|| Or, hit him.

4 Then saide Saul to his harnesse-bearer, Draw thy sword, and thrust mee through therewith, that these vncircumcised come not and doe me shame. But his harnesse-bearer would not, for hee feared exceedingly: So Saul caught a sword, and fell vpon it.

5 And when his harnesse-bearer saw that Saul was dead, he fell on a sword also, and died.

6 And thus Saul and his three sonnes, and all they of his house died together.

7 And when all the men of Israel that were in the valley, saw how they fled, and that Saul and his sonnes were dead, they forsooke their cities, and ranne away: and the Philistines came and dwelt in them.

8 And on the morrow when the Philistines came to strip the dead bodies, they found Saul and his sonnes ouerthrowen in mount Gilboa.

1.Reg.28.7 14 And asked not of the Lord, and therefore he slew him, and turned the kingdome vnto Dauid the sonne of Jsai.

The xj. Chapter.

5 The Iebusites rebell against Dauid, from whom he taketh the tower of Sion.

2.Reg.5.1. THen all * Jsrael gathered themselues to Dauid vnto Hebron, saying,

2 Behold, we be thy bones, and thy flesh: and moreouer in time past euen when Saul was king, thou leddest Jsrael out and in: and the Lord thy God said vnto thee, Thou shalt feed my people Jsrael, and thou shalt be captaine ouer my people Jsrael.

3 Therefore came all the Elders of Jsrael to the king to Hebron, and Dauid made a couenant with them in Hebron before the Lord: and they anointed Dauid king ouer Jsrael, according to the word of the Lord, by the hand of Samuel.

4 And Dauid and all Jsrael went to Hierusalem (which is Jebus, where as were the Iebusites, the inhabiters of the land.)

5 And the inhabiters of Jebus sayd to Dauid, Thou commest not in here. Neuertheless, Dauid wan the castle of Sion, which is called the city of Dauid.

6 And Dauid sayd, Whosoeuer smiteth the Jebusites first, shall be the principall captaine, and a lord. So Joab the sonne of Zaruia went first vp, and was made the chiefe captaine.

7 And Dauid dwelt in the castle of Sion, and therefore they called it the city of Dauid.

8 And hee built the citie on euery side, euen from Millo, round about: and Joab repaired the rest of the city.

9 And Dauid prospered, and waxed great, and the Lord of hosts was with him.

2.Sam.23.8. 10 * These are the principall men of power whom Dauid had, and that claue to him in his kingdome, with all Jsrael, to make him king, according to the word of the Lord, ouer Jsrael.

12 After him was Eleazar his vncles sonne, an Ahohite, which was one of the three mightie.

17 And Dauid longed, and sayd, Oh that one would giue mee drinke of the water of the well that is at the gate at Bethlehem.

18 And the three brake thorow the host of the Philistines, and drew water out of the well that was by the gate at Bethlehem, and tooke it, and brought it to Dauid: Neuertheless, Dauid would not drinke of it, but rather offered it to the Lord.

19 And sayd, My God forbidde it me that I should do this thing: Shall I drinke the a blood of these men, that haue put their liues in ieopardie? for with the ieopardie of their liues they brought it: therefore hee would not drinke it. And this did these three mightiest.

a That is, this water, for the which they ventred their liues.

20 And Abisai the brother of Joab hee also was captaine among three: for hee lift vp his speare against three hundred, & wounded them, and had a name among the three:

21 Yea, among three, he was more honourable then the two, for he was their captain, howbeit, he attained not to the first three.

22 Banaia the sonne of Jehoiada, the sonne of a very strong man, which had done many actes, of Cabzeel, hee slew two strong lions of Moab, and went downe, and slew a lion in a pit in time of snow.

[Or, some reade, men.

23 And he slew an Egyptian, whose stature was fiue cubits long, & in the Egyptians hand was a speare like a weauers beame: and he went downe to him with a staffe, and pluckt the speare out of the Egyptians hand, and slew him with his owne speare.

24 Such things did Banaia the sonne of Jehoiada, and had the name among the three mightiest.

25 And was honourable among thirty, but attained not to the first three: and Dauid made him of his counsell.

2 And sayd vnto all the congregation of Israel, If it seeme good to you, and that it be of the Lord our God, wee will send abroad vnto our brethren that are left in all the land of Israel, and with them also to the Priests and Leuites which are in their suburbs, to gather them together vnto vs:

3 And we will bring againe the [a] arke of our God to vs: for we regarded it not in the dayes of Saul.

4 And all the congregation was content that he should do so: for the thing seemed good in the eyes of all the people.

5 So Dauid gathered all Israel together, from [b] Sihor in Egypt, vnto the entring of Hemath, to bring the Arke of the Lord from Ciriath-iarim.

6 And Dauid went vp, and all Israel, to Baalah, to an high place toward Ciriath-iarim, that was in Juda, to fetch thence the Arke of the Lord God that dwelleth betweene the Cherubims, where his name is called on.

7 And they caried the Arke of God in a new cart out of the house of Abinadab: and Oza and his ‖ brother guided the cart.

8 And Dauid and all Israel played before the Arke of God with all their might, with singing, and harps, psalteries, & timbrels, and cymbals and trumpets.

9 And when they came vnto the threshing floore of Chidon, Oza put forth his hand to hold the Arke, for the oxen stumbled.

10 And the Lord was wroth with Oza, and smote him, because he put his hand to the arke: and there he died before God.

11 And Dauid was out of quiet, because the Lord had rent a rent in Oza: and hee called the name of that place, The renting of Oza, vnto this day.

12 And Dauid was afrayed of God that day, saying, How shall I bring the arke of God home to me?

13 And so Dauid brought not the Arke home to him to the city of Dauid: but caried it into the house of Obed Edom a Gethite.

14 And the arke of God remained with Obed Edom, euen in his house, three moneths: and the Lord blessed the house of Obed Edom, and all that he had.

8 And whe the Philistines heard that * Dauid was anointed king vpon all Israel, all the Philistines went vp to seeke Dauid: and Dauid heard of it, and went out against them.

9 And the Philistines came in, and spread themselues thorow the valley of Rephaim.

10 And Dauid [b] asked counsell at God, saying, Shall I goe against the Philistines? and wilt thou deliuer them into mine hand? And the Lord sayd vnto him, Go vp: for I will deliuer them into thine hand.

11 And so they came vp to Baal Perazim, & Dauid smote them there, and Dauid sayd, God hath diuided mine enemies with mine hande, as a man would diuide water: and therefore they called the name of that place Baal Perazim.

12 And when they had left their gods there, Dauid gaue a commandement, and they were burnt with fire.

13 And the Philistines came together againe, and ‖ rushed into the valley.

14 And Dauid asked againe at God, and God sayd vnto him, Go not vp after them, but turne away from them, * that thou mayest come vpon them ouer against the mulbery trees.

15 And when thou hearest a sound goe in the tops of the mulbery trees, then go out to battel: for God is gone forth before thee, to smite the host of the Philistines.

16 Dauid therefore did as God commanded him, and they smote the host of the Philistines, from Gibeon to Gazer.

17 And the fame of Dauid went out into all lands, and the Lord made all nations feare him.

3 And Dauid gathered all Israel together to Hierusalem, to fetch the Arke of the Lord vnto his place which he had prepared for it.

4 And Dauid brought together the children of Aaron and the Leuites.

5 Of the sonnes of Caath, was Uriel the chiefe, and of his brethren, there were an hundred and twenty.

6 Of the children of Merari, Asaia, the chiefe, and of his brethren, two hundred and twenty.

9 Of the sonnes of Hebron, Eliel the chiefe, and of his brethren, fourescore.

10 Of the sonnes of Oziel, Aminadab the chiefe, and of his brethren, an hundred & twelue.

11 And Dauid called Zadoc and Abiathar the Priests, and the Leuites, Uriel, Asaia, Joel, Semaia, Eliel, and Aminadab, 12 And said vnto them, Ye that are the principall fathers of the Leuites, sanctifie your selues both ye and your brethren, that ye may bring the Arke of the Lord God of Israel, vnto the place that I haue prepared for it.

1.Chro.13.10.

13 For because ye were not there at the first, the Lord our God made a rent among vs, for that we sought him not as the fashion ought to be.

14 So the Priests and the Leuites sanctified themselues to fetch the Arke of the Lord God of Israel.

15 And the children of the Leuites bare the Arke of God vpon their shoulders, with staues thereon, as Moses commanded, according to the word of the Lord.

Exo.25.14.

16 And Dauid spake to the chiefe heads of the Leuites, that they should appoint certaine of their brethren to sing, with instruments of musicke, psalteries, harps, and cymbals, that they might make a sound, and to sing on high with ioyfulnesse.

17 And the Leuites appointed Heman the sonne of Joel, & of his brethren, Asaph the sonne of Berechia, and of the sonnes of Merari, and of their brethren, Ethan the sonne of Cusaia.

18 And with them their brethren of the second degree, Zacharia, Ben, Jaziel, Semiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Benaja, Maaseiah, Mathathia, Eliphale, Mienia, Obed Edom, and Jeiel, porters.

19 So Heman, Asaph, and Ethan, the singers, made a sound with cymbals of brasse.

20 And Zacharia, Aziel, Semiramoth, Jehiel, Unni, Eliab, Maaseia, and Benaia, played ‖ with psalteries to sing with, 21 Mathathia, Eliphale, Mienia, Obed Edom, Jeiel, & Azazia, played with harps of eight strings, to prouoke them to sing.

22 And Chenania the chiefe of the Leuites was maister of the song: for hee taught other to sing, because he was a man of vnderstanding.

23 Berechia and Elcana kept the doore of the arke.

24 And Sebania, Josaphat, Nathanael, Amasai, Zacharia, Benaia, and Eliezer the priests did blow with trumpets before the arke of God: And Obed Edom, and Jehia were keepers of the doore of the arke.

2.King.6.12.

25 And Dauid, and the Elders of Israel, and the captains ouer thousands, went to fetch the Arke of the couenant of the Lord out of the house of Obed Edom with gladnesse.

26 And when [a] God helped the Leuites that bare the arke of the couenant of the Lord, they [b] offered seuen oxen, and seuen rammes.

a That is, gaue them strength to execute their office.

27 And Dauid had on him a linnen garment, like as had also all the Leuites that bare the arke, and so had the singers, and Chenania, the ruler of the song, with the singers: and Dauid had vpon him an Ephod of linnen.

28 And all they of Israel brought the Arke of the Lords couenant, with shouting and blowing of the shaulme & trumpets, making a noise with cymbals, psalteries and harps.

29 And as the Arke of the [c] couenant of the Lord came into the city of Dauid, Michol the daughter of Saul looking out at a window, saw king Dauid dancing and playing, and shee despised him in her heart.

1 The arke being placed, they offer sacrifices. 8 Dauid appointeth a notable Psalme to be sung in the praise of the Lord.

So they brought in the arke of God, and set it in the middest of the tent that Dauid pitched for it: and they offered whole burnt sacrifices, and peace offerings before God.

2 And when Dauid had made an end of offering the whole burnt offerings, and peace offerings, [a] he blessed the people in the Name of the Lord.

a He called vpon the name of God, testifying him to prosper the people, and giue good successe to their beginnings.

3 And he dealt to all Israel, both man and woman, a cake of bread, and a piece of flesh, and a flagon of wine.

4 And he appointed certaine of the Leuites to minister before the Arke of the Lord, and to [b] recount and to thanke and praise the Lord God of Israel.

6 Banaia and Jahaziel, Priests, blew with trumpets continually before the Arke of the couenant of God.

a In tents couered with siannes.

2 And Nathan said vnto Dauid, Do all that is in thine heart, for God is with thee.

3 And the same night the word of God came to Nathan, saying,

4 Go and tell Dauid my seruant, Thus saith the Lord, Thou shalt not build mee an house to dwell in:

5 For I haue dwelt in no house since the day that I brought out the children of Israel, vnto this day, but haue gone from tent to tent, and from one dwelling place to another.

b Meaning, wheresoeuer his arke went, which was the signe of his presence.

6 And wheresoeuer I haue b walked with all Israel, spake I euer one word to any of the Iudges of Israel, whom I commanded to feed my people, saying, Why haue yee not built mee an house of Cedar tree?

7 Nowe therefore, thus shalt thou say vnto my seruant Dauid, Thus sayeth the Lorde of hosts, I tooke thee from the sheep cote, and from following the sheepe, that thou houldest be captaine ouer my people Israel:

8 And I haue beene with thee whithersoeuer thou hast walked, and haue weeded out all thine enemies out of thy sight, and haue made thee a name, like the name of the greatest men that are in the earth.

9 And I haue ordained a place for my people Israel, and made it fast, that now they may dwell in their place, and moue no more: neither shall the children of wickednesse waste them any more, as at the beginning.

10 And since the time that I commaunded Iudges to be ouer my people Israel, I haue subdued all thine enemies: and I told thee that the Lord would build thee an house.

11 This also shall come to passe, when thy dayes be expired, that thou must go vnto thy fathers, I will raise vp thy seed after thee, which shalbe of thy sonnes, and I wil stablish his kingdome.

12 He shall build me an house, and I will stablish his seat for euer.

13 * I will be his father, and hee shall be my sonne, and I will not take my mercy away from him, as I tooke it from him that was before thee. 2.King.9. 14.

14 But I will stablish him in mine house and my kingdome for euer, and his seat shall be sure for euermore.

15 According to all these words, & according to all this vision, did Nathan tell king Dauid.

16 And Dauid the king came, and sate before the Lord, and sayd, What am I, O Lord God, and what is mine house, that thou hast promoted me thus farre?

17 And yet this seemed little in thine eyes, O God: but thou hast also spoken of thy seruants house for a great while to come, and hast looked vpon me, as vpon a man of high degree, O Lord God.

fol. Cc1r

18 What shall Dauid desire more of thee, for the honor of thy seruant? For thou hast knowen thy seruant.

19 O Lord, for thy seruants sake, euen according to thine owne heart, hast thou done all this magnificence, to shew all great things.

20 Lord, there is none like thee, neither is there any God besides thee, according to all that we haue heard with our eares.

21 Moreouer, what nation on the earth is like thy people Israel, to whom God hath vouchsafed to come, and redeeme them to be his owne people, and to make thee a name of excellence and terriblenesse, with casting out nations from before thy people whom thou hast deliuered out of Egypt?

22 Thy people of Israel didst thou make thine owne people for euer, and thou Lorde becamest their God.

23 Therefore nowe Lord, let the thing that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruant, and his house, be stable for euer, that thou Lord do as thou hast sayd.

24 Let it come to passe, that thy name may be magnified for euer, that it may be said, The Lord of hosts is the God of Israel, euen the God of Israel, and the house of Dauid thy seruant endureth stable before thee.

25 For thou, O my God, hast told thy seruant that thou wilt build him an house, and therefore thy seruant hath found in his heart to pray before thee.

26 And nowe Lord, thou art God, and hast promised this goodnesse vnto thy seruant.

27 Nowe therefore, let it be thy pleasure to blesse the house of thy seruant, that it may continue before thee for euer: For whome thou blessest, O Lord, the same is blessed for euer.

1 The battell of Dauid against the Philistines, 2 and against Moab, 3 Zoba, 5 Aram, 12 and Edom

2.Sam.8.1. And after this, Dauid smote the Philistines, & subdued them, and tooke Geth, and the Townes that longed thereto, out of the hands of the Philistines.

2 And he smote Moab, and the Moabites became Dauids seruants, and payed him tribute.

3 And Dauid smote Hadarezer king of Zoba, vnto Hamath, as he went to stablish his dominion by the riuer Euphrates.

4 And Dauid tooke from him a thousand charets, and seuen thousand horsmen, & twenty thousand footmen, and destroied all the charets, but reserued of them an hundred charets.

5 And when the Syrians of Damascus came to helpe Hadarezer king of Zoba, Dauid slew of the Syrians twenty and two thousand.

6 And Dauid put souldiers in Syria Damascus, & the Syrians became Dauids seruants, and brought him tribute: and the Lorde preserued Dauid in all that he went to.

7 And Dauid tooke the shields of golde that were on the seruants of Hadarezer, and brought them to Hierusalem.

8 And from Thebhath, & from Chun, cities of Hadarezer, brought Dauid exceeding much brasse, wherewith Solomon made the brasen lauatory, the pillars, and the vessels of brasse.

‖ Or, Ioram.

11 And king Dauid dedicated them vnto the Lord, with the siluer and golde that he brought from all nations, from Edom, from Moab, from the children of Ammon, from the Philistines, and from Amalek.

12 And Abisai the sonne of Zaruia slew of the Edomites in the salt valley, eighteene thousand.

13 And put souldiers in Edom, and all the Edomites became Dauids seruants: thus the Lord kept Dauid in all that he tooke in hand.

14 And Dauid reigned ouer all Israel, and executed iudgement and righteousnesse among all his people.

15 And Ioab the sonne of Zaruia was ouer the hoste, and Iosaphat the sonne of Ahilud recorder.

16 And Zadoc the sonne of Ahitob, and Abimelech the sonne of Abiathar, were the Priests, and Sausa was scribe,

2 And Dauid sayd, I will shew kindnesse vnto Hanon the sonne of Nahas, because his [a] father dealt kindly with me. And Dauid sent messengers to comfort him ouer the death of his father: and the seruants of Dauid came into the land of the children of Ammon, to Hanon, to comfort him.

[a] Because Nahas receiued Dauid and his company when Saul persecuted him, he would nowe shew pleasure to his sonne for the same.

3 But the lords of the children of Ammon sayd to Hanon, Thinkest thou that Dauid doth honour thy father in thy sight, that he hath sent comforters vnto thee? are not his seruants come to [b] search, to looke, and espie out the land?

6 And when the children of Ammon saw that they stanke in the sight of Dauid, Hanon and the children of Ammon sent a thousand talents of siluer, to hire them charets and horsemen out of Mesopotamia, & out of Syria Maacha, and out of Zoba.

7 And they hired thirty and two thousand charets, and the king of Maacha and his people, which came and pitched before Medeba: and the children of Ammon gathered themselues together from their cities, and came to battell.

10 When Ioab also saw that the front of the battell was against him before and behinde, hee chose out of all the chosen men of Israel, and put them in aray against the Syrians.

11 And the rest of the people he deliuered vnto the hand of Abisai his brother, and they put themselues in aray against the children of Ammon.

13 Plucke vp thine heart, and let vs play the men for our peoples sake, and for the cities of our God: and the Lorde shall doe that which is good in his owne sight.

14 So Ioab and the people that were with him, drew nigh, before the Syrians, vnto the battell, and they fled before him.

15 And when the children of Ammon sawe that the Syrians were fled, they ran away likewise before Abisai his brother, and gate them into the city: and Ioab came to Hierusalem.

16 And when the Syrians sawe that they were put to the woorse before Israel, they sent messengers, and fet out the Syrians that were beyond ‖ the riuer: and Sophach the captaine of the host of Hadarezer, went before them.

19 And when the seruants of Hadarezer sawe that they were put to the woorse before them of Israel, they made peace with Dauid, & became his seruants: neither would the Syrians helpe the children of Ammon any more.

20 And Ornan turned about, and sawe the Angel, and his foure sonnes were with him, and hid themselues: but Ornan was threshing wheat.

21 And as Dauid came to Ornan, Ornan looked and saw Dauid, and went out of the threshing flooze, and bowed himselfe to Dauid, with his face to the ground.

22 And Dauid sayd to Ornan, Giue me the place of the threshing flooze, that I may build an altar therein vnto the Lorde: thou shalt giue it me for as much money as it is worth, that the plague may ~~cease~~ from the people.

23 And Ornan sayd vnto Dauid, Take it to thee, and let my lord the king do that which ~~seemeth~~ good in his eyes: Loe, I giue thee oxen also for whole burnt ~~sacrifices~~, and threshing instruments for wood, & wheat for meat offering, I giue it all.

2.Sam,24.24. 24 And king Dauid sayd to Ornan, Not so, but I will buy it for as much money as it is worth: for I will not take that which is thine for the Lorde, nor offer whole burnt offerings without cost.

c God declareth that hee heard his request, in that he sent downe fire from heauen, for else they might vse no fire in sacrifice, but of that which was reserued still vpon the altar. 1.cron. Chap. 6. Gen. 15. and came downe from heauen, 1.cron. Chap. 9. verse 14. 15 appeared by punishment of Nadab & Abihu, Leu. Chap. 10 verse 1.

25 *And so Dauid gaue to Ornan for that place sicles of golde, sixe hundred by weight.

26 And Dauid built there an altar vnto the Lord, and offered whole burnt offerings, and peace offerings, and called vpon the Lord, and hee heard him from heauen in fire vpon the altar of whole burnt offering.

27 And when the Lord had spoken to the Angel, hee put vp his sword againe into the sheath of it.

28 At that time, when Dauid sawe that the Lorde had heard him in the threshing flooze of Ornan the Iebusite, he vsed to offer there:

29 (For the Tabernacle of the Lorde which Moses made in the wildernesse, and the altar of whole burnt offering, were at that season in the high place at Gibeon:

30 And Dauid could not goe before it to aske counsell at God, for he was afrayed of the sword of the Angel of the Lord.)

The xxij. Chapter.

2 Dauid prepareth things necessary for the building of the Temple.

And Dauid sayde, This is the house of the Lord God, and this is the altar for the whole burnt offering of Israel.

2 And Dauid commanded to gather together the strangers that were in the land of Israel, and hee set masons to hew and polish stones for the building of the house of God.

3 And Dauid prepared plentie of yron for nailes, and doores of the gates, & ioynts withall, and abundance of brasse without weight,

4 And Cedar trees without number: for the Sidons and they of Tyre brought much Cedar wood to Dauid.

5 And Dauid sayd, Solomon my sonne is yong and tender, and the house that is to be builded for the Lord, must be magnificall, excellent, and of great fame and dignitie thorowout all countreys: I will therefore make ordinances for it. And so Dauid prepared many things before his death.

6 And hee called Solomon his sonne, and charged him to build an house for the Lord God of Israel.

7 And Dauid sayd to Solomon, My sonne, I thought in mine heart to build an house vnto the name of the Lord my God:

8 But the word of the Lord came to me, saying, *Thou hast shed much blood, & hast made great battels: thou shalt therefore not build an house vnto my Name, for thou hast shed much blood vpon the earth in my sight.

1.Chr.28.5. a This declareth how greatly God abhorred the shedding of blood, seeing Dauid for this cause is stayed to build the temple of the Lord, albeit he tooke no warre in hand, but by Gods commandement, and against Gods enemies.

9 Beholde, a sonne is borne to thee, and hee shalbe a man of rest, for I will giue him rest from all his enemies round about: for his name is Solomon, and I will send rest and peace vpon Israel in his dayes.

10 He shall build an house for my Name, and he shalbe my sonne, and I will be his father, and I will establish the seat of his kingdome vpon Israel for euer.

11 Nowe therefore my sonne, the Lorde be with thee, and prosper thee, and thou shalt build the house to the Lord thy God, as he hath sayd of thee.

12 And the Lord shall giue thee wisdome and vnderstanding, and shall giue thee ‖ commandements for Israel, that thou maiest keepe the law of the Lord thy God.

‖Or, charge.

13 For then thou shalt prosper, ~~euen~~ when thou takest heed, and fulfillest the statutes and lawes which the Lord charged Moses with for Israel: plucke vp thine heart therefore, and be strong, dread not, nor be discouraged.

14 Behold, according to my pouertie haue I also prepared for the house of the Lord an hundred thousand talents of golde: and a thousand thousand talents of siluer: and as for brasse and yron, it can not be numbred (for it is ~~verie~~ much) much) and I haue prepared timber and stone: and thou mayest prouide more thereto.

15 Moreouer, thou hast workemen with thee enow, and masons, and carpenters, to worke in stone and timber, and many men that be actiue for euery worke.

16 And of golde, siluer, braſſe, and yron, there is no number: therefore, and be doing, and the Lord shalbe with thee.

17 And Dauid commanded all the lordes of Israel to helpe Solomon his sonne, saying, 18 Is not the Lord your God with you? and hath he not giuen you rest on euery side? for hee hath giuen the inhabiters of the land into mine hand, and the land is subdued before the Lord, and before his people.

19 Nowe therefore set your hearts and your soules to seeke the Lord your God: vp, and build ye the temple of the Lord God, to bring the arke of the couenant of the Lord, and the holy vessels of God, into the house built for the Name of the Lord.

22 And Eleazar died, and had no sonnes, but daughters: and their brethren the sonnes of Cis tooke them.

23 The sonnes of Musi, Mahli, Eder, and Jerimoth, three.

24 These are the children * of Leui after the house of their fathers, euen the ancient of the fathers according to their offices, and after the number and summe of the names of them that did the worke in the seruice of the house of the Lord, from the age of twentie yeeres and aboue. Numb.20. 24.

25 And Dauid sayd, The Lord God of Israel hath giuen rest vnto his people, that they may dwell in Hierusalem for euer.

26 That the Leuites also should nowe no more beare the Tabernacle, and all the vessels for the seruice thereof.

27 For according to the last words of Dauid, the Leuites were numbred from twenty yeeres and aboue.

28 And their office was vnder the hand of the sonnes of Aaron, for the seruice of the house of the Lord, in the courts and celles, and in the purifying of all holy things, and in the worke of the seruice of the house of God:

29 And the shewbread, in the fine flowre, in the meat offering, in the wafers of sweet bread, in the frying pan, in the gridiron, and in all maner of measures and esse:

build an house for my name, because thou hast bene a man of warre, and hast shed blood.

4 Moreouer, the Lord God of Israel chose me before all the house of my father, to be king ouer Israel for euer: for in Juda would he chuse a captaine, and of the houshold of Juda is the house of my father, and among the sonnes of my father he had a lust to me, to make me king ouer all Israel.

Sap.9.7. 5 *And of all my sonnes (for the Lord hath giuen me many sonnes) hee hath chosen Solomon my sonne, to sit vpon the seat of the kingdome of the Lord in Israel.

6 And he sayd vnto me, Solomon thy sonne he shall build me an house & courts: I haue chosen him to be my sonne, and I will be his father.

7 I will stablish his kingdome for euer, if he will be strong to doe my commandements and my lawes, as it goeth this day.

8 Now therefore, in the sight of all Israel, the Congregation of the Lord, and in the audience of our God, keepe and seeke for all the commandements of the Lord your God, that ye may enioy a good land, & leaue inheritance for your children after you for euer.

1.Sam.17. 7.psal.7.10 iere.17.1. 9 *And thou Solomon my sonne, know thou the God of thy father, and serue him with a pure heart, and with a willing minde: for the Lord searcheth all hearts, and vnderstandeth all the imaginations of thoughts: and if thou seeke him, he will be found of thee: but if thou forsake him, he will cast thee off for euer.

10 Take heed now, for the Lord hath chosen thee to build him an house of a Sanctuary: be strong therefore, and play the man.

11 And Dauid gaue Solomon his sonne the paterne of the porch, & of the houses that longed thereto, of the store houses, vpper chambers, inner parlers, and of the house of the mercy seat:

12 And the example of all that hee had in his minde, for the courts of the house of the Lord, and for all the celles round about, for the treasuries of the house of God, and for the treasuries of the dedicate things:

13 For the diuiding of the Priests and Leuites that waited by course, and for al the worke manship that should serue for the house of the Lord, and for all the vessels that should serue in the house of the Lord:

14 For gold, and for the weight of gold, for all vessels of sundry ministrations, for all maner of vessels of siluer in weight, & for all vessels whatsoeuer purpose they serued vnto:

15 The weight of golde for the candlesticks, and the golde for their lamps, with the weight for euery candlesticke, and for the lamps thereof, and for the candlesticks of siluer by weight, both for the candlestick & also for her lamps, according to the diuersity of the vse of euery candlesticke.

16 And by weight (hee gaue) golde for the tables of the w bread, euen for euery table, and likewise siluer for the tables of siluer:

17 And pure gold for the flesh hookes, cups, and drinking pots: and pure golde in weight for basons, euen for euery bason: and likewise siluer by weight, for euery bason of siluer.

18 And for the altar of incense pure golde by weight, and gold for the paterne of the charet of the Cherubims that stretched out their wings, & couered the arke of the couenant of the Lord.

19 All he sayd was giuen me by writing of the hand of the Lord, which made me vnderstand all the workmanship of the paterne.

20 And Dauid sayd to Solomon his sonne, Be strong, and of good courage, and do manfully: feare not, nor be fainthearted, for the Lorde God, euen my God is with thee. and he shall not faile thee, nor forsake thee, vntill thou hast finished all the worke that must serue for the house of the Lord.

21 Behold, the Priests and Leuites are diuided in companies, for all maner of seruice that pertaineth to the house of God, they are with thee for all maner of workmanship, and so are all that excel in wisedome, for any maner of seruice, thou hast also the princes & all the people wholly at thy commandement.

The ij. Chapter.

3 Solomon sendeth to Hiram the King of Tyrus for wood and workemen.

1 AND Solomon determined to build an house for the Name of the Lord, and an house for his kingdome.

2 And Solomon told out threescore & ten thousand men to beare burdens, and fourescore thousand men to hewe stones in the mountaine, and [a] three thousande and fiue hundred to ouersee them.

a It is to be vnderstood of officers and ouerseers. 2. Reg. 5. 2. 3 * And Solomon sent to Hiram the King of Tyre, saying, As thou diddest deale with Dauid my father, and diddest send him Cedar wood to builde him an house to dwell in, euen so deale with me.

4 Behold, I build an house for the Name of the Lord my God, to ouer vnto him holy things, and to burne sweet incense, and to set the w bread before him continually, to offer whole burnt sacrifices of the morning, & euening, on the Sabboth dayes, in the first day of euery new moone, and in the solemne feasts of the Lord our God: for it is an ordinance to bee continually kept of Israel.

5 And the house which I build shalbe great: for great is our God, aboue all gods.

6 But who is able to builde him an house, when that heauen, & heauen aboue all heauens is not able to receiue him, what am I then, that should builde him an house? nay, but euen to burne sacrifice before him shall this building be.

7 Send mee now therefore a cunning man that can worke in golde, and siluer, in braſſe, and iron, in purple, crimson, [b] yellow silke, and that can skil to graue with the cunning men that are with mee in Iuda and Hierusalem, whom Dauid my father did prepare.

b Other reade, silke of a violet colour. 8 Send mee also cedar trees, fyr trees, and [c] algume trees out of Libanon: for I wote that thy seruants can skill to hewe timber in Libanon: and beholde, my men shalbe with thine, 9 That they may prepare me timber enough: for the house which I am determined to builde, shall be wonderfull great.

c Some take it for brasill. 10 And behold, for the vse of thy seruants the cutters and hewers of timber, I haue giuen twentie thousande measures of beaten wheate, and twentie thousand measures of barley, and twentie thousand Battes of wine, and twentie thousand Battes of oyle.

11 Then Hiram the king of Tyre answered in writing, which hee sent to Solomon, Because the Lord hath loued his people, therefore hath he made thee King ouer them.

12 And Hiram saide moreouer, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, which made heauen and earth, & that hath giuen Dauid the king a wise sonne, and one that hath discretion, prudence, and vnderstanding, to builde an house for the Lord, and a palace for his kingdome.

13 And now I haue sent a wise man, and a man of vnderstanding, whom my father Hiram did vse:

14 The sonne of a woman of the [d] daughters of Dan, and his father was a man of Tyre, and hecan skill to worke in gold, and siluer, in braſſe, and iron, in stone, and timber, in purple, and fine white, and fine linnen, and crimson, and can graue any maner of grauings, and to finde out diuers maners of subtile worke that shall be set before him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord Dauid thy father.

d It is also written that she was of the tribe of Nephthali, 3. King. 7. which may be vnderstood, that by reason of the confusion of tribes which then began to be, they married in diuers tribes. So that by her father shee might be of Dan, and by her mother of Nephthali.

15 Now therefore, the wheate, and barley, oyle, and wine, which my lord hath spoken of, let him send vnto his seruants:

16 And wee will cut wood in Libanon, as much as thou shalt neede, and will bring it to thee in flotes by sea to Iapho, from whence thou mayest cary them to Hierusalem.

17 And Solomon numbred all the strangers that were in the land of Israel, after the number of them whom his father Dauid had numbred: and they were found an hundred, fiftie, and three thousand, and fiue hundred.

18 And hee set threescore and ten thousand to beare burdens, and fourescore thousand to hewe stones in the mountaine, & three thousand and fiue hundred Officers to set the people a worke.

4 And the porch that was before the length in the front, according to the breadth of the house, was twentie cubites, and the height was an hundred and twentie cubits: and he overlayd it on the inner side with pure golde.

5 And the greater house hee ceiled with firre tree, which he overlayd with the best golde, and graued thereto palme trees, and chaines.

6 And he overlayde the house with precious stone, beautifully: and the golde was golde of Parvaim.

7 The house, I say, the beames, posts, walles, and doores thereof, overlayd he with golde, and graued Cherubims on the walles.

8 And hee made the house most holy; whose length was twentie cubites, like to the breadth of the house, and the breadth thereof was also twentie cubites: and hee overlayde it with good gold, euen with fire hundred talents.

9 And the weight of the nailes of golde was fiftie sicles. And he overlayd the vpper chambers with golde.

10 And in the house most holy, hee made two Cherubims of image worke, like children, and overlayd them with golde.

11 And the wings of the Cherubims were twentie cubites long: the one wing was fiue cubites, reaching to the wall of the house: and the other wing was likewise fiue cubites, reaching to the wing of the other Cherub.

12 And euen so the one wing of the other Cherub was fiue cubites, reaching to the wall of the house: and the other wing was fiue cubits also, and reached to the wing of the other Cherub.

13 So that the wings of the said Cherubims were stretched out twentie cubites: and they stood on their feete, and looked inwards.

16 And he made chaines of wreathen worke for the quier, and put them on the heads of the pillars, and made an hundred pomegranates, and put them on the chaines.

3 And vnder it was the fashion of oxen, which did compasse it rounde about: with ten cubites did they compasse the lauatorie rounde about, and there were two rowes of oxen, which were cast like molten worke.

4 And it stood also vpon twelue oxen: three looked toward the North, three toward the West, three toward the South, and three toward the East, and the lauatorie was set vpon them: and all their backes were toward the lauatorie.

5 And the thickenesse of it, was an hand breadth, and the brimme like the brimme of a cup, with flowers of lilies, and it receiued and held three thousand Baths.

6 And hee made ten lauers, and put fiue on the right hand, and fiue on the left, to wash ‖ cleanse in them such things as they offered for a whole burnt offering: but the great lauatorie was for the Priestes to wash in.

7 And he made ten candlesticks of gold, according to the facion that was giuen of them, and put them in the Temple, fiue on the right hand, and fiue on the left.

8 And hee made also tenne tables, and put them in the Temple, fiue on the right side, and fiue on the left: and he made an hundred basons of golde.

9 And he made the court of the Priests, and the great court, and doores for it, and ouerlayd the doores of them with brasse.

10 And he set the great lauatorie on the right side of the East ende, ouer against the South.

The v. Chapter.

The things dedicated by Dauid, are put in the temple.

1 SO all the worke that Solomon made in the house of the Lord was finished: * and Solomon brought in all the things that Dauid his father had dedicated, with the siluer and golde, and all the iewels, and put them among the treasures of the house of God. 1.King.7. 51.

2 Then Solomon gathered the Elders of Israel together, and all the heads of the tribes and chiefe fathers of the children of Israel, vnto Hierusalem, to bring the Arke of the Couenant of the Lord out of the citie of Dauid, which is in Sion.

3 Wherefore, all the men of Israel reioyced vnto the king, in the feast, which in the a seuenth moneth. a September.

4 And all the Elders of Israel came, and the Leuites tooke vp the Arke.

5 And the Priests and the Leuites brought away the Arke of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle, and they bare them.

6 And King Solomon, and all the Congregation of Israel, that were assembled vnto him before the Arke, offered sheepe and oxen, so many, that they could not bee told, nor numbred, for multitude.

7 And the Priestes brought the Arke of the Couenant of the Lord vnto his place, euen vnto the oracle of the Temple, within the place of the most holy, and set it vnder the wings of the Cherubims.

8 So that the Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubims couered both the Arke & her barres aboue on high.

9 And the barres of the Arke were so long, that the ‖ heads of the barres were seene without the Arke, within the oracle, but not without: and there the Arke remained vnto this day. ‖ Or, ends.

10 But there was nothing in the Arke, saue the two Tables which Moses put therein at Horeb, when the Lord made a couenant with the children of Israel, after they were come out of Egypt.

11 And when the Priestes were come out of the holy place (for all the Priestes that were present, were sanctified, and did not then waite by course:

13 And the trumpet blowers and the singers so agreed, that it seemed but one voyce, in praysing and thanking the Lord, and when they lift vp their voyce with the Trumpets, Cymbales, and other instruments of musicke, and when they praised the Lord, how that he is good, and that his mercie indureth euer: the house of God was filled with a cloude, 14 So that the Priestes could not endure to minister by the reason of the cloude: for the Glorie of the Lord had filled the house of God.

9 Notwithstanding, thou shalt not build the house: but thy sonne, which shall come out of thy loynes, he shall build an house for my Name.

10 The Lord therefore hath made good his saying that hee hath spoken: and I am risen vp in the roume of Dauid my father, and am set on the seate of Israel, as the Lord promised, and haue built an house for the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

12 And the king stoode before the Altar of the Lord, in the presence of all the Congregation of Israel, and stretched out his hands:

13 (For Solomon had made a brasen scaffold of fiue cubits long, and fiue cubits broad, & three of height, and had set it in the mids of the great court, and vpon it he stood, and kneeled downe vpon his knees, before all the Cõgregation of Israel, & stretched out his hands toward heauen,)

14 And said, * O Lord God of Israel, there is no God like thee in heauen, nor in earth, which keepest couenant, and shewest mercie vnto thy seruants that walke before thee with all their hearts. 2.Macc.2. 10.

15 Thou which hast kept with thy seruant Dauid my father, the things that thou promisedst him: thou spakest it with thy mouth, and hast fulfilled it with thine handes, as it is this day.

16 And now Lord God of Israel, keepe with thy seruant Dauid my father, the things that thou promisedst him, saying, Thou shalt not want in my sight one to sit vpon the seate of Israel, so that thy children take heede to their waies, to walke in my Lawe, as thou hast walked before me.

17 And now Lord God of Israel, let thy saying bee true, which thou spakest vnto thy seruant Dauid.

18 (But will God in very deede dwell with men on earth? Behold, heauen, and heauen aboue all heauens, doe not containe thee, howe much lesse the house which I haue builded?)

19 Let it bee thy pleasure therefore to turne to the prayer of thy seruant, and to his supplication, O Lord my God, to hearken vnto the voice & prayer which thy seruant prayeth before thee.

20 And let thine eyes bee open toward this house day and night, euen toward this place whereof thou hast sayd, that thou wouldest put thy name there, to hearken vnto the prayer which thy seruant prayeth in this place.

21 Hearken vnto the prayers of thy seruant, and of thy people Israel, which they pray in this place: heare thou, I say, out of thy dwelling place, euen out of heauen, heare, & be mercifull.

22 If a man sinne b against his neighbour, and take an othe against him, and make him to sweare, and the othe come before thine altar in this house:

23 Then heare thou from heauen, and doe and iudge thy seruants, that thou reward the vngodly, and recompence him his way vpon his head, and iustifie the righteous, and giue him according to his righteousnesse.

24 And if thy people Israel bee put to the worse before the enemie, because they haue sinned against thee: yet if they turne & giue thanks vnto thy name, and make intercession, and pray before thee in this house:

25 Then heare thou from heauen, and bee mercifull vnto the sinne of thy people Israel, & bring them againe vnto the land which thou gauest to them and to their fathers.

26 When heauen is shut vp, and there bee no raine, because they haue sinned against thee: yet if they pray in this place, and confesse thy name, and repent from their sinne, for the which thou chastenest them:

27 Then heare thou in heauen, and be mercifull vnto the sinne of thy seruants, and of thy people Israel, and guide thou them into the good way to walke in, and send raine vpon thy land which thou hast giuen vnto thy people for an inheritance.

28 And if there bee dearth in the land, or pestilence: corruption, or blasting of corne, Grashoppers, or Caterpillers, or that their enemies besiege them in the cities of their land, or whatsoeuer plague or sickenesse it be:

29 Then what supplications and prayers soeuer shall bee made of any man, and of all thy people Israel, when euery one shall know his owne sore, and his owne griefe, and shall stretch out their hands toward this house:

30 Then heare from heauen, euen from thy dwelling place, and bee mercifull, & giue euerie man according vnto all his wayes, as thou doest knowe euery mans heart: (for thou only knowest the hearts of the children of men,)

31 That they may feare thee, and walke in thy wayes as long as they liue in the land which thou gauest vnto our fathers.

32 Moreouer, the stranger which is not of thy people Israel, if hee come from a farre land for thy great names sake, and thy mightie hand, and thy stretched out arme: if they come, I say, and pray in this house, 33 Then heare from heauen, euen from thy dwelling place, and doe according to all that the stranger calleth to thee for: that all people of the earth may know thy name, and feare thee, as doeth thy people Israel, and that they may know how that in this house which I haue built, thy name is called vpon.

34 If thy people goe out to warre against their enemies by the way that thou shalt sende them, and they pray to thee in the way toward this citie which thou hast chosen, euen toward the house which I haue built for thy Name:

35 Then heare thou from heauen their supplication and prayer, & helpe them in their right.

36 If they sinne against thee (as there is no man but he doth sinne) and thou be angrie with them, and deliuer them ouer before their enemies, and they take them, and carie them away captiues vnto a land farre or neere:

37 Yet if they repent in their heart, in the land where they be in captiuitie, and turne and pray vnto thee in the lande of their captiuitie, saying, We haue sinned, we haue done euill, and wickedly:

38 And turne againe to thee with all their heart, and all their soule, in the land of their captiuitie where they keepe them in bondage, and pray toward their land which thou gauest vnto their fathers, euen toward the citie which thou hast cosen, and toward the house which I haue built for thy name:

39 Then heare thou from heauen, euen from thy dwelling place, their supplication and their prayer, and iudge their cause, and be mercifull vnto thy people which haue sinned against thee.

40 Now, my God, let thine eyes be open, and thine eares attent vnto the prayer that is made in this place.

41 * Now vp, O Lorde God, into thy c resting place, thou, and the arke of thy strength: O Lorde God, let thy Priestes be cloathed with health, and let thy saints reioyce in goodnesse.

42 O Lord God turne not away the face of thine f anoynted: remember the mercies which thou hast promised to Dauid thy seruant.

Now when * Solomon had made an end of prayng, there came downe fire from heauen, and consumed the whole burnt offering, and the sacrifices, and the house was filled with the glorie of the Lord.

2 And the Priestes could not goe into the house of the Lord, because the glory of the Lorde had filled the Lords house.

3 And when all the children of Israel sawe how the fire & the glory of the Lord came downe vpon the house, they fell downe flat vpon their faces to the earth vpon the pauement, and worshipped, and confessed vnto the Lord, That hee is gracious, and that his mercie endureth euer.

4 And the king, and all the people, offered sacrifices before the Lord.

5 * And king Solomon offered a sacrifice of twentie and two thousand oxen, & an hundred and twentie thousand sheepe: and so the king and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6 And the priests waited on their offices, and the Leuites had the instruments of musicke of the Lorde, which king Dauid had made to celebrate vnto the Lorde, That his mercie endureth euer, Dauid praising God by them, & the priests blew with trumpets before them, and all they of Israel stood.

7 Moreouer, Solomon hallowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord: for there he offered whole burnt offrings, and the fatte of the peace offerings, because the brasen altar which Solomon had made, was not able to receiue the whole burnt offerings, and the meat offerings, and the fat.

8 So at the same time Solomon kept a feast of seuen dayes, and all Israel with him, an exceeding great congregation, euen from the entring in of Hamath, vnto the riuer of Egypt.

a That was the feast of tabernacles.

9 And in the eight day they made an assembly: for they kept the dedication of the altar seuen dayes, and the feast seuen dayes.

10 And the three and twentieth day of the seuenth moneth, he let the people depart into their tents, glad and merie in heart, for the goodnesse that the Lord had shewed to Dauid, and to Solomon, and to Israel his people.

3.Reg.9.1. 11 *And Solomon finished the house of the Lord, and the kings house: and all that came in his heart to make in the house of the Lorde, and in his owne house, went prosperously forward.

12 And the Lorde appeared to Solomon by night, and sayde to him, I haue heard thy petition, Deut.12.5. * and haue chosen this place for my selfe, to be an house of sacrifice.

13 If I shut vp heauen, that there bee no raine, or if I commaund the Locusts to deuoure the land, or if I send pestilence among my people:

14 And if my people, among whom my name is called vpon, doe humble themselues, & make intercession, and seeke my presence, and turne from their wicked wayes: then will I heare from heauen, and bee mercifull to their sinne, and will b heale their land.

b I will cause the pestilence to cease, and destroy the beasts that hurt the fruit of the earth, and send raine in due time.

15 And from henceforth mine eyes shall bee open, and mine eares attent vnto the prayer that is made in this place.

16 And therefore, now I haue chosen and sanctified this house, that my name may be there for euer: and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before me, as Dauid thy father walked, to doe all that I haue commanded thee, and shalt obserue my statutes and my lawes:

18 Then will I stablish the seate of thy kingdome, according as I made the couenant with Dauid thy father, saying, Thou shalt not bee without a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But if ye turne away, and forsake my statutes and my commaundements which I haue set before you, and shall go, and serue other gods, and worship them:

20 Then will I plucke them vp by the roots, out of my land which I haue giuen them, and this house which I haue sanctified for my name, will I cast out of my sight, and will make it to bee a prouerbe and a iest among all nations.

21 And this house, which is most high, shall be an astonishment to euery one that passeth by, and shall say, Why hath the Lorde dealt on this fashion with this land, and with this house?

22 And they shall answere, Because they forsooke the Lorde God of their fathers, which brought them out of the lande of Egypt, and caught hold on other gods, & worshipped them, and serued them, therefore hath he brought all this euill vpon them.

3 And Solomon went to Hamath Zoba, b and strengthened it.

b Order read, he ouercame it.

4 And hee built Thadmor in the wildernes, and repayred all the store cities which were in Hamath.

5 And hee built Bethhoron the vpper, and Bethhoron the neather, strong cities, hauing walles, gates, and barres:

6 And Baalath, and all the store cities that Solomon had, and all the charet cities, and the cities of the horsemen, and euery pleasant place that Solomon had lust to build in Hierusalem, and Libanon, and throughout al the land of his dominion.

7 And all the people that were left of the Hethites, Amorites, Pherezites, Heuites, and Iebusites, which were not of the children of Israel,

8 But were the children of them which were left after them in the lande, and were not consumed of the children of Israel, them did Solomon make to pay tribute, vntill this day.

9 But of the children of Israel, did Solomon make no seruants for his worke: but they were men of warre, and rulers, and great lords with him, and captaines ouer his charets and horsemen.

10 *And king Solomons officers that ouersawe and ruled the people, were two hundred and fiftie.

11 And Solomon brought the daughter of Pharao out of the citie of Dauid, into the house that he had builded for her: for he sayd, My wife shall not dwell in the house of Dauid king of Israel, for it is holy, because that the Arke of the Lord is come vnto it.

12 Then Solomon offered whole burnt offerings vnto the Lord, on the altar of the Lord, which he had built before the porch:

13 Euen after a certaine rate euery day, offering according to the commaundement of Moses, in the Sabbaths, in the newe Moones, and solemne feasts, three times in the yeere, that is to say, in the feast of sweete bread, in the feast of weekes, and in the feast of tabernacles.

14 And Solomon set the orders of Priestes to their offices, as Dauid his father had ordered them, and the Leuites in their watches, for to praise and minister before the Priestes day by day, and the porters by course, at euerie gate: for so had Dauid the man of God commaunded.

16 For Solomon made prouision for the charges from the first day that the foundation of the house of the Lord was layed, till it was finished, that the house of the Lord was perfect.

17 Then went king Solomon to Ezion Gaber, and to Eloth at the sea side in the land of Edom.

18 And Hyram sent him by the hands of his seruants, ships, and seruants that had knowledge of the sea: and they went with the seruants of Solomon to Ophir, and caried thence foure hundred and fiftie talents of golde, and brought it to king Solomon.

3.Reg.10.1 mat.12.42. luke 11.31.

AND when the Queene of Saba heard of the fame of Solomon, she came to proue him in hard questions at Hierusalem, with a very great company with camels that bare spices, and plenty of golde, and precious stones, and when shee was come to Solomon, shee communed with him of all that her had in her heart.

2 And Solomon tolled her all her questions, and there was not one worde hid from Solomon, which he told her not.

3 And when the Queene of Saba had seene the wisedome of Solomon, and the house that he had built,

4 And the meate of his table, the sitting of his seruants, and the standing of his waiters, their apparell, his butlers, their apparell, ‖ his going by by the which he went into the house of the Lord: there was no more spirit in her.

6 I beleeued not the wordes of them, vntill I came, and mine eyes had seene it: and behold, the one halfe of thy wisedome was not told me: for thou exceedest the fame that I heard.

7 Happie are thy men, and happie are these thy seruants which stand before thee alway, and heare thy wisedome.

8 Blessed be the Lorde thy God, which had lust to thee, to set thee king on his seat, that thou mightest be king for the Lord thy God: because thy God loueth Israel, to make them continue euer, therefore made hee thee king ouer them, to doe right and equitie.

9 And shee gaue the king an hundred and twentie talents of gold, and of spices exceeding great abundance, and precious stones: neither was there any more such spice as the Queene of Saba gaue king Solomon.

10 And the seruants of Hyram, and the seruants of Solomon, which brought golde from Ophir, brought also Algume wood, and precious stones.

11 And the king made of the Algume wood staires in the house of the Lord, and in the kings palace, and harpes, and psalteries for singers: and there was none such wood seene before in the land of Juda.

12 And king Solomon gaue to the Queene of Saba euery pleasant thing that shee asked, a besides that which shee had brought vnto the king: and so she turned, and went away to her owne land with her seruants.

a Besides that, that is to say, the recompence of that which she had brought vnto the king.

13 The weight of golde that came to Solomon in one yeere, was sixe hundred, threescore and sixe talents of gold.

14 Besides that which chapmen and marchants brought: and all the kings of Arabia, and rulers of that countrey, brought gold and siluer to Solomon.

15 And king Solomon made two hundred targets of beaten gold: and sixe hundred ‖ ‖ ‖ of beaten gold were spent vpon one target.

16 And three hundred shields made he of beaten golde: three hundred ‖ ‖ of golde went to one shield: and the king put them in the house that was in the forest of Libanon.

17 And the king made a great seat of Iuorie, and ouerlayd it with pure gold.

18 And there was sixe steps to the seate, with a footstoole of gold, fastened to the seate: ‖ pommels on each side of the sitting place, and two Lyons standing by the pommels, 19 And twelue Lyons stood on the one side and on the other vpon the sixe steps: so that there was no such worke made in any kingdome.

20 And all the drinking vessels of king Solomon were of golde, and all the vessels of the house that was in the forest of Libanon were of precious golde: for siluer was counted nothing worth in the dayes of Solomon.

21 For the kings ships went to Tharsis with the seruants of Hyram, euery three yeeres once came the ships to Tharsis, and brought gold, siluer, Iuorie, and Apes, and Peacocks.

22 And king Solomon passed all the kings of the earth in riches and wisedome.

23 And all the kings of the earth sought the presence of Solomon, to heare his wisedome that God had put in his heart.

24 And they brought euery man his present, vessels of siluer, and vessels of golde, rayment, harnesse, spices, horses and mules, yeere by yeere.

25 * And Solomon had ‖ foure thousand stables for horses and charets, and twelue thousand horsemen: whome he bestowed in the chariot cities, and some were with the king at Hierusalem.

26 And hee reigned ouer all the kings that were from Euphrates vnto the land of the Philistines, and to the border of Egypt.

27 And the king made siluer in Hierusalem as plenteous as b stones, and Cedar trees as plenteous as the Mulberry trees that growe in the vallies.

b The abundance of these temporall treasures in Solomons kingdome is a figure of the spirituall treasures, which the elect shall enjoy in heauen vnder the true Solomon Iesus Christ, 1. king. 11.41.

28 And they brought vnto Solomon horses out of Egypt, and out of all lands.

29 The rest of the acts of king Solomon first and last, are they not written in the sayings of Nathan the Prophet, and in the prophecie of Ahiah the Silonite, and in the vision of Iddo the Seer of visions, against Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat?

30 And Solomon reigned in Hierusalem vpon all Israel fourtie yeres.

The x. Chapter.

4 The rigour of Roboam. 13 Hee followeth lewd counsell. 16 The people rebell.

3.Reg.12.1 AND Roboam went to Sichem: for to Sichem were al Israel come together to make him king.

2 And when Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat (which) was fledde into Egypt from the presence of Solomon the king, heard it, he returned out of Egypt.

3 And they sent and called him: And so Jeroboam and all they of Israel came, and communed with Roboam, saying,

4 Thy father laid a grieuous yoke vpon vs: now therfore remit thou somewhat of the grieuous seruice of thy father, and of his heauy yoke that he put vpon vs, and we will serue thee.

5 And he sayde to them, Come againe vnto me after three dayes. And the people departed.

6 And king Roboam counselled with the Elders that had stand before Solomon his father, while he yet liued, and he sayd, What counsell giue ye me to answere this people againe?

7 And they told him, saying, If thou be kind to this people, and shew thy selfe to wy to them, and speake louing wordes to them, they will be thy seruants for euer.

8 But he left the counsell which the Elders gaue him, and tooke counsell with the yong men that were growen vp with him, and that stood in his presence.

a Which were of his counsell and secrets.

9 And he sayd vnto them, What aduise giue yee, that wee may answere this people, which haue communed with me, saying, Abate some what of the yoke which thy father did put vpon vs?

10 And the young men that were growen vp with him, spake vnto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answere the people that spake vnto thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heauie, but make thou it somewhat lighter for vs: thus shalt thou say vnto them, My little finger shall bee thicker then my fathers loynes.

11 For where my father put a heauie yoke vpon you, I will put more to your yoke: my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with || scourges.

12 And so Jeroboam and all the people came to Roboam the third day, as the king bade, saying, Come againe to me the third day.

13 And the king answered them cruelly, and king Roboam left the counsell of the aged men, 14 And answered them after the aduise of the yong men, saying, My father made your yoke grieuous, and I will adde thereto: my father chastised you with whips, but I wil chastise you with scourges.

3.Reg. 12. 31. 15 * And so the king hearkened not vnto the people: but the occasion came of God, that the Lorde might make good his saying, which hee spake by the hand of Ahia the Silonite, to Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat.

16 And when all Israel sawe that the king would not agree vnto them, the people answered the king, saying, What portion haue wee in Dauid? For wee haue no inheritance in the sonne of Ishai: Euery man to his tent; O Israel, and now Dauid see to thine owne house. And so all Israel gate them to their tents.

17 So that Roboam reigned ouer no moe of the children of Israel then dwelt in the cities of Juda.

18 Then king Roboam also sent Hadoram that was ruler ouer the tribute, and the children of Israel stoned him with stones, that he dyed: but king Roboam made speede to get him vp to his charet, to flee to Hierusalem.

19 And Israel rebelled against the house of Dauid vnto this day.

The xj. Chapter.

4 Roboam is forbidden to fight against Ieroboam.

AND when Roboam was come to Hierusalem, hee gathered of the house of Juda and Beniamin, nine score thousand chosen men of warre to fight against Israel, and to bring the kingdome againe to Roboam.

2 And the worde of the Lorde came to Semeia the man of God, saying,

3 Speake vnto Roboam the sonne of Solomon king of Juda, and to all them of Israel that are in Juda and Beniamin, and say,

4 Thus sayth the Lord, Ye shall not goe vp, nor fight against your brethren: returne euery man to his house, for this thing is done of mee. And they obeyed the wordes of the Lorde, and returned from going against Jeroboam.

5 And Roboam dwelt in Hierusalem, and built strong cities in Juda.

6 He built vp Bethlehem, and Etam, and Thecoa,

7 Bethzur, Socho, and Adullam,

8 Gath, and Mareša, and Ziph,

9 Adoraim, Lachis, and Azecah,

10 Zoraa, Aialon, and Hebron, which is in Juda and Beniamin, strong cities.

11 And he repaired the strong holds, and put captaines in them, and store of victuall, wine, and oyle:

12 And in al cities he put shields and speares, and made them exceeding strong, hauing Juda and Beniamin on his side.

13 And the Priestes and the Leuites that were in all Israel, resorted to him out of al their coasts.

14 For the Leuites left their suburbes, and their possession, and came to Juda and Hierusalem: for Jeroboam and his sonnes had cast them off from ministring vnto the Lord.

15 And hee ordained him Priests for the high places, for the a deuils, and for the calues which he had made.

a Meaning, idoles, trans. Eliz 34.

16 And after the Leuites, there went out of the Tribes of Israel, such as submitted their hearts to seeke the Lorde God of Israel, came to Hierusalem, to offer vnto the Lorde God of their fathers.

17 And so they strengthened the kingdome of Juda, and made Roboam the sonne of Solomon mighty three yeeres long: for three b yeeres they walked in the way of Dauid and Solomon.

b So long as they feared God, and set forth his word, they prospered.

18 And Roboam tooke him Mahalath the daughter of Jerimoth the sonne of Dauid to wife, and Abihael the daughter of Eliab the sonne of Ishai.

19 Which bare him children, Jeus, Samaria, and Zaham.

daughter of Absalom, which bare him Abia, Attha, Ziza, and Selomith.

21 And Roboam loued Maacha the daughter of Absalom aboue all his wiues and concubines: for hee tooke eighteene wiues and threescore concubines, and begate twenty and eight sonnes, and threescore daughters.

22 And Robogy made Abia the sonne of Maacha, the chiefe ruler among his brethren: for he thought to make him king.

23 [c] And hee played wisely, and scattered all his children throughout all the countries of Juda and Beniamin vnto euery strong citie: and he gaue them abundance of victuall, and obtained many wiues.

c Others reade and he taught him.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Roboam forsaketh the Lord, and is punished by Sesac.

AND when Roboam had established the kingdom, and became mighty, hee forsooke the lawe of the Lord, and all Israel with him.

2 And in the fifth yeere of king Roboam Sesac king of Egypt came vp against Jerusalem (because they had transgressed against the Lord)

3 With twelue hundred charets, and threescore thousand horsemen: and the people were without number that came with him out of Egypt; Lubim, Sukim, and the Ethiopians.

4 And he tooke the strong cities in Juda, and came to Hierusalem.

5 Then came Semia the Prophet to Roboam, and to the lords of Juda that were gathered together within Hierusalem for Sesac, and said vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord, Yee haue left mee, and therefore haue I also left you in the hands of Sesac.

6 Whereupon the lordes of Israel and the king humbled themselues, and said, The Lord is righteous.

7 And when the Lord saw that they submitted themselues, the worde of the Lord came to Semeia, saying, They submit themselues, therefore I will not destroy them, but I will deliuer them some what, and my wrath shall not be powred out vpon Hierusalem by the hand of Sesac.

8 Nevertheless, they shalbe his seruants, to know what difference is betweene [d] my seruice, and the seruice of the kingdomes of the world.

9 And so Sesac king of Egypt came to Hierusalem, and tooke away the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the kings house, he tooke all: hee caried away the shields of gold which Solomon made.

10 In stead of which king Roboam made shields of braße, and committed them to the hands of the chiefe of the guard, and that kept the entrance of the kings house.

11 And when the king entred into the house of the Lord, the guard came and fet them, and brought them againe to the guard chamber.

12 And when he humbled himselfe, the wrath of the Lord turned from him, that he would not destroy altogether: and in Juda all was well.

13 And so king Roboam waxed mighty, and reigned in Hierusalem: and Roboam was one and fourtie yeeres olde when hee began to reigne, and he reigned seuenteene yeres in Hierusalem, the citie which the Lorde had chosen out of all the tribes of Israel to put his name there: and his mothers name was Naama, an Ammonitesse.

14 And he did euill, because he prepared not his heart to seeke the Lord.

15 The actes also of Roboam first and last, are they not written in the bookes of Semeia the Prophet, and of Iddo the Seer, which noted the genealogie? and there was warre alway betweene Roboam and Jeroboam.

16 And Roboam slept with his fathers, and was buried in the citie of Dauid, and Abia his sonne reigned in his stead.

2 And hee reigned three yeeres in Hierusalem: (his mothers name also was Michaia the daughter of [a] Uriel of Gibea:) and there was warre betweene Abia and Jeroboam.

3 And Abia set the battell in aray, with the armie of valiant men of warre, euen foure hundred thousand chosen men: and Jeroboam set himselfe in aray to fight against him, with eight hundred thousand picked men, which were strong men, and men of armes.

3. Reg. 15. 7

4 And Abia stoode vp vpon Zemaraim, an hill which is in mount Ephraim, and saide, Heare me thou Jeroboam and all Israel.

5 Doe not you knowe, how that the Lorde God of Israel gaue the kingdome ouer them of Israel to Dauid for euer, euen to him, and to his sonnes, with a [b] salted couenant?

6 And Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat the seruant of Solomon the sonne of Dauid, is risen vp, and hath rebelled against the Lord.

7 And there gathered vnto him lewd men, the children of Belial, and preuailed against Roboam the sonne of Solomon, when Roboam was [c] young, and tender hearted, and could not stand before them.

8 And now ye say that ye be able to preuaile against the kingdome of the Lorde, which is in the hands of the sonnes of Dauid, and yee be a great multitude, and haue the golden calues which Jeroboam made you for gods.

9 And haue ye not cast out the priests of the Lord the sonnes of Aaron and the Leuites, and haue made you priests after the maner of the nations of other landes? so that whosoeuer commeth and consecrateth his hande with a young bullocke and seuen rammes, the same may be a priest of them that are no gods.

10 But wee belong vnto the Lorde our God, whom we haue not forsaken, and the priests are the sonnes of Aaron which minister vnto the Lord, and the Leuites wayt vpon their office.

11 They burne vnto the Lord euery morning and euening, whole burnt sacrifices, and sweete incense: the shewbread set they in order vpon a pure table, and prepare the candlestick of gold, with the lampes of the same, to burne euer at Euen: and truly we keepe the watch of the Lord our God, but ye haue forsaken him.

12 And behold, God himselfe is our captaine, and his Priests blow with the Trumpets, and crie alarme against you, O ye children of Israel, fight not against the Lord God of your fathers: for it will not prosper with you.

13 But for all that Ieroboam conueied men priuily about, to come behind them: and so they were before Iuda, and the liers in waite were behinde them.

14 And when they of Iuda looked about, behold, the battel was before and behind, and they cried vnto the Lord, and the Priests blew with the trumpets.

15 And the men of Iuda gaue a shoute: and as the men of Iuda shouted, it came to passe that God smote Ieroboam and all Israel, before Abia and Iuda.

16 And the children of Israel fled before Iuda, and God deliuered them into their hand.

17 And Abia & his people slew a great slaughter of them: there fell downe wounded of Israel fiue hundred thousand chosen men.

18 And so the children of Israel were brought vnder at that time, and the children of Iuda preuailed, d because they leaned vnto the Lord God of their fathers.

d The cause of victorie.

19 And Abia followed after Ieroboam, and tooke cities from him, Bethel with the townes belonging thereto, Iesana with the townes that belonged thereto, and Ephron with her townes.

20 And Ieroboam recouered no strength againe in the dayes of Abia: and the Lord plagued him, and he died.

21 But Abia waxed mighty, and married fourteene wiues, and begate twentie and two sonnes, and sixteene daughters.

22 The rest of the acts of Abia, his maners and his sayings, are written in the storie of the Prophet Iddo.

The xiiij. Chapter.

3 Asa destroyeth idolatry, and commandeth his people to serue the true God.

SO Abia slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the citie of Dauid, * and Asa his sonne reigned in his stead, in whose dayes the land was in quietnes ten yeeres. 3.Reg.15.8

2 And Asa did that was good and right in the eyes of the Lord his God.

3 For he tooke away strange altars, and the high places, and brake downe the images, and cut downe the groues:

4 And commanded Iuda to seeke the Lord God of their fathers, and to doe according to the law and commandement.

5 And hee put away out of all the cities of Iuda, the high places and the images: and the kingdome was quiet before him.

6 And he built strong cities in Iuda, because the land was in rest, & hee had no warre in those yeeres: for the Lord had giuen him rest.

7 Therefore he said vnto Iuda, Let vs build these cities, and make about them walls, towres, gates, and barres, for the land is yet in rest before vs: because wee haue sought the Lord our God, we haue sought him, and he hath giuen vs rest on euery side. And so they built, and it prospered with them.

8 And Asa had an armie of men that bare shields and speares, out of Iuda three hundred thousand, & out of Beniamin that bare shields, and drewe bowes, two hundred and fourescore thousand: all these were valiant men.

9 And there came out against them Zarah of Ethiopia, with an host of ten hundred thousand and three hundred charets, and came as farre as Mareša.

10 And Asa went out before him, and they ioined the battel in the valley of Zephatâ, beside Mareša.

11 And Asa cried vnto the Lord his God, and sayd, Lord, it is no hard thing with thee to helpe with many, or them that haue no power: helpe vs therefore, O Lord our God, for we trust in thee, and in thy Name we goe against this multitude: thou art the Lord our God, and no man shall preuaile against thee. 1.Sam.14.6

12 And so the Lord smote the Ethiopians before Asa and Iuda, and the Ethiopians fled.

13 And Asa and the people that was with him, followed after them vnto Gerar: and the Ethiopians host was ouerthrowen, that there was none of them left, but were destroyed before the Lord and before his host: and they caried away a mighty great praye.

14 And they smote all the cities round about Gerar, for the feare of the Lord came vpon them: and they spoiled all the cities, and there was exceeding much spoile in them.

15 They smote also the tents of cattel, and caried away plentie of sheepe and camels, and returned to Hierusalem.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The exhortation of Azaria. 8 Asa purgeth his countrey of idolatrie. 14 They sweare together to serue the Lord. 16 He deposeth his mother for her idolatrie.

AND the spirit of God came on Azaria the sonne of Obed.

2 And he went out to meete Asa, and said vnto him, Heare me, Asa, and all Iuda and Beniamin, the Lord is with you, while yee be with him: and if ye seeke him, he will be found of you: and againe, when yee forsake him, he also will forsake you.

3 Now for a long season Israel hath beene without the true God, and without Priests to teach, and without Law,

4 And when any man in his trouble did turn vnto the Lord God of Israel, and sought him, he was found of them.

5 And in that time there was no peace to him that went out and in, but great seditions was there among all the inhabiters of the earth.

6 And nation was destroyed of nation, and citie of citie: for God did moue all aduersitie among them.

7 Play yee therefore the men, and let not your handes faint: for your worke shall be rewarded.

8 And when Asa heard those words, and the prophesie of Azaria the sonne of Obed the Prophet, he tooke courage, and put away the abominable idoles out of all the lande of Iuda and Beniamin, and out of the cities which he had taken in mount Ephraim, and renued the altar of the Lord that was before the porch of the Lord,

9 And he gathered all Iuda and Beniamin, and the straungers with them, out of Ephraim, Manasse, and Simeon: for there fell many to him out of Israel, when they saw that the Lord his God was with him.

10 So they assembled together at Hierusalem the third moneth, the fiftenth yeere of the reigne of Asa.

11 And they offered vnto the Lorde the same time, of the spoyle which they had brought, seuen hundred oxen, and seuen thousand sheepe.

12 And they made a couenant to seeke the Lord God of their fathers with all their heart, and all their soule.

13 And whosoeuer would not seeke the Lord God of Israel, should die for it, whether he were small or great, man or woman.

14 And they sware vnto the Lord with a loud voyce, howting and blowing with trumpets and hawmes.

15 And all they in Juda reioyced at the othe: for they had sworne vnto the Lord with all their heart, and sought him with all their lust, and he was found of them: and the Lorde gaue them rest round about on euery side.

16 And king Asa put Maacha his mother out of authoritie, because she had made an idole in a groue: and Asa broke downe her idole, and stamped it, and burnt it at the brooke Cedron.

17 But all the high places were not taken away out of Israel, though the heart of Asa was perfect all his dayes.

18 And he brought into the house of God the things that his father had dedicate, and that he himselfe had dedicate, euen siluer, and gold, and vessels.

19 And there was no more warre vnto the thirtie and fiue yeere of the reigne of Asa.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 Asa for feare of Baasa king of Israel, maketh a couenant with Benhadad king of Syria. 7 Hee is reproued by the Prophet.

IN the thirtie and fiue yeere of the reigne of Asa, came Baasa king of Israel against Juda, and built Rama, to the intent that he would let none passe out or in to Asa king of Juda.

2 And Asa fet out gold and siluer out of the treasures of the house of the Lord, and of the kings house, and sent to Benhadad king of Syria that dwelt at || Darmasec, and sayd,

3 There is a confederation betweene mee and thee, betweene my father and thine: behold, I haue sent thee siluer and gold, that thou wilt come and breake thy league with Baasa king of Israel, that he may depart from me.

4 And Benhadad graunted vnto king Asa, and sent the captaines of his armies to the cities of Israel: and they smote Ijon, Dan, and Abelmaim, and all the store cities of Nephtali.

5 And when Baasa heard this, he left building of Rama, and let his worke cease.

6 And then Asa the king tooke all Juda, and caried away the stones and timber of Rama, where with Baasa was a building, and he built there with Geba and Mispah.

7 At that time Hanani the Seer came to Asa king of Juda, and sayd vnto him, Because thou hast trusted in the king of Syria, and not rather put thy trust in the Lorde thy God, therefore is the hoste of the king of Syria escaped out of thine hand.

8 Were not the Ethiopians and Lubim an exceeding great hoste, with many charets and horsemen? and yet because thou trustedst in the Lord, he deliuered them into thine hand.

9 For the eyes of the Lord behold all the earth, to strength them that are of perfect heart toward him: herein thou hast done foolishly, and therefore from henceforth thou shalt haue warre.

10 And Asa was wroth with the Seer, & put him into a prison house, for he was displeased with him, because of this thing: and Asa oppressed certaine of the people the same season.

11 And beholde, these deedes of Asa first and last are written in the booke of the kings of Juda and Israel.

12 And Asa in the thirtie and ninth yeere of his reigne fell sicke in his feete, and his disease continued very long, & in his sicknesse he sought not the Lord, but Physicians.

13 And Asa slept with his fathers, and dyed in the fourtie and one yeere of his reigne.

14 And they buried him in his owne sepulchre, which he had made for himselfe in the citie of Dauid, and layd him in the bedde which was filled with diuers kindes of spices, and sweete odours, made by the craft of the Apothecaries: and they made a very great burning.

The xvij. Chapter.

5 Iosaphat trusting in the Lorde, prospereth in riches and honour. 6 Hee aboliſheth idolatrie, 7 and causeth the people to be taught.

AND Iosaphat his sonne reigned in his stead, and preuailed against Israel.

2 And hee put soulders in all the strong cities of Juda, and set rulers in the land of Juda, and in the cities of Ephraim, which Asa his father had wonne.

3 And the Lord was with Iosaphat, because hee walked in the former waies of his father Dauid, and sought not Baalim:

4 But sought the Lorde God of his father, and walked in his commaundements, and not after the doings of Israel.

5 Therefore the Lorde stablished the kingdome in his hand, and all Juda brought him presents, so that he had abundance of riches and honour.

6 And he lift vp his heart vnto the waies of the Lord, and he put downe yet more of the high places and groues out of Juda.

7 In the third yeere of his reigne he sent to his lords, euen to Benhail, Obadia, Zacharia, Nethaneel, and to Michaia, that they should teach in the cities of Juda:

8 And with them he sent Leuites, euen Semeia, Nethania, Zebadia, Asael, Semiramoth, Jehonathan, Adonia, Tobia, and Tob-adonia, Leuites: and with them Elisama and Joram, Priests.

9 And they taught in Juda, and had the booke of the Law of God with them, and went about throughout all the cities of Juda, and taught the people.

10 And the feare of the Lord fell vpon all the kingdomes of the land that were round about Juda, and they fought not against Iosaphat.

3 And Achab king of Iſrael ſaid vnto Iehoſaphat king of Iuda, Wilt thou go with me to Ramoth in Gilead? And he anſwered him, I will be as thou, and my people ſhall be as thine, and we will goe with thee to the warre.

18 And Ioſaphat b bowed his face to the earth, and all Iuda, and the inhabiters of Hieruſalem fell before the Lord, worſhipping the Lord.

19 And the Leuites of the children of the Caathites, and of the children of the Corahites, ſtood vp to praiſe the Lord God of Iſrael, with a loud voyce on high.

20 And whē they aroſe early in the morning, they gate them out vnto the wildernesſe of Thecoa: and as they went out, Ioſaphat ſtood, and ſaid, Heare me, O Iuda, and yee inhabiters of Hieruſalem: Put your truſt in the Lorde your God, that yee may be found faithfull, & ſo ſhall ye proſper.

21 When he had conſulted with the people, and ſet ſome to ſing vnto the Lord, and to praiſe him in the beautie of holineſſe, as they went out before the armie, and to ſay, Praiſe the Lord, for his mercy laſteth euer:

22 And when they beganne to ſhowte, and to praiſe the Lord, the Lord laide ambuſhments againſt the children of Ammon, Moab, and mount Seir, which were come againſt Iuda, and they were ſmitten downe with ſtrokes among themſelues.

23 For the children of Ammon and Moab, roſe againſt the inhabiters of mount Seir, and ſlewe and deſtroyed them: and when they had made an ende of the inhabiters of Seir, euery one helped to deſtroy an other among themſelues.

24 And when Iuda came toward Mitpah in the wildernesſe, they looked vnto the multitude, and behold, they were dead carkeſſes fallen to the earth, and none eſcaped.

25 And when Ioſaphat and his people came to take away the ſpoyle of them, they found among them abundance of goods, raiment, and precious iewels, which they tooke for themſelues more then they could carie away: ſo that they were three dayes in gathering of the ſpoile, it was ſo much.

26 And the fourth day they aſſembled in the valley of bleſſing: for there they c bleſſed the Lorde, and therefore they called the name of the ſame place, The valley of bleſſing, vnto this day.

c Geue thanks vnto the Lord for their victorie.

27 And ſo all the men of Iuda and Hieruſalem, returned with Ioſaphat their head, for to goe againe to Hieruſalem with gladneſſe: for the Lorde had made them to reioyce ouer their enemies.

28 And they came to Hieruſalem with Pſalteries, and Harpes, and Shawmes, vnto the houſe of the Lord.

29 And the feare of God fell on the kingdomes of all lands, when they had heard that the Lord fought againſt the enemies of Iſrael.

30 And ſo, the realme of Ioſaphat was in tranquillitie, and his God gaue him reſt on euerie ſide.

31 And Ioſaphat reigned vpon Iuda, and was thirtie and fiue yeeres olde when he began to reigne, and he reigned twentie and fiue yeres in Hieruſalem, and his mothers name was Azuba, the daughter of Silhi.

32 And hee walked in the way of Aſa his father, and bowed not therefrom, doing that which was right in the ſight of the Lord.

33 Howbeit, * the high places were not taken away: for the people had not yet prepared their hearts vnto the God of their fathers.

34 The reſt of the actes of Ioſaphat firſt and laſt, behold, they are written among the ſayings of Jehu the ſonne of Hanani, which noted them in the booke of the kings of Iſrael.

35 After this, did Ioſaphat king of Iuda ioine himſelf with Ahazia king of Iſrael, whoſe mind was to doe wickedly:

36 Hee ioyned himſelfe with him, to make ſhips to goe to Tharſis: and they made the ſhips in Ezion Gaber.

37 And Eliezer the ſonne of Dodauah of Mareſa, prophecied againſt Ioſaphat, ſaying, Becauſe thou haſt d ioyned thy ſelfe with Ahazia, the Lord hath broken thy workes. And the ſhips were broken, that they were not able to goe to Tharſis.

d God would not haue him to ioyne in fellowſhip with idolaters and wicked men.

IOſaphat alſo ſlept with his fathers, and was buried with his fathers in the city of Dauid: and Ioram his ſonne reigned in his ſtead.

2 And he had brethren which were the ſonnes of Ioſaphat, Azaria, Iehiel, Zacharia, Azaria, Michael, and Sephatia: all theſe are the ſonnes of Ioſaphat king of Iuda.

9 And Jozam went forth with his lords, and all his charets were with him: and he rose by by night, & smote the Edomites, which compassed him in: and the captaines of the charets.

10 But Edom rebelled till so that they would not be vnder the hand of Juda vnto this day: that same time also did Libna rebell from being vnder his hand, because he had forsake the Lord God of his fathers.

11 Moreouer, hee made high places in the mountaines of Juda, and caused the inhabitters of Hierusalem to [b] commit fornication, and prostituted Juda to idolatrie.

12 And there came a writing to him from Elia the Prophet, saying, Thus saith the Lorde God of Dauid thy father, Because thou hast not walked in the waies of Josaphat thy father, and in the wayes of Asa king of Juda:

13 But walkedst in the wayes of the kings of Israel, and hast made Juda, and the dwellers of Hierusalem, to goe a whoring like to the whoredome of the house of Ahab, and hast slaine thy brethren, euen thy fathers house, which were better then thou:

14 Behold, with a great plague wil the Lord smite thy folke, thy children, thy wiues, and all thy goods:

15 And thou shalt suffer great paine, euen a disease of thy bowels, vntill thy guts fall out by reason of thy sicknesse day by day.

16 And so the Lord stirred vp against Jozam the spirit of the Philistines, and the Arabians that were beside the Ethiopians.

17 And they came vp into Juda, and walled it, and caried away all the substance that was found in the kings house, & his sonnes, and his wiues, so that there was neuer a sonne left him, saue ‖ Joahaz, which was the youngest among his sonnes.

18 And after all these things, the Lord smote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

19 And in processe of time, after the ende of two yeeres, his guttes fell out in his sicknesse, and so he died of very euill diseases: and they made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When he began to reigne, hee was thirtie and two yeeres old, and he reigned in Hierusalem eight yeeres, and liued ‖ wretchedly: howbeit they buried him in the citie of Dauid: but not among the sepulchres of the kings.

The xxij. Chapter.

10 Athalia putteth to death all the kings linage. 11 Ioas escapeth.

AND * the inhabiters of Hierusalem made Ahazia his yongest sonne king in his stead: for the men of warre that came [a] with the host of the Arabians, had slaine all his eldest sonnes. And so Ahazia the sonne of Jozam king of Juda was made king.

2 [b] Fourtie and two yeres old was he, when he began to reigne, and he reigned one yeere in Hierusalem: his mothers name was Athalia, the daughter of [c] Amri.

3 And hee walked also in the wayes of the house of Ahab: for his mother by her counsell entised him to doe wickedly.

4 Wherefore he did that which was euill in the sight of the Lorde, as did they that were of the house of Achab: for they were his [d] counsailours after the death of his father, to his destruction.

5 And he walked after their counsaile, and went with Jozam sonne of Achab king of Israel, to fight against Hazael king of Syria at Ramoth in Gilead: and the Syrians smote Jozam.

6 And he turned to be healed in Jezrahel, of the wounds which were giuen him at Rama, when he fought with Hazael king of Syria: and Ahazia the sonne of Jozam king of Juda, went downe to see Jozam the sonne of Achab at Jezrahel, because he was diseased.

7 And it came of God that Ahazia should be destroyed for his comming to Jozam: for when he was come, he went out with Jozam against Jehu the sonne of Nimsi, whom the Lord had anointed to destroy the house of Achab.

8 And when Jehu was executing iustice vpon the house of Achab, and found the lords of Juda, and the sonnes of the brethren of Ahazia that waited on Ahazia, he slew them.

9 And he sought Ahazia: and they caught him (where he was hid in Samaria) & brought him to Jehu, and when they had slaine him, they buried him: because, said they, he is the sonne of Josaphat, which sought the Lorde with all his heart: And the house of Ahazia had no power to keepe still the kingdome.

10 * But when Athalia, the mother of Ahazia, saw that her sonne was dead, she arose and [e] destroied all the kings seed in the house of Juda.

11 And Josabeth the daughter of the king, tooke Joas the sonne of Ahazia, and stale him from among the kings sonnes that were slaine, and put him and his nurse in a privie chamber: and so Josabeth the daughter of king Jozam, the wife of Jehoiada the Priest, (for she was sister of Ahazia) hid him from Athalia, that he was not slain.

12 And so he was with them hid in the house of God fiue yeeres, and Athalia reigned ouer the land.

2 And they went about in Juda, and gathered the Leuites out of all the cities of Juda, and the ancient fathers of [a] Israel, and they came to Hierusalem.

3 And all the Congregation made a bond with the king in the house of God: and he said vnto them, Beholde, the kings sonne must reigne, as the Lord hath said of the children of Dauid.

4 This is it therefore that ye shall doe, The third part of you shall on the Sabboth come to the Priests, Leuites, and keepers of the porches.

6 But there shall none come into the house of the Lord, saue the Priests and Leuites that minister, they shall goe in, for they are holy: but all the people shall keepe the watch of the Lord.

7 And the Leuites shall compasse the king round about, & euery man shall haue his weapon in his hande, and what other man so euer doeth come into the house of the Lord he shall be slaine: and let them be with the king when he commeth in, and when he goeth out.

8 And the Leuites, and all Juda did according to all things that Jehoiada the Priest had commanded, and tooke euery man his men that came in on the Sabboth day, with them that went out on the Sabboth day: neither did Jehoiada the Priest let the companions depart.

9 And Jehoiada the Priest, deliuered to the captains of hundreds, speares, shields, and bucklers, that had pertained to king Dauid, and were in the house of God.

10 And he set all the people (euery man hauing his weapon in his hand) from the right side of the temple, to the left side of temple, along by the altar and the temple, round about the king.

11 And they brought out the kings sonne, and put vpon him the crowne, and the ‖ testimonie, and made him king: and Jehoiada and his sons anointed him, and said, God saue the king.

14 And Jehoiada the Priest went out to the captaines of hundreds, that were gouernours of the hosse, and said vnto them, Haue her forth of the ranges: and [b] who so followeth her, let him be slaine with the swoorde: for the Priest said, That they should not slay her in the house of the Lord.

15 And they layd hands on her, till shee was come to the entring of the horse gate, beside the kings house, and there they slew her.

16 And Jehoiada made a bond betweene him, and all the people, and the king, that they should be the Lords people:

17 And all the people went to the house of Baal, and [c] destroyed it, and brake his altars and his images, and slewe Matthan the Priest of Baal, before the altars.

18 And Jehoiada ‖ put the officers for the house of the Lord vnder the hand of the Priests and Leuites, as Dauid had distributed them in the house of the Lord, to offer whole burnt offerings vnto the Lord, as it is written in the law of Moses, with reioicing, and singing, as it was ordeined by Dauid.

19 And he set porters by the gates of the house of the Lord, that none which was vncleane in any thing, should enter in.

20 And he tooke the captaines of hundreds, and all the nobles, and the gouernours of the people, and all the folke of the land, and caused the king to come downe out of the house of the Lord, and they came through the high gate into the kings house, and set the king vpon the seate of the kingdome.

21 And all the people of the lande reioyced, and the citie was in tranquillitie after that they had slaine Athalia with the sword.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

1 Ioas repaireth the house of the Lord. 23 Ioas is killed of his owne seruants.

2 And Joas did that which was right in the sight of the Lord all the dayes of [a] Jehoiada the Priest.

3 And Jehoiada gate him two wiues, and he begate sonnes and daughters.

4 And after this Joas was minded to renue the house of the Lord.

5 And he gathered together the Priests and the Leuites, and said to them, Goe out vnto the cities of Juda, and gather of all Israel, money to repaire the house of your God, from yeere to yeere, and see that ye haste the thing: howbeit, the Leuites were slacke.

6 And the king called Jehoiada that was the [b] chiefe, and said vnto him, Why required thou not of the Leuites to bring in, out of Juda and Hierusalem, the collection of money, according to the commandement of Moses the seruant of the Lord, and of the congregation of Israel, for the Tabernacle of witnesse?

7 For wicked Athalia and her children, brake vp the house of God, and all the things that were dedicate for the house of the Lord, did they bestow vpon Baalim.

8 And at the kings commaundement they made a chest, and set it without at the gate of the house of the Lord:

9 And made a proclamation throughout Juda and Hierusalem, to bring in to the Lorde * the taxation of money that Moses the seruant of God set vpon Israel in the wildernesse. Exo.30.12.

10 And the lords and all the people reioyced, and brought in, and cast into the chest ‖ vntill it was full.

Thus they did day by day, and gathered much money.

12 And the king and Jehoiada gaue it to such as did labour and worke in the house of the Lorde, and hired Masons and Carpenters to repaire the house of the Lord, and so did they artificers in yron and brasse, to mende the house of the Lord.

13 And so the workemen wrought, and the worke mended through their handes: and they made the house of God as it ought to be, and streingthened it.

18 And they left the house of the Lord God of their fathers, and serued groues and idoles, and there came the wrath of God vpon Juda and Hierusalem for this their trespasse.

19 And he sent Prophets to them, to bring them againe vnto the Lorde, and they testified vnto them, but they would not heare.

20 And the spirit of God came vpon Zacharia the sonne of Jehoiada the Priest, which stoode by the people, and said vnto them, Thus sayth God, Why transgresse ye the commandements of the Lorde, that yee can not prosper? for because ye haue forsaken the Lord, he hath also forsaken you.

27 And his sonnes, and the summe of the tare that was taxed in his time, and the repayring of the house of God, behold, they are written in the storie of the booke of the kings: and Amazia his sonne reigned in his stead.

The xxv. Chapter.

3 Amazia putteth them to death which slewe his father. 14 He falleth to idolatrie.

AMazia was twenty and fiue yeres old when he began to reigne, and he reigned twentie and nine yeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name was Jehoadan, of Hierusalem.

2 And he did that which is a right in the sight of the Lord, but not with a perfect heart.

a Meaning, in respect of his predecessors, albeit, he had his imperfection.

3 And as soone as he was setled in the kingdome, he slew his seruants that had killed the king his father.

4 But he slewe not their children, because it is written thus in the Lawe and booke of Moses, where the Lord commanded, saying, * The father shall not die for the children, neither shall the children die for the fathers: but euery man shall die for his owne sinne.

Deu. 24.16. 4. kin. 14.6. ezec. 18.20.

5 And Amazia gathered Juda together, and made them captaines ouer thousands, and ouer hundreds, according to the houses of their fathers, throughout all Juda and Beniamin: and he numbred them from twentie yeeres old, and aboue, and found among them three hundred thousand chosen men able to goe to battell, and that could handle speare and shield.

6 He hired also an hundred thousand strong fighting men out of Israel, for an hundred talents of siluer.

7 And there came a man of God to him, and said, O king, let not the armie of Israel come with thee: for the Lord is not with Israel, to wit, with all the children of Ephraim.

8 But if thou wilt needes be faithlesse come on, and take the battell in hand, and God shall make thee fall before the enemie: for God hath power to helpe, and to cast downe.

9 And Amazia said to the man of God, what shall we doe then for the hundred talents which I haue giuen to the host of Israel? The man of God answered, The Lord is able to giue thee much more then these.

10 And Amazia separated the army that was come to him out of Ephraim, to go home againe: wherefore they were exceeding wroth with Juda, and returned home in great anger.

11 And Amazia tooke heart, and caried out his people, & went to the salt valley, and smote of the children of Seir, ten thousand.

12 And other ten thousand did the children of Juda take aliue, and caried them vnto the top of a roche, and cast them downe from the top of the roche, that they all burst.

13 But the souldiers of the b armie which Amazia sent away that they should not goe with his people to battell, fell vpon the cities of Juda, from Samaria, vnto Bethhon, and smote three thousand of them, and tooke much spoile.

b That is, the hundred thousand of Israel.

14 And after that Amazia was come from the slaughter of the Edomites, hee brought the gods of the children of Seir, and set them vp to be his gods, and bowed himselfe before them, and burned incense vnto them.

15 Wherefore the Lorde was wroth with Amazia, and sent vnto him a Prophet, which said vnto him, Why hast thou sought the gods of the people, which were not able to c deliuer their owne people out of thine hand?

c That which cannot deliuer others, can saue neither it, is no God, but an idoll.

16 And as the Prophet talked with him, the king sayd vnto him, Hast thou made thee of the kings counsell? Cease, why wilt thou bee beaten? And the Prophet ceased, and said, I am sure that God is minded to destroy thee, because thou hast done this, and agreest not vnto my counsell.

17 Then Amazia king of Juda, tooke aduise, and sent to Joas the sonne of Joahaz the sonne of Jehu king of Israel, and saide, Come, that we may see one another.

2.Kin.14.8. 2.Kin.14.9. 18 And Joas king of Israel, sent to Amazia king of Juda, saying, A thistle that is in Libanon, sent to a Cedar tree of Libanon, saying, Giue thy daughter to my sonne to wife: and there came a wilde beast of Libanon, and trode downe the thistle.

19 Thou sayest, Lo, thou hast smitten the Edomites, and thine heart maketh thee proud to glorifie thy selfe: Nowe therefore bide at home, why doest thou prouoke vnto euill, that thou mayest perish, both thou, and Juda with thee?

20 But Amazia would not hearken to him: for it came of God, euen to deliuer them into the hand of their enemies, because they sought counsell at the gods of Edom.

21 And so Joas the king of Israel came vp and they sawe either other, both he, and Amazia king of Juda at Bethshames, which is in Juda.

22 And Juda was put to the woorse before Israel, and they fled euery man to his tent.

23 And Joas the king of Israel tooke Amazia king of Juda the sonne of Joas, the sonne of Joahaz, at Bethshames, and brought him to Hierusalem, and tare the wall of Hierusalem, from the gate of Ephraim, vnto the corner gate, foure hundred cubites.

24 And he tooke away also al the gold and siluer, and all the vessels that were found in the house of God with Obed Edom, and the treasures of the kings house, the children also that were in hostage, and returned to Samaria.

25 And Amazia the sonne of Joas king of Juda, liued after the death of Joas sonne of Joahaz king of Israel, fifteene yeeres.

26 The rest of the acts of Amazia first and last, are they not written in the booke of the Kings of Juda and Israel?

27 And after the time that Amazia did turne away from the Lord, they conspired treason against him in Hierusalem, and when he was fled to Lachis, they sent to Lachis after him, and slew him there:

28 And brought him vp with horses, and buried him with his fathers in the citie of Juda.

The xxvj. Chapter.

1 Ozias obeying the Lord, prospereth in his enterprises. 16 He waxeth proud, and vsurpeth the priests office.

4.King. 14 21, & 15.1. THen all the people of Juda tooke Ozias (which) was sixteene yeeres old, and made him king in the roume of his father Amazia.

2 And he built Eloth, and brought it againe to Juda, after that the king was laide to sleepe with his fathers.

3 Sixteene yeeres old was Ozias when he began to reigne, and he reigned fiftie and two yeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name also was Jecholia, of Hierusalem.

4 And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, according to all as did his father Amazia.

5 And he sought God in the dayes of Zacharia, who had vnderstanding in the visions of God: and as long as he sought the Lorde, God made him to prosper.

a This was not that Zacharia, which was the sonne of Jehoiada, but some other Prophet of that name.

6 And he went and battell against the Philistines, and brake downe the wall of Geth, and the wall of Jabne, and the wall of Asdod, and built cities about Asdod, and among the Philistines.

7 And God holpe him against the Philistines, and against the Arabians that dwelt in Gur-baal, and Mamehunim.

8 And the Ammonites gaue tribute to Ozias, and his name spread abroad euen to the entring in of Egypt: for he played the man exceedingly.

9 Moreouer, Ozias built towres in Hierusalem by the corner gate, and by the valley gate, and at the turning of the wall, and made them strong.

10 And he built towres in the wildernesse, and digged many wels: for he had much cattell in the valleys and plaines, plowmen, and vinedressers in the mountaines, and in Charmel: for he loued husbandry.

11 And Ozias had an hoste of fighting men, that went out to warre in the armie, according to the number of their office, vnder the hand of Jeiel the scribe, and Maasia the ruler, and vnder the hand of Hanania, which was one of the kings lords.

12 And the whole number of the ancient fathers, and of the men of might, were two thousand and fiue hundred.

13 And vnder the hand of them, was the army of the men of warre, euen three hundred and seuen thousand, and fiue hundred, that made warre with the power of an armie, helping the king against the enemies.

14 And Ozias prouided them throughout all the hoste, shields, speares, helmets, habergines, bowes and slings for to cast stones.

15 And he made subtile engines in Hierusalem, which he inuented, and layd on the towres and corners, to shoote arrowes and great stones withall: and his name spread farre abroad, because he had prepared to himselfe marueilous strength.

16 But when he was strong, his heart arose to his destruction: for he transgressed against the Lord his God, and went into the temple of the Lord, to burne incense vpon the altar of incense.

17 And Azaria the Priest went in after him, and with him fourescore Priests of the Lord, that were valiant men:

18 And they stood against Ozias the king, and said vnto him, It pertaineth not to thee, Ozias, to burne incense vnto the Lord, but to the Priests the children of Aaron, that are consecrated for to offer incense: come therefore out of the sanctuarie, for thou hast trespassed, and it is no worship for thee before the Lord God.

19 Then Ozias was wroth, and had incense in his hand to burne it, and so while he had indignation against the priests, the leprosie sprang in his forehead before the priests in the house of the Lord, euen beside the incense altar.

20 And Azaria the chiefe Priest, with all the other priests, looked vpon him, and beholde, he was become a leper in his forehead, and they thrust him from thence, and he hasted to go out, because the Lord had smitten him.

21 And Ozias the king continued a leper vnto the day of his death, and dwelt seuerall in an house, being a leper, and shut out of the house of the Lord: and Jotham his sonne had the gouernance of the kings house, and iudged the people of the land.

3 He built the high gate of the temple of the Lord, and on the wall (where the house of ordinance was) he built much.
4 Moreouer, hee built cities in the mountaines of Iuda, and in the woode countrey he built castles and towres.
5 He fought with the king of the children of Ammon, and preuailed against them, and the children of Ammon gaue him the same yeere an hundred talents of siluer, and ten thousand measures of wheate, and ten thousand of barley: so much did the children of Ammon giue him the second yeere, and the third also.

4.Reg.16. 2. ACHAS * was twentie yeeres olde when he beganne to reigne, and reigned sixteene yeeres in Hierusalem, and he did not that which is right in the sight of the Lord, as did his father Dauid:

He offered incense in the valley of the sonne of Hinnom, and burnt his children in fire, after the abominations of the Heathen, whom the Lord cast out before the children of Israel.
4 He offered also, and burnt incense in the high places, and on mountaines, and vnder euery greene tree.
5 Wherefore the Lorde his God deliuered him into the hand of the king of the Syrians, which smote him, and caried away a great multitude of his captiue, and brought them to Damascus: and he was deliuered into the hand of the king of Israel, which smote him with a great slaughter.
6 For Pekah the sonne of Romelia slew in Iuda an hundred and twenty thousand in one day, which were all valiant men: and that because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers.

8 And the children of Israel tooke prisoners of their brethren, two hundred thousand women, sonnes, and daughters, and carried away much spoile of them, and brought the spoile to Samaria.

10 And now yee purpose to keepe vnder the children of Iuda and Hierusalem, and to make them bondmen and bond women: and do ye not lade your selues with sinne in the sight of the Lord your God?
11 Now heare me therefore, and deliuer the captiues againe which yee haue taken of your brethren: for els shall the great wrath of God be vpon you.
12 Wherefore certaine of the heads of the children of Ephraim, as Azaria the sonne of Iohanan, Berechia the sonne of Meshillemoth, and Ezechias the sonne of Sallum, and Amasa the sonne of Hadlai, stoode vp against them that came from the warre:
13 And sayd vnto them, Bring not in the captiues hither: for whereas we haue offended toward God already, yee intend to adde more to our sinnes and trespasse: for our trespasse is great already, and there is a fierce wrath against Israel.
14 And vpon that, the men of armes left the captiues, and the spoile, before the lords and all the congregation:
15 And the men that were now rehearsed by name, rose vp, and tooke the prisoners, and with the spoile clothed all that were naked among them, and arayed them, and shooed them, & gaue them to eate and to drinke, and anointed them, and caried all that were feeble of them vpon asses, and brought them to Iericho the citie of palme trees, to their brethren: and then they returned to Samaria againe.
16 At that time did king Achas send vnto the kings of the Syrians, to haue helpe of them.
17 And the Edomites came againe, and slew some of Iuda, and caried away captiues.
18 And the Philistines inuaded the cities in the low countrey, & toward the South of Iuda, and tooke Bethshames, & Aialon, and Gederoth, and Socho, with the townes longing thereto, and Thimna with the townes of the same, Gimso and the townes therof, and dwelt there.

20 And Thilgath Phalnasar king of the Assyrians, came vpon him, and troubles him, rather then strengthened him.

21 For Achas tooke away a portion out of the house of the Lord, & out of the kings house, and out of the lords houses, and gaue vnto the king of the Assyrians: and yet it helped him not.

22 And in the very time of his tribulation, did king Achas trespasse yet more against the Lord, 23 For he offered vnto the gods of Damascus, which b smote him, and he said, Because the gods of the kings of Syria helpe them, therefore will I offer to them, that they may helpe me also: but they were his destruction, and the destruction of all Israel.

24 And Achas gathered together the vessels of the house of God, and brake them, and shut vp the doores of the house of the Lord, and made him altars in euery corner of Hierusalem.

The xxix. Chapter.

3 Hezecia repaireth the temple, and aduertiseth the Leuites of the corruption of religion.

4.Re.18.1.

HEzecia a began to reigne, when he was fiue & twenty yeeres old, and he reigned nine and twentie yeeres in Hierusalem: and his mothers name was Abia, the daughter of Zacharia.

2 And hee did that which was right in the sight of the Lord in all points, as did Dauid his father.

3 He opened the a doores of the house of the Lord, in the first yeere and first b moneth of his reigne, and repaired them.

4 And he brought in the Priestes and the Leuites, and gathered them together into the East-streete,

5 And said vnto them, Heare mee, yee Leuites, and nowe be sanctified, and hallow the house of the Lorde God of your fathers, c bring filthinesse out of the holy place.

6 For our fathers haue trespalled, and done euill in the eyes of the Lord our God, and haue forsaken him, and turned away their faces from the ‖ habitation of the Lord, and turned their backes and it.

7 And beside that, they haue shut vp the doores of the porch, and quenched the lampes, & haue neither burnt incense, nor offered whole burnt offerings in the holy place vnto the God of Israel.

10 And nowe it is in mine heart to make a couenant with the Lorde God of Israel, that hee may turne away his heauie indignation from vs.

11 Now therefore, my sonnes, be not negligent: for the Lord hath chosen you to stand before him, and for to minister and serue him, and to burne incense.

12 Then the Leuites arose, Mahath the sonne of Amasai, and Joel the sonne of Azaria, of the children of the Cahathites: and of the sons of Merari, Tis the sonne of Abdi, and Azaria the sonne of Jahalelel: and of the sonnes of the Gersonites, Joah the sonne of Zimma, and Eden the sonne of Joah:

13 And of the sonnes of Elizaphan, Shimri and Jehiel: and of the sonnes of Asaph, Zacharia and Mattthania:

14 And of the sonnes of Heman, Jehiel, and Shimei: and of the sonnes of Jdithun, Semaia, and Oziel.

15 And they gathered their brethren, and sanctified themselues, & came according to the commandement of the king, and the wordes of the Lord, for to cleanse the house of the Lord.

16 And the priests went into the inner parts of the house of the Lord, to cleanse it, and brought out all the vncleannesse that they found in the temple of the Lord, into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Leuites tooke it, to cary it out into the brooke Cedron.

17 They beganne the first day of the first moneth to sanctifie, and the eight day of the moneth came they to the porch of the Lord: so they sanctified the house of the Lorde in eight dayes, and in the sixteenth day of the first moneth they made an ende.

18 And they went in to Hezecia the king, and said, We haue cleansed all the house of the Lord, the altar of the whole burnt offering, with all his vessels, and the Shew bread table, with all his ‖ apparell:

19 And all the vessels which king Achaz did cast away when he reigned & transgressed, them we haue prepared and sanctified, and beholde, they are before the altar of the Lord.

20 And Hezecia the king rose earely, and gathered the lords of the citie, and went vp to the house of the Lord.

21 And they brought seuen oxen, seuen rammes, seuen sheepe, and seuen hee goates, to be a sinne offering, for the kingdome, for the sanctuarie, and for Juda: and he commanded the Priestes, the sonnes of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 And they slew the oxen, and the priests receiued the blood, and e sprinkled it on the altar: likewise when they had slaine the rammes, they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar: they slew also the sheepe, and they sprinkled the blood vpon the altar.

23 And then they brought forth the hee goats for the sinne offring, before the king and the congregation, and f put their hands vpon them.

24 And the priests slewe them, and with the blood of them they cleansed the altar, to make satisfaction for all Israel: for the king commanded that the whole burnt offering and the sinne offering should be made for all Israel:

according to the commandement of Dauid, and of Gad the kings Seer, and Nathan the Prophet: for so was the commaundement of the Lord through the hand of the Prophets.

26 And the Leuites stood, hauing the instruments of Dauid: & the priests held the trumpets.

27 And Hezecia commanded to offer the whole burnt offering vpon the altar: And when the whole burnt offering began, the song of the Lord began also, and the trumpets, with the instruments that were ordained by the hand of Dauid king of Israel.

28 And all the Congregation worshipped, singing a song, and blowing with the trumpets: and all this continued vntill the whole burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had made an end of offering, the king and all that were present with him, bowed themselues, and worshipped.

1.Chr.16.8 30 Also Hezecia the king, and the lords spake to the Leuites, to praise the Lord with the words of Dauid & of Asaph the Seer: and they sang praises with gladnes, and they bowed themselues, and worshipped.

31 And Hezecia answered and said, Now yee haue consecrated your hands vnto the Lord: go to therefore, and bring the sacrifices and thanke offerings into the house of the Lorde. And the congregation brought in the sacrifices & thanke offerings, and whole burnt offerings, as many as were of a free liberall heart.

32 And the number of the whole burnt offerings, which the congregation brought, was threescore and tenne oxen, an hundred rammes, and two hundred sheepe: which were all for the whole burnt offering of the Lord.

33 And there were dedicated sixe hundred oxen, and three thousand sheepe.

34 And the priests were too few to slay all the whole burnt offerings: but their brethren the Leuites did helpe them, till they had ended the worke, and vntill the priests were sanctified: for the Leuites were more diligent to be sanctified then the priests.

35 And therto the whole burnt offerings were many, with the fat of the peace offerings, & the drinke offerings that belong to the whole burnt offering: and so the seruice, pertaining to the house of the Lord, was finished.

36 And Hezecia reioiced, and all the people, that God had made the folke so ready, and that the thing was so done.

The xxx. Chapter.

The keeping of the Passeouer by the kings commaundement.

AND Hezecia sent to all Israel and Juda, and wrote letters to Ephraim and Manasse, that they should come to the house of the Lorde at Hierusalem, and keepe the Passeouer vnto the Lord God of Israel.

2 And the king held a counsel with his lords, and all the congregation of Hierusalem, to keepe the feast of Passeouer in the second moneth:

3 For they could not keepe it at that time, because the Priestes were not sanctified sufficiently, neither was the people gathered together to Hierusalem.

4 And the thing pleased the king and all the congregation.

5 And they decreed that it should be proclaimed throughout all Israel, from Beersheba to Dan, that they should come and hold the feast of Passeouer vnto the Lord God of Israel at Hierusalem: for they had not done it of a great season as it is written.

6 So the postes went with letters of the kings and of his lords, throughout all Israel and Juda, and at the commaundement of the king they said, Ye children of Israel, turne againe vnto the Lord God of Abraham, Isahac, and Israel, and he will returne to the remnant that are escaped of you out of the hand of the kings of the Assyrians.

7 And be not like your fathers and your brethren, which trespassed against the Lord God of their fathers, which gaue them vp to be destroyed, as ye see.

8 And now be not ye stiffenecked like as were your fathers; but yeeld your selues vnto the Lorde, and enter into his holy place, which hee hath sanctified for euer, and serue the Lord your God, and the fiercenesse of his wrath shall turne away from you.

9 For if ye turne againe vnto the Lord, then shall your brethren and your children finde compassion in the presence of them that tooke them captiue, and they shall come againe vnto this land: for the Lord our God is gracious and merciful, and will not turne away his face from you, if ye conuert vnto him.

10 And so the postes went from citie to citie, throughout the land of Ephraim and Manasse, euen vnto Zabulon: but they laughed them to scorne, and mocked them.

11 Neuertheles, yet diuers of Aser, Manasse, and of Zabulon, submitted themselues, & came to Hierusalem.

12 And the hand of God was in Juda, and he gaue them one heart to doe the commandement of the king, and of the rulers, according to the word of the Lord.

13 And there assembled to Hierusalem much people, and there was present a mighty great congregation, to holde the feast of sweete bread in the second moneth.

14 And they arose, and remoued the altars that were in Hierusalem: and all the altars for incense did they away, and cast them into the brooke Cedron.

15 And they slewe the Passeouer the foureteenth day of the second moneth: and the priests and Leuites which were ashamed, sanctified themselues, and brought in the whole burnt offerings into the house of the Lord.

16 And they stood in their office after their maner, and according to the law of Moses the man of God: and the priests sprinkled the blood which they receiued of the hand of the Leuites.

17 For there were many in the congregation that were not sanctified, and therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killing of the Passeouer for euery one that was not cleane, to sanctifie him vnto the Lord.

18 For many of the people, and very many of Ephraim, Manasse, Issachar, and Zabulon, were not cleansed, and yet did eate the Passeouer, against the lawe appointed: but Hezecia prayed for them, saying, The good Lord be mercifull to ward euery one, d That is, did accept them as purified.

20 And the Lord heard Hezecia, and d healed the people.

21 And the children of Israel that were present at Hierusalem, held the feast of sweete bread seuen dayes with great gladnesse: and the Leuites and the priests praised the Lord day by day, singing with loude instruments vnto the Lord.

22 And Hezecia spake ‖ comfortably vnto all the Leuites that had good knowledge to sing vnto the Lord: and they did eate throughout that feast seuen dayes long, and offred peace offrings, and thanked the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assembly tooke counsell to doe o other seuen dayes: and they held those seuen dayes with gladnesse.

e Hezekia bestowed his goods liberally, for the setting forth of Gods glory.

24 For Hezecia king of Juda, did giue to the congregation e a thousand young oxen, & seuen thousand sheepe: and the lords gaue out to the congregation a thousand oxen, and tenne thousand sheepe, and a great number of the Priests were sanctified.

25 And all the congregation of Juda, with the Priests and Leuites, and all the congregation that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, & that dwelt in Juda, reioiced.

26 And there was great gladnesse in Hierusalem: for since the time of Solomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel, there was no such thing in Hierusalem.

27 And the Priests and the Leuites arose, and blessed the people: and their voice was heard, and their prayer came vp vnto heauen his holy dwelling place.

The xxxj. Chapter.

1 The people destroy idolatrie. 2 Hezecia appointeth Priests and Leuites, 4 and prouideth for their liuing.

NOw when all these things were finished, all Israel that were present in the cities of Juda, went out and brake the images, and cut downe the groues, and all to brake the high places and altars throughout all Juda and Beniamin, in Ephraim also and Manasse, vntil they had vtterly destroyed them all: and all the children of Israel returned euery man to his possession, and to their owne cities.

2 And Hezecia appointed sundry companies of the Priests and Leuites, after the diuersitie of their ministrations, euery man according to his office, both Priests and Leuites, for the whole burnt offering, and peace offerings, to minister and to giue thankes and praise in the gates of the a host of the Lord.

a That is, in the temple where they assembled.

3 And the kings portion of his substance that hee gaue, were daily whole burnt offerings in the morning and euening, and whole burnt offerings for the Sabboth dayes, newe moones, and solemne feasts, according as it is written in the law of the Lord.

4 And he bade the people that dwelt in Hierusalem, to giue a part to the Priests and Leuites, that they might with more courage apply themselues to the law of the Lord.

b The fruites and first fruits for the maintenance of the Priests and Leuites.

5 And as soone as the kings commandement came abroad, the children of Israel brought abundance of first fruits of corne, wine, oyle, honie, and of all maner of fruits of the field, and the tithes of all maner of things brought they in plenteously.

6 And the children of Israel and Juda, that dwelt in the cities of Juda, they also brought in the tithes of oxen and sheepe, and other holy tithes, which were consecrate vnto the Lord their God, and layd them all by heapes.

7 In the third moneth they began to lay the heapes in maner of a foundation, and finished them in the seuenth moneth.

8 And when Hezecia and the lordes came and saw the heapes, they blessed the Lord, and his people Israel.

9 And Hezecia questioned with the Priests and the Leuites concerning the heapes.

10 And Azaria the chiefe Priest, of the house of Zadoc, answered him, and said, Since the people began to bring the heaue offerings into the house of the Lord, we also haue had enough to eat, and yet remaineth plenty: for the Lord hath blessed his people, and this heape is left.

c The ministers were liberally prouided for.

11 And Hezecia bade prepare the ‖ chambers in the house of the Lord: and they did prepare them,

12 And caried in the first fruits, the tithes, and the dedicate things faithfully, ouer which Chonenia the Leuite had the rule, and Semei his brother next to him:

13 And Jehiel, Azaria, Nahath, Asael, Jerimoth, Josabad, Eliel, Jsmachia, Mahath, and Banaia, were ouerseers, ordeined by Chonenia, and Semei his brother was an officer of Hezecia the king, and Azaria was the ruler of the house of God.

14 And Chore the sonne of Jmna the Leuite, and porter of the East doore, had the ouersight of the things that were offered of a free will vnto God, to distribute the oblations of the Lord, and the holy things that were consecrate.

15 And vnder his hand were Eden, Miniamin, Jesua, Semaia, Amaria, and Sechania, in the cities of the priests, appointed of their fidelitie to giue to their brethren their parts, as wel to the small as to the great:

16 Also to their generation, being males, frō three yeeres olde and vpward, euen vnto euery one that entreth into the house of the Lord, they shall giue day by day for their ministration, and for their giuing attendance, and for their diuers waitings by course,

18 And to the families of all their babes, wiues, sonnes and daughters, through all the congregation: for vpon the fidelity of them, were the holy things bestowed.

19 And to the children of Aaron the Priests which were in the fields and suburbs of their cities, city by city, the men whose names were exprested aboue, should giue portions to all the males among the Priests, and to all the Leuites, according to their number.

20 And of this maner did Hezecia throughout all Juda, and wrought that is good and right and true before the Lord his God.

The xxxij. Chapter.

1 Sennacherib inuadeth Iuda. 3 Hezecia prepareth for the warre. 7 Hee exhorteth the people to put their trust in the Lord.

4.Re.18.13 esai.36.1. eccius.48. 19.

After that these deedes were faithfully done, Sennacherib king of the Assyrians came, and entred into Juda, and compalled the strong cities, and thought to winne them for himselfe.

2 And when Hezecia sawe that Sennacherib was come, and that hee was purposed to fight against Hierusalem,

3 He tooke counsell with his lords and men of wight, to stoppe the water of the fountaines without the citie: and they did helpe him.

4 For there gathered many of the people together, and stopt all the welles, and the brooke that ranne thorow the mids of the land, saying, Why shall the kings of the Assyrians come, and find much water?

5 And Hezecia went to luftily, and built vp the wall where it was broken, and made the towers, and another wall without, and repaired Millo in the citie of Dauid, and made many darts and shields.

6 And hee set captaines of warre ouer the people, and gathered them together to him in the large streete of the gate of the citie, and spake gently to them, saying,

7 Plucke vp your hearts, and be strong, be not afraid nor discouraged for the king of the Assyrians, and for all the multitude that he hath with him: for there be moe with vs then with him.

8 With him is an arme of a flesh, but with vs is the b Lord our God, for to help vs, and to fight our battels. And the people tooke a courage thorow the wordes of Hezecia king of Juda.

a That is, the power of man. b This declareth that Hezecia did euer put his trust in God, and yet made himselfe strong, & vsed lawful meanes, least he should seeme to tempt God.

9 After this did Sennacherib king of the Assyrians send of his seruants to Hierusalem, (but he himself remained beside Lachis, hauing all his power with him) vnto Hezecia king of Juda, and vnto all Juda that were at Hierusalem, saying,

10 Thus saith Sennacherib king of the Assyrians, Wherein doe ye trust, that ye dwell in Hierusalem which is besieged?

11 Doth not Hezecia entice you to giue ouer your selues vnto death, hunger, and thirst, saying, The Lorde our God shall ridde vs out of the hand of the king of the Assyrians?

12 Hath not the same Hezecia put downe his high places and his c altars, and commaunded Juda and Hierusalem, saying, Yee shall worship before one altar, and burne incense vpon the same?

c The wicked make no difference betweene true religion and falsi.

13 Know ye not what I and my fathers haue done vnto all people of the lands? were the gods of the people of other lands able or mighty to saue their lands out of my hand?

14 Which of all the gods of those nations that my fathers destroyed, could deliuer his people out of my hand? And shall your God be able to deliuer you out of my hand?

15 Wherefore now let not Hezecia deceiue you, nor perswade you of this fashion, nor yet beleeue him: for as no god among all nations and kingdomes was able to ridde his people out of my hand, and out of the hand of my fathers: how much lesse shall your gods be able to keepe you out of my hand?

16 And yet more things did his seruants speak against the Lorde God, and against his seruant Hezecia.

17 And Sennacherib also wrote a letter to raile on the Lorde God of Israel, and spake against him, saying, As the gods of the nations of other landes haue not beene able to deliuer their people out of my hand: euen so shall not the God of Hezecia deliuer his people out of my hand.

18 And they cryed with a loude voyce in the Jewes speech vnto the people of Hierusalem that were on the wall, to feare them, & to make them faint hearted, and that they might take the citie.

19 And they spake against the God of Hierusalem, as against the gods of the nations of the earth, which were the workes of the handes of men.

20 But Hezecia the king, and the Prophet Esai the sonne of Amos d prayed against the blasphemie, and cryed vp to heauen.

d Prayer is the best refuge in all troubles and dangers.

21 And the Lord sent an Angel which destroyed all the men of warre, and the lordes and captaines of the host of the king of the Assyrians, that he turned his face againe with shame toward his owne land: and when he was come into the house of his god, they that came of his owne body slew him there with the sword.

22 And so the Lord saued Hezecia and the inhabiters of Hierusalem out of the hand of Sennacherib the king of the Assyrians, and from the hand of all other, and maintained them on euerie side.

23 And many brought offerings vnto the Lorde to Hierusalem, and presents to Hezecia king of Juda: so that hee was magnified in the sight of all nations from thencefoorth.

24 In those dayes *Hezecia was sicke to the death, and prayed vnto the Lord: which answered him, and shewed him a wonderfull miracle.

4.Kin.20.1. esai.38.1.

25 But Hezecia did not againe vnto God according to it that hee had shewed him: for his heart arose, and there came wrath vpon him, and vpon Juda and Hierusalem.

26 Notwithstanding, Hezecia submitted himselfe, after that his heart was risen vp, hee, and the inhabiters of Hierusalem: and the wrath of the Lorde came not vpon them in the dayes of Hezecia.

27 And Hezecia had exceeding much riches and honour: and he gate him treasures of siluer and gold, precious stones, and spices, shields, and of all manner pleasant iewels, 28 And made store houses for the fruites of corne, for wine and oyle, and stalles for all manner of beasts, and cotes for sheepe.

29 And he made him cities, and had of sheepe, and great great abundance: for God had giuen him substance exceeding much.

30 This same Hezecia stopped the vpper water springs of c Gion, and brought them downe to the west side of the citie of Dauid: and Hezecia prospered in all his workes.

wonder that was done in the lande, God left him, f to trie him, and that all that was in his heart, might be knowen.

32 The rest of the deedes of Hezecia, and his goodnesse, behold, they are written in the vision of Esai the Prophet the sonne of Amos, in the booke of the kings of Juda and Israel.

33 And Hezecia slept with his fathers, and they buried him in the most worthy place of the sepulchres of the sonnes of Dauid, and all Juda and the inhabiters of Hierusalem did him honor at his death: and Manasses his sonne reigned in his stead.

f God tempteth his faithfull, to trie them.

The xxxiij. Chapter.

1 Manasses an idolater 9 causeth Iuda to erre: 11 He is led prisoner into Babylon.

4.Kin. 21.1 MAnasses * was twelue yeeres old when he began to reigne, and he reigned fiftie and fiue yeeres in Hierusalem:

2 But did euill in the sight of the Lord, like unto the abominations of the heathen, whom the Lorde cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went backe, and built the high places which Hezecia his father had broken downe: and he reared up altars for Baalim, and made groues, and worshipped all the hoste of heauen, and serued them.

4 And hee built altars in the house of the 2.Reg.7.10 Lord, where as the Lord yet had said, * In Hierusalem shall my name be for euer.

5 And he builded altars for all the hoste of heauen, in the two courtes of the house of the Lord.

6 And he burnt his children in fire in the valley of the sonne of Hinnom: he was a sorcerer, he regarded the crying of birds, vsed enchantmets, and maintained workers with spirits, & seers of fortunes, and wrought much euill in the sight of the Lord to anger him withall.

7 And he put the carued image, and an idol which he had made, in the house of God: * of 2.Reg.7.10 3.Reg.8.16 which house God saide to Dauid and to Solomon his sonne, In this house, and in Hierusalem which I haue chosen afore all the tribes of Israel, will I put my Name for euer.

8 Neither will I make the foote of Israel to remoue any more out of the lande which I haue ordeined for your fathers, if so be that they will be diligent, and doe all that I haue commanded them in all the lawe and statutes, and ordinances by the hand of Moses.

9 And so Manasses made Juda, and the inhabiters of Hierusalem to erre, and to doe worse then the heathen whom the Lord destroyed before the children of Israel.

a Warning by his Prophets.

10 And the Lord spake vnto Manasses, and to his people: but they would not regard.

11 Wherefore the Lord brought vpon them the captaines of the hoste of the king of the Assyrians, which tooke Manasses, and bound him with fetters and chaines, and caried him to Babylon.

12 And when he was in tribulation, he besought the Lord his God, and humbled himselfe exceedingly before the God of his fathers, b Affliction giueth vnderstanding.

13 And made intercession to him, and God was b intreated of him, and heard his prayer, and brought him againe to Hierusalem into his kingdome: and then Manasses knewe that the Lord was God.

14 After this he built a wall without the citie of Dauid, on the west side of Gihon, in the valley as they come to the fish gate, and round about Ophel, and brought it vp of a very great height, and put captaines of warre in all the strong cities of Juda.

15 And he tooke away strange gods and images out of the house of God, & all the altars that he had built in the mount of the house of God and Hierusalem, and cast them out of the citie.

16 And he prepared the altar of the Lord, and sacrificed thereon peace offerings, and thanke offerings, and charged Juda to serue the Lorde God of Israel.

17 Neuertheless, the people did offer still in the high places, howbeit, vnto the Lorde their God onely.

18 The rest of the acts of Manasses, and his prayer vnto his God, & the words of the Seers that spake to him in the name of the Lord God of Israel, behold, they are written in the sayings of the kings of Israel.

19 And his prayer, and howe that he was heard, and all his sinnes, and his trespasse, and the places where he made high places, and set vp groues and images before he was humbled, behold, they are written among the sayings of the Seers.

20 And Manasses slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his c owne house, and Amon his sonne reigned in his roume.

c Because he had so horribly offended against the Lord they did not bury him in the sepulchre of the kings, but in the garden of the kings house

21 Amon was two and twentie yeeres olde when he began to reigne, and reigned two yeres in Hierusalem.

22 But he did euill in the sight of the Lord, like as did Manasses his father: for Amon sacrificed to all the carued images which Manasses his father had made, and serued them, 23 And submitted not himselfe before the Lord, as Manasses his father had humbled him selfe: but Amon trespalled greatly.

24 And his owne seruants conspired against him, and slew him in his owne house.

25 But the people of the land slewe all them that had conspired against king Amon: and the same people of the land made Josias his sonne king in his roume.

The xxxiiij. Chapter.

1 Iosias destroyeth the idoles, 8 and reformeth the temple. 14 The booke of the law is found.

IOsias * was eight yeeres olde 4.Kin.22.1. when he began to reigne, and he reigned in Hierusalem thirtie and one yeeres.

2 And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord, and walked in the wayes of Dauid his father, and bowed neither to the right hand nor to the left.

3 In the eight yeere of his reigne, when he was yet a child, he began to seeke after the God of Dauid his father: and in the twelfth yeere he began to purge Juda and Hierusalem, from the high places, groues, carued images, and images of mettall.

4 And they brake downe the altars of Baalim euen in his d presence: and other images that were in greater honour then they, hee caused to be destroyed: and the groues, carued images, and images of mettall, he brake, and made dust of them, and strowed it vpon the graues of them that had offered vnto them.

5 And hee burnt the bones of the Priestes vpon the altars of them, and cleansed Iuda and Hierusalem.

6 And so did he in the cities of Manasse, Ephraim, Simeon, vnto Nephthali, and in the wildernesse of them round about.

7 Hee pluckt asunder the altars and the groues, and did beate the images and stampe them to powder, and cut downe all the idoles throughout all the land of Israel, and returned to Hierusalem againe.

b The godly zeale of this good prince, is a worthy example for all princes to follow.

8 In the eightenth yeere of his reigne, when he had purged the land and the temple, he sent Saphan the sonne of Azalia, and Maasiah the gouernour of the citie, and Ioah the sonne of Joahaz the recorder, to repaire the house of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Helciah the high Priest, they deliuered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the entries had gathered of the hand of Manasse and Ephraim, and of all that yet remained in Israel, and of all Iuda & Beniamin, and they returned to Hierusalem.

10 And they put it in the hands of the workemen that had the ouerlight of the house of the Lorde, and they gaue it to the labourers, that wrought in the house of the Lord, to repaire and mend the house.

11 Euen to maisons and carpenters gaue they it, to hew hewed stone, and timber, for couples, and for beames of the houses, which the kings of Iuda had destroyed.

c Faithfull officers.

12 And the men did the worke c vpon trust: and the ouerseers of them to conuaye them forward, were Iahath and Obadia, Leuites of the children of Merari: and Zecharia and Meshullam of the children of the Caathites, and other of the Leuites, which all could skill of instruments of musicke.

13 And ouer the bearers of burdens, ouer all that wrought in whatsoeuer workemanship it were, were there scribes, officers, and porters of the Leuites.

14 And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lorde, Helcia the priest found the booke of the lawe of the Lord giuen by Moses.

15 And Helcia answered and said to Saphan the scribe, I haue found the booke of the law in the house of the Lord. And Helcia gaue the booke to Saphan.

d For the king was commanded to haue continually a copie of this booke, and to reade therein day & night, Deut. 17.

16 And Saphan d caried the booke to the king, and brought the king word againe, saying, All that was committed to thy seruants, that doe they.

17 And they haue gathered together the money that was found in the house of the Lorde, and haue deliuered it into the hands of the ouerseers of the worke, and to the handes of the workemen.

18 And then Saphan the Scribe shewed the king, saying, Helcia the Priest hath giuen me a booke: and Saphan read in it before the king.

e For so lowe that the wayd of God had beene so long suppressed.

19 And when the king had heard the wordes of the law, he e tare his clothes.

20 And the king commaunded Helcia, and Ahicam the sonne of Saphan, and Abdon the sonne of Micah, and Saphan the Scribe, and Asaa, a seruant of the kings, saying, 21 Goe and enquire of the Lord for me, and for them that are left in Israel and Iuda, concerning the wordes of the booke that is found: for great is the wrath of the Lorde that is fallen vpon vs, because our fathers haue not kept the word of the Lorde, to doe after all that is written in this booke.

22 And Helcia, and they that the king had appointed, went to Hulda the prophetesse, the wife of Sallum the sonne of Thecuath, the sonne of Hasra, keeper of the wardrobe (for shee dwelt in Hierusalem within the second wall) and they communed with her.

23 Shee answered them, Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel, Tell ye the man that sent you to me,

24 Euen thus sayeth the Lorde, Beholde, I will bring euil vpon this place, and vpon the inhabiters thereof, euen all the curses that are written in the booke which they haue read before the king of Iuda:

25 Because they haue forsaken me, and haue offered vnto other gods, to anger mee with all manner workes of their hands: therefore is my wrath set on fire against this place, and shall not be quenched.

26 And as for the king of Iuda, which sent you to enquire of the Lorde, so shall ye say vnto him, Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel, concerning the words which thou hast heard, f The end of Gods threatnings, is for our repentance.

27 Because thine heart did melt, and thou diddest humble thy selfe before God, when thou heardest his words against this place, & against the inhabiters thereof, and humbledst thy selfe before mee, and tarest thy cloathes, and diddest weepe before me, I haue heard it also, sayth the Lorde.

28 Beholde, I will take thee to thy fathers, and thou shalt be put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes shall not see all the mischiefe that I will bring vpon this place, and vpon the inhabiters of the same. And they brought the king word againe.

29 Then the king sent, and gathered together all the Elders of Iuda and Hierusalem:

30 And the king went vp into the house of the Lord, and all the men of Iuda, and the inhabiters of Hierusalem, and the Priests and Leuites, and all the people great and small, and the king did reade in their eares all the wordes of the booke of the couenant that was found in the house of the Lord.

31 And the king stood at his standing, & made a couenant before the Lord, to follow the Lord, and to keepe his commaundements, his witnesses, and his statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soule, and to fulfill the wordes of the couenant written in the said booke.

32 And hee set in their roome all them that were found in Hierusalem and Beniamin: and the inhabiters of Hierusalem did according to the couenant of the Lord God of their fathers.

g Because he had charge ouer all, & must answere for euery one that perished, he thought it his dutie to see that all should make profit & come to receiue the worde of God.

33 And Iosias put away all manner of abominations out of all lands that pertained to the children of Israel, and g caused all that were found in Israel, to serue the Lorde their God: and they turned not aside from the Lorde God of their fathers, as long as he liued.

The xxxv. Chapter.

1 Iosias keepeth the Passeouer. 2 Hee setteth forth Gods seruice. 20 He fighteth against the king of Egypt, and dyeth. 24 The people bewaile him.

4.Kin.23. 21. 3.esdr. 1.1.

AND *Iosias held the feast of Passeouer vnto the Lorde in Hierusalem, and they a slew the Passeouer the foureteenth day of the first moneth.

a The scripture diuerseth in sundry places to call the lambe the Passeouer, which was but the signe of the Passeouer, because in all sacraments the signes haue the names of the things which are signified.

2 And he set the priests in their offices, & appointed them in the seruice of the house of the Lord,

3 And sayde vnto the Leuites that taught all Israel, and were sanctified vnto the Lorde, Put the holy arke in the house which Solomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel did build, it shall be no more a burden vpon your shoulders: but now serue the Lorde your God, and his people Israel.

4 And prepare your selues by your auncient houholds and companies, according to the writing of Dauid king of Israel, and the writing of Solomon his sonne:

5 And stand in the holy place according to the diuision of the auncient houholdes of your brethren the children of the people, and after the diuision of the ancient houholds of the Leuites:

6 Kill the Passeouer, & sanctifie your selues, and prepare your brethren, that they may doe according to the word of the Lorde by the hand of Moses.

7 And Iosias gaue to the people, sheepe, lambes, and kids, all for the Passeouer, and for all that were present, thirtie thousand by tale, and three thousand oxen: and these were of the kings substance.

8 And his lordes gaue willingly both vnto the people, and to the priestes, and vnto the Leuites, Helcia also, Zacharia, and Iehiel, rulers of the house of God, gaue vnto the priests for the Passeouer offrings, two thousand and fiue hundred sheepe, and three hundred oxen.

b Liberall prouision for the ministerie.

9 Cononia, Semeia, and Nathanael, his brethren, and Hasabiah, and Iehiel, and Iosabad, rulers of the Leuites, gaue vnto the Leuites Passeouer offerings, fiue thousand sheepe, and fiue hundred oxen.

10 So the seruice was prepared, and the priests in their places, and the Leuites in their diuisions companies, as the kings commandement

11 And they slewe the Passeouer, and the Priests sprinkled the blood with their hand, and the Leuites pulled off the skinnes of the beasts, 12 And they set away the whole burnt offerings, to giue them vnto the people that were diuided by ancient houses: and that they should offer vnto the Lorde, like as it is written in the booke of Moses: and so did they with the oxen also.

13 And they dressed the Passeouer with fire, as the manner was: & the other dedicate beasts sod they in pots, caldrons, and pans, and diuided them speedily among all the people.

14 And afterward they made ready for themselues, and for the Priestes: for the Priestes the children of Aaron were busied in offring of whole burnt offerings, and the fat vntill night: therefore the Leuites prepared for themselues, and for the Priests the sonnes of Aaron.

15 And the singers the children of Asaph stood in their standing, according to the commaundement of Dauid, & Asaph, Heman, and Iothum, the kings c Seer: and the porters waited at euerie gate, & might not depart from their seruice: for their brethē the Leuites prepared for them.

c Meaning, the prophet.

16 And so all the seruice of the Lord was prepared the same day, to offer the Passeouer, and to offer whole burnt offerings vpon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandement of king Iosias.

17 And the children of Israel that were present, kept the Passeouer the same time, and the feast of Sweete bread, seuen dayes.

18 And there was no Passeouer like to that kept in Israel, from the dayes of Samuel the Prophet, neither did all the kings of Israel hold such a Passeouer as did Iosias, and the Priests, and Leuites, and all Iuda and Israel that were present, and the inhabitors of Hierusalem.

19 This Passeouer was holden in the eighteenth yere of the reigne of Iosias.

20 After all this, * when Iosias had prepared the temple, Necho king of Egypt came vp to fight against Charcamis, beside Euphrates: and Iosias went out against him.

22 Neuertheless, Iosias would not turne his face from him, || but rather tooke aduise to fight with him, and hearkened not vnto the wordes of Necho, * out of the mouth of God, and came to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

23 And the shooters shot darts at king Iosias: and the king said to his seruants, Carry me away, for I am sore wounded.

24 His seruants therefore had him out of that charet, and put him in another charet that they had: and when they had brought him to Hierusalem, he died, and was buried in the sepulchre of his fathers: and all Iuda and Hierusalem mourned for Iosias.

25 And Jeremias lamented Iosias, and all singing men, & singing women mourned for Iosias in their lamentations to this day, and made the same lamentations an ordinance in Israel, and behold, they are written in the lamentations.

14 Moreouer, all the chiefe of the Priestes, and the people, transgressed wonderfully, after all maner of abominations of the heathen, and polluted the house of the Lorde, which hee had hallowed in Hierusalem.

15 And the Lord God of their fathers sent to them by his messengers, rising vp betimes, and sending: for hee had compassion on his people, and on his dwelling place.

16 But they mocked the messengers of God, and despised his wordes, and misused his Prophets, vntill the wrath of the Lord arose against his people, and till there was no remedie.

17 And so hee brought vpon them the king of Chaldee, which slew their young men with the sword in their holy temple, and spared neither yong man, mayden, olde man, nor him that stooped for age: he gaue them all into his hand.

1 Cyrus reigneth alone 22 yeeres.
2 Darius the sonne of Hystaspis, being chosen King, and sirnamed Artaxerxes Assuerus, reigned twenty yeres.
3 Darius Artaxerxes lõghand, thirtie seuen. In the time of this Darius, began the seuentie weekes of Daniel.
4 Darius Nothus, nineteene. Artaxerxes Mnemon, fiue and fiftie yeeres. Darius Ochus sixe and twentie. Arsenes foure yeeres.
8 Darius the last Monarchie ouercome by Alexander the Great, which transported the Monarchie to the Greekes, reigned sixe yeeres.

The summe of the yeres of the Monarchie of the Persians, is 191. and of Nabuchodonosor, 261.

angs continued, and also touching the names of the Monarchies herein described, wherein there is great confusion. And therefore all other opinions set apart, we will herein follow Philo Iudeus, and Metasthene, auncient authours, whose opinions do nearest agree with the holy scriptures.

Cyrus hauing conquered the kingdome of the Medes against Astiages, left the saide kingdome to his vncle Darius: by whose aid he tooke Babylon, and transported the monarchy of Babylon to the Persians. Two yeres after, the saide Darius returned into Mede, and Cyrus reigned alone in Babylon. Then he mooued warre against the Scythians, & marched toward them, & in the meane while left Cambyses his sonne, king of the countrey in his absence, according to the custome of the Persiãs, which was to appoint the nerest of the kings blood to be king ouer the country, when the king went out to fight against any strange nation. This is the cause why Cambyses was not set in the successiue order of the monarchies. Neither is there any mention of two brethren that were Magicians, which guilefully vsurped the kingdome: but their guyle being knowen, they continued but a fewe moneths, and Darius sonne to Hystaspis, was chosen king.

Xerxes the sonne of the said Darius succeeded him: but is not here placed in the number of the monarchies, for that hee left his kingdome to Darius Longhand his sonne (according to the custome of the Persians) when he went to warre against the Greeks. The Greeke Historiographers not respecting that custome, number the sayde Xerres, and Cambyses aboue mentioned, among the sayd Monarchies successiuely in order, which is the cause that they count more yeres in the said Monarchie, that is to say, 226. yeeres.

As touching their confused names, yee shall vnderstand, that among the Persians, Darius signifieth, hee that subdueth: Xerres, a warriour: Artaxerres, a great warriour. Also, that this name Assuerus, is drawen from the Hebrewes, in steade of Artaxerres. Further, that Artaxerres was the common name of all kings of Persia, as Pharao was the common name of the kings of Egypt, & Cesar of the Romish Emperors. Therefore where yee finde many indifferently named Darius, or Artaxerres, or both together, that is the cause of the difficulty, how to vnderstand vnder what king that happened which is recited in the sayde bookes of Eldras, Nehemias, Esther, Daniel, and other places of the holy scriptures, except yee will marke them, and well vnderstand the contents of this table.

1 Cyrus sendeth againe the people that was in captiuitie, 8 And restoreth them their holy vessels.

a After that he and Darius had vanq̃ished Babylon. 2.Chro.36. 22.ierc.25. 12.

IN the a first yeere of Cyrus king of Persia, (that the word of the Lord, spoken by the mouth of Jeremie, might be fulfilled) the Lord stirred vp the spirit of Cyrus king of Persia, ẏ hee caused to bee proclaimed throughout all his empire, and to be written, saying, b For he was chiefe monarch of the world, and had many nations vnder his dominion.

2 Thus saith Cyrus the king of Persia, The Lord God of heauen hath giuen me all the kingdomes of the earth, and hath commanded mee to builde him an house at Hierusalem, which is in Juda.

3 Whosoeuer now among you is of his people, the Lord his God bee with him, and let him goe vp to Hierusalem in Juda, and builde the house of the Lord God of Israel, (he is the God) that is at Hierusalem.

4 And whosoeuer remaineth yet in any maner of place, where hee is a stranger, let the men of that place helpe him with siluer & golde, with goods & cattell, beside that which they willingly offer for the house of God that is at Hierusalem.

5 Then gate vp the principal fathers of Juda and Benjamin, and the Priests and Leuites, and all they whose spirit God had raised to goe vp, and to builde the house of the Lord which is at Hierusalem.

c The Babylonians and Chaldeans gaue them these gifts. Thus rather then the children of God should want for theire necessities, he would stirre vp the hearts of vnbeleeuing infidels to help them.

6 And c all they that were about them, strengthened their hande with vessels of siluer and gold, with goods, and cattell, and iewels, beside all that was willingly offered.

7 And king Cyrus brought forth the vessels of the house of the Lord, which Nabuchodonosor had taken out of Hierusalem, and had put in the house of his God.

d So the Chaldeans called Sozobabel, who was the chiefe gouernour: to that the preeminence till remained in the house of David.

8 Those did Cyrus the king of Persia bring forth by the hand of Mithridates the treasurer, and numbred them vnto d Sel bazer the prince of Juda.

9 And this is the number of them: thirtie chargers of golde, a thousand chargers of siluer, twentie and nine knines:

10 Thirtie basons of gold, and of other siluer basons, foure hundred and tenne: and of other vessels, a thousand.

11 All the vessels of gold and siluer, were fiue thousand and foure hundred: all these did Sel bazer carry away with them that came vp out of the captiuitie of Babylon vnto Hierusalem.

11 Letters to Artaxerxes, and the anſwere.

NOw when the [a] aduerſaries of Iuda and Beniamin, heard that the children of the captiuitie builded the temple vnto the Lord God of Iſrael,

2 And they came to Zorobabel, and to the principall fathers, and ſaid vnto them, We will builde with you, for wee ſeeke the Lord your God, as ye doe, and wee haue doone ſacrifice vnto him ſince the time of Aſſe Haddon the king of Aſſur, which brought vs vp hither.

3 And Zorobabel, and Ioſue, and the other ancient fathers of Iſrael, ſaide vnto them, It cannot bee that you and wee together ſhould build the houſe vnto our God: for we our ſelues will builde alone vnto the Lord our God of Iſrael, as Cyrus the king of Perſia hath commanded vs.

4 And the folke of the land [†] diſcouraged the people of Iuda, and troubled them as they were building:

5 And hired counſellers againſt them, to hinder their deuiſe, as long as Cyrus the King of Perſia liued, vntill the reigne of Darius King of Perſia.

6 [*] And in the reigne of [b] Aſſuerus, at the beginning of his reigne, wrote they vnto him a complaint againſt the inhabiters of Iuda and Hieruſalem.

7 And in the dayes of Artaxerxes, wrote Mithridath, Tabel, and the other of his counſel, vnto Artaxerxes the King of Perſia with faire wordes: and the writing of the letter was in the Syrians ſpeech, & interpreted in the language of the Syrians.

16 Therefore doe we certifie the king, that if this citie be builded againe, and the walls thereof made vp, thou ſhalt hereafter haue no portion beyond the water.

17 Then ſent the king an anſwere vnto Rehum the Recorder, and Samſai the Scribe, and to the other of their companions that dwell in Samaria, and vnto the other that were beyond the water ||in Selam, and ||Cheeth.

18 The letter which yee ſent vnto vs, hath bene openly read before me.

1 Aggeus and Zacharie do propheſie. 3 The worke of the Temple goeth forward, contrary to the minde of Thathanai. 6 His letters are sent to Darius.

THe Prophets Aggeus, and Zacharie the sonne of Iddo, prophesied vnto the Iewes that were in Iuda and Hierusalem in the Name of the God of Israel.

2 Then gaue vp Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Iosue the sonne of Iosedec, and began to builde the house of God at Hierusalem: and with them were the Prophets of God, a which helped them.

3 At the same time came to them Thathanai, which was captaine beyond the water, and Stharbuzanai, and their companions, and said thus vnto them, Who hath commanded you to build this house, and to make vp these walles?

4 Then saide wee vnto them after this maner, What are the names of the men that make this building?

5 But the b eye of their God was vpon the elders of the Iewes, that they could not cause them to ceasle, till the matter was brought to Darius: and then they answered by letters thereunto.

6 This is the tenour of the letter that Thathanai, which was captaine beyond the water, and Stharbuzanai, and the counsellers of Apharsath, which were beyonde the water, sent vnto King Darius.

7 And the matter that they sent vnto him, was written thus within the letter, Vnto Darius the king, all peace.

8 Bee it knowen vnto the King, that wee went into the prouince of Iury, to the house of the great God, which is builded with mightie great stones, and beames are layd in the walles, and the woorke goeth fast forth, and prospereth in their hands.

9 Then asked we the Elders, and saide vnto them thus, Who commanded you to builde this house, and to make vp the walles thereof?

10 We asked their names also, that we might certifie thee, & write the names of the men that were with their rulers.

11 But they answered vs with these words, and said, Wee are the seruants of the God of heauen and earth, & builde the house that was builded of old and many yeeres ago, which the great King of Israel builded, and set vp.

12 But after that our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, hee gaue them ouer into the hand of Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon, and of the Chaldees, which brake downe this house, and caried the people away captiue vnto Babylon.

13 But in the first yeere of Cyrus the King of Babylon, the same King Cyrus gaue commandement, concerning this house of God, that it should be built againe.

14 And the vessels of golde and siluer of the house of God, which Nabuchodonosor tooke out of the Temple that was at Hierusalem, and brought them into the temple of Babylon: those did Cyrus the King take out of the temple at Babylon, & they were deliuered vnto one Sathbazar by name, whom he made captaine, 15 And said vnto him, Take these vessels, and goe thy way, and set them in the Temple that is at Hierusalem, and let the house of God be builded in his place.

16 Then came the same Sathbazar, and layd the foundation of the house of God, which is at Hierusalem: Since that time also vntill nowe hath it bene in building, & yet it is not finished.

17 Nowe therefore if it please the King, let there bee search made in the Kings c treasure house which is there at Babylon, whether it hath bene king Cyrus commandement that this Temple of God at Hierusalem should bee builded: and let the King send his minde concerning the same matter.

The vj. Chapter.

1 At the commandement of Darius the king of Persia, after the Temple was builded & dedicate, the children of Israel keepe the feast of vnleauened bread.

THen * commanded king Darius, that search should bee made in the library of the kings treasure house, which lay at Babylon:

Esdr. 8. 28.

2 And there was founde in a coffer in the palace that is in the prouince of the Medes, a volume, and therein was it thus written, as a memoriall,

3 In the first yeere of King Cyrus, gaue the same king Cyrus commandement, concerning the house of God at Hierusalem, that the same house should bee builded in the place where they offer the sacrifices, and to ioyne the walles together of threescore cubites height, and threescore cubits breadth,

4 Three rowes of rough stones, and one row of new timber: and the expenses shall be giuen of the kings house.

5 And let the golde and siluer vessels of the house of God, which Nabuchodonosor tooke out of the Temple at Hierusalem, and brought vnto Babylon, bee restored and brought againe vnto the Temple at Hierusalem to their place in the house of God.

6 Now therefore thou Thathanai captaine beyond the water, and Stharbuzanai, and your counsellers, and Apharsachei, which are beyond the water, get ye away from them.

7 Let the woorke of the house of this God alone, that the captaine of the Iewes, & their Elders may build the house of God in his place.

8 † I haue commanded what ye shal do to the Elders of Iuda for the building of the house of God, that of the kings goods, euen of the tribute beyond the water, forthwith expenses be giuen vnto the men, that they be not hindred.

9 And if they haue need of calues, rammes, and lambs for the whole burnt offring of the God of heauen, wheat, salt, wine, and oyle, after the custome of the priests at Hierusalem, let the same be giuen them dayly, that there be no default:

10 That they may haue to offer sweet sauors vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the kings life, and for his children.

11 And such a commandement haue I giuen, that what man soeuer he be that altereth this word, there shall a beame bee taken from his house, and set vp, and hee shalbe hanged thereon, and his house shall bee made a dounghill for the same thing.

1 By the commandement of the King, Esdras and his companions come to Hierusalem. 25 Hee giueth thanks to God.

Now * after these things, there was in the reigne of [a] Artarerres king of Persia, one Esdras the sonne of Saraia, the sonne of Azaria, the sonne of Helcia,

3 The sonne of Amaria, the sonne of Azaria, the sonne of Meraioth,

4 The sonne of Zeraia, the sonne of Ozi, the sonne of Bucci,

5 The sonne of Abiua, the sonne of Phinehes, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron the chiefe Priest.

6 This Esdras also went vp from Babylon, and was a ‖ perfect [b] scribe in the lawe of Moses, which the Lord God of Israel had giuen: and the king gaue him al that he required, according to the hand of the Lord his God which was vpon him.

7 And there went vp certaine of the children of Israel, of the Priests, Leuites, singers, porters, and of the Nethinims, vnto Hierusalem, in the seuenth yere of king Artarerres.

8 And hee came to Hierusalem in the fifth moneth, euen in the seuenth yere of the king.

9 For vpon the first day of the first moneth, began hee to goe vp from Babylon: and on the first day of the fifth moneth, came hee to Hierusalem, according to the [c] good hand of his God that was vpon him.

10 For Esdras prepared his heart to seeke the law of the Lord, and to doe it, and to teach the precepts and iudgements in Israel.

11 And this is the tenor of the letter that king Artarerres gaue vnto Esdras the Priest and scribe, which was a writer of the wordes and commandements of the Lord, and of his statutes ouer Israel.

12 Artarerres king of kings, vnto Esdras the Priest and scribe of the lawe of the God of heauen, Peace and saluation.

13 I haue commaunded that all they of the people of Israel, and of the Priests and Leuites in my realme, which are minded of their owne good will to goe vp to Hierusalem, go with thee.

14 And therefore art thou sent of the king and of his seuen counsellers, to vnderstand Iuda and Hierusalem, according to the law of God which is in thy hand.

15 And that thou shouldest take with thee siluer and gold, which the king and his counsellers offer of their owne good will vnto the God of Israel whole habitation is at Hierusalem:

16 And all the siluer and gold that thou canst finde in all the ‖ countrey of Babylon, with it that the people offer of their owne good will, and the Priests giue willingly for the house of their God which is at Hierusalem:

17 That thou mayest buy diligently with the same money, oxen, rammes, and lambes, with their meate offerings and drinke offerings: and thou shalt offer them vpon the altar of the house of your God which is at Hierusalem.

18 And looke what liketh thee, and thy brethren to doe with the residue of the siluer and gold, that doe after the will of your God.

19 And the vessels that are giuen thee for the ministration in the house of thy God, those deliuer thou before God at Hierusalem.

20 And whatsoeuer thing more shall be needfull for the house of thy God which is necessarie for to spend, thou shalt receiue the charges out of the kings treasure house.

21 I king Artarerres haue commaunded all the treasurers beyond the water, that looke whatsoeuer Esdras the Priest and scribe in the law of the God of heauen requireth of you, that ye fulfill the same speedily, 22 Vntill an hundred talents of siluer, and til an hundred quarters of wheate, and til an hundred bathes of wine, and til an hundred bats of oyle, and salt without measure.

23 Whatsoeuer also is the commaundement of the God of heauen, let the same be done without any delay for the house of the God of heauen, that he be not wroth against the realme, and against the king and his children.

1 The number of them that returned to Hierusalem with Esdras. 21 He causeth them to fast. 24 Hee admonisheth the Priests of their dueties.

THese are nowe the principall fathers of them, and this is the register of them that went vp with me from Babylon, what time as king Artarerres reigned.

3 Of the children of Sechania, among the children of Pharos, Zachari, and with him were numbred an hundred and fifty men.

4 Of the children of the captaine of Moab, Elioenai the sonne of Zerahia, and with him two hundred men.

5 Of the children of Sechania, the sonne of Jahaziel, and with him three hundred men.

6 Of the children of Adin, Ebed the sonne of Jonathan, and with him fiftie men.

7 Of the children of Elam, Esaias the sonne of Athalia, and with him seuenty men.

8 Of the children of Sephatia, Zebadia the sonne of Michael, and with him fourescore men.

9 Of the children of Joab, Obadia the sonne of Jehiel, and with him two hundred and eighteene men.

10 Of the children of Selomith, the sonne of Josphia, and with him an hundred and threescore men.

11 Of the children of Bebai, Zachari the sonne of Bebai, and with him twenty and eight men.

12 Of the children of Asgad, Johanan the sonne of Hacatan, and with him an hundred and ten men.

13 Of the children of Adonicam that were the last, whose names are these: Eliphelet, Jehiel, and Samaiah, and with them threescore men.

14 Of the children of Biguai, Uthai, and Zabud, and with them seuentie men.

15 And I gathered them together by the water that runneth toward Ahaua, and there abode we three dayes: and I looked among the people and the Priests, and found there none of the children of Leui.

16 Then sent I to Eliezer, to Ariel, Semeia, Elnathan, Jarib, Elnathan, Nathan, Zacharia, and Mesullam, chiefe men, and to Joiarib and Elnathan, which were men of vnderstanding.

17 And to those gaue I commandement vnto Iddo the chiefest at Casphia, and I told them what they should say vnto Iddo and to his brethren the Nethinims at Casphia, that they should cause the ministers of the house of our God to come vnto vs.

18 And through the good hand of our God vpon vs, they brought vs a very wise man from among the children of Moholi, the sonne of Leui the sonne of Israel, and Sarabia with his sonnes and his brethren, euen eighteene.

19 And Hasabia, and with him Esaias of the children of Merari, with his brethren, and their sonnes, twenty.

20 And of the Nethinims whom Dauid and the princes gaue to minister vnto the Leuites two hundred and twenty of Nethinims: which all were named by name.

21 And euen there at the water beside Ahaua I proclaimed a fast, that wee might humble our selues before our God, and seeke of him a right way for vs, and for our children, and for all our substance.

22 For I was ashamed to require of the king souldiers and horsemen, to helpe vs against the enemie in the way: for wee had spoken vnto the king, saying, The hande of our God is vpon all them that seeke him in goodnesse, and his power and wrath is against all them that forsake him.

23 So wee fasted and besought our God for this, and he was intreated of vs.

24 Then I tooke out twelue of the chiefe Priests, Sarabia, and Hasabia, and ten of their brethren with them.

25 And weyed them the siluer and golde, and vessels that were appointed for the house of our God, which the king and his counsellers, & his lords, and all Israel that were there at hand, had giuen together.

26 And I weyed vnto their hand fiue hundred and fiftie talents of siluer, and in siluer vessels an hundred talents, and of gold an hundred talents:

27 Twentie basons of golde of a thousand b drammes, and two costly vessels of good braste, as fleete as gold.

28 And I sayd vnto them, Yee are consecrate vnto the Lord, like as the vessels are holy also: and the gold and siluer are giuen of a good will vnto the Lord God of your fathers.

29 Watch yee, and keepe them, for yee shall weigh them downe before the chiefe Priests, and Leuites, and chiefe fathers of Israel at Hierusalem, in the treasuries of the house of the Lord.

30 Then tooke the Priests and Leuites the weyed siluer and gold, and vessels, to bring it to Hierusalem vnto the house of our God.

34 According to the number and weight of euery one, was the weight all written vp at the same time.

The ix. Chapter.

NOw when these things were done, the rulers came to me, and sayd: The people of Israel, and the Priests and Leuites are not separated fro the people of the lands, as touching their abominations: namely of the Chanaanites, Hethites, Pherezites, Iebusites, Ammonites, Moabites, Egyptians, and Amorites.

5 And about the euening sacrifice I arose vp from my heauinesse, and rent my clothes and my rayment, and fell vpon my knees, and spread out my hands vnto the Lord my God,

6 And sayd, My God, I am ashamed, & blush not lift vp mine eyes vnto thee my God: for our wickednesses are grow ouer our head, and our trespasse is waxed great vnto the heauen.

a They so exceed, that they can grow no greater.

7 Since the time of our fathers haue we bene in great trespasse vnto this day, & because of our wickednesse haue we and our kings and our priests bene deliuered into the hand of the kings of the nations, vnto the sword, into captiuity, into a spoile, and into confusion of face, as it is now this day.

8 And now for a litle space grace hath bene shewed fro the Lord our God, to cause a remnant to escape, and to giue vs a naile in his holy place, that our God may light our eyes, and giue vs a litle life, to take breath in our bondage:

Esai.22,23.

10 And now, O our God, what shall we say after this? for we haue forsaken thy commandements, 11 Which thou hast commanded by thy seruants the prophets, saying, * The lande vnto which ye go to possesse it, is an vncleane land because of the filthinesse of the people of the lands, which with their abominations haue made it full of vncleannesse on euery side.

c That is, hast not vtterly cast vs downe, and destroyed vs for our sinnes.

14 Should wee returne to breake thy commandements, and ioyne in affinitie with the people of these abominations? wouldest not thou be angry towards vs, til thou haddest consumed vs, so that there should be no remnant, nor any escaping?

15 O Lorde God of Israel, thou art righteous, for we remaine yet escaped, as it is yet to see this day: Beholde also, in thy presence are wee in our trespasses, and because of it may we not stand before thee.

The x. Chapter.

1 The people repent and turne, and put away their strange wiues.

NOw when Esdras prayed after this maner, and made his confession, weping, and lay before the house of God, there resorted vnto him out of Israel a very great congregation, of men, and women, and children: and the people wept very sore.

1 Esdras sinnes, and the sinnes of the people.

2 And Sechania the sonne of Iehiel, one of the children of Elam, answered, and said vnto Esdras, we haue trespassed against our God, and haue taken strange wiues of the people of the land: Yet now there is b hope in Israel concerning this thing.

b Meaning, that Israel may repent, and God receiue them to mercie.

3 For now we will make a couenant with our God, and put away all the wiues and such as are borne of them, according to the counsell of the Lord, and of those that feare the commandements of our God, that we may doe according to the Law.

4 Set thee vp, for this matter belongeth vnto thee, we also will be with thee: be of good comfort therefore, and doe it.

5 Then arose Esdras, and tooke an othe of the chiefe Priests and Leuites, and of all Israel, that they should doe according to this word: and they sware.

9 Then al the men of Iuda and Beniamin, gathered themselues together vnto Hierusalē, within three dayes, euen the twentieth day of the ninth moneth, and all the people sate in the streete of the house of God, and trembled because of this matter, and for the raine.

12 And all the congregation answered, and sayd with a loud voice, It shall be so, and we will doe as thou hast sayd.

13 But the people are many, and it is a rainy weather, and the people are too faint to tarie without in the streete, neither is this a worke of one day or two: for ‖ we haue offended very sore in this thing.

14 Let our rulers stand therefore in all the Congregation, and let all them which haue taken straunge wiues in our cities, come at the time appointed, and let the Elders of euery citie & their iudges be with them, till the fierce wrath of our God for this matter be turned from vs.

15 Then were appointed Jonathan the sonne of Asahel, and Jahazia the sonne of Thecua ouer this matter: and Mesullam and Sabbathai the Leuites helped them.

16 And the children of the captiuitie did euen so: and Esdras the Priest, and the ancient heads thereof the house of their fathers, all men of great fame, separated themselues, and sate them downe in the first day of the tenth moneth, to examine the matter.

17 And vntill the first day of the first moneth, they were finishing the businesse, with all the men that had taken straunge wiues.

18 And among the children of the priestes, there were men found, that had taken straunge wiues: namely, among the children of Iesue the sonne of Josedec, and of his brethren, Maasiah, and Eliezer, Jarib, and Gedalia.

19 And they gaue their handes, that they would put away their wiues: and they that had trespassed, gaue a ramme for their trespasse.

The Booke of Nehemias, or ſecond Booke of Eſdras.

The firſt Chapter.

1 Nehemias bewaileth the calamitie of Hieruſalem. 5 He confeſſeth the ſinnes of the people, and prayeth to God for them.

THe wordes of Nehemias the ſonne of Hachalia. In the moneth a Chiſleu, in the twentieth yeere, as I was in the caſtle at Suſan, 2 Came Hanani, one of my brethren, he and the men of Iuda: and I aſked them how the Iewes did that were deliuered and eſcaped from the captiuitie, and how it went at Hieruſalem.

3 And they ſayd vnto me, The remnant that are left of the captiuitie there in the land, are in great affliction and rebuke: the wall of Hieruſalem alſo is broken downe, and the gates thereof are burnt with fire.

4 And when I heard theſe wordes, I ſate downe and wept, and mourned certaine dayes, and faſted, and prayed before the God of heauen:

5 And ſayd, O Lord God of heauen, thou great and terrible God, thou that keepeſt couenant and mercie for them that loue thee, and obſerue thy commandements:

6 Let thine eares hearken, I beſeech thee, and let thine eyes bee open, that thou mayeſt heare the prayer of thy ſeruant, which I now pray before thee day and night, for the children of Iſrael thy ſeruants, & knowledge the ſinnes of the children of Iſrael, which we haue ſinned againſt thee: both I and my fathers houſe haue ſinned.

7 Wee haue grieuouſly ſinned againſt thee, and haue not kept thy commandements, ſtatutes, and iudgements, which thou commandedſt thy ſeruant Moſes.

8 I beſeech thee call to remembrance the word that thou commandedſt thy ſeruant Moſes, and ſaideſt, Ye will tranſgreſſe, and I will ſcatter you abroad among the nations.

9 But if yee turne vnto mee, and keepe my commandements, and do them: though yee were caſt out vnto the vttermoſt part of heauen, yet will I gather you from thence, and will bring you vnto the place that I haue choſen to ſet my name there.

10 They are thy ſeruants & thy people whom thou haſt deliuered through thy great power, and in thy mighty hand.

11 O Lord, I beſeech thee, let thine eare hearken to the prayer of thy ſeruant, and to the prayer of thy ſeruants, whoſe deſire is to feare thy name: and let thy ſeruant proſper this day, and grant him mercie in the ſight of b this man. For I was the kings butler.

The ij. Chapter.

1 After Nehemias had obteined letters of Artaxerxes, 11 he came to Hieruſalem, 17 and builded the walles.

IN the moneth a Niſan, in the twentieth yeere of king Artaxerxes, the wine ſtood before him: and I tooke vp the wine, and gaue it vnto the king: and I had not beene before heauie in his preſence.

2 And the king ſayd vnto mee, Why looketh thou ſo ſadly, ſeeing thou art not ſicke? This is nothing elſe, but that thou art heauy hearted. And I was ſore afrayd,

3 And ſaid vnto the king, God ſaue the king for euer: howe ſhould not I looke ſadly, when the citie & place of my fathers burials lie waſte, and the gates thereof are conſumed with fire?

4 And the king ſayd vnto me, What is then thy requeſt? I made my prayer alſo to the God of heauen.

5 And ſayde vnto the king, If it pleaſe the king, and if thy ſeruant haue found fauor in thy ſight, ſend me vnto Iuda, vnto the citie of my fathers burials, that I may build it.

6 And the king ſayd vnto me (the queene ſitting by him) Howe long ſhall thy iourney continue, and when wilt thou come againe? And it pleaſed the king to ſend me, & I ſet him a time,

And ſayde vnto the king, If it pleaſe the king, let him giue mee letters to the captaines which are beyond the water, that they may conuey me ouer, till I come into Iuda:

8 And letters vnto Aſaph the keeper of the kings wood, that hee may giue mee timber, to make beames for the gates of the palace which is hard by the houſe, and for the walles of the citie, and for the houſe that I ſhall enter into. 10 Sanballat alſo the Horonite, and Tobia a ſeruant the Ammonite, heard of it, and it grieued them ſore that there was come a man which ſought the wealth of the children of Iſrael.

11 And I came to Hieruſalem, and was there three dayes.

15 Then went I in the night by the brooke side, and considered the wall, and turned backe, and came home againe by the valley port.

16 And the rulers knew not whither I went, or what I did, neither did I as yet tell it vnto the Iewes, to the Priests, to the noble men, to the rulers, and to the other that laboured in the worke.

17 Afterward sayd I vnto them, Yee see the misery that we are in, how Hierusalem lieth waste, and howe the gates thereof are burnt with fire: come therefore, and let vs build vp the wall of Hierusalem, and that wee be no more a rebuke.

18 Then I tolde them of the hand of my God, that it was gracious ouer mee, and the kings words that hee had spoken vnto mee: and they said, Let vs get vp, and build. And they strengthened their hands to good.

19 But when Sanballat the Horonite, and Tobia the seruant an Ammonite, and Gesem the Arabian, heard it, they laughed vs to scorne, and despised vs, and sayd, What is this that ye do? Will ye fall away from the king?

20 Then answered I them, and sayd, The God of heauen, he it is that hath granted vs prosperity, and we his seruants will get vp, and build: as for you ye haue no portion, nor right, nor remembrance in Hierusalem.

Then Eliasib the hie Priest gate him vp with his brethren the Priests, and they builded the sheepe gate, they repaired it, and set vp the doores of it: euen vnto the tower Hea repaired they it, and vnto the tower of Hanneel.

2 Nert vnto him also builded the men of Iericho: and beside him builded Zachur the sonne of Amri.

3 But the fish port did the children of Anaa build, which also laid the beames thereof, and set on the doores, locks, and barres of it.

6 The old gate builded Iehoiada the sonne of Paseah, and Mesullam the sonne of Besodia, they layd the beames therof, & set on the doores, locks, and barres of it.

8 Nert vnto him builded Uziel the sonne of Harhaiah, of the goldsmiths: nert vnto him also builded Hananiah the sonne of Haracahim, and they repaired Hierusalem vnto the broad wall.

9 Nert vnto them builded Raphaiah the son of Hur, the ruler of the halfe part of Hierusalem.

10 Nert vnto him builded Iedaia the sonne of Harumaph ouer against his house: and nert vnto him builded Hattus the son of Hasabnia.

11 But Melchia the sonne of Harim, and Hasub the sonne of the captaine of Moab, builded the other piece, & the tower beside the furnaces.

12 Nert vnto him builded Sallum the sonne of Hallohesh, the ruler of the halfe part of Hierusalem, he, and his daughters.

13 The valley gate builded Hanun, and the citizens of Zanoa, they builded it, and set on the doores, locks, and barres therof, and a thousand cubits on the wall, vnto the doung port.

14 But the doung port builded Melchia the sonne of Rechab, the ruler of the fourth part of Bethacharem: he repared it, & set on the doores, locks, and barres therof.

15 But the well gate repaired Sallum the sonne of Cholhoseh, the ruler of the fourth part of Mispah: he builded it, and couered it, and set on the doores, locks, and barres thereof: and the wal vnto the fish poole Siloah by the kings garden, and vnto the steps that go downe from the city of Dauid.

16 After him builded Nehemiah the sonne of Azboc, the ruler of the halfe part of Bethzur, vntill the other side ouer against the sepulchres of Dauid, and to the fish poole that was repaired, and vnto the house of the mighty.

26 As for the Nethinims, they dwelt in the strong holde, vnto the water gate, toward the East, and to the tower that lieth out.

27 After him builded they of Thecua the other piece, ouer against the great tower that lieth outwards, vnto the wall of the strong holde.

The iiij. Chapter.

7 The building of Hieruſalem is hindered. 15 But God breaketh their enterpriſe. 17 The Iewes build with one hand, and hold their weapon in the other.

BUt when Sanballat heard that wee builded the wall, hee was wroth in himſelfe, and tooke great indignation, and mocked the Iewes:
2 And ſpake before his brethren, and the ſouldiers of Samaria, What doe theſe impotent Iewes? ‖ will the Heathen ſuffer them? ſhall they offer? ſhall they perfourme it in one day? ſhall they make the ſtones whole againe, that are brought to duſt, and burnt?
3 Now Tobiah the Ammonite was beſide him, and ſayd, Though they build, yet if a fore go vp, he ſhall breake downe their ſtony wall.
4 Heare, O our God, for we are deſpiſed, turne their ſhame vpon their owne head, and giue them ouer ‖ into deſpiſing in the land of their captiuity.
5 Couer not their iniquitie, and let not their ſinne be put out in thy preſence: for they haue prouoked the builders.
6 So builded we the wall, and it was ioyned whole together vnto the halfe height thereof: and the people had minde to labour.
7 But when Sanballat, and Tobiah, and the Arabians, Ammonites, and Aſhodites, heard that the walles of Hieruſalem were made vp, and that the breaches began to be ſtopped, they were very wroth,
8 And conſpired all together to come and fight againſt Hieruſalem, and to make an ‡ hinderance therein.
9 Neuertheleſſe, we made our prayer vnto our God, and ſet watchmen by them day and night, becauſe of them.
10 And Iuda ſayd, The ſtrength of the bearers is feeble, and there is yet much more, for, and we are not able to build on the wall.
11 And our aduerſaries ſayd, They ſhall not know, neither ſee, till we come in the middes among them, and ſlay them, and cauſe the worke to ceaſe.
12 But when the Iewes (which dwelt beſide them) came, they tolde vs ten times, that in all places where we go vnto, they are appointed to fall vpon vs.

neath in the low places behinde the wall, vpon the tops of the ſtones.
14 And I looked, and gate me vp, and ſayd vnto the chiefe men, to the rulers, and to the other people, Be not yee afrayed of them: but thinke rather vpon the great Lord which ought to be feared, and fight for your brethren, your ſonnes, your daughters, your wiues, and your houſes.
15 Neuertheleſſe, when our enemies heard that we had gotten word of it, God brought their counſell to nought: and we turned all againe to the wall, euery one vnto his labour.
16 And from that time forth, the halfe part of the young men did the labour, and the other halfe part of them held the ſpeares, ſhields, bowes and habiliments, and the rulers ſtood behinde all the houſe of Iuda.
17 They which builded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, and thoſe that laded them, with one hand did euery one his worke, and with the other held his weapon.
18 For euery one that builded, had his ſword girded by his thigh, and ſo builded they: And he that blew the trumpet, was beſide me.
19 And I ſayd vnto the principall men, to the rulers, and to the other people, The worke is great and large, and we are ſeparated vpon the wall one farre from another.
20 Looke in what place therefore ye heare the noiſe of the trumpet, reſort ye thither vnto vs, and our God ſhall fight for vs:
21 And we will be labouring in the worke. And the halfe part of them held the ſpeares, from the morning ſpring, till the ſtarres came foorth.
22 And at the ſame time ſayd I vnto the people, Let euery one with his ſeruant lodge within Hieruſalem, that in the night ſeaſon we may watch, and labour on the day time.
23 As for me, and my brethren, my ſeruants, and the men of the watch which followed me, we put neuer off our clothes, ſaue onely becauſe of the waſhing.

The v. Chapter.

1 The people are oppreſſed, and in neceſſity. 7 Nehemias forbiddeth vſurie.

ANd there arose a great complaint of the people and their wiues againſt their brethren the Iewes.
2 For there were ſome that ſayd, Our ſonnes, and daughters, and we are very many: therefore will we take corne for them, that we may eat and liue.
3 Some alſo there were that ſayd, Let vs ſet our lands, vineyards, and houſes to pledge, and take vp corne in the dearth.
4 But ſome there were that ſayd, We haue borowed money for the kings tribute, and that vpon our lands and vineyards.
5 And now our fleſh is as the fleſh of our brethren, and our children as their children: and lo, we bring into ſubiection our ſonnes, and our daughters, of ſeruants, and ſome of our daughters are ſubdued vnto bondage already, and no ſtrength is there in our hands to redeeme them, for other men haue our lands and vineyards.
6 And when I heard their complaint, and ſuch words, it diſpleaſed me ſore.
7 And I adviſed ſo in my minde, that I re-buſhed the counſellers, and the rulers, and ſayd vnto them, Euery one of you taketh vſury of his brother. And I brought a great congregation againſt them, 8 And ſayd vnto them, We after our abilitie haue redeemed our brethren the Iewes, which were ſolde vnto the heathen: and will you ſell your brethren againe? and ſhall they be ſold vnto vs? Then held they their peace, and coulde finde nothing to anſwere.

9 And I ſayde, It is not good that yee doe: ought yee not to walke in the feare of our God, becauſe of the reuile of the heathen that are our enemies?

10 I, and my brethren, and my ſeruants, doe lend them money and corne: I pray you let vs leaue off this vſury.

11 Therefore, this ſame day, I pray you, reſtore that yee reſtore them their lands againe, their vineyards, oliue gardens, and their houſes, the hundred part of the money, of the corne, wine, and oile, that ye haue exacted of them.

12 Then ſayd they, Wee will reſtore them againe, and will require nothing of them, and will do as thou haſt ſpoken. And I called the Prieſts, and tooke an oth of them, that they ſhould do according to this promiſe.

13 And I ſhooke my lap, and ſaid, God ſhake out euery man after the ſame maner from his houſe and labor, that maintaineth not this word, euen thus be he ſhaken out, and voide. And all the congregation ſayde, Amen, and praiſed the Lorde: And the people did according to this promiſe.

14 And from the time forth that the king commitred vnto me to be captain of them that were in the lande of Iuda, euen from the twentieth yere vnto the thirty and two yere of king Artarerres, that is twelue yeres, I with my brethren liued not of ſuch ſuſtenance as was giuen to a captaine.

15 For the old captaines that were before me, had bene chargeable vnto the people, and had taken of them bread and wine, beſide forty ſicles of ſiluer, yea, and their ſeruants had oppreſſed the people: but ſo did not I, and that becauſe of the feare of God.

16 ‖ But I laboured alſo in the worke vpon the wall, and we bought no land: and all my ſeruants came thither together vnto the worke.

17 Moreouer, there were at my table an hundred and fifty of the Iewes and rulers which came vnto vs from among the heathen that are about vs.

18 And there was prepared for mee daily, an ore, and ſire choſen ſheepe, and foules were prepared for me: and euer once in ten dayes, wine for all in abundance; yet required not I the ‖ liuing of a captaine, for the bondage was grieuous vnto the people.

19 Thinke vpon me my God vnto the beſt, according to all that I haue done for this people.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Nehemias anſwereth with great wiſdome and zeale to his aduerſaries. 11 Hee is not diſcouraged by the falſe prophets.

NOw when Sanballat, Tobia, and Geſem the Arabian, and the other of our enemies, heard that I had builded the wall, and that there were no more ‖ gaps therein: (howbeit, at the ſame time had I not hanged the doores vpon the gates)

2 Sanballat and Geſem ſent vnto me, ſaying, Come, that we may meet and take counſell together in the villages that are in the plaine of the citie Ono. Neuertheleſſe, they thought to do me euill.

3 And I ſent meſſengers vnto them, ſaying, I haue great buſineſſe to do, and I cannot come downe: why ſhould the worke ceaſe, whileſt I leaue it, and come downe to you?

4 Howbeit, they ſent vnto mee foure times, after the ſame maner: and I gaue them the ſame anſwere.

5 Then ſent Sanballat his ſeruant againe vnto me the fift time, with an open letter in his hand.

6 Wherein was written, It is told the heathen, and Geſem hath ſayd it, that thou and the Iewes thinke to rebel: for the which cauſe thou buildeſt the wal, that thou mayeſt be their king, according to theſe words:

7 And haſt ordained the prophets to preach of thee at Hieruſalem, and to ſay, He is king of Iuda. And nowe ſhall this come to the kings eares: come now therefore, and let vs take our counſell together.

8 And I ſent vnto him, ſaying, There is no ſuch thing done as thou ſayeſt, for thou faineſt them of thine owne heart.

9 For they were all minded to make vs afrayd, ſaying, They ſhall withdraw their handes from their worke that it ſhall not bee finiſhed. Now therefore, ſtrengthen thou my hand.

10 And I came vnto the houſe of Semaia the ſonne of Delaia, the ſonne of Mehetabeel, and he had ſhut himſelfe within, and ſayd, Let vs come together in the houſe of God, euen into the midſt of the Temple, and ſhut the doores of the Temple, for they will come to ſlay thee, yea, euen in the night will they come to put thee to death.

11 And I ſayde, Should ſuch a man as I flee? who is it, that being as I am, will go into the Temple to ſaue his life? I will not go in.

12 And lo, I perceiued that God had not ſent him, but that hee pronounced this prophecie againſt me: for Tobia and Sanballat had hired him for money.

13 Therefore was he hired, that through feare I ſhould ſo doe, and ſinne, that they might haue euill report of me, to lay to my charge.

14 My God, thinke thou vpon Tobia, and Sanballat, according vnto theſe their works, and on the prophetiſſe Noadia, and the other prophets that would haue put me in feare.

15 And the wall was finiſhed in the twentie and fift day of the moneth Elul, in fifty and two dayes.

16 And when all our enemies heard thereof, all the heathen that were about vs, were afraid, and their courage failed them: for they perceiued that this worke came of our God.

17 And at the ſame time were there many of the chiefe of Iuda, whoſe letters went vnto Tobia, and againe from Tobia vnto them.

18 For there were many in Iuda that were ſworne vnto him: for hee was the ſonne in law of Sechania the ſonne of Arah, and his ſonne Johanan had the daughter of Meſhullam the ſonne of Barachia.

2 Esdras gathereth together the people, and readeth the Law to them.

1.Esdr.3.1. 1 esdr.7.6. AND all the people gathered themselues together as one man, in the street that was before the water gate, * and they spake vnto Esdras the scribe, that he should fetch the booke of the law of Moses, which the Lord commanded to Israel.
2 And Esdras the priest brought the law before the congregation, both of men and women, and all that could vnderstand, did hearken vnto it, vpon the first day of the seuenth moneth.
3 And he read therein in the street that was before the water gate, from the morning vntill the noone day, before men and women that did hearken to it: and the eares of all the people were inclined vnto the booke of the law.
4 And Esdras the scribe stood vpon a pulpit of wood which they had made for the preaching, and beside him stood Mattithia, Sema, and Anaiah, Urias, Helcia, and Maaseiah, on his right hand: and on his left hand stood Pedaia, Misael, and Melchia, and Hasum, Hasbadana, Zacharie, and Mesullam.
5 And Esdras opened the booke before all the people (for he stood aboue all the people:) and when he opened it, all the people stood vp.
6 And Esdras praised the Lorde the great God: and all the people answered, Amen, Amen, lifting vp their hands, and bowed themselues, and worshipped the Lorde, falling downe vpon their faces to the ground.
7 Also Jesue, Bani, Serebia, Jamin, Accub, Sebethai, Hodaia, Maalia, Celita, Azariah, Josabad, Hanan, Pelaiah, and the Leuites, caused the people to giue heed vnto the law: and the people stood in their place.
8 And they read in the booke of the law of God distinctly, and gaue the sense, and caused them to vnderstand the reading.
9 And Nehemias, which is Athirsatha, and Esdras the Priest and Scribe, and the Leuites that caused the people to take heed, sayd vnto all the people, This day is holy vnto the Lord your God, be not ye sory, and weepe not. For all the people wept when they heard the words of the Law.
10 And he sayd vnto them, Go your way, and eat the fat, and drinke the sweet, and send part vnto them also that haue not prepared for themselues, for this day is holy vnto our Lord: be not ye sory therefore, for the ioy of the Lord is your strength.
11 And the Leuites stilled all the people, and sayd, Hold your peace, for the day is holy, be not sad therefore.
12 And all the people went their way to eat, and to drinke, and to send part vnto other, and to make great mirth, because they had vnderstood the words that were declared vnto them.
13 And on the next day were gathered together the chiefe fathers among all the people, and the Priests, and the Leuites, vnto Esdras the Scribe, that they might vnderstand the words of the Law.
14 And they found written in the law which the Lord had commanded by Moses, that the children of Israel should dwell in boothes in the feast of the seuenth moneth:
15 And that they should cause it to be declared and proclaimed in all their cities, and throughout Hierusalem, saying, Go forth vnto the mount, and fetch Oliue branches, Pine branches, Mirtle branches, Palme branches, and branches of the thicke tree, to make boothes, as it is written.

NOw the * twentie and fourth day of a this moneth, ~~came~~ the children of Israel together againe, with fasting, and sackclothes, and earth vpon them.

2 And ~~they that were of~~ the seed of Israel, ~~were~~ separated from all ~~the~~ strange children, and stood, and ~~knowledged~~ their sinnes, and the ~~wickednesse~~ of their fathers:

3 And stood vp in their place, and read in the booke of the law of the Lord their God foure ~~times on~~ the day, and ~~they knowledged~~, and worshipped the Lord their God foure times on the day.

4 Then stood vp vpon the stairs of the Leuites, Iesus, Bani, Cadmiel, Sabaniah, Bunni, Serebiah, Bani, and Chanani, and cried loud vnto the Lord their God.

5 Then the Leuites, Iesus, & Cadmiel, Bani, and Hasabnia, Serebiah, and Hodia, Sebanias, and Phathahia, sayd, Stand vp, and ~~praise~~ the Lord your God for euer, and ~~let thanks be giuen~~ vnto the name of thy glory, ~~which~~ excelleth all thanksgiuing and praise.

6 Thou art Lord alone, thou hast made heauen, ~~and~~ the heauen of ~~all~~ heauens, with all their host, the earth, & all things that are ~~there~~ in, the sea, and all that is therein, and thou preseruest them all, and the host of ~~them~~ worshippeth thee.

7 Thou art, O Lord, the God ~~that hast~~ chosen * Abram, and broughtest him out of Ur in Chaldea, and calledst him Abraham: Gen. 11. 31 gen. 17. 5.

8 And foundest his heart faithfull before thee, and madest a couenant with him, to giue vnto his seede the land of the Chanaanites, Hethites, Amorites, Pherezites, Iebusites, and Gergesites, and hast made good thy wordes: for thou art righteous.

9 And ~~hast considered~~ the ~~misery~~ of our fathers in Egypt, and heard their ~~complaint~~ by the red sea,

10 And shewed ~~tokens~~ and woonders vpon Pharao and all his seruants, and on all the people of his land: for thou knewest that they were ~~presumptuous~~ and ~~stiffe~~ against them: ~~and~~ so ~~madest~~ thou thee a name, as it is this day.

11 *And ~~the red sea diddest~~ thou diuide ~~in sunder~~ before them, so that they went thorow the midst of the sea ‖ ~~drie shod~~: and their persecutors ~~threwest thou~~ into the deepe, as a stone in the mighty waters. Exo. 13. 21.

12 *~~And~~ leddest them on the day ~~time~~ in a cloudie pillar, and in the night ~~season~~ in a pillar of fire, to ~~giue~~ them light in the way that they ~~went~~.

13 *Thou camest downe also vpon mount Sion, and spakest ~~vnto~~ them from heauen, and gauest them right iudgements, true lawes, good ~~commandements~~, and statutes: Exod. 20. 1.

14 And ~~declaredst~~, vnto them thy holy Sabboth, and commandedst them precepts, ~~ordinances~~ and lawes, by the hand of Moses thy seruant:

15 * And gauest them bread from heauen, ~~when they were hungrie~~, and broughtest forth water for them out of the rocke, ~~when they were~~ thirstie, and promisedst them that they should go in, ~~and take possession of~~ the lande ~~ouer~~ which thou hadst ~~lift vp~~ thine hand ~~for~~ to giue them. Deut. 1. 8.

16 But they, and our fathers, ~~were proud~~ and hard ~~necked~~, ~~so that they followed~~ not thy commandements:

17 And ~~wouldest~~ obey, neither were mindfull of the wonders that thou didst ~~to~~ them: but hardened their necks, and ~~had in their heads~~ to returne to their bondage by their rebellion: but thou, O God ~~of mercies~~, gracious, & ~~merciful~~ compassion, ~~of~~ long suffering, and of great ~~mercy~~, ~~forsookest~~ them not.

18 *~~Moreouer~~, when they had made them a molten calfe, and sayde, This is thy god that brought thee out ~~of the lande~~ of Egypt, and ~~did~~ blasphemies: Exod. 32. 4. num. 14. 14 1. cor. 10. 2.

19 Yet ~~forsookest~~ thou them ~~not~~ in the wildernesse, according to thy great mercies: * and the cloudie pillar departed not from them ~~on the~~ day ~~time~~ to leade them the way, neither the pillar of fire ~~in the~~ night ~~season~~, to shew them light ~~in~~ the way ~~by which~~ they should go. Exo. 13. 22.

20 ~~And~~ thou gauest ~~them~~ thy good spirit to ~~instruct~~ them, and withheldest not thy Manna from their mouth, and gauest them water ~~when they were thirstie~~.

21 Fortie yeeres ~~long~~ diddest thou ~~feed~~ them in the wildernesse, so that they lacked nothing: their clothes waxed not old, and their feet ~~swelled~~ not.

22 ~~And~~ thou gauest them kingdomes and nations, and diddest ~~scatter~~ them into corners: so they possessed the land of Sehon, and the land of the king of Hesbon, and the land of Og king of Basan. b Meaning, the heathen, Num. 21.

23 ~~And~~ their children ~~multipliedst~~ thou as the starres of heauen, and broughtest them into the lande ~~whereof~~ thou hadst ~~spoken~~ to their fathers, that they should go in ~~to it, and haue it in~~ possession.

24 And the children went in, and possessed the land, and thou subduedst before them the inhabiters of the lande, ~~euen~~ the Chanaanites, and gauest them into their hands, with their kings, and the people of the lande, that they might doe with them ~~what~~ they would.

25 And they ~~won~~ ~~their~~ strong cities, and a fat land, and ~~tooke~~ possession ~~of~~ houses ~~that were~~ full of all ~~manner of~~ goods, ‖ welles digged ~~out~~, vineyards, olive gardens, and ~~many~~ fruit ~~full~~ trees, ~~and~~ they did eate, and were filled, and became fat, & liued in pleasure ~~through~~ thy great goodnesse. ‖ Or, cisternes,

ON that day did they reade in the * booke of Moses in the audience of the people, & therein was found written, that the Ammonites and Moabites should neuer come into the Congregation of God:

Num.22.5.

2 *Because they met not the children of Israel with bread and water, but hired Balaam against them, that he should curse them: and our God turned the curse into a blessing.

3 Now when they had heard the Law, they separated from Israel euery one that had ‖ mixt himselfe therein.

‖ Or, strangers, a That is, before the children of Israel had separated the strangers from among them.

4 And before this had the priest Eliasib the ouerlight of the treasurie of the house of God, and he was kinsman vnto Tobia,

5 And had made him a great chamber, and there had they aforetime layed the offerings, frankincense, vessels, and the tithes of corne, wine, and oile, which was commanded to be giuen to the Leuites, singers, and porters, and the heaue offerings of the priests.

6 But in all this time was not I at Hierusalem: for in the two and thirtieth yere of Artaxerres king of Babylon, came I vnto the king, and after certaine dayes obtained I licence of the king to come to Hierusalem.

7 And I gate vnderstanding of the euill that Eliasib did for Tobia, in that hee had made him a chamber in the court of the house of God.

8 And it grieued mee sore: therefore I cast forth all the vessels of the house of Tobia out of the chamber,

9 And commanded them to cleanse the chambers, and thither brought I againe the vessels of the house of God, with the meat offring, and the incense.

10 And I perceiued that the portions of the Leuites had not bene giuen them, and that euery one was fled to his lande, euen the Leuites and singers that executed the worke.

11 Then reproued I the rulers, & sayd, Why is the house of God forsaken? And I gathered them together, and set them in their place.

12 Then brought all Iuda the tithes of corne, and wine, and oile, vnto the treasures.

13 And I made treasurers ouer the treasures, Selemiah the priest, and Zadoc the scribe, and of the Leuites, Phadaia: and vnder their hand was Hanan the sonne of Zaccur the sonne of Mattania: for they were counted faithfull, and their office was to distribute the portions vnto their brethren.

14 Thinke vpon mee, O my God, heerein, and wipe not out my ‖ mercy that I haue shewed on the house of my God, and on the officers therof.

15 And the same time sawe I in Iuda some treading wine presses on the Sabboth, & bringing in sheaues, and which laded asses also with wine, grapes, and figges, and all burdens, and brought them into Hierusalem vpon the Sabboth day: and I rebuked them earnestly the same day that they solde victuals.

16 There dwelt men of Tyre also therein, which brought fish, and all maner of ware, and solde on the Sabboth vnto the children of Iuda in Hierusalem.

17 Then reproued I the rulers in Iuda, and sayd vnto them, What euill thing is this that ye do, and breake the Sabboth day?

18 Did not your fathers euen thus, and our God brought all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this city? and ye make the wrath more yet vpon Israel, in that ye breake the Sabboth?

19 And when the gates of Hierusalem began to be darke in the euening before the Sabboth, I commanded to shut the gates, and charged that they should not be opened til after the Sabboth: & some of my seruants set I at the gates, that there should no burden be brought in on the Sabboth day.

20 Then remained the chapmen & merchants once or twise ouer night without Hierusalem, with all maner of wares.

21 Then reproued I them sore, and sayd vnto them, Why tary ye all night about the wall? If ye do it once againe, I will lay hands vpon you: from that time forth came they no more on the Sabboth.

22 And I sayde vnto the Leuites, that they should cleanse themselues, and that they should come and keepe the gates, to hallow the Sabboth day: Thinke vpon me, O my God, concerning this also, and spare mee according to thy great mercy.

23 In those dayes also sawe I Iewes that maried wiues of Asdod, of Ammon, and of Moab.

24 And their children spake halfe in the speech of Asdod, and could not speake in the Iewes language, but according to the language of the one people and of the other people.

25 Then I reproued them, and d cursed them, and smote certaine men of them, & ‖ made them bare: and tooke an oth of them by God, Ye shall not giue your daughters vnto their sonnes, neither shall yee take their daughters vnto your sonnes, or for your selues.

26 *Did not Solomon the king of Israel sin by these things? and yet among many heathen was there no king like him, which was deare vnto his God, and God made him king ouer all Israel: * and yet neuertheless, outlandish women caused him to sinne.

27 Shal we then obey vnto you, to do all this great euill, and to transgresse against our God, and mary strange wiues?

28 And one of the children of Ioiada, the sonne of Eliasib the high Priest, was the sonne in law of Sanballat the Horonite: but I chased him from me.

29 O my God, thinke thou vpon them that defile the priesthood, & the couenant of the priesthood, and of the Leuites.

30 Thus cleansed I them from all such b Yet notwithstanding that he did his duety with a good conscience: yet hee vnfeinedly not humbling himselfe herein, but desireth God to fauour him, and to be mercifull vnto him, for his owne goodnesse sake. As verse 22.

The Booke of Esther.

The first Chapter.

1 King Ahasuerus maketh a royal feast. 10 Whereunto the Queene Vasthi will not come. 19 For which cause she is put away. 20 The Kings decree touching the preeminence of man ouer his wife.

N the dayes of Ahasuerus, (this is Ahasuerus which reigned from India vnto Ethiopia ouer an hundred and twentie and seuen prouinces)

2 In those dayes, when the King Ahasuerus sate on his seate royall, which was in the palace of Susan:

3 In the thirde yeere of his reigne, he made a feast vnto all his Princes and Seruants: and the mightie men of Persia and Media, the Captaines also and rulers of his countreys were before him,

4 And hee shewed the riches and glorie of his kingdom, and the glorious worship of his greatnesse many dayes long, an hundred and fourescore dayes.

5 And when these dayes were expired, the king made a feast vnto all the people that were in the palace of Susan, both vnto great & small, seuen dayes long, in the court of the garden by the Kings palace.

6 Where there hanged white, greene, and ‖ yealow clothes, fastened with cords of fine silke and purple in siluer rings, vpo pillars of marble stones: the ‖ benches also were of golde and siluer made vpon a pauement of ‖ greene, white, yealow, and blache marble.

7 And they dranke in vessels of golde, and changed vessel after vessell, and royall wine in abundance, according to the power of the king.

8 And the drinking was by an order, none might compel: for so the King had appointed to all the Officers of his house, that they should doe according to euery mans pleasure.

9 And the Queene Vasthi made a feast also for the women in the palace of Ahasuerus.

10 And on the seuenth day when the King was merie after the wine, hee commanded Mehuman, Biztha, Harbona, Bigtha, Abagtha, Zethar, and Charcas, the seuen Chamberlaines that did ſeruice in the presence of King Ahasuerus, 11 To fetche the Queene Vasthi, with the Crowne regall into the kings presence, that hee might shewe the people & princes her fairenesse: for she was beautifull.

12 But the Queene Vasthi would not come at the kings word by his Chamberlaines: then was the King very wroth, and his indignation kindled in him.

13 Then the king spake to the wise men which ᵇ knewe the times (for so was the Kings maner towards all that knewe the lawe and the iudgement:

14 And the next vnto him were Carsena, Sethar, Admata, Tharsis, Mares, Marsena, and Memuchan, the seuen princes of Persia and Media, which ᶜ sawe the kings face, and sate the first in the kingdome)

15 What shall we do vnto the Queene Vasthi according to the lawe, because she did not according to the worde of the King Ahasuerus, which he commanded by his Chamberlaines?

16 And Memuchan answered before the king and the princes, The Queene Vasthi hath not onely done euill against the king, but also against all the princes, & against all the people that are in all the prouinces of king Ahasuerus.

17 For this deede of the Queene shall come abroad vnto all women, so that they shall despise their husbands before their eyes, and shall say, The king Ahasuerus commanded Vasthi the Queene to bee brought in before him, but shee would not come.

18 And so shall the princesses in Persia and Media say like wise this day vnto all the kings princes when they heare of this deede of the queene: thus shall there arise too much despite & wrath.

19 If it please the king, let there goe a commandement from him, and let it bee written according to the lawes of the Persians and Medians, & not to bee transgressed, that Vasthi come no more before king Ahasuerus, and let the king giue her royall estate vnto an other that is better then she.

20 And when this commaundement of the king, which shall be made, is published throughout all his Empire, which is great, all women shal hold their husbands in honour both among great and small.

21 This saying pleased the king and the princes, and the king did according to the worde of Memuchan.

22 For he sent letters forth into all the kings prouinces, into euery land according to the writing thereof, and to euery people after their language, that euery man should bee lorde in his owne house: and this to bee published after the language of his people.

The ij. Chapter.

2 After the Queene is put away, certaine yong maydens are brought to the King. 14 Esther pleaseth the king, and is made Queene.

AFter these acts, when the displeasure of king Ahasuerus was now ‖ ‖Or, appeased. alayed, he thought vpon Vashti, and what shee had done, and what was decreed against her.

2 Then said the kings seruants that ministred vnto him, Let there be faire yong virgins sought for the king.

3 And let the king appoint officers in all the prouinces of his Empire, that they ‖Or, house. gather together all the faire yong virgines vnto the palace of Susan to the womens ‖building, vnder the hand of Hegai the kings chamberlaine that ‖Or, things for purification, ver. 12. keepeth the women, to giue them ‖ their apparell.

4 And that the mayden which pleaseth the king, ‖ should be Queene in Vashtis stead. And this pleased the king, and he did so.

5 In the palace of Susan there was a certaine Iew, whose name was Mardocheus, the sonne of Iair, the sonne of Semei, the sonne of Cis, a man of Iemini.

6 Which was caried away from Hierusalem with the captiuitie, when Iechonia the king of Iuda was led away, whom Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon caried thence. 4. Reg. 24. 15.

7 And he nourished Hadassa (that is Esther) his vncles daughter: for shee had neither father nor mother, and shee was a faire and beautifull mayden, whom Mardocheus (when her father and mother were dead) ‖ received for his owne daughter.

8 So when the kings commandement and commission was published, and many maydens were brought together into the palace of Susan vnder the hand of Hegai, Esther was brought also vnto the kings house vnder the hand of Hegai the keeper of the women.

9 And the maiden pleased him, and she found fauour in his sight: and shee caused ‖ ornaments to bee giuen her speedily, and such things as belonged to her, and appointed her seuen comely maydens out of the kings house, ‖ and fauoured both her and her gentle women singularly in the house of the women. ‖Or, her things for purification. ‖Or, and he gaue chāge to her, and to her maidens, of the best in the house of the women.

10 But Esther shewed not her people and her kinred: for Mardocheus had charged her, that she should not tell it.

11 And Mardocheus walked euery day before the court of the womens house, that hee might know howe Esther did, and what should become of her.

12 And when the appointed time of euery mayden came, that she should goe in to the king Ahasuerus, after that shee had bene twelue moneths according to the maner of the women (for so were the dayes of their purification accomplished, sixe moneths with oyle of myrrhe, and sixe moneths with sweet odours, and in the purifying of the women:

13 And thus went the maydens vnto the king: whatsoeuer she required, that must bee giuen her, to goe with her out of the ‖womens ‖building vnto the Kings palace. a There were three houses appointed for women: one for virgins, another for concubines, the thirde for Queenes. ‖Or, house.

14 In the euening she went, and on the morowe shee returned into the second house of the women, abiding vnder the hand of Saasgaz the kings chamberlaine, which kept the concubines: and shee came in vnto the king no more, except it pleased the king to haue her, and that she were called by name.

15 Now when the course came of Esther, the daughter of Abihail, the vncle of Mardocheus (which had receiued her for his owne daughter) that she should come in vnto the king, she desired nothing but what Hegai the kings Chamberlayne the keeper of the women saide: and Esther found fauour in the sight of all them that looked vpon her.

16 And Esther was taken vnto king Ahasuerus into his house royall, in the tenth moneth (which is the moneth b Tebeth) in the seuenth yeere of his reigne. b Which containeth part of December, and part of Ianuarie.

17 And the king loued Esther aboue all the women, and shee found grace and fauour in his sight, more then all the virgins, so that he set the crowne of the kingdome vpon her head, & made her Queene in stead of Vashti.

18 And the king made a great feast vnto all his princes and seruants, which feast was because of Esther, and caused the prouinces to be in quietnes, and gaue gifts as became the royaltie of a king. c He released their tribute.

19 And when the virgins were gathered together the second time, Mardochcus sate in the kings gate.

20 And as yet had not Esther shewed her kinred and her people, according as Mardocheus had bidden her: for Esther did after the word of Mardocheus, like as if shee had bene yet vnder his gouernance.

21 At the same time (while Mardocheus sate in the Kings gate) two of the kings chamberlaines, Bigthan and Theres, which kept the doore, were wroth, and sought to lay their hands on the king Ahasuerus:

22 Whereof also Mardocheus gate knowledge, and told it vnto Queene Esther, and Esther certified the king thereof in Mardocheus name.

23 And when inquisition was made, it was founde so, and they were both hanged on tree: and it was written in the Chronicles before the king.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Haman after he was exalted, obteineth of the king, that all the Iewes should bee put to death, because Mardocheus had not done him worship as other had.

AFter these acts did king Ahasuerus promote Haman the sonne of Amadatha the Agagite, & set him on high, and set his seate aboue all the princes that he had with him.

2 And all the kings seruants that were in the kings gate, bowed their knees, and reuerenced Haman, for the king had so commanded concerning him: but Mardocheus a bowed not the knee, neither did him reuerence. a This fact of Mardocheus ceased to come by the singular instinct of Gods spirit, to the end he might execute his iust iudgements against wicked Haman, and also being (Vashti not heus to honoure for the preseruation of his people: for otherwise to obey magistrates in all ciuill behauiour is Gods commandement, Rom. 13.

3 Then the kings seruants which were in the kings gate, saide vnto Mardocheus, Why transgressest thou the kings commandement?

4 And though they spake this daily vnto him, yet would he not heare them, therefore they told Haman, that they might see how Mardocheus matters would stand, for he had told them that he was a Iew.

5 And when Haman saw that Mardocheus bowed not the knee vnto him, nor did reuerence vnto him, he was full of indignation.

6 And thought it too little to lay hands onely on Mardocheus, for they had shewed him the nation of Mardocheus: wherefore hee sought to destroy all the Iewes that were throughout the whole Empire of Ahasuerus, and that were of the nation of Mardocheus.

7 In the first moneth (that is the moneth Nisan) in the twelfth yeere of king Ahasuerus, they cast Pur, that is, a lot, before Haman from day to day, and from moneth to moneth, to the twelfth moneth, that is, the moneth Adar.

8 And Haman saide vnto king Ahasuerus, There is a people scattered abroad, and dispersed among all people in all the prouinces of thine Empire, and their lawes are diuers from all people, and doe not obey the kings lawes, therefore it is not the kings profit to suffer them.

9 If it please the king, let it be written, that they may bee destroyed: and so will I || weigh downe tenne thousande talents of siluer, by the handes of them that haue the charge of this businesse, to bring it into the kings treasurie.

10 And the King tooke his ring from his hande, and gaue it vnto Haman the sonne of Amadatha the Agagite the Iewes enemie.

11 And the king saide vnto Haman, Let the siluer be thine, and doe with that people as it pleaseth thee.

12 Then were the kings || Scribes called, on the thirteenth day of the first moneth, and there was written according as Haman commanded, vnto all the kings Officers, and to the Captaines that were ouer euery prouince, and to the rulers of euery people in the countreys on euery side, according to the writing thereof, and to euery nation after their language, in the name of king Ahasuerus was it written, and sealed with the kings ring.

13 And the letters were sent by posts into all the kings prouinces, to roote out, to kill, and to destroy all Iewes both yong and olde, children and women, in one day, vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth (which is the moneth Adar) and to spoile them as a pray.

14 *This was the tenour of the writing, that there should bee a commandement giuen in all prouinces, and published vnto all people, that they should be ready against the same day.

15 And the postes went in all haste according to the kings commandement, and in the palace of Susan was the commandement deuised, and the king and Haman sate and dranke, when in the meane time the c citie of Susan was disquieted.

The iiij. Chapter.

5 Mardocheus giueth the Queene knowledge of the cruel decree of the King against the Iewes. 16 She willeth that they pray for her.

WHen Mardocheus perceiued all that was done, he rent his cloths, and put on sackcloth with ashes, and went out into the middes of the citie, and cried loude and lamentably,

2 And came before the kings gate, but hee might not enter within the kings gate, because he had sackcloth on.

3 And in all prouinces, countreys, and places, as farre as the kings word and commandement came, there was great lamentation among the Iewes, fasting, weeping, and mourning, and many lay in sackclothes and in ashes.

4 So Esthers maydens, and her chamberlaines came, & told it her: then was the Queene exceedingly astonied, and shee sent rayment that Mardocheus should put on, and lay the sackcloth from him: but Mardocheus would not take them.

5 Then called Esther Hathach, one of the kings chamberlaines, which stoode before her, and gaue him a commandement vnto Mardocheus, to know what it was wherefore he did so.

6 So Hathach went foorth to Mardocheus vnto the street of the citie, which was before the kings gate:

7 And Mardocheus told him of all that had come vnto him, and of the summe of siluer that Haman had promised to weigh downe into the kings treasurie, because of the Iewes, if hee would destroy them.

8 And hee gaue him the copie of the kings commandement that was deuised at Susan to destroy them, that he might shew it vnto Esther, and to speake to her, and to charge her that shee should go in vnto the king, and make her prayer and supplication vnto him for her people.

9 And when Hathach came in, hee tolde Esther the words of Mardocheus.

10 And againe Esther spake vnto Hathach, and commanded him to say vnto Mardocheus,

11 All the kings seruants, and the people in the prouinces of the king know, that whosoeuer commeth within the court vnto the king, whether it be man or woman, which is not called, || there is but one commandement, that the same shalbe, except the king holde out the golden scepter vnto him, that he may liue: but I haue not been called to come in vnto the king now these thirtie dayes.

12 And when Mardocheus was certified of Esthers words,

13 Mardocheus bade say againe vnto Esther, Thinke not with thy selfe that thou shalt escape in the kings house more then all the Iewes.

14 For if thou holdest thy peace at this time, then shall the Iewes haue || helpe & deliuerance out of an other place, and thou and thy fathers house shalbe destroyed: And who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdome || for this cause time?

15 Esther bade them giue Mardocheus this answere.

16 Goe and gather all the Iewes that are found at Susan, and fast yee for me, that ye eate not and drinke not in three dayes, neither day nor night. And my maydens will fast likewise: and so will I goe in vnto the King, which thing is yet contrary to the commandement, and if I perish, I perish.

17 So Mardocheus went his way, and did according to all that Esther had cõmanded him.

The v. Chapter.

1 Esther entreth in vnto the King, and biddeth him and Haman to a feast. 11 Haman prepareth a gallous for Mardocheus.

AND on the thirde day, Esther put on her royall apparell, and stood in the court of the kings palace with in, ouer against the Kings house: and the King sate vpon his royall seate in the house royall: ouer against the gate of the house.

2 And when the king saw Esther the Queene standing in the court, shee founde grace in his sight: and the king held out the golden scepter that was in his hand: So Esther stept forth, and touched the top of the scepter.

3 Then saide the King vnto her, What wilt thou, Queene Esther? and what requirest thou? aske euen the halfe of the Empire, and it shall be giuen thee.

4 And Esther answered, if it please the king, let the King and Haman come this day vnto the banquet that I haue prepared for him.

5 And the king said, Cause Haman to make haste, that he may do as Esther hath said. So the King and Haman came to the banquet that Esther had prepared.

6 And the King said vnto Esther at the banquet of wine, what is thy petition, that it may bee giuen thee? And what requirest thou? It it be euen the halfe of the empire, it shalbe done.

7 Then answered Esther, and saide, My petition and desire is,

8 If I haue founde grace in the sight of the king, and if it please the king to giue me my petition, and to fulfill my request, then let the King and Haman come to the banquet that I shall prepare for them, and to morrow will I do to morrow as the King hath said.

9 Then went Haman forth the same day ioyfull and merie in his minde: but when Haman sawe Mardocheus in the Kings gate, that hee stood not vp, nor moued for him, hee was full of indignation at Mardocheus.

10 Neuertheless, Haman refrained himselfe, and when hee came home, hee sent and called for his friends, and Zares his wife.

11 And Haman tolde them of the glory of his riches, & the multitude of his children, and al the things wherein the king had promoted him so greatly, and how that hee had set him aboue the Princes, and seruants of the king.

12 Haman saide moreouer, Yea, Esther the Queene did let no man come in with the King vnto the banquet that hee had prepared, except mee: and to morrow am I bidden vnto her also with the King.

13 But in all this am I not satisfied, as long as I see Mardocheus the Iewe sitting at the kings gate.

14 Then said b Zares his wife, & al his friends vnto him, Let them make a gallous of fiftie cubites high, and to morrow speake thou vnto the king that Mardocheus may be hanged thereon: then goe thou in merily with the king vnto the banquet. And Haman was well content with all, and caused the gallous to be made.

a Thus the wicked when they are preuented in deed of considering their charge & humbling themselues, wax ambitious, disdainful, and cruel.

b The comfort and counsell which he receiued of his wife, & friends through the prouidence of God, was turned to his destruction.

The vj. Chapter.

1 The King turneth ouer the Chronicles, and findeth the fidelitie of Mardocheus, 10 and commandeth Haman to cause Mardocheus to be had in honour

THe same night could not the king sleepe, and he commanded to bring the ‖ Chronicles and stories: and they were read before the king.

2 Then it was found written, how Mardocheus had told that Bigthana and Theres the kings two Chamberlaines, which kept the ‖ doores, sought to lay hands on king Ahasuerus.

‖ Or, the booke of records, and the Chronicles.

‖ Or, thresholds.

3 And the king said, what honour and dignitie hath bene giuen to Mardocheus therefore? Then saide the kings seruants that ministred vnto him, There is nothing at all done for him.

4 And the king said, Who is in the court? for Haman was come into the court without before the kings house, that hee might speake vnto the king to hang Mardocheus on the tree that hee had prepared for him.

5 And the kings seruants said vnto him, Behold, Haman standeth in the court. And the king said, Let him come in.

6 And when Haman came in, the king saide vnto him, What shall bee done vnto the man whom the king would faine bring vnto worship? (Haman thought in his heart, Whom desireth the king to bring vnto worship more then me?)

7 And Haman answered the king, Let the man whom the king pleaseth to bring vnto worship be brought hither,

8 That hee may bee arayed with the royall garments which the king vseth to weare, and the horse that the king rideth vpon, and that the crowne royall which is set vpon his head:

9 And let this rayment and horse bee deliuered vnder the hande of one of the kings most noble princes, that they may aray the man withall, whom the king is disposed to bring to honour, and cause him to ride vpon the horse through the streete of the citie, and proclaime before him, Thus shall it be done to the man whom the king pleaseth to bring to honour.

10 Then the king said to Haman, Make haste, and take as thou hast saide, the rayment and the horse, & doe euen so vnto Mardocheus the Iew, that sitteth before the kings gate: and let nothing faile of all that thou hast spoken.

11 Then tooke Haman the rayment, and the horse, & arayed Mardocheus, & brought him on horsebacke through the streete of the city, & proclaimed before him, Thus shall it bee done vnto the man whom the king is disposed to honour.

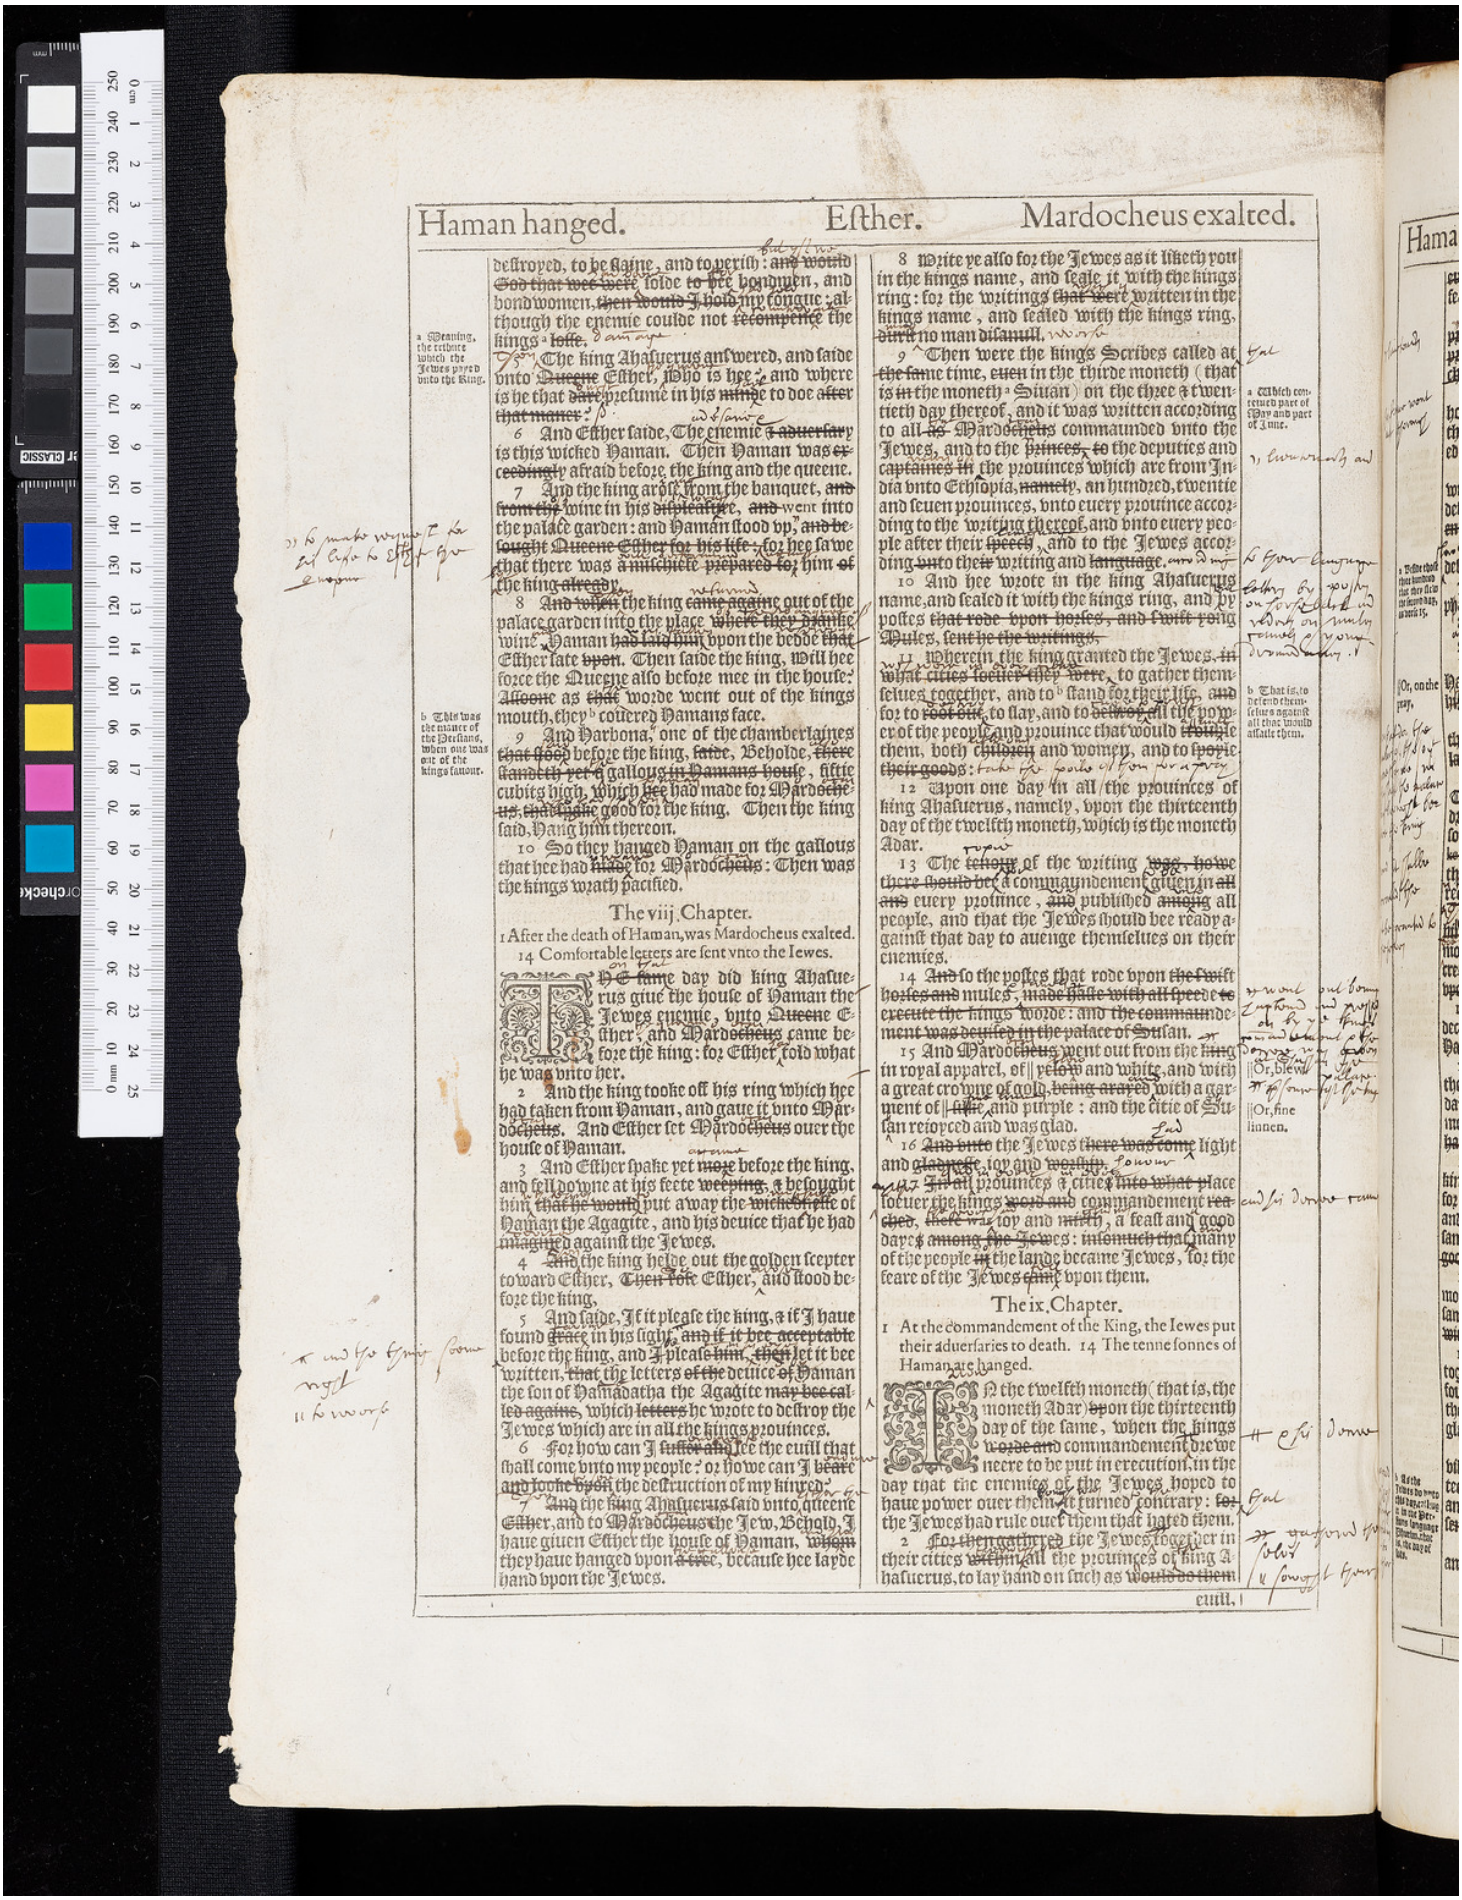
12 And Mardocheus came againe to the kings gate: but Haman gate him home in all the haste mourning, and his head couered:

13 And told Zares his wife, & all his friends, euery thing that had befallen him. Then saide his wise men, and Zares his wife vnto him, If it be Mardocheus of the seed of the Iewes, before whom thou hast begunne to fall, thou shalt not preuaile against him, but shalt surely a fall before him.

a Thus God sometime pureth in the mouth of the very wicked, to speake that thing which he hath decreed to come to passe.

14 And while they were yet talking with him, came the kings chamberlaines, and caused Haman to make haste to come vnto the banquet that Esther had prepared.

The vij. Chapter.



3 The Queene prayeth for her selfe, and her people. 6 She accuseth Haman, and hee is hanged on the gallous which he had prepared for Mardocheus.

AND the king and Haman came to banquet with Queene Esther.

2 And the king said againe vnto Esther on the second day at the banquet of wine, What is thy petition, Queene Esther, that it may be giuen thee: and what requirest thou? if it be euen to halfe of the Empire, it shalbe done.

3 Then Esther the Queene answered, and said, If I haue found grace in thy sight, O king, and if it please the king, then grant me my life at my desire, and my people for my petitions sake.

4 For wee are solde, I and my people, to bee destroyed, to be slaine, and to perish: and would God that wee were solde to bee bondmen, and bondwomen, then would I hold my tongue, although the enemie could not recompence the kings losse.

a Meaning, the tribute which the Iewes payed vnto the King.

7 Then the king Ahasuerus answered, and saide vnto Queene Esther, Who is hee? and where is he that dare presume in his minde to doe after that maner?

6 And Esther saide, The enemie & aduersary is this wicked Haman. Then Haman was exceedingly afraid before the king and the queene.

7 And the king arose from the banquet, and from the wine in his pallace, and went into the palace garden: and Haman stood vp, and besought Queene Esther for his life: for hee sawe that there was a mischiefe prepared for him of the king already.

8 And when the king came againe out of the palace garden into the place where they dranke wine, Haman had laid him vpon the bedde that Esther sate vpon. Then saide the king, Will hee force the Queene also before mee in the house? As soone as that worde went out of the kings mouth, they b couered Hamans face.

b This was the manner of the Persians, when one was out of the kings fauour.

9 And Harbona, one of the chamberlaines that good before the king, saide, Beholde, there standeth yet a gallowes in Hamans house, fifty cubits high, which hee had made for Mardocheus, that spake good for the king. Then the king said, Hang him thereon.

10 So they hanged Haman on the gallous that hee had made for Mardocheus: Then was the kings wrath pacified.

The viij. Chapter.

1 After the death of Haman, was Mardocheus exalted.
14 Comfortable letters are sent vnto the Iewes.

ON the same day did king Ahasuerus giue the house of Haman the Iewes enemie, vnto Queene Esther, and Mardocheus came before the king: for Esther told what he was vnto her.

2 And the king tooke off his ring which hee had taken from Haman, and gaue it vnto Mardocheus. And Esther set Mardocheus ouer the house of Haman.

3 And Esther spake yet more before the king, and fell downe at his feete weeping, & besought him, that he would put away the wicked malice of Haman the Agagite, and his deuice that he had imagined against the Iewes.

4 And the king held out the golden scepter toward Esther. Then rose Esther, and stood before the king,

5 And saide, If it please the king, & if I haue found grace in his sight, and if it bee acceptable before the king, and I please him, then let it bee written, that the letters of the deuice of Haman the son of Hamadatha the Agagite may bee called againe, which letters he wrote to destroy the Iewes which are in all the kings prouinces.

6 For how can I suffer and see the euill that shall come vnto my people? or how can I beare and see the destruction of my kinred?

7 Then the king Ahasuerus said vnto queene Esther, and to Mardocheus the Iew, Behold, I haue giuen Esther the house of Haman, whom they haue hanged vpon a tree, because hee layde hand vpon the Iewes.

8 Write ye also for the Iewes as it liketh you in the kings name, and seale it with the kings ring: for the writings that were written in the kings name, and sealed with the kings ring, durst no man disanull.

9 Then were the kings Scribes called at the same time, euen in the thirde moneth (that is in the moneth a Siuan) on the three & twentieth day thereof, and it was written according to all as Mardocheus commanded vnto the Iewes, and to the princes, & to the deputies and captaines in the prouinces which are from India vnto Ethiopia, namely, an hundred, twentie and seuen prouinces, vnto euery prouince according to the writing thereof, and vnto euery people after their speech, and to the Iewes according vnto their writing and language.

a Which containeth part of May and part of June.

10 And hee wrote in the king Ahasuerus name, and sealed it with the kings ring, and by postes that rode vpon horses, and swift ryding Mules, sent he the writings.

11 Wherein the king granted the Iewes, in what cities soeuer they were, to gather themselues together, and to b stand for their life, and for to roote out, to slay, and to destroy all the power of the people and prouince that would assaile them, both children and women, and to spoile their goods:

b That is, to defend themselues against all that would assaile them.

12 Vpon one day in all the prouinces of king Ahasuerus, namely, vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth, which is the moneth Adar.

13 The tenour of the writing was, howe there should bee a commaundement giuen in all and euery prouince, and published among all people, and that the Iewes should bee ready against that day to auenge themselues on their enemies.

14 And so the postes that rode vpon the swift horses and mules, made haste with all speede to execute the kings worde: and the commaundement was deuised in the palace of Susan.

15 And Mardocheus went out from the king in royal apparel, of || yelow and white, and with a great crowne of gold, being arayed with a garment of || fine and purple: and the citie of Susan reioyced and was glad.

|| Or, blew

|| Or, fine linnen.

16 And vnto the Iewes there was come light and gladnesse, ioy and worship.

17 And in all prouinces & cities, into what place soeuer the kings word and commandement reached, there was ioy and mirth, a feast and good day: & among the Iewes: insomuch that many of the people of the lande became Iewes, for the feare of the Iewes came vpon them.

The ix. Chapter.

1 At the commandement of the King, the Iewes put their aduersaries to death. 14 The tenne sonnes of Haman are hanged.

NOw in the twelfth moneth (that is, the moneth Adar) vpon the thirteenth day of the same, when the kings worde and commandement drew neere to be put in execution, in the day that the enemies of the Iewes hoped to haue power ouer them, it turned contrary: for the Iewes had rule ouer them that hated them.

2 For then gathered the Iewes together in their cities within all the prouinces of king Ahasuerus, to lay hand on such as would do them cull, and no man could withstand them: for the feare of them was come ouer all people.

3 And all the rulers in the prouinces, and princes, and deputies, and officers of the king, promoted the Iewes: for the feare of Mardocheus came vpon them.

4 For Mardocheus was great in the kings house, and the report of him was noysed in all the prouinces: for this man Mardocheus waxed greater and greater.

5 Thus the Iewes smote all their enemies with the stroke of the sword, and slaughter, and destruction, and did what they would vnto their enemies.

6 And at the palace of Sulan, the Iewes destroyed a fiue hundred men,

7 And slew Pharsandatha, Dalphon, Alphatha,

8 Phoratha, Adalia, Aridatha,

9 Pharmastha, Arisai, Ardai, & Vaizatha,

10 The tenne sonnes of Haman the sonne of Hamadatha, the enemie of the Iewes: but ‖on his goods they laid no hands.

‖Or, on the pray.

11 At the same time was the king certified of the number of those that were slaine in the palace of Sulan.

12 And the king sayde vnto Queene Esther, The Iewes haue slaine and destroyed fiue hundred men in the palace of Sulan, and the tenne sonnes of Haman: what haue they done thinke thou in other lands of the king? And what is thy petition, that it may be giuen thee: or what requirest thou more, to be done?

13 Esther answered, If it please the king, let him suffer the Iewes which are in Sulan, to doo w allso to do according vnto this dayes decree, that they may hang Hamans tenne sonnes vpon the tree.

14 And the king charged to doe so: and the decree was deuulged at Sulan, and they hanged Hamans ten sonnes.

15 For the Iewes that were in Sulan, gathered themselues together vpon the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar, and slue three hundred men at Sulan: but on their goods they layd no hands.

16 As for the other Iewes that were in the kings prouinces, they came together, and stood for their liues, and had rest from their enemies, and slew of their enemies seuenty and fiue thousand, howbeit, they layde no handes on their goods.

17 Thus they did on the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, and on the fourteenth day of the same moneth rested they, which day they helde with feasting and gladnesse.

18 But the Iewes that were at Sulan, came together, both on the thirteenth day, and on the fourteenth: and on the fifteenth day of the same they rested, and held that day with feasting and gladnesse.

19 And therefore the Iewes that dwelt in the villages, and vnwalled townes, held the fourteenth day of the moneth Adar with gladnesse and feasting, and b kept holy day, and euery one sent presents vnto his neighbour.

20 And Mardocheus wrote these wordes, and sent letters vnto all the Iewes that were in all the prouinces of king Ahasuerus, both nigh and farre:

21 That they should make a laye among themselues, and hold the fourteenth & fifteenth day of the moneth Adar yeerely, 22 As the dayes wherein the Iewes came to rest from their enemies, and as a moneth where in their paine was turned to ioy, and their sorow into a ioyfull day: and that in those dayes they should make feastes and gladnesse, and one to send gifts vnto an other, and to distribute vnto the poore.

23 And the Iewes promised to doe as they had begun, and as Mardocheus had written vnto them:

24 Because Haman the sonne of Hamadatha the Agagite, all the Iewes enemie, had deuised against the Iewes, how hee might destroy them, and cauled ‖ cast Phur, (that is, Lot) for to consume them, and to bring them to nought, 25 *But when Esther came before the king, he commaunded by letters, that his wicked deuice, which hee imagined against the Iewes, should be turned vpon his owne head, and that he and his sonnes should be hanged on the tree.

26 For the which cause they called these daies Phurim, because of the name of the lot. And because of all the words of this writing, and what they themselues had seene, and what had come vnto them:

27 And the Iewes ordained, & tooke it vpon them & their seed, & vpon al such as ioyned themselues vnto them, that they would not misse, but obserue these two daies yeerely according as they were written and appointed in their season,

28 And that these dayes are to be remembred, and to bee kept of children children among all kinreds in all lands and cities, in these dayes of Phurim, which are not to bee ouerslipt among the Iewes, and the memoriall of them ought not to perish from their seede.

29 And Queene Esther the daughter of Abihail, and Mardocheus the Iewe wrote with all authoritie to confirme this second writing of Phurim.

30 And he sent the letters vnto al the Iewes, to the hundred twentie and seuen prouinces of the empire of Ahasuerus, with wordes of peace and trueth:

31 To confirme these dayes of Phurim in their time appointed, according as Mardocheus the Iewe, and Esther the Queene had appointed them: and they bound their ‖ soule and their seed to fasting and prayer.

‖Or, selues.

32 And the decree of Esther confirmed these wordes of Phurim, & was written in the booke.

33 And the king Ahasuerus layd tribute vpon the land, and vpon the yles of the sea.

34 And all the actes of his power, and of his might, & the declaration of the dignitie of Mardocheus, where with the king magnified him, be they not written in the bookes of the Chronicles of the kings of Medes and Persia?

35 For Mardocheus the Iew was the second nert vnto king Ahasuerus, and great among the Iewes, and accepted among the multitude of his brethren, as one that seeketh the wealth of his people, & speaketh peaceably for all his seed.

a Beside those three hundred that they slew the second day, as verse 15.

The Booke of Iob.

The first Chapter.

1 The holinesse and riches of Iob, 5 the care of Iob for his children. 11 Satan hath permission to tempt him. 13 He tempteth him by taking away his substance, and his children. 20 His faith and patience.

THere in the lande of ~~Hus~~ there ~~was a man~~ whose name was [a] Iob, and ~~the same was a~~ perfect and ~~iust man~~, one that feared God, and eschewed euill.

2 And ~~hee had~~ seuen sonnes, [f] three daughters.

3 His substance also was seuen thousand sheepe, and three thousand camels, fiue hundred yoke of oxen, and fiue hundred shee asses, and a very great household: so that ~~hee was one of the most principall~~ [+] men ~~among all them of the~~ [b] East ~~country~~.

4 And his sonnes went and ~~banqueted~~ in their houses, euery one his day, and sent and called for their three sisters to eate and drinke with them.

5 And when the dayes of their ~~banquetting~~ were gone about, Iob sent and sanctified them, and ~~gate~~ vp earely, and offered ~~for euery one a whole~~ burnt offering: for Iob sayde, It may be that my sonnes haue ~~done some offence~~, [c] haue ~~beene vnthankefull to God~~ in their hearts. Thus did Iob ~~euery day~~.

6 ~~And vpon~~ a day when the [d] ~~children~~ of God came ~~and stood~~ before the Lorde, Satan came also among them.

7 And the Lord said vnto Satan, Whence commest thou? Satan answered the Lord, and said, From ~~compassing~~ the earth ~~to and fro~~, and from walking ~~through~~ it.

8 And the Lord said vnto Satan, Hast thou ~~not~~ considered my seruant Iob, ~~how~~ there is none like him in the earth: a perfect and a ~~iust~~ man, one that feareth God, and escheweth euil?

9 Satan answered, ~~and said vnto~~ the Lord, Doth Iob feare God for nought?

10 Hast not thou [+] ~~preserued~~ him, and his house, and all that he hath on euery side? thou hast blessed the worke of his hands, and his ~~possession~~ is increased in the land.

11 But ~~lay~~ thine hand now, ~~vpon him~~, and touch all that he hath, and he shall [f] curse thee to thy face.

12 And the Lorde sayde vnto Satan, ~~Loe~~, all that hee hath be in thy ‖ power, onely vpon himselfe ~~see that thou lay not~~ thine hand. ~~And~~ Satan went forth from the [g] presence of the Lord.

13 And ~~vpon a certaine~~ day when his sonnes and daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house,

14 There came a messenger vnto Iob, and sayd, The oxen were plowing, and the asses feeding beside them:

15 [h] And the Sabees ~~came violently~~ and tooke them away: yea, they haue slaine ~~the~~ seruants with the edge of the sword, and I onely am escaped alone to tell thee.

16 While he was yet speaking, there came another, and sayde, The fire of God is fallen from heauen, and hath burnt vp thy sheepe, and seruants, and consumed them, and I only am escaped alone to tell thee.

17 ~~And~~ while hee was yet speaking, there came an other, and said, The Chaldees made out three bands, and fell vpon the camels, and haue caried them away, yea, and slaine ~~the~~ seruants with the sword, and I onely am ~~gotten away~~ alone to tell thee.

18 ~~And~~ while he was yet speaking, there came another, and sayd, Thy sonnes and thy daughters were eating and drinking wine in their eldest brothers house, 19 And beholde, there came a ~~mightie~~ great wind from ~~beyond~~ the wildernesse, and smote the foure corners of the house, ~~which~~ fell vpon the children, and they are dead, and I am ~~gotten~~ away alone to tell thee.

20 Then Iob ~~stood vp~~, and [i] rent his ~~clothes~~, and shaued his head, fell down vpon the ground, and worshipped, 21 And sayde, *Naked came I out of my mothers wombe, and naked shall I turne [k] thither againe: the Lord gaue, and the Lord hath taken away, blessed be the Name of the Lord.

22 In al ~~these things did not~~ Iob ~~offend~~, nor charged God foolishly.

The ij. Chapter.

9 Iobs wife tempted him to forsake God. 11 His three friends visite him.

AND ~~on~~ a day, ~~the children~~ of God came ~~and stood~~ before the Lorde, & Satan came also among them, ~~and stood~~ before the Lord.

2 And the Lord said vnto Satan, from whence commest thou? Satan answered the Lorde, and sayd, I ~~haue gone about the land~~, and walked ~~through~~ it.

3 And the Lorde sayde vnto Satan, Hast thou ~~not~~ considered my seruant Iob? ~~how~~ there is none like ~~vnto~~ him in the earth, a perfect and a ~~iust man~~: one that feareth God, and escheweth euill, and ~~continueth~~ still in his ~~vprightnesse~~, although thou mouedst me against him, to destroy him [a] without cause.

4 And Satan answered the Lord, and said, [b] Skinne for skinne, yea, ~~a man will giue all that euer he hath for his life~~.

5 But ~~lay~~ thine hand now ~~vpon him~~, and touch his bone and his flesh, and hee ~~shall~~ curse thee to thy face.

6 And the Lord sayd vnto Satan, Loe, hee is thine hand, but saue his life.

7 So went Satan forth from the presence of the Lord, and smote Job with sore biles, 8 And he tooke a potsharde to scrape him: and he sate downe among the ashes.

9 Then sayd his wife vnto him, Doest thou continue yet in thy perfectnesse? curse God, and die.
10 But he sayd vnto her, Thou speakest like a foolish woman: shall we receiue good at the hand of God, and not receiue euill? In all these things did not Iob sinne with his lips.
11 Now when Iobs three friends heard of all the trouble that came vpon him, they came euery one from his owne place, namely, Eliphaz the Themanite, Bildad the Suhite, and Zophar the Naamathite: for they were agreed together, to come to bewaile and comfort him.
12 So when they lift vp their eyes afarre off, they knew him not: then they cryed, and wept, and euery one of them rent his clothes, & sprinkled dust vpon their heads toward heauen.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Iob complaineth, and curseth the day of his birth.
11 He desireth to die, as though death were the end of all mans miserie.

a That is, after the seuen dayes were fully finished.

Iere. 20. 14.

b He cursed not his day because he was weary of it as one desperate, but rather wishing to be dissolued, least by further troubles he should be forced to offend God.

After a this, opened Iob his mouth, and cursed his day.
2 And Iob answered, & sayd,
3 *Let the day perish wherein I was borne, b and the night in the which it was sayde, There is a man childe conceiued.
4 Let the same day be turned to darkenesse and not regarded of God from aboue, neither let the light shine vpon it.
5 But let it be stained with darkenesse and the shadow of death, let the dimme colde fall vpon it, which may make it terrible, as a most bitter day.
6 Let the darke night ouercome that night, and let it not bee ioyned vnto the dayes of the yere, nor counted in the number of the moneths.
7 Desolate be that night, and without gladnesse.
8 Let them that curse the day, and that bee readie to raise vp mourning, giue it also their curse.
9 Let the starres of that † night be dimme through darkenesse of it, let it looke for light, but haue none, c neither let it see the dawning of the day:
10 Because it shut not vp the doores of my mothers wombe, nor hid sorow from mine eyes.
11 Why dyed I not in the birth? why did not I perish as soone as I came out of the wombe?
12 Why set they the knee vpon their knees? why gaue they me suche with their breasts?
13 Then should I now haue lyen still † I should haue slept, and beene at rest, 14 With the kings and † lords of the earth, which haue builded themselues † desolate places:

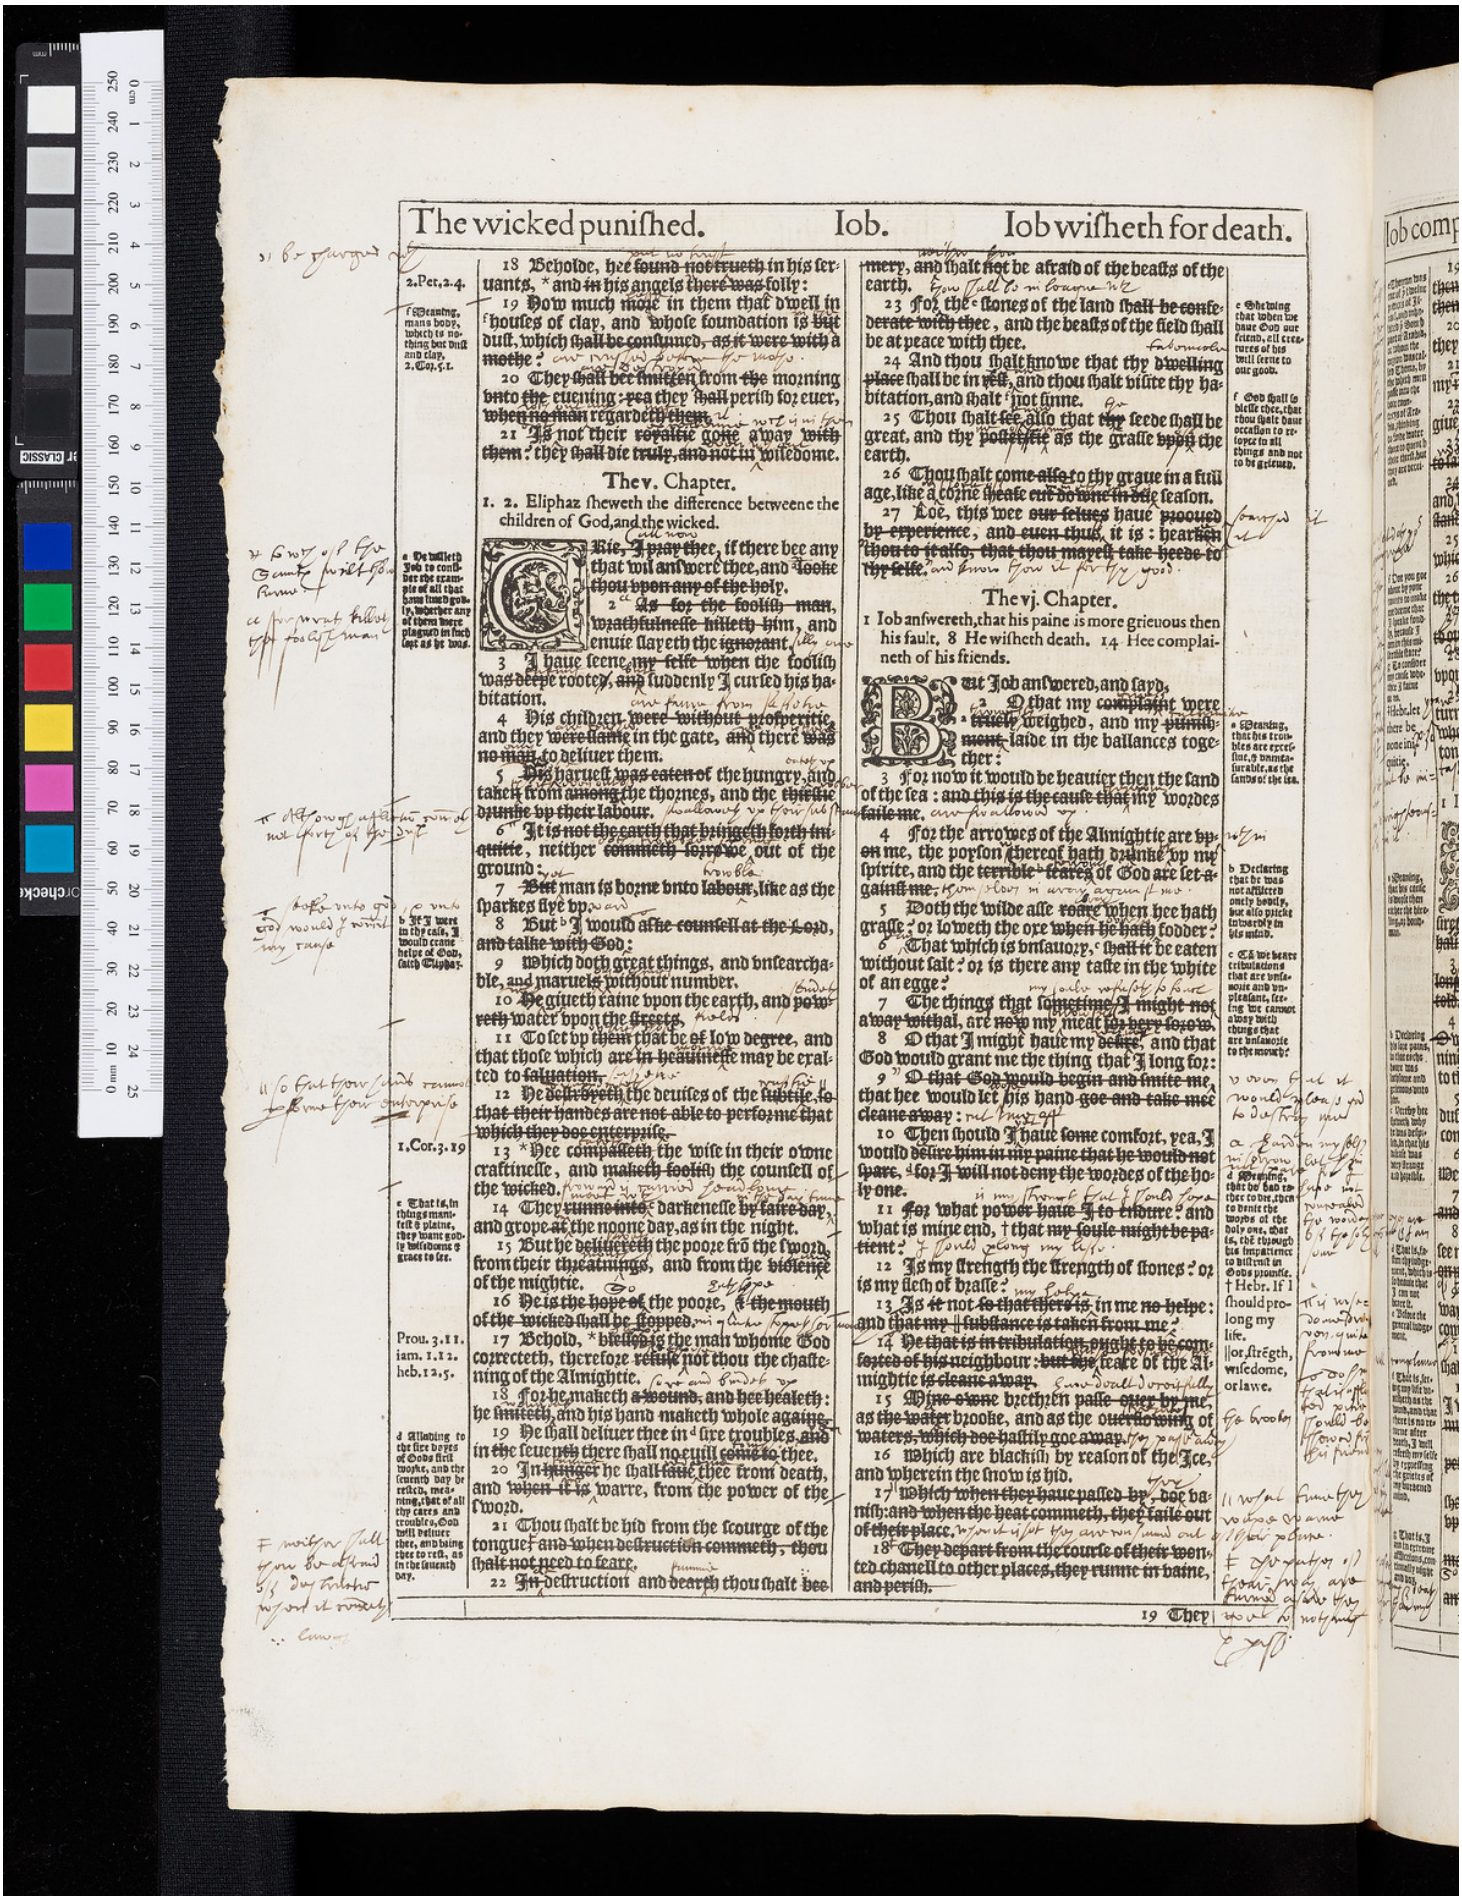
The iiij. Chapter.

5 Eliphaz blameth Iob for impatiencie, 7 vniustice, and for the presumption of his owne righteousnes.



Then Eliphaz the Themanite answered, and sayd,

The v. Chapter.

1. 2. Eliphaz sheweth the difference betweene the children of God, and the wicked.

CRie, I pray thee, if there bee any that will answere thee, and looke thou vpon any of the holy.
2 As for the foolish man, wrathfulnesse killeth him, and enuie slayeth the ignorant.
3 I haue seene, my selfe when the foolish was deepe rooted, and suddenly I cursed his habitation.
4 His children were without prosperitie, and they were daunted in the gate, and there was no man to deliuer them.
5 Whose harueste was eaten of the hungry, and taken from among the thornes, and the thirstie drunke vp their labour.
6 It is not the earth that bringeth forth iniquitie, neither commeth there out of the ground:
7 But man is borne vnto labour, like as the sparkes flye vp.
8 But I would aske counsell at the Lord, and talke with God:
9 Which doth great things, and vnsearchable, and maruels without number.
10 He giueth raine vpon the earth, and poureth water vpon the streets.
11 To set vp them that be of low degree, and that those which are in heauinesse may be exalted to saluation.
12 He destroyeth the deuises of the subtile, so that their handes are not able to performe that which they bee enterprised.
13 * Hee compasseth the wise in their owne craftinesse, and maketh foolish the counsell of the wicked.
14 They runne into darkenesse by faire day, and grope at the noone day, as in the night.
15 But he deliuereth the poore frō the sword, from their threatnings, and from the violence of the mightie.
16 So is the hope of the poore, & the mouth of the wicked shall be stopped.
17 Behold, * blessed is the man whome God correcteth, therefore refuse not thou the chastening of the Almightie.
18 For he maketh a wound, and bee healeth: he smiteth, and his hand maketh whole againe.
19 He shall deliuer thee in d fiue troubles, and in the seuenth there shall no euill come to thee.
20 In hunger he shall saue thee from death, and when it is warre, from the power of the sword.
21 Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue: and when destruction commeth, thou shalt not need to feare.
22 At destruction and dearth thou shalt bee merry, and shalt not be afraid of the beasts of the earth.
23 For the e stones of the land shall be confederate with thee, and the beasts of the field shall be at peace with thee.
24 And thou shalt know that thy dwelling place shall be in peace, and thou shalt visite thy habitation, and shalt not sinne.
25 Thou shalt see also that thy seede shall be great, and thy posteritie as the grasse vpon the earth.
26 Thou shalt come also to thy graue in a full age, like a corne heape cut downe in due season.
27 Loe, this wee our selues haue proued by experience, and euen thus it is: heare it thou to it also, that thou mayest take heede to thy selfe.

a He willeth Iob to consider the examples of all that haue liued godly, whether any of them were plagued in such sort as he was.

b If I were in thy case, I would crane helpe of God, saith Eliphaz.

c That is, in things manifest & plaine, they want godly wisdome & grace to see.

d Alluding to the fiue dayes of Gods first worke, and the seuenth day he rested, meaning, that of all thy cares and troubles, God will deliuer thee, and bring thee to rest, as in the seuenth day.

e Shewing that when we haue God our friend, all creatures of his will serue to our good.

f God shall so bleste thee, that thou shalt haue occasion to reioyce in all things and not to be grieued.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Iob answereth, that his paine is more grieuous then his fault. 8 He wisheth death. 14 Hee complaineth of his friends.

BVt Iob answered, and sayd,
2 O that my complaint were truely weighed, and my punishment laide in the ballances together:
3 For now it would be heauier then the sand of the sea: and this is the cause that my wordes faile me.
4 For the arrowes of the Almightie are vpon me, the poyson thereof hath drunke vp my spirite, and the terrible feares of God are set against me.
5 Doth the wilde asse roare when hee hath grasse? or loweth the oxe when he hath fodder?
6 That which is vnsauory, shall it be eaten without salt? or is there any taste in the white of an egge?
7 The things that sometime I might not awaye withal, are now my meate for very sorow.
8 O that I might haue my desire, and that God would grant me the thing that I long for:
9 O that God would begin and smite me, that hee would let his hand goe and take mee cleane away:
10 Then should I haue some comfort, yea, I would delire him in my paine that he would not spare. For I will not denye the wordes of the holy one.
11 For what power haue I to endure? and what is mine end, † that my soule might be patient?
12 Is my strength the strength of stones? or is my flesh of brasse?
13 Is it not so that there is in me no helpe: and that my ‖ substance is taken from me?
14 He that is in tribulation, ought to be comforted of his neighbour: but he forsaketh the feare of the Almightie is cleane away.
15 My brethren haue dealt deceitfully as the water brooke, and as the course of waters, which doe swiftly goe away.
16 Which are blackish by reason of the Ice, and wherein the snow is hid.
17 Which when they haue passed by, doe vanish: and when the heat commeth, they faile out of their place.
18 They depart from the course of their wonted chanell to other places, they runne in vaine, and perish.

a Shewing, that his troubles are exceeding, & vnmeasurable, as the sands of the sea.

b Declaring that he was not afflicted onely bodily, but also grieuously inwardly in his mind.

c That we hearte tribulations that are vnpleasant, seeing the contrary is very hard to be borne.

d Meaning, that he had rather to die, then to denie the wordes of the holy one, that is, the through his impatience to hinder the Gods promise.

19 They that went to Theman considered them, and they that went to Saba waited for them.

20 But they were confounded in their hope, they came thither, and were ashamed.

21 Euen such truely are ye, now that ye see my miserie ye are afraid.

22 Did I desire you to bring vnto mee, or to giue me any of your substance?

23 To deliuer mee from the enemies hand, or to raise me from the hand of the tyrants?

24 Teach mee, and I will holde my tongue: and wherein I haue erred, cause mee to vnderstand.

25 How strong are the words of trueth? and which of you can rebuke or reproue them?

26 Doe ye imagine to reproue words, that the talke of the afflicted should be as the wind?

27 Ye fall vpon the fatherlesse, and dig a pit to ouerthrow your owne friend.

28 And therefore be content, and looke now vpon me, and I will not lie before your face.

29 Turne I pray you, be indifferent iudges: turne againe, and reiudge my righteousnesse, whether there bee any vnrighteousnesse in my tongue, or vaine words in my mouth.

The vij. Chapter.

1 Iob sheweth the shortnes and misetie of mans life.

IS there not an appointed time to man vpon earth? are not his dayes also like the dayes of an hireseruant?

2 For like as a bondseruant desireth the shadow, & as an hireling would faine haue the reward of his worke:

3 Euen so haue I laboured whole moneths long in vaine, and many a carefull night haue I told.

4 When I lay me do wie to sleepe, I say, O when shall I arise? and tarrying the euening, I am euen full with tolling to and fro vnto the dawning of the day.

5 My flesh is clothed with wormes, and dust of the earth: my skinne is withered and become horrible.

6 My dayes passe quicker then a weauers shuttle, and are spent without hope.

7 O remember that my life is but a winde, and that mine eye shall no more see pleasures:

8 Yea, and the eye that hath seene mee, shall see me no more: for yet thou fastenest thine eye vpon me, I come to nought.

9 The cloude is consumed and vanished away: so he that goeth downe to the graue shall come no more vp,

10 No, turne againe into his house, neither shall his place know him any more.

11 Therefore I will not spare my mouth, but I will speake in the trouble of my spirit, and mute in the bitternesse of my mind.

12 Am I a sea, or a whale fish, that thou hedgest me in prison?

13 When I say, My bed shall comfort mee, I shall haue some refreshing by talking to my selfe vpon my couche:

14 Then fearest thou me with dreames, and makest me to afraid through visions, 15 That my soule wisheth rather to perish and die, then my bones to remaine.

16 I am wearie, I shall not liue alway:

17 What is man that thou dost magnifie him, & that thou settest thine heart vpon him?

18 Thou visitest him early and euery day, & tiest him to it dost thou trie him.

19 How long wilt thou not depart from mee, nor let me alone, so long till I may swallow downe my spettle?

20 I haue offended, what shal I do vnto thee, O thou preseruer of men? why hast thou set me as a marke against thee, so that I am a burden to my selfe?

21 Why doest thou not pardon my trespasse, and take away mine iniquitie? Behold, now shall I sleepe in the dust, and if thou seekest mee in the morning, I shall not be.

The viij. Chapter.

Bildad sheweth that Iob is a sinner, because God punisheth the wicked, and preserueth the good.

THen answered Bildad the Suhite, and sayd,

2 Howe long wilt thou talke of such things? howe long shall the wordes of thy mouth bee as a mighty winde?

3 Doth God peruert the thing that is lawfull? or doeth the Almighty destroy the thing that is right?

4 For seeing that thy sonnes sinned against him, did not he send them into the place of their iniquitie?

5 If thou wouldest now seeke vnto God betimes, and make thy prayer to the Almighty, 6 If thou wouldest liue pure and godly life: should not he awake vp vnto thee immediately, and make the habitation of thy righteousnes prosperous?

7 Insomuch, that wherein soeuer thou hadst little afore, thou shouldest haue now great abundance.

8 Enquire, I pray thee, of the former age, and search diligently among their fathers:

9 (For we are but of yesterday, and vnder not that our dayes vpon earth are but a shadow,)

10 Shall not they teache thee, and tell thee, and vtter the words of their heart?

11 May a rush grow without moisture? or may the grasse grow without water?

12 No, but whilest it is in his greennesse, though it be not cut downe, yet withereth it before any other herbe:

13 So are the pathes of all that forget God, and the hypocrites hope shall come to nought:

14 His confidence shall be destroyed, and his trust shall be a spiders webbe.

15 He shall leane vpon his house, but it shall not stand: he shall hold him fast by it, yet shall it not endure.

16 But the greene rose in the sunne shooteth foorth his branches in the garden.

17 The rootes thereof are wrapped about the stonie place, and are folden about the house of stones.

18 If any plucke it from his place, and it denie, saying, I haue not seene thee:

19 Behold, it will reioice by his meanes, if it may grow in another mould.

20 Behold, God will not cast away a perfect man, neither will he helpe the vngodly hand.

a Meaning, that his cause is worke then either the threshing, or boursman.

b Declaring his sore paines, in that eache houre was loathsome and grieuous vnto him.

c Hereby he sheweth why he was despised, in that his disease was very strange and horrible.

d That is, fasten thy iudgement, which is to beautie that I can not beare it.

e Before the generall iudgement.

f That is, forbeare my life wickedly as the wind, and that there is no returne after death, I will refresh my selfe by repeating the griefes of my burdened mind.

g That is, I am in extreme affections, continually night and day.

h O spare me then, for my dayes are but vanitie.

b Seeing I haue so little time to liue, giue me some rest.

i As though Iob had said, there is no cause why thou shouldest esteem man.

k Why doest thou not cease to punish me?

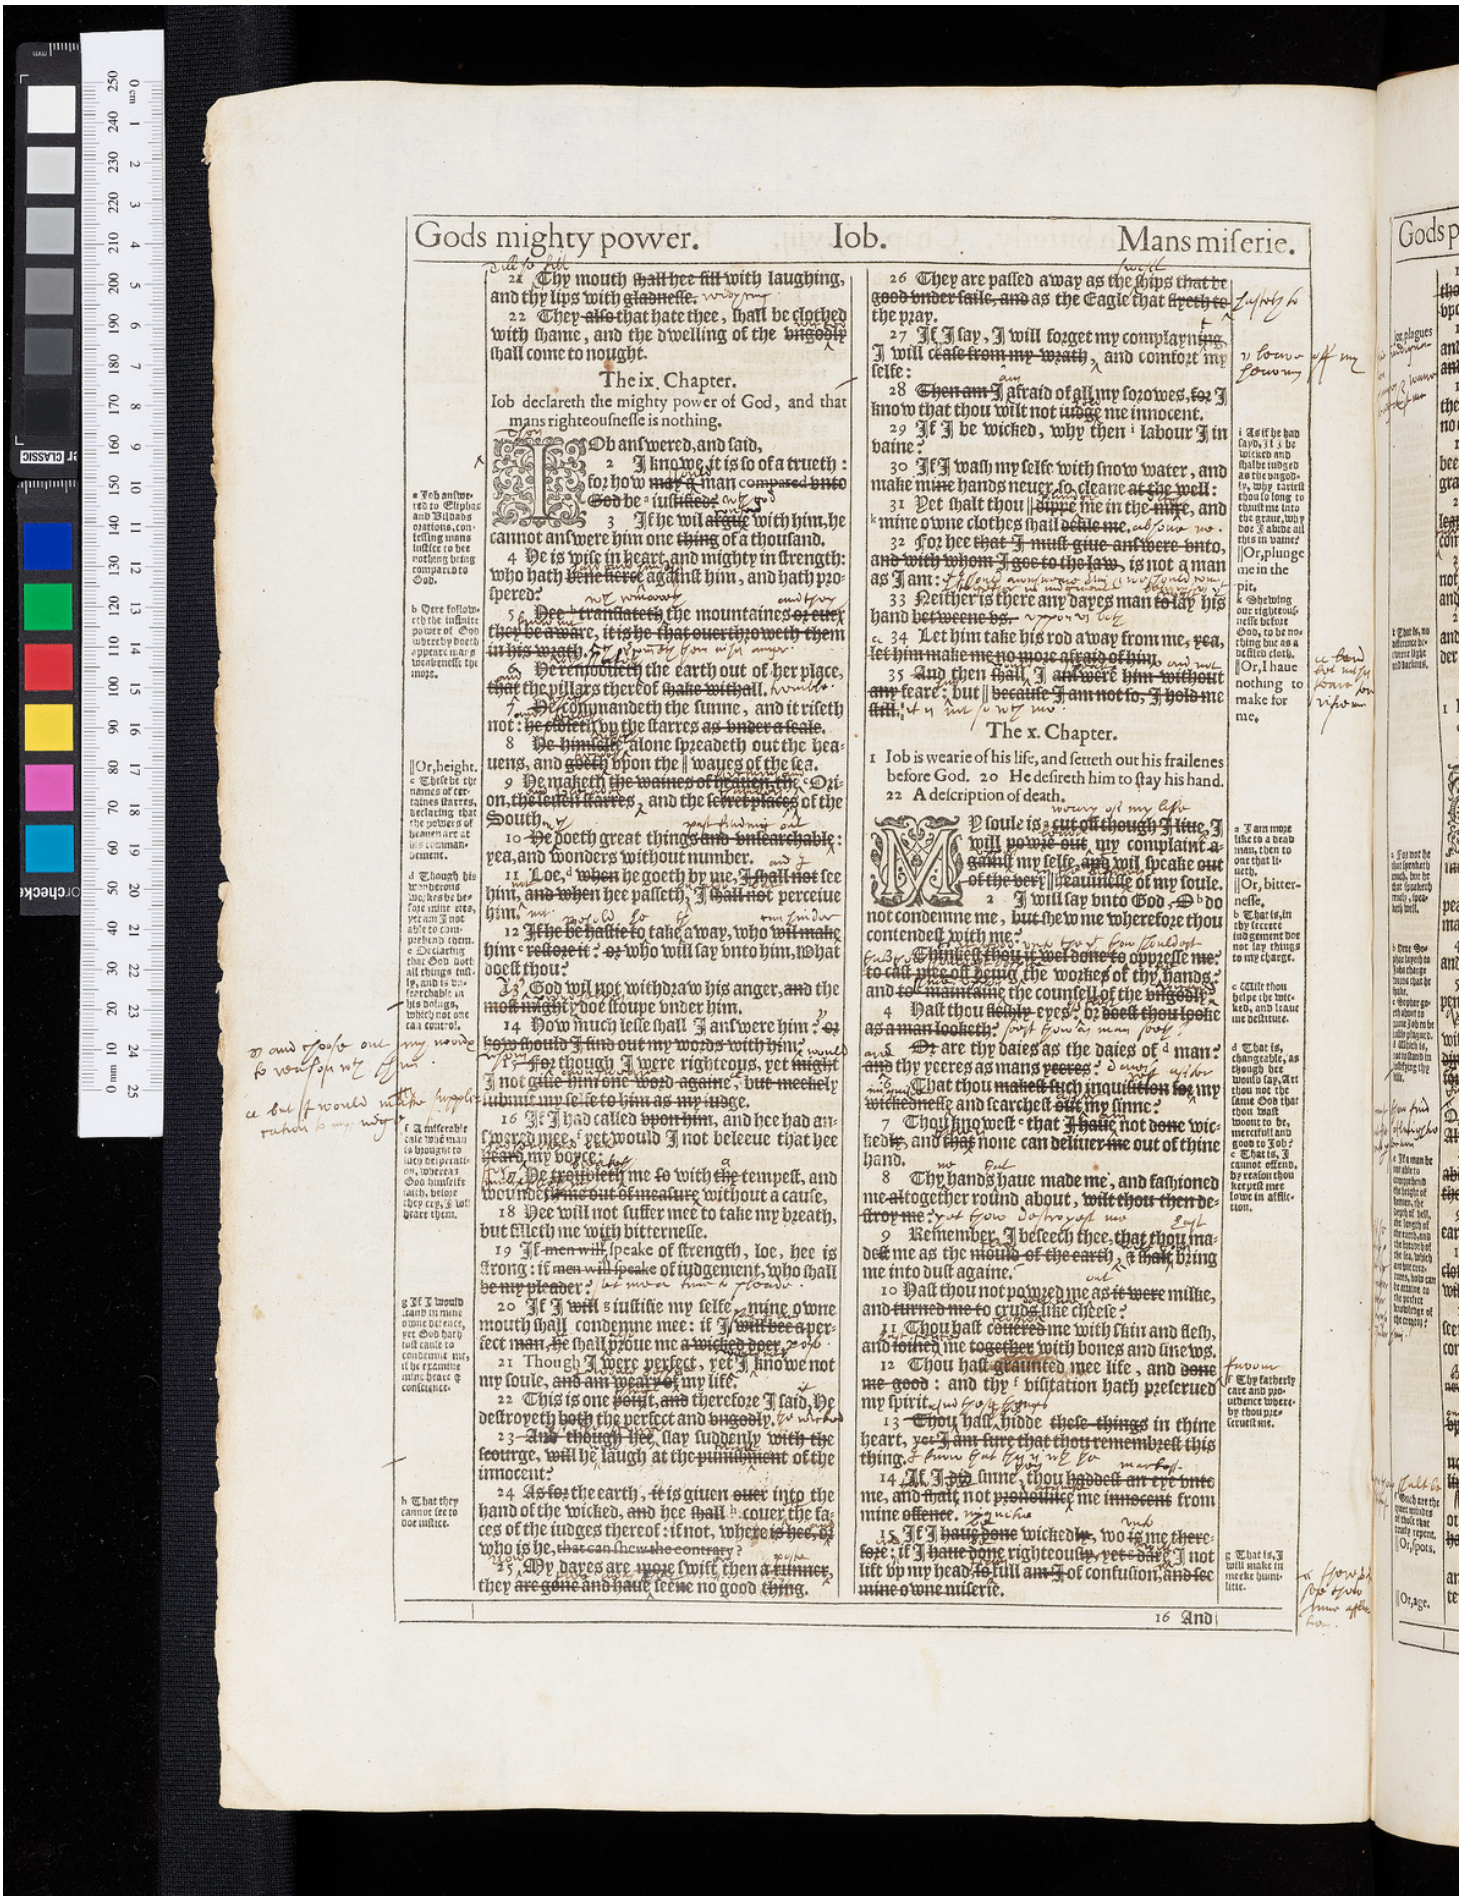
a He declareth that those words which will diminish any thing from the iustice of God, are but as a puffe of winde, that hasteth away.

b And there fore are sadly plagued, but thou rather art more bound to God, because he hath giuen thee space to repent.

c Here Bildad confirmeth his sayings by the authority of the fathers. Psal. 143. 4.

d That is, lately borne.

e Signifying, that as a rush without moisture cannot grow: so can not an euil man liue without repentance without Gods grace.



f Which is spun to day, and to morow swept away: whereto is likened the house of the wicked, his riches, and his substance.

22 They also that hate thee, shall be clothed with shame, and the dwelling of the vngodly shall come to nought.

The ix. Chapter.

Iob declareth the mighty power of God, and that mans righteousnesse is nothing.

IOb answered, and said,
2 I know it is so of a trueth: for how may a man compared vnto God be iustified?
3 If he wil argue with him, he cannot answere him one thing of a thousand.
4 He is wise in heart, and mighty in strength: who hath bene here against him, and hath prospered?
5 Hee translateth the mountaines or euer they be aware, it is he that ouerthroweth them in his wrath.
6 He remoueth the earth out of her place, that the pillars therof shake withall.
7 He commandeth the sunne, and it riseth not: he sealeth vp the starres as vnder a seale.
8 He himselfe alone spreadeth out the heauens, and goeth vpon the ‖ waues of the sea.
9 He maketh the waines of heauen, the c Ozion, the leuell starres, and the secret places of the South.
10 He doeth great things and vnsearchable: yea, and wonders without number.
11 Loe, d when he goeth by me, I shall not see him, and when hee passeth, I shall not perceiue him.
12 If he be hastie to take away, who will make him e restore it? or who will say vnto him, What doest thou?
13 God will not withdraw his anger, and the most mighty doe stoupe vnder him.
14 How much lesse shall I answere him? or how should I find out my words with him?
15 For though I were righteous, yet might I not giue him one word againe, but mechely submit my selfe to him as my iudge.
16 If I had called vpon him, and hee had answered mee, yet would I not beleeue that hee heard my voyce.
17 He troubleth me so with the tempest, and wounded me out of measure without a cause.
18 Hee will not suffer mee to take my breath, but filleth me with bitternesse.
19 If men will speake of strength, loe, hee is strong: if men will speake of iudgement, who shall be my pleader?
20 If I will iustifie my selfe, mine owne mouth shall condemne mee: if I will bee a perfect man, he shall proue me a wicked doer.
21 Though I were perfect, yet I know not my soule, and am weary of my life.
22 This is one point, and therefore I said, He destroyeth both the perfect and vngodly.
23 And though hee slay suddenly with the scourge, will he laugh at the punishment of the innocent?
24 As for the earth, it is giuen ouer into the hand of the wicked, and hee shall h couer the faces of the iudges thereof: if not, where is hee, or who is he, that can shew the contrary?
25 My dayes are more swift then a runner, they are gone and haue seene no good thing.
26 They are passed away as the ships that are good vnder saile, and as the Eagle that flieth to the pray.
27 If I say, I will forget my complaynt, I will cease from my wrath, and comfort my selfe:
28 Then am I afraid of all my sorowes, for I know that thou wilt not iudge me innocent.
29 If I be wicked, why then i labour I in vaine?
30 If I wash my selfe with snow water, and make mine hands neuer so cleane at the well:
31 Yet shalt thou ‖ dippe me in the mire, and k mine owne clothes shall abhorre me.
32 For hee that I must giue answere vnto, and with whom I goe to the law, is not a man as I am:
33 Neither is there any dayes man to lay his hand betweene vs.
c 34 Let him take his rod away from me, yea, let him make me no more afraid of him.
35 And then shall I answere him without any feare: but ‖ because I am not so, I hold me still.

The x. Chapter.

1 Iob is wearie of his life, and setteth out his frailenes before God. 20 He desireth him to stay his hand. 22 A description of death.

MY soule is a cut off though I liue, I will powre out my complaint a gainst my selfe, and will speake out of the bet ‖ teanitie of my soule.
2 I will say vnto God, D do not condemne me, but shew me wherefore thou contendest with me.
3 Thinkest thou it wel done to oppresse me: to cast mee off being the workes of thy hands, and to maintaine the counsell of the vngodly?
4 Hast thou fleshly eyes? or doest thou spie as a man looketh?
5 Or are thy daies as the daies of d man: and thy yeeres as mans yeeres?
6 That thou makest such inquisition for my wickednesse and searchest out my sinne?
7 Thou knowest that I haue not done wickedly, and that none can deliuer me out of thine hand.
8 Thy hands haue made me, and fashioned me altogether round about, wilt thou then destroy me?
9 Remember, I beseech thee, that thou madest me as the mould of the earth, e and bring me into dust againe.
10 Hast thou not powred me as it were milke, and turned me to grudds like cheese?
11 Thou hast couered me with skin and flesh, and ioined me together with bones and sinewes.
12 Thou hast graunted mee life, and done me good: and thy f visitation hath preserued my spirit.
13 Thou hast hidde these things in thine heart, yet I am sure that thou remembrest this thing.
14 If I sin, thou beholdest an eye vnto me, and wilt not pronounce me innocent from mine offence.
15 If I haue bene wicked, wo is me therefore: if I haue done righteously, yet dare I not lift vp my head, so full am I of confusion, and see mine owne miserie.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Iob is vniustly blamed of Sophar, 7 The maiestie of God cannot be searched. 14 God is mercifull to the repentant. 18 The godly liue in safetie.

Then answered Sophar the Naamathite, and said,
2 Should not he that maketh many words be answered? should he that [a] babbleth much be counted therein?
3 Should thy lies make men holde their peace? and when thou mockest others shall no man make thee ashamed?
4 For thou hast said, [b] my doctrine is pure, and I am cleane in thine eyes.
5 But O [c] that God would speake, and open his lips against thee,
6 That he might shew thee the [d] secrets of wisedome, how thou hast [e] double, according to right: know therefore that God hath [f] forgotten of thee for thine iniquitie.
7 Canst thou [g] find out the secrets of God? canst thou attaine to the perfectnesse of the Almightie?
8 He is [h] higher then heauen, what canst thou doe? deeper then the hell, how wilt thou then know him?
9 The measure of him is longer then the earth, and broader then the sea.
10 Though he turne all things vpside downe, close them in, and gather them together, who will turne him from his purpose?
11 For he it is that knoweth vaine men, he seeth their wickednesse also, should he not then consider it?
12 For vaine man would be wise though man new borne, is like a wilde asses colt.
13 If thou prepare thine heart, and stretch vp thine hands toward him:
14 If thou wouldest put away the wickednesse which thou hast in hand, and that no vngodlinesse dwell in thine house:
15 Then mightest thou lift vp thy face without [i] blame, and then shouldest thou be sure, and nede not feare.
16 Then shouldest thou forget thy miserie, and thinke no more vpon it as vpon the waters which passe by.
17 Then should thy [l] life be as cleere as the noone day, thou shouldest shine forth, and be as the morning.
18 Then mightest thou be bold, because there is hope, and take thy rest quietly, as compassed with a trench.
19 Then mightest thou lie downe, and none [m] make thee afraid, yea, many one [n] sue vnto thee.
20 But the eyes of the vngodly, they shall faile, and they shall not escape, and their hope shalbe [o] as a giuing vp of the ghost.

[b] Here Sophar layeth to Iobs charge words that he spake.
[c] Sophar goeth about to proue Iob to be sadly plagued.
[d] Which is, nor to dauntin vnsatisfying thy selfe.
[e] If a man be not able to comprehend the height of heauen, the depth of hell, the length of the earth, and the breadth of the sea, which are but creatures, how can he attaine to the perfect knowledge of the creator?

1 Iob accuseth his friends of ignorance. 7 He declareth the might and power of God. 17 And how God changeth the course of things.

Then Iob answered, and said,
2 No doubt, yee are the people, and [a] wisedome shall perish with you.
3 But I haue [‡] vnderstanding as well as you, and am not inferiour to you: yea, who knoweth not such things?
4 *I am as one mocked of his neighbour, who calleth vpon God, and he heareth him: the iust and vpright is laughed to scorne.

15 Behold, if he withhold the waters, they dry vp: if he let them goe, they destroy the earth.

The xiij. Chapter.

20 Iob prayeth vnto God that he would not handle him rigorously.

LO, a all this haue I seene with mine eye, heard with mine eare, and vnderstand it.

2 What ye know, that same doe I know also, neither am I inferiour vnto you.

3 Neuertheless, I talke with the almighty, and my desire is to commune with God.

4 As for you, ye are workmasters of lies, and vnprofitable physicians altogether.

5 Would God you kept your tongue, for then might ye be taken for wise men.

6 Now heare my reasoning, and ponder the arguments of my lips.

7 Will you speake c wickedly for Gods defence, and talke deceitfully for his cause?

8 Will ye accept the person of him? or will ye contend for God?

9 Shal that helpe you when he calleth you to rechoning? or as one man mocketh another, do ye so mocke him?

10 He shall surely reproue you, if ye do secretly accept any person.

11 Shal not his excellency make you afraid? shall not his feare fall vpon you?

12 Your d remembrance is like vnto dust, and your bodies like the clay.

13 Hold your tongues before me, that I may speake, and let come on me what will.

14 Wherefore doe I teare my flesh with my teeth, and e put my soule in mine hands?

15 Loe, though he slay me, yet will I trust in him: but I will reproue mine owne wayes in his sight.

16 He shalbe my saluation: for there may no hypocrite come before him.

17 Heare diligently my wordes, and ponder my sayings with your eares.

18 Beyold, now haue I prepared my iudgement, f I know that I shalbe found righteous.

19 What is he that will goe to law with me? If I now hold my tongue, I die.

20 Neuertheless, doe not these two things vnto me, and then will I not hide my selfe from thee:

21 Withdraw thine hand farre from me, and let not thy feareful dread of thee make me afraid.

22 Then call, and I will answere: or let me speake, and giue thou me an answere.

23 How many are my misdeedes and sinnes? let me know my transgressions and offences.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face, and holdest me for thine enemie?

25 Wilt thou breake a leafe driuen to and fro, and wilt thou pursue the drie stubble?

26 For thou writest harpely to my charge, and punishest me for the sinnes of my youth.

27 Thou puttest my feete also in the h stocks, and lookest narrowly vnto all my pathes, and markest the print thereof in the heeles of my feete:

28 And I, as a rotten thing doe consume away, as a garment that is moth eaten.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 Iob describeth the shortnesse and miserie of the life of man. 14 Hope susteineth the godly. 22 The condition of mans life.

MAn that is borne of a woman, hath but a short time to liue, and is full of miserie.

2 He commeth vp, and is cut downe a like a flowre: he fleeth as it were a shadow, and continueth not.

3 Doest thou b open thine eyes vpon such one, and bringest me into thy iudgement?

4 Who can make it cleane that commeth of an vncleane thing? no bodie.

5 The dayes of man surely are determined, the number of his moneths are knowen onely vnto thee, thou hast appointed him his bounds which he cannot goe beyond.

6 Doe from him, that he may rest, vntill his day c come which he looketh for, like as an hireling doeth.

7 For if a tree be cut downe, there is some hope yet that it will sprout, and shoote forth the branches againe.

8 Though the roote of it be waxen olde in the earth, and the stocke thereof be dead in the ground:

9 Yet when it getteth the sent of water, it will bud and bring forth boughs, like as a tree that is planted.

10 d But as for man, when he is dead, perished, and consumed away, what becommeth of him?

11 As the waters passe from the sea, and as the flood decayeth and driyeth vp:

12 So man after he is aslepe riseth not, he shall not wake till the heauens be no more, nor rise out of his sleepe.

13 O that thou wouldest hide mee in the graue, and keepe me secrete, vntill thy wrath were past, and set e appoint mee a time wherein thou mightest remember me.

14 Dare a dead man liue againe? All the dayes of my warfare will I waite still, till my changing shall come.

15 Thou shalt c call me, and I shall answere thee, || delight not thou the worke of thine owne hands.

16 For now thou f numbrest all my goings, and giuest no delay vnto my sinne.

17 Mine iniquitie is sealed vp as it were in a g bagge, and thou addest punishment vnto my wickednesse.

18 The mountaines fall away at the last, the rockes are remooued out of their place.

19 The waters pearce through the very stones by little and little, the floods wash away the grauell and earth: so shalt thou destroy the hope of man.

20 Thou preuailest still against him, so that he passeth away: thou changest his || estate, and puttest him from thee.

21 And whether his children come to worship or no, he cannot tell: and if they be men of low degree, he knoweth not.

22 But while his h flesh is vpon him, it shall haue sorrow: and his soule shall mourne within him.

a Meaning, I know the power of God as well as you.

b That is, you are vnmeete for my disease, which seek not the medicine to cure it, but rather to encrease it, with your lies, and tales to trouble me.

c Marke what I shall lay against you, for I blame you not in that yee declare Gods power, but because you take a cauill & humane iustice to be in him: and so of true things yee conclude lyes.

d Your fame shall come to nothing.

e That is, sore vexe and torment my selfe as though I should rent and teare my flesh with teeth.

f That is, to set my life in dangers.

g Here it appeareth that Iobs trust and hope in God was not all perfect, discharging himselfe of hypocrisie wherewith they charged him.

h That is, not condemned for my sinnes, as you doe reason.

i To proue that God plagueth me for mine offences.

a Tbis expresseth manshortnesse of life, and the vnstablenes thereof, being compared to a flowre, to a shadow, and to the grasse in the field.

b Meaning, that seeing man is so fraile, he should not handle him so extremely.

c That is, death which he desireth as the hyreling waiteth in the end of his labour to receiue his wages.

d Iob saith not this as hauing no hope of immortalitie, but as one sore tormented.

e Thou plagueest me now, yet when thou shalt call me vp at doomes day, I shall answere thee, for thou art merciful.

|| Or, thou shalt loue.

f That is, thou hast all my deedes numbred, spare me therefore.

g Thou keepest all my sinnes in store, and sufferest none vnpunished.

h Whilst he liueth.

The xv. Chapter.

Eliphas blameth Iob, because he challengeth wisedome and pureneſſe to himſelfe.

Then answered Eliphas the Themanite, and ſaid,
2 Shall a wiſe man anſwere as the winde, and fill his belly with the [a] winde of the Eaſt?

f Which hath a better diſpoſition as he that is thirſtie to drinke.
g Here he preacteth certain places of the Leuitical law for his purpoſe, which in deede the fathers ſo ſpake, but did not vnderſtand them, as Elyphas did.
h That is, out of the troubles and feares which fall vpon him.
i That is, abundance of riches hath made him ſo proude, that he forgetteth God.
k That is, he ſhall haue no certaine and ſure place to dwell in.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 Iob moued by the importunacie of his friends, 7 counteth in what extremitie he is, 19 and taketh God to witneſſe of his innocencie.

Then Iob anſwered, and ſaid,
2 I haue often time heard ſuch things: a miſerable [a] comfort are ye, all the ſort of you.
3 ‖ Shall not vaine words come yet to an end? or what maketh thee bolde to anſwere?

The xvij. Chapter.

1 Iob saith that he consumeth away, and yet doth patiently abide it. 10 Hee exhorteth his friends to repentance, 13 shewing that he looketh but for death.

MY breath is corrupt, my daies are shortened, I am hard at deathes doore.
2 Forward men are with me, and mine eye must continue in the bitternesse of them.
3 O deliuer me, and a looke out one to be my suretie in thy sight; what is hee that knoweth who will promise for me?
4 For thou hast withholden their heartes b from vnderstanding, therefore shalt thou not set them vp on high.
5 He that speaketh flatterie to his friend, the eies of his children shall faile.
6 He hath made me c by word of the people, where as afore I was their ‖ ioy.
7 Mine eye is dimme for very heauinesse, and all my strength is like a shadow.
8 Vpright men therefore shall wel consider this, and the innocent shall take part against the hypocrite.
9 The righteous also will d keepe his way, and he that hath cleane hands will bee stronger and stronger.
10 As for all you, turne you, and ‖ get you hence, I pray you, seeing I cannot finde one wise man among you.
11 My dayes are past, and my counsailes and thoughtes of my heart are vanished away.
12 Changing the night into day, and the light approching into darkenesse.
13 Though I tarrie neuer so much, yet the graue is my house, and I haue made my bed in the darke.
14 I said to corruption, Thou art my father: and to the wormes, Ye are my mother, and my sister.
15 Where is then now my hope? e who hath considered the thing that I looked for? My hope shall goe downe with mee into the pit, and lye with me in the dust.

a In all Iobs extreme afflictions, yet this one made the rest most grieuous, that they that should chearefully comfort him, did cruelly vexe him and mocke him.
b That is, make promise with me, O God, that I may talke with thee, for I will not reason with them, for they are fooles.
c That they cannot vnderstand the cause of my punishment: but iudge me wicked, not knowing the wilsome, whereby thou doest afflict thy righteous.
‖ Or, tabret.
d Though the godly see themselues afflicted of God as the wicked are, yet they despaire not, knowing that the iust also are punished for the proofe of them.
‖ Or, come nowe.
e Seeing I am but corruption.

The xviij. Chapter.

1 Bildad rehearseth the paines of the vnfaithfull, and wicked.

THen answered Bildad the Shuhite, and said,
2 When will ye make an end of your wordes? Marke well, and then we will speake.
3 Wherefore are we counted as beasts, and reputed so vile in your sight?
4 He destroyeth himself with his anger: shal the earth be forsaken, or any stone remoued out of his place?
5 Yea the light of the a wicked shall bee put out, and the sparke of his fire shall not shine.
6 The b light shall be darke in his dwelling, and his candle shall be put out with him.
7 The steppes of his strength shall bee restrained, and his owne counsell shall cast him downe:
8 For his feete are taken as it were in the net, and he walketh vpon the snares.
9 a The grinne shal take him by the heele, and the thirstie of bloud shall catch him.
10 The snare is layd for him in the ground, and a trap for him in the way.
11 Feare shall make him afraid on euery side, and shall driue him to his feete.
12 c Hunger shall be his strength, and destruction shall be ready at his side.
13 Hee shall eate the strength of his owne skinne, euen the first borne of death shall eate his strength.
14 His hope shall bee rooted out of his dwelling, and shall bring him to the c king of feare.
15 Other men shall dwell in his house, and it shall be none of his, and brimstone shall be scattered vpon his habitation.
16 His rootes shall be dried vp beneath, and aboue shal his branch be cut downe.
17 His remembrance shall perish from the earth, and he shall haue no name in the streete.
18 They shall driue him from the light into darknesse, and chase him cleane out of the world.
19 He shall neither haue ‖ children nor nephewes among his people, nor any remaine in his dwellings.
20 They that come after him shal be astonied at his day, as ‖ they that goe before shall bee afraid.
21 Such are the dwellings of the wicked, and this is the place of him that knoweth not God.

a That is, shal God change the accidents and order of his operation to thee: and not afflict the wicked as he doth vs.
b His wife downe shall perish, and from this place vnto the ende of the Chapter, Bildad goeth about to proue Iob wicked, because God plagueth him as he doth the wicked man.
a That is, the wicked shall be destroyed with sodaine destruction, as it is in the 73. psalme.
b His willsome shall perish, and from this place vnto the ende of the Chapter, Bildad goeth about to proue Iob wicked, because God plagueth him as he doth the wicked man.
c That is, he shall not attaine to that which he desireth, for all his power and might shalbe taken away by hunger.
d Meaning, the vngodly shalbe the destruction of the strength of his owne skinne, that is of his children and posteritie.

27 Whom I my selfe shall see, and mine eyes shal behold, and none other for me: this my hope is laid vp in my bosome.

28 But ye said, Why is he persecuted? and there was a deepe matter in me.

29 h But be ware of the sworde: for the sword will be auenged of wickednes, and be sure that there is a iudgement.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Sophar sheweth that the wicked and the couetous shall haue a short end, 22 though for a time they florish.

Then answered Sophar the Naamathite, and said,

2 For the same cause doe a my thoughts compell me to answere, and therefore make haste.

a Because Iob bragged of his innocencie (as they thought) Sophar interrupted his talk, as though he boasted in vaine, for that God accepteth none but the repentant sinner.

3 I haue sufficiently heard the b checking of my reproofe, therefore the spirit of my vnderstanding causeth me to answere.

b For two causes Sophar spake: one, because Iob in answering touched him: and for that he deemed his knowledge sufficient to answere againe.

4 Know'est thou not this of olde, and since God placed man vpon earth, c Sophar enterest the end of this Chapter, alleageth true sentences: but he erreth, in that he thought Iob for impietie and hypocrisie to bee plagued.

5 c That the gladnesse of the vngodly hath bene short, and that the ioy of hypocrites continued but the twinckling of an eye?

6 Though he be magnified vp to the heauen, so that his head reacheth vnto the cloudes:

7 Yet he perisheth for euer like his dung, in so much that they which haue seene him, shal say, Where is hee?

8 He shall vanish as a dreame, so that he can no more be found, and shall passe away as a vision in the night.

9 So that the eye which saw him before shall haue no more sight of him, and his place shall ‖ know him no more.

‖ Or, see.

10 His children shall please the poore, and his hands shall restore their goods.

11 From his youth his bones are full of sinnes, which shall lie downe with him in the ‖ earth.

‖ Or, dust.

12 When wickednesse was sweete in his mouth, he hid it vnder his tongue.

13 That he fauoured, that would he not forsake, but kept it close in his throate.

14 The bread that hee did eate, is turned to the poison of serpents within his body.

15 The riches that he deuoured shall he parbreake againe: for God shall driue them out of his belly.

16 He shall sucke the gall of serpents, and the adders tongue shall slay him:

17 So that he shal no more see the riuers and broodes of honie and butter.

18 The thing that he hath laboured for, shall he restore, and d shall not eate of it: great trauaile shall hee make for riches, but he shall not enioy them, d For euil gotten goods God will soone take away, and restore to them from whome they were craftily spoyled and rauened.

19 Because hee hath oppressed the poore, and not helped them: houses hath he spoiled, and not builded them.

20 *Because he could not perceiue when his belly was well, through his greedie delire, hee shall not escape.

Eccles. 5. 12

21 There e shall none of his meate bee left, therefore shall no man looke for his goods.

e That is, his deeres and couetous shall gape in vaine.

22 When he had plentifoulnes of euery thing, yet was he poore, though he was helped on euerie side.

23 And it shall come to passe, that where with he purposed to fill his belly, God shall powre the furie of his wrath thereon, and shall cause his indignation to reigne vpon him, and vpon his meate.

24 Hee shall flee from the iron weapon, and the bow of steele shall strike him thorow.

25 The sword is drawen out, and goeth thorow the body, and glittereth of his gall: so feare shall come vpon him.

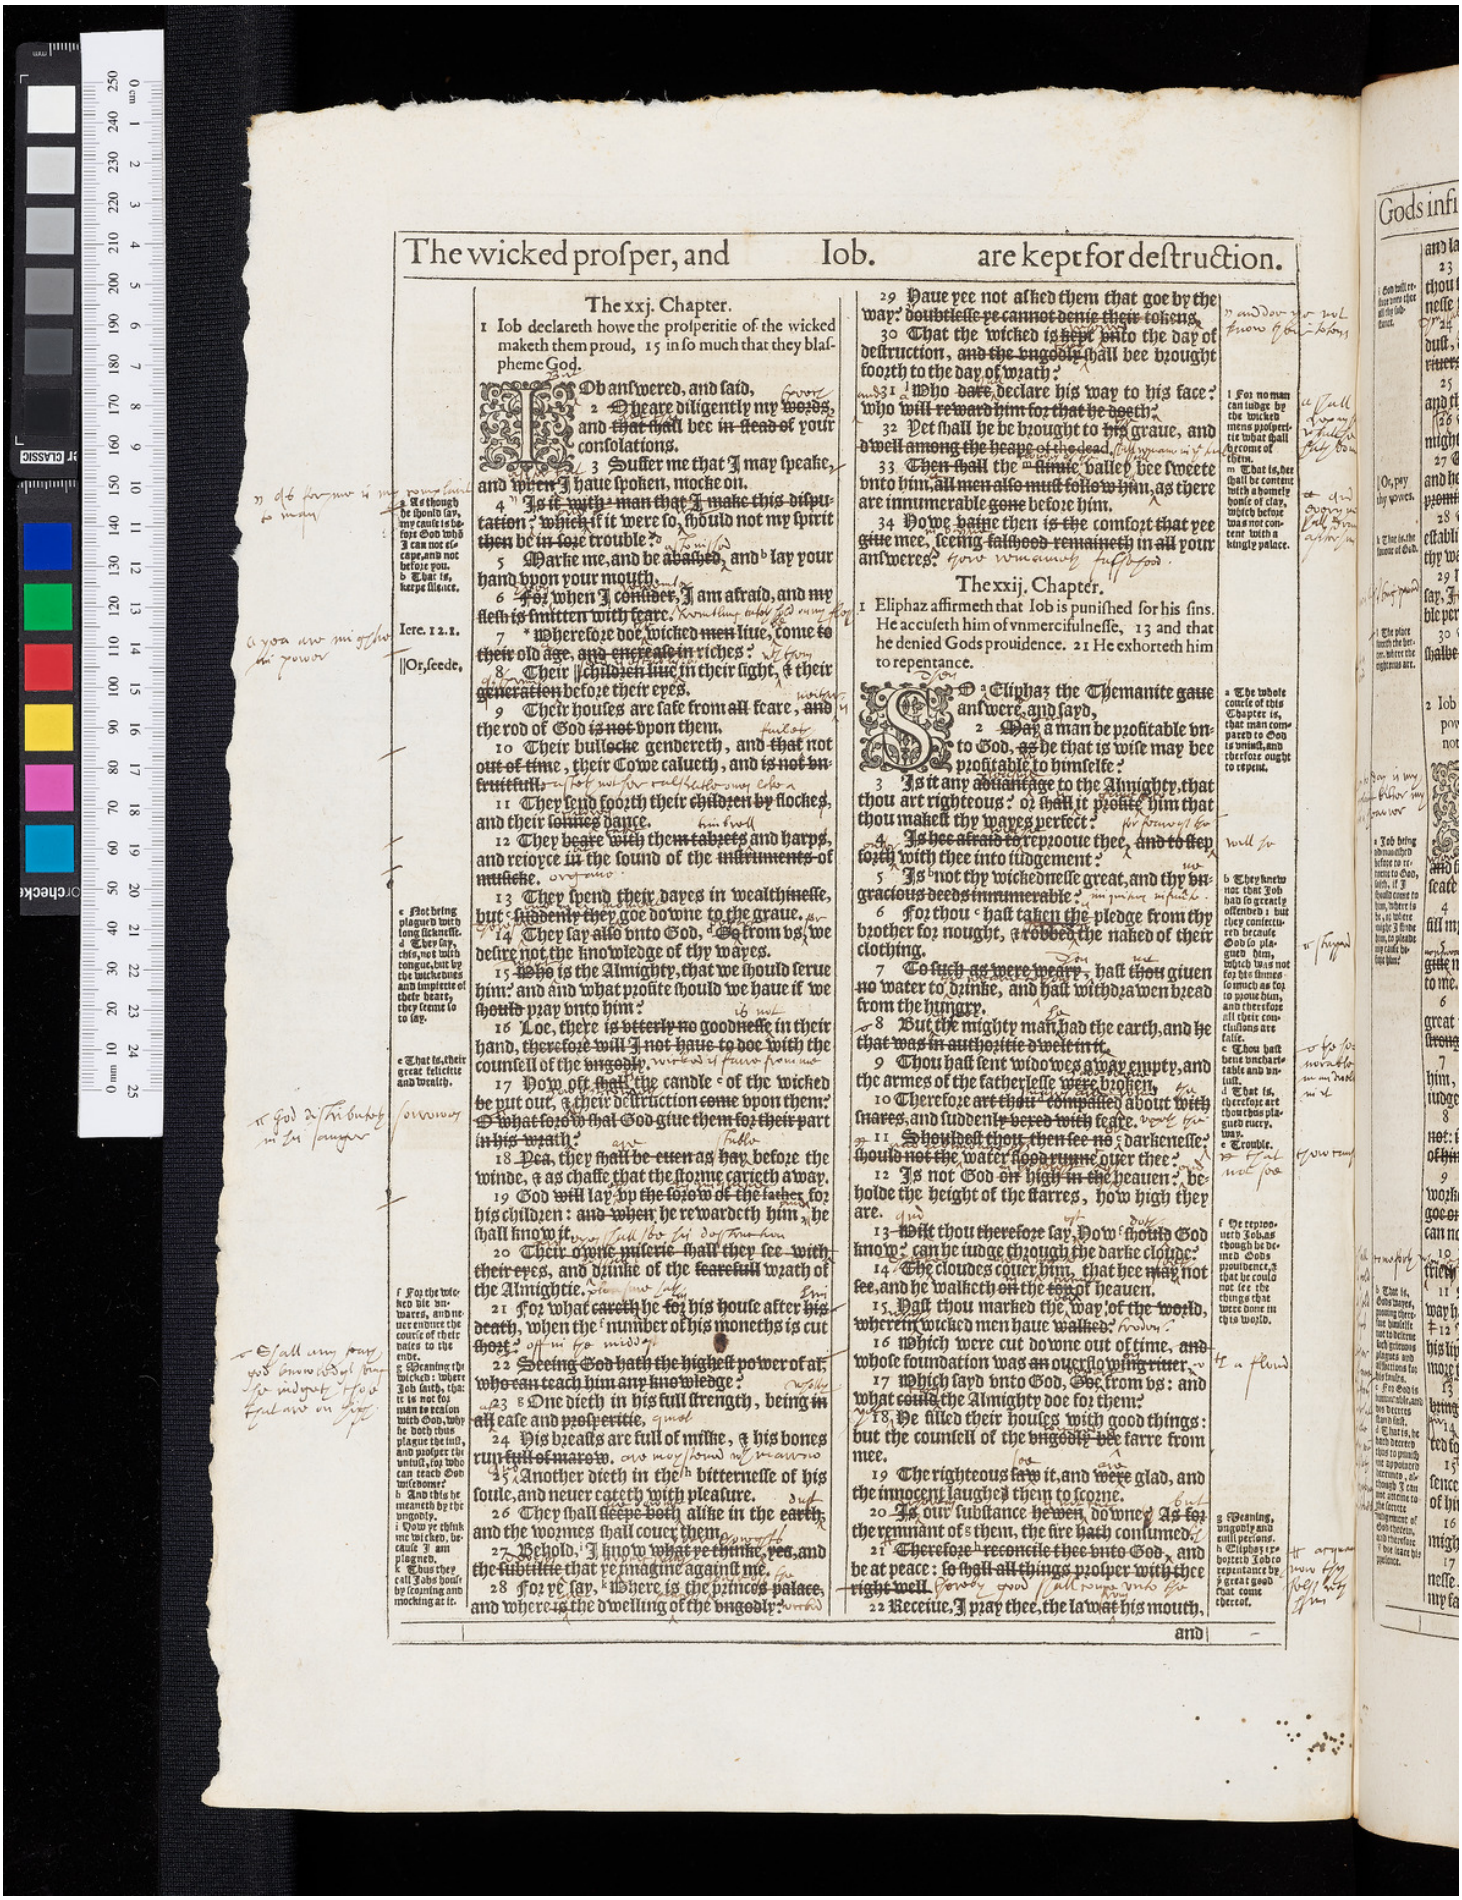
26 All darkenesse shall bee hid in their secrete places, f an vnkindled fire shal consume him: and looke what remaineth in his house, it shall bee destroyed.

f That is, fire from heauen: and here Sophar toucheth Iob, for that his seruants and children were consumed by fire.

27 The heauen shall g declare his wickednesse, and the earth shall take part against him.

g There is nothing hid that shall not bee opened, and the earth shall either bring fruit full, or bring forth things buried to the wicked.

28 The substance that hee hath in his house shall be taken away, and perish in the day of the Lords wrath.



29 This is the portion that the wicked man shall haue of God, and the heritage that hee may looke for of God, because of h his words.

The xxj. Chapter.

1 Iob declareth howe the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proud, 15 in so much that they blaspheme God.

IOb answered, and said,
2 Heare diligently my wordes, and that shall bee in stead of your consolations.
3 Suffer me that I may speake, and when I haue spoken, mocke on.
4 Is it with man that I make this disputation? which if it were so, should not my spirit then be in sore trouble?
5 Marke me, and be abashed, and lay your hand vpon your mouth.
6 For when I consider, I am afraid, and my flesh is smitten with feare.
7 Wherefore doe wicked men liue, come to their old age, and encrease in riches?
8 Their children liue in their sight, & their generation before their eyes.
9 Their houses are safe from all feare, and the rod of God is not vpon them.
10 Their bullocke gendereth, and that not out of time, their Cowe calueth, and is not barefull.
11 They send forth their children by flockes, and their sonnes dance.
12 They beare with them tabrets and harps, and reioyce in the sound of the instruments of musicke.
13 They spend their dayes in wealthinesse, but suddenly they goe downe to the graue.
14 They say also vnto God, Depart from vs, we desire not the knowledge of thy wayes.
15 Who is the Almighty, that we should serue him? and and what profite should we haue if we should pray vnto him?
16 Loe, there is vtterly no goodnesse in their hand, therefore will I not haue to doe with the counsell of the vngodly.
17 How oft shall the candle of the wicked be put out, & their destruction come vpon them? God what sorow shal God giue them for their part in his wrath?
18 Yea, they shall be euen as hay before the winde, & as chaffe that the storme carieth away.
19 God will lay vp the sorow of the father for his children: and when he rewardeth him, he shall know it.
20 Their owne miserie shall they see with their eyes, and drinke of the fearefull wrath of the Almightie.
21 For what careth he for his house after his death, when the number of his moneths is cut short?
22 Seeing God hath the highest power of all, who can teach him any knowledge?
23 One dieth in his full strength, being in all ease and prosperitie, 24 His breasts are full of milke, & his bones run full of marow.
25 Another dieth in the bitternesse of his soule, and neuer eateth with pleasure.
26 They shall sleepe both alike in the earth, and the wormes shall couer them.
27 Behold, I know what ye thinke, yea, and the subtilties that ye imagine against me.
28 For ye say, Where is the princes palace, and where is the dwelling of the vngodly?
29 Haue yee not asked them that goe by the way? doubtlesse ye cannot denie their tokens, 30 That the wicked is kept vnto the day of destruction, and the vngodly shall bee brought foorth to the day of wrath?
31 Who dare declare his way to his face? who will reward him for that he doeth?
32 Yet shall he be brought to his graue, and dwell among the heape of the dead.
33 Then shall the turfe valley bee sweete vnto him, all men also must follow him, as there are innumerable gone before him.
34 Howe haine then is the comfort that yee giue mee, seeing falshood remaineth in all your answeres?

The xxij. Chapter.

1 Eliphaz affirmeth that Iob is punished for his sins. He accuseth him of vnmercifulnesse, 13 and that he denied Gods prouidence. 21 He exhorteth him to repentance.

THen Eliphaz the Themanite gaue answere, and sayd,
2 May a man be profitable vnto God, as he that is wise may bee profitable to himselfe?
3 Is it any aduantage to the Almighty, that thou art righteous? or shall it profite him that thou maketh thy wayes perfect?
4 Is hee afraid to reproue thee, and to goe forth with thee into iudgement?
5 Is not thy wickednesse great, and thy gracious deedes innumerable?
6 For thou hast taken the pledge from thy brother for nought, & robbed the naked of their clothing.
7 To such as were weary, hast thou giuen no water to drinke, and hast withdrawen bread from the hungry.
8 But the mighty man had the earth, and he that was in authoritie dwelt in it.
9 Thou hast sent widowes away empty, and the armes of the fatherlesse were broken.
10 Therefore art thou compassed about with snares, and suddenly vexed with feare.
11 Shouldest thou then see no darkenesse? should not the water flood runne ouer thee?
12 Is not God on high in the heauen? beholde the height of the starres, how high they are.
13 Whilt thou therefore say, How should God know? can he iudge through the darke clouds?
14 The cloudes couer him, that hee may not see, and he walketh on the top of heauen.
15 Hast thou marked the way of the world, wherein wicked men haue walked?
16 which were cut downe out of time, and whose foundation was an ouerflowing riuer, 17 which sayd vnto God, Depart from vs: and what could the Almighty doe for them?
18 He filled their houses with good things: but the counsell of the vngodly bee farre from mee.
19 The righteous saw it, and were glad, and the innocent laughed them to scorne.
20 Is our substance hewen downe? As for the remnant of them, the fire hath consumed.
21 Therefore reconcile thee vnto God, and be at peace: so shall all things prosper with thee right well.

h And this he meaneth by the vngodly.
i Now ye thinke me wicked, because I am plagued.

1 For no man can iudge by the wicked mens prosperitie what shall become of them.
m That is, her shall be content with a homely house of clay, which before was not content with a kingly palace.

a The whole course of this Chapter is, that man compared to God is vniust, and therfore ought to repent.

b They knew not that Iob had so greatly offended: but they confessed because God so plagued them, which was not for his sinnes so much as for to prouoke him, and therefore all their conclusions are false.
c Thou hast bene vncharitable and vniust.

The xxiij. Chapter.

2 Iob affirmeth that he both knoweth and feareth the power and sentence of the iudge, 10 and that he is not punished onely for his sinnes.

IOb answered, and said,

2 Though my talke be this day in bitternesse, and my plague greater then my groning,

3 O that I a might know him, and finde him, and that I might come before his seate:

4 I would pleade my cause before him, and fill my mouth with arguments:

5 I would know what answere he would giue me, and vnderstand what he should say vnto me.

6 Will hee pleade against mee, with his great power? No, but he will make mee the stronger.

7 There the righteous might dispute with him, so should I be deliuered for euer from my iudge.

8 Behold, though I go forward, I find him not: if I goe backward, I can get no knowledge of him:

9 If I goe on the left side where he doth his worke, I cannot attaine vnto him: againe, if I goe on the right side, he hideth himselfe, that I can not see him.

10 But as for my way, he knoweth me, and tryeth me, that as the gold I may be tried.

11 My b foote hath keepe his path, his way haue I holden, and will not goe out of it.

12 I will not forsake the commandement of his lips, I haue esteemed the wordes of his mouth more then my necessarie foode.

13 He is one, and c who can turne him? hee bringeth to passe what he desireth.

14 He d performeth the thing that is appointed for me, and many such things doth he.

15 This is the cause that I thinke at his presence, so that when I consider him, I am afraid of him.

16 For God maketh my heart soft, and the almightie putteth me in feare.

17 Because I am not cut off before the darknesse, neither hath hee couered the darke from my face.

a Iob being admonished before to returne to God, saith, if I should come to him, where is he, or where might I finde him, to pleade my cause before him?

b That is, Gods wayes, pouring therefore himselfe not to deserue such grieuous plagues and afflictions for his faults.

c For God is immutable, and his decrees stand fast.

d That is, he hath decreed thus to punish me appointed thereunto, although I can not attaine to the secrete iudgement of God therein, and therefore feare his presence.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

1 Iob describeth the wickednesse of men, and sheweth what curse belongeth to the wicked. 12 How all things are gouerned by Gods prouidence, 17 and the destruction of the wicked.

WHy should not the a times be hidden from the Almightie, and they that know him, see not his dayes?

2 For some men remooue the land markes, robbe men of their cattell, and feede of the same.

3 They driue away the asse of the fatherlesse, and take the widowes ore for a pledge.

4 They cause the poore to turne out of the way, so that the poore of the earth hide themselues together.

5 Behold, as wilde asses in the desert go they forth to their worke, and rise betimes to prey: Yea, the very b wildernesse ministreth foode for them and their children.

6 They reape the corne field that is not their owne, and gather the vineyard of the vngodly which they possesse vniustly.

They cause the naked to lodge without garment, and without couering in the cold.

8 They are wet with the showres of the mountaines, and imbrace the rocke for want of couering.

9 They plucke the fatherlesse from the breast, and take the pledge from the poore.

10 They let him goe naked without clothing, and haue taken away the sheafe of the hungry.

11 They that labour in their oile milles, and tread their wine presses, suffer thirst.

12 Men of the citie cry out, the soules of the same also cry out, yet God regardeth not their complaint.

13 Those are they that flee from the light, they knew not his wayes, nor continue in his pathes.

14 The murderer riseth early, and killeth the poore and needie, and in the night is as a thiefe.

15 The c eye of the adulterer waiteth for the darkenesse, and saith, There shall no eye see me: and hideth his face.

16 In the darke they digge through houses, which they marked for themselues in the day time: they know not the light.

17 The morning is to them euen as the shadowe of death: if one know them they are in the terrors of the shadow of death.

18 The vngodly is d swift vpon the water: their portion shalbe cursed in the earth, and he shall not behold the way of the vineyards.

21 Hee hath oppressed the barren that can not beare, and vnto the widowe hath he done no good.

22 He g drew the mightie after him with his power, and when he was gotten vp no man was sure of life.

The xxv. Chapter.

Bildad proueth that no man is cleane, nor without sinne before God.

THen answered Bildad the Suhite, and said,

2 Power and feare is with him, who maketh peace in his highnesse.

The xxvj. Chapter.

1 Iob sheweth that no man can helpe God, and proueth it by his wonderfull workes.

THen Iob answered, and said, a Here Iob reprehendeth Bildad, for that hee speaketh not enough to Gods praise, who neuerthy not mans wordes, neither comforteth him being void of comfort.

2 a Whom hast thou helped? him that is without strength? sauest thou the arme that hath no strength?

3 Where is the counsell that thou houldest giue him which hath no wisedome? hast thou caught him that is very wise?

4 To whom hast thou spoken these wordes? who made the breath to come out of thy mouth?

b That is, such things are in the waters without life, as mettals & such like, wherin is expressed Gods great power.

5 b Are not dead things hauen vnder the waters, and in places neare vnto them?

6 Hell is naked before him, and destruction hath no couering.

e Not that heauen hath pillars, but by the pillars he vnderstandeth all things vnder heauen.

11 The e very pillars of heauen tremble and quake at his reproofe.

12 He stilleth the sea with his power, and through his wisedome smiteth hee the strength thereof.

13 His spirit hath garnished the heauens, and his hand hath made the crooked serpent.

14 Loe, these are part of his wayes: but how litle a portion heare we of him? who can vnderstand the thunder of his power?

The xxvij. Chapter.

3 The constancie and perfectnesse of Iob. 13 The reward of the wicked, and of the tyrants.

MOreouer Iob proceeded, and went forth in his parable, saying, a This was the oth of the Hebrewes to sware.

2 a As God liueth, which hath taken away my iudgment, & the almightie that hath vexed my mind:

3 While the breath is in me, and the winde that God hath giuen me is in my nostrels,

4 My lips shall talke of no vanitie, and my tongue shall speake no deceit.

5 God forbid that I should graunt your cause to be right: as for me, vntil mine end come, will I neuer goe from mine innocencie.

b That is, I will not confesse that God plagueth me for mine offence.

c Of my former life past.

7 Therefore c mine enemie shall be found as the vngodly, and he that riseth vp against me, as the vnrighteous.

d That is, because they reprehended me vnworthily, they rather might be accompted wicked, and the plague shall light on them, and be rid from me.

8 For d what hope hath the hypocrite, though hee be neuer so couetous, if God take away his soule?

e What auaileth it a man if he gaine all the world, and lose his owne soule?

9 Will e God heare his crie when trouble commeth vpon him?

10 Hath hee such delight in the Almightie, f that he dare alway call vpon God?

16 Though he heape vp siluer as the dust, and prepare raiment as the clay:

17 Hee may well prepare it, but the godly shall put it on, and the innocent shall deale out the siluer.

21 A vehement East wind carieth him hence, and hee departeth, a storme hurleth him out of his place.

22 God shall cast vpon him such things and not spare him, hee would faine flee out of his hand.

23 Then shall men clap their handes at him, and hisse him out of his place.

The xxviij. Chapter.

The xxix. Chapter.

1 Iob wisheth the prosperitie of his time past. 7 He setteth forth his authoritie, 12 iustice, and equitie.

MOreouer Iob proceeded and went forth in his parable, saying,

2 O that I were as I was in the moneths past, and in the dayes when God preserued me:

3 When his [a] light shined vpon my head, when I went after the light, and shining vpon thy darkenesse:

4 As it stood with me when I was young, when God prospered my house:

5 When the almightie was yet with mee, when my children stood about me,

6 When I washed my [b] steps with butter, and when the flouie rocke gaue me riuers of oyle:

7 When I went out to the gate, and to the iudgement seate, and when I prepared my seate in the streete:

8 The [c] young men saw me, and hid themselues, and the [d] aged arose, and stood vp:

9 The [e] princes left off their talking, and laid their hand to their mouth.

10 [f] The nobles kept still their voice, & their tongue cleaued to the roofe of their mouth.

11 When the eare heard me, it blessed me: and when the eye saw me, it gaue witnesse to me.

12 For I deliuered the poore when he cryed, and the fatherlesse, and him that had none to helpe him.

13 The blessing of him that was readie to perish, came vpon me, and I caused the widowes heart to reioyce.

14 I put vpon mee righteousnesse, which clothed me as a garment, and equitie was my crowne.

15 I was an eye to the blinde, and a foote to the lame.

16 I was a father to the poore: and when I knew not the cause, I sought it out diligently.

17 I brake the iawes of the vnrighteous man, and pluckt the spoyle out of his teeth.

18 Then I said, I shall die in my nest: and I shall multiply my dayes as the sand.

11 Because God hath loosed my cord, and humbled me, they haue loosed the bridle before mee.
12 Upon my right hand rise the young men

c That is, they ouerthrew all my doings, without helpe of any other.

h Iob saith not this as blaming God, but grieuous affliction moued him.

22 In times past thou diddest set me vp on high, to be caried as it were aboue the winde, but now hast thou giuen me a very sore fall.
i That is, thou didst let me in high authoritie, and suddenly thou puttest me downe.
23 (Sure I am that thou wilt bring me vnto death, euen to the lodging that is due vnto all men liuing.)
24 Notwithstanding, thou wilt not stretch out thine hand against him that is in the graue, though men cry in his destruction.

trouble? Had not my soule compassion vpon the poore?
26 Yet whereas I looked for good, euill came vnto me: and k where I waited for light, there came darkenesse.
k In stead of comfort they gaue mockes.
27 My bowels seethe in me without rest, for the dayes of my trouble are come vpon me.
28 I went mourning without heate, I stood vp in the congregation, and cryed.
29 I am a brother of Dragons, and a fellow of Estriches.
30 My skin vpon me is turned to blacke, and my bones are brent with heate.
31 My harpe is turned to mourning, and my instruments of musicke, into the voyce of them that weepe.

dence:

great, and because my hand got so much?
26 Did I g behold the sunne when it shined:
or the moone walking in her brightnes?
g Did I vse to worship the sun or moone, as other Gentiles which were idolaters?

did I kisse mine owne hand?

32 The stranger did not lodge in the streete, but I opened my doores vnto him that went by the way.
33 Haue I kept couert my sinne, and hid mine iniquitie in my bosome, as Adam did?
34 If I feared a great multitude, or the despising of the meanest of a family, I would haue kept silence, and not gone out of the [b] doore.
35 O that I had one which would heare me:
beholde my signe that the almighty will answere for me, though mine aduersarie write a booke against me.
36 Surely I will take it vpon my [i] shoulder, and as a garland bind it about my head.
37 I will tell him the number of my goings, and goe vnto him, as to a [k] prince.
38 If my land [l] cric against mee, or that the furrowes thereof make any complaint:
39 If I haue eaten the fruits thereof vn-payed for, yea, if I haue grieued the soules of the ||maisters thereof:
40 Then let thistles grow in stead of wheate, and cockle for barley.
Here ende the words of Iob.

The xxxij. Chapter.

6 Elihu reproueth them of follie. 8 Age maketh not a man wise, but the spirit of God.

SO these three men ceased to answer Iob, [a] because he held himself a righteous man. 2 But Elihu the sonne of Ba-rachel the Buzite, of the kinred of Ram, was very sore displeased at Iob, because he called himself iust before God.
3 And with Iobs three friends he was an-gric also, because they had found no answere, and yet condemned Iob.
4 Now tarried Elihu til they had ended their communication with Iob: for they were elder then he.
5 So when Elihu saw that these three men were not able to make Iob answere, hee was displeased.
6 Therefore Elihu the sonne of Barachel the Buzite answered and sayd, I am yong, and yee be men of age, I was afraid, and durst not shew forth my mind.
7 For I thought thus within my selfe, It becommeth ||old men to speake, and the ||aged to teach wisedome.
8 But euery man no doubt hath a mind, but it is the inspiration of the almightie that giueth vnderstanding.
9 Great men are not alway wise, neither doth euery aged man vnderstand the thing that is lawfull:
10 Therefore I say, Heare me, and I will shew you also mine vnderstanding.
11 For when I had waited til ye made an end of your talking, I heard your wisedome, [b] what arguments ye made in your communication, 12 Yea, when I had diligently pondered what yee sayd, I found not one of you that made any good argument against Iob, that could an-swere his words.
13 Lest yee should say, We haue [c] found out wisedom, God thrust him downe, and no man.
14 He hath not spoken vnto mee, and I will not answere him as ye haue done.
15 For they were [c] abashed, that they could not make answere, nor speake one word.
16 When I had waited (for they spake not, but stood still and answered no more,) 17 Then answered I in my turne, and I shewed mine opinion.
18 For I am full of ||matter, and the spirit within me compelleth me.
19 Behold, my [d] bellie is as the wine which hath no vent, like the new bottels that burst.
20 Therefore will I speake, that I may take breath: I will open my lips, and make answere.
21 I will regard no maner of person, no man will I spare.
22 For if I would goe about to [e] please men,
I know not how soone my maker would take me away.

The xxxiij. Chapter.

5 Elihu accuseth Iob of ignorance. 14 Hee sheweth that God hath diuers meanes to instruct man, and to draw him from sinne.

WHerefore heare my words, O
Iob, and hearken vnto all that I will say:
2 Behold, I haue now opened my mouth, my tongue hath spoken in my throte.
3 ¶ My heart doeth order my words aright, and my lips talke of pure wisedome.
4 The [a] spirit of God hath made me, and the breath of the almighty hath giuen me life.
5 If thou canst giue me answere, prepare thy selfe, and stand before me.
6 Behold, [b] before God, I am euen as thou:
for I am fashioned and made euen of the same mould.
7 Behold, my terrour shall not feare thee, neither shall my hand be heauie vpon thee.
8 Now hast thou spoken in mine eares, and
I haue heard the voyce of thy words:
9 I am cleane without any [c] sinne, I am innocent, and there is no wickednesse in me.
10 But for, he hath picked a quarell against me, and taketh me for his enemie:
11 He hath put my feete in the stockes, and looketh narrowly vnto all my pathes.
12 Behold, in this hast thou not done right,
I will make answere vnto thee, that God is greater then man.
13 And why doest thou then striue against him: for he shall not giue thee accounts of all his wordes.
14 For God speaketh [d] once, yea twise, and yet man vnderstandeth it not.
15 In dreames, and visions of the night, when slumbring commeth vpon men, that they fall a sleepe in their beds, 16 He openeth the eares of men, and couch-eth them:
17 That he may withdraw man from his purposes, and deliuer him from [e] pride, 18 And keepe his soule from the graue, and his life from the sword.
19 He chastiseth him with sickes vpon his bed, he taketh sore punishment vpon his bones: 20 So that his [f] life may abhorreth to eate any daintie meate:
21 Insomuch that his flesh is cleane consumed away, and his bones are broken that they cannot be seene.

a Meaning, that he did not hold his peace, or keepe at home in the tuft like a; cause of any.
i That is, I will carie the booke that the aduersary shal make, vpon my shoulder, and will accept it for a great gift, meaning, hee would confesse his sinne, if he had offended.
k That is, with great reuerence.
l That is, if the threeling that hath labored in the land, haue bene defrauded of his wages by me.
m That is, if I haue by violence compelled my land to be eared, and not giuen food to the labourers.

f The Hebrue word is, to alter the name, calling a rude man learned, or a wicked man iust.

d God speaketh two maner of wayes vnto men, either by sleepe, or by his rod of sicknesse, and other plagues.

22 His soule draweth vnto the graue, and his life to ‖ death.

‖ Or, to the buriers.

23 Now if there be a messenger, one among a thousand, sent for to speake vnto man, and to shew him the right way.

24 Then the LORD is merciful vnto him, and saith, Deliuer him, that he fall not downe to the graue: for I am sufficiently recompensed.

25 Then shall his flesh be as fresh as a childes, and shall returne, as in the dayes of his youth.

26 He shall pray vnto God, and he will bee fauourable vnto him, and he shall see his face with ioy, for hee will render vnto man his righteousnesse.

27 A respect hath hee vnto men, let man then say, I haue offended, I did vnrighteously, and it hath done me no good:

28 He hath deliuered my soule from destruction, and [g] my life shall see the light.

[h] That is, to shew thy selfe iust, and not wicked.

33 If thou hast nothing, then heare mee, and hold thy tongue, & I shall teach thee wisedome.

The xxxiiij Chapter.

5 Elihu chargeth Iob that he calleth himselfe righteous. 12 He sheweth that God is iust in iudgements

ELihu answered, and sayd,

[a] Here Elihu proueth that God cannot be vniust, because he is the iudge of the world, the gouernour and creator of all.

2 Heare my words, O ye wisemen, hearken vnto mee, yee that haue vnderstanding.

3 For the eare discerneth words, and the mouth tasteth meates.

[b] Let vs seeke the cause by reasoning vprightly.

4 As for iudgment, let vs seeke it out, among our selues, that wee may know what is good.

5 For Iob hath said, I am righteous, and God hath [c] taken away my iudgement.

[c] That is, he hath not dealt with me according to the equitie of my cause.

6 ‖ In my right I must be a liar; my wound is incurable without my fault.

7 Where is there such a one as Iob, that [d] drinketh vp scorne like water, [d] That is, for his foolishnes he beareth the reproofes of the wicked.

8 Which goeth in the companie of wicked doers, and walketh with vngodly men?

9 For he hath said, It profiteth a man nothing, that he should walke with God.

10 Therefore hearken vnto me, ye that haue vnderstanding: farre bee it from God that hee should meddle with wickednesse, and farre bee it from the almighty that hee should meddle with vnrighteous dealing.

11 For he shall reward man after his workes, and cause euery man to finde according to his wayes.

12 Sure it is that God will not doe wickedly, neither will the almighty peruert iudgement.

13 Who ruleth the earth but he? or who hath placed the whole world?

14 If hee set his heart vpon man, and gather vnto himselfe his * spirit and his breath:

Psal. 104. 29.

15 All flesh shall come to nought at once, and man shall turne againe vnto dust.

16 If thou now hast vnderstanding, heare this, and hearken to the voice of my words:

17 May he be a ruler that loueth not right? will thou iudge him wicked that is most iust?

18 Shall thou say vnto a king, Thou art wicked? or to princes, Ye are vngodly?

19 [a] God hath no respect vnto the persons of the princes, neither regardeth hee the rich more then the poore: for they be all the worke of his hands.

[a] As though Elihu would say, It is meet that the vniust and wicked shall be rulers, or innocents commit wickednes, or iniurious to controll princes, or subiects to resist the king: how much lesse then ought wee thou to do so to God the king of all kings? Rom. 2. 11.

20 In [e] the twinckling of an eye shall they die, and the people shall be troubled at midnight, and passe away, and the mighty shall bee taken away without hand.

[e] That is, suddenly before they are aware of it.

21 For his eyes looke vpon the wayes of man, and he seeth all his goings.

22 There is no darknes nor shadow of death, that can hide the wicked doers from him.

23 For God will not lay vpon man more then hee hath tolde, that hee should enter into iudgement with him.

24 Hee shall destroy the mighty without seeking, and shall set other in their [g] stead.

[g] God craftely ouerturneth one, and humbleth another, as the ioure monarchies of the world for example, that is, of the Assyrians, of the Persians, of the Grecians, and of the Romanes: as God doth mightily, so doth he iustly.

25 Therefore shall he declare their works: he shall [h] turne the night, & they shall be destroyed.

[h] That is, hee shall bring to light that which lay in darkenesse.

26 The vngodly doeth he punish openly,

27 Because they turned backe from him, and would not consider all his wayes:

28 Insomuch that they haue caused the voice of the [k] poore to come vnto him, and now he heareth the complaint of such as are in trouble.

[i] That is, in the sight of all men.

29 When he giueth quietnesse, who can make trouble? and when he hideth his face, who can behold him? whether it be vpon nations, or vpon one man onely:

[k] Though their cruell and vnmercifull handling of them.

30 Because the hypocrite doth reigne, and because the people are snared.

31 Surely, if God only it can be said, I haue pardoned, I will not destroy.

32 If I haue gone amisse enforme thou mee: if I haue done wrong, I will leaue off.

33 ‖ Will he perfourme the thing through thee? for thou hast reproued his iudgement, thine is the choise, and not mine: but speake on what thou hast well.

34 Let men of vnderstanding tell me, and let a wise man hearken vnto me.

35 Iob hath not spoken of knowledge, neither were his words according to wisedome.

36 O Father, let Iob be ‖ well tried, because he hath answered for wicked men:

37 Yea, about his sinne he doth wickedly, triumpheth among vs, and multiplieth his words against God.

[l] Elihu doeth not wish to Iob any euill, but desireth God that he may acknowledge his offence: the which cannot be brought to passe but by affliction.

‖ Or, vnto the end.

The xxxv. Chapter.

6 Neither doth godlinesse profit, or vngodlinesse hurt God, but man. 18 The wicked crie vnto God, and are not heard.

ELihu [a] spake moreouer, and said,

[a] Iob holding his peace, Elihu went on in his talke.

2 Thinkest thou it right that thou sayest, I am more righteous then God?

[b] To such as are like to Iob in obstinacie, not leauing thy great errour.

3 For thou sayest, What aduantage will it be vnto thee, and what profit shall I haue if I be cleansed from my sin?

[c] If the clouds are higher then thou, how much more is God exalting them in alle

4 I will answere thee a word, and thy [d] companions with thee.

[d] It doth nothing aduantage God whether it be good or euill, for he needeth not mans helpe, he is most mighty, his maiestie is most glorious.

5 Looke vnto the heauen, and behold it, consider the [e] cloudes, which are higher then thou.

6 If thou hast [d] sinned, what hast thou done against him: if thine offences bee many, what hast thou done vnto him?

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Ii4r

7 If thou be righteous, what giuest thou him? or what will he receiue of thine hand?
8 Thy wickednesse may hurt a man as thou art, and thy righteousnesse may profite the sonne of man.
9 They which are oppressed, cry out vpon the multitude, yea, they cry out for the power of the mightie.
10 But none saith, Where is God that made me? and that giueth || occasion to praise him in the night?
11 Which teacheth vs more then the beastes of the earth, and giueth vs more wisedome then the fowles of heauen.
12 If any such complaine, no man giueth answere, and that because of the wickednesse of proud tyrants.
13 For God will not heare vanitie, neither will the almightie regarde it.
14 Although thou sayest to God, Thou wilt not regarde it: yet iudgement is before him, trust thou in him.
15 But now because his anger hath not visited, neither called men to account with great extremitie:
16 Therefore doeth Job open his mouth in vaine, and he maketh many wordes without knowledge.

The xxxvj. Chapter.

1 Elihu sheweth the power of God, 6 and his iustice 9 and wherefore he punisheth. 13 The propertie of the wicked.

ELihu also proceeded and said,
2 Hold thee still a litle, and I shall shew thee what I haue yet to speake on Gods behalfe.
3 I will open vnto thee yet farre higher knowledge, and will ascribe righteousnesse vnto my maker.
4 And truely my wordes shall not be vaine, seeing he is with thee that is a perfect in knowledge.
5 Beholde, the great God casteth away no man, for he himselfe is b mightie in power and wisedome.
6 As for the vngodly, he shall not preserue him, but shall helpe the poore to their right.
7 He shall not turne his eyes away from the righteous, but as kings shall they be in their throne, he shall stablish them for euer, and they shall be exalted.
8 But if they be laide in chaines, or bound with the bonds of trouble, 9 Then will he shewe them their worke, and their sinnes which they haue committed stoutly.
10 He openeth his eare also to discipline, and warneth them to leaue off from their wickednesse.
11 If they now will take heede and serue him, they shall weare out their daies in prosperitie, and their yeeres in pleasure, 12 But if they will not hearken, they shall goe thorow the sword, and perish, or euer they be aware.

18 And seeing there is g wrath with God, beware least he take thee away in thy wealth, and all that thou hast to redeeme thee, cannot deliuer thee.
19 Thinkest thou that he will regard thy riches? hee shall not care for golde, nor for all them that excell in strength.
20 Spend not the night in carefull thoughts, how he destroyeth the people out of their place.
21 Beware that thou turne not aside to wickednesse, which hitherto thou hast chosen more then affliction.
22 Behold, God is of a mightie high power: where is there such a teacher as he?
23 Who will reproue him of his way? who will say vnto him, Thou hast done wrong?
24 Remember that thou doe magnifie his worke which men doe praise.
25 All men seeth it, yea, men doe beholde it afarre off.
26 Behold, God is great, that we cannot order our knowledge, h neither can the number of his yeeres be searched out.
27 He turneth the water to small drops, hee driueth his clouds together to raine:
28 Which raine the cloudes doe drop, and let fall abundantly vpon men, 29 Who can conceiue the i spreading out of his clouds, the ouerlings of his tabernacle?
30 Behold, hee doth stretch his light vpon it, and coureth the bottome of the sea.
31 For by these || gouerneth he his people, and giueth them abundance of meate.
32 With the clouds hee hideth the light, and at his commandement it breaketh out.
33 Which dashing vpon the next cloudes, shew tokens of wrath.

The xxxvij. Chapter.

2 Elihu prooueth that the vnsearchable wisedome of God is manifested by his workes, 4 as by the thunder, 6 the snow, 9 the whirlewinde, 11 and the raine.

AT a this also is my heart astonied, and mooued out of his place.
2 Heare b then the sound of his voice, and the noyse that goeth out of his mouth.
3 He directeth it vnder the whole heauen, and his light vnto the endes of the world.
4 A roaring voice followeth it: for his glorious maiestie giueth a thunderclap, and hee will not stay when his voice is heard.
5 God thundereth marueilously with his voice, great things doth he, which wee cannot comprehend.
6 For he commandeth the snow, and it falleth vpon earth: hee giueth the raine a charge, and the shewres haue their strength and fall downe.
7 With the force of the raine he shutteth men vp, a As though he would say, if we doe good, it is our owne: if we do euill, it is our's also.

c That is, God heareth them not, because they pray not heartily to him in faith.
a And therefore credite my sayings, for I come to pleade for Gods cause.
b And therefore he will not destroy the iust, the wise, & the godly, seeing they are there in like vnto him.
c So God doth exalt the godly, and they that loue him.
d If he shall plague the righteous, he will declare the cause of the same.

12 He turneth the heauens about by his gouernment, that they may doe whatsoeuer hee commaundeth them vpon the whole world.

13 Hee causeth raine to come, whether it bee for punishment, or for his land, or to doe good to them that feede him.

38 k Or, so cause the earth to grow in hardnesse, and the clots to cleaue fast together?

39 l Wilt thou hunt the pray for the Lyon? or fill the appetite of the Lyons whelps, 40 When they couch in their places, and tarie in the couert to lye in wayt?

41 Who prouideth meat for the Rauen, when his yong ones crie vnto God, and flee about, for lacke of meate?

k For so groweth the earth by the want of raine.

l After he had shewed his marueiles about, he commeth to the earthly creatures, as though God would say, the things on the clouds are vnknowne vnto thee, yea euen things on earth thou durst not boe: how much lesse then durst thou to reach to Gods secret workes?

The xxxix. Chapter.

God proceedeth in declaring the ignorance of Iob, in the consideration of his marueilous workes, in beasts and foules.

KNowest thou the time when the wilde goates bring foorth their yong among the rockes? or a lay-est thou wayt when the Hindes bie-is calue?

2 Canst thou number the moneths that they goe with yong? or knowest thou the time when they bring forth?

3 They lie downe, they calue their young ones, and they are deliuered of their trauaile and paine:

4 Yet their young ones grow vp, and ware fatte through good feeding with corne: they goe forth, and returne not againe vnto them.

5 Who letteth the wilde asse to goe free? or who looseth the bonds of the wilde asse?

6 Euen I which haue giuen the wildernesse to be their house, & the b barren land to be their dwelling.

7 He scorneth the multitude of the citie, neither regarded he the crying of the driuer:

8 But seeketh his pasture about the mountaines, and followeth the greene grasse.

9 Will the c Unicorne bee thee seruice, or abide by thy crib?

10 Canst thou binde the yoke about the Unicorne in the furrow, to make him plough after thee in the valleyes? or will he harrow the valley

11 Darest thou trust him because hee is strong, or commit thy labour vnto him?

12 Darest thou beleeue him that hee will bring home thy || corn, or gather it into thy barne?

13 Gauest thou the faire wings vnto the Peacocks, or wings & feathers vnto the Estrich?

14 The Estrich leaueth her egges in the earth, and heateth them in the dust.

15 || Shee remembreth not that they might be troden with feete, or bruised with some wilde beast.

16 So hard is hee vnto her young ones, as though they were not hers, and d laboureth in vaine without any feare.

17 And that because God hath taken wisedome from her, and hath not giuen her vnderstanding.

18 When the time is that hee mounteth on high, hee careth neither for the horse, nor the rider.

19 e Hast thou giuen the horse his strength? or learned him to ney courageously?

20 Canst thou make him afraid as the Grashopper? his stout neping is fearefull.

21 He breaketh the ground with the hoofes of his feet, he reioyceth in his strength, and runneth to meet the harnessed men.

22 He mocketh at feare, and is not afraide, neither flieth he backe from the sword.

23 Though the quiuers rattle vpon him, though the speare and shield glister:

24 Yet rusheth hee in fiercely, beating the ground, he regardeth not the noyse of the trumpets:

25 But when the trumpets make most noise, he sayeth, || Tush, for hee smelleth the battell afarre off, the noyse of the captains, and the shouting.

26 Commeth it through thy wisedome, that the Gossehawke flyeth with her wings toward the f South?

27 Doeth the Eagle mount vp, and make his nest on high at thy commaundement?

28 He abideth in stone rockes, and dwelleth vpon the high tops of mountaines:

29 From whence he seeketh his pray, and looketh farre about with his eyes.

30 His young ones also suche vp blood: and where any dead body lyeth, there is he.

a He chiefly reciteth these beasts, for they bring forth their young lings with greatest paine.

b Some read, Salt places, meaning, barren ground.

c If thou canst not rule the Unicorne, canst thou know Gods secrets, or appoint him to do thy will?

d Or, seed.

e The Estrich when the hath laid her egges, hideth them in the sand, & by the heat of the sun, the young are brought forth, but she leaueth the egs as carelesse, forgetting the place where she put them, and so her labour is vaine.

f To be naturall toward her owne.

g That in all creatures the glory of Gods maiestie is declared.

The xl. Chapter.

God declareth the weakenesse of Iob, by comparing the same to his great workes, and to the strength of Behemoth.

MOreouer, the Lorde spake vnto Iob, and sayd,

2 Shall hee whome the Almightie will chasten, contend with him: Should not he which disputeth with God, giue him an answere?

3 Then Iob a answered the Lord, saying,

4 Behold, I am vile, what shall I answere thee? therefore I will laye my hand vpon my mouth.

5 Once haue I spoken, but I will say no more: yea twise, but I will proceed no further.

6 Then answered the Lord vnto Iob out of the whirle winde, and sayd, 7 Gird vp thy loynes now like a man: I will demaund of thee, and make thou answere.

8 Wilt thou b disanull my iudgement? or wilt thou condemne me, that thou mayest bee righteous?

9 Is thy || power then like the power of God: maiest thy voice sound as his doeth?

10 Decke thy selfe now with excellencie and maiestie, and aray thy selfe c with beautie and glorie.

11 Cast abroad the indignation of thy wrath, and behold euery one that is proud, and abase him:

12 Looke on euery one that is arrogant, and bring him lowe, and destroy the wicked in their place:

13 Hide them in the dust together, and couer their faces in d secret.

14 Then will I confesse vnto thee also, that e thine owne right hand can saue thee.

15 Beholde the beast f Behemoth, whome I made with thee, which eateth hay as an ore:

16 Lo how his strength is in his loynes, and what power he hath in the nauell of his belly.

17 When hee will he stretcheth out his tayle like a Cedar tree, the sinewes of his stones are knit together.

18 His bones are strong as braile, yea, his bones are like barres of yron.

a Here Iob confesseth his offence, and doeth not speake: for when God doth reprehend, who can answere?

b Meaning, that for a man to account himselfe iust, is to accuse God for vniust.

|| Or, arme.

c Which no man is able to doe, for these things are only pertaining to God.

d That is, cause them to die, if I lye in thy power.

e Which God can onely doe, and therefore trusting in thine owne strength, thou compareste with God.

fol. Ii5v

19 He is the beginning of the wayes of God, he that made him, will make his sword to approch vnto him.

20 Surely the mountaines bring him forth grasse, where all the beasts of the field take their pastime.

21 He resteth him in the shadow, in the couert of the reede, and fennes.

22 The trees couer him with their shadowe, and the willowes of the brooke compasse him about.

23 Behold, he drinketh vp whole riuers, and careth not, hee thinketh that hee can draw vp Iordane into his mouth.

24 He is taken with his eyes, and the hunter thrusteth him thorow the nose.

g This beast is one of the chiefest workes of God among the beasts, whome though no man dare come neere, yet God can kill him.

h Some write, that when men purpose to take the Elephant, they make a hole place in the ground where hee vseth to haunt and couer the same with hay, or strawe vnder, which so soone as the Elephant espieth, he runneth hastily vnto it, and falleth into the pit, and then the hunter thrusteth him thorowe the nose, because it is the tenderest part of him.

The xlj. Chapter.

God setteth foorth the malice, the members, the strength, and the pride of Leuiathan.

a Leuiathan, is a whale.

Canst thou draw out a Leuiathan with an hooke? or binde his tongue with a cord?

2 Canst thou put a hooke in the nose of him? or bore his iaw thorow with a naule?

3 Will hee make many faire wordes vnto thee, or flatter thee?

4 Will hee make a couenant with thee? or wilt thou take him for a seruant for euer?

5 Wilt thou take thy pastime with him, as with a birde, wilt thou binde him for thy maydens?

6 That thy companions may make a banquet of him, or shal he be parted among the marchants?

7 Canst thou fill the basket with his skin? or the fish panier with his head?

b For it is dangerous to trust Satan in any thing, yea it is perilous to touch him: for Leuiathan representeth Satan.

8 Laye thine hand vpon him, b remember the battell, and doe no more.

9 Behold, his hope is in vaine: for shall not one perish euen at the sight of him?

c If the creature cannot be resisted, who can compare with the creator?

10 No man is so fierce that dare stirre him vp: who is able to stand before me?

11 Or who hath giuen me any thing afore hand, that I may reward him again? All things vnder heauen are mine.

12 I will not keepe secret his great strength, his power, nor his comely proportion.

d That is, who dare pull off his skin?

13 Who can discouer the d face of his garment? or who shall come to him with a double bridle?

e That is, who dare looke in his mouth?

14 Who e shall open the doores of his face? for he hath horrible teeth round about.

15 His scales are as it were strong shields, fastened together as if they were sealed:

16 One is so ioyned to another, that no ayre can come in:

17 One haugheth vpon another, and sticketh so together, that they cannot be sundered.

f That is, he spoureth out flames of fire out of his mouth.

18 His neesings make a glittering like light, and his eyes like the ||morning thine.

||Or, eyelids of the morning.

19 Out of his mouth go torches, and sparkes of fire leape out.

20 And out of his nostrils there goeth a smoke, like as out of an hote seething pot or caldron.

21 His breath maketh the coles burne, and the flame goeth out of his mouth.

22 In his necke there remaineth strength, and nothing is too laborious for him.

23 The members of his flesh are ioyned and cleaue fast together, and cannot be moued.

24 His heart is as hard as a stone, and as fast as the ||Stithie that the smith smiteth vpon.

||Or, the nether milstone.

25 When hee mooueth himselfe, the mightie are afraid, and feare troubleth them.

26 If any man draw out a sword at him, hee will not moue, neither for the speare, iauelin, nor brestplate.

27 He setteth as much by yron as by a straw, and as much by brasse, as by a rotten sticke.

28 Hee flaieth not away from the arrowe: and as for slinging stones, they are as stubble vnto him.

29 He counteth the dart as straw, he laugheth him to scorne that shaketh the speare.

g For the hardnesse of his skin is such, that he feeth vpon it without paine, as in the mire.

30 g Sharpe stones are vnder him, and he lyeth vpon sharpe things, as vpon the soft myre.

h He spoureth out water in such sort, that the seas seeme to boyle.

i Which a white froth vpon the water.

31 Hee maketh the h deepe to boyle like a pot, and stirreth the sea together like an oyntment.

32 He maketh the path to shine after him, and hee maketh the deepe to seeme all hoarie.

33 Vpon earth there is no power like vnto his: for he is so made that he feareth not.

k He despiseth all other beasts and monsters, and is the proudest of all other.

34 He beholdeth all the high things, k he is a king ouer all the children of pride.

The xlij. Chapter.

6 The repentãce of Iob. 9 He prayeth for his friends, 12 and his goods are restored double vnto him.

Then Iob answered the Lord, and sayd, a Iob confesseth the omnipotence of God, and bewaileth his offence that hee spake he wist not what.

2 a I know we that thou hast power ouer all things, and that there is no thought hid vnto thee.

3 For who can keepe his owne counsell so secret, but it shall be known? therefore haue I spoken that I vnderstood not, euen the things that are too wonderfull for mee, and passe mine vnderstanding.

b Iob declareth to learne of God.

4 Heare, I beseech thee, and let me speake: and I will aske thee.

5 I haue heard of thee by the hearing of the eare, but now mine eye c seeth thee.

c He saith him not but by his word, which is the face and image of God.

6 Wherefore I giue mine owne selfe the blame, and take repentance in the dust and ashes.

7 Now, when the Lorde had spoken these words vnto Iob, the Lorde sayd to Eliphaz the Themanite, I am displeased with thee and thy two friends: for yee haue not spoken of me the d thing that is right, like as my seruant Iob hath done.

d Ye tooke in hand an euill cause, in that you condemned him, by his outward afflictions, and not comforted him with my mercies.

8 Therefore take you now seuen oxen, and seuen rammes, and goe to my seruant Iob, and offer vp for your selues a whole burnt offering, and my seruant Iob shall pray for you; him will I accept, and not deale with you after your foolishnesse, in that yee haue not spoken of mee the thing which is right, like as my seruant Iob hath done.

9 So Eliphaz the Themanite, and Bildad the Suhite, e Sophar the Naamathite, went, e did according as the Lorde commanded them: the Lord also accepted the ||person of Iob.

e He releeueth them from his troubles & plagues.

brethren, all his sisters, and all they that had beene of his acquaintance before, and did eate bread with him in his house, and had compassion on him, and comforted him ouer all the trouble that the Lorde had brought vpon him: euerie man also gaue him a certaine summe of money, and a ‖ ie well of golde.

12 So the Lorde blessed the last dayes of Job more then the first: for hee had fourteene thousand sheepe, sixe thousand camels, a thousand yoke of oxen, and a thousand shee asses.

13 Hee had seuen sonnes also, and three daughters.

14 The first daughter called he Jemima, the second, Cesia, and the third, Cerenhaphuch.

15 In all the land were no women found so faire as the daughters of Job: and their father gaue them inheritance among their brethren.

16 After this, liued Job an hundred and fourtie yeeres: so that hee saw his children, and his childrens children, vnto the fourth generation.

17 And so Job dyed, beeing olde, and full of dayes.

Morning prayer.

BLessed is the man that hath not walked in the counsell of the vngodly, nor stand in the way of sinners: and hath not sit in the seat of the scornefull.

2 But his delight is in the Lawe of the Lord: and in his Law will hee exercise himselfe day and night.

3 And hee shall be like a tree planted by the water side: that will bring forth his fruit in due season.

4 His leafe also shall not wither: and looke whatsoeuer he doeth, it shall prosper.

5 As for the vngodly, it is not so with them: but they are like the chaffe which the wind scattereth away from the face of the earth.

6 Therefore the vngodly shall not be able to stand in the iudgement: neither the sinners in the congregation of the righteous.

7 But the Lorde knoweth the way of the righteous: & the way of the vngodly shall perish.

Quare fremuerunt. Psal 2.

WHy doe the Heathen so furiously rage together: and why doe the people imagine a vaine thing?

2 The kings of the earth stand vp, and the rulers take counsell together: against the Lord, and against his anoynted,

3 Let vs breake their bondes asunder: and cast away their cords from vs.

4 Hee that dwelleth in heauen shall laugh them to scorne: the Lorde shall haue them in derision.

5 Then shall hee speake vnto them in his wrath: and vexe them in his sore displeasure.

6 Yet haue I set my king: vpon my holy hill of Sion.

7 I will preach the Law, whereof the Lord hath sayd vnto me: thou art my sonne, this day haue I begotten thee.

8 Desire of mee, and I shall giue thee the Heathen for thine inheritance: and the vttermost parts of the earth for thy possession.

9 Thou shalt bruise them with a rod of iron: and breake them in pieces like a potters vessell.

2 The vngodly for his owne lust doeth persecute the poore: let them be taken in the craftie wilinesse that they haue imagined.

3 For the vngodly hath made boast of his owne hearts desire: and prayseth the couetous whom God abhorreth.

4 The vngodly is so proude, that hee careth not for God: neither is God in all his thoughts.

5 His wayes are alway grieuous: thy iudgements are farre aboue out of his sight, and therefore defieth he all his enemies.

6 For he hath said in his heart, Tush, I shall neuer be cast downe: there shall no harme happen vnto me.

7 His mouth is full of curling, deceite, and fraude: vnder his tongue is vngodlinesse and vanitie.

8 He sitteth lurking in the priuie corners of the streets: and priuily in his lurking denne doeth he murder the innocent, his eyes are set against the poore.

9 For he lieth waiting secretly, euen as a Lion lurketh he in his denne: that he may ravish the poore.

10 He doth ravish the poore: when he getteth him into his net.

11 He falleth downe, and humbleth himselfe: that the Congregation of the poore may fall into the hand of his captaines.

12 He said in his heart, Tush, God hath forgotten: he hideth away his face, and he will neuer see it.

13 Arise (O Lord God) and lift vp thine hand: forget not the poore.

14 Wherefore should the wicked blaspheme God: while he doth say in his heart, Tush, thou God carest not for it.

15 Surely thou hast seene it: for thou beholdest vngodlinesse and wrong.

16 That thou maiest take the matter into thy hand: the poore committeth himselfe vnto thee, for thou art the helper of the friendlesse.

17 Breake thou the power of the vngodly, and malicious: take away his vngodlinesse, and thou shalt finde none.

18 The Lord is King for euer and euer: and the heathen are perished out of the land.

19 Lord, thou hast heard the desire of the poore: thou preparest their heart, and thine eare heareneth thereto.

20 To helpe the fatherlesse and poore vnto their right: that the man of the earth bee no more exalted against them.

In Domino confido. Psal. 11.

In the Lord put I my trust: how say ye then to my soule, that she should flee as a birde vnto the hill?

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Kk1v

2 For loe, the vngodly bend their bowe, and make ready their arrowes within the quiuer: that they may priuily shoote at them which are true of heart.

3 For the foundations will bee cast downe: and what hath the righteous done?

4 The Lord is in his holy Temple: the Lords seate is in heauen.

5 His eyes consider the poore: and his eye lids trieth the children of men.

6 The Lord alloweth the righteous: but the vngodly, and him that delighteth in wickednesse doeth his soule abhorre.

7 Vpon the vngodly hee shall raine snares, fire, and brimstone, storme, & tempest: this shalbe their portion to drinke.

8 For the righteous Lord loueth righteousnesse: his countenance will behold the thing that is iust.

Saluum me fac. Psal. 12.

Euening prayer.

HElpe mee Lord, for there is not one godly man left: for the faithfull are minished from among the children of men.

2 They talke of vanitie euery one with his neighbour: they do but flatter with their lips, and dissemble with their double heart.

3 The Lord shall roote out all deceitfull lips: and the tongue that speaketh proud things.

4 Which haue said, with our tongue we will preuaile: we are they that ought to speake, who is Lord ouer vs?

5 Now for the comfortlesse troubles sake of the needy: and because of the deepe sighing of the poore,

6 I will vp (saith the Lord:) and will helpe euery one from him that swelleth against him, and will set them at rest.

7 The wordes of the Lord are pure wordes: euen as the siluer which from the earth is tried, and purified seuen times in the fire.

8 Thou shalt keepe them, O Lord: thou shalt preserue him for this generation for euer.

9 The vngodly walke on euery side: when they are exalted, the children of men are put to rebuke.

Vsquequo Domine. Psal. 13.

HOw long wilt thou forget mee (O Lord) for euer: howe long wilt thou hide thy face from me?

2 Howe long shall I seeke counsell in my soule, and be so vexed in my heart: how long shall mine enemies triumph ouer me?

3 Consider and heare mee, O Lord my God: lighten mine eyes, that I sleepe not in death.

4 Least mine enemie say, I haue preuailed against him: for if I bee cast downe, they that trouble me will reioyce at it.

5 But my trust is in thy mercie: and my heart is ioyful in thy saluation.

6 I will sing of the Lord, because hee hath dealt so louingly with me: yea, I will praise the Name of the Lord most highest.

Dixit insipiens. Psal. 14.

THe foole hath said in his heart: There is no God.

2 They are corrupt and become abominable in their doings: there is not one that doth good, (no not one.)

3 The Lord looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men: to see if there were any that would vnderstand and seeke after God.

4 But they are all gone out of the way, they are altogether become abominable: there is none that doeth good, no not one.

5 Their throate is an open sepulchre, with their tongues haue they deceiued: the poyson of aspes is vnder their lips.

6 Their mouth is full of cursing and bitternesse: their feete are swift to shed blood.

7 Destruction and vnhappinesse is in their waies, & the way of peace haue they not known: there is no feare of God before their eyes.

8 Haue they no knowledge, that they are all such workers of mischiefe: eating vp my people as it were bread?

9 And cal not vpon the Lord, there were they brought in great feare (euen where no feare was:) for God is in the generation of the righteous.

10 As for you, yee haue made a mocke at the counsaile of the poore: because hee putteth his trust in the Lord.

11 Who shall giue saluation vnto Israel out of Sion: when the Lord turneth the captiuitie of his people, then shall Iacob reioyce, and Israel shalbe glad.

Domine quis habitabit? Psal. 15.

Morning prayer.

LOrd who shall dwell in thy Tabernacle: or who shall rest vpon thy holy hill?

2 Euen hee that leadeth an vncorrupt life: and doeth the thing which is right, and speaketh the trueth from his heart.

3 He that hath vsed no deceit in his tongue, nor done euill to his neighbour: and hath not slandered his neighbours.

4 He that setteth not by himselfe, but is lowly in his owne eyes: and maketh much of them that feare the Lord.

5 He that sweareth vnto his neighbour, and disappointeth him not: though it were to his owne hinderance.

6 Hee that hath not giuen his money vpon vsury: nor taken reward against the innocent.

7 Who so doth these things: shall neuer fall.

Conserua me. Psal. 16.

PReserue mee, O God: for in thee haue I put my trust.

2 O my soule, thou hast said vnto the Lord: thou art my God, my goods are nothing vnto thee.

3 All my delight is vpon the saints that are in the earth: and vpon such as excell in vertue.

4 But they that runne after another God: shall haue great trouble.

5 Their drinke offerings of blood will I not offer: neither make mention of their names within my lips.

6 The Lord himselfe is the portion of mine inheritance, and of my cuppe: thou shalt maintaine my lot.

7 The lot is fallen vnto me in a faire ground: yea, I haue a goodly heritage.

8 I will thanke the Lord for giuing mee warning: my reines also chasten me in the night season.

9 I haue set God alwayes before me: for he is on my right hand, therefore I shall not fall.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Kk2r

9 10 Therefore my heart was glad, and my glory reioyced: my flesh also shall rest in hope.
11 For why? thou shalt not leaue my soule in hell: neither shalt thou suffer thine holy One to see corruption.
12 Thou shalt shew me the path of life, in thy presence is the fulnesse of ioy: and at thy right hand there is pleasure for euermore.

Exaudi Domine iustitiam. Psal. 17.

HEare the right, O Lord, consider my complaint: and hearken vnto my prayer, that goeth not out of fained lips.
2 Let my sentence come forth from thy presence: and let thine eyes looke vpon the thing that is equall.
3 Thou hast proued and visited mine heart in the night season, thou hast tried me, and shalt finde no wickednes in me: for I am vtterly purposed that my mouth shall not offend.
4 Because of mens workes that are done against the wordes of my lippes: I haue kept me from the wayes of the destroyer.
5 O holde thou vp my goings in thy paths: that my footesteps slip not.
6 I haue called vpon thee, O God, for thou shalt heare mee: encline thine eare to mee, and hearken vnto my words.
7 Shew thy maruelous louing kindnesse, thou that art the Sauiour of them which put their trust in thee: from such as resist thy right hand.
8 Keepe me as the apple of an eye: hide mee vnder the shadow of thy wings,
9 From the vngodly that trouble me: mine enemies compasse mee round about, to take away my soule.
10 They are inclosed in their owne fat: and their mouth speaketh proud things.
11 They lie waiting in our way on euery side: turning their eyes downe to the ground.
12 Like as a Lion that is greedy of his pray: and as it were a Lions whelpe lurking in secret places.
13 Vp, Lord, disappoint him, and cast him downe: deliuer my soule from the vngodly, which is a sword of thine, 14 From the men of thy hand, O Lord, from the men I say, and from the euill world: which haue their portion in this life, whose bellies thou fillest with thy hid treasure.
15 They haue children at their desire: and leaue the rest of their substance for their babes.
16 But as for me, I will beholde thy presence in righteousnesse: and when I awake vp after thy likenesse, I shalbe satisfied with it.

Diligam te. Psal. 18.

Euening prayer.

I Will loue thee, (O Lord) my strength, the Lord is my stonie rocke and my defence: my Sauiour, my God, and my might, in whom I wil trust, my buckler, the horne also of saluation, and my refuge.
2 I wil call vpon the Lord, which is worthy to be prayed: so shall I be safe from mine enemies.
3 The sorowes of death compassed mee: and the ouerflowings of vngodlinesse made mee afraide.
4 The paines of hell came about mee: the snares of death ouertooke me.
5 In my trouble I will call vpon the Lord: and complaine vnto my God.
6 So shal he heare my voyce out of his holy Temple: and my complaint shall come before him, it shall enter euen into his eares.
7 The earth trembled and quaked, the very foundations also of the hilles shooke and were remoued, because he was wroth.
8 There went a smoke out of his presence: and a consuming fire out of his mouth, so that coales were kindled at it.
9 He bowed the heauens also, & came downe: and it was darke vnder his feete.
10 He rode vpon the Cherubins, and did flie: he came flying vpon the wings of the winde.
11 He made darknesse his secret place: his pauilion round about him, with darke water and thicke cloudes to couer him.
12 At the brightnes of his presence his clouds removed: hailestones and coales of fire.
13 The Lord also thundred out of heauen: and the highest gaue his thunder: hailestones and coales of fire.
14 He sent out his arrowes, and scattered them: he cast forth lightnings & destroyed them.
15 The springs of waters were seen, and the foundations of the round worlde were discouered at thy chiding, O Lord: at the blasting of the breath of thy displeasure.
16 He shal send downe from the high to fetch me: and shal take me out of many waters.
17 He shall deliuer me from my strongest enemie, and from them which hate me: for they are too mighty for me.
18 They preuented mee in the day of my trouble: but the Lord was my vpholder.
19 He brought me forth also into a place of libertie: he brought me forth, euen because he had a fauour vnto me.
20 The Lord shal reward me after my righteous dealing: according to the cleannesse of my hands shall he recompence me.
21 Because I haue kept the wayes of the Lord: and haue not forsaken my God as the wicked doeth.
22 For I haue an eye vnto all his Lawes, and will not cast out his Commaundements from me.
23 I was also vncorrupt before him: and eschewed mine owne wickednesse.
24 Therefore shall the Lord reward me after my righteous dealing: and according vnto the cleannesse of my hands in his eye sight.
25 With the holy, thou shalt be holy: and with a perfect man, thou shalt be perfect.
26 With the cleane, thou shalt be cleane: and with the froward, thou shalt learn frowardnes.
27 For thou shalt saue the people that are in aduersitie: and shalt bring downe the high lookes of the proud.
28 Thou also shalt light my candle: the Lord my God shall make my darknesse to be light.
29 For in thee I shall discomfite an hoste of men: and with the helpe of my God I shall leape ouer the wall.
30 The way of God is an vndefiled way: the word of the Lord also is tried in the fire, he is the defender of all them that put their trust in him.
31 For who is God but the Lord: or who hath any strength except our God?
32 It is God that girdeth mee with strength of warre: and maketh my way perfect.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Kk2v

33 He maketh my feete like harts feete: and setteth me vp on high.
34 He teacheth my hands to warre: and mine
armes shall breake euen a bow of steele.
35 Thou hast giuen me the defence of thy sal-uation: thy right hand also shall hold me vp, and thy louing correction shall make me great.
36 Thou shalt make rowme enough vnder me for to goe: that my ankles shall not slide.
37 I will follow vpon mine enemies, and o-uertake them: neither will I turne againe till I haue destroyed them.
38 I will smite them, that they shall not bee able to stand: but fall vnder my feete.
39 Thou hast girded mee with strength vnto the battell: thou shalt throwe downe mine enemies vnder me.
40 Thou hast made mine enemies also to turne their backes vpon mee: and I shall destroy them that hate me.
41 They shall cry, but there shall bee none to helpe them: yea, euen vnto the Lord shall they cry, but he shall not heare them.
42 I will beate them as small as the dust before the winde: I will cast them out as the clay in the streetes.
43 Thou shalt deliuer me from the strivings of the people: and thou shalt make mee the head of the heathen.
44 A people whom I haue not known: shall serue me.
45 Alloone as they hegre of mee, they shall obey mee: but the strange children shall dissemble with me.
46 The strange children shall fade: and bee afraide out of their prisons.
47 The Lord liueth, and blessed bee my strong helper: and praised bee the God of my sal-uation.
48 Even the God which seeth that I be auenged: and subdueth the people vnto me.
49 It is he that deliuereth me from my cruel enemies, and setteth mee vp aboue mine aduer-saries: thou shalt rid me from the wicked man.
50 For this cause will I giue thankes vnto thee (O Lord) among the Gentiles: and sing praises vnto thy Name.
51 Great prosperitie giueth he vnto his king:
and sheweth louing kindnesse vnto Dauid his anoynted, and vnto his seed for euermore.

Cœli enarrant. Psal. 19.

Morning prayer.

THE heauens declare the glory of God: and the firmament sheweth his handy worke.
2 One day telleth another: and one night certifieth another.
3 There is neither speach nor language:
but their voyces are heard among them.
4 Their sound is gone out into all landes:
and their words into the ends of the world.
5 In them hath he set a Tabernacle for the Sunne: which commeth forth as a bridegrome out of his chamber, and reioyceth as a Giant to runne his course.
6 It goeth forth from the vttermost part of the heauen, and runneth about vnto the ende of it againe: and there is nothing hidde from the heate thereof.
7 The Law of the Lord is an vndefiled Law, conuerting the soule: the testimony of the Lord is sure, and giueth wisedome vnto the simple.
8 The statutes of the Lord are right, and re-ioyce the heart: the commandement of the Lord is pure, and giueth light vnto the eyes.
9 The feare of the Lord is cleane, and endu-reth for euer: the iudgements of the Lord are true, and righteous altogether.
10 More to be desired are they then gold, yea, then much fine golde: sweeter also then hony,
and the hony combe.
11 Moreouer, by them is thy seruant taught:
and in keeping of them there is great reward.
12 Who can tell how oft he offendeth: O clense
thou me from my secret faults.
13 Keepe thy seruant also from presumptuous sinnes, least they get the dominion ouer me:
so shall I bee vndefiled, and innocent from the great offence.
14 Let the wordes of my mouth, and the meditation of my heart: be alway acceptable in thy sight.
15 O Lord: my strength, and my redeemer.

Exaudiat te Dominus. Psal. 20.

THE Lord heare thee in the day of trouble: the Name of the God of Jacob defend thee.
2 Send thee helpe from the Sanctuary:
and strength thee out of Sion.
3 Remember all thy offerings: and accept thy burnt sacrifice.
4 Grant thee thy harts desire: and fulfill all thy minde.
5 Wee will reioyce in thy saluation, and triumph in the Name of the Lord our God: the Lord perfourme all thy petitions.
6 Now know we I that the Lord helpeth his anoynted, and will heare him from his holy heauen: euen with the wholesome strength of his right hand.
7 Some put their trust in charets, and some in horses: but wee will remember the Name of the Lord our God.
8 They are brought downe and fallen: but we are risen, and stand vpright.
9 Saue Lord, and heare vs, O King of heauen: when we call vpon thee.

Domine in virtute. Psal. 21.

THE King shall reioyce in thy strength, O Lord: exceeding glad shall he be of thy saluation.
2 Thou hast giuen him his hearts desire: and hast not denied him the request of his lips. Selah 3 For thou shalt preuent him with the blessings of goodnesse: and shalt set a crowne of pure gold vpon his head.
4 He asked life of thee, and thou gauest him a long life: euen for euer and euer.
5 His honour is great in thy saluation: glory and great worship shalt thou lay vpon him.
6 For thou shalt giue him euerlasting feli-citie: and make him glad with the ioy of thy countenance.
7 And why? because the King putteth his trust in the Lord: and in the mercie of the most highest he shall not miscary.
8 All thine enemies shall feele thy hand: thy right hand shall finde out them that hate thee.
9 Thou shalt make them like a fiery ouen in time of thy wrath: the Lord shall destroy them in his displeasure, and the fire shall consume them.
10 Their fruite shalt thou roote out of the earth:

earth: and their seede from among the children of men.

11 For they intended mischiefe against thee: and imagined such a deuice that they are not able to performe.

12 Therefore shalt thou put them to flight: and the strings of thy bowe shalt thou make ready against the face of them.

13 Bee thou exalted Lorde in thine owne strength: so will we sing and praise thy power.

Deus Deus meus. Psal. 22.

Euening prayer.

MY God, my God, (looke vpon me) why hast thou forsaken me: and art so farre from my health, and from the wordes of my complaint?

2 O my God, I crie in the day time, but thou hearest not: and in the night season also I take no rest.

3 And thou continuest holy: O thou worship of Israel.

4 Our fathers hoped in thee: they trusted in thee, and thou diddest deliuer them.

5 They called vpon thee, and were holpen: they put their trust in thee, and were not confounded.

6 But as for me, I am a worme, and no man: a very scorne of men, and the outcast of the people.

7 All they that see me, laugh mee to scorne: they shoote out their lips, and shake their head, saying,

8 Bee trusted in God that bee would deliuer him: let him deliuer him if he will haue him.

9 But thou art hee that toke me out of my mothers wombe: thou wast my hope when I hanged yet vpon my mothers breasts.

10 I haue beene left vnto thee euer since I was borne: thou art my God euen from my mothers wombe.

11 O goe not from me, for trouble is hard at hand, and there is none to helpe me.

12 Many oxen are come about me: fat bulles of Basan close me in on euery side.

13 They gape vpon me with their mouthes: as it were a ramping and roaring Lion.

14 I am powred out like water, and all my bones are out of ioint: my heart also in the middest of my body is euen like melting wax.

15 My strength is dried vp like a potsheard, and my tongue cleaueth to my gummes: and thou shalt bring me into the dust of death.

16 For (many) dogs are come about mee: and the counsel of the wicked layeth siege against mee.

17 They pearced my hands, and my feete, I may tell all my bones: they stand staring and looking vpon me.

18 They part my garments among them: and cast lots vpon my vesture.

19 But be not thou farre from mee, O Lord: thou art my succour, haste thee to helpe me.

20 Deliuer my soule from the sword: my darling from the power of the dog.

21 Saue mee from the Lions mouth: thou hast heard me also from among the hornes of the vnicornes.

22 I will declare thy name vnto my brethren: in the middest of the congregation will I praise thee.

23 O praise the Lord ye that feare him: magnifie him all ye of the seede of Jacob, and feare him all ye seede of Israel.

24 For he hath not despised nor abhorred the lowe estate of the poore, he hath not hid his face from him: but when he called vnto him, he heard him.

25 My praise is of thee in the great congregation: my vowes will I performe in the sight of them that feare him.

26 The poore shall eate and be satisfied: they that seeke after the Lord, shall praise him, your heart shall liue for euer.

27 All the ends of the world shall remember themselues, and bee turned vnto the Lord: and all the kinreds of the nations shall worship before him.

28 For the kingdome is the Lords: and hee is the gouernour among the people.

29 All such as be fat vpon earth: haue eaten and worshipped.

All they that goe downe into the dust shall kneele before him: and no man hath quickned his owne soule.

30 My seede shal serue him: they shalbe counted vnto the Lord for a generation.

32 They shall come, and the heauens shall declare his righteousnesse: vnto a people that shall be borne, whom the Lord hath made.

Dominus regit me. Psal. 23.

THe Lord is my shepheard: therefore can I lacke nothing.

2 He shall feede me in a greene pasture: and leade me forth beside the waters of comfort.

3 He shall conuert my soule: and bring mee forth in the paths of righteousnes, for his names sake.

4 Yea, though I walke through the valley of the shadowe of death, I will feare no euill: for thou art with me, thy rod and thy staffe comfort me.

5 Thou shalt prepare a table before mee, against them that trouble mee: thou hast anointed my head with oyle, and my cup shall be full.

6 But thy louing kindnesse and mercie shall follow mee all the dayes of my life: and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for euer.

Domini est terra, Psal. 24.

Morning prayer.

THe earth is the Lords, and all that therein is: the compasse of the world, & they that dwell therein.

2 For he hath founded it vpon the seas: and prepared it vpon the floods.

3 Who shall ascend into the hill of Lord: or who shall rise vp in his holy place?

4 Euen he that hath cleane hands, & a pure heart: and that hath not lift vp his mind vnto vanitie, nor sworne to deceiue his neighbour.

5 Hee shall receiue the blessing from the Lord: and righteousnesse from the God of his saluation.

6 This is the generation of them that seeke him: euen of them that seeke thy face, O Jacob.

7 Lift vp your heads, O ye gates, and be ye lift vp ye euerlasting doores: and the king of glorie shall come in.

8 Who is the king of glorie: it is the Lorde strong and mighty, euen the Lorde mighty in battell.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Kk3v

9 Lift vp your heads, O ye gates, and be ye lift vp ye euerlasting doores: and the King of glorie shall come in.
10 Who is the King of glory: euen the Lord of hosts, he is the king of glory. Selah.

Ad te Domine. Psal. 25.

VNto thee, O Lord, will I lift vp my soule, my God, I haue put my trust in thee: O let me not be confounded, neither let mine enemies triumph ouer me.
3 For all they that hope in thee shal not be ashamed: but such as transgresse without a cause, shalbe put to confusion.
4 Shew me thy waies, O Lord: and teach me thy paths.
5 Leade me forth in thy trueth, and teache me: for thou art the God of my saluation, in thee haue I bene my hope all the day long.
6 Call to remembrance, O Lord, thy tender mercies: and thy louing kindnesse which haue bene euer of old.
7 Oh remember not the sinnes and offences of my youth: but according to thy mercie thinke thou vpon mee (O Lorde) for thy goodnesse.
8 Gracious and righteous is the Lorde:
therefore will he teach sinners in the way.
9 The meeke shal he guide in iudge-ment: and such as be gentle, them shall he learne his way.
10 All the pathes of the Lord are mercie and trueth: vnto such as keepe his couenant and his testimonies.
11 For thy names sake, O Lord: be mercifull vnto my sinne, for it is great.
12 What man is hee that feareth the Lord:
him shall he teach in the way that he shal choose.
13 His soule shall dwell at ease: and his seede shall inherite the land.
14 The secret of the Lord is among them that feare him: and he will shew them his couenant.
15 Mine eies are euer looking vnto the Lord:
for he shall plucke my feete out of the net.
16 Turne thee vnto me, and haue mercie vp-on me: for I am desolate and in miserie.
17 The sorowes of my heart are enlarged:
O bring thou me out of my troubles.
18 Looke vpon mine aduersitie and miserie:
and forgiue me all my sinnes.
19 Consider mine enemies how many they are: and they beare a tyrannous hate against mee.
20 O keepe my soule and deliuer me: let mee not be confounded, for I haue put my trust in thee.
21 Let perfectnesse and righteous dealing waite vpon mee: for my hope hath bene in thee.
22 Deliuer Israel, O God: out of all his troubles.

Iudica me Domine. Psal. 26.

BEe thou my iudge, O Lord, for I haue walked innocently: my trust hath bene also in the Lord, therefore shall I not fall.
2 Examine me, O Lord, and proue me: trie out my reines and my heart.
3 For thy louing kindnesse is euer before mine eyes: and I will walke in thy trueth.
4 I haue not dwelt with vaine persons: neither will I haue fellowship with the deceitfull.
5 I haue hated the congregation of the wicked: and will not sit among the vngodly.
6 I will wash my handes in innocencie, O
Lord: and so will I goe to thine altar,
7 That I may shew the voice of thankesgi-uing: and tel of all thy wonderous workes.
8 Lord, I haue loued the habitation of thy house: and the place where thine honour dwelleth.
9 O shut not vp my soule with the sinners:
nor my life with the bloodthirstie.
10 In whose hands is wickednes: and their right hands are full of gifts.
11 But as for mee, I will walke innocently:
O Lord deliuer me, and be mercifull vnto me.
12 My foote standeth right: I will praise the Lord in the congregations.

Dominus illuminatio. Psal. 27.

THe Lord is my light and my saluation, whome then shall I feare:
the Lorde is the strength of my life, of whome then shall I bee afraid?
2 When the wicked (euen mine enemies and my foes) came vpon me to eate vp my flesh: they stumbled and fell.
3 Though an hoste of men were laid against me, yet shall not my heart be afraid: and though there rose vp warre against mee, yet will I put my trust in him.
4 One thing haue I desired of the Lord, which I will require: euen that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the dayes of my life, to behold the faire beauty of the Lord, and to visite his temple.
5 For in the time of trouble he shall hide me in his tabernacle: yea, in the secret place of his dwelling shall he hide mee, and set me vp vpon a rocke of stone.
6 And now shall he lift vp mine head: aboue mine enemies round about me.
7 Therefore will I offer in his dwelling an oblation with great gladnesse: I will sing and speake prayses vnto the Lord.
8 Hearken vnto my voice, O Lord, when I crie vnto thee: haue mercie vpon me, and heare
mee.
9 My heart hath talked of thee, seeke ye my face: thy face Lord will I seeke.
10 O hide not thou thy face from me: nor cast thy seruant away in displeasure.
11 Thou hast bene my succour: leaue me not, neither forsake me, O God of my saluation.
12 When my father and my mother forsake me: the Lord taketh me vp.
13 Teach me thy way, O Lord: and leade me in the right way, because of mine enemies.
14 Deliuer me not ouer into the will of mine aduersaries: for there are false witnesses risen vp against me, and such as speake wrong.
15 I should vtterly haue fainted: but that I beleeue verily to see the goodnesse of the Lord in the land of the liuing.
16 O tarie thou the Lords leasure: be strong, and hee shall comfort thine heart, and put thou thy trust in the Lord.

Ad te Domine. Psal. 28.

VNto thee will I crie, O Lord, my strength:
thinke no scorne of me, lest if thou make as though thou hearest not, I become like them that goe downe into the pit.

when I crie vnto thee: when I holde vp my hands toward the mercy seat of thy holy temple.

3 Plucke mee not away (neither destroy me) with the vngodly and wicked doers, which speake friendly to their neighbours, but imagine mischiefe in their hearts.

4 Reward them according to their deedes: and according to the wickednesse of their owne inuentions.

5 Recompense them after the worke of their hands: pay them that they haue deserued.

6 For they regard not in their minde the workes of the Lorde, nor the operation of his hands: therefore shall hee breake them downe, and not build them vp.

7 Praised be the Lord: for he hath heard the voice of my humble petitions.

8 The Lord is my strength and my shielde, my heart hath trusted in him, and I am helped: therefore my heart danceth for ioy, and in my song will I praise him.

9 The Lord is my strength: and hee is the wholesome defence of his anointed.

10 O saue thy people, and giue thy blessing vnto thine inheritance: feed them, and let them vp for euer.

Afferte Domino. Psal. 29.

BRing vnto the Lord (O yee mightie) bring yong lambes vnto the Lord: ascribe vnto the Lord worship and strength.

2 Giue the Lord the honour due vnto his name: worship the Lord with holy worship.

3 It is the Lord that commandeth the waters: it is the glorious GOD that maketh the thunder.

4 It is the Lord that ruleth the sea, the voice of the Lord is mighty in operation; the voice of the Lord is a glorious voice.

5 The voice of the Lord breaketh the Cedar trees: yea, the Lord breaketh the Cedars of Libanus.

6 He made them also to skip like a calfe: Libanus also and Syrion like a yong vnicorne.

7 The voice of the Lord diuideth the flames of fire, the voice of the Lord shaketh the wildernesse: yea, the Lord maketh the wildernesse of Cades.

8 The voice of the Lord maketh the Hindes to bring forth yong, and discouereth the thicke bushes: in his temple doth euery man speake of his honour.

9 The Lord sitteth aboue the water flood: and the Lord remaineth a King for euer.

10 The Lorde shall giue strength vnto his people: the Lord shall giue his people the blessing of peace.

Exaltabo te Domine, Psal. 30.

Morning prayer.

I Will magnifie thee, O Lorde, for thou hast set me vp: and not made my foes to triumph ouer me.

2 O Lord my God, I cried vnto thee: and thou hast healed me.

3 Thou Lord hast brought my soule out of hell: thou hast kept me from them that goe downe to the pit.

4 Sing praises vnto the Lord, O ye saints of his: and giue thankes to him for a remembrance of his holinesse.

5 For his wrath endureth but the twinckling of an eye, and in his pleasure is life: heauinesse may indure for a night, but ioy commeth in the morning.

6 And in my prosperitie I sayd, I shall neuer bee remooued: thou Lord of thy goodnesse hadst made my hill so strong.

7 Thou didst turne thy face (from me:) and I was troubled.

8 Then cried I vnto thee, O Lord: and gate me vnto my Lord right humbly.

9 What profit is there in my blood: when I goe downe to the pit?

10 Shall the dust giue thankes vnto thee: or shall it declare thy trueth?

11 Heare, O Lord, and haue mercie vpon me: Lord be thou my helper.

12 Thou hast turned my heauinesse into ioy: thou hast put off my sackecloth, and girded mee with gladnesse.

13 Therefore shal euery good man sing of thy praise without ceasing: O my God, I will giue thanks vnto thee for euer.

In te Domine speraui. Psal. 31.

IN thee, O Lord, haue I put my trust: let mee neuer bee put to confusion, deliuer mee in thy righteousnesse.

2 Bow downe thine eare to me: make haste to deliuer me.

3 And be thou my strong rocke, and the house of defence: that thou mayest saue me.

4 For thou art my strong rocke, and my castle: be thou also my guide, and leade me for thy names sake.

5 Draw mee out of the net that they haue layd priuily for me: for thou art my strength.

6 Into thy hands I commend my spirit: for thou hast redeemed mee, O Lord, thou God of trueth.

7 I haue hated them that hold of superfluous vanities: and my trust hath bene in the Lord.

8 I will bee glad, and reioice in thy mercie: for thou hast considered my trouble, and hast knowen my soule in aduersities.

9 Thou hast not shut mee vp into the hand of the enemie: but hast set my feete in a large roume.

10 Haue mercie vpon mee, O Lord, for I am in trouble: and mine eye is consumed for very heauinesse, yea, my soule and my body.

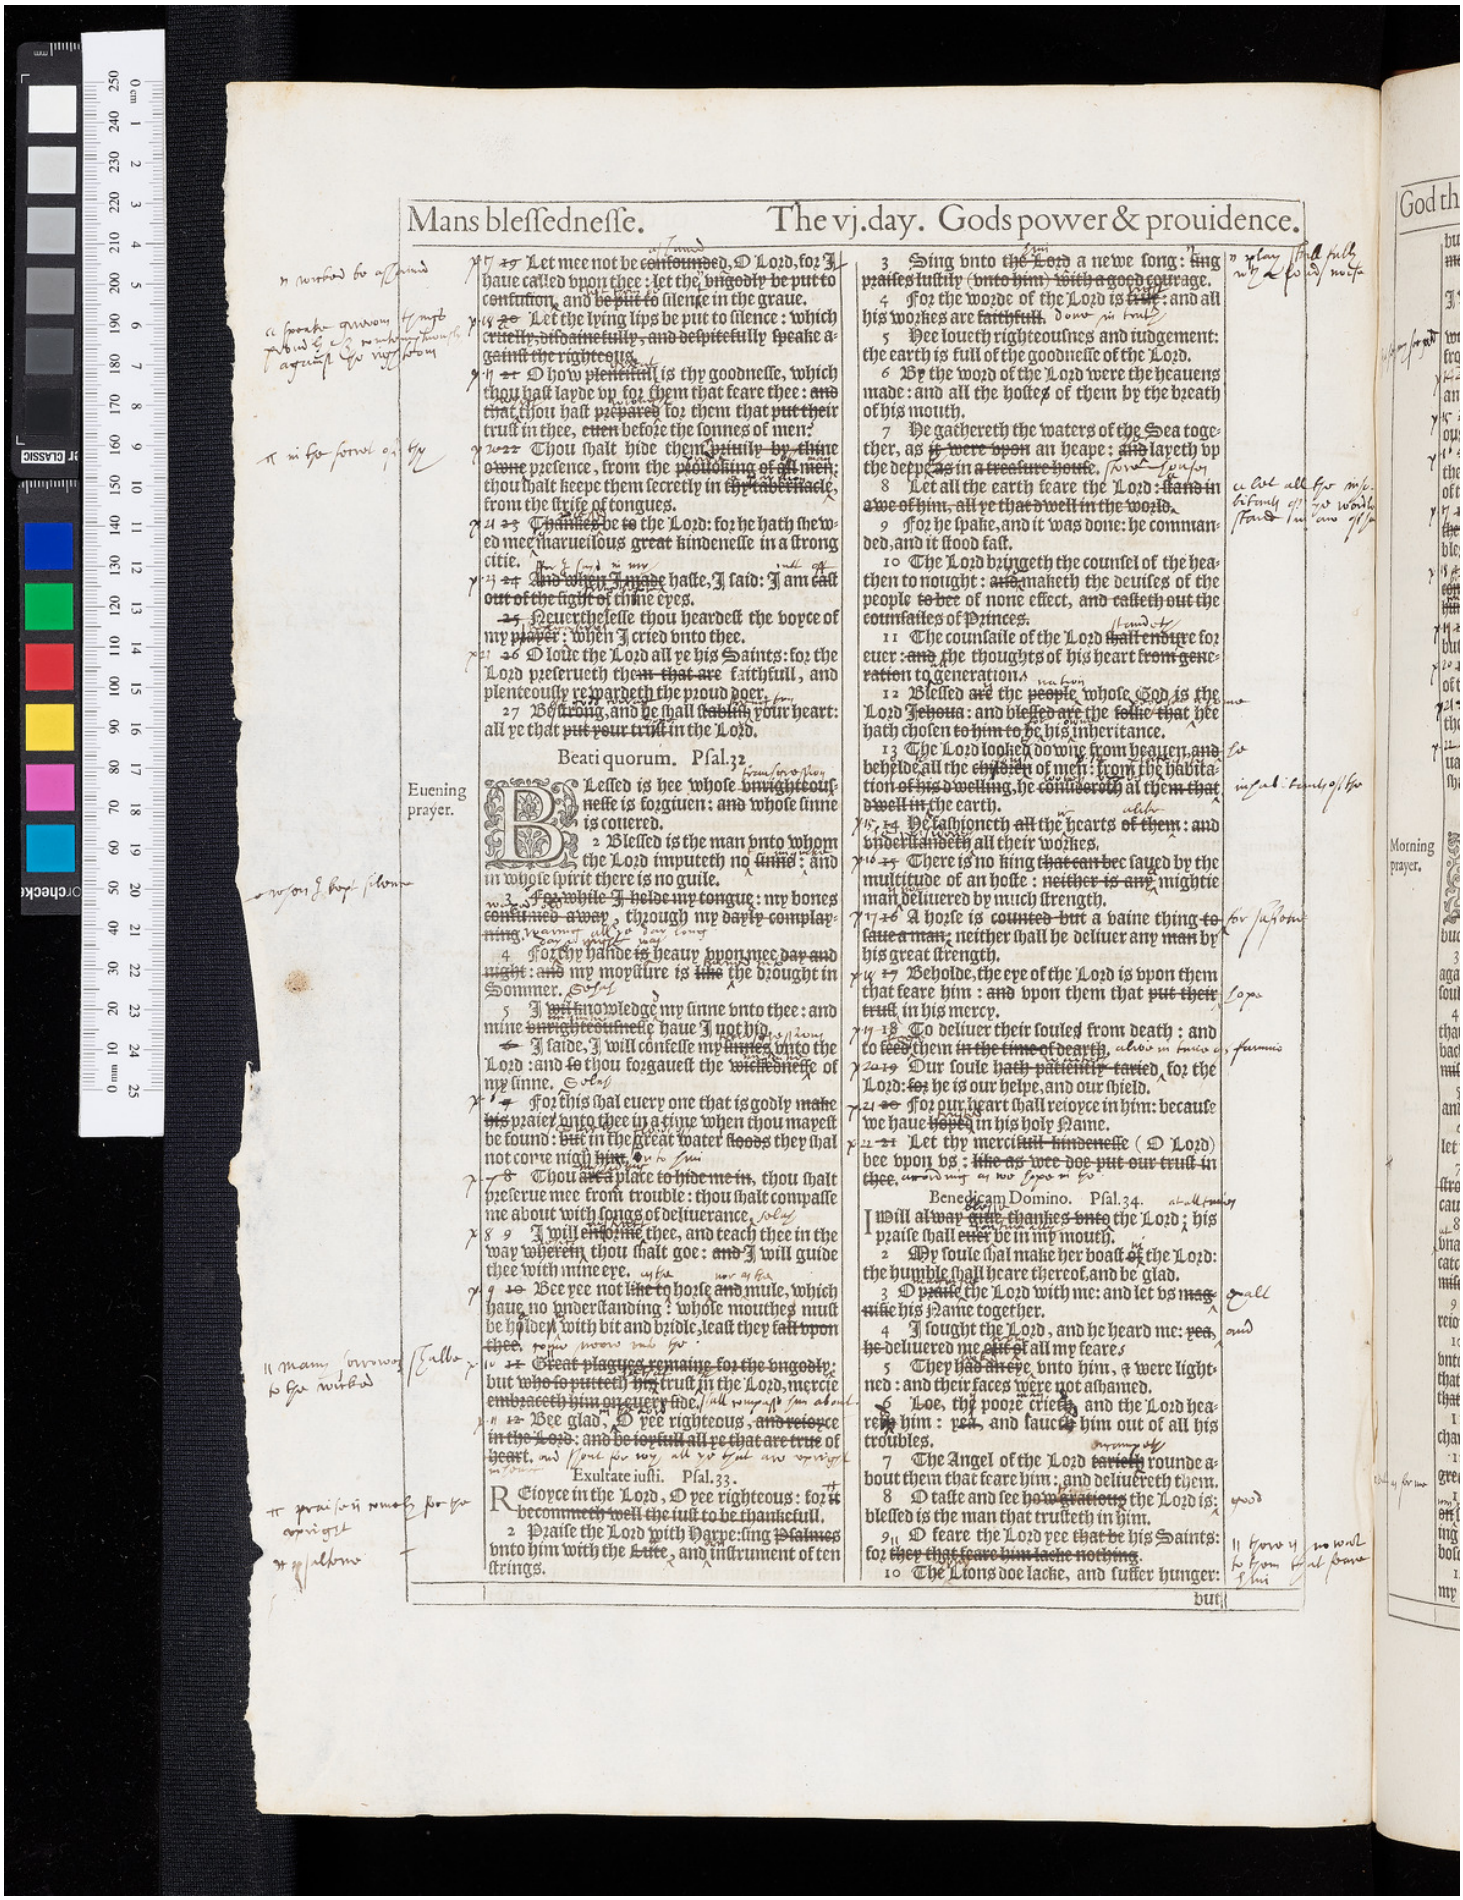
11 For my life is waxen old with heauinesse: and my yeeres with mourning.

12 My strength faileth me, because of mine iniquitie: and my bones are consumed.

13 I became a reproch among all mine enemies, but specially among my neighbours: and they of mine acquaintance were afraid of me, and they that did see mee without, conueied themselues from me.

14 I am cleane forgotten, as a dead man out of minde: I am become like a broken vessell.

15 For I haue heard the blasphemie of the multitude: and feare is on euery side, while they conspire together against mee, and take their counsaile to take away my life.



16 But my hope hath bene, in thee, O Lord: I haue said, Thou art my God.

17 My time is in thy hand, deliuer mee from the hand of mine enemies: and from them that persecute me.

18 Shew thy seruant the light of thy countenance: and saue me for thy mercies sake.

fol. Kk4v

17 Let mee not be confounded, O Lord, for I haue called vpon thee: let the vngodly be put to confusion, and be put to silence in the graue.

18 Let the lying lips be put to silence: which cruelly, disdainefully, and despitefully speake against the righteous.

19 O how plentifull is thy goodnesse, which thou hast layde vp for them that feare thee: and that thou hast prepared for them that put their trust in thee, euen before the sonnes of men!

20 Thou shalt hide them priuily by thine owne presence, from the prouoking of all men: thou shalt keepe them secretly in thy tabernacle, from the strife of tongues.

21 Thanked be to the Lord: for he hath shewed mee marueilous great kindenesse in a strong citie.

22 And when I made haste, I said: I am cast out of the sight of thine eyes.

Neuertheless thou heardest the voyce of my prayer: when I cried vnto thee.

23 O loue the Lord all ye his Saints: for the Lord preserueth them that are faithfull, and plentifully rewardeth the proud doer.

27 Be strong, and he shall stablish your heart: all ye that put your trust in the Lord.

Beati quorum. Psal. 32.

Euening prayer.

BLessed is hee whose vnrighteousnesse is forgiuen: and whose sinne is couered.

2 Blessed is the man vnto whom the Lord imputeth no sinne: and in whose spirit there is no guile.

3 For while I held my tongue: my bones consumed away, through my daily complaining.

4 For thy hande is heauy vpon mee day and night: and my moysture is like the drought in Sommer.

5 I will knowledge my sinne vnto thee: and mine vnrighteousnesse haue I not hid.

I saide, I will confesse my sinnes vnto the Lord: and so thou forgauest the wickednesse of my sinne.

6 For this shal euery one that is godly make his prayer vnto thee in a time when thou mayest be found: but in the great water floods they shal not come nigh him.

7 8 Thou art a place to hide me in, thou shalt preserue mee from trouble: thou shalt compasse me about with songs of deliuerance.

8 9 I will enforme thee, and teach thee in the way wherein thou shalt goe: and I will guide thee with mine eye.

9 10 Bee yee not like to horse and mule, which haue no vnderstanding: whose mouthes must be holden with bit and bridle, least they fall vpon thee.

10 11 Great plagues remaine for the vngodly: but who so putteth his trust in the Lord, mercie embraceth him on euery side.

11 12 Bee glad, O yee righteous, and reioyce in the Lord: and be ioyfull all ye that are true of heart.

Exultate iusti. Psal. 33.

REioyce in the Lord, O yee righteous: for it becommeth well the iust to be thankefull.

2 Praise the Lord with Harpe: sing Psalmes vnto him with the Lute, and instrument of ten strings.

3 Sing vnto the Lord a newe song: sing praises lustily (vnto him) with a good courage.

4 For the worde of the Lord is true: and all his workes are faithfull.

5 Hee loueth righteousnes and iudgement: the earth is full of the goodnesse of the Lord.

6 By the word of the Lord were the heauens made: and all the hostes of them by the breath of his mouth.

7 He gathereth the waters of the Sea together, as if it were vpon an heape: and layeth vp the deepe as in a treasure house.

8 Let all the earth feare the Lord: stand in awe of him, all ye that dwell in the world.

9 For he spake, and it was done: he commanded, and it stood fast.

10 The Lord bringeth the counsel of the heathen to nought: and maketh the deuises of the people to bee of none effect, and casteth out the counsailes of Princes.

11 The counsaile of the Lord shall endure for euer: and the thoughts of his heart from generation to generation.

12 Blessed are the people whose God is the Lord Iehoua: and blessed are the folke that hee hath chosen to him to be his inheritance.

13 The Lord looked downe from heauen, and beheld all the children of men: from the habitation of his dwelling he considereth all them that dwell in the earth.

15, 14 He fashioneth all the hearts of them: and vnderstandeth all their workes.

16 17 There is no king that can bee saued by the multitude of an hoste: neither is any mightie man deliuered by much strength.

17 18 A horse is counted but a vaine thing to saue a man: neither shall he deliuer any man by his great strength.

19 Beholde, the eye of the Lord is vpon them that feare him: and vpon them that put their trust in his mercy.

19 18 To deliuer their soules from death: and to feed them in the time of dearth.

20 19 Our soule hath patiently tarried for the Lord: for he is our helpe, and our shield.

21 20 For our heart shall reioyce in him: because we haue hoped in his holy Name.

22 21 Let thy mercifull kindenesse (O Lord) bee vpon vs: like as wee doe put our trust in thee.

Benedicam Domino. Psal. 34.

I Will alway giue thanks vnto the Lord: his praise shall euer be in my mouth.

2 My soule shall make her boast of the Lord: the humble shall heare thereof, and be glad.

3 O praise the Lord with me: and let vs magnifie his Name together.

4 I sought the Lord, and he heard me: yea, he deliuered me out of all my feare.

5 They had an eye vnto him, & were lightned: and their faces were not ashamed.

6 Loe, this poore cried, and the Lord heareth him: yea, and saued him out of all his troubles.

7 The Angel of the Lord tarieth rounde about them that feare him: and deliuereth them.

8 O taste and see how gracious the Lord is: blessed is the man that trusteth in him.

9 11 O feare the Lord yee that be his Saints: for they that feare him lacke nothing.

but they which seeke the Lord, shall want no maner of thing that is good.

11 Come, ye children, and hearken vnto me: I will teach you the feare of the Lord.

12 What man is he that lusteth to liue, and would fayne see good dayes? Keepe thy tongue from euil, and thy lips that they speake no guile.

13 Eschew euill, and doe good: seeke peace, and ensue it.

14 The eyes of the Lord are ouer the righteous: and his eares are open vnto their prayers.

15 The countenance of the Lord is against them that do euil: to roote out the remembrance of them from the earth.

16 The righteous crie, and the Lord heareth them: and deliuereth them out of all their troubles.

17 The Lord is nigh vnto them that are of a contrite heart: and will saue such as be of an humble spirit.

18 Great are the troubles of the righteous: but the Lord deliuereth him out of all.

19 He keepeth all his bones: so that not one of them is broken.

20 But vnto wicked liuers shall slay the vngodly: and they that hate the righteous, shalbe desolate.

21 The Lord deliuereth the soules of his seruants: and all they that put their trust in him, shall not be destitute.

Iudica Domine. Psal. 35.

Morning prayer.

PLeade thou my cause, O Lord, with them that striue with mee: and fight thou against them that fight against me.

2 Lay hand vpon the shield and buckler: and stand vp to helpe me.

3 Bring foorth the speare, and stop the way against them that persecute mee: say vnto my soule, I am thy saluation.

4 Let them be confounded, and put to shame, that seeke after my soule: let them be turned backe, and brought to confusion, that imagine mischiefe for me.

5 Let them be as the dust before the winde: and the Angel of the Lord scattering them.

6 Let their way be darke and slippery: and let the Angel of the Lord persecute them.

7 For they haue priuily layed their net to destroy mee without a cause: yea, euen without a cause haue they made a pit for my soule.

8 Let a sudden destruction come vpon him vnawares, and his net that he hath layd priuily catch himselfe: that hee may fall into his owne mischiefe.

9 And my soule be ioyful in the Lord: it shal reioyce in his saluation.

10 All my bones shall say, Lord, who is like vnto thee, which deliuerest the poore from him that is too strong for him: yea, the poore, & him that is in miserie, from him that spoileth him.

11 False witnesse did rise vp: they layd to my charge things that I knew not.

12 They rewarded mee euill for good: to the great discomfort of my soule.

13 Neuertheless, when they were sicke I put on sackecloth, and humbled my soule with fasting: and my prayer shall turne into mine owne bosome.

14 I behaued my selfe as though it had bene my friend, or my brother: I went heauily, as one that mourneth for his mother.

15 But in mine aduersitie they reioyced, and gathered them together: yea, the very abiects came together against mee vnawares, making mowes at me, and ceased not.

16 With the flatterers were full mockers: which gnashed vpon me with their teeth.

17 Lord, how long wilt thou looke vpon this? O deliuer my soule from the calamities which they bring on mee, and my darling from the lions.

18 So will I giue thee thanks in the great Congregation: I will praise thee among much people.

19 O let not them that are mine enemies triumph ouer me vngodly: neither let them winke with their eyes that hate me without a cause.

20 And why? their communing is not for peace: but they imagine deceitful words against them that are quiet in the land.

21 They gaped on mee with their mouthes, and sayd: Fie on thee, fie on thee, we saw it with our eyes.

22 This hast thou seene, O Lord: holde not thy tongue then, go not farre from me, O Lord.

23 Awake, and stand vp to iudge my quarell: auenge thou my cause, my God and my Lord.

24 Iudge me, O Lord my God, according to thy righteousnesse: and let them not triumph ouer me.

25 Let them not say in their hearts, There, there, so would we haue it: neither let them say, We haue deuoured him.

26 Let them be put to confusion and shame together, that reioyce at my trouble: let them be clothed with rebuke and dishonour, that boast themselues against me.

27 Let them be glad, and reioyce, that fauour my righteous dealing: yea, let them say alway, Blessed be the Lord, which hath pleasure in the prosperity of his seruant.

28 And as for my tongue, it shalbe talking of thy righteousnesse: and of thy praise all the day long.

Dixit iniustus. Psal. 36.

MY heart sheweth me the wickednesse of the vngodly: that there is no feare of God before his eyes.

2 For he flattereth himselfe in his owne sight: vntill his abominable sinne be found out.

3 The words of his mouth are vnrighteous, and full of deceit: he hath left off to behaue himselfe wisely, and to do good.

4 He imagineth mischiefe vpon his bed, and hath set himselfe in no good way: neither doth he abhorre any thing that is euill.

5 Thy mercy (O Lord) reacheth vnto the heauens: and thy faithfulnesse vnto the clouds.

6 Thy righteousnes standeth like the strong mountaines: thy iudgements are like the great deepe.

7 Thou Lord shalt saue both man and beast. How excellent is thy mercy, O God: and the children of men shall put their trust vnder the shadow of thy wings.

8 They shall be satisfied with the plenteousnes of thy house: and thou shalt giue them drinke of thy pleasures, as out of the riuer.

9 For with thee is the well of life: and in thy light shall we see light.

10 O continue foorth thy louing kindnesse vnto them that know thee: and thy righteousnesse vnto them that are true of heart.

11 Let not the foot of pride come against me: & let not the hand of the vngodly cast me downe.

12 There are the fallen (all) that worke wickednesse: they are cast downe, and shall not bee able to stand.

Noli æmulari. Psal. 37.

Euening prayer.

FRet not thy selfe, because of the vngodly: neither be thou enuious against the euill doers.

2 For they shall soone bee cut downe like the grasse: and be withered euen as the greene herbe.

3 Put thou thy trust in the Lord, and be doing good: dwel in the land, and verily thou shalt be fed.

4 Delight thou in the Lorde: and hee shall giue thee thy hearts desire.

5 Commit thy way vnto the Lord, and put thy trust in him: and he shall bring it to passe.

6 He shall make thy righteousnesse as cleare as the light: and thy iust dealing as the noone day.

7 Holde thee still in the Lord, and abide patiently vpon him: but grieue not thy selfe at him whose way doth prosper, against the man that doth after euill counsels.

8 Leaue off from wrath, and let goe displeasure: fret not thy selfe, els shalt thou be moued to do euill.

9 Wicked doers shall be rooted out: and they that patiently abide the Lord, those shall inherit the land.

10 Yet a little while, and the vngodly shall be cleane gone: thou shalt looke after his place, and he shall be away.

11 But the meeke spirited shall possesse the earth: and shall be refreshed in the multitude of peace.

12 The vngodly seeketh counsell against the iust: and gnasheth vpon him with his teeth.

13 The Lorde shall laugh him to scorne: for he hath seene that his day is comming.

14 The vngodly haue drawen out the sword, and haue bent their bowe: to cast downe the poore and needy, and to slay such as be of a right conuersation.

15 Their sword shall goe thorow their owne heart: and their bow shalbe broken.

16 A small thing that the righteous hath: is better then great riches of the vngodly.

17 For the armes of the vngodly shall be broken: and the Lord vpholdeth the righteous.

18 The Lord knoweth the dayes of the godly: and their inheritance shall endure for euer.

19 They shall not be confounded in the perilous time: and in the dayes of dearth they shall haue enough.

20 As for the vngodly they shal perish, and the enemies of the Lorde shall consume as the fat of lambes: yea, euen as the smoake shall they consume away.

21 The vngodly borroweth, and payeth not againe: but the righteous is mercifull and liberall.

22 Such as be blessed of God, shal possesse the land: and they that be cursed of him, shall be rooted out.

23 The Lorde ordereth a good mans going: and maketh his way acceptable to himselfe.

24 Though he fall, he shall not be cast away: for the Lord vpholdeth him with his hand.

25 I haue bene yong, and now am olde: and yet saw I neuer the righteous forsaken, nor his seed begging their bread.

26 The righteous is euer mercifull, and lendeth: and his seed is blessed.

27 Flee from euill, and doe the thing that is good: and dwell for euermore.

28 For the Lorde loueth the thing that is right: hee forsaketh not his that be godly, but they are preserued for euer.

29 The righteous shalbe punished: as for the seed of the vngodly it shalbe rooted out.

30 The righteous shall inherit the land: and dwell therein for euer.

31 The mouth of the righteous is exercised in wisedome: and his tongue will be talking of iudgement.

32 The law of his God is in his heart: and his goings shall not slide.

33 The vngodly seeth the righteous: and seeketh occasion to slay him.

34 The Lord will not leaue him in his hand: nor condemne him when he is iudged.

35 Hope thou in the Lord, and keepe his way, and he shall promote thee, that thou shalt possesse the land: when the vngodly shall perish, thou shalt see it.

36 I my selfe haue seene the vngodly in great power: and flourishing like a greene bay tree.

37 And I went by, and loe, he was gone: I sought him, but his place could no where be found.

38 Keepe innocencie, and take heed vnto the thing that is right: for that shall bring a man peace at the last.

39 As for the transgressours, they shall perish together: and the end of the vngodly is, they shal be rooted out at the last.

40 But the saluation of the righteous commeth of the Lorde: which is also their strength in the time of trouble.

41 And the Lorde shall stand by them, and saue them: hee shall deliuer them from the vngodly, and shall saue them, because they put their trust in him.

Domine ne in furore. Psal. 38.

Morning prayer.

PVt me not to rebuke (O Lord) in thine anger: neither chasten me in thy heauy displeasure.

2 For thine arrowes sticke fast in me: and thy hand presseth me sore.

3 There is no health in my flesh, because of thy displeasure: neither is there any rest in my bones, by reason of my sinne.

4 For my wickednesses are gone ouer my head: and are like a sore burden, too heauy for me to beare.

5 My wounds stinke, & are corrupt: through my foolishnesse.

6 I am brought into so great trouble & misery: that I go mourning all the day long.

7 For my loines are filled with a sore disease: and there is no whole part in my body.

8 I am feeble, and sore smitten: I haue roared for the very disquietnesse of my heart.

9 Lord, thou knowest all my desire: and my groning is not hid from thee.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Kk6r

10 My heart panteth, my strength hath failed me: & the sight of mine eyes is gone from me.
11 My louers and my neighbours did stand looking vpon my trouble: and my kinsemen stood afarre off.
12 They also that sought after my life, layed snares for me: and they that went about to doe me euill, talked of wickednesse, and imagined deceit all the day long.
13 As for me, I was like a deafe man, and heard not: and as one that is dumbe, which doth not open his mouth.
14 I became euen as a man that heareth not: and in whose mouth are no reproofs.
15 For in thee, O Lord, haue I put my trust: thou shalt answere for me, O Lord my God.
16 I haue required that they (euen mine enemies) should not triumph ouer me: for when my foot slipt, they reioyced greatly against me.
17 And I truely am set in the plague: and my heauinesse is euer in my sight.
18 For I will confesse my wickednesse: and be sory for my sinne.
19 But mine enemies liue, and are mighty: and they that hate me wrongfully, are many in number.
20 They also that reward euill for good, are against me: because I followe the thing that good is.
21 Forsake me not, O Lord my God: be not thou farre from me.
22 Haste thee to helpe mee: O Lord God my saluation.

Dixi, Custodiam. Psal. 39.

I Sayd, I will take heed to my wayes: that I offend not in my tongue.
2 I will keepe my mouth (as it were with a bridle:) while the vngodly is in my sight.
3 I held my tongue, and spake nothing: I kept silence, yea, euen from good wordes, but it was paine and griefe to me.
4 My heart was hote within me, and while I was thus musing, the fire kindled: and at the last I spake with my tongue.
5 Lord, let me know mine end, and the number of my dayes: that I may be certified howe long I haue to liue.
6 Beholde, thou hast made my dayes as it were a span long: and mine age is euen as nothing in respect of thee, and verily euery man liuing is altogether vanity.
7 For man walketh in a vaine shadow, and disquieteth himselfe in vaine: he heapeth vp riches, and cannot tell who shall gather them.
8 And now, Lord, what is my hope: truely my hope is euen in thee.
9 Deliuer me from all mine offences: and make me not a rebuke vnto the foolish.
10 I became dumbe, and opened not my mouth: for it was thy doing.
11 Take thy plague away from me: I am euen consumed by the meanes of thy heauy hand.
12 When thou with rebukes doest chasten man for sinne, thou makest his beautie to consume away like as it were a moth fretting a garment: euery man therefore is but vanity.
13 Heare my prayer, O Lord, and with thine eares consider my calling: holde not thy peace at my teares.
14 For I am a stranger with thee, and a sojourner: as all my fathers were.
15 O spare me a little, that I may recouer my strength: before I goe hence, and be no more seene.

Expectans expectaui. Psal. 40.

I Waited patiently for the Lord: and hee enclined vnto me, and heard my calling.
2 He brought me also out of the horrible pit, out of the mire and clay: and set my feet vpon the rocke, and ordered my goings.
3 And he hath put a new song in my mouth: euen a thanksgiuing vnto our God.
4 Many shall see it, and feare: and shall put their trust in the Lord.
5 Blessed is the man that hath set his hope in the Lord: and turneth not vnto the proud, and to such as go about with lies.
6 O Lord my God, great are the wonderous workes which thou hast done: like as be also thy thoughts which are to vsward, and yet there is no man that ordereth them vnto thee.
7 If I would declare them, & speake of them: they should be more then I am able to expresse.
8 Sacrifice and meat offering thou wouldest not haue: but mine eares hast thou opened.
9 Burnt offerings & sacrifice for sinne hast thou not required: then sayd I, Loe, I come.
10 In the volume of the booke it is written of me, that I should fulfill thy will, O my God: I am content to do it, yea, thy law is within my heart.
11 I haue declared thy righteousnesse in the great congregation: loe, I will not refraine my lips, O Lord, and that thou knowest.
12 I haue not hid thy righteousnesse within my heart: my talking hath bene of thy truth, and of thy saluation.
13 I haue not kept backe thy louing mercie and truth: from the great congregation.
14 Withdraw not thou thy mercy from me, O Lord: let thy louing kindnesse and thy truth alway preserue me.
15 For innumerable troubles are come about me, my sinnes haue taken such holde vpon me, that I am not able to looke vp: yea, they are more in number then the haires of mine head, and my heart hath failed me.
16 O Lord, let it be thy pleasure to deliuer me: make haste (O Lord) to helpe me.
17 Let them be ashamed and confounded together that seeke after my soule to destroy it: let them be driuen backeward, and put to rebuke, that wish me euill.
18 Let them be desolate, and rewarded with shame, that say vnto me: Fie vpon thee, fie vpon thee.
19 Let all those that seeke thee, be ioyfull and glad in thee: and let such as loue thy saluation, say alway, The Lord be praised.
20 As for me, I am poore and needy: but the Lord careth for me.
21 Thou art my helper and redeemer: make no long tarying, O my God.

Beatus qui intelligit. Psal. 41.

BLessed is hee that considereth the poore and needy: the Lord shall deliuer him in the time of trouble.
2 The Lord preserue him, and keepe him aliue, that hee may be counted vpon earth: and deliuer not thou him vnto the will of his enemies.

my ſoule, for I haue ſinned againſt thee.
5 Mine enemies ſpeake euill of me: when ſhall he die, and his name periſh?
6 And if he come to ſee me, he ſpeaketh vani-

7 All mine enemies whiſper together a-raiſe thou me vp againe, & I ſhall reward them.

LIke as the Hart deſireth the water brookes:
ſo longeth my ſoule after thee, O God.
2 My ſoule is athirſt for God, yea, euen for the liuing God: when ſhall I come to appeare before the preſence of God?
3 My teares haue bene my meat day and night: while they dayly ſay vnto me, Where is now thy God?
4 Now when I thinke therevpon, I powre multitude, and brought them forth into the houſe of God.

5 In the voice of praiſe and thankſgiuing:
among ſuch as keepe holy day.
6 Why art thou ſo full of heauineſſe (O my

7 Put thy truſt in God: for I will yet giue therefore will I remember thee, concerning the land of Iordan, and the little hill of Hermon.

noiſe of the water pipes: all thy waues and billowes are gone ouer me.
8 10 The Lord hath graunted his louing kindneſſe in the day time: and in the night ſeaſon did I ſing of him, and made my prayer vnto the God of my life.
9 11 I will ſay vnto the God of my ſtrength, Why haſt thou forgotten me: why goe I thus heauily, while the enemy oppreſſeth me?

caſt me in the teeth,

why art thou ſo diſquieted within me?

Deus auribus. Pſal. 44.

WE haue heard with our eares, O
God, our fathers haue told vs:
what thou haſt done in their time of olde.
2 How thou haſt driuen out the heathen with thy hand, & planted them in: how thou haſt deſtroyed the nations, & caſt them out.
3 For they gate not the land in poſſeſſion through their owne ſword: neither was it their owne arme that helped them, 4 But thy right hand and thine arme, and the light of thy countenance: becauſe thou haddſt a fauour vnto them.
5 Thou art my king (O God:) ſend helpe vnto Jacob.
6 Through thee will we ouerthrow our enemies: and in thy name will wee tread them vnder that riſe vp againſt vs.
7 For I will not truſt in my bowe: it is not my ſword that ſhall helpe me,
8 But thou haſt ſaued vs from our enemies: and putteſt to confuſion that hate vs.
8 9 We make our boaſt of God all day long:
and will praiſe thy name for euer. Sela.
9 10 But now thou art farre off, and putteſt vs to confuſion: and goeſt not forth with our armies.
10 11 Thou makeſt vs to turne our backe vpon our enemies: ſo that they which hate vs, ſpoile our goods.
11 12 Thou letteſt vs be taken like ſheepe:
and haſt ſcattered vs among the heathen.
12 13 Thou ſelleſt thy people for nought: and taketſt no money for them.
13 14 Thou makeſt vs to bee rebuked of our neighbours: to be laughed to ſcorne, and had in derriſion of them that are round about vs.
14 15 Thou makeſt vs to be a by-word among the heathen: and that the people ſhake their heads at vs.
15 16 My confuſion is dayly before me: and the ſhame of my face hath couered me, 16 17 For the voice of the ſlanderer and blaſphe-mer: for the enemy and auenger.
17 18 And though all this be come vpon vs, yet do we not forget thee: nor behaue our ſelues ſtuwardly in thy couenant.
18 19 Our heart is not turned backe: neither our ſteps gone out of thy way.

the place of dragons: and couered vs with the shadow of death.

21 If wee haue forgotten the Name of our God, and holden vp our handes to any strange god: shall not God search it out? for he knoweth the very secrets of the heart.

22 For thy sake also are we killed all the day long: and are counted as sheepe appointed to be slaine.

23 Vp Lord, why sleepest thou: awake, and be not absent from vs for euer.

24 Wherefore hidest thou thy face: and forgettest our misery and trouble?

25 For our soule is brought lowe, euen vnto the dust: our belly cleaueth vnto the ground.

26 Arise, and helpe vs: and deliuer vs for thy mercies sake.

Eructauit cor meum. Psal. 45.

My heart is inditing of a good matter: I speake of the things which I haue made vnto the king.

My tongue is the pen: of a ready writer.

Thou art fairer then the children of men: full of grace are thy lips, because God hath blessed thee for euer.

Gird thee with thy sword vpon thy thigh, O thou most mighty: according to thy worship and renowme.

Good luck haue thou with thine honour: ride on, because of the word of truth, of meekenesse, and righteousnesse, and thy right hand shal teach thee terrible things.

Thy arrowes are very sharpe, and the people shalbe subdued vnto thee: euen in the middes among the kings enemies.

Thy seat (O God) endureth for euer: the sceptre of thy kingdome is a right sceptre.

Thou hast loued righteousnesse, and hated wickednesse: wherefore God (euen thy God) hath anointed thee with the oile of gladnesse aboue thy fellowes.

All thy garments smell of Myrrhe, Aloes, and Cassia: out of the yuory palaces, whereby they haue made thee glad.

Kings daughters were among thy honourable women: vpon thy right hand did stand the Queene in a vesture of golde (wrought about with diuers colours.)

Hearken (O daughter) and consider, encline thine eare: forget also thine owne people, and thy fathers house.

So shall the king haue pleasure in thy beauty: for hee is thy Lord (God) and worship thou him.

And the daughter of Tyre shall be there with a gift: like as the rich also among the people shall make their supplication before thee.

The kings daughter is all glorious within: her clothing is of wrought golde.

She shall be brought vnto the king in raiment of needle worke: the virgins that be her fellowes shall bear her company, and shall be brought vnto thee.

With ioy & gladnesse shal they be brought: and shall enter into the kings palace.

In stead of thy fathers thou shalt haue children: whom thou mayest make princes in all lands.

I will remember thy Name from one generation vnto another: therefore shall the people giue thanks vnto thee, world without end.

Deus noster refugium. Psal. 46.

God is our hope and strength: a very present helpe in trouble.

Therefore will wee not feare though the earth be moued: and though the hilles be carried into the mids of the sea.

Though the waters thereof rage & swell: and though the mountaines shake at the tempest of the same.

The riuers of the flood thereof shall make glad the city of God: the holy place of the tabernacle of the most highest.

God is in the middes of her, therefore shall she not be remoued: God shal helpe her, and that right early.

The heathen make much adoe, & the kingdomes are mooued: but God hath shewed his voice, and the earth shall melt away.

The Lord of hostes is with vs: the God of Jacob is our refuge.

Come hither, and beholde the workes of the Lord: what destruction he hath brought vpon the earth.

He maketh wars to cease in all the world: he breaketh the bow, and shiuereth the speare in sunder, and burneth the charets in the fire.

Be still then, and know that I am God: I will be exalted among the heathen, and I will be exalted in the earth.

The Lord of hosts is with vs: the God of Jacob is our refuge.

Omnes gentes plaudite. Psal. 47.

Euening prayer.

O Clap your hands together (all yee people:) sing vnto God with the voice of melody.

For the Lord is high, and to be feared: hee is the great king vpon all the earth.

He shall subdue the people vnder vs: and the nations vnder our feet.

He shal chuse out an heritage for vs: euen the worship of Jacob whom he loued.

God is gone vp with a merry noise: and the Lord with the sound of the trumpet.

Sing praises, sing praises vnto our God: sing praises, sing praises vnto our king.

For God is the king of all the earth: sing ye praises with vnderstanding.

God reigneth ouer the heathen: God sitteth vpon his holy seat.

The princes of the people are ioyned vnto the people of the God of Abraham: for God (which is very hie exalted) doth defend the earth as it were with a shield.

Magnus Dominus. Psal. 48.

Great is the Lord, and highly to be praised: in the citie of our God, euen vpon his holy hill.

The hill of Sion is a faire place, and the ioy of the whole earth: vpon the North side lieth the city of the great king: God is well knowen in her palaces as a sure refuge.

For lo, the kings of the earth: are gathered and gone by together.

They marueiled to see such things: they were astonied, and suddenly cast downe.

Feare came there vpon them, and sorow: as vpon a woman in her trauell.

Thou shalt breake the shippes of the Sea: through the East winde.

3 Like as we haue heard, ſo haue we ſeene in the citie of the Lord of hoſts, in the citie of our God: God vpholdeth the ſame for euer.

8 We wait for thy louing kindnes (O God:) in the mids of thy temple.

10 9 O God, according vnto thy Name, ſo is thy praiſe vnto the worlds end: thy right hand is full of righteouſneſſe.

11 10 Let the mount Sion reioyce, and the daughters of Iuda be glad: becauſe of thy iudgements.

12 11 Walke about Sion, and goe round about her: and tell the towers thereof.

13 12 Marke wel her bulwarks, ſet vp her houſes: that ye may tell them that come after.

14 13 For this God is our God for euer & euer: he ſhalbe our guide vnto death.

Audite hæc omnes. Pſal. 49.

HEare this all ye people: ponder it with your eares all ye that dwell in the world.

2 High and low, rich and poore: one with another.

3 My mouth ſhall ſpeake of wiſedome: and my heart ſhall muſe of vnderſtanding.

4 I will incline mine eare vnto the parable: and ſhew my darke ſpeech vpon the harpe.

5 Wherefore ſhould I feare in the dayes of wickedneſſe: and when the wickednes of my heeles compaſſeth me round about?

6 There be ſome that put their truſt in their goods: and boaſt themſelues in the multitude of their riches.

7 But no man may deliuer his brother: nor make agreement vnto God for him.

8 For it coſt more to redeeme their ſoules: ſo that he muſt let that alone for euer, 9 Yea, though he liue long: and ſee not the graue.

10 For he ſeeth that wiſe men alſo die, and periſh together: alſwel as the ignorant and fooliſh, and leaue their riches for other.

11 And yet they thinke that their houſes ſhall continue for euer: and that their dwelling places ſhall endure from one generation to another, and call the lands after their owne names.

12 Neuertheleſſe, man will not abide in honor: ſeeing he may be compared vnto the beaſts that periſh, this is the way of them.

13 This is their fooliſhneſſe: and their poſterity pleaſe their ſaying.

14 They lie in the hell like ſheepe, death gnaweth vpon them, and the righteous ſhall haue dominion of them in the morning: their beautie ſhall conſume in the ſepulchre out of their dwelling.

15 But God ſhall deliuer my ſoule from the place of hell: for he ſhall receiue me.

16 Be not thou afrayd though one be made rich: or if the glory of his houſe be increaſed.

17 For he ſhall carry nothing away with him when he dieth: neither ſhall his pompe follow him.

18 For while he liued, he eſteemed himſelf an happy man: and ſo long as thou doeſt well vnto thy ſelfe, men will ſpeake good of thee.

19 He ſhall follow the generation of his fathers: and ſhall neuer ſee light.

20 Man being in honour, hath no vnderſtanding: but is compared vnto the beaſts that periſh.

THE Lord, euen the moſt mightie God, hath ſpoken: and called the worlde from the riſing vp of the Sunne, vnto the going downe thereof. Morning prayer.

2 Out of Sion hath God appeared: in perfect beautie.

3 Our God ſhall come, and ſhall not keepe ſilence: there ſhall goe before him a conſuming fire, & a mighty tempeſt ſhall be ſtirred vp round about him.

4 He ſhall call the heauen from aboue: and the earth, that he may iudge his people.

5 Gather my ſaints together vnto me: thoſe that haue made a couenant with me, with ſacrifice.

6 And the heauens ſhall declare his righteouſneſſe: for God is iudge himſelfe. Selah

7 Heare, O my people, and I will ſpeake: I my ſelfe will teſtifie againſt thee, O Iſrael, for I am God, euen thy God.

8 I will not reproue thee, becauſe of thy ſacrifices, or for thy burnt offerings: becauſe they were not alway before me.

9 I will take no bullocke out of thy houſe: nor hee goats out of thy folds.

10 For all the beaſts of the foreſt are mine: and ſo are the cattels vpon a thouſand hils.

11 I know all the fowles vpon the mountaines: and the wilde beaſts of the field are in my ſight.

12 If I be hungry, I will not tell thee: for the whole world is mine, and all that is therein.

13 Thinkeſt thou that I will eat bulles flesh: and drinke the blood of goats?

14 Offer vnto God thankeſgiuing: and pay thy vowes vnto the moſt highest.

15 And call vpon me in the time of trouble: ſo will I heare thee, and thou ſhalt praiſe me.

16 But vnto the vngodly ſaid God, why doeſt thou preach my lawes, and taheſt my couenant in thy mouth?

17 Whereas thou hateſt to be reformed: and haſt caſt my words behinde thee.

18 When thou ſaweſt a theefe, thou conſenteſt vnto him: and haſt bene partaker with the adulterers.

19 Thou haſt let thy mouth ſpeake wickedneſſe: and with thy tongue thou haſt ſet forth deceit.

20 Thou ſitteſt and ſpeakeſt againſt thy brother: yea, and haſt ſlandered thine owne mothers ſonne.

21 Theſe things haſt thou done, and I held my tongue, and thou thoughteſt wickedly that I am euen ſuch a one as thy ſelfe: but I will reproue thee, and ſet before thee the things that thou haſt done.

22 O conſider this, ye that forget God: leſt I pluck you away, and there be none to deliuer you.

23 Whoſo offereth me thanks and praiſe, he honoureth me: and to him that ordereth his converſation right, will I ſhew the ſaluation of God.

fol. Ll2r

2 Wash me thorowly from my wickednesse: and clense me from my sinne.
3 For I knowledge my faults: and my sinne is euer before me.
4 Against thee only haue I sinned, and done this euill in thy sight: that thou mightest be iustified in thy saying, and cleare when thou art iudged.
5 Behold, I was shapen in wickednesse: and in sinne hath my mother conceiued me.
6 But lo, thou requirest trueth in the inward parts: and shalt make mee to vnderstand wisedome secretly.
7 Thou shalt purge me with hyssope, and I shalbe cleane: thou shalt wash me, and I shall be whiter then snow.
8 Thou shalt make me heare of ioy and gladnesse: that the bones which thou hast broken may reioyce.
9 Turne thy face from my sinnes: and put out all my misdeeds.
10 Make me a cleane heart, O God: and renew a right spirit within me.
11 Cast me not away from thy presence: and take not thy holy spirit from me.
12 O giue me the comfort of thy helpe again: and stablish me with thy free spirit.
13 Then shall I teach thy wayes vnto the wicked: and sinners shalbe conuerted vnto thee.
14 Deliuer me from bloodguiltines, O God, thou that art the God of my health: and my tongue shall sing of thy righteousnesse.
15 Thou shalt open my lips (O Lord:) and my mouth shall shew thy praise.
16 For thou desirest no sacrifice, els would I giue it thee: but thou delightest not in burnt offerings.
17 The sacrifice of God is a troubled spirit: a broken and contrite heart (O God) shalt thou not despise.
18 O be fauourable and gracious vnto Sion: build thou the walles of Hierusalem.
19 Then shalt thou be pleased with the sacrifice of righteousnesse, with the burnt offerings and oblations: then shall they offer yoong bullocks vpon thine altar.

Quid gloriaris? Psal. 52.

WHy boastest thou thy selfe, thou tyrant: that thou canst do mischefe?
2 Whereas the goodnesse of God: endureth yet dayly.
3 Thy tongue imagineth wickednesse: and with lies thou cuttest like a harpe rasor.
4 Thou hast loued vnrighteousnesse more then goodnesse: and to talke of lies more then righteousnesse.
5 Thou hast loued to speake all words that may do hurt: O thou false tongue.
6 Therefore shall God destroy thee for euer: he shal take thee, and plucke thee out of thy dwelling, and root thee out of the land of the liuing.
7 The righteous also shall see this, & feare: and shall laugh him to scorne.
8 Lo, this is the man that tooke not God for his strength: but trusted vnto the multitude of his riches, and strengthened himselfe in his wickednesse.
9 As for me, I am like a greene Oliue tree in the house of God: my trust is in the tender mercy of God for euer and euer.
10 I will alwayes giue thankes vnto thee for that thou hast done: & I will hope in thy Name, for thy saints like it well.

Dixit insipiens, Psal. 53.

THE foolish body hath said in his heart: There is no God.
2 Corrupt are they, and become abominable in their wickednesse: there is none that doth good.
3 God looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men: to see if there were any that would vnderstand, and seeke after God.
4 But they are all gone out of the way, they are altogether become abominable: there is also none that doth good, no not one.
5 Are not they without vnderstanding that worke wickednesse: eating vp my people as they would eate bread? they haue not called vpon God.
6 They were afrayed where no feare was: for God hath broken the bones of him that besieged thee, thou hast put them to confusion, because God hath despised them.
7 Oh that the saluation were giuen vnto Israel out of Sion: oh that the Lord would deliuer his people out of captiuity.
8 Then should Jacob reioyce: and Israel should be right glad.

SAue mee, O God, for thy Names sake: and auenge me in thy strength.
2 Heare my prayer, O God: and hearken vnto the words of my mouth.
3 For strangers are risen vp against me: and tyrants (which haue not God before their eyes) seeke after my soule.
4 Beholde, God is my helper: the Lord is with them that vphold my soule.
5 He shall reward euill vnto mine enemies: destroy thou them in thy trueth.
6 An offring of a free heart will I giue thee, and praise thy Name (O Lord:) because it is so comfortable.
7 For hee hath deliuered mee out of all my trouble: and mine eie hath seene his desire vpon mine enemies.

Exaudi Deus. Psal. 55.

HEare my prayer, O God: and hide not thy selfe from my petition.
2 Take heed vnto mee, and heare me: how I mourne in my prayer, and am vexed.
3 The enemy crieth so, and the vngodly cometh on so fast: for they are minded to do me some mischiefe, so maliciously are they set against me.
4 My heart is disquieted within mee: and the feare of death is fallen vpon me.
5 Fearefulnesse and trembling are come vpon mee: and an horrible dread hath ouerwhelmed me.
6 And I sayd, O that I had wings like a doue: for then would I flee away, and be at rest.
7 Loe, then would I get me away farre off: and remaine in the wildernesse.
8 I would make haste to escape: because of the stormy winde and tempest.
9 Destroy their tongues (O Lorde) and diuide them: for I haue spied vnrighteousnesse and strife in the city.

11 Wickednesse is therein: deceit and guile go not out of their streets.
12 For it is not an open enemie that hath done me this dishonour; for then I could haue borne it.
13 Neither was it mine aduerſarie that did magnifie himselfe against me: for then (peradventure) I would haue hid my selfe from him.
14 But it was euen thou my companion, my guide, and mine owne familiar friend.
15 We tooke sweet counsell together: and walked in the house of God as friends.
16 Let death come hastily vpon them, and let them go downe quicke into hell: for wickednesse is in their dwellings, and among them.
17 As for mee, I will call vpon God: and the Lord shall saue me.
18 In the euening, morning, and at noone day will I pray, and that instantly: and he shall heare my voice.
19 It is hee that hath deliuered my soule in peace, from the battell that was against me: for there were many with me.
20 Yea, euen God that endureth for euer, shall heare me, and bring them downe: for they will not turne, nor feare God.
21 He layd his hands vpon such as be at peace with him: and he brake his couenant.
22 The words of his mouth were softer then butter, hauing warre in his heart: his wordes were smoother then oile, and yet be they very swords.
23 O call thy burden vpon the Lord, and he shall nourish thee: and shall not suffer the righteous to fall for euer.
24 And as for them, thou, O God, shalt bring them into the pit of destruction.

Morning prayer.

BE mercifull vnto me, O God, for man goeth about to deuoure mee: he is daily fighting, and troubling mee.
2 Mine enemies are daily in hand to swallow me vp: for they be many that fight against me, O thou most highest.
3 Neuertheleſſe, though I am sometime afraid, yet put I my trust in thee.
4 I will praise God because of his word: I haue put my trust in God, I will not feare what flesh can do vnto me.
5 They daily imagine my wordes: all that they imagine, is to do me euill.
6 They hold all together, and keepe themselues close: and marke my steps, when they lay wait for my soule.
7 Shall they escape for their wickednesse: thou (O God) in thy displeasure shalt cast them downe.
8 Thou tellest my flittings, put my teares into thy bottle: are not these things noted in thy booke?
9 Whensoeuer I call vpon thee, then shall mine enemies be put to flight: this I know, for God is on my side.
10 In God's word will I reioyce: in the Lords word will I comfort me.
11 Yea, in God haue I put my trust: I will not be afrayd what man can do vnto me.
12 Vnto thee (O God) will I pay my vowes: vnto thee will I giue thanks.
13 For thou hast deliuered my soule from death: my feet from falling: that I may walke before God in the light of the liuing.

Miſerere mei Deus. Pſal. 57.

BE mercifull vnto me, O God, be mercifull vnto me, for my soule trusteth in thee: and vnder the shadow of thy wings shall be my refuge, vntill this tyranny be ouerpast.
2 I will call vnto the most high God: euen vnto the God that shal perfourme the cause which I haue in hand.
3 Hee shall send from heauen: and saue mee from the reproofe of him that would eat me vp. God shall send forth his mercy and trueth: my soule is among lions.
4 And I lie euen among the children of men (that are set on fire:) whose teeth are speares and arrowes, and their tongue a sharpe sword.
5 6 Set vp thy selfe, O God, aboue the heauens: and thy glory aboue all the earth.
6 7 They haue layd a net for my feet, and pressed downe my soule: they haue digged a pit before me, and are fallen into the mids of it themselues.
7 8 My heart is fixed, O God, my heart is fixed: I will sing and giue praise.
8 9 Awake vp my glory, awake lute and harpe: I my selfe will awake right early.
9 10 I will giue thankes vnto thee, O Lorde, among the people: and I will sing vnto thee among the nations.
10 11 For the greatnesse of thy mercy reacheth vnto the heauens: and thy trueth vnto the clouds.
11 12 Set vp thy selfe, O God, aboue the heauens: and thy glory aboue all the earth.

Si vere vtique. Pſal. 58.

ARE your mindes set vpon righteousnesse, O ye congregation: and doe ye iudge the thing that is right, O ye sonnes of men?
2 Yea, ye imagine mischiefe in your heart vpon the earth: and your hands deale with wickednesse.
3 The vngodly are froward euen from their mothers wombe: all soone as they be borne they go astray, and speake lies.
4 They are as venemous as the poison of a serpent: euen like the deafe adder that stoppeth her eares.
5 Which refuseth to heare the voice of the charmer: charme he neuer so wisely.
6 Breake their teeth (O GOD) in their mouthes, smite the iaw bones of the lions, O Lorde: let them fall away like water that runneth apace, and when they shoot their arrowes, let them be rooted out.
7 Let them consume away like a snaile, and be like the vntimely fruit of a woman: and let them not see the Sunne.
8 Or euer your pots be made hote with thornes: so let indignation vexe him, euen as a thing that is raw.
9 The righteous shal reioyce when he seeth the vengeance: he shall wash his feet in the blood of the vngodly.
10 So that a man shall say, Verily there is a reward for the righteous: doubtlesse there is a God that iudgeth the earth.

Euening prayer.

Eripe me de inimicis. Psal. 59.

DEliuer mee from mine enemies, (O God:) defend me from them that rise vp against me.

2 O deliuer me from the wicked doers: and saue me from the bloodthirstie men.

3 For loe, they lie waiting for my soule: the mighty men are gathered against me, without any offence or fault of me, O Lord.

4 They runne and prepare themselues without my fault: arise thou therefore to helpe me, and behold.

5 Stand vp (O Lord God of hostes) thou God of Israel, to visite all the heathen: and bee not merciful vnto them that offend of malicious wickednesse.

6 They goe to and fro in the euening: they grin like a dog, and runne about the citie.

7 Behold, they speake with their mouth, and swords are in their lips: for who doeth heare?

8 But thou, O Lord, shalt haue them in derision: thou shalt laugh all the heathen to scorne.

9 My strength will I ascribe vnto thee: for thou art the god of my refuge.

10 God sheweth me his goodnes plenteously: and God shal let me see my desire vpon mine enemies.

11 Slay them not, least my people forget it: but scatter them abroad among the people, and put them downe, O Lord, our defence.

12 For the sinne of their mouth, and for the wordes of their lips, they shall bee taken in their pride: and why? their preaching is of curling and lies.

13 Consume them in thy wrath, consume them, that they may perish: and know that it is God which ruleth in Iacob, and vnto the endes of the world.

14 And in the euening they will returne: grin like a dog, and will goe about the citie.

15 They will runne here and there for meat: and grudge if they be not satisfied.

16 As for mee, I will sing of thy power, and will praise thy mercie betimes in the morning: for thou hast bene my defence and refuge in the day of my trouble.

17 Vnto thee (O my strength) will I sing: for thou, O God, art my refuge, and my mercifull God.

Deus repulisti nos. Psal. 60.

O God, thou hast cast vs out, and scattered vs abroade: thou hast also bene displeased, O turne thee vnto vs againe.

2 Thou hast moued the land, and diuided it: heale the sores thereof, for it shaketh.

3 Thou hast shewed thy people heauy things: thou hast giuen vs a drinke of deadly wine.

4 Thou hast giuen a token for such as feare thee: that they may triumph because of the truth.

5 Therefore were thy beloued deliuered: help me with thy right hand, and heare me.

6 God hath spoken in his holinesse, I will reioice and diuide Sichem: and mete out the valley of Succoth.

7 Gilead is mine, and Manasses is mine: Ephraim also is the strength of my head, Iuda is my law giuer.

8 Moab is my wash pot, ouer Edom will I cast out my shoe: Philistia be thou glad of me.

9 Who will leade mee into the strong citie: who will bring me into Edom?

10 Hast thou not cast vs out, O God: wilt not thou, O God, goe out with our hostes?

11 O be thou our helpe in trouble: for vaine is the helpe of man.

12 Through God shall we doe great acts: for it is he that shall treade downe our enemies.

Exaudi Deus. Psal. 61.

HEare my crying, O God: giue eare vnto my prayer.

2 From the ends of the earth will I call vnto thee: when my heart is in heauinesse.

3 O set mee vpon the rocke that is higher then I: for thou hast bene my hope, and a strong towre for me against the enemie.

4 I will dwel in thy tabernacle for euer: and my trust shalbe vnder the couering of thy wings.

5 For thou, O Lord, hast heard my desires: and hast giuen an heritage vnto those that feare thy name.

6 Thou shalt grant the king a long life: that his yeres may endure throughout all generations.

7 He shal dwell before God for euer: O prepare thy louing mercie and faithfulnesse, that they may preserue him.

8 So will I alwayes sing praise vnto thy Name: that I may dayly performe my vowes.

Nonne Deo. Psal. 62.

MY soule truely waiteth still vpon God: for of him commeth my saluation.

2 He verily is my strength and my saluation: he is my defence, so that I shall not greatly fall.

3 How long will yee imagine mischiefe against euery man: ye shall be slaine all the sort of you, yea as a tottering wall shall yee be, and like a broken hedge.

4 Their deuice is onely how to put him out whom God will exalt: their delight is in lies, they giue good wordes with their mouth, but curse with their heart.

5 Neuertheless, my soule waite thou still vpon God: for my hope is in him.

6 He truely is my strength and my saluation: he is my defence, so that I shall not fall.

7 In God is my health and my glory: the rocke of my might, and in God is my trust.

8 O put your trust in him alway (ye people:) powre out your hearts before him, for God is our hope.

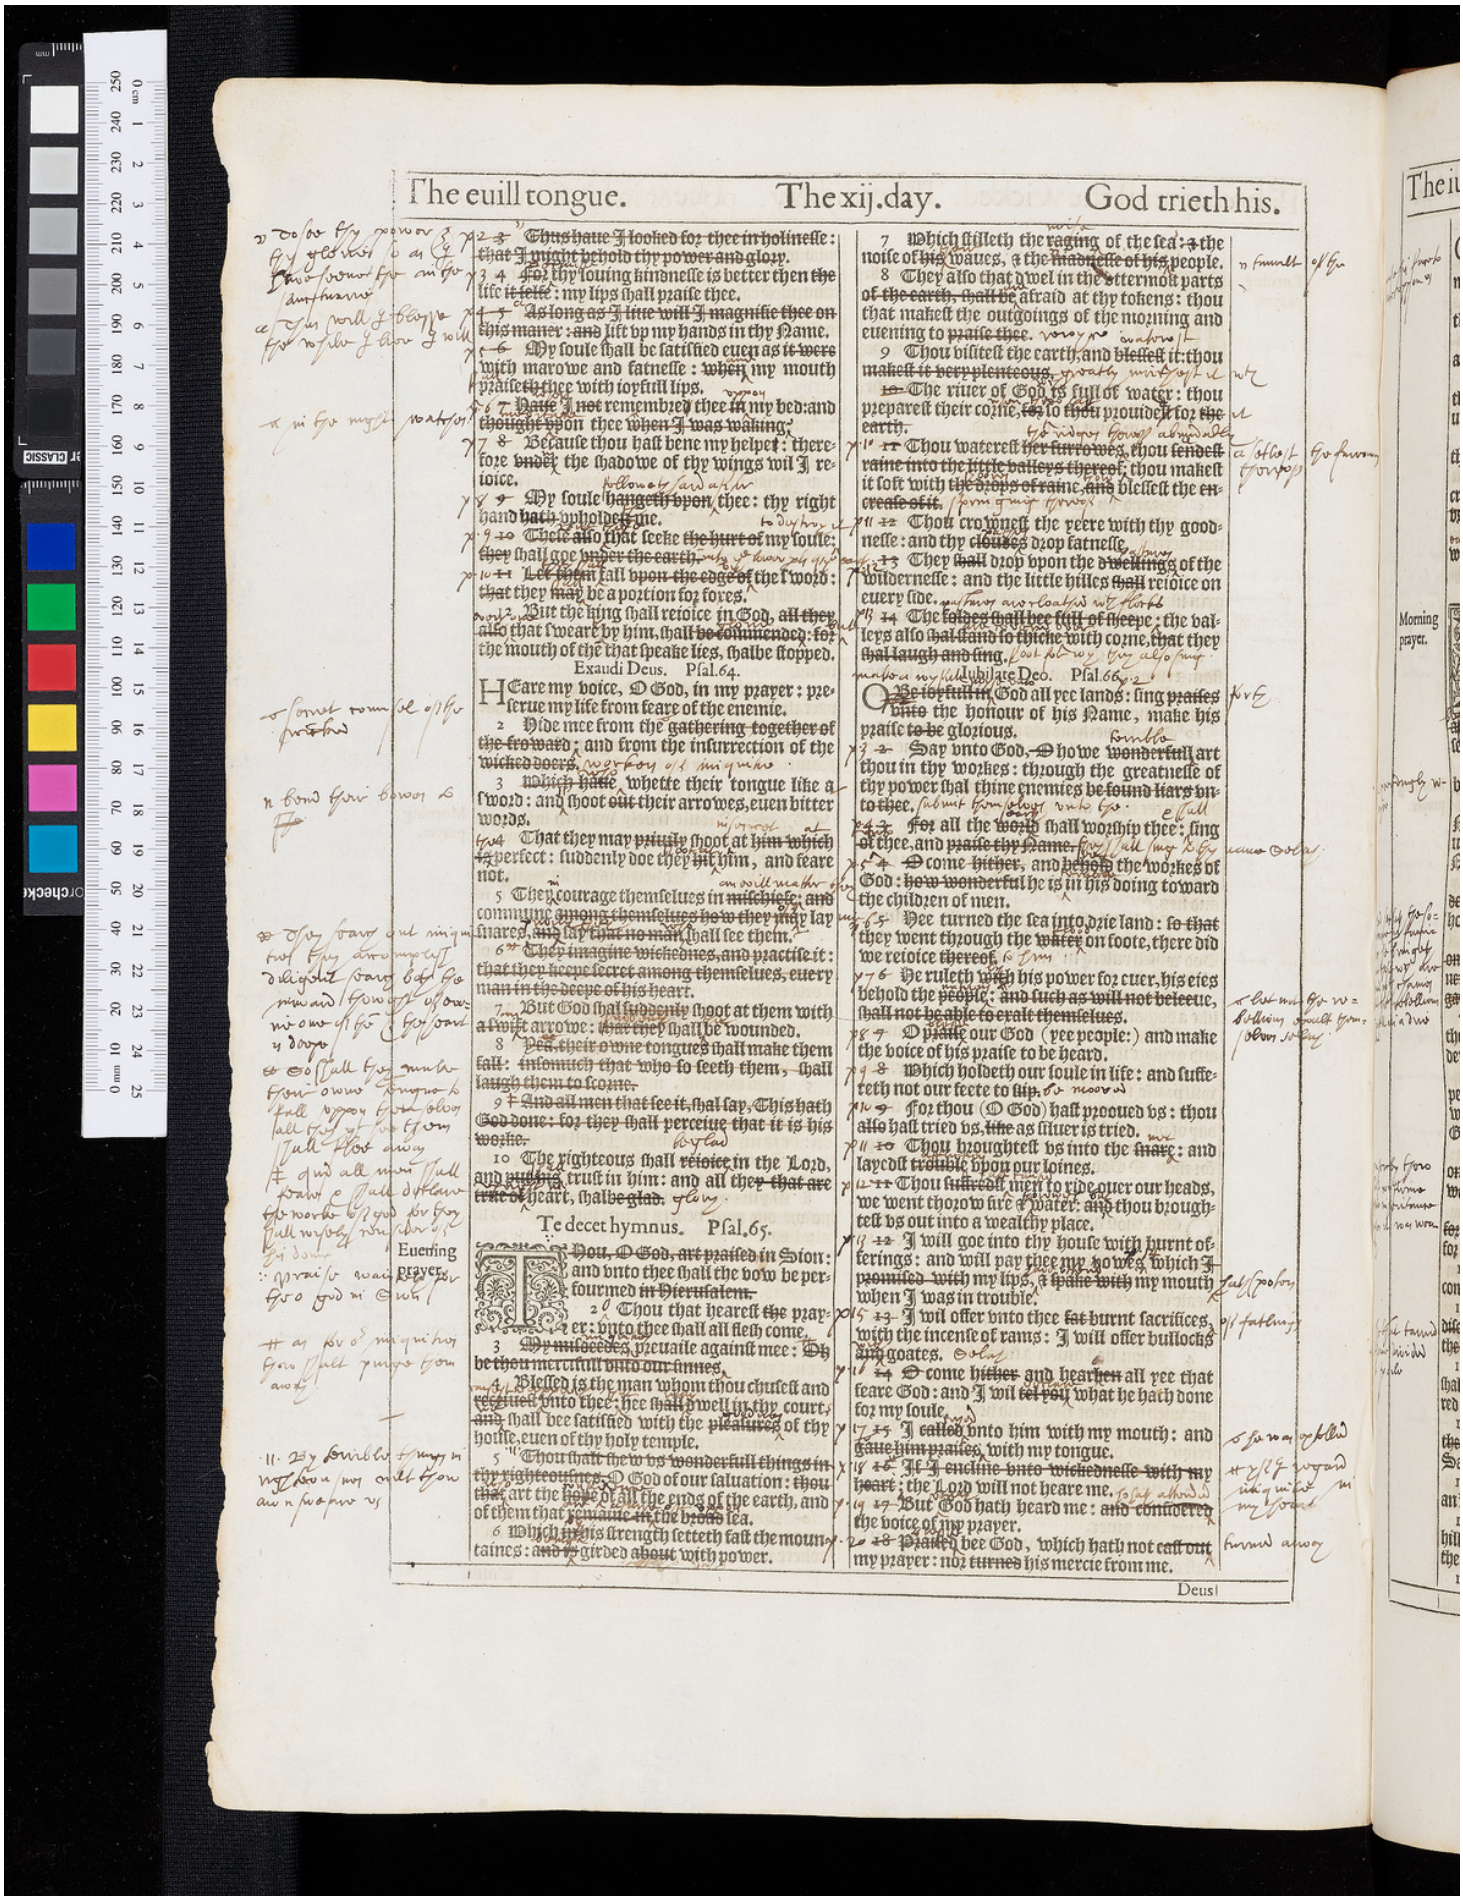
9 As for the children of men, they are but vaine: the children of men are deceitfull vpon the weights, they are altogether lighter then vanitie it selfe.

10 O trust not in wrong and robberie, giue not your selues vnto vanitie: if riches encrease, set not your heart vpon them.

11 God spake once and twise: I haue also heard the same, that power belongeth vnto God.

12 And that thou Lord art merciful: for thou rewardest euery man according to his worke.

Deus, Deus meus. Psal. 63.



O God, thou art my God: early will I seeke thee.

My soule thirsteth for thee, my flesh also longeth after thee: in a barren and drie land, where no water is.

fol. Ll3v

Thus haue I looked for thee in holinesse: that I might behold thy power and glory.

For thy louing kindnesse is better then the life it selfe: my lips shall praise thee.

As long as I liue will I magnifie thee on this maner: and lift vp my hands in thy Name.

My soule shall be satisfied euen as it were with marowe and fatnesse: when my mouth praiseth thee with ioyfull lips.

Haue I not remembred thee in my bed: and thought vpon thee when I was waking?

Because thou hast bene my helper: therefore vnder the shadowe of thy wings will I reioice.

My soule hangeth vpon thee: thy right hand hath vpholden me.

These also that seeke the hurt of my soule, they shall goe vnder the earth.

Let them fall vpon the edge of the sword: that they may be a portion for foxes.

But the king shall reioice in God, all they also that sweare by him, shall be commended: for the mouth of the that speake lies, shalbe stopped.

Exaudi Deus. Psal. 64.

HEare my voice, O God, in my prayer: preserue my life from feare of the enemie.

Hide mee from the gathering together of the froward: and from the insurrection of the wicked doers.

Which haue whette their tongue like a sword: and shoot out their arrowes, euen bitter wordes.

That they may priuily shoot at him which is perfect: suddenly doe they hit him, and feare not.

They courage themselues in mischiefe: and commune among themselues how they may lay snares, and say that no man shall see them.

They imagine wickednes, and practise it: that they keepe secret among themselues, euery man in the deepe of his heart.

But God shall suddenly shoot at them with a swift arrowe: that they shall be wounded.

Yea, their owne tongues shall make them fall: insomuch that who so seeth them, shall laugh them to scorne.

And all men that see it, shal say, This hath God done: for they shall perceiue that it is his worke.

The righteous shall reioice in the Lord, and put his trust in him: and all they that are true of heart, shalbe glad.

Te decet hymnus. Psal. 65.

THou, O God, art praised in Sion: and vnto thee shall the vow be performed in Hierusalem.

Thou that hearest the prayer: vnto thee shall all flesh come.

My misdeedes preuaile against mee: O be thou mercifull vnto our sinnes.

Blessed is the man whom thou chusest and receiuest vnto thee: hee shall dwell in thy court, and shall bee satisfied with the pleasures of thy house, euen of thy holy temple.

Thou shalt shew vs wonderfull things in thy righteousnes, O God of our saluation: thou that art the hope of all the ends of the earth, and of them that remaine in the broad sea.

Which in his strength setteth fast the mountaines: and is girded about with power.

Which stilleth the raging of the sea: the noise of his waues, & the madnesse of his people.

They also that dwel in the vttermost parts of the earth, shall be afraid at thy tokens: thou that makest the outgoings of the morning and euening to praise thee.

Thou visitest the earth, and blessest it: thou makest it very plenteous.

The riuer of God is full of water: thou preparest their corne, for so thou prouidest for the earth.

Thou waterest her furrowes, thou sendest raine into the little valleys thereof, thou makest it soft with the drops of raine, and blessest the encrease of it.

Thou crowndest the yeere with thy goodnesse: and thy cloudes drop fatnesse.

They shall drop vpon the dwellings of the wildernesse: and the little hilles shall reioice on euery side.

The folds shall bee full of sheepe: the valleys also shal stand so thicke with corne, that they shal laugh and sing.

Iubilate Deo. Psal. 66. 1

BE ioyfull in God all ye lands: sing praises vnto the honour of his Name, make his praise to be glorious.

Say vnto God, O how wonderfull art thou in thy workes: through the greatnesse of thy power shal thine enemies be found liars vnto thee.

For all the world shall worship thee: sing of thee, and praise thy Name.

O come hither, and behold the workes of God: how wonderful he is in his doing toward the children of men.

Hee turned the sea into drie land: so that they went through the water on foote, there did we reioice thereof.

He ruleth with his power for euer, his eies behold the people: and such as will not beleeue, shall not be able to exalt themselues.

O praise our God (ye people:) and make the voice of his praise to be heard.

Which holdeth our soule in life: and suffereth not our feete to slip.

For thou (O God) hast prooued vs: thou also hast tried vs, like as siluer is tried.

Thou broughtest vs into the snare: and layedst trouble vpon our loines.

Thou sufferedst men to ride ouer our heads, we went thorow fire & water: and thou broughtest vs out into a wealthy place.

I will goe into thy house with burnt offerings: and will pay thee my vowes, which I promised with my lips, & spake with my mouth when I was in trouble.

I wil offer vnto thee fat burnt sacrifices, with the incense of rams: I will offer bullocks and goates.

O come hither and hearken all ye that feare God: and I wil tel you what he hath done for my soule.

I called vnto him with my mouth: and gaue him praises with my tongue.

If I encline vnto wickednesse with my heart: the Lord will not heare me.

But God hath heard me: and considered the voice of my prayer.

Praised bee God, which hath not cast out my prayer: nor turned his mercie from me.

Deus misereatur. Psal. 67.

GOd be mercifull vnto vs, and blesse vs: and shew vs the light of his countenance, and be mercifull vnto vs,

2 That thy way may be knowen vpon earth: thy sauing health among all nations.

3 Let the people praise thee, O God: yea, let all the people praise thee.

4 O let the nations reioyce and be glad, for thou shalt iudge the folke righteously: and gouerne the nations vpon earth.

5 Let the people praise thee, O God: let all the people praise thee.

6 Then shall the earth bring foorth her increase: and God, euen our owne God, shall giue vs his blessing.

7 God shall blesse vs: and all the ends of the world shall feare him.

Exurgat Deus, Psal. 68.

Morning prayer.

LEt God arise, & let his enemies bee scattered: let them also that hate him, flee before him.

2 Like as the smoke vanisheth, so shalt thou driue them away: and like as wax melteth at the fire, so let the vngodly perish at the presence of God.

3 But let the righteous be glad and reioyce before God: let them also be merry and ioyfull.

4 O sing vnto God, and sing praises vnto his Name: magnifie him that rideth vpon the heauens as it were vpon an horse, praise him in his Name, yea, and reioyce before him.

5 He is a father of the fatherlesse, and defendeth the cause of the widowes: euen God in his holy habitation.

6 He is the God that maketh men to bee of one minde in an house, and bringeth the prisoners out of captiuitie: but letteth the runnagates continue in scarcenesse.

7 O God, when thou wentest forth before the people: when thou wentest through the wildernesse.

8 The earth shooke, and the heauens dropped at the presence of God: euen as Sinai also was moued at the presence of God, which is the God of Israel.

9 Thou, O God, sentest a gracious raine vpon thine inheritance: and refreshedst it when it was wearie.

10 Thy Congregation hath dwelt therein: for thou, O God, hast of thy goodnesse prepared for the poore.

11 The Lord gaue the word: great was the company of the preachers.

12 Kings with their armies did flee, and were discomfited: and they of the houshold diuided the spoile.

13 Though ye haue lyen among the pots, yet shall ye be as the wings of a Doue: that is couered with siluer wings, & her feathers like gold.

14 When the Almighty scattered Kings for their sake: then were they as white as snow in Salmon.

15 As the hill of Basan, so is Gods hill: euen an high hill, as the hill of Basan.

16 Why hop ye so ye high hilles? this is Gods hill, in the which it pleaseth him to dwell: yea, the Lord will abide in it for euer.

17 The charets of God are twenty thousand, euen thousands of Angels: and the Lord is among them as in the holy place of Sinai.

18 Thou art gone vp on high, thou hast led captiuitie captiue, and receiued gifts for men: yea, euen for thy enemies, that the Lord God might dwell among them.

19 Praised be the Lord daily: euen the God which helpeth vs, and poureth his benefits vpon vs.

20 Hee is our God, euen the God of whom commeth saluation: God is the Lord, by whom we escape death.

21 God shall wound the head of his enemies: and the hairy scalpe of such a one as goeth on still in his wickednesse.

22 The Lord hath saide, I will bring my people againe, as I did from Basan: mine owne will I bring againe, as I did sometime from the deepe of the Sea.

23 That thy foote may be dipped in the blood of thine enemies: and that the tongue of thy dogs may be red through the same.

24 It is well seene, O God, how thou goest: how thou my God & king goest in the sanctuary.

25 The singers goe before, the minstrels follow after: in the middest are the damosels playing with the timbrels.

26 Giue thankes, O Israel, vnto God the Lord in the Congregations, from the ground of the heart.

27 There is little Beniamin their ruler, and the Princes of Iuda their counsell: the Princes of Zabulon, and the Princes of Nephthali.

28 Thy God hath sent forth strength for thee: stablish, O God, that thou hast wrought in vs.

29 For thy Temples sake at Jerusalem: so shall Kings bring presents vnto thee.

30 When the company of the spearemen, and multitude of the mighty, are scattered abroad among the beasts of the people (so that they humbly bring pieces of siluer:) and when hee hath scattered the people that delight in warre.

31 They shall the princes come out of Egypt: the Morians hande shall soone stretch out her hands vnto God.

32 Sing vnto God, O yee kingdomes of the earth: O sing praises vnto the Lord.

33 Which ryteth in the heauens ouer all from the beginning: loe, hee doeth send out his voyce, yea, and that a mighty voyce.

34 Ascribe ye the power vnto God ouer Israel: his worship and strength is in the cloudes.

35 O God, wonderful art thou in thy holy places: euen the God of Israel, he will giue strength and power vnto his people, blessed be God.

2 I sticke fast in the deepe myre where no ground is: I am come into deep waters, so that the floods runne ouer me.

2, 3 I am weary of crying, my throate is dryed: my sight faileth mee for waiting so long vpon my God.

fol. Ll4v

5 I payed them the things that I never tooke: God thou knowest my simplicitie, and my faults are not hid from thee.
6 Let not them that trust in thee, O Lord God of hosts, be ashamed for my cause: let not those that seeke thee, be confounded through me,
O Lord God of Israel.
7 And why? for thy sake haue I suffered re-proofe: shame hath couered my face.
8 I am become a stranger vnto my brethren:
euen an aliant vnto my mothers children.
9 For the zeale of thy house hath euen eaten me, and the rebukes of them that rebuked thee, are fallen vpon me.
10 I wept, and chastened my selfe with fasting: and that was turned to my reproofe.
11 I put on a sackecloth also: and they iested vpon me.
12 They that sit in the gate speake against me: and the drunkards make songs vpon me.
13 But Lord, I make my prayer vnto thee:
in an acceptable time.
14 Heare me, O God, in the multitude of thy mercy: euen in the trueth of thy saluation.
15 Take me out of the mire, that I sinke not:
Oh let me be deliuered from them that hate me, and out of the deepe waters.
16 Let not the water flood drowne me, neither let the deepe swallow me vp: and let not the pit shut her mouth vpon me.
17 Heare me, O Lord, for thy louing kind-nesse is comfortable: turne thee vnto me, according to the multitude of thy mercies.
18 And hide not thy face from thy seruant, for I am in trouble: Oh haste thee, & heare me.
19 Draw nigh vnto my soule, and saue it:
Oh deliuer me, because of mine enemies.
20 Thou hast knowen my reproofe, my shame and my dishonour: mine aduersaries are all in thy sight.
21 Thy rebuke hath broken my heart, I am full of heauinesse: I looked for some to haue pity on me, but there was no man, neither found
I any to comfort me.
22 They gaue mee gall to eate: and when I was thirsty, they gaue me vineger to drinke.
23 Let their table be made a snare to take themselues withall: and let the things (that should haue bene for their wealth) be vnto them an occasion of falling.
24 Let their eyes be blinded, that they see not:
and euer bow downe their backs.
25 Powre out thine indignation vpon them:
and let thy wrathfull displeasure take holde of them.
26 Let their habitation be void: and no man dwell in their tents.
27 For they persecute him whom thou hast smitten: and they talke how they may vex them whom thou hast wounded.
28 Let them fall from one wickednesse to another: and not come into thy righteousnesse.
29 Let them be wiped out of the booke of the liuing: and not be written among the righteous.
30 As for me, when I am poore and in heaui-nesse: thy helpe (O God) shall lift me vp.
31 I will praise the Name of God with a song: and magnifie it with thanksgiuing.
32 This also shall please the Lord: better then a bullocke, that hath hornes and hoofs.
33 The humble shall consider this, & be glad:
seeke ye after God, and your soule shall liue.
34 For the Lord heareth the poore: and dispiseth not his prisoners.
35 Let heauen and earth praise him: the sea and all that moueth therein.
36 For God will saue Sion, and build the cities of Juda: that men may dwell there, and haue it in possession.
37 The posteritie also of his seruants shall inherit it: and they that loue his Name shall dwell therein.

Deus in adiutorium. Psal. 70.

HAste thee, O God, to deliuer me: make haste to helpe me, O Lord.
2 Let them be ashamed and confounded that seeke after my soule: let them be turned backe-ward and put to confusion that wish me euill.
3 Let thē (for their reward) be soone brought to shame: that crie ouer me, There, there.
4 But let all those that seeke thee, be ioyfull and glad in thee: and let all such as delight in thy saluation, say alway, The Lord be praised.
5 As for me, I am poore, and in miserie: haste thee vnto me (O God.)
6 Thou art my helper and my redeemer: O
Lord make no long tarying.

In te Domine speraui. Psal. 71.

IN thee, O Lord, haue I put my trust, let me neuer be put to confusion: but rid me, and deliuer me in thy righteousnesse, encline thine eare vnto me, and saue me. Morning prayer.
2 Be thou my strong hold, whereunto I may alway resort: thou hast promised to helpe me, for thou art my house of defence, and my castle.
3 Deliuer me, O my God, out of the hand of the vngodly: out of the hand of the vnrighteous and cruell man.
4 For thou, O Lord God, art the thing that I long for: thou art my hope, euen frō my youth.
5 Through thee haue I bene holden vp euer since I was borne: thou art hee that tooke mee out of my mothers wombe, my praise shalbe al-way of thee.
6 I am become as it were a monster vnto many: but my sure trust is in thee.
7 O let my mouth be filled with thy praise:
(that I may sing of thy glory) and honour all the day long.
8 Cast me not away in the time of age: forsake me not when my strength faileth me.
9 For mine enemies speake against me, and they that lay wait for my soule, take their counsell together, saying: God hath forsaken him, persecute him, and take him, for there is none to deliuer him.
10 Goe not farre from me, O God: my God, haste thee to helpe me.
11 Let them be confounded and perish, that are against my soule: let them be couered with shame and dishonour, that seeke to do me euill.
12 As for me, I will patiently abide alway:
and will praise thee more and more.
13 My mouth shall daily speake of thy righteousnesse and saluation: for I know no end thereof.
14 I will go forth in the strength of the Lord God: and will make mention of thy righteous-nesse onely.

15 Thou, O God, hast taught mee from my youth vp vntill now: therefore will I tell of thy wonderous workes.

16 Forsake me not, O God, in mine olde age, when I am gray headed: vntill I haue shewed thy strength vnto this generation, and thy power to all them that are yet for to come.

17 Thy righteousnesse, O God, is very high: and great things are they that thou hast done, O God, who is like vnto thee?

18 O what great troubles and aduersities hast thou shewed me, and yet diddest thou turne and refresh me: yea, and broughtest me from the deepe of the earth againe.

19 Thou hast brought mee to great honour: and comforted me on euery side.

20 Therefore will I praise thee and thy faithfulnesse (O God) playing vpon an instrument of musicke: vnto thee will I sing vpon the harpe, O thou holy One of Israel.

21 My lippes will bee faine when I sing vnto thee: and so will my soule whom thou hast deliuered.

22 My tongue also shall talke of thy righteousnesse all the day long: for they are confounded and brought vnto shame that seeke to doe me euill.

Deus iudicium. Psal. 72.

GIue the King thy iudgements (O God:) and thy righteousnesse vnto the Kings sonne.

2 That shall bee iudge the people according vnto right: and defend the poore.

3 The mountaines also shall bring peace, and the little hilles righteousnesse vnto the people.

4 Hee shall keepe the simple folke by their right: defende the children of the poore, and punish the wrong doer.

5 They shal feare thee as long as the Sunne and Moone endureth: from one generation to another.

6 Hee shall come downe like the raine into a fleece of wooll: euen as the droppes that water the earth.

7 In his time shall the righteous flourish: yea, and abundance of peace, so long as the Moone endureth.

8 His dominion shall bee also from the one Sea to the other: and from the flood vnto the worlds end.

9 They that dwell in the wildernesse shall kneele before him: his enemies shall licke the dust.

10 The Kings of Tharsis and of the Iles shal giue presents: the Kings of Arabia and Saba shall bring gifts.

11 All Kings shall fall downe before him: all nations shall do him seruice.

12 For he shall deliuer the poore when he crieth: the needy also, and him that hath no helper.

13 Hee shall bee fauourable to the simple and needie: and shall preserue the soules of the poore.

14 He shall deliuer their soules from falshood and wrong: and deare shall their blood be in his sight.

15 Hee shall liue, and vnto him shall be giuen of the golde of Arabia: prayer shall be made euer vnto him, and daily shall he be praised.

16 There shall bee an heape of corne in the earth high vpon the hilles: his fruite shall shake like Libanus, and shall be greene in the citie, like grasse vpon the earth.

17 His Name shal endure for euer, his Name shall remaine vnder the Sunne among the posterities: which shall be blessed through him, and all the heathen shall praise him.

18 Blessed be the Lord God, euen the God of Israel: which onely doeth wonderous things.

19 And blessed bee the Name of his Maiestie for euer: and all the earth shall be filled with his Maiestie, Amen, Amen.

TRuely God is louing vnto Israel: euen vnto such as are of a cleane heart.

2 Neuertheles, my feete were almost gone: my treadings had welnigh slipt.

3 And why? I was grieued at the wicked: I doe also see the vngodly in such prosperitie.

4 For they are in no perill of death: but are lustie and strong.

5 They come in no misfortune like other folke: neither are they plagued like other men.

6 And this is the cause that they bee so holden with pride: and ouerwhelmed with crueltie.

7 Their eyes swell with fatnesse: and they do euen what they lust.

8 They corrupt other, and speake of wicked blasphemie: their talking is against the most Highest.

9 For they stretch foorth their mouth vnto the heauen: and their tongue goeth thorow the world.

10 Therefore fall the people vnto them: and thereout suche they no small aduantage.

11 Tush (say they) how should God perceiue it: is there any knowledge in the most highest?

12 Lo, these are the vngodly, these prosper in the world, and these haue riches in possession: and I saide, Then haue I cleansed my heart in vaine, and washed my hands in innocencie.

13 All the day long haue I bene punished: and chastened euery morning.

14 Yea, and I had almost saide euen as they: but loe, then should I haue condemned the generation of thy children.

15 Then thought I to vnderstand this: but it was too hard for me.

16 Until I went into the Sanctuary of God: then vnderstood I the ende of these men.

17 Namely, how thou doest set them in slippery places: and castest them downe, and destroyest them.

18 Oh how suddenly doe they consume: perish, and come to a fearefull ende?

19 Yea, euen like as a dreame when one awaketh: so shalt thou make their image to vanish out of the citie.

20 Thus my heart was grieued: and it went euen through my reines.

21 So foolish was I and ignorant: euen as it were a beast before thee.

22 Neuertheles, I am alway by thee: for thou hast holden me by my right hand.

23 Thou shalt guide mee with thy counsell: and after that receiue me with glory.

24 Whom haue I in heauen but thee: and there is none vpon earth that I desire in comparison of thee.

26 25 My flesh and my heart faileth: but God is the strength of my heart, and my portion for euer.
27 26 For loe, they that forsake thee shall perish:
thou hast destroyed all them that commit fornication against thee.
28 27 But it is good for mee to holde mee fast by God, & to put my trust in the Lord God: and to speake of all thy workes (in the gates of the daughter of Sion.)

Vt quid Deus. Psal. 74.

O God, wherefore art thou absent from vs so long: why is thy wrath so hote against the sheepe of thy pasture?
2 O thinke vpon thy Congregation: whom thou hast purchased and redeemed of olde.
3 Thinke vpō the tribe of thine inheritance:
and mount Sion wherein thou hast dwelt.
4 Lift vp thy feete, that thou mayest vtterly destroy euery enemie: which hath done euill in thy Sanctuary.
5 6 Thine aduersaries roare in the middest of thy Congregations: and set vp their banners for tokens.
6 7 Hee that hewed timber afore out of the thicke trees: was knowen to bring it to an excellent worke.
7 But nowe they breake downe all the carued worke thereof: with axes and hammers.
8 They haue set fire vpon thy holy places:
and haue defiled the dwelling place of thy Name,
euen to the ground.
9 Yea, they said in their hearts, Let vs make hauocke of them altogether: thus haue they burnt vp all the houses of God in the land.
10 Wee see not our tokens, there is not one Prophet more: no not one is there among vs that vnderstandeth any more.
11 O God, how long shall the aduersary doe this dishonour: how long shall the enemie blaspheme thy Name, for euer?
12 Why withdrawest thou thy hande: why pluckest not thou thy right hande out of thy bo-some to consume the enemie?
13 For God is my King of olde: the helpe that is done vpon earth, he doeth it himselfe.
14 Thou diddest diuide the Sea through thy power: thou brakest the heads of the dragons in the waters.
15 Thou smotest the heads of Leuiathan in pieces: and gauest him to be meat for the people in the wildernesse.
16 Thou broughtest out fountaines and waters out of the hard rocks: thou driedst vp mightie waters.
17 The day is thine, and the night is thine:
thou hast prepared the light and the Sunne.
18 Thou hast set all the borders of the earth:
thou hast made Sommer and Winter.
19 Remember this, O Lord, how the enemie hath rebuked: and how the foolish people hath blasphemed thy Name.
20 O deliuer not the soule of thy turtle doue vnto the multitude of the enemies: and forget not the Congregation of the poore for euer.
21 22 Looke vpon the Couenant: for all the earth is full of darkenesse and cruell habitations.
22 O let not the simple goe away ashamed:
but let the poore and needy giue praise vnto thy Name.
23 Arise, O God, maintaine thine own cause:
remember howe the foolish man blaspheméth thee daily.
24 25 Forget not the voyce of thine enemies: the presumption of them that hate thee, encreaseth euer more and more.

Confitebimur tibi. Psal. 75.

VNto thee (O God) doe wee giue thankes: yea vnto thee doe wee giue thankes.
2 Thy Name also is so nigh:
and that doe thy wonderous workes declare.
3 When I receiue the Congregation: I shal iudge according vnto right.
4 The earth is weake, and all the inhabiters thereof: I beare vp the pillars of it.
5 I said vnto the fooles, Deale not so madly: and to the vngodly, Set not vp your horne.
6 Set not vp your horne on high: and speake not with a stiffe neche.
7 For promotion commeth neither from the East nor from the West: nor yet from the South.
8 And why? God is the Iudge: he putteth downe one, and setteth vp another.
9 For in the hand of the Lord there is a cup, and the wine is red: it is full mixt, and he powreth out of the same.
10 As for the dregs thereof: all the vngodly of the earth shall drinke them, and sucke them out.
11 But I will talke of the God of Iacob: and praise him for euer.
12 All the hornes of the vngodly also will I breake: and the hornes of the righteous shalbe exalted.

Notus in Iudea. Psal. 76.

IN Iury is God knowen: his Name is great in Israel.
2 At Salem is his Tabernacle: and his dwelling in Sion.
3 There brake he the arrowes of the bow:
the shield, the sword, and the battell.
4 Thou art of more honour & might: then the hilles of the robbers.
5 The proud are robbed, they haue slept their sleepe: and all the men (whose hands were mightie) haue found nothing.
6 At thy rebuke (O God of Iacob:) both the charet and horse are fallen.
7 Thou, euen thou art to be feared: and who may stand in thy sight when thou art angry?
8 Thou diddest cause thy iudgement to bee heard from heauen: the earth trembled and was still.
9 When God arose to iudgement: and to helpe all the meeke vpon earth.
10 The fiercenesse of man shall turne to thy praise: and the fiercenesse of them shalt thou restraine.
11 Promise vnto the Lord your God, and keepe it, all yee that bee round about him: bring presents vnto him that ought to be feared.
12 He shall refraine the spirit of princes: and is wonderfull among the Kings of the earth.

fol. Ll6r

2 In the time of my trouble I sought the Lord: my sore ranne and ceased not, in the night season my soule refused comfort.
3 When I am in heauinesse I will thinke upon God: when my heart is vexed, I will complaine and my spirit was ouercome.
4 Thou holdest mine eyes waking: I am so feeble that I cannot speake.
5 I haue considered the dayes of old: and the yeeres that are past.
6 I cal to remembrance my song: and in the night I commune with mine owne heart, and search out my spirits.
7 Will the Lord absent himselfe for euer: and will he bee no more intreated?
8 Is his mercy cleane gone for euer: and is his promise come vtterly to an ende for euermore?
9 Hath God forgotten to bee gracious: and will hee shut vp his louing kindenesse in displeasure?
10 And I saide, It is mine owne infirmitie: but I will remember the yeres of the right hand of the most Highest.
11 I will remember the workes of the Lord: and call to minde thy wonders of old time.
12 I will thinke also of all thy workes: and my talking shalbe of thy doings.
13 Thy way, O God, is holy: who is so great a God (as our God?)
14 Thou art the God that doest wonders: and hast declared thy power among the people.
15 Thou hast mightily deliuered thy people: euen the sonnes of Jacob and Joseph.
16 The waters saw thee, O God, the waters saw thee, and were afraid: the depthes also were troubled.
17 The cloudes powred out water, the aire thundered: and thine arrowes went abroad.
18 The voice of thy thunder was heard round about: the lightnings shone vpon the ground, the earth was moued, and shooke withall.
19 Thy way is in the Sea, and thy paths in the great waters: and thy footesteps are not knowen.
20 Thou leddest thy people like sheepe: by the hand of Moses and Aaron.

Attendite popule. Psal. 78.

Euening prayer.

HEare my Law, O my people: encline your eares vnto the wordes of my mouth.
2 I will open my mouth in a parable: I will declare hard sentences of old.
3 Which wee haue heard and knowen: and such as our fathers haue told vs.
4 That wee should not hide them from the children of the generations to come: but to shew the honour of the Lord, his mighty and wonderfull workes that he hath done.
5 He made a couenant with Jacob, and gaue Israel a Law: which he commanded our forefathers to teach their children.
6 That their posteritie might know it: and the children which were yet vnborne.
7 To the intent that when they came vp: they might shew their children the same.
8 That they might put their trust in God: and not to forget the workes of God, but to keepe his Commandements.
9 And not to be as their forefathers, a faithlesse and stubburne generation: a generation that set not their heart aright, and whose spirit cleaueth not stedfastly vnto God.
10 Like as the children of Ephraim: which being harnessed & carying bowes, turned themselues backe in the day of battell.
11 They kept not the Couenant of God: and would not walke in his Law.
12 But forgate what hee had done: and the wonderfull workes that he had shewed for them.
13 Marueilous things did hee in the sight of our forefathers in the land of Egypt: euen in the field of Zoan.
14 He diuided the sea, & let them go through: and he made the waters to stand on an heape.
15 In the day time also he ledde them with a cloude: and all the night through with a light of fire.
16 He claue the hard rocks in the wildernesse: and gaue them drinke thereof, as it had bene out of the great depth.
17 He brought waters out of the stony rocke: so that it gushed out like the riuers.
18 Yet for all this they sinned more against him: and prouoked the most Highest in the wildernesse.
19 They tempted God in their hearts: and required meate for their lust.
20 They spake against God also, saying: Shal God prepare a table in the wildernesse?
21 He smote the stony rocke indeede, that the waters gushed out, and the streames flowed withall: but can he giue bread also, or prouide flesh for his people?
22 When the Lord heard this, he was wroth: so the fire was kindled in Jacob, and there came vp heauy displeasure against Israel.
23 Because they beleeued not in God: and put not their trust in his helpe.
24 So hee commanded the cloudes aboue: and opened the doores of heauen.
25 He rained downe Manna also vpon them to eate: and gaue them food from heauen.
26 So man did eate Angels food: and he sent them meate enough.
27 Hee caused the East winde to blow vnder heauen: and through his power hee brought in the South west winde.
28 Hee rained flesh vpon them as thicke as dust: and feathered foules like as the sand of the Sea.
29 Hee let it fall among their tentes: euen round about their habitations.
30 So they did eate and were well filled, for hee gaue them their owne desire: they were not disappointed of their lust.
31 But, while the meate was yet in their mouthes, the heauy wrath of God came vpon them, & slue the wealthiest of them: yea & smote downe the chosen men that were in Israel.
32 But for all this they sinned yet more: and beleeued not his wonderous workes.
33 Therefore their dayes did hee consume in vanitie: and their yeeres in trouble.
34 When he slew them, they sought him: and turned them early, and enquired after God.
35 And they remembred that God was their strength: and that the high God was their redeemer.
36 Neuertheless, they did but flatter him with their mouth: and dissembled with him in their tongue.

37 For their heart was not whole with him: neither continued they stedfast in his Couenant.

38 But hee was so mercifull that he forgaue their wickednes: and destroyed them not.

39 Yea many a time turned hee his wrath away: and would not stirre his whole displeasure to arise.

40 For he considered that they were but flesh: and that they were euen a winde that passeth away, and commeth not againe.

41 Many a time did they prouoke him in the wildernesse: and grieued him in the desert.

42 They turned backe and tempted God: and moued the holy One in Israel.

43 They thought not of his hand: and of the day when hee deliuered them from the hand of the enemie.

44 How hee had wrought his miracles in Egypt: and his wonders in the field of Zoan.

45 He turned their waters into blood: so that they might not drinke of the riuers.

46 He sent lice among them, and deuoured them vp: and frogs to destroy them.

47 Hee gaue their fruit vnto the Caterpiller: and their labour vnto the Grashopper.

48 He destroied their vines with haile stones: and their Mulberie trees with the frost.

49 Hee smote their cattell also with haile stones: and their flocks with hot thunder bolts.

50 He cast vpon them the furiousnesse of his wrath, anger, displeasure, and trouble: and sent euil angels among them.

51 Hee made a way to his indignation, and spared not their soule from death: but gaue their life ouer to the pestilence.

52 And smote all the first borne in Egypt: the most principall and mightiest in the dwellings of Ham.

53 But as for his owne people, hee led them forth like sheepe: and tamed them in the wildernes like a floche.

54 Hee brought them out safely, that they should not feare: and ouerwhelmed their enemies with the Sea.

55 And brought them within the borders of his Sanctuary: euen to his mountaine which he purchased with his right hand.

56 Hee cast out the heathen also before them: caused their land to bee diuided among them for an heritage, and made the tribes of Israel to dwell in their tents.

57 So they tempted and displeased the most high God: and kept not his testimonies.

58 But turned their backes, and fell away like their forefathers: starting aside like a broken bowe.

59 For they grieued him with their hill altars: and prouoked him to displeasure with their images.

60 When God heard this, he was wroth: and tooke sore displeasure at Israel.

61 So that he forsooke the Tabernacle in Silo: euen the tent that hee had pitched among them.

62 He deliuered their power into captiuitie: and their beautie into the enemies hand.

63 Hee gaue his people ouer also vnto the sword: and was wroth with his inheritance.

64 The fire consumed their yong men: and their maydens were not giuen to mariage.

65 Their priestes were slaine with the sword: and there were no widowes to make lamentation.

66 So the Lord awaked as one out of sleepe: and like a giant refreshed with wine.

67 He smote his enemies in the hinder parts: and put them to a perpetuall shame.

68 He refused the Tabernacle of Joseph: and chose not the tribe of Ephraim.

69 But chose the tribe of Juda: euen the hill of Sion, which he loued.

70 And there he builded his Temple on high: and layde the foundation of it like the ground which he hath made continually.

71 Hee chose Dauid also his seruant: and tooke him away from the sheepefolds.

72 As he was following the Ewes great with yong ones, he tooke him: that he might feed Jacob his people, and Israel his inheritance.

73 So he fed them with a faithfull and true heart: and ruled them prudently with all his power.

Deus, venerunt. Psal. 79.

O God, the Heathen are come into thine inheritance: thy holy Temple haue they defiled, and made Hierusalem an heape of stones. Morning prayer.

2 The dead bodies of thy seruants haue they giuen to bee meate vnto the foules of the aier; and the flesh of thy Saints vnto the beasts of the land.

3 Their blood haue they shed like water on euery side of Hierusalem: and there was no man to bury them.

4 We are become an open shame to our enemies: a scorne and derision vnto them that are round about vs.

5 Lord, how long wilt thou be angry: shall thy iealousie burne like fire for euer?

6 Powre out thine indignation vpon the heathen that haue not knowen thee: and vpon the kingdomes that haue not called vpon thy Name.

7 For they haue deuoured Jacob: and layd waste his dwelling place.

8 O remember not our old sinnes, but haue mercy vpon vs, and that soone: for we are come to great misery.

9 Helpe vs, O God of our saluation, for the glory of thy Name: O deliuer vs, and be merciful vnto our sinnes, for thy Names sake.

10 Wherefore say the heathen: Where is now their God?

11 O let the vengeance of thy seruants blood that is shed: be openly shewed vpon the heathen in our sight.

12 O let the sorrowfull sighing of the prisoners come before thee: according to the greatnesse of thy power preserue thou those that are appointed to die.

13 And for the blasphemie wherewith our neighbors haue blasphemed thee: reward thou them, O Lord, seuen fold into their bosome.

14 So we, that bee thy people and sheepe of thy pasture, shall giue thee thankes for euer: and will alway be shewing forth thy praise from generation to generation.

Qui regis Israel. Psal. 80.

HEare, O thou shepheard of Israel, thou that leadest Joseph like a sheepe: shewe thy selfe also thou that sittest vpon the Cherubims.

2 Before Ephraim, Beniamin, and Manasses: stirre vp thy strength and come and helpe vs.

3 Turne vs againe, O God: shew the light of thy countenance, and we shalbe whole.

4 O Lorde God of hostes: howe long wilt thou be angrie with thy people that prayeth?

5 Thou feedest them with the bread of teares: and giuest them plentcousnesse of teares to drinke.

6 Thou hast made vs a very strife vnto our neighbors: and our enemies laugh vs to scorne.

7 Turne vs againe, thou God of hostes: shewe the light of thy countenance, and we shall be whole.

8 Thou hast brought a vine out of Egypt: thou hast cast out the heathen, and planted it.

9 Thou madest roome for it: and when it had taken roote, it filled the land.

10 The hilles are couered with the shadowe of it: and the boughes thereof were like the goodly Cedar trees.

11 Shee stretched out her braunches vnto the sea: and her bowghes vnto the riuer.

12 Why hast thou then broken downe her hedge: that all they which goe by pluckc off her grapes?

13 The wilde Boze out of the wood doeth robt it vp: and the wilde beastes of the field deuoure it.

14 Turne thee againe, thou God of hostes, looke downe from heauen: beholde, and visite this vine.

15 And the place of the vineyarde that thy right hand hath planted: and the braunch that thou madest so strong for thy selfe.

16 It is burnt with fire, and cut downe: and they shall perish at the rebuke of thy countenance.

17 Let thy hand be vpon the man of thy right hand: and vpon the sonne of man whome thou madest so strong for thine owne selfe.

18 And so will not wee goe backe from thee: O let vs liue, and we shall call vpon thy name.

19 Turne vs againe, O Lord God of hostes: shewe the light of thy countenance, and we shall be whole.

Exultate Deo. Psal. 81.

SIng merily vnto God our strength: make a cheerefull noyse vnto the God of Jacob.

2 Take the Psalme, bring hither the Tabret: the merry Harpe with the Lute.

3 Blow vp the trumpet in the new moone: euen in the time appointed, and vpon our solemne feast day.

4 For this was made a statute for Israel: and a law of the God of Jacob.

5 This he ordained in Joseph for a testimonie: when he came out of the land of Egypt, and had heard a straunge language.

6 I eased his shoulder from the burden: and his hands were deliuered from making the pottes.

7 Thou calledst vpon me in troubles, and I deliuered thee: and heard thee what time as the storme fell vpon thee.

8 I prooued thee also: at the waters of strife.

9 Heare, O my people, & I will assure thee, O Israel: if thou wilt hearken vnto me.

10 There shall no strange God be in thee: neither shalt thou worship any other God.

11 I am the Lord thy God, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt: open thy mouth wide, and I shall fill it.

12 But my people would not heare my voice: and Israel would not obey me.

13 So I gaue them vp vnto their owne hearts lust: and let them follow their owne imaginations.

14 O that my people would haue hearkened vnto mee: for if Israel had walked in my wayes.

15 I should soone haue put downe their enemies: and turned my hand against their aduersaries.

16 The haters of the Lord should haue bene found liars: but their time should haue endured for euer.

17 He should haue fed them also with the finest wheate floure: and with hony out of the stonie rocke should I haue satisfied thee.

Deus stetit. Psal. 82.

GOD standeth in the Congregation of princes: he is a iudge among gods. Euening prayer.

2 How long will ye giue wrong iudgement: and accept the persons of the vngodly?

3 Defend the poore and fatherlesse: see that such as be in neede and necessitie haue right.

4 Deliuer the out cast and poore: saue them from the hand of the vngodly.

5 They will not be learned, nor vnderstand, but walke on still in darkenesse: all the foundations of the earth be out of course.

6 I haue said, Ye are Gods: and ye all are children of the most highest.

7 But ye shall die like men: and fall like one of the princes.

8 Arise, O God, and iudge thou the earth: for thou shalt take all heathen to thine inheritance.

Deus quis similis. Psal. 83.

HOld not thy tongue, O God, keepe not still silence: refraine not thy selfe, O God.

2 For loe, thine enemies make a murmuring: and they that hate thee haue lift vp their head.

3 They haue imagined craftily against thy people: and taken counsaile against thy secret ones.

4 They haue sayde, Come, and let vs roote them out, that they be no more a people: and that the name of Israel may be no more in remembrance.

5 For they haue cast their heads together with one consent: and are confederate against thee.

10 Which perished at Endor: and became as the doung of the earth.

11 Make them and their princes like Oreb and Zeb: yea, make all their princes like as Zeba and Salmana.

12 Which say, Let vs take to our selues: the houses of God in possession.

13 O my God, make them like vnto a wheele: and as the stubble before the winde.

14 Like as the fire that burneth vp the wood: and as the flame that consumeth the mountaines.

15 Persecute them euen so with thy tempest: and make them afraid with thy storme.

16 Make their faces ashamed, O Lord: that they may seeke thy name.

17 Let them be confounded and vexed euer more and more: let them bee put to shame and perish, 18 And they shall know, that thou (whose name is Jehouah:) art onely the most highest ouer all the earth.

Quàm dilecta. Psal. 84.

O How amiable are the dwellings: thou Lord of hostes!

2 My soule hath a desire and longing to enter into the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh reioyce in the liuing God.

3 Yea, the sparrow hath found her an house, and the swallow a nest, where she may laye her young: euen thy altars, O Lord of hostes, my King and my God.

4 Blessed are they that dwell in thy house: they will be alway praising thee.

5 Blessed is the man whose strength is in thee: in whose heart are thy wayes.

6 Which going through the vale of miserie, vse it for a well: and the pooles are filled with water.

7 They will goe from strength to strength: and vnto the God of gods appeareth euery one of them in Sion.

8 O Lorde God of hostes, heare my prayer: hearken, O God of Jacob.

9 Beholde, O God, our defender: and looke vpon the face of thine anointed.

10 For one day in thy courts: is better then a thousand.

11 I had rather be a doore keeper in the house of my God: then to dwell in the tents of vngodlinesse.

12 For the Lord God is a light and defence: the Lorde will giue grace and worship, and no good thing shall hee withholde from them that liue a godly life.

13 O Lord God of hostes: blessed is the man that putteth his trust in thee.

Benedixisti, Domine. Psal. 85.

LOrde, thou art become gracious vnto thy land: thou hast turned away the captiuitie of Jacob.

2 Thou hast forgiuen the offence of thy people: and couered all their sinnes.

3 Thou hast taken away all thy displeasure: and turned thy selfe from thy wrathfull indignation.

4 Turne vs then, O God our Sauiour: and let thine anger cease from vs.

5 Wilt thou be displeased at vs for euer: and wilt thou stretch out thy wrath from one generation to another?

6 Wilt thou not turne againe and quicken vs: that thy people reioyce in thee?

7 Shew vs thy mercie, O Lord: and grant vs thy saluation.

8 I will hearken what the Lorde God will say concerning me: for he shall speake peace vnto his people, and to his saints, that they turne not againe.

9 For his saluation is nigh them that feare him: that glory may dwell in our land.

10 Mercie and trueth are met together: righteousnesse and peace haue kissed each other.

11 Trueth shall spring out of the earth: and righteousnesse hath looked down from heauen.

12 Yea, the Lord shall shew louing kindnesse: and our land shall giue her encrease.

13 Righteousnesse shall goe before him: and he shall direct his going in the way.

Inclina Domine. Psal. 86.

BOwe downe thine eare, O Lorde, and heare me: for I am poore and in miserie. Morning prayer.

2 Preserue thou my soule, for I am holy: my God saue thy seruant that putteth his trust in thee.

3 Be mercifull vnto me, O Lord: for I will call daily vpon thee.

4 Comfort the soule of thy seruant: for vnto thee (O Lord) doe I lift vp my soule.

5 For thou Lorde art good and gracious: and of great mercie vnto all them that call vpon thee.

6 Giue eare Lord vnto my prayer: and ponder the voice of my humble desires.

7 In the time of my trouble I will call vpon thee: for thou hearest me.

8 Among the gods there is none like vnto thee (O Lorde:) there is not one that can doe as thou doest.

9 All nations whome thou hast made, shall come and worship thee, O Lord: and shall glorifie thy name.

10 For thou art great, and doest wonderous things: thou art God alone.

11 Teach mee thy way (O Lord) and I will walke in thy truth: O knit my heart vnto thee, that I may feare thy name.

12 I will thanke thee, O Lord my God, with all my heart: and will praise thy name for euermore.

13 For great is thy mercie toward mee: and thou hast deliuered my soule from the nether most hell.

14 O God, the proude are risen against mee: and the congregations of naughtie men haue sought after my soule, and haue not set thee before their eyes.

15 But thou (O Lorde God) art full of compassion and mercie: long suffering, plenteous in goodnesse and trueth.

16 O turne thee then vnto mee, and haue mercie vpon mee: giue thy strength vnto thy seruant, and helpe the sonne of thine handmayd.

17 Shew some good token vpon me, for good, that they which hate me may see it, and be ashamed: because thou Lorde hast holpen mee, and comforted me.

Fundamenta eius. Psal. 87.

HEr foundations are vpon the holy hils: the Lord loueth the gates of Sion, more then all the dwellings of Jacob.

2 Very excellent things are spoken of thee: thou citie of God.

3 I will thinke vpon Rahab and Babylon: with them that know me.

4 Behold yee the Philistines also: and they of Tyre, with the Morians, loe, there was hee borne.

5 And of Sion it shalbe reported, that hee was borne in her: and the most highest shall stablish her.

6 The Lorde shall rehearse it when hee writeth vp the people: that hee was borne there.

7 The singers also and trumpetters shall bee rehearse: all my fresh springs shall bee in thee.

Domine Deus. Psal. 88.

O Lorde God of my saluation, I haue cryed day and night before thee: Let my prayer enter into thy presence, encline thine eare vnto my calling.

2 For my soule is full of trouble: and my life draweth nigh vnto hell.

3 I am counted as one of them that goe downe into the pit: and I haue beene euen as a man that hath no strength.

4 Free among the dead, like vnto them that be wounded and lye in the graue: which be out of remembrance, and are cut away from thy hand.

5 Thou hast layd me in the lowest pit: in a place of darkenesse, and in the deepe.

6 Thine indignation lyeth hard vpon me: and thou hast vexed me with all thy stormes.

7 Thou hast put away mine acquaintance farre from me: and made me to be abhorred of them.

8 I am so fast in prison: that I cannot get forth.

9 My sight faileth for very trouble: Lord, I haue called daily vpon thee, I haue stretched out my hands vnto thee.

10 Doest thou shewe wonders among the dead: or shall the dead rise vp againe and praise thee?

11 Shall thy louing kindenesse bee shewed in the graue: or thy faithfulnesse in destruction?

12 Shall thy wondrous workes be knowen in the darke: and thy righteousnesse in the land where all things are forgotten?

13 Vnto thee haue I cryed, O Lord: and early shall my prayer come before thee.

14 Lorde, why abhorrest thou my soule: and hidest thou thy face from me?

15 I am in miserie, and like vnto him that is at the point to die: euen from my youth vp thy terrours haue I suffered with a troubled minde.

16 Thy wrathful displeasure goeth ouer me: and the feare of thee hath vndone me.

17 They came rounde about mee dayly like water: and compassed mee together on euerie side.

18 My louers and friendes hast thou put away from mee: and hid mine acquaintance out of my sight.

Misericordias Domini. Psal. 89.

Morning prayer.

MY song shall be alway of the louing kindnesse of the Lord: with my mouth will I euer be shewing thy trueth from one generation to another.

2 For I haue sayde, Mercie shall be set vp for euer: thy trueth shalt thou stablish in the heauens.

3 I haue made a couenant with my chosen: I haue sworne vnto Dauid my seruant.

4 Thy seede will I stablish for euer: and set vp thy throne from one generation to another.

5 O Lord, the very heauens shall praise thy wonderous workes: and thy trueth in the congregation of the saints.

6 For who is he among the clouds: that shall be compared vnto the Lord?

7 And what is he among the gods: that shall be like vnto the Lord?

8 God is very greatly to bee feared in the counsaile of the saints: and to be had in reuerence of all them that are about him.

9 O Lorde God of hostes, who is like vnto thee: thy trueth (most mightie Lord) is on euerie side.

10 Thou rulest the raging of the sea: thou stillest the waues thereof when they arise.

11 Thou hast subdued Egypt, and destroyed it: thou hast scattered thine enemies abroad with thy mightie arme.

12 The heauens are thine, the earth also is thine: thou hast laid the foundation of the round world, and all that therein is.

13 Thou hast made the North & the South: Tabor and Hermon shall reioyce in thy name.

14 Thou hast a mightie arme: strong is thy hand, and high is thy right hand.

15 Righteousnesse and equitie is the habitation of thy seat: mercie and trueth shall goe before thy face.

16 Blessed is the people (O Lorde) that can reioyce in thee: they shall walke in the light of thy countenance.

17 Their delight shall bee daily in thy name: and in thy righteousnesse shall they make their boast.

18 For thou art the glorie of their strength: and in thy louing kindnesse thou shalt lift vp our hornes.

19 For the Lord is our defence: the holy one of Israel is our king.

20 Thou hakest sometime in visions vnto thy saints, and saidest: I haue layde helpe vpon one that is mightie, I haue exalted one chosen out of the people.

21 I haue found Dauid my seruant: with my holy oile haue I anointed him.

22 My hand shall hold him fast: and my arme shall strengthen him.

23 The enemie shall not bee able to doe him violence: the sonne of wickednesse shal not hurt him.

24 I shall smite downe his foes before his face: and plague them that hate him.

25 My trueth also and my mercie shall bee with him: and in my name shall his horne be exalted.

26 I will set his dominion also in the Sea: and his right hand in the floods.

fol. Mm2v

26 27 He shall call mee, Thou art my father: my God, and my strong saluation.
27 28 Also I wil make him my first borne: higher then the kings of the earth.
28 29 My mercie will I keepe for him for euermore: & my couenant shall stand fast with him.
29 30 His seed also will I make to endure for euer: and his throne as the dayes of heauen.
30 31 But if his children forsake my lawe: and walke not in my iudgements.
31 32 If they breake my statutes, and keepe not my commaundements:
32 33 I will visite their offences with the rod, and their sinne with scourges.
33 Neuertheless, my louing kindnesse, will I not vtterly take from him: nor suffer my truth to faile.
34 My couenant will I not breake, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lippes.
35 Once haue I sworne by my holinesse that I would not faile Dauid.
36 His seede shall endure for euer: and his throne is like as the sunne before me.
37 Hee shall stand fast for euermore, as the moone: and as the faithfull witnesse in heauen.
38 But thou hast abhorred and forsaken thine anointed: and art displeased at him.
39 Thou hast broken the couenant of thy seruant: and cast his crowne to the ground.
40 Thou hast ouerthrowen all his hedges: and broken downe his strong holds.
41 All they that goe by, spoile him: and he is become a rebuke to his neighbours.
42 Thou hast set vp the right hand of his enemies: & made all his aduersaries to reioyce.
43 Thou hast taken away the edge of his sword: and giuen him victorie in the battell.
44 Thou hast put out his glorie: and cast his throne downe to the ground.
45 The dayes of his youth hast thou shortened: and couered him with dishonour.
46 Lorde, how long wilt thou hide thy selfe, for euer: and shall thy wrath burne like fire?
47 Oh remember howe short my time is: wherefore hast thou made all men, for nought?
48 What man is he that liueth, and shall not see death: and shall he deliuer his soule from the hand of hell?
49 Lorde, where are thy olde louing kindnesses: which thou swarest vnto Dauid in thy trueth?
50 Remember (Lord) the rebuke that thy seruants haue: and how I do beare in my bosome the rebukes of many people.
51 Wherewith thine enemies haue blasphemed thee, and slandered the footesteps of thine anoynted: praised be the Lord for euermore. Amen, Amen.

Domine, refugium. Psal. 90.

Morning prayer.

LOrd, thou hast bene our refuge: from one generation to another.
2 Before the mountaines were brought forth, or euer the earth and the world were made: thou art God, from euerlasting, and world without end.
3 Thou turnest man to destruction: againe thou sayest, Come again ye children of men.
4 For a thousand yeres in thy sight, are but as yesterday: seeing that is past as a watch in the night.
5 As soone as thou scatterest them, they are euen as a sleepe: and fade away suddenly like the grasse.
6 In the morning it is greene, and groweth vp: but in the euening it is cut downe, dryed vp, and withered.
7 For we consume away in thy displeasure: and are afraid at thy wrathfull indignation.
8 Thou hast set our misdeedes before thee: and our secret sinnes in the light of thy countenance.
9 For when thou art angrie, all our dayes are gone: wee bring our yeeres to an ende, as it were a tale that is told.
10 The dayes of our age are threescore yeres and ten, and though men be so strong that they come to fourescore yeeres: yet is their strength then but labour and sorowe, so soone passeth it away and we are gone.
11 But who regardeth the power of thy wrath: for euen therafter as a man feareth, so is thy displeasure.
12 Teach vs to number our dayes: that we may apply our hearts vnto wisedome.
13 Turne thee againe (O Lorde) at the last: and be gracious vnto thy seruants.
14 O satisfie vs with thy mercie, and that soone: so shall we reioyce & be glad all the dayes of our life.
15 Comfort vs againe nowe after the time that thou hast plagued vs: and for the yeeres wherein we haue suffered aduersitie.
16 Shew thy seruants thy worke: and their children thy glorie.
17 And the glorious maiestie of the Lorde our God be vpon vs: prosper thou the worke of our hands vpon vs, O prosper thou our handie worke.

Qui habitat. Psal. 91.

WHo so dwelleth vnder the defence of the most high: shall abide vnder the shadowe of the Almightie.
2 I will say vnto the Lorde, Thou art my hope and my strong hold: my God, in him will I trust.
3 For he shall deliuer thee from the snare of the hunter, and from the noysome pestilence.
4 He shall defend thee vnder his wings, and thou shalt be safe vnder his feathers: his faithfulnesse and trueth shalbe thy shield and buckler.
5 Thou shalt not be afraide for any terrour by night: nor for the arrow that flyeth by day.
6 For the pestilence that walketh in the darkenesse: nor for the sicknesse that destroyeth in the noone day.
7 A thousand shall fall beside thee, and ten thousand at thy right hande: but it shall not come nigh thee.
8 Yea, with thine eyes shalt thou beholde: and see the reward of the vngodly.
9 For thou Lord art my hope: thou hast set thine house of defence very high.
10 There shall no euill happen vnto thee: neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling.
11 For hee shall giue his angels charge ouer thee: to keepe thee in all thy wayes.
12 They shall beare thee in their handes: that thou hurt not thy foote against a stone.

14 Because hee hath set his loue vpon mee, therefore shall I deliuer him: I shall set him vp, because he hath knowen my name.

15 Hee shall call vpon mee, and I will heare him: yea, I am with him in trouble, I will deliuer him, and bring him to honour.

16 With long life will I satisfie him: and shew him my saluation.

Bonum est confiteri. Psal. 92.

IT is a good thing to giue thankes vnto the Lorde: and to sing prayses vnto thy name, O most highest.

2 To tell of thy louing kindnesse early in the morning: and of thy truth in the night season.

3 Vpon an instrument of ten strings, and vpon the Lute: vpon a loud instrument, and vpon the Harpe.

4 For thou Lord hast made me glad through thy workes: and I will reioice in giuing praise for the operations of thy hands.

5 O Lord, how glorious are thy workes: and thy thoughts are very deepe.

6 An vnwise man doeth not well consider this: and a foole doeth not vnderstand it.

7 When the vngodly are greene as the grasse, and when all the workers of wickednesse doe florish: their shall they be destroyed for euer, but thou Lord art the most highest for euermore.

8 For loe, thine enemies (O Lord) loe thine enemies shall perish: and all the workers of wickednes shall be destroyed.

9 But my horne shall be exalted like the horne of an vnicorne: for I am anointed with fresh oyle.

10 Mine eye also shall see his lust of mine enemies: and mine eare shall heare his desire of the wicked that rise vp against me.

11 The righteous shall florish like a palme tree: and shall spread abroad like a Cedar in Libanus.

12 Such as bee planted in the house of the Lord: shall florish in the courts (of the house) of our God.

13 They also shall bring foorth more fruit in their age: and shall be fat and well liuing.

14 That they may shew how true the Lord my strength is: and that there is no vnrighteousnesse in him.

Dominus regnauit. Psal. 93.

Euening prayer.

THe Lord is king, and hath put on glorious apparell: the Lord hath put on his apparell, & girded himselfe with strength.

2 Hee hath made the round world so sure: that it cannot be moued.

3 Euer since the world began hath thy seate bene prepared: thou art from euerlasting.

4 The floods are risen (O Lord) the floods haue lift vp their voice: the floods lift vp their waues.

5 The waues of the sea are mighty, and rage horribly: but yet the Lord that dwelleth on high is mightier.

6 Thy testimonies, O Lord, are very sure: holinesse becommeth thine house for euer.

Deus vltionum. Psal. 94.

O Lord God to whom vengeance belongeth: thou God to whom vengeance belongeth, shew thy selfe.

2 Aduance thy selfe thou iudge of the world: and reward the proud after their deseruing.

3 Lord how long shall the vngodly: how long shall the vngodly triumph?

4 How long shall all wicked doers speake so disdainefully: and make such proud boasting?

5 They smite down thy people, O Lord: and trouble thine heritage.

6 They murder the widow and the stranger: and put the fatherlesse to death.

7 And yet they say, Tush, the Lord shall not see: neither shal the God of Jacob regard it.

8 Take heede ye vnwise among the people: O yee fooles, when will ye vnderstand?

9 He that planted the eare, shal he not heare: or he that made the eye, shall he not see?

10 Or hee that nurtureth the heathen: it is hee that teacheth man knowledge, shall not hee punish?

11 The Lord knoweth the thoughts of man: that they are but vaine.

12 Blessed is the man whom thou chastenest (O Lord:) and teachest him in thy lawe.

13 That thou mayest giue him patience in time of aduersitie: vntill the pit be digged vp for the vngodly.

14 For the Lord will not fayle his people: neither will he forsake his inheritance.

15 Vntill righteousnesse turne againe vnto iudgement: all such as be true of heart shall follow it.

16 Who will rise vp with me against the wicked: or who will take my part against the euill doers?

17 If the Lord had not helped me: it had not failed but my soule had dwelt in silence.

18 But when I said, My foote hath slipped: thy mercie (O Lord) held me vp.

19 In the multitude of the sorowes that I had in mine heart: thy comforts haue refreshed my soule.

20 Wilt thou haue any thing to doe with the stoole of wickednes: which imagineth mischiefe as a law?

21 They gather them together against the soule of the righteous: and condemne the innocent blood.

22 But the Lord is my refuge: and my God is the strength of my confidence.

23 Hee shall recompense them their wickednesse, and destroy them in their owne malice: yea, the Lord our God shall destroy them.

Venite exultemus. Psal. 95.

Morning prayer.

OCome, let vs sing vnto the Lord: let vs heartily reioice in the stregth of our saluation.

2 Let vs come before his presence with thanksgiuing: and shew our selues glad in him with Psalmes.

3 For the Lord is a great God: and a great King aboue all gods.

4 In his handes are all the corners of the earth: and the strength of the hils is his also.

5 The sea is his, and hee made it: and his hands prepared the drie land.

6 O come, let vs worship and fall downe: and kneele before the Lord our maker.

Cantate Domino. Psal. 96.

O Sing vnto the Lord a new song: sing vnto the Lord all the whole earth.

2 Sing vnto the Lord and praise his Name: be telling of his saluation from day to day.

3 Declare his honour vnto the Heathen: and his wonders vnto all people.

4 For the Lord is great, and cannot worthily bee prayed: hee is more to bee feared then all gods.

5 As for all the gods of the heathen, they bee but idoles: but it is the Lord that made the heauens.

6 Glory and worship are before him: power and honour are in his sanctuarie.

7 Ascribe vnto the Lord, yee kinreds of the people: ascribe vnto the Lorde worship and power.

8 Ascribe vnto the Lord the honour due vnto his Name: bring presents, and come into his courts.

9 O worship the Lord in the beautie of holinesse: let the whole earth stand in awe of him.

10 Tell it out among the Heathen, that the Lord is king: and that it is he which hath made the round world so fast that it cannot be moued, and howe that hee shall iudge the people righteously.

11 Let the heauens reioice, and let the earth bee glad: let the sea make a noise, and all that therein is.

12 Let the field be ioyful, and all that is in it: then shall all the trees of the wood reioice before the Lord.

For he commeth, for he commeth to iudge the earth: and with righteousnesse to iudge the world, and the people with his trueth.

Dominus regnauit. Psal. 97.

THe Lord is king, the earth may be glad thereof, yea, the multitude of the Iles may bee glad thereof.

2 Cloudes and darkenesse are round about him: righteousnesse and iudgement are the habitation of his seate.

3 There shal go a fire before him: and burne vp his enemies on euery side.

4 His lightnings gaue shine vnto the world: the earth saw it, and was afraid.

5 The hils melted like ware at the presence of the Lord: at the presence of the Lorde of the whole earth.

6 The heauens haue declared his righteousnesse: and all the people haue seene his glory.

Confounded bee all they that worship carued images, and that delight in vaine gods: worship him all yee gods.

8 Sion heard of it, and reioiced: and the daughters of Iuda were glad, because of thy iudgements, O Lord.

9 For thou Lorde art higher then all that are in the earth: thou art exalted farre aboue all gods.

10 O yee that loue the Lord, see that yee hate the thing which is euill: the Lorde preserueth the soules of his saints, he shal deliuer them from the hand of the vngodly.

11 There is sprung vp a light for the righteous: and ioyfull gladnesse for such as bee true hearted.

3 He hath remembred his mercie and trueth toward the house of Israel: and all the endes of the world haue seene the saluation of our God.

4 Shew your selues ioyfull vnto the Lord all ye lands: sing, reioice, and giue thanks.

5 Praise the Lord vpon the harpe: sing to the harpe with a Psalme of thanksgiuing.

6 With trumpets also and shawmes: O shewe your selues ioyfull before the Lord the King.

7 Let the sea make a noise, and all that therein is: the round world, and they that dwell therein.

8 Let the floods clap their hands, and let the hils be ioyfull together before the Lord: for he is come to iudge the earth.

9 With righteousnesse shall hee iudge the world: and the people with equitie.

100 5 4 For the Lord is gracious, his mercie is euerlasting: and his trueth endureth from generation to generation.

Misericordiam & iudicium. Psal. 101.

101 MY song shall be of mercie and iudgement: vnto thee, O Lord, will I sing.

2 O let me haue vnderstanding: in the way of godlinesse.

3 When wilt thou come vnto mee: I will walke in my house with a perfit heart.

4 I will take no wicked thing in hande, I hate the sinnes of vnfaithfulnesse; there shall no such cleaue vnto me.

101 5 A frowarde heart shall depart from me: I will not know a wicked person.

6 Who so priuily slandereth his neighbour: him will I destroy.

7 Who so hath also a proud looke, and high stomache: I will not suffer him.

101 8 Mine eyes looke vnto such as be faithfull in the land: that they may dwell with me.

Domine exaudi. Psal. 102.

Morning prayer.

102 HEare my prayer, O Lord: and let my crying come vnto thee.

2 Hide not thy face from me in the time of my trouble: encline thine eares vnto me when I call, O heare me, and that right soone.

3 For my dayes are consumed away like smoke: and my bones are burnt vp as it were a firebrand.

4 My heart is smitten downe, and withered like grasse: so that I forget to eate my bread.

5 For the voice of my groning: my bones will scarce cleaue to my flesh.

6 I am become like a Pellicane in the wildernesse: and like an owle that is in the desert.

7 I haue watched, and am euen as it were a sparow: that sitteth alone vpon the houle top.

8 Mine enemies reuile me all the day long: and they that are mad vpon me, are sworne together against me.

9 For I haue eaten ashes, as it were bread: and mingled my drinke with weeping.

10 And that because of thine indignation and wrath: for thou hast taken me vp, and cast me downe.

11 My dayes are gone like a shadowe: and I am withered like grasse.

12 But thou (O Lorde) shalt endure for euer: and thy remembrance throughout all generations.

13 Thou shalt arise and haue mercie vpon Sion: for it is time that thou haue mercie vpon her, yea, the time is come.

14 And why? thy seruants thinke vpon her stones: and it pitieth them to see her in the dust.

15 The Heathen shall feare thy name, O Lord: & all the kings of the earth thy maiestie.

16 When the Lord shall build vp Sion: and when his glorie shall appeare, 17 When he turneth him vnto the prayer of the poore destitute: and despiseth not their desire.

18 This shall be written for those that come after: and the people which shall be borne, shall prayse the Lord.

19 For he hath looked downe from his sanctuarie: out of the heauen did the Lord beholde the earth.

20 That he might heare the mournings of such as be in captiuitie: and deliuer the children appointed vnto death.

21 That they may declare the name of the Lord in Sion: and his worship at Hierusalem.

22 When the people are gathered together: and the kingdomes also to serue the Lord.

23 He brought down my strength in my iourney: and shortned my dayes.

24 But I said, O my God, take me not away in the midst of mine age: as for thy yeeres, they endure throughout all generations.

25 Thou Lord in the beginning hast laid the foundation of the earth: and the heauens are the worke of thy hands.

26 They shall perish, but thou shalt endure: they all shall ware olde as doth a garment.

27 And as a vesture shalt thou change them, and they shal be changed: but thou art the same, and thy yeeres shall not faile.

28 The children of thy seruants shall continue: and their seede shall stand fast in thy sight.

Benedic anima. Psal. 103.

103 PRaise the Lord, O my soule: and all that is within me, praise his holy name.

2 Praise the Lord, O my soule: and forget not all his benefites.

3 Which forgiueth all thy sinne: and healeth all thine infirmities.

4 Which saueth thy life from destruction: & crowneth thee with mercy and louing kindnes.

5 Which satisfieth thy mouth with good things: making thee young and lusty as an Eagle.

6 The Lorde executeth righteousnesse and iudgement: for all them that are oppressed with wrong.

7 He shewed his wayes vnto Moses: his workes vnto the children of Israel.

8 The Lord is ful of compassion and mercy: long suffering and of great goodnesse.

9 He will not alway be chiding: neither keepeth he his anger for euer.

10 Hee hath not dealt with vs after our sinnes: nor rewarded vs according to our wickednesse.

11 For loke how high the heauen is in comparison of the earth: so great is his mercie also toward them that feare him.

12 Loke how wide also the East is from the West: so farre hath he set our sinnes from vs.

13 Yea, like as a father pitieth his owne children: euen so is the Lord mercifull vnto them that feare him.

14 For he knoweth whereof we be made: he remembreth that we are but dust.

15 The dayes of man are but as grasse: for he flourisheth as a flower of the field.

16 For as soone as the winde goeth ouer it.

it is gone: ann the place thereof shall know it no more.
17 But the mercifull goodnesse of the Lorde endureth for euer and euer, vpon them that feare him: and his righteousnes vpon childrens children.
18 Euen vpon such as keepe his couenant: and thinke vpon his commaundements to doe them.
19 The Lord hath prepared his seate in heauen: and his kingdome ruleth ouer all.
20 O prayse the Lorde, yee angels of his, yee that excell in strength: yee that fulfill his commandement, and hearken vnto the voice of his wordg.
21 O prayse the Lord, all ye his hoastes: ye seruants of his that doe his pleasure.
22 O speake good of the Lorde, all ye workes of his, in all places of his dominion: prayse thou the Lord, O my soule.

Benedic anima mea. Psal. 104.

Euening prayer.

PRayse the Lorde, O my soule: O Lord my God, thou art become exceeding glorious, thou art clothed with maiestie and honour.
2 Thou deckest thy selfe with light as it were with a garment: and spredest out the heauens like a curtaine.
3 Which layeth the beames of his chambers in the waters: and maketh the cloudes his charet, and walketh vpon the wings of the winde.
4 He maketh his angels spirits: and his ministers a flaming fire.
5 He laid the foundations of the earth: that it neuer should moue at any time.
6 Thou couerdst it with the deepe like as with a garment: the waters stand in the hils.
7 At thy rebuke they flee: at the voice of thy thunder they are afraid.
8 They goe vp as high as the hils, & downe to the valleyes beneath: euen vnto the place which thou hast appointed for them.
9 Thou hast set them their bounds, which they shall not passe: neither turne againe to couer the earth.
10 Hee sendeth the springs into the riuers: which run among the hils.
11 All beasts of the fielde drinke thereof: and the wild asses quench their thirst.
12 Beside them shall the fowles of the ayre haue their habitation: and sing among the branches.
13 He watereth the hils from aboue: the earth is filled with the fruit of thy workes.
14 Hee bringeth forth graise for the cattell: and greene hearbe for the seruice of men.
15 That hee may bring food out of the earth, and wine that maketh glad the heart of man: and oyle to make him a cheerefull countenance, and bread to strength mans heart.
16 The trees of the Lord also are full of sap: euen the Cedars of Libanus, which hee hath planted.
17 Wherein the birds make their nestes: and the firre trees are a dwelling for the Storke.
18 The high hilles are a refuge for the wilde goates: and for the conies rocks for the conies.
19 Hee appointed the moone for certaine seasons: and the sunne knoweth his going downe.
20 Thou makest darkenesse, that it may bee night: wherein all the beastes of the forest doe moue.
21 The Lions roaring after their pray: doe seeke their meate at God.
22 The sunne ariseth, and they get them away together: and laye them downe in their dennes.
23 Man goeth forth to his worke, and to his labour: vntill the euening.
24 O Lorde, how manifolde are thy workes: in wisedome hast thou made them all, the earth is full of thy riches.
25 So is the great and wide sea also: wherein are things creeping innumerable, both small and great beasts.
26 There goe the ships, and there is that Leuiathan: whome thou hast made to take his pastime therein.
27 These wait all vpon thee: that thou mayest giue them meat in due season.
28 When thou giuest it them, they gather it: and when thou openest thy hand, they are filled with good.
29 When thou hidest thy face, they are troubled: when thou takest away their breath they die, and are turned againe to their dust.
30 When thou sendest forth thy breath, they shal be made: and thou shalt renew the face of the earth.
31 The glorious maiestie of the Lorde shall endure for euer: the Lorde shall reioyce in his workes.
32 The earth shall tremble at the looke of him: if he doe but touch the hils they shal smoke.
33 I will sing vnto the Lorde as long as I liue: I will prayse my God while I haue my being.
34 And so shall my words please him: my ioy shall be in the Lorde.
35 As for sinners, they shall be consumed out of the earth, and the vngodly shall come to an end: prayse thou the Lord, O my soule, prayse the Lorde.

Confitemini Domino. Psal. 105.

Morning prayer.

OGiue thankes vnto the Lord, and call vpon his name: tell the people what things he hath done.
2 O let your songes be of him, and prayse him: and let your talking be of all his wondrous workes.
3 Reioyce in his holy name: let the heart of them reioyce that seeke the Lord.
4 Seeke the Lorde and his strength: seeke his face euermore.
5 Remember the marueilous workes that he hath done: his wonders, and the iudgements of his mouth.
6 O ye seed of Abraham his seruant: ye children of Jacob his chosen.
7 He is the Lord our God: his iudgements are in all the world.
8 He hath beene alway mindfull of his couenant and promise: that hee made to a thousand generations.
9 Euen the couenant that he made with Abraham: & the othe that he sware vnto Isaac.
10 And appointed the same vnto Jacob for a law: and to Israel for an euerlasting testament, 11 Saying, Vnto thee will I giue the lande of Canaan: the lot of your inheritance.

12 When there were yet but a few of them: and they strangers in the land, 13 What time as they went from one nation to another: from one kingdome to another people.
14 He suffred no man to doe them wrong: but reproued euen kings for their sakes.
15 Touch not mine anointed: and doe my Prophets no harme.
16 Moreouer he called for a dearth vpon the land: and destroyed all the prouision of bread.
17 But he had sent a man before them: euen Joseph which was sold to be a bond seruant.
18 Whose feete they hurt in the stockes: the iron entred into his soule.
19 Until the time came that his cause was knowen: the word of the Lord tried him.
20 The king sent & deliuered him: the prince of the people let him goe free.
21 He made him Lord also of his house: and ruler of all his substance.
22 That he might enforme his princes after his will: and teach his Senators wisedome.
23 Israel also came into Egypt: and Jacob was a stranger in the land of Ham.
24 And he encreased his people exceedingly: and made them stronger then their enemies.
25 Whose heart turned, so that they hated his people: and dealt craftely with his seruants.
26 Then sent he Moses his seruant: and Aaron whom he had chosen.
27 And these shewed his tokens among them: and wonders in the land of Ham.
28 He sent darkenesse, and it was darke: and they were not obedient vnto his word.
29 He turned their waters into blood: and slew their fish.
30 Their land brought forth frogs: yea, euen in their kings chambers.
31 He spake the word, and there came all manner of flies: and lice in all their quarters.
32 He gaue them haile stones for raine: and flames of fire in their land.
33 He smote their vines also and figge trees: and destroied the trees that were in their coasts.
34 He spake the worde, and the grashoppers came, and caterpillers innumerable: and did eate vp all the grasse in their land, and deuoured the fruit of their ground.
35 He smote all the first borne in their land: euen the chiefe of all their strength.
36 He brought them forth also with siluer and gold: there was not one feeble person among their tribes.
37 Egypt was glad at their departing: for they were afraid of them.
38 He spread out a cloud to be a couering: and fire to giue light in the night season.
39 At their desire he brought quailes: and he filled them with the bread of heauen.
40 He opened the rocke of stone, and the waters flowed out: so that riuers ran in dry places.
41 For why? he remembred his holy promise: and Abraham his seruant.
42 And he brought forth his people with ioy: and his chosen with gladnesse.
43 And gaue them the lands of the Heathen: and they tooke the labours of the people in possession.
44 That they might keepe his statutes: and obserue his lawes.

Confitemini Domino. Psal. 106

Euening prayer.

O Giue thankes vnto the Lorde, for he is gracious: and his mercy endureth for euer.
2 Who can expresse the noble actes of the Lord, or shew forth all his praise?
3 Blessed are they that alway keepe iudgement: and doe righteousnesse.
4 Remember me, O Lord, according to the fauour that thou bearest vnto thy people: O visite me with thy saluation.
5 That I may see the felicitie of thy chosen: and reioyce in the gladnesse of thy people, & giue thankes with thine inheritance.
6 We haue sinned with our fathers: we haue done amisse, and dealt wickedly.
7 Our fathers regarded not thy wonders in Egypt, neither kept they thy great goodnesse in remembrance: but were disobedient at the sea, euen at the red sea.
8 Neuertheless, hee helped them for his names sake: that he might make his power to be knowen.
9 He rebuked the red sea also, and it was dried vp: so he led them through the deepe, as through a wildernesse.
10 And he saued them from the aduersaries hand: and deliuered them from the hand of the enemie.
11 As for those that troubled them, the waters ouer whelmed them: there was not one of them left.
12 Then beleeued they his words: and sang praise vnto him.
13 But within a while they forgate his workes: and would not abide his counsell.
14 But lust came vpon them in the wildernesse: and they tempted God in the desert.
15 And he gaue them their desire: and sent leannesse withall into their soule.
16 They angred Moses also in the tents: and Aaron the saint of the Lord.
17 So the earth opened, and swallowed vp Dathan: and couered the congregation of Abiram.
18 And the fire was kindled in their company: the flame burnt vp the vngodly.
19 They made a calfe in Horeb: and worshipped the molten image.
20 Thus they turned their glory: into the similitude of a calfe that eateth hay.
21 And they forgate God their sauiour: which had done so great things in Egypt.
22 Wonderous workes in the land of Ham: and fearefull things by the red sea.
23 So he said he would haue destroied them, had not Moses his chosen stande before him in the gappe: to turne away his wrathfull indignation, lest he should destroy them.
24 Yea, they thought scorne of that pleasant land: and gaue no credence vnto his word.
25 But murmured in their tents: and harkened not vnto the voice of the Lord.
26 Then lift he vp his hand against them: to ouerthrow them in the wildernesse.
27 To cast out their seed among the nations: and to scatter them in the lands.
28 They ioined themselues vnto Baal Peor: and ate the offerings of the dead.

fol. Mm5v

29 Thus they prouoked him vnto anger with their owne inuentions: and the plague was great among them.
30 Then stood vp Phinees, and prayed: and so the plague ceased.
31 And that was counted vnto him for righteousnesse: among all posterities for euermore.
32 They angred him also at the waters of strife: so that he punished Moses for their sakes.
33 Because they prouoked his spirit: so that he spake vnaduisedly with his lips.
34 Neither destroyed they the heathen, as the Lord commanded them.
35 But were mingled among the Heathen: and learned their workes.
36 Insomuch that they worshipped their idoles, which turned to their owne decay: yea, they offered their sonnes and daughters vnto deuils.
37 38 And shed innocent blood, euen the blood of their sonnes, and of their daughters: whom they offered vnto the idols of Chanaan, and the land was defiled with blood.
38 Thus were they stayned with their owne workes: and went a whoring with their owne inuentions.
39 Therfore was the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people: insomuch that he abhorred his owne inheritance.
40 And he gaue them ouer into the hand of the heathen: & they that hated them were lords ouer them.
41 42 Their enemies oppressed them: and had them in subiection.
42 Many a time did he deliuer them: but they rebelled against him with their owne inuentions, and were brought downe in their wickednesse.
43 Neuerthelesse, when he saw their aduersitie: he heard their complaint.
44 He thought vpon his couenant, and pitied them according vnto the multitude of his mercies: yea, he made all those that had led them away captiue to pitie them.
45 Deliuer vs (O Lord our God) and gather vs from among the heathen: that we may giue thanks vnto thy holy name, and make our boast of thy prayse.
46 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel, from euerlasting, and world without end: and let all the people say, Amen.

Confitemini Domino. Psal. 107.

Morning prayer.

O Giue thanks vnto the Lorde, for he is gracious: and his mercie endureth for euer.
2 Let them giue thanks whom the Lord hath redeemed: and deliuered from the hand of the enemie.
3 And gathered them out of the lands, from the East and from the West: from the North and from the South.
4 They went astray in the wildernesse out of the way: and found no citie to dwell in.
5 Hungry and thirstie: their soule fainted in them.
6 So they cryed vnto the Lorde in their trouble: and hee deliuered them from their distresse.
7 He led them forth by the right way: that they might goe to the citie where they dwelt.
8 O that men would therefore prayse the Lord for his goodnesse: and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.
9 For he satisfieth the empty soule: and filleth the hungry soule with goodnesse.
10 Such as sit in darkenesse and in the shadow of death: being fast bound in miserie and yron.
11 Because they rebelled against the words of the Lord: and lightly regarded the counsell of the most high.
12 He also brought downe their heart through heauinesse: they fell downe, and there was none to helpe them vp.
13 So when they cryed vnto the Lorde in their trouble: he deliuered them out of their distresse.
14 For he brought them out of darkenesse, and out of the shadow of death: and brake their bonds in sunder.
15 O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodnesse: and declare the wonders that he doth for the children of men.
16 For he hath broken the gates of brasse: and smitten the barres of iron in sunder.
17 Foolish men are plagued for their offence: and because of their wickednesse.
18 Their soule abhorred all maner of meate: and they were euen hard at deaths doore.
19 So when they cried vnto the Lord in their trouble: he deliuered them out of their distresse.
20 He sent his worde and healed them: and they were saued from their destruction.
21 O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodnesse: and declare the wonders that he doth for the children of men.
22 That they would offer vnto him the sacrifice of thanksgiuing: and tell out his workes with gladnesse.
23 They that goe downe to the sea in ships: and occupie their businesse in great waters.
24 These men see the workes of the Lord: and his wonders in the deepe.
25 For at his word the stormie winde ariseth: which lifteth vp the waues thereof.
26 They are carried vp to the heauen, & downe againe to the deepe: their soule melteth away because of the trouble.
27 They reele to and fro, and stagger like a drunken man: and are at their wits end.
28 So when they cry vnto the Lord in their trouble: he deliuereth them out of their distresse.
29 For he maketh the storme to cease: so that the waues thereof are still.
30 Then are they glad, because they be at rest: and so he bringeth them vnto the hauen where they would be.
31 O that men would therefore praise the Lord for his goodnesse: and declare the wonders that he doeth for the children of men.
32 That they would exalt him also in the congregation of the people: and praise him in the seate of the elders.
33 Which turneth the floods into a wildernesse: and dryeth vp the water springs.
34 A fruitfull land maketh he barren: for the wickednesse of them that dwell therein.
35 Againe he maketh the wildernesse a standing water: and water springs of a dry ground.
36 And there he setteth the hungry: that they may build them a citie to dwell in.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Mm6r

37 That they may sow their land, and plant vineyards: to yeelde them fruits of increase.
38 Hee bleseth them also that they multiply exceedingly: and suffereth not their cattell to decrease.
39 And againe, when they are minished and brought low: through oppression, through any plague or trouble.
40 Though he suffer them to be euill intreated through tyrants: and let them wander out of the way in the wildernesse.
41 Yet helpeth he the poore out of miserie: and maketh him households like a flock of sheepe.
42 The righteous will consider this, and reioyce: and the mouth of all wickednesse shall be stopped.
43 Who so is wise, will ponder these things: and they shal vnderstand the louing kindnesse of the Lord.

Paratum cor meum. Psal. 108.

Euening prayer.

GOD, my heart is readie (my heart is ready): I wil sing and giue prayse with the best member that I haue.
2 Awake thou lute and harpe: I my selfe will awake right early.
3 I will giue thankes vnto thee, O Lorde, among the people: I will sing prayses vnto thee among the nations.
4 For thy mercy is greater then the heauens: and thy trueth reacheth vnto the cloudes.
5 Set vp thy selfe (O God) aboue the heauens: and thy glory aboue all the earth.
6 That thy beloued may be deliuered: let thy right hand saue them, and heare thou me.
7 God hath spoken in his holinesse: I will reioyce therefore and deuide Sichem, and mete out the valley of Succoth.
8 Gilead is mine, and Manasses is mine: Ephraim also is the strength of my head.
9 Iuda is my lawgiuer, Moab is my washpot: ouer Edom will I cast out my shoe, vpon the Philistines will I triumph.
10 Who will lead me into the strong citie: and who will bring me into Edom?
11 Hast not thou forsaken vs, O God: and wilt not thou God go forth with our hostes?
12 O helpe vs against the enemie: for vaine is the helpe of man.
13 Through God we shall doe great acts: and it is he that shall tread downe our enemies.

Deus laudem. Psal. 109.

HOld not thy tongue, O God of my prayse: for the mouth of the vngodly, yea, and the mouth of the deceitfull is opened vpon me.
And they haue spoken against mee with false tongues, they compassed mee about also with wordes of hatred, and fought against me without a cause.
For the loue that I had vnto them, loe, they take now my contrary part: but I giue my selfe vnto prayer.
Thus haue they rewarded mee euill for good: and hatred for my good will.
Set thou an vngodly man to bee ruler ouer him: and let Satan stande at his right hand.
When sentence is giuen vpon him, let him be condemned: and let his prayer be turned into sinne.
Let his daies be few: and let another take his office.
Let his children be fatherlesse: and his wife a widowe.
Let his children be vagabonds, and begge their bread: let them seeke it also out of desolate places.
Let the extortioner consume all that hee hath: and let the stranger spoyle his labour.
Let there be no man to pitie him: nor to haue compassion vpon his fatherlesse children.
Let his posteritie bee destroyed: and in the next generation let his name be cleane put out.
Let the wickednesse of his fathers be had in remembrance in the sight of the Lord: and let not the sinne of his mother be done away.
Let them alway be before the Lord: that he may roote out the memorial of them from off the earth.
And that becaule his minde was not to doe good: but persecuted the poore helpelesse man, that he might slay him that was vexed at the heart.
His delight was in cursing, and it shall happen vnto him: he loued not blessing, therefore shall it be farre from him.
He clothed himselfe with cursing like as with a rayment: so it shall come into his bowels like water, and like oyle into his bones.
Let it be vnto him as the cloke that he hath vpon him: and as the girdle that hee is alway girded withall.
Let it thus happen from the Lord vnto mine enemies: and to those that speake euill against my soule.
But deale thou with mee (O Lord God) according vnto thy name: for sweete is thy mercie.
O deliuer me, for I am helpelesse & poore: and my heart is wounded within me.
I go hence like the shadow that departeth: and am driuen away as the grashopper.
My knees are weake through fasting: my flesh is dried vp for want of fatnesse.
I became also a rebuke vnto them: they that looked vpon me, shaked their heads.
Helpe me (O Lord my God:) oh saue me according to thy mercie.
And they shall know how that this is thy hand: and that thou, Lord hast done it.
Though they curse, yet blesse thou: and let them be confounded that rise vp against me, but let thy seruant reioyce.
Let mine aduersaries bee clothed with shame: and let them couer themselues with their owne confusion, as with a cloke.
As for me, I will giue great thankes vnto the Lord with my mouth: and prayse him among the multitude.
For he shall stand at the right hand of the poore: to saue his soule from vnrighteous iudges.

Dixit Dominus. Psal. 110.

Morning prayer.

THE Lord sayde vnto my Lorde: Sit thou on my right hand, vntil I make thine enemies thy foote stoole.
The Lord shall send the rod of thy power out of Sion: be thou ruler euen in the mids among thine enemies.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Mm6v

3 In the day of thy power shall the people offer thee free will offerings with an holy worship: the dewe of thy birth is of the wombe of the morning.

4 The Lord sware, and will not repent: thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech.

5 The Lorde vpon thy right hande: shall wound euen kings in the day of his wrath.

6 He shall iudge among the heathen, he shall fill the places with the dead bodies: and smite in sunder the heads ouer diuers countries.

7 Hee shall drinke of the brooke in the way: therefore shall he lift vp his head.

Confitebor tibi. Psal. 111.

I will giue thankes vnto the Lorde with my whole heart: secretly among the faithfull, and in the congregation.

2 The works of the Lord are great: sought out of all them that haue pleasure therein.

3 His worke is worthy to be praised and had in honour: and his righteousnesse endureth for euer.

4 The mercifull and gracious Lord hath so done his marueilous workes: that they ought to be had in remembrance.

5 Hee hath giuen meate vnto them that feare him: he shall euer be mindfull of his couenant.

6 He hath shewed his people the power of his workes: that he may giue them the heritage of the Heathen.

7 The workes of his hands are veritie and iudgement: all his commandements are true.

8 They stand fast for euer and euer: and are done in trueth and equitie.

9 He sent redemption vnto his people: hee hath commanded his couenant for euer, holy and reuerend is his Name.

10 The feare of the Lord is the beginning of wisedome: a good vnderstanding haue all they that doe thereafter, the prayse of it endureth for euer.

Beatus vir. Psal. 112.

Blessed is the man that feareth the Lorde: hee hath great delight in his commaundements.

2 His seede shalbe mightie vpon earth: the generation of the faithfull shalbe blessed.

3 Riches and plentifulnesse shall be in his house: and his righteousnesse endureth for euer.

4 Vnto the godly there ariseth vp light in the darknesse: he is mercifull, louing, and righteous.

5 A good man is mercifull and lendeth: and will guide his woorks with discretion.

6 For he shall neuer be moued: and the righteous shall be had in an euerlasting remembrance.

7 He will not be afraid for any euil tidings: for his heart standeth fast and beleeueth in the Lord.

8 His heart is stablished and will not shrinke: vntill he see his desire vpon his enemies.

9 He hath dispersed abroad and giuen to the poore: and his righteousnesse remaineth for euer, his horne shalbe exalted with honour.

10 The vngodly shall see it, and it shall grieue him: he shall gnash with his teeth, and consume away, the desire of the vngodly shall perish.

Laudate pueri. Psal. 113.

Praise the Lord (O ye seruants:) O praise the Name of the Lord.

2 Blessed be the Name of the Lorde: from this time forth for euermore.

3 The Lords name is praised: from the rising vp of the sunne, vnto the going downe of the same.

4 The Lord is high aboue all heathen: and his glory aboue the heauens.

5 Who is like vnto the Lord our God, that hath his dwelling so high: and yet humbleth himselfe to behold the things that are in heauen and earth?

6 He taketh vp the simple out of the dust: and lifteth the poore out of the mire,

7 That he may set him with the princes: euen with the princes of his people.

8 He maketh the barren woman to keepe house: and to be a ioyfull mother of children.

In exitu Israel. Psal. 114.

Euening prayer.

When Israel came out of Egypt: and the house of Jacob from among the strange people.

2 Juda was his sanctuarie: and Israel his dominion.

3 The sea saw that, and fled: Jordane was driuen backe.

4 The mountaines skipped like rammes: and the litle hils like yong sheepe.

5 What ayleth thee, O thou sea, that thou fleddest: and thou Jordane, that thou wast driuen backe?

6 Ye mountaines that ye skipped like rams: and ye litle hils like yong sheepe?

7 Tremble thou earth at the presence of the Lord: at the presence of the God of Jacob.

8 Which turned the hard rocke into a standing water: and the flint stone into a springing well.

Non nobis Domine. Psal. 115.

Not vnto vs, O Lord, not vnto vs, but vnto thy Name giue the praise: for thy louing mercie, and for thy trueths sake.

2 Wherefore shall the Heathen say: where is now their God?

3 As for our God, he is in heauen: he hath done whatsoeuer pleased him.

4 Their idoles are siluer and gold: euen the worke of mens hands.

5 They haue mouthes and speake not: eyes haue they, and see not.

6 They haue eares, and heare not: noses haue they, and smell not.

7 They haue hands, and handle not, feete haue they, and walke not: neither speake they through their throte.

8 They that make them, are like vnto them: and so are all such as put their trust in them.

9 But thou house of Israel, trust thou in the Lord: he is their succour and defender.

10 Ye house of Aaron, put your trust in the Lord: he is their helper and defender.

11 Ye that feare the Lord, put your trust in the Lord: he is their helper and defender.

12 The Lord hath been mindfull of vs, and he shall blesse vs: euen he shall blesse the house of Israel, he shall blesse the house of Aaron.

13 He shall blesse them that feare the Lord: both small and great.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Nn1r

14 The Lord shall encrease you more & more: you and your children.
15 Ye are the blessed of the Lord: which made heauen and earth.
16 All the whole heauens are the Lords: the earth hath he giuen to the children of men.
17 The dead praise not thee, O Lord: neither all they that goe downe into the silence.
18 But we will praise the Lorde: from this time forth for euermore. Praise the Lord.

Dilexi quoniam. Psal. 116.

Morning prayer.

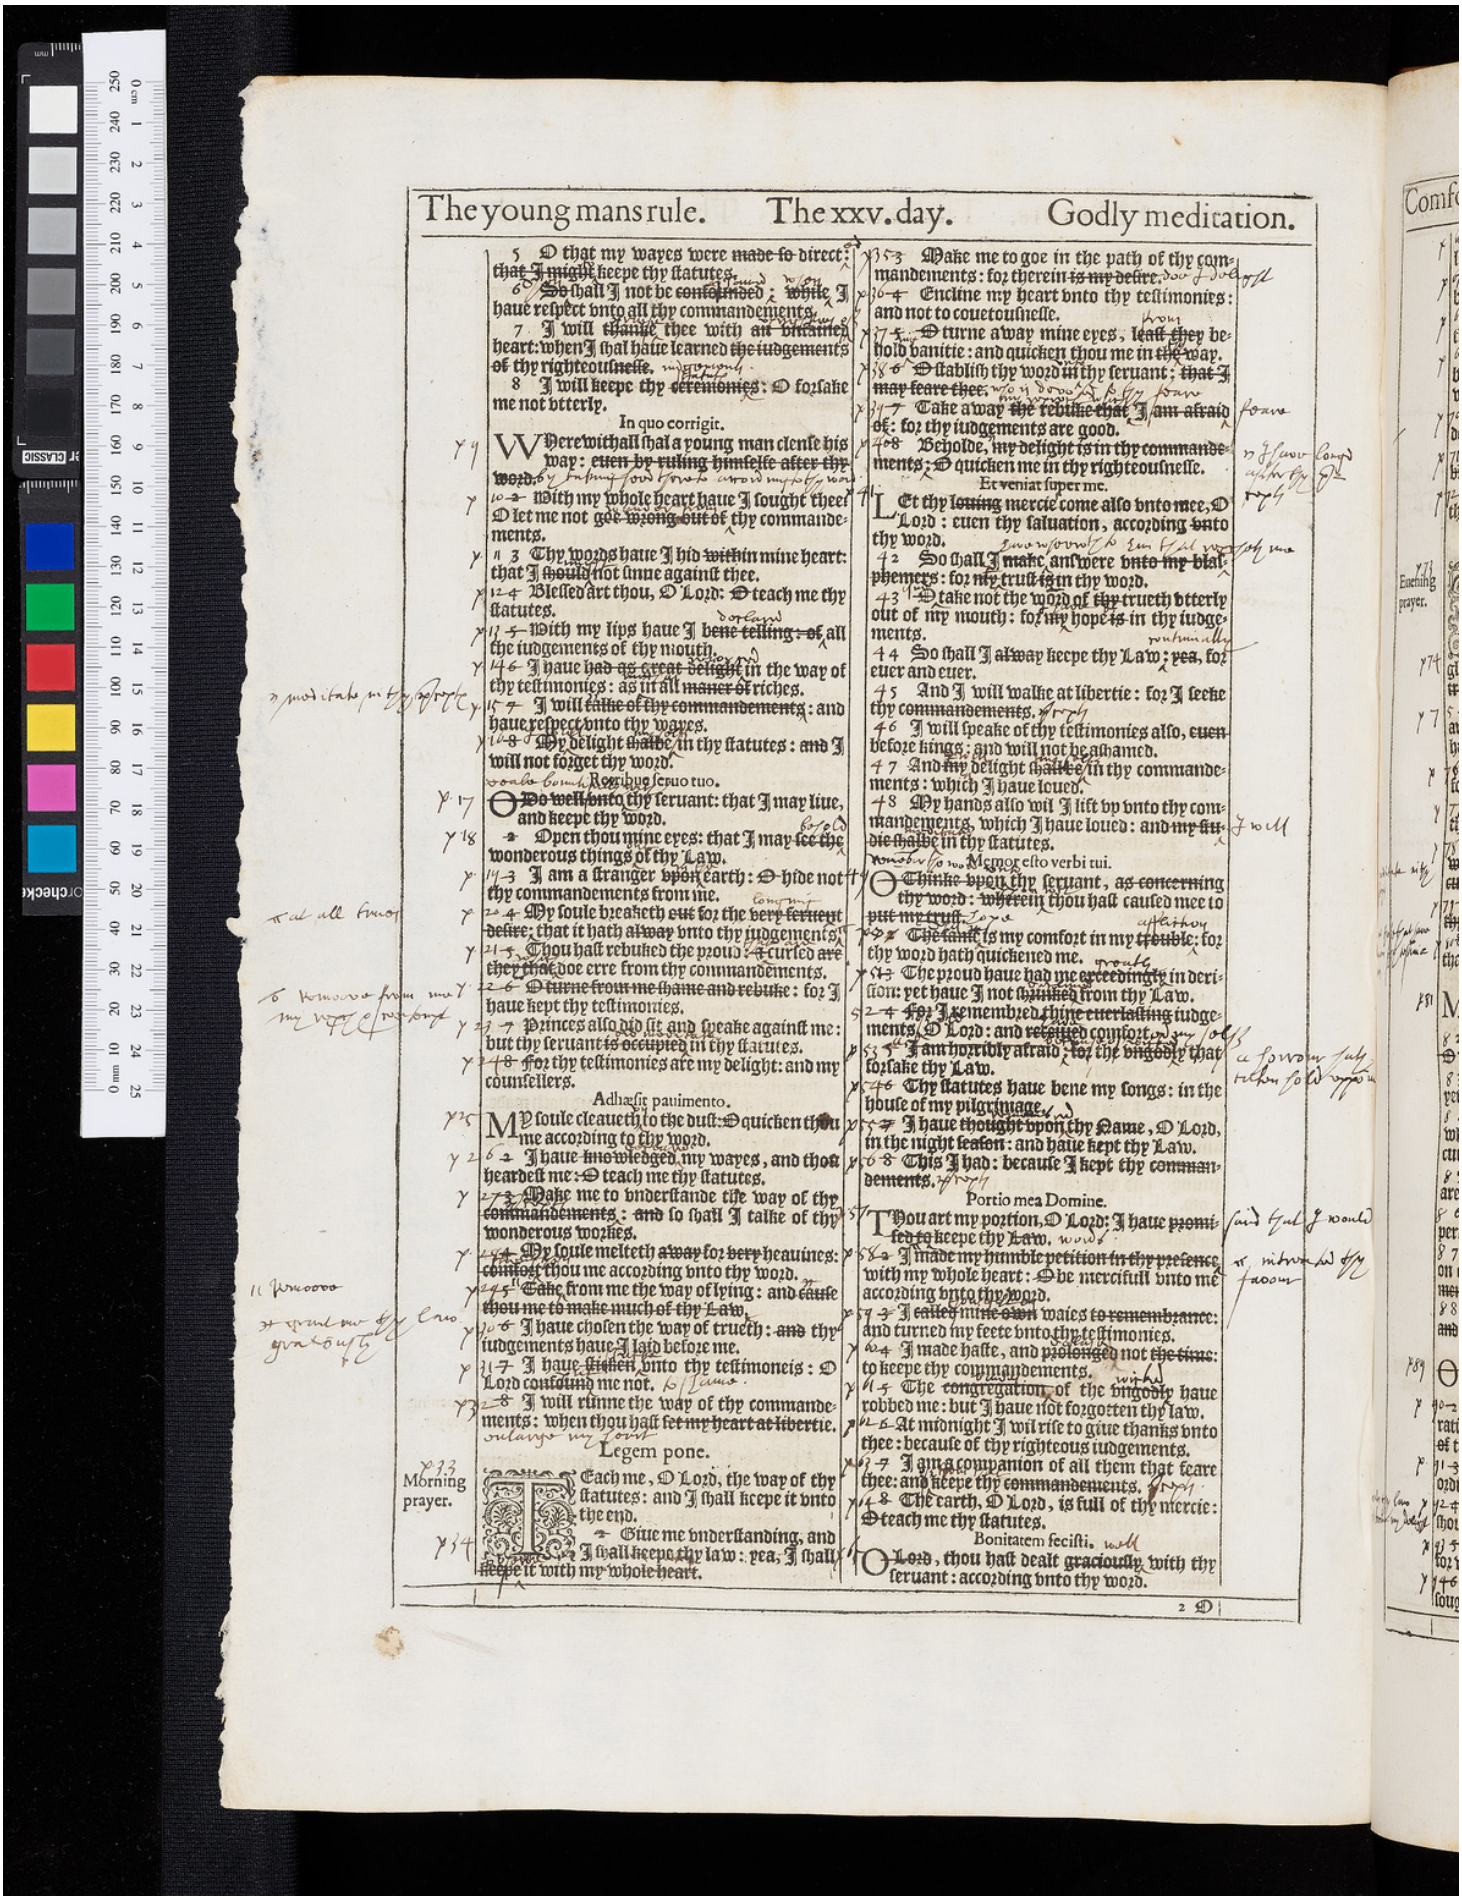
I Am well pleased: that the Lord hath heard the voice of my prayer.
2 That he hath inclined his eare vnto me: therefore will I call vpon him as long as I liue.
3 The snares of death compassed me round about: and the paines of hell gat hold vpon me.
4 I shall find trouble and heauinesse, and I shall call vpon the name of the Lord: O Lord I beseech thee deliuer my soule.
5 Gracious is the Lord and righteous: yea our God is mercifull.
6 The Lord preserueth the simple: I was in miserie, and he helped me.
7 Turne againe then vnto thy rest, O my soule: for the Lord hath rewarded me.
8 And why? thou hast deliuered my soule from death: mine eyes from teares, and my feet from falling.
9 I will walke before the Lord: in the land of the liuing.
10 I beleeued, and therefore will I speake, but I was sore troubled: I said in my haste, All men are liars.
11 What rewarde shall I giue vnto the Lord: for all the benefits that he hath done vnto me?
12 I will receiue the cup of saluation: and call vpon the Name of the Lord.
13 I will pay my vowes now in the presence of all his people: right deare in the sight of the Lord is the death of his saints.
14 Beholde (O Lorde) how that I am thy seruant: I am thy seruant, and the sonne of thine handmaide, thou hast broken my bones in sunder.
15 I will offer to thee the sacrifice of thanksgiuing: and will call vpon the Name of the Lord.
16 I will pay my vowes vnto the Lord, in the sight of all his people: in the courts of the Lords house, euen in the mids of thee, O Hierusalem. Praise the Lord.

Laudate Dominum. Psal. 117.

O Praise the Lord all ye heathen: praise him all ye nations.
2 For his mercifull kindnesse is euer more and more toward vs: and the trueth of the Lord endureth for euer. Praise the Lord.

Confitemini Domino. Psal. 118.

O Giue thankes vnto the Lorde, for hee is gracious: because his mercie endureth for euer.
2 Let Israel now confesse, that he is gracious: and that his mercie endureth for euer.
3 Let the house of Aaron now confesse: that his mercie endureth for euer.
4 Yea, let them now that feare the Lord confesse: that his mercie endureth for euer.
5 I called vpon the Lord in trouble: and the Lord heard me at large.
6 The Lord is on my side: I will not feare what man doth vnto me.
7 The Lord taketh my part with them that helpe mee: therefore shall I see my desire vpon mine enemies.
8 It is better to trust in the Lord: then to put any confidence in man.
9 It is better to trust in the Lord: then to put any confidence in princes.
10 All nations compassed me round about: but in the Name of the Lorde will I destroy them.
11 They kept me in on euery side, they kept me in (I say) on euery side: but in the name of the Lord will I destroy them.
12 They came about me, like Bees, and are extinct euen as the fire among the thornes: for in the name of the Lord will I destroy them.
13 Thou hast thrust sore at me, that I might fall: but the Lord was my helpe.
14 The Lord is my strength & my song: and is become my saluation.
15 The voice of ioy and health is in the dwellings of the righteous: the right hande of the Lord bringeth mightie things to passe.
16 The right hand of the Lord hath the preeminence: the right hand of the Lorde bringeth mightie thing to passe.
17 I will not die, but liue: and declare the workes of the Lord.
18 The Lorde hath chastened and corrected me; but he hath not giuen me ouer vnto death.
19 Open me the gates of righteousnesse: that I may goe into them, and giue thankes vnto the Lord.
20 This is the gate of the Lord: the righteous shall enter into it.
21 I will thanke thee, for thou hast heard me: and art become my saluation.
22 The same stone which the builders refused: is become the head stone in the corner.
23 This is the Lords doing: and it is marueilous in our eyes.
24 This is the day which the Lord hath made: we will reioyce and be glad in it.
25 Helpe me now, O Lord: O Lord send vs now prosperitie.
26 Blessed be he that commeth in the name of the Lord: we haue wished you good luck, ye that be of the house of the Lord.
27 God is the Lorde which hath shewed vs light: binde the sacrifice with cordes, yea euen vnto the hornes of the altar.
28 Thou art my God, and I will thanke thee: thou art my God, and I will praise thee.
29 O giue thankes vnto the Lorde, for he is gracious: and his mercie endureth for euer.



Beati immaculati. Psal. 119.

49 O Thinke vpon thy seruant, as concerning thy word: wherein thou hast caused mee to put my trust.
50 2 The same is my comfort in my trouble: for thy word hath quickened me.
51 3 The proud haue had me exceedingly in derision: yet haue I not shrinked from thy Law.

73 Thy hands haue made mee, and fashioned me: O giue me vnderstanding, that I may learne thy commandements.

74 They that feare thee, will be glad when they see me: because I haue put my trust in thy word.

75 I know (O Lord) that thy iudgements are right: and that thou of very faithfulnesse hast caused me to be troubled.

76 O let thy mercifull kindnesse be my comfort: according to thy word vnto thy seruant.

77 O let thy louing mercies come vnto mee, that I may liue: for thy Law is my delight.

78 Let the proud be confounded, for they goe wickedly about to destroy me: but I will be occupied in thy commandements.

79 Let such as feare thee, and haue knowen thy testimonies: be turned vnto me.

80 O let my heart be sound in thy statutes: that I be not ashamed.

Defecit anima mea.

81 My soule hath longed for thy saluation: and I haue a good hope because of thy word.

82 Mine eyes long for thy word: saying, O when wilt thou comfort me?

83 For I am become like a bottle in the smoke: yet doe I not forget thy statutes.

84 How many are the dayes of thy seruant: when wilt thou be auenged of them that persecute me?

85 The proud haue digged pits for me: which are not after thy Law.

86 All thy commandements are true; they persecute me falsely, O be thou my helpe.

87 They had almost made an ende of me vpon earth: but I forsooke not thy commandements.

88 O quicken me after thy louing kindnesse: and so shal I keep the testimonies of thy mouth.

In æternum Domine.

89 O Lorde, thy worde: endureth for euer in heauen.

90 Thy trueth also remaineth from one generation to another: thou hast laid the foundation of the earth, and it abideth.

91 They continue this day according to thine ordinance: for all things serue thee.

92 If my delight had not been in thy Law: I should haue perished in my trouble.

93 I will neuer forget thy commandements: for with them thou hast quickened me.

94 I am thine, O saue mee: for I haue sought thy commandements.

95 The vngodly laide wait for me to destroy me: but I will consider thy testimonies.

96 I see that all things come to an end: but thy commandement is exceeding broad.

Quomodo dilexi.

97 O how, what loue haue I vnto thy Law: all the day long is my studie in it.

98 Thou through thy commandements hast made me wiser then mine enemies: for they are euer with me.

99 I haue more vnderstanding then my teachers: for thy testimonies are my studie.

100 I am wiser then the aged: because I keepe thy commandements.

101 I haue refrained my feete from euery euil way: that I may keepe thy word.

102 I haue not shrunke from thy iudgements: for thou teachest me.

103 O how sweete are thy wordes vnto my throte: yea, sweeter then honie vnto my mouth.

104 Through thy commandements I get vnderstanding: therefore I hate all wicked wayes.

Lucerna pedibus meis.

105 Thy worde is a lanterne vnto my feete: and a light vnto my pathes.

106 I haue sworne, and am stedfastly purposed; to keepe thy righteous iudgements.

107 I am troubled aboue measure: quicken me (O Lord) according to thy word.

108 Let the free will offerings of my mouth please thee, O Lord: and teach mee thy iudgements.

109 My soule is alway in my hand: yet doe I not forget thy Law.

110 The vngodly haue laid a snare for me: but yet I swarued not from thy commandements.

111 Thy testimonies haue I claimed as mine heritage for euer: and why? they are the very ioy of my heart.

112 I haue applied my heart to fulfill thy statutes alway: euen vnto the end.

Iniquos odio habui.

113 I hate them that imagine euill things: but thy Law doe I loue.

114 Thou art my defence and shield: and my trust is in thy word.

115 Away from me ye wicked: I will keepe the commandements of my God.

116 O stablish me according vnto thy worde, that I may liue: and let me not be disappointed of my hope.

117 Hold thou me vp, and I shall be safe: yea, my delight shall be euer in thy statutes.

118 Thou hast troden downe all them that depart from thy statutes: for they imagine but deceite.

119 Thou puttest away all the vngodly of the earth like drosse: therefore I loue thy testimonies.

120 My flesh trembleth for feare of thee: and I am afraid of thy iudgements.

Feci iudicium.

121 I deale with the thing that is lawfull and right: O giue me not ouer vnto mine oppressors.

122 Make thou thy seruaunt to delight in that which is good: that the proude doe me no wrong.

for thy health: and for the worde of thy righteousnesse.
124 Deale with thy seruant according vnto thy louing mercie: and teach me thy statutes.
125 I am thy seruant, O grant me vnderstanding: that I may know thy testimonies.
126 It is time for thee Lorde to lay to thine hand: for they haue destroyed thy Law.
127 For I loue thy commandements: aboue gold and precious stone.
128 Therefore hold I straight all thy commandements: and all false wayes I vtterly abhorre.

Mirabilia.

THy testimonies are wonderfull: therefore doeth my soule keepe them.
130 When thy word goeth forth: it giueth light and vnderstanding vnto the simple.
131 I opened my mouth, & drew in my breath: for my delight was in thy commandements.
132 O looke thou vpon me, and be mercifull vnto me: as thou vsest to do vnto those that loue thy Name.
133 Order my steps in thy word, and so shall no wickednesse haue dominion ouer me.
134 O deliuer mee from the wrongfull dealings of men: and so shall I keepe thy commandements.
135 Shew the light of thy countenance vpon thy seruant: and teach me thy statutes.
136 Mine eyes gush out with water: because men keepe not thy Law.

Iustus es Domine.

RIghteous art thou, O Lord: and true is thy iudgement.
138 Thy testimonies that thou hast commanded: are exceeding righteous and true.
139 My zeale hath euen consumed me: because mine enemies haue forgotten thy words.
140 Thy word is tried to the bitternesse: and thy seruant loueth it.
141 I am small, and of no reputation: yet doe I not forget thy commandements.
142 Thy righteousnesse is an euerlasting righteousnesse: and thy Law is the trueth.
143 Trouble & heauinesse haue taken hold vpon me: yet is my delight in thy comandements.
144 The righteousnesse of thy testimonies is euerlasting: O grant me vnderstanding, and I shall liue.

Clamaui in toto corde meo.

Euening prayer.

I Call with my whole heart: heare me, O Lord, I will keepe thy statutes.
146 Yea, euen vpon thee doe I call: helpe me, and I shall keepe thy testimonies.
147 Early in the morning do I cry vnto thee: for in thy word is my trust.
148 Mine eyes preuent the night watches: that I might be occupied in thy words.
149 Heare my voyce (O Lord) according vnto thy louing kindnesse: quicken mee according as thou art wont.
150 They draw nigh that of malice persecute me: and are farre from thy Law.
151 Be thou nigh at hand, O Lord: for all thy commandements are true.
152 As concerning thy testimonies, I haue known long time: that thou hast grounded them for euer.

Vide humilitatem.

153 O Consider mine aduersitie, and deliuer mee: for I doe not forget thy Law.
154 Auenge thou my cause and deliuer mee: quicken me according vnto thy word.
155 Health is farre from the vngodly: for they regard not thy statutes.
156 Great is thy mercie, O Lord: quicken me as thou art wont.
157 Many there are that trouble me, and persecute me: yet doe I not swarue from thy testimonies.
158 It grieueth me when I see the transgressors: because they keepe not thy Law.
159 Consider, O Lord, how I loue thy commandements: O quicken me according to thy louing kindnesse.
160 Thy word is true from euerlasting: all the iudgements of thy righteousnesse endure for euermore.

Principes persecuti sunt.

PRinces haue persecuted me without a cause: but my heart standeth in awe of thy words.
162 I am as glad of thy word: as one that findeth great spoyles.
163 As for lies, I hate and abhorre them: but thy Law doe I loue.
164 Seuen times a day doe I praise thee: because of thy righteous iudgements.
165 Great is the peace that they haue, which loue thy law: and they are not offended at it.
166 Lord, I haue looked for thy sauing health: and done after thy commandements.
167 My soule hath kept thy testimonies: and loued them exceedingly.
168 I haue kept thy commandements and testimonies: for all my wayes are before thee.

Appropinquet deprecatio.

LEt my complaint come before thee, O Lord: giue mee vnderstanding according to thy word.
170 Let my supplication come before thee: deliuer me according to thy word.
171 My lips shall speake of thy praise: when thou hast taught me thy statutes.
172 Yea, my tongue shall sing of thy word: for all thy commandements are righteous.
173 Let thine hand helpe me: for I haue chosen thy commandements.
174 I haue longed for thy sauing health, O Lord: and in thy Law is my delight.
175 O let my soule liue, and it shal praise thee: and thy iudgements shall helpe me.
176 I haue gone astray like a sheepe that is lost: O seeke thy seruant, for I doe not forget thy commandements.

Ad Dominum. Psal. 120.

WHen I was in trouble, I called vpon the Lord: and he heard me. Morning prayer.
2 Deliuer my soule, O Lord, from lying lips: and from a deceitfull tongue.
3 What reward shall be giuen or done vnto thee thou false tongue: euen mighty and sharpe arrowes, with hote burning coles.
4 Woe is me, that I am constrained to dwell with Mesech: and to haue mine habitation among the tents of Cedar.
5 My soule hath long dwelt among them: that be enemies vnto peace.

I labour for peace, but when I speake vnto them thereof: they make them ready to battell.

Leuaui oculos. Psal. 121.

I Will lift vp mine eyes vnto the hilles: from whence commeth my helpe.

2 My helpe commeth euen from the Lord: which hath made heauen and earth.

3 Hee wil not suffer thy foote to be moued: and he that keepeth thee, will not sleepe.

4 Behold, he that keepeth Israel: shall neither slumber nor sleepe.

5 The Lord himselfe is thy keeper: the Lord is thy defence vpon thy right hand.

6 So that the Sunne shall not burne thee by day: neither the Moone by night.

7 The Lord shall preserue thee from all euil: yea, it is euen he that shall keepe thy soule.

8 The Lorde shall preserue thy going out and thy comming in: from this time forth for euermore.

Lætatus sum. Psal. 122.

I Was glad when they sayd vnto mee: Wee will go into the house of the Lord.

2 Our feete shall stand in thy gates: O Hierusalem.

3 Hierusalem is builded as a citie: that is at vnitie in it selfe.

4 For thither the tribes goe vp, euen the tribes of the Lord: to testifie vnto Israel, to giue thankes vnto the Name of the Lord.

5 For there is the seate of iudgement: euen the seate of the house of Dauid.

6 Pray for the peace of Hierusalem: they shal prosper that loue thee.

7 Peace be within thy walles: and plenteousnesse within thy Palaces.

8 For my brethren and companions sakes: I will wish thee prosperitie.

9 Yea, because of the house of the Lord our God: I will seeke to doe thee good.

Ad te leuaui oculos meos. Psal. 123.

VNto thee lift I vp mine eyes: O thou that dwellest in the heauens.

2 Behold, euen as the eyes of seruants looke vnto the hand of their maisters, and as the eyes of a maiden vnto the hand of her mistres: euen so our eyes waite vpon the Lord our God, vntill he haue mercie vpon vs.

3 Haue mercie vpon vs, O Lord, haue mercie vpon vs: for we are vtterly despised.

4 Our soule is filled with the scornefull reproofe of the wealthy: and with the deceitfulnesse of the proud.

Nisi quia Dominus. Psal. 124.

IF the Lord himselfe had not been on our side (now may Israel say:) if the Lord himselfe had not been on our side when men rose vp against vs.

3 They had swallowed vs vp quicke: when they were so wrathfully displeased at vs.

4 Yea, the waters had drowned vs: and the streame had gone ouer our soule.

5 The deepe waters of the proud: had gone euen ouer our soule.

6 But praised be the Lord: which hath not giuen vs ouer for a pray vnto their teeth.

7 Our soule is escaped, euen as a bird out of the snare of the fowler: the snare is broken, and we are deliuered.

8 Our help standeth in the name of the Lord: which hath made heauen and earth.

Morning prayer.

Qui confidunt. Psal. 125.

THey that put their trust in the Lord, shall be euen as the mount Sion: which may not be remooued, but standeth fast for euer.

2 The hilles stand about Hierusalem: euen so standeth the Lorde round about his people, from this time forth for euermore.

3 For the rod of the vngodly commeth not into the lot of the righteous: least the righteous put their hand vnto wickednesse.

4 Doe well, O Lord: vnto those that bee good and true of heart.

5 As for such as turne backe vnto their owne wickednesse: the Lorde shall leade them forth with the euill doers, but peace shall bee vpon Israel.

In conuertendo. Psal. 126.

WHen the Lord turned againe the captiuitie of Sion: then were we like vnto them that dreame.

2 Then was our mouth filled with laughter: and our tongue with ioy.

3 Then sayd they among the heathen: The Lord hath done great things for them.

4 Yea, the Lord hath done great things for vs already: whereof we reioice.

5 Turne our captiuitie, O Lord: as the riuers in the South.

5 6 They that sowe in teares: shall reape in ioy.

6 7 Hee that now goeth on his way weeping, and beareth forth good seede: shall doubtlesse come againe with ioy, and bring his sheaues with him.

Euening prayer.

Nisi Dominus. Psal. 127.

EXcept the Lord build the house: their labour is but lost that build it.

2 Except the Lord keepe the citie: the watchman waketh but in vaine.

2 3 It is but lost labour that ye haste to rise vp early, and so late take rest, and eate the bread of carefulnesse: for so he giueth his beloued sleepe.

3 4 Loe, children and the fruit of the wombe: are an heritage and gift that commeth of the Lord.

4 5 Like as the arrowes in the hand of the Giant: euen so are the yong children.

5 6 Happy is the man that hath his quiuer full of them: they shall not bee ashamed when they speake with their enemies in the gate.

Beati omnes. Psal. 128.

BLessed are all they that feare the Lord: and walke in his wayes.

3 8 Thy wife shall be as the fruitful vine: vpon the walles of thine house.

4 Thy children like the Oliue braunches: round about thy table.

5 Loe, thus shall the man bee blessed: that feareth the Lord.

5 6 The Lord from out of Sion shall so blesse thee: that thou shalt see Hierusalem in prosperitie all thy life long.

7 Yea, that thou shalt see thy childrens children: and peace vpon Israel.

Sæpe expugnauerunt. Psal. 129.

MAny a time haue they fought against mee from my youth vp: (may Israel now say.)

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Nn3v

2 Yea, many a time haue they vexed me from my youth vp: but they haue not preuailed against me.
3 The plowers plowed vpon my backe: and made long furrowes.
4 But the righteous Lord: hath hewen the snares of the vngodly in pieces.
5 Let them be confounded and turned backward: as many as haue euill will at Sion.
6 Let them be euen as the grasse growing vpon the house tops: which withereth afore it be plucked vp,
Whereof the mower filleth not his hand: neither he that bindeth vp the sheaues, his bosome.
8 So that they which go by, say not so much as the Lord prosper you: we wish you good luck in the name of the Lord.

De profundis. Psal. 130.

OUt of the depe, haue I called vnto thee (O Lord:) Lord heare my voice.
2 Oh let thyne eares consider well: the voice of my complaint.
3 If thou Lorde wilt bee extreme to marke what is done amisse: oh Lord, who may abide it?
4 For there is mercie with thee: therefore shalt thou be feared.
5 I tarie for the Lord, my soule doth waite for him: in his word is my trust.
6 My soule fleeth vnto the Lord: before the morning watch, I say, before the morning watch.
7 O Israel trust in the Lord, for with the Lord there is mercie: and with him is plenteous redemption.
8 And hee shall redeeme Israel: from all his sinnes.

Domine, non est. Psal. 131.

LOrd, I am not high minded: I haue no proud lookes.
2 Doe not exercise my selfe in great matters: which are too high for me.
3 But I refraine my soule, and keepe it lowe, like as a child that is weaned from his mother: yea, my soule is euen as a weaned child.
4 O Israel trust in the Lord: from this time forth for euermore.

Memento Domine. Psal. 132.

Morning prayer.

LOrde remember Dauid: and all his trouble.
2 How he sware vnto the Lord: and vowed a vowe vnto the almighty God of Jacob.
3 I will not come within the tabernacle of my house: nor climbe vp into my bed.
4 I will not suffer mine eyes to sleepe, nor mine eye lids to slumber: neither the temples of my head to take any rest.
5 Vntill I find out a place for the temple of the Lord: an habitation for the mighty God of Jacob.
6 Loe, we heard of the same at Ephrata: and found it in the wood.
7 Wee will goe into his tabernacle: and fall lowe on our knees before his footstoole.
8 Arise, O Lord, into thy resting place: thou and the arke of thy strength.
9 Let thy Priests be clothed with righteousnesse: and let thy saints sing with ioyfulnesse.
10 For thy seruant Dauids sake: turne not away the presence of thine anointed.
11 The Lord hath made a faithfull othe vnto Dauid: and he shall not shrinke from it.
Of the fruit of thy bodie: shall I set vpon thy seate.
12 If thy children will keepe my couenant and my testimonies that I shall learne them: their children also shall sit vpon thy seat for euermore.
13 For the Lord hath chosen Sion to bee an habitation for himselfe: he hath longed for her.
14 This shall be my rest for euer: here will I dwell, for I haue a delight therein.
15 I will blesse her victuals with increase: and will satisfie her poore with bread.
16 I will decke her Priests with health: and her saints shall reioice and sing.
17 There shall I make the horne of Dauid to flourish: I haue ordained a lanterne for mine anointed.
18 As for his enemies, I shall clothe them with shame: but vpon himselfe shall his crowne flourish.

Ecce quam bonum. Psal. 133.

BEhold how good and ioyfull a thing it is: brethren to dwell together in vnitie.
2 It is like the precious ointment vpon the head, that ran downe vnto the beard: euen vnto Aarons beard, and went downe to the skirts of his clothing.
3 Like as the dewe of Hermon: which fell vpon the hill of Sion.
For there the Lord promised his blessing: and life for euermore.

Ecce nunc. Psal. 134.

BEhold (now) praise the Lord: all ye seruants of the Lord.
2 Ye that by night stand in the house of the Lord: euen in the courts of the house of our God.
3 Lift vp your hands in the sanctuarie: and praise the Lord.
4 The Lorde that made heauen and earth: giue thee blessing out of Sion.

Laudate nomen. Psal. 135.

OPraise the Lord, laude yee the name of the Lord: praise it, O yee seruants of the Lord.
2 Yee that stand in the house of the Lord: in the courts of the house of our God.
3 O praise the Lord, for the Lord is gracious: O sing praises vnto his name for it is louely.
4 For why: the Lord hath chosen Jacob vnto himselfe: and Israel for his owne possession.
5 For I know that the Lord is great: and that our Lord is aboue all gods.
6 Whatsoeuer the Lord pleased, that did hee in heauen and in earth: and in the sea, and all deepe places.
7 Hee bringeth forth the cloudes from the ends of the world: and sendeth forth lightnings with the raine, bringing the windes out of his treasures.
8 He smote the first borne of Egypt: both of man and beast.
9 He hath sent tokens and wonders into the middest of thee, O thou land of Egypt: vpon Pharao and all his seruants.
10 He smote diuers nations: and slew mightie kings.
11 Sehon king of the Amorites, and Og the king of Basan: and all the kingdomes of Chanaan.
12 And gaue their land to bee an heritage:

euen an heritage vnto Israel his people.
13 Thy name, O Lord, endureth for euer: so doeth thy memorial, O Lord, from one generation to another.
14 For the Lord will auenge his people: and be gracious vnto his seruants.
15 As for the images of the heathen, they are but siluer and gold: the worke of mens hands.
16 They haue mouthes, and speake not: eyes haue they, but they see not.
17 They haue eares, and yet they heare not: neither is there any breath in their mouthes.
18 They that make them, are like vnto them: and so are all they that put their trust in them.
19 Praise the Lord ye house of Israel: praise the Lord ye house of Aaron.
20 Praise the Lord ye house of Leui: ye that feare the Lord, praise the Lord.
21 Praised be the Lord out of Sion: which dwelleth at Hierusalem.

Confitemini. Psal. 136.

Euening prayer.

Giue thankes vnto the Lord, for he is gracious, and his mercie endureth for euer.
2 O giue thankes vnto the God of all gods: for his mercy endureth for euer.
3 O thanke the Lord of all lordes: for his mercie endureth for euer.
4 Which onely doth great wonders: for his mercie endureth for euer.
5 Which by his excellent wisdome made the heauens: for his mercie endureth for euer.
6 Which laide out the earth aboue the waters: for his mercie endureth for euer.
7 Which hath made great lightes: for his mercie endureth for euer.
8 The Sunne to rule the day: for his mercie endureth for euer.
9 The Moone and the Starres to gouerne the night: for his mercie endureth for euer.
10 Which smote Egypt with their first borne: for his mercie endureth for euer.
11 And brought out Israel from among them: for his mercie endureth for euer.
12 With a mighty hand, and stretched out arme: for his mercie endureth for euer.
13 Which diuided the red sea in two partes: for his mercie endureth for euer.
14 And made Israel to go through the midst of it: for his mercie endureth for euer.
15 But as for Pharao and his hoste, he ouerthrew them in the red sea: for his mercie endureth for euer.
16 Which led his people through the wildernesse: for his mercie endureth for euer.
17 Which smote great kings: for his mercie endureth for euer.
18 Yea, and slew mighty kings: for his mercie endureth for euer.
19 Sehon king of the Amorites: for his mercie endureth for euer.
20 And Og the king of Basan: for his mercy endureth for euer.
21 And gaue away their land for an heritage: for his mercie endureth for euer.
22 Euen for an heritage vnto Israel his seruant: for his mercie endureth for euer.
23 Which remembred vs when wee were in trouble: for his mercie endureth for euer.
24 And hath deliuered vs from our enemies: for his mercie endureth for euer.
25 Which giueth food to all flesh: for his mercie endureth for euer.
26 O giue thankes vnto the God of heauen: for his mercie endureth for euer.
27 O giue thankes vnto the Lord of lordes: for his mercie endureth for euer.

Super flumina. Psal. 137.

BY the waters of Babylon we sate downe and wept: when we remembred (thee) O Sion.
2 As for our harpes, wee hanged them vp: vpon the trees that are therein.
3 For they that led vs away captiue, required of vs then a song and melodie in our heauinesse: sing vs one of the songes of Sion.
4 How shall wee sing the Lordes song: in a strange land?
5 If I forget thee, O Hierusalem: let my right hand forget her cunning.
6 If I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleaue to the roofe of my mouth: yea, if I preferre not Hierusalem in my mirth.
7 Remember the children of Edom, O Lorde, in the day of Hierusalem: how they sayd, Downe with it, downe with it, euen to the ground.
8 O daughter of Babylon, wasted with miserie: yea, happy shall he be that rewardeth thee as thou hast serued vs.
9 Blessed shall hee be that taketh thy children: and throweth them against the stones.

Confitebor tibi. Psal. 138.

I Will giue thankes vnto thee, O Lorde, with my whole heart: euen before the gods will I sing praise vnto thee.
2 I will worship toward thy holy temple, and praise thy name, because of thy louing kindnesse, and truth: for thou hast magnified thy name, and thy word aboue all things.
3 When I called vpon thee, thou heardest me: and endouedst my soule with much strength.
4 All the kings of the earth shall praise thee, O Lorde: for they haue heard the words of thy mouth.
5 Yea, they shall sing in the wayes of the Lord: that great is the glory of the Lord.
6 For though the Lord be high, yet hath hee respect vnto the lowly: as for the proud, hee beholdeth them afarre off.
7 Though I walke in the middes of trouble, yet shalt thou refresh me: thou shalt stretch forth thine hand vpon the furiousnesse of mine enemies, and thy right hand shall saue me.
8 The Lorde shall make good his louing kindnesse toward me: yea, thy mercie, O Lorde, endureth for euer, despise not then the workes of thine owne hands.

Domine, probasti. Psal. 139.

Morning prayer.

O Lorde, thou hast searched me out, and knowen me: thou knowest my downe sitting, and mine vprising, thou vnderstandest my thoughts long before.
2 Thou art about my path, and about my bed: and spiest out all my wayes.
3 For lo, there is not a worde in my tongue: but thou, O Lorde, knowest it altogether.
4 Thou hast fashioned me behind & before:

and layd thine hand vpon me.

5 Such knowledge is too wonderfull and excellent for me: I cannot attaine vnto it.

7 6 Whither shal I go then from thy spirit: or whither shall I flee then from thy presence?

8 If I climbe vp into heauen, thou art there: if I go downe to hell, thou art there also.

9 8 If I take the wings of the morning: and remaine in the vttermost parts of the sea.

10 9 Euen there also shall thy hand leade mee: and thy right hand shall hold me.

11 10 If I say, Peraduenture the darkenesse shall couer mee; then shall my night bee turned to day.

12 11 Yea, the darkenesse is no darkenesse with thee, but the night is as cleere as the day: the darkenesse and light (to thee) are both alike.

13 12 For my reines are thine: thou hast couered me in my mothers wombe.

14 13 I will giue thanks vnto thee, for I am fearefully and wonderfully made: marueilous are thy workes, and that my soule knoweth right well.

15 14 My bones are not hid from thee: though I be made secretly, and fashioned beneath in the earth.

16 15 Thine eyes did see my substance, yet being vnperfect: and in thy booke were all my members written,

16 Which day by day were fashioned: when as yet there was none of them.

17 How deare are thy counsels vnto mee, O God: O how great is the summe of them?

18 If I tell them, they are moe in number then the sand: when I wake vp, I am present with thee.

19 Wilt not thou slay the wicked, O God: depart from me ye bloodthirstie men.

20 For they speake vnrighteously against thee: and thine enemies take thy name in vaine.

21 Doe not I hate them, O Lord, that hate thee: and am not I grieued with those that rise vp against thee?

22 Yea, I hate them right fore: euen as though they were mine enemies.

23 Try mee, O God, and seeke the ground of my heart: proue mee, and examine my thoughts.

23 Looke well if there bee any way of wickednesse in mee: and leade mee in the way euerlasting.

Eripe me Domine. Psal. 140.

DEliuer me, O Lord, from the euill man: and preserue me from the wicked man.

2 Which imagine mischiefe in their hearts: and stirre vp strife all the day long.

3 They haue sharpened their tongues like a serpent: Adders poison is vnder their lips.

4 Keepe me, O Lord, from the hands of the vngodly: preserue mee from the wicked men which are purposed to ouerthrow my goings.

5 The proud haue layd a snare for me, and spread a nette abroad with cordes: yea, and set traps in my way.

6 I sayd vnto the Lord, Thou art my God: heare the voice of my prayers, O Lord.

7 O Lord God, thou strength of my health: thou hast couered my head in the day of battel.

8 Let not the vngodly haue his desire, O Lord: let not his mischieuous imagination prosper, lest they be too proud.

9 Let the mischiefe of their owne lips fall vpon the head of them: that compasse me about.

10 Let hot burning coales fall vpon them: let them be cast into the fire, and into the pit, that they neuer rise vp againe.

11 A man full of words shal not prosper vpon the earth: euill shall hunt the wicked person to ouerthrowe him.

12 Sure I am that the Lorde will auenge the poore: and maintaine the cause of the helpelesse.

13 The righteous also shall giue thankes vnto thy name: and the iust shall continue in thy sight.

Domine, clamaui. Psal. 141.

LOrde, I call vpon thee, haste thee vnto mee: and consider my voice when I crie vnto thee.

2 Let my prayer bee set foorth in thy sight as the incense: and let the lifting vp of my hands be an euening sacrifice.

3 Set a watch (O Lord) before my mouth: and keepe the doore of my lips.

4 O let not mine heart be enclined to any euill thing: let mee not bee occupied in vngodly workes, with the men that worke wickednesse, lest I eate of such things as please them.

5 Let the righteous rather smite me friendly: and reproue me.

6 But let not their precious balmes breake mine head: yea, I will pray yet against their wickednesse.

7 Let their iudges be ouerthrowen in stony places: that they may heare my words, for they are sweete.

7-8 Our bones lie scattered before the pit: like as when one breaketh and heweth wood vpon the earth.

8-9 But mine eyes looke vnto thee, O Lord God: in thee is my trust, O cast not out my soule.

9-10 Keepe me from the snare which they haue layd for me: and from the trappes of the wicked doers.

10-11 Let the vngodly fall into their owne nets together: and let me euer escape them.

Voce mea ad Dominum. Psal. 142.

ICried vnto the Lorde with my voice: yea, euen vnto the Lord did I make my supplication.

2 I powred out my complaints before him: and shewed him of my trouble.

3 When my spirit was in heauinesse, thou knewest my path: in the way wherin I walked, haue they priuily layd a snare for me.

4 I looked also vpon my right hand: and saw there was no man that would know me.

5 I had no place to flee vnto: and no man cared for my soule.

5-6 I cried vnto thee, O Lord, and said: Thou art my hope, and my portion in the land of the liuing.

7 Consider my complaint: for I am brought very lowe.

8 O deliuer mee from my persecutors: for they are too strong for me.

7-9 Bring my soule out of prison, that I may giue thankes vnto thy name: which thing if thou wilt grant me, then shall the righteous resort vnto my company.

Domine, exaudi. Psal. 143.

HEare my prayer, O Lorde, and consider my desire: hearken vnto mee for thy trueth and righteousnesse sake.

2 And enter not into iudgement with thy seruant: for in thy sight shall no man liuing be iustified.

3 For the enemie hath persecuted my soule, he hath smitten my life downe to the ground: he hath layd me in the darkenesse, as the men that haue beene long dead.

4 Therefore is my spirit vexed within mee: and my heart within me is desolate.

5 Yet do I remember the time past, I muse vpon all thy workes: yea, I exercise my selfe in the workes of thy hands.

6 I stretch forth my handes vnto thee: my soule gaspeth vnto thee, as a thirstie land.

7 Heare me, O Lord, and that soone, for my spirit waxeth faint: hide not thy face from mee, least I bee like vnto them that goe downe into the pit.

8 Cause mee heare thy louing kindnesse betimes in the morning, for in thee is my trust: shewe thou me the way that I should walke in, for I lift vp my soule vnto thee.

9 Deliuer me, O Lord, from mine enemies: for I flee vnto thee to hide me.

10 Teach mee to doe the thing that pleaseth thee, for thou art my God: let thy louing spirite leade me forth into the land of righteousnesse.

11 Quicken me, O Lord, for thy names sake: and for thy righteousnesse sake bring my soule out of trouble.

12 And of thy goodnesse slay mine enemies: and destroy all them that vexe my soule, for I am thy seruant.

Benedictus Dominus. Psal. 144.

Morning prayer.

BLessed be the Lord my strength: which teacheth my handes to warre, and my fingers to fight.

2 My hope and my fortresse, my castle and deliuerer, my defender, in whome I trust: which subdueth my people that is vnder me.

3 Lord, what is man that thou hast such respect vnto him: or the sonne of man that thou so regardest him?

4 Man is like a thing of nought: his time passeth away like a shadow.

5 Bowe thy heauens, O Lorde, and come downe: touch the mountains, & they shall smoke.

6 Cast forth thy lightning, and teare them: shoot out thine arrowes, and consume them.

7 Send downe thine hand from aboue: deliuer me, and take me out of the great waters, from the hand of strange children,

8 whose mouth talketh of vanitie: & their right hand is a right hand of wickednesse.

9 I will sing a new song vnto thee, O God: and sing praises vnto thee vpon a ten stringed Lute.

10 Thou hast giuen victorie vnto kings: and hast deliuered Dauid thy seruant from the perill of the sword.

11 Saue me and deliuer me from the hand of strange children: whose mouth talketh of vanitie, and their right hand is a right hand of iniquitie.

12 That our sonnes may growe vp as the yong plants: and that our daughters may be as the polished corners of the temple, 13 That our garners may be full and plenteous with all manner of store: that our sheepe may bring forth thousands, and ten thousands in our streets.

14 That our oxen may be strong to labour, that there be no decay: no leading into captiuitie, and no complaining in our streets.

15 Happie are the people that bee in such a case: yea, blessed are the people which haue the Lord for their God.

Exaltabo te Deus. Psal. 145.

I Will magnifie thee, O God, my king: and I will praise thy name for euer and euer.

2 Euery day will I giue thanks vnto thee: and praise thy name for euer and euer.

3 Great is the Lorde, and marueilous worthie to be praised: there is no ende of his greatnesse.

4 One generation shall praise thy workes vnto another: and declare thy power.

5 As for me, I will be talking of thy worshipfull glory, thy praise, and wonderous workes.

6 So that men shall speake of the might of thy marueilous actes: and I will also tell of thy greatnesse.

7 The memoriall of thine abundant kindnesse shall be shewed: and men shall sing of thy righteousnesse.

8 The Lord is gracious and mercifull: long suffering, and of great goodnesse.

9 The Lord is louing vnto euery man: and his mercie is ouer all his workes.

10 All thy workes praise thee, O Lord: and thy saints giue thankes vnto thee.

11 They shewe the glory of thy kingdome: and talke of thy power.

12 That thy power, thy glory, and mightinesse of thy kingdome might bee knowen vnto men.

13 Thy kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome: and thy dominion endureth throughout all ages.

14 The Lorde vpholdeth all such as fall: and lifteth vp all those that be downe.

15 The eyes of all wait vpon thee, O Lorde: and thou giuest them their meat in due season.

16 Thou openest thine hand: and fillest all things liuing with plenteousnesse.

17 The Lorde is righteous in all his wayes: and holy in all his workes.

18 The Lorde is nigh vnto all them that call vpon him: yea, all such as call vpon him faithfully.

19 He will fulfill the desire of them that feare him: he also will heare their cry, and will helpe them.

20 The Lorde preserueth all them that loue him: but scattereth abroad all the vngodly.

21 My mouth shall speake the praise of the Lord: and let all flesh giue thankes vnto his holy name for euer and euer.

2 O put not your trust in princes, nor in any child of man: for there is no helpe in them.

54 Blessed is hee that hath the God of Jacob for his helpe: and whose hope is in the Lord his God.

55 Which made heauen and earth, the sea and all that therein is: which keepeth his promise for euer.

56 Which helpeth them to right that suffer wrong: which feedeth the hungrie.

57 The Lorde looseth men out of prison: the Lorde giueth sight to the blind.

58 The Lorde helpeth them that are fallen: the Lord careth for the righteous.

59 The Lord careth for the strangers: he defendeth the fatherlesse and widowe: as for the way of the vngodly, he turneth it vpside downe.

Euening prayer.

O Prayse the Lorde, for it is a good thing to sing prayses vnto our God: yea, a ioyfull and pleasant thing it is to be thankefull.

2 The Lord doth build vp Hierusalem: and gather together the outcastes of Israel.

3 He healeth those that are broken in heart: and giueth medicine to heale their sicknesse.

4 He telleth the number of the starres: and calleth them all by their names.

5 Great is our Lorde, and great is his power: yea, and his wisedome is infinite.

6 The Lord setteth vp the meeke: and bringeth the vngodly downe to the ground.

7 O sing vnto the Lord with thanksgiuing: sing prayses vpon the harpe vnto our God.

8 Which coupleth the heauen with clouds, and prepareth raine for the earth: and maketh the grasse to growe vpon the mountaines, and herbe for the vse of men.

9 Which giueth fodder vnto the cattell, and feedeth the young rauens that call vpon him.

10 Hee hath no pleasure in the strength of an horse: neither delighteth hee in any mans legges.

11 But the Lordes delight is in them that feare him: and put their trust in his mercie.

12 Prayse the Lorde, O Hierusalem: praise thy God, O Sion.

13 For hee hath made fast the barres of thy gates: and hath blessed thy children within thee.

14 Hee maketh peace in thy borders: and filleth thee with the floure of wheate.

15 He sendeth forth his commandement vpon earth: and his word runneth very swiftly.

16 He giueth snow like wooll: and scatereth the hoare frost like ashes.

17 He casteth forth his yce like morsels: who is able to abide his frost?

18 Hee sendeth out his worde, and melteth them: hee bloweth with his wind, and the waters flowe.

19 He sheweth his word vnto Jacob: his statutes and ordinances vnto Israel.

20 He hath not dealt so with any nation: neither haue the heathen knowledge of his lawes.

Here end the Psalmes of Dauid.

Laudate Dominum. Psal. 148.

O Praise the Lorde of heauen: praise him in the height.

2 Praise him all yee angels of his: praise him all his hoste.

3 Praise him Sunne and Moone: praise him all ye starres and light.

4 Praise him all ye heauens: and ye waters that be aboue the heauens.

5 Let them praise the name of the Lorde: for he spake the word, and they were made, hee commaunded, and they were created.

6 He hath made them fast for euer and euer: hee hath giuen them a lawe which shall not bee broken.

7 Praise the Lord vpon earth: ye dragons and all deepes.

8 Fire and haile, snow and vapours: winde and storme, fulfilling his word.

9 Mountaines and all hils: fruitfull trees, and all Cedars.

10 Beastes and all cattell: wormes, and feathered foules.

11 Kings of the earth, and all people: princes, and all iudges of the world.

12 Young men and maydens, olde men and children, praise the name of the Lorde: for his name onely is excellent, and his praise aboue heauen and earth.

13 He shall exalt the horne of his people, all his saints shall praise him: euen the children of Israel, euen the people that serueth him.

Cantate Domino. Psal. 149.

O Sing vnto the Lorde a newe song: let the congregation of saints praise him.

2 Let Israel reioyce in him that made him: and let the children of Sion be ioyfull in their king.

3 Let them praise his name in the dance: let them sing prayses vnto him with Tabret and Harpe.

4 For the Lord hath pleasure in his people: and helpeth the meeke hearted.

5 Let the saintes be ioyfull with glory: let them reioyce in their beds.

6 Let the prayses of God be in their mouth: and a two edged sword in their hands.

7 To be auenged of the heathen: and to rebuke the people.

8 To bind their kings in chaines: and their nobles with linkes of yron.

Laudate Dominum. Psal. 150.

O Praise God in his holinesse: praise him in the firmament of his power.

The Prouerbes of Solomon.

The first Chapter.

1 The power of the word of God, 7 Of the feare of God, and knowledge of his word. 10 Wee may not consent to the entisings of sinners. 20 Wisedome complaineth that thee is contemned. 24 The punishment of them that contemne her.

THe Prouerbes of Solomon the sonne of Dauid king of Israel:

2 To learne wisedome and instruction, and to perceiue the wordes of vnderstanding,

3 To receiue the instruction of wisedome, iustice, iudgement, & equitie:

4 To giue wit vnto the simple, and that the young men might haue knowledge and vnderstanding.

5 The wise man will giue eare, and will come by more wisedome, and hee that is endued with vnderstanding, shall attaine vnto wise counsels.

6 To vnderstand a parable, and the interpretation thereof, the wordes of the wise, and their darke speeches.

Eccl.1.16. psal.110.10

7 *The feare of the Lorde is the beginning of knowledge: but fooles despise wisedome and instruction.

8 My sonne, heare thy fathers doctrine, and forsake not the ‖ law of thy mother:

‖ Or, instruction.

9 For they shall be an increase of grace vnto thy head, and as a chaine about thy necke.

‖ Or, Leade thee out of the way.

10 My sonne, if sinners ‖ entice thee, consent not vnto them.

11 If they say, Come with vs let vs lay wait for blood, and lurke priuily for the innocent without a cause:

12 Let vs swallowe them vp like the graue quicke and whole, as those that goe downe into the pit:

13 So shall we finde all manner of costly riches and fill our houses with spoyles:

14 Cast in thy lot among vs, and let vs all haue one purse.

15 My sonne, walke not thou with them, refraine thy foot from their wayes.

Psal.59.7. rom.3.15.

16 *For their feete runne to euill, and are hastie to shed blood.

17 But as in vaine the nette is layd forth before the birdes eyes:

18 So they lay wait for the blood of them, and lay priuily for their liues.

19 Such are the wayes of euery one that is greedie of gaine, which taketh away the life of the owners thereof.

20 Wisedome cryeth without, and putteth forth her voice in the streets:

21 She calleth before the congregation in the open gates, and she weth her wordes thorowe the citie, saying.

22 How children, how long will ye loue childishnesse, how long will the scorners delight in scorning, and the vnwise hate knowledge?

Esa.65.12. ierem.7.13 vnto you.

23 *Turne you at my correction: for, I will expresse my minde vnto you, and make you vnderstand my words.

24 Because I haue called, and ye refused, I haue stretched out my hand, & no man regarded.

25 But all my counsels haue ye despised, and set my correction at nought:

26 Therefore will I also laugh at your destruction, and mocke you, when the thing that ye feare commeth vpon you,

27 Euen when the thing that ye be afraid of, falleth in suddenly like a storme, and your miserie like a tempest, yea when trouble and heauinesse commeth vpon you.

28 Then shall they call vpon me, but I will not answere: they shall seeke me early, but they shall not finde me:

29 And that because they hated knowledge, and did not choose the feare of the Lord.

30 They would none of my counsell, but despised all my correction.

31 Therefore shall they eate of the fruite of their owne way, and be filled with their owne inuentions.

32 For the turning away of the vnwise shall slay them, and the prosperitie of fooles shall destroy them.

33 But who so hearkeneth vnto mee, shall dwell safely, and be sure from any feare of euill.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Wisedome exhorteth to obey her. 5 Shee teacheth the feare of God. 6 She is giuen of God. 10 She preserueth from wickednesse.

MY sonne, if thou wilt receiue my words, and lay vp my commandements within thee,

2 That thou wilt encline thine eares vnto wisedome, apply thine heart then to vnderstanding.

3 For if thou criest after wisedome, and cryest for knowledge:

4 If thou seekest for her as for siluer, and searchest for her as for treasures,

5 Then shalt thou vnderstand the feare of the Lorde, and finde the knowledge of God.

6 For the Lord giueth wisedome, out of his mouth commeth knowledge and vnderstanding.

7 Hee storeth vp health for the righteous: and defendeth them that walke vprightly, 8 That they may keepe the right path: and he preserueth the way of such as doe serue him with godlinesse.

9 Then shalt thou vnderstand righteousnesse, and iudgement, and equitie, yea, and euery good path.

10 When wisedome entreth into thine heart, and thy soule delighteth in knowledge:

11 Then shall counsell preserue thee, and vnderstanding shall keepe thee.

fol. Nn6v

12 That thou mayest be deliuered from the euill way, and from the man that speaketh froward things:
13 From such as leaue the wayes of righteousnesse, to walke in the wayes of darkenesse:
14 Which reioyce in doing naught, and delight in the wickednesse of the euill:
15 Whose wayes are crooked, and they froward in their paths.
16 That thou mayest be deliuered also from the straunge woman, and from her that is not thine owne, which giueth sweet wordes,
17 Forsaketh the husband of her youth, and forgetteth the couenant of her God.
18 For her house is enclined vnto death, and her paths vnto hell,
19 All they that goe in vnto her, come not againe, neither take they hold of the way of life.
20 Therefore walke thou in the way of such as be vertuous, and keepe the paths of the righteous.
21 For the iust shall dwel in the land, and they that be perfect, shall remaine in it.
Ioh. 19.17. 22 *But the vngodly shall be cut off from the earth: and the wicked doers shall be rooted out of it.

The iij. Chapter.

2 The worde of God giueth life. 5 Trust in God. 7 Feare him. 9 Honour him. 11 Suffer his correction. 22 To them that follow the word of God, all things shall succeed well.

MY sonne, forget not thou my lawe, but see that thine heart keepe my commaundements.
Deut.8.1. and 30.16. 2 *For they shall prolong the dayes and yeeres of thy life, and bring thee peace.
3 Let mercie and faithfulnesse neuer goe from thee: bind them about thy necke, and write them in the tables of thine heart:
4 So shalt thou finde fauour and good vnderstanding in the sight of God and men.
5 Put thy trust in God with all thine heart: and leane not vnto thine owne wit.
6 In all thy wayes acknowledge him, and he shall order thy goings.
Rom.12.16 7 *Be not wise in thine owne conceit: but feare the Lord, and depart from euill:
a That is, thy whole body. 8 So shall thy a nauill bee whole, and thy bones strong.
Tob.4.7. luke 14.13. 9 *Honour the Lorde with thy substance, and with the firstlings of thine encrease:
10 So shall thy barnes be filled with plenteousnesse, and thy presses shall flowe ouer with sweete wine.
Heb.12.5. apoc.3.17. 11 *My sonne, refuse not the chastening of the Lord, neither faint when thou art corrected of him.
12 For whome the Lord loueth, him hee chasteneth, and yet delighteth in him, euen as a father in his owne sonne.
13 Well is him that findeth wisedome, and getteth vnderstanding:
14 For the marchandise of it is better then the marchandise of siluer, and the gaine thereof is better then golde.
15 She is more worth then precious stones: and all the things that thou canst desire, are not to be compared vnto her.
16 In her right hand is long life, and in her left hand riches and honour.
17 Her wayes are pleasant wayes, and all her paths are peaceable.
18 Shee is a tree of life to them that lay hold vpon her: and blessed is he that keepeth her fast.
19 With wisedome hath the Lorde layde the foundation of the earth, and throughe vnderstanding hath he stablished the heauens.
20 Throughe his knowledge the depths are broken vp, and the clouds drop downe the dewe.
21 My sonne, let not these things depart from thine eyes, but keepe wisedome and vnderstanding:
22 So they shall bee life vnto thy soule, and grace vnto thy mouth.
23 Then shalt thou walke safely in thy way, and thy foot shall not stumble.
24 If thou sleepest, thou shalt not be afraid: but shalt take rest, and sleepe sweetly.
25 Thou shalt not be afraide of any suddaine feare, neither for the violent rushing in of the vngodly when it commeth.
26 For the Lorde shall stand by thy side, and keepe thy foot that thou be not taken.
27 Withdrawe no good thing from them that haue neede, so long as thine hand is able to doe it.
28 Say not to thy neighbour, Goe thy way, and come againe, and to morowe will I giue thee: whereas thou hast now to giue him.
29 Intend no hurt against thy neighbour, seeing he hopeth to dwell in rest by thee.
30 Striue not with any man without a cause, wherein he hath done thee no harme.
Psal.36.1. 31 *Followe not a wicked man, and choose none of his wayes:
32 For the Lord abhorreth the froward: but his ‖ counsell is among the righteous.
‖ Or, secrets. 33 The curse of the Lorde is in the house of the vngodly: but he blesseth the dwellings of the righteous.
34 As for the scorneful, doeth hee not laugh them to scorne: but hee giueth grace vnto the lowly.
35 The wise shall haue honour in possession: but shame is the promotiō that fooles shal haue.

The iiij. Chapter.

Wisedome and her fruits ought to be searched. 14 The way of the wicked must be refused. 20 By the word of God, the heart, eyes, and course of life must be guided.

HEare, O children, a fatherly instruction, & take good heede, that ye may learne vnderstanding.
2 For I haue giuen you a good doctrine, forsake not ye my lawe.
3 For when I my selfe was my fathers deare sonne, and tenderly beloued of my mother:
4 He taught me also, and sayd vnto me, Let thine heart receiue my wordes, keepe my commaundements, and thou shalt liue.
5 Get thee wisedome, and get thee vnderstanding: forget not, the wordes of my mouth, and shunne not from them.
6 Forsake her not, and shee shall preserue thee, loue her, and shee shall keepe thee.
7 The chiefe point of wisedome, is, to possesse wisedome, and before all thy goods, to get thee vnderstanding.

8 Make much of her, and thee shall promote thee, yea, if thou imbrace her, she shall bring thee vnto honour: when thou dost in loue her.

9 Shee shall beautifie thy head with manifold graces, and garnish thee with a crowne of glory.

10 Heare, my sonne, and receiue my wordes, and the yeeres of thy life shalbe many.

11 I haue shewed thee the way of wisedome, and leade thee in the right paths.

12 So that if thou goest in them, there shall no straitnesse hinder thee: and when thou runnest, thou shalt not fall.

13 Take fast holde of doctrine, and let her not goe: keepe her, for she is thy life.

14 Come not in the path of the vngodly, and walke not in the way of the wicked.

15 Abhorre it, and goe not therein, depart aside, and passe ouer by it.

16 For they sleepe not except they haue done mischiefe: and sleepe is taken from them, vntill they haue done harme.

17 For they eate the bread of wickednesse, and drinke the wine of robberie.

18 The path of the righteous shineth, as the light that is euer brighter and brighter vnto the perfect day.

19 But the way of the vngodly is as the darknesse, they know not where they fall.

20 My sonne, marke my wordes, and encline thine eare vnto my sayings:

21 Let them not depart from thine eyes, but keepe them euen in the middes of thine heart.

22 For they are life vnto those that find them, and health vnto all their bodies.

23 Keepe thine heart with all diligence: for out of it issueth life.

24 Put away from thee a frowarde mouth: and let the lips of slander be farre from thee.

25 Let thine eyes beholde that thing that is right: and let thine eye lids looke streight before thee.

26 Ponder the path of thy feete, and let all thy wayes be ordered aright.

27 Turne not aside neither to the right hand nor to the left: but withholde thy foote from euill.

The v. Chapter.

3 Whoredome forbidden, 9 and prodigalitie. 13 He willeth a man to liue on his labour, and to helpe others. 18 To loue his wife. 22 The wicked taken in their owne wickednesse.

MY sonne, giue heed vnto my wisdome, and bowe thine eare vnto my ‖ prudence: ‖Or, knowledge.

2 That thou mayest regard good counsell, and that thy lips may keepe knowledge.

3 For the lippes of a strange woman are a dropping hony combe, and her throate is more slippery then oyle:

4 But at the last thee is as bitter as wormewood, and as sharpe as a two edged sword.

5 Her feete goe downe vnto death, and her steps pearce through vnto hell.

6 Perchance thou wilt ponder the path of her life: so vnstedfast are her wayes, that thou canst not know them.

7 Heare mee now therefore, O ye children, and depart not from the words of my mouth.

8 Keepe thy way farre from her, and come not nigh the doores of her house.

9 That thou giue not thine honour vnto other, and thy yeeres vnto the cruel,

10 That other men be not filled with thy vertues, and that thy labours come not in a strange house:

11 Yea, that thou mourne not at the last, when thou hast spent thy body and lustie youth, and then say, 12 Alas, why hated I nourture: why did my heart despise correction?

13 Wherefore was I not obedient vnto the voyce of my teachers, and hearkened not vnto them that enstourned me?

14 I was come almost into all misfortune, in the middest of the multitude and congregation.

15 [a] Drinke of the water of thine owne well, and of the riuers that runne out of thine owne spring.

16 Let thy welles flow out abroad, that there may be riuers of waters in the streets:

17 But let them be only thine owne, and not strangers with thee.

18 Let thy well bee blessed, and bee glad with the wife of thy youth.

19 Let her bee as the louing Hinde and pleasant Roe: let her breasts alway satisfie thee, and holde thee euer content with her loue.

20 Why wilt thou my sonne, haue pleasure in a strange woman? and embrace the bosome of a stranger?

21 * For euery mans wayes are open in the sight of the Lord, and he pondereth all their goings.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Instructions for sureties. 6 The slouthful and sluggish is stirred to worke. 12 He describeth the nature of the wicked. 16 The things that God hateth. 20 To obserue the worde of God. 24 To flee adulterie.

MY sonne, if thou be suretie for thy neighbour, and hast fastened thine hand for another man,

2 Thou art ‖ snared with thine owne wordes, and taken with thine owne speech. ‖Or, snared.

3 Therefore, my sonne, doe this, and thou shalt bee discharged: when thou art come into thy neighbours danger, go thy wayes then soone, humble thy selfe, and with thy friendes intreat (thy ‖ creditour.) ‖Or, neighbour.

4 Let not thine eyes sleepe, nor thine eye lids slumber.

5 Saue thy selfe as a Doe from the hande of the hunter, and as a birde from the hand of the fowler.

6 Goe to the Emmet, thou sluggard, consider her wayes, and learne to be wise:

7 Shee hath no guide, nor ouerseer, nor ruler:

8 Yet in the Sommer shee prouideth her meate, and gathereth her foode together in the harueste.

fol. Oo1v

Pro. 24. 32.

9 How long wilt thou sleepe, thou sluggish man? when wilt thou arise out of thy sleepe?
10 Yet sleepe on still a little, slumber a little, fold thine handes together yet a little, that thou mayest sleepe:
11 So shall pouertie come vnto thee as one that trauaileth by the way, and necessitie like a weaponed man.
12 An vngodly person, a wicked man, goeth with a froward mouth.
13 Hee winketh with his eyes, hee teacheth with his feete, hee teacheth with his fingers, 14 Hee is euer imagining mischiefe, and frowardnesse in his heart, and casteth discord, 15 Therefore shall his destruction come hastily vpon him, suddenly shall hee be altogether broken, and not to be healed.
16 These sixe things doth the Lord hate, and the seuenth he vtterly abhorreth:
17 A proud looke, a lying tongue, hands that shed innocent blood,
18 An heart that deuiseth wicked imaginations, feete that are swift in running to mischiefe, 19 A false witnesse that bringeth forth lies, and him that soweth discord among brethren.
20 My sonne, keepe thy fathers commandement, and forsake not the law of thy mother.
21 Binde them continually in thine heart, and bind them about thy necke.
22 When thou walkest thee shall leade thee, when thou sleepest it shall keepe thee, and when thou awakest, talke with thee.
23 For the Commandement is a lanterne, and the Law a light, yea chastening and nourture is the way of life:
24 That they may keepe thee from the euill woman, and from the flattering tongue of the strange woman.
25 Lust not after her beautie in thine heart, neither let her take thee with her fayre lookes.
26 By an harlot a man is brought to beggers bread, and a woman will hunt for the precious life of man.
27 May a man take fire in his bosome, and not be burnt?
28 Or can one goe vpon hote coales, and his feete not be burnt?
29 Euen so, whosoeuer goeth in to his neighbours wife, and toucheth her, cannot bee vnguiltie.
30 Men doe not vtterly despise a theefe that steale to satisfie his soule when he is hungry:
31 But if hee may be gotten, hee restoreth a sixefold, hee will giue all the substance of his house.
32 But who so committeth adultery with a woman, lacketh vnderstanding: and hee that doeth it, destroyeth his owne soule.
33 Hee getteth himselfe a plague, and dishonour, and his reproch shall neuer be put out:
34 For the iealousie and wrath of the man will not be entreated, he will not regard any ransome, neither will he rest though thou giue many gifts.
35 No though thou wouldest offer him great gifts to make amendes, hee will not receiue them.

The vij. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to wisedome, and to the word of God, 5 which will preserue vs from the harlot, 6 whose maners are described.

MY sonne, keepe my words, and lay vp my commandements by thee.
2 Keepe my commandements and my Law, euen as the apple of thine eye, and thou shalt liue.
3 Binde them vpon thy fingers, and write them in the table of thine heart.
4 Say vnto Wisedome, Thou art my sister, and call vnderstanding thy kinswoman:
5 That they may keep thee from the strange woman, and from the forraine woman, which giueth sweet words.
6 For at the windowe of my house, I looked thorow the window,
7 And beheld among the simple people, and among the children, a young man void of vnderstanding,
8 Going ouer the street by the corner in the way toward her house,
9 In the twilight of the euening, when it began now to be night and darke.
10 And behold, there mette him a woman, with an harlots tyre, and subtile of heart.
11 She was full of loud words, and ready to daily, whose feete could not abide in the house:
12 Now is shee without, now in the streetes, and lyeth in waite at euery corner.
13 So she caught him, and kissed him, and with an impudent face said vnto him, 14 I had peace offrings to pay, and this day I performed it.
15 Therefore came I forth to meete thee, that I might seeke thy face, and I haue found thee.
16 I haue decked my bed with couerings of tapestrie, and clothes of Egypt.
17 I haue perfumed my bed with myrre, aloes, and cynamom.
18 Come, let vs take our fill of loue vntill the morning, and let vs solace our selues with pleasures of loue.
19 For the good man is not at home, hee is gone farre off.
20 Hee hath taken the bagge of money with him, and will returne at the appointed full moone.
21 With many sweete words shee ouercame him, and with her flattering lippes shee enticed him.
22 Suddenly hee followed her, as it were an ore leadeth to the slaughter, or as it were a foole that laugheth when hee goeth to the stockes to bee punished,
23 So long till shee had wounded his liuer with her dart: like as if a bird hasted to the snare, not knowing that the peril of his life lieth thereupon.
24 Heare me now therefore, O my children, and marke the wordes of my mouth:
25 Let not thine heart decline in her waies, and bee not thou deceiued in her paths.
26 For many one hath shee wounded and cast downe, yea many a strong man hath shee slaine by the meanes of her.
27 Her house is the way vnto hell, and goeth downe vnto the chambers of death.

5 Who so gathereth in Sommer, is wise: but he that is sluggish in haruest, bringeth himselfe to confusion.

6 Blessings are vpon the head of the righteous: and the mouth of the vngodly keepeth mischiefe in secret.

27 The feare of the Lord maketh a long life: but the yeeres of the vngodly shalbe shortned.

28 The patient abiding of the righteous shall bee turned to gladnesse: but the hope of the vngodly shall perish.

29 The way of the Lord giueth courage vnto the godly: but it is a feare to wicked doers.

3 Be not deſirous of his dainty meats, for meat beguileth and deceiueth.

4 Take not ouer great trauell to be rich, beware of ſuch a purpoſe,

5 Wilt thou ſet thine eyes vpon the thing which ſuddenly vaniſheth away? For riches make themſelues wings like an eagle, and flee into the aire.

6 Eat thou not the bread of him that hath an euill eye: neither deſire thou his dainty meat,

7 For as though he thought it in his heart, ſo ſayth he, Eat and drinke: whereas his heart is not with thee.

8 The morſels that thou haſt eaten, ſhalt thou vomite, and loſe thine ſweet words.

9 Tell nothing into the eares of a foole: for he will deſpiſe the wiſedome of thy words.

10 Remoue not the olde land marke, and come not within the field of the fatherleſſe:

12 Apply thine heart vnto correction, & thine eares to the words of knowledge.

13 Withhold not correction from the child: for if thou beateſt him with the rod, he ſhall not die thereof:

19 My ſonne, giue care, and be wiſe, and ſet ſtraight thine heart in the way of the Lord.

20 Keepe not company with wine bibbers, and riotous eaters of fleſh:

The xxviij. Chapter.

THe vngodly fleeth when no man pursueth him: but the righteous are bolde as a lion.
2 For the wickednesse of the land, the prince is oft changed: but through ‖ a man of vnderstanding & wisedome, a realme endureth long. ‖ Or, men.
3 One poore man oppressing another by violence, is like a raging raine that destroyeth the ‖ fruit. ‖ Or, food.
4 They that forsake the law, praise the vngodly: but such as keepe the law, are grieued at them.
5 Wicked men vnderstand not iudgement: but they that seeke the Lorde, vnderstand all things.
Prou. 19. 1. 6 *Better is the poore that walketh in his vprightnes, then he that peruerteth his wayes, and is rich.
7 Who so keepeth the law, is a childe of vnderstanding: but he that ‖ is a companion of riotous men, shameth his father. ‖ Or, feedeth gluttons,
8 He that by vsury and vniust gaines gathereth riches: hee shall lay them in store for a man that will pity the poore.
9 He that turneth away his eare from hearing the law, his prayer shalbe abominable.
10 Who so causeth the righteous to go astray by an euill way, shall fall into his owne pit: but the iust shall haue good things in possession.
11 The rich man thinketh himselfe to be wise: but the poore that hath vnderstanding, ‖ can perceiue him well enough. ‖ Or, can trie him.
12 When righteous men doe reioyce, there is great glory: but when the wicked come vp, the man is tried.
13 He that hideth his sinnes, shal not prosper: but whoso confesseth them, and forsaketh them, shall haue mercy.
14 Well is him that feareth alway: but he that hardeneth his heart, shall fall into mischiefe.
15 As a roaring lion and an hungry beare, so is an vngodly prince ouer the poore people.
16 Where the prince is without vnderstanding, there is great oppression and wrong: but he that hateth couetousnesse, shall long reigne.
17 Hee that by violence sheddeth any mans blood, shall be a runnagate vnto his graue, and no man shalbe able to succour him.
18 Who so leadeth an vnspotted life, shalbe saued: but he that goeth two wayes, shal once haue a fall.
Pro. 12. 11. eccl. 20. 30. 19 *He that tilleth his land, shall haue plentifulnesse of bread: but hee that followeth idle persons, shall haue pouerty enough.
20 A faithfull man shall be filled with blessings: * and he that maketh haste to be rich, shall not be vnguilty.
Pro. 13. 11.
21 To haue respect of persons is not good, for that man will do wrong, yea, euen for a piece of bread.
22 He that will be rich all too soone, hath an euill eye, and considereth not that pouerty shall come vpon him.
23 He that following my precepts, rebuketh a man, shall find more fauour at the last, then he that flattereth him.
24 Who so robbeth his father and mother, and saith it is no sinne: the same is the companion of a ‖ destroyer. ‖ Or, of a murderer.
25 He that is of a proud stomache, stirreth vp strife: but he that putteth his trust in the Lord, shalbe well fed.
26 Hee that trusteth in his owne heart, is a foole: but he that walketh wisely, shalbe safe.
27 Hee that giueth vnto the poore, shall not lacke: but hee that hideth his eyes from them, shall haue many a curse.
28 When the vngodly are come vp, men are faine to hide themselues: but when they perish, the righteous increase.

The xxix. Chapter.

HE that is stiffnecked, and will not be reformed, shall suddenly be destroyed ‖ without any helpe. ‖ Or, and not be cured.
2 When the righteous are in authority, the people do reioyce: but when the wicked beare rule, the people mourne.
3 Who so loueth wisedome, maketh his father a glad man: *but he that keepeth companie with harlots, spendeth away ‖ that he hath. Luk. 15. 13. ‖ Or, his substance.
4 With true iudgement the king stablisheth the land: but if he be a man that oppresseth the people with gatherings, hee turneth it vpside downe.
5 Who so flattereth his neighbour, layeth a net for his feet.
6 The sinne of the wicked is his owne snare: but the righteous doth sing and reioyce.
7 The righteous considereth the cause of the poore: but the vngodly regardeth no vnderstanding.
8 Scornefull men bring a citie into a snare: but wise men turne away wrath.
9 If a wise man contendeth with a foole: whether he be angry or laugh, there is no rest.
10 The bloodthirsty hate the righteous: but the iust ª seeke his soule. ª That is, defend his soule: or saue his life.
11 A foole vttereth all his minde at once: but a wise man keepeth it in till afterward.
12 If a prince delight in lies, all his seruants are vngodly.
13 The poore and the ‖ lender meet together, and the Lord lightneth both their eyes. ‖ Or, vsurer.
14 The feare of the king that ‖ faithfully iudgeth the poore, shall continue sure for euermore. ‖ Or, truely.
15 The rod and correction giueth wisedome, but a childe left to his owne will, bringeth his mother to shame.
16 When the vngodly are multiplied, wickednesse increaseth: but the righteous shall see their fall.
17 Nurture thy sonne with correction, and thou shalt be at rest: yea, he shall do thee good at thine heart.

27 The righteous abhorreth the vngodly: and the wicked hateth him that is in the right way.

20 Such is the way also of a wife that breaketh wedlocke, which wipeth her mouth like as when she hath eaten, and sayth, As for me, I haue done no wickednesse.

21 For three things the earth is disquieted, and the fourth may it not abide.

The end of the Prouerbs of Solomon.

The Booke of the Preacher, otherwiſe called Eccleſiaſtes, which is Solomon the King.

FOr Solomon is called in Scripture by three ſundry names. The one, Solomon, that is, The maker of peace. The ſecond, Idida, that is, Beloued of God. The third, Eccleſiaſtes, that is, A Preacher, teaching that true & eternall felicity conſiſteth not in any worldly wiſdome, or abundance of riches, or in carnall pleaſure, which all be but vaine and tranſitory: but he proueth that true felicity conſiſteth in a whole ioyning our ſelues to God by pure religion, that is, with a ſyncere faith and the feare of God, obſeruing his commandements.

The firſt Chapter.

2 All things in this world are full of vanitie, and of none endurance. 13 All mans wiſedome is but folly and griefe,

THE wordes of the Preacher the ſonne of Dauid king of Hieruſalem.
2 [a] All is but moſt vaine vanity, ſayth the Preacher, and all is moſt vaine, I ſay, and but plaine vanity.
3 For what [b] hath a man of all the labour that he taketh vnder the ſunne?
4 One generation paſſeth away, another commeth: but the earth abideth ſtill.
5 The ſunne ariſeth, the ſunne goeth downe, and returneth to his place, that hee may there riſe againe.
6 The wind goeth toward the South, and turneth vnto the North, fetcheth his compaſſe, whirleth about, and goeth forth, and returneth againe to his circuits from whence he did come.
7 All floods runne into the ſea, and yet is the ſea neuer not fulle: for looke vnto what place the waters runne, thence they come to flow againe.
8 All things are ſo full of labour, that no man can expreſſe them: the eye is not ſatisfied with ſight, the eare is not filled with hearing.
9 The thing that hath beene, commeth to paſſe againe, and the thing that hath bene done, ſhall be done againe: there is no new thing vnder the ſunne.

Eccl.40.11

a He doth not condemne the creatures and gifts of God as euil: but the careful ſeeking of them, and the pride and truſt that man hath in worldly things.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Pp3r

10 Is there any thing whereof it may bee layd, Loe, this is new? for it was long agoe in the times that haue bene before vs.
11 The thing that is past is out of remembrance:
euen so the things that are for to come, shall no more bee thought vpon among them that come after.
12 I my selfe the Preacher was king of Israel at Hierusalem.
13 And did applie my minde to seeke out and search for the knowledge of all things that are done vnder heauen: (Such trauaile and labour hath God giuen vnto the children of men, to exercise themselues therein.)
14 Thus haue I considered all these things that come to passe vnder the sunne: and loe, they are all but vanitie and vexation of minde.
15 The crooked cannot be made straight, for the imperfection of things can be numbred.
16 I communed with mine owne heart, saying, Loe, I am come to great estate, and haue gotten more wisedome then all they that haue bene before me in Hierusalem.
17 Yea, my heart had great experience of wisdom and knowledge: for therunto I applied my minde, that I might know what were wisedom and vnderstanding, what were errour and folishnes: and I perceiued that this was also but a vexation of minde.
18 For where much wisedome is, there is also great trauaile and disquietnesse: and he that increaseth knowledge a man hath, the more is his care.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Pleasure, sumptuous buildings, riches, and possessions are but vanity. 14 The wise and the foole haue both one end touching the bodily death.

THen said I in my heart, Now goe to, I will take mine ease, and haue good dayes: but loe, that is vanitie also.
2 Inasmuch that I said vnto the man giuen to laughter, Thou art mad:
and to mirth, What doest thou?
3 So I thought in my heart to giue my flesh vnto wine, and againe to applie my minde vnto wisedome, and to comprehend foolishnesse: vntill the time that among all the things which are vnder the Sunne, I might see what were best for men to doe so long as they liue vnder heauen.
4 I made me goodly workes: I builded me houses, and planted vineyards.
5 I made mee Orchards and Gardens of pleasure, and planted trees in them of all manner of fruits.
6 I made pooles of water, to water therewith the greene and fruitfull trees withall.
7 I bought seruants and maidens, and had a great houshold: as for cattell and sheepe I had more substance of them, then all they that were before me in Hierusalem.
8 I gathered together siluer and gold, and the chiefe treasures of kings and lands: I haue prouided mee men singers and women singers, and the delights of the sonnes of men, as a woman taken captiue, and women taken cap-tiues.
9 And I was greater and in more worship then all my predecessors in Hierusalem, for wise-dome remained with me.

10 And looke whatsoeuer my eyes desired, I let them haue it: and wherein soeuer my heart delighted or had any pleasure, I withheld it not from it: This my heart reioiced in all that I did, and this was my portion of all my trauaile.
11 But when I considered all the workes that my hands had wrought, and all the labour that I had taken therein; loe, all was but vanitie and vexation of minde, and nothing of any value vnder the Sunne.
12 Then turned I me to consider wisedome, errour, and foolishnesse (for what is hee among men that might be compared to mee the king in in such workes?)
13 And I sawe that wisedome excelleth foo-lishnesse, as farre as light doth darknesse.
14 For a wise man hath his eyes in his head, but the foole goeth in darknesse: I perceiued also that they both had one end.
15 Then thought I in my minde, As it happen vnto the foole so it doth vnto me, what nee-deth me then to labour any more for wisedome?
So I communed within my heart that this also was but vanitie.
16 For the wise are euer as little in remembrance as the foolish: for the dayes shall come, when all shall be forgotten: yea, the wise man dieth as well as the foole.
17 Thus began I to bee weary of my life, insomuch that I could away with nothing that is done vnder the Sunne: for all was but vanitie and vexation of minde.
18 Yea, I was weary of my labour which I had taken vnder the Sunne, because I should bee faine to leaue them vnto another man that commeth after me.
19 And who knoweth whether hee shall be a wise man or a foole? and yet shall hee be lord of all my labours, which I with such wisedome haue taken vnder the Sunne: This is also a vaine thing.
20 So I turned mee to refraine my minde from all such trauaile as I tooke vnder the Sunne,
21 For asmuch as a man should weary himselfe with wisedome, with vnderstanding and opportunitie, and yet bee faine to leaue his labours vnto another that neuer sweat for them: This is also a vaine thing, and great miserie.
22 For what getteth a man of all the labour and trauaile of his minde, that he taketh vnder
the Sunne,
23 But heauinesse, sorow, and disquietnesse all the dayes of his life: insomuch that his heart can not rest in the night? This is also a vaine thing.
24 Is it not better then for a man to eate and drinke, and his soule to bee merie in his labour?
yea, I sawe that this also is a gift of God.
25 For who can eate, or goe more iuilily to his worke then I.
26 And why? God giueth to the man that is good before him, wisedome, vnderstanding, and gladnesse: but vnto the sinner hee giueth wearinesse, that he may gather and heape together the thing that afterward shall be giuen vnto him whom it pleaseth God: This is now a vaine thing, yea, a verie disquietnesse and vexation of minde.

He proueth by foure reasons, that true felicitie consisteth not in any worldly pleasure.

a 1. There is no long continuance in any ease or pleasure in this life. b 2. The mother of vaine pleasure and much laughter, is foolishnesse. c 3. Hee that appeteth himselfe to the study of godly wisedome, may not haue too much pleasure in drinking of wine. d 4. The more plentie of gorgeous buildings, apparel, riches, or worldly pleasure, the more vexation of mind: and all are but vanitie in comparison of godly felicitie, as Salomon affirmeth of his owne experience.

a Man is not able of his owne power to reforme that is amisse, and to rise vp from sinne, nor to know his imperfection and weaknesse: to doe any thing without the grace of God.

b They both suffer like aduersitie in this world, as touching the corruption of the body, they die both alike.

c God hath appointed that man should bee obedient to godly reason, as to his king: and not to be led with carnal affection.

The iij. Chapter.

1 All things haue their time. 14 The workes of God are perfect, and cause vs to feare him. 17 God shal iudge both the iust and vniust.

1 Euery thing hath a time, yea, all that is vnder the heauen hath his conuenient season.

2 There is a time to be borne, and a time to die: there is a time to plant, and a time to pluche vp the thing that is planted.

3 A time to slay, and a time to make whole: a time to breake downe, and a time to build vp.

4 A time to weepe, and a time to laugh: a time to mourne, and a time to daunce.

5 A time to cast away stones, and a time to gather stones together: a time to embrace, and a time to refraine from embracing.

6 A time to win, and a time to lose: a time to spare, and a time to spend.

7 A time to cut in peces, and a time to sowe together: a time to keepe silence, and a time to speake.

8 A time to loue, and a time to hate: a time of warre, and a time of peace.

9 What hath a man els that doth any thing, but wearinesse and labour?

10 For as touching the trauaile and carefulnes which God hath giuen vnto men, I see that he hath giuen it them to be exercised in it.

11 All things hath he made beautiful in their time, yea, further then this, hee hath planted the world in their hearts, that man may not comprehend the worke that God maketh from the beginning to the end.

12 So I perceiued that in those things there is nothing better for a man then to bee merrie, and to doe well as long as he liueth.

13 For all that a man eateth and drinketh, yea, whatsoeuer a man enioyeth of all his labour, that same is a gift of God.

14 I considered also, that whatsoeuer God doeth, it continueth for euer, and that nothing can be put vnto it, nor taken from it, and that God doeth it, to the intent that men should feare him.

15 The thing that hath bene, is now: and the thing that is, for to come, hath bene afore time: for God requireth again the thing that was past.

16 Moreouer, I sawe vnder the Sunne vngodlinesse in the stead of iudgement, and iniquitie in the stead of righteousnesse.

17 Then thought I in my mind, God shall separate the righteous from the vngodly: and then shall be the time and iudgement of all counsels and workes.

18 I communed with mine owne heart also concerning the children of men, howe God hath chosen them, and yet letteth them appeare as though they were beasts.

19 For it happeneth vnto men, as it goeth vnto beasts, euen one condition vnto them both: as the one dieth, so dieth the other: yea, they haue both one maner of breath: so that in this, a man hath no preeminence aboue a beast, but are all subdued vnto vanitie.

20 They go all vnto one place: for as they be all of dust, so that they all turne vnto dust againe.

21 Who knoweth the spirit of || man that goeth vpward, and the breath of the beast that goeth downe to the earth?

22 Wherefore I perceiue that there is nothing better for a man, then to be ioyfull in his labour, for that is his portion: For who will bring him to see the thing that shall come after him?

The iiij. Chapter.

1 The innocent are oppressed. 4 Mens labours are full of abuse and vanitie. 9 Mans society is necessarie. 13 A yong man poore and wise, is to be preferred before an old king that is a foole,

1 So I turned me, and considered all the violent wrong that is vnder the Sunne: and behold, the teares of such as were oppressed, & there was no man to comfort them, for that would deliuer and defend them from the violence of their oppressours.

2 Whereforе I || iudged those that are dead, to be more happie then those that be aliue:

3 a Yea, him that is yet vnborne, to be better at ease then they both: because hee seeth not the miserable workes that are done vnder the Sun.

4 b Againe, I saw that all trauaile and diligence of labour, that euery man taketh in hand, was done of enuie against his neighbour: This is also a vaine thing, and a vexation of minde.

5 c The foole foldeth his hands together, and eateth vp his owne flesh.

6 One handfull with rest, then both the handes full with labour and trauaile of minde.

7 Moreouer, I turned me, and beholde yet another vanitie vnder the Sunne:

8 There is one man, no more but himselfe alone, hauing neither childe nor brother, yet is there no end of his careful trauaile, his eyes can not be satisfied with riches: neither sayth he not, For whom doe I take such trauaile, and for what pleasure doe I thus consume away my life? This is also a vaine and miserable thing.

9 d Therefore two are better then one, for they may well enioy the profite of their labour:

10 For if one of them fal his companion helpeth him vp againe.

But woe to him that is alone, for if he fall, he hath not another to helpe him vp.

11 Againe, when two sleepe together they are warme: but how can a man be warme alone?

12 One may bee ouercome, but two may make resistance: a three fold cable is not lightly broken.

13 A poore child being wise, is better then an olde king that doteth, || and cannot beware in time to come.

14 Some one commeth out of prison, and is made a king, and another which is borne in the kingdome, commeth vnto pouertie.

15 And I perceiued that all men liuing vnder the Sunne e goe with the second childe, that shall stand vp in the stead of the other.

16 As for the people that haue beene before him, and that come after him, they are innumerable, and they that come after him shall not reioice of him: This is also a vaine thing, and vexation of minde.

17 When thou commest into the house of God, keepe thy foote, and draw nigh, that God which is at hand may heare, that thou giue not the sacrifices of fooles: for they know nought, but to doe euill.

a Although true felicitie is not to be put in any worldly thing: yet God hath appointed all necessarie things to be done in due time, order, and measure.

b God hath appointed that euery man should diligently trauaile & take paines in his vocation, to the ende he would haue him humble and feare God.

c There is no difference betweet a man & a beast as touching the bodie, which both die: but the soule of man liueth immortally, and the body of man riseth vp again by the mightie power of the spirit of God.

d The immortalitie of the soule is not knowen by carnall reason of sence but by the word and spirit of God.

|| Or, of the children of men.

The v. Chapter.

1 Not to speake lightly, chiefly in Gods matters, 9 The couetous can neuer haue enough, a Be not rash in speaking of the Maiestie of God, or in vowing and praying to God.

BE a not hasty with thy mouth, and let not thine heart speak any thing rashly before God, for God is in heauen, & thou vpon earth: therefore let thy words be few.

2 For where much carefulnesse is, there are many dreames: and where many wordes are, there men may heare fooles.

Deu.23.21

3 * If thou make a vowe vnto God, be not slacke to performe it: as for foolish vowes, hee hath no pleasure in them: if thou promise any thing, pay it.

b We ought to vowe those things which tend to the glory of God, and which are in our power to performe.

4 b For better is it that thou make no vowe, then that thou shouldest promise, and not pay.

c In promising & vowing those things which thou art not able to performe. Or by intemperate eating & drinking, or by saying that you sinned not because of infirmitie: but of necessitie, making God the author of sinne.

5 Suffer not thy mouth to cause thy flesh for to c sinne, neither say thou before the Angel, that it is thy ignorance: for then God will be angry at thy voice, & destroy all the worke of thine hands.

d Dreames are not to be credited: but God is to be feared.

6 d And why? whereas are many dreames, and many words, there are also diuers vanities, but feare thou God.

e Meaning, that God will reuenge these things, and therefore we must depend vpon him.

7 If thou seest the poore to be oppressed, and wrongfully dealt withall, & that equitie and right of the law is wrested in the land, maruell not thereat: for he that is e higher then the highest, regardeth, and there be higher then they.

f The decay of husbandry is the decay of the prince.

8 f The increase of the earth vpholdeth all things: yea, the king himselfe is maintained by husbandry.

9 He that loueth money, shall neuer be satisfied with money: and he that loueth riches shall be without the fruit therof: This is also a vaine thing.

f A plague of the couetous man. Iob,20.20.

10 Whereas much riches is, there are many also that spend them away: and what pleasure more hath he that possesseth them, saue that he may looke vpon them with his eyes?

Iob.1.21. 1.tim.6.7.

11 A labouring man sleepeth sweetly, whether it be little or much that he eateth: but the abundance of the rich will not suffer him to sleepe.

g That is to say, without profit.

12 g Yet there is a sore plague which I haue seene vnder the sunne, namely, riches kept to the hurt of him that hath them in possession:

13 For often times they perish with his great misery and trouble: and if he haue a child, it getteth nothing.

14 As he came naked out of his mothers wombe, so goeth he thither againe, and carrieth nothing away with him of all his labour.

15 This is a miserable plague, that he shall go euen as he came: what helpeth it him then that he hath laboured in the winde?

h That is to say, without profit.

16 h All the dayes also of his life hee did eat in the darke with great carefulnesse, sickenesse, and sorow.

17 Therefore me thinketh it a better and a fairer thing a man to eat and drinke, and to be refreshed of all his labour that he taketh vnder the sunne, all the dayes of his life which God giueth him: for this is his portion.

18 For vnto whomsoeuer God giueth riches, goods, and power, he giueth it him to enioy it, to take it for his portion, and to be refreshed of his labour: this is the gift of God.

19 For hee thinketh not much how long hee shall liue, forasmuch as God filleth his heart with gladnesse.

The vj. Chapter.

The miserable estate of him to whom God hath giuen riches, and not the grace to vse them.

THere is yet a plague vnder the sun, and it is a generall thing among men; when God giueth a man riches, goods and honour, so that he wanteth nothing of all that his heart can desire, and yet God giueth him not leaue to enioy the same, but another man spendeth them: This is a vaine thing, and a miserable plague.

a The wicked couetous man by many kinde of offences, wanteth the honour of a Christian mans buriall, either by vnnecessary dying himselfe, or by such other kinde of offence.

2 If a man beget an hundred children, and liue many yeeres, so that his dayes are many in number, and yet cannot enioy his good, & neither be buried, as for him, I say, that vntimely birth is better then he.

3 For he commeth to nought, & departeth his time in darknesse, and his name is forgotten.

4 Moreouer, he seeth not the Sunne, and knoweth not of it: and yet hath he more rest then the other.

b That is, to death, meaning that he is nothing better then the vntimely fruit. ‖ Or, for his mouth.

5 Yea, though he liued two thousand yeres, yet hath he no good life: Come not all to b one place?

6 All the labour that a man taketh, is for him ‖ selfe, and yet his desire is neuer filled after his minde.

c That is, that hee knoweth how to vse his riches well in the ministerment of the wise.

7 For what hath the wise more then the foole? what helpeth it the poore, that he c knoweth to walke with fooles before the liuing?

8 The d cleare sight of the eye is better then that the soule should walke after desires of the lust: Howbeit, this is also a vaine thing, and a disquietnesse of minde.

d Yet better to be content that God hath giuen, then to follow his desire that neuer will be satisfied.

e That is, to God, who will teach him that he is more wise.

9 The thing that hath beene, is named already, and know en that it is euen man himselfe: neither may hee goe to law with him e that is mightier then he.

10 Many things there be that increase vanity, and what hath a man els?

11 For who knoweth what is good for man, liuing in the daies of his vaine life, which is but a shadow: Or who wil tel a man what shal happen after him vnder the sunne?

The vij. Chapter.

Diuers precepts to follow that which is good, and to auoid the contrary.

a We vnwise that this corporall death is the entring in to life euerlasting.

A Good name is more worth then precious ointment: and the a day of death, is better then the day of birth.

Pro.22.1.

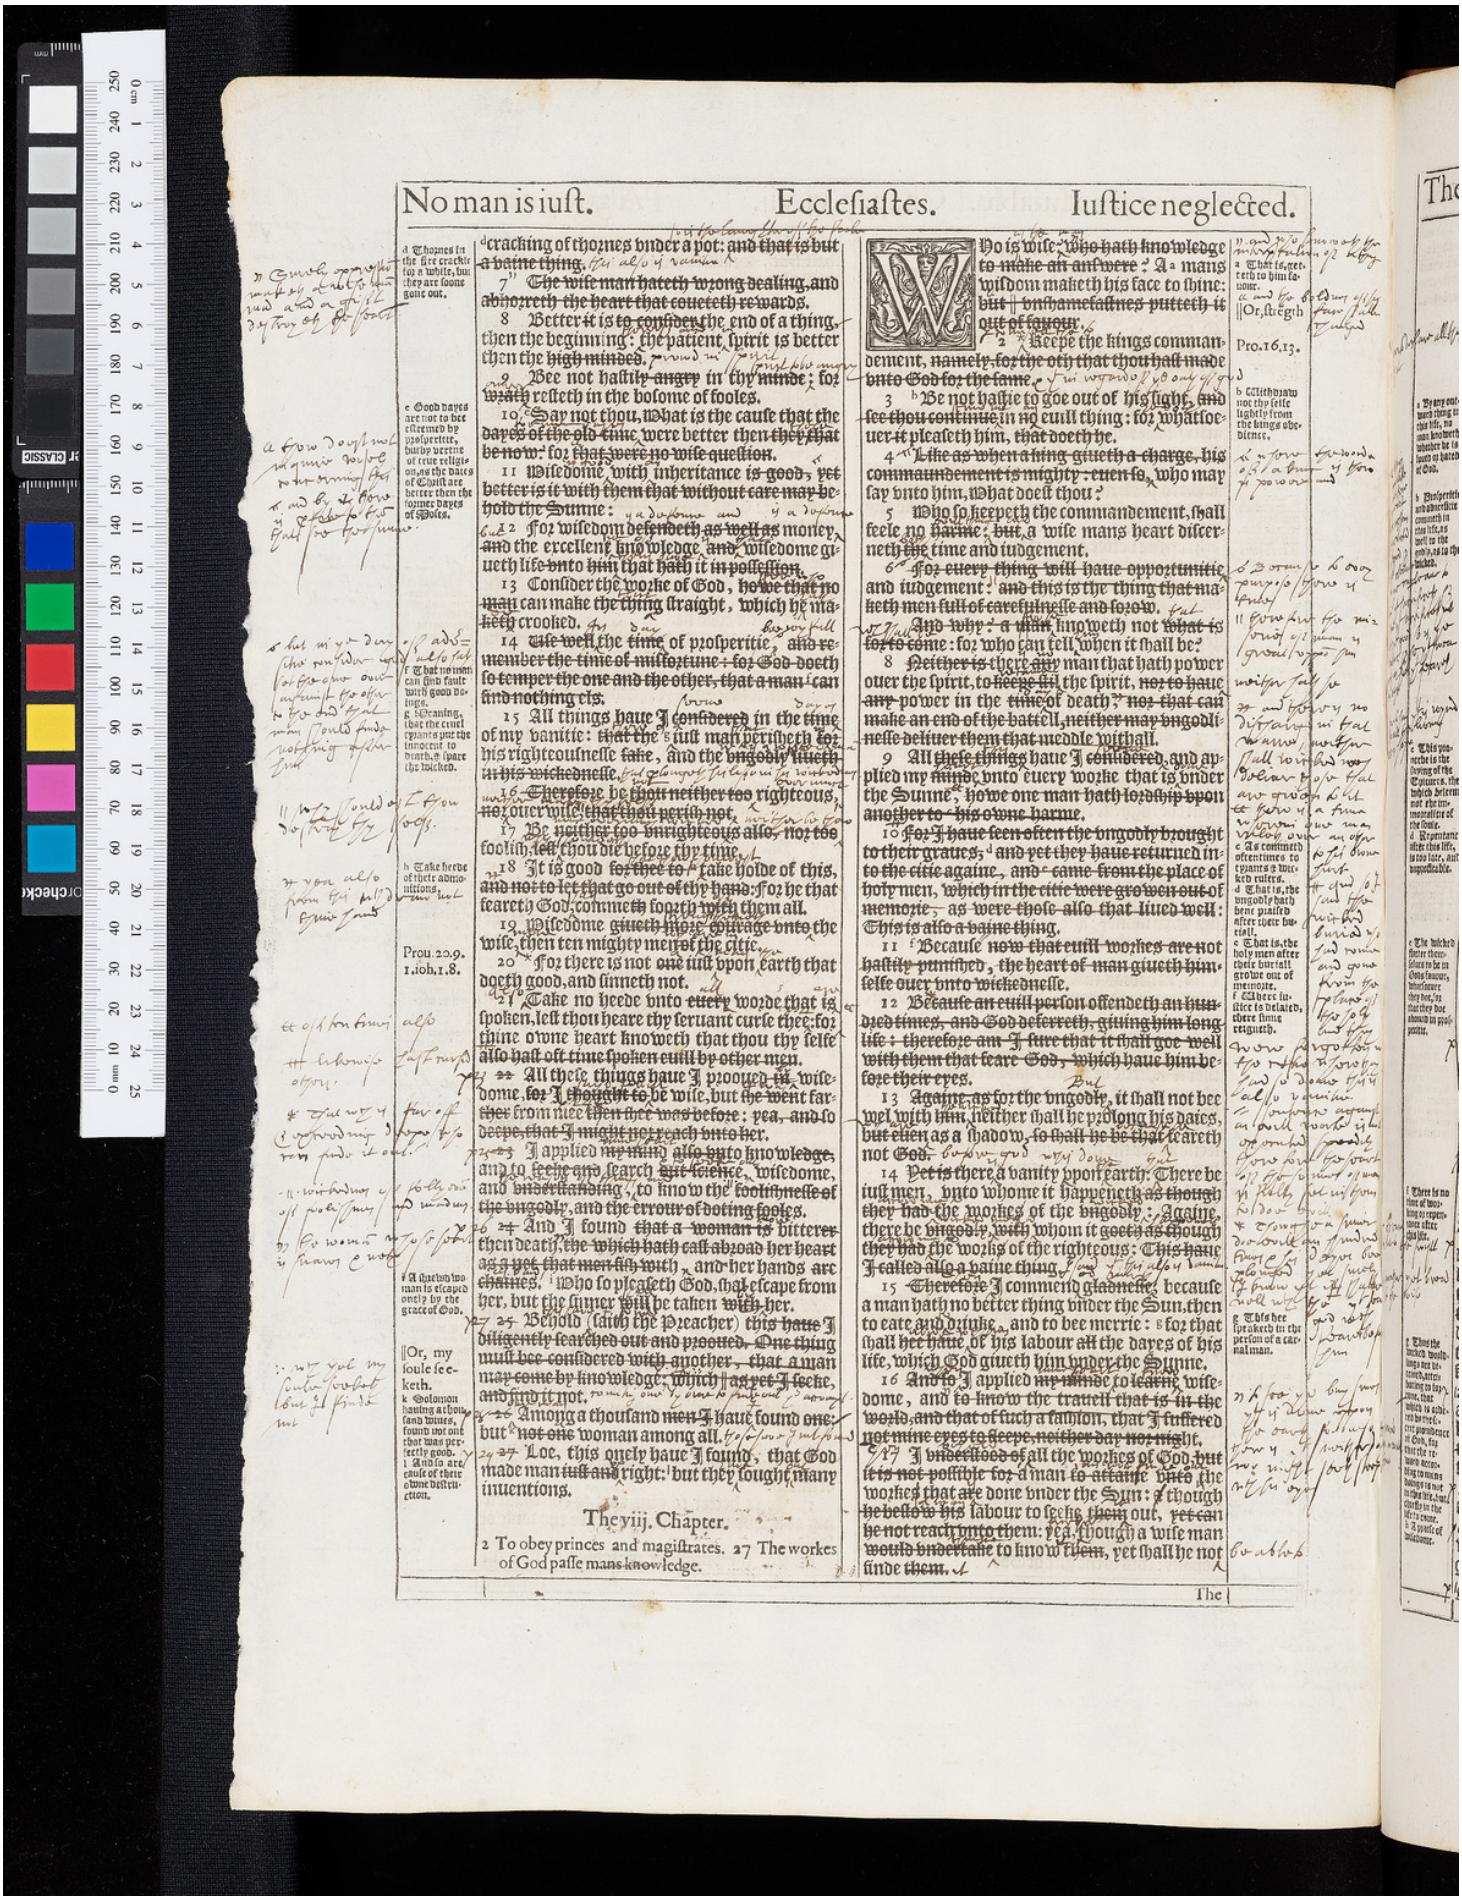
b The house of mourning is more profitable to vs in mind of death, and so to examine and amend our liues.

2 * b It is better to go into an house of mourning, then into a banqueting house: For there is the end of all men, and hee that is liuing, taketh it to heart.

c The heart of a sinner is sooner reformed by an angrie countenance, then by a smiling.

3 c Grieffe is better then to laugh: for when the countenance is heauy, the heart is reformed.

4 The heart of the wise is in the mourning house: but the heart of the foolish is in the house of mirth.



5 It is better to giue care to the chastening of a wise man, then to heare the song of fooles.

6 For the laughing of fooles is like the d cracking of thornes vnder a pot: and that is but a vaine thing.

7 The wise man hateth wrong dealing, and abhorreth the heart that coueteth rewards.

8 Better it is to consider the end of a thing, then the beginning: the patient spirit is better then the high minded.

9 Bee not hastily angry in thy minde; for wrath resteth in the bosome of fooles.

10 Say not thou, What is the cause that the dayes of the old time were better then these? that be now: for that were no wise question.

11 Wisedome with inheritance is good, yet better is it with them that without care may beholde the Sunne:

12 For wisedom defendeth as well as money, and the excellent knowledge and wisedome giueth life vnto him that hath it in possession.

13 Consider the worke of God, how he that no man can make the thing straight, which he maketh crooked.

14 Vse well the time of prosperitie, and remember the time of misfortune: for God doeth so temper the one and the other, that a man can find nothing els.

15 All things haue I considered in the time of my vanitie: that the iust man perisheth for his righteousnesse sake, and the vngodly liueth in his wickednesse.

16 Therefore be thou neither too righteous, nor ouer wise: that thou perish not.

17 Be neither too vnrighteous also, nor too foolish, lest thou die before thy time.

18 It is good for thee to take holde of this, and not to let that go out of thy hand: for he that feareth God, commeth forth with them all.

19 Wisedome giueth more courage vnto the wise, then ten mighty men of the citie.

Prou. 20.9. 1.Iob.1.8.

20 For there is not one iust vpon earth that doeth good, and sinneth not.

21 Take no heede vnto euery worde that is spoken, lest thou heare thy seruant curse thee: for thine owne heart knoweth that thou thy selfe also hast oft time spoken euill by other men.

22 All these thinges haue I proued in wisedome. for I thought to be wise, but the went farther from me then it was before: yea, and so deepe, that I might not reach vnto her.

23 I applied my mind also vnto knowledge, and to seeke and search out science, wisedome, and vnderstanding, to know the foolishnesse of the vngodly, and the errour of doting fooles.

24 And I found that a woman is bitterer then death, the which hath cast abroad her heart as a net, that men fish with, and her hands are chaines. Who so pleaseth God, shall escape from her, but the sinner shall be taken with her.

25 Behold (saith the Preacher) this haue I diligently searched out and proued. One thing must bee considered with another, that a man may come by knowledge, which as yet I seeke, and find it not.

26 Among a thousand men I haue found one: but not one woman among all.

27 Loe, this onely haue I found, that God made man iust and right: but they sought many inuentions.

The viij. Chapter.

2 To obey princes and magistrates. 27 The workes of God passe mans knowledge.

WHo is wise? who hath knowledge to make an answere? A mans wisdom maketh his face to shine: but vnshamefastnes putteth it out of fauour.

2 Keepe the kings commandement, namely, for the oth that thou hast made vnto God for the same.

3 Be not hastie to goe out of his sight, and see thou continue in no euill thing: for whatsoeuer it pleaseth him, that doeth he.

4 Like as when a king giueth a charge, his commaundement is mighty: euen so, who may say vnto him, What doest thou?

5 Who so keepeth the commandement, shall feele no harme: but a wise mans heart discerneth the time and iudgement.

6 For euery thing will haue opportunitie and iudgement: and this is the thing that maketh men full of carefulnesse and sorow.

7 And why? a man knoweth not what is for to come: for who can tell, when it shall be?

8 Neither is there any man that hath power ouer the spirit, to keepe in the spirit, neither hath he any power in the time of death: neither may vngodlinesse deliuer them that meddle withall.

9 All these things haue I considered, and applied my minde vnto euery worke that is vnder the Sunne, how one man hath lordship vpon another to his owne harme.

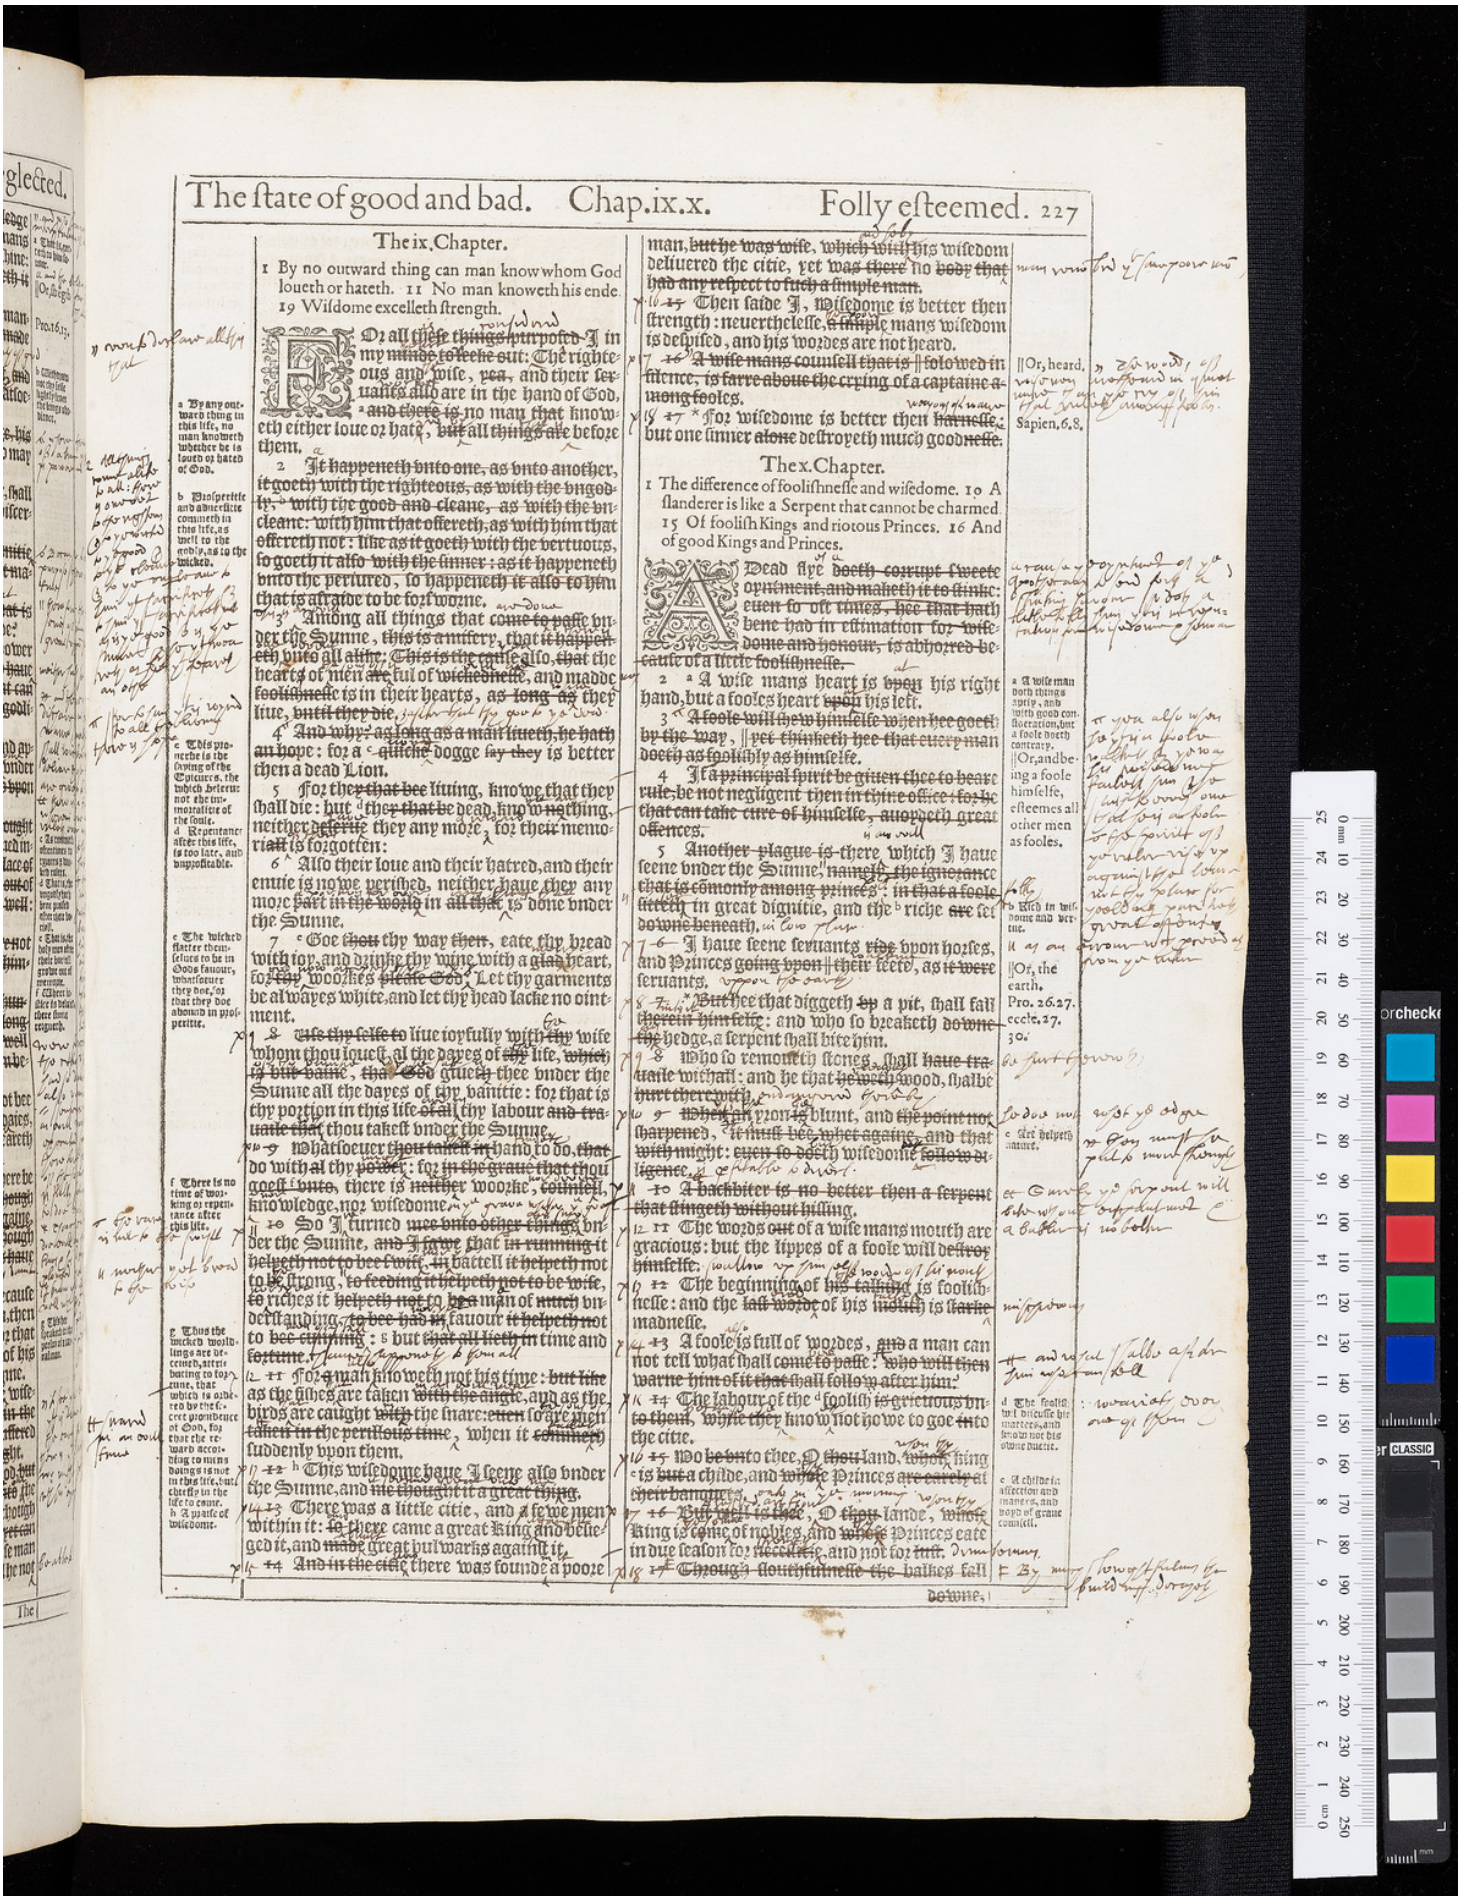
10 For I haue seen often the vngodly brought to their graues, and yet they haue returned into the citie againe, and came from the place of holy men, which in the citie were growen out of memorie, as were those also that liued well: This is also a vaine thing.

11 Because now that euill workes are not hastily punished, the heart of man giueth him selfe ouer vnto wickednesse.

12 Because an euill person offendeth an hundred times, and God deferreth, giuing him long life: therefore am I sure that it shall goe well with them that feare God, which haue him before their eyes.

13 Againe, as for the vngodly, it shall not bee wel with him, neither shall he prolong his daies, but euen as a shadow, so shall he be that feareth not God.

14 Yet is there a vanity vpon earth. There be iust men, vnto whome it happeneth as though they had the workes of the vngodly: Againe, there be vngodly, with whom it goeth as though they had the works of the righteous: This haue I called also a vaine thing.



15 Therefore I commend gladnesse, because a man hath no better thing vnder the Sun, then to eate and drinke, and to bee merrie: for that shall bee haue of his labour all the dayes of his life, which God giueth him vnder the Sunne.

16 And to I applied my minde to learne wisedome, and to know the trauell that is in the world, and that of such a fashion, that I suffered not mine eyes to sleepe, neither day nor night.

17 I vnderstood of all the workes of God, but it is not possible for a man to attaine vnto the workes that are done vnder the Sun: For though he bestow his labour to seeke them out, yet can he not reach vnto them: yea, though a wise man would vnderfake to know them, yet shall he not finde them.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Pp5r

The ix. Chapter.

1 By no outward thing can man know whom God loueth or hateth. 11 No man knoweth his ende. 19 Wisdome excelleth strength.

FOr all these things purposed I in my minde to search out: The righteous and wise, yea, and their seruants also are in the hand of God, a and there is no man that knoweth either loue or hate; but all things are before them.

2 It happeneth vnto one, as vnto another, it goeth with the righteous, as with the vngodly, with the good and cleane, as with the vncleane: with him that offereth, as with him that offereth not: like as it goeth with the vertuous, so goeth it also with the sinner: as it happeneth vnto the periured, so happeneth it also to him that is afraide to be forsworne.

3 Among all things that come to passe vnder the Sunne, this is a miserie, that it happeneth vnto all alike: This is the cause also, that the hearts of men are ful of wickednesse, and madde foolishnesse is in their hearts, as long as they liue, vntil they die.

4 And why? as long as a man liueth, he hath an hope: for a c quicke dogge say they is better then a dead Lion.

5 For they that bee liuing, know that they shall die: but d they that be dead, know nothing, neither deserue they any more, for their memorial is forgotten:

6 Also their loue and their hatred, and their enuie is now perished, neither haue they any more part in the world in all that is done vnder the Sunne.

7 e Goe thou thy way then, eate thy bread with ioy, and drinke thy wine with a glad heart, for thy workes please God. Let thy garments be alwayes white, and let thy head lacke no ointment.

8 Liue thy selfe to liue ioyfully with thy wife whom thou louest, al the dayes of thy life, which is vnto thee, that God giueth thee vnder the Sunne all the dayes of thy vanitie: for that is thy portion in this life of all thy labour and trauaile that thou takest vnder the Sunne.

9 Whatsoeuer thou takest in hand to do, that do with al thy power: for in the graue that thou goest vnto, there is neither worke, counsell, knowledge, nor wisedome.

10 So I turned mee vnto other things vnder the Sunne, and I sawe that in running it helpeth not to bee swift, in battell it helpeth not to be strong, to feeding it helpeth not to be wise, to riches it helpeth not to bee a man of much vnderstanding, to bee had in fauour it helpeth not to bee skilfull: but that all lieth in time and fortune.

11 For a man knoweth not his time: but like as the fishes are taken with the angle, and as the birds are caught with the snare: euen so are men taken in the perilous time, when it commeth suddenly vpon them.

12 h This wisedome haue I seene also vnder the Sunne, and me thought it a great thing.

13 There was a little citie, and a few men within it: to there came a great King and besieged it, and made great bulwarks against it.

14 And in the citie there was founde a poore man, but he was wise, which with his wisedom deliuered the citie, yet was there no body that had any respect to such a simple man.

15 Then saide I, Wisedome is better then strength: neuertheles, a simple mans wisedom is despised, and his wordes are not heard.

16 A wise mans counsell that is ‖ followed in silence, is farre aboue the crying of a captaine among fooles.

17 For wisedome is better then harnesse: but one sinner alone destroyeth much good. Sapien. 6.8.

The x. Chapter.

1 The difference of foolishnesse and wisedome. 10 A slanderer is like a Serpent that cannot be charmed. 15 Of foolish Kings and riotous Princes. 16 And of good Kings and Princes.

DEad flye doeth corrupt sweete ointment, and maketh it to stinke: euen so doth a little foolishnesse him that hath bene had in estimation for wisedome and honour, is abhorred because of a little foolishnesse.

2 a A wise mans heart is vpon his right hand, but a fooles heart vpon his left.

3 A foole will shew himselfe when hee goeth by the way, ‖ yet thinketh hee that euery man doeth as foolishly as himselfe.

4 If a principal spirit be risen vp against thee, leaue not thy place: for that can take away great offences.

5 Another plague is there which I haue seene vnder the Sunne, namely, the ignorance that is commonly among princes: in that a foole setteth in great dignitie, and the b riche are set downe beneath.

6 I haue seene seruants ride vpon horses, and Princes going vpon ‖ their feete, as it were seruants.

7 But hee that diggeth vp a pit, shall fall therein himselfe: and who so breaketh downe the hedge, a serpent shall bite him.

8 Who so remoueth stones, shall haue trauaile withall: and he that heweth wood, shalbe hurt therewith.

9 If the yron is blunt, and the edge not harpened, it must bee whet againe, and that with might: euen so doeth wisedome follow diligence.

10 A backbiter is no better then a serpent that stingeth without hissing.

11 The words out of a wise mans mouth are gracious: but the lippes of a foole will destroy himselfe.

12 The beginning of his talking is foolishnesse: and the last words of his mouth is flatte madnesse.

13 A foole is full of wordes, and a man can not tell what shall come to passe: who will then warne him of it that shall follow after him?

14 The labour of the c foolish is grieuous vnto them, while they know not how we to goe into the citie.

15 Woe be vnto thee, O thou land, when thy king is but a childe, and whose Princes are early at their banquets.

16 But hail! is to thee, O thou land, when thy King is come of nobles, and whose Princes eate in due season for necessitie, and not for lust.

17 Through slouthfulnesse the bailes fall downe, a By any outward thing in this life, no man knoweth whether he is loued or hated of God.

b Prosperitie and aduersitie commeth in this life, as well to the godly, as to the wicked.

c This prouerbe is the saying of the Epicures, the which beleeue not the immortalitie of the soule.

d Repentance after this life, is too late, and impossible.

e The wicked flatter themselues to be in Gods fauour, vnfeinedly they doe, for that they doe abound in prosperitie.

f There is no time of working or repentance after this life.

g This the wicked worldlings are deceiued, after hoping to fortune, that which is ordered by their secret gouernance of God, for that the reward accordeth to mens doings is not in this life, but cheefly in the life to come.

h A parte of wisedome.

A wise man doth things aduisedly, and with good consideration, but a foole doeth contrary.

‖ Or, and being a foole himselfe, esteemes all other men as fooles.

b Riche in wisedome and vertue.

20 Curse not the king no euil in thy thought, and speake no yll of the rich in thy priuie chamber: for a birde of the aire shall beꝛay thy voyce, and with her feathers shall she bewꝛay thy wordes.

The xj. Chapter.

1 To bee liberall to the poore. 4 Not to doubt of Gods prouidence. 8 All worldly prosperitie is but vanitie. 9 God will iudge all.

CAst thy bread vpon wet faces, and so shalt thou find it after many dayes.

2 Giue part seuen dayes, and also vpon the eight: for thou knowest not what misery shall come vpon earth.

3 When the clouds are full, they powꝛe out raine vpon the earth. And when the tree falleth, whether it be toward the South oꝛ Nꝛoth, in what place soeuer it fall, there it lieth.

4 Hee that regardeth the winde, shall not sowe: and he that hath respect vnto the clouds, shall not reape.

5 Now like as thou knowest not the way of the spirit, noꝛ howe the bones doe gꝛoꝛe in the wombe of her that is with childe: euen so thou knowest not the woꝛkes of God which is the woꝛkemaster of all.

6 Cease not thou therefoꝛe with thy handes to sowe thy seede, whether it bee in the mꝛning oꝛ in the euening: for thou knowest not whether this oꝛ that shall pꝛosper, and if they both take, it is the better.

7 The light is sweet, and a pleasant thing is it for the eyes to looke vpon the Sunne.

8 If a man liue many yeeres, and be glad in them all, let him remember the dayes of darkenesse which shall bee many, and that followeth: All things shall be vanitie.

9 Bee glad then (O thou yong man) in thy youth, and let thy heart bee merry in thy yong dayes, follow the wayes of thine owne heart, and the lust of thine eyes, but be thou sure that God shall bring thee into iudgement for all these things.

The xij. Chapter.

2 To thinke on God in youth, and not to deferre till age. 7 The soule returneth to God. 12 Wisedome is the gift of God, and consisteth in fearing him, and keeping his Commandements.

PVt away displeasure out of thine heart, and remoue euill from thy body: for childhoode and youth is but vanitie.

1 Remember thy maker the soonest in thy youth, oꝛ euer the dayes of aduersitie come, and oꝛ the yeres dꝛaw nigh when thou shalt say, I haue no pleasure in them:

2 Before the Sunne, the Light, the Moone, and starres be darkened, and oꝛ the clouds turne againe after the raine:

3 When the keepers of the house shall tremble, and when the strong men shall bowe themselues, when the grinders stand still because they be fewe, and when the light of the windowes shall ware dimme:

4 When the doores of the streets shall bee shut, and when the voyce of the milner shall bee laid downe, when men shall rise vp at the voyce of the bird, and when all the daughters of musicke shalbe bꝛought low:

5 When men shall feare in high places, and be afraid in the streets, when the Almond tree shal flourish and be laden with the Grashopper, and when all lust shall passe: because man goeth to his long home, and the mourners goe about the streetes:

6 Oꝛ euer the siluer lace bee taken away, and oꝛ the golden web be bꝛoken: Oꝛ the pot bee bꝛoken at the well, and the wheele bꝛoken vpon the cesterne.

7 Then shall the dust be turned againe vnto earth from whence it came, and the spirit shall returne vnto God who gaue it.

8 All is but vanitie (saith the Preacher) all is but plaine vanitie.

9 The Preacher was yet wise, and taught the people knowledge, hee gaue good heed, sought out the ground, and set forth many Parables: His diligence was to finde out acceptable wordes, right Scripture, and the wordes of trueth.

11 For the wordes of the wise are like pricks and nailes that goe thꝛowe, of the authours of gatherings, which are giuen of one Shepheard.

12 Therefoꝛe beware my sonne of that doctrine that is beside this: for to make many bookes, it is an endelesse woꝛke: and too much study wearieth the body.

13 Let vs heare the conclusion of all things: Feare God, and keepe his Commandements: for that toucheth all men. For God shall iudge all woꝛkes and secret things, whether they bee good oꝛ euill.

The ende of the booke of the Preacher, otherwise called Ecclesiastes.

The Ballet of Ballets of Solomon, called in Latine, Canticum Canticorum.

The first Chapter.

1 The familiar talke and mysticall communication of the Spirituall loue betweene Iesus Christ and his Church. 6 The domesticall enemies that persecute the Church.

a The Church desireth the peace of Christ.

OThat hee would kisse mee with the kisses of his mouth: for thy loue is more pleasant then wine, and that because of the good and pleasant sauour of thy most precious bauimes.

b Christs mercy is set forth by preaching.

b Thy Name is a sweet smelling ointment when it is shed foorth, therefore do the maydens loue thee.

c The maydens that is, they that are pure in heart.

Draw thou me vnto thee, wee will runne after thee. The King hath brought mee into his priuie chambers: we will be glad and reioyce in thee, we will make more of thy loue, then of wine: they that be righteous loue thee.

d Blacke, through the spots of sinne, and persecution.

e Faire, through faith in the blood of Christ.

I am blacke (O ye daughters of Hierusalem) but yet faire and well fauoured, like as the tents of the Cedarenes, and as the hangings of Solomon.

Maruaile not at mee, that I am so blacke, for why? the Sunne hath lookt vpon mee: my mothers children haue euill will at mee: they made mee the keeper of the vineyards, but mine owne vineyard haue I not kept.

Tell me, O thou, whom my soule loueth, where thou feedest the sheepe, where thou makest them rest at the noone day: for why shall I be like him that goeth wrong about the flocks of thy companions?

f After the doctrine of the Apostles.

If thou know not thy selfe (O thou faire among women) then goe thy way foorth after the footsteps of the sheepe, and feede thy goates beside the sheepheards tents.

g Belong as the Church followeth Christ, the shall not erre from the true faith of saluation.

Vnto the hoste of Pharaos charets haue I compared thee, O my loue.

Thy cheeks and thy neck is beautifull as the Turtles, and hanged with spangs and goodly iewels, a neckband of gold will we make thee, with siluer buttons.

When the King sitteth at the table, hee shall smell my Nardus: a bundle of Myrrhe is my loue vnto me, he will lie betwirt my breastes: a cluster of Camphire in the vineyards of Engaddi is my loue vnto me.

Oh how faire art thou my loue, Oh how faire art thou: thou hast doues eyes. O how faire art thou my beloued, how well fauoured thou art: yea also our bed is greene.

Our bed is decht with flowres, the seelings of our house are of Cedar tree, and our cradle toyns of Cypresse.

The ij. Chapter.

3 The Church desireth to rest vnder the shadow of Christ. 8 She heareth his voyce. 14 She is compared to the doue. 15 And the enemies to the foxes.

a Christ among his enemies.

AI am the Rose of the field, and Lilie of the valleyes.

As the Lilie among the thornes: so is my loue among the daughters.

b The loue of the Church toward Christ.

As the apple tree among the trees of the wood: so is my beloued among the sonnes.

My delight is to sit vnder the shadow, for his fruit is sweet vnto my throte.

c His fruit, that is, his word.

Hee bringeth me into his owne cellar, his banner spred ouer me, which is his loue.

Set about me clips of wine, comfort mee with apples, for I am sicke of loue.

His left hand lieth vnder my head, and his right hand shall imbrace me.

d Christ chargeth the rulers of the Church as it were by enchesh, that they trouble not the quietnesse thereof.

I charge you (O ye daughters of Hierusalem) by the Roes and Hindes of the field, that ye wake not vp my loue, nor touch her, till she be content her selfe.

e His kingdome was hidden vnder our flesh.

f We cannot know him in this life perfectly.

Hee thinne I heare the voyce of my beloued: loe, there commeth he hopping vpon the mountaines, and leaping ouer the little hilles.

My beloued is like a Roe or a young Hart: beholde, he standeth behinde our wall, hee looketh in at the window, and peepeth thorow the grate.

My beloued answered, and said vnto me, O stand vp, my loue, my beautifull, and goe to thine owne: for loe, the winter is now past, the raine is away and gone.

g That is, sin and infidelitie is put away by Christ.

h Good workes.

i The voyce of the holy Ghost.

The flowres are come vp in the field, the time of the birds singing is come, and the voyce of the turtle doue is heard in our land.

The figge tree bringeth foorth her figges, and the vines beare blossomes, and haue a good smell.

O stande vp then, and come, my loue, my beautifull, and come, I say, O my Doue, out of the caues of the rockes, out of the holes of the wall, O let mee see thy countenance, and heare thy voyce: for sweete is thy voyce, and faire is thy face.

k Gyuynesse the heretiques at the beginning, when they preach false doctrine.

Get vs the Foxes, yea the little Foxes that hurt the vines: for our vines beare blossomes.

My loue is mine, and I am his, which feedeth among the Lilies vntil the day breake, and till the shadowes be gone.

l The Church prayeth Christ to be a present helpe allwayes in time of need.

Come againe, O my beloued, and bee like a Roe or a young Hart vpon the wide mountaines.

fol. Pp6v

The iij. Chapter.

1 The Church desired to bee ioyned inseparably to Christ her husband. 6 Her deliuerance out of the wildernesse.

a Christ is not found by carnall reason, but by the Scripture.

b We must continue in prayer, though we feele no comfort at the first.

BY night in my bed I sought him whom my soule loueth: yea, diligently sought I him, but I found him not.

2 I will get vp, thought I, and goe about the city, in the waies and in all the streets will I seeke him whom my soule loueth: but when I sought him, I found him not.

3 The watchmen also that goe about the citie, found mee, to whom I said, Saw yee not him whom my soule loueth?

4 So when I was a little past them, I found him whom my soule loueth, I haue gotten hold vpon him, and will not let him goe, vntil I bring him into my mothers house, and into her chamber that bare me.

c By this is vnderstood the children of Israel, which in the wildernesse did followe Christ.

5 I charge you, O ye daughters of Hierusalem, by the Roes and Hindes of the field, that ye wake not vp my loue, nor touch her, till shee be content her selfe.

6 Who is this that commeth vp c out of the wildernesse like vapours of smoke, as it were a smell of Myrrhe, Frankincense, and all pouder of the Apotecarie?

d By Solomons bedstead is vnderstood the Temple of Solomon, the which is defended by the sword, that is, by the word.

7 Behold, about Solomons bedstead there stand threescore valiant, of the most mightie in Israel: they holde swords euery one, and are expert in warre.

8 Euery man also hath his sword vpon his thigh, because of feare in the night.

9 King Solomon had made himselfe a palace of the wood of Libanus, the pillars are of siluer, the couering of golde, the seate of purple, the ground is pleasantly paued with loue for the daughters of Hierusalem.

|| Some reade, the pauement of gold, the couering of purple.

10 Goe forth (O ye daughters of Sion) and beholde King Solomon in the crowne wherewith his mother crowned him in the day of his marriage, and in the day of the gladnesse of his heart.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 The praises of the Church. 7 Shee is without blemish in his sight. 9 The loue of Christ toward her.

a Christ prayseth his Church wherein he hath great delight.

b A simple faith, and sincere.

c The fruits of a true faith.

d By the teeth is signified faith, by the which we are all made the seames of God equally.

e By the necke is signified the Preachers.

f The two breasts signifie the two Testaments.

BEhold a faire art thou, my loue, behold a faire art thou: thou hast b Doues eyes, beside that which lieth hid within: thy hairie locks are like the woolle of a flocke of Goates that be vpon mount Gilead.

2 d Thy teeth are like a flocke of sheepe of the same bignesse, which went vp from the washing place, where euery one beareth two twinnes, and not one vntruitfull among them.

3 Thy lips are like a Rose coloured ryband, thy words are louely, thy cheeke are like a piece of a Pomegranate within thine haires.

4 Thy e neck is like the towre of Dauid, builded with costly stones lying out on the sides, whereupon there hang a thousand shields, yea all the weapons of the Giants.

5 f Thy two breasts are like two twinnes of yong Roes, which feed among Roses.

6 O that I might goe to the mountaine of Myrrhe, and to the hill of Frankincense, til the day breake, and till the shadowes be past away.

7 Thou art all faire, (O my loue) and no spot is there in thee.

8 Come to me from Libanus (O my spouse) come to mee from Libanus: looke from the top of Amana, from the top of Sanir and Hermon, from the Lions dennes, and from the mountaines of the Leopards.

9 Thou hast with loue bewitched my heart, O my sister, my spouse, thou hast bewitched my heart with one of thine eyes, & with one chaine of thy necke.

10 O howe faire are thy breastes, my sister, my spouse! Thy breastes are more pleasant then wine, and the smell of thine ointments passeth all spices.

11 g Thy lippes, O my spouse, drop as the honie combe, yea milke and hony is vnder thy tongue, and the smel of thy garments is like the smell of Libanus.

g The preaching of the Gospel himgeth sweetly much consolation and practise.

12 h A garden well locked is my sister, my spouse: a garden well locked, and a seale well.

h The Church is defended by Christ.

13 The fruites that are planted in thee, are very like a Paradise of Pomegrangtes with sweete fruits, as Camphire, Nardus, and Saffron, Calamus, Cynamom, with all sweet smelling trees, Myrrhe, Aloes, and al the best spices, a well of gardens, a wel of liuing waters which runne downe from Libanus.

14 Vp thou North wind, come thou South-winde, and blow vpon my garden, that the smel thereof may be carried on euery side: yea, that my beloued may come into his garden, and eate of the sweet fruits that grow therein.

The v. Chapter.

1 Christ calleth his Church to the participation of all his treasures. 2 She heareth his voyce. 6 She confesseth her nakednesse. 10 She praiseth Christ her husband.

a The garden signifieth the Church of God, in the which Christ bestoweth his singular benefits.

I Am a come into my garden, O my sister, my spouse, I haue gathered my Myrrhe with my spice: I haue eaten honie with my honie combe, I haue drunken my wine with milke: Eate, O yee friendes, drinke, and be merry, O yee beloued.

2 I am asleepe, but my heart is waking: I heare the voyce of my beloued when hee knocketh, saying, Open to me, O my sister my loue, my doue, my darling: for my head is full of dewe, and the locks of my haire are full of the night droppes.

3 I haue put off my coate, how can I doe it on againe? I haue washed my feete, how shall I file them againe?

4 My loue put in his hande at the hole, and my heart was moued within me.

5 I rose vp to open vnto my beloued, and my hands dropped with Myrrhe, & the Myrrhe ranne downe my fingers vpon the locke.

6 I opened vnto my beloued, but he was departed and gone his way: Now when he spake, my heart was gone: b I sought him, but I could not finde him: I cried vpon him, neuertheles he gaue me no answere.

b Christ doth leaue his for a time, for that he would stirre vp in them a greater desire of him.

7 So the watchmen that went about the citie, found me, smote me, and wounded me: yea they that kept the walles, tooke away my heuerchiefe from me.

8 I charge you therefore, O ye daughters of Hierusalem, if ye find my beloued, that ye tell him how that I am sicke for loue.

9 What manner of man is thy loue aboue other louers, O thou fairest among women? what can thy loue doe more then other louers, that thou chargest vs so straightly?

10 As for my loue, he is white and red colour red, a goodly person among ten thousand.

11 His head is as the most fine gold, the locks of his haire are bushed, and blacke as a Crowe.

12 His eyes are as the eyes of Doues by the water brookes, as though they were washed with milke, ‖ and are set like pearles in golde.

13 His cheekes are like a garden bed wherein the Apothecaries plant all manner of sweete things.

14 His lips are like Lilies that droppe sweet smelling Myrrhe: his handes are like golde rings, hauing enclosed the precious stone of Tharsis.

15 His body is as the pure Iuorie, decht ouer with Saphires; his legges are as the pillars of Marble set vpon sockets of gold.

16 His face is as Libanus, and as the beauty of the Cedar trees.

17 The words of his mouth are sweet, yea he is altogether louely: Such a one is my loue, O yee daughters of Hierusalem, such a one is my loue.

The vj. Chapter.

3 The Church assureth her selfe of the loue of Christ, 4 The praise of the Church. 8 Shee is but one and vndefiled.

WHither is thy loue gone then, O thou fairest among women? whither is thy loue departed, and wee will seeke him with thee?

2 My loue is gone downe into his garden vnto the sweet smelling beds, that hee may refresh himselfe in the garden and gather Lilies.

3 My loue is mine, and I am his, which feedeth among the Lilies.

4 Thou art beautifull, O my loue, as is the place Thirza, thou art faire as Hierusalem, fearefull as an armie of men with their banners.

5 Turne away thine eyes from me, for they ‖ haue set me on fire; thy hairie locks are like a flocke of Goates shone vpon the mount of Gilead.

6 Thy teeth are like a flocke of shone sheepe, which goe out of the washing place, whereof euery one beareth twinnes, and not one vntruitfull among them.

7 Thy cheekes are like a piece of a pomegranate within thy locks of haire.

8 There are threescore Queens, fourescore wiues, and damosels without number.

9 One is my doue, one is my darling, thee is the only beloued of her mother, and deare vnto her that bare her: when the daughters sawe her, they sayd shee was blessed, yea the queenes and wiues praised her.

10 What is he this that looketh forth as the morning, faire as the moon, cleare as the sunne, and fearefull as an armie of men with their banners?

11 I went downe into the nut garden, to see what grewe by the brookes, and to loone if the vine yard flourished, or if the Pomegranates were not forth.

12 Ere we not that my soule had made mee the chariot of the people that be vnder tribute.

13 Turne againe, turne againe, O thou perfect one, turne againe, turne againe, and wee will looke vpon thee: What will ye see in the Sulamite? Shee is like men of warre singing in a company.

The vij. Chapter.

1 The beautie of the Church in all her members, 10 She is assured of Christs loue towards her.

HOw pleasant are thy treadings with thy shoes, thou prince daughter? the ioints of thy thighes are like a faire iewell, which is wrought by a cunning workemaster.

2 Thy nauill is like a round goblet, which is neuer without drinke, Thy womb is like a heape of wheate that is set about with Lilies.

3 4 Thy two breasts are like two twinnes of young Roes.

5 Thy neck is as it were a tower of Iuorie: thine eyes also are like the water pooles that are in Hesbon, beside the port of Bathrabbim: thy nose is like the tower of Libanus, which looketh toward Damascus.

5 6 Thy head that standeth vpon thee is like Carmel: and the haire of thy head is like purple, and like a king dwelling among many water conduites.

6 7 O how faire and louely art thou my darling in pleasures!

7 8 Thy stature is like a Palme tree, and thy breasts like the grapes.

8 I sayde, I will clime vp into the Palme tree, and take hold of his high branches.

Thy breasts also shall be as the wine clusters, the smell of thy nosthrils like as the smell of apples.

9 11 And the roofe of thy mouth like the best wine, which is meete for my best beloued, pleasant for his lips, and for his teeth to chawe.

10 12 I am my beloueds, and hee shall returne him vnto me.

11 13 O come on, my loue, wee will goe forth into the fielde, and take our lodging in the villages.

12 14 In the morning will we go see the vineyard, wee will see if the vine be flowne forth, if the grapes be growen, and if the Pomegranats be heere out.

15 There will I giue thee my breastes: the Mandragoras giue their sweet smell, and beside our doores are all manner of pleasant fruites both newe and old, which I haue kept for thee, O my beloued.

The viij. Chapter.

1 The Church wil be taught by Christ. 3 She is vpholden by him. 6 The vehement loue wherwith Christ loueth her. 11 Shee is the vine that bringeth foorth fruit of the spirituall Solomō, which is Iesus Christ.

O That I might find thee without, and kisse thee, whom I loue as my brother which sucht my mothers breasts, and that thou shalt not be despised.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Qq1v

2 I will leade thee, and bring thee into my mothers house, that thou mightest teach me, & that I might giue thee drink of the spiced wine, and of the sweete sappe of my Pomegranates.

b His gracious fauour shall preserue me from desperation in aduersitie, and from presumption in prosperitie.

3 His left hand shall be vnder my head, and his right hand shall embrace me.

4 I charge you, O ye daughters of Hierusalem, that ye wake not vp my loue, nor touch her, till she be content her selfe.

5 (What is hee this that commeth vp from the wildernesse, and leaneth vpon her loue?) I waked thee vp among the apple trees where thy mother conceiued thee, where thy mother Hay brought thee into the world.

c The Church declareth to be toyned vnto Christ by the seale of the holy Ghost.

6 O set me as a seale vpon thine heart, and as a seale vpon thine arme: for loue is mightie as the death, and iealousie as the hell.

Her coles are coles of fire, and a verie vehement flame of the Lord, so that many waters are not able to quench loue, neither may the streames drowne it: yea if a man would giue al the good of his house for loue, he should count it nothing.

8 d Our sister is but yong, & hath no brests: what shall we doe for our sister, when she shall be spoken for?

9 e If she be a wall, wee shall builde a siluer bulwarke thereupon: if she be a doore, wee shall fasten her with boards of Cedar trees.

10 I am a wall, and my breasts like towres, then was I as one that hath found fauour in his sight.

11 Solomon hath a vineyarde at Baalhamon, and his vineyarde deliuered he vnto the keepers, that euery one for the fruite thereof should giue him a thousand pieces of siluer.

12 My vineyarde which is mine, is in my sight: thou (O Solomon) must haue a f thousand, and the keepers two hundred, which keepe the fruite.

13 Thou that dwellest in the gardens, O let me heare thy voyce, that my companions may hearken to thy fame.

14 O get thee away, my loue, and be as a Roe or a yong Hart vpon the sweete smelling mountaines.

d The Iewes Church speaketh thus of the Gentiles, the which want the two testaments.

e The Apostles preach to them that are called inwardly of God to saluation.

f By this thousand is signified the greatest profit, which is life euerlasting, which is obtained by the grace of God, and not by our merites.

The end of the Ballet of Ballets of Solomon, called in Latine, Canticum Canticorum.

The booke of the Prophet Esay.

The first Chapter.

2 The Prophet accuseth the sinnes of the people: namely, ingratefulnes, stubburnesse, 11 faithlesse seruice of God, 24 and sheweth Gods terrible iudgement against them, vnlesse they repent.

a A reuelation or prophesie.

THe a vision of Esay the sonne of Amos, which he saw vpon Iuda and Hierusalem, in the dayes of Vzzia and Ioatham, Ahaz, and ‖ Ezekia, kings of Iuda.

‖ Or, Iehezekia.

2 Heare, O heauens, and hearken, O earth: for the Lorde hath spoken, I haue nourished & brought vp children, and they haue done vnfaithfully against me.

3 The ore hath knowen his owner, and the asse his masters crib: but Israel hath not known, my people hath giuen no heede.

4 Ah sinnefull nation, a people laden with iniquitie, a seed of the wicked, corrupt children: they haue forsaken the Lorde, they haue prouoked the holy one of Israel vnto anger, they are gone backe ward.

5 Why should ye be stricken any more? for ye are euer falling away: euery head is diseased, and euery heart heauie.

6 From the sole of the foote vnto the head, there is nothing sound in it, but wounds, blains, and putrifying sore: they haue not bene ‖ salued, neither wrapped vp, neither mollified with the ointment.

‖ Or, closed.

7 Your land is waste, your cities are burnt vp, straungers deuoure your lande before your face, and it is made desolate, as it were the destruction of enemies in the time of warre.

8 And the daughter of Sion shall be left as a cottage in a vineyard, like a lodge in a garden of cucumers, like a besieged citie.

9 * Except the Lorde of hostes had left vs a small remnant, we should haue beene as Sodoma, and like vnto Gomorra.

Rom. 9.29. gen. 19.24.

10 * Heare the word of the Lord, ye lordes of Sodoma, and hearken vnto the law of our God, thou people of Gomorra.

Iere. 6.20, amos 5.22.

11 Why offer ye so many sacrifices vnto mee, saith the Lorde say? I am full of the burnt offerings of weathers, and of the fatnesse of fedde beasts, & I haue no pleasure in the blood of bullockes, lambes, and goates.

12 When ye come to appeare before me, treading in my courtes, who hath required this at your hands?

13 Offer mee no mo oblations, for it is but lost labour: incense is an abominable thing vnto me, I may not away with your new moons, your Sabbaths, and solemne meetings, your solemne assemblies are wicked.

b God hateth all manner of seruice and works, seeme they neuer so good and holy, when they be done without faith and pureness of mind.

14 I hate your newe moones and appointed feastes euen from my very heart, they make mee wegry. I cannot abyde them.

15 When ye hold out your handes, I wil turne mine eyes from you: and though ye make many prayers, yet will I not heare, nothing at all, *seeing your handes are full of blood.
16 *Wash you, make you cleane, put away your euill thoughts out of my sight: cease from doing of euill,
17 Learne to doe well, apply your selues to equitie, deliuer the oppressed, help the fatherlesse to his right, let the widowes complaint come before you:
18 And then goe to, saieth the Lord, let vs talke together: though your sinnes be as red as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow: & though they were like purple, they shall bee as white as wooll.
19 If ye be willing and obedient, ye shal eate the good of the land:
20 But if yee be obstinate and rebellious, yee shall be deuoured with the sword: for the mouth of the Lord hath spoken it.
21 How happeneth it then that the faithfull citie, which was full of equitie, is becomne vnfaithfull as a whore? Righteousnesse dwelt in it, but now murderers.
22 Thy siluer is turned to drosse, and thy wine mixt with water.
23 Thy princes are wicked, and companions of theeues: they loue gifts altogether and gape for rewardes. As for the fatherlesse, they helpe him not to his right, neither wil they let the widowes causes come before them.
24 Therefore saieth the Lord God of hostes, the mightie one of Israel: Ah I must ease mee of mine enemies, and auenge me of mine aduersaries.
25 And I shall lay my hand vpon thee, and purely purge away thy drosse, and take away all thy tinne:
26 And set thy Iudges againe as they were sometime, and thy counsellours as they were from the beginning: and then thou shalt be called the righteous citie, the faithfull citie.
27 Sion shall be redeemed with equitie, and her conuerts with righteousnesse.
28 But the transgressours, and the vngodly, and such as forsake the Lord, shall altogether be vtterly destroyed.
29 For yee shall bee confounded for the trees which ye haue desired: and yee shall be ashamed of the gardens that ye haue chosen.
30 For ye shall be as a tree whose leaues are fallen away, and as a garden that hath no moistnesse, 31 And the very strong one of your idoles shall bee as towe, and the maker of it as a sparke of fire, and they shall both burne together, and no man quench them.

a Christ his Church and his word.

The ij. Chapter.

1 A prophesie of Christ and his kingdome. 11 Pride, couetousnesse, superstition, and idolatrie are reproued. 17 Gods terrible iudgement against these.

THe selfe same word that Esay the sonne of Amos sawe vpon Iuda and Hierusalem.
2 *And this shall come to passe in the latter dayes. The hill of the Lordes house shall be prepared in the height of the mountaines, and shall be higher then the hils, and all nations shall preasse vnto him.
3 And a multitude of people shall goe, speaking thus one to another, Come, let vs ascend to the hill of the Lorde, to the house of the God of Iacob, and he will instruct vs of his wayes, and we will walke in his paths: for out of Sion shall come a law, and the word of the Lord from Hierusalem:
4 And shall giue sentence among the heathen, and shall reforme the multitude of people: they shal breake their swords also into mattocks, and their speares to make sithes: And one people shall not lift vp a weapon against another, neither shall they learne to fight from thencefoorth.
5 Come, O yee house of Iacob, and let vs walke in the light of the Lord:
6 For thou hast forsaken thy people the house of Iacob, b because they bee replenished with euils from the East, and with sorcerers like the Philistines, and in straunge children they thinke themselues to haue ynough.
7 Their land is full of siluer and golde, neither is there any end of their treasure: their land is also full of horses, and no end is there of their charets.
8 Their land is also full of baine gods, and before the workes of their owne handes they haue bowed themselues, yea euen before the thing that their owne fingers haue made.
9 *There inclineth the man, there falleth the man downe before them: therefore forgiue them not.
10 Get thee into the rocke, and hide thee in the ground, for feare of the Lord, and for the glorie of his majestie.
11 The high lookes of man shall be brought lowe, and the hautinesse of men shall be bowed downe: and the Lorde alone shall be exalted in that day.
12 For the day of the Lord of hostes shall be vpon all the proud, lofty, and vpon all that is exalted, and he shall be brought low.
13 And vpon all high and stout Cedar trees of Libanus, and vpon all the Okes of Basan, 14 And vpon all the high mountaines, and vpon all the high hils,
15 And vpon euery high towre, and vpon euerie fenced wall,
16 And vpon all the ships of Tharsis, and vpon all pictures of pleasure.
17 And the pride of man shall bee brought downe, and the loftinesse of men shall bee made lowe, and the Lorde alone shalbe exalted in that day.
18 As for the idoles, he shall vtterly abolish:
19 *And they shall creepe into holes of stone, and into caues of the earth, for feare of the Lord, and for the glory of his majestie, when he ariseth to destroy the wicked ones of the earth.
20 In the selfe same day shall man cast away his gods of siluer, and his gods of golde, into the holes of Moules and Baches, which hee neuertheless had made to himselfe to honour them.
21 And they shall creepe into the clefts of the rockes, and into the tops of the hard stones, for feare of the Lorde, and for the glory of his majestie, when he ariseth to destroy the wicked ones of the earth.

b The causes why God forsaketh his people, are idolatrie, heauenly superstition, couetousnes, and trust in other things then in God alone.

22 Cease therefore from man, in whose nostrels there is wrath: for wherein is he to be accounted of?

The iij. Chapter.

1 The mischiefe that God sendeth on commonweales for the contempt of his worde. 14 The couetousnesse of rulers reproued. 16 The proud niceness of women punished to their shame.

For beholde, the Lord God of hostes doth take away from Hierusalem and Juda all manner of stay, all stay of meat and drinke.

2 The captaine and the souldier, the Iudge and the prophet, the prudent and the aged man,

3 The captayne of fifties, and the honourable, the senatour, the cunning artificer, and the eloquent oratour.

4 And I shall giue children to be their princes, and babes shall rule ouer them.

5 And the people shall each one of them violently oppresse another, and euery one against his neighbour: The boy shall presume against the elder, and the person of low degree against the honourable.

6 Yea one shall take a friend of his owne kinred by the bolome, and say, Thou hast clothing, thou shalt be our head, and stay this ruine with thy hand.

7 Then shall he sweare, and say, I cannot helpe you: there is neither meat nor clothing in my house, make me no ruler of the people.

8 For Hierusalem and Juda must decay: because that both their wordes and counsels are against the Lorde, to prouoke the presence of his maiestie to anger.

9 Their very countenance beweyeth them, yea they declare their owne sinnes themselues as Sodome, they hide it not: Woe be to their owne soules, for they haue rewarded euill vnto themselues.

10 Say to the righteous that it shall go well with them: for they shall eate the fruite of their owne studies.

11 But woe be vnto the wicked, for it shall be euill with him: for yee shall be rewarded after his owne workes.

12 Children are extortioners of my people, and women rule ouer them: O my people, thy leaders deceiue thee, and corrupt the way of thy footsteps.

13 The Lord is here to commune of the matter, and standeth to iudge the people.

14 The Lord shall enter into iudgement with the elders and princes of his people, and shall say to them, It is yee that haue burnt vp my vineyard, the spoile of the poore is in your houses.

15 What meane yee that ye braye as in a morter my people, and grind the faces of the poore, saith the Lord God of hostes?

16 Moreouer, the Lorde hath sayde, Seeing the daughters of Sion are wared prowde, and walke with stretched forth neckes, and wanton lookes, going and tripping nicely, and tinckling with their feet:

17 Therefore shall the Lord haue the heads of the daughters of Sion, and shall discouer their filthinesse.

18 In that day shall the Lord take away the gorgeousnesse of the attire about their feete, and the cawles, and the round tyres after the fashion of the moone,

19 The sweete perfumes, and the bracelets, and the mufflers,

20 The bonnets, and the hops, and the headbands, and the tablets, and the earerings,

21 And rings, and nose iewels,

22 The costly apparell, and the vailes, and the wimples, and the crisping pins,

23 And the glasses, and the fine linnen, and the hoods, and the lawnes.

24 And in stead of good smell, there shall bee stinke, and in stead of their girdle, a rent, and for well set haire, there shall be baldnesse, in stead of a stomacher, a sackecloth, and burning for beautie.

25 Thy men shall perish with the sword, and thy valiant souldiours in the battaile, O Hierusalem.

26 And her gates shall mourne and bewaile: and shee being desolate, shall sit vpon the ground.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 The miserie of the stubburne. 3 A promise of Gods fauour to the residue.

And in that day seuen women shall take hold of one man, saying, We will finde our selues meat and apparel: onely let vs be called by thy name, to take our shamefull reproofe from vs.

2 In that day shall the bud of the Lorde be beautifull and glorious, and the fruite of the earth shall bee excellent and pleasant for them that are escaped of Israel.

3 Then shall the remnant in Sion, and the remnant at Hierusalem be called holy: namely, all such as are written among the liuing in Hierusalem,

4 After that the Lorde hath washt away the filthinesse of the daughters of Sion, & hath purged the blood out from Hierusalem, in the spirit of iudgement, and in the spirit of fire.

5 And vpon all the dwellings of the hilles of Sion, and vpon her congregations, the Lord shall create a cloude, and smoke by day, and the shining of a flaming fire by night: for all the glory shall be preserued.

6 And there shall bee a tabernacle for a shadowe in the day time from the heat, and a safe place and refuge from weather and raine.

The v. Chapter.

1 Of Christ and his vineyard, 8 with an execration of couetousnesse, 11 drunkennesse, 19 and contempt of Gods word.

Now wil I sing, my beloued friend, a song of my friend touching his vineyard: My beloued friend had a vineyard in a very fruitfull plenteous ground.

2 This hee hedged, and gathered out the stones from it, and planted it with the choisest vine: In the middes of it builded he a towre, also made a winepresse therein: and hee looked that it should bring him grapes, and it brought forth wild grapes.

3 Now, O citizen of Hierusalem, and man of Juda, iudge, I pray thee, betwixt me and my vineyard.

4 What more could haue beene done for it, that a The prudent, that is, such as can foresee by their prudencie thinges to come.

b Their glory, their noble and honorable personages.

a The incarnation of Christ, is the ioy of the faithfull.

b They are saued whose sinnes are remitted and washt away with the blood of Christ.

c Christ will preserue and defend the glorie, that is, the faithfull in all troubles and temptation.

that I haue not done? wherefore then hath it giuen wild grapes, where I looked to haue had grapes of it?

5 Well, now I shall tell you how I will doe with my vineyard: I will take the hedge from it, that it may perish, and breake downe the wall thereof, that it may be troden vnder foote.

6 I will lay it waste, it shall neither be digged nor cut, but beare thornes and briers: I will also forbid the cloudes that they shall not raine vpon it.

7 As for the vineyard of the Lord of hosts, it is the house of Israel: and the man of Juda, the plant of his pleasure: of these he looked for equi-tie, but see, there is oppression: for righteousnes, and loe, it is a crying.

8 Woe vnto them that ioyne one house to another, and bring one land so nigh vnto another, that there is no more place: will ye be placed alone in the midst of the earth?

9 These things are in the eares of the Lord of hosts: of a truth great and faire houses shall be without any dweller in them.

10 And tenne acres of vines shall giue but a quart, and thirtie bushels of seede shall giue but an Epha.

11 Woe be vnto them that rise vp early to fo-llowe drunkennesse, continuing vntill night, till they be set on fire with wine.

12 In their feasts are Harps and Lutes, Tabrets and Pipes, and wine: but they regard not the worke of the Lord, and consider not the operation of his hands.

13 Therefore commeth my folke into captiui-tie, because they haue no vnderstanding: [b]their glorie is famished with hunger, and their multitude dried vp with thirst.

14 Therefore gapeth hell, and openeth her mouth marueilous wide, that their glorie, multitude, and wealth, with such as reioice in her,
may descend into it.

15 Thus hath man a fall, and is brought lowe, and the high looke of the proud shall bee layed downe.

16 But the Lord of hosts shall bee exalted in iudgement, and God that is holy, is sanctified in righteousnesse.

17 Then shall the sheepe eate as they were wont, and the rich mens walles shal [c]strangers deuoure.

18 Woe be vnto them that draw wickednesse with cords of vanitie, and sinne as it were with a cart rope.

19 Which vse to speake on this maner, Let him make speede, and hasten his worke, that we may see it: let the counsell of the holy one of Israel come and drawe nigh, that wee may know it.

20 Woe be vnto them that call euil good, and good euill, which make darknesse light, and light darknesse, that make sowre sweete, and sweete sowre.

21 *Woe be vnto them that are wise in their owne sight, and thinke themselues to haue vnderstanding.

22 Woe bee vnto them that are strong to sup out wine, & expert men to set vp drunkennesse.

23 Woe be vnto them that giue sentence with the vngodly for rewards, but condemne the iust cause of the righteous.

24 Therefore like as fire licketh vp the strawe, and as the flame consumeth the stubble:
euen so their roote shalbe as corruption, & their blossome shall vanish away like dust: for they haue cast away the Law of the Lord of hosts, and despised the word of the holy one of Israel.

25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lord kindled against his people, and hath stretched forth his hand vpon them, yea, he hath smitten them: and the hilles did tremble, and their carkeises did lie torne in the open streetes: & in all this the wrath of God hath not ceased, but his hand stretched out still.

26 And hee shall giue a token to a people of a farre countrey, and shall hisse vnto them from the end of the earth: and behold, they shall come hastily with speede.

27 There shall not bee one faint nor feeble among them, no not a sluggish or sleepie person:
there shal not one of them put off his girdle from his loines, nor loose the latchet of his shoe.

28 His arrowes are sharpe, and all his bowes bent: his horse hooues are as flint, and his cart wheeles like a whirlewind.

29 His crie is as it were a lion, and he roareth like lions whelpes: they shall roare and haunch vp the pray, and no man shall recouer it, nor get it from them.

30 In that day he shall be so fierce vpon him, as the raging of the sea: then one shall beholde the [d]land, and loe, darknesse and sorow, and the light is darkened in the heauens thereof.

[b] Their glory, their noble and honorable personages.

[c] Gods children, as though they were strangers, miserably dealt withall by the oppression of the couetous, shall after a time repossesse and enioy the lands and goods, which the couetous oppressors shall be constrained to forsake and leaue as waste.

Prou.3.7. rom.12.16.

[d] The land of Juda shall bee ouerwhelmed with miserable affliction.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Esay sawe the glory of the Lord, 9 And was sent to propheſie the desolation of Iurie.

IN the yeere that king Oziah dyed, I sawe also the Lorde sitting vpon an high and glorious seat, and his traine filled the temple.

2 And about him stood Seraphims, wherof one had fiue wings, with twaine each couered his face, with twaine his feete, and with twaine did he flye.

3 They cryed also each one to another on this manner, *Holy, holy, holy is the Lorde of hostes, the whole earth is full of his glory.

Apoc.4.8.

4 And the lyntiles of the dooze cheeks moo-ued at his crying, and the house was full of smoke.

5 Then sayd I, Woe is me, for I am lost, in as much as I am a man of vncleane lippes, and dwell among people that hath vncleane lippes also: for mine eyes haue seene the king the Lord of hostes.

6 Then flewe one of the Seraphims vnto me, hauing a hot cole in his hand, which he had taken from the altar with the tongs,

7 And layde it vpon my mouth, and sayde,
Loe, this hath touched thy [a]lippes, and thine vnrighteousnesse shalbe taken away, and thy sinne forgiuen.

8 Also I heard the voyce of the Lorde on this manner, Whome shall I send, and who will bee our messenger? Then I sayde, Here am I, send me.

9 And hee saide, Goe and tell this people,
*Heare in deed, yet vnderstand not: see plainly, and yet perceiue not.

10 Harden the heart of this people, stop their eares, and shut their eyes: least they see with their eyes, heare with their eares, & vnderstand

11 Then spake I, Lord, how long? He answered, Untill the cities be vtterly wasted without inhabitants, and the houses without men, and till the land be vtterly desolate.

12 For the Lord shal put the men farre away, and there shalbe great waste in the middest of the land.

13 Yet in it shall succeed ten kings, and it shal returne, and bee afterward wasted: but as the Teyle tree, & the Oke in the fall of their leaues, haue yet the sap remaining in them, euen so, the holy seede shall be the [b] stay thereof.

The vj. Chapter.

The Syrians moue battell against Hierusalem. 14 A virgin shall beare a childe.

4.Kin.16.5. IT [*] happened in the time of Ahaz the sonne of Jotham, which was the sonne of Uzziah king of Juda, that Razin the king of Syria, and Pecah the sonne of Romeliah king of Israel, went vp toward Hierusalem to besiege it: but Razin was not able to win it.

a Dauids house, that is, Ahaz. 2 Nowe when the [a] house of Dauid heard word therof, that Syria and Ephraim was confederate together, his heart quaked, yea, and the hearts also of his people, like as when the trees of the wood are mooued with the winde.

3 Then sayd God vnto Esay, Goe meete Ahaz, thou, and thy sonne Sear Jasub, at the head of the ouerpoole, in the footpath by the Fullers ground,

4 And say vnto him, Take heede vnto thy selfe, and bee still, feare not, neither bee faint hearted, for these two tailes, that is, for these two smoking firebrands, the wrath and furiousnes of Razin the Syrian and Romelies sonne:

5 Because that the Syrian, Ephraim, and Romelies sonne, haue wickedly conspired against thee,

6 Saying, Wee will goe vp against Juda, vexe them, and bring them vnder vs, and set a king there, euen the sonne of Tabel:

7 Thus sayth the Lord God thereto, It shal not so goe forth, neither so come to passe.

8 For the head citie of the Syrians, is Damascus, but the head of Damascus, is Razin: and after threescore and fiue yeeres, shall Ephraim be no more a people.

9 And the head of Ephraim is Samaria, but the head of Samaria is Romelies sonne: if yee beleeue not, surely yee shall not be established.

10 * Moreouer, God spake againe vnto Ahaz, saying,

* The Epistle on the Annunciation of Marie.

11 Require to thy selfe a token of the Lord thy God, whether it bee toward the depth beneath, or toward the height aboue.

12 Then sayd Ahaz, I will require none, neither will I tempt the Lord.

13 The Prophet answered, Then heare ye of the house of Dauid: Is it not enough for you that yee bee grieuous vnto men, but yee must grieue my God also?

14 Therefore the Lord himselfe shall giue you a token: * Beholde, a virgine shall conceiue and beare a sonne, and shall call his name Emmanuel.

Mat.1.23. luke 1.31.

15 Butter and honie shall hee eate, vntill hee know to refuse the euill, and choose the good.

16 For or euer the childe come to knowledge to eschew the euill, and choose the good, the land that thou so abhorrest, shall bee desolate of both her kings.

17 The Lord also shal send a time vpon thee, vpon thy people, & vpon thy fathers house, such as neuer came, since the time that Ephraim departed from Juda, namely thorow the king of the Assyrians.

18 For at the same time shall the Lord hisse for the flies that are about the water of Egypt, and for the Bees in the Assyrians land.

19 These shall come, and shall light all in the desolate valleys, in the holes of stones, and vpon all thornie and bushie places.

20 At the same time shall the Lord haue the [b] haire of the head, and the feete, and the beard cleane off, with the * raior that he shall hire beyond the waters: namely, with the king of the Assyrians.

b The haire of the head, and the beard, the princes, & men of authoritie, the feete, the common sort of people. 4.Reg.19.35.

21 At the same time shall a man nourish a yong cow, and two sheepe.

22 Then because of the abundance of milke that they giue, he shall eate butter: so that euery one which remaineth in the land, shall eate butter and honie.

23 At the same time all vineyards wherein there shall bee a thousand vines, worth a thousand siluerlings, shall bee turned to briers and thornes.

24 They shall come into the land with arrowes and bowes, because all the land shall become briers and thornes.

25 As for all hils they shalbe digged with the mattocke, there shall not come vpon them any feare of briers and thornes: but the cattel shalbe driuen thither, and the sheepe shall feede there.

The viij. Chapter.

The deliuerance of the land by Emmanuel. 14 The stone of offence, at which many stumble.

MOreouer, the Lord said vnto me, Take thee a great roule, and write in it, as men doe with a pen, Make hastie speede to rob, and haste to the spoile.

2 And I called vnto me faithful witnesses to record, Uriah the priest, and Zachariah the sonne of Barachiah.

3 After that went I vnto the prophetesse, and she conceiued, and bare a sonne: Then sayd the Lord to mee, Giue him his name, A speedie robber, An hastie spoiler.

4 For why? or euer the childe shall haue knowledge to crie, My father and mother, shall the riches of Damascus, and the spoile of Samaria be taken away before the king of Assyrians.

5 The Lorde spake also vnto mee againe, saying,

6 For so much as this people refuseth the stil running water of Silo, and put their delight in Razin and Romelies sonne:

7 Behold, the Lord shall bring mighty and great floods of water vpon them, namely, the king of the Assyrians, with all his power, which shall clime vp vpon all his floods, and run ouer all his bankes,

8 And shal breake in vpon Juda, he shal flow and passe thorow, till hee come vp to the necke thereof: hee shall fill also the wildernesse of thy land with his wings, O Emmanuel.

20 Get thee to the d lawe, the teſtimonie: and if they ſpeake not after this worde, there is no light in them.

21 And they ſhall wander thorowe this land hardly beſtead and hungrie, and when they ſuffer hunger, they will be out of patience, & curſe their king and their God, and ſhall looke vpward and downeward to the earth.

22 And beholde, there is trouble and darkeneſſe, dimneſſe is round about him, and he ſhall be driuen into darkeneſſe.

23 Neuertheleſſe, the darkeneſſe ſhall not be ſuch as was in her veration, when at the firſt he lightly afflicted the lande of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthali, and afterward did more grieuouſly afflict her by the way of the ſea beyond Jordane in Galilee of the Heathen.

The ix. Chapter.

5 For vnto vs a a Childe is borne, and vnto vs a *Sonne is giuen, vpon his ſhoulder doeth the rule lie, ‖ and hee is called with his owne name, Wonderfull, The giuer of Counſell, The mighty God, The euerlaſting father, The prince of peace.

6 He ſhall make no end to encreaſe the rule and peace, and ſhall ſit vpon the ſeate of Dauid, and in his kingdome, to order the ſame, and to eſtabliſh it with equitie and righteouſneſſe from henceforth for euermore: This ſhall the zeale of the Lord of hoſtes bring to paſſe.

7 The Lorde ſent a worde into Jacob, the ſame is come into Iſrael.

8 And all the people of Ephraim ſhal know, and they that dwell in Samaria, that ſay with pride and high ſtomackes on this manner.

9 The tyle worke is fallen downe, but wee will builde it vp with ſquared ſtones: the Mulberie timber is broken, but wee will ſet it vp againe with Cedar.

10 But the Lorde ſhall ſtrengthen the enemies of Razin, and ioyne his aduerſaries together againſt him.

11 The Syrians before, and the Philiſtines behinde, and ſhall deuoure Iſrael with open mouth: After all this is not the wrath of the Lorde ceaſed, but yet his hand is ſtretched out ſtill.

12 For the people turneth not vnto him that chaſtiſeth them, neither doe they ſeeke the Lord of hoſtes.

13 Therefore hath the Lorde rooted out of Iſrael both head and taile, bough and reede in one day.

14 By the head is vnderſtood the Senatour and honourable man, and by the taile, the prophet that preached lies.

15 For the guides of this people are deceiuers, & thoſe that be gouerned, are vtterly loſt.

16 Therefore ſhall the Lorde haue no pleaſure in their young men, neither haue pitie of their fatherleſſe and widowes: for they are altogether hypocrites and wicked, and all their mouthes ſpeake folly: After all this, is not the Lordes wrath ceaſed, but yet his hand is ſtretched out ſtill.

17 For vngodlineſſe burneth as a fire, and it ſhall deuoure briers and thorns, and ſhall burne as in the thicket of wood, and the wicked aduance themſelues, as the ſmoke is caried vp.

18 Through the wrath of the Lord of hoſtes is the land full of darkeneſſe, and the people bee conſumed as it were with fire: no man doeth ſpare his brother.

19 But he robbeth on the right hand, & doth famiſh, hee eateth on the left hand, and hee ſhall not haue ynough: euery man ſhall eate the fleſh of his owne arme.

20 Manaſſes ſhall eate Ephraim, & Ephraim Manaſſes, and they both together ſhall eate Juda: After all this is not the Lords wrath ceaſed, but yet his hand is ſtretched out ſtill.

WOe be vnto them that make vnrighteous lawes, and that cause their actuaries to write grieuousnesse.

2 Whereth̄rough the poore are put from their right, and my seely people robbed of iudgement, that widowes may be their pray, and that they may rob the fatherlesse.

3 What will ye doe in the time of visitation, and when destruction shall come from farre? to whom will ye runne for helpe? and where will ye leaue your glory?

4 That when I withdraw my hand, ye come not among the prisoners, nor lie amōg the dead? After all this doeth not the wrath of the Lorde cease, but yet is his hand stretched out still.

5 O Assur which art the staffe of my wrath, in whose hand is the rod of mine indignation.

6 I will send him among these hypocritish people: among the people that haue deserued my displeasure will I send him: that he vtterly rob them, spoyle them, and tread them downe like the mire in the streete.

7 Howbeit, his meaning is not so, neither thinketh his heart on this fashion: but he imagineth how he may roote out and destroy much people.

8 For he saith, Are not my Princes all kings?

9 Is not Chalno as easie to winne, as Charchamis? Is it harder to conquere Hamath then Arphad? or is it lighter to ouercome Damascus then Samaria?

10 As who say, I were able to win the kingdomes of the idolaters and their gods, but not Hierusalem and Samaria.

11 Shal I not doe vnto Hierusalem and her images, as I did vnto Samaria and her idoles?

12 Wherefore it shall come to passe, that as soone as the Lord hath performed his whole worke * vpon the hill of Sion and Hierusalem, then will I visite the fruite of the stout heart of the king of Syria, with his proud lookes. 4.Reg.19. 31.

13 For he standeth thus in his owne conceit, This do I through my wisedom: for I am wise, I am he that remoueth the lands of the people, I rob their treasure, and haue pulled downe the inhabitants like a baliant man.

14 My hand hath found out the strength of the people as it were a nest: and like as egges that were laid here and there are gathered together, so do I gather all countries, and there was none so bolde as to moue the wing, that dare open his mouth, or once whisper.

15 Shall the axe boast it selfe against him that heweth therewith? or shall the sawe make any bragging against him that ruleth it? That were euen like as if the rodde did exalt it selfe against him that beareth it, or as though the staffe should magnifie it selfe, as who say, it were no wood.

16 Therefore shall the Lorde God of hostes send among his fatlings leannesse, and burne vp his glory as it were with a fire.

17 And the light of Israel shall bee that fire, and his holy one shall be the flame: and it shall kindle and burne vp as thornes and briers in one day.

18 Yea all the glory of his woods and fieldes shall be consumed with body and soule, and they shall be as an hoste of men, whose standard bearer faileth.

19 The trees also of his wood which remaine, shall be of such a number, that a childe may tell them.

20 After that day, shall the remnant of Israel, and such as are escaped out of the house of Iacob, seeke no more comfort at him that smote them: but vnfainedly shall they trust vnto the Lord, the holy one of Israel.

21 *The remnant, euen the posteritie of Iacob, shall conuert vnto God the mightie one. Rom. 9.27.

22 For though thy people, O Israel, be as the sand of the sea, yet shal the remnant of them conuert vnto him: the decreed consumption ouerfloweth with righteousnesse.

23 *And therefore the Lord of hostes shal perfectly fulfill the thing that he hath determined in the middest of the whole world. Esai. 28.22.

24 Therefore thus saith ỹ Lord God of hosts, Thou my people that dwellest in Sion, be not afraid for the king of the Assyrians, he shal smite thee with a rod, and shal lift vp his staffe against thee, as the Egyptians did sometime.

25 But soone after shal my wrath and indignation be fulfilled in the destruction of them:

26 Moreouer, the Lord of hostes shall stirre vp a scourge for him, * like as was the slaughter of Madian vpon the rocke Oreb, and as the destruction of the Egyptians, when he lifted vp his rod vpon the sea. Iudg.7.25.

27 Then shal his burden be taken from thy shoulders, and his yoke from thy necke, and the same yoke shalbe destroyed because of the vnctiō.

28 He shal come to Aiath, and goe thorow toward Migron, at Michmas shall he lay vp his harnesse.

29 They shal goe ouer the foord: Geba shalbe their resting place, Rhama shalbe afraid, Gibea Saul shal flee away.

30 Lift vp thy voyce, O daughter Gallim, giue eare to Laisa, thou poore Anathoth.

31 Madmena shall tremble for feare: but the citizens of Gabim are manly.

32 Yet shall hee remaine at Nob that day: after that, shall he lift vp his hand against the mount of the daughter of Sion, the hill of Hierusalem.

33 But see, the Lord God of hosts shal breake downe the bough with feare, he shal hewe downe the proud, and fell the high minded.

34 The thickets also of the wood shall hee roote out with yron, and Libanus shall haue a fall thorough the mightie.

5 They come out of a farre countrey from the end of the heauen, euen the Lord himselfe, with the ministers of his wrath, to destroy the whole land.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The returne of the people from captiuitie, the prosperitie of the people of God, and affliction of their enemies. 13 The pride of Babylon.

BVt the Lord will bee merciful vnto Jacob, and will yet choose Israel againe, and set them in their owne land, strangers shall cleaue and get them to the house of Jacob.
2 The people shall take them and cary them home to their owne land: and the house of Israel shal possesse them in the land of the Lord, that they may be seruants & handmaidens: and they shall take those prisoners, whose captiues they had bene before, and rule those that had oppressed them.
3 When the Lord now shal bring thee to rest from thy trauaile, feare, and hard bondage that thou wast laden withall:
4 Then shalt thou vse this mockage vpon the king of Babylon, and say, How happeneth it that the oppressour leaueth off? Is the golden tribute come to an end?
5 The Lord hath broken the scepter of the vngodly, and the rod of the lordly.
6 Which rod in anger smiteth the people with continuall strokes, and in wrath reigneth ouer the nations persecuted without compassion.
7 And therefore the whole world is now at rest and quietnesse, and men sing for ioy.
8 Yea euen the firre trees, and Cedars of Libanus reioyce at thy fall, saying, Now that thou art layd downe, there come no more vp to hew downe vs.
9 Hell also beneath trembleth to meete thee at thy comming, and for thy sake hath raised his dead, all mightie men, and princes of the earth, all kings of the earth stand vp from their seates,
10 That they may al answere and speake vnto thee, Art thou become weake also as we? Art thou become like vnto vs?
11 Thy pompe and thy pride is layd downe into the pit, and so is the melody of thy instruments. Wormes be laid vnder thee, and wormes be thy couering.
12 How art thou fallen from heauen, O Lucifer, thou faire morning child? How hast thou gotten a fall, euen to the ground, which diddest weaken the nations?
13 For thou saidst in thine heart, I wil clime vp into heauen, and exalt my throne aboue beside the starres of God, I will sit also vpon the mount of the congregation toward the North.
14 I will clime vp aboue the cloudes, and wil be like the highest of all.
15 Yet thou shalt be brought downe to the deepe of hell, to the sides of the lake.
16 They that see thee, shall narrowly looke vpon thee, and thinke in themselues, saying, Is this the man that brought al lands in feare, and made the kingdomes afraid?
17 Is this he that made the world in a maner waste, and laide the cities to the ground, which let not his prisoners goe out?
18 The kings of the nations lie euery one in his owne house with worship.
19 And thou art cast out of thy graue like a filthy abominable branch, like as dead mens raiment that are shot thorow with the sword, and goe downe to the stones of the deepe, as a dead coarse that is troden vnder feete.
20 Thou art not buried with them, euen because that thou hast wasted thy land, & destroied thy people: the generation of the wicked shalbe out of memorie for euer.
21 Let there a way be sought to destroy their children that be in their fathers wickednes, that they come not vp againe to possesse the land, and fill the world full of enemies.
22 I will stande vp against them, sayth the Lord of hosts, and roote out the name and remnant, sonne, and sonnes sonne of Babylon, saith the Lord.
23 I will giue it to the Otters, and will make water puddles of it, and I will sweepe them out with the besome of destruction, saieth the Lord of hosts.
24 The Lord of hostes hath sworne an othe, saying, It shall come to passe as I haue determined, and shalbe fulfilled as I haue deuised.
25 So that the Assyrian shall I destroy in my land, and vpon my mountaines will I treade him vnder foote, wherethrough his yoke shall come from them, and his burden shall be taken from their shoulder.
26 This deuice hath God taken thorow the whole world, and this his hand is stretched out ouer all people.
27 For if the Lord of hosts determine a thing, who is able to disanull it? And if he stretch forth his hand, who may turne it againe?
28 *The same yere that king Ahaz died, was this burden: 2.Chro.28 27.
29 Reioyce not thou whole Palestina, because the rodde of him that beateth thee is broken: for out of the Serpents roote there shall come an Adder, and his fruit shalbe a fierie flying worme.
30 But the first borne of the poore shall be fed, and the simple shal dwel in safetie: thy roote also will I destroy with hunger, and it shall slay the remnant.
31 Mourne thou port, weepe thou citie, for, O whole land of Palestina, thou art laid waste:

for there shal come from the North a smoke, that not one alone may abide at home in his times.

32 What shall one then answere the messengers of the Gentiles? For the Lord hath stablished Sion, and the poore of his people that be therein, shall put their trust in it.

The xv. Chapter.

A prophecie against Moab.

THis is the burden vpon Moab: Ar of Moab was destroyed and ouerthrowen in the night season, Kir also in Moab was destroyed and perished in the night.

2 Moab went vp to the idoles house, euen to Dibon to the high places to weepe: for Neba and Moab shal mourne for Medba. All their heades were balde, and all their beardes shauen.

Iere.48.38. ezech.7.18. 3 *In her streetes are they girded about with sackcloth: in all the toppes of her houses and streetes shal be nothing but mourning and weeping.

4 Hesbon and Eleale shal cry, that their voice shalbe heard vnto Jahaz: and therefore the armed souldiers also of Moab shall bleate out and cry for very sorow of their minds.

5 Woe shall my heart be for Moabs sake, they shal flee vnto the citie of Zoar, which is like a faire yong bullocke of three yeeres old, for they shal all goe vp to Luith weeping: euen so by the way toward Horonaim they shall make lamentation for their vtter destruction.

6 For the waters of Nimrim shalbe dried vp, by reason whereof the grasse is withered, the herbes destroyed, and the greene things gone.

7 Therefore the goods that remaine in Moab, and the riches thereof, they shall cary to the brooke of willowes.

8 For the cry went ouer the whole land of Moab, vnto Eglaim, and vnto Beer-Elim was there nothing but mourning.

9 Because the waters of Dimon were full of blood, I will adde more vpon Dimon: and Lions vpon the remnant of the lande, and on them that are escaped from Moab.

The xvj. Chapter.

The destruction of Moab.

SEnde the Lorde of the worlde a Lambe from the rocke that lyeth toward the desert, vnto the hill of the daughter Sion.

2 For as for the daughters of Moab, they shall be as a a trembling bird that is put out of her nest: for they shall carrie them vnto Arnon.

a The careles and obstinate despisers of timely repentance, moued by the preaching of Gods word, shall repent when it is too late. 2.Cron.28.27.

3 Gather your counsaile, come together in iudgement, couer vs with your shadow in the midday, as the night doeth hide the chased, and bewray not them that are fled.

4 Let my persecuted people dwell among you: Moab, be thou their refuge against the destroyer: for the aduersarie is brought to nought, the robber is vndone, the tyrant is wasted out of the land.

5 And in mercy shal the seat be prepared and he shal sit vpon it in the truth in the tabernacle of Dauid, iudging and seeking iudgement, and making haste vnto righteousnesse.

6 We haue heard of the pride of Moab, he is very proud, presumptuous, arrogant, and ful of indignation, and vaine are his lies.

7 *Therefore shall Moab make lamentation, because of the Moabites that shall be slaine, yea they shall wayle together: because of the foundations of the citie that was made of brycke shall ye complaine, euen ye lame people that are left onely behinde. Iere.48.20.

8 For the vines of Hesbon are cut downe: as for the vine of Sibma, the lordes of the heathen haue broken downe her principal branches, they are come euen vnto Jazer, they went on wandring vnto the wildernesse, her goodly branches were throwen downe as they went ouer the sea.

9 Therefore will I mourne for Jazer, and for the vine of Sibma, I will powre my teares vpon thee, O Hesbon and Eleale: for the cry of thine enemies is fallen vpon thy Sommer fruits, and vpon thy haruest.

10 *The mirth and cheare is taken away out of the plentifull field, and in the vineyards there shalbe no ioy nor gladnesse: the treader shal tread out no wine in their presses, the song of their merrie cheare haue I laid downe. Iere.48.33.

11 bWherfore my bowels shal rumble like an harpe for Moabs sake, and mine inward partes for the cities sake that is made of brycke.

b The superstitious and idolatrous haue more trust in one idole and in some one place then in aweldenied all in vaine.

12 And it shall come to passe, that when it is seene that Moab shal be made wearie of his hill Chappels, he shall come to his temple to pray, cbut he shall not be able.

c Not be able through weaknesse, or it shall not profit him.

13 So then, this is the saying that the Lord hath spoken concerning Moab since that time.

14 But now the Lord hath spoken, saying, In three yeres, which shall be as the yeres of an hyred seruant, shall the glory of Moab be turned into contempt throughout all his multitude, which is very great: and that which remaineth, shalbe very small and feeble.

The xvij. Chapter.

A prophesie against Damascus.

THis is the burden vpon Damascus: behold, Damascus is taken away to be no more a city, but shalbe an heape of broken stones.

2 The waste cities of Aroer shal be folds for cattel which shal lie there, and there shall be none to fray them away.

3 Ephraim also shall no more bee strong, and Damascus shall no longer be a kingdome, and the remnant of Syria shall be as the glorie of the children of Israel, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

4 And in that day it shall come to passe, that the glory of Jacob shall be made very thin, and the fatnesse of his flesh shall ware leane.

5 And he shall be as one that gathereth vp corne in haruest, euen like him whose arme reapeth the eares of corne: he shall be also like him that gathereth eares of corne in the valley of Rephaim.

6 Some gathering in deede shall there be left in it, euen as in the shaking of an Oliue tree there remaine two or three berries in the toppe of the vppermost bough, and foure or fiue in the broad fruitfull branches thereof, saith the Lord God of Israel.

7 Then shal man turne againe to his maker, and his eyes shall haue respect to the holy one of Israel.

8 As for the altars, which are his owne handie worke, hee shall not regarde them, and the things that his fingers haue made, as groues and images, those shall hee not cast his eyes vnto.

9 In that day shall their strong cities be as the forsaken shrubbes and branches, which they left because of the children of Israel, and the land shalbe desolate.

10 Because thou hast forgotten the God of thy saluation, and hast not bene mindfull of thy strong rocke: therefore shalt thou set pleasant plants, and shalt graffe the branch of another mans vine.

11 In that day shalt thou make thy plant to grow, and early in the morning shalt thou make thy seede to florish: the haruest shalbe gone in the day of inheritance, and there shalbe sorow without hope of comfort.

12 Woe shalbe to the multitude of much people, which shall make a sound like to the noyse of the sea, and the violence of the nations, which shal rage like the rushing in of many waters.

13 Euen like many waters shall the people rage: God shal rebuke him, and he shall flee farre off, he shalbe chased away like as dry straw vpon the mountaines before the winde, and like a thing that turneth before the storme.

14 At euen behold there is trouble, and or euer it be morning, loe, it is gone: this is the portion of them that oppresse vs, and the lot of them that rob vs.

The xviij. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to the Ethiopians, and the countries nigh adioyning to them. 7 The vocation of the Gentiles.

WHat lande that trusteth vnder the shadowe of wings, that land which is beyonde the waters of Ethiopia.

2 Sending messengers by the sea, euen in vessels of reedes ouer the water: Get you hence yee speedy messengers, to a nation that is scattered abroad, and robbed of that they had, a fearefull people from their beginning hitherto, a nation troden downe by litle and litle, whose land the floods haue spoyled.

3 All the inhabiters of the worlde, and indwellers of the earth, looke vp when he setteth vp a token in the mountaines, & hearken when he bloweth with the Trumpe.

4 For so the Lord sayd vnto me, as for me I will take my rest, and looke vpon the matter in my habitations, like a faire heate after the raine, and like a cloud of deawe in the heate of haruest.

5 For afore the haruest when the branch is growen, there shal come ripe frut of the floure: and he shall cut downe the increase with sythes: and the branches shal he take away with hooks.

6 Thus shall they be left together vnto the fowles of the mountaines, and to the beastes of the earth: for in Sommer the birdes shall remaine vpon it, and euery beast of the land shalbe vpon it in Winter.

7 In that time shall there a present bee brought vnto the Lord of hostes, euen a people that is scattered abroad and robbed of that they had, that same people which haue bene fearefull from their beginning hitherto, a nation troden downe by litle and litle, whose land the floods haue spoiled, to the place of the name of the Lord of hostes, euen to the mount Sion.

The xix. Chapter.

1 He propheseth against Egypt: 18 and the vocation of the Gentiles to Christ.

THe burden of Egypt. Behold, the Lord rideth vpon a swift cloude, and shall come into Egypt, and the idoles of Egypt shal tremble at the presence of him, and the heart of Egypt shal quake in the middest of her.

2 And I will set the Egyptians one against another, so that one brother shall fight against another, and one neighbour against another, citie against citie, and realme against realme.

3 The mind also of Egypt shalbe cleane without counsell within it selfe, and the deuise that they take wil I destroy: and they shal seeke counsell at idoles, and at sorcerers, at workers with spirits, and at soothsayers.

4 And the Egyptians will I giue ouer into the hand of a marueilous cruel lord, and a mightie king shal haue dominion ouer them, saieth the Lord God of hostes.

5 The waters of the sea shall faile, and the riuers shall decrease and be dryed vp.

6 The waters shalbe drawen out, the riuers of Egypt shalbe emptied and dryed vp, the reedes and flagges shalbe cut downe.

7 The grasse in the riuer and by the riuers banke, and all that groweth by the riuer, shall wither away and be brought to nought.

8 The fishers also shal mourne, and all they that cast angle into the water shal make lamentation, and they that lay foorth their net besides the waters, shalbe rooted out.

9 Moreouer, they that worke in flare, and make fine workes, shall be confounded, and so shal they that weaue open workes.

10 For their open works shal euen be destroied, and all they that make ponds and slues for fish, shal come to nought.

11 But you foolish princes of Zoan, ye wise counsellers of Pharao, whose wit is turned to foolishnesse, how say yee vnto Pharao, I am come of wise men, and of ancient kings?

12 Where are thy wise men? Let them tell thee if they can, what the Lord of hosts hath deuised vpon Egypt.

13 The princes of Zoan are become fooles, the princes of Noph are deceiued, they haue deceiued Egypt, euen they that were taken for the chiefe stay thereof.

14 In the middest of it hath the Lord powred the spirit of wickednesse: and they haue deceiued Egypt in euery worke thereof, euen as a drunken man staggereth in his vomite.

15 Neither shall the [a] head or tayle, the branch or reede, be able to doe any worke in Egypt.

16 In that day shal Egypt bee like vnto women: it shalbe afraid, and stand in feare at the motion of the hand of the Lord of hostes which he shaketh ouer it.

17 And Egypt shalbe afraid of the land of Iuda: so that euery one that maketh mention of it

[a] By the head and branch, are meant the honourable and chiefest of the land: By the taile and reede, the multitude & lower sort of people.

halbe afraide thereat, because of the counsel of the Lord of hosts, which he deuised for it.

18 In that day shal fiue cities in the land of Egypt speake the language of Chanaan, and sweare by the Lord of hostes: the citie of desolation shal be called one of them.

19 In that day shall the altar of the Lord be in the midst of the land of Egypt, and this title beside it, vnto the Lord.

20 And it shalbe a token and a witnesse vnto the Lord of hostes in the land of Egypt: for they shall cry vnto the Lord, because of such as trouble them, and he shal send them a sauiour, and a great man to deliuer them.

21 And the Lord shalbe knowen in Egypt, and the Egyptians shall know the Lord in that day, and doe sacrifice and oblation, yea, they shal vow a vow vnto the Lord, and performe it.

22 The Lord also shall smite Egypt sore, and heale them againe: and they shall be conuerted vnto the Lord, and he shalbe entreated of them, and shal heale them.

23 In that day shall there be a common way out of Egypt into Assyria, and Assyria shal come into Egypt, and Egypt into Assyria: so that the Egyptians and the Assyrians shall serue the Lord together.

24 In that day shall the nation of Israel be the third with Egypt and Assyria: and they shal be blessed in the midst of the land.

25 Which land the Lord of hostes hath blessed, saying, Blessed is my people of Egypt, Assur also is the worke of my handes, and Israel is mine inheritance.

The xx. Chapter.

Against Egypt and Ethiopia.

IN the yere that Tharthã came vnto Asdod, when Sargon the king of Assyria had sent him, and had fought against Asdod, & taken it:

2 At the same time spake the Lord by the hand of Esay the sonne of Amos, saying, Goe and take off the sackcloth from thy loines, and put off thy shoe from thy foote. And he did so, walking naked and barefoote.

3 And the Lord sayde, Like as my seruant Esay hath walked naked and barefoote, for a signe and wonder three yeeres vpon Egypt and Ethiopia:

4 Euen so shal the king of Assyria take away out of Egypt and Ethiopia, children and olde men naked and barefoote, with their loynes vncouered, to the great shame of Egypt.

5 They shalbe brought in feare also, and be ashamed of Ethiopia their hope, and of Egypt, wherein they are wont to glory.

6 And they that dwell in the same Ile, shall say in that day, Behold, such is our hope: whither shall we flee for helpe, that we may be deliuered from the king of Assyria? and howe shal we escape?

The xxj. Chapter.

Against Babylon, Idumea, and Arabia.

a The waste sea is, Babylon, or Chaldee.

THe burden of the a waste sea. Euen as the stormie weather passeth thorow at the noone day from the wildernesse, so shall it come from the terrible land.

2 A grieuous vision was shewed vnto me: let one deceitfull offender come against another, and one destroyer against another: Vp Elam, lay siege thou of Midia, all their groning haue I laid downe.

3 Therefore are my loynes filled with sorrow, heauinesse haue taken hold vpon me, as the pangs of a woman that is trauailing: it made me stoupe when I heard it, and it dered mee when I saw it.

4 My heart panted, fearfulnesse came vpon me: the night of my voluptuousnesse hath bee turned against me into feare.

5 While they garnished the table, the watchman looked: and while I was eating and drinking, it was said, Vp yee captaines, take you to your shield.

6 For thus hath the Lord said vnto me, Go, and set a watchman to tell what he seeth.

7 And he saw a charet which two horsemen sate vpon, with the cariage of an asse, and the cariage of a camell: so he looked, and tooke diligent heede.

8 *And he cried, A lion, my lord, I stand continually vpon the watch tower in the day time, and am appointed to keepe my watch euery night. Habac. 2.1.

9 And behold, here commeth a charet of men, with two horsemen: and he answered and said, *Babylon is fallen, it is fallen, and all the images of her gods hath he smitten downe vnto the ground. Iere. 51.8. Apoc. 14.8.

10 Thou art he whom I must thresh, and thou belongest to my corne floore: this that I heard of the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, haue I shewed vnto you.

11 The burden of Duma. He calleth to me out of Seir: Watchman, what hast thou espied by night? watchman, what hast thou espied by night?

12 The watchman said, The morning commeth, and so doeth the night: if yee will aske me any question, then aske it, returne and come againe.

13 The burden concerning Arabia. In the woods of Arabia shall ye tarie all night, euen in the streetes of Dedanim.

14 The inhabiters of the lande of Thema brought foorth water to him that was thirstie, they preuented him that was fled away with their bread.

15 For because of swordes they are become fugitiue, euen for the drawen sword, and for the bent bowe, and because of the grieuousnesse of warre.

16 For thus hath the Lord sayde vnto mee, There is yet a yere, according to the yeres of an hyred seruant, & all the glory of Cedar shal faile.

17 And the number of them that shall escape from the bowes, shal be minished by the mighty children of Cedar: for the Lord God of Israel hath spoken it.

The xxij. Chapter.

A prophecie against Hierusalem.

a Hierusalem is meant by the valley of vision.

THe burden of the a valley of vision. What hast thou to doe here, that thou climest to the house tops?

2 Thou that art full of tumultuousnesse, thou troublesome and proude citie: thy slaine men are neither put to death with the sword, nor dead in battell.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Rr1v

3 All thy captiues are fugitiue together, the archers haue taken them prisoners: all they I say that are found in thee, are in captiuitie together, and they also that fled farre off.

4 Therefore said I, Let mee alone, and I will make lamentation: ye shall not be able to comfort mee, because of the destruction of the daughter of my people.

5 For this is a day of trouble, of ruine, and of destruction, that the Lord the God of hostes will bring to passe in the valley of vision, breaking downe the citie, and crying vnto mountaines.

6 Elam bare the quiuer with a charet of footmen and horsemen, and the citie of Cir shewed the shield open.

7 The chiefe valley also was ful of charets, and the horsemen set their faces directly toward the gate.

8 And in that day did the enemie take away the couer of Juda, and then didst thou looke toward the [b] armour of the house of the forest.

[b] The armory that Salomon made and furnished with munition, 1. Kings 7.

9 Yee haue seene also the broken places of the citie of Dauid, how that they are many, and yee gathered together the waters of the lower poole.

10 As for the houses of Hierusalem, ye haue numbred them, and the houses haue ye broken downe, to make the wall strong.

11 A pit also haue ye made betweene the two wals for the waters of the old poole, [c] and haue not regarded the maker thereof, neither had respect vnto him that fashioned it long agoe.

[c] The Lord hath not forbid to make fortification of sure defence against the enemies, so that our trust be put in him, and not in our fortresses and strong holds.

12 And in that day did the Lord God of hosts call men vnto weeping and mourning, to baldnesse and girding about with sackcloth.

13 And behold, they haue ioy and gladnesse, slaying oxen, and killing sheepe, eating flesh, and drinking wine: *let vs eate and drinke, for to morow we shall die.

1. Cor. 15. 12.

14 And it came to the eares of the Lorde of hostes. This iniquitie shall not be purged from you till ye die, saieth the Lord God of hostes.

15 Thus saith the Lord God of hosts, Get ye vnto yonder treasurer, euen vnto Sebna, which is the ruler of the house.

16 What hast thou to do here? and whom hast thou here, that thou shouldest here hew thee out a sepulchre, as it were one that heweth him out a sepulchre on high, or that graueth an habitation for himselfe on an hard rocke?

17 Behold, O thou man, the Lord shall carie thee away into captiuitie, and shall surely couer thee with confusion.

18 The Lord shall turne thee ouer like a ball with his hands, and shall send thee into a farre countrey: there shalt thou die, and there in stead of the charets of thy pompe, shal the house of the Lord haue confusion.

19 I will driue thee from thy place, and out of thy dwelling shall he ouerthrow thee.

20 And in that day shall I call my seruant Eliacim the sonne of Helcia:

21 And with thy garments will I cloth him, and with thy girdle will I strengthen him: thy power will I also commit into his hand, and he shall be a father of such as dwell in Hierusalem, and in the house of Juda.

22 *And the key of the house of Dauid wil I lay vpon his shoulder: so that he shall open, and no man shut, he shal shut, and no man open.

Ioh. 12. 14. apoc. 3. 7.

23 And I will fasten him as a naile in a sure place, and he shalbe the glorious seate of his fathers house.

24 Moreouer, all generations and posterities shal hang vpon him all the glory of their fathers house, all vessels both great and small, and all instruments of measure and musicke.

25 In that day, saith the Lord of hostes, shall the naile that is fastened in the sure place, depart and be broken, and fall: and the burden that was vpon it shalbe pluckt away, for so the Lord hath spoken.

The xxiij. Chapter.

1 A prophecie against Tyrus: 17 and a promise that it shall be restored againe.

THe burden of Tyre. Mourne ye ships of Tharsis, for there commeth such destruction, that ye shall not haue an house to enter into, and that there shall be no traffike out of the lande of Cittim, they haue knowledge of this plague.

2 Be still ye that dwell in the Ile, the marchants of Sidon, and such as passe ouer the sea, haue made thee plenteous.

3 The corne that groweth by the great waters of Nilus, and the fruites of the riuer, were her victuals, so that it became a common mart of nations.

4 Bee ashamed thou Sidon: for the [a] sea, euen the strength of the sea hath spoken, saying, I haue not trauailed nor brought forth children, nor nourished vp young men, or brought vp virgins.

[a] By the sea & the strength of the sea is meant Tyrus.

5 When tidings come to the Egyptians, they shalbe sory for the rumour of Tyre.

6 Get you to Tharsis, mourne you that dwel in the Ile.

7 Is not this that glorious citie of yours, which hath bene of olde antiquitie? her owne feete shall carie her forth, to be a sojourner into a farre countrey.

8 Who hath deuised this against Tyre that [b] crowneth her selfe? whose marchants are princes, and whose factours are honourable in the world.

[b] That crowneth her selfe, that is, which hasteth her selfe to be as it were the Queene of all cities on the sea coastes.

9 Euen the Lorde of hostes hath deuised this, to put downe the pride of all such as be glorious, and to minish all them that be proud vpon the earth.

10 Get thee out of thy land like a flood vnto the daughter of Tharsis, for thou hast no more strength.

11 He that smote the kingdomes together, holdeth out his hand ouer the sea: euen the Lord himselfe hath giuen a commandement against the same common place of marchandise, that they shall vtterly destroy the might thereof.

12 And he said, Make no more thy boast, O virgin, thou daughter Sidon, thou shalt be brought downe: vp, get thee ouer vnto Cittim, where neuertheless thou shalt haue no rest.

13 Beholde, this people came not of the Chaldees, but Assur made them strong with great ships: they set vp the strong holdes thereof, and destroyed his palaces: and he brought it in decay.

14 Mourne yee ships of Tharsis, for your strength is brought downe.

15 And in that day shall Tyre be forgotten

seuentie yeeres, according to the yeeres of one king, and after the end of seuentie yeeres, shall Tyre sing as doth an harlot.

16 Take an harpe, and goe about the citie, thou harlot that hast beene forgotten, make sweet melodie, sing moe songs, that thou maiest be had in remembrance.

17 And after the end of the seuenty yeres, shal the Lord visite Tyre, and he shall conuert vnto her rewarde, and shall commit fornication with all the kingdomes of the earth that are in the world.

18 Their occupying also and their rewarde shalbe holy vnto the Lord: their gaines shal not be laid vp nor kept in store, but it shall be theirs that dwell before the Lord, that they may eate ynough, and haue clothing sufficient.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

A prophecie of tribulation to come vpon the world, because of sinne.

BEhold, the Lord maketh the earth waste and emptie, yee turneth it vpside downe, and scattereth abroad the inhabiters thereof.

Osee 4.9. 2 *And the Priest shalbe as the people, & the master as the seruant, the mistresse like the maide, the seller like the buyer, he that lendeth vpon vsurie, like him that borroweth vpon vsurie, the creditor as the detter.

3 The land shalbe cleane wasted, and vtterly spoyled: for so the Lord hath spoken.

4 The earth is sory and consumeth away, the world is feeble and perisheth, the proud people of the earth are come to nought.

5 The earth also is become vnprofitable vnder the inhabiters thereof, which haue transgressed the lawes, changed the ordinance, broken the euerlasting couenant.

6 Therefore hath the curse consumed the earth, and they that dwell therein are fallen into trespasse: wherefore the inhabiters of the earth are perished with drought, and fewe men are left behind.

7 The wine faileth, the vine hath no might, all they that haue bene mery in heart are come to mourning.

8 The mirth of Tabrets is laid downe, the noyse of such as haue made mery is ceased, the ioy of the harpe is at an end.

9 They shall drinke no more wine with mirth, strong drinke shall be bitter to them that drinke it.

10 The citie of vanitie is broken downe, euery house is shut vp, that no man may come in.

11 In the streetes is there a crying, because of wine, all cheere is vanished away, the mirth of the land is gone.

12 In the citie is left desolation, and the gate is smitten with destruction.

13 For in the midst of the land, euen among the people, it shall come to passe as at the shaking of Oliues, and as the grapes are when the wine haruest is done.

14 They shall lift vp their voice, and make a mery noyse, and in magnifying of the Lord shal they cry out of the West.

15 Wherfore praise ye the Lord in the valleys, euen the name of the Lord God of Israel in the Iles of the sea.

16 From the vttermost part of the earth haue we heard praises and mirth, because of the righteous: and I said, I know a thing in secret, I knowe a thing in secret, woe is me: the transgressers haue offended, the transgressers haue grieuously offended.

17 Feare fulnesse, the pit, and the snare are vpon thee, O thou that dwellest on the earth.

18 * It will come to passe that whosoeuer escapeth the feareful noyse, shall fall into the pit, and he that commeth vp out of the pit, shalbe taken with the snare: for the windowes from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth are moued. Iere.48.44.

19 The earth is vtterly vroken downe, the earth hath a sore ruine, the earth quaketh exceedingly.

20 The earth shal reele to and fro like a drunkard, and shalbe remooued like a tent, and the iniquitie thereof shalbe heauie vpon it, it shall fall, and not rise againe.

21 And in that day shall the Lorde visite the host aboue that is on high, and the kings of the world that are vpon the earth.

22 And they shalbe gathered together as they that be in prison, and they shall be shut vp in ward, and after many daies shal they be visited.

23 The moone shall bee abashed, and the sunne ashamed, when the Lorde of hostes shall reigne in mount Sion and in Hierusalem with worship, and in the sight of such as shall be of his counsell.

The xxv. Chapter.

A thankesgiuing to God for his workes.

THou art my Lord my God, I will magnifie thee, I will giue thanks vnto thy name, for thou hast wrought woonderfull thinges to passe, according to thine old counsell, truely and faithfully.

2 Thou hast made a citie an heape of stones, and wrought a strong towne into decay: the habitation of strangers hast thou made to be no citie, neither shall it be builded any more.

3 Therefore shall the mightie people giue glory vnto thee, the citie of the valiant heathen shall feare thee.

4 For thou hast beene a strength vnto the poore, and a succour for the needie in his trouble, a refuge against euill weather, a shadow against the heate: for the blast of raging men is like a storme that casteth downe a wall.

5 Like as the heate in a dry place walleth all things: so shalt thou suppresse the noyse of aliants, the heate is abated with the shadow of the cloud, euen so shall God allwage the noyse of the cruell tyrants.

6 And in this mountaine shall the Lord of hostes make vnto all people a feast of plenteous and delicate things, euen of most pleasant and daintie dishes.

7 And in this mountaine shall the Lorde destroy the couering that all people are wrapped in, and the hanging that is spread vpon all nations,

8 As for death he hath destroyed it for euer, and the *Lorde God shall wipe away teares from all faces, and the rebuke of his people shall he take away out of all the earth, for so the Lord hath said. Apo.7.17. and 21.4.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Rr2v

9 And in that day it shalbe said, Loe, this is our God, we haue waited for him, and he shall saue vs, this is the Lord in whom we haue hoped, we will be mery, and reioyce in the saluation that commeth of him.

10 For in this mountaine shall the hand of the Lord cease, and Moab shall be threshed vnder him, euen as strawe is troden to doung on the dounghill.

11 And he shall stretch out his hand in the midst of them, as he that swimmeth casteth out his hands to swim: and with the strength of his hands shall he bring downe their pride.

12 The strong holde also, and defence of thy walles hath hee ouerthrowen and cast downe, and brought them to the ground, euen vnto dust.

The xxvj. Chapter.

A song of deliuerance of the people.

IN that day shall this song bee sung in the land of Juda, We haue a strong citie, saluation shall God appoint in stead of wals and bulwarkes.

2 Open ye the gates, that the righteous people which keepeth the trueth may enter in.

3 By an assured purpose wilt thou preserue perfect peace, because they put their trust in thee.

4 Put yee your trust alway in the Lorde: for in the Lorde God there is strength for euermore.

5 For he hath brought downe the high minded citizens: as for the proude citie, hee hath brought it low, euen to the ground shall he cast it downe, and bring it vnto dust.

6 The foote, euen the foote of the poore, and the steps of such as be in necessitie shall tread it downe.

7 The path of equitie wilt thou grant vnto the iust, O thou most righteous, thou shalt order the path of him that is righteous.

8 Yea in the way of thy iudgments, O Lord, haue we put our trust in thee: thy name also, and the remembrance of thee, is the thing that our soule longeth for.

9 My soule hath longed for thee al the night, and with my spirit which is within me, will I seeke thee earely in the morning: for when thy iudgements are in the earth, the inhabiters of the world shall learne righteousnesse.

10 Shall the vngodly man bee fauoured, which hath not learned righteousnesse, but doth wickedly in the earth, where nothing ought to be done, but that which is righteous? hee shall not see the glory of the Lord.

11 Lord, when thy hand is lift vp to strike, they see it not, but they shall see it, & be confounded with the zeale of the people, and the fire that consumeth thine enemies shal deuoure them.

12 Lord, vnto vs thou shalt prouide peace: for thou also hast wrought all our workes in vs.

13 O Lord our God, other lords besides thee haue subdued vs: but we will be mindfull onely of thee, and of thy name.

14 The dead will not liue, they that be out of life will not rise againe, therefore hast thou visited and rooted them out, and destroyed all the memorie of them.

15 Thou hast increased the people, O Lord, thou hast increased the people, thou art glorious, thou hast sent them farre off vnto all the coasts of the earth.

16 Lord, in trouble haue they visited thee, they powred out their prayer, when thy chastening was vpon them.

17 Like as a woman with child that draweth nigh towards her trauaile, is sorie and crieth in her paines: euen so haue we bene in thy sight, O Lord.

18 We haue bene with child & suffered paine, as though we had brought forth wind: for there is no saluation in the earth, neither do the inhabiters of the world submit themselues.

19 Thy dead men shall liue, euen as my body shall they rise againe: awake and sing yee that dwell in dust, for thy dewe is euen as the dewe of herbes, and the earth shall cast out them that be vnder her.

20 Come my people, enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doores about thee, hide thy selfe for a litle while, vntill the indignation be ouerpast.

21 * For beholde, the Lord is comming out of his place, to visite the wickednesse of such as dwell vpon earth: the earth also shall disclose her bloods, and shall no more hide them that are slaine in her. Mich. 1.3.

The xxvij. Chapter.

A prophesie of the comming of Christ, and destruction of idolatrie.

IN that day the Lorde with his sore, great, and mightie sword shal visite [a] Leuiathan the fugitiue serpent, euen Leuiathan that crooked serpent, and he shall slay the dragon that is in the sea.

a By Leuiathan the greatest of fishes in the sea is meant the kingdome of Satan: and the mightie tyrants of the world, enemies to Christ, and persecuters of his religion.

2 In that day see that ye sing of the congregation, which is the vineyarde that bringeth forth the best wine:

3 Euen I the Lord do keepe it, in due seasons shall I water it: and least the enemie doe it any harme, I will both night and day preserue it.

4 There is no displeasure in me, else when the vineyard bringeth mee foorth briers and thornes, I would goe thorow it by warre, and burne it vp together.

5 Let it take holde of my [b] strength, and it shall be at one with mee, euen at one shall it be with me.

b God calleth his word his strength, because thereby he winneth vnto and honoureth them vnto himselfe.

6 The dayes are comming that Jacob shall take roote, Israel shall be greene and flourish, and the world shalbe filled with fruite.

7 Hath he smitten him as sore as he did the other that smote him? Or is he slaine with so sore a slaughter as they slew him?

8 Thou wilt punish it in the branches, yet not beyond measure: for in the day that the East winde bloweth sore, it taketh away the fruites.

9 By this meanes therefore shal the iniquitie of Jacob be purged, and this is all the fruite, namely the [c] taking away of his sinne, if he make all the stones of the altar of idoles, as chalke stones that are beaten in sunder, that their groues and images rise not vp againe.

c God vseth afflictions, as meanes to call men to repentance, whereupon followeth forgiuenesse of sinnes.

10 Els shal the strong citie be desolate, and the habitation forsaken and left like a wildernesse: there shall the calfe feed, and there shall he lie, and eate vp the graffes thereof.

1.Cor.14. 21.

11 When the branches of it are drie, they are broken off, and the women come and set them on fire: for it is a people of no vnderstanding, and therefore hee that made them, shall not fauour them, and hee that created them shall giue them no grace.

12 And in that day shal the Lord make a threshing from the mids of the riuer Euphrates, vnto the riuer of Egypt, and ye children of Israel shall be gathered together one to another.

13 In that day shall the great trumpe bee blowen, so that they which were lost in the land of Assyria, and they that were banished in the land of Egypt, shall come and worship the Lord in the holy mount of Hierusalem.

The xxviij. Chapter.

1 Against the pride of Ephraim, 9 and against false priests and preachers.

WOe bee vnto the crowne of pride, euen vnto the drunken people of Ephraim, whose great pompe is as a flower that fadeth away vpon the head of the valley of such as be in wealth, and are ouerladen with wine.

2 Beholde, there commeth a vehement and sore day from the Lorde, like an vnmeasurable haile and perilous tempest, euen like the force of mighty and horrible waters that violently beareth downe all things.

3 The crowne of the pride of the drunken Ephraimites shall be troden vnder foote.

4 So that the flowre of his fairenesse and beauty, which is in the head of the valley of fatnesse, shall fade away as doeth an vntimely ripe figge before haruest: which when a man espieth, hee looketh vpon it, and while it is yet in his hand he eateth it vp.

5 In that day shall the Lord of hostes be the crowne of glorie and diamond of beauty vnto the residue of his people.

6 He wil be also a spirit of perfect knowledge to him that sitteth in iudgement, and strength vnto them that turne away the battell to the gate of the enemies.

7 But they are out of the way by reason of wine, yea, farre out of the way are they through strong drinke: the priest also and the prophet are gone astray by the meanes of strong drinke, they are drunken with wine, they go amisse through strong drinke, they fall in prophesying, and stumble in iudgement.

8 For all tables are full of vomite and filthinesse, that no man is cleane.

9 Whome then shall such one teach knowledge? and whom shal he make to vnderstand the thing that he heareth? for they are as ignorant as yong children that are taken from the milke, and are weaned.

10 For they that be such, must take after one lesson, another lesson, after one commandement, another commandement, for one rule, another rule, after one instruction, another instruction, there a little, and there a little.

11 *For he that speaketh vnto this people, is euen as one that vseth rudenesse of speech, or a strange language.

12 If any man say vnto them, Loe, this is the rest wherewith yee may ease him that is wearie, this is the refreshing: they will not hearken.

13 Therefore shall the word of the Lord bee vnto them lesson vpon lesson, commandement vpon commandement, rule vpon rule, instruction vpon instruction, there a little, and there a little: that they may goe on, and fall backward, be bruised, tangled, and snared.

14 Wherefore heare the word of the Lord yee mockers, yee that haue rule of this people which is at Hierusalem.

15 Because ye haue sayd, We haue made a couenant with death, and with hell are wee at agreement: and though there goe foorth a sore plague, it shall not come vnto vs, for wee haue made falshood our refuge, and vnder vanitie are we hid:

16 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, *Beholde, I lay in Sion for a foundation a stone, euen a tried stone, a precious corner stone, a sure foundation: who so beleeueth, let him not bee too [a] hastie.

17 Iudgement also will I lay to the rule, and righteousnesse to the balance, so that the [b] haile shall sweepe away as a broome your vaine confidence, and the priuie place of your refuge shall the waters run ouer.

18 And thus the couenant that ye made with death, shall be disanulled, and your agreement that ye made with hell, shall not stand, yea when the sore plague goeth foorth, yee shal bee troden downe vnder it.

19 From the time that it goeth forth, it shall take you away: for early in the morning euerie day, yea both day and night, shal it goe thorowe, and when the noise thereof is perceiued, it shal gender vexation.

20 For the bed is narrow, and not large, and the couering so smal, that a man can not winde himselfe vnder it.

21 *For the Lord shal stand as in mount Perazim, and shalbe wroth like as in the valley of Gibeon, that hee may doe his worke, his strange worke, and bring to passe his act, his strange act.

22 Now therefore see that ye be no mockers, lest your punishment encrease: for I heard the Lord of hostes, that there shall come a short ende vpon the whole earth.

23 Heare ye then, and hearken vnto my voice, consider and ponder my speech.

24 Doeth not the husbandman plowe all the day, and openeth and breaketh the clots of his ground, that he may sowe?

25 When hee hath made it plaine, wil hee not spread abroad the fitches, and sowe cummin, and cast in wheate by measure, and the appointed barley and rie in their place?

26 God wil instruct him to haue discretion, euen his God wil teach him.

27 For fitches shall not bee threshed with an harrowe, neither shal a cart wheele bee brought thorow the cummin: but the fitches are beaten out with a staffe, and cummin with a rod.

28 But the seede that bread is made of, is threshed, though it be not alway a threshing, and a cart wheele must bee brought ouer it, lest hee grind it with his teeth.

29 This also commeth of the Lord of hostes, which worketh with wonderful wisedome, and bringeth excellent workes to passe.

a Who so through faith doth lay himselfe vpon Christ, in hasty going forward shall not fall: that is, shall not faile of that he hopeth to obtaine.

fol. Rr3v

WOe vnto thee, O Ariel, Ariel, thou citie that Dauid dwelt in: Goe on from yeere to yeere, and let the lambes be slaine.

2 I wil lay siege vnto Ariel, so that there shall bee heauinesse and sorow in it: and it shalbe vnto me euen an altar of slaughter.

3 I will besiege thee round about, and will fight against thee thorow a bulwarke, and will reare vp ditches against thee.

4 Thou shalt bee brought downe, and shalt speake out of the ground, and thy speech shal goe lowe out of the dust:

5 Thy voice also shall come vp out of the ground, like the voice of a witch, and thy talking shall whisper out of the dust.

6 Moreouer, the noise of the strange enemies shall be like thin dust, and the multitude of tyrants shall be as dry straw that cannot tarie: euen suddenly and in haste shal their blast goe.

7 Thou shalt be visited of the Lord of hosts, with thunder, earthquake, and with a great noise, with storme and tempest, and with the flame of a consuming fire.

8 And the multitude of all nations that fight against Ariel, shall be as a dreame seen by night: euen so shall they be that make warre against it, and strong holds to ouercome it, and that lay any siege vnto it.

9 In conclusion, it shalbe euen as when an hungrie man dreameth that hee is eating, and whē he awaketh, his soule is empty, or as when a thirstie man dreameth that hee is drinking, when he awaketh, he is yet faint, and his soule hath appetite: euen so shall the multitude of all nations be that fight against mount Sion.

10 Ponder these things once in your minds, and wonder: Blinded are they themselues, and the blind guides of other, they are drunken, but not with wine: they are vnstable, but not through strong drinke:

11 For the Lord hath couered you with a slumbring spirit, and hath closed your eyes: your prophets also and rulers that should see, them hath he couered.

12 And the vision of all the prophets, is become vnto you as the wordes of a booke that is sealed vp, which men deliuer to one that is learned, saying, Reade thou in it: and he saith, I can not, for it is sealed.

13 And the booke is giuen to him that is not learned, saying, Reade thou in it: and he saith, I am not learned.

Mat.15.8. mar.7.6. 14 Therefore thus hath the Lord said, *For as much as this people, when they be in trouble, do honour me with their mouth, and with their lips, but their heart is farre from mee, and the feare which they haue vnto mee, proceedeth of a commandement that is taught of men.

15 Therefore will I doe marueiles among this people, euen marueilous things I say and a wonder: 1.Cor.1.19 *for the wisedome of their wise men shall perish, and the vnderstanding of their wittie men shall hide it selfe.

Abdi.1.8. 16 *Woe vnto them that keepe secret their thoughts, to hide their counsell from the Lord, and to doe their workes in darkenesse, saying, Eccl.23.15 *Who seeth vs? and who knoweth vs?

17 Doubtlesse your destruction is in reputation as the Potters clay: and doeth the worke say of him that made it, He made not mee? And doeth an earthen vessel say of him that fashioned it, He had no vnderstanding?

18 Is it not hard at hand that Libanus shall bee turned into a lowe fielde, and that the lowe field shalbe taken as the wood?

19 And in that day shall deafe men heare the wordes of the booke, and the eyes of the blinde shal see euen out of the cloude, and out of darkenesse.

20 The meeke spirited also shalbe merie in the Lord, and the poore among them that bee lowly shall reioice in the holy one of Israel:

21 For hee that did violence is brought to nought, and the scorneful man is consumed, and they rooted out that made haste early to vnrighteousnesse, 22 Making a man to sinne in the word, and that tooke him in a snare, which reproued them in the open place, and they that haue turned the cause of the righteous to nought.

23 Therefore thus saith the Lord to the house of Jacob, euen thus sayth hee that redeemed Abraham, Jacob shal not now be confounded, nor his face pale.

24 But when he seeth his children the worke of my hands in the mids of him, they shal sanctifie my name, and praise the holy one of Jacob, and feare the God of Israel.

25 They also that haue bene of an erroneous spirit, shal come to vnderstanding, and they that haue bene scorneful shal learne doctrine.

The xxx. Chapter.

1 Against them that forsake the counsel of God, and cleaue to the counsel of men. 3 The Prophet also threatneth the remnant of the people, that after the destruction of Hierusalem went into Egypt.

ALas for those disobedient children, sayth the Lord, that they wil take counsel, and not of mee, that they wil take a secret aduice, and not out of my spirit, and therfore adde they sinne vnto sinne.

2 Euen they that walke to go downe into Egypt, and haue asked no question at my mouth, but seeke strength in the might of Pharao, and trust in the shadowe of Egypt.

3 Therefore shall the strength of Pharao be your confusion, and the trust in the shadow of Egypt, your shame.

4 For his captaines were at Zoan, and his embalsadours came vnto Hanes.

5 They were ashamed of the people that could doe them no good, and that might not help them, nor shewe them any profit, but were their confusion and rebuke.

6 The burden of the beasts of the South. In a land of trouble and anguish, from whence shal come the yong and old lion, the viper, & fierce serpent, that flieth against them that vpon colts beare their riches, and vpon camels their treasures to a people that can doe them no good.

7 For vaine and nothing worth shal the help of the Egyptians bee: therefore haue I cried vnto Hierusalem, They shall haue strength ynough, if they wil settle their mindes in quietnesse.

8 Now therefore go thy way, and write this before them in a table, & note it in a booke, that it may finally remaine and be kept still for euer.

fol. Rr4r

9 For this is an obſtinate people, and diſſembling children, children that refuſe to heare the law of the Lord.

10 For they ſay vnto the ſeers, See not: and to them that be cleare of iudgement, Looke not out right things for vs: but ſpeake faire words vnto vs, looke out errours.

11 Get you out of the way, depart out of this path, and turne the holy one of Iſrael from vs.

12 Wherefore thus ſayth the holy one of Iſrael. Becauſe your hearts riſe againſt this word, and becauſe you truſt in wrong dealing, and perueꝛſe iudgement, and put your confidence therein:

13 Therefore ſhall ye haue this miſchiefe for your deſtruction and fall, like as an high wall that falleth becauſe of ſome riſt or blaſt, whoſe breaking commeth ſuddenly.

14 And the hurt thereof is like an earthen veſſell which breaketh without helpe, ſo that in the burſting of it, there is not found one ſhiuer to fetch fire in, or to take water withall out of the pit.

15 For thus ſayth the Lord God, euen the holy one of Iſrael, In repentance and in reſt ſhall yee bee ſafe, in quietneſſe and ſure confidence ſhal bee your ſtrength, but yee haue had no luſt thereto.

16 For ye haue ſayd, No, but wee will eſcape through horſes, therefore ſhall yee flee, and wee will get vs vp vpon ſwift beaſts, and therefore ſhall your perſecuters be ſwifter.

17 A thouſand ſhal flee at the rebuke of one, and at the rebuke of fiue, ſhall ye all flee, til ye be left as a ſhip maſt vpon the top of a mountaine, and as a beacon vpon an hill.

18 Therefore doeth the Lorde cauſe you to waite, that hee may haue mercie vpon you, to the intent that hee may haue the preeminence when hee is gracious vnto you: for the Lord is the God of iudgement, bleſſed are all they that hope in him.

19 If the people remaine in Sion, and at Hieruſalem, thou ſhalt not be in beauineſſe: but at the voice of thy complaint ſhal hee haue mercie vpon thee, and when he heareth it, he ſhall giue thee an anſwere.

20 And though the Lord giue you the bread of trouble, and the water of aduerſitie, thy raine ſhall be no more ſo ſcant, but thine eyes ſhall ſee thy raine,

21 Yea, and thine eare ſhal heare the talking of him that doth ſpeake behind thee: This is the way, walke ye in it, turne not aſide, neither to the right hand, nor to the left.

22 Yee ſhall deſtroy alſo the couering of your ſiluer images, and the decking of your golden idoles, euen as filthineſſe ſhalt thou put them away, and thou ſhalt ſay vnto it, Get thee hence.

23 Then ſhall God giue raine vnto thy ſeede that thou ſhalt ſowe the ground withall, & bread of the encreaſe of the earth, which ſhalbe fat and very plenteous: in that day alſo ſhall thy cattel be fed in large paſtures.

24 The oxen likewiſe, and the yong aſſes that eare the ground, ſhal eate the cleane prouender, which is purged with the wind and the fanne.

25 Finally, vpon euery high mountaine and hill ſhall there be riuers and ſtreames of waters in the day of the great ſlaughter when the towers fall.

26 Moreouer, the light of the Moone ſhal be as the light of the Sunne, and the Sunne light ſhal be ſeuen fold, and haue as much ſhine as the ſeuen dayes beſide, when the Lord bindeth vp the ſore of the people, and healeth the ſtroke of their wound.

27 Beholde, the name of the Lord commeth from far, and his preſence is ſo hot, that no man is able to abide: his lips are full of indignation, and his tongue is as a conſuming fire.

28 His breath is a behement flood of water that reacheth vp to the neckе: that he may ſift away the heathen in the ſieue of vanitie, and his breath is a bridle of errour in the iawes of the people.

29 And ye ſhal ſing like as in the night when the holy ſolemnitie beginneth, and ye ſhal haue gladneſſe of heart, like as when one commeth with a pipe vnto the hill of the Lord, and to the moſt mighty one of Iſrael.

30 And the Lord ſhal cauſe his glorious voice to bee heard, and ſhall declare his ſtretched out arme with a terrible countenance, and with a flame of conſuming fire, with noiſome lightning, with ſhowre, and with haileſtones.

31 For through the voice of the Lorde ſhall Aſſur be deſtroyed, which ſmote other men with the rod.

32 And it ſhal come to paſſe, that whitherſoeuer he goeth, the rod ſhal cleaue vnto him, which the Lord ſhall lay vpon him with Tabrets and harpes: and with great war ſhal he fight againſt his hoſte.

33 For the fire of hel is ordained from the beginning, yea euen for the king is it prepared: this hath the Lord ſet in the deepe, and made it wide, the burning whereof is fire and much wood: the breath of the Lord, which is like a riuer of brimſtone, doth kindle it.

The xxxj. Chapter.

He curſeth them that forſake God, and ſeeke for the helpe of men.

WOe be vnto them that goe downe into Egypt for helpe, and truſt in horſes, and put their confidence in charets, becauſe they be many, and in horſemen, becauſe they bee luſtie and ſtrong: but they regard not the holy one of Iſrael, and they aſke no queſtion at the Lord.

2 And he neuertheleſſe is wiſe, & wil plague the wicked, and goeth not from his word, he wil ariſe againſt the houſhold of the froward, and againſt the helpe of euill doers.

3 Now the Egyptians are men, & not God, and their horſes fleſh, and not ſpirit: and as ſoon as the Lord ſtretcheth out his hand, then ſhall the helper fall, and he that ſhould haue bene helped, and they ſhal all together be deſtroyed.

4 For thus hath the Lord ſpoken vnto mee, Like as the Lion and the Lions whelpe roareth vpon the pray that he hath gotten, and is not afraid though the multitude of Shepheards crie out vpon him, neither abaſhed for all the heape of them: ſo ſhall the Lorde of hoſtes come downe to fight for mount Sion, and defend his hill.

5 Like as the birds flutter about their neſts: ſo ſhal the Lord of hoſts keepe, ſaue, defend, and deliuer Hieruſalem.

6 Therefore, O ye children of Israel, turne againe vnto him whom you haue ofttimes forsaken.

7 For in that day euery man shall cast out his idoles of siluer, and his idoles of gold, which ye haue made with your owne hands vnto your sinne.

8 Assur also shalbe slaine with the sword, not with a mans sword, neither shall the sword of any man deuoure him, and he shall flee from the slaughter, and his choyse young men shalbe discomfited.

9 He shall goe for feare to his strong holdes, and his princes shall flee from his standard, saith the Lord, whose fire is in Sion, and his furnace in Hierusalem.

The xxij. Chapter.

The conditions of good rulers and officers.

BEhold, a king shall gouerne after the rule of righteousnesse, and the princes shall rule according vnto the balance of equitie.

2 And that man shall be vnto men as a defence for the winde, and as a refuge for the tempest, like as a riuer of water in a thirstie place, and the shadow of a great rocke in a drie land.

3 The eyes of the seeing shal not be dimme, and the eares of them that heare shall take diligent heede.

4 The heart of the vnwise shall attaine to knowledge, and the vnperfect tongue shal speak plainely and distinctly.

5 Then shall the foolish nigard be no more called gentle, nor the churle liberall.

6 But the nigard will speake nigardly, and his heart will worke euill, and play the hypocrite, and imagine abominations against God, to make the hungry leane, & to withhold drinke from the thirstie.

7 The weapons of the churlish are euill, he deuiseth noysome deuises, that he may beguile the poore with deceitfull words, yea, euen there as he should giue sentence with the poore.

8 But the liberall person imagineth honest things, and commeth vp for liberalitie vnto promotion.

9 Vp yee rich and idle women, hearken vnto my voyce: ye careless daughters, marke my wordes.

10 Many yeres and dayes shal ye be brought in feare, O ye careless women: for the vintage shall faile, and the haruest shall not come.

11 Be abashed, you that liue in abundance, tremble you that liue careless, cast off your rayment, make your selues bare, and put sackcloth about you.

12 For as the infants weepe when their mothers teates are dried vp: so shall you weepe for your faire fields and fruitfull vineyards.

13 My peoples field shal bring thornes and thistles: and so shal it be in euery house of voluptuousnesse, and in euery citie that reioyceth.

14 The palaces also shall be broken, and the greatly occupied cities desolate: the towres and bulwarkes shall become dennes for euermore, where wilde asses take their pleasure, and sheep their pasture, 15 Vnto the time that the spirit bee powred vpon vs from aboue, and that the wildernesse be a fruitfull field, and the plenteous field be reckoned for a wood.

16 *Then shal equitie dwel in the desert, and righteousnesse in a fruitfull land. Esai. 19.17.

17 And the worke of righteousnesse shall be peace, and her fruit rest and quietnesse for euer.

18 And my people shall dwell in the Innes of peace, and in sure dwellings, in safe places of comfort.

19 And when the hayle falleth, it shall fall in the wood, and the citie shall be set low in the valley.

20 O how happie shal ye be when ye shal safely sow your seed beside all waters, and driue thither the feete of your Oxen and Asses.

The xxxiij. Chapter.

1 Threatning against the Assyrians. 20 A destruction of them that shall see the Lord.

WOe to thee that destroyest, when thou wast not destroyed, thou breakest the league, whereas none hath broken it with thee: for whē thou shalt leaue destroying, thou thy self shalt be destroyed: and when thou ceasest from breaking the league, then shall they breake it to thee.

2 O Lord, haue mercy vpon vs, we haue put our whole trust in thee: be an arme to such early, and our health in the time of trouble.

3 At that confuse noyse the people fled, and at thine exalting, the heathen were scattered.

4 And the spoyles shall be gathered, which shall be yours, as are the gathering of Buchus, and the multitude going to it shal be as Locusts running to and fro.

5 The Lord is exalted, for it is hee that dwelleth on high, hee hath filled Sion with iudgement and righteousnesse.

6 And a sure stablishing of the times, shall be strength, health, wisedome, and knowledge: and the very feare of the Lord shall be the treasure of it.

7 Behold, the messengers shall crie without: and the ambassadours of peace shal weepe bitterly.

8 Their streetes are waste, there walketh no man therein: God hath broken the appointment, the cities are cast away, and men are nothing regarded.

9 The desolate earth is in heauinesse, Libanus is shamed and hewen downe, Saron is like a wildernesse, Basan and Charmel are spoyled of their fruits.

10 And therefore saith the Lord, I will vp now, now will I be aduanced, now will I be exalted.

11 Ye shall conceiue stubble, and beare straw: and your spirit shall be the fire, that it may consume you.

12 And the people shal be burnt like lime, and as thornes burnt that are hewen off, and cast in the fire.

13 Now hearken to, ye that are farre off, how I haue done, and consider my power, ye that are at hand.

14 The sinners at Sion are afraide, a sudden fearefulnesse is come vpon the hypocrites: What is he among vs, say they, that shall dwell by the consuming fire? which of vs may abide the euerlasting heate?

Psal. 15.2. 15 *He that leadeth a godly life, and speaketh the trueth, he that abhorreth gaines by violence and deceit, hee that keepeth his hand that hee touch no reward, which stoppeth his eares that he heare no counsell against the innocent blood, which holdeth downe his eyes that hee see no euill:

16 Hee it is that shall dwell on high, whose safegard shall be in a bulwarke of rocks: to him shall bee giuen meate, and his waters shall not faile.

17 Thine eyes shall see the king in his glory, euen the King of the farre countreyes shall they see.

18 Thine heart studied for feare, thinking thus, 1.Cor.1.16 *What shall then become of the Scribe? of the receiuer of our money? what of him that tared our fairest houses?

19 There shalt thou not see a cruell people of a strange tongue, to haue so diffused a language that it may not bee vnderstanded, neither so strange a speech but it shall be perceiued.

20 Looke vpon Sion, the head citie of our solemne feastes: thine eyes shall see Hierusalem that glorious habitation, the tabernacle that neuer shall remoue, whose nailes shall neuer be taken out world without end, whose cordes euery one shall neuer corrupt.

21 For the glorious maiesty of the Lord shall there bee present among vs, as a place where faire broad riuers and streames are, thorow the which, shall neither Galley rowe, nor great ship saile.

22 For the Lord is our iudge, the Lord is our law-giuer, the Lorde is our King, and hee himselfe shalbe our Sauiour.

23 Thy tackling is loosed, therefore it cannot make fast the masse, nor spread the saile: then there is dealed great spoyle, yea, lame men run after the pray.

24 There lyeth no man that sayeth, I am sicke: but all euill is taken away from the people that dwell there.

The xxxiiij. Chapter.

The last destruction of the Synagogue, in which the kingdome and priesthood of the people was translated to the Church and congregation of Christ.

COme ye heathen, and heare, take heede you people: hearken thou earth, & all that is therein, thou round compasse, & all that dwelleth thereupon.

2 For the Lord is angry with all people, and his displeasure is kindled against all the multitude of them, hee hath destroyed them, and deliuered them to the slaughter.

3 So that their slaine shall be cast out, and their bodies shall stinke, that euen the very hils shalbe wet with the blood of them.

4 All the starres of heauen shall waste, and the heauens shall fold together as a role, and all the starres thereof shall fall, like as the leaues fall from the vines and figge trees.

5 For my sworde shalbe bathed in heauen, and shal immediatly come downe to iudgement vpon Idumea, and vpon the people which I haue cursed.

6 And the Lords sword shalbe full of blood, and be ruddie with the fattenesse and blood of lambes and goates, with the fatnesse of the kidneys of wethers: for the Lord shall kill a great offering in Bozra, and a great slaughter in the land of Idumea.

7 There shall the Unicorns fall with them, and the Bulles with the Gyants, and their land shalbe throughly soked with blood, and their ground corrupt with fatnesse.

8 For it is the [a] day of Gods vengeance, and the yeere of recompence for the reuenge of Sion. a God declareth his loue and care to preserue his Church by his seuere punishing of the enimies to his Church.

9 And his floods shalbe turned to pitch, and his earth to brimstone, and therewith shall the land be kindled.

10 So that it shall not be quenched day nor night, but smoke euermore, & so forth lye waste: and no man shall goe thorow it for euer.

11 *But Pelicanes, Stockes, great Owles, Soph. 2.14. and Rauens shall haue it in possession, and dwell therein: for God shall spread out the line of desolation vpon it, and the stones of emptinesse.

12 Her nobles shall call, and there is no kingdome: and all her princes shall be nothing.

13 Thornes shall grow in their palaces, nettles and thistles in their strong holdes, that the dragons may haue their pleasure therein, and that they may be a court for Estriches.

14 There shall strange diuises and monsterous beastes meete one another, and the wilde keepe companie together, there shall the Lamia lye and haue her lodging.

15 There shal the Owle make her nest, build, be there at home, and bring forth her yong ones: there shall the Kites come together, each one to his like.

16 Seeke through the book of the Lord, and read it: there shall none of these things bee left out, there shall not one nor such like faile: for his mouth commaundeth, and that same doeth his spirit gather together, or fulfill.

17 Hee hath cast the lot for them, and to those beasts hath his hand diuided it by the line: therefore those shall possesse it for euer, from generation to generation shall they dwell therein.

The xxxv. Chapter.

Of the time and kingdome of Christ.

BUt [a] the desert and wildernesse shall reioyce, the waste ground shalbe glad, & flourish as the Lilie. a The barren nature of mankinde to all goodnesse, shall be made fruitfull by grace promised in Christ. Deut. 29. and 31.

2 She shall flourish pleasantly, and be ioyfull, and euer be giuing thankes more and more: For the glory of Libanus, the beautie of Carmel & Saron shalbe giuen her: These shall know the honour of the Lord, and the maiestie of our God.

3 And therefore [b] strength the weake hands, and comfort the feeble knees. b God giueth strength of grace to the feeble consciences by preaching the word.

4 Say vnto them that are of a fearefull heart, Be of good cheere, and feare not, beholde, your God commeth to take vengeance, and you shall see the reward that God giueth: God commeth his owne selfe, and will deliuer you.

5 *Then shall the eyes of the blind be lightened, and the eares of the deafe opened. Mat.15.30.

6 Then shal the lame men leape as an Hart, and the dumbe mans tongue shal giue thankes: for in the wildernesse there shall welles spring, and floods of water in the desert.

7 The drie ground shall turne to riuers, and the thirstie to springs of water: whereas Dragons dwelt afore, there shall growe sweete floures and greene rushes.

8 There shall be footepaths, and common streets, this shalbe called, The holy way, no vncleane person shall goe through it, for the Lorde himselfe shall goe with them that way, and the wayfarer nor ignorant shall not erre.

9 There shalbe no Lyon, and no rauening beasts shall come therein, nor be there, but men redeemed shall goe there free and safe.

10 And the redeemed of the Lord, I say, shall conuert, and come to Sion with thanksgiuing: euerlasting ioy shall they haue, pleasure & gladnesse shalbe among them, and as for all sorow and heauinesse, it shall vanish.

The xxxvj. Chapter.

Hierusalem is besieged by Sennacherib, in the time of king Ezecias.

4.Kin. 18. 13.2.chro. 32.1. IN * the fourteenth yere of king Ezecias, came Sennacherib king of the Assyrians downe, to lay siege vnto all the strong cities of Juda, to conquer them.

2 And the king of the Assyrians sent Rabsaceh from Lachis toward Hierusalem, against Ezecias, with an exceeding hoste, which set him by the conduit of the ouer poole, in the way that goeth through the fullers land.

3 And so there came forth vnto him Eliacim, Helcias sonne, the chiefe ouer the houshold, Sobna the scribe, and Joah Asaphs sonne, the secretarie:

4 And Rabsaceh sayd vnto them, Tell Ezecia that the great king sayeth thus vnto him, What presumption is this that thou trustest vnto?

5 I sayd surely that thou trustest in vaine words, when counsell and strength are necessarie to battell: but now whereto trustest thou, that thou rebellest against me?

6 Loe, thou puttest thy trust in a broken staffe of reed, I meane Egypt, which hee that leaneth vpon, it goeth into his hand, and shooteth it thorow: euen so is Pharao the king of Egypt, vnto all them that trust in him.

7 But if thou wouldest say vnto me, Wee trust in the Lord our God: Is not hee that God whose high places & altars Ezecia tooke downe, and commanded Juda and Hierusalem to worship onely before this altar?

8 Now therefore deliuer hostages, that thou rebell no more against my lord the king of the Assyrians, and I will giue thee two thousand horses, if thou be able to set men vpon them.

9 How darest thou resist the power of the smallest prince that my Lorde hath? how darest thou trust in the charets and horsemen of Egypt?

10 Moreouer, thinkest thou that I am come vp hither to destroy this land without the Lords will? The Lorde sayd vnto me, Goe vp against this land, and destroy it.

11 Then sayde Eliacim, Sobna, and Joah, vnto Rabsaceh, Speake to vs thy seruants, we pray thee, in the Syrians language, for we vnderstand it well, and speake not to vs in the Jewes tongue, least the folke heare which lyeth vpon the wall.

12 Then answered Rabsaceh, Hath my master sent mee to speake this onely to thy master and thee? hath he not sent me to them also that lye vpon the wall, that they may be compelled to eate their owne doung, and drinke their owne stale with you?

13 And Rabsaceh stood stiffe, and cryed with a loude voice in the Jewes tongue, and sayde, Now take heede how the great king of the Assyrians giueth you warning.

14 Thus sayeth the king, Let not Ezecia deceiue you, for he shall not be able to deliuer you.

15 Moreouer, Let not Ezecia comfort you in the Lorde, when he saith, The Lorde without doubt shall defend vs, and shall not giue ouer this citie into the hands of the king of the Assyrians.

16 Hearken not to Ezecia, for thus sayth the king of Assyria, Obtaine my fauour, encline to me, so may euery man enioy his vineyards and figge trees, and drinke the water of his cisterne:

17 Vnto the time that I come my selfe, and bring you into a land that is like your owne, wherein is wheate and wine, which is both sowen with seed, and planted with vineyards.

18 Let not Ezecia deceiue you, when hee sayeth vnto you, The Lorde shall deliuer vs: might the god of the Gentiles keepe euery mans lande from the power of the king of the Assyrians?

19 Where is the god of Hemath and Arphad? where is the god of Sepharuaim? and who is able to defend Samaria out of my hand?

20 Or which of all the gods of these landes hath deliuered their countrey out of my power? Is the Lord indeed able to deliuer Hierusalem from my hand?

21 Vnto this Ezecias messengers held their tongues, and answered not one worde: for the king had charged them that they should giue him no answere.

22 So came Eliacim Helcias sonne the chiefe ouer the houshold, Sobna the Scribe, and Joah Asaphs sonne the Secretarie, vnto Ezecia with rent clothes, and tolde him the wordes of Rabsaceh.

The xxxvij. Chapter.

1 Ezecia humbleth himselfe before the Lorde. 35 The armie of Sennacherib is slaine of the Angel of the Lord, 38 And hee himselfe is killed of his owne sonnes.

WHen Ezecia heard that, he rent his clothes, and put on sackecloth, and went into the Temple of the Lord.

2 But he sent Eliacim the chiefe ouer the houshold, and Sobna the scribe, with the eldest priests, clothed in sacke, vnto the Prophet Esay the sonne of Amos,

3 And they sayd vnto him, Thus sayeth Ezecia, This is the day of trouble, of plague, and of blasphemie: for the children are come to the place of birth, but there is no power to bring them forth.

4 The Lorde thy God no doubt hath well considered the wordes of Rabsaceh, whome his lord king of the Assyrians hath sent to defie and blaspheme the liuing God, with such wordes as the Lorde thy God hath heard right well: and therefore lift vp thy prayer for the remnant that yet are left.

5 So the seruants of the king Ezecia came to Esay.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Rr6r

6 And Esay gaue them this answere, Say thus vnto your lord, Thus sayth the Lord, Be not afraid of the wordes that thou hast heard, wherewith the king of the Assyrians seruants haue blasphemed me.

7 Beholde, I will raise vp a winde against him, and he shall heare a rumour, and he shall go againe into his countrey, there will I destroy him with the sword in his owne land.

8 Now when Rablaceh returned, he found the king of Assyria laying siege to Libnas: for hee had vnderstanding that hee was departed from Lachis.

4.Reg.19.9 9 *And there came a rumour that Tharacah king of Ethiopia was come forth to warre against him: and when the king of Assyria heard that, hee sent other messengers to king Ezecia with this commaundement.

10 Say thus to Ezecia king of Juda, Let not thy God deceiue thee in whom thou hopest, and sayest, Hierusalem shall not bee giuen into the hands of the king of Assyria.

11 For loe, thou knowest well how the kings of Assyria haue handled all the landes that they haue subuerted: and hopest thou to escape?

12 Were the people of the Gentiles, whome my progenitours conquered, deliuered at any time through their gods? As namely, Golan, Haran, Rezeph, and the children of Eden, which were at Thalassar?

13 Where is the king of Hemath, and the king of Arphad, and the king of the citie Sepharuaim, Ena, and Ana?

14 Now when Ezecia had receiued the letter of the messengers, and read it, hee went vp into the house of the Lord, and opened the letter before the Lord.

15 And Ezecia prayed vnto the Lorde on this manner.

16 O Lorde of hostes, thou God of Israel, which dwellest vpon Cherubim, thou art the God that onely is God of all the kingdomes of the worlde, for thou onely hast created heauen and earth, 17 Encline thine eare, Lorde, and consider, open thine eies, Lord, and see, and ponder all the wordes of Sennacherib, which hath sent his embassage to blaspheme the liuing God.

18 It is true, O Lord, that the kings of Assyria haue conquered all kingdomes and lands, 19 And cast their gods in the fire: for those were no gods, but the workes of mens handes, of wood, or stone, therefore haue they destroyed them.

20 Now therefore deliuer vs, O Lorde our God, from the hands of Sennacherib, that all the kingdoms of the earth may know that thou onely art the Lord.

21 Then Esay the sonne of Amos sent vnto Ezecia, saying, Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel, whereas thou hast made thy prayer vnto me as touching Sennacherib the king of Assyria, 22 This is the answere that the Lorde hath giuen concerning him: The virgine the daughter of Sion hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorne: the daughter of Hierusalem hath shaken her head at thee.

23 But thou Sennacherib, whom hast thou defied and blasphemed? Against whome hast thou lifted vp thy voice, and exalted thy proude lookes? euen against the holy one of Israel.

24 Thou with thy seruants hast blasphemed the Lorde, and thus boldest thou of thy selfe: I will couer the high mountaines and sides of Libanus with my horsemen, and there will I cut downe the high Cedar trees, and the fairest firre trees: I will vp into the height of it, and into the chiefest of his timber woods.

25 If there bee no water, I will graue and drinke: and as for waters of defence, I will dry them vp with the feete of mine hoste.

26 Yea, hast thou not heard what I haue taken in hand, and brought to passe of olde time? That same will I doe now also, and waste, destroy, and bring strong cities vnto heapes of stones.

27 For their inhabiters shalbe like lame men brought in feare and confounded: they shall be like grasse and greene hearbes in the field, like hay vpon the house tops that withereth before it be growen vp.

28 I knowe thy wayes, thy going forth, and thy comming home, yea and thy madnesse against me.

29 Therefore thy furiousnesse against mee, and thy pride is come before me, I will put my ring in thy nose, and my bridle bit in thy chawes of thee, and turne thee about euen the same way that thou camest.

30 I will giue thee also this token, O Ezecia, this yeere shalt thou eate such as groweth of it selfe, and the second yeere that which springeth againe of the same, and in the third yeere yee shall sow and reape, yea ye shal plant vineyards, and enioy the fruits thereof.

31 And such of the house of Juda as are escaped, shall come together, and the remnant shall take roote beneath, and bring forth fruite aboue.

32 For the escaped shall goe out of Hierusalem, and the remnant from the mount Sion: and this shall the zeale of the Lord of hosts bring to passe.

33 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde, concerning the king of the Assyrians, He shall not come into this citie, and shall shoot no arrowe into it, there shall no shielde hurt it, neither shall they cast ditches about it.

34 The same way hee came he shall returne, and not come in this citie, saith the Lord.

35 And I will keepe and saue this citie, sayeth hee, for mine owne, and for my seruant Dauids sake.

4.Re.19.25 ecclus.48. 24. 36 *Thus the Angel of the Lord went forth, and slew of the Syrians hoste, an hundred fourescore and fiue thousand: and when men arose vp early in the morning, beholde, they were slaine, and all lay full of dead bodies.

37 So Sennacherib the king of the Assyrians brake vp, and dwelt at Nineue.

38 Afterward it chanced as hee prayed in the Temple of Nesroch his god, that Adramelech and Sarazer his owne sonnes slewe him with the sworde, and fledde into the lande of Armenia: and Asarhaddon his sonne reigned in his stead.

ABout this time was * Ezecia ſicke vnto death, and the Prophet Eſay the ſonne of Amos came vnto him, and ſayd, Thus commaundeth the Lorde, Set thine houſe in order, for thou muſt die, and ſhalt not eſcape.

2 Then Ezecia turned his face toward the wall, and prayed vnto the Lord,

3 And ſayd, Remember O Lorde, I beſeech thee, that I haue walked before thee in trueth and a ſtedfaſt heart, and haue done the thing that is pleaſant to thee. And Ezecia wept ſore.

4 Then ſayd God vnto Eſay,

5 Goe, and ſpeake vnto Ezecia, The Lorde God of Dauid thy father ſendeth thee this worde, I haue heard thy prayer and conſidered thy teares: behold, I wil put fifteene yeres moe vnto thy life,

6 And deliuer thee and thy citie alſo from the hand of the king of Aſſyria: for I will defend the citie.

7 And take thee this token of the Lord, that he will doe it as he hath ſpoken.

8 Behold, I will returne the ſhadowe of Ahaz dyall that now is laid out with the Sunne, and bring it tenne degrees backeward. So the Sunne turned tenne degrees backeward, the which he was deſcended afore.

9 A thankeſgiuing which Ezecia king of Iuda wrote, when he had beene ſicke and recouered.

10 I thought I ſhould haue gone to the gates of hell, when mine age was ſhortened, and haue wanted the reſidue of my yeeres.

11 I ſpake within my ſelfe, I will neuer viſite the Lorde, the Lorde I ſay, in this life: I will neuer ſee man among the dwellers of the world.

12 Mine age is folden together, and taken away from me like a shepheards cottage, I haue hewen off my life by my ſinnes, like as a weauer cutteth of his web: he will with pining ſickines make an end of me, yea hee will make an end of mee in one day.

13 I thought I would haue liued vntill the morowe, but he bruſed my bones like a Lyon: and in one day thou wilt make an end of me.

14 Then chattered I like a Swallowe, and like a Crane, and mourned like a Doue, I lift vp mine eyes into the height: O Lord ſayd I, my ſickneſſe keepeth me downe, eaſe thou me.

15 What ſhall I ſay? The Lord hath made a promiſe to me, yea, and he himſelfe hath performed it: I will therefore ſo long as I liue, remember this bitterneſſe of my life.

16 O Lord, to all thoſe that ſhall liue hereafter, yea to all men ſhall it be knowen, that euen in thoſe yeeres I haue a ioyfull life, and that it was thou that cauſedſt me to ſleepe, againe thou haſt giuen life to me.

17 Beholde, bitter as gall was my penſiueneſſe, ſo ſore longed I for health, and it was thy pleaſure to deliuer my life from the filthy pitte: for thou it is, O Lord, that haſt caſt all my ſinnes behind thy backe.

18 For hell praiſeth not thee, death doth not magnifie thee: they that goe downe into the graue prayſe not thy trueth:

19 But the liuing, yea the liuing knowledge thee, as I doe this day: the father telleth his children of thy faithfulneſſe.

20 To heale me it is the Lordes worke, and we will ſing my ſongs in the houſe of the Lorde all the dayes of our life.

21 And Eſay ſayd, Take a plaſter of figs, and lay it vpon the ſore, ſo ſhall it be whole.

22 Then ſayde Ezecia, O what a miracle is this, that I ſhall goe vp into the houſe of the Lorde.

The xxxix. Chapter.

Ezecia is reprooued of Eſay, becauſe hee ſhewed his treaſure vnto the Ambaſſadours of Babylon.

AT the ſame time * Merodach Baladans ſonne, king of Babylon, ſent letters and preſents to Ezecia: for he vnderſtood that hee had beene ſicke, and was recouered againe. 4.King.20.12.

2 And Ezecia was glad thereof, and ſhewed them the houſe of his treaſures of ſiluer & gold, of ſpices, and rootes, of precious oyles, and all that was in cupbords and treaſure houſes: there was not one thing in Ezecias houſe, and ſo throwout all his kingdome, but he let them ſee it.

3 Then came Eſay the Prophet to king Ezecia, and ſaide vnto him, What haue the men ſayd, and from whence came they vnto thee? Ezecia anſwered, They came out of a farre countrey vnto me, out of Babylon.

4 Eſay ſayde, What haue they looked vpon in thy houſe? Ezecia anſwered, All that is in my houſe haue they ſeene, and there is nothing in my treaſure but I ſhewed it them.

5 Then ſayd Eſay vnto Ezecia, Vnderſtand the word of the Lord of hoſtes.

6 Beholde, the time will come, that euery thing which is in thine houſe, and all that thy progenitors haue laid vp in ſtore vntill this day, ſhall be caried to Babylon, and nothing left behinde: thus ſayth the Lord.

7 Yea, and part of thy ſonnes that ſhall come of thee, and whom thou ſhalt beget, ſhalbe caried hence, and become gelded chamberlaines in the king of Babylons court.

8 Then ſayde Ezecia to Eſay, Good is the word of God which thou haſt tolde me. He ſayd moreouer, For there ſhall be peace and faithfulneſſe in my time.

Christ promiseth to deliuer his Church without any her deserts,

SO *heare nowe, O Iacob my seruant, and Israel whom I haue chosen. Ier.30.10.

2 For thus saith the Lord that made thee, fashioned thee, and helped thee euen from thy mothers wombe: Be not afraide, O Iacob my seruant, thou righteous whom I haue chosen:

3 *For I shall powre water vpon the dry ground, & riuers vpon the thirstie: I shall powre my spirit vpon thy seede, and my blessing vpon thy stocke: Ioel 2.28 acts.2.17. iohn 7.38.

4 They shal grow together like as the grasse, and as the willowes by the waters side.

5 One shall say, I am the Lords: another shall call himselfe after the name of Jacob: the third shal subscribe with his hand vnto the Lord, and giue himselfe vnder the name of Israel.

6 Thus hath the Lord spoken, euen the King of Israel, and his redeemer the Lord of hostes: Esai.41.4. apoc.1.17. esai.48.12. *I am the first and the last, and beside mee there is no God.

7 If any be like mee, let him call foorth the thing past, and openly shewe it, and lay it plaine before me what hath chanced since I appointed the people of the world, and what shalbe shortly, or what shall come to passe in time long to come, let them shew these things.

8 Bee not abashed nor afraide: for haue not I euer told you hitherto, and warned you? yee can beare mee record your selues: is there any God except mee, or any maker, that I should not know him?

9 All caruers of images are but vaine, and the carued image that they loue can do no good: they must beare record themselues, that seeing they can neither see nor vnderstand, they shall be confounded.

10 Who dare then make a god, or fashion an image that is profitable for nothing?

11 Behold, all the fellowship of them must be brought to confusion, and truely all the workemasters of them are men: they shall all be gathered together, they shall stand, tremble, and bee confounded one with another.

Wisd.13.11. iere.10.3. 12 *The Smith maketh an axe, and tempereth it with hote coales, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh with all the strength of his armes, yea, sometime hee is faint for very hunger, and so thirstie that hee hath no more power.

13 The Carpenter or image caruer taketh measure of the timber, and spreadeth foorth his line, he marketh it with some colour, he planeth it, he ruleth it, and squareth it, and maketh it after the image of a man, according to the beautie of a man, that it may stand in the house.

14 Moreouer, hee goeth out to hewe Cedar trees, hee bringeth home Elmes and Okes, and taking a bolde courage, hee seeketh out the best timber of the wood: hee himselfe hath planted a Pine tree, which the raine hath sweiled.

15 Which wood serueth for men to burne: Of this hee taketh and warmeth himselfe withall, he maketh a fire of it to bake bread, and maketh also a god thereof to honour it, and a grauen image to kneele before it.

16 One piece he burneth in the fire, with another hee rosteth flesh, that hee may eate roste his belly full: with the third he warmeth himselfe, and saith, Aha, I am well warmed, I haue bene at the fire.

17 And of the residue hee maketh him a god, and a grauen image for himselfe: hee kneeleth before it, he worshippeth it, hee prayeth vnto it, and saith, Deliuer me, for thou art my god.

18 Yet men neither consider nor vnderstand, because their eyes bee stopped that they cannot see, and their hearts that they cannot perceiue.

19 They ponder not in their mindes, for they haue neither knowledge nor vnderstanding to thinke thus, I haue burnt one piece in the fire, I haue baked bread with the coales therof, I haue rosted flesh withall and eaten it: and I will now of the residue make an abhominable idole, and fall downe before a rotten piece of wood.

20 Thus doth he but lose his labour, and his heart which is deceiued doeth turne him aside, so that none of them can haue a free conscience to thinke, Doe not I erre?

21 Consider this, O Jacob and Israel, for thou art my seruant: I made thee, that thou mightest serue me, O Israel, forget me not.

22 As for thine offences, I haue driuen them away like the clouds, and thy sinnes as the myst: turne thee againe vnto mee, for I haue redeemed thee.

23 Bee glad yee heauens, for the Lord hath dealt graciously with his people, let all that is here beneath vpon the earth be ioyfull: reioyce yee mountaines and woods, with all the trees thereof, for the Lord hath redeemed Jacob, and will shew his glory vpon Israel.

24 Thus saith the Lord thy redeemer, euen he that fashioned thee frō thy mothers wombe, I the Lord doe all things my selfe alone, I onely spread out the heauens, and I onely haue layde abroad the earth by mine owne selfe.

25 I destroy the tokens of witches, and make the soothsayers fooles: As for the wise, I turne them backeward, and make their cunning foolishnesse.

26 He doeth set by the purpose of his seruant, and fulfilleth the counsel of his messengers: concerning Hierusalem he saith, It shalbe inhabited, and of the cities of Juda, They shalbe builded againe, and I will repaire their decayed places.

27 Hee saith to the depth, Be dry: and, I will dry vp water floods.

28 He saith of Cyrus, He is my heardman, so that he shall fulfill all things after my will: hee saith also of Hierusalem, It shalbe builded: and of the Temple, It shalbe fast grounded.

The xlv. Chapter.

The cōming of Christ, and the calling of the Gentiles.

THus saieth the Lord vnto Cyrus his anoynted, whom I haue taken by the right hande, to subdue nations before him: I will loose the [a] loynes of Kings, and I will open the gates before his face, and the gates shal not be shut.

a The loynes that is, the power and strength.

2 I will goe before thee, and make the crooked straight: I shall breake the brasen doores, and burst the yron barres.

3 I shall giue thee hidde treasures, and the thing which is secretly kept: that thou mayest know that I am the Lord God of Israel, which haue called thee by thy name.

4 For Jacob my seruants sake, and for Israel my chosen, I called thee by thy name, and ordeined thee or euer thou knewest me.

5 I am the Lord, and there is none other, for without me there is no god, I haue prepared thee or euer thou knewest me.

6 Therefore they shal know from the rising of the Sunne, vnto the going down of the same, that all is nothing without mee: for I am the Lord, and there is els none.

7 It is I that created light and darkenes, I make peace and trouble: yea, euen I the Lord do all these things.

8 Ye heauens from aboue drop downe, and let the cloudes raine righteousnesse: the earth open it selfe, let saluation and righteousnesse grow foorth, let it bring them foorth together: I the Lord haue created him.

9 Woe bee vnto him that striueth with his maker, let the potshard striue with the potshards of the earth: *Sayeth the clay to the Potter, What makest thou? or, Thy worke is not perfectly done?

Iere.18.6, rom.9.20.

10 Woe be vnto him that sayth to his father, What begettest thou? and to his mother, What bearest thou?

11 Thus sayth the Lord, euen the holy one and maker of Israel, Aske mee of things for to come concerning my sonnes, & put me in remembrance as touching the workes of mine hands.

12 I haue made the earth, and created man vpon it: with my handes haue I spread foorth heauen, and giuen a commandement for all the hoste thereof.

13 I shall wake him vp with righteousnesse, and order all his wayes: he shall build my citie, and let out my prisoners, and that neither for gifts nor rewards, sayth the Lord of hostes.

14 Thus sayth the Lord, The occupiers of Egypt, the merchants of the Ethiopians and Sabees shall come vnto thee with tribute, they shal be thine, they shall followe thee, and goe with chaines vpon their feete, they shall fall downe before thee, and make supplication vnto thee: for God, without whome there is none other God, shalbe with thee.

15 O howe profound art thou, O God, thou God and sauiour of Israel?

16 Confounded are they all and put to dishonour, they are gone hence together with shame, euen the makers of images.

17 But Israel shal be saued in the Lord with an euerlasting saluation: yee shall not come to shame nor confusion world without end.

18 For thus sayth the Lord (that created heauen, the God that made the earth and fashioned it, and set it forth, he did not make it for nought, but to bee inhabited) I am the Lord, without whom there is none other.

19 I haue not spoken secretly, neither in darke places of the earth: I sayd not in vaine to the seede of Jacob, Seeke me: I am the Lord, which when I speake do declare the thing that is righteous and true.

20 Gather you and come together, draw nigh hither you that escaped of the people: they haue no vnderstanding that set vp the stockes of their idoles, and pray vnto a god that cannot helpe them.

21 Draw nigh, come hither, & let them aske counsel one at another, and shew forth what is he that told this before, or who spake of it euer since the beginning: haue not I the Lord done it? without whom there is none other God, the true God & Sauiour, & there is els none but I.

22 And therefore turne you vnto mee all yee ends of the earth, that ye may be saued: for I am God, and there is els none.

23 I sware by my selfe, out of my mouth commeth the word of righteousnes, and that may no man turne: *but all knees shall bow vnto mee, and all tongues shall sweare by my name,

Rom.14.11 phil.2.10.

24 Saying, Verily in the Lord is my righteousnesse and strength, to him shal men come, but all they that thinke scorne of him shall bee confounded.

25 And the whole seede of Israel shal be iustified, and glory in the Lord.

The xlvj. Chapter.

1 Idolatrie is reproued. 3 The health that commeth by Christ is prophesied.

BEl is fallen, Nabo is broken down, whose images were a burden for the beastes and cattell, to ouerlade them, and to make them wearie.

2 They are sunke downe & fallen together, for they may not ease the of their burden, therefore must they goe into captiuitie.

3 Hearken vnto me, O house of Jacob, and all yee that remaine yet of the house of Israel, whom I haue borne from your mothers womb, and brought you vp from your birth.

4 Jt is euen I which shall beare you vnto your last age: I haue made you, I will also nourish you, heare you, and saue you.

5 Whom will yee make me like, or to whom will ye make mee equall or compare mee, that I should be like him?

6 Take out siluer & gold out of your purses, and waigh it, & hire a goldsmith to make a god of it, that men may kneele downe and worship it:

7 *Yet must he be taken on mens shoulders and borne, and set in his place, that hee may stand, and not moue out of his place: and if one crie vnto him, he giueth no answere, and deliuereth not the man, that calleth vpon him, from his trouble.

Baruc.6.26.

8 Consider this wel, and be ashamed, goe into your owne selues.

9 Remember the things that are past since the beginning of the world, that I am God, and that there is els no God, yea, and that there is nothing like vnto mee.

10 In the beginning of a thing, I shewe the end thereof, and I tell before things that are not yet come to passe: My deuice standeth stedfastly stablished, and I fulfill all my pleasure.

11 I cal a bird out of the East, and the man by whom my counsell shalbe fulfilled out of strange countries: as I haue spoken, so will I bring to passe: assoon as I think to deuise a thing, I do it.

12 Heare mee, O yee that are of an high stomacke, but farre from righteousnes:

13 I shall bring forth my righteousnesse, it is not far, & my health shall not tarie long away: I wil lay health in Sion, and in Jsrael my glorie.

The xlvij. Chapter.

The word of the Lord against Babylon.

BVt as for thee, O daughter thou virgin Babylon, sit thou downe in the dust, sit vpon the ground, there is no throne, O thou daughter of Chaldea, for thou shalt no more be called. Tender and pleasant.

2 Bring forth the querne and grinde meale, vntrusse thy disordered haire, put off thy shoes, make bare thy knees, and wade thorow the water riuers.

3 *Thy filthinesse shall bee discouered, and thy priuities shall bee seene: for I will auenge me of thee, and will shew no mercie to thee, as I doe to other men.

darke corner, O daughter Chaldea: for thou shalt no more be called, Ladie of kingdomes.

6 I was so wroth with my people, that I punished mine inheritance, and gaue them into thy power, neuertheless, thou shewedst them no mercie, but euen the very aged of them diddest thou oppresse right sore with thy yoke.

7 And thou thoughtest thus, I shall be ladie for euer, and beside all that, thou hast not regarded these things, neither remembred what was the end of that citie Hierusalem.

8 Heare now therefore thou delicate one that sittest so carelesse, & speakest thus in thine heart, I am alone, and without mee there is none, I shal neuer be widow nor desolate againe.

Esa.51.19. reue.18.7.

9 *And yet both these things shall come to thee, vpon one day in the twinckling of an eye, namely, widowhood and desolation: they shall mightily fall vpon thee, for the multitude of thy witches, and for the great heap of thy coniurers.

10 For thou hast trusted in thy wickednesse, and hast said, No man seeth me: thine owne wisdome and cunning hath deceiued thee, in that thou hast said in thine heart, I am alone, and without me there is none.

11 Therefore shall trouble come vpon thee, & thou shalt not know from whence it shal rise: mischiefe shal fall vpon thee, which thou shalt not bee able to put off, a sudden vtter destruction shal come vpon thee or euer thou bee ware.

12 Now go to thy coniurers, and to the multitude of thy witches with whom thou hast wearied thy selfe from thy youth, if they may helpe thee, or strength thee.

13 Thou hast hitherto had many counsels of them: So let the heauen gazers, and the beholders of starres, and moone prophets, come on nowe and deliuer thee, yea, and let them shewe when these new things shall come vpon thee.

14 Behold, they shall be like strawe, which if it bee kindled with fire, no man may ridde it for the vehemencie of the flame, and yet it giueth no sinders to warme a man by, nor cleare fire to sit by.

15 Thus are they with whom thou hast wearied thy selfe, and thus are thy merchants that haue bene with thee from thy youth: euery one hath taken his owne way, and none of them shal defend thee.

The xlviij. Chapter.

1 The hypocrisie of the Iewes is reproued. 11 The Lord alone wil be worshipped, which hath chosen vs, 20 and which succoureth vs, for his owne sake.

HEare this, O thou house of Iacob, yee that are called by the name of Israel, and are come out of one stocke with Iuda: which sweare by the name of the Lord, and beare witnesse by the God of Israel, but not with trueth and right.

2 For they are named of the holie citie, and are grounded vpon the God of Israel, whose name is the Lord of hostes.

3 The things that I haue shewed you euer since the beginning, haue I not brought them to passe immediatly, as they came out of my mouth, and declared them, and they are come?

4 Howbeit, I know that thou art obstinate, and that thy necke hath an iron sinew, and that thy browe is of brasse.

5 Neuertheles, I haue euer since the beginning shewed thee of things for to come, and declared them vnto thee or euer they came to passe: that thou shouldest not say, Mine idole hath done it, my carued or moulten image hath shewed it.

6 Thou heardest it before, and behold, it is come to passe. And shall not ye your selues shewe forth or confesse the same? But as for me, I told thee before at the beginning newe and secrete things which thou knewest not of,

7 And some done of old time, whereof thou neuer heardest before they were brought to passe, that thou canst not say, Behold, I knew of them.

8 Moreouer, there bee some whereof thou hast neither heard nor known, neither haue bene opened vnto thine eares afore time: For I knewe that thou wouldest maliciously offend, therefore haue I called thee a transgressour, euen from thy mothers wombe.

9 Neuertheless, for my names sake I will withdraw my wrath, and for my honours sake I wil patiently forbeare thee, that I do not root thee out.

10 Behold, I haue purged thee, yet not as siluer. I haue chosen thee in the fire of affliction.

11 And that onely for mine owne sake, yea, euen for mine owne sake will I doe this: or els what dishonour would they doe to my name? surely I wil not giue my *glory vnto another.

Esa.42.8.

12 Hearken vnto mee, O Iacob, and Israel whom I haue called: *I am euen hee that is, I am the first and the last.

Esa.41.4. and 44.6.

13 My hande hath laied the foundation of the earth, and my right hand hath spanned ouer the heauens: as soone as I call them, they stand together.

14 Gather you all together, and hearken: Which of yonder gods hath declared this? The Lord hath a loue vnto him, and he shal performe his will against Babel, and declare his power against the Chaldees.

15 I my selfe alone, euen I haue tolde you this. I did call him, and bring him forth, and hee shall make his iourney prosperous.

16 Come to me, and heare this: haue I spoken any thing darkly since the beginning? From the time that this thing beginneth, I am there: Wherefore the Lorde God and his spirit hath sent me.

17 And thus sayth the Lord God thy redeemer, the holy one of Israel, I am the Lord thy God, which teach thee profitable things, and leade thee the way that thou shouldest goe.

18 O that thou hadst regarded my commandements, then had thy wealthinesse bene as the water streame, and thy righteousnesse as the waues flowing in the sea.

19 Thy seed also had bene like as the sand in the sea, and the fruit of thy body like the graueil stones thereof: His name should not be rooted out nor destroyed before me.

20 Goe away from Babylon, flee from the Chaldees, with a merie voice speake of this, declare it abroad, and goe forth into the end of the world, say, *The Lord hath redeemed his seruant Iacob.

Esay.57.21 22 As for the vngodly, * they haue no peace, sayth the Lord.

The xlix. Chapter.

6 Christ shall gather together all nations, be they neuer so farre off.

HEare me Iles, hearken vnto me, and take heed ye people from far: The Lord hath called me from my birth, and made mention of my name from my mothers wombe:

2 Hee hath made my mouth like a sharpe sword, vnder the shadow of his hand hath he defended me, and hidde me in his quiuer as a good arrow,

Esay.51.16 3 And sayd vnto me, * Thou art my seruant Israel, I will be honoured in thee.

4 Then I answered, I haue lost my labour, I haue spent my strength in vaine: Neuertheless, I will commit my cause and my worke vnto the Lord my God.

5 And now sayth the Lord, euen he that fashioned mee from my mothers wombe to be his seruant, that I may bring Iacob againe vnto him, albeit Israel wil not be gathered vnto him againe, yet in Gods sight shall I be glorious, my God shalbe my strength.

6 And he sayd, It is but a small thing that thou art my seruant, to set vp the kinreds of Iacob, and to restore the destruction of Israel: * for Esay.42.6, act.13.47. I haue made thee the light of the Gentiles, that Esa.42.8. Esa.43.4 and 44.6. thou mayest be my health vnto the end of the world.

7 Moreouer, thus sayth the Lord, the redeemer and holy one of Israel, concerning the abhorred and despised among the Gentiles, and the seruant of them that beare rule, kings and princes shall see and arise, and worship, because of the Lord that is faithfull, and because of the holy one of Israel that hath chosen thee.

2.Cor.6.2. 8 And thus sayth the Lord, * In the time accepted haue I heard thee, and in the day of saluation haue I helped thee, I will preserue thee, and make thee to be the atonement of the people, that thou mayest helpe vp the earth againe, and possesse againe the desolate heritages:

9 That thou mayest say vnto the prisoners, Go forth: and to them that are in darknes, Come into the light: they shall feed thee in the high wayes, and get their pasture in all high places.

Reue.7.16. 10 * They shal neither hunger nor thirst, heat nor sunne shal not hurt them: for he that fauoureth them shal leade them, and giue them drinke of the well springs.

11 I will make wayes vpon all my mountaines, and my footpaths shalbe eralted.

12 And beholde, these shall come from farre, loe, some from the North and west, some from the land of Sinis, which is in the South.

13 Reioyce ye heauens, and sing praises thou earth, talke of ioy ye hilles: for God hath comforted his people, and will haue mercy vpon his that be in trouble.

14 But Sion sayd, God hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

Exo.17.6. 15 Will a woman forget her owne infant, and not pitie the sonne of her owne wombe? And though they doe forget, yet will I not forget thee.

Num.20. 11. 16 Behold, I haue written thee vp vpon my hands, thy walles are euer in my sight.

17 They make haste who builde thee vp againe: as for those that ouerthrow thee, & make thee waste, they shall depart from thee.

18 * Lift vp thine eyes, and looke about thee, Esay.60.4. all these gather them together, and come to thee: As truely as I liue, sayth the Lord, thou shalt put them all vpon thee as an apparell, and gird them vnto thee as a bride doth her iewels.

19 As for thy land that lieth desolate, waste and destroyed, it shalbe too narow for them that shall dwell in it, and they that would deuoure thee, they shalbe farre away.

20 Then thy children whom the barren shall bring forth, shall say in thine eare, This place is too narrow, giue place that I may haue roume.

21 Then shalt thou thinke by thy selfe, who hath begotten me these, seeing I am barren and alone, a captiue and an outcast? and who hath nourished them vp for me? I am desolate and alone, but from whence come these?

22 And therfore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will stretch out my hand vnto the Gentiles, and set vp my token to the people, they shal bring thee thy sonnes in their laps, and cary thy daughters vnto thee vpon their shoulders.

23 For kings shalbe thy nursling fathers, and queenes shalbe thy nursling mothers: they shall fall before thee with their faces flat vpon the earth, and licke vp the dust of thy feet: that thou mayest know how that I am the Lord, and that whoso putteth their trust in me, shall not be confounded.

24 Shall the spoile be taken from the mighty? or the lawfull prisoner from the taker?

25 But thus sayth the Lord, The prisoners shalbe taken from the mighty, and the spoile shal be recouered from the violent: for I will maintaine thy cause against thine aduerlary, and I will saue thy sonnes.

26 And I will feed thine enemies with their owne flesh, and make them drunken with their owne blood, as with sweet wine: And all flesh shall know, O Iacob, that I am the Lord thy sauiour, thy noble redeemer.

The l. Chapter.

The Iewes are reproued and also called.

THus sayth the Lord, Where is the bill of your mothers diuorcement, whom I sent away? or who is the vsurer to whom I solde you? Behold, for your offences are you sold, and because of your transgression is your mother forsaken.

2 For why would no man receiue me when I came? And when I called, no man gaue me answere: * Is my hand shortened that it might Esay.59.8. not helpe? or haue I not power to deliuer? loe, at a word I drinke vp the sea, & of water floods I make dry land: so that for want of water the fish doth corrupt, and die for thirst.

3 As for heauen, I clothe it with darknesse, and put as it were a sacke vpon it.

4 The Lord God hath giuen me a well learned tongue, so that I can comfort them that are troubled, yea, & that in due season: he waketh mine eare vp betimes in the morning, I say betimes in the morning he will waken mine eare, that I might hearken as to the schoolemasters.

The Epistle on the tuesday before Easter. Mat.26.67.

5 The Lord God hath opened mine eare, and I haue not gainesaide, nor withdrawen my selfe.

6 *But I offred my backe vnto the smiters, and my cheekes vnto the nippers: I turned not my face from shame and spittings.

7 And the Lord God shal helpe me, therefore shal I not be confounded: I haue therefore hardned my face like a flint stone, for I am sure that I shal not come to confusion.

Rom.8.33. 8 *He is at hand that iustifieth me, who wil then go with me to law? Let vs stand together. if there be any that wil reason with mee, let him come here foorth to me.

9 Behold, the Lord God wil helpe me, what is he then that can condemne me? loe, they all shall ware olde like a cloth, the moth shall eate them vp.

10 Therefore who so feareth the Lord among you, let him heare the voyce of his seruant: who so walketh in darkenesse, and no light shineth vpon him, let him put his trust in the Name of the Lord, and hold him by his God.

11 But take heed, ye al kindle a fire, and stirre vp the coales: walke on in the glistering of your owne fire, and in the coales that ye haue kindled: This commeth vnto you from my hand, namely, that ye shal sleepe in sorow.

The lj. Chapter.

Consolation & comfort is promised vnto the faithful.

HEarken vnto mee yee that holde of righteousnesse, and yee that seeke the Lord: take heede to the stone whereout yee are hewen, and to the graue whereout yee are digged.

2 Consider Abraham your father, and Sara that bare you, how that I called him alone, and blessed him, and encreased him.

3 Therefore shall the Lord comfort Sion, and repaire al her decay, making her desert as a paradise, and her wildernesse as the garden of the Lord: Mirth and ioy shalbe founde there, thankesgiuing, and the voyce of praise.

4 Haue respect vnto me then, O my people, both high and low, and lay thine eare vnto me: for a Law and an ordinance shal go foorth from me to lighten the Gentiles.

5 I is hard by that my healthy and my righteousnesse shal goe foorth, and the people shalbe ordered with mine arme: the Ilands, that is the Gentiles, shal hope in mee, and put their trust in mine arme.

6 Lift vp your eyes toward heauen, & looke vpon the earth beneath: for the heauens shal vanish away like smoke, and the earth shal ware old like a garment, and they that dwel therein shal perish in like maner: but my saluation shal endure for euer, & my righteousnes shal not cease.

7 Hearken vnto me ye that haue knowledge in righteousnesse, thou people, that bearest my Lawe in thine heart: feare not the reuilings of men, be not afraid of their blasphemies.

8 For wormes and mothes shal eat them vp like cloth and wool: but my righteousnes shall endure for euer, and my sauing health from generation to generation.

9 Wake vp, wake vp, and be strong, O thou arme of the Lord, wake vp, like as in time past, euer, and since the world began.

10 *Art not thou the same arme that hast wounded the proud, and hewen the Dragon in pieces? Art not thou euen the same which hast dried vp the deepe of the Sea, which hast made plaine the sea ground, that the deliuered might go thorow? Exod.14.11

11 Therefore the redeemed of the Lord shal turne againe, and come with ioy vnto Sion, continuall ioy shalbe in their head, and myrth and gladnesse shalbe with them, and sorow and woe shal flee from them.

12 Yea I, euen I am he that in al things giueth you consolation: what art thou then that fearest a mortal man, & the childe of man, which goeth away as doeth the floure?

13 And forgettest the Lord that made thee, that spread out the heauens, and layd the foundation of the earth: but thou art euer afraid for the sight of thine oppressour, which is ready to do harme: where is the wrath of the oppressour?

14 The exile maketh haste to be loosed, that he die not in prison, & that his bread faile him not.

15 I am the Lord thy God, that diuide the sea, and his waues shall rage, whose name is the Lord of hostes.

16 *I haue put my words in thy mouth, and haue defended thee in the shadowe of my hande, that I may plant the heauens, and lay the foundation of the earth, and say vnto Sion, Thou art my people. Esai.49.3.

17 Awake, awake, and stand vp, O Hierusalem, thou that from the hande of the Lord hast drunken out the cup of his wrath, thou that hast supped off and sucked out the stumbling cup to the bottome.

18 For among al the sonnes whom hee hath gotten, there is not one that may hold it vp, and not one to leade it by the hande, of al the sonnes that he hath nourished.

19 *Both these things are happened vnto thee, but who is sory for it? yea, destruction, wasting, hunger, and sword, but who wil comfort thee? Esai.47.9.

20 Thy sonnes lie comfortlesse at the head of euery streete like a taken venison, and are ful of the terrible wrath of the Lord, and punishment of thy God.

21 And therefore thou miserable and drunken, (howbeit not with wine) heare this:

22 Thus saith the Lord, thy Lord and God, the defender of his people, Beholde, I wil take the stumbling cup out of his hand, euen the cup with the dregs of my wrath that from hencefoorth thou shalt neuer drinke of it more:

23 But I will put it into their hande that trouble thee, which haue spoken to thy soule, Stowpe downe, that wee may goe ouer thee, make thy body euen with the ground, and as the street to goe vpon.

2 Blessed is the man that doth this, & the mans childe which keepeth the same: hee that taketh heed that hee vnhallow not the Sabboth, that is, he that keepeth himselfe that he do no euill.

3 Then shal not the stranger which cleaueth vnto the Lord, say, Alas, the Lord hath shut me cleane out from his people: neither shall the gelded man say, Loe, I am a dry tree.

4 For thus sayeth the Lord vnto the gelded that keepeth my Sabboth, namely, that holdeth greatly of the thing that pleaseth me, and keepeth my couenant:

5 Vnto them will I giue in my houshold, and within my walles, a better heritage and name, then if they had beene called sonnes and daughters: I will giue them an euerlasting name that shall not perish.

6 Againe, the strangers that sticke to the Lord to serue him, and to loue his name, and to be his seruants, and all they which keepe themselues that they vnhallow not the Sabboth, namely, that they fulfill my couenant:

The lvii. Chapter.

1 The good men are taken away. 3 The wicked ones take pleasure in idolatry, the godly receiue comfort, the wicked doth perish.

THE righteous perisheth, and no man regardeth it in his heart: good godly people are taken away, and no man considereth it, namely, that the righteous is conueyed away from the wicked.

2 Hee commeth into peace, and godly men rest in their chambers, and before the godly man goeth peace.

3 Come hither therefore yee charmers children, ye sonnes of the adulterer and the whore.

4 Wherein take yee your pleasure? vpon whom gape ye with your mouth, and bleare out your tongue? are ye not children of transgression, and a seed of dissimulation?

5 Ye make your fires vnder the okes, and vnder all greene trees, and ye offer children in the valleys and dennes of stone.

6 Thy part shall be with the stony rocks by the riuer, yea, euen these shall be thy part: for there thou hast powred meat and drinke offering vnto them: should I delight in that?

7 Thou hast made thy bed vpon high mountaines, thou wentest vp thither, and there thou hast slaine sacrifices.

8 Behind the doores and posts hast thou set vp thy remembrance, when thou hadst vncouered thy selfe to another then me, whē thou wentest vp, and made thy bed wider, and with those idoles hast thou made a couenant, and louedst their couches where thou sawest them.

9 Thou wentest straight to kings with oile and diuers ointments, that is, thou hast sent thy messengers farre off, and yet art thou fallen into the pit.

10 Thou art weary for the multitude of thine owne wayes, yet saydest thou neuer, There is no hope: thou hast had the life that thy handes wrought, and therefore thou art careless.

11 For whom wilt thou be abashed or feare, seeing thou hast broken thy promise, and remembrest not me, neither hast me in thine heart? thinkest thou that I also wil hold my peace as afore time, that thou fearest me not?

12 Yea verily I will declare thy goodnesse and thy works, but they shall not profit thee.

13 When thou criest, let thy chosen heape deliuer thee: but the winde shall blow them forth, and vanity shall take them all away: neuertheless, they that put their trust in me, shall inherit the land, and haue my holy hill in possession.

Esay.40.4. and 62,10. 14 *And therfore thus he saith, Make plaine, make plaine, and cleanse the street, take vp the stumbling blocks out of the way of my people.

15 For thus saith the high and excellent, euen he that dwelleth in euerlastingnes, whose name is the holy one: I dwell high aboue, and in the sanctuary, & with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit do I dwell, that I may reuiue the spirit of the humble, and the heart of the contrite.

16 For I chide not euer, and am not wroth without end: but the blasting goeth from mee, and is included in the bodie, and I made the breath.

17 I am wroth with him for his couetousnesse, I smite him, I hide me, and am angry, and hee turneth himselfe, and followeth the way of his owne heart.

18 I haue seene his wayes, and I heale him, I leade him, and restore to him comfort, and to those that were sory for him.

19 I make the fruits of thanksgiuing, that he say, Peace, peace, vnto them that are far off, and vnto them that are nigh, saith the Lord, I make him whole.

20 But the wicked are like the raging sea that cannot rest, whose water someth with the mire and grauell.

21 *Euen so the wicked haue no peace, saith God. Esay.48.21

The lviij. Chapter.

1 The Lord (by the mouth of the Prophet) reprooueth the people for their fastings, 5 which were full of hypocrisie.

CRie now as loud as thou canst, leaue not off, lift vp thy voice like a trumpet, and shew my people their offences, and the house of Iacob their sinnes.

2 For they seeke me dayly, and wil know my wayes, euen as it were a people that did right, and had not forsaken the statutes of their God: they aske of mee concerning right iudgement, and will be nigh vnto God.

3 Wherefore fast we, say they, and thou seest it not? we put our liues to straitnesse, and thou regardest it not.

4 Behold, when ye fast, your lust remaineth still, for ye doe no lesse violence to your debters: loe, ye fast to strife and debate, and to smite with your fist without mercy: now yee shall not fast thus, that your voice might be heard aboue.

5 *Thinke yee this fast pleaseth me, that a man should chasten himselfe for a day? and to hang downe his head like a bulrush, and to lie vpon the earth in an hairie cloth? Should that be called fasting, or a day that pleaseth the Lord? Zach.7.5.

6 Doeth not this fasting rather please me, That thou loose the wicked bandes, that thou take off the ouer heauie burdens, that thou let the oppressed goe free, and breake all maner of yoke?

7 *To deale thy bread to the hungry, and to bring the poore wandring home into thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou couer him, and hide not thy selfe from thine owne flesh? Eze.18.16. mat.25.35.

8 Then shall thy light breake forth as the morning, and thy health flourish right hortly: righteousnesse shall go before thee, and the glory of the Lord shall embrace thee:

9 Then if thou callest, the Lord shal answere thee, if thou criest, he shall say, Here I am: yea, if thou layest away from thee thy burdens, and holdest thy fingers, and ceasest from vngracious talking:

10 If thou hast compassion vpon the hungry, and refreshest the troubled soule, then shall thy light spring out in the darknesse, and thy darknesse shalbe as the noone day.

sie the desire of thy heart in the time of drought, and fill thy bones with marow: thou shalt bee like a fresh watred garden, and like the fountain of water that neuer leaueth running.

Esay.61.4. 12 * Then the places that haue euer beene waste, shalbe builded of thee, there shalt thou lay a foundation for many kinreds: thou shalt be called the maker vp of the breach, and the builder againe of the way to dwell in.

13 Yea, if thou turne thy feet from the Sabboth, so that thou doe not the thing which pleaseth thy selfe in my holy day, and thou call the pleasant, holy, and glorious Sabboth of the Lord, and that thou giue him the honour, so that thou do not after thine owne imagination, neither seeke thine owne will, nor speake thine owne words:

14 Then shalt thou haue thy pleasure in the Lord, and I will cary thee high aboue the earth, and feed thee with the heritage of Jacob thy father: for the Lords owne mouth hath so promised.

The lix. Chapter.

Esay.50.2. num.11.23 BEholde, * the Lords hand is not so shortned that it can not helpe, neither is his eare so stopped that it may not heare.

2 But your mildeeds haue separated you from your God, and your sinnes hide his face from you, that he heareth you not.

Esay.1.15. 3 * For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with vnrighteousnesse: your lippes speake leasings, and your tongue setteth out wickednesse.

4 No man regardeth righteousnesse, and no man iudgeth truly: euery man hopeth in vaine things, and imagineth deceit, * conceiueth wearinesse, and bringeth forth euill.

Iob.15.35. psal.7.15.

5 They breed cockatrice egges, and weaue the spiders webbe, whoso eateth of their egges dieth: but if one tread vpon them, there commeth vp a serpent.

6 Their webbe maketh no cloth, and they may not couer them with their labours: their deeds are the deeds of wickednesse, & the worke of robbery is in their hands.

Pro.1.16. rom.3.15. 7 * Their feet runne to euill, and they make haste to shed innocent blood, their counsels are wicked counsels, harme and destruction are in their wayes.

8 But the way of peace they know not, in their goings is no equity: their wayes are so crooked, that whosoeuer goeth therein, knoweth of no peace.

9 And this is the cause that equity is so far from vs, and that righteousnesse commeth not nigh vs: we looke for light, loe, it is darkenesse: for the morning shine, see, we walke in the darke.

10 We grope like the blind vpon the wall, we grope euen as one that hath no eyes, we stumble at the noone day, as though it were toward night, in the falling places, like men that are halfe dead.

11 We roze all like beares, and mourne still like doues: wee looke for equitie, but there is none: for health, but it is farre from vs.

12 For our offences are many before thee, and our sinnes testifie against vs: yea, wee must confesse that we offend, and knowledge that we doe amisse:

13 Namely, transgresse and dissemble against the Lord, and fall away from our God, vsing presumptuous and traitorous imaginations, and casting false matters in our hearts.

14 And therefore is equitie gone aside, and righteousnesse standeth farre off, trueth is fallen downe in the street, and the thing that is plaine and open, may not be shewed.

15 Yea, the trueth is taken away, and he that refraineth himselfe from euill, must be spoiled: when the Lord saw this, it displeased him sore that there was no equity.

16 He saw also that there was no man righteous, and he wondered that there was no man to helpe him: wherfore he held him by his owne power, and he sustained him by his owne righteousnesse.

17 * Hee put righteousnesse vpon him for a breastplate, he set the helmet of health vpon his head: he put on wrath in the stead of clothing, and tooke ielousie about him for a cloake. Ephe.6.17. 1.thess.5.8.

18 Euen as when a man goeth forth wrathfully to recompense his enemies, and to be auenged of his aduersaries, he will recompense and reward the ilands.

19 They shal feare the name of the Lord from the rising of the Sun, and his maiestie vnto the going downe of the same: for he shall come as a violent water streame, which the winde of the Lord hath moued.

20 But vnto * Sion there shall come a redeemer, and vnto them in Jacob that turne from wickednesse, sayth the Lord. Rom.11.26

21 I will make this couenant with them (sayeth the Lord) My spirit that is vpon thee, and the words which I haue put in thy mouth, shall neuer goe out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy childrens children, from this time forth for euermore, world without end, sayth the Lord.

GEt thee vp betimes, and be bright, O Hierusalem, for thy light cometh, and the glory of the Lord is risen vp vpon thee.

2 For loe, while the darkenesse and cloud couereth the earth and the people, the Lord shall shew thee light, and his glory shall be seene in thee.

7 All the cattel of Cedar shalbe gathered vnto thee, the rammes of Nabaioth shal serue thee, to be offered acceptably vpon mine altar: and the house of my glory will I garnish.

8 But what are these that flee here like the clouds, & as the doues flying to their windowes?

13 The glory of Libanus shall come vnto thee, the firre trees, boxes, and cedars together, to garnish the place of my sanctuary: for I will glorifie the place of my feet.

14 Moreouer, those shall come kneeling vnto thee that haue vexed thee, and all they that despise thee, shall fall downe at thy foot: thou shalt be called, The city of the Lord, Sion the citie of the holy one of Israel.

15 Because thou hast beene forsaken and hated, so that no man went thorow thee: I will make thee glorious for euer and euer, and ioyful thorowout all posterities.

16 Thou shalt sucke the milke of the Gentiles, and kings brests shall feed thee, and thou shalt know that I the Lord am thy sauiour and redeemer, the mighty one of Iacob.

17 For brasse will I giue thee golde, and for iron, siluer: for wood, brasse: and for stones, iron: I will turne thine oppression into peace, and thine exactions into righteousnesse.

18 Violence and robbery shall neuer be heard of in thy land, neither harme and destruction within thy borders: thy walles shall be called healthy, and thy gates the praise of God.

Apo.21.22. 19 *The Sunne shall neuer be thy day light, and the light of the Moone shall neuer shine vnto thee: but the Lord himselfe shalbe thine euerlasting light, and thy God shalbe thy glory.

20 Thy Sunne shal neuer go downe, and thy Moone shall not be hidde: for the Lord himselfe shalbe thine euerlasting light, and thy sorowfull dayes shalbe ended.

21 The people shall be all righteous and possesse the land euer, the flowre of my planting, the worke of my hands whereof I will reioyce.

22 The yoongest and least shall grow into a thousand, and the simplest into a strong people: I the Lord shall shortly bring this thing to passe in his time.

3 That I might giue vnto them that mourn in Sion, that I might giue, I say, beauty in stead of ashes, ioyfull ointment for sighing, pleasant raiment for an heauy minde, that they might be called trees of righteousnesse, a planting of the Lord for him to reioyce in.

4 *They shall build the long rough wildernesse, and set vp the old desert: they shall repaire the waste places, and such as haue bene voide thorowout many generations. Esay 58.12.

5 Strangers shall stand and feed your cattell, and the aliants shall be your plowmen, and dressers of your vines.

6 But ye shall be named the Priests of the Lord, and men shall call you the seruants of our God: yee shall enioy the goods of the Gentiles, and triumph in their substance.

7 For your great reproofe you shall haue double ioy, & for shame shal they haue ioy of their portion: for they shall haue double possession in their land, and euerlasting ioy shalbe with them.

8 For I the Lord which loue right, and hate robbery (though it were offered me) shall make their works full of faithfulnesse, and make an euerlasting couenant with them.

9 Their seed also and their generation shall be knowen among the Gentiles, and among the people: all they that see them, shall know that they are the high blessed seed of the Lord.

10 And therefore I am ioyfull in the Lord, and my soule reioyceth in God: for he hath put vpon me the garment of saluation, and couered me with the mantle of righteousnesse: he shall decke me like a bridegrome, and as a bride that hath her apparell vpon her.

11 For like as the ground bringeth foorth her fruit, and as the garden shooteth foorth seed: so shall the Lord God cause righteousnesse & praise to flourish forth before all the heathen.

The lxij. Chapter.

A prophesie of the comming of Christ.

FOr Sions sake will I not holde my tongue, and for Hierusalems sake I will not cease, vntill their righteousnesse breake forth as the shining light, and their saluation as a burning lampe.

2 Then shall the Gentiles see thy righteousnesse, and all kings thy glory: thou shalt be named with a new name, which the mouth of the Lord shall shew.

3 Thou shalt be a crowne in the hand of the Lord, and a glorious garland in the hand of thy God.

4 From this time foorth shalt thou neuer be called, The forsaken, and thy land shall no more be called, The wildernesse: but thou shalt be called, My pleasure is in her: and thy land shall be called, The married woman: for the Lord lo-ueth thee, and thy land shall be ioyned in marriage.

5 And like as a yoong man taketh a virgine to marriage, so shall thy sonnes be married vnto thee: and as a bridegrome is glad of his bride, so shall thy God reioyce ouer thee.

6 I haue set watchmen vpon thy walles, O Hierusalem, which shall neither cease day nor night to preach the Lord: and yee also that remember the Lord, ye shall not keepe him close,

7 Nor leaue to speake of him, vntill Hierusalem be set vp, and made the praise of the world.

8 The Lord hath sworne by his right hand and by his strong arme, that from henceforth he will not giue thy corne to be meat for thine enemies, nor thy wine wherein thou hast laboured, to be drinke for the strangers.

9 But they that haue gathered in the corne, shal eat it, and giue thanks to the Lord: and they that haue borne in the wine, shall drinke it in the court of my sanctuary.

Esay 57.14. 10 *Go you, go you thorow the gates, make cleane the way for the people, make plaine, make plaine the foot path, and take away the stones out of it, and set out a token for the people.

Zach.9.9. mat.21.5. 11 Beholde, the Lord proclaimeth vnto the endes of the world, * Tell the daughter Sion, See, thy Sauiour commeth, beholde, he bringeth his recompense with him, and his worke before him.

12 For they whom the Lord deliuereth, shall be called, The holy people: and as for thee, thou shalt be named, The greatly occupied, and not, The forsaken citie.

The lxiij. Chapter.

7 Of the redemption promised to the people.

The Epistle on the Mũday before Easter. WHat is he this that commeth from Edom, with red coloured clothes from Bosra? He is honourably arrayed, and commeth in mightily with his power. I am he that teacheth righteousnesse, and am of power to helpe.

Apo.12.12. 2 *Wherefore then is thy clothing red, and thy raiment like his that treadeth in the wine presse?

3 I haue troden the presse my selfe alone, and of all people there is not one with me: thus will I tread them downe in my wrath, and set my feet vpon them in mine indignation, & their blood shalbe sprung vpon my clothes, and so will I staine all my raiment.

4 For the day of vengeance is alligned in my heart, and the yeere when my people shalbe deliuered, is come.

5 I looked about me, and there was no man to shew me any helpe, I maruelled that no man held me vp: then I held me by mine owne arme, and my feruentnesse sustained me.

6 And thus will I tread downe the people in my wrath, and bathe them in my displeasure, and vpon the earth will I lay their strength.

7 I will declare the goodnesse of the Lord, yea, and the praise of the Lord, for all that hee hath giuen vs, for the great good that hee hath done for Israel, which hee hath giuen them of his owne fauor, and according to the multitude of his louing kindnesse.

8 For he sayd, These no doubt are my people, and no shrinking children: and so was hee their Sauiour.

9 In their troubles, hee was also troubled with them, and the Angel that went forth from his presence, deliuered them: Of very loue and kindnesse that he had vnto them, he redeemed them, he hath borne them and carried them vp euer since the world began.

10 But after they prouoked him to wrath, and vexed his holy spirit, he was their enemie, and fought against them himselfe.

11 Yet remembred Israel the old time of Moses and his people, saying, * Where is he that brought them from the water of the sea, with them that feed his sheepe? Where is he that hath giuen his holy spirit among them? Exo.14.30. Psal.78.9.

12 Hee led them by the right hand of Moses with his glorious arme, diuiding the water before them, whereby he gate himselfe an euerlasting name, 13 He led them in the deepe as an horse is led in the plaine, that they should not stumble.

14 As a tame beast goeth in the field, and the spirit of God giueth him rest: thus (O God) hast thou led thy people, to make thy selfe a glorious name withall.

15 *Looke downe then from heauen, and beholde from the dwelling place of thy sanctuarie and thy glory: how is it that thy iealousie, thy strength, the multitude of thy mercies, and thy louing kindnesse will not be intreated of vs? Deu.26.15. baruc,2.16.

16 Yet art thou our father: for Abraham knoweth vs not, neither is Israel acquainted with vs: but thou Lord art our father and redeemer, and thy name is euerlasting.

17 O Lord, wherefore hast thou led vs out of the way? wherefore hast thou hardened our hearts that we feare thee not? Be at one with vs againe for thy seruants sake, for the generation of thine heritage.

18 Thy holy people haue had but a litle while thy sanctuary in possession, for our enemies haue troden downe thy holy place.

19 And we were thine from the beginning, when thou wast not their Lord, for they haue not called vpon thy name.

The lxiiij. Chapter.

1 The Prophet (vnder the person of the Iewes) bewaileth their exile and banishment. 6 Mans righteousnesse is like a cloth defiled.

O That thou wouldst cleaue the heauens in sunder, and come downe, that the mountaines might melt away at thy presence,

2 Like as at an hote fire, and that the malicious might boile away as the water doth vpon the fire: whereby thy name might bee knowen among thine enemies, and that the Gentiles might tremble before thee.

3 When thou wroughtst wondrous strange workes, wee looked not for them: thou camest downe, and the hilles melted at thy presence.

4 *For since the beginning of the world, it hath not bene heard or perceiued, neither hath any eye seene another God beside thee, which doest so much for the that put their trust in thee. 1.Cor.2.9.

5 Thou helpest him that doeth right with cheerefulnesse, and them that thinke vpon thee in thy wayes: but loe, thou hast bene angry, for we offended, & haue bene euer in sinne, though the world haue cleaued to them, yet shall we be saued.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Tt2r

6 We are all as an vncleane thing, and all our righteousnesse is as filthy rags: we fall euery one as the leafe, for our sinnes carry vs away like the winde.

7 There is no man that calleth vpon thy Name, that standeth vp to take holde by thee: therefore hidest thou thy face from vs, and consumest vs, because of our sinnes.

8 But now, O Lord, thou father of ours, we are thy clay, and thou art our potter, and we are all the worke of thy hands. Exo.14.30.

Psal.78.9. 9 *Be not too sore displeased, O Lord, and keepe not our offences too long in thy remembrance: but consider that we all are thy people.

10 The cities of thy sanctuary lie waste, Sion is a wildernesse, and Hierusalem a desert.

11 Our holy house, which is our beautie, where our fathers praised thee, is burnt vp: yea, all our commodities and pleasures are wasted away.

12 Wilt thou not be intreated, O Lord, for all this? wilt thou holde thy peace, and scourge vs so sore? Deu.16.15. baruc.2.16.

The lxv. Chapter.

The reiecting of the Iewes, and the calling of the Heathen.

Rom.10.10 THey *seeke me, that hitherto haue not asked for me, they find me, that hitherto haue not sought mee: I haue sayd, I am here, I am here, I am found of a people that neuer called vpon my name.

2 For thus long haue I euer holden out mine hands to an vnfaithfull people, that goe not the right way, but after their owne imagination:

3 To a people that is euer defying me to my face, they make their oblations in gardens, and their smoake vpon altars of bricke.

4 They lurke among the groues, and lie in the dennes all night: they eat swines flesh, and vncleane broth is in their vessels.

5 If thou commest nigh them, they say, Touch me not, for I am holier then thou: All these men when I am angry, shall be turned to smoake and fire that shall burne for euer.

6 Beholde, it is written before my face, and shall not be forgotten, but recompensed, I will reward it them into their bosome.

7 I meane your misdeeds, and the misdeeds of your fathers together, sayth the Lord, which haue made their smoakes vpon the mountains, and blasphemed me vpon the hilles: therefore will I measure their olde deeds into their bosome againe.

8 Moreouer, thus sayth the Lord. Like as when new wine is found in the cluster, and one sayth, Loose it not, for there is blessing therein: euen so wil I do also for my seruants sakes, that I will not destroy them all. 1.Cor.2.9.

9 But I will take a seed out of Jacob, and out of Juda one, to take possession of my hill: My chosen shall possesse it, and my seruants shal dwell there.

10 Saron shall be a sheepfolde, and the valley of Achor shall giue the stalling for the cattell of my people that seeke after me.

11 But as for you, ye are they that haue forsaken the Lord, and forgotten my holy hill: ye haue set vp an altar vnto Jupiter, and giuen rich drinke offerings vnto the planets:

12 Therefore wil I number you to the sword, that ye shall be destroyed all together: *for that when I called, no man gaue me answere, when I spake, ye hearkened not vnto me, but did wickednesse before mine eyes, and chose the things that pleased me not. Pro.1.23. iere.7.31. esay 66.4.

13 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, my seruants shal eat, but ye shall haue hunger: behold, my seruants shall drinke, but ye shal suffer thirst: beholde, my seruants shall be mery, but ye shalbe confounded:

14 Behold, my seruants shall reioyce for very quietnesse of heart, but ye shall cry for sorow of heart, and complaine for veration of minde.

15 Your name shall ye leaue accursed among my chosen: for God the Lord shall slay you, and call his seruants by another name.

16 Whoso reioyceth vpon earth, shall reioyce in the true God, & whoso sweareth vpon earth, shall sweare in the true God, for the olde afflictions shalbe forgotten, and taken away out of my sight.

17 *For loe, I shal make a new heauen and a new earth: and as for the olde, they shall neuer be thought vpon, nor kept in minde: 2.Pet.3.13. apoc.21.1.

18 But the Lord sayth, Be glad, and euermore reioyce for the things that I shall doe: for why? beholde, I will make a ioyfull Hierusalem, and his people ioyfull.

19 Yea, I my selfe will reioyce with Hierusalem, and be glad with my people: and the voice of weeping and wailing shal not be heard in her from thencefoorth.

20 There shall neither be childe nor olde man that haue not their full dayes: but when the child commeth to an hundred yeeres olde, it shall die, and if hee that is an hundred yeeres of age doe wrong, he shalbe cursed.

21 They shall build houses & dwell in them, they shall plant vineyards, and eat the fruit of them.

22 They shall not build, and another possesse: they shall not plant, and another eat: but the life of my people shall be like a tree, and mine elect shall enioy still the worke of their hands.

23 They shall not labour in vaine, nor beget with trouble: for they are the high blessed seed of the Lord, and their fruits with them.

24 *And it shall be, that or euer they call, I will answere them, while they are yet but thinking how to speake, I will heare them. Psal.31.5.

25 *The wolfe and the lambe shall feed together, and the lion shall eat hay like the bullocke, but earth shall be the serpents meat: there shall no man hurt nor slay another in all my holy hill, sayth the Lord. Esay 11.6.

The lxvj. Chapter.

1 God dwelleth not in temples made by mans hand. 3 He despiseth sacrifices done without mercy and faith. 5 God comforteth them that are troubled for his sake. 23 Among the Christen the Sabboth is continually.

THus sayeth the Lord, *Heauen is my seat, and the earth is my foote stoole: where shall now the house stand that ye will build vnto mee? And where shall be the place that I shall dwell in? Act.7.48.

2 As for these things, my hand hath made them all, and they are all created, saith the Lord, which of them shall I then regard? Euen him that is poore and of a lowly troubled spirit, and standeth in awe of my words.

3 For whoso slayeth an ore for me, doth me so great dishonour as ye that killeth a man: he that killeth a sheepe for me, ‖ snetcheth a dog: he that bringeth mee meat offerings, offereth swines blood: whoso maketh me a memorial of incense, praiseth the thing that is vnright: Yet take they such wayes in hand, and their soule delighteth in these abominations.

4 Therefore will I also haue pleasure in laughing them to scorne, and the thing that they feare, will I bring vpon them: *for when I called, no man gaue answere, when I spake, they would not heare: but did wickednesse before mine eyes, and chose the things that displeased me.

Prou.1.23. esay 65.12. iere.7.13.

5 Heare the word of God all ye that feare the thing which hee speaketh: your brethren that hate you, & cast you out for my names sake, say, The Lord is hainous against vs: but you shall see him in ioy, when they shalbe confounded.

6 Then shalbe heard a great noise from the city and the temple, the voice of the Lorde that will reward and recompense his enemies:

7 Like as when a wife bringeth forth a man child, or euer she suffer the paine of the birth and anguish of the trauell.

8 Who euer heard or saw such things? doth the ground beare in one day? or are the people borne all at once, as Sion trauelled in childe birth, and bare her sonnes?

9 For thus saith the Lord, Am I he that maketh other to beare, and beare not my selfe? Am not I he that beareth and maketh barren, sayth thy God?

10 Reioyce with Hierusalem, and be glad with her all ye that loue her, be ioyfull with her all ye that mourne for her.

11 For ye shal sucke comfort out of her breests, and be satisfied: ye shall taste and haue delight in the brightnesse of her glory.

12 For thus sayth the Lord, Beholde, I will let peace into her like a water flood, and the glory of the heathen like a flowing streame: then shall ye sucke, ye shalbe borne vpon her sides, and be ioyfull vpon her knees.

13 For like as a childe is comforted of his mother, so shall I comfort you, and ye shall be comforted in Hierusalem.

14 And when ye see this, your heart shall reioyce, and your bones shal flourish like an herbe: Thus shall the hand of the Lord be knowen among his seruants, and his indignation among his enemies.

15 For behold, the Lord shall come with fire, and his charet shall be like a whirle winde: that he may recompense his vengeance in his wrath, and his indignation with the flame of fire.

16 For the Lord shall iudge all flesh with the fire, and with his sword, and there shalbe a great number slaine of the Lord.

17 Such as haue made themselues holy and cleane in the gardens, and those that haue eaten swines flesh, mice, and other abominations, shal be taken away together, sayth the Lord.

18 For I do know their works and thoughts, and I will come to gather all people & tongues: then they shall come and see my glory.

19 Vnto them shall I giue a token, and send certaine of them that be deliuered among the Gentiles, vnto Cilicia, Affrica, and Lydia, where men can handle bowes, into Italie, and also Greeke land: the Iles farre off that haue not heard speake of me, and haue not seene my glory, shall preach my praise among the Gentiles.

20 And shall bring all your brethren for an offering vnto the Lord out of all the people, vpon horses, charets, and horselitters, vpon mules and carts to Hierusalem my holy hill, sayth the Lord: Like as the children of Israel bring the offering in cleane vessels to the house of the Lord.

21 And I shall take out certaine of them for to be Priests and Leuites, sayth the Lord.

22 *For like as the new heauen and the new earth which I will make, shall be fast stablished by me, sayth the Lord: so shal your seed and your name continue. Reue.21.1.

23 And it shal come to passe, that from Moone to his Moone, from Sabboth to his Sabboth, all flesh shall come to worship before me, sayth the Lord.

24 *And they shall goe forth and looke vpon the carions of them that haue transgressed against me: for their wormes shal not die, neither shall their fire be quenched, and all flesh shall abhorre them. Mat.9.44.

The end of the booke of the Prophet Esay.

The booke of the Prophet Ieremie.

The first Chapter.

1 The stocke of Ieremie, and in what time he prophesied. 6 Hee excuseth himselfe, and would refuse the office of a Prophet, because he is yong and vnexpert. 8 He is taught of the Lord, and becommeth bold.

THese are the Sermons of Ieremie the sonne of Helkiah the Priest, one of them that dwelt at Anathoth in the land of Beniamin,

2 when the Lord had first spoken with him in the time of Iosiah the sonne of Amon king of Iuda, in the thirteenth yere of his reign:

3 And so during vnto the time of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah king of Iuda, and vnto all the eleuenth yeere of Zedekiah the sonne of Iosiah king of Iuda were ended, when Hierusalem was taken, euen the fifth moneth.

4 The word of the Lord spake thus vnto me,

5 Before I fashioned thee in thy mothers wombe, I did know thee: and or euer thou wast borne, I sanctified thee, and ordeined thee to bee a Prophet vnto the people.

6 Then said I, O Lord God, I cannot speake, for I am yet but yong.

7 And the Lord answered me thus, Say not so, I am too yong: for thou shalt goe to all that I shall send thee vnto, and whatsoeuer I commaund thee, that shalt thou speake.

8 Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

9 And with that the Lord stretched out his hand and touched my mouth, and the same Lord said vnto me, * Behold, I put my words in thy mouth.

Ierc.1.8.7.

10 And behold, this day doe I set thee ouer the people and kingdoms, that thou maiest roote out, and breake, destroy, and make waste, and that thou mayest build vp and plant.

11 After this the Lord spake vnto me, saying, Ieremie, what seest thou? And I said, I a see a rod of an Almond tree.

a God sheweth to Ieremie the destruction of the Iewes by the Babylonians, to be at hand.

12 Then said the Lord vnto mee, Thou hast seene right, for I will make haste speedily vpon my word to performe it.

13 It happened after ward that the Lorde spake to mee againe, and said, What seest thou? And I said, I do see a seething pot, looking from out of the North, so that the face was toward vs.

14 Then said the Lord vnto me, * Out of the North shall come a plague vpon all the dwellers of the land.

Ierc.4.6.

15 For loe, I will call all the kindreds of the kingdomes of the North, saith the Lord, and they shall come, and euery one shall set his seate in the gates of Hierusalem, and in all their walles round about, and in all cities of Iuda.

16 And through them shall I declare my iudgment vpon all the wickednesse of those men that haue forsaken me, that haue burnt incense vnto strange gods, and worshipped the works of their owne hands.

17 And therefore gird vp thy loines, arise, and tell them all that I giue thee in commandement: feare them not, lest I destroy thee before them.

18 For behold, * this day doe I make thee a strong fenced towne, an yron pillar, and a brasen wall against the whole land, against the kings and mighty men of Iuda, against the priests and people of the land.

Ierc.6.27.

19 They shall fight against thee, but they shall not be able to ouercome thee: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

The ij. Chapter.

2 God rehearseth his benefits done vnto the Iewes. 8 Against priests and prophets or preachers that contemne and despise God. 12 The Iewes are destroyed because they forsooke God, and because they ran a whore hunting after idoles.

MOreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Goe and cry in the eares of Hierusalem, and say, Thus saith the Lord, I remember thee, the kindnes of thy youth, and the loue of thy despousing, in that thou followedst me thorow the wildernesse, in an vntilled land.

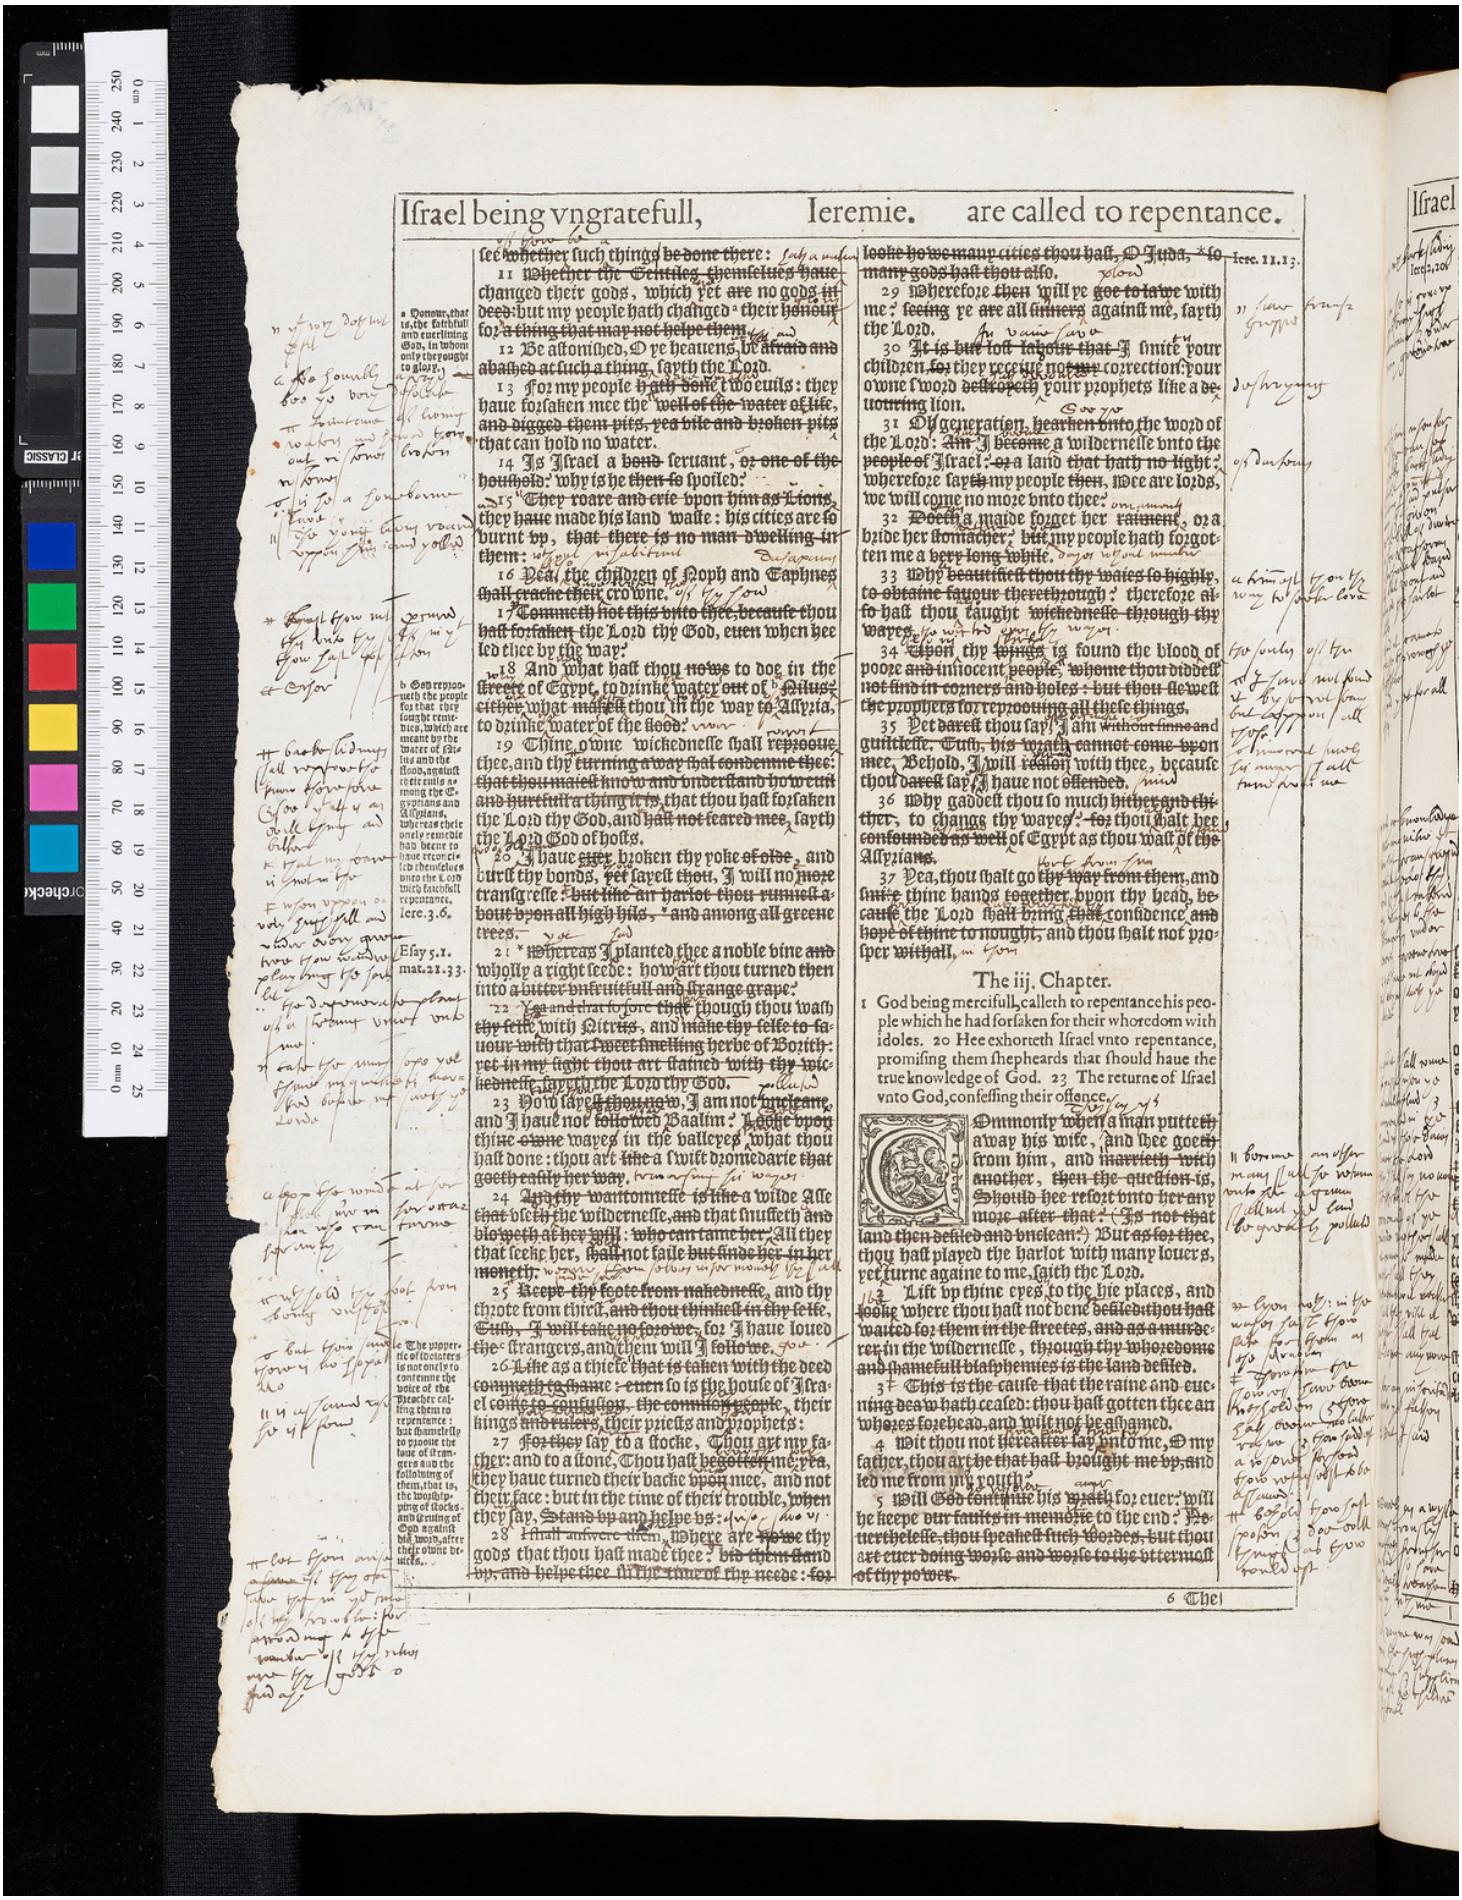
3 Israel was all hallowed vnto the Lord, and was his first fruits: all they that deuoure Israel shal offend, mischiefe shall fall vpon them, saith the Lord.

4 Heare therefore the word of the Lord, O thou house of Iacob, and all the generations of the house of Israel.

5 Thus saith the Lord, What vnfaithfulnesse found your fathers in mee, that they went so farre away from me, falling to lightnesse, and being so vaine?

6 They thought not in their hearts, Where is the Lord that brought vs out of the land of Egypt, that led vs thorow the wildernesse, thorow a desert and rough land, thorow a dry and deadly land, yea a land that no man had gone thorow, and wherein no man had dwelt?

7 And when I had brought you into a pleasant fertile land, that yee might enioy the fruits and all the commodities of the same, yee went foorth and defiled my land, and brought mine heritage to abomination.



8 The Priests themselues said not, Where is the Lorde? They that had the lawe in their hands knew mee not, the shepheards offended against mee, the prophets did prophesie in Baal, and followed such things as shall bring them no profit.

9 Wherefore I am constrained, saith the Lord, yet againe to contend in iudgement with you, and with your childrens children.

10 Goe into the Iles of Cethim, and looke well: send vnto Cedar, take diligent heede, and

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Tt3v

see whether such things be done there:
11 Whether the Gentiles themselues haue changed their gods, which yet are no gods at all: but my people hath changed [a] their honour for a thing that may not helpe them.
12 Be astonished, O ye heauens, be afraid and abashed at such a thing, sayth the Lord.
13 For my people hath done two euils: they haue forsaken mee the well of the water of life, and digged them pits, yea vile and broken pits that can hold no water.
14 Is Israel a bond seruant, or one of the houshold? why is he then so spoiled?
15 They roare and crie vpon him as Lions, they haue made his land waste: his cities are burnt vp, that there is no man dwelling in them:
16 Yea, the children of Noph and Taphnes shall eate their crowne.
17 Commeth not this vnto thee, because thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, euen when hee led thee by the way?
18 And what hast thou nowe to doe in the streete of Egypt, to drinke water out of [b] Nilus? either what maiest thou in the way to Assyria, to drinke water of the flood?
19 Thine owne wickednesse shall reproue thee, and thy turning away shall condemne thee: that thou maiest know and vnderstand how it is a wicked thing and hurtfull a thing vnto thee, that thou hast forsaken the Lord thy God, and hast not feared mee, sayth the Lord God of hosts.
20 For of olde I haue broken thy yoke, and burst thy bonds, yet sayest thou, I will no more transgresse: but like an harlot thou runnest about vpon all high hils, and among all greene trees.
21 Whereas I planted thee a noble vine and wholly a right seede: howe art thou turned then into a bitter vnfruitfull and strange grape?
22 Yea and that before that though thou wash thy selfe with Nitrus, and make thy selfe to fauour with that sweet smelling herbe of Borith: yet in my sight thou art stained with thy wickednesse, sayth the Lord thy God.
23 How sayest thou now, I am not vncleane, and I haue not followed Baalim? Looke vpon thine owne wayes in the valleyes, what thou hast done: thou art like a swift dromedarie that goeth easily her way.
24 And thy wantonnesse is like a wilde Asse that vseth the wildernesse, and that snuffeth and bloweth at her will: who can tame her? All they that seeke her, shall not faile but finde her in her moneth.
25 Keepe thy foote from nakednesse, and thy throte from thirst, and thou thinkest in thy selfe, Tush, I will take no force, for I haue loued the [c] strangers, and them will I follow.
26 Like as a theefe that is taken with the deed commeth to shame: euen so is the house of Israel come to confusion, the common people, their kings and rulers, their priests and prophets:
27 For they say to a stocke, Thou art my father: and to a stone, Thou hast begotten me: yea, they haue turned their backe vpon mee, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble, when they say, Stand vp and helpe vs:
28 Shall answere them, where are nowe thy gods that thou hast made thee? bid them stand vp, and helpe thee in the time of thy needs: for

[a] Honour, that is, the faithfull and euerliuing God, in whom only they ought to glory.

[b] God reproueth the people for that they sought remedies, which are meant by the water of Nilus and the flood, against certe euils among the Egyptians and Assyrians, whereas their onely remedie had beene to haue reconciled themselues vnto the Lord with faithfull repentance. Iere. 3.6.

Esay 5.1. mat. 21.33.

[c] The properte of idolaters is not onely to contemne the voice of the Preacher calling them to repentance: but shamefully to oppose the loue of strangers and the following of them, that is, the worshipping of stocks and liuing of God against his word, after their owne deuices.

looke how we many cities thou hast, O Iuda, so many gods hast thou also.
29 Wherefore then will ye goe to lawe with me? seeing ye are all sinners against me, sayth the Lord.
30 It is but lost labour that I smite your children, for they receiue no correction: your owne sword deuoureth your prophets like a deuouring lion.
31 O generation, hearken vnto the word of the Lord: Am I become a wildernesse vnto the people of Israel? or a land that hath no light? wherefore sayth my people then, Wee are lords, we will come no more vnto thee?
32 Doeth a maide forget her raiment, or a bride her stomacher? but my people hath forgotten me a very long while.
33 Why beautifiest thou thy waies so highly, to obtaine fauour thereby? therefore also hast thou taught wickednesse through thy wayes.
34 Vpon thy wings is found the blood of poore and innocent people, whome thou diddest not find in corners and holes: but thou flewest the prophets for reproouing all these things.
35 Yet darest thou say, I am without sinne and guiltlesse. Tush, his wrath cannot come vpon mee. Behold, I will reason with thee, because thou darest say, I haue not offended.
36 Why gaddest thou so much hither and thither, to change thy wayes? for thou shalt bee confounded as well of Egypt as thou wast of the Assyrians.
37 Yea, thou shalt go thy way from them, and smite thine hands together vpon thy head, because the Lord shall bring that confidence, and hope of thine to nought, and thou shalt not prosper withall.

Ierc. 11.13.

The iij. Chapter.

1 God being mercifull, calleth to repentance his people which he had forsaken for their whoredom with idoles. 20 Hee exhorteth Israel vnto repentance, promising them shepheards that should haue the true knowledge of God. 23 The returne of Israel vnto God, confessing their offence.

COmmonly when a man putteth away his wife, and shee goeth from him, and marrieth with another, then the question is, Should hee returne vnto her any more after that? (Is not that land then defiled and vnclean?) But as for thee, thou hast played the harlot with many louers, yet turne againe to me, sayth the Lord.
2 Lift vp thine eyes to the hie places, and looke where thou hast not bene defiled: thou hast waited for them in the streetes, and as a murderer in the wildernesse, through thy whoredoms and thanefull blasphemies is the land defiled.
3 This is the cause that the raine and euening dewe hath ceased: thou hast gotten thee an whores forehead, and wilt not be ashamed.
4 Wilt thou not hereafter say vnto me, O my father, thou art the that hast brought me vp, and led me from my youth?
5 Will God continue his wrath for euer? will he keepe our faults in memorie to the end? Nevertheless, thou speakest such wordes, but thou art euer doing worse and worse to the vttermost of thy power.

fol. Tt4r

6 The Lord said also vnto me in the time of Iosiah the king, Hast thou seene what that rebellious Israel hath done? how she hath run vp vpon all the hilles, and among all thicke trees, and there played the harlot?

7 Hast thou seene also when shee had done all this, how I said vnto her, that shee should turne againe vnto me, and yet shee is not returned? Iuda that vnfaithfull sister of hers also sawe this.

8 Namely, that after I had well seene the adulterie of the shrinking harlot Israel, I put her away, and gaue her a bill of diuorcement: for all this, her vnfaithfull sister Iuda was not ashamed, but went backe and played the whore.

9 Yea, the wantonnesse of her whoredome hath defiled the whole land: for she hath committed fornication with stockes and stones.

10 Neuertheless, her vnfaithfull sister Iuda is not returned vnto me againe with her whole heart, but fainedly, saith the Lord.

11 And the Lord said vnto me, The backslider Israel, is more righteous then the vnfaithfull Iuda.

12 And therefore goe, preach these wordes toward the North, and say, Thou disobedient Israel, turne againe, saith the Lord, and I will not bring my wrath vpon you: for I am mercifull, saith the Lord, and I will not alway beare displeasure against thee.

13 But on this condition, that thou knowe thy great blasphemie, namely, that thou hast vnfaithfully forsaken the Lord thy God, and hast made thy selfe partaker of strange gods, vnder all greene trees, and hast had no will to heare my voice, saith the Lord.

14 O ye disobedient children, turne againe, saith the Lord, and I will be married with you: for I will take one out of the citie, and two out of one generation from among you, and bring you into Sion.

15 And will giue you heardmen after mine owne minde, which shall feed you with learning and wisedome.

16 Moreouer, when ye be increased and multiplied in the land, then saith the Lorde, There shall no more boast bee made of the arke of the Lords Testament: no man shall thinke vpon it, neither shall any man make mention of it: for from thenceforth it shall neither bee visited, neither shall such thing be done any more.

17 Then shall Hierusalem bee called, The Lords seate, and all heathen shalbe gathered vnto it for the name of the Lords sake which shalbe set at Hierusalem: and from that time forth they shall follow no more the imagination of their owne froward heart.

18 Then those that bee of the house of Iuda shal goe into the house of Israel, and they shall come together out of the North, into the same land that I haue giuen your fathers.

19 I haue thought thus, How shall I take thee among my children, and giue a pleasant land for mine heritage, yea, and a goodly hoste of the heathen? And I said, Call me father, and shrinke not from me.

20 Truely, like as a woman faileth her husband, so are ye vnfaithfull vnto me, O yee house of Israel, saith the Lord.

21 The voice of the children of Israel was heard on high, weeping and wailing, for that they haue defiled their way, and forgotten God their Lord.

22 O yee disobedient children, turne againe, and so shall yee heale your backturnings. Loe, wee come vnto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truely in vaine is health hoped for from the hils, be they neuer so many: but the health of Israel standeth onely vpon God our Lord.

24 Confusion hath deuoured our fathers labour from our youth vp, yea their sheep and bullocks, their sonnes and daughters.

25 So doe wee also sleepe in our confusion, and shame couereth vs: for wee and our fathers from our youth vp vnto this day, haue sinned against the Lord our God, and haue not obeied the voice of the Lord our God.

The iiij. Chapter.

2 The true repentance or returning to God. 4 Hee exhorteth to the circumcision of the heart. 5 The destruction of Iurie is prophesied for the malice of their hearts.

1 IF Israel, if thou wilt turne thee, then turne vnto mee, saieth the Lord: and if thou wilt put away thine abominations out of my sight, thou shalt not be mooued,

2 And shalt sweare, The Lord liueth in truth, in equitie and righteousnesse, and all people shal be fortunable and ioyful in him.

3 For thus saith the Lord to all Iuda and Hierusalem, Plow your land, and sowe not among the thornes.

4 Be circumcised in the Lord, and cut away the foreskin of your hearts, all ye of Iuda, and all the inhabiters of Hierusalem: that mine indignation breake not out like fire and kindle, so that no man may quench it, because of the wickednes of your imaginations.

5 Preach in Iuda and Hierusalem, crie out and speake, blowe the trumpets in the land, crie, that euery man may heare, and say, Gather you together, and we will goe into strong cities.

6 Set vp the token in Sion, speed you, and make no tarying: for I will bring a great plague, and a great destruction from the North.

7 For the spoiler of the Gentiles is broken vp from his place, as a Lion out of his denne, that hee may make thy land waste, and destroy the cities, so that no man may dwel therein.

8 Therefore gird your selues about with sackcloth, mourne and weepe: for the fearefull wrath of the Lord is not withdrawen from vs.

9 At the same time, saith the Lord, the heart of the king and of the princes shalbe gone, the priests shalbe astonished, and the prophets shalbe sore afraid.

10 Then said I, O Lord God, hast thou then deceiued this people and Hierusalem, saying, Ye shal haue peace, and now the sword goeth thorowe their liues.

11 Then shall it bee said to the people and Hierusalem, A strong wind in the high places of the wildernesse commeth through the way of my people, but neither to fan nor to cleanse.

12 After that shall there come vnto me a strong winde from those places, and then will I also giue sentence vpon them.

13 For loe, hee ariseth like a cloude, and his charets are like a stormie winde, his horses are swifter

fol. Tt4v

swifter then the Eagle: Wo vnto vs, for we are destroyed.

14 O Hierusalem, wash thine heart from wickednes, that thou maiest be helped: how long shal thy vaine thoughts remaine with thee?

15 For a voice tolde from Dan, and from the hill of Ephraim sheweth out, and telleth of a destruction.

16 Remember the Heathen, and geue Hierusalem warning, and preach vnto her, that watchers out of her are comming from farre countreys, they haue cried out against the cities of Iuda.

17 And they haue beset her about in euery place, like as the watchmen in the field: for they haue prouoked me to wrath, saith the Lord.

18 Thy waies & thy thoughts haue brought thee vnto this, euen is thine owne wickednesse and disobedience: and because it is a bitter thing, it hath strichen thee to the heart.

19 Ah my belly, ah my belly, shalt thou cry, how is my heart so sore? my heart panteth within me, I cannot be still, for I haue heard the crying of the Trumpets and peales of warre.

20 There cry murder vpon murder, the whole land shal perish: Immediatly my tents were destroyed, and my hangings in the twinckling of an eye.

21 How long shal I see the tokens of warre, and heare the noise of the trumpets?

22 Nouertheles, this shall come vpon them, because my people are become foolish, and hath not knowen me: they are the children of foolishnes, and without any discretion: to doe euil they haue wit enough, but to doe wel, they haue no wisedome.

23 I haue looked vpon the earth, and see, it was waste and voide: I looked toward heauen, and it had no shine.

24 I beheld the mountaines, and loe, they trembled, and all the hils were in a feare.

25 I looked about me, and there was no body: and all the birds of the aire were away.

26 I misliked wel, and the plowed fielde was become waste, yea, al their cities were broken downe at the presence of the Lord, and indignation of his wrath.

27 For thus hath the Lord saide, The whole land shall bee desolate, yet wil I not then haue done.

28 And therefore shal the earth mourne, and the heauen bee sory aboue: for the thing that I haue spoken to the Prophets, purposed, and taken vpon me to do, shal not repent me, and I wil not go from it.

29 The whole land shall flee for the noyse of horsemen and bowmen, they shall ruling into dennes, into woods, & clime vp the stony rockes: all the cities shalbe voyde, and no man dwelling therein.

30 What wilt thou now doe, thou being destroyed? For though thou clothest thy selfe with skarlet, and deckest thee with gold, though thou paintest thy face with colours inowe, yet shalt thou trim thy selfe in vaine: for those that hitherto haue bene thy louers, shall abhorre thee, and go about to slay thee.

31 For I heare a noise like as it were of a woman trauailing, and one labouring of her first child, euen the voice of the daughter Sion, that cattyeth out her armes, and swoundeth, saying,

Ah, wo is mee, how sore vered and faint is my heart for feare of the murderers?

The v. Chapter.

1 In Iury is there no righteous or faithful man found, either amongst the people, or the Rulers, for whose sake the Lord should spare the citie. 15 Wherefore Iury is destroyed of the Assyrians.

LOoke thorow Hierusalem, beholde, and see, seeke thorow her streets also within, if ye can finde one man that doth equal a right, or seeketh for the trueth, and I shal spare the city, saith the Lord.

2 For though they can say, The Lord liueth: yet they sweare to deceiue.

3 Whereas thou (O Lord) lookest onely vpon faith and trueth: Thou hast scourged them, but they tooke no repentance, thou hast corrected them for amendment, but they refused thy correction, they made their faces harder then a stone, and would not amend.

4 Therefore I thought in my selfe, Peraduenture they are so simple and foolish, that they vnderstand nothing of the Lords way, and iudgments of their God.

5 Therefore wil I goe vnto their heads and rulers, and talke with them, if they know the way of the Lord, and iudgements of their God: But these in like maner haue broken the yoke, and burst the bonds in sunder.

6 Wherefore a Lion out of the wood hath hurt them, and a wolfe in the euening shall destroy them, the Leopard doth lie lurking by their cities, to teare in pieces al them that come thereout: for their offences are multiplied, and their departing away is increased.

7 Should I then for al this haue mercy vpon thee? Thy children haue forsaken mee, and sworne by them that are no Gods: and albeit that I fed them to the ful, yet they fall to adulterie, and haunt harlots houses.

8 *In the desire of vncleanely lust they are become like the stoned horse, euery man neigheth at his neighbours wife. Eze.22.11.

9 Should I not correct this, saith the Lord? should I not bee auenged of euery people that is like vnto this?

10 Clime vp vpon their walles, beate them downe, and [a] destroy them not vtterly: take away their battlements, because they are not the Lords.

11 For vnfaithfully hath the house of Israel and Iuda forsaken me, saith the Lord.

12 They haue denied the Lord, and said, It is not he that looketh vpon vs, tush, there shall no misfortune come vpon vs, wee shall see neither sword nor hunger.

13 As for the warning of the Prophets, it is but winde, yea, there is not the word of God in them: such things shal happen vnto themselues.

14 Wherefore thus sayeth the Lord God of hosts, Because ye speake such words, behold, the words that are in thy mouth wil I turne to fire, and make the people to bee wood, that the fire may consume them.

15 Loe, I wil bring a people vpon you from farre, O house of Israel, saith the Lord, a mighty people, an olde people, a people whose speach thou knowest not, neither vnderstandest what they say.

[a] These words are not to be referred vnto the citie or walles which were vtterly destroyed: but to a remnant of the people whom God did reserue, that his whole Church should not vtterly perish, although but a few did remaine faithfull.

16 Their arrowes are sudden death, yea, they themselues be very Giants.
17 This people shal eate vp thy fruit and thy meate, yea, they shal deuoure thy sonnes and thy daughters, thy sheepe and thy bullockes, they shal eat vp thy grapes and figs: As for thy strong and well defenced cities wherein thou diddest trust, they shal bring to pouertie, & that through the sword.
18 Neuertheless, I wil not then haue done with you, saith the Lord.
Iere.16.10. 19 *But if they say, Wherefore doth the Lord our God all this vnto vs? Then answere them, Because that like as ye haue forsaken mee, and serued strange gods in your land, euen so shal ye serue strangers out of your land.
20 Preach this vnto the house of Iacob, and cry it out in Iuda, and say thus,
Esai.6.9. 21 *Heare this, thou foolish and vndiscreet people, Ye haue eyes, but ye see not, eares haue ye, but ye heare not.
22 Feare ye not mee, saith the Lord? wil yee not tremble at my presence? which binde the sea with the sande by a continuall decree, so that it cannot passe his bounds: for though it rage, yet can it doe nothing, and though the waues thereof do swel, yet may they not goe ouer.
23 But this people hath a false and obstinate heart, they are departed and gone away from me.
24 They thinke not in their hearts, O let vs feare the Lord our God, who giueth vs raine early and late when need is, which keepeth euer stil the haruest for vs yeerely.
25 Neuertheless, your misdeedes haue turned these from you, and your sinnes haue robbed you of good things.
26 For among my people are founde wicked persons, that priuily lay snares and waite for men to take them, and destroy them.
27 And like as a net is ful of birds, so are their houses full of that which they haue gotten with falshood and deceit: Hereof commeth their great substance and riches.
Ezr.22.18
28 Hereof are they fat and wealthy, and are Esai.1.23. zach.7.10. more mischieuous then any other: *they minister not the Law, they make no ende of the fatherlesse cause, yea and they prosper: yet they iudge not the poore according to equitie.
29 Should I not punish these things, saith the Lord? should not I bee auenged of all such people as these be?
30 Horrible and grieuous things are done in the land.
31 The prophets teach falsly, and the preachers receiue gifts, and my people hath pleasure therein: what wil come thereof at the last?

a The Iewes vnderstand here the rule of Moyses lawes which were namely determined for the gouernment of the people before Christ. But Christians, that liue vnder Christ, haue other lawes prescribed vnto them, although here & there still remaine the olde lawes.

The vj. Chapter.

1 The sinnes for which Hierusalem is afflicted. 10 Vncircumcised eares, 13 couetousnesse, 14 deceit. 20 The Lord reiecteth the sacrifices of the Iewes. 22 The comming of the Babylonians is prophecied againe.

GOne out of Hierusalem, ye strong children of Beniamin, blow vp the Trumpets ye Thecuites, set vp a token vnto Bethcaran: for a plague and a great misery appeareth out from the North.
2 I wil liken the daughter Sion to a faire and tender woman, & to her shal come the a shepheards with their flockes.
3 Their tents shall they pitch round about her, and euery one shall feed in his place.
4 Make battell against her, shall they say, arise, let vs go vp while it is yet day: Alas the day goeth away, and the night shadowes fal downe.
5 Arise, let vs go vp by night, and destroy her strong holds.
6 For thus hath the Lord of hostes commanded, Hew downe her trees, and set vp bulwarks against Hierusalem: for the time is come that this citie must be punished, for in her is all maliciousnesse.
7 Like as a conduit spoweth out waters, so she spoweth out her wickednesse: Robbery and vnrighteousnesse is heard in her, sorowe and wounds are euer there in my sight.
8 Amend thee (O Hierusalem) lest I withdraw my heart from thee, and make thee desolate, and thy land also, that no man dwel in it.
9 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, The residue of Israel shall be gathered as the remnant of grapes: and therefore turne thine hand againe into the basket, like the grape gatherer.
10 But vnto whom shall I speake? whom shall I warne, that hee may take heede? Their eares are so vncircumcised, that they may not heare: behold, they take the word of God but for a scorne, and haue no lust thereto.
11 And therefore I am so ful of thine indignation, O Lord, that I may suffer no longer, but shed it out vpon the children that are without, and vpon al yong men: yea, the man must be taken prisoner with the wife, and the aged with the creeple.
12 Their houses with their lands and wiues shalbe turned into strangers: for I wil stretch out mine hand vpon the inhabiters of this land, saith the Lord.
13 *For from the least to the most they hang al vpon couetousnesse, and from the prophet vnto the priest, they go about falshood and lies. Esai.56.11. iere.8.10, 14 And beside that, they heale the hurt of my people with sweet words, saying, Peace, peace: when there is no peace at all.
15 Were they ashamed when they had committed abomination? Truely nay, they be past shame, and therefore they shal fall among the slaine, and in the houre when I shal visite them, they shalbe brought downe, saith the Lord.
16 Thus saith the Lord, Go into the streets, consider and make inquisition for the old way, and if it bee the good and right way, *then goe therein, that ye may finde rest for your soules: but they say, We wil not walke therein. Mat.11.29, 17 Moreouer, I wil set watchmen ouer you, and therefore take heed vnto the voyce of the Trumpet: but they say, We wil not take heed.
18 Heare therefore, ye Gentiles, and thou congregation shalt know what I haue deuised for them.
19 Heare thou earth also: Behold, I will cause a plague to come vpon this people, euen the fruit of their owne imaginations, for that they haue not bene obedient vnto my words, and to my Law, but abhorred them.
20 *Wherefore bring ye me incense from Saba, and sweete smelling Calamus from farre countreis? bYour whole burnt offrings displease me, and I reioyce not in your sacrifices. Esai.1.11. amos 5.21. b Ceremonies although they be Gods ordinances, please him not without faith and pacience o'mende.

fol. Tt5v

21 And therefore thus sayeth the Lord, Behold, I will lay stumbling blockes among this people, and there shall fall at them the father with the children, one neighbour shall perish with another.

22 Thus saith the Lord, Behold, there shall come a people from the North, and a great people shal arise from the ends of the earth.

23 With bowes and with darts shall they be weaponed, it is a rough and fierce people, and an vnmercifull people, their voice roareth like the Sea, they ride vpon horses wel appointed to the battel against thee, O daughter Sion.

24 The fame of them haue wee heard, our armes are feeble, [c] heauinesse and sorrowe is come vpon vs, as vpon a woman trauailing with childe.

[c] So soone as the hypocrites heare tell that Gods iudgements are at hand, their heart faileth, and is full of sorrow.

25 Let no man goe forth into the fielde, let no man come vpon the high street: for the sworde and feare of the enemy is on euery side.

26 Wherefore gird a sackcloth about thee, O thou daughter of my people, sprincle thy selfe with ashes: mourne and weepe bitterly, as vpon thine onely beloued sonne, for the destroyer shall suddenly fal vpon vs.

Iere.1.18. 27 *Thee haue I set for a strong towre, O thou Prophet, and a well fenced wall among my people, to seeke out and to try their wayes.

28 For they are all stubborne Apostates, and fallen away, walking deceitfully, they are cleane brasse and yron, for they hurt and destroy euery man.

29 The bellowes are burnt in the fire, the lead is not moulten, the melter melteth in vaine, for the euil is not taken away from them.

30 Therefore doe they call them naughty siluer, because the Lord hath cast them out.

The vij. Chapter.

2 Ieremie is commanded to shewe vnto the people the worde of God, which trusteth to the outward seruice of the Temple. 13 The euils that shall happen to the Iewes for the despising of their Prophets. 21 Sacrifices doeth not the Lord chiefely require of the Iewes, but that they should obey his worde.

THese are the words that God spake vnto Ieremie, saying,

2 Stand vnder the gate of the Lords house, and cry out these wordes there with a loud voyce, and say, Heare the worde of the Lord all yee of Iuda, that goe in at this doore, to worship the Lord:

Iere.26.13. 3 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, *Amend your wayes & your counsailes, and I wil let you dwel in this place.

4 Trust not in false lying wordes, saying, Here is the Temple of the Lord, here is the temple of the Lord, here is the Temple of the Lord:

5 But rather in deede amende your wayes and counsailes, and iudge right betwixt a man and his neighbour.

6 Oppresse not the stranger, the fatherlesse, and the widow, shead not innocent blood in this place, cleaue not to strange gods, to your owne destruction:

7 Then will I let you dwell in this place, yea, in the land that I gaue afortime to your fathers for euer.

8 But take heed, ye trust in lying tales that beguile you, and do you no good.

9 For when yee haue stolen, murdered, committed adulterie, and periurie, when ye haue offered vnto Baal, following strange & vnknowen gods: shal ye be vnpunished?

10 Yet then come ye, and stand before mee in this house (which hath my Name giuen vnto it) and say, Tush, we are absolued quite, though we haue done al these abominations.

11 What, *thinke you this house that beareth my Name, is a denne of thieues? And yet I see what you thinke, saith the Lord. Mat.21,13. mar.11.14. luke 19.46.

12 Goe to my place in Silo, whereunto I gaue my Name afortime, *and looke wel what I did to the same place for the wickednesse of my people of Israel. Prou.1.13. esai.65.12.

13 And now seeing yee haue done all these deeds, saith the Lord, and I my selfe rose vp euer betimes to warne you, and to commune with you, yet would yee not heare mee, I called, yee would not answere:

14 Therefore, *euen as I haue done vnto Silo, so will I doe to this house that my Name is giuen vnto, and that yee put your trust in: yea, vnto the place that I haue giuen to you, and your fathers: 1.King.4. 13.

15 And I shal thrust you out of my sight, as I haue cast out all your brethren the whole seed of Ephraim.

16 * Therefore thou shalt not pray for this people, thou shalt neither giue thankes nor bid prayer for them: make thou no intercession for them, for in no wise wil I heare thee. Iere.14.12.

17 Seest thou not what they do in the cities of Iuda, and in the streets of Hierusalem?

18 *The children gather sticks, the fathers kindle the fire, the women knead the dough to bake cakes for the queene of heauen: they powre out drinke offerings vnto strange gods, to prouoke me vnto wrath. Iere.44.19.

19 Howbeit they hurt not me, saith the Lord, but rather confound and shame themselues.

20 And therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, my wrath and indignation shalbe powred out vpon this place, vpon men and cattel, vpon trees in the field and fruit of the land: and it shal burne, so that no man may quench it.

21 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Heape vp your burnt offrings with your sacrifices, and eat the flesh.

22 For when I brought your fathers out of Egypt, I spake no word vnto them of burnt offrings and sacrifices.

23 But this I commanded them, saying, Hearken and obey my voyce, and I shalbe your God, and ye shalbe my people, so that ye walke in all the wayes which I haue commanded you, that ye may prosper.

24 But they were not obedient, they inclined not their eares thereunto: but went after their owne imaginations, and after the motions of their owne wicked heart, and so turned themselues away, and conuerted not vnto me.

25 And this haue they done from the time that your fathers came out of Egypt, vnto this day: Neuertheless, I sent vnto you my seruants the Prophets, I rose vp earely, and sent you word.

26 *Yet would they not hearken, nor offer mee their eares, but were obstinate, and worse then their fathers. Iere.16,12.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Tt6r

27 And thou shalt now speake all these words vnto them, but they will not heare thee: thou shalt cry vpon them, but they will not answere thee.

28 Therefore shalt thou say vnto them, This is the people that neither heareth the voyce of the Lord their God, nor receiueth his correction: faithfulnesse and trueth is cleane rooted out of their mouth.

29 Wherefore cut off thine haire O Hierusalem and cast it away, take vp a complaint on high: for the Lord hath cast away and forsaken the people that he is displeased withal.

30 For the children of Iuda haue done euil in my sight, saith the Lord, they haue set vp their abominations in the house that hath my Name, and haue defiled it:

31 They haue also builded altars at Thopheth, which is in the valley of the children of Hennom, that they might burne their sonnes and daughters in fire: which I neuer commanded them, neither came it euer in my thought.

32 And therefore behold, the dayes shal come (saith the Lord) that it shal no more bee called Thopheth, or the valley of the children of Hennom, but the valley of slaughter: for in Thopheth they shall be buried, because they shall els haue no rowme.

33 Yea, the dead bodies of this people shalbe eaten vp of the foules of the aire, and wilde beastes of the earth, and no man shal fray them away.

34 *And as for the voyce of mirth and gladnesse of the cities of Iuda and Hierusalem, the voyce of the bridegrome, and of the bride, I wil make them cease: for the land shalbe desolate.

Ezec. 26, 13.

The viij. Chapter.

1 The destruction of the Iewes. 4 The Lord mooueth the people to amendment, reckoning vp their sinnes. 20 He reprehendeth the lying doctrine of the prophets and priests.

AT the same time, saith the Lord, the bones of the Kings of Iuda, the bones of his princes, the bones of the preachers and prophets, yea, and the bones of the citizens of Hierusalem, shall bee brought out of their graues,

2 And layde against the Sunne, and the Moone, and all the heauenly hoste, whom they loued, whom they serued, whom they ran after, whom they sought and worshipped: they shall neither bee gathered together nor buried, but shal lie as doung vpon the earth.

3 And all they that remaine of this wicked generation, shal desire rather to die then to liue, whersoeuer they remaine, and whereas I scatter them, saith the Lord of hostes.

4 Thus shalt thou say vnto them also, Thus saith the Lord, Doe men fall, so that they rise not vp againe? or if Israel repent, wil not God turne againe to them?

5 Wherefore then is this people of Hierusalem gone so farre backe, that they turne not againe? They are euer the longer the more obstinate, and wil not be conuerted.

6 For I haue looked and considered, but there is no man that speaketh a good worde, there is no man that taketh repentance for his sinne, that wil so much say, What haue I done? but euery man turneth to his owne course, like a fierce horse headlong to the battel.

7 The Stocke in the aire knoweth his appointed time, the turtle Doue, the Swallowe and the Crane consider the time of their trauel: but my people wil not know the time of the punishment of the Lord.

8 How dare ye say then, We are wise, wee haue the Law of the Lord among vs? Truely in vaine hath hee prepared his penne, and vainely haue the writers written it.

9 Therefore shall the wise bee confounded, they shalbe afraid and taken: for loe, they haue cast out the word of the Lord, What wisedome can then be among them?

10 Wherefore I wil giue their wiues vnto aliants, and their fieldes to destroyers: for *from the lowest vnto the highest they follow filthy lucre, and from the prophet vnto the priest, they deale al with lies.

Esai. 55. 12. iere. 6. 13.

11 Neuertheless, they heale the hurt of my people very slenderly, saying, Peace, peace: where there is no peace at all.

12 Fie for shame, how abominable things do they, & yet they be not ashamed, yea, they know of no shame: Wherefore in the time of their visitation, they shal fall among the dead bodies, and be ouerthrowen, saith the Lord.

13 Moreouer, I will consume them in deede (saith the Lord) so that there shal not bee one grape vpon the vine, neither one figge vpon the figge tree, and the leaues shalbe pluckt off, and the thing that I haue giuen them, shalbe taken from them.

14 Why prolong wee the time? let vs gather our selues together, and goe into the strong city, there shall wee be in rest: for the Lord our God hath put vs to silence, and giuen vs water mixt with gal to drinke, because wee haue sinned against him.

15 *We looked for peace, and we fare not the better, we waited for the time of health, and loe, here is nothing but trouble.

Iesse. 14. 19.

16 The noise of his horses is heard from Dan, the whole land is afraide at the neighing of his strong horses: for they are come in, and haue deuoured the land with al that is in it, the cities, and those that dwel therein.

17 Moreouer, I wil sende Cockatrices and serpents among you (which wil not be charmed) and they shal bite you, saith the Lord.

18 I would haue had comfort against sorow: but sorow is come vpon me, and heauinesse vexeth my heart.

19 For loe, the voyce of the crying of my people is heard for feare of them that come from a far countrey: Is not the Lord in Sion? Is not her King in her? Wherefore then haue they grieued me shall the Lord say, with their images and foolish strange fashions of a forreine god?

20 The haruest is gone, the Summer hath an end, and we are not helped.

21 I am sore vexed because of the hurt of my people, I am heauie and abashed.

22 Is there not Triacle at Gilead? Is there no Physicion there? why then is not the health of my people recouered?

God ought we onely to reioyce. 26 The vncircumcision of the heart.

O who wil giue my head water ynough, and a well of teares for mine eyes, that I may weepe night and day for the slaughter of my people?

2 Would God that I had a cottage some where farre from folke, that I might leaue my people and goe from them, for they be al adulterers, and a shrinking sort.

3 They bende their tongues like bowes to shoote out lies, they ware strong vpon earth: As for the Trueth, they may nothing away withall in the world, for they goe from one wickednesse to another, and wil not know me, saith the Lord.

4 Yea, one must keep himselfe from another, no man may safely trust his owne brother: for one brother vndermineth another, one neighbour beguileth another.

5 Yea, one dissembleth with another, and they deale with no trueth: They haue practised their tongues to lye, and taken great paines to do mischiefe.

6 Thou sittest in the middes of a deceitfull people, which for very dissembling falhood will not know me, saith the Lord.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, I wil melt them, & try them: for what should I els do to my people?

8 Their tongues are like sharpe arrowes to speake deceite: *with their mouth they speake peaceably to their neighbour, but priuily they lay wait for him. Psal.28.3.

9 Should I not punish them for these things, saith the Lord? or should I not be auenged of any such people as this?

10 Vpon the mountaines wil I take vp a lamentation, and a sorowful cry, and a mourning vpon the faire places of the wildernesse: namely, how they are so burnt vp that no man goeth there any more, yea, a man shall not heare one beast cry there: birds and cattel are al gone from thence.

11 I will make Hierusalem also an heape of stones, and a denne of venemous wormes: and I will make the cities of Iuda so waste, that no man shal dwel therein.

12 What man is so wise as to vnderstande this? or to whom hath ỳ Lord spoken by mouth, that he may shew this, and say, O thou land, why perishest thou so? wherefore art thou so burnt vp, and like a wildernesse that no man goeth thorow?

13 Yea, the Lord himselfe tolde the same vnto them that forlooke his Law, and kept not the thing that hee gaue them in commandement, neither liued thereafter:

14 But followed the wickednesse of their owne hearts, and serued strange gods, as their forefathers taught them.

15 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, *Beholde, I wil feed this people with wormewood, and giue them gal to drinke. Iere.25.15.

16 I will scatter them also among the Heathen, whom neither they, nor their fathers haue known: and I wil send a sword among them to persecute them, vntil I bring them to nought.

17 Moreouer, thus saith the Lord of hostes, Beware of the vengeance that hangeth ouer you, and call for mourning wiues, and sende for wise women, that they come thether.

18 And sing a mourning song of vs, that the teares may fal out of our eyes, and that our eye lids may gush out of water.

19 For there is a lamentable noise heard of Sion: O how are we so sore destroyed? O how are wee so pitcously confounded? Wee must forsake our owne naturall countrey, and wee are shut out of our owne lodgings.

20 Yet heare the word of the Lord (O ye women) and let your eares regard the words of his mouth, that yee may learne your daughters to mourne, & that euery one may teach her neighbour to make lamentation.

21 Namely thus, Death is climing vp in at our windowes, hee is come into our houses, to destroy the childe before the doore, and the yong man in the streete.

22 But tel thou plainely, Thus sayeth the Lord, The dead bodies of men shall lie vpon the ground, as the doung vpon the fielde, and as the handfull after the mower, and there shalbe no man to take them vp.

23 Thus saith the Lord, *Let not the wise man reioyce in his wisedome, nor the strong man in his strength, neither the rich man in his riches. 1.Cor.1.31. 2.cor.10. 17.

24 But who so wil reioyce, let him reioyce in this, that hee vnderstandeth and knoweth mee, that I am the Lord, which doe mercie, equitie, and righteousnesse vpon the earth: therefore haue I pleasure in such things, saith the Lord.

25 Behold, the time commeth (saith the Lord) that I wil visite al them whose foreskinne is vncircumcised, and the circumcised, 26 The Egyptians, the Iewes, the Edomites, the Ammonites, the Moabites, and the hauen Madianites that dwell in the wildernesse: for all the Gentiles are all vncircumcised in the flesh, but all the house of Israel are vncircumcised in the heart.

The x. Chapter.

2 The constellations of the starres are not to be feared. 5 Of the weaknes of idoles, and of the power of God. 21 Of euil Curates.

HEare the worde of the Lord that hee speaketh vnto thee, O thou house of Israel.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Yee shall not learne after the maner of the heathen, and ye shal not be afraid for tokens of heauen: for the heathen are afraid of such.

3 Yea, all the customes and lawes of the Gentiles are nothing but vanitie: They hewe downe a tree in the wood with the handes of the workeman, and fashion it with the axe.

4 They couer it ouer with golde or siluer, they fasten it with nailes and hammers, that it moue not.

5 It standeth as stiffe as the Palme tree, it can neither speake, nor goe on foote, but must be borne: be not ye afraide of such, for they can doe neither good nor euil.

6 *But there is none like vnto thee, O Lord: and great is the Name of thy power. Apoc.15.4.

7 Who would not feare thee, O King of the Gentiles? for thine is the dominion: for among all the wise men of the Gentiles, and in all their kingdomes, there is none that may be likened vnto thee.

8 They are altogether brutish and vnwise in this one thing: [a] wood is the teaching of vanitie.

9 Siluer is brought out of Tharsis, and beaten to plates, and gold from Ophir, a worke that is made with the hand of the craftesman, and they are clothed with yellowe silke and scarlet: all these are the worke of cunning men.

10 But the Lord is a true God, a liuing God, and an euerlasting king: if hee be wroth the earth shaketh, all the Gentiles may not abide his indignation.

11 As for their gods, thus shal you say to them, They are no gods that made neither heauen nor earth, therefore shall they perish from the earth, and from all things vnder heauen.

Gen.1.6. psal.13.5. 12 *But as for our God, he hath made the earth with his power, and with his wisedome doeth he order the whole compasse of the world, with his discretion hath he spread out the heauens.

13 At his voice the waters gathered together in the ayre, hee draweth vp the cloudes from the vttermost parts of the earth: * He turneth lightning to raine, and bringeth forth the winds out of their treasures.

Psal.134.7. 1.Cor.1.21. 2.cor.10. 17.

14 His wisedome maketh all men fooles, and confounded be casters of images: for that they cast is but a vaine thing, and hath no life.

15 The vaine craftsmen with their workes that they in their vanitie haue made shall perish one with another in time of visitation.

16 Neuertheless, Iacobs portion is none such: but it is he that hath made all things, and Israel is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hostes is his name.

17 Gather vp thy wares out of the land, thou that art in the strong place.

18 For thus saieth the Lord, Behold, I will now throw as with a stone sling the inhabitters of this land at this once, and I will bring trouble vpon them, that they shall proove true the words that I haue spoken by the Prophets.

19 Alas how am I hurt? alas how painfull are my scourges vnto me? for I consider this sorow by my selfe, and I must suffer it.

20 My tabernacle is destroyed, and all my cords are broken, my children are gone from me, and can no where be found: Now haue I none to spread out my tent, nor to set vp my hangings.

[b] The kings, the rulers, the prophets, and the priests, are blinde, and so destroy the flocke.

21 [b] For the heardmen are become foolish, and they haue not sought the Lorde: therefore haue they dealt vnwisely with their cattell, and all are scattered abroad.

22 Behold, the noyse is hard at hand, a great sedition out of the North, to make the cities of Iuda a wildernesse, and a dwelling place for Dragons.

23 Now I know (O Lorde) that it is not in mans power to order his owne wayes, or to rule his owne steps and goings.

Psal.6.1. 24 *Therefore chasten thou me, O Lord, but with fauour, and not in thy wrath, least thou bring me vtterly to nought.

Psal.79.6. 25 *Powre out thine indignation vpon the Gentiles that know thee not, and vpon the people that call not vpon thy Name, and that because they haue consumed, deuoured, and destroyed Iacob, and haue made his habitation waste.

[a] By wood is meant, all kind of matter, whereof images are wont to be made, which although they be garnished with gold and siluer and clothed in purple and silke, and set vp (as some men say) to be lay-mens bookes, yet teach they nothing (say the Prophet) but vanitie.

The xj. Chapter.

3 A curse to them that obey not the worde of Gods promise. 10 The people of Iuda following the steppes of their fathers, worship strange gods. 15 The Lorde sayeth that hee will not heare the Iewes, and forbiddeth also Ieremie to pray for them.

THis is a sermon which the Lorde commanded Ieremie for to preach, saying,

2 Heare the words of this couenant, and speake vnto the men of Iuda, and to all them that dwel at Hierusalem,

3 And say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Cursed be euery one that is not obedient vnto the wordes of this couenant,

4 Which I commanded vnto your fathers, what time as I brought them out of Egypt from the yron furnace, saying, Be obedient vnto my voice, and doe according to all that I commaund you, so shall ye be my people, and I will be your God:

5 And will keepe my promise that I haue sworne vnto your fathers, namely, that I would giue them a land which floweth with milke and hony, as yee see it is come to passe vnto this day. Then answered I, and said, Amen: let it be euen so Lord as thou sayest.

6 Then the Lorde sayde vnto mee againe, Preach this in the cities of Iuda, and round about Hierusalem, and say, Heare the wordes of this couenant, and keepe them.

7 For I haue diligently exhorted your fathers, euen since the time that I brought them out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, I gaue them warning betimes, saying, Hearken vnto my voice.

8 Neuertheless they would not obey me, nor encline their eares vnto mee: but followed the wicked imaginations of their owne hearts, and therefore I haue brought vpon them all the wordes of this couenant that I gaue them to keepe, which they notwithstanding haue not kept.

9 And the Lorde sayd vnto me, It is found out that whole Israel, and all the cities of Hierusalem are gone backe.

10 They haue turned themselues to the blasphemies of their forefathers, which had no lust to heare my wordes: euen likewise also haue these followed straunge gods, and worshipped them: The house of Israel and Iuda haue broken my couenant which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde, Behold, I will send a plague vpon them, which they shal not be able to escape, and they shall crie vnto me, and I will not heare them.

12 Then shall the townes of Iuda, and the citizens of Hierusalem goe and call vpon their gods vnto whom they made their oblations: but they shall not be able to helpe them in time of their trouble.

13 *For as many cities as thou hast, O Iuda, so many gods hast thou had also, and looke how many streets there be in thee, (O Hierusalem) so many shamefull altars haue yee set vp, altars I say, to offer vpon them vnto Baal. Iere.2.28.

14 *Therefore pray not thou for this people, bidde neither praise nor prayer for them: for though they crie vnto me in their trouble, yet will I not heare them. Iere.14.12.

fol. Uu1v

15 What part hath my beloued in my house, seeing he hath wrought abomination, seruing many gods? The holy flesh offerings in the temple are gone from thee, O Iuda, and thou, when thou hast done euill, makest thy boast of it.

16 The Lord called thee a greene Olive tree, a faire one, a fruitful one, a goodly one: but with great clamour hath the enemie set fire vpon it, and the branches of it are destroyed.

17 For the Lord of hostes that planted thee, hath deuised a plague for thee, (O thou house of Israel and Iuda) for the euill that yee haue done to prouoke him to wrath, in that ye did seruice to Baal.

18 This (O Lorde) haue I learned of thee, and vnderstand it: for thou hast shewed me their imaginations.

19 But I am as a meeke Lambe, an Ore that is caried away to bee slaine, not knowing that they had deuised such a counsell against me, saying, We will destroy his meate with wood, and driue him out of the lande of the liuing, that his name shall neuer be thought vpon.

1.Chr.28,9 iere. 17.10. and 20. 12. psal.7.10.

20 *Therefore I will beseech thee now, (O Lorde of hostes) thou righteous Iudge, thou that tryest the reines and the hearts, let me see thee auenged of them: for vnto thee haue I committed my cause.

21 The Lord therefore spake thus of the citizens of Anathoth that sought to slay me, saying, Preach not vnto vs in the Name of the Lord, or else thou shalt die of our hands.

22 Thus I say spake the Lorde of hostes, Behold, I will visite you, your young men shall perish with the sword, your sonnes & your daughters shall vtterly die of hunger.

23 So that none shall remaine: for vpon the citizens of Anathoth will I bring a plague, euen the yeere of their visitation.

The xij. Chapter.

1 The Prophet marueileth greatly at the prosperitie of the wicked, although hee confesse God to bee righteous. 7 The Iewes are forsaken of the Lord 10 He speaketh against the Curates and Preachers that seduce the people. 14 The Lord threatneth destruction vnto the nations that bordered vpon Iurie, which troubled and vexed it.

RIghteous Lorde, thou art more righteous then that I shoulde dispute with thee: neuertheless, let mee talke with thee in things reasonable. *How happeneth it that the way of the vngodly is so prosperous? and that it goeth so wel with them which without any shame offend and liue in wickednesse?

Iob 21.7. abac.1.3.

2 Thou plantest them, they take roote, they grow, and bring foorth fruite: they boast much of thee, yet art thou farre from their [a] reines.

[a] By the reines he meaneth the inward affections and secrecie of the mind.

3 But thou Lorde to whome I am well knowen, thou that hast seene and prooued my heart, take them away, like as a flocke is caried to the slaughter house, and appoint them for the day of slaughter.

4 How long shall the land mourne, and all the herbes of the field perish for the wickednesse of them that dwell therein? The cattell and the birds are gone, yet say they, Tush, God will not destroy vs vtterly.

5 Seeing thou art weary in running with the footmen, how wilt thou then runne with horses? In a peaceable sure lande thou mayest be safe: but how wilt thou doe in the furious pride of Iordane?

6 For thy brethren and thy kinred haue altogether despised thee, and cryed out vpon thee altogether: Beleeue them not though they speake faire words to thee.

7 As for me, I say, I haue forsaken mine own dwelling place, and left mine heritage: I haue giuen that my soule [b] loued so wel into the hand of her enemies.

[b] Ye meaneth the citie, with the temple and the people whome he loued entierly.

8 Mine heritage is become vnto mee as a Lyon in the wood: it cryed out vpon me: therefore haue I forsaken it.

9 Is not mine heritage vnto me as a speckled bird? are not the birds round about against her? Come and gather ye together all yee beasts of the field, come, that ye may eate it vp.

10 Diuers heardmen haue broken downe my vineyard, and troden vpon my portion: of my pleasant portion they haue made a wildernesse and desert.

11 They haue layd it waste, and now that it is waste, it lyeth vnto me: yea, the whole land lyeth waste, and no man regardeth it.

12 The destroyers come ouer the borders in the desert euery way: for the sword of the Lorde doth consume from the one end of the land to the other, and no flesh hath rest.

13 They haue sowen wheate, and reaped thornes, ||they haue taken heritage in possession, but it doeth them no good: and they were ashamed of your fruites, because of the great wrath of the Lord.

||Some read, they were sicke & had no profite.

14 Thus sayeth the Lorde vpon all my euill neighbors that lay hand on my heritage which I haue possessed, euen my people of Israel, Behold, I will pluck them namely Israel out of their lande, and put out the house of Iuda from among them.

15 And when I haue rooted them out, I wil be at one with them againe, and I wil haue mercie vpon them, and bring them againe euery man to his owne heritage, and into his land.

16 And if they, namely that trouble my people will learne the wayes of them to sweare by my Name, The Lord liueth, like as they learned my people to sweare by Baal: then shall they be built among my people.

17 But if they will not obey, then will I root out the same folke, and destroy them, sayth the Lord.

The xiij. Chapter.

1 The destruction of the Iewes is prefigured, & their sparsing abroad. 11 Why Israel was receiued to be the people of God, and why they were forsaken.

THus sayth the Lorde vnto me, Goe thy way, and get thee a linnen girdle, and girde it about thy loynes, let it not be wet.

2 Then I got me a girdle, according to the commandement of the Lord, and put it about my loynes.

3 After this, the second time the Lord spake vnto me againe,

4 Take the girdle that thou hast prepared, and put about thee, and get thee vp, and goe vnto Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole of the rocke.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Uu2r

5 So went I, and hid it at Euphrates, as the Lord commaunded me.

6 And it happened long after this, that the Lorde spake vnto me, Vp, & get thee to Euphrates, and fetch the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then went I to Euphrates, and digged vp, and tooke the girdle from the place where I had hid it: and beholde, the girdle was corrupt, so that it was profitable for nothing.

8 Then sayd the Lord vnto me,

9 Thus sayeth the Lorde, Euen so will I corrupt the pride of Iuda, and the high mind of Hierusalem.

10 This people is a wicked people, they will not heare my word, they follow the wicked imaginations of their owne heart, and hang vpon strange gods, them they serue and worship, and therefore they shall be as this girdle that serueth for nothing.

11 For as straitly as a girdle lyeth vpon a mans loynes, so straitly did I binde the whole house of Israel, and the whole house of Iuda vnto me, sayth the Lord, that they might be my people, that they might haue a glorious name, that they might be in honour: but they would not obey me.

12 Therefore lay this riddle before them, and say, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, Euerie pot shall be filled with wine. And they shall say vnto thee, Thinkest thou wee knowe not that euery pot shall be filled with wine?

13 Then shalt thou say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lorde, Behold, I shall fill the inhabiters of this land with drunkennesse, the kings that sit vpon Dauids stoole, the priests and prophets, with all that dwell at Hierusalem.

14 And I will set them one against another, yea, the fathers against the sonnes, sayeth the Lord, I will not pardon them, I will not spare them, nor haue pitie vpon them: but destroy them.

15 Heare, giue eare, take not disdaine at it: for it is the Lord himselfe that speaketh.

16 Honour the Lord your God or he take his light from you, and or euer your feet stumble in darknesse at the hill: least when you looke for the light, he turne it into the shadow and darknesse of death.

17 But if ye will not heare me that giue you secret warning, I will mourne from my whole heart for your stubburnnesse: *Piteously will I weepe, and the teares shall gush out of mine eyes, for the Lordes flocke shall be caried away captiue. Lamen. 1.1.

18 Tell the King and the Queene, Humble your selues, sit you downe low, for your dignitie shalbe throwen downe, and the crowne of your glorie shall fall from your head.

19 The cities toward the South shalbe shut vp, and no man shal open them: all Iuda shalbe caried away captiue, so that none shall remaine.

20 Lift vp your eyes, and beholde them that come from the North: where is the flocke O thou land, that was giuen thee? and where are thy fat and rich sheepe?

21 To whome wilt thou make thy moane when the enemie shall come vpon thee? for thou hast taught them thy selfe, and made them maisters ouer thee: shall not sorow come vpon thee as on a woman trauailing with child?

22 And if thou wouldest then say in thine heart, Wherefore come these things vpon mee? Euen for the multitude of thy blasphemies shall thy hinder parts and thy feet be discouered.

23 May a man of Inde change his skin, and the Cat of the mountaine her spots? so, may yee that be exercised in euill, doe good.

24 Therefore will I scatter them like as the stubble that is taken away with the South winde.

25 This shalbe your portion, and the portion of your measure wherewith ye shalbe rewarded of me, sayth the Lorde, because yee haue forgotten me, and put your trust in deceitfull things, 26 Therefore shall I turne thy clothes ouer thy head, and discouer thy shame.

27 Thy adulteries, thy neighings, thy shamefull whoredome on the hils in the fields, and thy abominations haue I seene: Woe be vnto thee (O Hierusalem) wilt thou neuer be cleansed any more? or when shall that be?

The xiiij. Chapter.

Of the dearth that should come in Iurie. 7 The prayer of the people asking mercie of the Lorde. 10 The vnfaithfull people are not heard. 12 Of prayer, fasting, and of false prophets that seduce the people.

THe word of the Lorde shewed vnto Ieremie, concerning the dearth of the fruites.

2 Iuda hath mourned, his gates are desolate, they are broght to heauinesse, euen vnto the ground, and the cry of Hierusalem goeth vp.

3 The lords sent their seruants to fetch water, and when they came to the welles, they did finde no water, but caried their vessels home emptie: they be ashamed and confounded, and couer their heads.

4 For the ground is dryed, because there commeth no raine vpon it: the plowmen also be ashamed and couer their heads.

5 The Hind also forlooke the young fawne that she brought forth in the field, because there was no grasse.

6 The wilde asses did stand in the high places, and drewe in their winde like the dragons, their eyes did faile for want of grasse.

7 Doubtlesse, our owne wickednesse doeth reward vs: but Lord doe thou according to thy name, though our transgressions and sinnes be many, and against thee haue we sinned.

8 For thou art the comfort and helpe of Israel in the time of trouble: Why wilt thou be as a stranger in the lande, and as one that goeth his iourney, and commeth onely to remaine for a night?

9 Why wilt thou make thy selfe a coward, and as it were a gyant that yet may not helpe? But thou, O Lord, art in the middest of vs, and thy Name is called vpon of vs, forsake vs not.

10 Thus hath the Lord said vnto his people, Seeing they haue had such a lust to wander abroad, and haue not refrained their feete: therefore the Lorde hath no pleasure in them, but hee will now bring againe to remembrance all their misdeeds, and punish all their sinnes.

11 Yea, euen thus said the Lorde vnto mee, *Thou shalt not pray to doe this people good. Iere. 7.14.

12 For though they fast, I will not heare their prayers, and though they offer burnt offerings and sacrifices, yet will I not accept them: for I will destroy them with the sworde, hunger, and pestilence.

Iere.23.21. and 27.21. and 29.8. 13 * Then answered I, O Lorde God, the prophets say vnto them, Tush, yee shall neede to feare no sworde, and no hunger shall come vpon you: but the Lord shall giue you sure rest in this place.

14 And the Lord said vnto me, The prophets preach lies in my Name, whereas I haue not sent them, neither gaue I them any charge, neither did I speake vnto them: yet they preach vnto you false visions, charming, vanitie, and deceitfulnesse of their owne heart.

15 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde, As for those prophets that preach in my Name, whom I neuertheless haue not sent, & that say, Tush, there shall no sword nor hunger be in this land: with sworde and with hunger shall those prophets perish.

16 And the people to whom they preach, shall be cast out of Hierusalem, die of hunger, and be slaine with the sword, and there shall be no man to burie them, both they and their wiues, their sonnes and their daughters: for thus will I powre their wickednesse vpon them.

Lamē.1.16 and 2.18. 17 This shalt thou say also vnto them, * Mine eyes shall weepe without ceasing day and night: for my people shalbe destroied with great harme, and shall perish with a great plague.

18 For if I goe into the field, loe, it lyeth all full of slaine men: If I come into the citie, loe, they bee all famished of hunger: yea their prophets also and priests shall be ledde into an vnknowen land.

19 Hast thou then vtterly forsaken Iuda? Doest thou abhorre Sion? Wherefore hast thou so plagued vs, that wee can be healed no more? Iere.8.15. * Wee looked for peace, and there commeth no good, for the time of health, and loe, here is nothing but trouble.

20 We knowledge (O Lord) all our mildeeds, and the sinnes of our fathers: for we haue offended thee.

21 Cast vs not off (O Lorde) for thy Names sake, forget not thy louing kindnesse, ouerthrow not the [a] throne of thine honour, breake not the couenant that thou hast made with vs.

22 Are there any among the gods of the Gentiles that send raine, or giue the showres from heauen? Art not thou thy selfe our Lorde God? wee will trust in thee, for thou doest all these things.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The Lord will not heare Moses and Samuel if they pray for the people, but will wrappe them in many miseries. 6 The cause of such great miseries.

THus spake the Lorde vnto mee, Though Moses & Samuel stood before me, yet haue I no heart to this people, driue them away, that they may goe out of my sight.

2 And if they say vnto thee, whither shall we goe? then tell them, The Lorde giueth you this answere, * Some vnto death, some to the sword, some to hunger, some into captiuitie. Zach. 11.9.

3 For I wil bring foure plagues vpon them, sayeth the Lord, The sword shall slay them, the dogges shall teare them in pieces, the fowles of the aire and beastes of the earth shall eate them vp, and destroy them.

4 I will scatter them about also in all kingdoms and lands to be plagued, * because of Manasses the sonne of Ezecia king of Iuda, for the things that he did in Hierusalem. 4.Re.21.11

5 Who shall then haue pitie vpon thee, O Hierusalem? who shall be sorie for thee? Or who shall make intercession to obtaine peace for thee?

6 Seeing thou goest from mee, and turnest backeward, sayeth the Lorde, therefore I did stretch out my hand against thee to destroy thee, and I haue bene sorie for thee so long that I am wearie.

7 I haue scattered them abroad with the fanne on euery side of the lande, I haue wasted my people and destroyed them, yet they haue had no lust to turne from their owne wayes.

8 I haue made their widowes moe in number then the sands of the sea, vpon the mothers of their children did I bring a destroyer in the noone day: suddenly and vnawares did I send a feare vpon their cities.

9 She that hath borne seuen children, hath none, her heart is full of sorow, * the sunne doth faile in the cleare day, she is confounded & faintie for very heauinesse: As for those that remaine, I will deliuer them vnto the sword before their enemies, sayeth the Lord. Amos 8.9,

10 O mother, Alas that thou euer didst beare mee, a brawler and rebuker of the whole lande: though I neuer lent nor receiued vpon vsurie, yet all men speake euill vpon me.

11 And the Lorde answered me, Verely thy [a] remnant shall haue wealth: Come not I to thee when thou art in trouble, and helpe thee when thine enemie oppresseth thee?

a By the remnant is meant the time towarde the last end of his life, when God caused Nabuzaradan to shew fauour vnto Ieremie, Iere.40.

12 Doth one yron hurt another? or one mettall that commeth from the North, another?

13 As for thy riches and treasure, I will giue them out into a pray: not for mony, but because of all thy sinnes that thou hast done in all thy coastes.

14 * And I will bring thee with thine enemies into a land that thou knowest not: for the fire that is kindled in mine indignation shall burne you vp. Deu.32.21

15 O Lord, thou knowest, therefore remember me, and visite me, reuenge me of my persecuters, take mee not from this life in the time of thine anger: thou knowest that for thy sake I suffer rebuke. Iere.5.19.

16 When I had found thy words, I did eate them vp greedily, they haue made my heart ioyfull and glad, for thy Name was [b] called vpon me, O Lord God of hostes. b I am called thy prophet.

17 I dwell not among the scorners, neither is my delight therein: but I dwel alone because of thy hand, for thou hast filled me with bitternesse.

18 Shall heauinesse endure for euer? Are my plagues then so great that they may neuer be healed? Wilt thou be as one that is false, and as a water that falleth, and cannot continue? Iere.7.26.

19 Vpon these words, thus sayd the Lord vnto me, If thou wilt turne againe, I shall set thee in my seruice, and if thou wilt take out the thing that is precious from the vile, thou shalt be euen as my owne mouth: they shall conuert vnto thee, but turne not thou vnto them. Iere.23.8.

wall against this people, they shall fight against thee, but they shall not preuaile: for I my selfe will be with thee, to helpe thee and deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

21 And I will rid thee out of the handes of the wicked, and deliuer thee out of the hands of tyrants.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 He propheseth the miserie of the Iewes. 2 Hee sheweth that the worshipping of images, and the contempt of Gods lawe is cause of their miserie. 13 He propheseth the captiuitie of Babylon, and their deliuerance from thence againe. 19 The calling of the Gentiles.

THus saith the Lord vnto me,

2 Thou shalt take thee no wife, nor beget children in this place.

3 For of the children that are borne in this place, of their mothers that haue borne them, & of their fathers that haue begotten them in this land, thus saith the Lord,

4 They shall die an horrible death, no man shall weepe for them, nor burie them, but they shall lie as dung vpon the earth: they shall perish through the sword and hunger, and their bodies shalbe meate for the foules of the aire, and beasts of the earth.

5 For thus saith the Lord, Goe not thou into the house of mourning, nor come to mourne and weepe for them: for I haue taken my peace from this people, saith the Lord, yea, my fauour and my mercies.

6 And in this land shall they die olde and yong, and shall not bee buried: no man shall beweepe them, no man shall clip or haue himselfe for them.

7 They shal not wring their hands in mourning wise on their dead, one to comfort another: one shall not offer another the cup of consolation to forget their heauinesse for their father and mother.

8 Thou shalt not goe into their feast house, to sit downe to eate or drinke with them:

9 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, I shall take away out of this place the voice of mirth and gladnesse, the voice of the bridegrome and of the bride, yea, and that in your dayes, that ye may see it.

Iere.5.19. 10 *Now when thou shewest this people all these wordes, and they say vnto thee, Wherefore hath the Lord deuised all this great plague for vs: or what is the offence and sin that we haue done against the Lord our God?

11 Then make thou them this answere, Because your fathers haue forsaken mee, saith the Lord, & haue walked after strange gods, whom they honoured and worshipped, but mee haue they forsaken, and haue not kept my Law:

Iere.7.26. 12 *And ye with your shamefull blasphemies haue exceeded the wickednesse of your fathers: for euery one of you hath followed the froward and euill imaginations of his owne heart, and is not obedient vnto me.

Iere.23.8. 13 *Therefore wil I cast you out of this land, into a land that yee and your fathers know not: and there shal ye serue strange gods day & night, there will I shew you no fauour.

14 Behold therefore, saith the Lord, the daies are come that it shall no more be sayd, The Lord liueth which brought the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt:

15 But it shall be said, The Lord liueth that brought the children of Israel from the North, and from all lands where he had scattered them: for I will bring them againe into the land that I gaue their fathers.

16 Beholde, saith the Lord, I will send out many Fishers to take them, and after that wil I send out many Hunters, to hunt them from all mountaines and hilles, and out of the caues of stone.

17 For mine eyes behold all their wayes, and they cannot bee hid from my face: neither can their wicked deeds be kept close out of my sight.

18 But first will I sufficiently reward their shamefull blasphemies and sinnes, because they haue defiled my land a with their stinking carions and their abominations, wherewith they haue filled mine heritage.

a Gods seruice done accordyng to his word, is nameth seruice, that is, plainly God: but to serue and worship without his word, doeth dishonor him, cation, that is, abhorreth and much displeaseth God.

19 O Lord my strength, my power and refuge in time of trouble: the Gentiles shall come vnto thee from the ends of the world, and say, Verely our fathers haue cleaued vnto lies, their idoles are but vaine and vnprofitable.

20 Howe can a man make those his gods, which are not able to be gods?

21 And therefore I will once teach them, saith the Lord, I will shew them my hand and my power, and they shall know that my name is the Lord.

The xvij. Chapter.

1 The frowardnesse of the Iewes. 5 Cursed be those that put their confidence in man, and those blessed that trust in God. 9 Mans heart is wicked. 10 God is the searcher of the heart. 13 The liuing waters are forsaken. 21 The hallowing of the Sabboth is commanded.

YOur sinne, O ye of the tribe of Iuda, is written in the table of your hearts, and grauen vpon the edges of your altars with a pen of yron, and with a Adamant clawe:

2 That as the fathers thinke vpon their children, so think you also vpon your altars, woods, thicke trees, high hils, mountaines, and fields.

3 Wherefore, O my mount that standest in the field, I will make all thy substance and treasure to be spoiled, for the great sinne that thou hast done vpon thy high places, throughout all the coasts of thy land.

4 Thou shalt bee cast out also from the heritage that I gaue thee: and I will subdue thee vnder the heauie bondage of thine enemies, in a land that yee know not: for yee haue minstred fire to mine indignation, which shall burne euermore.

5 Thus saith the Lord, Cursed be the man that putteth his trust in man, and that taketh flesh for his arme, and he whose heart departeth from the Lord.

6 He shalbe like the heath that groweth in wildernes: As for the good thing that is for to come, he shal not see it, but dwel in a drie place of the wildernesse, in a salt and vnoccupied land.

7 O blessed is the man that putteth his trust in the Lord, and whose hope is in the Lord himselfe.

by the water side, which spreadeth out the roote vnto moistnesse, whom the heate can not harme when it commeth, but his leafe shall be greene: And though there growe but little fruit because of drouth, yet is he not carefull, but he neuer leaueth off to bring forth fruit.

9 Among all things, man hath the most deceitfull and stubborne heart: Who shall then know it?

Reue.2.23. psal.7.10. 10 Euen I the Lord *search out the ground of the heart, and trie the reines, and reward euery man according to his wayes, and according to the fruit of his workes.

11 The Partrich maketh a nest of egs, which thee layed not: hee commeth by riches, but not righteously, in the middest of his life must hee leaue them behinde him, and at the last be found a very foole.

12 But thou (O Lord) whose throne is most glorious, excellent, and of most antiquity, which dwellest in the place of our holy rest:

13 Thou art the comfort of Israel, all they that forsake thee shalbe confounded, al they that doe depart from thee shalbe written in earth: for they haue forsaken the Lord, the very conduit of the waters of life.

14 Heale mee, O Lord, and I shall be whole: saue thou mee, and I shalbe saued: for thou art my praise.

15 Behold, these men say vnto me, where is the word of the Lord? let it come now.

16 Whereas I neuertheless obediently followed thee as a shepherd, and haue not vncalled taken this office vpon mee, this knowest thou well: my words also were right before thee.

17 Bee not thou terrible vnto mee, O Lord: for thou art hee in whom I hope when I am in perill.

18 Let my persecutors bee confounded, but not me: let them be afraid, and not mee: Thou shalt bring vpon them the time of plague, and shalt destroy them right sore.

19 Thus hath the Lord said vnto me, Go and stand vnder the gate wherethorow the people and the kings of Juda goe out and in, yea vnder all the gates of Hierusalem,

20 And say vnto them, Heare the word of the Lord, yee kings of Juda, and all thou people of Juda, and all the citizens of Hierusalem that go thorow this gate, 21 Thus the Lord commandeth, Take heede for your liues that yee carie no burden vpon you in the Sabboth, to bring it thorow the gates of Hierusalem.

22 Yee shal beare no burden also out of your houses in the Sabboth, you shal doe no labour therin: but hallow the Sabboth, as I commanded your fathers.

23 Howbeit they obeyed me not, neither hearkened they vnto mee: but were obstinate and stubborne, and neither obeyed mee, nor receiued my correction.

24 Neuertheless, if ye wil heare me, saith the Lord, and beare no burden into the citie thorow this gate vpon the Sabboth, if yee wil hallowe the Sabboth, so that yee doe no worke therein:

25 Then shal there goe thorow the gates of this city kings and princes, that shal sit vpon the throne of Dauid, they shalbe caried vpon charets, and ride vpon horses, both they and their princes: yea whole Juda, and all the citizens of Hierusalem shall goe herethorow, and this citie shal euer be inhabited.

26 There shall come men also from the cities of Juda, from about Hierusalem, and from the land of Beniamin, from the plaine fieldes, from the mountaines, and from the wildernes, which shal bring whole burnt offerings, sacrifices, oblations, and incense, and offer vp thankesgiuing in the house of the Lord.

27 But if ye wil not be obedient vnto mee, to hallowe the Sabboth, so that ye wil beare your burdens thorow the gates of Hierusalem vpon the Sabboth: then shal I set fire vpon the gates of Hierusalem, and it shal burne vp the houses of Hierusalem, and no man shall bee able to quench it.

THis is another communication that God had with Ieremie, saying,

2 Arise and goe downe into the potters house, and there shall I tell thee more of my minde.

3 Now when I came to the potters house, I found him making his worke vpon a wheele.

4 The vessel that the Potter made of clay brake among his hands: So hee began a newe, and made another vessel according to his minde.

5 Then sayd the Lord thus vnto me,

6 May not I doe with you as this potter doth, O yee house of Israel, saith the Lord? Behold, ye house of Israel, ye are in my hand, euen as the clay is in the potters hand.

The xix. Chapter.

1 He prophesieth the destruction of Hierusalem, for the contempt and despising of the word of God.

THus saith the Lord, Goe thy way and buy thee an earthen pitcher, and bring forth the senatours, and chiefe priests,

2 Vnto the valley of the children of Hennom, which lieth without the East gate, & shew them there the words that I shall tell thee,

3 And say thus vnto them, Heare the word of the Lord, ye kings of Iuda, and ye citizens of Hierusalem, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel: Behold, I will bring such a plague vpon this place, that the eares of all that heare it shall glow:

Iere.25. 9. and 27. 8. Ionas 3. 10.

4 And that because they haue forsaken me, and vnhalowed this place, and haue offered in it vnto strange gods, whom neither they, their fathers, nor the kings of Iuda haue knowen: they haue filled this place also with the blood of innocents.

5 And they haue set vp an altar vnto Baal, to burne their children for a burnt offering vnto Baal, which I neither commanded nor charged them, neither thought once thereupon.

6 Behold therefore, the time commeth (saith the Lord) that this place shall no more be called Thopheth, nor the valley of the children of Hennom: but the valley of slaughter.

7 For in this place will I bring to nought the counsell of Iuda and Hierusalem, and kill the downe with the sword before their enemies, and I will deliuer them into the hands of them that seeke their liues, and their dead carkeises will I giue to be meate for the foules of the ayre, and the beastes of the field.

8 * And I will make the citie so desolate and despised, that whosoeuer goeth thereby shal be abashed, and iest vpon her, because of all her plagues. Iere.18.16.

9 I will feede them also with the flesh of their sonnes and their daughters, yea, euery one shall eate vp one another in the besieging and straitnesse wherewith their enemies that seeke their liues shall keepe them in.

10 And the pitcher shalt thou breake in the sight of the men that goe with thee,

11 And say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Euen so will I destroy this people and citie, as a man breaketh an earthen vessell that cannot bee made whole againe: in Thopheth shall they be buried, for they shall haue none other place.

12 Thus will I do vnto this place also, saith the Lord, and to them that dwell therein, yea, I will make this citie as Thopheth.

13 For the houses of Hierusalem, & the houses of the kings of Iuda, shall be defiled like as Thopheth, and so shall all the houses in whose rooles they did sacrifice vnto all the hoste of heauen, & powred drinke offrings vnto strange gods.

14 And so Ieremie came from Thopheth, where the Lord had sent him to prophesie, and stood in the court of the house of the Lorde, and spake to all the people, 15 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring vpon this citie, and vpon euery towne about it, all the plagues that I haue deuised against them, because they haue beene obstinate, and would not obey my warnings.

The xx. Chapter.

2 Ieremie is smitten, & cast into prison, for preaching of the word of God. 4 He prophesieth the captiuitie of Babylon. 7 Hee complaineth that hee is a mocking stocke for the word of God. 9 He is compelled by the spirit to preach the word.

WHen Phashur the Priest, the sonne of Emmer, chiefe in the house of the Lord, heard Ieremie preach these words so stedfastly, 2 He smote Ieremie, and put him in the prison that is in the high gate of Beniamin, toward the house of the Lord.

3 The next day following, Phashur brought Ieremie out of the prison againe: Then said Ieremie vnto him, The Lord shall call thee no more Phashur, that is, excellent and encreasing, but Magor, that is fearefull and afraid euery where.

4 For thus saith the Lord, Beholde, I will make thee afraid, euen thy selfe, and all that fauour thee, which shall perish with the sword of their enemies, euen before thy face, and I will giue whole Iuda into the hands of the king of Babylon, which shal carrie some vnto Babylon prisoners, and slay some with the sword.

5 Moreouer, all the substance of the citie, whatsoeuer they haue gotten with their trauel, all their precious things, and all the treasure of the kings of Juda, will I giue into the handes of their enemies, which shall spoyle them, and cary them vnto Babylon.

6 But as for thee (O Phashur) thou shalt goe into captiuitie with all thy houshold, and to Babylon shalt thou come, where thou shalt dye, and be buried, thou and all thy fauourers, to whome thou hast preached lyes.

7 O Lorde, if I am deceiued, then hast thou [a] deceiued mee, thou enforcedst me, and hast preuailed: daily am I despised, & laughed to scorne of euery man.

a The Prophet allareth the truth of his doctrine, against the slanderer: for it is the word of God, who cannot deceiue nor be deceiued.

8 For since I began to preach, I cryed out against violence, & exclaimed against oppression: for the which cause they cast the worde of the Lord in my teeth, to my reproch continually.

9 Wherfore I thought from henceforth not to speake of him, not to preach any more in his name, but the word of the Lord was a very burning fire in my heart, and in my bones, which when I would haue stopped, I might not.

10 Verely I heard the euill reports of many, terrour was on euery side of me: [b] complaine vpon him, say they, and we will tell his tale: yea, all mine owne companions, and such as were conuersant with mee, lay in wayt for my halting, saying, Peraduenture he will be deceiued, and so shall wee preuaile against him, and be auenged of him.

b The Iewes and such as were in authoritie with the king, stirred vp the people to watch narrowly Ieremies sayings, if they could finde him to halt in any thing wherefore they might accuse him to the king.

11 But the Lorde stood by me like a mightie Giant, therefore my persecutors fell, and could doe nothing: they shall bee sore confounded, for they haue done vnwisely, they shall haue an euerlasting shame, which shal neuer be forgotten.

Psal. 7.20.

12 And now, * O Lorde of hostes, that tryest the righteous, which knowest the reines and the very heartes, let me see them punished: for vnto thee I haue declared my cause.

13 Sing vnto the Lord, and praise him, for he hath deliuered the soule of the oppressed from the hand of the violent.

Iob 3.3.

14 * Cursed be the day wherein I was borne, vnhappy be the day wherin my mother brought me forth.

15 Cursed be the man that brought my father the tidings to make him glad, saying, Thou hast begotten a sonne:

16 Let it happen vnto that man, as to the cities [c] which the Lorde turned vpside downe, and repented not: let him heare crying in the morning, and at noone day lamentable howling.

c The most godly men are sometimes caried away with the sorely rage of immoderate affection, albeit in this Prophet the cause of his immoderate zeale was, for that he saw his trauaile to saue the people to be in vaine, Gods word contemned, and all godlinesse scornefully despised.

17 Why slewest thou not me as soone as I came out of my mothers wombe? or that my mother had beene my graue her selfe, that the birth might not haue come out, but remained still in her?

18 Wherefore came I forth of my mothers wombe, to haue experience of labour and sorow, and to lead my life with shame?

The xxj. Chapter.

He prophesieth that Zedecias shall be taken, and the citie burned.

THese are the words that the Lorde spake vnto Ieremie, what time as king Zedecias sent vnto him Phashur the sonne of Melchias, and Sophonias the sonne of Maasias Priest, saying,

2 Aske counsell at the Lord, we pray thee, on our behalfe, for Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon besiegeth vs: if the Lorde peraduenture wil deale with vs according to his maruelous power, and take him from vs.

3 Then spake Ieremie, Giue Zedecias this answere:

4 Thus sayth the Lorde God of Israel, Beholde, I will turne backe the weapons that yee haue in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babylon and the Chaldees, which besiege you round about the walles, and I will bring them together into the midst of this citie.

5 And I my selfe will fight against you, with an outstretched hand, and with a mightie arme, in great displeasure and terrible wrath:

6 And wil smite them that dwel in this citie, yea, both men & cattel shal die of a great pestilence.

7 But after this, (sayth the Lord) I shall deliuer Zedecias king of Juda, and his seruants, his people, and such as are escaped in the citie, from the pestilence, sword, and hunger, into the power of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, yea into the handes of their enemies, into the handes of those that followe vpon their liues, which shal smite them with the sword, they shall not pitie them, they shall not spare them, they shall haue no mercie vpon them.

8 And vnto this people thou shalt say, Thus sayth the Lorde, * Behold, I lay before you the way of life and death. Iere. 38.2.

9 Who so abideth in the citie, shall perish either with the sword, with hunger, or pestilence: but who so goeth out to holde on the Chaldees part that besiege it, he shall saue his life, and shall winne his soule for a pray.

10 For I haue set my face against this citie (sayth the Lorde) to plague it, and to doe it no good: it must be giuen into the hand of the king of Babylon, and be burnt with fire.

11 And vnto the house of the king of Juda say thus, Heare the word of the Lorde:

12 O thou house of Dauid, * thus sayeth the Lorde, Minister righteousnesse, and that soone, deliuer the oppressed from violent power, or euer my terrible wrath breake out like a fire, and burne, so that no man may quench it, because of the wickednesse of your imaginations. Iere. 22.3.

13 Behold, saith the Lord, I will come vpon thee that dwellest in the valleyes, rockes, and fields, and say, Tush, who will make vs afrayd? or who will come into our houses?

14 For I will visite you, sayth the Lorde, because of the wickednesse of your inuentions, and will kindle such a fire in your wood, as shall consume all that is about you.

The xxij. Chapter.

2 He exhorteth the king of Iuda to iudgement and righteousnesse. 9 Why Hierusalem is brought into captiuitie. 11 The death of Sellum the sonne of Iosias is prophesied.

THus sayth the Lord, Go downe into the house of the king of Juda, and speake there these words,

2 And say, Heare the worde of the Lorde, thou king of Juda, that sittest in the kingly seat of Dauid, thou, and thy seruants, and thy people, that goeth in and out at these gates.

Iere.23.12. 3 Thus the Lord commandeth, *Keepe equitie and righteousnesse, deliuer the oppressed from the power of the violent, do not grieue nor oppresse the stranger, the fatherlesse, nor the widow, and shed no innocent blood in this place.

4 And if yee keepe these things faithfully, then shal there come in at the doore of this house, kings to sit vpon Dauid seate, they shalbe caried in charets, and ride vpon horses, both they, and their seruants, and their people.

5 But if ye will not be obedient vnto these commandements, I sweare by mine owne selfe, saith the Lord, this house shalbe waste.

6 For thus hath the Lord spoken vpon the kings of Juda, Thou Gilead art vnto mee the head of Libanus: shall I not make thee so waste as the cities that no men d'well in?

7 I will prepare a destroyer with his weapons for thee, to hew downe thy especiall Cedar trees, and to cast them in the fire.

9 Then shall it be answered, Because they haue broken the couenant of the Lorde their God, and haue worshipped and serued strange gods.

10 Mourne not ouer the dead, and be not wo for them: but be sory for him that departeth away, for he commeth not againe, and seeth his natiue countrey no more.

Iere.31. 11 For thus sayth the Lord as touching Sellum the sonne of Iosias king of Juda, which reigned after his father, when he is caried out of this place, he shall neuer come hither againe.

12 For he shall die in the place whereunto he is led captiue, and shall see this land no more.

13 Woe worth him that buildeth his house with vnrighteousnesse, and his parlours with the good that he hath gotten by violence, which neuer recompenseth his neighbours labor, nor payeth him his hire:

Iere.22. 14 Who thinketh in himselfe, I will build me a wide house and gorgeous parlours, who causeth windowes to be hewed therein, and the seelings & ioystes maketh he of Cedar, and painteth them with Sinoper.

15 Thinkest thou to reigne now, that thou hast incloled thy selfe with Cedar? Did not thy father eate and drinke and prosper well, as long as he dealt with equitie and righteousnesse:

16 Yea: when hee helped the oppressed and poore to their right, then prospered he wel: from whence came this, but onely because he knewe me, saith the Lord?

17 Neuertheless, as for thine eyes and thine heart they looke vpon couetousnesse, to shed innocent blood, to doe wrong and violence.

18 And therefore thus saith the Lord against Jehoacim the son of Iosias king of Juda, They shall not mourne for him as they vse to doe, Alas brother, alas sister: neither shall they say vnto him, Alas syr, alas for that noble prince.

19 But as an Asse shal he be buried, corrupt, and be cast without the gates of Hierusalem.

20 Clime vp the hil of Libanus, O thou daughter Sion, lift vp thy voyce vpon Basan, cry from all parts: for all thy louers are destroyed.

21 I gaue thee warning while thou wast yet in prosperitie: but thou saydst, I shal not heare: And this maner hast thou vsed from thy youth, that thou wouldest neuer heare my voice.

22 All thy heardmen shall be driuen with the winde, and thy darlings shalbe caried away into captiuitie: then shalt thou be brought to shame and confusion, because of all thy wickednesse.

23 Thou that dwellest vpon Libanus, and makest thy nest in the Cedar trees, O how litle shalt thou be regarded when thy sorow & pangs come vpon thee, as vpon a woman trauailing with child?

24 As truly as I liue, saith the Lord, Though ‖Cononias the sonne of Jehoacim king of Juda were the signet of my right hand, yet will I plucke him off. ‖Or, Iechonias.

25 And I wil giue thee into the hand of them that seeke thy life, and into the power of them that thou fearest, euen into the power of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, and into the power of the Chaldees.

26 Moreouer, I will send thee and thy mother that bare thee into a strange land where ye were not borne, and there shall ye die.

27 But as for the land that yee will desire to returne vnto, ye shall neuer come at it againe.

28 This man Cononias shalbe like an image robbed and torne in pieces, and like a vessell wherein there is no pleasure: wherefore both he and his seede shalbe sent away, and cast into a land that they know not.

29 O thou earth, earth, earth, heare the word of the Lord.

30 Thus saith the Lord, Write this man destitute of children: for no prosperitie shall this man haue all his dayes, neither shall any of his seed be so happy as to sit vpon the seat of Dauid, and to beare rule any more in Juda.

The xxiij. Chapter.

1 He speaketh against euill Curates that make hauock of the flocke of the Lord. 5 The comming of the true shepheard Christ is prophesied. 9 Against false prophets. 32 The miracles of false prophets.

Ezec. 34.2. WOe vnto the *Shepheards that destroy and scatter my flock, saith the Lord.

2 Wherefore this is the saying of the Lord God of Israel concerning the Shepheards that feede my people, Ye scatter and thrust out my flocke, and looke not vpon them: therefore now will I visite the wickednesse of your imaginations, saith the Lord.

Eze.34.11. 3 *And I will gather together the remnant of my flocke from all landes that I had driuen them vnto, and will bring them againe to their foldes, that they may grow and increase.

4 I will set Shepheards also ouer them, which shall feede them: they shall no more feare and dread, and there shall none of them be lost, saith the Lord.

6 * In his time shall Juda be saued, and Israel shall d'well without feare: and this is the name that they shall call him, The Lord our righteousnesse.

of Israel out of the land of Egypt:

Iere.16,13. 8 But, * The Lord liueth, which brought foorth and led the seede of the house of Israel out of the North land, and from all countries where I had scattered them: and they shall dwell in their owne land againe.

9 My heart breaketh in my body because of the false prophets, all my bones shake, I am become like a drunken man, that by the reason of wine can take no rest, for very feare of the Lord, and his holy words.

10 Because the land is full of adulterers, and through swearing it mourneth, and the pleasant pastures of the desert are dried vp: yea the way that men take is wicked, their power is nothing right.

11 For the prophets & the priests themselues are polluted hypocrites, and their wickednesse haue I found in my house, saith the Lord.

12 Wherefore their way shalbe slippery in the darknesse wherein they may stacker and fall: for I will bring a plague vpon them, euen the yeere of their visitation, saith the Lord.

13 I haue seene folly among the prophets of Samaria that preached for Baal, and deceiued my people of Israel.

14 I haue seene also among the prophets of Hierusalem foule adulterie, and presumptuous lies: they take the most shamefull men by the hand, flattering them, so that they cannot returne from their wickednes, all these with their citizens are vnto me as Sodome, and as the inhabiters of Gomorrhe.

Iere.9.25. 15 * Therefore thus saith the Lorde of hostes concerning these prophets, Behold, I will feede them with wormewood, and make them drinke the water of gall: for from the prophets of Hierusalem is hypocrisie come into all the land.

16 And therefore the Lorde of hostes giueth you this warning, Heare not the wordes of the prophets that preach vnto you, and deceiue you, truely they teach you vanitie: for they speake the meaning of their owne heart, and not out of the mouth of the Lord.

17 They say vnto them that despise me, The Lord hath spoken it, Tush, ye shall prosper right well: and vnto all them that walke after the lust of their owne heart, they say, Tush, there shal no misfortune happen you.

18 For who hath stoode in the counsell of the Lord, that he hath heard and vnderstand what he is about to doe? who hath marked his deuise, and heard it?

19 Behold, the stormie weather of the Lord, that is, his indignation shall goe forth, and a violent whirle winde shal fall downe vpon the head of the vngodly.

20 And the wrath of the Lord shal not turne againe, vntil he performe and fulfil the thought of his heart: and in the latter daies ye shal know this meaning.

Iere.14.13. and 27.21. 21 * I haue not sent these prophets saith the Lord, and yet they ran, I haue not spoken to them, and yet they preached.

22 But if they had continued in my counsell, they had opened to my people my wordes, and they had turned my people frō their euill wayes and wicked imaginations.

23 Am I then God that seeth but the thing which is nigh at hand, and not that is farre off, saith the Lord?

24 May any man hide himselfe so, that I shal not see him, saith the Lord? doe not I fulfil heauen and earth, saith the Lord?

25 I haue heard well ynough what the prophets say that preach lies in my name, saying, I haue dreamed, I haue dreamed.

26 How long will this continue in the prophets heart to tel lies, and preach the craftie subtiltie of their owne heart?

27 Whose purpose is with the dreams that euery one tel, to make my people forget my name, as their fathers did when Baal came vp.

28 The prophet that hath a dreame, let him tell it, and he that vnderstandeth my word, let him shew it faithfully: for what hath chaffe and wheate to doe together, saith the Lord?

29 Is not my worde like fire, saith the Lord, and like a hammer that breaketh the hard stone?

30 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will vpon my prophets that steale my word priuily from euery man.

31 Behold, here am I, saieth the Lord, against the prophets that make tongues tender to speake, and to say, The Lord hath sayde it.

32 Behold here am I, saith the Lord, against those prophets that dare prophely lying dreams, and deceiue my people with their vanity and inconstant deuises, yet I neuer sent nor commanded them: they shall doe this people no good at all, saith the Lord.

33 If this people, either any prophet or priest aske thee, and say, What is the [a] burden of the Lord? Thou shalt say vnto them, What burden? I will forsake you, saith the Lord.

34 And the prophet, priest, or people, that vseth this terme, The burden of the Lord: him will I visite, and his house also.

35 But thus shal ye say euery one to another, and euery man to his brother, What answere hath the Lord giuen? or what is the Lords commandement?

36 And as for the burden of the Lorde, yee shall speake no more of it, for euery mans owne word is his burden: because ye haue altered the wordes of the liuing God, the Lord of hostes our God.

37 Thus shal euery man say to the Prophets, What answere hath the Lord giuen thee? or, What saith the Lord?

38 And not once to name the burden of the Lord. Therefore thus saith the Lord, For as much as ye haue vsed this terme, (The burden of the Lord) whereas I notwithstanding sent vnto you, and forbade you to speake of the Lords burden:

39 Behold, therefore I will take you vp as a burden, and will cast you farre off from my presence, yea, and the citie also that I gaue you and your fathers:

40 * And will bring you to an euerlasting confusion, and into a shame that shall neuer be forgotten. Iere.20.11.

[a] The wicked mens hearts were so hardened against the truth, that they vsed scornefully to scoffe at Gods threatning prophecies in mockage, calling them Gods fardle or burden.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

THe Lord shewed me a vision: Behold, there stoode two maunds of figs before the temple of the Lord, after that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had led away captiue Iechonias the sonne of Iehoiacim king of Juda, the mighty men also of Juda, with the worke-masters and cunning men of Hierusalem, vnto Babylon.

2 In the one maund were very good figges, euen like those that be first ripe: in the other maund were very naughty figges, which might not be eaten, they were so euill.

3 Then said the Lord vnto me, What seest thou, Jeremie? I said, Figges, whereof some be very good, and some so euill that no man may eate them.

4 Then came the word of the Lord vnto me, after this maner:

5 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Like as thou knowest ꝓ good figs: so shall I know the men led away, whō I haue sent out of this place, into the land of the Chaldees for their profit:

6 And I will set mine eies vpon them for the best, for I wil bring them againe into this land, I will build them vp, & not breake them downe, I will plant them, and not roote them out.

Iere.1.33. 7 * I will giue them an heart to know how that I am the Lord, they shalbe my people, and I will be their God: for they shall returne vnto me with their whole heart.

Iere.29.17. 8 * And like as thou knowest the naughtie figges which may not bee eaten, they are so euill: euen so will I, saith the Lord, cause Sedecias the king of Juda, yea, and all his princes, and the residue of Hierusalem that remaine ouer in this land, and them also that dwell in Egypt, to be vexed and plagued in kingdomes and lands.

9 And I will make them to be a reproofe, a common byworde, a laughing stocke and shame in all the places where I shall scatter them.

10 I will send the sword, hunger, and pestilence among them, vntill I haue cleane consumed them out of the lande that I gaue vnto them and their fathers.

The xxv. Chapter.

Ieremie propheseth that they shall be in captiuitie threescore and ten yeres, because they contemned and despised the word of God.

A Sermon that was giuen vnto Jeremie vpon all the people of Juda, in the fourth yere of Iehoiacim the sonne of Josias king of Juda (that was in the first yeere of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon,)

2 Which sermon Jeremy the Prophet made vnto all the people of Juda, and to all the inhabiters of Hierusalem, on this maner,

3 From the thirteenth yeere of Josias the sonne of Amon king of Juda, vnto this present day (that is euen twentie and three yeeres) the word of the Lord hath bene committed vnto me, and so haue I spoken vnto you, I haue risen vp early, I haue giuen you warning in season: but ye would not heare me.

4 Though the Lord hath sent his seruants all the Prophets vnto you in season: yet would yee not obey, ye would not encline your eares to heare.

5 Yee sayde, * Turne againe euery man from his euill way, and from your wicked imaginations, and so shall yee dwell for euer in the land that the Lord promised you and your forefathers. 4.King.17.13. Iohn 3.3.

6 And go not after strange gods, serue them not, worship them not, and anger me not with the workes of your owne handes, then will I not punish you.

7 Neuertheless, yee would not heare me, saieth the Lord, but haue prouoked mee to anger with the works of your hands, to your great harme.

8 Wherfore thus saith the Lord of hosts, Because ye haue not hearkened vnto my word, 9 Lee, I will send out, and call for all the people that dwell in the North, saieth the Lord, and will prepare Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon my seruant, and wil bring them vpon this land, and vpon all the people that are about them, and wil vtterly roote them out: I will make them amazed, a mocking, and a continuall desart.

10 Moreouer, I will take from them the voice of gladnesse & solace, the voice of the bridegrome, and the bride, the noyse of the millstones, and the light of the cressets.

11 And this whole land shall become a wildernesse, and astonished: and these nations shall serue the king of Babylon threescore yeeres and tenne.

12 *When the threescore and ten yeeres are expired, I will visite all the wickednesse of the king of Babylon, and his people, saith the Lord, yea, and the land of the Chaldees, and wil make it a perpetuall wildernesse, Iere.26.10. 2.chr.36.2. 1.esd.1.1. dan.9.2.

13 And will fulfill all my words vpon that land which I haue deuised against it: yea, all that is written in this booke, which Jeremie hath prophecied of all people.

14 So that they also shalbe subdued vnto diuers nations and great kings: for I will recompence them according to the deedes and workes of their owne hands.

15 For thus hath the Lord God of Israel spoken vnto me, * Take this wine cup of indignation fro my hand, that thou mayest cause all people to whom I send thee, for to drinke of it: Apo.16.19

16 That when they haue drunken therof, they may be mad, and out of their wits, when the sworde commeth that I will sende among them.

17 Then tooke I the cup from the Lordes hand, and made all people to drinke therof, vnto whom the Lord had sent me:

18 But first the citie of Hierusalem, and all the cities of Juda, their kings and princes, to make them desolate, amazed, despised and hissed at, and cursed, according as it is come to passe this day:

19 Yea, and Pharao the king of Egypt, his seruants, his princes, and his people, all together one with another:

20 And all kings of the land of Hus, all kings of the Philistines land, Ascalon, Azah, Accaron, and the remnant of Asdod,

21 The Edomites, the Moabites, & the Ammonites,

22 All the kings of Tyrus and Sidon, the kings of the yles that are beyond the sea,

23 Dedan, Thema, Buz, and all them that dwell in the vttermost parts of the world,

24 All the kings of Arabia, and generally all the kings that dwell in the desart,
25 All the kings of Zimri, all the kings of Elam, all the kings of the Medes, 26 All the kings toward the North, whether they be far or nigh, euery one against his neighbour, yea, all the kingdomes that are vpon the whole earth: and the king of Sesach shal drinke also after them.
27 Therefore say thou vnto them, This is the commandement of the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Drinke, and be drunken: spewe, and fall, that ye neuer arise, and that through the sword which I will send among you.
28 But if they will not receiue the cup of thy hand, and drinke it, then tell them, thus doth the Lord of hostes threaten you, Drinke it you shall and that hastily.
2.Pet.4.17. 29 For lo, *I begin to plague the citie that my name is giuen vnto, thinke ye then that I will leaue you vnpunished? ye shall not goe quite: for why? I call for a sword vpon all the inhabiters of the earth, saith the Lord of hostes.
30 Therefore tell them all these wordes, and say vnto them, *The Lord shall cry from aboue, Ioel.3.16. amos 1.2. and his voyce shalbe heard from his holy habitation, with a great noyse shall he cry from his court regall: he shall giue a great voice like the grape gatherers, and the sound thereof shall be heard vnto the endes of the world.
31 For the Lorde hath a iudgement to giue vpon all people, and will hold his court of iustice with all flesh, and wil deliuer the vngodly to the sword, saieth the Lord.
32 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, Behold, a miserable plague shall goe from one people to another, and a great stormie water shall arise from all the ends of the earth.
33 And the same day shall the Lord himselfe slay them from one end of the earth to another: there shall no moane be made for any of them, none gathered vp, none buried: but shall lie as doung vpon the ground.
34 Mourne, O ye shepheards, and cry, sprinkle your selues with ashes, O ye rammes of the flocke: for the time of your slaughter and breach is fulfilled, and ye shall fall like vessels that were much set by.
35 The shepheards shall haue no way to flee, and the rammes of the flocke shal not escape.
36 Then shal the shepheards cry horribly, and the rammes of the flocke shal mourne: for the Lord hath consumed their pasture, 37 And their best fields lie dead, because of the horrible wrath of the Lord.
38 They haue forsaken their foldes like as a Lion: for their land is waste, because of the spoilers furious crueltie, and of his fearefull indignation.

The xxvj. Chapter.

2 Ieremie moueth the people to amendement. 7 He is taken of the prophets and priests, and brought to iudgement. 23 Vrias the prophet is killed of Iehoacim, contrary to the will of God.

IN the beginning of the reigne of Iehoacim the sonne of Iosias king of Iuda, came this word from the Lord, saying,
2 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the court of the Lords house, and speake vnto all them which (out of the cities of Iuda) come to doe worship in the Lords house, all the words that I command thee to say: looke that thou keepe not one word backe.
3 (If peraduenture they will hearken and turne euery man from his wicked way, that I may also repent of the plague which I haue determined to bring vpon them, because of their wicked inuentions.)
4 And after this manner shalt thou speake vnto them, Thus saith the Lord, If ye will not obey me, to walke in my lawes which I haue giuen you,
5 And to heare the wordes of my seruants the prophets, whom I sent vnto you, rising vp early, and still sending, yet you haue not hearkened:
6 Then will I doe to this house * as I did vnto Silo, and will make this citie to be abhorred of all the people of the earth, 1.Kin.4.14
7 And the priests, the prophets, and all the people heard Ieremie preach these words in the house of the Lord.
8 Now when he had spoken out al the words that the Lord commanded him to preach vnto the people, then the priests, the prophets, and all the people tooke hold vpon him, and said, Thou shalt die:
9 How darest thou be so bold as to say in the Name of the Lord, It shal happen to this house, as it did vnto Silo, and this city shalbe so waste, that no man may dwell therein?
10 And when all the people were gathered about Ieremy in the house of the Lord, the princes of Iuda heard of this rumour, and they came soone out of the kings palace into the house of the Lord, and sate them downe before the newe doore of the Lord.
11 Then spake the priests and the prophets vnto the rulers, & to all the people these words, This man is worthy to die: for he hath preached against this citie, as yee your selues haue heard with your eares.
12 Then saide Ieremie vnto the rulers, and to al the people, The Lord hath sent me to preach against this house, and against this citie, all the words that ye haue heard.
13 *Therefore amend your wayes and your aduisements, and be obedient vnto the voice of the Lord your God, so shall the Lorde repent of the plague that he hath deuised against you. Iere.7.3.
14 Now as for me, I am in your hands, doe with me as you thinke expedient and good:
15 But this shall ye know, if ye put mee to death, ye shall make your selues, this citie, and all the inhabitants thereof, guiltie of innocent blood: for this is of a trueth, that the Lord hath sent me vnto you, to speake all these words in your eares.
16 Then said the rulers and the people vnto the priests and prophets, This man may not be condemned to death, for he hath preached vnto vs in the name of the Lord our God.
17 The elders also of the land stood vp, and said thus vnto all the people, 18 Micheas the Morasthite, which was a prophet vnder Ezecia king of Iuda, spake to all the people of Iuda, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, *Sion shalbe plowed like a field, Hierusalem shalbe an heape of stones, and the hill of Mich.3.12.

the Lords house shalbe turned to an high wood.

19 Did Ezecias the king of Iuda, and all the people of Iuda put him to death for this? No verily, but rather feared the Lord, and made their prayer vnto him, for the which cause also the Lord [a] repented of the plague that he had deuised against them: should wee then doe such a shamefull deede against our soules?

20 There was a Prophet that preached stiffly in the name of the Lord, called Urias, the son of Semaiah of Ciriath-iarim: this man also preached against this city, and against this land, according to all as Ieremie saith.

21 Now when Iehoacim the king, with all the estates and princes, had heard his wordes, the king went about to slay him: when Urias perceiued that, he was afraid, and fled, and departed into Egypt:

22 Then Iehoacim the king sent seruants into the land of Egypt, namely, Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and certaine men with him into Egypt:

23 Which fetched Urias out of Egypt, and brought him vnto king Iehoacim, that slew him with the sword, and cast his dead body into the common peoples graue.

24 But Ahicam the sonne of Saphan helped Ieremie, that he came not into the hands of the people to be slaine.

[a] In the diuine nature there are no such affections as changeablenesse: but God is said after the manner of men to repent, when he doth not execute that he had denounced, or doth defer the plague which he had threatned.

The xxvij. Chapter.

1 Ieremie at the commandement of the Lord, sendeth bondes to the King of Iuda, and to the other kings that were nigh, whereby they are monished to become subiects vnto Nabuchodonosor. 9 He warneth the people, and the kings and rulers, that they beleeue not false prophets.

IN the beginning of the reigne of Iehoacim the sonne of Iosias king of Iuda, came this word vnto Ieremie from the Lord, which spake thus vnto me,

2 Make thee bonds and chaines, and put them about thy necke,

3 And send them to the king of Edom, to the king of Moab, to the king of Ammon, to the king of Tyrus, and to the king of Sidon, and that by the messengers which shall come to Hierusalem, vnto Zedecias the king of Iuda:

4 And bid them say vnto their masters, Thus saith the Lord of hosts ℘ God of Israel, Speake thus vnto your masters:

5 I am he that made the earth, the men, and the cattell that are vpon the ground, with my great power and stretched out arme, and hath giuen it to whom it pleased me.

6 And now wil I deliuer all these lands into the power of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon my seruant: the beasts also of the field wil I giue him, to doe him seruice.

7 And all the people shall serue him, and his sonne, and his childrens children, vntil the time of the same land be come, and his time also: yea many people and great kings shall serue him.

8 Moreouer, that people and kingdome which wil not serue Nabuchodonosor, and that will not put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babylon: the same people will I visite with the sword, with hunger and pestilence, vntill I haue consumed them in his hands, sayeth the Lord.

9 And therefore follow not your prophets, soothsayers, expounders of dreames, charmers, and witches, which say vnto you, Ye shall not serue the king of Babylon.

10 For they preach you lies, to bring you farre from your land, and that I might cast you out, and destroy you.

11 But the people that put their neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serue him, those will I let remaine still in their owne land, saith the Lord, and they shal occupy it, and dwell therein.

12 All these things tolde I Zedecias the king of Iuda, and saide, Put your neckes vnder the yoke of the king of Babylon, and serue him and his people, that ye may liue.

13 Why wilt thou and thy people perish with the sword, with hunger, with pestilence, like as the Lord hath deuised for all people that wil not serue the king of Babylon?

14 Therefore giue no eare vnto those prophets that tell you, Ye shal not serue the king of Babylon: for they preach you lies.

15 *Neither haue I sent them, sayeth the Lord: howbeit they are bolde falsely to prophecie in my name, that I might the sooner driue you out, and that yee might perish with your preachers. Iere.14.15.

16 I spake to the Priests also, and to all this people: thus saith the Lord, Heare not the words of your prophets that preach vnto you, and say, Behold, the vessels of the Lords house shal shortly be brought hither againe from Babylon, for they prophecie lies vnto you.

17 Heare them not, but serue the king of Babylon, that ye may liue: wherefore will ye make this citie to be destroyed?

18 But if they be true Prophets in very deed, and if the word of the Lord be committed vnto them, then let them pray the Lord of hostes, that the remnant of the ornaments which are in the house of the Lord, and in the house of the king of Iuda and at Hierusalem, be not caried to Babylon also.

19 *For thus hath the Lord of hostes spoken concerning the pillars, the lauer, the seate, and the residue of the ornaments that yet remaine in this citie, 4.King.25.13.

20 Which Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon tooke not, when he caried away Iechonias the sonne of Iehoacim king of Iuda, with all the power of Iuda and Hierusalem vnto Babylon captiue,

21 Yea, thus hath the Lord of hosts the God of Israel spoken, as touching the residue of the ornaments of the Lords house, of the king of Iuda his house, and of Hierusalem:

22 *They shalbe caried vnto Babylon, and there shall they remaine vntill I visite them, sayeth the Lord: then will I bring them hither againe. 1.Esdr.1.

1.King.3.4. Prophet of Gibeon, spake to me in the * house of the Lord, in the presence of the priests, and of all the people, and said,

2 Thus saieth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, I haue broken the yoke of the king of Babylon,

3 And after two yeeres will I bring againe into the place all the ornaments of the Lordes house, that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon caried away from this place vnto Babylon,

4 Yea, I wil bring againe Iechonias the son of Iehoacim the king of Iuda himselfe, with all the prisoners of Iuda that are caried vnto Babylon, euen into this place, saith the Lord: for I will breake the yoke of the king of Babylon.

5 Then the Prophet Ieremie gaue answere vnto ỹ Prophet Hananias before all the priests, and before al the people that were present in the house of the Lord.

6 And the Prophet Ieremie said, Amen, the Lord doe that, and grant the thing which thou hast prophecied, that he may bring againe all the ornaments of the Lords house, & restore all the prisoners from Babylon into this place.

7 Neuertheless, hearken thou also what I will say, that thou and all the people may heare.

8 The Prophets that were before vs in time past, which prophecied of warre, or trouble, or pestilence, 9 Either of peace vpon many nations and great kingdomes, were proued by this (if God hath sent them in very deede) when the thing came to passe which the Prophet tolde before.

10 And Hananias the Prophet tooke the chaine from the Prophet Ieremies necke, and brake it.

11 And with that said Hananias that all the people might heare, Thus hath the Lord spoke, Euen so will I breake the yoke of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon from the necke of all nations, yea, and that within this two yere. And so the Prophet Ieremie went his way.

12 Now after that Hananias the prophet had taken the chaine from the Prophet Ieremies necke, and broken it, the word of the Lord came vnto the Prophet Ieremie, saying, 13 Go and tell Hananias these words, Thus saieth the Lorde, thou hast broken the chaine of wood, but in steade of wood thou shalt make chaines of yron.

14 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, I will put a yoke of yron vpon the necke of all this people, that they may serue Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, yea, and so shall they doe: and I will giue him the beasts of the field.

15 Then said the Prophet Ieremie vnto the Prophet Hananias, Heare me, Hananias, The Lord hath not sent thee, but thou bringest this people into a false beliefe.

16 And therfore thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will send thee out of the land, and within a yeere thou shalt die, because thou hast fally spoken against the Lord.

17 So Hananias died the same yeere in the seuenth moneth.

The xxix. Chapter.

1 The Epistle of Ieremie sent vnto them that were in captiuity in Babylon. 10 He prophecieth their returne from the captiuitie after seuentie yeeres.

THese are the wordes of the booke that Ieremie the Prophet sent from Hierusalem vnto the prisoners, the senatours, priests, prophets, and all the people, whom Nabuchodonosor had led from Hierusalem vnto Babylon,

2 After the time that king Iechonias and his queene, his chamberlaines, the princes of Iuda and Hierusalem, the workmasters of Hierusalem, were departed thither.

3 Which booke Elasah the sonne of Saphan, & Gamariah the son of Helcia did beare, whom Zedecias the king of Iuda sent vnto Babylon to Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon: these were the words of Ieremies booke.

4 Thus hath the Lord of hostes the God of Israel spoken vnto all the prisoners that were led from Hierusalem to Babylon:

5 Build you houses to dwell therein, plant you gardens, that you may enioy the fruites thereof.

6 Take you wiues to beare you sonnes and daughters, prouide wiues for your sonnes, and husbands for your daughters, that they may get sonnes and daughters, and that ye may multiply there, and decrease not.

7 Seeke after the peace and prosperitie of the citie wherein ye be prisoners, and pray vnto the Lord for it: for in the peace thereof shal your peace be.

8 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, *Let not these prophets and soothsayers that be among you deceiue you, and beleeue not your owne dreames: Iere.14.14. iere.23.21.

9 For why? they preach you lies in my name, and I haue not sent them, saith the Lord.

10 But thus saith the Lord, *When ye haue fulfilled seuentie yeres at Babylon, I wil bring you home, and of mine owne goodnesse I will carie you hither againe into this place. Iere.25.10. 2.chr.36.22 1.esd.1.1. dan.9.1.

11 For I know what I haue deuised for you, saith the Lorde: my thoughts are to giue you peace, and not trouble, and to giue you an ende as you wish and hope to haue.

12 Ye shall cry vnto me, ye shall goe and call vpon me, and I will heare you.

13 Ye shall seeke me, and find me: yea, if so be that you seeke me with your whole heart,

14 I will be found of you, saith the Lord, and will deliuer you out of prison, and gather you together againe out of all places wherin I haue scattered you, saith the Lord, and wil bring you againe to the same place from whence I caused you to be caried away captiue.

15 But whereas ye say that God hath raised you vp prophets at Babylon, 16 Thus hath the Lord spoken to the king that sitteth in the throne of Dauid, and to all the people that dwell in the citie, and to your brethren that are not gone with you into captiuitie:

17 Thus I say speaketh the Lord of hostes, *Behold, I will send a sword, hunger, and pestilence vpon them, and will make them like vntimely figges that may not be eaten for bitternesse: Iere.24.8.

18 And I wil persecute them with the sword, with hunger, and pestilence, I wil deliuer them vp to be vexed of all kingdomes, to be cursed, abhorred, laughed to scorne, and put to confusion of all the people among whom I haue scattered them:

fol. Xx2r

19 And that because they haue not bene obedient vnto my commandements, saith the Lord, which I sent vnto them by my seruants the Prophets: I stood vp early, and sent vnto them, but they would not heare, saith the Lord.

20 Heare therefore the word of the Lord, all ye prisoners, whom I sent from Hierusalem to Babylon, 21 Thus hath the Lord of hostes the God of Israel spoken of Ahab the sonne of Cholaiah, & of Zedecias the sonne of Maasiah, which prophecie lies vnto you in my name, Behold I will deliuer them into the hand of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, that he may slay them before your eyes.

22 And all the prisoners of Iuda that are in Babylon, shall take this terme of cursing, and say, Now God do vnto thee as he did vnto Zedecias and Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roasted in the fire, 23 Because they sinned shamefully in Israel: for they haue not onely defiled their neighbours wiues, but also preached lying wordes in my name, which I haue not commanded them: this I testifie and assure, saith the Lord.

24 But as for Semeiah the Nehelamite, thou shalt speake vnto him:

25 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Because thou hast sent letters in thine owne name vnto all the people that is at Hierusalem, and to Sophoniah the sonne of Maasiah the priest, yea and sent them to al the priests, saying,

26 The Lord hath ordeined thee to be Priest in the steade of Iehoiada the Priest, that thou shouldest be chiefe in the house of the Lord aboue al prophets and preachers, & that thou mightest set them vpon the pillorie, or in the stockes.

27 How happeneth it then that thou hast not reproued Ieremie of Anathoth, which neuer leaueth off his prophecying?

28 And beside all this, he hath sent vs word vnto Babylon, and tolde vs plainely that our captiuitie shall long endure, that wee should builde vs houses to dwell therein, and to plant vs gardens, that wee may enioy the fruites thereof.

29 Which letter Sophonias the priest read, and let Ieremie the Prophet heare it.

30 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Ieremie, saying,

31 Send worde to all them that bee in captiuitie, on this maner, Thus hath the Lord spoken concerning Semeiah the Nehelamite: Because that Semeiah hath prophecied vnto you without my commission, and brought you into a false hope:

32 Therefore thus the Lorde doeth certifie you, Behold, I will visite Semeiah the Nehelamite and his seede, so that none of his shall remaine among this people, and none of them shall see the good that I will doe for my people, saith the Lord, for he hath preached falsely of the Lord.

The xxx. Chapter.

1 The returne of the people from Babylon. 8 God by his chastening sheweth that the people is sinfull. 16 The destruction of the enemies of Israel.

THese are the wordes that the Lord sheweth vnto Ieremie, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, write vp diligently all the wordes that I haue spoken vnto thee, in a booke.

3 For lo, the time commeth, saith the Lord, that I will bring againe the prisoners of my people of Israel and Iuda, saith the Lord: for I wil restore them vnto the land that I gaue to their fathers, and they shall haue it in possession.

4 Againe, these wordes spake the Lord concerning Israel and Iuda, 5 Thus saith the Lord, Wee haue heard a terrible cry, feare, and disquietnesse.

6 For what else doth this signifie that I see? namely, that all strong men smite euery man his hand vpon his loynes, as a woman in the paine of her trauaile? Who euer saw a man trauaile with child? Enquire thereafter and see, yea, all their faces are marueilous pale.

7 *Alas for this day, which is so dreadfull that none may be likened vnto it, and alas for the time of Iacobs trouble, from the which he shall yet be deliuered. Ioel.2.11. amos 5.10. ioph.1.15.

8 For in that day, saith the Lord of hostes, I will take his yoke from off thy necke, and breake thy bonds, and strangers shall no more haue dominion ouer him:

9 But they shall doe seruice vnto God their Lord, and to Dauid their king, whom I will raise vp vnto them.

10 *And as for thee, O my seruant Iacob, feare not, saith the Lord, and be not afraid, O Israel: for loe, I will helpe thee also from farre, and thy seede from the land of their captiuitie: and Iacob shall turne againe, he shall be in rest, and haue a prosperous life, and no man shall make him afraid: Esai.44.1. luke 1.70.

11 For I am with thee, to help thee, saith the Lord: and though I shall destroy all the people, among whom I haue scattered thee, yet will I not destroy thee, but correct thee, and that with discretion: for I will not vtterly destroy thee.

12 Therefore thus saith the Lord, Thy bruisings are perillous, and thy wounds readie to cast thee into sicknesse.

13 There is no man to meddle with thy cause, or to lay a plaister vpon thee, or to binde vp thy wounds to heale thee.

14 All thy louers haue forgotten thee, and care nothing for thee: for I haue giuen thee a cruell stroke, and chastened thee roughly, and that for the multitude of thy misdeedes: for thy sinnes haue had the ouerhand.

15 *Why makest thou moane for thy harme? In deede thou art sore wounded & in ieopardie: but for the multitude of thy misdeedes and sins I haue done this vnto thee. Iere.15.18.

16 And therefore all they that deuoure thee, shalbe deuoured, and al thine enemies shalbe led into captiuitie: all they that make thee waste, shalbe wasted themselues, and all those that rob thee, will I make also to be robbed.

17 For I will giue thee thy health againe, and make thy wounds whole, saith the Lord, because they reuiled thee, as one cast away and despised: Sion said they is she, whom no man regardeth.

18 For thus saieth the Lorde, Beholde, I wil bring againe the captiuitie of Iacobs tents, and defend his dwelling place: the citie shall be builded in her old estate, & the houses shall haue their right foundation.

19 And out of them shall goe thankesgiuing and the voyce of ioy: I wil multiply them, and they shall not be fewe, I will endue them with honour, and no man shall subdue them.

20 Their children shall be as aforetime, and their congregation shall continue in my sight: and all those that vexe them will I visite.

21 A captaine also shall come of them, and a prince shall spring out from the middest of them, him will I challenge to my selfe, and he shall come vnto me: for what is hee that giueth ouer his heart to come vnto me, saith the Lord?

22 Yee shalbe my people also, and I will be your God.

23 Behold, on the other side shall the wrath of the Lord breake out as a stormy water, as a mighty whirlewinde, and shall fall vpon the heads of the vngodly.

24 The terrible displeasure of the Lord shall not leaue off, vntill he haue done and performed the intent of his heart, which in the latter daies ye shall vnderstand.

The xxxj. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth that the people of Israel shalbe restored againe vnto their prosperity. 18 To be turned from sinne, is the gift of God. 27 The birth of Christ is prophecied.

AT the same time, saith the Lord, shall I be the God of all the generations of Israel, and they shall be my people:

2 Thus saith the Lord. The people of Israel which escaped in the wildernes from the sworde, found grace to come into their rest.

3 Euen so shall the Lord now also appeare vnto me from farre, and say, I loue thee with an euerlasting loue, therefore by my mercie I haue drawen thee vnto me.

4 I wil repaire thee againe, O thou daughter of Israel, that thou mayest be fast and sure: thou shalt take thy tabrets againe, and goe forth with them that lead the dance:

5 Thou shalt plant vines againe vpon the hils of Samaria, and the grape gatherers shall plant, and commonly eate of it.

6 For the dayes shal come when the watchmen vpon the mount of Ephraim shal cry, Arise, let vs goe vp vnto Sion to our Lord God.

7 For thus saith the Lord, Reioice with gladnesse because of Iacob, cry vnto the head of the Gentiles, speake out, sing and say, O Lord saue thy people the remnant of Israel.

8 Beholde, I will bring them againe from out of the North land, and gather them from the endes of the world, with the blinde and lame that are among them, with the women that be great with child, and such as be also deliuered: and the company of them that come againe shal be great.

9 They shall come weeping, and with mercifull pitie will I bring them hither againe: I wil leade thē to the riuers of water in a straight way where they shall not stumble: for I am Israels father, and Ephraim is my first borne.

10 Heare the word of the Lord, O ye Gentils, preach in the Iles that lie farre off, and say, He that hath scattered Israel shall gather him together againe, and shall keepe him as a shepheard doth his flocke.

11 For the Lord hath redeemed Iacob, and rid him from the hand of the violent.

12 And they shall come and reioyce vpon the hil of Sion, & shal haue plenteousnesse of goods, which the Lord shall giue them, namely wheate, wine, oyle, young sheepe, and calues: and their soule shal be as a well watered garden, for they shall no more be hungry.

13 Then shall the maide reioyce in the dance, yea both young and old folkes: for I will turne their sorow into gladnes, and wil comfort them from their sorowes, and make them ioyfull.

14 I will powre plenteousnesse vpon the hearts of the priests, and my people shalbe satisfied with my goodnesse, saith the Lord.

15 Thus saith the Lord, *The voyce of heauinesse, weeping, and lamentation was heard on high, euen of Rachel mourning for her children, and would not be comforted, because they were not. Mat.2.18.

16 But now, saith the Lord, leaue off from weeping and crying, withhold thine eyes from teares: for thy labour shalbe rewarded, saith the Lord, and they shall come againe out of the land of their enemies.

17 Yea, euen thy posteritie shal haue consolation in this, saith the Lord, that thy children shal come againe into their owne land.

18 Moreouer, I heard Ephraim that was led away captiue complaine on this maner, O Lord, thou hast corrected me, and thy chastening haue I receiued as an vntamed calfe, conuert thou me, and I shalbe conuerted: for thou art my Lord God.

19 Yea, as soone as thou turnest me, I shall reforme my selfe, and when I vnderstand, I shal smite vpon my thigh, for verely I haue committed shamefull things: for I haue borne the reproofe and confusion of my youth.

20 Vpon this complaint I thought thus by my selfe, Is not Ephraim my deare sonne? Is he not the child with whom I haue had all my mirth and pastime? For since the time that I first communed with him, I haue him euer in remembrance: therefore my heart driueth mee vnto him, gladly and louingly will I haue mercie vpon him, saith the Lord.

21 Make thy selfe markes, set vp heapes of stone, set thine heart vpon the way that thou didst walke, and turne againe, O thou daughter of Israel, turn againe to these cities of thine.

22 How long wilt thou goe astray, O thou shrinking daughter? for the Lord will worke a new thing vpon earth: A woman shall compasse a man.

23 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, It will come thereto, that when I haue brought Iuda out of captiuitie, these words shalbe heard in the land and in his cities, The Lord blesse thee, O thou dwelling place of righteousnesse, O thou holy hill.

24 And there shall dwell Iuda and all her cities, the shepheards and husbandmen:

25 For I will feede the hungry soule, and refresh all faint hearts.

26 When I heard this, I came againe to my selfe, I saw like as I had beene waked out of a sweete sleepe:

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Xx3r

27 Behold, saith the Lord, the daies come that I wil sowe the house of Israel and the house of Iuda with men and with cattel.

28 Yea, it shall come thereto, that like as I haue gone about in times past to roote them out, to scatter them, to breake them downe, to destroy them, and chasten them: euen so will I also goe diligently about to build them vp againe, and to plant them, saith the Lord.

Ezec.18.3. 29 Then shal it no more be said, *The fathers haue eaten a sowre grape, and the childrens teeth are set on edge.

30 For euerie one shall die for his owne misdeedes: so that who so eateth a sowre grape, his teeth shalbe set on edge.

Heb.8.8. 31 *Behold, the dayes will come, saith the Lord, that I wil make a new couenant with the house of Israel, and the house of Iuda:

32 Not after the couenant that I made with their fathers, when I tooke them by the hand, and led them out of the land of Egypt, which couenant they brake, yea, euen when I as an husband had rule ouer them, saith the Lord.

33 But this shalbe the couenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those daies, saith the Lord, *I will plant my lawe in the inward parts of them, and write it in their hearts, and wil be their God, and they shalbe my people.

Iere.24.7 luke 1.57 heb.8.10

34 And from thenceforth shall no man teach his neighbour or his brother, and say, *Know the Lord: but they shal all know mee from the lowest vnto the highest, saith the Lord: *For I will forgiue their misdeedes, and wil neuer remember their sinnes any more.

Esay 54.13 amos 6.45 Act.10.43.

35 Thus saith the Lorde, which gaue the Sunne to be a light for the day, and the Moone and the starres to shine in the night, which mooueth the sea, so that the floods therof ware fierce, his name is the Lord of hostes, 36 Like as the ordinance shall neuer be taken out of my sight, saith the Lord, so shall the seede of Israel neuer cease, but alwayes be a people before me.

37 Moreouer, thus saith the Lorde, Like as the heauen aboue cannot bee measured, and as the foundations of the earth beneath may not bee sought out, so wil I also cast out the whole seede of Israel, for that they haue committed, saith the Lord.

38 Behold, the dayes come, saieth the Lord, that the citie of the Lord shalbe enlarged, from the towre of Hananeel, vnto the gate of the corner wall.

39 From thence shal the right measure be taken before her vnto the hil top of Gareb, and shal come about Gaath.

40 And the whole valley of the dead carkeises, and of the ashes, and all the fieldes, vnto the brooke of Cedron, and vnto the corner of the horse gate toward the East, it shall be holy vnto the Lord, it shall neuer be broken nor cast downe any more.

The xxxij. Chapter.

1 Ieremie is cast into prison, because he prophesied that the citie should be taken of the king of Babylon.

THese wordes spake the Lord vnto Ieremie, in the tenth yeere of Zedecias king of Iuda, which was the eightenth yeere of Nabuchodonosor,

2 What time as the king of Babylons hoste layed siege vnto Hierusalem: but Ieremie the Prophet lay bound in the court of the prison, which was in the king of Iudaes house,

3 Where Zedecias the king of Iuda caused him to be layd, because he had prophesied on this maner, Thus saith the Lord, Behold, I will deliuer this citie into the hands of the king of Babylon, which shall take it.

4 As for Zedecias the king of Iuda, he shall not be able to escape the Chaldees: but surely he shall come into the handes of the king of Babylon, which shall speake with him mouth to mouth, and one of them shall looke another in the face.

5 And Zedecias shall bee caried vnto Babylon, and there shall hee be vntil the time that I visite him, saith the Lord: but if thou takest in hand to fight against the Chaldees, thou shalt not prosper.

6 And Ieremie sayd, Thus hath the Lord spoken vnto me,

7 Behold, Hananeel the sonne of Sellum thine vncles sonne shal come vnto thee, and require thee to redeeme the land that lieth in Anathoth vnto thy selfe: for by reason of kinred it is thy right to redeeme it, and buy it out.

8 And Hananeel mine vncles sonne came to me in the court of the prison, according to the word of the Lord, and said vnto mee, Buy my land, I pray thee, that lieth in Anathoth in the countrey of Beniamin, for by heritage thou hast right to loose it out for thy selfe, therfore redeem it. Then I perceiued that this was the commandement of the Lord:

9 And so I bought the land from Hananeel of Anathoth mine vncles sonne, and weighed him there the money, euen seuen sicles, and ten siluer pence:

10 And I writ it in a booke, and sealed it, and tooke witnesses, and weighed him there the money vpon the weights.

11 So I tooke the euidence with the copie when it was orderly sealed.

12 And I gaue the euidence to Baruch the sonne of Neriah, the sonne of Maaliah, in the sight of Hananeel my cousin, and in the presence of the witnesses that he named in the euidence, and before all the Iewes that were there by in the court of the prison.

13 I charged Baruch also before them, saying,

14 The Lord of hostes the God of Israel commandeth thee to take this sealed euidence with the copie, and to lay it in an earthen vessel, that it may long continue.

15 For the Lord of hostes the God of Israel hath determined, that houses, fieldes, and vineyards shalbe possessed againe in this land.

16 Now when I had deliuered the euidence vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, I besought the Lord, saying, 17 O Lord God, it is thou that hast made heauen and earth with thy great power and high arme, and there is nothing hid from thee.

18 *Thou shewest mercie vpon thousands, thou recompensest the wickednes of the fathers into the bosome of the children that come after them. Exo.34.7. deut.5.9.

19 Thou art the great and mighty God, whose name is ꝑ Lord of hosts, great in counsel, and excellent in worke, thine eies looke vpon all the wayes of mens children, to reward euery one after his way, and according to the fruits of his inuentions.

fol. Xx3v

20 Thou hast done great tokens and wonders in the land of Egypt, as wee see this day, vpon the people of Israel, and vpon those men, to make thy name great as it is come to passe this day,

21 Thou hast brought thy people of Israel out of the land of Egypt with tokens, with wonders, with a mighty hand, with a stretched out arme, and with great terriblenesse:

22 And hast giuen them this land, like as thou hadst promised vnto their fathers, namely, that thou wouldest giue them a land that floweth with milke and honie.

23 Now when they came therein and possessed it, they followed not thy voice, and walked not in thy law: but all that thou commandedst them to doe, that haue they not done, and therefore come all these plagues vpon them.

24 Behold, there are bulwarkes made nowe against the citie to take it, and it shall be wonne of the Chaldees that besiege it with sword, with hunger, and death: and looke what thou hast spoken, that same shal come vpon them, for loe, all things are present vnto thee.

25 Yet sayest thou vnto me, O Lord God, and commandest me that I shall buy a piece of land vnto my self for money, and take witnesses thereto: and yet in the meane season the citie is deliuered into the power of the Chaldees.

26 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Jeremie, saying,

27 Behold, I am the Lord God of all flesh: is there any thing then too hard for me?

28 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord, Behold, I shall deliuer this citie into the power of the Chaldees, and into the power of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, they shal take it:

29 For the Chaldees shall come and win this citie, and set fire vpon it, and burne it with the gorgeous houses, in whose parlors they haue made sacrifice vnto Baal, and powred drinke offerings vnto strange gods, to prouoke me vnto wrath:

30 For the children of Israel and the children of Juda haue onely bene doing wickednesse before me from their youth vp, they haue bene onely prouoking mee to wrath with the workes of their owne hands, saith the Lord.

31 For what hath this citie beene else, but a prouoking of my wrath euer since the day that they builded it, vnto this houre wherein I cast it out of my sight?

32 Because of the great blasphemies of the children of Israel and Juda, which they haue done to prouoke mee, yea, they, their kings their princes, their priests, their prophets, the men of Juda, and the citizens of Hierusalem:

33 When I stood vp early and taught them, and instructed them, they turned their backes to me, and not their faces,

34 They would not heare to be reformed and corrected: * but set their idoles in the house that is halowed to my name, to defile it. 4.Reg.21.4

35 They haue builded hie places for Baal in the valley of the children of Hennom, to cause their sonnes and daughters to passe thorow fire in the honour of Moloch, which I neuer commanded thē: neither came it euer in my thought to make Juda sinne with such abomination.

36 And nowe therefore thus hath the Lord GOD of Israel spoken concerning this citie, which as ye your selues confesse, shalbe deliuered into the hand of the king of Babylon, when it is wonne with the sword, with hunger, and with pestilence.

37 Behold, I wil gather them together from all lands, wherein I haue scattered them in my wrath, in fearefull and great displeasure, and wil bring them againe vnto this place, where they shal dwel safely:

38 *And they shalbe my people, and I wil be their God. Ezec.11.19

39 And I wil giue them one heart and one way, that they may feare me al the daies of their life: that they and their children after them may prosper.

40 And I wil set vp an euerlasting couenant with them, namely, that I will neuer cease to do them good, and that I will put my feare in their hearts, so that they shall not runne away from me.

41 Yea, I will haue a lust and pleasure to doe them good, and faithfully to plant them in this land with my whole heart, and with my whole soule.

42 For thus sayth the Lord, Like as I haue brought all this great plague vpon this people: euen so wil I also bring vpon them all the good that I haue promised them,

43 And men shal haue their possessions in this land, whereof ye say nowe that it shal neither be inhabited of the people, nor of cattel, but be deliuered into the hands of the Chaldees:

44 Yea, land shalbe bought for money, and euidences made thereupon, and sealed before witnesses in the countrey of Beniamin, and round about Hierusalem, in the cities of Juda, in the cities that are vpon the mountaines, and them that lie beneath, yea, and in the cities that are in the South: for I wil bring their prisoners hither againe, saith the Lord.

The xxxiij. Chapter.

1 The Prophet is monished of the Lord to pray for the deliuerance of the people, which the Lord promiseth. 8 God forgiueth sinnes, and doeth graciously to the people for his owne renowme. 15 Of the birth of Christ.

MOreouer, the worde of the Lorde came vnto Jeremie againe when he was yet bound in the court of the prison.

2 Thus sayth the Lord, who made Hierusalem, who fashioned the same to establish it, whose name is the Lord,

3 Crie vnto me, and I will answere, and shew thee great and high things which were vnknowen vnto thee.

4 Thus I say speaketh the Lord God of Israel, concerning the houses of this citie, and the houses of the kings of Juda that are broken through the ordinance and the sword.

5 The inhabiters of this citie haue come to fight against the Chaldees, and they are filled with the dead carkeises of men, whom I haue slaine in my wrath and displeasure, when I turned my face from this citie, because of all her wickednesse.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Xx4r

6 Behold, saith the Lord, I wil repaire and heale their wounds, and make them whole: I will open them the large treasure of peace and trueth,

7 And will returne the captiuitie of Juda and Israel, and will set them vp againe as they were before:

8 From all misldeedes whereiu they offended against me, I will cleanse them: and all their blasphemies which they haue done against me, when they regarded me not, I wil forgiue them.

9 And this shall get me a name, a praise and honour among all the people of the earth, which shall heare all the good that I will shewe vnto them, yea, they shall be afraid and astonied at all the good deedes and benefites that I will doe for them.

10 Moreouer, thus saith the Lord, In this place (wherof ye say that it shalbe a wildernesse, wherein neither people nor cattell shal dwell) in like maner in the cities of Juda, & in the streetes of Hierusalem (which also shall be so voide, that neither people nor cattell shall dwell there,)

11 Shall the voyce of gladnesse be heard againe, the voice of the bridegrome & of the bride, the voice of them that shall sing, Praise the Lord of hostes, for he is louing, and his mercie endureth for euer: and the voice of them that offer vp giftes in the house of the Lord: for I will restore the captiuitie of this land, as it was afore, saith the Lord.

12 Thus saieth the Lord of hostes, It shall come yet thereto, that in this land which is void from men and cattell, and in all the cities of the land, there shalbe set vp shepheards cottages to rest their flocks.

13 In the cities vpon the mountains, and in the cities that lie vpon the plaine, and in the cities of the South, in the land of Beniamin, and round about Hierusalem, and in the cities of Juda, shal the sheep passe againe vnder the hand of him that telleth them, saith the Lord.

Iere.23.5.

14 *Behold, the time cometh, saith the Lord, that I will performe that good thing which I haue promised vnto the house of Israel, and vnto the house of Juda.

15 In those dayes, and at the same time, I will bring forth vnto Dauid the branch of righteousnesse, and he shall do equitie and righteousnesse in the land.

Deu.33.28.

16 In those dayes shall Juda be saued, *and Hierusalem shall dwell safe: and this shalbe her name, [a] God our righteousnesse.

a This name hath God giuen to Christ, and doth properly belong to him alone, but here it is ascribed vnto the Church, for that God the Father hath espoused Christ his sonne vnto the Church, and hath endowed her with all that is his.

17 For thus the Lord promiseth, Dauid shal neuer want one to sit vpon the throne of the house of Israel:

18 Neither shal the Priests and Leuites want one to offer alway before me burnt offerings, to kindle the meate offerings, and to prepare the sacrifices.

19 And the word of the Lord came vnto Jeremie after this maner, 20 Thus saith the Lord, May the couenant which I haue made with day and night be broken, that there should not be day and night in due season?

21 Then may my couenant also be broken which I made with Dauid my seruant, and so he not to haue a sonne to reigne in his throne, so shal also the Priests and Leuites neuer faile, but serue me.

22 For like as the starres of heauen may not be numbred, neither the sand of the sea measured: so will I multiply the seede of Dauid my seruant, and the Leuites my ministers.

23 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came to Jeremie, saying,

24 Considerest thou not what this people speaketh? Two kinreds say they had the Lord chosen, and those same two hath he cast away: for so they haue despised my people, and they reputed them as though they were no people.

25 Therefore thus saith the Lord, If I haue made no couenant with day and night, and giuen no statute vnto heauen and earth:

26 Then will I also cast away the seede of Jacob and Dauid my seruant, so that I wil take no prince out of his seede to rule the posteritie of Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob: but yet I will turne againe their captiuitie, and be mercifull vnto them.

The xxxiiij. Chapter.

2 He threatneth that the citie, and the king Zedecias also shall be giuen into the hands of the king of Babylon.

THese are the words which the Lord spake vnto Jeremie, what time as Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, and all his hoste, and all the kingdoms that were vnder his power, and all his people, fought against Hierusalem and all the cities thereof.

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Goe and speake to Zedecias the king of Juda, and tell him, The Lord sendeth thee his word, Behold, I wil deliuer this citie into the hand of the king of Babylon, he shall burne it with fire.

3 And thou shalt not escape his hands, but shalt be taken prisoner, and deliuered into his power: Thou shalt looke the king of Babylon in the face, & he shal speak to thee mouth to mouth, and then shalt thou goe to Babylon.

4 Yet heare the word of the Lord, O Zedecias thou king of Juda, thus saieth the Lorde vnto thee, Thou shalt not be slaine with the sword,

5 But shalt die in peace: *And as thy forefathers the kings thy [a] progenitors were burnt, so shalt thou be burnt also, and in thy mourning they shal say, O Lord: for thus haue I determined, saith the Lord.

2.Chro.16.14.

a Zedecias is promised to be burnt after his death, that is, to haue his funerals honourably done.

6 Then said Jeremie the Prophet all these wordes vnto Zedecias king of Juda in Hierusalem, 7 What time as the King of Babylons hoste besieged Hierusalem, and the remnant of the cities, namely, Lachis, and Azecath, which yet remained of the strong defenced cities of Juda.

8 These are the words that the Lord spake vnto Jeremie the Prophet, when Zedecias was agreed with all the people of Hierusalem, that there should be proclaimed a libertie:

9 So that euery man should let his seruant and handmaide goe free, Hebrew, and Hebrewesse, & no Jew hold his brother as a bondman.

10 Now as they had consented, all the princes and all the people which had gathered vnto this agreement, that euery man should set at libertie his bondseruant and bondwoman, and no longer to hold them bound: euen so they were obedient, and let them goe free:

11 But afterward they repented, and tooke againe the seruants and handmaidens whome they had let goe free, and so made them bond againe.

12 For which cause the worde of the Lorde came vnto Ieremie from the Lord himselfe, saying,

13 Thus sayeth the Lorde God of Israel, I made a couenant with your fathers, when I brought them out of the lande of Egypt, out of the house of bondage, saying,

Exod. 21. 2. deut. 15. 12.

14 *When seuen yeeres are out, euery man shall let his bought seruant an Hebrew go free, if hee haue serued him sixe yeeres: but your fathers obeyed mee not, and hearkened not vnto mee.

15 As for you, yee were now turned, and did right before me, in that ye proclaimed euery man to let his neighbour goe free, and in that yee made a couenant before mee in the temple that beareth my name,

16 But yet ye turned your selues againe, and blasphemed my name, in this that euery man hath required his seruant and handmaid againe whom ye had let goe quite and free, and compelled them to serue you againe, and so to be bondmen and bondwomen.

17 And therefore thus saith the Lorde, Yee haue not obeyed mee, euery man to proclaime freedome vnto his brother and neighbor: wherfore I will call you vnto freedome, saieth the Lord, euen vnto the sword, to the pestilence, and to hunger, and will make you to be plagued in all kingdomes of the earth.

18 Yea, those men that haue broken my couenant, and not kept the wordes of the appointment which they made before mee when they hewed the calfe in two, and when they went thorow the two halues thereof,

19 The princes of Juda, the princes of Hierusalem, the gelded men, the priests, and all the people of the land which went thorow the two sides of the calfe:

20 Those men will I giue into the power of their enemies, and into the hands of them that follow vpon their liues: and their dead bodies shalbe meat for the foules of the aire, and beasts of the field.

21 As for Zedecias the king of Juda, and his princes, I will deliuer them into the power of their enemies, and of them that desire to slay them, and into the hande of the king of Babylons hoste, which is now departed from you.

22 But through my commandement (sayeth the Lorde) they shall come againe before this citie, they shall fight against it, win it and burne it: Moreouer, I will lay the cities of Juda so waste, that no man shall dwell therein.

The xxxv. Chapter.

Hee propoundeth the obedience of the Rechabites, and thereby confoundeth the pride of the Iewes.

THe wordes which the Lorde spake vnto Ieremie in the reigne of Jehoacim the sonne of Josias king of Juda, are these:

2 Goe vnto the house of the Rechabites, and call them out, and bring them to the house of the Lord, into some commodious place, and giue them wine to drinke.

3 Then tooke I Jazaniah the sonne of Jeremie, the sonne of Habazinjah, and his brethren, and all his sonnes, and the whole household of the Rechabites,

4 And brought them into the house of the Lorde, into the closet of the children of Hanan the sonne of Jegedaliah the man of God, which was by the closet of the princes, that is aboue the closet of Maaliah the sonne of Sellum, which is the treasurer.

5 And before the sonnes of the kinred of the Rechabites, I set pots full of wine, and cups, and said vnto them, Drinke wine.

6 But they said, Wee will drinke no wine: for Jonadab the sonne of Rechab our father commanded vs, saying, Yee & your sonnes shall neuer drinke wine, build houses, sowe no seede, plant no vines,

7 Yea, yee shall haue no vineyards: but for all your time yee shall dwell in tents, that yee may liue long in the land wherein ye be straungers.

8 Thus haue wee obeyed the commaundement of Jonadab the sonne of Rechab our father, in all that hee hath charged vs, and so wee drinke no wine all our life long, wee, nor our wiues, our sonnes, and our daughters,

9 Neither build we any house to dwel therein: we haue also among vs neither vineyardes, nor corne land to sowe:

10 But wee dwell in tents, we obey, and doe according vnto all that Jonadab our father commanded vs.

11 But now that Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon came vp into the land, wee sayde. Come, let vs goe to Hierusalem, that we may escape the host of the Chaldees, and the Assyrians: and so we dwell now at Hierusalem.

12 Then came the word of the Lord vnto Jeremie, saying,

13 Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, the God of Israel, Goe and tell the men of Juda, and the inhabitants of Hierusalem, Will yee not bee reformed to obey my wordes, sayeth the Lord?

14 The words which Jonadab the sonne of Rechab commanded his sonnes, that they should drinke no wine, are fast surely kept, for vnto this day they drinke no wine, but obey their fathers commaundement: but as for me, I haue stood vp early, I haue spoken vnto you, and giuen you earnest warning, and yet haue ye not bene obedient vnto me.

15 Yea, I haue sent my seruants all the Prophets vnto you, I rose vp early, and sent you word, saying, *O turne you now euery man from his wicked way, amend your liues, and go not after strange gods to worship them, that ye may continue in the land which I haue giuen vnto you and your fathers: but yee would neither heare me, nor follow me.

Iere. 18, 11. and 25. 5. iohn 3. 8.

16 The children of Jonadab Rechabs sonne, haue stedfastly kept their fathers commaundement that he gaue them: but this people is not obedient vnto me.

17 And therefore thus sayeth the Lorde of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I wil bring vpon Juda, and vpon euery one that dwelleth in Hierusalem, all the trouble that I haue deuised against them: For I haue spoken vnto them, but they would not follow me, I haue called vnto them, neuertheleſſe they would giue mee no anſwere.

18 Jeremie alſo ſpake vnto the houſhold of the Rechabites, Thus ſaieth the Lord of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, For as much as ye haue obeyed the commandement of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according to all that he hath bidden:

19 Therefore thus ſayth the Lorde of hoſtes the God of Iſrael, Jonadab the ſonne of Rechab ſhall not faile, but haue one out of his ſtocke to ſtand alway before me.

The xxxvj. Chapter.

Baruch writeth (as Ieremie enditeth) the booke of the curſes againſt Iuda and Iſrael.

IN the fourth yeere of Jehoacim the ſonne of Joſias the king of Juda, came the word of the Lorde vnto Jeremie, ſaying,

2 Take a booke and write therein all the wordes that I haue ſpoken to thee againſt Iſrael, againſt Juda, and againſt all the people, from the time that I began to ſpeake vnto thee in the reigne of Joſias, vnto this day:

3 That when the houſe of Juda heareth of the plague which I haue deuiſed for them, they may peraduenture turne euery man from his wicked way, that I may forgiue their offences and ſinnes.

4 Then did Jeremie call Baruch the ſonne of Neriah, and Baruch wrote in the booke at the mouth of Jeremie, all the words of the Lord which he had ſpoken vnto him.

5 And Jeremie commaunded Baruch, ſaying, I am in priſon, ſo that I may not come into the houſe of the Lord.

6 Therefore goe thou thither, and reade the booke that thou haſt written at my mouth, namely, the words of the Lord, and read them in the Lordes houſe vpon the [a] faſting day, that the people, whole Juda, and all they that come out of the cities, may heare.

7 Peraduenture they will pray meekely before the face of the Lorde, and turne euery one from his wicked way: for great is the wrath and diſpleaſure that the Lorde hath taken againſt this people.

8 So Baruch the ſonne of Neriah did according to all that Jeremie the Prophet commanded him, reading the words of the Lord out of the booke in the Lords houſe.

9 And this was done in the fift yeere of Jehoacim the ſonne of Joſias king of Juda, in the ninth moneth, when it was commaunded that all the people of Hieruſalem ſhould faſt before the Lord, and they alſo that were come from the cities of Juda vnto Hieruſalem.

10 Then read Baruch the words of Jeremie out of the booke within the houſe of the Lorde, out of the treaſurie of Gamariah the ſonne of Saphan the Scribe, which is beſide the higher loft of the new dooze of the Lords houſe, that all the people might heare.

11 Now when Micheas the ſonne of Gamariah the ſonne of Saphan, heard all the wordes of the Lord out of the booke, 12 Hee went downe to the kings palace, into the Scribes chamber, for there all the princes were ſet, Eliſama the Scribe, Dalaiah the ſonne of Semei, Elnathan the ſonne of Achbor, Gamariah the ſonne of Saphan, Zedecias the ſonne of Hananias, with all the princes.

13 And Micheas tolde them all the wordes that he heard Baruch reade out of the booke before the people.

14 Then all the princes ſent Jehudi the ſonne of Nathaniah, the ſonne of Selemiah, the ſonne of Chuſi, vnto Baruch, ſaying, Take in thine hand the booke whereout thou haſt read before all the people, and come. So Baruch the ſonne of Neriah tooke the booke in his hand, and came vnto them.

15 And they ſaide vnto him, Sit downe and reade the booke, that wee may heare alſo. So Baruch read, that they might heare.

16 Now when they had heard all the words, they were abaſhed one vpon another, and ſayde vnto Baruch, Wee will certifie the king of all theſe words.

17 And they examined Baruch, ſaying, Tell vs, how didſt thou write all theſe wordes out of his mouth?

18 Then Baruch anſwered them, Hee ſpake all theſe words vnto me with his mouth, and I wrote them in the booke.

19 Then ſaide the princes vnto Baruch, Goe thy way, hide thee with Jeremy, ſo that no man know where ye be.

20 And they went in to the king to the court, (but they kept the booke in the chamber of Eliſama the ſcribe,) and told the king all the words that he might heare.

21 So the king ſent Jehudi to fetch him the booke: which hee brought out of Eliſama the ſcribes chamber, and Jehudi read in it, that the king and all the princes which were about him might heare.

22 Now the king ſate in the winter houſe (for it was in the ninth moneth) and there was a fire before him.

23 And when Jehudi had read three or foure leaues thereof, he cut the booke in pieces with a penknife, & caſt it into the fire vpon the hearth, vntill the booke was all burnt in the fire vpon the hearth.

24 Yet no man was abaſhed thereof, nor rent his clothes, neither the king himſelfe, nor his ſeruants, though they heard all theſe words.

25 Neuertheleſſe, Elnathan, Dalaiah, and Gamariah beſought the king that he would not burne the booke: notwithſtanding the king would not heare them.

26 But commaunded Jerahmel the ſonne of Amelech, Saraiah the ſonne of Ezriel, and Selemiah the ſonne of Abdeel, to lay handes vpon Baruch the Scribe, and vpon Jeremie the Prophet: but the Lord kept them out of ſight.

27 Now after that the king had burnt the booke, and the ſermons which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremie, the worde of the Lorde came vnto Jeremie, ſaying, 28 Take another booke, and write in it all the foreſaid ſermons that were written in the firſt booke, which Jehoacim the king of Juda hath burnt.

29 And tel Jehoacim the king of Juda, Thus ſayth the Lorde, Thou haſt burnt the booke, and thoughteſt within thy ſelfe, Why haſt thou written therein, that the king of Babylon ſhall come, and make this land waſte, ſo that hee ſhall make both people and cattell to be out of it?

30 Therefore thus the Lord sayth of Iehoiacim the king of Iuda, There shall none of his generation sit vpon the throne of Dauid, his dead coarse shall be cast out, that the heate of the day, and the frost of the night may come vpon him.

31 And I will visite the wickednesse of him, of his seede, and of his seruants: Moreouer, all the euill that I haue promised them, though they heard me not, will I bring vpon them, vpon the inhabiters of Hierusalem, and vpon all Iuda.

32 Then tooke Ieremie another booke, and gaue it Baruch the scribe the sonne of Neriah, which wrote therein out of the mouth of Ieremie, all the sermons that were in the first booke which Iehoiacim the king of Iuda did burne: and there were added vnto them many moe sermons, like vnto the former.

The xxxvij. Chapter.

1 Zedecias succeedeth Cononiah: 3 he sendeth vnto Ieremie to pray for him.

2.Kin. 24.4 1.chro.36. 10.

ZEdecias *the sonne of Iosia, which was made king through Nabuchodonozor king of Babylon, reigned in the land of Iuda, in the stead of ‖Cononiah the sonne of Iehoiacim.

‖Or, Iechonia.

2 But neither he, nor his seruants, nor the people in his land would obey the words of the Lord which he spake by the Prophet Ieremie.

3 Neuertheless, Zedecias the king sent Iehucal the sonne of Selemiah, and Sophoniah the sonne of Maaliah the priest, to the Prophet Ieremie, saying, O pray thou vnto the Lorde our God for vs.

Ier. 36.26.

4 Now Ieremie walked free among the people at that time, * and was not put in prison as yet.

5 Pharaos hoste also was come out of Egypt: which when the Chaldees which besieged Hierusalem perceiued, they departed frō thence.

6 Then came the word of the Lord vnto the Prophet Ieremie, saying,

7 Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, This answere shall ye giue to the king of Iuda, that sent you vnto me for counsell: Behold, Pharaos hoste which is come forth to helpe you, shall returne into Egypt into his owne land.

8 But the Chaldees shall come againe, and fight against this citie, winne it, and set fire vpon it.

9 For thus sayeth the Lorde, Deceiue not your owne mindes, thinking on this manner, Tush, the Chaldees go now their way from vs: No, they shall not goe their way.

10 For though yee had slaine the whole hoste of the Chaldees that besiege you, and that none remained of them but wounded men, yet should they stand vp, and set fire vpon this citie.

11 Now when the hoste of the Chaldees was broken vp from Hierusalem for feare of the Egyptians armie, 12 Ieremie went out of Hierusalem toward the land of Beniamin, to get him from among the people.

13 And when hee came vnder Beniamins port, there was a porter called Ieriah, the sonne of Selemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, which fell vpon him, and tooke him, saying, Thy mind is to runne to the Chaldees.

14 Then saide Ieremie, It is not so, I goe not to the Chaldees: Neuertheless, Ieriah would not beleeue him, but brought Ieremie bound before the princes.

15 Wherefore the princes were angrie with Ieremie, and smote him, and laid him in prison in the house of Ionathan the Scribe: for they had made that house the prison.

16 Thus was Ieremie put in a dungeon and prison, and so lay there a long time.

17 Then Zedecias the king sent for him, and called him, and asked him quietly in his owne house, saying, Thinkest thou this businesse that now is in hand, commeth of the Lorde? Ieremie answered, Yea that it doeth: and thou (sayd he) shalt bee deliuered into the king of Babylons power.

18 Moreouer, Ieremie sayd vnto king Zedecias, * What haue I offended against thee, against thy seruants, or against this people, that ye haue put me in prison? Ier.9.10.

19 Where are your prophets which haue prophecied vnto you, and said, That the king of Babylon should not come against you, and this land?

20 And therefore heare now, O my lorde the king, let my prayer be accepted before thee, and send mee no more into the house of Ionathan the Scribe, that I die not there.

21 Then Zedecias commaunded to put Ieremie in the fore entrie of the prison, and daily to be giuen him a cake of bread of the bakers street, vntill all the bread in the citie was eaten vp: Thus Ieremie remained in the fore entrie of the prison.

The xxxviij. Chapter.

By the motion of the rulers, Ieremie is put into a dungeon.

SAphatiah the sonne of Mathan, Gedaliah the sonne of Phashur, Iucal the sonne of Selemiah, and Phashur the sonne of Melchia, perceiued the words that Ieremie had spoken vnto all the people, namely on this manner,

2 Thus sayth the Lord, *Who so remaineth in this citie, shall perish either with the sworde, with hunger, or pestilence: but who so falleth vnto the Chaldees, shall escape, winning his soule for a pray, and shall liue. Ier.21.8.

3 For thus sayeth the Lorde, This citie no doubt must bee deliuered into the power of the king of Babylon, and he also shall winne it.

4 Then said the princes vnto the king, Sir, we beseech you let this man be put to death: for thus he discourageth the hands of the souldiers that be in this citie, and the hands of all the people, when he speaketh such wordes vnto them: This man laboureth not for peace of the people, but mischiefe.

5 Zedecias the king answered, and said, Lo, he is in your hands: for the king may denie you nothing.

6 Then tooke they Ieremie, and cast him into the dungeon of Melchiah the sonne of Amelech, that dwelt in the fore entrie of the prison, and they let downe Ieremy with cords into a dungeon where there was no water, but mire: So Ieremie stacke fast in the myre.

7 Nowe when Abedmelech the Mozian, being a chamberlaine in the kings court, vnderstoode that they had cast Jeremie into the dungeon;

8 He went out of the kings house, and spake to the king, which then sate vnder the port of Beniamin these words,

9 My lorde the king, whereas these men meddle with Jeremie the Prophet, they do him wrong, namely, in that they haue put him in prison, there to dye for hunger: for there is no more bread in the citie.

10 Then the king commaunded Abedmelech the Mozian, and sayd, Take from hence thirtie men, whome thou wilt, and draw vp Jeremie the Prophet out of the dungeon before he die.

11 So Abedmelech tooke the men with him, and went to the house of the king, and there vnder the treasurie hee gate old ragges and worne clouts, and let them downe by a cord into the dungeon to Jeremie.

12 And Abedmelech the Mozian sayde vnto the Prophet Jeremie, O put these ragges and cloutes vnder thine armeholes, betwixt them and the cords: and Jeremy did so.

13 So they drewe vp Jeremie with cordes, and tooke him out of the dungeon: and hee remained in the fore entrie of the prison.

14 Then Zedecias the king sent, and caused Jeremie the Prophet to be called vnto him, into the third entrie that is in the house of the Lord, and the king sayde vnto Jeremie, I will aske thee somewhat, but hide nothing from me.

15 Then Jeremie answered Zedecias, If I be plaine vnto thee, thou wilt cause me to suffer death: If I giue thee counsell, thou wilt not follow me.

16 So the king swore an othe secretly to Jeremie, saying, As the Lorde liueth that made vs these soules, I will not slay thee, nor giue thee into the hands of them that seeke after thy life.

17 Then sayd Jeremie vnto Zedecias, Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, If case be that thou wilt goe forth vnto the king of Babylons princes, thou shalt saue thy life, and this citie shall not be burnt, yea, both thou and thy houshold shall escape with your liues:

18 But if thou wilt not goe forth to the king of Babylons princes, then shall this citie be deliuered into the handes of the Chaldees, which shall set fire vpon it, and thou shalt not be able to escape them.

19 And Zedecias sayde vnto Jeremie, I am afraid for the Jewes that are fled vnto the Chaldees, least I come into their handes, and so they to haue me in derision,

20 But Jeremie answered, No, they shall not betray thee: O hearken vnto the voice of the Lord, I beseech thee, which I speake vnto thee, so shalt thou be well, and saue thy life:

21 But if thou wilt not goe forth, the Lorde hath told me this plainely, 22 Behold, all the women that are left in the king of Judaes house, shall be ledde forth vnto the king of Babylons princes: and they shall say, Thou art deceiued, and the men in whome thou diddest put thy trust haue gotten thee vnder, and set thy feete fast in the myre, and gone their way from thee.

23 Therefore all thy wiues, with thy children, shall they lead forth vnto the Chaldees, and thou shalt not escape their handes, but shalt be the king of Babylons prisoner, and this citie shalt thou cause to be burnt.

24 Then said Zedecias vnto Jeremie, Looke that no body knowe of these wordes, and thou shalt not die.

25 But if the princes perceiue that I haue talked with thee, and come vnto thee, saying, O speake, what sayde the king to thee, hide it not from vs, and wee will not put thee to death, tell vs (we pray thee) what sayd the king vnto thee:

26 See thou giue them this answer, I haue humbly besought the king that he would let me lye no more in Jehonathans house, that I dye not there.

27 Then came all the princes vnto Jeremie, and asked him: and he told them after the manner as the king bade him. Then they held their peace, and let him alone: for they perceiued nothing.

28 So Jeremie abode still in the fore entrie of the prison, vntill the day that Hierusalem was wonne.

The xxxix. Chapter.

1 Nabuchodonosor besiegeth Hierusalem, 4 Zedecias fleeth. 5 He is taken of the Chaldees. 6 His sonnes are slaine. 7 His eyes are thrust out.

2 And in the eleuenth yeere of Zedecias, in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, he brake into the citie.)

3 Then all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, & sate them downe vnder the port: Neregel, Sarezer, Samgarnebo, Sarsachim, Rabsaris, Neregel, Sarezer, Rabmag, with all the other princes of the king of Babylon.

4 And when Zedecias the king of Juda with his souldiers saw them, then they fledde, and departed out of the citie by night, thorowe the kings garden, and thorow the port that is betweene the two walles, and so the king went toward the wildernesse:

5 But the Chaldees hoste followed fast after them, and tooke Zedecias in the field of Hiericho, and brought him prisoner to Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, vnto Reblath, that lyeth in the lande of Hemath, where hee gaue iudgement vpon him.

6 So the king of Babylon caused the children of Zedecias, and all the nobles of Juda, to be slaine before his face at Reblath,

7 And made Zedecias eyes to be put out, and bound him with two chaines, and sent him to Babylon.

8 Moreouer, the Chaldees burnt vp the kings palace, with the other houses of the people, and brake downe the walles of Hierusalem.

9 As for the remnant of the people that were in the citie, and such as were come to him, and whatsoeuer was left of the common sort, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine caried them to Babylon.

11 Nabuchodonosor also the king of Babylon, gaue Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine a charge concerning Jeremie, saying,
12 Take and cherish him, make much of him, see thou doe him no harme, but intreate him after his owne desire,
13 So Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine, Nabuzarban, Rablares, Neregel, Sarezer, Rabmag, and all the king of Babylons lordes sent for Jeremie,
14 And caused him to bee set out of the forecentrie of the prison, and committed him vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan, that he should carie him home: and so hee dwelt among the people.
15 Now when Jeremie lay yet bound in the forecentrie of the prison, the worde of the Lorde came vnto him, saying,
16 Goe and tell Abedmelech the Mozian, Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes the God of Israel, Behold, the cruell and sharpe plague that I haue deuised for this citie, will I bring vpon them, and thou shalt see it:
17 But I will deliuer thee in that day, sayth the Lord, and thou shalt not come in the handes of those men whome thou fearest:
18 For doubtlesse I will saue thee, so that thou shalt not perish with the sword: but thy life shalbe saued, and that because thou hast put thy trust in me, sayth the Lord.

The xl. Chapter.

1 Ieremie hath licence to goe whither he will. 14 Iohanan prophesieth death vnto Gedaliah.

THis is the worde that the Lorde spake vnto Jeremie, when Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine had let him goe free from Ramath, whither he had led him bound among all the prisoners that were caried from Hierusalem and Juda, vnto Babylon.
2 The chiefe captaine called for Jeremie, and sayde vnto him, The Lorde thy God spake mightily before of the miserie vpon this place.
3 Now the Lorde hath sent it, and performed it, as he hath promised: for yee haue sinned against the Lorde, and haue not beene obedient vnto his voice, therefore commeth this plague vpon you.
4 Behold, I loose the bands from thy hands this day: if thou wilt now go with me vnto Babylon, vp then, for I will see to thee, and prouide for thee: but if thou wilt not go with me to Babylon, then remaine here: Behold, all the lande is at thy will, looke where thou thinkest conuenient and good for thee to abide, there dwell.
5 For as yet he was not gone backe againe to Gedaliah: therefore he said to him, Go backe to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan, whom the king of Babylon had made gouernour ouer the cities of Juda, and dwell with him among the people, or remaine where-soeuer it pleaseth thee. So the chiefe captaine gaue him his expences, with a reward, and let him goe.
6 Then went Jeremie vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam, to Mispa, & dwelt there with him among the people that were left in the land.
7 Now when the captaines of the hoste of Juda, which with their fellowes were scattered abroad on euery side in the land, vnderstood that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam gouernour in the land, & that man, wife, and childe, yea, and the poore men in the land that were not led captiue to Babylon, should be vnder his iurisdiction:
8 They came to Gedaliah vnto Mispa, namely, Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah, Johanan and Jonathan the sonnes of Careah, Sareah the sonne of Thanehumeth the sonnes of Ephai the Netophatite, Jezaniah the sonne of Maachati, with their companions.
9 And Gedaliah, the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan, sware vnto them and their fellowes in this maner, *Be not afraid to serue the Chaldees, dwell in the land, and doe the king of Babylon seruice, so shall ye prosper. 4.King. 25. 24.
10 Behold, I dwell at Mispa, to be an officer in the Chaldees behalfe, and to satisfie such as come to vs: therefore gather wine, corne, and oyle, and keepe them in your warehouses, and dwell in your cities that ye haue in keeping.
11 Yea, all the Jewes also that dwell in Moab vnder the Ammonites, Idumea, and in all the countreys, when they heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan gouernour vpon all them that were left in Juda:
12 All the Jewes I say returned out of all places where they fledde vnto, and came into the land of Juda to Gedaliah vnto Mispa, and gathered wine and other fruites, and that verie much.
13 Moreouer, Johanan the sonne of Careah, and all the captaines of the hoste that were scattered on euery side of the land, came to Gedaliah to Mispa, and sayd vnto him, 14 Knowest thou not that Baalis the king of the Ammonites hath sent Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah to slay thee? But Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam beleeued them not.
15 Then said Johanan the sonne of Careah vnto Gedaliah in Mispa these wordes secretly, Let me goe, I pray thee, and I will slay Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah, so that no bodie shall know it: wherefore will he kill thee, that all the Jewes which resort vnto thee might be scattered, and the remnant in Juda perish?
16 And Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam sayde to Johanan the sonne of Carea, Thou shalt not doe it: for they are but lyes that thou speakest of Ismael.

The xlj. Chapter.

2 Ismael killeth Gedaliah guilefully, and many other with him. 11 Iohanan followeth after Ismael.

BVt in the seuenth moneth, it happened that Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah the sonne of Elisama, one of the kings blood came, and the greatest about the king, and ten men with him, vnto Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam to Mispa, and they did eate together in Mispa.
2 And Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah, with those ten men that were with him, start vp, and smote Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam the sonne of Saphan with the sword, and slue him, whom the king of Babylon had made a gouernour of the land.
3 Ismael also slew all the Jewes that were with Gedaliah at Mispa, and al the Chaldees that hee found there wayting vpon him, and those that were able to fight, he slue with him.

4 The next day after that hee had slaine Gedaliah, the matter was yet vnknowen:

5 And there came certaine men from Sichem, from Silo and Samaria, to the number of fourescore, which had shaven their beardes, rent their clothes, and were al heavy, bringing meat offerings and incense in their handes, to offer it in the house of the Lord.

6 And Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah went forth of Mispa weeping to meete them: & owe when he met them, he said, Goe your way to Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam.

7 And when they came in the midst of the citie, Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah, with them that were with him, slew them euen at the midst of the pit. 4.Reg.25.24.

8 Among these fourescore men there were ten that saide vnto Ismael, Oh slay vs not, for wee haue yet a great treasure in the fielde, of wheate, barley, oyle, and honie: So hee spared them, and slue them not with their brethren.

9 Nowe the pit wherein Ismael did cast the dead bodies of the men whom he slew because of Gedaliah, had King Asa caused to bee made for feare of Baasa the King of Israel: and the same pit did Ismael fil with slaine men.

10 As for the remnant of the people, the kings daughters, and al the people that were left at Mispa, vpon whom Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine had made Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam gouernour, Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah caried them away prisoners toward the Ammonites.

11 But when Johanan the sonne of Careah, and all they which had bene captaines ouer the kings host with him, heard of al the wickednesse that Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah had done:

12 They tooke their companions, and went out for to fight with Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah, and found him by the great waters that are at Gibeon.

13 Now when all the people whom Ismael led captiue, saw Johanan the sonne of Careah, and al the other captaines of the hoste, they were glad.

14 So al the people that Ismael had caried away from Mispa, were brought againe: and when they returned, they came to Johanan the sonne of Careah.

15 But Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah fled from Johanan with eight companions, and went to the Ammonites.

16 Then Johanan the sonne of Careah, and al the captaines of the host that were with him, tooke al the remnant of the people, whom Ismael the son of Nathaniah had led away when hee had slaine Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam, whom they also had reserued from him, fighting men, women, and children, and gelded men, whom they brought againe from Gibeon:

17 And went from thence, & sate them downe at Geruth Chamaam, which lieth beside Bethlehem, that they might goe into Egypt for feare of the Chaldees:

18 Of whom they were afraide, because that Ismael the sonne of Nathaniah had slaine Gedaliah Ahicams sonne, whom the king of Babylon had made gouernour in the land.

The xlij. Chapter.

1 The captaines aske counsell at Ieremie what they ought to doe. 19 Ieremie admonisheth the remnant of the people not to goe into Egypt.

THen all the captaines, and Johanan the sonne of Careah, Jezaniah the sonne of Osiah, came, with all the people from the least vnto the most,

2 And saide vnto Jeremie the Prophet, O heare our petition, that thou maiest pray for vs vnto the Lord thy God, namely, for all the remnant whereof there bee fewe of vs left of many, as thou seest vs:

3 That the Lord thy God may shewe vs a way to goe in, and tel vs what we should do.

4 Then Jeremie the Prophet saide vnto them, I haue heard you: behold, I wil pray vnto God your Lord as ye haue required me: & looke what answere the Lord giueth, I shall certifie you thereof, and keepe nothing backe from you.

5 And they saide vnto Jeremie, The Lord be a true and faithfull witnesse betwixt vs, that we wil doe all that the Lord thy God commandeth vs.

6 Whether it be good or euil, wee wil hearken vnto the voice of the Lord thy God, to whom we sende thee, that wee may prosper when wee haue followed the voyce of the Lord our God.

7 And after ten dayes came the word of the Lord vnto Jeremie.

8 Then called he Johanan the sonne of Careah, and al the captaines of the people that were with him, yea, and al the people from the least to the most,

9 And said vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, vnto whom yee sent mee to lay forth your prayers before him:

10 If you wil dwel in this land, I wil builde you vp, and not breake you downe, I wil plant you, and not root you out: for I [a] repent as concerning the trouble that I haue done to you.

11 Feare not the king of Babylon, of whom ye stand in awe, O be not afraid of him, saith the Lord, for I wil be with you to helpe you, and deliuer you from his hand.

12 I wil pardon you, I wil haue mercie vpon you, and cause him to pity you, and bring you againe into your owne land.

13 Neuertheless, if ye purpose not to dwel in this lande, nor to followe the voyce of the Lord your God,

14 But wil say thus, We wil not dwel here, but goe into Egypt, where wee shal neither see warre, heare the noise of the Trumpe, nor suffer hunger, there wil we dwel:

15 Wherefore heare nowe the worde of the Lord, O yee remnant of Juda, thus sayeth the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, If ye be wholy purposed to go into Egypt, and to dwel there as strangers, 16 The sworde that yee feared shal ouertake you in Egypt: and the hunger whereof yee be afraide, shal hang vpon you, and follow you into Egypt, and there shal ye die.

17 And al they that of set purpose vndertake to goe into Egypt to sojourne there, shal perish with the sword, with hunger, and pestilence, not one of them shal remaine, there shal none escape the plague that I wil bring vpon them.

18 For thus saith the Lord of hostes the God a Gods repentance is nothing els, but that he doeth not performe to the vttermost his wrath according to the desires of this people.

of Israel, Like as my wrath and indignation is moued against the inhabiters of Hierusalem: so shal my displeasure be kindled against you also if yee goe into Egypt, and there ye shalbe reuiled, abhorred, brought to shame and confusion, and as for this place ye shal neuer see it more.

19 The Lord forbiddeth you (O ye remnant of Juda) that yee shal not goe into Egypt: and forget not that I haue warned you earnestly this day.

20 For ye haue dissembled with me: for ye sent me vnto the Lord your God, and saide, O pray thou the Lord our God for vs, and looke what answere the Lord our God giueth thee, that bring vs againe, and we wil do thereafter.

21 Nowe haue I shewed and declared vnto you, but ye haue not obeyed the voice of the Lord your God, for the which cause he hath sent mee to you.

22 Now therefore bee ye sure that ye shal perish with the sword, with hunger and pestilence, euen in the same place where your lust is to goe and dwel.

The xliij. Chapter.

1 Iohanan carieth the remnant of the people into Egypt contrary to the minde of Ieremie. 8 Ieremie prophecieth the destruction of Egypt.

NOwe when Ieremie had ended al the woordes of the Lord his God vnto the people, which to declare, the Lord their God had sent him vnto them, euen al these words I say,

2 Azariah the son of Osaiah, and Johanan the sonne of Careah, with al the stubborne persons, said vnto Jeremy, Thou liest, the Lord our God hath not sent thee to speake vnto vs, that we should not go into Egypt, and dwel there:

3 But Baruch the sonne of Neriah prouoketh thee against vs, that he might bring vs into the captiuitie of the Chaldees, that they might slay vs, & cary vs away prisoners vnto Babylon.

4 So Johanan the sonne of Careah, and al the captaines of the hoste, and al the people, followed not the commandement of the Lord, namely, to dwel in the land of Juda:

5 But Johanan the sonne of Careah, and al the captaines of the hoste, caried away al the remnant of Juda, that were come together againe from al the Heathen, among whom they had bene scattered, to dwel in the land of Juda,

6 Men, women, children, the Kings daughters, al those that Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine had left with Gedaliah the sonne of Ahicam, the sonne of Saphan: they caried away also the Prophet Jeremie, and Baruch the sonne of Neriah,

7 And so came into Egypt: for they were not obedient vnto the cõmandement of God. Thus came they to Thaphnis:

8 And in Thaphnis the worde of the Lord happened vnto Jeremie, saying,

9 Take great stones in thine hand, and hide them in the bricke wal vnder the doore of Pharaohs house in Thaphnis, that al the men of Juda may see,

10 And say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Beholde, I wil send and cal for Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon my seruant, and wil set his seate vpon these stones that I haue hid, and hee shal spread his tent ouer them.

11 And when he commeth, hee shal smite the land of Egypt, some with slaughter, some with banishment, and some with the sword.

12 He shal set fire vpon the temple of the Egyptians gods, and burne them vp, and take themselues prisoners: moreouer, hee shal aray himselfe with the land of Egypt, like as a shepheard putteth on his coate, and shal depart his way from thence in peace.

13 The pillars also of the temple of the sunne that is in Egypt shal hee breake in pieces, and burne the temples of the Egyptians gods.

The xliiij. Chapter.

1 Hee reproueth the people for their idolatrie. 15 They that set light by the threatnings of the Lord are chastened.

THis is the word that was shewed to Ieremie concerning all the Iewes which dwelt in Egypt, at Migdol, at Thaphnis, at Noph, and in the land of Pathures.

2 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Yee haue seene al the misery that I haue brought vpon Hierusalem, & vpon al the cities of Juda: so that this day they are desolate, and no man dwelling therein,

3 And that because of the great blasphemies which they committed, to prouoke me vnto anger, in that they went backe to doe sacrifice and worship vnto strange gods, whom neither they nor ye, nor your fathers haue knowen,

4 Howbeit, I sent vnto them my seruants al the Prophets, I rose vp earely, I sent vnto them, and gaue them warning, O doe no such abominable things, and things that I hate.

5 But they would not folow nor hearken, to turne from their wickednesse, and to doe no more sacrifice vnto strange gods.

6 Wherefore mine indignation and wrath was kindled, and it burnt vp the cities of Juda, with the streets of Hierusalem, so that they were made waste and desolate, as it is come to passe this day.

7 Now therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, How happeneth it that ye do so great euil vnto your owne soules, thus to destroy the men and women, children and babes of Juda, so that none of you is left,

8 Because ye prouoke me to wrath with the workes of your owne hands, when ye offer vnto strange gods in the land of Egypt whereas ye be gone to dwel, that ye might vtterly perish, and that ye might be reuiled, and shamefully entreated of al nations?

9 Or haue ye now forgotten the wickednesse of your forefathers, the wickednesse of the kings of Juda and their wiues, the wickednesse that yee your selues and your wiues haue done in the land of Juda, and in the streets of Hierusalem?

10 Yet are ye not sorie this day, ye feare not, neither walke ye in my Law, and in my Commandements that I haue giuen vnto you and your forefathers.

11 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, *I am stedfastly aduised & determined to punish you, and to roote out al Juda. Amos 9.4.

12 As for the remnant of Juda that purposely went into Egypt there to dwel, I wil take them, and they shal all bee destroyed, in the land of Egypt shal they perish, being consumed with the sword and with hunger: for from the least vnto the most, they shal perish with the sworde and with hunger: Moreouer, they shalbe reuiled, abhorred, shamed, and confounded.

13 For I wil visite them that dwel in Egypt, as I haue visited Hierusalem, with the sword, with hunger, and with pestilence:

14 So that none of the remnant of Juda which are gone to dwel in Egypt, shalbe left to come againe into the lande of Juda, although they thinke to come thither againe, and to dwel there: for none shal come againe but such as are fled away.

15 Then al the men which knewe that their wiues had offred vnto strange gods, and a great sort of wiues that stood there, yea and al the people that dwelt there in Egypt in the city of Pathures, answered Jeremie, and said,

16 As for the words that thou hast spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord, we wil in no wise heare them:

17 But whatsoeuer goeth out of our owne mouth, that wil we do, we wil doe sacrifice, and offer oblations vnto the Queene of heauen, like as wee and our forefathers, our Kings and our heads haue done in the cities of Juda, and in the streets of Hierusalem: for then had wee plenteousnes of victuals, then were we in prosperitie, and no misfortune came vpon vs:

18 But since we left to offer and to do sacrifice vnto the Queene of heauen, we haue had scarcenesse of al things, and perish with the sword and hunger.

Iere.7.18. 19 *Last of all, when wee women did sacrifice, and offered vnto the Queene of heauen: did wee make her cakes, and powre vnto her drinke offrings, to doe her seruice, without our husbands wils?

20 Then saide Jeremie vnto al the people, to the men, to the women, & to al the folke which had giuen him that answere, 21 Did not the Lord remember the sacrifices, that yee, your forefathers, your Kings and rulers, which al the people haue offered in the cities of Juda, in the streetes of Hierusalem? and hath he not considered this in his minde?

22 In so much that the Lord might no longer suffer the wickednesse of your inuentions, and the abhominable things which yee did: Is not your land desolate and voyde, yea and abhorred, so that no man dwelleth therein any more, as it is come to passe this day?

23 Did not al this happen vnto you, because yee made such sacrifice, and sinned against the Lord? Ye haue not followed his voyce, to walke in his Law, in his ordinances and statutes: yea, this is the cause that all misfortune happened vnto you, as it is come to passe this day.

24 Moreouer, Jeremie spake vnto al the people, and to al the women, Heare the word of the Lord al Juda that be in the land of Egypt, 25 Thus saith the Lord of hostes the God of Israel, Yee and your wiues haue spoken with your own mouth the thing that ye haue fulfilled in deed, yea, thus haue ye said, We wil not faile but performe the vowes that we haue vowed, we wil do sacrifice, and powre out drinke offrings to the Queene of heauen: Purposely wil ye set vp your owne meanings, & performe your vowes.

26 And therefore heare the word of the Lord al Juda that dwel in the land of Egypt: Behold, I haue sworne by my great Name, sayeth the Lord, that my Name shal not bee rehearsed through any mans mouth of Juda in al the land of Egypt, to say, The Lord God liueth.

27 For I wil watch to plague them, and not for their wealth: and al the men of Juda that be in the land of Egypt shal perish with the sword, and with hunger, vntil they be vtterly destroied.

28 Neuertheles, those that fled away for the sworde, shal come againe out of Egypt into the land of Juda, but there shalbe very few of them: and al the remnant of Juda that are gone into Egypt there to dwel, shal knowe whose wordes shalbe found true, theirs, or mine.

29 Take this for a token, that I wil visite you in this place, saith the Lord, and that ye may know how that I without doubt wil performe my purpose vpon you, to punish you.

30 Behold, saith the Lord, I wil deliuer Pharao Hophrea King of Egypt, into the handes of his enemies that seeke after his life: euen as I gaue Zedecias the King of Juda into the hands of Nabuchodonosor King of Babylon his enemie, which sought after his life.

The xlv. Chapter.

Baruch is reproued of Ieremie.

THese are the wordes that Jeremie the Prophet spake vnto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, after that hee had written these Sermons in a booke at the mouth of Jeremie, in the fourth yere of Jehoacim the sonne of Josias King of Juda, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord God of Israel vnto thee, O Baruch:

3 Insomuch as thou thoughtest thus when thou wast writing, Woe is me, the Lord hath giuen me paine for my trauel, I haue wearied my selfe with sighing, and haue found no rest:

4 Therefore tell him, O Jeremie, that the Lord saith thus: Behold, the thing that I haue builded, wil I breake downe againe, and roote out the thing that I haue planted, yea, the whole land:

5 And seekest thou yet promotion? looke not for it, and desire it not, for I wil bring a miserable plague vpon all flesh, saith the Lord: but thy life wil I giue thee for a praye, in al places whither soeuer thou goest.

The xlvj. Chapter.

1 He propheseth the destruction of Egypt. 27 Deliuerance is promised to Israel.

HEre folow the words of the Lord to the Prophet Jeremie, which he spake against all the Gentiles.

2 These words folowing preached hee to the Egyptians, concerning the hoste of Pharao Necho king of Egypt, when he was in Charchamis beside the water of Euphrates, what time as Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon slewe him, in the fourth yeere of Jehoacim the sonne of Josias King of Juda.

vpon them, set your sallets fast on, bring foorth speares, scowre your swordes, and put on your brest plates.

5 But alas, howe happeneth it that I see you so afraide? why shrinke yee backe? Their worthies are slaine, yea, they runne so fast away, that none of them looketh behinde him: feare-fulnesse is fallen vpon euery one of them, saith the Lord.

6 The lightest of foot shal not flee away, and the worthies shal not escape: toward the North by the water of Euphrates they did stumble and fall.

7 But what is hee this that swelleth vp as it were a flood, roaring and raging like the streames of water?

8 It is Egypt that riseth vp like the flood, and casteth out the waters with so great noise: And hee saide, I wil goe vp, and wil couer the earth, I wil destroy the citie with them that are therein.

9 Get vp ye horses, roule foorth ye charets, come foorth worthies, ye Ethiopians, ye Libyans with your bucklers, ye Lydians with your bowes.

10 But this day of the Lord God of hostes is a day of vengeance, that hee may auenge him of his enemies: The sword shal deuoure, it shalbe satisfied and bathed in their blood, for the Lord of hostes shal haue a slaine offering toward the North, by the water of Euphrates.

11 Goe vp vnto Gilead, and bring Triacle, O virgine, thou daughter of Egypt: but in vaine shalt thou goe to Surgerie, for thy wound shall not be stopped.

12 The Heathen haue heard of thy shame, and the land is full of thy confusion: for one strong man did stumble vpon another, and they are fallen both together.

13 These are the wordes that the Lord spake to the Prophet Ieremie, concerning the comming of Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon, which was sent to destroy the land of Egypt:

14 Preach out through the lande of Egypt, and cause it to be proclaimed at Migdol, Noph, and Taphnis, and say, Stand stil, make thee ready, for the sworde shall consume thee round about.

15 Howe happeneth it that thy mightie worthies are fallen? why stood they not fast? euen because the Lord thrust them downe.

16 The slaughter was great, for one fell euer stil vpon another: and they said, Vp, let vs go againe to our owne people, and to our owne natural countrey, from the cruel sword.

17 They did cry euen there, Pharao the king of Egypt is a King of troublesomnesse: he hath ouerpast the appointed time.

18 As I liue (saith the King whose Name is the Lord of hostes) so surely as Thabor standeth among the mountaines, and Charmel in the Sea: euen so assuredly shal this mischiefe come vpon Egypt.

19 O thou daughter of Egypt, make ready thy geare to flit: for Noph shalbe void and desolate, so that no man shal dwel therein.

20 The land of Egypt is like a goodly faire calfe: but destruction shal come out of the North, I say it commeth.

21 Her waged souldiers that be with her are like fat calues, they also shall flee away together, and not abide: for the day of their slaughter, and the time of their visitation shal come vpon them.

22 The cry of them shal make a noise as the hissing of serpents: for they shall enter in with their hostes, and come against her with axes, as it were hewers downe of wood.

23 And they shal cut downe her [a] wood, saith the Lord, they shalbe innumerable: for they shal be moe in number then the grashoppers, so that no man shalbe able to tel them.

24 The daughter of Egypt is confounded, and deliuered into the hands of the people of the North.

25 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Behold, I wil visite that rebellious people of Alexandria, Pharao, & Egypt, yea both their gods and their kings, euen Pharao and al them that put their trust in him:

26 Yea, I wil deliuer them into the hands of those that seeke after their liues, namely into the power of Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon, and into the power of his seruants: and after al these things, it shalbe inhabited as afore-time, saith the Lord.

27 *Be not thou afraide, O my seruant Jacob, feare not thou, O Israel: for loe, I wil helpe thee from farre, and thy seed from the land of their captiuitie: Jacob also shal come againe and be in rest, he shal prosper, and no man shal do him harme.

28 Feare thou not (O Jacob my seruant) saieth the Lord, for I am with thee, and wil destroy all nations among whom I haue scattered thee: neuertheless I will not consume thee, but chasten thee and correct thee, yea, and that with discretion, neither wil I vtterly destroy thee.

The xlvij. Chapter.

The word of the Lord against the Philistines.

THese are the words that the Lord spake vnto Ieremie the Prophet against the Philistines, before that Pharao smote the citie of Azah,

2 Thus saieth the Lord, Behold, there shal waters arise out of the North, and shal grow to a great flood, running ouer and couering the land and al that is therein, the cities, and them that dwel therein: and the men shal cry, and all they that dwel in the land shall mourne,

3 At the noise and stamping of their strong barbed horses, at the shaking of their charets, and at the rumbling of the wheeles: the fathers shal not looke to their children, so feeble and wearie shal their hands be.

4 At the same time when he shalbe there to destroy the whole land of the Philistines, he shal make waste both Tyrus, Sidon, and the residue of their aide: for the Lord wil destroy the Philistines, the remnant of the Ile of ‖ Caphtor.

5 Baldnesse is come vpon Azah, Ascalon is put to silence, with the rest of their valleys: Howe long wilt thou teare thy selfe?

6 O thou sword of the Lord, howe long wilt thou not cease? Turne againe into thy sheath, rest, and leaue off.

7 But howe can it cease, when the Lord himselfe hath giuen it a charge against Ascalon, and raised it vp against the cities of the Sea coast?

[a] Her wood, that is, the whole multitude of the people, which was like a great wood.

The word of the Lord against the Moabites.

THus sayth the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, against Moab, Woe bee to the citie Nebo, for it is layed waste, brought to confusion, and Kiriathaim is taken: Misgab is brought to shame and afraid.

2 Moab can boast no more of Heshon, for they haue deuised a mischiefe against it: Come, shall they say, let vs roote them out: that they may bee no more a nation, thou also shalt be destroyed, O Madmena, and the sword shall persecute thee.

3 A voice shall crie from Horonaim: Great wasting and destruction shal come vpon them.

4 Moab is made desolate, her little ones haue cried out.

5 For at the going vp vnto Luith hee arose with lamentation and mourning, and downe toward Horonaim they heard a cruel and deadly crie:

Iere. 17.6. 6 *Get you away, saue your liues, and bee like vnto the heath in the wildernesse.

Esa. 44.2. Iere. 48.10. 7 For because thou hast trusted in thine own workes and treasure, thou shalt be taken: Chamos with his priests and princes shal goe away into captiuitie.

8 The destroyer shall come vpon all cities, none shall escape: the valleis shalbe destroyed, and the fields shalbe layd waste, like as the Lord hath spoken.

9 Giue wings vnto Moab, that she get her away speedily: for her cities shalbe made so desolate, that no man shall dwel therein.

10 Cursed be hee that doeth the worke of the Lord fraudulently, and cursed be he that keepeth backe his sword from shedding of blood.

11 Moab hath euer beene rich and carelesse from her youth vp, she hath bene still setled vpon lees, shee was neuer yet put out of one vessel into another, that is, she neuer went away into captiuitie, therefore her taste remaineth, and her sauour is not yet changed.

12 But loe, the time commeth, saith the Lord, that I shall send her trussers to trusse her vp, which shall remoue her from her dwelling, and emptie her vessels, and breake her wine pots.

3. King. 12. 29. Esay 16.7. 13 And Moab shall bee ashamed of Chamos, *like as Israel was ashamed of Bethel, wherein she put her trust.

14 Wherefore doe yee thinke thus, *Wee are mighty and strong men of warre?

15 Moab is destroyed, and her cities burnt vp, her chosen yong men be slaine, saith the king, whose name is the Lord of hostes.

16 The destruction of Moab commeth on apace, and her fall is at hand.

17 All ye neighbours mourne for her, and all ye that know her name, say, O how happeneth it that the strong staffe and the goodly rodde is thus broken?

18 And thou daughter Dibon, come downe from thy glory, and sit in thirst: for hee that destroyeth Moab, shall come vp to thee also, and breake downe thy strong holds.

19 And thou that dwellest in Aroer, get thee to the streete, and looke about thee, aske them that are fled and escaped, and say, What thing is happened?

20 Oh, Moab is confounded and ouercome: mourne and crie, tell it out at Arnon, that Moab is destroyed:

21 For iudgement shall come vpon the plaine land, namely, vpon Holon, and Iahzah, and vpon Mephaath,

22 And vpon Dibon, vpon Nabo, and Beth Diblathaim,

23 Vpon Kiriathaim, and vpon Beth Gamul, vpon Beth Maon, 24 And vpon Carioth, vpon Bozra, and all the cities in the land of Moab whether they lie farre or neere.

25 The horne of Moab is smitten downe, and her arme broken, saith the Lord.

26 Make her drunken, for shee magnified her selfe aboue the Lord, that men may clap their hands at her vomite, and that she also may bee laughed to scorne.

27 Diddest not thou laugh Israel to scorne, as though hee had beene taken with theefe among theeues? for so often as thou makest mention of him, thou skippest for ioy.

28 Yee Moabites, leaue the cities, and dwell in rockes of stone, and become like doues that make their nests in holes.

29 As for Moabs pride wee haue heard of it, she is very high minded, I know her stoutnesse, her boasting, her arrogancie, and the pride of her stomacke, saith the Lord.

30 I know (saith the Lord) her indignation, she doeth not right, her words are lies, and they haue not dealt truely.

31 Therefore will I mourne for Moab, for whole Moabs sake: my heart shall lament the men of Kirchares.

32 O thou vineyard of Sabamah, I will weepe for thee as for Jazer: thy vine branches shall come ouer the sea, vnto the sea of Jazer, the destroyer shall breake into thy haruest and grape gathering.

Esay 16.10. 33 *Mirth and cheere shall bee taken away from the fertile field, and from the land of Moab: there shall bee no sweete wine in the presse, the treader shal haue no stomacke to crie, yea, there shalbe none to crie vnto him, 34 Which aforetime were heard from Heshon to Eleale, and Jahaz, which lifted vp their voice from Zoar vnto Horonaim, that bullock of three yeere old: the waters also of Nemrim shall bee dried vp.

35 Moreouer, I will make Moab cease, saith the Lord, from the offerings and censing that she hath made vnto her gods in high places.

36 Wherefore my heart mourneth for Moab like a croude playing an heauie song, and for the mens sake of Kirchares my heart mourneth also, euen as a pipe that pipeth a dolefull song: for their riches which they haue gathered, shalbe destroyed.

Esay 15.3. eccle. 7.18. 37 *All heads shalbe shauen, and all beards clipped off, all hands bound, and all loines girded about with sackecloth.

38 Vpon all the house toppes and streetes of Moab, there shalbe lamentable mourning, for I will breake Moab like an vnprofitable vessel, saith the Lord.

39 O how is she destroyed? O how mourneth she? O how doeth Moab hang downe her head, and is ashamed? Thus shal Moab be a laughing stocke, and had in derision of all them that bee round about her.

fol. Yy3v

40 For thus saith the Lord, beholde, the enemie shall come fleeing as an Eagle, and spread his wings vpon Moab.

41 They shall take the cities, and winne the strong holds: then the mighty mens hearts in Moab shalbe like the heart of a woman trauailing with childe.

42 And Moab shall be made so desolate, that she shall no more be a people, because she hath set vp her selfe against the Lord.

43 Feare, pit, and snare shall come vpon thee, O Moab, saith the Lord.

Esay 24.17. 44 *Who so escapeth the feare, shal fall into the pit, and who so getteth out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for I wil bring a yere of visitation vpon Moab, saith the Lord.

45 They that are able to flee, shal stand vnder the shadow of Heshon, for there shall goe a fire out of Heshon, and a flame from Sion, and shall burne vp that proud people of Moab, and the top of those seditious children.

46 Woe bee vnto thee, O Moab, thou people of Chamos shalt perish: yea thy sonnes & daughters shalbe led away captiue.

47 Yet at the last will I bring Moab out of captiuitie againe, saith the Lord. Thus farre is of the plague of Moab.

The xlix. Chapter.

1 The word of the Lord against the Ammonites, 7 Against Idumea, 23 Damascus, 28 Cedar, 34 Elam.

AS concerning the Ammonites, thus the Lord saith, Hath Israel no children? or is he without any heire? why hath your King then taken Gad in? Wherefore doth his people dwell in his cities?

2 Behold therefore, the time commeth, saith the Lord, that I will bring a noise of warre into Rabbath of the Ammonites, and it shalbe laied on a desolate heape, and her cities burnt vp, and the Israelites shalbe lords ouer those that had them in possession afore, saith the Lord.

3 Heshon shall mourne, for Ai shalbe rooted out of the ground, saith the Lord, the citie of Rabbath shall crie out, and gird themselues with sackecloth, they shal mourne and run about the walles, for their king shalbe led away prisoner, yea his priests and princes with him.

a The plentifulnesse of the soile, the strong situation of the place, and their great wealth caused the Ammonites like a reckelesse wanton girle, to blaspheme the Lord, to annoy his people, and to be without all feare of enemies.

4 Wherefore gloriest thou in the a valleys? thy valley hath flowed away, O thou rebellious daughter, and thinkest thou that thou art so safe by reason of thy treasure, that no man shal come to thee?

5 Behold, I wil bring a feare vpon thee, saith the Lord God of hostes, from all those that be about thee, so that ye shalbe scattered euery man from another, and no man shall gather them together againe that be fled.

6 But after that, I wil bring the Ammonites also out of captiuity again, saith the Lord.

7 Vpon the Edomites hath the Lord of hosts spoken on this maner, Is there no more wisedome in Theman? Is there no more good counsel among his people? Is their wisedome then turned cleane to nought?

8 Get you hence, turne your backes, creepe downe into the deepe, O yee citizens of Dedan: for I wil bring destruction vpon Esau, yea and the day of his visitation.

Abdi.5. 9 *If the grape gatherers come vpon thee, should they not leaue some grapes? If the night robbers come vpon thee, should they not take so much as they thought were enough?

10 But I will make Esau bare, and discouer his secretes, so that hee shal not be able to hide them: his seede shalbe walled away, yea his brethren and his neighbours, and he himselfe shall not be left behinde.

11 Thou shalt leaue thy fatherlesse children behinde thee, and I wil keepe them, and thy widowes shall take their comfort in me.

12 For thus hath the Lord spoken, Behold, they that men thought were vnmeet to drinke of the cup, haue drunken with the first: and thinkest thou then to be free? No, no, thou shalt neither be quit nor free: but thou must drinke also.

13 For why? I haue sworne by my selfe, saith the Lord, that Bozrah shal become a wildernes, an open shame, a laughing stocke, and curling: and all her cities shalbe a continual desert.

Abdi.1. 14 *For I am perfectly informed of the Lord, that he hath sent a message already vnto the heathen: Gather you together, and go forth against her, make you ready to battel:

15 For loe, I wil make thee but small among the heathen, and little regarded among men.

16 Thy high stomacke, and the pride of thy heart hath deceiued thee, because thou dost dwel in the holes of stonie rockes, and hast the high mountaines in possession: Neuertheless, though thy nest were as high as the Eagles, yet I wil cast thee downe, saith the Lord.

17 Moreouer, Idumea shalbe a wildernesse, who so goeth by it, shalbe abashed, and wonder at all her miserable plagues.

Gen.19.25 18 *Like as Sodome, Gomor, and the cities that lay thereabout were turned vpside downe, saith the Lord: so shal no body dwel in Idumea, and no man shal haue his habitation there.

19 Behold, like as the Lion, so shall a destroyer come vp from the pleasant medowes of Iordane, vnto the strong dwelling place, & when I haue made him quiet, I wil make him to flee from her, and all chosen men wil I set in aray against her: who is like vnto me? what is he that wil striue with me? * what shepheard may stand Iob 41.1. in my hands?

20 Therefore heare the counsel of the Lord that he hath taken vpon Idumea, and his purpose that hee hath deuised vpon the citizens of Theman: the least of the flocke shal traile them, and looke what faire habitation they haue, they shal make it waste, and themselues also.

21 At the noise of their fall the earth shall quake, the crie of their voice shalbe heard vnto the red sea.

22 Behold, the enemie shal come and flee vp hither like as it were an Eagle, and spread his wings vpon Bozrah: then shal the hearts of the worthies in Edom bee as the heart of a woman trauailing of childe.

23 Vpon Damascus, Hemath, and Arphad, shal come confusion: for they shall heare euil tidings, they shalbe tossed to and fro like the sea that cannot stand stil.

24 Damascus shall bee sore afraid, and shall flee: trembling commeth vpon her, sorrow and paine shal ouertake her, as a woman trauailing of childe.

25 But how happeneth it that the famous citie, the citie of my ioy, is not spared?

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Yy4r

26 Her yong men shal fall in the streetes, and all her men of warre shalbe taken away in that time, saith the Lord of hostes.

27 I wil kindle a fire in the wals of Damascus, which shal consume the palace of Benhadad.

28 As for Cedar and the kingdome of Hazor, whom Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon smote, the Lord hath spoken thus vpon them: Arise, and get you vp vnto Cedar, and destroy the people toward the East.

29 Their tents and their flocks shal they take away, yea their hangings and their vessels, their Camels also shall they cary away with them: they shal cry to them, Feare is on euery side.

30 Flee, get you far away, creepe into caues, that ye may dwel there, O ye inhabitants of Hazor, saith the Lord: for Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon hath holden a counsell concerning you, and concluded his deuise against you.

31 Arise, & get you vp against yonder rich and careles people, saith the Lord, which haue neither gates nor doore barres, but dwel alone.

32 Their Camels shall bee a praye, and the droues of their cattel driuen away: Moreouer, those wil I scatter toward all the winds, and to the farthest parts of the world, yea from all the sides thereof wil I bring their destruction, saith the Lord.

33 Hazor also shalbe a dwelling for Dragons, and an euerlasting wildernesse, so that no body shal dwel there, and no man shall haue there his habitation.

34 These are the words that the Lord spake to the Prophet Jeremie cõcerning Elam, in the beginning of the reigne of Zedecias King of Juda.

35 Thus saith the Lord of hostes, Beholde, I wil breake the bowe of Elam, their principall strength.

36 And vpon Elam I will bring the foure windes from the foure quarters of heauen, and wil scatter them against the same foure winds: and there shalbe no people, but some of Elam shal flee vnto them.

37 For I wil cause Elam to be afraid of their enemies, and of them that seeke their liues, and wil bring vpõ them a mischiefe, euen my wrath, saith the Lord: & I wil persecute them with the sword, so long til I haue brought them to nought.

38 I wil set my throne in Elam, I wil destroy both the king and princes from thence, saith the Lord: but in processe of time I will bring Elam out of captiuitie againe, saith the Lord.

The l. Chapter.

He prophesieth the destruction of Babylon, and the deliuerance of Israel, which was in captiuitie.

THe words that the Lord spake vnto the Prophet Jeremie concerning Babylon and the land of the Chaldees:

2 Preach among the Gentiles, let your voice bee heard, make a token, cry out, keepe no silence, but say, Babylon is won, Bel is confounded, and Merodach is ouercome, yea their gods be brought to shame, & their images burst in pieces:

3 For out of the North there doth come a people against her, which shall make her land so waste, that no body shal dwel therein, neither man nor beast, for they shal flee and depart from thence.

4 In those dayes, and at that time, saith the Lord, the children of Israel shal come, they and the children of Juda, weeping & making haste, and shal seeke the Lord their God.

5 They shal aske the way to Sion, thither shal they turne their faces, saying, Come, and we wil cleaue to the Lord in a couenant that neuer shalbe broken.

6 My people haue bene a lost flocke, my shepheards haue deceiued them, & haue made them goe astray vpon the hilles, they haue gone from the mountaine to the little hill, and forgotten their folde.

7 All they that came vpon them, haue deuoured them, and their enemies said, Wee haue made no fault against them, for they haue displeased the Lord, yea, euen the Lord which is the habitation of their righteousnesse, and the hope of their fathers.

8 Flee from Babylon, and depart out of the land of the Chaldees, and bee yee as the rammes that goe before the flocke.

9 For loe, I wil make vp an hoste of people from the Northren lande, and bring them vpon Babylon, these shal lay siege to it, and winne it: their arrowes shall not misse, like as a cunning archer shooteth not wrong.

10 And the Chaldees shalbe spoiled, & all they that spoile them shalbe satisfied, saith the Lord.

11 Although ye were so cheereful and glad to treade downe mine heritage, and fulfilled your pleasures as the Calues in the grasse, and triumphed ouer them like Buls, when yee had gotten the victory, 12 Your mothers shalbe sore confounded, and they that bare you shal come to shame, the shal be the least set by among the nations, bord, waste, and dried vp.

13 No man shalbe able to dwell there for the feare of the Lord, but the shalbe whole desolate: all they that go by Babylon shal stand stil and be abashed, and shal wonder at al her plagues.

14 Goe foorth in your aray against Babylon round about, al ye that can handle bowes, shoot at her, spare no arrowes: for shee hath sinned against the Lord.

15 Cry out against her round about: she hal yeeld her selfe, her foundations shal fal, and her wals shal come downe, for it shalbe the vengeance of the Lord, yea vengeance shalbe taken of her: and as she hath done, so deale ye with her.

16 Root out the sower from Babylon, and him that handleth the sickle in haruest: for feare of the sword of the enemy, euery man shal get him to his owne people, and euery man shal flee to his owne land.

17 Israel is a scattred flocke, the Lions haue dispersed them: * first the King of the Assyrians deuoured them, last of al this Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon hath bruised al their bones. 2. King. 17. 24.

18 Therefore thus saith the Lord of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I wil visit the King of Babylon and his kingdome, as I haue visited the king of the Assyrians.

19 And wil bring Israel againe to his pleasant pasture, that hee may feede vpon Charmel and Basan, and bee satisfied vpon the mount Ephraim and Galaad.

20 In those daies, and at the same time, saith the Lorde, if the offence of Israel bee sought for, there shall none bee found, if men enquire for the sinne of Juda, there shall bee none: for I will be merciſull vnto them whom I ſuffer to remaine.

21 Goe downe, O thou auenger into the enemies land, and viſit them that dwell therein: downe with them, and ſmite them vpon the backs, ſayth the Lord, do according to all that I haue commanded thee.

22 There is gone about the land a crie of a ſlaughter and great murder, namely, on this maner.

23 How happeneth it that the hammer of the whole world is thus broken and bruiſed in ſunder? How chanceth it that Babylon is become a wildernelle among the heathen on this maner?

24 I my ſelfe haue layd a ſnare for thee, and thou art taken vnawares, thou art trapped and ſnared: for why? thou haſt contended againſt the Lord.

25 The Lord hath opened his houſe of ordinance, and brought forth the weapons of his wrath: for the thing that is done in the land of the Chaldees, it is the Lord of hoſts worke.

26 Come againſt her, for this is her ende, breake vp her chefts, threſh her as ye threſh corn, deſtroy her, that nothing ſhalbe left.

27 Slay all their mighty ſouldiers, and put them to death: woe be vnto them, for the day and time of their viſitation is at hand.

28 Mee thinke I heare already a cry of them that be fled and eſcaped out of the land of Babylon, which ſhew in Sion the vengeance of the Lorde our God, the vengeance of his Temple, yea, a voice of them that cry againſt Babylon, 29 Call vp all the archers againſt Babylon, pitch your tents round about her, that none eſcape, and recompenſe her as ſhe hath deſerued, and according as ſhee hath done, ſo deale with her againe: for ſhee hath ſet vp herſelfe againſt the Lord, againſt the holy one of Iſrael.

30 Therefore ſhall her yoong men fall downe in the ſtreets, and all her men of warre ſhall be rooted out in that day, ſayth the Lord.

31 Behold, I ſpeake vnto thee, O thou proud, ſayeth the Lord God of hoſtes, for thy day ſhall come, euen the time of thy viſitation.

32 And the proud ſhall ſtumble and fall, and no man ſhall helpe him vp, I will burne vp his cities with fire, and it ſhall conſume all that is round about him.

33 Thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, The children of Iſrael & Iuda ſuffer violence together, all they that haue them in captiuity keepe them faſt, and will not let them go.

34 But their auenger and redeemer is mightie, whoſe name is, The Lord of hoſts, he ſhall mainteine their cauſe, hee ſhall make the lande ſhake, and iudge them that dwell therein one with another.

35 The ſword ſhall come vpon the Chaldees, ſayth the Lord, vpon them that dwell in Babylon, vpon their princes, and vpon their wiſe men.

36 The ſword vpon their ſoothſayers: as for thoſe, they ſhall become fooles: the ſword vpon their worthies, ſo that they ſhall ſtand in feare.

37 The ſword vpon their horſemen and charets, and vpon all the common people that dwel among them, ſo that they ſhall all become like women: the ſword vpon their treaſure, ſo that it ſhalbe ſtollen away.

38 A drought vpon their waters, ſo that they ſhall be dried vp: for the land worſhippeth images, and delighteth wonderfully in idols.

39 Therefore ſhall wilde beaſts, Lamia, and Cat of mountaines, and Eſtriches dwell therein: for there ſhal neuer man dwell there, neither ſhal any man haue his habitation there for euermore.

40 *Like as God deſtroyed Sodome and Gomor, with the cities that lay thereabout, ſayeth the Lord: ſo ſhall no man dwell there alſo, neither ſhall any man haue there his habitation. Gen. 19.25 eſay. 13.19

41 Behold, there ſhall come a people from the North with a great band of men, & many kings ſhall ſtand vp from the ends of the earth.

42 They beare bowes and bucklers, cruel are they and vnmercifull: their voice roareth like the raging ſea, they ride vpon horſes, and come weaponed to fight againſt thee, O Babylon.

43 Aſſoone as the king of Babylon ſhal heare tell of them, his hands ſhall wax feeble, ſorow and heauineſſe ſhal come vpon him as a woman trauelling with childe.

44 Behold, like as the lion commeth vp from the ſwelling of Iordane, vnto the dennes of Ethan, ſo will I driue them forth, and make them run againſt her: but whom ſhal I chuſe out and ordaine to ſuch a thing? *for who is like me? or who wil ſtriue with me? or what ſhepheard may ſtand againſt me? Iob. 41.1.

45 Therefore heare the counſel that the Lord hath giuen vpon Babylon, and the deuice that hee hath taken vpon the land of the Chaldees, The leaſt among the people ſhal draw them out, and looke what pleaſant houſes they haue, they ſhall lay them waſte.

46 The noiſe at the winning of Babylon ſhal moue the earth, and the cry ſhalbe heard among the Gentiles.

The lj. Chapter.

1 How Babylon ſhould be ouerthrowen. 59 Ieremy giueth his booke to Saraias.

THus hath the Lord ſayd, Behold, I will raiſe vp a perillous winde againſt Babylon and her citizens that beare euill will againſt me.

2 I will ſend alſo into Babylon fanners, to fanne her out, and to deſtroy her land: for in the day of her trouble they ſhall be about her on euery ſide.

3 Moreouer, the Lord will ſay vnto the bowmen, and to them that aduance themſelues in their armour: Ye ſhall not ſpare her yong men, kill downe all her hoſt.

4 Thus the ſlaine ſhall fall downe in the land of the Chaldees, and the wounded in the ſtreets.

5 As for Iſrael and Iuda, they ſhall not be forſaken of their God, of the Lord of hoſts, yea, [a] for the holy one of Iſraels ſake, haue the Chaldees filled their land full of ſinne.

6 Flee away from Babylon, euery man ſaue his life, that yee be not rooted out with her wickednelle: for the time of the Lords vengeance is come, yea, he ſhall reward her againe.

7 Babylon hath beene in the Lords hand a golden cuppe, that maketh all lands drunken: of her wine haue all people drunken, therefore are they out of their wits.

stroyed: mourne for her, bring plaisters for her woundes, if she may peraduenture be healed againe.

9 Wee would haue made Babylon whole, say they: but she is not recouered: therefore will wee let her alone, and goe euery man into his owne countrey: for her iudgement is come into heauen, and is gone vp into the clouds.

b Howsoeuer the Iewes had deserued to be plagued at Gods hand, yet had the Chaldees no cause on their parte why to deale so cruelly with them, and so God declared their righteousnesse in respect to the Chaldees, by punishing them, and deliuering his people.

10 The Lord hath brought forth our b righteousnesse, and therefore come on, we will shew in Sion the worke of the Lord our God.

11 Make sharpe the arrowes, and multiplie your shields: for the Lord shall raise vp the spirit of the king of the Medes, which hath already a desire to destroy Babylon: this shalbe the vengeance of the Lord, & the vengeance of his temple.

12 Set vp tokens vpon the walles of Babylon, make your watch strong, set your watchmen in aray, yea, hold prim watches, and yet for all that shall the Lord go forth with his deuice, which hee hath taken vpon them that dwell in Babylon.

13 O thou that dwellest by the great waters, O thou that hast so great treasure and riches, thine end is come, and the reckoning of thy winnings.

14 *The Lord of hostes hath sworne by himselfe, that he will ouerwhelme thee with men, like grashoppers, in number, which with a courage shall cry Alarme against thee.

Gene. 1.6. psal. 135.6. iere. 10.12.

15 *Yea, euen the Lord of hosts that with his power made the earth, with his wisedome prepared the round world, and with his discretion spred out the heauens.

16 Assoone as he letteth his voice be heard, the waters in the aire ware fierce: hee draweth vp the clouds from the ends of the earth, he turneth the lightnings to raine, hee bringeth the winds out of their secret places.

17 If they be esteemed by their wisedome, all men are become fooles: confounded be all the casters of images, for the thing that they make, is but deceit, and hath no breath.

18 Vaine is it, and an erronious worke, and in the time of visitation it shall perish.

19 The portion of Iacob is none such: but he that made all things, whose name is the Lord of hosts, he is the rod of his inheritance.

c Thou hast bene. This God speaketh vnto Babylon.

20 cThou hast bene mine hammer and weapons for warre: for with thee haue I broken the people in pieces, and with thee haue I destroyed kingdomes.

21 Through thee haue I beaten to powder horse and horsemen, yea, the charets, and such as sate vpon them.

22 Through thee I haue broken man and woman, old and yong, bacheler and maiden.

23 Through thee haue I destroyed the shepheard and his flocke, the husbandman and his cattell, the princes and the rulers.

24 Therefore will I reward the city of Babylon, and all the inhabitants of Chaldea, with all the euil which they had done vnto Sion, yea, that ye your selues shall see it, sayth the Lord.

d Babylon is called an hill, although it stood in a low place, and no hils about it: for that her walles & buildings were so great & high as mountaines.

25 Beholde, I come vnto thee, thou noisome dhill, sayth the Lord, thou that destroyest all lands. I will stretch out my hand ouer thee, and cast thee downe from the stony rocks, and will make thee a burnt hill, 26 So that neither corner stones shall be taken any more out of thee, but waste and desolate shalt thou lie for euermore, sayth the Lord.

27 Set vp a token in the land, blow the trumpets among the heathen, prouoke the nations against her, call the kingdomes of Ararat, Menni, and Ascanez, against her, set the prince against her, bring as great a sort of terrible hostes against her, as if they were grashoppers.

28 Prepare against them the people of the Medes, with their kings, princes, and all their chiefe rulers, yea, and the whole land that is vnder him.

29 The land also shall shake and be afrayed, when the deuice of the Lord shall come forth against Babylon, to make the land of Babylon so waste, that no man shall dwell any more therein.

30 The worthies of Babylon shall leaue the battell, and keepe themselues in strong holdes, their strength hath failed them, they shall be like women, their dwelling places shall be burnt vp, their barres shalbe broken.

31 One pursuiuant shall meet another, yea, one post shall come by another, to bring the king of Babylon tidings that his city is taken on euery side, 32 The foords occupied, the fennes burnt vp, and the souldiers sore afrayd.

33 For thus sayth the Lord of hosts, the God of Israel, eThe daughter of Babylon hath bene in her time like as a threshing floore, but shortly shall her haruest come.

e The complaint of Gods people.

34 Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon hath deuoured and destroyed me, he hath made me an empty vessell, he swallowed me vp like a dragon, and filled his belly with my delicates, he hath cast me out.

35 My substance wherof he hath spoiled me, and the thing that was left me, which he hath caried away, cry out against Babylon, sayth the daughter that dwelleth in Sion, yea, and my blood also against the Chaldees, sayth Hierusalem.

36 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Beholde, I will defend thy cause, and auenge thee, I will drinke vp her Sea, and drie vp her water springs.

37 Babylon shall become an heape of stones, a dwelling place for dragons, a fearefulnesse and woondring, and no man shall dwell there.

38 They shall roare together like lions, and as the yoong lions when they be angry, so shall they bend themselues.

39 In their heat I will giue them a dinner, and they shall be drunken for ioy: then shall they sleepe an euerlasting sleepe, and neuer wake, sayeth the Lord.

40 I will carry them downe to be slaine like sheepe, like weathers and goats.

41 O how was Sesach woon? O how was the glory of the whole land taken? how happeneth it that Babylon is so wondred at among the heathen?

42 The sea is risen ouer Babylon, and hath couered her with her great waues.

43 Her cities are layed waste, the land lieth vnbuilded and void, it is a land where no man dwelleth, and where no man trauelleth.

44 Moreouer, I will visit Bel at Babylon, and the thing that he hath swallowed vp, that same shall I plucke out of his mouth: the Gentiles also shall runne no more vnto him, yea, and the walles of Babylon shall fall.

45 O my people, come out of Babylon, that euery man may saue his life from the fearefull wrath of the Lord.

46 Be not faint hearted, and feare not at euery rumour that shalbe heard in the land: for euery yere bringeth new tidings, and in the yere following new tidings, and robbing in the land, and lord vpon lord.

47 And loe, the time commeth, that I will visit the images of Babylon, and the whole land shalbe confounded, yea, and her slaine shall lie in the midst of her.

48 Heauen and earth with all that is therein shall reioyce ouer Babylon, when the destroyers shall come vpon her from the North, sayeth the Lord.

49 Like as Babylon hath beaten downe and slaine many out of Israel, so shall there fall many, and be slaine in all her kingdome.

50 Ye that haue escaped the sword, haste you, stand not still, remember the Lord afarre off, and thinke vpon Hierusalem.

51 For wee are ashamed to heare the blasphemies, our faces were couered with shame, because the strange aliants came into the sanctuary of the Lord.

52 Wherefore behold, saith the Lord, the time commeth that I will visit the images of Babylon, & thorow the whole land they shall mourne and fall.

53 Though Babylon climed vp into heauen, and kept her power on high, yet shall I send her destroyers, sayth the Lord.

54 A piteous cry shall be heard from Babylon, and a great miserie from the land of the Chaldees,

55 When the Lord destroyeth Babylon, and when he driueth out the hie stomache and proud boasting, wherewith they haue bene as furious as the waues of the great water floods, & made great crakes with their words.

56 For the destroyer shall come vpon her, euen vpon Babylon, which shall take their worthies, and breake their bowes: for the God of recompense, euen the Lorde shall sufficiently recompense them, 57 Yea, sayth the Lord, I will make their princes, their wise men, their chiefe rulers, their nobles, and their woorthies drunken, so that they shall sleepe an euerlasting sleepe, & neuer wake: thus sayeth the king, whose name is The Lord of hosts.

58 Moreouer, thus sayth the Lord of hosts, The thicke wall of Babylon shall be broken, and her hie gates shalbe burnt vp, and the thing that the Gentiles and the people haue wrought with great trauell and labour, shall come to nought, and be consumed with fire.

59 This is the charge that Ieremy the Prophet gaue vnto Saraiah the sonne of Neriah the sonne of Maasiah, when hee went toward Babylon with Zedecias the king of Iuda, in the fourth yeere of his reigne: nowe this Saraiah was a peaceable prince.

60 Ieremie wrote in a booke all the miserie that should come vpon Babylon, yea, & all these sermons that be written against Babylon,

61 And gaue Saraiah this charge, When thou comnest vnto Babylon, see that thou read these words, 62 And say, O Lord, thou art determined to root out this place, so that neither people nor cattell shall dwell there any more, but to lie waste for euer.

63 And when thou hast read out the booke, binde a stone to it, and cast it in the midst of Euphrates, 64 And say, Euen thus shall Babylon sinke, and be thrust downe with the burden of trouble that I will bring vpon her: so that shee shall neuer come vp againe. Thus farre are the preachings of Ieremie.

The lij. Chapter.

1 He repeateth the taking of Zedecias. 4 Hierusalem is taken of the Chaldees. 14 The Temple is spoiled and robbed.

ZEdecias * was one and twentie yeres old when he was made king, and reigned eleuen yeeres in Hierusalem: his mothers name was Hamutal, Ieremies daughter of Libna. 4.King.24. 17.2.chro. 36,11.

2 He liued wickedly before the Lord, euen as Iehoacim did.

3 For the Lord was angrie at Hierusalem and Iuda, so long till he had cast them out of his presence: and Zedecias fell from the king of Babylon.

4 *But in the ninth yeere of his reigne, in the tenth moneth, the tenth day of the moneth, it happened that Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon with all his host came before Hierusalem, and besieged it, and made bulwarks round about it. 3.Kin.25,1 iere,9.13.

5 And this besieging of the city endured vnto the eleuenth yere of king Zedecias.

6 And in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, there was a great hunger in the citie, that there were no more victuals for the people of the land.

7 So all the souldiers brake away, and fled out of the citie by night, thorow the way of the port, betweene the two walles, by the kings garden: (Now the Chaldees had compassed the city round about) yet went those men their way thorow the wilderneſſe.

8 And so the Chaldees followed vpon them, and tooke Zedecias the king in the field of Iericho, when his host was run from him.

9 So they carried the king away prisoner to Reblath, vnto the king of Babylon in the land of Hemath, where he gaue iudgement vpon him.

10 The king of Babylon also caused Zedecias sonnes to be slaine before his face, yea, and put all the princes of Iuda to death at Reblath.

11 Moreouer, he put out the eyes of Zedecias, & caused him to be bound with two chaines, to be caried vnto Babylon, and let him lie in prison till he died.

12 Now the tenth day of the fifth moneth, in the nineteenth yere of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine, and the king of Babylons seruants, came vnto Hierusalem, 13 And burnt vp the house of the Lord: he burnt vp also the kings palace, all the houses, and all the gorgeous buildings in Hierusalem.

14 And the whole host of the Chaldees that were with the chiefe captaine, brake downe all the walles of Hierusalem round about.

15 As for the poore people, and such folke as was yet left in the city, which also were fallen to the king of Babylon, yea, and what people as yet remained, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine caried them away prisoners.
16 But the poore people of the countrey did Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine leaue in the land, to occupy the vineyards and the fields.
17 The Chaldees also brake the brasen pillars that were in the house of the Lord, yea, the seat and the brasen lauer that was in the house of the Lorde, and carried all the mettall of them vnto Babylon.
18 They tooke away also the caldrons, shouels, fleshhookes, sprinklers, spoones, and all the brasen vessels that were occupied in the seruice, 19 With the basons, colepannes, sprinklers, pots, candlesticks, spoones, and cups, whereof some were of golde, and some of siluer.
20 The chiefe captaine tooke also the two pillars, the lauer, the twelue brasen bullocks that stood vnder the seat which king Solomon had made in the house of the Lord: and all the vessels conteined so much mettall, that it might not be weighed.
21 For euery pillar was eighteene cubits hie, and the rope that went about it was twelue cubits, and foure fingers thicke, and round.
22 Nowe vpon the rope were brasen knops, and euery knop was fiue cubits high, and vpon the knops were hoops, and pomegranats round about of cleane brasse.
23 After this maner were both the pillars fashioned with the pomegranates, whereof there were an hundred ninety and fiue, which hanged vpon the hoopes round about.
24 The chiefe captaine also tooke Saraiah the hie Priest, and Sophoniah that was chiefe next him, and the three keepers of the doore.
25 Hee tooke out of the city a chamberlaine, which was captaine of the souldiers, and seuen men that were the kings seruants, which were found in the citie: and Sopher a captaine that vsed to muster the men of warre, with three score men of the countrey, that were taken in the citie:
26 These Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine tooke, and carried them to the king of Babylon, vnto Reblath:
27 And the king of Babylon caused them to be put to death at Reblath in the lande of Hemath: and thus Iuda was led away captiue out of his owne land.
28 This is the sum of the people whom Nabuchodonosor led away captiue: In the seuenth yere of his reigne, he caried away of the Iewes, three thousand twenty and three.
29 In the eighteenth yere, Nabuchodonosor carried away from Hierusalem, eight hundred thirty and two persons.
30 In the three and twentieth yere of Nabuchodonosor, Nabuzaradan the chiefe captaine tooke away seuen hundred forty and fiue Iewes prisoners. The whole summe of the prisoners is foure thousand and sixe hundred.
31 In the thirtie and seuenth yere after that Iehoiacim the king of Iuda was carried away, in the fiue and twentieth day of the twelfth moneth, Euilmerodach king of Babylon (the same yeere that he reigned) gaue Iehoiacim the king of Iuda his pardon, and let him out of prison, 32 And spake louingly to him, and set his throne aboue the thrones of the other kings that were with him in Babylon.
33 He changed also the clothes of his prison, yea, and did eat with him all his life long.
34 And he had a continuall liuing giuen him of the king of Babylon, euery day a certaine thing allowed him, all the dayes of his life, vntill he died.

The end of the booke of the Prophet Ieremie.

The Lamentations of the Prophet Ieremie.

The first Chapter.

It happened after Israel was brought into captiuitie, and Hierusalem destroyed, that Ieremie the Prophet sate weeping, and sorowfully bewailed Hierusalem, and sighing and howling with an heauie and wofull heart, sayd.

ALas, how sitteth the citie so desolate, that sometime was full of people? How is shee become like a widow, which was great among nations? How is shee brought vnder tribute, that ruled lands?
Iere.13.17. 2 *She weepeth sore in the night, so that the teares runne downe her cheeks: for among all her louers, there is none that giueth her any comfort, yea, her next friends transgresse against her, and are become her enemies.
3 Iuda went away by reason of the affliction and great bondage: she dwelleth among the heathen, she findeth no rest, all they that persecute her, took her in strait places, where she could not escape.
4 The streets of Sion mourne, because no man commeth no more to the solemne feasts: all her gates are desolate, her priests make lamentation, her maidens are carefull, and she herselfe in great heauinesse.
5 Her enemies haue beene rulers ouer her, and her enemies haue prospered, because the

fol. Yy6v

Lord hath chastened her for her great wickednesse: her children are led away captiue before their enemies.

6 All the beauty of the daughter of Sion is away, her princes are become like harts that finde no pasture, they are driuen away before their enemy, so that they haue no more power.

7 Now Hierusalem remembred in the time of her misery and bare estate, all her ioy and pleasure that thee hath had in times past, seeing her people is brought downe vnder the power of their enemies, and there is no man for to helpe her: her enemies stand looking at her, & laugh her Sabboth dayes to scorne.

8 Hierusalem hath sinned grieuously, therefore is she come in decay: all they that had her in honour, despise her, for they haue seene her filthinesse, yea, she sigheth, and is ‖ ashamed of herselfe.

‖ Or, and is turned backward.

9 Her shirts are defiled, she remembred not her last end, therefore is her fall so woonderfull, and there is no man to comfort her: O Lord consider my trouble, for mine enemy hath the vpper hand.

10 The enemy hath put his hand to all the precious things that he had, yea, euē before her eyes came the heathen in and out of the sanctuary, whom thou neuertheless hast forbidden to come within thy congregation.

11 All her people seeke their bread with heauinesse, and looke what precious thing euery man hath, that giueth hee for meat to saue his life: consider, O Lord, and see how vile I am become.

12 Haue ye not regard all ye that goe forby, behold, and see if there be any sorow like vnto mine, wherewith the Lord hath troubled me in the day of his fearefull wrath.

13 From aboue hath he sent downe a fire into my bones, and it burneth them cruelly: hee hath laid a net for my feet, and thrown me wide open, he hath made me desolate, so that I must euer be mourning.

a The bondage through sinne is most grieuous, which therefore is called the yoke of sinne: fastened in or to Gods hand, because by no meanes it can be shaken off or remitted, but onely of Gods speciall grace and mercy.

14 The a yoke of my transgressions is bound fast to his hand, they are wrapped or wreathen, and come vp about my necke: he hath caused my strength to faile, the Lord hath deliuered me into those hands wherout I can not quit my selfe.

15 The Lord hath destroyed all the mightie men that were in me, he hath proclaimed an appointed time to slaughter all my best men: the Lord hath troden downe the daughter of Iuda, like as it were in a wine presse.

16 *Therefore doe I weepe, and mine eyes gush out of water: for the comfort that should quicken me, is farre from mee: my children are driuen away, for why? the enemy hath gotten the vpper hand.

Iere. 14. 17

17 Sion casteth out her handes, and there is no man to comfort her: the Lord hath layed the enemies round about Jacob, and Hierusalem is become abomination in the midst of them.

18 The Lord is righteous, for I haue prouoked his countenance vnto anger: O take heed all yee people, and consider my heauinesse, my maidens and my yoong men are led away into captiuity.

19 I called for my louers, but they beguiled me, for my priests and counsellers, but they perished, euen while they sought for meat to saue their liues.

20 Consider (O Lorde) how I am troubled, my wombe is disquieted, my heart turneth about in me, and I am full of heauinesse, because I rebelled stubburnly: the sword hurteth mee without, and within I am like vnto death.

21 They heare my mourning, but there is none that will comfort mee: all mine enemies haue heard of my trouble, and are glad thereof, because thou hast done it, and thou hast brought forth the time which thou calledst, when they also shalbe like vnto me.

22 Let all their wickednesse come before thee, and doe thou to them as thou hast done vnto me for all my trespasses: for my sorow is very great, and my heart is heauy.

The ij. Chapter.

ALas, howe hath the Lorde darkened the daughter of Sion in his wrath? as for the honor of Israel, he hath cast it downe from heauen vnto the earth, and he remembred not his owne a foote stoole when he was angry.

a By the foote stoole is meant the temple of Hierusalem.

2 The Lorde hath cast out all the habitations of Jacob without any fauour. all the strong places of the daughter of Juda hath he broken downe in his wrath, and throwen them downe to the ground, her kingdome and her princes hath he prolaned.

3 In the wrath of his indignation he hath broken all the b horne of Israel, he hath withdrawen his right hand from the enemy, yea, a flame of fire is kindled in Jacob, and hath consumed vp all round about.

b By the horn, is meant the power or strength.

4 He hath bent his bowe like an enemy, he hath fastened his right hand like an aduersarie, and euery thing that was pleasant to see, hee hath slaine: he hath powred out his wrath like a fire into the Tabernacle of the daughter of Sion.

5 The Lord is become like as it were an enemy, he hath deuoured Israel and all his palaces, yea, all his strong holds hath he destroyed, and filled the daughter of Juda with much sorow and heauinesse.

6 His Tabernacle as a garden hath he destroyed, his solemne meetings hath hee put downe, the Lord hath brought it so to passe, that the high solemne feasts and Sabboths in Sion are cleane forgotten: in his heauy displeasure hath he despised the king and priests.

7 The Lord hath forsaken his owne altar, and hath abhorred his owne sanctuary, & hath giuen the walles of their towers into the hands of their enemy: their enemies made a noise in the house of the Lord, as it had bene a solemne feast day.

8 The Lord thought to breake downe the walles of the daughter of Sion, hee spread out his line, and drew not in his hand till he had destroyed them: therfore mourne the turrets, and the broken walles fall downe together.

9 Her gates are sunke downe to the ground, her barres are broken and smitten in sunder, her king and princes are caried away to the Gentiles: they haue not the lawe, neither her prophets haue any vision from the Lord.

10 The Senatours of the daughter Sion sit vpon the ground in silence, they haue strawed ashes vpon their heads, and girded themselues with sackecloth, the maidens of Hierusalem hang hang downe their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes do faile through weeping, my bowels doe swell, my liuer is powred vpon the earth, for the great hurt of the daughter of my people, seeing the children and babes did swoon in the streets of the city.

12 They haue sayd to their mothers, Where is ‖ bread and drinke? when they fell downe as wounded in the streets of the city, and when they died in their mothers bosome.

13 What shall I take to witnesse against thee, or what shall I liken to thee, O daughter Hierusalem? To whom shall I compare thee, O thou daughter Sion, to comfort thee withall? thy heart is like a maine sea, who may heale thee?

14 Thy * prophets haue looked out vaine and foolish things for thee, they haue not shewed thee of thy wickednesse, to keepe thee from captiuity: but they haue seene out for thee ‖ burdens of vanity and banishment.

15 All they that goe by the way, clap their hands at thee, hissing and wagging their heads vpon the daughter of Hierusalem, and say, Is this the city that men call so faire, and the ioy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies gape vpō thee, they hisse and grinde their teeth, saying, Let vs deuoure, for the time that we looked for is come, we haue found and seene it.

17 The Lord hath fulfilled the thing that he was purposed to doe, and performed his word that he had ‖ deuised long ago: he hath destroyed and not spared, he hath caused thine aduersary to triumph ouer thee, & set vp the horne of thine enemy.

18 * Their heart cried vnto the Lord, O thou ‖ city of the daughter Sion, let thy teares runne downe like a riuer day and night, rest not, and let not the apple of thine eye leaue off.

19 Stand vp, cry in the night in the beginning of the watch, powre out thine heart like water before the Lord: lift vp thine hands towards him, for the liues of thy young children that die of hunger in the streets.

20 Behold, O Lord, and consider to whom thou hast done thus: shall the women then eat their owne fruit, euen children of a span long? shall the priests and prophets be slaine in the sanctuary of the Lord?

21 Young and olde lie thorow the streets vpon the ground, my maidens and young men are slaine with the sword, whom thou in the day of thy wrathful indignation hast put to death, yea, euen thou hast put them to death, and not spared them.

22 My ‖ terrours that are round about me, hast thou called as it were to a feast day, so that in the day of the Lords wrath none escaped, neither was any left behinde: those that I haue brought vp and nourished, hath mine enemy destroyed.

The iij. Chapter.

I Am the man that through the rod of his wrath haue experience of misery.

2 He droue me forth, and led me, yea, into darknesse, but not into light.

3 Surely against me is he turned, hee turneth his hand dayly against me.

4 My flesh and my skin hath he made olde, and my bones hath he bruised.

5 He hath builded against me, and closed me in with gall and trauell.

6 He hath set me in darknesse, as they that be dead for euer.

7 He hath hedged me in, that I can not get out, and he hath layd heauy links vpon me.

8 Though I cry and call piteously, yet heareth he not my prayer.

9 He hath stopped vp my wayes with squared stones, and made my paths crooked.

10 He layeth wait for mee like a beare, and as a lion in a hole.

11 He hath marred my wayes, and broken me in pieces, he hath layed me waste.

12 He hath bent his bowe, and made me as it were a marke to ‖ shoot at.

13 The arrowes of his quiuer hath hee shot, euen into my reines.

14 I am laughed to scorne of all my people, they make songs vpon me all the day long.

15 He hath filled me with bitternesse, & made me drunken with wormwood.

16 Hee hath smitten my teeth in pieces with stones, and rouled me in the dust.

17 My soule departed from peace: I forgat all good things.

18 And I sayd, My strength and my hope is perished from the Lord.

19 O remember yet my misery and my trouble, the wormwood, and the gall.

20 Yea, in remembring my soule doth still remember them, and it is humbled within me.

21 I consider these things in my heart, and I get hope againe.

22 Namely, it is of the Lords mercies that we are not vtterly consumed, for truely his pitifull compassion hath not ceased.

23 Newe mercies shall the Lord shewe vpon thee early in the day springing, (O Lord) great is thy faithfulnesse.

24 The Lord is my portion, sayth my soule, therefore will I hope in him.

25 O howe good is the Lord vnto them that put their trust in him, and to the soule that seeketh after him?

26 The good man with stilnesse and patience tarieth for the health of the Lord.

27 Good it is for a man to take the yoke vpon him from his youth vp.

28 He sitteth alone, he holdeth him still, because he hath taken the Lords yoke vpon him.

29 He layeth ‖ his face vpon the earth, if there happen to be any hope.

30 He offereth his cheeke to the smiter, he will be content with reproches.

31 For the Lord will not forsake for euer.

32 But though hee punish, yet according to the multitude of his mercies hee receiueth to grace againe.

33 For hee doth not plague willingly, nor afflict the children of men,

34 To tread all the prisoners of the earth vnder his feet,

35 To decline the iudgement of man before the most high,

36 To condemne a man in his cause: ‡ the Lord hath no pleasure in such things.

37 What is he then that saith, and it commeth

* The false prophets spake vpon them the name of Gods, which was proper to the true prophets: but their vain burdens, that is their false prophecies brought the people vnder the grieuous burden of affliction and banishment.

‖ Or, vaine prophesies.

‖ Or, commanded.

Iere. 14. 17

to passe, and the Lord commanded it not?

Amos 3.6. 38 *Out of the mouth of the most high, goeth not euill and good?

39 Wherefore then mourneth the liuing man? let him mourne for his owne sinne.

40 Let vs looke well vpon our wayes, and remember our selues, and turne againe to the Lord.

41 Let vs lift our hearts with our hands vnto God that is in the heauens.

42 We haue sinned and rebelled, therfore hast thou not spared.

43 Thou hast couered vs in thy wrath, and persecuted vs: thou hast slaine without any fauour.

44 Thou hast hid thy selfe in a cloud, that our prayers should not go thorow.

45 Thou hast made vs as the offscowring and refuse in the midst of the people.

46 All our enemies gape vpon vs.

47 Feare and a snare is come vpon vs, yea, desolation and destruction.

48 Whole riuers of water gush out of mine eyes, for the hurt of the daughter of my people.

49 Mine eye runneth, and can not cease, for there is no rest,

50 Till the Lord looke downe from heauen, and consider.

51 Mine eyes breake my heart, because of all the daughters of my city.

52 Mine enemies hunted me out sharply like a bird, yea, and that without a cause.

53 They haue shut vp my life in a dungeon, and cast stones vpon me.

54 The waters flowed ouer my head: then thought I, Now am I vndone.

55 I called vpon thy name, O Lorde, out of the deepe pit.

56 Thou hast heard my voice, withdraw not thine eare from my sighing and crying.

57 Thou drewest nigh vnto mee when I called vpon thee: and hast sayd, Feare not.

58 Thou (O Lord) hast maintained the cause of my soule, and hast redeemed my life.

59 O Lord, thou hast seene my wrong, take thou my cause vpon thee.

60 Thou hast seene all their vengeance, and all their deuices against me.

61 Thou hast heard their despightful words, O Lord, yea, and all their imaginations against mee:

62 The lips of them that rise against me, and their deuices that they take against me all the day long.

63 Beholde also their sitting downe and their rising vp, how I am their song.

64 Reward them, O Lord, according to the works of their hands.

‖Or, sorow of heart. 65 Giue them ‖ an obstinate heart, euen thy curse.

66 Persecute them, O Lord, with thine indignation, and root them out from vnder the heauen.

The iiij. Chapter.

HOw is the gold become so dimme: and the most fine golde so changed? and the stones of the Sanctuarie are scattered in the corner of euerie street.

2 The children of Sion that were alway in honour, and ‖ clothed with the most precious golde: howe are they now become like earthen vessels, the worke of the potters hand?

‖Or, compared to.

3 The dragons giue their yoong ones suche with bare breasts, but the daughter of my people is cruell, like the estriches in the wildernesse.

4 The tongues of the sucking children cleaue to the roofe of their mouthes for very thirst: the yoong children aske bread, but there is no man that giueth it them.

5 They that were woont to fare delicately, perish in the streets: they that afore were brought vp in purple, make now much of doung.

6 The sinne of the daughter of my people is become greater then the [a] wickednesse of Sodom, * that suddenly was destroyed, and not ‖ taken with hands.

‖Or, reproch.

[a] The grieuousnesse of the punishment shewed their sinnes to exceed the sinnes of the Sodomites. The Sodomites were suddenly consumed with fire, but the Iewes were miserably tormented with hunger, pestilence, and the sword, in a long and cruell siege. Gene. 19.

7 Her ‖ abstemers were whiter then the snow or milke, their colour was fresh, redde as corall, their beauty like the saphire.

‖Or, Nazarees. 8 But nowe their faces be very blacke, insomuch that thou shouldest not know them in the streets: their skin cleaueth to their bones, it is withered, and become like a dry stocke.

9 They that be slaine with the sword, are happier then such as die of hunger, for these perish away as they were stricken thorow for the lacke of the fruits of the field.

10 The women which of nature are pitifull, haue sodden their owne children with their hands, that they might be their meat in the miserable destruction of the daughter of my people.

11 The Lorde hath performed his heauie wrath, he hath powred out the furiousnesse of his displeasure: hee hath kindled a fire in Sion, which hath consumed the foundations thereof.

12 Neither the kings of the earth, nor all the inhabiters of the world would haue beleeued that the enemy and aduersary should haue come in at the gates of Hierusalem.

13 Which neuertheless is come to passe for the sinne of her prophets, and for the wickednesse of her priests, that haue shed innocent blood in the midst of her.

14 As blinde men went they stumbling in the streets, and stained themselues with blood, so that the heathen would not touch their garments.

15 But they cried vnto them, Flee ye polluted, away, get you hence, touch not: for they are vncleane, and be remooued, yea, they haue sayd among the heathen, They shall no more dwell there.

‖Or, the wrath. 16 The ‖ countenance of the Lord hath banished them, and shal neuer looke more vpon them: for they themselues neither ‖ regarded the priests, nor pitied their elders.

‖Or, reuerenced. 17 Wherefore our eyes failed vs, whilest wee yet looked for our vaine helpe, seeing wee euer waited vpon a people that could doe vs no good.

The end of the Lamentations of Ieremie.

The Prophesie of Ezechiel.

The first Chapter.

1 The time wherein Ezechiel prophesied, & in what place. 3 His kinred. 5 The vision of the foure beasts. 16 The fashion and worke of the wheeles. 26 The vision of the throne.

IT came to passe in the a thirtieth yere, in the fourth moneth, in the fifth day of the moneth, that I being in the midst of the captiuitie, by the riuer Chebar, the heauens were opened, and I saw visions of God:
a After the Iubile, in which yeere the booke of the law was found, which was the 18 yeere of Iosias, for but 25 yeeres after this booke was found, Iechonias was led away captiue with Ezechiel (and many of the people) who the fift yeere after, saw these visions.
2 In the fifth day of the moneth, which was the fifth yere of king Joachins captiuity,
3 The word of the Lord came to Ezechiel the Prophet, the sonne of Buzi, in the land of the Chaldeans by the riuer Chebar, where the hand of the Lord was vpon him.
4 And I looked, and behold, a stormy winde came out of the North, a great cloud, and a fire folding it selfe in the cloud, & a brightnesse round about it, and forth of the midst thereof as the colour of amber out of the midst of the fire.
5 And out of the midst thereof, the likenesse of foure b beasts appeared, and this was their appearance: They had the likenesse of a man.

6 And euery one had foure faces, and euery one of them had foure wings.
7 Their feet were straight feet, and the sole of their feet like the sole of calues feet, and they glittered as the appearance of burnished brasse.
8 From vnder their wings vpon all the foure ‖ corners they had mens hands: and they foure had their faces and their wings.
‖Or, quarters.
9 Their wings were ioyned one to another: when they went, they looked not backe, but euery one went straight forward.
10 But touching the similitude of their faces, they foure had the c face of a man, and the face of a lion on the right side, and they foure had the face of an ore on the left side, they foure also had the face of an eagle.
c Euery Cherub had foure faces, the face of a man and of a lion on the right side, and the face of a bullocke and of an egle on the left side.
11 Thus were their faces: and their wings were spread out aboue, so that two wings of euery one were ioyned one to another, & two wings couered euery one of their bodies.
12 Euery one went straight forward: d whither the spirit led them, thither they went, and returned not in their going.
d Whither their will or minde was to goe.
13 And the fashion of the beasts, their appearance was like coales of fire, burning like the appearance of firebrands among the beasts, and the fire gaue a glister, and out of the fire there went lightning.

14 And the beasts ranne, and returned like lightning.

15 When I had considered the beasts, behold, a wheele vpon the earth nigh to the beasts, to ‖euery of the foure before his face.

16 The fashion and worke of the wheeles was like the colour of c Tharsis, and the foure had one fashion, and their fashion and their worke was as though it were a wheele in the middle of a wheele.

17 When they went, they went vpon their foure sides: they turned not when they went.

18 They had rings, and height, and were fearefull to behold: and their rings were full of eyes round about them foure.

19 When the beasts went, the wheeles went also by them: and when the beasts were lift vp from the earth, the wheeles were lift vp.

20 Whithersoeuer the spirit was to goe, they went, and thither was the spirit of the wheeles to go, and the wheeles were lift vp before them: for the spirit of the beasts was in the wheeles.

21 When the beasts went, they went, & when they stood, they stood, and when they were lifted vp from the earth, the wheeles were lifted vp before them: for the spirit of the beasts was in the wheeles.

22 And the similitude of the firmament vpon the heads of the beasts, was like the colour of chrystall, wonderfull, spread ouer their heads aboue.

23 And vnder the firmament their wings were straight forth, one toward another, euery one had two couering them, and e euery one had two couering them, euen their bodies.

24 And when they went, I heard the noise of their wings, like the noise of many waters, as the voice of the almighty, the voice of speech, as the noise of an host: when they stood, they let downe their wings.

25 And there was a voice from the firmament, that was ouer their heads, when they stood, and had let downe their wings.

26 And aboue the firmament that was ouer their heads, there was the fashion of a throne, like a Sapphire stone: and vpon the similitude of the throne, by appearance, as the similitude of a man aboue vpon it.

27 And I sawe as the appearance of amber and as the similitude of fire round about within, and from the appearance of his loines vpward: and from the appearance of his loines downeward, I saw as the likenesse of fire, and brightnesse round about it.

28 As the likenesse of a bow that is in a cloud in the day of raine, so was the appearance of the brightnesse round about: this was the appearance of the similitude of the glory of the Lorde, and when I saw it, I h fell vpon my face, & heard ‖ one ‖ that spake.

The ij. Chapter.

The Prophet is sent to call the people from their errour.

And he said vnto me, Stand vp vpon thy feet (O thou sonne of man) and I will talke with thee.

And the spirit entred into me when he had spoken vnto me, and set mee vpon my feet, so that I heard him that spake vnto me.

3 And he said vnto me, Thou sonne of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious people, which haue rebelled against mee, both they and their forefathers haue wickedly behaued themselues against me, euen vnto this very day.

4 For they are children of a ‖ hard face, and stiffe heart, I doe send thee vnto them, and thou shalt say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God.

5 And whether they will heare or refuse (for they are a rebellious house) yet they shall know that there hath bene a Prophet among them.

6 And thou sonne of man feare them not, neither be afrayd of their words, for briers and thornes are with thee, and thou doest dwell among scorpions: feare not their words, nor be abashed at their lookes, for they are a rebellious house.

7 And thou shalt speake my words vnto them, whether they will heare or refuse, for they are rebellious.

8 Therefore thou sonne of man, ‖ obey thou all things that I say vnto thee, and be not thou rebellious like the rebellious house: open thy mouth, and a eat that I giue thee.

9 And I looked, and behold, a hand was sent vnto me, and loe, in it was a roule of a booke,

10 And he opened it before me, and it was written within and without, and there was written therein b lamentations, and mourning, and woe.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The Prophet being fed with the word of God, and with the constant boldnesse of the spirit, is sent vnto the people that were in captiuitie. 17 The office of true preachers.

After this sayd he vnto me, Thou sonne of man, eat whatsoeuer thou findest, eat this roule, and goe thy way, and speake vnto the house of Israel.

2 So I opened my mouth, and he fedde me with this roule.

3 And he said vnto me, Thou sonne of man, thy belly shall eat, and thy bowels shalt thou fill with this roule that I giue thee: then did I eat, and it was in my mouth as sweet as hony.

4 And he said vnto me, Thou sonne of man, go, get thee vnto the house of Israel, and declare my words vnto them.

5 For not to a people of ‡ profound lips and hard language art thou sent, but vnto the house of Israel.

Not to many nations of a strange speech and hard languages, whose words thou vnderstandest not: certainely if I had sent thee vnto them, they would haue hearkened vnto thee.

7 But the house of Israel will not hearken vnto thee, for they will not hearken vnto mee: For all the house of Israel haue stiffe foreheads, and stubburne hearts.

8 Beholde therefore, I haue made thy face strong against their faces, & thy forehead strong against their foreheads.

11 And goe, get thee to the captiuitie, to the children of thy people, and thou shalt speake vnto them, and shalt say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God: but surely they will not heare, neither will they leaue off.

12 With that the spirit tooke mee vp, and I heard behind me a voice of a great rushing, Blessed be the glory of Iehouah from his place.

13 I heard also the noise of the wings of the beasts ioining one with another, and the rushing of the wheeles that were before them, euen a noise of great rushing.

14 Now when the spirit lift me vp and tooke me away, I went in bitternesse and fury of my spirit: but the hand of the Lord vpon mee was strong.

15 Then I came to the captiues in Thelabib that dwelt by the riuer Chebar, and I sate where they sate, and I remained there seuen daies astonished among them.

16 And when the seuen dayes were expired, the Lord sayd vnto me,

18 When I shall say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die, & thou giuest not him warning, nor speakest to admonish the wicked of his euill way, and to liue: then shal the same vngodly man die in his owne vnrighteousnes, but his blood will I require of thine hand.

20 Againe, if a righteous man turne from his righteousnesse, and do the thing that is euil, I will lay a stumbling blocke before him: and he shal die, because thou hast not giuen him warning, die shall hee in his owne sinne, so that his righteousnesse which hee hath done shal not bee thought vpon: but his blood will I require at thine hand.

21 Neuertheless, if thou admonish that righteous man, that the righteous sinne not, and he the righteous doe not sinne: then shall he liue, because he hath receiued thy warning, and thou hast deliuered thy soule.

22 And the hand of the Lord was there vpon me, and he sayd vnto me, ‖ Stand vp, and go into the field, that I may there talke with thee.

23 Then I had risen vp, and gone forth into the field, behold, the a glory of the Lord stood there, * like the glory which I saw by the riuer Chebar: then fell I downe vpon my face.

24 And the spirit came into me, which set me vp vpon my feete, and spake vnto me, and sayd vnto me, ‖ Goe thy way, and shut thy selfe in thy house.

25 Behold, O thou sonne of man, ‖ they haue prepared bonds against thee, and they will bind thee with them, and thou shalt not goe out among them.

26 And I will make thy tongue b cleaue to the roofe of thy mouth, that thou shalt be dumb, and not be ag a reprouer vnto them: for they are a rebellious house.

27 But when I speake vnto thee, I wil open thy mouth, and thou shalt say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, who so heareth, let him heare, who so leaueth off, let him leaue: for they are a rebellious house.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 The siege of the citie of Hierusalem is signified. 9 The long continuance of the captiuity of Israel. 16 A hunger is prophesied to come in the captiuitie.

THou sonne of man, take thee a tile stone, and lay it before thee, and purtray vpon it the citie of Hierusalem,

2 And lay siege against it, and build a fort against it, and cast a mount against it: set the campe also against it, and lay engines of warre against it round about.

3 Moreouer, take an iron pan, and set it for a wall of iron between thee and the citie: and set thy face toward it, and it shall be besieged, and thou shalt lay siege against it: this shall bee a token vnto the house of Israel.

4 But thou shalt sleepe vpon thy left side, and lay the iniquitie of the house of Israel vpon it: according to the number of the dayes that thou shalt sleepe vpon it, thou shalt beare their iniquitie.

5 For I haue layed vpon thee the yeeres of their iniquitie, according to the number of the dayes, euen three hundred and ninetie ‡ dayes, so shalt thou beare the iniquitie of the house of Israel.

6 And when thou hast fulfilled these dayes, lie downe againe, and sleepe vpon thy b right side, and beare the iniquitie of the house of Iuda: fourtie dayes haue I appointed thee, a day for a yere, euen a day for a yere.

7 Therefore set now thy face vnto the siege of Hierusalem, and discouer thine arme, and thou shalt prophesie against it.

8 Behold, I will lay ‖ chaines vpon thee, that thou shalt not turne thee from one side to another, till thou hast ended the dayes of thy besieging.

9 Wherefore take vnto thee wheate, barley, beanes, lentils, millet, and fitches, and put them together in a vessell, and make thee loaues of bread thereof, according to the number of the daies ‖ that thou shalt lie vpon thy side, that thou mayest haue bread to eate, for three hundred and ninety dayes.

11 Thou shalt d drinke also water by measure, namely, the sixth part of a Hin: from time to time shalt thou drinke.

12 Barley cakes shalt thou eate, & them shalt thou bake in e mans dung before their eyes.

13 And with that sayd the Lord, Euen thus shall the children of Israel eate their defiled bread among the Gentiles, whither I will cast them.

14 Then sayd I, O thy Lord God, behold, my soule was yet neuer stained, for from my youth vp vnto this houre, I did neuer eate of a dead carkeise, or of that which was slaine of wild beasts, neither came there euer any vncleane flesh in my mouth.

The v. Chapter.

1 The signe of the haires, by which is signified the destruction of the people. 6 The causes of the anger of God toward the people.

AND thou sonne of man, take thee then a sharpe knife, namely, a barbers razor, take that to thee, and cause it to ᵃ passe vpon thy head and vpon thy beard: then take thee weight scales and diuide the haire.

2 Thou shalt burne with fire the third part in the midst of the ᵇ citie, when the dayes of the siege are fulfilled, and thou shalt take the other third part, and smite about it with a knife, and the last third part thou shalt scatter in the wind, and I will draw out a sword after them.

3 Thou shalt also take thereof a few in number, and bind them in thy lap.

4 Of them yet shalt thou take, and cast them into the midst of the fire, and burne them in the fire: thereof shall a fire come forth into all the house of Israel.

5 Moreouer, thus saith the Lord God, This same is Hierusalem, which I set in the midst of nations and countreys round about her.

6 But she hath changed my iudgments into wickednesse more then the nations, and my statutes more then the countreys that are round about her: for they haue refused my iudgements and my statutes, and haue not walked in them.

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, For your ᶜ multiplying more then the Gentiles that dwell round about you, and because ye haue not walked in my lawes, neither haue yee kept my ordinances, no, yee haue not done according to the iudgements of the nations that are round about you:

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will also come against thee, I my selfe, I say: for in the midst of thee will I execute iudgement in the sight of the heathen.

9 And I will doe in thee as I neuer did before, and as I will neuer doe the like from that time forth, and that because of all thine abominations.

10 For in the middest of thee the fathers shall eate their owne sonnes, and the sonnes shal eate their owne fathers, and I will execute iudgement in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I scatter into all the winds.

11 Wherefore, as truly as I liue, saith the Lord God, surely seeing thou hast defiled my sanctuary with all maner of abominations, and with all shamefull offences:

12 For this cause will I also destroy thee, mine eye shal not spare thee, neither will I haue any pitie.

13 One third part of thee shall die of the pestilence, and shall be consumed of hunger in the middest of thee, another third part shall be slaine downe round about thee with the sword, the other third part that remaineth will I scatter abroad toward all the windes, and draw out a sword after them.

14 Thus will mine indignation bee perfourmed, and I will cause my wrath to cease among them, and I will be ᵈ comforted: so that when I haue fulfilled mine anger against them, they shal know that I the Lord with a feruent iealousie haue spoken it.

15 Moreouer, I will make thee waste, and a reproch among all the heathen that dwell about thee, in the sight of all them that goe by thee.

16 So thou shalt bee a reproch and shame, a chastisement and a wondering vnto the nations that are round about thee, when I shall execute iudgements in thee, in anger and in wrath, and in sharpe rebukes, I the Lord haue spoken it:

17 When I shall shoote among them the perillous ᵉ darts of hunger, which shall be for their destruction, therefore shall I shoot them, because I will destroy you, I will encrease hunger vpon you, and will breake your staffe of bread.

18 ‖ Plagues will I send vpon you, yea, and wicked beasts also to spoile thee, pestilence and bloodshedding shall come vpon thee, & the sword wil I bring ouer thee: I the Lord haue spoken it.

The vj. Chapter.

1 He sheweth that the people shall be plagued for the sinne of idolatrie.

AND the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, *set thy face to the mountaines of Israel, and prophesie against them,

3 And say, Heare the word of the Lord God, O ye mountains of Israel. Thus hath the Lord God spoken to the ᵃ mountains, hils, riuers, and dales, Behold, euen I will bring a sworde vpon you, and I will destroy your high places.

4 Your altars shall be destroyed, & your images of the sunne shalbe broken down, your slaine men will I cast downe before your idoles.

5 And the dead carkeises of the children of Israel wil I ‖ cast before their idoles, your bones wil I scatter round about your altars.

6 In all your dwelling places your cities shal be desolate, and the high places layd waste, so that your altars shalbe made waste and desolate, your idoles shall be broken ‖ and abolished, and your images of the sunne shalbe cut downe, and your workes quite taken away.

7 The slaine shal fall among you: and yee shal know that I am the Lord.

8 Yet will I leaue a remnant, that you may haue some that shal escape the sword among the nations, when yee shall be scattered thorowe the countreys.

9 And they that escape of you, shal thinke vpon me among the heathen where they shalbe in captiuitie, because I haue beene ‖ broken: for their whorish heart which hath departed from me, and for their eyes that haue gone a whoring after their idols: and ‖ they shall be abhorred before their own eies for the euils which they haue committed in all their abominations.

[c] Meaning, Nabuchodonozor whom God had appointed to be a rod to scourge them.

‖Or, none of their pleasures.

10 Behold the day, behold it is come, the morning is gone forth, the rod [c] flourisheth, pride hath budded, 11 Crueltie is waxen to a rod of wickednesse, none of them shall remaine, none of their riches, ‖ not one of their seede, and no lamentation shall be made for them.

12 The time commeth, the day draweth nigh: who so buyeth, let him not reioyce, hee that selleth, let him not be sory: for wrath is vpon all the multitude thereof.

13 So that the seller shal not come againe to the thing that he sold, although their life be [d] yet with the liuing: for when the prophecie was preached vnto al the people, none returned, no man shall [e] strengthen himselfe in the iniquitie of his life.

[d] That is, in the yeere of Jubile, when euery man returned to his possessions, as he sold before, Leuit. 25.

[e] Iniquitie shall make no man strong against God.

14 [f] They haue blowen the trumpet, and made all ready, but none goeth to the battel: for my wrath is vpon the whole multitude.

[f] The Israelites made a brag, but their hearts failed them.

15 The sword shalbe without, pestilence and hunger within: so that who so is in the fielde shalbe slaine with the sword, and he that is in the citie shall bee deuoured with hunger and pestilence.

16 But they that flee away from them, shall escape, and shall be in the mountaines like the doues of the valleys, all they shal mourne, euery one for his iniquitie.

17 All handes shalbe let downe, and al knees shalbe weake as the water.

18 *They shal girde themselues with sackcloth, feare shal couer them, shame shall be vpon al faces, and baldnesse vpon their heads.

Esai. 15.3. ierc. 48. 37.

19 Their siluer shall they cast foorth in the streets, *and their gold shalbe despised: yea, their siluer and golde shal not bee able to deliuer them in the day of the wrath of the Lord, they shal not satisfie their souls, neither fil their ‖bellies therewith, because [g] it ‖ was a stumbling blocke of their iniquitie.

Prou. 11.4. eccl. 5.13. Soph. 1.18.

‖Or, bowels.

[g] Their gold & siluer brought them to this ruine & destruction.

‖Or, this ruine is for their iniquitie.

20 Hee had also set the beautie of his [h] ornament in maiestie: but they made images of their abominations and ‖ filthinesse in it, therefore haue I set it farre from them.

[h] Meaning, the Sanctuary.

21 Moreouer, I wil giue it into the hands of strangers to be spoiled, and to the wicked of the earth for to be robbed, and they shal pollute it.

‖Or, idols,

22 My face wil I turne from them, my secret place shalbe defiled: for ‖ burglars shal go into it, and pollute it.

‖Or, destroyers.

23 Make a chaine: for the lande is full of the [i] iudgment of blood, & the citie is ful of extortion.

[i] That is of crimes that deserue death.

24 Wherefore I wil bring the most wicked of the heathen to take their houses in possession, I wil make the pompe of the mighty to cease, and their [k] sanctuaries shalbe defiled.

[k] That is, their Temple which was diuided into three parts, Iere. 6.1.

25 When destruction is come, they shall seeke peace, but they shall haue none.

26 One mischiefe shall follow another, and one rumour shall come after an other: then shall they seeke a vision in vaine at their Prophet, the Law shall perish from the Priest, and counsell from the ancients.

27 The King shall mourne, the Prince shalbe clothed with desolation, and the handes of the people in the land shalbe troubled: I will do vnto them after their owne wayes, according to their owne iudgements wil I iudge them: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

The viij. Chapter.

2 An appearance of the similitude of God. 3 Ezechiel is brought to Hierusalem in the spirit. 6 The Lord sheweth the idolatries of the house of Israel, and chiefly of the priests.

AND it was in the [a] first yeere, in the first moneth, in the fifth day of the moneth, I sate in my house, and the Elders of Iuda sate before me, and the hand of the Lord God fell there vpon mee.

[a] Of the captiuitie of Ieconias, so that there was fourteene moneths betweene the first vision and this.

fol. Zz4v

2 Then I beheld, and lo, there was a likenesse as the appearance of fire: from the appearance of his loines downward, fire: and frō his loines vpward as the appearance of brightnesse, like the colour of amber.

Dan.13,25

3 *And hee stretched out the likenesse of an hand, and tooke me by an hairy locke of my head, and the spirit lift me vp betwirt earth and heauen, and [b] brought me in a diuine vision to Hierusalem, into the entry of the inner [c] gate that lieth toward the North, where remained the ‖ image of [d] emulation and of gaine.

4 And behold, the glory of the God of Israel was in the same place, euen as I had seene it afore in the field.

5 And he said vnto me, Thou sonne of man, lift vp thine eyes nowe toward the North: then lift I vp mine eyes toward the North, and beholde, Northward at the gate of the [c] altar this ‖ image of emulation was in the entry.

6 And he said furthermore vnto me, Thou sonne of man, seest thou not what these doe? namely, the great abominations that the house of Israel commit in this place, to driue me from my sanctuary? But turne thee about, and thou shalt see yet greater abominations.

7 And with that brought he me to the court gate, and when I looked, beholde there was a hole in a wall.

8 Then said hee vnto mee, Thou sonne of man, digge now in the wall: and when I digged in the wall, behold there was a doore.

9 And he said vnto me, Go thy way in, and looke what wicked abominations they do here.

10 So I went in, and saw, and behold, there were all maner of creeping things, [f] and abominable beasts, and all the idols of the house of Israel painted vpon the wall round about.

11 There stood also before the images three score and ten men of the ancients of the house of Israel, and in the midst of them stood Iaazaniah the sonne of Saphan, with euery man his censer in his hand, and the smoake of the incense ascended as a cloud.

12 Then said hee vnto mee, Thou sonne of man, hast thou seene what the ancients of the house of Israel doe ‖ secretly, euery one in the [g] chamber of his imagery? for they say, The Lord seeth vs not, the Lord hath forsaken the earth.

13 And he said vnto mee, Turne thee yet againe, and thou shalt see greater abominations that they do.

14 And with that he brought me to the doore of the gate of the Lordes house towarde the North, and behold, there sate women mourning for [h] Thammuz.

15 Then said hee vnto mee, Hast thou seene this, thou sonne of man? Turne thee yet about, and thou shalt see greater abominations then these are.

16 And so hee brought mee into the inward court of the Lords house, & beholde, at the doore of the Lords house, betwirt the porch and the altar, there were about twenty and fiue men that turned their backs vpon the temple of the Lord, and their faces toward the East, and these worshipped the sunne Eastward.

17 And he said vnto me, Hast thou seene this, thou sonne of man? Thinketh the house of Iuda that it is but a trifle to doe these abominations which they do here? For they haue filled the land full of wickednesse, and haue returned to prouoke me to anger, and loe, [i] they are putting the ‖ branches to their noses.

18 Therefore will I also do something in my wrathfull displeasure, so that mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I haue pity: yea, and though they cry in mine eares with a loud voice, yet will I not heare them.

[b] This was in the spirit, and not in body.

[c] The porch or court where the people assembled.

‖ Or, idole,

[d] Of emulation, because it displeased God: of gaine, because it was set vp and worshipped for gaine and increase: of their offerings, for the priestes and of their cattell and substance, for the people.

[c] That was in the court where the people had made an altar to Baal.

‖ Or, idole,

[f] Which were forbidden in the Law, Leuit. 11.

‖ Or, in the darke.

[g] For beside their common idolatry, they had their particular seruice in their secret places or priuies.

[h] The Iewes say, this was a prophet of the Idoles, who after his death was once a yere mourned for in the night. ooly of women. S. Hieronme enterpreteth it for Adonis, Venus louer. Other thinke it was Osyris, an idole of the Egyptians.

[i] They smelled to their boughes, flowers or posies, in doing their sacrifice to the sunne, which yet before God was vile, and stinking, how sweet soeuer they seemed to themselues.

‖ Or, stinch,

The ix. Chapter.

1 The destruction of the citie. 4 They that shall be saued, are marked. 8 A complaint of the Prophet for the destruction of the people.

HE cried also with a loud voice in mine eares, saying, Draw neere ye [a] visitations of the citie, euery man with a destroying weapon in his hand.

2 And behold, then came there [b] fiue men out of the street of the vpper gate toward the North, & euery man a slaughter weapon in his hand: There was one amongst them that had on him linnen raiment, and a writers [c] inkehorne by his side: these went in, and stood beside the brasen altar.

3 And the glory of the God of Israel was gone from the Cherub wherupon it was, to the doore of the house: and he called to the man that had the linnen raiment vpon him, and the writers inkehorne by his side.

4 And the Lord said vnto him, Goe thorow the midst of the city, euen thorow the midst of Hierusalem, * & set a marke vpon the foreheads of them that mourne and ‖ are sory for all the abominations that be done therein.

5 And to the other hee said, that I might heare, Goe ye after him thorow the city, and smite, let your eyes spare none, neither haue ye any pity:

6 Kill and destroy both olde men and yong, maidens, children, and women: but as for all those that haue the marke vpon them, see that ye touch them not, and begin at my sanctuarie. Then they beganne at the ancient men which were before the house.

7 And he said vnto them, Defile ye the temple, fill the courts with the slaine, then goe your way forth. So they went out, and slew downe thorow the city.

8 Now when they had done the slaughter, and I yet escaped, I fell downe vpon my face, and cried, saying, Ah Lord God, wilt thou then destroy all the residue of Israel, in powring out thy wrath vpon Hierusalem?

9 Then said he vnto me, The wickednesse of the house of Israel & Iuda is exceeding great, so that the land is full of blood, and the city full of reuolting from God: for they say, The Lord hath forsaken the earth, and the Lord seeth it not.

10 As touching me also, mine eye shall not spare them, neither will I haue pity: but will recompense their wayes vpon their heads.

11 And beholde, the man that had the linnen raiment vpon him, and the writers inkehorne by his side, reported the matter, and said, As thou hast commanded me, so haue I done.

[a] The persons appointed to visite the citie, as Nabuchodonosor & his captaines.

[b] Which were fiue angels in likenesse of men.

[c] To marke the that should be saued from destruction.

The x. Chapter.

Of the man that tooke hote burning coales out of the middle of the wheeles of the Cherubims.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Zz5r

AND as I looked, beholde, in the firmament that was aboue the head of the [a] Cherubims, as it were a Saphire stone made like the similitude of a Throne was seene ouer them.

[a] Which in the first chapter and sixth verse he called the foure beasts.

2 Then spake hee to him that had the linen rainment vpon him, and said, ||Creepe in betweene the wheeles that are vnder the Cherub, and take thine handfull of hote coles out from betweene the Cherubims, and scatter them ouer the citie. And he ||crept in, that I might see.

||Or, goe.

3 (Now the Cherubims stood vpon the right side of the house when the man went in, and the cloude filled the inner court.

||Or, went in.

4 And the glory of the Lord remooued from the Cherubims, and came vpon the doore of the house: so that the Temple was filled with a cloude, and the court was full of the shine of the Lords glory.

5 Yea, and the sounde of the Cherubims wings was heard into the forecourt, like as it had bene the voyce of the Almightie God when he speaketh)

6 Now when hee had bidden the man that was clothed in linnen, saying, Take fire from the midst of the wheeles, and from the midst of the Cherubims, hee went and stood beside the wheeles.

7 Then one Cherub reached forth his hand from betweene the Cherubims, vnto the fire that was betweene the Cherubims, and tooke thereof, and gaue it into the hands of him that had on the linnen rainment: which tooke it, and went out.

8 And vnder the wings of the Cherubims there appeared the likenesse of a mans hand.

9 I looked also, and beholde, foure wheeles beside the Cherubims, one wheele by one Cherub, and an other by another Cherub, and the wheeles were to looke vpon after the fashion of the precious stone Tharsis.

10 As touching their appearance (they were al foure of one fashion) as if one wheele had bene in an other.

11 When they went forth, they went vpon their foure sides, not turning backe in their going: for which way the head of the first looked, after it they went, so that they turned not backe in their going.

Ezech. 1.8. 12 *And their whole bodies, their backs, their handes, and wings, yea, and the wheeles also, were full of eyes round about the foure wheeles.

13 And to the wheeles, he cried to them in my hearing, O wheele.

14 Euery one of them had foure faces, so that the face of the first was the face of a Cherub, and the face of the second the face of a Man, and of the third the face of a Lion, and of the fourth the face of an Eagle.

15 And the Cherubims were lifted vp: this is the beast that I saw at the water of Chebar.

16 Nowe when the Cherubims went, the wheeles went by them: and when the Cherubims lift vp their wings to mount vp from the earth, the same wheeles also turned not from besides them.

17 Shortly when they stood, these stood also, and when they were lifted vp, the wheeles lift vp themselues also with them: for the [b] spirit of the beast was in the wheeles.

[b] There was one consent betweene the Cherubims & the wheeles.

18 Then the glory of the Lord departed from aboue the doore of the Temple, and remained vpon the Cherubims.

19 And the Cherubims flickered with their wings, and lift themselues vp from the earth in my sight: when they went, the wheeles were besides them, and they stood at the doore of the East gate of the house of the Lord: so the glory of the God of Israel was vpon them on high.

20 *This is the [c] beast that I saw vnder the God of Israel by the riuer Chebar, and I perceiued that it was the Cherubims. Ezech. 1. 14.

[c] That is, the whole body of the foure beasts or Cherubims.

21 Euery one had foure faces, and euery one foure wings, and vnder their wings the likenesse of mens hands.

22 The similitude of their countenances, were the very same countenances which I saw at the riuer Chebar, and the selfe same appearances, euery one in his going went straight forward.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Who they were that seduced the people of Israel.
5 Against these hee prophecieth, shewing them how they shalbe dispersed abroad.

MOreouer, the Spirit lift mee vp, and brought mee vnto the East gate of the Lords house, which lieth Eastward: and beholde, at the entrie of the gate were fiue and twentie men, among whom I saw Iaazaniah the sonne of Azur, and Pheltiah the sonne of Banaiahu, the rulers of the people.

2 Then said he vnto me, Thou son of man, these men imagine mischiefe, and a wicked counsel take they in this citie,

3 Saying, It is not neere, let vs builde houses: this Hierusalem is the [a] caldron, and wee be the flesh.

[a] We shall not be pulled out of Hierusalem, til the houre of our death come, as the flesh is not taken out of the caldron, til it be sodde.

4 Therefore shalt thou prophecie against them: yea, prophecie, O sonne of man.

5 And with that fell the Spirit of the Lord vpon me, and said vnto me, Speake, Thus saith the Lord, On this maner haue ye spoken (O ye house of Israel) and I know the imaginations of your hearts.

6 Many one haue ye murdered in this citie, and filled the streets ful of the slaine:

7 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, the slaine men that yee haue layd in the midst of the citie are the [b] flesh, and this citie is the caldron: but I wil bring you out of it.

[b] Contrary to their vaine confidence, he sheweth in what sense this citie was the caldron, that is, because of the dead bodies that haue bene murdered therein, and so lye as the flesh in the caldron.

8 Ye haue feared the sword, and I wil bring a sword ouer you, saith the Lord God.

9 And I wil bring you out of the midst thereof, and deliuer you into the handes of strangers, and wil execute iudgements among you.

10 Ye shal fall by the sword, in the borders of [c] Israel wil I iudge you, and yee shal know that I am the Lord.

[c] That is, in Riblach, 2. kin. 24.

11 This city shal not be your caldron, neither shall ye be the flesh in the midst thereof: but in the borders of Israel wil I ||punish you,

||Or, iudge.

12 That we may know that I am the Lord, in whose Commandements yee haue not walked, nor kept my Lawes, but haue done after the customes of the Heathen that lie rounde about you.

13 Nowe when I prophecied, [d] Pheltiah the sonne of Banaiahu died: then fell I downe [d] It seemed, this noble man died of some terrible death, and therefore the Prophet feared some strange iudgement of God toward the rest of the people.

vpon my face, and cried with a loude voyce, saying, Ah Lord God, wilt thou then vtterly destroy all the remnant of Israel?

14 And so the word of the Lord came vnto me on this maner, 15 Thou sonne of man, thy brethren, euen thy brethren the men of thy kinred, and all the house of Israel, wholly are they vnto whom the inhabitants of Hierusalem haue said, [c] withdraw ye farre from the Lord, for the land is giuen vs in possession.

16 Therefore tell them, Thus saieth the Lord God, Although I send them farre off among the Gentiles, and scatter them among the nations, yet will I bee to them as a little [f] Sanctuary in the lands where they shall come.

17 Tell them also, Thus saith the Lord God, I will gather you againe out of the nations, and bring you from the countreyes where yee be scattered, and I wil giue you the land of Israel againe.

18 And they shall come thither, and they shall take away all their idoles, and all their abominations from thence.

Iere.32.39. ezec.36.27.

19 *And I wil giue them one heart, and I wil put a new spirit within their bowels: that stony heart will I take out of their body, and giue them a fleshie heart, 20 That they may walke in my Commandements, and keepe mine ordinances, and do them, that they may be my people, and I their God.

21 But to the heart of their idoles and their abominations their heart goeth, their wayes will I bring vpon their owne heads, saith the Lord God.

22 After this did the Cherubims lift vp their wings, and the wheeles besides them, and the glorie of the God of Israel was vpon them on high.

23 So the glory of the Lord went vp from the middest of the citie, and stood vpon the mount of the citie toward the East.

24 And the spirit tooke mee vp, and brought me againe to Chaldea to the captiuitie in a vision by the Spirit of God: then the vision that I had seene went vp from me.

[g] Those that were led away captiues with Jeconias.

25 So I spake vnto the [g] captiues all the wordes of the Lord which he had shewed me.

The xij. Chapter.

1 The parable of the captiuitie. 10 The exposition of the parable, by which the taking of King Zedecias is signified.

THE worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, thou dwellest in the midst of a rebellious house, which haue eyes to see, and yet see not, eares haue they to heare, and yet heare they not: for they are a rebellious house.

[‡] Make thee vessels to goe into captiuitie.

3 Therefore (O thou sonne of man) [‡] prepare thee instruments to flit with, and remoue on the day time that they may see, yea, euen in their sight shalt thou goe from thy place to an other place, if peraduenture they will consider that they be a rebellious house.

4 Thou shalt bring forth thine instruments as stuffe to flit with by the day time in their sight, and thou thy selfe shalt goe forth also at euening before their eyes, as they that goe forth to flit.

5 Digge thorow the wall in their sight, and carry out thereby.

6 In their sight shalt thou beare vpon thy shoulders, and carry it forth in the darke: hide thy face, that thou see not the earth, for I haue made thee a [a] shew token vnto the house of Israel.

[a] That as thou doest, so shall they do, and therefore in thee they shall see their owne plague and punishment.

7 And I did so as I was commaunded, I brought forth my stuffe by day, as the stuffe of one that goeth into captiuitie: and in the euening I digged thorow the wall with my hands, and brought it forth in the darke, and bare it vpon my shoulder in their sight.

8 And in the morning came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

9 Thou sonne of man, hath not the house of Israel, the rebellious house saide vnto thee, [b] What doest thou?

[b] Doe not they beare and marke thy doings?

10 Then tell them, Thus saieth the Lord God, This ‖ burden toucheth the Prince at Hierusalem, and all the house of Israel that dwel among them.

‖ Or, prophecie.

11 Tell them, I am your shew token, like as I haue done, so shall it bee done vnto them, they shall goe into bondage and captiuitie.

12 The prince that is among them shall loade his shoulders in the darke, and get him away, they shal breake downe the wall, to cary thorow by it: hee shall couer his face, that hee see not the ground with his eyes.

13 My net will I [e] spread out vpon him, and hee shalbe caught in my [‡] net, and I will bring him to Babylon in the lande of the Chaldees, which he shall not see, and yet shall he die there.

[e] When the King shall thinke to escape by fleeing I will take him in my net, as Ezec.17. and 32.

[‡] Toyles,

14 As for all his helpers and all his bands that be about him, I wil scatter them toward all the winds, and draw out a sword after them.

15 So when I haue scattered them among the heathen, & strawed them in the lands, they shall know that I am the Lord.

16 But I will leaue a little number of them from the sword, hunger, and pestilence, to tel all their abominations among the heathen where they come, that they may know how that I am the Lord.

17 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Thou sonne of man, with a fearefull trembling eate thy bread, with vnquietnesse and sorrow drinke thy water.

19 And vnto the people of the lande speake thou, Thus saith the Lord God vpon them that dwell in Hierusalem, and vpon the land of Israel, They shall eate their bread with sorrow, and drinke their water with desolation, yea, the land after plentifulnes shalbe laid waste, for the wickednesse of all them that dwel therein.

20 And the cities that now be wel inhabited, shalbe voyd, and the lande desolate, that yee may know that I am the Lord.

21 Yet came the word of the Lord vnto me againe, saying,

22 Thou sonne of man, what maner of prouerbe is that which ye vse in the land of Israel, saying, [d] The dayes are slacke in comming, and all visions faile?

[d] Because they did not see the prophecies accomplished, they contemned them as though they neuer should be fulfilled.

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord God, I will make that prouerbe to cease, and they shall no more vse it as a prouerbe in Israel: but say vnto them, The dayes are at hand, and the effect of euery vision.

24 There shal no vision be any more in vaine,

neither any flattering diuination within the house of Israel:

25 For I the Lord speake it, and whatsoeuer I shall speake, it shalbe performed, and not bee slacke in comming any more, yea, euen in your dayes, O rebellious house, will I speake the thing, and bring it to passe, saith the Lord God.

26 And the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,

27 Beholde, thou sonne of man, the house of Israel saith on this maner, The vision that hee seeth, it wil be many a day or it come to passe: it is farre off yet the time that he prophecieth of.

28 Therefore say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, All my wordes shal no more bee delayed, looke what I speake, that same shal come to passe, saith the Lord God.

The xiij. Chapter.

The worde of the Lord against false prophets, which teach the people the counsels of their owne hearts.

Ezec.14.9.

THE * word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, prophecie against those prophets of Israel, which prophecie: and say vnto them that prophecie out of their owne hearts, Heare the word of the Lord,

3 Thus saith the Lord God, Woe bee vnto those foolish prophets that follow their owne spirit, and haue seene nothing.

4 O Israel, thy prophets are like the foxes in [a] desart places.

5 For yee haue not stood vp in the gaps, nor made a hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battel in the day of the Lord.

6 They haue seene vanitie and lying diuination, saying, The Lord saith it: and the Lord hath not sent them, and they haue made men hope that they would confirme the word.

7 Haue ye not seene vaine visions, and spoken false prophecies, when yee say, The Lord hath spoken it, whereas I neuer said it?

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because yee haue spoken vanitie, & haue seene lies: therefore beholde, I am against you, saith the Lord God:

9 Mine hand shalbe vpon the prophets that see vanitie, and diuine lies: they shall not be in the counsell of my people, nor written in the booke of the house of Israel, neither shall they come in the lande of Israel, that yee may know how that I am the Lord God:

10 And that for because they haue deceiued my people, and tolde them of peace, where no peace was: one setteth vp a [b] wall, & they daube it with vntempered clay.

11 Therefore tel them which daube with vntempered morter, that it shall fall: for there shall come a great showre of raine, I wil sende haile-stones to cause it to fall, and a great storme of winde shall breake it.

12 And lo, when the wall is fallen, shal it not then be said vnto you, Where is now your ‖ morter that ye daubed withall?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, I wil cause a stormie wind to breake out in my wrathful displeasure, so that in mine anger there shall come a mighty showre of raine, and hailestones in my wrath to destroy it.

14 As for the wall that yee haue daubed with vntempered morter, I will breake it downe, and make it euen with the ground, so that the foundation thereof shall bee discouered, and it shal fall: yea, and ye your selues shal perish in the midst thereof, and yee shal know that I am the Lord.

15 Thus wil I performe my wrath vpon this wall, and vpon them that haue daubed it with [c] vntempered morter, and then will I say vnto you, The wall is ‖ gone, and the daubers of it:

16 To wit the prophets of Israel, which prophesie vpon Hierusalem, and looke out visions of peace for it, whereas no peace is, sayeth the Lord God.

17 Wherefore, O thou sonne of man, set thy face against the daughters of thy people, which prophesie out of their owne hearts, and prophesie against them:

18 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, Woe be vnto them that sowe [d] pillowes vnder all arme holes, and put kerchieues vpon the heads of euery stature, to hunt soules. Will ye hunt the soules of my people, and giue life to the soules that come vnto you?

19 And wil yee pollute mee to my people for handfuls of barley, and for pieces of bread, to fil the soules of them that die not, and promise [e] life to them that liue not, in lying to my people that heareth your lies?

20 Wherefore, thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I wil vpon your pillowes wherewith ye hunt the soules to [f] make them flee, and I will teare them from your armes, and wil let the soules goe, euen the soules that ye hunt to make them flee.

21 Your kerchieues allo wil I teare in pieces, and deliuer my people out of your handes, so that they shal come no more in your handes to bee hunted: and ye shal know that I am the Lord.

22 Seeing that with your lies yee discomfite the heart of the righteous, whom I haue not discomfited: againe, for so much as ye encourage the hand of the wicked, so that he may not turne from his wicked way, in promising him life:

23 Therefore shal ye see no more vanitie, neither shal ye diuine diuinations, for I wil deliuer my people out of your hand, that yee may know how that I am the Lord.

The xiiij. Chapter.

The Lord denieth his worde to the people for their sinnes sake.

THere resorted vnto mee certaine of the Elders of Israel, and sate downe by me.

2 Then came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

3 Thou sonne of man, these men haue set vp their idoles in their hearts, and put the stumbling blocke of iniquitie before their face: should I then answere them at their request?

4 Therefore speake vnto them, and say vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, Euery man of the house of Israel that setteth vp his idoles in his heart, and putteth the stumbling blocke of his iniquitie before his face, and commeth to the prophet: vnto that man wil I the Lord my selfe giue answere when hee commeth, according to the [a] multitude of his idoles:

5 That the houſe of Iſrael may be ſnared in their [b] owne hearts, becauſe they be cleane gone from me all of them through their idoles:

6 Wherefore tell the houſe of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Returne, and cauſe [c] to returne from your idoles, and turne your faces from al your abominations:

7 For euery man, whether he be of the houſe of Iſrael, or a ſtranger that ſoiourneth in Iſrael, which departeth from mee, and ſetteth vp his idoles in his heart, and putteth the ſtumbling blocke of his wickednes before his face, and commeth to a prophet for to aſke counſell at mee through him: vnto that man will I the Lord giue anſwere by mine owne ſelfe:

8 I will ſet my face againſt that man, and wil make him to be an example for other, yea, and a common by word, and wil roote him out of my people, that yee may know howe that I am the Lord.

9 And if that prophet be deceiued when hee telleth a thing, then I * the Lord my ſelfe haue deceiued that prophet, and will ſtretch out my hand vpon him, to deſtroy him out of my people of Iſrael.

10 And they ſhalbe punished for their wickednesſe, according to the ſinne of him that aſketh, ſhal the ſinne of the prophet be:

11 That the houſe of Iſrael may wander no more from me, neither be any more defiled in all their tranſgreſſions: but that they may bee my people, and I their God, ſaith the Lord God.

12 And the word of the Lord came vnto mee, ſaying,

13 Thou ſonne of man, when the lande ſinneth againſt mee by committing a treſpaſſe, I will ſtretch out my hand vpon it, * and breake their ſtaffe of bread, and ſend dearth vpon them, to deſtroy man and beaſt forth of it.

16 If theſe three men were alſo in the midſt thereof, as truely as I liue, ſaith the Lord God, they ſhall ſaue neither ſonnes nor daughters, but be only deliuered themſelues: and as for the land, it ſhalbe waſte.

17 Or, if I bring a ſword vpon the land, and ſay, Sword goe thorow this land, ſo that I ſlay downe man and beaſt in it, 21 Moreouer, thus ſaith the Lord God, How much more when I ſende my foure ‖ troublous plagues vpon Hieruſalem, the ſword, hunger, perilous beaſtes, and peſtilence, to deſtroy man and beaſt out of it?

22 Beholde, there ſhalbe a remnant ſaued therein, which ſhal bring forth their ſonnes and daughters: beholde, they ſhal come forth vnto you, and yee ſhall ſee their way, and their enterpriſe, & ye ſhalbe comforted concerning the euill that I haue brought vpon Hieruſalem, euen concerning all that I haue brought vpon it:

23 They ſhall comfort you when yee ſhall ſee their way and workes, and yee ſhall know how that it is not without a cauſe that I haue done all againſt Hieruſalem as I did, ſaith the Lord God.

The xv. Chapter.

As the vnprofitable wood of the vine tree is caſt into the fire, ſo ſaith he that Hieruſalem ſhalbe burnt.

THE word of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

2 Thou ſonne of man, what commeth of the vine tree more then of euery other tree, and of the wilde vine among other trees of the foreſt?

3 Doe men take wood of it to make any worke withall? or will men take a pinne of it to hang any veſſel thereon?

4 Beholde, it is caſt into the fire to be burnt, the fire conſumeth both the ends of it, the midſt of it is burnt: is it meete then for any worke?

5 Seeing then that it was meete for no worke being whole, much leſſe may there any thing bee made of it, when the fire hath conſumed and burnt it.

6 And therefore, thus ſaith the Lord God, As the vine tree that is among the trees of the foreſt, which I haue giuen to the fire to bee conſumed, ſo wil I giue the inhabitants of Hieruſalem.

7 And I will ſet my face againſt them, they ſhall goe out from the fire, and yet the [a] fire ſhall conſume them: then ſhall yee know me that I am the Lord, when I ſet my face againſt them,

8 And when I make the land waſte, becauſe they haue ſo ſore offended, ſaith the Lord God.

gro'wen, whereas thou wa'ſt naked and bare.

8 Nowe when I went by thee, and looked vpon thee, behold, thy time was come, yea, euen the time to woo thee: then ſpred I my clothes ouer thee to couer thy [c] diſhoneſtie, yea, I made an oth vnto thee, and contracted my ſelfe vnto thee (ſayeth the Lord God) and ſo thou becameſt mine owne.

9 Then waſhed I thee with water, and purged thy blood from thee, and I annoynted thee with oyle.

10 I clothed thee with broydred worke, and ſhodde thee with Badgers ſkinne, and I girded thee about with fine linnen, and couered thee with ſilke.

11 I decked thee with coſtly apparell, I put bracelets vpon thy handes, a chaine about thy necke, 12 And I put a frontlet vpon thy face, and earerings vpon thine eares, and a beautifull crowne vpon thine head.

13 Thus waſt thou deckt with golde and ſiluer, and thy rayment was of fine linnen, and of ſilke, and of broydred worke: thou didſt eate fine flowre, hony, and oyle, marueilous beautifull waſt thou, and thou diddeſt luckily proſper into a kingdome.

14 And thy name was ſpread among the heathen for thy beautie: for it was perfect through my beautie which I put vpon thee, ſayeth the Lord God.

15 But thou haſt put thy confidence in thine owne beautie, and played the harlot, becauſe of thy renowme, and haſt [d] powred out thy fornications with euery one that went by, ‖ thou waſt his.

16 Thou didſt take thy garments, and deckt thy high places with [e] diuers colours, and played the harlot thereupon, [‡] they come not, and it ſhall not be.

17 The goodly iewels which I gaue thee of mine owne golde and ſiluer, haſt thou taken, and made thee mens images thereof, and committed whoredome with them.

18 Thy broydred garments haſt thou taken, and deckt them therewith: mine oyle and incenſe haſt thou ſet before them.

19 My meat which I gaue thee, as fine flower, oyle, and hony, to feed thee withall, that haſt thou ſet before them for a ſweete ſauour: ‡ thus it was, ſaith the Lord God.

20 Thou haſt taken thine owne ſonnes and daughters whome thou haſt begotten vnto me, and theſe haſt thou offered vp vnto them to bee [g] deuoured: is this but a ſmall whoredome of thine?

21 And thou haſt ſlaine my children, and deliuered them, to cauſe them to paſſe thorow the fire for them.

22 And yet in all thine abominations and whoredoms, thou haſt not remembred the daies of thy youth, how naked and bare thou waſt at that time, and waſt defiled in thine owne blood.

23 After all this thy wickednes (woe, woe vnto thee, ſayeth the Lord God)

24 Thou haſt built vnto thee an high place, and haſt made thee an high place in euery ſtreet.

25 Thou haſt built thine high place at euery ‡ head of the way, thou haſt made thy beautie to be abhorred, thou haſt opened thy feete to euery one that came by, ‡ multiplyed thy whoredome.

26 Thou haſt committed fornication with the [h] Egyptians thy neighbours which were great in fleſh, and thus haſt thou encreaſed thine whoredome to anger me.

27 Beholde, I did ſtretch out my hand ouer thee, and did minish thy ordinarie food, and deliuered thee ouer into the willes of them that hate thee, euen to the daughters of the Philiſtines, which are aſhamed of thine abominable wayes.

28 Thou haſt played the whore alſo with the Aſſyrians, becauſe thou waſt inſatiable: yea, thou haſt I ſay with them played the harlot, and yet hadſt thou not ynough.

29 Thus haſt thou furthermore multiplyed thy fornication from the land of Chanaan vnto the Chaldees, and yet thou waſt not ſatisfied herewith.

30 How weake is thine heart, ſaith the Lord God, ſeeing thou doeſt all theſe, euen the workes of a preſumptuous whorish woman?

31 Building thy high places at the head of euery way, and maieſt thy high places in euery ſtreete: thou haſt not beene as another whore that holdeth ſcorne of a reward:

32 But as a wife that breaketh wedlocke, and taketh other in ſtead of her huſband.

33 Giftes are giuen to all other whores: but thou giueſt rewards vnto all thy louers, and rewardeſt them to come vnto thee on euery ſide for thy fornication.

34 It is come to paſſe with thee in thy whoredomes contrarie to the vſe of other women, yea, there hath no ſuch fornication bene committed after thee: ſeeing that thou giueſt giftes vnto other, and no rewarde is giuen thee, therefore thou art contrarie.

35 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, O thou harlot.

36 Thus ſayth the Lord God, Becauſe thou haſt [i] powred out ‖ thy braſſe, and diſcouered thy filthineſſe through thy fornications with thy louers, and with all the idoles of thine abominations, and in the blood of thy children whome thou haſt giuen them:

37 Behold therefore, I will gather together all thy [k] louers with whome thou haſt taken pleaſure, yea, and all them whome thou haſt loued, and euery one that thou hateſt: I will I ſay gather them together round about againſt thee, and will diſcouer thy ſhame before them, that they may ſee all thy filthineſſe.

38 * Moreouer, [l] I will iudge thee as a breaker of wedlocke and a murtherer, and recompenſe thee thine owne blood in wrath and iealouſie.

39 I will giue thee ouer into their handes, and they ſhall deſtroy the high place, and breake downe thy high places, they ſhall ſtrippe thee alſo out of thy clothes: thy faire iewels ſhall they take from thee, and ſo leaue thee naked and bare.

40 Yea, they ſhall bring a companie vpon thee, which ſhall ſtone thee with ſtones, ‡ thruſt thee through with their ſwords.

41 * They ſhall burne vp thy houſes with fire, and punish thee in the ſight of many women: thus will I make thee ceaſe from playing the harlot, ſo that thou ſhalt giue out no more rewards.

42 So will I make my wrath toward thee to rest, and my iealousie shall depart from thee, and I will cease, and be angry no more.

43 Seeing thou remembrest not the dayes of thy youth, but hast fretted mee in all these things: behold therefore, I will bring thine owne waies vpon thine head, saith the Lorde God, so that [m] thou shalt not commit any more mischiefe vpon all thine abominations.

44 Beholde, all they that vse common prouerbes, shall vse this prouerbe also against thee, saying, Such a [n] mother such a daughter.

45 Thou art euen thy mothers owne daughter, that hath cast off her husband and her children: yea, thou art the sister of thy [o] sisters, which forlooke their husbands and their children, your mother is an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

46 Thine eldest sister is Samaria, she and her [p] daughters that dwell vpon the left hand: but thy younger sister that dwelleth on thy right hand is Sodoma and her daughters.

47 Yet hast thou not walked after their waies, nor done after their abominations, as a little and little: but in all thy waies thou hast beene more corrupt then they.

48 As truely as I liue, saith the Lorde God, Sodoma thy sister, with her daughters, haue not done as thou hast done and thy daughters.

49 *Behold, the sinnes of thy sister Sodoma, were these, [q] Pride, fulnesse of meate, and abundance of idlenesse, these things had shee and her daughters: besides that, they strengthened not the hand of the poore and needie.

50 But they were hauty, and committed abomination before mee, therefore I tooke them away as I saw good.

51 Neither hath [r] Samaria done halfe of thy sinnes, yea, thou hast exceeded them in thine abominations, and hast [s] iustified thy sisters in all thine abominations which thou hast done.

52 Therefore thou which didst condemne thy sister, beare thine owne shame, for thine owne offences that thou hast committed more abominable then they did, which in deed are more righteous then thou art, be thou I say ashamed, and beare thy shameful rebuke, seeing that thou hast iustified thy sisters.

53 Therefore I will bring againe their captiuitie, the captiuitie of Sodom and her daughters, and the captiuitie of Samaria and her daughters, and the captiuitie of thy captiues among them, 54 That thou maiest take thine owne confusion vpon thee, and be ashamed of all that thou hast done, in that thou hast [t] comforted them.

55 And thy sister Sodom and her daughters shall returne to their former state, Samaria also and her daughters shall returne to their former state, [u] when thou and thy daughters shall returne to your former state.

56 For thy sister Sodom was not [x] heard of by thy report in the day of thy pride, 57 Before thy wickednesse was [y] discouered according to the time of the reproch of the daughters of Aram, and of all the daughters of the Philistines round about her, which despise thee on all sides.

58 Thou hast borne thy wickednesse & thine abomination, saith the Lord.

59 For thus saith the Lord God, I might by right deale with thee as thou hast done, which hast despised the [z] oth in breaking the couenant:

60 Neuertheless, I will remember my couenant with thee in the dayes of thy youth, and I will establish vnto thee an euerlasting couenant:

61 Then shalt thou remember thy waies, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receiue thy sisters, both thy elder and thy yonger: and I will giue them vnto thee for daughters, but not by thy couenant.

62 And I will establish my couenant with thee, that thou mayst know that I am the Lord, 63 That thou mayest thinke vpon it, and be [a] ashamed, and neuer open thy mouth any more for shame of thy selfe, when I am pacified toward thee for all that thou hast done, saieth the Lord God.

m Of all the heinous offences, this shalbe the last: for, God will punish ther, so that thou shalt neuer sinne more.

The xvij. Chapter.

The parable of the two Eagles.

THE word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, put forth a parable, and speake a prouerbe vnto the house of Israel,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, There came a great [a] Eagle with great wings, yea with a mightie long body, and full of feathers of diuers colours, vpon the mount of Libanus, and tooke the highest branch of a Cedar tree,

4 And brake off the top of his twigs, and caried it into the land of [b] Marchants, and set it in a citie of Marchants.

5 He tooke also of the [c] seede of the land, and planted it in a fruitfull ground, hee brought it vnto great waters, and set it in ‖ an open trench.

6 Then did it grow, and was a [d] spreading vine, but [e] lowe of stature, whose branches turned toward ‖ it, and the rootes of it were vnder it: Thus there came of it a vine, and it brought forth branches, and shot forth buds.

7 But there was an other [f] Eagle, a great one, which had great wings, & many feathers: and beholde, the rootes of this vine turned towards it, and spread out her branches towardes it, that she might water it by the trenches of her plantation,

8 It was planted vpon a good soyle, beside great waters, to that it should haue brought out braunches, and borne fruite, and beene a goodly vine.

9 Speake thou therefore, Thus saieth the Lorde God, Shall this vine prosper? shall [g] hee not pull vp the rootes thereof, and destroy the fruite thereof, and cause them to drie? all the leaues of her budde shall wither without great power, or many people to plucke it vp by the rootes thereof.

10 Behold, it was planted: Shall it prosper therefore? Shall it not be dried vp and withered? when the [h] East wind shall touch it, it shall wither in the trenches where it grew.

11 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

12 Speake nowe to the rebellious house, Knowe yee not what these things doe signifie? Tell them, Behold, the king of Babylon is come to Hierusalem, and hath taken the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and hath ledde them with him to Babylon.

a That is, Nabuchodonosor, who hath great power, riches, and many armies vnder him shall come to Hierusalem, and take away Iechonias the king, as verse 12.

13 Hee tooke of the kings seede, and made a couenant with him, and tooke an othe of him: the princes of the land tooke he with him also,

14 That the kingdome might be in subiection, and not lift vp it selfe, but keepe the couenant, and stand to it.

15 But he rebelled against him, and sent his ambassadours into Egypt, that hee might haue horses and much people: Should hee prosper? shall he escape that doth such things? or shall he breake the couenant and escape free?

16 As truly as I liue, sayth the Lord God, he shall die at Babylon in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose othe hee hath despised, & whose couenant he hath broken.

17 Neither shall Pharao with his great host and multitude of people maintaine him in the warre, when they haue cast vp mounts, and built a fort to destroy many persons.

18 For seeing he hath despised the othe, and broken the couenant (whereas hee yet gaue his [i] hand thereupon) and done all these things, hee shall not escape.

19 Therefore thus sayeth the Lorde God, As truely as I liue, I will bring mine oth that hee hath despised, and my couenant that hee hath broken, vpon his owne head.

20 I will spread my net vpon him, and hee shall be caught in my net: and I will bring him to Babylon, and enter into iudgement with him there, for the trespalle which hee hath committed against me.

21 As for those that flee from him, with all his hoste, they shall be slaine with the sword, and the residue shall be scattered towardes all the winds: and ye shall know that I the Lord haue spoken it.

22 Thus sayeth the Lorde God, I will also take off the top of this high Cedar, and will set it, and cut off the top of the tender plant thereof, and will plant it vpon an high hill and a great,

23 Namely, vpon the high hill of Israel will I plant it, that it may bring forth boughes, and giue fruit, and be an excellent Cedar, and vnder it shall remaine all birdes, and euery soule shall remaine vnder the shadowe of the braunches thereof.

24 And all the trees of the fielde shall know that I the Lorde haue brought downe the high tree, and exalted the low tree, that I haue dryed vp the greene tree, and made the drie tree to florish, euen I the Lorde that spake it, haue also brought it to passe.

[i] Because hee tooke the name of God in vaine, & brake his oth which he had confirmed by giuing his hand, therefore the Prophet declareth that God will not suffer periurie and infidelitie to escape punishment.

The xviij. Chapter.

4 Hee sheweth that euerie man shall beare his owne sinne. 21 To him that amendeth, is saluation promised.

THE word of the Lorde came vnto me, saying,

2 What meane ye by this common prouerbe, that yee vse in the lande of Israel, saying, The [a] fathers haue eaten sowre grapes, and the childrens teeth are set on edge.

3 As truely as I liue, saith the Lord God, ye shall vse this byword no more in Israel.

4 Beholde, all soules are mine like as the soule of the father is mine, so is the soule of the sonne mine also: the soule that sinneth, shall die it selfe.

[a] The people murmured at the chastisinge of the Lord, and therefore vsed this prouerbe, meaning that their fathers had sinned, and they were punished for their transgressions, read Iere. 31.

5 But if a man be iust, and doe that which is lawfull and right:

6 And hath not [b] eaten vpon the hilles, and hath not lift his eyes to the idoles of the house of Israel, neither hath defiled his neighbours wife, neither hath come neere a [c] woman remooued:

7 Neither hath oppressed any man, but hath restored to the debter his pledge: hee that hath not spoyled any by violence, hath giuen his bread to the hungry, and hath clothed the naked:

8 And hath not giuen forth vpon vsury, neither taken any encrease, and hath withdrawen his hand from iniquitie, and hath executed true iudgement betweene man and man:

9 And hath walked in my statutes, and kept my iudgements to deale truely: this is a righteous man, hee shall surely liue, saith the Lord God.

10 If hee now get a sonne that is a robber, a shedder of blood, and do any one of these things:

11 Though hee doe not all these things, but either hath eaten vpon the hilles, or defiled his neighbours wife:

12 Or hath oppressed the poore and needie, or spoyled by violence, or hath not restored the pledge, or hath lift vp his eyes vnto the idoles, or hath committed abominations:

13 Or hath giuen forth vpon vsurie, or hath taken increase: Shall this man liue? hee shall not liue: seeing he hath done all these abominations, he shall die the death, his blood shalbe vpon him.

14 Nowe if this man get a sonne also, that seeth all his fathers sinnes which he hath done, and feareth, neither doth such like:

15 Namely, that hath not eaten vpon the hils, neither hath lift vp his eyes to the Idoles of the house of Israel, nor defiled his neighbours wife:

16 Neither hath oppressed any, nor hath withholden the pledge, neither hath spoyled by violence: but hath giuen his bread to the hungrie, and hath couered the naked with a garment:

17 Neither hath withdrawen his hand from the afflicted, nor receiued vsurie nor encrease, but hath executed my iudgements, and walked in my statutes: this man shall not die in his fathers sinne, but shall liue without faile:

18 As for his father, because hee hath cruelly oppressed and spoiled his brother by violence, and hath not done good among his people, loe, he dyeth in his owne sinne.

19 And yet say ye, Wherefore then should not this sonne beare his fathers sinne? Because the sonne hath done iudgement and righteousnesse, hee hath kept all my statutes, and done them: therefore shall he liue indeed.

20 *The same soule that sinneth shall die, the sonne shall not beare the fathers iniquitie, neither shall the father beare the sonnes iniquitie: the righteousnesse of the righteous shall be vpon him, and the wickednesse of the wicked shall be vpon himselfe also.

21 But if the vngodly will turne away from all his sinnes that hee hath done, and keepe all my statutes, and doe the thing that is iudgement and right, doubtlesse hee shall liue, and not die.

22 As for all his sinnes that hee did before, they shall not be mentioned vnto him: but in

The xix. Chapter.

The captiuitie of Iehoas and Iehoiakim is signified by the Lyons whelpes, and by the Lyon.

THou also take vp a lamentation for the [a] princes of Israel, 2 And say, Wherefore lay thy mother that Lyonesse among the Lyons? shee nourished her young ones among the Lyons whelps.
a That is, Iehoas & Iehoiakim Iosias sonnes, who for their cruelty and pride are compared vnto Lyons.
3 One of her whelpes shee brought vp, and it became a Lyon, it learned to catch the pray, and to deuoure folke.
b Meaning Nabuchodonosor king of Egypt. ‖ Or, chains.
4 The [b] heathen heard of him, and caught him in their snare, and brought him in ‖ hookes vnto the land of Egypt.
c Which was Iehoiakim.
5 Now when she saw that shee had waited, and her hope was lost, she tooke another [c] of her whelpes, and made him a Lyon.
6 Which went among the Lyons, and became a fierce Lyon, learned to catch the pray, and deuoure folke.
‖ Or, and he knew their widowes.
7 He ‖ destroyed their palaces, & made their cities waste, insomuch that the whole land, and euery thing therein, were vtterly desolate thorow the noise of his roaring.
d Nabuchodonosor with his great armie, which was gathered of diuers nations.
8 Then set the [d] heathen together on euery side of the countreys against him, laid their nets for him, and tooke him in their pit.
9 So they put him in prison in chaines, and brought him to the king of Babylon: they put him in holdes, that his voyce should no more be heard vpon the mountaines of Israel.
10 As for thy [e] mother, she is like a vine in thy blood, planted by the waters: she brought forth fruite and branches by the abundant waters.
e Or speaketh this in the reproch of this wicked king, in whose blood, that is, in the race of his predecessors, Hierusalem was and so should it haue bene blessed according to Gods promise, and flouish like a fruitfull vine. Ose 13. 15.

12 But shee was plucht vp in wrath, cast out vpon the ground, *the East winde dryed vp the fruite, her braunches were broken off and withered, as for the rods of her strength, the fire consumed them.
13 And now she is planted in the wildernesse, in a dry and thirstie ground.
14 And there is a fire gone out of the rodde of her braunches, it hath deuoured her fruite, so that thee hath no strong rodde for a scepter to rule: This is a lamentation, and shall bee for a lamentation.

The xx. Chapter.

The Lorde denyeth that hee will answere them when they pray, for the offence of vnkindnesse which he here obiecteth.

IN the [a] seuenth yere, the tenth day of the fifth moneth, certaine of the Elders of Israel came for to aske counsell at the Lorde, and sate downe before me.
a Of the captiuitie of Iechonias.
2 Then came the worde of the Lorde vnto me, saying,
3 Thou sonne of man, speake vnto the Elders of Israel, and say vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God. Are ye come to enquire of me? As truely as I liue, I ‖ will not be sought of you, sayth the Lord God.
‖ Or, when I am asked, I will not answere.
4 Wilt thou iudge them, sonne of man, wilt thou iudge them? cause them to vnderstand the abominations of their fathers.
5 And tell them, Thus sayth the Lord God, In the day when I chose Israel, and [b] lift vp mine hand vpon the seed of the house of Iacob, and was knowen vnto them in the lande of Egypt, yea, when I lift vp mine hand ouer them, and sayd, I am the Lord your God:
b This was a maner of sweareng which was obserued in taking an othe of all antiquitie, and is yet in diuers countreys vsed.
6 Euen in the day that I lift vp mine hand vnto them, to bring them out of the land of Egypt, into a land that I had prouided for them, which floweth with milke and hony, and is pleasant among all other lands:
7 Then sayd I vnto them, Cast away euery man the abominations of his eyes, and defile not your selues with the idoles of Egypt: for I am the Lord your God.
8 But they rebelled against me, and would not hearken vnto me, they did not cast away euery man the abominations of his eyes, neither did they forsake the idoles of Egypt: then I said I would powre out mine indignation ouer them, and accomplish my wrath vpon them, yea, euen in the middest of the land of Egypt.
9 And I wrote for my names sake, that it should not bee polluted before the heathen, among whome they were, to whome I was manifestly knowen, in bringing them forth of the land of Egypt.

fol. Aaa3r

10 Now when I had caused them to goe out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wildernesse:

Leuit.18.5. rom.10.5. 11 *I gaue them my statutes, and shewed them my iudgements: which who so doeth, shall liue in them.

Exod.20.8. and 31.13 deut.5.12. 12 *I gaue them also my Sabboth dayes, to be a token betwixt me and them, and thereby to know that I am the Lord which halow them.

13 And yet the house of Israel rebelled against me in the wildernesse, they would not walke in my statutes, they haue cast away my iudgements, which who so doeth, shall liue in them, Exod.16.28 *and my Sabboth dayes haue they greatly polluted: Then I said I would powre out mine indignation vpon them, and consume them in the wilder nesse.

14 And I wrought for my names sake, lest it should be defiled before the Heathen, in whose sight I brought them out.

15 Yet neuertheless I lift vp my hand vnto them in the wildernesse, that I would not bring them into the land which I gaue them, that floweth with milke and honie, and is a pleasure of all lands:

16 And that because they cast away my iudgements, and walked not in my statutes, but haue defiled my Sabboths: for their heart was gone after their idoles.

17 Neuertheless mine eye spared them so that I would not destroy them, nor consume them in the wildernesse.

18 Moreouer, I said vnto their sonnes in the wilderness, Walke not in the statutes of your [c] fathers, keepe not their iudgements, and defile not your selues with their idoles.

19 I am the Lord your God, walke in my statutes, keepe my iudgements, and doe them.

20 Halowe my Sabboths, for they are a token betwirt me and you: that ye may know how that I am the Lord your God.

21 Notwithstanding, their sonnes rebelled against me also, they walked not in my statutes, they kept not my iudgements to fulfill them, which he that doeth, shall liue in them, they prophaned my Sabboth dayes, and I said, I would powre out mine indignation ouer them, and accomplish my wrath vpon them in the wildernesse.

22 Neuertheless, I withdrew my hand, and wrought for my names sake, lest it should be defiled in the sight of the heathen, before whom I had brought them forth.

23 I lift vp my hand to them also in the wildernesse, that I would scatter them among the heathen, and strawe them among the nations:

24 Because they had not kept my iudgments, but cast aside my statutes, and broken my Sabboths, and their eyes were after their fathers idoles.

25 Wherefore I [d] gaue them also statutes that were not good, and iudgements wherein they should not liue.

26 And I defiled them in their owne gifts, in that they [e] caused all that openeth the wombe to passe, that I might destroy them, that they might know how that I am the Lord.

27 Therefore speake vnto the house of Israel, thou sonne of man, and thou shalt say vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God, Yet in this also your fathers haue blasphemed mee, and grieuously transgressed against me:

28 For after I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted vp my hand to giue it vnto them, when they saw euery high hill, and all thicke trees, they offred there their sacrifices, and there they presented their offring of [f] anger, there also they made their sweete sauours, and powred out their wine offrings.

29 And I sayd vnto them, What is that high place whereunto ye resort? and the name of it is called [g] Bamah vnto this day.

30 Wherefore speake vnto the house of Israel, Thus sayth the Lord God, Are ye not defiled in the wayes of your fathers, and commit ye not whoredome after their abominations?

31 For when yee offer your gifts, and make your sonnes to passe thorow the fire, you are polluted with all your idoles vnto this day: shall I answere you when I am asked, O house of Israel? As I liue, saith the Lord God, I ‖ will not be sought of you.

32 And that which commeth into your minde shall not be at all, which you say, We will be as the Gentiles, as the kinreds of the countries to serue wood and stone.

33 As truely as I liue, saith the Lord God, I my selfe wil rule you with a mighty hand, with a stretched out arme, and with indignation powred out ouer you.

34 And I wil bring you from the people, and gather you out of the countreys, wherein ye are scattered, with a mighty hand, with a stretched out arme, and with indignation powred out.

35 And I will bring you into the [h] wildernes of the people, and there I [i] will bee iudged with you face to face.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wildernesse of Egypt: so will I pleade with you also, saith the Lord God.

37 I will cause you to passe vnder the rod, and I will bring you into the bond of the couenant.

38 And I will ‖ purge out of you the rebels, and them that transgresse against me, and bring them out of the land of their habitation: as for the land of Israel they shall not come in it, that you may know how that I am the Lord.

39 As for you, O house of Israel, thus sayth the Lord God, Goe you and serue euery man his idoles, seeing that ye obey not me: and pollute no more my holy name with your gifts and your idoles.

40 For vpon my holy hill, euen vpon the high hill of Israel, sayth the Lord God, shall all the house of Israel, and all that is in the land worship mee: and in the same place will I fauour them, and there will I require your heaue offerings, and the firstlings of your oblations, with all your holy things.

41 I will accept your sweete sauour, when I bring you from the nations, and gather you together out of the lands wherein yee haue bene scattered, that I may be halowed in you before the heathen.

42 And ye shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall bring you into the land of Israel, into the land for the which I lift vp my hand to giue it vnto your fathers.

The xxj. Chapter.

3 He threatneth the ſword, that is to ſay, deſtruction to the citie of Hieruſalem.

THE word of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying,

2 Thou ſonne of man, ſet thy face toward Hieruſalem, & [a] drop thy word toward the holy places, and prophecie againſt the land of Iſrael.

3 Say to the land of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I am againſt thee, and will draw my ſword out of the sheath, and cut off from thee both the [b] righteous and the wicked.

4 Seeing then that I wil cut off from thee both the righteous and the wicked, therfore ſhall my ſword goe out of his ſheath againſt all fleſh from the [c] South to the North,

5 That all fleſh may know how that I the Lord haue drawen my ſword out of the ſheath, and it ſhall not be put in againe.

6 Mourne therefore, O thou ſonne of man, yea, euen with the [d] breaking of thy loynts, mourne bitterly in their preſence.

7 And if they ſay vnto thee, Wherfore mourneſt thou? then tell them, For the tidings that commeth: All hearts ſhall melt, all hands ſhall be letten downe, all ſtomackes ſhal faint, and all knees ſhall goe as water: beholde, it commeth, and ſhal be brought to paſſe, ſaith the Lord God.

8 Againe, the word of the Lord came vnto me, ſaying, 9 Thou ſonne of man, prophecie and ſpeake, Thus ſaith the Lord God, Speake, The ſword, the ſword is ſharpened, and well furbiſhed.

10 Sharpened is it to make a great ſlaughter, and fourbiſhed that it may glitter: Shal we then make mirth? It contemneth the [e] rodde of my ſonne as [f] all other trees.

11 Hee hath giuen it to bee fourbiſhed, to holde it in his hand: this ſworde is ſharpened, and fourbiſhed, to giue it into the hand of the [g] ſlayer.

12 Crie and howle, ſonne of man, for it commeth vpon my people, it commeth vpon all the princes of Iſrael: the terrours of the ſword ſhall be vpon my people, ſmite therefore thou vpon thy thigh.

13 Becauſe it is a triall, and what if [h] it contemne the rodde? it ſhall bee no more, ſaith the Lord God.

14 Prophecie, thou ſonne of man, and ſmite thy hands together, and let the ſword bee [i] doubled thrife, euen the ſword of the great ſlaughter entring into their priuie chambers,

15 To make them faint at their hearts, and to multiplie their falles, in all their gates haue I giuen the terrour of the ſworde: Ah, it is made bright, and dreſſed for the ſlaughter.

16 Get thee [k] one way or other, either vpon the right hand or vpon the left, whitherſoeuer thy face turneth.

17 I will ſmite my hands together alſo, and make my wrathfull indignation to reſt: euen I the Lord haue ſayd it.

18 The word of the Lord came yet vnto me againe, ſaying,

19 Thou ſonne of man, appoint thee two [l] wayes, that the ſword of the king of Babylon may come: both theſe wayes ſhall goe out of one land, and chuſe thee a place, at the head of the cities wayes chooſe it.

20 Appoint a way that the ſword may come toward Rabbath of the Ammonites, and toward [m] Iuda in the defenced Hieruſalem.

21 For the king of Babylon ſtood at the [n] parting of the wayes, at the head of the two waies, conſulting by diuination, he made his arrowes bright, conſulted with images, and looked in the liuer.

22 At his right hand was the ſoothſaying for Hieruſalem, to appoint captaines, to open their mouth to the ſlaughter, and to lift vp their voice with the alarme, to ſet battell rammes againſt the gates, to caſt a bulwarke, and to build a fort.

23 And it ſhall be vnto them as a falſe diuination in their ſight, for the [o] othes made vnto them: but [p] he will call to remembrance their iniquitie, to the intent that they may be taken.

24 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Becauſe ye haue made your iniquitie to be remembred in diſcouering your tranſgreſſions, ſo that in all your workes your ſinnes might appeare, becauſe ye are come to remembrance, ye ſhall be taken by hand.

25 O thou ſhamefull wicked [q] prince of Iſrael, whoſe day is come, euen when wickednes ſhal haue an end, 26 Thus ſayth the Lord God, I will take away the [r] diademe, and put off the crowne: this ſhall be no more the ſame, I will exalt the humble, and abaſe him that is high.

27 Ouerthrowen, ouerthrowē, ouerthrowen will I put [t] it, and it ſhall not bee, vntill he come to whom the iudgement belongeth, & to whom I haue giuen it.

28 And thou, O ſonne of man, prophecie and ſpeake, Thus ſayth the Lord God to the children of Ammon, and to their blaſphemie, ſpeake thou, The ſword, the ſword is drawen foorth alreadie to ſlaughter, and fourbiſhed to conſume becauſe of the glittering:

29 Whiles they ſee vnto thee banitie, and diuine a lie vnto thee, to put thee with the neckes of the wicked that be ſlaine, whoſe day is come when their iniquitie ſhall haue an end.

The xxij. Chapter.

The worde of the Lorde against Hierusalem for manslaughter, and denying due honour to their fathers and mothers, and other wickednesse.

MOreouer, the worde of the Lorde came vnto me, and sayd,

2 Thou sonne of man, wilt thou not [a] iudge, wilt thou not iudge this bloodie citie? wilt thou not shewe her all her abominations?

3 And tell them, Thus sayth the Lord God, The citie sheddeth blood in the middest of it, that her [b] time may come, and maketh idoles [c] against her selfe, to defile her selfe.

4 Thou hast made thy selfe guiltie in the blood that thou hast shed, and defiled thee in the idoles which thou hast made: thou hast caused thy daies to draw nigh, and made the time of thy yeeres to come: therefore will I make thee a reproch among the heathen, and to be a mocking in all lands.

5 Whether they be nigh or farre from thee, they shall laugh thee to scorne, thou that hast gotten thee so foule a name, and art full of trouble.

6 Beholde the rulers of Israel, euery one in thee was readie to his power to shed blood.

7 In thee haue they despised father and mother, in thee haue they oppressed the stranger, in thee haue they vexed the widow and the fatherlesse.

8 Thou hast despised my holy things, and defiled my Sabboths.

9 ‖Tale tellers are there in thee to shead blood, in thee are such as eate vpon the hils, and in the midst of thee they commit abomination,

10 In thee they discouered their fathers shame, in thee they haue humbled her that was set apart for pollution.

11 *Euery man hath dealt shamefully with his neighbors wife, and abominably defiled his ‖ daughter in lawe, in thee hath euery man vexed his owne sister, euen his fathers daughter.

12 Yea, giftes haue beene receiued in thee to shed blood, thou hast taken vsurie and increase, thou hast oppressed thy neighbours by extortion, and forgotten me, sayth the Lord God.

13 Behold, I haue [d] smitten my hands vpon thy couetousnesse that thou hast vsed, and vpon the blood which hath beene shed in the middest of thee.

14 Is thy heart able to endure? or may thy hands be strengthened in the dayes that I shall haue to doe with thee? Euen I the Lorde that speake it, will bring it also to passe.

15 I will scatter thee among the heathen, and straw thee about in the lands, and wil cause thy filthinesse to [e] cease out of thee.

16 Yea, and thou shalt be thine [f] owne inheritance in the sight of the heathen, that thou mayest know that I am the Lord.

17 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

18 Thou sonne of man, the house of Israel is vnto me as drosse: all they are brasse, tin, yron, and lead in the midst of the furnace, euen drosse of siluer are they.

19 Therefore thus sayeth the Lord God, For as much as yee all are turned into drosse, therefore beholde, I will bring you together vnto Hierusalem.

20 Like as they gather siluer, brasse, yron, tin, and lead into the middest of the furnace, and the fire is blowen thereunder to melt them: euen so will I gather you in mine anger and in my wrath, and let you remaine there, and cause you to [g] melt.

21 I will bring you together, and blowe the fire of my wrath vpon you, and ye shalbe molten in the middest thereof.

22 Like as the siluer is molten in the middest of the furnace, so shall ye also be molten therein, that ye may know how that I the Lorde haue powred my wrath vpon you.

23 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

24 Thou sonne of man, tell her, Thou art an vncleane land, which is not [h] rained vpon in the day of wrath.

25 There is a [i] conspiracie of her Prophets in the midst thereof: as a roaring Lyon rauening his pray they deuoure soules, they haue taken the rich and precious things, they haue made her many widowes in the middest thereof, 26 Her priests haue broken my law, and defiled my holy things, they put no difference betweene the holy and vnholy, neither discerne they betweene the cleane and vncleane: they turne their eyes from my Sabbaths, and I am defiled among them.

27 Thy rulers in the middest of thee are like wolues rauening the pray, to shed blood, and destroy soules for their owne couetous lucre.

28 As for her [k] prophets, they dawbe with vntempered morter, they see vanities, and diuine lyes vnto them, saying, The Lorde sayeth so: whereas the Lord hath not spoken.

29 The people in the land vsed wicked extortion and robberie, they vexed the poore and needy, and oppressed the stranger against right.

30 And I sought among them for a man that would [l] make vp the hedge, and set himselfe in the gappe before me in the lands behalfe that I should not destroy it: but I could find none.

there were their breasts pressed, and there they bruised the teates of their virginitie.

4 The [c] names of them were Aholah the elder, and Aholibah her sister, and they were mine, and they bare sonnes and daughters: thus were their names, Samaria is Aholah, and Hierusalem Aholibah.

5 Aholah played the harlot [d] when she was mine, and she was set on fire with her lovers the Assyrians her neighbours:

6 Which were clothed with blew silke, both captaines and princes, they were all pleasant young men, and horsemen riding upon horses.

7 Thus she committed her whoredome with them, being all chosen men of Asshur, and with all on whom she doted, and defiled her selfe with all her idoles.

8 Neither left she the fornication that she used with ỹ Egyptians: for in her youth they [e] lay with her, they bruised the breasts of her maidenhead, and powred their whoredome upon her.

9 Wherefore I deliuered her into the hands of her lovers, euen into the hands of the Assyrians upon whom she doted.

10 These discouered her shame, tooke her sonnes and daughters, and slewe her with the sword, an euill name had she among women: for they had executed iudgement upon her.

11 Her sister Aholibah saw this, and destroied her selfe with inordinate loue more then she, and with her fornications, more then her sister with her fornications.

12 Shee doted upon the Assyrians captaines and princes her neighbors, clothed with all maner of gorgeous apparell, horsemen riding upon horses, being all pleasant young men.

13 Then I saw that she was defiled, and they tooke both one way.

14 But shee encreased still in whoredome: for when she sawe men painted upon the wall, the [f] images of the Chaldees painted with vermilion,

15 And girded with girdles upon their loines, and with dyed attyre upon their heads, looking all like princes, after the maner of the Babylonians in Chaldea, the land where they were borne:

16 As soone as she saw them, she burnt in loue upon them, and sent messengers unto them, into the land of the Chaldees.

17 Now when the Babylonians came unto her in the bed of loue, they defiled her with their whoredome: and so was she polluted with them, and her lust was abated from them.

18 And she discouered her whoredome, and discloled her shame: then my heart forsooke her, like as my heart was gone from her sister also.

19 Neuertheless, she encreased her whoredome more, and remembred the dayes of her youth, wherein she had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 Shee burnt in lust upon their lechers, whose flesh was like the flesh of asses, and their issue like the issue of horses.

21 Thus thou hast called to remembrance the filthinesse of thy youth, when thy teates were bruised by the Egyptians, for the paps of thy youth.

22 Therefore, O Aholibah, thus sayth the Lord God, I will raise up thy lovers against thee from whom thy heart is departed, and gather them together against thee on euery side.

23 Namely, the Babylonians and all the Chaldees, ‖rulers, wealthy, and mighty men, with al the Assyrians, and pleasant yong men, captaines and princes, all valiant and renowmed, riding upon horses. ‖Or, Peked, and Shoah and Koa.

24 These shall come upon thee with charets, weapons, and wheeles, and great multitude of people, with buckler, shield, and helmet they shal beset thee on euery side: ‖I will giue iudgement before them, yea, they themselues shal iudge thee according to their owne iudgement. ‖Or, I will leaue the punishment vnto them.

25 I will lay mine indignation upon thee, so that they shall deale cruelly with thee: they shall cut off thy nose and thine eares, and thy raiment shall fall by the sword, they shall carie away thy sonnes and daughters, and the residue shall bee deuoured by the fire.

26 They shal strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy faire iewels.

27 Thus will I make thy wickednes to cease from thee, and thy fornication out of the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt turne thine eyes no more after them, and call thy minde no more upon Egypt.

28 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will deliuer thee into the hands of them whom thou hatest, yea, euen into the hands of them from whom thine heart is departed.

29 And they shall deale hatefully with thee, and take away all thy [g] labour, and leaue thee naked, and bare, and the shame of thy fornications [h] shall bee discouered, both thy wickednesse and thy whoredome.

30 I will doe these things unto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idoles.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister, therefore will I giue her cup into thine hand.

32 Thus saieth the Lord God, Thou shalt drinke of thy sisters cuppe deepe and large, thou shalt be laughed to scorne, and had in derision, because it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt bee filled with [i] drunkennesse and sorowe, euen with the cuppe of destruction and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

34 Thou shalt drinke it, and sucke it out, and thou shalt breake the sheards thereof, and teare thine owne breasts: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

35 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, For asmuch as thou hast forgotten me, and cast mee aside behind thy backe, so beare now thine owne wickednesse and whoredome.

36 The Lord sayd moreouer unto me, Thou sonne of man, wilt thou not iudge Aholah, and Aholibah? shew them their abominations.

37 Namely that they haue broken their wedlocke, and blood is in their handes: and with their idoles haue they committed adulterie, and haue also caused their sonnes whom they bare unto mee, to passe by the fire to bee their [k] meate.

38 Yea, and this haue they done unto me also, they haue defiled my Sanctuarie in the same day, and haue prophaned my Sabboths.

39 For when they had slaine their children for their idoles, they came the same day into my sanctuarie to defile it: and loe, thus haue

47 And the multitude shall stone them with stones, and cut them downe with their swords, they shall slay their sonnes and daughters, and burne vp their houses with fire.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

He prooueth the firing of Hierusalem by a parable of a seething pot.

AGAIN the [a] ninth yeere, in the tenth moneth, the tenth day of the [b] moneth, came the worde of the Lord vnto me, saying,

2 O thou sonne of man, write thee the name of this day, yea, euen of this present day: for the king of Babylon set himselfe against Hierusalem this selfe same day.

3 And shew the rebellious house a parable, and speake vnto them, Thus saieth the Lord God, Prepare a [c] pot, set it on, and powre water into it.

4 Gather the [d] pieces thereof into it, euery good piece, the thigh and the shoulder, and fill it with the chiefe bones.

5 Take one of the best sheepe, ‖ and burne also bones vnder it, let it boyle well, let the bones thereof seeth well therein.

6 With that said the Lord God on this maner, Woe vnto the bloodie citie, to the pot whose scumme is therein, and whose scum is not gone out of it: bring it out [e] piece by piece, let no [f] lot fall vpon it.

7 For her blood is in the middest of it, vpon a high drie [g] stone hath she powred it, and not vpon the ground, that it might be couered with dust:

8 That it might cause wrath to arise, and take vengeance: I haue set her blood vpon an high drie rocke, that it should not be couered.

9 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God, *Woe be vnto the bloodthirstie citie, for whom euen I my selfe will make a great fire. Nahum.3.1 habac.2.12.

10 And heape on much wood, and [h] kindle the fire, and seeth the flesh, and ‖ spice the pot, so that the very bones shalbe burnt.

11 Moreouer, I will set the pot emptie vpon the coales, so that the brasse thereof may be hot and burnt, and the filthinesse of it may be molten in it, and the scum of it shalbe consumed.

12 She hath wearied her selfe with ‖ labour, yet her great scum is not gone off her, in the fire her scum must be consumed.

13 In thy filthinesse is wickednesse: because I [i] would haue purged thee, and thou wast not purged from thy filthinesse, thou shalt not bee purged any more, till I haue caused mine indignation to rest in thee.

14 Euen I the Lord haue spoken it: yea, it is come thereto alreadie that I will doe it, I will not goe backe, I will not spare, I will not repent: but according to thy wayes and imaginations shall they iudge [k] thee, saith the Lord.

15 And the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

16 Thou sonne of man, behold, I will take away from thee the [l] pleasure of thine eyes with a plague, yet shalt thou neither mourne nor weepe, neither shall thy teares run downe.

17 Mourne in silence, make no mourning of the dead, bind the tyre of thy head vpon thee, and put on thy shooes vpon thy feete, couer not thy lips, and [m] eate no mans bread.

18 So I spake vnto the people betimes in the morning, and at euen my wife died: then vpon the next morrow I did as I was commanded.

19 And the people said vnto me, Wilt thou not tell vs what this signifieth toward vs, that thou doest so?

20 I answered them, The worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

21 Tell the house of Israel, Thus saieth the Lord God, Behold, I will pollute my sanctuarie, euen the glory of your power, the pleasure of your eyes, and your hearts delite: and your sonnes and daughters whom you haue left, shal fall through the sword.

22 Like as I haue done, so shall ye do also: ye shall not couer your lips, ye shall eate no mans bread, 23 And your tyre shall be vpon your heads, and your shooes vpon your feete: yee shall neither mourne nor weepe, but ye shall pine away in your iniquities, and mourne one towardes another.

24 Thus Ezechiel is your shew-token: according to all that he hath done, ye shall doe: when it commeth, then ye shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Also, thou sonne of man, shall it not be in the day when I take from them their power, the ioy of their honour, the pleasure of their eyes, and the [n] lifting vp of their soules, their sonnes and their daughters?

26 In that day shall come one that is escaped, vnto thee [o] and bring it to the hearing of thine eares.

The xxv. Chapter.

2 The word of the Lord vpon the sonnes of Ammon, which reioyced at the fall of Hierusalem. 8 Against Moab and Seir, against Idumea, against the Philistines.

THe worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, set thy face toward the Ammonites, and prophecie vpon them,

3 And say vnto the Ammonites, Heare the word of the Lord God, Thus saieth the Lord God, Forasmuch as thou saidest, [a] Ha, ha, ouer my Sanctuarie because it was polluted, and ouer the land of Israel because it was desolate, and ouer the house of Juda because they went into captiuitie:

4 Behold therefore, I will deliuer thee to the people of the [b] East, that they may haue thee in possession: these shall settle their [c] palaces in thee, & make their dwellings in thee, they shal eate thy fruite, and drinke vp thy milke.

5 As for [d] Rabbath, I will make of it a stable for camels, and of the Ammonites a sheepefold: and ye shall know that I am the Lord.

6 For thus saieth the Lorde God, Insomuch as thou hast clapped with thine handes, and stamped with thy feete, yea, and reioyced ouer the land of Israel with all thy ‖despite in heart:

7 Beholde therefore, I will stretch out my hand ouer thee, and deliuer thee to be spoyled of the Heathen, and roote thee out from among the people, & cause thee to perish out of the lands, yea, I will make thee to be destroyed, that thou mayest know that I am the Lord.

8 Thus saith the Lord God, Forasmuch as Moab and Seir doe say, Behold, the house of Juda is like as all Gentiles be:

9 Therefore behold, I will open the side of Moab from the cities, from the cities I say of his frontiers, the pleasures of the countrey, as namely Bethiesmoth, Baalmeon, and Kiriathaim:

10 [e] Vnto the children of the East, against the Ammonites, and will giue it into possession, so that the Ammonites shall no more be had in remembrance among the Heathen.

11 And I wil execute iudgements vpon Moab: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

12 Thus saith the Lord God, For that Edom hath done in auenging reuengement vpon the house of Juda, and hath done great offence, and auenged himselfe vpon them:

13 Therefore thus saieth the Lord God, I will reach out mine hand vpon Edom, and destroy man and beast out of it, I will make it desolate from Theman, and Dedanah shall fall by the sword.

14 And I wil execute my reuengement vpon Edom by the hand of my people Israel, they shal doe in Edom according to my wrath and indignation, so that they shall know my vengeance, saith the Lord God.

15 Thus saith the Lord God, For that the Philistines did in vengeance, namely in auenging reuengement, with a ‡despitefull heart to destroy it for the olde enmitie:

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will stretch out my hand ouer the Philistines, and destroy the [f] Cerethites, and cause all the remnant of the sea coast to perish:

17 A great vengeance wil I take vpon them, with punishments of my wrath, that they may know that I am the Lord, when I shall lay my vengeance vpon them.

The xxvj. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth that Tyrus shalbe ouerthrowen, because it reioyced at the destruction of Hierusalem.

ANd it came to passe in the [a] eleuenth yeere, the first day of the moneth, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, because that Tyre hath spoken vpon Hierusalem, Ha, ha, the gates of the people is broken, [b] it is turned vnto me, for now that he is destroyed I shal be [c] filled:

3 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, O Tyre, I will vpon thee, I will raise vp many nations against thee, like as when the sea ariseth with his waues.

4 They shall breake the walles of Tyre, and cast downe her towres, I will scrape her dust from her, and make her a drie rocke.

5 She shalbe for a spreading of nets in the sea, for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God, and she shalbe for a spoyle to the nations.

6 Her [d] daughters that are in the field shalbe slaine with the sword, that they may know how that I am the Lord.

7 For thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring vpon Tyrus Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon frō the North, a king of kings, with horses, charets, horsemen, with a multitude, and much people.

8 Thy daughters that are in the fielde shall he slay with the sword: but against thee he shall make bulwarks, and cast a mount against thee, and lift vp his speare against thee.

9 He shall set engins of warre before him against thy wals, and with his weapons breake downe thy towres.

10 The dust of his horses shall couer thee they shall be so many, thy walles shall shake at the noyse of the horsemen, wheeles, and charets, when he shall enter into thy gates, as into the entrie of a citie broken downe.

11 With the hoofes of his horses shal he tread downe all thy streetes: hee shall slay the people with the sword, and the pillars of thy strength shall fall downe to the ground.

12 They shall robbe thy riches, and spoile thy marchandize, thy wals shal they breake downe, and destroy thy houses of pleasure, thy stones, thy timber, and dust shall they cast into the mids of the water.

13 *Thus wil I cause the sound of thy songs to cease, and the noise of thy harpes shal no more be heard.

14 I will bring thee into a drie rocke, thou shalt be for a spreading of nets, thou shalt neuer be built againe: for euen I the Lord haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

18 Now shall the inhabiters of the Iles bee astonished in the day of thy fall: yea, the Iles that are in the sea shall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus saith the Lorde God, When I make thee a desolate citie, as other cities be that no man dwell in, and when I bring vp the deepe vpon thee, that great waters may couer thee:

20 Then will I cast thee downe vnto them that descend into the pit, vnto a people of [g] olde time, and set thee in a land that is beneath, like the olde ruines, with them which goe downe to the graue, so that no man shall dwell more in thee: but I will reserue honour for the [h] land of the liuing.

31 They shall [1] make themselues balde for thee, and gird them with sackcloth, and they shal weepe for thee with sorowfull heart and bitter mourning.

32 And they shall take vp a lamentation for thee in their mourning, and lament ouer thee: What citie is like Tyrus, so destroied in the middest of the sea?

33 When thy wares went forth of the seas, thou filledst many people: the kings of the earth hast thou made rich, through the multitude of thy riches and marchandize.

34 When thou shalt be broken by the seas in the depthes of the waters, thy marchandize, and all thy multitude that was in the mids of thee, shall fall.

35 All the inhabitants of the yles shalbe astonied at thee, and al their kings shalbe sore afraid, and troubled in their countenance.

36 The marchants of the nations shall hisse at thee: thou shalt be a terrour, and shalt [m] neuer be any more.

The xxviij. Chapter.

The word of God against the king of Tyrus for his pride.

THe worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, Tel the prince of Tyre, Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Because thou hast a proud heart, and hast said, I am [a] God, I sit in the seat of God, in the middest of the sea: whereas thou art but a man, and not God, [b] though thou set thine heart as the heart of God.

3 Beholde, thou thinkest thy selfe wiser then [c] Daniel, that there is no secret hid from thee.

4 With thy great wisedome and thine vnderstanding thou hast gotten thee great wealthinesse, and gathered treasure of siluer & gold.

5 With thy great wisedome and occupying hast thou encreased thy ‖ power, and because of thy great riches thy heart is proud.

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, For so much as thou hast set thine heart as the heart of God:

7 Behold, I wil bring strangers vpon thee, euen the terrible nations, these shall draw out their swords vpon the beautie of thy wisedome, and shall defile thy glory.

8 They shall cast thee downe to the pit, so that thou shalt die the death of them that be slain in the middest of the sea.

9 Wilt thou say then before them that slay thee, I am a God: whereas thou art but a man, and not God, in the hands of them that slay thee?

10 Die shalt thou the death of the [d] vncircumcised in the hands of the strangers: for I haue spoken it, saith the Lord God.

11 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

12 Thou sonne of man, take vp a lamentation vpon the king of Tyre, and tell him, Thus saith the Lord God, Thou sealest vp the summe, [e] full of wisedome and perfit beautie.

13 Thou hast bene in the pleasant garden of God, thou art deckt with all maner of precious stones, with Rubie, Topas, Diamond, Turkeis, Onix, Jasper, Saphyr, Emerauld, Carbuncle, and golde: the workemanship of thy Tymbrels, and of thy pipes that be in thee, was prepared in the day that thou wast created.

14 Thou art an [f] anointed Cherub that couereth, and I haue set thee in this dignity, thou wast vpon the holy mount of God, thou hast walked in the middes of the stones of fire.

15 From the time of thy creation thou hast bene perfect in thy wayes, till wickednesse was found in thee.

16 By the multitude of thy merchandize they haue filled the middes of thee with cruelty, and thou hast sinned: I will cast thee as prophane out of the [g] mount of God, and I will destroy thee, O couering Cherub, from the mids of the stones of fire.

17 Thy heart was proud in thy beautie, and through thy brightnesse thou hast destroyed thy wisedom: I will cast thee downe to the ground, I will lay thee before kings, that may beholde thee.

18 Thou hast defiled thy [h] sanctification with the great wickednesse of thine vnrighteous occupying: I will bring a fire from the middest of thee, to consume thee, and will make thee to ashes vpon the earth, in the sight of all them that looke vpon thee.

19 All they that haue bene acquainted with thee among the heathen, shalbe abashed at thee: thou hast bene a terrour, and neuer shalt thou be any more.

20 And the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

21 Thou sonne of man, set thy face against Sidon, and prophesie vpon it,

22 And speake, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, O Sidon, I will vpon thee, and I will bee glorified in the middes of thee: that it may bee knowen how that I am the Lord, when I shall haue executed iudgements in her, and shall bee sanctified in her.

23 For I will send pestilence and bloodshedding into her streetes, and the slaine shall fall in the middest of her by the swords comming vpon her on euery side: and they shall know that I am the Lord 24 They shal be no more a pricking thorne vnto the house of Israel, nor a grieuous thorne of all that are round about them, and despised them: and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

25 Thus sayth the Lord God, when I gather the houshold of Israel together againe from the nations among whom they be scattered, then shall I bee sanctified in them in the sight of the Gentiles, and they shall dwell in the land that I gaue to my seruant Jacob.

26 They shall dwell with confidence therein, build houses, and plant vineyards, yea, with confidence shall they dwell therein when I haue executed iudgements vpon all those that despise them round about, and then shal they know that I am the Lord their God.

IN the [a] tenth yeere, vpon the twelfth day of the tenth moneth, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, set thy face against Pharao the king of Egypt, prophecie against him, and against the whole land of Egypt.

3 Speake and tell him, Thus saieth the Lord God, Behold, O Pharao, thou king of Egypt, I will vpon thee thou great Dragon, [b] that lieth in the middes of his riuers, thou that sayest, The riuer is mine, I haue made it for my selfe.

4 I will put [c] hookes in thy chawes, & hang thy fish in thy riuers vpon thy skales: after that, I will draw thee out of the mids of thy riuers, yea, and all the fish of thy riuers shall hang vpon thy skales.

5 I will leaue thee in the wildernesse, both thee and all the fish of thy riuers: thou shalt fall vpon the open field, thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: I haue giuen thee for meate to the beasts of the field, and to the foules of the ‖ ayre,

6 That all they which dwell in Egypt, may know that I am the Lorde, because they haue bene a staffe of reede to the house of Israel.

7 When they tooke holde of thee with their hand, thou brakest and rent all their shoulder: and when they leaned vpon thee, thou brakest and madest all their loynes to stand vpright.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lorde God, Behold, I wil bring a sword vpon thee, and destroy out of thee both man and beast.

9 Yea, the land of Egypt shalbe desolate and waste, and they shall know that I am the Lord, because he said, The riuer is mine, I my selfe haue made it.

10 Beholde therefore, I will vpon thee, and vpon thy riuers, I will make the land of Egypt vtterly waste and desolate, from the towre of Seueneh, vnto the borders of Ethiopia.

11 No foote of man shall passe by it, nor foote of beast shal passe by it, neither shall it be inhabited fourtie yeeres.

12 I will make the land of Egypt to be desolate among other waste countries, and her cities destroyed fourtie yeres among other destroied cities: & I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and straw them thorow the countreys.

13 Againe, thus saith the Lord God, When the fourtie yeeres are expired, I will gather the Egyptians together againe out of the nations among whom they were scattered.

14 And I will bring the captiuitie of Egypt againe, and cause them to returne into the land of Pathros, the land of their habitation, and they shalbe there a [d] small kingdome.

15 Yea, it shall be the smallest among other kingdomes, neither shal it exalt it selfe any more aboue the nations: for I will so minish them, that they shall no more rule the nations.

16 And they shall be no more vnto the house of Israel a trust, which bringeth their iniquitie to remembrance, when they shall looke after them: and they shall knowe that I am the Lord God.

17 In the [e] twentie and seuenth yeere, the first day of the first moneth, came the word of the Lord vnto me, saying,

18 Thou sonne of man, Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon caused his armie to serue a great seruice against Tyre: euery head was made bald, and euery shoulder bare, yet had neither he nor his armie any wages for Tyrus for the seruice which he serued against it.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will giue the land of Egypt vnto Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon, that he may take away her multitude, and spoile her spoiles, and take her pray to pay his hoste their wages withall.

20 For the ‡ worke which he wrought about it, I haue giuen him the land of Egypt, because they wrought for mee, saith the Lord God. ‡ The trauel they tooke about Tyre.

21 In that day I will cause the horne of the house of Israel to bud forth, and I wil giue thee the opening of thy mouth in the midst of them: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

The xxx. Chapter.

The destruction of Egypt, and of his cities is bewailed.

THE word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, prophecie, and speake, Thus saieth the Lorde God, Howle, woe worth this day:

3 For the day is neere, the day of the Lorde is at hand, the ‡ darke day, the time of the nations shall be. ‡ A cloudie day.

4 And the sworde shall come vpon Egypt: and feare shall be in Ethiopia when the slaine shall fall in Egypt: and they shall take away her multitude, and her foundations shall be broken downe.

5 Yea, Ethiopia, Libya, and Lydia, all their common people, and Chub, and all that be confederate vnto them, shal fall with them thorough the sword.

6 Thus saith the Lord, The mainteiners of the land of Egypt shal fall, the pride of her power shall come downe, euen from the towre of [a] Seueneh shall they fall downe in it with the sword, saith the Lord God. a Which was a strong citie of Egypt.

7 Among other desolate countries they shal be made desolate, among other waste cities they shalbe wasted.

8 And they shall know that I am the Lord, when I haue set a fire in Egypt, and when all her helpers shalbe destroyed.

9 In that day shall messengers goe forth from me in ships, to make the careless Morians afraid, and feare shal come vpon them, according to the day of Egypt: for loe, it commeth.

10 Thus saith the Lord God, I wil cause the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon.

11 He, and his people with him, the terrible nations shal be brought to destroy the land: they shall draw out their swords vpon Egypt, and fill the land full of slaine men.

12 I will make their riuers drie, and sell the land into the hands of wicked people: the land and all that is therein I will destroy thorough the hand of strangers: euen I the Lorde haue said it.

15 And I will powre out my wrathful indignation vpon Sin the strength of Egypt, and I will destroy the multitude of No.

19 Thus will I execute my iudgements in Egypt, and they shall know how that I am the Lord.

20 And in the [f] eleuenth yeere, vpon the seuenth day of the first moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

21 Thou sonne of man, I haue [g] broken the arme of Pharao king of Egypt: and loe, it shall not be bound vp to be healed, to put a roller to binde it, to make it strong to hold the sword.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will vpon Pharao king of Egypt, and breake his arme that was strong, but is broken: and I will cause the sword to fal out of his hand.

23 As for the Egyptians, I will scatter them among the nations, and straw them in the lands about.

24 Againe, I will strengthen the arme of the king of Babylon, and giue him my sword in his hand, but I will breake Pharaos armes, and he shall grone the gronings of a deadly wounded man before him:

25 Yea, I will strengthen the king of Babylons arme, and the armes of Pharao shall fall downe: and they shal know that I am the Lord, when I shall [h] giue my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, that he may stretch it out vpon the land of Egypt.

26 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and straw them in the lands about: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

The xxxj. Chapter.

1 A comparison of the prosperitie of Pharao, with the prosperitie of the Assyrians. 10 He propheciseth a like destruction to them both.

[a] Moreouer, in the [a] eleuenth yeere, the first day of the third moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, speake vnto Pharao king of Egypt, and to all his people, Whom art thou [b] like in thy greatnesse?

3 Behold, Assur is a Cedar in Libanon, with faire branches, and with thicke shadowing boughes of a high stature, and his top was among the thicke boughes.

4 The waters made him great, and the deepe set him vp on high, with the riuers running round about his plants, and set out her [c] litle riuers vnto all the trees of the field.

5 Therefore was he higher then all the trees of the field, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches were long, because of the multitude of the waters which the deepe sent out.

6 All foules of the ‖ ayre made their nests in his branches, vnder his boughs did al the beasts of the field bring foorth their young, and vnder his shadow dwelt all mightie nations.

7 Beautifull was he in his greatnesse, and in the length of his branches: for his roote stood beside great waters.

8 No Cedar tree might [d] hide him in the garden of God, there was no firre trees like his branches, the Chessenut trees were not like the boughes of him: all the trees in the garden of God might not be compared vnto him in his beautie.

9 I made him faire with the multitude of his branches: insomuch that all the trees in the pleasant garden of God had enuie at him.

10 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, For so much as he hath lift vp himselfe so high, & hath shot vp his top among the thicke boughes, and his heart is lift vp in his height:

11 I haue therefore deliuered him into the hands of the [e] mightiest among the heathen: he shall handle him, for in his wickednesse haue I cast him away.

12 And strangers haue destroyed him, euen the terrible nations, and haue left him: vpon the mountaines, and vpon all valleys haue his boughes fallen, and his boughes are [f] broken by all the riuers of the lande: and all the people of the earth are departed from his shadow, and haue forsaken him.

13 Vpon his ruine shall all the foules of the ‖ ayre remaine, and all the beasts of the field shal be vpon his branches.

14 So that none of all the trees by the waters shalbe exalted in their height, nor shoote vp their tops among the thicke boughes, neither shall their trees stand in their height, as many of them as drinke water: for they are all deliuered vnto death in the neather parts of the earth, in the midst of the children of men, among them that goe downe to the pit.

15 Thus saieth the Lord God, In the day when he went downe to the graue, I caused a lamentation to be made, I [g] couered the deepe for him, I restrained the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed, I caused Libanus to mourne for him, and all the trees of the field fainted.

16 I made the heathen shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him downe to hell with them that descend into the pit: all the excellent trees of Eden, and the best of Libanus, all that [h] drinke waters, shalbe [i] comforted in the neather partes of the earth.

17 They also went downe to hell with him vnto them that be slaine with the sword, which were his arme, and dwelt vnder his shadowe in the midst of the nations.

18 To whom art thou thus like in glory and in greatnesse among the trees of Eden? yet thou shalt be cast downe with the trees of Eden, vnto the neather parts of the earth: in the midst of the vncircumcised shalt thou sleepe with them that are slaine with the sword: This is Pharao and all his multitude, saith the Lord God.

The xxxij. Chapter.

2 The Prophet is commaunded to bewaile Pharao king of Egypt. 12 Hee prophecieth that destruction shall come vnto Egypt through the king of Babylon.

a Which was the first yeere of the generall captiuitie vnder Iedechias.

IN the a twelfth yeere, the first day of the twelfth moneth, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, take vp a lamentation vpon Pharao the king of Egypt, and say vnto him, Thou art b like a Lion of the heathen, and as a whale fish in the sea: thou drawest out thy riuers, thou c troublest the waters with thy feete, and stampest in their riuers.

b Thus the Scriptures compare tyrannes to cruell & hunge beastes, which deuoure all that bee weaker then they, and such as they may ouercome.

c Thou disquietest the world with warre.

3 Thus saith the Lord God, I wil spread my net ouer thee with a great multitude of people, these shall make thee come vp into my net.

4 For I will leaue thee vpon the land, and cast thee vpon the open field, and I will cause all the fowles of the ayre to remaine vpon thee, and fill all the beasts of the field with thee.

d With the heapes of the carkeises of thine armie.

5 Thy flesh will I lay vpon the hils, and fill the valleys with thy d highnesse.

e As Nilus ouerfloweth Egypt, so will I make the blood of them hast to ouerflowe.

6 I wil e water thine ouerflowing land with thy blood, euen to the mountaines, and the riuers shalbe full of thee.

7 When thou art put out, I will couer the heauen, and make his starres dim: I wil spread a cloud ouer the Sunne, and the Moone shall not giue her light.

8 All the lights of heauen wil I make darke for thee: and bring darknes vpon thy land, saith the Lord.

9 I will stirre vp to anger the hearts of many people, when I bring thy destruction among the heathen, and vpon the countreyes which thou knowest not.

10 Yea, I will make many people amazed at thee, and their kings shall bee astonished with feare for thee, when I shall make my sworde to glitter against their faces: and they shalbe afraid at euery moment, euery man for his owne life, in the day of thy fall.

11 For thus saith the Lord God, The king of Babylons sword shall come vpon thee:

12 With the swordes of the mightie will I smite downe thy multitude: they all shal be terrible nations, and they shall destroy the f pompe of Egypt, and the multitude thereof shalbe consumed.

f This came to passe in lesse then fourety yeeres after the prophecie.

13 I will destroy also all the beastes thereof from the great water sides, neither shall the foote of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofes of beastes trouble them.

14 Then will I make their waters g deepe, and cause their riuers to runne like h oyle, saith the Lord.

g The inhabitantes of Egypt shall be so cleane destroyed, that there shall remaine none to driue the waters out of the riuers to water their ground as before, wherefore it shalbe the deeper in his channell.

h That is, cleere and vntroubled with feete passing thorowe the floodes.

15 When I make the land of Egypt desolate, and when the countrey with all that is therein shall be laide waste, and when I smite all them which dwell in it, then shall they know that I am the Lord.

16 This is the mourning when they shall lament her, The daughters of the nations shall lament her, they shall make the lamentation ouer Egypt, and ouer all the people thereof, saith the Lord.

17 In the twelfth yeere, the fifteenth day of the moneth, came the worde of the Lord vnto me, saying,

18 Thou sonne of man, lament for the multitude of Egypt, and i cast them downe, euen them, & the daughters of the famous nations, to the neather partes of the earth, with them that goe downe into the pit.

i That is, propheeie that they shall be cast downe. Thus the Lord giueth power both to plant and to destroy by his worde.

19 Whom doest thou passe in k beautie? goe downe and sleepe with the vncircumcised.

k Hatte not other kingdoms more beautifull then thou perished?

20 Among those that be slaine with the sword shal she lie, to the sword is l she already deliuered: draw her downe, and all her multitude.

l That is, Egypt.

21 The m mightie worthies shall speake to her out of the middest of hell, and to her helpers: they are gone downe and sleepe with the vncircumcised that be slaine with the sword.

m To make the matter more lothsome, he bringeth in Pharao as though ye dead should mocke him when he is slaine, and marueile at him.

22 Assur is there also with all his companie, and their graues round about him, which were slaine and fell all with the sword:

23 Whose graues are made in the side of the pit, and his multitude are round about his graue, to wit, all the slaine are fallen by the sword, which cause a feare to be in the lande of the liuing.

24 There is Elam also, with all his people round about his graue, which all being slaine and fallen with the sword, are gone downe vncircumcised vnder the earth, which neuertheless sometime brought feare into the land of the n liuing: they beare their owne shame, with the other that be gone downe to the graue.

n They which being alme, were a terrour to all y world, nowe being dead, are despised both of the liuing and the dead.

25 They haue made his bed in the middest of the slaine, with al his multitude, their graues are round about him: all these vncircumcised slaine by the sworde, although they caused their feare in the land of the liuing, yet haue they borne their shame with them that go down to the pit, they are laide in the midst of them that are slaine.

26 There is o Meschech also and Tubal, and their people, and their graues round about him: these all vncircumcised were slaine with the sword, because afore time they made the land of the liuing afraid.

o That is, the Cappadocians and Italians, or Spaniardes, as Iosephus writeth.

27 They shal not lie with the p valiant which are fallen of the vncircumcised, which are gone downe to the graue with their weapons of war, and haue laide their swords vnder their heads: but their iniquitie shalbe vpon their bones, because the terrour of their mighty was in the land of the liuing.

p Which died not by cruell death, but by y course of nature, and are honourably buried with their coate armour, and signes of honour.

28 Yea, and among the vncircumcised shalt thou be destroyed, and sleepe with them that perished through the sword.

29 There is Edom with her kings and princes also, which with their strength are laide by them that are slaine with the sword: yea among the vncircumcised shall they sleepe, & with them which are gone downe into the pit.

30 Moreouer there be all the princes of the q North, with all the Sidonians, which are gone downe with the slaine: with their feare and strength they are come to confusion, and lie there vncircumcised among those that be slaine with the sword, and beare their owne shame with them that be gone downe to the pit.

q That is, the kings of Babylon.

31 Pharao shall see them, and bee r comforted ouer all his multitude: Pharao and all his armie shall be slaine with the sword, saieth the Lord God.

of the liuing: but Pharao and all his people shall be layd among the vncircumcised, and among them that be slaine with the sword, saith the Lord God.

The xxxiij. Chapter.

He setteth out the office of the gouernours and ministers. 14 He strengtheneth them that despaire, and boldeneth them with the promise of mercie.

AGaine, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Thou sonne of man, speake to the children of thy people, and tell them, When I send a sword vpon a land, if the people of the land take a man of their coasts, and set him to be their [a] watchman:

3 If when he seeth the sword come vpon the land, he shall blow the trumpet, and warne the people:

4 Then hee that heareth the noyse of the trumpet, and will not be warned, and the sword come and take him away, his blood shalbe vpon his owne head.

5 For he heard the sound of the trumpet, and would not be warned, therefore his blood be vpon him: but he that receiueth warning, he shall saue his life.

6 Againe, if the watchman see the sworde come, and blow not the trumpet, so that the people is not warned, if the sword come then, and take any man from among them: the same shall be [b] taken away in his owne sinne, but his blood will I require at the watchmans hand.

7 And thou, O sonne of man, I haue made thee a watchman vnto the house of Israel: therefore thou shalt heare the word at my [c] mouth, and thou shalt warne them from me.

8 If I say vnto the wicked, Thou wicked, thou shalt surely die: and thou speakest not to admonish the wicked of his way: that wicked man shall die in his owne sinne, but his blood will I require at thy hand.

9 Neuertheless, if thou warne the wicked of his way to turne from it, and he yet will not be turned from his way: then shall he die in his iniquitie, but thou hast deliuered thy soule.

10 Therefore, O thou sonne of man, speake vnto the house of Israel, yea, say thus, If our offences and sinnes lie vpon vs, and we be consumed in them, [d] how should we then liue?

11 Tell them, As truely as I liue, saith the Lord God, I haue no pleasure in the death of the wicked, but much rather that the wicked turne from his way, and liue: Turne you, turne you from your wicked wayes, for why will ye die, O ye of the house of Israel?

12 Therefore thou sonne of man, Tell the children of thy people, The righteousnesse of the righteous shall not saue him in the day of his iniquitie: againe, The wickednesse of the wicked shall not ouerthrow him for it, in the day that he returneth from his wickednesse: neither shall the righteous liue for [e] it in the day that he sinned.

13 If I say vnto the righteous, He shal surely liue, and so he trust to his owne righteousnesse, and doe sinne: then shal his righteousnesse be no more thought vpon, but in his wickednesse that he hath done, in it he shall die.

14 Againe, if I say vnto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die: and so he turne from his sinnes, and [f] doe the thing that is lawfull and right, 15 Insomuch that the same wicked man giueth the pledge againe, restoreth that he had taken away by robberie, walketh in the commandements of life, and doeth none iniquitie: then shall he surely liue, and not die.

16 None of the sinnes that he hath committed shalbe mentioned vnto him: for insomuch as he doth now the thing that is lawfull and right, he shall liue.

17 And yet the children of thy people, say, The way of the Lord is not equall: but their owne way is rather vnequall.

18 When the righteous turneth from his righteousnesse, and doth the thing that is wicked, he shall die therein.

19 But if the wicked turne from his wickednesse, doing the thing that is lawfull and right, he shall liue therefore.

20 Yet ye say, The way of the Lord is not equall: O ye house of Israel, I will iudge euery one of you after his wayes.

21 In the twelfth yeere, the fifth day of the tenth moneth of our [g] captiuity, one which was escaped out of Hierusalem came vnto mee, and said, The citie is smitten.

22 Nowe the [h] hand of the Lord had beene vpon me the euening afore this man which was escaped came vnto mee, and had [i] opened my mouth, vntill the morning that he came to me: yea, my mouth was opened, so that I was no more dumbe.

23 Then came the word of the Lord vnto me, and said,

24 Thou sonne of man, these that dwell in the wasted land of Israel talke and say, [k] Abraham was but one man, and hee had the land in possession: now are we many, and the land is giuen vs to possesse also.

25 And therefore tell them, Thus saith the Lord God, In the blood haue ye eaten, your eies haue ye lift vp to idoles, and haue shed blood: shal ye then haue the land in possession?

26 Ye [l] leane vpon your swords, yee worke abominations, euery one defileth his neighbours wife: and shall ye possesse the land?

27 Say thou thus vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God, As truely as I liue, they that are in the desolate places shall fall by the sworde, and him that is in the open field, will I giue vnto the beasts to be deuoured: and they that be in the strong holdes and dennes, shall die of the pestilence.

28 For I will make the land so desolate and waste, that the pompe of her strength shal cease: the mountaines of Israel shalbe so waste, that no man shall trauaile thereby.

29 Then shall they know that I am the Lord, when I make the land desolate and waste, because of al their abominations that they haue wrought.

30 And thou sonne of man, the children of thy people that talke of thee by the walles and in the doores of their houses, and speake one to another, euery one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, let vs heare what word is gone forth from the Lord.

31 They come vnto thee as the people vseth to come, and my people sit before thee and heare thy wordes, but they doe not thereafter: for in

The xxxiiij. Chapter.

Against shepheards that despise the flocke of Christ, and seeke their owne gaine.

AND the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 *Thou sonne of man, prophesie against the shepheardes of Israel, prophesie and speake vnto them, Thus sayth the Lord God vnto the shepheards, Woe be vnto the [a] shepheards of Israel that feede themselues: should not the shepherds feede the flockes?

Iere.23.1.

3 Ye eate vp the fat, ye clothe you with the woll, the best fed doe ye slay: but the flocke doe ye not feede.

4 The weake haue ye not strengthened, the sicke haue ye not healed, the broken haue yee not bound together, the driuen away haue yee not brought againe, the lost haue ye not sought: but with force and cruelty haue ye ruled them.

5 They are scattered without a shepheard, yea, all the beasts of the field [b] deuoure them, and they goe astray.

6 My sheepe goe wandring vpon all mountaines, and vpon euery high hill, yea, my flocke is scattered through all the face of the earth, and there is no man that seeketh or searcheth after them.

7 Therefore, O ye shepherds, heare the word of the Lord.

8 As truely as I liue, sayth the Lord God, for as much as my sheepe are robbed and deuoured of all the wilde beasts of the field, hauing no shepheard, and seeing that my shepheards seeke not my sheepe, but the shepheardes feede themselues, and feede not my sheepe:

9 Therefore heare the word of the Lord, O ye shepheards,

10 Thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, I will vpon the shepheards, and require my sheep from their hands, and make them cease from feeding of the sheepe, yea, the shepheards shal feede themselues no more: for I will [c] deliuer my sheep out of their mouthes, so that they shall not deuoure them after this.

11 For thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, I euen I will looke to my sheepe my selfe, and seeke them out.

12 Like as a shepheard when he hath bene among the flocke, seeketh after the sheepe that are scattered abroade: euen so will I seeke after my sheepe, and deliuer them out of all places where they haue beene scattered in the [d] cloudie and darke day.

13 I will bring them out from the people, and gather them together out of the landes, I will bring them into their owne land, and feede them vpon the mountaines of Israel by the riuers, & in al the inhabited places of the countrie.

14 I will feede them in right good pastures and vpon the high mountaines of Israel shall their foldes be: there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feede, euen vpon the mountaines of Israel.

15 I will feede my sheepe, and bring them to their rest, sayth the Lord God.

16 Such as be lost, will I seeke: such as are driuen away, wil I bring againe: such as be broken, will I binde vp: such as be weake, will I make strong: such as be fat and strong, those wil I roote out, and feede them with [e] iudgement.

17 And as for you, O my sheep, saith the Lord God, I will iudge betweene cattell and cattell, betweene the rammes and the goats.

18 Seemeth it a small thing to you to haue eaten vp the good [f] pasture, and to tread downe the residue of your pasture with your feete also? to drinke the deepe waters, and to trouble the rest also with your feete?

19 Thus my sheep must be faine to eate the thing that yee haue troden downe with your feete, and to drinke it that ye with your feet haue defiled.

20 Therefore, thus sayth the Lord God vnto them, Behold, I, euen I will iudge betweene the fat cattell and the leane cattel, 21 For somuch as with side and shoulder ye haue shooued, & with your hornes haue pushed all the weake till ye haue scattered them abroad.

22 I will saue my sheepe, so that they shall no more be spoiled, yea, I will iudge betweene cattell and cattell, 23 *I wil set vp ouer them a shepheard, and he shall feed them, euen my seruant [g] Dauid, he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepheard.

Esai.40.12. ioh. 10.11.

24 And I the Lord wil be their God, and my seruant Dauid shall be their prince: euen I the Lord haue spoken it.

25 Moreouer, I will make a couenant of peace with them, and cause euill beasts to cease out of the land: so that they may [h] dwell safely in the wildernesse, and sleep in the woods.

26 And I will set them as a blessing round about my hill, and I will cause raine to come downe in due season, and there shall be raine of blessing.

27 And the tree of the field shal yeeld her fruit, and the earth shall giue her increase: they shalbe safe in their land, and shall know that I am the Lord, when I haue broken the bonds of their yoke, & deliuered them out of the hands of those that serued themselues of them.

28 They shall no more be spoiled of the heathen, nor deuoured with the beasts of the land: but safely shall they dwell, and no man shall fray them.

29 And I wil raise vp for them a [i] plant of renowme, and they shalbe no more ‖ clunged with hunger in the land, neither beare the reproch of the heathen any more.

30 Thus shal they vnderstand that I the Lord their God am with them, and that they, euen the house of Israel are my people, sayth the Lord God:

31 *And ye my sheep, the sheepe of my pasture are men: & I am your God, sayth the Lord God.

Moreouer, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,
2 Thou sonne of man, set thy face toward the mount [a]Seir, prophesie against it,
3 And say vnto it, Thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, O thou mount Seir, I will vpon thee, I will reach out my hand ouer thee, yea, waste and desolate will I make thee.
4 Thy cities wil I lay waste, and thou shalt lie void, that thou mayest know how that I am the Lord.
5 Forasmuch as thou hearest an old enmitie, and hast put the children of Israel to flight by the force of the sword, in the time of their calamitie, when their iniquitie had an ende:
6 Therefore as truely as I liue, sayth the Lord God, I will prepare thee vnto blood, yea, blood shall follow vpon thee, except thou [b]hate blood, euen blood shall persecute thee.
7 Thus will I make the mount Seir desolate and waste, and cut out from it him that passeth out, and him that returneth:
8 His mountaines wil I fill with his slaine men, thy hilles, valleys, and all thy riuers, the slaine with the sword shall fall in them.
9 I will make thee a perpetuall wildernes, so that thy cities shall not [c]returne: that ye may know that I am the Lord.
10 And because thou hast sayd, [d]Both these nations, and both these lands must be mine, and we will haue them in possession, whereas the Lord was there:
11 Therefore as truely as I liue, saith the Lord God, I will euen doe according to thy [e]wrath, and according to thine enuying which thou hast vsed in thy hatred against them: and I will make my selfe [f]knowen amongst them when I haue iudged thee.
12 Yea, and thou shalt know that I the Lord haue heard all thy blasphemies, which thou hast spoken against the mountaines of Israel, saying, They are made waste, and giuen vs to deuoure.
13 Thus with your mouthes ye haue made your boasts against me, yea, and multiplied your words against me, which I haue heard.
14 Thus sayth the Lord God, To the ioy of all the world will I make thee waste.
15 And like as thou wast glad because the heritage of the house of Israel was destroyed, euen so will I doe vnto thee, thou shalt be destroyed, O mount Seir, and all Idumea wholly, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

The xxxvj. Chapter.

1 Hee promiseth to deliuer Israel from the Gentiles.
22 The benefits done vnto the Iewes, are to bee ascribed to the mercie of God, not vnto their deseruings.

Ezech 6.2.

THou sonne of man, prophesie vnto the mountains of Israel, & speake, * Heare the word of the Lord, O ye mountaines of Israel.
2 Thus sayth the Lord God, Because your [a]enemie hath sayd vnto you, Aha, the [b]high places of the world are now become ours in possession:
3 Prophesie therefore, and speake, Thus sayth the Lord God, For because that they haue made you desolate, and swallowed you vp on euery side, that yee might be a possession vnto the residue of the Gentiles, and yee are taken vp in the [c]lips and tongues of men, and to the reproch of the people:
4 Therefore heare the word of the Lord God, O ye mountaines of Israel, thus saith the Lord God to the mountaines and hilles, to the riuers and valleys, to the waste and desolate places, and to the cities that are forsaken, which are spoiled and had in derision on euery side, among the residue of the heathen:
5 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Surely in the fire of my iealousie haue I spoken against the residue of the Gentiles, and against al Edom, which haue [d]apointed my land for their possession, which also reioiced from their whole heart, with a despitefull stomache, to cast it out for a pray.
6 Prophesie therefore vpon the land of Israel, and speake vnto the mountaines and hils, to the riuers and dales, Thus sayth the Lord God, Behold, this haue I spoken in my iealousie and terrible wrath, because yee haue borne the [e]shame of the heathen:
7 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God, I haue [f]lift vp my hand, surely the heathen that are about you, shall beare their shame.
8 But you, O mountaines of Israel, ye shal [g]shoote out your branches, and bring forth your fruit to my people of Israel: for they are at hand to come.
9 Behold, I come vnto you, and vnto you will I turne, that ye may be tilled and sowen.
10 I will multiplie men vpon you, euen all the house of Israel wholly, the cities shall be inhabited, and the decayed places shall be repaired againe.
11 And I will multiplie vpon you man and beast, which shall increase and bring fruit: and I will cause you to dwell after your olde estate, and be better [h]vnto you then at the beginning: and yee shall know that I am the Lord.
12 Yea, I wil cause men to walke vpon [i]you, euen my people Israel, and they shall possesse [k]thee, and thou shalt bee their inheritance, and thou shalt no more henceforth depriue them of men,
13 Thus sayth the Lord God, Forasmuch as they say vnto you, Thou art an [l]eater vp of men, and a waster of thy people:
14 Therefore thou shalt eate no more men, neither destroy thy people any more, sayeth the Lord God:
15 Neither will I cause men to heare in thee the shame of the heathen any more: neither shalt thou beare the reproch of the people any more, nor cause thy folke to fall any more, saith the Lord God.
16 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,
17 O thou sonne of man, when the house of Israel dwelt vpon their owne ground, they defiled themselues with their owne waies and imaginations, so that in my sight their way was like the vncleannesse of a remoued woman.
18 Wherefore I powred my wrathful displeasure vpon them, because of the blood that they had shed in the land, and because of their idoles wherewith they had defiled it:
19 I scattered them also among the heathen, so that they were strawed about in the landes:

a That is, the Idumeans.
b That is, the hilly countreys of Iuda.

20 *And when they entred vnto the heathen whither they went, they polluted my holy Name, when they sayde of them, These are the people of God, and are gone out of his land.

m And therefore would not suffer my name to be had in contumy, as the heathen would haue reproched me, if I had suffered my Church to perish.

21 Then spared I my holy m Name, which the house of Israel had dishonoured among the Gentiles where they came.

22 Therefore tell the house of Israel, Thus sayeth the Lorde God, I n doe not this for your sakes, O house of Israel, but for my holy names sake, which yee dishonoured among the heathen where ye came.

n This excludeth from men all diligence and meane to deserue any thing by, seeing that God reserueth the whole to himselfe, and that onely for the glory of his Name.

23 Therefore I will hallow my great Name againe, *which among the Gentiles is polluted, for yee your selues haue dishonoured it among them: and the Gentiles shall know that I am the Lorde, sayth the Lord God, when I shall be sanctified in you before your eyes.

27 I will giue my spirite among you, & cause you to walke in my commaundements, and yee shall keepe my iudgements, and doe them.

28 And so yee shall dwell in the lande that I gaue to your fathers: and ye shall be my people, and I will be your God.

p Vnder the abundance of temporall benefites, he concludeth the spirituall graces.

29 I will deliuer you from all your vncleannesse, I will call for the P corne, and will increase it, and lay no famine vpon you.

30 I will multiply the fruits of the trees, & the increase of the field, so that ye shall receiue no more reproch of hunger among the heathen.

q Be shal come to true repentance, and thinke your selues vnworthy to be of the number of Gods creatures, for your ingratitude against him.

31 Then shall ye remember your owne wicked wayes, and your imaginations which were not good: so that yee shall be q irkesome in your owne eyes for your sinnes and abominations.

32 But I will not doe this for your sakes, sayth the Lord God, be ye sure of it: therefore O ye house of Israel, be ashamed and confounded of your owne wayes.

33 Moreouer, thus sayeth the Lorde God, What time as I shall cleanse you from all your iniquities, then will I make the cities to be inhabited againe, and the places that be decayed, shall be repaired.

34 The desolate lande shall be tilled againe, which aforetime lay waste in the sight of all them that went by.

35 And they shall say, This waste lande was like the garden of Eden: and these waste and desolate and ruinous cities were strong and inhabited.

r He declareth that it ought not to be referred to the loyle or fertilitie of the earth, that any countrey is rich and abundant, but onely to Gods mercies, as his plagues and curses declare when he maketh it barren.

36 Then the residue of the Heathen that lye round about you, shall know that I the Lorde r repaire that was broken downe, and plant againe that was made waste: euen I the Lorde haue spoken it, and will doe it in deed.

37 Thus sayth the Lorde God, I will yet for this be sought of the house of Israel to doe it for them, I will multiply them as a flocke of men.

38 Like as the holy flock, and the flock of Hierusalem are in the high solemne feastes, so shall also the wasted cities bee filled with flockes of men: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

The xxxvij. Chapter.

He prophesieth the bringing againe of the people, being in captiuitie, 16 He sheweth the vnion of the ten tribes with the two.

THE hand of the Lorde was vpon me, and caried me out in the spirit of the Lord, and set me downe in the midst of a plaine field that was full of a bones.

a By this vision he prophesieth that the people of Israel shalbe deliuered, whome he compareth to bones of dead men: for as dry bones seeme without all hope of life again, so the Israelites thought they should neuer returne into their countrey, as appeareth by their words in the 11. verse. Our bones are dried vp, our hope is gone, &c.

2 And hee led me round about by them, and behold, there were very many in the open field, and loe, they were very drie.

3 Then said he vnto me, Thou sonne of man, thinkest thou these bones may liue againe? I answered, O Lord God, thou knowest.

4 And he sayd vnto me, Prophecie thou vpon these bones, and speake vnto them, Yee drie bones, heare the word of the Lord.

5 Thus sayeth the Lorde God vnto these bones, Behold, I will cause breath to enter into you, that ye may liue.

6 I will giue you sinewes, and make flesh growe vpon you, and couer you ouer with skin, and so giue you breath, that ye may liue, & know that I am the Lord.

7 So I prophecied as I was commanded: and as I was prophecying, there was a noyse, and loe, a great motion, so that the bones came neere together, bone to his bone.

8 Now when I had looked, behold, they had sinewes, and flesh grewe vpon them, and aboue they were couered with skinne: but there was no breath in them.

9 Then sayde hee vnto me, Thou sonne of man, prophecie thou toward the wind, prophecie and speake to the winde, Thus sayeth the Lord God, Come, O thou ‖ ayre from the foure winds, and ‖ blowe vpon these slaine, that they may liue.

‖ or, breath. ‖ or, breathe.

10 So I prophecied as he had commaunded me: then came the breath into them, and they receiued life, and stood vp vpon their feet, a marueilous great armie.

11 Moreouer, he sayd vnto me, Thou sonne of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold, they say, Our bones are dryed vp, our hope is gone, and we are cleane cut off.

12 Therefore, prophecie thou, and speake vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God, Behold, I will open your graues, O my people, and cause you to come vp out of your sepulchres, and bring you into the land of Israel againe.

13 So shall yee know that I am the Lord, when I open your graues, O my people, and bring you b out of your sepulchres.

b That is, when I bring you out of these places and townes where ye are captiues.

14 My spirit also will I put in you, and ye shall liue, I will set you againe in your owne land: and ye shall know that I the Lorde haue said it, and fulfilled it in deed, saith the Lord.

26 Moreouer, * I will make a bond of peace with them, which shall be vnto them an euerlasting couenant: I will settle them also and multiply them, my sanctuary wil I set among them for euermore.

27 My tabernacle shall be with them: yea, I will be their God, and they shalbe my people.

28 Thus the heathen also shall know that I the Lord doe sanctifie Israel, when my sanctuarie shalbe among them for euermore.

The xxxviij. Chapter.

He prophecieth that Gog and Magog shal come with an appointed hoste into the land of promise.

Apoc. 20.8.

a Which was a people that dwelt in Sarmatia, Genesis 10. Magog also here signifieth a certaine countrey, so that by these countryes which haue the gouernments of Grecia and Italie, be meanethe principall enemies of the Church. apoc. 20.

‖ Or, destroy thee.

AND the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 * Thou sonne of man, set thy face against a Gog, the lande of Magog, which is the chiefe prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophecie against him,

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord God. O Gog, thou chiefe prince of Meshech and Tubal, behold, I will vpon thee:

4 And I will ‖ turne thee backe, and put hookes in thy chawes, I will bring thee forth and all thine hoste, both horse and horsemen, all armed with all sorts of armour, a great multitude with speares & shields, all handling swords.

b The Perssians, Ethiopians, and men of Affrica.

5 They of b Paras, of Chush, and Phut, with them euen all hauing shields and helmets,

6 Gomer and all his hostes, the house of Togarma out of the North quarters and all his hostes, yea, and much people with thee.

7 Therefore prepare thee, set thy selfe in aray with all the people that are come vnto thee by heapes, and be thou their defence.

8 After many daies thou shalt be visited, and in the latter yeres thou shalt come into the land that hath bene turned and tost with the swords, and gathered together againe out of many people vpon the mountaines of Israel, which haue bene alwayes subiect to waste: but it is brought out of the people, and they dwell all safe.

9 Thou shalt ascend & come vp like a storme, as a cloud to couer the land shalt thou be: thou with all thine hostes, and a great multitude of people with thee.

10 Moreouer, thus saith the Lord God, At the same time shall things come into thy minde, so that thou shalt thinke c euill thoughts, c That is, to molest and destroy the Church.

11 And say, I will vp to the land of d vnwalled villages, I will goe to them that be at rest, which dwell safely, all dwelling without wals, they haue neither barres nor gates:

d Meaning, Israel, which had now bene destroyed, and was not yet built againe.

12 To spoyle the praye, and to take a bootie, to turne thy hand vpon the desolate places that are now inhabited, and vpon that people that is gathered together from among the heathen, which haue gotten cattell and goods, and dwell in the middes of the land.

e That is, I will encourage their wicked clapping and clattering, as men do hoses when they driue them on courage: therby signified that Gog is borne to hold for nought the boast of the Gentiles should be ordained.

13 Then shall Saba and Dedan, & the marchants of Tharsis with all their Lions, say vnto thee, c Art thou come to spoyle a praye? hast thou gathered thy people together to take a bootie, to take away siluer and gold, to carie away cattell and good, and to haue a great praye?

c One enemie shall ruine another, because euery one shall thinke to haue the spoyle of the people of God.

14 Therefore, O thou sonne of man, thou shalt prophecy and say vnto Gog, Thus saith the Lord God, In that day when my people Israel f dwelleth safe, shalt thou not know it?

f Shalt not thou espy thine occasions to come against the Church, when they suspect nothing?

15 And thou shalt come from thy place out of the North partes, thou and much people with thee, which ride all vpon horses, euen a great multitude and a mightie armie.

16 Yea, thou shalt come vpon my people of Israel, as a cloud to couer the land: this shall come to passe in the g latter dayes, and I will bring thee vp into my land, that the heathen may know me, when I shalbe h sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes.

g Meaning, in the last age, and from the comming of Christ vnto the end of the world.

h Signifying, that God will be sanctified by maintaining his Church and destroying his enemies, as Chap. 36. and 37.

17 Thus saith the Lord God, Art thou not he of whom I haue spoken in old time by the hands of my seruants the Prophets of Israel, which prophecied in those dayes and yeeres, that I should bring thee vpon them?

18 At the same time when Gog commeth vp into the land of Israel, saith the Lord God, shal mine indignation rise in my wrath:

19 For in my iealousie and fire of my wrath haue I spoken it, surely at that time there shalbe a great shaking in the land of Israel.

Mat. 24.29 luke 21.26.

i All meanes whereby man should thinke to saue himselfe, shal faile, the afflictions in those dayes shalbe so great, and the enemies destruction shalbe so terrible.

20 * The very fishes in the sea, the foules in the ayre, the beasts of the field, & all that moue and creepe vpon the earth, & al the men that are vpon the earth, shall tremble at my presence, the hils also shalbe turned vpside downe, the i staires shall fall, and all walles shall fall downe to the ground.

fol. Bbb5r

21 I will call for a sworde vpon [k] him in all my mountaines, sayeth the Lorde God: so that euery mans sworde shall be vpon another.

22 With pestilence and blood will I plead against him: stormie raine and haile stones, fire and brimstone will I cause to raine vpon him and all his hostes, yea, and vpon all that great people that is with him.

23 Thus will I be magnified, sanctified, and knowen in the eyes of many nations: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

The xxxix. Chapter.

1 Hee sheweth the destruction of Gog and Magog. 13 The graue of Gog and his hoste.

THerefore, O thou sonne of man, prophesie against Gog, and speake, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, O Gog, thou chiefe prince of Mesech & Tubal, I will vpon thee.

2 And I will ‖ turne thee about, and ‖ I will [a] prouoke thee forward, and cause thee to come vp from the North parts, and bring thee vp to the mountaines of Israel.

3 And as for thy bow, I will smite it out of thy left hand, and cause thine arrowes to fal out of thy right hand.

4 Thou, with all thine hoste, and all the people that is with thee, shall fall vpon the mountaines of Israel: then will I giue thee vnto the [b] flocks of birds, euen to all feathered foules and beasts of the field, to be deuoured.

5 Thou shalt fall vpon the open field: for I haue spoken it, sayeth the Lord God.

6 Into Magog, and among those that sit so careles in the Iles will I send a fire, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

7 I will make also the name of my holinesse to bee knowen among my people of Israel, and I will not let them pollute my holy name any more: but the verie Heathen also shall know that I am the Lorde, the holy one of Israel.

8 Behold, it is [c] come, and it is done, sayeth the Lorde God: this is the day whereof I haue spoken.

9 They that dwell in the cities of Israel, shall goe forth, and [d] set fire vpon the weapons, and burne them, shields and speares, bowes and arrowes, ‖ handstaues, and sworddes, and they shall burne them with fire seuen yeere.

10 So that they shall else bring no wood from the fielde, neither hewe downe any out of the wood: for with weapons shall they make their fire, they shall rob those that robbed them, and spoyle those that spoyled them, sayeth the Lord God.

11 At the same time will I giue vnto Gog a place to bee buried in Israel, euen the valley wherethrough men goe towarde the East sea: those that trauaile thereby, shall [e] stoppe their noses: there shall Gog and all his multitude be buried: and it shall bee called the valley of the ‖ multitude of Gog.

12 Seuen moneths long shall the house of Israel be burying of them, that they may cleanse the land.

13 Yea, all the people of the land shall burie them, and they shall haue a name when I shall be glorified, sayth the Lord God.

14 They shall choose out men to goe continually thorow the land, to [f] burie as they passe thorow those that remaine vpon the ground, to cleanse it: after the end of seuen moneths shall they make their search.

15 And the trauailers that passe thorowe the lande, where they see a mans bone, they shall set vp a token by it, till the dead buriers haue buried it also in the valley of ‖ the multitude of Gog.

16 And the name of the citie shall bee called [g] Hamonah: thus shall they make the lande cleane.

17 And thou sonne of man, Thus sayeth the Lorde God, Speake vnto all feathered foules, yea, and to all the beastes of the fielde, Assemble you together, and come, gather you round about to my [h] sacrifice that I sacrifice for you, euen a great sacrifice vpon the mountaines of Israel, that ye may eate flesh, and drinke blood.

18 Yee shall eate the flesh of the valiant, and drinke the blood of the princes of the lande, of the rammes, of the weathers, of the goates, and of the bullocks, that be all fedde at Bashan.

19 Ye shall eate the fatte your belly full, and drinke blood till yee be drunken of my sacrifice, which I haue sacrificed for you.

20 Yee shall fill you at my table with horses and ‖ horsemen, with the valiant, and men of warre, sayth the Lord God.

21 I will set my glory also among the Gentiles, that all the Heathen may see my iudgement that I haue executed, and my hand which I haue laid vpon them.

22 And the house of Israel shall know that I am the Lorde their God, from that day, and so forward.

23 And the Heathen shall know, that whereas the house of Israel was led into captiuitie, it was for their [i] wickednesse sake, because they offended me: for the which cause I hidde my face from them, and deliuered them into the handes of their enemies, that they might bee all slaine with the sword.

24 According to their vncleannesse, and according to their transgressions haue I done vnto them, and hid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus sayth the Lord God, Now will I bring againe the captiues of Iacob, and haue mercie vpon the whole house of Israel, and be ielous for my holy names sake,

26 After that they haue borne their shame, and all their transgression, whereby they haue transgressed against mee, when they dwelt safely in the lande, and no man to feare them:

27 And when I haue brought them againe from among the people, when I haue gathered them together out of their enemies landes, and am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations:

28 Then shall they knowe that I am the Lorde their God, which caused them to be ledde into captiuitie among the heathen, but haue gathered them againe into their owne land, and not left one of them any more there.

29 After that will I hide my face no more from them, but will powre out my spirit vpon the house of Israel, sayth the Lord God.

[a] That is, I will encourage thee with clapping and stirring, as men do hisses when they will encourage them.

[b] Thereby he signifieth that which is woont to befall in warre: that the bodies of the slaine should be vnburied.

[c] That is, this plague is fully determined in my counsell, and cannot be changed.

[d] After this destruction shall be such peace & tranquilitie, that they shall need no weapons of warre, but burne them all with fire.

[e] For the stinke of the carkeises that shall lye slaine there vnburied.

[f] Partly that the holy land should not be polluted, and partly for the compassion which the children of God haue euen vpon their enemies.

[g] So called, for the multitude of the people of Gog that should be slaine there.

[h] As solemne sacrifices were common feasts to great multitudes of people assembled, so was this slaughter as a great sacrifice and feast to all birds and beasts to feed vpon.

[i] The heathen shal know that they ouercame not my people by their owne strength, neither yet by the weakenesse of mine arme, but that this was for my peoples sinnes.

a The Iewes counted the beginning of the yere after two sorts: for testis they began to count in March: and for their other affaires, in September, so that this is to be understood of September.

IN the fiue and twentieth yeere of our captiuitie, in the a beginning of the yeere, the tenth day of the moneth, that is, the fourteenth yeere after the citie was smitten, the selfesame day came the hand of the Lord vpon me, and brought me thither:

2 Euen into the land of Israel brought he me in the visions of God, and set me downe vpon a marueilous high mountaine, whereupon there was as it had beene the building of a citie toward the South.

3 Thither he caried me, & behold, there was a b man, whose similitude was like brasse, which had a twilled line of flaxe in his hand, and a cane to measure with: and he stood in the doore.

b Which was an angell in forme of a man, that came to measure out this building.

4 And that man sayd vnto me, Thou sonne of man, marke well with thine c eyes, hearken to with thine eares, and fasten it in thy heart whatsoeuer I shall shewe thee: for to the intent that they may be shewed thee, therefore art thou brought hither, and whatsoeuer thou seest, thou shalt certifie the house of Israel thereof.

c By this and the like Hebrew phrases, he exhorted him to behold, and marke diligently a thing worth noting.

5 Behold, there was a wall on the d outside of the house round about: the cane to measure with, that hee had in his hand, was sixe cubites long by the e cubite, and a hand breadth: So he measured the breadth of the building with one cane, and the height with one cane.

d Which compassed y whole hill of Sion, in the top whereof the temple was builded.

e This cubite which he speaketh of, was larger then the common cubite by a hand breadth, that is, foure inches, and it was called the holy cubite: the common cubite contained but fiue handbreadths, and this see Chap. 43.

6 Then came he to the gate which looketh toward the East, and went vp the staires therof, & measured the poste of the gate one cane broad, and the other poste of the gate one cane broad.

7 And euery chamber was one cane long, & one cane broad, & betweene the chambers were fiue cubites: and the poste of the gate by the porch of the gate within, was one cane.

8 Hee measured also the porch of the gate within, with one cane.

9 Then measured hee the porch of the gate eight cubites: and the ‖ pentiles therof two cubites, and the porch of the gate was inward.

‖ Or, fronts.

10 And the chambers of the gate Eastward, were three on this side, and three on that side: they three were of one measure, and the pentiles had one measure on this side, and one measure on that side.

11 After this he measured the breadth of the entrie of the gate ten cubites, and the height of the gate thirteene cubites.

12 The space also before the chambers, was one cubite on this side, and the space one cubite on that side: and the chambers, sixe cubites on this side, and sixe cubites on that side.

13 He measured the gate from the roofe of a chamber to his owne roofe, the breadth of fiue and twentie cubites, doore against doore.

‖ Or, pentiles.

14 He made ‖ fronts also of threescore cubits, euen vnto the front of the court round about the gate.

15 And from the forefront of the entrie of the gate, vnto the forefront of the gate within, were fiftie cubites.

16 And there were narrow windowes in the chambers, and in the frontes within the gate round about, and so in the arches: and the windowes went round about within, and vpon the fronts were Palme trees.

17 Then brought hee me into the outward court, whereas were chambers, and a pauement made for the court round about: thirtie chambers were vpon the pauement.

18 And the pauement was by the side of the gates ouer against the length of the gates: and the pauement was beneath.

19 Then hee measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate without, vnto the forefront of the court within, a hundred cubites Eastward and Northward.

20 And the gate in the outward court that looked toward the North, measured he after the length and breadth thereof.

21 And the chambers thereof were three on this side, and three on that side: and the frontes thereof, and the arches thereof, were after the measure of the f first gate: the length thereof was fiftie cubits, and the breadth fiue and twentie cubites.

f That is, the East gate, as appeareth in the next verse.

22 And their windowes, and their arches, with their Palme trees were after the measure of the gate that looketh toward the East: and the going vp vnto it had seuen steps, and the arches thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court stood ouer against the gate toward the North and toward the East, and hee measured from gate to gate a hundred cubites.

24 After that, hee brought mee towarde the South, where there stoode a gate toward the South, and he measured the fronts thereof and the arches thereof according to those measures.

25 And there were windowes in it, and in the arches therof round about like these windowes: the length was fiftie cubites, and the breadth fiue and twentie cubites.

26 And there were seuen steps at the going vp to it, and the arches thereof before them: and it had Palme trees, one on this side, and another on that side, vpon the front thereof.

27 And there was a gate in the inner court toward the South, and he measured from gate to gate toward the South a hundred cubites.

28 So hee brought me into the inner court thorowe the South gate, and hee measured the South gate according to those measures.

29 And the chambers thereof, the frontes thereof, and the arches thereof, according to these measures, and windowes in it: and in the arches thereof round about, fiftie cubites long, and fiue and twentie cubites broad,

30 And the arches round about were fiue and twentie cubites long, and fiue cubites broad.

31 And the arches thereof were toward the vtter court, and Palme trees vpon the frontes thereof, and the going vp to it had eight steps.

32 He brought me also into the inmost court toward the East, and measured the gate according to those measures.

33 And the chambers thereof, and frontes thereof, and the arches thereof were according to those measures, and there were windowes therein, and in the arches thereof round about, it was fiftie cubites long, and fiue and twentie cubites broad.

34 And the arches thereof were toward the vtter court, and Palme trees vpon the frontes thereof on this side, and on that side, and the going vp to it had eight steps.

35 And hee brought me to the North gate, and measured it according to those measures.

36 The chambers thereof, the fronts thereof, and the arches therof, and there were windowes therein round about: and the length was fiftie cubits, and the breadth fiue and twentie cubits.

37 And the frontes thereof were toward the vtter court, & Palme trees were vpon the fronts thereof on this side and on that side, and the going vp to it had eight steps.

38 And a chamber and the entrie thereof was vnder the fronts of the gates, there they washed the [g] burnt offerings.

39 And in the porch of the gate stood two tables on this side, and two tables on that side, vpon the which they slew the burnt offering, and the sinne offering, and the trespasse offring.

40 And at the side without the steppes, at the entrie of the North gate stoode two tables, and on the other side which was at the porch of the gate were two tables.

41 Foure tables were on this side, and foure on that side, by the side of the gate, euen eight tables, whereupon they slew their sacrifices.

42 And the foure tables were of hewen stone for the burnt offering, of a cubite and a halfe long, and a cubite and a halfe broad, and one cubite high, whereupon were laid the instruments where with they slew the burnt offering, and the sacrifice.

43 And within there were [†] hookes one hand breadth long fastened round about, and vpon the tables was the offering flesh.

44 And without the inner gate were the chambers of the singers in the inward court, which was at the side of the North gate, and their prospect was toward the South: and one was at the side of the East gate, hauing the prospect toward the North.

45 And he said vnto me, This chamber whose prospect is toward the South, is for the Priestes that haue charge to keepe the house.

46 And the chamber whose prospect is toward the North, is for the Priestes that haue charge to keepe the altar: these are the sonnes of Sadoc, which of the sonnes of Leui come neere to the Lord, to minister vnto him.

47 So hee measured the court, which had in length a hundred cubites, & a hundred in breadth, euen foure square: and the altar stood before the house.

48 And hee brought me to the porch of the [h] house, and measured the porch fiue cubites on this side, and fiue cubites on that side, and the breadth of the gate was three cubites on this side, and three cubites on that side.

49 The [i] length of the porch was twentie cubites, the breadth eleuen cubites, and by steppes went men vp to it: by the frontes also were pillars, one on this side, and another on that side.

[g] That is, the inwards or entralles of the sacrifice that was offered for a burnt offering.

[†] reuers.

[h] That is, of the temple.

[i] From North to South.

The xlj. Chapter.

The disposition and deuise of building againe of the temple, and of the other things thereto belonging.

After this hee brought mee to the temple, and measured the fronts, fiue cubites broad on the one side, and six cubites broad on the other side, which was the breadth of the Tabernacle.

2 The breadth of the doore was ten cubits, and the sides of the doore were fiue cubites on the one side, and fiue cubites on the other side, and he measured the length [a] thereof fourtie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites.

[a] Of the temple, from this doore to the most holy place.

3 Then went he in and measured the front of the doore two cubites: but the doore it selfe was sixe cubites, and the breadth on the other side of the doore was seuen cubites.

4 Hee measured the length thereof twentie cubites, and the breadth twentie cubites before the Temple: and hee said vnto me, This is the most holy place.

5 He measured also the wall of the house sixe cubites, and the breadth of a chamber foure cubites round about the house on euery side.

6 And the chambers were chamber vpon chamber, ‖ three and thirtie in order, and they entred the wall which was of the house for the chambers round about, that they might be fastened, and not be fastened in the wall of the house.

7 There was an enlarging, and a winding about, mounting still vpward to the chambers: for the staire of the house was mounting still vpward round about the house, therefore the house was larger vpward: so they went vp from the lowest chamber to the highest by the middest.

8 And I saw the house high round about: the foundations of the chambers were a full cane of sixe cubites [b] vp to the arme holes.

9 The thicknesse of the wall which was for the chamber without was fiue cubites, and that which remained was the place of the chambers that were within.

10 And betweene the chambers was the widenesse of twentie cubites round about the house on euery side.

11 And the doores of the chambers were toward the ‖ place that remained, one doore toward the North, & another toward the South: and the breadth of the place that remained, was fiue cubites round about.

12 Now the building that was before the separate place at the end toward the West was seuenty cubites broad: and the wall of the building was fiue cubites thicke round about, and the length ninetie cubites.

13 So hee measured the house, which was a hundred cubites long, and the separate place and the building with the walles, were a hundred cubites long also.

14 The breadth also of the forefront of the house, and of the separate place toward the East, was a hundred cubites.

15 And hee measured the length of the building ouer against the separate place which was behind it, and the chambers on the one side, and on the other side, a hundred cubites, with the temple within, and the porches of the court.

16 The doore posts, & the narow windowes, and the chambers round about, on three sides ouer against the doore, sieled with wood round about, and from the ground vp to the windowes: and the windowes themselues were sieled.

17 And from about the doore vnto the house within and without, and vpon euery wal round about within and without, tooke he measure.

18 And it was made with [c] Cherubims and Palme trees, so that a Palme tree was between a Cherub and a Cherub. and euery Cherub had two faces.

19 So that the face of a man was toward the Palme tree on the one side, and the face of a Lyon toward the Palme tree on the other side: thus was it made through all the house round about.

‖ Or, three and thirtie foot high.

[b] That is, great, and of the largest size.

‖ Or, voide space.

[c] That is, Cherubims & Palme trees were grauen and carued in the walles.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Bbb6v

20 From the ground vnto aboue the dooze were Cherubims and Palme trees made: and thus was the wall of the temple.

21 The posts of the temple were foure squared, and the fashion of the sanctuarie was [d] appearance like appearance.

d That is, the dooze postes or cheekes of the sanctuarie, were like the dooze cheeks of the temple.

22 The altar of wood was three cubits high, and two cubites long: the corners, the length, and the walles thereof were of wood. And hee sayd vnto me, This is the table that shall be before the Lord.

23 The Temple and the holyest of all had either of them two doores.

e That is, two leaues, one on the one side, & the other on the other side, of either of the doores.

24 And the doores had two [e] doores apiece, euen two folding doores, two for the one doore, and two doores for the other.

25 And vpon the doores of the Temple there were made Cherubims, and Palme trees, like as was made vpon the walls: and thicke beames vpon the forefront of the porch without.

26 And there were narrowe windowes and Palme trees on the one side, and on the other side, by the sides of the porch, and vpon the sides of the house, and thicke beames.

The xlij. Chapter.

Of the chambers of the Temple for the Priestes, and the holy things.

Then led he me into the vtter court by the way toward the North, and hee brought me into the chamber that was ouer against the separate place, which was before the building toward the North.

2 Before the length of an hundred cubites was the North doore: and the breadth was fiftie cubites.

3 Ouer against the twentie cubites which were for the inner court, and ouer against the pauement, which was for the vtter court, was chamber against chamber, three orders.

4 And before the chambers there was a walking place of ten cubites wide inward, the way of one cubite: and their doores toward the North.

5 Thus the vpper chambers were alway narrower: for those chambers seemed to eate vp these, to wit, the lower and the middlemer of the building.

6 For they were in three orders, but had no pillars as the pillars of the courtes: therefore were they smaller then the neathermost and the middlemost to reckon from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without ouer against the chambers, toward the vtter court on the forefront of the chambers, the length thereof was fiftie cubites.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the vtter court, was fiftie cubites, and loe, before the temple was a hundred cubites.

9 And vnder these chambers was the entrie from the East, as one goeth vnto them from the vtter court.

10 In the thicknesse of the wall of the court toward the East, before the separate place, and before the building of the chambers.

11 And the way before them after the appearance of the chambers which were toward the North: as their length, so was their breadth: and all their entries were according to their fashion, and according to their doores.

12 And according to the doores of the chambers that were toward the South, was a doore in the head of the way, euen the way directly before the wall toward the East as one entreth.

13 Then sayd he vnto me, The chambers toward the North, and the chambers toward the South, which are before the separate place, those be holy chambers, wherein the Priestes that [a] approch vnto the Lord must eate the most holy things, and there must they lay the most holy things, and the meat offering, and sinne offering, and trespasse offring: for it is a holy place.

a That is, which execute the priests office, vse more fully as declared in the next chapter following, ver. 19.

14 When the Priests come therein, they shall not go out of the holy place into the vtter court, but there they shal lay by their garments wherein they minister, for they are holy: and shall put on [b] other garments, and so shall approch to those which are for the people.

b That is, their common apparell which they vsed among the people: and as some say, was such as the common people vsed.

15 Now when he had finished the measuring of the house within, he led me forth toward the gate, whose prospect is toward the East, and he measured it round about.

16 Hee measured the East side with the measuring cane, fiue hundred canes, euen with the measuring cane round about.

17 And he measured the North fiue hundred canes, euen with the measuring cane round about.

18 The South side also measured he fiue hundred canes, by the measuring cane.

19 He turned about also to the West side, and measured fiue hundred canes, by the measuring cane.

20 So hee measured it by the foure sides: it had a wall round about, fiue hundred canes long, and fiue hundred broad, to make a separation betweene the [c] sanctuary, and the prophane place.

c That is, betweene the temple and the circuit, which in respect of the sanctuarie and the temple was counted prophane.

The xliij. Chapter.

Hee seeth the glorie of God going into the Temple, from whence it had before departed.

So he brought me to the gate, euen the gate that turneth toward the East:

2 And behold, then came the glory of the God of Israel from out of the East, whose voice was like a great noise of waters, and the earth was lightened with his glory.

3 *And according to the appearance of the vision which I saw, euen according to the vision which I saw [a] when I came to destroy the citie: and the visions were like the visions which I saw by the riuer Chebar, and I fell vpon my face.

Ezec. 9. 1.

a When I prophesied the destruction of the citie by the Chaldeans.

4 And the [b] glory of the Lorde came into the house by the way of the gate whose prospect is toward the East.

b Which was departed before, Chap. 10.

5 So a ‖ wind tooke me vp, and brought me into the innermer court: and behold, the house was full of the glory of the Lord.

‖ Or, the spirit.

6 And I heard one speaking vnto me out of the house, and there stood a man by me,

7 And hee sayde vnto mee, O thou sonne of man, this roome is my seate, and the place of my footestooles, whereas I will dwell among the children of Israel for euermore, so that the house of Israel shall no more defile my holy name, neither they nor their kings through their whoredome, & through the dead bodies of their c Kings in their high places.

8 Albeit they haue set their threshołds by my threshołds, and their postes by my postes, and a wall betweene me and them, yet haue they defiled my holy name with their abominations that they haue committed: wherefore I haue consumed them in my wrath.

9 But now let them put away their whoredome, and the dead bodies of their kings out of my sight, and I wil dwell among them for euermore.

10 Therefore, O thou sonne of man, shewe thou the house of Israel this house, that they may bee ashamed of their wickednesse, and measure themselues an example thereat.

11 And if they be ashamed of all their works: then shewe them the forme of the house and paterne thereof, the going out, the comming in, all the maner thereof, yea, all the ordinances thereof, the figures, and all the lawes thereof, and write it in their sight, that they may keepe the whole fashion thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them.

d Description. 12 This is the d law of the house: vpon the top of the mount shall all the limits thereof bee, round about the most holy place: loe, this is the law of the house.

13 And these are the measures of the altar in cubits: the cubite is a cubit and a handbreadth, the bottome shalbe a cubite, and the breadth a cubite, and the borders thereof by the edge thereof round about was one span, and this shalbe the height of the Altar.

14 And from the bottome vpon the ground, vnto the lower piece, shalbe two cubites, the breadth one cubit: and from the litle piece to the great piece, shalbe foure cubites, and the breadth one cubite.

15 The altar was foure cubits high, and from the altar vpward stood foure hornes, 16 And the Altar was twelue cubites long, and twelue cubites broad, square in the foure corners thereof.

17 The frame of the altar shalbe fourteene cubites long, & fourteene broad in the foure square corners thereof, and the border about it shalbe halfe a cubite, and the bottome thereof shalbe a cubite about, and the steps thereof shalbe turned toward the East.

18 And he said vnto me, Thou sonne of man, thus saith the Lord God, These are the ordinances of the Altar, in the day when it is made to offer burnt offerings thereupon, and to sprinkle blood thereupon.

19 And thou shalt giue to the Priestes, to the Leuites that be of the seede of Sadoc, & approch vnto mee, saith the Lord God, to minister vnto me, a yong bullocke for a sinne offering.

20 And thou shalt take of the blood thereof, and put it on the foure hornes of it, and on the foure corners of the frame, and vpon the border round about: thus shalt thou clense it, & purge it.

21 Thou shalt take the bullocke also of the sinne offering, and burne him in the appointed place without the Sanctuary.

22 The second day, take a goate bucke without blemish for a sinne offering, to cleanse the Altar withall, like as it was cleansed with the bullocke.

23 Now when thou hast made an end of clensing it, then offer a yong bullocke without blemish, and a ramme out of the flocke without blemish also.

24 Offer them before the Lord, and let the Priests cast salt thereupon, and giue them so vnto the Lord for a burnt offring.

25 Seuen dayes shalt thou prepare euery day a goate bucke for sinne, a yong bullocke and a ramme of the flocke, both without blemish shall they prepare.

26 Seuen dayes shal they reconcile, & cleanse the Altar, and c fill the place thereof. c Dicunsecrate it.

27 When these dayes are expired, then vpon the eight day, and so forth, the Priests shal make your burnt offerings, and peace offerings vpon the Altar: so I wil accept you, saith ℣ Lord God.

The xliiij. Chapter.

2 Hee sheweth what doore of the Temple is shut. 6 He is commanded to vpbraid the people with their offence.

AFter this he brought me againe to the outward gate of the Sanctuarie on the East side, and that was shut.

2 Then said the Lord vnto me, This gate shalbe still a shut, and not opened, neither shall any man goe thorowe it: for the Lord God of Israel hath entred by it, & it shalbe shut. a Meaning, from the common people, but not from the Priests, nor the Prince, Chap. 46.

3 It is for the prince, the prince himselfe shal sit in it to eate bread before the Lord: he shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and shall goe out by the way of the same.

4 Then brought hee mee toward the North gate before the house: and as I looked, beholde, the glory of the Lord filled the house of the Lord, and I fell vpon my face.

5 So the Lord spake vnto me, O thou sonne of man, set thine heart, and beholde with thine eyes, and heare with thine eares, all that I say vnto thee concerning all the ordinances of the house of the Lord, and all the lawes thereof, and marke wel the entring in of the house, with euery going forth of the Sanctuary.

6 And thou shalt say to the rebellious, euen to the house of Israel, Thus sayeth the Lord God, O house of Israel, yee haue ynough of all your abominations,

7 Seeing yee haue brought into my Sanctuary b strangers, hauing vncircumcised hearts, and vncircumcised flesh, to be in my Sanctuary to pollute my house, when ye offer my bread, fat, and blood, and they haue broken my Couenant, because of all your abominations. b For they had brought idolaters which were of other countries, to teach them their idolatrie, Chap. 13.

8 And yee haue not kept the c ordinances of my holy things, and yee haue haue set keepers to keepe my Sanctuary d for you. c Ye haue not offered vnto me according to my Law. d In your place.

9 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Of all the strangers that dwell among the children of Israel, no stranger vncircumcised in heart, nor vncircumcised in flesh, shall enter into my Sanctuary.

10 But the Leuites that went backe from me when Israel went astray, which strayed from me after their idoles, e shal beare their iniquitie: e That is, the Leuites which had committed idolatrie, were put from their dignitie, and could not be receiued in to the Priests office, although they had bene of the house of Aaron, but must serue in the inferiour offices, as to watch, and to keepe the doores, 2. King. 23.

11 And they shalbe ministers in my Sanctuarie, and keepe the gates of the house, & minister in the house: they shall slay the burnt offerings, and the sacrifice of the people, and they shal stand before them, to serue them.

12 Because they serued before their idoles, and caused the house of Israel to fall into iniquitie: therefore haue I lift vp mine hande against them, saith the Lord God, and they shall beare their iniquitie.

13 And they shal not come neere vnto mee to do the office of a Priest vnto me, neither shal they come neere vnto any of mine holy things in the most holy place: but they shall beare their owne shame & abominations which they haue done.

14 And I wil make them keepers of the watch of the house, for all the seruice thereof, and for all that shalbe done therein.

15 But the Priestes, the Leuites, the sonnes of Sadoc, that [f] kept the charge of my Sanctuarie when the children of Israel strayed from me, shal come to me, to doe me seruice, to stand before mee, and to offer mee the fat and the blood, saith the Lord God.

16 They shal go into my Sanctuary, and approch vnto my table to doe me seruice, and they shall keepe my charge.

17 Now when they goe in at the gates of the innermer court, they shal put on linnen clothes, so that no woollen come vpon them while they doe seruice vnder the gates of the innermer court, and within.

18 They shal haue linnen bonnets vpon their heads, and linnen [‡] breeches vpon their loynes: they shal not gird themselues in the [‡] sweat.

19 And when they goe forth into the vtter court, euen to the vtter court of the people, they shal put off the clothes wherein they haue ministred, and lay them in the chamber of the Sanctuary, and put on other apparel, and they shall not sanctifie the people with their clothes.

20 They shal not [s] shaue their heads, nor suffer their haire to growe long, but powle their heads onely.

21 All the Priestes that goe into the innost court, shal drinke no wine.

22 *They shal marry no widow, neither one that is put from her husband, but a mayd of the seed of the house of Israel, or a widow that hath had a Priest before.

23 They shal shewe my people the difference betweene the holy and vnholy, and cause them to discerne betwixt the cleane and vncleane.

24 And in cõtrouersie they shal stand to iudge, and giue sentence after my iudgements: and my lawes and my statutes shal they keepe in all my solemne feasts, and halow my Sabboths.

25 They shal come at no dead person to defile themselues, but to father or mother, sonne or daughter, brother or sister, that hath yet no husband, in those may they be [h] defiled.

26 And when he is cleansed, there shalbe reckoned vnto him seuen dayes.

27 And when hee goeth into the Sanctuary vnto the inner court to minister in the Sanctuarie, yee shall bring his sinne offering, saith the Lord.

28 *[i] There shalbe to them an inheritance, euen I their inheritance: but possession shal yee giue them none in Israel, for I am their possession.

29 The meat offring, sinne offering, and trespasse offering shal they eate: and euery dedicate thing in Israel shalbe theirs.

30 *And al the first of the first borne, and euery oblation, euen al of euery sort of your oblations shalbe the Priests: ye shal also giue vnto the priests the first of your dough, that he may cause the blessing to rest in thine house.

31 *But the Priestes shal eate nothing that is dead by it selfe, or torne of fowle, or of beast.

The xlv. Chapter.

Of iust weights and measures.

WHen ye deuide the land by the lot for an inheritance, yee shal offer an oblation to the Lord, an holy [a] portion of the lande, twentie and fiue thousand canes long, and ten thousande broad: this shalbe holy in all the borders thereof round about.

2 Of this part there shall belong vnto the Sanctuary fiue hundred cubites in length with fiue hundred in breadth square round about: and fiftie cubits round about for the Suburbs.

3 And of this measure shalt thou measure, namely of the length of twentie and fiue thousand, and the breadth of ten thousand, and in it shalbe the Sanctuary, and the most holy place.

4 That holy portion of the land shal pertaine vnto the Priests, which do seruice in the Sanctuary, which come neere to serue the Lord: and it shalbe vnto them a place for their houses, and a holy place for the Sanctuary.

5 And in the twentie and fiue thousande length, and ten thousand breadth, shal the Leuits that minister in the house haue their possession for twenty chambers.

6 Ye shal giue also vnto the citie a possession of fiue thousand canes broad, and twenty and fiue thousand long, ouer against the oblation of the holy portion that shal be for the whole house of Israel.

7 And a portion shall be for the prince on this side & on that side of the oblation of the holy portion, and of the possession of the city, euen before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the possession of the city, from the West corner Westward, and from the East corner Eastward: and the length shalbe by one of the portions, from the West border vnto the East border.

8 In this land shalbe his possession in Israel: and my princes shal no more oppresse my people, and the rest of the land shal they giue to the house of Israel according to their Tribes.

9 Thus saith the Lord God, [b] Let it suffice you, O ye princes of Israel: leaue off cruelty and oppression, and execute iudgement, and iustice: take away your exactions from my people, saith the Lord God.

10 Ye shal haue a true balance, a true [c] Ephah, and a true Bath.

11 The Ephah and the Bath shalbe alike: one Bath shal conteine the tenth part of an Homer, and the Ephah the tenth part of an Homer: the equalitie thereof shalbe after the Homer.

12 *The Sicle maketh twenty Gerahs: and twenty Sicles, and [d] twenty and fiue Sicles, and fifteene Sicles make a Maneh.

13 This is the oblation that ye shal offer: the sixth part of an Ephah out of an Homer of wheat, and the sixth part of an Ephah out of an Homer of barley.

14 Concerning the ordinances of the oyle, euen of the Bath of oyle, ye shal offer the tenth part of a Bath out of the Cor, ten Baths shalbe a Homer, because ten Baths fill a Homer.

15 And one Lambe for two hundred sheepe out of the fat pastures of Israel for a meat offring, whole burnt offering, and peace offring, f Which obserued the Law of God, and fell not to idolatrie.

to reconcile them, saith the Lord God.

16 All the people of the lande shall giue this oblation for the prince in Israel.

17 Againe, it shalbe the princes part to offer whole burnt offerings, meat offrings, and wine offrings in the holy dayes, new Moones, Sabboths, and in all the high feastes of the house of Israel: he shall prepare the sinne offering, meate offering, whole burnt offring, and peace offring, to reconcile the house of Israel.

18 Thus saith the Lord God, The first day of the first [c] moneth, thou shalt take a yong bullocke without blemish, & clense the Sanctuary.

[c] Which was Adar, conteining part of March, and part of Aprill.

19 So the Priest shall take of the blood of the sinne offering, and put it vpon the postes of the house, and vpon the foure corners of the frame of the Altar, and vpon the posts of the gate of the inner court.

20 And thus shalt thou doe also the seuenth day of the moneth, for such as haue sinned of ignorance, or being deceiued, to reconcile the house withall.

21 Vpon the fourteenth day of the first moneth yee shal haue the Passeouer, a feast of seuen dayes, and ye shall eate vnleauened bread.

22 Vpon the same day shall the prince prepare for himselfe and all the people of the land, a bullocke for a sinne offering.

23 And in the seuen dayes of the feast, he shal make a whole burnt offering to the Lord, euen of seuen bullocks, and seuen rammes without blemish, dayly for seuen dayes, and a hee goat dayly for a sinne offering.

24 And he shall prepare a meat offering of an Ephah for a bullocke, and an Ephah for a ram, and a [f] Hin of oyle for an Ephah.

25 In the seuenth moneth, in the fifteenth day of the moneth, on the feast, he shall doe according vnto these for seuen dayes: according to the sinne offering, according to the whole burnt offring, and according to the meate offering, and according to the oyle.

The xlvj. Chapter.

1 The sacrifice of the Sabboths, and of the newe moones. 8 Thorow which doores they must goe in, or come out of the Temple.

THus saith the Lord God, the gate of the inner court toward the East, shalbe shut the sixe working dates: but in the Sabboth, & in the day of the new Moone it shalbe opened.

2 And the prince shall enter by the way of the porch of the gate without, and shall stand by the post of the gate: and the Priest shall make his whole burnt offering, and his peace offerings, and he shall worship at the threshold of the gate, and goe forth: and the gate shal not be shut till the euening.

3 On the same maner shall the people of the land also do their worship before the Lord, at the doore of this gate vpon the Sabboths, and new Moones.

4 The whole burnt offering that the prince shall bring vnto the Lord vpon the Sabboth, shalbe sixe lambes without blemish, and a ram without blemish.

5 And the meate offering shall be an Ephah for a ramme, and the meate offering for the lambes as [a] gift of his hand, and a Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

[a] That is, as much as he will.

6 In the day of the newe moneth, it shalbe a yong bullocke without blemish, and sixe lambs, and a ramme also without blemish.

7 With the bullocke he shall giue an Ephah: and with the ramme an Ephah also for a meate offering: but to the lambes [b] according as his hand shall take, and a Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

[b] According to his ability.

8 And when the prince shall enter, he shal go in by the way of the porch of that gate: he shal go forth by the way thereof.

9 But when the people of the land come before the Lord in the high solemne feast, as many as come in by the North gate to do worship, shall goe out againe at the South gate: and they that come in at the South gate, shall go forth againe at the North gate: there shall none returne by the gate where hee came in, but shall goe right forth ouer on the other side.

10 And the prince, he shall goe in the midst of them when they go in, and so come forth when they come forth.

11 Vpon the solemne and high feast dayes this shall bee the meate offering: an Ephah to a bullocke, and an Ephah to a ramme, and to the lambes the gift of his hand, and an Hin of oyle to an Ephah.

12 Nowe when the prince shall make a free whole burnt offering, or peace offerings freely vnto the Lord: one then shall open him the gate that turneth toward the East, and he shall make his whole burnt offerings, and his peace offrings, as he did on the Sabboth day: after, hee shall goe forth, and when he is gone forth, one shall shut the gate.

13 Thou shalt dayly make a whole burnt offering vnto the Lord of a Lambe of one yeere without blemish, thou shalt doe it euery morning.

15 Thou shalt prepare a meate offering for it euery morning, the first part of an Ephah, and the thirde part of an Hin of oyle to mingle with the fine floure: this meate offering shall bee continually by a perpetuall ordinance vnto the Lord.

15 Thus shall they prepare the Lambe, the meate offering, and oyle, euery morning, for a continuall whole burnt offering.

16 Moreouer, thus saith the Lord God, If the prince giue a gift vnto any of his sonnes, the inheritance thereof shalbe his sonnes: their possession shall be by inheritance.

17 But if hee giue a gift of his inheritance to one of his seruants, then it shall bee his to the [c] yeere of libertie, and then returne to the prince: but the inheritance thereof is his sonnes, and shalbe theirs.

[c] Which was at the yeere of Jubilee, Leuit. 25.

18 The Prince also [d] shall take none of the peoples inheritance, nor put them frō their possession: but to his sonnes shall he giue his owne possession, that my people be not scattred abroad euery man from his possession.

[d] But be content with that portion that God hath allotted him, Ezech. 45.

19 And hee brought me thorow the entrance at the side of the gate to the holy chambers of the Priestes, which stood toward the North, and beholde, there was a place vpon the West side of them.

20 Then said he vnto mee, This is the place where the Priestes shall seethe the trespasse and sinne offerings, and bake the meate offerings: that they need not beare them into the outward court, and to [e] sanctifie the people.

[e] To cause the people to vnderstand it is lawfull for them to eate them, and so fall into a right opinion of holinesse and sanctification.

21 So hee brought mee into the vtter court, and caused me to goe by the foure corners of the court: and beholde, in euery corner of the court there was a court.

22 In the foure corners of the court there were courts ioyned of fourtie cubites long, and thirtie broade: these foure corners were of one measure.

23 And there went a wall round about them, euen about those foure: and vnder the walles there were ‡ hitchins made round about.

24 Then saide hee vnto mee, These are the cookes houses, where the ministers of the house shall boyle the sacrifice of the people.

The xlvij. Chapter.

1 The vision of the waters that came out of the Temple. 13 The coastes of the land of promise, and the division thereof by tribes.

AFterward he brought mee againe vnto the doore of the house, and beholde, there gushed out [a] waters from vnder the thresholde of the house Eastward: for the forefront of the house stood toward the East, and the waters ranne downe from vnder the right side of the house, which lieth to the Altar Southward.

[a] Whereby are meant the spirituall graces that should be giuen to the Church vnder the kingdome of Christ, as Iohn 4.

2 Then led he me to the North gate, and led mee about by the way without vnto the vtter gate by the way that turneth Eastward: and beholde, there issued forth waters frō the right side.

3 Nowe when the man that had the line in his hand went forth Eastward, he measured a thousand cubites, and then he brought mee thorow the waters, the waters were to the ancles.

4 So hee measured yet a thousande, and brought mee thorow the waters, the waters were to the knees: yet measured he a thousand, and brought me thorow, the waters were to the loynes.

5 After this hee measured a thousande againe, then was it such a [b] riuer that I might not wade thorow it, the waters were risen, and the waters did flow as a riuer that might not be waded ouer.

[b] Signifying that the graces of God should neuer decrease, but euer abound in his Church.

6 And he said vnto me, Hast thou seene this, O thou son of man? and with that hee brought me, and caused me to returne to the riuer banke againe.

7 Nowe when I returned, beholde, at the banke of the riuer were very many trees [c] on the one side, and on the other.

8 Then said he vnto me, These waters flow out toward the East countrey, and run downe into the plaine, and come into the [d] Sea: which when it commeth into the Sea, the [e] waters shalbe wholsome.

[c] Meaning, the multitude of them that should be refreshed by the spirituall waters.

[d] Shewing, that the abundance of these graces should be so great, that all the world should be full thereof, which is here meant by the Persian sea, by Genezareth, and the Sea called Mediterraneum, Zach. 14.

[e] The waters which of nature are salt and vnwholsome, shalbe made sweete and comfortable.

9 Yea, all that liue and moue, whereunto this riuer commeth, shall liue: and there shalbe a very great multitude of fish, because these waters shal come thither, for they shalbe wholsome: and euery thing shall liue whither the riuer commeth.

10 By this riuer shall the Fishers stand, from Engaddi vnto En-eglaim, and there spread out their nettes: for their fish shall bee according to their kindes as the fish of the maine Sea, exceeding many.

11 But the marishes thereof, and the pittes thereof, shall not be made wholsome, they shalbe made salt pits.

12 By this riuer, vpon the bankes thereof on this side and on that side, shall grow all trees for meate, whose leaues shall not fade, neither shall the fruit thereof faile, but shall bring forth new fruit according to his moneths, for the waters thereof runne out of the Sanctuary: and the fruite thereof shall be for meate, and the leaues thereof for ‖ medicine.

‖ Or, for bruises and sores.

13 Thus saith the Lord God, Let this be the border whereby yee shall inherit the land, according to the twelue tribes of Israel, *Ioseph shal haue two portions.

Gen. 48. 22.

14 And yee shall inherite one as well as another, concerning the which I lift vp my hand to giue it vnto your fathers: and this land shal fall vnto you for inheritance.

15 This is the border of the [f] lande vpon the North side, from the maine Sea toward Hethlon, as men goe to Zedada.

[f] By the land of promise, he signifieth the spirituall land, whereof this was a figure.

16 Namely, Hamath, Berotha, Sabarim, which are betweene the borders of Damascus, and betweene the borders of Hamah, Hazar, Hatichon, that lyeth vpon the coastes of Hauran.

17 Thus the borders from the Sea forth shal be Hazar Enan, the border of Damascus, and the North Northward, and the borders of Hamah: this is the North part.

18 The East side shall yee measure from Hauran and Damascus, from Gilead and the land of Israel by Iordane, and from the border vnto the East sea: and this is the East part.

19 The South side shall bee toward Teman, from Thamar to the waters of ‖ strife in Cades, and the riuer to the maine Sea: and this is the South part toward Teman.

‖ Or, Meriboth.

20 The West part also shalbe the great Sea, from the borders till a man come ouer against Hamah: this is the West part.

21 This land shall yee part among you according to the tribes of Israel, 22 And diuide it by lot to bee an heritage for you, and for the strangers that dwel among you, and beget children among you: for yee shall take them among ỹ children of Israel, like as though they were of your owne countrey, and they shall haue [g] heritage with you among the children of Israel.

[g] Meaning, that in this spirituall kingdome, there should be no difference betweene Iew nor Gentile, but that all should be partakers of his inheritance in their head Christ.

23 And in what tribe the stranger dwelleth, in the same tribe shall yee giue him his heritage, saith the Lord God.

The xlviij. Chapter.

1 The lots of the seuen Tribes. 23 The lots of the other Tribes.

THese are the names of the Tribes: from the North side to the coast toward Hethlon, till thou comest vnto Hamah, and Hazar Enan, the borders of Damascus Northward, the coast of Hamah, Dan shall haue his portion from the East quarter vnto the West.

2 Vpon the borders of Dan, from the East side vnto the West, shall Aser haue his portion.

3 Vpon the borders of Aser, from the East part vnto the West, shall Nepthali haue his portion.

East side vnto the West, shall Ephraim haue his portion.

6 Vpon the borders of Ephraim, from the East part vnto the West, shall Ruben haue his portion.

7 Vpon the borders of Ruben, from the East quarter vnto the West, shall Juda haue his portion.

8 Vpon the borders of Juda, from the East part vnto the West part, shall bee the [a] offering which they shall offer, of fiue and twenty thousand canes broad, & of length as one of the parts from the East side vnto the West side: and the sanctuary shall bee in the middest of it.

9 The oblation that yee shall offer vnto the Lord, shall bee fiue and twenty thousand long, and ten thousand broad.

10 And for these, euen for the priests, shall be this holy oblation: toward the North fiue and twenty thousand long, and toward the West ten thousand broad, toward the East ten thousand broad also, and toward the South fiue & twenty thousand long, and the sanctuary of the Lord shall be in the midst thereof.

11 This sanctified portion shal be the Priests that are of the children of Sadoc, which haue kept my charge, which went not astray in the errour of the children of Israel, like as the Leuites went astray.

12 Therefore this oblation of the land that is offered, shall bee theirs as a thing most holy, hard vpon the borders of the Leuites.

13 And ouer against the border of the priests, shal the Leuites haue fiue and twenty thousand long, and tenne thousand broad: all the length shall be fiue and twenty thousand, & the breadth ten thousand.

14 Of this portion they shall sell nothing, nor make any permutation thereof, nor alienate the first fruits of the land: for it is holy vnto the Lord.

15 And the fiue thousand that are left in the breadth ouer against the fiue and twenty thousand, shall bee a prophane place for the citie, for housing and for suburbs: and the citie shall be in the middes thereof.

16 And these shall bee the measures thereof: The North part fiue hundred & foure thousand, and the South [b] part fiue hundred and foure thousand, and the East part fiue hundred and foure thousand, and the West part fiue hundred and foure thousand.

17 The suburbs of the citie shall haue toward the North two hundred and fiftie, toward the South two hundred and fiftie, toward the East two hundred and fiftie, toward the West also two hundred and fiftie.

18 And the residue in length ouer against the oblation of the holy portion shall bee ten thousand toward the East, and ten thousand toward the West: and it shall be ouer against the oblation of the holy portion, and the increase thereof shall be for their meate that serue the citie.

19 And they that serue the citie, they shall serue it out of all the tribes of Israel.

20 All the oblation shall bee fiue and twenty thousand [c] with fiue and twenty thousand: yee shall offer this oblation foure square, for the sanctuarie, and for the possession of the citie.

21 And the residue shalbe for the prince, on the one side and on the other of the holy oblation, and of the possession of the citie ouer against the fiue & twenty thousand of the oblation toward the East border, and West ward ouer against the fiue and twentie thousand toward the West border, ouer against shalbe the portiō for the prince: this shall be the holy oblation, and the house of the sanctuary shall be in the middest thereof.

22 Moreouer, from the possession of the Leuites, and the cities possession, that which is in the middest shall be the princes, betwixt the border of [d] Juda, and the border of Beniamin shall be the princes.

23 Nowe of the other tribes: from the East part vnto the West, shall Beniamin haue his portion.

24 Vpon the borders of Beniamin, from the East side vnto the West, shall Simeon haue his portion.

25 Vpon the borders of Simeon, from the East side vnto the West, shall Issachar haue his portion.

26 Vpon the borders of Issachar, from the East side vnto the West, shall Zabulon haue his portion.

27 Vpon the borders of Zabulon, from the East part vnto the West, shall Gad haue his portion.

28 Vpon the borders of Gad at the South side toward Temanah, the border shal be from Thamar, vnto the waters of ‖ strife to Cades, and to the riuer that runneth into the maine sea.

29 This is the lande which yee shall diuide by lot for an inheritance vnto the tribes of Israel, and these be their portions, saith the Lord God.

30 These be the bounds of the citie, vpon the North part fiue hundred and foure thousand measures.

31 The gates of the citie shal haue the names of the tribes of Israel, three gates of the North side: one gate of Ruben, another of Juda, the third of Leui.

32 Vpon the East side fiue hundred and foure thousand measures, with three gates: the one of Joseph, another of Beniamin, the third of Dan.

33 Vpon the South side fiue hundred & foure thousand measures, with the three gates: the one of Simeon, another of Issachar, the third of Zabulon.

34 And vpon the West side, fiue hundred and fiue thousand measures, with their three gates also: the one of Gad, another of Aser, the third of Nephthali.

35 Thus shal it haue eighteen thousand measures round about: & the name of the citie from that time forth shalbe, ‡ The Lord is there.

[a] That is, the portion of the ground which they shall separate & appoint to the Lord, which shall be diuided into three parts, for the priests, for the prince, and for the citie.

[b] Meaning, that it should be square.

[c] Euery way it shalbe fiue & twenty thousand.

[d] So that Juda was on the North side of the princes and Leuites portions, and Beniamin on the South side.

The booke of the Prophet Daniel.

The first Chapter.

1 The Prophet sheweth the captiuitie of Iehoiakim king of Iuda. 4 Of the children that were in captiuitie, the king commandeth to choose which of them should be taught the learning and language of the Chaldeans.

a Reade 2. kin. 24.10.

IN the a third yeere of the reigne of Iehoiakim king of Iuda, came Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon vnto Hierusalem, and besieged it.

2 And the Lord deliuered Iehoiakim the king of Iuda into his hand, with part of the vessels of the house of God, which he caried away into the land of b Sennar, to the house of his god, and he brought the vessels into his gods treasury.

b Called was a plain by Babylon, where was the temple of their great god, and is here taken for Babylon. c Or master of the Eunuches.

3 And the king spake vnto Aphenaz the c chiefe chamberlaine, that he should bring him certaine of the children of Israel, of the kings seede, and of the princes:

4 Springales without any blemish, but well fauoured, studious in all wisedome, skilful for knowledge, able to vtter knowledge, and such as haue liuelinesse in them, that they d may stand in the kings palace: and whom they might teach the learning and the tongue of the Chaldeans.

d As well to serue at the tables, as in other offices.

5 Vnto these the king appointed a daily prouision euery day of a portion of the kings meate, and of the wine which he dranke, so to nourish them three yeeres, that afterwards they might stand before the king.

6 Among these nowe were certaine of the children of Iuda, namely, Daniel, Ananias, Misael, and Azarias.

7 Vnto these the chiefe Chamberlaine gaue e other names, and called Daniel, Baltassar: Ananias, Sidrach: Misael, Misach: and Azarias, Abednego.

e Either because they would declare their power, as conquerors to change the name of them they ouercame, or else for hatred of their vaine names.

8 But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himselfe with the portion of the kings meat, nor with the wine which he dranke: therefore he required the chiefe Chamberlaine that he might not defile himselfe.

9 (And God brought Daniel into fauour and tender loue with the chiefe chamberlaine.)

10 And the chiefe Chamberlain said vnto Daniel, I am afraid of my Lord the king which hath appointed you your meate and your drinke: wherefore should he see your faces worse liking then the springales of your age, and so yee shall make me indanger my head vnto the king.

11 Then Daniel sayd vnto Melassar, whom the chiefe Chamberlaine had set ouer Daniel, Ananias, Misael, and Azarias:

12 Proue but ten daies with thy seruants, and let vs haue pulse to eat, and water to drinke.

13 Then let our countenances bee looked vpon before thee, and the countenances of the children that eate of the portion of the kings meate: and as thou seest, deale with thy seruants.

14 So he consented to them in this matter, and proued them ten dayes.

15 And at the end of ten dayes their countenances apeared fairer and fatter in flesh then all the children which did eate the portion of the kings meate.

f Or better liking.

16 Thus Melassar tooke away the portion of their meat, and the wine that they should drinke, and gaue them pulse.

17 As for those foure children, God gaue them knowledge and vnderstanding in g all learning and wisedome: also he gaue Daniel vnderstanding of all h visions and dreames.

g Meaning, liberall sciences and naturall knowledge, which was vsed where they were conuersant.

h So that hee onely was a Prophet, and none of the other: for by dreames and visions God appeared to his prophets, Num. 12.

18 Now when the time was expired that the king had appointed to bring them in, the chiefe Chamberlaine brought them before Nabuchodonosor.

i Of the three yeeres about mentioned, vers. 5.

19 And the king communed with them: but among them all were found none such as Daniel, Ananias, Misael, and Azarias: therefore stoode they before the king.

20 In all matters of wisedome and vnderstanding that the king enquired of them, hee found them tenne times better then all the wise men & soothsayers that were in all his realme.

k That is, hee was esteemed in Babylon as a Prophet and in authoritie so long as that common wealth flood.

21 And Daniel abode still vnto the k first yere of king Cyrus.

The ij. Chapter.

1 The dreame of Nabuchodonosor. 2 He calleth vnto him soothsayers, and requireth of them both the dreame and the interpretation thereof.

IN the a second yere of the reigne of Nabuchodonosor, had Nabuchodonosor a dreame, wherethrough his spirit was troubled, and his sleepe brake from him.

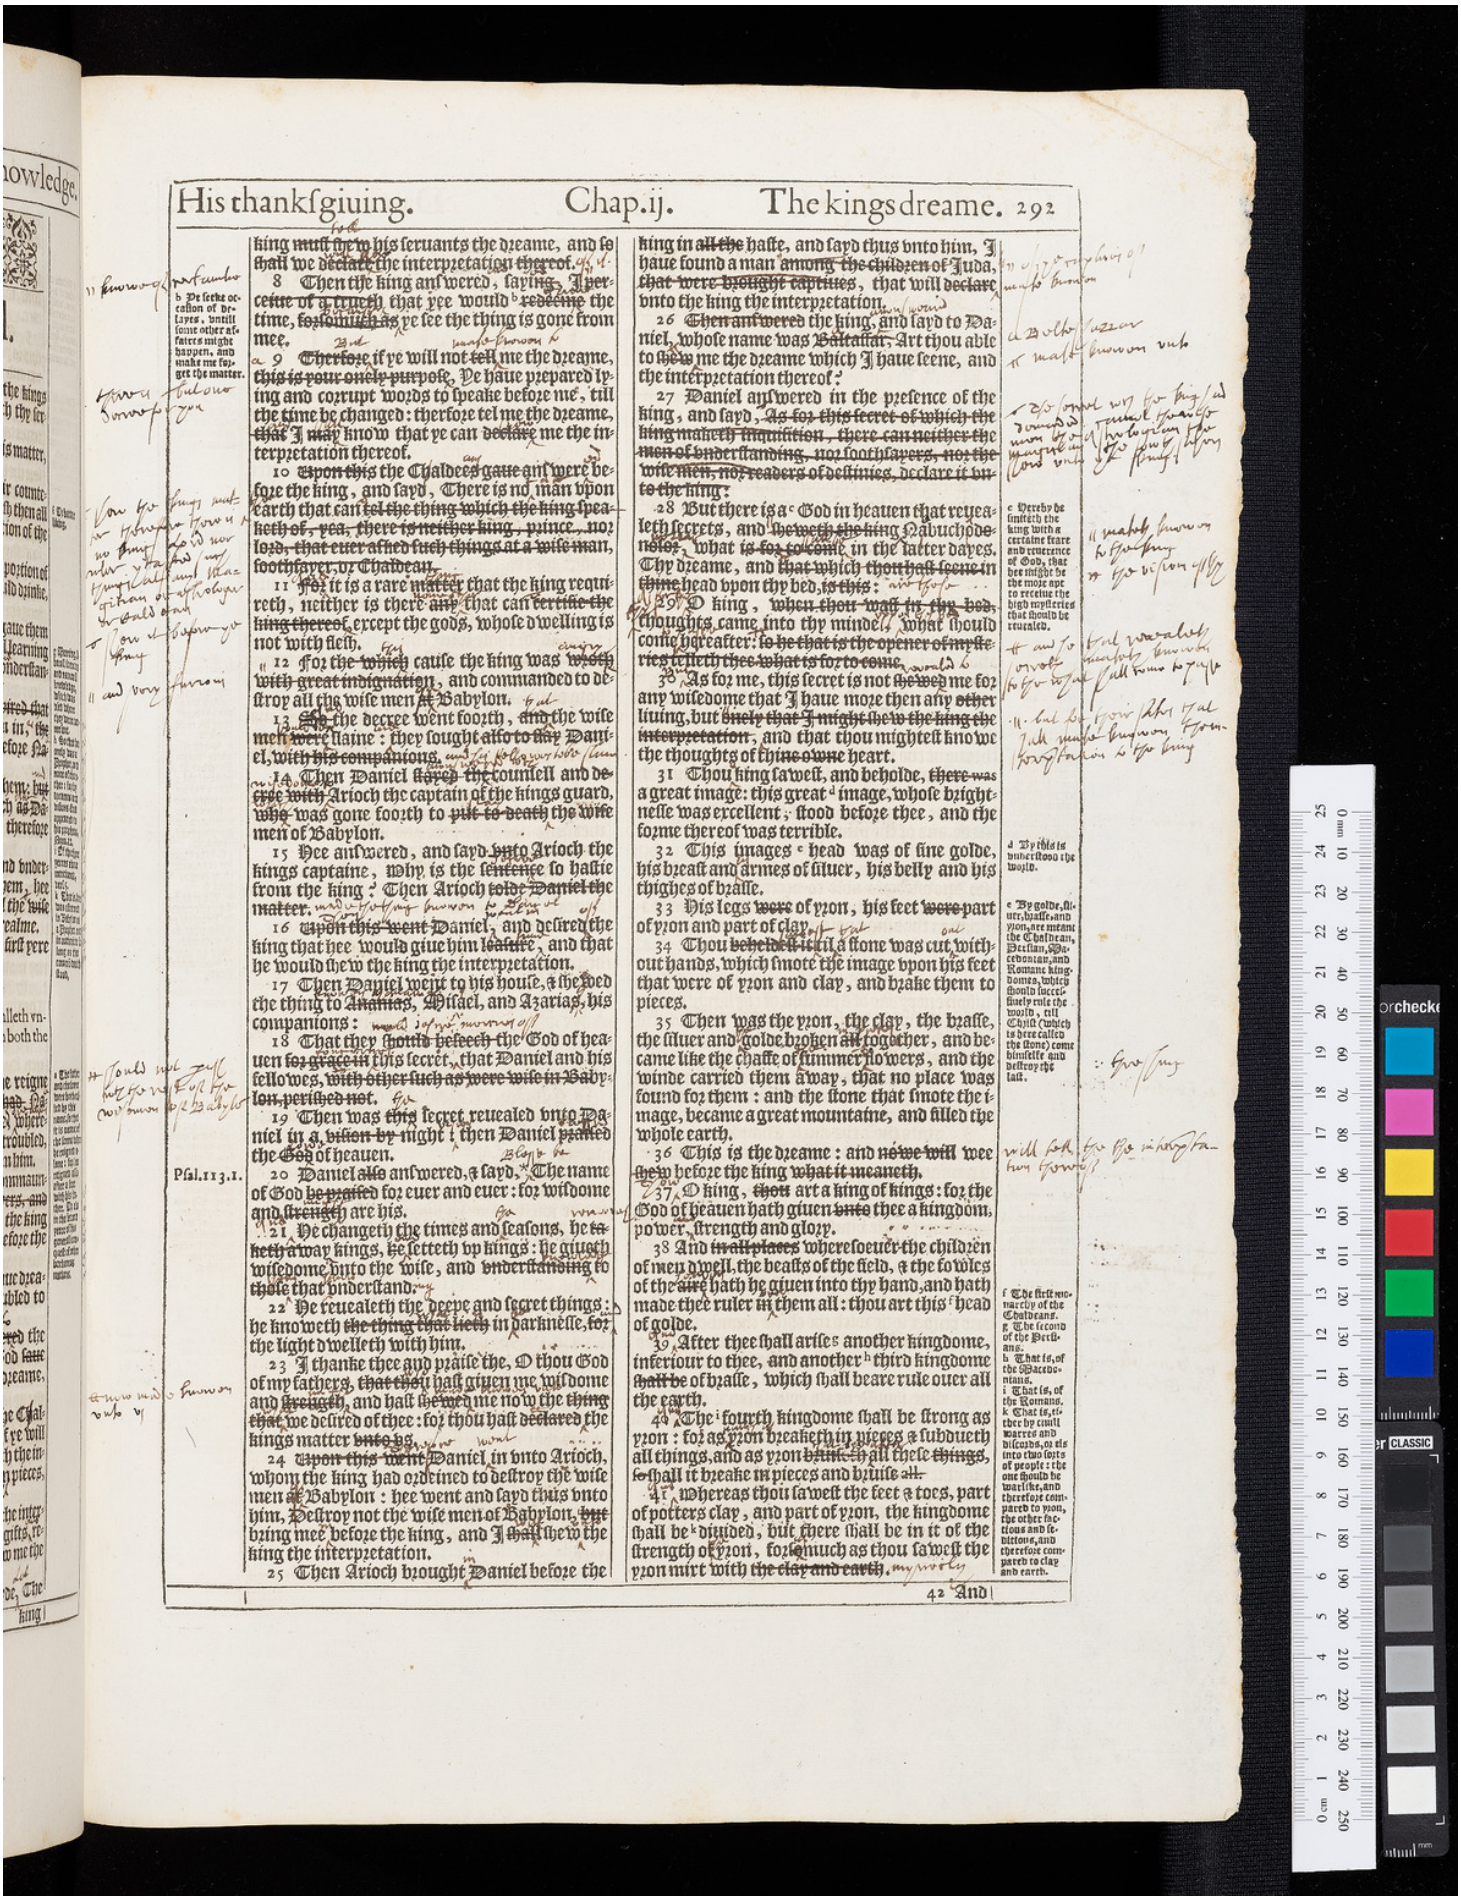
a The father and the sonne were both called by this name, so that it is meant of the sonne when he reigned alone: for hee reigned also after a sort with his father. Or als in the second yeere of his generall conquest of other barbarous nations.

2 Then the king commanded to call the wise men, and soothsayers, and sorcerers, and the Chaldees, for to shew the king his dreame: So they came, and stood before the king.

3 And the king said vnto them, I haue dreamed a dreame, and my spirit was troubled to know the dreame.

4 Then spake the Chaldeans answered the king in the Syriake speech, O king, God saue thy life for euer: tell thy seruants the dreame, and we shall shew the interpretation.

5 The king answered and sayd to the Chaldeans, The thing is gone from mee: If ye will not make me vnderstand the dreame with the interpretation thereof, ye shalbe drawen in pieces, and your houses made a iakes.



6 But if ye tell me the dreame, and the interpretation thereof, ye shall receiue of me gifts, rewards, and great honour, therefore shew me the dreame, and the interpretation thereof.

7 They answered againe, and sayde, The king

king must ſhew his ſeruants the dreame, and ſo ſhall we declare the interpretation thereof.

8 Then the king anſwered, ſaying, I perceiue of a truth that yee would redeeme the time, forſomuch as ye ſee the thing is gone from mee.

9 Therefore if ye will not tell me the dreame, this is your onely purpoſe, Ye haue prepared lying and corrupt words to ſpeake before me, till the time be changed: therefore tel me the dreame, that I may know that ye can declare me the interpretation thereof.

10 Vpon this the Chaldees gaue anſwere before the king, and ſayd, There is no man vpon earth that can tel the thing which the king ſpeaketh of, yea, there is neither king, prince, nor lord, that euer aſked ſuch things at a wiſe man, ſoothſayer, or Chaldean.

11 For it is a rare matter that the king requireth, neither is there any that can certifie the king thereof, except the gods, whoſe dwelling is not with fleſh.

12 For the which cauſe the king was wroth with great indignation, and commanded to deſtroy all the wiſe men at Babylon.

13 So the decree went forth, and the wiſe men were ſlaine: they ſought alſo to ſlay Daniel, with his companions.

14 Then Daniel ſtayed the counſell and decree with Arioch the captain of the kings guard, who was gone forth to put to death the wiſe men of Babylon.

15 Hee anſwered, and ſayd vnto Arioch the kings captaine, Why is the ſentence ſo haſtie from the king? Then Arioch told Daniel the matter.

16 Vpon this went Daniel, and deſired the king that hee would giue him leaſure, and that he would ſhew the king the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his houſe, & ſhewed the thing to Ananias, Miſael, and Azarias, his companions:

18 That they ſhould beſeech the God of heauen for grace in this ſecret, that Daniel and his fellowes, with other ſuch as were wiſe in Babylon, periſhed not.

19 Then was this ſecret reuealed vnto Daniel in a viſion by night: then Daniel praiſed the God of heauen.

Pſal.113.1. 20 Daniel alſo anſwered, & ſayd, The name of God be praiſed for euer and euer: for wiſdome and ſtrength are his.

21 He changeth the times and ſeaſons, he taketh away kings, & ſetteth vp kings: he giueth wiſedome vnto the wiſe, and vnderſtanding to thoſe that vnderſtand.

22 He reuealeth the deepe and ſecret things: he knoweth the thing that lieth in darkneſſe, for the light dwelleth with him.

23 I thanke thee and praiſe thee, O thou God of my fathers, that thou haſt giuen me wiſdome and ſtrength, and haſt ſhewed me now the thing that we deſired of thee: for thou haſt declared the kings matter vnto vs.

24 Vpon this went Daniel in vnto Arioch, whom the king had ordeined to deſtroy the wiſe men at Babylon: hee went and ſayd thus vnto him, Deſtroy not the wiſe men of Babylon, but bring mee before the king, and I will ſhew the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought Daniel before the king in all the haſte, and ſayd thus vnto him, I haue found a man among the children of Iuda, that were brought captiues, that will declare vnto the king the interpretation.

26 Then anſwered the king, and ſayd to Daniel, whoſe name was Baltaſſar, Art thou able to ſhew me the dreame which I haue ſeene, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniel anſwered in the preſence of the king, and ſayd, As for this ſecret of which the king maketh inquiſition, there can neither the men of vnderſtanding, nor ſoothſayers, nor the wiſe men, nor readers of deſtinies, declare it vnto the king:

28 But there is a God in heauen that reuealeth ſecrets, and he ſheweth the king Nabuchodonoſor, what is for to come in the latter dayes. Thy dreame, and that which thou haſt ſeene in thine head vpon thy bed, is this:

29 O king, when thou waſt in thy bed, thoughts came into thy minde, what ſhould come hereafter: ſo he that is the opener of myſteries ſheweth thee what is for to come.

30 As for me, this ſecret is not ſhewed me for any wiſedome that I haue more then any other liuing, but onely that I might ſhew the king the interpretation, and that thou mighteſt know the thoughts of thine owne heart.

31 Thou king ſaweſt, and beholde, there was a great image: this great image, whoſe brightneſſe was excellent, ſtood before thee, and the forme thereof was terrible.

32 This images head was of fine golde, his breaſt and armes of ſiluer, his belly and his thighes of braſſe.

33 His legs were of yron, his feet were part of yron and part of clay.

34 Thou beheldeſt it till a ſtone was cut without hands, which ſmote the image vpon his feet that were of yron and clay, and brake them to pieces.

35 Then was the yron, the clay, the braſſe, the ſiluer and golde broken all together, and became like the chaffe of ſummer flowers, and the winde carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the ſtone that ſmote the image, became a great mountaine, and filled the whole earth.

36 This is the dreame: and nowe will wee ſhew before the king what it meaneth.

37 O king, thou art a king of kings: for the God of heauen hath giuen vnto thee a kingdom, power, ſtrength and glory.

38 And wilde places whereſoeuer the children of men dwell, the beaſts of the field, & the foules of the aire hath he giuen into thy hand, and hath made thee ruler in them all: thou art this head of golde.

39 After thee ſhall ariſe another kingdome, inferiour to thee, and another third kingdome ſhall be of braſſe, which ſhall beare rule ouer all the earth.

40 The fourth kingdome ſhall be ſtrong as yron: for as yron breaketh in pieces & ſubdueth all things, and as yron ſtamps all theſe things, ſo ſhall it breake in pieces and bruiſe all.

41 Whereas thou ſaweſt the feet & toes, part of potters clay, and part of yron, the kingdome ſhall be diuided, but there ſhall be in it of the ſtrength of yron, forſomuch as thou ſaweſt the yron mixt with the clay and earth.

b Ye ſeeke occaſion of delayes, vntill ſome other affaires might happen, and make me forget the matter.

c Hereby he inſteth the king with a certaine feare and reuerence of God, that hee might be the more apt to receiue the high myſteries that ſhould be reuealed.

d By this is vnderſtood the world.

e By golde, ſiluer, braſſe, and yron, are meant the Chaldean, Perſian, Macedonian, and Romane kingdoms, which ſhould ſucceſſiuely rule the world, till Chriſt (which is here called the ſtone) come himſelfe and deſtroy the laſt.

f The firſt monarchy of the Chaldeans.
g The ſecond of the Perſians.
h That is, of the Macedonians.
i That is, of the Romans.
k That is, either by ciuill warres and diſcords, or elſe into two ſorts of people: the one ſhould be warlike, and therefore compared to yron, the other factious and ſeditious, and therefore compared to clay and earth.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Ccc4v

42 And as the toes of the feete were part of iron, and part of clay: so shall the kingdome bee partly strong, and partly broken.

43 And whereas thou sawest iron mixt with clay (earth), they shall mingle themselues with the seede of men, and yet not ioine one with another, as iron will not be mixt with clay.

44 And in the dayes of these kings shall the God of heauen set vp a kingdome, which shal neuer be destroyed, and this kingdome shall not be giuen ouer to another people: but it shall breake and destroy all these kingdomes, and it shall stand for euer.

45 Like as thou sawest, that [m] without any hands there was cut out of the mount a stone, which brake the iron, the brasse, the clay, the siluer, and gold in pieces: so the great God hath shewed the king what shall come to passe after this: this is a true dreame, and the interpretation of it is sure.

46 Then the king Nabuchodonozor fell downe vpon his face, and bowed himselfe vnto Daniel, and commanded to ordaine rewards and sweet odours for him. [n]

47 The king answered Daniel, and sayd, Of a truth your God is a God of gods, and the Lord of kings, and a reuealer of secrets, seeing thou couldest reueale this secret.

48 So the king made Daniel a great man, and gaue him many and great gifts: hee made him ruler of all the countreys of Babylon, and the chiefe of the rulers about all the wise men of Babylon.

49 Then Daniel made request to the king, and he set Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, ouer the charge of the prouince of Babylon: but Daniel sate in the kings gate.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The king setteth vp a golden image, which he commandeth to be worshipped. 8 Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego are accused, because they despised the kings commandement.

NAbuchodonozor the king made an image of golde, which was three score cubits his, & fiue cubits thicke: he set it vp in the plain of Dura, in the prouince of Babylon.

2 Then Nabuchodonozor the king sent forth, to gather together the dukes, lords, and nobles, the iudges and officers, the deputies and chirifs, with all the rulers of the prouinces, that they might come to the [a] dedicatio of the image which Nabuchodonozor the king had set vp.

3 So the dukes, lords, and nobles, the iudges and officers, deputies and chirifes, with all the rulers of the prouince, gathered them together vnto the dedication of the image that Nabuchodonozor the king had set vp, and they stoode before the image which Nabuchodonozor had set vp.

4 Then an Herauld cried aloud, To you it is commaunded, O people, nations, and languages,

5 That when yee heare the noise of the Cornet, Trumpet, Harpe, Shawme, Psalteries, Dulcimer, and all manner of instruments of musicke, yee fall downe and worship that golden image that Nabuchodonozor the king hath set vp,

6 Who so then falleth not downe and worshippeth, shall euen the same houre bee cast into the middest of a hote fiery fornace.

7 Therefore when all the folke heard the noise of the Cornet, Trumpet, Harp, Shawme, Psalteries, and all instruments of musicke, then all the people, nations, and languages fell downe and worshipped the golden image that Nabuchodonozor the king had set vp.

8 [b] Now were there certaine men of the Chaldees, that went euen then, and [c] cried out an accusation of the Iewes.

9 They spake, and said vnto the king Nabuchodonozor, O king, liue for euer.

10 Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that euery man that shall heare the sound of the Cornet, Trumpet, Harpe, Shawme, Psalteries, Dulcimer, and all instruments of musicke, shall fall downe and worship the golden image:

11 And who so then fell not downe, and worshipped not, that he should be cast into the midst of an hote fiery fornace.

12 Now are there certaine Iewes, whome thou hast set ouer the charge of the prouince of Babylon, namely, [e] Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego: these men, O king, regarded not thy commandement: yea, they will not serue thy gods, nor worship the golden image that thou hast set vp.

13 Then Nabuchodonozor in his anger and wrath commanded that Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego should be brought vnto him: so these men were brought before the king.

14 Then Nabuchodonozor spake vnto them, and said, Is it true, O Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, will not you serue my gods, nor worship the golden image that I haue set vp?

15 Now therefore bee ready, when yee heare the sounde of the Cornet, Trumpet, Harpe, Shawme, Psalteries, Dulcimer, and all instruments of musicke, to fall downe and worship the image which I haue made: but if yee worship it not, ye shall be cast immediately into the midst of a hote fierie fornace: for who is that God that can deliuer you out of my hands?

16 Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego answered the king, and sayde, O Nabuchodonozor, wee are not [d] carefull to answere thee in this matter:

17 Beholde, our God whome wee serue, is [e] able to deliuer vs from the hote fierie fornace: and he will deliuer vs out of thy hand, O king.

18 And though hee will not, yet haue thou knowe, O king, that we will not serue thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set vp.

19 Then was Nabuchodonozor full of indignation, so that the countenance of his face changed vpon Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego: therefore he charged and commanded that they should heate the fornace, one seuen times more then it was wont to be heat.

20 And hee charged the most valiant men of warre that were in his armie, to binde Sidrach, Misach, and Abednego, and to cast them into the hote fierie fornace.

21 So these men were bound in their coates, hosen, head attire, with their other garments, and cast into the middest of the hote fierie fornace.

22 Therefore because the kings commaun-

[b] That is, accused the Iewes with an outcry.

[c] It seemeth that they named not Daniel, because he was greatly in the kings fauour, thinking if these three had bene destroyed, they might haue better occasion to accuse Daniel after: and this declareth that this politicie of erecting this image, was inuented by the malicious flatterers, which sought nothing but the destruction of the Iewes, whom they accused of rebellion and ingratitude.

[d] They should haue done answere to God, if they should haue doubted in this holy cause, & therefore they say that they are reiolued to die for Gods cause.

[e] They grounde on two points: first on ꝑ power & prouidence of God ouer them: secondly on their cause, which was Gods glory, and the reteining of their true religion with their blood, and so make open confession, ꝑ they will not so much as outwardly conforme to Idolatrie.

[m] That is, that the kingdome of Christ should be set vp by God, not by men.

dement was ſtrait, and the fornace was exceeding hote, the men that put in Sidrach, Miſach, and Abednego, the flame of the fire deſtroyed them.

23 And theſe three men, Sidrach, Miſach, and Abednego, fell downe in the mids of the hot fiery fornace bound.

24 Then Nabuchodonoſor the king was aſtonied, and roſe vp in all haſte: he ſpake vnto his counſell, and ſayd, Did not wee call three men bound into the mids of the fire? They anſwered and ſayd vnto the king, It is true, O king.

25 Yee anſwered, and ſayd, Loe, I ſee foure men looſe, walking in the middes of the fire, and they haue no hurt: and the forme of the fourth is like the [f] ſonne of God.

26 Vpon this went Nabuchodonoſor vnto the mouth of the hote firie fornace, he ſpake alſo, and ſayd, O Sidrach, Miſach, and Abednego, ye ſeruants of the high God, go forth, and come hither. And ſo Sidrach, Miſach, and Abednego, came forth of the mids of the fire.

27 The dukes, lordes, and nobles, and the kings counſell came together to ſee theſe men, vpon whom the fire had no maner of power in their bodies: inſomuch that the very haire of their head was not burnt, and their clothes vnchanged, yea, there was no ſmell of fire felt vpon them.

28 Then ſpake Nabuchodonoſor, and ſayde, Bleſſed be the God of Sidrach, Miſach, and Abednego, which hath ſent his angel, and deliuered his ſeruants that put their truſt in him, and haue altered the kings commandement, and ieoparded their bodies, rather then they woulde ſerue or worſhip any god, except their owne God onely.

29 Therefore I make a decree, that euerie people, nation, and language, which ſpeake any blaſpheme againſt the God of Sidrach, Miſach, and Abednego, ſhall be drawen in pieces, & their houſes ſhalbe made a iakes: becauſe there is no god that can deliuer after this ſort.

30 So the king promoted Sidrach, Miſach, and Abednego, in the prouince of Babylon.

The iiij. Chapter.

Nabuchodonoſor dreameth againe.

NAbuchodonoſor king, vnto all people, nations, and languages that dwel vpon the [a] whole earth, peace be multiplied among you.

2 I thought it good to ſhew the ſignes and marueilous workes that the hie God hath wrought vpon me.

3 O how great are his ſignes, & how mighty are his wonders! his kingdome is an [b] euerlaſting kingdome, and his dominion is from generation to generation.

4 I Nabuchodonoſor, being at reſt in my houſe, and flouriſhing in my palace,

5 Saw a [c] dreame, which made me afrayd, and the thoughts vpon my bed, with the viſions of my head troubled me.

6 Therefore made I a decree, that they ſhould bring all the wiſe men of Babylon before mee, that they might declare vnto me the interpretation of the dreame.

7 So came the wiſe men, the ſoothſayers, the Chaldeans, and Maſars, to whom I tolde the dreame: but they could not ſhew mee the interpretation thereof.

8 Still at the laſt, Daniel came before me (whoſe name was Baltaſſar, according to the name of my god) which hath the ſpirit of the holy gods in him, & before him I tolde the dreame, ſaying, 9 O Baltaſſar, thou prince of wiſe men, for ſomuch as I know that thou haſt the ſpirit of the holy gods, and no ſecret troubleth thee: tell mee therefore the viſions of my dreame that I haue ſeene, and the interpretation therof.

10 Thus were the viſions of my head vpon my bed: I beholde, I ſaw a tree in the midſt of the earth, and the height thereof was great:

11 A great tree, & ſtrong, and the height thereof reached vnto the heauen, and the ſight thereof to the ends of all the earth.

12 The leaues thereof were faire, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: the beaſts of the field had ſhadowes vnder it, and the fowles of the aire dwelt in the boughs thereof: all fleſh fed of it.

13 I ſawe in the viſions of my head vpon my bed, and behold, a [d] watcher, and a holy one came downe from heauen, 14 And cried mightily, ſaying thus, Hewe downe the tree, breake off his branches, ſhake off his leaues, and ſcatter his fruit abroad, that the beaſts may get them away from vnder him, and the fowles from his branches.

15 Neuertheleſſe, leaue the ſtumpe of his roots ſtill in the earth, and with a band of yron and braſſe binde it among the graſſe of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heauen, and let his portion be with the beaſts among the graſſe of the field.

16 Let his heart be [e] changed from mans nature, and let a beaſts heart be giuen vnto him, and let ſeuen times be paſſed ouer him.

17 This ſentence is according to the [f] decree of the watchers, and the requeſt according to the worde of the holy ones: [g] becauſe liuing men muſt know that the higheſt hath power ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it to whom it liſteth him, and ſetteth vp ouer it the baſeſt among men.

18 This is the dreame that I king Nabuchodonoſor haue ſeene: therefore thou, O Baltaſſar, declare the interpretation thereof, forſomuch as all the wiſe men of my kingdome are not able to ſhew me what it meaneth, but thou canſt doe it, for the ſpirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19 Then Daniel, whoſe name was Baltaſſar, held his peace by the ſpace of one houre, and his thoughts troubled him. So the king ſpake, and ſayd, O Baltaſſar, let neither the dreame, nor the interpretation thereof trouble thee. Baltaſſar anſwered, ſaying, O my lord, this dreame be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine aduerſaries.

20 As for the tree that thou ſaweſt, which was great and mighty, whoſe height reached vnto the heauen, and the ſight thereof through all the world, unto the heauen, so doeth thy dominion to the ends of the earth.

23 But whereas the king saw a watcher, and a holy one that came downe from heauen, and sayd, Hew downe the tree, and destroy it, yet leaue the stumpe of the roots therof in the earth, and with a band of yron & brasse binde it among the grasse of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of the heauen, and let his portion be with the beasts of the field, til [h] seuen times passe ouer him:

24 This, O king, is the interpretation, yea, it is the very decree of him that is highest of all, and it toucheth my lord the king.

25 Thou shalt be cast out from men, and thy dwelling shalbe with the beasts of the field, with grasse shalt thou be fed like [i] oxen, thou must be wet with the dew of the heaue, yea, seuen times shall passe ouer thee, till thou [k] knowe that the highest hath power ouer the kingdome of men, and giueth it to whom he list.

26 Moreouer, whereas it was sayd that the stumpe of the roote of the tree should be left still: it betokeneth that thy kingdome shall remaine whole vnto thee, after thou hast learned to know that the power commeth from heauen.

27 Wherefore, O king, let my counsell be acceptable vnto thee, and [l] breake off thy sinnes by righteousnesse, and thine iniquities by mercy towards the poore: so, let there be a healing of thine errour.

28 All these things touch the king Nabuchodonosor.

29 So after twelue moneths, the king walked in the palace of the kingdome of Babylon.

30 And the king spake, and sayd, Is not this great Babylon, that I haue built for the house of the kingdome by the might of my power, and for the honour of my maiesty?

31 While these words were yet in the kings mouth, there fell a voice from heauen, saying, O king Nabuchodonosor, to thee be it spoken, Thy kingdome is departed from thee, 32 And thou shalt be cast out of mens company, thy dwelling shall be with the beasts of the field: so that thou shalt eate grasse like oxen, and seuen times shall passe ouer thee, vntill thou knowest that the highest hath power vpon the kingdome of men, and giueth it vnto whom it pleaseth him.

33 The very same houre was this matter fulfilled vpon Nabuchodonosor, so that he was cast out [m] of mens company, & did eat grasse like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heauen, till his haires were growen as eagles feathers, and his nailes like birds clawes.

34 When this [n] time was past, I Nabuchodonosor lift vp mine eies vnto heauen, and mine vnderstanding was restored vnto me: then gaue I thanks vnto the highest, I magnified and praised him that liueth for euermore, whose power is an euerlasting power, and his kingdome is from one generation to another.

35 All they that dwell vpon the earth are to be reputed as nothing, and according to his will he worketh in the army of heauen, and among the inhabitees of the earth: and there is none that may resist his hand, or say vnto him, What doest thou?

36 At the same time was mine vnderstanding giuen me againe, and I was restored to the honour of my kingdome, my glory and my beauty was restored vnto mee, and my counsellers and [n] princes sought vnto mee, and I was established in my kingdome, and my glory was augmented toward me.

37 Now therefore I [o] Nabuchodonosor praise, and extoll, and magnifie the king of heauen, whose works are all trueth, & his wayes iudgement, and those that walke in pride he is able to abase.

[h] Whereby he vnderstand a long space, as seuen yeeres, or seuen quarters of yeeres, or seuen moneths: for the interpretation is diuers.

[i] Not that his shape or forme was changed into a beast, but that hee was either stricken mad, and so wandered among the beasts, and ate herbs and grasse.

[k] Daniel sheweth the cause why God thus punished him.

[l] Cease from prouoking God to anger any longer by thy sinnes, and where thou hast cruelly oppressed many poore, bee now mercifull vnto them in righteousnesse, so shall the errours of thy former life be redressed.

[m] That is, the seuen times or yeeres mentioned in the verses 16, 23. and 25.

[n] By whom it seemeth he was put from his kingdome before.

[o] He doth not only praise God for his deliuerance, but also confesseth his fault, that God only may haue the glory, and man the shame, and that hee may be exalted, and man cast downe.

The v. Chapter.

1 Balthasar king of Babylon abusing the vessels of the Temple, seeth an hand writing on the wall. 8 The soothsayers called of the king, cannot expound the writing.

KIng Balthasar made a great feast to a thousand of his princes, and dranke wine [a] before the thousand.

2 And Balthasar, when hee had tasted the wine, commanded to bring him the golden and siluer vessels, which his father Nabuchodonosor had brought from the temple in Hierusalem, that the king, and his princes, & his wiues, and his concubines might drinke therein.

3 So were brought the golden vessels that they had taken out of the Temple of the Lordes house at Hierusalem: and the king, and his princes, his wiues, and his concubines dranke in them.

4 They dranke wine, and praised the gods of golde, siluer, brasse, yron, wood, and stone.

5 In the very same houre there appeared fingers of a mans hand writing, right ouer [b] against the candlesticke, vpon the plaister of the wall of the kings palace, and the king sawe the knuckles of the hand that wrote.

6 Then changed the king his countenance, & his thoughts troubled him, so that the ioynts of his loines were loosed, and his [c] knees smote one against the other.

7 Wherefore the king cried mightily, that they should bring the soothsayers, Chaldees, and wisardes: the king spake also to the wise men of Babylon, and sayd, Whoso can reade this writing, and shew mee the interpretation thereof, shalbe clothed with purple, and haue a chaine of gold about his neche, and shall be the third ruler in the kingdome.

8 Vpon this came all the kings wise men, but they could neither reade the writing, nor shew the king the interpretation.

9 Then was king Balthasar greatly troubled, and his countenance was changed in him, and his princes were astonied.

10 Now the [d] queene, by reason of the talke of the king and his princes, came into the banquet house: and the queene spake, and sayd, O king, liue for euer: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, and let not thy countenance be changed.

11 There is a man in thy kingdome, that hath the spirit of the holy gods within him: and in the dayes of thy father, light, and vnderstanding, and wisedome, like the wisedome of the gods was found in him: whom the king Nabuchodonosor thy father, the king, I say, thy father made chiefe of the [e] wise men, soothsayers, Chaldeans, and wisards:

12 Because that such an abundant spirit, knowledge,

[b] That it might the better be seene.

[c] So that he that before contemned God, was moued by this sight to tremble for feare of Gods iudgements.

knowledge, and vnderstanding, to expound dreames, to open secrets, and to declare hard doubts, was found in him, yea, euen in Daniel, whom the king named Baltassar: let Daniel be called, and he shall declare the interpretation.

13 Then was Daniel brought before the king: so the king spake vnto Daniel, and sayd, Art thou that Daniel, which art of the children of the captiuity of Juda, whom my father the king brought out of Jury?

14 I haue heard of thee that thou hast the spirit of the holy gods, and that light and vnderstanding, and excellent wisedome is found in thee.

15 Now haue there bene brought before me wise men, and soothsayers, to read this writing, and to shew me the interpretation thereof: but they could not declare the interpretation of the thing.

16 Then heard I of thee, that thou couldest shew interpretations, and dissolue doubts: now if thou canst reade this writing, and shew me the meaning thereof, thou shalt be clothed with purple, and haue a chaine of golde about thy necke, and be the third ruler in the kingdome.

17 Then Daniel answered, and sayd before the king, As for thy rewards, keepe them to thy selfe, and giue thy gifts to another: yet I will reade the writing vnto the king, and shew him the interpretation.

18 O thou king, the most hie God gaue vnto [f] Nabuchodonosor thy father a kingdome, and maiesty, and honour, and glory.

19 And for the maiesty that he gaue him, all people, nations, and languages trembled and feared before him: he slew whom he would, he smote whom it pleased him: againe, whom he would he set vp, and whom he list he put downe.

20 But because his heart was lofty, and his minde strengthened in pride, he was deposed from his kingly throne, and they tooke his glory from him.

21 He was driuen out frō the sonnes of men, his heart was made like the beasts, & his dwelling was with the wilde asses, they fed him with grasse like oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heauen, till he knew that the most high God bare rule ouer the kingdome of men, and that he appointed ouer it whomsoeuer hee pleaseth.

22 And thou his sonne, O ‖ Balthasar, hast not submitted thine heart, though thou knewest all these things:

23 But hast lift vp thy selfe against the Lord of heauen, so that the vessels of his house were brought before thee, that thou and thy princes, with thy wiues and concubines, might drinke wine thereout: and thou hast praised the gods of siluer, and golde, of brasse, and yron, of wood, and stone, which neither see, heare, nor vnderstand: as for the God in whose hand consisteth thy breath, and all thy wayes, thou hast not glorified him.

24 [g] Then was the knuckles of the hand sent from him, and hath written this writing.

25 And this is the writing that he hath written: MENE, [h] MENE, THECHEL, VPHARSIN.

26 Now the interpretation of the thing is this, MENE, God hath numbred thy kingdome, and brought it to an end.

27 THECHEL, Thou art weighed in the ballance, and art found wanting.

28 PHERES, Thy kingdome is diuided, and giuen to the Medes and Perses.

29 Then commanded Balthasar, and they clothed Daniel with purple, and a chaine of gold about his neche, and made a proclamation concerning him, that he should be the third ruler in the kingdome.

30 The very same night was Balthasar the king of the Chaldees slaine.

31 And Darius of the Medes tooke the kingdome, being threescore and two yeres of age.

The vj. Chapter.

Daniel is made ruler ouer the lords.

IT pleased Darius to set ouer his kingdome a hundred and twentie gouernours, which should be ouer the whole kingdome.

2 Aboue these he set three princes, of whom Daniel was one, that the gouernours might giue accounts vnto them, and the king should haue no dammage.

4 Now this Daniel was preferred aboue the princes and gouernours, for the spirit of God was plenteous in him, so that the king was minded to set him ouer the whole realme.

4 Whereforo the rulers and gouernours [a] sought an occasion against Daniel, concerning the kingdome, but they could finde none occasion or fault: for he was so faithfull, that there was no blame nor fault found in him.

5 Then sayd these men, We shall finde none occasion against this Daniel, except wee finde it against him concerning the law of his God.

6 Upon this went the princes and lords together vnto the king, and sayd thus vnto him, King Darius liue for euer.

7 All the rulers of the kingdome, the officers and gouernours, the counsellers and dukes haue consulted together to make a decree for the king, and to establish a statute, That whosoeuer desireth any petition either of any god or man within these thirty dayes, except of thee, O king, he shalbe cast into the lions den.

8 Nowe, O king, confirme the decree, and seale the writing, that it bee not changed according to the law of the Medes & Persians, which altereth not.

9 Wherefore king Darius sealed the writing and decree.

10 Nowe when Daniel vnderstood that hee had sealed the writing, he went into his house, and the [b] windowes of his chamber toward Hierusalem stood open, there kneeled he downe vpon his knees three times a day, he made his petition, and praised his God, as he did afortetime.

11 Then these men assembled, and found Daniel making his petition, and praying vnto his God.

12 So they came to the king, and spake before him concerning his commandement, saying, O king, hast thou not sealed the decree, that within thirty dayes whosoeuer requireth his petition of any god or man, but onely of thy selfe, O king, he shalbe cast into the den of the lions? The king answered, and sayd, Yea, it is true, according to the law of the Medes and Persians that altereth not.

13 Then answered they, and sayd vnto the king,

[f] Before hee reade this writing, he declareth to y king his great ingratitude toward God, who could not be mooued to giue him the glory, considering his wonderfull worke toward his grandfather: and so sheweth that he sinneth not of ignorance, but of malice.

‖ Or, Belsasar.

[g] After that God had so long time deferred his anger, and patiently waited for thine amendment.

[h] This word is doubled, not onely to aggregeate the certainty of the matter, but also as some thinke, the one to signifie the end of the king, the other the end of the kingdome.

i Cyrus his sonne in law gaue him this title of honor, although Cyrus in effect had the dominion.

a Thus the wicked can not abide the graces of God in others, but seeke by all occasions to deface them, therefore against such assaults there is no better remedy then to walke vprightly in the feare of God, and to haue a good conscience.

b Because he would not by his silence shew that he confirmed his wicked decree, he set open his windowes towards Hierusalem when he prayed, both to stirre vp himselfe with the remembrance of Gods promises to his people, when they should pray toward the Temple: and also that others might see that hee would neuer consent in heart nor deed, for these seuen dayes to any thing contrary to Gods glory.

king, This Daniel which is of the children of the captiuitie of Juda, O king, regardeth neither thee, nor thy decree that thou hast sealed: but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 When the king heard these words, he was sore displeased with himselfe, and set his heart on Daniel to deliuer him, and hee laboured till the sunne went downe, to deliuer him.

15 Then these men assembled vnto the king, and sayd vnto him, Know this, O king, that the law of the Medes and Persians is, that the commandement and statute which the king maketh, may not be [c] altered.

c Thus ỹ wicked maintenaunce of ill lawes by constancy & authority, which is oft times either lightnesse, or blindnesse, when as the innocents thereby perish: and therefore gouernours ought neither to feare nor be ashamed to breake such.

16 Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and they cast him into the Lions den. Now the king spake vnto Daniel, and sayd, Thy God whom thou alway seruest, euen he will deliuer thee.

17 And there was brought a stone, and layed vpon the mouth of the den, this the king sealed with his owne ring, and with the signet of his Princes, that the purpose concerning Daniel should not be changed.

18 So the king went into his palace, and remained fasting, neither was there any instruments of musike brought in before him, and his sleepe went from him.

19 But betimes in the morning at the breake of the day, the king arose, and went in all haste vnto the den of the lions.

20 Now as he came nigh vnto the den, he cried with a piteous voice vnto Daniel, yea, the king spake, and sayd vnto Daniel, O Daniel, thou seruant of the liuing God, is not thy God whom thou seruest alway, able to deliuer thee from the lions?

21 Then sayd Daniel vnto the king, O king, liue for euer.

1.Mac.2.60

22 *My God hath sent his angel, which hath shut the lions mouthes, so that they might not hurt mee, for mine [d] vnguiltinesse is found out before him: and as for thee, O king, I neuer [e] offended thee.

d Mine vprightnesse in this thing wherein I was charged, was approued of God.

e For he did nothing the king: witched commandement to obey God, and so did no iniury to the king, who ought to command nothing whereby God should be dishonored.

23 Then was the king exceeding glad for him, and commanded to take Daniel out of the den: so Daniel was brought out of the den, and no maner of hurt was found vpon him, for hee [f] put his trust in his God.

f Because he committed himselfe wholly vnto God, whose cause he did defend, he was assured that nothing but good could come vnto him, wherein we see ỹ power of faith, as Heb.11.

24 And as for those men which had accused Daniel, the king cõmanded to bring them, and to cast them into the lions den, them, their children, and their wiues: so the lions had the mastery of them, and brake all their bones asunder or euer they came at the ground of the den.

25 After this, wrote king Darius vnto all people, nations, and tongues, that dwelt in all lands, Peace be multiplied vnto you:

26 My commandement is in all my dominion and kingdome, that men feare and stand in awe of Daniels God: for hee is the liuing God, which abideth euer, his kingdome shal not faile, and his power is euerlasting.

27 It is he that deliuereth & saueth, he doth wonders and maruellous workes in heauen and in earth, hee hath preserued Daniel from the power of the lions.

Deut.1.21.

28 *So this Daniel prospered in the reigne of Darius, and in the reigne of Cyrus of Persia.

The vij. Chapter.

A vision of foure beasts is shewed vnto Daniel.

IN the first yeere of Balthasar king of Babylon, saw Daniel a dreame, and there were visions in his head vpon his bed: which dreame hee wrote, and declared the summe of the matter.

2 Daniel spake, and sayd, I saw in my vision by night, & beholde, the foure [a] winds of heauen stroue vpon the great sea.

a Which signified that there should be horrible troubles and afflictions in the world in all quarters.

3 And foure great beasts came vp from the sea, one diuers from another.

4 The first was a [b] lion, & had egles wings: I beheld till his wings were pluckt from him, and he lifted vp from the earth, and set vpon his feet like a man, and there was giuẽ him a mans heart.

b The beasts are kings, kingdomes, or monarchies. By the 1. lion, the kingdome of Babylon is vnderstood, which speedily vanquished the nations adioyning: but after his wings were pluckt, and his kingdome taken away, he returned to the condition of a man, and no lion.

5 Beholde, another beast, which was the second, was like a [c] beare, and stood vpon the one side: betwixt his teeth in his mouth he had three ribs, and it was sayde vnto him thus, Arise, eat vp much flesh.

c The second monarchie of the Persians and Medes.

6 Then I looked, and behold, there was another like vnto a [d] leopard, this had wings as a fowle, euen [e] foure vpon the backe: this beast had foure heads, and there was power giuen him.

d The third monarchie of the Macedonians.

7 After this, I saw in a vision by night, and beholde, the fourth beast was [f] grim and horrible, and maruellous strong: it had great yron teeth, it deuoured and destroyed, and stamped the residue vnder his feet, it was vnlike the other beasts that were before it: for it had [g] tenne hornes.

e That is, his foure chiefe captaines, which had the empire after his death diuided among them.

f That is, the Romane empire, which was as a monster, and could not be compared to any beast, because the nature of none was able to expresse it.

g Which signifie ten kings, as verse 24.

8 As I considered the hornes, beholde, there came vp among them another litle horne, before whom there were three of the first hornes plucht away: and beholde, this horne had eyes like the eyes of a man, and a mouth speaking presumptuous things.

9 I beheld till the thrones were set vp, and the ancient of dayes did sit, whose garment was white as snowe, and the haires of his head like the pure wooll: his throne was like the fiery flame, and his wheeles as burning fire.

10 There issued foorth a fiery streame, and went out frõ before him: a thousand thousands ministred vnto him, & ten thousand thousands stood before him: the iudgement was set, and the bookes opened.

11 Then tooke I heed thereunto, because of the voice of the proud wordes which the horne spake: I beheld till the beast was slaine, and his body destroyed, and giuen to be burnt in the fire.

12 As concerning the other beasts, they had their dominion taken away, but their liues were prolonged for a certaine time and season.

13 I saw in visions by night, and beholde, there came one in the clouds of heauen, like the sonne of man, which went vnto the ancient of dayes, before whom they brought him.

14 And he gaue him dominion and honour, and a kingdome, that all people, nations, and languages should serue him: * his dominion is an euerlasting dominion, which shall neuer be taken away, and his kingdome shall neuer be destroyed.

Mich.4.7. luke 1.33.

15 I Daniel was troubled in my spirit in the middest of my body, and the visions of my head made me afrayd.

16 I gat me vnto [h] one of them that stood by, and asked him the trueth concerning all these things:

things: so he tolde me, and made me vnderstand the interpretation of these things.

17 These great beasts which are foure, are foure kings which shall arise out of the earth.

18 But the [i] high saints shall receiue a kingdome, and possesse a kingdome for euer, euen for euer and euer.

19 After this, I required to know the trueth concerning the fourth beast, which was so vnlike the other beasts, and so horrible, whose teeth were of yron, and his nailes of brasse, which deuoured and destroyed, and stamped the residue vnder his feet:

20 I desired also to know the trueth as touching the ten hornes that hee had vpon his head, and this other which came vp afterward, before whose face there fell downe three, which horne had eyes, and a mouth that spake presumptuous things, and looked with a grimmer visage then his [k] fellowes.

21 I beheld, and the same horne made battel against the saints, yea, and preuailed against them, 22 Vntill the [l] ancient of dayes came, that the iudgement was giuen to the high saints, and til the time came that the saints had the kingdome in possession.

23 Hee gaue me this answere, That fourth beast shalbe the fourth kingdome vpon earth, it shall be vnlike to all the kingdomes: it shall deuoure, tread downe, and destroy all other lands.

24 The ten hornes are ten kings that shall arise out of the kingdomes: after whom there shal stand vp another, which shalbe vnlike to the first, and he shall subdue three kings:

25 And he shal speake words against the highest of all, he shall destroy the high saints, & thinke that he may change times and lawes: they shall be giuen into his hand vntill a time, and times, and the diuiding of a time.

26 But the iudgement shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume and destroy it vnto the end.

Luke 1. 33.

27 *And the kingdome and dominion, and the greatnesse of the kingdome vnder the whole heauen, shall be giuen to the [m] people of high saints, whose kingdome is an euerlasting kingdome, and all power shall serue and obey it.

28 Hitherto the end of the words: I Daniel had many cogitations which troubled mee, and my countenance changed in me: but the words I kept still in my heart.

The viij. Chapter.

A vision of a strife betweene a ram and a he goat.

[a] After the generall vision he commeth to certaine particular visions, the destruction of the monarchy of the Persians and Macedonians, & the ruine of the Babylonians was at hand, & also he had spoken thereof.

[b] That is, of Persia.

[c] Elam, the kingdome of the Persians and Medes now ioyned together.

[d] Meaning Cyrus, who after grew greater in power then Darius his vncle and father in law.

IN the third yere of the reigne of king Balthasar, there appeared a vision vnto me, euen vnto mee Daniel, [a] after that which I had seene in the beginning.

2 I saw in a vision (& when I saw it, I was in the palace of Susis, which is in the prouince of [b] Elam) and in the vision mee thought I was in the riuer Ulai.

3 Then I looked vp, and saw, and beholde, there stood before the riuer a [c] ramme which had two hornes, and these two hornes were hie, but [d] one was higher then the other, and the highest came vp last.

4 I sawe that this ramme pushed with his hornes against the West, against the North, and against the South: so that no [e] beasts might stand before him, nor defend them from his power, but he did as him liked, and became great.

5 And as I considered, behold, there came a hee [f] goat from the West, ouer the whole earth, and touched not the ground, and this goat had a [g] horne appearing betwixt his eyes.

6 And he came vnto the ramme that had the two hornes (whom I had seene standing by the riuer) and ran fiercely vpon him with his might.

7 And I saw him draw nigh vnto the ram, being very fierce vpon him, yea, hee [h] smote the ram, and brake his two hornes, neither had the ram so much strength as to stand before him: but he cast him downe to the ground, trode him vnder his feet, and there was none able to deliuer the ram out of his power.

8 Therfore the goat waxed exceeding great, and when hee was at the strongest, his great horne was broken: then grew there other foure notable ones in the stead of it, toward the foure winds of heauen.

9 And out of one of them came forth a litle horne, which waxed very great, toward the South, toward the East, and toward the pleasant land.

10 [i] It grew vp vnto the hoste of heauen, whereof it did cast some to the ground, and of the starres also, and trode them vnder foot.

11 Yea, it grew vp against the [k] prince of the hoste, from whom the daily sacrifice was taken away, and the places of the sanctuary cast downe.

12 And power was giuen vnto it ouer the daily sacrifice for the iniquitie, and it shall [l] cast downe the truth to the ground: and thus it shall do, and prosper.

13 Vpon this I heard one of the saints speaking, and one of the [m] saints spake vnto [n] Palmoni, saying, How long shall the vision of the daily sacrifice and of the iniquity of desolation endure, to giue both the sanctuary and the power to be troden vnder foot?

14 And he answered me, Vnto the [o] euening and the morning, two thousand and three hundred: then shall the sanctuary be cleansed.

15 Now when I Daniel had seene this vision, and sought for the vnderstanding of it, behold, there stood before me [p] like the similitude of a man.

16 And I heard a mans voice [q] betweene Ulai, which cried, and sayd, *O Gabriel, [r] make this man vnderstand the vision.

17 So he came and stood by me, but I was afrayd at his comming, and fell downe vpon my face: then sayd he vnto me, vnderstand, O thou sonne of man: for at the [s] time of the end this vision shalbe.

18 Now as he was speaking vnto me, I fell in a slumber vpon my face to the ground: but he touched me, and set me vp in my place.

19 And he sayd, Beholde, I will shew thee what shalbe in the last wrath: for in the time appointed it shalbe fulfilled.

20 The ramme which thou sawest hauing two hornes, is the king of the Medes and Persians.

21 And the goat is the king of Grecia: and the great horne that is betwixt his eyes, that is the first king.

[e] Nakings or nations.

[f] Meaning Alexander, what cause with great expedition.

[g] Though he came in the name of all Grecia, yet he bare the title and dignity of the generall captain, so that the strength was attributed to him, which is meant by this horne.

[h] Alexander ouercame Darius in two battels, and so had the kingdome of the Medes and Persians.

[i] That is, Antiochus, who raged against the elect of God.

[k] That is, God.

[l] This horne shall abolish for a time the true doctrine, and so corrupt Gods seruice.

1 Daniel desireth to haue that performed of God, which he hath promised concerning the returne of the people from their banishment in Babylon. 26 The death of Christ.

IN the first yeere of * Darius the sonne of [a] Ahasuerus, which was of the seed of the Medes, and was made king ouer the [b] realme of the Chaldees,

2 Euen in the first yere of his reigne, I Daniel vnderstood [c] by bookes the number of the yeres, whereof the Lord spake vnto Jeremy the Prophet, that hee would accomplish seuentie yeres in the desolation of Hierusalem.

3 And I turned my face vnto the Lord God, and sought by prayer and supplication, with fasting, sackcloth, and ashes.

4 I prayd vnto the Lord my God, and made my confession, * saying, O Lord God great and fearefull, which keepeth couenant and mercie with them that loue ‡ him, and keepe his commandements,

5 * We haue sinned, and haue committed iniquity, and haue done wickedly, yea, we haue rebelled, and haue departed from thy precepts, and from thy iudgements.

6 We would not obey thy seruants the prophets, that spake in thy Name to our kings and princes, to our forefathers, and to all the people of the land.

7 O Lord, righteousnesse belongeth vnto thee, vnto vs, open shame, as is come to passe this day vnto euery man of Juda, and to them that dwell at Hierusalem, yea, vnto all Israel, whether they be farre or nigh, thorowout all the landes whither thou hast driuen them, because of their offences that they haue done against thee.

9 Vnto the Lord our God pertaineth compassion and forgiuenesse, though we haue rebelled against him.

10 And we haue not obeyed the [d] voice of the Lord our God, to walke in his lawes which he layed before vs by the hand of his seruants the Prophets.

11 Yea, all Israel haue transgressed and gone backe from thy law, so that they haue not hearkened vnto thy voice: wherefore the [e] curse and oth that is written in the law of Moses the seruant of God, against whom we haue offended, is powred vpon vs:

12 And hee hath confirmed his words which he spake against vs, and against our iudges that iudged vs, to bring vpon vs such a great plague as neuer was vnder heauen, like as it is now come to passe in Hierusalem.

13 Yea, all this plague, as it is written in the law of Moses, is come vpon vs: yet made we not our prayers before the Lord our God, that wee might turne againe from our wickednesse, and vnderstand thy trueth.

14 Therefore hath the Lord watched vpon the plague, and brought it vpon vs: for the Lord our God is righteous in all his workes which hee doth: for wee would not hearken vnto his voice.

15 And now, O Lord our God, * thou that with a mighty hand hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt, to get thy selfe a name, which remaineth this day, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly.

16 O Lord, according to all [f] thy righteousnesse, I beseech thee let thine anger and thy wrath be turned away from the city of Hierusalem, thy holy hill: for because of our sinnes, and for the wickednesse of our fathers, Hierusalem and thy people are a reproch vnto all them that are about vs.

17 Now therefore, O our God, heare the prayer of thy seruant, and his intercession: O let thy face [g] shine ouer thy sanctuary that lieth waste, for the [h] Lords sake.

18 O my God, encline thine eare, and heare, open thine eyes, beholde how we be desolated, yea, and the city also which is called after thy name: for we do not present our prayers before thee in our [i] owne righteousnesse, but in thy great mercies.

19 O Lord heare, O forgiue Lord, O Lord [k] consider, and doe it, deferre not for thine owne sake, O my God: because thy name is called vpon thy city, and vpon thy people.

20 As I was yet a speaking at my prayers, knowledging mine owne sinnes, and the sinnes of my people Israel, presenting so mine intercession before the Lord my God for the holy hill of my God:

21 Yea, while I was yet speaking in my prayer, the man Gabriel (whom I had seene afore in the vision) came flying, and touched mee about the time of the euening oblation:

22 And he informed me, and talked with me, and sayd, O Daniel, I am now come forth to giue thee knowledge and vnderstanding.

23 At the beginning of thy supplications, the commandement came forth, and I am come to shew thee, for thou art greatly beloued: therefore vnderstand the matter, and consider the vision.

Mat.24.19

The x. Chapter.

1 There appeareth vnto Daniel a man clothed in linnen, 11 which sheweth him wherfore he was sent.

a In the third yere of Cyrus king of Persia, there was shewed vnto Daniel, otherwise called Baltasar, a matter, yea, a true matter, but it is yet a long time vnto it: he vnderstood the matter, and perceiued what the vision was.

2 At the same time I Daniel mourned for the space of three weeks of dayes.

3 I ate no pleasant bread, as for flesh and wine, there came none within my mouth: no, I did not once anoint my selfe, till the whole three weeks of dayes were fulfilled.

4 Vpon the foure and twentieth day of the first moneth, I was by the side of that great riuer, euen Hiddekel.

5 I lift vp mine eyes, and looked, and beholde, a man clothed in linnen, whose loines were girded vp with fine gold of Uphaz.

6 His body was like the Turkeis stone, his face to looke vpon was like lightning: his eyes as lamps of fire, his armes and feet were like in colour, to pollished brasse, and the voice of his words was like the voice of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone saw this vision, for the men that were with me saw not the vision: but a great fearefulnesse fell vpon them, so that they fled away, and hid themselues.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me: for my colour was turned in me into corruption, and I reteined no strength.

9 Yet heard I the voice of his wordes: and when I heard the voice of his words, I fell astonied vpō my face, and my face toward the earth.

10 And behold, a hand touched me, which set me vp vpon my knees, and vpon the palmes of my hands.

11 And he sayd vnto me, O Daniel, thou welbeloued man, take good heed to the words that I say vnto thee, and stand in thy place: for vnto thee am I now sent. And when he had said these words vnto me, I stood vp trembling.

12 Then sayd he vnto me, Feare not Daniel: for since the first day that thou diddest set thine heart to vnderstand, and to chasten thy selfe before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words.

13 But the b prince of the kingdome of Persia withstood mee one and twenty dayes: but loe, Michael, one of the chiefe princes, came to helpe me, and I remained there by the kings of Persia.

14 And I am come to shewe thee what shall come vnto thy people in the latter dayes: for it will be long yet or the vision be fulfilled.

15 Now when he had spoken these words vnto me, I cast my head downe to the ground, and held my tongue.

16 And beholde, there touched my lips, one very like vnto a man: then I opened my mouth, and spake, and sayde vnto him that stood before mee, O my Lord, by the vision my ‖ ioynts are turned out of their place, and I haue reteined no strength.

‖ Or, my sorowes are turned vpon me.

17 For how can the seruant of this my Lord, talke with my Lord, being such a one? And as for me, straight way there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me.

18 Then there came againe, and touched me, one like the appearance of a man, & he strengthened me:

19 And sayd, O man, greatly beloued, feare not, peace be vnto thee, be strong, and of good courage. So when he had spoken vnto mee, I was strengthened, and sayde, Speake on, my Lord: for thou hast strengthened me.

20 Thus sayd he, Knowest thou wherefore I am come vnto thee? nowe will I returne to fight with the prince of the Perses: assoone as I goe forth, loe, the c prince of Greece land shall come.

21 Neuertheles, I will shew thee that that is noted in the Scripture of trueth: and there is none that helpeth me in these things, but d Michael your prince.

The xj. Chapter.

1 A prophecie of the kings of Persia. 3 Of the kingdome of Greece. 5 Of the kingdome of Egypt, and of the bond thereof. 15 Of the battell with the kingdome of Syria.

a And in the first yeere of Darius of Media, a I stood to comfort him, and to strength him.

2 And now will I shew thee the trueth: behold, there shal stand vp yet three kings in Persia, but the fourth shall be farre richer then they all: and by his strength and by his riches he shall stirre vp all against the realme of Greece land.

3 Then shall there arise yet a mightie king, that shall rule with great dominion, and doe what him lust.

4 And when he shall stand vp, his kingdome shall be b broken, and shall be diuided toward the foure windes of the heauen, and not toward his posterity, nor according to his dominion which hee ruled: for his kingdome shall be pluckt vp, euen for others besides these.

5 And the c king of the South shalbe mightie, and d one of his princes, and he shall preuaile against him, and beare rule: his dominion shall be a great dominion.

6 And in the end of yeres they shalbe ioyned together, and the kings [e] daughter of the South shall come to the king of the North for to make agreement, but she shal not retaine the power of [f] the arme, neither shall hee continue nor his arme, but she shall be deliuered to death, and they that brought her, and he that begat her, and he that comforted her in these times.

7 But out of the bud of her roots shall one stand vp in his stead, which shall come with an army, and shal enter into the fortresse of the king of the North, and do with them as he list, and shall preuaile,

8 And shall also carry captiues into Egypt their gods, with their moulten images, with their precious vessels of siluer and of golde, and he shall continue more yeres then the king of the North.

9 So the king of the South shall come into his kingdome, and shall returne into his owne land.

10 Wherefore his sonnes shall be stirred vp, and shall gather together a mighty great hoste of people, and one shall come and ouerflow, & passe thorow: then shall he turne againe, and be stirred vp at his fortresse.

11 Then the king of the South shalbe angry, and shall come forth to fight with him, euen with the king of the North: for he shal set forth a great multitude, and the multitude shalbe giuen into his hand.

12 Then the multitude shalbe vpon, & their hearts shall be lifted vp, for hee shall cast downe thousands: but he shall not still preuaile.

13 For the king of the North shal returne, and shal set forth a greater multitude then afore, and shall come forth (after certaine yeeres) with a mighty army and great riches.

14 And at the same time there shall many stand vp against the king of the South, so that the seditious children of thy people also shall exalt themselues to establish the vision, but they shall fall.

15 So the king of the North shall come and cast vp a mount, and take the strong cities: and the [g] armes of the South shall not resist, neither his chosen people, neither shall there bee any strength to withstand.

16 And when he commeth, hee shall handle him as hee list, and no man shall stand against him, he shall stand in the pleasant [h] land, which by his hand shalbe consumed.

17 Againe, he shall set his face to enter with the power of his whole kingdome, and his confederates with him, thus shall hee doe: and hee shal giue him the [i] daughter of women to destroy her, but she shall not stand on his side, neither be for him.

18 After this, shall he turne his face vnto the [k] Iles, and shall take many: but a prince shall cause his shame to light vpon him, beside that, he shall cause his owne shame to turne vpon himselfe.

19 For he shal turne his face toward the forts of his owne land: but hee shall be ouerthrowen and fall, and be no more found.

20 Then shall stand vp in his place a raiser of taxes in the glory of the kingdome, and after a few dayes he shall be destroyed, neither in wrath nor in battell.

21 In his stead there shall stand vp a vile person, to whom they shall not giue the honour of the kingdome: but hee shall come in peaceably, and obtaine the kingdome with flatteries.

22 And the armes shall be ouerflowed with a flood before him, and also the prince of the couenant.

23 And after the league made with him, hee shall worke deceitfully, for hee shall come and ouercome with a small people.

24 Hee shall enter into the quiet and plentifull prouince, and he shall doe that which his fathers haue not done, nor his fathers fathers: he shall diuide among them the pray, and the spoile, and the substance, yea, and shall forecast his deuices against the strong holdes, euen for a time.

25 Also his power and heart shall he stirre vp with a great army against the king of the south: the king of the South shalbe moued vnto battell with a great and a mighty hoste also: neuerthelesse, he shall not stand, for they shall forecast deuices against him.

26 Yea, [l] they that feed of the portion of his meat shall destroy him, and his army shal [m] ouerflow, and many shall fall and be slaine.

27 These two kings hearts shalbe to do [n] mischiefe, and they shall talke of deceit at one table, but it shall not prosper, for yet the end shall be at the time appointed.

28 Then shal he go home againe into his land with great [o] substance, and set his heart against the holy couenant, so shall he doe, and returne to his owne land.

29 At the time appointed hee shall come againe, and goe toward the South: but the last shall not be as the first.

30 For the shippes of [p] Chittim shall come against him, therefore he shalbe sory, and returne, and fret against the holy couenant: so shal he do, he shall euen returne and haue intelligence with them that forsake the holy couenant.

31 And armes shal stand on his part, and they shall pollute the sanctuary of strength, and shall take away the dayly sacrifice, and they shall set vp the abominable desolation.

32 And such as wickedly breake the couenant, shall he cause to sinne by flatterie: but the people that know their God, shall preuaile and prosper.

33 Those also that haue vnderstanding among the people, shall informe the multitude, and for a long season they shall fall with the sword, with fire, with captiuity, and with the taking away of their goods.

34 Now when they shall fall, they shalbe holpen with a litle helpe, but many shall cleaue vnto them fainedly.

35 Yea, some of those that haue vnderstanding shal fall, that they may be tried, purified, and made white, till the time be out: for there is a time appointed.

36 And a king shall doe what him list, he shall exalt and magnifie himselfe against all that is good, yea, he shall speake marueilous things against the God of gods, and he shall prosper till the wrath be fulfilled: for the determination is made.

37 He shal not regard the God of his fathers, nor the desires of women, yea, he shall not care

[a] And at that time shall Michael stand vp, the great prince, which standeth for the children of thy people: for there shall bee a time of trouble, such as neuer was since there began to be a nation, vnto that same time: and at that time thy people shall be deliuered euery one that shalbe found written in the booke.

9 And he sayd, Goe thy way, Daniel, for the words are closed vp and sealed till the time of the end.

The booke of the Prophet Osee.

The first Chapter.

1 The time wherein Osee prophesied. 2 The idolatrie of the people. 10 The calling of the Gentiles. 11 Christ is the head of all people.

THE word of the Lorde came vnto Osee the sonne of Beeri, in the dayes of Vzia, Iotham, Ahaz, and Hezekias, kings of Iuda, and in the time of Ieroboam the sonne of Ioas king of Israel.

2 When the Lord spake first vnto Osee, he sayd vnto him, Goe take vnto thee a wife of fornications, and children of fornications: for the land hath committed great fornication, departing from the Lord.

3 So he went and tooke Gomer the daughter of Diblaim: which conceiued and bare him a sonne.

4 And the Lord sayde vnto him, Call his name Iezrahel: for I will shortly auenge the blood of Iezrahel vpon the house of Iehu, and will bring the kingdome of the house of Israel to an end.

5 And in that day will I also breake the bowe of Israel in the valley of Iezrahel.

6 And shee conceiued againe, and bare a daughter: and the Lord sayde vnto him, Call her name Loruhamah, that is, not obtaining mercie, for I will no more haue pitie vpon the house of Israel, but I will vtterly take them away.

7 Yet I will haue mercie vpon the house of Iuda, and will saue them, euen through the Lord their God: and will not saue them by bow, sword, battell, horses, or horsemen.

8 Now when she had weaned Loruhamah, she conceiued againe, and bare a sonne.

9 Then sayd he, Call his name Leammi, that is, not my people: for ye are not my people, therefore I will not be your God.

10 Yet the number of the children of Israel shall be as the sand of the sea, which can neither be measured nor tolde, and in the place where it was sayd vnto them, Ye are not my people, it shal be sayd vnto them, Ye are the children of the liuing God.

11 Then shall the children of Iuda & the children of Israel be gathered together, and appoint themselues one head, and they shal come vp out of the land: for great shalbe the day of Iezrahel.

The ij. Chapter.

1 The people is called to repentance. 5 Hee sheweth their idolatrie, and threatneth them, except they repent.

CALL your brethren that they are my people, and your sisters that they haue obtained mercie.

2 As for your mother, ye shall chide with her, and reproue her, for she is not my wife, neither am I her husband: let her therefore put away her whoredome from her face, and her adulterie from her breasts:

3 Lest I strip her naked, and set her euen as thee came into the worlde, and make her as a wildernesse, and as a drie land, and slay her for thirst.

4 And I wil haue no pitie vpon her children: for they be the children of fornication.

5 Their mother hath played the harlot, and she that bare them is come to confusion: for shee sayd, I wil goe after my louers, that giue me my bread and my water, my wooll and flaxe, my oile and my drinke.

6 Therefore behold, I will stop thy way with thornes, and make a hedge, that she shall not find her paths.

7 And though she runne after her louers, yet shall she not ouertake them: she shall seeke them, but not find them. Then shall she say, I wil goe and returne to my first husband: for at that time it was better with me then now.

8 And shee did not know that I gaue her corne, and wine, and oyle, and multiplied her siluer and gold, which they bestowed on Baal.

9 Therefore wil I returne and take away my corne in the time thereof, and my wine in the season thereof, and set againe my wooll and my flaxe which I gaue her to couer her shame.

10 And now will I discouer her shame, euen in the sight of her louers, and no man shall deliuer her out of my hands.

11 Moreouer, I wil take away all her mirth, her holy dayes, her newe Moones, her Sabbaths, and all her solemne feasts.

12 I will destroy her vineyardes, and figge trees, whereof she sayd, These are my rewards that my louers haue giuen mee: I wil make them as a wood, and wilde beastes shall eate them vp.

13 I will visit vpon her the dayes of Baal, wherein she burned incense to him, and decked her selfe with earerings and iewels, she followed her louers, and forgate me, sayth the Lord.

14 Therefore behold, I will allure her, and bring her into the wildernes, and speake friendly vnto her.

15 From thence wil I giue her her vineyards again, yea, and the valley of Achor for an entrie of hope: and she shall sing there as in the dayes of her youth, and as in the day when shee came out of the land of Egypt.

16 And at that day (sayth the Lord) thou shalt call me, O my husband, and shalt cal me no more Baal.

17 For I will take away those names of Baal from her mouth, yea, she shal neuer remember their names any more.

18 Then wil I make a couenant for them, with the beasts of the field, with the foules of the ayre, and with euery thing that creepeth vpon the earth: As for bowe, sworde, and battel, I will

20 In faithfulnes also will I marrie thee vnto my selfe, and thou shalt know the Lord.

21 At the same time will I hear my selfe gracious vnto the heauens, saith the Lord, and the heauens shal helpe the earth.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The Iewes shalbe cast off for their idolatrie. 5 Afterward they shall returne vnto the Lord.

THen sayd the Lord to mee, Goe yet and loue a woman beloued of her husband, and yet an adulteresse, according to the loue of the Lorde toward the children of Israel: and yet they haue respect to strange gods, and loue the wine pots.

2 So I gate her for fifteene siluerlings, and for an homer and an halfe of barley,

3 And sayd vnto her, Thou shalt bide with me a long season, thou shalt not play the harlot, thou shalt be to no other man, and I will be to vnto thee.

4 For the children of Israel shall sit a great while without king, without prince, without sacrifice, without image, without Ephod, and without Teraphim.

5 But afterward the children of Israel shal be conuerted, and seeke the Lorde their God, and Dauid their king, and in the latter dayes they shal worship the Lord, and his louing kindnesse.

The iiij. Chapter.

A complaint against the people, and the priestes of Israel.

HEare the worde of the Lord O yee children of Israel, for the Lord hath a controuerlie with the inhabitants of the land: for there is no trueth, there is no mercie, there is no knowledge of God in the land.

2 But (swearing, lying, manslaughter, theft and adultery hath gotten the ouerhand, and one blood guiltinesse followeth another.

3 Therefore shal the land mourne, and all they that dwel therein shal bee rooted out, the beasts of the field, the foules of the aire, and the fishes in the sea shalbe consumed.

4 Yet let no man rebuke or reproue another, for the people are as they that || are at controuersie with the Priest.

|| Or, contend.

5 Therefore shalt thou fall in the day time, and the Prophet with thee in the night, and I will bring thy mother to destruction.

6 My people perish for lacke of knowledge: because thou hast refused knowledge, therefore will I refuse thee also, so that thou shalt no more be my Priest: and for so much as thou hast forgotten the law of thy God, I will also forget thy children.

7 The more, they increased in multitude, the more they sinned against me, therefore will I change their honour into shame.

a That is, the priests seeke to eate the peoples offerings, and flatter the in their sinnes. Esa.24.2.

8 They eate vp the a sinnes of my people, and encourage them in their wickednesse.

9 a * Thus the Priest is become like the people: wherefore I wil punish them for their wicked wayes, and reward them according to their imaginations.

10 They shal eate, and not haue enough, they haue vsed whoredome, but shal not prosper, they haue forsaken the Lord, and not regarded him.

11 Whoredome, wine, and new wine take the heart away.

12 My people aske counsell at their stockes, and their staffe teacheth them: for the spirit of fornication hath caused them to goe astray, and they haue committed fornication against their God.

13 They make sacrifices vpon the tops of the mountaines, and burne their incense vpon the hils, yea, vnder the Okes, Poplars, and Elmes, for there are good shadowes: therefore your daughters are become harlots, and your spouses haue broken their wedlocke.

14 I will not punish your daughters for being defiled, & your spouses that became whores, seeing the fathers themselues haue medled with harlots, and sacrificed with whores: but the people that will not vnderstand, must be punished.

15 Though thou Israel play the harlot, yet let not Iuda sinne, come not ye vnto Gilgal, neither goe ye to Bethauen, neither sweare ye, The Lord liueth.

16 For Israel is rebellious like an vnruly heifer: now the Lord will feede them as a lambe in a large place.

17 Ephraim is become partaker of idoles, let him alone.

18 Their drunkennesse stinketh, they haue committed whoredome: their rulers loue to say with shame, Bring ye.

19 The winde hath bound them in her winges, and they shall bee ashamed of their sacrifices.

The v. Chapter.

1 Against the priestes and rulers of Israel. 13 The helpe of man is vaine.

HEare ye this, O ye priests, and hearke ye house of Israel, giue eare, O thou house of the king, for iudgement is against you, because you are become as a snare on Mispah, and a spred net vpon the mountaine Thabor.

2 They || haue sacrifices by heapes, and turne farre from the Lord, and I haue bene a rebuker of them all.

|| Or, they were profound wise to offer sacrifices.

3 I know Ephraim well enough, and Israel is not hidde fro mee: for now, O Ephraim, thou art become an harlot, and Israel is defiled.

4 They will not giue their mindes to turne vnto their God: for the spirit of fornication is in the middest of them, and they haue not knowen the Lord.

5 And the pride of Israel doeth testifie to his face, face, therefore both Israel and Ephraim shall fall for their wickednesse, and Juda with them also.

6 They shall come with their sheepe and their bullocks to seeke the Lord, but they shall not finde him: for he is gone from them.

7 They haue transgressed against the Lord, and brought vp bastarde children: a moneth therefore shall deuoure them with their portions.

8 Blow with the trumpe at Gibea, and with the trumpet in Ramah, cry out at Bethauen, after thee, O Beniamin.

9 In the time of the plague shall Ephraim bee layde waste, in the tribes of Israel haue I shewed the trueth.

10 The princes of Juda haue bene like them that remoue the land marke, therefore will I powre out my wrath vpon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppressed and broken in iudgement, because hee willingly ‖ followed the commandement.

12 Therefore will I bee vnto Ephraim as a moth, and to the house of Juda as a caterpiller.

13 When Ephraim saw his sickenesse, and Juda his disease, Ephraim went vnto Assur, and sent vnto King Iareb, yet could not he help you, nor ease you of your paine.

14 I wil be vnto Ephraim as a Lion, and as a Lions whelpe to the house of Juda: I, euen I will spoile, and go my way: I will take away, and no man shal rescue.

15 I wil goe and returne to my place, til they knowledge that they haue sinned, and seeke me. In their aduersitie they shall early seeke me.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Affliction causeth a man to turne to God. 2 The wickednesse of the Priestes.

2 After two dayes shall hee quicken vs, in the third day he shall raise vs vp, so that we shal liue in his sight.

3 Then shall wee haue vnderstanding, and endeuour our soules to know the Lord: he shall go forth as the spring of the day, and come vnto vs as the raine, and as the latter raine vnto the earth.

4 O Ephraim what shal I do vnto thee? O Juda, howe shall I entreat thee? for your goodnesse is like a morning cloude, and like dew that goeth early away.

5 Therefore haue I cut downe the prophets, and let them be slaine for my words sake, so that thy punishment shall come to light.

9 And as theeues gaped waite for him that passeth by the way: euen so the company of the priests, which with one agreed counsel murder cruelly such as keepe the way, yea, they dare doe all vnspeakeable mischiefe.

10 Horrible things haue I seene in the house of Israel: there is the fornication of Ephraim, and Israel is defiled.

11 Yea, and that Juda hath set an harueste for thee, when I returne the captiuitie of my people.

The vij. Chapter.

1 Of the vices and wantonnesse of the people. 12 Of their punishment.

WHen I vnderstoode to make Israel whole, then the vngratefulnesse of Ephraim, and the wickednesse of Samaria came to light: for they goe about with lies, therefore the theefe robbeth within, and the spoiler destroyeth without.

2 They consider not in their hearts that I remember all their wickednesse: nowe their owne inuentions haue beset them, which I see well ynough.

3 They make the king glad with their wickednesse, and the princes with their lies.

4 All these burne in aduoutrie, as it were an ouen that the baker heateth when hee hath left kneading, til the dough be leauened.

5 That is the day of our King, the princes haue made him sicke with bottels of wine, hee hath stretched out his hands to scorners.

6 For whiles they lie in wait they haue made ready their heart like an ouen, their baker sleepeth all night, in the morning it burneth as a flame of fire.

7 They are altogether as hot as an ouen, and haue deuoured their owne Iudges, al their kings are fallen, yet is there none of them that calleth vpon me.

8 Ephraim hath mixt himselfe among heathen people, Ephraim is become like a cake that no man turneth.

9 Strangers haue deuoured his strength, and he regardeth it not: hee wareth full of gray haires, yet wil he not know it.

10 And the pride of Israel testifieth to his face, yet will they not turne to the Lord their God, nor seeke him for al this.

11 Ephraim is like a dolte that is beguiled, and hath no heart: now cal they vpon the Egyptians, now goe they to the Assyrians.

12 But while they be going here and there, I shall spread my nette ouer them, and draw them downe as the foules of the aire: and according as they haue bene warned, so wil I punish them.

13 Woe bee vnto them, for they haue forsaken mee: they must bee destroyed, for they haue set mee at nought: I am hee that hath redeemed them, yet haue they spoken lyes against mee.

14 They call not vpon me with their hearts, but lye howling vpon their beddes: they assemble themselues for corne & wine, but they rebel against me.

15 I haue bound vp and strengthened their arme: yet doe they imagine mischiefe against mee.

16 They turne themselues, but not to the most highest, and are become as a broken bowe, their princes shalbe slaine with the sword for the malice of their tongues: this shalbe their derision in the land of Egypt.

The viij. Chapter.

The destruction of Iuda and Israel, because of their idolatrie.

SEt the trumpe to thy mouth, swift-ly as an Eagle shall the enemy come against the house of the Lord: for they haue broken my Couenant, and transgressed my Law.

2 Israel should haue said vnto me, Thou art my God, we know thee.

3 But he hath refused the thing that is good, therefore shal the enemie pursue him.

4 They haue bestowed kings, but not through me, they haue made princes, and I knew it not: of their siluer and gold haue they made them Idoles, therefore shal they be destroyed.

5 Thy Calfe, O Samaria, hath cast thee off, for my wrathful indignation is gone foorth against them: how long wil they be without innocencie? 6 For the Calfe came from Israel, the workeman made it, therefore can it bee no God: but euen in pieces shall the Calfe of Samaria bee broken.

7 They haue sowen winde, therefore shall they reape a whirlewinde: it hath no stalke, the bud shall bring foorth no meale: and if happily it do, strangers shal deuoure it vp.

8 Israel is defloured, now shall they bee among the Gentiles as a vessel of no reputation.

9 For they haue gone vp to Assyria, and are as a wilde asse solitary by himselfe: Ephraim hath hired louers.

10 And though they haue hired them among the heathen, yet now will I gather them, and they shal begin to bee weary with the burden of the King and the Princes.

11 Ephraim hath made many altars to doe wickednesse, his altars shall be vnto him to sinne.

12 I haue written to them the great things of my Lawe, but they are counted as a strange thing.

13 They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifice of mine offerings, & eat it, but the Lord hath no pleasure in it; now will he remember their iniquitie, and visite their sinnes, they shall returne into Egypt.

14 For Israel hath forgotten him that made him, and hath builded faire palaces, and Iuda hath encreased strong cities: but I will send a fire into their cities, and it shall consume their palaces.

The ix. Chapter.

Of the hunger and captiuitie of Israel.

REioyce not thou triumph, O Israel, make no boasting ouer toyous things as do the heathen: for thou hast committed aduultery, against thy God: whoish rewardes hast thou loued more then al the corne floores.

2 The corne floore and the wine presse shall not feed them: and the new wine shal faile them.

3 They shal not dwel in the Lords land, but Ephraim shal turne againe into Egypt, and eate vncleane things among the Assyrians.

4 They powre out no wine for a drinke offring vnto the Lord, neither shal their slaine offrings bee pleasant vnto him, they shalbe vnto them as the bread of mourners, al they that eate shalbe defiled: for their bread for their soules shal not come into the house of the Lord.

5 What wil ye doe then in the solemne day, and in the feast day of the Lord?

6 For behold, they are gone away for destruction, but Egypt shal gather them, and Memphis shal bury them: the nettles shal possesse the pleasant places of their siluer, thornes shalbe in their Tabernacles.

7 The dayes of visitation are come, the dayes of recompense are come: and then shal Israel know, that they were deceiued by a foolish, madde, and frantike prophet: for the multitude of their iniquitie God shal multiply enemies against thee.

8 The watchman of Ephraim was with my God, but the prophet is the snare of a fowler in al his wayes, and an abomination in the house of his God.

9 *They haue gone to the bottome, they are corrupt as in the dayes of Gibea: therefore hee wil remember their iniquitie, and visite their sinnes.

10 I found Israel like grapes in the wildernesse, and saw their fathers as the first ripe in the figge tree at her first season, but they went to Baal Peor, and separated themselues to that shame, and became as abominable as their louers.

11 Ephraim their glory shal flee away like a bird: from the birth, from the wombe, and from the conception.

12 And though they bring vp children, yet I will destroy them before they bee men: Yea, woe shall come to them when I depart from them.

12 Ephraim (as mee thinke) is planted in a pleasant place, like as is Tyrus: but now must thee bring her owne children foorth to the murderer.

14 O Lord giue them: what shalt thou giue them? Giue them an vnfruitfull wombe, and dry breasts.

15 *All their wickednesse is done at Gilgal, there doe I abhorre them: for the vngratiousnesse of their owne inuentions I wil driue them out of my house, I will loue them no more, for all their princes are vnfaithfull.

16 Ephraim is hewen downe, their roote is dried vp, so that they shal bring no more fruite: yea, and though they bring foorth any, yet wil I slay euen the best beloued of their body.

17 My God shal cast them away, for they haue not bene obedient vnto him, therefore shal they wander among the heathen.

5 I will be vnto Israel as the dew, and hee shal grow as the Lilie, and his root shall breake out as the trees of Libanus.

6 His branches shal spread out abroad, and bee as faire as the Oliue tree, and smell as Libanus.

7 They that dwell vnder his shadowe, shall returne and grow vp as the corne, and flourish as the vine: hee shall haue as good a ‖ name as the wine of Libanus.

8 Ephraim shall say, What haue I to do with idoles any more? I haue heard him, and looked vpon him, I am like a greene fire tree, vpon me is thy fruit found.

9 Who is wise, shall vnderstand these things, and he that is right instruct, will regard them: for the wayes of the Lord are righteous, such as bee godly will walke in them: as for the wicked, they shal stumble therein.

The ende of the propheſie of Oſee.

The booke of the Prophet Ioel.

The first Chapter.

1 A prophecie against the Iewes. 14 He exhorteth the people to prayer and fasting, for the miserie that was at hand.

THE worde of the Lord that came to Joel the sonne of Pethuel.

2 Heare this ye Elders, and hearken with your eares all you that dwell in this land: was there euer such a thing in your dayes, or in the dayes of your fathers?

3 Of this thing tell your children, and let your children shew it to their children, and their children to their posterite after ward.

4 That which the caterpiller hath left, the grashopper hath eaten, and what the grashopper left, hath the [a] Canker worme eaten, and what the Canker worme left, the Locust hath deuoured.

[a] That is, a worme that hath wings, hoarth all the vtmost rine of herbes, and the tender barke of trees, feeding on them, Nah. 3.

5 Awake yee drunkards, and weepe, howle yee wine bibbers for iacke of new wine: for it is cleane taken away from your mouth.

6 For a nation is come vp vpon my lande, mighty, and without number: his teeth are as the teeth of a Lion, and hee hath the iawes of a great Lion.

7 He hath destroyed my vine, and barked my figge tree, he hath pilled it, and cast it away, and hath left the braunches thereof white.

8 Lament as a virgine girded with sackecloth, for the husband of her youth.

9 The meate offering and drinke offering is cut off from the house of the Lord, the Priestes the meane the Lords ministers mourne.

10 The fielde is wasted, the land mourneth: for corne is destroyed, the new wine is dried vp, the oyle is vtterly taken away.

11 Bee yee ashamed, O yee husbandmen, howle, O yee vine dressers, for the wheate and for the barley: for the harueste of the fielde is perished.

12 The vine is dried vp, and the figge tree is decayed, the pomegranate tree, and the palme, and the apple tree, euen all the trees of the fielde are withered vp: for ioy is withered away from the sonnes of men.

13 Girde your selues, and lament, O ye Priests, howle ye out ye ministers of the Altar, come, and lie all night in sackcloth ye seruants of my God: for the meate and drinke offering are taken away from the house of your God.

14 *Proclaime a fast, call a Congregation, gather the Elders together, with all the inhabitants of the land, vnto the house of your God, and cry vnto the Lord, Ioel 2.15.

15 Alas for this day, for the day of the Lord is at hand, euen as a destruction from the Almightie shal it come.

16 Is not the meate cut off before your eyes, yea mirth and ioy from the house of our God?

17 The seede is rotten vnder their clods, the garners are destroyed, the barnes are ouerthrowen: for the corne is withered.

18 O how cattel mourne, the heards of beasts are in woefull case for lacke of pasture: and the flocches of sheepe are destroyed.

19 vnto thee, O Lord, will I cry, for fire hath destroyed the fruitfull places of the desert, and the flame hath burnt vp all the trees of the fielde.

20 The beastes also of the fielde cry out vnto thee: for the riuers of water are dried vp, and fire hath deuoured vp the fruitfull places of the desert.

The ij. Chapter.

1 He prophecieth of the comming & crueltie of their enemies. 13 An exhortation to moue them to conuert. 18 The loue of God toward his people.

BLow vp a trumpet in Sion, and sounde an alarme in my holy hill, let all the inhabitants of the earth tremble: for the day of the Lord is come, for it is nigh at hand.

2 A darke and gloomie day, a cloudy and blacke day: as the morning spred ouer the mountaines, so is this populous & strong people: like vnto there was none from the beginning, nor shalbe hereafter for euermore.

3 Before him is a deuouring fire, & behinde him a burning flame: the land is as a pleasant garden before him, and behinde him a waste desert, yea and nothing shal escape him.

4 The shew of him is as the shew of horses, and like horsemen, so shal they runne.

5 Like the noyse of charets vpon the tops of the mountaines they shal leap, like the noise of a flaming fire deuouring the stubble, and as a strong people prepared to battel.

6 Before his face shall the people tremble, the countenance of all folkes shal waxe blacke.

7 They shall runne like strong men, and clime the walles like men of warre: and euery one shal march on his way, and they shal not hinder in their paths.

8 No man shal thrust another, but euery one shall walke in his path: and if they shall fall on the sword, they shal not be wounded.

9 They shall runne to and fro in the citie, they shal run vp and downe vpon the wall, they shall clime into the houses, they shall enter in at the windowes like a thiefe.

10 *The earth shall quake before him, the heauens shall tremble, the Sunne & the Moone shalbe darke, and the starres shal withdraw their shining.

19 Yea, the Lord wil anſwere, and ſay to his people, Behold, I will ſend you corne, and wine and oyle, and will ſatiſfie you therewith, and will not giue you ouer any more to be a reproch among the heathen.

25 And I will reſtore to you the yeres which the Grashopper, the Canker worme, the Locuſt, and the Caterpiller haue deuoured, my great armie which I ſent amongſt you.

26 And you ſhall eate in plentie, and be ſatiſfied, and ſhall praiſe the name of the Lorde your God, which hath dealt wonderouſly with you, and my people ſhall not be aſhamed any more.

FOr beholde, in thoſe dayes and in that time when I ſhall bring againe the captiuitie of Iuda and Hieruſalem, 5 For ye haue taken my ſiluer and my gold, my pleaſant and precious things, and haue caried them into your temples.

6 You haue ſolde alſo the children of Iuda, and the children of Hieruſalem to the Grecians, that you might ſend them farre from their owne country.

7 Behold, I wil raiſe them out of that place whither you haue ſolde them, and will returne your recompenſe vpon your owne heads.

8 And I will ſell your ſonnes and your daughters into the hands of the children of Iuda, and they ſhall ſell them vnto the Sabeans, to a nation that dwelleth farre off: for the Lord hath ſpoken it.

4 But I will sende a fire into the house of Hazael, and it shall deuoure the palaces of Benhadad.

‖ Or, transgressions.

b For Esau (of whome came the Ammonites) and Iacob were brethren.

10 Therefore will I sende a fire vpon the wall of Tyre, and it shall consume the palaces thereof.
11 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three wickednesses of Edom, and for foure, I will not spare him: because hee pursued his brother with the sword, and did [c] cast off all pitie, and ‖ his anger spoyled him continually, and his indignation he kept alwayes.

5 Therefore will I send a fire into Iuda, which shall consume the palaces of Hierusalem.

6 Thus sayth the Lorde, For three wickednesses of Israel, and for foure I will not spare him: because they solde the righteous for siluer, and the poore for a payre of shoes.

7 They ‖ gape for breath ouer the head of the poore in the dust of the earth, and peruert the way of the ‖ meeke: A man and his father will goe vnto one ‖ mayd, to dishonour my holy Name.

3 Can two walke together, except they bee agreed?

5 Can a birde fall in a snare vpon the earth where no fowler is? or will hee take vp the snare from the earth, and haue taken nothing at all?

6 Or shall a trumpet be blowen in the citie, and the people be not afraid? or shall there be euill in a city, and the Lord hath not done it?

7 ‖ Surely the Lorde God will doe nothing, but hee reuealeth his secrete vnto his seruants the Prophets.

11 Therefore thus sayth the Lorde God, An aduersarie shall come euen round about the country, and shall bring downe thy strength from thee, and thy palaces shalbe spoyled.

12 Thus sayth the Lorde, As the shepheard taketh out of the mouth of the Lyon two legs or a piece of an eare: so shall the children of Israel be taken out that dwell in Samaria in the corner of a bed, and in Damascus ‖ in a couch.

13 Heare and testifie in the house of Iacob, sayth the Lord God, the God of hostes:

‖ Or, O ye house.

3 For thus saieth the Lorde God, The citie which went out by a thousand, shall leaue an hundred, and that which went forth by an hundred, shall leaue ten to the house of Israel.

4 For thus sayeth the Lorde God vnto the house of Israel, Seeke ye me, and ye shall liue.

5 But seeke not Bethel, nor enter into Gilgal, and goe not to Beer-sheba: for Gilgal shall goe into captiuitie, and Bethel shall come to nought.

6 Seeke the Lorde, and yee shall liue: least hee breake out like fire in the house of Ioseph, and deuoure it, and there be none to quench it in Bethel.

7 They turne iudgement to wormewood, and forsake righteousnesse in the earth.

8 Hee maketh the seuen starres and Orion, and hee turneth the [a] shadowe of death into the morning, and he maketh the day darke as night: he calleth the waters of the Sea, and powreth them out vpon the earth, the Lorde is his Name.

c Yee take both his money and also his foode wherewith he should liue.

12 For I know the manifold transgressions, and your mightie sinnes: they afflict the iust, they take rewardes, and they oppresse the poore in the gate.

13 Therefore the wise shall keepe silence in that time: for it is an euill time.

14 Seeke good, and not euill, that yee may liue: and so the Lord God of hostes shall be with you, as you haue spoken.

15 *Hate the euill, and loue the good, and stablish iudgement in the gate: it may be, that the Lorde God of hostes will be mercifull vnto the remnant of Ioseph.

Pſal. 97, 10. rom. 12, 6.

16 Therefore the Lorde God of hostes, the Lord saith thus, Mourning shalbe in all streets, and they shall say in all the high wayes, Alas, alas: and they shall call the husbandman to lamentation, and such as can mourne, ‖ to mourning.

‖ Or, shall mourne.

17 And in all the vines shall be lamentation: for I will passe thorow thee, saith the Lord.

18 *Woe vnto you that desire the day of the Lord, what haue ye to do with it? the day of the Lord is darkenesse, and not light.

Iere. 30.7. ioel. 2.11. ſoph. 1.13.

19 As if a man did flee from a Lyon, and a Beare meete him, and went into the house, and leaned his hande vnto the wall, and a serpent bite him:

20 Shall not the day of the Lorde be darkenesse, and not light? euen darkenesse, and no ‖ light in it?

‖ Or, shine. Eſai. 1.11.

21 *I hate, I abhorre your feast dayes, and I will not [d] smell in your solemne assemblies.

d That is, I will not delight in the smell of your incense.

22 Though yee offer mee whole burnt offerings, and meate offerings, I will not accept them, neither will I regard the peace offering of your fat beasts.

23 Take thou away from me the multitude of thy songs, for I will not heare the melody of thy viols.

24 And ‖ let iudgement run downe as water, and righteousnesse as a mightie riuer.

‖ Or, iudgement shall run downe.

25 Haue ye offered vnto me sacrifices and offerings in the wildernesse fourty yeres, O house of Israel?

26 But yee haue borne [e] Sicuth your king, and Chiun your images, and the starre of your gods, which ye made to your selues.

e That is the which yee esteemed as your king, and carried about as ye did Chiun: in the which images yet thought that there was a certaine diuinitie.

27 Therefore will I cause you to goe into captiuitie beyond Damascus, sayeth the Lorde, whose name is the God of hostes.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Hee prophecieth against the princes of Israel, liuing in pleasures.

WOe to them * that are at ease in Sion, and trust in the mountaine of Samaria, which were famous at the beginning of the nations, and the house of Israel came to them.

Luk. 6.24.

2 Goe you vnto Calneh, and see, and from thence goe yet to Hemath the great, then goe downe to Gath of the Philistines: be they better then these kingdomes? or the border of their land greater then your border?

e If God haue destroyed their excellent cities in three diuers kingdomes, as in Babylon, Syria, and of the Philistimes, & had brought their wide borders into a greater straitnesse then yours yet are, thinke ye to be better, or to escape?

approch to the seate of iniquitie.

4 They lie vpon beds of Iuorie, and stretch themselues vpon their couches, and eate the lambes out of the flocke, and the calues out of the stall.

5 They sing to the sound of the viall, and inuent to themselues instruments of musicke, like Dauid.

6 They drinke wine in bowles, and annoint themselues with chefe ointments: but no man is sorie for the affliction of Ioseph.

‖Or, the ioy of the that stretched themselues shal depart. Iere. 52.14.

7 Therefore now shall they go captiue with the first that goe captiue, and ‖the noise of them that stretched themselues is at hand.

‖Or, magnificencie, that is, the riches and pompe.

8 *The Lord God hath sworne by himselfe, sayth the Lord God of hostes, I abhorre the excellencie of Iacob, and hate his palaces, therefore will I deliuer vp the citie, with all that is therein.

9 And if there remaine ten men in one house, they shall die.

10 And his vncle shall take him vp, and burne him, to cary out the bones out of the house, and shall say to him that is by the b sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? And hee shall say, None. Then shall hee say, Holde thy tongue: for we may not remember the name of the Lord.

b That is, to some neighbour & dwelleth neere about.

11 For behold, the Lord commandeth, and he will smite the great house with breaches, and the little houses with clefts.

12 Shall horses runne vpon the c rocke? or will one plow there with oxen? for ye haue turned iudgement into gall, and the fruit of righteousnesse into wormewood.

c He compareth them to barren rockes, whereupon it is in vaine to bestow labour, thetwing that Gods benefits can haue no place among them.

13 Yee reioice in a thing of nought, yee say, Haue not wee gotten vs hornes by our owne strength?

14 But behold, I will rayse vp against you a nation, O house of Israel, sayeth the Lord God of hostes, and they shall afflict you from the entring of Hemath, vnto the riuer of the wildernesse.

The vij. Chapter.

1 God sheweth certaine visions, whereby hee signifieth the destruction of the people of Israel.

THus hath the Lorde God shewed vnto me, and behold, hee fourmed Grashoppers in the beginning of the shooting vp of the later grouth, and loe, it was in the later grouth, after the a kings mowing.

a After ỳ publique commandement for mowing was giuen, or ap lone reade after the kings sheepe were shorne.

2 And when they had made an end of eating the grasse of the land, then I sayd, O Lord God, spare, I beseech thee: who shall raise vp Iacob? for he is small.

3 So the Lord b repented for this: It shall not be, sayth the Lord.

b That is, stayed this plague at my prayer.

4 Thus also hath the Lord God shewed vnto me, and behold, the Lord God called to iudgement by fire, and it deuoured the great deep, and did eate vp ‖a part.

‖Or, the possession, meaning the whole field.

5 Then sayd I, O Lord God, cease I beseech thee: who shall raise vp Iacob? for hee is small.

c Signifying that this should be the last measuring of the people, and that he would defferre his iudgement no longer.

6 So the Lord repented for this: This also shall not be, sayth the Lord God.

7 Thus againe he shewed mee, and behold, the Lord stood vpon a wall made by line, c with a line in his hand.

8 And the Lord sayd vnto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I sayd, A line. Then sayd the Lord, Behold, I will set a line in the middest of my people Israel, and will passe by them no more.

9 And the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the ‖temples of Israel shall bee destroyed, and I will rise against the house of Ieroboam with the sword.

‖Or, sanctuaries, or holy places.

10 Then Amazia the Priest of Bethel sent to Ieroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the middest of the house of Israel: the land is not able to beare all his words.

11 For thus Amos sayth, Ieroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shalbe led away captiue out of their owne land.

12 Also Amazia sayde to Amos, O thou Seer, goe, flee thou away into the land of Iuda, and there eate thy bread, and prophesie there.

13 But prophesie no more at Bethel: for it is the kings Chappel, and it is the kings Court.

14 Then answered Amos, and sayd vnto Amazia, I was no Prophet, neither was I a Prophets sonne: but I was an heardman, and a gatherer of wild figges.

15 And the Lord tooke me as I followed the flocke, and the Lord sayd vnto me, Goe, prophesie vnto my people Israel.

16 Now therefore heare thou the word of the Lord: Thou sayest, Prophesie not against Israel, and speake nothing against the house of Isaac.

17 Therefore thus sayth the Lord, Thy wife shall be an harlot in the citie, and thy sonnes and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be diuided by line, and thou shalt die in a polluted land, and Israel shall surely goe into captiuitie forth of his land.

The viij. Chapter.

By a vision of a Basket of Sommer fruit, the end of the kingdome of Israel is shewed.

THus hath the Lord God shewed vnto me: and behold, a Basket of Sommer fruit.

2 And he sayd, Amos, what seest thou? And I sayd, A Basket of Sommer a fruit. Then said the Lord vnto me, The ende is come vpon my people of Israel, I will passe by them no more.

a Which signified the ripenesse of their sinnes, and the readinesse of Gods iudgements.

3 And the songs of the temple shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord God: many dead bodies shall be in euery place, they shall cast them forth with silence.

4 Heare this, O yee that swallowe vp the poore, that ye may make the meeke of the land to faile,

5 Saying, When will the new moone is gone, that we may sell corne? and the Sabboth, that we may set forth wheate, and make the b Ephah small, and the sicle great, and falsifie the weights by deceite?

b That is, the measure small, and the price great.

6 That we may buy the poore for siluer, and the needie for shoes, yea, and sell the refuse of the wheate?

7 The Lord hath sworne by the excellencie of Iacob, Surely I will neuer forget any of their workes.

8 Shall not the land tremble for this, and c That is, the inhabitants of the land shalbe drowned, as Nilus drowneth many when it ouerfloweth.

9 And in that day, sayeth the Lord God, I wil euen cause the [d] Sun to go downe at noone, and I will darken the earth in the cleare day.

d In the midst of their prosperitie, I will sende great affliction. Tob. 2.7. 1.mac.8. 41.

10 *And I will turne your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation: and I will bring sackcloth vpon all loines, and baldnes vpon euery head, and I will make it as the mourning of an onely sonne, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

11 Behold, the dayes come, sayth the Lord God, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor thirst for water, but of hearing the word of the Lord.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea, and from the North euen vnto the East shal they run to and fro, to seeke the word of the Lord, and shal not find it.

e For the Idolaters did vse to sweare by their Idoles, whiche here he calleth their sinne.

13 In that day shall the faire virgins, and the yong men perish for thirst.

14 They that sweare by the [e] sinne of Samaria, and that say, Thy God, O Dan, liueth, and the [f] maner of Beer-seba liueth, euen they shall fall, and neuer rise vp againe.

f That is, the common maner of worshipping, and the seruice or religion there vsed.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Threatnings against the Temple. 5 The subuersion of the people.

I Saw the Lord standing vpon the [a] altar, and hee sayd, Smite the lintell of the doore, that the postes may shake, and ‖ cut them in pieces, euen the [b] heads of them all, and I will slay the last of them with the sword: he that fleeth of them, shall not flee away, and he that escapeth of them, shall not be deliuered.

4 And though they goe into captiuitie before their enemies, thence will I command the sword, and it shall slay them, *and I will set mine eyes vpon them for euill, and not for good.

5 And the Lord God of hostes that touch the land, and it shall melt away: and all that dwell therein shall mourne, and it shal rise vp whole like a flood, and shall be drowned as by the flood of Egypt.

6 *Hee buildeth his ‖ spheres in the heauen, and hath layd the foundation of his globe of elements on the earth: *hee calleth the waters of the sea, and poureth them out vpon the open earth, the Lord is his name.

7 Are ye not as the Ethiopians [d] vnto me, O children of Israel, saith the Lord? haue not I brought vp Israel out of the land of Egypt? and the Philistines from Cappadocia, and the Syrians from Cyrene?

d That is, am I more bound vnto you, then to the Ethiopians, or black Moores? yet haue I bestowed vpon you greatter benefits.

8 Behold, the eyes of the Lord God are vpon the sinful kingdome, and I will destroy it cleane out of the earth: neuertheless, I will not vtterly destroy the house of Iacob, saith the Lord.

9 For loe, I wil command, and I will sift the house of Israel among all nations, like as corne is sifted in a sieue: yet shal not the [e] least stone fall vpon the earth.

e Meaning, that none of his shall perish in his wrath.

10 But all the sinners of my people shal die by the sword, which say, The euil shal not come, nor hasten for vs.

11 *In that day wil I raise vp the tabernacle of Dauid that is fallen downe, and close vp the breaches thereof, and I wil raise vp his ruines, and I will build it as in the dayes of old:

14 And I wil bring againe the captiuitie of my people Israel, and they shal build the waste cities, & inhabite them: and they shal plant vineyards, and drinke the wine thereof, they shal also make gardens, and eate the fruits of them.

15 And I wil plant them vpon their land, and they shal no more be pulled vp again out of their land which I haue giuen them, sayth the Lord thy God.

The booke of the Prophet Ionas.

The firſt Chapter.

1 Ionas fleeth when hee was ſent to preach. 4 A tempeſt ariſeth, and hee is caſt into the ſea for his diſobedience.

THe worde of the Lord came vnto [a] Jonas the ſonne of Amittai, ſaying, 2 Ariſe, and goe to [b] Niniue the great citie, and crie againſt it: for their wickednes is come vp before me.

3 And Jonas roſe vp to flee into Tharſis from the preſence of the Lord, and went downe to Joppa and found a ſhip going to [d] Tharſis: ſo he payed his fare, and went downe into it, that hee might goe with them vnto Tharſis from the [e] preſence of the Lord.

4 But the Lord ſent out out a great winde into the ſea, and there was a mighty tempeſt in the ſea, ſo that the ſhippe was in danger of ſplitting in ſunder.

5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cried euery man vnto his god, and caſt the wares that were in the ſhippe into the ſea, to lighten it of them: but Jonas was gone downe into the ſides of the ſhippe, and hee lay downe ſleeping.

6 And the ſhipmaſter came vnto him, and ſayd, What meaneſt thou ſleeper? vp, and call vpon thy God, if ſo be that that God wil ‖ thinke vnto vs, that we periſh not.

7 And they ſayd euery one vnto his fellowe, Come, let vs caſt lots, that wee may knowe for whoſe cauſe this euill is on vs. And they caſt lots: and the lot fell on Jonas.

8 Then ſayd they vnto him, Tell vs, for whoſe cauſe is this euill come vpon vs? what is thine occupation? whence cameſt thou? what countrey man art thou? and of what nation?

9 And he anſwered them, I am an Hebrue, and I feare the Lord God of heauen, which hath made the ſea, and the drie land.

10 Then were the men exceedingly afraid, and ſayd vnto him, Why haſt thou done this? (for the men knewe that hee fledde from the preſence)

11 And they said vnto him, What shall we do vnto thee, that the sea may be calme vnto vs: for the sea wrought, and was troublous.

12 And he said vnto them, Take me, and cast me into the sea, and the sea shall be calme vnto you: for I know that for my sake this great tempest is vpon you.

13 Neuertheless, the men allayed with rowing to bring the ship to land, but they could not, because the sea wrought, and was troublous against them.

14 Wherefore they cryed vnto the Lorde, and said, We beseech thee, O Lord, we beseech thee, let vs not perish for this mans life, and lay not to our charge innocent blood: for thou, O Lord, hast done as it pleased thee.

15 So they tooke vp Ionas, and cast him into the sea, and the sea left raging.

16 And the men feared the Lord exceedingly, and offered a sacrifice vnto the Lord, and made f vowes.

f To feare the Lord, to call vpon him, as Dauid oftentimes in the Psalmes maketh mention, and none other vowes.

4 And Ionas began to enter into the citie a dayes iourney, and he cryed, and said, Yet fourtie dayes, and Niniue shalbe destroyed.

5 And the men of Niniue beleeued God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them, to the least of them.

6 And word came vnto the king of Niniue: which arose from his throne, & put off his robe, and couered himselfe with sackcloth, and sate downe in ashes.

7 And he caused a crier to cry, and say throw the citie by the counsell of the king and his nobles, Let neither man nor beast, bullocke, nor sheepe taste ought at all, neither feede nor drinke water.

8 And let both man and beast put on sackcloth, and cry mightily vnto God: yea let euery man turne from his euill way, and from the wickednesse that is in his hands.

b God is sayde to repent, whe he doeth thos things y men doe repenting. c Of the euill, that is of the plague which is euill to our selfe, although not in his own nature.

9 Who can tell whether God will turne and be moued with b repentance, and turne from his fierce wrath, that we perish not?

3 And nowe, O Lord, take, I beseech thee, my life from me: for it is better for me to die then to liue.

4 Then sayd the Lord, Doest thou well to be angry?

5 And Ionas went out of the citie, and sate without on the East side thereof, and there made him a boothe, and sate vnder it in the shadow, till he might see what should be done in the citie.

6 And the Lord God prepared a gourde, and made it spring vp ouer Ionas, that it might be a shadowe ouer his head, to deliuer him from his griefe: So Ionas was exceeding glad of the gourde.

7 But God prepared a worme, when the morning rose the next day, which smote the gourd, that it withered.

8 And when the Sunne rose, God prepared a feruent East winde, and the Sunne beat vpon the head of Ionas, that he fainted, and wished vnto his soule that he might die, and said, It is better for me to die, then to liue.

THE word of the Lord came vnto Micheas the Morasthite, in the daies of Iotham, Ahaz, and Ezechias, kings of Juda, which he ſaw concerning Samaria, and Hieruſalem.

Deut. 32.1. Eſa.1.2. 2 *Heare all yee people, marke this well, O earth, and all that therein is, yea, let the Lord God himſelfe be witneſſe againſt you, euen the Lord from his holy temple.

Eſa.26.21. 3 *For behold, the Lord shall come out of his holy place, and come downe, and treade vpon the high things of the earth.

4 The mountaines shal melt vnder him, and the valleys shall cleaue asunder, like as ware melted before the fire, and as the waters runne downe ward.

5 And all this shall be for the wickednesse of Jacob, and the sinnes of the house of Israel: but what is the wickednesse of Jacob? is not [a] Samaria? which are the high places of Juda? is not Hieruſalem?

6 Therefore I will make Samaria an heape of the field meete for the planting of a vineyard: her stones will I tumble downe into the valley, and discouer her foundations.

7 All her images shalbe broken downe, and all her ‖garments shalbe burnt in the fire, yea, all her idoles will I destroy: for they are gathered out of the hire of an [b] harlot, and into an harlots hire shall they be turned againe.

8 Wherefore I will mourne and make lamentation, bare and naked will I goe: I will mourne like the Dragons, and take for owe as the Estriches.

9 For their wound is past remedie, it is come into Jud, and hath touched the gate of my people at Hieruſalem alreadie.

10 Declare it not at Gath, neither weepe ye: for the house of Aphra roule thy ſelfe in the duſt.

11 Thou that dwellest in Saphir get thee hence naked with ſhame: thee that dwelleth at [c] Zaanan, hal not come forth in the mourning of Bethezel: the enemie shall receiue of you for his [d] standing.

12 For the inhabitants of Maroth waited for good, but the plagues shall come from the Lord, euen vnto the gates of Hieruſalem.

13 O thou [e] inhabitant of Lachis, binde the charet to the ſwifteſt beaſt, ſhe is the beginning of the ſinne of the daughter of Sion: for the tranſgreſſions of Iſrael were found in thee.

14 Therefore ſhalt thou bring preſents to [g] Mozeheth Gath: the houſes of Achzib ſhall be as a lie to the kings of Iſrael.

15 And as for thee, O thou that dwellest at Mareſa, I will bring a poſſeſſioner vpon thee, he ſhall come to Adullam, the glory of Iſrael.

16 Make thee bald, [h] and ſhaue thee, becauſe of thy tender children: make thee cleane bald as an Eagle, for they ſhall be caried away captiue from thee.

The ij. Chapter.

Threatnings againſt the ſinfull people. 6 They would teach the Prophets to preach.

WOe vnto them that imagine iniquitie, and worke wickednesse vpon their beds: when the morning is light they practiſe it, becauſe their hand hath power.

2 And they couet fields, and take them by violence, and houſes, & take them away: ſo they oppreſſe a man and his houſe, euen man and his heritage.

3 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, againſt this houſhold haue I deuiſed a plague, whereout ye ſhall not pluck your neckes: yee ſhall no more goe ſo proudly, for it will be a perilous time.

4 In that day ſhall this parable be ſong, and a mourning ſhalbe made ouer you on this manner: we be vtterly ‖deſolate, the portion of my people is changed: how will ‖he part vnto the land that he hath taken from vs?

5 Therefore there ſhall bee no man to deuide thee thy portion in the congregation of the Lord.

6 Preach not [a] prophecie ſay they to them that prophecie: [b] they ſhal not prophecie to them, neither ſhall they take ſhame.

7 O thou that art named the houſe of Jacob, is the ſpirit of the Lord ſhortned? are theſe his workes? are not my words good vnto him that walketh vprightly?

8 ‖ But he that was yeſterday my people, is riſen vp on the other ſide as againſt an enemie: they ſpoile the beautifull garment from them that paſſe by peaceably, as though they returned from the warre.

9 The women of my people haue yee caſt out from their pleaſant houſes, and taken away ‖mine excellent gifts from their children.

10 Vp,

[a] Samaria & Hieruſalem were the chiefe cities of ye two kingdomes: idolatrie vſed in them, ſheweth a generall corruption through all.

[b] Suit gotten, euill ſpent.

‖ Or, gifts.

[c] Names of cities that ſhould be ſtrict annoted by the enemies.

[d] The long continuance of an armie in one place is hurtfull.

[e] It appeareth that this citie was one of the firſt which receiued the worſhipping of the golden Calues, ſet vp by Ieroboam.

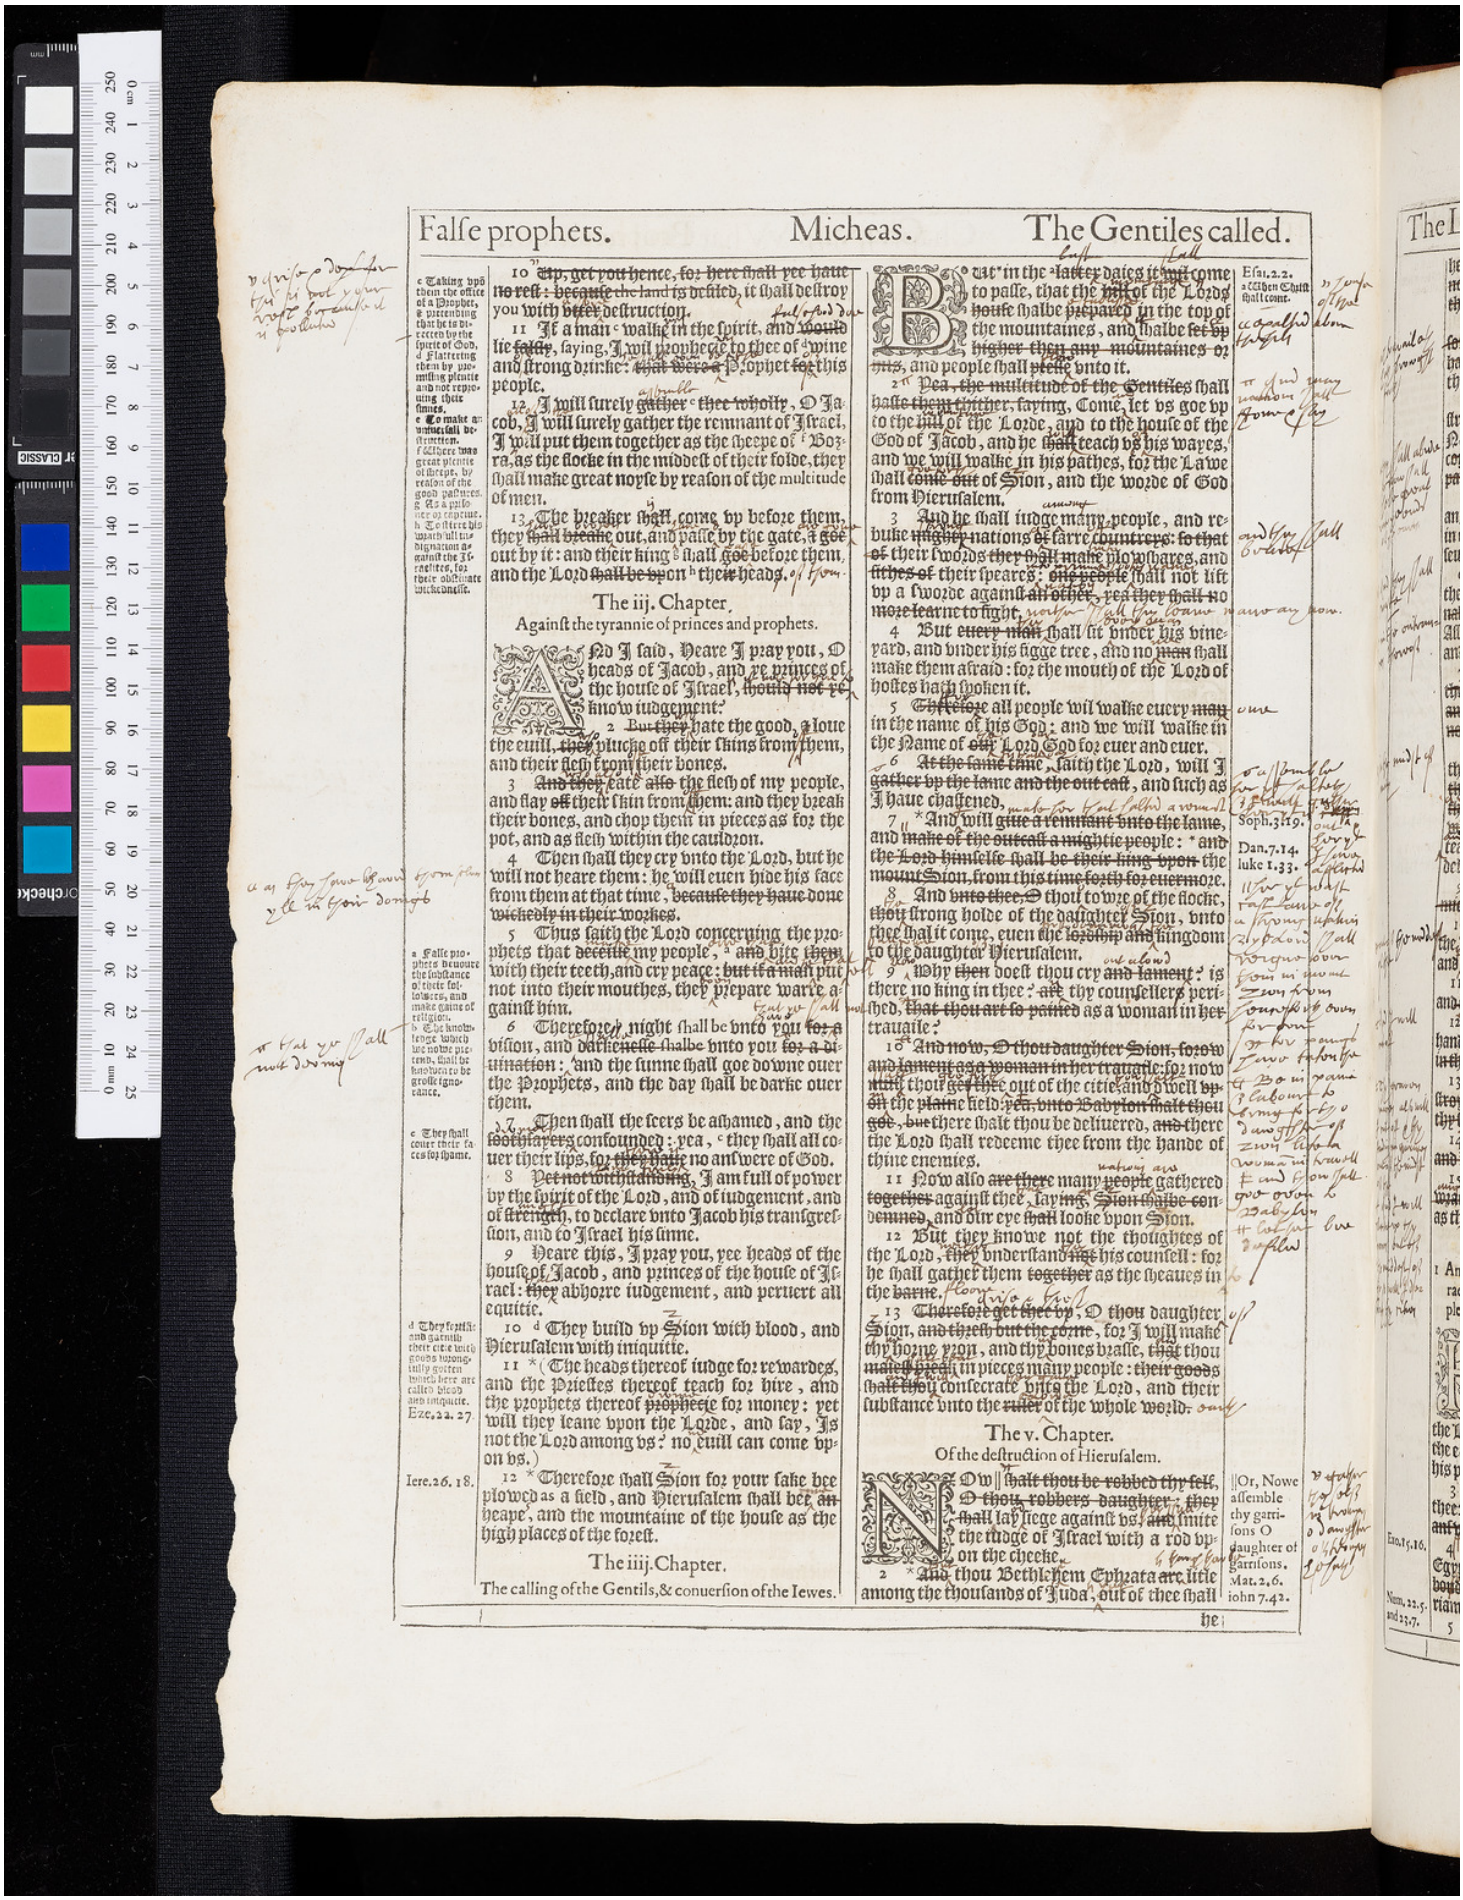
[f] Make haſte to flee away.

[g] A citie ſo named.

[h] Shauing and pluckinge off haire, was vſed in time of mourning.

‖ Or, walked

‖ Or, how ſhal he take our land to reſtore it vnto me (ſeeing the enemie) hath diuided it?



[a] The people tooke vpon them to forbid the Prophets to preach and rebuke ſinne.

[b] God threatneth he will ſend no more Prophets to preach vnto them, which is the greateſt plague that can come to a nation.

‖ Or, my glory.

10 up, get you hence, for here shall yee haue no rest: because the land is defiled, it shall destroy you with sore destruction.

11 If a man walke in the spirit, and would lie falsly, saying, I will prophecie to thee of wine and strong drinke: he shall bee a prophet for this people.

12 I will surely gather thee wholly, O Iacob, I will put them together as the sheepe of Bozra, as the flocke in the middest of their folde, they shall make great noyse by reason of the multitude of men.

13 The breaker shall come vp before them, they shall breake out, and passe by the gate, & goe out by it: and their king shall goe before them, and the Lord shall be vpon their heads.

The iij. Chapter.

Against the tyrannie of princes and prophets.

AND I said, Heare I pray you, O heads of Iacob, and ye princes of the house of Israel, should not ye know iudgement?

2 But they hate the good, & loue the euill, they pluck off their skins from them, and their flesh from their bones.

3 And they eate also the flesh of my people, and flay off their skin from them: and they breake their bones, and chop them in pieces as for the pot, and as flesh within the cauldron.

4 Then shall they cry vnto the Lord, but he will not heare them: he will euen hide his face from them at that time, because they haue done wickedly in their workes.

5 Thus saith the Lord concerning the prophets that deceiue my people, and bite them with their teeth, and cry peace: but if a man put not into their mouthes, they prepare warre against him.

6 Therefore night shall be vnto you for a vision, and darkenesse shalbe vnto you for a diuination: and the sunne shall goe downe ouer the Prophets, and the day shall be darke ouer them.

7 Then shall the seers be ashamed, and the soothsayers confounded: yea, they shall all couer their lips, for there is no answere of God.

8 Yet notwithstanding, I am full of power by the spirit of the Lord, and of iudgement, and of strength, to declare vnto Iacob his transgression, and to Israel his sinne.

9 Heare this, I pray you, yee heads of the house of Iacob, and princes of the house of Israel: they abhorre iudgement, and peruert all equitie.

10 They build vp Sion with blood, and Hierusalem with iniquitie.

11 (The heads thereof iudge for rewardes, and the Priestes thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof prophecie for money: yet will they leane vpon the Lorde, and say, Is not the Lord among vs? no euill can come vpon vs.)

12 Therefore shall Sion for your sake bee plowed as a field, and Hierusalem shall bee an heape, and the mountaine of the house as the high places of the forest.

The iiij. Chapter.

The calling of the Gentils, & conuersion of the Iewes.

BVT in the latter daies it shall come to passe, that the hill of the Lords house shalbe prepared in the top of the mountaines, and shalbe set vp higher then any mountaines or hils, and people shall flocke vnto it.

2 Yea, the multitude of the Gentiles shall haste them thither, saying, Come, let vs goe vp to the hill of the Lorde, and to the house of the God of Iacob, and he shall teach vs his wayes, and we will walke in his pathes, for the Lawe shall come out of Sion, and the woorde of God from Hierusalem.

3 And he shall iudge many people, and rebuke mighty nations of farre countreys: so that of their swords they shall make plowshares, and sithes of their speares: one people shall not lift vp a sworde against an other, yea they shall no more learne to fight.

4 But euery man shall sit vnder his vineyard, and vnder his figge tree, and no man shall make them afraid: for the mouth of the Lord of hostes hath spoken it.

5 Therefore all people will walke euery man in the name of his God: and we will walke in the Name of our Lord God for euer and euer.

6 At the same time, saith the Lord, will I gather vp the lame and the out cast, and such as I haue chastened,

7 And will giue a remnant vnto the lame, and make of the outcast a mightie people: and the Lord himselfe shall be their king vpon the mount Sion, from this time forth for euermore.

8 And vnto thee, O thou tower of the flocke, thou strong holde of the daughter Sion, vnto thee shall it come, euen the lordship and kingdom of the daughter Hierusalem.

9 Why then doest thou cry and lament? is there no king in thee? are thy counsellers perished, that thou art so pained as a woman in her trauaile?

10 And now, O thou daughter Sion, go forth and lament as a woman in her trauaile: for now shalt thou get thee out of the citie, and dwell vpon the plaine field, yea, vnto Babylon shalt thou goe, but there shalt thou be deliuered, and there the Lord shall redeeme thee from the hande of thine enemies.

11 Now also are there many people gathered together against thee, saying, Sion shalbe condemned, and our eye shall looke vpon Sion.

12 But they know not the thoughtes of the Lord, they vnderstand not his counsell: for he shall gather them together as the sheaues in the barne.

13 Therefore get thee vp, O thou daughter Sion, and tread out the corne, for I will make thy horne yron, and thy bones brasse, that thou maiest breake in pieces many people: their goods shalt thou consecrate vnto the Lord, and their substance vnto the ruler of the whole world.

The v. Chapter.

Of the destruction of Hierusalem.

NOw || shalt thou be robbed thy selfe, O thou robbers daughter: they shall lay siege against vs, and smite the iudge of Israel with a rod vpon the cheeke.

2 And thou Bethlehem Ephrata art little among the thousands of Iuda, out of thee shall he come forth vnto me which shall be the gouernour in Israel, whose out going hath bene from the beginning, and from euerlasting.

3 Therefore will he giue them vp for a season, vntill the time that thee which shall beare, hath borne: then shall the remnant of his brethren be conuerted vnto the children of Israel.

4 He shall stande fast, and giue food in the strength of the Lord, and in the maiestie of the Name of the Lord his God: and when they be conuerted, he shalbe magnified vnto the farthest parts of the world.

5 And he shalbe our peace: when the Assyrians shal come into our land, when he shall tread in our palaces, then shall we raise against him seuen shepheards, and eight principall men.

6 These shall subdue the land of Assur with the sword, and the land of Nimrod with their naked weapons; thus shal he deliuer vs from the Assyrian when he commeth within our lande, and treadeth his foote within our borders.

7 And the remnant of Jacob shal be among the multitude of people as the dew of the Lord, and as the drops vpon the grasse, that tarieth for no man, and waiteth on no body.

8 Yea, the remnant of Jacob shall be among the Gentiles, and the multitude of people, as the Lyon among the beasts of the wood, and as the Lyons whelpe among the flockes of sheepe, which when he goeth through, treadeth downe, teareth in pieces, and there is no man that can deliuer.

9 Thine hand shalbe lift vp vpon thine enemies, and all thine aduersaries shall perish.

10 And it shall come to passe in that day, saith the Lord, that I will take thine horses from thee, and destroy thy chariots.

11 I will breake downe the cities of thy land, and ouerthrow all thy strong holdes.

12 All witchcrafts will I roote out of thine hand, there shall no more soothsayings be with in thee.

13 Thine idoles and thine images will I destroy out of thee, so that thou shalt no more bow thy selfe vnto the workes of thine owne hands.

14 Thy groues will I pluck vp by the roots, and breake downe thy cities.

15 And I will execute a vengeance in my wrath, and indignation vpon the heathen, such as they haue not heard.

The vj. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to heare the iudgement against Israel being vnkind. 8 What maner of sacrifices do please God.

HEare yee now what the Lorde saith, Arise thou and contend with the mountaines, and let the hilles heare thy voyce.

2 Heare, O ye mountaines, the Lords quarrell, and mightie foundations of the earth: for the Lord hath a quarrell against his people, and will pleade with Israel.

3 O my people, what haue I done vnto thee? or wherein haue I grieued thee? giue me answere.

Exo.15.16.

4 * I haue brought thee out of the lande of Egypt, and deliuered thee out of the house of bondage, and I made Moses, Aaron, and Miriam to leade thee.

Num. 22.5. and 23.7.

5 Remember, O my people, * what Balac the king of Moab hath deuised against thee, and what answere that Balaam the sonne of Beor gaue him, from Sethim vnto Gilgal, that he may know the righteousnesse of the Lord.

6 Where with shall I come before the Lord, and bow my selfe before the high God? Shal I come before him with burnt offrings, and with calues of a yeere olde?

7 Hath the Lord a pleasure in many thousands of rams, or innumerable streames of oyle? shall I giue my first borne for mine offence, and the fruit of my body for the sinne of my soule?

8 He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good, & what the Lord requireth of thee, namely, to doe iustly, to loue mercie, and to humble thy selfe to walke with thy God.

9 The Lordes voyce cryeth vnto the citie, and the man that shall be saued considereth thy Name, hearken what is your rod, and heare him that warneth you.

10 Are not yet the treasures of wickednes in the house of the wicked, and the scant measure, which is abominable?

11 Should I iustifie the false ballances, and the bagge of deceitfull weights?

12 For the rich men therof are full of cruelties, and the inhabitants therof haue spoken lies, and haue deceitfull tongues in their mouthes.

13 Therefore I will take in hand to punish thee, and to make thee || desolate because of thy sinnes.

14 Thou shalt eate, and not haue enough, yea, thou shalt bring thy selfe downe in the midst of thee, thou || shalt flee, but not escape, and those that thou wouldest saue, will I deliuer to the sword.

15 * Thou shalt sowe, but not reape, thou shalt presse out Olives, but oyle shalt thou not haue to anoynt thy selfe with oyle: thou shalt tread out sweete Wine, but thou shalt drinke no wine.

16 Ye keepe the ordinances of Omri, and all the customes of the house of Ahab, ye walke in their counsailes: therefore wil I make thee wast, and cause thy inhabiters to be hissed at, and ye shall beare the reproch of my people.

The vij. Chapter.

The booke of the Prophet Nahum.

The first Chapter.

Of the destruction of the Assyrians, and of the deliuerance of Israel.

THE burden of a Nineue: the booke of the vision of Nahum the Elkoshite.
a The Ninuites were spared because they repented at the preaching of Jonas: but afterwardes they returned to their former wickednesse, therefore God threatneth them by this prophet.
2 God is iealous, and the Lord auenged, the Lord auengeth and hath wrath in store: the Lord taketh vengeance of his aduersaries, and keepeth wrath in store for his enemies.
3 The Lord is slow to anger, and also of great power, and in no case will acquite the wicked, the Lord dealing is with blustring tempest and whirle winde, and the cloudes are the dust of his feete.
4 He rebuketh the sea, and dryeth it vp, all the riuers also he maketh drie: Basan and Carmel are destroyed, the flowre also of Libanus is destroyed.
5 The mountaines quake || at his power, and the hils are resolued: the earth also burneth at his countenance, the world, and all that dwell therein.
|| Or, for him.
6 Who can stand before his wrath? or who can rise vp before the anger of his countenance? his fiercenesse is powred out like fire, yea, the rockes cleaue in pieces at his might.
7 The Lord is gracious, a strong holde in the day of trouble, and knoweth them that trust in him.
8 But with an ouerrunning flood hee will destroy her place, and will pursue his enemies with darkenesse.
9 What imagine ye against the Lord? he maketh an vtter destruction, ye shal not be troubled twise.
b Meaning, Niniue and the Assyrians.
10 For though they bee as thornes folden one in another, and as drunkards in their banket, yet shall they be deuoured vp as very dry stubble.
11 There came out of thee such as thought euill against the Lorde, such as gaue wicked counsell.
12 Thus saith the Lord, Though yee be in concord, and also many, yet shal ye be cut downe, and passe: and though I haue afflicted thee, yet will I trouble thee no more.
13 And nowe I will breake off his yoke from thee, and I will breake thy bondes in sunder.
14 The Lord also hath giuen a commaundement touching thee, that there shall be no more offspring of thy name: from the house of thy God I will cut off the carued and molten image, I will make it thy graue, for thou art vile.

The ij. Chapter.

He describeth the victories of the Chaldeans against the Assyrians.

1 He destroyer is come vp before thy face, keepe thy fort, fire thy way, strengthen thy loynes, inforce thy strength mightily.

2 For the Lord restoreth againe the glorious estate of Iacob, as also the glorious estate of Israel: for spoylers haue spoyled them, and haue wasted their branches.

3 The shield of his valiant souldiers is died red, his captaines of warre are clad with scarlet: the charet is compassed with flaming torches in the day of his preparation, and the fire firre staues are drenched in poyson.

4 The charets shall rage in the streetes, they shall iustle a terrible noyse, in the broad wayes, to looke to, like flaming crestets, shooting as lightening.

5 He shall remember his notable souldiers, they shall stumble in going, they shall hasten to the wall, the coffering fence is prepared.

Eli. The riuer gates are opened, and the palace is dissolued.

8 Yea, many a day Niniue was a pond full of water, yet now they flee: Stand ye, stand ye, and no man looketh backe.

9 Take ye the spoile of siluer, take ye the spoile of golde: for there is no ende of riches, and her treasure passing all treasure.

10 Sacking, relacking, rasing, a dissolued heart, and collision of knees, sorow in all loines also, and the faces of them all as blacke as a pot.

11 *Where is the dwelling place of Lyons, and the feeding plot of Lions whelpes, whether the young and olde Lyon had their resort, there dwelt the Lyon, and there was no man to put him in feare.

12 The Lyon made his prey abundantly for his whelpes, and strangled his shee Lions, and hath filled his dens with pray, and his abiding places with spoyle.

13 Behold nie, against thee, saith the Lord of hostes, and I will burne in smoke her charets, and the sword shall deuoure thy Lyons, I will roote out also from the earth thy spoiling, and the voyce of thy messengers shall be heard no more.

6 And will cast vpon thee abominable filth, and will bring thee to scorne, and will make thee as vile as a beame.

7 And it shal come to passe, that all that shall behold thee, shall flee from thee, and shall say, Niniue is destroyed, and who is grieued therewith? from whence shal I seeke out comforters for thee?

8 Wilt thou count thy selfe better then Alexandria the great, that was situate among the riuers, compassed round about with water, whose fortresse was the sea, and had her wall from the sea?

9 Ethiopia and Egypt were thy strength, and there was none end of ayde: Phut and Lubim were thy helpers.

10 Notwithstanding, she passed away, thee went into captiuitie, her children also were dashed in pieces in the top of all the streetes: for her honourable men they cast lots, and all her great states they chained in fetters.

11 And thou also shalt be drunken with trouble, thou shalt be hid: thou ‖ also shalt seeke after strength against thine enemie.

‖ Or, euermore.

12 All thy strong aydes are as figge trees with the first ripe figges: if they be shaked, they fall into the mouth of the eater.

13 Behold, thy men are as barren women in the middest of thee, the gates of thy land shall be set wide open to thine enemies, fire shall deuoure thy barres.

14 Draw thee water for the siege, strengthen thy fortes, goe into the clay, tread the mortar, make strong the bricke worke.

15 There the fire shall deuoure thee, the sword shall cut thee off, it shall deuoure as the Locust, though thou be multiplied as the Locust, and though thou be as many as the grashopper.

16 Thou hast increased thy marchants as the starres of heauen, the Locust spoyleth and fleeth away.

17 Thy princes are as grashoppers, and thy rulers as great locusts, they tarme in hedges in colde weather, the sunne ariseth, and they flee, and the place where they were is not knowen.

18 Thy shepheards, O king of Assur, slumber, thy noble men shall dwell in dust, thy people is scattered vpon the mountaines, and there is none to gather them together.

19 Thy wound shall not bee healed, thy plague is great, all that heare of thee, clap their hands: for vpon whom hath not thy euill dealing passed continually?

The booke of the Prophet Habacuc.

The first Chapter.

A complaint against the wicked that persecute the iust.

a That is, the great calamitie which he propheciеth to come on Iuda, as a most grieuous burden, which they were not able to beare.

THe a burden which Habacuc the Prophet did see.

2 O Lord, how long shal I cry, and thou wilt not heare? euen crie out vnto thee of violence, and thou wilt not helpe!

3 Why doest thou shewe me iniquitie, and cause me to behold ſcorne? for ſpoyling and violence are before mee, and there are that raise vp strife and contention.

‖ Or, weakned.

4 Therefore the Law is ‖ diſſolued, and iudgment doeth neuer goe forth: for the wicked doeth compasse about the righteous, therefore wrong iudgement proceedeth.

Act. 13.41.

5 Behold among the heathen, and regard, and wonder, and marueile; for I will worke a worke in your dayes, yee will not beleeue it, though it be tolde you.

‖ Or, passe thorow.

6 For loe, I raise vp the Chaldeans, that bitter and furious nation, which shall ‖ goe vp on the breadth of the land, to possesse the dwelling places that are not theirs.

b That is, they themselues shall be your iudges in this cause, and none shall haue authoritie ouer them to controll them.

7 They are terrible and fearefull: b their iudgement and their dignitie shall proceede of themselues.

8 Their horses also are swifter then the Leopards, and are more fierce then the Wolues in the euening, and their horsemen are many, and shall come from farre: they shal fly as the Eagle that ſ hasteth to meate.

c For the Iewes must feare this winde, because it destroyed their fruits.

9 They come all to ſpoyle: before their faces shalbe an East winde, and they shall gather the captiuitie as the sand.

10 And they shall mocke the kings, and the princes shall be a ſcorne vnto them: they shall deride euery strong holde, for they shall gather d dust, and take it.

d They shall cast vp mountaines against it.

The booke of the Prophet Aggeus.

The firſt Chapter.

1 The time of the propheſie of Aggeus. 3 An exhortation to build the Temple againe.

IN the ſecond yeere of king Darius, in the ſixth moneth, the firſt day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord by the miniſterie of the Prophet Aggeus, a vnto Zorobabel b the ſonne of Salathiel, a Prince of Iuda, and to Iehua the ſonne of Iozedech the high Prieſt, ſaying,

2 Thus ſpeaketh the Lord of hoſtes, ſaying, This people ſaieth, c The time is not yet come for the Lords houſe to be builded.

3 Then came the word of the Lord by the miniſterie of the Prophet Aggeus, ſaying,

4 Is it time for you your ſelues to dwell in ſieled houſes, and this houſe lie waſte?

5 Now thus ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, Conſider your owne wayes in your hearts.

6 Ye haue ſowen much, but ye bring little in: ye eate, but ye haue not enough: yee drinke, but ye are not filled: ye cloth you, but ye be not warme: and he that earneth wages, putteth the wages into a broken bagge.

7 Thus ſayth the Lord of hoſtes, Conſider your owne wayes in your hearts.

8 Get you vp into the mountaine, and fetch wood, and builde this houſe, and I will take pleaſure in it, and I will be glorified, ſaieth the Lord.

9 Ye looked for much, and loe, it came to litle, and when ye brought it home, I did blow vpon it: and why, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes? becauſe of my houſe that is waſte, and you run euery man into his owne houſe.

men, and vpon cattel, and vpon all the labour of the hands.

12 When Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Iosua the sonne of Iosedech the hie Priest, with all the [c] remnant of the people, heard the voice of the Lord their God, and the [f] wordes of the Prophet Aggeus, as the Lorde their God had sent him, then the people did feare before the Lord.

13 Then Aggeus the Lords messenger sayd in the Lords message vnto the people, saying, I am with you, sayth the Lord.

14 And the Lord stirred vp the spirit of Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, a prince of Iuda: and the spirit of Iosua the sonne of Iosedech the high Priest, and the spirit of all the people: and they came and did the worke in the house of the Lord of hostes their God.

The ij. Chapter.

He sheweth that the glory of the latter temple shal exceed the first.

[a] IN the twentie and fourth day of the first moneth, in the second yere of king Darius,

2 In the [b] seuenth moneth, in the twentie and one day of the moneth, came the word of the Lord by the ministery of the Prophet Aggeus, saying,

3 Say now to Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel prince of Iuda, and to Iosua the sonne of Iosedech the high priest, and to the rest of the people, saying,

4 Who is among you left, which saw this house in her first glory, and how do ye see it now? Is it not in your eyes in comparison of it as nothing?

5 Yet now be of good cheare, O Zorobabel, sayth the Lord, and be of good comfort, O Iosua thou high Priest sonne of Iosedech, and be strong all ye people of the land, saith the Lord, and worke: for I am with you, sayth the Lord of hostes,

6 According to the [c] word that I couenanted with you, when ye came out of Egypt: and my [d] spirit shall remaine with you, feare ye not.

7 For thus saith the Lord of hostes, [e] *Yet a little while, and I will shake the heauens, and the earth, and the sea, and the drie land:

8 And I will moue all nations, and the desire of all nations shall come, and I will fill this house with glory, saith the Lord of hostes.

9 The siluer is mine, and the gold is mine, saith the Lord of hostes.

10 The glory of the latter house, shalbe greater then the glory of the first, sayth the Lorde of hostes: and in this place wil I giue peace, sayth the Lord of hostes.

11 In the twentie & fourth day of the ninth moneth, in the second yeere of king Darius, came the word of the Lord vnto the Prophet Aggeus, saying,

12 Thus sayth the Lord God of hostes, Aske now the Priests concerning the law, saying, 13 If one beare holy flesh in the shirt of his coat, and with his shirt doe touch the bread, pottage, wine, oyle or any other meat, shall it be holy? And the priests answered and sayd, No.

14 And Aggeus sayde, If a polluted person touch any of these, shall he not be polluted? and the priestes answered and sayde, Hee shall bee polluted.

15 Then Aggeus answered, and said, So is this people, and so is this nation before me, saith the Lord, and so is all the worke of their hands: and that which they offer there is vncleane.

16 And now consider, I pray you, in your minds, from this day and vpward, before there was layd one stone vpon another in the house of the Lord,

17 Before these things were done, when one came to a heape of twenty measures, there were but ten: so who came to the wine presse for to draw out fiftie vessels of wine out of the presse, there were but twenty.

18 I smote you with blasting, and with mildew, & with haile, in all the worke of your hands, and you turned not vnto me, saith the Lord.

19 Consider now in your mindes from this day, and afore, from the foure and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, euen from the day that the foundation of the Lords temple was layd, consider it in your minds:

20 Is the seed yet in the barne? as yet the vines, and the fig tree, and the pomegranate, and the oliue tree hath not brought forth: from this day will I blesse you.

21 And [f] againe the word of the Lord came vnto Aggeus in the foure and twentieth day of the moneth, saying,

22 Speake to Zorobabel the prince of Iuda, and say, I will shake the heauens and the earth:

23 And I will ouerthrowe the ‖ throne of kingdomes, and I will destroy the strength of the kingdomes of the heathen, and I will ouerthrow the charets and the sitters thereon, and the horse and the riders shall fall downe euery one by the sword of his brother.

24 * In that day sayth the Lord of hostes, wil I take thee Zorobabel my seruant, sonne of Sa-, lathiel, sayth the Lord, and will make thee as a signet: for I haue chosen thee, sayth the Lord of hostes.

The end of the propheſie of Aggeus.

[a] They had but three weeks & three dayes to beare the prophet, and to prepare their tooles for their worke, so diligent were they after the preaching of the Prophet.

[b] They had none but wrought a full moneth yet they wasted wrate, & therfore had need to be set on a-fresh by the prophet, who was therefore now sent vnto them againe.

[c] For the greater part tarried in Babylon, and would not take the liberte which Cyrus had giuen them.

[f] Here is no difference made betweene the word of the Prophet and the word of God, to shewe that the Prophet must so speake, and the people so heare them, as the words of God.

[c] God made many promises to his people after their repentance out of Egypt: but in as much as he goeth about to speake of Christ in this place, it may well be thought that he meaneth here the promise made Deut. 18.8 repeated Act. 7. & before hee confirmed his promise made of Christ, now he promiseth his spirite: therefore there is no cause of feare.

The booke of the Prophet Zacharias.

The first Chapter.

1 Hee moueth the people to returne to the Lorde, and eschew the wickednesse of their fathers. 16 He prefigureth Christ and his Apostles.

IN the eight moneth of the second yere of king Darius, came the word of the Lorde vnto Zacharias the sonne of Barachias the sonne of Addo the Prophet, saying,

2 The Lord hath ben sore displeased w your fathers.

3 And say thou vnto them, Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, * Turne you vnto me, saith the Lord of hostes, and I will turne vnto you, saith the Lord of hostes.

4 Be yee not like your forefathers, vnto whome the Prophets cryed, saying, * Thus saith the Lorde of hostes, Turne you from your euill wayes, and from your wicked imaginations: but they would not heare nor regard me, saith the Lord.

5 What is now become of your forefathers? and doe the Prophets liue for euer?

6 But did not my wordes & statutes which I commaunded by my seruants the Prophets take holde of your forefathers? and they returned, and said, Like as the Lord of hosts determined to do vnto vs according to our owne waye's & imaginations, euen so hath he dealt with vs.

7 Vpon the twentie Flourth day of the eleuenth moneth (which is the moneth Sebat) in the second yere of Darius, came the word of the Lorde vnto Zacharias the sonne of Barachias the sonne of Addo the Prophet, saying,

8 I saw by night, and behold, there sate one vpon a redde horse, and stood still among the Myrthe trees that were in a bottome: and behinde him were there redde, speckled, and white horses.

9 Then said I, O my Lord, what are these? And the Angel that talked with mee, saide vnto me, I will shew thee what these be.

10 And the man that stood among the myrthe trees, answered and said, These are they whom the Lord hath sent to goe thorow the world.

11 And they answered the Angel of the Lord that stood among the Myrthe trees, and sayde, We haue gone thorow the world, and behold, all the world sitteth still, and is carelesse.

12 Then the Lordes Angel gaue answere and said, O Lorde of hostes, how long wilt thou be vnmercifull vnto Hierusalem, and to the cities of Iuda, with whome thou hast beene displeased now these threescore and ten yeres?

13 So the Lorde gaue a louing and a comfortable answere vnto the Angel that talked with me.

14 And the Angel that communed with me, saide vnto me, * Crie thou, and speake, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I am exceeding iealous ouer Hierusalem and Sion.

15 And sore displeased at the careleste heathen: for whereas I was but a little angrie, they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus saith the Lord, I will returne vnto Hierusalem in tender mercie, so that my house shall be builded in it, saith the Lord of hostes: yea, and the line shall be stretched vpon Hierusalem.

17 Crie also and speake, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, My cities through prosperitie shall be spread abroad, the Lord shall yet comfort Sion, and chuse Hierusalem.

18 Then lift I vp mine eyes and sawe, and behold, foure hornes.

19 And I sayde vnto the Angel that talked with me, What be these? He answered me, These are the hornes which haue scattered Iuda, Israel, and Hierusalem.

20 And the Lorde shewed me foure Carpenters.

21 Then said I, What will these doe? He answered, and sayde, These are the hornes which haue scattered Iuda, so that no man durst lift vp his head: but these are come to fray them away, and to cast out the hornes of the Gentiles, which lift vp their horne ouer the lande of Iuda, to scatter it abroad.

The ij. Chapter.

The renewing of Hierusalem and Iuda.

I Lift vp mine eyes againe and looked: and behold a man with a measure line in his hand:

2 Then sayd I, Whither goest thou? And hee sayde vnto me, To measure Hierusalem, that I may see how long and how broad it is.

3 And beholde, the Angel that talked with me, went his way forth: then went there out another Angel to meete him,

4 And sayd vnto him, Runne, speake to this yong man, and say, Hierusalem shall be inhabited without any wall, for the very multitude of people and cattell that shall be therein.

5 For I my selfe, sayth the Lord, will be vnto her a wall of fire round about, and will be the glory in the middest of her.

6 O get you forth, O flee from the land of the North, sayth the Lord: for I haue scattered you into the foure windes of the heauen, sayeth the Lord.

7 Saue thy selfe, O Sion, thou that dwellest with the daughter of Babylon:

8 For thus saith the Lorde of hostes, After this glory hath hee sent me out to the Heathen which spoyled you: for whoso toucheth you, hee touch the apple of his owne eye.

9 Beholde, I will lift vp mine hand ouer them, so that they shall be spoyled of those which afore serued them: and yee shall knowe that the Lord of hostes hath sent me.

10 Reioyce and reioyce, O daughter Sion: for loe, I come to dwell in the midst of thee, saith the Lord.

11 And many nations shall be ioyned to the Lord in that day, and shall be my people: and I will dwell in the midst of thee, and thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me vnto thee.

12 The Lord shall haue Iuda in possession for his part in the holy land, and shall choose Hierusalem yet againe.

13 Let all flesh be still before the Lord: for he is raised vp out of his holy place.

The iij. Chapter.

3 Of the low & high estate of Christ, vnder the figure of Iosua the high Priest. 8 A prophecie of Christ.

AND he shewed me Iosua the high Priest standing before the Angel of the Lord, and Satan stood at his right hand to resist him.

2 And the Lord said vnto Satan, The Lord reproue thee thou Satan, yea, the Lord that hath chosen Hierusalem reproue thee: is not this a brand taken out of the fire?

3 Now Iosua was clothed in vnpleasant raiment, and stood before the Angel.

4 And he answered, and said vnto those that stoode before him, Take away the foule clothes from him. And vnto him he said, Behold, I haue taken away thy sinne from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of raiment.

5 And I said, Let them set a faire miter vpon his head. So they set a faire miter vpon his head, and put on clothes vpon him, and the Angel of the Lord stood there.

6 Then the Angel of the Lord testified vnto
||Or, Iesua. Iosua, and spake,

7 Thus saith the Lord of hosts, If thou wilt walke in my wayes, and keepe my watch, thou shalt iudge my house, and keepe my courts, and I will giue thee place among these that stand here.

8 Heare, O Iosua thou high Priest, thou and thy fellowes that sit before thee, for they are monstrous persons: behold, I will bring forth the branch my seruant.
Luke 1. 78.

9 For loe, the stone that I haue laide before Iosua, vpon one stone shalbe seuen eyes: behold, I will cut out the grauing thereof, saith the Lord of hosts, and I will take away the sinne of the land in one day.

10 In that day, shall euery man call his neighbour vnder the vine, and vnder the figge tree, saith the Lord of hosts.

The iiij. Chapter.

The vision of the golden candlesticke, and the exposition thereof.

AND the Angel that talked with me, came againe, & waked me, as a man that is raised out of his sleep,

2 And said vnto me, What seest thou? And I said, I haue looked and behold, a candlesticke all of gold, with a bowle vpon it, and his seuen lamps thereon, and vpon euery lampe seuen pipes,

3 And two Oliue trees thereby: one vpon the right side of the bowle, and the other vpon the left side.

4 So I answered and spake to the Angel that talked with me, saying, O my Lord, what are these?

5 The Angel that talked with mee, answered and saide vnto me, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my Lord.

6 He answered and spake vnto me, This is the worde of the Lord vnto Zorobabel, saying, Neither through an hoste of men, nor through strength, but through my spirit, saith the Lorde of hosts.

7 What art thou great mountaine before Zorobabel? thou shalt be made euen, and he shall bring forth the head stone thereof, with shoutings, crying, Grace, grace vnto it.

8 Moreouer, the word of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

9 The handes of Zorobabel haue laid the foundation of this house, his hands shall also finish it: and thou shalt knowe that the Lord of hosts hath sent me vnto you:

10 For who hath despised the day of small things? they shall reioyce, and shall see the stone of tinne in the hand of Zorobabel: these seuen are the eyes of the Lord, which goe throughout the whole world.

11 Then answered I, and saide vnto him, What are these two Oliue trees vpon the right and left side of the candlesticke?

12 I spake moreouer, and sayde vnto him, What bee these two Oliue braunches, which through the two golden pipes emptie themselues into the gold?

13 Hee answered me, and sayd, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said, No, my Lord.

14 Then sayd hee, These are the two Oliue branches that stand with the ruler of the whole earth.

The v. Chapter.

1 The vision of the flying booke, signifying the curse of theeues, and such as abuse the name of God. 6 By the vision of the measure, is signified the bringing of Iuda to Babylon.

SO I turned mee, lifting vp mine eyes, and looked, and behold, a flying booke.

2 And hee saide vnto me, What seest thou? I answered, I see a flying booke of twentie cubites long, and ten cubites broad.

3 Then said hee vnto me, This is the curse that goeth forth ouer the whole earth: for all thieues shall be ||iudged after this booke, and all periured persons shalbe iudged according to the same.
||Or, cut off, (as is written) on the one side: and all periured persons shalbe cut off, as is on the other side.

4 And I will bring it forth, saith the Lord of hosts, so that it shall enter into the house of the thiefe, and into the house of him that falsely sweareth by my Name, and shall remaine in the middest of his house, and consume it, with the timber and stones thereof.

5 Then the Angel that talked with mee, went forth, and said vnto me, Lift vp thine eyes, and see what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I sayde, What is it? Hee answered, This is a ||measure going out. Hee sayde moreouer, Euen thus are they that dwell vpon the whole earth to looke vpon.
||Or, Ephah.

7 And behold, there was lift vp a talent of lead: and loe, a woman sate in the middest of the ||measure.

‖Or,Ephah. cast her into the middest of the ‖measure, and
‖Or,Ephah. threwe the lumpe of leade into the mouth of the ‖measure.
9 Then lift I vp mine eyes, and looked, and beholde, there came out two women, and the wind was in their wings: for they had wings ‖Or,Ephah. like the wings of a Storke, and they lift vp the 10 Then spake I to the Angel that talked with me, whither will these beare the measure?

11 And hee sayde vnto me, Into the lande of Shinaar to build it an house, and it shalbe established, and set there vpon her owne place.

The vj. Chapter.

1 By the foure charets he describeth the prosperitie of foure kingdomes.

MOreouer, I turned mine, lifting vp mine eyes, and looked, and be-holde, there came foure charets out from betwixt two hilles, which hilles were of brasse.
2 In the first charet were red horses, in the second charet were blacke horses, 3 In the third charet were white horses, in the fourth charet were horses of diuers colours, and strong.
4 Then spake I, and sayd vnto the Angel that talked with me, O my Lorde, what are these?
5 The Angel answered, and sayde vnto me,
These are the foure spirits of the heauen, which be come forth to stand before the Lord of all the earth.
6 That with the blacke horse went forth into the lande of the North, and the white followed them, and the speckled horses went forth toward the South,
‖Or,the speckled. 7 And the ‖strong horses went out, and required to goe and take their iourney ouer the whole earth: and he sayde, Get you hence, and goe thorowe the world: so they went throughout the world.
8 Then cryed hee vpon me, and spake vnto me, saying, Beholde, these that goe toward the North, haue quieted my wrath in the North countrey.
9 And the word of the Lord came vnto mee, saying,
10 Take of the prisoners that are come from captiuitie, namely, Heldai, Tobiah, and Idaia, which came from Babylon: and come thou the same day, and goe into the house of Iosiah the sonne of Sophonia.
11 Then take gold and siluer, & make crowns therof, and set them vpon the head of Iosua the sonne of Iosedech the high Priest,
12 And speake vnto him, Thus sayeth the Luke 1.78. Lorde of hostes, Behold the man whose name is the Braunch, and he shall grow vp out of his place, and hee shall build vp the Temple of the Lord.
13 Yea, euen he shall build vp the Temple of the Lorde, and he shall beare the praise: he shall ‖Or,his. sit vpon ‖the Lords throne, and haue the dominion: a Priest shall hee be also vpon his throne, and a peaceable counsell shall be betwixt them both.
14 And the crowne shall be to Helem, and to Tobiah, and to Idaia, and to Hen the sonne of Zophoni, for a memoriall in the Temple of the Lord.
15 And they that are farre off shall come and build in the Temple of the Lorde, that yee may know how that the Lord of hostes hath sent me vnto you: and this shall come to passe, if ye will hearken diligently vnto the voice of the Lorde your God.

The vij. Chapter.

5 The true fasting, 11 The rebellion of the people is the cause of their affliction.

AND the fourth yeere of king Darius, the word of the Lorde came vnto Zacharia, in the fourth day of the ninth moneth, which is called Casleu,
2 When they of Sarasar and Rogemme-lech, and the men that were with them, sent vnto the house of God for to pray before the Lord:
3 And that they should speake vnto the Priests which were in the house of the Lorde of hostes, and to the Prophets, saying, Should I weepe in the fifth moneth, and abstaine as I haue done now these so many yeeres?
4 Then came the word of the Lord of hosts
vnto me, saying,
5 Speake vnto all the people of the lande, and to the Priests, and say, When ye fasted and Esai.58.5. mourned in the fifth and seuenth moneth, now this three score and tenne yeeres, did yee fast vnto me?
6 When ye did also eate and drinke, did yee not eate and drinke for your owne selues?
7 Are not these the words which the Lorde spake by his Prophets afore time, when Hieru-salem was yet inhabited and wealthie, thee and the cities round about her, when there dwelt men both toward the South and in the plaine countrey?
8 And the word of the Lorde came vnto Zacharie, saying,
9 Thus sayth the Lorde of hosts, Execute true iudgement, shewe mercie and louing kind-nesse euery man to his brother.
10 Oppresse not the widow, the fatherlesse, the strangers and poore, and let no man imagine euill against his brother in his heart.
Exo.22.22. esay 1.23. iere.6.28.
11 Neuertheless, they would not take heed, but turned their ‖backs, and stopped their eares,
‖Or,shoul-ders. that they should not heare.
12 Yea, they made their hearts as an Adamant stone, least they should heare the lawe and words which the Lorde of hostes sent in his holy Spirite, by the Prophets afore time: wherefore the Lord of hosts was very wroth at them.
13 And thus is it come to passe, that like as he cryed, and they would not heare: euen so they cryed, and I would not heare, sayeth the Lorde
God of hostes,
14 But scattered them among all the nations whome they knew not: thus the lande was made so desolate after them, that there trauailed no man in it, neither to nor fro: for that pleasant land was vtterly laid waste.

The viij. Chapter.

2 Of the returne of the people vnto Hierusalem, and of the mercie of God toward them. 16 Of good workes. 20 The calling of the Gentiles.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Fff5v

SO the word of the Lorde of hostes came vnto me, saying,

2 Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, I was in great ielousie for Sion, yea, I haue been very ielous for her great wrath.

3 Thus sayth the Lord, I will returne vnto Sion, and will dwell in the middest of Hierusalem: so that Hierusalem shalbe called, A faithfull and true citie, the hill of the Lord of hostes, an holy hill.

4 Thus sayth the Lord of hosts, There shall yet old men and old women dwell againe in the streets of Hierusalem: yea, and such as go with staues in their hands for very age.

5 The streets of the citie also shall be full of young boyes and damsels, playing in the streets thereof.

6 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, If the residue of this people thinke it to be vnpossible in their eyes in these dayes: should it therefore be vnpossible in my sight, sayth the Lord of hostes?

7 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, Behold, I will deliuer my people from the countreys of the East and west,

8 And will bring them againe, that they may dwell in the middest of Hierusalem: they shall be my people, and I will be their God in trueth and righteousnesse.

9 Thus sayth the Lorde of hostes, Let your hands be strong, ye that now heare these words by the mouth of the Prophets which are in these dayes, that the foundation of the house of the Lorde of hostes is layde, that the Temple may be builded.

10 For before these dayes neither men nor cattell could winne any thing, neither might any man come in and out in rest for trouble: but I let euery man goe against his neighbour.

11 Nevertheless, I will now not be as the residue of this people in the former dayes, sayeth the Lord of hostes.

12 For the seede shall prosper, the vine shall giue her fruite, the ground shall giue her encrease, and the heauens shall giue their dew, and I shall cause the remnant of this people to haue all these in possession.

13 And it shall come to passe, that like as yee were a curse among the heathen, O ye house of Juda and ye house of Israel, euen so will I deliuer you, that yee shall be a blessing: feare not, but let your hands be strong.

14 For thus sayth the Lord of hostes, Like as I thought to punish you, when my wrath was kindled against your fathers, saith the Lord of hostes, and repented not:

15 Euen so am I determined now in these dayes to doe well vnto the house of Juda and Hierusalem: therefore feare ye not.

16 Now the things that ye shall do, are these, Speake euery man the trueth vnto his neighbour, execute iudgement true and peaceable within your gates.

Ephe. 4. 25.

17 And let none of you imagine euill in his heart against his neighbour, and loue no false othes: for all these are the things that I hate, sayth the Lord.

18 And the word of the Lorde of hostes came vnto me, saying,

19 Thus sayth the Lord of hostes, The fast of the fourth moneth, the fast of the fifth, the fast of the seuenth, and the fast of the tenth, shall be ioy and gladnesse, and prosperous high feastes vnto the house of Juda: onely loue the trueth and peace.

20 Thus sayth the Lord of hosts, There shall yet come people, and the inhabiters of many cities:

21 And they that dwell in one citie shall goe to another, saying, Vp, let vs goe and pray before the Lord, let vs seeke the Lord of hostes: I will goe with you also.

22 Yea much people and mightie nations shall come to seeke the Lord of hostes at Hierusalem, and to pray before the Lord.

23 Thus sayeth the Lorde of hostes, In that time shall tenne men (out of all manner of language of the Gentiles) take one Iewe by the hemme of his garment, and say, Wee will goe with you: for we haue heard that God is among you.

The ix. Chapter.

1 The threatning of the Gentiles. 9 The comming of Christ sitting on an Asse.

THe burden of the word of the Lord in the land of Hadzach: a Damascus shall be his rest, when the eyes of men, euen of all the tribes of Israel shalbe towards the Lord.

2 The borders of Hemath shall bee hard thereby, Tyrus also and Sidon, for they are very wise.

3 Tyrus shall make her selfe strong, heape vp siluer as the sand, and gold as the clay of the streets.

4 Behold, the Lord shall spoile her, he shall smite downe her power in the sea, and she shalbe consumed with fire.

5 This shall Ascalon see, and be afraid: Gaza shalbe very sory, so shall Accaron also, because her hope is come to confusion: for the King of Gaza shall perish, and at Ascalon shall no man dwell.

6 Strangers shal dwell at Asdod, and as for the pride of the Philistines I shall roote it out.

7 Their blood will I take away from their mouth, and their abominations from betweene their teeth: Thus they that shall be left shall be for our God, he shall be as a prince in Juda, and Accaron like as a Jebusite.

8 And I will pitch a campe about mine house against the armie, against him that passeth by, and against him that returneth, and no oppressour shall come vpon them any more: for now haue I seene with mine eyes.

9 Reioyce greatly, O daughter Sion, be glad, O daughter Hierusalem: for lo, thy king commeth vnto thee, euen the Righteous and Sauiour, lowly and simple is hee, he rideth vpon an Asse, and vpon the foale of an Asse.

Esay 62. 11. mat. 21. 5.

10 I will roote out the charets from Ephraim, and the horse from Hierusalem, the battell bowes shall be destroyed, hee shall giue the doctrine of peace vnto the heathen: and his dominion shall be from the one Sea to the other, and from the riuer to the end of the world.

11 Thou also shalt be saued through the blood of thy couenant: I haue loosed thy prisoners out of the pit wherein is no water.

12 Turne ye now to the strong hold yee that be in prison and long for to be deliuered: euen this this day I bring thee word, that I will reward thee double again.

13 For Iuda haue I bent as a bowe for mee, Ephraim his hand haue I filled, and thy sonnes, O Sion, will I raise vp against the Grecches, and make thee as a Giants sword.

14 The Lord God shall be seene aboue them, and his darte shall goe forth as the lightning: the Lorde God shall blowe the trumpet, and shall come forth as a storme out of the South.

15 The Lord of hosts shall defend them, they shall consume and deuoure, and subdue them with sling stones, they shall drinke and rage as it were through wine, they shalbe filled like the bowles, and as the hornes of the altar.

16 The Lord their God shall deliuer them in that day, as the flocke of his people: for as precious stones of a Diademe they shall be set vp ouer his land.

17 How great is his goodnesse, and how great his beautie? For the corne shall make the youngmen cheerefull, and the newe wine the maidens.

The x. Chapter.

1 The people is moued to require the doctrine of the trueth of the Lord. 3 The Lord promiseth to visite and comfort the house of Israel.

PRay the Lorde then betimes to giue the latter raine, so shall the Lord make bright clouds, and giue you raine enough, and to euery one grasse in the field.

2 For vaine is the answere of idoles, the soothsayers see lyes, and the dreamers tell but vaine things, the comfort that they giue is nothing worth, therefore they went away like a flocke of sheepe, and were troubled, because they had no shepheard.

3 My wrathfull displeasure was moued against the shepheards, and I will visite the Goates: for the Lorde of hostes will visite his flocke the house of Iuda, and will make them as a goodly faire horse in the battell.

Out of Iuda shall come the corner, the nayle, the battell bowe, and the appointer of tribute also.

5 They shall be as gyants which in the battell treade downe their enemies in the myre of the streetes: they shall fight, for the Lorde shall bee with them, and the horsemen shall bee confounded.

6 I will comfort the house of Iuda, and preserue the house of Ioseph, I will bring them againe, for I pity them, and they shall be like as they were when I had not cast them off: for I the Lord am their God, and will heare them.

7 Ephraim shall bee as a Gyant, and their heart shall be cheerefull as through wine: yea, their children shall see it, and be glad, and their heart shall reioyce in the Lord.

8 I will hysse for them, and gather them together, for I will redeeme them, they shall encrease, as they encreased afore.

9 I will sowe them among the people, that they may thinke vpon mee in farre countreys, they shall liue with their children, and turne againe.

10 I will bring them againe also from the lande of Egypt, and gather them out of Assyria: I will carie them into the lande of Gilead, and to Libanus, and a place shall not be found for them, 11 And affliction shal passe ouer into the sea, and smite the Sea waues, so that all the deepe floods shall bee dried vp, the proude boasting of Assur shall be cast downe, and the scepter of Egypt shalbe taken away.

12 I wil comfort them in the Lord, that they may walke in his name, sayth the Lord.

The xj. Chapter.

1 The destruction of the Temple. 4 The care of the faithfull is committed to Christ by the father. 7 A grieuous vision against Hierusalem and Iuda.

OPen the doores, O Libanus, that the fire may consume thy Cedar trees.

2 Howle ye firre trees, for the Cedar is fallen, yea, all the proude are wasted away: Howle, O ye oke trees of Basan, for the mightie strong wood is cut downe.

3 Men may heare the shepheards mourne, for their glory is destroyed, men may heare the Lyons whelpes roare, for the pride of Iordane is wasted away.

4 Thus sayth the Lord my God, Feede the sheepe of the slaughter,

5 which haue beene slaine of those that possessed them, yet they took it for no sinne, but they that solde them, sayd, The Lord be thanked, for I am rich, yea, their owne shepheards spare them not.

6 Therefore will I no more spare those that dwell in the land, sayth the Lord: but loe, I wil deliuer the people euery man into his neighbours hand, and into the hand of his king, that they may smite the land, and out of their hands I will not deliuer them.

7 I my selfe fedde the slaughter sheepe, a poore flocke verely: I tooke vnto me two staues, the one called Beautie, the other called Bands: and so fed the sheepe.

8 Three shepheardes I put out of office in one moneth, for I might not away with them: neither had they any delight in me.

9 Then sayd I, I will feed you no more: the thing that dyeth, let it die: and that that wil perish, let it perish: and let the remnant eat euery one the flesh of his neighbour.

10 I tooke also my staffe, euen Beautie, and brake it, that I might disanull the couenant which I made with all people.

11 And so it was broken in that day: then the poore simple sheepe that had a respect vnto mee, knew thereby that it was the word of the Lord.

12 And I sayde vnto them, If yee thinke it good, bring me my wages, if no, then leaue. So they weighed downe thirtie siluer pence, the value that I was prized at.

13 And the Lorde sayd vnto me, Cast it vnto the potter, a goodly price for me to be valued at of them. And I tooke the thirtie siluer pence, and cast them to the potter in the house of the Lord.

14 Then brake I my other staffe also, namely Bands, that I might breake the brotherhood betwixt Iuda and Israel.

15 And the Lord sayd vnto me, Take thee also the ‖ staffe of a foolish shepheard.

16 For loe, I will raise vp a shepheard in the land, which shall not seeke after the things that be lost, nor seeke the tender lambes, he shall not heale the wounded, hee shall not nourish the things that are whole: but hee shall eat the flesh of such as be fat, and teare their claws in pieces.

17 O idole shepheard that leaueth the flocke, the sword shall come vpon his arme, and vpon his right eye: his arme shall be cleane dried vp, and his right eye shalbe sore blinded.

The xij. Chapter.

Of the destruction, & building againe of Hierusalem.

THe heauie burden which the Lord hath deuised for Israel. Thus saith the Lorde which spread the heauens abroad, layd the foundation of the earth, and gaue man the breath of life.

2 Behold, I will make Hierusalem a cuppe of || surfet vnto all the people that are round about her: yea, Iuda himselfe also shall be in the siege against Hierusalem.

3 And at the same time will I make Hierusalem an heauy stone for the people, so that all such as lift it vp shalbe torne and rent, and all the people of the earth shall bee gathered together against it.

4 In that day, saith the Lord, I will make all horses astonied, and those that ride vpon them to be out of their wits; I will open mine eyes vpon the house of Iuda, and smite all the horses of the people with blindnesse.

5 And the princes of Iuda shall say in their heartes, The inhabiters of Hierusalem shall giue me consolation in the Lord of hostes their God.

6 In that time will I make the princes of Iuda like an hot burning ouen with wood, and like a fyrebrand among the || strawe, so that they shall consume all the people round about them, both vpon the right hand, and vpon the left: Hierusalem also shall bee inhabited againe, namely in the same place where Hierusalem standeth.

7 The Lorde shall preserue the tents of Iuda as aforetime, so that the glorie of the house of Dauid, and the glory of the citizens of Hierusalem, shall not be exalted against Iuda.

8 In that day shall the Lord defend the citizens of Hierusalem, so that the weakest then among them shall be as Dauid, and the house of Dauid shall be as Gods house, and as the Angel of the Lord before them.

9 At the same time will I goe about, to destroy all such people as goe against Hierusalem.

10 Moreouer, vpon the house of Dauid, and vpon the citizens of Hierusalem will I powre out the spirit of grace and compassion, so that they shall looke vpon me whome they haue pierced, and they shall lament for him, as men mourne for their onely begotten sonne: yea, and be sorie for him, as men are sory for their first childe.

11 Then shall there be a great mourning at Hierusalem, like as the lamentation for Adadrimmon in the field of Megeddon.

12 And the land shall bewaile, euery kindred of themselues alone: the kindred of the house of Dauid by themselues, and their wiues by themselues: the kindred of the house of Nathan by themselues, and their wiues by themselues:

13 The kindred of the house of Leui themselues alone, and their wiues by themselues: the kindred of the house of Simei themselues alone, and their wiues by themselues.

14 In like maner all the other generations euery one by themselues alone, and their wiues by themselues.

The xiij. Chapter.

1 Of the well of grace and trueth. 9 Of the cleane riddance of idolatry, and of false prophets.

IN that time shall the house of Dauid and the citizens of Hierusalem haue an open well to wash all sinne and vncleannesse.

2 And then saith the Lord of hostes, I will destroy the names of the idoles out of the land, so that they shall no more be put in remembrance: as for the false prophets also, and the vncleane spirits, I will take them out of the land.

3 So that if any of them, prophecie any more, his owne father and mother that begate him, shall say vnto him, Thou shalt not liue, for thou speakest lies vnder the name of the Lord: yea his owne father and mother that begat him shall wound him when he prophecieth.

4 And then shall those prophets be confounded, euery one of his vision when he prophecieth: neither shall they weare haire cloth any more to deceiue men withall.

5 But hee shall be faine to say, I am no prophet, I am an husbandman: for I am taught by man from my youth vp.

6 And if it be said vnto him, How came these wounds then in thine hands? He shall answer, Thus was I wounded in the house of mine owne friends.

7 Arise, O thou sword, vpon my shepheard, and vpon the man that is my fellow, saieth the Lord of hostes: smite the shepheard, and the sheepe shall bee scattered abroad, and so will I turne my hand to the little ones.

8 And it shall come to passe, saith the Lord, that in all the land two partes shall be rooted out and dye, but the third part shall remaine therein.

9 And the same third part will I bring thorowe the fire, and will cleanse them as the siluer is cleansed, yea and trye them like as golde is tryed: then shall they call vpon my name, and I will heare them: I will say, It is my people, and they shall say, Lord my God.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The wasting of the Church vnder the figure of Hierusalem. 9 Of the kingdome of the Lord.

BEholde, the day of the Lorde commeth, and thy spoile shall be diuided in the middest of thee.

2 For I will gather together all the Heathen to fight against Hierusalem, so that the citie shall be wonne, the houses spoiled, & the women defiled: the halfe of the city shal go away into captiuity, & the residue of the people shall not be caried out of the citie.

3 After that, the Lord shall goe forth to fight against those Heathen, as men vse to fight in the day of battell.

4 Then shall his feet stand vpon the mount Oliuet that lyeth vpon the East side of Hierusalem, and the mount Oliuet shall cleaue in two.

Eastward and Westward, so that there shall be a great valley: and the halfe mountaine shall remoue toward the North, and the other toward the South.

5 And yee shall flee vnto the valley of my hilles, for the valley of the hilles shall reach vnto Azal: yea, ye shall flee like as ye fled for the earthquake in the dayes of Vzias King of Iuda: and the Lord my God shall come, and all the Saints with him.

6 In that day shall there be no cleare light, but darke.

7 This shall bee that speciall day, which is knowen vnto the Lord, neither day nor night: but about the euening time it shalbe light.

8 In that time shall there waters of life runne out from Hierusalem: the halfe part of them toward the East sea, and the other halfe toward the vttermost Sea, and shal continue both Summer and Winter.

9 And the Lord himselfe shall be King ouer all the earth: At that time shal there be one Lord onely, and his Name shall be but one.

10 All the land shalbe turned as a plaine from Gibea to Remmon towards the South of Hierusalem: She shalbe lift vp, and inhabited in her place, from Beniamins port, vnto the place of the first port, a vnto the corner port, and from the towre of Hananeel vnto the kings wine presses.

11 There shall men dwell, and there shall bee no more destruction, but Hierusalem shalbe safely inhabited.

12 This shall bee the plague wherewith the Lord will smite all people that haue fought against Hierusalem, their flesh shall consume away, though they stand vpon their feete, their eyes shall bee consumt in their holes, and their tongue shall consume in their mouth.

13 In that day shal the Lord make a great sedition among them: so that one man shall take another by the hand, and lay his hands vpon the hands of his neighbour.

14 Iuda shal fight against Hierusalem, and the armies of all the Heathen shall be gathered together round about with gold and siluer, and a very great multitude of apparel.

15 And this plague shall goe ouer horses, mules, camels, asses, and all the beasts that shalbe in the hoste, like as vnto this plague was.

16 Euery one that remaineth then of all the people, which came against Hierusalem, shall goe vp yeere by yeere to worship the King, euen the Lord of hostes, and to keepe the feast of Tabernacles.

17 And whose what generation vpon the earth goeth not to Hierusalem to worship the King the Lord of hosts, vpon the same shal come no raine.

18 If the kinred of Egypt goe not vp, & come not, it shal not raine vpon them: This shalbe the plague wherewith the Lord will smite all the Heathen that come not vp to keepe the feast of Tabernacles.

19 Yea this shalbe the plague of Egypt, and the plague of all people that goe not vp to keepe the feast of Tabernacles.

20 At that time shall the ryding geare of the horses be holy, vnto the Lord; the kettles in the Lords house shall be like the bolles before the Altar.

21 Yea, all the kettles in Hierusalem and Iuda shall be holy vnto the Lord of hostes: and all they that slay offerings, shall come and take of them, and seethe therein: And at that time there shalbe no more Chanaanites in the house of the Lord of hostes.

Amos 1.1.

The end of the prophecie of Zacharias.

The booke of the Prophet Malachias.

The first Chapter.

A complaint against Israel, and chiefly the Priests.

a That is, the grieuous and threatning prophecie.

1 The a burden of the word of the Lord to Israel, by the ministerie of Malachi.

2 I haue loued you, saith the Lord: yet ye say, Wherein hast thou loued vs? b Was not Esau Iacobs brother, saith the Lord? *yet loued I Iacob.

b In our election is Gods great loue to vs ward declared. Rom. 9.13.

3 And I hated Esau, and made his mountaines waste, and his heritage a wildernesse for dragons.

4 Though Edom say, Wee are impouerished, but wee will returne and builde the desolate places: yet, sayeth the Lord of hostes, They shall builde, but I will destroy: and they shall call them, The border of wickednesse, and the people with whom the Lord is angry for euer.

† Shall not be cut off from the citie.

5 And your eyes shal see: and you shall say, The Lord will be magnified vpon the borders of Israel.

6 A sonne honoureth his father, and a seruant his master: If then I be a father, where is mine honour? If I bee a master, where is my feare, saith the Lord of hostes to you, O yee priestes that despise my Name? and yee say, Wherein haue we despised thy Name?

c Impure sacrifices: for by heathen Scripture, are signified all things that noueth.

7 Ye offer vpon mine Altar c vncleane bread, and say, Wherein haue wee polluted thee? In that ye say, The Table of the Lord is not to bee regarded.

8 when ye bring the blinde for sacrifice, you say, it is not euill: and when ye bring the lame and sicke, you say, it is not euil: offer it now vnto thy prince, will he be content, with thee, or accept thy person, saith the Lord of hostes?

d Thou offerest that to me, which thou art ashamed to giue to a mightie man, so greatly dost thou contemne my Lawe.

9 And nowe I pray you, pray before God, that he may haue mercy vpon vs, (this hath bene done by your meanes) will hee regard your perſons, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes.

10 Who is there euen among you that would ſhut the doores, and kindle not fire on mine Altar in vaine? c I haue no pleaſure in you, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, neither will I accept an offring at your hand.

11 From the riſing of the Sunne vnto the going downe of the ſame, my Name is great among the Gentiles, and in euery place incenſe ſhall be offered to my Name, and a pure offring: for my Name is great among the very heathen, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes.

12 But ye haue polluted it, in that yee ſay, The table of the Lord is polluted, and the ‖ fruit thereof, euen his meate is not to be regarded.

13 And yee ſayd, Beholde, it is a wearineſſe, and you haue ſnuffed at it, ſayeth the Lord of hoſtes, and yee haue offered the ſtolne, and the lame, and the ſicke, yee haue offered an offering, ſhould I accept this of your handes, ſaith the Lord?

14 Curſed be the deceitfull which hath in his flocke a male, and boweth, and ſacrificeth a corrupt thing to the Lord: becauſe I am a great king, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, and my Name is fearefull among the heathen.

The ij. Chapter.

Threatnings againſt the Priеſtes, being ſeducers of the people.

AND now, O yee prieſtes, this commandement is for you.

2 If yee will not heare it, nor regard it, to giue the glory to my Name, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes, I will ſende a curſe vpon you, and will curſe your bleſſings, yea, I haue curſed them already, becauſe ye do not conſider it in your heart.

3 Beholde, I will corrupt your ſeede, and caſt doung on your faces, euen the doung of your ſolemne feaſts, and you ſhalbe like vnto it.

4 And you ſhall know that I haue ſent this commandement vnto you, that my couenant which I haue made with Leui might ſtand, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes.

5 My couenant was with him of life and peace, and I gaue them him for the feare wherewith hee feared mee, and was afraide before my Name.

6 The Lawe of trueth was in his mouth, and there was no iniquitie found in his lippes, he walked with mee in peace and in equitie, and he turned many from their iniquitie.

7 For the Prieſtes lips ſhall keepe knowledge, and they ſhall ſeeke the Lawe at his mouth: becauſe he is the meſſenger of the Lord of hoſtes.

8 But ye haue gone out of the way, ye haue cauſed many to fall by the Lawe, yee haue corrupted the couenant of Leui, ſayeth the Lord of hoſtes.

9 Therefore haue I alſo made you deſpiſed and vile before all the people, becauſe you kept not my wayes, but haue bene partiall in the Lawe.

10 Haue wee not all one Father? hath not God made vs all? why then is euery one deceitfull of his brother, to violate the couenant of our fathers?

11 Iuda hath offended, and abomination is committed in Iſrael and in Hieruſalem: for Iuda hath defiled the holineſſe of the Lord which he loued, and hath married the daughter of a ſtrange god.

12 The Lord will deſtroy the man that doeth this, both the ‖ ſayer vp, and the anſwerer out of the tabernacle of Iacob, and him that offreth an offering vnto the Lord of hoſtes.

13 And this againe haue yee done in couering the Altar of the Lord with teares, with weeping and mourning, and therefore there is no more reſpect to the offering, neither acceptable receiuing of it at your handes.

14 Yet yee ſay, Wherefore? Becauſe the Lord hath bene witneſſe betweene thee and the wife of thy youth, againſt whom thou haſt tranſgreſſed, yet is ſhee thine owne companion, and the wife of thy couenant.

15 And did not he make one? yet had he abundance of ſpirit: And wherefore one? becauſe hee ſought a godly ſeede: therefore keepe your ſelues in your ſpirit, and let none tranſgreſſe againſt the wife of his youth.

16 If thou hateſt her, put her away, ſaith the Lord God of Iſrael: yet hee couereth the iniurie vnder his garment, ſayeth the Lord of hoſtes, and bee yee kept in your ſpirit, and tranſgreſſe not.

17 Yee haue wearied the Lord with your wordes, and you haue ſaide, Wherein haue wee wearied him? in that you ſay, Euery one that doeth euill, is good in the ſight of the Lord, and hee is pleaſed in them: or where is the God of iudgement?

The iij. Chapter.

Of the meſſenger of the Lord Iohn Baptiſt, and of Chriſtes office.

BEhold, I will ſend my meſſenger, and he ſhal prepare the way before me, and the Lord whom ye ſeeke, ſhall ſuddenly come to his Temple, and the meſſenger of the couenant whom ye deſire, behold, he commeth, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes.

2 But who may abide the day of his comming? and who ſhall ſtand when hee appeareth? for hee is like a purging fire, and like fullers ſope.

3 And hee ſhall ſit downe to try and fine the ſiluer, and hee ſhall purge the children of Leui, and purifie them as golde and ſiluer: and they ſhall bring vnto the Lord offerings in righteouſneſſe.

4 Then ſhal the offrings of Iuda and Hieruſalem bee acceptable vnto the Lord as in olde time, and as in the yeeres afore.

5 And I wil come neere vnto you in Iudgement, and I will bee a ſwift witneſſe againſt the ſoothſayers, and againſt the adulterers, and againſt falſe ſwearers, and againſt thoſe that wrongfully keepe backe the hirelings wages, and vere the widow and the fatherleſſe, and oppreſſe the ſtranger, and feare not me, ſaith the Lord of hoſtes.

6 For I am the Lord, I change not: and ye ſonnes of Iacob are not conſumed.

7 From the dayes of your fathers yee are gone away from mine ordinances, and haue not kept them: turne you to mee, and I will turne to you, ſaith the Lord of hoſts. And ye ſaid, Wherein ſhall we returne?

c Such regard hath God to his ministers and poore members, that hee thinketh himselfe robbed when they are defrauded.

8 Will a man c spoyle his gods? yet ye haue spoyled me, and ye say, Wherein haue wee spoyled thee? In tythes and offerings.

9 Yeare curssed with a curse, and mee haue ye spoyled, euen this whole nation.

10 Bring euery tithe into the store house, that there may bee meate in mine house, and prooue mee with all, saith the Lord of hostes, if I will not open the windowes of heauen vnto you, and powre you out a blessing without measure.

11 And I will repulse the deuourer for your sakes, and hee shall not destroy the fruite of the ground, neither shall your vine be barren in the field, saith the Lord of hostes.

12 And all nations shall call you blessed; because you shall be a pleasant land, saith the Lord of hostes.

Iob 21.14.

13 *Your words haue bene stout against me, saith the Lord: and you said, Wherein haue we spoken against thee?

14 Yee haue sayde, It is but vaine to serue God, and what profite is it that wee haue kept his Commaundement, and that wee haue walked humbly before the face of the Lord of hostes?

15 And now wee call the proude happy: yea, the workers of wickednesse are set vp, and also they that tempt God, yea, they are deliuered.

16 Then they that feared God, sayde euery one to his neighbour: and the Lord considered and heard, and there was written a booke of remembrance before him, for them that feared the Lord, and for them that thinke vpon his Name.

17 And they shalbe to mee, sayeth the Lord of hostes, in that day wherein I shall do iudgement, a flocke, and I will spare them, as a man spareth his owne sonne which serueth him.

18 Then shall yee returne, and discerne betweene the iust and the wicked, betweene him that serueth God, & him that serueth him not.

The iiij. Chapter.

The day of the Lord, before the which Elias should come.

FOr marke, the day commeth burning like an ouen, and all the proude, and all that worke wickednesse shall be stubble, and the day that is for to come shall burne them, sayeth the Lord of hostes, and shall leaue them neither roote nor branch.

2 *But to you that feare my Name shal that Sunne of righteousnesse arise, and health shall be vnder his wings: and ye shall goe forth, and skip like fat calues.

Luke 1.78.

3 And yee shall treade downe the vngodly; for they shall be dust vnder the soles of your feete in the day that I shall doe this, saith the Lord of hostes.

4 *Remember the Lawe of Moses my seruant, which I commaunded him in Horeb for all Israel, with the ordinances and iudgements.

Exod. 10.3.

5 *Beholde, I will send you Elias the Prophet, before the comming of the great and feareful day of the Lord.

Mat. 17.14. mar. 9.11. luke 1.16.

The third booke of Esdras.

The first Chapter.

1 Iosias appointeth Priests, and keepeth the Passeouer. 7 Offerings for the Priests and the people. 23 The vpright life of Iosias. 53 The destruction of Hierusalem.

2.Chr.35.1. 4.king.23. 21.

IOsias held *the feast of Easter in Hierusalē vnto his Lord, & offred the Passeouer the foureteenth day of the first moneth.

2 Hee set the Priests also in order according to their dayly courses, being arayed in long garments, in the temple of the Lord.

3 And hee spake vnto the Leuites the holy ministers of Israel, that they should halowe themselues vnto the Lord, to set the holy arke of the Lord in the house that king Solomon the sonne of Dauid had builded,

4 And sayd, Ye shall no more beare the arke vpon your shoulders: and now serue the Lord your God, and take the charge of his people Israel, and prepare you after your villages and tribes,

‖Or, according to Solomon his sonnes great liberalitie.

5 According as king Dauid the king of Israel hath left in writing, and ‖ according as Solomon his sonne hath honourably prepared, and standing ech of you in that degree of authoritie which in the distribution was appointed vnto your fathers the Leuites, in the presence of your brethren the children of Israel:

6 Offer the Passeouer in order, and make ready the sacrifices for your brethren, and keepe the Passeouer according to the commaundement of the Lord, which was giuen vnto Moses.

7 And vnto the people that was found there, Iosias gaue thirtie thousand lambes and kids, and three thousand calues. These things were giuen of the kings owne possessions, according as he promised to the people, to the Priests, and to the Leuites.
