

15 Holon with her ſuburbs, Debir with her ſuburbs:
16 Ain with her ſuburbs, Juttah with her ſuburbs, Beth-ſhames with her ſuburbs: nine cities, out of thoſe two tribes.
17 And out of the Tribe of Beniamin, they gaue Gideon with her ſuburbs, Gabae with her ſuburbs, 18 Anathoth with her ſuburbs, Almon with her ſuburbs, foure cities.
19 All theſe cities of the children of Aaron prieſts, were thirteen cities with their ſuburbs.
20 And the kinreds of the children of Caath that were Leuites, that is to ſay, the other children of Caath, had cities giuen them for their lot out of the tribe of Ephraim.
21 For they gaue them the citie that the ſlear might flee vnto, Sichem with her ſuburbs in mount Ephraim, and Gazer with her ſuburbs, 22 And Kibzaim with her ſuburbs, and Beth-horon with her ſuburbs, foure cities.
23 And out of the tribe of Dan, Elthec with her ſuburbs, Gabethon with her ſuburbs, 24 And Aiulon with her ſuburbs, Gathremmon with her ſuburbs, foure cities.
25 And out of the halfe tribe of Manaſſes, Thanath with her ſuburbs, and Gathrimmon with her ſuburbs, two cities.
26 All the cities for the other kinreds of the children of Caath, were tenne, with their ſuburbs.
27 And vnto the children of Gerſon, which were of the kinreds of the Leuites, they gaue out of the other halfe tribe of Manaſſes, the cities of refuge for the ſlear, Golon in Baſan with her ſuburbs, and Beeſtherath with her ſuburbs, two cities.
28 And out of the tribe of Iſachar, Kiſon with her ſuburbs, and Dabareth with her ſuburbs:
29 And Jarmuth with her ſuburbs, Enganim with her ſuburbs, foure cities.
30 And out of the tribe of Aſer, Miſal with her ſuburbs, Abdon with her ſuburbs, 31 Helkath with her ſuburbs, and Rehob with her ſuburbs, foure cities.
32 And out of the tribe of Nephthali, the citie for the ſlayer to flee vnto, Kedes in Galilee with her ſuburbs, Hamothdor with her ſuburbs, and Karthan with her ſuburbs, three cities.
33 All the cities of the Gerſonites throughout their kinreds, were thirteene cities with their ſuburbs.
34 And vnto the other kinreds of the children of Merari the reſt of the Leuites, they gaue out of the tribe of Zabulon, Jeckam with her ſuburbs, and Kartha with her ſuburbs, 35 Dimnah with her ſuburbs, and Nahalal with her ſuburbs, foure cities.
36 And out of the tribe of Ruben, Bezer with her ſuburbs, and Jahaſa with her ſuburbs, 37 Kedemoth with her ſuburbs, and Mephaath with her ſuburbs, foure cities.
38 And out of the tribe of Gad, they gaue the citie for the ſlayer to flee vnto, Ramoth in Gilead with her ſuburbs, and Mahanaim with her ſuburbs, 39 Heſbon with her ſuburbs, and Jaſer with her ſuburbs, foure cities in all.
40 So that all the cities of the children of Merari throughout their kinreds which were the reſt of the kinreds of the Leuites, were by their lot twelue cities.
41 And all the cities that the Leuites had among the poſſeſſion of the children of Iſrael, were fortie and eight, with their ſuburbs.
42 And theſe cities lay euery one ſeuerally, hauing their ſuburbs round about them thorowout all the ſaid cities.
43 And the Lord gaue vnto Iſrael all the land which he ſware to giue vnto their fathers: and they poſſeſſed it, and dwelt therin.
44 And the Lord gaue them reſt round about, according to al that he ſware vnto their fathers, and there ſtoode not a man of all their enemies before them: the Lord alſo deliuered all their enemies into their hands.
45 There eſcaped nothing of all the good things which the Lord had ſaid vnto the houſe of Iſrael, but all came to paſſe.

The xxij. Chapter.

1 Ruben, Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manaſſes are ſent againe to their poſſeſſions.

THen Joſhua called the Rubenites, the Gadites, and the halfe tribe of Manaſſes,
2 And ſaid vnto them, Ye haue kept all that Moſes the ſeruant of the Lord commanded you, and haue obeyed my voice in all that I commanded you.
3 Yee haue not left your brethren of a long ſeaſon vnto this day, but haue kept the commaundement of the Lord your God.
4 And now the Lorde hath giuen reſt vnto your brethren, as he promiſed them, therefore returne ye and goe vnto your tents, and vnto the land of your poſſeſſion, which Moſes the ſeruant of the Lorde gaue you on the other ſide Jordane.
5 But in any wiſe take diligent heed, to doe the commandement and lawe, which Moſes the ſeruant of the Lorde charged you, that yee loue the Lorde your God, and walke in all his wayes, and keepe his commandements, and cleaue vnto him, and ſerue him with all your hearts, and all your ſoules.
6 And ſo Joſhua bleſſed them and ſent them away: and they went vnto their tents.
7 Now vnto the one halfe of the tribe of Manaſſes Moſes gaue poſſeſſion in Baſan: and vnto the other halfe therof gaue Joſhua among their brethren on this ſide Jordane weſtward. And Joſhua ſent them away alſo vnto their tents, and bleſſed them,
8 And ſaid vnto them, Returne with much riches vnto your tents, and with a great multitude of cattell, with ſiluer and gold, with braſſe, and iron, and with much rayment: and diuide the ſpoile of your enemies with your brethren.
9 And the children of Ruben, the children of Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manaſſes, returned, and departed from the children of Iſrael out of Silo, which is in the land of Chanaan, to goe vnto the country of Gilead, to the lande of their poſſeſſion, which they had obtained according to the worde of the Lorde by the hande of Moſes.

children of Ruben, the children of Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manasses built there an altar by Iordane, and that a great altar to see to.

11 When the children of Israel heard say, Behold, the children of Ruben, the children of Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manasses haue built an altar in the forefront of the land of Chanaan, in the borders of Iordane, at the passage of the children of Israel:

12 When the children of Israel hearde of it, the whole congregation of the children of Israel gathered them together at Silo, to make battaile against them.

g Gods law required them so to doe, though they were the dearest friends they had, if they were found to fall away from true religion.

13 And the children of Israel sent vnto the children of Ruben, and to the children of Gad, and to the halfe tribe of Manasses, into the land of Gilead, Phinehes the sonne of Eleazar the Priest, 14 And with him tenne lords, of euery chiefe house a lord, throughout all the tribes of Israel, which were heads of their fathers houholdes, among the ‖ thousands of Israel.

‖ Or, multitudes.

15 And they went vnto the children of Ruben, and to the children of Gad, and to the children of the halfe tribe of Manasses, vnto the land of Gilead, & they spake with them, saying,

16 Thus saieth the whole congregation of the Lorde, What transgression is this that yee haue transgressed against the God of Israel, to turne away this day from the Lord, in that yee haue builded you an altar to rebell this day against the Lord?

Num. 15. 4. h The reproch of the wickednesse doth stick by vs still, though after punishment by death of 24. thousand, Gods wrath was pacified.

17 Is the wicked deed of Peor too little for vs, wherof we are yet not h cleansed vnto this day: and there was a plague in the congregation of the Lord?

18 Ye also are turned away this day from the Lorde: and seeing yee rebell to day against the Lord: it will come to passe that to morow he shall be wroth with all the congregation of Israel.

19 Notwithstanding, if yee thinke that the land of your possession is vncleane, then come ouer vnto the land of the possession of the Lord, wherein the Lords tabernacle dwelleth, & take possession among vs: but k rebell not against the Lorde, nor rebell against vs, to build you an other altar, saue the altar of the Lord our God.

i As wanting the arke of the Lord and his altar. k To vse any other seruice then God alloweth, is to rebell against God.

20 Did not Achan the sonne of Zareth trespasse grieuously in the accursed thing, & wrath fell on all the congregation of Israel? and this man l perished not alone in his wickednesse.

l Signifying, that if many suffered for one mans fault, so the fault of many, al should suffer.

21 Then the children of Ruben, and the children of Gad, and the halfe tribe of Manasses answered, and sayde vnto the heads ouer the thousands of Israel, 22 The Lorde God of gods, the Lord God of gods knoweth, and all Israel shall know, if it be to rebell or to transgresse against the Lorde, then thou Lord saue vs not this day.

23 Or else if wee haue built vs an altar to turne from following the Lorde, or to offer thereon whole burnt offering, or meat offering, to offer peace offerings thereon, let the Lorde himselfe m require it.

m That is, let him punish vs and reuenge it.

24 And if we haue not rather done it for feare of this thing, saying, In time to come your children might say vnto ours, What haue you to doe with the Lord God of Israel?

25 The Lorde hath made Iordane a border betweene vs and you, ye children of Ruben, and of Gad, ye haue no part therefore in the Lorde: and so shall your children make our children n cease from fearing the Lord.

n Fall away from true religion.

26 Therefore we said, We will make vs an altar, not for whole burnt offring, nor for sacrifice:

27 But for a witnesse betweene vs and you, and our generations after vs, that wee should serue the Lord with our whole burnt offerings, sacrifices, and peace offerings before him: & that your children shall not say to ours in time to come, Ye haue no o part in the Lord.

o As you are excluded from the lands: so are you excluded from being partakers of the Lords seruice.

28 Therefore said wee, that if they should so say to vs, or to p our generations in time to come, that we would say againe, Behold the fashion of the altar of the Lord, which our fathers made, neither for whole burnt offerings, nor sacrifices, but for a witnesse betweene vs and you.

p God requireth that the care of his glorie be in euery man, not onely for his time, but also that it reach to his posterite.

29 God forbid that wee should rebell against the Lorde, and turne this day from after him, and builde an other altar for whole burnt offerings, oblations, or sacrifices, saue the altar of the Lord our God that is before his tabernacle.

30 And when Phinehes the Priest, and the lords of the congregation, and heads ouer the thousands of Israel which were with him, heard these wordes, that the children of Ruben, and the children of Gad, and the children of Manasses spake, ‡ they were well content.

‡ Heb. It was good in their eies.

31 And Phinehes the sonne of Eleazar the Priest, said vnto the children of Ruben, and to the children of Gad, and to the children of Manasses: This day we perceiue that the Lord is q among vs, because yee haue not done this trespasse against the Lord: now ye haue deliuered the children of Israel out of the hand of the Lord.

q His couenant and his true religion being preserued vncorrupt. r From the punishment that they must haue looked for by transgressing of Gods law.

32 And Phinehes the sonne of Eleazar the priest, with the lords, returned from the children of Ruben, and from the children of Gad, out of the land of Gilead, vnto the land of Chanaan, to the children of Israel, and brought them this word againe.

33 And the saying pleased the children of Israel, and they blessed God, and did not intend to go against them in battell, and to destroy the lande which the children of Ruben and Gad dwelt in.

34 And the children of Ruben, and the children of Gad called the altar ‖ Ed, for it shall bee a witnesse betweene vs, that the Lord is God.

‖ Or, witnes.

2 Iosuah exhorteth the people that they ioyne not themselues to the Gentiles.

‡ Your eyes bearing witnesse.

4 Behold, I haue diuided vnto you by lot, these nations that remaine, to be an inheritance for your tribes, from Iordane, with all the nations that I haue destroyed, euen vnto the great ‡ sea Westward.

5 And the Lord your God shall expell b them before you, and cast them from out of your sight, and ye shall conquer their land, as the Lord your God hath said vnto you.

6 Be ye therefore of a good courage, that yee keepe and doe all that is written in the booke of the law of Moses, that yee bow not aside therefrom, to the right hand nor to the left.

7 Neither company with these nations, that is, with them that are left with you, neither make mention of the name of their gods, nor c cause to sweare by them, neither serue them, nor bow your selues vnto them.

c Let not the iudges admit an oth when any shal sweare by their idoles.

8 But ‡cleue fast vnto the Lorde your God, as ye haue done vnto this day.

9 So hal the Lord cast out before you great nations, and mighty, as no man hath bene able to stand before you hitherto.

13 Be ye sure that the Lord your God wil no more cast out all these nations from before you: but they shall be snares and traps vnto you, and scourges in your sides, & thornes in d your eyes, vntill yee perish from this good land which the Lord your God hath giuen you.

d Meaning, they shall be a continuall griefe vnto you, and so the cause of your destruction.

14 And behold, this day doe I e enter into the way of all the worlde, and yee know in all your hearts, and in all your soules, that nothing hath failed of al the good things which the Lord your God promised you, but al are come to passe vnto you, and nothing hath failed thereof.

16 When ye haue f transgressed the testament of the Lord your God, which hee commanded you, and haue gone and serued strange gods, and bowed your selues to them: then shall the wrath of the Lord wax hote vpon you, and ye shall perish quickely from the good land which hee hath giuen you.

f He sheweth that no no euill can come vnto man, except hi offend God by disobedience.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

2 Iosuah rehearseth Gods benefits, 14 And exhorteth the people to feare God. 26 Iosuah dieth.

AND Iosuah gathered a all the tribes of Israel to Sichem, and called for the Elders of Israel, and for their heads, iudges, and officers, & they presented themselues b before God.

a That were inhabitants in the land of Chanaan, to wit, nine tribes and the halfe. b Before the arke of God which was thē brought from Silo, to Sichem.

2 And Iosuah said vnto all the people, Thus saith the Lorde God of Israel, * Your fathers dwelt on the other side of the c flood in old time, euen Thare the father of Abraham, and of Nachor, and serued straunge gods.

Gen. 11.28 c Euphrates in Mesopotamia.

3 And I tooke your father Abraham from the other side of the flood, and brought him thorowout all the land of Chanaan, and multiplied his seed, and gaue him Isaac.

4 And I gaue vnto Isaac, Jacob and Esau: and I gaue vnto Esau mount Seir, to possesse it: but Jacob and his children went downe into Egypt.

5 *I sent Moses also, and Aaron, and I plagued Egypt, and when I had so done among them, I brought you out.

Exod. 3.10

6 *And I brought your fathers out of Egypt: and as they came vnto the sea, the Egyptians followed after your fathers with charets and horsemen vnto the red sea.

Exod. 14.9.

7 And when they cried vnto the Lord, the Lord put ‖ darkenesse betweene you and the Egyptians, and brought the sea vpon them, and couered them, and your eyes haue seene what I haue done to the Egyptians, and ye dwelt in the wildernesse d a long season.

8 And I brought you into the land of the Amorites, which dwelt on the other side Jordane: * and they fought with you, & I gaue them into your hand, that ye might conquer their country, and I destroyed them from out of your sight.

Num. 21. 29.

9 * Then Balac the sonne of Zippor king of Moab, arose and warred against Israel, and sent and called Balaam the sonne of Beor for to curse you:

Num. 22.5.

10 But I would not hearken vnto Balaam, and therefore he rather blessed you: and so I deliuered you out of his hand.

11 And ye went ouer Jordane, and came vnto Jericho: and the e men of Jericho fought against you, the Amorites, Pherezites, Chanaanites, Hethites, Gergasites, Hevites, and Jebusites, and I deliuered them into your hand.

e Not in open field, but by the fendings of their cities, as Iosuah. 3.14.

Deut. 7.20.

12 *And I sent hornets before you, which cast them out of your sight, euen the two kings of the Amorites: but not with your owne sworde, nor with your owne bowe.

13 And I haue giuen you a land in which ye did not labour, and cities which ye built not, and which ye dwell in: vineyardes also, and Oliue trees which yee planted not, and whereof ye doe eate.

14 Nowe therefore, g feare the Lorde, and serue him in perfection, and truth, and put away the gods which your fathers serued on the other side of the flood, and in Egypt, and serue ye the Lord.

g This is the true vse of gods benefits, to learne thereby to feare and serue him.

15 And if it ‡ seeme euill vnto you to serue the Lord, then choose you this day whom you will serue, whether the gods which your fathers serued (that were on the other side of the flood) either the gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell: as for me and my house, h wee will serue the Lord.

‡Heb. euill in your sight.

h This teacheth vs, that if all the world would go from God, yet euery one of vs particularly is bound to cleaue vnto him.

16 The people answered and said, God forbid that wee should forsake the Lorde, and serue strange gods.

17 For the Lord our God, he it is that brought vs and our fathers out of the lande of Egypt, and from the house of bondage, and which did those great miracles in our sight, and preserued vs in all the way that we went, and among all the people which we came through.

18 And the Lord did cast out before vs all the people, euen the Amorites which dwelt in the land, and therefore will wee also serue the Lord, for he is i our God.

i Whom we sing to be ours & ioyne vnto vs in league.

19 And Iosuah said vnto the people, Ye cannot serue the Lord: for he is an holy God, and a ielous God, and cannot beare your iniquity and sinne.

k Except yee cast away your idoles.

29 If ye forsake the Lord, and serue strange gods, he will turne, and doe you euill, and consume you, after that he hath done you good.
21 And the people said vnto Iosuah, Nay, but we will serue the Lord.
22 And Iosuah said vnto the people, Yee are witnesses[k] against your selues, that ye haue chosen you the Lorde to serue him. And they said, We are witnesses.
23 Then put away (sayd hee) the [l] strange gods which are among you, and bow your selues vnto the Lord God of Israel.
24 The people said vnto Iosuah, The Lord our God will wee serue, and his voice will wee obey.
25 And so Iosuah[m] made a couenant with the people the same day, and set an ordinance and law before them in Sichem.
26 And Iosuah wrote these wordes in the booke of the law of God, and tooke a great stone, & pitched it on an end in the said place, vnder an Oake that was in the Sanctuary of the Lord.
27 And Iosuah saide vnto all the people, Behold, this stone shall be a witnesse vnto vs, for[n] it hath heard all the wordes of the Lord which hee spake vnto vs, it shall bee therefore a witnesse vnto you, lest ye denie your God.
28 And so Iosuah let the people depart, euery man vnto his inheritance.
29 And after these things, Iosuah the sonne of Nun the seruant of the Lord died, being an hundred and ten yeeres old.
30 And they buried him in the border of his inheritance in Thamnah Serah, which is in mount Ephraim, on the North side of the hill of Gaas.
31 And Israel serued the Lord [o] all the dayes of Iosuah, and all the dayes of the Elders that ouerliued Iosuah, and which had knowen all the workes of the Lord that hee had done for Israel.
32 And the bones of Ioseph, which the children of Israel brought out of Egypt, [p] buried they in Sichem, in a parcell of ground which Iacob bought of the sonnes of Hemor the father of Sichem, for an hundred pieces of siluer, and it became the inheritance of the children of Ioseph.
33 And Eleazar the sonne of Aaron died, whom they buried in a hill that perteined to Phinehes his sonne, which hill was giuen him in mount Ephraim.

The end of the booke of Iosuah, whom the Hebrewes call Iehosuah.

k In this your confession of Gods benefits, and promise made to serue him, if hereafter ye doe the contrary.

The first Chapter.

1 After Iosuah was dead, Iuda was constituted captaine. 6 Adoni-bezek is taken. 14 The request of Achsah. 16 The children of Keni. 19 The Chanaanites are made tributaries, but not destroyed.

Now after the death of Iosuah, it came to passe that the children of Israel [a] asked the Lord, saying, Who shall goe vp for vs against the Chanaanites, to fight first against them?
2 And the Lord said, Iuda shall go vp: behold, I haue deliuered the land into his hands.
3 And Iuda sayde vnto Simeon his [b] brother, Come vp with me in my lot, that wee may fight against the Chanaanites, and I likewise will go with thee into thy [c] lot. And so Simeon went with him.
4 And Iuda went vp, and the Lord deliuered the Chanaanites and Pherezites into their hands: and they slewe of them in Bezek tenne thousand men.
5 And they found ‖ Adoni-bezek in Bezek: and they fought against him, and slew the Chanaanites and Pherezites.
6 But Adon-bezek fled, and they followed after him, caught him, and [d] cut off his thumbs, and his great toes.
7 And Adoni-bezek sayd, Threescore and ten kings, hauing their thumbes and their great toes cut off, gathered their meate vnder my table: as I haue done, so God hath done to mee again. And they brought him to Hierusalem, and there he died.
8 (The children of Iuda had [e] fought against Hierusalem, and had taken it, and smitten it with the edge of the sword, and [f] set the citie on fire.)
9 Afterwarde the children of Iuda went downe to fight against the Chanaanites that dwelt in the mountain, and toward the South, and in the low country.
10 And Iuda went against the Chanaanites that dwelt in Hebron (which before time was called Kiriath-arba), and slewe Sesai, Ahiman, and Thalmai.
11 And from thence hee went to the inhabitants of Dabir, whose name in olde time was called Kiriath-sepher.
12 And Caleb sayd, He that smiteth Kiriath-sepher, and taketh it, to him will I giue Achsah my daughter to wife.
13 And Othoniel the sonne of Kenez Calebs yonger brother, tooke it: to whome hee gaue Achsah his daughter to wife.
14 When he came to him, she counsailed him to aske of her father a fielde: And then shee [g] lighted off her asse, and Caleb said vnto her, What wilt thou?

16 And the children of the [h] Kenite, Moſes father in law, went vp out of the citie of palme trees, with the children of Iuda into the wildernesse of Iuda, that lyeth in the South of Arad, and they went and dwelt among the people.

17 And Iuda went with Simeon his brother, and they ſlue the Chanaanites that inhabited Zephath, and vtterly deſtroyed it, and called the name of the citie Horma.

18 And alſo Iuda tooke [i] ~~Azzah~~ Gazah with the coaſts therof, and Aſkalon with the coaſts therof, and Akaron with the coaſts therof.

19 And the Lord was with Iuda, and he conquered the mountaines, but could not driue out the inhabitants of the valleys, becauſe they had charets of yron.

20 And they gaue Hebron vnto Caleb, * as Moſes ſaide: and he expelled thence the three ſonnes of Anak.

21 And the children of Beniamin did not caſt out the Iebuſites that inhabited Hieruſalem: but the Iebuſites dwell with the children of Beniamin in Hieruſalem vnto this day.

22 And ~~in like maner they that were~~ of the houſe of Ioſeph went vp to Bethel, & the Lord was with them.

23 * And the houſe of Ioſeph ſearched out Bethel, which before time was called Luz.

24 And the ſpies ſaw a man come out of the citie, and they ſaid vnto him, Shew vs, we pray thee, the way into the citie, and we will ſhewe thee mercie.

25 And when he had ſhewed them the way into the citie, they ſmote it with the edge of the ſword, but let the man & all his houſhold go free.

26 And the man went into the lande of the Hethites, and built a citie, and called the name thereof Luz: which is the name thereof vnto [k] this day.

27 Neither did Manaſſes expell Bethſean with her townes, Thanach with her townes, the inhabiters of Dor, with her townes, the inhabiters of Ibleam, with her townes, neither the inhabitants of Magiddo, with her townes: but the Chanaanites ~~dwelt ſtill in the land~~.

28 But as ſoone as Iſrael was wared mightie, they put the Chanaanites to tribute, and expelled them not wholly.

29 [l] In like maner Ephraim expelled not the Chanaanites that dwelt in Gazer: but the Chanaanites dwelt ſtill in Gazer among them.

30 Neither did Zabulon expel the inhabiters of Ketron, neither the inhabiters of Nahalol: but the Chanaanites dwelt among them, and became tributaries.

31 Neither did Aſer caſt out the inhabiters of Acho, neither the inhabiters of Zidon, and of Ahalab, Aczib, and Helbah, Aphek, nor of Rehob:

32 But the Aſherites dwelt among the Chanaanites, the inhabiters of the land: for they did not driue them out.

33 Neither did Nephthali driue out the inhabiters of Bethſhames, nor the inhabiters of Bethanath, but dwelt amongſt the Chanaanites, the inhabiters of the land: neuertheleſſe, the inhabiters of Bethſhames, and of Bethanath, became tributaries vnto them.

34 And the Amorites ‖ droue the children of Dan into the mountaine, and ſuffered them not to come downe to the valley.

35 And the Amorites were conteyn to dwell in mount Heres in Aſalon, and in Salabim: and the hand of Ioſeph preuailed, ſo that they became tributaries.

36 And the coaſt of the Amorites was from the going vp to Acrabim, and from the [m] rocke vpward.

The ij. Chapter.

2 The Angel rebuketh the people, becauſe they had made peace with the Chanaanites. 22 The cauſe is ſhewed why God ſuffered idolaters to remaine among them.

AND the [a] Angel of the Lord came vp from Gilgal to Bochim and ſayde, I made you to goe out of Egypt, and haue brought you vnto the land which I ſware vnto your fathers, and I ſaide, I will neuer breake my couenant that I made with you.

2 And ye alſo ſhall make no couenant with the inhabiters of this lande, but ſhall breake downe their altars: neuertheleſſe, ye haue not hearkened vnto my voyce: why haue ye this done?

3 Wherefore I haue likewiſe determined, that I will not caſt them out before you: but they ſhalbe as thornes vnto you, and their gods ſhalbe a ſnare vnto you.

4 And when the Angel of the Lorde ſpake theſe words vnto all the children of Iſrael, the people cryed out, and wept:

5 And called the name of the ſame place ‖ Bochim, and offered ſacrifices there, vnto the Lord.

6 And when Iohuah [b] had ſent the people away, the children of Iſrael went euery man vnto his inheritance, to poſſeſſe the land.

7 And the people ſerued the Lord all the daies of Iohuah, and all the dayes of the Elders that outliued Iohuah, and had ſeene all the great workes of the Lord, that he did for Iſrael.

10 And ſo all that generation were gathered vnto their fathers: and there aroſe another generation after them, which neither knew the Lord, nor yet the workes which he had done for Iſrael.

11 And then the children of Iſrael did wickedly in the ſight of the Lord, and ſerued [d] Baalim, 4 Debora iudgeth Israel, and exhorteth Barac to deliuer the people. 16 Sisera fleeth, 17 and is killed by Iael.

AND the children of Israel began againe to doe wickedly in the sight of the Lord, when Iud was dead.

2 And the Lord sold them into the hand of a Iabin king of Chanaan, that reigned in b Hazor, whose captaine of warre was called Sisera, which dwelt in Harosheth of the Gentiles.

3 And the children of Israel cryed vnto the Lord, for he had nine hundred charets of yron: and twenty yeres he troubled the children of Israel very sore.

4 And Debora a prophetisse, the wife of Lapidoth, iudged Israel the same time.

5 And the same Debora dwelt vnder a palme tree, betweene Ramath and Bethel, in mount Ephraim: and the children of Israel came vp to her for iudgement.

6 And she sent and called Barac the sonne of Abinoam, out of Kedes Nephthali, and said vnto him, Hath not the Lord God of Israel c commanded, saying, Goe, and draw toward mount Thabor, and take with thee ten thousand men of the children of Nephthali, and of the children of Zabulon?

7 And I will bring vnto thee to the ‡ riuer Kison, Sisera the captaine of Iabins armie, with his charets, and his people, and will deliuer him into thine hands.

8 And Barac said vnto her, d If thou wilt go with mee, I will goe: but and if thou wilt not come with me, I will not goe.

9 She said, I will surely goe with thee, but this iourney that thou takest, shall not bee for thine honour: for the Lord shall deliuer Sisera into the hand of a woman. And Debora arose, and went with Barac to Kedes.

10 And Barac called Zabulon and Nephthali to Kedes: and ‡ went after him ten thousand men: and Debora went with him.

11 But Haber the Kenite, which was of the ‡ children of Hobab, the father in law of Moses, remoued from the Kenites, and pitched his tent c vnto the plaine of Zaanaim, which is by Kedes.

12 And they shewed Sisera, that Barac the sonne of Abinoam was gone vp to mount Thabor.

13 And Sisera gathered together all his charets, euen nine hundred charets of iron, and all the people that were with him, from Harosheth of the Gentiles, vnto the riuer of Kison.

14 And Debora sayd vnto Barac, Vp, for this is the day in which the Lord hath deliuered Sisera into thine hand: is not the Lorde gone out before thee? And so Barac went downe from mount Thabor, and tenne thousand men after him.

15 * But the Lord destroyed Sisera and all his charets, and all his hoste with the edge of the swoorde, before Barac: so that Sisera lighted downe off his charet, and fled away on his feete. Psal 83.10.

16 But Barac followed after the charets, and after the hoste vnto Harosheth of the Gentiles, & all the hoste of Sisera fell vpon the edge of the swoorde, and there was not a man left.

17 Howbeit Sisera fled away on his feete, to the tent of Iael the wife of f Haber the Kenite (for there was peace betweene Iabin the king of Hazor, and the houshold of Haber the Kenite.)

18 And Iael went out to meete Sisera, and said vnto him, Turne in, my lord, turne in to me, feare not. And when hee had turned in vnto her into her tent, shee couered him with a mantell.

19 And he said vnto her, Giue me, I pray thee, a little water to drinke, for I am thirstie. And shee opened a bottel of milke, & gaue him drinke, and couered him.

20 And againe he said vnto her, Stand in the doore of the tent, and when any man doth come and enquire of thee whether there bee any man here, thou shalt say, Nay.

21 Then Iael Habers wife, tooke a naile of the tent, and an hammer in her hand, and went softly vnto him, and smote the naile into the temples of his head, and fastened it into the ground: (for hee slumbred fore, and was weary) and so he died.

22 And behold, as Barac followed after Sisera, Iael came out to meete him, and said vnto him, Come, and I wil shew thee the man whom thou seekest. And when hee came into her tent, behold, g Sisera lay dead, and the naile was in his temples.

23 And so God brought Iabin the king of Chanaan into subiection that day, before the children of Israel.

24 And the hande of the children of Israel ‡ prospered, & preuailed against Iabin the king of Chanaan, vntill they had destroyed Iabin king of Chanaan.

5 The mountaines melted before the Lord, euen as this Sinai before the Lorde God of Israel.

6 In the dayes of Samgar the sonne of Anath, in the dayes of Iael, the high wayes were [b] vnoccupied, and the trauailers walked thorow byewaies.

7 The inhabitantes of the townes were gone, they were gone in Israel, vntill I Debora came vp, which came vp a [c] mother in Israel.

8 They chose newe gods, and then had they the enemie in the gates: was there a shielde or speare seene among fourtie thousand of Israel?

25 He asked water, and she gaue him milke, she brought forth butter in a lordly dish.

26 She put her hande to the naile, and her right hand to the Smithes hammer: with the hammer smote she Sisara, and smote his head, wounded him, and pearced his temples.

27 He bowed him downe at her feete, he fell downe, and lay still at her feete, he bowed himselfe, and fell: and when he had sunke downe, he lay there destroyed.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Israel is oppressed of the Madianites for their wickednesse. 14 Gedeon is sent to be their deliuerer. 37 He asked a signe.

AND the children of Israel committed [a] wickednesse in the sight of the Lord: and the Lord deliuered them into the [b] hands of Madian seuen yeeres.

2 And the hand of Madian preuailed against Israel: and [c] because of the Madianites, the children of Israel made them dens in the mountaines, and caues, and strong holdes.

3 And when Israel had sowen, then came vp the Madianites, the Amalekites, and they of the East, and came vp against them,

4 And pitched their tents against them, and destroyed the increase of the earth, til thou come vnto Azah, and left no sustenance for Israel, neither sheepe, ore, nor asse:

5 For they went vp, they and their cattell, and came with their tents, as a multitude of Grashoppers, for both they and also their camels were without number: and they entred into the land to destroy it.

6 And so was Israel exceedingly impouerished [d] in the sight of the Madianites, [†] and cryed vnto the Lord.

7 And when the children of Israel cryed vnto the Lord, because of the Madianites, his sonne Gedeon threshed wheate by the wine-presse, to hide it from the Madianites.

12 And the Angel of the Lord appeared vnto him, and said vnto him, The Lord is with thee thou mightie man.

13 And Gedeon answered him, Oh my Lord, if the Lord be with vs, why is all this come vpon vs? Yea, and where be all his miracles which our fathers told vs of, and said, Did not the Lord bring vs out of Egypt? but now the Lord hath forsaken vs, and deliuered vs into the handes of the Madianites.

14 And the Lord looked vpon him, and said, Goe thou in this thy might, and thou shalt deliuer Israel out of the handes of the Madianites: haue not I sent thee?

15 And he answered him, Oh Lord, wherewith shall I saue Israel? behold, my kinred is poore in Manasses, and I am least in my fathers house.

16 The Lord said vnto him, I will be with thee, and thou shalt smite the Madianites as they were but one man.

17 And hee answered him, Oh, if I haue found grace in thy sight, then shew me a token, that it is thou that talkest with me:

18 Depart not hence, I pray thee, vntill I come vnto thee, and till I bring mine offring, and haue set it before thee. And he said, I will tary vntill thou come againe.

19 And Gedeon went in, and made ready a kid, and sweete cakes of an Ephah of floure, and put it with the flesh in a basket, & put the broth in a pot, and brought it out vnto him vnder the Oake, and presented it.

20 And the Angell of God sayde vnto him, Take the flesh and the sweet cakes, and lay them vpon this rocke, and powre out the broth. And he did so.

21 Then the Angel of the Lord put forth the end of the staffe that he held in his hand, and touched the flesh, and the sweete cakes, and there rose vp fire out of the rocke, and consumed the flesh and the sweete cakes: but the angel of the Lord departed out of his sight.

22 And when Gedeon perceiued that it was an Angel of the Lord, he said, Alas, O Lord God, haue I therefore seene an Angel of the Lord face to face, that I should die?

23 And the Lord said vnto him, Peace be vnto thee, feare not, thou shalt not die.

24 Then Gedeon made an altar there vnto the Lord, and called it, The Lord of peace. And vnto this day it is yet in Ephrah, that perteineth vnto the father of the Ezrites.

25 And the same night the Lord said vnto him, Take thy fathers young bullocke, and another bullocke of seuen yeeres old, and destroy the altar of Baal that thy father hath, and cut downe the groue that is by it:

26 And make an altar vnto the Lord thy God vpon the toppe of this rocke, in a conuenient place, and take the second bullocke, and offer burnt sacrifice vpon the wood of the groue which thou shalt cut downe.

27 Then Gedeon tooke ten men of his seruants, and did as the Lord bade him: But because hee feared to doe it by day, for his fathers houshold, and the men of the citie, he did it by night.

28 And when the men of the citie arose early in the morning, behold the altar of Baal was broken, and the groue cut downe that was by it, and the second bullocke offered vpon the altar that was made.

29 And they said one to another, who hath done this thing? And when they enquired and asked, they said, Gedeon the sonne of Joas hath done this thing.

30 Then the men of the citie said vnto Joas, Bring out thy sonne, that he may die: because he hath destroyed the altar of Baal, & cut downe the groue that was by it.

31 And Joas said vnto all that stood by him, Will ye pleade Baals cause? or will ye saue him? He that will contend for him, let him die yer the morning: if he be a God, let him pleade for himselfe, against him that hath cast downe his altar.

32 And from that day was Gedeon called Jerobaal: because his father had said, Let Baal plead for himselfe, because he hath broken downe his altar.

33 All the Madianites therefore, and the Amalekites, and they of the East were gathered together, and went, and pitched in the valley of Jezrael.

34 But the spirit of the Lord ‡ came vpon Gedeon, and hee blew a trumpet, and Abiezer was ioyned with him.

35 And hee sent messengers throughout all Manasses, which also was ioyned with him, and hee sent messengers vnto Aser, Zabulon, Nephthali, and they came to meete them.

36 And Gedeon said vnto them, If thou wilt saue Israel by mine hand, as thou hast said, 37 Behold, I will put a fleece of woll in the threshing place: and if the dewe come on the fleece onely, and it be drie vpon all the earth beside, then shall I bee sure that thou wilt saue Israel by my hand, as thou saidest.

38 And it came so to passe: for he rose vp early on the morow, and thrust the fleece together, and wroong the dewe therout, and filled a bould of water.

39 *And Gedeon said againe vnto God, Bee not angry with mee that I speake once more, for I will proue once againe by the fleece. Let it be drie onely vpon the fleece, and dewe vpon all the ground.

40 And God did so that same night: for it was drie vpon the fleece onely, and there was dew on all the ground.

The vij. Chapter.

or be afraide, let him returne and depart earely from mount Gilead: and there returned of the people twentie and two thousand, and there abode ten thousand.

4 And the Lord said vnto Gedeon, The people are yet two many: bring them downe vnto the water, and I will trie them vnto thee there: and of whom I say vnto thee, This shal go with thee: the same shal go with thee. And of whomsoeuer I say vnto thee, This shall not goe with thee: the same shall not goe.

5 So he brought downe the people vnto the water: and the Lord said vnto Gedeon, As many as lap the water with their tongues as a dog lappeth, them put by themselues, and so doe them that kneele downe vpon their knees [b] to drinke.

6 And the number of them that put their hands to their mouthes, and lapped, were three hundred men: but all the remnant of the people kneeled downe vpon their knees to drinke water.

7 And the Lorde sayde vnto Gedeon, By these three hundred men that [c] lapped, will I saue you, and deliuer the Madianites into thine hand, and let all the [d] other people go euery man vnto his place.

8 They therefore of the people tooke victuals with them, and their trumpets: and he sent all the rest of Israel, euery man vnto his tent, and retained those three hundred men: and the hoste of Madian was beneath him in a valley.

9 And the same night the Lord saide vnto him, Arise, get thee downe vnto the hoste, for I haue deliuered it into thine hand.

10 But if thou feare to goe downe, then goe thou and Phara thy lad downe to the hoste.

11 And thou shalt heare what they say, and so shall thine hands be strong to go downe vnto the hoste. Then went he downe, and Phara his lad, vnto the outside of the men of armes that were in the hoste.

12 And the Madianites, the Amalekites, and all the [e] of the East, lay along in the valley like a multitude of grashoppers, & their camels were without number, as the sand by the sea side in multitude.

13 And when Gedeon was come, beholde, there was a man that tolde a dreame vnto his neighbour, & said, Behold, I dreamed a dreame, and me thought that a cake of barley bread tumbled into the hoste of Madian, and came vnto a tent, and smote it that it fell, and ouerturned it, that the tent lay along.

14 And his fellow answered, and said, This is nothing els saue the sword of Gedeon the son of Joas, a man of Israel: for into his hand hath God deliuered Madian and all the hoste.

15 When Gedeon heard the telling of the dreame, and the interpretation of the same, he worshipped, and returned into the hoste of Israel, and said, Vp; for the Lord hath deliuered into your hand the hoste of Madian.

16 And hee deuided the three hundred men into three companies, and gaue euery man a trumpet in his hand, with empty pitchers, and [c] ‖ lampes therein.

17 And said vnto them, Looke on me, and do like wise: that when I come to the side of the hoste, euen as I doe, so doe you.

18 When I blowe with a trumpet, and all that are with me, blowe ye the trumpets also on euery side of the hoste, and say, For the Lord, and for Gedeon.

19 So Gedeon and the hundred men that were with him, came vnto the outside of the hoste in the beginning of the middle watch, and raised vp the watchmen, and they blewe with their trumpets, and brake the pitchers that were in their hands.

20 And the three companies blewe with trumpets, and brake the pitchers, and helde the lamps in their left hands, and the trumpets in their right to blowe withal: and they cried, The sword of the Lord, and of Gedeon.

21 And they stood euery man in his place round about the hoste: and all the hoste ‖ ran, and cried, and fled.

22 And the three hundred blewe with trumpets, * and the Lord sent euery mans sword vp on his neighbour thoro out all the hoste: and the hoste fled to Bathshittah, to Zererath, and to the edge of the plaine of Meholah vnto Tabbath.

23 And the men of Israel, being gathered together out of Nephthali, & of Aser, and of all Manasses, followed after the Madianites.

24 And Gedeon sent messengers vnto all mount Ephraim, saying, Come downe against the Madianites, and take before them the [g] waters vnto Beth barath, and to Jordane. Then all the men of Ephraim gathered together, and tooke the waters vnto Bethbarath, and to Jordane.

25 *And they tooke two princes of the Madianites, Oreb and Zeb: and slew Oreb vpon the rocke Oreb, and Zeb at the [h] winepresse of Zeb, and followed after Madian: and brought the heads of Oreb and Zeb to Gedeon on the other side Jordane.

17 And he brake downe the towre of Phanuel, and slew the men of the citie.

18 And then said he vnto Zebah and Zalmana, What maner of men were they whom yee slew at Thabor? And they answered, The likenesse of thee and them is all one, euen after the fashion of the children of a king.

19 And he said, They were my brethren, euen my mothers children: as truely as the Lord liueth, if yee had saued their liues, I would not slay you.

f Euen nature forceth me to reuenge their deaths.

20 And he said vnto Jether his eldest sonne, Vp, and slay them. But the lad drewe not his sword: for he feared, because he was yet yong.

21 Then Zebah and Zalmana said, Rise thou, and fall vpon vs: for as g the man is, so is his strength. And Gedeon arose, and slew Zebah and Zalmana, and tooke away the ornaments that were on their camels neckes.

g Meaning, that they would be rid out of their paine at once: or that they thought it dishonour to be put to death by a boy.

22 Then the men of Israel said vnto Gedeon, Reigne thou ouer vs, both thou, thy sonne, and thy h sonnes sonne, for thou hast deliuered vs out of the hand of Madian.

h That is, thy posteritie.

23 And Gedeon said vnto them, I will not reigne ouer you, neither shall my child reigne ouer you: but the Lord shall reigne ouer you.

i By such one as he shall chose according to the sentence of his holy word, to rule and to mainteine his true religion.

24 And againe Gedeon saide vnto them, I would desire a request of you, that you would giue me euery man the earings of his pray. For they had golden eare rings, because they were Ismaelites.

25 And they answered, Wee will giue them. And they spred a mantell, and did cast therein euery man the eare rings of his pray.

26 And the weight of the golden eare rings that he required, was a thousand & seuen hundred sicles of golde, beside chaines and iewels, and purple rayment that was on the kings of Madian, and beside the chains that were about their camels neckes.

27 And Gedeon made an k Ephod thereof, and put it in his citie Ophrah: and all Israel went a whoring after it in the same place, which thing became a snare vnto Gedeon, and to his house.

k To bee a testimonie of this victorie: but afterward abused to idolatrie.

28 Thus was Madian brought lowe before the children of Israel, so that they lifted vp their heads no more: and the country was in quietnesse fourtie yeeres in the dayes of Gedeon.

29 And Jerobaal the sonne of Joas went and dwelt in his owne house.

30 And Gedeon had threescore & ten sonnes of his body begotten: for he had many wiues.

31 And his concubine that was in Sichem bare him a sonne also, whose name he called Abimelech.

32 And Gedeon the sonne of Joas died in a good age, & was buried in the sepulchre of Joas his father in Ophrah, that pertained vnto the father of the Ezrites.

33 But as soone as Gedeon was dead, the children of Israel turned away, & went a whoring after Baalim, and made a couenant with Baal to be their god.

34 And the children of Israel thought not on the Lord their God, which had deliuered them out of the hands of all their enemies on euery side.

35 Neither l shewed they mercie on the house of Jerobaal, otherwise called Gedeon, according to all the goodnesse which he had shewed vnto Israel.

l An Hebrew phrase, whereby is meant that they were neither thankfull, nor kinde, nor louing, nor beneficiall to the children of Jerobaal.

The ix. Chapter.

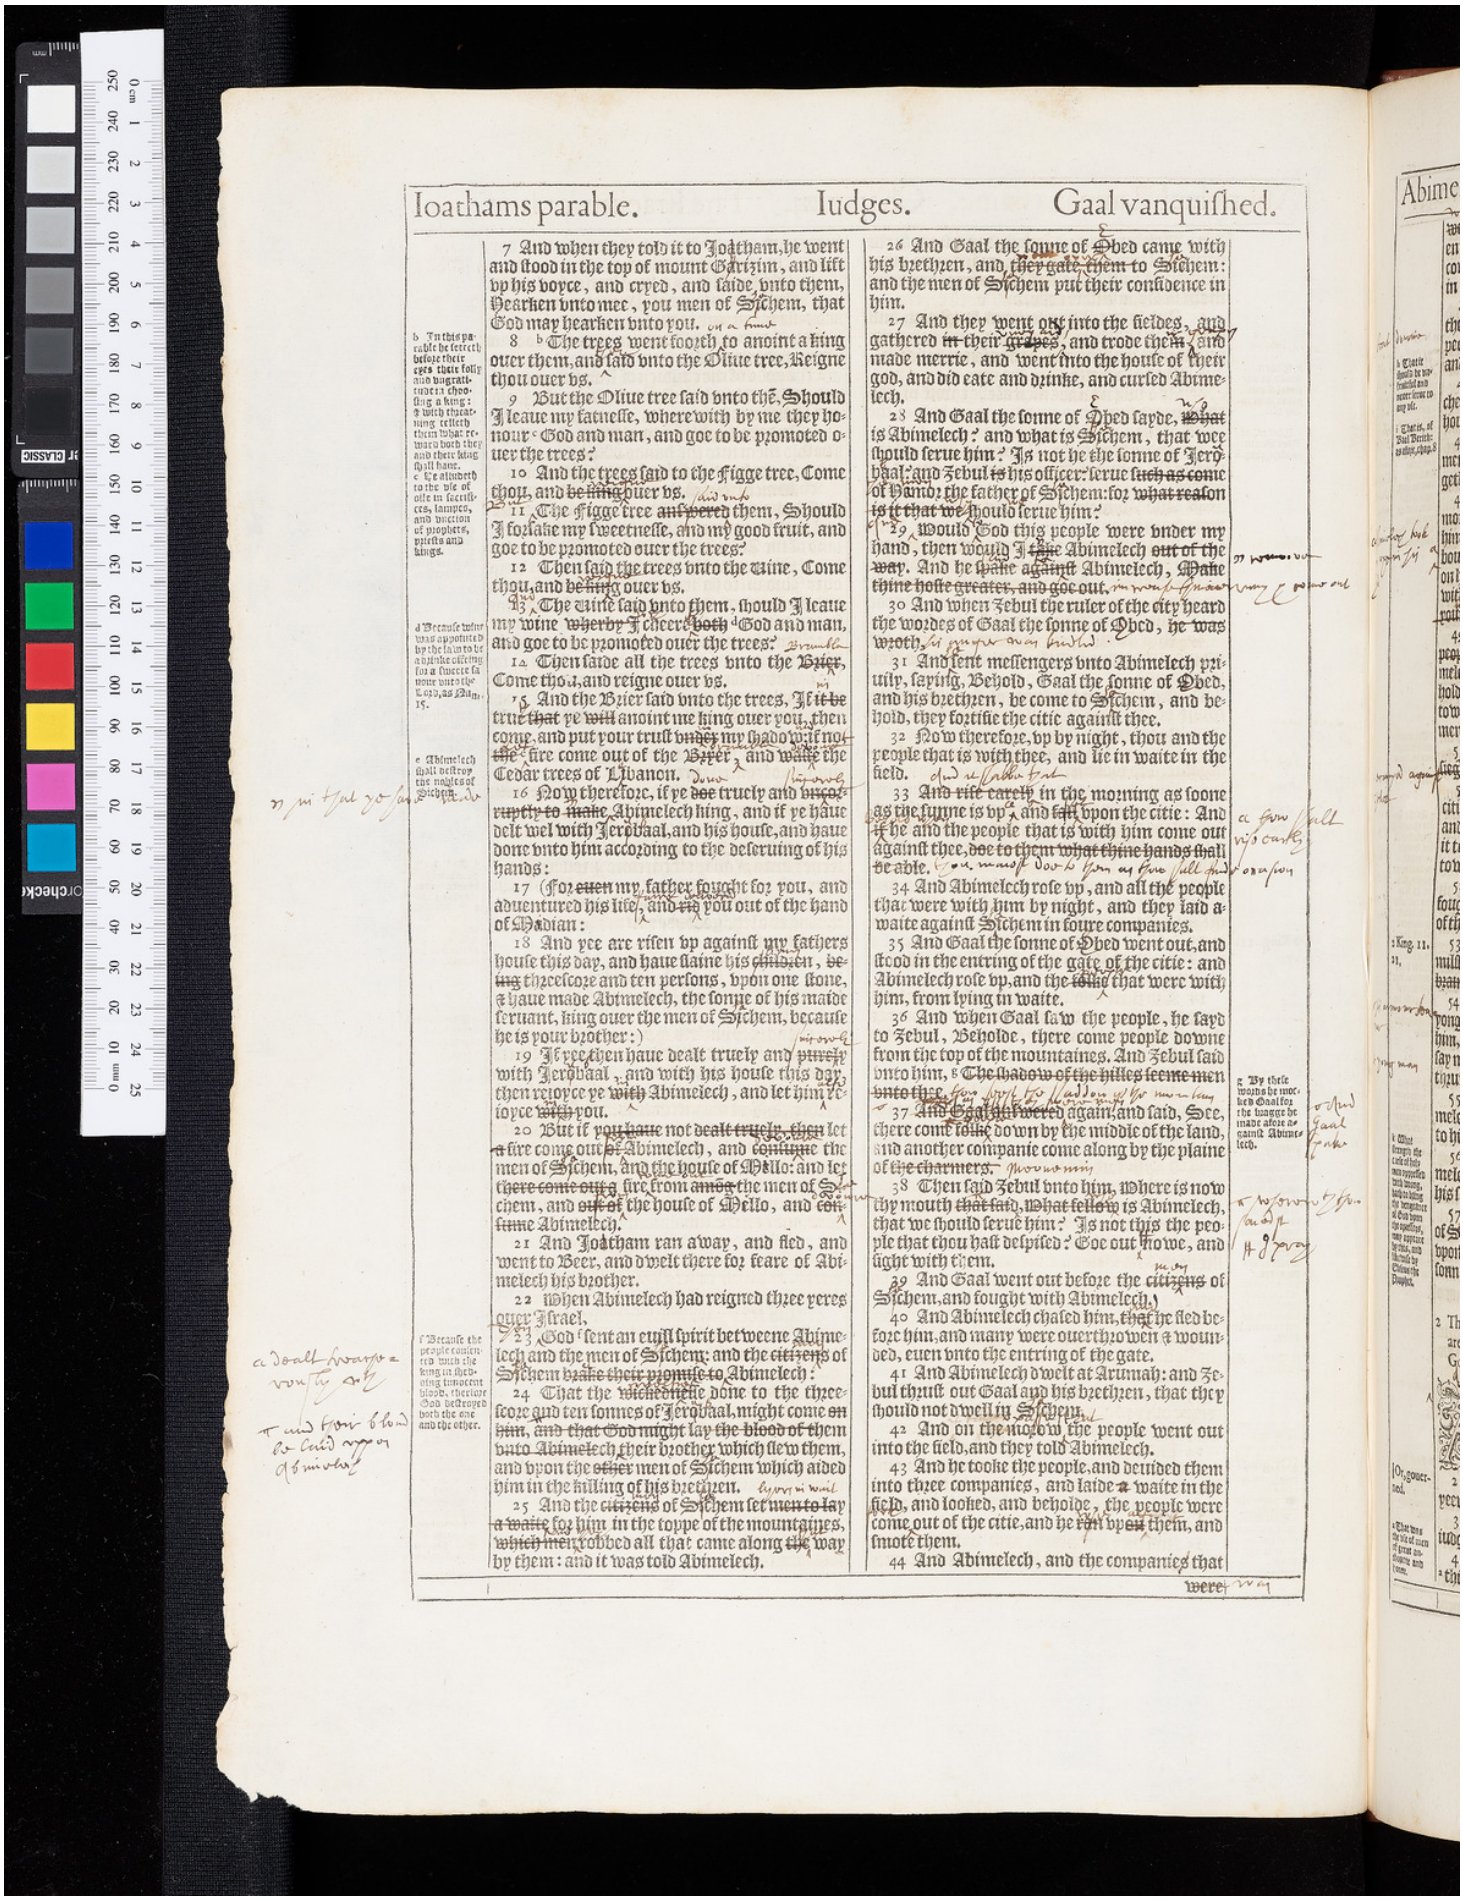
1 Abimelech vsurpeth the kingdome, and putteth his brethren to death. 7 Ioatham proposeth a parable.

ABimelech the sonne of Jerobaal, went to Sichē, vnto his mothers brethren, & communed with them, and with all the kinred of the house of his mothers father, saying,

2 Say, I pray you, in the eares of all the men of Sichem, whether is better for you, that all the sonnes of Jerobaal (which are threescore and ten persons) reigne ouer you, either that one reigne ouer you? Remember that I am of your bone, and of your flesh.

3 And his mothers brethren spake of him in the audience of all the men of Sichem, all these words, and their hearts were moued to follow Abimelech: for they said, He is our brother.

4 And they gaue him threescore and ten pieces of siluer, out of the house of Baal Berith, wherewith Abimelech hired vaine and light persons, which went with him.



5 And hee went vnto his fathers house at Ephrath, and m slew his brethren the sonnes of Jerobaal, being threescore and ten persons, vpon one stone: notwithstanding, yet Joatham the yongest sonne of Jerobaal escaped, for he hid himselfe.

m The deede of soueraignte where it is exercised, therein the innocent blood that is found in his way, as a malle deuoureth bombes. 2. Chro. 21. 4.

7 And when they told it to Ioatham, he went and stood in the top of mount Garizim, and lift vp his voyce, and cryed, and saide vnto them, Hearken vnto mee, you men of Sichem, that God may hearken vnto you.

8 b The trees went foorth to anoint a king ouer them, and saide vnto the Olive tree, Reigne thou ouer vs.

9 But the Olive tree said vnto thē, Should I leaue my fatnesse, wherewith by me they honour God and man, and goe to be promoted ouer the trees?

10 And the trees said to the Figge tree, Come thou, and be king ouer vs.

11 The Figge tree answered them, Should I forsake my sweetnesse, and my good fruit, and goe to be promoted ouer the trees?

12 Then said the trees vnto the Vine, Come thou, and be king ouer vs.

13 The Vine said vnto them, Should I leaue my wine wherby I cheere both d God and man, and goe to be promoted ouer the trees?

14 Then saide all the trees vnto the Brier, Come thou, and reigne ouer vs.

15 And the Brier said vnto the trees, If it be true that ye will anoint me king ouer you, then come, and put your trust vnder my shadow: if not, e fire come out of the Brier, and waste the Cedar trees of Libanon.

16 Now therefore, if ye doe truely and vncorruptly to make Abimelech king, and if ye haue delt wel with Ierobaal, and his house, and haue done vnto him according to the deseruing of his hands:

17 (For euen my father fought for you, and aduentured his life, and rid you out of the hand of Madian:

18 And yee are risen vp against my fathers house this day, and haue slaine his children, being threescore and ten persons, vpon one stone, & haue made Abimelech, the sonne of his maide seruant, king ouer the men of Sichem, because he is your brother:)

19 If yee then haue dealt truely and purely with Ierobaal, and with his house this day, then reioyce ye with Abimelech, and let him reioyce with you.

20 But if you haue not dealt truely, then let a fire come out of Abimelech, and consume the men of Sichem, and the house of Mello: and let there come out a fire from amos the men of Sichem, and out of the house of Mello, and consume Abimelech.

21 And Ioatham ran away, and fled, and went to Beer, and dwelt there for feare of Abimelech his brother.

22 When Abimelech had reigned three yeres ouer Israel,

23 God sent an euill spirit betweene Abimelech and the men of Sichem: and the citizens of Sichem brake their promise to Abimelech:

24 That the wickednesse done to the threescore and ten sonnes of Ierobaal, might come on him, and that God might lay the blood of them vnto Abimelech their brother, which slew them, and vpon the other men of Sichem which aided him in the killing of his brethren.

25 And the citizens of Sichem set men to lay a waite for him in the toppe of the mountaines, which men robbed all that came along the way by them: and it was told Abimelech.

26 And Gaal the sonne of Obed came with his brethren, and they gate them to Sichem: and the men of Sichem put their confidence in him.

27 And they went out into the fieldes, and gathered in their grapes, and trode them, and made merrie, and went into the house of their god, and did eate and drinke, and cursed Abimelech.

28 And Gaal the sonne of Obed sayde, What is Abimelech? and what is Sichem, that wee should serue him? Is not he the sonne of Ierobaal? and Zebul is his officer: serue such as come of Hamor the father of Sichem: for what reason is it that we should serue him?

29 Would God this people were vnder my hand, then would I take Abimelech out of the way. And he saide against Abimelech, Make thine hoste greater, and goe out.

30 And when Zebul the ruler of the city heard the wordes of Gaal the sonne of Obed, he was wroth, 31 And sent messengers vnto Abimelech priuily, saying, Behold, Gaal the sonne of Obed, and his brethren, be come to Sichem, and behold, they fortifie the citie against thee.

32 Now therefore, vp by night, thou and the people that is with thee, and lie in waite in the field.

33 And rise early in the morning as soone as the sunne is vp, and fall vpon the citie: And if he and the people that is with him come out against thee, doe to them what thine hands shall be able.

34 And Abimelech rose vp, and all the people that were with him by night, and they laid a waite against Sichem in foure companies.

35 And Gaal the sonne of Obed went out, and stood in the entring of the gate of the citie: and Abimelech rose vp, and the folke that were with him, from lying in waite.

36 And when Gaal saw the people, he sayd to Zebul, Beholde, there come people downe from the top of the mountaines. And Zebul said vnto him, h The shadow of the hilles seeme men vnto thee.

37 And Gaal spake yet again, and said, See, there come folke downe by the middle of the land, and another companie come along by the plaine of the charmers.

38 Then said Zebul vnto him, Where is now thy mouth that said, What fellow is Abimelech, that we should serue him? Is not this the people that thou hast despised? Goe out nowe, and fight with them.

39 And Gaal went out before the citizens of Sichem, and fought with Abimelech.

40 And Abimelech chased him, that he fled before him, and many were ouerthrowen & wounded, euen vnto the entring of the gate.

41 And Abimelech dwelt at Arumah: and Zebul thrust out Gaal and his brethren, that they should not dwell in Sichem.

42 And on the morow the people went out into the field, and they told Abimelech.

43 And he tooke the people, and deuided them into three companies, and laide a waite in the field, and looked, and beholde, the people were come out of the citie, and he rose vp against them, and smote them.

were with him, rushed forward, and stood in the entring of the gate of the city: and the two other companies ranne vpon all the people that were in the fields, and slew them.

45 And when Abimelech had fought against the citie all that day, he tooke it, and slewe the people that was therein, and destroyed the citie, and sowed [h] salt in it.

46 And when all the men of the towre of Sichem heard that, they entred into an hold of the house of the god [i] Berith.

47 And it was tolde Abimelech, that all the men of the towre of Sichem were gathered together.

48 And Abimelech gate him to mount Zelmon, both he and all the people that were with him, and tooke axes with him, and cut downe boughs of trees, and tooke them, and bare them on his shoulder, & saide vnto the folke that were with him, What yee haue seene me doe, speede your selues, and doe likewise as I haue done.

49 And all the men that were among the people cut downe boughes, and followed Abimelech, and put them into the hold, and set the hold afire vpon them: so that all the men of the towre of Sichem died also, vpon a thousand men and women.

50 Then went Abimelech to Thebez, and besieged it, and tooke it.

51 But there was a strong towre within the citie, and thither fled all the men and women, and all the chiefe that were in the citie, and shut it to them, and gate them vp to the toppe of the towre.

52 And Abimelech came vnto the towre, and fought against it, and went hard vnto the doore of the towre, to set it on fire.

53 * And a certaine woman cast a piece of a milstone vpon his head, and all to brake his braine pan.

54 Then Abimelech called hastily vnto the yong man that bare his harnesse, and said vnto him, Draw thy sword, and slay mee, that men say not of me, A woman slew him: and his lad thrust him through, and he died.

55 And when the men of Israel saw that Abimelech was dead, they departed euery man vnto his owne house.

56 Thus God rendred the wickednesse of Abimelech which he did vnto his father, in slaying his seuentie brethren.

57 And thereto all the wickednes of the men of Sichem did God bring vpon their heads: and vpon them came the [k] curse of Jotham the sonne of Jerobaal.

The x. Chapter.

2 Thola dyeth. 5 Iair also dieth. 7 The Israelites are punished for their sinnes. 10 They cry vnto God, 16 and he hath pitie on them.

AFter Abimelech, there arose to defend Israel, Thola the sonne of Puuah, the sonne of Dodo, a man of Issachar, which dwelt in Samir in mount Ephraim.

2 And he ‖ iudged Israel twentie and three yeeres, and died, and was buried in Samir.

3 And after him arose Iair a Gileadite, and iudged Israel twentie and two yeeres.

4 And hee had thirtie sonnes that rode on [a] thirtie asse colts, and they had thirtie cities, which are called [b] Hauoth Iair vnto this day, and are in the land of Gilead.

5 And Iair died, and was buried in Camon.

6 And the children of Israel wrought wickednesse yet againe in the sight of the Lord, and serued Baalim and Astaroth, and the gods of ‖ Syria, the gods of Sidon, and the gods of Moab, the gods of the children of Ammon, and the gods of the Philistines, and forsooke the Lord, and serued not him.

7 And the Lord was wroth with Israel, and ‖ he sold them into the hands of the Philistines, and into the hands of the children of Ammon.

8 Which from that yere forth, pilled and oppressed the children of Israel eighteene yeeres, [c] all that were on the other side Jordane, in the land of the Amorites, which is in Gilead.

9 Moreouer, the children of Ammon went ouer Jordan, to fight against Juda, Beniamin, and the house of Ephraim, so that Israel was sore cumbred.

10 And the children of Israel cryed vnto the Lord, saying, We haue sinned against thee, for we haue forsaken our owne God, and haue serued Baalim.

11 And the Lord [d] said vnto the children of Israel, Did not I helpe you from the Egyptians, and from the Amorites, from the children of Ammon, and from the Philistines?

12 The Sidonites also, and the Amalekites, and the Maonites did oppresse you, and ye cryed to me, and I deliuered you out of their hands.

13 And for all that ye haue forsaken me, and serued strange gods: wherefore I will helpe you no more.

14 Goe, and cry vnto the gods which ye haue chosen, and let them saue you in the time of your tribulation.

15 And the children of Israel sayd vnto the Lord, We haue sinned, doe thou vnto vs whatsoeuer pleaseth thee, deliuer vs onely, wee pray thee, [e] this day.

16 And they put away the strange gods from them, and serued the Lord: and his soule had pitie on the miserie of Israel.

17 Then the children of Ammon gathered together, and pitched in Gilead: and the children of Israel gathered them togither, and pitched in Mithah.

18 * And the people and lords of Gilead sayde eth to other, Whosoeuer will begin the battell against the children of Ammon, the same shall be head ouer all the inhabitants of Gilead.

4 And in processe of time, the children of Ammon made warre against Israel.

5 And when the children of Ammon fought thus against Israel, the elders of Gilead went to fetch Iephthah out of the land of Tob,

6 And said vnto him, Come, and [d] be our captaine, that wee may fight with the children of Ammon.

7 Iephthah answered the Elders of Gilead, Did not ye hate me, and expell me out of my fathers house: how then come you vnto me now in time of your tribulation?

8 And the Elders of Gilead sayd vnto Iephthah, Therefore we turne againe to thee now, that thou mayest goe with vs, and fight against the children of Ammon, and be our head ouer all the inhabitants of Gilead.

9 And Iephthah said vnto the elders of Gilead, If ye bring me home again to fight against the children of Ammon, and the Lord deliuer them before me, shall I be your head?

10 And the elders of Gilead sayde to Iephthah, The Lord be [†] witnesse betweene vs, if we doe not according to thy words.

11 Then Iephthah went with the Elders of Gilead, and the people made him head and captaine ouer them: and Iephthah rehearsed al his words before the Lord in Mizpah.

12 And Iephthah sent messengers vnto the king of the children of Ammon, saying, What hast thou to doe with me, that thou art come against me to fight in my land?

13 The king of the children of Ammon answered vnto the messengers of Iephthah, Because Israel tooke away my lande when they came out of Egypt, from Arnon vnto Iabok, and vnto Iordane: now therefore restore those lands againe [†] with faire meanes,

14 And Iephthah sent messengers againe vnto the children of Ammon:

15 And said vnto him, Thus saith Iephthah, Israel tooke not away the land of Moab, nor the land of the children of Ammon:

16 But when Israel came vp from Egypt, and walked through the wildernes vnto the red sea, they came to Cades:

17 And Israel sent messengers vnto the king of Edom, saying, Let me, I pray thee, goe thorow thy land. But the king of Edom would not agree thereto: And in like maner they sent vnto the king of Moab, but hee would not consent: and Israel abode still in Cades.

18 Then they went along through the wildernesse, and compassed the land of Edom, and the land of Moab, and came along by the East side of the land of Moab, and pitched on the other side of Arnon, and would not come within the coast of Moab; for Arnon was the border of Moab.

19 And Israel sent messengers vnto Sehon king of the Amorites, king of Hesbon, and said vnto him, Let vs passe, wee pray thee, thorow thy land, vnto our owne country.

20 But Sehon confided not to Israel, that he should goe thorow his coast: but gathered all his people together, and pitched in Iaza, and fought with Israel.

21 And the Lord God of Israel deliuered Sehon and all his folke into the handes of Israel, and they smote them: so Israel smote them, and possessed all the land of the Amorites, the inhabitants of that countrey.

22 And they possessed all the coastes of the Amorites, from Arnon vnto Iabok, and from the wildernesse vnto Iordane.

23 So now seeing the Lord God of Israel hath cast out the Amorites before his people Israel, shouldest thou possesse it?

24 Nay, but what people Camos thy god driueth out, that land possesse thou: Euen so, whatsoeuer nation the Lord our God expelleth before vs, that land ought we to enioy.

25 And art thou better then Balac the sonne of Zephor king of Moab? Did he not striue with Israel, and fight against them, 26 All the while Israel dwelt in Hesbon, and her townes, in Aroer and her townes, and in all the cities that bee along by the coastes of Arnon, three hundred yeeres? why did yee not recouer them in all that space?

27 Wherefore I haue not sinned against thee, but thou doest me wrong to warre against mee: the Lord therefore which is a iudge, bee iudge this day betweene the children of Israel, and the children of Ammon.

28 Howbeit, the king of the children of Ammon hearkened not vnto the words of Iephthah which he sent him.

29 Then [f] the Spirit of the Lord came vpon Iephthah, and he passed ouer to Gilead, and to Manasses, and came to Mispah, that lyeth in Gilead, and from thence vnto the children of Ammon.

30 And Iephthah [g] vowed a vowe vnto the Lord, and said, If thou shalt deliuer the children of Ammon into my hands, 31 Then that thing that commeth out of the doores of my house against me, when I come in peace from the children of Ammon, shall bee the Lords, and I will offer it vp for a whole burnt offering.

32 And so Iephthah went vnto the children of Ammon, to fight against them, and the Lord deliuered them into his hands.

33 And hee smote them from Aroer, till thou come to Minnith, euen twenty cities, and to Abeth, to the plaine of the vineyards, with an exceeding great slaughter; and thus the children of Ammon were brought vnder before the children of Israel.

34 When Iephthah came to Mispah vnto his house, lo, his daughter came out against him with [h] timbrels and dances, which was his onely childe: so that beside her hee had neither sonne nor daughter.

35 And when he saw her, he [i] rent his clothes, and sayd, Alas, my daughter, thou hast brought me low, and art one of them that troubleth me: for I haue opened my mouth vnto the Lord, and cannot goe backe.

36 And he said vnto him, My father, if thou haue opened thy mouth vnto the Lord, then doe with me according to it that proceeded out of thy mouth: forasmuch as the Lord hath auenged thee of thine enemies the children of Ammon.

37 And he said vnto her father, Do this much for me: Let me alone two moneths, that I may [k] goe to the mountaines and bewaile my virginitie, I, and my fellowes.

38 And he said, Goe. And hee sent her away two moneths, and shee went with her companions, and lamented her maidenhead vpon the mountaines.

5 Moreouer, the men of Gilead tooke the passages of Iordane before the Ephraites: and when those Ephraites that were escaped, sayd, Let mee goe ouer: then the men of Gilead sayde vnto him, Art thou an Ephraite? If hee sayd, Nay:

5 For loe, thou shalt conceiue and beare a sonne, and there may no rasor come on his head, for the lad shall bee [a] a Nazarite vnto God from his birth: and hee shall begin to saue Israel out of the hands of the Philistines.

[a] Meaning, he should haue a peculiar calling to serue God in, separate from the common order of men.

6 Then the wife came, and told her husband, saying, A man of God came vnto mee, and the fashion of him was like the fashion of an Angel of God, exceeding [‖] feareful: but I asked him not whence hee was, neither tolde hee mee his name:

[‖] Or, wonderfull.

7 But said vnto mee, Behold, thou shalt bee with child and beare a sonne, and now drinke no wine nor strong drinke, neither eate any vncleane thing: for the lad shall be a Nazarite to God from his birth, to the day of his death.

8 Then Manoah made intercession to the Lord, and said, I pray thee my Lord, let the man of God which thou sendest, come againe vnto vs, and teach vs what we shall do vnto the lad when he is borne.

9 And God heard the voice of Manoah, and the Angel of God came againe vnto the wife as shee sate in the field: But Manoah her husband was not with her.

10 And the wife made haste, and ranne and shewed her husband, and said vnto him, Behold, the man appeared vnto me, that came vnto mee [b] to day.

[b] It seemeth that the angel appeared vnto her in one day.

11 And Manoah arose, and went after his wife, and came to the [c] man, and sayd vnto him, Art thou the man that spakest vnto the woman? And he sayd, I am.

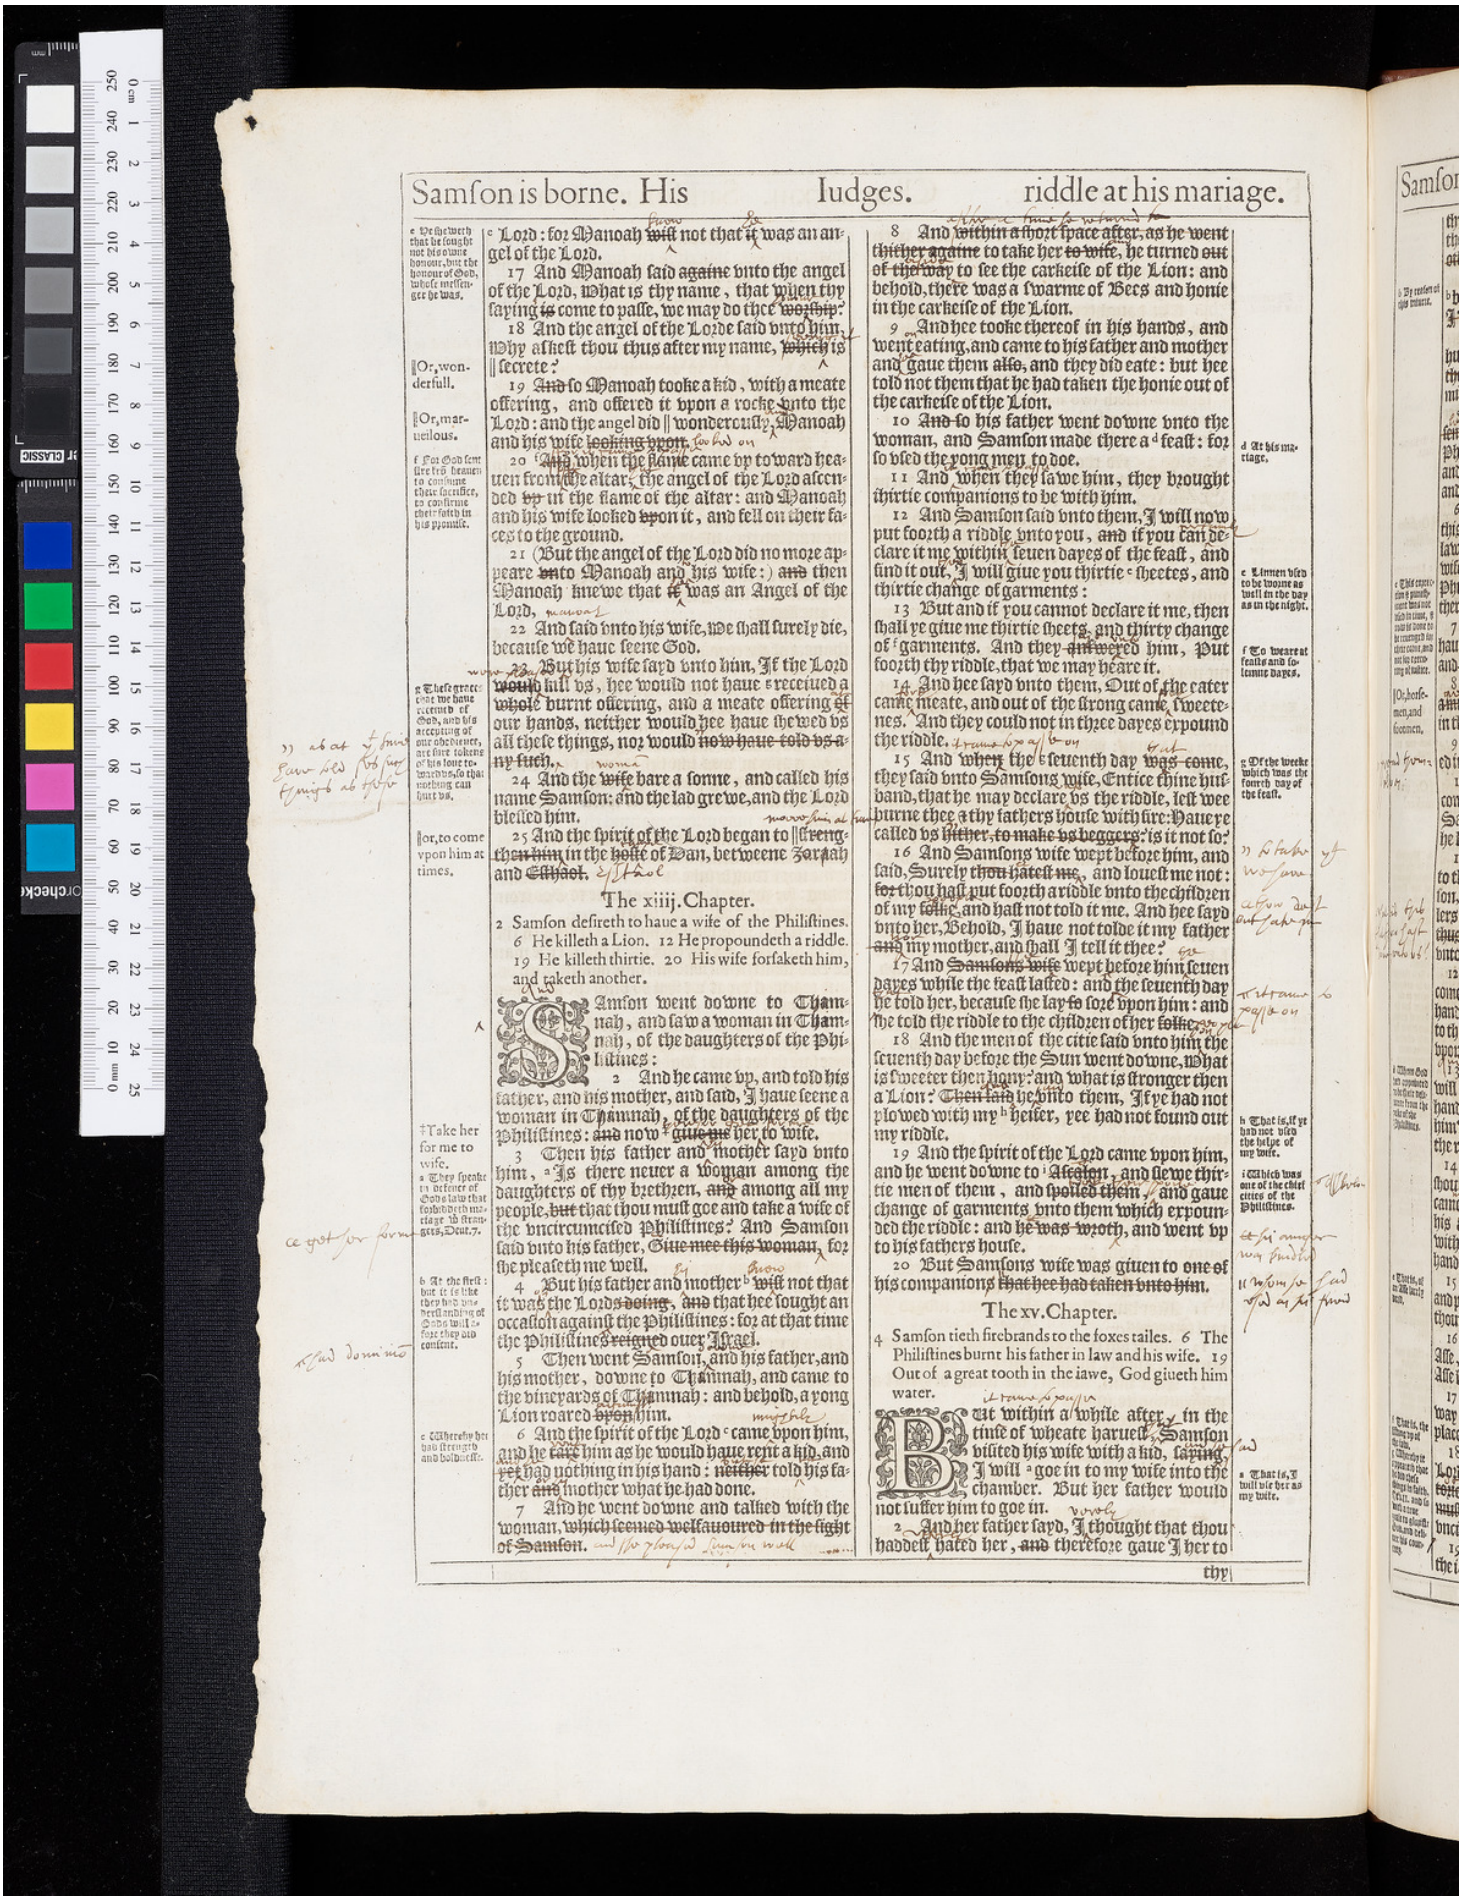
12 Manoah sayd, now let thy saying come to passe: How shall we order the childe, and doe vnto him?

13 And the Angel of the Lord said vnto Manoah, The woman must abstaine from all that I said vnto her:

14 Shee may eate of nothing that commeth of the vine tree, nor drinke wine or strong drinke, nor eate any [d] vncleane thing: but must obserue all that I bade her.



[d] That is, any thing that is forbidden by the lawe.

15 Manoah sayd vnto the Angel of the Lord, I pray thee let vs retaine thee, vntill wee haue made ready a kid before thee.

c Lord: for Manoah will not that it was an angel of the Lord.

17 And Manoah said againe vnto the angel of the Lord, What is thy name, that when thy saying is come to passe, we may do thee worship?

18 And the angel of the Lorde said vnto him, Why askest thou thus after my name, seeing it is secrete?

‖Or, wonderfull.

19 And so Manoah tooke a kid, with a meate offering, and offered it vpon a rocke vnto the Lord: and the angel did ‖ wonderously, Manoah and his wife looking vpon.

‖Or, marueilous.

f For God sent fire frō heauen to consume their sacrifice, to confirme their faith in his promise.

20 (And when the flame came vp toward heauen from the altar, the angel of the Lord ascended vp in the flame of the altar: and Manoah and his wife looked vpon it, and fell on their faces to the ground.

21 But the angel of the Lord did no more appeare vnto Manoah and his wife:) and then Manoah knewe that it was an Angel of the Lord, 22 And said vnto his wife, We shall surely die, because we haue seene God.

g These graces that we haue receiued of God, and his accepting of our endeuer, are sure tokens of his loue towardes vs, so that nothing can hurt vs.

23 But his wife said vnto him, If the Lord would kill vs, hee would not haue ᵍreceiued a whole burnt offering, and a meate offering of our hands, neither would hee haue shewed vs all these things, nor would now haue told vs any such.

24 And the wife bare a sonne, and called his name Samson: and the lad grewe, and the Lord blessed him.

25 And the spirit of the Lord began to ‖ stirre him in the host of Dan, betweene Zorah and Eshtaol.

The xiiij. Chapter.

2 Samson desireth to haue a wife of the Philistines. 6 He killeth a Lion. 12 He propoundeth a riddle. 19 He killeth thirtie. 20 His wife forsaketh him, and taketh another.

SAmson went downe to Thamnah, and saw a woman in Thamnah, of the daughters of the Philistines:

2 And he came vp, and told his father, and his mother, and said, I haue seene a woman in Thamnah, of the daughters of the Philistines: and now ‡ giue her to wife.

‡Take her for me to wife.

3 Then his father and mother said vnto him, ª Is there neuer a woman among the daughters of thy brethren, and among all my people, but that thou must goe and take a wife of the vncircumcised Philistines? And Samson said vnto his father, Giue mee this woman, for she pleaseth me well.

ª They speake in defence of Gods law that forbiddeth mariage with strangers, Deut. 7.

4 But his father and mother ᵇ wist not that it was the Lords doing, and that hee sought an occasion against the Philistines: for at that time the Philistines reigned ouer Israel.

ᵇ At the first: but it is like they had vnderstanding of Gods will before they did consent.

5 Then went Samson, and his father, and his mother, downe to Thamnah, and came to the vineyards of Thamnah: and behold, a yong Lion roared vpon him.

6 And the spirit of the Lord ᶜ came vpon him, and he rent him as he would haue rent a kid, and yet had nothing in his hand: neither told his father and mother what he had done.

ᶜ Whereby he had strength and boldnesse.

7 And he went downe and talked with the woman, which seemed wellfauoured in the sight of Samson.

8 And within a short space after, as he went thither againe to take her to wife, he turned out of the way to see the carkeise of the Lion: and behold, there was a swarme of Bees and honie in the carkeise of the Lion.

9 And hee tooke thereof in his hands, and went eating, and came to his father and mother and gaue them also, and they did eate: but hee told not them that he had taken the honie out of the carkeise of the Lion.

10 And so his father went downe vnto the woman, and Samson made there a ᵈ feast: for so vsed the yong men to doe.

11 And when they sawe him, they brought thirtie companions to be with him.

12 And Samson said vnto them, I will now put foorth a riddle vnto you, and if you can declare it me within seuen dayes of the feast, and find it out, I will giue you thirtie ᵉ sheetes, and thirtie change of garments:

14 And hee sayd vnto them, Out of the eater came meate, and out of the strong came sweetenes. And they could not in three dayes expound the riddle.

15 And when the ᵍ seuenth day was come, they said vnto Samsons wife, Entice thine husband, that he may declare vs the riddle, lest wee burne thee & thy fathers house with fire: Haue ye called vs hither, to make vs beggers? is it not so?

16 And Samsons wife wept before him, and said, Surely thou hatest me, and louest me not: for thou hast put foorth a riddle vnto the children of my folke, and hast not told it me. And hee sayd vnto her, Behold, I haue not tolde it my father and my mother, and shall I tell it thee?

17 And Samsons wife wept before him seuen dayes while the feast lasted: and the seuenth day he told her, because she lay so sore vpon him: and she told the riddle to the children of her folke.

18 And the men of the citie said vnto him the seuenth day before the Sun went downe, What is sweeter then hony? and what is stronger then a Lion? Then said he vnto them, If ye had not plowed with my ʰ heifer, yee had not found out my riddle.

h That is, if ye had not vsed the helpe of my wife.

19 And the spirit of the Lord came vpon him, and he went downe to ⁱ Ascalon, and slewe thirtie men of them, and spoiled them, and gaue change of garments vnto them which expounded the riddle: and he was wroth, and went vp to his fathers house.

4 And Samson went out, and caught three hundred foxes, and tooke firebrands, and turned them tayle to tayle, and put a firebrand in the midst betweene two tayles.

5 And when he had set the brands on fire, he sent them out into the standing corne of the Philistines, and burnt vp both the reaped corne, and also the standing corne, with the vineyards and Oliues.

6 Then the Philistines sayd, Who hath done this? and they answered, Samson the sonne in law of the Thimnite, because he had taken his wife, and giuen her to his companion. And the Philistines came vp, and burnt her and her father with fire.

7 And Samson sayd vnto them, Though ye haue done this, yet will I bee auenged of you, and then I will cease.

10 And the men of Iuda sayde, Why are yee come vp vnto vs? They answered, To binde Samson are we come vp, and to doe to him, as he hath done to vs.

11 Then three thousand men of Iuda went to the top of the rocke Etam, and saide to Samson, Wotest thou not that the Philistines are rulers ouer vs? wherefore then hast thou done thus vnto vs? He answered them, As they did vnto me, so haue I done vnto them.

12 And they sayde vnto him againe, Wee are come to binde thee, and to deliuer thee into the hand of the Philistines. And Samson sayd vnto them, Sweare vnto me, that ye shall not fall vpon me your selues.

13 They answered him, saying, No: but wee will binde thee, and deliuer thee vnto their hands: but we will not kil thee. And they bound him with two new cords, and brought him from the rocke.

14 And when he came to Lehi, the Philistines shouted against him: and the spirite of the Lord came vpon him, and the cordes that were vpon his armes became as flare that was burnt with fire, so the bandes loosed from off his hands.

15 And he found a new iawbone of an Asse, and put forth his hand, and caught it, and slew a thousand men therewith.

16 And Samson sayde, With the iawe of an Asse, heapes vpon heapes, with the iawe of an Asse haue I slaine a thousand men.

17 And when he had left speaking, hee cast away the iawbone out of his hand, and called the place Ramath Lehi.

18 And he was sore athirst, and called on the Lord, and said, Thou hast giuen this great victorie into the hand of thy seruant: and now I must die for thirst, and fall into the hands of the vncircumcised.

19 But God brake a great tooth that was in the iaw, and there came water thereout, & when he had dronke, his spirite came againe, and hee was refreshed: wherefore the name thereof was called vnto this day, The well of the caller on: which came of the iaw.

1 Samson carieth away the gates of Azzah. 18 He was deceiued by Dalila. 23 Hee pulleth downe the house vpon the Philistines, & dieth with them.

THen went Samson to Azzah, and saw there an ‖ harlot, and went in vnto her,

2 And it was tolde the Azzahites, saying, Samson is come hither. And they went about, and layd wayt for him there all night in the gate of the citie, and were still all the night, saying, In the morning when it is day, we shall kill him.

3 And Samson tooke his rest til midnight, and arose at midnight, and tooke the doores of the gate of the citie, and the two postes, and rent them off, with the barre and all, and put them vpon his shoulders, and carried them vp to the top of an hill that is before Hebron.

4 And after this, he loued a woman by the ‖ riuer of Sorek, whose name was Dalila.

5 Vnto whome came the lords of the Philistines, and layd vnto her, a Perswade him, and see wherein his great strength lyeth, & by what meanes wee may ouercome him, that wee may binde him, and punish him: and euery one of vs shall giue thee eleuen hundred siluerlings.

6 And Dalila sayd to Samson, Oh tell mee where thy great strength lyeth, and how thou mightest be bound, and brought vnder.

7 Samson answered vnto her, If they binde me with seuen greene withs that were neuer dryed, I shall be weake, and be as another man.

8 And then the lords of the Philistines brought her seuen withes that were yet greene, and neuer dryed, and she bound him there with.

9 (Notwithstanding, he had men lying in wayt with her in the chamber:) and she said vnto him, The Philistines be vpon thee, Samson. And immediatly hee brake the cords, as a string of tow breaketh when it feeleth the fire: and so his strength was not knowen.

10 And Dalila sayd vnto Samson, See, thou hast mocked me, and told me lies: now therefore b tell me, where with thou mightest be bound.

11 He answered her, If they binde me with new ropes that neuer were occupied, I shall be weake, and be as another man.

12 Dalila therefore tooke newe ropes, and bound him there with, and sayd vnto him, The Philistines be vpon thee, Samson. (And there were lyers in wayte in the chamber.) And hee brake them from his armes, as they had beene but a thread.

13 And Dalila sayd vnto Samson, Hitherto thou hast beguiled me, and told me lyes: yet tell me how thou mightest be bound. Hee said vnto her, If thou plattest the seuen locks of my head with the threads of the woofe.

18 And when Dzila saw that he had tolde her all his heart, she sent and called for the lords of the Philistines, saying, Come vp yet this once, for he hath shewed me all his heart. Then the lords of the Philistines came vp vnto her, and brought the money in their hands.

19 And she made him sleepe vpon her knees, and she sent for a man, and he did shaue off the seuen locks of his head, and began to vexe him, and his strength was gone from him.

20 And shee sayd, The Philistines be vpon thee, Samson. And hee awoke out of his sleepe and said, I will goe out now as at other times before, and shake my selfe. And he wist not that the Lord was departed from him.

21 But the Philistines tooke him, and put out his eyes, and brought him downe to Azzah, and bound him with fetters of brasse, and he did grinde in the prison house.

22 Howbeit, the haire of his head began [d] to growe againe after that he was shauen.

23 Then the lords of the Philistines gathered them together, for to offer a solemne offring vnto Dagon their god, and to reioice: for they said, Our god hath deliuered Samson our enemie into our hands.

24 And when the people sawe him, they praysed their god: for they said, Our god hath deliuered into our hands our enemie, and destroyer of our countrey, which slew many of vs.

25 And when their hearts were merry, they said, Send for Samson, that he may make vs ||sport. And they set Samson out of the prison house, and he played before them, and they set him vetweene the pillars.

26 And Samson said vnto the lad that led him by the hand, Set me that I may touch the pillars that the house standeth vpon, and that I may leane to them.

27 And the house was full of men and women, and there were all the lords of the Philistines: and there were vpon the roofe a three thousand men and women, that beheld while Samson ||played.

28 And Samson called vnto the Lord, and said, O Lord God, I pray thee, thinke vpon me, and strengthen me, I beseech thee, at this time onely, O God, that I may [‡] be at once auenged of the Philistines for my two eyes.

29 And Samson caught the two middle pillars on which the house stoode, and on which it was borne vp, the one in his right hand, and the other in his left.

30 And Samson said, My [e] soule shall die with the Philistines, and bowed him with all his might, and the house fell vpon the lords, and vpon all the people that were therein: and so the dead which he slew at his death, were moe then they which he slew in his life.

31 And then his brethren, and all the house of his father, came downe, and tooke him vp, and brought him, and buried him betweene Zorah and Eshaol, in the burying place of Manoah his father: and he iudged Israel twentie yeeres.

AND in those dayes, when there was no king in Israel, a certain Leuite sojourning on the side of mount Ephraim, tooke to wife a a concubine out of Bethlehem Juda:

2 And his concubine played the whore by him, and went away from him vnto her fathers house to Bethlehem Juda, and there continued foure moneths.

3 And her husband arose, and went after her, to speake ‡ friendly vnto her, and to bring her againe, hauing his lad with him, & a couple of Asses: and she brought him into her fathers house, and when the father of the damsell sawe him, he reioyced of his comming.

4 And his father in law, the damsels father, retayned him, and hee abode with him three dayes: and so they did eat and drinke, and lodged there.

5 The fourth day when they arose earely in the morning, the man ‖ rose vp to depart: and the damsels father sayd vnto his sonne in lawe, ‖ Comfort thine heart with a morsell of bread, and then goe your way.

6 And they sate downe, and did eat & drinke both of them together: and the damsels father sayd vnto the man, Be content, I pray thee, and tarie all night, and let thine heart be merry.

7 And when the man stood ready to depart, his father in law ‖ compelled him: therefore hee returned, and tarryed all night there.

8 And he rose vp early the fift day to depart, & the damsels father sayd, Comfort thine b heart, I pray thee. And they taried vntil after mid day: and they did eat both of them together.

9 And when the man arose to depart with his concubine, and his lad, his father in law, the damsels father, sayd vnto him, Behold, now the day ‡ draweth toward euen, I pray you tarie all night: behold, ‖ the Sunne goeth to rest, lodge heere, that thine heart may be merry: and to morow get you early vpon your way, that thou mayest get thee to thy c tent.

10 Neuertheles, the man would not tarry, but arose, and departed, and came as farre as Jebus (which is Hierusalem) and his two Asses laden, and his concubine with him.

11 And when they were ‡ by Jebus, the day was farre spent, and the ‖ young man sayd vnto his master, Come, I pray thee, and let vs turne in into this citie of the Jebusites, and lodge all night there.

12 His master answered, Wee will not turne into a d straunge citie, that are not of the children of Israel, we will goe forth to Gibea.

13 And he said vnto his lad, Go forward, and let vs draw neere to one of these places to lodge all night, either in Gibea, or in Rama.

14 And they went forward vpon their way, and the Sunne went downe vpon them when they were ‡ by Gibea, which belongeth to them of Beniamin.

15 And they turned, thitherward, to goe in and lodge all night in Gibea: and when he came, hee sate him downe in a streete of the citie, for there was no man that ‖ tooke them into his house to lodging.

16 And behold, there came an old man from his worke out of the field at euen, which was also of mount Ephraim, and dwelt as a stranger in Gibea: but the men of the place were the children of e Jemini.

17 And when he had lift vp his eyes, he sawe a wayfaring man in the streete of the citie: and the old man said, Whither goest thou? & whence commest thou?

18 He answered him, We come from Bethlehem Juda, toward the side of mount Ephraim, from thence am I: and I went to Bethlehem Juda, and goe now to the f house of the Lord, and there is no man that receiueth mee to house, 19 We haue straw and prouender for our Asses, and bread and wine for mee and thy handmaid, and for the lad that is with thy seruant: and we lacke nothing.

20 The old man said, ‖ Peace bee with thee, all that thou lackest, shalt thou finde with mee: onely abide not in the streete all night.

21 And so he brought him into his house, and gaue fodder vnto the Asses: and they washed their feete, and did eate and drinke.

22 And as they were making their hearts merry, behold, the men of the citie which were ‡ wicked beset the house round about, and thrust at the doore, & spake to the man of the house, the old man, saying, Bring forth the man that came into thine house, that we may g know him.

23 And this man, the master of the house went out, and said vnto them, Oh, nay my brethren, doe not so wickedly, seeing that this man is come into mine house, doe not so vnmeete a thing.

24 Behold, heere is my daughter a mayden, and this mans concubine, them I will bring out now vnto you, and h humble them, and doe with them what seemeth you good: but vnto this man doe not so abominable a thing.

25 But the men would not hearken to him: and the man tooke his concubine, and brought her out vnto them, which knew her, and abused her all the night vnto the morning: and when the day began to spring, they let her goe.

26 And then came the woman in the dawning of the day, and fell i downe at the doore of the mans house where her ‖ lord was, till it was day light.

27 And her lord arose vp in the morning, and opened the doores of the house, and went out to goe his way: and behold, the woman his concubine lay along before the doore of the house, and her hands vpon the threshold.

28 And he said vnto her, Vp, and let vs be going. But she answered not: then the man tooke her vp vpon an Asse, and stood vp, and gate him vnto his k place.

29 And when he was come into his house, he tooke a knife, and caught his concubine, and diuided her in peeces with the bones into twelue parts, and sent her into all quarters of Israel.

30 And all that sawe it, saide, There was no such deede done or seene since the children of Israel came out of Egypt vnto this day: consider the matter, take aduisement, and say your minds.

4 And the Leuite, the womans husband that was slaine, answered and sayd, I came into Gibea that is in Beniamin, with my concubine to lodge all night.

5 And the men of Gibea rose against me, and beset the house round about vpon me by night, and thought to haue slaine me: and my concubine haue they forced, that she is dead.

6 And I tooke my concubine, and cut her in pieces, and sent her throughout all the countrey of the inheritance of Israel: for they haue committed abomination and villany in Israel.

7 Behold, ye are all children of Israel, giue your aduise and counsell herein.

8 And all the people arose as one man, saying, There shall not a man of vs goe to his tent, neither turne into his house.

c Before we haue reuenged this wickednesse.

9 But this shall be it that we will doe to Gibea, we will goe vp by lot against it:

10 And we will take ten men of the hundred throughout all the tribes of Israel, and an hundred of euery thousand, and a thousand out of ten thousand, to fetch victuall for the people, that they may doe, when they come to Gibea Beniamin, according to all the abomination that they haue wrought in Israel.

11 And so all the men of Israel gathered together against the city, knitte together as one man.

12 And the tribes of Israel sent men thorowe all the tribe of Beniamin, saying, What wickednesse is this that is committed among you?

13 Now therefore deliuer vs the men, those children of Belial which are in Gibea, that wee may cast them, and put d away euill from Israel.

d By punishing the wicked doers according to their deserts.

14 But the children of Beniamin would not hearken vnto the voice of their brethren the children of Israel: but the children of Beniamin gathered themselues together out of the cities, vnto Gibea, to e goe out and fight against the children of Israel.

e Thereby making themselues guiltie of the wickednesse committed. 15 therefore iustly partakers of the punishment. Iudg.3.15.

15 And the children of Beniamin were numbred at that time out of the cities, twentie and fiue thousand men that drew swords, beside the inhabitants of Gibea, which were numbred seuen hundred chosen men.

16 And among all these folke, were seuen hundred chosen men, being left handed, which euery one could sling stones at an haire breadth, and not misse.

17 And the children of Israel beside Beniamin, were numbred foure hundred thousand men that drewe swords, and were all men of warre.

g They presume so much of their owne strength, that they aske no counsell of God for the victorie: they find therefore euill successe after.

19 And the children of Israel stood vp early, and camped against Gibea.

20 And the men of Israel went out to battell against Beniamin, and the men of Israel put themselues in aray to fight against them beside Gibea.

21 And the children of Beniamin came out of Gibea, and destroyed downe to the ground of the Israelites that day twentie and two thousand men.

22 And the people the men of Israel plucked vp their hearts, and set their battell againe in aray, in the same place where they did the first day.

23 (And the children of Israel went vp, and wept before the Lorde vnto Euen, and asked of the Lorde, saying, Shall we goe againe to battell against the children of Beniamin our brother? And the Lorde sayde, Goe vp against them.)

24 And the children of Israel came neere, against the children of Beniamin, the second day.

25 And the children of Beniamin went against them out of Gibea the second day, and destroied to the earth of the children of Israel once againe eightene thousand men, that drewe swords euery one of them.

26 Then all the children of Israel, and all the people went vp, g came vnto the house of God, and wept, and sate there before the Lord, and fasted the same day vnto Euen, and offered whole burnt offerings, and peace offerings, before the Lord.

27 And the children of Israel asked the Lord, (for there was the Arke of the appointment of God in those dayes:

28 And Phinehes the sonne of Eleazar the sonne of Aaron h stood before it in those dayes) saying, Shall I get me vp to goe out any more to battell against the children of Beniamin my brother, or shall I cease? The Lord sayd, Goe vp, for to morrowe I will deliuer them into your hands.

42 And therefore they turned their backs before the men of Israel, vnto the way that leadeth to the wildernesse, but the battell ouertooke them: and beside that, they which came out of the city, destroyed them p in the middle of them.

43 And thus they compassed the Beniamites about, and chased them ‖ diligently, and ouertaine them, euen ouer against Gibea on the East side.

44 And there were slaine of Beniamin eighteene thousande men, which were men of warre.

45 And they turned and fledde to the wildernesse ward, and vnto the rocke of Rimmon: and they q gleaned vp the way of them fiue thousand men: and pursued after them vntill they came to Gidom, & slew two thousand men of them.

46 So that al that were slaine that same day of Beniamin, were twentie and fiue thousand men that drew swords, which were all men of warre.

47 Only fiue hundred men turned and fled to the wildernesse vnto the rocke of Rimmon, and abode in the rocke of Rimmon foure moneths.

48 And the men of Israel turned backe againe vnto the children of Beniamin, and smote them with the edge of the sworde in the cities both man and beast, and all that came to hand, and set on fire all the s cities that they coulde come by.

11 And this is it that ye shall doe, Ye shall vtterly destroy all the males, and all the women that haue lyen by men.

12 And they found among the inhabitants of Iabes Gilead foure hundred damsels virgines, that had knowen no man, by lying with any male: and they brought them vnto the hoste to Silo, which is in the land of Chanaan.

17 And they sayd, There must be s an inheritance for them that bee escaped of Beniamin, that a tribe be not destroyed out of Israel.

18 Howbeit, we may not giue them wiues of our daughters. For the children of Israel haue sworne, saying, Cursed be that giueth a wife to Beniamin.

The end of the booke of Iudges.

The Booke of Ruth.

The first Chapter.

1 Elimelech goeth with his wife and children into the land of Moab. 3 Hee and his sonnes die. 19 Naomi and Ruth come to Bethlehem.

IT came to passe, that when the Iudges ‡ ruled, there fell a dearth in the a land, and a certaine man of Bethlehem b Iuda went for to sojourne in the countrey of Moab, he and his wife, and his two sonnes.

2 The name of the man was Elimelech, and the name of his wife Naomi, and the names of his two sonnes were Mahlon, and Chilion, Ephratites, out of Bethlehem Iuda: and when they came into the land of Moab, they continued there.

3 And Elimelech Naomies husband died, and she remained with her two sonnes:

4 which tooke them wiues of the Moabites: the ones name was Orpha, and the others Ruth: and they dwelled there about ten yeeres.

5 And Mahlon and Chilion died also both of them, and the woman was left destitute of her two sonnes, and of her husband.

6 Then she arose with her daughters in law, and returned from the countrey of Moab: for she had heard say in the countrey of Moab, how that the Lord had visited his people, and giuen them bread.

7 Wherefore shee departed out of the place where she was, and her two daughters in law with her: and they went on their way to returne vnto the land of Iuda.

8 And Naomi said vnto her two daughters in law, Goe and returne eche of you vnto your mothers house: and the Lord deale as kindely with you, as yee haue dealt with the dead, and with me.

9 And the Lord graunt you, that you may finde rest either of you in the house of her husband. And when shee kissed them, they lift vp their voyce and wept.

10 And said vnto her, Surely we will returne with thee vnto thy folke.

11 And Naomi said, Turne againe my daughters; for what cause will you goe with me? Are there any mo children in my wombe to be your husbands?

12 Turne againe my daughters, goe your way, for I am too olde to haue an husband: and if I said, I haue hope, if I tooke a man also this night, yea, and though I had already borne sonnes:

13 Would yee tary for them till they were of age? or would ye for them so long refraine from taking of husbands? not so my daughters: for it grieueth me ‖ much for your sakes, that the hand of the Lord is gone out ‡ against me.

14 And they lift vp their voyces, and wept againe: and Orpha § kissed her mother in law, but Ruth abode still by her.

15 And Naomi said, See, thy sister in law is gone backe againe vnto her people, and vnto her gods: returne thou after her.

16 And Ruth answered, Entreate mee not to leaue thee, and to returne from thee: for whither thou goest, I will goe also, and where thou dwellest, there I will dwell: thy people shall bee my people, and thy God my God:

17 where thou diest, there will I die, & there will I be buried: the Lord do so to mee and more also, if ought but death depart thee and me.

18 When she saw that she was stedfastly minded to goe with her, she left speaking vnto her.

19 And so they went both, vntil they came to Bethlehem. And when they were come to Bethlehem, it was ‖ noysed of them through all the citie, and they said, Is not this Naomi?

20 And she answered them, Call me not ‖ Naomi, but call me ‖ Mara: for the Almightie hath made me very bitter.

21 I went out full, & the Lord hath brought me home againe emptie: why then call yee mee Naomi, seeing the Lord hath humbled mee, and the Almighty hath brought me vnto aduersitie?

1 Ruth gathereth corne in the fields of Booz. 15 The gentleneſſe of Booz toward her.

AND Naomies husband had a kinſman, a man of power and wealth, which was of the kinred of Elimelech, named Booz.

2 And Ruth the Moabiteſſe ſayd vnto Naomi, Let mee now goe to the field, and gather eares of corne after any man, in whose ſight I finde grace. And she ſaid vnto her, Goe, my daughter.

3 And she went and came to the field, and gathered after the reapers: and it was, that the ſame fielde pertained vnto Booz, which was of the kinred of Elimelech.

4 And behold, Booz came from Bethlehem, and ſaid vnto the reapers, The Lord be with you. And they anſwered him, The Lord bleſſe thee.

5 Then ſaid Booz vnto his yong ‖man that ſtoode by the Reapers, whose damoſell is this?

6 And the yong man that ſtood by the reapers anſwered and ſaid, It is the Moabitiſh damoſell that came with Naomi out of the countrey of Moab.

7 And ſhee ſaide vnto vs, I pray you let mee gleane and gather after the reapers amongſt the ſheaues: and ſo ſhee came, and hath continued euen from the morning vntil now, ſaue that ſhe taried a litle in the houſe.

10 Then ſhee fell on her face, and bowed her ſelfe to the ground, and ſayd vnto him, How is it that I haue founde grace in thine eyes, and that thou ſhouldeſt knowe mee, ſeeing I am a [d] ſtranger?

11 And Booz anſwered, and ſaide vnto her, All is tolde and ſhewed mee, that thou haſt done vnto thy mother in lawe ſince the death of thine huſband: how thou haſt left thy father and thy mother, and the lande where thou waſt borne, and art come vnto a people, which thou kneweſt not in time paſſed.

13 Then ſhe ſaid, Let mee finde fauour in thy ſight, my lord, thou that haſt comforted mee, and ſpoken [f] comfortably vnto thy mayde, which yet am not like vnto one of thy maydens.

14 Booz ſaide vnto her againe, At the meale time come thou hither, and eat of the bread, and dip thy morſell in the vinegar. And ſhe ſate beſide the reapers: and hee reached her parched corne, and ſhe did eate, and was ſufficed, and left ‖ part.

15 And when ſhee was riſen vp, to gather, Booz commanded his yong men, ſaying, Let her gather euen among the ſheaues and [g] rebuke her not.

16 And leaue her ſome of the [h] handfuls for the nonce, and let it lie, that ſhee may gather it vp, and rebuke her not.

17 And ſo ſhe gathered in the field vntil euen, and threſhed that ſhee had gathered: and it was in meaſure vpon an Ephi of barley.

18 And ſhee tooke it vp, and went into the citie: and when her mother in lawe had ſeene what ſhe had gathered, ſhee plucked out alſo, and gaue to her that ſhe had reſerued, when ſhee had eaten enough.

19 And her mother in lawe ſaide vnto her, Where haſt thou gathered to day? and where wroughteſt thou? bleſſed be hee that knew thee. And ſhee ſhewed her mother in lawe, how ſhee had wrought with him, and ſaide, The mans name, with whome I wrought to day, is Booz.

20 And Naomi ſaide vnto her daughter in lawe, Bleſſed be he of the Lord, for he ceaſeth not to doe good to the liuing and to the [i] dead. And Naomi ſaide againe vnto her, The man is nigh vnto vs, and of our affinitie.

21 And Ruth the Moabiteſſe ſaid, He ſaid vnto mee alſo, Thou ſhalt bee ioyned to my yong men, vntil they haue ended all my harueſt.

22 And Naomi anſwered vnto Ruth her daughter in lawe, It is beſt my daughter, that thou goe out with his maydens, that they come not againſt thee in any other field.

1 Naomi giueth Ruth counſell. 8 Shee ſleepeth at Booz feete. 12 He acknowledgeth himſelfe to be her kinſeman.

THen Naomi her mother in lawe ſaid vnto her, My daughter, ſhall I not ſeeke [a] reſt for thee, that thou maieſt proſper?

3 Waſh thy ſelfe therefore, and anoynt thee, and put thy raiment vpon thee, and get thee downe to the floore: but let not the man know of thee, vntill he haue left eating and drinking.

4 And when hee goeth to ſleepe, marke the place, where he lyeth, and goe in, and lift vp the clothes, that are on his feete, and lay thee downe there: and he ſhall tell thee what thou ſhalt doe.

5 And ſhee anſwered her, All that thou bidſt me, I will doe.

6 And ſhee went downe vnto the floore, and did according to all that her mother in lawe bade her.

7 And when Booz had eaten and drunken, and cheared his heart, hee went to lie downe at the ende of the heape of corne: and ſhe came ſoftly, and lifted vp the clothes of his feete, and layd her downe.

THen went Booz vp to the [a] gate, and ſate him downe there: and behold, the kinſman, of which Booz ſpake, came by, vnto whom he ſaid, [b] Ho, ſuch one: come, ſit downe here. And he turned, and ſate downe.

3 And hee ſaide vnto the kinſman, Naomi, that is come againe out of the countrey of Moab, will ſell a parcell of land which was our brother Elimelechs.

4 And I thought to doe thee to wit, and bid thee buy it before the inhabitants and Elders of my people. If thou wilt redeeme it, redeeme it: but if thou wilt not redeeme it, then tel me, that I may know: for there is none to redeeme it, ſaue thou, and I next to thee. And the other anſwered, I will redeeme it.

5 Then ſaide Booz, What day thou buieſt the field of the hand of Naomi, thou muſt buy it alſo of Ruth the Moabiteſſe, the wife of the dead, to ſtirre vp the name of the dead vpon his [d] inheritance.

6 The kinſman anſwered, I cannot redeeme it, for marring of mine owne inheritance: redeeme thou my right to thee, for I cannot redeeme it.

7 *Now this was the maner of olde time in Iſrael, concerning redeeming and changing, for to ſtabliſh all things: that a man muſt pluck off his ſhoe, and giue it his neighbour: and this was a ſure witneſſe in Iſrael.

8 Therefore the kinſman ſaid to Booz, Buy it thou: and ſo drue off his ſhoe.

9 And Booz ſaide vnto the Elders, and vnto all the people, Yee are witneſſes this day, that I haue bought all that was Elimelechs, and all that was Chilions, and Mahalons of the hand of Naomi.

10 And moreouer, Ruth the Moabiteſſe, the wife of Mahalon, haue I purchaſed to bee my wife, to ſtirre vp the name of the dead vpon his inheritance, and that the name of the dead bee not put out from among his brethren, and from the gate of his [f] place: ye are witneſſes this day.

15 And that ſhall bring thy life againe, and cherith thine olde age: for thy daughter in law which loueth thee, hath borne vnto him, and ſhe is better to thee then [h] ſeuen ſonnes.

16 And Naomi tooke the childe and layd it in her lappe, and became nurſe vnto it.

The first Booke of Samuel, otherwise called the first Booke of the Kings.

The first Chapter.

1 The genealogie of Elkana the father of Samuel. 2 His two wiues. 11 Hanna was barren, and prayed to the Lord. 15 Her answere to Eli. 20 Samuel is borne. 24 She doeth dedicate him to the Lord.

THere was a man of one of the two [a] Ramathaim Zophim, of mount Ephraim named Elkana, the son of Jeroham, the sonne of Elihu, the sonne of Thohu, the sonne of Zuph, an Ephrathite, 2 which had [b] two wiues, the one called Hanna, and the other Phenenna: and Phenenna had children, but Hanna had no children.

3 And this man went vp out of his city euery yere, to worship and to sacrifice vnto the Lord of hostes in Silo, where were the two sonnes of Eli, Hophni and Phinehes, the Lords Priests.

4 And it fell on a day, that Elkana offered and gaue to Phenenna his wife, and to all her sonnes and daughters, portions.

5 But vnto Hanna hee gaue a [c] worthy portion: for hee loued Hanna, and the Lord had made her barren.

6 And her enemie Phenenna bered her sore, forasmuch as she vpbraided her, because the Lord had made her barren.

7 (And so did he yeere by yeere) and as oft as shee went vp to the house of the Lord, thus shee vered her, that she wept, and did not eate.

8 Then saide Elkana her husband to her, Hanna, why weepest thou? and why eatest thou not? and why is thy heart troubled? Am I not better to thee then ten [d] sonnes?

9 So Hanna rose vp after that they had eaten & drunken in Silo. (And Eli the Priest sate vpon a stoole by one of the postes of the Temple of the Lord.)

10 And shee was troubled in her minde, and prayed vnto the Lord, and wept sore,

11 And vowed a vowe, and saide, O Lord of hostes, if thou wilt looke on the trouble of thine handmayde, and remember mee, and not forget thine handmayd, but giue vnto thine handmaid a man childe, I will giue him vnto the Lord all the dayes of his life, and there shal no rasor come vpon his head.

12 And as shee continued praying before the Lord, Eli marked her mouth.

13 For Hanna spake in her heart, and her lippes did but moue, onely, but her voyce was not heard: and therefore Eli thought shee had bene drunken.

14 And Eli saide vnto her, Howe long wilt thou bee drunken? Put away from thee ‖ the wine that thou hast.

15 Hanna answered, and saide, Not so, my lord: I am a woman of a ‡ sorowfull heart. I haue drunke neither wine nor strong drinke, but haue powred out my soule before the Lord.

16 Count not thine handmayd ‖ for a wicked woman: for out of the abundance of my heauinesse and griefe haue I spoken hitherto.

17 Eli answered her again, and saide, Goe in peace: the God of Israel grant thee thy petition, that thou hast asked of him.

18 She said, Let thine handmaid find [e] grace in thy sight. And so the woman went her way, and did eate, and looked no more sad.

19 And they rose vp early, and worshipped before the Lord, and then returned, and came to their house to Ramath: and when Elkana knew Hanna his wife, the Lord [f] remembred her.

20 For in processe of time it came to passe, that shee conceiued, and bare a sonne, and called his name Samuel, saying, Because I haue asked him of the Lord.

21 And the man [g] Elkana, and all his house, went vp to offer vnto the Lord the yeerely sacrifice, and also his vowe.

22 Neuertheless, Hanna went not vp, but said vnto her husband, I will tary vntill the lad be weaned, and then I will bring him that hee may appeare before the Lord, and there abide for euer.

23 Elkana her husband answered her, Doe what seemeth thee best, tarry at home vntil thou haue weaned him; and I beseech the Lord to make good [h] his saying. And so the woman abode, and gaue her sonne sucke, vntil she weaned him.

24 And when she had weaned him, shee tooke him with her, with three bullocks, and an Epha of flowre, and a bottel of wine, and brought him vnto the house of the Lord in Silo, & the childe was ‡ yong.

25 And they slewe a bullocke, and brought in the ladde to Eli.

26 And he saide, Oh my lord, as thy [i] soule liueth, my lord, I am the woman, that stood before thee here praying vnto the Lord.

27 For this lad I prayed, and the Lord hath giuen me my desire, which I asked of him:

28 And therefore I haue giuen him vnto the Lord, as long as he liueth he shalbe giuen to the Lord. And he [k] worshipped the Lord there.

AND Hanna prayed, and said, My heart reioiceth in the Lord, and mine horne is exalted in the Lord: my mouth is [b] wide open ouer mine enemies, for I reioice in thy saluation.

2 There is none holy as the Lord: for without thee is nothing: neither is there any strength, as is our God.

3 Talke no more proudly, let not arrogancie come out of your mouthes: for the Lord is a God of kno wledge, and his purposes come to passe.

4 The bowes of the mighty men are broken, and they that were weake haue girt themselues with strength.

5 They that were full, haue hired out themselues for [c] bread: and they that were hungrie, [d] ceasse, till the baren hath borne ‖ seuen, and thee that hath many children is waxed feeble.

6 *The Lord killeth and maketh aliue, bringeth down to the graue, and fetcheth vp againe.

7 The Lord maketh poore, and maketh rich, bringeth low, and [e] lifteth vp on high.

8 He raiseth vp the poore out of the dust, and lifteth vp the begger from the dunghill, to set them among [e] princes, and to make them inherite the seate of glory: for the pillars of the earth are the Lords, and hee hath set the world vpon them.

9 He will [f] keepe the feete of his saints, and the wicked shall keepe silence in darkenesse, and in his owne might shall no man be strong.

10 The aduersaries of the Lord shall bee destroyed of him, and out of heauen shal he thunder vpon them: The Lord shall iudge the endes of the world, and shall giue might vnto his king, and exalt the horne of his anointed.

11 And Elkana went to Ramath to his house, and the lad did minister vnto the Lord [g] before Eli the Priest.

12 But the sonnes of Eli were children of [h] Belial, and knew not the Lord.

13 And the Priests custome toward the people was, that whensoeuer any man offered any offring, the Priests lad came, while the flesh was a seething, and a fleshhooke with three teeth in his hand,

14 And thrust it into the pan, kettle, caldron, or pot: and [k] all that the fleshhooke brought vp, that the Priest tooke for himselfe: and so they did vnto all the Israelites that came thither to Silo.

15 Yea, and ere they burnt the [l] fat, the Priests lad came, and said to the man that offered, Giue flesh, that I may roll it for the Priest, for he wil not haue sodden flesh of thee, but raw.

16 And if any man said vnto him, Let them burne the fat according to the ‖ custome, and then take as much as thine heart [m] desireth: then he would answere him, Yea, thou shalt giue it me nowe: and if thou wilt not, I will take it with violence.

17 And the sinne of the yong men was very great before the Lord: for men [n] abhorred the offering of the Lord.

18 But the childe Samuel ministred before the Lord, girded with a linnen Ephod.

19 Moreouer, his mother made him a little coate, and brought it to him from yeere to yeere, when she came vp with her husband to offer the yeerely sacrifice.

20 And Eli blessed Elkana and his wife, and said, The Lord giue thee seede of this woman, for the [o] petition that thee asked of the Lord. And they went vnto their owne home.

21 And the Lord visited Hanna, so that shee conceiued, and bare three sonnes, and two daughters: and the childe Samuel grew [p] before the Lord.

22 Eli was very olde, and heard all that his sonnes did vnto Israel, and how they lay with the women that waited at the doore of the tabernacle of the congregation.

23 And he said vnto them, Why doe ye such things? for of all these people I heare euill reports of you.

24 Oh nay my sonnes: for it is no good report that I heare, how that yee make the Lords people to trespasse.

25 If one man sinne against another, the iudge shall iudge it: but if a man sinne against the Lord, who will be his [q] daies man? Notwithstanding, they not hearkened vnto the voice of their father, because the Lord would slay them.

26 (The childe Samuel profited, and grewe, and was in fauour both with the Lord, and also with men.)

27 And there came a man of God vnto Eli, and said vnto him, Thus sayth the Lorde, Did not I plainely appeare vnto the house of thy father, when they were in Egypt in Pharaos house?

28 And I [r] chose him out of all the tribes of Israel, to be my Priest, for to offer vpon mine altar, and to burne incense, to weare an Ephod before mee: and I gaue vnto the house of thy father, all the offerings made by fire of the children of Israel.

29 Wherefore [s] treade yee downe my sacrifice, and mine offerings which I [t] commanded in the tabernacle, and honourest thy children aboue mee, to make your selues fat [u] of the first fruits of all the offerings of Israel my people.

30 *Wherefore the Lord God of Israel saith, I said, that thy house, and the house of thy father, should [u] walke before me for euer: but now the Lord saith, That thing be farre from me: for them that worship me, I will worship: and they that despise me, shall come to shame.

31 Beholde, the dayes come, that I will cut off thine [x] arme, and the arme of thy fathers house, that there shall not be an old man in thine house.

32 And thou shalt see thine enemie in the habitation of the Lord and in all the wealth which God shall giue Israel, and there shall not bee an olde man in thine house for euer.

33 Neuertheless I will not destroy euery one that commeth of thee, from mine altar, to make thine eyes to faile, to make thine heart sorowful: and all they that bee multiplied in thine house, shall die when they be men.

34 And this shall bee a signe vnto thee, that shall come vpon thy two sonnes, Hophni, and Phinehes: euen in one day they shall die both.

35 And I will stirre mee vp a [z] faithful Priest, that shall doe according to my heart and mine, and I will build him a sure house, and hee shall walke before mine anointed for euer.

The iij. Chapter.

1 There was no manifest vision in the time Eli. 4 The Lord calleth Samuel three times, 11 And sheweth what shall come vpon Eli, and his house. 18 The same thing declareth Samuel to Eli.

AND the child Samuel ministred vnto the Lord before Eli, and the worde of the Lord was [a] precious in those daies, neither was there any open vision.

2 And as at that time Eli lay in his [b] place, his eyes began to ware dimme, that he could not see.

3 And yer the lampe of God went out, Samuel laid him downe to sleepe in the temple of the Lord, where the Arke of God was.

4 And the Lord called Samuel. And he answered, I am here.

5 And he ran vnto Eli, and sayd, Here am I, for thou calledst mee. And hee said, I called thee not, goe againe and sleepe. And hee went, and laid him downe to sleepe.

6 And the Lord called once againe, Samuel. And Samuel arose, and went to Eli, and said, I am here, for thou diddest call me. And hee answered, I called thee not, my sonne, goe againe and sleepe.

7 Samuel [c] knew not yet the Lord, neither was the word of the Lord yet opened vnto him.

8 And the Lord went to, and called Samuel the third time. And he arose, and went to Eli, and sayd, I am here, for thou hast called mee. And Eli perceiued that the Lord had called the childe.

9 Therefore Eli said vnto Samuel, Goe and sleepe, and if he call thee, thou say, Speake Lord, for thy seruant heareth thee. So Samuel went and slept in his place.

10 And the Lord came, and stoode and called as before, Samuel, Samuel. Then Samuel answered, Speake, for thy seruant heareth.

11 And the Lord said to Samuel, Behold, I will doe a thing in Israel, that both the eares of as many as heare it, shall [d] tingle.

12 In that day, I will raise vp against Eli, all things which I haue spoken concerning his house: when I begin, I will also make an ende.

13 For I haue tolde him, that I will iudge his house for euer, for the wickednesse which hee knoweth: for when the people cursed his sonnes for the same wickednes, he did not correct them.

14 And therefore I haue swoorne vnto the house of Eli, that the wickednesse of Elies house shall not bee purged with sacrifice, nor offering, for euer.

15 Samuel slept vntill the morning, and opened the doores of the house of the Lord: and Samuel feared to shew Eli the vision.

16 Then Eli called Samuel, and sayd, Samuel my sonne. And he answered, Here am I.

17 Hee sayde, What is that the Lorde hath sayd vnto thee? I pray thee hide it not from me: [e] God doe so to thee, and more also, if thou hide any thing from mee, of all that hee sayd vnto thee.

18 And Samuel told him euery whit, and hid nothing from him. And hee sayd, It is the Lord: let him doe what seemeth him good.

19 And Samuel grewe, and the Lorde was with him, and let none of his words ‖ vnperfourmed. ‖Or, fall to the ground.

20 And all Israel, from Dan to Beer-seba, knew that faithfull Samuel was the prophet of the Lord.

21 And the Lord appeared againe in Silo: for the Lord opened himselfe to Samuel in Silo, through the word of Lord.

3 And when the people were come into their tents, the Elders of Israel sayde, [b] Wherefore hath the Lord smitten vs before the Philistines: let vs fetch the Arke of the appointment of the Lorde out of Silo vnto vs, that when it commeth among vs, it may saue vs out of the hand of our enemies.

4 And so the people went to Silo, and fet from thence the Arke of the appointment of the Lord of hostes, which [c] dwelleth betweene the Cherubims: and there were the two sonnes of Eli, Hophni, and Phinehes, with the Arke of the appointment of God.

5 And when the Arke of the appointment of the Lord came into the host, all Israel shouted a mightie shout, so that the earth rang againe.

6 And when the Philistines heard the noise of the shout, they said, What meaneth the sounde of this mightie shout in the host of the Hebrues? And they vnderstood how that the Arke of the Lord was come into the host.

7 And the Philistines were afraid, and said, God is come into the host. And they said againe, [d] Woe vnto vs: for it was neuer so before this.

8 Woe vnto vs: who shall deliuer vs out of the hand of these mightie gods? these are the gods that smote the Egyptians with many plagues in the [e] wildernesse.

9 Be strong, and quite your selues like men, O ye Philistines, that ye be not seruants vnto the Hebrewes, as they haue bene to you: be of a manly courage therefore, and fight.

10 And the Philistines fought, and Israel was smitten downe, and fled euery man into his tent: and there was an [f] exceeding great slaughter, for there were ouerthrowen of Israel [f] thirtie thousand footmen.

11 And the Arke of God was taken, and the two sonnes of Eli, Hophni and Phinehes were dead.

12 And there ran a man of Beniamin out of the armie, and came to Silo the same day with his clothes [g] rent, and earth vpon his head.

13 And when hee came, loe, Eli sate vpon a stole by the way side, waiting, for his heart feared for the [h] Arke of God. And when the man came into the citie, and tolde it, all the city cried.

14 And when Eli heard the noyse of the crying, hee said, What meaneth this noyse of the tumult? And the man came in hastily, and tolde Eli.

15 Eli was ninetie and eight yeeres olde, and his sight failed him, that he could not see.

16 And the man said vnto Eli, I am hee, that came out of the armie, and fledde this day out of the hoste. And hee saide, What thing is done my sonne?

17 The messenger answered, and said, Israel is fled before the Philistines, & there hath been a great slaughter among the people, and thy two sonnes, Hophni, and Phinehes, are dead, and the Arke of God is taken.

18 And when hee made mention of the Arke of God, Eli fell from his stoole backward by the side of the gate, and his i necke brake, and he died: for hee was an old man, and heauie, and ‖ iudged Israel fourtie yeeres.

19 And his daughter in lawe Phinehes wife was with childe, and nigh ‖ the birth: and when hee heard the tidings that the Arke of God was taken, and that her father in lawe and her husband were dead, he bowed her selfe & trauelled, and her paines came vpon her.

20 And about the time of her death, the women that stood about her, saide vnto her, Feare not, for thou hast borne a sonne. But hee answered not, nor regarded it.

21 And hee named the childe k Ichabod, saying, The glory is departed from Israel, (because the Arke of God was taken, and because of her father in law and her husband.)

22 And laide againe, The glory is gone from Israel: for the Arke of God is taken.

i If he had corrected his sons, and removed wickednesse from the abhominacle of the Lord, he and all Israel had escaped this hurtfull plague.

The v. Chapter.

2 The Philistines bring the Arke into the house of Dagon. 6 The men of Asdod are plagued. 8 The Arke is caried into Gath, and after to Acaron.

AND the Philistines tooke the Arke of God, and caried it from Eben-ezer vnto Asdod.

2 Then the Philistines tooke the Arke of God, and brought it into the house of Dagon, and set it by a Dagon.

3 And when they of Asdod were vp the next day in the morning, beholde, Dagon was fallen vpon his face on the earth before the Arke of the Lord: and they tooke Dagon, and set him in his place againe.

4 And when they were come earely on the next morning, behold, Dagon was fallen vpon his face on the ground, before the Arke of the Lord, and his head, and his two hands were cut off vpon the threshold, that onely the stumpe of Dagon was left to him.

5 And therefore is it, that neither the priests of Dagon, nor any man that commeth into Dagons house, b treadeth on the threshold of Dagon in Asdod vnto this day.

6 But the hand of the Lord was heauy vpon them of Asdod, & he destroyed them, and * smote them with Emerods, both Asdod, and all the coastes thereof.

7 And when the men of Asdod saw that it was so, they said, The Arke of the God of Israel shall not abide here with vs: for his hand is sore vpon vs, and vpon c Dagon our god.

8 They sent therefore, and gathered all the lords of the Philistines vnto them, and saide, What shall we do with the Arke of the God of Israel? They answered, Let the Arke of the God of Israel bee caried about vnto Gath. And they caried the Arke of the God of Israel about.

9 And when they had caried it about, the hand of the Lord was against the city with a very great destruction: and hee smote the men of the city both small and great, and they had Emerods in their secret parts.

10 Therefore they sent the Arke of God to Akaron: and as soone as the Arke of God came to Acaron, the Akaronites cried out, saying, They haue brought the Arke of the God of Israel to vs, to slay vs, and our people.

11 And so they sent, and gathered together all the lords of the Philistines, and saide, Send d away the Arke of the God of Israel, & goe againe to his owne place, that it slay vs not, and our people. For there was a destruction and death throughout all the city: and the hande of God was exceeding sore there.

12 And the men that died not, were smitten with the Emerods: and the cry of the city went vp to heauen.

The vj. Chapter.

17 The Philistines offer golden Emerodes. 19 The men of Bethshames are stricken for looking into the Arke.

AND the Arke of the Lord was in the countrey of the Philistines seuen moneths.

2 And the Philistines called for the priests and the soothsayers, saying, What shall wee doe with the Arke of the Lord? Tell vs where with we shall send it home againe.

3 They said, If thou send away the Arke of the God of Israel, sende it not empty: but reward it with a sinne offering: and then ye shall bee whole, and it shalbe knowen to you, why his hand departeth not from you.

4 Then said they, And what shalbe the sinne offering, which we shal reward him with? They answered, Fiue golden Emerodes, and fiue golden Mice, according to the number of the princes of the Philistines: for one plague was on you all, and on your princes.

5 Wherefore yee shall make images like to your Emerodes, and images like to your Mice, that corrupt the land, and ye shall giue glory vnto the God of Israel, that hee may take his hand from off you, and from off your b gods, and from off your land.

6 Wherefore doe ye harden your hearts, * as the Egyptians and Pharaoh hardened their hearts? which when he wrought wonderfully among them, did they not let the people goe, and they departed?

7 Now therefore, make a new cart, and take two milch kine, on whom there hath come no yoke, and tie the kine to the cart, and bring the calues home from them.

8 And take the Arke of the Lord, and lay it vpon the cart, and put the iewels of gold, which yee reward him with for a sinne offering in a coffer by the side thereof, and sende it away, that it may goe.

did vs this great euill: If no, we shal know then that it is not his hand that smote vs, but it was a [c] chance that happened vs.

10 And the men did euen so: and tooke two kine that gaue milke, and tied them to the cart, and kept the calues at home.

11 And they layed the Arke of the Lord vpon the cart, and the coffer, with the mice of golde, and with the images of their emerods.

12 And the kine tooke the straight way to Bethshames, and went on the straight way: and as they went, they lowed, and turned neither to the right hand, nor to the left: and the princes of the Philistines went after them, vnto the [d] borders of Bethshames.

13 And they of Bethshames were reaping their wheat harueſt in the valley: and they lifted vp their eyes, and spied the Arke, and reioyced when they saw it.

14 And the cart came into the field of one Iehoshua, a Bethshamite, and stood still there. There was also a great stone: and [e] they claue the wood of the cart, and offered the kine a burnt offering vnto the Lord.

15 And the Leuites tooke downe the Arke of the Lord, and the coffer that was with it, wherein the [f] iewels of gold were, and put them on the great stone: and the men of Bethshames sacrificed whole burnt sacrifice, and offered offerings the same day vnto the Lord.

16 And when the fiue princes of the Philistines had seene it, they returned to Ekaron the same day.

17 And these are the golden emerods which the Philistines gaue for a trespasse offering to the Lord, [g] for Ashod, one, for Gaza, one, for Ashalon, one, for Gath, one, and for Ekaron, one.

18 And golden mice, according to the number of all the cities of the Philistines, belonging to the fiue lordes, both of walled townes, and of townes vnwalled, vnto the great stone ‖ of Abel, whereon they set downe the Arke of the Lorde, vnto this day, in the field of Iehoshua the Bethshamite.

19 And he smote of the men of Bethshames, because they had [h] looked in the arke of the Lord, and hee slew among the people fiftie thousand, and threescore and tenne men: and the people lamented, because the Lord had smitten the people with so great a slaughter.

20 Wherefore the men of Bethshames sayd, Who is able to stand before this holy Lord God: and [i] to whom shall he go from vs?

21 And they sent messengers to the inhabiters of Kiriath-iarim, saying, The Philistines haue brought againe the arke of the Lord, come ye downe, and fet it vp to you.

The vij. Chapter.

1 The arke is brought to Kiriath-iarim. 3 Samuel exhorteth the people to forsake their sinne, and turne to the Lord. 10 The Philistines fight against Israel, and are ouercome. 16 Samuel iudgeth Israel.

AND [a] the men of Kiriath-iarim came, and fet vp the Arke of the Lorde, and brought it into the house of Aminadab in the hill, and sanctified Eleazar his sonne, to keepe the Arke of the Lord.

2 And while the arke abode in Kiriath-iarim, the time was long, for it was twenty yeres: and all the house of Israel [b] lamented after the Lord.

3 And Samuel spake vnto all the house of Israel, saying, If yee be come againe vnto the Lord with all your hearts, then put away the strange gods and Asaroth from among you, and prepare your hearts vnto the Lord, * and serue him onely: for he shall rid you out of the hand of the Philistines.

4 Then the children of Israel did put away Baalim and Asaroth, and serued the Lorde onely:

5 And Samuel sayd, Gather all Israel to [c] Mispah, and I wil pray for you vnto the Lord.

6 And they gathered together to Mispah, and [d] drew water, and powred it out before the Lord, and fasted the same day, and sayde there, We haue sinned against the Lord. And Samuel iudged the children of Israel in Mispah.

7 ¶ When the Philistines heard that the children of Israel were gathered together in Mispah, the princes of the Philistines went vp against Israel: and when the children of Israel heard that, they were afrayd of the Philistines.

8 And the children of Israel sayd to Samuel, [e] Cease not to crie vnto the Lord our God for vs, that hee may saue vs out of the hand of the Philistines.

9 And Samuel tooke a sucking lambe, and offered it all together for a whole burnt offering vnto the Lord, and cried vnto the Lord for Israel, and the Lord heard him.

10 And as Samuel offered the whole burnt offering, the Philistines came to fight against Israel: but the Lord thundred a great thunder the same day among the Philistines, and [‡] discomfited them, that they were smitten before Israel.

11 * And the men of Israel went out of Mispah, and pursued the Philistines, & smote them, vntill they came vnder Bethcar.

12 And then Samuel tooke a stone, and pitched it betweene Mispah and [f] Sen, and called the name thereof ‡ Ebenezer, saying, Hitherto hath the Lord helped vs.

13 And so the Philistines were brought vnder, and they came no more into the coast of Israel: and the hand of the Lorde was against the Philistines all the dayes of Samuel.

14 ¶ The cities which all the Philistines had taken from Israel, were restored to Israel, euen from Ekaron to Gath, and the coasts of the same did Israel deliuer out of the hands of the Philistines: and there was peace betweene Israel and the Amorites.

15 ¶ Samuel iudged Israel all the dayes of his life,

16 And went about yeere by yeere to Bethel, Gilgal, and Mispah, and iudged Israel in all those places.

17 And came againe to Rama: for there was his house, and there hee iudged Israel also, and there he built an [h] altar vnto the Lord.

Oſee 9.14. acts 13.21.

6 But the thing diſpleaſed Samuel, when they ſayde, Giue vs a king to iudge vs: and Samuel prayed vnto the Lord.

7 And the Lord ſayd vnto Samuel, Heare the voice of the people in all that they ſay vnto thee: for they haue not caſt thee away, but they haue caſt mee away, that I ſhould not reigne ouer them.

8 And as they haue euer done ſince I brought them out of Egypt vnto this day, and haue forſaken me, and ſerued other gods: euen ſo do they vnto thee.

9 Now therefore hearken vnto their voice: howbeit, yet teſtifie vnto them, & ſhew them the maner of the king that ſhall reigne ouer them.

10 And Samuel tolde all the wordes of the Lord vnto the people that aſked a king of him:

11 And hee ſayd, This ſhall be d the maner of the king that ſhall reigne ouer you: He will take your ſonnes, and put them to his charets, and make his horſemen of them, to runne before his charets

12 And will make him of them captaines ouer thouſands, and ouer fifties, and will ſet them to eare his ground, and to gather in his harueſt, and to make inſtruments of warre, and things that ſerue for his charets,

15 And he ſhal take the tenth of your ſeed, and of your vineyardes, and giue to his eunuches, and to his ſeruants.

16 And he ſhall take your men ſeruants, and maid ſeruants, yong men, and the chiefe of your aſſes, and put them to his worke.

17 And he ſhall take the tenth of your sheepe, and ye ſhalbe his ſeruants, e Becauſe you repent not for your ſinnes.

19 Neuertheleſſe, the people would not heare the voice of Samuel, but did ſay, Nay, not ſo: but there ſhalbe a king ouer vs, 20 That wee may be like other nations, and that our king may iudge vs, and goe out before vs, and fight our battels.

21 Therefore when Samuel heard all the words of the people, hee rehearſed them in the eares of the Lord.

22 And the Lord ſayd to Samuel, Hearken vnto their voice, and make them a king. And Samuel ſayd vnto the men of Iſrael, Go euery man vnto his citie.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Saul ſeeking his fathers aſſes, by the counſell of his ſeruant goeth to Samuel. 9 The Prophets called Seers.

THere was a man of Beniamin, named Cis, the ſonne of a Abiel, the ſonne of Zeror, the ſonne of Bechorah, the ſonne of Aphiah, the ſonne of a man that was a Ieminite, b mightie in power.

a This Abiel in the 2. Chro. 8. is called Ner.

b That is, both valiant and rich.

2 And the ſame had a ſonne called Saul, a goodly yoong man, and a faire: ſo that among the children of Iſrael there was none goodlier then hee: from the ſhoulders vpward, hee was higher then all the other people.

3 And the aſſes of this Cis, Sauls father, were loſt, and Cis ſayd to Saul his ſonne, Take one of the lads with thee, and ariſe, go and ſeeke the aſſes.

4 And hee went thorow mount Ephraim, and paſſed thorow the land of Saliſa, but they found them not: then they went thorow the land of Saliu, and there they were not: when they went alſo thorow the land of Iemini, they found them not.

5 At the laſt, when they were come to the land of d Zuph, Saul ſayde to his lad that was with him, Come, let vs returne, leſt my father leaue caring for the aſſes, & take thought for vs.

c All theſe circumſtances were meanes to ſerue vnto Gods prouidence, whereby Saul was made king.

d Where was Ramah Sophim the city of Samuel.

6 He ſayd vnto him, Behold, there is in this city a man of God, and he is an honorable man, all that he ſayth, commeth ſurely to paſſe: Now then let vs go thither, if ſo he can ſhew vs what way we may go.

7 Then ſayd Saul to his lad, If we will go, what ſhall wee bring the man? for the ‖ bread is ſpent in our veſſels, and there is no other preſent to bring the man of God: what haue we?

‖ Or, victuals.

8 And the lad anſwered Saul againe, and ſayd, Behold, I haue found about me the fourth part of a e ſicle of ſilver, that will I giue the man of God, to tell vs our way.

f Becauſe hee ſaw Gods will reuealed vnto him by his diuine ſpirit, and ſo that he foreſaw things to come.

10 Then ſayd Saul to his lad, Well ſayd of thee, come, let vs go. And ſo they went vnto the city where the man of God was:

11 And as they went their way vp the hill to the citie, they ſpeake with damoſels that came out to draw water, and ſaid vnto them, Is there here a Seer?

12 And the maidens anſwered them, & ſayd, Yea, beholde, he is before you, make haſte now: for hee came this day to the citie, for there is an offering of the people this day in the hie place.

g That is, a feaſt after the offering.

13 When ye be come into the city, ye ſhall find him ſtraight way ere he goe vp to the hie place to eate: for the people will not eate vntill he come, becauſe he doth h bleſſe the offring, and then eat they that be bidden to the feaſt: Now therefore get you vp, for this day ſhall ye finde him.

h That is, giue thanks, and diſtribute the meat according to the cuſtome.

18 Then went Saul to Samuel in the midst of the gate, and sayd, Tell me, I pray thee, where the Seers house is.

19 Samuel answered Saul, and sayd, I am the Seer: goe vp before me vnto the high place, for ye shall eat with me to day, and to morrow I will let thee goe, and will tell thee all that is in thine [l] heart.

20 And as for thine asses that were lost three dayes ago, care not for them, for they are found: And [m] whose shall the beautifull things of Israel be? Belong they not to thee, and vnto all thy fathers house?

21 But Saul answered, and sayd, Am not I the sonne of Jemini, of the smallest tribe of Israel? and my kinred is the least of all the kinreds of the tribe of Beniamin? Wherefore then speakest thou so to me?

22 And Samuel tooke Saul and his lad, and brought them into the [n] parlar, and made them sit in the chiefest place among them that were bidden, which were vpon a thirty persons.

23 And Samuel sayd vnto the Cooke, Bring forth the portion which I gaue thee, of which I sayd vnto thee, Keepe it with thee.

24 And the Cooke tooke vp the shoulder, and that which was [o] vpon it, and set it before Saul, and Samuel sayd, Beholde, that which is left, set it before thee, and eate: for hitherto hath it been kept for thee, saying, Also I [p] called the people. And so Saul did eat with Samuel that day.

25 And when they were come downe from the hie place into the city, Samuel communed with Saul vpon the [q] top of the house.

26 And when they arose early, about the spring of the day, Samuel called Saul vpon the toppe of the house, saying, Vp, that I may send thee away. And Saul arose, and they went out, both he and Samuel.

27 And when they were come almost out of the towne, Samuel said to Saul, Bid the lad go before vs (and hee went before) but stand thou still a while, that I may shew thee the [r] word of God.

The x. Chapter.

1 Saul is anointed king by Samuel. 19 Samuel assembleth the people, and sheweth them their sinnes.

Then Samuel tooke a vessell of [a] oile, and powred it vpon his head, and kissed him, and sayd, Hath not the Lord anointed thee to bee captaine ouer his inheritance?

2 When thou art departed from me this day, thou shalt finde two men by [b] Rachels sepulchre in the border of Beniamin, euen at Zelzah: and they will say vnto thee, The asses which thou wentest to seeke, are found: and loe, thy father hath left the care of the asses, and sorroweth for you, saying, What shall I do for my sonne?

3 Then shalt thou go forth from thence, and shalt come to the ‖ plaine of Thabor, and there shall meet thee three men, going vp to God to Bethel, one carrying three kids, and another carrying three loaues of bread, and another carrying a bottle of wine.

4 And they will [‡] salute thee, and giue thee two loaues of bread, which thou shalt receiue of their hands.

5 After that thou shalt come to the [d] hill of God, where is the garison of the Philistines: and when thou art come thither to the city, thou shalt meete a company of Prophets comming downe from the high place, with a psalter, a timbrel, a pipe, and a harpe before them, and they shall prophesie.

6 And the spirit of the Lord will come vpon thee also, and thou shalt prophesie with them, and shalt be turned into another man.

7 Therefore when these signes are come vnto thee, do what thou hast to do, for God is with thee.

8 And thou shalt go downe before me to Gilgal, and I also will come downe vnto thee, to sacrifice whole burnt sacrifices, and to offer peace offerings, tary for me seuen dayes, till I come to thee, and shew thee what thou shalt do.

9 And when he had turned his [‡] backe to go from Samuel, God gaue him another [e] heart, and all those tokens came to passe that same day.

10 And when they came thither to the hill, beholde, the company of the Prophets met him, and the spirit of God came vpon him, & he [f] prophesied among them.

11 And all that knew him before, when they saw that he prophesied amog the prophets, they sayd ech to other, What is this that is come vnto the sonne of Cis? Is Saul also among the prophets?

12 And one of the same place answered, and sayd, Who is their [g] father? Also thereof came the prouerbe, What, is Saul also among the [h] prophets?

13 And when he had made an end of prophesying, he came to the high place.

14 And Sauls vncle sayde vnto him, and to his lad, Whither went ye? He sayd, To seeke the asses: and when wee sawe that they were no where, we came to Samuel.

15 And Sauls vncle sayd, Tell mee, I pray thee, what Samuel sayd vnto you?

16 Saul sayd vnto his vncle, Hee tolde vs plainely that the asses were found. But of the kingdome whereof Samuel spake, tolde he him not.

17 And Samuel called the people together vnto the Lord, to Mispah, 18 And said vnto the children of Israel, Thus sayd the Lord God of Israel, I brought Israel out of Egypt, and deliuered you out of the hand of the Egyptians, & out of the hands of all kingdomes that troubled you.

19 And ye haue this day cast away your God, who onely deliuereth you out of all your aduersities and tribulations: and yee haue sayd vnto him, No, but make a king ouer vs. Now therefore, stand ye before the Lord by your tribes, and by your thousands.

20 And when Samuel had assembled together all the tribes of Israel, the tribe of Beniamin was [i] taken.

21 When he had assembled together the tribe of Beniamin by their kinreds, the kinred of Matri was caught, and at the last, Saul the sonne of Cis was caught: and when they sought him, he could not be found.

23 And they ranne, and fet him thence, and when he ſtood among the people, he was higher then any of the people, from the ſhoulders vpward.

24 And Samuel ſayd to all the people, See yee not him whom the Lorde hath choſen, and how there is none like him among all the people? And all the people ſhouted, and ſayd, *God ‡ ſaue the king.

25 Then Samuel tolde the people the [l] ductie of the kingdome, and wrote it in a booke, and layd it by before the Lord, and ſent all the people away, euery man to his houſe.

26 And Saul alſo went home to Gibea, and there followed him a band of men, whoſe hearts God had touched.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Nahas the Ammonite warreth againſt Iabes Gilead, who asketh helpe of the Iſraelites. 6 Saul promiſeth helpe. 11 The Ammonites are ſlaine. 14 The kingdome is renewed.

THen [a] Nahas the Ammonite came vp, and beſieged Iabes in Gilead: and all the men of Iabes ſayde vnto Nahas, Make a couenant with vs, and we will be thy ſeruants.

2 And Nahas the Ammonite anſwered the, In this will I make a couenant with you, if I may [b] thruſt out all your right eyes, and bring that ſhame vpon all Iſrael.

3 To whom the Elders of Iabes ſayd, Giue vs ſeuen dayes reſpite, that wee may ſend meſſengers vnto all the coaſts of Iſrael: and then if there be no man to deliuer vs, we will come out to thee.

4 Then came the meſſengers to Gibea of Saul, and tolde this tidings in the eares of the people: and all the people lift vp their voices, and wept.

5 And behold, Saul came following the cattell out of the field, and Saul ſayd, What aileth this people that they weepe? And they told him the tidings of the men of Iabes.

6 And the ſpirit of God [c] came vpon Saul, when he heard thoſe tidings, and he was exceeding angry.

7 And tooke a yoke of oxen, and hewed them in pieces, and ſent them throughout all the coaſts of Iſrael by the handes of meſſengers, ſaying, Whoſoeuer commeth not forth after [d] Saul and after Samuel, ſo ſhall his oxen be ſerued. And the feare of the Lord fell on the people, and they came out ‡ with one conſent.

8 And when he numbred them in Bezek, the children of Iſrael were three hundred thouſand men, and the men of Iuda thirty thouſand.

9 And [e] they ſayd vnto the meſſenger that came, So ſay vnto the men of Iabes in Gilead, To morow by that time the ſunne be hot, ye ſhal haue helpe. And the meſſengers came, and ſhewed it to the men of Iabes, which were glad.

10 Therefore the men of Iabes ſayd, To morow we will come [f] out vnto you, and ye ſhall do with vs all that pleaſeth you.

11 And on the morow Saul put the people in three parts, and they came in vpon the hoſt in the morning watch, and ſlew the Ammonites, vntill the heat of the day: and they that remained, were ſcattered, ſo that two of them were not left together.

12 And the people ſayd vnto Samuel, [g] Who is hee that ſayd, Shall Saul reigne ouer vs? bring thoſe men, that we may ſlay them.

13 And Saul ſayd, There ſhall no man [h] die this day: for to day the Lord hath ſaued Iſrael.

14 Then ſayde Samuel vnto the people, Come, that we may go to Gilgal, and renew the kingdome there.

15 And all the people went to Gilgal, and made Saul king there before the Lorde in Gilgal, and there they offered peace offerings before the Lorde: and there Saul and all the men of Iſrael reioyced exceedingly.

The xij. Chapter.

1 Samuel declaring to the people his integrity, reproueth their ingratitude.

AND Samuel ſayd vnto all Iſrael, Behold, I haue [a] hearkened vnto your voice in all that ye ſayd vnto me, & haue made a king ouer you:

2 Now therefore your king walketh before [b] you: and I am olde, and gray headed, and behold, my ſonnes are with you: and I haue walked before you from my childhood vnto this day.

3 Beholde, here I am, beare record of mee before the Lord, & before his [c] anointed: [d] whoſe oxe haue I taken? or whoſe aſſe haue I taken? whome haue I done wrong to? whome haue I hurt? or of whoſe hande haue I receiued any bribe to blinde mine eyes therewith? and I will reſtore it you.

4 They ſayd, Thou haſt done vs no wrong, nor hurt vs, neither haſt thou taken ought of any mans hand.

5 He ſayd vnto them againe, The Lord is witneſſe againſt you, and his anointed is witneſſe this day, that ye haue found nought in my hands. And they anſwered, He is witneſſe.

6 And Samuel ſayd vnto the people, It is the Lord that [e] made Moſes & Aaron, and that brought your fathers out of the land of Egypt.

7 Now therefore ſtand ſtill, that I may reaſon with you before the Lord, according to all the ‖righteouſneſſes of the Lord, which he ſhewed both you and your fathers.

8 *After that Iacob was come into Egypt, and your fathers cried vnto the Lord, the Lord ſent Moſes and Aaron, which brought your fathers out of Egypt, and made them dwel in this place.

9 *And when they forgate the Lorde their God, he ſold them into the hand of Siſera [f] captaine of the hoſte of Hazor, and into the hand of the Philiſtines, and into the hand of the king of Moab, and they fought againſt them.

10 And they cried vnto the Lord, and ſaid, We haue ſinned, becauſe we haue forſaken the Lord, and haue ſerued Baalim and Aſtaroth: now therefore deliuer vs out of the hands of our enemies, and we will ſerue thee.

The xiij. Chapter.

13 Saul being disobedient to Gods commandement, is shewed of Samuel that he shall not reigne.

SAul * no we had beene ‖ king [a] one yeere, (and her reigned two yeeres ouer Israel.)

2 And Saul chose him three thousand men of Israel, two thousand were with Saul in Michmas, & in mount Bethel, and a thousand with Jonathan in Gibea Beniamin: and the rest of the people he sent euery man to his tent.

3 And Jonathan smote the garison of the Philistines that was in the [b] hill, and it came to the Philistines eares: and Saul blew the trumpet thozowout all the land, saying, Let the Hebzewes heare.

4 And all Israel heard say, how that Saul had destroyed a garison of the Philistines, wherefore Israel was had in abomination with the Philistines: And the people gathered together after Saul to Gilgal.

5 The Philistines also gathered themselues together, to fight with Israel, thirty thousand charets, and sixe thousand horsemen, with other people, like the sand by the sea side in multitude, and came vp, & pitched in Michmas, eastward from [d] Bethauen.

6 And when the men of Israel saw it, they were in a strait (for the people were in a distresse) and the people hid themselues in caues, and in holes, and in rocks, and in high places, and in pits.

7 And some of the Hebzewes went ouer Jozdan, to [e] goe vnto the lande of Gad and Gilead: and Saul was yet in Gilgal, and all the people [f] being afrayd, followed him.

8 And he taried seuen dayes, euen vnto the time that Samuel had appointed: but Samuel came not to Gilgal, and the people were therefore [g] scattered from him.

9 And Saul sayd, Bzing a whole burnt sacrifice to me, and peace offerings. And he offered a whole burnt sacrifice.

10 And assoone as he had made an end of offering the whole burnt sacrifice, behold, Samuel came, and Saul went against him to [i] salute him.

11 And Samuel sayd, What hast thou done? Saul said, Because I [k] saw that the people scattered from me, and that thou camest not within the dayes appointed, and that the Philistines gathered themselues together to Michmas:

12 Therefore sayde I, The Philistines shall come downe now vpon me to Gilgal, and I haue not made supplication vnto the Lozde: I was bold therfore, and offered a whole burnt offring.

13 And Samuel sayd to Saul, Thou [l] hast become a foole, thou hast not kept the commandement of the Lozd thy [h] God, which he commanded thee: for [m] at this time would the Lozde haue stablished thy kingdome vpon Israel for euer.

14 * But now thy kingdome shall not continue: the Lozd hath sought him a [i] man after his owne heart, and the Lozd hath commanded him to bee captaine ouer his people, because thou hast not kept that which the Lozd commanded thee.

15 And Samuel arose, and gate him vp from Gilgal [k] in Gibea of Beniamin, and Saul numbzed the people that were found with him, and they were about sixe hundzed men.

16 And Saul and Jonathan his sonne, and the people that were found with them, had their abiding in Gibea of Beniamin: but the Philistines pitched in Michmas.

17 And there came out of the host of the Philistines, three companies, to destroy: one company turned vnto the way that leadeth to Ophza, vnto the land of Saul.

18 And another company turned the way to Bethozon: and the third company turned to the way of the coast that is seene aboue the valley of Zeboim toward the wildernesse.

19 There was no smith found thozowout all the land of Israel: for the Philistines sayd, Lest the Hebzewes make them [l] swozds oz speares.

20 But all the Israelites went downe to the Philistines, to sharpen euery man his share, his mattocke, his axe, and weeding hooke.

23 And the garisons of the Philistines came out, to go ouer vnto Michmas.

The xiiij. Chapter.

14 Ionathan and his harnesse-bearer put the Philistines to flight.

NOw on a time, Jonathan the son of Saul sayd vnto his yoong man that bare his harnesse, [a] Come, and let vs goe ouer to the Philistines garison, that are yonder on the other side: and he tolde not his father.

2 And Saul taried in the vttermost part of Gibea, vnder a Pomegranate tree, which is in Migron; and the people that were with him, were vpon a fiue hundred men.

3 And Ahia the sonne of Ahitob Ichabods brother, the sonne of Phinehes the sonne of Eli, was the Lords Priest [b] in Silo, and ware an ephod: and the people wist not that Jonathan was gone.

4 And in the midst of the passage, by which Jonathan sought to goe ouer vnto the Philistines garison, there was a sharpe rocke on the one side, and a sharpe rocke on the other side: the one called Bozez, and the other Seneh.

5 The foreront of the one leaned Northward toward Michmas, and the other was Southward toward Gibea.

6 And Jonathan said to the yong man that bare his harnesse, Come, and let vs go ouer vnto the garison of these vncircumcised, it may be that the Lord will worke with vs: [x] for it is no hardnesse with the Lord to saue either with many or with few.

7 And his harnesse-bearer sayde vnto him, Do all that is in thine heart: goe where it pleaseth thee, behold, I am with thee as thine heart lusteth.

8 Then sayd Jonathan, Beholde, we goe ouer vnto these men, and shall shew our selues vnto them.

9 If they say on this wise to vs, Tary vntill we come to you: then wee will stand still in our place, and not go vp vnto them.

10 And if they say, Come vp vnto vs: then we will go vp, for the Lord hath [c] deliuered them into our hands: and this shalbe a signe vnto vs.

11 And they both shewed themselues vnto the garison of the Philistines: and the Philistines sayd, See, the Hebrewes come out of the [d] holes where they had hid themselues in.

12 And the men of the garison answered Jonathan and his harnesse bearer, and sayd, Come vp to vs, and we will shew you a thing. And Jonathan sayd vnto his harnesse-bearer, Come vp after me, for the Lord hath deliuered them into the hand of Israel.

13 And Jonathan climed vp vpon [e] handes and feet, and his harnesse-bearer after him: and they fell before Jonathan, and his harnesse-bearer slew them after him.

14 And that first slaughter which Jonathan and his harnesse bearer made, was vpon a twentie men, within the compasse as it were about an halfe acre of land, which two oxen plow.

15 And there was a feare in the hoste in the field, and among all the people: insomuch that they that were gone out of the garison to robbe, were afraid also, and the [f] earth trembled for the feare that was sent of God.

16 And the watchmen of Saul in Gibea Beniamin saw: and beholde, the multitude were discomfited, and were smitten as they went.

17 Then said Saul vnto the people that was with him, Search, and see who is gone away from vs. And when they had numbred, beholde, Jonathan and his harnesse-bearer were not there.

18 And Saul sayd vnto Ahia, Bring hither the [g] Arke of God. (For the Arke of God was at that time with the children of Israel.)

19 And while Saul talked vnto the Priest, the noise that was in the host of the Philistines ſyzed farther abroad, and increased: And Saul sayd vnto the Priest, [h] Withdraw thine hand.

20 And Saul [i] orned himselfe vnto all the people that were with him, and they came to the battell, and beholde, euery mans sword was against his fellow, and there was a very great discomfiture.

21 Moreouer, the Hebrewes that were with the Philistines before that time, and were come with them into all parts of the host, turned to be with the Israelites that were with Saul and Jonathan.

22 And all the men of Israel also which had hid themselues in mount Ephraim, assoone as they heard howe that the Philistines were fled, they followed after them in the battell.

23 And so the Lord saued Israel that day: and the battell continued vnto Bethauen.

24 And when the men of Israel were kept downe with hunger that day, Saul charged the people with an oth, saying, [k] Cursed be the man that eateth any food vntill night, till I be auenged of mine enemies. And so none of the people tasted any sustenance.

25 And all they of the land came to a wood, where hony lay vpon the ground.

26 And the people came into the wood, and beholde the hony dropped, and no man mooued his hand to his mouth: for the people feared the [k] oth.

27 But Jonathan heard not when his father charged the people with the oth, wherefore hee put foorth the end of his rod that was in his hand, and dipt it in an hony combe, and put his hand to his mouth, and his [l] eyes receiued light.

28 Then answered one of the people, and sayd, Thy father made the people to sweare, saying, Cursed be the man that eateth any sustenance this day: And the people were ‖ faint.

29 Then sayde Jonathan, My father hath [m] troubled the land: see, how mine eyes haue received light, because I tasted a little of this hony:

30 How much more then to day, if the people had eaten of the spoile of their enemies which they found: And had there not bene then a much greater slaughter among the Philistines?

31 And they smote the Philistines that day from Michmas to Aialon: and the people were exceeding faint.

32 And the people gate them to the spoile, and tooke sheepe, oxen, and calues, and slew them on 14 Samuel sayde, What meaneth then the bleating of the sheepe in mine eares, & the lowing of the oxen which I heare?

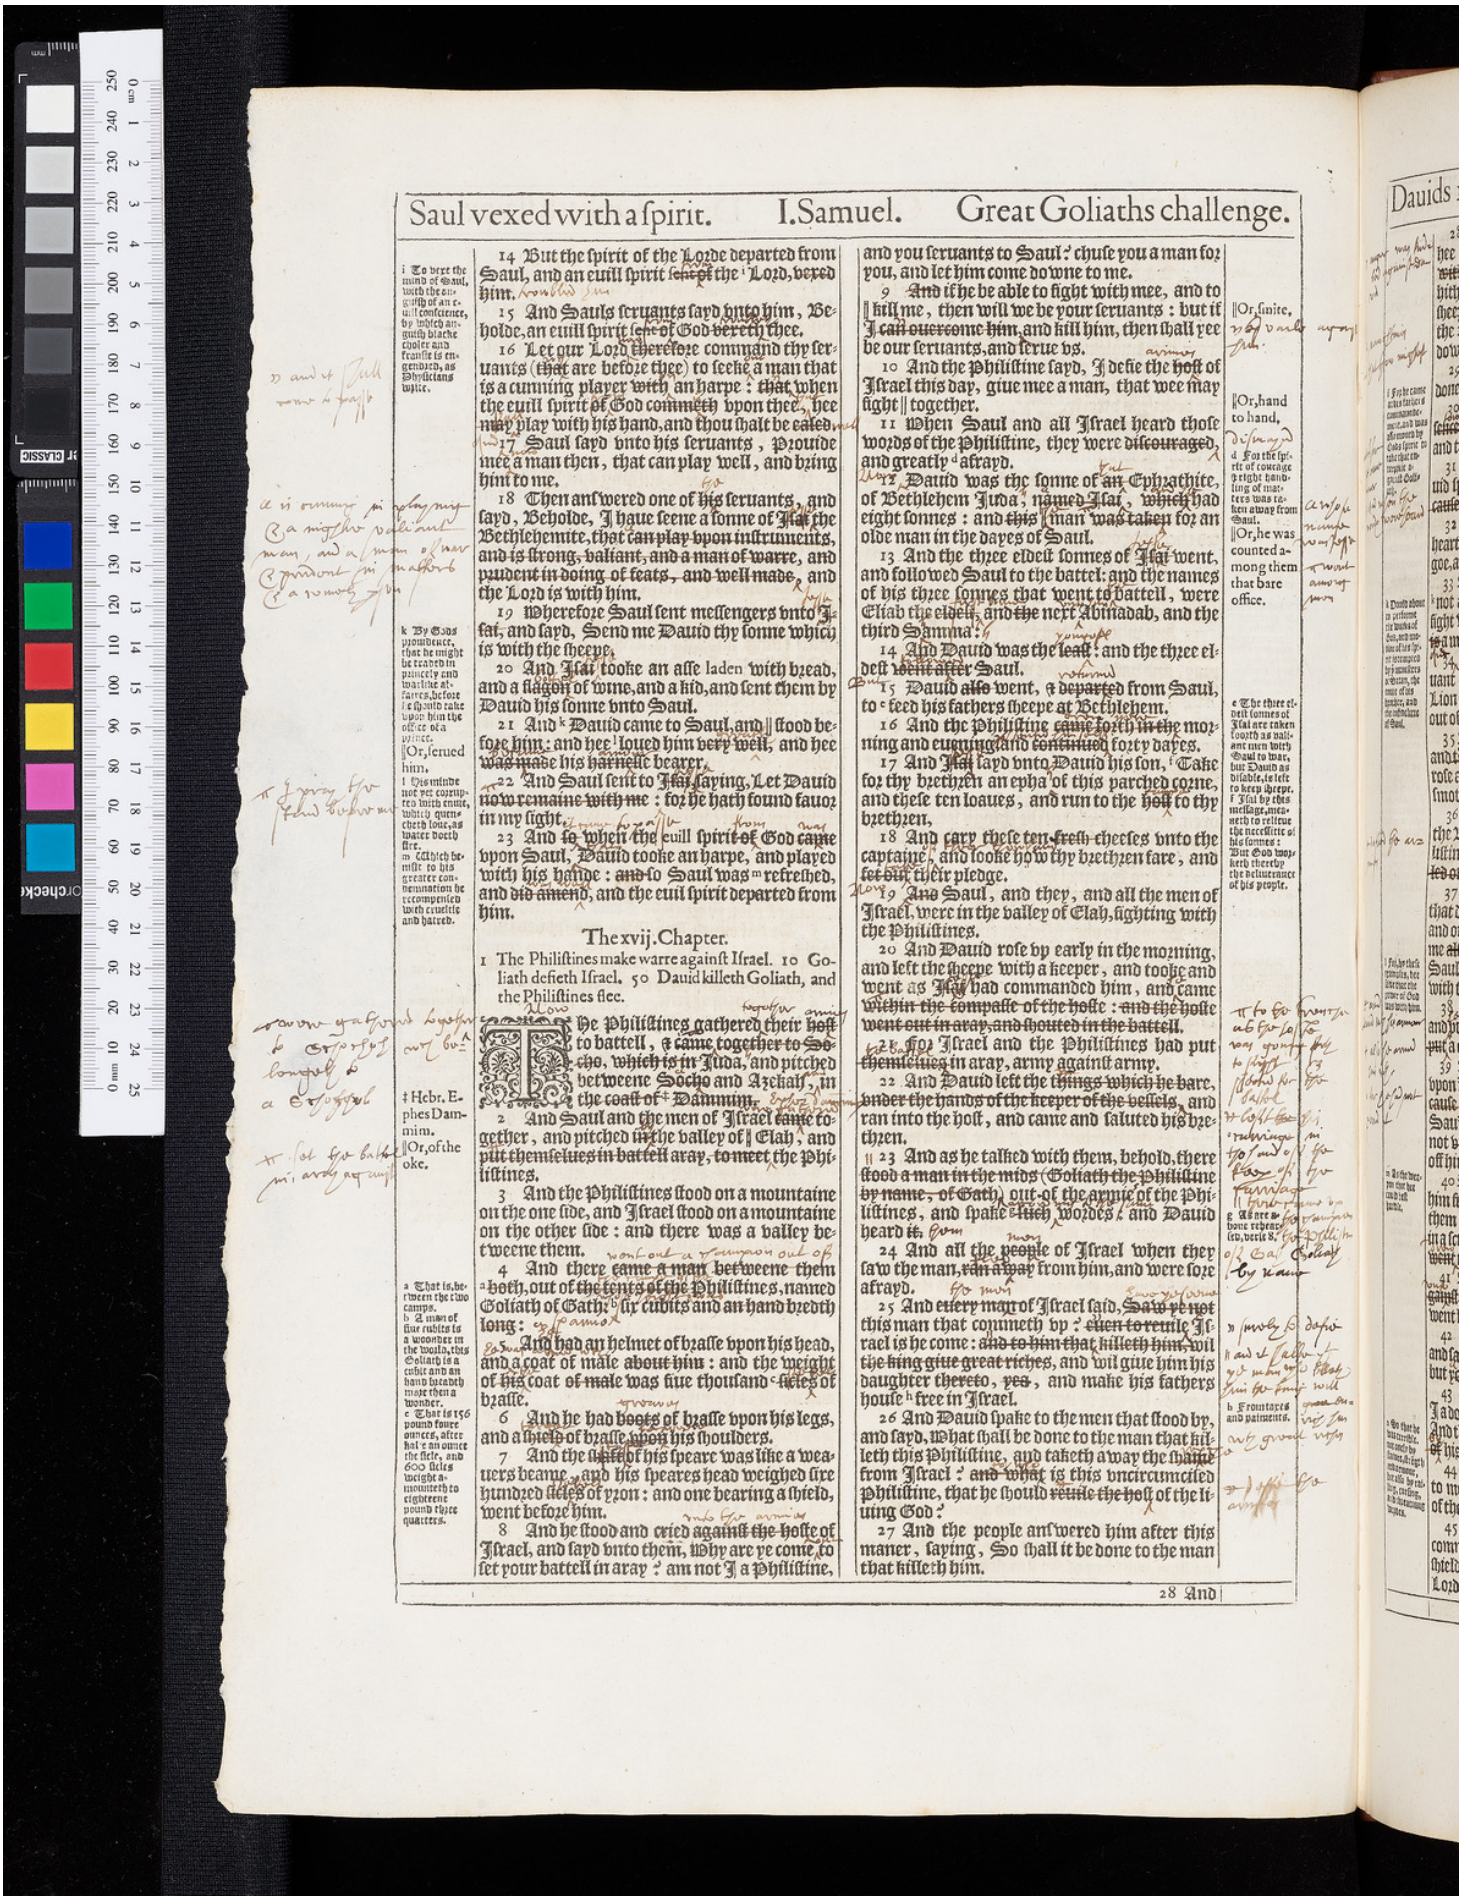
15 Saul answered, They haue brought them from the Amalekites: for the people spared the best of the sheepe, & of the oxen, to sacrifice them vnto the Lord thy God, and the remnaunt haue we destroyed vtterly.
16 Samuel sayd, Let me tell thee what the Lord hath sayd to me this night. And he said vnto him, Say on.
17 Samuel sayde to Saul, When thou wast litle in thine owne sight, wast thou not made the head of the tribes of Israel, and the Lord anointed thee king ouer Israel?
18 And the Lord sent thee on a iourney, and sayd, Goe, and vtterly destroy those sinners the Amalekites, and fight against them, vntill thou destroy them.
19 And wherefore hast thou not hearkened vnto the voice of the Lord, but hast turned to the pray, and hast done that which is wicked in the sight of the Lord?
20 And Saul said vnto Samuel, Yea I haue [k] hearkened vnto the voice of the Lord, and haue gone the way which the Lord sent me vnto, and haue brought Agag the king of Amalek, & haue destroyed the Amalekites.
21 But the people tooke of the spoile, sheepe, oxen, and the chiefest of the things which should haue been destroyed, to offer vnto the Lord thy God in Gilgal.
22 * And Samuel sayde, Hath the Lorde as great pleasure in whole burnt sacrifices and offerings, as when the voice of the Lord is obeyed? Behold, to obey is better then sacrifice: and to hearken, is better then the fat of rammes.
23 For [l] rebellion is as the sinne of witchcraft, and stubburnnesse is as the wickednesse of idolatry: because thou hast cast away the word of the Lord, therefore he hath cast away thee also from being king.
24 And Saul sayd vnto Samuel, I haue sinned: for I haue gone farther then the saying of the Lord, and thy wordes: because I feared the people, and obeyed their voice.
25 Now therefore, I pray thee, take away my [m] sinne, and turne againe with me, that I may worship the Lord.
26 And Samuel sayd vnto Saul, I will not returne with thee: for thou hast cast away the word of the Lord, and the Lord hath cast away thee, that thou shalt not be king ouer Israel.
27 And as Samuel turned himselfe to goe away, he caught the lap of his coat, and it rent.
28 And Samuel sayde vnto him, The Lorde hath rent the kingdome of Israel from thee this day, and hath giuen it to a [n] neighbour of thine, that is better then thou.
29 The [o] strength of Israel will not lie, nor repent: for hee is not a man that hee should repent.
30 He sayd, I haue sinned: but now honour me before the elders of my people, and before Israel, and turne again with me, that I may worship the Lord thy God.
31 And so Samuel turned againe, & followed Saul, and Saul worshipped the Lord.
32 Then sayd Samuel, Bring you hither to me Agag the king of the Amalekites. And Agag came vnto him ‡ delicately: And Agag sayde, Truely the [p] bitternesse of death is past.
33 And Samuel sayd, As thy sworde hath made women childlesse, so shall thy mother bee childlesse aboue other women. And Samuel hewed Agag in pieces before the Lord in Gilgal.
34 And then Samuel departed to Rama, and Saul went home to his house to Gibea Saul.
35 And Samuel came no more to [q] see Saul vntill the day of his death: neuertheless, Samuel mourned for Saul: and the Lorde repented that he had made Saul king ouer Israel.

The xvj. Chapter.



1 Samuel is reproued of God, and is sent to anoint Dauid. 7 God regardeth the heart. 13 The spirit of the Lord commeth vpon Dauid.

THe Lord sayd vnto Samuel, How long wilt thou mourne for Saul, [a] seeing I haue cast him away from reigning ouer Israel? Fill thine [b] horne with oile, and come, that I may send thee to Iesse the Bethlehemite: for I haue prouided me a king among his sonnes.
2 And Samuel sayd, How can I goe? for if Saul heare it, hee will kill mee. The Lord answered, Take an heifer with thee, [c] and say, I am come to offer to the Lord.
3 And call Iesse to the offering, and I will shew thee what thou shalt do: and thou shalt anoint vnto me [d] him whom I name vnto thee.
4 And so Samuel did as the Lord bade him, and came to Bethlehem: and the Elders of the towne were afrayed at his comming, and said, Commest thou peaceably?
5 He answered, Yea, I am come to offer vnto the Lorde: sanctifie your selues, and come with me to the offering. And he sanctified Iesse and his sonnes, and bade them to the offering.
6 And when they were come, he looked on Eliab, and sayd, Surely the Lords [e] anointed is before him.
7 But the Lord sayd vnto Samuel, Looke not on his fashion, or on the height of his stature, because I haue refused him: for God seeth not as man seeth. For * man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lorde beholdeth the heart.
8 Then Iesse called Abinadab, and made him come before Samuel: and he said, Neither hath the Lord chosen this.
9 Then Iesse made Samma come: and he sayd, Neither yet hath the Lord chosen him.
10 Againe Iesse made seuen of his sonnes to come before Samuel, and Samuel sayde vnto Iesse, The Lord hath chosen none of these.
11 And Samuel sayd vnto Iesse, Are here all thy children? He sayd, There is yet a litle one behinde, that keepeth the [g] sheepe. And Samuel sayd vnto Iesse, Send, and fetch him: for wee will not sit downe till he come hither.
12 And he sent, and brought him in: and hee was ruddy, and of an excellent beauty, and well fauoured in sight. And the Lord sayd, Arise, and anoint him: for this is he.
13 Therefore Samuel tooke the horne of oile, and anointed him in the mids of his brethren: and the [h] spirit of the Lorde came vpon Dauid from that day forward: and Samuel rose vp, and went to Rama.

14 But the spirit of the Lorde departed from Saul, and an euill spirit ſent of the Lord, vexed him.

15 And Sauls ſeruants ſayd vnto him, Behold, an euill ſpirit ſent of God vexeth thee.

16 Let our Lord therefore command thy ſeruants (that are before thee) to ſeeke a man that is a cunning player with an harpe: that when the euill ſpirit of God commeth vpon thee, hee may play with his hand, and thou ſhalt be eaſed.

17 Saul ſayd vnto his ſeruants, Prouide mee a man then, that can play well, and bring him to me.

18 Then anſwered one of his ſeruants, and ſayd, Behold, I haue ſeene a ſonne of Iſai the Bethlehemite, that can play vpon inſtruments, and is ſtrong, valiant, and a man of warre, and prudent in doing of feats, and well made, and the Lord is with him.

19 Wherefore Saul ſent meſſengers vnto Iſai, and ſayd, Send me Dauid thy ſonne which is with the sheepe.

The xvij. Chapter.

1 The Philiſtines make warre againſt Iſrael. 10 Goliath defieth Iſrael. 50 Dauid killeth Goliath, and the Philiſtines flee.

Now the Philiſtines gathered their hoſt to battell, and came together to Socho, which is in Iuda, and pitched betweene Socho and Azekah, in the coaſt of Dammim.

2 And Saul and the men of Iſrael came together, and pitched in the valley of ‖ Elah, and put themſelues in battell aray, to meet the Philiſtines.

3 And the Philiſtines ſtood on a mountaine on the one ſide, and Iſrael ſtood on a mountaine on the other ſide: and there was a valley betweene them.

4 And there came a man betweene them [a] both, out of the tents of the Philiſtines, named Goliath of Gath: [b] ſix cubits and an hand breadth long:

5 And had an helmet of braſſe vpon his head, and a coat of male about him: and the weight of his coat of male was fiue thouſand [c] ſicles of braſſe.

6 And he had boots of braſſe vpon his legs, and a ſhield of braſſe vpon his ſhoulders.

7 And the ſtaffe of his ſpeare was like a weauers beame, and his ſpeares head weighed ſixe hundred ſicles of yron: and one bearing a ſhield, went before him.

8 And he ſtood and cried againſt the hoſte of Iſrael, and ſayd vnto them, Why are ye come to ſet your battell in aray? am not I a Philiſtine, and you ſeruants to Saul? chuſe you a man for you, and let him come downe to me.

9 And if he be able to fight with mee, and to ‖ kill me, then will we be your ſeruants: but if I call ouercome him, and kill him, then ſhall yee be our ſeruants, and ſerue vs.

10 And the Philiſtine ſayd, I defie the hoſt of Iſrael this day, giue mee a man, that wee may fight ‖ together.

11 When Saul and all Iſrael heard thoſe words of the Philiſtine, they were diſcouraged, and greatly [d] afrayd.

12 Dauid was the ſonne of an Ephrathite, of Bethlehem Iuda, named Iſai, which had eight ſonnes: and this man was taken for an olde man in the dayes of Saul.

13 And the three eldeſt ſonnes of Iſai went, and followed Saul to the battel: and the names of his three ſonnes that went to battell, were Eliab the eldeſt, and the next Abinadab, and the third Shamma:

14 And Dauid was the leaſt: and the three eldeſt went after Saul.

15 Dauid alſo went, [e] departed from Saul, to feed his fathers sheepe at Bethlehem.

16 And the Philiſtine came forth in the morning and euening, and continued forty dayes.

17 And Iſai ſayd vnto Dauid his ſon, [f] Take for thy brethren an epha of this parched corne, and theſe ten loaues, and run to the hoſt to thy brethren, 18 And carry theſe ten freſh cheeſes vnto the captaine, and looke how thy brethren fare, and fet their pledge.

19 And Saul, and they, and all the men of Iſrael, were in the valley of Elah, fighting with the Philiſtines.

20 And Dauid roſe by early in the morning, and left the sheepe with a keeper, and tooke and went as Iſai had commanded him, and came within the compaſſe of the hoſte: and the hoſte went out in aray, and ſhouted in the battell.

21 For Iſrael and the Philiſtines had put themſelues in aray, army againſt army.

22 And Dauid left the things which he bare, vnder the hands of the keeper of the veſſels, and ran into the hoſt, and came and ſaluted his brethren.

‖ 23 And as he talked with them, behold, there ſtood a man in the mids (Goliath the Philiſtine by name, of Gath) out of the armie of the Philiſtines, and ſpake ſuch wordes: and Dauid heard it.

24 And all the people of Iſrael when they ſaw the man, ran away from him, and were ſore afrayd.

25 And euery man of Iſrael ſaid, Saw ye not this man that commeth vp? ſurely to reuile Iſrael is he come: and to him that killeth him, wil the king giue great riches, and wil giue him his daughter thereto, yea, and make his fathers houſe [h] free in Iſrael.

26 And Dauid ſpake to the men that ſtood by, and ſayd, What ſhall be done to the man that killeth this Philiſtine, and taketh away the ſhame from Iſrael? and what is this vncircumcided Philiſtine, that he ſhould reuile the hoſt of the liuing God?

27 And the people anſwered him after this maner, ſaying, So ſhall it be done to the man that killeth him.

28 And Eliab his eldest brother heard when hee spake vnto the men, and Eliab was angry with Dauid, and sayd, Why camest thou downe hither? and with whom hast thou left those few sheepe in the wildernesse? I know thy pride, and the malice of thine heart, that thou art come downe to see the battell.

29 And Dauid sayd, And what haue I nowe done? is there not a cause?

30 And hee departed from him into the presence of another, and spake of the same maner: and the people answered him againe as before.

31 And they that heard the words which Dauid spake, rehearsed them before Saul: which caused him to be fet.

32 And Dauid said to Saul, Let no mans heart faile him because of him: thy seruant will goe, and fight with yonder Philistine.

33 And Saul said to Dauid againe, Thou art k not able to goe against yonder Philistine, to fight with him: for thou art but a chylde, but he is a man of warre euen from his youth.

34 Dauid answered vnto Saul, Thy seruant kept his fathers sheepe, and there came a Lion, and like wise a Beare, and tooke a sheepe out of the flocke:

35 And I went out after him, and smote him, and tooke it out of his mouth: and when hee arose against me, I caught him by the beard, and smote him, and slew him.

36 And so thy seruant slew both the Lion and the Beare: and truely this vncircumcised Philistine shall be as one of them, seeing he hath railed on the hoste of the liuing God.

37 And Dauid spake moreouer, The Lorde that deliuered mee out of the hand of the Lion, and out of the hand of the Beare, he shall deliuer me also out of the hand of this Philistine. And Saul said vnto Dauid, l Goe, and the Lord bee with thee.

38 And Saul put his raiment vpon Dauid, and put an helmet of brasse vpon his head, and put a coate of male vpon him.

39 And girded Dauid with his owne sworde vpon his raiment, and he assayed to goe: and because hee had neuer proued it, Dauid said vnto Saul, I cannot goe with these: for I haue not vsed my selfe thereto. And Dauid put them off him, 40 And tooke his m staffe in his hand, and chose him fiue smooth stones out of a brooke, and put them in a shepheards bag which he had, that is, in a scrip, and his sling was in his hand, and hee went to the Philistine.

41 And the Philistine came and drew neere against Dauid, and the man that bare the shield, went before him.

42 And when the Philistine looked about, and saw Dauid, hee disdained him: for he was but yong, ruddy, and of a comely face.

43 And the Philistine sayd vnto Dauid, Am I a dog, that thou comest to mee with staues? And the Philistine n cursed Dauid in the name of his gods.

44 And the Philistine said to Dauid, Come to me, and I will giue thy flesh vnto the foules of the aire, and to the beasts of the field.

45 Then said Dauid to the Philistine, Thou comest to mee with a sworde, a speare, and a shielde: but I come to thee in the name of the Lord of hostes, the God of the hoste of Israel, whom thou hast railed vpon.

46 ° This day shall the Lorde close thee into my hand, and I shall smite thee and take thine head from thee, and will giue the carkeises of the hoste of the Philistines this day vnto the foules of the aire, and to the beasts of the earth, that all they which be in the world, may knowe that there is a God in Israel.

47 And all this congregation shal know that the Lord saueth not with sword and speare (for the battell is the Lordes) and he shall giue you into our hands.

48 And when the Philistine arose to come and drawe nigh to Dauid, Dauid hasted, and ran to fight against the Philistine.

49 And Dauid put his hande in his bagge, and tooke out a stone, and slang it, and smote the Philistine in his forehead, that the stone sunke into his forehead, and hee fell grouelling to the earth.

50 * And so Dauid ouercame the Philistine with a sling, and a stone, & smote the Philistine, and slew him, when Dauid had no sworde in his hand.

51 But Dauid ran and stood vpon the Philistine, and tooke his sword, and drew it out of his sheath, and slew him, and cut off his head therewith. And when the Philistines saw that their Champion was dead, they fled.

52 And the men of Israel and of Iuda arose, and shouted, and followed after the Philistines, vntil they came to the valley, and vnto the gates of Ekron: and the Philistines fell down wounded by the way to Saaraim, euen vnto Gath and Ekron.

53 And the children of Israel returned from chasing after the Philistines, and spoiled their tents.

54 And Dauid tooke the head of the Philistine, and brought it to Hierusalem, but hee put his armour in his ‖ tent.

55 When Saul saw Dauid goe forth against the Philistine, hee sayd vnto Abner the captaine of the hoste, Abner, p whose sonne is this yong man? Abner answered, As thy soule liueth, O king, I cannot tell.

56 And the king sayd, Enquire thou whose sonne the youngling is.

57 And when Dauid was returned from the slaughter of the Philistine, Abner tooke him, and brought him before Saul, with the head of the Philistine in his hand.

58 And Saul sayd to him, Whose sonne art thou, thou yong man? Dauid answered, I am the sonne of thy seruant Iesai, the Bethlehemite.

ments, euen to his sword, and to his bowe, and to his girdle.

5 And Dauid went out whither so euer Saul sent him, and behaued himselfe [b] wisely: and Saul set him ouer his men of warre, and he was accepted in the sight of all the people, and in the sight of Sauls seruants.

6 And as they came againe, when Dauid was returned from the slaughter of the [c] Philistine, the women came out of all cities of Israel, singing and daunsing, to meete king Saul, with timbrels, with ioy, and with instruments of musicke.

7 And the women [d] answered one another in their play, and saide, Saul hath slaine his thousand, and Dauid his ten thousand.

8 And Saul was exceeding [e] wroth, and the saying displeased him, and he said, They haue ascribed vnto Dauid ten thousand, and to me but a thousand: and what can hee more haue, saue the kingdome?

9 Wherefore Saul had an eye on Dauid, from that day forward.

10 And on the morow the euill spirit sent of God, came vpon Saul, and he [f] prophecied in the midst of the house: and Dauid played with his hand, like as at other times: and there was a iauelin in Sauls hand.

11 And Saul tooke the iauelin, and said, I will nayle Dauid to the wall with it: And Dauid auoided out of his presence, two times.

12 And Saul was afraid of Dauid, because the Lorde was with him, and was departed from Saul.

13 Therefore Saul put him from him, and made him a [g] captaine ouer a thousand, and hee went out and in before the people.

14 And Dauid behaued himselfe wisely in all his wayes, and the Lord was with him.

15 Wherefore, when Saul saw that hee was so exceeding wise, he was afraid of him.

16 But all Israel and Iuda loued Dauid, because he went out and in before them.

17 And Saul sayde to Dauid, Behold my eldest daughter Merob, her will I giue thee to wife: only be a valiant sonne vnto me, and fight the Lordes battels: for Saul thought, Mine hand shall not be vpon him, but the hand of the Philistines shall be vpon him.

18 And Dauid answered Saul, What am I: and what is my life, or the kinred of my father in Israel, that I should bee sonne in lawe to the king?

19 Howbeit when the time was come, that Merob Sauls daughter should haue beene giuen to Dauid, shee was giuen vnto [h] Adriel, a Meholathite, to wife.

20 Howbeit Michol Sauls daughter, loued Dauid: and they shewed Saul, and the thing pleased him.

21 And Saul sayd, I will giue him her, that shee may bee a snare to him, and that the hand of the Philistines may be against him. Wherefore Saul sayd to Dauid, Thou shalt this day be my sonne in lawe in the one of the twaine.

22 And Saul commaunded his seruants to commune with Dauid secretly, and to say, Behold, the king hath a fauour to thee, and all his seruants loue thee: bee now therefore the kings sonne in lawe.

23 And Sauls seruants spake those wordes in the eares of Dauid. And Dauid sayd, Seemeth it to you a light thing to bee a kings sonne in lawe, seeing that I am a poore man, and of small reputation?

24 And the seruants brought Saul word againe, saying, Of this maner spake Dauid.

25 And Saul sayd, This wise shall yee say to Dauid, The king careth for no other dowry, but for an hundred foreskinnes of the Philistines, to bee auenged of the kings enemies. But Saul thought to make Dauid fall into the hands of the Philistines.

26 And when his seruants told Dauid these wordes, [k] it pleased Dauid well to bee the kings sonne in lawe: and the dayes were not expired.

27 Afterward, Dauid arose with his men, and went and slewe of the Philistines two hundred men, and Dauid brought their foreskinnes, and [l] they gaue them wholly to the king, that hee might bee the kings sonne in lawe: Wherefore Saul gaue him Michol his daughter to wife.

28 *And Saul saw, and vnderstood how that the Lord was with Dauid, and that Michol his daughter loued him:

29 And hee was the more [m] afrayd of Dauid, and Saul became alway Dauids enemie.

30 The lordes of the Philistines vsed to goe forth: and when they went forth, Dauid behaued himself more wisely then all the seruants of Saul, so that his name was much set by.

The xix. Chapter.

2 Ionathan declareth to Dauid the wicked purpose of Saul. 23 The spirit of prophesie commeth on Saul.

SAul spake to Jonathan his sonne and to all his seruants, that they should [a] kill Dauid.

2 But Jonathan Sauls sonne had a great fauour to Dauid, and Jonathan tolde Dauid, saying, Saul my father goeth about to slay thee: Nowe therefore I pray thee, take heede to thy selfe vntill the morning, and abide in some secret place, and hide thy selfe:

3 And I will goe out and stand by my father in the field where thou art, and will commune with my father of thee, and what soeuer I see, I will tell thee.

4 And Jonathan spake good of Dauid vnto Saul his father, and sayd vnto him, Let not the king sinne against his seruant, against Dauid: for he hath not sinned against thee, & his workes haue bene to thee ward very good.

5 For hee did put his life in [†] his hande, and slew the Philistine, & the Lord brought to passe a great health for all Israel: thou sawest it, and thou reioicedst. Wherefore then wilt thou sinne against innocent blood, and slay Dauid without a cause?

6 And Saul hearkened vnto the voice of Jonathan, and Saul [b] sware, As the Lorde liueth, he shall not die.

7 And Jonathan called Dauid, and Jonathan shewed him all those words: and Jonathan brought Dauid to Saul, and he was in his [c] presence as in times past.

8 And the warre began againe, and Dauid went out, and fought with the Philistines, and slewe them with a great slaughter, and they fled from him.

fol. S4r

Saul, as he sate in his house, hauing a iauelin in his hand: and Dauid [d] played with his hand.

10 And Saul ~~entended~~ to smite Dauid to the wall with the iauelin: but he ~~slipped~~ out of Sauls presence, and he smote the ~~peace~~ into the wall: And Dauid fled, and ~~was saued the same night.~~

11 Saul also sent messengers vnto Dauids house, to watch him, and to slay him in the morning: and Michol Dauids wife tolde him, saying, If thou saue not thy ~~selfe this~~ night, to morow thou shalt be slaine.

12 ~~And~~ so Michol [e] let Dauid downe thorow a window: and he went, and fledde, and ~~was~~ saued.

13 And Michol tooke an image, and layed it in the bed, and put a pillow ~~fluffed with~~ goats haire ~~vnder the head of it~~, and couered it with a cloth.

14 And when Saul sent messengers to ~~fetch~~ Dauid, she sayd, He is sicke.

15 And Saul sent the messengers againe to see Dauid, saying, Bring him to me ~~bed and all~~, that I may slay him.

16 And when the messengers were come in, beholde, there ~~lay~~ an image in the bed with a pillow of goats haire ~~vnder the head of it.~~

17 And Saul sayde vnto Michol, Why hast thou ~~mocked~~ me so, and sent away mine enemy, that hee is escaped? Michol answered Saul, ~~For~~ he sayd vnto me, Let me go, ~~or else~~ I will kill thee.

18 ~~And~~ so Dauid fled, and escaped, and came to Samuel to Rama, and tolde him all that Saul had done to him: and he and Samuel went and dwelt in [f] Naioth.

19 And ~~one~~ told Saul, saying, Beholde, Dauid is at Naioth in Rama.

20 And Saul sent messengers to ~~fetch~~ Dauid: and when they saw a company of prophets prophesying, and Samuel standing as [g] appointed ouer them, the spirit of God [h] ~~fell~~ vpon the messengers of Saul, and they [h] prophesied ~~too.~~

21 And when it was told Saul, he sent other messengers, and they prophesied likewise: and Saul sent messengers ~~yet~~ again the third time, and they prophesied also.

22 Then went he ~~himselfe~~ to Rama, and came to a great well that is in Sechu: and hee asked, and sayd, Where are Samuel and Dauid? And one sayd, Behold, they be at Naioth in Rama.

23 And he went thither, ~~euen~~ to Naioth in Rama: and the spirit of God [i] came vpon him also, and hee went prophesying ~~on~~ vntill hee came to Naioth in Rama.

24 And hee stript off his clothes, and prophesied before Samuel in like maner, and [k] ~~fell~~ naked all that day and all that night: ~~and therefore it is that~~ they say, Is Saul also among the prophets?

The xx. Chapter.

2 Ionathan comforted Dauid. 3 They renue their league. 33 Saul would haue killed Ionathan. 38 Ionathan aduertiseth Dauid by three arrowes, of his fathers furie.

AND Dauid fledde from Naioth, ~~which is~~ in Rama, and came and sayd before Ionathan, What haue I done? wherein am I faultie, what is the sinne that I haue committed before thy father, that he seeketh my life?

2 He sayd vnto him, God forbid, thou shalt not die: behold, my father will do nothing either great or small, but that he will [†] shew it me: and ~~how~~ should my father hide this thing from me? he will not do it.

3 And Dauid sware againe, and sayd, Thy father knoweth that I haue found grace in thine eyes, and therefore he thinketh, Ionathan shall ~~not~~ know it, lest he be ~~sory~~, and ~~in~~ very deed, euen as the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, there is but a [a] step betweene me and death.

4 Then sayd Ionathan vnto Dauid, Whatsoeuer thy soule [‡] desireth, ~~that~~ I will doe vnto thee.

5 And Dauid sayd vnto Ionathan, Behold, to morow is the [b] beginning of the moneth, and I should sit with the king at meat: but let mee goe, that I may hide my selfe in the fields vnto the third day at euen.

6 If thy father speake of mee, then say, Dauid asked leaue of me that he might ~~goe~~ to Bethlehem ~~to~~ his owne city: for there is holden a yeerely feast ~~for~~ all the kinred.

7 ~~And~~ if he say, It is well ~~done~~, then thy seruant shall haue peace: but if hee be angry, then be sure that ~~wickednesse is~~ ~~bitterly~~ concluded of ~~him.~~

8 ~~And~~ then ~~thou~~ shalt ~~shew~~ mercy vnto thy seruant, for thou hast ~~ioyned~~ thy seruant into a [c] couenant of the Lord with thee: notwithstanding, if there be in me iniquity, slay me thy selfe: for why shouldest thou bring me to thy father?

9 And Jonathan ~~answered~~, God ~~keepe~~ that from thee: for if I knew ~~that wickednesse were~~ [d] concluded of my father to come vpon thee, would not I tell it thee?

10 Then sayd Dauid to Jonathan, Who shall tell me? ~~how~~ shall I know ~~if~~ thy father answere thee cruelly?

11 And Jonathan sayd vnto Dauid, Come, and let vs goe out into the field. And they went out both of them into the field.

12 And Jonathan sayd vnto Dauid, O Lord God of Israel, when I haue ~~groped~~ my fathers ~~minde~~ about this time to morow, or within three dayes, and if it be well with Dauid, and I then send not vnto thee, and shew it thee:

13 The Lord do so [e] and much more to Jonathan: but if my father haue pleasure to doe thee euill, I will shew thee also, and send thee away: that thou mayest goe in peace, and the Lord bee with thee, as he hath bene with my father.

14 ~~And~~ I require ~~not~~ whiles I liue, for I doubt ~~not~~ but thou wilt shewe mee the mercy of the Lord, that I die not:

15 But I require that thou ~~cut~~ not off thy mercy from my house for euer, no not when the Lord hath destroyed the enemies of Dauid euery one from the face of the earth.

16 ~~And~~ so Jonathan made a bonde with the house of Dauid, saying, Let the Lord require it at the hands of Dauids enemies.

17 And Jonathan ~~sware againe vnto Dauid~~, because hee loued him: for hee loued him as his owne soule.

18 Then Jonathan sayd to Dauid, To morow is the ~~first day of~~ the moone: and thou shalt bee ‖ missed, because ~~the place where thou~~ wast woont to sit, shalbe empty.

[a] That is, I am in great danger of death. [‡] Heb. faith.

[b] And there ~~was~~ a solemne feast, and solemne sacrifices belonging thereto.

[c] Because it consisted in all godly and honest matters, and for that it was confirmed of both parties by an oath in the name of the Lord.

19 Therefore thou shalt hide thy selfe three dayes, then thou shalt goe downe quickely, and come to the place where thou diddest hide thy selfe when the businesse was in hand, and shalt remaine by the stone † Ezel.

† Heb. of the waye, because it serued as a signe to shewe the way.

20 And I will shoot three arrowes on the side thereof, as though I shot them at a marke.

21 And I will send a lad, and bid him go seeke the arrowes. And if I say vnto the lad, See, the arrowes are on this side thee, bring them: then come thou, for it is peace & no hurt, as the Lord liueth.

22 But if I say vnto the lad, Behold, the arrowes are beyond thee: goe thy way, for the [f] Lord hath sent thee away.

[f] Vsing me as his instrument to giue thee warning to make away.

23 And as touching this which thou and I haue spoken, behold, the Lord be betweene thee and me for euer.

24 And so Dauid hid himselfe in the field: And when the new Moone was come, the king sate him downe to eate meate.

25 And the king sate as at other times, vpon his seate, euen vpon his seate by the wall: and Ionathan arose, and Abner sate by Sauls side, and Dauids place was empty.

26 Neuertheless, Saul said nothing at all that day: for he thought, Some thing hath befallen him, [g] though hee were cleane: or else because he was not purified.

[g] Yet he might haue some vncleanesse to let him.

27 But on the morow, which was the second day of the new Moone, Dauids place was empty againe: and Saul sayd vnto Ionathan his sonne, Wherefore commeth not the sonne of [h] Iesse to meate, neither yesterday nor to day?

[h] He calleth him the sonne of Iesse, by contempt and disdaine.

28 And Ionathan answered vnto Saul, Dauid asked licence of me to goe to Bethlehem.

29 For hee sayd, Let me goe, I pray thee, for our kinred doth hold an offering in the citie, and my brother hath sent for mee, and therefore if I haue found fauour in thine eyes, let mee goe, I pray thee, and see my brethren: This is the cause that he commeth not vnto the kings table.

30 Then Saul was angry with Ionathan, and sayd vnto him, Thou [i] sonne of the wicked rebellious woman, doe not I know that thou hast chosen the sonne of Iesse vnto thine owne rebuke, and vnto the rebuke and shame of thy mother?

[i] Thou followest the manner of thy mother, which neuer obeyed me.

31 For as long as the sonne of Iesse liueth vpon the earth, thou shalt not bee stablished, nor yet thy kingdome: wherefore nowe send and fetch him vnto me, for he is the child [k] of death.

[k] An Hebrew phrase, meaning, he shall surely die.

32 And Ionathan answered vnto Saul his father, and sayd vnto him, Wherefore shall hee die? what hath he done?

33 And Saul lift vp a speare to hit him, whereby Ionathan vnderstood that it was vtterly determined of his father to slay Dauid.

34 And so Ionathan arose from the table in a great anger, and did eat no meate the second day of the moneth: for he was sory for Dauid, because his father had done him shame.

35 On the next morning Ionathan went out into the field, at the [l] time appointed, with Dauid, and a little lad with him.

[l] For this was the third day, as it was agreed vpon, verse 5.

36 And he sayd vnto his boy, Run, and seeke out now the arrowes which I shoote. And as the boy ran, he shot an arrow beyond him.

37 And when the lad was come to the place whither Ionathan had shot the arrowe, Ionathan cried after the lad, and sayd, Is not the arrow beyond thee?

38 And Ionathan cried after the lad againe, Make [m] speed, haste, and stand not still. And Ionathans lad gathered vp the arrowes, and came to his master.

[m] By these words spoken to the boy, he admonished Dauid what he shall doe.

39 But the lad [n] will nothing of the matter, onely Ionathan and Dauid will it.

[n] That is, his bowe and arrowes.

40 And Ionathan gaue his [n] instruments vnto the lad that was with him, and said vnto him, Goe and carie them to the towne.

41 And assoone as the lad was gone, Dauid arose out of a place that was toward the South, and fell on his face to the ground, & bowed himselfe three times: and they kissed each other, and wept together, but Dauid [o] exceeded.

[o] In weeping.

42 And Ionathan sayde to Dauid, Goe in peace, and the things which wee haue sworne both of vs in the name of the Lord, saying, The Lord be betweene me and thee: and betweene thy seede and mine, let them stand for euer. And hee arose, and departed: and Ionathan went into the towne.

The xxj. Chapter.

1 Dauid fleeth to Nob to Ahimelech the Priest. 6 He getteth of him the shewbread to satisfie his hunger.

THen came Dauid to [a] Nob, to Ahimelech the Priest, and Ahimelech was astonied at the meeting of Dauid, and sayd vnto him, Why art thou alone, and no man with thee?

[a] Where the tabernacle then was by the counsell of the Lord.

2 And Dauid saide vnto Ahimelech the Priest, The king hath [b] commaunded mee a certaine thing, and hath sayd vnto me, Let no man know whereabout I send thee, & what I haue commanded thee: and I haue appointed my seruants to such places:

[b] This lie of Dauid, and such like infirmities as we see in the saints of God, may teach vs that no man is iust of himselfe, but receiued all iustifice at Gods hand.

3 Now therefore, if thou hast ought vnder thine hand, giue me fiue loaues of bread, or what commeth to hand.

4 And the Priest answered Dauid, and said, There is no common bread vnder mine hand, but here is halowed bread: if the yong men haue kept themselues speciall from women.

5 Dauid answered the Priest and sayd vnto him, Of a truth women haue beene separated from vs this two or three dayes, since I came out: and the [c] vessels of the yong men were holy, although this way be impure, yet this day it shal be sanctified in the vessell.

[c] That is, their bodies.

6 *And so the Priest gaue him hallowed bread, for there was none other bread there, saue the shew bread that was taken from before the Lord, to put fresh bread there, the day that it was taken away.

Mat. 21. 3.

7 (And there was there the same day, a certaine man of the seruants of Saul, [d] abiding before the Lord, named Doeg, an Edomite, the chiefest of Sauls heardmen.)

[d] Tarying to worship before the Lorde.

8 And Dauid sayd vnto Ahimelech, Is not here vnder thine hand either speare or sword? for I haue neither brought my sword nor my harnesse with mee, because the kings businesse required haste.

9 *And the Priest sayd, The sword of Goliath the Philistine, whom thou slewest in the valley of Elah, behold, it is here wrapt in a cloth behinde the [e] Ephod: if thou wilt take that, take it, for there is none to that, giue it me. And Dauid sayd, There is none like that, giue it me.

from the presence of Saul, and went to Achis the king of Gath.

11 And the seruants of Achis said vnto him, Is not this Dauid the king of the lande? Did they not sing vnto him in dances, saying, Saul hath slaine his thousands, and Dauid his tenne thousands?

12 And Dauid put those wordes into his heart, and was sore afraide of Achis the king of Gath.

13 And hee changed his speech before them, and faigned himselfe mad in their handes, and scrabled on the doores of the gate, and let his spittle fall downe vpon his beard.

14 Then saide Achis vnto his seruants, Loe, see this man is beside himselfe, wherefore then haue ye brought him to me?

15 Haue I neede of madde men, that ye haue brought this fellow to play the mad man in my presence? Shall he come into my house?

The xxij. Chapter.

1 Dauid hideth himselfe in a caue. 2 Many that were in trouble, came vnto him.

DAuid therefore departed thence, and escaped to the caue Adullam: when his brethren also and his fathers house heard it, they went downe thither to him.

2 And there gathered vnto him al men that were in combrance, and in debt, and troubled in their minds, & he became a captaine ouer them: and there were with him vpon a foure hundred men.

3 And Dauid went thence to Mispah, in the land of Moab, and said vnto the king of Moab, Let my father & my mother, I pray thee, come forth vnto you, till I know what God will doe for mee.

4 And hee brought them before the king of Moab: and they dwelt with him all the while that Dauid kept himselfe in the holde.

5 And the Prophet Gad saide vnto Dauid, Abide not in the holde, but depart and get into the lande of Iuda. Then Dauid departed, and came into the forrest Hareth.

6 And Saul heard that Dauid was discouered, & also the men that were with him: & Saul sate in Gibea vnder a tree in Rama, hauing his speare in his hand, & al his men stood about him.

7 And Saul said vnto his seruants that stood about him, Heare, I pray you, ye sonnes of Iemini: Will the sonne of Iai giue euery one of you fieldes and vineyards, and make you all captaines ouer thousands, and ouer hundreds:

8 That ye haue also conspired against mee, and there is none that telleth me that my sonne hath made a couenant with the son of Iai, and there is none of you that is sory for me, or sheweth me that my sonne hath stirred vp my seruant to lie in wait against me, as appeareth this day?

9 Then answered Doeg the Edomite, (which was appointed by the seruants of Saul) and saide, I sawe the sonne of Iai when he came to Nob, to Ahimelech the sonne of Ahitob, 10 which asked counsell of the Lord for him, and gaue him victuals, and gaue him the sword of Goliath the Philistine also.

11 Then the king sent and called for Ahimelech the Priest the sonne of Ahitob, and al his fathers house, that is to say, the Priestes that were in Nob: and they came all to the king.

12 And Saul said, Heare now thou sonne of Ahitob. He answered, Here I am, my lord.

13 And Saul saide vnto him, Why haue yee conspired against mee, thou, & the sonne of Iai, in that thou hast giuen him victuall, & a sword, and hast asked counsell of God for him, that hee should rise against me, and lie in waite for me, as appeareth this day?

14 Ahimelech answered the king, and saide, Who is so faithful among al thy seruãts, as Dauid, being alls the kings sonne in lawe, & goeth at thy bidding, & is had in honor in thine house.

15 Haue I this day begun first to aske counsel of God for him? that be farre from me: let not the king impute any thing vnto his seruant, nor to all the house of my father: for thy seruant knew nothing of all this, either lesse or more.

16 The king said, Thou shalt surely die, Ahimelech, thou, and all thy fathers house.

17 And the king said vnto the footmen that stood about him, Turne, and slay the Priestes of the Lord: both because their hande is with Dauid, and because they knewe when Dauid fled, and he told it not to me. But the seruants of the king would not stoute their hands to fall vpon the Priestes of the Lord.

18 And the king saide to Doeg, Turne thou and fall vpon the Priests. And Doeg the Edomite turned, and fell vpon the Priests, and slew that same day foure score and fiue persons that did weare a linnen Ephod.

19 And Nob the citie of the Priests smote hee with the edge of the sword, both men & women, children and sucklings, oxen and asses, & sheepe, with the edge of the sword.

20 And one of the sonnes of Ahimelech, the sonne of Ahitob, named Abiathar, escaped and fled to Dauid:

21 And Abiathar shewed Dauid howe that Saul had slaine the Lords Priestes.

22 And Dauid said vnto Abiathar, I wist it the same day, when Doeg the Edomite was there, that he would tel Saul: and I am cause of the death of all the persons of thy fathers house.

23 Abide thou with me, and feare not: for he that seeketh my life, he that seeke thine also, with me thou shalt be in safegard.

The xxiij. Chapter.

THen they tolde Dauid, saying, Behold, the Philistines fight against Keila, and spoile the barnes.

2 Therefore Dauid asked counsell of the Lord, saying, Shal I go and smite these Philistines? And the Lord answered Dauid, Goe, and smite the Philistines, and saue Keila.

3 And Dauids men said vnto him, See, we be afraid here in Iuda: how much more then if wee come to Keila against the hoste of the Philistines?

4 Then Dauid asked counsell of the Lord againe: and the Lord answered him, and saide, Arise, and goe downe to Keila: for I will deliuer the Philistines into thine hand.

a way their cattell, and smote them with a great slaughter, and so Dauid saued the inhabitants of Keila.

6 And when Abiathar the sonne of Ahimelech fled to Dauid to Keila, hee brought an [c] Ephod with him in his hand.

7 And it was tolde Saul that Dauid was come to Keila: and Saul said, God hath deliuered him into mine hand: for hee is shut in, sowe that hee is come into a towne that hath gates and barres.

8 And Saul called al the people together to warre, for to goe downe to Keila, and to beseige Dauid and his men.

9 And Dauid hauing knowledge that Saul imagined mischiefe against him, [d] said to Abiathar the Priest, Bring the Ephod.

10 Then said Dauid, O Lord God of Israel, thy seruant hath heard that Saul is about to come to Keila, to destroy the city for my sake.

11 Will the lords of Keila deliuer me into his hande? And will Saul come downe as thy seruant hath heard, O Lord God of Israel? I beseech thee tel thy seruant. And the Lord said, He wil come downe.

12 Then said Dauid, Wil the Lords of Keila deliuer me, and the men that are with mee, into the hand of Saul? And the Lord said, They wil deliuer thee vp.

13 Then Dauid and his men, which were vpon a six hundred, arose, and departed out of Keila, and went [e] whither they could: and it was told Saul that Dauid was fled from Keila, and he let the iourney alone.

14 Dauid abode in the wildernesse, in strong holds, and remained in a mountaine in the wildernesse of Ziph: and Saul sought him euery day, but God [f] deliuered him not into his hand.

15 And Dauid saw that Saul was come out to seeke his life: and Dauid was in the wildernesse of Ziph in the wood.

16 And Jonathan Sauls sonne arose, and went to Dauid into the wood, and [g] comforted his [s] hand in God, 17 And said vnto him, Feare not, for the hand of Saul my father shall not finde thee, and thou shalt be king ouer Israel, and I shall be next vnto thee: and that doeth Saul my father know.

18 And they made a bond both of them together before the Lord: and Dauid tarried still in the wood, and Jonathan went to his house.

19 Then came the Ziphites to Saul to Gibea, saying, Doeth not Dauid hide himselfe [h] with vs in strong holdes in the wood, in the hill of Hachila, on the right side of ‖ Jesimon?

20 Now therefore, O king, thou mayest come downe according to al the [i] lust of thy soule, & our part shal be to deliuer him into the kings hand.

21 And Saul said, Blessed are ye in the Lord, for ye haue compassion on me:

22 Goe, I pray you, and prepare yet better, know, and see where his [k] foote hath bene, and who hath seene him there: for it is told me that he is very subtile.

23 See therefore, and know all the lurking places where hee hideth himselfe, and come yee againe to mee with the certaintie, and I will goe with you: and if hee be in the land, I will search him out throughout all the thousands of Juda.

24 And they arose, and went to Ziph before Saul: but Dauid and his men were in the wildernesse of Maon, in the plaine that is on the right hand of Jesimon.

25 Saul also and his men went to seeke him, and they told Dauid: wherefore he came downe vnto a rocke, and abode in the wilderness of [k] Maon: and when Saul heard that, hee followed after Dauid in the wildernesse of Maon.

26 And Saul and his men went on the one side of the mountaine, and Dauid and his men on the other side of the mountaine: and Dauid made haste to get from the presence of Saul: for Saul and his men compassed Dauid and his men round about, to take them.

27 But there came a [l] messenger vnto Saul, saying, Haste thee, and come: for the Philistines haue inuaded the land.

28 Wherefore Saul returned from persecuting Dauid, and went against the Philistines, and therefore they called that place [m] Sela Hammahlekoth. And Dauid went thence, and dwelt in strong holds at En-gadi.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

1 Dauid hid in a caue, spareth Saul. 10 He sheweth to Saul his innocencie. 18 Saul acknowledgeth his fault. 22 He causeth Dauid to sweare vnto him to be fauourable to his seed.

When Saul was come againe from following after the Philistines, there were which told him, saying, Beholde, Dauid is in the wildernesse of [a] En-gadi.

2 Then Saul tooke three thousand chosen men out of all Israel, and went to seeke Dauid and his men in the height of the rockes [‡] where wilde goates remaine.

3 And hee came to the sheepe coates by the way, where there was a caue, and Saul went in to [‡] do his easement: and Dauid and his men remained in the [‡] inward parts of the caue.

4 And the men of Dauid said vnto him, See, the day is come of which the Lord saide vnto thee, Behold, I will deliuer thine enemie into thine hand, and thou shalt doe to him as it shall seeme good in thy sight. Then Dauid arose, and cut off the lappe of Sauls garment priuily.

5 And afterward Dauids heart smote him, because he had cut off the lap of Sauls garment.

6 And he said vnto his men, The Lord keepe mee from doing [b] that thing vnto my master the Lords anointed, to lay mine hand vpon him, seeing he is [b] the anoynted of the Lord.

7 And so Dauid [b]kept off his seruants with these words, and suffred them not to rise against Saul: but Saul rose vp out of the caue, and went away.

8 Dauid also arose afterward, and went out of the caue, and cryed after Saul, saying, My lord king. And when Saul looked behinde him, Dauid stowped with his face to the earth, and bowed himselfe:

9 And Dauid said to Saul, Wherefore giuest thou an eare to mens wordes, that say, Behold, Dauid seeketh euill against thee?

10 Beholde, this day thine eyes haue seene how that the Lord hath deliuered thee this day into mine hand in the caue: and some bade mee kil thee, but I had compassion on thee, and said, I will not lay mine hand on my master, for he is the Lords anoynted.

‡ Heb. iudge

16 When Dauid had made an end of speaking these words vnto Saul, Saul said, Is this thy voice, my sonne Dauid? And Saul lift vp his voyce, and ᶜ wept, ᶜ Though he was a most cruel enemie to Dauid, yet by Dauids great gentlenesse, his conscience compelled him to weep.

17 And said to Dauid, Thou art more righteous then I: for thou hast rewarded mee with good, whereas I haue rewarded thee with euil.

18 And thou hast shewed this day how that thou hast dealt well with mee: forasmuch as when the Lord had closed mee in thine handes, thou killedst me not.

19 For who shall finde his enemie, and let him depart into a good way? Wherefore the Lord reward thee with good, for that thou hast done vnto me this day.

ᵈ That is, will let him go safe and without harme.

20 And now behold, I ᵉ wote well that thou shalt bee king, and that the kingdome of Israel shalbe stablished in thine hand.

ᵉ Though this tyrant saw and confessed the fauour of God toward Dauid, yet he ceased not to persecute him against his owne conscience: such is the nature of them whom God giueth ouer.

21 Sweare now therefore vnto mee by the Lord, that thou shalt not destroy my seede after mee, and that thou shalt not roote my name out of my fathers house.

22 And Dauid ᵗware vnto Saul, and Saul went home: but Dauid and his men gate them vp vnto the hold.

The xxv. Chapter.

1 Samuel dieth. 3 Nabal and Abigail. 38 The Lord killeth Nabal. 42 Abigail and Ahinoam Dauids wiues. 43 Michol is giuen to Phalti.

1 ᵗ1.Reg.28. 3.

AND * Samuel died, and all the Israelites gathered together, and lamented him, and buried him in his owne ᵃ house at Rama. And Dauid arose, and went downe to the wildernesse of Pharan.

ᵃ That is, among his owne kinred.

2 And there was a man in ᵇ Maon, whose possession was in Carmel, and the man was exceeding mighty, and had three thousand sheepe, and a thousand goates: and he was shearing his sheepe in Carmel.

ᵇ Maon and Carmel, were cities in the tribe of Iudah, Carmel the mountaine was in Saltie.

3 The name of the man was Nabal, and the name of his wife was Abigail, and thee was a woman of a singular wisedome, and beautifull: but the man was churlish, and of euil conditions, and was of the kinred of Caleb.

4 And Dauid heard in the wildernesse that Nabal did sheare his sheepe.

5 And Dauid sent out ten yong men, and said vnto them, Get you vp to Carmel, and goe to Nabal, and ‡ greete him in my name.

‡ Heb. aske him in my name of peace.

6 And ye shall say, So mayest thou liue, peace be to thee, peace be to thine house, and peace bee vnto all that thou hast.

7 Behold, I haue heard say that thou hast shearers: nowe thy shepeards which were with vs, and wee did them no spite, neither was there ought missing vnto them all the while they were in Carmel.

ᶜ That is, were conuersant with vs in the wilderne.

8 Aske thy lads, and they will shewe thee: wherefore let these yong men finde fauour in thine eyes (for we come in a good ‡ season) & giue, I pray thee, whatsoeuer ᵈ cometh to thine hand, vnto thy seruants, and to thy sonne Dauid.

‡ Heb. In a good day, that is, the day that thou makest a feast for thy shearers.

ᵈ That is, whatsoeuer thou hast ready for vs.

9 And when Dauids yong men came, they told Nabal all those wordes in the name of Dauid: and held their peace.

10 And Nabal answered Dauids seruants, and said, ᵉ Who is Dauid? and who is the son of Isai? There is plentie of seruants now a dayes that breake away euery man from his master.

ᵉ Nabal lacketh no wealth nor riches: but yet by this his answere it appeareth that he lacketh discrecion and honestie.

11 Shall I then take my bread, my water, and my flesh that I haue killed for my shearers, & giue it vnto men whom I wot not whence they be?

12 And so Dauids seruants turned their way, and went againe, and came and tolde him all those sayings.

13 And Dauid said vnto his men, Girde euery man his sworde about him. And they girded euery man his sworde about him, and Dauid was girded with his sworde: and there followed Dauid vpon a foure hundred men, & two hundred abode by the ‡ stuffe.

‡ Heb. Vessels.

14 But one of the lads tolde Abigail Nabals wife, saying, Beholde, Dauid sent messengers vnto our master out of the wildernesse to salute him: and he ‡ railed on them.

‡ Heb. driue them away.

15 And yet the men were very good ᶠ vnto vs, and did vs no displeasure, neither missed we any thing as long as wee were conuersant with them, when we were in the fields.

ᶠ When wee kept our sheepe in the wildernesse of Pharan.

16 They were ᵍ a wall vnto vs both by night and day, all the while wee were with them keeping sheepe.

ᵍ That is, in stead of a wall.

17 Now therefore take heede, and see what thou shalt do: for surely euil ‡ will come vpon our master, and all his houshold: for he is so wicked, that a man cannot speake to him.

‡ Heb. is accomplished.

18 Then Abigail made haste, and tooke two hundred ‡ loaues, and two bottels of wine, and fiue sheepe ready dressed, and fiue measures of parched corne, and an hundred ‖ ‡ tasses of raysins, and two hundred ‖ cakes of figges, and laded them on asses,

‡ Heb. bread

‖ Or, clusters.

‖ Or, pounds: so many figs is called a cake as cleaue together like a cake.

19 And saide vnto her yong men, Goe before me, beholde, I come after you. But she tolde her husband Nabal nothing thereof.

20 And as she rode on her asse, she came priuily downe the hill of the hil, and behold, Dauid and his men came downe against her, & she met them.

21 And Dauid said, Surely in vaine haue I kept all that this fellow hath in the wildernesse, so that nothing was missed of all that pertained vnto him: and he hath rendred me euil for good.

22 So and more also doe God vnto the enemies of Dauid, if I leaue of all that pertaine to him by the dawning of the day, any that ʰ pisseth against the wall.

ʰ This speech is vsed of the Hebrewes, to signifie an vtter destruction of great and small.

23 And when Abigail saw Dauid, she hasted, and lighted off her asse, and fell before Dauid on her face, and bowed her selfe to the ground,

24 And fell at his feete, & said, Let this iniquitie be counted mine, my lord, and let thine handmayd I pray thee, ſpeake in thine ‡ audience, and heare the words of thine handmayd.

‡ Hebr. in thine eare.

25 Let not my lord, I pray thee, regard this wicked ‖ man Nabal: for as his name is, ſo is he: Nabal is his name, and folly is with him: But I thine handmayd ſaw not the yong men of my lord whom thou ſendeſt.

‖ Or, foole.

26 Nowe therefore my lord, as the Lord liueth, and as thy ſoule liueth, euen the Lord that hath withholden thee from comming to ſhed blood, and kept thine hand to thee: ſo now, I pray God, that thine enemies, and they that intend to doe my lord euil, may be as Nabal.

27 And now this ‖ bleſſing which thine handmayd hath brought vnto my lord, let it be giuen vnto the yong men that ‡ follow my lord.

‖ Or, preſent, † Heb. walk at thy feete.

28 I pray thee, forgiue the treſpaſſe of thine handmaid: for the Lord will make my lord a ᵏ ſure houſe, becauſe my lord fighteth the battels of the Lord, and there could none euil be found in thee in all thy dayes.

k That is, will confirme his kingdome to his poſterity.

29 And yet a ˡ man hath riſen to perſecute thee, and to ſeeke thy ſoule: but the ſoule of my lord ſhalbe bound ᵐ in the bundle of the liuing with the Lord thy God, and the ſoules of thine enemies, them ſhall God caſt out, euen as out of the middle of a ſling.

m Shall be preſerued by Gods protection from all dangers, that he may liue long.

30 And when the Lord ſhall haue done to my lord all the good that he hath promiſed thee, and ſhall haue made thee ruler ouer Iſrael:

31 Then ſhall it be no griefe vnto thee, nor offence of minde vnto my lord, that thou haſt not ſhed blood cauſeleſſe, and that my lord hath not auenged himſelfe: but when the Lord ſhall haue dealt well with my lord, then thinke on thine handmayd.

32 And Dauid ſaid to Abigail, Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael, which ſent thee this day to meete me.

33 And bleſſed is thy ſaying, and bleſſed art thou which haſt kept me this day from comming to ſhed blood, and from auenging my ſelfe with mine owne hand.

34 For in very deede, as the Lord God of Iſrael liueth, which hath kept me backe from hurting thee, except thou haddeſt haſted and met me, ſurely there had not beene left vnto Nabal by the dawning of the day, any that pilleth againſt the wall.

35 And ſo Dauid receiued of her hande that which ſhee had brought him, and ſaide vnto her, Goe vp in peace to thine houſe, beholde, I haue heard thy voyce, and haue ‡ graunted thy petition.

‡ Heb, receiued thy face.

36 And Abigail came to Nabal, and beholde, he held a feaſt in his houſe like the feaſt of a king, and Nabals heart was merie within him, for he was very drunken: wherefore ſhee tolde ⁿ him nothing neither leſſe nor more, vntill the morrow morning.

n As a man that had no reaſon to conſider the danger.

37 But in the morning when the wine was gone out of Nabal, his wife tolde him theſe words, and his heart died within him, and he became as a ſtone.

38 And about ten dayes after, the Lord ſmote Nabal, that he died.

39 And when Dauid heard that Nabal was dead, he ſaid, Bleſſed be the Lord that hath ‖ auenged the cauſe of my rebuke of the hand of Nabal, and hath kept his ſeruant from euil: for the Lord hath recompenced the wickednes of Nabal vpon his owne head. And Dauid ſent and commuⁿ with Abigail, to take her to his wife.

‖ Or, reuenged.

40 And when the ſeruants of Dauid were come to Abigail to Carmel, they ſpake vnto her, ſaying, Dauid ſent vs vnto thee, to take thee to his wife. And ſhee aroſe, and bowed her ſelfe on her face to the earth, and ſaid, Beholde, let thine handmayd be a ſeruant to waſh the feete of the ſeruants of my Lord.

41 And Abigail haſted, and roſe, and ſate her vpon an aſſe, with fiue damoſels of hers that ° went at her feete, and ſhee went after the meſſengers of Dauid, and became his wife.

o An Hebrew phraſe, wherebyis meant, followed her.

42 Dauid alſo tooke Ahinoam of Jezrael, and they were both his wiues.

43 But Saul had giuen Michol his daughter, Dauids wife, to Phalti the ſonne of Laiſ which was of ᵖ Gallim.

p Which was a place bordring on the countrey of the Philiſtims.

The xxvj. Chapter.

1 Dauid was diſcouered vnto Saul by the Ziphites. 12 Dauid taketh away Sauls ſpeare, and a cruſe of water that ſtood at his head. 21 Saul confeſſeth his ſinne.

THe Ziphites came againe vnto Saul to Gibea, ſaying, Doeth not Dauid hide himſelfe in the ‖ hill of * Hachilah, which is before ‖ Jeſſimon?

‖ Or, in Gibea. 1.Sam.23.19.

2 Saul arroſe, and went downe to the wildernes of Ziph, hauing three thouſand ª choſen men of Iſrael with him, for to ſeeke Dauid in the wildernes of Ziph.

‖ Or, the wildernes, a That is, of the moſt skilfull and valiant ſoldiers.

3 And Saul pitched in the hill of Hachilah, which is before Jeſſimon by the way eaſt: but Dauid dwelt in the wildernes, and he ſaw that Saul came after him into the wildernes:

4 Dauid therefore ſent out ſpies, and vnderſtood that Saul was come in very deed.

5 And Dauid aroſe, and came to the place where Saul had pitched: and ᵇ Dauid beheld the place where Saul lay, and Abner the ſonne of Ner, which was the chiefe captaine, for Saul lay in the fort, and the people pitched rounde about him.

1. Sam. 14. 50. and 17. 55.

6 Then anſwered Dauid, and ſpake to Ahimelech the Hethite, and to Abiſai the ſonne of Zaruia and brother to Joab, ſaying, Who wil go downe with me to Saul to the hoſt? And Abiſai ſaid, I wil goe downe with thee.

7 And ſo Dauid and Abiſai came downe to the people by night, and beholde, Saul lay ſleeping within the fort, and his ſpeare ſtacke in the ground at his ‖ head: but Abner and the people lay round about him.

‖ Or, bolſter.

8 Then ſaid Abiſai to Dauid, God hath cloſed thine enemie into thine hand this day: now, I pray thee, let mee ſmite him once with my ſpeare to the earth, and I wil not ᵇ ſmite him the ſecond time.

b Meaning, he would make him ſo ſure at one ſtroke, that he ſhould not need to ſtrike him againe.

9 And Dauid ſaide to Abiſai, Deſtroy him not: for who can lay his hand on the Lords ᶜ anointed, and be guiltleſſe?

c To wit, for his owne priuate cauſes, for otherwiſe Jehu ſlew two kings at Gods appointment. 4. King. 6. 24.

10 And Dauid ſaid furthermore, As the Lord liueth, the Lord ſhall ſmite him, or his day ſhall come to die, or hee ſhall deſcend into battell, and periſh:

11 The Lord keepe mee from laying mine hand vpon the Lords anointed: but I pray thee, take thou now the ſpeare that is at his head, and the cruſe of water, and let vs goe.

of water from Sauls head, and they gate them away, and no man ſaw it, nor knewe it, neither awaked: for they were all aſleepe, because the † Lord had ſent a dead ſleepe vpon them.

13 Then Dauid went ouer to the other ſide, and ſtood on the top of an hill afarre off (a great ſpace being betweene them:)

14 And Dauid cryed to the people, and to Abner the ſonne of Ner, ſaying, † Hearest thou not, Abner? Abner anſwered, and ſaid, Who art thou that cryeſt to the king?

15 And Dauid ſayde to Abner, Art not thou a [d] man? & who is like to thee in Iſrael? Wherefore then haſt thou not kept thy lorde the king? for there came one of the folke in, to deſtroy the king thy lord.

16 It is not well done of thee, as the Lorde liueth, yee are † worthie to dye, becauſe ye haue not kept your maſter the Lords anointed: & now ſee where the kings ſpeare is, and the cruſe of water that was at his head.

17 And Saul knew Dauids voice, and ſayd, Is this thy voice, my ſonne Dauid? And Dauid ſayd, It is my voice, my lord, O king.

18 And he ſayd, Wherefore doth my lord thus perſecute his ſeruant? for what haue I done? or what euill is in mine hand?

19 Now therefore, I pray thee, let my lorde the king heare the words of his ſeruant: If the Lorde haue ſtirred thee vp againſt me, [e] let him ſmell the ſauour of a ſacrifice: but if they bee the children of men curſed are they before the Lord, for they haue caſt me out this day from abiding in the inheritance of the Lord, [f] ſaying, Go ſerue other gods.

20 Now therefore, let not my blood fall to the earth before the face of the Lord: for the king of Iſrael is come out to ſeeke a flea: as when one doth hunt a partridge in the mountaines.

21 Then ſayd Saul, I haue ſinned: Come againe, my ſonne Dauid, for I will doe thee no more harme, becauſe my ſoule was [h] precious in thine eyes this day: beholde, I haue played the foole, and haue erred exceedingly.

22 And Dauid anſwered, and ſayd, Beholde the kings ſpeare, let one of the young men come ouer and fetch it.

23 The Lord reward euery man according to his [i] righteouſnes and faithfulneſſe: for the Lord deliuered thee into my hand this day, but I would not lay mine hand vpon the Lordes anoynted.

24 And behold, like as thy life was much ſet by this day in mine eyes: ſo be my life ſet by in the eyes of the Lord, that he deliuer me out of all tribulation.

25 Then Saul ſayde to Dauid, Bleſſed art thou, my ſonne Dauid: for thou ſhalt doe great things, and preuaile. And ſo Dauid went his way, and Saul turned to his place againe.

The xvij. Chapter.

2 Dauid fleeth to Achis king of Gath, who giueth him Ziklag. 8 Dauid deſtroyeth certaine of the Philiſtines. 10 Achis is deceiued by Dauid.

AND Dauid ſayd in his heart, I ſhal perish one day by the hande of Saul: therefore is there nothing better for me then to flee and ſaue my ſelfe in the land of the Philiſtines, and Saul ſhal ceaſe, and ſeeke me no more in all the coaſtes of Iſrael, and ſo ſhall I eſcape out of his hand.

2 And Dauid aroſe, and he and the fiue hundred men that were with him, went vnto Achis the ſonne of Maoch king of Gath.

3 And Dauid dwelt with Achis at Gath, both he and his men, euery man with his houſhold, and Dauid with his two wiues, Ahinoam the Iezraelitesſ, and Abigail Nabals wife the Carmelite.

4 And it was tolde Saul that Dauid was fled to Gath, and he ſought no more for him.

5 And Dauid ſayde vnto Achis, If I haue now found grace in thine eyes, [b] let them giue me a place in ſome towne in the countrey, that I may dwell there: for why ſhould thy ſeruant dwel in the [c] head citie of the kingdome with thee?

6 Then Achis gaue him [d] Ziklag that ſame day, for which cauſe Ziklag pertaineth vnto the kings of Iuda vnto this day.

7 And the † time that Dauid dwelt in the countrey of the Philiſtines, was foure moneths and certaine dayes.

8 And Dauid and his men went vp and inuaded the Geſſurites, the Gerzites, and the Amalkites: for thoſe nations were from time beginning the inhabitants of the land, as men go to Sur vnto the land of Egypt.

9 And Dauid ſmote the lande, and left neither man nor woman aliue, and tooke away the ſheepe, the oxen, the aſſes, the camels, & clothes, and returned, and came to Achis.

10 And Achis ſayd, Where haue ye beene a roming this day? And Dauid anſwered, Againſt the South of Iuda, and againſt the South of the [e] Ierameelites, and againſt the South of the [f] Kenites.

11 And Dauid ſaued neither man nor woman aliue, to bring tydings to Gath, ſaying, Leaſt they ſhould tell on vs, and ſay So did Dauid, and ſo will be his manner all the while he dwelleth in the countrey of the Philiſtines.

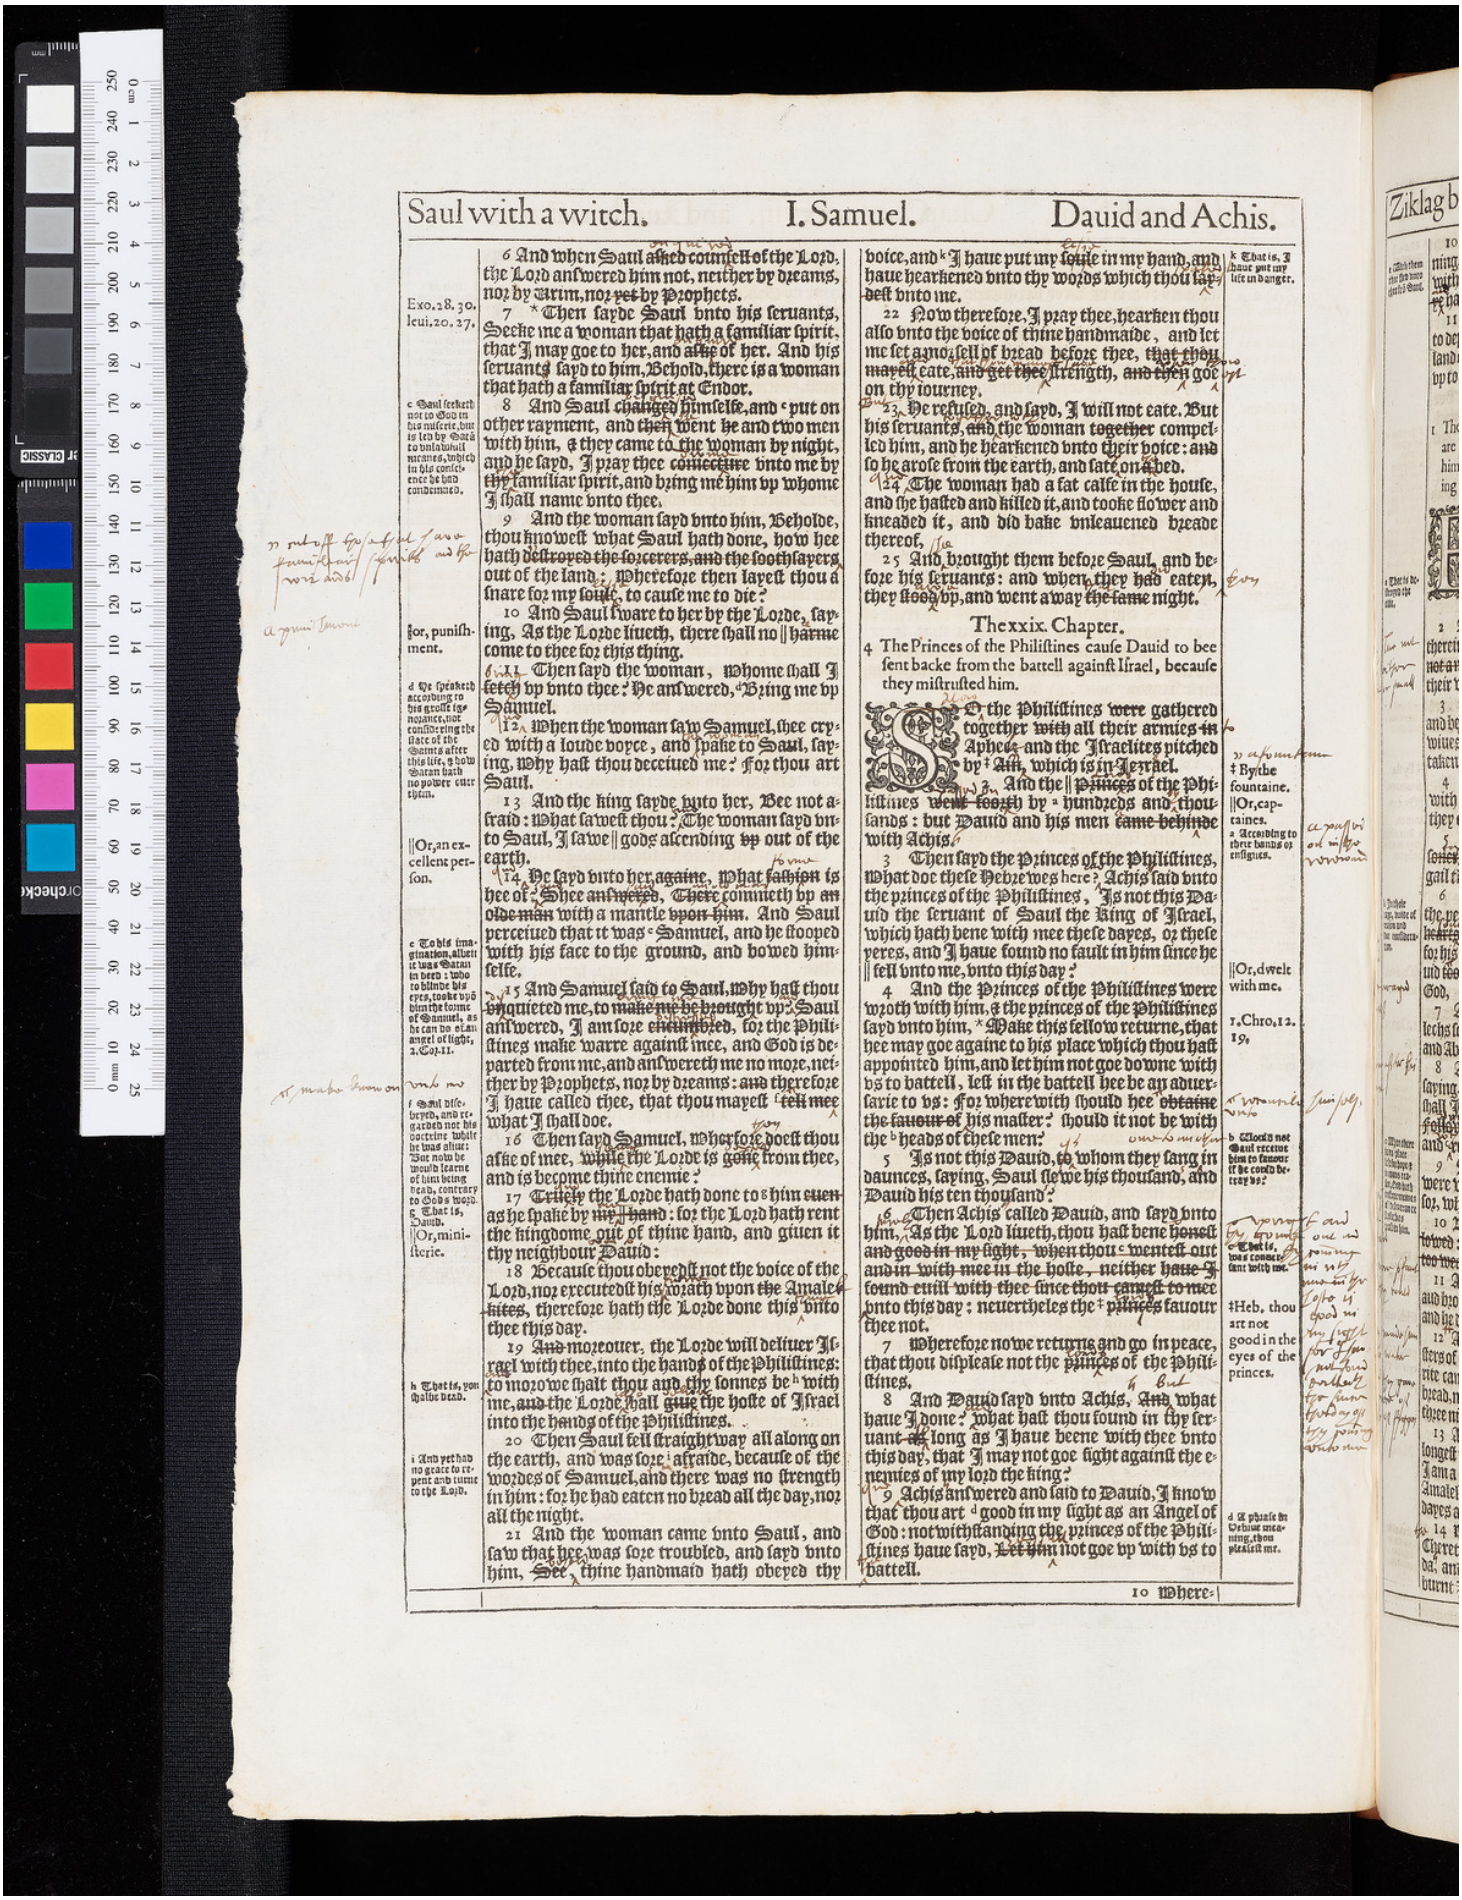
12 And Achis beleeued Dauid, ſaying, ‖ hee hath made his people Iſrael vtterly to abhorre him, & therefore he ſhall be my ſeruant for euer.

The xxviij. Chapter.

2 Dauid hath the chiefe charge promiſed about Achis. 8 Saul conſulteth with a witch, and ſheeweth him to ſpeake vnto Samuel, 18 Who declareth his ruine.

AND in thoſe dayes the Philiſtines gathered their hoſte together to warre, to fight with Iſrael: and Achis ſaid vnto Dauid, Be it thou ſhalt goe out with mee to battell, thou, and thy men that are with thee.

2 And Dauid ſayde to Achis, Surely thou ſhalt know what thy ſeruant can doe. And Achis ſayd to Dauid, Then I will make thee keeper of my head for euer.



3 Samuel was then dead, and all Iſrael had lamented him, and buried him in Rama his owne citie: and Saul had put [b] away the ſorcerers, and the ſoothſayers out of the land.

4 And the Philiſtines gathered together & came & pitched in Sunem: and Saul gathered all Iſrael together, and they pitched in Gilboa.

5 And when Saul ſaw the hoſte of the Philiſtines, hee was afraid, and his heart was ſore aſtonied.

Exo. 28. 30. leui. 20. 27.

6 And when Saul asked counsell of the Lord, the Lord answered him not, neither by dreams, nor by Urim, nor yet by Prophets.

7 *Then sayde Saul vnto his seruants, Seeke me a woman that hath a familiar spirit, that I may goe to her, and aske of her. And his seruants sayd to him, Behold, there is a woman that hath a familiar spirit at Endor.

c Saul seeketh not to God in his misserie, but is led by Satã to vnlawfull meanes, which in his conscience he had condemned.

8 And Saul changed himselfe, and c put on other rayment, and then went he and two men with him, & they came to the woman by night, and he sayd, I pray thee coniecture vnto me by thy familiar spirit, and bring me him by whome I shall name vnto thee.

9 And the woman sayd vnto him, Beholde, thou knowest what Saul hath done, how hee hath destroyed the sorcerers, and the soothsayers out of the land: wherefore then layest thou a snare for my soule, to cause me to die?

for, punishment.

10 And Saul sware to her by the Lorde, saying, As the Lorde liueth, there shall no ‖ harme come to thee for this thing.

11 Then sayd the woman, whome shall I fetch vp vnto thee? He answered, d Bring me vp Samuel.

d He speaketh according to his grosse ignorance, not considering the state of the Saints after this life, & how Satan hath no power euer them.

12 When the woman saw Samuel, shee cryed with a loude voyce, and spake to Saul, saying, Why hast thou deceiued me? For thou art Saul.

13 And the king sayde vnto her, Bee not afraid: What sawest thou? The woman sayd vnto Saul, I sawe ‖ gods ascending vp out of the earth.

‖ Or, an excellent person.

14 He sayd vnto her againe, What fashion is hee of? Shee answered, There commeth vp an olde man with a mantle vpon him. And Saul perceiued that it was e Samuel, and he stooped with his face to the ground, and bowed himselfe.

e To his imagination, albeit it was Satan in deed: who to blinde his eyes, tooke vpõ him the forme of Samuel, as he can do of an angel of light, 2. Cor. 11.

15 And Samuel said to Saul, Why hast thou disquieted me, to make me be brought vp? Saul answered, I am sore encumbred, for the Philistines make warre against mee, and God is departed from me, and answereth me no more, neither by Prophets, nor by dreams: and therefore I haue called thee, that thou mayest f tell mee what I shall doe.

f Saul discouered, and regarded not his portion which he was after: But now he would learne of him being dead, contrary to Gods word.

16 Then sayd Samuel, Wherefore doest thou aske of mee, while the Lorde is gone from thee, and is become thine enemie?

17 Truely the Lorde hath done to g him euen as he spake by me ‖ hand: for the Lord hath rent the kingdome out of thine hand, and giuen it thy neighbour Dauid:

g That is, Dauid. ‖ Or, ministerie.

18 Because thou obeyedst not the voice of the Lord, nor executedst his wrath vpon the Amalekites, therefore hath the Lorde done this vnto thee this day.

19 And moreouer, the Lorde will deliuer Israel with thee, into the hands of the Philistines: to morowe shalt thou and thy sonnes be h with me, and the Lorde shall giue the hoste of Israel into the hands of the Philistines.

h That is, you shalbe dead.

20 Then Saul fell straight way all along on the earth, and was sore i afraide, because of the wordes of Samuel, and there was no strength in him: for he had eaten no bread all the day, nor all the night.

i And yet had no grace to repent and turne to the Lord.

21 And the woman came vnto Saul, and saw that hee was sore troubled, and sayd vnto him, See, thine handmaid hath obeyed thy voice, and k I haue put my soule in my hand, and haue hearkened vnto thy wordes which thou spakest vnto me.

k That is, I haue put my life in danger.

22 Now therefore, I pray thee, hearken thou also vnto the voice of thine handmaide, and let me set a morsell of bread before thee, that thou mayest eate, and get thee strength, and then goe on thy iourney.

23 He refused, and sayd, I will not eate. But his seruants, and the woman together compelled him, and he hearkened vnto their voice: and so he arose from the earth, and sate on a bed.

24 The woman had a fat calfe in the house, and she hasted and killed it, and tooke flower and kneaded it, and did bake vnleauened breade thereof,

25 And brought them before Saul, and before his seruants: and when they had eaten, they stood vp, and went away the same night.

‖ Or, dwelt with me.

4 And the Princes of the Philistines were wroth with him, & the princes of the Philistines sayd vnto him, *Make this fellow returne, that hee may goe againe to his place which thou hast appointed him, and let him not goe downe with vs to battell, lest in the battell hee be an aduersarie to vs: For wherewith should hee obtaine the fauour of his maister? should it not be with the b heads of these men?

1. Chro. 12. 19.

b Words not Saul receiue him to fauour if he could betray vs.

5 Is not this Dauid, to whom they sang in daunces, saying, Saul slewe his thousand, and Dauid his ten thousand?

6 Then Achis called Dauid, and sayd vnto him, As the Lord liueth, thou hast bene honest and good in my sight, when thou c wentest out and in with mee in the hoste, neither haue I found euill with thee since thou camest to mee vnto this day: neuertheles the ‡ princes fauour thee not.

8 And Dauid sayd vnto Achis, And what haue I done? what hast thou found in thy seruant as long as I haue beene with thee vnto this day, that I may not goe fight against the enemies of my lord the king?

9 Achis answered and said to Dauid, I know that thou art d good in my sight as an Angel of God: notwithstanding the princes of the Philistines haue sayd, Let him not goe vp with vs to battell.

The xxx. Chapter.

1 The Amalekites burne Ziklag. 5 Dauids two wiues are taken prisoners. 6 The people would stone him. 8 He asketh counsell of the Lord, and pursuing his enemies, recouereth the pray.

BVt when Dauid & his men were come to Ziklag the third day, the Amalekites had inuaded vpon the South, euen vnto Ziklag, and had a smitten Ziklag, and burnt it with fire.

a That is, destroyed the citie.

2 And had taken the women that were therein prisoners, both small and great, and slew not a man, but caried them away, and went their wayes.

3 So Dauid and his men came to the citie, and beholde, it was burnt with fire, and their wiues, their sonnes, and their daughters were taken prisoners.

4 Then Dauid and the people that were with him, lift vp their voyces and wept, vntill they could weepe no more.

5 And Dauids two wiues were taken prisoners also, Ahinoam the Jezraelite, and Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite.

b In their rage, borne of reason and due consideration.

6 And Dauid was in great cumbrance: for the people b intended to stone him, because the hearts of all the people were vered, euery man for his sonnes, and for his daughters: but Dauid tooke a good courage to him in the Lord his God.

7 And saide to Abiathar the priest Ahimelechs sonne, I pray thee, bring me the Ephod: and Abiathar brought the Ephod to Dauid.

8 And Dauid asked counsell at the Lorde, saying, Shall I followe after this company? shall I ouertake them? and hee answered him, Followe, for thou shalt surely ouertake them, and recouer all.

c When there is no place left for hope & in mans reason, God hath in some meanes of deliuerance furnished & taught him.

9 So Dauid and the fire hundred men that were with him, went, and came to the riuer Besor, where a part of them abode.

10 But Dauid and foure hundred men followed: (for two hundred abode behind, being too wearie to goe ouer the riuer Besor.)

11 And they found an Egyptian in the field, and brought him to Dauid, and gaue him bread, and he did eate, and water to drinke.

12 And gaue him a fewe figges, and two clusters of raisins: and when he had eaten, his spirite came againe to him: for hee had eaten no bread, nor drunke any water in three dayes and three nights.

13 And Dauid said vnto him, To whome belongest thou? and whence art thou? Hee sayde, I am a young man of Egypt, and seruant to an Amalekite, and my master left me because three dayes agone I fell sicke.

14 Wee came a rouing vpon the South of Cherethites, and vpon the coast belonging to Juda, and to ward the South of Caleb, and wee burnt Ziklag with fire.

15 And Dauid said to him, Canst thou bring me to this company? And he sayd, d Sweare vnto me by God, that thou wilt neither kill me, nor deliuer me into the hands of my master, and I will bring thee to this company.

d Vpon an oathe he is content to commit his life to his handes: such was the reuerence of an oth among the heathen.

16 And when hee had brought him thither, behold, they lay scattered abroad vpon all the earth, e eating, and drinking, and dauncing, because of all the great pray that they had caried away out of all the lande of the Philistines, and out of the land of Juda.

e They cast no perill, nor consider not the destruction that hangeth ouer their head: this is the maner of the wicked.

17 And Dauid slew them from the twilight, euen vnto the euening of the next morow: so that there escaped not a man of them, saue foure hundred yong men which rode vpon Camels, and fled.

18 And Dauid recouered all that the Amalekites had caried away: and Dauid rescued his two wiues:

19 So that there was nothing lacking to them, small or great, sonne or daughter, or of the spoyle of all that they had taken away, Dauid recouered them all.

20 And Dauid tooke all the sheepe and the Oxen, and they draue them before his cattell, and sayd, This is Dauids f pray.

f Whiles the Amalekites had taken ouer others, & Dauid from them besides the goods of Ziklag.

21 And Dauid came to the two hundred men that were too wearie for to followe Dauid, whome they had made also to abide at the riuer Besor: and they came to meete Dauid and the people that were with him: and when Dauid came to the people, he saluted them friendly.

22 Then answered all the wicked and the vnthrifts of the men that went with Dauid, and sayde, Because they went not with vs, therefore will we giue them none of the pray that we haue recouered: but let euery man take his wife and his children, those let them carry away, and depart.

23 Then sayd Dauid, Ye shall not doe so, my brethren, with y which the Lord hath giuen vs, who hath preserued vs and deliuered the companie that came against vs, into our hands.

24 For who will hearken vnto you in this matter? But as his part is that goeth downe and fighteth, so shall his part be that tarieth by the stuffe: they shall part alike.

25 And so from that day forwarde was that made a statute, and a lawe in Israel, vnto this day.

26 When Dauid therefore came to Ziklag, hee sent g of the pray vnto the elders of Juda, and to his friends, saying, See, here is a blessing for you, of the spoyle of the enemies of the Lord.

g He rewardeth the with gifts, with whom he had been succoured in the time of his persecution.

27 Hee sent to them of Bethel, to them of South Ramoth, to them of Jathir, 28 To them of Aroer, to them of Siphamoth, to them of Eshtemoa,

29 To them of Rachal, to them of the cities of Jerahmeel, to them of the cities of the Kenites,

30 To them of Horma, to them of Chorashan, to them of Athach, 31 To them that are in Hebron, and to all places where Dauid and his men were woont to haunt.

1.Chr.10.1 AND the * Philistines fought against Israel: and the men of Israel fled away frō the Philistines, & fell downe ‖ wounded in mount Gilboa.

2 And the Philistines pursued fast vpō Saul and his sonnes, and slew Jonathan, and Abinadab, and Melchisua, Sauls sonnes.

3 And when the battell went sore against Saul, the archers with bowes ‖ found him, and he was sore afraid of the archers.

‖ Or, hit him.

4 Then said Saul vnto his harneſſe bearer, [a] Draw out thy sworde, and thrust me through therewith: least the vncircumcised come, and thrust me through, and mocke me. And his harneſſe bearer would not, for hee was sore afraid: therefore Saul tooke a sworde, and fell vpon it.

a So we see that his cruell life hath a desperate end, as is commonly seene in them that persecute the children of God.

5 And when his harneſſe bearer sawe that Saul was dead, he fell likewise vpon his sword, and dyed with him.

6 And so Saul dyed, and his three sonnes, and his harneſſe bearer, and all his men that same day together.

The first Chapter.

4 It was told Dauid of Sauls death. 15 Hee causeth him to be slaine that brought the tidings. 19 Hee lamenteth the death of Saul and Jonathan.

AFter the death of Saul, when Dauid was returned from the slaughter of the Amalekites, and had beene two dayes in Ziklag:

2 Behold, there came a man the third day out of the host from Saul, with his [a] clothes rent, and earth vpon his head: & when he came to Dauid, hee fell to the earth, and did obeisance.

a As one in sorow lamenting (as hee would seeme) the ouerthrow of the people of Israel.

3 Dauid sayde vnto him, whence commest thou? He sayd vnto him, Out of the host of Israel I am escaped.

4 And Dauid sayde vnto him, And what is done? I pray thee, tell me. He sayd, The people is fled from the battell, and many of the people are ouerthrowen and dead, and Saul and Jonathan his sonne are dead also.

5 And Dauid sayd vnto the yong man that told it him, How knowest thou that Saul and Jonathan his sonne be dead?

6 The young man that told him, answered, As I came by chance to mount Gilboa, behold, Saul leaned vpon his speare: and loe, the chariots and ‖ horsemen followed hard after him.

b Or, fled in the chase.

‖ Or, captaines.

7 And when he looked backe, he sawe me, and called me: and I answered, Here am I.

8 And he said vnto me, Who art thou? I answered him, I am an [c] Amalekite.

c He was an Amalekite borne, but renounced his countrey, and ioyned with the Israelites.

9 He said vnto me againe, I pray thee, come vpon me and slay me: for anguish is come vpon me, because my life is yet whole in me.

10 And so I ‖ stood vpon him, & slew him: and because I was sure that hee could not liue after that he had fallen, I tooke the crowne that was vpon his head, and the bracelet that was on his arme, & haue brought them hither vnto my lord.

‖ Or, came vpon him.

11 Then Dauid tooke holde on his clothes and rent them, and so did all the men that were with him.

12 And they mourned & wept, & fasted vntill Euen for Saul and Jonathan his sonne, and for the people of the Lord, & for the house of Israel, because they were ouerthrowen with the sword.

13 And Dauid sayde vnto the yong man that brought him these tidings, Whence art thou? Hee answered, I am the sonne of a valiant, an Amalekite.

14 And Dauid sayde vnto him, How is it that thou wast not afraide to lay thine hand on the Lords anoynted, to destroy him?

Psa.104.15. to destroy.

15 And Dauid called one of his young men, and sayd, Goe to, and fall vpon him. And hee smote him, that he dyed.

mouth hath testified against thee, saying, I haue slaine the Lords anointed.

17 And Dauid mourned with this lamentation ouer Saul, and ouer Jonathan his sonne.

18 (Also hee bade them teach the children of Juda c the vse of the bowe: and behold, it is written in the booke of the ‖ righteous:)

19 O noble Israel, he is slaine vpon thy high places: how are the mighty ouerthrowen!

20 Tell it not in Gath, nor publish it in the streets of Ascalon: lest the daughters of the Philistines reioice, and lest the daughters of the vncircumcised triumph.

21 Ye mountaines of Gilboa, vpon you bee neither dewe nor raine, nor fields of offerings: for there the shield of the mighty is cast downe, the shield of Saul, as though hee had not beene anointed with oyle.

22 The bowe of Jonathan neuer turned backe, neither did the sworde of Saul returne emptie from the blood of the slaine, and from the fat of the mighty.

23 Saul and Jonathan were louely and pleasant in their liues, and in their death they were not diuided: they were swifter then Eagles, and stronger then Lions.

24 Ye daughters of Israel, weep ouer Saul, which clothed you in scarlet with h pleasures, & hanged ornaments of gold vpon your apparel.

25 How were the mighty slaine in the midst of the battell? O Jonathan, thou wast slaine in thine high places.

26 Woe is me for thee my brother Jonathan, very kind hast thou bene vnto me: thy loue to me was wonderfull, passing the loue i of women.

27 O how are the mighty ouerthrowen, and the weapons of warre destroyed!

The ij. Chapter.

4 David is anointed king in Hebron.

AFter this Dauid a asked counsel at the Lord, saying, Shal I go vp into any of the cities of Juda? And the Lord said vnto him, Go vp. And Dauid sayd, Whither shall I go? He answered, Vnto b Hebron.

2 And so Dauid went thither with his two wiues, Ahinoam the Jezraelite, and Abigail Nabals wife the Carmelite.

3 And the men that were with c him, did Dauid carie vp also, euery man with his houshold: and they dwelt in the townes of Hebron.

4 *And the men of Juda came, and there they anointed Dauid king ouer the house of Juda: and they told Dauid, saying, It is the men of Jabes Gilead that buried Saul.

5 And Dauid sent messengers vnto the men of Jabes Gilead, and said vnto them, Blessed are ye vnto the Lord, that ye haue shewed such kindnes vnto your Lord Saul, and haue buried him.

6 And now the Lord shew mercie & d truetie vnto you: and e I wil do you also such kindnesse, as ye haue done in this thing:

7 Therefore now let your hands be strong, ‡ and play yee the men: for your master Saul is dead, and they that are of the house of Juda, haue anointed me king ouer them.

8 But Abner the sonne of Ner, that was captaine of Sauls hoste, tooke Jsboseth the sonne of Saul, and brought him to f Mahanaim, 9 And made him king ouer Gilead, and ouer the Asurites, and ouer Jezrael, Ephraim, Beniamin, and ouer g all Israel.

10 And Jsboseth Sauls sonne was fourtie yeeres old when he began to reigne ouer Israel, and reigned two yeeres: but the house of Juda followed Dauid.

11 (And the time which Dauid reigned in Hebron ouer the house of Juda, was seuen yeres and sixe moneths.)

12 And Abner the sonne of Ner, and the seruants of Jsboseth the sonne of Saul, went out of Mahanaim to Gibeon.

13 And Joab the sonne of Zaruia, and the seruants of Dauid went out, and met one another by the poole of Gibeon: and they sate downe, the one on the one side of the poole, and the other on the other side.

14 And Abner said to Joab, Let the yong men now arise, and h play before vs. And Joab sayd, Let them arise.

15 Then there arose and went ouer, twelue of Beniamin by number, which pertained to Jsboseth the sonne of Saul, and twelue of the seruants of Dauid.

16 And euery one caught his fellowe by the head, and thrust his sworde in his i fellowes side, and so they fell downe together: wherefore the place was called ‖ Helkath-hazzurim, which is in Gibeon.

17 And there was an exceeding cruell k battel that same day: for Abner and the men of Israel fell before the seruants of Dauid.

18 And there were three sonnes of Zaruia there, Joab, Abisai, and Asahel: and Asahel was as light of foote as a wilde Roe.

19 And Asahel followed after Abner, and in going, he turned neither to the right hand nor to the left from Abner.

20 Then Abner looked behind him, and said, Art thou Asahel? He answered, Yea.

21 Abner said, Turne thee either, to the right hand, or to the left, and catch one of the young men, and take thee his ‖ weapons. But Asahel would not depart from him.

22 And Abner said againe to Asahel, Depart from mee: l wherefore should I smite thee to the ground, and not be able to hold vp my face to Joab thy brother?

23 Howbeit, when hee would in no wise depart, Abner with the hinder ende of the speare smote him vnder the m fift ribbe, that the speare came out behind him, that hee fell downe in the same place, and died there: and as many as came to the place where Asahel fell downe and died, stood still.

24 Joab also and Abisai pursued after Abner: and the Sunne went downe when they were come to the hill Amma, that lieth before Giah, by the way of the wildernesse of Gibeon.

25 And the children of Beniamin gathered themselues together after Abner, and were on a heape, and stood on the top of an hill.

26 Then Abner called to Joab, & said, Shall the n sword deuoure for euer? Knowest thou not that it will be bitternesse in the latter end? How long shall it bee then, yer thou bid the people returne from following their brethren?

27 And Joab said, As God liueth, if thou hadst spoken, surely then in the morning the people had departed euery one from persecuting his brother.

28 And so Ioab blew a trumpet, and all the people stoode still, and pursued after Israel no more, neither fought they any more.

29 And Abner and his men walked all that night thorow the ‖plaine, and were ouer Iordane, and past thorow all Bethhoron, till they came to Mahanaim.

30 And Ioab returned from persecuting Abner, and when he had gathered all the people together, there lacked of Dauids seruants nineteene men, and Asahel.

31 But the seruants of Dauid had smitten of Beniamin & of Abners men, so that three hundred and threescore men died.

32 And they tooke vp Asahel, and buried him in the sepulchre of his father, which was in Bethlehem: and Ioab and his men went all night, and the day arose to them at Hebron.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Long warre betweene the houses of Saul and Dauid. 2 The children of Dauid in Hebron. 12 Abner turneth to Dauid. 27 Ioab killeth him.

THere was then a long warre betweene the house of Saul, and the house of Dauid: but Dauid wared stronger & stronger, and the house of Saul waxed weaker and weaker.

2 And vnto Dauid were children borne in Hebron: his eldest sonne also was Amnon, of Ahinoam the Israelite:

3 The second, Chileab, of Abigail the wife of Nabal the Carmelite: the third, Absalom the sonne of Maacha, the daughter of Talmai the king of Geshur:

4 The fourth Adonijah the sonne of Haggith: the fifth, Sephatia the sonne of Abital:

5 And the sixth, Ithream, by Egla Dauids wife. These were borne to Dauid in Hebron.

6 And while there was warre betweene the house of Saul, and the house of Dauid, Abner held vp the house of Saul.

7 And Saul had a concubine, named Rizpa, the daughter of Aiah: and Ishbosheth said to Abner, Wherefore hast thou gone in vnto my fathers concubine?

8 Then was Abner very wroth for the words of Ishbosheth, and said, Am I a dogs head, which against Iuda do shew mercie this day vnto the house of Saul thy father, and to his brethren and friends, and haue not deliuered thee into the hand of Dauid: and thou findest a fault in me this day, for this woman?

9 So doe God to Abner, and more also, except, as the Lord hath sworne to Dauid, euen so will I doe to him,

10 To bring the kingdome from the house of Saul, and the throne of Dauid may bee stablished ouer Israel, and ouer Iuda, euen from Dan to Beer-sheba.

11 And he could giue Abner neuer a word to answere, because he feared him.

12 And Abner sent messengers to Dauid secretly, saying, Whose is the land? who should also say, Make a bond with mee, and behold, my hand is with thee, to bring all Israel vnto thee.

13 He saide, Well, I will make a bond with thee: but one thing I require of thee, that thou see not my face, except thou first bring Michol Sauls daughter, when thou comest to see me.

14 And Dauid sent messengers to Ishbosheth Sauls sonne, saying, Deliuer me my wife Michol, which I married for an hundred foreskins of the Philistines.

15 And Ishbosheth sent, and tooke her from her husband Phalti, the sonne of Lais.

16 And her husband went with her, and came weeping behind her till they came to Bahurim: then said Abner vnto him, Goe and returne. And he returned.

17 And Abner had communication with the Elders of Israel, saying, Ye sought for Dauid in times past, that he might be your king:

18 Now then doe it, for the Lord hath spoken of Dauid, saying, By the hand of my seruant Dauid I will saue my people Israel out of the hands of the Philistines, and out of the hand of all their enemies.

19 And Abner spake in the eares of Beniamin: and afterward Abner went to speake in the eares of Dauid in Hebron, all that Israel was content with, & the whole house of Beniamin.

20 And so Abner came to Dauid to Hebron, hauing twenty men with him: and Dauid made Abner and the men that were with him a feast.

21 And Abner said vnto Dauid, I will vp and goe gather all Israel vnto my lord the king, that they may make an appointment with thee, and that thou maiest reigne ouer all that thine heart desireth. And Dauid had let Abner depart, he went ‖ in peace.

22 And beholde, the seruants of Dauid and Ioab came from the campe, and brought in a great prey with them: (but Abner was not with Dauid in Hebron, for hee had sent him away, & he was departed in peace.)

23 When Ioab and all the host that was with him, were come, they told Ioab, saying, Abner the sonne of Ner came to the king, and hee hath sent him away, and he is gone in peace.

24 Then Ioab came to the king, and said, What hast thou done? behold, Abner came vnto thee, and why hast thou sent him away, and he is quite gone?

25 Thou knowest Abner the sonne of Ner, for he came to deceiue thee, and to know thy outgoing and ingoing, and to know all that thou doest.

26 And when Ioab was come out from Dauid, hee sent messengers after Abner, which brought him againe from the well of Syria, vnknowing to Dauid.

27 *And when Abner was come againe to Hebron, Ioab tooke him aside in the gate to speake with him ‖ peaceably: and smote him vnder the fift ribbe, that he died, for the blood of Asahel his brother.

28 And when afterward it came to Dauids eare, hee said, I and my kingdome are guiltlesse before the Lord for euer, concerning the blood of Abner the sonne of Ner, 29 Let the blood fall on the head of Ioab, and on all his fathers house, that the house of Ioab be neuer without one or other that hath running issues, or leper, or that leaneth on a staffe, or that doeth fall on the sworde, or that lacketh bread.

30 (So Ioab and Abisai his brother slewe Abner, because hee had slaine their brother Asahel at Gibeon in battell.)

The iiij. Chapter.

5 Baanah and Rechab slaye Isboseth the sonne of Saul. 12 Dauid commaunded them to be slaine.

AND when Sauls [a] sonne heard that Abner was dead in Hebron, his hands were [b] feeble, and all the Israelites were afraid.

2 And Sauls sonne had two men that were captaines of bands, the one called Baanah, and the other Rechab, the sonnes of Rimmon a Berothite, of the children of Beniamin: (for [c] Beroth was reckoned to Beniamin.

3 And [d] these Berothites fled to Githaim, and [e] sojourned there vntill this day.)

4 And Jonathan Sauls sonne had a sonne that was lame on his feet, and was fiue yeeres old when the tydings came of Saul and Jonathan out of Jezrael, and his nurse tooke him vp, and fled away: and as she made haste to flee, the childe fell, and [f] began to halt, and his name was Miphiboseth.

5 And the sonnes of Rimmon the Berothite, Rechab and Baanah, went and came in the heat of the day to the house of Isboseth, which slept on a bed at noone.

6 And beholde, they came in the mids of the house, as though they [g] would haue fetched wheate: and Rechab and Baanah his brother, smote him vnder the fift ribbe, and fled.

7 For when they came into the house, hee slept on his bedde in his bedchamber, and they smote him, and slewe him, and beheaded him, and tooke his head, and gate them away thorow the || plaine all that night.

8 And they brought the head of Isboseth vnto Dauid to Hebron, and said to the king, Behold, [h] there is the head of Isboseth Sauls sonne thine enemie, which sought after thy life, and the Lorde hath auenged my lorde the king this day of Saul and of his seed.

9 And Dauid answered Rechab and Baanah his brother, the sonnes of Rimmon the Berothite, and said vnto them, As the Lord liueth, which hath [i] deliuered my soule out of all aduersities,

10 * When one tolde me, and sayd that, Saul was dead, (thinking to haue brought good tydings) I caught him, and slewe him in Ziklag, which thought that I would haue giuen him a reward for his tydings bringing:

11 How much more when wicked men haue slaine a righteous person in his owne house, and vpon his bed: Shall I not nowe therefore require his blood of your hand, and take you from the earth?

12 And Dauid commaunded his young men, and they slewe them, and cut off their handes and feet, and hanged them vp ouer the poole in Hebron: but they tooke the head of Isboseth, and buried it in the sepulchre of Abner, in Hebron.

The v. Chapter.

3 Dauid is made king ouer all Israel. 7 He taketh the fort of Sion. 19 He asketh counsell of the Lorde, 20 And ouercommeth the Philistines twise.

THen * came all the tribes of Israel to Dauid vnto Hebron, and sayde thus, Beholde, wee are thy [a] bone, and thy flesh.

2 And in time past, when Saul was our king, thou ledst Israel in and out: and the Lord sayd to thee, * Thou shalt feede my people Israel, and thou shalt bee a captaine ouer Israel.

4 Dauid was thirtie yeres old when he began to reigne, and he reigned fourtie yeeres.

5 In Hebron hee reigned ouer Juda seuen yeeres and sixe moneths: and in Hierusalem he reigned thirtie and three yeeres ouer all Israel and Juda.

6 ^ The king also and his men went to Hierusalem, vnto the Jebusites, the inhabitants of the land, which spake vnto Dauid, saying, Except thou take away the [d] blinde and the lame, thou shalt not come in hither: for they sayde, Thou art not able to come in hither.

7 Neuertheless, Dauid tooke the strong hold of Sion: the same is the citie of Dauid.

8 And Dauid said the same day, Whosoeuer smiteth the Jebusites, and getteth vp to the gutters of the houses, and smiteth the lame and the blind, hated of Dauids soule. I will preferre him, wherefore they sayde, The blinde and the lame shall not come into that house.

9 And so Dauid dwelt in the tower, and called it the citie of Dauid, and built round about it, from Millo, and inward.

10 And Dauid prospered and grewe, and the Lord God of hostes was with him.

11 And ‡ Hiram king of * Tyre sent messengers to Dauid, and Cedar trees, and carpenters, and Masons for walles: and they built Dauid an house.

12 And Dauid perceiued that the Lorde had established him king ouer Israel, and that he had exalted his kingdome for his people Israels sake.

5 And Dauid and all the house of Israel played before the Lord on sundrie instruments made of Cedar wood, with harpes, psalteries, tymbrels, cornets, and cymbals.

c His intent seemed by reason to be good, but being contrary to Gods word, it was a fault. 6 And whe they came to Nachons threshing floore, Oza put his hand to the arke of God, and held it, for the oxen did shake it.

7 And the Lord was wroth with Oza, and God smote him in the same place for his c fault, and there he died before the arke of God.

8 And Dauid was displeased, because the Lord had † smitten Oza: And he called the name of the place ‖ Perez Oza, vntill this day.

9 And Dauid was then afraid of the Lord and said, How shal the arke of the Lord come to me?

10 And so Dauid would not bring the arke of the Lord vnto him into the city of Dauid: but Dauid carried it into the house of Obed Edom, a d Gethite.

d Which being a Leuite, had dwelt in Gethaim. 11 And the arke of the Lord continued in the house of Obed Edom the Gethite, three moneths: and the Lord blessed Obed Edom, and all his houshold.

1.Chro.15.25. 12 *And one tolde king Dauid how the Lord had blessed the house of Obed Edom, and all that pertained vnto him, because of the arke of God. And Dauid went, and e brought the arke of God from the house of Obed Edom, into the citie of Dauid, with gladnesse.

e Meaning, he caused the Leuites to beare it, according to the law. 13 And when they that bare the arke of the Lord, had gone sixe paces, he offered an oxe and a fat beast.

f With a garment like the vsuall garment. 14 And Dauid daunced before the Lord with all his might, and was girded with a linen f Ephod.

15 So Dauid and all the house of Israel brought the arke of the Lord, with shouting and trumpet blowing.

16 And as the arke of the Lord came into the citie of Dauid, Michol Sauls daughter looked through a window, and saw king Dauid dancing and dancing before the Lord, and she g despised him in her heart.

g As one that had by light behauiour disgraced himself, and played a foolish part as the thought. 17 And when they brought in the arke of the Lord, they set it in his place, euen in the midst of the tabernacle that Dauid had pitched for it: and Dauid offered whole burnt offerings, and peace offerings, before the Lord.

1.Chr.16.2 18 *And assoone as Dauid had made an end of offering whole burnt offerings and peace offerings, hee blessed the people in the name of the Lord of hostes, i Whole glory is to be esteemed more then the pleasing of men. 21 And Dauid said vnto Michol, It was before the i Lord, which chose me rather then thy father and all his house, and commanded me to be ruler ouer all the people of the Lord, euen ouer Israel, and therefore will I play before the Lord:

k For a punishment, because she mocked the seruants of God. 22 And will yet be more vile then so, and will be base in mine owne sight: and of the very same maide seruants which thou hast spoken of, shall I be had in honour.

AFterwards, when the king sate in his house, and the Lord had giuen him rest round about from all his enemies,

2 The king said vnto Nathan the prophet, Beholde, I dwell now in an house of Cedar trees, but the Arke of God dwelleth within the curtaines.

3 And Nathan saide to the king, Goe, and do all that is in thine heart, for the Lord is with thee.

4 And the same night the worde of the Lord came vnto Nathan, saying,

5 Goe and tell my seruant Dauid, Thus saith the Lord, Shalt thou build me an house to dwell in?

6 For I haue not dwelt in any house, since the time that I brought the children of Israel out of Egypt, vnto this day: but haue walked in a tent and tabernacle.

7 In all the places wherein I haue walked with all the children of Israel, spake I one word with any of the tribes of Israel when I commanded the iudges to feed my people Israel, saying, Why build ye not me an house of Cedar trees?

8 *Nowe therefore so say vnto my seruant Dauid, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I tooke thee from the sheepe cote, as thou wast following sheepe, that thou mightest be ruler ouer my people, ouer Israel.

9 And I was with thee in all that thou wentest, and haue destroied all thine enemies out of thy sight, and haue made thee a great name, like vnto the name of the great men that are in the earth.

10 Also I will appoint a place for my people Israel, and will plant it, that they may dwel in a place of their owne, and moue no more: neither shall wicked people trouble them any more, as before time, 11 And since the time that I set iudges ouer my people Israel: and I will giue thee rest from all thine enemies: Also the Lord telleth thee that he will make thee an house.

12 And when thy dayes be fulfilled, thou shalt sleepe with thy fathers, and I will set vp thy seede after thee, which shall proceede out of thy body, and will stablish his kingdome.

13 He shall build an house for my name, and I will stablish the throne of his kingdome for euer.

14 *I will be his father, and hee shall be my sonne: if he sinne, I will chasten him with the rod of men, and with the plagues of the children of men.

15 But my mercy shal not depart away from him, as I tooke it from Saul, whom I put away before thee.

16 And thine house and thy kingdome shal be stablished for euer before thee, euen thy throne shall be stablished for euer.

17 According to all these wordes, and according to all this vision, so did Nathan speake vnto Dauid.

18 Then went king Dauid in, and sat him downe before the Lord, and said, Who am I, O Lorde God? and what is my house, that thou hast brought me hitherto?

19 And this was yet a small thing in thy sight, O Lord God: but thou hast spoken also of thy seruants house for a great while, but doest this after the manner of man, O Lord God.

20 And what can Dauid say more vnto thee? for thou Lord God knowest thy seruant.

21 Euen for thy words sake, and according to thine owne heart hast thou done all these great things, to make them knowen vnto thy seruant.

22 *Wherefore thou art great, O Lord God: for there is none like thee, neither is there any God beside thee, according to all that wee haue heard with our eares.

23 And what one people in the earth is like thy people, like Israel, whose God went and redeemed them to himselfe, that they might be his people, and that he might make him a name, and doe for you great things, and terrible, for thy land, O Lord, euen for thy people which thou redeemedst to thee out of Egypt, from the nations and their gods?

24 For thou hast prepared thy people Israel to be thy people for euer: and thou Lord art become their God.

25 And now Lord God, the word that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruant, and his house, make it good for euer, and doe as thou hast said:

26 And let thy name be magnified for euer, that men may say, The Lorde of hostes is the God ouer Israel: and let the house of thy seruant Dauid be stablished before thee.

27 For thou, O Lord of hostes, God of Israel, hast told in the eare of thy seruant, saying, I will build thee an house: and therefore hath thy seruant found in his heart to pray this prayer vnto thee.

28 Therefore now Lord God, (thou art God, and thy words be true, thou that hast told this goodnesse vnto thy seruant.)

29 Therefore nowe let it please thee to blesse the house of thy seruant, that it may continue for euer before thee: for thou Lord God hast spoken it, and with thy blessing let the house of thy seruant be blessed for euer.

10 And the rest of the people he deliuered into the hand of Abisai his brother, that he might put them in aray against the children of Ammon.

14 And when the children of Ammon sawe that the Syrians were fled, then fled they also before Abisai, and entred into the citie: and so Joab returned from the children of Ammon, and came to Hierusalem.

15 And when the Syrians sawe that they were smitten before Israel, they gathered them together.

16 And Hadarezer sent, and brought out the Syrians that were beyond the ‖ riuer, and they came to Helam: and Zobah the captaine of the hoste of Hadarezer went before them.

18 And the Syrians fled before Israel, and Dauid destroyed [f] seuen hundred charets of the Syrians, and fourtie thousand horsemen, and smote Shobach the captaine of their hoste, which also died there.

19 And when all the kings that were seruants to Hadarezer sawe, that they fell before Israel, they made peace with Israel, and serued them: and so the Syrians feared to helpe the children of Ammon any more.

Thexj. Chapter.

1 The citie Rabba is besieged. 4 Dauid committeth adulterie. 17 Vrias is slaine. 27 Dauid marrieth Bethsabe.

[a] And it came to passe, that after the yere was expired, at the time when kings goe forth to battell, Dauid sent Joab and his seruants with him, and all Israel, which destroyed the children of Ammon, and besieged Rabba: but Dauid taried still at Hierusalem.

2 And in an euening tide Dauid arose out of his [b] bed, and walked vpon the roofe of the kings palace: and from the roofe he sawe a woman washing her selfe, and the woman was very beautifull to looke vpon.

3 And Dauid sent to enquire what woman it should be: And one said, Is not this Bathsabe the daughter of Eliam, and wife to [c] Urias the Hethite?

4 And Dauid sent messengers, and tooke her away: and she came in vnto him, and he lay with her (for she was purified from her vncleanesse) and returned vnto her house.

5 And the woman conceiued, and sent and [d] told Dauid, and said, I am with child.

6 And Dauid sent to Joab, saying, Send me Urias the Hethite. And Joab sent Urias to Dauid.

7 And when Urias was come vnto him, Dauid demaunded of him how Joab did, and how the people fared, and how the warre prospered.

8 And Dauid said to Urias, [e] Goe downe to thy house, and wash thy feete. And Urias departed out of the kings palace, and there followed him a present from the king.

9 But Urias slept at the doore of the kings palace, with all the seruants of his lorde, and went not downe to his house.

10 Which when they had told Dauid, saying, Urias went not downe vnto his house: Dauid said vnto Urias, Camest thou not from thy iourney? why diddest thou not goe downe then vnto thine house?

11 Urias answered Dauid, The Arke, and Israel, and Juda dwell in pauilions, and my lord Joab, and the seruants of my lord abide in the open fieldes, and shall I then goe into mine house, to eate and drinke, and lie with my wife? By thy life, and by the life of thy soule, I will not doe this thing.

12 And Dauid said to Urias, Tarie here this day also, and to morowe I will let thee depart. And so Urias abode in Hierusalem that day, and the morow.

13 And when Dauid had called him, he did eate and drinke before him, and hee made him [f] drunke: And at euen he went out to lie on his couch with the seruants of his lord, but went not downe to his house.

14 On the morow Dauid wrote a letter to Joab, and sent it by the hand of Urias:

15 And he wrote thus in the letter, [g] Put ye Urias in the forefront of the sharpest battell, and come ye backe from him, that he may be smitten, and die.

16 So when Joab beleaged the citie, he assigned Urias vnto a place where he wist that strong men were.

17 And the men of the citie came out, and fought with Joab: and there were certaine ouerthrowen of the people of the seruants of Dauid: and Urias the Hethite died also.

18 Then Joab sent, and told Dauid all the things concerning the warre:

19 And charged the messengers, saying, When thou hast made an ende of telling the matters of warre vnto the king:

20 If the kings anger arise, and he say vnto thee, Wherefore approched ye so nigh vnto the citie when ye did fight? wist ye not that they would hurle and shoote from the wall?

The xiij. Chapter.

14 Amnon Dauids sonne desileth his sister Thamar.
19 Thamar is comforted by her brother Absalom.
29 Absalom therefore killeth Amnon.

AFter this, so it was, that Absalom the sonne of Dauid had a faire sister [a] named Thamar, whom Amnon the sonne of Dauid loued. 2 And he was so [b] sore vexed, that he fell sicke for his sister Thamar: for she was a virgine, and he thought it hard for him to doe any thing to her.

3 But Amnon had a friend called Jonadab, the sonne of Simah Dauids brother: and Jonadab was a very subtill man.

4 And he said vnto him, Howbeit [c] it that thou, being the kings sonne, art thus continued from day to day: wilt thou not tell me? Amnon answered him, I loue Thamar my brother Absaloms sister.

5 Jonadab said vnto him, [c] Lay thee downe on thy bed, and make thy selfe sicke: and when thy father is come to see thee, say vnto him, I pray thee, let my sister Thamar come, and giue me meate, and dresse it in my sight, that I may see it, and eate it of her hand.

6 And so Amnon lay downe, and made himselfe sicke: & when the king was come to see him, Amnon said vnto the king, I pray thee, let Thamar my sister come, & make me a couple of [d] cakes in my sight, that I may eate of her hand.

7 Then Dauid sent home to Thamar, saying, Goe now to thy brother Amnons house, and dresse him meate.

8 So Thamar went to her brother Amnons house (and he was layd downe) and shee tooke ‖ floure, and kneaded it, and made cakes in his sight, and did bake them.

9 And tooke a pan, and [e] powred them out before him, but he would not eate: And Amnon said, Haue out [f] all men from me. And they went all out from him.

10 And Amnon said vnto Thamar, Bring the meate into the chamber, that I may eat of thine hand. And Thamar tooke the cakes which shee had made, and brought them into the chamber to Amnon her brother:

11 And when she had set them before him to eate, he tooke her, and said vnto her, Come lie with me, my sister.

12 And she answered him, Nay, my brother, doe not force me: for there hath no such thing been done in Israel, doe not thou this folly.

13 And I, ‖ whither shall I cause my shame to goe? and thou shalt be as one of the [g] fooles in Israel: Now therefore, I pray thee, speake vnto the king, and he will not denie mee vnto thee.

14 Howbeit hee would not hearken vnto her voice: but being stronger then shee, forced her, and lay with her.

15 And then Amnon hated her exceedingly, so that the hatred wherewith hee hated her, was greater then the loue with which he had loued her: And Amnon said vnto her, Vp and get thee hence.

16 Shee answered him, ‖ There is no cause: This euill that thou puttest mee away, is greater then the other that thou didst vnto mee. Nethelesse, he would not heare her:

17 But called his ‖ [h] boy that serued him and said, Put now this woman from mee, and bolt the doore after her.

18 And he had a garment of [h] diuers colours vpon her: for with such garments were the kings daughters that were virgins apparelled. Then his seruant brought her out, and bolted the doore after her.

19 And Thamar tooke ashes and put ashes on her head, and rent her garment of diuers colours that was on her, and layd her hand on her head, and so she went away crying.

20 And Absalom her brother said vnto her, Hath Amnon thy brother been with thee? Now yet bee still, my sister, hee is thy brother, let not this thing grieue thine heart. And so Thamar remained desolate in her brother Absaloms house.

21 But when King Dauid heard of all these things, he was very wroth.

22 And Absalom spake vnto his brother Amnon neither good nor bad: for [i] hated Absalom Amnon, because he had forced his sister Thamar.

23 And after the time of two yeares, Absalom had sheepe shearers in the ‖ plaine of Hazor, beside Ephraim, and [k] bade all the kings sonnes, 24 And came to the king, and said, Behold, thy seruant hath sheepe shearers, I pray thee, that the king with his seruants come to thy seruant.

25 The King answered Absalom, Nay, my sonne, I pray thee, let vs not goe all, lest we be chargeable vnto thee. And Absalom [l] pressed him: howbeit he would not goe, but ‖ blessed him.

26 Then said Absalom, But, I pray thee, shal not my brother [i] Amnon goe with vs? And the king answered him, What needeth it that he goe with thee?

27 But Absalom [m] pressed him, that he let Amnon and all the kings children goe with him.

28 Now had Absalom commanded his [n] men, saying, Marke when Amnons heart is merie with wine, and when I say vnto you, Smite Amnon: then kill him, and feare not: haue not I bidden you? bee bold therefore, and play the men.

29 And the seruants of Absalom did vnto Amnon, euen as Absalom had commanded: and all the kings sonnes arose, and euery man gate him vp vpon his mule, and fled.

30 And while they were yet in the way, tidings came to Dauid, saying, Absalom hath slaine all the kings sonnes, and there is none left aliue.

31 Then the king arose, & tare his garments, and lay along on the [o] earth: and all his seruants stood by with their clothes rent.

The xiiij. Chapter.

2 Absalom is reconciled to his father by the subtiltie of Ioab. 24 Absalom may not see the kings face.

NOw Ioab the sonne of Zaruia perceiued that the kings [a] heart was toward Absalom:

2 And he sent to Thecoa, and fet thence a ‖wise woman, and said vnto her, I pray thee faine thy selfe to be a mourner, and put on mourning apparel, and [b] anoint not thy selfe with oyle, but be as a woman that had long time mourned for the dead:

3 And come to the king, and speake on this maner vnto him: and so Ioab [‡] taught her what she should say.

4 And when the woman of Thecoa spake with the king, she fell on her face to the ground, and did obeysance, and said, [‡] Helpe O king.

5 The king said vnto her, What ayleth thee? She answered, I am in deede a [‡] widowe, and mine husband is dead.

6 And thy handmaide had [c] two sonnes, and they two fought together in the fielde, where was no man to goe betweene them, but the one smote the other, and slew him.

7 And beholde, the whole [d] kinred is risen against thine handmaid, and they saide, Deliuer him that smote his brother, that wee may kill him for the [d] soule of his brother whom he slew, we will destroy the heire also: and so they shall quench my sparke which is left, and shall not leaue to my husband neither name nor ofspring vpon the earth.

8 And the king said vnto [e] woman, Go home to thine house, I will giue a charge for thee.

9 And the woman of Thecoa saide vnto the king, My lord, O king, this trespasse be on me, and on my fathers house: and the king and his throne be ‖guiltlesse.

10 And the king saide, If any man say ought vnto thee, bring him to me, and hee shall [‡] hurt thee no more.

11 Then sayd she, I pray thee, let the king remember the Lord thy God, that thou wouldest not suffer many reuengers of blood to destroy, lest they slay my sonne. And he answered, As the Lord liueth, there shal not one haire of thy sonne fall to the earth.

12 The woman sayd, Let thine handmaide speake one word vnto my lord the king. And he sayd, Say on.

13 The woman sayd, Wherefore then hast thou [f] thought such a thing against the people of God? for the king doth speake this thing as one which is faulty, that he fetch not home againe his banished.

14 For wee must needs die, and are as water spilt on the ground, which cannot bee gathered vp againe, neither doeth God [g] saue any person: yet doth he appoint meanes, that his banished be not vtterly expelled from him.

15 Nowe therefore I am come to speake of this thing vnto my lord the king, because the people [h] haue made mee afraid: and thy handmaide sayd, Now will I speake vnto the king, it may be that the king will performe the request of his handmaid.

16 For the king shall heare his handmaid, to deliuer her out of the hande of the man that would haue destroied me, and also my sonne, out of the inheritance of God.

17 And thine handmaide said, The word of my lord the king shall now be [‡] comfortable: for my lord the king is as an [i] Angel of God in hearing of good and bad: therefore the Lord thy God be with thee.

18 Then the king answered and sayd vnto the woman, Hide not from mee, I pray thee, the thing that I shall aske thee. And the woman said, Let my lord the king now speake.

19 And the king sayd, Is not the hand of Ioab with thee in all this matter? The woman answered and sayd, As thy soule liueth, my lord the king, I will not turne to the right hand nor to the left, from ought that my lord the king hath spoken: for [k] thy seruant Ioab bade me, and he put all these words in the mouth of thine handmaid:

20 For to the intent that I should [l] change the course of speech, hath thy seruant Ioab done this thing: and my lord is wise, according to the wisedome of an Angel of God, to vnderstand all things that are in the earth.

21 And the king sayd vnto Ioab, Behold, I haue [m] done this thing: goe, and bring the yong man Absalom againe.

22 And Ioab fell to the ground on his face, and bowed himselfe, and [‡] thanked the king: and Ioab sayd, Nowe thy seruant knoweth that I haue found grace in thy sight, my lord, O king, in that the king hath fulfilled the request of his seruant.

23 And so Ioab arose, and went to Gesur, and brought Absalom to Hierusalem.

24 And the king sayd, Let him turne to his owne house, and not see my face. And so Absalom returned to his own house, and saw not the kings face.

19 Then said the king to [l] Ithai the Gethite, Wherefore commest thou with vs? Returne, and abide with the king, for thou art a stranger, departe therefore to thy place.

l Who, as some write, was the kings sonne of Oath, called Achis.

20 Thou camest yesterday, and should I inquiet thee to day to goe with vs? I will go whither I can: therefore returne thou, and carrie againe thy [m] brethren: mercie and trueth be with thee.

m That is, the souldiers that be with thee.

21 And Ithai answered the king, and said, As the Lorde liueth, and as my lord the king liueth, in what place my lord the king shalbe, whether in death or life, euen there also will thy seruant be.

22 And Dauid said to Ithai, Come then, and goe forward. And Ithai the Gethite went forth, and all his men, and all the children that were with him.

23 And all the country wept with a loude voice, and all the people went ouer: the king also himselfe passed ouer the brooke Cedron, and all the people went ouer toward the way that leadeth to the wildernesse.

24 And loe, Sadoc also, and all the Leuites were with him, and [n] bare the arke of the couenant of God, and they set downe the arke of God, and Abiathar [o] went vp, vntill the people were all come out of the citie.

n Which was the charge of the Caathites.

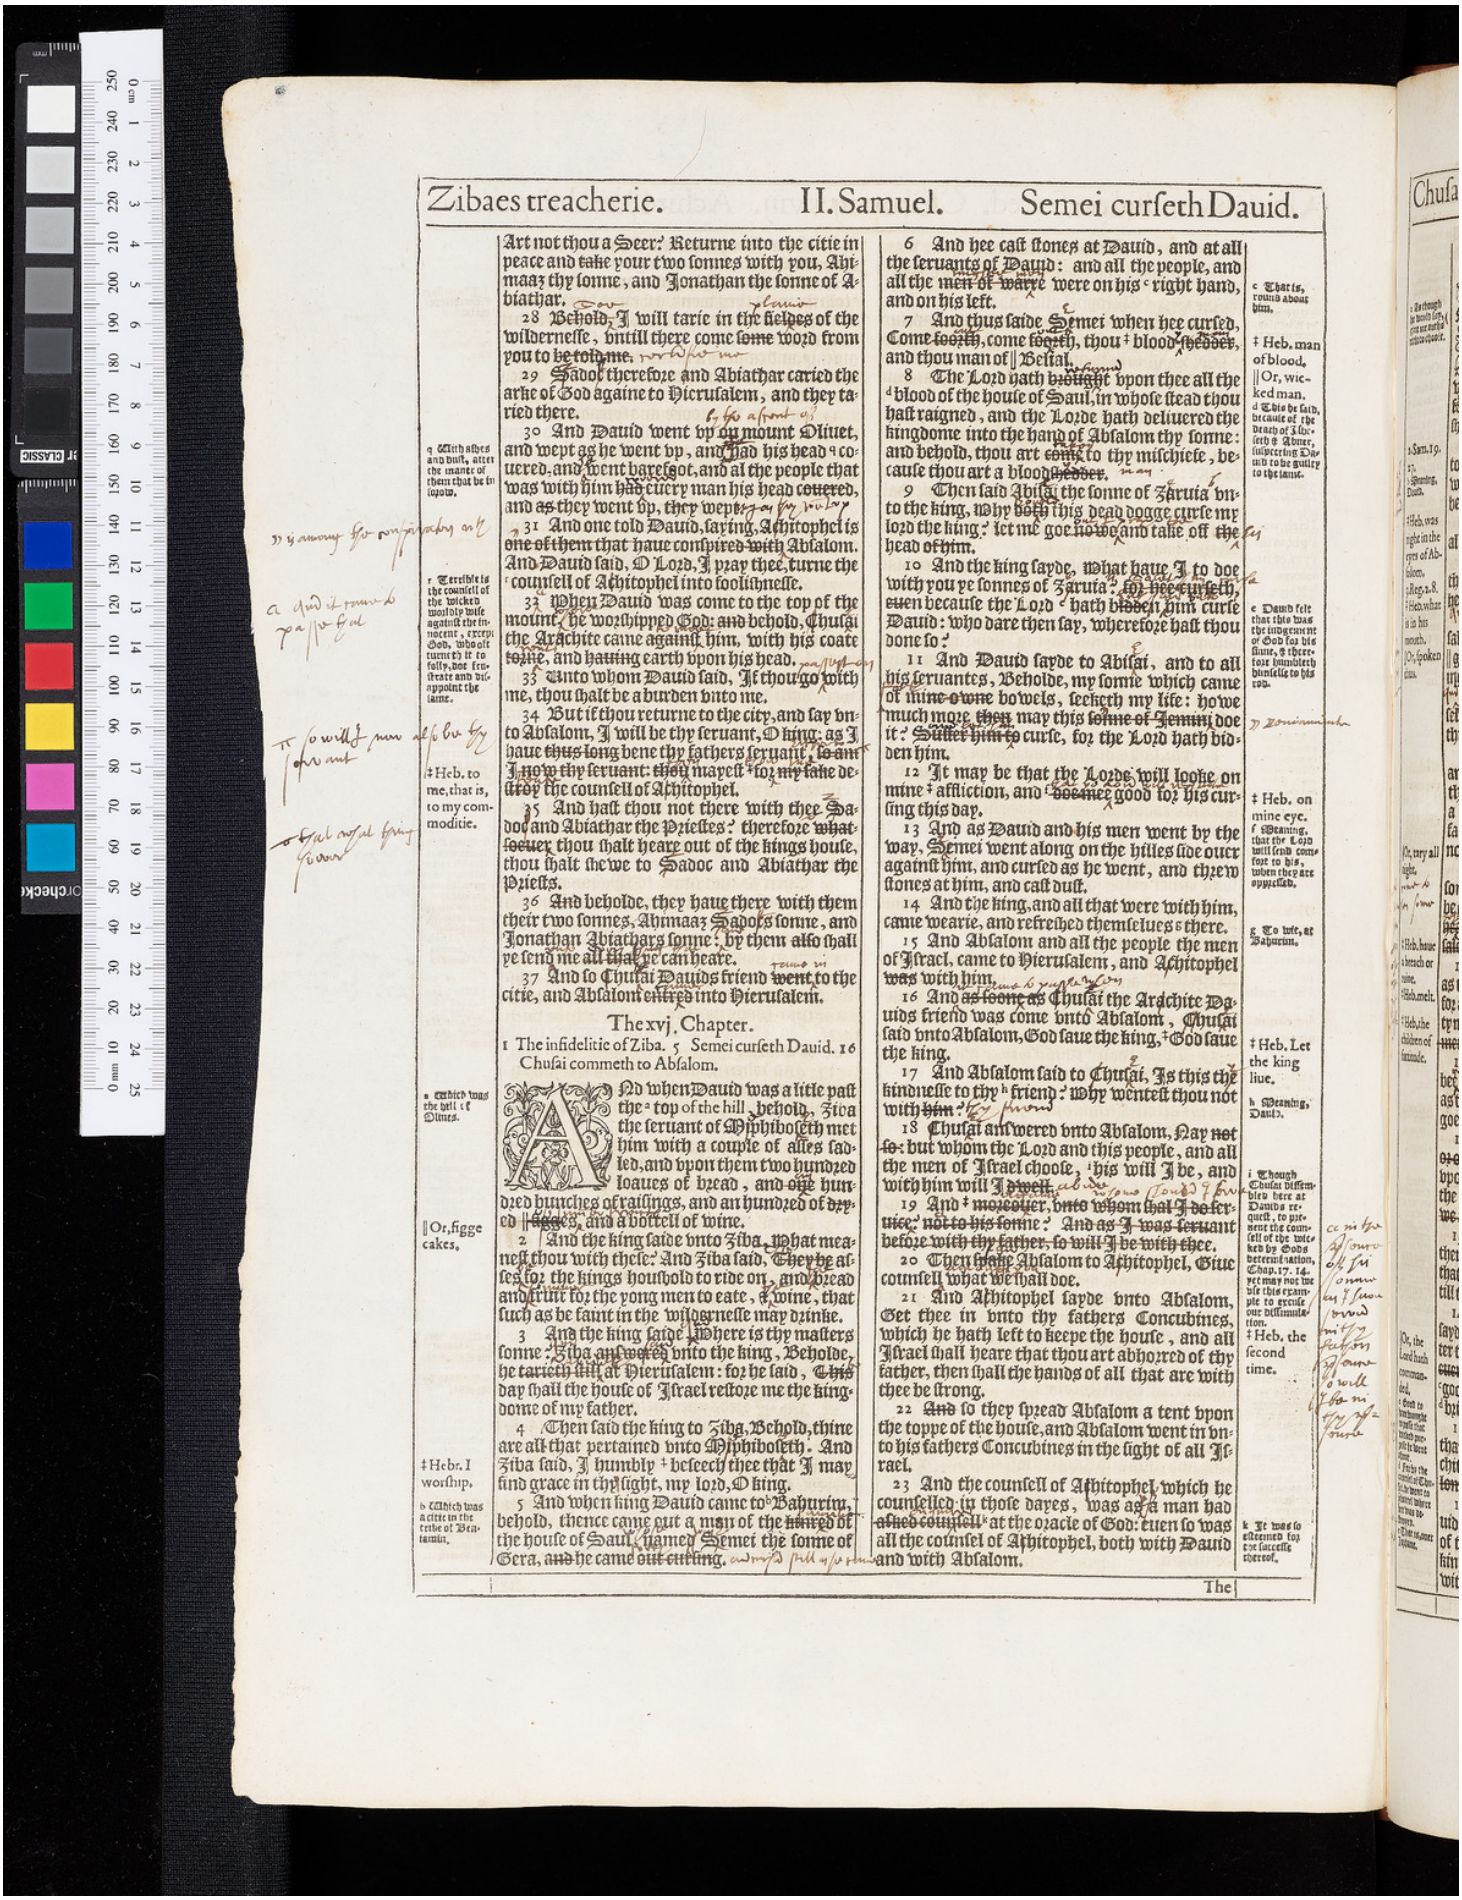
25 And the king said vnto Sadoc, Carie the arke of God againe into the citie: if I shall finde fauour in the eyes of the Lord, he will bring me againe, and shew me both it, and the tabernacle thereof.



26 But if he thus say, I haue no lust vnto thee; behold, [p] here am I, let him doe with me what seemeth good in his eyes.

27 The king said also vnto Sadoc the Priest,

Art not thou a Seer? Returne into the citie in peace and take your two sonnes with you, Ahimaaz thy sonne, and Jonathan the sonne of Abiathar.

28 Behold, I will tarie in the fieldes of the wildernesse, vntill there come some word from you to be told me.

29 Sadoc therefore and Abiathar caried the arke of God againe to Hierusalem, and they taried there.

30 And Dauid went vp ou mount Oliuet, and wept as he went vp, and had his head [q] couered, and went barefoot, and all the people that was with him had euery man his head couered, and as they went vp, they wept.

31 And one told Dauid, saying, Achitophel is one of them that haue conspired with Abſalom. And Dauid said, O Lord, I pray thee, turne the [r] counsell of Achitophel into foolishnesse.

33 When Dauid was come to the top of the mount, he worshipped God: and behold, Chusai the Arachite came against him, with his coate torne, and hauing earth vpon his head.

33 Vnto whom Dauid said, If thou go with me, thou shalt be a burden vnto me.

34 But if thou returne to the city, and say vnto Abſalom, I will be thy seruant, O king: as I haue thus long bene thy fathers seruant, so am I now thy seruant: then mayest [t] for me destroy the counsell of Achitophel.

35 And hast thou not there with thee Sadoc and Abiathar the Priests? therefore [u] whatsoeuer thou shalt heare out of the kings house, thou shalt shewe to Sadoc and Abiathar the Priests.

36 And behold, they haue there with them their two sonnes, Ahimaaz Sadocs sonne, and Jonathan Abiathars sonne: by them also shall ye send me all that ye can heare.

37 And so Chusai Dauids friend went to the citie, and Abſalom entred into Hierusalem.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 The infidelitie of Ziba. 5 Semei curseth Dauid. 16 Chusai commeth to Abſalom.

AND when Dauid was a litle past the [a] top of the hill, behold, Ziba the seruant of Miphiboseth met him with a couple of asses sadled, and vpon them two hundred loaues of bread, and one hundred bunches of raisings, and an hundred of dryed [||] figges, and a bottell of wine.

2 And the king saide vnto Ziba, What meanest thou with these? And Ziba said, They be asses for the kings household to ride on, and bread and fruit for the yong men to eate, & wine, that such as be faint in the wildernesse may drinke.

3 And the king saide, Where is thy masters sonne? Ziba answered vnto the king, Beholde, he tarieth still at Hierusalem: for he said, This day shall the house of Israel restore me the kingdome of my father.

4 Then said the king to Ziba, Behold, thine are all that pertained vnto Miphiboseth. And Ziba said, I humbly [‡] beseech thee that I may find grace in thy sight, my lord, O king.

5 And when king Dauid came to [b] Bahurim, behold, thence came out a man of the kinred of the house of Saul, named Semei the sonne of Gera, and he came out cursing.

6 And hee cast stones at Dauid, and at all the seruants of Dauid: and all the people, and all the men of warre were on his [c] right hand, and on his left.

7 And thus saide Semei when hee cursed, Come foorth, come foorth, thou [‡] bloodhedder, and thou man of ‖ Belial.

8 The Lord hath brought vpon thee all the [d] blood of the house of Saul, in whose stead thou hast raigned, and the Lorde hath deliuered the kingdome into the hand of Abſalom thy sonne: and behold, thou art come to thy mischiefe, because thou art a bloodhedder.

9 Then said Abiſai the sonne of Zaruia vnto the king, Why doth this dead dogge curse my lord the king? let me goe now ouer and take off the head of him.

10 And the king sayde, What haue I to doe with you ye sonnes of Zaruia? for hee curseth, euen because the Lord [e] hath bidden him curse Dauid: who dare then say, wherefore hast thou done so?

11 And Dauid sayde to Abiſai, and to all his seruantes, Beholde, my sonne which came of mine owne bowels, seeketh my life: howe much more then may this sonne of Jemini doe it? Suffer him to curse, for the Lord hath bidden him.

12 It may be that the Lorde will loothe on mine [‡] affliction, and [f] requite me good for his cursing this day.

13 And as Dauid and his men went by the way, Semei went along on the hilles side ouer against him, and cursed as he went, and threw stones at him, and cast dust.

14 And the king, and all that were with him, came wearie, and refreshed themselues [g] there.

15 And Abſalom and all the people the men of Israel, came to Hierusalem, and Achitophel was with him.

16 And as soone as Chusai the Arachite Dauids friend was come vnto Abſalom, Chusai said vnto Abſalom, God saue the king, [‡] God saue the king.

17 And Abſalom said to Chusai, Is this thy kindnesse to thy [h] friend? why wentest thou not with him?

18 Chusai answered vnto Abſalom, Nay not so: but whom the Lord and this people, and all the men of Israel choose, his will I be, and with him will I dwell.

19 And [‡] moreouer, vnto whom shall I be seruice? not to his sonne? And as I was seruant before with thy father, so will I be with thee.

20 Then saide Abſalom to Achitophel, Giue counsell what we shall doe.

21 And Achitophel sayde vnto Abſalom, Get thee in vnto thy fathers Concubines, which he hath left to keepe the house, and all Israel shall heare that thou art abhorred of thy father, then shall the hands of all that are with thee be strong.

22 And so they spread Abſalom a tent vpon the toppe of the house, and Abſalom went in vnto his fathers Concubines in the sight of all Israel.

23 And the counsell of Achitophel, which he counselled in those dayes, was as a man had asked counsell [k] at the oracle of God: euen so was all the counsel of Achitophel, both with Dauid and with Abſalom.

The xvij. Chapter.

7 Achitophels counsel is ouerthrowen by Chusai.

AChitophel also said vnto Absalom, [a] Let mee choose out nowe twelue thousand men, and I will ryse and follow after Dauid this night:

2 And I will come vpon him while hee is weary and weake handed: and will feare him; and all the people that are with him shall flee, and so will I smite the king onely,

3 *And will bring againe all the people vnto thee: and when all shall returne, the [b] man whom thou seekest being slaine, all the people shal be in peace.

4 And the saying [‡] pleased Absalom wel, and all the elders of Israel.

5 *Then sayd Absalom, Call nowe Chusai the Arachite also, & let vs heare like wise [‡] what he saith.

6 When Chusai was come to Absalom, Absalom spake vnto him, saying, Achitophel hath ‖ giuen such counsel; shall we do after his saying, or no: tell thou.

7 Chusai answered vnto Absalom, The counsell that Achitophel hath giuen, is not good at this time.

8 For, said Chusai, Thou knowest thy father and his men, how that they bee strong men, and they be chafed in their mindes, and are euen as a Beare robbed of her whelpes in the field: thy father is a man also practised in warre, and will not ‖ lodge with the people.

9 Behold, he is hid now in some caue, or in some other place: and though some of his men be ouerthrowen at the first brunt, yet they that heare it, will say, The people that followeth Absalom be [‡] put to the worse.

10 And he also that is valiant, whose heart is as the heart of a Lion, shall [‡] vtterly faint: for all Israel knoweth that thy father is a mighty man, and they which be with him are [‡] stout men.

11 Therefore my counsell is, that all Israel be gathered vnto thee, from Dan to Beersheba, as the sand of the sea in number, and that thou goe to battell in thine owne person.

12 For so shal we come vpon him in one place or other where he shall be found him, and we wil fall vpon him, euen as the dewe falleth on the ground: and of al the men that are with him, we shall not leaue him one.

13 Moreouer, if hee bee gotten into a [‖] citie, then shall all the men of Israel bring ropes to that city, and we will draw it into the riuer, vntill there be not one small stone found there.

14 And Absalom and all the men of Israel sayd, The counsel of Chusai the Arachite, is better then the counsel of Achitophel. For ‖ it was euen the Lorde [c] determination to destroy the good counsel of Achitophel, that the Lord might [d] bring euill vpon Absalom.

15 Then said Chusai vnto Sadoc and Abiathar the Priests, Thus and thus maner, did Achitophel and the Elders of Israel counsel Absalom, and thus and thus haue I counselled.

16 Now therefore send quickly, and tell Dauid, saying, Tarie not this night in the [e] plaines of the wildernesse, but get thee ouer, lest the king bee deuoured, and all the people that are with him.

17 Now Jonathan and Ahimaaz abode by the well Rogel: (for they might not bee seene to to come into the citie) and a wench went and [f] told them: for they went, & shewed king Dauid.

18 Neuerthelesse, a lad saw them, and told it to Absalom: but they went both of them away quickly, and came to a mans house in Bahurim, which had a well in his yard, into the which they went downe.

19 And the wife tooke and spread a couerlet ouer the welles mouth, and spread ground corne thereon, and the thing was not spied.

20 And when Absaloms seruants came to the wife to the house, they sayd, Where is Ahimaaz and Jonathan? The woman answered them, They bee gone ouer the brooke of water. And when they had sought them, and could not finde them, they returned to Hierusalem.

21 And as soone as they were departed, the other came out of the well, and went and tolde king Dauid, and sayde vnto him, Arise, and get you quickely ouer the water, for [g] such counsell hath Achitophel giuen against you.

22 Then Dauid arose, and all the people that were with him, and they were come ouer Jordane [h] by that it was day: so that there lacked not one of them that was not come ouer Jordane.

23 And when Achitophel saw that his counsell was not followed: hee sadled an asse, and arose and gate him home to his owne house, and to his owne citie, and put his houshold in order, and [i] hanged himselfe, and dyed, and was buried in the sepulchre of his father.

24 Then Dauid came to Mahanaim, and Absalom passed ouer Jordan, he and all the men of Israel with him.

25 And Absalom made Amasa captaine of the hoste in stead of Joab: which Amasa was a mans sonne named Jethra an Israelite, that went in to Abigail the daughter of [k] Nahas, sister to Zaruia Joabs mother.

26 So Israel and Absalom pitched in the land of Gilead.

27 And when Dauid was come to Mahanaim, Sobi the sonne of Nahas, out of Rabba, of the children of Ammon, & Machir the sonne of Ammiel, out of Lodeber, and Barzellai the Gileadite, out of Rogelim,

28 [l] Brought beds, basons, earthen vessels, wheate and barley, floure and parched corne, beanes, lentiles, and parched pulse, goe forth: for if we flee away, they will not care for vs, neither shall they regard vs, though halfe of vs were slaine: but thou art now worth ten thousand of vs. Wherefore it is better that thou succour vs out of the cite.

29 Honey, butter, sheepe, and cheese of kine, for Dauid, and for the people that were with him to eat: for they sayd, The people is hungrie, wearie, and thirstie in the wildernesse.

4 And the king said vnto them, What seemeth you best, that will I do. And the king stood by the gate side, and all the people came out by hundreds, and by thousands.

5 And the king commanded Joab, and Abishai, and Ithai, saying, Intreate the yong man Absalom gently for my sake. And all the people heard that the king gaue all the captains charge concerning Absalom.

6 And so the people went out into the fielde against Israel (and the battel was in the [b] wood of Ephraim,)

7 Where the people of Israel were slaine before the seruants of Dauid, and there was a great slaughter that day, euen of twenty thousand men.

8 For the battell was scattered ouer all the countrey: and the wood deuoured more people that day, then did the sword.

9 And Absalom met the seruants of Dauid. He rode vpon a Mule, which carried him vnder the thicke boughs of a great oke, and his head was caught of the oke, and hee was [c] lift vp betweene the heauen and the earth, and the mule that was vnder him went away.

10 And one that saw it told Joab, saying, Behold, I saw Absalom hang in an oke.

11 And Joab said vnto the man that tolde him, And thou didst see him, why didst not thou there smite him to the ground, & I would haue giuen thee ten [‡] sicles of siluer, and a girdle?

12 The man saide vnto Joab, Though I should receiue a thousand sicles of siluer in mine hand, yet would I not stretch out mine hand against the kings sonne: for we heard with our eares when the king charged thee, and Abishai, and Ithai, saying, Beware that none touch the yong man Absalom.

13 Moreouer, if I had done it, I should haue done against mine owne life: for there is no matter hid from the king, and thou thy selfe wouldest haue set against me.

14 Then said Joab, I may not tarry thus with thee. And hee tooke three darts in his hand, and thrust them [‡] through Absalom, while he was yet aliue in the midst of the oke.

15 And ten seruants that bare Joabs weapons, turned, and smote Absalom, and slew him.

16 And Joab blew the trumpet, and the people returned from following Israel: for Joab [d] held backe the people.

17 And they tooke Absalom, and cast him into a great pit in the wood, and layd a mighty great heape of stones vpon him, and all Israel fled euery one to their tent.

18 And this Absalom yet in his life time, tooke and reared vp a pillar, which is in the kings dale: for he said, I haue no [e] sonne to keepe my name in remembrance: And he called the pillar after his owne name, and it is called vnto this day Absaloms place.

19 Then said Ahimaaz the sonne of Zadok, Let mee runne now, and beare the king tidings how that the Lorde hath [f] iudged him quite of the hand of his enemies.

20 And Joab saide vnto him, Thou art no man to beare tidings to day, but thou shalt beare tidings another time: but to day thou shalt beare none, because the kings sonne is dead.

21 Then said Joab to Chushai, Go and tell the king what thou hast seene. And Chushai bowed himselfe vnto Joab, and ran.

22 Then said Ahimaaz the sonne of Sadoc againe to Joab, What, I pray thee, if I also run after Chushai? And Joab said, Wherefore wilt thou run, my sonne, seeing that thou hast no tidings to bring?

23 Yet what if I runne? Hee said vnto him, Runne. Then Ahimaaz ran by the way of the plaine, and came before Chushai.

24 And Dauid sate betweene the two [b] gates: and the watchman went vp to the roofe ouer the gate, vnto the wall, and lift vp his eyes, and saw, and behold, there came a man running alone.

25 And the watchman cried, & told the king. And the king said, If hee bee alone, there is [i] tidings in his mouth. And hee came apace, and drew neere.

26 And the watchman saw another man running, and the watchman called vnto the porter, and said, Behold, there commeth another man running alone. And the king sayd, Hee is also a tidinges bringer.

27 And the watchman said, [‡] Me thinketh the running of the foremost, is like the running of Ahimaaz the sonne of Sadoc. The king said, He is a [k] good man, and commeth with good tidings.

28 And Ahimaaz called, and sayd vnto the king, Peace be with thee. And he fell downe to the earth vpon his face before the king, and sayd, Blessed bee the Lord thy God, which hath ||shut vp the men that lift vp their hands, against my lord the king.

29 And the king sayd, Is the yong man Absalom safe? Ahimaaz answered, When Joab sent the kings seruant, and me [l] thy seruant, I saw a great tumult, but I wote not what it was.

30 And the king said vnto him, Turne aside, and stand here. And he turned aside, and stood still.

31 And behold, Chushai came also, and said, [‡] Tidings, my lord the king: for the Lord hath [‡] deliuered thee this day out of the hand of all them that rose against thee.

32 And the king sayd vnto Chushai, Is the yong man Absalom safe? Chushai answered, The enemies of my lord the king, and all that rise against thee to doe thee hurt, bee as that young man is.

33 And the king was [m] mooued, and went vp to the chamber ouer the gate, and wept, and as hee went, thus hee said, O my sonne Absalom, my sonne, my sonne Absalom: would God I had died for thee, O Absalom, my sonne, my sonne.

all the people: for the people heard say that day, how the king sorowed for his sonne.

3 And the people went that day into the citie, by stealth, as people confounded doe conuey themselues, when they flee in battell.

4 But the king hid his face, and cryed with a loude voyce, O my sonne Absalom, O Absalom, my sonne, my sonne.

5 And Joab came into [b] the house to the king, and said, Thou hast shamed this day the faces of all thy seruants, which this day haue saued thy life, and the liues of thy sonnes, and of thy daughters, and the liues of thy wiues, and of thy concubines,

6 In that thou louest thine enemies, and hatest thy friendes: for thou hast declared this day, that thou regardest neither thy ‖princes, nor seruants: for this day I doe perceiue, that if Absalom had liued, and all wee had died this day; that had [‡] pleased thee well.

7 Nowe therefore, vp, and come out, and speake [‡] comfortably vnto thy seruants: for I sweare by the Lord, except thou come out, there will not tarie one with thee this night, and that will be worse vnto thee, then all the euil that fel on thee from thy youth, vnto this houre.

8 Then the king rose, and sate in the [c] gate: and they told vnto all the people, saying, Behold, the king doeth sit in the gate: and all the people came before the king, for Israel had fled euery man to his tent.

9 And all the people were at [d] strife throughout all the tribes of Israel, saying, The king saued vs out of the hand of our enemies, and hee deliuered vs out of the hande of the Philistines, and nowe he is fled out of the land for Absalom: (and)

10 But Absalom, whom we anointed ouer vs, is dead in battell: therefore why are yee so still, that ye bring not the king againe?

11 And king Dauid sent to Sadoc and Abiathar the priests, saying, Speake vnto the elders of Juda, and say, Why are ye behinde, to bring the king againe to his house? (seeing that such tidings is come from all Israel vnto the king, euen to his house?)

12 Yee are my brethren, my bones and my flesh: wherefore then are yee the last that bring the king againe?

13 And say ye to Amasa, Art thou not of my bone, and of my flesh? God do so to me, and more also, if thou be not captaine of the hoste to me for euer, in the [f] roume of Joab.

14 And he bowed the hearts of all the men of Juda, euen as the heart of one man, so that they sent this word to the king, Returne thou with all thy seruants.

15 *So the king returned, and came to Jordane: and Juda came to Gilgal, for to goe to meete the king, and to conduct him ouer Jordane.

16 And [g] Semei the sonne of Gera, the sonne of Jemini, which was of Bahurim, hasted, and came downe with the men of Juda, to meete king Dauid.

17 And there were a thousand men of Benjamin with him, and Ziba the seruant of the house of Saul, and his fifteene sonnes & twenty seruants with him, and they went ouer Jordane before the king.

18 And there went ouer a boate to carie ouer the kings houshold, and to doe him pleasure: and Semei the sonne of Gera, fell before the king as he was come ouer Jordane,

19 And said vnto the king, Let not my lorde impute wickednesse vnto me, nor remember the things that thy seruant did ‖ wickedly, when my lord the king departed out of Hierusalem, that the king should take it to his heart:

20 For thy seruant doeth know how that I haue done amisse: and therefore beholde, I am the first this day of all the house of [i] Joseph, that am come downe to meete my lord the king.

21 But Abisai the sonne of Zaruia answered, and said, Shall not Semei die for this, because he cursed the Lords anointed?

22 And Dauid sayde, What haue I to doe with you, ye sonnes of Zaruia? For this day ye be aduersaries vnto me: shall there any man die this day in Israel? Doe not I know that I am this day king ouer Israel?

23 And therefore the king said vnto Semei, Thou shalt not die: and the king sware vnto him.

24 And Mephibosheth the sonne of Saul came downe to meete the king, & had neither washed his feete, nor dressed his beard, nor [k] washed his clothes, from the time the king departed, vntill he came againe in peace.

25 And when [l] he was come to Hierusalem, and met the king, the king said vnto him, Wherefore wentest not thou with me, Mephibosheth?

26 He answered, My lord, O king, my seruant deceiued me: for thy seruant said, I would haue mine Asse sadled to ride thereon, for to goe to the king: because thy seruant is lame.

27 And he hath accused thy seruant vnto my lord the king, and my lorde the king is as an [m] angell of God: doe therefore what seemeth [n] good in thine eyes.

28 For all my fathers house were but [o] dead men before my lord the king, and yet diddest thou set thy seruant among them that did eate at thine owne table: what right therefore haue I yet to cry any more vnto the king?

29 And the king said vnto him, Why speakest thou any more of thy matters? I haue said, Thou and Ziba diuide the [p] land.

30 And Mephibosheth saide vnto the King, Yea, let him take all, for so much as my lord the king is come againe in peace vnto his owne house.

31 And Barzillai the Gileadite came downe from Rogelim, and went ouer Jordane with the king, to conduct him ouer Jordane.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Seba raiseth Israel against Dauid. 10 Ioab killeth Amasa traiterously. 22 The head of Seba is deliuered to Ioab. 23 Dauids chiefe officers.

THen there came thither a certaine man ‖ of Belial, named Seba, the sonne of Bichri, a man of Iemini, & he blew a trumpet, and said, We haue no part in Dauid, neither haue we inheritance in the sonne of Iesse: euery man to his tents, O Israel.
2 And so euery man of Israel went from Dauid, and followed Seba the sonne of Bichri: but the men of Iuda claue fast vnto their king, from Iordane to Hierusalem.
3 And Dauid came to his house to Hierusalem, and the king tooke the tenne women his Concubines, that hee had left behinde him to keepe the house, and put them in warde, and fed them, but lay no more with them: and so they were inclosed vnto the day of their death, liuing in widowhood.
4 Then said the king to Amasa, ‖ Call me the men of Iuda together within three dayes, and be thou here also.
5 And so Amasa went to gather the men of Iuda together, but taried longer then the time which he had appointed him.
6 And Dauid said to Abisai, Now shal Seba the sonne of Bichri doe vs more harme then did Absalom: take thou therefore thy lords seruants, and follow after him, least hee get him walled cities, and escape vs.
7 And there went out after him Ioabs men, and the Cherethites, and the Phelethites, and all the mightie men: and they departed out of Hierusalem to follow after Seba the sonne of Bichri.
8 And when they were at the great stone in Gibeon, Amasa ‖ went before them: and Ioabs garment that hee had about him was girded vnto him, and he had girded thereon a sworde, which was fastned fast to his loynes in a sheath, that as he went it fell sometime out.
9 And Ioab said to Amasa, Art thou in health, my brother? And Ioab tooke Amasa by the beard with the right hand to kisse him.
10 But Amasa tooke no heede to the sworde that was in Ioabs hand: for therewith he smote him in the fifth ribbe and shed out his bowels to the ground, and smote at him no more, and he died: so Ioab and Abisai his brother followed after Seba the sonne of Bichri.
11 And one of Ioabs men stood by him, and said, Hee that beareth any fauour to Ioab, or good will to Dauid, let him goe after Ioab.
12 And Amasa wallowed in blood in the midst of the way: and when the man saw that all the people stoode still, he remoued Amasa out of the way into the field, and cast a cloth vpon him, because he sawe that euery one that came by him, stood still.
13 And as soone as he was remoued out of the way, all the people went after Ioab, to follow after Seba the sonne of Bichri.
14 And he went thorow all the tribes of Israel, vnto Abel, and to Bethmaacha, and all the places of Berim: and they gathered together and went after him.
15 And they came and besieged him in Abel, neere to Bethmaacha, and they cast vp a banke against the citie, and the people thereof stood on the rampe: and all the people that was with Ioab smote at the wall to ouerthrow it.
16 Then cryed a wise woman out of the citie, Heare, heare: I pray you say vnto Ioab, Come hither, that I may speake with thee.
17 When Ioab was come vnto her, the woman said, Art thou Ioab? He answered, I am he. She said vnto him, Heare the wordes of thine handmaide. And he answered, I doe heare.
18 Then she spake thus, They spake in the old time, saying, They should aske of Abel: and so haue they continued.
19 I am one of them that are peaceable and faithfull in Israel, and thou goest about to destroy a citie, and a mother in Israel: why wilt thou deuoure the inheritance of the Lord?
20 And Ioab answered and said, God forbid, God forbid it me, that I should either deuoure, or destroy.
21 The matter is not so: but a man of mount Ephraim (Seba the sonne of Bichri by name) hath lift vp his hand against the king, euen against Dauid: deliuer vs him onely, and I will depart from the citie. And the woman said vnto Ioab, Behold, his head shall be throwen to thee ouer the wall.
22 And then the woman went vnto all the people with her wisedom, and they smote off the head of Seba the sonne of Bichri, and cast it out to Ioab: and he blew a trumpet, and they retyred from the citie euery man to his tent: and Ioab returned to Hierusalem vnto the king.

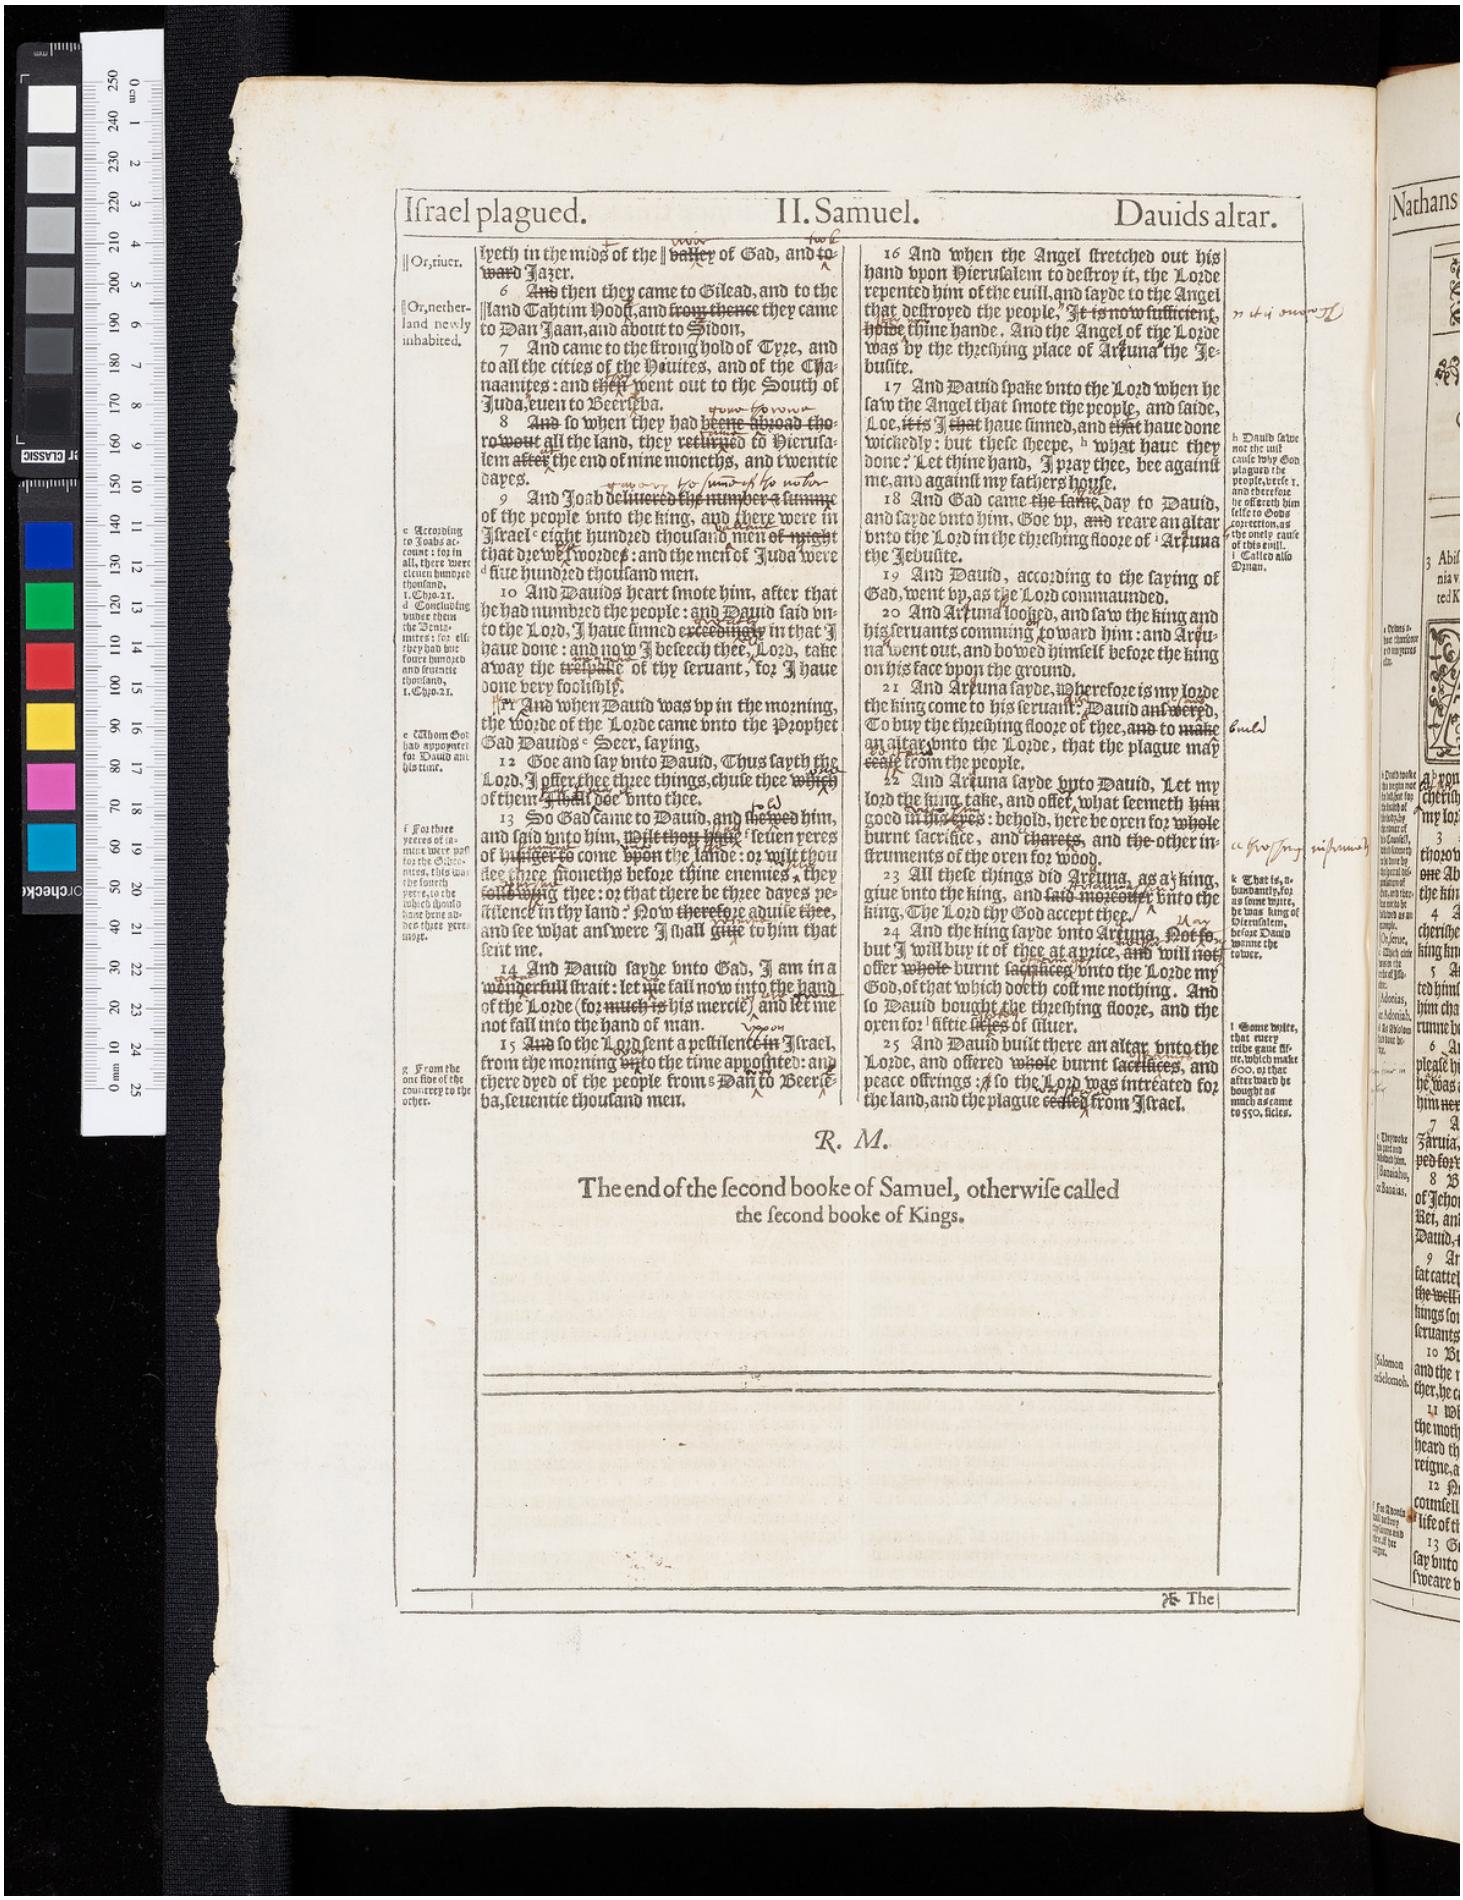
2 For the king sayde to Joab the captaine of the hoste which was with him, Goe thou abroad now thoughout all the tribes of Israel, euen from Dan to Beersheba, & number ye the people, that I may know the b number of them.

b Because he did this to reioyce his power, and so to trust therein: it offended God: & it was sinfull to number the people, Exod.30.



3 And Joab sayd vnto the king, The Lorde thy God increase the people an hundred fold more then they be, and that the eyes of my lorde the king may see it: and what is the cause that my lord the king hath a lust to this thing?

4 Notwithstanding the kings word preuailed against Joab, and against the captaines of the host: and Joab and the captaines of the host went out from the presence of the king, to number the people of Israel.

5 And they passed ouer Jordane, and pitched in Aroer, on the right side of the citie, that

6 And then they came to Gilead, and to the ‖ land Tahtim Hodsi, and from thence they came to Dan Jaan, and about to Sidon,

7 And came to the strong hold of Tyre, and to all the cities of the Hiuites, and of the Chanaanites: and then went out to the South of Juda, euen to Beersheba.

8 And so when they had beene abroad throwout all the land, they returned to Hierusalem after the end of nine moneths, and twentie dayes.

c According to Ioabs account: for in all, there were eleuen hundred thousand, 1. Chro. 21.

d Concluding vnder them the Beniamites: for els they had but foure hundred and seuentie thousand, 1. Chro. 21.

9 And Joab deliuered the number of ſumme of the people vnto the king, and there were in Israel c eight hundred thousand men of might that drewe swordes: and the men of Juda were d fiue hundred thousand men.

10 And Dauids heart smote him, after that he had numbred the people: and Dauid said vnto the Lord, I haue sinned exceedingly in that I haue done: and now I beseech thee, Lord, take away the trespasse of thy seruant, for I haue done very foolishly.

e Whom God had appointed for Dauid and his time.

‖ And when Dauid was vp in the morning, the worde of the Lorde came vnto the Prophet Gad Dauids e Seer, saying, 12 Goe and say vnto Dauid, Thus sayth the Lord, I offer thee three things, chuse thee which of them I shall doe vnto thee.

f For three yeres of famine were past for the Gibeonites, this was the fourth yeere, to the which should haue bene added three yeres more.

13 So Gad came to Dauid, and shewed him, and said vnto him, Wilt thou haue f seuen yeres of hunger to come vpon thy lande: or wilt thou flee three moneths before thine enemies, they following thee: or that there be three dayes pestilence in thy land? Now therefore aduise thee, and see what answere I shall giue to him that sent me.

14 And Dauid sayde vnto Gad, I am in a wonderfull strait: let me fall now into the hand of the Lorde (for much is his mercie) and let me not fall into the hand of man.

15 And so the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel, from the morning vnto the time appointed: and there dyed of the people from g Dan to Beersheba, seuentie thousand men.

g From the one side of the countrey to the other.

16 And when the Angel stretched out his hand vpon Hierusalem to destroy it, the Lorde repented him of the euill, and sayde to the Angel that destroyed the people, It is now sufficient, hold thine hande. And the Angel of the Lorde was by the threshing place of Araunah the Iebusite.

17 And Dauid spake vnto the Lord when he saw the Angel that smote the people, and saide, Loe, it is I that haue sinned, and I that haue done wickedly: but these sheepe, h what haue they done? Let thine hand, I pray thee, bee against me, and against my fathers house.

h Dauid saw not the vnit cause why God plagued the people, verse 1. and therefore he offereth him selfe to Gods correction, as the onely cause of this euill.

18 And Gad came the same day to Dauid, and sayde vnto him, Goe vp, and reare an altar vnto the Lord in the threshing floore of i Araunah the Iebusite.

i Called also Ornan.

19 And Dauid, according to the saying of Gad, went vp, as the Lord commaunded.

20 And Araunah looked, and saw the king and his seruants comming toward him: and Araunah went out, and bowed himself before the king on his face vpon the ground.

21 And Araunah sayde, wherefore is my lorde the king come to his seruant? Dauid answered, To buy the threshing floore of thee, and to make an altar vnto the Lorde, that the plague may cease from the people.

22 And Araunah sayde vnto Dauid, Let my lord the king take, and offer, what seemeth him good in his eyes: behold, here be oxen for whole burnt sacrifice, and charets, and the other instruments of the oxen for wood.

23 All these things did Araunah, as a king, giue vnto the king, and said moreouer vnto the king, The Lord thy God accept thee.

k That is, abundantly, for as some write, he was king of Hierusalem, before Dauid wanne the tower.

24 And the king sayde vnto Araunah, Not so, but I will buy it of thee at a price, and will not offer whole burnt sacrifices vnto the Lorde my God, of that which doeth cost me nothing. And so Dauid bought the threshing floore, and the oxen for l fifte sicles of siluer.

l Some write, that euery tribe gaue fifte, which make 600. or that afterward he bought as much as came to 550. sicles.

25 And Dauid built there an altar vnto the Lorde, and offered whole burnt sacrifices, and peace offrings: so the Lord was intreated for the land, and the plague ceased from Israel.

fol. X1r

The first Booke of the Kings, commonly called the third Booke of the Kings, after the reckoning of the Latinists: which third booke and the fourth also, is but one with the Hebrewes.

The first Chapter.

3 Abisag keepeth Dauid in his extreme age. 5 Adonia vsurpeth the kingdome. 30 Solomon is anointed King. 50 Adonia fleeth to the Altar.

a We were about threescore and ten yeeres olde.

NOw king Dauid was [a] old, and stricken in yeeres, so that when they couered him with clothes, hee ~~could~~ might no heate.

2 Wherefore his seruants saide vnto him, Let there be sought for my lord the King a [b] yong virgin, ~~to~~ stand before the king, and ~~to~~ cherish him, and let her lye in thy bosome, that my lord the King may get heate.

b Dauid tooke this virgin not for lust, but for the health of his body, by the aduice of his Counsell, which seemeth to be done by the special dispensation of God, and therefore not to be followed as an example.

3 ~~And~~ So they sought for a faire damosell throughout all the coastes of Israel, and found ~~one~~ Abisag a [c] Sunamite, and brought her to the king.

4 And the damosel was exceeding faire, and cherished the king, and ministred to him: but the king knew her not.

||Or, serue.

c Which citie was in the tribe of Issachar.

5 ~~And~~ ||Adonia the sonne of Haggith exalted himselfe, saying, I will be king. And he gate him charets and horsemen, and [d] fiftie men to runne before him.

||Adonias, or Adoniah.

d As Absolom had done before.

6 And his father ~~for his time would~~ not displease him, ~~to say~~, Why hast thou done so? And he was a very goodly man, and his mother bare him next after Absolom.

7 And he ~~tooke counsel~~ ~~at~~ Joab the sonne of Zaruia, ~~and~~ ~~at~~ Abiathar the Priest: and they [e] helped forward Adonia:

e They tooke his part and followed him.

8 But Sadoc the Priest, ||Banaia the sonne of Jehoiada, Nathan the Prophet, Shimei, and Rei, and the ~~men of~~ might which ~~were with~~ Dauid, ~~they~~ were not with Adonia.

||Banaiahu, or Banaias.

9 And Adonia ~~sacrificed~~ sheepe and oxen, and fat cattell, by the stone of Zoheleth, which is by the well of Rogel, and called all his brethren the kings sonnes, and all the men of Juda the kings seruants.

10 But Nathan the Prophet, and Banaia, and the mightie men, and ||Solomon his brother, he called not.

||Salomon or Selomoh.

11 Wherefore Nathan spake vnto Bethsabe the mother of Solomon, saying, Hast thou not heard that Adonia the sonne of Haggith doeth reigne, and Dauid our Lord knoweth it not?

12 Now therefore come, and I will giue thee counsell ~~how to~~ saue thine owne life, and the life of thy sonne Solomon.

f For Adonia will destroy thy sonne and thee, if hee reigne.

13 Go, and get thee in vnto king Dauid, and say vnto him, Diddest not thou, my lord, O king, sweare vnto thy handmayde, saying, Assuredly Solomon thy sonne shall reigne after mee, and hee shall sit vpon my seate: why ~~is~~ then Adonia king?

14 Beholde, while thou yet talkest there with the king, I will come in after thee, and [g] confirme thy wordes.

g By declaring such things as may further the same.

15 And Bethsabe went in vnto the king into the chamber: and the king was very olde, and Abisag the Sunamite ministred vnto the King.

16 And Bethsabe ~~stouped~~, and made obeysance vnto the king: and the king saide, What ~~is~~ thy matter?

17 She ~~answered~~, My lord, thou ~~swarest~~ by the Lord thy God vnto thine handmayd, saying, Assuredly Solomon thy sonne shall reigne after me, and he shall sit vpon my seat:

18 And behold, ~~now~~ ~~is~~ Adonia king, and thou my lord the king ~~knowest~~ it not.

19 And hee hath ~~offered~~ oxen, fat cattell, and many sheepe, and hath called all the sonnes of the king, and Abiathar the Priest, and Joab the captaine of the hoste: but Solomon thy seruant hath he not bidden.

20 And ~~now~~ my lord, O King, the eyes of all Israel ~~wait~~ on thee, that thou shouldest tell them who ought to sit on the ~~seate~~ of my lord the King after him:

21 ~~For~~ else when my lord the king shall sleepe with his fathers, I ~~and~~ my sonne Solomon shall ~~be~~ [h] sinners.

h That is, shall be reputed as sinners, and condemned to death as traitors.

22 And lo, while he yet talked with the king, Nathan the Prophet came ~~also~~.

23 And they tolde the king, saying, Beholde, ~~here commeth~~ Nathan the Prophet. And when he was come in ~~to~~ the king, hee ~~made obeysance~~ before the king ~~vpon~~ his face ~~on~~ the ground.

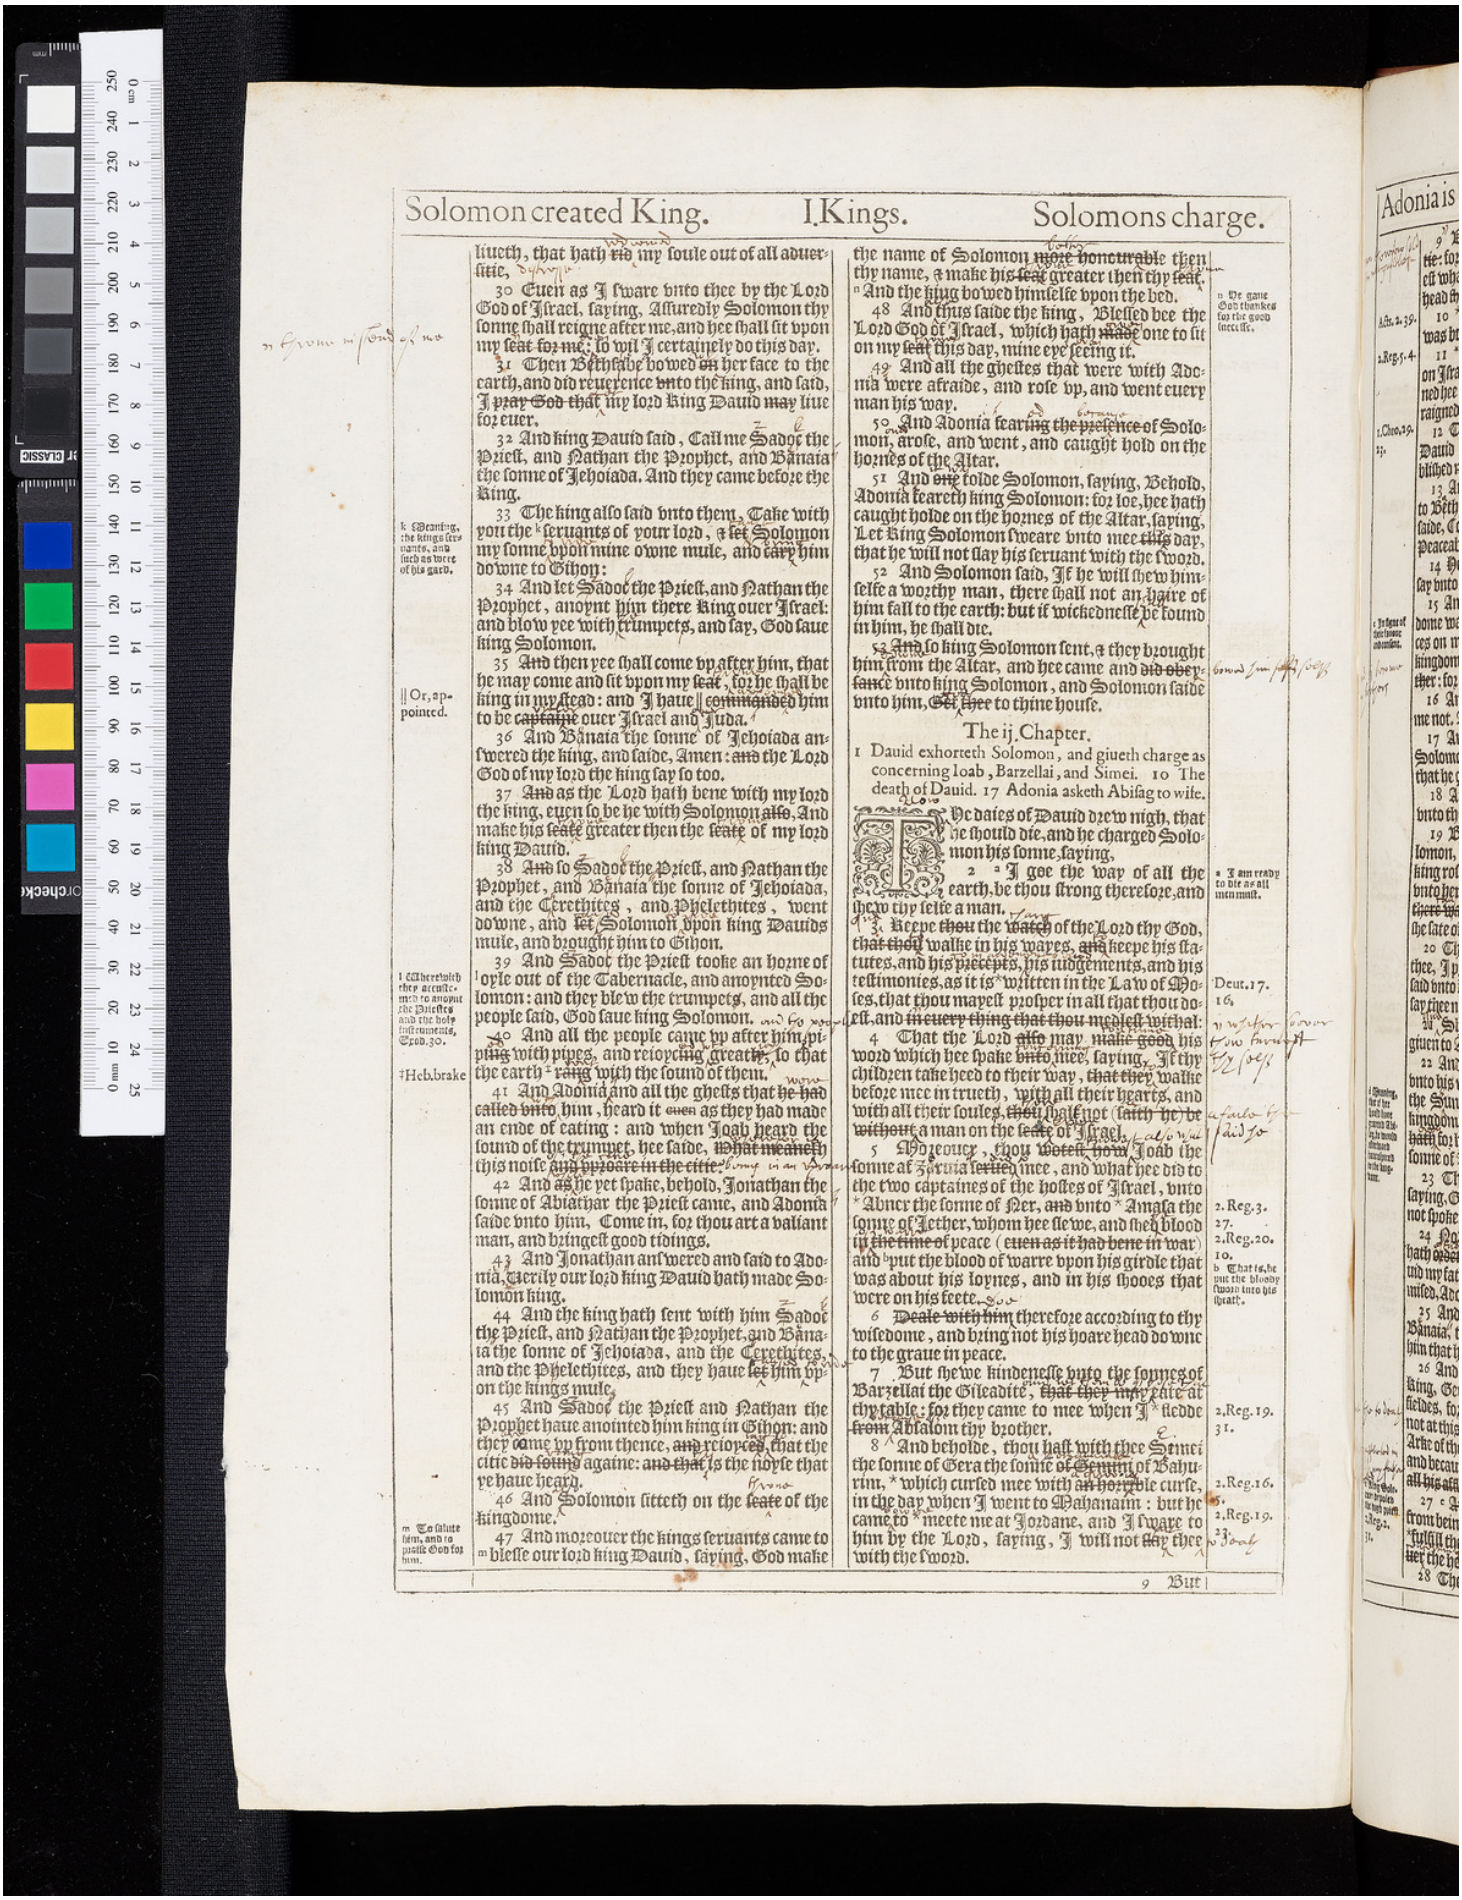
24 And Nathan saide, My lord, O king, hast thou said, Adonia shall reigne after mee, and hee shall sit vpon my seate?

25 For hee is gone downe this day, and hath slaine oxen, and fat cattel, and sheepe a great many, and hath called all the kings sonnes, and the captaines of the hoste, and Abiathar the Priest: and beholde, they eate and drinke before him, and say, God ‡ saue king Adonia.

‡ Hebr. let the King Adonia liue.

26 But mee, thy seruant, ~~and~~ Sadoc the Priest, and Banaia the sonne of Jehoiada, and thy seruant Solomon hath he not called.

27 Is this thing done of my lord the king, and thou hast not shewed it vnto thy seruant, who should sit on the seate of my lord the King after him?



i Meaning, that he ought in such affaires enterprise nothing except he had consulted with the Lord 28 Then king Dauid answered, and said, Call me Bethsabe. And shee came into the kings presence, and stood before him.

liueth, that hath rid my soule out of all aduersitie,

30 Euen as I sware vnto thee by the Lord God of Israel, saying, Assuredly Solomon thy sonne shall reigne after me, and hee shall sit vpon my seat for me; so will I certainely do this day.

31 Then Bethsabe bowed on her face to the earth, and did reuerence vnto the king, and said, I pray God that my lord King Dauid may liue for euer.

32 And king Dauid said, Call me Sadoc the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet, and Bānaia the sonne of Iehoiada. And they came before the king.

33 The king also said vnto them, Take with you the k seruants of your lord, & set Solomon my sonne vpon mine owne mule, and carry him downe to Gihon:

34 And let Sadoc the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet, anoynt him there King ouer Israel: and blow yee with trumpets, and say, God saue king Solomon.

35 And then yee shall come vp after him, that he may come and sit vpon my seat, for he shall be king in my stead: and I haue || commanded him to be captaine ouer Israel and Iuda.

36 And Bānaia the sonne of Iehoiada answered the king, and saide, Amen: and the Lord God of my lord the king say so too.

37 And as the Lord hath bene with my lord the king, euen so be he with Solomon also. And make his seate greater then the seate of my lord king Dauid.

38 And so Sadoc the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet, and Bānaia the sonne of Iehoiada, and the Cerethites, and Phelethites, went downe, and let Solomon vpon king Dauids mule, and brought him to Gihon.

39 And Sadoc the Priest tooke an horne of l oyle out of the Tabernacle, and anoynted Solomon: and they blew the trumpets, and all the people said, God saue king Solomon.

40 And all the people came vp after him, piping with pipes, and reioycing greatly, so that the earth ‡ rang with the sound of them.

41 And Adonia and all the ghests that he had called vnto him, heard it euen as they had made an ende of eating: and when Joab heard the sound of the trumpet, hee saide, What meaneth this noise and vproare in the citie?

42 And as he yet spake, behold, Ionathan the sonne of Abiathar the Priest came, and Adonia saide vnto him, Come in, for thou art a valiant man, and bringest good tidings.

43 And Jonathan answered and said to Adonia, Verily our lord king Dauid hath made Solomon king.

44 And the king hath sent with him Sadoc the Priest, and Nathan the Prophet, and Bānaia the sonne of Iehoiada, and the Cerethites, and the Phelethites, and they haue let him vpon the kings mule, 45 And Sadoc the Priest and Nathan the Prophet haue anointed him king in Gihon: and they came vp from thence, and reioyced, that the citie did sound againe: and that is the noyse that ye haue heard.

46 And Solomon sitteth on the seate of the kingdome.

47 And moreouer the kings seruants came to m blesse our lord king Dauid, saying, God make the name of Solomon more honourable then thy name, & make his seat greater then thy seat. n And the king bowed himselfe vpon the bed.

48 And thus saide the king, Blessed bee the Lord God of Israel, which hath made one to sit on my seat this day, mine eye seeing it.

49 And all the ghestes that were with Adonia were afraide, and rose vp, and went euery man his way.

50 And Adonia fearing the presence of Solomon, arose, and went, and caught hold on the hornes of the Altar.

51 And one tolde Solomon, saying, Behold, Adonia feareth king Solomon: for loe, hee hath caught holde on the hornes of the Altar, saying, Let King Solomon sweare vnto mee this day, that he will not slay his seruant with the sword.

52 And Solomon said, If he will shew himselfe a worthy man, there shall not an haire of him fall to the earth: but if wickednesse be found in him, he shall die.

53 And so king Solomon sent, & they brought him from the Altar, and hee came and did obeysance vnto king Solomon, and Solomon saide vnto him, Get thee to thine house.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Dauid exhorteth Solomon, and giueth charge as concerning Ioab, Barzellai, and Simei. 10 The death of Dauid. 17 Adonia asketh Abisag to wife.

THe daies of Dauid drew nigh, that he should die, and he charged Solomon his sonne, saying,

2 I goe the way of all the earth, be thou strong therefore, and shew thy selfe a man.

3 Keepe thou the watch of the Lord thy God, that thou walke in his wayes, and keepe his statutes, and his precepts, his iudgements, and his testimonies, as it is * written in the Law of Moses, that thou mayest prosper in all that thou doest, and in euery thing that thou medlest withal:

4 That the Lord also may make good his word which hee spake vnto mee, saying, If thy children take heed to their way, that they walke before mee in trueth, with all their hearts, and with all their soules, there shall not (saith he) be without a man on the seate of Israel.

5 Moreouer, thou wotest how Ioab the sonne of Zeruia serued mee, and what hee did to the two captaines of the hostes of Israel, vnto * Abner the sonne of Ner, and vnto * Amasa the sonne of Jether, whom hee slewe, and shed blood in the time of peace (euen as it had bene in war) and b put the blood of warre vpon his girdle that was about his loynes, and in his shooes that were on his feete.

6 Deale with him therefore according to thy wisedome, and bring not his hoare head downe to the graue in peace.

7 But shewe kindenesse vnto the sonnes of Barzellai the Gileadite, that they may eate at thy table: for they came to mee when I fledde from Absalom thy brother.

8 And beholde, thou hast with thee Simei the sonne of Gera the sonne of Semini of Bahurim, * which cursed mee with an horrible curse, in the day when I went to Mahanaim: but he came to * meete me at Iordane, and I sware to him by the Lord, saying, I will not slay thee with the sword.

Acts. 2. 29. 10 *And so Dauid slept with his fathers, and was buried in the citie of Dauid.

2. Reg. 5. 4. 11 *And the dayes which Dauid raigned vpon Israel, were fourtie yeres: seuen yeeres raigned hee in Hebron, and thirtie and three yeeres raigned he in Hierusalem.

1. Chro. 29. 23. 12 Then sate Solomon * vpon the seate of Dauid his father, and his kingdome was stablished mightily.

13 And Adonia the sonne of Haggith came to Bethsabe the mother of Solomon, and shee saide, Commest thou peaceably? And hee saide, Peaceably.

14 Hee saide moreouer, I haue somewhat to say vnto thee. She said, Say on.

15 And he saide, Thou knowest that the kingdome was mine, and that all Israel set their faces on mee, that I should raigne: howbeit the kingdome is turned away, and giuen to my brother: for it is appointed him of the Lord.

c In signe of their fauour and consent.

16 And now I aske a petition of thee, deny me not. And she said vnto him, Say on.

17 And hee saide, Speake, I pray thee, vnto Solomon the king (for hee will not say thee nay) that he giue me Abisag the Sunamite to wife.

18 And Bethsabe saide, I will speake for thee vnto the king.

19 Bethsabe therefore went vnto king Solomon, to speake vnto him for Adonia: and the king rose vp to meete her, and bowed himselfe vnto her, and sate him downe on his seate, and there was a seate set for the kings mother, and she sate on his right side.

20 Then shee saide, I desire a little petition of thee, I pray thee say mee not nay: and the king said vnto her, Aske on my mother, for I will not say thee nay.

21 She said, Let Abisag the Sunamite bee giuen to Adonia thy brother to wife.

22 And king Solomon answered, and saide vnto his mother, Why doest thou aske Abisag the Sunamite for Adonia? d aske for him the kingdome also: for he is mine elder brother, and hath for him Abiathar the Priest, and Ioab the sonne of Zaruia.

d Meaning, that if her should haue granted Abisag, he would afterward haue aspired to the kingdome.

23 Then king Solomon sware by the Lord, saying, God doe so and so to mee, if Adonia haue not spoken this word against his owne life.

24 Now therefore as the Lord liueth, which hath established me, and set me on the seate of Dauid my father, and made me an house as hee promised, Adonia shall die this day.

25 And king Solomon sent by the hande of Banaia, the sonne of Iehoiada, and hee smote him that he died.

26 And vnto Abiathar the Priest saide the king, Get thee to Anathoth vnto thine owne fieldes, for thou art worthy of death: but I will not at this time kill thee, because thou barest the Arke of the Lord God before Dauid my father, and because thou hast suffered with my father in all his afflictions.

e king Solomon deposed the high priest. 2. Reg. 2. 31. 27 e And so Solomon put away Abiathar from being Priest vnto the Lord: that he might *fulfill the words of the Lord, which hee spake ouer the house of Eli in Silo.

28 Then tidings came also to Ioab (for Ioab had turned after Adonia, though he turned not after Absalom) and Ioab fled vnto the Tabernacle of the Lord, and caught hold on the hornes of the Altar.

29 And it was told king Solomon how that Ioab fled vnto the Tabernacle of the Lord, and behold, he is by the Altar: Then Solomon sent Banaia the sonne of Iehoiada, saying, Goe, and fall vpon him.

30 And Banaia came to the Tabernacle of the Lord, and saide vnto him, Thus saith the king, Come out. And he said, Nay, but I will die euen here. And Banaia brought the king word againe, saying, Thus said Ioab, and thus he answered me.

f It was sawfull to take a wilfull murderer from the Altar, Exod. 21. 31 And the king saide vnto him, f Doe euen as hee hath saide, smite him, and burie him: that thou mayest take away the blood which Ioab shed causeleslie, from mee, and from the house of my father.

2. King. 3. 27. 2. 33 Their blood shall therefore returne vpon the head of Ioab, and on the head of his seede for euer: but vpon Dauid, and vpon his seede, and vpon his house, and vpon his seate, shall there be peace for euer of the Lord.

34 So Banaia the sonne of Iehoiada went vp, and he fell vpon him, g slew him, and buried him in his owne house in the wildernesse.

g And so roote the office of the high Priest from the house of Eli, and restoreth it to the house of Phinehes. 35 And the king put Banaia the sonne of Iehoiada in his roome, ouer the host, and put g Sadoc the Priest in the roome of Abiathar.

36 And the king sent, and called Semei, and said vnto him, Builde thee an house in Hierusalem, and dwell there, and see that thou goe not foorth thence any whither.

37 For see thou sure, that the day that thou goest out, and passest ouer the riuer Cedron, thou shalt die that day, and thy blood shall bee vpon thine owne head.

38 And Semei said vnto the king, This saying is good: as my lord the king hath said, so will thy seruant doe. And Semei dwelt in Hierusalem many a day.

39 And after three yeres, two of the seruants of Semei ranne away vnto Achis sonne of Maacha king of Geth: and they told Semei, saying, Behold, thy seruants be in Geth.

h His couetous minde made him venture his life. 40 h And Semei stood vp, and sadled his asse, and gate him to Geth to Achis, to seeke his seruants: and Semei went, and brought his seruants againe from Geth.

41 And it was told Solomon how that Semei had gone from Hierusalem to Geth, and was come againe.

42 And the king sent and called Semei, and saide vnto him, Did I not charge thee by the Lord with an othe, and testified vnto thee, saying, Bee sure that whensoeuer thou goest out, and walkest abroad any whither, thou shalt die the death? And thou saydest vnto mee, It is good tidings that I haue heard.

43 Why then hast thou not kept the othe of the Lord, and the commandement that I charged thee with?

46 So the king commanded Banaia the ſon of Iehoiada: which went out, and ſmote him, that he died: and the kingdome was ſtabliſhed in the hand of Solomon.

17 And the one woman ſaide, O my lord, I and this woman dwell in one houſe, and I was deliuered of a childe with her in the houſe.

18 And the third day after that I was deliuered, thee was deliuered alſo: and wee were together, and no ſtranger with vs in the houſe ſaue we two.

19 And this womes childe died in the night: for ſhe ſmothered it.

20 And ſhee aroſe at midnight, and tooke my ſonne from my ſide while thine handmayd ſlept, and layd it in her boſome, and put her dead child in my boſome.

21 And when I roſe in the morning to giue my childe ſucke, beholde, it was dead: but when I had looked vpon it in the morning, beholde, it was not my ſonne which I did beare.

22 And the other woman ſaide, Nay, but my ſonne liueth, and thy ſonne is dead. And ſhee ſaide againe, No, but thy ſonne is dead, and my ſonne is aliue. Thus they pleaded before the King.

23 Then ſaide the king, The one ſaith, This is aliue is my ſonne, and the dead is thine: and the other ſaith, Nay: but thy ſonne is dead, and the liuing childe is mine.

f The wiſedome of king Solomon. 24 And the king ſaid, [f] Bring me a ſword. And they brought a ſword before the King:

25 And the king ſaid, Diuide the liuing child in two, and giue the one halfe to the one, and the other to the other.

26 Then ſpake the woman whoſe the liuing childe was, vnto the King (for her bowels yerned vpon her ſonne) and ſaide, I beſeech thee, my lord, giue her the liuing childe, and in no wiſe ſlay it. But the other ſaid, Let it be neither mine nor thine, but diuide it.

27 Then the King anſwered and ſaide, Giue her the liuing childe, and ſlay it not: for ſhe is the mother thereof.

28 And all they of Iſrael heard of the Iudgement which the king had iudged, and feared the King: for they ſawe that the wiſedome of God was in him, to do iuſtice.

The v. Chapter.

1 Hiram sendeth to Solomon, and Solomon to him, purposing to build the house of God. 6 He prepareth stuffe for the building. 13 The number of the workemen.

AND Hiram king of Tyre sent his seruants vnto Solomon: (for hee had heard that they had anointed him king in the roome of his father) for Hiram was euer a louer of Dauid.

2 *And Solomon sent to Hiram, saying, 2.Chr.2.3.

3 Thou knowest howe that Dauid my father could not build an house vnto the name of the Lord his God, *for the warres which were about him on euery side, vntill the Lord put them vnder the soles of his feete. 2.Reg.7.13 1.chr.22.10

4 But nowe the Lord my God hath giuen me rest on euery side, so that there is neither aduersarie nor euill to resist.

5 And behold, I am determined to build an house vnto the name of the Lord my God, as the Lord spake vnto Dauid my father, saying, Thy sonne whome I will set vpon thy seate for thee, he shall build an house vnto my name.

6 Now therefore command thou, that they hewe me Cedar trees out of Libanon, and my seruants shall be with thine: and vnto thee will I giue the hire for thy seruants, according to all such things as thou shalt appoint: for thou knowest that there are not among vs, that can skill to hewe timber like vnto the Sidonians.

10 And so Hiram gaue Solomon Cedar trees, and firre trees, accoyding to all his delire.

12 And the Lord gaue Solomon wisedome, Chap.3.12. *as hee promised him, and there was peace betweene Hiram and Solomon, and they two were confederate together.

13 And king Solomon raised a ſumme out of Israel, and the ſumme was thirtie thousand men:

14 Whom hee sent to Libanon, tenne thousand a moneth by course: so that when they had bene one moneth in Libanon, they abode two moneths at home: and Adoniram was ouer the ſumme.

15 And Solomon had threescore and tenne thousand that bare burdens, and fourescore thousand Maions in the mountaines:

16 Besides the Rulers whom Solomon appointed to ouersee the worke, euen three thousand and three hundred, which ruled the people, and them that wrought in the worke.

17 And the king commaunded them to bring great stones, costly stones, and hewed stones, for the foundation of the house.

18 And Solomons maions, and the maions of Hiram, did hew them, and the stone squarers: and so they prepared both timber and stones for the building of the house.

The vj. Chapter.

1 The building of the temple, and the fourme thereof. 12 The promise of the Lord to Solomon.

2.Chro. 3.1 AND in the foure hundred and fourescore yeere, after the children of Israel were come out of the land of Egypt, and in the fourth yere of the reigne of Solomon ouer Israel, and in the moneth ‖Zif, which is ‖April. the second moneth, hee began to build the house of the Lord.

2 And the house which king Solomon built for the Lord, was threescore cubites long, and twenty cubites broad, and thirty cubites high.

3 And he made a porch before the temple of the house, which was twenty cubites long, after the breadth of the house, & ten cubites broad in the forefront of the house.

a Some of the learned Iewes suppose that the windowes were narrow without, and broad within. 4 And for the house hee made windowes, broad without, and narrow within.

5 And by the wall of the house he made chambers round about in the walles of the house round about the temple and the quier: and hee made chambers round about.

6 The nethermost chamber was fiue cubites broad, and the middle was fixe cubites broad, and the third was seuen cubites broad: for without in the wall of the house hee made rests round about, that the beams of the chambers should not be fastened in the walles of the house.

7 And the houle was built of stone, made perfect already before it was brought thither: so that there was neither hammer nor axe, either any toole of iron heard in the house while it was in building.

8 The dooze of the middle chamber was in the right side of the house: and they went vp with winding staires into the middle chamber, and out of the middle into the third.

9 So he built the house, and finished it: and sieled the house, being vaulted, with sieling of Cedar trees.

10 And then hee built chambers against all the temple, fiue cubites high: and they were ioyned to the house with beames of Cedar.

11 And the word of the Lord came to Solomon, saying,

12 Concerning this house which thou art in building, if thou wilt walke in mine ordinances, and execute my lawes, and keep all my commaundements to walke in them: then will I make good vnto thee my promise, * which I promised Dauid thy father: 2.Sam.7.13 1.chr.22.10

13 And I will dwell among the children of Israel, and will not forsake my people Israel.

14 Solomon therefore built the house, and finished it:

15 And sieled the walles of the house within with boords of Cedar tree, euen from the pauement of the house, vnto the roofe, did he siele the walles of it within with Cedar tree, & boorded the flooze of the house with planks of firre.

16 And he builded twenty cubites in the sides of the quier of the Temple, both flooze & walles with boords of Cedar, and dressed it within the secret place of the Temple euen in the most holy place.

17 But the house, that is, the Temple before it, was fortie cubites long.

18 And the Cedar of the house within was carued with knops, and graues with floures: and all was Cedar timber, so that no stone was seene.

19 And the quier that was within the Temple, hee prepared, to set the arke of the appointment of the Lord.

20 And the quier ‖before was twenty cubites long, and twenty cubites in breadth, and twenty cubites in height: and he couered it with pure gold, and boorded the altar with Cedar. ‖Or, within 21 So Solomon couered the house within with pure gold, and he made golden barres, ruin along the quier, which he had couered with gold.

22 And the whole house hee ouerlayed with gold, vntil he had ended it: also all the altar that was before the quier, he ouerlayd with gold.

23 And within the quier hee made two Cherubims of ‖ olive tree, ten cubites high. ‖Or, Pine tree.

24 Fiue cubites long was a wing of the one Cherub, and fiue cubites long was a wing of the other Cherub: so that from the vttermost part of the one wing vnto the vttermost part of the other, were ten cubites.

25 And the other Cherub was tenne cubites high also: so that both the Cherubims were of one measure, and one cise:

26 For the height of the one Cherub was ten cubites, and so was it of the other.

27 And he put the Cherubims within the inner house: and the Cherubims stretched out their wings, so that the one wing of the one touched the one wall, and the one wing of the other touched the other wall: & the other two wings couered one another in the midst of the house.

28 And hee ouerlayed the Cherubims with golde.

29 And in the walles of the house rounde about, hee made figures of carued and tieled worke: as namely pictures of Cherubims, and palme trees, and gratien flowers within and without.

30 And the flooze of the house he couered with gold, within and without.

31 And in the entring of the quier hee made two doores of olive tree: and both the vpper and two side posts, were fiue square.

32 The two doores also were of Olive tree, and hee graued them with grauing of Cherubims, and palme trees, and grauen flowers, and couered them with gold, and layd thin plates of gold vpon the Cherubims and palme trees.

33 And so made he for the doore of the temple, posts of olive tree, foure square.

34 The two doores were of firre tree, and either doore with folding leaues.

35 And he graued thereon Cherubims, palme trees, and carued flowers: and couered the carued worke with gold finely wrought:

36 And hee built the inner court with three rowes of hewed stone, and one rowe of Cedar wood.

37 In the fourth yeere was the foundation of the house of the Lorde layed in the moneth ‖ Zif. ‖ April.

38 And in the eleuenth yeere in the moneth ‖ Bul, which is the eight moneth ‖ October. was the house full finished throughout all the parts thereof, according to all the fashion of it: And so was he seuen yeeres in building it.

The vij. Chapter.

1 The building of the house of Solomon. 15 The excellent workmanship of Hiram in the pieces which he made for the temple.

But Solomon was building his owne house thirteene yeeres, and finished it all.

2 And he built the house in the wood Libanon, a hundred cubits long, and fiftie cubits broad, and thirtie cubits high: and it stood vpon foure rowes of Cedar pillars, and Cedar beames were layd vpon the pillars.

3 And the roofe was Cedar aboue vpon the beams that lay on the pillars, euen fiue and forty beames, fifteene in a rowe.

4 And there were windowes in three rowes, and the windowes were one against another, three folde.

5 And all the doores with the side posts, and the vpper posts, were foure square, and had windowes one against another, three folde.

6 And hee made a porch by the pillars that bare vp the house, fifty cubits long, and thirty cubits broad, and the porch was before these and the other pillars: for there was a thicke tree let before them.

7 Then he made a porch to stand iudge in, euen a porch of iudgement tieled with Cedar thorowout all the pauements.

8 And his house where in he dwelt, had another hall more inward then the porch, of like worke: and then Solomon made an house for Pharaos daughter * (whome hee had taken to wife) like vnto the fashion of the porch. 3.King.3.1

9 And all these were of the best stones, hewed after a measure, and sawed with sawes within and without, from the foundation vnto the [a] beames that lay aboue, after the measure, and euen so on the outside toward the great court.

10 And the foundation was layed vpon rich stones, and that very great stones, whereof some were ten cubits, and some eight cubits.

11 And aboue were hewed stones squared after a certaine rule, and couered with Cedar.

12 And the great court round about, was with three rowes of hewed stones, and one rowe of Cedar plankes after the maner of the inner court of the house of the Lord, and of the porch of the temple.

13 And king Solomon sent and fet one Hiram out of Tyre,

14 A widowes sonne of the tribe of Nephthali, his father being a man of Tyre: which Hiram was a craftsman in braße, full of wisedome, vnderstanding, and cunning, to worke all maner of worke in braße: and hee came to king Solomon, and wrought all his worke.

15 For he cast two pillars of braße of eighteen cubits high a piece: * and a string of twelue cubits did compasse either of them about. Iere.52.

16 And hee made two pommels of moulten braße, after the fashion of a crowne, to set vpon the toppes of the pillars: the height of the one head piece contained fiue cubits, and the height of the other head piece contained fiue cubits also.

17 Hee made net worke and wreathen worke, like chaines, for the pommels vpon the head pieces that were on the top of the pillars: euen seuen rowes vpon the one head piece, and seuen vpon the other.

18 And so he made the pillars, and two rowes of pomegranates round about vpon the one net worke, to couer the pommels that were vpon the toppe: and thus he did also for the other head piece.

19 And the pommels that were vpon the top of the pillars, were after lilly worke in the porch, foure cubits.

20 And the pommels vpon the two pillars had also aboue ouer against the midst within the net worke pomegranates, and vpon the second head piece were there two hundred pomegranates, in two rowes round about.

21 And hee set vp the pillars in the porch of the temple: and when he had set vp the right pillar, hee called the name thereof [b] Jachin: and when he had set vp the left pillar, hee called the name thereof [c] Boaz.

22 And vpon the top of the pillars were lilly worke: and so was the worke manship of the pillars finished.

23 And he made a moulten lauatory, ten cubits wide from brim to brim, round in compasse, and fiue cubits high; and a string of thirty cubits did compasse it about.

24 And vnder the brim of it, there were knops round about, ten in one cubit, and they compassed the laua tory round about: and the knoppes were cast with it in two rowes when it was cast.

25 And it stood on twelue oxen, of which, three looked toward the North, three toward the West, three toward the South, and three toward the East: and the lauatory stoode vpon them, and all their hinder parts were inward.

26 It was an hand breadth thicke, and the brimme was wrought like the brim of a cup, with flowres of Lillies, and it contained two thousand d Bathes.

27 And hee made ten feete of brasse: foure cubites long, and foure cubites broade a piece, and three cubites high.

28 And the worke of the feet was on this maner, they had sides, and the sides were betweene the ledges.

29 And on the sides that were betweene the ledges, were Lions, Oxen, and Cherubims: and likewise vpon the ledges that were aboue: and beneath the Lions and Oxen, were certaine additions made of thinne worke.

30 And vnder euery foote were foure brasen wheeles, and ‖ boozes of brasse: and in the foure corners thereof vnder the lauatory, were vndersetters moulten, at the side of euery addition.

31 And the stalke of the lauatory was in the middle of it, and aboue one cubite: but the stalke thereof was round, after the worke of the foote, a cubite and a halfe: and also vpon the stalke were grauings, with their bands, foure square, and not round.

32 And vnder the sides were foure wheeles, and the axeltrees ioyned fast to the bottome, and the height of euery wheele was a cubite and an halfe.

33 And the workmanship of the wheeles was like the worke of a charet wheele: and their axeltrees, their naues, spokes, and felles, were all moulten.

34 And there were foure vndersetters in the foure corners of one foote, and the vndersetters were of the very bottome it selfe.

35 And in the height of the bottom was there a round compasse of halfe a cubite high: and in that height of the bottome there proceeded both ledges and sides out of the same.

36 For in the boozes of the ledges, and on the sides, he had grauen pictures of Cherubims, Lions, and Palme trees, one by another round about.

37 Thus made he the ten foote after this maner: and they had all one fashion of casting, one measure, and one size.

38 Then made he ten lauers of brasse, one lauer conteyning fourtie Bathes: and euery lauer was foure cubits, and vpon euery one of the ten foote, he put one lauer.

39 And he put fiue of those foote on the right side of the house, and other fiue on the left: and he set the lauatorie on the right side of the house East ward, and toward the South.

40 And Hiram made pots, shouels, and ‖ basons, and so finished all the worke that hee made king Solomon for the house of the Lord:

41 That is to say, two pillars, and two round head peeces that were to be set on the tops of the two pillars: and two net worzes, to couer the two round head peeces which were vpon the top of the pillars:

42 And foure hundred pomegranates for the two net worzes, euen two rowes of pomegranates in one net worke, to couer the two head peeces that were to bee set on the toppes of the pillars:

43 And the ten feet, and ten lauers on the foote:

44 And the lauatory, and twelue oxen vnder it:

45 And pots, shouels, and basons: and all these vessels which Hiram made to king Solomon for the house of the Lord, were of bright brasse.

46 In the plaine of Iordane did the king cast them in the thicke clay, betweene Succoth and Zarthan.

47 And Solomon left all the vessels vnweighed: because they were so exceeding many, neither found they out the weight of the brasse.

48 And so Solomon made all the vessels that pertained vnto the house of the Lord, the golden altar, and the golden table whereon the shewe bread was:

49 And tenne candlesticks of the right side, and fiue of the left before the quier, of pure golde, with flowers, lampes, and snuffers of gold,

50 And bowles, snuffers, basons, spoones, and mazers of pure gold: and hinges made he of gold, both for the doores of the entring of the place most holy, and for the doores of the Temple also.

51 And so was ended all the worke that king Solomon made for the house of the Lord. And Solomon brought in the things which Dauid his father had dedicated, euen the siluer, golde, and vessels, and layed them vp among the treasures of the house of the Lord.

The viij. Chapter.

4 The Arke is borne into the Temple. 10 A cloude filleth the temple. 15 The king blesseth the people.

THen Solomon gathered the Elders of Israel, and all the heads of the tribes, and them that were captaines among the fathers of the children of Israel, vnto him in Hierusalem, that they might bring vp the Arke of the Couenant of the Lord, out of the citie of Dauid, which is Sion.

6 And the Priests brought the Arke of the couenant of the Lord vnto his place, euen into the quier of the Temple, and place most holy, vnder the wings of the Cherubims:

7 For the Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and couered both it, and also the staues thereof aboue vpon it.

2.Mac.2.8. 23 *O Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee, in heauen aboue, or in the earth beneath, thou that keepest couenant and mercie with thy seruants that walke before thee with all their heart, 24 Thou that hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father that thou promisedst him: thou spakest also with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine hand, as it is come to passe this day.

25 Therefore now, Lord God of Israel, keepe with thy seruant Dauid my father, that thou promisedst him, saying, *Thou shalt not lacke before me a man in my sight, to sit on the seat of Israel: so that thy children take heed to their way, that they walke before me, as thou hast walked in my sight.

2.Sam.7.12.

26 And now, O God of Israel, let thy word be verified which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid my father.

27 Will God indeed dwell on the earth? Behold, the heauen and heauen of all heauens are not able to conteine thee: and how should then this house do it that I haue builded?

28 Haue thou therefore respect vnto the prayer of thy seruant, and to his supplication, O Lord my God, to heare the crie and prayer which thy seruant prayeth before thee this day:

29 That thine eyes may be open toward this house night and day, euen toward this place, of which thou hast sayd, *My name shall be there: that thou mayest hearken vnto the prayer which thy seruant prayeth in this place:

Deu.12.11

30 And regard thou the supplication of thy seruant, and of thy people Israel, when they pray in this place: and heare thou in heauen thy dwelling place, and when thou hearest, haue mercy.

31 If any man trespasse against his neighbour, and there goe an oth before thine altar in this house:

32 Then heare thou in heauen, and do and iudge thy seruants, condemning the wicked, to bring his way vpon his head: and iustifying the righteous, to giue him according to his righteousnesse.

33 When thy people Israel bee put to the worse before the enemy, because they haue sinned against thee, and afterward turne againe to thee, and confesse thy name, and pray, and make supplication vnto thee in this house:

34 Then heare thou in heauen, and be merciful vnto the sinne of thy people Israel, and bring them againe vnto the lande which thou gauest vnto their fathers.

35 If heauen be shut vp, and there be no raine, because they haue sinned against thee: yet if they pray in this place, and confesse thy name, and turne from their sinne through thy scourging of them:

36 Then heare thou in heauen, and be merciful vnto the sinnes of thy seruants, and of thy people Israel, that thou shew them the good way to walke in, and giue raine vpon thy land that thou hast giuen to thy people to inherite.

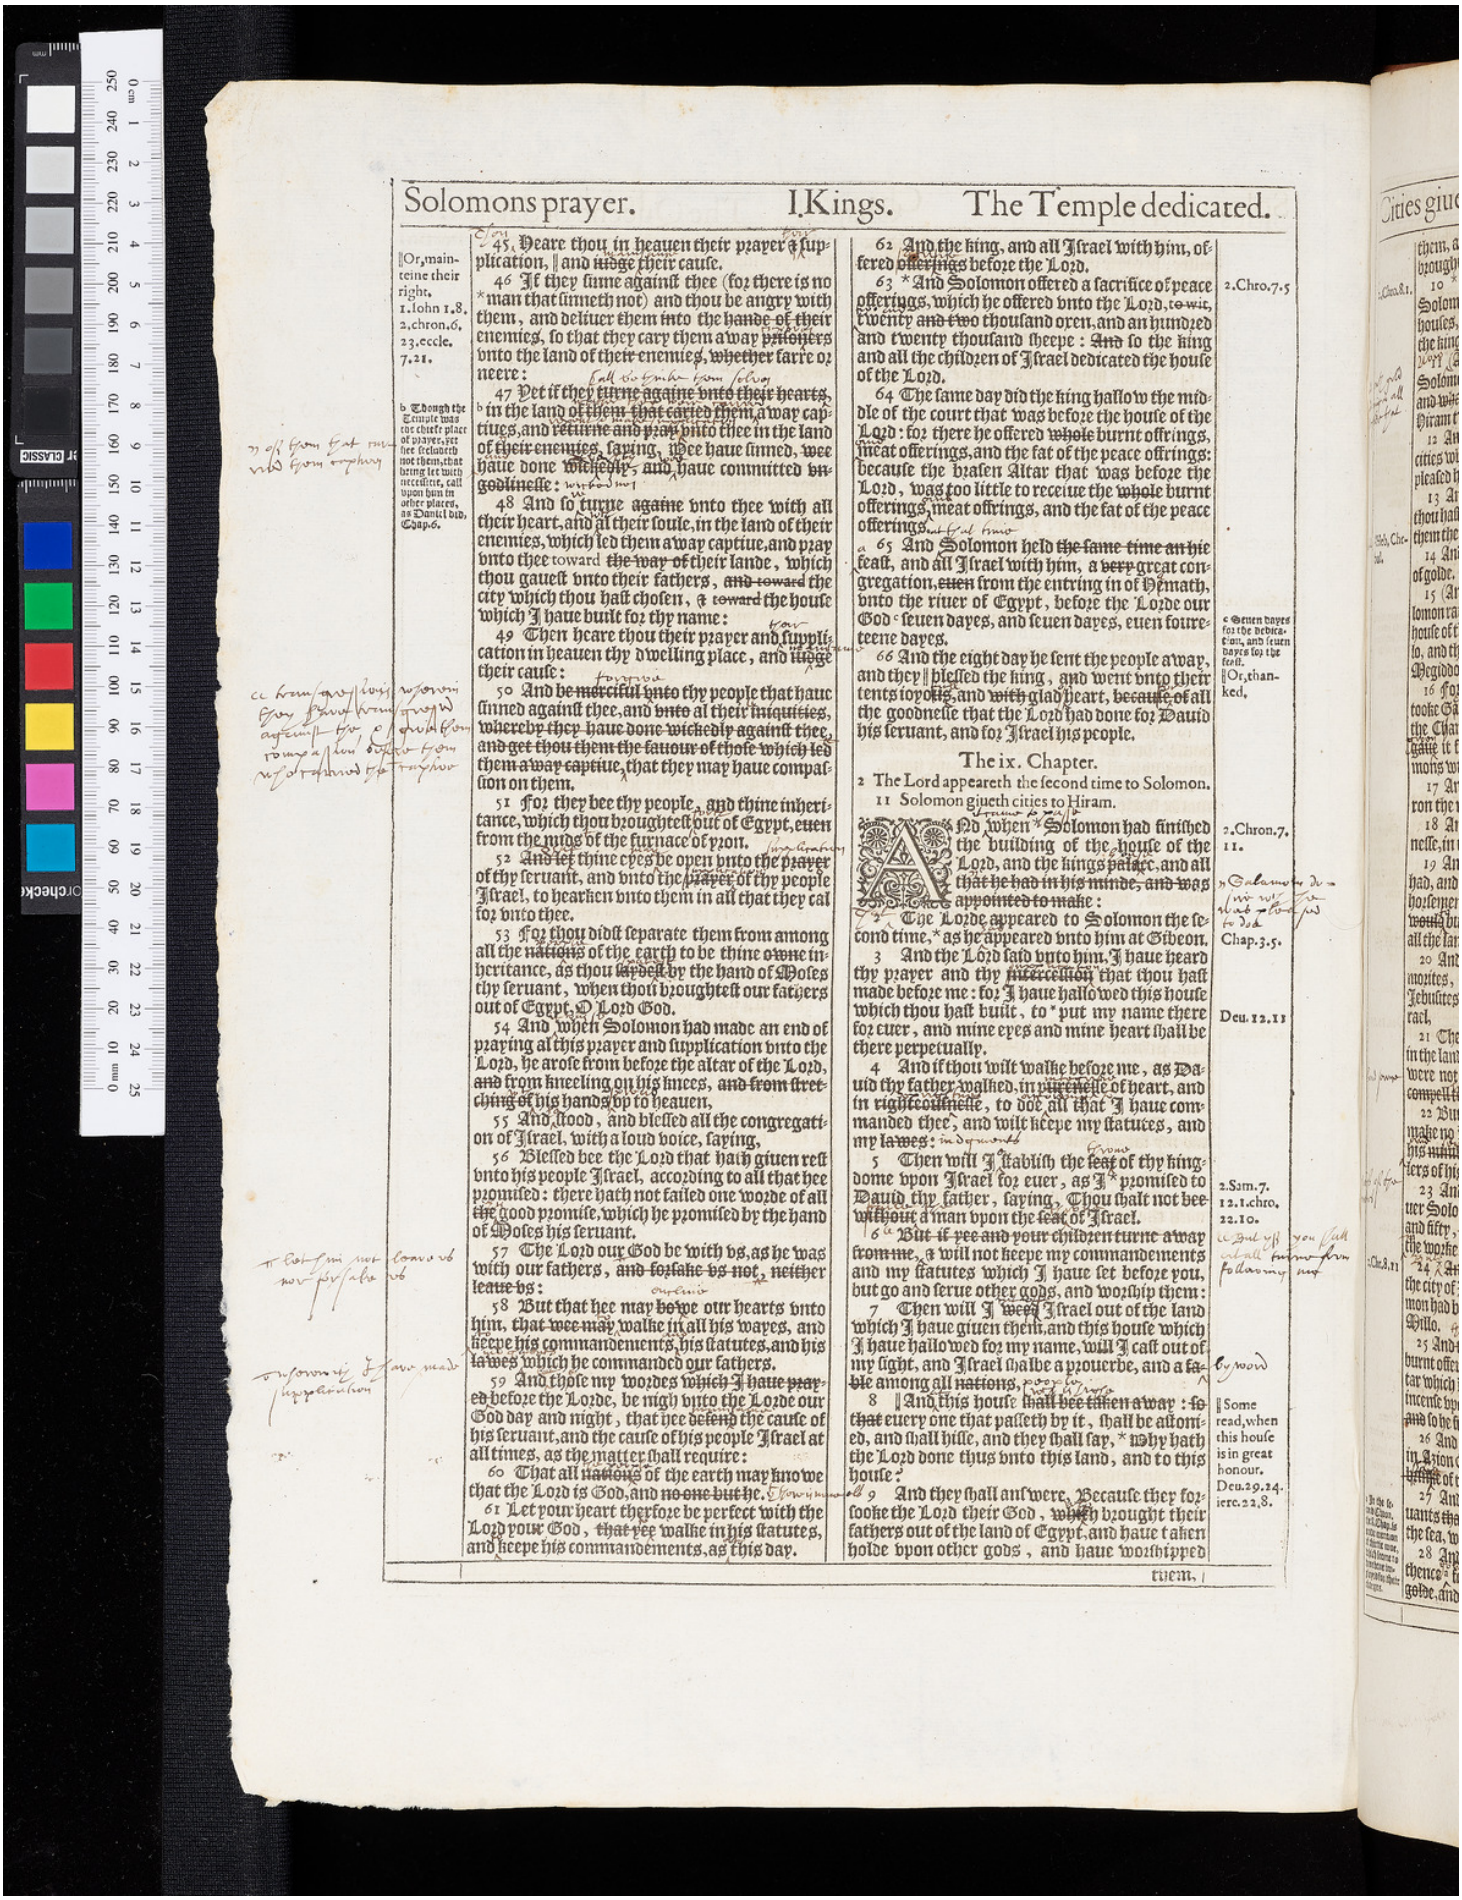
37 If there be in the land dearth, if pestilence, drouth, blasting, grashopper, or caterpiller: or if their enemie beliege them in the land of their cities, or whatsoeuer plague or sickenesse chance vnto them,

38 Then what prayer and supplication soeuer be made of any man of all thy people Israel, which shall knowledge euery man the plague of his owne heart, and stretch foorth his hands toward this house:

39 Heare thou then in heauen in thy dwelling place, and be merciful, and do and giue euery man according to his wayes, euen as thou seest his heart, (for thou only knowest the hearts of all the children of men.)

40 That they may feare thee, all the dayes as they liue, in the land which thou gauest vnto our fathers.

41 Also concerning a stranger that is not of thy people Israel, but is come out of a farre countrey, for thy names sake,



42 (For they shall heare of thy great name, and of thy mighty hand, and of thy stretched out arme) when he shall come and pray in this house:

43 Heare thou in heauen thy dwelling place, and doe all that the stranger calleth to thee for: that all nations of the earth may knowe thy name, and feare thee, as doe thy people Israel, and that they may know that thy name is called vpon this house which I haue builded.

44 If thy people go out to battel against their enemy, whithersoeuer thou shalt send them, and shall pray vnto the Lord toward the way of the city which thou hast chosen, and toward the house that I haue built for thy name:

‖ Or, maintaine their right. 1.Ioh 1.8. 2.chron.6. 23.eccle. 7.21.

46 If they sinne against thee (for there is no man that sinneth not) and thou be angry with them, and deliuer them into the hande of their enemies, so that they carry them away prisoners vnto the land of their enemies, whether farre or neere:

47 Yet if they turne againe vnto their hearts, b in the land of them that caried them away captiues, and returne and pray vnto thee in the land of their enemies, saying, wee haue sinned, wee haue done wickedly, and haue committed ungodlinesse:

b Though the Temple was the chiefe place of prayer, yet hee teacheth not them, that being let with necessitie, call vpon him in other places, as Daniel did, Chap.6.

48 And so turne againe vnto thee with all their heart, and all their soule, in the land of their enemies, which led them away captiue, and pray vnto thee toward the way of their lande, which thou gauest vnto their fathers, and toward the city which thou hast chosen, & toward the house which I haue built for thy name:

49 Then heare thou their prayer and supplication in heauen thy dwelling place, and iudge their cause:

50 And be merciful vnto thy people that haue sinned against thee, and vnto all their iniquities, whereby they haue done wickedly against thee, and get thou them the fauour of those which led them away captiue, that they may haue compassion on them.

51 For they bee thy people, and thine inheritance, which thou broughtest out of Egypt, euen from the midst of the furnace of yron.

52 And let thine eyes be open vnto the prayer of thy seruant, and vnto the prayer of thy people Israel, to hearken vnto them in all that they call for vnto thee.

53 For thou didst separate them from among all the nations of the earth to be thine owne inheritance, as thou spakest by the hand of Moses thy seruant, when thou broughtest our fathers out of Egypt, O Lord God.

54 And when Solomon had made an end of praying all this prayer and supplication vnto the Lord, he arose from before the altar of the Lord, and from kneeling on his knees, and from stretching of his hands vp to heauen,

55 And stood, and blessed all the congregation of Israel, with a loud voice, saying,

56 Blessed bee the Lord that hath giuen rest vnto his people Israel, according to all that hee promised: there hath not failed one worde of all the good promise, which he promised by the hand of Moses his seruant.

57 The Lord our God be with vs, as he was with our fathers, and forsake vs not, neither leaue vs:

58 But that hee may bowe our hearts vnto him, that wee may walke in all his wayes, and keepe his commandements, his statutes, and his lawes which he commanded our fathers.

59 And those my wordes which I haue prayed before the Lorde, be nigh vnto the Lorde our God day and night, that hee defend the cause of his seruant, and the cause of his people Israel at all times, as the matter shall require:

60 That all nations of the earth may know that the Lord is God, and no one but he.

61 Let your heart therefore be perfect with the Lord your God, that yee walke in his statutes, and keepe his commandements, as this day.

62 And the king, and all Israel with him, offered offerings before the Lord.

63 * And Solomon offered a sacrifice of peace offerings, which he offered vnto the Lord, to wit, twenty and two thousand oxen, and an hundred and twenty thousand sheepe: And so the king and all the children of Israel dedicated the house of the Lord. 2.Chro.7.5

64 The same day did the king hallow the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord: for there he offered whole burnt offrings, meat offerings, and the fat of the peace offrings: because the braken Altar that was before the Lord, was too little to receiue the whole burnt offerings, meat offrings, and the fat of the peace offerings.

65 And Solomon held the same time an hie feast, and all Israel with him, a very great congregation, euen from the entring in of Hemath, vnto the riuer of Egypt, before the Lorde our God c seuen dayes, and seuen dayes, euen fourteene dayes.

c Seuen dayes for the dedication, and seuen dayes for the feast.

66 And the eight day he sent the people away, and they ‖ blessed the king, and went vnto their tents ioyfully, and with glad heart, because of all the goodnesse that the Lord had done for Dauid his seruant, and for Israel his people.

‖ Or, thanked,

2.Chro.8.1. 10 *And at the end of twenty yeeres, when Solomon had finished the building of the two houses, that is to wit, the house of the Lord, and the kings palace, 11 (And Hiram the king of Tyre, brought Solomon timber of Cedar, and fyre trees, gold, and whatsoeuer he desired) then Solomon gaue Hiram twenty cities in the land of Galilee.

12 And Hiram came out from Tyre to see the cities which Solomon had giuen him, and they pleased him not.

13 And he sayd, What cities are these which thou hast giuen me, my brother? And he called them the land of ‡barren, vnto this day.

‡Heb. Chebul.

14 And Hiram sent the king fyre score talents of golde.

15 (And this is the summe which king Solomon raised for a tribute, when he builded the house of the Lord, and his owne house, and Millo, and the wall of Hierusalem, and Hazor, and Megiddo, and Gazer.

16 For Pharao king of Egypt went vp, and tooke Gazer, and burnt it with fire, and slewe the Chanaanites that dwelt in the citie, and gaue it for a present vnto his daughter Solomons wife.

17 And Solomon built Gazer, and Bethoron the neather.

18 And Baalath, and Thamor in the wildernesse, in the land,

19 And all the treasure cities that Solomon had, and cities for his charets, and cities for his horsemen, and all that Solomon desired, and would build in Hierusalem, in Libanon, and in all the land of his dominion.)

20 And all the people that were left of the Amorites, Hethites, Pherezites, Hiuites, and Iebusites, which were not of the children of Israel, 21 Their children that were left after them in the lande, whome the children of Israel also were not able to destroy: those did Solomon compell to bring tribute vnto this day.

22 But of the children of Israel did Solomon make no bondmen: but they were men of war, his ministers, his lords, his captaines, and rulers of his charets, and his horsemen.

23 And these were the lordes that were set ouer Solomons worke, fyue hundred were they and fifty, which ruled the people that wrought the worke.

2.Chr.8.11 24 And Pharaos daughter came vp out of the city of Dauid, vnto her house which Solomon had built for her: and then did he also build Millo.

25 And thrise a yere did Solomon offer whole burnt offerings, and peace offerings vpon the altar which he built vnto the Lord, and he burnt incense vpon the altar that was before the Lord, and so he finished the house.

26 And king Solomon made a nauy of ships in Azion Gaber, which is beside Eloth, on the brimme of the red sea, in the land of Edom.

27 And Hiram sent by shippe also of his seruants that were shipmen and had knowledge of the sea, with the seruants of Solomon:

28 And they came to Ophir, and fet from thence foure hundred and twentie talents of golde, and brought it to king Solomon.

The x. Chapter.

1 The queene of Saba commeth to heare the wisdome of Solomon. 18 His royall throne. 32 His power and magnificencie.

Mat.12.42. 2.chro.9.1. AND the *queene of Saba hearing the fame of Solomon (concerning the Name of the Lorde) came to proue him with hard questions.

2 And she came to Hierusalem with a very great traine, with camels that bare sweet odours, and golde exceeding much, and precious stones: and shee came to Solomon, and communed with him of all that was in her heart.

3 And Solomon declared vnto her all her questions, so that there was not one thing hid from the king, which hee expounded not vnto her.

4 And the Queene of Saba considered all Solomons wisdome, and the house that he had builded,

5 And the meat of his table, and the sitting of his seruants, the order of his ministers, and their apparell, and his ‖butlers, and his whole burnt sacrifices that he offred in the house of the Lord: and ‡there was astonied.

‖Or, drinking vessels. ‡Heb. there was no more spirit in her.

6 And she sayd vnto the king, It was a true word that I heard in mine own land, of thy sayings, and of thy wisedome.

7 Howbeit, I beleeued it not, till I came, and sawe it with mine eyes: and beholde, the one halfe was not tolde mee: for thy wisedome and prosperity exceedeth the fame which I heard of thee.

8 Happy are thy men, and happy are these thy seruants which stand euer before thee, and heare thy wisedome.

9 Blessed be the Lord thy God which loued thee, to set thee on the seat of Israel, because the Lord loued Israel for euer, and made thee king, to do equity and righteousnesse.

a God loueth that people to whom he giueth a wise ruler. b The office of a king.

10 And she gaue the king fyre score talents of golde, and of sweet odours exceeding much, and precious stones: there came no more such abundance of sweet odours, as the queene of Saba gaue to king Solomon.

11 The nauy also of the ships of Hiram (that caried gold from Ophir) brought like wise great plenty of Almuge trees, and precious stones, from Ophir.

12 And the king made of the Almuge trees pillars for the house of the Lord, and for the kings palace, and made Harps and Psalteries for singers: there came no more such Almuge trees, nor were any more seene vnto this day.

13 And king Solomon gaue vnto the queene of Saba, according to all her desire, whatsoeuer she asked, besides that he gaue her of a free will with his owne hand: and so she returned, and vnto her owne country, both she and her seruants.

14 The weight of golde that came to Solomon in one yeere, was sixe hundred, threescore and sixe talents of gold, 15 Besides that hee had of merchants, and of the merchandizes of the spices, and of all the kings of Arabia, and of the lordes of the country.

16 And king Solomon made two hundred targets of beaten gold: six hundred sicles of gold went to a target.

17 And

17 And he made three hundred shields of beaten gold: three pound of gold went to one shield, and the king put them in the house of the wood of Libanon.

18 And the king made a great seate of iuorie, and couered it with the best golde.

19 And the seat had sixe steps, and the top of the seat was round behind, and there were pommels on either side on the place of the seat, and two lions stood beside the pommels.

20 And there stood twelue lions on the steps, sixe on a side; there was none like vnto it in any kingdome.

21 And all king Solomons drinking vessels were of golde, and likewise all the vessels of the house of the wood of Libanon were of pure gold: and as for siluer, it was nothing worth in the dayes of Solomon:

22 For the kings nauie of ships went on the Sea vnto Tharsis, with the nauie of Hiram his ships: euen once in three yeeres went the nauie to Tharsis, and brought gold & siluer, elephants teeth, apes, and peacocks.

23 And so king Solomon exceeded all the kings of the earth, both in riches and wisdome.

24 And all the world resorted to Solomon, to heare his wisdome which God had put in his heart:

25 And brought him euery man his present, vessels of siluer, and vessels of gold, raiment, harnesse, and sweet odours, and horses, and mules, yeere by yeere.

26 And * Solomon gathered together charets and horsemen. And he had a thousand and foure hundred charets, and twelue thousand horsemen, whom hee bestowed in the charet cities, and with the king at Hierusalem. 2.Chron.1.14.

27 And the king made siluer in Hierusalem as plenteous as stones, and Cedar as plenteous as the wilde figge trees, that grow abundantly in the fields.

28 Also Solomon had horses brought out of Egypt, and fine linnen: the ‖ kings merchants receiued the linnen for a price. ‖Or, for the companie of the kings merchants did receiue a number at a price.

29 A charet came vp out of Egypt ‖ for sixe hundred sicles of siluer, that is, one horse for an hundred and fiftie, and euen so for all the kings of the Hethites, and for the kings of Syria, did they bring them out ‖ through their hands. ‖Or, by their meanes.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Solomon had a thousand wiues and concubines, which bring him to idolatrie.

Deu.17.17.

But king Solomon loued manie outlandish women, & the * daughter of Pharao, and women of the Moabites, Ammonites, Edomites, Sidonits, and Hethites:

2 Whereas yet concerning these nations, the Lord sayd vnto the children of Israel, Goe not ree in to them, nor let them come in to you, els will they turne your hearts after their gods: neuertheless, Solomon claue vnto these in loue.

3 And hee had seuen hundred wiues that were queenes, and three hundred concubines: and his wiues turned away his heart.

4 For it came to passe when Solomon was olde, his wiues turned his heart after other gods: and his heart was not perfect with the Lord his God, as was the heart of Dauid his father.

5 For Solomon followed * Astaroth the god of the Sidons, and Milchom the abomination of the Amonites. Iudg.2.13.

6 And Solomon wrought wickednesse in the sight of the Lord, and followed not the Lord perfectly, as did Dauid his father.

7 For then did Solomon build an hie place for Chamos the abomination of Moab, in the hill that is before Hierusalem, and vnto Moloch the abomination of the children of Ammon.

8 And likewise did he for all his outlandish wiues, which burnt incense, and offered vnto their gods. b Here is appeareth what danger it is to ioyne with infidels, & wiues of straunge religion.

9 And the Lorde was angrie with Solomon, because his heart was turned from the Lord God of Israel, which had appeared vnto him twise,

10 And gaue him a charge concerning this thing, that he should not follow other gods: but hee kept not that which the Lorde commanded him.

11 Wherefore the Lord sayd vnto Solomon, Forasmuch as this is done of thee, and thou hast not kept mine appointment, and my statutes which I commanded thee, I will rent the kingdome from thee, and will giue it to thy seruant.

12 Notwithstanding, in thy dayes I will not do it, because of Dauid thy father: but will take it from the hand of thy sonne.

13 Howbeit, I will not take away all the kingdome: but will giue one c tribe to thy sonne, because of Dauid my seruant, and because of Hierusalem which I haue chosen. c Because the tribes of Iuda and Beniamin had their possessions wisely, they are here taken as one tribe.

14 And the Lord stirred vp an aduersarie vnto Solomon, euen one Hadad an Edomite, of the kings seed, which was in Edom.

15 For when Dauid was * in Edom, and Joab the captaine of the host was gone vp to burie them that were slaine, he smote all the men children in Edom: 2.King.8.14.

16 (For six moneths did Ioab remaine there, and all Israel, till hee had destroyed all the men children of Edom.)

17 And this Hadad fled, and certaine other Edomites of his fathers seruants with him, to come into Egypt: Hadad being yet a litle childe.

18 And they arose out of Madian, and came to Paran, and toothe men with them out of Paran, and came to Egypt, vnto Pharao king of Egypt, which gaue him an house, and appointed him victuals, and gaue him land.

19 And Hadad got great fauour in the sight of Pharao, so that he gaue him to wife the sister of his owne wife, euen the sister of Thahpenes the queene.

20 And the sister of Thahpenes bare him Genubath his sonne, whom Thahpenes nourished in Pharaos house: and Genubath was with Pharaos household among the sonnes of Pharao.

21 And when Hadad heard in Egypt that Dauid was layed to sleepe with his fathers, and that Joab the captaine of the host was dead also, he said to Pharao, Let me depart, that I may go to mine owne country.

22 Pharao sayde vnto him, What hast thou lacked heere with mee, that thou wouldest thus goe to thine owne country? He answered, Nothing: Howbeit, let me go.

24 And hee gathered men vnto him, and became captaine ouer the company when Dauid slew them: and they went to Damascus, and dwelt there, and reigned in Damascus.
25 Therefore was he an aduersary to Israel all the daies of Solomon, and this was the mischiefe, in that Hadad did abhorre Israel, & reigned ouer Syria.
2.Chr. 13.6
26 * And Ieroboam the sonne of Nebat, an Ephrathite, of Zareda (whose mother was called Zeruah, which was a widow) and hee Solomons seruant, lift vp his hande against the king.
27 But this was the cause that he lift vp his hand against the king: Solomon built Millo, and mended the broken places of the city of Dauid his father, 28 And his fellow Ieroboam was a man of strength and courage: and Solomon seeing the yoong man that hee was able to doe the worke, made him ruler ouer all the charge of the house of Ioseph.
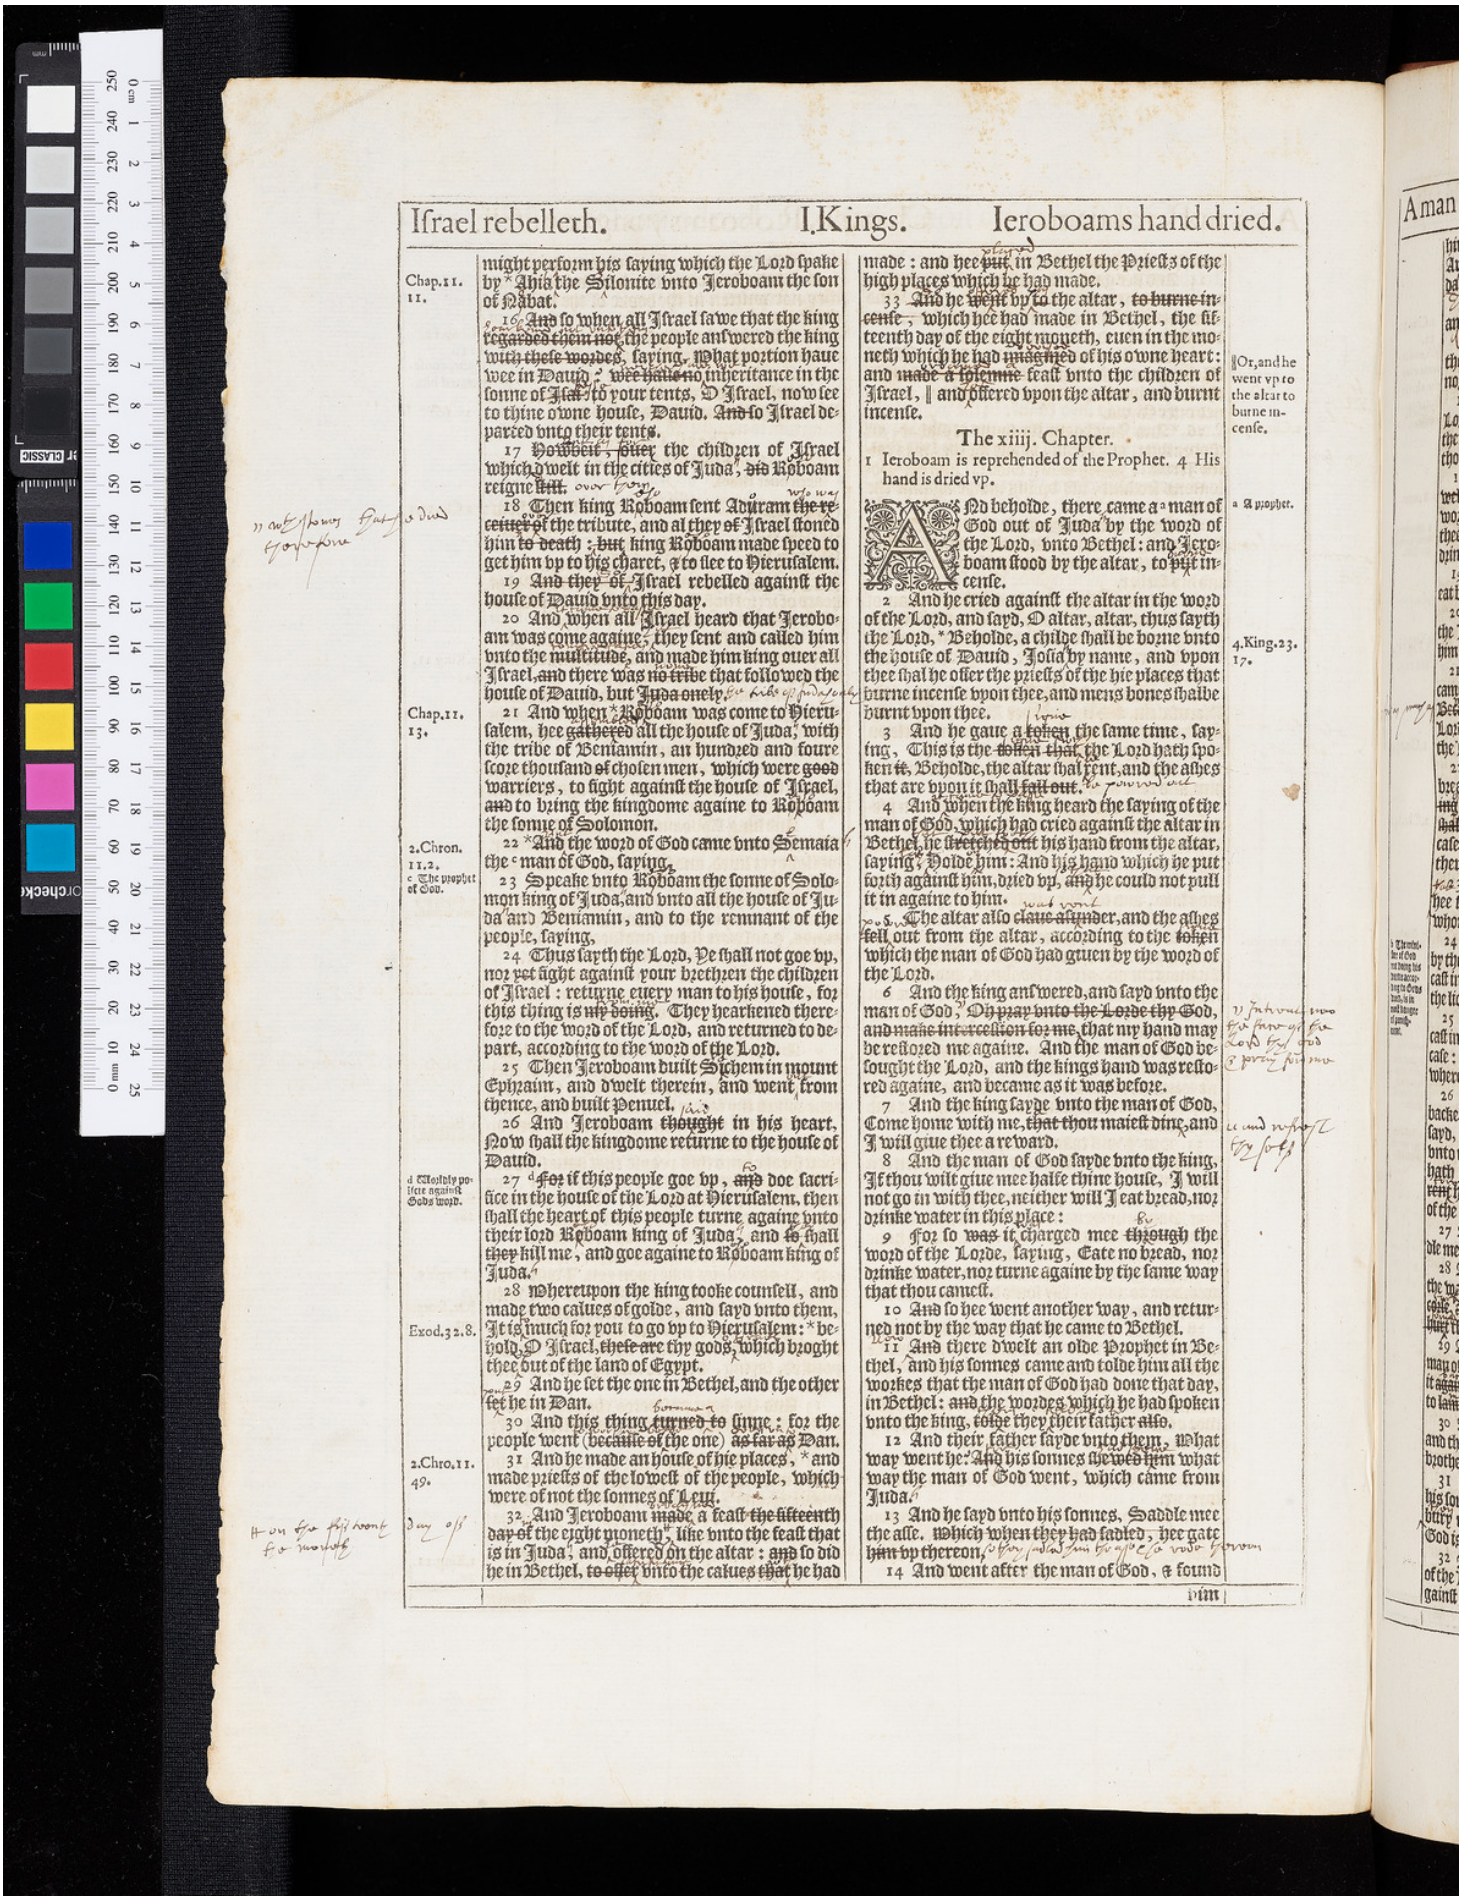
29 And at that season Ieroboam went out of Hierusalem, and the prophet Ahia the Silonite met him by the way, hauing a newe mantle on him, and they two were alone in the field.
30 Ahia caught the new mantle that was on him, and rent it in twelue pieces,
31 And sayd to Ieroboam, Take thee ten pieces: for thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I will rent the kingdome out of the hands of Solomon, and will giue ten tribes to thee.
32 And he shall haue one for my seruant Dauids sake, and for Hierusalem the city which I haue chosen out of all the tribes of Israel:
33 Because they haue forsaken me, and haue worshipped Asaroth the god of the Sidons, and Chamos the god of the Moabites, and Milcom the god of the children of Ammon, and haue not walked in my wayes, to fulfill my pleasure, my statutes, & my lawes, as did Dauid his father.
34 I will not take the whole kingdome out of his hand: but I will make him chiefe all his life long, for Dauid my seruants sake, whom I chose, because he kept my commandements and my statutes:
35 But I will take the kingdome out of his sonnes hand, and will giue it vnto thee, euen ten tribes of it:
36 And vnto his sonne will I giue one tribe, that Dauid my seruant may haue a light alway before me in Hierusalem, the city which I haue chosen me to put my Name there.
37 And I will take thee, and thou shalt reigne according to all that thy soule desireth, and shalt be king ouer Israel.
38 And if thou hearken vnto all that I command thee, and wilt walke in my wayes, and do that is right in my sight, that thou keepe my statutes, and my commandements, as Dauid my seruant did, then will I be with thee, and build thee a sure house, as I built for my seruant Dauid, and will giue Israel vnto thee.
39 And I will for this offence which Solomon hath committed, punish the seed of Dauid, but not for euer.
40 Solomon sought therefore to kil Ieroboam, and Ieroboam arose, and fled into Egypt, vnto Sisac king of Egypt, and continued there in Egypt vntill the death of Solomon.
41 The rest of the words that concerne Solomon, and all that he did, and his wisedome, are they not written in the booke of the wordes of Solomon?
42 The time that Solomon reigned in Hierusalem, vpon all Israel, was forty yeres.
43 And Solomon slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of Dauid his father: and Roboam his sonne reigned in his stead.



The xij. Chapter.

1 Roboam succeedeth Solomon. 20 Ieroboam reigneth ouer Israel.

AND * Roboam went to Sichem: for al Israel were come to Sichem to make him king.
2.Chr. 10.1.
2 And when Ieroboam the son of Nebat, which was yet in Egypt, heard of it (for he fled to Egypt from the presence of king Solomon, and dwelt in Egypt:)
3 So they sent, and called him: and Ieroboam and all the congregation of Israel came, and spake vnto Roboam, saying,
4 Thy father made our yoke grieuous, now therefore make thou the grieuous seruice of thy father, and his sore yoke which hee put vpon vs, lighter, and we will serue thee.
5 And he sayd vnto them, Depart yet for the space of three daies, and then come againe to me. And the people departed.
6 And king Roboam tooke counsel with the olde men that stood before Solomon his father, while he yet liued, and sayd, What counsell giue ye, that I may answere this people?
7 And they spake vnto him, a If thou be a seruant vnto this people this day, and follow their minds, & answere them, and speake kind words to them, they will be thy seruants for euer.
8 But he forsooke the counsell that the olde men had giuen him, and called vnto his counsell yong men, that were growen vp with him, and waited on him:
9 And he said vnto them, What counsel giue ye, that wee may answere this people? for they haue communed with mee, saying, Make the yoke which thy father did put vpon vs, lighter.
10 b And the yong men that were growen vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou speake vnto this people that haue spyd vnto thee, Thy father made our yoke heauy, but make thou it lighter vnto vs: * euen thus shalt thou say vnto them, My little finger shall bee weightier then my father was in the loines.
Eccl.u.47. 28.
11 And now, whereas my father did lade you, and put a grieuous yoke vpon you, I will make it heauier: my father hath chastised you with rods, but I will torment you with ‖ scourges.
‖ Or, scorpions.
12 And so Ieroboam and all the people came to Roboam the third day, as the king had appointed, saying, Come to mee againe the third day.
13 And the king answered the people churlishly, and left the olde mens counsell that they gaue him:
14 And spake to them after the counsell of the yoong men, saying, My father made your yoke grieuous, and I will make it grieuouter: my father also chastised you with rods, but I wil chastise you with scourges.

might perfoorm his saying which the Lord spake by *Ahia the Silonite vnto Ieroboam the son of Nabat.

Chap.11. 11.

16 And so when all Israel sawe that the king regarded them not, the people answered the king with these wordes, saying, What portion haue wee in Dauid? wee haue no inheritance in the sonne of Iesai: to your tents, O Israel, now see to thine owne house, Dauid. And so Israel departed vnto their tents.

17 Howbeit, ouer the children of Israel which dwelt in the cities of Juda, did Roboam reigne still.

18 Then king Roboam sent Aduram the receiuer of the tribute, and all they of Israel stoned him to death: but king Roboam made speed to get him vp to his charet, to flee to Hierusalem.

19 And they of Israel rebelled against the house of Dauid vnto this day.

20 And when all Israel heard that Ieroboam was come againe, they sent and called him vnto the multitude, and made him king ouer all Israel, and there was no tribe that followed the house of Dauid, but Juda onely.

Chap.11. 13.

21 And when *Roboam was come to Hierusalem, hee gathered all the house of Juda, with the tribe of Beniamin, an hundred and foure score thousand of cholen men, which were good warriers, to fight against the house of Israel, and to bring the kingdome againe to Roboam the sonne of Solomon.

2.Chron. 11.2. c The prophet of God.

22 *And the word of God came vnto Semaia the c man of God, saying,

23 Speake vnto Roboam the sonne of Solomon king of Juda, and vnto all the house of Juda and Beniamin, and to the remnant of the people, saying,

24 Thus sayth the Lord, Ye shall not goe vp, nor yet fight against your brethren the children of Israel: returne euery man to his house, for this thing is my doing. They hearkened therefore to the word of the Lord, and returned to depart, according to the word of the Lord.

25 Then Ieroboam built Sichem in mount Ephraim, and dwelt therein, and went from thence, and built Penuel.

26 And Ieroboam thought in his heart, Now shall the kingdome returne to the house of Dauid.

d Wickedly perfoorming against Gods word.

27 d For if this people goe vp, and doe sacrifice in the house of the Lord at Hierusalem, then shall the heart of this people turne againe vnto their lord Roboam king of Juda, and they shall kill me, and goe againe to Roboam king of Juda.

28 Whereupon the king tooke counsell, and made two calues of golde, and sayd vnto them, It is much for you to go vp to Hierusalem: *behold, O Israel, these are thy gods, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt.

29 And he set the one in Bethel, and the other set he in Dan.

30 And this thing turned to sinne: for the people went (because of the one) as far as Dan.

2.Chro.11. 31 And he made an house of hie places, *and made priests of the lowest of the people, which were of not the sonnes of Leui.

32 And Ieroboam made a feast the fifteenth day of the eight moneth, like vnto the feast that is in Juda, and offered on the altar: and so did he in Bethel, to offer vnto the calues that he had made: and hee put in Bethel the Priests of the high places which he had made.

33 And he went vp to the altar, to burne incense, which hee had made in Bethel, the fifteenth day of the eight moneth, euen in the moneth which he had imagined of his owne heart: and made a solemne feast vnto the children of Israel, ‖ and offered vpon the altar, and burnt incense.

‖Or, and he went vp to the altar to burne incense.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 Ieroboam is reprehended of the Prophet. 4 His hand is dried vp.

AND beholde, there came a a man of God out of Juda by the word of the Lord, vnto Bethel: and Ieroboam stood by the altar, to put incense.

a A prophet.

2 And he cried against the altar in the word of the Lord, and sayd, O altar, altar, thus sayth the Lord, *Beholde, a childe shall be borne vnto the house of Dauid, Josia by name, and vpon thee shal he offer the priests of the hie places that burne incense vpon thee, and mens bones shalbe burnt vpon thee.

4.King.23. 17.

3 And he gaue a token the same time, saying, This is the token that the Lord hath spoken it, Beholde, the altar shall rent, and the ashes that are vpon it shall fall out.

4 And when the king heard the saying of the man of God, which had cried against the altar in Bethel, he stretched out his hand from the altar, saying, Holde him: And his hand which he put forth against him, dried vp, and he could not pull it in againe to him.

5 The altar also claue asunder, and the ashes fell out from the altar, according to the token which the man of God had giuen by the word of the Lord.

6 And the king answered, and sayd vnto the man of God, Oh pray vnto the Lorde thy God, and make intercession for me, that my hand may be restored me againe. And the man of God besought the Lord, and the kings hand was restored againe, and became as it was before.

7 And the king sayde vnto the man of God, Come home with me, and refresh thy selfe, and I will giue thee a reward.

8 And the man of God sayde vnto the king, If thou wilt giue mee halfe thine house, I will not go in with thee, neither will I eat bread, nor drinke water in this place:

9 For so was it charged mee through the word of the Lorde, saying, Eate no bread, nor drinke water, nor turne againe by the same way that thou camest.

10 And so hee went another way, and returned not by the way that he came to Bethel.

11 And there dwelt an olde Prophet in Bethel, and his sonnes came and tolde him all the workes that the man of God had done that day, in Bethel: and the wordes which he had spoken vnto the king, tolde they their father also.

12 And their father sayde vnto them, What way went he? And his sonnes shewed him what way the man of God went, which came from Juda.

13 And he sayd vnto his sonnes, Saddle mee the asse. Which when they had saddled, hee gate him vp thereon, him sitting vnder an oke, and he sayd vnto him, Art thou the man of God that camest from Iuda? And he sayd, I am.

15 He sayd vnto him, Come home with me, and eat bread.

16 Hee answered, I may not returne with thee, to go in with thee: neither wil I eat bread, nor drinke water with thee in this place.

17 For it was sayd to mee in the word of the Lord, Thou shalt eat no bread, nor drinke water there, nor turne againe to goe by the way that thou camest.

18 He sayd vnto him, I am a Prophet also as well as thou, and an Angel spake vnto me in the word of the Lord, saying, Bring him again with thee into thine house, that he may eat bread, and drinke water: And he lied vnto him.

19 And so he went againe with him, and did eat bread in his house, and dranke water.

20 And as they sate at the table, the word of the Lord came vnto the Prophet that brought him againe.

21 And hee cried vnto the man of God that came from Iuda, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, Because thou hast disobeyed the mouth of the Lord, & hast not kept the commandement which the Lord thy God commanded thee, 22 But camest backe againe, and hast eaten bread, and drunke water, in the place concerning the which the Lord did say vnto thee, Thou shalt eat no bread, nor drinke no water: thy carcase shall not come vnto the sepulchre of thy fathers.

23 And when he had eaten bread, and drunke, hee sadled him the asse, to wit, to the Prophet whom he had brought againe.

b The minister of God not doing his dutie according to Gods word, is in meid danger of punishment.

24 And when he was gone, b a lion met him by the way, and slew him: and his carcase was cast in the way, and the asse stood thereby, and the lion stood by the corse also.

25 And men that passed by, sawe the carcase cast in the way, and the lion standing by the carcase: and they came and tolde it in the Towne where the old prophet dwelt.

26 And when the Prophet that brought him backe againe from the way, heard thereof, hee sayd, It is the man of God, he was disobedient vnto the word of the Lord, & therefore the Lord hath deliuered him vnto the lion, which hath rent him, and slaine him, according to the word of the Lord which he spake vnto him.

27 And he spake to his sonnes, saying, Saddle me an asse. And they sadled him.

28 And hee went, and found his body cast in the way, and the asse and the lion stood by the corse, and the lion had not eaten the carcase, nor hurt the asse.

29 And the Prophet tooke vp the body of the man of God, and layd it vpon the asse, & brought it againe: and the olde prophet came to the city, to lament, and to bury him.

30 And he layed his body in his owne graue, and they lamented ouer him, saying, Alas my brother.

31 And when he had buried him, he spake to his sonnes, saying, When I am dead, see that ye bury mee in the sepulchre wherein the man of God is buried: lay my bones beside his bones.

32 For the saying which he cried at the word of the Lorde against the altar in Bethel, and against all the houses of high places which are in the cities of Samaria, shall come to passe.

33 Howbeit, for all that, Ieroboam conuerted not from his wicked way: but turned backe, and made of the lowest of the people Priests of the high places: * and whosoeuer pleased him, hee ‖filled his hand, and he became priest of the high places.

Chap. 12. 13. ‖Or, consecrated him.

34 And this thing turned to sinne, vnto the house of Ieroboam, euen to destroy him, and to bring him to nought, & off the face of the earth.

The xiiij. Chapter.

2 Ieroboam sendeth his wife disguised to Ahia the Prophet, who declareth vnto him the destruction of his house.

AT that time Abia the sonne of Ieroboam fell sicke.

2 And Ieroboam sayde to his wife, Vp, I pray thee, and disguise thy selfe, that thou be not knowen to be the wife of Ieroboam: and get thee to Silo: for there is Ahia the Prophet, * which tolde me that I should be king ouer this people.

3.King.11. 31.

3 And take with thee ten loaues, and crackneis, and a cruse of hony, and goe to him, that he may tell thee what shall become of the childe.

4 And Ieroboams wife did so, and arose, and went to Silo, and came to the house of Ahia: but Ahia could not see: for his eyes were waxen dim for age.

5 And the Lord sayd vnto Ahia, Behold, the wife of Ieroboam commeth to aske a thing of thee for her sonne: for hee is sicke: but thus and thus shalt thou say vnto her. And when she came in, she fained herselfe to be another woman.

6 But when Ahia heard the sound of her feet, as she came in at the doore, he sayd, Come in thou wife of Ieroboam, why fainest thou thy selfe to be another? I am sent to thee to shewe thee heauy things.

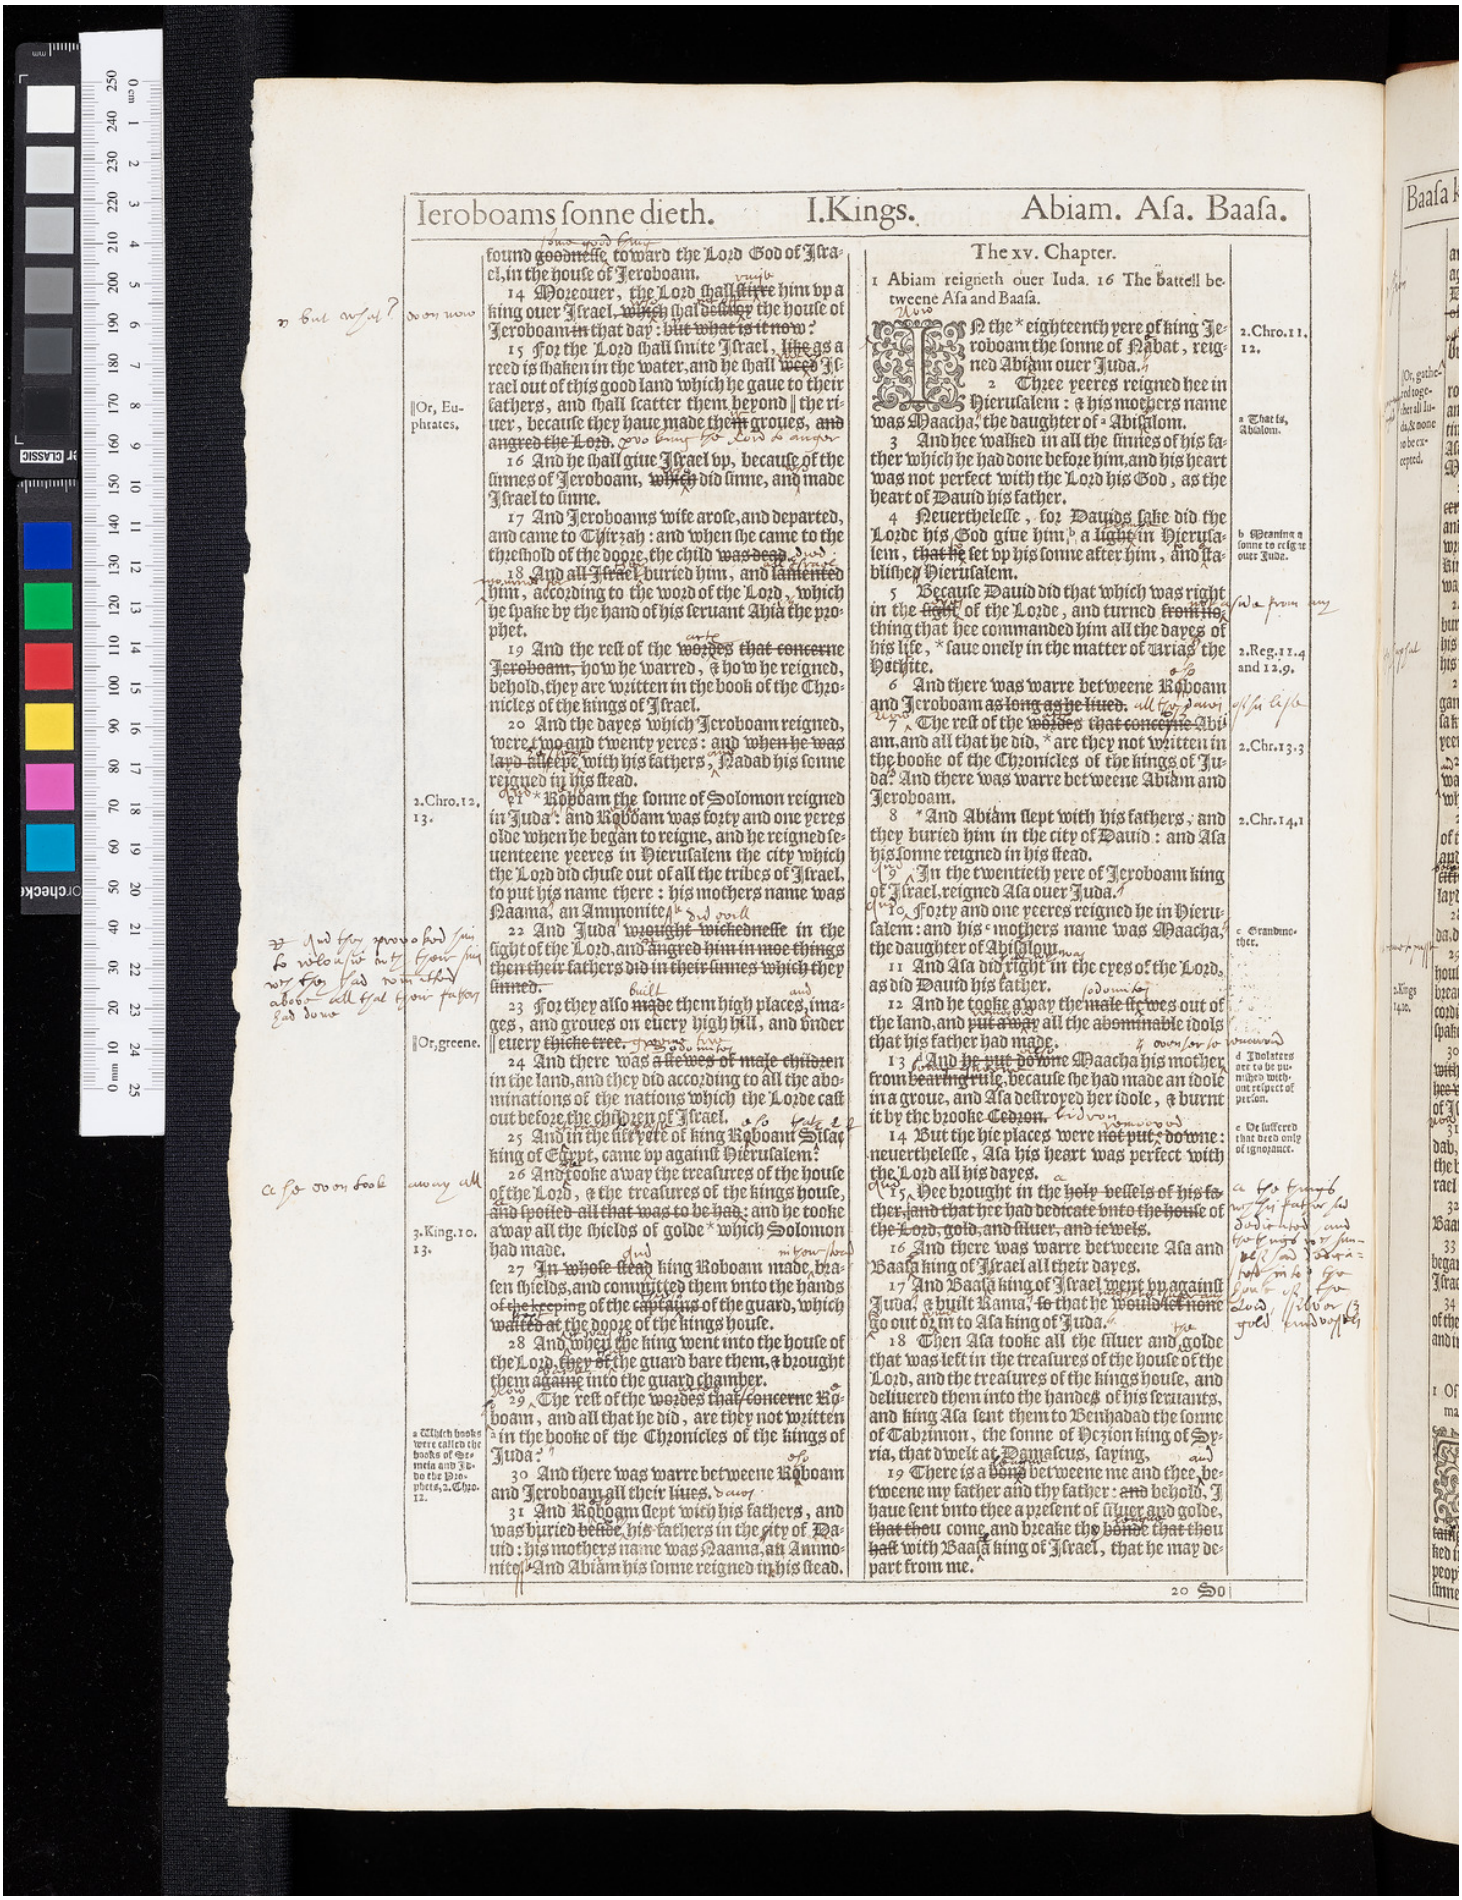
7 Goe tell Ieroboam, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, Forasmuch as I exalted thee from among the people, and made thee prince ouer my people Israel,

8 And haue rent the kingdome away from the house of Dauid, and gaue it thee: neuertheless, thou hast not bene as my seruant Dauid, which kept my commandements, and followed me with all his heart, to doe that onely which was right in mine eyes:

9 But hast done euil aboue all that were before thee: for thou hast gone and made thee other gods, and molten images, to prouoke mee, and hast cast me behinde thy backe:

10 * Therefore behold, I will bring euill vpon the house of Ieroboam, & will roote out from Ieroboam, euen him that pisseth against the wall, and him that is inclosed and forsaken in Israel, and will take away the remnant of the house of Ieroboam, as a man taketh away dung, till he hath caried out all.

3.King.15. 29.



11 Whosoeuer of Ieroboams house die in the towne, him shall the dogs eat: and he that dieth in the field, shal the fowles of the aire eat: for the Lord hath sayd it.

12 Vp therefore, and get thee to thine owne house: Beholde, when thy foot entreth into the city, the childe shall die, 14 Moreouer, the Lord shall smite him vp a king ouer Israel, which shall destroy the house of Ieroboam in that day: but what is it now?

15 For the Lord shall smite Israel, like as a reed is shaken in the water, and he shall root Israel out of this good land which he gaue to their fathers, and shall scatter them beyond ‖ the riuer, because they haue made them groues, and angred the Lord.

16 And he shall giue Israel vp, because of the sinnes of Ieroboam, which did sinne, and made Israel to sinne.

17 And Ieroboams wife arose, and departed, and came to Thirzah: and when she came to the threshold of the doore, the child was dead.

18 And all Israel buried him, and lamented him, according to the word of the Lord, which he spake by the hand of his seruant Ahia the prophet.

19 And the rest of the wordes that concerne Ieroboam, how he warred, & how he reigned, behold, they are written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel.

21 * Roboam the sonne of Solomon reigned in Iuda. And Roboam was forty and one yeres olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned seuenteene yeeres in Hierusalem the city which the Lord did chuse out of all the tribes of Israel, to put his name there: his mothers name was Naama, an Ammonite.

22 And Iuda wrought wickednesse in the sight of the Lord, and angred him in moe things then their fathers did in their sinnes which they sinned.

23 For they also made them high places, images, and groues on euery high hill, and vnder ‖ euery thicke tree.

24 And there was a fewes of male children in the land, and they did according to all the abominations of the nations which the Lorde cast out before the children of Israel.

25 And in the fift yere of king Roboam Sisak king of Egypt, came vp against Hierusalem:

26 And tooke away the treasures of the house of the Lord, & the treasures of the kings house, and spoiled all that was to be had: and he tooke away all the shields of golde * which Solomon had made.

27 In whose stead king Roboam made brasen shields, and committed them vnto the hands of the keeping of the captains of the guard, which waited at the doore of the kings house.

15 And she went, and did as Elias sayd: and she and he, and her house did eate a good space.

16 And the meale wasted not out of the barrell, neither was the pise spent out of the cruse, according to the worde of the Lord which hee spake by the hand of Elias.

17 And after these things, the sonne of the wife of the house fell sicke, and his sickenesse was so sore, that there was no breath left in him.

18 And shee sayd vnto Elias, What haue I to doe with thee, O thou man of God? Art thou come vnto me to call my sinne againe to remembrance, and to slay my sonne?

19 He sayd vnto her, Giue me thy sonne. And he tooke him out of her lap, and caried him vp into a loft where hee abode, and layd him vpon his owne bed:

24 And the woman sayd vnto Elias, Now I know we that thou art a man of God, and that the word of the Lord in thy mouth is true.

The xviij. Chapter.

1 Elias is sent to Achab. 13 Obadia hideth an hundred prophets. 40 Elias killeth all Baals prophets.

After many dayes the word of the Lorde came to Elias in the third yeere, saying, Goe shewe thy selfe vnto Achab, and I will send raine vpon the earth.
2 And Elias went to shewe himselfe vnto Achab, and there was a great famine in Samaria.
3 And Achab called Obadia, which was the gouernour of his house: (and Obadia feared God greatly.
4 For when Jezabel destroyed the Prophets of the Lorde, Obadia tooke an hundred Prophets, and hid them by fifties in a caue, and prouided bread and water for them.)
5 And Achab sayd vnto Obadia, Goe into the land, vnto all fountaines of water, and vnto all brookes, if so that we may find grasse to saue the horses and mules aliue, that all the beasts perish not.
6 So they diuided the land betweene them, to walke thorow out it: Achab went one way by himselfe, and Obadia went another way by himselfe.
7 And as Obadia was in the way, beholde, Elias met him: and hee knewe him, and fell on his face, and sayd, Art not thou my lord Elias?
8 And hee answered him, I am he: goe and tell thy lord, Behold, Elias is here.
9 Hee sayd, What haue I sinned, that thou wouldest deliuer thy seruant into the hand of Achab, to slay me?
10 As the Lord thy God liueth, there is no nation or kingdom, whither my lord hath not sent to seeke thee: and when they sayd, Hee is not there, he tooke an othe of the kingdom and nation, when he found thee not.
11 And now thou sayest, Go and tell thy lord that Elias is here.
12 And as soone as I am gone from thee, the spirit of the Lord shall carie thee into some place that I doe not know, and so when I come and tell Achab, and he cannot find thee, hee shall slay me: but I thy seruant feare the Lord from my youth vp.
13 Was it not told my lord, what I did when Jezabel slew the Prophets of the Lord? how I hid an hundred men of the Lords Prophets, fifty men in one caue, and fifty in another, and prouided them of bread and water?
14 And thou sayest, Goe thou now and shewe thy lord, Beholde, Elias is here: that hee may slay me.
15 And Elias said, As the Lord of hosts liueth, before whom I stand, I will shewe my selfe vnto him this day.
16 So Obadia went to meet Achab, and told him: and Achab went to meete Elias.
17 And when Achab saw Elias, he sayd vnto him, Art thou hee that troubleth Israel?
18 He answered, It is not I that haue troubled Israel, but thou and thy fathers house, in that yee haue forsaken the commandements of the Lord, and thou hast followed Baal.
19 Now therefore send, and gather to mee all Israel vnto mount Carmel, and the prophets of Baal, foure hundred and fiftie, and the prophets of the groues, foure hundred, which eate at Jezabels table.
20 So Achab sent vnto all the children of Israel, and gathered the prophets together vnto mount Carmel.
21 And Elias came vnto all the people, and sayd, Howe long [b] halt yee betweene two opinions? If the Lord bee God, follow him: but if Baal be hee, then goe after him. And the people answered him not one word.
22 Then sayde Elias vnto the people againe, I onely remaine a Prophet of the Lorde: but Baals [c] prophets are foure hundred and fifty.
23 Let them therefore giue vs two oxen, and let them chuse the one, and cut him in pieces, and lay him on wood, and put no fire vnder: and I will dresse the other ox, and lay him on wood, and put no fire vnder.
24 And call ye on the name of your gods, and I will call on the name of the Lord: and then the God that answereth by fire, let him bee God. And all the people answered, and sayd, It is well spoken.
25 And Elias said vnto the prophets of Baal, Chuse you an ox, and dresse him first, for yee are many: and call on the name of your gods, but put no fire vnder.
26 And they tooke the one ox that he did giue them, and they dressed it, and called on the name of Baal from morning vntill noone, saying, O Baal heare vs. But there was no voice, nor one that answered: And they leapt vpon the altar that they had made.
27 And at noone Elias mocked them, and said, Cry loud, for he is a god, peraduenture he is talking, or occupied in following vpon his enemies, or in his iourney, or it may bee he sleepeth, and must be awaked with your crie.
28 And they cried loud, and cut themselues, as their maner was, with knyues and launsers, till the blood followed on them.
29 And when midday was past, they prophesied vntill the time of the offering sacrifice, but there was neither voice, nor one to answere, nor any that regarded them.
30 And Elias sayd vnto all the people, Come to mee. And all the people came to him: and hee repaired the altar of the Lorde that was broken.
31 And Elias tooke twelue stones, according to the number of the twelue tribes of the sonnes of Jacob, vnto whome the word of the Lord came, saying, Israel shall be thy name. Gen. 32. 28. 4. reg. 17. 34.
32 And with the stones hee made an altar in the name of the Lord: and he made a ditch about the altar, as great as would containe two measures of seede.
33 And he put the wood in order, and hewed the ox in pieces, and laid him on the wood, and sayd, Fill foure barrels with water, and powre it on the whole burnt sacrifice, and on the wood.
34 And hee sayd, Doe so againe. And they did so the second time. And hee sayd againe, Doe it the third time. And they did it the thirde time.

35 And the water ran round about the altar, and he filled the pit with water also.

36 And when they should offer the euening sacrifice, Elias the Prophet came, and saide, Lord God of Abraham, Isaac, and of Israel, it shall bee knowen this day that thou art the God in Israel, and that I am thy seruant, and that I haue done all these things at thy commandement.

37 Heare mee, O Lord, heare mee, that this people may knowe that thou art the Lord God, and that thou hast turned their heart againe now at the last.

38 And the fire of the Lord fell, and consumed the whole burnt sacrifice, and the wood, and the stones, and the dust, and licked vp the water that was in the pit.

39 And when all the people saw it, they fel on their faces, and saide, The Lord hee is God, the Lord he is God.

40 And Elias saide vnto them, Take the prophets of Baal, and let not one of them escape. And they tooke them, and Elias brought them downe to the brooke Kison, and slew them there.

d Elias slew Baals prophets.

41 And Elias said vnto Ahab, Get thee vp, eate, and drinke, for there is a sounde of much raine.

42 And so Ahab went vp to eat and to drinke: and Elias went vp to the top of Carmel, and hee layed himselfe flat vpon the earth, and put his face betweene his knees, 43 And said to his seruant, Go vp, I pray thee, and looke toward the way of the Sea. And hee went vp, and looked, and saide, There is nothing. And againe hee sayde, Goe againe seuen times.

44 And at the seuenth time, he said, Beholde, there ariseth a little cloude out of the Sea, like a mans hand. Hee saide, Goe and say vnto Ahab, Prepare thy charet and get thee downe, that the raine stop thee not.

45 And in the meane while the heauen was blacke with cloudes and winde, and there was a great raine: and Ahab gate vp, and came to Jezrahel.

46 And the hande of the Lord was on Elias, and he girded vp his loynes, and ranne before Ahab, till he came to Jezrahel.

The xix. Chapter.

1 Elias fleeing from Iezabel, is nourished by the Angel of God. 15 Hee is commanded to anoint Hazael, Iehu, and Elizeus.

AND Ahab tolde Jezabel all that Elias had done, and how he had slaine all the prophets with the sword.

2 Then Jezabel sent a messenger vnto Elias, saying, So and so let the gods doe to mee, if I make not thy soule like one of theirs, by to morrow this time.

3 And when he saw that, hee arose, and went for his life, and came to Beersheba in Juda, and left his seruant there.

4 But he himselfe went a dayes iourney into the wildernesse, and came and sate downe vnder a Juniper tree, and hee desired for his soule that he might die, and saide, It is now enough, O Lord, take my soule: for I am not better then my fathers.

5 And as he lay and slept vnder the Juniper tree, beholde, an Angel touched him, and saide, Vp, and eate.

6 And when hee looked about him, beholde, there was a cake baken on the coales, and a vessell of water at his head: and hee did eate and drinke, and layde him downe againe to sleepe.

7 And the Angel of the Lord came againe the second time, and touched him, and saide, Vp, and eate, for thou hast yet a great iourney.

8 And he arose, and did eate and drinke, and walked in the strength of that meate fourtie dayes and fourtie nights, euen vnto Horeb, the mount of God.

9 And hee came thither vnto a caue, and lodged there all night, and beholde, the word of the Lord came to him, and saide vnto him, What doest thou here, Elias?

10 And he answered, *I haue bene iealous for the Lord God of hostes sake: for the children of Israel haue forsaken thy Couenant, broken downe thine Altars, and slaine thy Prophets with the sworde: and I onely am left, and they seeke my life, to take it away. Rom.11.3.

11 And he said, Come out, and stand vpon the mount before the Lord. And beholde, the Lord went by, and a mightie strong winde that rent the mountaines, and brake the rockes before the Lord, but the Lord was not in the winde: and after the winde came an earthquake, but the Lord was not in the earthquake:

12 And after the earthquake, came fire, but the Lord was not in the fire: and after the fire came a small still voyce.

13 And when Elias heard, hee couered his face with his mantell, and went out, and stood in the entring in of the caue: and beholde, there came a voyce vnto him, and saide, What doest thou here, Elias?

14 And hee answered, I haue bene iealous for the Lord God of hostes sake, because the children of Israel haue forsaken thy Couenant, cast downe thine Altars, and slaine thy Prophets with the sworde, and I onely am left, and they seeke my life, to take it away.

15 And the Lord said vnto him, Go, and turne thy way to the wildernesse, vnto Damascus: and when thou comest there, anoynt Hazael king ouer Syria:

16 And Jehu, sonne of Nimsi, shalt thou anoynt king ouer Israel: and Elizeus the sonne of Saphat of Abel Meholah, shalt thou anoynt to be Prophet in thy roume.

17 *And whoso escapeth the sworde of Hazael, him shall Jehu slay: and if any man scape the sworde of Jehu, him shall Elizeus put to death. 4. Reg.9.1. Eccle.48.8.

18 *And I haue left mee seuen thousande in Israel, all which neuer man did bowe his knees vnto Baal, nor kissed him with his mouth. Rom.11.4. a Which: that is, worshippers are not of God.

19 So hee departed thence, and found Elizeus the sonne of Saphat, plowing, and hauing twelue yoke of oxen before him, and he with the twelfe: and Elias went by him, and cast his mantle vpon him.

20 And he left the oxen, and ranne after Elias, and said, Let me, I pray thee, kisse my father and my mother, and then I will follow thee. He saide vnto him, Goe backe againe, for what is it that I haue done to thee?

21 And when hee went backe againe from him, hee toohe a couple of oren, and slewe them, and dressed the flesh, with the instruments of the oren, and gaue vnto the people, and they did eat: and then he arose, and went after Elias, and ministred vnto him.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Samaria is besieged. 13 The Lord promiseth the victorie to Achab by a Prophet.

AND Benhadad the king of Syria gathered all his hoste together, hauing thirtie and two kings with him, and horses, and charets, and went vp, and besieged Samaria, and warred against it.

2 And he sent messengers to Achab king of Israel, into the citie, and saide vnto him, Thus saith Benhadad,

3 Thy siluer and thy golde is mine, and the fairest of thy wiues and of thy children be mine.

4 And the king of Israel answered, and saide, My lord king, according to thy saying, I am thine, and all that I haue.

5 And when the messengers came againe, they saide, Thus saith Benhadad, For as much as I haue sent vnto thee, saying, Thou shalt deliuer me thy siluer, and thy gold, and thy wiues, and thy children:

6 I will therefore sende my seruants vnto thee to morow this time, and they shall search thine house, and the houses of thy seruants, and whatsoeuer is pleasant in thine eyes, they shall take it in their hands, and bring it away.

7 Then the king of Israel sent for all the Elders of the land, and said, Take heed, I pray you, and see how this fellow seeketh mischiefe: for hee sent vnto mee for my wiues, for my children, for my siluer, and for my gold, and I denied him not.

8 And all the Elders, and all the people said, Hearken not vnto him, nor consent.

9 Wherefore he said vnto the messengers of Benhadad, Tell my lord the king, All that thou diddest sende for to thy seruant at the first time, that I will doe: but this thing I may not doe. And the messengers departed, and brought answere againe.

10 And Benhadad sent vnto him againe, and said, Thus and thus do the gods vnto mee, if the dust of Samaria bee enough for all the people that follow me, to take euery man an handfull.

11 And the king of Israel answered, and said, Tell him, Let not him that putteth on his harnesse, boast himselfe, as he that putteth it off.

12 And when Benhadad heard that (for hee was drinking with the kings in the pauilions) hee said vnto his seruants, Put your selues in order. And they set themselues in aray against the citie.

13 And behold, there came a Prophet vnto Achab king of Israel, saying, Thus saieth the Lord, Hast thou seene all this great multitude? behold, I will deliuer it into thine hand this day, and thou shalt know that I am the Lord.

14 And Achab said, By whom? He said, Thus saith the Lord, Euen by the seruants of the gouernours of the shires. Hee said againe, Who shall order the battell? And he answered, Thou.

15 Then hee numbred the seruants of the gouernours of the shires, and they were two hundred and thirtie and two: and after them hee numbred all the people of the children of Israel, euen seuen thousand.

16 And they went out at noone: But Benhadad did drinke till he was drunken in the pauilions, both hee and the kings, euen thirtie and two kings that holpe him.

17 And the seruants of the gouernours of the shires went out first, & Benhadad sent out, and they shewed him, saying, There are men come out of Samaria.

18 He saide, Whether they be come out for peace, take them aliue: or whether they be come out to fight, take them yet aliue.

19 And so those young men of the gouernours of the shires, came out of the citie, and the hoste after them: and followed him.

20 And they slewe euery one his enemie that came in his way: and the Syrians fled, and they of Israel followed after them: and Benhadad the king of Syria escaped on a horse, with his horsemen.

21 And the king of Israel went out, & smote the horses and charets, and with a great slaughter slew he the Syrians.

22 (And there came a Prophet to the king of Israel, and saide vnto him, Goe thorth, and play the man, be wise and take heed what thou doest: for when the yeere is gone about, the king of Syria will come vp against thee.)

23 And the seruants of the king of Syria saide vnto him, The gods of the hilles are their gods, and therefore they had the better of vs: but let vs fight against them in the plaine, and for what ye will we shall haue the better of them.

24 And this doe, Take the kings away, euery man out of his place, and put rulers in their roumes:

25 And number thee an hoste, like the hoste that thou hast lost, such horses, and such charets, and we will fight against them in the plaine, and thou shalt see vs get the better of them. And hee hearkened vnto their voyce, and did euen so.

26 And after the yeere was gone about, Benhadad numbred the Syrians, and went vp to Aphek, to fight against Israel.

27 And the children of Israel were numbred, and with their whole number went they against them, and the children of Israel pitched before them, like two little flocks of kids: but the Syrians filled the countrey.

28 And there came a man of God, and said vnto the king of Israel, Thus saith the Lord, Because the Syrians haue said, The Lord is but God of the hilles, and not God of the valleys: therefore wil I deliuer all this great multitude into thine hande, and yee shall know that I am the Lord.

29 And they pitched one ouer against the other seuen dayes, and in the seuenth day the battell was ioyned: and the children of Israel slew of the Syrians an hundred thousand footemen in one day.

30 But the rest fled to Aphek, into the citie, and there fell a wall vpon twentie and seuen thousand of the men that were left: and Benhadad fled, and came into the citie, from chamber to chamber.

31 And his seruants said vnto him, Behold, we haue heard say that the kings of the house of Israel are mercifull kings: wee will therefore put ſackcloth about our loines, and ropes about our heads, and goe out to the king of Iſrael, it may be he will ſaue thy life.

32 And ſo they girded ſackcloth about their loynes, and put ropes about their heads, and came to the king of Iſrael, and ſaid, Thy ſeruant Benhadad ſaith, I pray thee, let mee liue. Hee ſaid, Is he yet aliue? he is my brother.

33 And the men tooke that woorde for good luck, and haſtily caught it out of his mouth, and ſaid, Yea, thy brother Benhadad. He ſaid, Goe, bring him hither. And Benhadad came out vnto him, & he cauſed him to come vp into the charet.

34 And hee ſaide vnto him, The cities which my father tooke from thy father, I wil reſtore againe, & thou ſhalt make ſtreets for thee in Damaſcus, as my father did in Samaria: and I wil make an appointment with thee, and ſende thee away. And ſo hee made an appointment with him, and ſent him away.

35 And there was a certaine man of the children of the Prophets, which ſaid vnto his neighbour in the woord of the Lord, Smite me, I pray thee. And the man would not ſmite him.

36 Then ſaid he vnto him, Becauſe thou haſt not hearkened vnto the voyce of the Lord, beholde, as ſoone as thou art departed from mee, a Lion ſhal ſlay thee. And aſſoone as he was departed from him, a Lion found him, and ſlew him.

37 Then hee found another man, and ſaide, Smite me, I pray thee. And the man ſmote him, ſo that in ſmiting he wounded him.

38 So the Prophet went footh, and waited for the king by the way, and put himſelfe out of knowledge, with aſhes which he layed vpon his face.

39 And when the king came by, he cried vnto the king, and ſaid, Thy ſeruant went out in the middes of the battell, and beholde, there went a way a man, whom another man brought vnto me, and ſaid, Keepe this man: and if he be miſſed, or loſt, thy life ſhall goe for his, or els thou ſhalt pay a talent of ſiluer.

40 And as thy ſeruant had here and there to doe, he was gone. And the king of Iſrael ſaid vnto him, Euen ſo ſhall thy iudgement be, as thou haſt giuen ſentence.

41 And hee haſted, and tooke the aſhes away from his face, and the king of Iſrael knew him that he was of the Prophets:

42 And hee ſaide vnto him, *Thus ſaith the Lord, Becauſe thou haſt let go out of thy hand a man whom I appointed to die, thy life ſhall goe for his life, and thy people for his people.

43 And the king of Iſrael went to his houſe, heauie, & in diſpleaſure, and came to Samaria.

The xxj. Chapter.

8 Iezabel commandeth to kill Naboth for the vineyard that hee refuſed to ſell to Achab. 19 Elias reproueth Achab, and he repenteth.

After theſe things, Naboth the Iezrahelite had a vineyarde in Iezrahel, hard by the palace of Achab, king of Samaria.

2 And Achab ſpake vnto Naboth, ſaying, Giue me thy vineyard, that I may make me a garden of herbes thereof, becauſe it lyeth ſo nigh my houſe, and I will giue thee for it a better vineyard then it is: or rather if it pleaſe thee, I will giue thee the worth of it in money.

3 And Naboth ſaid to Achab, The Lord forbid that from mee, that I ſhould giue the inheritance of my fathers vnto thee.

4 And Achab came into the houſe, heauie, and diſpleaſed, becauſe of the woord which Naboth the Iezrahelite had ſpoken to him: for hee had ſaide, I will not giue thee the inheritance of my fathers: and hee layed him downe vpon his bed, and turned away his face, and would eate no bread.

5 But Iezabel his wife came to him, and ſaid vnto him, Why is thy ſpirit ſo ſad, that thou eateſt no bread?

6 And he ſaid vnto her, For I ſpake vnto Naboth the Iezrahelite, and ſaide vnto him, Giue mee thy vineyard for money, or elſe if it pleaſe thee, I wil giue thee another vineyard for it: And he anſwered, I will not giue thee my vineyard.

7 And Iezabel his wife ſaide vnto him, [a] Doeſt thou now gouerne the kingdome of Iſrael? vp, and eate bread, and let thine heart be merie: I wil giue thee the vineyard of Naboth the Iezrahelite.

8 And ſo he wrote a letter in Achabs name, and ſealed it with his ſeale, and ſent the letter vnto the Elders, and to the nobles that were in his citie dwelling with Naboth.

9 And hee wrote in the letter, ſaying, Proclaime a [b] faſt, and ſet Naboth on high among the people:

10 And ſet two vnthryfts before him, to beare witneſſe againſt him, ſaying, Thou diddeſt blaſpheme God and the king: and then cary him out and ſtone him to death.

11 And [c] the men of his citie, euen the Elders and gouernours which dwelt in his citie, did as Iezabel had ſent vnto them, and as it was written in the letter which he had ſent vnto them.

12 They proclaimed a faſt, and ſet Naboth among the chiefe of the people.

13 And there came in two men, the children of Belial, and ſate before him: and the two vnthriftie perſons witneſſed againſt Naboth, in the preſence of the people, ſaying, Naboth did blaſpheme God and the king. And they caried him out of the citie, and ſtoned him with ſtones, that he died.

14 And then they ſent to Iezabel, ſaying, Naboth is ſtoned to death.

15 And when Iezabel heard that Naboth was ſtoned to death, hee ſaide to Achab, Vp, and take poſſeſſion of the vineyarde of Naboth the Iezrahelite, which he denied to giue thee for money: for Naboth is not aliue but dead.

16 And when Achab heard that Naboth was dead, hee roſe vp, to goe downe to the vineyard of Naboth the Iezrahelite, to take poſſeſſion of it.

17 And the woorde of the Lord came to Elias the Thiſbite, ſaying, 18 Vp, and goe downe to meete Achab king of Iſrael, which is in Samaria: beholde, hee is in the vineyard of Naboth, whither he is gone to poſſeſſe it.

19 And thereforе ſhalt thou ſay vnto him, Thus ſaith the Lord, haſt thou killed, and alſo gotten poſſeſſion? And thou ſhalt ſpeake vnto him, ſaying, Thus ſaith the Lord, In the place where dogges licked the blood of Naboth, ſhall dogges licke euen thy blood alſo.

5 And Iosaphat saide vnto the king of Israel, a Aske counsel, I pray thee, at the worde of the Lord, to day.

a In all our enterprises we ought first to aske counsell of God.

6 And then the king of Israel gathered the prophets together vpon a foure hundred men, and saide vnto them, Shall I goe against Ramoth in Gilead to battell, or shall I let it alone? And they said, Go vp, for the Lord shall deliuer it into the hands of the king.

7 And Iosaphat said, Is there here neuer a Prophet of the Lord more, that wee might enquire of him?

8 And the king of Israel saide vnto Iosaphat, There is yet one man (Michea the sonne of Imla) by whom we may aske counsell of the Lord, but I hate him, for he doeth not prophecie good vnto me, but euill. And Iosaphat said, Let not the king say so.

9 Then the king of Israel called a ‡ chamberlaine, and saide, Fetch Michea the sonne of Imla hither at once.

‡ Heb, Eunuch.

10 And the king of Israel, and Iosaphat the King of Iuda, sate either in his seate, and their apparell on them, in a voyde place beside the entring in of the gate of Samaria, and all the prophets prophecied before them.

11 And Sedechia the sonne of Chanaana made hornes of iron, and saide, Thus saith the Lord, With these hornes shalt thou push the Syrians, vntill thou haue made an end of them.

12 And all the prophets prophecied euen so, saying, Go vp to Ramoth in Gilead, and prosper: for the Lord shall deliuer it into the kings hand.

13 And the messenger that was gone to call Michea, spake vnto him, saying, Beholde, the wordes of the prophets speake good vnto the king with one mouth: Let thy worde therefore, I pray thee, bee like the worde of euery one of them, to speake that which is good.

14 And Michea saide, As the Lord liueth, whatsoeuer the Lord saith vnto mee, b that will I speake.

b The true Prophet will speake no other then that he hath learned of God.

15 And so hee came to the king, and the king said vnto him, Michea, ought we to goe against Ramoth in Gilead to battel, or to be still? He answered him, c Goe, and prosper: the Lord shal deliuer it into the hand of the king.

c He speaketh this in derision.

16 And the king said vnto him, So and so many times doe I charge thee, that thou tel mee nothing but that which is true, in the Name of the Lord.

17 He said, I saw all Israel scattered vpon the hilles, as sheepe that haue not a shepheard. And the Lord saide, These haue no master, let euery man returne to his house in peace.

18 And the king of Israel said vnto Iosaphat, Did I not tell thee that hee would prophecie no good vnto me, but euill?

19 And he saide againe, Heare thou therefore the word of the Lord: I sawe the Lord sit on his seat, and all the hoste of heauen stood about him, on his right hand, and on his left.

20 And the Lord saide, Who shall ‖ perswade Achab that he may go, and fall at Ramoth in Gilead? And one saide on this maner, and another on that.

‖ Or, deceiue.

21 And there came forth a certaine spirit, and stood before the Lord, and said, I will perswade him.

22 And the Lord said vnto him, Wherewith? And he saide, I will goe out, and be a false spirit in the mouth of all his prophets. He saide, Thou shalt perswade him, and preuaile: Goe forth then, and doe euen so.

23 Now therefore behold, the Lord hath put a lying spirit in the mouth of all these thy prophets, & the Lord hath spoken euil towards thee.

24 But Sedechia the sonne of Chanaana went to, and smote Michea on the cheeke, and said, Which way went the spirit of the Lord from mee to speake vnto thee?

25 And Micheas saide, Beholde, thou shalt see in that day, when thou shalt goe from chamber to chamber to hide thee.

26 And the king of Israel said, Take Micheas, and cary him vnto Amon the gouernour of the citie, and to Joas the kings sonne, 27 And say, Thus saith the king, Put this fellowe in the prison house, and feede him with bread of affliction, and with water of trouble, vntill I returne in peace.

28 And Micheas saide, If thou returne in peace, the Lord hath not spoken by mee. And hee said, Hearken ye people, every one of you.

29 And so the king of Israel, and Iosaphat the king of Juda, went vp to Ramoth in Gilead.

30 And the king of Israel saide vnto Iosaphat, I will change my apparell, and will enter into the battell, but put thou on thine apparell. And the king of Israel changed himselfe, and went to battell.

31 But the king of Syria commanded the thirtie and two captaines that had rule ouer his charets, saying, Fight neither with small nor great, saue onely against the king of Israel.

32 And when the captaines of the charets sawe Iosaphat, they saide, Surely it is the king of Israel. And they turned to fight against him: And Iosaphat cried.

33 And when the captaines of the charets saw that he was not the king of Israel, they turned backe from him.

34 And a certaine man drew a bow ignorantly, and smote the king of Israel betweene the ribbes and his harnesse: wherefore he said vnto the driuer of his charets, Turne thine hand, and cary me out of the hoste, for I am ‡ hurt.

‡ Heb. sicke.

35 And the battel encreased that day: and the king stood still in his charet against the Syrians, and died at Euen: And the blood ranne out of the wound, into the middes of the charet.

36 And there went a proclamation throwout the hoste, about the going downe of the Sunne, saying, Euery man to his citie, and to his owne countrey.

37 So the king died, & was brought to Samaria, and they buried the king in Samaria.

38 And one washed the charet in the poole of Samaria, and the dogges licked vp his blood, and they washed his armour, * according vnto the word of the Lord which he spake.

39 The rest of the wordes that concerne Achab, and all that hee did, and the Iuorie house which hee made, and all the cities that hee builded, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

40 And so Achab slept with his fathers, and Ahazia his sonne reigned in his stead.

41 Iosaphat the sonne of Asa, began to reigne vpon Juda, in the fourth yeere of Achab king of Israel.

42 And Iosaphat was thirtie and fiue yeeres old when he began to raigne, and raigned twentie and fiue yeeres in Hierusalem: His mothers name was Azuba, the daughter of Silhi.

43 And he walked in all the wayes of Asa his father, and bowed not therefrom, but did that which was right in the eyes of the Lord: Neuertheless, the high places were not taken away: for the people offred and burnt incense yet in the high places.

44 And Iosaphat made peace with the king of Israel.

45 The rest of the wordes that concerne Iosaphat, and the might that hee shed, and howe hee warred, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Juda?

46 And the remnant of the sodomites, of the males which remained in the daies of his father Asa, he put cleane out of the land.

47 There was then no king in Edom, the deputie was king.

d In the time of this King Edom was subiect to Iuda, and was gouerned by whom they of Iuda appointed.

48 And Iosaphat made shippes in the Sea, to come through Tharsis to Ophir for golde, but they went not, for the shippes brake at Esion Gaber.

49 Then said Ahazia the sonne of Achab vnto Iosaphat, Let my seruants goe with thy seruants in the ships. But Iosaphat would not.

50 And Iosaphat slept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the citie of Dauid his father: and Jehoram his sonne reigned in his stead.

51 Ahazia the sonne of Achab began to reigne ouer Israel in Samaria the seuenteenth yeere of Iosaphat king of Juda, & reigned two yeeres ouer Israel.

52 But hee did euill in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the way of his father, and in the way of his mother, and in the way of Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, which made Israel to sinne.

53 For hee serued Baal, and worshipped him, and prouoked the Lord God of Israel vnto wrath, according vnto all that his father had done.

The second or fourth Booke of the Kings.

The first Chapter.

Ahazia by a fall falleth sicke, and consulteth with Beelzebub.

THen Moab rebelled against Israel, after the death of Achab.

2 And Ahazia fell thorow a latteſſe window of his vpper chamber that hee had, in Samaria, and was hee was yet in his ſickneſſe, hee ſent meſſengers, and ſaid vnto them, Go and enquire of [a] Beelzebub the god of Ekron, whether I ſhal recouer of this my diſeaſe.

3 But the Angel of the Lord ſpake to Elias the Thesbite, Arise, and goe vp againſt the meſſengers of the king of Samaria, and ſay vnto them, Is there not a God in Israel that yee goe to aſke counſell at Beelzebub the god of Ekron?

4 Wherefore, thus ſayeth the Lorde, Thou ſhalt not come downe from the bedde on which thou art gone vp, but ſhalt die the death. And Elias departed.

5 And when the meſſengers turned backe againe vnto him, he ſaid vnto them, Why are yee now come againe?

6 They anſwered him, There came a man vp againſt vs, and ſaid vnto vs, Goe and turne againe vnto the king that ſent you, and ſay vnto him, Thus ſayeth the Lorde, Is there not a God in Israel, that thou ſendeſt to enquire of Beelzebub the god of Ekron? therefore thou ſhalt not come downe from the bedde on which thou art gone vp, but ſhalt die the death.

7 And hee ſaid vnto them, What manner of man was that which came vp, and met you, and told you theſe words?

8 And they anſwered him, It was an hairy man, and girt with a girdle of leather about his loynes. And he ſaid, It is Elias the Thesbite.

9 Then the king ſent vnto him a captaine ouer fiftie, with his fiftie men: which came to him (and behold, he ſate on the top of an hill) and he ſpake vnto him, Thou man of God, the king hath ſaid, Come downe.

10 Elias anſwered and ſaide to the captaine ouer fiftie, If I bee a man of God, let fire come downe from heauen, and conſume thee and thy fiftie. [b] And there came fire from heauen, and conſumed him and his fiftie.

11 Againe alſo he ſent vnto him another captaine ouer fiftie, with his fiftie: And hee ſpake, and ſaid vnto him, O man of God, thus hath the king ſayd, Make haſte, and come downe.

12 Elias anſwered, and ſayde vnto them, If I bee a man of God, let fire come downe from heauen, and conſume thee and thy fiftie. And there came fire of God from heauen, and conſumed him and his fiftie.

13 And the king yet againe ſent the third captaine ouer fiftie, with his fiftie men: and the third captaine ouer fiftie went vp, and came and fell on his knees before Elias, and beſought him, and ſaid vnto him, O man of God, I pray thee, let my life, and the life of theſe fiftie thy ſeruants be precious in thy ſight.

14 Behold, there came fire downe from heauen, and burnt vp the two fore captaines ouer fiftie, with their fifties: therefore let my life now be precious in thy ſight.

15 And the Angel of the Lorde ſaide vnto Elias, Goe downe with him, and be not afraid of him. And hee arose, and went downe with him vnto the king.

16 And hee ſayde vnto him, Thus ſayeth the Lord, For as much as thou haſt ſent meſſengers to aſke counſell at Beelzebub the god of Ekron (as though there had beene no God in Israel, whose word thou mighteſt ſeeke after) therefore thou ſhalt not come downe off the bed on which thou art gone vp, but ſhalt die the death.

17 And ſo hee died, according to the word of the Lorde which Elias had ſpoken: and Iotam his brother began to reigne in his ſtead, in the ſecond yeere of Iotam the ſonne of Iosaphat king of Iuda, becauſe he had no ſonne.

18 The reſt of the words that concerne Ahazia, what things hee did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

The ij. Chapter.

8 Elias diuideth the waters with his cloke, 11 He is taken vp into heauen, 23 The children that mock Eliſeus are rent in pieces with beares.

ANd when the Lord would take vp Elias into * heauen by a whirlewinde, Elias went with Eliſeus from Gilgal.

2 And Elias ſayde vnto ‖ Eliſeus, Tarrie here, I pray thee: for the Lord hath ſent me to Bethel. Eliſeus ſayd vnto him, As the Lorde liueth, and as thy ſoule liueth, I will not leaue thee. And they came downe to Bethel.

3 [a] And the children of the Prophets that were at Bethel, came out to Eliſeus, & ſaid vnto him, Knoweſt thou not how that the Lord will take away thy maſter from thy head this day? He ſaid, I know it alſo, hold your peace.

4 And Elias ſayde vnto him, Eliſeus, tarie here, I pray thee: for the Lorde hath ſent me to Jericho. He ſayd, As the Lord liueth, and as thy ſoule liueth, I will not leaue thee. And ſo they came to Jericho.

5 And the children of the Prophets that were at Jericho came to Eliſeus, and ſaide vnto him, Knoweſt thou not that the Lord will take away thy maſter from thy head this day? Hee anſwered, I know it alſo, hold ye your peace.

6 And Elias sayde vnto him, Tary, I pray thee, here: for the Lord hath sent me to Iordan. He sayd, As the Lorde liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I will not leaue thee. And so they two went together.

7 And fiftie men of the sonnes of the Prophets came, and stood on the other side afarre off: and they two stood by Iordane.

8 And Elias tooke his mantell, and wrapt it together, & smote the waters, and they were diuided part the one way, and part the other: so that they two went ouer thorow the drie land.

9 And as soone as they were ouer, Elias sayd vnto Eliseus, Aske what I shall do for thee ere I bee taken away from thee. And Eliseus sayd, I pray thee, let thy spirite be doubled vpon mee.

10 And hee sayde, Thou hast asked an hard thing: neuertheless, if thou see me when I am taken away from thee, thou shalt haue it so: If thou doe not, it shall not be.

11 And as they went walking and talking, beholde, there appeared a charet of fire, and horses of fire, and parted them both asunder, and Elias went vp * through the whirle winde into heauen. Ecclus. 48. 13. 1. mac. 2. 58.

12 And Eliseus saw, and cryed, O my father, O my father, the charet of Israel, and the horsemen thereof. And hee saw him no more: and hee tooke his owne cloathes, and rent them in two pieces. b A testimony of the resurrection.

13 He tooke vp also the mantell of Elias that fell from him, and went backe againe, and stood by Iordanes side, 14 And tooke the mantell of Elias that fell from him, and smote the waters, and hee saide, where is the Lorde God of Elias, and hee himselfe? And when hee had smitten the waters, they parted this way and that way: and Eliseus went ouer.

15 And when the children of the Prophets, which were at Iericho, saw him from afarre, they sayd, The spirite of Elias doth rest on Eliseus: And they came to meet him, and fell to the ground before him,

16 And sayde vnto him, See, now there bee with thy seruants fiftie strong men, let them go, wee pray thee, and seeke thy master: if so be the Spirit of the Lorde hath taken him vp, and cast him vpon some mountaine, or into some valley. And he sayd, Ye shall send none.

17 And when they lay vpon him, till he was ashamed, he sayd, Send. They sent therefore fiftie men, which sought him three dayes, but found him not.

18 And when they came againe to him (which taried at Iericho) he said vnto them, Did I not say vnto you, that ye should not goe?

19 And the men of the city sayd vnto Eliseus, Behold, I pray, the dwelling of this citie is pleasant, as thou thy selfe seest: but the water is naught, and the ground ‡barren. ‡killeth the inhabitants.

20 Hee sayd, Bring me a new cruse, and put salt therein. And they brought it to him.

21 And hee went vnto the spring of the waters, and cast the salt in thither, and sayd, Thus sayeth the Lorde, I haue healed these waters, there shall not come henceforth either death or barrennesse.

22 So the waters were healed vnto this day, according to the saying of Eliseus, which he spake.

23 And he went vp from thence vnto Bethel: and as he was going by the way, there came little children out of the citie, and mocked him, and sayd vnto him, Goe vp thou balde head, goe vp thou bald head.

24 And he turned backe, and looked on them, and cursed them in the name of the Lorde: and there came two shee Beares out of the woode, and tare fortie and two children of them.

25 And hee went from thence to mount Carmel, and from thence hee turned againe to Samaria.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The reigne of Ioram. 6 Hee and Iosaphat goe to warre against Moab, which rebelled. 24 The Moabites are ouercome.

NOw Ioram the sonne of Achab began to reigne vpon Israel in Samaria the eighteenth yeere of Iosaphat king of Juda, and reigned twelue yeeres.

2 And hee wrought euill in the sight of the Lorde, but not like his father and like his mother: for hee put away the images of Baal that his father had made.

3 Neuertheless, he cleaued vnto the sinnes of Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat, which made Israel to sinne, and departed not therefrom.

4 And Mesa king of Moab was a louer of sheepe, and rendred vnto the king of Israel an hundred thousand lambs, and an hundred thousand rammes, with the wooll.

5 But when Achab was dead, the king of Moab rebelled against the king of Israel.

6 And king Ioram went out of Samaria the same season, and numbred all Israel:

7 And went, and sent to Iosaphat the king of Juda, saying, The king of Moab hath rebelled against mee, wilt thou come with mee against Moab in battell? He answered, I will come: for so I am, so art thou: and as my people be, so are thy people: and my horses, as thy horses.

8 And he sayd, What way shall wee goe vp? And he answered, The way through the wildernesse of Edom.

9 And so the king of Israel tooke his iourney, and the king of Juda, & the king of Edom: and when they had compassed the way seuen dayes, there had no water for the hoste, and for the cattell that followed them. ‡Heb. were at their feet.

10 And the king of Israel said, Alas, the Lord hath called these three kings together, to deliuer them ouer into the hand of Moab.

11 But Iosaphat sayde, Is there not here a Prophet of the Lord, that we may enquire of the Lorde by him? And one of the king of Israels seruants answered, and said, Here is Eliseus the sonne of Saphat, which powred water on the hands of Elias.

12 And Iosaphat sayd, The word of the Lord is with him. And so the king of Israel, and Iosaphat, and the king of Edom went downe to him.

13 And Eliseus sayd vnto the king of Israel, What haue I to doe with thee? Get thee to the Prophets of thy father, and to the Prophets of thy mother. And the king of Israel sayde vnto him, Oh nay: for the Lord hath called these three kings together, to deliuer them into the hand of Moab.

14 And Eliseus sayd, As the Lord of hostes liueth, in whose sight I stand, and it were not that I regard the presence of Iosaphat the king of Iuda, I would [a] not looke toward thee, nor yet see thee.

a God suffereth his worde to be declared to the wicked, because of the godly that are among them.

15 But now bring me a minstrell. And when the minstrell played, the hand of the Lord came vpon him:

16 And he sayd, Thus sayth the Lord, Make this valley full of ditches:

17 For thus sayth the Lord, Yee shall see neither wind nor raine, yet the valley shall be filled with water, that ye may drinke, both yee, & your beasts, and your cattell:

18 And this is yet but a small thing in the sight of the Lord, for as much as he wil giue ouer the Moabites also into your hands:

19 And ye shal smite euery strong towne, and euery goodly citie, and shall fell euery pleasant tree, and stoppe euery well of water, and marre euery good plat of ground with stones.

20 And in the morning when the meate offering was offered, behold, there came water by the way of Edom, and the countrey was filled with water.

21 And when all the Moabites heard that the kings were come vp to fight against them, they gathered all that was able [‡] to put on harnesse, and stood in the border of the land.

‡ Heb. to gird himselfe with a girdle.

22 And they were vp early in the morning, and the Sunne shone vpon the water, that the Moabites sawe the water afarre off, as redde as blood.

23 And they said, This is the blood of slaughter: the kings are slaine, and one haue smitten another: Now therefore, Moab, get thee to the spoyle.

24 And when they came to the hoste of Israel, the Israelites stoode vp and smote the Moabites, so that they fled before them: but they followed vpon them, and smote Moab,

25 And they ouerthrew the cities, and on euerie good parcell of land cast euery man his stone, and filled it, and they stopt all the welles of water, and felled all the good trees, onely in Kirharaseth left they the stones thereof: howbeit they went about it with slings, and smote it.

26 And when the king of Moab sawe that the battell was too sore for him, hee tooke with him seuen hundred men that drewe the sword, to haue gone through euen vnto the king of Edom: but they could not.

27 And then hee tooke his eldest sonne that should haue reigned in his stead, and offered him for a whole burnt offering vpon the wall: And there was [b] great indignation against Israel, and they departed from him, and returned to their owne land.

b The Israelites were greatly offended, because of the cruelties of the father.

The iiij. Chapter.

4 God encreaseth the oyle to the poore widowe by Eliseus. 12 Hee obtaineth for the Sunamite a sonne at Gods hand. 28 Who dyed and was raised vp againe.

NOw there cryed a certaine woman of the wiues of the sonnes of the Prophets vnto Eliseus, saying, Thy seruant my husband is dead, and thou knowest well that thy seruant did feare the Lord: and the creditour is come to fet my two sonnes to be his bondmen.

2 Eliseus sayde vnto her, Tell mee what I shall do for thee: What hast thou in thine house? Shee sayde, Thine handmaide hath nothing at all in the house, saue a pitcher with oyle.

3 He sayd vnto her, Goe, and borow vessels for thee without, of all thy neighbours emptie vessels, and that not a few:

4 And when thou art come in, thou shalt shut the doore after thee, and after thy sonnes, and powre out into all those vessels: and set aside that which is full.

a God euer prouideth for them that trust in him, although he suffer them many times to fall into great miseries.

5 And so he went from him, and shutte the doore after her, and after her sonnes: and they brought to her, and she powred out.

6 And when the vessels were full, shee sayd vnto her sonne, Bring me yet a vessell. And hee sayd, I haue no more. And the oyle ceased.

7 Then he came, and told the man of God: and he sayd, Goe, and sell the oyle, and pay them that thou art in debt vnto: but liue thou & thy children of the rest.

8 And it fell on a day that Eliseus came to Sunem, where was a great woman, that tooke him in for to eate bread: And so it came to passe, that from that time forth as oft as he came that way, he turned in thither to eat bread.

9 And she sayd vnto her husband, Behold, I perceiue that this is an holy man of God, which passeth by vs continually.

10 Let vs make him a little chamber, I pray thee, with walles, and let vs set him there a bed, and a table, and a stoole, and a candlesticke: that he may turne in thither when he commeth to vs.

11 And on a day he came thither, and turned into the chamber, and lay there.

12 And sayd to Gehezi his seruant, Call this Sunamite. And when he called her, shee presented her selfe before him.

13 And againe he said vnto him, Tell her, behold, thou hast bene carefull for vs with all this care, [b] What shall we now doe for thee? Wouldest thou be spoken for to the king, or to the captaine of the hoste? Shee answered, I dwell among mine owne people.

b The seruants of God are not vnthankefull for benefits receiued.

14 And he said againe, What is to be done for her? Gehezi answered, Verely she hath no child, and her husband is old.

15 And he sayde, Call her. And when hee had called her, she stood in the doore.

16 And he sayd, At this time appointed, according to the time of life, thou shalt imbrace a sonne. And she sayd, Oh nay my lord thou man of God, doe not lie vnto thine handmaid.

17 And the wife conceiued, and bare a sonne that same season that Eliseus had said vnto her, according to the time of life.

18 And when the childe was growen, it fell on a day that he went out to his father, and to the reapers, 19 And he said vnto his father, My head, my head. And hee sayd to a ladde, Carie him to his mother.

20 And when he had taken him, and brought him to his mother, he sate on her knees til noon, and then dyed.

21 And she went vp, and layde him on the bed of the man of God, and shut the doore vpon him, and went out.

26 Runne therefore to meet her, and say vnto her, Is all well with thee, and with thy husband, and with the ladde? And she answerd, All is well.

27 And when she came to the man of God vp to the hill, she caught him by the feet: but Gehezi went to her to thrust her away. And the man of God sayd, Let her alone, for her soule is ‖vexed within her, and the Lord hath hidde it from me, and hath not told it me.

29 Then hee sayde to Gehezi, *Girde vp thy loynes, and take my staffe in thine hand, and goe thy way: if thou meete any man, ᶜsalute him not: and if any salute thee, answere him not againe: and laye my staffe vpon the face of the childe.

30 And the mother of the childe sayd, As the Lord liueth, and as thy soule liueth, I will not leaue thee. And he arose, and followed her.

31 Gehezi went before them, and layde the staffe vpon the face of the childe, but there was neither voyce, nor any feeling: wherefore hee went againe to meete him, and told him, saying, The child is not awaked.

32 And when Elisæus was come into the house, behold, the child was dead, and layd vpon his bed.

33 Hee went in therefore, and shut the doore vpon them twaine, and prayed vnto the Lord.

34 And went vp, and lay vpon the ladde, and put his mouth vpon his mouth, and his eyes vpon his eyes, and his hands vpon his handes: and when hee so lay vpon the childe, the flesh of the childe ward warme.

35 And he went againe, and walked once vp and downe in the house, and then went vp, and laid himselfe vpon him againe: ‖then the childe gaped seuen times, and opened his eyes.

36 And he called Gehezi, and sayde, Call for this Sunamite. So he called her: which when shee was come in vnto him, hee sayde vnto her, Take thy sonne.

37 Therefore she went in, and fell at his feet, and bowed her selfe to the ground, and tooke vp her sonne, and went out.

38 Elisæus came againe to Gilgal, and there was a dearth in the land, and the children of the Prophets dwelt with him: and he sayd vnto his seruant, Set a great pot on the fire and make pottage for the children of the Prophets.

39 And one went out into the field to gather herbs, and found a wilde vine, and gathered thereof wilde gourdes his lappe full, and came and shred them into the pot of pottage: for they knew it not.

40 So they powred out for the men to eate: and when they had eaten of the pottage, they cryed out, and sayde, O thou man of God, there is death in the potte. And they could not eate thereof.

41 But he sayd, Bring meale. And hee cast it into the pot: and he sayd, Powre out the people, that they may eate. And there was no more harme in the pot.

42 There came a man from Baal Salisa, and brought the man of God bread of the first fruites, euen twentie loaues of barley, and full eares of corne in the huske: and he sayde, Giue vnto the people, that they may eate.

43 And his seruant sayd, Why shall I set this before an hundred men? Hee sayd againe, Giue it vnto the people, that they may eate: for thus sayth the Lord, *They shall eate, and there shall be left ouer.

Iohn. 6. 11.

44 And so hee set it before them, and they did eate, and left ouer, according to the worde of the Lord.

The v. Chapter.

1 Naaman the Syrian is healed of his leprosie. 16 Eliseus refuseth his gifts.

NAaman, captaine of the host of the king of Syria, was a great man, and honourable in the sight of his master, because that by him the Lorde had giuen health vnto Syria: hee was also a mightie man, and expert in warre, but he was a leper.

2 And the Syrians had gone out by companies, and had brought out of the countrey of Israel a little mayde, and she was with Naamans wife.

3 And shee sayde vnto her lady, I would to God my lorde were with the Prophet that is in Samaria, for hee would deliuer him of his leprosie.

4 And he went in, and told his lord, saying, Thus and thus sayd the maid that is of the land of Israel.

* Naaman.

5 And the king of Syria sayd, Goe thy way thither, and I will send a letter vnto the king of Israel. And he departed, and tooke with him ten talents of siluer, and fiue thousand pieces of golde, and ten changes of rayments:

6 And brought the letter to the king of Israel, containing this tenour, Now when this letter is come vnto thee, beholde, I haue therewith sent Naaman my seruant to thee, that thou mayest ‖ recouer him of his leprosie.

‖ Or, take away.

7 And when the king of Israel had read the letter, he rent his clothes, and sayde, Am I God, that I should kill, and make aliue? for this doth send vnto me, that I should deliuer a man from his leprosie: wherefore consider, I pray you, and see how he seeketh a quarell against me.

8 Which when Elisæus the man of God had heard, how that the king of Israel had rent his clothes, hee sent to the king, saying, Wherefore hast thou rent thy clothes? Let him come now to me, and he shall know that there is a Prophet in Israel.

9 And so Naaman came with his horses, and with his charets, and stood at the doore of the house of Elisæus.

10 And Elisæus sent a messenger vnto him, saying, Goe and wash thee in Iordane seuen times, and thy flesh shal come againe to thee, and thou shalt be cleansed.

11 But Naaman was wroth, and went away, and sayd, Behold, I thought with my selfe, hee would surely come out, and stand, and call on the name of the Lord his God, and put his hand on the place, that hee may heale the leprosie.

12 Are not Abana and Pharphar riuers of Damascus, better then all the waters of Israel? If I wash me also in them, shall I not bee cleansed? And so he turned, and departed with displeasure.

13 And his seruants came, and communed with him, and sayd, Father, If the Prophet had bid thee doe some great thing, oughtest thou not to haue done it? How much rather then when he saith to thee, Wash and be cleane?

Luk.4.27. 14 Then went he downe, * and washed himselfe seuen times in Iordane, according to the saying of the man of God, and his flesh came againe, like vnto the flesh of a little childe, and hee was cleansed.

15 And he turned againe to the man of God, hee and all his company, and stoode before him, and sayd, Behold, I know now that there is no God in all the world, but in Israel: now therefore, I pray thee, take a ‖ blessing of thy seruant.

‖ Or, reward

16 But hee sayd, As the Lord liueth, before whom I stand, I will receiue none: And when the other would haue constrained him to receiue it, he would not.

17 And Naaman sayd, Shall there not, bee giuen to thy seruant as much of this earth as two mules may beare? For thy seruant will henceforth offer neither whole burnt sacrifice, nor offering vnto any other god, saue vnto the Lord.

18 But herein the Lord bee mercifull to thy seruant, that when my master goeth into the house of Rimmon for to worship there, and leaneth on my hand, & I bow my selfe in the house of Rimmon: when I bow downe, I pray, in the house of Rimmon, the Lord be mercifull vnto thy seruant because of this thing.

b The prophet did not approue his act, but after the common manner of speech, bit bade him fare well.

19 Vnto whom hee sayd, b Goe in peace. And when hee was departed from him, as it were a furlong of ground, 20 Gehezi the seruant of Eliseus the man of God sayd, Behold, my master hath spared Naaman this Syrian, that hee would not receiue at his handes those things that hee offered: as the Lord liueth, I will run after him, and take somewhat of him.

21 And so Gehezi followed Naaman: and when Naaman saw him running after him, he light downe from the charet to meete him, and sayd, Is all well?

22 He answered, All is well: behold, my master hath sent me, saying, See, there bee come to me euen nowe from mount Ephraim two yong men, of the children of the Prophets: Giue them, I pray thee, one talent of siluer, and two change of garments.

23 And Naaman sayd, With a good will, take two talents. And he constrained him, and bound two talents of siluer in two bagges, with two change of garments, and layd them vpon two of his seruants, to beare them before him.

‡ Fortresse or secret place.

24 And when he came to the ‡ lower place, he tooke them from their hand, and bestowed them in the house, and he let the men goe, and they departed.

25 But he went in, and stoode before his master: and Eliseus said vnto him, Whence commest thou Gehezi? He said, Thy seruant went no whither.

c Was not I present with thee in spirit?

26 But hee sayd vnto him, c Went not mine heart with thee when the man turned againe from his charet to meete thee? Is it now a time to receiue money, & to receiue garments, Oliue trees, vineyards, sheepe and oxen, men seruants, and maid seruants?

d Coretousnes punished.

27 d The leprosie therefore of Naaman shall cleaue vnto thee, and vnto thy seed for euer. And he went out from his presence a leper as white as snowe.

The vj. Chapter.

6 Eliseus maketh iron to swimme aboue the water. 8 He discloseth the king of Syrias counsel to the king of Israel.

THe children of the Prophets sayd vnto Eliseus, Behold, wee pray thee, the place where wee dwell with thee, is too little for vs:

2 Let vs go, we pray thee, vnto Iordane, and take thence euery man a beame, and build vs a place to dwell in. And he answered, Goe.

3 And one said, Be content, I pray thee, and come with thy seruants. And hee answered, I will come.

4 And so he went with them: and when they came to Iordane, they cut downe wood.

5 But as one was felling downe of a tree, the axe head fell into the water: and hee cried, and sayd, Alas master, it was lent me.

6 And the man of God sayd, Where fell it? and hee shewed him the place: And he cut downe a sticke, and cast it in thither, and immediatly the yron did swimme.

7 Therefore sayd he, Take it vp. And he stretched out his hand, and tooke it vp.

8 Then the king of Syria warred against Israel, and tooke counsel with his seruants, and sayd, In such and such a place shall be my campe.

9 And the man of God sent vnto the king of Israel, saying, Beware that thou go not ouer to such a place, for there the Syrians are lurking.

10 Therefore the king of Israel sent to the place which the man of God tolde him, and warned him of, e and saued himself from it, not once, nor twise.

e God will disclose the crafty counsell of the wicked.

11 And the heart of the king of Syria was troubled for this thing, and hee called for his seruants, and sayd vnto them, Will yee not shewe me which of our men betrayeth mee to the king of Israel?

12 And one of his seruants sayd, None my lord O King: but Eliseus the Prophet, that is in Israel, telleth the king of Israel, yea, the words that thou speakest in thy priuie chamber.

13 He said, Goe and spie where hee is, that I may send and fetch him. And one told him, saying, Behold, he is in Dothan.

14 Therefore sent he thither horses, and charets, and a mighty host: and they came by night, and compassed the citie about.

15 And when the seruant of the man of God rose vp early to go out, beholde, there was an host round about the towne, with horses and charets: his seruants said vnto him, Alas master, what shall we doe?

16 He answered, Feare not: for they that bee with vs, are moe then they that be with them.

17 And Eliseus prayed, and sayd, Lord, I beseech thee open his eyes, that he may see. And the Lord opened the eyes of the yong man, and hee looked: and beholde, the mountaine was full of horses, and charets of fire round about Eliseus.

18 And when they came downe to him, Eliseus prayed vnto the Lord, and said, Smite this people, I pray thee, with blindnes. And he smote them with blindnesse, according to the worde of Eliseus.

19 And Eliseus sayd vnto them, This is not the way, neither is this the towne: follow me, and I will bring you to the man whom ye seeke. But he led them to Samaria.

20 But when they were come to Samaria, Eliseus sayd, Lorde, open their eyes, that they may see. And the Lord opened their eyes, and they saw, and behold, they were in the middes of Samaria.

21 And the king of Israel said vnto Eliseus when he sawe them, My father, shall I smite them, shall I smite them?

22 And hee answered, Thou shalt not smite them: but smite those that thou hast taken with thine owne sword, and with thine owne bowe: but rather set bread and water before them, that they may eate and drinke, and go to their master.

23 And he prepared a great refection for them, and when they had eaten and drunke, hee sent them away, and they went to their master: and so the souldiers of Syria came no more into the land of Israel.

24 After this, Benhadad king of Syria gathered all his host, and went vp, and besieged Samaria.

25 But there was a great dearth in Samaria: and behold, they besieged it, vntill an asses head was sold for foure score siluer pence, and the fourth part of a [b] cab of doues doung for fiue pieces of siluer.

26 And as the king of Israel was going vpon the wall, there cried a woman vnto him, saying, Helpe me my lord, O king.

27 He sayd, If the Lord doe not succour thee, wherewith can I helpe thee? with the barne, or with the winepresse?

28 And the king sayd vnto her, What wilt thou? She answered, Yonder woman said vnto me, Bring thy sonne, that wee may eate him to day, and we will eate mine to morow.

29 And so we dressed my sonne, and did eate him: and I said vnto her the other day, Bring thy sonne, that we may eate him: and shee hath hid her sonne.

30 And when the king heard the words of the woman, he rent his clothes, and went vpon the wall, and the people looked, and behold, he had a sackcloth vnder vpon his flesh.

31 Then he said, God doe so, and more also to me, if the head of Eliseus the sonne of Saphat, shall stand on him this day.

32 But Eliseus sate in his house (and the elders sate by him) and the king sent a man before him: but yer the messenger came to him, he said to the elders, Haue ye not seene how that the sonne of this murderer hath sent to take away mine head? Be circumspect when the messenger commeth, and shut the doore, and hold him at the doore: Is not the sound of his masters feete behinde him?

33 While he yet talked with them, behold the messenger came downe vnto him, and sayd, Behold, this euill is of the Lord, and what more shall I looke for of the Lord?

The vij. Chapter.

Eliseus prophesieth plenty of victuall and other things in Samaria.

THen Eliseus sayd, Heare yee the word of the Lord, Thus sayth the Lord, To morow, this time shall a measure of fine flowre be sold for a sicle, and two measures of barley for a sicle, in the gate of Samaria.

2 Then a certaine lord (on whose hand the king leaned) answered the man of God, and sayd, Behold, if the Lord would make windowes in heauen, might this come to passe? Hee sayd, Behold, thou shalt see it with thine eyes, but shalt not eate thereof.

3 And there were foure leprous men at the entring in of the gate: and they sayd one to another, Why sit we here vntill we die?

4 If we say, We will enter into the citie: behold, the dearth is in the citie, and wee shall die therein: and if we sit still here, wee die also. Now therefore come, and let vs fall vnto the host of the Syrians: if they saue vs liues we shal liue: if they kill vs, then are wee dead.

5 And they rose vp in the twilight, to goe to the host of the Syrians: and when they were come to the vttermost part of the host of Syria, behold, there was no man there.

6 For the Lord had made the host of the Syrians to heare a noise of charets, and a noise of horses, and the noise of a great host: insomuch that they said one to another, Loe, the king of Israel hath hired against vs the kings of the Hethites, and the kings of the Egyptians, to come vpon vs.

7 Wherefore they arose, and fled in the twilight, and left their tents, and their horses, and their asses, and the field which they had pitched, euen as it was, and fled for their liues.

8 And when these lepers came to the edge of the host, they went into a tent, and did eate and drinke, and caried thence siluer, and gold, and raiment, and went and hid it, and came againe, and entred into another tent, and caried thence also, and went and hid it.

9 Then sayd one to another, We do not well: this day is a day to bring good tidings, and wee hold our peace. If we tarie til the day light, some mischiefe wil come vpon vs: now therefore come, that we may goe, and tell the kings houshold.

10 And so they came, and called vnto the porter of the city, and told him, saying, Wee came to the campe of the Syrians, and lo, there was no man there, neither voice of man, but horses and asses tied, and the tents were as they were wont to be.

11 And the porters cried, and declared it to the kings house within.

12 And the king arose in the night, and sayd vnto his seruants, [b] I will shew you now what the Syrians haue done vnto vs: They know that we be hungry, therefore are they gone out of the campe, to hide themselues in the field, saying, When they come out of the citie, wee shall catch them aliue, and get into the citie.

13 And one of his seruants answered, and said, Let men take, I pray you, fiue of the horses that remaine and are left in the multitude: (behold, they are as all the multitude of Israel that are left in the citie: behold, I say they are euen as all the multitude of the Israelites that are consumed) and we will send, and see.

14 They tooke therefore the horses of two charets, and the king sent after the hoste of the Syrians, saying, Goe, and see.

15 And they went after them euen vnto Iordane, and loe, all the way was full of clothes, and vessels, which the Syrians had cast from them in their haste: and the messengers returned, and tolde the king.

16 And the people went out, and spoyled the tents of the Syrians: and so it came to passe, that a measure of fine flowre was sold for a sicle, and two measures of barley for a sicle, according to the word of the Lord.

17 And the king appointed that lord (on whose hand he leaned) to be at the gate: and the people c trode vpon him in the gate, and he died according to the word of the man of God, which hee said when the king came downe to him.

19 Whereunto that lord answered the man of God, and said, Yea, and if the Lord made windowes in heauen, might it come to passe? And he said, Behold, thou shalt see it with thine eies, and shalt not eate thereof.

20 And euen so it came vnto him: for the people trode vpon him in the gate, and he died.

The viij. Chapter.

1 Eliseus prophecied vnto the Sunamite the dearth of seuen yeeres.

4.Reg.4.34.

THen spake Eliseus vnto the woman (whose sonne he had restored to life againe) saying, * Arise, and go thou and thine houle, and sojourn wheresoeuer thou canst: for the Lord hath called for a dearth, and the same shall come vpon the land seuen yeeres.

2 And the woman arose, and did after the saying of the man of God: and went both she and her household, and sojourned in the land of the Philistines seuen yeeres.

3 And at the seuen yeeres ende, the woman came againe out of the land of the Philistines, and went out to call vpon the king for her houle and for her land.

4 And the king talked with Gehezi the seruant of the man of God, saying, Tell me, I pray thee, all the great deeds that Eliseus hath done.

5 He tolde the king how hee had restored a dead body to life againe: but in the meane time the woman, whose son he had raised vp againe, cryed to the king for her houle and for her lande: And Gehezi said, My lord, O king, this is the woman, and this is her sonne, whom Eliseus raised vp againe.

6 And when the king asked the woman, she tolde him: And so the king deliuered her a chamberlaine, saying, Restore thou vnto her all that are hers, and all the a fruits of the field, since the day that she left the land, vnto this time.

a The king caused that to be willy restored, which was wrongfully holden from her.

7 And Eliseus came to Damascus, and Benhadad the king of Syria was sicke, and one told him, saying, The man of God is come hither.

8 And the king said vnto Hazael, Take a present in thine hand, & goe meete the man of God, that thou mayest enquire of the Lord by him, saying, Shall I recouer of this disease?

9 And so Hazael went to meete him, & tooke the present with him, and of euery good thing of Damascus, euen as much as fourtie camels could beare: and came and presented himselfe before him, and said, Thy sonne Benhadad king of Syria hath sent me to thee, saying, Shall I recouer of this disease?

10 And Eliseus said vnto him, Goe, and say vnto him, Thou shalt b recouer: howbeit, the Lord hath shewed me that he shall surely die.

b Meaning, that he should not die of that disease, yet he should die by the hand of Hazael the messenger.

11 He looked vpon him stedfastly, vntill hee was ashamed: and the man of God wept.

12 And Hazael said, Why weepeth my lord? He answered, For I know the euill things that thou shalt doe vnto the children of Israel: for their strong cities shalt thou set on fire, and their young men shalt thou slay with the sword, and shalt dash out the braines of their sucking children, and all to teare their women with child.

13 But Hazael sayd, What, is thy seruant a dogge, that I should doe this great thing? And Eliseus answered, The Lord hath shewed mee that thou shalt be king of Syria.

14 And so he departed from Eliseus, and came to his master, which said to him, What said Eliseus to thee? He answered, He told me that thou shouldest recouer.

15 And on the morow, he tooke a thicke cloth, and dipt it in water, and c spread it on his face: and he died, and Hazael reigned in his stead.

17 Thirtie and two yeeres old was he when he began to reigne, and he reigned eight yeeres in Hierusalem.

18 And he walked in the wayes of the kings of Israel, as they that were of the house of Achab: for the daughter of Achab was his wife, and he did euill in the sight of the Lord.

26 Two and twentie yeres old was Ahazia when he began to reigne, & he reigned one yeere in Hierusalem, and his mothers name was Athalia, the daughter of Omri, king of Israel.

27 But he walked in the way of the house of Achab, and did euill in the sight of the Lorde, as did the house of Achab: for he was the sonne in law of the house of Achab.

28 And he went with Iozam the sonne of Achab, to warre against Hazael king of Syria in Ramoth Gilead, and the Syrians wounded Iozam.

29 And king Iozam went backe againe to be healed in Iezrahel, of the woundes which the Syrians had giuen him at Ramoth, when hee fought against Hazael king of Syria: and Ahazia the sonne of Iozam king of Iuda went downe to see Iozam the sonne of Achab in Iezrahel, because he was sicke there.

The ix. Chapter.

6 Iehu is made king of Israel, 24 And killeth Ioram the king thereof.

3.King.19,17. AND Eliseus the Prophet called one of the children of the Prophets, and sayd vnto him, *Girde vp thy loynes, and take this bore of oyle in thine hand, and get thee to Ramoth in Gilead.

2 And when thou commest thither, looke where is Iehu the sonne of Iosaphat, the sonne of Nimsi, and goe to him, and make him arise vp from among his brethren, and carie him to a secret chamber.

3 Then take the bore of oyle, and powre it on his head, & say, Thus sayth the Lord, I haue anoynted thee to be king ouer Israel: and then open the doore, and flee without any tarying.

4 And so the seruant of the Prophet gate him to Ramoth Gilead:

5 And when he came in, behold, the captains of the hoste were sitting together, and he said, I haue an errand to thee, O captaine.

6 And Iehu said, vnto which of all vs? He said, To thee, O captaine. And he arose, & went into the house, and hee powred the oyle on his head, and said vnto him, Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel, I haue [a] anoynted thee to be king ouer the people of the Lord, euen ouer Israel.

7 Thou shalt smite the house of Achab thy master, that I may auenge the blood of my seruants the Prophets, and the blood of all the seruants of the Lord, *of the hand of Iezabel:

10 And as for Iezabel, the dogs shall eate her in the field of Iezrahel, and there shall be none to burie her. And he opened the doore, and fled.

11 Then Iehu came out to the seruants of his lorde, and one saide vnto him, Is all well? wherefore came this mad fellow to thee? And he said vnto them, Yee know what manner of man he is, and what his communication is.

12 They sayd vnto him againe, It is not so, tell vs, he sayd, Thus and thus spake he to me, saying, Thus sayth the Lord, I haue anoynted thee to be king ouer Israel.

13 Then they hasted, and tooke euery man his garment, and put it vnder him on the top of the staires, and blewe with trumpets, saying, Iehu is king.

14 And so Iehu the sonne of Iosaphat, the sonne of Nimsi, conspired against Iozam: (Ioram kept Ramoth Gilead, he, and all Israel, because of Hazael king of Syria.

15 And king Iozam returned to be healed in Iezrahel, of the woundes which the Syrians had giuen him, when hee fought with Hazael king of Syria.) And Iehu sayde, If it bee your minds, then let no man depart, and escape out of the citie, to goe and tell in Iezrahel.

16 So Iehu gate vp into a charet, and went to Iezrahel, where Iozam lay: and Ahazia king of Iuda was come downe thither to see Iozam.

17 And the watchman that stood on the towre in Iezrahel, spyed the companie of Iehu as hee came, and sayde, I see a companie. And Iozam sayd, Take an horseman, and send to meet them, that he may aske whether it be peace.

18 And so there went one on horsebacke to meet him, and sayd, Thus sayth the king, Is it peace? And Iehu sayde, what hast thou to doe with peace? || turne thee behinde mee. And the watchman told, saying, The messenger came to them, but he commeth not againe.

|| Or, follow me.

19 Then hee sent out another on horsebacke, which came to them, and sayd, Thus sayeth the king, Is it peace? Iehu answered, what hast thou to doe with peace? turne thee behind me.

20 And the watchman told, saying, Hee came to them also, and commeth not againe: and the driuing is like the driuing of Iehu the sonne of Nimsi, for he driueth the charet as he were mad.

21 And Iozam sayde, Make readie. And the charet was made readie, and Iozam king of Israel, and Ahazia king of Iuda, went out either of them in his charet, against Iehu, and met him in the field of Naboth the Iezrahelite.

22 And when Iozam saw Iehu, hee said, Is it peace, Iehu? He answered, what peace should there be, so long as the whoredomes of thy mother Iezabel, and her witchcrafts are so great?

23 And Iozam turned his hand, and fled, and said to Ahazia, There is treason, O Ahazia.

24 And Iehu tooke a bowe in his hand, and smote Iozam betweene the armes, and the arrow went through his heart, and he fell downe flat in his charet.

25 Then sayde Iehu to Bidkar his captaine, Take him, and cast him in the plat of the ground of Naboth the Iezrahelite: for I remember, that when I & thou rode together after Ahab his father, the Lorde || layde this heauie burden vpon him:

26 Surely I haue seene yesterday the blood of Naboth, and the blood of his sonnes, said the Lord, and I will quite it thee in this ground, saith the Lorde. Now therefore take & cast him in the plat of ground according to the word of the Lorde.

27 But when Ahazia the king of Iuda sawe this, hee fledde by the way of the garden house: and Iehu followed after him, and sayd, Smite him also in the charet, at the going vp to Gur, by Ibleam. And he fled to Megiddo, and there died.

28 And his seruants caried him in a charet to Hierusalem, and buried him there in his sepulchre with his fathers, in the citie of Dauid.

29 And in the eleuenth yeere of Ioram the sonne of Ahab, beganne Ahazia to reigne ouer Iuda.

30 And when Iehu was come to Iezrahel, Iezabel heard of it, and painted her face, and tyred her head, and looked out at a window.

31 And as Iehu entred at the gate, she saide, Had [b] Zimri peace, who slew his master?

32 And he lift vp his eies to the window, and said, Who is on my side, who? And there looked out to him two or three chamberlaynes.

33 And he said, Throw her downe. So they threwe her downe, and her blood dashed toward the wall, and toward the horses: and hee trode her vnder foote.

34 And when he was come in, he did eate and drinke, and said, Goe and burie, I pray you, yonder cursed creature, and burie her, for shee is a kings daughter.

35 And so when they came to burie her, they found no more of her then the skull, and the feete, and the palmes of her hands.

36 Wherefore they came againe, and told him, and he said, This is the word of the Lord, which he spake by the hande of his seruant Elias the Thisbite, saying, In the peece of Iezrahel shall dogges eate the flesh of Iezabel.

The x. Chapter.

6 Iehu causeth the seuentie sonnes of Achab to bee slaine. 35 He killeth also all the priests of Baal.

AChab had threescore and ten sons in Samaria: and Iehu wrote letters, and sent to Samaria vnto the rulers of Iezrahel, to the elders, and to them that brought vp Ahabs children, saying,

2 Now when this letter commeth to you (ye that haue with you your masters sonnes, ye haue with you both charets and horses, a strong citie haue ye also, and harneise,)

3 Looke which of your masters sons is best and most meete, and set him on his fathers seat, and fight for your lords house.

4 But they were exceedingly afraide, and said, See, two kings were not able to stand before him: how shall we then be able to stand?

5 And hee that was gouernour of Ahabs house, and hee that ruled the citie, the Elders also, and the tutours, sent to Iehu, saying, We are thy seruants, and will doe all that thou shalt bid vs, we will make no man king: therefore do thou what seemeth good in thine eyes.

6 Then he wrote another letter to them, saying, If ye be mine, and will hearken vnto my voyce, then take the heads of the men that are your masters sonnes, and come to me to Iezrahel by to morow this time: (and the kings sons were threescore and ten persons, and they were with the great men of the citie, which brought them vp.)

7 And when the letter came to them, they tooke the kings children, and slewe them, euen threescore and ten persons, and laid their heads in baskets, and sent them to him to Iezrahel.

8 And there came a messenger, and told him, saying, They haue brought the heads of the kings sonnes. And he said, Let them lay them in two heapes in the entring in of the gate, vntill the morning.

9 And when it was day, he went out, and stood, and said to all the people, Ye be righteous: behold, I conspired against my master, and slew him: But who slew all these?

10 Learne here, that there shall fall vnto the earth nothing of the word of the Lord, which he spake concerning the house of Ahab: for the Lord hath brought to passe the things that hee spake by the hand of his seruant Elias.

11 And so Iehu slew all that remained of the house of Ahab, in Iezrahel, and all that were great with him, and his kinsfolks, & his priests, so that he let nothing of him remaine.

12 And he arose, and departed, and came to Samaria: and when Iehu was in the way of the house where the heyheards did feare their sheepe, 13 He met with the brethren of Ahazia king of Iuda, and said, What are ye? They answered, The brethren of Ahazia are wee, and goe downe to salute the children of the king and of the queene.

14 And he saide, Take them aliue. Whom when they had taken aliue, they slew them at the well which was beside the house where the sheepe are shorne, euen two and fourty men, neither left he any of them.

15 And when he was departed thence, he met with Ionadab the sonne of Rechab, comming against him, and he pitied him, and said to him, Is thine heart right, as mine heart is true with thine? And Ionadab answered, Yea that it is. Then giue mee thine hand. And when hee had giuen him his hand, he tooke him vp to him into the charet, 16 And said, Come with me, and see my zeale that I haue for the Lord. And so they made him ride in his charet.

17 And when he came to Samaria, he slew all that remained vnto Ahab in Samaria, till he had destroyed him, according to the saying of the Lord which he spake to Elias.

18 *And Iehu gathered all the people together, and said vnto them, Ahab serued [a] Baal a litle, but Iehu shall serue him more.

19 Now therefore, call vnto mee all the prophets of Baal, all such as serue him, and all his priestes, and let none be lacking, for I haue a great sacrifice to doe to Baal, and therefore whosoeuer is nulled, he shall not liue. But Iehu did it for a subtiltie, to the intent that he might destroy the seruants of Baal.

20 And Iehu said, ‡ Proclaime an holy conuocation for Baal. And they proclaimed it.

21 And Iehu sent thro all Israel, and all the seruants of Baal came, that there was not a man left behinde that came not: and they came into the house of Baal, and the house of Baal was full from the one end to another.

22 And he said vnto him that was the keeper of the vestrie, Bring forth garments for all the seruants of Baal. And hee brought them out garments.

23 And when Iehu went with Ionadab the sonne of Rechab into the house of Baal, he said vnto the seruants of Baal, Search, and looke that there be here with you none of the seruants of the Lord, but the seruants of Baal onely.

24 And when they went in to offer sacrifice and burnt offering, Jehu appointed fourscore men without, and saide to them, If any of the men whom I haue brought vnder your hands escape, he that letteth him goe, shall die for him.

25 And as soone as he had made an ende of offering the burnt sacrifice, Jehu said to the men of warre, & to the captaines, Go in, and slay them, let none come out. And they smote them with the edge of the sword, and the men of warre, and the captaines, cast them out, and went to the citie of the temple of Baal, 26 And fet the images out of the temple of Baal, and burnt them.

27 And they brake the image of Baal, and brake the house of Baal, and made a draught house of it, vnto this day.

28 And so Jehu destroyed Baal out of Israel.

29 But from the sins of Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, which made Israel to sinne, Jehu departed not from them, neither from the golden calues that were in Bethel and in Dan.

30 And the Lorde sayd vnto Jehu, Because thou hast done right well in bringing to passe the thing that is right in mine eyes, and hast done vnto the house of Ahab according to all things that are in mine heart, * therefore shall thy children vnto the fourth generation, sit on the seate of Israel. 4.Reg.15. 12.

31 But Jehu cared not for this, to walke in the law of the Lord God of Israel, with all his heart: for he departed not from the sinnes of Jeroboam, which made Israel to sinne.

32 In those dayes the Lord began to cut Israel short, and Hazael smote them in all the coasts of Israel, 33 From Jordane Eastward, euen all the land of Gilead, the Gadites, the Rubenites, and them that were of Manasses, from Aroer (which is by the riuer Arnon) euen Gilead and Basan.

34 The rest of the words that concerne Jehu, and all that he did, and all his power, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Israel?

35 And Jehu slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Joachas his son reigned in his stead.

36 And the time that Jehu reigned vpon Israel in Samaria, is twentie and eight yeeres.

2 And he did that which was good in the sight of the Lorde, as long as a Iehoiada the Priest enstructed him.

a So long as rulers giue care to the true ministers of God, they prosper.

3 But the high places were not taken away: for the people offered, and burnt incense yet vpon the high places.

4 And Ioas saide to the Priests, All the siluer of the dedicate things that be brought to the house of the Lorde, that is, the money of them that were nombred, the money that euery man is set at, and all the money that euery man with a willing heart giueth, and bringeth into the house of the Lord:

5 Let the Priests take it to them, euery man of his acquaintãce, to repaire the broken places of the house, wheresoeuer any decay is found.

6 And so it came to passe, that vnto the three and twentieth yeere of king Ioas, the Priests had mended nothing that was decayed in the Temple.

7 Then king Ioas called for Iehoiada the Priest, and the other Priests, and said vnto them, why repaire ye not the broken places of the temple? now therefore see that yee receiue no more money of your acquaintance, except ye deliuer it to repaire the temple withall.

8 And the Priestes consented to receiue no more money of the people, except to repaire the decayed places of the temple.

9 But Iehoiada the Priest tooke a chest, and bored a hole in the lid of it, and set it beside the altar, on the right side, as euery man cometh into the temple of the Lord, and the Priests that kept the vessels, put therein all the money that was brought into the house of the Lord.

10 And when they sawe there was much money in the chest, the kings scribe and the high Priest came vp, and tolde the money that was found in the house of the Lord, and put it into a bagge.

11 And they gaue the money sealed into the hands of them that executed the worke, and that had the ouersight of the house of the Lord: & they bought it out to the Carpenters and builders that wrought vpon the house of the Lord, 12 And to Masons and hewers of stone: and they bought timber and free stone to repaire the decay in the house of the Lord, and so all that went out to mend the temple.

13 Howbeit, there was not made for the house of the Lord, bowles of siluer, instrumentes of musick, basons, trumpets, or any vessels of gold, or vessels of siluer, of the money that was brought into the house of the Lord.

14 But they gaue that to the workemen, and repaired therewith the house of the Lord.

15 Moreouer, they reckoned not with the men, into whose hands they deliuered that money to be bestowed on workemen: for they did their businesse vpon trust.

16 Howbeit, trespasse money, and sinne money was not brought into the house of the Lord, for it was the Priests.

17 Then came Hazael king of Syria vp, and fought against Geth, and tooke it: and Hazael set his face to goe vp to Hierusalem.

3 Ioachaz the sonne of Iehu is deliuered into the hands of the Syrians. 5 Hee prayeth vnto God, and is deliuered.

IN the three and twentieth yeere of Ioas the sonne of Ahazia king of Iuda, Ioachaz the sonne of Iehu began to reigne ouer Israel in Samaria, seuenteene yeeres.

2 And he wrought that which was euill in the sight of the Lord, and followed the sinnes of Ieroboam the sonne of Nabat, which made Israel to sinne, and departed not therefrom.

3 And the Lord was angry with Israel, and deliuered them into the hand of Hazael king of Syria, and into the hand of Benhadad the son of Hazael, all their dayes.

4 And Ioachaz besought the Lord, and the Lord heard him: for he considered the trouble of Israel, wherewith the king of Syria troubled them.

9 And Joachaz slept with his fathers, and they buried him in Samaria, and Joas his son reigned in his stead.

10 In the thirtie and seuenth yeere of Joas king of Juda, began Jehoas the son of Joachaz to reigne ouer Israel in Samaria, sixteene yeeres.

11 And did that which is euill in the sight of the Lord, and departed not from all the sinnes of Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, that made Israel sinne: for he walked therein.

15 Eliseus saide vnto him, Take bowe and arrowes. And hee tooke vnto him bow and arrowes.

16 And he saide to the king of Israel, Put thine hand vpon the bow. And he put his hand vpon it: and Eliseus put his handes vpon the kings handes.

17 And said, Open a window Eastward. And when he had opened it, Eliseus saide, Shoote. And he shot. And he said, The arrowe of health against Syria: for thou shalt smite Syria in Aphec, till thou haue made an end of them.

18 And he saide, Take the arrowes. And he tooke them. And he said vnto the king of Israel, Smite the ground. And he smote thrise, and ceased.

19 And the man of God was angry with him, and said, Thou shouldest haue smitten fiue or six times, and then thou haddest smitten Syria till thou haddest made an end of them: where now thou shalt smite Syria but thrise.

20 And Eliseus died, and they buried him: and the souldiers of the Moabites came into the land the same yeere.

21 And as they were burying a man, they spyed the souldiers, they cast the man into the sepulchre of Eliseus: and when the man was rolled downe, and touched the bones of Eliseus, hee reuiued, and stood vpon his feete.

22 But Hazael king of Syria, vexed Israel all the dayes of Joachaz.

23 And the Lord had mercy on them, and pitied them, and had respect vnto them, because of his couenant made with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and would not destroy them, neither cast he them from him as yet.

24 So Hazael the king of Syria died, and Benhadad his sonne reigned in his stead.

25 And Joas the sonne of Joachaz went againe, and tooke out of the hand of Benhadad the sonne of Hazael, the cities which he had taken away out of the hand of Joachaz his father in warre: for three times did Joas beate him, and restored the cities vnto Israel againe.

7 He slew of Edom in the salt valley, tenne thousand, and tooke the castle on the rocke in the same battell, and called the name of it Joctheel vnto this day.

17 The nine and thirtieth yere of Azaria king of Juda, began Manahem the sonne of Gadi to reigne vpon Israel ten yeeres in Samaria.

18 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, and turned not away all his dayes from the sinne of Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, which made Israel to sinne.

19 And Phul the king of Assyria came vpon the land: and Manahem gaue Phul a thousand talents of siluer, that his hande might be with him, and stablish the kingdome in his hand.

20 And Manahem made a proclamation for the money in Israel, that all men of substance should giue the king of Assyria fiftie sicles of siluer a piece: so the king of Assyria turned backe againe, and taried not there in the land.

a A wicked sonne of a godly father.

THe seuenth yeere of Pekah the sonne of Remelia king of Israel, Achaz the sonne of Iotham king of Juda began to reigne.

2 Twentie yeeres old was he when he was made king, and reigned sixteene yeeres in Hierusalem, and did not that which was right in the eyes of the Lord his God, like Dauid his father:

3 But walked in the way of the kings of Israel, yea and made his sonne to goe thorowe the fire, after the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lorde cast out before the children of Israel.

4 And hee offered and burnt incense in the high places, and on the hils, and vnder euery thicke tree.

6 At the same time Rezin king of Syria, restored Elath again to Syria, and the Iewes thence: and the Syrians came to Elath, and dwelt there in vnto this day.

16 And Vria the Priest did according to all things as king Achaz commanded him.

17 And King Achaz brake the sides of the bottoms, and tooke the lauer from them, and tooke downe the lauatorie from the brasen oxen that were vnder it, and put it vpon a pauement of stones.

The xvij. Chapter.

5 Hosea king of Israel is taken.

IN the twelfth yeere of Achaz king of Juda, began Hosea the sonne of Elah to reigne in Samaria vpon Israel nine yeeres:

2 And did that which was euill in the sight of the Lord, but not as the kings of Israel that were before him.

3 Against him came vp Salmanasar king of Assyria, and Hosea became his seruant, and gaue him presents.

4 And the king of Assyria found treason in Hosea: for he had sent messengers to So king of Egypt, and brought no present vnto the king of Assyria from yeere to yeere: and therefore the king of Assyria shut him vp, and bound him in the prison house.

5 Then the king of Assyria came vp thorowout all the land, and came vp against Samaria, and besieged it three yeeres.

6 In the ninth yeere of Hosea, the king of Assyria tooke Samaria, and caried Israel away vnto Assyria, and put them in Hala and in Habor by the riuer of Gozan, and in the cities of the Medes.

7 For it came to passe, that the children of Israel sinned against the Lord their God, which had brought them out of the land of Egypt, from vnder the hand of Pharao king of Egypt, and feared other gods.

8 And they walked in the ceremonies of the heathen, whom the Lord cast out before the children of Israel, and in the ceremonies which the kings of Israel had made.

9 And the children of Israel went about to hide those things that were not well, from the Lord their God: and they built them high places in all their cities, both in the townes where they kept watch, and also in the strong townes:

10 And they made them images & groues in euery high hill, and vnder euery thicke tree:

11 And there they burnt incense in al the high places, as did the heathen whom the Lord caried away before them, and wrought wicked things to anger the Lord withall:

12 For they serued idoles, whereof the Lord had sayd vnto them, Ye shall doe no such thing.

13 And the Lord testified in Israel, and in Juda, by all the prophets, and by all the seers, saying, Turne from your wicked wayes, and keepe my commandements, and my statutes, according to al the law which I commanded your fathers, and which I sent to you by my seruants the prophets.

14 Notwithstanding, they would not heare, but rather hardened their necks, like to the stubburnesse of their fathers, that did not beleeue in the Lord their God.

15 For they refused his statutes, and his couenant that hee made with their fathers, and the witnesses wherewith he witnessed vnto them, and they followed vanitie, and became vaine, and went after the heathen that were round about them, concerning whom the Lord had charged them, that they should not doe like them.

16 But they left all the commaundements of the Lord their God, and made them images of mettall, euen two calues, and made groues, and worshipped all the host of heauen, and serued Baal.

17 And they caused their sonnes and their daughters in fire, and vsed witcherafts and enchauntyentes, & solde themselues to worke wickednesse in the sight of the Lorde and to anger him.

18 And the Lord was exceeding wroth with Israel, and put them out of his sight, that there was left but the tribe of Juda only.

19 Neuertheles, Juda also kept not the commandements of the Lord their God, but walked in the ceremonies of Israel which they made.

20 And the Lord cast off all the seede of Israel, and vexed them, and deliuered them into the hands of spoylers, vntill he had cast them out of his sight:

21 For he rent Israel from the house of Dauid, and made them a king, euen Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, and Jeroboam drew Israel away, that they should not follow the Lord, and made them sinne a great sinne.

22 For the children of Israel walked in al the sinnes of Jeroboam which he did, and departed not therefrom, 23 Vntill the Lorde put Israel away out of his sight, as he had saide by all his seruants the prophets: and so was Israel caried away out of their owne land to Assyria, euen vnto this day.

24 And the king of Assyria brought men from Babylon, from Cutha, from Ana, from Hamath, and from Sepharuaim, and put them in the cities of Samaria, in stead of the children of Israel, and they possessed Samaria, & dwelt in the cities thereof.

25 And at the beginning of their dwelling there, they feared not the Lord, and the Lorde sent Lions among them, which slew them.

26 Wherefore they spake to the king of Assyria, saying, The nations which thou hast translated and put in the cities of Samaria, knowe not the law of the God of the land: therefore he hath sent Lions vpon them, and beholde, they slay them, because they know not the maner of worshipping the God of the land.

27 Then the king of Assyria commanded, saying, Carrie thither one of the priests whom yee brought thence, and let him goe and dwel there, and teach them the fashion how to serue the God of the countrey.

28 And then one of the priestes, whom they had caried from Samaria, came and dwelt in Bethel, and taught them how they should feare the Lord.

29 Howbeit, euery nation made them gods of their owne, and put them in the houses of the high places which the Samaritanes had made, euery nation in their cities wherein they dwelt.

30 The men of Babylon made Succoth Benoth, and the men of Cuth made Nergal, and the men of Hamath made Asima.

31 The Auites made Nibhaz and Tharthac: and the Sepharuites burnt their children in fire to Adramelech, and Anamelech, the gods of Sepharuaim.

32 And so they feared the Lorde, and made

5 He trusted in the Lord God of Israel, so that after him was none like him among all the kings of Juda, neither were there any such before him.

6 For he claue to the Lord, and departed not from him: but kept his commandements, which the Lord commanded Moses.

7 And the Lorde was with him, so that he prospered in all things which he tooke in hand: and he rebelled against the king of Assyria, and serued him not.

8 He smote the Philistines, euen vnto Azza, and the coasts thereof, both castles where they kept watches, and strong cities.

14 And Hezecia king of Juda sent to the king of Assyria to Lachis, saying, I haue offended, depart from me: and all that thou puttest on me, that will I beare. And the king of Assyria appointed vnto Hezecia king of Juda three hundred talents of siluer, and thirty talents of gold.

15 And Hezecia gaue him all the siluer that was found in the house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the kings house.

16 At the same season did Hezecia rent off the doores of the temple of the Lord, and the pillars which the said Hezecia king of Juda had couered ouer, and gaue them to the king of Assyria.

b After certaine yeres when Hezecia ceased to pay the appointed tribute, the king of Assyria sent his captaines against him.

17 And the king of Assyria sent b Tharthan and Rabsaris, and Rabsaceh, from Lachis, to king Hezecia, with a great hoste against Hierusalem: and they went vp, and came to Hierusalem, and came them vp, and stood by the conduite of the vpper poole, which is in the way of the fullers field.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Hezecia being sicke, 7 receiueth the signe of his health.

4 And ~~afore~~ Esai was gone out into the middle of the court, the word of the Lord came to him, ſaying,

7 And Esai ſaid, Take a lumpe of ~~dried~~ figs. And they tooke and layd it on the ~~boile~~, and he recouered.

8 And Hezecia ſaid vnto Esai, What ſhall bee the ſigne that the Lord will heale mee, and that I ſhall goe vp into the houſe of the Lord the third day?

9 Esai anſwered, This ſigne ſhalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord will doe that hee hath ſpoken: ſhall the ſhadowe goe forward tenne degrees? or goe backe ~~againe~~ ten degrees?

10 Hezecia anſwered, It is a light thing for the ſhadowe to goe downe ten degrees, I deſire ~~not that~~ but let the ſhadowe ~~goe~~ backward ten degrees.

11 And Esai the Prophet ~~called~~ vnto the Lord, and hee brought the ſhadow tenne degrees backward, by which it had gone downe in the diall of Ahaz.

14 And Esai the Prophet came vnto king Hezecia, and ſayd vnto him, What ſayd theſe men? and from whence came they vnto thee? And Hezecia ſaid, They be come from a farre countrey, euen from Babylon.

15 And he ſaid againe, What haue they ſeene in thine houſe? Hezecia anſwered, All the things that are in mine houſe haue they ſeene: there is nothing among my treaſures, that I haue not ſhewed them.

16 And Esai ſaide vnto Hezecia, Heare the word of the Lord.

3 King Manasse restoreth idolatrie, 16 and vseth great crueltie.

2.Chr.33.1 MAnasse was * twelue yeeres olde when he began to reigne, and reigned fiftie and fiue yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Hephzibah.

2 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, euen after the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lord cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went and built vp the high places, which Hezecia his father had destroyed, and hee reared vp altars for Baal, and made groues, as did Achab king of Israel, and worshipped all the hoste of heauen, and serued them.

2.Sam.7.10. iere.32.34. 4 * And he built altars in the house of the Lord, of which the Lord said, In Hierusalem will I put my name.

Chap.16.3. 5 * And he built altars for all the host of heauen, euen in two courts of the house of the Lord.

6 And he offered his owne sonne in fire, and gaue heede vnto witchcraft and sorcery, & maintained wozkers with spirits, and tellers of fortunes, and wrought much wickednesse in the sight of the Lord, to anger him.

3.Kin.9.3. 7 * And hee put an image of a groue that he had made, in the Temple, of which the Lord sayd to Dauid and Solomon his sonne, In this house, and in Hierusalem, which I haue chosen out of al tribes of Israel, wil I put my name for euer, 8 Neither will I make the feete of Israel moue any more out of the land which I gaue their fathers: so that they will obserue and doe all that I haue commanded them, and according to all the lawe, that my seruant Moses commanded them.

9 But they hearkened not: and Manasse led them out of the way, to doe more wickedly then did the heathen people, whom the Lord destroyed before the children of Israel.

10 And the Lord spake by his seruants the Prophets, saying,

Iere.15.4. 11 * Because Manasse king of Juda hath done these abominations, & hath wrought more wickedly then all the Amozites which were before him did, and hath made Juda sin also with his idoles:

12 Therefore thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Behold, I will bring such euill vpon Hierusalem and Juda, that who so heareth of it, both his eares shall † tingle.

† Be astonished.

13 And I will stretch ouer Hierusalem the squaring line of [a] Samaria, and the plummet of the house of Achab: and I will wipe out Hierusalem, as a man wipeth a dish, and when he hath wiped it, turneth it vpside downe.

[a] As I haue destroyed Samaria and the house of Achab: so will I destroy Juda.

14 And I will leaue the [b] remnant of mine inheritance, and deliuer them into the hand of their enemies, and they shal be robbed and spoyled of all their aduersaries:

[b] Meaning, Juda and Benjamin.

15 Because they haue done euill in my sight, and haue angred me since the time their fathers came out of Egypt, vnto this day.

16 And Manasse shed innocent blood [c] exceeding much, till he replenished Hierusalem from ouer to corner, besides his sinne where with he made Juda to sinne, and to doe euill in the sight of the Lord.

[c] The Hebrues write that he slew Esaias the Prophet.

17 The rest of the woords that concerne Manasse, and all that he did, and his sinne that hee sinned, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Juda?

18 And Manasse slept with his fathers, and was buried in the garden of his owne house, euen in the garden of Oza, and Amon his sonne reigned in his stead.

19 Amon was twentie and two yeeres olde when he began to reigne, and hee reigned two yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Meshullemeth, the daughter of Haruz of Jotbah.

20 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, as his father Manasse did:

21 And walked in all the way that his father walked in, and serued the idoles that his father serued, and worshipped them:

22 And he forsooke the Lorde God of his fathers, and walked not in the way of the Lord.

23 And the seruants of Amon conspired against him, and slew the king in his owne house.

24 And the people of the land slew all them that had conspired against king Amon, and the people made Josia his sonne king in his stead.

25 The rest of the woords that concern Amon, what things he did, are they not written in the booke of the Chronicles of the kings of Juda?

The xxij. Chapter.

4 Iosia repaireth the Temple. 8 Helcia findeth the booke of the Law, and causeth it to be presented to Iosia, 14 who sendeth to Hulda the prophetisse to enquire the Lords will.

IOsia was eight yeeres olde when he began to reigne, * and he reigned thirtie and one yeeres in Hierusalem: his mother name also was Jedida, the daughter of Adaia of Boscath.

2.Chr.34.1.

2 He did that which is right in the sight of the Lord, and walked in all the wayes of Dauid his father, and [a] bowed neither to the right hand, nor to the left.

3 And in the eighteenth yeere of the reigne of king Josia, the king sent Saphan the sonne of Azalia, the sonne of Meshullam the scribe, to the house of the Lord, saying, it to them that worke in the house of the Lord to and hewen stone, to repaire the temple.

7 Howbeit, let no reckoning bee made with them, of the money that is deliuered into their

8 And Helcia the high Priest sayd vnto Saphan the Scribe, [b] I haue found the booke of the Lawe in the house of the Lorde. And Helcia gaue the booke to Saphan, and he read it.
9 And Saphan the Scribe came to the king, and brought the king word againe, and sayde, Thy seruants haue gathered the money that was found in the temple, and haue deliuered it vnto them that do the worke, and that haue the ouersight of the house of the Lord.
10 And Saphan the Scribe shewed the king, saying, Helcia the Priest hath deliuered me a booke: and Saphan read it before the king.
11 And when the king had heard the wordes of the booke of the Law, he rent his clothes.
12 And the king commaunded Helcia the Priest, and Ahicam the sonne of Saphan, and Achbor the sonne of Michaia, and Saphan the Scribe, and Asahia a seruant of the kings, saying, 13 Go ye, and enquire of the Lord for me, and for the people, and for all Iuda, concerning the wordes of this booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is kindled against vs, because our fathers haue not hearkened vnto the wordes of this booke, to do according vnto all that which is written therein for vs.
14 So Helcia the high Priest, and Ahicam,
Achbor, and Saphan, and Asahia, went vnto Huida the Prophetesse, the wife of Sallum the sonne of Tikua, the sonne of Harhas, keeper of the wardrobe: (which prophetesse dwelt in Hierusalem in the [c] house of the doctrine) and they communed with her.
15 And she answered them, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, Tell the man that sent you to me,
16 Thus sayth the Lord, Behold, I will bring euill vpon this place, and on the inhabiters thereof, euen all the wordes of the booke which the king of Iuda hath read:
17 Because they haue forsaken me, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, to anger me with all the [d] workes of their hands: my wrath also shall be kindled against this place, and shall not be quenched.
18 But to the king of Iuda, which sent you to aske counsell of the Lord, ye shall ye say, Thus sayth the Lorde God of Israel, as touching the wordes which ye haue heard:
19 Because thine heart did melt, and because thou hast humbled thy selfe before the Lord, when thou heardest what I spake against this place, and against the inhabiters of the same, how that they should be destroyed and accursed:
and hast rent thy cloathes, and wept before me,
I also haue heard it, sayeth the Lord.
20 Behold therefore, I will receiue thee vnto thy fathers, and thou shalt be put into thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the euill which I will bring vpon this place. And they brought the king word againe.

The xxiij. Chapter.

1 Iosias readeth the Lawe before the people. 3 Hee maketh a couenant with the Lorde. 4 Hee putteth downe the idoles after he had killed their priestes. 22 Hee keepeth the Passeouer. 24 Hee destroyeth the Coniurers. 29 Hee was killed in Megiddo. 30 And his sonne Ioachas reigned in his stead. 33 After hee was taken, his sonne Ioacim was made king.

AND * then the king sent, and there gathered vnto him all the Elders of Iuda and of Hierusalem. 2.Chro. 34. 30.
2 And the king went vp into the house of the Lord, with all the men of Iuda, and all the inhabiters of Hierusalem, with the Priests and Prophets, and all the people both small and great: and he read in the eares of them all, the wordes of the booke of the couenant which was found in the house of the Lord.
3 And the king [a] stood by a pillar, and made a couenant before the Lorde, that they should walke after the Lord, and keepe his commaundements, his witnesses, and his statutes, with al their heart, and all their soule, and make good the wordes of the said couenant, that were written in the foresaid booke: and all the people consented to the couenant.
4 [b] And the king commanded Helcia the high Priest, and the inferiour priests, and the ‖ keepers of the ornaments, to bring out of the temple of the Lord all the vessels that were made for Baal, for the groues, and for all the hoste of heauen: and hee burnt them without Hierusalem in the fieldes of Cedron, and caried the ashes of them vnto Bethel.
5 And he put downe the priests of Baal whom the kings of Iuda had ordained to burne incense in the high places and cities of Iuda that were round about Hierusalem, and also them that burnt incense vnto Baal, to the Sunne, to the Moone, to the Planets, and to all the hoste of heauen.

9 [e] Neuertheless, the priests of the high places came not vp to the altar of the Lorde in Ierusalem, saue onely they did eate of the vnsweete bread among their brethren.

12 And the altars that were on the top of the parlour of Athaz, which the kings of Juda had made, and the altars which Manasse had made in the two courts of the house of the Lorde, did the king breake downe, and ran thence, and cast the dust of them into the brooke Cedron.

13 And the high places that were before Hierusalem, on the right hand of the mount [f] Olivet, * which Solomon the king of Israel had builded for Astoreth, the abomination of the Sidons, and for Chamos, the abomination of the Moabites, and for Milchom, the abomination of the children of Ammon, those the king defiled:

14 And brake the images, and cut downe the groues, and filled their places with the bones of men.

15 *Moreouer, the altar that was at Bethel, the high places made by Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, which made Israel sinne, both the altar and also the high place he brake downe, & burnt the high place, & stampt it to pouder, and burnt the groue.

16 And as Iosia turned himselfe, hee spyed the graues that were in the mount, and sent and fet the bones out of the graues, and burnt them vpon the altar, to pollute it, according to the word of the Lorde that the man of God proclaimed, which told the same words.

17 Then hee sayde, What title is that that I see? and the men of the citie told him, *It is the sepulchre of the man of God, which came from Juda, and tolde the selfesame things that thou hast done to the altar of Bethel.

18 And he sayde, Let him alone: see that no man moue his bones. And so his bones were saued, with the bones of a prophet that came out of Samaria.

19 And all the houses of the high places, in the cities of Samaria, which the king of Israel had made to anger the Lorde withal, those Iosia put out of the way, and did to them according to all the actes that he had done in Bethel:

20 And he sacrificed all the priests of the high places that were there, vpon the altars, & burnt mens bones vpon them, and returned to Hierusalem.

21 * And the king commaunded all the people, saying, Keepe the feast of Passeouer vnto the Lord your God, as it is written in the booke of this couenant.

22 There was no Passeouer holden like that, from the dayes of the Iudges that iudged Israel, and in all the dayes of the kings of Israel, and of the kings of Juda.

23 In the eightenth yeere of king Iosia, was this Passeouer holden to the Lorde in Hierusalem.

24 And moreouer, wizzers with spirits, and soothsayers, images, idoles, and all the abominations that were spied in the land of Juda, and in Hierusalem, those did Iosia put out of the way, to performe the words of the lawe, which were written in the booke that Helchia the priest found in the house of the Lord.

25 Like vnto him was there no king before him, that turned to the Lord with all his heart, and with all his soule, and all his might, according to all the law of Moses, neither after him arose there any such as he.

26 Notwithstanding, the Lorde turned not from the fiercenesse of his great wrath, wherewith he was angrie against Juda, because of all the prouocations that Manasse had prouoked him withall.

27 And the Lorde sayd, I will put Juda also out of my sight, as I haue done away Israel, and will cast off this citie Hierusalem, which I haue chosen, and the house of which I sayd, My name shall be there.

31 Joachas was twentie and three yeres old when he began to reigne, and reigned three moneths in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Hamital, the daughter of Jeremia, of Libna.

32 And he did euill in the sight of the Lorde, according to all things as his fathers had done.

33 And Pharao Necho put him in bonds at Ribla in the land of Hamath, while hee reigned in Hierusalem, and put the lande to a tribute of an hundred talents of siluer, & a talent of golde.

34 And Pharao Necho made Eliacim the sonne of Iosia king, in the roome of Iosia his father, and turned his name to Joacim, & tooke Joachas away: which when he came to Egypt, died there.

35 And Joacim gaue the siluer and the golde to Pharao, and taxed the lande, to giue the money, according to the commandement of Pharao: requiring of euerie man according to their ability, siluer and gold, euen of the people of the land, to giue vnto Pharao Necho.

AND in the [*] ninth yeere of his reigne, the tenth day of the tenth moneth, Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon came, hee, and all his hoste, against Hierusalem, and pitched against it, and made engins against it on euery side. Iere.39.1. and 52.4.

2 And the citie was besieged vnto the eleuenth yeere of king Zedecia.

3 And the ninth day of the moneth, there was so great an hunger in the citie, that there was no bread for the people of the land.

4 And the citie was broken vp, and all the men of armes fled by night, by a way through a gate which is betweene two walles by the kings garden (the Chaldees lying about the citie) and the king went the way toward the plaine.

5 And the souldiers of the Chaldees followed after the king, and tooke him in the plaine of Iericho: and all his armie were scattered away from him.

6 So they tooke the king, and brought him to Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, to Ribla, where they gaue iudgement vpon him.

7 And they slew the sonnes of Zedecia before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedecia, and fettered him with chaines, and caried him to Babylon.

8 And the seuenth day of the fifth moneth (which is the nineteenth yeere of king Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon) came Nabuzaradan, a seruant of the king of Babylon, and chiefe captaine of the men of warre, vnto Hierusalem:

9 And burnt the house of the Lord and the kings house, and all the houses of Hierusalem, and all great houses burnt he with fire.

10 And all the souldiers of the Chaldees that were with the chiefe captaine of the men of war, brake downe the walles of Hierusalem round about.

11 But the rest of the people that were left in the citie, and them that were fled to the king of Babylon, with the remnant of the common people, did Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine of the men of warre carrie away.

12 But the captaine of the souldiers left of the poore of the land to dresse the vines, and to till the ground.

13 And the pillars of brasse that were in the house of the Lord, and the bases, and the brasen lauatory that was in the house of the Lord, did the Chaldees breake, and caried all the brasse of them to Babylon.

14 And the pots, shouels, instruments of musicke, spoones, and all the vessels of brasse that they ministred in, tooke they away.

15 And the fire-pannes, and basons, and such things as were of gold and of siluer, them tooke the chiefe captaine away:

16 Euen two pillars, one lauatorie, and the bases which Solomon had made for the house of the Lorde: the brasse of all these vessels was without weight.

17 [*] The height of the one pillar was eighteene cubites, and the pommell thereof was brasse: 3.Reg.7.15 iere.52.21. 2.chr.3.15.

and the height of the pomme was with wreathen worke three cubits, and pomegranates vpon the pomme round about, all of braſſe: and of the ſame fashion was the ſecond pillar with a wreathen worke:

18 And the chiefe captaine of the men of warre, tooke Saraia the chiefe priest, and Zephoniah the high priest ſaue one, and the three keepers of the holy things:

19 And out of the citie hee tooke a chamberlain, that had the ouerſight of the men of warre, and fiue men of them that were euer in the kings preſence, which were found in the citie, and him that was Scribe to the captaine of the hoſte, which brought out the people of the lande to warre, and threeſcore men of the people of the land that were found in the citie.

20 And Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine of the men of warre, tooke theſe, and brought them to the king of Babylon, to Ribla.

21 And the king of Babylon ſmote them, and ſlew them at Ribla in the land of Hamath: and ſo Iuda was caried away out of their land.

Iere. 40.5. 22 Howbeit there remained people in the land of Iuda, whome Nabuchodonoſor king of Babylon left, and made Gedalia the ſonne of Ahikam, the ſonne of Saphan, ruler euer them.

23 And all the captains of the ſouldiers, they, and their men, heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedalia gouernor, and there came to Gedalia to Miſpah, Ismael the ſonne of Nathania, Johanan the ſonne of Carea, Saraia the ſonne of Thanhumeth the Netophathite, and Iaazania the ſonne of Maachathi, they, and their men.

24 And Gedalia ſware to them, and to their men whome they had with them, and ſayd vnto them, Feare not yee to be the ſeruants of the Chaldees: dwell in the land, and ſerue the king of Babylon, and it ſhall be well.

25 But in the ſeuenth moneth, Ismael the ſonne of Nathania, the ſonne of Eliſama, of the kings blood, came, and ten men with him, and ſmote Gedalia, that he died: and ſo did he the Iewes and the Chaldees that were with him at Miſpah.

26 And all the people both ſmall and great, and the captaines of warre aroſe, and came to Egypt: for they were afraid of the Chaldees.

27 And notwithſtanding, yet in the ſeuen and thirtieth yere after Ioachin king of Iuda was caried away, the ſeuen and twentieth day of the twelfth moneth, Euilmerodach king of Babylon, the ſame yere that he began to reigne, did lift vp the head of Ioachin king of Iuda out of priſon,

28 And ſpake kindly to him, and ſet his ſeate aboue the ſeat of the kings that were with him in Babylon, 29 And changed his priſon garments, and he did euer eate bread before him all the dayes of his life.

30 His portion was a continual portion that was aſſigned him of the king, euery day a certaine, as long as he liued.

Or, be ye not afraid of the ſeruants of the Chaldees.
