8 And Helkias, and Zacharias, and Sielus the gouernors of the temple, gaue to the Priests for the Passeouer, two thousand and fiue hundred sheepe, and three hundred calues.

9 Moreouer Iechonias, and Samaias, and Nathanael his brother, and Sabias, and Ochiel, and Iozam, captaines ouer thousands, gaue to the Leuites for the Passeouer, fiue thousand sheepe, and seuen hundred calues.

10 And when these things were brought to passe, the Priests and Leuites stood goodly in their order, and had the vnleauened bread throwout the tribes,

11 And after the degrees of preeminence appointed to their fathers, to offer to the Lord in the sight of the people, according as it is written in the booke of Moses: and thus did they in the morning.

12 And they rosted the Easter lambe with fire, as according was: as for the offrings, they dight them in kettels and pots with good sauours,

13 And set them before all them of the people, and afterward they prepared for themselues and the Priests their brethren the sonnes of Aaron.

‖Or, vntill the euening time.

14 For the Priests offered the fat, ‖ vntill the time was expired, and the Leuites prepared for themselues, and for the Priests their brethren the children of Aaron.

‖Or, Azarias, and Eddimus.

15 The holy singers also the children of Asaph, stood in their orders according as Dauid deuised, to wit, Asaph, ‖ Zacharias, & Iduthun, which was appointed by the king.

‖Or, his watch, or turne and course.

16 Moreouer, the porters and doore keepers stood by the doores and that diligently, so that none went out of his ‖ standing and seruice, for their brethren the Leuites prepared for them.

17 Thus were all things performed that belonged to the offering of the Lord in that day, that they might hold the Passeouer, 18 And offer sacrifices vpon the altar of the Lord, according to the commandement of king Iosias.

19 So the children of Israel which were then present, held an honourable Passeouer, and the feast of sweete bread seuen dayes long:

20 Yea, such a Passeouer was not kept in Israel, from the time of the Prophet Samuel.

21 And all the kings of Israel held not such an Easter as this which king Iosias held, and the Priests, the Leuites, the Iewes, and all Israel, of all them that ‖ were at Hierusalem.

‖Or, found dwelling at Hierusalem

22 In the eighteenth yeere of the reigne of Iosias was this Passeouer kept.

23 And with an heart full of godlinesse did king Iosias rightly order all his workes before the Lord.

24 And the things that came to passe in his time, they were written of olde before those dayes, concerning those that sinned, and were vngodly against the Lord aboue all people and kingdomes, and how they grieued him in seruing sensible things, so that the wordes of the Lord rose vp against Israel.

25 Now after all these acts of Iosias, it came to passe that Pharao the king of Egypt came to Charcamis vpon Euphrates, to moone warre: and Iosias went out against him.

fol. Ggg4v

26 But the king of Egypt sent to him, saying, What haue I to do with thee, O king of Juda?
27 I am not sent of the Lord God against thee, for my warre is vpon Euphrates, and now the Lord is with mee, yea, the Lord maketh diligent ||speed with me: depart from me, and be not against the Lord.
28 Howbeit Josias would not turne back his chariot from him, but vndertooke to fight with him, and hearkened not to the words of the Prophet Jeremie spoken by the mouth of the Lord:
29 But pitched a battel against him in the fielde of ||Mageddo: and the princes preased to king Josias.
30 Then saide the King vnto his seruants, Cary me away out of the battel, for I am very weake. And immediatly his seruants tooke him away out of the front of the battel.
31 Then gate hee vp vpon his second charet, came to Hierusalem, died, and was buried in his fathers sepulchre.
32 And in all Jury they mourned for Josias, yea, Jeremie the Prophet lamented for Josias, and the rulers also with their wiues made lamentation for him vnto this day, and it became a custome to be done continually in all the kinred of Israel.
33 These things are written in the booke of the stories of the Kings of Juda: and all the acts of Josias, and his glory, and vnderstanding in the Lawe of the Lord, and the things which he had done before, and that was now recited, are written in the booke of the Kings of Israel and Juda.
34 And the people tooke Jechonias the sonne of Josias, and made him King in stead of Josias his father, when hee was twentie and three yeeres old.
35 And hee reigned in Juda and in Hierusalem three moneths: and then the king of Egypt put him downe from reigning in Hierusalem:
36 And raised vp a tare of the people, namely an hundred talents of siluer, and one talent of golde.
37 The king of Egypt also made Joacim his brother King of Juda and Hierusalem.
38 [a] And thus hee ||bound Joacim and his gouernours: but Zaracen his brother hee apprehended, and led away with him into Egypt.
39 Fiue and twentie yeeres old was Joacim when hee was made King in the land of Juda and Hierusalem, and he did euil before the Lord.
40 Wherefore against him Nabuchodonosor the King of Babylon came vp, and bound him with bandes of yron, and caried him vnto Babylon.
41 Nabuchodonosor also tooke of the holy vessels of the Lord, caried them away, and set them in his owne temple at Babylon.
42 But all his acts, and his prophanation and reproche, are written in the Chronicles of the Kings.
43 And Joachin his sonne reigned in his steade. Hee was made King being eighteene yeeres old, 44 And reigned but three moneths and ten dayes in Hierusalem, and did euill before the Lord.
45 So after a yere Nebuchodonosor sent, and caused him to bee brought vnto Babylon with the holy vessels of the Lord,
46 And made Zedechias king of Juda & Hierusalem when he was twenty and one yeeres olde, and he reigned eleuen yeeres.
47 *And hee did euill also in the sight of the Lord, and cared not for the wordes that were spoken vnto him by the Prophet Jeremie from the mouth of the Lord.
48 And where hee had made an othe vnto king Nabuchodonosor, he forswore himselfe by the Name of the Lord, and hardened his neche and heart, and transgressed the lawes of the Lord God of Israel.
49 The gouernours also of the people and Priests did many things against the lawes, and passed all the pollutions of all nations, and defiled the Temple of the Lord which was sanctified in Hierusalem.
50 Wherefore the God of their fathers sent [b] his messenger to call them backe, because hee spared them and his tabernacle also.
51 But they had his messengers in derision: and looke when the Lord spake vnto them, they made a sport of his Prophets.
52 This drew on so long till the Lord was wroth with his people for their great vngodlinesse, so that he caused the kings of the Chaldees to come vp against them:
53 Which slewe their yoong men with the sword, yea, ||euen in the compasse of their holy temple, and spared no body, neither yoong man nor maiden, olde man nor childe among them.
54 But they were all deliuered into their hands, and all the holy vessels of the Lord both great and small, with the vessels of the Arke of God: and they tooke and caried away the kings treasure into Babylon.
55 As for the house of the Lord, they went vp into it, and burnt it, brake downe the walles of Hierusalem, set fire vpon her towers,
56 Destroyed all her ||noble buildings, and brought them to nought, and the people that were not slaine with the sword, he caried into Babylon:
57 Which became seruants to him and his children, till the Persians reigned, to fulfill the word of the Lord spoken by the mouth of Jeremias:
58 Till the land had fully ||taken her ease from them, which tooke that ease all the time she lacked her inhabitants, to the end and terme of seuentie yeeres.

[a] This place is corrupt, and thus it seemeth to be. As for Joacim and his rulers he bound, and hauing taken his brother Zaracen, led them away into Egypt.

1 Cyrus gaue leaue to the Iewes to returne. 13 The names of them that returned. 16 Their aduersaries did let their building: 17 and the kings letters for the same.

NOwe when king Cyrus reigned ouer the Persians in his first yere, when the Lord would performe the word that he had promised by the mouth of the Propher Jeremie:
2 The Lord raised vp the spirit of Cyrus the King of the Persians, so that hee caused this writing to be proclaimed throughout his whole Realme, house at Hierusalem in Iurie.

5 If there be any now of you that are of his people, let the Lord, euen his Lord, bee with him, and let him goe vp to Hierusalem that is in Iudea, and build the house of the Lord of Israel, that is, the Lord that dwelleth in Hierusalem.

6 And all they that dwell round about that place shall helpe him, all that dwell in his place I say, whether it be with golde, with siluer,

7 With gifts, with horses, and necessary cattell, and all other things that are brought with a free will to the ‖house of the Lord at Hierusalem.

‖Or, temple

8 Then the principall men out of the tribes and villages of Iuda and Beniamin stood vp: so did the Priests also and the Leuites, and all they whose minde the Lord had mooued to goe vp, and to build the house of the Lord at Hierusalem.

9 And they that dwelt about them, helped them in all things, with siluer and gold, horses, and cattell, and with ‖many free gifts of many men, whose minds were stirred vp thereto.

‖Or, sundry vowes of sundrie men,

10 King Cyrus also brought forth the vessels and ornaments that were hallowed vnto the Lord, which Nabuchodonosor had caried away from Hierusalem, and consecrated them to his idole and imag-.

11 And hauing brought them forth, he deliuered them to Mithridates his treasurer.

12 And by him they were deliuered to Abassar the deputie in Iurie.

13 And this was the number of them: a thousand golden cups, and a thousand of siluer, basons of siluer twentie and nine for the sacrifices, vials of gold thirtie, and of siluer two thousand foure hundred and ten, and a thousand other vessels.

14 So all the vessels of gold and siluer which were carried away, were fiue thousand foure hundred threescore and nine.

15 These were brought by Salmanasar, with them of the captiuitie, from Babylon to Hierusalem.

16 But in the time of Artarerres king of the Persians, Belemus and Mithridates, and Tabelius, and Rathumus, and Beeltethmus, and Semellius the secretary with other that were ioyned to them, dwelling in Samaria and other places, wrote vnto him against them that dwelt in Iudea and Hierusalem, these letters following: To the king Artaxerxes our lord.

17 Thy seruants, Rathumus the storie writer, and Semellius the secretary, and the rest of their counsell, and the iudges that are in Coelosyria and Phenice:

18 Be it now known vnto our lord the king, that the Iewes which are come vp from you vnto vs, into the rebellious and wicked city, begin to build the market places, and to make vp the walles about it, and to set vp the temple anew.

19 Now if this citie and the walles thereof be set vp againe, they shall not onely refuse to giue tributes and taxes, but also rebell vtterly against kings.

20 And forsomuch as they take this in hand now about the temple, we thought it reason to thinke no scorne of it:

21 But to shew it vnto our lord the king, to the intent, that if it please the king, he may cause it to be sought in the bookes of olde,

22 And thou shalt find in records hereof written, and shalt vnderstand that this citie hath alway bene rebellious and disobedient, that it hath troubled kings and cities,

23 And that the Iewes were rebellious, and raysed alwayes warres therein: for the which cause this citie is walled.

24 Wherefore nowe wee certifie our lord the King, that if this citie bee builded and occupied againe, and the walles thereof set vp anew, thou canst haue no passage into Coelosyria and Phenice.

25 Then wrote the King to Rathumus the storie writer, to Beeltethmus, to Semellius the Scribe, and to the other officers and dwellers in Samaria, and Syria, and Phenice, after this maner.

‖Or, register

26 I haue read the Epistle which ye sent vnto me: therefore I commanded to make diligent search, and haue found that this citie hath euer resisted Kings,

27 That the same people are disobedient, and haue caused much war, and that mighty kings haue reigned in Hierusalem, which also haue raised vp tares of Coelosyria and Phenice.

28 Wherefore I haue commanded to forbid those men that they shall not builde vp the citie, and heed to be taken that there be no more done in it:

29 And that they proceed no further in those wicked workes, for so much as it might be occasion of trouble vnto Princes.

30 Nowe when Rathumus and Semellius the Scribe had read the writing of King Artarerres, they gate them together, and came in all the haste to Hierusalem, with an hoste of horsemen, and with much people on foote, 31 And forbade them to build: and so they left off from building of the Temple, vnto the second yeere of king Darius, king of the Persians.

5 Let euery one of vs speake a sentence, and looke who shall ouercome, and whose sentence may seeme wiser then the others, vnto him shall king Darius giue great gifts, and great things in token of victory:

it, and layed it vnder king Darius pillow,
9 And sayd, when the king ariseth, they would giue him the writtinges, and looke whose word the king & the three princes of Persia shall iudge to be the most wisely spoken, the same shal haue the victorie, as it was appointed.
10 One wrote, Wine is a strong thing.
11 The second wrote, The king is strong.
12 The third wrote, Women haue very much strength, but aboue all things, the trueth beareth away the victory.
13 Now when the king was risen vp, they tooke their writings, and deliuered them vnto him, and so he read them.
14 Then hee sent forth to call all his chiefe lords of Persia and of Media, and the rulers, and the captaines, and lieutenants, and counsuls:
15 And when hee had set him downe in the councell, the writings were read before them.
16 And he commanded to call for the young men, that they might declare their ‖ meanings themselues by mouth. So they were sent for, and came in.
‖Or, sentences.
17 And then he sayd vnto them, Shew vs, and make vs to vnderstand what the things are that yee haue written. Then beganne the first, which had spoken of the strength of wine,
18 And sayd thus, O ye men, how strong is wine, that deceiueth all men which drinke it?
19 It maketh the kings mind and the fatherlesse to be both one, the bondmans and the free, the poore mans and the rich.
20 It turneth also euery thought into ioy and gladnesse, so that a man remembreth neither heauinesse nor debt.
21 And it maketh euery heart thinke it selfe rich, so that a man remembreth neither king nor gouernour, and it maketh to speake all things by talents.
22 Moreouer, when men haue drunke, they forget all friendship and brotherly faithfulnesse, and a litle after they draw out swords:
23 And afterwards, when they are from the wine, they remember nothing what was done.
24 O ye men, is not wine the strongest, that thus enforceth men to do? And when he had spoken this, he held his peace.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 Of the strength of a king. 13 Of the strength of women. 34 Of the strength of trueth, which sentence is approued, 47 and his petition granted.

THen the second, that had spoken of the strength of the king, began to say,
2 O ye men, are not men strongest of all, that conquere both by land and sea, and all the kings that are in them?
3 Now is the king stronger, as lord of all these things, and that hath the dominion ouer them: and looke what he commandeth them, it is all done.
4 If hee bid them the one against the other to make warre, they do it: if he send them out against the enemies, they goe, and breake downe mountaines, walles, and towers.
5 They slay and are slaine, and ouerpasse not the kings commandement: if they get the victorie, they bring all to the king, so well the spoile as other things.
6 Likewise the other, that meddle not with warres and fighting, but till the ground: when they haue sowen and reaped, they bring to the king, and compel one another to pay his tribute vnto the king.
7 And if the king, though he be but one man, command to kill, they kill, if he command to ‖ forgiue, they forgiue:
8 If he command to smite, they smite, if he bid ‖ driue away, they driue away, if he command to build, they build:
‖Or, to spare, they spare.
‖Or, make waste, they make waste
9 If hee command to breake downe, they breake downe, if he cõmand to plant, they plant.
‖Or, so all his people & all his armies obey vnto one.
10 ‖ So the common people and the rulers are obedient vnto him, and the king in the meane season sitteth him downe, eateth and drinketh, and taketh his rest.
11 And these keepe him round about, and not one of them dare get him out of the way to doe his owne businesse, ‖ but must be obedient vnto the king at a word.
‖Or, neither disobey they him in any thing.
12 Iudge ye now, O ye men, how should not the king go farre aboue, when in such sort he is obeyed? And when he had spoken thus, he held his tongue.
13 The third, whose name was Zorobabel, which had spoken of women, and of trueth, began to say after this maner.
14 O ye men, it is not the great king, it is not the multitude of men, neither is it wine that excelleth, who is it then that ruleth them, or hath the lordship ouer them? is it not women?
15 Women haue borne the king, and all the people which beare rule by sea and by land.
16 And euen of them were they borne, and they brought those vp that planted the vines, whereof the wine commeth.
17 They make garments for men, they get honour vnto men, and without women can not men continue.
18 Yea, if they haue gathered together golde & siluer, or any other precious thing, do they not loue a woman for her comly shape and beauty?
19 And letting all those things goe, doe they not gape, and euen with open mouth fire their eyes fall on her? and haue not all men more desire vnto her, then vnto siluer and golde, or any maner of precious thing?
20 A man leaueth his owne father that brought him vp, leaueth his owne naturall country, and cleaueth vnto his wife.
21 Yea, he ‖ ieopardeth his life with his wife, and remembreth neither father nor mother, nor country.
‖Or, passeth
22 By this also yee must needs know, that women haue dominion ouer you: doe ye not labour and trauell, and giue and bring all to the woman?
23 A man taketh his sword, and goeth his way to steale, to kill, to murther, to saile vpon the sea, and vpon riuers,
24 And seeth a lion, and goeth in the darkenesse, and when he hath stolen, ‖ deceiued, and robbed, he bringeth it vnto his loue.
‖Or, spoiled
25 Wherefore a man loueth his wife better then father and mother:
26 Yea, many there be that run out of their wits, and become bondmen for their ‖ wiues sake.
‖Or, for womens sakes.
27 Many one also haue perished, haue erred, and sinned also for women.

fol. Ggg6r

28 And now do ye not beleeue me? is not the king great in his power? doe not all regions feare to touch him?

29 Yet did I see him, and Apame the daughter of the great king Bartacus the kings concubine sate beside the king vpon the right hand,

30 And tooke off his crowne from his head, and set it vpon her owne head, and stroke the king with her left hand,

31 And there while steadily the king looked vpon her with open mouth: if she laughed vpon him, he laughed also: but if she tooke any displeasure with him, the king was faine to flatter her, and to giue her good words, till he had gotten her fauour againe.

32 O ye men, are not women then stronger, that do these things?

33 Then the king & the princes looked one vpon another: so he began to speake of the trueth.

34 O ye men, are not women stronger? Great is the earth, high is the heauen, swift is the course of the sunne, he compasseth the heauen round about, and fetcheth his course againe to his owne place in one day.

35 Is hee not excellent that maketh these things? therefore great is the trueth, and stronger then all things.

36 All the earth calleth vpon trueth, the heauen praiseth it, all works shake and tremble at it, and with it is no vnrighteous thing.

37 Wine is wicked, the king is wicked, women are wicked, all the children of men are wicked, yea, and such are all their wicked works, and there is no trueth in them, in their vnrighteousnesse also shall they be destroyed, and perish:

38 As for the trueth, it endureth, and is alway strong, it liueth, and conquereth for euermore world without end.

39 With her there is no exception or difference of persons, but the doth that iust is, and refraineth from all vniust and wicked things, and all men do well like of her works.

40 In the iudgement of it there is no vnrighteous thing, and he is the strength, kingdome, power, and maiesty of all ages. Blessed be the God of trueth.

41 And with that he held his peace: and all the people cried, and then sayd, Great is trueth, and aboue all.

42 Then sayd the king vnto him, Aske what thou wilt, more then is appointed in the writing, and we shall giue it thee, for thou art found wiser then thy companions, thou shalt sit next me, and shalt be called my kinseman.

43 Then sayd he vnto the king, Remember thy promise and vow which thou hast vowed and promised in the day when thou camest to the kingdome, to build vp Hierusalem, 44 And to send againe all the vessels and iewels that were taken away out of Hierusalem, which Cyrus set apart when hee vowed to destroy Babylon, and to send them againe thither.

45 And thy minde was also to build vp the Temple, which the Edomites burnt, when Iuda was destroyed by the Chaldees.

46 And now this onely, O king, is the thing that I require & desire of thee, this is the princely liberality that I aske of thee, I desire therefore, that thou performe the vow, which thou with thine owne mouth hast made vnto the king of heauen.

47 Then Darius the king stood vp, and kissed him, wrote him letters vnto all the deputies and lieutenants, to all the lords and nobles, that they should conuey him forth, and all them that went vp with him, to build Hierusalem.

48 He wrote letters also vnto all the lieutenants that were in Coelosyria and Phenice, and vnto them in Libanus, that they should bring Cedar trees from Libanus vnto Hierusalem, and build the city with him.

49 Moreouer, he wrote for all the Iewes that were gone out of his ‖ realme into Iury concerning their freedome, that no officer, no ruler, no lieutenant, nor steward, should enter into their doores: ‖Or, kingdome.

50 And that all their land which they kept, should be free, and not tributarie: and that the Edomites should giue ouer the cities and villages of the Iewes which they had taken in:

51 Yea, and that there should be yerely giuen twenty talents to the building of the Temple, vntill the time that it were finished:

52 And to maintaine the whole burnt offerings vpon the altar euery day (as they had a commandement to offer seuenteene) other ten talents euery yeere.

53 And that all they which came from Babylon to build the citie, should haue free libertie, they and their children, and all the Priests that went away.

54 He wrote also concerning the charges, and the Priests garment wherein they minister, 55 And likewise for the charges of the Leuites, to be giuen them, vntill the day that the house were finished, and Hierusalem builded vp.

56 And hee commanded, that all they that watched the city, should haue their pensions and wages.

57 He sent away also all the vessels that Cyrus had separated from Babylon: and all that Cyrus had giuen in commandement, the same charged he also that it should be done, and sent vnto Hierusalem.

58 Now when this young man was gone forth, he lifted vp his face to heauen toward Hierusalem, and praised the king of heauen, 59 And sayd, Of thee commeth victorie, of thee commeth wisdome, and thine is the glorie, and I am thy seruant.

60 Blessed art thou which hast giuen me wisdome, for thee I acknowledge it, O Lord thou God of our fathers.

61 And so he tooke the letters, & went out, and came vnto Babylon, and told it all his brethren.

62 And they praised the God of their fathers, that he had giuen them freedome and libertie, 63 To go vp, and to build Hierusalem and the Temple, ‖ wherein the Name of the Lord is called vpon: and they reioyced with instruments of musicke and gladnesse seuen dayes long. ‖Or, where his name is renowmed.

of the same kinred was sought in the register of their generation, but it was not found, & therefore were they forbidden to execute the office of the priesthood.

40 For vnto them sayd Nehemias and Atharias, that they should haue no portion in the sanctuarie, till there rose vp an high Priest that were well instruct in the plaine cleerenesse and trueth.

41 So of Israel from them of twelue yeeres old, and children, they were all in number fortie and two thousand three hundred and threescore, besides men seruants and women seruants.

42 Their seruants and handmaidens, were seuen thousand three hundred fortie and seuen. The singing men and singing women, two hundred fortie and fiue, 43 Foure hundred thirty and fiue camels, seuen thousand thirty and sixe horses, two hundred fourty & fiue mules, fiue thousand fiue hundred twenty and fiue beasts bled to the yoke.

44 And of their rulers also after their families, when they came to the temple of God that is in Hierusalem, there were that vowed to set vp the house againe in his own place, according to their ability:

45 And to giue into the holy treasure of the works, a thousand pounds of golde, fiue thousand of siluer, & an hundred precious garments.

46 And so dwelt the Priests and the Leuites, and the people in Hierusalem, and in the countrey thereabout, the singers also and the porters, and all Israel in their villages.

47 But when the seuenth moneth came, and when the children of Israel were euery man in his owne, they came all together with one consent into the open place of the gate, which is towards the East.

48 And there Iesus the sonne of Iosedec, and his brethren the Priests, & Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and his brethren, rising vp, made ready the altar of the God of Israel, 49 To offer whole burnt sacrifices vpon it, so as it is written in the Law of Moses the man of God.

50 And thither were gathered against them, diuers of other nations of the land: but they dressed the altar in his owne place, although all the nations in the land were enemies to them, and vexed them: and they offred sacrifices to the Lord both morning and euening.

51 And also they held the feast of tabernacles as it is ‖ commanded in the Law, and sacrifices dayly as it was appertaining:

52 And after that also the continuall oblations, and the offerings of the Sabboths, and of the new moneths, and of all holy feasts.

53 And all they which had made any vow to God, beganne to offer sacrifice to God, from the first day of the seuenth moneth, although the Temple of the Lord was not yet built vp.

54 And they gaue vnto the masons and carpenters, money, meat and drinke, with cheerefulnesse.

55 Vnto them of Sidon also, and Tyre, they gaue carres, that they should bring Cedar trees from Libanus, which should be brought by flote to the hauen Ioppe, according as it was commanded them by Cyrus king of the Persians.

Eccl.49.15 56 And in the second yeere and * second moneth, came into the Temple of God at Hierusalem, Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Iesus the sonne of Iosedec, and their brethren, and the Priests and Leuites, and all they that were come vnto Hierusalem out of the captiuitie of Babylon.

57 And they layd the foundation of the house of God, in the ‖ new moone of the second moneth, in the second yeere that they were come to Iury and Hierusalem. ‖Or, in the first day.

58 And they appointed the Leuites, that were aboue twenty yeeres olde, ouer the works of the Lord. So Iesus and his sonne and brethren assisted, and Cadmiel also his brother, and the sonnes of Madiabon, with the sonnes of Ioda, the sonne of Eliadon, and his sonnes and brethren, euen all the Leuites with one accord followed on earnestly to aduance the works in the house of God: so the workmen built vp the temple of the Lord.

59 And the Priests stood, and had their garments, with musicall instruments, and trumpets, and the Leuites the sonnes of Asaph had Cymbals, 60 Giuing thanks and praise vnto the Lord, according as Dauid the king of Israel had ordeined.

61 And they sung with loud voices songs to the praise of the Lord, because his mercie and glory is for euer in Israel.

62 And all the people blew out with trumpets, and cried with a loud voice, praising the Lord together for the rearing vp of the house of the Lord.

63 There came also from among the Priests and Leuites, and of the chiefest, according to the tribes and kinreds, to wit, the elders, which had seene the former house,

64 To the building of this, with great crie and great mourning, many also with trumpets and great ioy cried with loud voice:

65 Insomuch that the trumpets might not well be heard for the weeping and mourning of the people: yet there was a great multitude that blew trumpets maruellously, so that it was heard farre off.

66 Wherefore, when the * enemies of the tribes of Iuda and Beniamin heard it, they came to know what that noise of trumpets should meane. 1.Esd.4.1.

67 And they perceiued that they which were come againe out of the captiuity, built the temple vp anew vnto the Lord God of Israel.

68 So they went to Zorobabel and Iesus, and to the rulers of the villages, and sayd vnto them, Shall we build with you also?

69 For wee likewise, as you, doe obey your Lord, and do sacrifice vnto him, from the dayes of Asbazareth the king of Assyria, which brought vs hither.

70 Then Zorobabel, and Iesus, and the rulers of the villages of Israel sayd vnto them, It doth not agree that ye should build the temple of our God with vs.

71 We our selues alone will build vnto the Lord of Israel, * as is meet, and like as Cyrus the king of the Persians hath commanded vs. 1.Esd.4.4.

72 But the Heathen in the land made them sluggish that were in Iury, and sundred them, and letted their buildings,

73 And by their ambushments, seditions, and conspiracies, stopped that the building could not be finished, all the time that king Cyrus liued, so that they put off the building for the space of two yeeres, vntill the reigne of king Darius.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Of Aggeus and Zacharias. 2 The building of the temple. 3 Sisinnes would let them. 7 His letters to Darius. 23 The kings answere to the contrary.

1.Esdr.5.1. NOtwithstanding, in the * second yeere of the reigne of Darius, Aggeus and Zacharias the sonne of Iddo the prophets, prophecied vnto the Iewes, and to them in Iury and Hierusalem, euen in the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

2 Then Zorobabel the sonne of Salathiel, and Jesus the sonne of Josedec stood vp, and beganne to build the house of the Lord at Hierusalem, when the Prophets of the Lord were with them, and helped them.

3 At the same time came Sisinnes the gouernor of Syria and Phenice, with Sathrabuzanes and his companions, and said vnto them,

4 Who hath bidden and commaunded you to build this house, to make this roofe, and al other things againe? and who are the ‖ workemen that build them?

‖Or, builders that did these things.

5 Neuertheless, the elders of the Iewes had such grace of the Lord, after hee had visited the captiuitie,

6 That they were not letted from building, vntill the time that king Darius was certified thereof, and an answere receiued from him.

7 The copie of the letters which hee wrote, and sent vnto Darius. Sisinnes gouernour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, which are head rulers in Syria and Phenice, send their salutation vnto Darius the king.

8 Wee certifie our lord the king, that wee came into the land of Iurie, and went to Hierusalem, where we found the ancients of the Iewes, that were of the captiuitie, in the citie of Hierusalem, 9 Building an house vnto the Lord, great and new, of hewen and costly stones, and the timber already layd vpon the walles.

10 Yea, they make great haste with the work, and it goeth forth prosperously in their hands, and with great diligence and worship it is made.

11 Then asked wee the elders, saying, By whose commandement build you vp this house, and lay the foundations of these works?

12 Which we demanded of them, to the intent that we might giue knowledge vnto thee, and write vnto thee of those that gouerned it: and we required of them their names in writing that were their chiefe leaders to it.

13 So they gaue vs this answere, We are the seruants of the Lord, which made heauen and earth.

3.King.6.2. 14 *And as for this house, it was builded manie yeeres agone, by a king of Israel, great and strong, and was finished.

15 But when our fathers prouoked God vnto wrath, and sinned against the Lord of Israel, which is in heauen, he *gaue them ouer into the power of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, of the Chaldees:

4.Kin.24.1

Iere.7.9. 16 *Which brake downe the house, and burnt it, and carried away the people prisoners vnto Babylon.

1.Esd.5.13 17 Neuertheless, in the * first yeere that king Cyrus reigned ouer the countreys of Babylon, Cyrus the king wrote and commaunded to build vp this house againe.

18 And the holy vessels of golde, and of siluer, that Nabuchodonosor had caried away out of the house at Hierusalem, and had dedicated them in his owne temple: those brought Cyrus forth againe out of the temple at Babylon, and deliuered them to Zorobabel, and to Sanaballarus the ruler:

19 Commanding him that he should carie away those same vessels, and put them in the temple at Hierusalem, and that the temple of the Lord should be built in his owne place.

20 Then the same Sanaballarus being come hither, layed the foundations of the house of the Lord at Jerusalem, and from that to this, being still a building, it is not yet fully ended.

21 Now therefore, O king, if thou thinkest it good, let it be sought in the librairies and rolles of king Cyrus:

1.Esd.6.13 22 And if it be found then, that the building of the house of the Lord at Hierusalem hath beene done with the counsel and consent of king Cyrus, and if the lorde our king be so minded, let him giue answere vnto vs thereof.

23 Then commanded king Darius to seeke in the kings librairies at Babylon: and so at Ecbatane, a tower in the region of Media, there was found a place where these things were layed vp for ‖ memory.

‖Or, remembrance. 1.Esd.6.3.

24 *In the first yeere of the reigne of Cyrus, the same king Cyrus commanded that the house of the Lord at Hierusalem should be builded againe, where they do sacrifice with the continuall fire.

25 Whose height shalbe sixtie cubits, and the bredth sixtie cubits, with three rowes of hewen stones, and one rowe of new wood, and of that countrey, and the expences thereof to be giuen out of the house of king Cyrus:

26 And the holy vessels of the house of the Lord, both of golde & of siluer, that Nabuchodonosor tooke out of the house at Hierusalem, and brought to Babylon, should be restored to the house at Hierusalem, & be set in the place where it was before.

27 And also he commanded that Sisinnes the gouernour of Syria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, and other constituted rulers in Syria & Phenice, should take heed not to meddle with that place, but to suffer Zorobabel the seruant of the Lord, and gouernour of Juda, and the elders of the Iewes, to build the house of the Lord in that place.

28 I haue commanded also to haue it built vp whole againe, & that they be diligent to helpe those that be of the captiuity of the Iewes, till the house of the Lord be finished.

29 And out of the tribute of Coelosyria and Phenice, a portion diligently to be giuen those men vnto the offrings of the Lord, and the same to be deliuered vnto Zorobabel the officer, that he therewithall may offeine oxen, rammes, and lambes:

30 And also corne, salt, wine, and oile, and that continually euery yeere, after the expenses which the priests that be at Hierusalem shall restitie to be made dayly, this shalbe giuen vnto them without delay:

31 That they may offer sacrifices daily to the highest God, for the king and for his children, and to pray for their liues.

32 And he commanded also that whosoeuer should breake any point of the aforesaid and foredecreed things, or make it void: of his owne goods should a tree be taken, and he thereon be hanged, and all his goods seised vnto the king.

33 The Lord therefore whose Name is there called vpon, root out and destroy euery king and nation that stretcheth out his hand to hinder or hurt and indammage that house of the Lord in Hierusalem.

34 I Darius the king haue ordeined, that according to these things it bee done with diligence.

The vij. Chapter.

1 Sisinnes & his companions follow the kings commandement, and helpe the Iewes to build the temple. 5 The time that it was built. 10 They keepe the Passeouer.

1.Esd.6.13 THen * Sisinnes the gouernour in Coelosyria and Phenice, and Sathrabuzanes, with their companions, obeyed the things that king Darius had ordeined,

2 And were diligent assisters in the holie works, working with the ancients and gouernours of the Sanctuary.

3 And so the holy works went forth and prospered, when Aggeus and Zacharias the Prophets prophecied.

4 And they performed all things through the commandement of the Lord God of Israel, and with consent of Cyrus, Darius, and Artaxerxes, kings of Persia.

5 And thus was the holy house finished in the three & twentieth day of the moneth Adar, in the sixt yere of Darius, king of the Persians.

6 And the children of Israel, the Priests and the Leuites, and other that were of the captiuitie, that had any charge, did according to the things written in the booke of Moses.

7 And to the dedication of the Temple of the Lord, they offered an hundred ‖ oxen, two hundred rammes, foure hundred lambes, ‖Or, bulles.

8 And twelue goats, for the sinnes of all the people of Israel, after the number of the chiefe of the tribes of Israel.

9 The Priests also and the Leuites stood arayed in their long robes, after their kinreds, in all the workes of the Lord God of Israel, according to the booke of Moses, and the porters at euery doore.

10 And the children of Israel, with those that were come out of captiuitie, held the Passeouer the foureteenth day of the first moneth, after that the priests and the Leuites were sanctified.

11 They that were of the captiuity, were not all sanctified together: but the Leuites were all sanctified together.

12 And so they offered the Passeouer for all them of the captiuitie, and for their brethren the Priests, and for themselues.

13 And the children of Israel that came out of captiuitie, did eat, all they that had separated themselues from the abominations of the people of that land, and sought the Lord:

14 And they kept the feast of the vnleauened bread seuen dayes long, making mery before the Lord:

15 That the Lord had turned the counsell of the king of Assyria towards them, to strengthen their hands vnto the works of the Lord God of Israel.

The viij. Chapter.

1 Esdras commeth from Babylon to Hierusalem. 10 The copie of the commission giuen by king Artaxerxes. 26 Esdras giueth thanks to the Lord.

AND after these, when Artaxerres the king of the Persians reigned, there went vnto him Esdras the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of Ezerias, the sonne of Helchiah, the sonne of Salum,

2 The sonne of Sadoc, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Amarias, the sonne of Ezias, the sonne of Mennerath, the sonne of Saraias, the sonne of Sanias, the sonne of Boccas, the sonne of Abisum, the sonne of Phinees, the sonne of Eleazar, the sonne of Aaron the first Priest.

3 This Esdras went vp from Babylon, being a Scribe of good vnderstanding in the Law of Moses, that was giuen by the Lord God of Israel.

4 And the king fauoured him, and did him great worship and honour ‖ after all his desires. ‖Or, in all his sutes.

5 There went vp with him also certaine of the children of Israel, of the Priests, of the Leuites, of the Singers, Porters, and Ministers of the Temple vnto Hierusalem.

6 In the seuenth yeere of the reigne of king Artaxerres, in the fifth moneth, which was the seuenth yeere (for they went from Babylon in the first day of the first moneth,

7 And came to Hierusalem according as God gaue them speed in their iourney.)

8 For Esdras had gotten great knowledge to omit nothing of that was in the law and the commandements of the Lord, and to teach all Israel all the ‖ ordinances and iudgements. ‖Or, righteousnesse.

9 The copy of the commission which Artaxerres the king wrote, and that was giuen to Esdras the Priest & Reader of the law of the Lord, this is it that followeth.

10 King Artaxerres sendeth his greeting vnto Esdras the Priest and Reader of the Law of the Lord.

11 I hauing weighed things with pity, haue ordeined & charged, if there be any of the Iewes, of the priests and Leuites in my ‖ realme, which desireth and is content to go with thee vnto Israel, that he may do it. ‖Or, kingdome.

12 Therefore so many as long thereafter, let them depart together, and go with thee, like as I am content and my seuen friends my counsellers,

13 To see what they do at Hierusalem and in Jurie, conueniently, according as thou hast in the law of the Lord:

14 And to bring the gifts vnto God the Lord of Israel, that I and my friends haue ‖ promised to Hierusalem, and all the siluer and golde that in the countrey of Babylon may be found perteining to the Lord in Hierusalem, ‖Or, vowed that the same siluer and golde may be gathered for oxen, rammes, sheepe, and goats, and other that belong to these things, 16 That they may offer sacrifices vnto the Lord, vpon the altar of the Lord their God which is at Hierusalem.

15 With the thing that is giuen of the people to the Lord their Gods Temple at Hierusalem:

17 And whatsoeuer thou and thy brethren will doe with the siluer and gold, that doe according to the will of thy God.

18 And the holy vessels of the Lord which are giuen thee for the seruice of the Temple of thy God which is in Hierusalem, thou shalt set them before thy God in Hierusalem.

19 And whatsoeuer thing els thou shalt remember for the vse of the Temple of thy God, thou shalt giue it out of the kings treasure.

20 And I king Artaxerxes haue also cõmanded the keepers of the treasures in Syria and Phenice, that whatsoeuer Esdras the priest and the Reader of the law of the highest God shall send for, they should giue it him with speed:

21 Euen to the summe of an hundred talents of siluer: of corne also an hundred ‖ measures, ‖Or,cores, ‖Or,pieces. and till an hundred ‖ vessels of wine, and other things abundantly.

22 Let all things be done after the Lawe of God diligently, vnto the highest God, that wrath come not vpon the kingdome of the king and of his sonnes.

23 I command you also, that yee require no tare nor tribute of the Priests, Leuites, holy singers, porters, and ministers of the temple, nor of any that haue doings in this Temple, and that no man haue authority to put any impost vpon them.

24 As for thee, O Esdras, set thou iudges and arbiters to iudge in the whole land of Syria and Phenice after the wisedome of God, all skilfull in the Law of God, and teach such as are ignorant.

25 And let all them which shal offend against the law of God and the king, be diligently punished, whether it be by death or other paine, by punishing in money, or els by banishment.

26 Then sayd Esdras the Scribe, Blessed be the onely Lord God of my fathers, that hath giuen so good a minde and will into the heart of the king, to magnifie his house that is at Hierusalem,

‖Or,honored me. 27 And hath ‖ made mee to be accepted in the sight of the king, and of his counsell, of his friends, and of his nobles.

‖Or, of a good courage. 28 And so I was ‖ stedfast in my minde, according as the Lord my God helped me, and I gathered by men of Israel to go by with me.

1.Esd.8,1. 29 *And these are the guides, after their families and orders of dignities, that went vp with me from Babylon in the reigne of Artaxerxes.

30 Of the sonnes of Phinehes, Gersom: of the sonnes of Ithamar, Gamaliel: of the sonnes of Dauid, Hattus the sonne of Cecheniah:

31 Of the sonnes of Pharez, Zacharias, and with him there returned again an hundred and fiftie men.

32 Of the sonnes of Pahath Moab, Elioenai the sonne of Zacharias, and with him two hundred men.

33 Of the sonnes of Zathoe, Sechenias the sonne of Jezolus, and with him three hundred men: and of the sonnes of Adin, Obed the sonne of Jonathan, and with him two hundred and fiftie men.

34 Of the sonnes of Elam, Jesias sonne of Gotholias, and with him seuenty men.

35 Of the sonnes of Saphatias, Zarias son of Machael, and with him threescore and tenne men.

36 Of the sonnes of Joab, Badias sonne of Jezelus, and with him two hundred & twelue men.

37 Of the sonnes of Banid, Assalimoth sonne of Josaphias, and with him an hundred & three score men.

38 Of the sonnes of Babi, Zacharias sonne of Bebai, and with him twenty and eight men.

39 Of the sonnes of Astath, Johannes sonne of Acatan, and with him an hundred and ten.

40 Of the sonnes of Adonicam the last: and these are the names of them, Eliphalet, Jeuel, and Maias, and with them seuentie men.

41 Of the sonnes of Bagouthi sonne of Iscacourus, and with him seuentie men.

42 All these called I together by the water Thia, where we pitched our tents three dayes, and there I mustred them.

43 *As for the sonnes of the Priests and Leuites, I found none there. 1.Esd.18, 15.

44 Then sent I vnto Eleazar, and beholde, there came Maasman, and Maloban,

45 And Alnathan, and Samaian, and Jarib, and Nathan, Ennatan, Zacharian & Mosollamon the chiefe and best learned:

46 And I bade them that they should go vnto Daddeus the captaine, which was in the place of the treasurie:

47 And commanded them that they should speake vnto Daddeus, and to his brethren, and to those that were the treasurers, to send vs such men as might execute the Priests office in the house of our Lord.

48 And with the mightie hand of our Lord God, they brought vnto vs men of good ‖ experience, from among the sonnes of Moli, the sonne of Leui, the sonne of Israel, Seredia, and his sonnes, and his brethren, which were eighteene. ‖Or,learning.

49 And Asebia, and Amon, and Osaian his brethren, of the sonnes of Canaineus, their sonnes were twentie men.

50 And of them that serued in the Temple, whom Dauid had ordeined, and the principall men to the worke of the Leuites, that were ministers in the temple, two hundred and twentie, whose names are all signed by in writing.

51 And then *commanded I a fasting vnto the yong men before the Lord, that I might desire of him a prosperous iourney, and a good way, both for vs and them that were with vs, for our children, and for the cattell. 1.Esd.8.21.

52 For I feared to desire of the king men of horse and of foot, to conuey vs safely against our enemies.

53 For wee had sayd vnto the king, that the power of the Lord our God should be with them that seeke him, to direct them in all things.

54 And therfore we besought our Lord againe, as touching these things, and found him fauourable vnto vs.

55 Then I separated from among the chiefe of the tribes, and from the Priestes, twelue men, to wit, Elebzias, and Alanias, and ten men of their brethren with them.

56 And I weighed them the gold, and the siluer, & the holy vessels of the house of our Lord, which the king and his counsaile, and his princes, and whole Israel had giuen.

57 And when I had weighed it, I deliuered vnto them fiue hundred and fifty talents of siluer, and an hundreth talents in siluer vessels, and an hundred talents of gold, 58 And twentie golden basons, and twelue vessels of braſſe, euen fine braſſe, like shining golde.

59 And I sayd vnto them, Yee are holy vnto the Lord, and the vessels are holy, and the gold and the siluer is ‖ promised vnto the Lord God of our fathers.

‖Or, vowed

‖Or, watch.

60 ‖ Be diligent now, and keepe it vntill the time that ye deliuer it to the chiefe of the Priests and Leuites, and to the principall men of the families of Israel in Ierusalem, in the chambers of the house of our God.

61 So the Priests and the Leuites which receiued of me the gold, the siluer, and the vessels brought it vnto Hierusalem vnto the temple.

1.Esd.8,31

62 And from the * riuer Thia we brake vp the twelfth day of the first moneth, according to the mighty hand of our Lord which was with vs: and from the beginning of our iourney, the Lord deliuered vs from euery enemie, so that we came vnto Hierusalem.

63 And when the third day was past, the weighed gold and siluer was deliuered in the house of the Lord, on the fourth day, vnto Marimoth the Priest, and sonne of Iozi:

64 And with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinees, and with them were Iolabdus the sonne of Iesu, and Moeth the sonne of Sabbanus, Leuites: all was deliuered them by number and weight.

65 And all the weight of them was written vp the same houre.

66 After that, they that were come out of captiuitie, offred sacrifice vnto the Lord God of Israel, euen twelue oxen for all Israel, fourescore and sirteene rammes, 67 Threescore & twelue sheepe, twelue goats for saluation, all in sacrifice to the Lord.

68 And the kings commission deliuered they vnto the kings stewards, and to the gouernours of Coelosyria and Phenice, who honoured the people and the temple of God.

69 Now when these things were done, the rulers came vnto me, and sayd,

1.Esd,1.9.

70 The * nation of Israel, the princes, the Priests and Leuites, haue not put away from them the strange people of the land, nor the vncleannesse of the Gentiles: to wit, of the Chanaanites, Hethites, Pherezites, Iebulites, and the Moabites, Egyptians, and Edomites:

71 For both they and their sonnes haue mingled themselues with the daughters of them, and the holy seede is mixt with the strange people of the land: and since the beginning of the affaires, the rulers and head men haue bene partakers of this wickednesse.

72 And as soone as I had heard these things, immediately I rent my clothes and the holy garment, and pulled off the haire of my head and my beard, and sate me downe sorowful and heauie.

73 So all they that were moued through the word of the Lord God of Israel, came vnto me whilest I wept for the iniquitie: but I sate still full of heauinesse vntill the euening sacrifice.

74 Then stood I vp from fasting, hauing rent clothes, and the holy garment, & kneeled downe vpon my knees, and helde out my hands vnto the Lord,

75 And sayd, O Lord, * I am confounded and ashamed before thy face. 1.Esd.1.8,

76 For our sinnes are become many, euen aboue our heads, and our ignorances are lifted vp, euen vnto heauen:

77 For since the time of our fathers, we are in great sinne vnto this day,

78 And for the * sinnes of vs, and our fathers, we, with our brethren, and with our kings, and with our Priestes, haue beene giuen vp vnto the kings of the earth, into the sword, and into captiuitie, and became a spoile with confusion and shame vnto this day. Deu.28,13

79 And now, O Lord God, how we great is the mercy that we haue gotten of thee, in that thou hast left vs a roote and a name in the place of thy Sanctuarie,

80 And that thou hast discouered to vs a light in the house of the Lord our God, and hast giuen vs meate in the time of our seruitude:

81 And when we were in captiuity, we were not forsaken of the Lord our God: but he made the kings of Persia gracious and fauourable vnto vs, so that they gaue vs victuals and meare, 82 Yea, and honoured the temple of our Lord, and repaired the wasted places of Sion, & gaue vs assurance in Iurie and Hierusalem.

83 And now, O Lord, what shall we say, hauing all these things in possession? for wee haue broken thy commandements, which thou gauest vnto vs by the hands of thy seruants the prophets, saying,

84 * Because the land which ye goe to possesse as an heritage, is a land defiled with the vncleannesse and filthinesse of the strangers of the land, and with their abomination they haue polluted it altogether: Deut.7.1.

85 Therefore now shall yee not ioine their daughters vnto your sonnes, neither marry your daughters vnto their sonnes.

86 Moreouer, ye shall neuer seeke to make peace with them, that ye may ‖ increase and eate the best in the land, and that ye may leaue the inheritance of the land vnto your children for euermore.

‖Or, waxe strong, and eate the goodthings of the land,

87 As for the things that are come to passe, they come all for our wicked workes and great sinnes: for thou, O Lord, hast made our sinnes light,

88 And giuen vs such a roote: but we haue turned backe againe, so that we haue broken thy lawe, and mingled our selues with the vncleannesse of the outlandish heathen.

89 Mightest not thou be angry with vs to destroy vs, so that thou shouldest leaue vs neither roote, seede, nor name?

90 O Lord God of Israel, thou art true: for our roote endureth yet vnto this present day.

91 And behold, now are we before thee in our sinnes, neither can we stand before thee for them.

92 * And when Esdras with his prayer had knowledged the sinne, weeping, and lying flat 1.Esd.10,1.

vpon the ground before the temple, there gathered vnto him from Hierusalem, a great multitude of men & women, yong men and maidens: for there was a very great weeping and mourning among the multitude.

93 Then Iechonias the sonne of Jeheli, one of the children of Israel, cried out, and sayd, O Esdras, wee haue sinned against the Lord God, because we haue married strange women of the nations of the land.

94 And nowe all Israel hangeth in doubt: Wee will sweare an oathe therefore vnto the Lorde, that wee shall put away all our wiues which wee haue taken of the ‖ heathen, with their children:

‖Or, strangers.

95 Like as it may seeme good to thee, and to all those that obey the law of the Lord.

96 Stand vp, and put it in execution: for to thee doeth this matter appertaine, and wee are with thee to adde thee strength.

97 So Esdras arose, and tooke an othe of the chiefe of the Priests and Leuites of all Israel, to doe after these things: and they sware.

The ix. Chapter.

7 After Esdras had read the law for the strange wiues,
18 they promised to put them away.

1.Esd.10,6. THen Esdras *rising from the court of the temple, went to the chamber of Joannan, the sonne of Eliasib,

2 And remained there, and did eate no meate, nor drinke ‖ drinke, weeping for the great wickednesse of the people.

‖Or, water.

3 And there was made a Proclamation in all Jurie, and at Hierusalem, for all them that were of the captiuitie, that they should gather together at Hierusalem,

4 And that whosoeuer met not there within two or three dayes, according as the elders that bare rule appointed, their cattel should be selled to the vse of the Temple, and hee be excluded from them that were of the captiuitie.

5 And in three dayes were all they of the tribe of Juda and Beniamin gathered together at Hierusalem, the twentieth day of the ninth moneth.

6 And the whole multitude sate trembling in the ‖ court of the temple, for it was winter.

7 So Esdras arose vp, and sayd vnto them, Ye haue done vnrighteously, in that ye haue taken ‖ outlandish wiues to marriage, and so to increase the sinnes of Israel.

8 And now knowledge the same, and giue praise vnto the Lord God of our fathers:

9 And performe his will, departing from the heathen of the land, and from the ‖ outlandish wiues.

‖Or, strange

10 Then cried the whole multitude, and said with a loud voice, Like as thou hast spoken, so will we doe.

11 But forasmuch as the people are manie, and winter season, so that wee may not stand without the house, and because this worke is not a thing that can bee finished in a day or two, seeing wee be many that haue sinned in these things:

12 Ordeine therefore that the rulers of the multitude, and they of our families that haue strange wiues, tarie.

13 And let the Priestes and Judges come out of euery place in their time appointed, till they swage the wrath of the Lord in this businesse.

14 Then Jonathas the sonne of Azaiel, and Ezechias the sonne of Thecan, receiued the charge of this matter: and Mosollam, & Leuis, and Sabatheus helped thereto.

15 And they that were of the captiuitie, did according to all these things.

16 And Esdras the Priest chose vnto him the principall men from among the fathers, and them all by name: and in the first day of the tenth moneth, they sate together, to examine this matter.

17 And so the matter was a determining concerning the men that had maried strange wiues, vntill the new Moone of the first moneth.

18 And of the Priestes that had mixt themselues with ‖ outlandish wiues, there were found,

‖Or, strange

19 Of the sonnes of Jesu the sonne of Josedec, and his brethren, Mathelas, Eleazar, Joribus, and Joadanus:

20 Which offered themselues to put away their wiues, and to offer a ramme vnto reconcilement for their purgation.

21 And of the sonnes of Emmer, Ananias, and Zabdeus, and Canes, and Samaius, and Hiereel, and Azarias.

22 And of the sonnes of Phaisu, Elionas, Massias, Ismaelus, and Nathanael, and Oldelus, and Talsas.

23 And of the Leuites, Jozabadus, and Semis, and Colius, who was called Calitas, and Patheus, and Oudas, and Jonas.

24 Of the holy singers, Eleazarus, Bacchurus.

25 Of the porters, Sallumus, & Tolbantes.

26 Of them of Israel, of the sonnes of Phorus, Hiermas, and Eddias, and Melchias, and Maelus, and Eleazar, & Aibias, and Banaias.

27 Of the sonnes of Ela, Mathanias, Zacharias, and Hierelias, and Hieremoth, and Aedias.

28 And of the sonnes of Zamoth, Eliadas, Elisimus, Othonias, Jarimoth, and Sabatus, and Sardeus.

29 Of the sonnes of Bebai, Joannes, and Ananias, and Joisabad, and Amatheas.

30 Of the sonnes of Mani, Olamus, Mamuchus, Jedaias, Jasubus, Jasael, and Jeremoth.

31 And of the sonnes of Addi, Naathus, Moosias, Caleus, and Naidus, and Mathanias, and Sesthel, and Balnuus, and Manasseas.

32 And of the sonnes of Annas, Elionas, and Aseas, and Melchias, and Sabbeus, & Simon a Chosamite.

33 And of the sonnes of Asom, Altaneus, and Matthias, and Banaias, Eliphalet, and Manasses, and Semei.

34 And of the sonnes of Maani, Jeremias, Momdis, Omairus, Jnel, Mamai, and Paclias, and Amos, Carabalion, and Ealibius, and Manimatanaius, Eliasis, Uamus, Eliali, Samis, Selemias, Nathanias: and of the sons of Ozoras, Sesis, Esril, Ezasius, Samatas, Sambis, Josiphus.

35 And of the sonnes of Ethna, Mazitias, Zabadias, Ethes, Jnel, Banaias.

37 And the Priests and Leuites, and all they that were of Israel, dwelt at Hierusalem, and throughout all the land, in the ‖ newe Moone of the seuenth moneth: and the children of Israel were in their ‖ dwellings.

‖ Or, first day.
‖ Or, owne houses.

38 And the * whole multitude came together with one accord, into the wide place before the East gate of the Temple. 2.Esdr.9.1.

39 And they spake vnto Esdras the high priest and reader, that hee would bring the Lawe of Moses, which had bene giuen of the Lord God of Israel.

40 So Esdras the high Priest brought the Lawe vnto the whole multitude, to man, and woman, and to all the Priestes, that they might heare the Lawe in the ‖ newe Moone of the seuenth moneth.

‖ Or, beginning.

41 And he read in the first wide place that is before the port of the Temple, from the morning early vnto midday, before men and women: and they applied their minde all vnto the Law.

42 And Esdras the Priest, and reader of the Lawe, stood vp vpon a pulpit of wood, which was made therefore.

43 And vpon his right hande, there stoode by him Mathathias, Samus, Ananias, Azarias, Urias, Ezechias, and Balasan:

45 Then tooke Esdras the booke of the Law before the whole multitude (for he was the principall, and had in most honour of them all.)

46 And when hee expounded the Lawe, they stood all straight vpon their feete. So Esdras ‖ praised the Lord the most high God, the Almighty God of hostes.

‖ Or, blessed.

47 And all the people answered, Amen.

48 And Jesus, Anus, Sarabias, Adinas, Jacobus, Battaias, Autamas, Maianias, Calitas, Azarias, Johalabdus, Ananias, and Biatas the Leuites, lift vp their handes, and fell downe on the ground, and worshipped the Lord.

49 And taught the Lawe of the Lord, a were earnestly occupied together in ꝑ reading therof.

50 Then spake Atharates vnto Esdras the high Priest and reader, and to the Leuites that taught the multitude, saying, 51 This day is holy vnto the Lord: and all when they heard the Law, wept.

52 So Esdras said, * Depart your way therefore, and eat the fat meats, and drinke the sweet drinkes, and sende gifts vnto them that haue nothing. 2.Esd.8.10.

53 For this day is holy vnto the Lord, and be not yee sory: for the Lord will bring you to honour.

54 So the Leuites ‖ published al these things to the people, saying, This day is holy to the Lord, be not sory.

‖ Or, commanded.

55 Then went they their way euery one to eate and drinke, and were merry, and sent presents to them that had nothing, and made very good cheare.

56 For they were as yet ‖ filled with the words that had bene taught them, and for the which they had bene assembled.

10 So that by the flood, that was wrought in each of them, that was by death in Adam.

11 Neuertheless, one of them thou leftest, namely, Noah with his houshold, of whom came all righteous men.

‖Or, came to passe. 12 And it ‖ happened, that when they that dwelt vpon the earth beganne to multiply, and had gotten them many children, and were a great people, they beganne to be more vngodly then the first.

Gen.12,15 13 Now when they liued so wickedly before thee, thou didst * chuse thee a man from among them, whose name was Abraham.

14 Him thou louedst, and vnto him only thou shewedst thy will:

15 And madest an euerlasting couenant with him, promising him that thou wouldest neuer forsake his seed.

Gen.21.2, 16 And vnto him thou gauest * Isahac, vnto Isahac also thou gauest Iacob and Esau. As for Iacob, thou diddest chuse him to thee, and Gen.25.25. * put backe Esau: and so Iacob became a great multitude.

17 And it came to passe, that when thou leddest his seede out of Egypt, thou *broughtest them vp to the mount Sina,

Deut.4.10. ‖Or, abasing. ‖Or, astonishing. 18 Bowing downe the heauens, ‖ setting fast the earth, mouing the ground, making the depths to shake, and ‖ troubling the world.

‖Or, gates. 19 And thy glory went thorow foure ‖ ports of fire, and earthquakes, and windes, and colde, that thou mightest giue the Law vnto the seede of Iacob, and ‖ diligence vnto the generation of Israel.

‖Or, and that which the generation of Israel should keepe with diligence, Gen.3.6. 20 And yet tookest thou not away from them that wicked heart, that thy Lawe might bring forth fruit in them.

21 For the first Adam bearing a wicked *heart, transgressed, and was ouercome: and so bee all they that are borne of him.

22 Thus remained weakenesse still: and the Lawe in the hearts of the people, with the wickednesse of the roote, so that the good departed away, and the euil abode still.

23 So the times passed away, and the yeeres were brought to an end: then diddest thou *raise

1.Reg.16. 13.2.reg.5. 2. thee vp a seruant, called Dauid,

24 Whom thou commandedst to build a citie vnto thy Name, and to offer vp incense and sacrifice vnto thee therein.

25 When this was done nowe many yeeres, then the inhabiters of the citie forsooke thee,

26 And in all things did euen as Adam and all his generations had done: for they also had a wicked heart.

27 And so thou gauest the citie ouer into the hands of thine enemies.

28 But doe they of Babylon then any thing better, that they should therefore haue the dominion in Sion?

29 For when I came thither, and sawe there so great wickednesse that it coulde not be numbred, then my soule sawe many euil doers in this thirtieth yeere, so that my heart failed me:

30 For I sawe how thou sufferedst them in such vngodlines, and sparedst the wicked doers, but thine owne people hast thou rooted out, and preserued thine enemies, and this hast thou not shewed ‖ me.

‖Or, it. ‖Or, commeth to passe, 31 I cannot perceiue how this ‖ happeneth. Doe they of Babylon then better then they of Sion?

Ierem.10, 25. 32 Or is there *any other people that knoweth thee, sauing the people of Israel? or what generation hath so beleeued thy ‖ Couenants, as Iacob?

‖Or, testimonies. 33 And yet their reward appeareth not, and their labour hath no fruit: for I haue gone here and there through the heathen, and I see that they be ‖ rich and wealthy, and thinke not vpon thy Commandements.

‖Or, flowe in wealth. 34 Weigh thou therefore our wickednesse now in the balance, and theirs also that dwel in the world: and so shall thy Name bee no where found, but in Israel.

35 Or when was it that they which dwell vpon earth, haue not sinned in thy sight? or what people hath so kept thy Commaundements?

36 Thou shalt finde that Israel by name hath kept thy precepts: but not the other people and heathen.

The iiij. Chapter.

The Angel reproueth Esdras, because he seemeth to enter into the profound iudgements of God.

AND the Angel that was sent vnto me, whose name was Uriel, gaue me an answere,

2 And said, Thy heart hath taken too much vpon it in this world, and thou thinkest to comprehende the way of the highest.

3 Then saide I, Yea, my Lord. And hee answered mee, and sayd, I am sent to shewe thee three wayes, and to set forth three similitudes before thee:

4 Whereof, if thou canst declare mee one, I will shew thee also the way that thou desirest to see: and I shall shew thee from whence the wicked heart commeth.

5 And I sayd, Tell on, my Lord. Then said he vnto me, Go thy way, weigh me the weight of the fire, or measure me the blast of the winde, or call me againe the day that is past.

6 Then answered I, and said, What man borne is able to do that, that thou shouldest aske such things of me?

7 And he said vnto me, If I should aske thee how deepe dwellings are in the midst of the sea, or how great water springs are in the beginning of the deepe, or how great water springs are vpon the stretching out of the heauens, or which are the ‖ outgoings of paradise:

‖Or, borders. 8 Peraduenture thou wouldest say vnto me, I neuer went downe yet into the deepe, nor hell, neither did I euer clime vp into heauen.

9 Neuertheless, now haue I asked thee but onely of fire and winde, and of the day whereby through thou hast traueiled, and from the which thou canst not be seperated, and yet canst thou giue me no answere of them.

10 He said moreouer vnto mee, Thine owne things, and such as are growen vp with thee, canst thou not know:

11 How should thy vessel then be able to comprehend the way of the highest, and nowe outwardly in the corrupt world to vnderstand the corruption that is euident in my sight?

12 Then saide I vnto him, It were better that we were not at all, then that we should liue in wickednesse, and to suffer, and not to knowe wherefore.

Iudg.9.8. 2.chro.25. 18. 13 He answered me, and said, I *came to a forest in a plaine, and the trees tooke such a deuice, 14 And said, Come, let vs goe, & fight against the sea, that it may depart away before vs, and that we may make yet more woods.

15 The floods of the sea also in like maner tooke counsel, and said, Come, let vs goe vp, and fight against the trees of the wood, that there we may make vs another countrey.

16 The thought and deuice of the wood was but vaine and nothing worth, for the fire came and consumed it.

17 The thought of the floods of the sea came likewise to nought also: for the sand flood vp and stopped them.

18 If thou were iudge nowe betwirt these two, whom wouldest thou iustifie, or whom wouldest thou condemne?

19 I answered and said, Verily it is a foolish thought that they both haue deuised: for the ground is giuen vnto the wood, and the sea also hath his place to beare his floods.

20 Then answered he mee, and saide, Thou hast giuen a right iudgement: but why iudgest thou not thy selfe also?

Esai.55.8. iohn 3.32. 1.cor.2.13. 21 For like as the ground is giuen vnto the wood, and the sea to his floods: *euen so they that dwel vpon earth, may vnderstand nothing but that which is vpon earth: and he that dwelleth aboue the heauens, may onely vnderstand the things that are aboue the heauens.

22 Then answered I, and saide, I beseech thee, O Lord, let me haue vnderstanding:

‖Or, to enquire. 23 For it was not my minde ‖ to bee curious of thy high things, but of such as wee dayly meddle withall, namely, as wherefore Israel is giuen vp as a reproche to the heathen, and for what cause the people whom thou hast loued, is giuen ouer vnto vngodly nations, and why the Lawe of our forefathers is brought to nought,

‖Or, ordinances. and the written ‖ couenants come to none effect:

24 And we passe away out of the world as the grashoppers, and our life is a very feare, and we are not worthy to obtaine mercy.

25 What will hee then doe vnto his Name which is called vpon ouer vs? Of these things haue I asked question.

26 Then answered he me, and said, The more thou searchest, the more thou shalt marueile: for the world hasteth fast to passe away, 27 And cannot comprehend the things that are promised to the righteous in time to come: for this worlde is full of vnrighteousnesse and weaknes.

28 But as concerning the things whereof thou askest me, I wil tel thee: The euil is sowen, but the destruction thereof is not yet come.

29 If the euill nowe that is sowen be not turned vpside downe, and if the place where the euil is sowen passe not away: then cannot the thing come that is sowen with good.

30 For the corne of euil seed hath bene sowen in the heart of Adam from the beginning: and how much vngodlinesse hath he brought vp vnto this time? and how much shall hee yet bring forth vntil the come into the barne?

31 Ponder nowe by thy selfe how great fruite of wickednesse the corne of euill seede bringeth forth.

32 And when the stalkes shall be cut downe, which are without number, how great a barne shall it fill?

33 Then I answered and saide, How, and when shal these things come to passe? wherefore are our yeeres few and euil?

34 And hee answered mee, saying, Haste not thou too much aboue the most highest: for thy haltinesse to be aboue him, is but vaine, though thou doe all that thou canst for it.

35 Did not the soules also of the righteous aske question of these things in their chambers, saying, How long shall I hope on this fashion? when commeth the fruit of my barne, and our reward?

36 And vpon this, Jeremiel the archangel gaue them answere, and saide, Euen when the number of the seeds is filled in you, for hee hath weighed the world in the balance.

37 In measure and number hath hee measured the times, and moueth it not, nor shaketh it, vntil the said measure be fulfilled.

38 Then answered I, and saide, O Lord, Lord, now are we all full of sinne:

39 And for our sake peraduenture it is that the barne of the righteous is not fulfilled, because of the sinnes of them that dwell vpon the earth.

40 So he answered me, and said, Go thy way to a woman with childe, and aske of her, when she hath fulfilled her nine moneths, if her womb may keepe the birth any longer within her?

41 Then saide I, No, Lord, that can she not. And he said vnto mee, In the graue, the secret places of souls are like the wombe of a woman:

42 For like as a woman that trauaileth, maketh haste to escape the necessity of the trauel: euen so doe these places haste to deliuer those things that are committed vnto them.

43 Looke what thou desirest to see, it shall be shewed thee from the beginning.

44 Then answered I, and saide, If I haue found fauour in thy sight, and if it bee possible, and if I be meete therefore,

45 Shew mee then whether there bee more to come then is past, or more past then is for to come.

46 What is past, I know: but what is for to come, I know not.

47 And he said vnto me, Stand vp vpon the right side, and I shall expound the similitude vnto thee.

48 So I stood, and beholde, an hote burning ouen passed by before me: and it happened, that when the flame was gone by, I looked, and behold, the smoke had the vpper hand:

49 After this there passed by before me a watrie cloude, and sent downe much raine with a stormes:

stormes: and when the stormie raine was past, ‖ the drops remained still.

‖Or, the little drops came after.

50 Then said he vnto mee, Consider with thy selfe: like as the raine is more then the drops, and as the fire exceedeth the smoke: euen so, the measure of the things that are past hath the vpper hand, and the drops and smoke worke much in quantitie.

51 Then I prayed, and said, May I liue thinkest thou vntill that time? or what shall happen in those dayes?

52 He answered mee, and said, As for the tokens whereof thou askest me, I may tell thee of them in part: but as touching thy life, I am not sent to shew thee: for I do not know it.

The v. Chapter.

1 In the latter times trueth shall be hid, vnrighteousnesse and all wickednesse shall reigne in the world.

NEuerthelesse, as concerning the tokens marke this: beholde, the dayes shal come, that they which d'well vpon earth shalbe taken in a great number, and the way of the trueth shall be hidde, and the land shalbe barren from faith:

Matth. 24. 4.

2 But * iniquitte shall bee encreased aboue that which now thou seest, or that thou hast heard long agoe.

3 And the land that thou seest now to haue rule, shalt thou shortly see waste.

4 But if God graunt thee to liue, thou shalt see after the thirde trumpet, that the Sunne shall suddenly shine againe in the night, and the Moone three times in the day:

5 And blood shall drop out of wood, and the stone shall giue his voyce, and the people shalbe vnquieted:

6 And euen he shal rule, whom they hope not that d'wel vpon earth, and the soules shall flit:

7 And the Sodomitish sea shall cast out the fish, and make a noyse in the night, which many haue not known: but they shall all heare the voyce thereof.

8 There shalbe a confusion also in many places, and the fire shalbe oft sent out againe: and the wilde beastes shall change their places, and menstruous women shall beare monsters.

9 And salt waters shalbe found in the sweet, and all friends shall fight one against another: then shall all wit and vnderstanding be hid, and put aside into their secret places,

10 And shall be sought of many, and yet not be found: then shall vnrighteousnesse and ‖ voluptuousnesse haue the vpper hand vpon earth.

11 One land also shall aske another, and say, Is righteousnesse that ‖ maketh a man righteous, gone thorow thee? And it shall say, No.

‖Or, that iustifieth, or that doeth right wisely.

12 At the same time shall men hope, but nothing obteine: they shall labour, but their waies shall not prosper.

13 To shew thee such tokens I haue leaue: and if thou wilt pray againe, and weep as now, and fast seuen dayes, thou shalt heare yet greater things.

14 Then I awaked, and a fearefulnesse went thorow all my body, and my minde was feeble, so that I almost swooned withall.

15 So the Angel that was come to talke with me, held me, comforted me, and set mee vp vpon my feete.

16 And in the second night it came to passe, that Salathiel the captaine of the people came vnto mee, saying, Where hast thou bene? and why is thy countenance so heauy?

17 Knowest thou not that Israel is committed vnto thee in the land of their captiuitie?

18 Vp then, and eate, and forsake vs not as the shepheard that leaueth his flocke in the hands of ‖ wicked wolues.

‖Or, cruel.

19 Then said I vnto him, Goe thy wayes fro me, and come not nigh me. And he heard it, and as I said, so he went his way from me.

20 And so I fasted seuen dayes, mourning and weeping, like as Uriel the Angel commanded me.

21 And after seuen dayes so it was, that the thoughts of my heart were very grieuous vnto me againe:

22 And my soule receiued the spirit of vnderstanding, and I began to talke with the most highest againe,

23 And said, O Lord, Lord, of euery wood of the earth, and of all the trees thereof, thou hast chosen thee one onely vineyard:

24 And of all lands of the whole world, thou hast chosen thee one pit: and of all flowres of the ground, thou hast chosen thee one lillie:

25 And of all the depthes of the sea, thou hast filled thee one riuer: and of al builded cities, thou hast hallowed Sion vnto thy selfe:

26 And of all the fowles that are created, thou hast named thee one Doue: and of all the cattell that are made, thou hast prouided thee one sheepe:

27 And among all the multitudes of peoples, thou hast gotten thee one people: and vnto this people whom thou louedst, thou gauest a Lawe that is proued of all.

28 And nowe, O Lord, why hast thou giuen this one people ouer vnto many? and vpon the one roote thou hast ‖ prepared others, and why hast thou scattered thy one onely people among many?

‖Or, set.

29 Which treade them downe, yea which haue euer withstood thy promises, and neuer beleeued thy Couenants.

30 If thou diddest so much hate thy people, yet shouldest thou punish them with thine owne hands.

31 Now when I had spoken these words, the Angel that came to mee the night afore, was sent vnto me, 32 And said vnto me, Heare me, and I wil instruct thee, hearken to the thing that I say, and I will tell thee more.

33 And I saide, Speake on, my Lord. Then said he vnto me, Thou art sore troubled in mind for Israels sake: louest thou that people better then he that made them?

34 And I saide, No Lord, but of very griefe and compassion haue I spoken: for my reines paine mee euery houre, because I would ‖ haue experience of the way of the most highest, and seeke out part of his iudgement.

‖Or, comprehend.

35 And he said vnto mee, That thou ‖ mayest not. And I said, Wherefore, Lord? whereunto was I borne then: or why was not my mothers wombe then my graue, that I might not haue seene the misery and trouble of Jacob, and the wearing out of the flocke of Israel?

‖Or, cannst not.

36 And hee saide vnto mee, Number mee the

fol. Iii1r

things that are not yet come, gather mee together the drops that are scattered abroad, make me the flowres green againe that are withered,

37 Open me the places that are closed, and bring me forth the windes that in them are shut vp, shewe me the image of a voyce: and then I will declare to thee the thing that thou labourest to knowe.

38 And I said, O Lord, Lord, who may know these things, but hee that hath not his dwelling with men?

39 As for me, I am vnwise: how may I then speake of these things whereof thou askest me?

40 Then sayd he vnto me, Like as thou canst doe none of these things that I haue spoken of: euen so canst thou not finde out my iudgement, or in the end the loue that I haue promised vnto my people.

41 And I sayd, Behold, O Lord, yet art thou nigh vnto them that bee reserued till the ende: and what shall they doe that haue beene before me, or we that be nowe, or they that shall come after vs?

42 And hee sayde vnto mee, I will liken my iudgement vnto a ring: like as there is no slacknesse of the last, euen so there is no swiftnesse of the first.

43 So I answered, and sayd, Couldest thou not make those that haue beene made, and bee now, and that are for to come, at once, that thou mightest shew thy iudgement the sooner?

44 Then answered he me, and said, The creature may not haste ‖aboue the maker, neither may the world hold them at once that shalbe created therein.

‖Or, before.

45 And hee sayde, As thou hast sayd vnto thy seruant, that thou which quickenest all things, hast giuen life at once to the creature or worke that thou hast created, and the creature bare it: euen so might it now also beare them that now be present at once.

46 And he sayd vnto me, Aske the wombe of a woman, & say vnto her, If thou bringest forth children, why doest thou it not together, but one after another? Pray her therefore to bring forth ten children at once.

47 And I sayd, Shee cannot: but must doe it by distance of time.

48 Then sayde hee vnto me, Euen so haue I diuided by distance of time the childebed of the earth, for those that be sowen vpon her.

49 For like as a young childe may not bring forth the things that belong to the aged, euen so haue I ordained ‖the world which I created.

‖Or, the time.

50 And I asked, and sayd, Seeing thou hast now giuen me the way, I will proceed to speake before thee: for our mother, of whome thou hast tolde me that she is yong, draweth she now nigh vnto age?

51 He answered me, and sayd, Aske a woman that beareth children, and she shall tell thee.

52 Say vnto her, wherefore are not they whome thou hast now brought forth, like those that were before thee, but lesse of stature?

53 And she shall answere thee, They that bee borne in the youth of strength, are of one fashion: and they that are borne in the time of age (when the wombe faileth) are otherwise.

54 Consider nowe thy selfe, howe that yee are lesse of stature, then those that were before you:

55 And so are they that come after you lesse then yee, as the creatures which now beginne to be olde, and haue passed ouer the strength of youth.

56 Then sayd I, Lorde, I beseech thee, if I haue found fauour in thy sight, shewe thy seruant by whome thou visitest thy ‖creature.

‖Or, workmanship.

The vj. Chapter.

1 God hath foreseene all things in his secret counsell, and is author thereof, and hath created them for his children. 25 The felicitie of the age to come.

AND hee sayd vnto me, In the beginning when the ‖ground was made, before the borders of the worlde stood, or euer the windes blewe,

‖Or, compasse of the earth.

2 Before it thundred and lightened, or euer the foundations of Paradise were layd,

3 Before the faire flowres were seene, or euer the mooueable powers were established, before the innumerable multitude ‖of Angels were gathered together,

‖Or, armies.

4 Or euer the highnesse of the ayre were lifted vp, afore the measures of the firmament were named, or euer the chimneyes in Sion were pight,

5 And yer the present yeeres were sought out, and yer euer the inuentions of them that nowe sinne were ‖put aside, before they were sealed that haue gathered faith for a treasure:

‖Or, turned away.

6 Then did I consider and ponder all these things, and they all were made through me alone, and through none other: by me also they shalbe ended, and by none other.

7 Then answered I, and sayd, What shalbe the ‖parting asunder of the times? or when shal be the ende of the first, and the beginning of it that followeth?

‖Or, diuision

8 And he sayd vnto me, From Abraham vnto Isahac, when Jacob and Esau were borne of him, Jacobs * hand helde first the heele of Esau:

Gen. 25.27

9 For Esau is the end of this world, and Jacob is the beginning of it that followeth.

10 The hand of man betwirt the heele and the hand: Other question, Eldras, aske thou not.

11 I answered then, and said, O Lord, Lord, if I haue found fauour in thy sight, 12 I beseech thee ‖shewe thy seruant the end of thy tokens, whereof thou shewedst me part the last night.

‖Or, make an end to shewe thy seruant thy tokens.

13 So hee answered, and sayd vnto mee, Stand vp vpon thy feete, and heare ‖a perfect voice and sound.

14 There shal come a ‖great motion, but the place where thou standest, shall not be mooued.

‖Or, when he speaketh.

16 And why? the worde thereof trembleth and quaketh: for it knoweth that it must bee changed at the end.

17 And it happened, that when I had heard it, I stoode vp vpon my feete, and hearkened: and behold, there was a voyce that spake, and the sound of it, was like the sound of many waters,

18 And it sayd, Behold, the dayes come that I will beginne to draw nigh, and to visite them that dwell vpon earth:

19 And will beginne to make inquisition of them, what they bee that haue hurt vniustly with their vnrighteousnesse, and when the low estate of Sion shalbe fulfilled.

20 And when the worlde that shall vanish away shalbe ouersealed, then will I doe these tokens: the bookes shall be opened before the ‖firmament: and they shall see all together:

21 And the children of a yere old shall speake with their voyces, the women with childe shall bring forth vntimely children of three or foure moneths olde, and they shall liue, and be raysed vp.

22 And suddenly shall the sowen places appeare as the vnsowen, the full storehouses shall suddenly be found empty:

23 And the trumpet shall giue a sound, which when euery man heareth, they shall bee hastily afraid.

24 At that time shal friends fight one against another like enemies, and the earth shall stand in feare with them: the springs of the wels shall stand still, and in three houres they shall not runne.

‖Or,he shal be saued.

25 Whosoeuer remaineth from all these things that I haue tolde thee, ‖shall escape, and see my saluation, and the end of your world.

26 And the men that are receiued, shall see it, they that haue not tasted death from their birth: and the heart of the ‖in-dwellers shall be changed, and turned into another meaning.

27 For euill shalbe put out, and deceit shall be quenched.

‖Or,shewed forth.

28 As for faith, it shall florish, corruption shall be ouercome, and the trueth which hath bene so long without fruit, shalbe ‖declared.

29 And when he talked with me, beholde, I looked a litle and a litle vpon him, before whom I stood:

30 And these wordes sayd he vnto me, I am come to shewe thee the time of the night for to come.

31 If thou wilt pray yet more, and fast seuen dayes againe, I shall tell thee more things, and greater then before, which I haue heard by the day.

32 For thy voyce is heard before the highest: for why? the mighty hath seene thy righteous dealing, hee hath seene also thy chastity which thou hast had euer since thy youth:

33 And therefore hath hee sent me to shewe thee all these things, and to say vnto thee, Be of good comfort, and feare not:

34 And hast not with the times that are past, to thinke vaine things, that thou mayst not hasten from the latter times.

35 And it came to passe after this, that I wept againe, and fasted seuen dayes in like maner, that I might fulfill the three weekes which he told me.

36 And in the eight night was my heart vered within me againe, and I began to speake before the highest.

37 For my spirit was greatly set on fire, and my soule was in distresse:

38 And I said, O Lord, thou spakest vnto thy creature from the beginning, euen the first day, and saydest, Let * heauen and earth be made: and thy word was a perfect worke.

Gen.1.1.

39 And then was there the spirit, and the darknesses were yet on euery side, and silence: there was no mans voice as yet from thee.

40 Then commandedst thou a ‖faire light to come forth of thy treasures, that thy worke might appeare and be seene.

‖Or,bright.

41 Vpon the second day thou madest the spirit of the firmament, and commandedst it to part asunder, and to make a diuision betwirt the waters, that the one part might remaine aboue, and the other beneath.

42 Vpon the third day thou broughtest to passe that the waters were gathered in the seuenth part of the earth: fiue parts hast thou dried vp, and kept them, ‖to the intent that men might sowe and occupie husbandrie therein.

‖Or,to the intent that there might of them, be some to minister before thee sowen of God, and tilled,

43 As soone as thy worde went forth, the worke was made:

44 For immediatly there was great and innumerable fruit, and many diuers pleasures for the taste, and flowers of vnchangeable colour, and odours of wonderfull smell: And this was done the third day.

45 Vpon the fourth day thou commaundedst that the Sunne should giue his shine, and the Moone her light, the Starres didst thou set in order:

46 And *gauest them a charge to doe seruice, euen vnto man that was to be made.

Deut.4.9.

47 *Vpon the fifth day, thou saydst vnto the seuenth part where the waters were gathered, that it should bring forth diuers beasts, soules, and fishes: and so it came to passe.

Gen.1.21.

48 For the dumbe water and without soule, brought forth liuing things at the commandement of God, that all ‖people might praise thy wonderous workes.

‖Or, the nations.

49 Then diddest thou ordaine two soules, the one thou calledst ‖Enoch, and the other Leuiathan,

‖Or,Behemoth.

50 And didst separate the one from the other: for the seuenth part (namely, where the water was gathered together) might not hold them both.

51 Vnto ‖Enoch thou gauest one part, which was dried vp the third day, that hee should dwell in the same part, wherein are a thousand hilles.

‖Or,Behemoth.

52 But vnto Leuiathan thou gauest the seuenth part, namely the moist, and hast kept him to deuoure what thou wilt, and when.

53 Vpon the first day thou gauest commandement vpon the earth, that before thee it should bring forth beasts, cattell, and all that creepe:

54 And besides this, Adam also, whom thou madest lord of all thy creatures, of him come we all, and the people also whom thou hast chosen, specially vnto thy selfe.

55 All this haue I spoken before thee, O Lorde, that I might shewe how that the worlde is made for our sakes.

56 As for the other people which also come of Adam, thou hast sayd that they are nothing, but bee like vnto spettle, and hast likened the abundance of them vnto a droppe that falleth from a vessell.

57 And now, O Lord, behold, the Heathen which haue euer beene reputed as nothing, haue begunne to bee lordes ouer vs, and to deuoure vs:

58 But wee thy people (whome thou hast called thy first borne, thy onely begotten, and thy feruent louer) are giuen into their handes and power.

59 If the worlde now be made for our sakes, why haue wee not the inheritance of the world in possession? How long shall this endure?

The vij. Chapter.

5 Without tribulation none can come to felicitie. 12 God aduertiseth all in time. 28 The comming and death of Christ. 32 The resurrection and last iudgement.

AND when I had made an ende of speaking these wordes, there was sent vnto me an Angell, which had beene sent vnto me also the nights afore:

2 And he sayd vnto me, Up Eldras, & heare the words that I am come to tell thee.

3 And I sayde, Speake on Lorde my God. Then sayd he vnto me, The sea is set in a wide place, that it might be deepe and great.

4 But put case the entrance is narrow and small, like a riuer.

5 Who then could goe into the Sea to looke vpon it, and to rule it? If he went not thorowe the narrow, how might he come into the broad?

||Or, againe. 6 Item || another, A city is builded, and set vpon a broad fielde, and is full of all good things:

7 The entrance thereof is narrowe, and is set in a daungerous place to fall, like as if there were a fire at the right hand, and a deepe water at the left,

8 And as it were onely one strait path betwirt them both, euen betweene the fire and the water, so small that there could but one man go there at once:

9 If this city now were giuen to a man for an inheritance, and he neuer went thorowe the perilous way before, how would he receiue his inheritance?

10 And I sayd, It is so, Lord. Then sayd he, Euen so also is Israels portion.

11 And why? for their sakes haue I made the worlde: and when Adam transgressed my statutes, then was the thing so appointed as now is done.

12 Then were the entrances of the worlde made narrowe, full of sorrowe and trauaile: they are but fewe and euill, full of perils and labour.

13 For the entrances of the forewoorlde were wide and sure, and brought immortall fruit.

14 If then they which are liuing, enter not diligently thorowe these straite and brittle things, they cannot receiue the things so laid vp in secret.

15 Why disquietest thou thy selfe then, seeing thou art but a corruptible man? And why art thou mooued, whereas thou art but mortall?

16 And why hast thou not receiued into thine heart, the things that are to come, rather then them that are present?

Deut.8.1. 17 Then sayde * I, O Lord, Lord, thou hast ordained in thy lawe, that the righteous should inherite these things, but that the vngodly should perish:

18 Neuertheless, the righteous shall suffer strait things, and hope for wide: for they that haue liued vngodly, and suffered strait things, shall not see the wide.

19 And hee sayd vnto me, There is no iudge aboue God, and none that hath vnderstanding aboue the highest.

20 For there be many that perish in this life, ||or, appointed them. because they despise the law of God that is || set before them:

21 For God hath giuen strait commaundement to such as came, so oft as they came, what they should do to haue life, and what they should keepe to auoid punishment.

22 Neuertheless, they were not obedient vnto him, but spake against him, and imagined vaine things:

23 And deceiued themselues by wicked deeds, and denyed the power of the most high, and regarded not his wayes, 24 But his law haue they despised, and denyed his promises: in his statutes and ordinances haue they not beene faithfull and stedfast, and haue not performed his workes.

25 And therefore Eldras, for the emptie, are the emptie things, and for the full are the full things.

26 Behold, the time shall come, that these tokens which I haue tolde thee, shall come to passe, and the bride shall appeare, and shee coming forth shall be seene, that now is vnder the earth:

27 And whosoeuer is deliuered from the foresaid euils, shall see my wonders.

28 For my sonne Iesus shalbe openly declared, with those that be with him, and they that remaine, shall be merrie within foure hundred yeeres.

29 After these same yeeres shall my sonne Christ dye, and all men that haue life.

30 And the world shalbe turned into the olde silence seuen dayes, like as in the fore iudgements, so that no man shall remaine.

31 And after seuen dayes the world that yet awaketh not, shalbe raised vp, and that shall die that is corrupt.

32 And the earth shall restore those that haue slept in her, and so shall the dust those that dwell therein in silence, and the secret places shall deliuer those the soules that were committed vnto them.

33 And the most highest shall be openly declared vpon the seat of iudgement, and all miserie shall vanish away, and long suffering ||shalbe gathered together. ||Or, haue an end.

34 But the iudgement shall continue, the trueth shall remaine, and faith shall way strong,

35 The worke shall followe, and the reward shalbe shewed, the ||righteousnesse shall watch, and the vnrighteousnesse shall beare no rule. ||Or, the good deeds shalbe of force.

36 Then sayd I, Abraham prayed * first for the Sodomites, and * Moses for the fathers that sinned in the wildernesse, Gen.18.13. Exo.23.11.

37 And they that came after him, for Israel, in the time of Achas and Samuel,

38 And * Dauid for the destruction, and *Solomon for them that came into the sanctuary, 2.Re.24.17 2.Chr.6.14

39 And *Helias for those that receiued raine, and for the dead, that he might liue, 3.Re.17.21

40 And *Ezechias for the people in the time of Sennacherib, and diuers other in like manner, which haue prayed for many. 4.Reg.9.15

fol. Iii2v

41 Euen so now, seeing the ‖ corrupt is grown vp, and wickednesse encreased, and the righteous haue prayed for the vngodly: wherefore shal it not be so now also?

42 Hee answered me, and sayde, This present life is not the end, oft times honour is reteined in it: therefore haue they prayed for the weake.

43 But the day of doome shall be the ende of this time, and the beginning of the immortality for to come, wherein all corruption shall be banished.

44 Intemperancie shall be loosed, infidelitie be cut off, righteousnesse growe, and the veritie spring vp.

45 Then shall no man bee able to saue him that is destroyed, nor to oppresse him that hath gotten the victory.

46 I answered then, and sayde, This is my first and last saying, that it had beene better not to haue giuen the earth vnto Adam: or els when it was giuen him, to haue kept him that hee should not haue sinned.

47 For what profite is it for men now in this present time to liue in heauines, and after death to ‖ looke for punishment?

48 O thou Adam, what hast thou done? For * though it was thou that sinned, thou art not fallen alone, but we all that come of thee.

49 For what profite is it vnto vs, if there bee promised vs an immortall ‖ time, whereas wee doe the workes that bring death:

50 And that there is promised vs an euerlasting hope, whereas our selues are euil & vaine:

51 And that there is laid vp for vs dwellings of health and safetie, whereas wee haue liued wickedly:

52 And that the glory of the highest is kept to defend them which haue ledde a patient life, whereas we haue walked in the most wicked wayes of all:

53 And that there should bee shewed a paradise, whose fruit endureth for euer, wherein ‖ is freedome and medicine, whereas wee shall not goe in:

54 (For wee haue walked in vnpleasant places.)

55 And that the faces of them which haue abstained, shall shine aboue the starres: whereas our faces shall be blacker then darkenesse?

56 For while we liued and did vnrighteously, we considered not that we should suffer therfore after death.

57 Then answered he me, and sayde, This is the manner of the battaile, which man that is borne vpon the earth shall fight, 58 That if hee be ouercome, he shall suffer as thou hast sayd: but if he get the victory, hee shall receiue the thing that I say.

59 For this is the life whereof Moses spake vnto the people while he liued, saying, Choose thee * life, that thou mayest liue.

60 Neuertheless they beleeued him not, neither the Prophets after him, no nor mee which haue sayd vnto them, 61 That heauines should not so be vnto their destruction, like as ioy is for to come ouer those ‖ that haue suffered themselues to be enformed in saluation.

62 I answered then, and said, I know, Lord, that the highest is called mercifull, in that hee hath mercie vpon them which are not yet come vnto that world,

63 And vpon those also that walk in his law,

64 And that he is * patient, for he long sufferreth those that haue sinned, as his creatures. Rom. 2. 4.

65 And that hee is liberall to giue, whereas need requireth,

66 And that he is of great mercie: for he passeth in mercie much both those that are present, and that are past, and also them which are for to come.

67 For if he multiplyed not his mercies, the world could not continue his being with those that haue inheritance therein.

68 Hee ‖ giueth also: for if he gaue not of his goodnes, that they which haue done euil, might be eased from their wickednesse, the tenne thousand part of men should not remaine liuing.

69 And if hee, being iudge, forgaue not those that be healed with his worde, and tooke not away the multitude of contentions, 70 There should be very fewe left, peraduenture in an innumerable multitude.

The viij. Chapter.

6 The works of God are excellent. 20 Esdras prayeth for him and for his people. 39 The promise of saluation vnto the iust.

AND he answered me, saying, The most highest made this worlde for many, but the worlde to come for fewe.

2 I will tell thee a similitude, Esdras. As when thou askest the earth, it shall say vnto thee, that it giueth much ‖ mould wherof earthen vessels are made, but little of it that golde commeth of: euen so is it with the worke of this world.

3 There be * many created, but fewe shalbe saued. Mat. 20. 16.

4 Then answered I, and sayd, Then swallowe vp the wit, (O my soule) and deuoure the vnderstanding:

5 For thou art agreed to hearken and to giue eare, and willing to prophecie: for thou hast no longer space but this life giuen thee.

6 O Lord, if thou suffer not thy seruant to entreat thee, that thou mayest giue seede vnto our heart, and builde our vnderstanding, that there may come fruite of it, whereby each man may liue that is corrupt: then who shall steppe forth in the place of man?

7 For thou art alone, and we all one worke-manship of thy hands, like as thou hast sayd.

8 For when the body is fashioned now in the mothers wombe, and thou giuest the members, thy creature is preserued in fire and water, and nine moneths doeth thy worke suffer thy creature which is fashioned in her:

9 But the thing that keepeth, and that is kept, shall both be preserued: and when the time commeth, the wombe preserued deliuereth vp the things that grew in it.

10 For thou hast commaunded the partes of the body, euen the breasts, to giue milke vnto the fruit of the breasts:

11 That the thing which is created and fashioned, may bee nourished for a time, till thou disposest and ordrest it with thy mercie.

12 And then thou bringest it vp with thy righteousnesse, nurturest it in thy lawe, and reformest it with thy vnderstanding.

13 ‖ Mortifiest it as thy creature, and makest it liuing as thy worke.
14 Seeing then that thou destroyest him which with so great labour is created and fashioned through thy commandement, thou couldest lightly ordaine also that the thing which is made, might be preserued.
15 Now therefore, Lord, I will speake, (for concerning all men in general thou shalt rather prouide) but touching thy people, for whose sake I am sory,
16 And thine inheritance, for whose cause I mourne, and Israel, for whom I am wofull, and Iacob for whose sake I am grieued:
17 Therefore begin I to pray before thee for my selfe, and for them: for I see the faults of vs that dwell in the land.
18 But I haue heard the ‖ swiftnesse of the iudge which is to come.
16 Therefore heare my voice, and vnderstand my words, and I shall speake before thee. This is the beginning of the words of Esdras, before he was taken vp:
20 O Lord, thou that dwellest in euerlastingnesse, which beholdest from aboue things in the heauen and in the ayre:
21 Whose throne is inestimable, whose glory and maiestie may not bee comprehended, before who the hostes of angels stand with trembling,
22 Whose keeping is turned in wind and fire, whose word is true, whose sayings are stedfast, whose commaundement is strong, whose ordinance is fearefull,
23 Whose looke drieth vp the depths, whose wrath maketh the mountaines to melt away, and ‖ whose trueth beareth witnesse:
24 O heare the prayer of thy seruant, and marke with thine eares the petition of thy creature.
25 For while I liue, I wil speake, and so long as I haue vnderstanding, I will answere.
26 O looke not vpon the sinnes of thy people, rather then on them which serue thee in trueth.
27 Haue no respect vnto the wicked studies of the heathen: but to the desire of those that keepe thy testimonies with afflictions.
28 Thinke not vpon those that haue walked fainedly before thee: but remember them which according to thy will haue knowen thy feare.
29 Let it not be thy wil to destroy them which haue had beastly manners: but to looke vpon them that haue cleerely taught thy law.
30 Take thou no indignation at them which ‖ are worse then beastes: but loue them that alway put their trust in thy righteousnesse and glory.
31 For wee and our fathers haue all the same sicknesse and disease, but because of vs sinners, thou shalt be called mercifull.
32 For if thou hast mercie vpon vs, thou shalt be called mercifull to vs that haue no workes of righteousnesse.
33 For the righteous which haue layd vp many good workes together, shall out of their deeds receiue reward.
34 But what is man that thou shouldest take displeasure at him? Or what is this corruptible and mortall generation, that thou shouldest bee so rough toward him?
35 For of a * trueth there is no man among them that be borne, but he hath dealt wickedly, and among the ‖ faithfull, there is none which hath not done amisse.
36 For in this, O Lord, thy righteousnes and thy goodnes shall be praised and declared, if thou be mercifull vnto them which ‖ are not rich in good workes.
37 Then answered he mee, and sayd, Some things hast thou spoken aright, and according vnto thy words it shalbe.
38 For I will not busily consider the workes ‖ of them which haue sinned before death, before iudgement, before destruction:
39 * But I will reioice ouer the worke and thought of the righteous. I will remember also the pilgrimage, the saluation, and the reward that they shal haue.
40 Like as I haue spoken now, so shal it come to passe.
41 For as the husbandman soweth much seed vpon the ground, and planteth many trees, and yet alway the thing that is sowen or planted, is not all kept safe, neither doeth it all take roote: euen * so is it of them that are sowen in the world, they shall not all be saued.
42 I answered then, & sayd, If I haue found grace, then let me speake.
43 Like as the husbandmans seed perisheth, if it come not vp, and receiue not thy raine in due season, or if there come too much raine vpon it, and corrupt it:
44 Euen so perisheth man also, which is created with thy hands, and is like vnto thine owne image, and to thy selfe, for whose sake thou hast made all things, and likened him vnto the husbandmans seede.
45 Bee not wroth with vs, O Lord, but spare thy people, and haue mercie vpon thine owne inheritance: for thou wilt be mercifull vnto thy creature.
46 Then answered he me, and sayd, Things present, are for the present, and things to come, for such as be to come.
47 For thou lackest yet much, seeing thou canst loue my creature aboue me: but I haue oft times drawen nigh vnto thee, and vnto it, but neuer to the vnrighteous.
48 In this also thou art marueilous before the highest,
49 In that thou hast humbled thy selfe as it becommeth thee, and hast not iudged thy selfe worthy to bee much glorified among the righteous.
50 For many and great miseries remaine for them that in the latter time shall dwel in the worlde, because they ‖ haue walked in great pride.
51 But vnderstand thou for thy selfe, & seeke out the glory for such as be like thee.
52 For vnto you is paradise opened, the tree of life is planted, the time to come is prepared, plenteousnesse is made ready, the citie is builded for you, and rest is prepared, yea perfect goodnes and wisedome.
53 The roote of euill is ‖ marked from you, the weakenesse and moth is hid from you, and vnto hell fleeth corruption in forgetfulnesse.
54 Sorowes are banished away, and in the ende is shewed the treasure of immortality.
55 And therefore aske thou no more questions concerning the multitude of them that perish.

56 For when they had taken libertie, they despised the highest, thought scorne of his law, and forsooke his wayes.

60 But they which bee created, haue defiled the name of him that made them, and are vnthankefull vnto him which prepared life for them.
61 And therefore is my iudgement nowe at hand.
62 These things haue I not shewed vnto all men, but vnto fewe, namely vnto thee, and to such as bee like thee. Then answered I, and sayd,

The ix. Chapter.

5 All things in this worlde haue a beginning and an ende. 10 Torments for the wicked after this life. 15 The number of the wicked is more then of the good.

HE answered me then, and sayd, Measure thou the time diligently in it selfe: and when thou seest that one part of the tokens come to passe, which I haue told thee before,
2 Then shalt thou vnderstand, that it is the very same time wherein the highest will begin to visit the world which he made.
3 Therefore when there shall be seene an earthquake, and vproare of the people in the world,
4 Then shalt thou well vnderstand that the most highest spake of those things from the dayes that were before thee, euen from the beginning.
5 For like as all that is made in the worlde, hath a beginning and end, and the ende is manifest:
6 Euen so, the times also of the highest haue plaine beginnings in wonders and signes, and end in ‖working and in tokens.
7 And euery one that shall be saued, and that be able to escape by his works, & by faith wherein ye haue beleeued,
8 Shall be preserued from the sayd perils, and shall see my ‖sauiour in my land, and within my borders: for I haue hallowed ‖me from the world.
9 Then shall they pitie themselues, which nowe haue abused my wayes: and they that haue cast them out despitefully, shall dwell in paines.
10 For such as in their life haue receiued benefits, and haue not knowen me:
11 And they that haue abhorred my law, while they had yet ‖freedome, and when they had yet open leasure of amendment and conuersion, vnderstood not, but despised it:
12 The same must knowe it after death in paine.
13 And therefore be thou no more ‖carefull how the vngodly shall be punished: but enquire how the righteous shall be saued, and whose the world is, and for whom the world is, and when it is.
14 Then answered I, and sayd,
15 *I haue sayd before, and now I speake, and will speake it also hereafter: that there bee many moe of them which perish, then of them which shall be saued:
16 Like as the flood is greater then a drop.
17 And he answered me, saying, Like as the field is, so is also the seed: as the flowers be, such are the colours also: such as the workeman is, such is also the worke: and as the husbandman is himselfe, so is the husbandry also: for it was the time of the world.
18 And when I prepared for them that are now, or euer the world was made, wherein they should dwell: then was there no man that spake against me.
19 For then euery one obeyed, but now the maners of them which are created in this world that is made, are corrupted by a perpetuall seed, and by a law whereout they cannot rid themselues.
20 So I considered the world, and behold, there was peril, because of the ‖thoughts that were come into it.
21 And I saw, and spared them greatly, and haue kept me a ‖winebery of grapes, and a plant of a great people.
22 Let the multitude perish then which are growen vp in vaine, and let my grape and winebery be kept, and my plant: for with great labour haue I made it vp.
23 Neuertheless, if thou wilt cease yet seuen dayes moe, but thou shalt not fast in them:
24 Go thy way then into a field of flowers, where no house is builded, and eate onely of the flowers of the field, taste no flesh, drinke no wine, but eate flowers onely,
25 And pray vnto the highest continually, so will I come and talke with thee.
26 So I went my way, and came into the field which is called Ardath, like as he commanded me, and there I sate among the flowers, and did eate of the herbs of the field, and the meate of the same satisfied me.
27 After seuen dayes I sate vpon the grasse, and my heart was vexed within me like as before.
28 And I opened my mouth, and began to talke with the most highest, and sayd,
29 *O Lord, thou that shewest thy selfe vnto vs, thou hast declared and opened thy selfe vnto our fathers in the wildernes, in a place where no man dwelleth, in a barren place, when they came out of Egypt:
30 And thou spakest, saying, Heare mee, O Israel, and marke my wordes, thou seede of Iacob.
31 For behold, I sowe my law in you, and it shall bring fruite in you, and ye shall be honoured in it for euer.
32 But our fathers which receiued the law, kept it not, and obserued not thy ordinances and statutes, and the fruit of thy lawe did not

35 The things also perish and are broken, which are sowen or put therin and receiued, and the things that are receiued, remaine not then with vs: but in vs it hath not happened so.

39 Then let I my thoughts goe that I was in, and turned me vnto her, 41 And shee sayd vnto me, Sir, let me alone, that I may bewaile my selfe, and take yet my sorowe, for I am sore vexed in my minde, and brought very lowe.

42 And I said vnto her, What ayleth thee? Or who hath done any thing to thee? tell me.

43 Shee sayde vnto mee, I thy seruant haue beene vnfruitfull and barren, and haue had no childe, though I haue had an husband thirtie yeeres.

44 And these thirtie yeeres I doe nothing els day and night, and all houres, but make my prayer to the highest.

The x. Chapter.

Esdras and the woman that appeareth vnto him, commune together.

AND it so came to passe, that when my sonne went into his chamber, he fell downe, and dyed.

2 Then ouerthrewe we all the lights, and all my neighbours rose vp to comfort me: then tooke I my rest vnto the second day at night.

3 And when they had all left off to comfort mee, that I should bee quiet: then I rose vp by night, and fledde, and am come hither into this field, as thou seest,

4 And am purposed not to returne into the citie, but to remaine here, and neither to eat nor drinke, but continually to mourne, and to fast vntill I die.

5 Then let I my meditation and thoughts fall that I was in, and spake to her in displeasure, saying,

6 Thou foolish woman aboue all other, seest thou not our heauinesse and mourning, & what happeneth vnto vs?

7 How Sion our mother is all wofull and sorie, and how she is cleane brought downe, and mourneth extremely?

8 Seeing we be all now in heauinesse, and make our mone, for we all be sorowful: art thou so heauie for one sonne?

9 Demaund the earth, and shee shall tell thee, that it is shee which ought by reason to mourne for the fall of so many that growe vpon her.

10 For from the beginning all men are borne of her, and other shall come: and beholde, they walke almost all into destruction, and the multitude of them shall be rooted out.

11 Who should then by reason make more mourning, then shee that hath lost so great a multitude, and not thou which art sorie but for one?

12 But if thou wouldest say vnto mee, My mourning is not like the mourning of the earth: for I haue lost the fruite of my ‖ body, which I brought forth with heauines, and bare with sorowes: ‖Or, womb.

13 But the earth is according to the manner of the earth, and the present multitude goeth againe into her, ‖ as it is come to passe: ‖Or, as it is accustomed 14 Then say I vnto thee, Like as thou hast borne with trauaile and sorow, euen so the earth also from the beginning giueth her fruite vnto man, euen to him that laboureth her.

Heb.12,2. 15 *And therefore withhold thy sorowe and heauinesse by thy selfe, and looke what happeneth vnto thee, beare it ‖ strongly. ‖Or, constantly.

16 For if thou iudgest the matter and end of God to be righteous and good, and receiuest his counsell in time, thou shalt be commended herein.

17 Goe thy way then into the citie, to thy husband.

18 And she sayd vnto mee, That will I not doe: I will not goe into the citie, but here will I die.

19 So I communed more with her, and said,

20 Doe not so, but be counselled, and follow me: for how many falles hath Sion? Be of good comfort, because of the sorow of Hierusalem.

21 For thou seest that our sanctuarie is layde waste, our altar broken, our temple destroyed.

22 Our playing of instrumentes is layde downe, and songs are put to silence, our mirth is vanished away, the light of our candlestiche is quenched, the arke of our couenant is taken from vs, all our holy things are defiled, and the name that is called vpon ouer vs, is almost dishonoured: our children are put to shame, our priests are burnt, our Leuites are caried away into captiuitie, our virgins are defiled, and our wiues rauished, our righteous men spoiled, and our children destroyed, our young men are brought in bondage, and our strong worthies are become weake:

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Iii4v

23 And Sion our seale, which is the greatest of all, is looked vp from her worship: for she is deliuered into the hands of them that hate vs.

24 And therefore shake off thy great heauinesse, and put away the multitude of sorowes, that the mighty may be mercifull vnto thee, and that the highest may giue thee rest and ease from thy labour and trauaile.

25 And when I was talking with her, her face and beautie shined suddenly, and her countenance glittered, so that I was afraid of her, and mused what it might be.

26 And immediatly she cast out a great voice, very fearefull, so that the earth shooke at the noise of the woman.

27 And I looked, and behold, the woman appeared vnto mee no more: but there was a citie builded, & a place was shewed from the ground and foundation: then was I afraid, and cryed with a loud voice, and sayd,

4.Esdr.4.1. 28 Where is Uriel the angel, *which came to me at the first? for he hath caused me to come in many considerations and high thoughts, and mine ende is turned to corruption, and my prayer to rebuke.

29 And as I was speaking these wordes, hee came vnto me, and looked vpon me:

30 And loe, I lay as one that had bene dead, and mine vnderstanding was altered: and hee tooke me by the right hand, and comforted mee, and set me vpon my feete, and sayd vnto me, 31 What ayleth thee? and why is thine vnderstanding vexed, and the vnderstanding of thy heart? wherefore art thou sory?

4.Esd.5.20 32 And I sayd, *Because thou hast forsaken me, and I haue done according vnto thy words, I went into the field, and there haue I seene things, and see that I am not able to expresse.

33 He said vnto me, Stand vp, and be manly, and I shall giue thee exhortation.

34 Then sayd I, Speake on to me, my Lord, forsake me not, lest I die through my rashnesse:

45 For I haue seene that I knewe not, and heare that I doe not know:

36 Or is my vnderstanding deceiued, or doth my soule dreame?

37 Now therefore I beseech thee, that thou wilt shew thy seruant of this wonder.

38 He answered me then, and said, Heare me, and I shal enforme thee, and tell thee wherefore thou art afraid: for the highest hath opened many secret things vnto thee,

||Or, purpose. 39 He hath seene that thy ||way is right, for that thou takest sorow continually for thy people, and makest great lamentation for Sion.

40 And therfore vnderstand the vision which thou sawest a little while agoe, after this maner:

41 Thou sawest a woman mourning, and thou begannest to comfort her.

42 Neuertheless, now seest thou the likenes of the woman no more, but there appeared vnto thee a citie builded:

43 And where shee told thee of the fall of her sonne, so is this the solution of it:

44 This woman whom thou sawest, is Sion: and whereas she told thee, (euen he whom thou seest now as a citie builded)

45 And as touching that shee sayd vnto thee, that she hath bene thirtie yeeres vnfruitfull and baren: those are the thirtie yeres wherein there was no offering made in her.

46 But after thirtie yeeres, Solomon builded the citie, and offered offerings: and then bare the barren a sonne.

47 And whereas she told thee that she nourished him with labour: that was the dwelling in Hierusalem.

48 But whereas she told thee that her sonne died as his chance was, when she came into her chamber: that is the fall that is come to Hierusalem.

49 And behold, when thou sawest her like one that mourned for her sonne, and begannest to comfort her: of these things which haue chanced, these are to be opened vnto thee.

50 For now the most highest seeth that thou art sory in thy minde, & sufferest from thy whole heart for her, and so hath shee shewed thee her clearenesse, and the faireneſse of her beauty.

51 And therefore I bade thee remaine in the field where no house was builded.

52 For I knew that the highest would shewe this vnto thee.

53 Therefore I commanded thee to goe into the field where no foundation nor building is.

54 For in the place where the highest beginneth to shew his citie, there can no mans building be able to stand.

55 And therefore feare not, and let not thine heart be afraid, but goe thy way in, and see the beauty and greatnesse of the building, as much as thine eyes be able to see.

56 And then shalt thou heare as much as thine eares may comprehend.

57 For thou art blessed aboue many other, and art called with the highest as the few.

58 But to morow at night thou shalt remaine here:

59 And so shall the highest shew thee visions of the high things, which he will doe vnto them that dwell vpon the earth in the last dayes. So I slept the same night and another, like as hee commaunded me.

The xj. Chapter.

1 The vision of an Eagle comming foorth of the sea, and of her feathers. 37 Of a Lion comming out of the forest.

THen sawe I a dreame, and behold, there came vp from the Sea an Eagle, which had twelue feathered wings, and three heads.

2 And I saw, and behold, thee spread her wings ouer all the earth, and all the winds of the aire blew on her, & gathered them together.

3 And I beheld, and out of her feathers there grew other contrary feathers, and they became little feathers, and small.

4 But her heads remained still, the head in the middest was greater then the other, yet rested it with the residue.

5 Moreouer, I sawe that the Eagle flewe with her wings, and reigned vpon earth, and ouer all them that dwelt vpon the earth.

6 And I saw that all things vnder heauen were subiect vnder her, and no man spake against her, no not one creature vpon earth.

7 I saw also that the Eagle stoode vp vpon her clawes, and ||gaue a sound with her feathers, and a voice, saying after this maner,

||Or, spake to her feathers, saying.

fol. Iii5r

8 Watch not all together, sleepe euery man in his owne place, and watch by course.
9 But let the heads be preserued for the last.
10 Nevertheless, I saw that the voice went not out of her heads, but from the midst of her bodie.
11 And I numbred her contrary feathers, and behold, there were eight of them.
12 And I looked, and behold, vpon the right side there arose one feather, and reigned ouer all the earth.
13 And so it was that when it reigned, the end of it came, and the place thereof appeared no more: so the next following stood vp, and reigned, and had a great time.
14 And it happened that when it reigned, the end of it came also like as the first, so that it appeared no more.
15 Then came there a voice vnto it, and said,
16 Heare thou that hast kept the earth so long, this I say vnto thee, before thou beginnest to appeare no more,
17 There shall none after thee attaine vnto thy time, neither vnto the halfe thereof.
18 Then arose the third, and reigned as the other afore: and appeared no more also.
19 So went it with all the residue one after another, so that euery one reigned, and then appeared no more.
20 Then I looked, and beholde, in processe of time the feathers that followed stood vpon the right side, that they might rule also, and some of them ruled: but within a while they appeared no more.
21 For some of them were set vp, but ruled not.
22 After this I looked, and beholde, the twelue feathers appeared no more, nor the two wings:
23 And there was no more vpon the Eagles body, but two heads that rested, and fiue wings.
24 Then saw I also that two wings diuided themselues from the fiue, and remained vnder the head that was vpon the right side: for the foure continued in their place.
25 So I looked, and beholde, the feathers that were vnder the wing, thought to set vp themselues, and to haue the rule.
26 Then was there one set vp, but shortly it appeared no more.
27 And the second was sooner away then the first.
28 And I beheld, and loe, the two that remained, thought also in themselues to reigne:
29 And when they so thought, behold, there awaked one of the heads that were at rest, namely it that was in the middest: for that was greater then the two other heads.
30 And then I saw that the two heads were ioyned with him:
31 And the head was turned with them that were with him, and did eate vp the two vnder wings that would haue reigned.
32 But this head put the whole earth in feare, and bare rule in it ouer all those that dwelt vpon the earth, with much labour: and he had the gouernance of the world ouer al the wings that had bene.
33 After this I looked, and behold, the head that was in the middest, suddenly appeared no more, like as the wings.
34 But there remained the two heads which ruled vpon earth, and ouer those that dwelt therein.
35 And I beheld, and loe, the head vpon the right side, deuoured it that was vpon the left side.
36 Then I heard a voice which said vnto me, Looke before thee, and consider the thing that thou seest.
37 Then I saw, and behold as it were a Lion that roareth, running hastily out of the wood: and I saw that he sent out a mans voyce vnto the Eagle, and said,
38 Heare thou, I will talke with thee, and the hiest shall say vnto thee,
39 ‖ Is it not thou that hast the victory of the foure beasts, whom I made to reigne vpon earth and in my world, that the ende of their times might come through them?
40 And the fourth came, and ouerran all the beasts that were past, and had power ouer the world with great fearefulnesse, and ouer the whole compasse of the earth with most wicked oppression, and so long time dwelt he vpon the earth with deceit.
41 For the earth hast thou not iudged with trueth.
42 For thou hast troubled the meeke, thou hast hurt the peaceable and quiet, thou hast loued liers, and destroyed the dwellings of them that brought foorth fruite, and hast cast downe the walles of such as did thee no harme.
43 Therefore is thy wrongfull dealing and blasphemie come vp vnto the hiest, and thy pride vnto the mightie.
44 The highest also hath looked vpon the proud times, and behold, they are ended, and their abominations are fulfilled.
45 And therefore appeare no more thou Eagle, and thy horrible wings, and thy wicked feathers, and thy vngracious heads, and thy sinfull clawes, and all thy vaine bodie:
46 That the earth may be refreshed, and come againe to her selfe, when she is deliuered from thy violence, and that she may hope for the iudgement and mercie of him that made her.

‖ Or, art not thou he that remainest of the foure beasts?

The xij. Chapter.

The declaration of the former visions.

AND it happened when the Lion spake these words vnto the Eagle, I saw:
2 And beholde, the head that afore had the vpper hand appeared no more, neither did the foure wings appeare any more that came to him, and were set vp to reigne, and their kingdome was small and full of vproare.
3 And I saw, and behold, they appeared no more, and the whole bodie of the Eagle was burnt, so that the earth was in great feare: then awaked I out of the trouble and trance of my minde, and from great feare, and said vnto my spirit,
4 Loe, this hast thou giuen me, in that thou searchest out the wayes of the highest.
5 Loe, yet am I wearie in my mind, and very weake in my spirit, and litle strength is there in me, for the great feare that I receiued this night.
6 Therefore will I now beseech the highest, that

fol. Iii5v

that he will comfort me vnto the end.
7 And I sayd, Lord, Lord, if I haue found grace before thy sight, and if I am iustified with thee before many other, and if my prayer indeed be come vp before thy face:
8 Comfort me then, and shew me thy seruant the interpretation and plaine difference of this horrible sight, that thou maiest perfectly comfort my soule.
9 For thou hast iudged mee worthy to shew me the last times.
10 And he sayd vnto me, This is the interpretation of this sight:
11 The Eagle whom thou sawest come vp from the sea, is the kingdome which was seene in the "vision of thy brother Daniel:
Dan.7.7.
12 But it was not expounded vnto him, therefore now I declare it vnto thee.
13 Behold, the dayes will come, that there shall rise vp a kingdome vpon earth, and it shall be feared aboue all the kingdomes that were before it.
14 In ‖the same kingdome shal twelue kings reigne one after another.
‖Or, it.
15 Wherefore the second shall beginne to reigne, and shall haue more time then the other twelue.
16 And this doe the twelue wings signifie which thou sawest.
17 As for ꝑ voyce which thou heardest speake, and that thou sawest not to goe out from the heads, but from the mids of the body thereof, it betokeneth,
18 That after the time of that kingdom, there shall arise great striuings, and it shal stand in perill of falling: neuerthelesse, it shall not then fal, but shalbe restored againe into his beginning.
19 And the eight feathers vnder the wings, which thou sawest hang vnder their wings, betoken,
20 That in him there shall arise eight kings, whose time shalbe but small, & their yeres swift, and two of them shall perish.
21 But when the middest time cõmeth, there shalbe foure kept for a time, whilest ‖his time beginneth to come, that it may be ended: but two shalbe kept vnto the end.
‖Or, ech his time beginneth.
22 And whereas thou sawest three heads resting, this is the interpretation:
23 In his last dayes shall the most high raise vp three kingdoms, and cal many things againe into them, and they shall haue the dominion of the earth,
24 And of those that dwel therein, with much ‖labour, aboue all those that were before them: therefore are they called the heads of the Egle.
‖Or, griefe.
25 For it is they that shall ‖bring foorth his wickednesse againe, and that shall performe and finish his last.
‖Or, accomplish his wickednes.
26 And whereas thou sawest that the great head appeared no more, it signifieth that one of them shall die vpon his bedde, and yet with paine.
27 For the two that remain shalbe slaine with the sword.
28 For the sword of the one shall deuoure the other: but at the last shall he fall through the sword himselfe.
29 And whereas thou sawest two feathers vnder the wings, passing toward the head that is on the right side,
30 It signifieth, that it is they whom the highest hath kept vnto their ende: this is the small kingdome, and full of trouble, as thou sawest.
31 And the Lyon whom thou sawest rising vp out of the wood, and roaring, and speaking to the Eagle, and rebuking her for her vnrighteousnesse, with all the words which thou hast heard,
32 Is the wind which the highest hath kept for them and for their wickednesse vnto the end: he shall reproue them, and cast before them their owne sporlings.
33 For he shal set them aliue in iudgement, and shall rebuke them, and correct them.
34 For the residue of my people shall he deliuer by trouble, those that be preserued vpon my borders: and hee shall make them ioyfull vntill the comming of the day of iudgement, whereof I haue spoken vnto thee from the beginning.
35 This is the dreame that thou sawest, and these are the interpretations.
36 Thou onely hast bene meete to know this secret of the highest.
37 Therefore write al these things that thou hast seene in a booke, and hide them,
38 And teach them to the wise of the people, whose hearts thou knowest may comprehend and keepe these secrets.
39 But waite thou here thy selfe yet seuen dayes moe, that it may be shewed thee whatsoeuer it pleaseth the highest to declare vnto thee: And with that he went his way.
40 And when all the people perceiued that the seuen dayes were past, and I not come againe into the citie, they gathered them all together from the least vnto the most, and came vnto me, and said,
41 What haue we offended thee? and what euill haue we done against thee, that thou forsakest vs, and sittest here in this place?
42 For of all the people thou onely art left vs, as a grape of the vine, and as a candle in a darke place, and as an hauen or ship preserued from the tempest.
43 Haue we not els aduersitie ynough?
44 If thou shalt forsake vs, were it not better for vs that we had bene burnt with Sion?
45 For we are not better then they that died there. And they wept with loud voice. Then answered I them, and said, 46 Be of good comfort, O Israel, and be not heauie, thou house of Iacob.
47 For the highest hath you in remembrance, and the mighty hath not forgotten you in temptation.
48 As for me I haue not forsaken you, neither am I departed from you: but am come into this place to pray, because of the misery of Sion, that I might seeke mercy for the lowe estate of your sanctuarie.
49 And nowe goe your way home euery man, and after these dayes will I come vnto you.
50 So the people went their way into the citie, like as I commanded them:
51 But I remained still in the fielde seuen daies, as ‖the Angel bade me, and did eate onely of the flowres of the field, and had my meate of the herbes in those dayes.
‖Or, he.

fol. Iii6r

The xiij. Chapter.

2 The vision of a winde comming foorth of the Sea, 3 which became a man. 5 His propertie and power against his enemies. 21 The declaration of this vision.

AND after the seuen dayes, I dreamed a dreame by night.

2 And behoulde, there arose a winde from the sea, that it mooued all the waues thereof.

3 And I looked, and behold, there was a strong man with the thousands of heauen: and when he turned his countenance to looke, al the things trembled that were seene vnder him:

4 And whē the voice went out of his mouth, all they burnt that heard his voyce, like as the earth faileth when it feeleth the fire.

5 After these I saw, and behold, there was gathered together a multitude of men out of number, from the foure windes of the heauen, to fight against the man that came out of the sea.

6 And I looked, and behold, he graued himselfe a great mountaine, and flew vp vpon it.

7 But I would haue seene the region or place whereout the hill was grauen, and I could not.

8 And I saw after these, that all they which came to fight against him, were sore afraid, and yet durst they fight.

9 Neuertheles, when he saw the fiercenesse and violence of the people that came, he neither lift vp his hand, ‖ nor helde sword, nor any weapon:

10 But onely, as I sawe, he sent out of his mouth as it had bene a blast of fire, and out of his lips the winde of the flame, & out of his tongue he cast out sparkes and stormes.

11 And they were all mixt together: the blast of fire, the winde of the flame, & the great storme: and fell with ‖ a ruth vpon the people which was prepared to fight, and burn them vp euery one, so that of the innumerable multitude, there was nothing seene but onely dust and smell of smoke: when I saw this, I was afraid.

12 Afterward sawe I the same man come downe from the mountaine, and calling vnto him another peaceable ‖ people.

13 And there came much people vnto him, some were glad, some were sory, some of them were bound, and other some brought of them that were offered: then was I sicke through great feare, and I awaked, and said,

14 Thou hast shewed thy seruant these wonders from the beginning, and hast counted me worthy that thou mightest receiue my prayer:

15 Shew me now yet the interpretation of this dreame.

16 For thus I consider in mine vnderstanding: woe vnto them that shall be left in those dayes, and much more woe vnto them that are not left behind:

17 For they that were not left, were in heauinesse.

18 Now vnderstand I the things that are laid vp in the latter dayes, which shall happen vnto them, and to those that are left behinde.

19 Therefore are they come into great perils, and many necessities, like as these dreames declare.

20 Yet is it easier that he which is in danger, fall into these, and now to see that which shall chance hereafter, then to passe out of this world as a cloud. Then answered he me, and said,

21 The interpretation of the sight shall I shew thee, and I will open vnto thee the thing that thou hast required.

22 Whereas thou hast spoken of them that are left behind, this is the interpretation.

23 Hee that beareth the perill in that time, hath kept himselfe: they that be fallen into danger, are such as haue works and faith vnto the most mighty.

24 Know this therefore, that they which be left behinde, are more blessed they they that be dead.

25 ‖ This is the meaning of the vision, whereas thou sawest a man comming vp from the ‖ deepe of the sea,

26 The same is hee whom God the highest hath kept a great season, which by his owne self shall deliuer his creature: and he shall order them that are left behind.

27 And whereas thou sawest, that out of his mouth there came as a blast of winde, fire and storme:

28 And how that he lift vp neither sword nor weapon, but that the ‖ rushing in of him destroyed the whole multitude that came to fight against him: it signifieth,

29 That the daies come, when the most highest will beginne to deliuer them that are vpon earth:

30 And ‖ in a trance of minde shall he come vpon them that dwell in the earth.

31 And one shall vndertake to * fight against another: one citie against another, one place against another, one people against another, and one realme against another.

32 When this commeth to passe, then shal the tokens come that I shewed thee before: and then shall my sonne be ‖ declared, whom thou sawest clime vp as a man.

33 And when all the people heare his voyce, euery man shall in their owne land leaue the battell they haue one against another.

34 And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered together, as they that bee willing to come, and to ouercome him by fighting.

35 But he shall stand vpon the toppe of the mount Sion.

36 And Sion shall come, and shall be shewed to all men, being prepared and builded, like as thou sawest the hill grauen forth without any hands.

37 And this my sonne shal rebuke those nations which are fallen into the tempest, for their wickednesse and euill imaginations, 38 And into torments like to flame, wherewith they shalbe punished: and without any labour shall he destroy them, euen by the lawe, which is compared vnto the fire.

39 And whereas thou sawest, that he gathered another peaceable people vnto him,

40 Those are the ten tribes which were caried away prisoners out of their owne lande in the time of Oseas the king whom * Salmanasar the king of Assyria tooke prisoners, and caried them ‖ ouer the water, and so came they into another land.

41 But they tooke this counsaile among themselues,

‖ Or, for he held no sword nor any instrument of warre.

‖ Or, violence

‖ Or, multitude.

‖ Or, &c.

‖ Or, these are the meanings.

‖ Or, midst.

‖ Or, fiercenesse.

‖ Or, he shal astonish the hearts of them. Mat.24.7.

‖ Or, reuealed.

4.Reg.17.3

‖ Or, beyond the riuer.

themselues, that they would leaue the multitude of the heathen, and to go foorth into a further countrey, where neuer mankind dwelt:

42 That they might there keepe their statutes, which they neuer kept in their owne land:

43 And so they entred in at the narrow passages of the riuer of Euphrates.

Iosu.3.15. 44 For the most highest then shewed * tokens for them, and held still the flood till they were passed ouer.

45 For thorow the countrey there was a great way, namely of a yeere and an halfes iourney: and the same region is called Arsareth.

46 Then dwelt they there vntill the latter time: and when they come forth againe, 47 The highest shall holde still the springs of the streame againe, that they may goe thorow: therefore sawest thou the multitude with peace.

48 But they that be left behind of thy people, are those that are found within my borders.

49 Now when he destroieth the multitude of the nations that are gathered together, he shall defend his people that remaine:

50 And then shall he shew them great wonders.

51 Then said I, O Lord, Lord, shew me this: wherefore haue I seene the man comming vp ‖ Or, midst. from the ‖ deepe of the sea?

52 And he said vnto me, Like as thou canst neither seeke out nor know the things that are in the deepe of the sea: euen so can no man vpon earth see my Sonne, or those that be with him,

‖ Or, that day. but in the time of ‖ the day.

53 This is the interpretation of the dreame which thou sawest, and whereby thou only art here lightned.

54 For thou hast forsaken thine owne lawe, and applyed thy diligence vnto mine, and sought it.

55 Thy life hast thou ordered in wisedome, and hast called vnderstanding thy mother:

56 And therefore haue I shewed thee the treasures of the highest. After other three dayes I will shew thee more, and talke with thee more at large, yea, heauy and wonderous things will I declare vnto thee.

57 Then went I forth into the field, giuing praise and thankes greatly vnto God, because of his wonders which he did in time, 58 And because he gouerneth the same, and such things as fall in their seasons: and there I sate three dayes.

The xiiij. Chapter.

3 How God appeared to Moses in the bush. 10 All things decline to age. 16 The latter age worse then the former. 29 The ingratitude of Israel. 35 The resurrection and iudgement.

Vpon the third day I sate vnder an Oake tree, then came there a voice vnto me out of the bush, and said, Esdras, Esdras.

2 And I said, Here am I, Lord: and stood vp vpon my feet.

Exo.3.1. 3 Then said he vnto me, In the * bush did I appeare vnto Moses, and talked with him when my people serued in Egypt.

4 And I sent him, and led my people out of Egypt, and brought him vp to the mount Sinai, where I held him by me a long season:

5 And told him many wonderous workes, and shewed him the secrets of the times, and the end, and commanded him, saying,

6 These words shalt thou declare, and these shalt thou hide.

7 And now I say vnto thee,

8 That thou lay vp in thine heart the signs that I haue shewed, and the dreames that thou hast seene, and the interpretations which thou hast heard.

9 For thou shalt be taken away from among all, and hencefoorth thou shalt remaine with my counsaile, and with such as be like thee, vntill the times be ended.

10 For the world hath lost his youth, and the times begin to waxe old.

11 For the worlde is diuided into twelue parts, and the ten parts of it are gone alreadie, and halfe of a tenth part.

12 And there remaineth there that which is after the halfe of ‖ the tenth part. ‖ Or, that.

13 Therefore set thine house in order, and reforme thy people, comfort such of them as be in trouble, and now renounce corruption,

14 Let goe from thee mortall thoughts, cast away the burdens of men, put off the weake nature,

15 And set aside the thoughts that are most heauy vnto thee, and haste thee to flee from these times:

16 * For as for such euill and wickednesse as Mat.24.7. thou hast now seene happen, they shall doe yet much worse.

17 For the weaker that the world is by reason of age, the more shall euils increase vpon them that dwell therein.

18 For the trueth is fled farre away, and leasing is hard at hand: For now hasteth the vision to come which thou hast seene.

19 Then answered I before thee, and said,

20 Beholde, Lord, I will goe as thou hast commanded me, and reforme the people which are present: but they that shall be borne afterward, who wil admonish them? Thus the world is set in darkenesse, and they that dwell therein are without light.

21 For thy Law is burnt, therefore no man knoweth the things that are done of thee, or the workes that shalbe done.

22 But if I haue found grace before thee, send the holy Ghost into me, and I shal write all that hath bene done in the world since the beginning, which was written in thy Law, that men may find the path, and that they which will liue in the latter dayes, may liue.

23 And he answered mee, saying, Goe thy way, gather the people together, and say vnto them, that they seeke thee not for fourtie dayes.

24 But looke thou gather thee many bore trees, and take with thee Sarea, Dabria, Selemia, Ecanus, and Asiel, these fiue, which are ready to write swiftly:

25 And come hither, and I shal light a candle of vnderstanding in thine heart, which shall not be put out, till the things be performed which thou shalt begin to write.

26 And then shalt thou declare some things openly vnto the perfect, and some things shalt thou shew secretly vnto the wise: to morow this houre shalt thou begin to write.

27 Then

27 Then went I foorth as he commaunded mee, and gathered all the people together, and said,
28 Heare these words, O Israel,
Gen.47.4. 29 Our * fathers at the beginning were strangers in Egypt, from whence they were deliuered,
Deut.4.5. 30 And receiued the *Law of life, which they kept not, which ye also haue transgressed after them.
31 Then was the land, euen the land of Sion, parted among you by lot, to possesse: but your fathers, and ye your selues haue done vnrighteousnesse, and haue not kept the waies which the highest commanded you:
32 And for so much as he is a righteous iudge, he tooke from you in time, the thing that he had giuen you.
33 And now are ye here, and your brethren among you,
34 Therefore, if so be that yee will subdue your owne vnderstanding, and reforme your heart, ye shalbe kept aliue, and after death shall ye obteine mercie.
35 For after death shall the iudgement come when wee shall liue againe: and then shall the names of the righteous be manifest, and the workes of the vngodly shalbe declared.
36 Let no man therefore come now vnto me, nor seeke after me these fourty dayes.
Mat.24.7. 37 So I tooke the fiue men, as he commanded mee, and we went into the field, and remained there.
38 The next day a voyce called me, saying, Esdras, open thy mouth, and * drinke that I giue thee to drinke.
Ezec.3.2. 39 Then opened I my mouth, and behold, he reached me a full cuppe, which was full as it were with water, but the colour of it was like fire.
40 And I tooke it, and dranke: and when I had dronke it, my heart had vnderstanding, and wisedome grew in my breast: for my spirit was strengthened in remembrance.
41 And my mouth was opened, and shut no more.
42 The highest gaue vnderstanding vnto the fiue men, that they wrote the high things of the night, which they vnderstood not.
43 But in the night they did eate bread: as for me I spake in the day, & held not my tongue by night.
44 In fourtie daies they wrote two hundred and foure bookes.
45 And it came to passe, when the fourtie dayes were fulfilled, that the highest spake, saying, The first that thou hast written, publish openly, that the worthy and vnworthy may reade it:
46 But keepe the seuentie last, that thou mayest deliuer them onely to such as be wise among the people.
47 For in them is the spring of vnderstanding, the fountaine of wisedome, and the streame of knowledge.
48 And I did so.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The prophesie of Esdras is certaine. 5 The euils that shall come on the world. 9 The Lord will auenge the innocent blood.

BEhold, speake thou in the eares of my people the words of prophesie, which I will put in thy mouth, saith the Lord,
2 And cause them to be written in a letter: for ‖ it is the trueth.
‖ Or, they are faithfull and true.
3 Feare not the imaginations against thee, let not the vnfaithfulnesse of them trouble thee, that speake against thee:
4 For all the vnfaithfull shal die in their vnfaithfulnesse.
5 Behold, (saith the Lorde) I will bring plagues vpon the worlde, the sword, hunger, death, and destruction:
6 For wickednesse hath the vpper hand in all the earth, and their shamefull workes are fulfilled:
7 Therefore saith the Lord,
8 I will holde my tongue no more of their wickednesse, which they doe so vngodly, neither will I suffer them in the things that they deale withall so wickedly: behold, * the innocent and righteous blood crieth vnto me, and the soules of the iust complaine continually.
Apoc.6.10. and 19.2.
9 And therefore, saith the Lord, I will surely auenge, and receiue vnto me all the innocent blood from among them.
10 Behold, my people is ledde as a flocke of sheepe to be slaine, I will not suffer them now to dwell in the land of Egypt:
11 But will bring them out with a mightie hand, and a stretched out arme, and smite it with plagues as afore, and will destroy all the land of it.
12 Egypt shall mourne, and the foundations of it shalbe smitten with the plague and punishment that God shall bring vpon it.
13 They that till the ground shall mourne, for their seedes shalbe destroyed through the blasting and hayle, and by an horrible starre.
14 Wo worth the world, and them that dwel therein:
15 For the sworde and their destruction draweth nigh, and one people shall stande vp to fight against another, and swordes in their hands.
16 ‖ For men shalbe vnstedfast, and some shall doe violence vnto other, they shall not regard their king, and the princes shal measure the way of their doings by their power.
‖ Or, for there shall be sedition amõg men.
17 A man shall desire to goe into a citie, and shall not be able.
18 For because of their pride, the cities shall be troubled, the houses shall tremble, and men shalbe afraid.
19 A man shall haue no pitie vpon his neighbour, but shal destroy their houses with ỹ sword, and spoyle their goods, because of the ‖ hunger of bread, and because of the great trouble.
‖ Or, lacke.
20 Behold, saith God, I call together all the kings of the earth to reuerence mee, which are from the ‖ byrising, from the South, from the East, and Libanus, to turne vpon them, and restore the things that they haue done to them:
‖ Or, West.
21 Like as they doe yet this day vnto my chosen, so will I doe also, and recompence them in their bosome: Thus saith the Lord God.
22 My right hand shall not spare the sinners, and my sword shal not cease ouer them that shed innocent blood vpon earth.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Kkk1v

23 The fire is gone out from his wrath, and hath consumed the foundations of the earth, and the sinners like the straw that is kindled.
24 Woe worth them that sinne, and keepe not my commandements, saith the Lord.
25 I will not spare them: goe your way yee children from the power, defile not my sanctuarie:
26 For the Lord knoweth all them that sinne against him, and therefore deliuereth he them vnto death and destruction.
27 For now are the plagues come vpon the world, and yee shall remaine in them: for God shall not deliuer you, because ye haue sinned against him.
28 Behold, an horrible vision commeth from the East,
29 Where generations of dragons of Arabia shall come out with many charets, and the multitude of them shall be caried as the winde vpon earth, that all they which heare them, may feare and tremble,
30 Euen the Carmanies raging in wrath, shall goe forth as the wilde bores of the forest, and with great power shal they come, and stand fighting with them, and shall waste a portion of the land of the Assyrians.
31 And then shal the dragons haue the vpper hand, and remembring their nature, shal turne about, conspiring together in great power to persecute them.
32 Then these shall be troubled, and keepe silence in their power, and shall flee:
33 And from the land of the Assyrians shal the enemy besiege them, and consume some of them, and in their hoste shall be feare and dread, and strife among their kings.
34 Behold clouds from the East and from the North vnto the South, and they are very horrible to looke vpon, full of wrath and storme:
35 They shall smite one vpon an other, and they shall smite downe a great multitude of starres vpon the earth, euen their owne starre: and the blood shall be from the sword vnto the belly,
36 And the doung of man vnto the cammels litter,
37 And there shall be great fearefulnesse and trembling vpon earth: and they that see the wrath, shall be afraid, and trembling shall come vpon them:
38 And then shall there come great raines from the South, and from the North, and part from the West:
39 And strong windes shall arise from the East, and shall open it, and the cloud which he rayled vp in wrath, and the starre stirred to cause feare toward the East and West winde, shall be destroyed:
40 The great cloudes shall be lift vp, and the mighty clouds full of wrath, and the starre, that they may make all the earth afraide, and them that dwel therein, and that they may powre out ouer euery high place an horrible starre,
41 Fire, and haile, and fleeing swordes, and many waters: that all fields may be full, and all riuers, with the abundance of great waters.
42 And they shall breake downe the cities, and walles, mountaines, and hilles, trees of the wood, and the grasse of the medowes, and all their corne.
43 And they shall goe stedfast vnto Babylon, and make her afraid.
44 They shall come to her, and besiege her, the ‖ starre and all wrath shall they powre out vpon her, then shall the dust and smoke goe vp vnto the heauen, and all they that be about her, shall bewayle her:
45 And they that remaine vnder her, shal doe seruice vnto them that haue put her in feare.
46 And thou Asia, that comfortest thy selfe also vpon the hope of Babylon, and art the glory of her person:
47 Woe be vnto thee thou wretch, because thou hast made thy selfe like vnto her, and hast decht thy daughters in whoredome, that they might ‖ triumph, and please thy louers, which haue alway desired to commit whoredome with thee.
48 Thou hast followed the abominable citie in all her workes and inuentions: therefore saith God, 49 I will sende plagues vpon thee, widowhood, pouerty, hunger, warres, and pestilence, to waste thy houses with destruction and death.
50 And the glory of thy power shalbe dried vp as a floure, when the heate riseth that is sent ‖ ouer thee:
51 Thou shalt be sicke as a poore wife that is plagued and beaten of women, so that the mightie and louers shall not be able to receiue thee.
52 Would I so hate thee, saith the Lord,
53 If thou hadst not alway slaine my chosen, exalting the stroke of thy hands, and saide ouer their death when thou wast drunken,
54 Set forth the beautie of thy countenance?
55 The reward of thy whoredome shalbe recompensed thee in thy bosome, therefore shalt thou receiue reward.
56 Like as thou hast done vnto my chosen, saith the Lord, euen, so shall God doe vnto thee, and shall deliuer thee into the plague.
57 The children shall die of hunger, and thou shalt fall through the sword: thy cities shall be broken downe, and all thine shall perish with the sword in the field.
58 They that be in the mountaines, shall die of hunger, and eate their owne flesh, and drinke their owne blood, for very hunger of bread, and thirst of water.
59 Thou as vnhappie shalt come thorow the sea, and receiue plagues againe.
60 In the passage they shall cast downe the slaine citie, & shall roote out one part of the land, and consume the portion of thy glory, and shall returne to her that was destroyed.
61 They shall tread thee downe like stubble, and they shalbe thy fire:
62 And shall consume thee, thy cities, and thy land, and thy mountaines, all thy woods and thy fruitfull trees shall they burne vp with the fire.
63 Thy children shall they carie away captiue, and looke what thou hast, they shall spoyle it, and marre the beautie of thy face.

The xvj. Chapter.

18. 38 Of the euils that shall come vpon the worlde, with admonition howe to gouerne themselues in afflictions.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Kkk2r

WOe be vnto thee Babylon and Asia, wo be vnto thee Egypt and Syria:

2 Gird vp your selues with clothes of sacke and haire, and mourne your children, be sory: for your destruction is at hand.

3 A sword is sent vpon you, and who will turne it backe?

4 A fire is sent among you, and who will quench it?

5 Plagues are sent vnto you, and what is he that will driue them away?

6 May any man driue away an hungry Lion in the wood? or may any man quench the fire in stubble when it hath begun to burne?

7 May one turne againe the arrow that is shot of a strong archer?

8 The mightie Lord sendeth the plagues, and what is he that will driue them away?

9 The fire is kindled, and gone forth in his wrath, and what is he that may quench it?

10 He shall cast lightnings, and who shall not feare? he shall thunder, and who shall not be afraid?

11 The Lord shal threaten, and who shal not vtterly be beaten to powder at his presence?

12 The earth quaketh, and the foundations thereof, the sea ariseth vp with waues from the deepe, and the waues of it are vnquiet, and the fishes therof also, before the Lord, and before the glory of his power:

13 For strong is his right hand that bendeth the bow, his arrowes that he shooteth are sharp, and shal not misse when they begin to be shot into the ends of the world.

14 Behold, the plagues are sent, and shal not turne againe till they come vpon earth.

15 The fire is kindled, and shal not be put out, till it consume the foundations of the earth.

16 Like as an arrow which is shot of a mightie Archer, returneth not backward: euen so the plagues that shall be sent vpon earth, shall not turne againe.

17 Woe is me, woe is mee, who will deliuer me in those dayes?

18 The beginning of sorowes & great mourning, the beginning of dearth and great death, the beginning of warres, and the powers shall stand in feare: the beginning of euils, and they shall tremble euery one.

19 What shall I do in these things, when the plagues come?

20 Behold, hunger, and plague, trouble, and anguish are sent as scourges for amendment:

21 But for all these things, they shall not turne from their wickednes, nor be alway mindfull of the scourges.

22 Behold, victailes shall be so good cheape vpon earth, that they shal thinke themselues to be in good case: and euen then shall mischiefe grow vpon earth, warres, dearth, and great ‖ disquietnesse. ‖ Or, confusion.

23 For many of them that dwell vpon earth, shall perish of hunger, and the other that escape the hunger, shall the sword destroy:

24 And the dead shall be cast out as doung, and there shall be no man to comfort them: for the earth shall be wasted, and the cities shall be cast downe.

25 There shal be no man left to till the earth, and to sow it.

26 The trees shall giue fruit, and who shall plucke them off, and gather them?

27 The grapes shall be ripe, and who shall tread them? for all places shall be desolate of men:

28 So that one man shal desire to see another, or to heare his voice.

29 For of one whole citie, there shalbe tenne left, and two of the field, which shall hide themselues in the thicke ‖ bushes, and in the clifts of stones, ‖ Or, woods.

30 Like as when there remain three or foure Oliues, in the place where Oliues grow, or among other trees,

31 Or as when a vineyard is gathered, there are left some grapes of them that diligently sought thorow the vineyard:

32 Euen so, in those daies, there shalbe three or foure left, by them that search their houses with the sword,

33 And the earth shall be layd waste, and the fields thereof shall ware old, and her wayes, and all her pathes shal grow full of thornes, because no man shall trauaile therethorow.

34 The virgines shall mourne, hauing no bridegromes, the women shall make lamentation, hauing no husbands, their daughters shall mourne, hauing no helpers.

35 In the warres shall their bridegromes be destroyed, and their husbandes shall perish of hunger.

36 But ye seruants of the Lord, heare these things, and marke them.

37 Behold the worde of the Lorde, O receiue it: beleeue not the gods of whom the Lord spake, 38 Behold the plagues draw nigh, and are not slacke in tarying.

39 Like as a trauailing woman, which in the ninth moneth bringeth forth a sonne, when the houre of the birth is come, an houre two or three afore that, the paines come vpon her body, and when the child commeth to the birth, they tarie not the twinckling of an eye:

40 Euen so shall not the plagues bee slacke to come vpon the earth, and the worlde shall mourne, and sorowes shall come vpon it on euery side:

41 O my people heare my worde, make you ready to the battell, and in all euill be euen as pilgrimes vpon earth.

42 Hee that selleth, let him be as hee that fleeth away: and he that buyeth, as one that will lose:

43 Who so occupieth marchandize, as he that winneth not: and he that buildeth, as he that shall not dwell therein:

44 He that soweth, as they that shall not reape: he that cutteth the vineyard, as he that shall not gather the grapes:

45 They that marry, as they that shall get no children: and they that marry not, as the widowes.

46 And therefore they that labour, labour in vaine.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Kkk2v

48 And they that occupie their marchandize with robberie, the more they decke their cities, their houses, their possessions, and their owne persons,

49 The more will I punish them for their sinnes, saith the Lord.

50 Like as a whore enuieth an honest and vertuous woman:

51 So shall righteousnesse hate iniquitie, when she decketh her selfe, and shall accuse her to her face, when he commeth that shall bridle the authour of all sinne vpon earth.

52 And therefore be not ye like thereunto, nor to the workes thereof:

53 For or euer it be long, iniquitie shalbe taken away out of the earth, and righteousnesse shall reigne among you.

54 Let not the sinner say that he hath not sinned: for coales of fire shall burne vpon his head, which saith, Before the Lord God and his glory, I haue not sinned.

Luk.16.15. 55 Behold, the Lord *knoweth all the workes of men, their imaginations, their thoughts, and their hearts.

Gene.1.1. 56 For he spake but the word, *Let the earth be made, and it was made: Let the heauen be made, and it was created.

Psal.146.4. 57 In his word were the starres made, and he knoweth the *number of them.

58 He searcheth the ground of the deepe, and the treasures thereof, he hath measured the sea, and what it conteineth.

59 He hath shut the sea in the middest of the waters, and with his word hath he hanged the earth vpon the waters.

60 He spreadeth out the heauens like a vault, vpon the waters hath he founded it.

61 In the desart and dry wildernesse hath he made springs of water, and pooles vpon the tops of the mountaines, that the floods might powre downe from the stonie rockes to water the earth.

62 Hee made man, and put his heart in the midst of the body, and gaue him breath, life, and vnderstanding, 63 Yea, and the spirit of the Almighty God which made all things, and hath searched the ground of all the secrets of the earth.

64 He knoweth your imaginations and inuentions, and what yee thinke when ye sinne, and would hide your sinnes.

65 Therefore hath the Lorde searched and sought out all your workes, and he shall bewray you all:

66 And when your sinnes are brought forth, ye shall be ashamed before men, and your owne sinnes shalbe your accusers in that day.

67 What will ye do? or how will ye hide your sinnes before God and his angels?

68 Beholde, God himselfe is the iudge, feare him: leaue off from your sinnes, and forget your vnrighteousnesse, & meddle no more with them: so shall God leade you forth, and deliuer you from all trouble.

69 For behold, the heate of a great multitude is kindled ouer you, and they shall take away certaine of you, and shall slay you for meate to the idoles.

70 And they that consent vnto them, shall be had in derision, laughed to scorne, and troden vnder foote.

71 For there shalbe in euery place, and in the next cities, a great insurrection vpon those that feare the Lord.

72 They shalbe like mad men, they shal spare no man, they shall spoyle and waste such as yet feare the Lord:

73 For their goods shal they take from them, and shut them out of their houses.

74 Then shall it bee knowen who are my chosen, and they shall be tryed as the golde in the fire.

75 Heare, O ye my beloued, saith the Lord: behold, the dayes of trouble are at hand, but I will deliuer you from the same.

76 Be not ye afraid, despaire not: for God is your captaine.

77 Who so keepeth my commandements and precepts, saith the Lord God, let not your sinnes weigh you downe, and let not your vnrighteousnesse be lift vp.

78 Woe be vnto them that are bound with their sinnes, and couered with their wickednesse, like as a field is hedged in with bushes, and the path thereof couered with thornes, that no man may trauaile thorow: it is shut vp, and is cast into the fire for euer, to be consumed therewith.

The booke of Tobias.

The first Chapter.

1 Tobias parentage. 3 His godlines. 6 His equitie. 8 His charitie and prosperitie. 23 He fleeth, and his goods are confiscate, 25 and after restored.

TObias was of the tribe and citie of Nephthali, which lyeth in the high countreys of Galilee aboue Naasson, beside the way that leadeth to the west, hauing the citie of Sephet vpon the left side.

4.Reg.17.3 2 Though hee was taken *prisoner in the dayes of Salmanasar king of the Assyrians, neuertheles being in captiuity, he forsooke not the way of trueth:

3 Insomuch that whatsoeuer he might get, he parted it dayly with his fellow prisoners and brethren that were of his kinred.

4 And though hee were yonger then all the tribe of Nephthali, yet did not he behaue himselfe childishly in his workes.

5 And when all the other went to the golden Calues, which *Jeroboam the king of Israel had made, he alone fled all their companies:

3.Reg.12.25. 6 And gate him to Hierusalem vnto the temple of the Lorde, and there worshipped the Lord God of Israel, faithfully offering of *all

Exo.22.29. deut.12.6. his first fruits and tithes:

7 So that in the third yeere, he ministred all the tithes vnto the strangers and conuerts.

8 These and such like things did he obserue, according to the law of God, when hee was yet but yong.

9 But when he was a man, he tooke out of

Num.36.6. his owne tribe a wife called *Anna: and of her he begate a sonne, whom he called after his own name,

10 And taught him from his youth vp to feare God, and to refraine from all sinne.

11 Now when hee with his wife, his sonne, and with all his ‖kinred, was come in captiuity

‖Or, tribe. vnto the citie of Niniue:

Gen.43.32 12 * what time as they all did eate of the meats of the heathen, he kept his soule, and was neuer defiled in their meates.

13 And forsomuch as he was mindfull of the Lord in all his heart, God gaue him fauour in the sight of Salmanasar the king:

14 Which gaue him power to goe where hee would, and so had he libertie to doe whatsoeuer he would.

15 So went Tobias vnto all them that were in captiuity, and comforted them, and gaue them wholesome exhortations.

16 And when he came to Rages, a city of the Medes, hauing tenne talents of siluer (of the things wherewith the king had honored him,)

17 And sawe among a great company of people of his kinred, one Gabelus which was of his owne tribe being in necessitie, he gaue him the sayd weight of siluer, vnder an hand writing.

18 After a long season, when Salmanasar the king was dead, and Sennacherib his sonne reigned in his stead, which hated the children of Israel:

19 Tobias went daily throughout al his kinred, and comforted them, and gaue of his goods to euery one of them, as much as he might.

20 He fed the hungry, clothed the naked, and buried the dead and slaine, and that diligently.

21 And when *Sennacherib the king came 4.Reg.19.35. againe, and fled out of Iurie (what time as God punished him for his blasphemie) & in his wrath slew many of the children of Israel, Tobias buried their bodies.

22 But when it was tolde the king, hee commanded to slay him, & tooke away all his goods.

23 Neuertheless Tobias with his sonne, and with his wife, fledde away naked, and was hid: for there were many that loued him.

24 *But after foortie and fiue dayes, the king 4.Reg.19. 17.2.chro. 32.21. was slaine of his owne sonnes:

25 Then came Tobias againe to his house, and all his goods were restored vnto him.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Tobias calleth the faithfull to his table. 3 He leaueth the feast to bury the dead. 10 How he became blinde. 19 His wife laboureth for his liuing. 22 Shee reprocheth him bitterly.

AFter those things, vpon a solemne day of the Lorde, Tobias made a good feast in his house,

2 And said vnto his sonne, Go thy way, and bring hither some of our tribe, such as feare God, that they may make merry with vs.

3 And when he was gone, he came againe, and tolde his father that one of the children of Israel lay slaine vpon the streete.

4 And immediatly he leapt from his table, left the feast, came fasting to the dead coarse, tooke him, and bare him priuily into his house, that when the sunne was downe, he might safely bury him.

5 And when he had hid the coarse, he did eat his meat with mourning and feare,

6 Remembring the wordes that the Lorde sayd by the Prophet Amos, Your* high feastes Amos.8.18 shall be turned to sorow and heauinesse.

7 But when the sunne was downe, he went his way, and buried him.

8 Then all ‖his neighbours reproued him, ‖or, his next of kinne. saying, It is not long since it was commaunded to slay thee because of this matter, and hast scarce escaped the danger of death, and buryest thou the dead againe?

9 Neuertheless, Tobias fearing God more then the king, tooke the bodies of the slaine, and hid them in his house, and buried them at midnights.

10 It happened vpon a day, that hee had buried ried the dead, and was weary, came home, and layd him downe by the wall, and slept.

11 And while he was asleepe, there fel downe vpon his eyes warme dung out of the swallowes nest, so that he was blind.

12 This temptation did God suffer to happen vpon him, that they which came after, might haue an example of his patience, like as of holy Job.

13 For inasmuch as he euer feared God from his youth vp, and kept his commandements, he grudged not against God, that the plague of blindnesse chanced vnto him:

14 But remained stedfast in the feare of God, and thanked God all the dayes of his life.

15 For like as blessed Job was had in derision of kings: euen so was hee laughed to scorne of his elders and himselfe, which said vnto him,

16 Where is the hope for the which thou hast done almes, and buried the dead?

17 But Tobias rebuked them, and spake, Say not so:

18 For we are the children of holy men, and looke for the life which God shal giue vnto them that neuer turne their beleefe from him.

19 And Anna his wife went dayly to the weauing worke:

20 And looke what liuing she could get with the labour of her hands, she brought it. And it happened that hee tooke a kid, and brought it home:

21 And when her husband heard it crie, hee sayd, *Looke that it be not stolen: restore it againe to the owners, for it is not lawfull for vs to eate or to touch any thing of theft.

Deut.22.1.

Iob.2.9.

22 Then was his wife angry, and said, *Now is thy hope become vaine openly, & thine almes deedes are manifest.

23 With these and such like words did she cast him in the teeth.

3 The prayer of Tobias. 7 Sara Raguels daughter, and the things that came vnto her. 12 Her prayer heard. 19 The Angel Raphael sent.

‖Or, sighed.

THen Tobias ‖ tooke it heauily, and with teares began to make his prayer.

2 Saying, O Lord, thou art righteous, and all thy iudgements are true: yea, all thy wayes are mercie, faithfulnesse, and iudgement.

3 And now, O Lord, be mindfull of me, and take no vengeance of my sinnes, neither remember my misdeedes, neither the misdeedes of my forefathers.

4 For we haue not bene obedient vnto thy commandements, *therefore are wee spoiled, brought into captiuitie, into death, into derision and shame vnto all nations, among whom thou hast scattered vs.

Deu.28.15

5 And now, O Lorde, thy iudgements are great: for wee haue not done according to thy commandements, neither haue we walked innocently before thee.

6 And now, O Lord, deale with mee according to thy will, and command my spirit to bee receiued in peace: for more expedient were it for me to die then to liue.

7 At the same time it happened that Sara the daughter of Raguel, at Rages a citie of the Medes, was also reproched by one of her fathers handmaides,

8 That she had seuen husbands, which as soone as they were gone in vnto her, were slaine of the deuill, called Asmodeus.

9 Therefore when she reproued the maiden for her fault, thee answered her, saying, God let vs neuer see sonne nor daughter of thee more vpon earth, thou killer of thy husbands.

10 Wilt thou slay me also, as thou hast slaine seuen men? At this voice went Sara into an high chamber of her house, and three dayes and three nights shee neither ate nor dranke:

11 But continued in prayer, and besought God with teares, that he would deliuer her from this rebuke.

12 Vpon the third day it came to passe, that when she had made an end of prayer, she praised the Lord,

13 Saying, Blessed bee thy name, O God of our fathers, which when thou art wroth, shewest mercie, and in time of trouble thou forgiuest the sinnes of them that call vpon thee.

14 Vnto thee, O Lord, turne I my face, vnto thee lift I vp mine eyes:

15 I beseech thee, O Lord, loose me out of the bonds of this rebuke, or else take mee vtterly away from the earth.

16 Thou knowest, Lorde, that I neuer had desire vnto man, and that I haue kept my soule cleane from all vncleanly lust:

17 I haue not kept company with those that passe their time in sport, neither haue I made my selfe partaker with them that walke in light behauiour.

18 An husband haue I consented to take, not for my pleasure, but in thy feare.

19 Now peraduenture, either I haue bene vnworthy of them, or els were they vnmeete for me: for thou happily hast kept me to another husband.

20 For why? thy counsell is not in the power of man.

21 But euery one that serueth thee, is sure of this, that if his life be in trying, it shall be crowned, and if it be in trouble, that God no doubt shal deliuer him: and if his life be in chastening, that he shall haue leaue to come vnto thy mercie.

22 For thou hast no pleasure in our ‖damnation: and why? after a storme, thou makest the weather faire and still, after weeping and heauinesse, thou giuest great ioy.

‖Or, destruction.

23 Thy name, O God of Israel, bee praised for euer.

24 At the same time were both their prayers heard, in the sight of the maiestie of the highest God.

25 And Raphael the holy Angel of the Lord was sent to helpe them both, whose prayers ‖ came at one time together before God.

‖Or, were recited at one time together.

The iiij. Chapter,

Precepts and exhortations of Tobias to his sonne.

SO when Tobias thought his prayer to bee heard, that he might die, he called vnto him his sonne Tobias:

2 And sayd vnto him, My sonne, heare the wordes of my mouth, and lay them in thine heart as a foundation.

3 When God taketh away my soule, burie

4 For thou oughtest to remember, what, and how great perils she suffered for thee in her wombe.

5 And when thee also hath fulfilled the time of her life, bury her ‖ beside me.

‖Or, about.

6 Haue God in thy thought all the dayes of thy life, and beware, least at any time thou consent vnto sinne, and least thou let slippe the commandements of the Lord our God.

20 Be alway praising of God, and beseech him that hee will ‖order thy wayes, and that whatsoeuer thou deuisest or takest in hand, it may remaine in him.

‖Or, direct.

‖Or, de-struction.

21 I certifie thee also my sonne, that when thou wast yet but a babe, I deliuered ten talents of siluer vnto Gabelus at Rages a citie of the Medes, and his hand writing haue I by me:

22 And therefore seeke some meanes, how thou mayest come by him, and receiue of him the sayde weight of siluer, and giue him his hand writing againe.

Rom.8.17 23 My sonne, be not afraid: *trueth it is, we leade here a poore life, but great good shall wee haue if we feare God, and depart from all sinne, and doe well.

The v. Chapter.

2 Tobias is sent to Rages: 5 Hee meeteth with the Angel Raphael, which did conduct him.

THen Tobias answered his father, and sayd, Father, all that thou hast commaunded mee, will I doe, and that diligently.

2 But how shall I require this money, I cannot tell, neither doeth hee know mee, nor I him: what token shall I giue him? And as for the way thither, I neuer knew it.

3 Then his father answered him, and sayd, I haue his hand writing by mee, which when thou shewest him, immediatly he shall pay thee.

4 But goe thy way now, and get thee some faithfull man to goe with thee for an hire, that thou mayest receiue the money while I am yet liuing.

5 Then went Tobias out, and vpon the streete he found a faire yong man standing girded vp, and as it were one ready to take his iourney.

6 And he knew not that it was an Angel of God, but saluted him, and sayd, From whence art thou, thou good yong man?

7 Hee answered, Of the children of Israel. And Tobias sayd vnto him, Knowest thou the way that leadeth vnto the Countrey of the Medes?

8 He answered, I know it wel, and all those ‖streets haue I gone oft times, and haue lodged with our brother Gabelus that dwelleth in Rages, a citie of the Medes, which lieth vpon the mount Ecbatanis.

‖Or, wayes.

9 Tobias sayd vnto him, I pray thee tarie for me till I haue told my father these things.

10 Then went Tobias in, and told his father all: at the which his father marueiled, and prayed that he would come vnto him.

11 Now when hee came in, hee saluted him, and sayd, Joy be with thee for euermore.

12 And old Tobias said, What ioy can I haue, that sit here in darkenesse, and see not the light of heauen?

13 The yong man said vnto him, Be of good cheere, God shall helpe thee shortly.

14 And Tobias sayd vnto him, Canst thou bring my sonne to Gabelus vnto the citie of Rages in Media? and when thou commest againe, I shall pay thee thy hire.

15 And the Angel sayd vnto him, I shal leade thy sonne, and bring him to thee againe.

16 Then Tobias answered him, Tell mee, I pray thee, of what house, or of what tribe art thou?

17 The Angel Raphael said vnto him, Seekest thou after the hired of an hireling, or an hired man himself for thy sonne to go with him?

18 But that I make thee not carefull, I am Azarias, the sonne of great Hananias.

19 And Tobias answered, Thou art come of a great hired: but I pray thee, be not displeased, that I desire to know thy hired.

20 The Angel sayd vnto him, Thy sonne shal I leade forth safely, and bring him whole and sound to thee againe.

21 Then answered Tobias, and sayd, Wel, go on your way, and God bee in your iourney, and his Angel beare you company.

22 So when they had prepared al things that they would take with them in their iourney, Tobias bade his father and his mother farewel: and they went on their way both together.

23 Now when they were gone, his mother began to weepe, and sayde, *Thy staffe of our age hast thou taken away, and sent him from vs. Tob,10.4.

24 Would God that money had neuer bene, for the which thou hast sent him away.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Kkk4v

25 For our pouerty was sufficient for vs: why, we should haue counted it riches that we saw our sonne here.
26 Then sayd Tobias vnto her, Weepe not, our sonne shall goe safely and come to vs againe sound, and thine eyes shall see him.
27 For I trust that the good Angel of God shall beare him company, and order well all the things that he doth, so that he shall come to vs againe with ioy.
28 At these wordes his mother left off from weeping, and held her peace.

The vj. Chapter.

2 Tobias deliuered from the fish. 8 Raphael sheweth him certaine medicines. 19 He conducteth him toward Sara.

SO Tobias went on his way, and a dogge followed him, and the first night they abode by the water of Tigris.
2 Then went he out to wash his feete, and behold, there came forth an horrible fish to deuoure him.
3 Of whom Tobias was afraid, and cryed with a loud voyce, saying, Lord he commeth vpon me.
4 And the Angel said vnto him, take him by the gyll, and draw him to thee. And he did so, and drew him vnto the land: and the fish began to leape at his feete.
5 Then said the Angel vnto him, Take out the bowels of this fish: and as for the heart, the gall, and the liuer, keepe them by thee: for these things are necessary and good for medicines.
6 Tobias did so, and rosted the fish, and they tooke it with them in their iourney: the residue they salted, as much as was sufficient for them, till they came to Rages a city of the Medes.
7 Then Tobias asked the Angel, and sayd vnto him, I pray thee, brother Azarias, tell me, whereto are these things good of the fish that thou hast bidden me keepe?
8 The Angel answered him, & said, If thou layest a piece of the heart vpon the coales, the smoake thereof driueth away all euill spirits, whether it be from man or from woman, so that from thencefoorth the same shall come no more vnto them.
9 The gall is good to anoint or to strike the eyes withall, whereas there is any blemish in them, so that they halbe whole.
10 And Tobias sayde vnto him, where wilt thou that we remaine? The Angell answered,
Num. 27.8. 11 And said, *Here is a nigh kinsman of thine, and of thy tribe, one Raguel by name, which hath a daughter called Sara, and hath neither sonne nor daughter but her.
12 All his good belongeth vnto thee, & thou must marry her.
13 And therefore desire her of her father, and he shall giue her thee to wife.
14 Then answered Tobias, and sayd, As I vnderstand, she hath bene married vnto seuen husbands, & they all are dead: and I haue heard say that the deuill slew them.
15 I am afrayd therefore, least such things happen vnto mee also: which if it come to passe, seeing I am the onely sonne of my father and my mother, I should bring them in their age with sorow to their graues.
16 Then sayd the Angel Raphael vnto him, Heare me, and I will tell thee what they be of whom the deuill hath power:
17 Namely, they that receiue marriage after such a fashion, that they shut God out from them, and from their heart, & giue themselues to their owne lust, euen as it were *an horse and mule which haue no vnderstanding: vpon such hath the deuill power. Psal. 31.9.
18 But when thou takest her, and art come into the chamber, withhold thy selfe from her three dates, and giue thy diligence vnto nothing but vnto prayer with her.
19 And in the first night roste the liuer of the fish, and the deuill halbe driuen away.
20 The second night shalt thou be receiued into the company of the holy Patriarks.
21 The third night shalt thou obteine the blessing of God, so that ‖ whole children shall be borne of you. ‖ Or, sound.
22 After the third night, take the mayden in the feare of God, and more for the desire of children, then for any fleshly lust, that in the seede of Abraham thou mayest obteine the blessing in children.

The vij. Chapter.

Tobias marrieth Sara Raguels daughter.

THen went they vnto Raguel, which receiued them ioyfully.
2 And when Raguel looked vpon Tobias, he said vnto Anna his wife, How like is this young man vnto my sisters sonne?
3 And when he had spoken this, he said, whence be ye, ye yong men, and our brethren? They sayd, Of the tribe of Nephthali, out of the captiuitie of Ninive.
4 Then said Raguel vnto them, Know ye my brother Tobias? They said, Yea, we know him well.
5 And when he had spoken much good of him, the Angel said vnto Raguel, Tobias, of whom thou askest, is this yong mans father.
6 Then Raguel bowed himselfe downe, and wept, and tooke him about the necke, and killed him,
7 And sayd, Gods blessing haue thou, my sonne, for thou art the sonne of a good vertuous man.
8 And Anna his wife, and Sara his daughter wept also.
9 Now when they had talked together, Raguel bade kill a wether, and to make a feast: and when hee had exhorted them to sit downe to dinner,
10 Tobias said, I will neither eat nor drinke here this day, except thou first graunt mee my petition, and promise me to giue me thy daughter Sara.
11 When Raguel heard this, he was astonied: for he knew what had happened vnto the other seuen men that went in vnto her: and he began to feare that it should chance vnto him in like manner. And while he stood so in a doubt, and gaue the young man no answere,
12 The Angel said vnto him, Feare not to giue him thy daughter, for vnto this man that feareth God, belongeth thy daughter to wife: therefore might none other haue her.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Kkk5r

13 Then sayd Raguel, I doubt not but God hath accepted my prayers & teares in his sight:
14 And I beleeue he caused you to come vnto mee for the same intent, that this daughter of mine might be married in her owne kinred, according to the *law of Moses: and now doubt thou not, but I will giue her vnto thee.
Num.36.6.
15 So hee tooke the right hand of his daughter, and gaue her into the right hand of Tobias, and sayd, The God of Abraham, the God of Isahac, and the God of Jacob be with you, ioyne you together, and fulfill his blessing in you.
16 And they tooke a letter, and made a writing of the marriage.
17 And then made they merry, and prayed God.
18 And Raguel called Anna his wife vnto him, and bade her prepare another chamber.
19 And thither he brought Sara his daughter, and she wept.
20 Then sayd he vnto her, Be of good cheere, my daughter: the Lord of heauen giue thee ioy, for the heauinesse that thou hast suffered.

The viij. Chapter.

3 Tobias driueth away the euill spirit. 7 He prayeth to God with his wife. 11 Raguel prepareth a graue for his sonne in law. 16 Raguel blesseth the Lord.

NOwe after that they had supped, they brought the young man in to her.
2 Then thought Tobias vpon the wordes of the Angel, and tooke out of his bagge a piece of the liuer of the fish, and layd it vpon the hot coales.
3 So the Angel Raphael tooke holde of the deuill, and sent him away, and bound him in the wildernesse of the higher Egypt.
4 Then spake Tobias vnto the virgine, and sayde, Vp Sara, let vs make our prayer vnto God to day, to morowe, and ‖ouermorowe: for these three nights will we ‖reconcile our selues with God: and when the third holy night is past, we shall ioyne together in the duety of mariage.
‖Or, the third day. ‖Or, ioyne our selues to God.
5 For we are the children of holy men, and we may not come together as the Heathen that know not God.
6 Then stood they vp both together, and besought God earnestly ‖that hee would preserue them.
‖Or, that health might be giuen them.
7 And Tobias sayd, O Lord God of our fathers, praised be thou of heauen and earth, of the sea, welles, and floods, and of all thy creatures that be therein.
8 Thou *madest Adam of the mould of the earth, and gauest him Eua for an helper.
Gen.2.7.
9 And now Lorde, thou knowest that it is not because of voluptuousnesse that I take this sister of mine to wife, but onely for the loue of children, in whome thy name may be blessed for euer.
10 And Sara sayd, Haue mercy vpon vs, O Lord, haue mercy vpon vs, and let vs both come whole and sound together to a good age.
11 And about the cocke crowing it came to passe, that Raguel called his seruants:
12 And they went with him to make a graue.
13 For hee sayd, It is chanced now vnto him peraduenture, as it did vnto the other seuen men that went in vnto her.
14 Now when they had made the graue, Raguel came againe to his wife, and said vnto her, Send one of thy maydens to looke if he be dead, that I may bury him afore it be light day.
15 So she sent a mayden to see: which when shee came into the chamber, found them whole and sound, sleeping together.
16 And so she came againe, and brought good tidings: then Raguel and Anna his wife praised the Lord,
17 And sayd, Praised be thou, O Lorde God of Israel, that it is not happened vnto vs as we thought.
18 For thou hast dealt mercifully with vs, and put away from vs the enemy that persecuted vs,
19 And hast shewed mercie vnto yonder two, the onely borne children of their parents: O Lord, cause them to magnifie thee more perfectly, and to offer the sacrifice of thy praise and of their health: that all people may knowe that thou onely art God in all the earth.
20 And immediatly Raguel commanded his seruants to fill the graue that they had made, with earth, afore it was light:
21 And bade his wife prepare a feast, and to make ready all things that were necessary for meat to such as went by the way.
22 He caused two fat kine also and foure wethers to be slaine, and meates to be prepared for all his neighbours and friends.
23 And Raguel charged Tobias to remaine with him two weekes.
24 As for all the good that hee had, he gaue Tobias the halfe of it, and made this writing, That the halfe which remained, should fall vnto Tobias after their death.

The ix. Chapter.

The Angel goeth to Gabelus at the desire of Tobias: which deliuereth the letter, & receiueth the mony.

WHen Tobias called vnto him the Angel, whom he thought to haue beene a man, and sayde vnto him, Brother Azarias, I pray thee hearken vnto my wordes.
2 If I should giue my selfe to be thy seruant, I shall not deserue thy prouidence.
3 Neuertheless, I beseech thee that thou wilt take the beastes, and the seruants, and goe vnto Gabelus in Rages the city of the Medes, and deliuer him his handwriting, and receiue the money of him, and pray him to come to my mariage.
4 For thou knowest thy selfe that my father doeth number the dayes: and if I tary one day too long, he will be sory in his minde.
5 Nowe seest thou howe earnestly Raguel hath required me, so that I cannot say him nay.
6 Then tooke Raphael foure of Raguels seruants, and two camels, and went vnto Rages the city of the Medes: and when hee had found Gabelus, he gaue him his handwriting, and receiued all the money.
7 He tolde him also of Tobias the sonne of Tobi, how all things had happened: and caused him to come with him to the mariage.
8 Now when he came into the house of Raguel, he found Tobias sitting at the table: and he leaped vp, and they kissed one another, and Gabelus wept, and praised God.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Kkk5v

9 And sayd, the blessing of the God of Israel haue thou, for thou art the sonne of a right vertuous and iust man, and of one that feareth God, and giueth great almes:
10 And blessing haue thy wife, and your elders,
11 That yee may see your children, and your childrens children vnto the third and fourth generation: and your seede be blessed of the God of Israel, which reigneth world without end.
12 And when they all had sayde Amen, they went to the feast: but with the feare of the Lord held they the feast of the mariage.

The x. Chapter.

1 Tobias and his wife thinke long for their sonne. 10 Raguel sendeth away Tobias and Sara.

NOwe while young Tobias made long tarying, by reason of the mariage, his father was full of care and heauinesse, saying, Canst thou thinke what should bee the cause that my sonne taryeth so long? or why he should be kept so long there?
2 Thinkest thou Gabelus is dead, and no man will giue him the money?
3 Thus began hee to be very sorowfull, hee and Anna his wife with him: and beganne to weepe both together, because their sonne was not come againe vnto them at the day appointed.
4 As for his mother, shee wept with discomfortable teares, and sayd, Woe is me my sonne, Oh what ayled vs to sende thee away into a strange countrey, thou light of our eyes, thou staffe of our age, thou comfort of our life, thou hope of our generation?
Tob.5.19.
5 Seeing all the things that wee haue are only in thee, we should not haue sent thee away from vs.
6 Then Tobias comforted her and said, Hold thy peace, and be not discomforted, our sonne is whole and sound: the man that wee sent him withall, is faithfull ynough.
7 Neuertheless, shee might in no wise bee comforted: but daily went out, looked about, and went about all the streetes whereby shee thought hee should come againe, that if it were possible, she might see him comming afarre off.
8 But Raguel sayd vnto his sonne in lawe, Otary here, and I shall send a messenger vnto thy father Tobias, to tell him that thou art in good health.
9 Tobias sayd vnto him, I am sure that my father and my mother count euery day, and that their hearts are sory.
10 So when Raguel had prayed Tobias with many wordes, and hee would in no wise heare him, hee deliuered Sara vnto him, and the halfe part of all his goods, in seruants, and handmaidens, in sheepe, in camels, and in kine, and much money: and so sent him away from him with health and ioy.
11 And sayd, The holy Angel of the Lorde be with you in your iourney, and bring you forth safe and sound: that yee may finde all things in good case with your elders, and that mine eyes may see your children afore I dye.
12 So the elders embraced their daughter, kissed her, and let her goe:
13 Exhorting her to honour her father and mother in law, to loue her husband, to rule well her houshold, to keepe her house in good order, and to shew her selfe faultelesse.

The xj. Chapter.

1 The returne of Tobias to his father. 11 How hee was receiued. 15 His father hath his sight restored, and praiseth the Lord.

AS they nowe were going homeward againe, vpon the eleuenth day they came to Charran, which lieth in the halfe way toward Ninive.
2 And the Angell sayde, Brother Tobias, thou knowest how thou hast left thy father.
3 Therefore if it please thee, we two will goe before, and let the houshold, with thy wife and the cattell, come faire and softly after vs.
4 And when Tobias was content that they should goe before, Raphael sayd vnto him, Take of the gall of the fish with thee: for it shall be necessary. So Tobias tooke of the gall, and they went their way:
5 But Anna the mother of Tobias sate daily by the way side vpon the top of an hill, from whence she might see farre about her.
6 And while shee was waiting there for his comming, shee looked afarre off, and anon shee perceiued her sonne comming, and ranne and tolde her husband, saying, Beholde, thy sonne commeth.
7 And Raphael sayd vnto Tobias, As soone as thou commest into the house, immediatly worship the Lord thy God, and giue thanks vnto him: then goe to thy father, and kisse him.
8 And straightwayes strike his eyes ouer with the gall of the fish that thou hast brought with thee: for be sure that his eyes shal straightway bee opened, and thy father shall see the light of heauen, and shall reioyce at the sight of thee.
9 Then the dogge that had bene with them in their iourney ran before, and came as a messenger, and wagged his taile for gladnesse.
10 So the blind father arose, and beganne to runne, and stumbled with his feete: and gaue a seruant his hand, and ranne to meet his sonne,
11 Receiued him, and kissed him, hee and his wife, and they both began to weepe for ioy.
12 Nowe when they had worshipped & thanked God, they sate downe.
13 Then tooke Tobias of the fish gall, and anoynted his fathers eyes:
14 And taried halfe an houre, and then began the blemish to goe out of his eyes, like as it had bene the white skinne of an egge:
15 Which Tobias tooke and drewe from his eyes, and immediatly he receiued his sight.
16 Then they prayed God, hee and his wife, and all they that knew him.
17 And Tobias said, O Lord God of Israel, I giue thee praise and thanks, for thou hast chastened me, and made me whole: and loe, now do I see my sonne Tobias.
18 After seuen dayes came Sara his sonnes wife also whole and sound, with al the houshold and cattell, with camels, and much money of his wiues, and with the money that hee had receiued of Gabelus.
19 And hee tolde his father and his mother, all the benefites which God had done for him by the man that ledde him.

20 Achior also and Nabath Tobias sisters sonne came, and were glad, and reioyced with him, by reason of all the good things that God had shewed vnto him: and so for the space of seuen dayes they made merry, and were right ioyfull euery one.

The xij. Chapter.

2 Tobias declareth to his father, the pleasures that Raphael had done him: 5 The which hee would recompence.

THen Tobias called his sonne vnto him, and sayd, what may we giue this holy man that ‖ went with thee? ‖Or, came.

2 Tobias answered his father, and sayd, Father, what reward shall wee giue him? or what thing can deserue his benefites?

3 He hath beene my guide, and brought me safe againe, hee receiued the money from Gabelus, hee caused me to get my wife, hee droue the euill spirit from her, he hath bene an occasion of gladnesse to her father and mother, he deliuered me that I was not deuoured of the fish, he hath made thee to see the light of heauen: yea, we all haue receiued great good of him.

4 How should wee worthily deserue these things vnto him? But, I pray thee my father, that thou wilt desire him, if haply he wil vouchsafe, to take with him the halfe of all that wee haue brought.

5 So the father and the sonne called him, tooke him aside, and beganne to pray him, that he would be content to take in good worth, the halfe part of all that they had brought.

6 Then sayd hee secretly vnto them, Praise yee the God of heauen, and giue thankes vnto him before all men liuing: for hee hath shewed his mercy vnto you.

7 It is good to hide the kings secret: but to shewe and to praise the workes of God, it is an honourable thing.

8 Prayer is good with fasting, and mercie is better then to hoord vp treasures of gold.

9 For mercie deliuereth from death, cleanseth sinne, and causeth to finde mercie and life euerlasting.

10 But they that doe sinne and vnrighteousnesse, are the enemies of their owne soule.

11 Wherefore I tell you the trueth, and will hide no secret thing from you.

12 When thou prayedst with teares, and buriedst the dead, and leftest thy dinner, and hiddest the dead in thine house vpon the day time, that thou mightest bury them in the night, I offered thy prayer before the Lord.

13 And because thou wast accept and beloued of God, it was necessary that temptation should try thee.

14 And now hath the Lorde sent me to heale thee, and to deliuer Sara thy sonnes wife from the euill spirit.

15 For I am Raphael an Angell, one of the seuen that stand before the Lord.

16 When they heard this, they were sore afraid, and trembled, and fell downe vpon their faces vnto the ground.

17 Then sayd the Angel, Peace be with you, feare not.

18 For whereas I haue beene with you, it is the will of God: giue praise and thankes vnto him.

19 *You thought that I did eate and drinke with you, but I vse meate that is inuisible, and drinke that cannot be seene of men. Gen. 18.7. iudi. 13.16

20 Nowe therefore is the time that I must turne againe vnto him that sent me: but be yee thankfull vnto God, and tell out all his wonderous workes.

21 And when he had spoken these words, hee was taken away out of their sight, so that they could see him no more.

22 Then fell they downe flat vpon their faces, by the space of three houres, and praised God: and when they rose vp, they tolde all his wonderous workes.

The xiij. Chapter.

A thankesgiuing of Tobias, who exhorteth all to praise the Lorde.

THen old Tobias opened his mouth, and praised the Lorde, and sayde, Great art thou, O Lord, for euermore, and thy kingdome worlde without end.

2 For thou *scourgest and healest, thou leadest vnto hell, and bringest out againe: and there is none that may escape thine hand. Deu. 32.39 sap. 16.13.

3 O giue thankes vnto the Lorde, yee children of Israel, and praise him in the sight of the heathen:

4 For among the heathen which know him not, hath he scattered you, to the intent that yee should shew forth his marueilous workes, and cause them for to know, that there is none other God Almightie but he.

5 Hee hath chastened vs for our misdeedes, and for his owne mercies sake shall he saue vs.

6 Consider then how he hath dealt with you, and praise him with feare and dread: and magnifie the euerlasting king in your workes.

7 I will praise him euen in the land of my captiuitie, for he hath shewed his maiestie vnto a sinnefull people.

8 Turne you therefore, O yee sinners, and doe righteousnesse before God, and be yee sure that he will shew his mercie vpon you.

9 As for me and my soule, wee will reioyce in God.

10 O praise the Lord all ye his chosen: holde the dayes of gladnesse, and be thankefull vnto him.

11 O Hierusalem thou city of God, the Lord hath punished thee for the workes of thine owne hands.

12 O praise the Lord in thy good things, and giue thankes to the euerlasting God, that hee may builde vp his Tabernacle againe in thee, that dee may call againe vnto thee all such as be in captiuitie, and that thou mayest haue ioy for euermore.

13 With a faire light shalt thou shine, and all thee ends of the world shall honour thee.

14 The *people shall come vnto thee from farre, they shall bring giftes, and worshippe the Lorde in thee, and the lande shall they haue for a Sanctuarie: for they shall call vpon the great Name in thee. Esa. 49.18 acts 2.5.

15 Cursed shall they be that despise thee, and all that blaspheme thee shall be condemned: but blessed shall they be that build thee vp.

16 As for thee, thou shalt reioyce in thy children: for they all shalbe blessed, and gathered together vnto the Lord.
17 Blessed are al they that loue thee, and that be glad of thy peace.
18 Prayse thou the Lord, O my soule: for the Lorde our God hath deliuered his city Hierusalem from all her troubles.
19 I will count my selfe happie, if my seede remaine to see the cleerenesse of Jerusalem.
Apoc.21.18 20 The * gates of Hierusalem shalbe builded with Saphir and Smaragde, and all the compasse of her walles with precious stones.
21 All her streetes shall be paued with white and faire stone, and in all streetes shall Alleluia bee sung.
22 Praised be the Lorde which hath exalted her, that his kingdome may bee vpon her for euermore. Amen.

The xiiij. Chapter.

5 Lessons of Tobias to his sonne. 6 He prophecieth the destruction of Niniue, 7 and the restoring of Hierusalem and the temple.

AND so Tobias made an end of speaking: and after that Tobias had gotten his sight againe, hee liued fourtie and two yeeres, and sawe his childrens children.
2 Now when he was an hundred and two yeeres old, he dyed, and was buried honourably in Nineue.
3 For when hee was fiue and fiftie yeeres of age, hee lost the sight of his eyes: and when hee was threescore yeeres olde, hee gate his sight againe.
4 The residue of his life led he in ioy, and increased well in the feare of God, and departed in peace.
5 But in the houre of his death, hee called vnto him his sonne Tobias, and seuen young ‖ springals his sonnes children, and sayde vnto them,
‖ Or, young impes.
6 The destruction of Nineue is at hand (for the word of the Lorde cannot faile) and our brethren that are scattered out of the land of Israel, shall come thither againe.
7 And the whole lande of it that hath beene waste, shall be filled, and the house of God that was * burnt in it, shalbe builded againe: and all such as feare God, shall returne thither.
1.Esd.3.8. and 6.14.
8 The heathen also shall forsake their idols, and come to Hierusalem, and dwell there:
9 And all the kings of the earth shall be glad in her, and worship the Lord God of Israel.
10 And therefore, my children, heare your father, * serue the Lorde in the trueth, seeke after his will, to doe the thing that pleaseth him:
Deut.6.13. iosu.24.14. 1.reg.7.8.
11 Commaund your children that they doe right, giue almes, be mindfull of God, and euer to be thankefull vnto him in trueth, and with all their power.
12 Heare me now therefore, my children, and abide not here: but in what day soeuer yee haue buried your mother by me in one sepulchre, get you from hence:
13 For I see that the wickednesse of it, shall bring it to destruction and end.
14 After the death of his mother, Tobias departed away from Niniue, with his wife and children, and with his childrens children, & came againe to his father and mother in lawe,
15 And found them whole, and in a good age, and tooke the care of them: and hee closed their eyes, and was heire vnto all Raguels goods, and sawe the fifth generation, and his childrens children.
16 And ninetie and nine yeres being ended in the feare of God, they buried him with ioy.
17 And all his kinred & posteritie continued in a good life and holy conuersation: so that they were loued and accepted both of God and men, and of all the people of the land.

The end of the Booke of Tobias.

The booke of Iudith.

The first Chapter.

2 The building of Ecbatanis. 5 Nabuchodonosor made warre against Arphaxad, and ouercame him. 12 He threatneth them that would not helpe him.

ARphard the King of the Medes, subdued many people vnto his dominion, and builded a strong city, which he called Ecbatanis.
2 The walls of it made he of free stone, foure square, seuentie cubites high, and thirtie cubites broad: hee made towres thereupon an hundred cubites high.
3 But along the foure corners, euery side was twentie foote broad, hee made the ports in the height, like as the towres.
4 This king trusted in his mightie hoste, and in his glorious charets.
5 So in the twelfth yeere of his reigne, it happened that Nabuchodonosor the king of the Assyrians, which reigned in the great citie of Niniue, fought against Arphaxad:
6 And ouercame him in the great field called Ragau, beside Euphrates, and Tigris, and Jadason, in the fielde of Erioth the King of the Elimes.
7 Then was the kingdome of Nabuchodonosor exalted, and his heart was lift vp: and he sent vnto all them that dwelt in Cilicia, in Damascus and Libanus:
8 And vnto the heathen that dwelt in Carmel and Cedar, and to such as dwelt in Galile in the great field of Esdrelon:
9 To all them that dwelt in Samaria, and beyond the water of Iordane vnto Hierusalem, and the whole land of Ielle, vnto the borders of Ethiopia:

10 Vnto all these did Nabuchodonosor the King of the Assyrians send messengers.

11 But they all with one consent would not agree vnto him, and sent the messengers againe emptie, and put them away without honour.

12 Then Nabuchodonosor the King tooke indignation at all those landes, and sware by his throne and by his kingdome, that he would be auenged of all those countreys.

The ij. Chapter.

Nabuchodonosor commanded presumptuously that all people should be brought in subiection.

IN the thirteenth yeere of king Nabuchodonosor, vpon the twentie and two day of the first moneth, it was deuised in the court of Nabuchodonosor the King of the Assyrians, that he would reuenge himselfe.

2 So he called vnto him all the elders, all his captaines and men of warre, and shewed them his secret counsel,

3 And tolde them that his purpose was to bring the whole earth vnder his dominion.

4 Nowe when they were all content with this saying, Nabuchodonosor the King called Holophernes the chiefe captaine of his warres,

5 And said vnto him, Goe thy way forth against all the kingdomes of the west, and specially against those that haue despised my commandement.

6 Thou shalt spare no realme, all strong cities shalt thou bring in subiection vnto me.

7 Then Holofernes called together all the captaines and rulers of all the power in Assyria, and mustered the souldiers vnto the hoste, like as the King commanded him, namely an hundred and twenty thousand fighting men vpon foote, and twelue thousand archers vpon horseback.

8 All his ordinance sent hee before with an innumerable multitude of Camels, so that the hoste was wel prouided for with oxen and small cattel, and that without number.

9 Hee appointed to prepare corne out of all Syria in his passage.

10 Much gold and siluer also tooke he out of the Kings house.

11 So he tooke his iourney, and al his hoste, with charets, horsemen, and archers: of whom there were so many, that they couered the ground of the land, like the grashoppers.

12 And when he was come past the borders of the Assyrians, he came toward the great mountaines of Ange, which lie vpon the left side of Cilicia: and so he went vp into all their castles, and wonne euery strong hold.

13 As for the wealthy citie of Melothus hee brake it downe, and spoyled all the children of Tharsis, and the Ismaelites, which lay toward the wildernesse, and vpon the Southside of the land of Chellon.

14 Hee went ouer Euphrates also, and came into Mesopotamia, & brake downe all the high cities that were there, from the brooke of Mambre, til a man come to the sea:

15 And hee tooke the borders in, from Cilicia vnto the coastes of Japhet, toward the South.

16 Hee caried away all the Madianites, and spoyled all their goods, and whosoeuer withstood him, he slew them with the sword.

17 After this, hee went downe into the fielde of Damascus in the time of haruest, and burnt vp all the corne, and all the trees and vines hee caused to be cut downe:

18 And the feare of him fell vpon all them that dwelt on the earth.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The people subiect to Holophernes. 12 Hee destroyed their gods, that Nabuchodonosor might onely be worshipped.

SO the Kings and princes of all the cities and lands, sent their Ambassadours, namely, they of Syria and Mesopotamia, Syria Sobal, and Libya, and Cilicia, which came to Holophernes, and said,

2 Let thy wrath cease toward vs: it is better for vs to serue the great King Nabuchodonosor with our liues, and to be subiect vnto thee, then that we should die, and with our slaughter suffer the euils of our bondage.

3 All our cities and possessions, all mountaines and hilles, all fields, great and small, cattell, sheepe, goates, horses, and camels, all our goods and houshold, be in thy power.

4 Vnder thy subiection be all that we haue.

5 We our selues, and also our children, will be thy seruants.

6 Come vnto vs, peaceable lord, and vse our seruice at thy pleasure.

7 Then came Holophernes downe from the mountaines, with horsemen and great power, and conquered all strong fenced cities, and all that dwelt in the land.

8 And out of all cities hee tooke strong men, and such as were meete for the warre to helpe him.

9 And there came such a feare vpon those countreys, that the indwellers of all the cities, the princes and rulers, and the people together, went forth to meet him as he came:

10 And receiued him honourably with garlands and torches, with daunces, tabrets, and pipes.

11 Neuertheless, though they did this, yet might they not swage his rigorous stomache, 12 But hee destroyed their cities, and hewed downe their woods.

13 For Nabuchodonosor the King had commaunded him that hee should roote out all the gods of the ‖land, to the intent that hee onely might be called and taken for god of the nations, which Holophernes with his power might bring vnder him.

‖ Or, earth.

14 So went hee thorowe Syria Sobal, and thorowe all Appamea, and all Mesopotamia, and came to the Idumeans in the lande of Gabaa, 15 And tooke their cities, and remained there thirtie dayes, in which space he caused all the whole multitude of his hoste to be gathered together.

The iiij. Chapter.

5 Eliacim the priest writeth to Bethulia, that they should fortifie themselues. 8 They cryed to the Lord, and humbled themselues before him.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Lll1v

When the children of Israel that dwelt in Jury heard this, they were sore afrayd of him.

2 There came such trembling also and feare vpon them, lest hee should doe vnto the city of Hierusalem and the Temple of the Lord, as he had done to other cities and their temples.

3 So they sent into all Samaria round about vnto Jericho, tooke in and occupied al the tops of the mountaines,

4 And made fast the townes with walles, and prepared corne for them against the battel.

5 Eliacim also the Priest wrote vnto all them that dwelt toward Eldrelon, which lyeth ouer against the great field by Dothain, and vnto all those by whom men might haue passage vnto them,

6 That they should take in the wayes of the mountaines, whereby there might be any way and passage vnto Hierusalem, and that they should holde diligent watch where any straite was betwirt the mountaines.

7 And the children of Israel did as Eliacim the Priest of the Lord had commanded them.

8 And al the people cried vnto the Lord earnestly, and humbled their soules with fasting and prayers, they and their wiues:

9 The Priestes put on hairy clothes, and layd the yong babes before the Temple of the Lord, and couered the Altar of the Lord with an hairy cloth:

10 And with one accord they cryed vnto the Lord God of Israel, that their children should not be giuen into a pray, and their wiues into a spoile, that their cities should not be layd waste, and that their ‖ Sanctuary should not be vnhalowed, and so they to be a shame and rebuke vnto the heathen.

‖ Or, holy things.

11 Then Eliacim the high Priest of the Lord, went round about all Israel, and spake vnto them, 12 Saying, Be ye sure that the Lord will heare your petitions, if ye continue stedfast in fastings and prayers in the sight of the Lord.

Exod. 17. 12.

13 Remember *Moses the seruant of the Lord, which ouerthrew the Amalekites that trusted in their might and power, in their horse, in their shields, in their charets, and horsemen, not with weapons, but with holy prayers.

14 Euen so shall all the enemies of Israel be, if ye continue in this worke that ye haue begun.

15 So vpon this exhortation, they continued in prayer before the Lord.

16 Insomuch that they which offered burnt sacrifices vnto the Lord, offred the offrings vnto the Lord, being arayed in hairy clothes, and had ashes vpon their heads.

17 And they all besought God from their whole heart, that he would visite his people of Israel.

The v. Chapter.

Achior the Ammonite doth declare to Holophernes of the maner of the Israelites.

And word came to Holophernes the prince of the warre of the Assyrians, that the children of Israel prepared themselues to make resistance, and how they had stopped the wayes betwirt the mountaines.

2 Then was he exceeding wroth, and called all the princes of Moab, and the captaines of Ammon,

3 And said vnto them, Tell me, what people is this that keepeth in the mountaines? Or what maner, and how great cities theirs are? What is their power? Or what maner of hoste haue they? Who is their captaine?

4 And why do they despise vs more then all those that dwel in the East, and come not forth to meete vs, that they might receiue vs with peace?

5 Then *Achior the captaine of all the Ammonites, answered and sayd, Sir, if it please thee to heare, I wil tel the trueth before thee, concerning this people that dwel in the mountaines, and there shall no vntrueth goe out of my mouth. Iud. 11. 7.

6 This people is of the generation of the Chaldees:

7 They dwelt first in *Mesopotamia, for they would not follow the gods of their fathers that were in the land of the Chaldees: Gene. 11. 31.

8 And so forsooke they the custome of their forefathers which had many gods, and worshipped one God that made heauen & earth: which also *commanded them that they should goe from thence and dwel at Charran. Gene. 12. 1.

9 *Now when there came a dearth into the whole land, they went downe to Egypt, & there they dwelt foure hundred yeeres, in the which they multiplied greatly, that their hoste might not be numbred. Gene. 41. 54. and 46. 6.

10 *And when the King of Egypt oppressed them, and yoked them in building of his cities, with making of clay and bricke, they cried vnto God their Lord, which punished the whole land of Egypt with diuers plagues. Exod. 1. 8.

11 * And when the Egyptians had cast them out, and the plague ceased from them, and they following after them to take them, and to bring them againe into their bondage: Exod. 14. 4.

12 While they were fleeing away, the God of heauen opened the sea, so that the waters stood fast vpon both the sides as a wal: and thele went thorow the bottome of the sea dryshod.

13 In the which place when an innumerable people of the Egyptians followed vpon them, they were so ouerwhelmed with the waters, that there remained not one to tell them that came after how it happened.

14 So when this people was passed thorow the *red Sea, they came into the wildernesse of mount Sina, where neuer man might dwell afore, and where the sonne of man had neuer rested. Exod. 16. 1.

15 There were the bitter * waters made sweet for them, that they might drinke, & fourty yeres had they meat from heauen. Exod. 15. 25.

16 Wheresoeuer they went, without bow and arrow, without buckler or sword, their God fought for them, and caused them to haue the victory.

17 Yea, no man was able to hurt this people, except it were when they departed vnfaithfully from the worshipping of the Lord their God.

18 But as oft as they worshipped any other beside their God, he gaue them ouer to be spoyled, to be slaine, and to be put to confusion.

19 Neuertheless, as oft as they were sory for their departing from the worship of their God:

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Lll2r

the same God of heauen gaue them power and strength to withstand their enemies.

Iosu.12.21. 20 Moreouer, they * slewe the King of the Chanaanites, Iebusites, Pherezites, Hethites, Heuites, and Amorites, and all the mightie in Heschbon, and tooke their lands and cities in possession:

21 And so long as they sinned not in the sight of their God, it went well with them: for their God hateth vnrighteousnesse.

Iudg.2.11. 4.king.25.1. 22 * For in times past, when they went out of the way which God had giuen them, that they should walke in it, they were destroyed in diuers battels of many nations, and many of them were caried away prisoners vnto a strange countrey.

1.Esdr,1.1. 23 * But now lately they haue turned themselues againe vnto the Lord their God, and are come together againe out of the countreys where they were scattered abroad: & thus haue they conquered these mountaines, and dwell therein: and as for Hierusalem where their Sanctuary is, they haue it againe in possession.

24 And therefore, my lord, make diligent inquisition, if this people haue done wickednes in the sight of their God, then let vs goe vp against them: for doubtlesse their God shal deliuer them into thine handes, and subdue them vnto thy power.

25 But if this people haue not displeased their God, we shall not be able to withstand them: for their God shall defend them, and so shall we be a shame to all the world.

26 Now when Achior had spoken out these wordes, all the great men of Holophernes were wroth, and thought to slay him, and said one to another, 27 What is he this which dare say that the children of Israel are able to withstand Nabuchodonosor the King, and his hostes? whereas they are an vnweaponed people, without strength or vnderstanding of the feats of warre.

28 That Achior therefore may know that he hath deceiued vs, we will go vp into the mountaines: and when the mighty men of them are taken, he with them shalbe slicht with ỹ sword:

29 That all the people may know that Nabuchodonosor is the god of the earth, and that there is none other besde him.

The vj. Chapter.

Holophernes blasphemeth God whom Achior confessed.

SO when they had left off speaking, Holophernes tooke sore indignation, and said vnto Achior,

2 For so much as thou hast prophecied vnto vs, saying, that the people of * Israel shalbe defended of their God: Iudg.5.5. I wil shew thee that there is no God but Nabuchodonosor.

3 Yea, when wee slay them all as one man, thou also shalt perish with them through the sword of the Assyrians, and all Israel shalbe destroyed with thee:

4 And then shalt thou feele that Nabuchodonosor is the lord of the whole earth: then shall the sword of my knighthood go thorow thy sides, and thou shalt fal down slicht among the wounded of Israel, and ‖ shalt not come to thy selfe againe, but be vtterly destroyed with them. ‖Or, shalt not draw breath againe.

5 Furthermore, if thou thinkest thy prophecie to be true, why doest thou then change thy colour? why art thou afraid? Thinkest thou that my wordes are not able to be performed?

6 But that thou maiest know that thou shalt feele these things with them, beholde, from this houre forth, wil I send thee vnto yonder people, that when the punishment of my sword (which they haue worthily deserued) falleth vpon them, thou mayest be punished with them.

7 So Holophernes commaunded his seruants to take Achior, and to cary him vnto Bethulia, and to deliuer him into the hands of the children of Israel.

8 Then Holophernes seruants tooke him, and went thorow the plaine fielde: but when they drew nigh vnto the mountaines, the sling casters came out against them.

9 Neuertheless, they gate them away by the side of the mountaine, & bound Achior hand and foote to a tree, and so left him bound with withs, and turned againe vnto their lord.

10 After that, the children of Israel went downe from Bethulia, came vnto him, loosed him, brought him into Bethulia, set him in the middest of the people, and asked him what the matter was that the Assyrians had left him bound.

11 Oias the sonne of Micha, of the tribe of Simeon, and Charmi, which is also called Gothoniel, were the principall rulers at the same time.

12 Now when Achior stood in the middest of the Senators, and before them all, he told them what answer he gaue Holophernes to the thing that he asked him, and how Holophernes people would haue slaine him for so saying,

13 And how Holophernes himselfe was wroth, and commanded him for the same cause to be deliuered vnto the Israelites: that when he ouercame the children of Israel, hee might command Achior also to be put to death with diuers torments, because he said, The God of heauen is their defender.

14 And when Achior had plainly told out all these things, al the people fell downe vpon their faces, praising the Lord, and powred out their prayers together vnto the Lord, with a generall complaint and weeping,

15 And said, O Lord God of heauen and of earth, beholde their pride, and looke vpon our lowlinesse, and consider how it standeth with thy Saints, and make it to bee knowen that thou forsakest not those which hold them fast by thee, and how that thou bringest them low that presume of themselues, and make their boast in their owne strength.

16 So when the weeping and prayer of the people (which they had made the whole day long, was ended) they comforted Achior, 17 Saying, The God of our fathers, whose power and strength thou hast praysed, shall so reward thee, that thou shalt rather see their destruction.

18 When the Lord our God then shal giue his seruants this libertie, God be also with thee among vs: so that as it shall please thee, so thou with all thine mayest dwel with vs.

19 Now when Oias had ended the counsel, hee tooke him into his house, and made a great supper,

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Lll2v

20 Called the elders to it: and so they refreshed themselues after the fasting.
21 And afterward was all the people called together, which made their prayers al the night long ‖ in the Congregation, and besought the God of Israel for helpe.

‖Or, within the Church.

The vij. Chapter.

Holophernes doeth besiege Bethulia.

THe next day Holophernes commanded his hoste to goe vp against Bethulia.
2 There were an hundred and twentie thousand fighting men on foote, and two and twenty thousand horsemen, beside the preparing of them that were wonne, and came to them on euery side out of the countreys and cities which he had taken.
3 All these prepared themselues vnto the battel against the Israelites, and came on by the hill side, vnto the top that looketh ouer against Dothain, from the place which is called Belma, vnto Chelmon, that lyeth toward Esdrelon.
4 Now when the children of Israel sawe so great a multitude of the Assyrians, they fell downe flat vpon the ground, strawed ashes vpon their heads, and prayed with one accord that the God of Israel would shewe his mercie vpon his people.
5 And so they tooke their weapons, and sate betwixt the mountaines in the narrow place, and kept the way day and night.
6 But while Holophernes was going round about, hee found the water spring, which from the Southside was conueyed into the citie by a conduit, and he commanded their conduit to be cut in sunder.
7 There were wells also not farre from the walles, which they vsed secretly, more for pleasure, ‖ then for necessitie.

‖Or, then to drinke them.

8 Then went the Ammonites and the Moabites vnto Holophernes, and said, The children of Israel trust neither in speare nor arrowe, but haue taken in and kept the mountaines, and steepe hilles defend them.
9 That thou mayest ouercome them therefore without the striking of any battell, set men to keepe the wells, that they draw no water out of them, so shalt thou destroy them without sword: or at the least they shall be so feeble, that they must bee faine to giue ouer the citie, which they thinke not able to be wonne, for so much as it lyeth in the mountaines.
10 These wordes pleased Holophernes wel, and all his men of warre, and he set an hundred at euery well round about.
11 And when this watch had endured twentie dayes, the cisternes and all that had water, failed them that dwelt in the citie of Bethulia, so that in the whole citie they had not drinke ynough for one day, for the people had water giuen them dayly in a measure.
12 Then came the men and women, yong persons and children, all vnto Ozias, and said al with one voyce, 13 God bee * iudge betwirt vs and thee, for thou hast dealt euill with vs: thou wouldest not speake peaceably with the King of the Assyrians, therefore hath God solde vs into their handes.

Exod. 5.21.

14 And there is no man to helpe vs, whereas wee are brought downe before their eyes in thirst and great destruction.
15 Therefore gather nowe together all the people that be in the citie, that wee may al yeeld our selues willingly vnto the people of Holophernes:
16 For better it is that wee be captiue, and praise the Lord with our liues, then to be slaine and perish, and to bee laughed to scorne, and shamed of euery man, when wee see our wiues and children die before our eyes.
17 Wee take heauen and earth this day to record, and the God of our fathers, which punisheth vs according to the deseruing of our sinnes, and giue you warning that ye giue vp the city now into the power of Holophernes hoste, that our ende may be short with the sword, which els shal endure long for want of water, and for thirst.
18 When they had spoken out these wordes, there was a great weeping and howling in the whole Congregation, and that of euery man, and they cryed a ‖ whole houre long vnto God with one voyce,

‖Or, many houres. Psal. 105.6.

19 Saying, * Wee haue sinned with our fathers, we haue done amisse, wee haue dealt wickedly:
20 Thou that art gracious, haue mercy vpon vs, or punish our vnrighteousnesse with thine owne scourge, & giue not those ouer that knowledge thee, vnto a people which know thee not:
21 That they may not say among the heathen, Where is their God?
22 And when they were so weary with this crying and weeping, that they held their peace,
23 Ozias stood vp with watrie eyes, and said, O take good hearts vnto you, deare brethren, and be of good cheare, and let vs waite yet fiue dayes for mercy of the Lord.
24 Peraduenture hee shall put away his indignation, and giue glory vnto his Name.
25 But if he helpe vs not when the fiue daies are past, we shall do as ye haue said.

‖Or, wee may so glory.

The viij. Chapter.

The parentage, life, and conuersation of Iudith.

AND it happened when these wordes came to the eares of Iudith, a widowe, which was the daughter of Merari the sonne of Idor, the sonne of Joseph, the sonne of Ozia, the sonne of Elai, the sonne of Jamnor, the sonne of Gedeon, the sonne of Raphaim, the sonne of Achitob, the sonne of Melchia, the sonne of Enan, the sonne of Nathania, the sonne of Salathiel, the sonne of Simeon, the sonne of Ruben:
2 And her husband was called Manasses, which died in the dayes of the barley haruest.
3 For while he was binding the sheaues together in the field, the heat came vpon his head, and he died at Bethulia his citie, and there was he buried beside his fathers.
4 Now was Judith his desolate widowe three yeeres and sixe moneths.
5 And in the higher parts of her house shee made her selfe a priuie chamber, where shee dwelt, being closed in with her maydens:
6 She ware a smocke of haire, and fasted all the dayes of her life, except the Sabboths, and new moones, and the solemne dayes that the people of Israel kept.

Gen. 22.1.

fol. Lll3r

7 Shee was a very faire and beautiful person, her husband also had left her great riches, a plenteous houshold, great vnmoueable possessions, and many cattel.

8 This Judith was a woman of a very good report with euery one, for shee feared the Lorde greatly, and there was no bodie that spake an euill word of her.

9 When this Judith heard how Ozias had promised the people, that after the fifth day hee would giue vp the citie vnto the Assyrians, shee sent for the Elders, Chabri and Charmi.

10 And when they came to her, she sayd, What thing is this, wherein Ozias hath consented, that if God helpe not within fiue dayes, he will giue ouer the citie to the Assyrians?

11 What are ye, that ye tempt the Lord?

12 This deuice obteineth no mercie of God, but prouoketh him vnto wrath and displeasure.

13 Will yee set the mercie of the Lord a time, and appoint him a day after your will?

14 Neuertheless, for so much as the Lorde is patient, let vs rather repent in this, powring out teares, and beseeching him of grace.

15 For God threatneth not as man, neither will he be prouoked vnto wrath, as the children of men.

16 And therefore let vs heartily fall down before him, and serue him with a meeke spirit,

17 And with weeping eyes say vnto the Lord, that hee deale with vs according to his owne will speedily in mercie: that like as our heart is nowe vered and brought lowe through the pride of them, it ‖ may so be comforted through his grace,

‖Or, wee may so glory.

18 Inasmuch as wee follow not the sinnes of our fathers, which forlooke their God, and worshipped other gods:

19 For the which sinne they perished with the sword, were spoiled and brought to shame of all their enemies: as for vs, wee know none other God but onely him.

20 For whose comfort let vs tarie with meeknesse, and he shall require and make inquisition for our blood from the vexations of our enemies: he shall bring downe all the heathen that rise vp against vs, and put them to dishonour, euen the Lord our God.

21 Therefore deare brethren, seeing ye are the honourable and Elders in the people of God, and their life hangeth all vpon you, lift vp their hearts with your exhortation, that they may call to remembrance howe our fathers also in times past were tempted, that they might bee proued if they worshipped their God aright.

Gen.22.1. 22 They ought to remember * how our father Abraham being tempted, and tried through many tribulations, ‖ was found a louer & friend of God.

‖Or, was made. Gen.28.7. 23 So was Isaac, so was * Jacob, so was Moses: and all they that pleased God, passed stedfast in faith through manifold troubles.

24 Againe, they that receiued not their temptations with the feare of God, but put themselues forth with vnpatiencie and murmuring against God,

1.Cor.10.10. 25 * Perished of the destroyer, and were slaine of serpents.

26 And therefore should wee not vndertake to bee auenged for the things that are done vnto vs:

Rom.8.17. 27 * But to consider that all these punishments are farre lesse then our sinnes and misdeedes, and beleeuing that this correction commeth vnto vs as to the seruants of God, for amendement, and not for our destruction.

28 Then sayd Ozias and the Elders vnto Judith, All that thou speakest is true, and no man can reprooue thy words.

29 Pray thou for vs now therefore vnto God, for thou art an holy woman, and fearest God.

30 And Judith sayd vnto them, Seeing yee know that my words are of God, 31 Then prooue my counsaile and deuice if it be of God: and beseech God that hee will bring my counsaile to good end.

32 Thus haue I deuised, Ye shal stand this night before the port, and I will goe foorth with Abra my maiden: and pray ye therefore vnto God, that hee will graciously remember his people of Israel within fiue dayes, as ye haue sayd.

33 As for the thing that I goe in hand withall, aske ye no questions of it: and til I bring you word againe of it, do ye nothing els but pray vnto the Lord our God for me.

34 Then Ozias the prince of the people of Juda sayd vnto her, Go thy way in peace, the Lord be with thee, that we may bee auenged of our enemies. And so they went from her againe.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Iudith humbleth her selfe before the Lord, and maketh her prayers for the deliuerance of her people.

NOw when they were ‖ gone their way, Judeth went into her closet, put on a hairie smocke, strawed ashes vpon her head, fell downe before the Lord, and cried vnto him, saying,

‖Or, gone vp.

3 Thou that gauest their wiues into a pray, and their daughters into captiuity, and all their pray for a spoile vnto thy seruants which bare a zeale vnto thee: helpe me widow, O Lord my God, I beseech thee.

4 For thou hast made the first things: and after that, looke what thou hast taken in hand and deuised, it came euer to passe.

5 For all thy wayes are prepared, and thy iudgments are put in thy euerlasting foreknowledge.

6 O looke now vpon the ‖ armies of the Assyrians, like as it was thy pleasure sometime to looke vpon the host of the Egyptians, when they being weaponed, persecuted thy seruants, and put their trust in their charets, horsemen, and in the multitude of their men of warre.

from the beginning, & in thy power bring their power to nought: cause their might to fall in thy wrath, which make their boast that they wil vnhalow and defile thy Sanctuarie, & to waste the tabernacle of thy Name, and to cast downe the horne of thine altar with their sword.

12 Bring to passe, O Lord, that the pride of ‖ the enemie may be cut downe with his owne sworde, (‖ Or, of this man,)

13 That he may be taken with the snare of his eyes in me, and that thou mayest smite him with the lips of my loue.

14 O giue mee a stedfast minde, that I may despise him and his strength, and that I may destroy him.

15 This shall bring thy Name an euerlasting remembrance, if the *hand of a woman ouerthrow him. (Iudg.4.21.)

16 *For thy power, O Lord, standeth not in the multitude of men, neither hast thou any pleasure in the strength of horses, neither was there from the beginning any proude persons that pleased thee: but in the prayer of the humble and meeke hath thy pleasure bene euermore. (Iudith 7.2. 2.chro.14. 11.)

17 O thou God of the heauens, thou maker of the waters, and Lord of all creatures, heare me poore woman calling vpon thee, and putting my trust in thy mercy.

18 Remember thy couenant, O Lorde, and minister words in my mouth, and stablish this deuice in my heart, that thy house may continue still in holinesse:

19 And that all the heathen may know that thou art God, and that there is none other but thou.

The x. Chapter.

1 Iudith decketh her selfe, and goeth foorth of the citie. 11 She is taken of the watch of the Assyrians, and brought to Holophernes.

AND when thee had left off crying vnto the Lord, she rose vp from the place where she had lien flat before the Lord,

2 And called her maiden Abra, went downe into her house, layed the hairie cloth from her, put off the garments of her widowhood,

3 Washed her bodie, anointed her selfe with precious things of sweete sauour, braided and platted her haire, set a coyffe vpon her head, and put on such apparell as belonged vnto gladnes, slippers vpon her feete, bracelets, spangs, eare-rings, finger rings, and decked herselfe with all her best aray.

4 The Lord gaue her also a speciall beautie and faireneslle, for al this decking of her selfe was not done for any voluptuousnesse, but of a right discretion and vertue: therefore did the Lorde increase her beautie, so that shee was exceeding amiable and well fauoured in all mens eyes.

5 She gaue her maiden Abra also a bottell of wine, a pot with oyle, pottage, cakebread and cheese, and went her way.

6 Now when they came to the port of the citie, they found Ozias and the elders of the citie waiting there.

7 Which when they saw her, they were astonied, and marueiled greatly at her beauty.

8 Neuertheless, they *asked no question at her, but let her goe, saying, The God of our fathers giue thee grace, and with his power performe all the deuice of thy heart, that Hierusalem may reioice ouer thee, and that thy name may be in the number of the holy and righteous. (Iudith 8.33.)

9 And all they that were there, sayd with one voice, So be it, so be it.

10 Iudith made her prayer vnto the Lord, and went out at the port, she and her maid Abra.

11 And as she was going downe the mountaine, it happened that about the spring of the day, the spies of the Assyrians met with her, and tooke her, saying, Whence commest thou? or whither goest thou?

12 Shee answered, I am a daughter of the Hebrewes, and am fled from them: for I know that they shall be giuen vnto you to bee spoiled, because they thought scorne to yeeld themselues vnto you, that they might finde mercie in your sight.

13 Therefore haue I deuised by my selfe after this maner: I will goe before the prince Holophernes, and tell him all their secrets, and will shew him how he may come by them, and win them: so that not one man of his host shal perish.

14 And when these men had heard her words, and considered her faire face, they were astonied (for they wondred at her excellent beauty)

15 And sayd vnto her, Thou hast saued thy life by finding out this deuice, that thou wouldest come downe to our Lord.

16 And bee thou sure, that when thou commest vnto him, hee shall entreate thee well, and thou shalt please him at the heart. So they brought her into Holophernes pauilion, and told him of her.

17 Now when shee came in before him, immediatly he was ouercome and taken with her beauty.

18 Then sayd his seruants, Who would despise the people of the Iewes, that haue so faire women? should we not by reason fight against them for these?

19 So when Iudith sawe Holophernes sitting in a canopie, that was wrought of purple silke, gold, smaragde, and precious stones, 20 She looked fast vpon him, bowed her selfe, and fell downe vpon the earth: and Holophernes seruants tooke her vp againe at their lords commandement.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Holophernes comforteth Iudith, 3 and asketh the cause of her comming. 5 She deceiueth him by her faire words.

THen sayd Holophernes vnto her, Be of good cheere, and feare not in thine heart: for I neuer hurt man that would serue Nabuchodonosor the king.

2 As for thy people, if they had not despised me, I should not haue lift vp my speare against them.

3 But tell me now, what is the cause that thou art departed from them, and wherefore art thou come vnto vs?

4 And Judith saide vnto him, Sir, vnderstand the words of thy handmaiden: for if thou wilt doe after the wordes of thy handmaiden, the Lord shall bring thy matter to a prosperous effect.

5 As Nabuchodonosor the king of the earth liueth, and as his power liueth, which is in thee to the punishment of all men that go wrong: all men shal not only be subdued vnto him through thee, but all the beasts also of the field.

6 For all people speake of thy prudent actiuitie, and it hath euer bene reported how thou onely art good and mighty in all his kingdome, and thy ‖ discretion is commended in all lands.

‖ Or, discipline. Iudith 5.5.

7 The thing is manifest also that *Achior spake, and it is well knowen what thou commandedst to do vnto him.

8 For this is plaine, and of a suretie, that our God is so wroth with vs by the reason of our sinnes, that he hath shewed by his Prophets vnto the people, how that for their sinnes he will deliuer them ouer vnto the enemie.

9 And forsomuch as the children of Israel know that they haue so displeased their God, they are afrayd of thee.

10 They suffer great hunger also, & for want of water, they are dead now in a maner.

11 Moreouer, they are appointed to slay all their cattell, that they may drinke the blood of them:

12 And are purposed to spend the holy things of their God, which hee hath forbidden them to touch, as of corne, wine, and oile, and they will consume those things which they ought not to touch with their hands: Seeing now that they do these things, it is a plaine case that they must needs be destroyed.

13 Which when I thine handmaiden perceiued, I fled from them, and the Lord hath sent me to shew thee these things.

14 For I thine handmaiden worship God, euen now here beside thee: and thy handmaiden shall go forth, and I will make my prayer vnto God.

15 And he shall tell me when he will reward them their sin, then shall I come and shew thee, and bring thee thorow the midst of Hierusalem, so that thou shalt haue all the people of Israel as sheepe without a shepheard, and there shall not so much as one dogge barke against thee.

16 For these things are shewed me by the prouidence of God.

17 And forsomuch as God is displeased with them, he hath sent me to tell thee the same.

18 These words pleased Holophernes, and all his seruants, which marueiled at the wisedome of her, and sayd one to another, 19 There is not such a woman vpon earth, in fauour, in beauty, and discretion of words.

20 And Holophernes sayde vnto her, God hath done well that he hath sent thee hither before thy people, that thou mayest giue them into our hands.

21 And forasmuch as thy promise is good, if thy God performe it vnto me, he shalbe my God also, and thou shalt be excellent, and great in the Court of Nabuchodonosor, and thy name shalbe spoken of in all the land.

The xij. Chapter.

Iudith would not pollute her selfe with the meat of the Gentiles.

When commanded hee her to goe in where his treasure lay, & charged that he should haue her dwelling there, and appointed what should be giuen her from his table.

2 Iudith answered him, and sayd, As for the *meat that thou hast commanded to giue me, I may not eat of it as now, lest I displease my God: but will eat of such as I haue brought with me. Gen. 43.32

3 Then said Holophernes vnto her, If these things that thou hast brought with thee faile, what shall we do vnto thee?

4 And Judith sayd, As thy soule liueth, my Lord, thy handmaiden shall not spend all this, till God hath brought to passe in my hand the things that I haue deuised. So his seruants brought her into the tent where as he had appointed.

5 And as she was going in, she desired that she might haue leaue to goe forth by night, and before day to her prayer, and to make intercession vnto the Lord.

6 Then commanded Holophernes his chamberlaines, that she should goe out and in at her pleasure, to pray vnto God those three dayes.

7 And so in the night season she went forth into the valley of Bethulia, and washed her selfe in the well water.

8 And comming vp, she besought the Lord God of Israel that hee would prosper her way, for the deliuerance of his people.

9 And so she went in, and remained cleane in her tent, till shee tooke her meat in the euening.

10 Vpon the fourth day it came to passe, that Holophernes made a supper vnto his seruants, and sayd vnto Vagao his chamberlaine, Go thy way, and counsell this Hebrewesse, that she may be willing to consent to keepe company with mee.

11 For it were a shame vnto all the Assyrians, that a woman should so laugh a man to scorne, that she were come from him vnmedled withall.

12 Then went Vagao vnto Judith, and said, Let not the good daughter be afrayd to come in to my Lord, that shee may be honoured before him, that she may eat and drinke wine, and be mery with him.

13 Vnto whom Judith answered, Who am I, that I should say my lord nay?

14 Whatsoeuer is good and best before his eyes, I shall doe it: and looke what is his pleasure, that shall I thinke well done as long as I liue.

15 So shee stood vp, and decht her selfe with her apparell, and went in, and stood before him.

16 And Holophernes heart was whole mooued: for he burnt in desire toward her.

17 And Holophernes sayd vnto her, Drinke now, and sit downe, and be mery, for thou hast found fauour before me.

18 Then sayd Judith, Sir, I will drinke, for my minde is merrier to day then euer it was in all my life.

19 And she tooke, and did eat, and dranke before him the things that her maiden had prepared for her.

20 And Holophernes was merrie with her, and dranke more wine then euer he did afore in his life.

NOwe when it was late in the night, his seruants made haste euery man to his lodging, and Bagoa shut the chamber doores, and went his way.

Psal.105.1. 2 *For they were all ouerladen with wine.

3 So was Judith alone in the chamber.

4 As for Holophernes, hee lay vpon the bed all drunken, and of very drunkennesse fell asleepe.

5 Then commanded Judith her maiden to stand without before the doore, and to waite.

6 And Judith stoode before the bed, making her prayers with teares, and mooued her lips secretly,

7 And sayd, Strengthen mee, O Lord God of Israel, and haue respect vnto the workes of mine hands in this houre, that thou mayest set vp thy citie of Hierusalem, like as thou hast promised: and grant that I may performe the thing, which in hope that it may be done by thee, I haue deuised.

8 And when she had spoken this, she went to the pillar that was at Holophernes beds head, and loosed his sworde that hanged vpon it, and drew it out:

9 And when she had taken it out of the scabberd, shee tooke hold of the hairie lockes of his head, and sayd, Strengthen me, O Lord God, in this houre.

Eccl.31.30 10 *And with that she gaue him two strokes vpon the necke, and smote off his head: then tooke she the canopie away from the pillars, and rolled the dead body aside.

11 Immediatly she gate her foorth, and deliuered the head of Holophernes vnto her mayden, and bade her put it in her wallet.

12 And so these two went foorth together after their custome, as though they would pray: and so passed by the hoste, and came about thorow the valley vnto the port of the citie.

13 And Judith cried a far off vnto the watchmen vpon the wals, Open the gates, said she, for God is with vs, which hath shewed his power in Israel.

14 And when they heard her voice, they called the elders of the citie together.

15 And they came all to meete her, little and great, yong and old: for they thought not that she should haue come so soone.

16 So they lighted candles, and gathered about her euery one: but she went vp into an high place, and caused silence to be proclaimed.

17 And when euery man now held his peace, Judith sayd, O praise the Lord our God, for hee hath not despised nor forsaken them that put their trust in him:

18 And in me his handmaiden hee hath performed his mercie, which hee promised vnto the house of Israel: Yea, in my hand this same night hath he slaine the enemie of his people.

19 And with that she tooke forth the head of Holophernes out of the wallet, and shewed it them, saying, Behold, the head of Holophernes the captaine of the armie of the Assyrians, and this is the canopie wherein he lay in his drunkennesse, where the Lorde our God hath slaine him by the hand of a woman.

20 But as the Lorde liueth, his Angel hath kept mee, going thither, remaining there, and comming hither againe from thence: and the Lord hath not suffered mee his handmaiden to be defiled, but without any defiling of sinne hath he brought me againe vnto you, and that with great victory, so that I am escaped, and ye deliuered.

21 *O giue thankes vnto him euery one for he is gracious, and his mercie endureth for euer. 1.Sam.17. 15.

22 So they praised the Lorde all together, and gaue thankes vnto him, and to her they sayd, The Lorde hath blessed thee in his power, for through thee hee hath brought our enemies to nought.

23 And Ozias the chiefe ruler of the people of Israel, sayd vnto her, O daughter, blessed art thou of the Lord the high God, aboue al women vpon earth.

24 Blessed be the Lord the maker of heauen and earth, which hath guided thee aright to wound and to smite off the head of the captaine of our enemies.

25 For this day hee hath made thy name so honourable, that thy praise shall neuer come out of the mouth of men, which shall alway remember the power of the Lord, seeing thou hast not spared thine owne selfe, but put thee in ieopardie, considering the anguish of thy people, and so hast helped their fall before God our Lord.

26 And all the people sayd, Amen, Amen.

27 Achior also was called, and he came: then sayd Judith vnto him, The God of Israel, vnto whom thou gauest witnesse that hee would bee auenged of his enemies, euen hee hath this night through my hand smitten off the head of all the vnfaithfull.

28 And that thou mayest see that it is so, behold, this is the head of Holophernes, which in his presumptuous pride despised the God of Israel, and threatned thee with destruction, saying. When the people of Israel is taken, I shall cause thee also to be slicht with the sword.

29 When Achior sawe Holophernes head, hee fell downe vpon his face to the ground, for very anguish and feare, so that hee swouned withall.

30 But after that hee was come againe to himselfe, he fell downe before her, and praised her, saying,

31 Blessed art thou of thy God in all the tabernacles of Jacob: for all the people that heare of thy name, shall praise the God of Israel, because of thee.

3 When the spies see this, they shall of necessitie bee compelled to flee backeward, and to raise vp their captaine to battel.

5 So when yee perceiue that they flee, follow them without all care, for God shall ‖deliuer them vnto you to be destroyed.

‖Or, the Lord shall breake the vnder your feet.

6 Then Achior seeing the power of GOD, which he had shewed vnto the people of Israel, fell off from his heathenish beliefe, and put his trust in God, and let himselfe be circumcised, and so was he numbred among the people of Israel, he and all his posteritie vnto this day.

7 Now alloone as it was day, they tickt vp Holophernes head vpon the walles, and euerie man tooke his weapon, and so they went out with an horrible cry.

8 When the Iries saw that, they ran vnto Holophernes tent.

9 And they that were within the tent, came before his chamber, and made a great ruhing, that Holophernes might awake, not by stirring him vp, but by their noise.

10 For there durst not one of the Assyrians knocke, go in, or open.

11 But when the captaines and princes, and all the chiefe in the king of the Assyrians hoste came together, they said vnto the chamberlains, 12 Go your way in, and wake him vp: for the mice are crept out of their holes, and dare prouoke vs vnto battell.

13 Then Bagao went into his chamber, stood before the ‖bedde, and clapped with his hands: for he thought he had bene sleeping with Judith.

14 But when hee hearkened perfectly with his eares, and could perceiue no stirring, hee went nigher to the ‖bed, and lift it vp, and when he saw the dead body of Holophernes lying there without a head, weltring in his blood vpon the earth, he cried with a loud voice, and with weeping rent his clothes,

15 And went into Judiths tent, and found her not.

16 And so he lept out vnto the people, and sayd, One woman of the Iewes hath brought all Nabuchodonosors people to shame: for loe, Holophernes lieth vpon the ground, and hath no head.

17 When the chiefe of the Assyrians hoste heard that, they rent their clothes, and there fell an intollerable feare and trembling vpon them: so that their minds were sore afrayd.

18 And there was an exceeding great crie in ‖the whole hoste.

‖Or, midst of the host.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The Assyrians are afrayd and flee. 6 The Israelites pursue them.

NOw when all the hoste heard that Holophernes was beheaded, their minde and counsel fell from them: and being amazed with feare only and trembling, they saued themselues by fleeing away.

2 One spake not to another, but hanged downe their heads, left all behinde them, and made haste to escape from the Hebrewes: for they heard that they were hasting to come after with their weapons, & so they fled by the wayes of the fields, and thorow all the footpaths of the ‖dales.

‖Or, woods.

3 And when the children of Israel saw that they fled, they followed vpon them, and went downe with trumpets, blowing, and making a great crie after them.

4 As for the Assyrians, they had no order, and kept not themselues together, but fled their way: neuertheless, the children of Israel fell vpon them with one company and order, and discomfited as many as they might get.

5 And Ozias sent messengers vnto all the cities and countreys of Israel.

6 So all the region, and euery citie sent out their best men after them in harnesse, and smote them with the sword, till they came to the vttermost parts of their borders.

7 And the other that were in Bethulia, came into the tents of the Assyrians, and tooke al that they which were fled had left behinde them, and so they found great good.

8 And they that came againe to Bethulia from the battell, tooke with them such things as had bene theirs: there was no number of the cattell, and of all costly iewels, so that from the lowest vnto the highest, they were all made rich of the spoiles of them.

9 And Joachim the high Priest, came from Hierusalem to Bethulia, with all the elders, that they might see Judith.

10 Now when she came out vnto them, they began all to praise her with one voice, saying, Thou worship of the citie of Hierusalem, thou ioy of Israel, thou honour of our people, 11 Because thou hast done manly, and thy heart is comforted, and for that thou hast loued cleanlinesse and chastitie, and hast knowen no man but thine owne husband: therefore hath the hand of the Lord comforted thee, and blessed shalt thou be for euer.

12 And all the people sayd, So be it, so be it.

13 In thirty dayes could the people of Israel scarse gather vp the spoiles of the Assyrians.

14 But all that belonged vnto Holophernes, and had beene his specially, whether it were of golde, of siluer, precious stone, clothing, and all ornaments, they gaue it vnto Judith, and it was deliuered vnto her of the people.

15 And all the people reioyced, both women, maidens, and yoong people, with pipes and harps.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 Iudeth praiseth God with a song. 15 She offereth to the Lord Holophernes stuffe. 26 Her continency, life and death. 29 All Israel lamenteth her.

THen sang Judith this song vnto the Lord, saying,

2 Begin vnto the Lord vpon the tabrets, sing vnto the Lord vpon the cymbals, O sing vnto him a new song of thanksgiuing, be ioyfull, and call vpon his Name:

3 It is the Lord that destroyeth warres, euen the Lord is his Name:

4 Which hath pitched his tents in the midst of his people, that he might deliuer vs from the hand of all our enemies.

5 Assur came out of the mountaines of the North in the multitude of his strength: his people stopped the water brookes, and their horses couered the valleys.

Lord hindered him, and deliuered him into the hands of a woman ‖ which brought him to confusion.

[Or, which did sticke him thorow.

8 For their mighty was not destroyed of the yoong men, it was not the sonnes of Titan that slew him, neither haue the great giants set themselues against him: but Judith the daughter of Merari, with her faire beauty hath discomfited him, and brought him to nought.

9 For she layd away her widowes garment, and put on the apparell of gladnesse, to the reioicing of the children of Israel.

10 Shee anointed her face with ointment, and bound by her haire in a coife, and tooke a new ‖ stoale to beguile him.

‖Or, garment.

11 Her slippers rauished his eyes, her beautie captiuated his minde, with the sword smote she off his necke.

12 The Persians were astonied at her stedfastnesse, and the Medes at her boldnesse.

13 Then howled the armies of the Assyrians, when my simples appeared dry of thirst.

14 The sonnes of the daughters haue pearced them thorow, and slaine them as fugitiue children, they perished in the battell ‖ for the very feare of the Lord my God.

‖Or, from the face.

15 Let vs sing a song of thankesgiuing vnto the Lord, a new song of praise will we sing vnto our God.

16 Lord, Lord, thou art a great God, mighty in power, whom no man may ouercome.

Gene. 1.1. psal. 33.9.

17 All thy creatures must serue thee: * for thou spakest but the word, and they were made, thou sentest thy spirit, and they were created, and no man can withstand thy voice.

18 The mountaines shall mooue from the foundations with the waters, the stonie rocks shall melt before thee like waxe.

19 But they that feare thee, shalbe great with thee in all things.

20 Woe vnto the people that rose vp against my generation: for the almighty Lord will auenge himselfe of them, and in the day of iudgement will he visit them.

21 For he shall giue fire and wormes in their flesh, that they may burne and feele it for euermore.

22 After this it happened, that after the victorie, all the people came to Hierusalem, to giue praise and thanks vnto the Lord: and when they were purified, they offered all their whole burnt sacrifices, and their vowes, and their promised offerings.

23 And Judith offered all Holophernes weapons, and all the iewels that the people had giuen her, and the canopie that she tooke from his bed, and hanged them vp ‖ vnto the Lord.

24 The people were ioyfull as the bee is: and this ioy with Judith, by reason of the victorie, endured three moneths.

25 So after these dayes, euery man went home againe, and Judith was in great reputation at Bethulia, and right honourably taken in all the land of Israel.

26 Unto her vertue also was chastity ioyned, so that after her husband Manasses died, she neuer knew man all the dayes of her life.

27 Upon the high solemne dayes, she went out with great worship.

28 She dwelt in her husbands house an hundred and fiue yeeres, and left her handmaiden Abra free, 29 And died, and was buried beside her husband in Bethulia: and all the people mourned for her seuen dayes.

30 So long as she liued, there was none that troubled Israel, and many yeeres also after her death.

31 The day wherin this victory was gotten, was solemnly holden, reckoned of the Iewes in the number of the holy dayes, as it is yet greatly holden of the Iewes euer since, vnto this day.

The dreame of Mardocheus.

MArdocheus the sonne of Jari, the sonne of Semei, the sonne of Cis, of the tribe of Beniamin.

2 A Jew, which had his dwelling in the city of Susis, a man of great reputation, and excellent among all them that were in the kings court.

3 Neuertheless, he was one of the prisoners whom * Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon had caried away from Hierusalem vnto Babylon, with Jechonias the king of Juda.

4. Reg. 24. 15 Jer. 24.1.

4 In the second yeere of the reigne of great Artarerres, in the first day of the moneth Nisan, had this Mardocheus such a dreame.

5 He thought he heard a great tempest, horrible thunderclaps, earthquakes, and great vproare in the land,

6 And that he saw two great dragons, ready to fight one against another.

7 Their crie was great: at the which roaring and crie, all the heathen were vp to fight against the righteous people.

8 And the same day was full of darknesse, and very vncleare, full of trouble and anguish, yea, a great fearefulnesse was there in the land.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Lll6r

9 The righteous were amased, for they feared the plague and cuill that was deuised ouer them, and were at a point with themselues to die: So they cried vnto God.

10 And while they were crying, the litle well grew into a great riuer, and into many waters.

11 And with that it was day, and the sunne rose vp againe: and the lowly were exalted, and deuoured the glorious and proud.

12 Now when Mardocheus had seene this dreame, hee awoke, and mused stedfastly in his heart what God would doe: and so he desired to know all the matter, and his minde was thereupon vntill night.

The xij. Chapter.

Mardocheus vttereth the treason deuised against the king, and is therefore rewarded of him.

AT the same time dwelt Mardocheus with Bagatha and Thara in the Kings Court, the Kings chamberlaines and porters of the palace.

2 But when he heard their deuice, and had diligently considered their imaginations, hee perceiued that they went about to lay their cruell hands vpon the king Artaxerxes, and so hee certified the king thereof.

3 Then caused the king to examine the two ‖gelded with torments: and when they had granted it, they were put to death.

‖Or, chamberlaines.

4 This the king caused to be put in the chronicles for an euerlasting remembrance, & Mardocheus wrote vp the same matter.

5 So the king commanded that Mardocheus should remaine in the court, and for this faithfulnesse of his, he gaue him a reward.

6 But Aman the sonne of Amadathu the Agagite, which was holden in great honour and reputation in the Kings Court, vndertooke to hurt Mardocheus and his people, because of the two chamberlaines that were put to death.

The xiij. Chapter.

1 The copie of the letters of Artaxerxes against the Iewes. 9 The prayer of Mardocheus.

THe great king Artaxerxes, which reigneth from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and twentie and seuē lands, sendeth his friendly salutation vnto all the princes and deputies of the countreys which be subiect vnto his dominion.

2 When I was made lord ouer many people, and had subdued the whole earth vnto my dominion, my minde was not with crueltie and wrong to exalt my self, by the reason of my power: but purposed with equitie alway and gentlenesse, to gouerne those that be vnder my iurisdiction, and wholly to set them in a peaceable life, and thereby to bring my kingdome vnto tranquillitie, that men might safely go thorow on euery side, and to renew peace againe, which all men desire.

3 Now when I asked my counsellers how these things might be brought to a good ende, there was one by vs excellent in wisedome, whose good will, trueth, and faithfulnesse hath oft bene shewed and proued, (which was also the principall and next vnto the king) Aman by name,

4 Which certified vs, how that in all lands there was scattered abroad a rebellious folke, that made statutes and lawes against all other people, and haue alway despised the proclaimed commandements of kings, and howe that for this cause it were not to be suffered, that such rule should continue by you, and not to be put downe.

5 Seeing now we perceiue the same, that this people alone are contrary vnto euery man, bring strange and other maner of lawes, and withstand our statutes and doings, and goe about to stablish shrewd matters, that our kingdome should neuer come to good estate and stedfastnesse,

6 Therefore we haue commanded, that all they that are appointed in writing, and shewed vnto you by Aman, which is ordeined, and set ouer all our lands, and the most principall next vnto the king, and in maner as a father, shall with their wiues and children be destroyed and rooted out with the sword of their enemies and aduersaries, and that there shall be no mercie shewed, and no man spared: and this shall be done the foureteenth day of the moneth called Adar, of this yeere:

7 That they which of olde, and now also, haue euer bene rebellious, may in one day with violence be thrust downe into the hell, to the intent that after this maner our empire may haue peace and tranquillitie.

8 But Mardocheus thought vpon all the works and noble acts of the Lord, and made his prayer vnto him,

9 Saying, O Lord, Lord, thou valiant and almighty king, for all things are in thy power: and if thou wilt helpe and deliuer Israel, there is no man that can withstand or let thee.

10 For thou hast made heauen and earth, and what woonderous thing soeuer is vnder the heauen.

11 Thou art Lord of all things, and there is no man that can resist thy maiesty, O Lord.

12 Thou knowest all things, thou wotest Lord that it was neither of malice nor presumption, nor for any desire of glory, that I would not bow downe my selfe, nor worship yonder proud presumptuous Aman:

13 (For I would haue bene content, and that with good will, if it might haue done Israel any good, to haue kist euen his foote steps.)

14 But that I did it because I would not set the honour of a man in the stead of the glorie of God, and because I would worship none but only thee, my Lord: and this haue I done in no pride nor presumption.

15 And therefore, O Lord, thou God and King, haue mercy vpon thy people, for they imagine how they may bring vs to nought, yea, their minde and desire is to destroy and to ouerthrow thy people that haue euer beene thine inheritance of olde.

16 O despise not thy portion, which thou hast deliuered and brought out of Egypt for thine owne selfe.

17 Heare my prayer, and be mercifull vnto thy people whom thou hast chosen for an heritage vnto thy selfe, turne our complaint & sorow into ioy, that we may liue, O Lord, and praise thy name, O Lord, suffer not the mouthes of them that praise thee, to be destroyed.

18 All the people of Israel in like maner cried as carnestly as they could vnto the Lord, for their death & destruction stood before their eyes.

The xiiij. Chapter.

The prayer of Esther for the deliuerance of her and her people.

QVeene Esther also being in the ‖battell of death, resorted vnto the Lord, ‖Or, perill.

2 Layed away her glorious apparell, and put on the garments that serued for ſighing and mourning. In the stead of precious ointment, shee scattered ashes and doung vpon her head: and as for her bodie she humbled it with fasting, and brought it very lowe: All the places where she was woont to haue ioy afore, those filled she with her owne haire that she pluckt off.

3 She prayed also vnto the Lord God of Israel with these words, O my Lord, thou onely art our king, helpe me desolate woman, which haue no helper but thee:

4 For my miserie and destruction is hard at my hand.

Deut.4.29. 5 *From my youth vp, I haue heard out of the kinred of my father, that thou tookest Israel from among all people, and so haue our fathers of their forefathers, that they should be thy perpetuall inheritance, and looke what thou diddest promise them, thou hast made it good vnto them.

6 Now Lord, we haue sinned before thee, therefore hast thou giuen vs into the handes of our enemies,

7 Because we worshipped their gods: Lord thou art righteous.

8 Neuertheless, it satisfieth them not that we are in bitter & heauy captiuity, and oppressed among them, but they haue layed their hands vpon the hands of their gods,

9 So that they begin to take away the thing that thou with thy mouth hast ordeined and appointed, to destroy thine inheritance, to shut and to stop the mouthes of them that praise thee, to quench the glory and worship of thine house and thine altar:

10 And to open the mouthes of the Heathen, that they may praise the power and vertue of the gods, and to magnifie the fleshly king for euer.

11 O Lord, giue not thy scepter vnto them that be nothing, lest they laugh vs to scorne in our misery and fall: but turne their deuice vpon themselues, and punish him that hath begunne the same ouer vs, and set him to an example.

12 Thinke vpon vs, O Lord, and shew thy selfe vnto vs in the time of our distresse, and of our trouble: strengthen me, O thou King of gods, thou Lord of all power:

13 Giue me an eloquent and pleasant speech in my mouth before the lion: turne his heart into the hate of our enemie, to destroy him, and all such as consent vnto him.

14 But deliuer vs with thy hand, and helpe me thy handmaide, which haue no defence nor helper, but onely thee, Lord.

15 Thou knowest all things, thou wotest that I loue not the glory and worship of the vnrighteous, and that I hate and abhorre the bed of all the vncircumcised, and of all heathen.

16 Thou knowest my necessitie, that I hate the token of my preeminence & worship, which I beare vpon my head, what time as I must shew my selfe and be seene, and that I abhorre it as an vncleane cloth, and that I weare it not when I am quiet alone and by my selfe.

17 Thou knowest also that I thy handmaiden haue not eaten at Amans table, and that I haue had no pleasure nor delight in the kings feast, that I haue not dronke the wine of the drinke offerings,

18 And that I thy handmaiden haue no ioy, since the day that I was brought hither, vnto this day, but onely thee, O Lord, O thou God of Abraham.

19 O thou mightie God aboue all, heare the voice of them that haue no other hope, and deliuer vs out of the hand of the wicked, and deliuer me out of my feare.

The xv. Chapter.

1 Mardocheus moueth Esther to go in vnto the king, and make intercession for her people. 9 And she performeth his request.

MArdocheus also bade Esther goe in vnto the king, and pray for her people, and for her countrey.

2 Remember (sayeth hee) the dayes of thy low estate, how thou wast nourished vnder my hand: for Aman which is next vnto the king, hath giuen sentence of death against vs:

3 Call thou therefore vpon the Lord, and speake for vs vnto the king, and deliuer vs from death.

4 And vpon the third day it happened that Esther layd away the mourning garments, and put on glorious apparell,

5 And decht her selfe goodly (after that shee had called vpon God, which is the beholder and sauiour of all things) and tooke two maidens with her:

6 Vpon the one she leaned her selfe, as one that was tender:

7 The other followed her, & bare the traine of her vesture.

8 The shine of her beauty made her face rose coloured, the similitude of her face was chearefull and amiable: but her heart was sorrowfull for great feare.

9 She went in thorow all the doores, and stood before the king: the king sate vpon the throne of his kingdome, and was clothed in his goodly aray, all shining with golde, and set with precious stones, and he was very terrible.

10 He lift vp his face that shone in the clearenesse, and looked grimly vpon her: then fell the queene downe, was pale and faint, leaned her selfe vpon the head of her maide that went with her.

11 Neuertheless, God * turned the kings minde, that he was gentle, that he leaped out of his seat for feare, and gate her in his armes, and held her vp till shee came to her selfe againe, hee gaue her louing words also, and sayd vnto her, Pro.21.1.

12 Esther, what is the matter? I am thy brother, be of good cheare:

13 Thou shalt not die, for our commandement toucheth the commons, and not thee: come nigh.

15 And embraced her friendly, & sayd, Talke with me.

Gen.33.10. 2.reg.19.27. 16 Then sayd she, *I saw thee, O Lord, as an Angel of God, and my heart was troubled for feare of thy maiesty and clearenesse.

17 For excellent and wonderfull art thou, O Lord, and thy face is full of amitie.

18 But as shee was thus speaking vnto him, she fell downe againe for faintnesse.

19 For the which cause the king was afrayed, and all his seruants comforted her.

The xvj. Chapter.

The copy of the letters of Artaxerxes, whereby he reuoketh those which he first sent forth.

Esther 1.1. THe great king Artaxerxes,* which reigneth from India vnto Ethiopia, ouer an hundred and twentie and seuen lands, sendeth vnto the princes & rulers of the same lands, such as loue him, his friendly salutation.

Esay 3.10. 2 There* be many that for the sundry friendships and benefits which are diuerslie done vnto them for their worship, be euer the more proud and high minded:

3 And vndertake not onely to hurt our subiects (for plenteous benefits may they not suffer, and beginne to imagine some thing against those that do them good,

4 And take not only all thankfulnesse away from men) but in pride and presumption, as they that be vnmindfull and vnthankful for the good deeds, they go about to escape the iudgement of God that seeth all things, which iudgement hateth and punisheth all wickednesse.

5 It happeneth oft also, that they which be set in office by the higher power, & vnto whom the businesse and causes of the subiects are committed to be handled, ware proud, & defile themselues with shedding of innocent blood, which bringeth them to intollerable hurt.

6 Which also with false and deceitful words, and with lying tales, deceiue and betray the innocent goodnesse of princes.

7 Now is it profitable and good that we take heed, make search thereafter, and consider not onely what hath happened vnto vs of olde, but the shameful, vnhonest, and noisome things that the deputies haue now taken in hand before our eyes,

8 And thereby to beware in time to come, that we make the kingdome quiet and peaceable for all men, and that we might sometime draw it to a change.

9 And as for the thing that now is present before our eyes, to withstand it, and to put it downe after the most friendly maner,

Esther 3.1. 10 What time nowe as* Aman the sonne of Amadathu the Macedonian, a stranger verily of the Persians blood, and farre from our goodnesse, was come in among vs as an aliant,

11 And had obteined the friendship that wee beare toward all people, so that he was called our father, and had in high honor of euery man, as the nert and principall vnto the king:

12 He could not forbeare himselfe from his pride, hath vndertaken not onely to robbe vs of the kingdome, but of our life:

13 With manifolde deceit also hath he desired to destroy Mardocheus our helper and preserver, which hath done vs good in all things, and innocent Esther the like partaker of our kingdome, with all her people.

14 For his minde was (when hee had taken them out of the way, and robbed vs of them) by this meanes to translate the kingdome of the Persians, vnto them of Macedonia.

15 But we find that the Iewes (which were accused of the wicked, that they might be destroied) are no euill doers, but vse reasonable & right lawes:

16 And that they be the children of the most high liuing God, by whom the kingdome of vs, and of our progenitours, hath bene wel ordered hitherto.

17 Wherefore, as for the letters & commandements that were put forth by Aman, the sonne of Amadathu, ye shall do well if ye holde them of none effect.

18 For he that set them vp & inuented them, hangeth at Susis before the port, with all his kinred: and God which hath all things in his power, hath rewarded him after his deserning.

19 And vpon this ye shall publish, & set vp the copy of this letter in all places: that the Iewes may freely and without hinderance holde themselues after their owne statutes:

20 And that they may be helped, and that vpon the thirteenth day of the twelfth moneth Adar, they may be auenged of them, which in the time of their anguish and trouble would haue oppressed them.

21 For the God that gouerneth all things, hath turned to ioy the day wherein the chosen people should haue perished.

22 Moreouer, among the high solemne dayes that ye haue, ye shall holde this day also with all gladnesse:

23 That now, and in time to come, this day may be a remembrance of good, for all such as loue the prosperitie of the Persians: but a remembrance of destruction to those that be seditious vnto vs.

24 All cities and lands that do not this, shall horribly perish, and be destroyed by the sword and fire, and shal not onely be no more inhabited of men, but be abhorred also of the wilde beasts and fowles.

The Wisdome of Solomon.

The first Chapter.

1 How wee ought to enquire and search after God.
2 Who are they that finde him.

3.Reg.3.3. esay 56.1. LOue righteousnesse, ye that be *Iudges of the earth: consider deeply of the Lord in goodnesse, and seeke him in singlenesse of heart.

Deut.4.29. 2 *For he will be found of thē that tempt him not, and appeareth vnto such as put no distrust in him.

||Or, tempted. 3 For wicked thoughts separate from God, and his power when it is ||tried, reproueth the vnwise.

4 For why? wisedome shall not enter into a wicked soule, nor dwell in the body that is subiect vnto sinne.

Iere.4.22. 5 *For the holy spirit of discipline fleeth from deceit, & withdraweth himselfe from thoughts that are without vnderstanding, and is declared when wickednesse commeth.

Gal.5.22. 6 *For the spirit of wisedome is louing, and will not absolue him that blaspheмeth with his lippes, for God is witnesse of his reines, and a true beholder of his heart, and an hearer of his tongue.

7 For the spirit of the Lord filleth the round compasse of the world, and the same that vpholdeth all things, hath knowledge also of the voice.

8 Therefore he that speaketh vnrighteous things, can not be hidde, neither shall the iudgement of reproofe let him escape.

9 And why? inquisition shalbe made for the thoughts of the vngodly, and the sound of his words shall come vnto God, so that his wickednesse shalbe punished.

10 For the eare of ielousie heareth all things, and the noise of the grudgings shall not be hid.

11 Therefore beware of murmuring, which is nothing worth, and refraine your tongue from slander: for there is no word so secret, that it shall goe for nought, and the mouth that speaketh lies, slayeth the soule.

Deut.4.23. 12 Seeke not your owne death in the error of your life, *destroy not your selues through the works of your owne hands:

Ezc.18.32. 13 *For God hath not made death, neither hath he pleasure in the destruction of the liuing:

||Or, beginnings. 14 For he created all things, that they might haue their being, and ||the generations of the world were healthfull, and there is no poison of destruction in them, nor the kingdome of hel vpon the earth.

15 For righteousnes is euerlasting and immortall, but vnrighteousnesse bringeth death.

6 As golde in the fornace doth he trie them, and receiueth them as a burnt offering: and when the time commeth, they ſhall be looked vpon.

Mat.13.43. 7 *They ſhall ſhine and run thorow, as the ſparckles among the ſtubble, Mat.19.28. 8 *They ſhall iudge the nations, and haue dominion ouer the people: and their Lord ſhall reigne for euer.

9 They that put their truſt in him, ſhall vnderſtand the trueth, and ſuch as be faithful, ſhall perſeuere with him in loue: for his ſaints haue grace and mercy, and he hath care for his elected.

Mat.25.41. 10 *But the vngodly ſhall be punished according to their owne imaginations, for they haue deſpiſed the righteous, and forſaken the Lord.

‖Or, diſcipline. ‖Or, he is miſerable. 11 For whoſo deſpiſeth wiſedome and ‖ nurture, he is ‖ vnhappy, and as for the hope of ſuch, it is but vaine, their labors vnfruitful, and their works vnprofitable.

12 Their wiues are vndiſcreet, and their children moſt vngodly.

13 Their off-ſpring or progenie is curſed: wherefore bleſſed is the barren that is vndefiled, * which hath not known the ſinfull bed, ſhe ſhal haue fruit in the viſitation of ſoules:

Eſay 56.5. 14 And the gelded which with his handes hath wrought no vnrighteouſneſſe, nor imagined wicked things againſt God: for vnto him ſhall be giuen the ſpeciall gift of faith, and the moſt acceptable portion in the temple of God.

15 For glorious is the fruit of the good labour, and the root of wiſedome ſhall neuer fade away.

16 As for the children of adulterers, they ſhall not come to a perfect end, and the ſeed of an vnrighteous bed ſhalbe rooted out.

17 And though they liue long, yet ſhall they be nothing regarded, and their laſt age ſhall be without honour.

18 If they die quickly, they haue no hope, neither comfort in the day of iniquitie.

19 For horrible is the end of the vnrighteous generation.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 Of vertue, and the commoditie thereof. 10 The death of the righteous, and the condemnation of the vnfaithfull.

OHow faire is a chaſte generation with vertue! the memoriall thereof is immortall: for it is known with God and with men.

2 When it is preſent, men take example at it, and if it goe away, yet they deſire it: it is crowned, and euer triumpheth when it hath woon the reward of the vndefiled battels.

3 But the multitude of the vngodly abounding in children, ſhall profit nothing, nor giue deepe root by the ſeed of adulterie, nor lay any faſt foundation.

Ierc.17.6. mat.7.19. 4 For *though they bud foorth in the branches for a time, yet ſhall they be ſhaken with the wind, for they ſtand not faſt, and through the vehemency of the wind they ſhalbe rooted out.

5 The vnperfect branches ſhall be broken, their fruit ſhalbe vnprofitable, and ſowre to eat, yea, meet for nothing.

6 And why? all the children that are borne of the wicked bed, muſt beare record of the wickednes againſt their fathers and mothers when they be aſked.

Gen.5.24. heb.11.5. 7 But though the righteous be ouertaken with death, yet ſhall he be in reſt.

8 For honorable age is not that which ſtandeth in length of time, nor that that is meaſured by number of yeeres:

9 But a mans wiſedome is the gray haire, and an vndefiled life is the olde age.

10 He *pleaſed God, and was beloued of him, ſo that whereas he liued among ſinners, he tranſlated him.

11 Yea, ſpeedily was hee taken away, to the intent that wickednes ſhould not alter his vnderſtanding, and that deceit ſhould not beguile his ſoule.

12 For wickednes with bewitching, doeth darken the honeſt things: and the lightneſſe of ‖ voluptuous deſire, ‖ turneth aſide the ſingle minde.

‖Or, concupiſcence. ‖Or, changeth, or altereth,

13 Though he was ſoone dead, yet fulfilled he much time:

14 For his ſoule pleaſed God, therefore haſted he to take him away ‖ from among the wicked.

‖Or, from out of the middeſt of wickednes.

15 This the people ſee, and vnderſtand it not, they lay not vp ſuch things in their hearts, how that the louing fauour and mercie of God is vpon his saints, and that he hath respect vnto his chosen.

16 Thus the righteous that is dead, condemneth the vngodly which are liuing: and the youth that is soone brought to an end, the long life of the vnrighteous.

17 For they see the end of the wise: but they vnderstand not what God hath deuised for him: and wherefore the Lord hath taken him away to be in safetie.

18 And why? they see him, and despise him, therefore shall God also laugh them to scorne.

19 So that they themselues shall die hereafter without honour, yea, in shame among the dead for euermore: for without any voice shall he burst those that be put vp, and shake them from the foundations, so that they shall be layed as vtterly wasted: they shalbe in sorow, and their memorial shall perish.

20 So they shall come abrayed in remembrance of their sinnes, and their owne iniquities before their face shall conuince them.

The v. Chapter.

1 The constantnes of the righteous before their persecutours. 14 The hope of the vnfaithfull is vaine. 15 The blessednesse of the Saints and godly.

THen shall the righteous stand in great boldnesse before the face of such as haue dealt extremely with them, and taken away their labours.

2 When they see it, they shall be vexed with horrible feare, and shall woonder at his healthy, so farre beyond all that they looked for.

3 And changing their opinion, with groning for the vexednesse of mind, they shall say, This is he whom sometime we had in derision, and iested vpon.

Wisd.3.3. 4 *Wee fooles thought his life very madnesse, and his end to be without honour:

5 But lo, how he is counted among the children of God, & his portion is among the saints.

6 Therefore haue we erred from the way of trueth, the light of righteousnesse hath not shined vnto vs, and the sun of vnderstanding rose not vpon vs.

7 We haue wearied our selues in the way of wickednesse and destruction, yea, we haue gone thorow tedious deserts, but as for the way of the Lord, we haue not knowen it.

8 What good hath pride done vnto vs? or what profit hath the pompe of riches brought vs?

1.Chro.29.15. 9 *All those things are passed away like a shadow, and as a poste that passeth by:

10 As a shippe that passeth ouer the waues of the water, which when it is gone by, the trace thereof can not be found, neither the path of it in the floods:

Pro.30.19. 11 *Or as a bird that flieth thorow in the aire, and no man can see any token where she is flowen, but only heareth the noise of her wings, beating the light wind, parting the aire through the behemency of her going, and flieth on, shaking her wings, whereas afterward no token of her way can be found:

12 Or like as when an arrow is shot at a marke, it parteth the aire, which immediatly commeth together againe, so that a man can not know where it went thorow:

13 Euen so we in like maner, assoone as we were borne, beganne immediatly to draw to our end, and haue shewed no token of vertue, but are consumed in our owne wickednesse.

14 Such words they that haue sinned speake in the hell: This verse is onely in the old interpreter.

15 For the hope of the *vngodly is like a ‖dry thistle flower, that is blowen away with the winde, like a thin ‖scum that is scattered abroad with the storme, like as the smoke which is dispersed here and there with the wind, and as the remembrance of a stranger, that tarrieth but a day, and then departeth. Iob.8.9. ‖Or,dust. ‖Or,some.

16 But the *righteous shall liue for euermore, their reward also is with the Lord, and the care for them is with the highest. Psal.39.5.

17 Therefore shall they receiue a glorious kingdome, and a beautifull crowne of the Lords hand: for with his right hand shall he couer the, and with his arme shall he defend them.

18 *His ielousie also shall take on harnesse, and he shall arme the creature to be reuenged of his enemies. Psal.17.9.

19 *He shall put on righteousnesse for a brest-plate, and take vnfained iudgement in sted of an helmet. Ephe.6.13.

20 The inuincible shield of equitie shall hee take.

21 His fierce wrath shall hee sharpen for a sword, and the whole compasse of the world shall fight with him against the vnwise.

22 Then shall the thunder boltes goe ‖right out of the lightnings, and come as out of the well bent bowe of the cloudes, to the place appointed. ‖or,straight.

23 And as from an angrie caller of stones, there shall fall thicke hailes, and the water of the sea shall be wroth against them, and the floods shall run roughly together.

24 Yea, a mighty winde shall stand vp against them, and a storme shall scatter them abroad: thus vnrighteous dealing shal bring all the land to a wildernesse, and wickednesse shal ouerthrow the royall ‖seats of the mightie. ‖Or,throns.

The vj. Chapter.

2 The calling of Kings, Princes, and Iudges, which are also exhorted to search wisedome.

WIsdome is *better then strength: and a man of vnderstanding is more worth then one strong. This verse is onely in the old interpreter.

2 Heare therefore (O yee kings) and vnderstand: O learne, ye that be Iudges of the endes of the earth. Pro.16.32.

3 Giue eare, yee that rule the multitudes, and glory in the number of peoples.

4 *For the power is giuen you of the Lord, and the strength from the highest, which shall trie your works, and search out your imaginations: Rom.13.1.

5 Howe that yee being officers of his kingdome, haue not giuen true iudgement, haue not kept the lawes of righteousnesse, nor walked after the will of God.

6 Horribly, and that right soone, shall he appeare vnto you: for an hard iudgement shal they haue that beare rule.

7 Mercy is granted vnto the lowest: but they that be in authority, shalbe sore punished. Deu.10.17. ‖Or, feare, or,spare.

8 *For he which is Lord ouer all, shall ‖accept no mans person, neither shall he stand in awe of any mans greatnesse: for he hath made the small and great, and careth for all alike.

9 But the mighty shall haue the sorer triall.

10 Vnto you therefore (O yee kings) doe I speake, that ye may learne wisedome, and not go amisse.

||Or, holy things. 11 For they that keepe holinesse ||holily, shall be iudged holy: and they that haue learned such things, shall finde defence.

||Or, couet my words. ||Or, be instructed and learned. 12 Wherefore ||set your delight vpon my wordes, and desire them, so shall ye ||come by nurture.

13 Wisedome is a noble thing, and neuer fadeth away: yea, she is easily seene of them that loue her, and found of such as seeke her.

14 She preuenteth them that desire her, that she may shew her selfe vnto them.

15 Who so awaketh vnto her betimes, shall haue no great trauaile: for he shall find her sitting ready at his doores.

16 To thinke therefore vpon her, is perfect vnderstanding: and who so watcheth for her shall quickly be dispatched of care.

17 For shee goeth about seeking such as are meete for her, sheweth her selfe cheerefully vnto them ||in their goings, and meeteth them with all ||diligence.

||Or, in their wayes. ||Or, euery thought. 18 For the vnfained desire of ||reformation is her beginning: to care for nurture, is loue:

||Or, discipline. 19 And loue is the keeping of her lawes: and the keeping of her lawes, is the assurance of immortalitie:

20 And immortalitie maketh a man familiar with God.

21 And so the desire of wisedome leadeth to the kingdome euerlasting.

Num. 27. 16. 22 *If your delight be then in royall seates and scepters (O ye kings of the people) set your

||Or, honor. ||lust vpon wisedome, that yee may reigne for euermore.

This verse is onely in the olde interpreter. 23 O loue the light of wisedome, all yee that be rulers of the people.

24 As for wisedom, what she is, and how she came vp, I will tell you, and will not hide the mysteries of God from you: but will seeke her out from the beginning of her natiuitie, and bring the knowledge of her into light, and will not keepe backe the trueth.

25 Neither will I haue to doe with consuming enuie: for such a man shal not be partaker of wisedome.

26 But the multitude of the wise is the welfare of the world: and a wise King is the

||Or, stay. ||vpholding of the people.

27 O receiue nurture then through my words, and it shall doe you good.

The vij. Chapter.

Wisedome ought to be preferred aboue all things.

I My selfe also am a mortall man, like as all other, and am come of the earthly generation of him that was first made,

Iob. 10, 10. 2 And in my*mothers wombe was fashioned to bee fleshy in the time of ten moneths, being brought together in blood, through the seed of man, and the pleasure that came with sleepe.

3 And when I was borne, I receiued like ayre as other men, and fell vpon the earth which is of like nature, crying and weeping at the first as all other doe.

4 I was wrapped in swadling clothes, and brought vp with cares.

5 For there is no king that hath had any other beginning of birth:

Iob 1.21. 1.tim.6.7. 6 *All men then haue one entrance vnto life, and one going out in like maner.

7 Wherefore I desired, and vnderstanding was giuen mee: I called, and the spirit of wisedome came into me.

8 I set more by her, then by kingdomes and royal seats, and counted riches nothing in comparison of her.

Iob 28.15. 9 *As for precious stone, I compared it not vnto her, for all golde is but a little grauel vnto her, and siluer shalbe counted but clay before her sight.

||Or, health. 10 I loued her aboue ||welfare and beautie, and purposed to take her for my light: for her light cannot be quenched.

3.Reg.3. 13. 11 *All good things together came to mee with her, and innumerable riches thorow her hands.

12 And I was glad in all things, because wisedome went before them: and I knew not that she was the mother of them.

13 And I my selfe learned vnfainedly, and make other men partakers of her without enuie, and hide her riches from no man.

14 For shee is an infinite treasure vnto men: which whoso vse, become partakers of the loue and friendship of God, and are accepted vnto him

||Or, knowledge. for the gifts of ||wisedome.

15 God hath granted me to speake what my minde conceiueth, and to thinke as is meete for the things that are giuen me: for it is hee that leadeth vnto wisedom, and teacheth to vse wisedome aright.

16 For in his hand are both wee and our words, yea, all our wisedome and knowledge of his workes.

17 For hee hath giuen mee the true science of the things that are, so that I knowe howe the world was made, and the powers of the elements:

18 The beginning, ending, and middell of the times, how the times alter, how one goeth after another, and how they are fulfilled,

19 The course of the yeere, the ordinances of the starres,

20 The natures of liuing things, the furiousnesse of beasts, the power of the winds, the imaginations of men, the diuersities of yong plants, the vertues of rootes:

21 And all such things as are either secret or manifest, them haue I learned.

22 For wisedome, which is the worker of all things, hath taught me: for in her is the spirit of vnderstanding, which is holy, one onely, manifold, subtile, ||quicke, mouing, cleere, vndefiled,

||Or, liuely. plaine, sweete, louing the thing that is good, sharpe, which cannot be letted, doing good,

23 Kinde to man, stedfast, sure, free from care, hauing all ||vertues, ||circumspect in all things,

||Or, power ||Or, hauing regard of. and passing thorowe all vnderstanding, cleane and subtile spirits.

24 For wisedome is nimbler then all nimble things, shee goeth thorow and atteineth to all things, because of her cleannesse.

25 For she is the breath of the power of God, and a pure influence flowing from the glory of the Almighty God: therfore can no defiled thing come to her.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

Hebr.1.3. 26 For *thee is the brightnesse of the euerlasting light, the vndefiled mirror of the maiestie of God, and the image of his goodnesse.

27 And being but one, she can doe all things: and remaining in her selfe, she renueth all, and in all ages of times entring into holy soules, she maketh Gods friends, and Prophets:

28 For God loueth none, if he dwel not with wisedome.

29 For she is more beautiful then the Sunne, ‖ and giueth more light then the starres, and the day is not to be compared vnto her.

‖Or,aboue all the order of starres, ‖Or,it, 30 For vpon ‖ the day commeth night: but wickednesse can not ouercome wisedome.

The viij. Chapter.

The effects of wisedome.

‖Or,she. ‖Or,profitably. ‖Or,sought. ‖Wisedome reacheth from one ende to another mightily, and ‖louingly doeth she order all things.

2 I haue loued her, and ‖laboured for her from my youth vp: I did my diligence to marrie my selfe with her, such loue had I vnto her beauty.

3 That she hath the company of God, it commendeth her nobility: yea, the Lord of all things himselfe loueth her.

4 For she is the schoolemistresse of the knowledge of God, and the chuser out of his workes.

‖Or,if riches be a possession that a man would desire. 5 If ‖ a man would desire riches in this life, what is richer then wisedome that worketh all things?

6 For if prudencie worke, what is it among all things that worketh better?

‖Or, iustice and manhood. 7 And if a man loue righteousnesse, her labours are but vertues: For why? she teacheth sobernesse and prudence, ‖ righteousnesse and strength, which are such things as men can haue nothing more profitable in their life.

‖Or,much experience. 8 If a man desire much ‖ knowledge, she can tell the things that are past, and discerne things for to come: she knoweth the subtilties of words, and can expound darke sentences: she foreseeth signes and wonders or euer they come to passe, and the ‖ endes of all times and ages.

‖Or,successe of times, 9 Therefore I purposed after this maner: I will take her into my companie, that she may liue with me, knowing for certaintie thee shall giue mee good counsell, and speake comfortably vnto me in my carefulnesse and griefe.

10 For her sake shall I be well and honestly taken among the commons, and with honour among the elders, though I be yong.

11 I shalbe found to be of sharpe iudgement, so that I shall bee marueilous in the sight of great men: ‡ and the faces of princes shall wonder at me.

‡This part of the eleuenth verse is onely in the olde translation. 12 When I hold my tongue, they shal bide my leasure, and when I speake, they shall giue good care vnto me, and if I talke much, they shall lay their hands vpon their mouth.

13 Moreouer, by the meanes of her, I shall obteine immortalitie, and leaue behinde me an euerlasting memoriall among them that come after me.

‖Or,I shall gouerne the people. 14 ‖ I shall set the people in order, and the nations shalbe subdued vnto me.

15 Horrible tyrants shalbe afraid when they heare of mee, among the multitude I shall be counted good, and mighty in battel.

16 When I come home, I shal finde rest with her: for her companie hath no bitternesse, and her felowship hath no tediousnesse but mirth and ioy.

17 Nowe when I considered these things by my selfe, and pondered them in my heart, how that to be ioyned vnto wisedome is immortalitie, 18 And great pleasure to haue her friendship, and that in the workes of her hands are infinite riches, and that whoso ‖ keepeth company with her, shalbe wise, and that he which talketh with her shal come to honour: I went about seeking how to get her vnto me.

‖Or, exerciseth talke with her. 19 For I was a lad of ripe wit, and had a good ‖ vnderstanding.

‖Or,spirit with me. 20 ‖ But when I grewe to more vnderstanding, I came to an vndefiled body.

‖Or, yea rather being good. 21 Neuertheless, when I perceiued that I could not enioy it, except God gaue it mee, and that was a point of wisedome also to knowe whose gift it was, I stepped vnto the Lord, and besought him, and with my whole heart I sayd after this maner.

The ix. Chapter.

A prayer of Solomon to obteine wisedome.

‖Or,the. God of ‖ my fathers, and Lord of mercie, thou hast made al things with thy word,

2 And ordeined man through thy wisedome, that hee houlde haue dominion ouer the creatures which thou hast made,

‖Or,gouerne. ‖Or,vpright. 3 That he should ‖ order the world according to equitie and righteousnes, and execute iudgement with a ‖ true heart:

3.Reg.3.9. 4 *Giue me wisedome, which is euer sitting about thy seate, and put me not out from among thy children:

Psal.115.16. 5 *For I thy seruant and sonne of thy handmaiden am a feeble person, and of a short time, ‖ and too young to the vnderstanding of iudgement and lawes.

‖Or,and yet lesse in. 6 And though a man bee neuer so perfect among the children of men, yet if thy wisedome be not with him, he shalbe nothing regarded.

7 Thou hast chosen me to be a king vnto thy people, and the iudge of thy sonnes and daughters:

8 Thou hast commanded me to build a temple vpon thy holy mount, and an altar in the citie wherein thou dwellest, a likenesse of the holy Tabernacle, which thou hast prepared from the beginning:

Prou.8.22. 9 *And thy wisedome with thee, which knoweth thy workes, which also was with thee when thou madest the world, and knew what was acceptable in thy sight, and right in thy commandements.

10 O send her out of thy holy heauens, and from the throne of thy maiestie, that shee may be with me, and labour with me, that I may know what is acceptable in thy sight.

‖Or,by. 11 For shee knoweth and vnderstandeth all things, & she shall leade me soberly in my works, and preserue me ‖ in her power.

12 So shall my workes bee acceptable, and then shall I gouerne thy people righteously, and be worthy to sit in my fathers seat.

Esa.40.13. 13 *For what man is hee that can know the counsell of God? or who can thinke what the will of God is?

‖Or,dreadfull. 14 For the thoughts of mortall men are ‖miserable, and our forecasts are but uncertaine.

15 For why? a corruptible body is heauie unto the soule, and the earthie mansion keepeth downe ‖that understanding that museth upon many things.

‖Or, the mind that hath many cares. 16 Very hardly can wee discerne the things that are upon earth, and ‖great labour haue we or we can finde the things which are before our eies: and who hath then sought out the ground of the things that are done in heauen?

‖Or, and with much labor find we out the things that are in our hands. 17 Oh Lord, who can haue knowledge of thy ‖understanding and meaning, except thou giue wisedome, and send thy holy Ghost from aboue?

‖Or,spirit with me. ‖Or,counsell. ‖Or, vnderstanding being good. 18 For so the wayes of them which liued on the earth, were reformed, and men haue learned the things that are pleasant unto thee, and were preserued through wisedome.

The x. Chapter.

The deliuerance of the righteous, and destruction of the enemies commeth through wisedome.

SHe preserued the first formed father of the world that was created alone, and brought him out of his fall:

Gene.2.20. 2 *And gaue him power to rule all things.

Gene.4.8. 3 But when the unrighteous went away in his wrath from her, *hee perished by the furious desire to murder his brother.

Gene,7.21 4 For whom when the water *destroyed the whole world, wisedome againe preserued it herselfe, gouerning the iust man by no costly worke of wood.

Gene,11.1. 5 *Moreouer, when the nations were confounded or ioined together in their malicious confederacie, she found out the righteous, and preserued him faultlesse unto God, and kept him strong against the loue of his sonne.

Gen.19.17 6 *She preserued the righteous when hee fled from the ungodly that perished, what time as the fire fell downe upon the fiue cities.

‖Or,neuer riping. 7 Like as yet this day the unfruitfull, waste and smoking land giueth testimony of their wickednesse: yea, the ‖unripe and untimely fruits that grow upon the trees, and for a token of a remembrance of the unfaithfull soule, there standeth a pillar of salt.

8 For all such as regarded not wisedome, gate not onely this hurt, that they knew not the things which were good: but also left behinde them unto men, a memoriall of their foolishnes, so that in the things wherein they sinned, they could not be hid.

9 But as for such as tooke heed unto wisedome, she hath deliuered them from sorow.

Gen.28.5. ‖Or,she. 10 *When the righteous fled because of his brothers wrath, ‖wisedome ledde him the right way, shewed him the kingdome of God, gaue him knowledge of holy things, made him rich in his labours, and brought to passe the things that he went about.

‖Or,couetousnesse. 11 In the ‖deceitfulnesse of such as defrauded him, she stood by him, and made him rich.

‖Or,liers in wait. 12 She saued him from the enemies, and defended him from the ‖deceiuers: in a strong battel she gaue the him victory, that he might know how that the feare of God is stronger then all things.

Gen.37.28. acts 7.10. 13 *When the righteous was solde, shee forsooke him not, but deliuered him from sinne: shee went downe with him into the ‖dungeon,

‖Or, prison. Gen.41.40 14 *And failed him not in the bandes, till she had brought him the scepter of the realme, and power against those that oppressed him: as for them that had accused him, she declared them to be liars, and brought him to perpetuall ‖worship.

‖Or,glory. Exod.1,6. 15 *She deliuered the righteous people, and faultlesse seed, from the nations that oppressed them.

Exod.3.10. 16 *She entred into the soule of the seruant of the Lord, and stood by him in woonders and tokens against the dreadfull kings.

‖Or,the saints. 17 She gaue the ‖ righteous the reward of their labours, and ledde them forth a marueilous way: on the day time shee was a shadow unto them, and a light of starres in the night season.

Exo.14.21. 18 *She brought them thorow the red sea, and caried them thorow the great water.

Exo.12.31. Exo,15.1. 19 But shee drowned their enemies in the sea, but brought them out of the bottome of the deepe.

20 *So the righteous tooke the spoiles of the ungodly, and *praised thy holy Name, O Lord, and magnified thy victorious hand with one accord.

21 For wisedome openeth the mouth of the dumbe, and maketh the tongues of babes to be eloquent.

The xj. Chapter.

1 The miracles done for Israel. 13 The vengeance of sinners. 28 The great power and mercie of God.

‖Or, directed, or prospered. SHee ‖ordered their workes in the *hands of the holy Prophet:

Exod.16.1. 2 So that they went thorow the wildernesse that was not inhabited, and pitched their tents in the waste desert.

Exo.17.12. 3 *They stood against their enemies, and were auenged of their aduersaries.

Num.20. 11. 4 *When they were thirsty, they called upon thee, and water was giuen them out of the most high rocke, and their thirst was quenched out of the hard stone.

‖Or,they, that is,the Israelites. 5 For by the things wherethrough their enemies were punished, were the ‖children of Israel helped in their need.

6 For in sted of a fountaine of the perpetuall running flood, all troubled with gotie blood,

7 In reproch of the commandement published to murder the infants, thou gauest unto them abundance of water, and that not looked for neither:

8 Declaring by that thirst then, how thou hadst punished thine aduersaries.

Exod,7.20. 9 *For when they were tried and nurtured with fatherly mercie, they knew how the ungodlie were iudged and punished in the wrath of God.

Deut.8.2. ‖Or,examined them straitly. 10 *For these hast thou exhorted as a father, and prooued them: but unto the other thou hast beene a boisterous king, ‖ layed hard to their charge, and condemned them.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

11 Whether they were absent or present, their punishment was alike.
12 For their griefe was double, and mourning for the remembrance of things past.
13 For when they perceiued that their punishments did them good, they ‖ thought vpon the Lord. ‖Or, they felt.
14 For whom, in his calling out before as an abiect, they had denied with derision, him in the ende, when they saw what happened, they wondered at: for they were of an other thirft then was the iuft.
15 But for the foolish deuises of their wickednesse, wherewith being deceiued, they worshipped serpents that had not the vse of reason, and vile beastes, thou sentest a multitude of vnreasonable beastes vpon them for reuengeance:
16 That they might know, that looke wherewithall a man sinneth, by the same also shall hee be punished.
17 For vnto thy Almighty hande that made the world of nought, it was not vnpossible to send among them an heape of Beares, or wood Lions,
Leu.16.20. Sapi.16.1. Ierc.8.17. 18 *Or cruel beasts of a strange kinde, such as are vnknowen, or spout fire, or cast out a smoking breath, or shoote horrible sparkes out of their eyes:
19 Which might not only destroy them with hurting, but also kill them with their horrible sight.
20 Yea, without these beastes might they haue bene slaine with one winde, being persecuted by the reuengeance, and scattered abroade through the breath of thy power: nevertheless, thou hast ordered all things in measure, number, and weight.
21 For thou hast euer had great strength, and might, and who may withstand the power of thine arme?
22 For why? like as the small thing that the balance weigheth, so is the world before thee: yea, as a drop of the morning dew that falleth downe vpon the earth.
Rom.2.4. 23 *But thou hast mercy vpon all, for thou hast power of all things, and makest thee as though thou sawest not the sinnes of men, because they should amend.
24 For thou louest al the things that are, and hatest none of them whom thou hast made: for thou wouldest not haue made any thing, if thou hadst hated it.
25 Yea, howe might any thing endure, if it were not thy will? or howe could any thing bee preserued, except it were called of thee?
26 But thou sparest all, for they are thine, O Lord, thou louer of soules.

The xij. Chapter.

2 The mercie of God toward sinners. 14 The works of God are vnreproueable. 19 God giueth leasure to repent.

FOr thy vncorruptible spirite, O Lord, is in all things.
2 Therefore chastenest thou them measurably that go wrong, and warnest them, by putting them in remembrance in what things they haue offended, that leauing their wickednesse, they may beleeue on thee, O Lord.
Deut.9.3. and 12.10. 3 *As for those olde inhabiters of thy holy land, thou mightest not away with them:
4 For they committed abominable workes against thee, as witchcraft, sorcery, and wicked sacrifices:
5 They slewe their owne children without mercie, they did eat vp the bowels of mens flesh, and deuoured the blood in abominable banquets, and had their mad fanaticall priests:
6 And the fathers were the chiefe murderers of the soules destitute of helpe, these doers thou wouldest destroy by the hands of our fathers:
7 That the land which thou louest aboue al other, might be a meet dwelling for the children of God.
8 Nevertheless, thou sparedst them also as men, and sentest the forerunners of thine host, euen hornets, to destroy them out by litle and little.
9 Not that thou wast vnable to subdue the vngodly vnto the righteous in battell, or with cruel beastes, or with one rough word to destroy them together:
Exod.25. 23,deut.7. 22. 10 *But thy minde was in punishing them by litle and litle, to giue them place for amendement, knowing wel that it was an vnrighteous nation, and wicked of nature, and that their thought might neuer be altered:
11 For it was a curled seede from the beginning, yet hast thou not pardoned their sinnes wherein they offended, for that thou fearest any man.
Rom.9.20. 12 *For who dare say vnto thee, What hast thou done? or who will stand against thy iudgement? or who will blame thee for the nations that perish, whom thou hast made? or who will come before thy face to bee reuenged for the vnrighteous men?
1.Pet.5.7. 13 *For there is none other God but thou, that carest for all things, that thou mayest declare how that thy iudgement is not vnright.
14 There dare neither King nor tyrant, in thy sight, require accompts of them whom thou hast ‖ destroyed. ‖Or, punished.
15 For so much then as thou art righteous thy selfe, thou orderest all things righteously, thinking it vnseemely for thy power to condemne him that hath not deserued to be punished.
16 For thy power is the beginning of righteousnes, and because thou art Lord of all things, it maketh thee to be gracious vnto all.
17 For when men thinke thee not to be of a full strength, thou declarest thy power, and reprouest the boldenesse of the wise.
18 But thou ‖ mastering thy power, doest iudge with equitie, & orderest vs with great fauor: for thou mayest vse power when thou wilt. ‖Or, ruling.
19 By such workes nowe hast thou taught thy people, that the iuft man should bee louing, and hast made thy children to be of a good hope, because thou giuest roome to repentance for sinnes.
20 For in so much as thou hast punished, and with such deliberation and obtestation, the enemies of thy seruants which were worthy to die, whereby through thou gauest them time and place of amendement, that they might turne from their wickednesse:
21 With howe great circumspection then punishest thou thine owne children, vnto whose fathers thou hast sworne, and made couenants of good promises?

22 So whereas thou doest chasten vs, thou ‖ punishest our enemies a thousand times more: to the intent that when wee punish, wee should diligently thinke of thy goodnesse, and when we our selues are ‖ punished, we should hope for mercie.

‖Or, scourgest.

‖Or, iudged

23 Wherefore, whereas men haue liued dissolutely and vnrighteously, thou hast punished them sore with their owne abominations.

24 *For they went astray very ‖ long in the wayes of errour, and helde the beastes (which euen their enemies despised) for gods, deceiued as children of no vnderstanding.

Sap. 12. 16. rom. 1, 23. ‖Or, farre.

25 Therefore hast thou sent them thy iudgement in scorne, as to children voyd of reason.

26 As for such as will not bee reformed by those scornes and rebukes, they shal feele the worthy ‖ punishment of God.

‖Or, iudgement,

27 For looke in what things they ‖ disdayned when they ‖ suffered for their sakes whom they counted gods, seeing themselues punished in the ‖ same, they perceiued that he was in deed the true God, whom before they had denied to know, and therefore came extreme damnation vpon them.

‖Or, murmured and grudged. ‖Or, were chastised, ‖Or, murmuring,

The xiij. Chapter.

1 All things be vaine, except the knowledge of God.
10 Idolaters and idols are mocked.

Surely vaine are al men by nature, which were ignorant of God, and *could not out of the good things that are seene, know him that of himselfe is euerlasting, neither tooke so much regard of the workes that are made, as thereby to know who was the craftesman of them:

Rom. 8. 19.

2 *But some tooke the fire, some the winde or swift aire, some the course of the starres, some the running water, Some tooke Sunne & Moone, or the lightes of heauen, for gods that rule the world.

Deut. 4. 19.

3 But though they had such pleasure in their beautie, that they thought them to haue bene gods, yet should they haue known howe much more ‖ fairer he is that made them: for the ‖ maker of beautie hath ordeined all these things.

‖Or, excellent. ‖Or, the first author.

4 Or if they marueiled at the power and worke of them, they should haue perceiued thereby, how much he which made these things, is mightier then they.

5 For by the greatnesse of the beautie and of the creatures, the maker thereof compared with them, may plainely be ‖ knowen.

‖Or, seene.

6 Notwithstanding, they are the lesse to be blamed that seeke God, and would finde him, and yet peraduenture ‖ misse:

‖Or, erre.

7 *For they being occupied in his workes, do seeke him diligently, and are perswaded by the sight, because the things are beautifull that are seene.

Rom. 1. 25.

8 Howbeit, yet neither are they to be excused.

9 For if their vnderstanding and knowledge be so great, that they can ‖ discerne the world and the creatures, why do they not rather find out the Lord thereof?

‖Or, coniecture,

10 But miserable are they, and ‖ among the dead is their hope, that call them gods which are but the workes of mens hands, golde, siluer, and the thing that is found out by ‖ cunning,

‖Or, in dead things.

‖Or, arte.

the similitude of beastes, or any vaine stone that hath bene made by hand of old.

11 *Or as when a carpenter cutteth downe a tree meet for the purpose, and pareth off all the barke cunningly, and so by art comely maketh a vessel profitable to the vse of life:

Ecclu. 44. 12. iere. 10. 3.

12 And with that which is cut off from his worke, doeth dresse his meate to fill his belly:

13 And as for the other part that is left, which is profitable for nothing (for it is a crooked piece of wood, and full of knobs) hee carueth it diligently by leasure, and according to the knowledge of his cunning, hee giueth it some proportion, fashioneth it after the similitude of a man,

14 Or maketh it like some vile beast, straketh it ouer with redde, and painteth it, and looke what foule spot is in it, hee calleth some colour vpon it.

15 Then maketh hee a ‖ conuenient tabernacle for it, setteth it in a wal, and maketh it fast with yron:

‖Or, an house worthy of it.

16 Prouiding so for it, lest it happen to fall, ‖ for it is well knowen that it can not helpe it selfe: for why? it is but an image, and must of necessitie be helped.

‖Or, for he knoweth well.

17 Then making prayer for his goods, for his marriage, and for children, he is not ashamed to speake to that which hath no soule.

18 For health, hee maketh his petition vnto him that is ‖ sicke: for life, he humbly prayeth vnto him that is dead: hee ‖ calleth vpon him for helpe, that hath no experience at all: and to send him a good iourney, hee prayeth him that may not goe.

‖Or, weake. ‖Or, maketh supplication vnto him.

19 And for gaine, for worke, and for successe of his affaires, hee asketh power of him which is without all maner of power.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The detestation and abominations of images. 8 A curse of him and of them that make them. 14 Whereof idolatrie is proceeded. 23 What euils come of idolatrie.

Againe, another man purposing to saile, ‖ and beginning to take his iourney through the raging ‖ Sea, calleth for helpe vnto a stocke, that is farre weaker then the vessell that beareth him.

‖Or, preparing and making ready. ‖Or, waues, crieth for helpe.

2 For as for it, couetousnesse of money hath found it out, and the craftes man made it with his cunning.

3 But thy prouidence, O father, gouerneth it: for thou hast *made a way euen in the sea, and a sure path in the middest of the waues,

Exod. 14. 21.

4 Declaring thereby that thou hast power to helpe ‖ in all things, yea though a man went to the sea without ‖ ship.

‖Or, euery way. ‖Or, arte.

5 Neuertheless, thou wouldest not that the workes of thy wisedome should be in vaine: and therefore doe men commit their liues to a small piece of wood, passing ouer the stormie sea in a ship, and are saued.

6 *For in the olde time also when the proud Giants perished, he in whom ‖ the hope was left to encrease the world, went into the ship which was gouerned through thy hand, and so left seed behinde him vnto the world.

8 But cursed is ‖ the idole that is made with *hands, yea, both it, and he that made it: he, because hee made it: and it, because it was called God, whereas it is but a ‖ fraile thing.

‖ Or, the thing. Psal. 115.8. baruc. 6.3.

9 *For the vngodly and his vngodlinesse are both like abominable vnto God.

‖ Or, corruptible. Psal. 5.7.

10 Euen so the worke, and hee that made it also, shalbe punished together.

11 Therefore shall there a plague come vpon the idoles of the heathen: for out of the creature of God they are become an abomination, a ‖ temptation vnto the soules of men, and a snare for the feete of the vnwise.

‖ Or, a slander and offence, or stumbling blocke.

12 For why? the ‖ seeking out of idoles, is the beginning of whoredome, and the ‖ bringing vp of them, is the ‖ destruction of life.

‖ Or, deuising. ‖ Or, inuentions. ‖ Or, the corruption.

13 For they were not from the beginning, neither shall they continue for euer.

14 The vaine glory of men hath found them out vpon earth, therefore shall they come shortly to an ende.

15 For when a father mourned heauily for his sonne, ‖ suddenly taken away from him, hee made him an image: and him which then was but a dead man, hee now began to worship as a God, and ordeined for his ‖ seruants ceremonies and sacrifices.

‖ Or, soone. ‖ Or, subiects.

16 Thus by processe of time this ‖ vngratious custome being waxen strong, was kept as a law, and images were worshipped by commandement of tyrants.

‖ Or, wicked.

17 As for those that were so far off, that men might not worship them present, their visage being drawen out from farre off, was made as the ‖ cleare image of an honourable king, that they might with ‖ affection flatter as well the absent as the present.

‖ Or, gorgeous. ‖ Or, diligence.

18 Againe, the singular ambition of the craftsman gaue the ignorant also a great occasion to encrease the superstition.

19 For he willing to please one, peraduenture that ‖ bare rule, laboured with all his cunning to make the image of the best fashion.

‖ Or, was of authoritie.

20 And so through the beautie of the worke, the ‖ common people being thereto allured, tooke him now for a God, which a litle before was but honoured as a man.

‖ Or, multitude.

21 And this was to the deceiuing of mans life, when men either with calamitie or tyrannie oppressed, ascribed vnto stones and stockes that Name of God which ought not to be giuen to any thing els.

22 Moreouer, this was not ynough for them, that they erred in knowledge of God: but whereas they liued in the great warre of ignorance, those so many and great ‖ plagues, called they peace.

‖ Or, euils.

23 *For either they slew their owne children, and offered them in sacrifice, or vsed secret ceremonies, or kept wed mad drunken dissolutenesse of rites in sacrifice.

Deu. 18. 10. ierem. 7. 9. and 10. 4.

24 So that they kept neither life nor marriage cleane: but either one slewe another traiterously, or grieued him by adultery.

25 So that there reigned in all men without exception, blood, manslaughter, theft, ‖ dissimulation, corruption, vnfaithfulnesse, sedition, periurie, ‖ Or, deceit.

26 Disquieting of good men, vnthankefulnesse, defiling of soules, changing of birth, disordering of mariages, adulterie, and vncleannesse,

27 For why? the honouring of ‖ abominable images, is the beginning, the cause and ende of all euill.

‖ Or, of idoles that ought not once to be named of vs.

28 For they that worship idoles, either they are madde when they are merrie, or prophecie lies, or liue ‖ vngodly, or else lightly forsweare themselues.

‖ Or, vniustly.

29 For in so much as their trust is in the idols which haue no ‖ soule, though they sweare falsely, yet they thinke it shall not hurt them.

‖ Or, life.

30 Therefore commeth a great plague vpon them, and that worthily for both causes: for they haue an euill opinion of God that giue heed vnto idoles, and they sweare vniustly in deceit, despising holinesse.

31 For it is not the power of them by whom they sweare, but it is the iust ‖ vengeance of sinners, that punisheth alwayes the offence of the vngodly doers.

‖ Or, iudgement.

The xv. Chapter.

The voyce of the faithfull praysing the mercie of God, by whose grace they serue not idoles.

But thou, O our God, art gracious, true, and long suffering, and in mercie ordrest thou all things.

2 Though we sinne, yet are wee thine, for wee knowe thy strength: but wee will not sinne, because wee know we are counted thine.

3 For to know thee is perfect righteousnes: yea to knowe thy power, is the roote of immortalitie.

4 As ‖ for the thing that men haue founde out through their euill science, it hath not deceiued vs, nor the painters vnprofitable labour, to wit, an image ‖ spotted with diuers colours,

‖ Or, for neither the malicious deuice of men deceiued vs.

5 Whose sight entiseth the ignorant to lust after it, and hee desireth the ‖ picture of a dead image that hath no breath.

‖ Or, stained. ‖ Or, forme.

6 Both they that make them, they that desire them, & they that worship them, loue euils, and are worthy to haue such things to trust vpon.

7 * For the potter tempereth soft earth, laboureth it, and giueth it the fashion, of whatsoeuer vessell serueth for our vse: and of the selfe same clay he maketh both the vessels that serue for cleane vses, and also such as serue to the contrary: whereunto euery vessel serueth, the potter himselfe being the iudge.

Rom. 9. 20.

8 So by his wicked labour hee maketh a vaine god of the same clay, this doeth euen hee which a litle before was made of earth himselfe, and within a litle while after returneth to the same out of which he was taken, when the lone of his life shal be demaunded from him againe.

9 Notwithstanding he careth not the more for this that he must labour, nor that his life is short: but striueth to excell Goldsmiths and siluersmiths, and endeuoureth to do like the coppersmiths, and taketh it for an honour to make ‖ deceiuable things.

‖ Or, false and counterfait.

10 His heart is but ashes, his hope is more vaine then earth, and his life of ‖ lesse honour then clay,

‖ Or, more base.

11 For as much as he knoweth not his owne maker, that gaue him his soule of power to worke, and breathed in him the breath of life.

12 But they counted our life but a passime, and our conuersation to bee but a market for gaine, and that men should euery way bee getting, yea, though it were by euil meanes.

13 Nowe hee that of earth maketh fraile vessels and images, knoweth himselfe to offende aboue all other.

14 All the enemies of thy people that holde them in subiection, are most vnwise, and are more miserable then ‖ very fooles.

15 For they iudge al the idoles of the heathen to be gods, which neither haue * eyesight to see, nor noses to ‖ smell, nor eares to heare, nor fingers or handes to grope, and as for their feete they are too slow to goe.

16 For man made them, and he that borrowed his owne spirit fashioned them: but no man can make a god like vnto himselfe.

17 For seeing he is but mortall, it is but mortall that he maketh with vnrighteous handes: hee himselfe is better then they whom hee worshippeth, for he liued, as they did neuer.

18 Yea they worshipped such beastes also as are ‖ most hatefull: for if they were compared, for ‖ madnesse they are worse then others.

19 Neither haue they any beautie why to be desired in respect of other beastes: but are all boyd of the praise of God, and his blessing.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 The punishment of idolaters. 20 The benefits done vnto the faithfull.

THerefore by such things are they worthily punished, and through the multitude of beastes are they ‖ rooted out.

2 In stead of the which punishments, thou hast * graciously ordered thine owne people, preparing for the desire of their appetite, a strange taste, euen Quailes to bee their meate:

3 To the intent that by the things which were shewed and sent vnto them, they that were so greedy of meate, might beginne to lothe euen their necessary appetite, and they which had suffered penurie for a short space, might bee partakers of the new taste.

4 For it was requisite that without any excuse pouertie should come vpon those which bled tyrannie, and to shew onely vnto the other how their enemies were ‖ destroyed.

5 For when the * cruel ‖ woodnesse of the beastes came vpon them, and they perished through the stings of the cruel Serpents, notwithstanding thy wrath endured not perpetually.

6 But they were ‖ put in feare for a litle season, that they might bee reformed, hauing a ‖ token of saluation, to remember the commandement of the Law.

7 For he that looked backe to it, was not healed by the thing hee saw, but by thee, O sauiour of all.

8 So in this thou hast shewed our enemies, that it is thou which deliuerest from all euil.

9 * For then when they were bitten with grashoppers and flies, they died, neither was there found any remedy for their life, for they were worthy to be punished by such.

10 But not the very teeth of venemous dragons did ouercome thy children: for thy mercie was euer by them, and healed them.

11 For they were pricked, because they should remember thy wordes, but speedily were they healed againe, lest they should fall into so deepe forgetfulnesse, that they might not bee called backe by thy benefite.

12 For it was neither herbe nor plaster that restored them to health: but thy word, O Lord, which healeth all things.

13 * It is thou, O Lord, that hast the power of life and death, thou leadest ‖ vnto deaths doore, and bringest vp againe.

14 A man in deede through his wickednesse may slay another, but when his spirit is gone forth, it turneth not againe, neither may hee call againe the soule that is taken away.

15 But it is not possible to escape thy hand.

16 * For the vngodly that would not knowe thee, were punished by the strength of thine arme: with strange raines, hailes, and showres were they persecuted that they could not auoyd, and through fire were they consumed.

17 For it was a wonderous thing that fire might do more then water which quencheth all things: but the world is the auenger of the righteous.

18 For sometimes was the fire so tame, that the beastes which were sent to punish the vngodly burnt not, and that because they should see and knowe that they were persecuted with the punishment of God.

19 And sometime burnt the fire in the midst of the water, that it might destroy the fruites of the vniust land.

20 * In steade whereof, thou hast fedde thine owne people with Angels food, and sent them bread ready from heauen without their labour, ‖ being very pleasant and of good taste.

21 For this thy substance vnto thy children declared thy sweetnesse, and seruing to his appetite that tooke it, tempered it selfe according to his desire.

22 * But the snow and yce abode the violence of the fire, and melted not, that they might knowe that the fire burning in the haile, and sparkeling in the raine, destroyed the fruite of the enemies.

23 The fire also forgate his owne strength againe, that the righteous might be nourished.

24 For the creature that serueth thee which art the maker, is fierce in punishing the vnrighteous, but is easie and gentle to do good vnto such as put their trust in thee.

25 Therefore did it alter at the same time into al fashions, and was obedient vnto thy grace, which is the nurse of al things, according to the desire of them that had need thereof:

26 * That thy children, O Lord, whom thou louest, might know that it is not the ‖ growing of fruites that feedeth men, but that it is thy word which preserueth them that put their trust in thee.

27 For looke what ‖ might not bee destroyed at all with the fire, alsoone as it was warmed with a litle Sunne beame, it melted:

28 That all men might knowe that thankes ought to bee giuen vnto thee before the Sunne rise, and that thou oughtest to bee ‖ worshipped before the day spring.

The xvij. Chapter.

The iudgements of God against the wicked.

GReat are thy iudgements, O Lord, & cannot be expressed: therefore men do erre that wil not be reformed by thy wisdome.

2 For when the vnrighteous thought to haue thy holy people in subiection, they were bound with the bonds of *darkenesse and long night, shut vp vnder rooues, and lay there to escape the eternall prouidence.

Exod.10. 23.

3 And while they thought to be hidde in the darkenesse of their sinnes, they were scattered abroad in the very middest of the darke couering of forgetfulnesse, put to horrible feare, and ‖wonderously vexed.

‖Or, astonished with sights of strange apparitions.

4 For the corner where they lay hid, might not keepe them from feare, because soundes came round about them, and vexed them, yea, many terrible and ‖ strange visions appeared vnto them:

‖Or, phantasies with wofull countenances.

5 No power of the fire might giue them light, neither might the cleare flames of the starres lighten the horrible night:

6 But there appeared vnto them sudden fire onely, very dreadfull: at the which sight, wherein they saw nothing thoroughly, they were so afraide, that they thought the thing which they saw to be ‖ the more fearefull.

‖Or, the worse. Exod.7.29.

7 *As for the illusions of the Magicall art, they came to nought, and it was a most shamefull reproche of the pride that they had of their owne wisedome.

8 For they that promised to driue away the feares & troubles from the sicke soule, were sicke themselues with feare, worthy to be laughed at.

9 For though no terrible thing did feare them, yet were they afraide at the beastes which passed by them, & at the hissing of the serpents.

10 In so much that with trembling they ‖ swooned, and ‖ said they saw not the aire, which no man yet may escape.

‖Or, died. ‖Or, and denied euen to see the aire.

11 For malice is a dreadful thing that is condemned by his owne witnesse: and being pressed with conscience, it euer ‖ suspecteth cruel things.

‖Or, forecasteth.

12 For feare is nothing els but a ‖ betraying of the succours which reason offereth.

‖Or, a forsaking & reuolting of the helpes which reason suggesteth.

13 And looke how much the lesse his hope is within, the greater doeth hee recount his ignorance of that cause that bringeth the torment.

14 But they that did endure the night that in deed was intollerable, and that came from the dungeons of intollerable hell, sleeping the same sleepe, 15 Were sometimes chased with monsterous apparitions, and sometimes they swooned as their owne soules had betrayed them: for an hastie feare, and that was not looked for, came vpon them.

16 And thus whosoeuer was there fallen, he was in prison, but without chaines.

17 For whether a man had occupied husbandry, or had bene an heardman, or labourer in the ‖ woods, if he were taken, hee suffered ‖ intollerable necessitie.

‖Or, alone, or in the desarts. ‖Or, that could not be escaped.

18 For they were all bound with one chaine of darkenes: whether it were a blasing winde, or a sweete song of the birdes among the thicke branches of the trees, or the vehemencie of hasty running water,

19 Or great noyse of the falling downe of stones, or the running of playing beastes, which they sawe not, or the mighty noyse of roaring wild beasts, or ‖ the sound that answered againe in the holownesse of the mountaines: these terrible things made them swoone for very feare.

‖Or, eccho.

20 For all the ‖ earth shined with cleare light, and no man was hindered in his labour.

‖Or, world.

21 Only vpon them there sel an heauy night, an image of darkenesse that was to come vpon them: yea, they were vnto themselues more heauie then darkenesse.

The xviij. Chapter.

3 The fierie pillar that the Israelites had in Egypt. 8 The deliuerance of the faithfull.

NEuertheless, thy *saints had a very great light, whose voyce they hearing, & not seeing their figure, for that they suffered not the same things, they thought them blessed.

Exod.10. 23.

2 And for that they did not hurt them now of whom they had bene wronged before, they thanked them, and besought them pardon of that they had bene enemies.

3 *Therefore thou gauest them a burning pillar of fire to leade them in the vnknowen way, and the Sunne not to hurt them in their honourable iourney.

Exod.13. 21. psal.77. 14.

4 But reason it was that they should leese the light, and be put in the prison of darkenesse, which had kept thy children ‖ shut vp, by whom the incorrupt light of the Law was to be giuen vnto the world.

‖Or, in bondage.

5 *After, when they thought to slay the babes of the Saints, one childe being cast out, and preserued to reproue them, thou tookest away the whole multitude of their children, and destroyedst them altogether in a mighty water.

Exod.1.16. and 2.3.

6 *Of that night were our fathers certified afore, that they knowing vnto what othes they had giuen credence, might be of good cheare.

Exo.14,24.

7 Thus the people receiued the health of the righteous, but the vngodly were destroyed.

8 For like as thou hast ‖ reuenged our enemies, so hast thou promoted vs whom thou hast called.

‖Or, punished.

9 For the righteous children of the good men offered secretly, and made a godly law with one consent, that the Saints should in like maner receiue together both good and euill, and that the fathers now should first sing prayses.

10 But there was heard a disagreeing voice of the enemies, and there was a miserable lamentation for children that were bewayled.

11 *The master and the seruant were punished after one maner: and like as the King, so suffred the common people.

Exod.12. 27.

12 So they had innumerable that died with one kinde of death altogether, neither were the liuing sufficient to bury ‖ the dead: for in the twinckling of an eye the noblest offspring of them was destroyed.

‖Or, them.

13 For whereas they would discredite all things, by reason of the enchantments, in the destruction of the first borne, they acknowledged that this people was the children of God.

14 For while all things were still in silence, and when the night was in the middest of her course, thy Almighty word, O Lord, leapt down from heauen out of thy royal throne,

‖Or, fierce.

15 As a ‖ rough man of warre in the middest of the land that was destroyed.

16 And brought thine vnfained commandement as a sharpe sworde, and standing vp, filled all things with death, yea, it stoode vpon the earth, and reached vnto the heauen.

17 Then the sighes of the euill dreams vered them suddenly, and fearefulnesse came vpon them vnawares.

18 Then lay there one heere, another there, halfe dead, halfe quicke, and shewed the cause of his death.

19 For the visions that vered them, shewed them these things afore, that they might not be ignorant wherefore they perished.

20 Yea, the temptation of death touched the righteous also, and ‖ among the multitude in the wildernesse there was ‖ insurrection: but thy wrath endured not long.

‖Or, of.
‖ or, slaughter.

Nū. 16.46.

21 *For the blamelesse man went in all the haste, and tooke the battell vpon him, brought forth the weapon of his ministration, euen prayer, and the reconciliation of incense, set himselfe against the wrath, and so brought the misery to an ende, declaring thereby that hee was thy seruant.

‖Or, the destroyer.

22 For he ouercame not the ‖ multitude with bodily power or force of weapons: but with the word he subdued him that ‖ vered, alledging the othe and couenant made vnto the fathers.

‖Or, that punished.

23 For when the dead were fallen downe by heaps one vpon another, he stood in the middest, ‖ pacified the wrath, and ‖ parted the way that it might not come to the liuing.

‖Or, cut off.
‖Or, brake.

Exo. 28,11.

24 * And why? in his long garment was all the beautie, and in the foure rowes of the stones was the glory of the fathers grauen, and thy maiestie was written in the ‖ crowne of his head.

‖Or, diademe.

25 Vnto these the destroyer gaue place, and was afraid of them: for it was ynough that they onely tasted of the wrath.

The xix. Chapter.

1 The death of the Egyptians, and the great ioy of the Hebrewes.

AS for the vngodly, the wrath came vpon them without mercie vnto the end: for he knewe before what should happen vnto them:

2 Howe that when they had consented to let them goe, and had sent them out with great diligence, they would repent, and ‖ follow vpon them.

‖Or, pursue them.

Exod. 14.5.

3 *For whilest they were yet mourning and making lamentation by the graues of the dead, they deuised another foolishnesse, so that they persecuted them in their fleeing, whome they had a cast out afore with prayer.

a That is, the children of Israel, whome they before had desired and prayed for to goe their way.

4 For the ‖ necessitie which they had deserued, brought them vnto this end, I made them forget the things that had already happened, that they might by torments fulfill their punishment which remained:

‖Or, destinie.

5 And that thy people might try a marueilous passage: and these might finde a straunge death.

6 For euery creature in his kind was fashioned againe of new, seruing the peculiar offices, as was commanded them, that thy children might be kept without hurt:

7 For the cloud ouershadowed their tents, and the dry earth appeared where afore was water: so that in the red Sea there was a way without impediment, and the great deepe became a greene field:

8 Where thorowe all the people went that were defended with thy hand, seeing thy marueilous strange wonders.

9 For as the horses, right so they neighed, and leaped like lambes, praising thee, (O Lord) which hadst deliuered them.

10 And why? they were yet mindfull of the things that were done while they dwelt in the strange land, how the ground brought forth flies in stead of cattell, and how the riuer scrawled with the multitude of frogs in stead of fishes.

11 *But at the last they saw a new generation of birds, what time as they were stirred with lust, and desired delicate meates.

Exo. 16,13. num. 11,31.

12 For why? the quailes came vp to them from the sea for their comfort: but punishment came vpon the sinners, not without the signes which came before to passe by vehemencie of the thicke lightnings: for they suffered worthily according to their wickednesse, because they dealt so churlishly and with an hate of strangers.

13 For some would not receiue ‖ men that came vnto them, and were vnknown: and some brought the straungers into bondage that did them good.

‖Or, guests vnknowen.

14 Not onely so, but if they had beene any where regarded, they could not suffer it: for they entreated strangers very despitefully.

15 Others that had receiued them with great ‖ solemnitie, when they were admitted vnto their societie, they afflicted them with grieuous labours.

‖Or, rites.

16 *Therefore were they stricken with blindnesse, like as when they that were couered with suddaine darkenesse at the doores of the righteous, sought euery one of them the entrance of his doores.

Gen. 19,11

17 Thus the elements being changed, agreed among themselues, like as when tunes are changed vpon an instrument of musicke, and yet keepe still a melodie: which may easily bee perceiued by the sight of the things that are come to passe.

18 For the earthly things were turned into watrie: and the thing that before swam in the water, now went vpon the ground.

19 The fire had power in the water, forgetting his owne vertue: and the water forgate his owne kind to quench the fire.

20 Againe, the flames hurted not the flesh of the corruptible liuing things, though they walked therein, neither melted they that yeie kinde of immortall meate, that was of nature apt to melt.

21 For in all things hast thou promoted thy people (O Lorde) and brought them to honour, thou hast not despised them, but alway and in all places hast thou ‖ stood by them.

‖Or, assisted them.

The end of the Booke of Wisedome.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Nnn1v

The booke of Iesus the sonne of Sirach, which is called in Latine Ecclesiasticus.

The Prologue of Iesus the sonne of Sirach vnto his booke.

MAny and great men haue declared wisedome vnto vs out of the Lawe, out of the Prophets, and out of other that followed them, in the which things, Israel ought to be commended, by the reason of doctrine and wisedome: therefore they that haue it, and reade it, should not onely themselues be wise therethrough, but serue other also with teaching and writing. After that my grandfather Iesus had giuen diligent labour to reade the Lawe, the Prophets, and other bookes that were left vs of our fathers, and had well exercised himselfe therein: he purposed also to write something of wisedome and good manners, to the intent that they which were willing to learne, and to be wise, might haue the more vnderstanding, and be the more apt to leade a good conuersation. Wherefore, I exhort you to receiue it louingly, to reade it with diligence, and to take it in good worth, though our words be not so eloquent as the famous Orators. For the thing that is written in the Hebrewe tongue, soundeth not so well when it is translated into another speech: not only this booke of mine, but also the Lawe, the Prophets, and other bookes sound farre otherwise then they doe, when they are spoken in their owne language.

Nowe in the thirtie and eight yeere, when I came into Egypt, in the time of Ptolome Euerges, and continued there a long season, I found bookes there left full of great and profound learning. Wherefore, I thought it good and necessarie to bestowe my diligence and trauaile to interprete this booke: and considering that I had time, I laboured and did my best to performe this booke, and to bring it vnto light, that the strangers also which are disposed to learne, might apply themselues vnto good manners, and liue according to the Lawe of the Lord.

The first Chapter.

1 Wisedome commeth of God. 11 A praise of the feare of God. 19 The means to come by wisdome.

ALl wisedome commeth of God the Lorde, and hath bene euer with him, ‖ and is before all time.

‖ Or, and is with him for euer.

2 Who hath numbred the sand of the sea, the drops of the raine, and the dayes of ‖ time? Who hath measured the height of heauen, the breadth of the earth, and the deepenesse of the sea?

‖ Or, the world.

3 Who hath sought out the ground of Gods wisedome, which hath bene before all things?

4 Wisedome hath beene created before all things, and the vnderstanding of prudence from euerlasting.

5 (Gods worde in the height is the well of wisdome, and the euerlasting commandements are the entrance of her.)

Rō. 11. 34. 6 *Vnto whome hath the root of wisedome bene declared? or who hath knowen her wit?

7 Vnto whome hath the doctrine of wisedome beene discouered and shewed? and who hath vnderstood the manifold entrance of her?

8 There is one, euen the highest, the maker of all things the Almightie, the king of power, of whome men ought to stand greatly in awe, which sitteth vpon his throne, beeing a God of dominion.

9 Hee hath created her through the holy ghost, he hath seene her, numbred her, and measured her.

10 Hee hath powred her out vpon all his workes, and vpon all flesh, according to his gift he giueth her richly vnto them that loue him.

11 The feare of the Lord is worship and triumph, gladnesse, and a ioyfull crowne.

12 The feare of the Lorde maketh a merrie heart, giueth gladnesse, ioy, and long life.

13 Who so feareth the Lord, it shall goe well with him at the last, and in the day of his death he shall be blessed.

14 The loue of God is honourable wisdome: looke vnto whome it appeareth, they loue it, for they see what wonderous things it doth.

15 *The feare of the Lorde is the beginning of wisedome, and was made with the faithfull in the mothers wombe, it shall goe with the chosen women, and shall be knowen of the righteous and faithfull. Prou. 1. 7. Psal. 110. 10

16 The feare of the Lorde is the right Gods seruice,

17 That preserueth and iustifieth the heart, and giueth mirth and gladnesse:

18 Who so feareth the Lorde shall be happie, and when he hath neede of comfort, he shall be blessed.

19 Shee hath built her euerlasting foundations with men, and is giuen to be with their seede.

20 To feare God is the wisedome that maketh rich, and bringeth all good with her.

21 Shee filleth the whole house with her gifts, and the garners with her treasure.

22 The feare of the Lorde is the crowne of wisedome, and giueth plenteous peace & health: hee hath seene her and numbred her: both these are the gifts of God.

23 Knowledge and vnderstanding of wisedome hath hee powred out as raine, and them that held her fast hath he brought vnto honour.

24 The feare of the Lord is the roote of wisedome, and her branches are long life.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Nnn2r

25 In the treasures of wisedome is vnderstanding and deuotion of knowledge, but wisedome is abhorred of sinners.

26 The feare of the Lord driueth out sinne, and when thee is present, thee driueth away anger.

27 For hee that is without feare, cannot be made righteous, and his wilfull boldnesse is his owne destruction.

28 A patient man will suffer vnto the time, and then shall he haue the reward of ioy.

29 A good vnderstanding wil hide his words for a time, and many mens lips shall speake of his wisedome.

30 In the treasures of wisedome is the declaration of doctrine: but the sinner abhorreth the worship of God.

31 My sonne, if thou desire wisedome, keepe the commandement, and God shall giue her vnto thee.

32 For the feare of the Lord is wisedome and nurture: hee hath pleasure in faith and louing meekenesse, and he shall fill the treasures thereof.

33 Bee not obstinate and vnfaithfull to the feare of the Lord, and come not vnto him with a double heart.

34 Bee not an hypocrite in the sight of men, and take good heede what thou speakest.

35 Exalt not thy selfe, least thou happen to fall, and bring thy soule to dishonour: and so discouer thy secrets, and cast thee downe in the middest of the congregation, because thou wouldest not receiue the feare of God, and because thy heart is full of fainednesse and deceit.

The ij. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth the seruants of God to righteousnes, loue, vnderstanding, and patience. 11 To trust in the Lorde. 13 A curse vpon them that are faint hearted and impatient.

Mat.4.1. 2.tim.3.12. 1.pet.4.12.

MY sonne, if * thou wilt come into the seruice of God, stand fast in righteousnesse and feare, and arme thy soule to temptation.

2 Settle thine heart, and be patient, bowe downe thine eare, receiue the words of vnderstanding, and hrinke not away when thou art assaulted.

3 Holde thee fast vpon God, ioyne thy selfe vnto him, and suffer, that thy life may increase at the last.

4 Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto thee, receiue it: suffer in heauinesse, and bee patient in thy trouble.

Sap.3.6. prou.17.3.

5 *For like as gold and siluer are tried in the fire, euen so are acceptable men in the furnace of aduersitie.

6 Beleeue in God, and hee shall helpe thee: order thy way aright, and put thy trust in him: hold fast his feare, and grow therein.

7 O ye that feare the Lord, take sure hold of his mercie, hrinke not away from him, that yee fall not.

8 O yee that feare the Lorde, beleeue him, and your reward shall not be emptie.

a That is, looke for good things, & trust to haue the reward of euerlasting life, promised to them that with patience continue in his feare.

9 O yee that feare the Lorde, [a] trust in good things, and mercie shall come vnto you for pleasure.

10 O yee that feare the Lorde, set your loue vpon him, and your hearts shall be lightened.

11 Consider the old generations of men (O yee children) and marke them well: was there euer any one confounded that put his trust in the Lord? who euer continued in his feare, and was forsaken? or whome did he euer despise that called faithfully vpon him?

12 *For God is gratious and mercifull, hee forgiueth sinnes in the time of trouble, and is a defender for all them that seeke him in the truth. Psal.37.25.

13 Woe be vnto them that haue a ‖ fearefull heart, wicked lippes, and euill occupied hands, and to the sinner that goeth two manner of wayes. ‖or, double.

14 Woe be vnto them that are faint hearted, which put not their strength in God, and therefore shall they not be defended of him.

15 Wo be vnto ‖ you that haue lost patience, forsaken the right wayes, and are turned backe into froward wayes: what will yee doe when the Lord shall begin to visite you? ‖Or, them,

16 *They that feare the Lord, will not disobey his word: and they that loue him, will keepe his commandements. Ioh.14.24.

17 They that feare the Lorde, will seeke out the things that are pleasant vnto him: and they that loue him, be fulfilled with his lawe.

18 They that feare the Lorde will prepare their hearts: & humble their soules in his sight.

19 They that feare the Lorde, keepe his commandements, and will be patient, till they see himselfe.

20 Saying, *If we doe not repent, wee shall fall into the hands of the Lord, and not into the hands of men. 2.Sa.24.13.

21 For his mercie is as great as himselfe.

The iij. Chapter.

1 To our father and mother ought we to giue double honour. 10 Of the blessing and curse of the father and mother.

THe children of wisedome are a congregation of the righteous, and their obedience and loue.

2 Heare your fathers iudgement, (O my deare children) and doe thereafter, that ye may be safe.

3 *For the Lorde will haue the father honoured of the children: and looke what a mother commaundeth her children to doe, hee will haue it kept. Exo.20.6. deut.5.10.

4 Who so honoureth his father, his sinnes shall be forgiuen him: and he shall abstaine from them, and shall haue his daily desires.

5 And he that honoureth his mother, is like one that gathereth treasure together.

6 Who so honoureth his father, shall haue ioy of his owne children: and when hee maketh his prayer, he shalbe heard.

7 He that honoureth his father, shall haue a long life: and he that is obedient vnto the Lord, shall comfort his mother.

8 He that feareth the Lorde, honoureth his father and mother, and doth them seruice as it were vnto Lords.

9 *Honour thy father and mother in deede, in worde, and in all patience, that thou mayest haue Gods blessing: and his blessing shall abide with thee at the last. Exo.20.12. deut.5.10.

10 *The blessing of the father stablisheth the houses of the children: but the mothers curse rooteth out the foundations. Gen 27.27. deut.33.1.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Nnn2v

11 Reioyce not when thy father is reproued: for it is not honour vnto thee, but a shame.
12 For the worship of a mans father, is his owne worship: and the reproch of the mother, is the dishonesty of the sonne.
13 My sonne, make much of thy father in his age, and grieue him not as long as hee liueth.
14 And if his vnderstanding faile, haue patience with him, & despise not him in thy strength.
15 For the good deed that thou shewest vnto thy father, shal not be forgotten: and when thou thy selfe wantest, it shall be rewarded thee: and for thy mothers offence thou shalt be recompensed with good, yea, it shall be founded for thee in righteousnesse.
16 And in the day of trouble thou shalt be remembred: thy sinnes also shall melt away, like as the yce in the faire warme weather.
17 He that forsaketh his father, shall come to shame: and he that defieth his mother, is cursed of God.
18 My sonne, perfourme thy workes with louing meekenesse, so shalt thou be loued aboue other men.
Phil.2.3. 19 *The greater thou art, the more humble thy selfe in all things, and thou shalt find fauour in the sight of God.
20 Many are excellent and of renowme: but the secrets are reuealed vnto the meeke.
21 For great power belongeth onely vnto God: and he is honoured of the lowly.
Pro.25.27. rom.12.3. 22 *Seeke not out the things that are aboue thy capacitie, and search not the ground of such things as are too mightie for thee.
23 But looke what God hath commaunded thee, thinke vpon that alway, and be not curious in many of his workes: for it is not needfull for thee to see with thine eyes the things that are secret.
24 Make not too much search in superfluous things, & be not curious in many of his workes: for many things are shewed vnto thee alreadie, which be aboue the capacitie of men.
25 The medling with such hath beguiled many a man, and tangled their wits in vanity.
26 Thou canst not see without eyes, therfore professe not the thing that thou hast not.
27 An hard heart shall fare euill at the last: and he that loueth danger, shall perish therein.
28 An heart that goeth two wayes shall not prosper, and he that is froward of heart, will euer be worse and worse.
29 An obstinate heart shall be laden with sorrowes, and the vngodly sinner will heape one sinne vpon another.
30 The counsell of the proud hath no healthy, and his footsteps shalbe plucked vp: for the plant of sinne hath taken root in him.
31 The heart of him that hath vnderstanding, shall perceiue high things: and a good eare will gladly hearken vnto wisedome.
32 An heart that is wise and hath vnderstanding, will abstaine from sinnes, and increase in the workes of righteousnesse.
Psal.40.2. dan.4.24. mat.5.7. 33 Water quencheth burning *fire, and mercie reconcileth sinnes.
34 God hath respect vnto him that is thankefull: hee thinketh vpon him against the time to come, so that when hee falleth, hee shall finde a strong holde.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 Almes must be done with gentlenesse. 12 The studie of wisdome and her fruit. 20 An exhortation to eschew euill, and to doe good.

MY *sonne, defraud not the poore of his almes, and turne not away thine eyes from him that hath neede. Deut.15.4. tob.4.7. mat.23.23.
2 Despise not an hungry soule, and defie not the poore in his necessitie.
3 Grieue not the heart of him that is helpelesse, & withdraw not the gift from the needfull.
4 Refuse not the prayer of one that is in trouble, turne not away thy face from the needie.
5 Cast not thine eyes aside from the poore for any euill will, that thou giue him not occasion to speake euill of thee.
6 For if hee complaine of thee in the bitternesse of his soule, his prayer shalbe heard: euen he that made him shall heare him.
7 Be curteous vnto the company of the poore, humble thy soule vnto thy elder, and bow downe thy head to a man of worship.
8 Let it not grieue thee to bow downe thine eare vnto the poore, [a] but pay the debt, and giue him a friendly answere, and that with meekenesse.
9 Deliuer him that suffereth wrong, from the hand of the oppressor: and be not faint hearted when thou sittest in iudgement.
10 Be mercifull vnto the fatherlesse as a father, and bee in stead of an husband vnto their mother: so shalt thou be an obedient sonne of the highest, and he shall loue thee more then thy mother doth.
11 Wisedome exalteth her children, receiueth them that seeke her, and will goe before them in the way of righteousnesse.
12 Hee that loueth her, loueth life: and they that seeke her diligently, shall haue great ioy.
13 They that keepe her, shall inherite glory: for where thee entreth in, there is the blessing of God.
14 They that honour her, shalbe the seruants of the holy one: and they that loue her, are beloued of God.
15 Who so giueth eare vnto her, shall iudge the heathen: and he that ‖ hath respect vnto her, shall dwell safely. ‖Or, giueth.
16 Hee that beleeueth her, shall haue her in possession, and his generation shall endure.
17 For when he ‖ falleth, shee doeth goe with him, and chooseth him among the best: feare, dread, and temptation shall she bring vpon him, and try him in her doctrine, till she haue proued him in his thoughts, that hee commit his soule vnto her. ‖Or, walketh.
18 Then shall she stablish him, bring the right way vnto him, make him a glad man, shew him her secrets, and heape vpon him the treasures of knowledge, and vnderstanding of righteousnesse.
19 But if he goe wrong, she shall forsake him, and giue him ouer into the hands of destruction and ruine. Rom.12.11
20 *My sonne, make much of the time, eschew the thing that is euill: [b] To be ashamed to confesse thy God, thy faith, to restitute the truth, and to repraue sinne, doth bring sinne vnto thee: the contrary shame bringeth worship.
21 And for thy life shame not to say the truth: [b] for there is a shame that bringeth sinne, & there is a shame that bringeth worship and fauour.

[a] A man must of dutie be curteous to the poore, humble to the aged, bow downe to the worshipfull: to all his duety to consist, to helpe, & deliuer the innocent and simple soule from the violence of the wrongly.

22 Accept no person after thine owne will, that thou bee not confounded to thine owne decay: Be not ashamed of thy neighbour in his aduersitie.

23 And keepe not backe thy counsell when it may doe good, neither hide thy wisedome in her beauty.

24 For in the tongue is wisedome knowen, so is vnderstanding, knowledge, and learning, in the talking of the wise, and stedfastnesse in the workes of righteousnes.

25 In no wise speake against the worde of trueth, but be ashamed of the lies of thine owne ignorance.

26 Shame not to confesse thine errour, and resist not the course of the riuer.

27 And submit not thy selfe vnto a foolish man, neither accept the person of the mighty.

28 And striue thou not against the streame: but for righteousnesse take paines with all thy soule, and for the trueth striue thou vnto death, and God shall fight for thee against thine enemies.

29 Bee not hasty in thy tongue, neither slacke and negligent in thy workes.

30 Be not as a lion in thine owne house, destroying thy houshold folkes, and oppressing them that are vnder thee.

31 Let not thine hand be stretched out to receiue, and shut when thou shouldest giue.

The v. Chapter.

1 In riches wee may not put any confidence. 7 The vengeance of God ought to be feared, and repentance may not be deferred.

Luk.12.15. TRust not vnto thy riches, and say not, Tush, *I haue enough for my life, for it shall not helpe in the time of vengeance and temptation.

2 Follow not the lust of thine owne heart in thy strength.

3 And say not, Tush, howe haue I had strength? or who will bring mee vnder, because of my workes? For doubtlesse God shall auenge it.

4 And say not, I haue sinned, and what euill hath happened me? for the Almighty is a patient rewarder.

5 Because thy sinne is forgiuen thee, be not therefore without feare, neither heape one sinne vpon another.

Eccl.21.1. 6 And say not, Tush, the *mercy of the Lord is great, he shall forgiue mee my sinnes be they neuer so many: for like as he is mercifull, so goeth wrath from him also, and his indignation commeth downe vpon sinners.

Eccl.16.13 7 *Make no tarying to turne vnto the Lord, and put not off from day to day: for sodainely shall his wrath come, and in the time of vengeance he shall destroy thee.

Prou.10.2. ezech.7.19. 8 Trust not in *wicked riches, for they shal not helpe thee in the day of punishment and wrath.

9 Be not caried away with euery wind, and goe not into euery way: for so doeth the sinner that hath a double tongue.

10 Stand fast in the way of the Lord, be stedfast in thy vnderstanding, abide by the worde, and follow the word of peace and righteousnes.

11 Bee gentle to heare the word of God, that thou mayest vnderstand it, and make a true answere with wisedome.

12 *Be swift to heare, but slow and patient in giuing answere. Iacob.1.19.

13 If thou hast vnderstanding, shape thy neighbour an answere: if no, lay thy hand vpon thy mouth, lest thou bee trapped in an vndiscreete word, and so confounded.

14 Honour and shame is in the talke, but the tongue of the vndiscreete is his owne destruction.

15 Be not a priuie accuser as long as thou liuest, and vse no slander with thy tongue: for shame and sorow goeth ouer the theefe: and an euill name ouer him that is double tongued: but hee that is a priuie accuser of other men, shall be hated, enuied, and confounded.

16 Woe not rashly, neither in great nor small.

The vj. Chapter.

1 It is the propertie of a sinner to be euill tongued. 6 Of friendship. 33 Desire to be taught.

BE not of a friend an enemie: [a] for such a man getteth an euill name, shame, and rebuke: and whosoeuer beareth enuie, is a double tongue, offendeth.

a For that is against the rule of charitie, which loueth all, and hateth nothing but only sinne.

2 Bee not proud in the deuice of thine vnderstanding: least thy soule rent thee as a [b] bull, b As a bull teareth in pieces a young tree with his horne so deuoureth it in thine owne wisdome, and standing in thine owne conceit, because of thy power in riches, thou shalt destroy thy selfe.

3 And lest thy leaues wither, and thy fruit be destroyed, and so thou bee left as a drie tree in the wildernesse.

4 For a wicked soule destroyeth him that hath it, maketh him to bee laughed to scorne of his enemies, and bringeth him to the portion of the vngodly.

5 A sweete word multiplieth friends, and pacifieth them that bee at variance: and a thankefull tongue will bee plenteous in a good man.

6 Hold friendship with many: neuertheless, haue but one counseller of a thousand.

7 If thou getteste a friend, proone him first, and be not hastie to giue him credence.

8 For some man is a friende but for his owne turne, and will not abide in the day of trouble.

9 And there is some friend that turneth to enmitie, and taketh part against thee: and if he know any hurt by thee, he telleth it out.

10 *Againe, some friend is but a companion at the table: and in the day of neede he continueth not. Eccl.37.5.

11 But in thy prosperitie hee will be as thou thy selfe, and deale plainely with thy houshold folke.

12 If thou be brought low, he will be against thee, and will be hidden from thy face.

13 Depart from thine enemies, yea, and beware of thy friends.

14 A faithfull friend is a strong defence, who so findeth such one, findeth a treasure.

15 A faithfull friend hath no peere, the weight of gold and siluer is not to bee compared to the goodnesse of his faith.

16 A faithfull friend is a medicine of life and immortalitie, and they that feare the Lord shall find him.

frends: and as he is himselfe, so shal his friends be also.

18 My sonne, receiue doctrine from thy youth vp, so shalt thou finde wisedome till thou be old.

19 Goe to her as to one that ploweth & soweth, and waite patiently for her good fruits: for thou shalt haue but little labour in her worke, but thou shalt eate of her fruits right soone.

20 O how exceeding sharpe is wisedome to vnlearned men: an vnstedfast body will not remaine in her.

21 Vnto such he is as it were a touchstone, and he casteth her from him in all the haste.

22 For wisedome is with him but in name, there are but fewe that haue knowledge of her.

23 But with them that knowe her, thee abideth euen vnto the appearing of God.

24 Giue eare my sonne, receiue my doctrine, and refuse not my counsell.

25 Put thy foote into her linkes, and take her yoke vpon thy necke.

Mat.11.29. 26 *Bowe downe thy shoulder vnto her, beare her patiently, and bee not wearie of her bands.

27 Come vnto her with thy whole heart, and keepe her wayes with all thy power.

28 Seeke after her, & she shal be shewed thee: and when thou hast her, forsake her not.

29 For at the last thou shalt finde rest in her, and that shalbe turned to thy great ioy.

30 Then shall her fetters be a strong defence for thee, and her yoke a glorious raiment.

31 For there is a golden ornament in her, and her bands are laces of purple colour.

32 Thou shalt put her on as a robe of honour, and shalt put her about thee as a crowne of ioy.

33 My sonne, if thou wilt take heede, thou shalt haue vnderstanding, and if thou wilt aplie thy minde, thou shalt be wise.

34 If thou wilt bow downe thine eare, thou shalt receiue doctrine: and if thou delight in hearing, thou shalt be wise.

Eccl.8.9. 35 *Stand with the multitude of such elders as haue vnderstanding, and consent vnto their wisedome with thine heart, 36 That thou mayest heare all godly Sermons, and that the worthy sentences escape thee not.

37 And if thou seest a man of discreete vnderstanding, get thee soone vnto him, and let thy foote tread vpon the steps of his doores.

Psal.1.2. 38 Let thy *minde bee vpon the commandements of God, and be earnestly occupied in his lawes: so shall hee stablish thy heart, and giue thee wisedome at thine owne desire.

The vij. Chapter.

1 We must forsake euil, and yet not iustifie our selues.
23 The behauiour of the wife toward his wife, his friend, his children, his seruants, his father and mother.

DOe no euill, so shall there no harme happen vnto thee.

2 Depart away from the thing that is wicked, and no misfortune shall meddle with thee.

3 My sonne, sowe no euill things in the furrowes of vnrighteousnesse, so shalt thou not reape them seuen fold.

4 Labour not to the Lord for preeminence, neither vnto the king for the seat of honour.

5 *Iustifie not thy selfe before God, for hee knoweth the heart: and desire not to be reputed wise in the presence of the king. Psal.142.2, eccl.7.17, iob.9.20, luke 18.11.

6 Make no labour to be made a Iudge, except it were so that thou couldest mightily put downe wickednesse: for if thou shouldest stand in awe of the presence of the mighty, thou shouldest faile in giuing sentence.

7 Offend not in the multitude of the citie, and put not thy selfe among the people.

8 *Bind not two sinnes together: for in one sinne thou shalt not be vnpunished. Eccl.12.5, 9 Say not, Tush, God will looke vpon the multitude of my oblations, and when I offer to the highest God, he will accept it.

10 Bee not faint hearted when thou makest thy prayer, neither slacke in giuing of almes.

11 Laugh no man to scorne in the heauinesse of his soule, for God (which seeth all things) is he that can bring downe, and set vp againe.

12 *Accept no leasing against thy brother, 1.Sam,2.7. neither doe the same against thy friend.

13 Vse not to make any maner of lie: for the custome thereof is not good.

14 Make not many wordes when thou art among the elders: and when thou prayest, make not much babbling.

15 Let no laborious workes be tedious vnto thee, neither the husbandrie which the almightie hath created.

16 Make not thy boast in the multitude of thy wickednesse: but humble thy selfe euen from thine heart.

17 And remember that the wrath shall not be long in tarying, and that the vengeance of the flesh of the vngodly is a very fire and worme.

18 Giue not ouer thy friend for any good, nor thy faithfull brother for the best gold.

19 Depart not from a discreete and good woman that is fallen vnto thee for thy portion in the feare of the Lord: for the gift of her honestie is aboue gold.

20 *Whereas thy seruant worketh truely, entreate him not euill, nor the hireling that is faithfull vnto thee. Leu,19.13.

21 Loue a discreete seruant as thine owne soule, defraud him not of his liberttie, neither leaue him a poore man.

22 *If thou haue cattell, looke well to them: and if they be for thy profit, keepe them. Deut,25.4.

23 If thou hast sonnes, bring them vp in nurture and learning, and hold them in awe from their youth vp.

24 If thou haue daughters, keepe their body, and shew not thy face cheerefull toward them.

25 Marrie thy daughter, and so shalt thou perfourme a weighty matter: but giue her to a man of vnderstanding.

26 If thou haue a wife after thine owne minde, forsake her not: but commit not thy selfe vnto the hatefull.

27 Honour thy father from thy whole heart: and forget not the sorowfull trauaile that thy mother had with thee.

28 Remember that thou wast borne through them, and how canst thou recompense them the things that they haue done for thee?

29 Feare the Lord with all thy soule, and honour his ministers.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

30 Loue thy maker with all thy strength, and forsake not his seruants.

31 Feare the Lord with all thy soule, and honour his Priests: giue them their portion of the first fruites and increase of the earth, like as it is commanded thee, and reconcile thy selfe of thy negligence with the little flocke, giue them the shoulders, and their appointed offerings, and firstlings.

32 Reach thine hande vnto the poore, that God may blesse thee with plenteousnesse.

33 Be liberall vnto all men liuing: yet let not, but doe good euen to them that are [a] dead.

34 Let not them that weepe be without comfort, but mourne with such as mourne.

35 Let it not grieue thee to visit the sicke, for that shall make thee to be beloued.

36 Whatsoeuer thou takest in hand, remember the end, and [b] thou shalt neuer doe amisse.

a To bury their bodies with honour, against the day of the resurrection, as did Abraham, Ioseph, &c. to succour & helpe, and deale faithfully and truly with their children committed to thy charge, as did Dauid with the children of his friend Ionathan.

b Do all things to the glory of God, and the profite of thy neighbour, or otherwise remember the day of death, of the last iudgement, of euerlasting ioy and paine.

The viij. Chapter.

We must take heede with whome we haue to doe.

STriue not with a mightie man, least thou chaunce to fall into his handes.

Mat.5.25. 2 *Make no variance with a rich man, least he happen to bring vp an hard quarell against thee: for *golde and siluer hath vndone many a man, yea, euen the hearts of kings hath it made to fall.

Eccl.31,6.

3 Striue not with a man that is full of words, and lay no sticks vpon his fire.

4 Keepe no company with the vnlearned, least he giue thy kinred an euill report.

Gal.6.2. 2.cor,2.6. 5 *Despise not a man that turneth himselfe away from sinne, and cast him not in the teeth withall: but remember that wee are fraile euery one.

Leu.19.32. 6 *Thinke scorne of no man in his old age: for we ware olde also.

7 Be not glad of the death of thine enemie: but remember that wee must die all the sort of vs, and faine we would come into ioy.

Gal.6.33. 8 *Despise not the sermons of such elders as haue vnderstanding, but acquaint thy selfe with the wise sentences of them: for of them thou shalt learne wisedome, and the doctrine of vnderstanding, and howe to serue great men without complaint. Leu.19.32.

9 Goe not from the doctrine of the elders, for they haue learned it of their fathers: for of them thou shalt learne vnderstanding, so that thou mayest make answere in the time of need. Deut.32.

10 Kindle not the coles of sinners when thou rebukest them, least thou be burnt in the fierie flames of their sinnes.

11 Resist not the face of the blasphemer, that they lay not wayt for thy mouth.

Eccl.19.4. 12 *Lende not vnto him that is mightier then thy selfe: if thou lendest him, count it but lost.

13 Be not suretie aboue thy power: if thou be, then thinke surely to pay it.

14 Goe not to lawe with the iudge: for hee will iudge according to his honour.

Gen.4.8. 15 *Trauaile not by the way with him that is braineless, least he doe thee euill: for hee followeth his owne wilfulnesse, and so shalt thou perish through his folly.

Prou.22.24 16 *Striue not with him that is angry and cruell, and go not with him into the wildernes: for blood is as nothing in his sight, and where there is no helpe, he shall murder thee.

17 Take no counsell at fooles: for they cannot keepe a thing close.

18 Doe no secret thing before a stranger: for thou canst not tell what will come of it.

19 Open not thy heart vnto euery man, least hee be vnfaithfull to thee, and put thee to reproofe.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Of iealousie. 12 An olde friend is to be preferred before a newe.

BEe not iealous ouer the wife of thy bosome, that she shewe not some shrewde poynt, [a] least thou teach her an euill lesson against thy selfe.

a Let her not ligne rule ouer thee: for then will she be contrary vnto thee, take away thy heart and strength, and bring thee to confusion among thine enemies, as did Dalila to Samson, and strange women to Solomon.

2 Giue not the power of thy life vnto a woman, lest she come in thy strength, and so thou be confounded.

3 Looke not vpon a woman that is desirous of many men, least thou fall into her snares.

4 Vse not the company of a woman that is a player and a dauncer, and heare her not, least thou perish thrugh her entising.

5 Beholde not a mayden, that thou be not hurt in her beauty.

6 Cast not thy minde vpon harlots in any maner of thing, least thou destroy both thy selfe and thine heritage.

7 Goe not about gazing in euery lane of the city, neither wander thou abroad in the streetes thereof.

8 *Turne away thy face from a beautifull woman, and looke not vpon the fairenesse of other: many a man hath beene deceiued thrugh the beautie of women, for thrugh it the desire is kindled as it were a fire. Gen.34.22 1.sam.11.2. iudi.10.17.

9 An adulterous woman shalbe troden vnder foot as myre, of euery one that goeth by the way.

10 Many a man wondering at the beauty of a straunge woman, hath beene cast out: for her words kindle as a fire.

11 Sit not with another mans wife by any meanes, lye not with her vpon the bed, make no no words with her at the wine, least thine heart consent vnto her, and so thou with thy blood fall into destruction.

12 Forsake not an old friend, for the new shall not be like him: a newe friend is as newe wine, let him be olde, and thou shalt drinke him with pleasure.

13 Desire not the honour and riches of a sinner: for thou knowest not what *destruction is for to come vpon him. Iudith,9.3.

14 Delight not thou in the thing that the vngodly hath pleasure in, beeing sure that the vngodly shall not be accepted vntill their graue.

15 Keepe thee from the man that hath power to slay, so needest thou not to be afraid of death: and if thou commest vnto him, make no fault, least he happen to take away thy life: remember that thou goest in the middest of snares, and vpon the bulwarkes of the city.

16 *Beware of thy neighbour as nigh as thou canst, and meddle with such as be wise, and haue vnderstanding. Eccl.7.8.

17 Let iust men be thy guests, let thy mirth be in the feare of God.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Nnn4v

18 Let the remembrance of God be in thy mind, and let all thy talking be in the commandements of the highest.

19 In the hands of craftsmen shal the works be commended: so shall the princes of the people in the wisedome of their talking.

20 A man full of words, is perilous in his citie: and he that is rash in his talking, shall be abhorred.

The x. Chapter.

1 Of kings and iudges. 7 Pride and couetousnesse are to be abhorred. 38 Labour is praised.

A wise iudge will order his people with discretion: and where a man of vnderstanding beareth rule, there goeth it well.

Prou.29.12 2 *As the iudge of the people is himselfe, euen so are his officers: and looke what maner of man the ruler of the citie is, such are they that dwell therein also.

3 An vnwise king destroyeth his people: but where they that be in authoritie are men of vnderstanding, there the citie prospereth.

4 The power of the earth is in the hand of God, and all iniquitie of the people is to be abhorred, and when time is, he shal set a profitable ruler vpon it.

5 In the hand of God is the prosperitie of man, and vpon the person of the scribe shall he lay his honour.

Leuit.19.17 6 *Be not angry for any wrong of thy neighbour, and meddle thou with no vnrighteous workes.

7 Pride is hatefull before God and man, a and all wickednesse of the heathen is to be abhorred.

a That is, chiefly idolatry in false religion, & wantonnesse and wantnesse in life.

8 Because of vnrighteous dealing, wrong, blasphemies, and diuers deceits, a realme shall be translated from one people to another.

9 There is nothing worse then a couetous man: why art thou proude, O thou earth and ashes? there is not a more wicked thing then to loue money: and why? such one hath his soule to sell, yet is he but filthy doung while he liueth.

10 All tyrannie is of small endurance, and the disease that is hard to heale, grieueth the Physicion.

11 And though the Physicion shew his helpe neuer so long, yet in conclusion it goeth after this maner, To day a king, to morow dead.

12 For when a man dieth, he is the heire of serpents, beasts, and wormes.

13 The beginning of mans pride, is to fall away from God: and why? his heart is gone from his maker.

14 For pride is the originall of all sinne: who so taketh holde thereof, shall be filled with curlings, and at the last it shall ouerthrow him: therefore hath the Lord brought the congregations of the wicked to dishonour, and destroyed them to the end.

15 God hath destroied the seats of proud princes, and set vp the meeke in their stead.

16 God hath withered the roots of the proud heathen, and planted the lowly for them.

17 God hath ouerthrowen the lands of the heathen, and destroyed them vnto the ground: he hath caused them to wither away, hee hath brought them to nought, and made the memoriall of them to cease from out the earth.

18 God hath destroied the name of the proud, and left the name of the humble in mind.

19 Pride was not made for man, neither wrathfulnesse for mens children.

20 The seede of men that feareth God, shalbe brought to honour: but the seede which transgresseth the commandements of the Lord, shall be shamed.

21 He that is the ruler among brethren, is holden in honour among them: and he that regardeth such as feare the Lord, is acceptable in his sight.

22 The feare of the Lord causeth that the kingdome faileth not: but the kingdome is lost by cruelty and pride.

23 The glory of the rich, of the honourable, and of the poore, is the feare of God.

24 Despise not thou the iust poore man that hath vnderstanding, and magnifie not the rich vngodly.

25 Great is the iudge, and mightie in honour, yet is there none greater then he that feareth God.

26 *Vnto the seruant that is discreete, shall the free do seruice: he that is wise and well nurtured, will not grudge when he is reformed, and an ignorant body shall not come to honour. Pro.17.2. 2.sam.12.13.

27 Be not proude to doe thy worke, and despaire not in the time of aduersitie.

28 *Better is he that laboureth, and hath plenteousnesse of all things, then he that is gorgeous, and wanteth bread. Pro.12.9.

29 My sonne, get thy soule honour by meeknesse, and giue her her due honour.

30 Who shal iustifie him that sinneth against himselfe? who will honour him that dishonoureth his owne soule?

31 The poore is honoured for his faithfulnes and trueth: but the rich is had in reputation because of his goods.

32 He that ordereth himselfe honestly in pouerty, how much more shall he behaue himselfe honestly in riches? and who so ordereth himselfe honestly in riches, how much more shall he behaue himselfe honestly in pouertie?

The xj. Chapter.

THE *wisedome of him that is brought low, shall lift vp his head, and shall make him to sit among great men. Gen.41.40. dan.6.3.

2 Commend not thou a man in his beautie, neither despise a man in his vtter appearance.

3 The Bee is but a small beast among the fowles, yet is her fruit exceeding sweet.

4 *Be not proud of thy raiment, and exalt not thy selfe in the day of thy honour: for the workes of the highest only are wonderfull: yea, glorious, secret, and vnknowen are his workes. Act.12.21.

5 Many tyrants haue bene faine to sit down vpon the earth, and the vnlikely hath worne the crowne.

Mat.19.22. 1.tim.6.9. 10 *My sonne, meddle not with many matters: and if thou gaine much, thou shalt not be blameleſſe, and if thou follow after it, thou shalt not attaine it, and though thou runnest thy way afore, yet shalt thou not escape.

Pro.10.13. 11 *There is some man that laboureth and taketh paine, and the more he wearieth himselfe, the lesse he hath.

12 Againe, some man is slouthful, hath need of helpe, wanteth strength, and hath great pouertie:

16 Errour and darkenesse are made for sinners, and they that exalt themselues in euill, ware old in euill.

Prou.2.4. 17 The gift of God remaineth for the righteous: and his good will shall haue prosperitie for euer.

18 Some man is rich by his care and nigardship, and that is the portion of his reward:

Luke.12.9. 19 In that he saith, *Now haue I gotten rest, and now will I eat and drinke of my goods my selfe alone: and yet he considereth not that the time draweth nigh, and death approcheth that hee must leaue all these things vnto other men, and die himselfe.

Mat.10.22. 20 *Stande thou fast in thy couenant, and exercise thy selfe therein: and remaine in the worke vnto thy age.

21 Maruell not at the workes of sinners, but put thy trust in God, and bide in thy labour: for it is but an easie thing in the sight of God to make a poore man rich, and that suddenly.

22 The blessing of God hasteth to the reward of the righteous, and maketh his fruits soone to flourish, and prosper.

Gen.4.9. dan.6.9 23 Say not, What helpeth it me? and what good thing shall I haue hereafter?

24 Againe, say not, I haue inough, how can I want?

Eccl.18.2. 25 When thou art in *welfare, forget not thine aduersity, and when it goeth not wel with thee, haue a good hope that it shalbe better:

26 For it is but a small thing vnto God in the day of death, to reward euery man according to his wayes.

27 The aduersitie of an houre maketh one to forget all pleasure: and when a man dieth, his workes are discouered.

28 Iudge no man blessed before his death: for a man shalbe knowen in his children.

29 Bring not euery man into thine house: for the deceitfull layeth waite diuerſly, and [a] are like stomaches that belch filthily.

a That is, after they know thy estate, vtter the same with filthy railings.

30 Like as a partrich in a maund, so is the heart of the proud: and like as a spie that looketh vpon the fall of his neighbour.

31 For he turneth good vnto euill, and slandereth the chosen.

32 Of one sparke is made a great fire, and of one deceitfull man is blood encreased: and an vngodly man layeth waite for blood.

33 Beware of the deceitfull, for he imagineth wicked things, to bring thee vnto a perpetuall shame.

34 If thou takest an aliant vnto thee, he shall destroy thee in vnquietnesse, and driue thee from thine owne wayes.

The xij. Chapter.

2 Vnto whom we ought to doe good, 10 Enemies ought not to be trusted.

WHen thou wilt doe good, knowe to whom thou doest it, and so shalt thou bee greatly thanked for thy benefits.

2 Doe good vnto the righteous, and thou shalt finde great reward, though not of him, yet no doubt the Lord himselfe shall reward thee.

3 He standeth not in a good case that is alway occupied in euill, and giueth no almes: for the highest hateth the sinners, and hath mercie vpon them that shew the workes of repentance.

4 Giue thou vnto such as feare God, and receiue not a sinner.

5 As for the vngodly and sinners, he shall recompence vengeance vnto them, and keep them to the day of wrath.

6 Giue thou vnto the good, and receiue not the sinner, doe well vnto him that is lowly, but giue not to the vngodly: Let not the bread bee giuen him, that he be not mightier then thy selfe therein: for so shalt thou receiue twise as much euill, in all that good that thou doest vnto him.

7 And why? the highest hateth sinners, and shall reward vengeance to the vngodly.

8 In prosperity a friend shalbe knowen, and in aduersitie an enemie shall not be hid.

9 For when a man is in wealth, it grieueth his enemies: but in heauinesse and trouble a mans very friend will depart from him.

10 Trust neuer thine enemie: for like as yron rusteth, so doth his wickednesse.

11 And though he make much crouching and kneeling, yet keepe well thy minde and beware of him, and thou shalt be to him as he that wipeth a glasse, and thou shalt knowe that all his rust hath not been well wiped away.

12 Set him not by thee, neither let him sit at thy right hand: lest he turne him, get into thy place, take thy roome, and seeke thy seate, and so thou at the last remember my wordes, & be pricked at my sayings.

13 Bind not two sinnes together: for there shall not one be vnpunished.

14 Who will haue pitie of the Charmer that is stinged of the Serpent, or of all such as come nigh the beasts?

15 Euen so is it with him that keepeth company with the wicked man, and lappeth himself in his sinnes.

16 For a season will he bide with thee: but if thou stumble, he tarieth not.

17 An enemie is sweete in his *lips, he can Iere.41.9. make many words, & speake many good things: Yea, hee can weepe with his eyes, but in his heart he imagineth how to throw thee into the pit, and if he may find opportunity, he will not be satisfied with blood.

18 If aduersitie come vpon thee, thou shalt find him there first: and though he pretend to do thee helpe, yet shall he vndermine thee.

19 He shall shake his head and clap his hands ouer thee for very gladnesse: and while he maketh many wordes, he shall disguise his countenance.

The xiij. Chapter.

1 The companies of the proude and of the rich are to be eschewed. 15 The loue of God. 17 Like doe companie with their like.

Deut.7.2. WHo so toucheth pitch, shalbe defiled withall: and *he that is familiar with the proude, shall cloth himselfe with pride.

2 He taketh a burden vpon him, that accompanieth a more honourable man then himselfe, therefore keepe no familiarity with one that is richer then thy selfe: How agree the kettle and the pot together? for if the one be smitten against the other, it shall be broken.

3 The rich dealeth vnrighteously, and threatneth withall: but the poore being oppressed, and wrongfully delt withal, suffereth scarcenesse, and giueth faire words. If the rich haue done wrong, yet must he be entreated: but if the poore haue done it, he shall straight waies be threatned.

4 If thou be for his profit, he vseth thee: but if thou haue nothing, he shall forsake thee.

5 As long as thou hast any thing of thine owne, he shalbe a good fellow with thee: yea, he shall make thee a bare man, and not be sorie for thee.

6 If he haue neede of thee, he shall defraud thee, and with a priuie mocke shal he put thee in an hope, and giue thee all good words, and say, What wantest thou?

7 Thus shall he shame thee in his meat, vntill he haue supt thee cleane vp twise or thrise, and at the last shall he laugh thee to scorne: afterward, when he seeth that thou hast nothing, he shall forsake thee, and shake his head at thee.

8 Submit thy selfe vnto God, and waite vpon his hand.

9 Beware that thou bee not deceiued and brought downe in thy simplenesse: be not too humble in thy wisedome, least when thou art brought low, thou be deceiued through foolishnesse.

10 If thou be called of a mightie man, absent thy selfe, so shall hee call thee to him the more oft.

11 Prease not thou vnto him, that thou be not shut out: but goe not thou farre off, lest he forget thee.

12 Withdraw not thy selfe from his speach, but beleeue not his many wordes: for with much communication shall he tempt thee, and with a priuie mocke shall he question with thee of thy secrets.

13 The vnmercifull mind of his shall marke thy wordes, he shall not spare to doe thee hurt, and to put thee in prison.

14 Beware and take good heede to thy selfe, for thou walkest in perill of thy ouerthrowing: Now when thou hearest his words, make thee as though thou wast in a dreame, and wake vp.

15 Loue God all thy life long, and call vpon him in thy need.

16 Euery beast loueth his like: euen so let euery man loue his neighbour.

17 All flesh will resort to their like, and euery man will keepe companie with such as he is himselfe.

18 But as the wolfe agreeth with the lambe: so doth the vngodly with the righteous.

19 [a] What peace is there betweene Hyena and a dogge? how can the rich and the poore agree together?

a That is, with a sinner that returneth continually to his vnne again as a dogge to his vomite: or els after the other translation, Hyena is a fierce beast, watching about Sheepe folds, resembling a mans voice, & learning certaine names, both call them forth, and so destroy them, whose nature is contrary to the dog, which is a keeper of the fold, and friendly vnto man.

20 The wilde Asse is the Lions pray in the wildernesse: euen so are poore men the meate of the rich.

21 Like as the proude may not away with lowlinesse: euen so doeth the rich abhorre the poore.

22 If a rich man fall, his friends set him vp againe: but when the poore falleth, his acquaintance forsake him.

23 If a rich man fall into an errour, he hath many helpers, he speaketh proud words, and yet men iustifie him: but if a poore man goe wrong, he is punished, yea though he speake wisely, yet can it haue no place.

24 When the rich man speaketh, euery body holdeth his tongue, and looke what he saith, they praise it vnto the cloudes: but if the poore man speake, they say, What fellow is this? and if he doe amisse, they shall destroy him.

25 Riches are good vnto him that hath no sinne in his conscience: and pouertie is a wicked thing in the mouth of the vngodly.

26 The heart of man changeth his countenance, whether it be in good or euill.

27 A cheerefull countenance is a token of a good heart: for else it is an hard thing to knowe the thought.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The offence of the tongue. 17 Man is but a vaine thing. 21 Happy is he that continueth in wisedom.

BLessed *is the man that hath not fallen with the worde of his mouth, and is not pricked with the conscience of sinne. Eccl.19.16. and 25.11. iames 3.2.

2 Happy is he that hath no heauines in his mind, and is not fallen from his hope in the Lord.

3 It becommeth not a couetous man and a niggard to be rich: and what should an enuious man doe with money?

4 He that with all his carefulnesse heapeth together vnrighteously, gathereth for other folkes, and another man shall make good cheare with his goods.

5 Hee that is wicked vnto himselfe, howe should he be good vnto other men? how can such one haue any pleasure of his goods?

6 There is nothing worse then when one disfauoureth himselfe: and this is a reward of his wickednesse.

7 If he doth any good, he doth it not knowing thereof and against his will, and at the last he declareth his vngraciousnesse.

10 [a] A wicked eye enuieth bread, and there is scarcenesse vpon his table.

11 My sonne, do good to thy selfe of that thou hast, and giue the Lord his due offerings.

12 Remember that death tarieth not, & how that the [b] graue is not shewed vnto thee: for the couenant of this world shall die the death.

13 *Do good vnto thy friend before thou die, & according to thy habilitie reach out thy hand, and giue vnto the poore.

14 Be not disappointed of the good day, and let not the portion of the good desire ouerpasse thee.

15 Shalt thou not leaue thy trauailes and labours vnto other men? In the diuiding of the heritage giue and take, and sanctifie thy soule.

16 Worke thou righteousnesse before thy death: for in the hell there is no meat to find.

17 *All flesh shall fade away like a garment, and like a flourishing leafe in a greene tree.

18 Some growe, some are cast downe: euen so is the generation of flesh and blood: one commeth to an ende, another is borne, and this is the condition of all times, Thou shalt die the death.

19 All transitorie things shall faile at the last, and the worker thereof shall goe withall.

20 Euery chosen worke shall be iustified, and hee that medleth withall, shall haue honour therein.

21 *Blessed is the man that keepeth him in wisedome, and exerciseth himselfe in vnderstanding, and with discretion shall thinke vpon the foreknowledge of God,

22 Which considereth the wayes of wisedome in his heart, hath vnderstanding in her secrets,

23 Goeth after her as one that seeketh her out, and continueth in her wayes.

24 He looketh in at her windowes, and hearkeneth at her doores.

25 He taketh his rest beside her house, and fasteneth his stake in her walles: he shall pitch his tent nigh vnto her hande, and in his tent shall good things rest for euermore.

26 He shal set his children vnder her couering, and shall dwell vnder her branches.

27 Vnder her couering shall he be defended from the heate, and in the glory shall he rest.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The goodnesse that followeth him which feareth God. 8 God reiecteth and casteth off the sinner. 11 God is not the author of euill.

HE that feareth God, will doe good, and who so keepeth the law, shall obtaine wisedome.

2 As an honourable mother shall she meete him, and [a] she as his wife maried of a virgin shall receiue him.

3 *With the bread of life and vnderstanding shall hee feede him, and giue him the water of wholesome wisedome to drinke.

4 If he be constant in her, he shal not be moued, and if he hold him fast by her, hee shall not come to confusion.

5 She shal bring him to honour among his neighbours, and in the midst of the congregation shall she open his mouth: with the spirit of wisedome and vnderstand shall she fill him, and cloth him with the garment of glory.

6 She shall heape the treasure of mirth and ioy vpon him, and giue him an euerlasting name to heritage.

7 Foolish men will not take hold vpon her, but such as haue vnderstanding will meete her: foolish men shall not see her, for she is farre from pride and deceit.

8 Men that goe about with lies, will not remember her: but men of trueth shall be found in her, and shal prosper euen vnto the beholding of God.

9 Praise is not seemely in the mouth of the vngodly, for he is not sent of the Lord.

10 But if praise come of wisedome, and be plenteous in a faithfull mouth, then the Lord will prosper it.

11 Say not thou, It is the Lords fault that I am gone by: for thou shalt not doe the thing that God hateth.

12 Say not thou, He caused me to do wrong: for he hath no neede of the vngodly.

13 God hateth all abomination of error, and they that feare God, will loue none such.

14 God made man from the *beginning, and left him in the hand of his counsell: he gaue him his commandements and precepts.

15 *If thou wilt obserue the commaundements, and keepe acceptable faithfulnesse for euer, they shall preserue thee.

16 Hee hath set water and fire before thee, reach out thine hand vnto which thou wilt.

17 *Before man is life and death, good and euill: looke what him liketh shall be giuen him.

18 For the wisedome of God is great and mightie in power, and beholdeth all things continually.

19 *The eyes of the Lord are vpon them that feare him, and he knoweth all the workes of man.

20 He hath commanded no man to do vngodly, neither hath he giuen any man licence to sinne: for he desireth not a multitude of infidels and vnprofitable children.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 Of vnhappy and wicked children. 39 No man can hide himselfe from God.

DElite not thou in the multitude of vngodly children, and haue no pleasure in them, if they feare not God.

2 Trust not thou to their life, and regard not their labours.

3 For one sonne that feareth God, is better then a thousand vngodly: and better it is for a man to die without children, then to leaue behind him such children as are vngodly.

4 For by one that hath vnderstanding, may a whole citie be vpholden: but though the vngodly be many, yet shall it be wasted through them.

5 Many such things hath mine eye seene, and greater things then these haue I heard with mine eares.

Eccle.5.10. 11 For *mercie and wrath is with him, he is both mighty to forgiue, and to powre out displeasure.

12 Like as his mercie is great, euen so is his punishment also: he iudgeth a man according to his workes.

13 The vngodly shall not escape in his spoyle, and the long patience of him that sheweth mercie, shall not bide behind.

20 These things doth no heart vnderstande worthily: but he vnderstandeth euery heart.

21 And who vnderstandeth his wayes? no man seeth his stormes, and the most part of his workes are secret.

22 Who will declare the workes of his righteousnesse? or who shall be able to abide them? for the couenant is farre from some, and trying out of men is in the end.

23 He that is humble of heart, thinketh vpon such things: but an vnwise and erronious man casteth his mind vnto foolish things.

24 My sonne, hearken thou vnto me, & learne vnderstanding, & marke my wordes with thine heart: I wil giue thee a sure doctrine, and plainly shall I instruct thee.

25 Marke my words then in thine heart: for in righteousnesse of the spirit do I speake of the wonders that God hath shewed among his workes from the beginning, and in the trueth doe I shew the knowledge of him.

26 God hath set his works in good order from the beginning, and part of them hath he sundred from the other.

27 He hath garnished his workes from euerlasting, and their beginnings according to their generations: they are not hungry nor wearied in their labours, nor cease from their offices.

28 None of them hindred another, neither was any of them disobedient vnto his words.

29 After this God looked vpon the earth, and filled it with his goodnesse.

30 With all maner of liuing beastes hath he couered the ground, and they all shall be turned vnto earth againe.

The xviij. Chapter.

1 The marueilous workes of God, 6 The miserie and wretchednesse of man. 9 Against God ought we not to complaine.

Gen.1.1. HE that liueth for euermore, *made all things together: God onely is righteous, and there is none other but he, and remaineth a victorious king for euer.

2 He ordereth the world with the power of his hand, and all things obey his will: for he gouerneth all things by his power, and diuideth the holy things from the prophane.

3 Who shall be able to expresse the workes of him? who wil seeke out the ground of his noble acts?

4 Who shall declare the power of his greatnesse? or who will take vpon him to tell out his mercie?

5 As for the wonderous works of the Lord, there may nothing be taken from them, nothing may be put vnto them, neither may the ground of them be found out.

6 But when a man hath done his best, he must beginne againe: and when he thinketh to be come to an end, he must goe againe to his labour.

7 What is man? whereto is hee worth? what good or euill can he doe?

Psal.89.10. 8 *If the number of a mans dayes be almost an hundred yeeres, it is much: and no man hath certaine knowledge of his death.

9 Like as the droppes of raine are vnto the sea, and as a grauell stone is in comparison of the sand: so are these fewe yeeres to the dayes of euerlasting.

10 Therefore is the Lord patient with them, and powreth out his mercy vpon them.

11 He sawe and perceiued the thoughts and imaginations of their heart that they were euill, therefore heaped he vp his mercifull goodnesse vpon them, and shewed them the way of righteousnesse.

12 The mercy that a man hath, reacheth to his neighbour, but the mercy of God is vpon all flesh: he chasteneth, he teacheth and nurtureth: yea, euen as a shepheard turneth againe his flocke, so doth he all them that receiue chastening, nurture, and doctrine.

13 Mercifull is he vnto them that diligently seeke after his iudgements.

14 My sonne, when thou doest good, make no grudging at it: and whatsoeuer thou giuest, speake no discomfortable words.

15 Shall not the dewe coole the heate? euen so is a word better then a gift.

16 Is not a friendly word a good honest gift? but a gracious man giueth them both.

17 A foole shall call a man in the teeth, and that roughly: and a gift of the niggard putteth out the eyes.

18 Get thee righteousnesse before thou come to iudgement, learne before thou speake, and go to phisicke or euer thou be sicke.

19 Examine and iudge thy selfe before the iudgement come, and so shalt thou find grace in the sight of God.

1.Cor.11.28. 20 *Humble thy selfe afore thou bee sicke: and whilest thou mayest a sinne, shewe thy conuersion.

a For he is more perfect that may sinne and doth resist it, then he that doth follow after it.

Eccl.11.17. 24 When thou hast ynough, *remember the time of hunger: and when thou art rich, thinke vpon the time of pouertie and scarcenesse.

25 From the morning vntill the euening the time is changed, and all such things are soone done in the sight of God.

26 A wise man feareth God in all things, and in the daies of transgression he keepeth himselfe from sinne: but the foole doth not obserue the time.

27 A discreet man hath pleasure in wisedom, and he that findeth her, maketh much of her.

28 They that haue had vnderstanding, haue dealt wisely in wordes, haue vnderstood the trueth and righteousnesse, and haue sought out wise sentences and iudgements.

29 The chiefe authoritie of speaking is of the Lord alone: for a mortall man hath but a dead heart.

20 The feare of God is all wisedome: and he that is a righteous man, keepeth the law.
21 If a seruant say vnto his master, I wil not doe as it pleaseth thee: though afterward he do it, he shall displease him that nourisheth him.
22 As for the doctrine of wickednesse, it is no wisedom, and the prudence of sinners is no good vnderstanding: it is but wickednesse and abomination, and a blaspheming of wisedome.
23 A simple man of small vnderstanding that feareth God, is better then one that hath much wisdome, & transgresseth the law of the highest.
24 A craftie subtill man can be wise, but he is vnrighteous, & with gifts he wresteth the open and manifest law: againe, there is that is wise, and iudgeth righteously.

8 He that vseth many words, shall hurt his owne soule: and he that taketh authoritie vpon him vnrighteously, shalbe hated.
9 Some man hath oft times prosperitie in wicked things: againe, some man getteth much, and hath harme and losse.
10 There is some gift that is nothing worth: againe, there is some gift whose rewarde is double.

fol. Ooo2r

11 There is an humilitie for glories sake, and some commeth to worshippe from lowe estate.

12 Some man buieth much for a litle price, and must pay for it seuen folde.

Eccle.6.5. 13 * A wise man with his wordes maketh himselfe to be beloued: but the merry tales of fooles shalbe powred out.

14 The gift of the vnwise shall doe thee no good, nor yet of the enuious: for his importunitie is seuen folde, for he looketh to receiue many things for one.

Eccl.18.1. 15 * He shall giue litle, and say he gaue much: he openeth his mouth and cryeth out, as it were one that cryed out wide.

16 To day he lendeth, to morowe asketh he againe: and such a man is to be hated of God and man.

17 The foole saieth, I haue no friend, I haue no thanke for all my good deedes, yea, euen they that eate my bread, speake no good of mee: O how oft, and of how many shall he be laughed to scorne?

18 He taketh a more perillous fall by such words, then if he fell vpon the ground: euen so shall the fall of wicked men come hastily.

Mat.6.16. 19 In the mouth of him that is vntaught, are many inconuenient and vnmeet words.

20 A wise sentence shall not be allowed at the mouth of the foole: for he speaketh not it in due season.

Eccl.20.29 21 Some man sinneth not, because he hath not wherewithall, and in his rest he shall be slinged.

22 Some man there is that destroyeth his owne soule with shame, & for an vnwise bodies sake destroyeth he it, and with accepting of persons shall he vndoe himselfe.

23 Some man promiseth his friend a gift for very shame: and getteth an enemie of him for nought.

24 A lie is a wicked shame in a man: yet shall it be euer in the mouth of the vnwise.

25 A thiefe is better then a man that is accustomed to lie: but they both shall haue destruction to heritage.

Eccl.41.21 26 The conditions of liars are vnhonest: and their shame is euer with them.

Gen.41.44. 27 * A wise man shall bring himselfe to honor with his words: & he that hath vnderstanding, shall be set by among great men.

Pro.12.11. 28 * He that tilleth his land shal encrease his heape of corne: he that worketh righteousnesse, shalbe exalted, and he that pleaseth great men, shall escape much euill.

Eccl.23.8. 29 * Rewards and gifts blind the eyes of the wise, and make him dumbe that he cannot tell men their faults.

Eccl.41.18, 30 * Wisedome that is hid, and treasure that is hoarded vp, what profit is in them both?

31 Better is hee that keepeth his ignorance secret, then a man that hideth his wisedome.

32 The necessary patience of him that followeth the Lorde, is better then he that gouerneth his life without the Lord.

The xxj. Chapter.

1 Not to continue in sinne. 5 The praier of the afflicted. 6 To hate to be reproued. 17 The mouth of the wise man. 26 The thought of the foole.

MY sonne, * if thou hast sinned, doe it no more: but pray for thy foresinnes, that they may be forgiuen thee. Eccl.5.5.

2 Flee from sinne, euen as from a serpent: for if thou commest too nigh her, she will bite thee: the teeth thereof are as the teeth of a Lion, to slay the soules of men.

3 The wickednes of man is as a sharpe two edged sword, which maketh such wounds that they can not be healed.

4 Strife and wrongfull dealing shall waste away a mans goods, and through pride a rich house shalbe brought to nought: so the riches of the proud shalbe rooted out.

5 * The prayer of the poore goeth out of the mouth, and commeth vnto the eares, and his vengeance or defence shall come hastily. Eccle.3.9.

6 Who so hateth to be reformed, it is a token of an vngodly person: but he that feareth God, will remember himselfe.

7 A mighty man is knowen a farre off by his tongue: but he that hath vnderstanding, perceiueth that he shall haue a fall.

8 Who so buildeth his house with other mens cost, is like one that gathereth stones to make his graue.

* getteth goods borrowed and not payed for, robbeth, stolen, or craftily conueyed: gathereth stones in winter to builde when the frost doth so congeale the mortar, that it cannot hold the stones together. Eccl.36.7.

9 * The congregation of the vngodly is like stubble gathered together, their end is a flame of fire.

10 The way of the vngodly is set with stones: but in their end, is hell, darkenesse, and paines.

11 He that keepeth the law, will hold fast the vnderstanding thereof: and the end of the feare of God, is wisedome and vnderstanding.

12 He that is not wise, will not be taught in good, but the vnwise man aboundeth in wickednesse: and where bitternesse is, there is no vnderstanding.

13 The knowledge of the wise shall flow like water that runneth ouer: and his counsaile is like a pure fountaine of life.

14 * The heart of a foole is like a broken vessel, he can keepe no wisedome. Eccl.33.3.

15 When a man of vnderstanding heareth a wise word, he shall commend it, and make much of it: but if a voluptuous man heare it, he shall haue no pleasure therein, but cast it behind his backe.

16 The talking of a foole is like an heauie burden by the way: but to heare a wise man speake, it is pleasure.

17 Where a doubt is in the congregation, it is asked at the mouth of the wise, and they shall ponder his words in their hearts.

18 Like as is a house that is destroyed, euen so is wisedome vnto a foole: As for the knowledge of the vnwise, it is but darke words.

19 Doctrine is vnto him that hath no vnderstanding, euen as fetters about his feete, and like manicles vpon his right hand.

20 * A foole lifteth vp his voyce with laughter: but a wise man shall scarse laugh secretly. Eccl.19.17

21 Learning is vnto a wise man a iewell of golde, and like an armelet vpon his right arme.

22 A foolish mans foote is soone in his neighbours house: but one that hath experience, shall be ashamed at the person of the mightie.

23 A foole will peepe in at the window into the house: but he that is wel nurtured wil stand without.

24 A foolish man standeth hearkening at the doore: but he that is wise will be ashamed.

25 The lips of the vnwise will be telling foolish things: but the words of such as haue vnderstanding, shalbe weighed in the balance.

26 The heart of fooles is in their mouth: but the mouth of the wise is in his heart.

27 When the vngodly curseth the [b] blasphemer, he curseth his owne soule.

28 *A priuie accuser of other men, shall defile his owne soule, and be hated of euery man: but he that keepeth his tongue and is discreete, shall come to honour.

b For while he curseth another, he doth the same thing, and so curseth himselfe. Eccl.u.28. 19.

The xxij. Chapter.

1 Of the sluggard. 12 Not to speake much to a foole. 16 A good conscience feareth not.

[a] A Slouthfull body is moulded of a stone of clay, and euery man will speake to his dishonour.

2 A slouthfull body is made of the doung of oxen, and euery one that toucheth him, must wash his hands againe.

3 A misnurtured sonne is the dishonour of the father: a foolish daughter shall be little regarded.

4 A wise daughter is an heritage vnto her husband: but she that commeth to dishonestie, bringeth her father in heauinesse.

5 A daughter that is past shame dishonoureth both her father and her husband: the vngodly shal regard her, but they both shall despise her.

6 A tale out of time, is as musicke in mourning: but wisedome knoweth the seasons of correction and doctrine.

7 If children liue honestly, and haue wherewithall, they shall put away the shame of their parents:

8 But if children be proud with hautinesse and foolishnesse, they blot out the nobilitie of their kinred.

9 Who so teacheth a foole, is euen as one that gleweth a potshard together, as one that telleth a tale to him that heareth him not, and as one that raiseth a man out of a heauie sleepe.

10 Who so telleth a foole of wisdome, is euen as a man which speaketh to one that is asleepe, when he hath told his tale, he saith, what is the matter?

Eccl.u.38. 16. 11 *When one dyeth, lamentation is made for him, because the light faileth him: euen so, let men mourne ouer a foole, for he wanteth vnderstanding. Make but a litle weeping because of the dead, for he is come to rest: but the life of the foole is worse then the death.

Gen.50.10. 12 *Seuen dayes doe men mourne for him that is dead, but the lamentation ouer the vnwise and vngodly, should endure all the dayes of their life.

[b] Though lead be heauie, yet may it be borne: but the insolent foole may not be borne, as Ecclus.22. 13. saith: is the stone, & weigh ty is the sand: but the fury of a foole doth passe them both.

13 Talke not much with a foole, and goe not with him that hath no vnderstanding: beware of him, lest it turne thee to trauaile, & thou shalt not be defiled with his sinne: Depart from him, and thou shalt find rest, and shalt not be drawen backe into his foolishnesse.

14 [b] What is heauier then lead? and what should a foole be called els but lead?

15 Sand, salt, and a lumpe of yron is easier to beare, then an vnwise, foolish, and vngodly man.

16 Like as the band of wood bound together in the foundation of the house cannot be loosed: euen so is it with the heart that is stablished in the thought of counsaile. The thought of ꝑ wise shall neuer feare, nor be offended at any time.

17 Like as a faire plastered wall in a winter house & a highbuilding may not abide the wind and storme: euen so is a fooles heart afraid in his imagination, he feareth at euery thing, and cannot endure.

18 A wauering heart in the imagination of a foole, will not euer stand in awe: but he that abideth in the commandements of God, will alway feare.

19 *Hee that nippeth a mans eye, bringeth forth teares: & he that pricketh the heart bringeth forth the meaning and thought. 1.Cor.14. 14.heb.4. 12.

20 Who so casteth a stone at the birds, fraieth them away: and he that blasphemeth his friend, breaketh friendship.

21 Though thou drewest a sword at thy friend, yet despaire not: for thou mayest come againe to thy friend.

22 If he speake sorowfully, feare not: for ye may be agreed together againe, except it be that thou blaspheme him, disdaine him, open his secrets, and wound him traitrously: for all such things shall driue away a friend.

23 Be faithful vnto thy neighbour in his pouertie, that thou mayest reioyce with him also in his prosperitie: abide stedfast vnto him in the time of his trouble, that thou mayest be heire with him in his heritage: for pouertie is not alwayes to be contemned, nor the rich that is foolish to be had in estimation.

24 Like as the vapour and smoke goeth out at the ouen before the fire: euen so euill words, rebukes, and threatnings, goe before bloodshedding.

25 Be not ashamed to defend thy friend: as for me, I wil not hide my face from him though he should doe me harme: whosoeuer heareth it, shall beware of him.

26 * Who shall set a watch before my mouth, and a sure seale vpon my lippes, that I fall not with them, and that my tongue destroy me not? Psal.141.3.

The xxiij. Chapter.

1 A praier against pride, lecherie, and gluttonie. 23 Many sinnes proceede of adulterie. 27 Of the feare of God.

O Lord, father and gouernour of my life, leaue mee not in their imagination and counsell: oh let me not fall in such reprooke.

2 Who will keepe my thought with the scourge, and the doctrine of wisedome in mine heart: that he spare not mine ignorance, that I fall not with them.

3 Lest mine ignorances increase, that mine offences be not many in number, and that my sinnes exceede not: lest I fall before mine enemies, and so mine aduersaries reioyce, whose hope is farre from thy mercy.

4 O Lord, thou father and God of my life, leaue me not in their imagination: O let me not haue a proud looke, but turne away all voluptuousnesse from me.

5 Take from mee the lustes of the body, let not the desires of vncleannesse take holde vpon me.

6 And giue me not ouer into an vnshamefast and obstinate minde.

7 Heare me, O ye children, I will giue you a doctrine how ye shall order your mouth: who so keepeth it, shall not perish through his lippes, nor be hurt through wicked workes.

8 As for the sinner, he shall bee taken in his owne vanitie: he that is proud and cursed shall fall therein.

Exod.20.7. Eccl.27.15. 9 *Let not thy mouth be accustomed with swearing, for in it there are many falles: *let not the naming of God bee continually in thy mouth, & meddle not with the names of Saints, for thou shalt not be excused of them.

10 For like as a seruant which is oft punished, cannot be without some sore: euen so, whatsoeuer he be that sweareth, and nameth God, shall not be cleane purged from sinne.

11 A man that vseth much swearing, shall be filled with wickednesse, and the plague shall neuer goe from his house, if he beguile his brother, his fault shall be vpon him, if he knowledge not his sinne, he maketh a double offence, and if hee sweare in vaine, he shal not be found righteous: for his house shall be full of plagues.

12 The wordes of the swearer bring death, God grant that it bee not found in the house of Jacob: but they that feare God eschew all such, and lie not waltering in sinne.

Ephes.5.4. 13 *Vse not thy mouth to vnhonest and filthie talking, for in it is the word of sinne.

14 Remember thy father and thy mother when thou art set among great men: least God forget thee in their sight, and lest thou doting in thy custome, suffer rebuke, and wish not to haue bene borne, and so curse the day of thy natiuitie.

2.Sam.16.7 15 *The man that is accustomed with the wordes of blasphemie, wil neuer be reformed all the dayes of his life.

16 Two sinne twise is too much, but the third bringeth wrath & destruction: An hot stomacke cannot be quenched (euen like a burning fire) till it haue swallowed by some thing: euen so an vnchaste man hath no rest in his flesh, til he haue kindled a fire.

17 All bread is sweete to an whoremonger, he will not leaue off til he die.

Esa.29.15. 18 *A man that breaketh wedlocke, and regardeth not his soule, but sayth, Tush, who seeth me? I am compassed about with darknes, the walles couer me, no body seeth mee, whom neede I to feare? the highest will not remember my sinnes:

19 He vnderstandeth not that his eyes see all things, for all such feare of men driueth away the feare of God from him: for he feareth onely the eyes of men, and considereth not that the eyes of the Lord are clearer then the sunne, beholding all the wayes of men, and the ground of the deepe, and looking euen to mens hearts in secret places.

20 The Lord God knewe all things or euer they were made, and after they bee brought to passe also he looketh vpon them all.

21 The same man shall be openly punished in the streets of the citie, and shall be chased abroad like a yong horse foale: and when hee thinketh least vpon it, he shalbe taken.

22 Thus shal hee bee put to shame of euery man, because he would not vnderstand the feare of the Lord: and *thus shal it go also with euery wife that leaueth her husband, and getteth inheritance by a strange mariage. Exo.20.14

23 *First, thee hath bene vnfaithful vnto the Law of the highest: secondly, she hath forsaken her owne husband: thirdly, she hath played the whore in adulterie, and gotten her children by another men. Leu.22.10. deut.22.22.

24 She shalbe brought out of the congregation, and her children shalbe looked vpon.

25 Her children shal not take roote: and as for fruit, her branches shal bring forth none.

26 A shamefull report shall she leaue behinde her, and her dishonour shall not be put out.

27 And they that remaine, shall knowe that there is nothing better then the feare of God, and that there is nothing sweeter then to take heede vnto the commandements of the Lord.

28 A great worship is it to follow the Lord: for long life shall be receiued of him.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

1 A praise of wisedome proceeding foorth of the mouth of God. 6 Of her workes and place where she resteth.

WIsdome shall praise her selfe, and be honoured in God, and reioyce in the middest of the people.

2 In the congregations of the highest shall shee open her mouth, and triumph in the beholding of his power.

3 In the middest of her people shal she be exalted, and wondered at in the holy fulnesse.

4 In the multitude of the chosen she shall be commended, and among such as bee blessed, shee shalbe praised, and shall say,

5 I am come out of the mouth of the highest, first borne before all creatures.

6 I caused the light that faileth not to arise in the heauen, and couered all the earth as a cloud.

7 My dwelling is aboue in the height, and my seate is in the pillar of the cloude.

8 I my selfe alone haue gone round about the compasse of heauen, and pearced the ground of the deepe.

9 I haue walked in the floods of the sea, and haue stand in all landes, my dominion is in euery people, and in euery nation, and with my power haue I troden downe the hearts of all both high and lowe.

10 In all these things also I sought rest, and a dwelling in some inheritance.

11 So the creator of all things gaue mee a commandement, and he that made me, appointed me a Tabernacle, and sayd vnto me, Let thy dwelling be in Jacob, and thine inheritance in Israel, and roote thy selfe among my chosen.

Pro.8.23. 12 *I was created from the beginning, and before the world, and shall not leaue off vnto the world to come: in the holy *habitation haue I serued before him, and so was I stablished in Sion. Exo.31.3.

Psal.131.8. 13 In the holy *citie rested I in like maner, and in Hierusalem was my power.

14 I toke roote in an honourable people, euen in the portion of the Lord, and in his heritage, and kept me in the fulnesse of the saints.

fol. Ooo3v

15 I am set vp on high like a Cedar vpon Libanus, and as a Cypresse tree vpon the mount Hermon.
16 I am exalted like a Palme tree in Cades, and as a Rose plant in Jericho, as a faire Olive tree in the field, & am exalted like as a Plantan tree by the water side.
15 I haue giuen a smell in the streetes as the Cynamom and Balme that hath so good a sauour, yea, a sweete odour haue I giuen as it were myrrhe of the best: I haue made my dwellings to smel as it were of Rozin, Galbanum, of Cloues, Incense, and as Libanus, when it is not hewen down, and mine odour is as the pure Balme.
a Terebint, is a hard tree vpon abnande with long boughes, wherout runneth y gumme called a pure Turpentine, which cleanseth the stomache of putrified humors, and purifieth the eares: to the wisedome of God declared in his Scriptures, spread aboue hir manifold branches of knowledge and vnderstanding to purge the inward eares and corruption of the toule.
18 As the a Terebint haue I stretched out my branches, and my branches are the branches of honour, and louing sauour.
16 As the vine haue I brought forth fruit of a sweete sauour, and my flowers are the fruit of honour and riches.
20 I am the mother of beautifull loue, of knowledge, and of holy hope: I giue eternall things to all my children to whome God hath commanded.
21 In me is all grace of life and trueth, in me is all hope of life and vertue.
22 O come vnto me all ye that be desirous of me, and fill your selues with my fruits.
23 For my spirit is sweeter then honie, and so is mine inheritance more then the home combe: the remembrance of me endureth for euermore.
24 They that eate mee, shall haue the more hunger: and they that drinke me shall thirst the more.
25 Whoso hearkeneth vnto me, shal not come to confusion, and they that worke in me shal not offend: they that take mee to be knowen, shall haue euerlasting life.
26 All these things are the booke of life, the couenant of the highest, and the knowledge of the trueth.
27 Moses commanded the Lawe in the precepts of righteousnesse for an *heritage vnto the house of Jacob, and committed the promise vnto Israel.
Exod.20,1.
28 Be not weary to behaue your selues valiantly with the Lord, that he may also confirme you: cleaue vnto him, for the Lord Almighty is but one God, and besides him there is no other sauiour.
29 (Out of Dauid his seruant hee ordained to raise vp a most mighty King, sitting in the seate of honour for euermore.)
Gen.2,11.
30 This filleth with wisedome, *like as the flood of Phison, & as the flood of Tygris, when the newe fruits are a growing.
31 This bringeth plenteous vnderstanding like Euphrates, and filleth vp as *Jordane in the time of harueft.
Iosua 3,13.
32 This maketh nurture to breake forth as the light, and as the water Gehon in the harueft.
33 The first hath not knowen her perfectly: no more shall the last seeke out the ground of her.
34 For her thought is fuller then the sea, and her counsaile is profounder then the great deepe.
35 I wisedome haue cast out floods, I am as a great water brooke out of the riuer, I am as the riuer Dozir, and as a water conduit am I come out of the garden of pleasure.
36 I said, I wil water the garden of my yong plants, and fil the fruit of my birth: So my water brooke became exceeding great, and my riuer approched vnto the sea.
37 For I make doctrine to be vnto all men as light as the faire morning, and I shall make it to be euer the cleerer.
38 I will pearce thorow all the lower parts of the earth, I will looke vpon all such as bee asleepe, and lighten all them that put their trust in the Lord.
39 I shall yet powre out doctrine like as prophesie, and leaue it vnto such as seeke after wisedome, and their generation shall I neuer faile vnto the holy euerlasting world.
40 *Behold how that I haue not laboured for my selfe onely: but for all them that seeke after the trueth.
Eccl.33. 18.

The xxv. Chapter.

1 Of three things which please God, and of three which he hateth. 7 Of nine things that bee not to bee suspect, and of the tenth. 15 Chiefly of the malice of a woman.

THree things there are that my spirite fauoureth, which bee also alowed before God and men: The vnitie of *brethren, the loue of neighbours, a man *and wife that agree well together.
Gen.13.8. Rom.12,10 genes.2,4.
2 Three things there bee which my soule hateth, and I bitterly abhorre the life of them: A poore man that is proud, a rich man that is a lyar, and an olde body that doteth, and is vnchaste.
3 If thou hast gathered nothing in thy youth, what wilt thou find in thine age?
4 O how pleasant a thing is it when gray headed men are discreete, and when the elders can giue good counsaile?
5 O how comely a thing is wisedome vnto aged men? yea, vnderstanding and counsell to men of honour is a glorious thing.
6 The crowne of olde men is to haue much experience: & the feare of God is their worship.
7 There be nine things which I haue iudged in my heart to be happie, and the tenth will I tell forth vnto men with my tongue: A man that while he liueth hath ioy of his children, and seeth the fall of his enemies.
8 *Well is him that dwelleth with an huswife of vnderstanding, and that hath not fallen with his tongue, and that hath not bene faine to serue such as are vnmeete for him.
Eccle.19. 16.&24.1. Iacob.3,2.
9 Wel is him that findeth ‖ a faithful friend: and well is him that talketh of wisedome to an eare that heareth him.
[Or, prudent.
10 O how great is he that findeth wisedome and knowledge? Yet is hee not aboue him that feareth the Lord.
11 The feare of God hath set it selfe aboue all things.
12 Blessed is the man vnto whom it is granted to haue the feare of God: vnto whom shal he be likened that keepeth it fast?
13 The feare of God is the beginning of his loue, and the beginning of faith, is to cleaue fast vnto it.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Ooo4r

14 The beauinesse of the heart is all the punishment, and the wickednes of a woman goeth aboue all.

15 All punishment and plague is nothing in comparison to the plague of the heart: euen so, all wickednesse is nothing to the wickednesse of a woman.

16 Whatsoeuer happeneth vnto a man, is nothing in comparison of it that his euill willers doe vnto him: and all vengeance is nothing to the vengeance of the enemie.

17 There is not a moze wicked head then the head of the serpent: and there is no wzath aboue the wzath of a woman.

Pro. 21,19. 18 I will rather dwell with a * Lion and Dzagon, then to keepe house with a wicked wife.

19 The wickednes of a woman changeth her face, she shall muffle her countenance as it were a beare, and as a sacke shall shee shew it among the neighbours.

20 Her husband is bzought to shame among his neighbours because of her, and when he heareth it, it maketh him to sigh.

21 All wickednesse is but little to the wickednesse of a woman: the pozcion of the vngodly shall fall vpon her.

22 Like as the climing vp a sandie way is to the feete of the aged: euen so is a wife full of wozds to a still quiet man.

Eccle.42. 12,2.king. 13.2. 23 *Looke not too narrowly vpon the beautie of a woman, lest thou bee pzouoked in desire toward her.

24 The wzath of a woman is dishonour and great confusion: if a woman get the maisterie, then is shee contrary to her husband.

Gen.3.6. a 1.Tim.2. Adam was not deceiued. But to the Rom.5. hee saith, By one man sinne entred into the world. The occasion was offered by the woman, but the sinne was finished by the man consenting thereunto. 25 A wicked wife maketh a sozy heart, an heauie countenance, and a dead wound: Weake hands and feeble knees, is a woman that her husband is not the better foz.

26 *Of the woman came the a beginning of sinne, and thzough her we are all dead.

27 Giue thy water no passage, no not a little, neither giue a wicked woman her will.

28 If she walke not after thy hand, shee shall confound thee in the sight of thine enemies: cut her off then from thy flesh, that she do not alway abuse thee.

The xxvj. Chapter.

3 The praise of a good woman. 6 Of the iealousie and drunkennesse of a woman.

HAppie is the man that hath a vertuous wife, foz the number of his yeeres shalbe double.

2 An honest woman maketh her husband a ioyfull man, and she shal fill the yeres of his life in peace.

3 A vertuous woman is a noble gift, which shall bee giuen foz a good pozcion vnto such as feare God.

4 Whether a man be rich oz pooze, he may haue a merie heart, and a chearefull countenance.

5 There be three things that my heart feareth, and my face is afraid of the fourth: treason in a citie, a seditious people, & noisome tongues: all these are heauier then the death.

6 When one woman is iealous ouer another, it bringeth paine and sozow to the heart: and a woman that telleth out all things, is a scourge of the tongue.

7 When one hath an euill wife, it is euen as when an vnlike paire of oxen must dzawe together: he that getteth her, getteth a scozpion.

8 A dzunken woman is a great plague: foz she cannot couer her owne shame.

9 The whozedome of a woman may bee knowen in the pzide of her eyes and eye lids.

Eccle.49. 11. 10 *If thy daughter bee not shamefast, holde her straitly, lest she abuse her selfe thzough ouermuch libertie.

11 Beware of all the dishonestie of her eyes, and marueile not if she doe against thee.

12 As a wayfaring man that is thirstie, when hee hath found a well, dzinketh of euery nert water: so will she sit downe by euery hedge, and make her selfe common to euery man that passeth by.

13 A louing wife reioiceth her husband, and feedeth his bones with her wisedome.

14 A woman of few wozds is a gift of God: to well nurtured mindes may nothing bee compared.

15 An honest and manerly woman is a gift aboue other giftes: and there is no weight to bee compared vnto a minde that can rule it selfe.

16 Like as the Sunne when it ariseth is an ozname nt in the hie heauen of the Lozd: so is a vertuous wife the beautie of her house.

17 Like as the cleare light is vpon the holy candlestick: so is the beauty of the face vpon an honest body.

18 Like as the golden pillars are vpon the sockets of siluer: so are the faire feete vpon a woman that hath a constant minde.

19 Perpetuall are the foundations that bee layd vpon a whole stonie rocke: so are the commandements of God vpon the heart of an holy woman.

20 There bee two things that grieue my heart, and in the third is displeasure come vpon me: When an expert man of warre suffereth scarcenesse and pouertie, when men of vnderstanding and wisedome are not set by, and when one departeth from righteousnesse vnto sinne: whoso doeth such, the Lozd hath pzepared him vnto the sword.

21 There be two maner of things which me thinke to bee hard and perillous: A merchant cannot lightly keepe him from wzong, neither a tauerner himselfe from sinne.

2 Like as a nasle in the wall sticketh fast betwixt two stones, euen so doeth sinne sticke betwixt the buyer and the seller.

3 If hee hold him not diligently in the feare of the Lozde, his house shall soone bee ouerthzowen.

doth temptation of trouble trie righteous men.
6 The tree of the field is knowen by his fruit: so is the thought of mans heart knowen by his words.
7 Praise no man, except thou haue heard him, for a man is knowen by his words.
8 If thou followest righteousnes, thou shalt get her, & put her vpon thee as a faire garment: and thou shalt dwell with her, and thee shall defend thee for euer, and in the day of knowledge thou shalt find stedfastnesse.
9 The birdes resort vnto their like: so doeth the trueth turne vnto them that be occupied withall.
10 The Lyon waiteth the pray: so doth sinne vpon them that worke vnrighteousnesse.
11 The talking of him that feareth God is nothing but wisedome: as for a foole, he changeth as the moone.
12 If thou be among the vndiscreete, keepe thy wordes to a conuenient time: but among such as be wise, speake on hardly.
13 The talking of fooles is abomination, and their sport is voluptuousnesse, and misnurture.
Ecclu.13.9. 14 *Much swearing maketh the haire to stand vp: and to striue with such, stoppeth the eares.

17 Loue thy friende, and binde thy selfe in faithfulnesse with him: but if thou bewray his secrets, thou shalt not get him againe.
18 For like as the man is that destroyeth his enemie: so is he also that dealeth falsely in the friendship of his neighbour.
19 Like as one that letteth a birde goe out of his hand, cannot take her againe: euen so thou, if thou giue ouer thy friend, thou canst not get him againe.
20 Yea, thou canst not come by him: for he is too farre off: he is vnto thee as a Roe escaped out of the snare, for his soule is wounded.
21 As for woundes they may be bound vp againe, and an euill word may be reconciled: but who so bewrayeth the secrets of a friend, there is no more hope to be had vnto him.
Pro.10.10. 22 He that *winketh with the eyes, imagineth some euill: and he that knoweth him, will let him alone.
23 When thou art present, hee shall highly commend and praise thy wordes: but at the last, he shall turne his tale, and slander thy saying.
24 Many things haue I hated, but nothing so euill: for the Lorde himselfe also abhorreth such a one.
25 Who so casteth a stone on high, it shall fall vpon his owne head: and he that smiteth with guile, woundeth himselfe.
Pro.26.27. ecclu.10.8. 26 *Who so diggeth a pit, shall fall therein, and hee that layeth a stone in his neighbours way, shall stumble thereon, and he that layeth a snare for an other, shall be taken in it himselfe.
27 Who so giueth a wicked noysome counsel, it shal come vpon himselfe, and he shal not know from whence.
28 The proud blaspheme, and are scornefull: but vengeance lurketh for them as a Lion.
29 They that reioyce at the fall of the righteous, shall be taken in the snare: anguish of heart shall consume them before they die.
30 Anger and rigorousnesse are two abominable things, and the vngodly hath them both vpon him.

The xxviij. Chapter.

1 We ought not to desire vengeance, but to forgiue the offence. 13 Of the vices of the tongue, and of the dangers thereof.

HE that seeketh *vengeance, shall find vengeance of the Lord, which shall surely keepe his sinnes. Deu.32.31. rom.12.19.
2 Forgiue thy neighbour the hurt that he hath done thee, and so shall thy sinnes be forgiuen thee also when thou prayest.
3 *A man that beareth hatred against another, how dare he desire forgiuenesse of God? Matt.6.14.
4 He that sheweth no mercy to a man which is like himselfe, how dare he aske forgiuenesse of his sinnes?
5 If he that is but flesh, beareth hatred, and keepeth it, who will entreate for his sinnes?
6 Remember the end, and let enmitie passe, which seeketh death and destruction, and abide thou in the commandements.
7 Remember the commandements, so shalt thou not be rigorous ouer thy neighbor: thinke vpon the couenant of the highest, and forgiue thy neighbours ignorance.
8 *Beware of strife, and thou shalt make thy sinnes fewer. Ecclu.8.1.
9 For an angry man kindleth variance, and the vngodly disquieteth friends, and putteth discord among them that be at peace.
10 The *more wood there is, the more vehement is the fire, and the mightier that men be, the greater is the wrath: according to his riches, his anger encreaseth, and the longer the strife endureth, the more it burneth. Pro.26.21.
11 An hasty brawling kindleth a fire, and an hasty strife sheadeth blood: a tongue also that beareth false witnesse, bringeth death.
12 If thou blow the sparke, it shall burne, if thou spit vpon it, it shal goe forth, and both these come out of the mouth.
13 *The slanderer and double tongued is cursed: for many one that be friends, setteth he at variance. Eccl.21.30.
14 The ‖third tongue hath disquieted many one, and driuen them from one lande to another: strong cities of the rich hath it broken downe, and ouerthrowen the houses of great men: the strength of the people hath it brought downe, and beene the decay of mightie nations.
15 The thirde tongue hath cast out many an honest woman, and robbed them of their labours.
16 Who so hearkeneth vnto such, shall neuer find rest, and neuer dwell safely.
17 The stroke of the rod maketh prints in the skinne: but the stroke of the tongue smiteth the bones in sunder.
18 There be many that haue perished with the sword: but many moe through the tongue.
19 Well is him that is kept from an euill tongue, and commeth not in the anger thereof, which draweth not the yoke of such, and is not bound in the bands of it.

‖ Or, a double tongue which saith & vnsaieth, or speaketh one thing, & thinketh an other. The third tongue doe some take for that which speaketh neither out of the olde nor the new Testament, but of their own braine.

20 For the yoke thereof is of yron, and the band of it of ‖ steele.
21 The death thereof is a very euill death: hell were better for one, then such a tongue.
22 But the fire of it may not oppresse them that feare God, and the flame thereof may not burne them.
23 Such as forsake the Lord, shall fall therein, and it shall burne them, and no man shall be able to quench it: it shall fall vpon them as a Lion, and deuoure them as a Leopard.
24 Thou hedgest thy goods with thornes: why doest thou not rather make doores & barres for thy mouth?
25 Thou weighest thy golde and siluer: why doest thou not weigh thy wordes also vpon the ballance, and make a doore and a barre, and a sure bridle for thy mouth?
26 Beware that thou slide not in thy tongue, and so fall before thine enemies that lay waite for thee, and thy fall bee incurable, euen vnto death.

The xxix. Chapter.

1 How wee ought to lend our money, and doe almes 15 Of a faithfull man answering for his friend. 22 Of liberalitie and hospitalitie.

WHo so will shewe mercie, let him lend vnto his neighbour: and hee that is able, let him keepe the commandements.
2 Lend vnto thy neighbour in time of his neede, and pay thou thy neighbour againe in due season.
3 Keepe thy word, and deale faithfully with him: and thou shalt alway finde the thing that is necessary for thee.
4 There hath bene many, that when a thing was lent them, reckoned it to bee found, and made them trouble and labour that had helped them.
5 While they receiue any thing, they kisse the handes of such as giue them, and for their neighbours good they humble their voyce: but when they should pay againe, they keepe it back, and giue euill wordes, and make many excuses by reason of the time.
6 And though he be able, yet giueth he scarce the halfe againe, and reckoneth the other to be found: and if hee withholde not his money, yet hath he an enemie of him, and that vndeserued: he payeth him with cursing and rebuke, and giueth him euill words for his good deede.
7 There bee many one which are not glad for to lend, not because of euill, but they feare to loose the thing that they lend.
8 Yet haue thou patience with the simple, and withhold not mercie from him.
9 Helpe the poore for the commaundements sake, and let him not goe emptie from thee, because of his necessitie.
10 Loose thy money for thy brother & neighbours sake, and bury it not vnder a stone where it rusteth and corrupteth.
11 Gather thy treasure after the commandement of the highest, and so shall it bring thee more profit then gold.
12 *Lay vp thine almes in the ‖ hand of the poore, and it shall keepe thee from all euill.
13 *A mans almes is as a purse with him, and shall keepe a mans fauour as the apple of an eye: and afterward shall it arise, and pay euery man his reward vpon his head.
14 It shall fight for thee against thine enemies, better then the shield of a gyant, or speare of the mightie.
15 A good honest man is a suretie for his neighbour: but a wicked person letteth him come to shame.
16 Forget not the friendship of thy suretie: for he hath giuen his soule for thee.
17 The vngodly despiseth the good deede of his suretie:
18 a The wicked will not become suretie, and the vnthankefull and ignorant leaueth his suretie in danger.
19 Some man promiseth for his neighbour: and when hee hath lost his honestie, he shall forsake him.
20 Suretiship hath destroyed many a rich man, and remooued them as the waues in the Sea, mightie people hath it driuen away, and caused them to wander in strange countreys.
21 An vngodly man transgressing the commandement of the Lorde, shall fall into an euill suretiship: and though hee force himselfe to get out, yet shall he fall into iudgement.
22 Helpe thy neighbour out after thy power, and beware that thou thy selfe fall not in such debt.
23 *The chiefe thing that keepeth thy life, is water, and bread, clothing, and lodging, to couer thy shame.
24 Better is it to haue a poore liuing in a mans owne house, then delicate fare among the strange.
25 Be it little or much that thou hast, holde thee content withall: and thou shalt not be blamed as a bagabond.
26 For a miserable life is it to goe from house to house, and where a man is b fremde, hee dare not open his mouth.
27 Though one be lodged, and haue meate and drinke, yet hee shall be taken as vnworthy, and heare many bitter rough wordes, namely thus,
28 Goe thy way thou stranger, and prepare a table for thy selfe, and feede me also of that thou hast.
29 Giue place thou stranger to an honourable man, my brother commeth into my house: and so telleth him the necessitie of his house.
30 These things are heauie to a man that hath vnderstanding, namely, the forbidding of the house, & that the lender casteth him in the teeth.

a As he is a foole that is surety for euery man: so to bee vngodly that will be suretie for no man.

1 Of the correction of children. 14 Of the cōmodity of health. 17 Death is better then a sorowfull life.

WHo so *loueth his childe, holdeth him still vnder correction, that he may haue ioy of him afterward. and that hee grope not after his neighbours doores.
2 He that *teacheth his sonne, shall haue ioy in him, and neede not to bee ashamed of him among his acquaintance.

him that is like him.
5 In his life he saw him, and had ioy in him, and was not sorie in his death, neither was hee ashamed before the enemies.
6 For hee left behinde him an auenger against his enemies, and a good doer vnto the friends.
7 For the life of children hee shall binde the woundes together, and his heart is grieued at euery cry.
8 An vntamed horse will bee hard, and a wanton child will be wilfull.
9 If thou bring vp thy sonne delicately, hee shall make thee afraide: and if thou play with him, he shall bring thee to heauinesse.
10 Laugh not with him, least thou weepe with him also, and least thou gnash with thy teeth at the last.
Eccles. 7.25 11 *Giue him no libertie in his youth, and excuse not his folly.
12 Bowe downe his necke while he is yong, hit him vpon the sides while he is but a childe: least he ware stubborne, and giue no more force of thee, and so shalt thou haue heauinesse of soule.
13 Teach thy childe, and be diligent therein, least it be to thy shame.
14 Better is the poore being whole and strong, then a man to bee rich, and not to haue his health.
15 Healthy and welfare is aboue all gold, and a whole body aboue all treasure.
16 There is no riches aboue a sound bodie, and no ioy aboue the ioy of the heart.
17 Death is better then a bitter life, and eternall rest better then continuall sicknesse.
a Like as meat that is set vpon the graues of dead men, is vnprofitable, so that they eat it not: euen so, knowledge in him that openeth not his mouth to vtter it, is vnprofitable, Eccles. 41. Wisdome that is hid, &c.
18 a The good things that are put in a close mouth, are like as when meate is layd vpon the graue.
19 What good doth the offring vnto an idole? for he can neither eate, taste, nor smell: euen so is he that is chased of the Lord, and beareth the reward of iniquitie.
20 Hee seeth with his eyes, and groneth like a gelded man that lyeth with a virgine, and sighteth.
21 Giue not ouer thy minde into heauinesse, and vexe not thy selfe in thine owne counsell.
22 The ioy and cheerefulnesse of the heart is the life of man, and a mans gladnesse is the prolonging of his dayes.
23 Loue thine owne soule, and comfort thine heart, as for sorow and heauinesse, driue it farre from thee: for heauinesse hath slaine many a man, and bringeth no profite.
24 Zeale and anger shorten the dayes of the life, carefulnesse and sorowe bring age before the time.
25 Vnto a merry heart euery thing hath a good taste that he eateth.

The xxxj. Chapter.

1 We ought to giue diligent heede to honestie. 2 Of them that take paine to gather riches.

WAuaile and carefulnesse for riches, taketh away the sleepe, and maketh the flesh to consume.
2 When one lyeth and taketh care, hee waketh euer vp, like as a great sicknesse breaketh the sleepe.
3 The rich hath great labour in gathering his riches together, and then with the pleasure of his riches hee taketh his rest, and is refreshed.
4 But who so laboureth, and prospereth not, he is poore: and though hee leaue off, yet is he a begger.
5 He that loueth riches, shal not be iustified: and who so followeth corruption, shall haue enough thereof.
Eccle. 8.3. 6 *Many one are come in great misfortune by the reason of golde, and haue found their destruction before them.
7 It is a tree of falling vnto them that offer it vp, and all such as be foolish fall therein.
Luke 6.24. 8 *Blessed is the rich which is found without blemish, and hath not gone after golde, nor hoped in money and treasures.
9 Where is there such a one, and wee shall commend him, and call him blessed? for wonderfull things doth he among his people.
10 Who so is tryed and found perfect in such things, shall bee commended and praised: who might offend, and hath not offended? who could doe euill, and hath not done it?
11 Therefore shall his good be stablished, and the whole congregation shall declare his almes.
12 If thou sit at a great mans table, open not thy mouth wide vpon it, and say not, There is much meat on it.
13 Remember that an euill eye is a shrewe: what thing created is worse then a wicked eye? therefore weepeth it before euery mans face.
Mat. 7.2. 14 *Laye not thine hand vpon euery thing that thine eye seeth, and striue not with him in the dish.
15 Ponder by thy selfe what thy neighbour would faine haue, and bee discrete in euerie poynt.
16 Eate thy thing that is set before thee manerly as it becommeth a man: and eate not too much, least thou be abhorred.
17 Leaue thou off first of all, because of nurture, least thou be he whome no man may satisfie, which may turne to thy decay.
18 When thou sittest among many men, reach not thine hand out first of all, neither call thou first for drinke.
Eccl. 37. 32 19 *How well content is a wise man with a little wine? so that in sleepe thou shalt not be sicke thereof, nor feele any paine.
20 A sweete wholesome sleepe shall such a one haue, and feele no inward griefe: hee riseth vp betimes in the morning, and is well at ease in himselfe: but an vnsatiable eater sleepeth vnquietly, and hath ache and paine of the body.
21 If thou feelest that thou hast eaten too much, arise, goe thy way, cast it off thy stomacke, and take thy rest, and it shall ease thee, so that thou shalt bring no sickenesse vnto thy bodie.
22 My sonne, heare mee, and despise me not, and at the last thou shalt finde as I haue tolde thee: in all thy workes be diligent and quicke, so shall there no sicknesse happen vnto thee.
Prou. 22.9. 23 *Who so is liberall in dealing out his meat, many men shall blesse him, and praise him with their lippes, and the same is a sure token of his loue and faithfulnesse.

Iudit. 13. 2. 25 *Shew not thy valiantnesse in wine, for wine hath destroied many a man.

26 The fire proueth the hard yron: euen so doth wine prooue the hearts of the proud, when they be drunken.

Psal. 104, 15 pro. 31. 4. 27 Wine *soberly drunken, quickneth the life of man: if thou drinkest it measurably, thou shalt be temperate: what is the life of him that is ouercome with wine? what taketh away the life? euen death.

28 Wine was made from the beginning to make men glad, and not for drunkennesse: wine measurably drunken, is a reioycing of the soule and body: a measurable drinking, is healthy to soule and body.

29 But if it be drunken with excesse, it maketh bitternesse and sorrow vnto the mind.

30 Drunkennesse filleth the mind of the foolish with shame & ruine, minisheth the strength, and maketh wounds.

Eccles. 20, 1. 31 *Rebuke not thy neighbour at the wine, and despise him not in his mirth: giue him not despitefull words, and presse not vpon him with contrary sayings.

The xxxij. Chapter.

1 Of the discretion and praise of the preacher & of the hearer. 15 Of the feare, faith, and confidence of God.

IF thou bee made a ruler, pride not thy selfe therein, but bee thou as one of the people: take diligent care for them, & looke wel thereto.

2 And when thou hast done all thy duety, sit thee downe, that thou mayest bee merrie with them, and receiue a crowne of honour.

3 Speake thou that art the elder, for it becommeth thee, but with sure knowledge: hinder not musicke.

Eccle. 3. 3. 4 Speake not where there is no *audience: and powre not forth wisedome out of time at an inportunitie.

5 Like as the Carbuncle stone shineth that is set in golde, so doeth a song garnish the wine feast.

6 And as the Smaragde that is set in gold: so is the sweetenesse of musicke by the mirth of wine.

7 Giue eare, and be still, and for thy good behauiour thou shalt be loued.

8 Thou yong man speake that becommeth thee, and that is profitable: and yet scarce when thou art twise asked.

9 Comprehend much with fewe wordes, in many things bee as one that is ignorant: giue care, and hold thy tongue withall.

10 If thou be among men of high authority, desire not to compare thy selfe vnto them: and when an elder speaketh, make not thou many words therein.

11 Before the thunder goeth lightning: and before nurture and shamefastnesse goeth loue and fauour.

12 Stand vp betimes, and be not the last: but get thee home soone.

13 And there take thy pastime, and doe what thou wilt: so that thou doe no euill, and defile no man.

14 But for all things giue thanks vnto him that hath made thee, and replenished thee with his goodnesse.

15 Who so feareth the Lord, will receiue his doctrine: & they that get them to him betimes, shall finde grace.

16 Hee that seeketh the lawe, shall be filled withall: as for him that is but fained, hee will be offended thereat.

17 They that feare the Lorde, shall finde the iudgement: and their righteousnesse shalbe kindled as light.

18 An vngodly man will not be reformed, but can helpe himselfe with the example of others in his purpose.

19 A man of vnderstanding despiseth no good counsell: but a wilde and proude body hath no feare, yea, euen when he hath dealt rashly with another man: but his owne doing shall be his rebuke.

20 My sonne, doe nothing without aduisement, so shall it not repent thee after the deed.

21 Go not in the way where thou mayst fall, nor where thou maist stumble against the stone: againe, neither trust thou to the way that is plaine.

22 And beware of thine owne children, and take heede of them that be of thine owne household.

23 In all thy workes put thy trust in God, from thy whole heart: for that is the keeping of the commandements.

24 Who so beleeueth Gods worde, taketh heede to the commaundements: and hee that putteth his trust in the Lorde, shall want nothing.

The xxxiij. Chapter.

1 The deliuerance of him that feareth God. 12 Man is in the hand of God, as the earth is in the hand of the potter.

THere shall no euill happen vnto him that feareth God: but when he is in temptation the Lord shall deliuer him, and keepe him from euill.

2 A wise man hateth not the lawe, but an hypocrite[a] is as a ship in a raging water.

3 A man of vnderstanding giueth credence vnto the lawe of God, and the lawe is faithfull vnto him.

4 Be sure of the matter, then talke thereof: be first well instruct, then mayest thou giue answere.

5 The heart of the foolish is like a cart wheele, and his thoughts runne about like the axeltree.

6 [b]Like as a wilde horse that neigheth vnder euery one that sitteth vpon him, so is it with a scornefull friend.

7 Why doeth one day excell another, seeing all the dayes of the yeere come of the sunne?

8 The wisedome of the Lord hath so parted them asunder, and so hath he ordained the times and solemne feasts.

9 Some of them hath he chosen and hallowed before other dayes.

10 And all men are made of the ground, and out of the earth of Adam: in the multitude of science hath the Lorde sundred them, and made their wayes of diuers fashions.

11 Some of them hath hee blessed, made

[a] As a ship in the surging waues without a guide, dasheth against the rockes, or runneth on the sand: so the hypocrite that is not stayed vpon Gods worde is ouerthrowen with euery blast of trouble & temptation.

[b] As a horse casteth euery man, and yet neyeth after euery mare: so is a scornefull fetend that will flatter & serue euery man, and yet laugh him to scorne.

much of them, halowed them, and claymed them to himselfe: but some of them hath he cursed, brought them lowe, and put them out of their estate.

12 Like as the clay is in the potters hande, and all the ordering thereof at his pleasure: so are men also in the hand of him that made them, to that hee may giue them as liketh him best.

2.Cor.6.14. 13 *Against euill, is good, and against death, is life: so is the vngodly against such as feare God.

14 Behold, these are the workes of the highest, and there are euen two against two, and one set against another.

15 I am awaked vp last of all, as one that gathereth after in haruest, in the giftes of God, and in his blessing I am encreased, and haue filled my winepresse like a grape gatherer.

Eccl.24.26. 16 *Behold how I haue not laboured onely for my selfe, but for all such as loue nurture and wisedome.

17 Heare me, O yee great men of the people, and hearken with your eares yee rulers of the congregation.

18 Giue not thy sonne & wife, thy brother and friend, power ouer thee while thou liuest: and giue not away thy substance and good to another, lest it repent thee, and thou be faine to aske of them againe.

19 As long as thou liuest and hast breath, c let no man change thee.

c Let no man vse thee as his seruant, vnder thou hast committed all thy goods into his hands.

20 For better it is thy children to pray thee, then that thou shouldest be faine to look in their hands.

21 In all thy workes bee excellent, that thy honour be neuer stained.

22 At the times when thou shalt ende thy dayes and finish thy life, distribute thine inheritances.

23 The fodder, the whippe, and the burden belong vnto the Asse: meate, correction, and worke vnto the seruant.

24 If thou set thy seruant to labour, thou shalt finde rest: but if thou let him goe idle, hee shall seeke libertie.

25 The yoke and the whippe bow downe the hard necke: but tame thou thy euill seruant with bonds and correction.

26 Send him to labour, that he goe not idle: for idlenesse bringeth much euill.

27 Set him to worke, for that belongeth vnto him, and becommeth him well.

28 If he be not obedient, binde his feete: but doe not too much vnto him in any wise, & without discretion doe nothing.

Eccl.7.22. 29 *If thou haue a faithfull seruant, let him be vnto thee as thine owne soule: entreat him as a brother, for in blood hast thou gotten him: if thou haue a seruant, hold him as thy selfe, for thou hast need of him as of thy selfe.

30 If thou entreatest him euill, and keepest him hard, and makest him to be proude, and to runne away from thee, thou canst not tell what way thou shalt seeke him.

The xxxiiij. Chapter.

1 Of dreames, diuinations, and enchantments. 6 We ought to confute vaine hope, and lying. 13 The praise of them that feare God.

VNwise people beguile themselues with vaine and deceitfull hope, ‖ and fooles trust in dreames.

‖ Or, dreams make fooles to haue wings: for honour, riches, pleasures, and such like are but as dreames, wherein fooles doe glory: for when they awake from their long sleepe, this thing shall be vanished cleane away.

2 Who so regardeth dreams, is like him that will take hold of a shadow, and follow after the wind.

3 Euen so is it with the appearings of dreames: before the face is the likenesse of a face.

4 Who can bee cleansed of the vncleane? or what trueth can be spoken of a lyar?

5 Soothsaying, witchcraft, sorcery, and dreaming, is but vaine: like as when a woman trauaileth with child, and hath many fantasies in her heart.

6 Whereas such visions come not of God, set not thine heart vpon them.

7 For dreames haue deceiued many a man, and they failed that put their trust therein.

8 The law shalbe fulfilled without lies, and wisdome is sufficient to a faithfull mouth: what knowledge hath he that is not tryed?

9 A wise man that is well instruct, vnderstandeth much: and hee that hath good experience, can talke of wisedome.

10 Hee that hath no experience, knoweth little, and hee that erreth, causeth much wickednesse: hee that is not tryed, what things knoweth hee? hee that hath beene deceiued, is full of subtiltie.

11 When I was yet in erroz, I learned much also: yea, I was so learned, that I could not expresse it all,

12 And came oft in perill of death therefore, till I was deliuered from it through the grace of God.

13 Nowe I see that they which feare God haue the right spirite, for their hope standeth in him that can helpe them: and the eyes of the Lord are on them that loue him.

14 Who so feareth the Lord, standeth in awe of no man, and is not afraid: for the Lord is his hope and comfort.

15 Blessed is the soule of him that feareth the Lorde: in whome putteth hee his trust? who is his strength?

16 For the eyes of the Lord haue respect vnto them that loue him, he is their mightie protection & strong ground, a defence for the heate, a refuge for the hot noon day, a succour for stumbling, and an helpe for falling.

17 He setteth vp the soule, and lighteneth the eyes, he giueth health, life, and blessing.

18 *Hee that giueth an offering of vnrighteous good, his offering is refused: and the scornefull dealings of the vnrighteous please not God. Prou.21.27

19 The Lorde is theirs onely that patiently abide him in the way of the truth and of righteousnesse.

20 *The highest doth not allow the giftes of the wicked: and God hath no delight in the offerings of the vngodly, neither may sinne be reconciled in the multitude of oblations. Pro.15.8.

21 Who so bringeth an offering out of the goods of the poore: doeth euen as one that killeth the sonne before his fathers eyes.

22 The bread of the needfull is the life of the poore: he that defraudeth him thereof, is a man of blood.

fol. Ppp1r

a When one rich man has ingrossed his goods by robbery, extortion, bribery, or by craft and iniquitie, usury, or simony, or withholding servants wages, and of that will offer a gift vnto God, that he may heare his prayer: on the other part, the poore which is oppressed or defrauded, prayeth to God to see, and iudge righteously, whose prayer thinke you will God most chiefly heare?

23 Who so robbeth his neighbour of his liuing, doeth as great sinne as though he slue him to death: he that defraudeth the labourer of his hire, is a bloodshedder.

24 When one buildeth and an other breaketh downe, what profite haue they then but labour?

25 a When one prayeth and another curseth, whose voyce will the Lord heare?

26 He that washeth himselfe because of a dead body, and then toucheth the dead againe, what doeth his washing?

27 So is it with a man that fasteth for his sinnes, and doeth them againe: who will heare his prayer, or what doeth his fasting helpe him?

The xxxv. Chapter.

1 It is well done to pray and to do sacrifice. 14 The prayer of the fatherlesse, and of the widowe, and of him that humbleth himselfe.

Ho so keepeth the Lawe, bringeth offerings ynow: hee that holdeth fast the Commandements, *offereth the right health offering,

Iere.7.2.

2 He that is thankeful and recompenseth, offereth fine flowre: who so is mercifull and giueth almes, that is the right thankoffering.

3 God hath pleasure when one departeth from sinne: and to forsake vnrighteousnesse, reconcileth vs with him.

4 *Thou shalt not appeare emptie before the Lord:

Exod.23. 15.

5 For all such is done because of the Commandement of God.

6 *The offering of the righteous maketh the Altar fat, and a sweete smell is it before the Highest.

Gene.4.4.

7 The offering of the righteous is acceptable vnto God, and shall neuer be forgotten.

8 Giue God his honour with a chearefull heart: and keepe not backe the firstlings of thine handes.

9 *In all thy gifts shewe a cheerefull countenance, and halowe thy tithes vnto God with gladnesse.

2.Cor.9.7.

10 *Giue vnto God according as he hath enriched and prospered thee: and looke what thine hand is able, giue with a cheerefull eye.

Tob.4.6,

11 For the Lord recompenseth and giueth thee seuen times as much againe.

12 *Giue no vnrighteous gifts, for such will he not receiue: beware of wrong offerings, for the Lord is a righteous Iudge, and *regardeth no mans person.

Leuit. 22. 21.deut.15. 20. Deut.10. 17.

13 Hee accepteth not the person of the poore: but he heareth the prayer of the oppressed.

Prou.21.

14 Hee despiseth not the desire of the fatherlesse, nor the widow when shee powreth out her prayer before him.

15 Doeth not God see the teares that runne downe the cheekes of the widow? or heareth he not the complaint ouer such as make her to weepe? For from her cheekes doe the teares goe vp vnto heauen, and the Lord which heareth them, doeth accept them.

Pro.19.

16 Who so serueth God after his pleasure, shall be accepted: and his prayer reacheth vnto the clouds.

17 The prayer of him that humbleth himselfe, goeth thorow the clouds: til he come nigh she will not bee comforted, nor goe her way till the highest God haue respect vnto her, giue true sentence, and performe the iudgement.

18 And the Lord will not bee slacke in coming, nor tarry long, till he haue smitten in sunder the backs of the vnmercifull, & auenged himselfe of the heathen, til hee haue taken away the multitude of the cruel, and broken the scepter of the vnrighteous, til he giue euery man after his workes, and reward them after their doings, till hee haue deliuered his people, maintained their cause, and reioyced them in his mercie.

19 O how faire a thing is mercie in the time of anguish and trouble! it is like a cloud of raine that commeth in the time of drought.

The xxxvj. Chapter.

1 A prayer to God in the person of all faithfull men. 22 The praise of a good woman.

Aue mercie vpon vs, O Lord, thou God of all things, haue respect vnto vs, shewe vs the light of thy mercies,

2 And send thy feare among the heathen & strangers which seeke not after thee, that they may knowe that there is no God but thou, and that they may shew thy wonderous workes.

3 *Lift vp thine hande ouer the outlandish heathen, that they may learne to knowe thy might and power.

Iere.10.25.

4 Like as thou art hallowed in vs before them: so bring to passe, that thou mayest be magnified also in them before vs,

5 That they may knowe thee, like as wee knowe thee: for there is none other God but onely thou, O Lord.

6 Renue the tokens, and change the wonderous workes: shew thine hand and thy right arme gloriously.

7 Raise vp thine indignation, and powre out thy wrath: take away the aduersary, and smite the enemie.

8 Make the time short, remember the Couenant, that thy wonderous works may be praised.

9 Let the wrath of the fire consume them that liue so careless: and let them perish that do thy people hurt.

10 Smite in sunder the head of the Princes that be our enemies, and say, There is none other but we.

11 Gather all the tribes of Jacob together againe, that they may knowe how that there is none other God but onely thou, that they may shewe thy wonderous workes: and be thou thy peoples heritage, like as from the beginning.

12 O Lord haue mercy vpon the people that hath thy Name, and vpon *Israel whom thou hast likened to a first borne sonne.

Exod.4.28.

13 O be merciful vnto Hierusalem the citie of thy Sanctuary, the citie of thy rest.

14 Fill Sion with thine vnspeakeable vertues, and thy people with thy glory.

15 Giue witnesse vnto thy creature whom thou madest from the beginning, and raise vp the prophecies that haue bene shewed in thy Name.

16 Reward them that waite for thee, that thy Prophets may be found faithfull.

17 *O Lord, heare the prayer of thy seruants, according to the blessing of Aaron ouer thy people, and guide thou vs in the way of righteousnesse: that all they which dwell vpon the earth may know that thou art the Lord the eternal God, which is from euerlasting.

18 The belly deoureth all meats: yet is one meate better then another.

19 Like as the tongue tasteth venison: so doth an heart of vnderstanding marke false words.

20 A froward heart grieueth heauinesse: but a man of experience litteth him vp againe.

21 The woman receiueth euery man: yet is one daughter better then another.

22 A faire wife reioyceth her husband: and a man loueth nothing better.

23 If there bee in her tongue gentlenesse, meekenesse, and wholesome talke: then is not her husband like other men.

24 He that hath gotten a vertuous woman, hath a goodly possession: she is vnto him a helpe, and a pillar whereon he resteth.

25 Where no hedge is, there the goods are spoyled: and where no huswife is, there the friendlesse mourneth.

26 Like as there is no credence giuen to a robber that goeth from one citie to another: so is not the man beleeued that hath no nest, and must turne in where he may abide in the night.

The xxxvij. Chapter.

1 How a man should know friendes and counsellers,
12 and search the company of an holy man.

Euery friend sayeth, I will bee friendly vnto him also: but there is some friend, which is onely a friend in name.

2 Remaineth not there heauinesse vnto death, when a companion and friend is turned to an enemie?

3 O most wicked presumption, from whence art thou sprung vp to couer the earth with falsehood and deceit?

Eccl.6,10. 4 *There is some companion which in prosperitie reioyceth with his friende: but in the time of trouble he taketh part against him.

‖Or, There is some cõpanion that helpeth his friend for the bellies sake, and taketh vp the buckler against the enemie. Eccl.8.2. and 9,21. 5 ‖There is some companion that mourneth with his friend for ỹ bellies sake: but when trouble commeth, he taketh holde of the shield.

6 Forget not thy friende in thy minde, and thinke vpon him in thy riches.

7 Seeke no counsell at thy kinsman, & hide thy counsel from such as beare thee no good wil.

8 *Euery counseller praiseth his counsell: neuertheless, there is some that counselleth but for his owne profite.

9 Beware of the counseller, and be aduised afore wherto thou wilt vse him (for he wil counsel for himselfe) least he cast the lot vpon thee,

10 And say vnto thee, Thy way and purpose is good: and afterward bee stand against thee, and looke what shall become of thee.

11 Aske no counsell at him that suspecteth thee for an enemie, and hide thy counsell from such as hate thee: aske no counsel for religion of him that is without religion, nor for iustice, of him that hath no iustice: aske no counsell at a woman, touching her of whom thee is ielous: nor at a fearefull and faint hearted body, in matters of warre: or at a marchant, how deare hee wil cheape thy wares toward his: or at a buyer, of selling: or at an enuious man, of thankesgiuing: or at the vnmerciful, of louing kindenesse:

or at an vnhonest man, of honestie: or at the slouthfull, of working: or at an hireling which hath no house, of profite or wealth: or at an idle body, of much labour: take no such folkes to counsel.

12 But be diligent to seeke counsell at a vertuous man that feareth God, such a one as thou knowest to be a keeper of the Commandements, which hath a mind after thine owne minde, and is sory for thee when thou stumblest.

13 And holde thy counsel fast in thine heart: for there is no man more faithfull to keepe it, then thou thy selfe.

14 For a mans minde is sometime disposed to tell out more, then seuen watchmen that sit aboue in an high place, looking about them.

15 And aboue all this, pray the highest, that he wil leade thy way in faithfulnesse and trueth.

16 Before all thy workes, aske counsell first: and or euer thou doest any thing, be wel aduised.

17 There be foure things that declare a changed heart, whereout there springeth euill and good, death and life, and a masterfull tongue that babbleth much.

18 Some man is apt, and well instructed in many things, and yet very vnprofitable vnto himselfe.

19 Some man there is that can giue wise and prudent counsell, and yet is hee hated, and continueth a begger, 20 For that grace is not giuen him of God to be accepted.

21 Another is robbed of all wisedome: yet is hee wise vnto himselfe, and the fruite of vnderstanding is commendable in his mouth.

22 A wise man maketh his people wise, and the fruits of his wisedome faile not.

23 A wise man shall be plenteously blessed of God: and all they that see him, shall speake good of him.

24 The life of man standeth in the number of the dayes: but the dayes of Israel are innumerable.

25 A wise man shal obtaine faithfulnesse and credence among his people, and his name shalbe perpetual.

26 My sonne, proue thy soule in thy selfe, and if thou see any euil thing, giue it not vnto her:

1.Cor.6,12 27 *For all things are not profitable for all men, neither hath euery soule pleasure in euery thing.

Eccl.31.22. 28 *Bee not greedie in euery eating, and bee not hastie vpon all meates.

29 For excesse of meats bringeth sickines, and gluttonie commeth at the last to an vnmeasurable heate.

30 Through surfet haue many one perished: but he that dieteth himselfe temperatly, prolongeth his life.

The xxxviij. Chapter.

1 A Physition is commendable. 16 To bury the dead. 24 The wisdome of him that is learned.

Honour the Physition, honour him with that honour that is due vnto him, because of necessitie, for God hath created him.

2 For of the Highest commeth medicine, and hee shall receiue gifts of the King.

3 The wisedome of the Physition bringeth him to great worship, & in the sight of the great men of this world he shalbe honourably taken.

4 The Lord hath created medicine of the earth: and he that is wise wil not abhorre it.

Exod.15.25.iud.5.5. 5 *Was not the bitter water made sweete with a tree, that men might learne to know the vertue thereof?

6 The Lord hath giuen men wisedome and vnderstanding, that hee might be honoured in his wonderous workes.

7 With such doeth he heale men, and taketh away their paines.

8 Of such doth the Apothecarie make a confection, yet can no man perfourme al his workes: for of the Lord commeth prosperous wealth ouer all the earth.

Esa.38.2. 9 *My sonne, despise not this in thy sickenesse: but pray vnto the Lord, and he shall make thee whole.

10 Leaue off from sinne, and order thy hands aright, cleanse thine heart from all wickednes.

11 Giue a sweete sauoured offering, and the fine floure for a token of remembrance: make the offering fat, as one that giueth the first fruits.

12 And giue roume to the Physition: for the Lord hath created him, let him not goe from thee, for thou hast need of him.

13 The houre may come, that the sicke may be helped through them,

14 When they pray vnto the Lord, that hee may recouer and get health to liue longer.

15 He that sinneth before his maker, shal fall into the hands of the Physition.

Eccl.22.10. 1.thes.4.13. 16 My sonne, *bring foorth thy teares ouer the dead, and begin to mourne, as if thou hadst suffered great harme thy selfe: and then couer his body after a conuenient maner, and despise not his burial.

17 Enforce thy selfe to weep and prouoke thy selfe to mourne, and make lamentation expediently, and be earnest in mourning, and vse lamentation as hee is worthy, and that a day or two, least thou be euil spoken of: and then comfort thy selfe, because of the heauinesse.

Pro.15.13. and 17.22. 18 *For of heauinesse commeth death, the heauinesse of the heart breaketh strength.

19 Heauinesse and pouertie grieueth the heart in temptation and offence.

20 Take no heauines to heart, driue it away, and remember the last things.

21 Forget it not, for there is no turning againe, thou shalt doe him no good, but hurt thy selfe.

22 Remember his iudgement, thine also shalbe like wise: vnto me yesterday, vnto thee to day.

1.Cor.15.

Eccl.31.22.

1.Sam,12.20. 23 Let the *remembrance of the dead ceasse in his rest, and comfort thee againe ouer him, seeing his spirit is departed from him.

24 The wisedome of the Scribe is at conuenient time of rest: and he that ceaseth from exercises and labour shalbe wise.

25 How can he get wisdome that holdeth the plough, & he that hath pleasure in the goad and in driuing the oxen, and is occupied in their labours, and his talk is but of the breeding of bullockes?

26 Hee setteth his heart to make furrowes, and is diligent to giue the kine fodder.

27 So is euery Carpenter also and workemaster that laboureth stil night and day: he carueth, graueth, cutteth out, and his desire is in sundry cunning things, his heart imagineth how hee may cunningly cast an image, his diligence also and watching perfourmeth the worke.

28 The yron Smith in like maner, sitteth by his stithie, and doeth his diligence to labour the iron: the vapour of the fire burneth his flesh, and he must fight with the heate of the furnace: the noise of the hammer euer soundeth in his eares, and his eyes look stil vpon the thing that he maketh: he hath set his minde thereupon, that hee wil make out his worke, and therfore he watcheth how he may set it out, and bring it to an end.

29 So doeth the potter sit by his worke: hee turneth the wheele about with his feete, hee is diligent and carefull in all doings, and maketh his worke in number.

30 He fashioneth the clay with his arme, and with his feete he tempereth it, his heart imagineth how he may make it pleasant, and his diligence is to cleanse the ouen.

31 All these hope in their handes, and euery one thinketh to be cunning in his worke.

32 Without these may not the city bee mainteined, inhabited, nor occupied:

33 Yet come they not high in the congregation, neither sit they vpon the iudgement seats: they vnderstand not the couenant of the Lawe, they cannot declare equitie and iudgement, they cannot finde out the darke sentences.

34 But through them shal the creature of the world bee mainteined, their desire concerneth onely the worke and labour of cunning.

The xxxix. Chapter.

1 A wise man. 16 The workes of God. 24 Vnto the good, good things doe profite: but vnto the euill, euen good things are euil.

HE that applieth his minde to vnderstand the Law of God, doeth diligently seeke out the wisdome of them of the olde time, & exerciseth himselfe in the Prophets.

2 Hee keepeth the saying of famous men, and prealleth to the vnderstanding of darke sentences of wisedome.

3 He seeketh out the mysterie of secreet sayings, & exerciseth himselfe therein continually.

4 He doth seruice among great men, and appeareth before the prince, he goeth into a strange countrey, and trauaileth thorow it: loohe what good or euill is among men, he prooueth and seeketh it out.

5 He purposeth in his heart to resort earely vnto the Lord that made him, and to pray before the highest God: hee openeth his mouth in prayer, and prayeth for his sinnes.

6 When the great Lord wil, hee shalbe filled with the spirit of vnderstanding, that hee may then powre out wise sentences, and giue thanks vnto the Lord in his prayer.

7 Hee shall order his deuice, and leade his knowledge aright, and giue him vnderstanding of secret things.

8 He shal shew forth ſ science of his learning, & reioyce in the couenant of the law of the Lord.

9 The whole Congregation shall commend his wisedome, and it shall neuer be put out: the remembrance of him shall neuer bee forgotten, and his name shall continue from one generation to another.

10 *His wisedome shall be spoken of among Eccl.44.14.

the people, and the whole congregation shall openly declare his praise.

11 While he liueth, he hath a greater name then a thousand beside: and after death, the same name remaineth vnto him.

12 Yet will I speake of moe men of vnderstanding, for I am full as the Moone.

13 Hearken vnto mee ye holy vertuous children, bring foorth fruite as the rose that is planted by the brookes of the field.

14 And giue ye a sweet smell as incense, flourish as the rose garden, sing a song of praise, & giue thankes vnto God ouer all his workes.

15 Giue magnificence vnto his Name, and set him foorth in his praise with your lips, and with musicke and harmonie: yea, euen with the song of your lips, with harpes and playing, & in giuing thankes vnto him, say after this maner,

Gen.1.31. mark.7.37. 16 *All the workes of the Lord are exceeding good, and all his Commandements are meete and conuenient in due season.

17 A man need not to say, What is that? what is that? for at a time conuenient they shall all be sought: at his Commandement the water was as a wall, and at the word of his mouth the water stood still.

18 In his Commandement is euery thing acceptable and reconciled, and his health cannot be minished.

19 The workes of all flesh are before him, and there is nothing hid from his eyes.

20 He seeth from euerlasting to euerlasting, and there is nothing too wonderfull or high vnto him.

21 A man need not to say then, What is this, or that? for he hath made all things to doe good vnto man.

22 His blessing shal run ouer as the streame, and moysture the earth like a flood of water.

23 Like as he maketh the drouth: so shal his wrath fall vpon the heathen.

24 His wayes are plaine and right vnto the iust: but the vngodly stumble at them.

a The creatures of God are good by creation. But as good men vse them to the glory of God, the profite of others, & their owne necessarie: so the vngodly doe not acknowledge them as the good gifts of God, but abuse them either in riot and excesse, or else in miserable keeping of them, take them for their God.

25 a For the good, are good things created from the beginning, and euil things for the vngodly.

26 All things necessary for the life of man, are created from the beginning: water, fire, yron, and salt, meale, wheat, and hony, milke and wine, oyle and clothing.

27 *All these things are created for the best to the faithfull: but to the vngodly shall all these things be turned to hurt and harme.

28 There be spirits that are created for vengeance, & in their rigorousnesse haue they fastened their torments: in the time of the ende they shal powre out their strength, and ‖ pacifie the wrath of him that made them.

1.Tim.4.4. ‖Or, accomplish. Eccle.49.9. 29 *Fire, haile, hunger, and death: all these things are created for vengeance.

30 The teeth of wild noysome beasts, the scorpions, serpents, and the sword, are created also for vengeance, to the destruction of the vngodly.

31 They shalbe glad to doe his Commandements, and when need is, they shalbe ready vpon earth: and when their houre is come, they shall not ouerpasse the Commandement of the Lord.

32 Therefore haue I taken a good courage vnto me from the beginning, and haue thought to put these things in writing, & to leaue them behinde me:

33 *All the workes of the Lord are good, and hee giueth euery one in due season, and when need is. Gen.1.31.

34 So that no man need to say, This is worse then that: for in due season they are all pleasant and good.

35 And therefore praise the Lord with whole heart and mouth, & giue thankes vnto his name.

The xl. Chapter.

1 Many miseries light in a mans life. 11 All things passe away, but a firme and stable faith remaineth. 14 Of the blessing of the righteous, and prerogatiue of the feare of God.

A Great trauaile is created for all men, and an heauie yoke vpon all the sonnes of Adam, from the day that they goe out of their mothers wombe, till they be buried in the earth the mother of all things.

2 Namely their thoughts and imaginations, feare of the heart, counsell, meditations, longing and desiring the day of death:

3 From the highest that sitteth vpon the glorious seat, vnto the lowest and most simple vpon the earth:

4 From him that is gloriously arayed, and weareth a crowne, vnto him that is but homely and simply clothed.

5 There is nothing but wrath, zeale, fearefulnesse, vnquietnesse, and feare of death, rigorousnesse, anger, & strife: and in the night when one should rest and sleepe vpon his bed, the sleep changeth his vnderstanding and knowledge.

6 A little or nothing is his rest in the sleepe, as well as in the day of labour: he feareth, and is disquieted in the vision of his heart, as one that runneth out of a battel.

7 And in the time of health he awaketh, and marueileth that the feare was nothing.

8 Such things happen vnto all flesh, both man and beast, but seuen folde to the vngodly.

9 *Moreouer, death, bloodshedding, strife, and sword, oppression, hunger, destruction, and punishment: Eccl.39.35.

10 These things are all created against the vngodly, * and for their sakes came the flood also. Gene.7.11.

11 * All that is of the earth, shall turne to earth againe, and all waters ebbe againe into the sea. Gen.3.19.

12 All bribes and vnrighteousnesse shall bee put away: but faithfulnes and trueth shall endure for euer.

13 The substance and goods of the vngodly shalbe dried vp, and sinke away as a water flood, a and they shall make a sound like a great thunder in the raine.

a That is, with great tumult & trouble shall they be dispersed abroad like as the roaring thunder.

14 Like as the righteous reioyceth when he openeth his hand: so shall the transgressours be faint, when their goods banish and consume away.

15 The children of the vngodly shall not obteine many branches:

16 And the vnclean rootes vpon the high rocks, shall be rooted out before the grasse by the water side, and vpon the riuer banks.

17 Friendlinesse & liberalitie in the increase and blessing of God, is like a paradise and garden of pleasure: such mercie also and kindenesse endureth for euer.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Ppp3r

1.Tim.6. phil.4.12.

18 *To labour and to be content with that a man hath, is a sweete pleasant life: and that is, to finde a treasure of all treasures.

19 To beget children and to repaire the citie, maketh a perpetuall name: but an honest woman is more worth then they both.

20 Wine and minstrelsie reioiceth the heart: but the loue of wisedome is aboue them both.

21 Piping and harping make a sweete noise: but a friendly tongue goeth beyond them both.

22 Thine eye desireth fauour and beauty: but a greene seede time, rather then them both.

23 A friend and companion come together at opportunitie: but aboue them both is a wife that agreeth with her husband.

24 Brethren & helpers are profitable in time of trouble: but almes shall deliuer more then they both.

25 Gold and siluer fasten the feet: but a good counsell is more pleasant then they both.

26 Temporall substance and strength lift vp the minde: but the feare of the Lord more then they both: the feare of the Lorde wanteth nothing, and needeth no helpe.

27 The feare of the Lord is a pleasant garden of blessing, and nothing so beautifull as it is.

28 My sonne, lead not a beggers life: for better it were to die then to begge.

29 The life of him that looketh vpon another mans table, is not to be counted for a life, for he vereth his soule in other mens meate: but a wise and well nurtured man will beware thereof.

30 Begging is sweet in the mouth of the vnshamefast: but in his belly there burneth a fire.

The xlj. Chapter.

1 Of the remembrance of death. 3 Death is not to be feared. 8 A curse vpon them that forsake the law of God.

a Temporall death is bitter to foure sorts of men, one, to infidels that looke for no life after this: second to them that see their pleasure in their riches, from whence they now must needes depart: third, to them that neuer tasted of sorrow: fourth, to them that be strong and lusty in bodie, for that they strongly struggle with death: but sweete vnto the contrary.

a Death, howe bitter is the remembrance of thee to a man that seeketh rest and comfort in his substance and riches, vnto the man that hath nothing to vexe him, and that hath prosperitie in all things, yea, vnto him that yet is able to receiue meate?

2 O death, how acceptable and good is thy iudgement vnto the needefull, and vnto him whose strength faileth, and that is now in his last age, and that in all things is full of care and fearefulnesse, vnto him also that is in despaire, and hath no hope nor patience?

3 Bee not thou afraid of death, remember them that haue bene before thee, and that come after thee: this is the iudgement of the Lord ouer all flesh.

4 And why wouldest thou bee against this pleasure of the highest? whether it be ten, an hundred, or a thousand yeeres, ‖ death asketh not how long one hath liued.

‖Or, there is no defence for life against the graue.

5 The children of the vngodly are abominable children, and so are they that keepe company with the vngodly.

6 The inheritance of vngodly children shall come to nought, and their posteritie shall haue a perpetuall shame and confusion.

7 The children complaine of an vngodly father: and why? for his sake they are rebuked and despised.

8 Woe be vnto you, O yee vngodly, which haue forsaken the lawe of the highest God: for though ye doe increase, yet shall you perish.

9 If ye doe liue, yee shall be accursed: if yee die, the curse shall be your portion.

Eccl.40.11.

10 *All that is of the earth, shall turne to earth againe: so goe the vngodly also out of the curse into destruction.

11 Though men mourne for their bodie: yet the *name of the vngodly shall be put out, for it is nothing worth.

Prou.22.1.

12 Labour to get thee a good name: for that shall continue surer by thee then a thousand great treasures of gold.

13 A good life hath a number of dayes: but a good name endureth for euer.

14 My children, keepe wisedome in peace: for wisedome that is hid, and a treasure that is not seene, what profit is in them both?

15 A man that hideth his foolishnesse, is better then a man that hideth his wisedome.

16 Therefore be ye turned at my words: for it is not good in all things and alway to be ashamed: b true faith must proone and measure it.

b True faith both all things in season & opportunitie, wise and holy euery one ought to be ordered. For strong meate & hard bread nourisheth some, and strangleth other: some one herbe healeth some mans disease, and increaseth some againe.

17 Be ashamed of whoredome before father and mother: bee ashamed of leasing before the prince and men of authoritie:

18 Of sinne, before the iudge and ruler: of offence, before the congregation and people: of vnrighteousnesse, before a companion and friend:

19 Of theft, before thy neighbours: as for the trueth of God and his couenant, be not ashamed thereof: c be ashamed to lie with thine elbowes vpon the bread, or to bee reproued for giuing or taking:

c Wrong bidden to another mans table, perhaps not to the highest place, be not so homely that thou lie with thine elbowes vpon the table ouer thy bread for that is vnmannerly, Luke 14.

20 And of silence, vnto them that salute thee: be ashamed to looke vpon harlots:

21 Be ashamed to turne away thy face from thy kinsman: be ashamed ‖ to take and not giue:

‖Or, to take away a gift from any man,

22 Be ashamed also to looke vpon another mans wife, and to make many trifling wordes with her maiden, or to stand by her bed side:

23 Be ashamed to vpbraide thy friend: when thou giuest any thing, cast him not in the teeth withall:

24 Or to repeat the matter that thou hast heard, or to disclose the secret wordes: so shalt thou well bee shamefast, & shalt find fauour with all men.

The xlij. Chapter.

1 The lawe must be taught. 9 A daughter. 14 A woman. 18 God knoweth all things, yea, euen the secrets of the heart.

Leu.19.15. Iacob.2.2.

OF these things be not ashamed, and *accept no person to offend. Namely, of these things be not ashamed:

2 Of the law of God, of the couenant, of iudgement to bring the vngodly from his vngodlinesse vnto righteousnesse, and to make him a good man.

3 To deale faithfully with thy neighbour and companion, to distribute the heritage vnto the friends:

4 To be diligent to keepe true measure and weight, to bee content whether thou getteſt much or little:

5 To deale truely with temporall goods in buying and selling, to bring vp children with diligence, to correct an euill seruant:

6 To keepe that thine is from an euill wife, to set a locke where many hands are:

7 What thou deliuerest and giuest out to be kept, to tell it, and weigh it: to write vp all thy outgiuing and receiuing:
8 To enforme the vnlearned and vnwise, of the aged that are iudged of the yong: if thou be diligent in these things, truly thou shalt be learned and wise, and accepted of all men.
9 The daughter maketh the father to watch secretly, and the carefulnesse that he hath for her taketh away his sleepe, yea, in her youth, lest she should ouergrowe him, and when shee hath an husband, lest she should be hated:
10 Lest shee should bee defiled or rauished in her virginitie, or gotten with childe in her fathers house: or when she commeth to the man, lest she behaue her selfe not right, or continue vnfruitfull.
Eccl.26,13 11 *If thy daughter be wanton, keepe her straitely, lest shee cause thine enemies to laugh thee to scorne, and the whole citie to giue thee an euill report: and so thou bee taine to heare thy shame of euery man, and bee confounded before all the people.
Eccl.25.28. 12 *Behold not euery bodies beautie, and haue not much dwelling among women.
Gene,3.6. 13 For like as the worme or moth commeth out of clothing: so *doeth wickednesse come of women.
14 It is better to be with an euill man, then with a friendly wife that putteth one to shame and rebuke.
15 I will remember the words of the Lorde, and declare the thing that I haue seene: In the words of the Lord are his workes.
16 The Sunne ouerlooketh all things with his shine, ‖ & all his workes are full of the clearenesse thereof.
‖Or, and all the worke thereof is full of the glory of the Lord.
17 Hath not the Lord brought to passe, that his saints should tell out all his wonderous workes which the Almighty Lorde hath stablished? all things endure in his glory.
18 Hee seeketh out the ground of the deepe, and the heart of man, and he knoweth all their imaginations and wisedome: for the Lorde knoweth all science, and he looketh into the token of the time.
19 Hee declareth the things that are past, and for to come, and discloseth things that are secret.
20 No thought may escape him, neither may any word be hid from him.
21 He hath garnished the high excellent works of his wisedome, and he is from euerlasting to euerlasting: vnto him may nothing bee added, neither can he be diminished, he hath no neede also of any mans counsell.
22 O how amiable are all his workes, and as a sparke to looke vpon?
23 They liue all and endure for euer: and whensoeuer neede is, they are all obedient vnto him.
24 They are all double one against another: hee hath made nothing that hath fault or blemish.
25 He hath stablished the goods of euery one: a and who may be satisfied with his glory when he seeth it?

a As who should say, no man: for where Dauid saith, Psal. 17. I shal bee satisfied when thy glorie appeareth: he speaketh of that glorie which he desireth to obtaine which he yet wanting is not satisfied: but when he hath obtained it, he hath the thing he both desire, and yet is not wearie of it, but desireth in that ioy which neuer shall be ended, as 1.Pet.1.

The xliij. Chapter.

The summe of the creation of the workes of God.

THe glory of the height is the faire and cleare firmament, the beauty of the heauen is his glorious clearnesse.
2 The Sunne when it appeareth, declareth the day in the going out of it, a marueilous worke of the highest.
3 At noone it burneth the earth, and who may abide for the heate thereof?
4 Who so keepeth an ouen when it is hote, three times more doeth the Sunne burne vpon the mountaines: when it breaketh out the fiery beames and shineth, with the brightnesse of it, it blindeth the eyes.
5 Great is the Lord that made it, and in his commandement he causeth it to runne hastily.
6 *The Moone also in all things according to her season, is a declaration of the time, and a signe for the world. Gen.1,6.
7 The *token of the solemne feast is taken of the moone, a light that minisheth and increaseth againe. Exo,12.2.
8 The moneth is called after the moone, it groweth wonderously in her changing.
9 The armie of heauen also is in the height: in the firmament of heauen it giueth a cleare and a glorious shine: this is the clearenes of the starres, the beautifull apparell of heauen, the apparell that the Lord lightneth in the height.
10 In his holy worke they continue in their order, and not one of them faileth in his watch.
11 *Looke vpon the Rainebowe, and praise him that made it: very beautifull is it in his shine. Gen,9,14.
12 Hee compasseth the heauen about with a glorious circle, the *hands of the highest haue bended it. Esay 40.12.
13 Through his commandement he maketh the snow to fall, and the thunder of his iudgement to smite hastily.
14 Through his commaundement the treasures are opened, and the cloudes flee as the foules.
15 In his power hath hee strengthened the clouds, and broken the hailestones.
16 The mountains ‖ leape at the sight of him, the winde bloweth according to his will. ‖Or, moue.
17 The sounde of his thunder beateth the earth, and so doeth the storme of the North: the whirlewinde also lighteth downe as a feathered foule, calleth out, and spreadeth the snowe abroad, and as the Grashoppers that destroy all, so falleth it downe.
18 The eye marueileth at the beautie of the whitenes thereof, and the heart is afraid at the raine of it.
19 He powreth out the frost vpon earth like salt, and when it is frozen, it is as sharpe as the pricke of a thistle.
20 When the colde North winde bloweth, hard Christall commeth of the water: hee lighteth downe vpon all the gatherings together of water, and putteth on the water as a breastplate.
21 He deuoureth the mountaines, and burneth the wildernesses: and looke what is greene, he putteth it out like fire.
22 The medicine of all these is, when a cloud commeth hastily, and when a deawe commeth vpon the heate, it shall be refreshed againe.
23 In his word hee stilleth the winde, in his counsaile

counsaile he appeaseth the deepe, and hath planted Ilands in it.

24 They that saile ouer the sea, tell of the perils and harmes thereof, and when wee heare it with our eares, we marueile thereat.

25 For there be strange wonderous workes, diuers maners of nice beastes, and whale fishes.

26 Through him are all things set in good order and performed, and in his word all things endure.

27 I speake much, but I cannot sufficiently attaine vnto it: for he himselfe onely is the perfection of all workes.

28 We should praise the Lord after all our power, for he is great in all his workes.

Psal.96.4. 29 The Lord is to be *feared, yea, very great is he, and marueilous is his power. Gen.1.

30 Praise the Lord, & magnifie him as much as ye may, yet doeth he farre exceede all praise: O magnifie him with al your power and labour earnestly, yet are ye in no wise able sufficiently to praise him. Eccl.11.2.

Psal.106.2. 31 *Who hath seene him, that hee might tell vs? who can magnifie him so greatly as he is?

32 For there are hid yet greater things then these be: as for vs, we haue seene but fewe of his workes.

33 For the Lord hath made all things, and giuen wisedome to such as feare God. Gen.9.14.

The xliiij. Chapter.

1 The praise of certaine holy men, 16 Enoch, 17 Noah, 18 Abraham. Esay.40.21.

LEt vs commend the noble famous men, and the generation of our forefathers and fathers.

2 Many more glorious actes hath the Lord done in them, and shewed his great power euer since the beginning.

Exo.18,20. 3 *The noble famous men reigned in their kingdomes, and bare excellent rule in their wisdome and vnderstanding, they followed the counsel shewed in the Prophesies:

4 They ledde the folke through the counsell and wisedome of the scribes of the people, wise sentences are found in their instructions: Or, mens.

5 They sought the sweetenesse and melodie of musicke, and brought forth the pleasant songs in scripture:

6 They were rich also, and could comfort and pacifie those that dwelt with them.

7 All these were very noble and honourable men in their generations, and were well reported of in their times.

8 These haue left a name behinde them, so that their praise shall alway be spoken of.

Gen.7.22. 9 Afterward there were some whose *remembrance is gone, they came to nought and perished, as though they had neuer bene, and became as though they had neuer bene borne, yea, and their children also with them.

10 Nevertheles, they are louing men, whose righteousnes shall neuer be forgotten, but continue by their posterity.

11 Their children are an holy good heritage: their seede endured fast in the couenant.

12 For their sakes shal their children and seed continue for euer, and their praise shall neuer be put downe.

13 Their bodies are buried in peace, but their name liueth for euermore. Eccl.39.14.

14 *The people can speake of their wisedom, and the congregation can talke of their praise. Gen.5.24.

15 *Henoch walked right and acceptably before the Lord, therefore was he translated for an example of amendement to the generations. Gen.6.9. and 7.6.

16 *Noe was a stedfast and righteous man, and in the time of wrath hee became a reconciling: therefore was hee left a remnant vnto the earth when the flood came. Gen.9.11.

17 *An euerlasting couenant was made with him, that all flesh should perish no more with the water. Gen.17.3.

18 *Abraham was a great father of many people, in glory was there none like vnto him.

19 He kept the lawe of the highest, and came into a couenant with him.

20 He set the couenant in his flesh, and when he was proued, he was found faithfull. Gen.22,16

21 *Therefore swore God vnto him with an oath, that he would blesse all people in his seed, that he would multiplie and increase him as the dust of the earth, & to exalt his seed as the starres: yea, and that his seed should haue the possession and inheritance of the land, from sea to sea, and from the riuer vnto the borders of the world.

22 With Isahac did he stablish the same couenant, for Abraham his fathers sake: Yea, that gracious blessing and health of all men, and couenant did he stablish with Isahac, and made it rest vpon the head of Jacob.

23 [a] He knew him in that he prospered him so well and richly, and gaue him an heritage, and sundred his portion by it selfe, and parted among the twelue tribes.

24 Mercifull men brought hee out of him, which found fauour in the sight of all flesh.

a He did alow him, and make him worthie and sweete for such blessings of rules and increase: so as hee may bee knowen by this blessing, Kadan his vncle so often changing his wages, yet did God prosper him, that it did well appeare he bare a fauour to him, as to Joseph and Dan, &c.

The xlv. Chapter.

1 The prayse of Moses, 6 Aaron, and Phineches.

MOses* beloued of God and men, whose remembrance is in high praise: Exod.11.3. acts.7.22.

2 Him that the Lord made like in the glory of the Saints, and magnified him, so that the enemies stood in awe of him.

3 Through his words he did great wonders: he made him glorious in the sight of kings, gaue him commandement before his people, and shewed him glorious power.

4 *He stablished him with faithfulnesse and meekenesse, and chose him out of all men. Num.12.3.

5 For he heard his voice, and led him in the darke cloude, and there he *gaue him the commandements, yea, the law of life and wisedome: that he might teach Jacob the couenant, and Israel his lawes. Exod.19.7.

6 *He chose Aaron his brother also out of the tribe of Leui, exalted him, and made him such like. Exod.4.14.

7 An euerlasting couenant made hee with him, and gaue him the priesthood in the people: he made him glorious in beautifull aray, and clothed him with the garment of honour.

8 He put perfect ioy vpon him, and girded him with strength, he deckt him with side clothes and a tunicle, with an ouerbody coat also, and a girdle.

9 *Rounde about made he him belles of gold, and that many: that when he went in, the Exo.28,29.

sound might be heard, that they might make a noyse in the Sanctuary, and giue the people warning.

10 The holy garment was wrought and bordered with golde, yellow silke and purple: and in the breastlap there was a goodly worke, wherein was fastened light and perfectnesse.

11 Upon the same also there was a worke fastened and set with costly precious stones, all bound with gold, and this he brought in his ministration: the stones were fastened for a remembrance, after the number of the twelue tribes of Israel.

12 Upon his miter there was a plate of pure gold, a grauen image of holinesse, a famous and noble worke, garnished, and pleasant to looke vpon.

13 Before him were there seene no such faire ornaments, and these it behoued him alway to vse: there might none other put them on, but onely his children, and his childrens children perpetually.

14 Dayly performed hee his burnt offrings two times.

Leuit.8.12. a That was, either to put into his hand the booke of the Law written to read vnto the people, or else some sacrifice, that he might offer vnto God for their offences.

15 *Moses a filled his handes, and anoynted him with holy oyle: this was nowe confirmed him with an euerlasting couenant, and to his seede as the dayes of heauen, namely, that his children should alway minister before him, and performe the office of the Priesthood, and with the people good in his name.

16 Before all men liuing chose hee him, that he should offer incense before the Lord, and make odours for a sweete sauour and remembrance, that hee should reconcile the people of the Lord with him againe.

Deut.17.10.

17 *He gaue him authoritie also in his Commandements, and in the Couenant, that hee should teach Jacob the statutes and testimonies, and enforme Israel in the Law.

Num.16.1.

18 *Therefore there stoode vp certaine against him, and had enuie at him in the wildernesse: namely, they that were of Dathan and Abirams side, and the furious congregation of Chore.

19 This the Lord saw, and it displeased him, and in his wrathful indignation were they consumed: a great wonder did hee vpon them, and consumed them with the fire.

Num.27.8.

20 Besides this, hee made *Aaron yet more honourable and glorious, hee gaue him an heritage, and parted the first fruites vnto him: vnto him specially hee appointed the bread of sustenance.

21 For the priestes did eate of the offerings of the Lord: this gaue he vnto him and his seed.

Deu.12.12 and 18.1.

22 *Else had he no heritage nor portion in the land and with the people: for the Lord himselfe is his portion and inheritance.

Num.25.13.1.mac.2.26.

23 The thirde noble and excellent man is *Phinehes the sonne of Eleazar, which pleased the God of Israel, because hee had the zeale and feare of the Lord: for when the people were turned backe, he put himselfe forth right soone, and that with a good will, to pacifie the wrath of the Lord toward Israel.

24 Therefore was there a couenant of peace made with him, that hee should be the principall among the righteous in the people, that hee and his posteritie should haue the office of the Priesthood for euer.

25 Like as there was made a couenant with Dauid of the tribe of Juda, that from among his sonnes onely there should be a king, and that Aaron also and his seed should be an heritage, to giue vs wisedome in our heart, to iudge his people in righteousnesse, that his goods should not come into forgetfulnesse, and that their honour might endure for euer.

The xlvj. Chapter.

1 The praise of Iosue, 9 Caleb, 13 Samuel.

MAnly and strong in battell was Jesus the sonne of Naue, and was the *successour of Moses in prophesies, and was giuen to be captaine of the people, which according vnto his name was a great sauiour vnto the elect of God, to punish the enemies that rose vp against Israel, that Israel might obteine their inheritance. Iosu.12.7. num.27.18 deut.34.9. iosu.1.2.

2 *O how great, noble, and excellent was he, when he lift vp his hand, and drew out his sword against the cities! Iosu.8.3.

3 Who stood so manly before him? for the Lord himselfe brought in the enemies.

4 *Stood not the sunne still at his commandement, and one day was as long as two? Iosu.10.12.

5 He called vpon the highest and most mightie, when the enemies preassed vpon him on euery side, and the mighty Lord heard him with the haile stones.

6 They smote the heathenish people mightily, and in falling downe, they slew all the aduersaries: so that the Heathen knew his host, and all his defence, that the Lord himselfe fought against them: for he followed vpon the mightie men of them.

7 In the *time of Moses also he and Caleb the sonne of Jephunne did a good worke, which stood against the enemies, withheld the people from sinne, and stilled the wicked murmuring. Num.15.6.

8 *And of fiue hundred thousand people of foot, they two were preserued, to bring them into the heritage, namely, a land that floweth with milke and hony. Num.26.65.

9 The Lord *gaue strength also vnto Caleb, which remained with him vnto his age, so that he went vp into the hie places of the land, and his seed conquered the same for an heritage: Iosu.14.11.

10 That all the children of Israel might see how good a thing it is to be obedient vnto the Lord.

11 And the iudges or rulers, euery one after his name, whose heart went not a whoring, nor departed from the Lord, and that forlooke not the Lorde vnfaithfully, whose remembrance hath a good report:

12 Yea, their bones flourish out of their place, and their names shall neuer be changed: but honour remaineth still with the children of those holy men.

13 Samuel the Prophet, *beloued of the Lord his God, ordeined a king, and anointed the princes ouer the people. 1.Sam.10.1

14 In the law of the Lord ruled he, and iudged the congregation, and the Lord had respect vnto Jacob.

15 The Prophet was found diligent in his faithfulnesse: yea, and he was knowen faithful in his words, because he saw the God of light.

16 *He called vpon the Lord almighty, when 1 Sam.7.11.

the enemies preassed vpon him on euery side, what time as he offered the sucking lambe.

17 And the Lorde thundered from heauen, and made his voice to bee heard with a great noise.

18 He discomfited the princes of Tyre, and all the rulers of the Philistines.

1.Sam.12.7. 19 *Before his last end, he made protestation in the sight of the Lord and his anointed, that he tooke neither substance nor good of any man, no not so much as a shoo: and no man might accuse him.

20 After this hee tolde that his end was at hand, and shewed the king also his end & death, and from the earth lift he vp his voice in the prophecie, that the vngodly people should perish.

The xlvij. Chapter.

1 The praise of Nathan, 2 Dauid, 12 and Solomon.

2.Re.12.2. AFterward, in the time of king Dauid, there *rose vp a Prophet called Nathan.

2 For like as the fat is fallen away from the offring: so was Dauid chosen out of the children of Israel.

3 He played with the lions as with kids, and with beares, like as with lambs of sheepe.

1.Sam.17.34. 4 *Slew hee not a giant when hee was yet but yoong, and tooke away the rebuke from his people, what time as he tooke the stone in his hand, and smote downe proud Goliath with the sling?

5 For he called vpon the highest Lord, which gaue him strength in his right hand, to that hee ouerthrew the mighty giant in the battell, that he might set vp the horne of his people againe.

1.Re.18.7. 6 *So he glorified him in ten thousand, and made him to haue a good report in the praise of the Lord, that he should weare a crowne of glory.

2.Reg.5.7. 7 *For hee destroyed the enemies on euerie side, rooted out the Philistines his aduersaries, and brake their horne in sunder, like as it is broken yet this day.

8 In all his works hee praised the highest and holiest, and ascribed the honour vnto him: with his whole heart did he praise the Lord, and loued God that made him.

1.Chro.16.4. 9 He set *singers also before the altar, and in their time he made sweet songs, that they might giue praises euery day to God, with songs.

10 He ordeined to keepe the holy dayes worshipfully, and that the solemne feasts throw the whole yeere should be honourably holden, with praising the Name of the Lord, and with singing betimes in the morning in the Sanctuarie.

2.Sam.12.13. 11 *The Lord tooke away his sinnes, and exalted his horne for euer: he gaue him the couenant of the kingdome, and the throne of worship in Israel.

12 After him there rose vp the wise sonne called Solomon, who by him dwelt in a large possession, and for his sake he droue the enemies away farre off.

3.Reg.4.21 13 This *Solomon reigned with peace in his time, and hee obteined glory: for God gaue him rest from his enemies on euery side, that hee might build him an house in his Name, and prepare the Sanctuary for euer.

14 Howe wise wast thou in thy youth, and filled with wisedome and vnderstanding, as it were with a water flood?

15 Thou coueredst and filledst the whole land with similitudes, and wise prudent sentences.

16 Thy Name went abroad in the Iles, because of thy peace, thou wast beloued.

17 All landes marueiled at thy songs, prouerbs, similitudes, and at thy interpretations.

18 *And in the Name of the Lord God, which is called the God of Israel, thou gatherdst gold as tinne, and thou haddest as much siluer, as lead. 1.Reg.10.27.

19 *Thou wast moued in inordinate loue toward women, and wast ouercome in affection. 1.Re.11.1.

20 Thou staynedst thy honour and worship, yea, thy posteritie defiledst thou also, in bringing the wrath of the Lord vpon thy children, and hast felt sorow for thy folly.

21 So that thy kingdome was diuided, *and Ephraim became an vnfaithful and a rebellious kingdome. 1.Reg.12.17.

22 *Neuertheless, God forsooke not his mercie: neither was he vtterly destroyed, because of his workes, that he should leaue him no posteritie: as for the seed that came vpon him, which he loued, he brought it not vtterly to nought, but gaue yet a remnant vnto Jacob, and a roote vnto Dauid out of him. 2.Sam.7.15

23 Thus rested Solomon with his fathers, and out of his seede hee left behinde him a very foolishnesse of the people, and such one as had no vnderstanding: euen *Roboam, which turned away the people through his counsaile, and Jeroboam the sonne of Nabat, *which caused Israel to sinne, and shewed Ephraim the way of vngodlinesse. 1.Reg.12.10. 1.Reg.12.28.

24 In so much that their sinnes and misdeeds had the vpper hand so sore, that at the last they were driuen out of the land for the same.

25 Yea, he sought out and brought vp al wickednesse, till the vengeance came vpon them.

The xlviij. Chapter.

The praise of Elias, Eliseus, Ezechias, and Esaias.

THen stood vp *Elias the Prophet as a fire, and his word burnt like a cresset. 3.Reg.17.3

2 He brought an hunger vpon them, and in his zeale hee made them few in number: for they might not away with the Commandements of the Lord.

3 *Through the word of the Lord hee shut the heauen, and three times brought he the fire downe. 3.Reg.18.38.

4 O Elias, how honourable art thou in thy wonderous deedes: who may make his boast to be like thee?

5 *One that was dead thou raisedst vp from death, & in the word of the highest thou brought est him out of the graue againe. 3.Reg.17.22.

6 Thou hast cast downe Kings, and destroied them, and the honourable from their seat.

7 Vpon the mount *Sina thou heardest the iudgement, and vpon Horeb the iudgement of the vengeance: 3.Reg.19.15.

raged, to turne the hearts of the fathers vnto the children, and to set vp the tribes of Jacob againe.

11 Blessed were they that saw thee, and were garnished in loue, for wee liue in life: but after death we shall haue no such name.

4.Reg.2.11 12 *Elias was couered in the storme, but Elizeus was filled with his spirit: while he liued, he was afrayd of no prince, and no man might ouercome him.

4.Re.13.21 13 *There could no word deceiue him, and after his death his body prophesied.

4.Reg.5.14 14 He did wonders in his *life, and in death were his works maruellous.

15 For all this the people amended not, neither departed they from their sinnes, till they

4.Re.18.12 were caried away prisoners out of the land, *and were scattered abroad in all countreys, so that of them there remained but a very little people, and a prince vnto the house of Dauid.

16 Howbeit, some of them did right, and some heaped vp vngodlinesse.

4.Reg.18.2 17 *Ezechias made his city strong, conueyed water into it, digged thorow the stonie rocke with yron, and made vp a wall by the water side.

4.Re.18.13 18 In his time came *Sennacherib vp, and sent Rabsakes, lift vp his hand against Sion, and defied them with great pride.

19 Then trembled their hearts and hands, so that they sorrowed like a woman trauelling with childe.

20 So they called vpon the Lord which is mercifull, and lift vp their hands before him, immediatly the Lord heard them out of heauen.

21 He thought no more vpon their sinnes, nor gaue them ouer to their enemies: but deliuered them by the hand of Esaias.

4.Re.19.22 22 *He smote the hoste of the Assyrians, and his angel destroyed them.

23 For Ezechias had done the thing that pleased the Lord, and remained stedfastly in the way of Dauid his father, as Esaias the great and faithfull Prophet in the sight of God had commanded him.

4.Re.20.10 esay 38.1. 24 *In his time the Sun went backward, and he lengthened the kings life.

25 With a right spirit prophecied he what should come to passe at the last: and to such as were sorowfull in Sion, he gaue consolation.

26 Hee shewed things that were for to come, and secret, or euer they came to passe.

The xlix. Chapter.

Of Iosias, Ezechias, Dauid, Ieremie, Ezechiel, Zorobabel, Iesus, Nehemias, Enoch, and Ioseph.

4.Reg.22.1 2.chr.34.3. THe remembrance of *Iosias is like as when the Apothecarie maketh many precious sweet smelling things together: his remembrance shall be sweet as honie in all mouthes, and as the playing of musicke, at a banquet of wine.

a These also were sinners, but either they were not sworne, which here is chiefly counted sinne: or els they did repent, so that their sinnes were couered, so that they were enemies for idolatrie.

2 Hee was appointed to turne the people againe, and to take away all abominations of the vngodly.

3 He directed his heart vnto the Lord, and in the time of the vngodly he set vp the worship of God againe.

4 All kings, except [a]Dauid, Ezechias, and Iosias, committed wickednesse: for euen the kings of Iuda also forsooke the law of God.

5 For they gaue their horne vnto other, their honour and worship also to a strange people.

6 Therefore was the elect citie of the Sanctuary burnt with fire, and the streets thereof layd desolate and waste in the [b]hand of Jeremy.

7 For they intreated him euil, which neuertheless was a Prophet, ordeined from his mothers wombe, that he might root out, breake off, and destroy: and that hee might build vp, and plant againe.

8 Ezechiel saw the glory of the Lord in a vision, which was shewed him vpon the charet of the Cherubims.

9 For he thought vpon the enemies in the raine, to do good vnto such as had ordered their wayes aright.

10 And the bones of the twelue Prophets flourished from out of their place, for they gaue comfort and consolation vnto Iacob, and deliuered them faithfully.

11 *How shall wee praise Zorobabel, which was a ring on the right hand. Agge.2.24. 1.esdr.3.2.

12 So was *Iesus also the sonne of Iosedec: these men in their times builded the house, and set vp the sanctuary of the Lord againe, which was prepared for euerlasting worship. Zach.3.1.

13 And among the elect was *Nehemias, whose renowme was great, which set vp for vs the walles that were broken downe, made the ports and barres againe, and builded our houses anew. Nehe.7.1.

14 But vpon the earth there was no man created like *Enoch: for he was taken vp from the earth. Gene.5.24.

15 Neither was there a like man vnto Ioseph, which was lord of his brethren, and the vpholder of his people: [c]his bones were couered and kept.

16 Seth and Sem were in great honour among the people, and so was Adam aboue all the beasts when he was created.

c For that he prophecied of the deliuerance of Israel from Egypt into Chanaan, and also of the resurrection to be made by Christ.

The l. Chapter.

1 Of Simon the sonne of Onias. 22 An exhortation to praise the Lord.

SImon the sonne of *Onias the hie Priest, which in his life set vp the house againe, & in his dayes made fast the Temple. 2.Mac.3.4.

2 The height of the Temple also was founded of him, the double building, and the high walles of the Temple.

3 In his dayes the welles of water flowed out, and were exceeding full as the sea.

4 He tooke care for his people, and deliuered them from destruction: he kept his city, & made it strong, that it should not be besieged.

5 How honourable was his conuersation among the people, and when he came out of the house couered with the vaile?

6 He gaue light as the morning starre in the middest of the clouds, and as the moone when it is full:

7 He shined as the Sunne in the Temple of God: hee is as bright as the raine bowe in the faire clouds, mount Libanus in the time of Summer:

9 As a fire and incense that is kindled, like as an whole ornament of pure golde set with all maner of precious stones,
10 And as an Olive tree that is fruitfull, and as a Cypresse tree which groweth vp on high.
11 When he put on the garment of honour, and was clothed with all beauty, when he went to the holy altar, he made the garment of holinesse honourable.
12 When hee tooke the portions out of the priests hand, he himselfe stood by the hearth of the altar, and his brethren round about in order, as the branches of Cedar tree vpon the mount Libanus, so stood they round about him:
13 And as the branches of the Olive tree, so stood all the sonnes of Aaron in their glorie, and the oblations of the Lord in their hands, before all the congregation of Israel.
14 And that hee might sufficiently performe his seruice vpon the altar, and garnish the offering of the highest God,
15 He stretched out his hand, and tooke of the drinke offering, and powred in of the wine: so he powred vpon the bottome of the altar a good smell vnto the highest prince.
16 Then began the sonnes of Aaron to sing, and to blowe with trumpets, and to make a great noise, for a remembrance and praise vnto the Lord.
17 Then all the people together were hasted, and fell downe to the earth vpon their faces, to worship the Lord their God, and to giue thanks to the almighty God.
18 They sung goodly also with their voices, so that there was a pleasant noise in the great house of the Lord.
19 And the people in their prayer besought the Lord the highest, that he would be mercifull till the honour of the Lord were performed, and they had ended their ministration and seruice.
20 Then went he downe, and stretched out his hands ouer the whole multitude of the people of Israel, that they should giue praise and thanks out of their lips vnto the Lord, and to reioyce in his name.
21 He beganne yet once also to pray, that he might openly shew the thankfulnesse before the highest,
22 Namely thus, O giue praise and thanks all ye vnto the Lord our God, which hath euer done noble and great things, which hath increased our dayes from our mothers wombe, and dealt with vs according to his mercy:
23 That hee will giue vs the ioyfulnesse of heart, and peace for our time in Israel:
24 Which faithfullie keepeth his mercie for vs euermore, and alway deliuereth vs in due season.
25 There be two maner of people that I abhorre from my heart, as for the third, whom I hate, it is no people:
26 They that sit vpon the mountaine of Samaria, the Philistines, and the foolish people that dwell in Sichimis.
27 I Iesus the sonne of Sirach, Eleazarus of Hierusalem, haue tokened vp these informations and documents of wisedome and vnderstanding in this booke, and powred out the wisdome of my heart.
28 Blessed is he that exerciseth himselfe therein: and whoso taketh such to heart, shall be wise for euer.
29 If he do these things, he shall be strong in all: for the light of the Lord leadeth him, which giueth wisedome to the godly: the Lord be praised for euermore, so be it, so be it.

The lj. Chapter.

The prayer of Iesus the sonne of Sirach.

I Will thanke thee, O Lord & King, and praise thee, O God my Sauiour: I will yeeld praise vnto thy Name.
2 For thou art my defender and helper, and hast preserued my body from destruction, from the snares of traitorous tongues, and from the lips that are occupied with lies.
3 Thou hast beene my helper from such as stood vp against me, and hast deliuered me after the multitude of thy mercie, and for thy holy names sake, from the roaring of them that prepared themselues to deuoure me, out of the hands of such as sought after my life, from the multitude of them that troubled me.
4 And from them that went about to set fire vpon mee on euery side, so that I am not burnt in the middest of the fire:
5 From the deepe of hell, from an vncleane tongue, from lying words, from false accusation to the king, and from an vnrighteous tongue.
6 My soule shal praise the Lord vnto death: for my life drew nigh vnto hell downward.
7 They compassed me round about on euery side, and there was no man to helpe me: I looked about me if there were any man that would succour me: but there was none.
8 Then thought I vpon thy mercie, O Lord, and vpon thy acts that thou hast done euer of olde: namely, that thou deliuerest such as put their trust in thee, and riddest them out of the hands of the heathen.
9 Thus lift I vp my prayer from the earth, and prayed for deliuerance from death.
10 I called vpon the Lord the father of my Lord, that he would not leaue me without helpe in the day of my trouble, and in the time of the proud.
11 I will praise thy name continually, yeelding honor and thanks vnto it: and so my prayer was heard.
12 Thou sauedst me from destruction, and deliueredst me from the vnrighteous time: therefore will I acknowledge & praise thee, and magnifie the Name of the Lord.
13 When I was yet but yoong, or euer I went astray, I desired [a] wisedome openly in my prayer.
14 I came therefore before the Temple, and sought her vnto the last: then flourished thee vnto me, as a grape that is soone ripe.
15 My heart reioyced in her, then went my foot the right way: yea, frō my youth vp sought I after her.
16 I bowed downe mine eare, and receiued her: I found me much wisedome, and prospered greatly in her.
17 Therefore will I ascribe the glorie vnto him that giueth me wisedome.
18 For I am aduised to do thereafter, I will be ielous to cleaue vnto the thing that is good, so shall I not be confounded.

[a] Wisedome is obteined by one of these three meanes: first, by prayer, as Solomon did, and Iacob: secondly, by diligent reading of Gods booke, wherein wisedome is contened, Psal. 19. Dan. 6. Thirdly, by godly conuersation and continuing in the feare of God, Deu. 2. Ioh. 7. If any man will doe my will, he shall know my doctrine.

19 My

19 My soule hath wrestled with her, and I haue beene diligent to be occupied in her: I lift vp my hands on high, then was my soule lightened through wisedome, and I knowledged my foolishnesse.

20 I ordered my soule after her, thee and I were one heart from the beginning, and I found her in cleannesse, and therefore shall I not be forsaken.

21 My heart longed after her, and I gate a good treasure.

22 Through her the Lord hath giuen mee a new tongue, wherewith I will praise him.

Esay 55.2. 23 *O come vnto mee yee vnlearned, and dwell in the house of wisedome.

24 Withdraw not your selues from her, but talke and commune of these things: for your soules are very thirsty.

25 I opened my mouth, and spake, O come and buy wisedome without money.

26 Bow downe your necke vnder her yoke, and your soule shal receiue wisdome: she is hard at hand, and is content to be found.

27 *Beholde with your eyes, howe that I haue had but little labour, and yet haue found much rest. Eccl.6.20.

28 O receiue wisdome, and ye shal haue plenteousnesse of siluer and gold in possession.

29 Let your minde reioyce in his mercy, and be not ashamed of his praise.

30 Worke his worke betimes, and hee shall giue you your reward in due season.

The end of the booke of Iesus the sonne of Sirach, which is called in Latine Ecclesiasticus.

The booke of the Prophet Baruch.

The first Chapter.

1 Baruch wrote a booke during the captiuitie of Babylon, which he read before Iechonias and all the people. 10 The Iewes sent the booke with money vnto Hierusalem to their other brethren, to the intent that they should pray for them.

a Baruch was Secretarie to Jeremie the Prophet, of whom in Jeremy is often made mention.

AND these are the words of the booke, which were a written by Baruch the sonne of Nerias, the sonne of Maasias, the sonne of Sedechias, the son of Helchias at Babylon,

2 In the fifth yeere, and in the seuenth day of the moneth, what time as the Chaldees tooke Hierusalem, and burnt it vp with fire.

3 And Baruch did reade the words of this booke, that Iechonias the son of Joachim king of Juda might heare, and in the presence of all the people that were come to heare the booke,

4 And before al the nobles, the kings sonnes, and before the elders, and before the whole people, from the lowest vnto the highest, before all them that dwelt at Babylon, by the water of ‖Sodi:

‖Or, Sud.

5 Which when they heard it, wept, fasted, and prayed before the Lord.

6 They made a collection also of money, according to euery mans power:

7 And sent it to Hierusalem vnto Joachin the sonne of Helchia, the sonne of Salom priest, with other priests, and to all the people which were with him at Hierusalem,

‖Or, ornaments.

8 (What time as they had gotten the ‖vessels of the Temple of the Lord that were taken away out of the Temple, that they might bring them againe into the land of Juda the tenth day of the moneth b Siuan, namely, siluer vessels, which Sedechias the sonne of Josias king of Juda had made)

b Siuan containeth part of May and part of June, it is the third moneth after the reckoning of the Iewes.

9 After that Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon had taken Iechonias, with all his princes, lords, and all the people, and led them captiue from Hierusalem vnto Babylon:

10 And they sayd, Beholde, we haue sent you money to buy you burnt offerings and incense withall, prepare a meat offering, and offer for sinne vpon the altar of the Lord our God.

11 And c pray for the prosperity of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and for the welfare of Balthasar his sonne, that their dayes may bee vpon earth as the dayes of heauen:

c By this example we are taught to pray for kings, as 1. Tim. 2.

12 That God also may giue vs strength, and lighten our eyes, that we may liue vnder the defence of Nabuchodonosor king of Babylon, and vnder the protection of Balthasar his sonne, that we may long doe them seruice, and finde fauour in their sight.

13 Pray for vs also vnto the Lord our God: for wee haue sinned against the Lord our God, and vnto this day is not his wrath turned yet away from vs.

14 And see that ye reade this booke, which we haue sent vnto you, to be rehearsed in the Temple of the Lord vpon the hie dayes, and at times conuenient.

15 Thus shall ye say, *The Lord our God is righteous, but we are woorthy of confusion and shame, like as it is come to passe this day vnto all Juda, and to euery one that dwelleth at Hierusalem, Baruch 2.6.

16 To our kings, princes, priests, prophets, and to our fathers.

17 *Wee haue sinned before the Lorde our God, we haue not put our trust in him, nor giue him credence. Dan.9.5.

18 We haue not obeyed him, we haue not hearkened vnto the voice of the Lord our God, to walke in the commandements that he gaue vs openly.

19 Since the day that he brought our forefathers out of the land of Egypt, vnto this present day, we haue beene euer a misbeleeuing and an vnfaithfull

fol. Qqq1r

vnfaithfull people vnto the Lord our God, destroying our selues vtterly, and shrinking backe, that we should not heare his voice.

20 Wherefore, there are come vpon vs great plagues, and diuers curses, like as the Lord *deuised by Moses his seruant, which brought our fathers out of the land of Egypt, to giue vs a land that floweth with milke and hony, like as it is to see this day.

21 Neuertheless, we haue not hearkened vnto the voice of the Lord our God, according to all the words of the Prophets, whom he sent vnto vs and to our fathers.

22 But euery man followed his owne minde and wicked imagination, to offer vnto strange gods, and to do euill in the sight of the Lord our God.

The ij. Chapter.

1 The Iewes confesse that they iustly suffer for their sinnes. 12 The Lord will that we obey vnto princes, although they be euill.

FOr the which cause the Lord our God hath performed his deuice, whereof hee certified vs and our heads that ruled in Hierusalem, yea, and our kings, our princes, with all Israel and Iuda.

2 And such plagues hath the Lord brought vpon vs, as neuer came to passe vnder the heauen, like as it is fulfilled in Hierusalem, * according as it is written in the law of Moses, Deu.28.53.

3 That a man should eat the flesh of his owne sonne, and the flesh of his owne daughter.

4 Moreouer, hee hath deliuered them into the hands of all the kings that are round about vs, to be confounded and desolate, and scattered them abroad in all lands and nations.

5 Thus are we brought beneath, and not aboue, because we haue sinned against the Lord our God, and haue not bene obedient vnto his voice.

6 Therefore * the Lord our God is righteous, and we with our fathers, as reason is, are brought to open shame, as it is to see this day. Baruc.1.15.

7 And as for these plagues that are come vpon vs already, the Lord hath deuised them for vs.

8 Yet would we not pray vnto the Lord our God, that we might euery man turne from his vngodly wayes.

9 So the Lord hath caused such plagues to come vpon vs: for hee is righteous in all his works which he hath commanded vs:

10 Which we also haue not done, nor hearkened vnto his voice, for to walke in the commandements of the Lord, that he hath giuē vnto vs.

11 And * now, O Lord God of Israel, thou that hast brought thy people out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, with tokens and woonders, with thy great power, and outstretched arme, and hast gotten thy selfe a name, as it is come to passe this day: Dan.9.15.

12 O Lord our God, we haue sinned, we haue done wickedly, we haue behaued our selues vngodly in all thy righteousnesse.

13 Turne thy wrath from vs, we beseech thee, for wee are but a few left among the heathen, where thou hast scattered vs.

14 Heare our prayers, O Lord, and our petitions, bring vs out of captiuity for thine owne sake, get vs fauour in the sight of them which haue led vs away:

15 That all lands may know that thou art the Lord our God, and that Israel and his generation calleth vpon thy Name.

16 O Lord, * looke downe from thy holy house vpon vs, encline thine eare, and heare vs. Deu.26.15. esay 63.15.

17 * Open thine eyes and behold, for the dead that be gone downe to their graues, and whose soules are out of their bodies, ascribe vnto the Lord neither praise nor righteousnesse. Psa.113.17

18 But the soule that is vexed for the multitude of her sinnes, which goeth on heauily and weakely, whose eyes begin to faile, yea, such a soule ascribeth praise and righteousnesse vnto the Lord.

19 For we powre out our prayers before thee, and require mercy in thy sight, O Lord our God, not for any godlinesse of our fathers:

20 But because thou hast sent out thy wrath and indignation vpon vs, according as thou didst threaten vs by thy seruants the Prophets, saying,

21 Thus sayth the Lord, Bow downe your shoulders and necks, and serue the king of Babylon: so shall ye remaine still in the land that I gaue vnto your fathers.

22 * But if yee will not heare the voice of the Lord your God, to serue the king of Babylon, Iere.27.17.

23 I will destroy you in the cities of Iuda, within Hierusalem and without: I will also take from you the voice of mirth, and the voice of ioy, the voice of the bridegrome, and the voice of the bride, and there shall no man dwell more in the land.

24 But they would not hearken vnto thy voice, to doe the king of Babylon seruice: and therefore hast thou performed the words that thou spakest by thy seruants the prophets: namely, that the bones of our kings, and the bones of of our fathers should be translated out of their places:

25 And loe, now are they layd out in the heat of the sunne, and in the colde of the night, and dead in great misery, with hunger, with sword, with pestilence, and are cleane cast forth.

26 As for the temple wherein thy Name was called vpon: thou hast layed it waste, as it is to see this day, and that for the wickednesse of the house of Israel, and the house of Iuda.

27 O Lord our God, thou hast intreated vs after all thy goodnesse, and according to all that great louing mercy of thine.

28 * Like as thou spakest by thy seruant Moses, in the day when thou diddest command him to write thy law before the children of Israel, saying, Leu.28.14. deu.28.15.

29 If ye will not hearken vnto my voice, then shall this great multitude be turned into a very small people among the nations, for I will scatter them abroad.

30 Notwithstanding, I am sure that this folke will not heare me, for it is an hard necked people: but in the land of their captiuitie they shall remember themselues, 31 And learne to know that I am the Lord their God, when I giue them an heart to vnderstand, and eares to heare.

32 Then shall they praise me in the land of their captiuitie, and thinke vpon my Name.

33 Then shall they turne them from their

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Qqq1v

hard backs, and from their vngodlinesse: then shall they remember the things that happened vnto their fathers which sinned against me.

34 So will I bring them againe into the land which I promised with an othe vnto their fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and they shalbe lords of it, yea, I will increase them, and not minish them.

35 And I will make another couenant with them, such one as shall endure for euer: namely, that I will be their God, and they shall be my people: and I will no more driue my people the children of Israel out of the land that I haue giuen them.

The iij. Chapter.

3 Onely God was the finder of wisedome. 37 Of the incarnation of Christ.

AND now, O Lord almightie, thou God of Israel, the soule that is in trouble, and the spirit that is vexed, crieth vnto thee:

2 Heare vs, O Lord, and haue pitie vpon vs, for thou art a mercifull God: be gracious vnto vs, for wee haue sinned before thee,

3 Thou endurest for euer: should wee then vtterly perish?

4 O Lord almightie, thou God of Israel, heare now the prayer of the dead Israelites, and of their children, which haue sinned before thee, and not hearkened vnto the voice of the Lord their God, for the which cause these plagues hang now vpon vs.

5 O Lord, remember not the wickednesse of our forefathers, but thinke vpon thy power and name now at this time:

6 For thou art the Lord our God, and thee, O Lord, will we praise.

7 For thou hast put thy feare in our hearts, to the intent that we should call vpon thy name, and praise thee in our captiuity, and that wee might turne from the wickednesse of our forefathers that sinned before thee.

8 Beholde, we are yet this day in our captiuitie, whereas thou hast scattered vs, to be an abomination, curse, and subiect to exactions: like as it hath happened vnto our fathers also, because of all their wickednesse and departing from thee, O Lord our God.

9 O Israel, heare the commandements of life, ponder them well with thine eares, that thou mayest learne wisedome.

10 But how happeneth it, Israel, that thou art in thine enemies land? thou art waxen olde in a strange countrey, and defiled with the dead.

11 Why art thou become like them that goe downe to their graues?

12 Euen because thou hast forsaken the well of wisedome.

13 For if thou hadst walked in the way of God truely, thou shouldest haue remained still safe in thine owne land.

14 Learne then where is wisedome, where ‖ vertue is, where vnderstanding is: that thou mayest know also from whence commeth long continuance and life, the light of the eyes, and quietnesse.

‖ Or, strength.

15 Who euer found out her place? or who came euer into her treasures?

16 Where are the princes of the heathen become, and such as ruled the beasts vpon the earth,

17 They that had their pastime with the fowles of the aire, they that hoorded vp siluer and gold wherein men trust so much, and made no end of their gathering?

18 What is become of them that coined siluer, and were so carefull, and could not bring their works to passe?

19 They be rooted out, and gone downe to hell, and other men are come vp in their steads.

20 Yong men haue seene light, and dwelt vpon earth: but the way of reformation haue they not known, 21 Nor vnderstand the paths thereof: neither haue their children receiued it, yea, right farre is it from them.

22 It hath not beene heard of in the land of Chanaan, neither hath it beene seene at Theman.

23 The Agarens sought after wisedome, but that which is earthly, like as the merchants of the land doe: they of Theman are cunning also, they labour for wisedome and vnderstanding: but the way of true wisedome they know not, neither do they thinke vpon the paths thereof.

24 O Israel, how great is the house of God? and how large is the place of his possession?

25 Great is he, and hath none end: yea, high and vnmeasurable.

26 What is become of those famous giants, that were so great of bodies, and so worthy men of warre?

27 Those hath not the Lord chosen, neither haue they found the way of reformation:

28 Therefore were they destroyed, and for so much as they had no wisedome, they perished because of their foolishnesse.

29 Who hath gone vp into heauen, to take wisedome there, and brought her downe from the clouds?

30 Who hath gone ouer the sea to finde her, and hath chosen her aboue golde, and so brought her hither?

31 No man knoweth the wayes of wisedome, neither is there any that can seeke out her paths.

32 But he that woteth all things, knoweth her, and hath found her out with his foreknowledge, the same is he which prepared the earth at the beginning, and filled it with all maner of fowles and beasts.

33 When he sendeth out the light, it goeth: and when he calleth it againe, it obeyeth him with feare.

34 The starres keepe their watch, and giue their light, yea, and that gladly: when he calleth them, they say, Heere we be: and so with chearefulnesse they shew light vnto him that made them.

35 This is our God, and there shall none other be compared vnto him.

36 It is he that hath found out all wisdome, and hath giuen her vnto Jacob his seruant, and to Israel his beloued.

37 Afterward did he shew himselfe vpon earth, and dwelt among men.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 The reward of them that keepe the law, and the punishment of them that despise her.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Qqq2r

THis is the booke of the commandements of God, and the law that endureth for euer: all they that keepe it shall come to life, but such as forsake it shall come to death.

2 Turne thee, O Jacob, and take hold of it, walke by this way thorow his brightnesse and shine.

3 Giue not thine honor to another, and thy worship to a strange people.

4 O Israel, how happy are we, seeing that God hath shewed vs such things as are pleasant vnto him?

5 Be of good cheere, thou people of God, O thou ancient Israel.

6 Now are ye sold among the heathen, howbeit, not for your vtter destruction: but because ye prouoked God the Lord to wrath and displeasure, therefore were ye deliuered vnto your enemies.

7 For ye displeased the euerlasting God that made you, offering vnto deuils, and not to God.

8 Ye haue forgotten him that brought you vp, and ye haue grieued Hierusalem that nursed you.

9 When she saw that the wrath of God was comming vpon you, she said, Hearken, O ye that dwell about Sion, for God hath brought me into great heauinesse.

10 And why? I see the captiuity of my people, of my sonnes & daughters, which the euerlasting God will bring vpon them.

11 With ioy did I nourish them: but now must I leaue them with weeping and sorow.

12 Let no man reioyce ouer me, widow, and forsaken, which for the sinnes of my children am desolate of euery man: for why? they departed from the law of God.

13 They would not know his righteousnes, nor walke in the wayes of his commandements: and as for the paths of trueth and godlines, they had no lust to go in them.

14 O ye dwellers about Sion, come and let vs call to remembrance the captiuity that the euerlasting God hath brought vpon my sonnes and daughters.

15 He hath brought a people vpon them from farre, an vncourteous people, and of a strange language, which neither regard the olde, nor pity the yong.

16 These haue caried away the deare beloued of the widowes, leauing me alone both desolate and childelesse.

17 But alas, what can I helpe you?

18 Now he that brought these plagues vpon you, deliuer you also from the hands of your enemies.

19 Goe your way, O my children, goe your way: for I am desolate and forsaken.

20 I haue put off the clothing of peace, and put vpon me the sackecloth of prayer, and for my time I will call vpon the most highest.

21 Be of good cheere, O my children, cry vnto the Lord, and he shall deliuer you from the power of the princes your enemies.

22 For verily I haue euer a good hope of your prosperous health, yea, a very gladnesse is come vpon me from the holy one, because of the mercy that ye shall haue of our euerlasting Sauiour.

23 With mourning & weeping did I let you goe from me: but with ioy and perpetuall gladnesse shall the Lord bring you againe vnto me.

24 Like as the neighbours of Sion saw your captiuitie from God: euen so shall they also see shortly your health in God, which shall come on you with great honor and euerlasting worship.

25 O my children, suffer patiently the wrath that shall come vpon you: for the enemy hath persecuted thee, but shortly thou shalt see his destruction, and shalt tread vpon his necke.

26 My darlings haue gone rough hard waies, for they are led away as a flocke that is scattered abroad with the enemies.

27 But be of good comfort, O my children, and cry vnto the Lord: for he that led you away hath you yet in remembrance.

28 And like as ye haue bene minded to swarue from your God: so shall you now indeuour your selues tenne times more to turne againe, and to seeke him.

29 For he that brought these plagues vpon you, shall bring you euerlasting ioy againe with your health.

30 Take a good heart vnto thee, O Hierusalem: for he which gaue thee that name, comforteth thee so to do.

31 The wicked doers that now put thee to trouble, shall perish: and such as haue reioyced at thy fall, shalbe punished.

32 The cities whom thy children serue, and that haue carried away thy sonnes, shall be corrected.

33 For like as they be now glad of thy decay, and reioyce at thy fall: so shall they mourne in their owne destruction.

34 The ioy of their multitude shall be taken away, and their cheere shall be turned to sorow.

35 For a fire shall fall vpon them from the euerlasting God, long to endure, and it shalbe inhabited of deuils for a great season.

36 O Hierusalem, looke about thee toward the East, and behold the *ioy that commeth vnto thee from God. Baruch 5.6

37 For loe, thy sonnes whom thou hast forsaken, and that were scattered abroad, come gathered together from the East and West, reioycing in the word of the Holy one, vnto the honor of God.

The v. Chapter.

1 Hierusalem is mooued vnto gladnesse for the returne of her people, and vnder the figure thereof, the Church.

PVt off thy mourning clothes, O Hierusalem, and thy sorow, & decke thee with thy worship and honour that commeth vnto thee from God with euerlasting glory.

2 God shall put the garment of righteousnesse vpon thee, and set a crowne of euerlasting worship vpon thy head:

3 For vpon thee wil God declare his brightnesse, that is vnder the heauen.

4 Yea, an euerlasting name shall be giuen thee of God, with peace of righteousnes, and the honour of Gods feare.

5 Arise, O Hierusalem, stand vp on high, looke about thee toward the East, and beholde thy children gathered from the East vnto the West, which reioyce in the holy word, hauing God in remembrance.

fol. Qqq2v

Baruc.4.36 6 They departed from thee on foot, and were led away of their enemies: but now * shall the Lord bring them carried with honour, as children of the kingdome.

7 For God is purposed to bring downe all stony mountaines, yea, and all high rocks, to fill the valleys, and so to make them euen with the ground, that Israel may be diligent to liue vnto the honour of God.

8 The woods & all pleasant trees shall ouershadow Israel at the commandement of God.

9 For hither shal God bring Israel with ioyfull mirth, and in the light of his Maiestie with the mercy and righteousnesse that commeth of himselfe.

The vj. Chapter.

A copy of the epistle that Ieremie sent vnto the Iewes, which were led away prisoners by the king of Babylon: wherein hee certifieth them of the thing that was commanded him of God.

In this chapter are the makers and maintainers of images mightilie confuted.

BEcause of the sinnes that yee haue done against God, ye shall be led away captiue vnto Babylon, euen of Nabuchodonosor the king of Babylon.

2 So when yee be come into Babylon, yee shall remaine there many yeres, & for a long season, namely, a seuen generations: and after that will I bring you away peaceably from thence.

a That is, seuenty yeres.

Esay 44.10 3 *Nowe shall yee see in Babylon gods of golde, of siluer, of wood, and of stone, borne vpon mens shoulders, to call out a fearefulnesse before the heathen.

4 But looke that ye doe not as the other: be not ye afrayd, and let not the feare of them ouercome you.

5 Therefore when yee see the multitude of people worshipping them behinde and before, say ye in your hearts, O Lord, it is thou that oughtest onely to be worshipped.

6 Mine Angel also shall be with you, and I my selfe will care for your soules.

[Or, tongue 7 As for the ‖ timber of those gods, the carpenter hath polished them: yea, gilted be they, and layd ouer with siluer, yet are they but vaine things, and cannot speake.

8 Like as a wench that loueth paramours, is trimly decht: euen so are these made, and hanged with gold.

9 Crownes of golde verily haue their gods vpon their heads: so the priests themselues take golde and siluer from them, and put it to their owne vses:

10 Yea, they giue of the same vnto harlots, and trimme their whores withall: againe they take it from the whores, and decke their gods therewith:

11 Yet cannot these gods deliuer themselues from rust and mothes.

12 When they haue couered them with clothing of purple, they wipe their faces for the dust of the Temple, whereof there is much among them.

13 One hath a scepter in his hand as though he were a iudge of the country, yet can hee not slay such as offend him.

14 Another hath a sword or an axe in his hand: for all that, he is neither able to defend himselfe from battell, nor from murderers.

15 By this, ye may vnderstand that they be no gods: therefore see that yee neither worship them, nor feare them.

16 For like as a vessell that a man vseth, is nothing worth when it is broken, euen so is it with their gods: when they be set vp in the temple, their eyes be full of dust through the feet of those that come in.

17 And like as the doores are shut in round about vpon him that hath offended the king, or as it were a dead body kept beside the graue: euen so the priests keepe the doores with barres and locks, lest their gods be spoiled with robbers.

18 They set vp candles before them, yea verily, and that many, whereof they cannot see one: but euen as blocks, so stand they in the temple.

19 It is sayd, that the serpents and wormes which come of the earth, gnaw out their hearts, eating them and their clothes also, and yet they feele it not.

20 Their faces are blacke, through the smoke that is in the temple.

21 The owles, swallowes, and birds flie vpon them, yea, and the cats run ouer their heads.

22 By this ye may be sure that they are no gods, therefore feare them not.

23 The gold that they haue, is to make them beautifull: for all that, except some body dight off their rust, they will giue no shine, and when they were cast into a fourme, they felt it not.

24 *They are bought for money, and haue no breath of life within them. Esay 46.

25 They must be borne vpon mens shoulders as those that haue no feet, whereby they declare vnto men that they be nothing worth: confounded be they then that worship them.

26 For if they fall to the ground, they can not rise vp againe of themselues: Yea, though one helpe them vp, and set them right, yet are they not able to stand alone, but must haue props set vnder them like dead men.

27 As for the thing that is offered vnto them, their priests sell it, and abuse it, yea, the priests wiues take thereof: but vnto the sicke and poore they giue nothing of it:

28 The woman with child, and the menstruous, lay hands of their offerings: by this ye may be sure that they are no gods, therefore be not afrayd of them.

29 From whence commeth it then, that they be called gods? because women ‖ sit before the gods of siluer, gold, and wood, [Or, bring gifts.

30 And the priests sit in their temples, hauing ‖ open clothes, whose heads and beards are shauen, and haue nothing vpon their heads, [Or, rent.

31 Roaring and crying vpon their gods, as men do at the feast when one is dead.

32 The priests also take away the garments of the images, and decke their wiues and children withall.

33 Whether it be good or euill that any man doe vnto them, they are not able to recompense it: they can neither set vp a king, nor put him downe.

34 In like maner, they may neither giue riches, nor reward euill: though a man make a vow vnto them, and keepe it not, they will not require it.

35 They can saue no man from death, neither deliuer the weake from the mighty.

36 They can not restore a blinde man to his sight, nor helpe any man at his need.

37 They

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Qqq3r

37 They can shew no mercie to the widow, nor doe good to the fatherlesse.

38 Their gods of wood, stone, golde, and siluer, are but euen as other stones that be hewen of the mountaine: they that worship them, shall be confounded.

39 How should they then be taken for gods? yea, how dare men call them gods?

40 ‖ And though the Chaldees worshipped them not, hearing that they were but dumbe, and could not speake:

41 Yet they themselues offer vnto Bel, and would faine haue him to speake: as who say they could feele that may not moue.

42 But when these men come to vnderstanding, they forsake them, for their gods haue no feeling.

43 A great sort of women girt with cords, sit in the streetes, and burne ‖ olive berries: Now if one of them be conueyed away, and lie with such as come by, thee calleth her neighbour in the teeth, because she was not worthily reputed, nor her cord broken.

44 Whatsoeuer is done for them, it is but in vaine and lost: How may it then be thought or said that they are gods?

45 Carpenters and goldsmiths make them: neither be they any other thing but euen what the workeman will make of them.

46 Yea, the goldsmiths themselues that make them, are of no long continuance: how should then the things that are made of them be gods?

47 Vaine therefore are the things, yea, very shame it is that they leaue behind them for their posteritie.

48 For as soone as there commeth any warre or plague vpon them, then the priestes imagine where they may hide themselues with them.

49 How can men then thinke that they bee gods, which neither may defende themselues from warre, nor deliuer them from misfortune?

50 For seeing they be but of wood, of stone, of siluer, and of gold, all people & kings shall knowe hereafter, that they be but vaine things: yea, it shal be openly declared that they be no gods, but euen the very worke of mens hands, and that God hath nothing to doe with them.

51 It is manifest then, that they are no gods, but the worke of mens hands, and no worke of God in them.

52 They can set no king in the land, nor giue raine vnto men.

53 They can giue no sentence of a matter, neither defend the land from wrong: for they are not able to doe so much as a crowe that flieth betwixt heauen and earth.

54 Where there happeneth a fire into the house of those gods of wood, and siluer, and of gold, the priests wil escape and saue themselues, but the gods burne as the balkes therein.

55 They cannot withstand any king or battel: how may it then be thought or granted that they be gods?

56 Moreouer, these gods of wood, of stone, of gold & siluer, may neither defend themselues from theeues nor robbers.

57 Yea, the very wicked are stronger then they: these strip them out of their apparell that they be clothed withall, these take their golde and siluer from them, and so get them away, yet can they not helpe themselues.

58 Therefore it is much better for a man to be a king, and so to shew his power, or els a profitable vessel in a house, wherein he that vseth it might haue pleasure, yea, or to be a doore in a house, to keepe such things safe as be therein, then to be such a vaine god.

59 The sunne, the moone, and all the starres, seeing they giue their shine and light, are obedient, and doe men good.

60 When the lightening glistereth, all is cleare.

61 The winde bloweth in euery countrey: and when God commandeth the clouds to goe round about the whole world, they doe as they are bidden.

62 When the fire is sent downe from aboue and commanded, it burneth vp hilles & woods: but as for these gods, they are not like one of these things, neither in beautie, neither in strength.

63 Wherefore men should not thinke nor say that they be gods, seeing they can neither giue sentence in iudgement, nor doe men good.

64 For so much now as yee are sure that they be not gods, then feare them not.

65 For they can neither speake euill nor good of kings.

66 They can shew no tokens in heauens for the heathen, neither shine as the sunne, nor giue light as the moone:

67 Yea, the vnreasonable beastes are better then they: for they can get them vnder the roofe, and doe themselues good.

68 So can yee bee certified by no maner of meanes that they be gods, therefore feare them not.

69 For like as a scarcrow in a garden of herbs keepeth nothing: euen so are their gods of wood, of siluer, and gold.

70 And like as a white thorne in an orchard that euerry bird sitteth vpon, yea, like as a dead body that is cast in the darke: euen so is it with these gods of wood, siluer, and gold.

71 By the purple and scarlet which they haue vpon them, and soone fadeth away, ye may vnderstand that they be no gods: yea, they themselues shalbe consumed at the last, which shalbe a great confusion of the land.

72 ‖ Blessed is the godly man that hath no images and worshippeth none: for he shall be farre from reproofe. ‖ Or, better,

The end of the booke of the Prophet Baruch.

‖ Or, reade, The Chaldees also dishonour them, the which, if they shall see a dumbe one that cannot speake, doe present it to Bel, and do require that it may speake.
‖ Or, straw.
Esay 46.
‖ Or, bring gifts.
‖ Or, pray.

fol. Qqq3v

The song of the three children which were put into the hote burning ouen. The common translation readeth this song in the third Chapter of Daniel.

25 The prayer of Azarias. 46 The cruelty of the king. 48 The fire deuoureth the Chaldeans. 49 The Angel of the Lord was in the fornace.

AND they walked in the midst of the flame, praising God, and magnifying the Lord.

25 Then Azarias stoode vp, and prayed in this maner, euen in the midst of the fire opened hee his mouth, and sayd, 26 Blessed bee thou, O Lord God of our fathers, right worthy to bee praised and honoured is that name of thine for euermore.

27 For thou art righteous in all things that thou hast done to vs, yea, faithfull are all thy workes, thy wayes are right, and all thy iudgements true.

28 In all the things that thou hast brought vpon vs, and vpon the holy citie of our fathers, euen Hierusalem, thou hast executed true iudgement: yea, according to right and equitie hast thou brought all these things vpon vs, because of our sinnes:

29 For why? we haue offended and done wickedly, departing from thee.

30 In all things haue we trespassed, and not obeyed thy commaundements, nor kept them, neither done as thou hast bidden vs that we may prosper.

31 Wherefore all that thou hast brought vpon vs, and euery thing that thou hast done to vs, thou hast done them in true iudgement:

32 As in deliuering vs into the hands of our enemies, among vngodly and wicked abominations, and to an vnrighteous king, yea, the most froward vpon earth.

33 And now we may not open our mouthes, wee are become a shame and reproofe vnto thy seruants, and to them that worship thee.

34 Yet for thy names sake we beseech thee giue vs not vp for euer, breake not thy couenant,

35 And take not away thy mercie from vs for thy beloued Abrahams sake, for thy seruant Isahacs sake, and for thy holy Israels sake:

36 To whom thou hast spoken and promised, that thou wouldest multiplie their seede as the starres of heauen, and as the sand that lieth vpon the sea shore.

37 For we, O Lord, are become lesse then any people, and bee kept vnder this day in all the world, because of our sinnes.

38 So that now wee haue neither prince, duke, prophet, burnt offering, sacrifice, oblation, incense, nor sanctuary before thee.

39 Neuertheless, in a contrite heart and an humble spirit let vs be receiued, that we may obteine thy mercie.

40 Like as in the burnt offering of rammes and bullockes, and like as in thousands of fatte lambs: so let our offring be in thy sight this day, that it may please thee: for there is no confusion vnto them that put their trust in thee.

41 And nowe wee followe thee with all our heart, we feare thee, and seeke thy face.

42 Put vs not to shame: but deale with vs after thy louing kindnesse, and according to the multitude of thy mercies.

43 Deliuer vs by thy miracles, O Lord, and get thy name an honour, that all they which doe thy seruants euill, may be confounded:

44 Let them be ashamed through thy almighty power, and let their strength be broken:

45 That they may know how that thou only art the Lord God, and honour worthy throwout all the world.

46 And the kings seruants that put them in, ceased not to make the ouen hot with [a] wild fire, drie strawe, pitch, towe, and faggots.

47 So that the flame went out of the ouen vpon a fourtie and nine cubites:

48 Yea, it tooke away and burnt vp those Chaldees that it gate hold vpon beside the ouen.

49 But the angel of the Lord came downe into the ouen to Azaria and his felowes, and smote the flame of the fire out of the ouen,

50 And made the middes of the ouen as it had bene a cold winde blowing: so the fire neither touched them, grieued them, nor did them hurt.

51 Then these three as out of one mouth, praised, honoured, and blessed God in the fornace, saying,

52 Blessed be thou, O Lord God of our fathers: for thou art praise and honour worthy, yea, and to bee magnified for euermore.

53 Blessed be the holy name of thy glory, for it is worthy to bee praised and magnified in all worlds.

54 Blessed be thou in the holy temple of thy glory: for aboue all things thou art to bee praised, yea, and more then worthy to be magnified for euer.

55 Blessed be thou in the throne of thy kingdome: for aboue all thou art worthy to be well spoken of, and to bee more then magnified for euer.

56 Blessed bee thou that lookest throwe the deepe, and sittest vpon the Cherubims: for thou art worthy to be praised, and aboue al to be magnified for euer.

57 Blessed be thou in the firmament of heauen: for thou art praise and honour worthy for euer.

58 O all ye workes of the Lord, speake good of the Lord: praise him and set him vp for euer.

59 O yee Angels of the Lord, speake good of the Lord: praise him and set him vp for euer.

72 O ye nights and dayes, speake good of the Lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.
73 O ye light and darkenesse, speake good of the Lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.
74 O yee lightnings and cloudes, speake good of the Lord: praise him and set him vp for euer.
75 O let the earth speake good of the Lord: yea, let it praise him, and set him vp for euer.
76 O ye mountaines and hils, speake good of the Lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.
77 O all yee greene things vpon the earth, speake good of the Lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.
78 O yee welles, speake good of the Lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.
79 O ye Seas and floods, speake good of the Lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.
80 O ye whales, and all that moue in the waters, speake good of the Lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.
81 O all ye fowles of the aire, speake good of the Lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.
82 O all ye beasts and cattell, speake good of the Lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.
83 O yee children of men, speake good of the Lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.
84 O let Israel speake good of the Lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.
85 O yee Priestes of the Lord, speake good of the Lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.
86 O ye seruants of the Lord, speake good of the Lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.
87 O yee spirits and soules of the righteous, speake good of the Lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.
88 O yee holy & humble men of heart, speake ye good of the Lord: praise him, and set him vp for euer.
89 O Anania, Azaria, and Misael, speake ye good of the Lord, praise ye him, and set him vp for euer: which hath deliuered vs from the hell, kept vs from the hand of death, rid vs from the midst of the burning flame, and saued vs in the middest of the fire.
90 O giue thankes therefore vnto the Lord, for he is kinde hearted: and his mercie endureth for euer.
91 O all deuoute men, speake ye good of the Lord, the God of all gods: O praise him, and giue him thanks, for his mercie endureth world without end.

The storie of Susanna, which is the xiij. Chapter of Daniel after the Latin.

1 The two gouernours are taken with the loue of Susanna. 19 They take her alone in the garden. 20 They entice her to wickednesse. 23 She chooseth rather to obey God, though it be to the danger of her life. 34 She is accused. 45 Daniel doth deliuer her. 62 The gouernours are put to death.

THere dwelt a man in Babylon, called Joacim,
2 That took a wife whose name was Susanna, the daughter of Helchia, a very faire woman, and such a one as feared God.
3 Her father and her mother also were good people, and taught their daughter, according to the Law of Moses.
4 Nowe Joacim her husband was a great rich man, and had a faire orchard ioyning vnto his house, and to him resorted the Jewes commonly, because hee was a man of reputation among them.
5 The same yeere were there made two Judges, such as the Lord speaketh of, The wickednesse of Babylon commeth from the Elders, that is, from the Judges which seeme to rule the people.
6 These came oft to Joacims house: and all such as had any thing to doe in the Lawe, came thither vnto them.
7 Nowe when the people departed away at noone, Susanna went into her husbands orchard to walke.
8 The two elders seeing this, that she went in dayly and walked, they burned for lust to her,
9 Yea, they were almost out of their wittes, and cast downe their eyes, that they should not see heauen, nor remember that God is a righteous Judge.
10 For they were both wounded with the loue of her, neither durst one shewe another his griefe:
11 And for shame they durst not tell her their inordinate lust, that they would faine haue had to doe with her:

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Qqq4v

12 Yet they layd wait for her earnestly from day to day, that they might at the least haue a sight of her.

13 And the one layd to the other, Vp, let vs goe home, for it is dinner time. So they went their way one from another.

14 When they returned againe, they came together, enquiring out the matter betwixt themselues, yea, the one told the other of his wicked lust: then appointed they a time when they might take Susanna alone.

15 It happened also that they spied out a conuenient time, when she went forth to walke, as her maner was, and no body with her but two maidens, and thought to wash her selfe in the garden: for it was an hot season.

16 And there was not one person there, except the two elders that had hid themselues to behold her.

17 So she layd to her maidens, Go, fetch me oile and sope, and shut the orchard doore, that I may wash me.

18 And they did as she bade them, and shut the orchard doore, and went out themselues at a backe doore to fetch the thing that she had commanded: ‖ but Susanna knew not that the elders lay there hid within.

‖ Or, but they saw not the elders, because they were hid,

19 Now when the maidens were gone forth, the two elders gate them vp, and ran vpon her, saying,

20 Now the orchard doores are shut, that no man can see vs, we haue a lust vnto thee, therefore consent vnto vs, and lie with vs.

21 If thou wilt not, we shall bring a testimoniall against thee, that there was a yong fellow with thee, & that thou hast sent away thy maidens from thee for the same cause.

22 Susanna sighed, and sayd, Alas, I am in trouble on euery side: though I followe your minde, it will be my death: and if I consent not vnto you, I cannot escape your hands.

23 Well, it is better for me to fall into your hand without the deed doing, then to sinne in the sight of the Lord.

24 And with that shee cried out with a loud voice: the elders also cried out against her.

25 Then ran there one to the orchard doore, and smote it open.

26 Now whē the seruants of the house heard the cry in the orchard, they rushed in at the backe doore, to see what the matter was.

27 So when the elders tolde them, the seruants were greatly ashamed: for why? there was neuer such a report made of Susanna.

28 On the morow after, came the people to Joacim her husband, and the two elders came also full of mischieuous imaginations against Susanna, to bring her vnto death, 29 And spake thus before the people, Send for Susanna the daughter of Helchias, Joacims wife. And immediatly they sent for her.

30 So she came with her father and mother, her children, and all her kinred.

31 Now Susanna was a tender person, and marueilous faire of face.

32 Therefore the wicked men commanded to take her clothes from her face (for she was couered) that at the least they might so be satisfied in her beauty.

33 Then her friends, yea, and all they that knew her, began to weepe.

34 These two elders stood vp in the mids of the people, and layed their hands vpon the head of Susanna.

35 Which wept, and looked vp toward heauen: for her heart had a sure trust in the Lord.

36 And the elders sayd, As we were walking in the orchard alone, this woman came in with her two maidens, whom she sent away from her, and sparred the orchard doores:

37 With that a yong fellow which there was hid, came vnto her, and lay with her.

38 As for vs, we stood in a corner of the orchard: & when we saw this wickednesse, we ran to them, & we saw them as they were together.

39 But we could not holde him, for he was stronger then we. Thus he opened the doore, and gate him away.

40 Now when we had taken this woman, we asked her what yoong fellow this was, but she would not tell vs. This is the matter, and we be witnesses of the same.

41 The common sort beleeued them, as those that were the Elders and Iudges of the people, and so they condemned her to death.

42 Susanna cried out with a loud voice, and sayd, O euerlasting God, thou searcher of secrets, thou that knowest all things before they come to passe:

43 Thou wotest that they haue borne false witnesse against me, and beholde, I must die, whereas I neuer did any such things as these men haue maliciously inuented against me.

44 And the Lord heard her voice.

45 For when she was led forth to death, the Lord raised vp the spirit of a yong childe, whose name was Daniel.

46 Which cried with a loud voice, I am cleane from this blood.

47 Then all the people turned towards him, and sayd, What meane these words that thou hast spoken?

48 Daniel stood in the mids of them, and said, Are ye such fooles, O ye children of Israel, that yee can not discerne and know the trueth? Yee haue here condemned a daughter of Israel vnto death, and know not the trueth wherefore.

49 Go sit in iudgement againe: for they haue spoken false witnesse against her.

50 Wherefore the people turned againe in all the haste: and the elders, that is, the principal heads, sayd vnto him, Come sit downe here among vs, and shew vs this matter, seeing God hath giuen thee as great honour as an elder.

51 And Daniel sayd vnto them, Put these two aside one from another, and then shall I examine them.

52 When they were put asunder one from another, he called one of them, & sayd vnto him, O thou olde cankered carle, that hast bled thy wickednesse so long, thine vngracious deeds which thou hast done afore, are now come to light.

53 For thou hast giuen false iudgements, thou hast oppressed the innocent, and letten the guilty go free: whereas yet the Lord sayth, × The innocent and righteous see thou slay not.

54 Well then, if thou hast seene her, tell me vnder what tree sawest thou them companying together? He answered, Vnder a ‖ Mulberie tree.

‖ Or, Lentiske tree.

the Lord hath receiued the ſentence of him to cut thee in two.

56 Then put he him aſide, and called for the other, and ſaide vnto him, O thou ſeede of Chanaan, but not of Juda, fairenesſe hath deceiued thee, and luſt hath ſubuerted thine heart.

57 Thus delt ye aloze with the daughters of Iſrael, and they for feare conſented vnto you: but the daughter of Juda would not abide your wickednesſe.

58 Now tell me then, vnder what tree diddeſt thou take them companying together? He anſwered, Vnder a ‖ Pomegranate tree.

‖Or, a prune tree, or a mirtil tree.

59 Then ſaide Daniel vnto him, Very well, now thou lieſt alſo euen vpon thine head: the meſſenger of the Lord ſtandeth waiting with the ſword to cut thee in two, and ſlay you both.

60 With that all the whole multitude gaue a great ſhout, and praiſed God, which alway deliuereth them that put their truſt in him.

61 And they came vpon the two elders, whom Daniel had conuict with their owne mouth, that they had giuen falſe witneſſe, 62 And dealt with them euen likewiſe as they would haue done with their neighbours, yea, they did * accozding to the Lawe of Moſes, and put them to death: Thus the innocent blood was ſaued the ſame day.

Deut. 19. 19. prou. 19. 5.

63 Then Helcias and his wife praiſed God for their daughter Suſanna, with Joacim her huſband, and all the kinred, that there was no diſhoneſtie found in her.

64 From that day forth was Daniel had in great reputation in the ſight of the people.

65 And King Aſtiages was layed with his fathers, and Cyrus of Perſia reigned in his ſtead.

The end of the ſtory of Suſanna.

The ſtory of Bel and of the Dragon, which is the 14. Chapter of Daniel, after the Latin.

DAniel did eate at the Kings table, and was had in reuerence aboue all his friends.

2 There was at Babylon an image called Bel, and there were ſpent vpon him euery day twelue cakes, fourtie ſheepe, and ſixe great pots of wine.

3 Him did the King worſhip himſelfe, and went dayly to honour him, but Daniel worſhipped his owne God: and the King ſaid vnto him, Why doeſt not thou worſhip Bel?

4 He anſwered and ſaid, Becauſe I may not worſhip things that be made with handes, but the liuing God which made heauen and earth, and hath power vpon all fleſh.

5 The King ſaide vnto him, Thinkeſt thou not that Bel is a liuing god? or ſeeſt thou not how much he eateth and drinketh euery day?

6 Daniel ſmiled, and ſaid, O King, deceiue not thy ſelfe: for this is but made of clay within, and of braſſe without, neither eateth he euer any thing.

7 Then the King was wroth, and called for his prieſts, and ſaid vnto them, If ye tell me not who is this that eateth vp theſe expenſes, yee ſhall die:

8 But if ye can certifie mee that Bel eateth them, then Daniel ſhall die: for hee hath ſpoken blaſphemie againſt Bel. And Daniel ſaid vnto the king, Let it ſo be, accozding as thou haſt ſaid.

Exod. 23.

9 The prieſtes of Bel were threeſcoze & ten, beſides their wiues and children: And the King went with Daniel into the Temple of Bel.

10 So Bels prieſts ſaid, Lo, we will goe out: and ſet thou the meat there, O King, and powre in the wine, then ſhut the dooze faſt, and ſeale it with thine owne ſignet:

‖Or, the Lord.

11 And to morrow when thou commeſt in, if thou findeſt not that Bel hath eate vp al, we wil ſuffer death: or els Daniel that hath lied vpō vs.

12 The prieſtes thought themſelues ſure ynough: for vnder the ‖ altar they had made a priuie entrance, and there went they in euer, and did eate vp what there was.

‖Or, table.

13 So when they were gone forth, the King ſet meates before Bel: Now Daniel had commanded his ſeruants to bring aſhes, and theſe hee ‖ ſifted throwout all the temple, that the King might ſee: then went they out, and ſparred the dooze, ſealing it with the Kings ſignet, and ſo departed.

‖Or, ſtrowed.

14 In the night came the prieſts, with their wiues and children as they were wont to doe, and did eate and drinke vp all.

15 In the morning betimes, at the breake of the day, the King aroſe, and Daniel with him.

16 And the king ſaide, Daniel, are the ſeales whole yet? He anſwered, Yea, O King, they be whole.

17 Now as ſoone as he had opened the dooze, the King looked vnto the ‖ altar, and cryed with a lowd voyce, Great art thou, O Bel, and with thee is no deceit.

‖Or, table.

18 Then laughed Daniel, and held the King that he ſhould not go in, & ſaid, Behold the pauement, marke wel, whoſe footſteps are theſe?

19 The king ſaid, I ſee the footſteps of men, women, and children.

20 Therefore the king was angry, and tooke the prieſts, with their wiues and children: and they ſhewed him the priuie doozes where they came in, and did eate vp ſuch things as were vpon the altar:

21 For the which cauſe the King ſlue them, and deliuered Bel into Daniels power, which destroyed him and his temple.

22 And in that same place there was a great Dragon, which they of Babylon worshipped.

23 And the King saide vnto Daniel, Sayest thou that this is but a god of brasse also? Lo, he liueth, he eateth and drinketh, so that thou canst not say that he is no liuing god: therefore worship him.

24 Daniel said vnto the King, I wil worship the Lord my God, he is the true liuing God: as for this, he is not the god of life.

25 But giue me leaue, O King, and I shal destroy this Dragon without sworde or staffe. The King said, I giue thee leaue.

26 Then Daniel tooke pitch, fat, and hairie woolle, and did seethe them together, and made lumpes thereof: this hee put in the Dragons mouth, and so the Dragon burst in sunder. And Daniel saide, Loe, there is hee whom yee worshipped.

27 When they of Babylon heard that, they tooke great indignation, and gathered them together against the King, saying, The king is become a Iew, and he hath destroyed Bel, he hath slaine the Dragon, and put the priests to death.

28 So they came to the King, and saide, Let vs haue Daniel, or els we will destroy thee and thine house.

29 Now when the King saw that they rushed in so sore vpon him, and that necessitie constrayned him, he deliuered Daniel vnto them:

30 Which cast him into the Lions den, where he was sixe dayes.

31 In the den there were seuen Lions, and they had giuen them euery day two bodies, and two sheepe: which then were not giuen them, to the intent that they might deuoure Daniel.

32 There was in Iurie a Prophet called Habacuc, which had made pottage, and broken bread in a bowle, and was going into the fielde for to bring it to the reapers.

33 But the Angel of the Lord saide vnto Habacuc, Go carry the meat that thou hast, into Babylon, vnto Daniel, which is in the Lions den.

34 And Habacuc said, Lord, I neuer saw Babylon, and as for the denne, I know it not.

35 * Then the Angel of the Lord tooke him by the toppe, and bare him by the haire of the head, and through a mightie winde set him in Babylon vpon the denne. Ezech.8.3.

36 And Habacuc cryed, saying, O Daniel, thou seruant of God, haue, take the ‖breakefast that God hath sent thee. ‖Or, dinner.

37 And Daniel sayde, O God, hast thou thought vpon me? well, thou neuer failest them that loue thee.

38 So Daniel arose, and did eat. And the Angel of the Lord set Habacuc in his owne place againe immediatly.

39 Vpon the seuenth day the King went to beweepe Daniel: and when he came to the den, he looked in, and behold, Daniel sate in the midst of the Lions.

40 Then cried the King with a lowde voyce, saying, Great art thou, O Lord God of Daniel, and there is none other besides thee.

41 And he drew him out of the Lions denne, and cast those that were the cause of his destruction into the denne, and they were deuoured in a moment before his face.

42 After this wrote the king vnto all people, kinreds, & tongues, that dwelt in all countreys,

43 Saying, Peace be multiplied with you: my commandement is in all the dominion of my realme, that men feare and stand in awe of Daniels God: for hee is the liuing God, which endureth for euer:

44 His kingdome abideth vncorrupt, and his power is euerlasting.

45 It is he that can deliuer and saue, he doth wonders and marueilous workes in heauen and in earth: for he hath saued Daniel from the power of the Lions.

¶ The prayer of Manasses King of Iuda, when he was holden captiue in Babylon.

O Lord Almighty, God of our fathers, Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob, and of the righteous seed of them, which hast made heauen and earth, with all the ornament thereof, which hast ‖ordained the Sea by the word of thy Commandement, which hast shut vp the deepe, and hast sealed it for thy fearefull and laudable Name, which all men feare, and tremble before the face of thy power, and not for the anger of thy threatning, the which is importable to sinners, but the mercy of thy promise is great and vnsearchable: for thou art the Lord God most high aboue all the earth, long suffering, and exceeding mercifull, and repentant vpon the malice of men: thou Lord after thy goodnesse hast promised repentance of the remission of sinnes, and thou that art the God of the righteous, hast not put repentance to the righteous, Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob, vnto them that haue not sinned against thee: but because I haue sinned aboue the number of the sands of the Sea, and that mine iniquities are multiplied, I am ‖humbled with many bands of yron, and there is in me no breathing, I haue prouoked thine anger, and haue done euil before thee, in committing abominations, and multiplying offences: And now I bow the knees of my heart, requiring goodnesse of thee, O Lord. I haue sinned, Lord, I haue sinned, and know mine iniquitie. I desire thee by prayer, O Lord, forgiue mee, forgiue mee, and destroy me not with mine iniquities, neither do thou alwayes remember mine euils to punish them: but saue me (which am vnworthy) after thy great mercy, & I wil praise thee euerlastingly al the daies of my life: for all the power of heauen praiseth thee, and vnto thee belongeth glory, world without end. Amen.

A neceſſary Table for the knowledge of the ſtate of Iuda, from the beginning of the Monarchie of the Greekes (where the Table that we haue ſet foorth vpon Eſdras endeth) vntill the death and paſſion of Iesvs Christ.

¶ The 70. weekes foreſhewed by Daniel, Dan. 9.

THe Angel of the Lord ſent to Daniel, ſayde, that it was ſeuentie weekes of yeeres, that is to ſay, ſeuentie times ſeuen, which cõmeth to 490. from the giuing foorth of the cõmandement that Hieruſalem ſhould be builded againe and reſtored, vntill Chriſt the Prince. This commandement was giuen foorth by the mouth of Darius Longhand, Monarch of the Perſians, the yeere of his reigne, as it is written in Nehem. 2. Therefore the ſaid ſeuentie weekes ought to begin there, though al agree not therin: for ſome beginne it in the ſecond yere of the ſaid Darius: other, the firſt yere of Cyrus. So that from the beginning of the ſaid weekes, till the time that Alexander vſurped ỹ Monarchie, we reckon foure yeres and eighteene weekes, which maketh 130. yeeres. To ſhew the verifying of the ſaid weeks, according to the aforeſaid prophecy of Daniel 9. we will proportion them with the yeeres in which the kings of Syria (ſet here in order on ỹ right ſide) haue ended their kingdom eche of them in order.

¶ The Monarchie of the Greekes.

ALexander the great, ſonne to Philip king of Macedon, conquered the Monarchie of the Perſians from Darius, the 192. yeere of Cyrus the firſt Monarch, and tranſported it to the Greeks: he reigned ſixe whole yeeres, and the ſeuenth died, leauing diuers ſucceſſors, to whom he diuided the ſaide Monarchie before his death, that is, the kingdomes of Syria, Aſia, Egypt, and Macedonia. We will here treate of his ſucceſſours the Kings of Syria only, becauſe the Scripture maketh mention thereof, and maketh the ſupputatiõ of the yeres by the time that the ſaide Kings reigned, beginning at the firſt, as appeareth in the firſt booke of the Machabees. And wee will orderly ſet their names, and the time that ech of them hath reigned, to conferre them with the number of the weeks placed on the left ſide of this Table, to the end the ſaide weekes may be verified, and that the prophecie of Daniel may bee plainely vnderſtood, touching the comming and death of our Sauiour Chriſt.

¶ The ſtate of the Iewes.

AFter the people of the Lord were deliuered from the captiuitie of Babylon by Cyrus, and returned vnto their land vnder the conduct of Zorobabel, there was no more name of King in Iuda, but of Prince and Gouernour, which were for the moſt part of the line of Iuda, and are theſe that follow.

The first booke of the Machabees.

The first Chapter.

2 After the death of Alexander the king of Macedonia, 11 Antiochus taketh the kingdome.

AFter that Alexander king of Macedonia, sonne of Philip, went foorth of the land of ‖ Cethim, and a slew Darius king of the Persians and Medes, and reigned for him as hee had done before in Grecia:

2 It happened that hee tooke great warres in hand, wanne very many strong cities, & slewe many kings of the earth,

3 Going thorow to the endes of the world, and getting many spoyles of the people, in so much that the whole world stood in awe of him, and therefore was he proud in his heart.

4 b Nowe when hee had gathered a mightie strong hoste,

5 And subdued the landes and people, with their Princes, so that they became tributaries vnto him,

6 Then he fell sicke, and when he perceiued that he must needs die,

7 He called for his noble estates, which had beene brought vp with him of children, and parted his kingdome among them while hee was yet aliue.

8 So Alexander reigned twelue yeres, and then dyed.

9 c After his death fell the kingdome vnto his Princes, and they obtained it euery one in his roome,

10 And caused themselues to be crowned as kings: and so did their children after them many yeeres, and much wickednesse increased in the world.

11 Out of these came the vngratious roote ‖ noble Antiochus the sonne of Antiochus the king, which had beene a pledge at Rome: and he reigned in the hundred thirtie and seuen yeere of the empire of the Greekes.

12 d In those dayes went there out of Israel wicked men, which moued much people with their counsell, saying, Let vs goe and make a couenant with the heathen that are round about vs: for since we departed from them, wee haue had much sorow.

13 So this deuise pleased them well.

14 e And certaine of the people tooke vpon them for to goe vnto the king, which gaue them licence to do after the ordinance of the heathen.

15 f Then set they vp an open schoole at Hierusalem, of the lawes of the Heathen:

16 g And made themselues vncircumcised, but forsooke the holy Testament, and ioyned themselues to the heathen, and were cleane sold to doe mischiefe.

17 So when Antiochus began to be mighty in his kingdome, hee went about to obtaine the land of Egypt also, that hee might haue the dominion of two realmes.

18 Vpon this entred hee into Egypt with a strong hoste, with charets, elephants, horsemen, and a great number of ships, 19 h And beganne to warre against Ptolome the king of Egypt: but Ptolome was afraid of him, and fledde, and many of his people were wounded to death.

20 Thus Antiochus wanne many strong cities in Egypt, and tooke away great good out of the land of Egypt.

21 And after that Antiochus had smitten Egypt, he turned againe in the hundred fortie and three yeere, and went toward Israel,

22 And came to Hierusalem with a mightie people,

23 And entred proudly into the sanctuarie, and tooke away the golden altar, the candlesticke, and all the ornaments thereof, the table of the shewe bread, the powring vessels, the chargers, the golden spoones, the baile, the crownes, and golden apparell of the Temple, and brake downe all in pieces.

24 Hee tooke also the siluer and golde, the pretious iewels, and the secret treasures that he found.

25 And when he had taken away all together, caused a great murder of men, and spoken very proudly, he departed into his owne land.

26 Therefore there was a great lamentation thorowout all Israel.

27 The princes and the elders of the people mourned, the young men and the maidens were ‖ defiled, and the faire beautie of women was changed.

28 The bridegrome and the bride tooke them to mourning,

29 The lande and those that dwelt therein, was mooued: for all the house of Jacob was brought to confusion.

30 i After two yeeres the king sent his chiefe treasurer vnto the cities of Juda, which came to Hierusalem with a great multitude of people,

31 Speaking peaceable wordes vnto them, but all was deceit: for when they had giuen him credence,

32 He fell suddenly vpon the citie, and smote it fore, and destroyed much people of Israel.

33 And when he had spoyled the citie, hee set fire on it, calling downe houses and walles on euery side.

34 The women and their children tooke they captiue, and led away their cattell.

35 Then builded they the city of Dauid with a great and thicke wall, & with mighty towres, and made it a strong hold for them.

36 Beside all this, they set wicked people, and vngodly men to keepe it,

37 Stored it with weapons and victuals, gathered the goods of Hierusalem, and layd them vp there: thus became it a theeuish castle.

38 Thus they became a heauie burden, laying wait for the people that went into the sanctuary, and for the cruell destruction of Israel.
39 Thus they shed innocent blood on euery side of the sanctuary, and defiled it:
40 Insomuch that the citizens were faine to depart, and the city became an habitation of strangers, being desolate of her owne seede: for her owne natiues were faine to leaue her.
41 Her sanctuary was cleane wasted, her holy dayes were turned into mourning, her Sabboths were had in derision, and her honour brought to nought.
k Iosephus lib. 12. c. & 7. 42 k Looke how great her glory was before, so great was her confusion, and her ioy turned into sorow.
43 Antiochus also the king sent out a commission vnto all his kingdome, that all the people should be one.
44 Then they left euery man his law, and all the heathen agreed to the commaundement of king Antiochus:
45 Yea, many of the Israelites consented thereunto, offering vnto idoles, and defiling the Sabboth.
46 So the king Antiochus sent his messengers with his commission vnto Hierusalem, and to all the cities of Juda, that they should follow the lawes of the heathen:
47 And forbade the whole burnt offering, meate offering, or peace offering to be made in the temple of God, & that there should no Sabboth nor high day be kept:
48 But commanded that the sanctuarie and the holy people of Israel should be defiled:
49 He commanded also, that there should be set vp altars, temples, and idoles, to offer vp swines flesh, and vncleane beasts,
50 That men should leaue their children vncircumcised, to defile their soules with all manner of vncleannesse and abominations:
51 That they might so forget the lawe: and change all the holy ordinances of God,
52 And that whosoeuer would not doe according to the commandement of king Antiochus, should suffer death.
53 In like manner commanded he throughout all his realme, and set rulers ouer the people, for to compell them to doe these things:
54 Commanding all the cities of Juda to doe sacrifice vnto idoles.
55 Then went the people vnto the Heathen by heapes, for loothe the law of the Lorde, & committed much euill in the land:
56 And they droue the Israelites into secrete places, euen whersoeuer they could flee for succour.
‖ Nouember. 57 The fifteenth day of the moneth ‖ Casleu, in the hundred threescore and fifth yeere, set king Antiochus an abominable idole of desolation vpon the altar of God, and they builded altars throughout all the cities of Juda, on euery side, 58 Before the doores of the houses, and in the streetes, where they burnt incense and did sacrifice.
l It is a manifest note of the enemies of God, to burne the bookes of the law. Histor. ecclesiast. l.8 c.2. 59 And as for the bookes of the lawe of God, they l burnt them in the fire, and rent them in pieces.
60 Whatsoeuer he was that had a booke of the testament of the Lord found by him, yea, whosoeuer endeuoured himselfe to keepe the lawe of the Lord, the kings commaundement was, that they should put him to death.
61 And throughout his authoritie they executed these things euery moneth, vpon the people of Israel that were found in the cities.
62 The twentie and fifth day of the moneth, what time as they did sacrifice vpon the altar, which stood in the stead of the altar of the Lord,
63 According to the commaundement of king Antiochus, they put certaine women to death, which had caused their children to bee circumcised:
64 Not onely that, but they hanged vp the children by the neckes throughout all their houses, slew the circumcisers of them:
65 Yet were there many of the people of Israel, which determined in themselues that they would not eate vncleane things: but chose rather to suffer death, then to be defiled with vncleane meates.
66 So because they would not breake the blessed law of God, they were cruelly slaine.
67 And this great tyrannie encreased very sore vpon the people of Israel.

The ij. Chapter.

The mourning of Mathathias and his sonnes for the destruction of the holy citie.

IN those dayes there did stand vp one Mathathias the son of John, the sonne of Simeon the Priest, out of the kinred of Joarib, from Hierusalem, and dwelt vpon the mount of Modin,
2 And had fiue sonnes: John called Gaddis,
3 Simon called Thasi,
4 Judas, otherwise called Machabeus,
5 Eleazar, otherwise called Abaron, and Jonathan, whose surname was Apphus.
6 These saw the euill that was done among the people of Juda and Hierusalem.
7 And Mathathias saide, Woe is me, alas that euer I was borne, to see this misery of my people, and the piteous destruction of the holy citie, and thus to sit so still, it being deliuered into the hands of the enemies.
8 Her Sanctuarie is come into the power of strangers, her temple is as it were a man that hath lost his good name:
9 Her precious ornaments are carried away captiue, her olde men are slaine in the streetes, and her yong men are fallen through the sworde of the enemies.
10 What people is it that hath not some possession in her kingdome? or who hath not gotten some of her spoiles?
11 All her glory is taken away, she was a free woman, and now she is become an handmayd.
12 Beholde, our sanctuarie, our beautie and honour is wasted away, and defiled by the Gentiles.
13 What helpeth it vs then to liue?
14 And Mathathias rent his clothes, he and his sonnes, and put sackcloth vpon them, and mourned very sore.
15 Then came the men thither, which were sent of king Antiochus, to compell such as were fled into the citie of Modin, for to doe sacrifice, and to burne incense vnto idoles and to forsake the lawe of God.

fol. Rrr2r

16 So many of the people of Israel consented and enclined vnto them: but Mathathias and his sonnes remained stedfast.

17 Then spake the Commissioners of king Antiochus, and sayd vnto Mathathias, Thou art a noble man, of high reputation, and great in this city, hauing many faire children and brethren.

18 Come thou therefore first, and fulfill the kings commaundement, like as all the heathen haue done, yea, and the men of Juda, and such as remaine at Hierusalem, so shalt thou and thy children bee in the kings fauour, and enriched with golde, siluer, and great rewards.

19 Mathathias answered, and spake with a loude voyce, Though all nations obey the king Antiochus, and fall away euery man from keeping the lawe of their fathers, though they consent to his commandements:

a The father promiseth for his children that they shall serue God, as doth Josue for his household, Josu.24.

20 [a]Yet will I and my sonnes and my brethren not fall from the lawes of our fathers.

21 God forbid we should: that were not good for vs that wee should forsake the lawe and ordinances of God, and to agree vnto the commandement of king Antiochus.

22 Therefore wee will doe no such sacrifice, neither breake the statutes of our law, to go another way.

23 And when hee had spoken these wordes, there came one of the Jewes, which openly in the sight of all did sacrifice vnto the idoles vpon the altar in the city of Modin, according to the kings commandement.

b It is a griefe to the godly to see the people offend.

24 When Mathathias sawe this, it grieued him at the heart, so that his reines shooke withall, and his wrath kindled for very zeale of the lawe: with that he start vp, and killed the Jewe beside the altar,

25 Yea, and slewe the kings Commissioner that compelled him to doe sacrifice, and destroied the altar at the same time:

Num.25.7. 26 *Such zeale had he vnto the law of God, like as Phinehes did vnto Zambri the sonne of Salomi.

27 And Mathathias cryed with a loud voice thorowe the city, saying, Who so is feruent in the lawe, and will keepe the couenant, let him follow me.

28 So he and his sonnes fled into the mountaines, and left all that euer they had in the Citie.

29 Many other godly men also which liued iustly and vprightly, departed into the wildernesse, with their children, their wiues, and their cattell, and remained there: for the tyrannie encreased sore vpon them.

30 Nowe when the kings seruants, and the hoste which was at Hierusalem in the citie of Dauid, heard that certaine men had broken the kings commaundement, and were gone their way to the wildernesse into secret places:

31 Then many pursued after them, and after they had ouertaken them, they camped themselues, and set the battell in aray against them in the Sabboth day, 32 And sayde vnto them, Will yee yet rebell? Get you hence, and doe the commaundement of king Antiochus, and ye shall liue.

33 They answered, We will not goe for thee, neither will wee doe the kings commandement to defile the Sabboth day.

34 Then began they to fight against them:

35 But the other gaue them none other answere, neither cast they one stone at them, nor made fast their priuy places:

36 But sayd, We will dye all in our innocencie, heauen and earth shall testifie with vs, that ye put vs to death wrongfully.

37 Thus they fought against them vpon the Sabboth, and slue both men and cattell, their wiues and their children, to the number of a thousand people.

38 When Mathathias and his friends heard this, they mourned for them right sore,

39 And sayd one to another, If so be that we all doe as our brethren haue done, and fight not for our liues, and for our lawes against the heathen, then shall they the sooner roote vs out of the earth.

40 So they concluded among themselues at the same time, saying,

41 Whatsoeuer he be that commeth to make battell with vs vpon the Sabboth day, we will fight against him, and not die all as our brethren that were murdered in the wildernesse.

42 Vpon this came the assembly of the Assideans vnto them, which were of the strongest men in Israel, and all such as were feruent in the law:

43 And all they that were fled for persecution, came to helpe them, and to stand by them:

44 Insomuch that they gathered an hoste of men, and slue the wicked doers in their iealousie, and the vngodly men in their wrath: but the rest fled vnto the heathen, and escaped.

45 Then Mathathias and his friends went about, and destroyed the altars,

46 And circumcised the children that had not yet receiued circumcisiō, as many as they found within the coasts of Israel,

47 And followed mightily vpon the proude men: and this acte prospered in their hands.

48 Insomuch that they kept the law against the power of the Gentiles and the kings, and gaue not ouer their dominion vnto wicked doers.

49 After this, when the time drewe on fast that Mathathias should dye, hee sayd vnto his sonnes, Now is pride and persecution increased, nowe is the time of destruction and wrathfull displeasure:

50 Wherefore, O my sonnes, be ye feruent in the lawe, and ieopard your liues for the testament of the fathers.

51 Call to remembrance what actes our fathers did in their time, so shall yee receiue great honour, and an euerlasting name.

Dan. 6, 22. 60 *In like maner Daniel being vnguiltie, was saued from the mouth of the Lions.

61 And thus ye may consider throughout all ages since the world began, that whosoeuer put their trust in God, were not ouercome.

62 Feare not ye then the words of an vngodly man, for his glory is but dung and wormes:

63 To day hee is set vp, and to morow he is gone: for he is turned into earth, and his memoriall is come to nought.

64 Wherefore, O my sonnes, take good heart vnto you, and quite your selues like men in the law: for if ye doe the things that are commanded you in the law of the Lord your God, ye shall obtaine great honour therein.

65 And behold, I know that your brother Simon is a man of wisedome: see that ye giue care vnto him alway, he shalbe a father vnto you.

66 As for Judas Machabeus, hee hath euer beene mightie and strong from his youth vp: let him bee your captaine, and order the battell of the people,

67 Thus shall yee bring vnto you all those that fauour the law, and see that ye auenge the wrong of your people,

68 and recompence the heathen againe, and apply your selues wholly to the commandement of the law.

69 So hee gaue them his blessing, and was layd by his fathers,

70 And dyed in the hundred fourtie and first yere at Modin, where his sonnes buried him in his fathers sepulchre, and all Israel made great lamentation for him.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Iudas is made ruler ouer the Iewes. 11 He killeth Apollonius and Seron the Princes of Syria.

Ioseph. cap. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12. Lat. THen stoode vp Judas Machabeus in his fathers stead,

2 And all his brethren helped him, and so did all they that helde with his father, and fought with cheerefulnesse for Israel.

3 So Judas gat his people great honour, hee put on a breastplate as a Gyant, and arayed himselfe with his harnesse, and defended the host with his sword.

4 In his actes he was like a Lyon, and as a Lyons whelpe roaring at his pray.

5 He was an enemy to the wicked, and hunted them out, and burnt vp those that vexed his people:

6 So that his enemies fled for feare of him, and all the workers of vngodlinesse were put to trouble: such lucke and prosperity was in his hand.

7 This grieued diuers kings: but Jacob was greatly reioyced through his actes, and hee gat himselfe a great name for euer.

8 Hee went thorow the cities of Juda, destroying the vngodly out of them, turning away the wrath from Israel,

9 And receiuing such as were oppressed: and the fame of him went vnto the vttermost part of the earth.

10 Then Apollonius a prince of Syria, gathered a mightie great host of the heathen, and out of Samaria, to fight against Israel:

11 Which when Judas perceiued, hee went forth to meete him, fought with him, slewe him, and a great multitude with him: the remnant fledde, and he tooke their substance.

12 Judas also took Apollonius owne sword, and fought with it all his life long.

13 Now when Seron, a prince of the armie of Syria, heard say that Judas had gathered vnto him the congregation and Church of the faithfull, 14 He sayd, I will get me a name and a praise throughout the Realme: for I will goe fight with Judas and them that are with him, as many as haue despised the kings commaundement.

15 So hee made him ready, and there went with him a great mightie host of the vngodly to stand by him, and to bee auenged of the children of Israel.

16 And when they came nigh vnto Bethoron, Judas went forth against them with a small company.

17 And when his people saw such a great host before them, they sayd vnto Judas, How are we able being so few to fight against so great a multitude, and so strong, seeing we be so weary, and haue fasted all this day?

18 But Judas sayd, It is a small matter for many to be ouercome with few: yea, there is no difference to the God of heauen, to deliuer by a great multitude, or by a small company:

19 For the victory of the battell standeth not in the multitude of the host, but the strength commeth from heauen.

20 Behold, they come against vs with a cruell & proude multitude, to destroy vs, our wiues and our children, and to robbe vs:

21 But wee will fight for our liues, and for our lawes,

22 And the Lorde himselfe shall destroy them before our face: therefore be not yee afraide of them.

23 As soone as he had spoken these words, he leapt suddenly vpon them: Thus was Seron smitten, and his host put to flight,

24 And Judas followed vpon them beyond Bethoron, vnto the plaine fielde, where there were slaine eight hundred men of them, and the residue fled into the land of the Philistines.

25 Then all the Heathen on euery side were afraid of Judas and his brethren:

26 So that the ‖ rumour of him came vnto the kings eares: for all the Gentiles could tell of the warres of Judas. ‖ Or, feare.

27 So when king Antiochus heard these tydings, he was angry in his mind: wherefore he sent foorth, and gathered an host of his whole realme, very strong armies:

28 And opened his treasurie, and gaue his host a yeeres wages in hand, commaunding them to be ready at all times.

29 Neuertheless, when hee saw that there was not money ynough in his treasuries, and that through the discord and persecution which hee made in the lande, to put downe the lawes that had bene of old times, his customes and tributes of the land were minished:

30 Hee feared that hee was not able for to beare

beare the costs and charges any longer, nor to haue such gifts to giue so liberally as hee did afore,more then the kings that were before him.

31 Wherefore he was heauie in his mind, and thought to go vnto Persides,for to take tributes of the land,and so to gather much money.

32 So hee left Lysias, a noble man of the kings blood, to ouersee the kings businesse from the water Euphrates, vnto the borders of Egypt:

33 And to keepe well his sonne Antiochus til he came againe.

34 Moreouer,he gaue him halfe of his hoste, and Elephants, and committed vnto him euery thing,and gaue him the charge of al things that hee would haue done concerning those which dwelt in Juda and Hierusalem:

35 That he should send out an armie against them, to destroy and roote out the power of Israel,and the remnant of Hierusalem, to put out their memoriall from that place:

36 To set strangers for to inhabite all their quarters,and to part their land among them.

37 Thus the king tooke the other part of the hoste, and departed from Antioch, a citie of his realme, ouer the water Euphrates, in the hundred and fortie and seuen yere,and went thorow the high countreys.

Iosep.cap. 10.lib.anti. 38 And Lysias chose vnto him Ptolome the sonne of Dorymenius, Nicanor, and Gorgias, mighty men, and the kings friends.

39 These he sent with fourtie thousand footmen,and seuen thousand horsemen, for to go into the land of Juda,and to destroy it, as the king commanded.

40 So they went forth with all their power, and came to Emmaus into the plaine field.

41 When the merchants of the country heard the rumor of them, they and their seruants tooke very much siluer and gold, for to buy the children of Israel to be their bondmen: there came vnto them also yet mo men of warre on euery side,out of Syria,and from the Palestines.

42 Nowe when Judas and his brethren saw that trouble encreased, and that the hoste drewe nigh vnto their borders, considering the kings words which he commaunded vnto the people, namely, that they should vtterly waste and destroy them:

43 They sayd one to another, Let vs redresse the decay of our people,let vs fight for our folke, and for our sanctuarie.

44 Then the congregation were soone ready gathered to fight, to pray, and to make supplication vnto God for mercie and grace.

45 As for Hierusalem it lay void, and was as it had bene a wildernesse: there went no man in nor out at it, & the sanctuary was troden down, the aliants keepe the castle, there was the habitation of the heathen, the mirth of Jacob was taken away, the Pipe and the Harpe was gone from among them.

46 The Israelites gathered them together, and came to Maspha before Hierusalem: for in Maspha was the place where they prayed afore time in Israel.

47 So they fasted that day, & put sackclothes vpon them, cast ashes vpon their heads, rent their clothes,

48 And layed forth the bookes of the lawe, whereout the heathen sought to paint the likenesse of their images,

49 And brought the Priests ornaments, the firstlings, and the tithes: they set there also the Nazarites, which had accomplished their ‖ vowes before God: ‖Or,dayes.

50 And cried with a loude voice toward heauen,saying, What shall we doe with these, and whither shall we carie them away?

51 For thy Sanctuary is troden downe and defiled, the Priestes are come to heauinesse and dishonour.

52 And behold, the heathen are come together for to destroy vs,thou knowest what things they imagine against vs.

53 How may we stand before them, except thou (O God) be our helpe?

54 Then they blew out the trumpet also with a loude voice.

55 Then Judas ordeined captaines ouer the people, ouer thoulands, ouer hundreds,ouer fiftie,and ouer ten.

56 *But as for such as builded them houses, married wiues, planted them vineyards, and those that were fearefull, hee commaunded them euery man to goe home againe according to the law. Deu.20.5. iudi.7.3.

57 So the host remoued, and pitched vpon the South side of Emmaus.

58 And Judas sayd, Arme your selues, bee strong, O my children, make you ready against to morow in the morning,that ye may fight with these people, which are agreed together to destroy vs and our Sanctuary.

59 Better is it for vs to die in battell, then to see our people and our Sanctuary in such a miserable case.

60 Neuertheless, as thy will is, O God in heauen,so be it.

The iiij. Chapter.

Iudas goeth against Gorgias,which lieth in waite.

THen tooke Gorgias fiue thousand men of foote,and a thousand of the best horsemen, and remoued out of the campe by night, Iosep,lib.12 cap.10,

2 To come nigh where the Jewes hoste lay, and so to slay them suddenly: (Now the men that kept the castle,were the conueyers of them.)

3 Nowe when Judas heard this, he remoued,and all the strong men that were with him, to smite the chiefe and principall of the kings hoste at Emmaus:

4 For the armie was not yet come together.

5 In the meane season came Gorgias by night vnto Judas tents,and when he found no man there,hee sought them in the mountaines, and thought they had beene fled away because of him.

6 But when it was day,Judas shewed himselfe in the field with three thousand men onely, which had neither harnesse nor swords to their mindes.

7 But on the other side they sawe that the heathen were mighty and well harnessed, and their horsemen about them, and all these well expert in feates of warre.

8 Then sayde Judas to the men that were with him, Feare not ye the multitude of them, be not afrayd of their violent running.

9 *Remember how our fathers were deli- Exo.14.9.

uered in the red sea, when Pharao followed vpon them with a great hoste.

10 Euen so let vs also crie now toward heauen, and the Lord shal haue mercie vpon vs, and remember the couenant of our fathers, yea, and destroy this hoste before our face this day:

11 And all the heathen shall know that it is God himselfe which deliuereth and saueth Israel.

12 Then the heathen lift vp their eyes, and when they saw that they were comming against them,

13 They went out of their tents into the battaile, and they that were with Judas blew vp the trumpets.

14 So they buckled together, and the heathen were discomfited, and fled ouer the plaine field:

15 But the hindmost of them were slaine with the swoorde: for they followed them vnto ‖ Assaremoth, and into the fields of Idumea toward Azot and Jamnia: so that there were slain of them vpon a three thousand men.

‖Or, Gazeron.

16 So Judas turned againe with his hoste,

17 And sayd vnto the people, Bee not greedie of the spoiles, we haue yet a battaile to fight.

18 For Gorgias and his hoste are here by vs in the mountaines, but stand yee fast against our enemies, and ouercome them, then may yee safely take the spoiles.

19 As Judas was speaking these words, behold, there appeared one part of them vpon the mount.

20 But when Gorgias saw that they of his part were fledde, and the tents burnt vp (for by the smoke they might vnderstand what was done) they perceiuing this, were verie sore afraide:

21 And when they saw also that Judas and his hoste were in the field ready to strike battell, 22 They fledde euery one into the land of the heathen.

23 So Judas turned againe to spoile the tents, where they gate much golde, and siluer, precious stones, purple, and great riches.

24 Thus they went home, & sung a Psalme of thankesgiuing, and prayed God in heauen: for he is gracious, and his mercie endureth for euer.

25 And so Israel had a great victorie in that day.

26 Nowe all the heathen that escaped, came and told Lysias euery thing that had happened.

27 Wherefore Lysias was sore afraid, and grieued in his mind, because Israel had not gotten such misfortune as hee would they should, neither as the king commanded.

28 The next yere following, gathered Lysias threescore thousand chosen men of foote, and fiue thousand horsemen to fight against Hierusalem.

29 So they came vnto Jury, & pitched their tents at Bethoron: where Judas came against them with ten thousand men.

30 And when he saw so great and mighty an hoste, he made his prayer, and sayd, Blessed be thou, O sauiour of Israel, *which diddest destroy the violent power of the giant in the hand of thy seruant Dauid, *and gauest the hoste of the heathen into the hand of Jonathan the sonne of Saul, and of his harnesbearer:

1.Reg.17. 15. 1.Reg.14. 13.

31 Put this hoste nowe into the hand of thy people of Israel, and let them be confounded in their multitude and horsemen.

32 Make them afraide, and discomfite the boldnesse of their strength, that they may be moued through their destruction.

33 Cast them downe through the swoorde of thy louers, then shall all they that knowe thy name, praise thee with thankesgiuing.

34 So they strooke the battel, and there were slaine of Lysias hoste fiue thousand men.

35 Then Lysias seeing the discomfiting of his men, and the manlinesse of the Jewes, how they were ready either to liue or die like men: hee went vnto Antioch, and chose out men of war, that when they were gathered together, they might come againe into Jurie.

36 Then sayd Judas and his brethren, Beholde, our enemies are discomfited, let vs nowe goe vp to cleanse and repaire the Sanctuary.

37 Vpon this, all the hoste gathered them together, and went vp into mount Sion.

38 Nowe when they sawe the Sanctuarie layd waste, the altar defiled, the doores burnt vp, the shrubbes growing in the courts like as in a wood, or vpon the mountaines, yea, and that the priests chambers were broken downe,

39 They rent their clothes, and made great lamentation, cast ashes vpon their heads,

40 Fell downe flat to the ground vpon their faces, made a great noise with the trumpets, and cried toward heauen.

41 Then Judas appointed certaine men to fight against those which were in the castel, till they had cleansed the Sanctuary.

42 So he chose Priests that were vndefiled, such as had pleasure in the lawe of God:

43 And they cleansed the Sanctuarie, and bare out the defiled stones into an vncleane place.

44 And for so much as the altar of burnt offerings was vnhalowed, he tooke aduisement what he might doe withall.

45 So he thought it best to destroy it, lest it should happen to doe them any shame, for the heathen had defiled it: and therefore they brake it downe.

46 As for the stones, they layd them vp vpon the mountaine by the house in a conuenient place, till there came a Prophet to shewe what should be done with them.

47 So they tooke whole stones, according to the law, and builded a new altar, such one as was before,

48 And made vp the Sanctuary within and without, and halowed the houses and the courts:

49 They made new holy ornaments, and brought the candlestick, the altar of incense, and the table, into the Temple.

50 The incense layd they vpon the altar, and lighted the lamps which were vpon the candlesticke, that they might burne in the Temple:

51 They set the shew bread vpon the table, and hanged vp the vaile, & finished all the works which they had begun to make.

52 And vpon the twenty and fifth day of the ninth moneth (which is called the moneth of ‖ Casleu) in the hundred fourty and eight yere,

‖November

new burnt offering altar that they had made.

54 After the time and season that the heathen had defiled it, the same day was it set vp againe, with songs, pipes, harpes, and cymbals.

55 And all the people fell vpon their faces, worshipping and thanking the God of heauen, which had giuen them the victorie.

56 So they kept the dedication of the altar eight dayes, offering burnt sacrifices and thanke offerings with gladnesse.

57 They decht the forefront of the Temple also with crownes and shields of golde, and halowed the ports and celles, and hanged doores vpon them.

58 Thus there was very great gladnesse among the people, because the blasphemie of the heathen was put away.

John 10.21 59 *So Iudas and his brethren, with the whole congregation of Israel, ordeined that the time of the dedication of the altar should be kept in his season from yeere to yeere, by the space of eight dayes, from the twentie and fifth day of the moneth ‖ Casleu, with mirth and gladnesse. ‖November

60 And at the same time builded they vp the mount Sion, with high wals & strong towres round about, lest the Gentiles should come and tread it downe as they did afore.

61 Therefore Iudas set men of warre in it, to keepe it, & made it strong for to defend Bethsura, that the people might haue a refuge against the Edomites.

The v. Chapter.

Iudas vanquisheth the Heathen that goe about to destroy Israel, and is holpen of his brethren Simon and Ionathas.

Ioseph. cap. 12. lib. 13. IT happened also, that when the Heathen round about heard how that the altar and the sanctuarie were set vp in their olde estate, it displeased them very sore.

2 Wherefore they thought to destroy the generation of Iacob that was among them: in so much that they beganne to slay and to persecute certaine of the people.

3 Then Iudas fought against the children of Esau in Idumea at Arabathane: for they dwelt round about the Israelites, where he slue and spoyled a great multitude of them.

4 He thought also vpon the malice and vnfaithfulnesse of the children of Bean, how they were a snare and stop vnto the people, and how they layd waite for them in the high way.

5 Wherefore he shut them vp into the towers, and came vnto them, besieged them, and destroied them vtterly, and burnt vp their towers, with all that were in them.

6 Afterward went he against the children of Ammon, whereof he found a mighty power, and a great multitude of people with Timothie their captaine.

7 So he stroke many battels with them, which were destroyed before him.

8 And when he had slaine them, he wanne Gazer the citie, with the townes belonging thereto, and so turned againe into Iurie.

9 The heathen also in Galaad gathered them together against the Israelites that were in their quarters, to slay them: but they fled to the castle of Datheman,

10 And sent letters vnto Iudas and his brethren, saying, The heathen that are about vs, are gathered against vs on euery side, to destroy vs:

11 And nowe they make them readie for to come and lay siege to the castle whereunto we are fled, and Timothie is captaine of their hoste.

12 Come therefore, and deliuer vs out of their hands, for there is a great multitude of vs slaine alreadie.

13 Yea, and our brethren that were at Tubin are slaine and destroyed, well nigh a thousand men, and their wiues, their children, and their goods haue the enemies ledde away captiue.

14 While these letters were yet a reading, behold, there came other messengers from Galilee with rent clothes, which told euen the same tidings,

15 And said, that they of Ptolemais, of Tyrus, and of Sidon, were gathered against them, and that all Galilee was filled with ‖enemies to destroy Israel. ‖Or, strangers, 16 When Iudas and the people heard this, they came together a great congregation, to deuise what they might do for their brethren that were in trouble, and besieged of their enemies.

17 And Iudas saide vnto Simon his brother, Choose thee out certaine men, and goe, deliuer thy brethren in Galilee: as for me and my brother Ionathas, we will goe into Galaaditim.

18 So he left Iosephus the sonne of Zacharie, and Azarias to be captaines of the people, to keepe the remnant of the hoste in Iurie, 19 And commanded them, saying, Take the ouerlight of this people, and see that ye make no warre against the heathen, vntill the time that we come againe.

20 And vnto Simon he gaue three thousand men, for to go into Galilee: but Iudas himselfe had eight thousand in Galaaditim.

21 Then went Simon into Galilee, and stroke diuers battels with the heathen, whom he discomfited,

22 And followed vpon them into the port of Ptolemais: and there were slaine of the heathen almost three thousand men.

23 So he tooke the spoyles of them, and caried away the Israelites that were in Galilee and Arbatis with their wiues, their children, and all that they had, and brought them into Iurie with great gladnesse:

24 Iudas Machabeus also, and his brother Ionathas, went ouer Iordan, and trauailed three dayes iourney in the wildernesse:

25 Where the Nabathees met them, and receiued them louingly, and told them euery thing that had happened vnto their brethren in Galaaditim:

26 And how that many of them were besieged in Barasa, Bosor, Almis, Casbon, Mageth, and Carnaim (all these are strong walled and mightie great cities,)

27 And that they were kept in other cities of Galaaditim also, and to morow they are appointed to bring their host vnto these cities, to take them, and to destroy them in one day.

28 So Iudas and his hoste turned in all the haste in the wildernesse toward Bosor, and wan the city, slew all the males with the sword, tooke all their goods, and set fire vpon the citie:

29 And in the night they tooke their iourney from thence, and came to the castle:
30 And betimes in the morning when they looked vp, beholde, there was an innumerable people bearing ladders and other instruments of warre, to take the Castle, and to ouercome them.
31 When Judas saw that the battell began, and that the noyse thereof went vp and rang into the heauen, and that there was so great a crie in the city,
32 He sayd vnto his hoste, Fight this day for your brethren:
33 And so came behinde their enemies in three companies, and blewe vp the trumpets, and cryed in their prayer to God.
34 But so soone as Timotheus hoste perceiued that Machabeus was there, they fled from him: and he slewe them right sore, so that there were killed of them the same day almost eighteene thousand men.
35 Then departed Judas vnto Maspha, laid siege vnto it, and wanne it, slewe all the males in it, spoyled it, and set fire vpon it.
36 From thence went he and tooke Casbon, Mageth, Boser, and the other cities in Galaaditim.
37 After this gathered Timothie another hoste, which pitched their tents before Raphon, beyond the water.
38 Judas also sent to spie the hoste, and they brought him word againe, saying, All the Heathen that be round about vs, are gathered vnto him, and the hoste is very great:
39 Yea, they haue hyred the Arabians to helpe them, and haue pitched their tents beyond the water, & are ready to come and fight against thee. So Judas went on to meet them.
40 And Timothie sayd vnto the captaines of his hoste, When Judas and his hoste come nigh the riuer, if he go ouer first, we shall not be able to withstand him: for why? he will be too strong for vs.
41 But if hee dare not come ouer, so that hee pitch his tent beyond the water: then will wee goe ouer, for wee shall be strong ynough against him.
42 Nowe as soone as Judas came to the riuer, hee appointed certaine scribes of the people by the riuer, and commanded them, saying, See that ye leaue none behinde vpon this side of the riuer, but let euery man come to the battell.
43 So hee went first ouer vnto them, and all his people after him, and all the Heathen were discomfited before him, and let their weapons fall, and ranne into the Temple that was at Carnaim,
44 Which citie Judas wanne, and burnt the Temple, with all that were in it: So was Carnaim subdued, and might not withstand Judas.
45 Then Judas gathered all the Israelites that were in Galaaditim, from the least vnto the most, with their wiues and their children, a very great hoste, for to come into the land of Israel.
46 So they came vnto Ephron, which was a mightie, great, and strong citie, and lay in their way: for they could not goe by it, neither on the right hande, nor on the left, but must goe thorowe it.
47 Neuertheless, they that were in the citie would not let them goe thorowe, but walled vp the ports with stones: & Judas sent vnto them with peaceable words, saying,
48 Let vs passe thorowe your land, that wee may goe into our owne country, there shall no body doe you harme, wee will but onely goe thorow on foote. But they would not let them in.
49 Wherefore Judas commanded a proclamation to be made throughout the hoste, That euery man should assault the citie in his order.
50 And so they did their best, like valiant men: and Judas besieged the citie all that day, and all that night, and so wanne it:
51 Where they slewe as many as were males with the edge of the sword, and destroyed the citie, and spoyled it, and went thorow all the citie ouer them that were slaine.
52 Then went they ouer Jordane, into the plaine field before Bethsan.
53 And Judas helped those forwarde that came behinde, and gaue the people good exhortation all the way through, till they were come into the land of Juda.
54 Thus they went vp vnto the mount Sion, where they offered whole burnt offerings with mirth and thankesgiuing, because there were none of them slaine, but came home againe peaceably.
55 Now what time as Judas and Jonathas were in the lande of Galaad, and Simon their brother in Galile before Ptolemais:
56 Then Josephus the sonne of Zacharie, and Azarias, the captaines, hearing of the acts that were done, and of the battailes that were stricken, said,
57 Let vs get vs a name also, and goe fight against the heathen that are round about vs.
58 So they gaue their hoste a commaundement, and went toward Jamnia.
59 Then came Gorgias and his men out of the city to fight against them:
60 Josephus also and Azarias were chased vnto the borders of Jurie, and there were slaine that day of the people of Israel two thousand men: so that there was a great misery among the people of Israel,
61 And all because they were not obedient vnto Judas and his brethren, but thought they should quit themselues manfully.
62 Neuertheless, they came not of the seede of these men by whome Israel was helped.
63 But the men that were with Judas, were greatly commended in the sight of all Israel, and all the heathen whersoeuer their name was heard vpon.
64 And the people came vnto them, bidding them welcome.
65 After this went Judas forth with his brethren, and fought against the children of Esau in the land that lieth toward the South, where he wanne the citie of Hebron, and the townes that lye beside it: & as for the walles and towres round about it, he burnt them vp.
66 Then remooued he to goe into the land of the ‖ Philistines, and went thorow Samaria.
67 At the same time were there many priests slaine in the battaile, which wilfully and without aduisement went out for to fight to get them honour.

68 And when Judas came to Azot, in the Philistines land, he brake downe their altars, burnt the images of their idoles, spoyled their cities, and came againe into the land of Juda.

The vj. Chapter.

Antiochus willing to take the citie of Elimas for a pray, is driuen away of the citizens.

NOw when king Antiochus trauailed thorow the high countreyes, he heard that Elimas in Persia was a noble and plenteous citie in siluer and gold.

2 And that there was in it a very rich temple, whereas were clothes, coat armours, and shields of golde, which Alexander the sonne of Philip king of Macedonia that reigned first in Grecia had left behind him.

3 Wherefore he went about to take the city, and to spoyle it, but he was not able: for the citizens were warned of it, and fought with him.

4 And so he fled, and departed with great heauinesse, and came againe into Babylon.

5 Moreouer, there came one which brought him tidings in Persia, that his hosts which were in the land of Juda were driuen away:

6 And howe that Lysias went forth first with a great power, and was driuen away of the Jewes, how that they had wonne the victorie, and gotten great goods out of the hosts that perished:

7 How they had broken downe the abomination which he set vp vpon the altar at Hierusalem, and fenced the sanctuary with high wals, like as it was afore, yea, and Bethsura his citie also.

8 So it chanced, that when the king heard these wordes, he was afraid, and grieued very sore: wherefore he laid him downe vpon his bed, and fell sicke for very sorowe, and all because it had not happened as he had deuised.

9 And there continued he long: for his grief was euer more and more, so that he saw he must needes die.

10 Therefore he sent for all his friends, and said vnto them, The sleepe is gone from mine eyes, for the very sorow and vexation of heart that I haue.

11 For when I consider in my mind the great aduersitie that I am come vnto, and the floods of heauinesse which I am come in, whereas aforetime I was so mery, and so greatly set by, by reason of my power:

12 Againe, considering the euill that I haue done at Hierusalem, from whence I tooke all the riches of gold and siluer that were in it, and sent to destroy the inhabiters of Jurie without any reason why:

13 I know that these troubles were come vpon me for the same cause: and behold, I must die with great sorow in a strange land.

14 Then called he for one Philip a friend of his, whom he made ruler of all his realme,

15 And gaue him the crowne, his robe, and his ring, that he should take his sonne Antiochus vnto him, and bring him vp, till he might reigne himselfe.

16 So the king Antiochus died there, in the hundred, fourtie and nine yere. Ioseph. cap. 14. lib. 12.

17 When Lysias knewe that the king was dead, he ordeined Antiochus his sonne, whom he had brought vp, to reigne in his fathers stead, and called him Eupator.

18 Now they that were in the castle at Hierusalem, kept in the Jewes round about the Sanctuary, and sought euer still to doe them harme, and the strengthening of the heathen.

19 Wherefore Judas thought to destroy them, & called all the people together, that they might lay siege vnto them.

20 So they came together in the hundred and fifty yere, and besieged them, laying forth their ordenance and instruments of warre.

21 Then certaine of them that were besieged, went forth: vnto whom some vngodly men of Israel ioyned themselues also,

22 And went vnto the king, saying, Howe long will it be yer thou punish, and auenge our brethren?

23 We haue euer bene minded to doe thy father seruice, to walke in his statutes, and to obey his commandements:

24 Therefore our people fell from vs, and whersoeuer they found any of vs, they slewe them, and spoyled our inheritance.

25 And they haue not only medled with vs, but with all our countries.

26 And behold, this day are they besieging the castle at Hierusalem, to take it, and haue made vp the strong hold at Bethsura.

27 And if thou doest not preuent them right soone, they will do more then these, and thou shalt not be able to ouercome them.

28 When the king heard this, he was very angry, and called all his friendes, the captaines of his army, and all his footmen and horsemen:

29 Yee hyred men of warre also of other realmes, pertaining to the kings that were confederate with him, and of the Iles of the sea, which came vnto him.

30 And the number of his hoste was an hundred thousand footmen, and twenty thousand horsemen, and thirty and two Elephants well exercised to battell.

31 These came thorow Idumea vnto Bethsura, and besieged it a long season, and made diuers instruments of warre against it: but the Jewes came out and burnt them with fire, and fought like men.

32 Then departed Judas from the castle at Hierusalem, and remoued the hoste toward Bethzacharan, ouer against the kings armie.

33 So the king arose before the day, & brought the power of his hoste into the way to Bethzacharan, where the hosts made them ready to the battaile, blowing the trumpets.

34 And to prouoke the Elephants for to fight, they shewed them the sappe of red grapes and mulberies,

35 And diuided the Elephants among the hoste: so that by euery Elephant there stood a thousand men well harnessed, and helmets of steele vpon their heads: yea, vnto euery one of the Elephants also were ordeined fiue hundred horsemen of the best,

36 Which waited on the Elephant, going whersoeuer he went, and departed not from him.

37 Euery Elephant was couered with a strong tower of wood, fastened thereon with instruments, whereupon were thirty and two valiant men with weapons to fight, and within was a man of Inde to rule the beast.

38 As for the remnant of the horsemen, he set them vpon both the sides in two partes, with trumpets to prouoke the hoste, and to stirre vp such as were slow in the armie.

39 And when the sunne shone vpon their shields of gold and steele, the mountaines glistered again at them, and were as bright as the cressets of fire.

40 The kings host also was diuided, one part vpon the high mountaines, the other lowe beneath: so they went on, taking good heede, and keeping their order.

41 And all they that dwelt in the land, were afraide at the noyse of their hoste, when the multitude went forth, and when the weapons smote together: for the host was both great and mightie.

42 Judas also and his hoste entred into the battell, and slew fiue hundred men of the kings armie.

43 Now when Eleazar the sonne of ‖ Saura did see one of the Elephants decke with the kings badge, and was a more goodly beast then the other, he thought the king should be vpon him:

44 And ieoparded himselfe to deliuer his people, and to get him a perpetuall name:

45 Wherefore he ranne with a courage vnto the Elephant in the middest of the hoste, smiting them downe on both the sides, and slue many about him.

46 So went hee to the Elephants feete, and gat him vnder him, [a] and slue him: then fell the Elephant downe vpon him, and there he died.

47 Judas also and his men, seeing the power of the king, and the mightie violence of his host, departed from them.

48 And the kings armie went vp against the toward Hierusalem, and pitched their tents in Jurie beside mount Sion.

49 Moreouer, the king tooke truce with them that were in Bethsura: but when they came out of the citie, because they had no victuals, but were shut vp within, and the land lay vntilled.

50 The king tooke Bethsura, and set men to keepe it, and turned his hoste to the place of the Sanctuarie.

51 And layd siege to it a great while, where he made all maner ordinance, handbowes, fiery darts, rackets to cast stones, scorpions to shoote arrowes, and slings.

52 The Iewes also made ordinance against theirs, and fought a long season.

53 But in the city there were no victuals, for it was the seuenth yere of the warres, and those heathen that remained in Jurie, had eaten vp all their store.

54 And in the Sanctuarie were fewe men left: for the hunger came so vpon them, that they were scattered abroad, euery man to his owne place.

55 So when Lysias heard that Philip, whom Antiochus the king, while he was yet liuing, had ordeined to bring vp Antiochus his sonne, that he might might be king,

56 Was come againe out of Persia & Media with the kings hoste, and thought to obtaine the kingdome, with the gouernance of all things:

57 He gate him to the king in al the haste, and to the captaines of the hoste, & said, We decrease dayly, and our victuals are but small: againe, the place that we lay siege vnto is very strong, and it were our part to see for the realme:

58 Let vs agree with these men, & take truce with them, and with all their people, 59 And grant them to liue after their law as they did afore: for they be grieued, and doe all these things against vs, because we haue ‖ despised their law.

60 So the king and the princes were content, and sent vnto them to make peace: and they receiued it.

61 Now when the king and the princes had made an oath vnto them, they came out of the castle,

62 And the king went vp to mount Sion: but when he saw that the place was wel fenced, he brake the oath that he had made, and cõmanded to destroy the wall round about.

63 Then departed he in all the haste, and returned vnto Antioche, where he found Philip hauing dominion of the citie: so he fought against him, and tooke the citie againe into his hands.

The vij. Chapter.

1 Demetrius reigned after he had killed Antiochus and Lysias.

IN the hundred fiftie and one yere, came Demetrius the sonne of Seleucus, from the city of Rome, with a small companie of men, vnto a citie of the sea coast, and there he bare rule.

2 And when he came to Antioch, a citie of his progenitours, his host tooke Antiochus and Lysias, to bring them vnto him.

3 But when it was told him, he said, Let me not see their faces.

4 So the hoste put them to death. Nowe when Demetrius was set vpon the throne of his kingdome,

5 There came vnto him wicked and vngodly men of Israel, whose captaine was Alcimus, that would haue bene made high Priest.

6 These men accused the people of Israel vnto the king, saying, Judas and his brethren haue slaine all thy friends, and driuen vs out of our owne land.

7 Wherefore, send now some man to whom thou giuest credence, that he may go, and see all the destruction which he hath done vnto vs, and to the kings land, and let him be punished, with all his friends and fauourers.

8 Then the king chose Bacchides a friend of his, which was a man of great power in the realme beyond the water, and faithfull vnto the king, and sent him to see the destruction that Iudas had done.

9 And as for that wicked Alcimus, he made him high priest, and commanded him to be auenged of the children of Israel.

10 So they departed from the king and came with a great hoste into the land of Juda, sending messengers to Judas and his brethren, and speaking vnto them with peaceable words, but vnder deceite.

11 There-

11 Therefore Judas and his people beleeued not their saying: for they saw that they were come with a great hoste.

12 After this came the Scribes together vnto Alcimus and Bacchides, to entreat of reasonable couenants.

13 And the Assideans were the first among the children of Israel that required peace of them,

14 Saying, Alcimus the priest is come of the seede of Aaron, how can he deceiue vs, though he come with an armie?

15 So he gaue them louing wordes, & swore vnto them, and said, We will doe you no harme, neither your friends.

16 And they beleeued him: but the verie same day tooke he threescore men of them, and slewe them, according to the wordes that are written,

Psal.79.3. 17 They haue cast the *flesh of the saints, and shed their blood round about Hierusalem, and there was no man that would burie them.

18 So there came a great feare and dread among all the people, saying, There is neither trueth nor righteousnesse in them: for they haue broken the appointment and oath that they made.

19 And Bacchides remooued his hoste from Hierusalem, and pitched his tent at Bethzecha, where he sent foorth and tooke many of them that had forsaken him: he slue many of the people also, and cast them into a great pit.

20 Then committed he the land vnto Alcimus, and left men of warre with him to helpe him: and Bacchides himselfe went vnto the king.

21 And thus Alcimus defended his high priesthood.

22 And all such as vexed Israel, resorted vnto him: in so much that they obtayned the land of Juda, and did much euill vnto the Israelites.

23 Now when Judas saw all the mischiefe that Alcimus and his companie had done (yea more then the heathen themselues) vnto the Israelites, 24 He went foorth round about all the borders of Jurie, and punished those vnfaithfull runnagates, so that they came no more out into the countrey.

25 So when Alcimus saw that Judas and his people had gotten the vpper hand, and that he was not able to abide them, he went againe vnto the king, and said all the worst of them that he could.

2.Mac.15.2 26 *Then the king sent Nicanor, one of his chiefe princes, which bare euill will vnto Israel, and commanded him that he should vtterly destroy the people.

27 So Nicanor came to Hierusalem with a great hoste, and sent vnto Judas and his brethren with friendly wordes: but vnder deceit, saying,

28 There shall be no warre betwixt me and you, I will come with a few men, to see how ye doe, with friendship.

29 Vpon this he came vnto Judas, and they saluted one another peaceably: but the enemies were appointed to take Judas by violence.

30 Neuertheless, it was told Judas that he came vnto him but vnder deceit, wherefore he gate him away from him, and would see his face no more.

31 When Nicanor perceiued that his counsel was bewrayed, he went out to fight against Judas beside ‖ Caphar salama:

‖ Or, Carphasalama.

32 Where there were slaine of Nicanors hoste fiue thousand men, and the residue fled vnto the citie of Dauid.

33 After this came Nicanor vp vnto mount Sion, and the priests with the elders of the people, went forth to salute him peaceably, and to shew him the whole burnt sacrifices that were offered for the king.

34 But he laughed them and the people to scorne, mocked them, defiled their offrings, and spake disdainefully:

35 Yea, and swore in his wrath, saying, If Judas and his hoste be not deliuered now into my hands, as soone as euer I come againe and fare well, I shal burne vp this house. With that went he out in a great anger.

36 Then the priests came in, and stood before the altar of the temple, weeping, and saying,

37 Forsomuch as thou, O Lord, hast chosen this house, that thy Name might be called vpon therein, and that it should be an house of prayer and petition for thy people:

38 Be auenged of this man and his hoste, and let them be slaine with the sword: remember the blasphemies of them, and suffer not them to continue any longer.

39 When Nicanor was gone from Hierusalem, he pitched his tent at Bethoron, and there an hoste met him out of Syria.

40 And Judas came to Adasa with three thousand men, and made his prayer vnto God, saying,

41 *O Lord, because the messengers of king Sennacherib blasphemed thee, the angel went foorth, and slue an hundred fourescore and fiue thousand of them:

Esa.37.36. ecc.48.24. 2.macca.8. 19.

42 Euen so, destroy thou this hoste before vs this day, that other people may know how that he hath blasphemed thy Sanctuary, and punish him according to his maliciousnesse.

43 And so the hostes stroke the field the thirteenth day of the moneth ‖ Adar, and Nicanors hoste was discomfited, and he himselfe was first slaine in the battell.

‖ Februarie.

44 When Nicanors men of warre sawe that he was killed, they cast away their weapons, and fled:

45 But the Jewes followed vpon them a whole daies iourney, from Adazer vnto Gazara, blowing with the trumpets, & making tokens after them.

46 So the Jewes came forth of al the townes round about, and blew out their hornes vpon them, and turned against them: thus were they all slaine, and not one of them left.

47 Then tooke they their substance for a pray, and smote off Nicanors head, and his right hand, which he helde vp so proudly, and brought it with them, and hanged it vp afore Hierusalem.

48 Wherefore the people were exceedingly reioyced, and passed ouer that day in great gladnesse.

49 And Judas ordeined that the same day, namely the thirteenth day of the moneth Adar, should be kept in mirth euery yeere.

50 Thus

The viij. Chapter.

2 Judas considering the power and goodly policie of the Romanes, maketh peace with them. 22 The rescript of the Romanes sent vnto the Iewes.

IVdas heard also the same of the Romanes, that they were mighty and valiant men, and agreeable to all things that are required of them, and make peace with all men which come vnto them,

2 And howe they were doughtie men of strength: besides that, it was told him of their battailes and noble acts which they did in ‖ Galatia, howe they had conquered them, & brought them vnder tribute,

‖ Or, France,

3 And what great things they had done in Spaine: how that with their wisedome and sober behauiour they had won the mines of siluer and gold that are there,

4 And obteined all the land, with other places farre from them: howe they had discomfited & slaine downe the kings that came vpon them from the vttermost part of the earth, and howe other people gaue them tribute euery yere:

5 Howe they had slaine and ouercome Philip and Perses kings of ‖ Cethim: and other moe in battell, which had brought their ordinance against them:

‖ Or, the Macedonians.

6 Howe they discomfited great Antiochus king of Asia, that would needes fight with them, hauing an hundred and twentie Elephants, with horsemen, charrets, and a very great hoste:

7 Howe they tooke himselfe aliue, and ordeined him, with such as should reigne after him, to pay them a great tribute, yea and to finde them good sureties and pledges besides all this:

8 Howe they had taken from him India, Media, and Lydia, his best lands, and giuen them to king Eumenus.

9 Againe, howe they perceiuing that the Greekes were comming to vexe them,

10 Sent against them a captaine of an hoste, which gaue them battell, slew many of them, led away their wiues and children captiue, spoyled them, tooke possession of their land, and destroyed their strong holdes, and subdued them to be their bond men vnto this day.

11 Moreouer, how that as for other kingdomes and Iles, which sometime withstood them, they destroyed them, and brought them vnder their dominion:

12 But kept amity with their owne friends, and those that were confederate with them, and conquered kingdomes both farre and nigh: and that whosoeuer heard of their renowme, was afraid of them.

13 For whom they would help to their kingdomes, those reigned: and whom it liked not them to reigne, they put them downe: and howe they were come to great preeminence,

14 Hauing no king among them, neither any man clothed in purple, to be magnified therethrough:

15 But had ordeined themselues a ‖ parliament, wherein there sate three hundred and twenty Senatours daily vpon the counsell, to dispatch euer the businesse of the people, and to keepe good order:

‖ Or, a counsaile, or Senate house.

16 And howe that euery yeere they chose a ‖ Maior, to haue the gouernance of all their land, to whom euery man was obedient, and there was neither enill will, nor dissension among them.

‖ Or, one man.

17 Then Judas chose Eupolemus the sonne of John, the sonne of ‖ Jacob, and Jason the sonne of Eleazar, and sent them to Rome, for to make friendship, and a bond of loue with them,

‖ Or, Achus,

18 That they might take from them the bondage of the Greekes: for the Iewes saw that the Greekes would subdue the kingdome of Israel.

19 So they went vnto Rome, a very great iourney, and came vnto the ‖ parliament, and sayd,

‖ Or, Senate house.

20 Judas Machabeus, with his brethren, and the people of the Iewes, hath sent vs vnto you, to make a bond of friendship and peace with you, and ye to note vs as your louers and friends.

21 And that matter pleased the Romanes right well.

22 Wherefore it was written by: of the which the Romanes made a writing in tables of brasse, and sent it to Hierusalem, that they might haue by them a memoriall of the same peace and bond of friendship after this maner:

23 God saue the Romanes and the people of the Iewes both by sea and by lande, and keepe the sword and enemy from them for euermore:

24 If there come first any warre vpon the Romanes, or any of their friends throughout all their dominion,

25 The people of the Iewes shall helpe them, as the time requireth, and that with all their hearts.

26 Also they shall neither giue nor send vnto their enemies victuals, weapons, money, nor ships: but fulfill their couenants at the Romanes pleasure, taking nothing of them therefore.

27 Againe, if the people of the Iewes happen first to haue warre, the Romanes shall stand by them with a good will, according as the time will suffer.

28 Neither shall they giue vnto the Iewes enemies victuals, weapons, money, or ships: Thus are the Romanes content to doe, and shal fulfill their charge without any deceit.

29 According to these articles the Romanes made the bond with the Iewes.

30 Nowe after these articles sayd they, If any of the parties will put to them, or take any thing from them, they shall doe it with the consent of both: and whatsoeuer they adde vnto them, or take from them, it shall stand fast.

31 And as touching the euill that Demetrius hath done vnto the Iewes, we haue written vnto him, saying, Wherefore layest thou thy heauie yoke vpon the Iewes our friendes and louers?

32 If they make any complaint of thee againe vnto vs, we shall defende them, and fight with thee by sea and by land according to iustice.

The ix. Chapter.

1 After the death of Nicanor, Demetrius sendeth his armie against Iudas. 18 Iudas is slaine.

IN the meane season, when Demetrius heard that Nicanor and his hoste was slaine in the fielde, hee proceeded further to send Bacchides and Alcimus againe into Iurie, and the chiefe strength of his hoste with them.

2 So they went forth by the way that leadeth vnto Galgala, and pitched their tents before Masaloth (which is in Arbellis) and wan the citie, and slue much people.

3 In the first moneth of the hundred fiftie and two yeere, they brought their hoste, and laid their siege against Hierusalem:

4 But raising their campe, they came to Berea with twentie thousand footmen, and two thousand horsemen.

‖Or, Eleasa. 5 Now Iudas had pitched his tent at ‖ Laisa, with three thousand chosen men,

6 And when they saw the multitude of the other armie that was so great, they were sore afraid, and many conueyed themselues out of the hoste, in so much that there abode no moe of them but eight hundred men.

7 When Iudas sawe that his hoste fayled him, and that hee must needes fight, it brake his heart, that he had no time to gather them together: wherefore the man was in extreme trouble.

8 Neuertheless, he said vnto them that remained with him, Vp, let vs go against our enemies, peraduenture wee shall be able to fight with them.

9 But they would haue stopped him, saying, We shall not be able: therefore now let vs saue our liues, and turne againe to our brethren, for should we fight against them, being so few?

a He which was wont to pray and ouercome, is ouercome when he trusteth in his strength, and omitteth prayer. 10 And Iudas said, a God forbid that wee should flee from them: wherefore if our time be come, let vs die manfully for our brethren, and let vs not staine our honour.

11 Then the hoste remoued out of the tents, and stood against them, and the horsemen were diuided in two parts: and sling casters & archers went before the hoste, and all the mightie men were foremost in the field.

12 Bacchides himself was in the right wing of the battell, and the hoste drew nigh in two parts, and blew the trumpets.

13 They of Iudas side blewe the trumpets also, and the earth shooke at the noyse of the hostes: and they strake a field from the morowe till night.

14 And when Iudas sawe that Bacchides hoste was strongest on the right side, hee tooke with him all the hardie men, 15 And brake the right side of their order, and followed vpon them vnto mount Azot.

16 Now when they which were the left wing, saw that the right wing was discomfited, they pursued Iudas and them that were with him hard at the heeles.

17 Then was there a sore battell: for many were slaine and wounded on both the parts.

18 Iudas also himselfe was killed, and the remnant fled.

19 So Ionathas and Simon tooke Iudas their brother, and buried him in their fathers sepulchre in the citie of Modin.

20 And all the people of Israel made great lamentation for him, and mourned long, saying, 21 Alas that this worthy should bee slaine, which deliuered the people of Israel.

22 As for other things pertaining to the battels of Iudas, the noble acts that he did, and of his worthinesse, they are not written, for they were very many.

Ioseph. cap. 4. lib. 13. antiq. 23 Now after the death of Iudas, wicked men came vp in all the coasts of Israel, and there arose all such as did worke vngodlinesse.

24 In those dayes was there a great dearth in the land, and al the country gaue ouer themselues and their's vnto Bacchides.

25 So Bacchides chose wicked men, & made them lords in the land.

26 These sought out and made search for Iudas friends, and brought them vnto Bacchides, which auenged himselfe vpon them with great despite.

27 And there came so great trouble in Israel, as was not since the time that no Prophet was seene there.

28 Then came all Iudas friendes together, and said vnto Ionathas,

29 For so much as thy brother Iudas is dead, there is none like him to goe forth against our enemies, against Bacchides, and such as are aduersaries of our owne people:

30 Wherefore this day wee chuse thee for him, to be our prince and captaine, to order our battell.

31 And Ionathas tooke the gouernance vpon him at the same time, and ruled in stead of his brother Iudas.

32 When Bacchides gate knowledge thereof, he sought for to slay him.

33 But Ionathas and Simon his brother perceiuing that, fled into the wildernesse of Thecua, with all their company, and pitched their tents by the water poole of Aphar.

34 Which when Bacchides vnderstoode, he came ouer Iordan with all his hoste vpon the Sabboth day.

35 Now had Ionathas sent his brother Iohn a captaine of the people, to pray his friends the Nabuthites, that they would lend them their ordinance, for they had much.

‖Or, Ambri. 36 So the children of ‖ Jambri came out of Madaba, and tooke Iohn, and all that he had, and went their way withall when they had taken it.

37 Then came worde vnto Ionathas and Simon his brother, that the children of Jambri made a great mariage, and brought the bride from Madaba with great pompe: for she was daughter to one of the noblest princes of Chanaan.

38 Wherefore they remembred the blood of John their brother, and went vp, and hid themselues vnder the shadow of the mountaine.

39 So they lift vp their eyes, and looked, and behold, there was much a doe, and great preparation: for the bridegrome came forth, and his friends and his brethren met them with Tympanies, instruments of musicke, and many weapons.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Sss1v

40 Then Jonathas, and they that were with him, rose out of their lurking places against the, and slew many of them: and the remnant fled into the mountaines, and they tooke all their substance.

41 Thus the marriage was turned to mourning, and the noyse of the melody into lamentation

[a] Blood moeth require blood.

42 And so when they had auenged the [a] blood of their brother, they returned againe vnto Jordane.

43 Bacchides hearing this, came vnto the very border of Jordane, with a great power, vpon the Sabboth day.

44 And Jonathas said to his companie, Let vs get vp, and fight against our enemies, for it standeth not with vs to day, as in time past.

45 Behold, our enemies are in our way, the water of Jordane vpon the one side of vs, with banks, fennes, and woods on the other side, so that there is no place for vs to depart vnto.

46 Wherefore cry now vnto heauen, that ye may be deliuered from the power of your enemies: So they strooke the battell.

47 And Jonathas stretched out his hand to smite Bacchides, but he fled backward.

48 Then Jonathas, and they that were with him, lept into Jordane, and swimmed ouer Jordane vnto the further banke: but the other would not passe ouer Jordane after him.

49 And there were slaine of Bacchides side that day a thousand men.

50 Therefore Bacchides with his hoste turned againe to Hierusalem, & built vp the castles and strong holdes that were in Jurie, Jericho, Emaus, Bethoron, Bethel, Thamnata, ‖Phara, and ‖ Thapo, with high walles, with ports, and with lockes:

‖ Or, Pharathoni.
‖ Or, Tepho

51 And set men to keepe them, that they might vse their malice vpon Israel.

52 He walled vp the citie Bethsura, Gazara, and the castle, and prouided them with men and victuals.

53 He tooke also the chiefest mens sonnes in the countrey for pledges, and put them in the castle at Hierusalem to be kept.

54 Afterward, in the hundred fifty and three yeere, in the second moneth, Alcimus commanded that they should destroy the walles of the inward court of the sanctuarie, and hee pulled downe, and began to destroy the mountaines of the Prophets.

55 But at the same time Alcimus was plagued, and smitten with a palsie, and his enterprises were hindered, and his mouth was stopped by God, so that he could no more speake, nor command any of his house concerning his businesse.

56 Thus died Alcimus in great misery at the same time.

57 And when Bacchides saw that Alcimus was dead, he turned againe to the king: and so the land was in rest two yeeres.

58 Then all the vngodly men held a counsell, saying, Behold, Jonathas and his company are at ease, and dwell without care, wherefore let vs bring Bacchides hither, and he shal take them all in one night.

59 So they went, and gaue Bacchides this counsell:

60 Which arose to come with a great host, and sent letters priuily to his adherents which were in Jurie, to take Jonathas and those that were with him: but they might not, for the other had gotten knowledge of their deuise.

61 And Jonathas tooke fifty men of the countrey, which were the ringleaders of them, and slew them.

62 Then Jonathas and Simon, with their company, departed vnto the citie ‖ Bethbasin, which lieth in the wildernesse, and repaired the decay thereof, and made it strong.

‖ Or, Bethbessen.

63 When Bacchides knew this, he gathered all his hoste, and sent word to them that were in Jurie.

64 Then came he and laide siege to Bethbasin, and fought against it a long season, and made instruments of warre.

65 Now Jonathas left his brother Simon in the city, and went forth himself into the countrey, and came with a certaine number,

66 And slew ‖ Odomeras and his brethren, & the children of Phaseron in their tents, so that he began to be strong, and to increase in power.

‖ Or, Odareb.

67 As for Simon and his companie they went out of the citie, and burnt vp the instruments of warre, 68 And fought against Bacchides, and discomfited him: and Bacchides was sore vexed, because his counsell and trauell was in vaine.

69 Wherefore he was wroth at the wicked men [b] that gaue him counsell to come into their land, and slew many of them: then purposed he with his company to goe away into his owne countrey.

[b] Wicked counsell falleth on the counsellers.

70 Whereof when Jonathas had knowledge, he sent ambassadors vnto him, for to make peace with him, and that he should deliuer him his prisoners againe.

71 To the which Bacchides consented gladly, and did according to his desire: yea, and made an oath that he should neuer doe him harme all the dayes of his life.

72 So he restored vnto him all the prisoners that he had taken out of the land of Juda, and then turned and went his way into his owne land, neither proceeded he any further to come vnto the borders of Juda.

73 Thus Israel had no more warre, and Jonathas dwelt at Machmas, and began there to gouerne the people, and destroyed the vngodly men out of Israel.

The x. Chapter.

4 Demetrius desireth to haue peace with Ionathas.
48 Alexander mooueth warre against Demetrius.
50 Demetrius is slaine. 51 The friendship of Ptolemeus and Alexander.

IN the hundred and threescore yere, came Alexander the sonne of ‖ noble Antiochus, and tooke Ptolomais, whose citizens receiued him, and there he reigned.

‖ Or, Epiphanes.

2 When Demetrius heard thereof, he gathered an exceeding great hoste, and went forth against him to fight.

3 Wherefore Demetrius sent letters vnto Jonathas, with louing words, and praised him greatly:

4 For he said, We will first make peace with him before he binde himselfe with Alexander against vs:

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Sss2r

5 Els he shall remember the euill that we haue done against him, his brother, and his people.

6 And so he gaue Jonathas leaue to gather an hoste, to make weapons, & to be confederate with him, & commanded the pledges that were in the castle to be deliuered vnto him.

7 Then came Jonathas to Hierusalem, and read the letters in the audience of all the people, and of them that were in the castle.

8 And therefore were they sore afraide, because they heard that the king had giuen him licence to gather an hoste.

9 Thus were the pledges deliuered vnto Jonathas, which restored them to their parents.

10 Jonathas also dwelt at Hierusalem, and began to build vp, and to repaire the citie:

11 Commanding the workemen to wall it, and the mount Sion round about with free stone, to be a strong hold: and so they did.

12 As for the heathen that were in the castles which Bacchides had made vp, they fled:

13 So that euery man left the place, & went into his owne countrey.

14 Onely at Bethsura remained certaine of the Jewes, which had forsaken the lawe and commaundements of God, for Bethsura was their refuge.

15 Now when king Alexander heard of the promises that Demetrius had made vnto Jonathas, and when it was told him of the battailes and noble actes which he and his brethren had done, and of the great trauels that they had taken,

16 He said, Where shall we find such a man? well, we will make him our friend, and be confederate with him.

17 Vpon this he wrote a letter vnto him, with these words:

18 King Alexander saluteth his brother Jonathas,

19 We haue heard of thee, that thou art a valiant man, and meete to be our friend:

20 Wherefore this day we ordeine thee to be the high priest of thy people, and to be called the kings friend, (vpon this he sent him a purple clothing, and a crowne of gold) that thou maiest consider what is for our profit, and keepe friendship toward vs.

21 So in the seuenth moneth of the hundred and threescore yeere, vpon the solemne feast day of the tabernacles, Jonathas put the holy rayment vpon him: then gathered he an hoste, and prepared many weapons.

22 Which when Demetrius heard, he was marueilous sory,

23 And sayde, Alas, what haue wee done, that Alexander hath preuented vs, in getting the friendshippe of the Jewes for his owne defence?

24 Yet will I write louingly vnto them also, and promise them dignities and rewardes, that they may be of my side.

25 Whereupon hee wrote vnto them these words, King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto the people of the Jewes:

26 Whereas ye haue kept your couenant toward vs, and continued in our friendship, not inclining to our enemies, we were glad when we heard thereof.

27 Wherefore remaine still, and be faithfull to vs, and we shall well recompence you for the things that ye haue done on our part.

28 We shall release you of many charges, and giue you rewards.

29 And now I discharge you & all the Jewes from tributes, I forgiue you the customes of salt, and release you of the crowne taxes, of the third part of seede,

30 And halfe the fruit of trees, which is mine owne dutie, I doe release them from this day forth, so that they shall not be taken of the land of Juda, nor of the three cities which are added thereunto out of Samaria and Galilee, from this day forth for euermore.

31 Hierusalem also, with all things belonging thereto, shall be holy and free, yea, the tithes and tributes shall pertaine vnto it.

32 As for the power of the castle which is at Hierusalem, I remit and giue it vnto the high priest, that he may set in it such men as he shall choose to keepe it.

33 I freely deliuer all the Jewes that are prisoners throughout all my realme, so that euery one of them shalbe free from paying any tribute, yea, euen of their cattell.

34 All the solemne feasts, Sabboths, newe moones, the dayes appointed, the three dayes before and after the feast, shall be free for all the Jewes in my realme.

35 So that in them no man shal haue power to do any thing, or to vexe any of them in any maner of cause.

36 There shall thirtie thousand also of the Jewes be written vp in the kings hoste, and haue their wages payde, as all other men of warre of the kings should haue:

37 Yea, and some of them shall be set ouer the kings secret affaires: and their gouernours and princes shalbe of themselues, and liue after their owne lawes, as the king hath commanded in the land of Juda:

38 And the three cities that are fallen vnto Jury from the country of Samaria, shall be taken as Jury, and be vnder one, neither be subiect to any strange lord, but to the high Priest.

39 As for Ptolomais and the land pertaining thereto, I giue it vnto the sanctuary at Hierusalem, for the necessary expences of the holy things.

40 Moreouer, I will giue euery yere fifteene thousand sicles of siluer of the kings reuenues, out of the places appertaining vnto me.

41 And all the ouerplus which they haue not payd for things due, as they did in the former yeres, from hence forth they shall giue it toward the workes of the temple.

42 And besides this, the fiue thousand sicles of siluer which they receiued yeerely of the accompt appointed for the intertainement of the sanctuary these yeres passed, euen these things shalbe released, because they appertaine to the priests that minister.

43 Item, whosoeuer they be that flee vnto the temple at Hierusalem, or within the liberties thereof, whereas they are fallen into the kings danger for any manner of businesse, they shall be pardoned, and all the goods that they haue in my realme shalbe free.

44 For the building also and repayring of

fol. Sss2v

the worke of the sanctuarie, expences shalbe giuen out of the kings reuenues.

45 Yea, and for the making of the wals round about Hierusalem, for the breaking downe of the old, and for the setting vp of the strong holds in Iurie, shall the costes and charges be giuen out of the kings reuenues.

46 But when Jonathas and the people heard these words, they gaue no credence vnto them, neither receiued them: for they remembred the great wickednesse that he had done vnto Israel, and how sore he had vexed them.

47 Wherefore they agreed vnto Alexander, for he was a prince that had dealt friendly with them, and so they stood by him alway.

48 Then gathered king Alexander a great hoste, and brought his armie against Demetrius.

Iosep.cap.6. lib.13. 49 So the two kings strooke battell together, but Demetrius hoste fled, and Alexander followed after, and fell vpon them.

50 A mightie sore field was it, continuing till the sunne went downe: and Demetrius was slaine the same day.

51 And Alexander sent Ambassadours vnto Ptolome the king of Egypt, with these wordes, saying,

52 For so much as I am come againe to my realme, and am set in the throne of my progenitors, and haue gotten the dominion, ouercommed Demetrius,

53 Conquered our land, and stricken a fielde with him, so that we haue discomfited both him and his hoste, and sit in the throne of his kingdome:

54 Let vs nowe make friendship together: giue me thy daughter to wife, so shall I be thy sonne in law, and both giue thee rewardes and her, according to thy dignity.

55 Ptolome the king gaue answere, saying, Happy be the day wherein thou art come againe to the land of thy progenitors, and set in the throne of their kingdome:

56 And now will I fulfill thy writing:: but meete me at Ptolomais, that we may see one another, and that I may marry my daughter vnto thee, according to thy desire.

57 So Ptolome went out of Egypt with his daughter Cleopatra, and came vnto Ptolomais in the hundred three score and two yere, 58 where king Alexander met him: and hee gaue Alexander his daughter Cleopatra, and maried them at Ptolomais with great worship, like as the maner of kings is to be.

59 Then wrote king Alexander vnto Jonathas, that he should come and meete him.

60 So he went honorably vnto Ptolomais, and there he met the two kings, and gaue them and their friends great presents of gold and siluer, and found fauour in their sight.

61 And there came together against Jonathas certaine wicked men and vngracious persons of Israel, making complaints of him: but the king regarded them not.

62 As for Jonathas, the king commanded to take off his garments, and to clothe him in purple: and so they did. Then the king appointed him to sit by him, 63 And sayd vnto his princes, Goe with him into the middest of the citie, and make a proclamation, that no man complaine against him of any matter, and that no man trouble him for any maner of cause.

64 So it happened, that when his accusers saw the worship which was proclaimed of him, and that he was clothed in purple, they fled euery one.

65 And the king made much of him, wrote him among his chiefe friends, made him a duke, and partaker of his dominion.

Iosep.cap.6 lib.13.anti. 66 Thus Jonathas went againe to Hierusalem with peace and gladnesse.

67 In the hundred, threescore and fifth yere, came Demetrius the sonne of Demetrius, from Creta, into his fathers land:

68 Whereof when Alexander heard tell, he was right sory, and returned vnto Antioch.

69 And Demetrius chose Apollonius, which had the gouernance of Coelosyria, to be his captaine: so he gathered a great hoste, and came vnto Jamnia, and sent word vnto Jonathas the high priest, saying,

70 Darest thou withstand vs thy selfe alone? As for me, I am but laughed to scorne and shamed, because thou diddest haunt thy strength against vs in the mountaines.

71 Nowe therefore if thou trustest in thine own strength, come downe to vs into the plaine field, and there let vs trie the matter together, for thou shalt know that I haue the strength of many cities,

72 And shalt know who I am, and the other that stand by me, which say, That your foote is not able to stand before our face, for thy fathers haue bene twise chased in their owne land.

73 And now how wilt thou be able to abide so great an hoste of horsemen and footemen in the field, whereas is neither rocke, stone, nor place to flee vnto?

74 When Jonathas heard the words of Apollonius, he was mooued in his mind, wherefore he chose ten thousand men, and went out of Hierusalem: and Simon his brother met him, for to helpe him.

75 And they pitched their tents at Joppa: but the citie kept him forth, for Apollonius garison was in Joppa.

76 Then Jonathas layd siege to it, and they that were in the citie for very feare let him in: and so Jonathas wanne Joppa.

77 Apollonius hearing of this, tooke three thousand horsemen, with a great hoste on foote, and went to Azotus, as though he would go further, and came immediatly into the plaine field, because he had so many horsemen, and put his trust in them.

78 So Jonathas followed vpon him to Azotus, & the armie skirmished with his rere ward, and there they strooke the battaile.

79 Nowe had Apollonius left a thousand horsemen behind them priuily in the tents.

80 And whē Jonathas knew that such wait was laid behinde them, they went round about the enemies hoste, and shot dartes at the people, from the morning to the euening.

81 As for Jonathas people, they kept their order as he had commanded them, and the enemies horses were weary.

82 Then brought Simon forth his host, and set them against the footemen (for the horsemen were weary already:) & so he discomfited them, and they fled.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Sss3r

83 And they that were scattered in the fielde, gat them to Azotus, and came into the temple of Dagon their idole, that they might there saue their liues.

84 But Jonathas set fire vpon Azotus, and all the cities round about it, & tooke their goods, and burnt vp the temple of Dagon, with all them that were fled vnto it.

85 Thus were slaine and burnt welnigh eight thousand men.

86 So Jonathas remooued the hoste from thence, and brought them to Ascalon, where the men of the citie came foorth, and met him with great worship.

87 After this went Jonathas and his hoste againe to Hierusalem, with great substance of goods.

88 And when king Alexander heard these things, he thought to doe Jonathas more worship:

89 And sent him a collar of gold, as the vse is to be giuen to such as are of the kings next blood: hee gaue him also the citie of Accaron, with the lands belonging thereto in possession.

The xj. Chapter.

3 The dissention betweene Ptolomeus and Alexander his sonne in lawe. 17 The death of Alexander.

Iosep. cap. 7 lib. 13.

AND the king of Egypt gathered an hoste like the sand that lieth vpon the sea shore, and many ships, and went about through deceite to obteine the kingdome of Alexander, and to ioine it vnto his owne realme.

2 Vpon this he tooke his iourney into Syria, vsing gentle words, so that he was letten into the cities, and men came foorth to meete him: for king Alexander had commanded them so to doe, because he was his father in lawe.

3 Now when Ptolome entred into any city, he left men of warre to keepe it: and this he did throughout all the cities.

4 And when he came to Azotus, they shewed him the temple of Dagon, and Azotus that was burnt vp, with the other things which were destroyed, the dead bodies cast abroade, and the graues that they had made by the wayes side for such as were slaine in the field.

5 And tolde the king that Jonathas had done all these things, to the intent they might get him euill will, but the king sayd not one word thereto.

6 And Jonathas met the king with great honour at Joppa, where they saluted one another, and tooke their rest.

7 So when Jonathas had gone with the king vnto the water that was called Eleutherus, he turned againe to Hierusalem.

8 Nowe Ptolome had gotten the dominion of the cities vnto Seleucia vpon the sea coast, imagining wicked counsels against Alexander, 9 And sent Ambassadours vnto Demetrius, saying, Come, let vs make a bond betwixt vs, so shal I giue thee my daughter that Alexander hath, and thou shalt reigne in thy fathers kingdome.

10 I repent that I gaue Alexander my daughter, for he goeth about to slay me.

11 And thus he slandered Alexander, because he would haue had his realme.

12 Thus hee tooke his daughter from him, gaue her to Demetrius, and forsooke Alexander, so that his malice was openly knowen.

13 And Ptolome came to Antioch, where he set two crownes vpon his owne head, the crown of Egypt, and of Asia.

14 In the meane season was king Alexander in Cilicia: for they that dwelt in those places had rebelled against him.

15 But when Alexander heard of this, hee came to warre against him: so king Ptolome brought forth his hoste, and met him with a mightie power, and chased him away.

16 Then fled Alexander into Arabia, there to be defended: and king Ptolomeus honour increased.

17 And Zabdiel the Arabian smote off Alexanders head, and sent it vnto Ptolome.

18 But the third day after died king Ptolome himselfe, and they whom he had set in the strong holdes, were slaine one of another.

19 And Demetrius reigned in the hundred threescore and seuenth yeere.

20 At the same time gathered Jonathas them that were in Jury, to lay siege vnto the castle which was at Hierusalem, & so they made many instruments of warre against it.

21 Then went there certaine vngodly persons, which hated their owne people, vnto king Demetrius, and told him that Jonathas besieged the castle.

22 So when he heard it, he was angrie, and immediatly came vnto Ptolomais, and wrote vnto Jonathas, that he should not lay siege to the castle, but come and speake with him at Ptolomais in all haste.

23 Neuertheles, when Jonathas heard this, hee commanded to besiege it: hee chose also certaine of the elders and priests of Israel, and put himselfe in peril,

24 And tooke with him gold, siluer, clothing, and diuers presents, and went to Ptolomais vnto the king, and found him gracious.

25 And though certaine vngodly men of his owne people made complaints vpon him,

26 Yet the king intreated him like as his predecessors had done before, and promoted him in the sight of all his friends,

27 Confirmed him in the high priesthoode, with all the worship that he had afore, and made him his chiefe friend.

28 Jonathas also desired the king that hee would make Jurie free, with the three head cities of Samaria, and the lands pertaining thereto: vpon this did Jonathas promise him three hundred talents.

29 Whereunto the king consented, and gaue Jonathas writing of the same, conteining these words.

30 King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto his brother Jonathas, and to the people of the Jewes.

31 Wee sende you heere a copie of the letter which wee did write vnto our cosin Lasthenus concerning you, that ye should know it.

32 King Demetrius sendeth greeting vnto Lasthenus his father.

33 For the faithfulnesse that our friends the people of the Jewes keepe vnto vs, and for the louing kindnesse which they beare toward vs, we are determined to doe them good.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Sss3v

34 Wherefore wee assigne vnto the coastes of Iudea the three gouernements, Afferema, Lydda, and Ramatha, which are added vnto Iurie from Samaria, and all the landes pertaining thereunto, to be freely separated for such as doe sacrifice in Hierusalem, both concerning the paiments which the king tooke yeerely aforetime, and the fruit also of the earth and trees:

35 As for other tithes and tributes that belonged vnto vs, we discharged them therof from this time forth.

36 In like maner we grant vnto them all the customes of salt, and crowne tares, which were brought vnto vs: and this freedome shall they haue firme and stedfast from this time forth for euermore.

37 Therefore see that ye make a copie of these our letters, and deliuer it vnto Jonathas, that it may be set vpon the holy mount in a conuenient place.

38 After this, when Demetrius the king saw that his land was in rest, and that no resistance was made against him, he sent away all his host, euery man to his owne place, except certaine bandes of strangers, whom he brought from the Iles of the heathen: wherefore all his fathers host hated him.

39 Now was there one Tryphon, that had bene of Alexanders part afore, which when he saw that all the host murmured against Demetrius, he went to Simalcue the Arabian, that brought vp Antiochus the sonne of Alexander,

40 And lay fore vpon him to deliuer him this yong Antiochus, that he might reigne in h's fathers stead: hee told him also what great euill Demetrius had done, and how his men of warre loued him not: and so remained there a long season.

41 And Jonathas sent vnto king Demetrius, to driue them out which were in the castel at Hierusalem, and those that were in the fortresses, for they did Israel great harme.

42 So Demetrius sent worde vnto Jonathas, saying, I will not onely do these things for thee and thy people: but at time conuenient, I will doe both thee and thy people great worship.

43 But now thou shalt doe me a pleasure, if thou wilt send me men to helpe me: for all my armie is gone from me.

44 So Jonathas sent him three thousand strong men vnto Antioch, and they came vnto the king, wherefore the king was very glad at their comming.

45 But they that were of the citie, euen an hundred and twentie thousand men, gathered them together in the midst of the citie, & would haue slaine the king:

46 which fled into his court, and the citizens kept the streets of the citie, and began to fight.

47 Then the king called for the Jewes helpe, which came vnto him all together, and went abroade thorow the citie,

48 And slew the same day an hundred thousand men, set fire vpon the citie, and gate many spoiles in that day, and deliuered the king.

49 So when the citizens saw that the Jewes had gotten their will of the citie, and they themselues disappointed of their purpose, they made their supplication vnto the king, saying,

50 Grant vs peace, and let the Jewes cease from troubling vs and the citie.

51 And vpon this they cast away their weapons: thus they made peace, and the Jewes gate great worship in the sight of the king, and in the sight of all that were in his realme, and were spoken of thorowout the kingdome: and so they came againe to Hierusalem with great goods.

52 So the king Demetrius sate in the throne of his kingdome, and had peace in his land.

53 Neuertheless, he dissembled in all that euer he spake, and withdrew himselfe from Jonathas, neither rewarded him according to the benefits which hee had done for him, but troubled him very sore.

54 After this came Tryphon againe with yong Antiochus, which reigned, and was crowned king.

55 Then there gathered vnto him all the men of warre, whome Demetrius had put away: these fought against Demetrius, which fled, and turned his backe.

56 So Tryphon tooke the Elephants, and wanne Antioch.

57 And yong Antiochus wrote vnto Jonathas, saying, I confirme thee in thy priesthood, and make thee ruler of foure countreys, that thou mayest be a friend of the kings.

58 Vpon this hee sent him golden vessels to bee serued in, and gaue him leaue to drinke in gold, to be clothed in purple, and to weare a collar of gold.

59 He made his brother Simon also captaine from the coastes of Tyrus, vnto the borders of Egypt.

60 Then Jonathas tooke his iourney, and went thorow the cities beyond the water of Jordane, and all the men of warre of Syria gathered them vnto him for to helpe him: so he came vnto Ascalon, and they of the citie receiued him honourably.

61 And from thence went hee to Gaza, but they would not let him in: wherefore hee layd siege vnto it, burning vp and spoyling the places that were about the citie.

62 And the citizens of Gaza submitted themselues vnto Jonathas, which made peace with them: but tooke of their sonnes to pledge, sent them to Hierusalem, & went thorow the countrey vnto Damascus.

63 Now when Jonathas heard that Demetrius princes were come into Cades, which is in Galilee, with a great host, purposing to driue him out of the countrey, 64 Hee came against them, and left Simon his brother in the land.

65 And Simon came to Bethsura, and layd siege to it a long season, and discomfited them.

66 So they desired to haue peace with him: which hee granted them, and afterward put them out from thence, tooke the citie, and set men to keepe it.

67 And Jonathas with his host came to the water of Genesar, and betimes in the morning gate them to the plaine field of Azor:

68 And behold, the hostes of the heathen met them in the field, and layd watch for them in the mountaines,

69 So that when Jonathas came against them, the other which were layd to watch, rose out of their places and fought.

70 And they that were of Jonathas side fled euery man, and there was not one of them left except Mathathias the sonne of Absalomus, and Judas the sonne of Calphi the captaine of the hoste.

a Behold the effect of prayer. 71 Then Jonathas rent his clothes, layde earth vpon his head, [a] made his prayer, 72 And turned againe to them in the field, where they fought together, and he put them to flight.

73 Nowe when his owne men that were fled, sawe this, they turned againe vnto him, and helped him to followe vpon all their enemies vnto their tents at Cades, and there they camped.

74 So there were slaine of the heathen the same day three thousand men: and Jonathas turned againe to Hierusalem.

The xij. Chapter.

1 Ionathas sendeth ambassadours to Rome, 2 and to the people of Sparta, to renue their couenant of friendship. 20 Ionathas putteth to flight the princes of Demetrius. 40 Tryphon taketh Ionathas by deceit.

JOnathas seeing that the time was meete for him, chose certaine men, and sent them to Rome, for to stablish and to renue the friendship with them:

2 He sent letters also vnto Sparta, and to other places in like maner.

3 So they went vnto Rome, and entred into the ‖ counsell, and sayd, Jonathas the high priest, and the people of the Jewes, sent vs vnto you, for to renue the olde friendship and bond of loue.

‖Or, senate.

4 Vpon this the Romanes gaue them free passports, that men should lead them home into the land of Juda peaceably.

5 And this is the copy of the letters that Jonathas wrote vnto the Spartians,

6 Jonathas the high Priest, with the elders, priestes, and the other people of the Jewes, send greeting vnto the Spartians their brethren.

‖Or, Darius. 7 There were letters sent long ago vnto Onias the high priest, from ‖ Arius which reigned then among you, that ye are our brethren, as the copie hereunder written doth specifie.

8 And Onias entreated the Ambassador that was sent, honourably, and receiued the letters, wherein there was mention made of the bond of loue and friendship.

9 But as for vs, we neede no such writings, for why? we haue the holy bookes of scripture in our hands to our comfort.

10 Neuertheless wee had rather send vnto you for the renuing of the brotherhood and friendship, least we should be strange vnto you: for it is long since the time that ye sent word vnto vs.

11 Wherefore in the sacrifices that we offer, and other ceremonies vpon the high solemne dayes and other, we alway remember you without ceasing, like as reason is, and as it becommeth vs to thinke vpon our brethren, 12 Yea, and are right glad of your prosperous honour.

13 And though wee haue had great troubles and warres, so that the kings about vs haue fought against vs:

14 Yet would we not be grieuous vnto you, nor to other of our louers and friends in these warres.

15 For we had helpe from heauen that hath succoured vs, so that we are deliuered, and our enemies subdued.

16 Wherefore we chose Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason, and sent them vnto the Romanes for to renue the old ‖ bond of friendship and loue with them.

‖Or, league.

17 We commaunded them also to come vnto you, to salute you, and to deliuer you our letters concerning the renouation of our brotherhood.

18 And now ye shall doe right well to giue vs an answere thereunto.

19 And this is the copy of the writing which Arius the king of Sparta sent vnto Onias.

20 Arius the king of the Spartians, sendeth greeting vnto Onias the high priest:

21 It is found in writing, that the Spartians and Jewes are brethren, and come out of the generation of Abraham:

22 And now, for so much as this is come to our knowledge, ye shall doe well to write vnto vs of your prosperitie.

23 As for vs, we haue written our mind vnto you, our cattell and goods are yours, & yours ours: these things haue we commanded to be shewed vnto you.

24 When Jonathas heard that Demetrius princes were come forth to fight against him with a greater hoste then afore, 25 He went from Hierusalem, and met them in the land of Hemath: for he gaue them not space to come into his owne country.

26 And he sent spies vnto their tents, which came againe & told him that they were appointed to come vpon him in the night season.

27 Wherefore when the sunne was gone downe, Jonathas commaunded his men to watch all the night, and to be ready with weapons for to fight, and set watchmen round about the hoste.

28 But when the aduersaries heard that Jonathas was ready with his men to the battaile, they feared, and were afraid in their hearts, and kindled fires in their tents, brake vp, and gate them away.

29 Neuertheless, Jonathas and his companie knew it not till the morning, for they sawe the fires burning.

30 Then Jonathas followed vpon them, but he might not ouertake them, for they were gone ouer the water Eleutherus.

31 So Jonathas departed vnto the Arabians, which were called Zabadei, slue them, and tooke their goods.

32 He proceeded further also, and came vnto Damascus, and went thorow all the countrey.

33 But Simon his brother tooke his iourney, and came to Ascalon, and to the next strong holdes, departing vnto Joppa, and wanne it,

34 (For he heard that they would deliuer the holde to them that tooke Demetrius part,) wherefore he set men of warre in the citie to keepe it.

35 After this came Jonathas home againe,

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Sss4v

and called the elders of the people together, and deuised with them for to builde vp the strong holdes in Jury, 36 And to make the walles of Hierusalem higher, to set vp an high wall betwirt the castle and the city, for to separate it from the city, that it might be alone, and that men should neither buy nor sell in it.

37 Vpon this they came together for to build vp the city, and for so much as the wall vpon the brooke of the East side, called Caphetetath, was fallen downe, they repaired it.

38 And Simon set vp Adiada in Sephela, and made it strong, setting portes and lockes vpon it.

39 Now when Tryphon purposed to reigne in Asia, to be crowned, and to slay the king Antiochus:

40 He was afraid that Jonathas would not suffer him, but fight against him, wherefore hee went about to take Jonathas, and to kill him: so he departed, and came vnto Bethsan.

41 Then went Jonathas forth against him to the battell, with fortie thousand chosen men, and came vnto Bethsan also:

42 But when Tryphon saw that Jonathas came with so great an host to destroy him, hee was afraid:

43 And therefore hee receiued him honourably, commending him vnto all his friends, and gaue him rewardes, and commaunded his men of warre to be as obedient vnto him, as to himselfe:

44 And sayd vnto Jonathas, Why hast thou caused this people to take such trauaile, seeing there is no warre betwirt vs?

45 Therefore sende them home againe, and choose certaine men to waite vpon thee, & come thou with me to Ptolomais, for I will giue it thee, with the other strong holds, men of warre, and their officers, as for me, I must depart, this is onely the cause of my comming.

46 Jonathas beleeued him, and did as he said, putting away his host, which went into the land of Juda.

47 He kept but three thousand by him, whereof hee sent two thousand into Galilee, and one thousand went with himselfe.

48 Now as soone as Jonathas entred into Ptolomais, the citizens sparred the gates of the city, and tooke him, and slewe all them with the sword that came in with him.

49 Then sent Tryphon an host of footemen and horsemen into Galilee, and into the great plaine field, to destroy all Jonathas company:

50 But when they knewe that Jonathas was taken, and all they slaine that waited vpon him, they tooke counsell together, and encouraged one another, and came forth against them ready to fight.

51 So when they which followed vpō them, sawe that it was a matter of life, they turned backe againe.

52 As for the other, they went into the land of Juda peaceably, and bewailed Jonathas and them that were with him right sore: and Israel made great lamentation.

53 Then all the heathen that were round about them, sought to destroy them.

54 For they sayde, Nowe haue they no captaine, nor any man to helpe them, therefore let vs ouercome them, and roote out their name from among them.

The xiij. Chapter.

1 After Ionathas was taken, Simon is chosen captaine. 17 Of whome Tryphon taking his children and money for the redemption of Ionathas, killeth him and his children.

NOwe when Simon heard that Tryphon gathered a great hoste to come into the land of Juda, and to destroy it,

2 And sawe that the people was in great fearefulnesse and care: he came vp to Hierusalem, and gathered the people together,

3 And gaue them exhortation, saying, Yee know what great battailes I and my brethren, and my fathers house haue fought for the lawe and the sanctuary, and what maner of troubles we haue seene.

4 Through occasion wherof, all my brethren are slaine for Israels sake, and I am left alone.

5 And now let me not spare mine owne life in any manner of trouble, for I am no better then my brethren:

6 But will auenge my people and the sanctuary, our children and our wiues: for all the Heathen are gathered together to destroy vs of very malice.

7 At these wordes the hearts of the people were kindled together,

8 So that they cryed with a loud voice, saying, Thou shalt be our captaine in stead of Judas and Jonathas thy brethren:

9 Order thou our battell, and whatsoeuer thou commandest vs, we shall doe it.

10 So he gathered all the men of warre, making haste to finish all the walls of Hierusalem, which he made strong round about.

11 Then sent he Jonathas the sonne of Absolomus, with a fresh host vnto Joppa, which drone them out that were in the castle, and remained there himselfe.

12 Tryphon also remooued from Ptolomais with a great army, to come into the land of Juda, and Jonathas with him in ward.

13 And Simon pitched his tents at ‖ Addus before the plaine field.

‖ Or, Addidis.

14 But when Tryphon knewe that Simon stood vp in stead of his brother Jonathas, and that he would warre against him, hee sent messengers vnto him, saying,

15 Whereas we haue kept Jonathas thy brother, it is for money that hee is owing in the kings account, concerning the businesse that he had in hand.

16 Wherefore, send now an hundred talents of siluer, and his two sonnes for suretie (that when he is letten forth, he shall not forsake vs) and we shall send him againe.

17 Neuertheless, Simon knew that he dissembled in his words: yet commaunded hee the money and children to bee deliuered vnto him, least the Israelites might haue hated him,

18 And sayde, Because hee sent him not the money and the children, therefore is Jonathas dead.

19 So Simon sent him the children, and an hundred talents: but hee dissembled, and would not let Jonathas goe.

fol. Sss5r

20 Afterward came Tryphon into the lande to destroy it, and went round about by the way that leadeth vnto Ador: but whersoeuer they went, thither went Simon and his hoste also.

21 Nowe they that were in the castle, sent messengers vnto Tryphon, that he should make haste to come by the wildernesse, and to send them victuals.

22 And Tryphon made ready all his horsemen to come the same night: neuertheless, it was a very great snow, so that hee came not because of the snow, but hee remooued and went into the countrey of Galaad.

23 And when he drew nigh Bascama, he slue Jonathas and his sonnes there, 24 And then turned for to goe home into his owne land.

25 Then sent Simon for to fetch his brothers dead coarse, and buried it in Modin his fathers citie.

26 So all Israel bewayled him with great lamentation, and mourned for him very long.

27 And Simon made vpon the sepulchre of his father, and his brethren, a building, high to looke vnto, of free stone, behind and before,

28 And set vp seuen pillars vpon it, one against another, for his father, his mother, and foure brethren,

29 And set great pillars round about them, with armes vpon it, for a perpetuall memorie, and carued shippes beside the armes, that they might be seene of men sailing in the sea.

30 This sepulchre which he made at Modin, standeth yet vnto this day.

Iosephus li. 10. ii. 13.

31 Nowe as Tryphon went forth to walke with the yong king Antiochus, he slue him traiterously, 32 And reigned in his stead, crowned himselfe king of Asia, and did much euill in the land.

33 Simon also built vp the castles in Jurie, making them strong, with high towres, great walles, portes, and lockes, and layd vp victuals in the strong holds.

34 And Simon chose certaine men, and sent them to king Demetrius, to desire him that hee would discharge the land from all bondage, for Tryphon had spoyled it very sore.

|| Or, Addition.

35 Whereupon Demetrius the king answered him, and wrote vnto him after this maner,

36 Demetrius the king sendeth greeting vnto Simon the high priest his friend, with the elders and people of the Jewes:

37 The golden crowne and pretious stone that ye sent vnto vs, haue we receiued, and are ready to make a stedfast peace with you, yea, and to write vnto our officers for to release you concerning the things wherein wee made you free.

38 And the appointment that wee make with you, shall bee firme and stable: the strong holdes which yee haue builded, shall bee your owne.

39 As for any ouersight or fault committed vnto this day, wee forgiue it, and the crowne tare that yee ought vs also: and whereas was any other tribute in Hierusalem, it shall nowe be no tribute:

40 And looke who are meet among you to be in our court, let him be written vp, that there may be peace betwixt vs.

41 Thus the yoke of the heathen was taken from Israel, in the hundreth and seuentieth yeere.

42 And the people of the Jewes beganne to write in their letters and actes on this manner, In the first yeere of Simon the high Priest, a Gouernour and Prince of the Jewes.

43 In those dayes went Simon vnto Gaza, and besieged it round about, where hee set vp ordinance of warre, and wanne a towre, which he tooke.

44 So they that gat into the towre, leapt into the city, which was in a great feare:

45 Insomuch that the people of the city rent their cloathes, and climed vp vpon the walles, with their wiues and children, beseeching Simon to be at one with them, saying,

46 O reward vs not after our wickednesse, but be gracious vnto vs, and we shall doe thee seruice.

47 Then Simon for very pitie would fight no more against them, but put them out of the city, and caused the houses, wherein the images were, to be cleansed, and so entred the city with Psalmes of praise, giuing thankes vnto the Lord.

48 So when hee had cast all abominations out of the city, hee set such men in it as kept the lawe of God, and made the city strong, and builded a dwelling place for himselfe.

49 Now when they in the castle at Hierusalem were kept so straitly that they could not come forth, nor goe into the countrey, and might neither buy nor sell, they were very hungry, and many of them famished to death:

50 Insomuch that they besought Simon to be at one with them, which he graunted them: so he put them out from thence, and cleansed the castle from filthinesse.

51 And vpon the twenty and three day of the second moneth, in the hundred threescore and eleuenth yeere, they entred into it with thankesgiuing, and braunches of Palme trees, with Harpes, Croudes, Cymbals, and Lutes, singing Psalmes and songs of praise vnto God, for that the great enemy of Israel was ouercome.

52 And Simon ordained that the same day should be kept euery yeere with gladnesse, 53 And made strong the hill of the Temple that was beside the castle, where hee dwelt himselfe with his company.

54 Simon also perceiuing that John his sonne was a mightie man of armes, made him captaine of all the hostes, and caused him to dwell at || Gaza.

|| Or, Gazaris.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 Demetrius is ouercome of Arsaces, 11 Simon being captaine, there is great quietnesse in Israel. 18 The couenant of friendship with the Romanes, and with the people of Sparta, is renewed.

IN the hundred threescore & twelft yeere, gathered king Demetrius his hoste, and departed vnto Media, to get him helpe for to fight against Tryphon.

2 Nowe when Arsaces the king of Persia and Media, heard that Demetrius was entred within his borders, he sent one of his princes to take him aliue, and to bring him vnto him.

3 So hee went and slew Demetrius hoste, tooke himselfe, brought him to Arsaces, which kept him in ward.

4 And all the lande of Juda was in rest so long as Simon liued, for he sought the wealth of his people, therefore were they glad to haue him for their ruler, and to doe him worship alway.
5 Simon wan the city of Joppa also for an hauen towne, and made it an entrance into the Iles of the sea.
6 He enlarged the borders of his people, and conquered them more land:
7 He gathered vp many of their people that were prisoners, hee had the dominion of Gaza, Bethsura, and the castle which he cleansed from filthinesse, and there was no man that resisted him.
8 So that euery man tilled his ground in peace, the land of Juda, and the trees gaue their fruit and increase.
9 The Elders sate all in iudgement, and tooke their deuice for the wealth of the land, the young men put on worship and harnesse vpon them.
10 Hee prouided victuals for the cities, and made goodly strong holdes of them, so that the fame of his worship was spoken of vnto the end of the world.
11 For he made peace throughout the lande, and Israel was full of mirth and ioy.
12 Euery man sate vnder his vine & figtrees, and there was no man to fray them away.
13 There was none in the lande to fight against them, for then the Kings were ouercome.
14 He helped those that were in aduersitie among his people, he was diligent to see the law kept: as for such as were vngodly and wicked, hee tooke them away.
15 He set vp the sanctuary, and increased the holy vessels of the temple.
16 When the Romanes and Spartians had gotten worde that Jonathas was dead, they were right sory:
17 But when they heard that Simon his brother was made high Priest in his stead, and how he had wonne the land againe, with the cities in it:
18 They wrote vnto him in tables of brasse, to renue the friendship and bond of loue, which they had made afore with Judas and Jonathas his brethren.
19 Which writings were read before the congregation at Hierusalem. And this is the copie of the letters that the Spartians sent:
20 The Senators and Citizens of Sparta, sende greeting vnto Simon the great Priest, with the elders, priests, and the other people of the Jewes their brethren:
21 When your Ambassadours, that were sent vnto our people, certified vs of your worship, honour, and prosperous wealth, we were glad of their comming.
22 And haue written the ambassage in the publique records in this manner: namely, That Numenius the sonne of Antiochus, and Antipater the sonne of Jason, the Jewes Ambassadours, are come vnto vs for to renue the olde friendship with vs.
23 Vpon this, the people consented that the men should be honourably intreated, and that the copy of their ambassage should be written in the speciall bookes of the people, for a perpetuall memoriall vnto the Spartians: yea, and that we should send a copy of the same vnto Simon the great priest.
24 After this did Simon send Numenius vnto Rome with a golden shielde of a thousand pound weight, to confirme the friendship with them.
25 Which when the Romanes vnderstood, they sayd, What thankes shall wee recompence againe vnto Simon and his children?
26 For hee and his brethren and the house of his father, hath stablished Israel, and ouercommed their enemies, wherefore they granted him to bee free, and confirmed the liberty thereof: therefore they wrote this in tables of brasse, and set it vpon pillars in mount Sion.
27 The copy of the writing is this, The eighteenth day of the moneth Elul, in the hundred threescore and twelfth yeere, in the third yere of Simon the high Priest,
28 In the great congregation of the priestes, rulers of the people, and elders of the countrey at ‖ Saramel, were these wordes openly declared: [Or, Hierusalem,
29 For so much as there was much warre in our land, therfore Simon the sonne of Mathathias, come of the children of Jarib, and his brethren put themselues in perill, and resisted the enemies of their people, that their sanctuarie and law might be maintained, and did their people great worship.
30 Jonathas in like manner, after that hee had gouerned his people, and beene their high Priest, dyed, and lyeth buried beside his elders.
31 After that would their enemies haue troden their holy things vnder foot, destroyed their land, and vtterly wasted their sanctuary.
32 Then Simon withstood them, and fought for his people, spent much of his owne money, weaponed the baliant men of his people, gaue them wages,
33 Made strong the cities of Juda, with Bethsura that lyeth vpon the borders of Jury, where the ordinance of their enemies lay sometime, and set Jewes there for to keepe it.
34 He made fast Joppa also, which lyeth vpon the sea, and ‖ Gaza that bordereth vpon Azotus, where the enemies dweit afore, and there hee set Jewes to keepe it: and whatsoeuer was meet for the subduing of the aduerlaries, that layd he therein. [Or, Gazaris.
35 Now when the people saw the noble acts of Simon, and what worship he purposed to do for them, his godly behauiour and faithfulnesse which he kept vnto them, and how he sought by all wayes the wealth of his people, because hee did all this, therefore they chose him to be their prince and high priest,
36 And in his time they prospered well by him, so that the heathen were taken out of their lande, and they also which were in the city of Dauid at Hierusalem in the castle, where they went out, and defiled all things that were about the sanctuary, and did great harme vnto cleanlinesse:
37 And Simon put men of the Jewes in it, for the defence of the land and city, and set vp the walles of Hierusalem.
38 And king Demetrius confirmed him in his high priesthood

39 For these causes, made him his friend, and did him great worship:

40 For he heard that the Romanes called the Iewes their friends, louers, and brethren: how honourably they receiued Simons ambassadours:

41 How the Iewes and priests consented that he should be their prince and high priest perpetually, till God raised vp the true Prophet:

42 And that hee should bee their captaine to care for the sanctuary, and to set officers vpon the workes thereof, ouer the land, ouer the weapons, ouer the houses of defence, to make prouision for the holy things:

43 And to be obeyed of euery man, and all the writings of the land to be made in his name, that he should be clothed in purple and gold:

44 And that it should be lawfull for none of the people nor priests to breake any of these things, to withstand his wordes, nor to call any congregation in the land without him: that hee should be cloathed in purple, and weare a collar of gold.

45 And if there were any which disobeyed or brake his ordinance, that he should be punished.

46 So all the people consented to allow Simon, and to doe according to these words:

47 Simon also himselfe tooke it vpon him, and was content to be the high priest, the captaine and prince of the Iewes and priestes, and to gouerne them all.

48 And they commaunded to make this writing in tables of braſſe, and fasten it vnto the wall that compasseth the sanctuarie, in an open place:

49 And to laye vp a copy of the same in the treasury, that Simon and his posteritie might haue it.

The xv. Chapter.

The Romanes write letters vnto kings and nations in the defence of the Iewes.

Moreouer King Antiochus the sonne of Demetrius sent letters from the Iles of the Sea, vnto Simon the high Priest and prince of the Iewes, and to all the people,

2 Conteyning these wordes. Antiochus the king sendeth greeting vnto Simon the high priest, and to the people of the Iewes.

3 Forsomuch as certaine wicked men haue gotten the kingdome of our progenitours, I haue purposed to challenge the Realme againe, and to restore it to the olde estate: Wherefore I haue gathered a great hoste, and made ships of warre,

4 That I may goe throwe the countrey, and bee auenged on them which haue destroyed our lande, and wasted many Cities in my realme.

5 And therefore now I make thee free also from all the tributes whereof all kings my progenitors haue discharged thee, and from other customes wherefrom they haue released thee, whatsoeuer they be.

6 Yea, I giue thee leaue to smite money of thine owne within thy land.

7 As for Hierusalem, I will that it be holy and free, and all the weapons and houses of defence which thou hast builded, and keepest in thine hands, shall be thine:

8 Whereas any thing is or shalbe owing vnto the king, I forgiue it thee, from this time forth, for euermore.

9 And when wee haue obtained our kingdome, we shall doe thee, thy people, and the temple great worship: so that your honour shall be knowen throughout the whole world.

10 In the hundred threescore and fourteenth yere, went Antiochus into his fathers land, and all the men of warre came together vnto him, so that few were left with Tryphon.

11 So the king Antiochus followed vpon him, but he fled vnto Dora, which lyeth by the sea side:

12 For he saw that there was mischiefe comming vnto him, and that his hoste had forsaken him.

13 Then came Antiochus vnto Dora, with an hundred and twenty thousand men of armes on foote, and eight thousand horsemen: so hee compassed the city round about, and the shippes came by the sea.

14 Thus they vexed the City by land and by water, in so much that they suffered no man to goe in nor out.

15 In the meane season came Numenius, and they that had bene with him, from the city of Rome, hauing letters written vnto the kings and prouinces, wherein were contained these words,

16 Lucius the consul of Rome, sendeth greeting vnto Ptolome the king:

17 The Ambassadours of the Iewes our friends, being sent from Simon the high priest, and from the people of the Iewes, came vnto vs for to renew the olde friendship and bond of loue, 18 Brought a shield of gold, weighing a thousand pound.

19 Wherefore wee thought it good to write vnto the kings and prouinces to doe them no harme, nor to take part against them, their cities, nor countreys, neither to maintaine their enemies against them.

20 And wee were content to receiue of them the shield.

21 If there be any wicked persons therefore fled from their countrey vnto you, deliuer them vnto Simon the high priest, that he may punish them according to their owne law.

22 The same words wrote the Romanes also vnto Demetrius the king, to Attalus, Araba, Arsaces, 23 And to all regions: as Samsames, to them of Spartia, ‖ Delo, ‖ Mydo, Sicyon, Caria, Samos, Pamphylia, Lycia, Alicarnassem, and to the Rhodes, to Facelidis, Coo, Side, Arado, Coztyna, Gnidum, to Cyprus, and Cyrene.

24 And of euery letter they sent a copy to Simon the high priest.

25 So Antiochus the king brought his hoste vnto Dora the second time, to take it, where he made diuers ordinances of warre, and kept Tryphon in, that he should not goe either in or out.

26 Then sent Simon vnto Antiochus two thousand chosen men to helpe him, with golde, siluer, and other plenteous things.

27 Neuer-

27 Neuertheleſſe he would not receiue them, but brake all the couenant which he made with Simon afore, and withdrewe himſelfe from him.

28 Hee ſent Athenobius alſo a friend of his vnto Simon, for to reaſon with him, ſaying, Ye withhold from mee Ioppa and Gaza, with the caſtle that is at Hieruſalem, which are cities of my realme:

29 Whoſe borders yee haue deſtroyed, and done great euill in the land, hauing the dominion in many other places of my kingdome:

30 Wherefore, deliuer nowe the cities which yee haue taken, with the tributes of the places which yee haue rule vpon without the borders of Iurie:

31 Or elſe giue me fiue hundred talents of ſiluer, yea, and for the harme that ye haue done in the cities, and for the tributes of the ſame, other fiue hundred talents: if no, wee ſhall come and fight againſt you.

32 So Athenobius the kings friend came to Hieruſalem, and when he ſaw the great worſhip and honour of Simon, in golde, ſiluer, and ſo great plentie of ornaments, hee marueiled: and told Simon as the king commanded him.

33 Then anſwered Simon, and ſayde vnto him, As for vs, wee haue neither taken other mens landes, nor withholden them: but onely our fathers heritage, which our enemies had vnrighteouſly in poſſeſſion a certaine time.

34 This heritage of our fathers haue we chalenged in proceſſe of time.

35 And whereas thou complaineſt concerning Ioppa and Gaza, they did great harme to our people, and in our land, yet will we giue an hundred talents for them. Neuertheleſſe, Athenobius anſwered him not one word:

36 But turned againe wrathfully vnto the king, and told him all theſe words, and the great dignitie of Simon, with all that hee had ſeene: and the king was very angrie.

37 And in the meane time fledde Tryphon by ſhip vnto Orthoſias.

38 Then the king made Cendebeus captaine of the ſea coaſt, and gaue him an hoſte of footemen and horſemen,

39 Commaunding him to remooue the hoſte toward Iury, and to build vp the city of Cedron, to make vp the portes, and to warre againſt the people of the Iewes: as for the king himſelfe, he followed vpon Tryphon.

40 So Cendebeus came into Iamnia, and began to vexe the people, to tread downe Iurie, to take the people priſoners, to ſlay them, 41 And to build vp Cedron: where he ſet horſmen, and other men of warre, that they might come forth, and goe through the ſtreets of Iury, like as the king had commanded him.

The xvj. Chapter.

Cendebeus the captaine of Antiochus hoſte, is put to flight of the ſonnes of Simon.

THen came vp Iohn from Gaza, and tolde Simon his father what Cendebeus had done among their people.

2 Vpon this called Simon two of his eldeſt ſonnes, Iudas and Iohn, and ſayd vnto them, I and my brethren, and my fathers houſe, haue euer from our youth vp vnto this day, foughten againſt the enemies of Iſrael: and God gaue vs good fortune to deliuer Iſrael oftentimes.

3 And now, foraſmuch as I am old, and yee by Gods goodneſſe are of a ſufficient age, be yee in ſtead of me and my brother, to goe forth and fight for our people: and the helpe of God bee with you.

4 So hee choſe twentie thouſand fighting men of the countrey, with horſemen alſo, which went forth againſt Cendebeus, and reſted at Modin.

5 In the morning they aroſe, and went into the plaine field, and behold, a mightie great hoſt came againſt them, both of footemen and horſemen: nowe was there a water brooke betwixt them.

6 And Iohn remooued the hoſte toward them: and when he ſawe that the people was afraid to go ouer the water brooke, he went ouer firſt himſelfe: and the men ſeeing this, followed him.

7 Then Iohn ſet his horſmen and footmen in order, the one by the other: for their enemies horſemen were very many.

8 But when they blewe vp the ‖ Priefles trumpets, Cendebeus fled with his hoſt: whereof many were ſlaine, and the remnant gat them to their ſtrong holds. ‖ Or, holy.

9 Iudas alſo Iohns brother was wounded at the ſame time, and Iohn followed ſtill vpon their enemies, till hee came to Cedron, which Cendebeus had builded.

10 The enemies fled alſo vnto the towres that were in the fields of Azotus, and thoſe did Iohn burne vp with fire: thus there were ſlaine two thouſand men of them, and Iohn turned againe peaceably into Iury.

11 And in the field of Iericho was Ptolome the ſonne of Abobus made captaine: which becauſe he had abundance of ſiluer and gold,

12 (For hee had married the daughter of Simon the high prieſt,)

13 Waxed proud in his mind, and thought to conquer the lande, imagining falſhood againſt Simon and his ſonnes, to deſtroy them.

14 Nowe as Simon was going about thorow the cities that were in the countrey of Iury, and caring for them, he came downe to Iericho with Mathathias and Iudas his ſonnes, in the hundred threeſcore and ſeuenteenth yeere, in the eleuenth moneth, called Sabat.

15 Then Ptolome the ſonne of Abobus receiued them, but with deceit, into a ſtrong houſe of his called Dochus, which hee had builded, where he made them a banket, and had hid men there.

16 So when Simon and his ſonnes were merry, and had drunken well, Ptolome ſtood vp, with his men, whome he had hid there, and tooke their weapons, entred into the banket houſe, and ſlew Simon with his two ſonnes, and certaine of his ſeruants.

17 Such great vnthankfulneſſe did Ptolome in Iſrael, and recompenſed euill for good.

18 Then wrote Ptolome theſe things, and ſent vnto king Antiochus, requiring him that he ſhould ſende him an hoſte to helpe him: and ſo ſhould hee deliuer him the lande, with the cities and tributes of the ſame.

19 He ſent other men alſo vnto Gaza, for to take John, & wrote vnto the captaines to come to him, and he should giue them siluer, gold, and rewards.

20 And to Hierusalem he sent other, to take it, and the Sanctuary.

21 Then ranne there one before, and told John in Gaza, that his father and his brethren were slaine, and how that Ptolome had sent to slay him also.

22 When John heard this, he was sore abashed, and layed hands on them that were come to destroy him, and slew them: for hee knewe that they went about to kill him.

23 As for other things concerning John, of his warres, of his noble acts, wherein he behaued himselfe manfully, of the building of walles which he made, and other of his deedes, 24 They are written in the Chronicles of his Priesthood, from the time forth that hee was made high Priest after his father.

The end of the first booke of the Machabees.

The second booke of the Machabees.

The first Chapter.

1 An Epistle of the Iewes that dwelt at Hierusalem, sent vnto them that dwelt in Egypt, wherein they exhort them to giue thankes for the death of Antiochus. 19 Of the fire that was hidde in the pit. 24 The prayer of Nehemias.

THE brethren of the Iewes which be at Hierusalem, and in the land of Iurie, wish vnto these brethren of the Iewes that are throughout Egypt, health and peace.

2 God bee gracious vnto you, and thinke vpon his couenant that he made with Abraham, Isahac, and Jacob, his faithfull seruants:

3 And giue you all such an heart, that yee may loue and serue him, yea, and performe his wil with an whole heart, and a willing minde:

4 He open your hearts vnto his Law, and in his Commandements, and send you peace,

5 Heare your prayers, bee at one with you, and neuer forsake you in time of trouble.

6 For so much as now wee here be praying for you,

7 What time as Demetrius reigned, in the hundred threescore and nine yeere, wee Iewes wrote vnto you in the trouble and violence that came vnto vs in those yeeres, after that Jason departed out of the holy land and kingdome.

8 They burnt vp the ports, and shed innocent blood: then made wee our prayer vnto the Lord, and were heard, wee offered vp sacrifices and fine floure, and lighted the lampes, and set forth the bread.

Leuit. 23, 24. ‖ November.

9 *And now come yee vnto the feast of Tabernacles, in the moneth ‖ Casleu.

10 In the hundred fourescore and eighteene yeere, the people that was at Hierusalem, and in Iurie, the counsaile, and Judas himselfe, sent this wholesome salutation vnto Aristobulus Ptolomes master, which came of the generation of the anoynted Priests, and to the Iewes that were in Egypt:

11 Insomuch as God hath deliuered vs from great perils, we thanke him highly, no lesse at al then if we had banquished the King in battel.

12 For when hee, with those that had fought against the holy citie, did set vpon Persia:

13 For as he was in Persia, namely the captaine with the great host, he perished in the temple of Naneas, being deceiued through the deuice of Naneas Priests.

14 For when Antiochus, as hee that should marry with her, came, and his friendes with him, into the place to receiue by name of dowrie the money which the priests of Naneas had set forth, 15 He entred with a small company into the compasse of the temple, and so they shutte the temple.

16 Now when Antiochus entred by opening the priuie entrance of the Temple, the priestes stoned the captaine to death, hewed them in pieces that were with him, smote off their heads, and threw them out.

17 In all things God be praised, which hath deliuered the wicked into our handes to bee punished.

18 Whereas wee are now purposed to keepe the purification of the Temple vpon the twentie & fifth day of the moneth Casleu, we thought necessary to certifie you thereof, that yee also might keepe the Tabernacles feast day, and the day of the fire, which was giuen vs when Nehemias offred, after that he had set vp the Temple and the Altar.

19 For what time as our fathers were led away into Persia, the Priests which then sought the honour of God, tooke the fire priuily from the Altar, and hid it in a valley, where as was a deepe dry pit: and therein they kept it, so that the place was vnknowen to euery man.

20 Now after many yeeres, when it pleased God that Nehemias should bee sent from the King of Persia, he sent the children's children of those Priestes which had hid the fire, to seeke it: and as they told vs, they found no fire, but thicke water.

21 Then commanded he them to draw it vp, and to bring it him, and the offerings withall: Nowe when the sacrifices were layd on, and ordered, Nehemias commanded the Priestes to sprinckle them and the wood with water.

22 When this was done, and the time come that the Sunne shone which afore was hid in the cloude, there was a great fire kindled, insomuch that euery man marueiled.

23 Nowe all the Priestes prayed while the sacrifice was a making: Jonathas prayed first, and the other gaue answere.

24 And Nehemias prayer was after this maner, O Lord God, maker of all things, thou fearfull and strong, thou righteous and mercifull, thou that art onely a gracious King,

25 Onely liberall, onely iust, Almighty and euerlasting, thou that deliuerest Israel from all trouble, thou that hast chosen the fathers, and hallowed them fauourably:

26 Receiue the offering for thy whole people of Israel, preserue thine owne portion, and hallow it,

27 Gather those together that are scattered abroad from vs, deliuer them that are vnder the heathens bondage, looke vpon them which are despised and abhorred: that the heathen may knowe and see howe that thou onely art God, which art our God.

28 Punish them that oppresse and proudly put vs to dishonour.

29 Set thy people againe in thine holy place, like as *Moses hath spoken. Deut. 30.5.

30 And the Priests sung Psalmes of thanksgiuing, so long as the sacrifice endured.

31 Nowe when the sacrifice was burnt, Nehemias cõmanded the great stones to be sprinckled with the residue of the water.

32 Which when it was done, there was kindled a flame of them also: but it was consumed through the light that shined from the Altar.

33 So when this matter was knowen, it was tolde the King of Persia, that in the place where the Priests which were led away, had hid fire, there appeared water, and that Nehemias and his company had purified the sacrifices withall.

34 Then the King, considering and pondering the matter diligently, inclosed the place, and consecrated a Temple, to prooue the thing that was done:

35 And when he found it so in deede, he gaue the Priestes many gifts, and diuers rewards, yea, hee tooke them with his owne hande, and gaue them.

a Ephthar, which is to say, a fainting: it is also called Nephi, or Nephthar, which is a cleansing.

36 And Nehemias called ỹ same place [a]Nephthar, which is as much to say, as a cleansing: but many men call it Nephi.

The ij. Chapter.

4 How Ieremie hid the Tabernacle, the Arke, and the Altar in the hill. 21 Of the fiue bookes of Iason conteined in one.

Iere. 29. 8.

IT is founde also in the *writings of Ieremie the Prophet, that hee commanded them which were caried away, to take fire, as it is layd afore.

2 He commanded them also that they should not forget the Lawe and Commandements of the Lord, and that they should not erre in their minds, when they see images of siluer and gold, with their ornaments.

3 These and such other things commanded he them, and exhorted them that they should not let the Law of God goe out of their hearts.

4 It is written also, how the Prophet at the commandement of God, charged them to take the Tabernacle and the Arke with them: and he went forth vnto the mountaine where Moses climed vp, and saw the heritage of God.

5 *And when Ieremie came there, he found an open caue, wherein he layed the Tabernacle, the Arke, and the Altar of incense, and so stopped the doore. Deut. 34.1.

6 There came certaine men together also, following him to marke the place, but they could not finde it.

7 Which when Ieremie perceiued, he reproued them, saying, As for that place it shall be vnknowen, vntill the time that God gather his people together againe, and receiue them vnto mercie.

8 Then shall God shewe them these things, and the maiestie of the Lord shall appeare, and the cloude also, like as it was shewed vnto Moses: and like as when Salomon desired that the place might bee honourably sanctified, and it was shewed him.

9 For he being a wise man, handled honourably and wisely, *offering vnto God in the hallowing of the Temple when it was finished. 2. Reg. 8.5

10 * And like as when Moses prayed vnto the Lord, the fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the burnt offering: euen so prayed * Solomon also, and the fire came downe from heauen, and consumed the whole burnt offering. Leuit. 9.24. 2. Chr. 7.2.

11 And Moses saide, *Because the sinne offering was not eaten, therefore it is consumed. Leu. 10.18.

12 In like maner Solomon kept the dedication or hallowing, eight dayes.

13 In the annotations and writings of ‖ Ieremie were these things put also: and how hee made a libzarie, and how he gathered out of all countreys the bookes of the Kings, and of the Prophets, and of Dauid, and the Epistles of the Kings concerning the holy gifts. ‖ Some read Nehemias.

14 Euen so Judas also, looke what he learned by experience of warre, and such things as haue happened vnto vs, he gathered them all together, and so we haue them by vs.

15 If yee now desire to haue the same, sende some body to fetch them vnto you.

16 Whereas we then are about to celebrate the purification, wee haue written vnto you: therefore ye shall doe well if yee keepe the same dayes.

17 We hope also that the God which deliuered his people, and gaue them all the heritage, kingdome, priesthood, and Sanctuary,

18 *That he promised them in the Law, shall shortly haue mercy vpon vs, and gather vs together from vnder the heauen into his holy place, for he hath saued vs from great perils, and hath cleansed the place. Deut. 30.5.

19 As concerning Judas Machabeus, and his brethren, the purification of the great Temple, the dedication of the Altar:

20 Yea, and of the warres that concerne noble Antiochus, and Eupator his sonne:

21 And the miracles shewed from heauen by the valiant actes of those which defended the Jewes Religion, so that a fewe ranne through the whole countrey, and draue away the barbarous armies:

22 Repaired againe the Temple that was spoken of throughout all the world, deliuered the citie, doing their best, that the Lawe of the Lord which was put downe, might with all tranquilitie bee restored againe vnto the Lord that was so mercifull vnto them:

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Ttt2r

23 As touching Jason also of Cyrene, wee haue vndertaken compendiously to bring into one booke the things that were comprehended of him in fiue.

24 For wee considering the multitude of the bookes, and how hard it should be for them that should meddle with stories and acts, and that because of so diuers matters:

25 Haue vndertaken so to comprehend the stories, that such as are disposed to reade, might haue pleasure and pastime therin, and that they which are diligent in such things, might the better thinke vpon them: yea, and that whosoeuer read them, might haue profite thereby.

26 Neuertheless, wee our selues that haue medled with this matter, for the shortning of it, haue taken no small labour, but great diligence, watchings, and trauel.

27 Like as they that make a feast, would faine do other men pleasure: euen so we also for many mens sakes, are very well content to take the labour:

28 Whereas we may shortly comprehend the things that other men haue truely written.

29 For he that buildeth an house anew, must prouide for many things to the whole building: but hee that painteth it afterward, seeketh but onely that is comely, meete, and conuenient to garnish it withall.

30 Euen so doe wee also in like maner: and why? hee that beginneth first to write a story, must with his vnderstanding gather the matter together, set his words in order, and diligently seeke out euery part.

31 But hee that afterward will shorten it, vseth few words, and toucheth not the matter at the largest: let this be sufficient for a prologue.

32 Now will wee begin to shewe the matter: for it is but a foolish thing to make a long prologue, and to be short in the story it selfe.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Of the honour done vnto the Temple by the Kings of the Gentiles. 6 Simon vttereth what treasure is in the Temple.

WHat time as the holy citie was inhabited in all peace and wealth, and when the lawes were yet very well kept: for so was it ordeined through the godlinesse of Onias the high Priest, and other godly men that were enemies to wickednesse,

2 It came thereto, that euen the Kings and princes themselues did the place great worship, and garnished the Temple with great gifts:

3 Insomuch that Seleucus king of Asia, of his owne rents bare all the costes belonging to the seruice of the offerings.

4 Then Simon of the tribe of Beniamin, being ruler of the Temple, vpon a variance risen betweene him and the high Priest for wickednesse that was done in the citie,

5 For that hee coulde not ouercome Onias, he gat him to Apollonius the sonne of Tharsia, which then was chiefe lord in Coelosyria, and Phenice,

6 And tolde him that the treasure in Hierusalem was full of immunerable money, and how that the common goods which belong not vnto the offerings, were exceeding great also: yea, and howe it were possible that all these might come vnder the Kings power.

7 Nowe when Apollonius had shewed the King of the money, as it was told him: the king called for Heliodorus his treasurer, and sent him with a commandement to bring him the same money.

8 Immediatly Heliodorus tooke his iourney, but vnder a colour as though he would goe through Coelosyria and Phenice to visite the cities, but his purpose was to fulfill the Kings pleasure.

9 So when hee came to Hierusalem, and was louingly receiued of the high Priest into the citie, he tolde what was determined concerning the money, and shewed the cause of his comming: he asked also if it were so in deed.

10 Then the high Priest told him, that there was such money layed vp for the vpholding of widowes and fatherlesse children,

11 And how that a certaine of it belonged vnto Hircanus the sonne of Tobias, a noble man, and that of all the money (and not as that wicked Simon had reported) there were foure hundred talents of siluer, and two hundred of gold:

12 Yea, and that it were vnpossible for those mens meaning to be deceiued, that had put allured confidence in the holinesse of the place, and in the maiestie and vndoubted safetie of the Temple, which is had in worship throwe the whole world, for the maintenance and honour of the same.

13 Whereunto Heliodorus answered, that the King had commanded him in any wise to bring him the money.

14 So at the day appointed, Heliodorus entred into the temple to order this matter: wherfore there was no small feare throwout the whole citie.

15 The Priestes fell downe before the Altar in their vestments, and called vnto heauen vpon him which had made a lawe concerning stuffe giuen to keepe, that they should bee safely preserued for such as committed them vnto keeping.

16 Then who so had looked the high Priest in the face, it would haue grieued his heart: for his countenance and the changing of his colour, declared the inward sorrow of his minde.

17 The man was all in heauinesse, and his body in feare: whereby they that looked vpon him might perceiue the griefe of his heart.

18 The other people also came out of their houses by heapes vnto the common prayer, because the place was like to come into confusion:

19 The women came together through the streets with hairie clothes about their breastes: the virgines also that were kept in, ranne to Onias, some of them ranne to the gates, some vp vpon the walles, other some looked out at the windowes, 20 Yea, they all held vp their hands toward heauen, and prayed.

21 A miserable thing was it to looke vpon the common people, and the high Priest, being in such trouble.

22 But they besought Almighty God, that the goods which were committed vnto them, might bee kept whole for those that had deliuered them vnto their keeping.

23 Neuertheless, the thing that Heliodorus was determined to doe, that performed hee in the same place, hee himselfe personally being about the treasury with his men of warre.

fol. Ttt2v

24 But the Spirit of Almighty God shewed himselfe openly, so that all they which presumed to obey Heliodorus, fell through the power of God, into a great fearefulnesse and dread.

25 For there appeared vnto them an horse, with a terrible man sitting vpon him, decked in goodly aray, and the horse smote at Heliodorus with his forefeete: nowe hee that sate vpon the horse had harnesse of golde vpon him.

26 Moreouer, there appeared two faire and beautifull yong men, of notable strength, in goodly aray, which stood by him, scourged him on both the sides, and gaue him many stripes without ceasing.

27 With that fell Heliodorus suddenly vnto the ground: so they tooke him vp, being compassed about with great darkenes, and bare him out vpon a beere.

28 Thus hee that came with so many runners and men of warre into the said Treasurie, was borne out, whereas no man might helpe him, being destitute of harnesse and weapons: and so the power of God was manifest and knowen.

29 Hee lay still dumbe also by the power of God, destitute of all hope and life.

30 And they prayed the Lord, that hee had shewed his power vpon his place and Temple, which a little afore was full of feare and trouble, and that through the reuelation of the Almightie Lord it was filled with ioy and gladnesse.

31 Then certaine of Heliodorus friends prayed Onias, that in all haste hee would call vpon God, to graunt him his life which was giuing vp the ghost.

32 So the high Priest, fearing least the king should suspect that the Iewes had done Heliodorus some [a] euill, he offered an offering for his health.

a In working some treachery or sorcerie against him.

33 Now when the high Priest had obteined his petition, the same yong men in the same clothing appeared, and stood beside Heliodorus, saying, Thanke Onias the high Priest: for, for his sake hath the Lord granted thee thy life.

34 Therefore seeing that God hath scourged thee, giue him praise and thanks, and shew euery man his might and power. And when they had spoken these words, they appeared no more.

35 So Heliodorus offered vnto God, made great vowes vnto him which had granted him his life, thanked Onias, took his host, and went againe to the King.

36 Then testified hee vnto euery man of the great workes of God, that he had seene with his eyes.

37 And when the King asked Heliodorus who were meete to bee sent yet once againe to Hierusalem, he said,

38 If thou hast any enemie or aduersary vnto thy Realme, send him thither, and thou shalt haue him punished, if he escape with his life: for in that place no doubt there is a speciall power and working of God.

39 For hee that dwelleth in heauen, visiteth, and defendeth that place, and all that come to do it harme, he punisheth and plagueth them.

40 This is nowe the matter concerning Heliodorus, and the keeping of the Treasurie at Hierusalem.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 Simon reporteth euill of Onias. 7 Iason desiring the office of the high Priest, corrupted the King with rewards.

THis Simon nowe (of whom wee spake afore) being a bewrayer of the money, and of his owne naturall countrey, reported the worst of Onias, as though he had moued Heliodorus vnto this, and as though hee had bene a bringer vp of euill.

2 Thus was hee not ashamed to call him an enemie of the Realme, that was so faithfull an ouerseer and defender of the citie and of his people, yea, and so feruent in the Law of God.

3 But when the malice of Simon increased so farre, that through his friends there were certaine manslaughters committed:

4 Onias considered the perill that might come through this strife, and how that Apollonius the chiefe lord in Coelosyria and Phenice was all set vpon tyrannie, and Simons malice increased the same.

5 Hee gate him to the King, not as an accuser of the citizens, but as one that by himselfe intended the common wealth of the whole multitude:

6 For hee sawe it was not possible to liue in peace, neither Simon to leaue off from his foolishnesse, except the King did looke thereto.

7 But after the death of Seleucus, when Antiochus, which is called the noble, tooke the kingdome, Iason the brother of Onias laboured to be high Priest:

8 For he came vnto the King, and promised him three hundred and threescore talents of siluer, and of the other rents foure score talents.

9 Besides this, he promised him yet an hundred and fiftie more, if hee might haue licence to set vp a schoole and an exercise of weapons, and that he might call them of Hierusalem, Antiochians.

10 which when the King had granted, and he had gotten the superioritie, he began immediatly to draw his kinsmen to the custome of the heathen.

11 Put downe the things that the Iewes had set vp of loue by John the father of Eupolemus, which was sent Ambassador vnto Rome, for to make the bond of friendship and loue, hee put downe all the lawes and liberties of the Iewes, and set vp the wicked statutes.

12 For whē he had made a schoole of fence vnder the castle, he drew all the chiefest yong men on his side, and trained them to weare [a] hats.

a These hats were tokens of vanitie among the Grecians.

13 And there was such a feruent desire to come to the manners of the heathen, and to take vp new strange fashions, brought in through the vngracious and vnheard wickednesse of Iason, which should not be called a Priest, but an vngodly person:

14 Insomuch that the Priests were now no more occupied about the seruice of the Altar: but despised the Temple, regarded not the offrings, yea, gaue their diligence to learne to fight, to wrastle, to leape, to daunce, and to cast the stone:

15 Not setting by the honour of the fathers, but liked the glory of the Greekes best of all:

16 For the which they throue perilously,

and

and were greedy to followe their statutes, yea, their iust was in all things to bee like them, which afore were their enemies and destroyers.

17 Howbeit, to doe wickedly against the law of God, shall not escape vnpunished: but of this we shall speake hereafter.

‡ These were kept euery fift yere.

18 What time as the ‡ Olympian sportes were played at Tyrus, the king himselfe being present,

19 This vngratious Jason sent wicked men, bearing from them of Hierusalem (which nowe were called Antiochians) three hundred dragmes of siluer, for an offering to Hercules: these had they that caried them desired, vnder such a fashion as though they should not haue bene offered, but bestowed to other vses.

20 Neuertheles, he that sent them, sent them to the intent that they should bee offered vnto Hercules: but because of those that were present, they were giuen as to the making of ships.

21 And Apollonius the sonne of Menestheus was sent into Egypt, because of the noble men of king Ptolome Philometor. Now when Antiochus perceiued that hee was put out from b From his honour and games.

b medling in the realme, he sought his owne profit, departed from thence, came to Joppa, and then to Hierusalem, 22 Where he was honourably receiued of Jason, and of the citie, and was brought in with torch light, and with great praise: and so he turned his host vnto Phenices.

23 After three yeeres, Jason sent Menelaus (the foresayd Simons brother) to beare the money vnto the king, and to bring him an answere of other necessary matters.

24 But he when he was commended to the king for magnifying of his power, turned the Priesthood vnto himselfe, laying vp three hundred talents of siluer for Jason.

25 So when he had gotten commandements from the king, he came hauing nothing that becommeth a Priest, but bearing the stomacke of a cruell tyrant, and the wrath of a wilde bruite beast.

26 Then Jason, which had deceiued his own brother, seeing that hee himselfe was beguiled also, was faine to flee into the land of the Ammonites, 27 And Menelaus gate the dominion, but as for the money that hee had promised vnto the king, he did nothing therein, albeit Sostratus the ruler of the castle required it of him.

28 For Sostratus was the man that gathered the customes: wherefore they were both called before the king.

29 Thus was Menelaus put out of the Priesthood, and Lysimachus his brother came in his stead, and Sostratus left Crates ouerseer of the c That is, of them that measured the coyne.

c Cyprians.

30 It happened in the meane season, that the Tharsians and Mallotians made insurrection, because they were giuen for a present vnto Antiochis the kings concubine.

31 Then came the king in all haste to still them againe, and to pacifie the matter, leauing Andronicus there to be his deputy, as one meete therefore.

32 Nowe Menelaus supposing that hee had gotten a right conuenient time, stole certaine vessels of gold out of the Temple, and gaue them to Andronicus for a present: and some hee solde at Tyrus, and in the cities there by.

33 Which when Onias knew of a suretie, he reproued him: but he kept him in a sanctuarie beside Daphnis, that lieth by Antioch.

34 Wherefore Menelaus gat him to Andronicus, and prayed him that hee would slay Onias. So when he came to Onias, hee counselled him craftily to come out of the sanctuary, giuing him his hand with an othe (howbeit he suspect him) and then he slew Onias without any regard of righteousnesse.

35 For the which cause not onely the Jewes, but other nations also, tooke indignation, and were displeased for the vnrighteous death of so godly a man.

36 And when the king was come againe from Cilicia, the Jewes and certaine of the Greekes went vnto him, complaining for the vnrighteous death of Onias.

37 Yea, Antiochus himselfe was sorie in his minde for Onias, so that it pitied him: and hee wept, remembring his soberneſſe, and manerly behauiour.

38 Wherefore he was so kindled in his mind, that hee commanded Andronicus to be stripped out of his purple clothing, and so to be led thorowout the citie, yea, and the vngracious man to bee slaine in the same place where hee committed his wickednesse vpon Onias: thus the Lord rewarded him his punishment, as hee had deserued.

39 Now when Lysimachus had done many wicked deedes in the Temple through the counsell of Menelaus, and the voice came abroade: the multitude gathered them together against Lysimachus, for hee had caried out now much gold.

40 So when the people arose, and were full of displeasure, Lysimachus armed three thousand vnthrifts to defend him, a certaine tyrant being their captaine, which was growen both in age and woodnesse.

44 They therefore seeing the enterprise of Lysimachus, caught vp, some stones, some blockes ends, and some handfuls of dust that was next at hand, and threw them vpon the rebels of Lysimachus band that had set vpon them.

42 Thus there were many of them wounded, some being slaine, and all the other chased away: but as for the wicked Churchrobber himselfe, they killed him beside the treasurie.

43 Of these matters therefore there was kept a court against Menelaus.

44 Now when the king came to Tyrus, three men that were sent from the Senate, pleaded him guiltie before the king.

45 But Menelaus being now conuict, went and promised Ptolome the sonne of Dorymenes to giue him much money, if he would pacifie the king toward him.

46 So Ptolome went to the king into a court, whereas hee was set to coole him, and brought him out of that mind:

47 Insomuch that he discharged Menelaus from the accusations, that notwithstanding was cause of all mischiefe: and those poore men, which if they had told their cause, yea, before the Scythians, they should haue bene iudged innocent, them he condemned to death.

48 Thus were they soone punished, which followed vpon the matter for the citie, for the people, and for the holy vessels.

49 Wherefore they also of Tyrus, moued with hatred of that wicked deede, caused them to bee very honourably buried.

50 And so through the couetousnes of them that were in power, Menelaus remained still in authoritie, increasing in malice, to the hurt of the citizens.

The v. Chapter.

2 Of the signes and tokens seene in Hierusalem. 6 Of the ende and office of Iason. 11 The pursuit of Antiochus against the Iewes.

ABout the same time Antiochus vndertooke his second voyage into Egypt.

2 And then were there seene throughout all the citie of Hierusalem fourtie dayes long, horsemen running in the ayre, with robes of golde, and as bands of speareman,

3 And troupes of horsemen set in aray, incountering and coursing one against another, with shaking of shields, and multitude of darts, and drawing of swords, & shooting of arrowes, and the glittering of the golden armour seene, and harnesse of all sorts.

4 Wherefore euery man prayed, that those tokens might turne to good.

5 Now when there was gone foorth a false rumour, as though Antiochus had bene dead: Iason tooke a thousand men, and came suddenly vpon the citie: the citizens ran vnto the walles: at the last was the citie taken, and Menelaus fled into the castle.

6 As for Iason, hee spared not his owne citizens in the slaughter, neither considered hee what great euill it were, to destroy the prosperitie of his owne kinsmen: but did as one that had gotten the victory of his enemies, and not of his friends.

7 For all this gate hee not the superiorities, but at the last receiued confusion for his malice, and fled againe like a vagabond into the land of the Ammonites.

8 Finally, for a reward of his wickednesse, he was accused before Aretha the king of the Arabians, insomuch that he was faine to flee from citie to citie, being despised of euery man as a forsaker of the lawes, and an abominable person: and at the last, as an open enemie of his owne naturall countrey and of the citizens, hee was driuen into Egypt.

9 Thus he that afore put many out of their owne native land, perished from home himselfe: he went to Lacedemon, thinking there to haue gotten succour by reason of kinred.

10 And hee that afore had cast many one out vnburied, was throwen out himselfe, no man mourning for him, nor putting him in his graue: so that he neither enioyed the buriall of a stranger, neither was hee partaker of his fathers sepulchre.

11 Now when this was done, the king suspected that the Iewes would haue fallen from him, wherefore he came in a great displeasure out of Egypt, and tooke the citie by violence.

12 Hee commanded his men of warre also, that they should kill & not spare: but slay downe such as withstood them, or climed vp vpon the houses.

13 Thus was there a great slaughter of yong men, old men, women, children, and virgins.

14 In three dayes were there slaine fourescore thousand, fourty thousand put in prison: and there were as many sold as were slaine.

15 Yet was hee not content with this, but durst goe into the most holy Temple of all the world, Menelaus, that traitor to the lawes & to his owne naturall countrey, being his guide.

16 And with his wicked hands tooke the holy vessels, which other kings and cities had giuen thither for the garnishing and honour of the place, them tooke he in his hands vnworthily, and defiled them.

17 So mad was Antiochus, that he considered not how that God was not a little wroth for the sinnes of them that dwelt in the citie, for the which such confusion came vpon that place.

18 And why? if it had not happened them to haue bene lapped in many sinnes, this Antiochus alsoone as he had come, had suddenly bene punished and shut out of his presumption, *like as Heliodorus was, whom Seleucus the king sent to rob the treasurie. 2.Mac.3.24

19 Neuertheless, God hath not chosen the people for the places sake: but the place for the peoples sake.

20 And therefore is the place become partaker of the peoples trouble, but afterward shall it enioy the wealth of them: and like as it was now forsaken in the wrath of almighty God: so when the great God is reconciled, it shall be set vp in high worship againe.

21 So when Antiochus had taken a thousand and eight hundred talents out of the temple, he gate him to Antioch in all the haste, thinking in his pride that hee might make men saile vpon the drie land, and to goe vpon the sea: such an high minde had he.

22 He left deputies there to vexe the people: at Hierusalem left hee Philip a Phrygian, in maners more cruell then himselfe that set him there:

23 At Garizim he left Andronicus and Menelaus, which were more grieuous to the citizens then the other.

24 Now as he was thus set in malice against the Iewes, hee sent Apollonius a cruell prince, with an armie of twentie and two thousand, commanding him to slay those that were of perfect age, and to sell the women, and the yonger sort.

25 When he came now to Hierusalem, he fained peace, and kept him still vntill the Sabboth day: and then hee commanded his men to take them to their weapons, for the Iewes kept holy day:

26 And so hee slue all them that were gone forth to the open plaine, running here and there thorow the citie with his men weaponed, and murdered a great number.

27 But Iudas Machabeus, which was the *tenth, fled into the wildernesse, led his life there with his companie among wilde beastes, and vpon the mountaines, dwelling there, and eating herbes, lest they should be partakers of the filthinesse. *Of them that fled for religion.

monished that they shal not abhorre the aduersitie wherewith the Lord afflicteth them. 28 The grieuous paine of Eleazarus.

NOt long after this, sent the King an olde man of ‖ Antioche, for to compell the Iewes to transgresse the ordinances of the fathers, and of the Law of God.

‖ Or, Athens.

2 To defile the Temple that was at Hierusalem, and to cal it the temple of Iupiter Olympius: and that they should bee in Garizim, as those which dwell at the place of Iupiter the harberous.

3 This wicked sedition of the vngodly, was heauy vpon al the people:

4 For the temple was ful of voluptuousnes, bibbing and bolling of the heathen, of rybaudes and harlots together: the women went into the holy place, and bare in that was not lawful.

5 The Altar also was full of vnlawfull things, which the Law forbiddeth to lay vpō it.

6 The Sabboths were not kept, the other solemne feasts of the land were not regarded: to be plaine, there durst no man be knowen that he was a Iew.

7 In the day of the Kings birth they were compelled perforce to offer, and when the feast of Bacchus was kept, they were constrained to weare garlands of Iuie, and to goe about to the honour of Bacchus.

8 Moreouer, through the counsel of Ptolomeus, there went out a commandement vnto the next cities of the Heathen, against the Iewes, that the like custome and ‖ banquetting should be kept.

‖ Or, eating of the flesh that was sacrificed.

9 And who so would not conforme themselues to the maners of the Gentiles, should bee put to death: then might a man haue seene the present misery.

10 For there were two women accused to haue circumcised their sonnes: whom when they had ledde round about the citie, the babes hanging at their breastes, they cast them downe headlong ouer the walles.

11 Some that were crept in dennes, and had kept the Sabboth, were accused vnto Philip, and burnt in the fire, because that for the feare of God they kept the Commandement so stilly, and would not defend themselues.

12 Now I beseech all those which reade this booke, that they refuse it not for these falles of aduersitie, and iudge the things that are happened, for no destruction, but for a chastning of our people.

13 And why? When God suffereth not sinners long to follow their owne minde, but shortly punisheth them, it is a token of his great louing kindenesse.

14 For this grace haue we of God, more then other people, that he suffereth not vs long to sin vnpunished, like as other nations:

15 That when the day of Iudgement commeth, he may punish them in the fulnes of their sinnes.

*Of them that flee religion.

16 If we sinne, he correcteth vs, but he neuer withdraweth his mercy from vs: and though he punish with aduersitie, yet doeth hee neuer forsake his people.

17 But let this that wee haue spoken nowe with few wordes, bee for a warning and exhortation ‖ of the heathen: now will wee come to the declaring of the matter.

18 Eleazar one of the principall Scribes, an aged man, and of a well fauoured countenance, was constrained to gape with open mouth, and to eate swines flesh.

19 But hee desiring rather to die gloriously, then to liue with shame, offered himselfe willingly to the martyrdome.

20 Now when hee sawe that he must needes goe to it, hee tooke it patiently: for hee was at a point with himselfe, that hee would not consent to any vnlawfull thing for any pleasure of life.

21 They that [a] stood by, being mooued with pitie (but not aright) for the old friendship of the man, tooke him aside priuily, and prayed him that he would let such flesh bee brought him as were lawful to eate, and then to make a countenance as though he had eaten of the flesh of the sacrifice, like as the King commanded.

[a] They that had the charge of that wicked banquet.

22 For so he might be deliuered from death: and so for the olde friendship of the man, they shewed him this kindenesse.

23 But he began to consider discreetely, and as became his age, and the excellencie of his ancient yeeres, and the honour of his gray haires whereunto hee was come, and his most honest conuersation from his childehood, but chiefly the holy Lawe made and giuen by God, therefore he answered consequently, and willed them straightwayes to send him to the graue:

24 For it becommeth not mine age, said he, in any wise to dissemble, whereby many yong persons might thinke that Eleazar being fourescore yeeres old and ten, were now gone to a strange religion:

25 And so through mine hypocrisie for a litle time of transitorie life, they might bee deceiued: by this meanes also should I defile mine age, and make it abominable.

26 For though I were nowe deliuered from the torments of men, yet should I not escape the hande of Almighty God, neither aliue nor dead.

27 Wherefore I will die manfully, and do as it becommeth mine age:

28 Whereby I may peraduenture leaue an example of stedfastnes for such as be yong, if I with a ready minde, and manfully, die an honest death for the most worthy and holy Lawes. When he had said these wordes, immediatly hee was drawen to the torment.

29 Now they that led him, and were milde a litle afore, began to take displeasure, because of the wordes that he said: for they thought he had spoken them of an high minde.

30 But when he was in his martyrdome, he mourned and said, Thou, O Lord, which hast the holy knowledge, knowest openly, that whereas I might bee deliuered from death, I suffer these sore paines of my body: but in my minde I am well content to suffer them, because I feare thee.

31 Thus this man died, leauing the memorial of his death for an example, not onely vnto yong men, but vnto all the people to be stedfast and manly.

The vij. Chapter.

The punishment of the seuen brethren, and of their mother.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Ttt4v

IT happened also that there were seuen brethren, with their mother, taken, and compelled by the king, against the law, to eate swines flesh, namely, with scourges and leatherne whips.

2 And one of them which was the chiefe, said, What seekest thou, & what requirest thou of vs? as for vs, we are ready rather to suffer death, then to offend the lawes of God and the fathers.

3 Then was the king angry, and bade heat cauldrons, and brasen pots: which when they were made hote,

4 Immediatly he commanded the tongue of him that spake first, to be cut out, to pull the skin ouer his head, to pare the edges of his hands and feet, yea, and that in the sight of his mother, and the other of his brethren.

5 Now when he was cleane mangled, hee commanded a fire to be made, & so (while there was any breath in him) to be fried in the cauldron: In the which when he had bene long pained, the other brethren, with their mother, exhorted him to die manfully, saying,

6 The Lord God shal regard the trueth, and comfort vs, like as Moses testifieth and declareth in his song, saying, And he will *haue compassion on his seruants.

Deu. 32. 43.

7 So when the first was dead after this maner, they brought the second, to haue him in derision, pulled the skin, with the haire, ouer his head, and asked him if he would eat swines flesh, yer hee were pained in the other members also, throughout his body.

8 But he answered in his owne language, and said, I will not do it: and so he was tormented like as the first.

9 And when hee was euen at the giuing vp of the ghost, he sayd, Thou most vngracious person puttest vs now to death, but the King of the world shall raise vs vp, which die for his lawes, in the resurrection of euerlasting life.

10 After him was the third had in derision, & when he was required, he put out his tongue, and that right soone, holding forth his hands manfully:

11 And spake with a stedfast faith, These haue I of heauen, but now for the lawes of God I despise them: for my trust is that I shall receiue them of him againe.

12 Insomuch that the king and they which were with him, marueled at the yoong mans boldnesse, that he nothing regarded the paines.

13 Now when he was dead also, they vexed the fourth with torments in like maner.

14 So when hee was now at his death, hee sayd, It is better that we, being put to death of men, haue our hope and trust in God, for he shall raise vs vp againe: as for thee, thou shalt haue no resurrection to life.

15 And when they had spoken to the fifth, they tormented him.

16 Then looked he vnto the king, and sayd, Thou hast power among men, for thou art a mortal man also thy selfe, to do what thou wilt: but thinke not that God hath forsaken our generation.

17 Abide thee, tarrie still a while, and thou shalt see the great power of God, how he will punish thee and thy seed.

18 After him they brought the first, which being at the point of death, sayd, Be not deceiued, O king: for this we suffer for our owne sakes, because we haue offended our God, and therefore marueilous things are shewed vpon vs.

19 But thinke not thou which takest in hand to striue against God, that thou shalt escape vnpunished.

20 This excellent mother, worthy to be well reported of, and had in remembrance, saw her seuen sonnes die in one day, and suffred it patiently, because of the hope that she had in God:

21 Yea, she exhorted euery one of them in her countrey language, and that boldly and stedfastly with perfect wisedome, waking vp her wiuish thought with a manly stomache, and sayd vnto them,

22 I can not tel how ye sprang in my wombe, for I neither gaue you breath, nor soule, nor life, it is not I that ioyned the members of your bodies together,

23 But the maker of the world, which fashioned the birth of man, and beganne all things: euen hee also of his owne mercie shall giue you breath and life againe, like as ye now regard not your owne selues for his lawes sake.

24 Now thought Antiochus that he had despised him, therefore hee let her goe with her reproofs, and began to exhort the yoongest sonne, which was yet left, not onely with words, but swore vnto him with an oth, that he should make him a rich and wealthy man, if he would forsake the lawes of his fathers: yea, and that he should giue him whatsoeuer were necessary for him.

25 But when the yoong man would not bee moued for all these things, he called his mother, and counselled her to saue her sonnes life.

26 And when he had exhorted her with many words, she promised him that she would speake to her sonne.

27 So she turned her vnto him, laughing the cruel tyrant to scorne, and spake in her countrey language, O my sonne, haue pity vpon me, that bare thee nine moneths in my womb, that gaue thee sucke, nourished thee, and brought thee vp vnto this age:

28 I beseech thee, my sonne, looke vpon heauen and earth, and all that is therein, and consider that God made them and mans generation of nought:

29 So shalt thou not feare this hang-man, but suffer death stedfastly, like as thy brethren haue done: that I may receiue thee again in the same mercy with thy brethren.

30 While she was yet speaking these words, the yoong man sayd, Whom looke ye for? wherefore doe ye tarie? I will not obey the kings commandement, but the law that God gaue vs by Moses.

31 As for thou that imaginest all mischiefe against the ‖ Iewes, thou shalt not escape the hand of God.

‖ Or, Hebrewes.

32 For we suffer these things because of our sinnes.

33 And though the liuing Lord be angrie with vs a litle while, for our chastening and reformation, yet shall he be at one againe with his seruants.

34 But thou, O godlesse man, and of all other the most wicked, pride not thy selfe through vaine hope, in being so malicious vpon the seruants of God:

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Ttt5r

35 For thou hast not yet escaped the iudgements of God, which is almightie, and seeth all things.

36 My brethren that haue suffered a little paine, are now vnder the couenant of euerlasting life: but through the iudgement of God, thou shalt be punished righteously for thy pride.

37 As for me, like as my brethren haue done, I offer my ‖ soule and my body for the lawes of our fathers, calling vpon God, that he will soone be mercifull vnto our people, yea, and with paine and punishment to make thee grant that he only is God.

‖ Or, life.

38 In me now and in my brethren the wrath of almighty God is at an end, which righteously is fallen vpon all our people.

39 Then the king, being kindled in anger, was more cruell vpon him then vpon all the other, & tooke indignation that he was so lightly regarded.

40 So this yong man died vndefiled, and put his trust still in the Lord.

41 Last of all, after the sonnes, was the mother put to death also.

42 Let this now bee enough spoken concerning the offerings and extreme cruelnesse.

The viij. Chapter.

1 Iudas gathereth together his host. 9 Nicanor is sent against Iudas. 27 The Iewes giue thanks after they haue put their enemies to flight, diuiding the spoiles vnto the fatherlesse and widowes.

THen Iudas Machabeus, and they that were with him, went priuilie into the townes, called their kinsfolks and friends together, tooke vnto them all such as continued yet in the faith & law of the Iewes, and brought forth fiue thousand men.

2 So they called vpon the Lord, that hee would haue an eye vnto his people which was troden downe of euery man, to be gracious vnto the temple that was defiled of the vngodly,

3 To haue compassion vpon the destruction of the citie, which was shortly like to be layed waste, to heare the voice of the blood that cried vnto him,

4 To remember the most vnrighteous deaths of yong innocent children, the blasphemies also done vnto his Name, and to punish them.

5 Nowe when Machabeus had gathered this multitude together, he was too mighty for the heathen: for the wrath of the Lord was turned into mercy.

6 He fell vpon the townes & cities vnwares, burnt them, tooke the most commodious places, and slew many of the enemies:

7 But specially hee made such chases by night, insomuch that his manlinesse was spoken of euery where.

8 So when Philip saw that the man encreased by little and little, and that the matter prospered with him for the most part: he wrote vnto Ptolome, which was a captaine in Coelosyria and Phenice, to helpe him in the kings businesse.

‖ Or, Elienes.

9 Then sent he Nicanor the sonne of Patroclus, a speciall friend of his, in all the haste, and gaue him of the common sort of the heathen, no lesse then twentie thousand harnessed men, to root out the whole generation of the Iewes, hauing to helpe him, one Gorgias a man of war, which in matters concerning battels, had great experience.

10 Nicanor ordeined also the tribute which the Romans should haue had to be giuen vnto the king out of the captiuity of the Iewes, namely, two thousand talents.

11 And immediatly he sent to the cities of the sea coast, requiring them for to buy Iewes to be their seruants and bondmen, promising to sell them foure score and ten for one talent: but hee considered not the wrath of almighty God that was to come vpon him.

12 When Iudas knew of this, hee tolde the Iewes that were with him, of Nicanors comming.

13 Now were there some of them fearefull, not trusting vnto the righteousnesse of God, and fled their way, and abode not in that place:

14 But the other solde all that they had left, and besought the Lord to deliuer them from that wicked Nicanor, which had solde them or euer he came nigh them:

15 And though hee would not doe it for their sakes, yet for the couenant that he made with their fathers, and because they called vpon his holy and glorious Name.

16 And so Machabeus called his men together, namely, about six thousand, exhorting them not to agree vnto their enemies, neither to be afraid for the multitude of their aduersaries comming against them vnrighteously, but to fight manly,

17 Considering the reproofe that they had done to the holy place without cause, how they had despised and oppressed the citie, yea, and destroyed the lawes of their fathers.

18 For they, sayd he, trust in their weapons, and boldnesse: but our confidence is in the Almighty Lord, which in the twinckling of an eye may both destroy them that come against vs, and all the world.

19 *He exhorted them also to call to remembrance the helpe that God shewed vnto their fathers, as when there perished * an hundred foure score and fiue thousand of Sennacheribs people:

4.Reg.19. 35. Ecclus.48. 24.esay 37. 36.

20 And of the battell that they had in Babylon against the Galathians: how all the Macedonians that came to helpe them, being foure thousand, stood in feare: and how they, being onely but ‖ fiue thousand, slew an hundred and twenty thousand, through the helpe that was giuen them from heauen, whereby they also had receiued many benefits.

‖ Or, eight thousand.

21 Through these words, the men tooke good hearts vnto them, readie to die for the law and the countrey.

22 So he set vpon euery company a captaine, one of his owne brethren, Simon, Joseph, and Jonathas, giuing ech one fifteene hundred men.

23 Hee caused ‖ Esdras also to reade the holy booke vnto them, and to giue them a token of the helpe of God: then hee himselfe, being captaine in the forefront of the battel, buckled with Nicanor.

‖ Or, Eleazarus.

24 And God was their helpe, insomuch that they slew aboue nine thousand men, and compelled the more part of Nicanors host to flee, they were so wounded and feeble.

25 Thus they tooke the money from those

fol. Ttt5v

that came to buy them, and followed vpon them on euery side.

26 But when the time came vpon them, they returned, for it was the day before the Sabboth, and therefore they followed no more vpon them.

27 So they tooke their weapons and spoiles, and kept the Sabboth, giuing thanks vnto the Lord, which had deliuered them that day, and shewed them the beginning of his mercy.

28 After the Sabboth, they distributed the spoiles to the sicke, to the fatherlesse, and to widowes, and the residue had they themselues, with theirs.

29 When this was done, and they all had made a generall prayer, they besought the merciull Lord to be at one with his seruants.

30 Of those also that were with Timotheus and Bacchides, which fought against them, they slew twenty thousand, wanne high and strong holdes, and diuided moe spoiles, euer giuing an equall portion vnto the sicke, to the fatherlesse, to widowes, and to aged persons.

31 And when they had diligently gathered their weapons together, they layed them all in conuenient places, & the remnant of the spoiles brought they to Hierusalem.

32 They slew also Philarches that wicked person, which was with Timotheus, and had vexed many Iewes.

33 And when they held the thanksgiuing at Hierusalem for the victorie, they burnt those that had set fire on the portes of the temple, namely, Callisthenes, which was fled into an house, and so they gate a worthy reward for their wickednesse.

34 As for that most vngracious Nicanor, which had brought a thousand merchants to buy the Iewes, 35 He was through the helpe of the Lord brought downe, euen of them whom he regarded not: insomuch that hee put off his glorious raiment, fled by the sea, and came alone to Antioch with great shame and dishonour, which hee gate through the destruction of his host.

36 Thus hee that promised the Romans to pay them their tribute when he tooke Hierusalem, beganne now to say plainly, that God was the defender of the Iewes, and therefore not possible to wound them, because they followed the lawes which God had made.

The ix. Chapter.

1 Antiochus willing to spoile Persepolis, is driuen to flight. 9 As he persecuted the Iewes, he is stricken of the Lord. 13 The fained repentance of Antiochus. 28 He dieth.

AT the same time came Antiochus againe with dishonour out of Persia.

2 For when he came to Persepolis, and vndertooke to robbe the temple, and to subdue the citie, the people ranne together, and defended themselues, insomuch that hee and his were faine to flee with shame: and so after that flight, it happened that Antiochus came againe with dishonour.

3 But when he came to Ecbatana, he gate knowledge what was happened vnto Nicanor and Timotheus.

4 Now as he was auancing himselfe in his wrath, he thought he was able to auenge the iniurie that was done to them, vpon the Iewes: and therefore commanding to make readie his charet, hasting on his iourney without ceasing, the iudgement of God prouoking him, because he had spoken so proudly, that he would come to Hierusalem, and make it a graue of the Iewes.

5 But the Lord God of Israel that seeth all things, smote him with an incurable and inuisible plague, which no man could heale: for assoone as he had spoken these words, there came vpon him an horrible paine of his bowels, and a sore griefe of the inner parts,

6 And that was but right: for hee had martyred other mens bowels with diuers & strange torments.

7 Howbeit, he would in no wise cease from his malice: yea, he was yet the prouder & more malicious against the Iewes: but while he was commanding to make haste in the matter, it happened that he fell downe violently from the charet that ran swiftly, so that it bruised his body, and did him great paine.

8 And so he that thought a little before, he might command the floods of the sea, (so proud was hee beyond the condition of man) and to weigh the high mountaines in a paire of ballance, was now brought downe to the ground, and caried vpon an horslitter, knowledging the manifest power of God vpon him:

9 So that the wormes came out of the body of this wicked man in abundance: and whiles he was aliue, his flesh fell off for paine & torment, and all his army was grieued at his ‖ smell.

‖ Or, rottennesse.

10 Thus hee that a little afore thought hee might reach to the starres of heauen, him might no man now abide nor beare, for the behemency of stinche.

11 Therfore he being brought from his great pride, began to come to the knowledge of himselfe, for the punishment of God warned him, and his paine increased euer more and more.

12 And when he himselfe might not abide his owne stinche, he sayd these words, It is reason to be obedient vnto God, and that a man which is mortall, thinke not through pride, himselfe to be equall vnto God.

13 This wicked person prayed also vnto the Lord, who now would haue no mercie vpon him:

14 And as for the citie that he came vnto so hastily, to bring it downe to the ground, and to make it a graue for dead men, now he decreth to deliuer it free,

15 And as touching the Iewes, whom he had iudged not worthy to be buried, but would haue cast them out with their children, for to be deuoured of the fowles and wilde beasts, saying that he would haue destroyed both olde and yoong, now he promised to make them like the citizens of Athens.

16 And whereas he had spoiled the holy temple afore, now he maketh promise to garnish it with great gifts, to increase the holy ornaments, and of his own rents to beare the costs and charges belonging to the offerings:

17 Yea, and that hee would also become a Iew himselfe, to goe thorow euery place of the world that was inhabited, and to preach the power of God.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Ttt6r

18 But when his paines would not cease (for the righteous iudgement of God was come vpon him) out of a very despaire he wrote vnto the Iewes a letter of intercession, conteining these words:

19 The king and prince Antiochus, wisheth vnto the vertuous citizens of the Iewes, much health, and good prosperity.

20 If ye and your children fare well, and if all things goe after your minde, wee giue great thanks.

21 In my sickenesse also doe I remember you louingly: for as I came out of Persia, and was taken with sore disease, I thought it necessary to care for the common wealth:

22 Neither despaire I in my selfe, but haue a good hope to escape this sicknesse.

23 But considering that my father led an host sometime in the higher places, and shewed who should reigne after him,

24 That if there happened any controuersie, or any hard thing were declared, they in the land might know their chiefe lord, that there should be no insurrection:

25 Againe, when I ponder with my selfe how that all the mighty men, and neighbours round about, are laying wait, and looke but for opportunity to doe harme: I haue ordeined that my sonne Antiochus shall reigne after me, whom I haue oft commended to many of you when I was in the higher kingdomes, and haue written vnto him as followeth hereafter.

26 Therefore I pray you, and require you, to remember the benefits that I haue done vnto you generally, and in especiall, and that euerie man will be faithfull to me and my sonne.

27 For I hope that he shall be of sober and louing behauiour, and if he follow my deuice, he shalbe indifferent vnto you.

28 Thus that murderer and blasphemer of God was sore smitten: and like as he had intreated other men, so he died a miserable death in a strange countrey, vpon a mountaine:

29 And his body, did Philip that went with him, carry away, which fearing the sonne of Antiochus, went into Egypt to Ptolome Philometor.

The x. Chapter.

1 Iudas Machabeus taketh the citie and the temple.
10 Hee beginneth to shew the actes of Eupator.
29 Fiue men appeare in the aire to the helpe of the Iewes. 39 Timotheus is slaine.

MAchabeus now and his companie, through the helpe of the Lorde, wan the temple & the city againe,

2 Destroyed the altars and chapels that the heathen had builded thorow the streets,

3 Cleansed the temple, made another altar of brickestone, and after two yeeres they offered sacrifices, set foorth the incense, the lights, and shew bread.

4 When that was done, they fell downe flat vpon the ground, and besought the Lord that they might come no more into such trouble: but if they sinned any more against him, he himselfe to chasten them with mercy, and not to come into the hands of those aliants, and blasphemous men.

5 Nowe vpon the same day that the strangers polluted the Temple, it happened that on the very same day it was cleansed againe, namely, the twentie and fifth day of the moneth called ‖ Casleu.

‖ Or, November.

6 They kept eight dayes in gladnesse, like as in the feast of the tabernacles, remembring that not long afore they held the feast of the tabernacles vpon the mountaines, and in dennes, like beasts.

7 And for the same token they bare greene boughs, branches, and palmes, & sung Psalmes before him that had giuen them good successe to cleanse his place.

8 They agreed also together, and made a statute, that euery yeere those dayes should be solemnly kept of all the people of the Iewes.

9 Now Antiochus then, that was called the noble, died, it is sufficiently told.

10 Now will we speake of Eupator the sonne of that wicked Antiochus, how it hapned with him, and so with few words to comprehend the aduersitie that chanced in the warres.

11 When he had taken in the kingdome, he made one Lysias, which had beene captaine of the host in Phenice and ‖ Syria, ouer the matters of the realme.

‖ Or, Coelosyria.

12 For Ptolome, that was called Macron, being a ruler of the Iewes, and specially to sit in iudgement for such wrong as was done vnto them, vndertooke to deale peaceably with them.

13 For the which cause he was accused of his friends before Eupator: and when he was suspect to be a traitour, because he had left Cyprus, that Philometor had committed vnto him, and because he had departed from noble Antiochus that he was come vnto, he poisoned himselfe, and died.

14 Now when Gorgias was gouernour of the same places, he tooke strangers, and vndertooke oft times to warre with the Iewes.

15 Moreouer, the Idumeans that held the strong holds, receiued those that were driuen from Hierusalem, and tooke in hand to warre also.

16 But they that were with Machabeus besought and prayed vnto the Lord, that he would be their helper: and so they fell vpon the strong holds of the Idumeans, 17 And wan many places by strength: such as came against them they slew, & killed no lesse of all together then twenty thousand.

18 Neuertheless, some, no lesse then nine thousand, were fled into two strong towers, hauing all maner of ordinance to withstand them.

19 Then Machabeus leauing Simon, Iosephus, Zacheus, & those that were with them, which were very many, went to besiege them, and to fight where most need was.

20 Now they that were with Simon, being led with couetousnesse, were entreated for money, through certaine of those that lay in the castles, and tooke three score and tenne thousand [a] dragmas, and let some of them escape.

[a] A dragma is the eighth part of an ounce, which is about three pence.

21 But when it was told Machabeus what had happened, he called the captaines of the people together, accusing those persons that they had solde the brethren for money, and let their enemies go.

22 So he slew those traitours, and immediatly went in hand with the two castles.

23 And when they had ordered themselues manly

fol. Ttt6v

manly with their weapons & hands, they slew in the two castles moe then twenty thousand.

24 Now Timotheus, whom the Iewes had ouercome afore, gathered a multitude of strange people, brought an host also of horsemen of the Asians, to win Iurie by strength.

25 But when he drew nigh, Machabeus and they that were with him, fell to their prayer, sprinkled ashes vpon their heads, being girded with hairy cloth about their loines,

26 Fell downe before the altar, and besought the Lord that he would be merciful to them, but an enemy vnto their enemies, and to take part against their aduersaries, according as it is promised in the law.

27 So after the prayer they tooke their weapons, and went on further from the city: and when they came nigh the enemies, they prepared themselues against them.

28 And betimes in the morning, at the breake of the day, both the hosts buckled together: the one part had the Lord for their refuge, which is the giuer of prosperitie, strength, and victory, the other had a manly stomache, which is a captaine of warre.

29 The battell now being great, there appeared vnto the enemies from heauen fiue goodly men vpon horsebacks, with bridles of golde leading the Iewes:

30 And two of them hauing Machabeus betwirt them, that kept him safe on euery side with their weapons, but shot darts and lightnings vpon the enemies, whereth[r]ough they were confounded with blindnesse, and so sore afrayd, that they fell downe.

31 There were slain of footmen twenty thousand & fiue hundred, and fiue hundred horsemen.

32 As for Timotheus himselfe, he fledde vnto Gazara, a very strong holde, wherein Chereas was captaine.

33 But Machabeus and his company layed siege to it cheerefully foure dayes.

34 Now they that were within, trusting to the strength of the place, cursed and banned exceedingly, and made great crabbing with wicked words.

35 Neuertheless, vpon the fift day in the morning, twenty yong men of Machabeus companie, being set on fire in their mindes, because of the blasphemy, came manfully vnto the wall, and with bold stomacks smote downe those that they met.

36 Others also climed vp vpon the towers, vndertaking to set fire vpon the ports, and to burne those blasphemous persons quicke with the fires that they had made: others brake open the gates, and receiued the rest of the armie, and tooke the citie.

37 Two dayes were they destroying the castle, which when they found Timotheus that was crept in a corner, they killed him, and slew Chereas his brother in like maner, with Apollophanes.

38 When this was done, they sung Psalmes with praises and thanksgiuing vnto the Lord, which had done so great things for Israel, and giuen them the victory.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Lysias goeth about to ouercome the Iewes. 8 Succour is sent from heauen vnto the Iewes.

NOt long after this, Lysias the kings steward, and a kinsman of his, which had the gouernance of his matters, tooke sore displeasure for the things that had happened.

2 And when hee had gathered foure score thousand men of foot, with all the host of the horsemen, he came against the Iewes, thinking to win the city, to make it an habitation of the heathen:

3 And the Temple would he haue to be an house of lucre, like as the other gods houses of the heathen are, and to sell the priests office euerie yeere,

4 Not considering the power of God, but was wilde in his minde, trusting in the multitude of footmen, in thousands of horsemen, and in his foure score elephants.

5 So he came into Iury, and then to Bethsura, a castle of defence, lying in a narrow place, fiue furlongs from Hierusalem, and layed sore siege vnto it.

6 Now when Machabeus and his companie knew that his strong holdes were besieged, they fell to their prayers with weeping & teares before the Lord: and all the people in like maner besought him, that he would send a good Angel to deliuer Israel.

7 Machabeus himselfe was the first that made him ready to the battell, exhorting the other that were with him to ieopard themselues, and to helpe their brethren.

8 And when they were going forth of Hierusalem together with a ready & willing minde, there appeared before them vpon horsebacke, a man in white clothing, with harnesse of golde, shaking his speare.

9 Then they praised the Lord all together, which had shewed them mercy, and were comforted in their minds, insomuch that they were ready not onely to fight with men, but with the most cruell beasts, yea, and run thorow walles of yron.

10 Thus they went on willingly, hauing an helper from heauen, and the Lord mercifull vnto them,

11 They fell nightly vpon their enemies like lions, slew eleuen thousand footmen, sixteene hundred horsemen, and put all the other to flight,

12 Many of them being wounded, and some gate away naked: yea, Lysias himselfe was fain to flee shamefully, and so to escape.

13 Neuertheless, that man was not without vnderstanding, but considered by himselfe that his power was minished, and pondered how the Iewes, being defended by the helpe of almighty God, were not able to be ouercome: wherefore he sent them word,

14 And promised that he would consent to all things which were reasonable, and to make the king their friend.

15 To the which prayer of Lysias, Machabeus agreed, seeking in all things the common wealth: and whatsoeuer Machabeus wrote vnto Lysias concerning the Iewes, the king granted it.

16 For there were letters written vnto the Iewes frō Lysias, conteining these words, Lysias sendeth greeting to the people of the Iewes, 19 If yee now will be faithfull in theſe matters, I ſhall endeuour my ſelfe hereafter alſo to do you good.

20 As concerning theſe things, by euery article therof, I haue committed them to your meſſengers, and to thoſe whom I ſent vnto you to commune with you of the ſame particularly.

26 Thou ſhalt doe vs a pleaſure therefoꝛe, if thou ſend vnto them, and grant them peace: that when they are certified of our minde, they may be of good cheere, and looke to their owne wealth.

27 And this was the letter that the king wꝛote vnto the Iewes, King Antiochus ſendeth greeting vnto the councell, and the other people of the Iewes, 28 If ye fare well, we haue our deſire: as foꝛ vs, we are in good healthy.

29 Menelaus came and tolde vs how that your deſire was to returne home, and peaceably to enioy your owne poſſeſſions.

The xij. Chapter.

2 Timotheus troubleth the Iewes. 3 The wicked deed of them of Ioppa againſt the Iewes.

When theſe couenants were made, Lyſias went vnto the king: and the Iewes tilled their ground.

2 But Timotheus and Apollonius the ſonne of Jennei, Jerome, and Demophon the proud, Nicanoꝛ the captaine of Cypers, & they that lay in thoſe places, would not let them liue in reſt and peace.

3 They of Ioppa alſo did euen ſuch a ſhamefull deed: they pꝛayed the Iewes that dwelt among them, to go with their wiues and childꝛen into the ſhips which they had pꝛepared, and did with them as though they had ought them no euill will:

4 Foꝛſomuch then as there was gone foꝛth a generall pꝛoclamation thoꝛow the city because of peace, they conſented thereto, and ſuſpect nothing: but when they were gone foꝛth into the deepe, they dꝛowned no leſſe then two hundꝛed of them.

5 When Judas knew of this cruelty ſhewed vnto his people, he commanded thoſe that were with him to make them ready,

6 Exhoꝛting them to call vpon God the righteous Judge, went foꝛth againſt thoſe murderers of his bꝛethꝛen, ſet fire in the hauen by night, burnt vp the ſhips: and thoſe that eſcaped from the fire, he ſlew with the ſword.

7 And when he had done this, he departed, as though he would come againe, and root out all them of Ioppa.

8 But when hee had gotten woꝛd that the Iamnites were minded to do in like maner vnto the Iewes which dwelt among them,

9 He came vpon the Iamnites by night, and ſet fire on the hauen, with the ſhips: ſo that the light of the fire was ſeene at Hieruſalem, vpon a two hundꝛed and foꝛty furlongs.

10 Now when they were gone from thence nine furlongs in their iourney toward Timotheus, fiue thouſand men on foot, and fiue hundꝛed hoꝛſmen of the Arabians fought with him.

11 So when the battel was earneſt, and pꝛoſpered with Judas, thꝛough the helpe of God, the reſidue of the [a] Arabians being ouercome, beſought Judas to be at one with them, and pꝛomiſed to giue him certaine ‖paſtures, and to doe him good in other things.

[a] The Nomades of Arabia, ſo called, becauſe they were hey-heards.

‖Or, cattell.

12 Judas thinking that they ſhould indeed be pꝛofitable concerning many things, pꝛomiſed them peace, whereupon they ſhooke hands, and ſo they departed to their tents.

13 Judas went alſo into a citie, which was very ſtall kept with bꝛidges, fenced round about with walles and diuers kindes of people dwelling therein, called Calpin.

14 They that were within it, put ſuch truſt in the ſtrength of the walles, and in their ſtoꝛe of victuals, that they were the ſlacker in their doings, curſing, and reuiling Judas with blaſphemies, and ſpeaking ſuch woꝛds as it becommeth not.

15 But Machabeus calling vpon the great prince of the world (which without any battell rammes, or ordinances of warre, did cast downe the walles of * Jericho in the time of Josuah) fell manfully vpon the walles,

Ios. 6. 20.

16 Tooke the city, and through the helpe of the Lord, made an exceeding great slaughter: insomuch that a lake of two furlongs broad, which lay thereby, seemed to flowe with the blood of the slaine.

17 Then departed they from thence seuen hundred and fifty furlongs, and came to ‖ Taraca, vnto the Iewes that are called Tubeanei.

‖ Or, Characa.

18 But as for Timotheus, they could not get him there: for (not one matter dispatched) hee was departed from thence, and had left certaine men in a very strong holde.

19 But Dositheus, & Sosipater, which were captaines with Machabeus, slew those that Timotheus had left in the house of defence, more then ten thousand men.

20 And Machabeus prepared him with the six thousand men that were about him, set them in order by companies, and went forth against Timotheus, which had with him an hundred and twenty thousand men of foot, two thousand and fiue hundred horsemen.

21 When Timotheus had knowledge of Judas comming, he sent the women, children, and the other baggage vnto a castle called Carnion: for it could not be woon, and was hard to come vnto, the wayes of the same places were so narrow.

22 And when Judas his first band came in sight, the enemies were smitten with feare through the presence of God, which seeth all things: insomuch that they fleeing, one heere, another there, were rather discomfited of their owne people, and wounded with the strokes of their owne swords.

23 Judas also was very earnest in following vpon them, punishing those vngodly, and slew thirty thousand men of them.

24 Timotheus also himselfe fell into the hands of Dositheus and Sosipater, whom he besought with much craft to let him goe with his life, because he had many of the Iewes fathers and brethren in prison: which, if they put him to death, should be despised.

25 So when hee had promised faithfully to deliuer them againe, according to the condition made, they let him goe without harme, for the health of the brethren.

26 Then Machabeus marched forth to Carnion, and Atergation, and there slew twentie and fiue thousand men.

27 Now after that he had chased away and slaine his enemies, he remoued the host toward Ephron, a strong city, wherein was Lysias, and a great multitude of diuers nations: and the strong young men kept the walles, defending them mightily: In this city was much ordinance and prouision of darts.

28 But when Judas and his company had called vpon almighty God, which with his power breaketh the strength of the enemies, they wanne the city, and slew twenty and fiue thousand of them that were within.

29 From thence went they to the citie of the ‖ Scythians, which lieth fiue hundred furlongs from Hierusalem.

‖ Or, Scythopolis.

30 But when the Iewes which were in the city, testified that the citizens dealt louingly with them, yea, and intreated them kindly in the time of their aduersity,

31 Judas & his company gaue them thanks, desiring them to be friendly still vnto them: and so they came to Hierusalem, the high feast of weeks being at hand.

32 And after the feast of Pentecost, they went forth against Gorgias the gouernour of Idumea, 33 Who came out with three thousand men of foot, and foure hundred horsemen.

34 Which when they met together, it chanced a few of the Iewes to be slaine.

35 And Dositheus one of the Bacenors, a mighty horseman, tooke holde of Gorgias, and would haue taken him quicke: but an horseman of Thracia fell vpon him, and smote off his arme, so that Gorgias escaped, and fledde into ‖ Mozesa.

‖ Or, Maresa ‖ Or, Esdrin.

36 When they now that were of ‖ Gorgias side, had foughten long, and were weary, Judas called vpon the Lord, that hee would be their helper, and captaine of the field:

37 And with that he began in his owne language, and sung Psalmes with a loud voice, insomuch that he made the enemies afrayd, and Gorgias men of warre tooke their flight.

38 So Judas gathered his host, and came into the city of Odolla: and when the seuenth day came vpon them, they cleansed themselues as the custome was, and kept the Sabboth in the same place.

39 And vpon the day following, as necessity required, Judas and his company came to take vp the bodies of them that were slaine, and to bury them in their fathers graues.

40 Now vnder the coats of certaine Iewes which were slaine, they found iewels that they had taken out of the Temple, and from the idoles of the Jamnites, * which thing is forbidden the Iewes by the Law: then euery man saw that this was the cause wherefore they were slaine.

Deut. 7. 25.

41 And so euery man gaue thanks vnto the Lord for his righteous iudgement, which had opened the thing that was hid.

42 They fell downe also vnto their prayers, and besought God that the fault which was made, might be put out of remembrance: Besides that, Judas exhorted the people earnestly to keepe themselues from such sinne, forsomuch as they saw before their eyes that these men were slaine for the same offence.

43 So he gathered of euery one a certaine, and sent two thousand drachmes of siluer vnto Hierusalem, that there might a sacrifice be offered for the mildeed: in the which he did well and right, for he had some consideration and pondering of the life that is after this time.

44 For if he had not thought that they which were slaine should rise againe, it had bene superfluous and vaine to make any vow or sacrifice for them that were dead.

45 But forsomuch as he saw that they which die in the fauour and beliefe of God, are in good rest and ioy, he thought it to be good and honourable for a reconciling, to doe the same for those which were slaine, that the offence might be forgiuen.

The xiij. Chapter.

1 The comming of Eupator into Iurie. 4 The death of Menelaus.

IN the hundred forty and nine yere, gate Judas knowledge that Antiochus Eupator was comming with a great power into Jurie,

2 And Lysias the steward and ruler of his matters with him, hauing an hundred and ten thousand men of foot of the Grecians, fiue thousand horsemen, twenty and two elephants, and three hundred charets set with hookis.

3 Menelaus also ioyned himselfe with them, but with great deceit, spake faire to the king, not for any good to the countrey, but because he thought to haue bene made some great man of authority.

4 But the King of kings mooued Antiochus minde against this vngodly person, and Lysias informed the king that this Menelaus was the cause of all mischiefe: so that the king commanded to bring him vnto Berea, and as the maner of them is, to put him vnto death in the same place.

5 There was also in the same place a tower of fifty cubits high, heaped with ashes: and it had an instrument that turned round, and on euery side it rolled downe into the ashes, and there whosoeuer was condemned of sacrilege, or of any other grieuous crime, was cast of all men vnto the death.

6 Whereinto the king commaunded that shamefull person to be cast among the ashes, as one that was cause of all vngraciousnesse.

7 And reason it was that the vnthrift should die such a death, and not be buried:

8 For he had done much mischiefe vnto the altar of God, whose fire and ashes were holy: therefore was it right that hee himselfe also should be destroyed with ashes.

9 But the king was wood in his minde, and came to shew himselfe more cruell vnto the Jewes then his father was.

10 Which when Judas perceiued, hee commanded the people to call vpon the Lord night and day, that hee would now helpe them also, like as he had done alway: for they were afrayd to be put from their law, from their naturall countrey, and from the holy temple:

11 And not to suffer the people which a little while afore beganne to recouer, to be subdued againe of the blasphemous nations.

12 So when they had done this together, and besought the Lord for mercie, with weeping and fasting three dayes long, flat vpon the ground, Judas exhorted them to make themselues ready,

13 But he and the elders together deuised to goe forth first with the people, afore the king brought his hoste into Jurie, and afore he besieged the citie, and so to commit the matter vnto God.

14 Wherefore he committed the charge of all things vnto God the maker of all the world, exhorting his people to fight manfully, yea, euen vnto death, for the lawes, the temple, the citie, their owne native countrey, and to defend the citizens: and he set his hoste before Modin.

15 Hee gaue them also that were with him a token of the victory of God, chusing out the manliest young men, went by night into the kings pauillion, slew of the hoste foureteene thousand men, and the greatest of the elephants, with those that sate vpon them.

16 Thus when they had brought a great feare and rumour among the tents of their enemies, and all things went prosperously with them,

17 They departed in the breake of the day, God being their helper and defender.

18 Now when the king perceiued the manlinesse of the Jewes, hee went about to take the strong places by craft, 19 And remooued his hoste vnto Bethsura, which was a well kept house of defence of the Jewes: but they were chased away, hurt, and discomfited.

20 And Judas sent vnto them that were in it, such things as were necessary.

21 In the Jewes hoste also there was one Rhodochus, which tolde the enemies their secrets: but they sought him out, and when they had gotten him, they put him in prison.

22 After this did the king commune with them that were in Bethsura, tooke truce with them, departed, and strooke a battell with Judas, which ouercame him.

23 But when hee vnderstood that Philip, whom he had left to be ouerseer of this businesse at Antioch, began to rebell against him, he was astonied in his minde, so that he yeelded himselfe to the Jewes, and made them an oth to do whatsoeuer they thought right.

24 Now when he was reconciled with them, he offered, made much of the temple, gaue great gifts vnto it,

25 Embraced Machabeus, making him captaine and gouernour from Ptolomais vnto the Gerrhenes.

26 Neuerthelesse, when hee came to Ptolomais, the people of the citie were not content with the bond of friendship: for they were afraid that he would breake the couenant.

27 Then went Lysias vp into the iudgement seat, and excused the fact as well as he could, and informed the people, shewed the cause why, and pacified them: so he came againe to Antioch. This is now the matter concerning the kings iourney, and his returne.

The xiiij. Chapter.

By the motion of Alcimus, Demetrius sendeth Nicanor to kill the Iewes.

AFter three yeres was Judas informed how that Demetrius the son of Seleucus was come vp with a great power and ships, through the hauen of Tripolis,

2 To take certaine commodious places and countreys against Antiochus and his captaine Lysias.

3 Now Alcimus, which had bene hie Priest, and wilfully defiled himselfe in the time of the mirting, seeing that by no meanes he could be helped, nor haue any more entrance to the altar,

4 He came to king Demetrius in the hundred fifty and one yeere, presenting vnto him a crowne of golde, a palme, & an oliue tree, which as men thought belonged to the temple: and that day held his tongue.

fol. Uuu2v

5 But when he had gotten opportunity for his madneſſe, Demetrius called him to counſell, & aſked him what things or counſels the Iewes leaned vnto?

6 He anſwered, The Iewes that be called Aſſidei (whoſe captaine is Iudas Machabeus) maintaine warres, make inſurrections, and will not let the realme be in peace.

7 For I being depriued of my fathers honor (I meane the high prieſthood) am come hither:

8 Partly, becauſe I was faithfull vnto the king, and partly, becauſe I ſought the profit of mine owne citizens: and why? all our people through the wickednеſſe of them are not a little troubled.

9 Wherefore I beſeech thee, O king, conſider all theſe things diligently, and then make ſome prouiſion for the land and the people, according to the kindneſſe that thou haſt offered vnto them.

10 For as long as Iudas liueth, it is not poſſible that men can liue in peace.

11 When hee had ſpoken theſe words, other friends alſo hauing euill will at Iudas, ſet the king Demetrius on fire againſt him.

12 Which immediatly ſent Nicanor, ruler of the elephants, a captaine in Iurie, 13 Commanding him to ſlay Iudas, and to ſcatter them that were with him, and to make Alcimus high Prieſt of the great temple.

14 Then the heathen, which fled out of Iury from Iudas, came to Nicanor by flocks, thinking the harme and decay of the Iewes to be their welfare.

15 Now when the Iewes heard of Nicanors comming, and the gathering together of the heathen, * they ſprinkled themſelues with earth and beſought him which made them his people, and euer defended his owne portion with euident tokens, that he would preſerue them ſtill.

2.Mac.10. 15.

16 So at the commandement of the captaine, they remooued ſtraight wayes from thence, and came to a towne called Deſſau.

17 And Simon Iudas brother fell in hand with Nicanor: but through the ſudden ‖ comming of the enemies, he was afrayd.

‖Or, ſilence.

18 Neuertheleſſe, Nicanor hearing the manlineſſe of them that were with Iudas, and the bold ſtomacks that they had to fight for their naturall countrey, durſt not prooue the matter with bloodſhedding.

19 Wherefore he ſent Poſſidonius, ‖ Theodorus, and Mathathias before, to giue and to take peace.

‖Or, Theodoſius, Matthias.

20 So when they had taken long aduiſement thereupon, and the captaine ſhewed it vnto the multitude, they were agreed in one minde to haue peace.

21 And they appointed a day to ſit vpon theſe matters quietly among themſelues, and for euery one ſtooles alſo were brought, and ſet forth.

22 Neuertheleſſe, Iudas commanded certein men of armes to wait in conuenient places, leſt there ſhould ſuddenly ariſe any euill through the enemies: and ſo they communed reaſonably together.

23 Nicanor, while he abode at Hieruſalem, ordered himſelfe not vnreaſonably, but ſent away the people that were gathered together.

24 He loued Iudas euer with his heart, and fauoured him.

25 He prayed him alſo to take a wife, and to bring forth children. So he married, liued in reſt, and they led a common life.

26 But Alcimus perceiuing the loue that was betwixt them, and how they were agreed together, came to Demetrius, and told him that Nicanor had taken ſtrange matters in hand, and ordeined Iudas, an enemy of the Realme, to be the kings ſucceſſour.

27 Then the king was ſore diſpleaſed, and through the wicked accuſations which Alcimus made of Nicanor, he was ſo prouoked, that hee wrote vnto Nicanor, ſaying that hee was very angry for the friendſhip and agreement which he had made with Machabeus, neuertheleſſe, he commanded him in all the haſte that he ſhould take Machabeus priſoner, and ſend him to Antioch.

28 Which letters when Nicanor had ſeene, he was at his wits end, and ſore grieued, that he ſhould breake the things wherein they had agreed, ſpecially ſeeing Machabeus was that man that neuer did him harme.

29 But becauſe he might not withſtand the king, he ſought opportunity to fulfill his commandement.

30 Notwithſtanding, when Machabeus ſaw that Nicanor beganne to be churliſh vnto him, and that he entreated him more roughly then he was woont, he perceiued that ſuch vnkindneſſe came not of good, and therefore he gathered a few of his men, and withdrew himſelfe from Nicanor.

31 Which when he knew that Machabeus had manfully preuented him, he came into the great and moſt holy temple, and commanded the prieſts which were doing their vſuall offerings, to deliuer him the man.

32 And when they ſware that they could not tell where the man was, whom he ſought, 33 He ſtretched out his right hand toward the temple, and made an oth, ſaying, * If ye will not deliuer me Iudas captiue, I ſhall remoue this temple of God into the plaine field, I ſhall breake downe the altar, and conſecrate this temple vnto Bacchus.

1.Ma.7.35.

34 After theſe words, he departed. Then the prieſts lift vp their hands toward heauen, and beſought him that was euer the defender of their people, ſaying,

35 Thou, O Lord of all, which haſt need of nothing, wouldeſt thou the temple of thy habitation ſhould be among vs:

36 Therefore now, O moſt holy Lord, keepe this houſe euer vndefiled, which lately was cleanſed, and ſtop all the mouthes of the vnrighteous.

37 Now was there accuſed vnto Nicanor one Razis, an Alderman of Hieruſalem, a louer of the whole city, and a man of good report, which for the kinde heart that he bare vnto the people, was called a father of the Iewes.

38 This man oft times, when the Iewes were minded to keepe themſelues vndefiled, defended and deliuered them, being content ſtedfaſtly to ſpend his body and his life for his people.

39 So Nicanor willing to declare the hate that he bare to the Iewes, ſent fiue hundred men of warre to take him.

40 For he thought if he gate him, he ſhould bring the Iewes in great decay.

a This fact is not to be approued, for that it is contrary to Gods commandement, Thou shalt not kill.

41 Now when the people began to rush in at his house, to breake the doores, and to set fire on it, he being now taken, a fell vpon his sword,

42 Choosing rather to die manfully, then to yeelde himselfe to those wicked doers: and because of his noble stocke, he had rather haue bene put to extreme cruelty.

43 Notwithstanding, what time he missed of his stroke for haste, and the multitude rushed in violently betwixt the doores, hee ran boldly to the wall, and cast himselfe downe manfully among the heape of them:

44 Which gaue some place to his fall, so that he fell vpon his bellie.

45 Neuertheless, while there was yet breath within him, being kindled in his minde, he rose vp, and while his blood gushed out exceedingly (for he was very sore wounded) he ran through the middest of the people, and gate him to the top of a rocke.

46 So when his blood was now gone, hee tooke out his owne bowels, and with both his hands threw them vpon the people, calling vpon the Lord of life and spirit to reward him this againe: and so he died.

The xv. Chapter.

2 Nicanor goeth about to come vpon Iudas on the Sabboth day. 5 The blasphemie of Nicanor.

NOw when Nicanor knew that Iudas and his company were in the countrey of Samaria, he thought with all his power to strike a fielde with him vpon the Sabboth day.

2 Neuertheless, the Iewes that were compelled to goe with him, said, O doe not so cruelly and vnkindly, but halow the Sabboth day, and worship him that seeth all things.

3 For all this yet sayd the vngracious person, Is there a mighty one in heauen that commanded the Sabboth day to be kept?

4 And when they sayd, Yea, the liuing God, the mighty Lord in heauen commanded the seuenth day to be kept,

5 He sayd, And I am mighty vpon earth, to commaund them for to arme themselues, and to performe the kings businesse: Notwithstanding he might not haue his purpole.

6 Nicanor had deuised with great pride to ouercome Iudas, and to bring away the victorie:

7 But Machabeus had euer a fast confidence and a perfect hope in God, that he would helpe him,

8 And exhorted his people not to bee afraid at the comming of the heathen: but alway to remember the helpe that had bene shewed vnto them from heauen, yea, and to be sure now also that Almighty God would giue them the victorie.

9 He spake vnto them out of the lawe and Prophets, putting them in remembrance of the battels that they had striken afore, & made them to be of good courage.

10 So when their hearts were pluckt vp, he shewed them also the deceitfulnesse of the heathen, and howe they would keepe no couenant nor othe.

11 Thus hee weaponed them, not with the armour of the shield and speare, but with wholsome words and exhortations, he shewed them a dreame also worthy to bee beleeued, wherethrough he made them all glad.

12 Which was this: He thought that he saw Onias, which had bene high Priest, a vertuous and louing man, sad, and of honest conuersation, well spoken, and one that had bene exercised in godlines from a childe, holding vp his hands toward heauen, and praying for his people.

13 After this, there appeared vnto him another man, which was aged, honourable, and glorious.

14 And Onias sayd, This is a louer of the brethren, and of the people of Israel: this is he that prayeth much for the people, and for all the holy Citie, Jeremie the Prophet of God.

15 Hee thought also that Jeremie held out his right hand, and gaue vnto Judas a sword of gold, saying, 16 Take this holy sword, a gift from God, wherewith thou shalt smite downe the enemies of the people of Israel.

17 And so they were well comforted through the wordes of Judas, which were very sweete, and able to stirre vp their courage, and tooke courage vnto them, so that the yong men were determined in their mindes to fight, and to abide stiffely at it, insomuch that in the things which they tooke in hand, their boldnesse shewed the same, because the holy citie, the Sanctuary, and the temple were in perill.

18 For the which they tooke more care, then for their wiues, children, brethren, and kinsfolkes.

19 Againe, they that were in the citie, were most carefull for those which were to fight.

20 Nowe when they were all in a hope that the iudgement of the matter was at hand, and the enemies drewe nigh, the hoste being set in aray, the Elephants and horsemen euery one standing in his place,

21 Machabeus considering the comming of the multitude, the ordinance of diuers weapons, the cruelnesse of the beasts, held vp his hands toward heauen, calling vpon the Lorde that doth wonders, which giueth not the victorie after the multitude of weapons, and power of the hoste, but to them that please him, accoording to his owne will.

22 Therefore in his prayer hee sayde these words, *O Lord, thou that diddest send thine angel in the time of Ezechias king of Juda, and in the hoste of Sennacherib slewest an hundred, fourescore and fiue thousand: 4.King.19.37. tobi.2.21. eccl.48.24. esai.37.36.

23 Send now also thy good angel before vs, O Lord of heauens, in the fearefulnesse & dread of thy mighty arme, 24 That they which come against thy holy people to blaspheme them, may be afraid. And so he made an end of his words.

25 Then Nicanor and they that were with him: drew nigh, with trumpets and shoutings for ioy:

26 But Judas and his company with prayer and calling vpon God, encountered with the enemies.

27 With their hands they smote, but with their hearts they prayed vnto the Lord, and slue no lesse then thirty and fiue thousand men: for through the present helpe of God they were gloriously comforted.

28 Now when they left off, and were turning againe with ioy, they vnderstood that Nicanor himselfe was slaine with the other for all his armour.

29 Then they gaue a great showte and a crie, praising the almighty Lord in their owne language.

30 And Judas, which was euer ready to spend his body and life for his citizens, commanded to smite off Nicanors head, with his arme and hand, and to be brought to Hierusalem.

31 When he came there, he called all the people and the priests to the altar, with those that were in the castle,

32 And shewed them Nicanors head, and his wicked hand, which he had presumptuously holden vp against the temple of God.

33 He caused the tongue also of that vngodly Nicanor to be cut in little pieces, and to be cast to the fowles, and that cruell mans hand to bee hanged vp before the temple.

34 So euerie man gaue thankes vnto the Lord, saying, Blessed be hee that hath kept his place vndefiled.

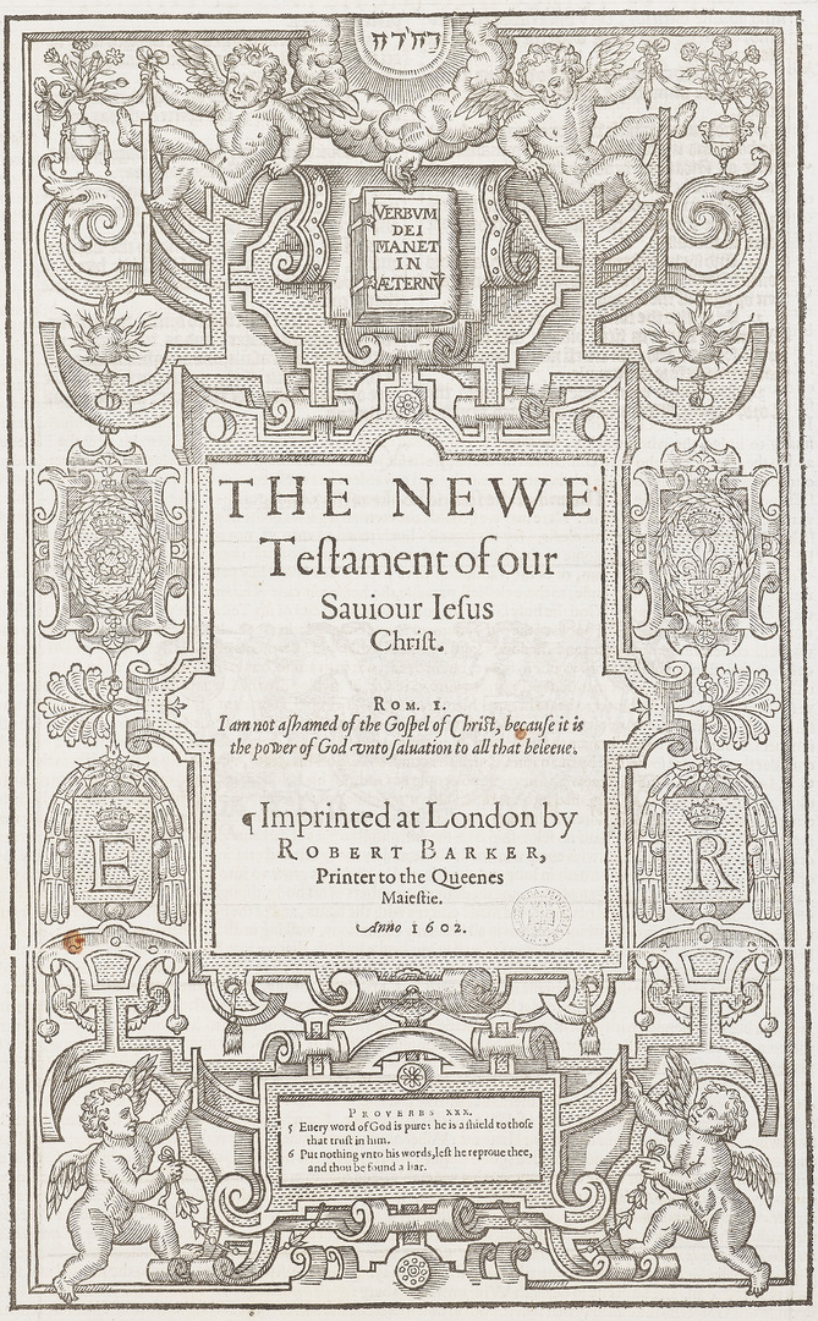
35 As for Nicanors head, he hanged it vp vpon the high castle, for an euident and plaine token of the helpe of God.

36 And so they agreed all together to keepe that day holy, namely, the thirteenth day of the moneth ‖ Adar: [February.

37 Which in the Syrians language is called, The next day before Mardocheus day.

38 Thus was Nicanor slaine, and from that time forth the Jewes had the citie in possession: and here will I now make an ende.

39 If I haue done well, and as the storie required, it is the thing that I desired: but if I haue spoken slenderly and barely, I haue done that I could.



40 For as it is hurtfull to drinke wine alone, and then againe water: and as wine tempered with water is pleasant, and delighteth the taste: so the setting out of the matter delighteth the eare of them that reade the storie: and here shall be the end.

A Preface into the new Testament.

THE Newe Testament so called, conteining the writings of the Euangelistes, with the Epistles of Christes Apostles, and with other such diuine bookes, declare plainely vnto vs the summe and effect of all the scriptures expressed in the olde Testament. That which was in figure and in obscuritie inuolued by the patriarks and prophets in their propheticall volumes, written by the inspiration of the holy Ghost: is in this booke more plainely and euidently set out, vttered also in the selfe same spirite by the children of the Prophets the holy Apostles. Indeede the Lawe was giuen by Moyses, but grace and verity came by Iesus Christ, which grace this booke of the new Testament doeth most euidently commend and set out. In this is discoursed the whole mystery of our saluation and redemption, purchased by our sauiour Christ, here is his holy conception described, his natiuitie, his circumcision, his whole life and conuersation, his godly doctrine, his diuine miracles. In this booke of the new Testament is set out his death, his resurrection, his ascension, his sending of the holy spirit, his session in our flesh on the right hand of his father, making continuall intercession to him for vs. In this booke is contained the fourme and order of his last iudgement, after the generall resurrection of our bodies. These be the mysteries of our faith, these be the grounds of our saluation, these be thus written that we should beleeue them, and by our beliefe should enioy life euerlasting. Once and in times past God diuersly and many wayes spake vnto the fathers by the Prophets, but in these last dayes he hath spoken vnto vs (vpon whom the ends of the world bee come) by his owne sonne, whom he hath made heire of all things, whose dignity is such, that hee is the brightnesse of his fathers glory, the very image of his substance, ruling all things by the word of his power. This heauenly doctour so indued with glory and maiestie, we ought most reuerently to beleeue, as commended vnto vs from the authoritie of the heauenly father, to be heard as his most welbeloued sonne, in whom is his whole delight, by whom he will be pleased and pacified: It will els come to passe sayeth that Prophet Moyses, that whosoeuer shall not heare and obey that prophet in the words that hee shall speake in his fathers name, I will be, sayth the father, reuenger of him. This is the last Prophet to be looked for to speake vnto vs: In him be vniuersally inclosed the riches and treasures of the wisedome and knowledge of God his father, by him he hath decreed finally to iudge the whole worlde, the liuing and the dead: by him hath hee decreed to giue to his elect the life euerlasting, and to the reprobate (who hath contemned his life and doctrine) death euerlasting. Let vs therefore seriously heare and obey this our heauenly teacher, submit our selues to this our iudge and rewarder: Let vs esteeme his doctrine and conuersation, as a full, perfect, and sufficient patterne of all holinesse and vertue: Let vs esteeme the doctrine of this booke, as a most inflexible rule to leade vs to all trueth and newnesse of life. Here may we beholde the eternall legacies of the newe Testament, bequeathed from God the father in Christ his sonne to all his elects, I say the legacies liuely renewed vnto vs, not of deliuerance from Pharao his seruitude, but from the bondage and thraldome of that perpetuall aduersarie of ours the deuill: here may wee beholde our inheritance, not of the temporall lande of Chanaan, or of the translation of vs to the place of worldly paradise: but here we may see the full restitution of vs, both in body and soule, to the celestiall paradise, the heauenly citie of Hierusalem aboue, there to reigne with God the Father, God the Sonne, and God the holy Ghost for euer. Which legacies of his Testament promised and bequeathed, were notwithstanding recorded in the bookes of the old Testament to our ancient fathers, which in hope beleeued in Christ to come, who was painted before them in figures and shadowes, and signified in their old sacraments ordained for that time: but now more euidently renewed and exhibited vnto vs, not in figure, but in deede, not in promise, but in open sight, in feeling, in handling and touching of this eternall life, most manifestly confirmed vnto vs in Christ his blood in this his new Testament continued and reuiued, yet in new sacraments, the better to beare in our remembrance this his eternal Testament of all ioyfull felicities. Let vs now therefore good Christian people, reioice in these glad tidings expressed vnto vs by the name of the Gospel of our sauiour Christ, and let it neuer fall out of our remembrance that wee were sometime ouerwhelmed in darkenesse, and set in the shadowe of death: let vs consider that we were sometime by our naturall birth, the children of God his wrath, and wholly estranged from the housholde of God. Let vs beare in mind that we were sometime no people of God, nor his beloued, that we were by nature branches of the wild oliue, and now by meere mercie graffed into the right and natural oliue tree: whereupon let vs the rather repose our life in feare and reuerence. If we be now the children of light, let vs walke in this our light in all holinesse and godlines of life, approuing that which is pleasing to the Lord. Let vs haue no felowship with the vnfruitfull workes of darkenesse, and let vs hencefoorth be no more children, wauering and caried about with euery wind of doctrine, and by the deceit and craftinesse of men, whereby they lay in waite to deceiue vs: but let vs follow the trueth in loue and charitie, and in all things grow vp into him which is the head, that is Christ our Sauiour. If we be now the children of grace, and made liuely members of his body, though sometime strangers and forreiners farre off, and made neere by the blood of Christ, and made citizens with the saints, and of the housholde of God: let vs direct our hearts thither where our head is, delighting our selues in all heauenly cogitations, walking in all spirituall works and fruits of the spirit, as Gods deare elect. God grant that Christ may so dwell in our hearts by faith, that we may be able to comprehend with all saints the vnspeakeable loue of Christ, which passeth all mans knowledge. Vnto him therefore which is able to doe exceeding abundantly aboue all that we can aske or thinke, be praise in the Church by Christ Iesus, throughout all generations for euer. Amen.

And here yet once againe, let the reader be admonished charitably to examine the translation of the newe Testament following, and bee not offended with diuersitie of interpretation, though hee finde it not agree to his wont text, or yet to disagree from the common translation: Remembring what Santes Pagninus testifieth of that ancient interpreter Saint Ierome, that in many places of his commentaries, he doth reade and expouud otherwise then is found in the common translation: yea saith Santes, Hierome doeth retract very many places, and doeth plainely confesse, that himselfe was deceiued by the haste of his translating in the doubtfull signification of the words. And therefore saith the said Hierome thus: I thinke it better to rebuke mine owne error, then (while I am ashamed to confesse my lacke of skill) to persist in an errour. For who was euer saith hee, so well learned, that hath not somewhere bene deceiued. Thus farre Saint Hierome: Whereupon good reader, I exhort thee, reade aduisedly, expend learnedly, and correct charitably, and bee not offended (good English reader) to see the holy Scriptures in thine owne language, as a matter newly seene: seeing that our owne countreyman that venerable Bede, many yeres agone did translate S. Johns Gospel into the vulgar tongue, ad vtilitatem Ecclesiæ, to the profit of the Church, saith Cuthbert and Durhams story, who reporteth Bedes owne saying: Nolo vt discipuli mei mendacium legant, I would not that my disciples should reade any lie, or spend their labour after my departure without fruit. Which thing also the ancient life of Bede doth testifie of him. In his diebus etiam Euangelium Iohannis in Anglicam transtulit linguam iuxta Apostolum: Sapientibus, & insipientibus debitor sum, & omnibus omnia factus. In these dayes (of his sickenesse) he did translate the Gospel of Saint Iohn into the English tongue, saying with the Apostle: I am detter to the learned and vnlearned, I am made all to all. The tather he so did saith William Malmesbery: Quia hoc Euangelium difficultate sui mentes legentium exercet: Because this Gospel by the difficulty that is in it, doth so much exercise the wits of the readers, therefore he did interprete it into the English tongue: and so did condescend (saith he) to them which were not skilfull in the Latine tongue. God grant that all readers may take so much profite thereby, as the good translatours meant vnto them. Amen.

¶ A Table to make plaine the difficultie that is found in S. Matthew, and S. Luke, touching the generation of Iesus Christ the sonne of Dauid, and his right successour in the Kingdome: which description beginneth at Dauid and no higher, because the difficultie is onely in his posteritie.

S. Matthew.		S. Luke.
Dauid begate
Solomon King.		Nathan the Kings brother.
Roboam.	THe posteritie of Solomon left in Ochosias, whereby the kingdome was transported to the line of Nathan in the person of Ioas sonne to Iuda.	Mathatha.
Abia.		Menna.
Asa.		Melcha.
Iosaphat.		Eliacim.
Ioram.		Iona.
Ochosias.		Ioseph.
		* Iuda.
Simeon called Ioas, which begate
Amasias.	THe names here conteined, aswel on the left side as on the right, issuing from Ioas, haue diuers names, and yet are al one person. Therefore note that the persons on the left side, named by S. Matthew, are the very same that are otherwise named by S. Luke on the right side, till Salathiel.	Leui.
Azarias.		Matthath.
Ioatham.		Ioram.
Achas.		Eliezer.
Ezechias.		Iesu.
Manasses.		Her.
Amon.		Holmadam.
Iosias.		Cosan.
Achaas.		Addi.
Ioacim.		Melchi.
Iechonias.		Neri.
Salathiel.		Salathiel.
Zorobabel, which begate
Abiud.	AFter the people were returned into the Lande with Zorobabel, being deliuered from the captiuitie of Babylon, he gouerned the same people 58. yeres, and left diuers children, among whom Resa & Abiud were the chiefe. So the gouernment and rule ouer the people, remained to Resa and his posteritie, vntil Ianne, and thēce descended the Virgine Mary, as is declared in the generation described by Saint Luke, and Ioseph her husband descended from the said Zorobabel by Abiud brother to Resa, as Saint Matthewe declareth in the generation by him described.	Resa, which gouerned 66. yeeres.
Eliacim.		Ioanna 53. yeeres.
Azor.		Iuda 14.
Sadoc.		Ioseph 7.
Achim.		Semei 11.
Eliud.		Mathathi 12.
Eleazar.		Nahat 9.
Mathan.		Nagge 10.
Iacob.		Heli 8.
Ioseph the husband of Mary the Virgin, mother to our Sauiour Christ.		Naum 7.
		Amos 14.
		Mathathi 10.
		Ioseph 66.
		Ianne 16.
		Melchi.
		Leui.
		Matthath.
		* Heli called Ioacim.
		Mary the mother of Christ.

IESVS CHRIST.

FOr better vnderstanding of the contents of this Table, ye shal note that the Euangelists, S. Matthew, and S. Luke, haue diuersly recited the generation of our Sauiour Christ, according to the flesh, and yet tend both to one ende: that is, to proue (that according to that which is written of him in the prophecies) he is descended of the royal blood of Dauid, and rightly succeeded him in the kingdome. So the diuersitie of the said recitall consisteth in this: that S. Matthew setteth foorth the said generation descending from father to sonne: and S. Luke ascendeth from sonne to father, which come all to one ende. But to shewe the agreement of S. Luke, with S. Matthew, we haue here set forth the generation by him described, descending after the order of S. Matthew, to the ende that the one may be conferred with the other. Furthermore, S. Matthewe describeth the generation of Ioseph, though it belong nothing to Iesus Christ after the flesh, and S. Luke that of the Virgine Mary: for it was very necessary to recite both, forasmuch as women were commonly reputed of the line or kinred of their husbands: And so as well on her husbands side, as on her owne offspring, it is manifest that she was of the Royal line of Dauid.

* Iuda of the line of Nathan, engendered Simeon, called Ioas, which came to the Royal seate, because the posteritie of Solomon failed in Ochosias: and therefore the kingdome belonged to Nathans posteritie, according to the ordinance of Dauid, as Philo reciteth, that is, the yongest of the children of Beersebee (which was Solomon) should reigne after him, and that if the posteritie failed, the kingdome should come to the posteritie of the next yonger, which was Nathan: and therefore Nathan was called Abiezar, that is to say, Brother of the Prince, and they of his posteritie, Abiezarim, that is to say, Brothers of the Prince, and Mathitim, which signifieth, Giuen to succeed. The said Philo reciteth, that the posteritie of the said Nathan was so honoured of the King Iosaphat, that he called his children the brothers of Ioram his sonne, and their children the brothers of Ochosias his nephew: and this is the cause why the Scripture saith, that Ioas was the sonne of Ochosias, though he were not his naturall sonne, but the sonne of Iuda, descended from Nathan.

Note that S. Matthew, going about to describe the generation by fourteenes, did first leaue out Ioas, Amazias, and Azarias, which are set in betweene Ochosias, the last of the race of Solomon, and Ioathan. Further, he hath left out Iohaas, and Ioacim, placed betweene the same description more perfect and plaine.

* Forasmuch as it seemeth that S. Luke maketh no mention of the generation of Mary, but rather of Ioseph, for he vseth these wordes, that Iesus was counted the sonne of Ioseph, which was of Heli, that is to say, the sonne of Heli: we must vnderstand that in this place the name of sonne is taken for the name of sonne in law, and that S. Luke meaneth, that Ioseph was the son in law to Heli, for that he tooke to wife the Virgin Mary daughter to the said Heli, which maner of speach is cōmon in the Scripture: for we finde that Noemi calleth Ruth her daughter, which was but her step daughter, her sonnes wife.

17 And so all the generations from Abraham to Dauid, are fourteene generations: and from Dauid vntill the carying away into Babylon, are foureteene generations: and from the carying away into Babylon vnto Christ, are foureteene generations.

Luke 1.27.

18 The birth of Iesus Christ was on this wise. When as his mother Mary was betrothed to Joseph (before they came together) thee was found with childe of the holy Ghost.

19 Then Joseph her husband being a righteous man, and not willing to make her a publique example, was minded priuily to put her away.

Deut.24.1.

20 But while hee thought these things, beholde, the Angel of the Lord appeared vnto him in a dreame, saying, Joseph thou sonne of Dauid, feare not to take vnto thee Mary thy wife, for that which is conceiued in her, is of the holy Ghost.

21 She shall bring forth a sonne, and thou shalt call his Name Iesus: for hee shall saue his people from their sinnes.

Luke 1.31. acts.4.12.

22 (All this was done, that it might be fulfilled, which was spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying,

23 Behold, a virgin shalbe with childe, and shall bring forth a sonne, and they shall call his Name Emmanuel, which is by interpretation, God with vs.)

Esai.7.14.

24 Then Joseph, being raised from sleepe, did as the Angel of the Lord had bidden him, and he tooke his wife:

25 [c] And knewe her not, till shee had brought forth her first borne sonne, and called his Name Iesus.

[c] This phrase doeth not imply that he knew her afterward: as the like phrase vsed, Matth.5.28. and Psal.110. or that she had any mo children.

The ij. Chapter.

1 The time and place of Christs birth, 14 Christ fleeth into Egypt. 16 The yong children are slaine.

WHen Jesus was borne in Bethlehem, a citie of Jurie, in the dayes of Herode the King: beholde, there came wise men from the East to Hierusalem,

The Gospel on the Epiphanie. Luke 2.6.

2 Saying, Where is hee that is borne King of the Iewes? for wee haue seene his Starre in the East, and are come to worship him.

3 When Herode the King had heard these things, he was troubled, and all the citie of Hierusalem with him.

4 And when hee had gathered all the chiefe Priests & Scribes of the people together, hee demaunded of them where Christ should be borne.

5 And they said vnto him, At Bethlehem in Jurie: for thus it is written by the Prophet, Mich.5.2. iohn 7.41.

6 And thou Bethlehem in the land of Juda, art not the least among the Princes of Juda: for out of thee shall there come a captaine, that shall gouerne my people Israel.

7 Then Herode, when he had priuily called the wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the Starre appeared:

8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Goe, and search diligently for the yong childe, and when ye haue found him, bring me word againe, that I may come and worship him also.

9 When they had heard the King, they departed, and lo, the Starre which they saw in the East, went before them, till it came and stood o-ouer the place wherein the yong childe was.

10 When they saw the Starre, they reioyced exceedingly with great ioy,
11 And went into the house, and they sawe
the yong childe with Mary his mother, and fell downe, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, presented vnto him gifts, golde, and frankincense, and myrrhe.
12 And after they were warned of God in a dreame that they should not returne to Herode, they departed into their owne countrey another way.
The Gospel on Innocents day. 13 When they were departed, behold, the Angel of the Lord appeared to Ioseph in a dreame, saying, Arise, and take the yong childe, and a his mother, and flee into Egypt, & be thou there till I bring thee word: for it will come to passe, that Herod shall seeke the yong childe, to destroy him.
a Ioseph was not the father of Christ, else the Angel would not haue saide, Take the child and his mother, but rather, Take thy childe.
14 When hee arose, hee tooke the yong childe and his mother by night, and departed into Egypt:
15 And was there vnto the death of Herode, that it might bee fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the Prophet, saying, *Out of Egypt haue I called my sonne.
Osee. 11, 1.
16 Then Herode, when hee saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent foorth, and slewe all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coastes thereof, as many as were two yeres old and vnder, according to the time, which hee had diligently searched out of the wise men.
17 Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Ieremie the Prophet, saying,
Iere. 31, 15. 18 In Rama was there a voyce heard, *lamentation, weeping, and great mourning, Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they were not.
19 But when Herode was dead, behold, an Angel of the Lord appeareth in a dreame to Ioseph in Egypt,
20 Saying, Arise, and take the yong childe and his mother, and goe into the land of Israel: for they are dead, which sought the yong childs life.
21 And hee arose, and tooke the yong childe and his mother, and came into the lande of Israel.
22 But when hee heard that Archelaus did reigne in Iury in the roome of his father Herod, he was afraid to goe thither: notwithstanding, after he was warned of God in a dreame, he turned aside into the parts of Galilee:
23 And when he was come thither, he dwelt in a city, which is called Nazareth, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophets, He shall be called a Nazarite.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Iohns preaching, office, life, Baptisme, 7 reprehending of the Pharises, 13 And baptizing of Christ in Iordane.

12 *Whose fanne is in his hand, and he will throughly purge the floore, & gather his wheate into his garner: but will burne vp the chaffe with vnquenchable fire. Luke 3.18.
13 *Then commeth Iesus from Galilee to Iordane, vnto Iohn, to be baptized of him: Marke 1.8. luke 3.22.
14 But Iohn forbade him, saying, I haue neede to be baptized of thee, and commest thou to me?
15 Iesus answering, said vnto him, Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becommeth vs to fulfill all righteousnesse. Then he suffered him.
16 And Iesus, when he was baptized, went vp straight way out of the water: and loe, the heauens were opened vnto him, and Iohn sawe the Spirit of God descending like a doue, and lighting vpon him.
17 And loe, there came a voyce from the heauens, saying, *This is my dearly beloued sonne, *in whom I am well pleased. 2. Pet. 1.19. Col. 1, 13.

The iiij. Chapter.

2 Christ fasteth, and is tempted. 18 He calleth Peter, Andrew, Iames, and Iohn.

16 The people which sate in darkenesse, saw great light: and to them which sate in the region and shadow of death, light is sprung vp.

15 Mark, 1,14. 17 * From that time Iesus began to preach, and to say, Repent, for the kingdome of heauen is at hand.

The Gospel on S. Andrews day. Mark, 1,16.

18 * And Iesus walking by the Sea of Galilee, saw two brethren, Simon, which was called Peter, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea (for they were fishers)

19 And he sayth vnto them, Follow me: and I will make you fishers of men.

20 And they straight way left their nets, and followed him.

21 And when he was gone forth from thence, he saw other two brethren, Iames the sonne of Zebedee, and Iohn his brother, in the ship with Zebedee their father, mending their nets: and he called them.

22 And they immediatly left the ship and their father, and followed him.

23 And Iesus went about all Galilee, teaching in their Synagogues, and preaching the Gospel of the kingdome, and healing all maner of sickenesse, and all maner of disease among the people.

24 And his fame spread abroad thorowout all Syria: and they brought vnto him all sicke people that were taken with diuers diseases, and grippings, and those which were possessed with deuils, & those which were lunatike, and those that had the palsie, and he healed them.

25 And there followed him great multitudes of people, from Galilee, b and from Decapolis, and from Hierusalem, and from Iury, and from the regions that lye beyond Iordane.

b A countrey containing ten cities.

The v. Chapter.

In this Chapter, and in the two next following, is conteined the most excellent and louing sermon of Christ in the mount, which sermon is the very keye that openeth the vnderstanding into the lawe. In this fift Chapter especially, 3 he preacheth of the eight beatitudes or blessings, 21 of manslaughter, 22 wrath and anger, 33 of swearing.

WHen hee sawe the multitude, hee went vp into a mountaine: and when hee was set, his disciples came vnto him.

The Gospel on all Saints day.

2 And when he had opened his mouth, he taught them, saying,

3 * Blessed are the poore in spirit: for theirs is the kingdome of heauen.

Esai 61, 2.

5 * Blessed are the meeke: for they shall inherite the earth.

Psal. 37.11.

Esai 65.9.

6 * Blessed are they which doe hunger and thirst after righteousnesse: for they shall be satisfied.

7 Blessed are the mercifull: for they shall obtaine mercie.

8 * Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God.

Psal. 24.4.

9 Blessed are the peacemakers: for they shall be called the children of God.

10 * Blessed are they which haue beene persecuted for righteousnesse sake: for theirs is the kingdome of heauen.

1. Pet. 3,14.

11 Blessed are ye, when men shall reuile you, and persecute you, and lying, shall say all maner of * euill saying against you, for my sake.

1. Pet. 4,14

12 Reioyce ye and be glad: for great is your reward in heauen. For so persecuted they the Prophets which were before you.

13 * Yee are the salt of the earth: But if the salt become vnsauory, wherewith shall it be salted? It is thencefoorth good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be troden vnder foot of men.

Mark. 9,50. luke 14,34.

14 Ye are the light of the world. A citie that is set on an hill, cannot be hid.

15 * Neither doe men light a candle, and put it vnder a bushell: but on a candlestick, and it giueth light vnto all that are in the house.

Mark. 4.21. Luke 8.16. and 11.33.

16 Let your light so shine before men, * that they may see your good workes, and glorifie your father which is in heauen.

1. Pet. 2.12.

17 Thinke not that I am come to destroy the law or the Prophets. I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill.

18 For truely I say vnto you, * Till heauen and earth passe, one iote or one title of the lawe shall not scape, till all be fulfilled.

Luk. 17.10. Iam. 2.10.

19 * Whosoeuer therefore shall breake one of these least commandements, and shall teach men so, hee shall be called the least in the kingdome of heauen: but whosoeuer shall doe and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdome of heauen.

20 For I say vnto you, * Except your righteousnesse shall exceede the righteousnesse of the Scribes and Pharises, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdome of heauen.

The Gospel on the vj. Sunday after trinitie.

21 Ye haue heard, that it was sayd to them of old time, * Thou shalt not kill: whosoeuer killeth, shalbe in danger of iudgement.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Of almes, 5 prayer, 16 of fasting. 19 Hee forbiddeth the carefull seeking of worldly things.

TAke heede that yee doe not your almes before men, to the intent that ye would be seene of them, or els ye haue no reward of your father which is in heauen.

Rom. 12.8. 2 Therefore, * when thou doest thine almes, doe not blowe a trumpet before thee, as hypocrites doe, in the Synagogues, & in the streetes, that they might be esteemed of men. Verely I say vnto you, they haue their reward.

3 But when thou doest almes, let not thy left hand know, what thy right doeth:

4 That thine almes may be in secret: And thy father which seeth in secret, himselfe shall reward thee openly.

5 And when thou prayest, thou shalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they loue to pray standing in the Synagogues, and in the corners of the streets, that they may be seene of men. Verely I say vnto you, they haue their reward.

6 But when thou prayest, enter into thy closet, and when thou hast shut thy doore, pray to thy father which is in secret, and thy father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

7 But when yee pray, babble not much, as the heathen doe. For they thinke that they shall be heard, for their much babblings sake.

8 Be not yee therefore like vnto them: for your father knoweth what things ye haue need of, before ye aske of him.

Luke 11.2. 9 After this manner therefore pray ye: * Our father which art in heauen, hallowed be thy name,

10 Let thy kingdome come, Thy will be done, as well in earth, as it is in heauen.

11 Giue vs this day our daily bread.

12 And forgiue vs our debts, as wee forgiue our debters.

The Gospel on the first Sunday in Lent. 16 Moreouer, when ye fast, be not of an heauie countenance, as the hypocrites are: for they disfigure their faces, that they might appeare vnto men to fast: Verely I say vnto you, they haue their reward.

18 That thou appeare not vnto men to fast, but vnto thy father which is in secrete: and thy father which seeth in secret, shall reward thee openly.

30 Wherefore, if God so cloath the grasse of the field, which though it stand to day, is to morow cast into the ouen: shall hee not much more doe the same for you, O ye of little faith?
31 Therefore take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or, what shall we drinke? or, wherwithall shall we be clothed?
32 (For after all these things do the Gentiles seeke:) for your heauenly father knoweth that ye haue neede of all these things.
33 But seeke yee first the kingdome of God, and his righteousnesse, and all these things shall be added vnto you.
34 *Care not then for the morow: for the morowe shall care for it selfe: b Sufficient vnto the day, is the euill thereof.
b That is, the present day hath enough of his owne griefe or affliction.

6 And saying, Lorde, my seruant lyeth at home sicke of the palsie, grieuously pained.

7 And Jesus sayth to him, When I come, I will heale him.

8 The Centurion answered, and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come vnder my roofe: but speake the word only, and my seruant shall be healed.

9 For I also my selfe am a man set vnder authority, hauing souldiers vnder me: and I say to this man, Goe, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he commeth: and to my seruant, Do this, and he doeth it.

10 When Jesus heard these things, he marueiled, and sayd to them that followed, Verely, I say vnto you, I haue not found so great faith, no not in Israel.

30 And there was a good way off from them, an heard of many swine, feeding.

31 So the deuils besought him, saying, If thou cast vs out, suffer vs to goe away into the heard of the swine.

32 And hee sayd vnto them, Goe. Then went they out, and departed into the heard of the swine: and behold, the whole herd of the swine rushed headlong into the sea, and perished in the waters.

33 Then they that kept them, fled, and went their wayes into the city, and told euery thing, and what was done of the possessed with the deuils.

The xj. Chapter.

1 Christ preacheth. 2 Iohn Baptist sendeth his disciples vnto him. 7 Christs testimonie concerning Iohn.

AND it came to passe, that when Iesus had made an end of commanding his twelue disciples, he departed thence to teach and to preach in their cities.
2 Now when Iohn had heard in the prison the workes of Christ, hee sent two of his disciples,
The Gospel on the third Sunday in Aduent. Luke 7.18.
3 And sayd vnto him, Art thou hee that should come? Or doe we looke for another?
4 Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, Goe and shew Iohn againe those things which yee doe heare and see:
5 The blinde receiue their sight, the halt do walke, the lepers are cleansed, & the deafe heare, the dead are raised vp, and the poore haue the Gospell preached to them.
6 And happie is he, whosoeuer shal not be offended in me.
7 And as they departed, Iesus began to say vnto the multitudes concerning Iohn, What went ye out into the wildernesse to see? a reede shaken with the winde?
8 But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they that weare soft clothing, are in kings houses.
9 But what went ye out for to see? A Prophet? yea, I say vnto you, and more then a prophet.
10 For this is he of whom it is written, *Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

16 But whereunto shall I liken this generation? It is like vnto little children, sitting in the markets, and calling vnto their fellowes, 17 And saying, We haue piped vnto you, and ye haue not daunced: we haue mourned vnto you, and ye haue not sorowed.

a We haue sung mourning songs vnto you.

18 For Iohn came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a deuill.

19 The sonne of man came eating and drinking, and they say, Behold, a man gluttonous, and a wine bibber, and a friend vnto publicanes and sinners: and wisedome was iustified of her children.

Luk.10.13. 20 *Then beganne he to vpbraid the cities, wherein most of his mighty workes were done, because they repented not.

21 Woe vnto thee Chorazin, woe vnto thee Bethsaida: for if the mightie workes which were done in you, had beene done in Tyre and Sidon, they would haue repented long agoe in sackecloth and ashes.

22 But I say vnto you, It shall be easier for Tyre and Sidon at the day of iudgement, then for you.

23 And thou Capernaum, which hast beene lifted vp into heauen, shalt be brought downe to hell: for if the mighty workes which haue bene done in thee, had bene done among them of Sodome, they would haue remained vntill this day.

24 But I say vnto you, that it shall be easier for the land of Sodom, in the day of iudgement, then for thee.

The Gospel on S. Matthias day. Luk.10.21. 25 *At that time Iesus answered, and sayde, I thanke thee, O Father, Lorde of heauen and earth, because thou hast hid these things from the wise and prudent, and hast shewed them vnto babes.

Christ excuseth his disciples which plucke the eares of corne.

Mark.2.23. luke 6.1. deu.23.25. AT that time, *Iesus went on the Sabboth dayes through the corne, and his disciples were an hungred, and beganne to plucke the eares of corne, and to eate.

2 But when the Pharises sawe them, they sayde vnto him, Beholde, thy disciples doe that which is not lawfull to doe vpon the Sabboth day.

3 But he sayd vnto them, Haue ye not read *what Dauid did when hee was an hungred, and they that were with him,

8 For the sonne of man is Lord of the Sabboth day.

9 *And when he was departed thence, hee went into their Synagogue.

Mar.3.1. luke 6,6.

10 And behold, there was a man which had his hand dryed vp, and they asked him, saying, Is it lawfull to heale on the Sabboth dayes? that they might accuse him.

11 And he sayd vnto them, What man of you will there be that shall haue one sheepe: and if it fall into a pit on the Sabboth day, will hee not take hold of it, and lift it out?

12 How much more then is a man better then a sheepe? Wherefore it is lawfull to doe well on the Sabboth dayes.

13 Then sayth he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand: and he stretched it forth, and it was restored whole, like as the other.

14 Then the Pharises went out, and held a counsell against him, howe they might destroy him.

15 But when Iesus knewe it, hee departed thence: and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all,

16 And charged them that they should not make him knowen:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was spoken by Esaias the Prophet, saying,

Esa.42.1. 18 *Behold my child whome I haue chosen, my beloued, in whom my soule well delighteth: I will put my spirit vpon him, and he shall shewe iudgement to the Gentiles.

19 Hee shall not striue, nor cry, neither shall any man heare his voyce in the streets.

20 A bruised reede shall hee not breake, and smoking flaxe shall hee not quench, till hee send forth iudgement vnto victory.

21 And in his name shall the Gentiles trust.

22 *Then was brought vnto him one possessed with a deuill, blind, and dumbe: and he healed him, in so much that the blinde and dumbe both spake and saw.

Luk.11.14.

23 And all the people were amazed, and said, Is not this that sonne of Dauid?

10 And the disciples came, and sayd vnto him, Why speakest thou vnto them ~~in~~ parables?

11 Hee answered and sayd vnto them, Because it is giuen vnto you to know the secrets of the kingdome of heauen, but to them it is not giuen.

Mat. 25.29. 12 *For whosoeuer hath, to him shall be giuen, and hee shall haue more abundance: but whosoeuer hath not, from him shall be taken away, euen that he hath.

21 Yet hath he not roote in himselfe, but dureth for a season: for when tribulation or persecution ariseth because of the word, by and by he is offended.

22 He also that receiued seed into the thornes, is he that heareth the word, and the care of this world, and the deceitfulnesse of riches choke the word, and he is made vnfruitfull.

23 But he that receiued seede into the good ground, is he that heareth the word, and vnderstandeth it, which also beareth fruit, and bringeth forth, some an hundred fold, some sixty fold, some thirty fold.

The Gospel on the fifth Sunday after the Epiphanie. Mat.4.16. 24 Another parable put hee forth vnto them, saying, *The kingdome of heauen is likened vnto a man which sowed good seede in his field.

25 But while men slept, his enemie came and sowed tares among the wheate, and went his way.

26 But when the blade was sprung vp, and had brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares also.

27 So, the seruants of the housholder came, and said vnto him, Sir, diddest not thou sowe good seede in thy field, from whence then hath it tares?

28 He said vnto them, The malicious man hath done this. The seruants saide vnto him, Wilt thou then that we goe and gather them vp?

29 But he saide, Nay: least while yee gather vp the tares, ye root vp also the wheat with them.

30 Let both grow together vntill the harueſt: and in time of harueſt, I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burne them: but carie the wheate into my barne.

Mark.4.30. luke 13.18. 31 Another parable put he forth vnto them, saying, *The kingdome of heauen is like to a graine of mustard seede, which a man tooke and sowed in his field.

32 Which indeede is the least of all seedes: but when it is growen, it is the greatest among heards, and is a tree: so that the birdes of the aire come and make their nests in the branches thereof.

Luk. 13.20. 33 *Another parable spake he vnto them, saying, The kingdome of heauen is like vnto leauen, which a woman tooke, and hid in three peckes of meale, till all were leauened.

Mark.4.33. 34 *All these things spake Iesus vnto the people in parables, and without a parable spake he not vnto them:

Psal. 68.2. 35 That it might bee fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet, saying, *I will open my mouth in parables, I will speake forth things which haue bene kept secret from the foundation of the world.

36 Then Iesus, when he had sent the people away, went into the house: *And his disciples came vnto him, saying, Declare vnto vs the parable of the tares of the field.

37 He answered, and said vnto them, He that soweth the good seed, is the sonne of man.

38 The field, is the world. The good seede, these are the children of the kingdome. But the tares, are the children of the wicked, ones.

39 And the enemie that sowed them, is the deuill. *The haruest, is the end of the world. The reapers, be the Angels.

45 Againe, the kingdom of heauen is like vnto a marchant man, seeking goodly pearles:

46 Which when hee had found one precious pearle, went and sold all that he had, and bought it.

47 Againe, the kingdom of heauen is like vnto a net that was cast into the sea, and gathered of all kind,

28 Peter answered him, and said, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come vnto thee on the water.
29 And he said, Come. And when Peter was come downe out of the ship, he walked on the water, to goe to Iesus.
30 But when he saw a mightie winde, hee was afraid: and when he began to sinke, he cryed, saying, Lord saue me.
31 And immediatly Iesus, when he had stretched forth his hand, caught him, and said vnto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore diddest thou doubt?
32 And when they were come into the ship, the winde ceased.
33 Then they that were in the ship, came and worshipped him, saying, Of a trueth thou art the sonne of God.
Mar.6.54. 34 * And when they were gone ouer, they came into the land of Genezaret.
35 And whē the men of that place had knowledge of him, they sent out into all that countrey round about, and brought vnto him all that were sicke,
36 And besought him that they might touch the hemme of his garment onely: and as many as touched, were made perfectly whole.

The xv. Chapter.

Christ excuseth his disciples, & rebuketh the Scribes and Pharisees.

Matt.7.1. 9.7. Mark.7. THen *came to Iesus Scribes and Pharises, which were come from Hierusalem, saying,
2 Why do thy disciples transgresse the tradition of the elders? for they wash not their handes when they eate bread.
3 But he answered, and saide vnto them, Why doe you also transgresse the commaundement of God by your tradition?
Exo.20.12. deut.5.16. Exo.21.17. leuit.20.9. pro.20.20. 4 For God commanded, saying, * Honour thy father and thy mother: And he that curseth *father or mother, let him die the death.
5 But ye say, Whosoeuer shall say to his father or his mother, By the gift that is offered of me, thou shalt be helped:
6 And so shall he not honour his father or his mother. And thus haue yee made the commandement of God of none effect by your tradition.
Esa.29.13. 7 Ye hypocrites, full well did Esaias prophecie of you, saying,
8 *This people draweth nigh vnto mee with their mouth, and honoureth mee with their lippes: howbeit, their heart is farre from me.

9 But in vaine they do worship me, teaching doctrines, precepts of men.

Mar. 7.17. 10 * And when he had called the people to him, he said vnto them, Heare and vnderstand.

11 That which goeth into the mouth, defileth not the man: but that which commeth out of the mouth, defileth the man.

12 Then came his disciples, and saide vnto him, Knowest thou not that the Pharisees were offended after they heard this saying?

Iohn 15.8. 13 But he answered, and said, * All manner planting which my heauenly father hath not planted, shalbe rooted vp.

Luke.6.39. 14 Let them alone: * they be blind leaders of the blind. If the blind lead the blind, both shall fall into the ditch.

Mar.7.17. 15 * Then answered Peter & said vnto him, Declare vnto vs this parable.

16 Iesus said, Are ye also yet without vnderstanding?

17 Doe not ye yet vnderstand, that whatsoeuer entreth in at the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is cast out into the draught?

18 But those things which proceed out of the mouth, come forth from the heart, and they defile the man.

Gen. 6.5. 19 * For out of the heart proceed euil thoghts, murders, adulteries, whoredomes, thefts, false witnesse, blasphemies.

20 These are the things which defile a man: But to eate with vnwashen hands, defileth not a man.

The Gospel on the ii. Sunday in Lent. 21 * And Iesus, when he went thence, departed into the coasts of Tyre and Sidon.

Mar.7.24. 22 And behold, a woman of the Chanaanites, which came out of the same coasts, cryed vnto him, saying, Haue mercie on me, O Lord, thou sonne of Dauid, my daughter is grieuously vexed with a deuill.

23 But he answered not a word. And his disciples came, and besought him, saying, Send her away for she cryeth after vs.

24 But he answered, and said, I am not sent * but vnto the lost sheepe of the house of Israel.

Mat. 10.6. 25 Then came he, and worshipped him, saying, Lord, helpe me.

26 But he answered, and said, It is not meet to take the childrens bread, and to cast it to little dogges.

27 And she said, Yea, Lord: for the litle dogs also eate of the crummes which fall from their masters table.

28 Then Iesus answered, and said vnto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it done vnto thee euen as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole euen from that same houre.

Mar.7.31. 29 * And Iesus, when he was departed from thence, came nigh vnto the sea of Galilee, and when he was gone vp into a mountaine, he sate downe there.

Esa.35.5. 30 Then great multitudes came vnto him, hauing with them those that were lame, blinde, dumbe, maymed, and other many, and cast them downe at Iesus feete, and he healed them:

31 In so much that the people wondered, when they saw the dumbe speake, the maymed to be whole, the lame to walke, and the blind to see: and they glorified the God of Israel.

Mar.8.1. 32 * Then Iesus called his disciples vnto him, and sayde, I haue compassion on the people, because they continue with me now three dayes, and haue nothing to eate: & I will not let them depart fasting, lest they faint in the way.

33 And his disciples say vnto him, Whence should we get so much bread in the wildernesse, as to suffice so great a multitude?

34 And Iesus saieth vnto them, How many loaues haue ye? And they said, Seuen, and a few litle fishes.

35 And he commanded the people to sit downe on the ground.

36 And when he had taken the seuen loaues and the fishes, and had giuen thankes, he brake them, and gaue to his disciples: and the disciples gaue them to the people.

37 And they did all eate, and were suffices: and they tooke vp of the broken meate that was left, seuen baskets full.

38 And yet they that did eat, were foure thousand men, beside women and children.

39 And when he had sent away the people, he tooke ship, and came into the partes of Magdala.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 The Pharises require a token. 6 Iesus warneth his disciples of the Pharises doctrine.

Mark.8,11. luk.12,54. THe * Pharisees also, with the Sadducees, came, and tempting, desired him that he would shewe them a signe from heauen.

2 He answered, and said vnto them, When it is euening, ye say, It will be faire weather: for the skie is red.

3 And in the morning, It will be foule weather to day: for the skie is lowring red. O yee hypocrites, ye can discerne the outward appearance of the skie: but can yee not discerne the signes of the times?

Mat.12,34. Ionas 2,1. 4 * A froward and adulterous nation requireth * a signe, and there shall no signe be giuen vnto it, but the signe of the Prophet Ionas. And he left them, and departed.

5 ‖ And when his disciples were come to the other side of the water, they had forgotten to take bread with them.

‖ Mark. 8. 14 Luk. 12. 1

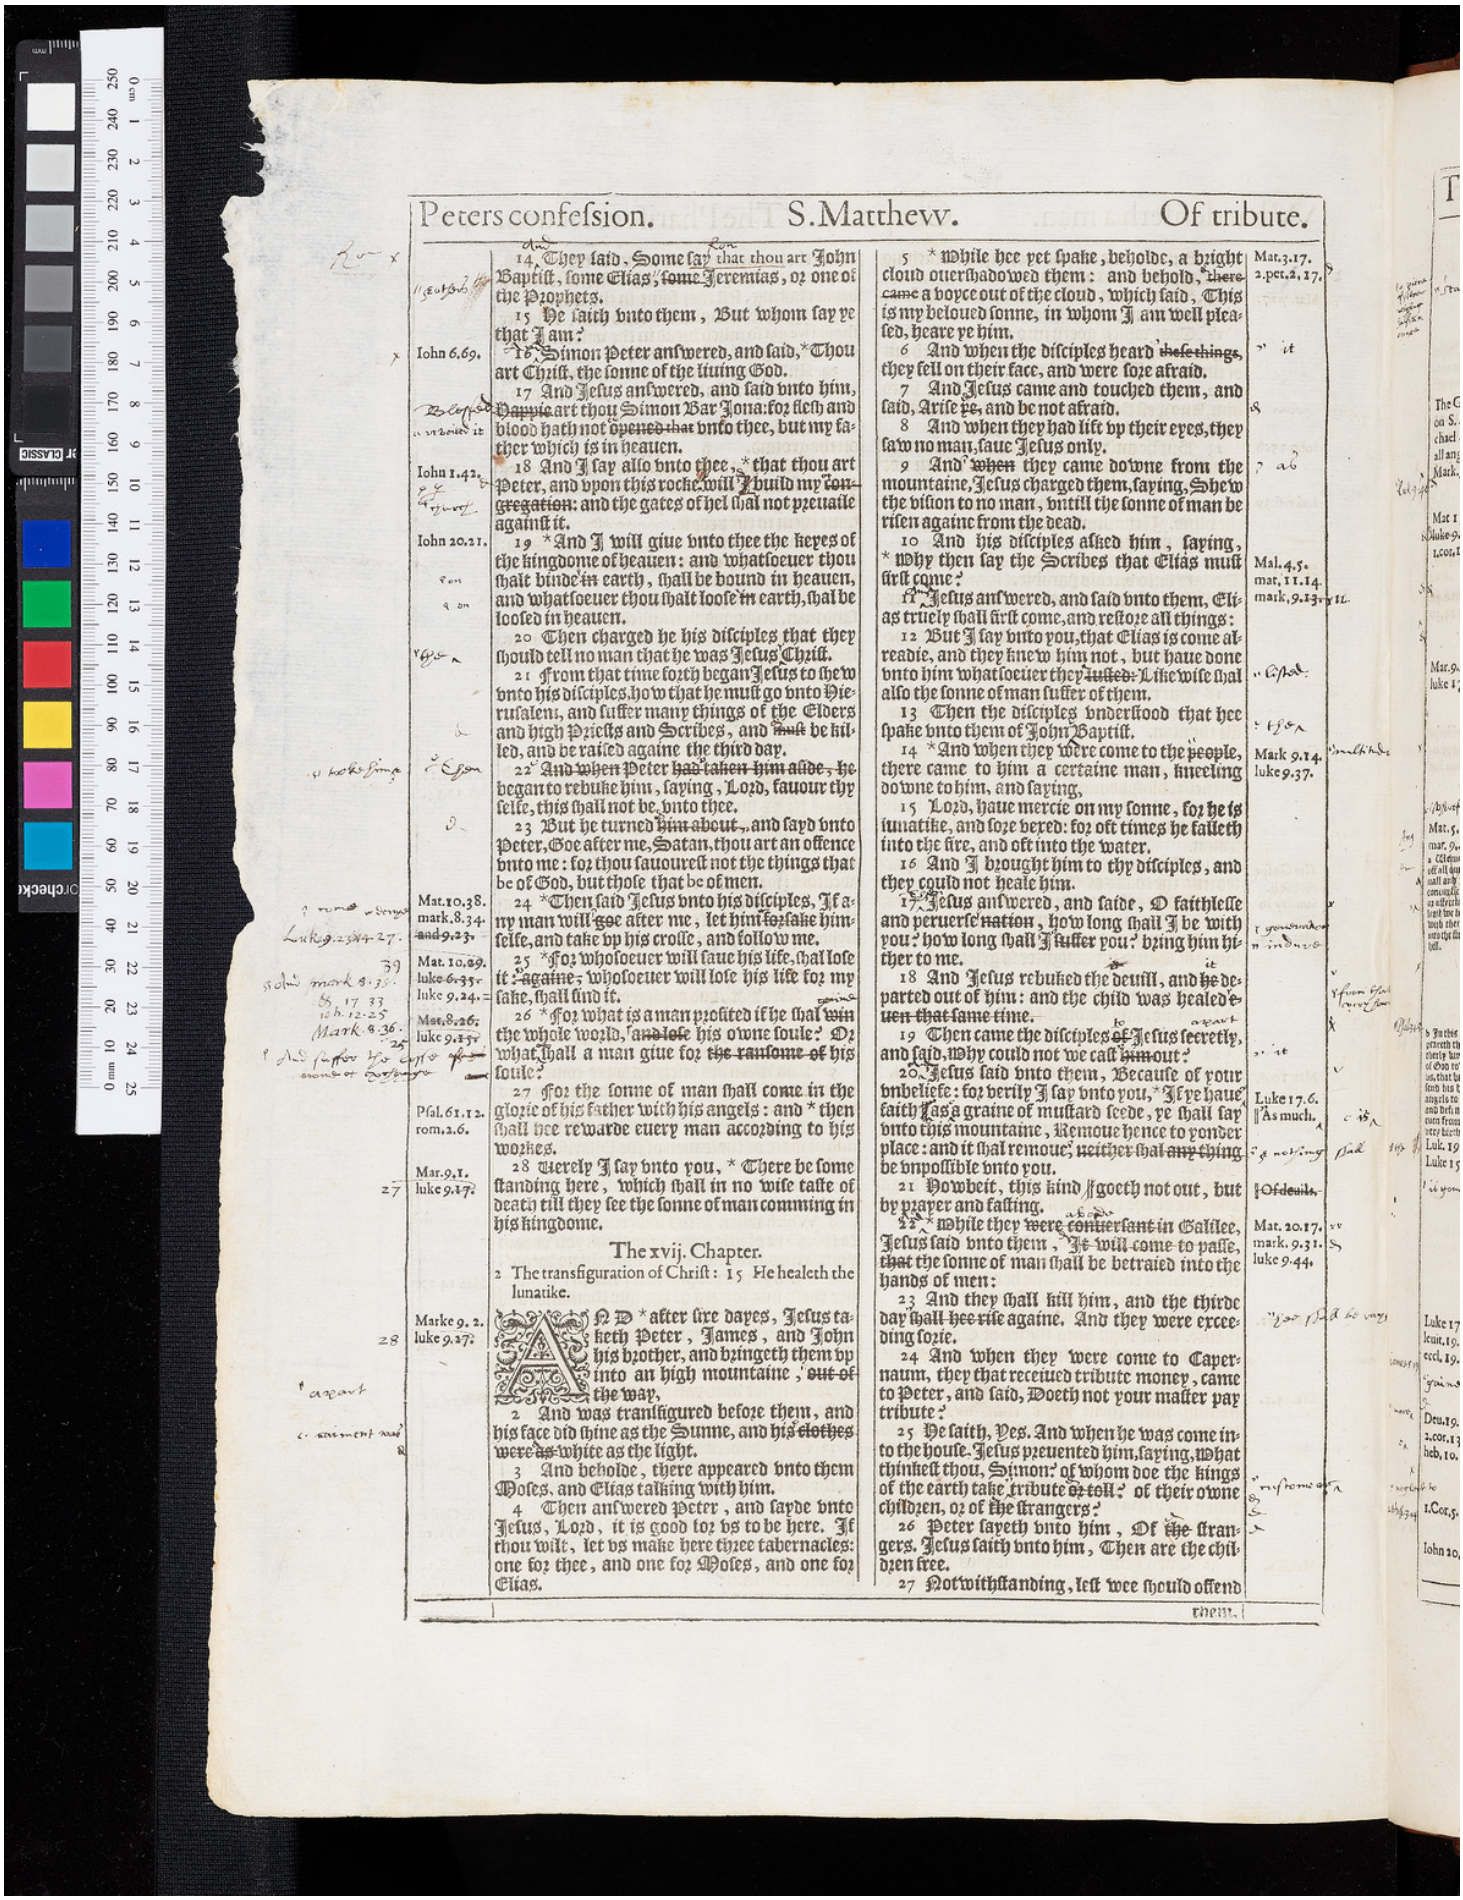
6 Then Iesus said vnto them, Take heede and beware of the leauen of the Pharisees, and of the Sadducees.

7 And they thought in themselues, saying, For we haue taken no bread with vs.

8 Which when Iesus vnderstood, he said vnto them, O ye of litle faith, why think you within your selues, because ye haue brought no bread?

Mat.14.17. 9 * Do ye not yet perceiue, neither remember those fiue loaues of the fiue thousand, and how many baskets tooke ye vp?

Mat.15.34. 10 * Neither the seuen loaues of the foure thousand, and how many baskets tooke ye vp?



11 How is it that ye doe not vnderstand that I spake it not vnto you concerning bread, that ye should beware of the leauen of the Pharisees, and of the Sadducees?

12 Then vnderstoode they how that he bad not them beware of the leauen of the bread: but of the doctrine of the Pharisees and of the Sadducees.

The Gospel on S. Peters day. Mark.8,27. luke 9.18. 13 When Iesus came into the coastes of Cesarea, which is called Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying, * Whom doe men say that I the sonne of man am?

20 Then charged he his diſciples that they ſhould tell no man that he was Jeſus Chriſt.
21 From that time forth began Jeſus to ſhew vnto his diſciples, how that he muſt go vnto Hieruſalem, and ſuffer many things of the Elders and high Prieſts and Scribes, and muſt be killed, and be raiſed againe the third day.
22 And when Peter had taken him aſide, he began to rebuke him, ſaying, Lord, fauour thy ſelfe, this ſhall not be vnto thee.
23 But he turned him about, and ſayd vnto Peter, Goe after me, Satan, thou art an offence vnto me: for thou fauoureſt not the things that be of God, but thoſe that be of men.
Mat.10.38. mark.8.34. and 9.23. 24 *Then ſaid Jeſus vnto his diſciples, If any man will goe after me, let him forſake himſelfe, and take vp his croſſe, and follow me.

2 The transfiguration of Chriſt: 15 He healeth the lunatike.

Marke 9.2. luke 9.27. 28 AND *after ſixe dayes, Jeſus taketh Peter, James, and John his brother, and bringeth them vp into an high mountaine, out of the way,
2 And was tranſfigured before them, and his face did ſhine as the Sunne, and his clothes were as white as the light.
3 And beholde, there appeared vnto them Moſes, and Elias talking with him.
4 Then anſwered Peter, and ſayde vnto Jeſus, Lord, it is good for vs to be here. If thou wilt, let vs make here three tabernacles: one for thee, and one for Moſes, and one for Elias.
5 *While hee yet ſpake, beholde, a bright cloud ouerſhadowed them: and beholde, there came a voyce out of the cloud, which ſaid, This is my beloued ſonne, in whom I am well pleaſed, heare ye him.
Mat.3.17. 2.pet.2.17.
6 And when the diſciples heard it, they fell on their face, and were ſore afraid.
7 And Jeſus came and touched them, and ſaid, Ariſe, and be not afraid.
8 And when they had lift vp their eyes, they ſaw no man, ſaue Jeſus only.
9 And as they came downe from the mountaine, Jeſus charged them, ſaying, Shew the viſion to no man, vntill the ſonne of man be riſen againe from the dead.
10 And his diſciples aſked him, ſaying, *why then ſay the Scribes that Elias muſt firſt come?
Mal.4.5. mat. 11.14. mark.9.13.

12 But I ſay vnto you, that Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but haue done vnto him whatſoeuer they liſted. Likewiſe ſhal alſo the ſonne of man ſuffer of them.
13 Then the diſciples vnderſtood that hee ſpake vnto them of John Baptiſt.
Mark 9.14. luke 9.37. 14 *And when they were come to the people, there came to him a certaine man, kneeling downe to him, and ſaying, 15 Lord, haue mercie on my ſonne, for he is lunatike, and ſore vexed: for oft times he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water.
16 And I brought him to thy diſciples, and they could not heale him.
17 Jeſus anſwered, and ſaide, O faithleſſe and peruerſe nation, how long ſhall I be with you? how long ſhall I ſuffer you? bring him hither to me.
18 And Jeſus rebuked the deuill, and he departed out of him: and the child was healed euen that ſame time.
19 Then came the diſciples of Jeſus ſecretly, and ſaid, Why could not we caſt him out?
Luke 17.6. As much. 20 Jeſus ſaid vnto them, Becauſe of your vnbeliefe: for verily I ſay vnto you, *If ye haue faith as a graine of muſtard ſeede, ye ſhall ſay vnto this mountaine, Remoue hence to yonder place: and it ſhal remoue, neither ſhal any thing be vnpoſſible vnto you.

them, goe thou to the sea, and cast an hooke, and take vp the fish that first commeth vp: and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt finde a piece of twentie pence: that take, and giue vnto them for me, and thee.

The xviij. Chapter.

3 He teacheth his disciples to be humble and harmelesse, 6 to auoide occasions of euill.

The Gospel on S. Michael and all angels.

AT the same time came the disciples vnto Iesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdome of heauen?

2 Iesus called a little child vnto him, and set him in the middes of them,

3 And said, Verily I say vnto you, Except ye turne and become as little children, ye shal not enter into the kingdome of heauen.

4 Whosoeuer therefore shal humble himself as this little child, the same is the greatest in the kingdome of heauen.

5 And who so shall receiue such a little childe in my name, receiueth me.

6 But who so shall offend one of these litle ones which beleeue in me, it were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his necke, and that hee were drowned in the depth of the sea.

7 Woe vnto the world because of offences, it must needes be that offences come: but woe to that man by whom the offence commeth.

8 If thy hand or thy foote offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life halt or maimed, rather then thou shouldest, hauing two hands or two feete, be cast into the euerlasting fire.

9 And if thine eye offend thee, plucke it out, and cast it from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life with one eye, rather then hauing two eyes, to be cast into hell fire.

10 Take heede that ye despise not one of these litle ones: for I say vnto you, that in heauen their angels doe alwayes behold the face of my father which is in heauen.

11 For the sonne of man is come to saue that which was lost.

12 How thinke ye? if a man haue an hundred sheepe, and one of them be gone astray, doth he not leaue those ninetie and nine, and goeth into the mountaines, and seeketh that which went astray?

13 And if so be that he find it, verily I say vnto you, he reioyceth more of that sheepe, then of the ninetie and nine which went not astray.

14 Euen so it is not the will of your father which is in heauen, that one of these litle ones should perish.

15 Moreouer, if thy brother shall trespasse against thee, go and tell him his fault betweene thee and him alone: if he shall heare thee, thou hast wonne thy brother.

16 But if he will not heare thee, then take yet with thee one or two: that in the mouth of two or three witnesses, euery word may be stablished.

17 If he will not heare them, tell it vnto the Church: if he will not heare the Church, let him be vnto thee as an Heathen man and a Publicane.

18 Verely I say vnto you, whatsoeuer ye shall binde on earth, shall be bound in heauen: and whatsoeuer ye shall loose on earth, shall be loosed in heauen.

19 Againe, truely I say vnto you, that if two of you shal agree in earth as touching any thing that they shall aske, it shal be done for them of my father which is in heauen.

20 For where two or three are gathered together in my name, there am I in the midst of them.

21 Then came Peter to him, and said, Lord, how oft shall my brother sinne against me, and I forgiue him? till seuen times?

The Gospel on the xxij. Sunday after Trinitie, Luke 17.4.

22 Iesus saith vnto him, I say not vnto you, vntill seuen times: but vntill seuentie times seuen.

23 Therefore is the kingdome of heauen likened vnto a certain man that was a king, which would take account of his seruants.

24 And when he had begun to reckon, one was brought vnto him which ought him ten thousand talents.

25 But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him to be solde, and his wife, and children, and all that he had, and paiment to be made.

26 The seruant therefore fell downe, and besought him, saying, Lorde, haue patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

27 Then the Lord of that seruant, moued with pitie, loosed him, and forgaue him the debt.

28 But the same seruant went out, and found one of his fellowes which ought him an hundred pence: and when hee had laide handes on him, he tooke him by the throte, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

29 And his fellow fell downe at his feete, and besought him, saying, Haue patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

30 And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt.

31 So when his fellowes sawe what was done, they were very sorie, and came, and told vnto their lord all that was done.

32 Then his lord, after that hee had called him, saide vnto him, O thou vngratious seruant, I forgaue thee all that debt when thou desiredst me:

33 Shouldest not thou also haue had compassion on thy fellow, euen as I had pitie on thee?

34 And his lord was wroth, and deliuered him to the tormentors, till he should pay all that was due vnto him.

35 So like wise shall my heauenly father doe also vnto you, if ye from your hearts forgiue not euery one his brother their trespasses.

The xix. Chapter.

Mark, 10.1.

AND it came to passe, that when Iesus had finished these sayings, hee gate him from Galilee, and came into the coastes of Iury, beyond Iordane:

The xx. Chapter.

1 Christ teacheth by a similitude, that God is debter vnto no man. 20 He teacheth his disciples to be lowly, 30 and giueth two blind men their sight.

FOr the kingdome of heauen is like vnto a man that is an housholder, which went out earely in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard.
The Gospel on Septuagesima sunday.
2 And when he had agreed with the labourers for a penie a day, hee sent them into his vineyard.
3 And when hee went out about the third houre, he saw other standing idle in the market place,
4 And said vnto them, Goe ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoeuer is right, I will giue you. And they went their way.

8 So when euen was come, the lord of the vineyard saith vnto his Steward, Call the labourers, and giue them their hire, beginning from the last, vnto the first.
9 And when they came that were hired about the eleuenth houre, they receiued euery man a penie.

with mine owne? Is thine eye euill, because I am good?

16 *So the last shalbe first, and the first shalbe last: for many be called, but few be chosen.

17 * And Jesus going vp to Hierusalem, tooke the twelue disciples aside in the way, and said vnto them,

18 Behold, we go vp to Hierusalem, and the sonne of man shall be betrayed vnto the chiefe priests, and vnto the Scribes, and they shal condemne him to death:

19 *And shall deliuer him to the Gentiles to be mocked, & to be scourged, and to be crucified: and the third day he shall rise againe.

20 *Then came to him the mother of Zebedees children, with her sonnes, worshipping him, and desiring a certaine thing of him.

21 And he saith vnto her, What wilt thou? She saith vnto him, Grant, that these my two sonnes may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left, in thy kingdome.

22 But Jesus answered, and said, Yee wote not what ye aske. Are ye able to drinke of the cup that I shall drinke of, and to be baptized with the baptisme that I am baptized with? They say vnto him, We are able.

23 He saith vnto them, Ye shal drinke indeede of my cup, and be baptized with the baptisme that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not mine to giue, but to them for whom it is prepared of my father.

24 *And when the ten heard this, they disdained at the two brethren.

25 But Jesus, when he had called them vnto him, said, Ye know that the princes of the Gentiles haue dominion ouer them, and they that are great, exercise authority vpon them.

26 It shal not be so amõg you: But whosoeuer will be great amõg you, let him be your minister, 27 And who so will be chiefe among you, let him be your seruant.

28 Euen as *the sonne of man came not to be ministred vnto, but to minister, and to giue his life a ransome for many.

29 *And as they departed from Hiericho, much people followed him.

30 And behold, two blind men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus passed by, they cried, saying, O Lord, thou sonne of Dauid, haue mercie on vs.

31 And the people rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cryed the more, saying, Haue mercie on vs, O Lord, thou sonne of Dauid.

32 And Jesus stood still, and called them, and said, What will ye that I shall do vnto you?

33 They say vnto him, Lord, that our eyes may be opened.

34 So Jesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes: and immediatly their eyes receiued sight, and they followed him.

The xxj. Chapter.

7 He rideth into Hierusalem, 12 driueth the marchants out of the Temple, 19 and curseth the figge tree.

AND *when they drewe nigh vnto Hierusalem, and were come to Bethphage, vnto the mount of Olines, then sent Jesus two disciples,

2 Saying vnto them, Goe into the village that lieth ouer against you, and anon ye shal find an Asse tied, and a colt with her: when ye haue loosed them, bring them vnto me.

3 And if any man say ought vnto you, ye shall say, The Lorde hath neede of them, and straight way he will let them goe.

4 All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet, saying,

5 *Tell ye the daughter of Sion, Beholde, thy king commeth vnto thee, meeke, and sitting vpon an Asse, and a colt, the foale of the Asse vsed to the yoke.

6 The disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them,

7 And brought the Asse, and the colt, and put on them their clothes, and he sate thereon.

8 And many of the people spread their garments in the way, other cut downe branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 *Moreouer, the multitudes that went before, and that came after, cried, saying, Hosanna to the sonne of Dauid: Blessed is he that commeth in the name of the Lord, Hosanna in the highest.

10 *And when hee was come into Hierusalem, all the citie was moued, saying, Who is this?

11 And the multitude saide, This is Jesus that Prophet of Nazareth a citie in Galilee.

12 And Jesus went into the Temple of God, *and cast out all them that solde and bought in the Temple, and ouerthrew the tables of the money changers, and the seates of them that sold Doues, 13 And said vnto them, It is written, My house shalbe called the house of prayer, * but ye haue made it a denne of theeues.

14 *And the blind and the halt came to him in the temple, and he healed them.

15 When the chiefe priests and Scribes saw the wonders that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the sonne of Dauid, they disdained,

16 And sayd vnto him, Hearest thou what these say? But Jesus saith vnto them, Yea, haue ye neuer read, *Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast ordeined praise?

17 And he left them, and went out of the city vnto Bethanie, and he lodged there.

18 In the morning, as he returned into the citie, he hungred.

19 *And when he saw one figge tree in the way, he came to it, and found nothing thereon but leaues onely, and said vnto it, Neuer fruit grow on thee hence forward. And anon the figge tree withered away.

20 And when the Disciples saw it, they marueiled, saying, How soone is the figge tree withered away?

21 Jesus answered, and said vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, if ye haue faith, and doubt not, ye shall not onely doe this which is done to the figge tree, but also, if ye shall say vnto this mountaine, Be thou remoued, and be thou cast into the sea, it shalbe done.

22 And all things whatsoeuer ye shal aske in prayer, beleeuing, ye shall receiue.

23 *And when he was come into the temple, the chiefe priests & the elders of the people came vnto him teaching, and say, By what authority doest thou these things? and who gaue thee this power?

24 Jesus answered, and said vnto them, I also will aske you one question, which if ye tell me, I in like wise will tell you by what authoritie I doe these things:

25 The baptisme of John, whence was it? from heauen, or of men? And they reasoned with themselues saying, If we shall say, From heauen, he will say vnto vs, Why did ye not then beleeue him?

Mat.14.5. 26 But if we shall say, Of men, then feare we the people, * for all men hold John as a Prophet.

27 And they answered vnto Jesus, and said, Wee cannot tell. And he saide vnto them, Neither tell I you by what authority I do these things.

28 But what thinke you? A certaine man had two sonnes, and when he came to the first, he said, Sonne, go and worke to day in my vineyard.

29 He answered, and said, I will not: but afterward he repented, and went.

30 And when he came to the second, he sayd like wise: And he answered, and said, I goe sir, and went not.

31 Whether of them twaine did the will of his father? And they said vnto him, The first. Jesus saith vnto them, Verely I say vnto you, that the Publicanes and the harlots go into the kingdome of God before you.

Mat.3.4. 32 For * John came vnto you by the way of righteousnesse, and ye beleeued him not: but the Publicanes and the harlots beleeued him. And ye when ye had seene it, were not moued afterward with repentance, that ye might haue beleeued him.

34 And when the time of the fruit drew neere, he sent his seruants to the husbandmen, that they might receiue the fruits of it.

35 And the husbandmen, when they had taken his seruants, they beat one, killed another, and stoned another.

36 Againe, he sent other seruants, moe then the first, and they did vnto them like wise.

37 But last of all, he sent vnto them his owne sonne, saying, They will stand in awe of my sonne.

40 When the Lorde therefore of the vineyard commeth, what will he doe vnto those husbandmen?

41 They say vnto him, He will miserably destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard vnto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruit in due seasons.

Psal.118.22. act.4.11. 42 Jesus saith vnto them, * Did yee neuer reade in the scriptures, The stone which the builders disallowed, the same is become the head of the corner? This is the Lords doing, and it is marueilous in our eyes.

46 And when they sought to lay handes on him, they feared the multitudes, because they tooke him as a Prophet.

4 Againe, he sent foorth other seruants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I haue prepared my dinner, my Oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are readie: come vnto the marriage.

5 But they made light of it, and went their wayes, one to his farme, another to his marchandize:

6 And the remnant tooke his seruants, and intreated them spitefully, and slue them.

7 But when the king heard thereof he was wroth, and when he had sent foorth his armies, hee destroyed those murderers, and burnt vp their citie.

8 Then saith he to his seruants, The marriage in deede is prepared, but they which were bidden, were not worthy.

9 Goe ye therefore out into the high wayes, and as many as ye shall find bid to the marriage.

10 And the seruants went out into the high wayes, and gathered together all as many as they found, both good and bad, and the wedding was furnished with ghests.

11 When the king came in to see the ghests, he spied there a man, which had not on a wedding garment,

12 And he saith vnto him, Friend, howe camest thou in hither, not hauing a wedding garment? And he was euen speechlesse.

The xxv. Chapter.

1 The ten virgins. 14 The talents deliuered to the seruants. 31 And of the generall iudgement.

THen shall the kingdome of heauen be likened vnto ten virgins, which when they had taken their lamps, went forth to meet the bridegroome.

2 But fiue of them were wise, and fiue were foolish.

3 They that were foolish, when they had taken their lampes, tooke none oyle with them:

4 But the wise tooke oyle in their vessels, with their lamps also.

5 While the bridegrome taried, they all slumbred and slept.

6 And euen at midnight there was a crye made, Behold, the bridegrome commeth, goe ye out to meet him.

7 Then all those virgines arose, and prepared their lampes.

8 So the foolish sayd vnto the wise, Giue vs of your oyle, for our lamps are gone out.

9 But the wise answered, saying, Not so, least there be not ynough for vs and you: but goe ye rather to them that sell, and buy for your selues.

10 And while they went to buy, the bridegrome came, and they that were ready, went in with him to the marriage, and the doore was shut vp.

11 Afterward came also the other virgines, saying, Lord, Lord, open to vs.

12 But hee answered, and sayd, Verely I say vnto you, I know you not.

13 *Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day, nor yet the houre, wherin the sonne of man commeth.

14 *The wise, as when a certaine man taking his iourney into a straunge countrey, called his owne seruants, and deliuered vnto them his goods.

15 And vnto one he gaue fiue talents, to another two, and to another one, to euery man after his ability, and straightway tooke his iourney.

16 Then he that had receiued the fiue talents, went and occupied with the same, and made them other fiue talents.

17 And likewise he that had receiued two, he also gained other two.

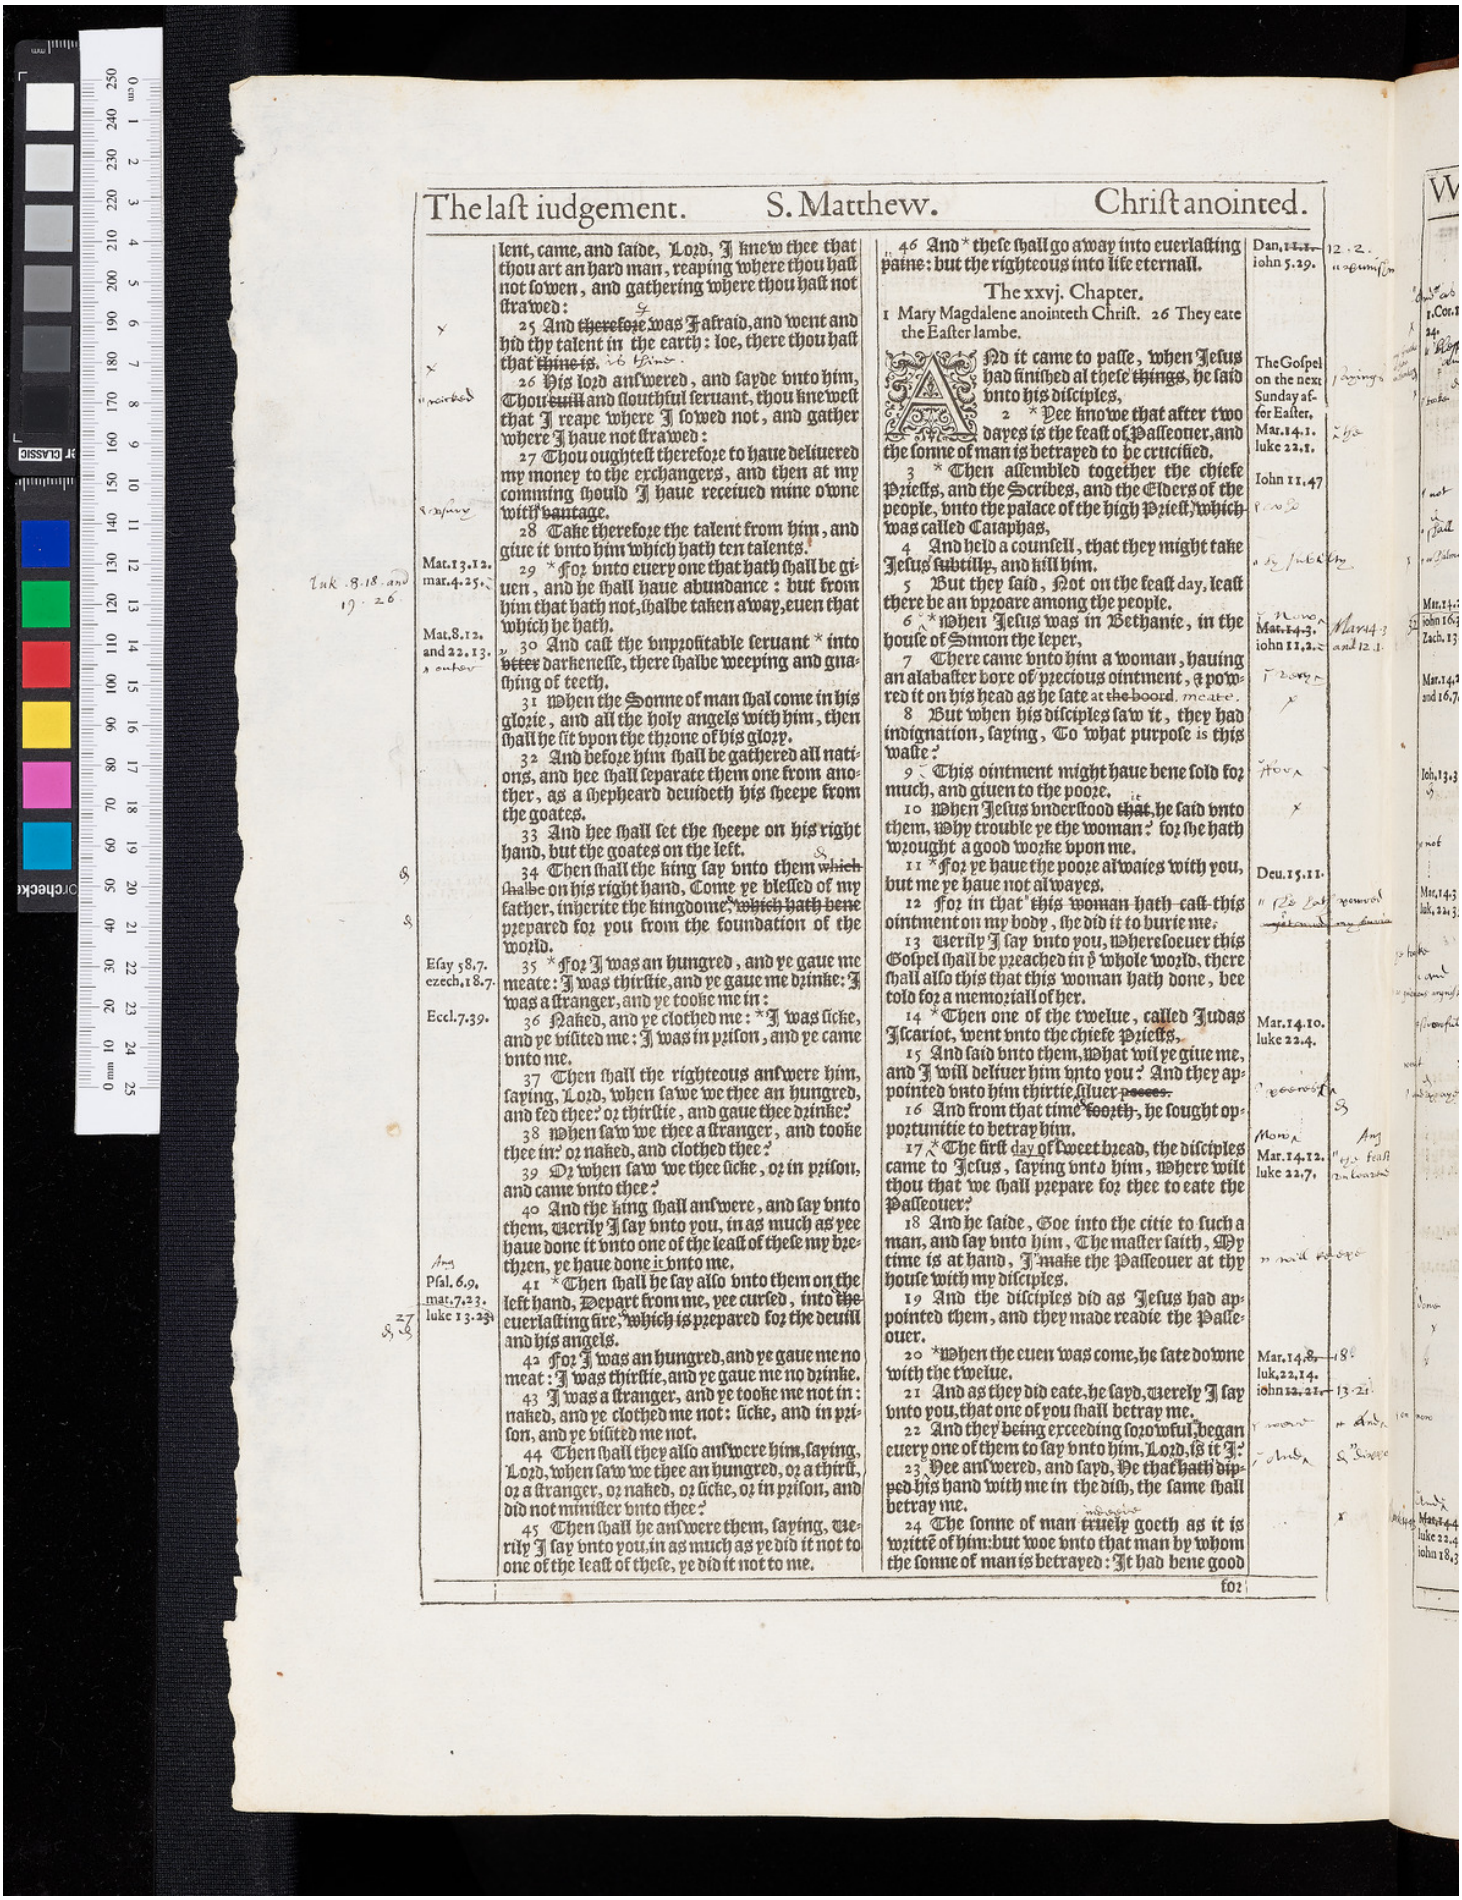
18 But hee that had receiued one, went and digged in the earth, and hid his lords money.

19 After a long season, the lorde of those seruants commeth, and reckoneth with them.

20 And so hee that had receiued fiue talents, came and brought other fiue talents, saying, Lorde, thou deliueredst vnto mee fiue talents: behold, I haue gained besides them, fiue talents moe.

21 His lorde sayd vnto him, Well done, thou good and faithfull seruant, thou hast bene faithfull ouer fewe things, I will make thee ruler ouer many things: enter thou into the ioy of thy lord.

22 Hee also that had receiued two talents, came, and said, Lord, thou deliueredst vnto me two talents: behold, I haue won two other talents besides them.



23 His lord said vnto him, Well done, good and faithfull seruant, thou hast bene faithfull ouer few things, I will make thee ruler ouer many things: enter thou into the ioy of thy lord.

24 Then he which had receiued the one talent, lent, came, and saide, Lord, I knew thee that thou art an hard man, reaping where thou hast not sowen, and gathering where thou hast not strawed:

25 And therefore was I afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: loe, there thou hast that thine is.

26 His lord answered, and sayde vnto him, Thou euill and slouthful seruant, thou knewest that I reape where I sowed not, and gather where I haue not strawed:

27 Thou oughtest therefore to haue deliuered my money to the exchangers, and then at my comming should I haue receiued mine owne with vantage.

28 Take therefore the talent from him, and giue it vnto him which hath ten talents.

The Gospel on the next Sunday after Easter. Mar.14.1. luke 22.1.

2 *Yee know that after two dayes is the feast of Passeouer, and the sonne of man is betrayed to be crucified.

Iohn 11.47

3 *Then assembled together the chiefe Priests, and the Scribes, and the Elders of the people, vnto the palace of the high Priest, which was called Caiaphas,

4 And held a counsell, that they might take Jesus subtilly, and kill him.

5 But they said, Not on the feast day, least there be an vproare among the people.

Mar.14.3. iohn 11.2.

6 *When Jesus was in Bethanie, in the house of Simon the leper,

7 There came vnto him a woman, hauing an alabaster bore of precious ointment, and powred it on his head as he sate at the boord.

8 But when his disciples saw it, they had indignation, saying, To what purpose is this waste?

9 This ointment might haue bene sold for much, and giuen to the poore.

10 When Jesus vnderstood that, he said vnto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for she hath wrought a good worke vpon me.

11 *For ye haue the poore alwaies with you, but me ye haue not alwayes.

Deu.15.11.

12 For in that this woman hath cast this ointment on my body, she did it to burie me.

13 Verily I say vnto you, Whersoeuer this Gospel shall be preached in the whole world, there shall also this that this woman hath done, bee told for a memoriall of her.

14 *Then one of the twelue, called Judas Iscariot, went vnto the chiefe Priests, 15 And said vnto them, What wil ye giue me, and I will deliuer him vnto you? And they appointed vnto him thirtie siluer pieces.

16 And from that time forth, he sought opportunitie to betray him.

17 *The first day of sweet bread, the disciples came to Jesus, saying vnto him, Where wilt thou that we shall prepare for thee to eate the Passeouer?

Mar.14.12. luke 22.7.

18 And he saide, Goe into the citie to such a man, and say vnto him, The master saith, My time is at hand, I make the Passeouer at thy house with my disciples.

for that man if he had not bene borne.

25 Then Judas, which betrayed him, answered, and sayd, Master, Is it I? He sayd vnto him, Thou hast said.

26 When they were eating, * Jesus, when hee had taken the bread, and giuen thankes, hee brake it and gaue it to the disciples, and sayde, Take ye, eat ye, this is my body.

27 And when hee had taken the cup, & giuen thankes, he gaue it them, saying, Drinke ye all of it:

28 For this is my blood of the new testament, that is shed for many for the remission of sinnes.

29 But I say vnto you, I will in no wise drinke henceforth of this fruite of the vine tree, vntill that day when I drinke it newe with you in my fathers kingdome.

30 And when they had praised God, they went out vnto the mount of Oliues.

31 *Then sayth Jesus vnto them, All ye shall be offended because of me this night: For it is written, *I wil smite the shepheard, & the sheepe of the flocke shalbe scattered abroad.

32 But after I am risen againe, * I will goe before you into Galilee.

33 Peter answered, and sayde vnto him, Though all men shalbe offended because of thee, yet will I neuer be offended.

34 Jesus sayd vnto him, *Verely I say vnto thee, that in this same night before the cocke crow, thou shalt deny me thrise.

35 Peter sayde vnto him, Though I should die with thee, yet wil I by no maner of meanes deny thee. Likewise also said all the disciples.

36 *Then commeth Jesus with them vnto a place called Gethsemane, & sayeth vnto the disciples, Sit ye here while I goe and pray yonder.

37 And when he had taken with him Peter, and the two sonnes of Zebedee, hee began to be sorowfull and heauy, 38 Then said Jesus vnto them, My soule is exceeding heauie, euen vnto the death: tary yee here, and watch with me.

39 And when he had gone a little further, he fell flatte on his face, praying, and saying, O my father, if it be possible, let this cup passe from me: neuertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt.

40 And hee commeth vnto the disciples, and findeth them asleepe, & saith vnto Peter, What, could ye not watch with me one houre?

41 Watch and pray, that yee enter not into temptation: The spirit in deede is willing, but the flesh is weake.

42 He went away againe the second time, and prayed, saying, O my father, if this cup may not passe away from me, except I drinke it, thy will be fulfilled.

43 And when he came, he findeth them asleepe againe: for their eyes were heauie.

44 And hee left them, and went away againe and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45 Then commeth he to his disciples, & sayth vnto them, Sleepe henceforth, & take your rest: beholde, the houre is at hand, and the sonne of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

46 Rise, let vs be going: behold, he is at hand that doth betray me.

47 *While he yet spake, loe, Judas one of the twelue came, and with him a great multitude with swords and staues from the chiefe Priests and Elders of the people.

48 But he that betrayed him, gaue them a token, saying, Whomsoeuer I shall kisse, that same is he, hold him fast.

49 And forthwith when hee came to Jesus, he sayd, Haile master: and kissed him.

50 And Jesus said vnto him, Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they and layde hands on Jesus, and tooke him.

51 And behold, one of them which were with Jesus, stretched out his hand, & drew his sword, and after that he had striken a seruant of the hie priests, he smote off his eare.

52 Then sayd Jesus vnto him, Turne backe thy sword into his place: * for all they that take the sword, shall perish with the sword.

53 Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my father, and he shall cause to stand by me more then twelue legions of angels?

54 But how then shall the scriptures be fulfilled, * that thus it must be?

55 In that same houre said Jesus to the multitudes, Ye be come out as it were vnto a thiefe with swordes and staues for to take me? I sate daily with you teaching in the Temple, and yee tooke me not.

56 But all this was done that the scriptures of the Prophets might be fulfilled. *Then all the disciples hauing forsaken him, fled.

57 *But they that had taken Jesus, led him away to Caiaphas the high priest, where the Scribes and the Elders were assembled.

58 But Peter followed him afarre off, vnto the hie priests palace, and went in, and sate with the seruants to see the end.

59 *The chiefe priests and elders, and all the counsell, sought false witnesse against Jesus, to put him to death,

60 But found none: yea, when many false witnesses came, yet found they none. At the last came two false witnesses, 61 And sayd, This fellow sayd, *I am able to destroy the Temple of God, and to builde it in three dayes.

62 And the chiefe priest arose, and sayd vnto him, Answerest thou nothing? What is that which these witnes against thee?

63 But Jesus held his peace. And the chiefe priest answered, and said vnto him, I charge thee by the liuing God, that thou tell vs whether thou be Christ the sonne of God?

64 Jesus sayeth vnto him, Thou hast sayde: Neuertheless, I say vnto you, *Hereafter shall ye see the sonne of man sitting on the right hand of the power of God, and comming in the clouds of the skie.

65 Then the high priest rent his clothes, saying, He hath spoken blasphemy: what neede we of any moe witnesses? Behold, now yee haue heard his blasphemy.

66 What thinke ye? They answered and said, He is worthy to die.

67 *Then did they spit in his face, and buffeted him with fists, and other smote him on the face with the palme of their hands,

68 Saying, Prophecie vnto vs, O Christ, who is he that smote thee?

69 *Peter sate without in the palace: And a damosel came vnto him, saying, Thou also wast with Jesus of Galilee.

70 But he denyed before them all, saying, I wote not what thou sayest.

71 When he was gone out into the porch, an other wench sawe him, and said vnto them that were there, This fellow was also with Iesus of Nazareth.

72 And againe he denied with an othe, I doe not know the man.

73 And after a while came vnto him they that stood by, and said to Peter, Surely thou art euen one of them: for thy speech bewrayeth thee.

74 Then beganne he to curse and to sweare, saying, I know not the man. And immediatly the cocke crew.

75 And Peter remembred the words of Iesu, which sayde vnto him, Before the cocke crowe, thou shalt denye me thrice. And he went out, and wept bitterly.

The xxvij. Chapter.

2 Christ is deliuered vnto Pilate. 5 Iudas hangeth himselfe.

Mar.15.1. luke 22.66. iohn 17.22. WHen the morning was come, * all the chiefe priests and Elders of the people helde a counsell against Iesus to put him to death.

2 And when they had bound him, they ledde him away, and deliuered him to Pontius Pilate the deputie.

3 Then Iudas, which had betrayed him, when he sawe that he was condemned, repented himselfe, and brought againe the thirtie ‖ siluer pieces to the chiefe priests and elders,

‖ Or, siluerling.

4 Saying, I haue sinned, in that I haue betrayed the innocent blood. And they sayde, What is that to vs? see thou to that.

Act.1.18.

5 And when he had cast downe the pieces of siluer in the temple, he departed, * and went his way, and hanged himselfe.

6 And the chiefe Priests tooke the siluer pieces, and sayd, It is not lawfull for to put them into the treasurie, because it is the price of blood.

7 And when they had taken counsell, they bought with them the potters fielde, to burie strangers in.

Acts 1.19.

8 Wherefore that field was called, * The field of blood vnto this day.

Zach.11.15.

9 (Then was fulfilled that which was spoken by Ieremie the Prophet, saying, * And they tooke the thirtie siluer peeces, the price of him that was valued, whome they bought of the children of Israel:

10 And gaue them for the potters field, as the Lord appointed me.)

11 Iesus stood before the deputie, & the deputie asked him, saying, Art thou the king of the Iewes? Iesus sayth vnto him, Thou sayest.

Mar.15.3.

12 * And when he was accused of the chiefe priests and elders, he answered nothing.

13 Then sayeth Pilate vnto him, Hearest thou not how many things they witnes against thee?

14 And he answered him to neuer a word: in so much that the deputy marueiled greatly.

Mar.15.6. luke 23.17.

15 * At that feast the deputie was woont to let loose vnto the people a prisoner, whome they would.

16 He had then a notable prisoner, called Barabbas.

17 Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate sayd vnto them, whether will ye that I giue loose vnto you Barabbas, or Iesus, which is called Christ?

18 For he knewe that for enuie they had deliuered him.

19 When he was set downe on the iudgement seate, his wife sent vnto him, saying, Haue thou nothing to doe with that iust man: for I haue suffered many things this day in a dreame because of him.

Mar.15.11. luke 23.17. iohn 18.40. acts 3.14.

20 * But the chiefe priests and elders perswaded the people that they should aske Barabbas, and destroy Iesus.

21 The deputie answered, and sayde vnto them, whether of the twaine will ye that I let loose vnto you? They sayd, Barabbas.

22 Pilate sayde vnto them, What shall I doe then with Iesus, which is called Christ? They all sayd vnto him, Let him be crucified.

23 The deputie sayd, What euill hath hee done? But they cryed exceedingly, saying, Let him be crucified.

24 When Pilate sawe that he could preuaile nothing, but that more businesse was made, hee tooke water, and washed his handes before the people, saying, I am innocent of the blood of this iust person: see ye to it.

25 Then answered all the people, and sayd, His blood be on vs, and on our children.

26 Then let he Barabbas loose vnto them, and when he had scourged Iesus, hee deliuered him to be crucified.

Mar.15.16. iohn.19.1.

27 * Then the souldiers of the deputie, when they had taken Iesus into the common hall, gathered vnto him all the band of souldiers.

28 And when they had stripped him, they put on him a scarlet robe:

29 And when they had platted a crowne of thornes, they put it vpon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and when they had bowed the knee before him, they mocked him, saying, Haile king of the Iewes.

30 And when they had spitte vpon him, they tooke the reed, and smote him on the head.

31 And after that they had mocked him, they tooke the robe off him, and put his owne rayment on him, and led him away to crucifie him.

Mar.15.28. luke 23.26.

32 * And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they compelled to beare his crosse.

Mar.15.22. luke 23.32. ioh. 19.16. 17.

33 * And when they were come vnto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, a place of a skull,

34 They gaue him vineger to drinke, mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drinke.

Mar.15.24. Psal.22.19.

35 * And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, casting lots: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the Prophet, * They parted my garments among them, and vpon my vesture did they cast lots.

36 And sitting downe, they watched him there:

37 And set vp ouer his head, his accusation written, THIS IS IESVS, THE KING OF THE IEWES.

38 Then are there two theeues crucified with him: one on the right hand, and another on the left.

39 They that passed by reuiled him, wagging their heads,

40 And saying, * Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three dayes, saue thy selfe: If thou be the sonne of God, come downe from the crosse.

Iohn 2.19.

41 Likewise also the high Priestes mocking him, with the Scribes and Elders, sayd, 42 He saued others, himselfe can he not saue: If hee be the king of Israel, let him now come downe from the crosse, and we will beleeue him.
43 *He hath trusted in God, let him deliuer him now if he will haue him: for hee sayd, I am the sonne of God.
44 The theeues also which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth.
45 From the sixth houre was there darknes ouer all the land, vnto the ninth houre.
46 And about the ninth houre, Jesus cryed with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, Lamasabachthani, that is to say, *My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?
47 Some of them that stood there, when they heard that, sayd, This man calleth for Elias.
48 And straightway one of them ranne, and tooke a spunge, and when he had filled it full of vineger, & put it on a reed, he gaue him to drinke.
49 The rest sayde, Let be, let vs see whether Elias will come to saue him.
50 Jesus, when hee had cryed againe with a loud voice, yeelded vp the ghost.
51 *And behold, the vaile of the temple was rent in two parts, from the top to the bottome, and the earth did quake, and the stones rent,
52 And graues were opened, and many bodies of saints which slept, arose,
53 And after that they were come out of the graues after his resurrection, came into the holy citie, and appeared vnto many.
54 When the a Centurion, and they that were with him watching Jesus, saw the earthquake, and those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the sonne of God.
55 And many women were there (beholding him afarre off) which followed Jesus from Galilee, ministring vnto him.
56 Among which was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of Iames and Joses, and the mother of Zebedees children.
57 *When the Euen was come, there came a rich man from the citie of Arimathea, named Joseph, which also himselfe was Jesus disciple.
58 He went to Pilate, and begged the bodie of Jesus: then Pilate commaunded the body to be deliuered.
59 And when Joseph had taken the body, he wrapped it in a cleane linnen cloth,
60 And layd it in his new tombe which hee had hewen out in the rocke: and when hee had rolled a great stone to the doore of the sepulchre, he departed.
61 And there was Mary Magdalene, & the other Mary, sitting ouer against the sepulchre.
62 The next day that followed the day of preparing, the high Priestes and Pharises came together vnto Pilate,
63 Saying, Sir, we remember that this deceiuer said while hee was yet aliue, After three dayes I rise againe.
64 Command therefore, that the sepulchre be made sure vntill the third day, least his disciples come by night, and steale him away, and say vnto the people, He is risen from the dead: and the last errour shall be worse then the first.
65 Pilat said vnto them, Ye haue the watch, goe your way, make it as sure as ye know.
66 So they went, and when they had sealed vp the stone, they made the sepulchre sure with the watch.

The xxviij. Chapter.

2 The resurrection of Christ. 12 The high Priestes giue the souldiers money, to say that Christ was stollen out of his graue.

IN the latter *end of the Sabboth day, which dawneth the first day of the weeke, came Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary to see the sepulchre.
2 And behold, there was a great earthquake, for the Angel of the Lorde descended from heauen, and came and rolled backe the stone from the doore, and sate vpon it.
3 His countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow.
4 And for feare of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.
5 And the Angel answered, and sayde vnto the women, Feare ye not: for I know that ye seeke Jesus, which was crucified.
6 He is not here, he is risen, as he said, Come, see the place where that the Lord was laid,
7 And go quickely, and tell his disciples that he is risen from the dead. And behold, hee goeth before you into Galilee, there shal ye see him: loe, I haue told you.
8 And they departed quickely from the sepulchre, with feare and great ioy, and did run, to bring his disciples word.
9 And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All haile. And they came, and held him by the feete, and worshipped him.
10 Then sayde Jesus vnto them, Be not afraid: goe tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.
11 When they were gone, behold, some of the watch came into the city, and shewed vnto the high Priests all the things that were done.
12 And when they were assembled with the elders, and had taken counsell, they gaue large money vnto the souldiers, 13 Saying, Say yee, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.
14 And if this come to the deputies eares, wee will perswade him, and make you carelesse.
15 So they, when they had taken the money, did as they were taught. And this saying was noysed among the Iewes vntill this day.
16 Then the eleuen disciples went away into Galilee, into a mountaine where Jesus had appointed them.
17 And when they saw him, they worshipped him: but some doubted.
18 And Jesus came, and spake vnto them, saying, All power is giuen vnto me in heauen and in earth.
19 *Goe yee therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the Name of the Father, and of the Sonne, and of the holy Ghost:
20 Teaching them to obserue all things, whatsoeuer I haue commanded you: and loe, I am with you alway, euen vnto the ende of the world. Amen.

The women cary oyntments verie earely in the morning to the graue.

WE haue in this description conferred the vse and manner of the celebration of Easter that the Iewes held, with that which we vse to reckon and beginne at, and also to name the dayes of the weeke, & haue added thereto certaine dayes of the moneth of March, in the yeere that Iesus Christ suffered, to declare the vnderstanding of the sayd difficultie. Wherein there is to be noted, that the Lord Iesus celebrated not the Passeouer the same day that the Iewes did: but that he which came not to breake the Lawe, but to fulfill the Law in euery point, ate the Lambe with his disciples at the time ordeined by the Law, Exod. 12. which is the foureteenth day of the first moneth (that is to say, March) in the afternoone, on the which began the sayd feast: which fell this yeere on the Friday, the Euen of the Sabboth or day of rest. On the which day, he which was the true Lambe was offered, to the end that the trueth might agree with the figure: but the Iewes celebrated the sayd Passeouer the day following at Euen after Sunne set, Iesus Christ being in the graue: for that by tradition of their predecessors, the sayd feast which fell on the Friday, according to the Lawe, was deferred to the nert day, which was the day of their weekely Sabboth, because they would not keepe two feasts together: for this Feast day they called the great Sabboth, John 19. and also because (as enemies of the trueth) they would seeke all meanes possible to keepe him from being knowen for the Messias.

Here is also to be noted, that where the eating of the Lambe, the institution of the Sacrament, with the residue before mentioned, is referred to Thursday and Friday: If ye reckon according to the Iewes account, who begin their Friday night on Thursday after Sunne set, and continueth that night and day vntill the nert day after Sunne set, ye shall find that Christ did eat the Paschal Lambe, instituted the Sacrament of his body and blood, was killed by Iudas, and was crucified, dead, and buried on Friday. But if ye reckon after our vse, then Christ did eat the Paschal Lambe, instituted the Sacrament of his body and blood, and was killed of Iudas on Thursday, but was crucified, dead, and buried on Friday.

The Gospel by S. Marke.

The first Chapter.

2 The office of Iohn Baptist. 9 The Baptisme of Christ, 13 his fasting, 14 and preaching.

THE beginning of the Gospel of Iesus Christ, the Sonne of God,

2 As it hath bene written in the Prophets, *Behoilde, I sende my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

Mala.3.1.

3 *A voyce of him that cryeth in the wildernesse, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, and make his paths straight.

Esai.40.3. iohn 1.15. luke 3.4.

4 *Iohn was baptizing in the wildernesse, and preaching the baptisme of repentance for the remission of sinnes.

Matt.3.4.

5 *And all the land of Iury, and they of Hierusalem, went out vnto him, and were all baptized of him in the riuer of Iordane, confessing their sinnes.

Matth.3.5.

6 Iohn was clothed with camels haire, and with a girdle of a skinne about his loynes: *and he did eate locusts and wilde hony,

Leu.11.22.

7 *And preached, saying, There that is stronger then I, commeth after mee, whose shooe latchet I am not worthy to stoupe downe, and vnloose.

Matt. 3.12. luke 3.16. iohn 1.27.

8 I haue baptized you with water: but he shall baptize you with the holy Ghost.

Acts.1.5.

9 *And it came to passe in those dayes, that Iesus came from Nazareth a citie of Galilee, *and was baptized of Iohn in Iordane.

Matt. 3.14. luke 3.22. iohn 1.33.

10 And assoone as he was come vp out of the water, he sawe heauen open, and the Spirit descending vpon him like a Doue.

11 And there came a voyce from heauen, Thou art my deare Sonne, in whom I am wel pleased.

Matth. 4.1. luke 4.1.

12 *And immediatly the Spirit driueth him into wildernesse.

13 And he was there in the wildernesse fourtie dayes tempted of Satan, and was with the wilde beastes, and the Angels ministred vnto him.

Matt.4.12. luke 4.14. iohn 4.43.

14 After that Iohn was deliuered to prison, *Iesus came into Galilee, preaching the Gospel of the kingdome of God,

15 And saying, The time is come, and the kingdome of God is at hand: repent ye, and beleeue the Gospel.

Matt.4.18. luke 5. 2.

16 *As he walked by the Sea of Galilee, he saw Simon, and Andrew his brother, casting nets into the Sea (for they were fishers.)

17 And Iesus said vnto them, Follow mee, and I will make you to become fishers of men.

18 And straightway they forsooke their nets, and followed him.

19 And when hee had gone a little further thence, hee sawe Iames the sonne of Zebedee, and Iohn his brother, which also were in the ship mending their nets.

20 And anon hee called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired seruants, and followed him.

21 * And they came into Capernaum, and straightway on the Sabboth dayes, hee entred into the Synagogue, and taught.

Matt.4.23. luke 4.31.

22 *And they were astonied at his learning: for hee taught them as one that had authoritie, and not as the Scribes.

Matt.7.28. luke 4.32.

23 *And there was in their Synagogue, a man vered with an vncleane spirit, and he cried alowd,

Luke 4.32.

24 Saying, Let vs alone, what haue wee to do with thee, thou Iesus of Nazareth? Art thou come to destroy vs? I know thee what thou art, euen that holy One of God.

25 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Holde thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And when the vncleane spirit had torne him, and cried with a lowde voyce, he came out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, insomuch that they demaunded one of another among themselues, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for with authoritie commandeth he the fowle spirits, and they doe obey him.

28 And immediatly his fame spread abroad throughout all the region bordering on Galilee.

29 *And forthwith, when they were come out of the Synagogue, they entered into the house of Simon, and Andrewe, with Iames and Iohn.

Matt. 8.14. luke 4.32.

30 But Simons wiues mother lay sicke of a feuer: and anon they tell him of her.

31 And hee came and tooke her by the hand, and lift her vp: and immediately the feuer forsooke her, and she ministred vnto them.

32 And at euen, when the Sunne was downe, they brought vnto him all that were diseased, and them that were vered with deuils:

33 And all the citie was gathered together at the doore.

34 And hee healed many that were sicke of diuers diseases, and cast out many deuils, and suffered not the deuils to speake, because they knew him.

35 And in the morning very early before day, Iesus when hee was risen vp, went out, and departed into a solitarie place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon, and they that were with him, followed after him:

37 And when they had found him, they saide vnto him, All men seeke for thee.

38 And he said vnto them, Let vs goe into the next townes, that I may preach there also: for therefore am I come.

39 And he preached in their Synagogues, in all Galilee, and cast the deuils out.

40 *And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling downe to him, & saying vnto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me cleane.

Matth. 8. 2. luke 5.12.

41 And Iesus, ~~hauing~~ compassion ~~on him~~, when he ~~had~~ put foorth his hand, touched him, and saith vnto him, I will, be thou cleane.

42 And as soone as he had spoken, immediatly the leprosie departed from him, and he was ~~made~~ cleane.

43 And after he had giuen him a strait commandement, he sent him away forth with:

44 And saith vnto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but ~~get thee hence~~, shew thy selfe to the Priest, * and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moses commanded, for a witnes vnto them.

45 *But he, ~~as soone as he was departed~~, began ~~openly to declare~~ many things, and to publish ~~this~~ rumor: insomuch, that Iesus could no more openly enter into the citie, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from euery quarter.

Leuit.14.4. luke 5.12.

Matth.9.1.

The ij. Chapter.

3 He healeth the man of the palsie, 14 and calleth Leui the Customer.

Marke 9.1.

AFter ~~a few dayes also~~, *he entered into Capernaum ~~againe~~, and it was noysed that hee was in the house.

2 And ~~anon~~ many were gathered together, ~~insomuch that now~~ there was no roome to receiue them, no not so much as about the doore: and he preached the word ~~of the Gospel~~ vnto them.

3 And they come vnto him, bringing one sick of the palsie, which was borne of foure men.

4 And when they could not come nigh vnto him for preasse, they vncouered the roofe ~~of the house that~~ he was in: and when they had broken vp the roofe, they ~~do with cords~~ let downe the bed wherein the sicke of the palsie lay.

5 When Iesus saw their faith, he said vnto the sicke of the palsie, Sonne, thy sinnes be forgiuen thee.

6 But there were certaine of the Scribes sitting there, and reasoning in their hearts,

7 Why doeth ~~he~~ thus speake blasphemies? *Who can forgiue sinnes but God onely?

8 And immediatly, when Iesus perceiued in his spirit that they so reason within themselues, he saith ~~vnto~~ them, Why reason ye ~~such~~ things in your hearts?

9 Whether is it easier to say to the sick of the palsie, Thy sinnes be forgiuen thee: or to say, Arise, take vp thy bed and walke?

10 But that ye may know that the Sonne of man hath power ~~in~~ earth to forgiue sinnes: (He saith to the sicke of the palsie,)

11 I say vnto thee, Arise, and take vp thy bed, and ~~get thee hence~~ into thine house.

12 And immediatly he arose, tooke vp the bed, and went forth before them all, insomuch that they were all amazed, and glorified God, saying, We neuer saw it on this fashion.

13 *And he went againe by the Sea side, and all the ~~people~~ resorted vnto him, and hee taught them.

14 And as Iesus passed by, He saw Leui the sonne of Alphee sitting at the receite of Custome, and said vnto him, Follow me. And he arose, and followed him.

15 And it came to passe, that ~~when~~ Iesus sate at meate in his house, many Publicanes and sinners sate also together ~~at meate~~ with Iesus and his disciples: for there were many, and they followed him.

16 And when the Scribes & Pharisees saw him eat with Publicanes and sinners, they said vnto his Disciples, How is it that he eateth and drinketh with Publicanes and sinners?

17 When Iesus heard ~~that~~, hee sayeth vnto them, They that ~~be whole~~, haue no neede of the Physition, but they that are sicke: I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

18 *And the disciples of Iohn, and of the Pharisees ~~did fast~~: and they come and say vnto him, Why doe the disciples of Iohn, and of the Pharisees fast, but thy Disciples fast not?

19 And Iesus saide vnto them, Can the children of the Bride-chamber fast, while the Bridegrome is with them? As long as they haue the Bridegrome with them, they cannot fast.

20 But the dayes will come, when the Bridegrome shalbe taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those dayes.

21 No man also soweth a piece of new cloth vnto an olde garment: ~~otherwayes, his~~ newe piece taketh away ~~somewhat from the olde~~ garment, ~~and so the~~ rent is made worse.

22 And no man ~~powreth~~ new wine into olde ~~bessels~~, else the new wine doth burst the ~~bessels~~, and the wine runneth out, and the ~~bessels~~ will be marred: But new wine must be put into new ~~bessels~~.

23 *And it came to passe, that hee went thorow the corne fields on the Sabboth dayes, and his Disciples began ~~by the way~~ to pluck the eares of corne.

24 And the Pharisees said vnto him, Behold, why do they on the Sabboth dayes that which is not lawfull?

25 And he said vnto them, *Haue yee neuer read what Dauid did, when hee had neede, and was an hungred, ~~both~~ hee, and they that were with him?

26 How he went into the house of God in the dayes of Abiathar the high Priest, and did eate the Shew-bread, * which is not lawfull to eate but for the Priests, and gaue also to them which were with him?

27 And he said vnto them, The Sabboth was made for man, & not man for the Sabboth.

28 Therefore ~~is~~ the Sonne of man Lord also of the Sabboth.

Exo.29.33. leuit.8.31.

The iij. Chapter.

1 He helpeth the man with the dried hand, 14 and chooseth his Apostles.

AND *he entered againe into the Synagogue, and ~~a~~ man ~~was~~ there which had a withered hand:

2 And they watched him, whether hee would heale him on the Sabboth day, that they might accuse him.

3 And he ~~says~~ vnto the man which had the withered hand, ~~Arise, and stand in the midst~~.

4 And hee sayeth vnto them, Is it lawfull to doe good on the Sabboth dayes, or to doe euill? to saue life, or to kill? But they held their peace.

5 And when he had looked round about on them with anger, mourning for the hardnesse of their hearts, hee saith vnto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And hee stretched it out: and his hand was restored as whole as the other.

6 And the Pharisees departed, and straight way gathered a counsell with the Herodians against him, that they might destroy him.

7 But Iesus auoyded with his disciples, to the Sea: and a great multitude followed him from Galilee, and from Iury,

8 And from Hierusalem, and from Idumea, and from the region which is beyond Iordane, and they that dwelt about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, when they had heard what things he did, came vnto him.

9 And Iesus commanded his disciples that a ship should wait on him, because of the people, lest they should throng him.

10 For he had healed many, in so much that they preassed vpon him for to touch him, as many as had plagues.

11 And the vncleane spirits, when they saw him, they fell downe before him, at his feete, and cryed, saying, Thou art the Sonne of God.

12 And hee straitly charged them, that they should not make him knowen.

Matt. 10.1. luke 9.1. 13 And hee goeth vp into a mountaine, and calleth vnto him whom hee would: and they came vnto him.

14 And he ordeined twelue, that they should be with him, and that he might send them forth to preach:

15 And that they might haue power to heale sicknesses, and to cast out deuils.

16 And he gaue vnto Simon to name Peter.

17 And he called Iames the sonne of Zebedee, and Iohn, Iames brother (and gaue them names, Boanerges, which is to say, The sonnes of thunder.)

18 And Andrew, and Philip, and Bartholomew, and Matthew, and Thomas, and Iames the sonne of Alphee, and Thaddeus, and Simon the Chanaanite, 19 And Iudas Iscariot, which also betrayed him: and they come into an house.

20 And the people commeth together againe, so that they could not so much as eate bread.

21 And when they that belonged vnto him, heard of it, they went out to lay hands vpon him, for they said, He is madde.

Matt. 9.34 and 12. 24. luke 11.14. 22 And the Scribes which came downe from Hierusalem, sayde, *Hee hath Beelzebub, and by the prince of the deuils, casteth hee out deuils.

23 And when he had called them vnto him, he said vnto them in parables, How can Satan cast out Satan?

24 And if a realme be diuided against it selfe, that realme cannot endure.

25 And if a house bee diuided against it selfe, that house cannot continue.

26 And if Satan make insurrection against himselfe, and be diuided, he cannot continue, but hath an ende.

27 No man can enter into a strong mans house, and take away his goods, except he will first binde the strong man, and then will spoyle his house.

Mat. 12.38. luke 12, 10. iohn 5.16. 28 *Verely I say vnto you, All sinnes shalbe forgiuen vnto the children of men, and blasphemies, wherewithsoeuer they shall blaspheme:

29 But he that shall blaspheme against the holy Ghost, hath neuer forgiuenes, but is in danger of eternall damnation.

30 For they said, He hath an vncleane spirit.

Mat. 12.46. luke 8,19. 31 *There came his mother, and his brethren, and standing without, sent vnto him, calling him.

32 And the people sate about him, and saide vnto him, Beholde, thy mother, and thy brethren, and thy sisters seeke for thee without.

33 And he answered them, saying, Who is my mother, or my brethren?

34 And when he had looked round about on them which sate about him, he said, Behold my mother and my brethren.

35 For who so euer shall doe the will of God, the same is my brother, and my sister, & mother.

The iiij. Chapter.

3 The parable of the Sower. 37 Christ stilleth the tempest of the Sea, which obeyeth him.

Matt. 13.1. luke 8.4. AND *hee began again to teach by the Sea side: and there gathered vnto him much people, so that hee entred into a ship, and sate in the Sea: and all the people was by the Sea side on the shore.

2 And hee taught them many things by parables, and said vnto them in his doctrine,

3 Hearken, Behold, there went out a sower to sowe:

4 And it fortuned as he sowed, that some fell by the wayes side: and the fowles of the aire came, and deuoured it vp.

5 Some fell on stonie ground, where it had not much earth: and immediately it sprang vp, because it had no depth of earth.

6 But as soone as the Sunne was vp, it caught heate, and because it had no roote, it withered away.

7 And some fell among thornes, and the thornes grewe vp, and choked it, and it gaue no fruit.

8 And some fell on good ground, and did yeeld fruite that sprang vp, & grew, and brought foorth some thirtie, and some sixtie, and some an hundred.

9 And he said vnto them, He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 And when hee was alone, they that were about him, with the twelue, asked of him the parable.

11 And he sayd vnto them, Vnto you it is giuen to knowe the mysterie of the kingdome of God: but vnto them that are without, all things are done by parables, Esay 6.9. mat. 13,14. luke 8,10. ioh. 12,40. acts. 28,26. rom. 11,8. 12 *That when they see, they may see, and not discerne: and when they heare, they may heare, and not vnderstand, least at any time they should turne, and their sinnes should be forgiuen them.

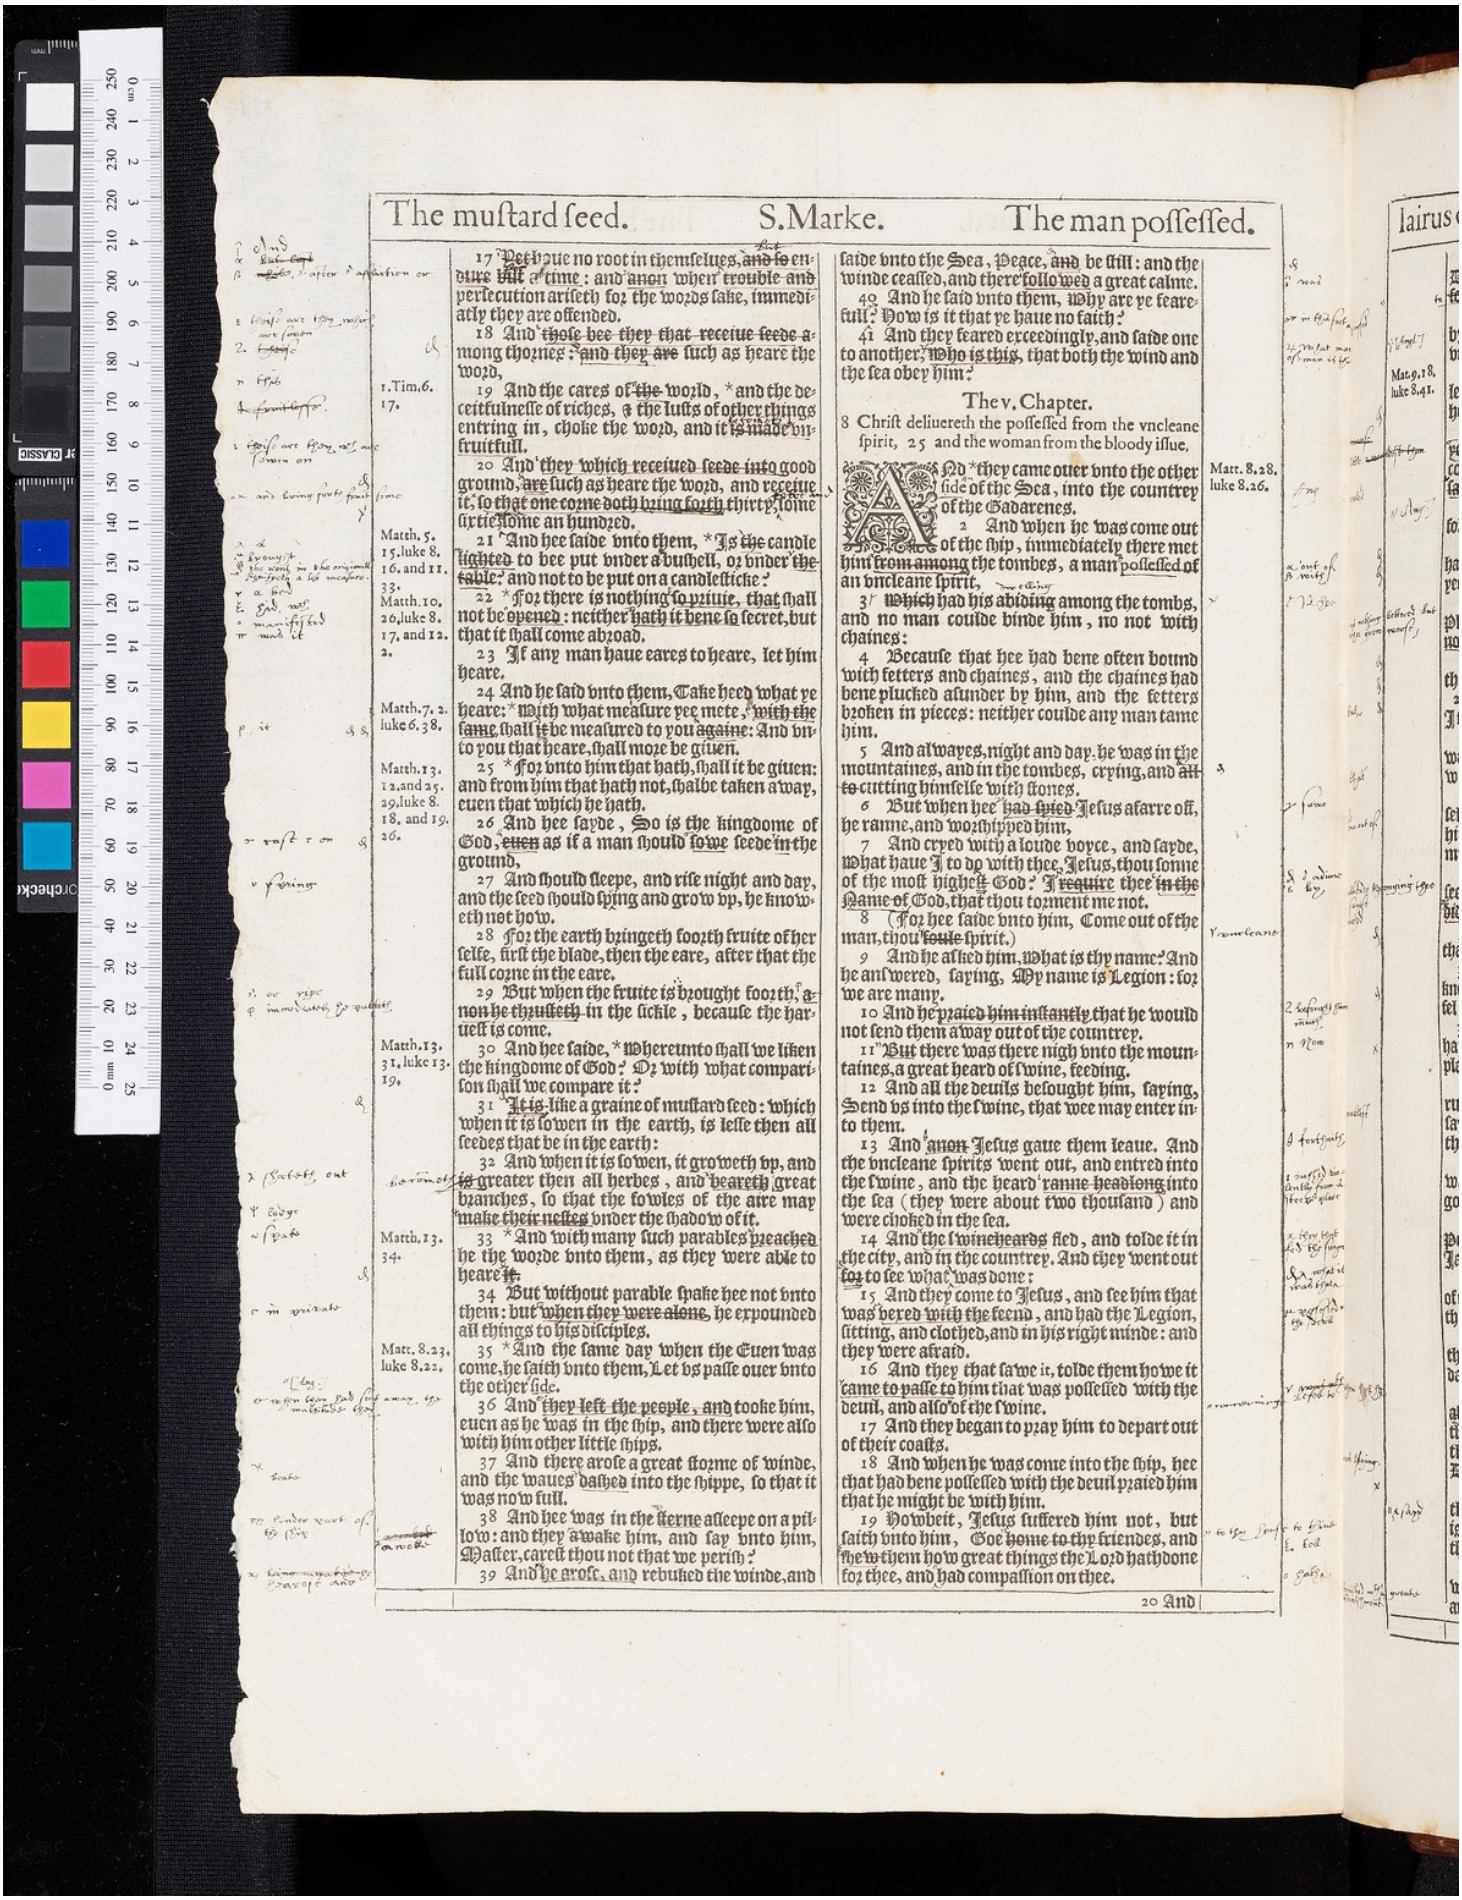
13 And hee saide vnto them, Knowe yee not this parable? And howe then will yee know all parables?



14 The Sower soweth the word.

15 And they that receiue seed by the way side, are those where the word is sowen, but when they haue heard, Satan commeth immediatly, and taketh away the worde that was sowen in their hearts.

16 And likewise they that receiue seede into the stonie ground, are they: which when they haue heard the worde, at once receiue it with gladnesse:

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Zzz2v

17 Yet haue no root in themselues, and so endure but a time: and anon when trouble and persecution ariseth for the words sake, immediatly they are offended.

18 And those bee they that receiue seede among thornes: and they are such as heare the word,

19 And the cares of the world, * and the deceitfulnesse of riches, & the lusts of other things entring in, choke the word, and it is made vnfruitfull. 1.Tim.6. 17.

20 And they which receiued seede into good ground, are such as heare the word, and receiue it, so that one corne doth bring forth thirty, some sixtie, some an hundred. Matth. 5. 15. luke 8. 16. and 11. 33.

21 And hee saide vnto them, * Is the candle lighted to bee put vnder a bushell, or vnder the table? and not to be put on a candlesticke?

22 * For there is nothing so priuie, that shall not be opened: neither hath it bene so secret, but that it shall come abroad. Matth. 10. 26. luke 8. 17. and 12. 2.

23 If any man haue eares to heare, let him heare.

24 And he said vnto them, Take heed what ye heare: * with what measure yee mete, with the same shall it be measured to you againe: And vnto you that heare, shall more be giuen. Matth. 7. 2. luke 6. 38.

25 * For vnto him that hath, shall it be giuen: and from him that hath not, shalbe taken away, euen that which he hath. Matth. 13. 12. and 25. 29. luke 8. 18. and 19. 26.

26 And hee sayde, So is the kingdome of God, euen as if a man should sowe seede in the ground, 27 And should sleepe, and rise night and day, and the seed should spring and grow vp, he knoweth not how.

28 For the earth bringeth foorth fruite of her selfe, first the blade, then the eare, after that the full corne in the eare.

29 But when the fruite is brought foorth, anon he thrusteth in the sickle, because the haruest is come.

30 And hee saide, * whereunto shall we liken the kingdome of God? Or with what comparison shall we compare it? Matth. 13. 31. luke 13. 19.

31 It is like a graine of mustard seed: which when it is sowen in the earth, is lesse then all seedes that be in the earth:

32 And when it is sowen, it groweth vp, and is greater then all herbes, and beareth great branches, so that the fowles of the aire may make their nestes vnder the shadow of it.

33 * And with many such parables preached he the worde vnto them, as they were able to heare it. Matth. 13. 34.

34 But without parable spake hee not vnto them: but when they were alone, he expounded all things to his disciples.

35 * And the same day when the Euen was come, he saith vnto them, Let vs passe ouer vnto the other side. Matt. 8. 23. luke 8. 22.

36 And they left the people, and tooke him, euen as he was in the ship, and there were also with him other little ships.

37 And there arose a great storme of winde, and the waues dashed into the shippe, so that it was now full.

38 And hee was in the sterne asleepe on a pillow: and they awake him, and say vnto him, Master, carest thou not that we perish?

39 And he arose, and rebuked the winde, and saide vnto the Sea, Peace, and be still: and the winde ceassed, and there followed a great calme.

40 And he said vnto them, Why are ye fearefull? How is it that ye haue no faith?

41 And they feared exceedingly, and saide one to another, Who is this, that both the wind and the sea obey him?

The v. Chapter.

8 Christ deliuereth the possessed from the vncleane spirit, 25 and the woman from the bloody issue.

AND they came ouer vnto the other side of the Sea, into the countrey of the Gadarenes. Matt. 8. 28. luke 8. 26.

2 And when he was come out of the ship, immediately there met him from among the tombes, a man possessed of an vncleane spirit,

3 which had his abiding among the tombs, and no man couldе binde him, no not with chaines:

4 Because that hee had bene often bound with fetters and chaines, and the chaines had bene plucked asunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither couldе any man tame him.

5 And alwayes, night and day, he was in the mountaines, and in the tombes, crying, and cutting himselfe with stones.

6 But when hee had spied Jesus afarre off, he ranne, and worshipped him,

7 And cryed with a loude voyce, and sayde, What haue I to do with thee, Jesus, thou sonne of the most highest God? I require thee in the Name of God, that thou torment me not.

8 (For hee saide vnto him, Come out of the man, thou foule spirit.)

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? And he answered, saying, My name is Legion: for we are many.

10 And he prayed him instantly that he would not send them away out of the countrey.

11 But there was there nigh vnto the mountaines, a great heard of swine, feeding.

12 And all the deuils besought him, saying, Send vs into the swine, that wee may enter into them.

13 And anon Jesus gaue them leaue. And the vncleane spirits went out, and entred into the swine, and the heard ranne headlong into the sea (they were about two thousand) and were choked in the sea.

14 And the swineheards fled, and tolde it in the city, and in the countrey. And they went out for to see what was done:

15 And they come to Jesus, and see him that was vexed with the feend, and had the Legion, sitting, and clothed, and in his right minde: and they were afraid.

16 And they that sawe it, tolde them how it came to passe to him that was possessed with the deuil, and also of the swine.

17 And they began to pray him to depart out of their coasts.

18 And when he was come into the ship, hee that had bene possessed with the deuil prayed him that he might be with him.

19 Howbeit, Jesus suffered him not, but saith vnto him, Goe home to thy friendes, and shew them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and had compassion on thee.

20 And

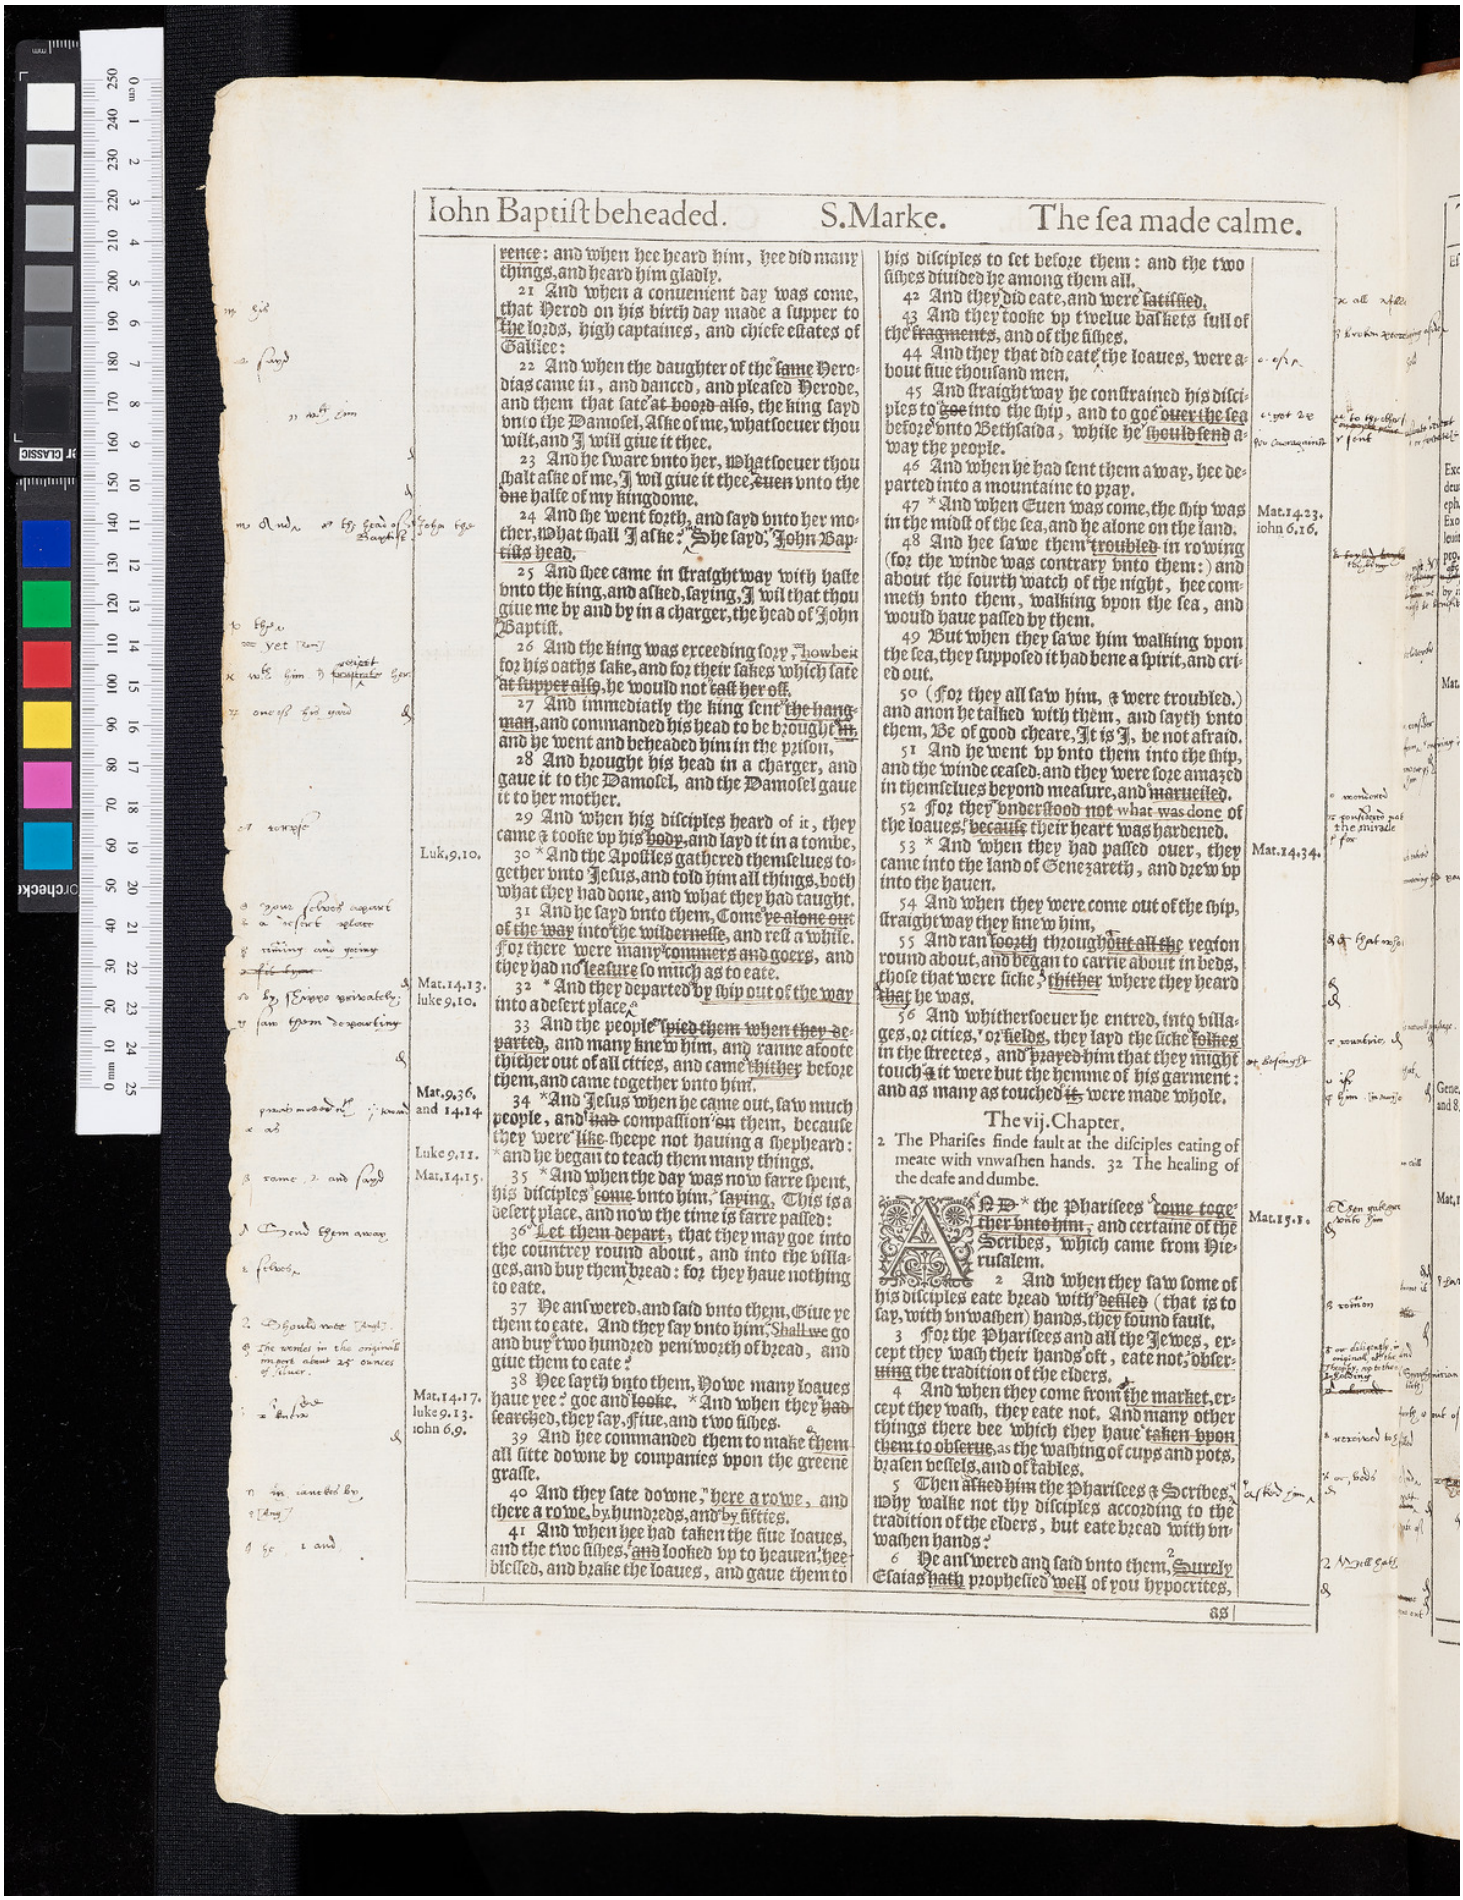
20 And he departed, and began to publish in Decapolis, how great things Jesus had done him: and all men did marualle.
21 And when Jesus was come ouer againe by ship vnto the other side, much people gathered vnto him, and he was nigh vnto the sea.
22 *And behold, there commeth one of the rulers of the synagogue, Iairus by name: & when he saw him, he fell downe at his feete,
23 And besought him greatly, saying, My yong daughter lieth at point of death, I pray thee come and lay thy hands on her that she may bee safe, and she shal liue.
24 And Iesus went with him, and much people followed him, and thronged him.
25 And there was a certaine woman, which had beene diseased of an issue of blood twelue yeeres,
26 And had suffered many things of many Physicians, and had spent al that she had, and felt none amendement at all, but rather the worse.
27 When she had heard of Jesus, she came in the preasse behind him, & touched his garment.
28 For she said, If I may but touch his clothes, I shall be whole.
29 And straightway the fountain of her blood was dried vp: and she felt in her body that she was healed of the plague.
30 And Jesus immediatly knowing in himselfe that vertue proceeded from him, turned him about in the preasse, and sayd, Who touched my clothes?
31 And his disciples sayde vnto him, Thou seest the people thrust thee, and askest thou, Who did touch me?
32 And he looked round about, for to see her that had done this thing.
33 But the woman fearing, and trembling, knowing what was done within her, came and fel down before him, and told him all the trueth.
34 And he sayd vnto her, Daughter, thy faith hath saued thee, go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.
35 While he yet spake, there came from the ruler of the synagogues house, certaine which sayd, Thy daughter is dead, why disease thou the maister any further?
36 As soone as Jesus heard the worde that was spoken, he saith vnto the ruler of the synagogue, Be not afraid, onely beleeue.
37 And he suffered no man to follow him, saue Peter, and James, and John, the brother of James.
38 And he commeth to the house of the ruler of the synagogue, & seeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.
39 And when he was come in, he sayth vnto them, Why make ye this adoe, and weepe? the damosell is not dead, but sleepeth.
40 And they laughed him to scorne: but hee after that he had put them all out, taketh the father and the mother of the Damosell, and them that were with him: and entreth in where the Damosel lay.
41 And when hee had taken the Damosel by the hand, he sayth vnto her, Talitha cumi, which is, being interpreted, Damosell (I say vnto thee) arise.
42 And straightway the Damosel arose, and walked, for she was of the age of twelue yeeres: and they were astonied out of measure.
43 And hee charged them straitly that no man should know of it: and commanded to giue her meate.

The vj. Chapter.



Of Christs doings and estimation in his owne countrey.

AND he departed thence, and came into his owne countrey, and his disciples follow him.
2 And when the Sabboth day was come, he beganne to teach in the synagogue: And many hearing him, were astonied, saying, From whence hath hee these things? And what wisedome is this that is giuen vnto him, and such mighty workes that are wrought by his handes?
3 Is not this the carpenter, Maries sonne, the brother of James and Joses, and of Juda and Simon? And are not his sisters here with vs? And they were offended at him.
4 Jesus said vnto them, *A Prophet is not without honour, but in his owne countrey, and among his owne kinne, and in his owne house.
5 And he could there doe no mighty worke: but layd his hands vpon a fewe sicke folke, and healed them:
6 And he marueiled because of their vnbeliefe. *And he went about by the villages that lay on euery side, teaching.
7 *And he calleth the twelue, and began to send them foorth, two and two, and gaue them power against vncleane spirits,
8 And commanded them that they should take nothing in their iourney, saue a staffe [a] onely: no scrip, no bread, no money in their purse:
9 But should be shod with *sandales: and that they should not put on two coates.
10 And he sayd vnto them, Whersoeuer yee enter into an house, there abide till yee depart thence,
11 *And whosoeuer shall not receiue you, nor heare you, when ye depart thence, *shake off the dust that is vnder your feete, for a witnesse against them: Verely I say vnto you, it shall bee easier for the Sodomites and the Gomorrheans in the day of iudgement, then for that citie.
12 And they went out, and preached, that men should repent:
13 And they cast out many deuils, *and anointed many that were sicke, with oyle, and healed them.
14 *And king Herod heard of him, (for his name was spred abroad:) and he sayd that John Baptist was risen from the dead, and therefore mighty workes do shew forth themselues in him.
15 Other said, That it is Elias. Some said, That it is a Prophet, or as one of the Prophets.
16 *But when Herod had heard of him, hee sayd, It is John, whom I beheaded, he is risen from death.
17 For Herod himselfe had sent foorth ‖ and laid hands vpon John, and bound him in prison for Herodias sake, his brother Philips wife, because he had married her.
18 For John said vnto Herod, *It is not lawfull for thee to haue thy brothers wife.
19 Therefore Herodias layd waite for him, and would haue killed him, but she could not.
20 For Herod feared John, knowing that he was a iust man, and an holy, and gaue him reue-rence: and when hee heard him, hee did many things, and heard him gladly.

21 And when a conuenient day was come, that Herod on his birth day made a supper to the lords, high captaines, and chiefe estates of Galilee:

22 And when the daughter of the same Herodias came in, and danced, and pleased Herode, and them that sate at boord also, the king sayd vnto the Damosel, Aske of me, whatsoeuer thou wilt, and I will giue it thee.

23 And he sware vnto her, Whatsoeuer thou shalt aske of me, I wil giue it thee, euen vnto the one halfe of my kingdome.

24 And he went forth, and sayd vnto her mother, What shall I aske? She sayd, John Baptists head.

25 And shee came in straight way with haste vnto the king, and asked, saying, I wil that thou giue me by and by in a charger, the head of Iohn Baptist.

26 And the king was exceeding sory, howbeit for his oathes sake, and for their sakes which sate at supper also, he would not call her off.

27 And immediatly the king sent the hangman, and commanded his head to be brought: and he went and beheaded him in the prison,

28 And brought his head in a charger, and gaue it to the Damosel, and the Damosel gaue it to her mother.

29 And when his disciples heard of it, they came & tooke vp his body, and layd it in a tombe,

Luk.9.10. 30 *And the Apostles gathered themselues together vnto Iesus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

31 And he sayd vnto them, Come ye alone out of the way into the wildernesse, and rest a while. For there were many commers and goers, and they had no leasure so much as to eate.

Mat.14.13. luke 9.10. 32 *And they departed by ship out of the way into a desert place.

33 And the people spied them when they departed, and many knew him, and ranne afoote thither out of all cities, and came thither before them, and came together vnto him.

Mat.9.36. and 14.14. 34 *And Iesus when he came out, saw much people, and had compassion on them, because they were like sheepe not hauing a shepheard: *and he began to teach them many things.

Luke 9.11. Mat.14.15. 35 *And when the day was now farre spent, his disciples came vnto him, saying, This is a desert place, and now the time is farre passed:

36 Let them depart, that they may goe into the countrey round about, and into the villages, and buy them bread: for they haue nothing to eate.

37 He answered, and said vnto them, Giue ye them to eate. And they say vnto him, Shall we go and buy two hundred penie worth of bread, and giue them to eate?

38 Hee sayth vnto them, Howe many loaues haue yee? goe and looke. *And when they had searched, they say, Fiue, and two fishes.

Mat.14.17. luke 9.13. iohn 6.9.

39 And hee commanded them to make them all sitte downe by companies vpon the greene grasse.

40 And they sate downe, here a rowe, and there a rowe, by hundreds, and by fifties.

41 And when hee had taken the fiue loaues, and the two fishes, and looked vp to heauen, hee blessed, and brake the loaues, and gaue them to his disciples to set before them: and the two fishes diuided he among them all.

42 And they did eate, and were satisfied.

43 And they tooke vp twelue baskets full of the fragments, and of the fishes.

44 And they that did eate the loaues, were about fiue thousand men.

45 And straightway he constrained his disciples to goe into the ship, and to goe ouer the sea before vnto Bethsaida, while he shouldsend away the people.

46 And when he had sent them away, hee departed into a mountaine to pray.

47 *And when Euen was come, the ship was in the midst of the sea, and he alone on the land. Mat.14.23. iohn 6.16.

48 And hee sawe them troubled in rowing (for the winde was contrary vnto them:) and about the fourth watch of the night, hee commeth vnto them, walking vpon the sea, and would haue passed by them.

49 But when they sawe him walking vpon the sea, they supposed it had bene a spirit, and cried out.

50 (For they all saw him, & were troubled.) and anon he talked with them, and sayth vnto them, Be of good cheare, It is I, be not afraid.

51 And he went vp vnto them into the ship, and the winde ceased. and they were sore amazed in themselues beyond measure, and marueiled.

52 For they vnderstood not what was done of the loaues, becaule their heart was hardened.

53 *And when they had passed ouer, they came into the land of Genezareth, and drew vp into the hauen. Mat.14.34.

54 And when they were come out of the ship, straight way they knew him,

55 And ran foorth throughout all the region round about, and began to carrie about in beds, those that were sicke, thither where they heard that he was.

56 And whithersoeuer he entred, into villages, or cities, or fields, they layd the sicke folkes in the streetes, and prayed him that they might touch if it were but the hemme of his garment: and as many as touched it, were made whole.

2 The Pharises finde fault at the disciples eating of meate with vnwashen hands. 32 The healing of the deafe and dumbe.

AND * the Pharisees come together vnto him, and certaine of the Scribes, which came from Hierusalem. Mat.15.1.

2 And when they saw some of his disciples eate bread with defiled (that is to say, with vnwashen) hands, they found fault.

3 For the Pharisees and all the Iewes, except they wash their hands oft, eate not, obseruing the tradition of the elders.

4 And when they come from the market, except they wash, they eate not. And many other things there bee which they haue taken vpon them to obserue, as the washing of cups and pots, brasen vessels, and of tables.

5 Then asked him the Pharisees & Scribes, Why walke not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eate bread with vnwashen hands?

Esay 29.13 as it is written, *This people honoreth me with their lips, but their heart is farre from me.

7 Howbeit in vaine do they worship me, teaching doctrines, the commandements of men.

8 For, the commandement of God being laid apart, yee obserue the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups: and many other such like things ye do.

9 And he sayd vnto them, Full well ye cast aside the commandement of God, that yee may keepe your owne tradition.

11 But ye say, If a man shal say to his father or mother, Corban (that is, by the gift) that is offered of me, thou shalt be helped.

12 And so ye suffer him no more to doe ought for his father, or his mother, 13 Making the word of God of none effect through your tradition, which ye haue ordeined: And many such things do ye.

Mat.15.10. 14 *And when hee had called all the people vnto him, he sayd vnto them, Hearken vnto me euery one of you, and vnderstand.

15 There is nothing without a man that can defile him, when it entreth into him: but the things which proceed out of a man, those are they that defile the man.

16 If any man haue eares to heare, let him heare.

17 And when hee came into the house away from the people, his disciples asked him of the similitude.

18 And hee sayth vnto them, Are yee also so without vnderstanding? Doe yee not perceiue that whatsoeuer thing from without entreth into the man, it can not defile him, 19 Because it entreth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, purging all the meats?

20 And he sayd, That which commeth out of the man, defileth the man.

Gene.9.5. and 8,21. 21 *For from within, euen out of the heart of men, proceed euill thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, 25 For a certain woman, whose yong daughter had an vncleane spirit, when she had heard of him, came and fell at his feet.

26 (The woman was a Greeke, out of the nation of Syrophenissa:) & she besought him that he would cast out the deuill from her daughter.

27 But Jesus sayd vnto her, Let the children first be fed: for it is not meet to take the childrens bread, and to cast it vnto the litle dogges.

28 *She answered, and sayd vnto him, Yes Lord, for the litle dogges also eat vnder the table of the childrens crummes.

29 And he sayd vnto her, For this saying, goe thy way, the deuill is gone out of thy daughter.

30 And when shee was come home to her house, shee found that the deuill was departed, and her daughter lying on the bed.

The Gospel on the xij. Sunday after Trinitie. 31 And when hee was departed againe from the coasts of Tyre and Sidon, he came vnto the sea of Galilee, thorow the mids of the coasts of Decapolis.

32 And they bring vnto him one that was deafe, and had an impediment in his speech: and they pray him to put his hands vpon him.

33 And when hee had taken him aside from the people, he put his fingers into his eares, and when he had spet, touched his tongue,

34 And when hee had looked vp to heauen, sighed, and said vnto him, Ephphatha, that is to say, Be thou opened.

35 And straightway his eares were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and hee spake plaine.

36 And he commanded them that they should tell no man: but the more he commanded them, so much the more a great deale they published it,

37 And were beyond measure astonied, saying, He hath done all things well: he hath made both the deafe to heare, and the dumbe to speake.

6 The miracle of the seuen loaues. 34 How wee should follow Christ.

The Gospel on the vij. Sunday after Trinitie, Mat.15.32 IN those dayes, *the company being very great, and hauing nothing to eat, when Jesus had called his disciples vnto him, he sayth vnto them,

2 I haue compassion on the people, because they haue now beene with mee three dayes, and haue nothing to eat:

3 And if I send them away fasting to their owne houses, they shall faint by the way: for diuers of them came from farre.

4 And his Disciples answered him, From whence can a man satisfie these men with bread here in the wildernesse?

5 And hee asked them, How many loaues haue ye? They sayd, Seuen.

6 And he commanded the people to sit downe on the ground: and hee tooke the seuen loaues, and when he had giuen thanks, he brake, & gaue to his disciples to set before them: and they did set them before the people.

7 And they had a few small fishes: and when he had blessed, he commanded to set them also before them.

8 So they did eat, and were sufficed: and they tooke vp of the broken meat that was left, seuen baskets full.

9 And they that had eaten, were about foure thousand: And he sent them away.

Matt. 16.6. 15 And he charged them, saying, *Take heed, beware of the leauen of the Pharisees, and of the leauen of Herode.

16 And they reasoned among themselues, saying, We haue no bread.

17 And when Iesus knewe it, hee saith vnto them, Why reason ye, because ye haue no bread? Perceiue ye not yet, neither vnderstand? Haue ye your heart yet hardened?

18 Hauing eyes, see yee not? and hauing eares, heare ye not? Doe ye not remember?

21 And he said vnto them, How happeneth it, that ye doe not vnderstand?

22 And hee commeth to Bethsaida, and they bring a blinde man vnto him, and desired him to touch him:

23 And when he had caught the blinde by the hand, he led him out of the towne: and when he had spit in his eyes, and put his handes vpon him, he asked him if he saw ought.

24 And he looked vp, and said, I see men: for I perceiue them walke as they were trees.

25 After that, he put his hands againe vpon his eyes, and made him see: and he was restored, and saw euery man clearely.

26 And he sent him home to his house, saying, Neither goe into the village, nor tell it to any in the village.

Mat. 16.13. luke 9.19. 27 *And Iesus went out, and his disciples, into the villages that long to Cesarea Philippi: and by the way he asked his disciples, saying vnto them, Whom do men say that I am?

28 And they answered, Iohn Baptist, and some say, Elias: Againe, some say that that thou art one of the Prophets.

29 And he said vnto them, But whom say ye that I am? Peter answereth, and sayeth vnto him, Thou art very Christ.

30 And he charged them that they should tell no man.

31 And hee beganne to teach them that the Sonne of man must suffer many things, and be reproued of the Elders, and of the high Priestes and Scribes, and be killed, and after three daies rise againe.

32 And he spake that saying openly. And Peter tooke him aside, and began to rebuke him.

33 But when he had turned about, and looked on his disciples, hee rebuked Peter, saying, Go after me, Satan: for thou fauourest not the things that be of God, but the things that be of men.

34 And when hee had called the people vnto him, with his disciples also, hee said vnto them, Mat.10.38. luke 9.23. *Whosoeuer will come after me, let him forsake himselfe, and take vp his crosse, and follow me.

Mat.10.39. and 16.25. luke 9.24. iohn 12.25. 35 *For whosoeuer will saue his life, shal lose it: but whosoeuer shall lose his life for my sake and the Gospels, the same shall saue it.

37 Or what shal a man giue for a ransome of his soule?

Mat.10.33. luke 9.26. 38 *Whosoeuer therefore shall be ashamed of me, and of my words, in this aduulterous and sinfull generation, of him also shall the Sonne of man be ashamed, when he commeth in the glory of his Father, with the holy Angels.

The ix. Chapter.

2 The transfiguration of Christ. 49 Of seasoning with salt.

Mat.16.28. luke 9.27. AND he said vnto them, *Verely I say vnto you, that there be some of them that stand here, which shall in no wise taste of death, till they haue seene the kingdome of God come with power.

2 And after sixe dayes, Iesus taketh with him Peter, and Iames, and John, and leadeth them vp into an high mountaine out of the way alone: and he was transfigured before them.

Mar.17.1. luke 9.28. 3 *And his raiment did shine, and became very white, euen as snow: so as no fuller vpon the earth can white them.

4 And there appeared vnto them Elias with Moses: and they were talking with Iesus.

5 And Peter answered, and saide to Iesus, Master, here is good being for vs: and let vs make three Tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

6 For he wist not what hee should say: for they were sore afraid.

7 And there was a cloude that shadowed them: and a voyce came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloued Sonne: heare him.

8 And suddenly when they had looked round about, they saw no man, more then Iesus onely with themselues.

Matt.17.9. 9 *And as they came downe from the hill, hee charged them that they should tell no man those things that they had seene, till the Sonne of man were risen from the dead.

10 And they kept that saying with them, and demanded one of another, what the rising from the dead should meane.

Mala.4.5. 11 And they asked him, saying, Why then say the Scribes, that *Elias must first come?

12 He answered, and said vnto them, Elias verely when he cometh first, restoreth al things: and the Sonne of man, *as it is written of him, Esai.53.4. shall suffer many things, and be set at nought.

13 But I say vnto you, that Elias is come, and they haue done vnto him whatsoeuer they would, as it is written of him.

Mat.17.14. luke 9.38. 14 *And when hee came to his disciples, hee saw much people about them, and the Scribes disputing with them.

15 And straightway all the people, when they beheld him, were greatly amazed, and running to him, saluted him.

16 And he asked the Scribes, What dispute ye ‖ among your selues?

‖ Some or reade, with them.

17 And one of the company answered, and said, Master, I haue brought vnto thee my son, which hath a dumbe spirit:

18 And whersoeuer hee taketh him, hee teareth him, and he foameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away: and I spake to thy disciples that they should cast him out, and they could not.

19 He answereth him, and saith, O faithlesse nation, how long shall I be with you, how long shall I suffer you? Bring him vnto me.

20 And they brought him vnto him: and when hee saw him, straightway the spirit tare him, and when he fell downe on the ground, he wallowed, foming.

21 And he asked his father, How long is it agoe since this came vnto him? And he sayd, Of a childe.

22 And oft times it hath cast him into the fire, and into the waters, to destroy him: but if thou canst do any thing, haue mercy on vs, and helpe vs.

23 Jesus sayd vnto him, This thing if thou canst beleeue, all things are possible to him that beleeueth.

24 And straightway, when the father of the childe had cried with teares, he sayd, Lord, I beleeue, helpe thou mine vnbeliefe.

25 When Jesus sawe that the people came running together, hee rebuked the foule spirit, saying vnto him, Thou dumbe and deafe spirit, I charge thee come out of him, & enter no more into him.

26 And the spirit when he had cried, and rent him sore, came out of him, and hee was as one that had beene dead, insomuch that many sayd, He is dead.

27 But Jesus, when hee had caught him by the hand, lifted him vp: and he arose.

28 And when he was come into the house, his disciples asked him secretly, Why could not we cast him out?

29 And he sayd vnto them, This kinde ‖ can come forth by nothing, but by prayer & fasting. ‖ Of deuils.

30 * And after they departed thence, they tooke their iourney thorow Galilee, & he would not that any man should know it. Mat.17.22. luke 9.22.

31 For he taught his disciples, and sayd vnto them, The sonne of man is deliuered into the hands of men, and they shall kill him, and after that he is killed, he shall rise the third day.

32 But they vnderstood not that saying, and were afrayd to aske him.

33 * And he came to Capernaum: and when he was come into the house, he asked them, What was it that yee disputed among your selues by the way? Mat.18.1. luke.9.45.

34 And they held their peace: For by the way they had reasoned among themselues, who should be the chiefest.

35 And when he was set downe, he called the twelue, and sayth vnto them, If any man desire to be first, the same shalbe last of all, and seruant vnto all.

36 And when he had taken a yoong childe, he set him in the middest of them: and when he had taken him in his armes, he sayd vnto them,

37 Whosoeuer shall receiue any such a yoong childe in my Name, receiueth me: and whosoeuer shall receiue me, receiueth not me, but him that sent me.

38 * John answered him, saying, Master, we saw one casting out deuils in thy Name, and he followeth not vs, and we forbade him, because he followeth vs not. Luke 9.49.

39 But Jesus sayd, * Forbid him not, for there is no man, which if he do a miracle in my name, can lightly speake euill of me. 1.Cor.12.3

40 For hee that is not against vs, is on our part.

41 * Whosoeuer shall in my Name giue you a cuppe of colde water to drinke, because ye belong to Christ: verely I say vnto you, he shall not lose his reward. Mat.10.42.

42 * And whosoeuer shall offend one of these litle ones that beleeue in me, it is better for him if a millstone were hanged about his necke, and he were cast into the sea. Mat.18.6. luke 17.1.

43 * And if thy hand offend thee, cut it off: It is better for thee to enter into life maimed, then hauing two hands, to go into hell, into fire that neuer shalbe quenched: Mat.5.29. and 18.8.

44 * Where their worme dieth not, and the fire is not quenched. Esa.66.24.

45 And if thy foot offend thee, cut it off: it is better for thee to enter halt into life, then hauing thy two feet, to be cast into hell, into fire that neuer shalbe quenched:

46 Where their worme dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

47 And if thine eye offend thee, plucke it out: it is better for thee to enter into the kingdome of God with one eye, then hauing two eyes, to be cast into hell fire:

48 Where their worme dieth not, and the fire is not quenched.

49 For euery man shalbe salted with fire, and * euery sacrifice shalbe seasoned with salt. Leuit.2.13. Mat.5.13. luke 14.34.

50 * Salt is good: but if the salt be vnsauery, with what thing shall you season it? Haue salt in your selues, and haue peace among your selues one with another.

The x. Chapter.

2 Of diuorcement. 7 A rich man questioned how he should inherit eternall life.

AND * when he rose from thence, he cōmeth into the coasts of Jurie, thorow the region that is beyond Jordan: and the people resort vnto him afresh, & as he was woont, he taught them againe. Mat.19.1.

2 And the Pharisees came, and asked him, Is it lawfull for a man to put away his wife? tempting him.

3 And hee answered, and sayd vnto them, What did Moses command you to do?

4 And they sayd, * Moses suffered to write a booke of diuorcement, and to put her away. Deut. 24.2.

5 And Jesus answered, and said vnto them, For the hardnesse of your heart, hee wrote this precept vnto you.

6 But from the beginning of the creation, * God made them male and female, Gene.1.27. mat.19.4.

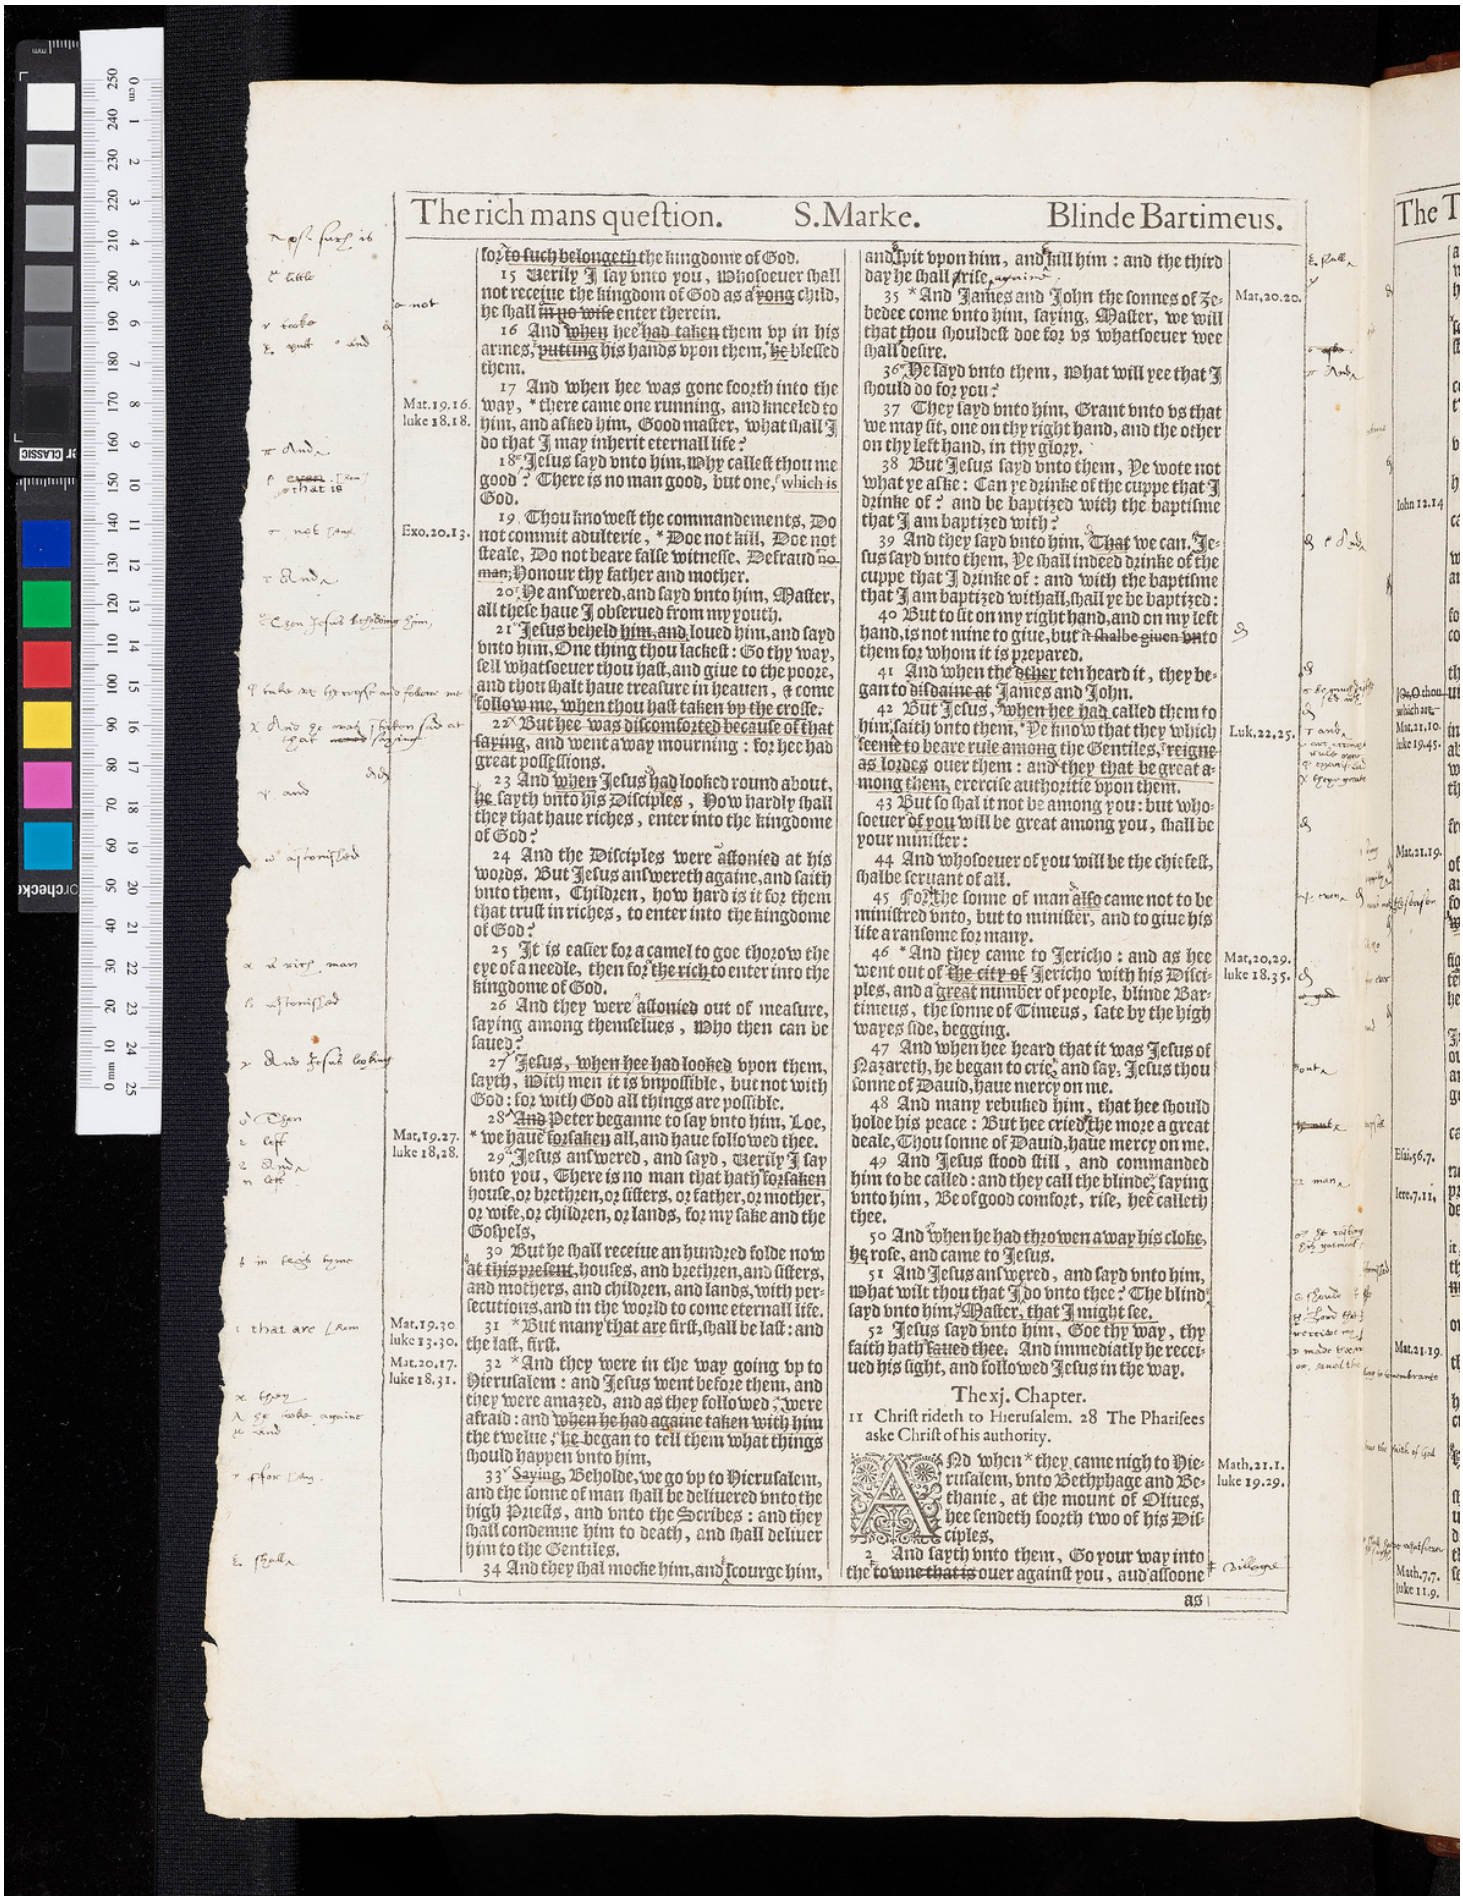
7 * And sayd, For this cause shal a man leaue his father and mother, and vnto his wife, Gene.2.24. 2.cor.6.16. ephe.5.31.

8 And they twaine shalbe one flesh: so then are they no more twaine, but one flesh.

9 * Therefore what God hath coupled together, let no man separate. 1.Cor.6.10

10 And in the house his disciples asked him againe of the same matter.

11 And he sayth vnto them, * Whosoeuer shal put away his wife, and marry another, committeth adultery against her. Mat.5.32. and.19.9. luke 16.18.



12 And if a woman shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery.

13 * And they brought yong children to him, that he should touch them: and his disciples rebuked those that brought them. Mat.19.13. luke.18.15.

15 Verily I ſay vnto you, Whoſoeuer ſhall not receiue the kingdom of God as a yong child, he ſhall in no wiſe enter therein.
16 And when hee had taken them vp in his armes, putting his hands vpon them, he bleſſed them.
17 And when hee was gone forth into the way, Mat.19.16. luke 18.18. there came one running, and kneeled to him, and aſked him, Good maſter, what ſhall I do that I may inherit eternall life?
18 Jeſus ſayd vnto him, Why calleſt thou me good? There is no man good, but one, which is God.
19 Thou knoweſt the commandements, Exo.20.13. Do not commit adulterie, Doe not kill, Doe not ſteale, Do not beare falſe witneſſe, Defraud no man, Honour thy father and mother.
20 He anſwered, and ſayd vnto him, Maſter, all theſe haue I obſerued from my youth.
21 Jeſus beheld him, and loued him, and ſayd vnto him, One thing thou lackeſt: Go thy way, ſell whatſoeuer thou haſt, and giue to the poore, and thou ſhalt haue treaſure in heauen, and come follow me, when thou haſt taken vp the croſſe.
22 But hee was diſcomforted becauſe of that ſaying, and went away mourning: for hee had great poſſeſſions.
23 And when Jeſus had looked round about, he ſayth vnto his Diſciples, How hardly ſhall they that haue riches, enter into the kingdome of God?
24 And the Diſciples were aſtonied at his words. But Jeſus anſwereth againe, and ſaith vnto them, Children, how hard is it for them that truſt in riches, to enter into the kingdome of God?
25 It is eaſier for a camel to goe thorow the eye of a needle, then for the rich to enter into the kingdome of God.
26 And they were aſtonied out of meaſure, ſaying among themſelues, Who then can be ſaued?
27 Jeſus, when hee had looked vpon them, ſayth, With men it is impoſſible, but not with God: for with God all things are poſſible.
28 And Peter beganne to ſay vnto him, Loe, Mat.19.27. luke 18.28. we haue forſaken all, and haue followed thee.
29 Jeſus anſwered, and ſayd, Verily I ſay vnto you, There is no man that hath forſaken houſe, or brethren, or ſiſters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my ſake and the Goſpels,
30 But he ſhall receiue an hundred folde now at this preſent, houſes, and brethren, and ſiſters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with perſecutions, and in the world to come eternall life.
31 But many that are firſt, ſhall be laſt: and the laſt, firſt. Mat.19.30. luke 13.30.
32 And they were in the way going vp to Hieruſalem: and Jeſus went before them, and they were amazed, and as they followed, were afraid: and when he had againe taken with him the twelue, he began to tell them what things ſhould happen vnto him, Mat.20.17. luke 18.31.
33 Saying, Beholde, we go vp to Hieruſalem, and the ſonne of man ſhall be deliuered vnto the high Prieſts, and vnto the Scribes: and they ſhall condemne him to death, and ſhall deliuer him to the Gentiles,
34 And they ſhal mocke him, and ſcourge him, and ſpit vpon him, and kill him: and the third day he ſhall riſe againe.
35 And James and John the ſonnes of Zebedee come vnto him, ſaying, Maſter, we will that thou ſhouldeſt doe for vs whatſoeuer wee ſhall deſire. Mat.20.20.
36 He ſayd vnto them, What will yee that I ſhould do for you?
37 They ſayd vnto him, Grant vnto vs that we may ſit, one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory.
38 But Jeſus ſayd vnto them, Ye wote not what ye aſke: Can ye drinke of the cuppe that I drinke of? and be baptized with the baptiſme that I am baptized with?
39 And they ſayd vnto him, That we can. Jeſus ſayd vnto them, Ye ſhall indeed drinke of the cuppe that I drinke of: and with the baptiſme that I am baptized withall, ſhall ye be baptized:
40 But to ſit on my right hand, and on my left hand, is not mine to giue, but it ſhalbe giuen vnto them for whom it is prepared.
41 And when the other ten heard it, they began to diſdaine at James and John.
42 But Jeſus, when hee had called them to him, ſaith vnto them, Ye know that they which ſeeme to beare rule among the Gentiles, reigne as lordes ouer them: and they that be great among them, exerciſe authoritie vpon them. Luk.22.25.
43 But ſo ſhal it not be among you: but whoſoeuer of you will be great among you, ſhall be your miniſter:
44 And whoſoeuer of you will be the chiefeſt, ſhalbe ſeruant of all.
45 For the ſonne of man alſo came not to be miniſtred vnto, but to miniſter, and to giue his life a ranſome for many.
46 And they came to Jericho: and as hee went out of the city of Jericho with his Diſciples, and a great number of people, blinde Bartimeus, the ſonne of Timeus, ſate by the high wayes ſide, begging. Mat.20.29. luke 18.35.
47 And when hee heard that it was Jeſus of Nazareth, he began to crie, and ſay, Jeſus thou ſonne of Dauid, haue mercy on me.
48 And many rebuked him, that hee ſhould holde his peace: But hee cried the more a great deale, Thou ſonne of Dauid, haue mercy on me.
49 And Jeſus ſtood ſtill, and commanded him to be called: and they call the blinde, ſaying vnto him, Be of good comfort, riſe, hee calleth thee.
50 And when he had thrown away his clothe, he roſe, and came to Jeſus.
51 And Jeſus anſwered, and ſayd vnto him, What wilt thou that I do vnto thee? The blinde ſayd vnto him, Maſter, that I might ſee.
52 Jeſus ſayd vnto him, Goe thy way, thy faith hath ſaued thee. And immediatly he receiued his ſight, and followed Jeſus in the way.

19 And when euen was come, Jesus went out of the citie.

Mat. 21.19. 20 *And in the morning, as they passed by, they saw the figge tree dried vp from the roots.

21 And Peter hauing remembred, saith vnto him, Master, beholde, the figge tree which thou cursedst, is withered away.

22 And Jesus answering, saith vnto them, Haue faith in God.

1 The vineyard is let out to husbandmen. 41 The poore widowes farthing.

Mat. 21.33. luke 20.9. esay 5.1. iere. 2.21. AND *he began to speake vnto them by parables. A certaine man planted a vineyard, and hedged about it, and digged a wine presse, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a strange country.

2 And when the time was come, he sent to the husbandmen a seruant that hee might receiue of the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.

3 And they caught him, and beat him, and sent him away emptie.

4 And againe, he sent vnto them another seruant: and at him they cast stones, and brake his head, and sent him away all to reuiled.

5 And againe he sent another, and him they killed: and many other, beating some, and killing some.

6 And so when hee had yet but one beloued sonne, he sent him also of the last vnto them, saying, They will stand in awe of my sonne.

7 But the husbandmen said amongst themselues, This is the heire, come, let vs kill him, and the inheritance shalbe ours.

8 And they tooke him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

feared the people: for they knew that he had spoken the parable against them: and they left him, and went their way.

Mat.22.15. luke 20.20. 13 And they sent vnto him certaine of the Pharisees and of the Herodians, to take him in his words.

14 And when they were come, they say vnto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou considerest not the person of men, but teachest the way of God in trueth: Is it lawfull to giue tribute to Cesar, or not?

15 Shall we giue, or shall we not giue? But hee knowing their hypocrisie, sayd vnto them, Why tempt yee mee? Bring mee a penie, that I may see it.

16 And they brought it: and hee sayeth vnto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they sayd vnto him, Cesars.

Rom.13.7. 17 And Jesus answering, sayd vnto them, Giue to Cesar the things that belong to Cesar: and to God, the things which pertaine to God. And they marueiled at him.

Mat.22.23. luke 20.27. 18 There come also vnto him the Sadducees, which say there is no resurrection, & they asked him, saying,

Deut.25.5. 19 Master, Moses wrote vnto vs, If any mans brother die, and leaue his wife behinde him, and leaue no children, that his brother should take his wife, and raise vp seed vnto his brother.

20 There were seuen brethren: and the first tooke a wife, and when he died, left no seed behinde him.

21 And the second tooke her, and died, neither left he any seed: and the third likewise.

22 And seuen had her, and left no seed behind them: last of all the wife died also.

23 In the resurrection therefore, when they shall rise, whose wife shall she be of them? for seuen had her to wife.

24 And Jesus answering, sayd vnto them, Doe ye not therefore erre, because ye know not the Scriptures, neither the power of God?

25 For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry, nor are giuen in marriage: but are as the Angels which are in heauen.

Exod.3.6. mat.22.32. 26 As touching the dead, that they rise: haue yee not read in the booke of Moses, how in the bush God spake vnto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isahac, and the God of Jacob?

27 He is not the God of the dead, but God of the liuing: ye therefore do greatly erre.

Mat.22.35. 28 And when there came one of the scribes, and had heard them disputing together, and perceiued that he had answered them well, he asked him which is the first commandement of all.

Deut.6.4. 29 Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandements is, Heare, O Israel, the Lord our God is one Lord:

30 And thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy minde, and with all thy strength. This is the first commandement:

Leu.19.18. mat.22.39. rom.13.9. galat.5.14. iacob.2.8. 31 And the second is like vnto this, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe: there is none other commandement greater then these.

32 And the Scribe sayd vnto him, Well, master, thou hast sayd the trueth: for there is one God, and there is none other but he.

33 And to loue him with all the heart, and with all the vnderstanding, and with all the soule, and with all the strength, and to loue a mans neighbour as himselfe, is greater then all the burnt offerings and sacrifices.

34 And when Jesus saw that hee answered discreetly, he sayd vnto him, Thou art not farre from the kingdome of God. And no man after that durst aske him any question.

Mat.22.41. luke 20.41. 35 And Jesus answering, sayd, teaching in the Temple, How say the Scribes that Christ is the sonne of Dauid?

Psal.110.1. 36 For Dauid himselfe inspired with the holy Ghost, sayd, The Lord sayd to my Lord, Sit on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy foote stoole.

37 Dauid himselfe calleth him Lorde, and whence is he then his sonne? And much people heard him gladly.

Math.23.6. luke 11.43. 38 And hee sayd vnto them in his doctrine, Beware of the Scribes, which desire to walke in long clothing, and loue salutations in the market places, 39 And the chiefe seats in the Synagogues, and the vppermost roumes at feasts.

Mat.23.14. luke 20.47. 40 Which deuoure widowes houses, and vnder a pretence make long prayers: These shall receiue greater damnation.

Luke 21.1. 41 And when Jesus sate ouer against the treasurie, he beheld how the people put money into the treasurie: and many that were rich, cast in much.

42 And there came a certaine poore widow, and shee threw in two mites, which make a farthing.

43 And when he had called vnto him his disciples, he sayeth vnto them, Verily I say vnto you, that this poore widow hath cast more in, then all they which haue cast into the treasurie.

44 For all they did cast in of their superfluity: but shee of her want, did cast in all that shee had, euen all her liuing.

Math.24.1. luke 21.5. AND as he went out of the temple, one of his disciples sayd vnto him, Master, see what stones and what buildings are here.

Luke 19.45 2 And Jesus answering, sayd vnto him, Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left one stone vpon another, that shall not be throwen downe.

3 And as he sate vpon the mount of Oliues, ouer against the temple, Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew, asked him secretly,

4 Tell vs, when shall these things be? And what shalbe the signe when all these things shal be fulfilled?

Exod.5.6, 2.thes.2.3. 5 And Jesus answering them, began to say, Take heed lest any man deceiue you.

18 But pray yee that your flight be not in the winter:

19 For there shall be in those dayes such tribulation, as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created, vnto this time, neither shalbe in any wise.

20 And except that the Lord had shortened those dayes, no flesh should be saued: but for the elects sake whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened those dayes.

Mat.24.23. luke 21.8. 21 And then, if any man shall say to you, Loe, here is Christ, or loe, he is there: beleeue him not.

1 The high Priests conspire against Christ. 12 The Passeouer is prepared and eaten.

The Gospel on the Mūday next before Easter.

After two dayes was the feast of the Passeouer, and of vnleauened bread: and the high Priests, and the Scribes sought howe they might take him by craft, and put him to death.

Mat.26.1. luke 22.1.

2 But they said, Not in the feast day, lest any businesse arise among the people.

3 And when hee was in Bethanie, in the house of Simon the leper, euen as hee sate at meat, there came a woman, hauing an Alabaster box of very precious ointment, called Nard pistiche: and when she had broken the box, shee powred it on his head.

Mat.26.6. john 11.2.

4 And there was some that had indignation within themselues, and sayd, Why was this waste of the ointment made?

5 For it might haue bene sold for more then three hundred pence, and haue bene giuen to the poore. And they grudged against her.

6 And Iesus sayd, Let her alone, why trouble ye her? She hath done a good worke on me.

7 For ye haue poore with you alwayes, and whensoeuer ye will, ye may do them good: but me haue ye not alwayes.

8 She hath done that she could: she came aforehand to anoint my body to the burying.

9 Verely I say vnto you, Wheresoeuer this Gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done, shalbe rehearsed in remembrance of her.

10 And Iudas Iscariot, one of the twelue, went away vnto the high Priests, to betray him vnto them.

Mat.26.14. luke 22.4.

11 When they heard that, they were glad, and promised that they would giue him money. And hee sought howe hee might conueniently betray him.

23 And when he had taken the cup, and giuen thanks, he gaue it to them: and they all dranke of it.

24 And he sayd vnto them, This is my blood of the new Testament, which is shed for many.

25 Verily I say vnto you, I will drinke no more of the fruit of the vine, vntill that day that I drinke it new in the kingdome of God.

26 And when they had prayed God, they went out into the mount of Oliues.

30 And Iesus sayth vnto him, Verily I say vnto thee, that this day, euen in this night, before the cocke crow twise, thou shalt denie mee three times.

31 But he spake more vehemently, If I should die with thee, I will not denie thee in any wise. Likewise also sayd they all.

Mat.26.30. luke 22.39.

32 *And they came into a place which was named Gethsemani, and he saith to his disciples, Sit ye here, while I shall pray.

33 And he taketh with him Peter, & Iames, and Iohn, and began to be sore amazed, and to be in an agony, 34 And sayth vnto them, My soule is exceeding heauy, euen vnto the death: tary ye heere, and watch.

35 And when he had gone forward a litle, he fell on the ground, and prayed, that if it were possible, the houre might passe from him.

36 And he sayd, Abba, father, all things are possible vnto thee, take away this cup from me: Neuertheless, not that I will, but that thou wilt, be done.

37 And hee commeth and findeth them sleeping, and sayeth vnto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldest not thou watch one houre?

38 Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation: The spirit truely is ready, but the flesh is weake.

39 And againe he went aside, and prayed, and spake the same words.

40 And when he returned, he found them asleepe againe (for their eyes were heauy) neither wist they what to answere him.

41 And he commeth the third time, and sayth vnto them, Sleepe henceforth, and take your ease: it is enough, the houre is come, behold, the Sonne of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

42 Rise vp, let vs goe: Loe, he that betrayeth me, is at hand.

Mat.26.47. luke 22.47. iohn 18.3.

43 *And immediatly, while he yet spake, commeth Iudas, being one of the twelue, and with him a great number of people with swords and staues, from the high Priests, and Scribes, and Elders.

44 And he that betrayed him, had giuen them a generall token, saying, Whosoeuer I shall kisse, that same is he: take him, and leade him away warily.

45 And assoone as hee was come, he goeth straightway to him, and sayeth vnto him, Master, master: and kissed him.

46 And they layed their hands on him, and tooke him.

47 And one of them that stood by, when hee had drawen out his sword, smote a seruant of the high Priest, and ‖ cut off his eare.

‖ Or, tooke away.

48 And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto them, Yee be come out as vnto a thiefe, with swords and with staues for to take me.

49 I was daily with you in the Temple, teaching, and ye tooke me not: but these things come to passe that the Scriptures should be fulfilled.

50 And they all forsooke him, and ran away.

51 And there followed him a certaine yoong man, clothed in linnen vpon the bare: and the yoong men caught him.

52 And hee left his linnen garment, and fled from them naked.

Mat.26.57. luke 22.54. iohn 19.24.

Mat.26.59.

55 *And the high Priests and all the councel sought for witnesse against Iesus, to put him to death, and found none:

58 Wee heard him say, *I will destroy this Temple that is made with handes, and within three dayes I will build another made without hands.

59 But yet their witnesse agreed not so together.

63 Then the high Priest, hauing rent his clothes, sayth, What need we any further witnesses?

64 Ye haue heard the blasphemy: what thinke ye? And they all condemned him to be worthy of death.

65 And some began to spit at him, and to couer his face, and to beat him with fists, and to say vnto him, Prophecie: And the seruants did beat him with rods.

Mat.26.71. luke 22.58. ioh.18.25. 66 *And as Peter was beneath in the palace, there commeth one of the wenches of the high Priest.

67 And when shee saw Peter warming himselfe, after shee had looked vpon him, shee sayth, And thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth.

68 But he denied, saying, I know him not, neither wote I what thou sayest. And he went out into the porch, and the cocke crew.

69 And a damosell, when she saw him, began againe to say to them that stood by, This is one of them.

70 And he denied it againe. And anon after, they that stood by sayd againe to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art of Galilee, and thy speech agreeth thereto.

71 But he began to curse and to sweare, saying, I know not this man of whom ye speake.

1 Iesus is deliuered bound to Pilate. 43 Ioseph beggeth Christes body, and burieth it.

The Gospel on the Tuesday next before Easter. Math.27.1. luke 22,66. AND anon in the dawning, when the high Priests had held a counsell with the Elders & the Scribes, and the whole congregation, and had bound Jesus, they caried him away, and deliuered him to Pilate.

2 And Pilate asked him, Art thou the king of the Jewes? And hee answering, sayd vnto him, Thou sayest it.

3 And the high Priests accused him of many things, but he answered nothing.

Mat.27.12. luke 23.3. ioh.18.33. 4 *So Pilate asked him againe, saying, Answerest thou nothing? behold how many things they witnesse against thee.

5 Jesus yet answered nothing at all, so that Pilate marueled.

6 At that feast Pilate did deliuer vnto them one prisoner, whomsoeuer they desired.

7 And there was one that was named Barabbas, which lay bound with them that made insurrection with him, which men had committed murder also in the insurrection.

8 And the people crying aloud, began to desire that hee would doe according as hee had euer done vnto them.

9 Pilate answered them, saying, Will ye that I let loose vnto you the king of the Jewes?

10 (For he knew that the high Priests had deliuered him for enuy.)

11 But the high Priests mooued the people, that hee should rather deliuer Barabbas vnto them.

12 Pilate answering again, said vnto them, What will ye then that I shall do vnto him who ye call the king of the Jewes?

13 And they cried againe, Crucifie him.

14 Pilate sayd vnto them, What euill hath he done? And they cried the more feruently, Crucifie him.

15 And so Pilate, willing to content the people, let loose Barabbas vnto them, and deliuered vp Jesus, when he had scourged him, for to be crucified.

The Gospel by S. Luke.

The first Chapter.

1 The preface of Luke. 5 Of Zacharias and Elizabeth. 40 Marie visiteth Elizabeth.

FOrasmuch as many haue taken in hand to set forth in order the declaratiō of those things which are most surely ‖ beleued among vs,

‖ Or, proued

2 Euen as they deliuered them vnto vs, which from the beginning [a] sawe them themselues with their eyes, and were ministers of the [a] word:

a That is, they were doers in such things as we let forth in the Gospell.

3 It seemed good to me also, hauing perfect vnderstanding of al things from the beginning, to write vnto thee in order, most excellent Theophilus,

4 That thou mightest know the certaintie of those things whereof thou hast bene taught by mouth.

5 There was in the dayes of Herode the king of Iury, a certaine Priest, named Zacharias, * of the course of Abia, and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elizabeth.

1.Chr.24.10

6 They were both righteous before God, walking in all the commaundements and ordinances of the Lord, blamelesse.

7 And they had no childe, because that Elizabeth was barren, and they both were nowe well stricken in age.

8 And it came to passe, that when Zacharias executed the Priests office before God as his course came,

9 According to the custome of the Priests office, his lot was to burne incense when he went into the temple of the Lord.

10 * And the whole multitude of the people were without in prayer, while the incense was burning.

Leu.16.17. exo.30.7.

11 And there appeared vnto him an Angel of the Lord, standing on the right side of the altar of the incense.

12 And when Zacharias saw him, hee was troubled, and feare fell vpon him.

13 But the Angel sayd vnto him, Feare not, Zacharias, for thy prayer is heard, and thy wife Elizabeth shal beare thee a sonne, and thou shalt call his name Iohn.

14 And thou shalt haue ioy and gladnesse, and many shall reioice at his birth:

15 And he shalbe great in the sight of the Lord, and shall neither drinke wine nor strong drinke, and he shall be filled with the holy Ghost, euen from his mothers wombe.

16 * For many of the children of Israel shall he turne to the Lord.

Mala.4.5. mar.11.14.

17 And he shall goe before him with the spirit and power of Elias, to turne the hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient to the wisedome of the iust men, to make readie a perfect people for the Lord.

18 And Zacharias sayde vnto the Angel, By what token shal I know this? for I am old, and my wife well stricken in yeres.

19 And the Angel answering, sayd vnto him, I am Gabriel that stand in the presence of God, and was sent to speake vnto thee, and to shewe thee these glad tidings.

20 And behold, thou shalt be dumbe, and not be able to speake, vntil the day that these things shall be performed, because thou beleeuedst not my words, which shalbe fulfilled in their season.

21 And the people waited for Zacharias, and marueiled that he taried so long in the temple.

22 And when he came out, he could not speake vnto them: and they perceiued that he had seene a vision in the temple: for hee beckened vnto them, and remained speechlesse.

23 And it came to passe, that as soone as the dayes of his office were out, he departed into his owne house.

24 And after those dayes, his wife Elizabeth conceiued, and hid her selfe fiue moneths, saying,

25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the dayes wherein he looked on me, to take from me my [b] rebuke among men.

The Gospel on the Annunciation of the virgin Marie.

b For it was a chefe blessing of God, to bee fruitfull in children, Gen.7. Deut.23. Psal. 127. and 128. because it was a multiplying of the Lords people, and fulfilling of Gods promise, Gen. 13. and therefore it was taken among the Iewes for a reproch to bee barren.

26 And in the first moneth, the Angel Gabriel was sent from God, vnto a citie of Galilee, named Nazareth, 27 To a virgin, spoused to a man whose name was Ioseph of the house of Dauid, and the virgins name was Marie.

28 And when the Angel was come in vnto her, he sayd, Haile thou that art in high fauour, the Lord is with thee: Blessed art thou among women.

29 And when she saw him, shee was troubled at his saying, and cast in her mind what maner of salutation this should be.

30 And the Angel sayd vnto her, Feare not Marie, for thou hast found fauour with God.

31 * For beholde, thou shalt conceiue in thy wombe, and beare a sonne, and shalt call his name Iesus.

Esay 7.14.

32 He shall be great, and shall bee called the sonne of the Highest, and the Lord God shal giue vnto him the seate of his father Dauid.

33 * And he shall reigne ouer the house of Iacob for euer, and of his kingdome there shall bee none end.

Dan.7.14. mich.4.7.

34 Then sayd Marie vnto the Angel, Howe shall this be, seeing I know not a man?

35 And the Angel answering, said vnto her, The holy Ghost shall come vpon thee, and the power of the Highest shall [c] ouershadowe thee. Therefore also that holy thing which shall bee borne, shall be called the sonne of God.

c Shall worke secretly in thee about all reason.

36 And behold, thy cousin Elizabeth, she hath also conceiued a sonne in her old age, and this is her first moneth, which was called barren.

of the Lord, be it vnto me according to thy word: and the Angel departed from her.

39 And Mary arose in those dayes, and went into the hill countrey with haste, into a citie of Iuda, 40 And entred into the house of Zacharie, and saluted Elizabeth.

41 And it came to passe, that when Elizabeth heard the salutation of Marie, the babe ~~leaped~~ in her wombe, and Elizabeth was filled with the holy Ghost.

42 And she spake out with a loude voice, and sayd, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the fruite of thy wombe.

43 And whence commeth this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?

44 For lo, assoone as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine eares, the babe leaped in my wombe for ioy.

45 And blessed is she that beleeued, for those things shall be performed which were tolde her from the Lord.

46 And Marie sayd, My soule magnifieth the Lord.

47 And my spirit hath reioyced in God my sauiour.

48 For he hath looked on the lowlinesse of his handmaiden: for lo, now from henceforth shall all generations call me blessed.

49 Because he that is mighty hath done to me great things, and holy is his name.

50 And his mercie is on them that feare him, from generation to generation.

51 Esai.51.9. psal.33.10. Hee hath shewed strength with his arme, he hath scattered them that are proud, in the imagination of their hearts.

56 And Marie abode with her about three moneths, and returned to her owne house.

57 The Gospel on S. Iohn Baptists day. Elizabeths time came that she should bee deliuered, and she brought forth a sonne.

58 And her neighbours and her cousins heard how the Lord had shewed great mercie vpon her, and they reioiced with her.

59 And it came to passe, that on the eight day they came to circumcise the child, and called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 And his mother answering sayd, Not so, but he shall be called Iohn.

61 And they sayd vnto her, There is none in thy kinred that is called by that name.

62 And they made signes to his father, what he would haue him called.

63 And when he had asked for writing tables, he wrote, saying, His name is Iohn: and they marueiled all.

64 And his mouth was opened immediatly, and his tongue loosed, and hee spake, praysing God.

65 And feare came on all them that dwelt round about them, and all these sayings were noised abroad thorowout all the hill countrey of Iurie.

66 And all they that had heard them, layde them vp in their hearts, saying, What maner of childe shall this bee? And the hand of the Lord was with him.

67 And his father Zacharias was filled with the holy Ghost, and prophesied, saying, 68 Praised be the Lord God of Israel, for he hath visited and redeemed his people, Mat.1.22.

69 And hath raised vp an horne of saluation vnto vs, in the house of his seruant Dauid: Psa.132.17

79 To giue light to them that sit in darkenes, and in the shadowe of death, to guide our feete into the way of peace.

80 And the childe grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was in wildernesse till the day came of his shewing vnto the Israelites.

The ij. Chapter.

The taxing of the world by Augustus Cesar.

AND it came to passe in those dayes, that there went a commaundement from Augustus Cesar, that all the world should be taxed.

2 (And this first taxing was made when Cyrenius was Lieutenant of Syria.)

3 And all went to be taxed, euery man into his owne citie.

4 And Ioseph went vp from Galilee, out of the citie of Nazareth, into Iurie, vnto the citie of Dauid, which is called Bethlehem, (because he was of the house and linage of Dauid.) John 7.42.

5 To bee taxed with Marie his espoused wife, being great with childe.

6 And so it was, that while they were there, the dayes were accomplished that shee should be deliuered.

7 And shee brought forth her first begotten sonne, and wadled him, & layd him in a manger, because there was no roume for them in the Inne. b He is called the first begotten, because he had none before.

8 There were in the same countrey shepheards abiding in the field, keeping watch ouer their flocke by night.

9 And lo the Angel of the Lord stoode hard by them, and the glorie of the Lord shone round about them, and they were sore afraid.

10 And the Angel sayde vnto them, Bee not afraid: for behold, I bring you good tidings of great ioy that shall be to all people.

11 For vnto you is borne this day, in the citie of Dauid, a sauiour, which is Christ the Lord.

12 And take this for a signe, Ye shall finde the childe swadled, laid in a manger.

13 And suddenly there was with the Angel a multitude of heauenly souldiers, praising God, and saying, 14 Glorie to God in the highest, and peace on the earth, and among men a good will.

15 And it came to passe, assoone as the Angels were gone away from them into heauen, the men the shepheards sayd one to another, Let vs goe nowe euen vnto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to passe, which the Lord hath shewed vnto vs.

16 And they came with haste, & found Marie and Joseph, and the babe laid in a manger.

17 And when they had seene it, they published abroade the saying which was told them of this childe.

18 And all they that heard it, woondered at those things which were tolde them of the shepheards.

19 But Marie kept all those sayings, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the shepheards returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seene, euen as it was tolde vnto them.

21 And when the eight day was come, that the childe should be circumcised, his name was called Jesus, which was so named of the Angel before he was conceiued in the wombe.

22 And when the dayes of her purification, after the law of Moses, were accomplished, they brought him to Hierusalem, to present him to the Lord,

23 (As it is written in the lawe of the Lord, Euery man child that first openeth the wombe, shalbe called holy to the Lord.)

24 And to offer, as it is sayd in the lawe of the Lord, a paire of turtle doues, or two yong pigeons.

25 And beholde, there was a man in Hierusalem, whose name was Simeon, and the same man was iust and godly, looking for the consolation of Israel: and the holy Ghost was vpon him.

26 And a reuelation was giuen him of the holy Ghost, not to see death, before he had seene the Lords Christ.

27 And he came by inspiration into the temple: and when the parents brought in the childe Jesus, to doe for him after the custome of the lawe,

28 Then tooke he him vp in his armes, and praised God, and sayd,

29 Lord, now lettest thou thy seruant depart in peace, according to thy promise.

30 For mine eyes haue seene thy saluation.

31 Which thou hast prepared before the face of all people.

32 A light to be reuealed to the Gentiles, and the glory of thy people Israel.

33 And his father and his mother marueiled at those things which were spoken of him.

34 And Simeon blessed them, and said vnto Marie his mother, Behold, this childe is set for the fall and rysing againe of many in Israel: and for a signe which is spoken against,

35 (And moreouer, the swords shall pearce thy soule) that the thoughts of many hearts may be opened.

36 And there was a Prophetesse one Anna, the daughter of Phanuel, of the tribe of Aser, which was of a great age, and had liued with an husband seuen yeeres from her virginitie.

37 And shee had bene a widowe about foure score and foure yeres, which departed not from the temple, but serued God with fastings and prayers night and day.

38 And she comming at the same instant vpon them, gaue thankes likewise vnto the Lord, and spake of him to all them that looked for redemption in Hierusalem.

39 And when they had performed all things according to the law of the Lord, they returned into Galilee, to their owne citie Nazareth.

40 And the childe grew, and waxed strong in spirit, and was filled with wisedome, and the grace of God was vpon him.

41 Now his parents went to Hierusalem euery yere, at the feast of the Passeouer.

42 And when he was twelue yeres old, they ascended vp to Hierusalem, after the custome of the feast day:

43 And when they had fulfilled the dayes, as they returned home, the childe Jesus abode still in Hierusalem, and Joseph & his mother knewe not of it.

44 But they supposing him to haue bene in the company, came a dayes iourney, and sought him among their kinsfolke and acquaintance.

45 And when they found him not, they turned backe againe to Hierusalem, seeking him.

46 And it came to passe, that after three dayes they found him in the temple, sitting in the middest of the Doctors, hearing them, and asking them questions.

47 And all that heard him, were astonied at his vnderstanding and answeres.

48 And when they saw him, they were amazed: and his mother said vnto him, Sonne, why hast thou thus dealt with vs? Behold, thy father and I haue sought thee sorowing.

49 And he sayd vnto them, How is it that yee sought me? wist yee not that I must goe about my fathers businesse?

50 And they vnderstood not that saying which he spake vnto them.

51 And hee went downe with them, and came to Nazareth, and was obedient vnto them: But his mother kept all these sayings in her heart.

52 And Jesus increased in wisedome and stature, and in fauour with God and man.

Iordane, preaching the baptisme of repentance, for the remission of sinnes,

4 As it is written in the booke of the words of Esaias the Prophet, saying, *The voyce of ~~a~~ crier in the wildernesse, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his pathes straight. Esai.40.3.

5 Euery valley shalbe filled, and euery mountaine and hill shall be brought lowe, and ~~things~~ that be crooked, shall be made [b] straight, and the rough wayes shalbe made plaine.

6 And all flesh shall see the saluation of God.

7 Then saide he to the people that were come forth to be baptized of him, *O generation of vipers, who hath fore warned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 Bring forth therefore due fruits of repentance, and begin not to say within your selues, We haue Abraham to our father: For I say vnto you, that God is able of these stones to raise vp children vnto Abraham. Matth. 3.7.

9 Now also is the [c] axe layed vnto the roote of the trees: Euery tree therefore which bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewen downe, and cast into the fire.

10 And the people asked him, saying, What shall we do then?

11 He answereth and saith vnto them, *Hee that hath two [d] coates, let him part with him that hath none, and he that hath meate, let him do likewise. Iames 3.15 1.ioh.3.17.

12 Then came Publicanes also to bee baptized, and saide vnto him, Master, what shall we doe?

13 And hee said vnto them, Require no more then that which is appointed vnto you.

14 The souldiers likewise demanded of him, saying, And what shall we do? And he said vnto them, Doe violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely, and be content with your wages.

15 And the people waited, and all men mused in their hearts of Iohn, whether hee were [e] very Christ.

16 Iohn answered, saying vnto them all, *In deede I baptize you with water, but one stronger then I commeth, whose shooes latchet I am not worthy to vnloose, he shal baptize you with the holy Ghost, and with fire. Matt. 3.11. mark.1.8. Iohn 1.26.

17 * which hath his fanne in his hand, and will throughly purge his floore, and will gather the wheat into his barne, but the chaffe will hee burne with fire vnquenchable. Matt. 3.12.

18 And many other things in his exhortation preached he vnto the people.

19 * Then Herode the Tetrarch, when hee was rebuked of him for Herodias his brother Philips wife, & for all the euils which Herod did, Matt. 14.3. mark. 6. 17.

20 Added this aboue all, and shut vp Iohn in prison.

is written, That man shall not liue by bread only, but by euery word of God.

5 And the deuill had taken him vp into an high mountaine, and shewed vnto him all the kingdomes of the world in a moment of time.

6 And the deuil said vnto him, All this power will I giue thee, and the glory of them, for that is deliuered vnto mee, and to whomsoeuer I will, I giue it.

7 If thou therefore wilt worship me, it shall be all thine.

8 And Iesus answering, said vnto him, Get thee hence behinde mee, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serue.

9 And he tooke him to Hierusalem, and set him on a pinacle of the Temple, and said vnto him, If thou be the Sonne of God, cast thy selfe downe from hence.

10 For it is written, He shall giue his Angels charge ouer thee, to keepe thee.

11 And in their handes they shall beare thee vp, that thou dash not thy foote at any time against a stone.

12 And Iesus answering, said vnto him, It is said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

13 And when the deuil had ended all the temptation, he departed from him for a season.

14 And Iesus returned by the power of the Spirit into Galilee, and there went a fame of him throughout all the region round about.

15 And he taught in their Synagogues, being glorified of all men.

16 And he came to Nazareth, where he was nursed, and as his custome was, hee went into the Synagogue on the Sabboth day, and stood vp for to reade.

17 And there was deliuered vnto him the booke of the Prophet Esaias: and when he had opened the booke, he found the place where it is written,

18 The Spirit of the Lord vpon me, because he hath anointed me, to preach the Gospel to the poore: he hath sent me, to heale the broken hearted, to preach deliuerance to the captiue, and recouering of sight to the blinde, freely to set at liberty them that are bruised,

19 And to preach the acceptable yeere of the Lord.

20 And when he had closed the booke, and giuen it againe to the minister, he sate downe: and the eyes of all them that were in the Synagogue were fastened on him.

21 And he began to say vnto them, This day is this Scripture fulfilled in your eares.

22 And all bare him witnesse, and wondered at the gracious words, which proceeded out of his mouth. And they said, Is not this Iosephs sonne?

23 And he said vnto them, Ye will vtterly say vnto me this prouerbe, Physition, heale thy selfe: whatsoeuer wee haue heard done in Capernaum, doe the same here likewise in thine owne countrey.

24 And hee said, Verely I say vnto you, no Prophet is accepted in his owne countrey.

25 But I tell you of a trueth, many widowes were in Israel in the dayes of Elias, when the heauen was shut vp three yeeres and six moneths, when great famishment was throughout all the land:

26 And vnto none of them was Elias sent, saue vnto Sarepta a citie of Sidon, vnto a woman that was a widow woman.

27 And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Eliseus the Prophet: and none of them was cleansed, sauing Naaman the Syrian.

28 And all they in the Synagogue, when they heard these things, were filled with wrath,

29 And rose vp, and thrust him out of the city, and led him vnto the || top of the hil (whereon their city was built) that they might cast him downe headlong.

30 But hee passing through the mids of them, went his way:

31 And came downe to Capernaum, a citie of Galilee, and there taught them on the Sabboth dayes.

32 And they were astonied at his doctrine: for his preaching was with power.

33 And in the Synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of a foule deuil, and cried out with a lowd voyce,

34 Saying, Let vs alone, what haue wee to do with thee, thou Iesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy vs? I know who thou art, euen the holy One of God.

35 And Iesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the deuil had thrown him in the mids, hee came out of him, and hurt him not.

36 And feare came on them all, and they spake among themselues, saying, What maner of saying is this? for with authoritie and power he commaundeth the foule spirits, and they come out.

37 And the fame of him went out into euery place of the countrey round about.

38 And when hee was risen out of the Synagogue, hee entred into Simons house: and Simons wiues mother was taken with a great feuer, and they made intercession to him for her.

39 And he stood ouer her, and rebuked the feuer, and it left her. And immediatly shee arose, and ministred vnto them.

40 When the Sunne was downe, all they that had any sicke with diuers diseases, brought them vnto him: and when he had layd his handes on euery one of them, hee healed them.

41 And deuils also came out of many, crying, and saying, Thou art Christ the Sonne of God. And he rebuking them, suffered them not to speake: for they knew that hee was Christ.

42 And when it was day, hee departed, and went into a desert place: and the people sought him, and came to him, and kept him, that hee should not depart from them.

43 And he said vnto them, I must preach the kingdome of God to other cities also: for therefore am I sent.

44 And hee was preaching in the Synagogues of Galilee.

IT came to passe, that when the people preassed vpon him, to heare the word of God, he was standing by the lake of Genezareth.

2 And hee sawe two shippes stand by the lakes side: but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nettes.

3 And when hee was entred into one of the ships which pertained to Simon, he prayed him that hee would thrust out a little from the land: and he sate downe, and taught the people out of the shippe.

4 When he had left speaking, hee saide vnto Simon, Launch out into the deepe, and let slippe your nets to catch.

5 And Simon answering, saide vnto him, Master, wee haue laboured all night, and haue taken nothing: neuertheless, at thy commandement I will loose forth the net.

6 And when they had this done, they inclosed a great multitude of fishes, but their net brake:

7 And they beckened vnto their partners, which were in the other shippe, that they should come and helpe them. And they came, and filled both the ships that they sunke again.

8 When Simon Peter sawe this, hee fell downe at Jesus knees, saying, Go out from me, for I am a sinfull man, O Lord.

9 For hee was vtterly astonied, and all that were with him, at the taking of the fishes, which they had caught together.

10 And so was also James and John the sonnes of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Jesus saide vnto Simon, Feare not, from henceforth thou shalt [a] catch men.

12 And it came to passe, that when hee was in a certaine citie, beholde, there was a man full of leprosie: and when hee had spied Jesus, hee fell flat on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make mee cleane.

13 And when hee had stretched forth his hand, hee touched him, saying, I will: bee thou cleane. And immediatly, the leprosie departed from him.

Leuit. 14. 4.

14 And hee charged him to tell no man: but, Goe (saith he,) and shew thy selfe to the Priest, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a witnesse vnto them.

15 But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him, and much people came together to heare, and to bee healed of him from their infirmities.

16 And hee kept himselfe apart in the wildernesse, and prayed.

17 And it came to passe on a certaine day, as hee was teaching, that there were Pharisees, and doctours of the Law sitting by, which were come out of all the townes of Galilee, and Jurie, and Hierusalem: and the power of the Lord was present, to heale them.

Matth. 9. 2. mark. 2. 3.

18 And beholde, men brought in a bedde a man which was taken with a palsie: and they sought meanes to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

19 And when they coulde not finde on what sides they might bring him in, because of the preasse, they went vpon the top of the house, and let him down through the tyling with his couch, euen into the middest before Jesus.

20 When he saw their faith, he said vnto him, Man, thy sinnes are forgiuen thee.

21 And the Scribes and the Pharisees began to || thinke, saying, What fellow is this which speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgiue sinnes, but God onely?

Or reason.

22 But when Jesus perceiued their thoughts, he answering, said vnto them, What thinke yee in your hearts?

23 Whether is easier to say, Thy sinnes be forgiuen thee: or to say, Rise vp and walke?

24 But that yee may know that the sonne of man hath power to forgiue sinnes on earth (he said vnto the sicke of the palsie,) I say vnto thee, Arise, and when thou hast taken vp thy couch, goe into thine house.

25 And immediatly hee rose vp before them, and when hee had taken vp his couch, whereon he lay, he departed to his owne house, glorifying God.

26 And they were all amazed, and they gaue the glorie vnto God, and were filled with feare, saying, Doubtlesse wee haue seene strange things to day.

27 And after these things he went forth, and sawe a Publicane, named Leui, sitting at the receite of custome: and hee sayd vnto him, Follow me.

Matth. 9. 9. mark. 4. 34.

28 And when hee had left all, he rose vp, and followed him.

29 And Leui made him a great feast in his owne house: and there was a great companie of Publicanes, and of other that sate at meate with them.

30 But they that were Scribes and Pharisees among them, murmured against his disciples, saying, Why doe ye eate and drinke with Publicanes and sinners?

34 Hee sayd vnto them, Can yee make the children of the wedding chamber fast, while the Bridegrome is with them?

Matt. 9. 14. mark. 2. 18.

35 But the dayes will come: and when the Bridegrome shalbe taken away from them, then shall they fast in those dayes.

36 Hee spake also vnto them a similitude, No man putteth a piece of new garment into an old vesture: for then the new renteth the old, and the piece that was taken out of the new, agreeth not with the old.

37 And no man powreth new wine into olde vessels: for if he doe, the new wine will burst the vessels, and runne out it selfe, and the vessels shall perish.

38 But new wine must be put into new vessels, and both are preserued.

Matt. 7. 17. 43 For it is not a good tree that bringeth forth euill fruit: neither is that an euill tree that bringeth foorth good fruit.

Matth. 12. 33. marke 7. 16. 44 For euery tree is knowen by his owne fruit: for of thornes do not men gather figs, nor of a bramble bush gather they grapes.

45 A good man out of the good treasure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is good: and an euill man out of the euill treasure of his heart, bringeth foorth that which is euil: For of the abundance of the heart, his mouth speaketh.

Matt. 7. 21. rom. 13. 2. 46 Why call ye me Lord, Lord, and do not as I bid you?

47 Whosoeuer commeth to me, and heareth my sayings, and doth the same, I will shew you to whom he is like.

48 He is like a man which built an house, and digged deepe, and layd the foundation on the rocke. And when the waters arose, the flood beat behemently vpon that house, and could not moove it: for it was grounded vpon the rocke.

49 But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that without foundation built an house vpon the earth: against which the flood did beat behemently, and it fell immediatly, and the fall of that house was great.

The vij. Chapter.

1 Hee healeth the captaines seruant. 6 The faith of the Centurion. 37 The woman washeth his feete with her teares.

Matth. 8. 1. When he had ended all his sayings in the audience of the people, he entred into Capernaum.

2 And a certaine Centurions seruant, which was deare vnto him, being sicke, was in peril of death.

3 And when he heard of Iesus, he sent vnto him the Elders of the Iewes, beseeching him that he would come and heale his seruant.

4 And when they came to Iesus, they besought him instantly, saying, He is worthy that thou shouldest do this for him.

5 For he loueth our nation, and hath built vs a Synagogue.

6 Then Iesus went with them. And when he was now not farre from the house, the Centurion sent friendes to him, saying vnto him, Lord, trouble not thy selfe: for I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter vnder my roofe.

7 Wherefore, I thought not my selfe worthy to come vnto thee: but say thou the word, and my seruant shalbe whole.

8 For I also am a man set vnder power, hauing vnder mee souldiers: and I say vnto one, Go, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he commeth: and to my seruant, Doe this, and hee doeth it.

9 When Iesus heard these things, hee marueiled at him, and turned him about, and said vnto the people that followed him, I say vnto you, I haue not found so great faith, no, not in Israel.

10 And they that were sent, when they were returned home, found the seruant whole that had bene sicke.

11 And it came to passe the day after, that hee went into a city called Naim: and many of his disciples went with him, and much people.

The Gospel on the xvj. Sunday after Trinitie.

12 When he came nigh to the gate of the city, beholde, there was a dead man carryed out, which was the onely sonne of his mother, and shee was a widowe: and much people of the city was with her.

13 And when the Lord saw her, he had compassion on her, and said vnto her, Weepe not.

14 And when he was come nigh, he touched the beere (and they that bare him, stood stil.) And he said, Yong man, I say vnto thee, Arise.

15 And he that was dead, sate vp, and began to speake: and he deliuered him to his mother.

16 And there came a feare on them all, and they gaue the glory vnto God, saying that a great Prophet is risen vp among vs, and verily God hath visited his people.

17 And this rumour of him went foorth throughout all Iury, and throughout all the regions which lie round about.

Matt. 11. 2. 18 And the disciples of Iohn shewed him of all these things.

19 And Iohn, when hee had called vnto him two of his disciples, he sent them to Iesus, saying, Art thou he that commeth, or looke we for another?

20 When the men were come vnto him, they said, Iohn Baptist hath sent vs vnto thee, saying, Art thou he that commeth, or looke wee for another?

21 And in that same houre he cured many of their infirmities & plagues, and of euill spirits, and vnto many that were blinde, he gaue sight.

22 Then Iesus answering, said vnto them, Go your way, and bring word againe to Iohn, what things ye haue seene and heard, how that the blinde see again, the halt goe, the lepers are clensed, the deafe heare, the dead rise, to the poore is the Gospel preached.

23 And happy is hee whosoeuer shall not be offended at me.

24 And when the messengers of Iohn were departed, he beganne to speake vnto the people concerning Iohn: What went yee out into the wildernesse for to see? A reede shaken with the winde?

25 But what went yee out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and liue delicately, are in Kings courts.

26 But what went yee foorth to see? A Prophet? Yea, I say vnto you, and more then a Prophet.

Mala. 3. 1. 27 This is hee of whom it is written, Behold, I send my messenger before thy face which shall prepare thy way before thee.

28 For I say vnto you, among womens children is there not a greater Prophet then Iohn Baptist: neuertheless, hee that is least in the kingdome of God, is greater then he.

29 And all the people that heard him, and the Publicanes, being baptized with the baptisme of Iohn, a iustified God.

a That is, praised God, and acknowledged him to be most faithfull, good, and mercifull.

30 But the Pharisees and Lawyers despised the counsell of God against themselues, being not baptized of him.

32 They are like vnto children sitting in the market place, and ~~crying~~ one to another, and saying, We haue piped vnto you, and ye haue not daunced: we haue mourned to you, and ye haue not wept.

33 For Iohn Baptist came, neither eating bread, nor drinking wine, and ye say, He hath a deuill.

34 The sonne of man is come, eating and drinking, and ye say, Behold a gluttonous man, and a wine bibber, a friend of Publicanes and sinners.

35 And wisedome is iustified of [b] all her children.

[b] That is, the children of wisedome, or the wise which beleeue the Gospel, doe acknowledge the wisedome of God therein, which the Pharisees condemne: so that wisedome is then iustified of her children when the Gospel is receiued.

36 And one of the Pharisees desired him that hee would eate with him. And hee went into the Pharisees house, and sate downe to meate.

37 And behold, a woman in ~~that~~ city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Iesus sate at meate in the Pharisees house, ~~hee~~ brought an Alabaster box of oyntment:

38 And stood at his feet behind him, weeping, and began to wash his feete with teares, and did wipe them cleane with the haires of her head, and ~~all to~~ kissed his feete, and annoynted them with the oyntment.

39 When the Pharisee which had bidden him, sawe it, hee spake within himselfe, saying, ~~If this man~~ were a Prophet, hee would ~~surely~~ know who, and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him: for she is a sinner.

40 And Iesus answering, said vnto him, Simon, I haue somewhat to say vnto thee. And he sayth, Master, say on.

41 There was a certaine lender, which had two debters: the one ought fiue hundred pence, and the other fiftie.

42 When they had nothing to pay, he forgaue them both. Tell me therefore, which of them will loue him most?

43 Simon answered, and sayde, I suppose, that he to whome he forgaue most. And he sayd vnto him, Thou hast ~~truely~~ iudged.

44 And hee turned to the woman, and sayde vnto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entred into thine house, thou gauest me no water for my feet: but shee hath washed my feete with teares, and wiped them with the hayres of her head.

45 Thou gauest me no kisse: but this woman, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kisse my feet.

46 Mine head with oyle thou diddest not annoynt: but this woman hath anoynted my feet with oyntment.

47 Wherefore, I say vnto thee, ~~many~~ sinnes are forgiuen her, for she loued much: to whome little is forgiuen, the same loueth little.

48 And he sayd vnto her, Thy sinnes are forgiuen ~~thee~~.

49 And they that sate at meate with him, began to say within themselues, Who is this that forgiueth sinnes also?

50 And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saued thee, goe in peace.

22 And it came to passe on a certaine day, that he went into a ship, and his disciples [x] with: and he sayde vnto them, Let vs goe ouer vnto the other side of the lake. And they launched forth.

23 But as they sailed, he fell asleepe, and there came downe a storme of wind on the lake, & they were filled with water, and were in ieopardie.

24 And they came to him, and awoke him, saying, Master, master, we are lost. Then he rose, and rebuked the winde, and the tempest of water: and they ceased, and it waxed calme.

25 And hee sayde vnto them, Where is your faith? And they feared, and wondred, saying one to another, Who is this? for he commaundeth both the winds and water, and they obey him.

Mat.8.8. mark.5.4.

26 * And they sayled vnto the region of the Gadarenites, which is ouer against Galilee.

27 And when he went out to land, there met him out of the city a certaine man which had deuils long time, and ware no clothes, neither abode in any house, but in graues.

28 When he saw Iesus, and had cryed aloud, he fell downe before him, and with a loud voyce sayd, What haue I to doe with thee Iesus, thou sonne of God most highest? I beseech thee torment me not.

29 (For he commaunded the [y] foule spirite to come out of the man: for oftentimes [z] hee had caught him, and hee was bound with chaines, and kept with fetters: and hee brake the bands, and was caried of the [a] fiend into the wildernes.)

30 And Iesus asked him, saying, What is thy name? And hee sayd, Legion: because many deuils were entred into him.

31 And they besought him that he would not commaund them to goe out into the deepe.

32 And there was there an heard of many swine feeding on an hill: and [b] they besought him that hee would suffer them to enter into them: and he suffered them.

b That is, the deuils.

33 Then went the deuils out of the man, & entred into the swine: and the heard [c] ran headlong with violence into the lake, & were choked.

34 When the heardmen saw what was done, they fledde: and when they were departed, they told it in the city, and in the villages.

35 Therefore they came out to see what was done, and came to Iesus, and found the man, out of whome the deuils were departed, sitting at the feete of Iesus, cloathed, and in his right mind: and they were afraid.

36 They also which sawe it, tolde them by what meanes hee that was possessed of the deuils, was healed.

37 Then the whole multitude of the countrey about the Gadarenites, besought him that he would depart from them, for they were taken with great feare: and hee gate him [d] by into the shippe, and returned backe againe.

38 Then the man, out of whome the deuils were departed, besought him that he might be with him: but Iesus sent him away, saying,

39 Goe home againe to thine owne house, and tell [e] what || things soeuer God hath done for thee. And hee went his way, and preached throughout all the citie, what things soeuer Iesus had done vnto him.

|| Or, what great things God hath done vnto thee.

40 And it came to passe, that when Iesus was come againe, the people receiued him: for they were all waiting for him.

41 And beholde, there came a man, named Iairus, * and he was a ruler [f] in the Synagogue, and hee fell downe at Iesus feete, praying him that he would come into his house.

42 For he had but one daughter onely, vpon [g] twelue yeres of age, and he lay a dying. (But as he went, the people thronged him.

43 And a woman, hauing an issue of blood twelue yeres, which had spent all her substance vpon Physicians, neither could be holpe of any,

44 Came behind him, and touched the hemme of his [h] raiment: & immediatly her issue of blood stanched.

45 And Iesus said, Who is it that touched me? When euery man denyed, Peter and they that were with him, sayd, Master, the people thrust thee, and vexe thee, and sayest thou, Who touched me?

46 And Iesus sayd, Some body hath touched mee: for [i] I perceiue that vertue is gone out of me.

47 When the woman sawe that she was not hidde, shee came trembling, and fell at his feete, and told him before all the people, for what cause she had touched him, and how shee was healed immediatly.

48 And he sayde vnto her, Daughter, be of good comfort, thy faith hath saued thee, goe in peace.)

49 While he yet spake, there commeth one from the ruler of the Synagogues house, saying to him, Thy daughter is dead, disease not the master.

50 But when Iesus heard that word, hee answered him, saying, Feare not, beleeue only, and she shalbe made whole.

51 And when he came into the house, he suffered no man to go in with him, saue Peter, and James, and Iohn, and the father and the mother of the maiden.

52 Euery body wept, and sorowed for her: and he sayd, Weepe not, the damosell is not dead, but sleepeth.

53 And they laughed him to scorne, knowing that she was dead.

54 And he thrust them all out, and tooke her by the hand, and cryed, saying, Maid, arise.

55 And her spirit came againe, and shee arose straight way: and hee commaunded to giue her meate.

56 And her parents were [k] astonied: but hee warned them that they should tel no man what was done.

13 But he sayd vnto them, Giue ye them to eate. And they sayd, Wee haue no more but fiue loaues and two fishes, except we should goe and buy meat for all this people.

14 And they were about fiue thousand men. And hee sayd to his disciples, Cause them to sit downe by fifties in a company.

15 And they did so, and made them all to sit downe.

16 And when hee had taken the fiue loaues and the two fishes, and looked vp to heauen, hee blessed them, and brake them, and gaue to the disciples to set before the people.

17 And they did all eate, and were satisfied. And there was taken vp of that remained to them, twelue baskets full of broken meat.

Mat.16.13. mark.8.27. 18 *And it came to passe, as hee was alone praying, his disciples were with him: and hee asked them, saying, Whome say the people that I am?

30 And beholde, there talked with him two men, which were Moses and Elias, 31 That appeared in glory, and spake of his departing, which he should end at Hierusalem.

32 But Peter, and they that were with him, were heauie with sleepe: and when they awoke, they sawe his glory, and the two men standing with him.

33 And it came to passe, as they departed from him, Peter sayd vnto Iesus, Master, it is good being here for vs, and let vs make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias: not knowing what he sayd.

34 While hee thus spake, there came a cloud and ouershadowed them, and they feared, when they were come into the cloud.

35 And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is my deare sonne, heare him.

39 And lo, a spirit taketh him, and suddenly he cryeth, & teareth him that he foameth againe, and with much paine departeth from him, when he rendeth him.

40 And I besought thy disciples to cast him out, and they could not.

41 Iesus answering, sayde, O faithlesse and peruerse nation, how long shall I be with you, and shall suffer you? bring thy sonne hither.

42 As hee was yet a comming, the fiend rent him, and tare him: and Iesus rebuked the vncleane spirit, and healed the child, and deliuered him againe to his father.

43 And they were all amazed at the maiestie of God: But while they wondred euery one at all things which Iesus did, he sayd vnto his disciples, Mat.10.16. 3 Goe your wayes: *Beholde, I ſend you forth as lambes among wolues.

a Ye willeth that they ſhould diſpatch this iourney with diligence and ſpeed, and not occupie themſelues about other buſines, 2. Reg. 4. Mat. 10, 14.
5 *Into whatſoeuer houſe ye enter, firſt ſay, Peace be to this houſe.
6 And if the ſonne b of peace be there, your peace ſhall reſt vpon him: if not, it ſhall turne to you againe.
b Which loueth the doctrine of peace, that is, the Goſpel.
7 And in the ſame houſe tary ſtill, eating and drinking ſuch things as they haue: for the labourer is worthy of his reward. Goe not from houſe to houſe.
8 *And into whatſoeuer citie ye enter, and they receiue you, eate ſuch things as are ſet before you: Mat.10,11.
9 And heale the ſicke that are therein, and ſay vnto them, The kingdome of God is come nigh vpon you.
10 But into whatſoeuer city yee enter, and they receiue you not, goe your wayes out into the ſtreets of the ſame, and ſay,
11 * Euen the very duſt of your city which cleaueth on vs, we doe wipe off againſt you: notwithſtanding, be yee ſure of this, that the kingdome of God was come nigh vpon you. Acts 13,51.
12 I ſay vnto you, That it ſhall be eaſier in that day for Sodome, then for that citie.
13 *Woe vnto thee Chorazin, woe vnto thee Bethſaida: for if the mightie workes had bene done in Tyre and Sidon, which haue bene done in you, they had a great while agoe repented, ſitting in ſackcloth and aſhes. Mat.11,21.
14 Therefore it ſhalbe eaſier for Tyre and Sidon at the iudgement, then for you.
15 And thou Capernaum, which art exalted to heauen, ſhalt be thruſt downe to hell.
16 *He that heareth you, heareth me: and he that deſpiſeth you, deſpiſeth me: and he that deſpiſeth me, deſpiſeth him that ſent me. Mat.10.40. iohn 13,20.
17 And the ſeuentie turned againe with ioy, ſaying, Lorde, euen the very deuils are ſubdued vnto vs through thy name.
18 And hee ſayde vnto them, I ſawe Satan c as it had beene lightning, falling downe from heauen.
c The power of Satan is beaten downe by preaching the Goſpel.
19 Behold, I giue vnto you power to tread on ſerpents and ſcorpions, and ouer all manner power of the enemie: and nothing ſhall by any meanes hurt you.
20 But in this reioyce not, that the ſpirits are ſubdued vnto you: but rather reioyce, becauſe your names are written in the heauens.
21 The ſame houre Jeſus reioyced in the ſpirit, and ſayd, I confeſſe vnto thee, father, Lorde of heauen and earth, that thou haſt hidde theſe things from the wiſe and prudent, and haſt opened them vnto babes: euen ſo father, for ſo it pleaſed thee,
22 *All things are giuen me of my father: no man knoweth who the ſonne is, but the father: and who the father is but the ſonne, and hee to whome the ſonne will reueale him.
23 And he turned vnto his diſciples, and ſayd ſecretly, *Happy are the eyes which ſee the things that ye ſee. The Goſpel on the xiij. Sunday after Trinitie. Mat. 13,16
24 For I tell you, that many Prophets and kings haue deſired to ſee thoſe things which yee ſee, and haue not ſeene them: and to heare thoſe things which ye heare, and haue not heard them.
25 And beholde, a certaine Lawyer ſtood vp, and tempted him, ſaying, *Maſter, what ſhall I doe to inherite eternall life? He ſayd vnto him, Mat. 22,35.

26 What is written in the law? how readest thou?

Deut.6.1. 27 And he answering, sayd, * Thou shalt loue the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soule, and with all thy strength, and with all thy minde, * and thy neighbour as thy selfe.

Leu.19.18 28 And he sayd vnto him, Thou hast answered right: this doe, and thou shalt liue.

29 But he willing to iustifie himselfe, said vnto Iesus, And who is my neighbour?

30 And Iesus answering, sayd, A certaine man ~~descended~~ from Hierusalem to Iericho, and fell among theeues, which ~~robbed~~ him of his raiment, and wounded him, and departed leauing him halfe dead.

31 And it befell that there came downe a certaine priest that ~~same~~ way, and when hee sawe him, he passed by on the other side.

32 And likewise a Leuite, when he ~~came nigh~~ to the place, came and looked on him, and passed by on the other side.

33 But a certaine Samaritane as hee iourneyed, came by him: and when he saw him, hee had compassion on him,

34 And went to him, & bound vp his wounds, powring in oile and wine, and set him on his owne beast, & brought him to a ~~common~~ Inne, and ~~made prouision~~ for him.

35 And on the morow when he departed, hee tooke out [a] two pence, and gaue them to the host, and sayd vnto him, Take ~~cure~~ of him, and whatsoeuer thou spendest more, when I come againe I will recompense thee.

36 Which now of these three, thinkest thou, was neighbour vnto him that fell among the theeues?

37 And he said, He that shewed mercie on him. Then sayd Iesus vnto him, Goe, and doe thou likewise.

38 Now it came to passe as they went, that he entred into a certaine village: and a certaine woman, named Martha, receiued him into her house.

39 And [b] ~~this woman~~ had a sister called Marie, which also sate at Iesus feete, and heard his word:

40 But Martha was cumbred about much seruing, and came to him, and sayde, Lord, doest thou not care that my sister hath left me to serue alone? Bid her therefore that she helpe me.

41 And Iesus answered, and sayd vnto her, Martha, Martha, thou art carefull, and troubled about many things:

42 [c] ~~Verely~~ one is needefull: Marie hath chosen the good part, [d] which shall not be taken away from her.

[a] Which was about 10. pence of sterling money.

[b] That is, the hearing of the word of God, from which was not vnlerne them she should be drawen hauing not always opportunitie to heare the same.

The xj. Chapter.

Christ teacheth his disciples to pray. 14 Hee driueth out a dumbe deuill.

AND ~~it was~~, that as hee was praying in a certain place, when he ceased, one of his disciples said vnto him, Lord, teach vs to pray, as Iohn also taught his disciples.

Mark.6.9. 2 And he said vnto them, When ye pray, say, * Our Father which art in heauen, Hallowed be thy name, Thy kingdome come, Thy will bee done, ~~euen~~ in earth as it is in heauen.

3 Our daily bread ~~giue vs this day~~,

4 And forgiue vs our sinnes: for ~~euen~~ wee forgiue euery man that ~~trespasseth~~ vs. And leade vs not into temptation, but deliuer vs from ~~the~~ euill.

5 And hee sayd vnto them, Which of you shall haue a friend, and shall go vnto him at midnight, and say vnto him, Friend, lend mee three loaues:

6 For a friend of mine is come ~~but of the way~~ to me, and I haue nothing to set before him.

7 And he from within shal answere, and say, Trouble me not, the doore is now shut, and my children are with me in bed: I cannot rise and giue thee.

8 I say vnto you, Though hee will not rise, and giue him, because hee is his friend: yet because of his importunitie, he will rise, and giue him as many as he needeth.

9 * And I say vnto you, Aske, and it shall be giuen you: seeke, and ye shall finde: knocke, and it shall be opened vnto you. Matt.7.7. mar.11.24. iohn 14.13 iames 1.10. Matt.7.7.

10 * For euery one that asketh, receiueth: and hee that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.

11 * If the sonne shal aske bread of any of you that is a father, will he giue him a stone? Or if he aske fish, will he for fish giue him a serpent? Mat.9.32. mar.3.20, 12 Or if he shall aske an egge, will hee offer him a scorpion?

13 If ye then, being euill, haue knowledge to giue good gifts vnto your children: how much more shall your ~~father of heauen~~ giue the holy spirit to them that desire it of him?

14 And hee was casting out a deuill, and ~~the~~ ~~same~~ was dumbe. And it came to passe, when the deuill was gone out, the dumbe spake: and the people wondred. The Gospel on the iij. Sunday in Lent.

15 But some of them said, * He casteth out deuils, through Beelzebub the chiefe of the deuils. Mat.9.24.

16 And other tempting him, required of him a signe from heauen.

17 But he knowing their thoughts, sayd vnto them, * Euerie kingdome diuided against it selfe, is desolate: and a house diuided against a house, falleth. Mat.12.25. mar.3.44.

18 If Satan also be diuided against himselfe, how shall his kingdome ~~endure~~? Because ye say that I cast out deuils through Beelzebub.

19 If I by ‖ Beelzebub cast out deuils, by whom do your ~~children~~ cast them out? therefore shall they be your iudges. ‖ ~~The helpe of~~ 20 But if I with the finger of God cast out deuils, no doubt the kingdome of God is come vpon you.

21 When ~~the~~ strong man armed, keepeth his palace, his goods are in peace.

22 But when a stronger then hee shall come vpon him, and ouercome him, hee taketh from him all his ~~harnesse~~ wherein hee trusted, and diuideth his spoiles.

23 He that is not with me, is against me: and he that gathereth not with me, scattereth.

24 When the vncleane spirit is gone out * of a man, he walketh through drie places, seeking rest: and finding none, hee sayth, I will returne vnto my house, whence I came out. Mat.12.43.

27 And it came to passe as hee spake these things, a certaine woman of the ~~company~~ lift vp her voyce, and saide vnto him, ~~Happy~~ is the wombe that bare thee, and the pappes which thou hast sucked.

28 But he sayd, Yea, rather happy are they that heare the word of God, and keepe it.

Mat.12.36. 29 ~~And~~ When the people were gathered thick together, he began to say, This is an euill ~~nation~~: they seeke a signe, and there shall no signe bee giuen ~~them~~, but the signe of Ionas the Prophet.

Mat.5.15. mar.4.21. luke 8,16. 33 *No man when he hath lighted a candle, putteth it in a ~~priuie~~ place, neither vnder a bushell: but on a candlesticke, that they which come in, may see the light.

Mat.6.22. a Eye, the light. 34 *The a ~~candle~~ of the body is the eye: therefore when thine eye is single, ~~all~~ thy body also is full of light. but ~~if~~ thine eye be euill, all thy body also is full of darkenesse.

35 Take heede therefore, that the light which is in thee, be not darkenesse.

36 If all thy bodie therefore bee cleere, hauing no part darke: ~~then~~ shall ~~it all~~ be full of light, euen as when a candle doth light thee with brightnesse.

37 And as hee spake, a certaine Pharisee besought him to dine with him: And Iesus went in, and sate downe to meate.

38 When the Pharisee saw it, hee marueiled that he had not first washed before dinner.

Mat.23.29. 39 *And the Lord said vnto him, Now do ye Pharisees make cleene the outside of the cuppe and the platter: but your inward part is full of rauening and wickednesse.

40 Yee fooles, did not hee that made that which is without, make that which is within also?

b Christ reproueth here two things. First, that we come rashly by our riches: next, that we giue almes: for the first is the perfection of the law. ‖Or, present 41 But rather b giue almes of ~~those~~ things ~~which are ‖ within~~: and behold, all things are cleane vnto you.

42 But woe vnto you Pharisees: for ye tithe mint, and rue, and all maner herbs, and passe ouer iudgement, and the loue of God: These ought ye to haue done, and ~~yet~~ not to leaue the other vndone.

Mat.23.6. mar.12.38. 43 *Woe vnto you Pharisees: for ye loue the vppermost seates in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets.

44 Woe vnto you Scribes and Pharisees hypocrites: for yee are as graues which appeare not, and the men that walke ouer them, are not ware of them.

45 Then answered one of the lawyers, and said vnto him, Master, thus saying, thou puttest vs to rebuke also.

Mat.23.4. acts 15.10. 46 *And hee sayd, Wo vnto you also ye lawyers: for yee lade men with burdens grieuous to bee borne, and yee your selues touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.

47 Woe vnto you, for ye build the sepulchres of the Prophets, and your fathers killed them.

48 Truely ye beare witnesse that ye alow the deedes of your fathers: for they killed them, and ye build their sepulchres.

49 Therefore sayde the wisedome of God, I will send them Prophets and Apostles, and some of them they shall slay and persecute:

50 That the blood of all the Prophets, which was shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation,

51 *From the blood of Abel vnto the blood of Zachary, which perished betweene the altar and the temple: Verily I say vnto you, it shall be required of this nation.

The xij. Chapter.

1 The leauen of the Pharises is to be auoyded. 20 Against care of earthly things.

Mat.16.5. mar.8.14. IN *the meane time, when there were gathered together an innumerable multitude of people, ~~insomuch~~ that they trode one another, hee began to say vnto his disciples first ~~of all~~, Beware of the leauen of the Pharises, which is hypocrisie.

Mat.10.26. mar.4.22. 2 For there is nothing couered, that shall not be ~~discouered~~, neither hid, that shall not bee knowen.

3 Therefore, whatsoeuer ye haue spoken in darkenesse, shall be heard in the light: and that which ye haue spoken in the eare, euen in secret ~~places~~, shall be ~~preached~~ a ~~on the top of~~ the houses.

Mat.10.28. 4 *And I say vnto you my friends, Be not afraide of them that kill the body, and after that, haue no more that they can do.

5 But I will forewarne you whom you shal feare: feare him, which after he hath killed, hath power to cast into hel, yea, I say vnto you, Feare him.

Mat.10.29. 6 *Are not fiue sparrowes solde for two farthings, and not one of them is forgotten before God?

12 For the holy Ghost shall teach you in the same houre, what ye ought to say.
13 One of the company said vnto him, Master, speake to my brother, that he diuide the inheritance with me.
14 And he said vnto him, Man, who made me a iudge, or a deuider ouer you?
15 And he said vnto them, Take heed, and beware of couetousnesse: for no mans life standeth in the abundance of the things which hee possesseth.
16 And he put forth a similitude vnto them, saying, * The ground of a certaine rich man brought forth plentifull fruits.
17 And he thought within himselfe, saying, What shal I do, because I haue no roume where to bestow my fruits?
18 And he said, This will I doe, I will pull downe my barnes, and build greater, and there-in will I gather all my fruits and my goods.
19 And I will say to my soule, Soule, thou hast much goods laid vp in store for many yeeres, take thine ease, eate, drinke, and be merie.
20 But God said vnto him, Thou foole, this night do they require thy soule again from thee: then whose shal those things be which thou hast prouided?
21 So is he that gathereth riches to himself, and is not rich towards God.
22 And he spake vnto his disciples, Therefore I say vnto you, * Take no thought for your life what ye shall eate, neither for the body what yee shall put on.
23 The life is more then meate, and the body is more then raiment.
24 Consider the rauens, for they neither sowe nor reape, which neither haue storehouse nor barne, & notwithstanding God feedeth them: How much more are ye better then the fowles?
25 Which of you with taking thought can adde to his stature one cubite?
26 If yee then bee not able to doe that thing which is least, why take ye thought for the remnant?
27 Consider the Lilies how they growe, they labour not, they spinne not: and yet I say vnto you, that Solomon in all his royalty, was not clothed like one of these.
28 If God so clothe the grasse, which is to day in the field, and to morow is cast into the fornace: how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith?
29 And aske not ye what ye shall eate, or what ye shal drinke, neither be ye of doubtfull mind.
30 For all such things doe the people of the world seeke for: and your father knoweth that ye haue neede of these things.
31 But rather seeke ye after the kingdome of God, and all these things shalbe added vnto you.
32 Feare not O little flocke, for it is your fathers good pleasure to giue you a kingdome.
33 Sell that ye haue, and giue almes: * and prepare you bagges which waxe not olde, euen a treasure that faileth not in the heauens, where no theefe approcheth, neither moth corrupteth.
34 For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.
35 * Let your loynes be girded about, and your lights burning,
36 And ye your selues like vnto men that waite for their Lord, when he will returne from the wedding, that when he shal come and knock, they may open vnto him immediatly.
37 Happy are those seruants, whom the Lord when he commeth, shall finde waking: verily I say vnto you, That hee shall girde himselfe, and make them to sit downe to meate, and will come forth, and minister vnto them.
38 And if he shall come in the second watch, yea, if he shall come in the third watch, and finde them so, happie are those seruants.
39 * This vnderstand ye, that if the good man of the house had known what houre the theefe would come, he would surely haue watched, and not haue suffred his house to be broken thorow.
40 Be ye therefore ready also: for the sonne of man commeth at an houre when ye thinke not.
41 Then Peter said vnto him, Master, tellest thou this similitude vnto vs, or to all?
42 And the Lord said, Who is a faithfull and wise steward, whom his Lorde shall make ruler ouer his houshold, to giue them their portion of meate in due season?
43 Happie is that seruaunt, whom his Lorde when he commeth, shall finde so doing.
44 Of a trueth, I say vnto you, that hee will make him ruler ouer all his substance.
45 But and if that seruaunt say in his heart, My Lorde delayeth his comming: and shall beginne to smite the seruants and maidens, and to eate and drinke, and to be drunken,
46 The lord of that seruant will come in a day when hee looketh not for him, and at an houre when hee is not ware, and will hewe him in pieces, and will set him his portion with the vnbeleeuers.
47 And the seruant that knewe his masters will, & prepared not himselfe, neither did according to his wil, shalbe beaten with many stripes.
48 But he that knew not, c and did commit things worthie of stripes, shall be beaten with fewe stripes. For vnto whomsoeuer much is giuen, of him shalbe much required: and to whom men haue committed much, of him they will aske the more.
49 I am come to send fire d on the earth, and what is my desire, e if it be alreadie kindled?
50 Notwithstanding, I must bee baptized with a baptisme, f and how am I payned till it be ended?
51 * Suppose ye that I am come to send peace on earth? I tell you, Nay, but rather g diuision.
52 For from henceforth there shall bee fiue in one house deuided, three against two, and two against three.
53 The father shall bee diuided against the sonne, and the sonne against the father: the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother: the mother in law against her daughter in law, & the daughter in law against her mother in law.
54 He said also to the people, * When yee see a cloude rise out of the west, straightway yee say, There commeth a shower: and so it is.
55 And when ye see the South winde blow, ye say, It will be hot, and it commeth to passe.
56 Ye hypocrites, yee can discerne the face of the skie, and of the earth: but how is it that ye doe not discerne this time?
57 Yea, and why iudge yee not of your selues what is right?

The xiij. Chapter.

6 Of the figge tree that bare no fruit. 24 Few enter into the kingdome of Christ.

THere were present at that same season, certaine men that shewed him of the Galileans, whose blood [a] Pilat had mingled with their owne sacrifice.

2 And Jesus answering, saide vnto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were greater sinners then all the other Galileans, because they suffered such punishment?

3 I tell you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

4 Or those eighteene, vpon which the tower in [b] Siloe fell, and slew them, thinke ye that they were sinners aboue all men that dwelt in Hierusalem?

5 I tell you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 He told also this similitude. A certaine man had a figge tree planted in his vineyard, and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none.

7 Then said he vnto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, this three yeeres I come seeking fruit in this figge tree, & find none: cut it downe, why cumbreth it the ground?

8 And he answering, said vnto him, Lord, let it alone this yeere also, til I shal digge round about it, and dung it:

9 And if it beare fruit, thou maiest let it alone: and if it beare not, then after that thou shalt cut it downe.

10 And he was teaching in one of their Synagogues on the Sabboth dayes.

11 And behold, there was a woman which had a spirit of infirmitie eighteene yeeres, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift vp her selfe.

12 When Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said vnto her, Woman, thou art loosed from thy disease.

13 And he laid his hands on her, and immediatly she was made straight, and glorified God.

14 And the ruler of the Synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jesus had healed on the Sabboth day, and said vnto the people, There are sixe daies in which men ought to worke: in them therefore come that ye may be healed, and not on the Sabboth day.

15 The Lord then answered him, and sayde, Thou hypocrite, doth not each one of you on the Sabboth loose his ore or his asse from the stall, and leade him to the water?

16 And ought not this daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound loe eighteene yeeres, be loosed from this bond on the Sabboth day?

17 And when he said these things, all his aduersaries were ashamed: and all the people reioyced for all the excellent deedes that were done by him.

18 *Then said Iesus, Vnto what is the kingdome of God like? & whereto shall I compare it? Mat. 13.31. mar. 4.11.

19 *It is like a graine of mustard seed which a man tooke, and sowed in his garden, and it grew, and waxed a great tree: and the fowles of the aire made nests in the branches of it. Mat. 13.33.

20 *And againe he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdome of God? Mat. 9.35.

21 It is like leauen, which a woman tooke and hid in three pecks of meale, till all was leauened.

22 *And he went thorowe all townes and villages, teaching, and iourneying towardes Hierusalem. Mar. 6.6.

23 Then said one vnto him, Lord, are there few that be saued? and he said vnto them,

24 *Striue [c] to enter in at the straite gate: for many I say vnto you, will seeke to enter in, and shall not be able. Mat. 7.13.

25 When the good man of the house is risen vp, and hath shut to the doore, and ye beginne to stand without, and to knock at the doore, saying, Lord, Lord, open vnto vs, and he shall answere, and say vnto you, I know you not whence you are:

26 Then shall ye begin to say, We haue eaten and drunken in thy presence, & thou hast taught in our streetes.

27 *And he shall say, I tell you, I know you not whence ye are, depart from me all ye that worke iniquitie. Mat. 7.13.

28 There shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth, when ye shall see Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, and all the Prophets in the kingdom of God, and ye your selues thrust out.

29 And they [d] shall come from the East, and from the west, and from the North, and from the South, and shall sit downe in the kingdome of God.

30 *And behold, there are last, which shall be [e] first, and there are first, which shall be [e] last.

31 The same day came there certaine of the Pharisees, saying vnto him, Get thee out, and depart hence, for Herode will kill thee.

32 And he sayd vnto them, Goe ye and tell that fore, Behold, I cast out deuils, and I doe cures to day and to morow, and the third day I shalbe perfected.

33 Neuertheless, I must walke to day and to morow, and the day following, for it cannot be that a Prophet perish out of Hierusalem.

34 *O Hierusalem, Hierusalem, which killest the Prophets, and stonest them that are sent vnto thee, how often would I haue gathered thy children together, as a henne doeth gather her yong vnder her wings, and ye would not? Mat. 23.37.

3 And Jesus answering, spake vnto the lawyers and Pharisees, saying, Is it lawfull to heale on the Sabboth day?

4 And they held their peace. And he tooke him, and healed him, and let him goe,

6 And answered them, saying, Which of you shall haue an asse or an oxe fallen into a pit, and will not straightway pull him out on the Sabboth day?

6 And they could not answere him againe to these things.

7 *He put forth also a similitude to the ghests, when he marked how they chose out the chiefe roomes, saying vnto them,

8 When thou art bidden of any man to a wedding, sit not downe in the highest roome: least a more honourable man then thou be bidden of him,

18 And they all at once began to make excuse: The first said vnto him, I haue bought a piece of ground, and I must needes goe and see it: I pray thee haue me excused.

19 And another said, I haue bought fiue yoke of oxen, and I goe to proue them: I pray thee haue me excused.

20 And another said, I haue married a wife: and therefore I cannot come.

21 And the seruant returned, and shewed his master these things. Then the goodman of the house being angry, said to his seruant, Goe out quickly into the broad streetes and lanes of the citie, and bring in hither the poore, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blind.

22 And the seruant said, Lord, it is done as thou hast commanded, and yet there is roome.

The xv. Chapter.

The great mercy of God is set foorth in the parable of the lost sheepe.

THen resorted vnto him all the Publicanes and sinners, for to heare him.

The Gospel on the iij. Sunday after Trinitie. 2 And the Pharisees & Scribes murmured, saying: He receiueth sinners, and eateth with them.

3 But he put foorth this parable vnto them, saying,

Mat.18.12. 4 *What man of you, hauing an hundred sheep, if he lose one of them, doth not leaue ninetie and nine in the wildernesse, and go after that which is lost, vntill he find it?

5 And when he hath found it, he layeth it on his shoulders, reioycing.

6 And when he commeth home, hee calleth together his friendes and neighbours, saying vnto them, Reioyce with me: for I haue found my sheepe which was lost.

7 I say vnto you, that likewise ioy shalbe in heauen ouer one sinner that repenteth, more then ouer ninetie and nine iust persons, which neede no repentance.

11 And he sayde, A certaine man had two sonnes:
12 And the younger of them saide to his father, Father, giue mee the portion of the substance that to me belongeth. And he deuided vnto them his liuing.
13 And not many dayes after, when the younger sonne had gathered all that he had together, he tooke his iourney into a farre countrey, and there wasted his substance with riotous liuing.
14 And when he had spent all, there arose a great dearth in that land, and hee beganne to lacke.
15 And going, he ioyned himselfe to a citizen of that countrey: and he sent him into his fields to feede swine.
16 And he would faine haue filled his belly with the cods that the swine did eate: and no man gaue vnto him.
17 And when he came to himselfe, he saide, Howe many hired seruants of my fathers haue bread ynough and spare, and I perish with hunger?
18 I will arise and goe to my father, and will say vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and before thee,
19 And am no more worthy to be called thy sonne: make me as one of thy hired seruants.
20 And he arose and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father saw him, and had compassion, and ran, and fell on his necke, and kissed him.
21 And the sonne said vnto him, Father, I haue sinned against heauen, and in thy sight, and am no more worthy to be called thy sonne.
22 But the father sayde to his seruaunts, Bring foorth the best garment, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and shoes on his feete,
23 And bring hither that fat calfe, and kill it, and let vs eate, and be merie.
24 For this my sonne was dead, and is aliue againe: he was lost, and is found. And they began to be merie.
25 The elder brother was in the field: and when he came and drew nigh to the house, hee heard minstrelsie and dauncing,
26 And called one of his seruants, and asked what these things meant.
27 And he said vnto him, Thy brother is come, and thy father hath killed the fat calfe, because he hath receiued him safe and sound.
28 And he was angrie, and would not goe in: therefore came his father out, and intreated him.
29 He answering, said to his father, Lo, these many yeeres do I serue thee, neither brake I at any time thy commandement, and yet thou neuer gauest me a kidde, that I might make merie with my friends:
30 But as soone as this thy sonne was come, which hath deuoured thy liuing with harlots, thou hast for his pleasure killed that fat Calfe.
31 And he saide vnto him, Sonne, thou art euer with me, and all that I haue is thine.
32 It was meete that wee should make merrie, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is aliue againe: and was lost, and is found.

The xvj. Chapter.

13 No man can serue two masters. 19 The rich glutton, and Lazarus.

AND he saide vnto his Disciples, There was a certaine rich man which had a Steward, and the same was accused vnto him that he had wasted his goods.
2 And when he had called him, he said vnto him, How is it that I heare this of thee? Giue accompts of thy stewardship: for thou mayest be no longer steward.
3 The Steward said within himselfe, What shall I doe, for my master taketh away from me the stewardship? I cannot digge, and to begge I am ashamed.
4 I wote what to doe, that when I am put out of the stewardship, they may receiue me into their houses.
5 So when hee had called all his masters detters together, he said vnto the first, Howe much owest thou vnto my master?
6 And he said, An hundred measures of oile. And he said vnto him, Take thy bill, and sit downe quickly, and write fifty.
7 Then said he to another, How much owest thou? And he saide, An hundred measures of wheate. He said vnto him, Take thy bill, and write fourescore.
8 And the Lord commended [a] the vniust steward, because he had done wisely: for the children of this world are in their nation wiser then the children of light.
9 And I say vnto you, Make you [b] friends of the [c] vnrighteous Mammon, that when yee shall haue neede, they may receiue you into the euerlasting [d] habitations.
10 He that is faithfull in that which is least, is faithfull also in much: and he that is vnrighteous in the least, is vnrighteous also in much.
11 If then, if ye haue not bene faithfull in the vnrighteous Mammon, who shall trust you in the true treasure?
12 And if ye haue not bene faithfull in that which is another mans, who shall giue you that which is your owne?
13 No seruant can serue two masters, for either he shall hate the one, and loue the other: or els he shall leane to the one, and despise the other: ye cannot serue God and Mammon.
14 All these things heard the Pharisees also which were couetous: and they mocked him greatly.
15 And he said vnto them, Ye are they which iustifie your selues before men, but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly esteemed among men, is abomination in the sight of God.
16 The law and the Prophets reigned vntil Iohn, and since that time the glad tidings of the kingdome of God is preached, and euery man striueth to goe in.
17 Easier it is for heauen and earth to passe away, then one title of the law to faile.
18 Whosoeuer forsaketh his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and he that marrieth her that is diuorced from her husband, committeth adultery also.

22 And it came to passe that the begger died, and was caried by the Angels into [c] Abrahams bosome: the rich man also died, and was buried.
23 And being in hell in torments, when he had lifted vp his eyes, he seeth Abraham afarre off, and Lazarus in his bosome:
24 And he cryed, and saide, Father Abraham, haue mercie on mee, and send Lazarus, that he may dip the tip of his finger in water, and coole my tongue, for I am tormented in this flame.
25 But Abraham saide, Sonne, remember that thou in thy life time receiuedst thy pleasure, and likewise Lazarus paines, but now hee is comforted, and thou art tormented.
26 Besides all this, betweene vs and you there is a great gulfe stedfastly set, so that they which would goe from hence to you, can not, neither haue they passage to vs that would come from thence.

8 And will not rather say vnto him, Dresse where with I may sup, and gird thy selfe, and serue me, till I haue eaten and drunken: and afterward thou shalt eate and drinke?
9 Doeth he thanke that seruant because he did the things that were commanded vnto him? I trow not.
10 So likewise ye, when yee shall haue done all those things which are commanded you, say, We are vnprofitable seruants: wee haue done that which was our duetie to doe.

9 Iesus said vnto him, This day is saluation come to [a] this house: because that he is also the childe of [b] Abraham.

10 *For the sonne of man is come to seeke and to saue that which was lost.

11 And as they heard these things, he added, and spake a parable, because he was nigh to Hierusalem, & because they thought that the kingdome of God should shortly appeare.

12 *He said therefore, A certaine noble man went into a farre countrey, to receiue for himselfe a kingdome, and to come again.

13 And when he had called his ten seruants, he deliuered them ten ‖ pieces of money, saying vnto them, [c] Occupie till I [d] come.

14 But his citizens hated him, and sent a message after him, saying, We will not haue this man to reigne ouer vs.

15 And it came to passe, that when he had returned, receiuing his kingdome, then he commanded these seruants to be called vnto him, to whom he had giuen the money, that he might know how much euery man had gained in occupying.

16 Then came the first, saying, Lord, thy ‖ piece hath gained ten pieces.

17 And he said vnto him, Well, thou good seruant: because thou hast bene faithfull in a very little thing, haue thou authoritie ouer ten cities.

18 And the second came, saying, Lorde, thy piece hath increased fiue pieces.

19 And to the same he said, Be thou also ruler ouer fiue cities.

20 And another came, saying, Lord, behold, here is thy piece, which I haue laid vp in a napkin:

21 For I feared thee, because thou art a straite man: thou takest vp that thou laidst not downe, and reapest that thou diddest not sow.

22 Then he saieth vnto him, Of thine owne mouth will I iudge thee, thou euill seruant: knewest thou that I am a straite man, taking vp that I layd not downe, and reaping that I did not sow?

23 And wherefore gauest not thou my money into the banke, and at my comming I might haue required mine owne with vantage?

24 And he said vnto them that stood by, Take from him that piece, and giue it to him that hath ten pieces.

25 And they said vnto him, Lord, he hath ten pieces.

26 For I say vnto you, *That vnto euery one which hath, shalbe giuen: & from him that hath not, shalbe taken away euen that he hath.

27 Moreouer, those mine enemies which would not that I should reigne ouer them, bring hither, and slay them before me.

28 And when he had thus spoken, he went forward, ascending vp to Hierusalem.

29 *And it came to passe, when he was come nigh to Bethphage and Bethanie, besides the mount which is called Oliuet, hee sent two of his disciples,

30 Saying, Goe ye into the towne which is ouer against you, in the which at your entring ye shall find a Colt tied, whereon yet neuer man sate: loose him, and bring him hither.

31 And if any man aske you, Why do ye loose him? Thus shall ye say vnto him, Because the Lord hath neede of him.

32 They that were sent, went their way, and found euen as he had said vnto them.

33 And as they were a looling the Colt, the owners thereof said vnto them, Why loose yee the Colt?

34 And they sayd, For the Lord hath neede of him.

35 * And they brought him to Iesus: and their garments being cast on the Colt, they set Iesus thereon.

36 And as he went, they spread their clothes in the way.

37 And when he was nowe come nigh to the going downe of the mount Oliuet, the whole multitude of the disciples beganne reioycing to praise God with a loud voice, for all the miracles that they had seene, 38 Saying, Blessed be the king that commeth in the name of the Lord, peace in [e] heauen, and glory in the highest.

39 And some of the Pharisees of the company said vnto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

40 He answering, said vnto them, I tell you, that if these would holde their peace, then shall the stones cry immediatly.

41 And when he was come neere, he beheld the citie, and wept on it,

42 * Saying, If thou hadst knowen those things which belong vnto thy peace, euen in this thy day: but nowe are they hid from thine eyes.

43 For the dayes shall come vpon thee, that thine enemies also shall cast a banke about thee, and compasse thee round, and keepe thee in on euery side,

44 And make thee euen with the ground, and thy children which are in thee: and they shall not leaue in thee one stone vpon another, because thou knowest not the time of thy visitation.

45 *And he went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought,

46 *Saying vnto them, It is written, My house is the house of prayer: but ye haue made it a den of theeues.

47 And he taught dayly in the Temple. But the high Priests and the Scribes, and the chiefe of the people went about to destroy him, 48 And could not find what to doe: for all the people did hang of him, when they heard him.

The xx. Chapter.

17 Christ the stone reproued. 41 Christ the sonne of Dauid.

AND * it came to passe, that on one of those dayes, as hee taught the people in the Temple, and preached the Gospel, the high Priests and the Scribes came vpon him, with the Elders,

2 And spake vnto him, saying, Tell vs, by what authoritie doest thou these things? Either who is he that gaue thee this authoritie?

3 He answering, said vnto them, I will also aske you one word, and answere me.

4 The baptisme of a John, was it from heauen, or of men?

5 And they reasoned with themselues, saying, If we shall say, From heauen, he will say, Why then beleeued ye him not?

6 But and if we say, Of men, all the people will stone vs: for they be perswaded that John is a Prophet.

7 And they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.

8 And Jesus said vnto them, Neither tell I you by what authoritie I doe these things.

9 Then beganne he to put foorth to the people this parable: *A certaine man planted a vineyard, and let it foorth to husbandmen, and went himself into a strange countrey for a great season.

10 And when the time was come, he sent a seruant to the husbandmen, that they should giue him of the fruit of the vineyard, but they, when they had beaten him, sent him away emptie.

11 And againe, hee sent yet another seruant: but they, when they had beaten him also, and entreated him shamefully, sent him away emptie.

12 And againe, he sent the third, and when they had wounded him also, they cast him out.

13 Then said the lord of the vineyard, What shall I doe? I will send my deare sonne: it may be they will reuerence him when they see him.

14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned within themselues, saying, This is the heire, come, let vs kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 And when they had cast him out of the vineyard, they killed him. What then shall the lord of the vineyard doe vnto them?

16 He shall come and destroy those husbandmen, and shall let out his vineyard to other. When they heard this, they said, God forbid.

17 And he beheld them, and saide, *What is this then that is written, The stone that the builders disallowed, the same is become the head of the corner?

18 Whosoeuer shall stumble vpon that stone, shalbe broken: but on whomsoeuer it shall fall, it will grinde him to powder.

19 And the high Priests and the Scribes the same houre went about to lay hands on him, & they feared the people: for they perceiued that he had spoken this similitude against them.

20 And they watched him, and sent foorth spies, which should faine themselues righteous men, that they might take hold of his wordes, to deliuer him vnto the power and authoritie of the deputie.

21 And they asked him, saying, *Master, we know that thou saiest and teachest right, neither considerest thou the outward appearance of any man, but teachest the way of God truely:

22 Is it lawfull for vs to giue tribute vnto Cesar, or no?

23 But when he had perceiued their craftinesse, he said vnto them, Why tempt ye me?

24 Shew me a penie: whose image & superscription hath it? They answering, said, Cesars.

25 And he said vnto them, *Giue then vnto Cesar the things which belong vnto Cesar: and to God, the things that pertaine vnto God.

26 And they could not reproue his sayings before the people: and they marueiled at his answere, and held their peace.

27 *Then came to him certaine of the Sadduces (which denie that there is any resurrection) and they asked him,

28 Saying, Master, Moses wrote vnto vs, *If any mans brother die, hauing a wife, and he die without children, that then his brother should take his wife, and raise vp seede vnto his brother.

29 There were therefore seuen brethren, and the first, when he had taken a wife, died without children.

30 And the second tooke her to wife, and he died childlesse.

31 And the third tooke her, and in like wise the residue of the seuen, and left no children behinde them, and died.

32 Last of all, the woman died also.

33 Now in the resurrection, whose wife of them is she? for seuen had her to wife.

34 Jesus answering, said vnto them, The children of this c world marrie wiues, and are married:

35 But they which shalbe counted worthy to enioy that world, and the resurrection from the dead, doe not marrie wiues, neither are maried:

36 For neither can they die any more, for they are equall vnto the Angels, and are the sonnes of God, in as much as they are the children of the resurrection.

37 And that the dead be raised, *Moses also shewed besides the bramble bush, when he calleth the Lord, the God of Abraham, and the God of Isahac, and the God of Jacob.

38 For he is not a God of dead, but of liuing: for all liue vnto him.

39 Then certaine of the Pharisees answering, said, Master, thou hast well said.

40 And after that, durst they not aske him any question at all.

41 And a That is, the whole ministerie of John.

b By the corner stone, her meaneth Christ himselfe, who was refused of the Iewes.

7 And they asked him, saying, Master, when shall these things be? and what signe will there be, when these things shall come to passe?

8 And he said, Take heede that ye be not deceiued: for many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ, and the time draweth neere: goe ye not therefore after them.

The xxij. Chapter.

4 Iudas selleth Christ. 7 They eate the Passeouer.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Cccc2v

The Gospel on wednesday next before Easter.

THe feast of sweete bread drew nigh, which is called the Passeouer.
2 And the high Priestes and Scribes sought howe they might kill him, for they feared the people.
3 *Then entred Satan into Judas, whose syrname was Iscariot, being of the number of the twelue.
4 *And hee went his way, and communed with the high priests & captaines, howe he might betray him vnto them.
5 And they were glad, and promised to giue him money.
6 And hee consented, and sought opportunitie to betray him vnto them without tumult.
7 *Then came the day of sweet bread, when of necessitie the Passeouer must be killed.
8 And hee sent Peter and John, saying, Goe and prepare vs the Passeouer, that we may eate.
9 They said vnto him, Where wilt thou that we should prepare it?
10 And he said vnto them, Behold, when ye are entred into the citie, there shall a man meete you, bearing a pitcher of water: him follow into the same house that he entreth in.
11 And ye shall say vnto the good man of the house, The maister saith vnto thee, Where is the ghest chamber, where I shall eate the Passeouer with my disciples?
12 And he shal shew you a great vpper chamber prepared, there make readie.
13 And they went, and found as hee had said vnto them, and they made readie the Passeouer.
14 *And when the houre was come, he sate downe, and the twelue Apostles with him.
15 And he said vnto them, With hearty desire, I haue desired to eate this Passeouer with you before that I suffer.
16 For I say vnto you, Henceforth I will not in any wise eate of it any more, vntill it be fulfilled in the kingdome of God.
17 And when he had taken the cup, and giuen thankes, he said, Take this, and diuide it among you.
18 For I say vnto you, I will not in any wise drinke of the fruit of the vine, vntil the kingdom of God shall come.
19 *And when he had taken bread, and giuen thanks, he brake it, and gaue vnto them, saying, This is my body which is giuen for you, this do in the remembrance of me.
20 Likewise also when he had supped, hee tooke the cup, saying, This cup is the new Testament in my blood, which is shed for you.
21 *Yet behold, the hand of him that betrayeth me, is with me on the table.
22 And truely the sonne of man goeth as it is appointed, but woe vnto that man by whom he is betrayed.
23 And they began to enquire among themselues, which of them it was that should doe this thing.
24 *And there was a strife among them, which of them should seeme to be the greatest.
25 *And hee sayd vnto them, The kings of nations be lords ouer them, and they that haue authoritie vpon them, are called benefactours.
26 But ye shall not be so: but he that is greatest among you, shall be as the younger, and he that is chiefe, shalbe as he that doth minister.
27 For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meate, or he that serueth? Is not he that sitteth at meate? But I am among you as he that ministreth.
28 Ye are they which haue continually bidden with me in my temptations.
29 And I appoint vnto you a kingdome, as my father hath appointed vnto me,
30 That ye may eate and drinke at my table in my kingdome, * and sit on seates, iudging the twelue tribes of Israel.
31 *And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath earnestly desired to sift you, as it were wheate:
32 But I haue prayed for thee, that thy faith should not faile, and when thou art conuerted, strengthen thy brethren.
33 And hee sayde vnto him, Lorde, I am readie to goe with thee both into prison, and to death.
34 *And he said, I tell thee Peter, the Cocke shall in no wise crow this day, before that thou shalt thrise denie that thou knowest me.
35 *And he said vnto them, When I sent you without wallet, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing? And they said, No.
36 Then said he vnto them, But now he that hath a wallet, let him take it by, and likewise his scrip: and he that hath none, let him sell his coate, and buy a sword.
37 For I say vnto you, that yet the same which is written must be performed in mee, which is, *Euen among the wicked was he reputed: for those things which are written of me, haue an end.
38 And they said, Lord, beholde, here are two swords. And he said vnto them, It is ynough.
39 *And hee came out, and went as hee was wont to mount Oliuet, and his disciples followed him.
40 *And when hee came to the place, he sayd vnto them, Pray, least ye fall into temptation.
41 And he was pulled away from them about a stones cast, and kneeled downe, and prayed,
42 Saying, Father, if thou will, remoue this cup from mee, neuertheles, not my will, but thine be done.
43 And there appeared an Angel vnto him from heauen, comforting him.
44 And he was in an agonie, and he prayed more earnestly, and his sweate was like droppes of blood trickling downe to the ground.
45 And when he rose vp from prayer, and was come to his disciples, he found them sleeping for heauinesse, 46 And said vnto them, Why sleepe ye? Rise, and pray, least ye fall into temptation.
47 While hee yet spake, behold, *there came a company, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelue, went before them, and prealled nigh vnto Jesus, to kisse him.
48 But Jesus said vnto him, Judas, betrayest thou the sonne of man with a kisse?
49 When they which were about him, saw what would follow, they said vnto him, Lorde, shall we smite with the sword?
50 And one of them smote the seruant of the high Priest, and tooke away his right eare.

The xxiij. Chapter.

Iesus is accused before Pilate, and sent to Herod.

The Gospel on the Thursday next before Easter, Mat.22.21. mar.12.17. Mat.27.11. mar.15.2. iohn 18.33.

AND the whole multitude of them arose, and led him vnto Pilate.

2 And they began to accuse him, saying, Wee found this fellow perverting the people, *and forbidding to giue tribute to Cesar, saying that hee is Christ a king.

3 *And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the King of the Iewes? Hee answered him, and sayd, Thou sayest it.

4 Then sayd Pilate to the high Priests, and to the people, I finde no fault in this man.

5 And they were the more fierce, saying, He moueth the people, teaching thorowout all Iurie, and began at Galilee, euen to this place.

6 When Pilate heard mention of Galilee, he asked whether the man were of Galilee.

7 And assoone as he knew that he belonged vnto Herods iurisdiction, he sent him to Herode, which was also at Hierusalem at that time.

8 And when Herod saw Jesus, hee was exceeding glad, for he was desirous to see him of a long season, because hee had heard many things of him, and hee trusted to haue seene some miracle done by him.

9 Then he questioned with him many words, but he answered him nothing.

10 The high priests and Scribes stood forth, and accused him straitly.

11 And Herod with his men of warre despised him, and when he had mocked him, he arayed him in white clothing, and sent him againe to Pilate.

12 *And the same day Pilate and Herod were made friends together, for before they were at variance betweene themselues.

Mat.27.23. mar.15.14. iohn 18,38.

13 And Pilate, when hee had called together the high Priestes, and the rulers, and the people,

14 Sayd vnto them, Yee haue brought this man vnto me, as one that perverteth the people, and behold, I hauing examined him before you, haue found no fault in this man, of those things whereof ye accuse him,

15 No, nor yet Herod: for I sent you to him, and loe, nothing worthie of death is done to him.

16 I will therefore chasten him, and let him loose.

17 For of necessitie he must haue let one loose vnto them at the feast.

18 And all the people cried aloude, saying, Away with him, and deliuer to vs Barabbas, 19 Which for a certaine insurrection made in the citie, and for murder was cast in prison.

20 Pilate therfore spake againe to them, willing to let Jesus loose, 21 But they cryed, saying, Crucifie him, crucifie him.

22 He sayd vnto them the third time, What euil hath he done? I haue found no cause of death in him, I will therefore chasten him, and let him goe.

23 And they were instant with loud voices, requiring that hee might bee crucified, and the voices of them, and of the high Priestes, preuailed.

24 And Pilate gaue sentence that it should be as they required.

25 And hee let loose vnto them, him that for insurrection and murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired, and he deliuered Jesus to their will.

26 *And as they led him away, they caught one Simon of Cyrene, comming out of the field, and on him they layd the crosse, that hee might beare it after Jesus.

28 But Jesus turning backe vnto them, sayd, Ye daughters of Hierusalem, weepe not for me, but weepe for your selues, and for your children.

29 For behold, the dayes are comming, in the which they shall say, Happie are the barren, and the wombes that neuer bare, & the paps which neuer gaue sucke.

30 Then shall they beginne to say to the mountaines, *Fall on vs, and to the hilles, Couer vs. Esa.2.19. osee.10.8. apo.16.16.

34 Then sayd Jesus, Father, forgiue them, for they wote not what they doe: And they parted his raiment, and cast lots.

35 And the people stoode beholding, and the rulers mocked him with them, saying, He saued other men, let him saue himselfe, if hee be perie Chyist, the chosen of God.

36 The souldiers also mocked him, comming to him, and offering him vineger, 37 And saying, If thou bee the king of the Jewes, saue thy selfe.

38 And a superscription was written ouer him with letters of Greeke, and Latin, and Hebrewe, THIS IS THE KING OF THE IEWES.

39 And one of the euill doers, which were hanged, railed on him, saying, If thou be Chyist, saue thy selfe and vs.

40 But the other answering, rebuked him, saying, Fearest thou not God, seeing thou art in the same damnation?

41 And we truely are righteously punished, for we receiue according to our deeds, but this man hath done nothing amisse.

42 And he sayd vnto Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou commest into thy kingdome.

43 And Jesus said vnto him, Verely I say vnto thee, to day shalt thou be with me in paradise.

44 And it was about the first houre, and there was a darkenesse ouer all the earth, vntill the ninth houre.

45 And the Sunne was darkened, and the vaile of the temple was rent, euen thorow the middes.

46 And when Jesus had cried with a loude voice, hee sayd, *Father, into thy hands I will commend my spirit: And when he thus had said, he gaue vp the ghost. Psal.30.6.

47 When the Centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Verely this was a righteous man.

48 And all the people that came together to that sight, when they saw the things which were done, smote their breasts, and returned.

49 And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed him from Galilee, stood afarre off, beholding these things.

50 *And behold, there was a man named Joseph, a counseller, and hee was a good man, and a iust, Mat.27.25. mar.15.43. iohn 19.38.

51 (The same had not consented to the counsell and deed of them) which was of Arimathea, a citie of the Jewes, which same also waited for the kingdome of God.

52 He went vnto Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus.

53 And when he had taken it downe, he wrapped it in a linnen cloth, and layd it in a sepulchre that was hewen in stone, wherein neuer man before was layd.

54 And that day was the preparing of the Sabboth, and the Sabboth drew on.

55 The women that followed after, which had come with him from Galilee, beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was layd.

56 And they returned, and prepared sweete odours and ointments, but rested the Sabboth day, according to the commandement.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

2 And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.

3 And they went in, but found not the bodie of the Lord Jesu.

4 And it came to passe, as they were amazed thereat, beholde, two men stood by them in shining garments.

5 And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they sayde vnto them, Why seeke ye the liuing among the dead?

6 He is not here, but is risen: *Remember how he spake vnto you when he was yet in Galilee, Mat.17.23. mar.9.31. luke.9.22.

8 And they remembred his words,

9 And returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things vnto those eleuen, and to all the remnant.

10 It was Marie Magdalene, and Joanna, & Marie Iacobi, & other that were with them, which told these things vnto the Apostles.

11 And their wordes seemed to them fayned things, neither beleeued they them.

12 *Then arose Peter, and ranne vnto the sepulchre, and when he had looked in, hee sawe the linnen clothes layd by themselues, and departed, wondring in himselfe at that which was come to passe. Iohn 10.6.

onely a stranger in Hierusalem, and hast not knowen the thinges which are come to passe there in these dayes?

19 He saide vnto them, What things? And they said vnto him, Of Iesus of Nazareth, which was a Prophet, mightie in deede & word before God and all the people, 20 And how the high Priests and our rulers deliuered him to bee condemned to death, and haue crucified him.

21 But we trusted that it had bene he which should haue redeemed Israel: and as touching all these things, to day is euen the third day since they were done.

22 Yea, and certaine women also of our companie made vs astonied, which came early vnto the sepulchre,

23 And when they found not his body, they came, saying that they had seene a vision of Angels, which say that he was aliue.

24 And certaine of them which were with vs, went to the sepulchre, and found it euen so as the women had sayde, but him they saw not.

25 And he saide vnto them, O fooles, and slow of heart, to beleeue all that the Prophets haue spoken:

26 Ought not Christ to haue suffered these things, and to enter into his glory?

27 And he began at Moses, and all the Prophets, and throughly interpreted vnto them in all the Scriptures, those things which were written of himselfe.

28 And they drewe nigh vnto the village, which they went vnto, and he made as though he would haue gone further.

29 And they constrained him, saying, Abide with vs, for it draweth toward night, and the day is farre passed: And he went in to tarie with them.

30 And it came to passe, as he sate at meate with them, he tooke bread, and [c] blessed it, and brake, and gaue to them.

31 And their eyes were opened, & they knew him, and he vanished out of their sight.

32 And they said one vnto another, Did not our hearts burne within vs, while hee talked with vs by the way, and opened to vs the Scriptures?

33 And they rose vp the same houre, and returned againe to Hierusalem, and found the eleuen gathered together, and them that were with them, 34 Saying, The Lord is risen indeede, and hath appeared to Simon.

35 And they tolde what things were done in the way, and how he was knowen of them in the breaking of the bread.

36 *And as they thus spake, Iesus himselfe stood in the mids of them, and saith vnto them, Peace be vnto you.

37 But they were abashed and afraide, and supposed that they had seene a spirit.

38 And hee sayde vnto them, Why are yee troubled, and why doe thoughts arise in your heartes?

39 Behold my hands and my feete, that it is euen I my selfe: handle me and see, for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me haue.

40 And when he had thus spoken, he shewed them his hands and his feete.

41 And while they yet beleeued not for ioy, and wondered, he said vnto them, Haue ye here any meate?

42 And they offered him a piece of a broyled fish, and of an hony combe.

43 And he tooke it, and did eate before them.

44 And he saide vnto them, These are the wordes which I spake vnto you, while I was yet with you, that all must needes be fulfilled which were written of me in the law of Moses, and in the Prophets, and in the Psalmes.

45 Then opened he their ‖ wits, that they might vnderstand the Scriptures,

46 And said vnto them, Thus it is written, and thus it behoued Christ to suffer, and to rise from death the third day:

47 And that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in his Name among all nations, and must begin at Hierusalem.

48 And ye are witnesses of these things.

49 *And beholde, I will send the promise of my father vpon you: But tarie ye in the citie of Hierusalem, vntill yee be endued with power from on high.

50 And he led them out into Bethanie, and lift vp his hands, and blessed them.

51 *And it came to passe, as he blessed them, he departed from them, and was caried vp into heauen.

52 And when they had worshipped him, they returned to Hierusalem, with great ioy:

53 And were continually in the Temple, praising and lauding God. Amen.

The Gospel by Saint Iohn.

The first Chapter.

1 The diuinitie, humanitie, and office of Christ. 15 The testimonie of Iohn. 39 The calling of Andrew, Peter, Philip, and Nathanael.

The Gospel on Christmas day.

IN the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and ‖ God was that Word.

‖ Or, and that word was God.

Gen. 1.1.

2 *The same was in the beginning with God.

3 All things were made by it, and without [a] it, was made nothing that was made.

a Without Christ no creature was made.

4 In it was life, and the life was the light of men.

5 And the light shineth in the darkenesse, and the darkenesse comprehendeth it not.

Mat. 3.1. mark. 1.2. luke 3.2.

6 *There was a man sent from God, whose name was Iohn:

7 The same came for a witnesse, that hee should beare witnesse of the [b] light, that all men through him might beleeue.

b That is, of Christ, which is the true light.

8 He was not that light, but was sent to beare witnesse of the light.

9 That light was the true light, which lighteth euery man that commeth into the world.

Heb. 11.4.

10 He was in the world, * and the world was made by him, and the world knew him not.

11 Hee came into his owne, and his owne receiued him not.

12 But as many as receiued him, to them gaue he [c] power to be the sonnes of God, euen to them that beleeued on his Name, c Meaning, priuiledge, or dignitie.

13 Which ‖ were borne not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor yet of the will of man, but of God.

‖ Or, was made.

Mat. 1.16. luke 2.7.

14 * And the same Worde became [d] flesh, and dwelt among vs (and we saw the glory of it, as the glory of the onely begotten Sonne that came from the Father) full of grace and truth.

d That is to say, Man.

15 Iohn beareth witnesse of him, and cryed, saying, This was he of whome I spake, He that commeth after me, is preferred before me, for he was ‖ before me.

‖ Or, worthier then I. Col. 1.19.

16 And of his * fulnesse haue all we receiued, and grace [e] for grace.

e That is, God hath fauour vs, & giueth grace to so many as beleeue in Christ, and are become his members, that God in his Sonne is well pleased. 1.Ioh. 4.12 1.Tim. 6.16.

17 For the Lawe was giuen by Moses, but grace and truth came by Iesus Christ.

18 *No man hath seene God at any time, the onely begotten Sonne, which is in the bosome of the Father, he hath declared him.

The Gospel on the iij. Sunday in Aduent.

19 And this is the record of Iohn, when the Iewes sent Priests and Leuites from Hierusalem to aske him, What art thou?

20 And he confessed, and denyed not, and said plainly, I am not that Christ.

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And hee sayeth, I am not. Art thou that Prophet? And he answered, No.

22 Then said they vnto him, What art thou, that we may giue an answere to them that sent vs? What sayest thou of thy selfe?

Esay 40 3. mat. 3.3. luke 3.4.

23 *Hee sayd, I am the voice of a cryer in the wildernesse: Make straight the way of the Lord, as sayd the Prophet Esaias.

24 And they which were sent, were of the Pharisees.

25 And they asked him, and sayd vnto him, Why baptizest thou then, if thou bee not that Christ, nor Elias, neither ‖ a Prophet?

‖ Or, that Propher.

26 Iohn answered them, saying, I baptize with water, but there standeth one among you, whome ye know not,

27 *He it is, which though he came after me, was before mee, whose shoes latchet I am not worthy to vnloose.

Mat. 3.2. mar. 1.7. luke 3.16. acts 19.4.

28 These things were done in ‖ Bethabara beyond Iordane, where Iohn was baptizing.

‖ Or, some reade, Bethania.

29 The next day, Iohn seeth Iesus comming vnto him, and sayth, Behold the Lambe of God, which taketh away the sinne of the world.

30 This is hee of whome I sayde, After me commeth a man, which is preferred before mee: for he was before me.

31 And I knewe him not: but that he should be declared to Israel, therefore am I come baptizing with water.

32 *And Iohn bare record saying, I saw the Spirite descending from heauen, like vnto a Doue, and it abode vpon him.

Mat. 3.16. mar. 1.10. luke 3.22.

33 And I knewe him not: but he that sent me to baptize with water, the same sayde vnto me, Vpon whome thou shalt see the Spirite descending, and tarying still on him, the same is hee which baptizeth with the holy Ghost.

34 And I sawe, and bare record, that this is the sonne of God.

35 The next day after, Iohn stood againe, and two of his disciples, 36 And when he beheld Iesus walking, hee sayth, Behold the Lambe of God.

37 And the two disciples heard him speake, and they followed Iesus.

38 And Iesus, when hee turned about, and sawe them following him, sayeth vnto them, What seeke yee? They sayde vnto him, Rabbi, (which is to say if one interprete it, Master) where dwellest thou?

39 He sayth vnto them, Come and see. They came, and saw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the [f] tenth houre.

f That was about two houres before night.

40 One of the two which heard Iohn speake, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peters brother.

41 The same findeth his brother Simon first, and sayth vnto him, We haue found the Messias, which is by interpretation, the ‖ anointed.

‖ Or, the Christ.

42 And brought him to Iesus. And when Iesus beheld him, he said, Thou art Simon the sonne of Iona, thou shalt bee called Cephas, which is by interpretation, a stone.

43 The day following, Iesus would go forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and sayeth vnto him, Follow me.

44 Philip was of Bethsaida, out of the citie of Andrew and Peter.

45 Philip findeth Nathanael, and sayth vnto him, Wee haue found him of whome *Moses in the Law and the *Prophets did write, Iesus of Nazareth the sonne of s Ioseph.

46 And Nathanael sayd vnto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip sayth vnto him, Come and see.

47 Iesus sawe Nathanael comming to him, and sayth of him, Behold a right Israelite, in whome is no guile.

48 Nathanael sayeth vnto him, Whence knowest thou me? Iesus answered, and said vnto him, Before that Philip called thee, being vnder the figge tree, I sawe thee.

49 Nathanael answered, and sayth vnto him, Rabbi, thou art euen the very Sonne of God, thou art the king of Israel.

50 Iesus answered, and sayd vnto him, Because I sayde vnto thee, I sawe thee vnder the figgetree, thou ‖ beleeuest: thou shalt see greater things then these.

51 And he sayth vnto him, Verely, verely I say vnto you, hereafter shall ye see heauen open, and the Angels of God ascending and descending vpon the sonne of man.

Gen. 49.18
esay 4.2.
g He speaketh after the common opinion, for most men supposed him to be Ioseph's sonne.
‖ Or, beleeuest thou?

The ij. Chapter.

Christ turneth water into wine.

The Gospel on the ij. Sunday after the Epiphanie.

AND the third day was there a mariage in Cana ‖ a citie of Galilee, and the mother of Iesus was there.

2 And both Iesus was called and his disciples vnto the mariage.

3 And when they wanted wine, the mother of Iesus sayth vnto him, They haue no wine.

4 Iesus sayeth vnto her, Woman, what haue I to doe with thee? mine houre is not yet come.

5 His mother sayeth vnto the ‖ ministers, Whatsoeuer he sayth vnto you, doe it.

6 And there were set there fire water pottes of stone, after the manner of the purifying of the Iewes, conteyning two or three ‖ firkins apeece.

7 Iesus sayeth vnto them, Fill the water pots with water. And they filled them vp to the brimme.

8 And he sayth vnto them, Draw out now, and beare vnto the gouernour of the feast. And they bare it.

9 When the ruler of the feast had tasted the water that was made wine (and knewe not whence it was, but the ministers which drewe the water knew) the gouernour of the feast calleth the bridegrome,

10 And saith vnto him, Euery man at the beginning doth set forth good wine, and when the guestes haue well dronke, then that which is worse: but thou hast kept the good wine vntill now.

11 This beginning of miracles did Iesus in Cana of Galilee, and shewed his glory: and his disciples beleeued on him.

12 After this he went downe to Capernaum, and his mother, and his brethren, and his disciples, and there continued not many dayes.

13 And the Iewes Passeouer was at hand, and Iesus went vp to Hierusalem, 14 And found sitting in the temple those that sold oxen, and sheepe, and doues, and changers of money.

15 And when he had made as it were a scourge of small cordes, hee droue them all out of the Temple, with the sheepe and oxen, and powred out the chaungers money, and ouerthrewe the tables:

16 And said vnto them that sold doues, Haue these things hence, and make not my fathers house an house of marchandize.

17 And his disciples remembred that it was written, *The zeale of thine house hath euen eaten me.

18 Then answered the Iewes, and sayd vnto him, What token shewest thou vnto vs, seeing that thou doest these things?

19 Iesus answered, and sayde vnto them, *Destroy this temple, and in three dayes I will reare it vp.

20 Then sayde the Iewes, Fourtie and sixe yeres was this Temple a building, & wilt thou reare it vp in three dayes?

21 But he spake of the temple of his body.

22 When therefore he was risen from death, his disciples remembred that he thus had sayd: and they beleeued the Scripture, and the wordes which Iesus had sayd.

23 When he was in Hierusalem at the Passeouer, in the feast day, many beleeued on his name, whē they sawe his miracles which he did.

24 But Iesus did not commit himselfe vnto them, because he knew all men,

25 And needed not that any should testifie of man: for he knew what was in man.

3 Christ teacheth Nicodemus. 16 The loue of God toward the world.

THere was a man of the Pharises, named Nicodemus, a ruler of the Iewes:

2 The same came to Iesus by night, and sayd vnto him, Rabbi, wee know that thou art a teacher come from God: for no man can doe these miracles that thou doest, except God be with him.

3 Iesus answered, and sayd vnto him, Verely, verely I say vnto thee, except a man be borne from aboue, he cannot see the kingdome of God.

4 Nicodemus sayth vnto him, How can a man be borne when he is olde? can he enter the second time into his mothers wombe, and be borne?

5 Iesus answered, Verely, verely I say vnto thee, except a man be borne of water and of the spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdome of God.

6 That which is borne of the flesh, is flesh, and that which is borne of the spirit, is spirit.

7 Marueile not thou that I sayd vnto thee, Ye must be borne from aboue.

8 The winde bloweth where it listeth, and thou hearest the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it commeth, and whither it goeth: So is euery one that is borne of the Spirit.

9 Nicodemus answered, and sayd vnto him, How can these things be?

10 Iesus answered, and sayde vnto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things?

11 Verely, verely I say vnto thee, we speake that wee doe know, and testifie that wee haue seene: and ye receiue not our witnesse.
12 If I haue told you earthly things, and ye beleeue not: how shall ye beleeue if I tell you of heauenly things?
13 And no man hath ascended vp to [a] heauen, but he that came downe from heauen, euen the sonne of man which is in [b] heauen.
14 *And as Moses lift vp the serpent in the wildernesse: euen so must the sonne of man be lifted vp:
15 That whosoeuer beleeueth in him, should not perish, but haue eternall life.
16 *† For God so loued the worlde, that hee gaue his onely begotten sonne: that whosoeuer beleeueth in him, should not perish, but haue euerlasting life.
17 For God sent not his sonne into the world to condemne the worlde: but that the [c] worlde through him might be saued.
18 He that beleeueth on him, is not condemned: but he that beleeueth not, is condemned already, because he hath not beleeued in the name of the onely begotten sonne of God.
19 And this is the condemnation, * that light is come into the world, and men loued darkenesse rather then light: because their deedes were euill.
20 For euery one that euill doeth, hateth the light, neither commeth to the light, least his deeds should be reproued.
21 But he that doeth trueth, commeth to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God.
22 After these things, came Iesus and his disciples into the land of Iurie, and there he tarried with them, and [d] baptized.
23 *And Iohn also was baptizing in Aenon, neere to Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized.
24 For Iohn was not yet cast into prison.
25 And there arose a question betweene Iohns disciples and the Iewes, about purifying.
26 And they came vnto Iohn, and sayd vnto him, Rabbi, he that was with thee beyond Iordane, * to whome thou bearest witnesse, behold, the same baptizeth, and all men come to him.
27 Iohn answered, and sayd, A man can receiue nothing, except it be giuen him frō heauen.
28 Ye your selues are witnesses, how that I sayd, * I am not that Christ, but am sent before him.
29 He that hath the bride, is the bridegrome: but the friend of the bridegroome, which standeth and heareth him, reioyceth greatly because of the bridegromes voice: This my ioy therefore is fulfilled.
30 He must encrease, but I must decrease.
31 He that commeth from on high, is aboue all: hee that is of the earth, is earthly, and speaketh of the earth: hee that commeth from heauen, is aboue all:
32 And what hee hath seene and heard, that hee testifieth, and no man receiueth his testimonie.
33 Hee that hath receiued his testimonie, * hath set to his seale, that God is true.
34 For hee whome God hath sent, speaketh the wordes of God: for God giueth not the spirit by measure vnto him.
35 *The father loueth the sonne, and hath giuen all things into his hand.
36 *He that beleeueth on the sonne, hath euerlasting life: he that beleeueth ‖ not the sonne, shall not see life: but the wrath of God abideth on him.

[a] No man by his owne wit can know the mysteries of Christes kingdome, but by Christ himselfe.

5 Then commeth hee to a city of Samaria, which is called Sychar, neere to the possession * that Iacob gaue to his sonne Ioseph.
6 And there was Iacobs well. Iesus then beeing weary of his iourney, sate thus on the well: and it was about the [a] sixth houre.
7 And there commeth a woman of Samaria to draw water: Iesus sayth vnto her, Giue me drinke.
8 For his disciples were gone away vnto the towne to buy meat.
9 Then saith the woman of Samaria vnto him, How is it that thou, beeing a Iewe, askest drinke of me, which am a woman of Samaria? For the Iewes meddle not with the Samaritanes.
10 Iesus answered, and sayde vnto her, If thou knewest the gift of God, and who it is that sayeth to thee, Giue mee drinke: thou wouldest haue asked of him, and hee would haue giuen thee water of life.
11 The woman sayeth vnto him, Syr, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deepe: from whence then hast thou that water of life?
12 Art thou greater then our father Iacob, which gaue vs the well, and he himselfe dranke thereof, and his children, and his cattell?
13 Iesus answered, and sayd vnto her, Whosoeuer drinketh of this water, shal thirst againe:
14 But whosoeuer drinketh of the water that I shall giue him, shal neuer be more athirst: but the water that I shall giue him, shall bee in him a well of water springing vp into euerlasting life.
15 The woman sayeth vnto him, Syr, giue me of that water that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw.
16 Iesus sayeth vnto her, Goe, call thy husband, and come hither.
17 The woman answered, and said vnto him, I haue no husband. Iesus sayd vnto her, Thou hast well sayd, I haue no husband.
18 For thou hast had fiue husbands: and hee whome thou now hast, is not thy husband: In that saydest thou truely.
19 The woman sayth vnto him, Syr, I perceiue that thou art a Prophet.

taine, and yee say, that *in Hierusalem is the place where men ought to worship.
Deut.12.6.

21 Jesus saieth vnto her, Woman, beleeue me, the houre commeth, when yee shall neither in this mountaine, nor yet at Hierusalem worship the father.

22 *Ye worship ye wote not what: we know what we worship: for saluation commeth of the Iewes.
4.Reg.17.29.

23 But the houre commeth, and nowe is, when the true worshippers shall worship the father in spirit, and in trueth: for such the father also requireth to worship him.

24 *God is a spirite, and they that worshippe him, must worshippe him in spirite, and in the trueth.
2.Cor.3.17

25 The woman saieth vnto him, I wote that Messias commeth, which is called Christ: when he is come, he will tell vs all things.

26 Jesus saieth vnto her, I that speake vnto thee, am he.

27 And immediately came his disciples, and marueiled that he talked with the woman: Yet no man said, What seekest thou, or, Why talkest thou with her?

28 The woman then left her water potte, and went her way into the citie, and saieth to the men,

29 Come, see a man which told me all things that euer I did: Is not he that Christ?

30 Then they went out of the citie, and came vnto him.

31 In the meane while his disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eate.

32 He sayde vnto them, I haue meat to eate that ye wote not of.

33 Therefore sayde his disciples one to another, Hath any man brought him ought to eate?

34 Jesus saieth vnto them, My meat is that I doe the will of him that sent me, and finish his worke.

35 Say not yee, There are yet foure moneths, and then commeth haruest? Beholde, I say vnto you, Lift vp your eyes, and looke on the regions: *for they are white alreadie vnto haruest.
Mat.9.37. luke 10.2.

36 And he that reapeth, receiueth wages, and gathereth fruit vnto life eternall: that both hee that soweth, and he that reapeth, might reioyce together.

37 And herein is the saying true, That one soweth, and another reapeth.

38 I sent you to reape that, whereon ye bestowed no labour: other [b] men laboured, and ye are entred into their labours.
b Meaning, the Prophets.

39 Many of the Samaritanes of that citie beleeued on him, for the saying of the woman, which testified, That he told me all that euer I did.

40 So, when the Samaritanes were come vnto him, they besought him that hee would tarrie with them: and he abode there two daies.

41 And many moe beleeued, because of his owne worde:

42 And sayd vnto the woman, Now wee beleeue, not because of thy saying: for wee haue heard him our selues, and know we that this is euen that Christ, the Sauiour of the world.

43 After two dayes hee departed thence, and went away into Galilee.
Mat.13.58. mark.6.4. luke 4.24.

44 *For Jesus himselfe testified, that a Prophet hath none honour in his owne countrey.

45 Then when hee was come into Galilee, the Galileans receiued him, when they had seene all the things that hee did at Hierusalem at the Feast: for they went also vnto the Feast day.

46 *So Jesus came againe into Cana of Galilee, where he made the water wine. And there was a certaine ruler, whose sonne was sicke at Capernaum.
The Gospel on the xxi. Sunday after Trinitie. Iohn 2.1.

47 When the same heard that Jesus was come out of Jurie into Galilee, hee went vnto him, and besought him that hee would come downe, and heale his sonne: for he was euen at the point of death.

48 Then sayde Jesus vnto him, Except yee see signes and wonders, yee will in no wise beleeue.

49 The ruler saieth vnto him, Syr, come downe or euer that my sonne die.

50 Jesus saieth vnto him, Goe thy way, thy sonne liueth. And the man beleeued the worde that Jesus had spoken vnto him, and hee went his way.

51 And as he was now going downe, the seruants met him, and told him, saying, Thy sonne liueth.

52 Then enquired hee of them the houre when hee began to amend: and they sayde vnto him, Yesterday at the seuenth houre the feuer left him.

53 So the father knewe, that it was done the same houre, in the which Jesus sayde vnto him, Thy sonne liueth: and he beleeued, and all his houshold.

54 This is againe the second miracle that Jesus did, when he was come out of Jury into Galilee.

The v. Chapter.

Christ healeth on the Sabboth day the man that was sicke thirtie and eight yeeres.

After *this, there was a feast day of the Iewes, and Jesus went vp to Hierusalem.
Leuit.23.2. deut.16.1.

2 And there is at Hierusalem by the [a] sheep market, a poole, which is called in the Hebrue tongue Bethesda, hauing fiue porches:
a Where sheep were sold: Or else by the sheepe poole, that is, where they washed sheep, or where sheepe vsande.

3 In which lay a great multitude of sicke folke, of blind, halt, and withered, wayting for the mouing of the water.

4 For an Angel went downe at a certaine season into the poole, and troubled the water: whosoeuer then first after the troubling of the water stepped in, was made whole of whatsoeuer disease he had.

5 And a certaine man was there, which had beene diseased thirtie and eight yeeres.

6 When Jesus saw him lye, and knewe that he now long time had beene diseased, hee saieth vnto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The sicke man answered him, Syr, I haue no man when the water is troubled, to put mee into the poole: but in the meane time, while I am about to come, another steppeth downe before me.

8 Jesus saieth vnto him, Rise, take vp thy bed, and walke.

9 And immediatly the mã was made whole, and tooke vp his bedde, and walked: And on the same same day was the Sabboth.

10 The Iewes therefore sayd vnto him that Iere.17.1. was made whole, It is the Sabboth day, *it is not lawfull for thee to cary thy bed.
11 Hee answered them, Hee that made me whole, said vnto me, Take vp thy bed, & walke.
12 Then asked they him, what man is that which sayde vnto thee, Take vp thy bedde, and walke?
13 And he that was healed, wist not who it was: for Iesus had gotten himselfe away, because that there was a preasle of people in that place.
14 Afterward Iesus findeth him in the temple, and sayd vnto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sinne no more, least a worse thing come vnto thee.
15 The man departed, and tolde the Iewes that it was Iesus which had made him whole.
16 And therefore did the Iewes persecute Iesus, and sought the meanes to slay him, because he had done these things on the Sabboth day.
17 Iesus answered them, My father worketh hitherto, and I worke.
18 Therefore the Iewes sought the more to kill him, not onely because hee had broken the Sabboth, but sayde also, that God was his father, and making himselfe equall with God.
19 Then answered Iesus, and sayde vnto them, Verely, verely I say vnto you, The sonne can doe nothing of himselfe, but that hee seeth the father doe: for whatsoeuer he doeth, that also doth the sonne likewise.
20 For the father loueth the sonne, and sheweth him all things that he himselfe doth: and he will shewe him greater workes then these, because ye should marueile.
21 For likewise as the father raiseth vp the dead, and quickneth them: euen so the sonne quickeneth whome he will.
22 Neither iudgeth the father any man: but hath committed all iudgement vnto the sonne,
23 Because that all men should honour the sonne, euen as they honour the father. Hee that honoureth not the sonne, the same honoureth not the father which hath sent him.
24 Verely, verely I say vnto you, Hee that heareth my worde, and beleeueth on him that sent me, hath euerlasting life, and shall not come into damnation: but is escaped from death vnto life.
25 Verely, verely I say vnto you, The houre is comming, and now is, when the [b] dead shall heare the voice of the sonne of God: and they that heare, [c] shall liue.
26 For as the father hath life in himselfe: so likewise hath he giuen to the Sonne to haue life in himselfe:
27 And hath giuen him power also to iudge, because he is the sonne of man.
28 Marueile not at this: for the houre is comming, in the which al that are in the graues shall heare his voice,
Mat.25.41. 29 And shall come forth, * they that haue done good, vnto the resurrection of life, and they that haue done euill, vnto the resurrection of damnation.
30 I can of mine owne selfe doe nothing: as I heare, I iudge: and my iudgement is iust, because I seeke not mine owne will, but the will of the father, which hath sent me.
31 *If I beare witnesse of my selfe, my witnesse is not true. Iohn 8.14.
32 *There is another that beareth witnesse of me, and I am sure that the witnesse which he witnesseth of me, is true. Mat.3.17.
33 *Ye sent vnto Iohn, and he bare witnesse vnto the trueth. Ioh.1.27.
34 But I receiue not the record of man: neuertheless, these things I say, that ye might be saued.
35 He was a burning and a shining light: and ye would for a season haue reioyced in his light.
36 But I haue greater witnesse then the witnesse of Iohn: for the workes which the father hath giuen me to finish, the same workes that I doe, beare witnesse of me, that the father hath sent me.
37 And the father himselfe which hath sent mee, *hath borne witnesse of me. Ye haue not heard his voice at any time, *nor seene his shape. Mat.3.17. and 17.5. Deut.4.12.
38 And his word haue ye not abiding in you: for whome he hath sent, him ye beleeue not.
39 Search the Scriptures, for in them yee thinke yee haue eternall life, and they are they which testifie of me.
40 And yet will ye not come to me, that yee might haue life.
41 I receiue not the praise of men.
42 But I know you, that ye haue not the loue of God in you.
43 I am come in my fathers name, & yee receiue me not: *if another shall come in his owne name, him will ye receiue. Ioh.12.41.
44 How can ye beleeue, which receiue honour one of another, and seeke not the honour that commeth of God onely?
45 Doe not thinke that I will accuse you to my father: there is one that accuseth you, euen Moses, in whome ye trust.
46 For had ye beleeued Moses, ye would haue beleeued me: *for he wrote of me. Gen.3.15. deut.18.15
47 But if yee beleeue not his writings, how shall ye beleeue my words?

The vj. Chapter.

29 Faith is the worke of God. 35 Of the bread of life. 40 Of faith.

AFter these things, Iesus went his way ouer the Sea of Galilee, which is the Sea of Tiberias: The Gospel on the iij. Sunday in Lent.
2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which hee did on them that were diseased.
3 And Iesus went vp into a mountaine, and there he sate with his disciples.
4 And the Passeouer, *a feast of the Iewes, was nigh. Leuit.23.2. deut.16.1.
5 *When Iesus then lift vp his eyes, and sawe a great company come vnto him, he sayth vnto Philip, Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eate? The Gospel on the xxv. Sunday after Trinitie. Mat.14.16. mark.6.38. luke 9.13.
6 (This he sayd to proue him: for hee himselfe knew what he would doe.)
7 Philip answered him, Two hundred [a] penyworth of bread are not sufficient for them, that euery man may take a little. a This summe amounteth to about fiue pound sterling.

9 There is a little lad here, which hath fiue barley loaues, and two fishes: but what are they among so many?

10 And Iesus sayde, Make the people sit downe. There was much grasse in the place. So the men sate downe, in number about fiue thousand.

11 And Iesus tooke the bread, and when hee had giuen thankes, hee distributed to the Disciples, and the Disciples to them that were set downe, and likewise of the fishes, as much as they would.

12 When they were filled, he said vnto his disciples, Gather vp the broken meate that remaineth, that nothing be lost.

13 And they gathered it together, and filled twelue baskets with the broken meate of the fiue barley loaues, which broken meate remained vnto them that had eaten.

14 Then those men, when they had seene the miracle that Iesus did, said, This is of a trueth the same Prophet that should come into the world.

15 When Iesus therefore perceiued that they would come and take him vp by force, to make him King, he departed againe into a mountaine himselfe alone.

Mat.14.25. mark.6.47. 16 *And when euen was now come, his disciples went downe vnto the Sea, 17 And gate vp into a ship, and went ouer the Sea towards Capernaum: and it was now darke, and Iesus was not come to them.

18 And the Sea arose with a great winde that blew.

19 So when they had rowed about xxv. or xxx. furlongs, they saw Iesus walking on the Sea, and drawing nigh vnto the ship: and they were afraid.

20 But hee saith vnto them, It is I, be not afraide.

21 And they would haue receiued him into the ship, and immediatly the ship was at the land whither they went.

22 The day following, when the people which stood on the other side of the Sea, saw that there was none other ship there, saue that one whereinto his disciples were entered, and that Iesus went not in with his disciples into the ship, but that his disciples were gone away alone:

23 Howbeit, there came other ships from Tiberias, nigh vnto the place where they did eate bread, after that the Lord had giuen thankes.

24 When the people therefore saw that Iesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also tooke shipping, and came to Capernaum, seeking for Iesus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the Sea, they said vnto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 Iesus answered them, and said, Verily, verily I say vnto you, Ye seeke mee, not because ye saw the miracles, but because yee did eate of the loaues, and were filled.

27 Labour not for the meate which perisheth, but for that meate which endureth vnto euerlasting life, which meate the Sonne of man shall giue vnto you: *for him hath God the Father sealed.

Mat. 3.17. and 17.5. iohn 1.32. 28 Then saide they vnto him, What shall wee do, that we might worke the workes of God?

29 Iesus answered, and saide vnto them, *This is the worke of God, that ye beleeue on him whom he hath sent. 1.Ioh.3.23.

30 They said therefore vnto him, What signe shewest thou then, that wee may see, and beleeue thee? what doest thou worke?

31 Our fathers did eate Manna in the desert, as it is written, *He gaue them bread from heauen to eate. Exo.16.14. num.11.7. psal.78.24. wisd,16.20.

32 Then Iesus said vnto them, Verily, verily I say vnto you, Moses gaue you not that bread from heauen, but my Father giueth you the true bread from heauen.

33 For the bread of God is he which commeth downe from heauen, and giueth life vnto the world.

34 Then said they vnto him, Lord, euermore giue vs this bread.

35 And Iesus said vnto them, I am the bread of life: he that commeth to me, shall not hunger in any wise: * and he that beleeueth on me, shall neuer thirst. Eccl.24.19.

36 But I say vnto you, that ye also haue seen me, and yet ye beleeue not.

37 All that the Father giueth me, shall come to me, and him that commeth to me, I will in no wise cast out.

38 For I came downe from heauen, not to doe mine owne will, but the will of him that sent me.

39 And this is the Fathers will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath giuen mee, I shall lose nothing, but raise it vp againe at the last day.

40 And this is the will of him that sent mee, that euery one which seeth the Sonne, and beleeueth on him, may haue euerlasting life: and I will raise him vp at the last day.

41 The Iewes then murmured at him, because he said, *I am the bread of life which came downe from heauen.

42 And they saide, * Is not this Iesus, the sonne of Ioseph, whose father and mother we know? Howe is it then that he saith, I came downe from heauen? Mat.13.55.

43 Iesus answered, & saide vnto them, Murmure not among your selues.

44 No man can come to me, except the Father, which hath sent me, draw him: and I will raise him vp at the last day.

45 It is written in the Prophets, * And they shall be all taught of God. Euery man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, commeth vnto me, Esai.54.13. iere.31.33.

46 Not that any man hath seene the Father, *saue he which is of God, the same hath seene the Father. Mat.11.27.

47 Verily, verily I say vnto you, He that putteth his trust in me, hath euerlasting life.

48 I am that bread of life.

49 Your fathers did eat * Manna in the wildernesse, and are dead. Exo.16.15.

50 This is that bread which cõmeth downe from heauen, that if any man eate thereof, hee should not die.

51 I am that liuing bread, which came downe from heauen. If any man eate of this bread, he shall liue for euer: and the bread that I will giue, is my flesh, which I will giue for the life of the world.

bs that fleth of his to eate?

53 Then Iesus said vnto them, verily, verily I say vnto you, Except ye eate the fleth of the Sonne of man, and drinke his blood, ye haue no life in you.

1.Cor.11.27. 54 *Whoso eateth my fleth, and drinketh my blood, hath eternall life, and I will raise him vp at the last day.

55 For my fleth is meat in deed, and my blood is drinke in deed.

56 Hee that eateth my fleth, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

57 As the liuing Father hath sent mee, and I liue by the Father: Euen so, he that eateth mee, shall liue by the meanes of me.

58 This is that bread which came downe from heauen: not as your fathers did eat Manna, and are dead: hee that eateth of this bread, shall liue euer.

59 These things saide he in the Synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 Many therefore of his disciples, when they had heard this, said, This is an hard saying, who can abide the hearing of it?

61 When Iesus knewe in himselfe that his disciples murmured at it, hee saide vnto them, Doeth this offend you?

Iohn 3.13. 62 What and if ye shall see the Sonne of man ascend *vp thither where he was before?

63 It is the Spirit that quickeneth, the fleth profiteth [a] nothing: the words that I speake vnto you, are Spirit and life.

64 But there are some of you that beleeue not. For Iesus knew from the beginning, which they were that beleeued not, and who should betray him.

65 And he said, Therefore saide I vnto you, that no man can come vnto mee, except it were giuen vnto him of my Father.

66 From that time many of his disciples went backe, and walked no more with him.

67 Then said Iesus vnto the Twelue, Will ye also goe away?

68 Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we goe? Thou hast the wordes of eternall life:

Matth.16.16. 69 *And wee beleeue and are sure that thou art that Christ, the Sonne of the liuing God.

70 Iesus answered them, Haue not I chosen you Twelue, and one of you is a deuil?

71 He spake of Iudas Iscariot the sonne of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, being one of the Twelue.

a To wit, if it be separate from the Spirit, wherof it hath the force. For it commeth of the power of the Spirit, that the fleth giueth vs life, & feedeth vs: And therefore, that we may be truely fed and nourished with it, we must bring the spirituall mouth of faith to receiue it.

The vij.Chapter.

1 Iesus fled the murmuring Iewes. 5 Christs kinsemen beleeued not on him.

AFter these things, Iesus went about in Galilee: for he would not go about in Iurie, because that the Iewes sought to kill him.

Leui.23.34 2 The Iewes feast of Tabernacles * [a] was at hand.

a At this feast they dwelled seuen dayes in their tents.

3 His brethren therefore said vnto him, Get thee hence, and go into Iurie, that thy disciples also may see the workes that thou doest.

4 There is no man that doeth any thing in secret, and hee himselfe seeketh to be knowen openly: If thou do such things, shewe thy selfe to the world.

5 For neither his brethren beleeued in him.

6 Then Iesus saide vnto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is alway ready.

7 The world cannot hate you, but me it hateth, because I testifie of it, that the workes thereof are euill.

8 Goe ye vp vnto this feast: I goe not vp yet vnto this feast, * for my time is not yet ful come. Ioh.8.20.

9 When he had said these words vnto them, he abode still in Galilee.

10 But when his brethren were gone vp, then went hee also vp vnto the feast, not openly, but as it were priuily.

11 Then sought him the Iewes at the feast, and said, Where is he?

12 And much murmuring of him was there among the people: For some said, He is good: Other said, Nay: but he deceiueth the people.

13 Howbeit, no man spake openly of him, for feare of the Iewes.

14 Nowe when halfe of the feast was done, Iesus went vp into the Temple, and taught.

15 And the Iewes marueiled, saying, How knoweth he the Scriptures, seeing that he neuer learned?

16 Iesus answered them, and said, My doctrine is not mine, but his that sent me.

17 If any man will do his will, he shal know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speake of my selfe.

18 He that speaketh of himselfe, seeketh his owne glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no vnrighteousnesse is in him.

19 *Did not Moses giue you the Law, and yet none of you keepeth the Law? *Why go ye about to kill me? Exod.24.3. Iohn 5.18.

20 The people answered, and said, Thou hast the deuil: Who goeth about to kill thee?

21 Iesus answered, and said vnto them, I haue done one worke, and ye all marueile.

22 *Moses therefore gaue vnto you the Circumcision (not because it is of Moses, *but of the fathers) and yet ye on the Sabboth day circumcise a man. Leuit.12.3. Gene.17.10.

23 If a man on the Sabboth day receiue circumcision, without breaking of the Law of Moses: disdaine ye at me, because I haue made a man euery whit whole on the Sabboth day?

24 *Iudge not after the vtter appearance, but iudge with a righteous iudgement. Deut.1.16.

25 Then said some of them of Hierusalem, Is not this he, whom they go about to kill?

26 But lo, he speaketh ‖ boldly, and they say nothing vnto him: Do the rulers know in deed that this is very Christ? ‖Or, openly.

27 Howbeit, we know this man whence he is: but when Christ commeth, no man knoweth whence he is.

28 Then cried Iesus in the Temple as he taught, saying, Ye know both me, and whence I am ye know, and I am not come of my selfe, but he that sent me, is true, whom ye know not.

29 But I know him, for I am of him, and he hath sent me.

30 Then they sought to take him: but no man laied hands on him, because his houre was not yet come.

31 Many of the people beleeued on him, and said, When Christ commeth, will he do mo miracles then these that this man hath done?

32 The Pharisees heard that the people murmured such things concerning him: And the Pharisees and the high Priests sent seruants to take him.

33 Then said Jesus vnto them, Yet am I a little while with you, and then I goe vnto him that sent me.

Iohn 13.33 34 *Ye shall seeke me, and shall not finde me: and where I am, thither can ye not come.

35 Then said the Jewes among themselues, whither will he goe, that we shall not finde him: will he goe vnto the dispersed among the Grecians, and teach the Gentiles?

36 What maner of saying is this that he said, Ye shall seeke mee, and shall not finde mee: and where I am, thither can ye not come.

Leu. 23.36. 37 In the last day, that *great day of the feast, Jesus stood, and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come vnto me, and drinke.

Ioel 2.28. acts 2.17. 39 (*But this spake he of the Spirit which they that beleeue on him, should receiue. For the holy Ghost was not yet ‖ there, because that Jesus was not yet glorified.)

‖ Or, giuen: vnderstanding by the holy Ghost, the visible gifts of the holy Ghost.

40 Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a trueth this is the Prophet.

41 But other said, This is Christ. But some said, Shall Christ come out of Galilee?

Miche. 5. 2. matth. 2.5. 42 *Hath not the Scripture said, that Christ commeth of the seede of Dauid, and out of the towne of Bethlehem, where Dauid was?

43 So was there dissention among the people because of him.

44 And some of them would haue taken him, but no man layed hands on him.

45 Then came the seruants to ỹ high Priests and Pharisees, and they saide vnto them, Why haue ye not brought him?

46 The seruants answered, Neuer man spake as this man doeth.

47 Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceiued?

48 Haue any of the rulers or of the Pharisees beleeued on him?

49 But this common people which know not the Law, are cursed.

Iohn 3.2. 50 Nicodemus saith vnto them, (*He that came to Jesus by night, being one of them,)

Deut. 17.8. and 19.15. 51 Doeth our Lawe iudge any man before it heare him, * and know what he doeth?

52 They answered, and saide vnto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and looke: for out of Galilee ariseth no Prophet.

53 And euery man went vnto his owne house.

The viij. Chapter.

12 Christ the light of the world. 56 Abraham did see Christes day.

JEsus went out vnto Mount Oliuet:

2 And early in the morning he came againe into the Temple, and all the people came vnto him, and he sate downe, and taught them.

3 And the Scribes and Pharisees brought vnto him a woman taken in adultery, and when they had set her in the middes,

4 They said vnto him, Master, this woman was taken in adulterie, euen as the deed was a doing.

5 *Moses in the Law commanded vs that such should be stoned: but what sayest thou? Luke 20.10

6 This they saide, tempting him, that they might accuse him. But Jesus stouped downe, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not.

7 So when they continued asking him, he lift vp himselfe, and saide vnto them, *Let him that is among you without sinne, cast the first stone at her. Deut. 17.7.

8 And againe, he stouped downe, and wrote on the ground.

9 And when they heard this, being accused of their owne consciences, they went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, euen vnto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the mids.

10 When Jesus had lift vp himselfe, and saw no man but the woman, he said vnto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

11 She said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said, Neither do I condemne thee: Goe, and sinne no more.

12 Then spake Jesus againe vnto them, saying, *I am the light of the world: He that followeth me, shall not in any wise walke in darkenesse, but shall haue the light of life. Iohn 1.5. and 9.5.

13 The Pharisees therefore saide vnto him, Thou bearest record of thy selfe, thy record is not true.

14 Jesus answered, and sayde vnto them, *Though I beare record of my selfe, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go: but ye cannot tel whence I come, and whither I go. Iohn 5.31.

15 Yee iudge after the flesh, but I iudge no man.

16 And if I iudge, my iudgment is true: for I am not alone, but I & the Father that sent me.

17 *It is also written in your Law, that the testimonie of two men is true. Deut. 17.6. and 19.15. mat. 18.16. 2.cor. 13.1. heb. 10.28.

18 I am one that beareth witnesse of my selfe, and the Father that sent mee, beareth witnesse of me.

19 Then said they vnto him, Where is thy father? Jesus answered, Ye neither know me, nor yet my Father: if ye had known me, yee should haue known my Father also.

20 These words spake Jesus in the treasury, as he taught in the Temple: and no man layde hands on him, for his houre was not yet come.

21 Then said Jesus againe vnto them, I goe my way, and ye shall seeke me, and shall die in your sinnes: whither I goe, thither can ye not come.

22 Then said the Jewes, Will he kil himselfe, because he saith, whither I go, thither can ye not come?

23 And hee saide vnto them, Ye are from beneath, I am from aboue: ye are of this world, I am not of this world.

24 I said therefore vnto you, that ye shall die in your sinnes. For if ye beleeue not that I am he, ye shall die in your sinnes.

25 Then said they vnto him, Who art thou? And Jesus sayeth vnto them, Euen the very same thing that I said vnto you from the beginning.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Dddd2v

26 I haue many things to say, and to iudge of you: Yea, and he that sent me is true, and I speake to the world those things which I haue heard of him.

27 Howbeit, they vnderstood not that he spake to them of his Father.

28 Then said Iesus vnto them, When ye haue lift vp on high the Sonne of man, then shall yee know that I am he, and that I doe nothing of my selfe: but as my Father hath taught me, euen so I speake these things.

29 And he that sent me, is with mee: the Father hath not left mee alone: for I doe alwayes those things that please him.

30 As he spake those wordes, many beleeued on him.

31 Then saide Iesus to those Iewes which beleeued on him, If yee continue in my word, then are ye my very disciples.

32 And yee shall know the Trueth, and the Trueth shall make you free.

a These were not those Iews that beleeued, but workers, that beleeued not.

33 They [a] answered him, We be Abrahams seed, and were neuer bond to any man: how sayest thou then, Ye shalbe made free?

Rom.6.20. 2.pet.2.19.

34 Iesus answered them, Verily, verily I say vnto you, *That whosoeuer committeth sinne, is the seruant of sinne.

35 And the seruant abideth not in the house for euer: but the Sonne abideth euer.

36 If the Sonne therefore shall make you free, then ye shalbe free in deed.

37 I know that ye are Abrahams seede, but ye seeke meanes to kil me, because my word hath no place in you.

38 I speake that which I haue seene with my Father: and ye doe that which ye haue seene with your father.

39 They answered, and said vnto him, Abraham is our father. Iesus saith vnto them, If ye were Abrahams children, yee would doe the workes of Abraham.

40 But now ye goe about to kill mee, a man that hath told you the trueth, which I haue heard of God: this did not Abraham.

41 Ye do the deedes of your father. Then said they to him, We be not borne of fornication, we haue one Father, euen God.

42 Iesus saide vnto them, If God were your Father, truely ye would loue mee, for I proceeded forth, and came from God: neither came I of my selfe, but he sent me.

43 Why do ye not know my speach? euen because ye cannot heare my word.

1.Ioh.3.8.

44 *Ye are of your father the deuill, and the lusts of your father wil ye do: he was a murtherer from the beginning, and abode not in the trueth, because there is no trueth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his owne: for he is a liar, and the father of it.

45 And because I tell you the trueth, therefore ye beleeue me not.

The Gospel on the fift Sunday in Lent. 1.Ioh.4.6.

46 *Which of you rebuketh me of sinne? If I say the trueth, why do ye not beleeue me?

47 He that is of God, heareth Gods wordes: Ye therefore heare them not, because ye are not of God.

48 Then answered the Iewes, and said vnto him, Say wee not well that thou art a Samaritane, and hast a deuil?

49 Iesus answered, I haue not a deuil: but I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me.

50 I seeke not mine owne glory, there is one that seeketh, and iudgeth.

51 Verily, verily I say vnto you, If a man keepe my saying, he shall neuer see death.

52 Then saide the Iewes vnto him, Nowe know wee that thou hast a deuil. Abraham is dead, and the Prophets: and thou sayest, If a man keep my saying, he shal neuer taste of death.

53 Art thou greater then our father Abraham, which is dead? and the Prophets are dead: whom makest thou thy selfe?

54 Iesus answered, If I glorifie my selfe, my glory is nothing: It is my Father that glorifieth me, which ye say, that he is your God:

55 And yet yee haue not known him, but I know him: and if I say that I know him not, I shall be a liar like vnto you: but I knowe him, and keepe his saying.

56 Your father Abraham was [b] glad to see my day: and he saw it, and reioyced.

b To see the comming of Christ in the flesh, which thing Abraham did see a farre off, with the eyes of faith.

57 Then saide the Iewes vnto him, Thou art not yet fiftie yeeres old, and hast thou seene Abraham?

58 Iesus said vnto them, Verily, verily I say vnto you, Before Abraham was, I am.

59 Then tooke they vp stones to cast at him: but Iesus was hid, & went out of the Temple.

The ix. Chapter.

Christ restoreth sight vpon the Sabboth day to him that was borne blinde.

AND as Iesus passed by, he saw a man which was blinde from his birth.

2 And his disciples asked him, saying, Master, who did sinne, this man, or his parents, that he was borne blinde?

3 Iesus answered, Neither hath this man sinned, nor yet his parents: but that the workes of God should be made manifest in him.

4 I must worke the works of him that sent me, while it is [a] day: The night commeth, when no man can worke.

a While opportunitie serueth.

5 As long as I am in the world, *I am the light of the world.

Iohn 1.9. and 8.12. and 12.35.

6 When he had thus spoken, hee spat on the ground, and made clay of the spittle, and hee anointed the clay vpon the eyes of the blinde,

7 And saide vnto him, Goe wash thee in the poole of Siloe (which by interpretation is as much to say, as sent.) He went his way therefore, and washed, and came againe seeing.

8 The neighbors therefore, and they that had seene him before when he was blinde, said, Is not this he that sate and begged?

9 Some said, This is he: Other said, He is like him. He himselfe said, I am euen he.

10 Therefore said they vnto him, How were thine eyes opened?

11 He answered, and said, The man that is called Iesus, made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and said vnto me, Goe to the poole Siloe, and wash: and when I went and washed, I receiued my sight.

12 Then said they vnto him, Where is he? He said, I cannot tel.

13 They brought to the Pharisees him, that a litle before was blinde.

14 And it was the Sabboth day when Iesus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then againe the Pharisees also asked him,

him how he had receiued his sight. He sayd vnto them, He put clay vpon mine eyes, and I washed, and doe see.

16 Therefore sayde some of the Pharisees, This man is not of God, because he keepeth not the Sabboth day. Other sayd, How can a man that is a sinner do such miracles? and there was a ‖ strife among them.

‖ or, schisme.

17 They say vnto the blind man againe, What sayest thou of him, because he hath opened thine eyes? He sayd, He is a Prophet.

18 But the Iewes did not beleeue the man how that he had bene blinde, and receiued his sight, vntill they called the parents of him that had receiued his sight.

19 And they asked them, saying, Is this your sonne, whom ye say that hee was borne blinde? how doeth he now see then?

20 His parents answered them, and sayd, We know that this is our sonne, and that hee was borne blinde:

21 But by what meanes he now seeth, wee cannot tell, or who hath opened his eyes cannot we tell, he is of age, aske him, he shall speake for himselfe.

22 Such wordes spake his parents, because they feared the Iewes: for the Iewes had agreed already, that if any man did confesse that he was Christ, he should be excommunicate out of the synagogue.

23 Therefore sayd his parents, He is of age, aske him.

24 Then againe called they the man that was blinde, and sayde vnto him, Giue God the praise, we know that this man is a sinner.

25 He answered, and sayd, Whether he be a sinner or no, I cannot tel: One thing I am sure of, that whereas I was blinde, now I see.

26 Then sayd they to him againe, What did he to thee? How opened he thine eyes?

27 He answered them, I told you yer while, and ye did not heare: wherfore would you heare it againe? will ye also be his disciples?

28 Then rated they him, and sayd, Thou art his Disciple: we are Moses disciples.

29 We are sure that God spake vnto Moses: as for this fellow, wee know not from whence he is.

30 The man answered, and sayd vnto them, This is a marueilous thing, that yee wote not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.

31 For wee be sure that God heareth not sinners: but if any man be a worshipper of God, and doth his will, him heareth he.

32 Since the world began was it not heard that any man opened the eyes of one that was borne blinde:

33 If this man were not of God, he could doe nothing.

34 They answered, and said vnto him, Thou art altogether borne in sinne, & doest thou teach vs? And they cast him out.

35 Iesus heard that they had excommunicate him: and when he had found him, hee said vnto him, Doest thou beleeue on the sonne of God?

36 He answered and said, Who is hee, Lord, that I might beleeue on him?

37 And Iesus sayd vnto him, Thou hast both seene him, and it is he that talketh with thee.

38 And he said, Lord, I beleeue: and he [b] worshipped him.

[b] He declared his faith by his outward profession. Iohn 3.17. and 12.47.

39 And Iesus sayd vnto him, *I am come vnto iudgement in this world, that they which see not, might see, & that they which see, might be made blinde.

40 And some of the Pharisees which were with him, heard these words, and said vnto him, Are we blind also?

41 Iesus said vnto them, If ye were blind, ye should haue no sinne, but nowe ye say, Wee see: therefore your sinne remaineth.

The x. Chapter.

1 Christ the true shepheard, and the doore. 34 Princes called gods.

The Gospel on ỹ Tuesday after Whitsonday.

VErely, verely I say vnto you, He that entreth not in by the dooze into the sheepefold, but climeth vp some other way, the same is a theefe and a robber.

2 But he that entreth in by the dooze, is the shepheard of the sheepe.

3 To him the porter openeth, and the sheepe heare his voice, and hee calleth his owne sheepe by name, and leadeth them out.

4 And when hee hath put foorth his owne sheepe, hee goeth before them, and the sheepe follow him: for they know his voice.

5 A stranger will they in no wise follow, but will flee from him, for they know not the voice of strangers.

6 This prouerbe spake Iesus vnto them: but they vnderstood not what things they were which he spake vnto them.

7 Then sayd Iesus vnto them againe, Verily, verily I say vnto you, I am the dooze of the sheepe.

8 All, [a] euen as many as came before me, are theeues and robbers: but the sheepe did not heare them.

[a] He meaneth all false prophets, who led not men to Christ, but frō him to other, or els preached themselues.

9 I am the dooze: by mee if any man enter in, he shall be safe, and shall goe in and goe out, and finde pasture.

10 The thiefe commeth not, but for to steale, kill, and to destroy: I am come that they might haue life, and that they might haue it more abundantly.

11 I am the *good shepheard: the good shepheard giueth his life for the sheepe.

The Gospel on the ij. Sunday after Easter. Esa. 40.11. iere. 34.23.

12 An hireling, and he which is not the shepheard, neither the sheepe are his owne, seeth the woolfe comming, and leaueth the sheepe, and fleeth: and the woolfe catcheth them, and scatereth the sheepe.

13 The hireling fleeth, because he is an hireling, and careth not for the sheepe.

14 I am the good shepheard, and know my sheepe, and am knowen of mine.

15 As the father knoweth me, euen so know I also the father: and I giue my life for the sheepe.

16 And other [b] sheepe I haue, which are not of this fold, them also I must bring, and they shal heare my voice, * and there shall be one folde and one shepheard.

me, and I haue power to take it againe. *This commandement haue I receiued of my father.
19 There was a dissention therefore againe among the Iewes for these things.
20 And many of them sayd, He hath a deuill, and is mad, why heare ye him?
21 Other sayd, These are not the wordes of him that hath a deuill. Can a deuill open the eyes of the blinde?
1.Mac.4.59 22 *And it was at Hierusalem the feast of the dedication, and it was winter:
23 And Iesus walked in the temple, euen in Salomons porch.
24 Then came the Iewes round about him, and sayd vnto him, How long doest thou make vs to doubt? If thou be Christ, tell vs plainely.
25 Iesus answered them, I told you, and ye beleeued not: the workes that I doe in my fathers name, they beare witnesse of me.
26 But ye beleeue not, because ye are not of my sheepe, as I sayd vnto you.
27 My sheepe heare my voice, and I know them, and they follow me:
28 And I giue vnto them eternall life, and they shall neuer perish, neither shall any man plucke them out of my hand.
29 My father which gaue them me, is greater then all: and no man is able to take them out of my fathers hand.
30 I and my father are one.
31 Then the Iewes tooke vp stones, to stone him withall.
32 Iesus answered them, Many good workes haue I shewed you from my father, for which worke of them doe ye stone me?
33 The Iewes answered him, saying, For a good worke wee stone thee not, but for thy blasphemy, and because that thou, being a man, makest thy selfe God.
Psal.82.6, 34 Iesus answered them, *Is it not written in your law, I sayd, ye are gods?
35 If he called them gods, vnto whome the word of God was spoken, and the scripture cannot be broken:
36 Say ye of him, whom the father hath sanctified and sent into the worlde, Thou blasphemest: because I sayd, I am the sonne of God?
37 If I doe not the workes of my father, beleeue me not.
38 But if I doe, and ye beleeue not me, beleeue the workes: that ye may know and beleeue, that the father is in me, and I in him.
39 Againe they went about to take him: and he escaped out of their hand,
40 And went away againe beyond Iordane, into the place where Iohn was first baptizing: and there he abode.
41 And many resorted vnto him, and sayd, Iohn did no miracle: but all things that Iohn spake of this man, were true.
42 And many beleeued on him there.

The xj. Chapter.

43 Christ raiseth Lazarus from death. 45 Certaine Iewes beleeue Christ.

A Certaine man was sicke named Lazarus, of Bethanie, the towne of Marie and her sister Martha.
2 (It was that Mary which anointed the Lord with ointment, and wiped his feete with her haire, whose brother Lazarus was sicke.)
3 Therefore his sister sent vnto him, saying, Lord, behold, hee whom thou louest is sicke.
4 When Iesus heard that, hee sayd, This infirmitie is not vnto death, but for the glory of God: that the sonne of God might be glorified thereby.
5 Iesus loued Martha, and her sister, and Lazarus.
6 When he had heard therefore that he was sicke, he abode two dayes still in the same place where he was.
7 Then after that, saith he to his disciples, Let vs go into Iurie againe.
8 His disciples say vnto him, Master, the Iewes lately sought to stone thee, & goest thou thither againe?
9 Iesus answered, Are there not twelue houres in the day? If any man walke in the day, hee stumbleth not, because hee seeth the light of this worlde.
10 But if a man walke in the night, he stumbleth, because there is no light in him.
11 These things said he, & after that, he sayth vnto them, Our friend Lazarus sleepeth, but I goe, that I may awake him out of sleepe.
12 Then sayd his disciples, Lord, if he sleepe, he shall doe well enough.
13 Howbeit, Iesus spake of his death: but they thought that he had spoken of taking of rest in sleepe.
14 Then sayd Iesus vnto them plainely, Lazarus is dead:
15 And I am glad for your sakes, that I was not there (because ye may beleeue:) Neuertheless, let vs goe vnto him.
16 Then sayd Thomas, which is called Didymus, vnto his fellow disciples, Let vs also go, that we may die with him.
17 Then when Iesus came, he found that he had lien in the graue foure dayes already.
18 (Bethanie was nigh vnto Hierusalem, about a fifteene furlongs off:) a Which is about two miles.
19 And many of the Iewes came to Martha and Marie, to comfort them ouer their brother.
20 Martha, as soone as she heard that Iesus was comming, went and met him: but Mary sate still in the house.
21 Then sayd Martha vnto Iesus, Lorde, if thou hadst bene here, my brother had not died.
22 But euen now I know, that whatsoeuer thou wilt aske of God, God will giue it thee.
23 Iesus sayth vnto her, Thy brother shall rise againe.
24 Martha sayth vnto him, I know that hee shall rise againe in the *resurrection at the last day. Ioh.5.29, Iuk.14.14.
25 Iesus sayd vnto her, I am the resurrection, and the *life: he that beleeueth on me, yea, though he were dead, yet shall he liue. Iohn 6.35.
26 And whosoeuer liueth, and beleeueth on me, shall neuer die. Beleeuest thou this?
27 She sayth vnto him, Yea Lord, I beleeue that thou art Christ the sonne of God, which should come into the world.
28 And when shee had so sayd, shee went her way, and called Marie her sister secretly, saying, The master is come, and calleth for thee.
29 Assoone as he heard that, he ariseth quickly, and commeth vnto him.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Dddd4r

30 Jesus was not yet come into the towne: but was in that place where Martha met him.
31 The Jewes then which were with her in the house, and comforted her, when they sawe Mary that she rose vp hastily, and went out, followed her, saying, She goeth vnto the graue, to weepe there.
32 Then when Mary was come where Jesus was, and saw him, she fell downe at his feete, saying vnto him, Lord, if thou hadst bene here, my brother had not bene dead.
33 When Jesus therefore saw her weeping, and the Jewes also weeping which came with her, he groned [b] in the Spirit, and was troubled in himselfe, 34 And said, where haue ye layed him? They say vnto him, Lord, Come, and see.
35 Jesus wept.
36 Then said the Jewes, Behold, how he loued him.
37 And some of them saide, Could not this man, *which opened the eyes of the blinde, haue caused that this man also should not haue died?
38 Jesus therefore againe groning in himselfe, commeth to the graue: It was a caue, and a stone layed on it.
39 Jesus said, Take ye away the stone. Martha, the sister of him that was dead, sayeth vnto him, Lord, by this time hee stinketh: for he hath bene dead foure dayes.
40 Jesus saith vnto her, Saide I not vnto thee, that if thou wouldst beleeue, thou shouldest see the glory of God?
41 Then they tooke away the stone from the place where the dead was layde. And Jesus lift vp his eyes, and said, Father, I thanke thee, that thou hast heard me.
42 Howbeit, I know that thou hearest me alwayes: but because of the people which stand by, I saide it, that they may beleeue that thou hast sent me.
43 And when hee thus had spoken, hee cried with a lowd voyce, Lazarus, come forth.
44 And he that was dead, came forth, bound hand and foote with graue clothes: and his face was bound about with a napkin. Jesus sayeth vnto them, Loose him, and let him goe.
45 Then many of the Jewes which came to Mary, and had seene the things which Jesus did, beleeued on him.
46 But some of them went their wayes to the Pharisees, and tolde them what Jesus had done.
47 Then gathered the high Priestes and the Pharisees a counsell, and said, What do we? for this man doeth many miracles.
48 If we let him scape thus, all men will beleeue on him, and the Romanes [c] shal come, and take away both our roome, and the people.
49 And one of them named Caiaphas, being the high Priest that same yeere, said vnto them, Ye perceiue nothing at all,
50 *Nor consider that it is expedient for vs, that one man should die for the people, and not that all the nation perish.
51 This spake he not of himselfe: but being high Priest that same yeere, he prophecied that Jesus should die for that nation:
52 And not for that nation onely, but that also he should gather together in one the children of God that were scattered abroad.
53 Then from that day forth, they tooke counsell together for to put him to death.
54 Jesus therefore walked no more openly among the Jewes: but went his way thence vnto a countrey nigh to a wildernesse, into a citie which is called Ephraim, and there continued with his disciples.
55 And the Jewes Easter was nigh at hand, and many went out of the countrey vp to Hierusalem before the Easter, to purifie themselues.
56 Then sought they for Jesus, and spake among themselues, as they stood in the Temple, What thinke yee seeing hee commeth not to the feast day?
57 Both the high Priestes and the Pharisees had giuen a commaundement, that if any man knewe where hee were, he should shew it, that they might take him.

The xij. Chapter.

3 Mary anoynteth Iesus feet. 37 Wherefore the Iewes beleeue not.

THen *Jesus, sixe dayes before the Passeouer, came to Bethanie, where Lazarus was, which had bene dead, whom hee raised from death.
2 There they made him a supper, and Martha serued: but Lazarus was one of them that sate at the table with him.
3 Then tooke Mary a pound of oyntment, of Spikenard, very costly, and anoynted Jesus feete, and wiped his feete cleane with her haire: and the house was filled with the odour of the oyntment.
4 Then sayeth one of his disciples, Judas Iscariot, Simons sonne, which should betray him,
5 Why was not this oyntment sold for three hundred pence, and giuen to the poore?
6 *This he saide, not that hee cared for the poore: but because he was a theefe, and had the [a] bagge, and bare that which was giuen.
7 Then saide Jesus, Let her alone, against the day of my burying hath she kept this.
8 For the poore alwayes ye haue with you: but me haue ye not alwayes.
9 Much people of the Jewes therefore had knowledge that hee was there: and they came, not for Jesus sake only, but that they might see Lazarus also, whom he raised from death.
10 But the high Priestes held a counsel, that they might put Lazarus to death also,
11 Because that for his sake many of the Jewes went away, and beleeued on Jesus.
12 *On the next day, much people that were come to the feast, when they heard that Jesus commeth to Hierusalem,
13 Tooke branches of Palme trees, and went forth to meet him, and cried, [b] Hosanna, blessed is hee that commeth in the Name of the Lord, King of Israel.
14 And Jesus, when hee had founde a yong asse, sate thereon, as it is written,
15 *Feare not, daughter of Sion, behold, thy King commeth, sitting on an Asses colt.

27 Now is my soule troubled, and what shall I say? Father, saue mee from this houre, but therefore came I into this houre.
28 Father, glorifie thy Name. Then came there a voice from heauen, saying, I both haue glorified it, and will glorifie it againe.
29 The people therefore that stood by, and heard it, said, that it thundered: other said, An angel spake to him.

4 He riseth from supper, and layeth aside his vpper garments: and when he had taken a towell, he girded himselfe.
5 After that, he powreth water into a bason, and began to wash the disciples feet, and to wipe them cleane with the towell wherewith he was girded.
6 Then commeth he to Simon Peter: and Peter saith vnto him, Lord, doest thou wash my feet?
7 Iesus answered, and said vnto him, What I do, thou wotest not now: but thou shalt know hereafter.
8 Peter saith vnto him, Thou shalt neuer wash my feet. Iesus answered him, If I wash thee not, thou hast no part with me.
9 Simon Peter saith vnto him, Lord, not my feet onely, but also my hands, and my head.
10 Iesus saith to him, Hee that is washed, needeth not saue to wash his feet, but is cleane euery whit: and ye are cleane, but not all.
11 For hee knew who it was that should betray him: therefore said he, Ye are not all cleane.

13 Ye call me Master and Lord, and yee say well: for so am I.
14 If I then your Lord and Master have washed your feet, ye also ought to wash one anothers feet.
15 For I have given you an ensample, that ye should do as I have done to you.
16 *Verely, verely I say unto you, the servant is not greater then his master, neither the messenger greater then he that sent him.
17 If yee know these things, happy are ye if ye do them.
18 I speake not of you all, I know whom I have chosen: but that the scripture may be fulfilled, *He that eateth bread with me, hath lift up his a heele against me.

20 *Verily, verily I say unto you, he that receiveth whomsoever I send, receiveth me: and hee that receiveth mee, receiveth him that sent mee.
21 *When Jesus had thus sayd, he was troubled in spirit, and testified, & sayd, Verily, verily I say unto you, that one of you shall betray me.
22 Then the disciples looked one on another, doubting of whom he spake.
23 There was one of Jesus disciples leaning on Jesus bosome, even he whom Jesus loved.
24 To him beckened Simon Peter therfore, that he should aske who it should be of whom he spake.
25 He then, when he leaned on Jesus breast, sayd unto him, Lord, who is it?
26 Jesus answered, He it is to whom I shall give a sop, when I have dipped it. And when he had dipped the sop, he gave it to Judas Iscariot the sonne of Simon.
27 And after ‖ the soppe, Satan entred into him. Then sayd Jesus unto him, That thou doest, do quickly.
28 That wist no man at the table, for what intent he spake unto him.
29 Some of them thought, because Judas had the bagge, that Jesus had sayd unto him, Buy those things that we have need of against the feast: or that hee should give some thing to the poore.
30 Assoone then as hee had received the sop, he went immediatly out: and it was night.
31 Therefore when he was gone out, Jesus sayd, Now is the Sonne of man glorified: and God is glorified in him.
32 If God be glorified in him, God shall also glorifie him in himselfe, and shall straightway glorifie him.
33 Litle children, yet a litle while am I with you. *Ye shall seeke me: and as I sayd unto the Jewes, whither I goe, thither can ye not come: to you also say I now, 34 *A new commandement give I unto you, That yee love together, as I have loved you, that even so ye love one another.
35 By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another.
36 Simon Peter sayd unto him, Lord, whither goest thou? Jesus answered him, Whither I goe, thou canst not follow me now: but thou shalt follow me afterwards.
37 Peter sayd unto him, Lord, why can not I follow thee now? I will ieopard my life for thy sake.

Iohn 13.11

3 *Nowe are yee cleane through the word which I haue spoken vnto you.

4 Bide in me, and I in you: As the branch can not beare fruit of it selfe, except it bide in the vine: no more can ye, except ye [a] abide in me.

a Those being forth no fruit, that are not graft in Christ.

5 I am the vine, ye are the branches: Hee that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me can ye do nothing.

6 If a man bide not in me, he is cast forth as a branch, and withereth, and men gather them, and cast them into the fire, and they burne.

7 If ye bide in me, and my wordes abide in you, ye shall aske what ye will, and it shalbe done for you.

c So that there is nothing omitted that is necessary for our saluation. Mat.28.19.

16 *Ye haue not chosen me, but I haue chosen you, and ordeined you, that you should goe and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remaine: that whatsoeuer ye shall aske of the father in my name, he may giue it you.

17 This command I you, that ye loue together.

The Gospel on S.Simon and Iudes day.

18 If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you.

19 If ye were of the world, the world would loue his own: howbeit, because ye are not of the world, but I haue chosen you out of the world, therefore the world hateth you.

20 *Remember the word that I sayd vnto you, The seruant is not greater then the lord: if they haue persecuted me, they wil also persecute you: if they haue kept my saying, they will keepe [d] yours also.

23 Hee that hateth mee, hateth my father also.

24 If I had not done among them the workes which none other man did, they should haue had no [e] sinne: but nowe haue they both seene, and hated both me and my father.

23 I in them, and thou in me, that they may be made perfect in one, and that the world may know that thou hast sent me, & hast loued them, as thou hast loued me.

Iohn 12,16 c That is, after they haue fulfilled their course in this life, they may enioy eternall life.

24 *Father, I will that they which thou hast giuen me, be c with me where I am, that they may see my glory which thou hast giuen me: for thou louedst mee before the foundation of the world.

25 O righteous Father, the world also hath not known thee: but I haue known thee, and these haue known that thou hast sent me.

26 And I haue declared vnto them thy name, and will declare it: that the loue where with thou hast loued me, may be in them, and I in them.

The xviij. Chapter.

3 Christ is betrayed by Iudas. 40 The Iewes aske Barabbas to be let loose.

The Gospel on Good Friday. Mat. 26, 36. mar. 14, 32. luke 22, 39.

WHen Iesus had spoken these words, *he went forth with his disciples ouer the brooke Cedron, where was a garden, into the which hee entred and his disciples.

2 Iudas also which betrayed him, knew the place: for Iesus oft times resorted thither with his disciples.

Mat. 26, 47. mar. 14, 43. luke 22 47.

3 *Iudas then, after he had receiued a band of men, and officers of the high Priests and Pharises, commeth thither with lanternes and torches, and weapons.

4 And Iesus, knowing all things that should come vpon him, went forth, and sayd vnto them, Whom seeke ye?

5 They answered him, Iesus of Nazareth. Iesus sayeth vnto them, I am hee. Iudas also which betrayed him, stood with them.

6 Assoone then as he had sayd vnto them, I am he, they went backward, & fell to the ground.

7 Then asked he them againe, Whom seeke ye? They sayd, Iesus of Nazareth.

8 Iesus answered, I haue told you that I am he: If ye seeke me therefore, a let these goe their way.

a The Apostles and disciples that are with me.

9 That the saying might be fulfilled which he spake, *Of them which thou gauest me, haue I not lost one.

Iohn 17.12

10 Then Simon Peter hauing a sword, drew it, and smote the high Priests seruant, and cut off his right eare: The seruants name was Malchus.

11 Therefore sayd Iesus vnto Peter, Put vp thy sword into the sheath: *Shall I not drinke of the cup which my father hath giuen me?

12 Then the company, and the captaine, and officers of the Iewes, tooke Iesus, and bound him, 13 *And led him away to Annas first, (for he was father in law to Caiaphas) which was the high Priest that same yere. And Annas sent Christ bound vnto Caiaphas the high Priest.

Luke 3.2.

Iohn 11.50

14 *Caiaphas was he which gaue counsel to the Iewes, that it was expedient that one man should die for the people.

15 *And Simon Peter followed Iesus, and so did another b Disciple: That Disciple was known vnto the high Priest, and went in with Iesus into the palace of the high Priest.

Mat. 26, 58, Iohn 18.

b That is, Iohn.

16 But Peter stood at the doore without. Then went out that other disciple, which was known vnto the high Priest, and spake vnto the damosell that kept the doore, and brought in Peter.

17 Then sayeth the damosell that kept the doore vnto Peter, Art not thou also one of this mans disciples? He sayth, I am not.

18 The seruants & officers stood there, which had made a fire of coales (for it was colde) and they warmed themselues: Peter also was standing among them, warming him.

19 The high Priest then asked Iesus of his disciples, and of his doctrine.

20 Iesus answered him, I spake openly to the world, I euer taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, whither all the Iewes resort, and in secret haue I sayd nothing:

21 Why askest thou me? Aske them which heard me what I haue sayd vnto them: behold, they can tell what I sayd.

22 When he had thus spoken, one of the officers which stood by, smote Iesus with a rod, saying, Answerest thou the high Priest so?

23 Iesus answered him, If I haue euill spoken, beare witnesse of the euill: but if I haue well spoken, why smitest thou me?

24 *Now Annas had sent him bound vnto Caiaphas the high Priest.

Mat. 26.57.

25 Simon Peter was standing & warming himselfe: *Then sayd they vnto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and sayd, I am not.

Mat. 26, 69,

26 One of the seruants of the high Priests (his cousin whose eare Peter smote off) sayeth vnto him, Did not I see thee in the garden with him?

27 Peter therefore denied againe, and immediatly the cocke crew.

28 *Then ledde they Iesus from Caiaphas, into the hall of iudgement: It was in the morning, and they themselues went not into the iudgement hall, lest they should be defiled: * but that they might eat the Passeouer.

Acts 10, 28,

29 Pilate then went out vnto them, and said, What accusation bring you against this man?

him, and iudge him after your owne law. The Iewes therefore sayd vnto him, It is not lawfull for vs to kill any man.

32 That the words of Iesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signifying what death hee should die.

33 Then Pilate entred into the iudgement hall againe, and called Iesus, and said vnto him, Art thou the King of the Iewes?

34 Iesus answered him, Sayest thou this thing of thy selfe? or did other tell it thee of me?

35 Pilate answered, Am I a Iew? Thine owne nation and high Priests haue deliuered thee vnto me: what hast thou done?

36 Iesus answered, My kingdome is not of this world: if my kingdome were of this world, then would my seruants surely fight, that I should not be deliuered to the Iewes: but now is my kingdome not from hence.

37 Pilate therefore sayd vnto him, Art thou a king then? Iesus answered, Thou sayest that I am a king: for this cause am I borne, and for this cause came I into the world, that I should beare witnesse vnto the trueth: and all that are of the trueth heare my voice.

38 Pilate sayth vnto him, What is trueth? And when he had sayd this, he went out againe vnto the Iewes, and sayth vnto them, I finde in him no fault at all.

39 Ye haue a custome that I should deliuer you one loose at the Passeouer: will yee that I loose vnto you the King of the Iewes?

40 Then cried they all againe, saying, Not him, but Barabbas. This Barabbas was a robber.

The xix. Chapter.

1 Christ is whipped, beaten, and crowned. 11 All power is of God.

THen Pilate tooke Iesus, and scourged him.

2 And the souldiers, when they had wound a crowne of thornes, they did put it on his head, & they did cast about him a purple garment,

3 And sayd, Haile king of the Iewes: and stroke him with rods.

4 Pilate went forth againe, and sayd vnto them, Beholde, I bring him forth to you, that ye may know that I finde no fault in him.

5 Then came Iesus forth, wearing the crowne of thorne, and the robe of purple: and Pilate sayth vnto them, Beholde the man.

6 When the high Priests therefore and officers saw him, they cried, saying, Crucifie him, crucifie him. Pilate sayth vnto them, Take ye him, and crucifie him: for I finde no fault in him.

7 The Iewes answered him, We haue a law, and by our law he ought to die: because he made himselfe the sonne of God.

8 When Pilate heard that saying, he was the more afrayd,

9 And went again into the iudgement hall, and sayth vnto Iesus, Whence art thou? But Iesus gaue him no answere.

10 Then sayeth Pilate vnto him, Speakest thou not vnto mee? Knowest thou not that I haue power to crucifie thee, and haue power to loose thee?

11 Iesus answered, Thou couldest haue no power at all against mee, except it were giuen thee from aboue: therefore he that deliuered me vnto thee, hath the more sinne.

12 And from thenceforth sought Pilate meanes to loose him: but the Iewes cried, saying, If thou let him go, thou art not Cesars friend: for whosoeuer maketh himselfe a king, speaketh against Cesar.

13 When Pilate heard that saying, he brought Iesus forth, and sat downe in the iudgement seat, in a place that is called the pauement, but in the Hebrew tongue, Gabbatha.

14 It was the preparing of the Passeouer, and about the sixt houre: and he sayth vnto the Iewes, Behold your king.

15 They cried, Away with him, away with him, crucifie him. Pilate saith vnto them, Shal I crucifie your king? The high Priests answered, We haue no king but Cesar.

16 Then deliuered hee him therefore vnto them to be crucified: and they tooke Iesus, and led him away.

17 And he bearing his crosse, went forth into a place which is called the place of a skull, but in the Hebrew, Golgotha:

18 Where they crucified him, and two other with him, on either side one, and Iesus in the middes.

19 And Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the crosse. The writing was, IESVS OF NAZARETH, THE KING OF THE IEWES.

20 This title read many of the Iewes: for the place where Iesus was crucified, was nigh to the citie: and it was written in Hebrew, and Greeke, and Latine.

21 Then sayd the high Priests of the Iewes to Pilate, Write not, The king of the Iewes: but that he sayd, I am king of the Iewes.

22 Pilate answered, What I haue written, that haue I written.

23 Then the souldiers, when they had crucified Iesus, tooke his garments, (and made foure parts, to euery souldier a part) and also his coat: the coat was without seame, wouen from the top throughout.

24 They sayd therefore among themselues, Let vs not diuide it, but cast lots for it, whose it shall be: that the Scripture might be fulfilled, saying, They parted my raiment among them, and for my coat did they cast lots. And the souldiers did such things in deed, 25 There stood by the crosse of Iesus, his mother, and his mothers sister, Mary the wife of Cleophas, and Mary Magdalene.

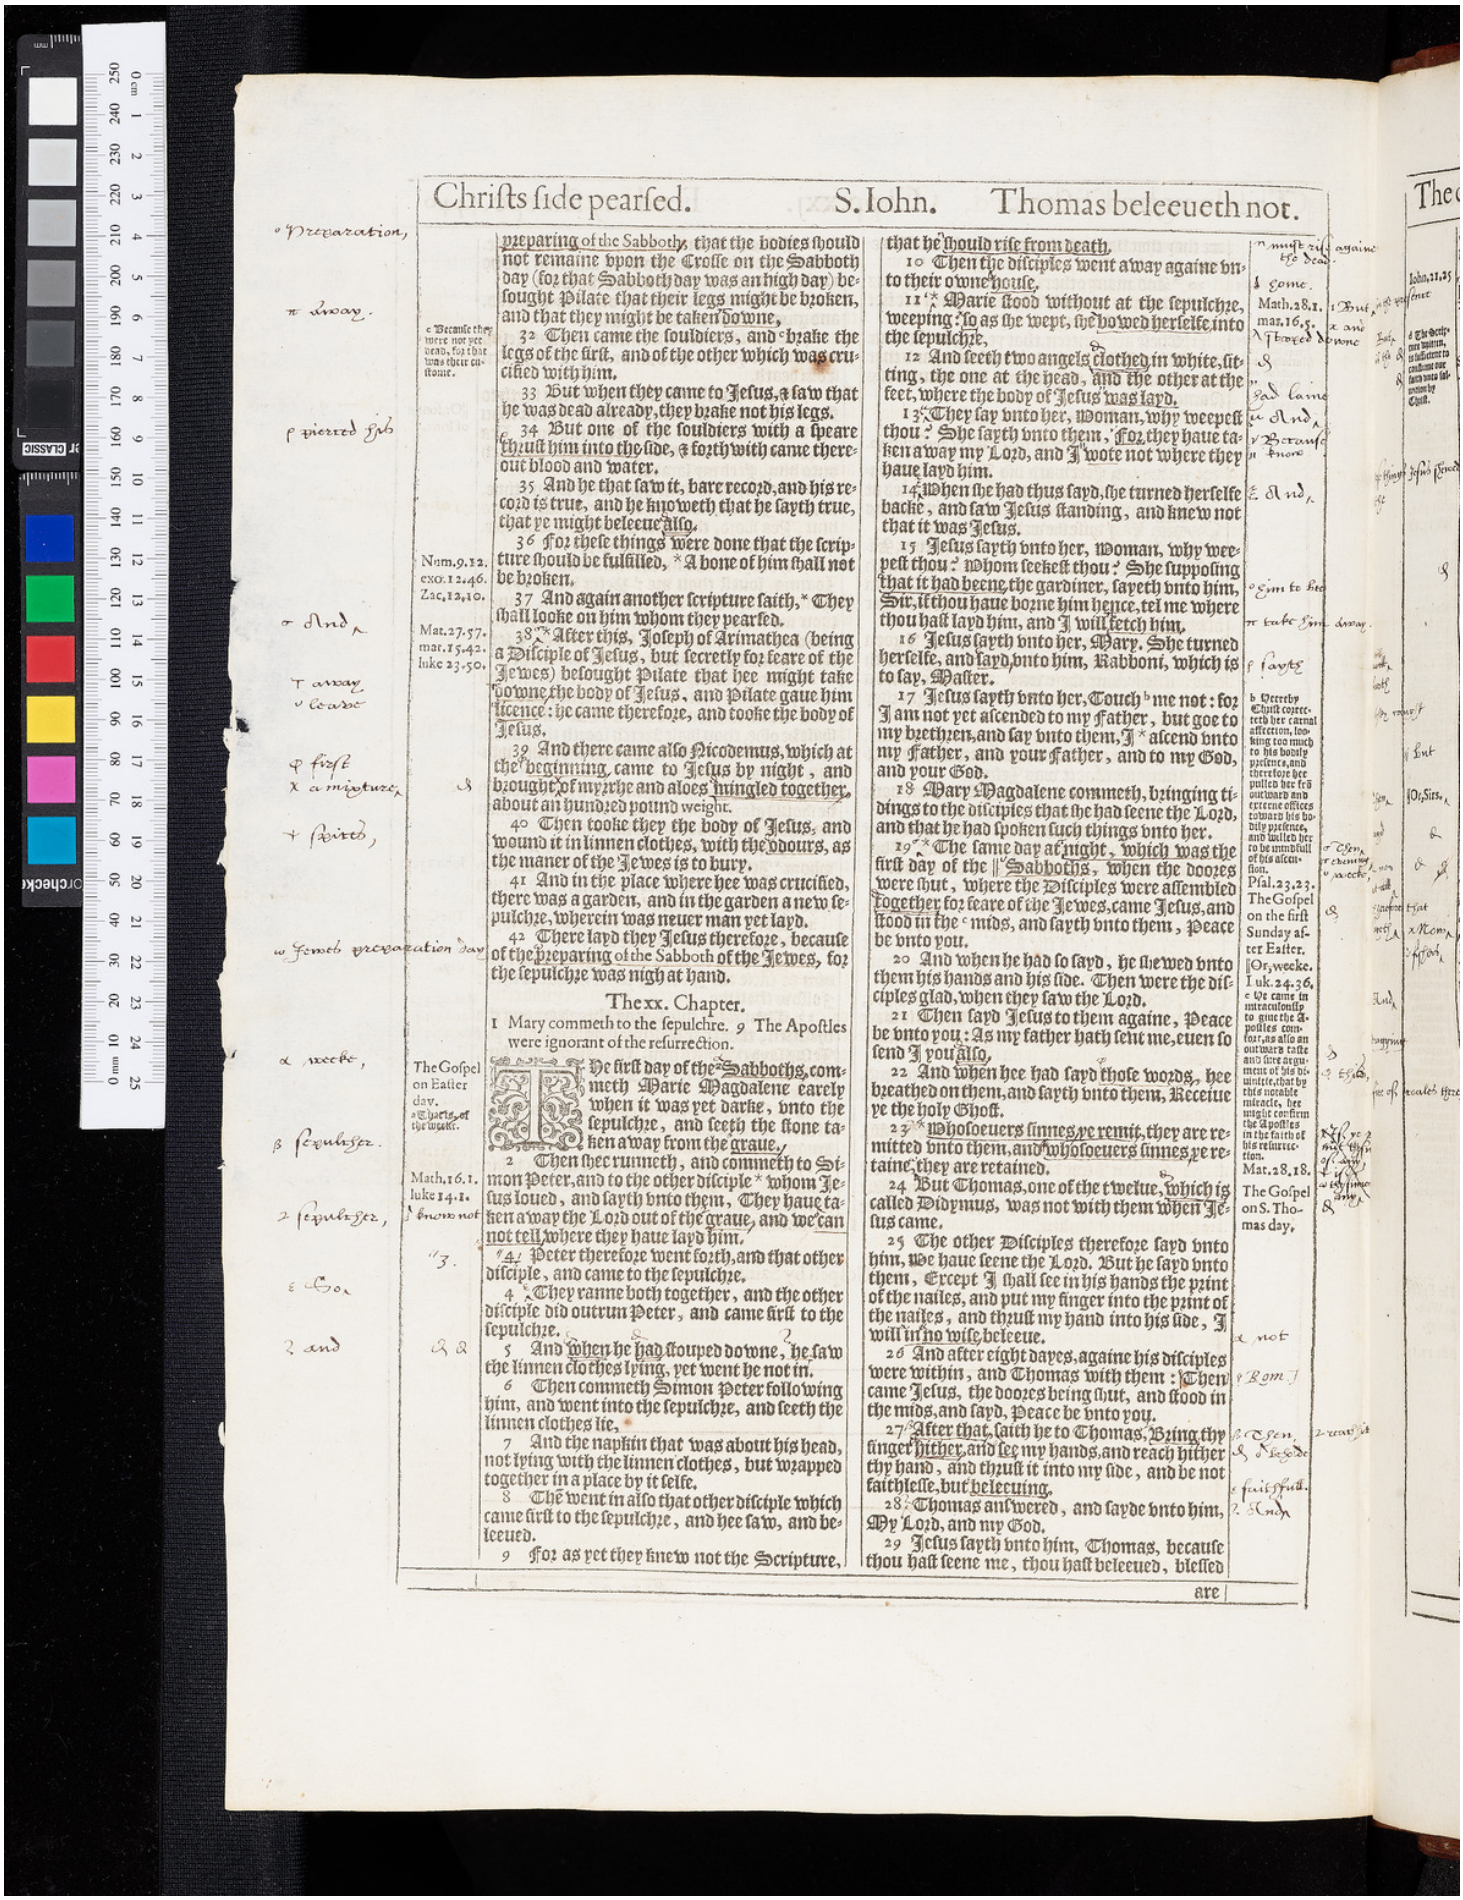
26 When Iesus therefore saw his mother and the disciple standing by, whom he loued, he saith vnto his mother, Woman, beholde thy sonne.

27 Then sayth he to the disciple, Beholde thy mother. And from that houre that disciple tooke her vnto his owne house.

28 After these things, Iesus knowing that all things were now performed, that the scripture might be fulfilled, he sayth, I thirst.



29 So there stood a vessell by, full of vineger: Therefore when they had filled a spunge with vineger, and put it vpon hyssope, they offered it to his mouth.

30 When Iesus therefore had receiued the vineger, he said, It is finished, and when he had bowed his head, he gaue vp the ghost.

31 The Iewes therefore, because it was the preparing preparing of the Sabboth, that the bodies should not remaine vpon the Crosse on the Sabboth day (for that Sabboth day was an high day) besought Pilate that their legs might be broken, and that they might be taken downe, 32 Then came the souldiers, and [c]brake the legs of the first, and of the other which was crucified with him.

33 But when they came to Iesus, & saw that he was dead already, they brake not his legs.

34 But one of the souldiers with a speare thrust him into the side, & forthwith came there out blood and water.

35 And he that saw it, bare record, and his record is true, and he knoweth that he sayth true, that ye might beleeue also.

36 For these things were done that the scripture should be fulfilled, *A bone of him shall not be broken.

37 And again another scripture saith,* They shall looke on him whom they pearsed.

38 *After this, Ioseph of Arimathea (being a Disciple of Iesus, but secretly for feare of the Iewes) besought Pilate that hee might take downe the body of Iesus, and Pilate gaue him licence: he came therefore, and tooke the body of Iesus.

39 And there came also Nicodemus, which at the beginning came to Iesus by night, and brought of myrrhe and aloes mingled together, about an hundred pound weight.

40 Then tooke they the body of Iesus, and wound it in linnen clothes, with the odours, as the maner of the Iewes is to bury.

41 And in the place where hee was crucified, there was a garden, and in the garden a new sepulchre, wherein was neuer man yet layd.

42 There layd they Iesus therefore, because of the preparing of the Sabboth of the Iewes, for the sepulchre was nigh at hand.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Mary commeth to the sepulchre. 9 The Apostles were ignorant of the resurrection.

THe first day of the [a]Sabboths, commeth Marie Magdalene earely when it was yet darke, vnto the sepulchre, and seeth the stone taken away from the graue,

2 Then shee runneth, and commeth to Simon Peter, and to the other disciple * whom Iesus loued, and sayth vnto them, They haue taken away the Lord out of the graue, and we can not tell where they haue layd him.

3 Peter therefore went forth, and that other disciple, and came to the sepulchre.

4 They ranne both together, and the other disciple did outrun Peter, and came first to the sepulchre.

5 And when he had stouped downe, he saw the linnen clothes lying, yet went he not in.

6 Then commeth Simon Peter following him, and went into the sepulchre, and seeth the linnen clothes lie,

7 And the napkin that was about his head, not lying with the linnen clothes, but wrapped together in a place by it selfe.

8 Then went in also that other disciple which came first to the sepulchre, and hee saw, and beleeued.

9 For as yet they knew not the Scripture, that he should rise from death.

10 Then the disciples went away againe vnto their owne house.

11 *Marie stood without at the sepulchre, weeping: so as she wept, she bowed herselfe into the sepulchre,

12 And seeth two angels clothed in white, sitting, the one at the head, and the other at the feet, where the body of Iesus was layd.

13 *They say vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? She sayth vnto them, For they haue taken away my Lord, and I wote not where they haue layd him.

14 *When she had thus sayd, she turned herselfe backe, and saw Iesus standing, and knew not that it was Iesus.

15 Iesus sayth vnto her, Woman, why weepest thou? whom seekest thou? She supposing that it had beene the gardiner, sayeth vnto him, Sir, if thou haue borne him hence, tel me where thou hast layd him, and I will fetch him.

16 Iesus sayth vnto her, Mary. She turned herselfe, and sayd vnto him, Rabboni, which is to say, Master.

17 Iesus sayth vnto her, Touch [b]me not: for I am not yet ascended to my father, but goe to my brethren, and say vnto them, I *ascend vnto my father, and your father, and to my God, and your God.

18 Mary Magdalene commeth, bringing tidings to the disciples that she had seene the Lord, and that he had spoken such things vnto her.

19 *The same day at night, which was the first day of the ‖Sabboths, when the doores were shut, where the Disciples were assembled together for feare of the Iewes, came Iesus, and stood in the [c]mids, and sayth vnto them, Peace be vnto you.

20 And when he had so sayd, he shewed vnto them his hands and his side. Then were the disciples glad, when they saw the Lord.

21 Then sayd Iesus to them againe, Peace be vnto you: As my father hath sent me, euen so send I you also.

22 And when hee had sayd those words, hee breathed on them, and sayth vnto them, Receiue ye the holy Ghost.

23 *Whosoeuers sinnes ye remit, they are remitted vnto them, and whosoeuers sinnes ye retaine, they are retained.

24 But Thomas, one of the twelue, which is called Didymus, was not with them when Iesus came.

25 The other Disciples therefore said vnto him, We haue seene the Lord. But he sayd vnto them, Except I shall see in his hands the print of the nailes, and put my finger into the print of the nailes, and thrust my hand into his side, I will in no wise beleeue.

26 And after eight dayes, againe his disciples were within, and Thomas with them: Then came Iesus, the doores being shut, and stood in the mids, and sayd, Peace be vnto you.

27 *After that, saith he to Thomas, Bring thy finger hither, and see my hands, and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side, and be not faithlesse, but beleeuing.

28 *Thomas answered, and sayde vnto him, My Lord, and my God.

29 Iesus sayth vnto him, Thomas, because thou hast seene me, thou hast beleeued, blessed are they that haue not seene, and yet haue beleeued.

30 *And many other signes truely did Jesus before the eyes of his Disciples, which are not written in this booke.

31 These are written, that ye might [d] beleeue that Jesus Christ is the sonne of God, and that in beleeuing, yee might haue life through his Name.

d The Scripture written, is sufficient to constitute our fairth vnto salvation by Christ.

The xxj. Chapter.

Christ forewarneth Peter of his death & persecution.

AFterward did Jesus shew himselfe againe to his Disciples at the sea of Tiberias, and on this wise shewed he himselfe.

2 There were together, Simon Peter, & Thomas, which is called Didymus, and Nathanael of Cana in Galilee, and the sonnes of Zebedee, & two other of his disciples.

3 Simon Peter saith vnto them, I goe a fishing. They say vnto him, Wee also goe with thee. They went their way, and entred into a shippe immediatly, and that night caught they nothing.

4 But when the morning was now come, Jesus stood on the shore: neuertheless, the disciples knew not that it was Jesus.

5 Jesus saith vnto them, ‖Children, haue ye any meat? They answered him, No.

6 And he saith vnto them, Cast out the net on the right side of the ship, & ye shall finde. They cast out therefore, and anon they were not able to draw it for the multitude of fishes.

7 [e] Then said the disciple whom Jesus loued, vnto Peter, It is the Lord. When Simon Peter heard that it was the Lord, he girt his coat vnto him (for hee was naked) and did cast himselfe into the sea.

8 And the other disciples came in a little shippe, (for they were not far from land, but as it were two hundred cubits) drawing the net with fishes.

9 Assoone then as they were come to land, they saw hote coales, and fish layd thereon, and bread.

10 Jesus saith vnto them, Bring of the fish, which ye haue now caught.

11 Simon Peter went vp, and drew the net to land full of great fishes, an hundred and fiftie and three, and for all there were so many, yet was not the net broken.

12 Jesus saith vnto them, Come, and dine. And none of the Disciples durst aske him, who art thou? knowing that it was the Lord.

13 Jesus then commeth, and taketh bread, and giueth them, and fish likewise.

14 This is now the third time that Jesus appeared to his disciples, after that he was risen from death.

15 So when they had dined, Jesus saith to Simon Peter, Simon ‖Joanna, louest thou me more then these? He saith vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He saith vnto him, Feed my lambs.

16 Hee saith to him againe the second time, Simon Joanna, louest thou me? He saith vnto him, Yea Lord, thou knowest that I loue thee. He saith vnto him, Feed my sheepe.

17 He said vnto him the third time, Simon Joanna, louest thou me? Peter was sory, because hee said vnto him the third time, Louest thou me? And hee said vnto him, Lord, thou knowest all things, thou knowest that I loue thee. Jesus saith vnto him, Feed my sheepe.

18 Verily, verily I say vnto thee, when thou wast yoonger, thou girdedst thy selfe, and walkedst whither thou wouldest: but when thou shalt be olde, thou shalt stretch foorth thy hands, and another shall gird thee, and cary thee whither thou wouldest not.

19 This spake he, signifying by what death he should glorifie God. And when he had spoken this, he saith vnto him, Follow me.

20 Peter turning about, seeth the Disciple whom *Jesus loued, following, which also leaned on his breast at supper, and said, Lord, which is he that betrayeth thee?

21 When Peter therefore saw him, hee saith to Jesus, Lord, what shall he do?

22 Jesus saith vnto him, If I will haue him to tarie till I come, what is that to thee? Follow thou me.

23 Then went this saying abroad among the brethren, that that Disciple should not die: Yet Jesus said not vnto him, He shall not die: but, If I will that he tary till I come, what is that to thee?

24 The same Disciple is he which testifieth of these things, and wrote these things, and we know that his testimony is true.

25 *There are also many other things which Jesus did, the which if they should be written euery one, I suppose the world could not conteine the bookes that should be written. Amen.

The Actes of the Apostles.

The first Chapter.

7 The words of Christ & his Angels to the Apostles. 9 His ascension. 14 Wherein the Apostles are occupied, till the holy Ghost be sent. 16 And of the election of Matthias.

The Epistle on Ascension day.

THe former booke haue I made, O Theophilus, of all that Iesus beganne both to doe and teach,

2 Untill the day in which he was taken vp, after that he through the holy Ghost had giuen commandements vnto the Apostles, whom he had chosen.

3 To whom also hee shewed himselfe aliue after his passion, and that by many tokens, appearing vnto them fourty dayes, and speaking of the kingdome of God:

4 And gathering them together, commanded them that they should not depart from Hierusalem, but wait for the promise of the father, Luk.24.49. iohn 14.25. Math.3.11. marke 1.8. luke 3.12. iohn 1.26. *whereof, sayth he, ye haue heard of me.

5 *For Iohn truely baptized with water, but ye shall be baptized with the holy Ghost, after these few dayes.

6 When they therefore were come together, they asked of him, saying, Lord, wilt thou at this time restore againe the kingdome of Israel?

7 And he sayd vnto them, It is not for you to know the times or the seasons, which the father hath put in his owne power.

Acts 2.1. 8 *But ye shall receiue power after that the holy Ghost is come vpon you, and ye shalbe witnesses vnto me, both in Hierusalem, and in all Iurie, and in Samaria, and euen vnto the worlds end.

Luke 24.52 9 *And when hee had spoken these things, while they beheld, he was taken vp on high, and a cloud receiued him vp out of their sight.

10 And while they looked vp stedfastly toward heauen, as he went, beholde, two men stood by them in white apparell,

11 Which also sayd, Ye men of Galilee, why stand ye gazing vp into heauen? This same Iesus, which is taken vp from you into heauen, shall so come, euen as ye haue seene him go into heauen.

12 Then returned they vnto Hierusalem, from the mount that is called Oliuet, which is from Hierusalem a Sabboth dayes iourney.

13 And when they were come in, they went vp into a parlour, where abode both Peter, and Iames, and Iohn, and Andrew, Philip, and Thomas, Bartholomew, and Mathew, Iames the sonne of Alpheus, and Simon Zelotes, and Iudas the brother of Iames.

14 These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication with the women, and Marie the mother of Iesus, and with his brethren.

†The Epistle on S. Matthias day. 15 ¶† And in those dayes Peter stood vp in the mids of the disciples, and sayd, (The number of [a] names together, were about an hundred and twentie)

16 Ye men and brethren, This Scripture must needs haue bene fulfilled, *which the holy Ghost by the mouth of Dauid spake before of Iudas, which was guide to them that tooke Iesus:

17 For he was numbred with vs, and had obteined fellowship in this ministerie.

18 *And the same hath nowe purchased a field with the reward of [b] iniquity, and when he was hanged, he burst asunder in the mids, and all his bowels gushed out.

19 And it was knowen vnto all the dwellers at Hierusalem, insomuch that the same field is called in the mother tongue, Aceldama, that is to say, The field of blood.

20 For it is written in the booke of Psalmes, *Let his habitation be desert, and no man dwelling therein: *And his Bishopricke let another take.

21 Wherefore of these men which haue companied with vs all the time that the Lord Iesus went out and in [c] among vs,

22 Beginning from the baptisme of Iohn, vnto that same day that he was taken vp from vs, must one be ordeined to be a witnesse with vs of his resurrection.

23 And they appointed two, Ioseph which is called Barsabas, whose surname was Iustus, and Matthias.

24 And when they had prayed, they said, Thou Lord, which knowest the hearts of all men, shew whether of these two thou hast chosen,

25 That he may take the roume of this ministerie and Apostleshippe, from which Iudas by transgression fell, that he might go to his owne place.

26 And they gaue foorth their [d] lots, and the lot fell vpon Matthias, and hee was counted with the eleuen Apostles.

[a] That is, of men: for men are woont namely to be counted, when they are numbred. Psal.50.9. ioh.13.18.

[c] That is, to say, after the language of the Hebrewes, he had the conuersation, and liued with vs.

[d] Lots for chusing officers, or deuiding of inheritance, ground, or goods, are allowed of God, as appeareth in the holy Scriptures: but daily rules, saith Gerlond, That lots of diuination to know superstitiously of things to come, are disallowed of God, and vtterly forbidden.

AND when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place.

2 *And suddenly there came a sound from heauen, as it had bene the comming of a mighty winde, and it filled all the house where they were sitting.

3 And there appeared vnto them clouen tongues, like as they had bene of fire, and it sate vpon ech of them.

4 And they were all filled with the holy Ghost, and began to speake with other tongues, as the spirit gaue them vtterance.

6 When this was noised about, the multitude came together and were astonied, because that euery man heard them speake in his owne language.

7 They wondred all, and marueiled, saying one to another, Behold, are not all these which speake, of Galilee?

8 And how heare we euery man his owne [a] tongue, wherein we were borne?

9 Parthians, and Medes, and Elamites, and the dwellers in Mesopotamia, and in Iury, and Cappadocia, in Pontus, and Asia,

10 Phrygia, and Pamphylia, in Egypt, and in the parts of Libya, which is beside Cyrene, and strangers of Rome, Iewes and [b] Proselites, 11 Cretes, and Arabians, we doe heare them speake in our tongues the wonderful workes of God.

12 They were all amazed, & were in doubt, saying one to another, What meaneth this?

13 Other mocking, sayd, These men are full of new wine.

14 But Peter standing forth with the eleuen, lift vp his voice, and sayd vnto them, Ye men of Iurie, and all ye that dwell at Hierusalem, bee this knowen vnto you, and heare my wordes:

15 For these are not drunken, as yee suppose, seeing it is but the [c] third houre of the day.

16 But this is that which was spoken by the Prophet Ioel,

17 *And it shalbe in the last daies (sayth God) of my spirit I will powre out vpon all flesh: and your sonnes and your daughters shall prophesie, and your yong men shall see visions, and your old men shall dreame dreames:

18 And on my seruants, and on my handmaidens, I will powre out of my spirit in those dayes, and they shall prophesie:

19 And I will shewe wonders in heauen aboue, and tokens in the earth beneath: blood, and fire, and the vapour of smoke.

Rom.10,13 21 *And it shall come to passe, that whosoeuer shall call on the Name of the Lorde, shall be saued.

22 Ye men of Israel, heare these wordes, Iesus of Nazareth, a man approued of God among you, with miracles, wonders, and signes, which God did by him in the middes of you, as ye your selues also know,

23 Him, after that yee had taken by wicked hands, being deliuered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, haue ye crucified and slaine:

24 Whom God hath raised vp, hauing loosed the sorowes of death, because it was impossible that he should be holden of it.

Psal,16,7. 25 For Dauid speaketh of him, *I sawe the Lord alwayes set forth before my face, for he is on my right hand, that I should not be moued.

26 Therefore did my heart reioice, and my tongue was glad: Moreouer also, my flesh shall rest in hope, 27 Because thou wilt not leaue my soule in hell, neither wilt thou suffer thine holy one to see corruption.

28 Thou hast shewed mee the wayes of life, thou shalt make me full of ioy with thy countenance.

29 Ye men and brethren, let me freely speake vnto you of the *Patriarch Dauid: For hee is both dead and buried, and his sepulchre is with vs vnto this day:

3.Reg.2.10

30 Therefore being a Prophet, and knowing that God had sworne with an oth to him, *that he would raise vp Christ, as concerning the flesh, of the fruit of his loines, to sit on his seate,

Psa.132.11

31 He seeing this before, spake of the resurrection of Christ, *that his soule was not left in hell, neither his flesh did see corruption.

Psal. 16,10.

32 This Iesus hath God raised vp, whereof we all are witnesses.

33 Then being by the right hand of God exalted, and hauing receiued of the Father the promise of the holy Ghost, he hath shed forth this, which ye now see and heare.

34 For Dauid is not ascended into the heauens, but he sayth himselfe, *The Lord sayd vnto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand,

Psal, 110,1.

35 Until I make thy foes thy foote stoole.

36 Therefore let all the house of Israel know for a suretie, that God hath made that same Iesus whom yee haue crucified, both Lord and Christ.

37 Nowe when they heard this, they were pricked in their heart, and sayd vnto Peter, and to the other Apostles, Yee men and brethren, what shall we doe?

38 Then Peter sayd vnto them, Repent ye, and let euery one of you be baptized in the name of Iesus Christ, for the remission of sinnes, and ye shall receiue the gift of the holy Ghost.

39 For the promise was made vnto you, and to your children, and to all that are afarre off, euen as many as the Lord our God shal call.

40 And with many other words dare he witnes, and exhorted them, saying, Saue your selues from this vntoward generation.

41 Then they that gladly receiued his word, were baptized: and the same day there were added vnto them about three thousand soules.

42 And they continued stedfastly in the Apostles doctrine and [d] fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers.

43 And feare came vpon euery soule: and many wonders and signes were done by the Apostles.

44 And all that beleeued were together, and had all things common,

45 And solde their possessions and goods, and had parted them to all men, as euery man had neede.

46 And they continuing dayly with one accord in the Temple, and breaking bread from house to house, did eate their meate together with gladnesse of heart, 47 Praising God, and hauing fauour with all the people. And the Lord added to the Church dayly such as should be saued.

The iij. Chapter.

7 The halt is restored to his feete. 12 Peter preached Christ vnto the people.

NOwe Peter and John went vp together into the Temple at the ninth houre of prayer.

a It is most like that the miracle was both in ỹ speakers, and also in the hearers. In the speakers, for that they speaking the Hebrewe tongue, did well perceiue that strangers of diuers nations & languages did vnderstand them: And in the hearers, for that euery man heard seuerally his owne countrey language out of the Apostles, speaking in their mother tongue.

d By fellowship is meant a godly companying together, in practising the workes of charitie, in tendering and helping one another, in distributing by almes their goods to their neighbors. By breaking of bread is meant the mystery wherein our sauiour Christ doeth communicate and distribute vnto vs his body and blood, by his blessed sacrament of bread ỹ wine, where is presented to ỹ eyes of our faith, the breaking of Christs body, and the shedding of his blood.

the people, let vs threaten, and charge them that they speake hencefoorth to no man in this Name.

18 And they called them, and commaunded them, that in no wise they should speake nor teach in the Name of Jesu.

19 But Peter and John answered, and saide vnto them, whether it bee right in the sight of God, to hearken vnto you more then to God, iudge ye.

20 For we cannot but speake that, which we haue seene and heard.

21 So when they had more sharpely threatned them, they let them goe, finding nothing howe to punish them, because of the people: for al men glorified God, because of that which was done.

22 For the man was about fourtie yeeres olde, on whom this miracle of healing was shewed.

23 Then alloone as they were let goe, they came to their fellowes, and shewed all that the high Priestes and Elders had said vnto them.

24 And when they heard that, they lift vp their voyces to God with one accorde, and said, Lord, thou art God which hast made heauen and earth, the sea, and all that in them is,

25 Which by the mouth of thy seruant Dauid hast said, *Why did the heathen rage, and the people imagine vaine things? Psal.2.1.

29 And now Lord, behold their threatnings, and graunt vnto thy seruants, that with all boldnesse they may speake thy word,

30 So that thou stretch foorth thine hand, that healing, and signes, and wonders bee done by the Name of thy holy childe Jesus.

31 And as soone as they had prayed, the place mooued where they were assembled together, and they were all filled with the holy Ghost, and they spake the word of God boldly.

32 And the multitude of them that beleeued, were of one heart, and of one soule: Neither said any of them, that ought of the things which hee possessed, was his owne, but they had all things common.

33 And with great power gaue the Apostles witnesse of the resurrection of the Lord Jesu, and great grace was with them all.

34 Neither was there any among them that lacked: For as many as were possessors of lands, or houses, solde them, and brought the price of the things that were solde,

35 And layde it downe at the Apostles feete: And distribution was made vnto euery man according as he had neede.

36 And Joses, which was also called of the Apostles Barnabas (that is to say, if ye interprete it, The sonne of consolation) being a Leuite, and of the countrey of Cyprus, 37 Hauing land, sold it, and brought the money, and layde it downe at the Apostles feete.

The v. Chapter.

12 Miracles are done by the Apostles. 34 The sentence of Gamaliel.

BUt a certaine man named Ananias, with Sapphira his wife, solde a possession,

2 And kept away part of the price, his wife also being of counsell, and brought a certaine part, and layde it downe at the Apostles feete.

3 But Peter saide, Ananias, how is it that Satan hath filled thine heart, to lie vnto the holy Ghost, and keepe away part of the price of the land?

4 Whiles it remained, was it not thine owne? and after it was sold, was it not in thine owne power? why hast thou conceiued this thing in thine heart? thou hast not lied vnto men, but vnto God.

5 Ananias hearing these words, fel downe, and gaue vp the ghost: and great feare came on all them that heard these things.

6 And the yong men rose vp, and put him apart, and caried him out, and buried him.

7 And it came to passe, that as it were about the space of three houres after, his wife came in, not knowing that which was done:

8 And Peter said vnto her, Tell me, solde ye not the land for so much? And she saide, Yea, for so much.

9 Then Peter saide vnto her, Why haue ye agreed together, to tempt the Spirit of the Lord? beholde, the feete of them which haue buried thy husband, are at the doore, and shall cary thee out.

10 Then fell shee downe straightway at his feete, and yeelded vp the ghost: And the yong men came in, and found her dead, and caried her out, and buried her by her husband.

11 And great feare came vpon al the Church, and vpon as many as heard these things.

The Epistle on S. Bartholomew the Apostle.

12 And by the handes of the Apostles, were many signes and wonders shewed among the people. (And they were altogether with one accord in Salomons porch.

13 And of other durst no man ioyne himselfe to them: neuertheless, the people magnified them.

14 The number of them that beleeued in the Lord, both of men and women, grewe more and more.)

15 Insomuch that they brought the sicke into the streets, and layed them on beds & couches, that at the least way the [a] shadow of Peter when he came by, might shadow some of them.

16 There came also a multitude of the cities round about vnto Hierusalem, bringing sicke folkes, & them which were vexed with vncleane spirits: and they were healed euery one.

17 Then the chiefe Priest rose vp, and all they that were with him (which is the sect of the Sadducees) and were full of indignation, 18 And layde hands on the Apostles, and put them in the common prison.

19 But the Angel of the Lord by night opened the prison doores, and brought them foorth, and said, 20 Goe, and stand and speake in the Temple to the people all the words of this life.

into the temple early in the morning, & taught: but the chiefe Priest came, and they that were with him, and called a counsell together, and all the Elders of the children of Israel, and sent to the prison to fetch them.

22 But when the officers came, and found them not in the prison, they returned, and tolde,

23 Saying, The prison truely found we shut with all diligence, & the keepers standing without before the doores, but when we had opened, we found no man within.

24 Then when the chiefe Priest, and the captaine of the Temple, and the high Priests heard these things, they doubted of them whereunto this would grow.

25 Then came one and shewed them, saying, Beholde, the men that ye put in prison, are standing in the Temple, and teaching the people.

26 Then went the captaine of the Temple, with the officers, and brought them without violence: (for they feared the people, lest they should haue bene stoned.)

27 And when they had brought them, they set them before the Councell, and the chiefe Priest asked them,

Acts 4.18. 28 Saying, *Did not we straitly command you that you should not teach in this Name? And beholde, ye haue filled Hierusalem with your doctrine, and intend to bring [b] this mans blood vpon vs.

[b] By this speech, they meant that they would charge them as guiltie of Christs blood that was shed.

29 Then Peter and the other Apostles answered, and sayd, We ought more to obey God then men.

30 The God of our fathers raised vp Jesus, whom ye slew, and hanged on tree.

31 Him hath God lift vp with his right hand to be a Prince and a Sauiour, for to giue repentance to Israel, and forgiuenesse of sinnes.

32 And we are records of those things which we say, and so is also the holy Ghost, whom God hath giuen to them that obey him.

33 When they heard that, they claue asunder, and sought meanes to slay them.

34 Then stood there vp one in the Councell, a Pharisee, named Gamaliel, a doctour of Law, had in reputation among all the people, and commanded to put the Apostles foorth a little space, 35 And sayd vnto them, Yee men of Israel, take heed to your selues, what ye entend to doe as touching these men.

36 For before these dayes rose vp one Theudas, reporting himselfe to be some great man, to whom a number of men, about a foure hundred, ioyned themselues: which was slaine, and they all which ‖ beleeued him were scattered abroad, and brought to nought.

‖ Or, agreed vnto.

37 After this man rose vp one Judas of Galilee, in the dayes of tribute, and drew away much people after him: he also perished, and all, euen as many as obeyed him, were scattered abroad.

38 And now I say vnto you, refraine your selues from these men, and let them alone: for if this counsel or this worke be of men, it will come to nought:

39 But and if it be of God, ye cannot destroy it, least happily yee be found to striue against God.

40 And to him they agreed: and when they had called the Apostles, and beaten them, they commanded that they should not speake in the Name of Jesu, and let them go.

41 And they departed from the face of the Councel, reioycing that they were counted worthy to suffer shame for his Name.

42 And daily in the Temple, and in euery house, they ceased not to teach and preach Jesus Christ.

The vj. Chapter.

AND in those dayes, when the number of the Disciples grew, there arose a grudge among the Grecians against the Hebrewes, because their widowes were despised in the daily ministerie.

2 Then the twelue called the multitude of the disciples together, and sayd, It is not good that we should leaue the word of God, and serue tables.

3 Wherefore brethren, looke ye out among you, seuen men of honest report, and full of the holy Ghost, and wisedome, to whom we may commit this businesse.

4 But we will giue our selues continually to prayer, and to the ministery of the word.

5 And the saying pleased the whole multitude: *and they chose Steuen, a man full of faith and of the holy Ghost, and Philip, and Prochorus, and Nicanor, and Timon, and Permenas, and Nicholas a conuert of Antioch.

Acts 21.8.

6 These they set before the Apostles: and when they had prayed, they layd their hands on them.

7 And the word of God encreased, and the number of the Disciples multiplied in Hierusalem greatly, and a great company of the Priests were obedient to the faith.

8 And Steuen full of faith and power, did great woonders and miracles among the people.

9 Then there arose certaine of the [a] Synagogue, which is called the Synagogue of the Libertines, and Cyrenians, and of Alexandria, and of Cilicia, and of Asia, disputing with Steuen:

[b] The wicked seeketh foorth false witnesses, when they by reasoning can not preuaile against the truth: And thus malice seeketh false Christs, when the truth faileth her.

12 And they mooued the people, and the Elders, and the Scribes, and came vpon him, and caught him, and brought him to the Councell:

13 And brought forth false witnesses, which sayd, This man ceaseth not to speake blasphemous wordes against this holy place, and the Law.

14 For we heard him say, that this Jesus of Nazareth shal destroy this place, and shal change the ordinances which Moses gaue vs.

Then said the chiefe Priest, Are these things so?

2 And hee saide, Ye men, brethren, and fathers, hearken: The God of glory appeared vnto our father Abraham, when he was in Mesopotamia, before he dwelt in Charran,

3 And said vnto him, Get thee out of thy countrey, and from thy kinred, * and come into the land which I shall shew thee. Gen.12.13.

4 Then came he out of the land of the Chaldeans, and dwelt in Charran: and from thence, when his father was dead, he brought him into this land wherein ye now dwel.

5 And he gaue him none inheritance in it, no not the breadth of a foote: and promised that he would giue it to him to possesse, and to his seed after him, when as yet he had no childe.

6 God verily spake on this wise, that his seede should sojourne in a strange land, and that they should keepe it in bondage, and entreate them euil foure hundreth [a] yeeres.

a This is not to be vnderstood, that they should be euil intreated the whole 400. yeeres: but by figure of speech, called Hyperbole, is signified that they should be euil intreated within the space of 400. yeeres. Act.7.11.

7 And the nation to whom they shall be in bondage, will I iudge, saide God: And after that shall they come foorth, and serue me in this place.

16 * And were caried ouer into Sichem, and layde in the sepulchre that [b] Abraham bought for money of the sonnes of Emor, the sonne of Sichem. Gen.49.33 and 50.7.

b Here appeareth an error: For Abraham seemeth to be put in the text in the stead of Jacob. For Jacob bought the sepulchre of Emor, and not Abraham, who bought before a field of Ephron.

17 But when the time of the promise drew nigh, which God had sworne to Abraham, the people grew and multiplied in Egypt:

18 Till another King arose, which knew not of Joseph.

22 And Moses was learned in all maner of wisedome of the Egyptians, and was mighty in deedes and in words,

23 And when he was full fortie yeeres olde, it came into his heart to visite his brethren the children of Israel.

24 * And when hee sawe one of them suffer wrong, he defended him, and auenged his quarell that had the harme done to him, and smote the Egyptian: Exod.2.11.

25 For he supposed his brethren would haue vnderstood, how that God by his hand should deliuer them: but they vnderstood not.

27 But hee that did his neighbour wrong, thrust him away, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a Judge ouer vs?

28 Wilt thou kill mee, as thou diddest the Egyptian yesterday?

29 Then fled Moses at that saying, and was a stranger in the land of Madian, where he begate two sonnes.

33 Then sayd the Lorde to him, Put off thy shoes from thy feete: for the place where thou standest, is holy ground.

34 I haue seene, I haue seene the affliction of my people which is in Egypt, and I haue heard their groning, and am come downe to deliuer them: And nowe come, and I will send thee into Egypt.

35 This Moses whom they forsooke, saying, Who made thee a ruler and a Judge? the same did God send to be a ruler and a deliuerer, by the handes of the Angel which appeared to him in the bramble bush.

59 And they ſtoned Steuen, calling on, and ſaying, Lord Ieſu, receiue my ſpirit.

The viij. Chapter.

4 The Apoſtles are ſcattered abroad. 38 Philip baptizeth the Eunuch.

AND Saul was conſenting vnto his death: and at that time there was a great perſecution againſt the Church which was at Hieruſalem, and they were all ſcattered abroade thoꝛowout the regions of Iury, and Samaria, except the Apoſtles.

2 And deuoute men caried Steuen together to his buriall, and made great lamentation ouer him.

3 As foꝛ Saul, hee made hauocke of the Church, entring into euery houſe, and dꝛawing out both men and women, did put them into pꝛiſon.

4 Therfoꝛe they that were ſcattered abroad, went euery where pꝛeaching the woꝛd of God.

5 Then came Philip into the city of Samaria, and pꝛeached Chꝛiſt vnto them.

6 And the people gaue heede vnto thoſe things which Philip ſpake, with one accoꝛde, hearing and ſeeing the miracles which he did.

7 Foꝛ vncleane ſpirits, crying with lowde voice, came out of many that were poſſeſſed with them: and many taken with paſſies, and many that halted, were healed.

8 And there was great ioy in that citie.

9 But there was a certaine man called Simon, which beforе time in the ſame citie vſed witchcraft, and bewitched the people of Samaria, ſaying that hee was a man that could doe great things:

10 To whom they all gaue heede, from the leaſt to the greateſt, ſaying, This man is the great powеr of God.

11 And him they ſet much by, becauſe that of long time hee had bewitched them with ſoꝛceries.

12 But when they beleeued Philips pꝛeaching of the kingdome of God, and of the Name of Ieſus Chꝛiſt, they were baptized, both men and women.

13 Then Simon himſelfe beleeued alſo: and when he was baptized, he continued with Philip, and wondered, beholding the miracles and ſignes which were done.

The Epiſtle on the Tueſday in Whitſunweeke. 14 When the Apoſtles which were at Hieruſalem, heard ſay that Samaria had receiued the woꝛde of God, they ſent vnto them Peter and John.

15 Which when they were come downe, pꝛayed foꝛ them that they might receiue the holy Ghoſt.

16 (Foꝛ as yet hee was come downe vpon none of them: but they were baptized [a] onely in the Name of Chꝛiſt Ieſu.)

17 Then layde they their hands on them, and they receiued the holy Ghoſt.

18 And when Simon ſaw that thꝛough laying on of the Apoſtles handes, the holy Ghoſt was giuen, he offered them money, 19 Saying, Giue mee alſo this powеr, that on whomſoeuer I put the handes, hee may receiue the holy Ghoſt.

20 But Peter ſaid vnto him, Thy money periſh with thee, becauſe thou haſt thought that the gift of God may be obteined with money.

21 Thou haſt neither part noꝛ felloweſhip in this buſineſſe: foꝛ thy heart is not right in the ſight of God.

23 Foꝛ I perceiue that thou art [b] in the gall of bitterneſſe, and in the bond of [c] iniquitie.

24 Then anſwered Simon, and ſaide, Pꝛay ye to the Lord foꝛ mee, that none of theſe things which ye haue ſpoken, fall on me.

[a] They that were baptized onely in the Name of Chꝛiſt, no doubt had receiued the holy Ghoſt ſufficiently touching theſe ſalutem but foꝛ further confirmation of Chꝛiſtes Religion, nowe newly let foꝛth, the manifeſt and vnwont gifts of the holy Ghoſt appeared among the Chꝛiſtians, by laying on of handes of the Apoſtles.

25 And they, when they had testified and preached the word of the Lord, returned toward Hierusalem, and preached the Gospel in many villages of the Samaritanes.

26 And the Angel of the Lord spake vnto Philip, saying, Arise, and go toward the South, vnto the way that goeth downe from Hierusalem vnto Gaza, which is desart.

27 And he arose, and went on: and beholde, a man of Ethiopia, an Eunuch, and of great authoritie with Candace, Queene of the Ethiopians, and had the rule of all her treasure, which came to Hierusalem for to worship.

28 And as hee returned home againe, sitting in his charet, he read Esaias the Prophet.

29 Then the Spirit said vnto Philip, Come neere, and ioyne thy selfe to this charet.

30 And Philip ran thither to him, and heard him reade the Prophet Esaias, and said, Vnderstandest thou what thou readest?

31 And he said, How can I, except some man should guide me? And hee desired Philip that he would come vp, and sit with him.

Esay.53.7. 32 The tenor of the Scripture, which hee read, was this, *He was led as a sheepe to the slaughter, and like a Lambe dumbe before the shearer: so opened not he his mouth.

33 In his humilitie, his Judgement is exalted: but who shall declare his generation? For his life is taken from the earth.

34 And the Eunuch answered Philip, and said, I pray thee, of whom speaketh the Prophet this? of himselfe, or of some other man?

35 Then Philip opened his mouth, and began at the same Scripture, and preached vnto him Jesus.

36 And as they went on their way, they came vnto a certaine water: & the Eunuch said, See, here is water, what doeth let me to be baptized?

37 Philip saide vnto him, If thou beleeuest with all thine heart, thou mayest. And hee answered, and said, I beleeue that Jesus Christ is the Sonne of God.

38 And he commaunded the charet to stand still: and they went downe both into the water, both Philip, and also the Eunuch, and hee baptized him.

39 And as soone as they were come out of the water, the Spirit of the Lord caught away Philip, that the Eunuch saw him no more: and he went on his way reioycing.

40 But Philip was found at Azotus: and he walked thorowout the countrey, preaching in al the cities, till he came to Cesarea.

3 The conuersion of Saul. 34 Peter healeth Eneas, 40 and raiseth vp Tabitha.

Rom.9.3. The Epistle on the conuersion of S. Paul.

AND *Saul [a] yet breathing out threatnings and slaughter against the Disciples of the Lord, went vnto the high Priest,

2 And desired of him letters to carry to Damascus, to the Synagogues, that if hee found any of this way, whether they were men or women, he might bring them bound vnto Hierusalem.

3 And when hee iourneyed, it came to passe, that as he was come nigh to Damascus, suddenly there shined round about him a light from heauen.

4 And he fell to the earth, and heard a voyce saying vnto him, *Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

1.Cor.15.8.

5 And he said, Who art thou, Lord? And the Lord said, I am Jesus whom thou persecutest: It is hard for thee to kicke against the pricks.

6 And he both trembling and astonied, said, Lord, what wilt thou haue me to doe? And the Lord said vnto him, Arise, and goe into the citie, and it shall be tolde thee what thou must do.

7 The men also which iourneyed with him, stood amazed, [b] hearing a voyce, but seeing no man.

8 And Saul arose from the earth, and when his eyes were opened, hee saw no man: but they led him by the hand, and brought him into Damascus.

9 And hee was three dayes without sight, and neither did eate nor drinke.

10 And there was a certaine disciple at Damascus, named Ananias: and to him saide the Lord in a vision, Ananias. And he said, Behold, I am here, Lord.

11 And the Lord said vnto him, Arise, and go into the streete, which is called Straight, and seeke in the house of Judas, after one called Saul, of Tarsus: for beholde, he prayeth, 12 And hath seene in a vision, a man named Ananias, comming in to him, and putting his handes on him, that hee might receiue his sight.

13 Then Ananias answered, Lord, I haue heard by many of this man, how much euill he hath done to thy Saints at Hierusalem:

14 And here hee hath authoritie of the high Priests, to binde all that call on thy Name.

15 The Lord said vnto him, Goe thy way: for he is a chosen vessell vnto me, to beare my Name before the Gentiles, and Kings, and the children of Israel.

16 For I will shew him how great things he must suffer for my Names sake.

17 And Ananias went his way, and entred into the house, and put his handes on him, and said, Brother Saul, the Lord (euen Jesus that appeared vnto thee in the way as thou camest) hath sent mee, that thou mightest receiue thy sight, and be filled with the holy Ghost.

18 And immediatly there fell from his eyes as it had bene scales, and he receiued sight forthwith, and arose, and was baptized.

19 And when he had receiued meate, he was comforted. Then was Saul certaine daies with the disciples which were at Damascus.

20 And straightway he preached Christ in the Synagogues, that he is the Sonne of God.

21 But all that heard him, were amazed, and said, Is not this he that destroyed them which called on this Name in Hierusalem, and came hither for that intent, that he might bring them bound vnto the high Priests?

22 But Saul increased the more in strength, and confounded the Jewes which dwelt at Damascus, proouing by conferring one Scripture with another, that this is very Christ.

23 And after that many dayes were fulfilled, the Jewes tooke counsell together to kill him.

24 But their laying awaite was knowen of Saul: *and they watched the gates day and night to kill him.

a Saul breathed and blustred with rage and cruelty against Christes Church, which declareth vnbeleeuing man to be led by his euil zeale, before he hath the true knowledge of God.

b No marueile though weake & corruptible flesh was amazed at heauenly things, sith the talke of God, whereby it came to passe, that they heard a voyce, as here is written, and heard no voyce, as is written in the 22. Chapter. For they heard a voyce, and vnderstood it not.

and put him downe by the wall, and let him downe in a basket.

26 And when Saul was come to Hierusalem, he assayed to couple himselfe to the disciples, but they were all afrayd of him, and beleeued not that he was a disciple.

27 But Barnabas tooke him, and brought him to the Apostles, and declared vnto them how hee had seene the Lord in the way, and that hee had spoken to him, and howe hee had preached boldly at Damascus in the Name of Iesus.

28 And hee was with them comming in, and going out at Hierusalem,

29 Speaking boldly in the Name of the Lord Iesus, and hee spake and disputed against the Grecians: but they went about to slay him.

30 Which when the brethren knewe, they brought him to Cesarea, and sent him forth to Tarsus.

31 Then had the Churches rest throughout all Iurie, and Galilee, and Samaria, and were edified, and walked in the feare of the Lord, and multiplied by the comfort of the holy Ghost.

32 And it came to passe, as Peter walked throughout all quarters, hee came also to the Saints which dwelt at Lydda.

33 And there hee found a certaine man named Eneas, which had kept his bedde eight yeeres, and was sicke of the palsie.

34 And Peter saide vnto him, Eneas, Iesus Christ maketh thee whole: arise, and make thy bed. And he arose immediatly.

35 And all that dwelt at Lydda and Saron, saw him, which turned to the Lord.

36 There was also at Ioppa a certaine woman, a disciple, named Tabitha, which by interpretation is called [c] Dorcas: the same was full of good workes, and almes deedes, which she did.

37 And it came to passe in those dayes that she was sicke, and died: whom when they had washed, they layed her in an vpper chamber.

38 And forasmuch as Lydda was nigh to Ioppa, and the disciples had heard that Peter was there, they sent vnto him two men, desiring him that he would not be grieued to come to them.

39 Then Peter arose, and came with them: when he was come, they brought him into the vpper chamber: And all the widowes stoode round about him weeping, & shewing the coats and garments with Dorcas made, while shee was with them.

40 And Peter put them all forth, and kneeled downe, and prayed, and turned him to the body, and saide, Tabitha, arise. And she opened her eyes, and when she saw Peter, she sate vp.

41 And Peter gaue her the hand, and lift her vp: and when he had called the Saints and widowes, he deliuered her aliue.

42 And it was knowen throughout all Ioppa, and many beleeued in the Lord.

43 And it came to passe, that hee taried many dayes in Ioppa, with one Simon a Tanner.

[c] Tabitha is called Dorcas. Dorcas signifieth a Roe buck. a beast of sharpe sight. Which anone was Tabitha, to this effect, that she being on earth sawe from heauen, did beholde heauenly things, and drawe neere vnto heauen with godly workes.

The x. Chapter.

11 The vision that Peter sawe. 17 Hee was sent to Cornelius.

THere was a certaine man in Cesarea, called Cornelius, a captaine of the band, called the Italian band,

2 A deuout man, and one that feared God with all his houshold, which gaue much almes to the people, and prayed God alway,

3 The same sawe by a vision euidently, about the ninth houre of the day, an angel of God comming in to him, and saying vnto him, Cornelius.

4 And when hee looked on him, hee was afraid, and said, What is it, Lord? And he said vnto him, Thy [a] prayers and thine almes are come vp into remembrance before God.

5 And now sende men to Ioppa, and call for one Simon, whose surname is Peter.

6 Hee lodgeth with one Simon a Tanner, whose house is by the sea side: hee shall tell thee what thou oughtest to doe.

7 And when the Angel which spake vnto Cornelius, was departed, hee called two of his houshold seruants, and a deuoute souldier of them that waited on him,

8 And tolde them all the matter, and sent them to Ioppa.

9 On the morrowe as they went on their iourney, and drewe nigh vnto the citie, Peter went vp into the highest part of the house to pray, about the sixth houre.

10 And when hee wared hungry, hee would haue eaten: But while they made ready hee fell into a traunce,

11 And he seeth [b] heauen opened, and a certaine vessel come downe vnto him, as it had bene a great sheete, knit at the foure corners, and let downe to the earth:

12 Wherein were all maner of foure footed beasts of the earth, and wilde beasts, and such as creepe, and fowles of the aire.

13 And there came a voice to him, Rise, Peter: kill, and eate.

14 But Peter said, Not so, Lord: for I haue neuer eaten any thing that is common or vncleane.

15 And the voice spake vnto him againe the second time, What God hath cleansed, that ‖call not thou common.

16 This was done thrise: and the vessell was receiued vp againe into heauen.

17 Nowe while Peter doubted in himselfe what this vision which hee had seene should meane: behold, the men which were sent from Cornelius, had made inquirance for Simons house, and stood before the doore,

18 And called, and asked whether Simon, which was surnamed Peter, were lodged there.

19 While Peter thought on the vision, the spirit said vnto him, Behold, three men seeke thee.

20 Arise therefore, and get thee downe, and goe with them, doubting nothing: for I haue sent them.

21 Then Peter went down to the men which were sent vnto him from Cornelius, and saide, Behold, I am he, whom ye seeke: what is the cause wherefore ye are come?

22 And they said, Cornelius the captain, a iust man, and one that feareth God, and of good report among all the people of the Iewes, was warned by an holy angel, to send for thee into his house, and to heare words of thee.

23 Then called he them in, and lodged them: And on the morrowe Peter went away with them, and certaine brethren from Ioppa accompanied him.

[a] The prayers and almes of Cornelius pleased God before he was baptized: but without faith God cannot be pleased, Cornelius therefore (as Bede truely noteth) had faith, whereby his prayers & almes pleased God. For (saith he) he came not to faith through works but to works through faith.

[b] This vision doeth teach manifold mysteries. First, that the restraint of meates made vnto the Iewes is taken away, & binneth not vs Christians: For vnto vs the cleane, all meates are cleane. Secondly, the graces & gifts of God are common also to the heathen, who before this time were excluded: which thing is signified by the foure corner sheete, which signifieth the foure coastes of the worlde. Nowe heauen is open to all that is inclosed in the sheete, which is the holy congregation of God.

‖Or, do not thou pollute.

24 And the third day after, entred they into Cesarea: and Cornelius waited for them, and had called together his kinsmen and speciall friends.

25 And it came to passe as Peter came in, Cornelius met him, and fell downe [c] at his feet, and worshipped him.

26 But Peter tooke him vp, saying, Stand vp, I my selfe also am a man.

27 And as hee talked with him, hee came in, and findeth many that were come together.

28 And he said vnto them, Ye know how that it is an vnlawful thing for a man that is a Iew, to company or come vnto one of another nation: but God hath shewed me, that I should not call any man common or vncleane.

29 Therefore came I vnto you without delay, as soone as I was sent for: I aske therefore for what intent ye haue sent for me?

30 And Cornelius sayde, Foure dayes agoe vntill this houre I was fasting, & at the ninth houre I prayed in my house, and behold, a man stood before me in bright clothing, 31 And sayd, Cornelius, thy prayer is heard, and thine almes deeds are had in remembrance in the sight of God.

32 Send therefore to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose syrname is Peter, hee is lodged in the house of one Simon a Tanner, by the Sea side, who when hee commeth, shall speake vnto thee.

33 Then sent I for thee immediately, and thou hast well done that thou art come. Nowe therefore are we all here present before God, to heare all things that are commanded vnto thee of God.

34 Then Peter opened his mouth, and sayd, *Of a trueth I perceiue that God hath no regard of persons:

35 But in euery nation, he that feareth him, and worketh righteousnesse, is accepted with him.

36 Touching the word which God sent vnto the children of Israel, preaching peace by Iesus Christ (he is Lord ouer all.)

37 Yee know how the worde was published throughout all Iurie, beginning in Galilee, after the baptisme which Iohn preached:

38 How God annoynted Iesus of Nazareth with the holy ghost, and with power, who went about doing good, and healing all that were oppressed of the deuill: for God was with him.

39 And we are witnesses of all things which he did in the land of the Iewes, and at Hierusalem, whome they slue, when they had hanged him on a tree.

40 Him God raised vp the third day, and shewed him openly,

41 Not to all the people, but vnto vs witnesses, chosen before of God, euen to vs which did eate and drinke with him after he rose from the dead.

Acts 15.9. iere.31.34. mich.7.11.

42 And he commanded vs to preach vnto the people, and to testifie that it is he which was ordained of God to bee the Iudge of quicke and dead.

43 *To him giue all the Prophets witnesse, that through his name whosoeuer beleeueth in him, shall receiue remission of sinnes.

44 While Peter yet spake these words, the holy Ghost fell on all them which heard the word.

45 And they of the circumcision which beleeued, were astonied, as many as came with Peter, because that on the Gentiles also was powred out the gift of the holy Ghost.

46 For they heard them speake with tongues, and magnifie God. Then answered Peter, 47 Can any man forbidde water, that these should not be baptized, which haue receiued the holy Ghost as well as we?

48 And he commaunded them to be baptized in the name of the Lord. Then prayed they him to tary certaine dayes.

[c] Cornelius did reuerence Peter more then he ought to haue done, supposing him either to be a God, either to be indued with such power & vertue, for the which he should be honoured as God.

[a] What meate soeuer the Iewes vsed contrary to the order of Gods law, they called it common or vncleane.

22 Barnabas and Paul preach at Antiochia. 28 Agabus prophecieth dearth to come.

AND the Apostles and brethren that were in Iurie, heard that the heathen had also receiued the word of God.

2 And when Peter was come vp to Hierusalem, they that were of the circumcision contended against him,

3 Saying, Thou wentest in to men vncircumcised, and didst eate with them.

4 But Peter rehearsed the matter from the beginning, and expounded it by order vnto them, saying,

5 I was in the citie of Ioppa praying, and in a trance I saw a vision, a certaine vessell descend, as it had beene a great sheete, let downe from heauen by foure corners, and it came euen vntill me.

6 Vpon the which when I had fastened mine eyes, I considered, and sawe foure footed beasts of the earth, and wild beasts, and such as creepe, and foules of the aire.

7 And I heard a voice, saying vnto me, Arise Peter, slay, and eate.

8 But I sayde, Not so, Lorde: for nothing common or vncleane hath at any time entred into my mouth.

9 But the voice answered me againe from heauen, Doe not thou make them [a] common which God hath cleansed.

10 And this was done three times: and all were taken vp againe into heauen.

11 And behold, immediatly there were three men already come vnto the house where I was, sent from Cesarea vnto me.

12 And the spirit sayd vnto me, that I should goe with them, nothing doubting: Moreouer, these fiue brethren accompanied me, and wee entred into the mans house:

13 And he shewed vs how he had seene an angel in his house, which stood and said vnto him, Send men to Ioppa, and call for Simon, whose surname is Peter:

Acts 8.1. 19 *They also which were scattered abroad through the affliction that arose about Steuen, walked throughout vnto Phenice, and Cyprus, and Antioch, preaching the word to no man, but vnto the Iewes onely.

20 And some of them were men of Cyprus and Cyrene, which when they were come to Antioch, spake vnto the Grekes, and preached the Lord Iesus.

21 And the hand of the Lord was with them: and a great number beleeued, and turned vnto the Lord.

The Epistle on S. Barnabe Apostle. 22 Then tydings of these things came vnto the eares of the Church, which was in Hierusalem: and they sent forth Barnabas, that hee should goe vnto Antioch.

23 Which when hee came, and had seene the grace of God, was glad, and exhorted them all, that with purpose of heart they would cleaue vnto the Lord.

24 For he was a good man and full of the holy Ghost, and of faith: and much people was added vnto the Lord.

c Not for that they were the first Christians: but for that the people both of the Iewes and Gentiles, grew into one body, and were made both free to confesse the faith of Christ.

25 Then departed Barnabas to Tharsus, for to seeke Saul.

The Epistle on S. Iames the Apostle. 26 And when he had found him, he brought him vnto Antioch. And it came to passe that a whole yeere they had their conuersation with the Church there, and taught much people: insomuch that the disciples of Antioch were the c first that were called Christians.

d By these words God, like doth signifie that the Spirit of God was the author of these prophecies, that thereby we might vnderstand the knowledge not to be gathered of the course of the starres or any other naturall causes.

27 And in those dayes, came Prophets from Hierusalem vnto Antioch.

28 And there stood vp one of them, named Agabus, and signified by the d spirite, that there should be great dearth throughout all the world: which came to passe in the dayes of Claudius Cesar.

29 Then the disciples, euery man according to his abilitie, purposed to send succour vnto the brethren which dwelt in Iurie:

30 Which thing they also did, and sent it to the Elders by the handes of Barnabas and Saul.

The xij. Chapter.

1 Herode persecuteth the Christians. 24 The Gospel flourisheth.

The Epistle on S. Peters day. AT the same time Herode the king stretched forth his handes to vexe certaine of the Church.

2 And he killed Iames the brother of John with the sword.

3 And because he saw it pleased the Iewes, hee proceeded further, and tooke Peter. (Then were the dayes of sweete bread.)

a That is, to foure. souldiers. 4 And when he had caught him, he put him in prison also, and deliuered him to foure a quaternions of souldiers to be kept, intending after Easter to bring him forth to the people.

5 And Peter was kept in prison, but prayer was made without ceasing of the Church vnto God for him.

6 And when Herode would haue brought him forth vnto the people, the same night Peter was sleeping betweene two souldiers bound with two chaines, and the keepers before the doore kept the prison.

7 And behold, the Angel of the Lorde was there present, and a light shined in the prison: and he smote Peter on the side, and stirred him vp, saying, Arise vp quickely. And his chaines fell off from his hands.

8 And the Angel sayde vnto him, Girde thy selfe, and binde on thy sandales. And so hee did. And he sayth vnto him, Cast thy garment about thee, and follow me.

9 And Peter came out, and followed him, and wist not that it was trueth which was done by the Angel: but thought he had seene a vision.

10 When they were past the first and the second watch, they came vnto the Iron gate that leadeth vnto the citie, which opened to them by the owne accord: and they went out, and passed on through one street, and forthwith the Angel departed from him.

11 And when Peter was come to himselfe, he sayd, Now I know of a suretie that the Lord hath sent his Angel, and hath deliuered me out of the hand of Herode, and from all the waiting for of the people of the Iewes.

12 And as he considered the thing, he came to the house of Mary the mother of John, whose syrname was Marke, where many were gathered together in prayer.

13 As Peter knocked at the entrie doore, a damosell came forth to hearken, named Rhoda.

14 And when she knew Peters voice, she opened not the doore for gladnesse, but ranne in, and told how Peter stood before the doore.

15 And they sayd vnto her, Thou art madde. But she affirmed that it was euen so. Then sayd they, It is his b angel.

b For they did know by Gods word, that angels were appointed to defend the faithfull, and also in those dayes they were accustomed to vse such lights.

16 But Peter continued knocking: c when they had opened the doore, and sawe him, they were astonied.

17 And when hee had beckened vnto them with the hand, that they might hold their peace, hee tolde them by what meanes the Lorde had brought him out of the prison: And hee sayde, Go shewe these things vnto James, and to the brethren. And he departed, and went into another place.

18 Now assoone as it was day, there was no little adoe among the souldiers, what was become of Peter.

19 And when Herode had sought for him, and found him not, hee examined the keepers, and commaunded them to be caried away. And hee descended from Iurie to Cesarea, and there abode.

20 And Herode was displeased with them of Tyre and Sydon: but they came all with one accord to him, and made intercession vnto Blastus the kings chamberlaine, and desired peace, because their countrey was nourished by the kings countrey.

21 And vpon the day appointed, Herode araied him in royall apparell, and set him in his seat, and made an Oration vnto them.

22 And the people gaue a shoute, saying, It is the voice of a God, and not of a man.

23 And immediately the Angel of the Lorde smote him, because he gaue not God the honor, and he was eaten of c wormes, and gaue vp the ghost.

c The vilenesse of the punishment declareth here, that God hereafter pride and tyrannie. His grandsire ther also was eaten of lice.

24 And the word of God grewe, and d multiplyed.

d The more that tyrants go about to suppresse Gods word, the more both it increaseth and multiplyeth.

The xiij. Chapter.

7 Of Sergius Paulus, and Elimas the sorcerer. 26 The Iewes are reiected.

Acts 14.26.

THere* was also in the Church that was at Antioch, certaine Prophets, and teachers: as Barnabas, and Simon that was called Niger, and Lucius of Cyrene, and Manahen, which had beene nourished vp with Herode the Tetrarch, and Saul.

2 As they [a] ministred to the Lord, and fasted, the holy Ghost sayde, Separate me Barnabas and Saul, for the worke whereunto I haue called them.

3 And when they had fasted and prayed, and layd their hands on them, they let them goe.

4 And they, after they were sent forth of the holy Ghost, departed vnto Seleucia, and from thence they sailed to Cyprus.

5 And when they were at Salamine, they preached the word of God in the Synagogues of the Iewes: and they had also Iohn to their minister.

6 And when they had gone thorow the Ile vnto Paphos, they found a certaine sorcerer, a false prophet, a Iewe, whose name was Barieſu:

7 Which was with the deputie of the countrey, one Sergius Paulus, a prudent man: the same when hee had called vnto him Barnabas and Saul, desired to heare the word of God.

8 But Elimas the sorcerer (for so is his name by interpretation) withstoode them, seeking to turne the deputie away from the faith.

9 Then Saul (which also is called Paul) being full of the holy Ghost, set his eyes on him,

10 And sayde, O full of all subtiltie and all mischiefe, thou childe of the deuill, thou enemy of all righteousnesse, wilt thou not cease to peruert the right wayes of the Lord?

11 And now behold, the hand of the Lord is vpon thee, and thou shalt be blind, not seeing the sunne for a season. And immediately there fell on him a myst and a darkenesse, and he went about, seeking them that should lead him by the hand.

12 Then the deputie, when hee sawe what was done, beleeued, and wondred at the doctrine of the Lord.

13 Nowe when they that were with Paul, were departed from Paphos, they came to Perga in Pamphylia: and Iohn, when he departed from them, returned to Hierusalem.

14 But when they departed from Perga, they came to Antioch in Pisidia, and went into the synagogue on the Sabboth day, and sate downe.

15 And after the reading of the Law and the Prophets, the rulers of the synagogue sent vnto them, saying, Ye men and brethren, if yee haue any word to exhort the people, say on.

16 Then Paul stoode vp, and when hee had beckened with the hand for silence, sayd, Men of Israel, and ye that feare God, giue audience.

17 The God of the people of Israel chose our fathers, and exalted the people when they dwelt as strangers in the* land of Egypt, and with an high* arme brought he them out of it.

27 For they that dwell at Hierusalem, and their rulers, because they knew him not, nor yet the voices of the Prophets which are read euery Sabboth day, they haue fulfilled them in condemning him.

34 And as concerning that hee raised him vp from the dead, nowe no more to returne to corruption, he sayd on this wise, *I will giue you the holy things of Dauid, which are [b] faithfull.

42 And when they were gone out of the Synagogue of the Iewes, the Gentiles besought that these words might be preached to them the next Sabboth.

43 Now when the congregation was broken vp, many of the Iewes, and deuout Proselytes followed Paul and Barnabas, which speaking to them, exhorted them to continue in the grace of God.

44 And the next Sabboth day came almost the whole citie together to heare the worde of God.

45 But when the Iewes saw the people, they were ful of indignation, and spake against those things which were spoken of Paul, speaking against, and railing.

Esai 49.10. c Their were wealthy and substantiall women, and yet superstitious, being led with a blinde zeale, whome the common people esteemed very godly, and therefore Luke speaketh here of these women, as the world esteemed them.

46 Then Paul and Barnabas waxed bolde, and sayde, It was necessary that the worde of God should first haue beene spoken to you: but seeing ye put it from you, and thinke your selues vnworthy of euerlasting life, loe, wee turne to the Gentiles.

47 For so hath the Lorde commaunded vs, saying, * I haue made thee a light of the Gentiles, that thou be the saluation vnto the end of the world.

48 And when the Gentiles heard this, they were glad, and glorified the word of the Lorde: and as many as were ordeined to eternall life, beleeued.

49 And the word of the Lord was published throughout all the region.

50 But the Iewes mooued the deuout c and honest women, and the chiefe men of the citie, and raised persecution against Paul and Barnabas, and expelled them out of their coasts.

51 But they shooke off the dust of their d feet against them, and came vnto Iconium.

d This they did according to the commandement of the Gospel, for a witnesse of their crueltie, that they came vnto their citie and offered to them the doctrine of the Gospel, which they contemned, and thereby shewed also that they so detested their company for this their contempt, that they would not haue the dust of their citie hang vpon their shoes.

52 And the disciples were filled with ioy, and with the holy Ghost.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 God giueth successe to his worde. 19 Paul is stoned.

AND it came to passe in Iconium, that they went both together into the Synagogue of the Iewes, and so spake, that a great multitude both of the Iewes, and also of the Greeks beleeued.

2 But the vnbeleeuing Iewes stirred vp, and corrupted the minds of the Gentiles against the brethren.

e Christ is a cursed writte the which doth separate vs from God, so it is better an hundred times that a fewe be part from all the world, and to be at vnitie with God, then being at variance with him, to be in peace with the world.

3 Long time therefore abode they there, speaking boldly with the helpe of the Lorde, which gaue testimony vnto the worde of his grace, and granted signes and wonders to bee done by their hands.

4 But the multitude of the citie e was diuided: and part helde with the Iewes, and part with the Apostles.

5 And when there was an assault made both of the Gentiles, and also of the Iewes, with their rulers, to doe them violence, and to stone them,

6 They were ware of it, and fledde vnto Lystra and Derbe, cities of Lycaonia, and vnto the region that lyeth round about.

7 And there were they preaching the b Gospel.

b The persecution of the Gospel, is an occasion oftentimes of further aduancement of the Gospel.

8 And there sate a certaine man at Lystra, weake in his feete, being a creeple from his mothers wombe, and neuer had walked.

9 The same heard Paul speake: which beholding him, and perceiuing that he had faith to be whole,

10 Saide with a loud voice, Stand vpright on thy feet: And he start vp, and walked.

11 And when the people saw what Paul had done, they lift vp their voices, saying in the speech of Lycaonia, The Gods are come downe to vs in the likenesse of men.

12 And they called Barnabas Iupiter, and Paul Mercurius, because hee was the chiefe speaker.

13 Then Iupiters priest, which was before their citie, brought Oxen, and garlands vnto the doore, and would haue done sacrifice with the people.

14 Which when the Apostles, Barnabas and Paul heard of, they rent their clothes, and ran in among the people, crying,

15 And saying, Sirs, why do ye these things? We also are mortall men like vnto you, & preach vnto you the Gospell, that ye should turne from these vanities, vnto the liuing God, * which made heauen and earth, and the sea, & all things that are therein.

Gen.1.1. psal.146.6. apoc.14.7.

16 The which in times past, * suffered all nations to walke in their owne waies.

Psal.81.13.

17 Neuertheless, hee left not himselfe without witnesse, in that hee shewed his benefites from heauen, in giuing vs raine, and fruitfull seasons, filling our hearts with food and gladnesse.

18 And with these sayings scarce refrained they the people, that they had not done sacrifice vnto them.

19 Then thither came certaine Iewes from Antioch and Iconium, which when they had perswaded the c people, * and had stoned Paul, drewe him out of the city, supposing hee had beene dead.

c They that a little before would haue worshipped Paul as God, now they are content that he should be stoned as a wicked man: such inconstancie is in the ignorant multitude. 2.Cor.11.25.

20 Howbeit, when the disciples stood round about him, hee rose vp, and came into the citie, and the next day he departed with Barnabas to Derbe.

21 And when they had preached the Gospell to that citie, and had taught many, they returned againe to Lystra, and to Iconium, and Antioch,

22 And strengthened the disciples soules againe, and exhorted them to continue in the faith, and that we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdome of God.

23 And when they had ordained them Elders by election in euery Church, and had prayed with d fasting, they commended them to the Lord, on whome they beleeued.

d Here we learne that whensoeuer we goe about any waighty matter, wee ought with abstinence prepare our minds vnto prayer, that it may be the more earnest.

24 And when they had gone throughout Pisidia, they came to Pamphylia.

25 And when they had spoken the worde of God in Perga, they descended into Attalia, 26 And thence departed by ship to Antioch, from whence they were committed vnto the grace of God, to the worke which they fulfilled.

27 And when they were come, and had gathered the Church together, they rehearsed all that God had done with them, and howe hee had opened the doore of faith vnto the Gentiles.

28 And there they abode long time with the disciples.

The xv. Chapter.

1 The decree of the Apostles concerning circumcision and other ceremonies of the Iewes. 35 Paul and Barnabas preach in Antioch. 39 Paul and Barnabas falling at strife, breake company.

Gal.5.1. AND certaine men which came downe from Iurie, taught the brethren, and sayd, *Except yee bee circumcised after the manner of Moses, ye cannot be saued.

2 So when there was risen dissention and disputing not a little vnto Paul and Barnabas against them, they determined that Paul and Barnabas, and certaine other of them, should go vp to Hierusalem vnto the Apostles and Elders, about this question.

3 And after they were brought on their way by the Church, they passed through Phenice and Samaria, declaring the conuersation of the Gentiles: and they brought great ioy vnto all the brethren.

4 And when they were come to Hierusalem, they were receiued of the Church, and of the Apostles, and Elders, and they declared all things that God had done with them.

Gen.12. Psal.105.1. 1.Chron.16.8. Psal.81.2.

5 Then rose vp certaine of the sect of the Pharisees which did beleeue, saying, that it was needfull to circumcise them, and to command to keepe the law of Moses.

6 And the Apostles and Elders came together for to consider of this matter.

Act.10.30. and 11.13.

7 And when there had bene much disputing, Peter rose vp, and sayd vnto them, *Ye men and brethren, ye know how that a good while agoe, God did chuse among vs, that the Gentiles by my mouth should heare the word of the Gospel, and beleeue.

8 And God, which knoweth the hearts, bare them witnesse, and gaue vnto them the holy Ghost, euen as he did vnto vs:

Act.10.43. 1.cor.1.1. matt.23.4.

9 *And put no difference betweene vs and them, purifying their hearts by faith.

10 Now therefore why tempt ye God, to put on the disciples neckes the [a] yoke, which neither our fathers nor we were able to beare?

11 But we beleeue that through the grace of the Lord Iesus Christ, we shall be saued euen as they.

12 Then all the multitude kept silence, and gaue audience to Barnabas and Paul, which told what signes and wonders God had shewed among the Gentiles by them.

13 And when they held their peace, James answered, saying, Men and brethren, hearken vnto me.

14 Simeon told how God at the beginning did visit, to receiue of the Gentiles a people in his name.

15 And to this agree the wordes of the Prophets, as it is written,

16 *After this will I returne, and will build againe the [b] tabernacle of Dauid, which is fallen downe: and that which is fallen in decay of it, will I build againe, and I will set it vp:

Amos.9.11

17 That the residue of men might seeke after the Lord, and all the Gentiles vpon whom my name is called, sayth the Lord, which doeth all these things.

18 Known vnto God are all his workes from the beginning of the world.

19 Wherefore my sentence is, that we trouble not them, which from among the Gentiles are turned to God:

20 But that wee write vnto them, that they abstaine themselues from filthinesse of idoles, and from fornication, and from strangled, and from blood.

21 For Moses of old time hath in euery citie them that preach him in the synagogues, when he is read euery Sabboth day.

22 Then pleased it the Apostles and Elders, with the whole Church, to send chosen men of their owne company to Antioch, with Paul and Barnabas: That is, Judas, whose surname was Barsabas, and Sylas, which were chiefe men among the brethren, 23 And wrote letters by them after this maner, The Apostles, and Elders, and brethren, send greeting vnto the brethren, which are of the Gentiles in Antiochia, Syria, and Cilicia.

24 Forasmuch as wee haue heard that certaine which departed from vs, haue troubled you with wordes, and cumbred your mindes, saying, Ye must be circumcised, and keepe the law, to whom wee gaue no such commaundement:

25 It seemed therefore to vs a good thing, when we were come together with one accord, to send chosen men vnto you, with our beloued Barnabas and Paul,

26 Men that haue ieoparded their liues for the name of our Lord Iesus Christ.

27 We haue sent therefore Judas and Silas, which shall also tell you the same things by mouth.

28 For it seemed good to the holy Ghost and to vs, to lay vpon you no greater burden then these necessary things:

29 That is to say, That yee abstaine from things offered to idoles, and from blood, and from strangled, & from fornication: from which if ye keepe your selues, ye shall do well. So fare ye well.

30 Now therefore when they were departed, they came to Antioch: and when they had gathered the multitude together, they deliuered the Epistle, 31 Which when they had read, they reioiced of the consolation.

32 And Judas and Silas, being Prophets also themselues, exhorted the brethren with many words, and strengthened them:

33 And after they had taried there a space, they were let goe in peace of the brethren vnto the Apostles.

34 Notwithstanding, it pleased Silas to abide there still.

35 Paul also and Barnabas continued in Antioch, teaching and preaching the worde of the Lord, with other many also.

36 But after a certaine space, Paul sayde

[a] The meaneth the whole law, and not the ceremonies onely, and calleth it a yoke not able to bee borne, because no man, not the most holiest and perfectest that euer was (Christ only excepted) was able to performe the same in all points, both outwardly according to the letter, and inwardly according to the spirit.

Amos.9.11 b The Prophet in this place, prophecied of Christs comming in the flesh, which should build against the tabernacle of Dauid, which signified Gods Church, but then vtterly defaced and brought to ruine, by the Heretikes and Iewish superstitions.

fol. Ffff3v

vnto Barnabas, Let vs goe againe and visit our brethren in euery citie where wee haue preached the worde of the Lord, and know we and see howe they doe.

37 And Barnabas gaue counsel to take with them John, whose surname was Marke.

38 But Paul would not take him vnto their companie, which departed from them from Pamphylia, and went not with them to the worke.

c God suffereth the most perfect to fall, and yet turneth their infirmities to the setting forth of his glory, as this discord of companie caused the Gospel to be preached in more places.

39 And c the contention was so sharpe betweene them, that they departed asunder one from the other: and so Barnabas tooke Marke, and sayled vnto Cyprus.

40 And Paul chose Silas, and departed, being committed of the brethren vnto the grace of God.

41 And hee went thorow Syria and Cilicia, stablishing the Churches.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 Paul circumciseth Timothie. 7 The spirit calleth them from one countrey to another. 24 Lydia is conuerted.

THen came hee to Derbe, and to Lystra: and beholde a certaine disciple was there, named * Timotheus, a womans sonne which was a Jewesse, and beleeued: but his father was a Greeke.

Rom.16.21 phil.1.19. 1.thes.3.1.

2 Which was well reported of the brethren that were at Lystra and Iconium.

3 Paul would that he should go forth with him, and tooke and circumcised him, because of the Jewes which were in those quarters: for they knew all that his father was a Greeke.

4 And as they went through the cities, they deliuered them the decrees for to keepe, that were * ordeined of the Apostles & Elders which were at Hierusalem.

Acts 25.28.

5 And so were the Churches stablished in the faith, and increased in number dayly.

6 Nowe when they had gone thorowout Phrygia, & the region of Galatia, and were forbidden of the holy Ghost to preach the word in Asia,

7 They comming to Mysia, sought to go into Bithynia: but the spirit suffered them not.

8 And they passing thorow Mysia, came downe to Troada.

9 And a vision appeared to Paul in the night: There stoode a man of Macedonia, and prayed him, saying, Come into Macedonia, & help vs.

10 And after he had seene the vision, immediatly we prepared to goe into Macedonia, gathering by conference that the Lorde had called vs for to preach the Gospel vnto them.

11 Then we being carried from Troada, came with a straight course to Samothracia, and the next day to Neapolis:

12 And from thence to Philippos, which is the chiefe citie in the parties of Macedonia, and a free citie: and wee were in that citie abiding certaine dayes.

13 And on the day of the Sabbothes we went out of the citie, besides a riuer, where prayer was wont to be made, and we sate downe, and spake vnto the women which resorted thither.

14 And a certaine woman named Lydia, a seller of purple, of the citie of the Thyatirians, which worshipped God, gaue vs audience: whose heart the Lord opened, that shee attended vnto the things which were spoken of Paul.

15 And when she was baptized, and her household, she besought vs, saying, If yee haue iudged mee to bee faithfull to the Lorde, come into my house, and abide there. And she constrained vs.

16 And it came to passe, as wee went to prayer, a certaine damosell possessed with a spirit of a soothsaying, met vs: which brought her masters much bantage with soothsaying.

a Which could tell of things past, and gesse of things to come, which knowledge in many things God permitteth to the vse: to this end (as Austen noteth) that hee might more swiftly receiue those that would beleeue him.

17 The same followed Paul and vs, and cried, saying, These men are the seruants of the most high God, which shew vnto vs the way of saluation.

18 And this did she many dayes: but Paul not content, turned about, and sayd to the spirit, I commaund thee in the name of Jesu Christ, that thou come out of her. And he came out the same houre.

19 And when her masters sawe that the hope of their gaines was gone, they caught Paul and Silas, and drew them into the market place, vnto the rulers,

20 And brought them to the officers, saying, These men being Jewes, doe exceedingly trouble our citie:

21 And preach ordinances which are not lawfull for vs to receiue, neither to obserue, seeing we are Romanes.

22 And the people ran against them, and the officers rent their clothes, and commanded * to beate them with rods.

1.Cor.1.25. 1.thes.2.2.

23 And when they had layd many stripes vpon them, they cast them into prison, commaunding the iaylour of the prison to keepe them diligently.

24 Which when hee had receiued such commandement, thrust them into the inner prison, and made their feete fast in the stockes.

25 And at midnight, Paul and Silas prayed and lauded God: and the prisoners heard them.

26 And suddenly there was a great earthquake, so that the foundation of the prison was shaken: and immediatly all the doores opened, and euery mans bands were loosed.

27 When the keeper of the prison waked out of his sleepe, and saw the prison doores open, hee drew out his sword, and would haue killed himselfe, supposing that the prisoners had bene fled.

28 But Paul cried with a loud voice, saying, Doe thy selfe no harme, for we are all here.

29 Then he called for a light, and sprang in, and came trembling, and fell downe before Paul and Silas, 30 And brought them out, and sayde, Sirs, what must I doe to be saued?

31 And they sayd, Beleeue on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt bee saued, and thy household.

32 And they spake vnto him the worde of the Lord, and to all that were in his house.

33 And he tooke them the same houre of the night, and washed their wounds, and was baptized himselfe, and all they of his household straightway.

34 And when hee had brought them into his house, he set meate before them, and ioyed that he with all his household beleeued on God.

35 And when it was day, the officers sent the sergeants, saying, Let those men goe.

36 And the keeper of the prison tolde this saying to Paul, The officers haue sent word to loose you: Now therefore, get you hence, and go in peace.

37 Then said Paul vnto them, They haue beaten vs openly vncondemned, being Romans, and haue cast vs into prison, now do they thrust vs out priuily? Nay verily, but let them come themselues, and fetch vs out.

38 And the sergeants tolde these words vnto the officers: and they feared when they heard that they were Romanes.

39 And they came and besought them, and brought them out, and desired them to depart out of the citie.

40 And they went out of the prison, and entred into the house of *Lydia, and when they had seene the brethren, they comforted them, and departed. Act. 16.14.

The xvij. Chapter.

Paul commeth to Thessalonica, where the Iewes set the citie in an vprore.

AS they made their iourney thorow Amphipolis, and Apollonia, they came to Thessalonica, where was a Synagogue of the Iewes.

2 And Paul, as his maner was, went in vnto them, and three Sabboth dayes disputed with them out of the Scriptures,

3 Opening and alleaging, that Christ must needes haue suffered and risen againe from the dead: and that this is Christ Iesus which I preach vnto you.

4 And some of them beleeued, and ioyned with Paul & Silas, and of the deuout Greekes a great multitude, and of the chiefe women not a few.

5 But the Iewes which beleeued not, mooued with enuie, tooke vnto them certaine bagabonds, and euill men, and gathered a company, and set all the citie on a roze, and made assault vnto the house of Iason, and sought to bring them out to the people.

6 And when they found them not, they drew Iason and certaine brethren vnto the heads of the citie, crying, These that haue troubled the world, are come hither also,

7 Whom Iason hath receiued priuily: and these all doe contrary to the decrees of Cesar, [a] saying that there is another king, one Iesus.

[a] Like quarell picking they vsed against Christ: & these be the weapons wherewith the world continually fighteth against the members of Christ, treason and sedition.

8 And they troubled the people, and the officers of the citie, when they heard these things.

9 And when they had taken sufficient suretie of Iason, and of the other, they let them goe.

10 And the brethren immediatly sent away Paul and Silas by night vnto Berea: which when they were come thither, they entred into the Synagogue of the Iewes.

11 These were the noblest of birth among them of Thessalonica, which receiued the word with all readinesse of mind, & searched the Scriptures dayly, whether those things were so.

12 Therefore many of them beleeued: also of honest women which were Greekes, and of men not a few.

13 But when the Iewes of Thessalonica had knowledge that the word of God was preached of Paul at Berea, they came thither, and mooued the people.

14 And then immediatly the brethren sent away Paul, to go as it were to the sea: but Silas and Timotheus abode there still.

15 And they that guided Paul, brought him vnto Athens, and receiued a commaundement vnto Silas and Timotheus, for to come to him with speede, and went their way.

16 While Paul waited for them at Athens, his spirit was mooued in him, when he saw the citie giuen to worshipping of idoles.

17 Therefore disputed he in the Synagogue with the Iewes, and with the deuout persons, and in the market dayly with them that came vnto him by chance.

18 Then certaine philosophers of the [b] Epicures, and of the [c] Stoikes, disputed with him: and some said, What will this babbler say? Other some, He seemeth to be a setter forth of new gods: because he preached vnto them Iesus, and the resurrection.

[b] The Epicures were a sect of learned men, which (being without the knowledge of God) held opinion, that there was no life or toy after this life, but that all mans felicitie did consist in the pleasures of this world.

[c] The Stoikes were another kind of learned men which likewise wanting the knowledge of God, affirmed that mans whole felicitie and happinesse did consist in the qualities and vertues of the mind.

19 And they tooke him, and brought him into the streete of Mars, saying, May we know what this newe doctrine whereof thou speakest, is?

20 For thou bringest certaine strange things to our eares: we would knowe therefore what these things meane.

21 (For all the Athenians & strangers which were there, had leasure to nothing els but either to tell or to heare some new thing.)

22 Then Paul stoode in the middes of the streete of Mars, and saide, Ye men of Athens, I perceiue that in all things ye are too superstitious.

23 For as I passed by, and beheld the maner how yee worship your gods, I found an altar wherein was written, vnto an vnknowen God. Whom ye then ignorantly worship, him shew I vnto you.

24 * God that made the world, and all that are in it, seeing that hee is Lord of heauen and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands: Acts.7.48.

25 *Neither is worshipped with mens hands, as though he needed of any thing, seeing he himselfe giueth life and breath to all euery where: Psal.50.8.

26 And hath made of one blood all nations of men, for to dwell on all the face of the earth, and hath determined the times before appointed, and also the bounds of their habitation:

27 That they should seeke the Lord, if perhaps they might haue felt & found him, though he be not farre from euery one of vs.

28 For in him we liue, and moue, and haue our being, as certaine of your owne Poets haue said, For we are also his offspring.

29 *For as much then as we are the [d] offspring of God, wee ought not to thinke that the Godhead is like vnto gold, siluer, or stone grauen by art and mans deuice. Esai.40.18.

[d] The Apostle meaneth vs the generation of God, not that we be of the substance & nature of God, but because God hath created vs, and by his sonne Iesus Christ hath reuerented vs, and made vs his children by adoption.

30 And the time of this ignorance God winked at, but now biddeth all men euery where to repent:

31 Because hee hath appointed a day in the which he will iudge the world in righteousnesse, by that man whom hee hath appointed, and hath offered faith to all men, in that he hath raised him from the dead.

32 And when they heard of the resurrection from the dead, some mocked: and other said, We will heare thee againe of this matter.

33 So Paul departed from among them.

34 Howbeit, certaine men claue vnto him, and beleeued: among the which was Dionys Areopagita, and a woman named Damaris, and other with them.

The xviij. Chapter.

3 Paul preacheth at Corinth. 24 Of Apollos; 26 Aquila and Priscilla.

AFter these things, Paul departed from Athens, & came to Cozinth,
2 And found a certaine Iewe named *Aquila, bozne in Pontus, lately come from Italie with his wife Priscilla, (because that Claudius had commaunded all Iewes to depart from Rome) and came vnto them. Rom. 16.5.
3 And because he was of the same craft, hee abode with them, and wzought (foz by their occupation they were Tent makers.)
4 And he disputed in the Synagogue euery Sabboth, and exhozted the Iewes, and the Greekes.
5 And when Silas and Timotheus were come from Macedonia, Paul was constrained by the spirit to testifie to the Iewes, that Iesus was Christ.
6 And when they sayde contrarie, and blasphemed, *he shooke his rayment and sayd vnto them, Your blood bee [a] vpon your owne heads: from henceforth will I goe blamelesse vnto the Gentiles. Mat.10.14. acts 13.51. [a] By this Hebrue speech he signifieth, that he that byeth & perisheth, shall perish through his owne fault.
7 And he departed thence, and entred into a certaine mans house, named Iustus, a wozshipper of God, whose house ioyned hard to the Synagogue.
8 *And one Crispus, the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, beleeued on the Lord with all his houshold: and many of the Cozinthians, hearing, beleeued, and were baptized. 1.Cor.1.14.
9 Then spake the Lozd to Paul in the night by a vision, Be not afraid, but speake, and holde not thy peace.
10 Foz I am with thee, and no man shall inuade thee, to hurt thee: Foz I haue much people in this city.
11 And hee continued there a yeere and sixe moneths, teaching the wozde of God among them.
12 And when Gallio was the deputie of Achaia, the Iewes made insurrection with one accozd against Paul, and bzought him to the iudgement seat,
13 Saying, This fellow counselleth men to wozship God contrary to the law.
14 And when Paul now was about to open his mouth, Gallio sayd vnto the Iewes, If it were a matter of wzong, oz an euill deed, O yee Iewes, reason would that I should beare with you:
15 But if it be a question of wozdes & names, oz of your law, looke yee to it your selues: foz I will be no iudge of such matters.
16 And hee dzaue them from the iudgement seate.
17 Then all the Greekes tooke Sosthenes the chiefe ruler of the Synagogue, and smote him before the iudgement seate: and Gallio cared foz none of those things.
18 And Paul after this taried there yet a good while, and then tooke his leaue of the bzethren, and sailed thence into Syzia, (Aquila and Pzisscilla accompanying him.) And he shoze his head in [b] Cenchrea: foz he had a bow.
19 And hee came to Ephesus, and left them there: but hee himselfe entred into the Synagogue, and reasoned with the Iewes.
20 When they desired him to tary longer time with them, he consented not:
21 But bade them farewell, saying, I must needs at this feast that commeth, be in Hierusalem, but I wil returne againe vnto you, *if God will: and he sailed from Ephesus.
22 And when he was come vnto Cesarea, and ascended vp, and saluted the Church, hee went to Antioch.
23 And when he had taried there a while, hee departed, and went ouer all the countrey of Galatia and Phzygia by ozder, stregthening al the disciples.
24 *And a certaine Iewe, named Apollos, bozne at Alexandzia, came to Ephesus, an eloquent man, and mightie in the Scriptures.
25 The same was informed in the way of the Lozde, & being feruent in the spirit, he spake and taught diligently the things of the Lozde, knowing onely the baptisme of Iohn.
26 And the same began to speake boldly in the Synagogue: whome when Aquila and Pzisscilla had heard, they tooke him vnto them, and [c] expounded vnto him the way of God perfectly.
27 And when hee was disposed to goe into Achaia, the bzethren wzote, exhozting the disciples to receiue him: which when he was come, helped them much which had beleeued thzough grace.
28 Foz he ouercame the Iewes mightily, and that openly, shewing by the scriptures that Iesus was that Christ.

[b] Cenchrea is a hauen at Corinth, where Paul taking ship, did shaue his head, according to his vow. Foz according to the lawe of Moses, they that vowed themselues to God, were commanded to suffer their haire to growe as long as they would continue Nazarites, and afterward to shaue it, and to burne it. This did Paul, not forgetting what he had before decreed with the Apostles, touching the abolishing of the law: but left the Iewes which beleeued should be offended, be tained himself a Iew, to winne the Iewes, 1.Cor.9.

[c] Apollos being a writer & learned man, was not ashamed to bee taught and instructed in the doctrine of Christ of a poore craftesman and his wife.

The xix. Chapter.

3 Of Baptisme, 6 Of the holy Ghost giuen by Pauls hãds. 9 The Iewes blaspheme the doctrine of Paul.

ANd it came to passe, that while Apollos was at Cozinth, Paul passed thozow the vpper coasts, and came to Ephesus, and found certaine disciples,
2 And sayd vnto them, Haue ye receiued the [a] holy Ghost since ye beleeued? And they said vnto him, We haue not heard whether there be any holy Ghost oz no.
3 And he saide vnto them, Vnto what then were ye baptized? And they sayd, Vnto [b] Iohns baptisme.
4 Then sayde Paul, Iohn verely baptized with the baptisme of repentance, saying vnto the people, that they should beleeue on him which should come after him, that is, on Christ Iesus.
5 When they heard this, they were baptized in [c] the name of the Lord Iesus.
6 And when Paul had laid his hands vpon them, the holy Ghost came on them, and they spake with tongues, and prophecied.
7 And all the men were about twelue.
8 And hee went into the Synagogue, and spake boldly foz the space of three moneths, disputing and perswading those things that appertaine to the kingdome of God.
9 But when diuers waxed hard hearted, and beleeued not, but spake euill of the way of the Lorde, and that before the multitude, hee departed from them, and separated the disciples:

[a] By the holy Ghost, here be meaneth the visible graces of the holy spirite.

[b] In this place, Iohns baptisme signifieth Iohns doctrine, which therefore is so called, foz that he sealed his doctrine with the seale of baptisme in them that beleeued.

[c] They that were baptized, were not baptized with water, being before baptized of Iohn with water: but they were baptized with visible gifts of the holy ghost, which S. Luke declaring how it was, layeth that it was by the laying on of S. Pauls hands.

and he disputed dayly in the schoole of one called Tyrannus.

10 And this continued by the space of two yeres, so that all they which dwelt in Asia, heard the word of the Lorde Jesus, both Jewes and Greekes.

11 And God wrought special miracles by the hands of Paul:

12 So that from his body were brought vnto the sicke, napkins, and partlets, and the diseases departed from them, and the euill spirits went out of them.

13 Then certaine of the bagabond Jewes, exorcistes, tooke vpon them to call ouer them which had euill spirits, the name of the Lord Jesus, saying, We adiure you by Jesus whom Paul preacheth.

14 And there were seuen sonnes of one Sceua a Jewe, and chiefe of the Priestes, which did so.

15 And the euill spirit answered, and sayd, Jesus I knowe, and Paul I knowe, but who are ye?

16 And the man in whom the euil spirit was, ran on them, and ouercame them, and preuailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded.

17 And this was knowen to all the Jewes and Greekes also which dwelt at Ephesus, and feare came on them all, & the name of the Lord Jesus was magnified.

18 And many that beleeued, came, and confessed, and shewed their workes.

19 Many also of them which vsed curious crafts, brought their bookes & burned them before all men: and they counted the price of them, and found it fiftie thousand pieces of siluer.

20 So mightily grew the word of God, and preuailed.

21 After these thinges were ended, Paul purposed in the spirit, when he had passed ouer Macedonia and Achaia, to goe to Hierusalem, saying, After I haue bene there, I must also see Rome.

22 So sent he into Macedonia two of them that ministred vnto him, Timotheus and Erastus, but he himselfe remained in Asia for a season.

23 And the same time there arose no little ado about that way.

24 For a certaine man, named Demetrius, a siluer smith, which made siluer shrines for Diana, ministred no smal gaine vnto the craftsmen:

25 Whom he called together, with the workmen of like occupation, and said, Sirs, ye know that by this craft we haue aduantage.

26 Moreouer, ye see and heare, that not alone at Ephesus, but almost throughout all Asia, this Paul hath perswaded and turned away much people, saying that they be no gods, which are made with hands.

27 So that not onely this our craft commeth into perill to bee set at nought: but also that the Temple of the great goddesse Diana should be despised, and her magnificence should be destroyed, whom all Asia and the world worshippeth.

28 And when they heard these sayings, they were full of wrath, and cryed out, saying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

29 And all the citie was on a roze, and they rushed into the common hall with one assent, and caught Gaius and Aristarchus, men of Macedonia Pauls companions.

30 When Paul would haue entred in vnto the people, the disciples suffered him not.

31 But certaine of the chiefe of Asia, which were his friendes, sent vnto him, desiring him that he would not presse into the common hall.

32 Some therefore cried one thing, and some another: and the assembly was all out of quiet, and the more part knew not wherfore they were come together.

33 And certaine of the people drew Alexander out of the multitude, the Jewes thrusting him forwardes. And Alexander beckened with the hand, and would haue giuen the people an answere.

34 But when they knew that he was a Jew, there arose a shout almost for the space of two houres of all men, crying, Great is Diana of the Ephesians.

35 And when the towne clarke had pacified the people, he said, Ye men of Ephesus, what man is it that knoweth not how that the citie of the Ephesians is ‖ the temple keeper of the great goddesse Diana, and of the image which came downe from Jupiter?

‖ Some reade a worshipper.

36 Seeing then that these things cannot be spoken against, ye ought to be quiet, and to doe nothing rashly.

37 For ye haue brought hither these men, which are neither robbers of Churches, nor yet blasphemers of your goddesse.

38 Wherefore if Demetrius, and the craftsmen which are with him, haue a matter against any man, the law is open, and there are Deputies, let them accuse one another.

39 But if yee enquire any thing concerning other matters, it shalbe determined in a lawfull assembly.

40 For we are in ieopardy to be accused of this dayes vprore, forasmuch as there is no cause whereby we may giue a reckoning of this concourse of people.

41 And when he had thus spoken, he let the assembly depart.

The xx. Chapter.

1 Paul goeth into Macedonia and Grecia: 7 He celebrateth the Lords supper, and preacheth.

AND after the vprore was ceased, Paul called the Disciples, & tooke his leaue of them, and departed, for to goe into Macedonia:

2 And when he had gone ouer those parts, and had giuen them a long exhortation, he came into Greece,

3 And there abode three moneths: & when the Jewes laied waite for him, as he was about to saile into Syria, he purposed to returne thorow Macedonia.

4 And there accompanied him into Asia Sopater of Berea: and of the Thessalonians Aristarcus, and Secundus, and Gaius of Derbe, and Timotheus: and out of Asia Tychicus and Trophimus,

5 These going before, taried vs at Troas:

6 And we sayled away from Philippos, after the dayes of sweete bread, and came vnto them to Troas in fiue dayes, where wee abode seuen dayes.

Acts.2.46.

7 And vpon one of the Sabboth daies, when the Disciples came together for to * breake bread, Paul reasoned with them, readie to depart on the morow, and continued the talke vnto midnight.

8 And there were many lights in an vpper chamber where they were gathered together.

9 And there sate in a windowe a certaine young man named Eutychus, being fallen into a deepe sleepe: and as Paul was long reasoning, hee was the more ouercome with sleepe, and fell downe from the third loft, and was taken vp dead.

10 But when Paul went downe, he fell on him, and embraced him, and said, Make nothing adoe: for his life is in him.

11 When he therefore was come vp againe, and had broken bread & eaten, and talked a long while, euen till the morning, so he departed.

12 And they brought the young man aliue, and were not a little comforted.

13 And we went afore to ship, and sailed vnto Assos, there to receiue Paul: for so had he appointed, minding himselfe to goe afoote.

14 And when he was come to vs to Assos, we tooke him in, and came to Mitylene.

15 And we sailed thence, and came the next day ouer against Chios, and the next day we arriued at Samos, and taried at Trogyllium: the next day we came to Miletum.

16 For Paul had determined to saile ouer by Ephesus, because he would not spend the time in Asia: for he hasted, if it were possible for him, to be at Hierusalem the day of Pentecost.

17 And from Miletum he sent to Ephesus, and called the Elders of the Church.

18 Which when they were come to him, hee said vnto them, Ye know from the first day that I came into Asia, after what maner I haue bene with you at all seasons,

19 Seruing the Lord with all humblenesse of mind, and with many teares, and temptations, which came vnto me by the layings of wait of the Iewes:

20 And how I kept backe nothing that was profitable vnto you, but haue shewed you, and haue taught you openly and throughout euery house,

21 Witnessing both to the Iewes and also to the Greeks, the repentance that is toward God, and the faith which is toward our Lord Iesus Christ.

22 And now behold, I goe bound [a] in the spirit vnto Hierusalem, not knowing the things that shall come vnto me:

23 But that the holy Ghost witnesseth in euery city, saying that bonds & troubles abide in me.

24 But none of these things moue me, neither count I my life deare vnto my selfe, so that I might fulfill my course with ioy, and the ministery which I haue receiued of the Lord Iesu, to testifie the Gospel of the grace of God.

25 And now beholde, I am sure that henceforth ye all, among whom I haue gone preaching the kingdome of God, shall see my face no more.

26 Wherefore, I take you to record this day, that I am pure from the blood of all men.

27 For I haue kept nothing backe, but haue shewed you all the counsell of God.

28 Take heed therefore vnto your selues, and to all the flocke, ouer the which the holy Ghost hath made you ouerseers, to rule the Church of God, which he hath purchased [b] with his owne blood.

29 For I know this, that after my departing shall grieuous wolues enter in among you, not sparing the flocke.

30 Also of your owne selues shall men arise, speaking peruerse things, to [c] draw away disciples after them.

31 Therefore watch, and remember that by the space of three yeeres I ceased not to warne euery one night and day with teares.

32 And now brethren, I commend you to God, and to the worde of his grace, which is able to build further, and to giue you an inheritance among all them which are sanctified.

33 I haue desired no mans siluer, or gold, or vesture.

34 Yea, you your selues know, that these * hands haue ministred vnto my necessities, and to them that were with me.

35 I haue shewed you all things, how that so labouring ye ought to helpe the weake, and to remember the wordes of the Lord Iesu, (how that he said) It is more blessed to giue, then to receiue.

36 And when he had thus spoken, he kneeled downe, and prayed with them all.

37 And they all wept sore, and fell on Pauls necke, and kissed him,

38 Sorowing most of all for the words which he spake, that they should see his face no more: And they accompanied him vnto the ship.

The xxj. Chapter.

1 Pauls iourney by ship. 8 Of Philip the Euangelist, 10 and Agabus the Prophet.

AND when it came to passe that we had lanched forth, and were departed from them, we came with a straight course vnto Choos, & the day following vnto the Rhodes, and from thence vnto Patara.

2 And when we had found a ship sailing vnto Phenice, we went aboord, and set forth.

3 Now when Cyprus began to appeare vnto vs, we left it on the left hand, and sailed into Syria, and came vnto Tyre: for there the ship vnladed the burden.

4 And when we had found Disciples, wee taried there seuen dayes: who saide to Paul through the spirit, that he should not goe vp to Hierusalem.

5 And when the dayes were ended, we departed, and went our way, and they all brought vs on our way, with wiues and children, till we were come out of the city: and we kneeled down on the shore, and prayed.

6 And when we had taken our leaue one of another, we tooke ship, and they returned home againe.

7 When we had full ended the course from Tyre, wee went downe to Ptolomaida, and saluted the brethren, and abode with them one day.

8 And the next day, we that were of Pauls company departed, and came vnto Cesarea, and we entred into the house of Philip the Euangelist (* which was one of the seuen) and abode with him.

Acts.6.5.

[a] That is to say, I goe by the impulsion and commandement of the holy Ghost, who bindeth me as with a band.

9 And the same man had foure daughters, virgins, which did prophesie.

10 And as we taried there a good many of dayes, there came a certaine Prophet from Iurie named Agabus.

11 And when he was come vnto vs, he tooke Pauls girdle, and bound his owne hands and feete, and said, Thus saith the holy Ghost, So shall the Iewes at Hierusalem binde the man that oweth this girdle, and shall deliuer him into the hands of the Gentiles.

12 And when we heard these things, both we and other which were of the same place, besought him that he would not goe vp to Hierusalem.

13 Then Paul answered, What doe ye weeping and vexing mine heart? for I am readie, not to be bound onely, but also to die at Hierusalem for the name of the Lord Iesus.

14 And when wee could not turne his mind, we ceased, saying, The will of the Lord be fulfilled.

15 And after those dayes wee tooke vp our burdens, and went vp to Hierusalem.

16 There went with vs also certaine of the disciples of Cesarea, and brought with them one Mnason of Cyprus, an old disciple, with whom we should lodge.

17 And when we were come to Hierusalem, the brethren receiued vs gladly.

18 And on the morow Paul went in with vs vnto [a] James, and all the elders came together.

a This James was the Lords brother, the sonne of Mary, which was the sister of the blessed virgin: which Iames afterward was bishop of Hierusalem.

19 And when he had saluted them, he told by order all things that God had wrought among the Gentiles by his ministerie.

20 And when they heard it, they glorified the Lord, and said vnto him, Thou seest, brother, howe many thousand Iewes there are which beleeue, and they are all earnest followers of the law.

21 And they are informed of thee, that thou teachest all the Iewes, which are among the Gentiles, to forsake Moses, saying, that they ought not to circumcise their children, neither to walke after the customes.

22 What is it therefore? the multitude must needes come together: for they shall heare that thou art come.

23 Do therefore this that we say to thee: We haue foure men which haue a vow on them, 24 Them take, & purifie thy selfe with them, and doe cost on them, that they may shaue their heads: * and all shall knowe that those things which they haue heard concerning thee, are nothing, but that thou thy selfe also walkest and keepest the law.

Num.6.18.

25 As touching the Gentiles which beleeue, * we haue written and concluded, that they obserue no such thing, saue onely that they keepe themselues from things offered to idoles, & from blood, and from strangled, and from fornication.

Act.15.20.

26 Then Paul tooke the men, and the next day purifying himselfe with them, entred into the Temple, * declaring the accomplishment of the dayes of the purification, vntill that an offering should be offered for euery one of them:

Num.6.13.

27 And when the seuen dayes were almost ended, the Iewes which were of Asia, when they saw him in the temple, mooued all the people, and laid hands on him,

28 Crying, Men of Israel, helpe: this is the man that teacheth all men euery where against the people, and the law, and this place: he hath also brought Greekes into the temple, and hath polluted this holy place.

29 (For they had seene before with him in the citie, Trophimus an Ephesian, whom they supposed that Paul had brought into the temple.)

30 And all the city was mooued, and the people swarmed together: and they tooke Paul, and drew him out of the temple: and forthwith the doores were shut.

31 And as they went about to kil him, tidings came vnto the high captaine of the souldiers, that all Hierusalem was in an vprore.

32 Which immediatly tooke [b] souldiers, and vnder captaines, and ran downe vnto them: and when they saw the chiefe captaine and the souldiers, they left smiting of Paul.

b God oftentimes appointeth his magistrates to deliuer his faithfull ministers from all furies of their enemies.

33 Then the chiefe captaine came neere, and tooke him, and commanded him to be bound with two chaines, and demanded who he was, and what he had done.

34 And some cryed one thing, some another, among the people: and when he could not know the certainety for the rage, he commanded him to be caried into the castle.

35 And when he came vpon the staires, it was so that he was borne of the souldiers for the violence of the people.

36 For the multitude of the people followed after, crying, Away with him.

37 And when Paul began to be caried into the castle, he said vnto the high captaine, May I speake vnto thee? Who said, Canst thou speake Greeke?

38 * Art thou not that Egyptian which before these daies madest an vprore, and leddest out into the wildernesse foure thousand men that were murderers?

Act.5.36.

39 But Paul said, I am a man which am a Iew of * Tarsus, a citie in Cilicia, a citizen of no vile citie: and I beseech thee suffer me to speake vnto the people.

Act.22.5.

40 And when he had giuen him licence, Paul stood on the staires, and beckened with the hand vnto the people: and when there was made a great silence, he spake vnto them in the Hebrew tongue, saying,

The xxij. Chapter.

3 Paul rendreth an account of his life and doctrine. 25 He escapeth the whip, by reason he was a citizen of Rome.

MEn, brethren, and fathers, heare yee mine answere which I make vnto you.

2 (And when they heard that he spake in the Hebrew tongue to them, they kept the more silence: and he saith.)

3 I am verely a man which am a Iewe, borne in Tarsus a citie in Cilicia, & yet brought vp in this city at the feete of Gamaliel, & taught according to the perfect maner of the law of the fathers, and was zealous towards God, as yee all are this same day.

4 And * I persecuted this way vnto the death, binding and deliuering into prisons both men and women, also I receiued letters vnto the brethren, and went to Damascus, to bring them which were there, bound vnto Hierusalē, for to be punished.

6 And it came to passe, that as I made my iourney, and was come nigh vnto Damascus about noone, suddenly there shone from heauen a great light round about me:

7 And I fell vnto the earth, and heard a voice, saying vnto me, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?

8 And I answered, Who art thou, Lord? And he said vnto me, I am Iesus of Nazareth [a] whom thou persecutest.

a Iesus was now in heauen, and could not be persecuted of Saul: But the persecution which Saul exercised against the faithfull being his members, Christ counted it as done to himselfe.

9 And they that were with me, saw verily the light, and were afraid: but they heard not the voice of him that spake to me.

10 And I said, What shall I doe, Lord? And the Lord said vnto me, Arise, and goe into Damascus: & there it shall be told thee of all things which are appointed for thee to doe.

11 And when I sawe nothing for the brightnesse of the light, being led by the hand of them that were with me, I came into Damascus.

12 And one Ananias, a deuout man as pertaining to the law, hauing a good report of all the Iewes which there dwelt,

13 Came vnto mee, and stood, and said vnto me, Brother Saul, receiue thy sight. And the same houre I looked vp vpon him.

14 And he said, The God of our fathers hath ordeined thee before, that thou shouldest knowe his will, and see that Iust one, & shouldest heare the voice of his mouth.

15 For thou shalt be his witnes vnto all men, of those things which thou hast seene and heard:

16 And now, why tarriest thou? Arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sinnes, in calling on the name of the Lord.

17 And it came to passe, that when I was come againe to Hierusalem, and prayed in the temple, I was in a trance,

18 And sawe him saying vnto mee, Make haste, and get thee quickly out of Hierusalem: for they will not receiue thy witnesse concerning me.

Act. 8.3. 19 And I said, Lord they know that *I prisoned, and beat in euery synagogue them that beleeued on thee.

Act. 7.58. 20 And when the blood of thy witnesse Steuen was shed, *I also was standing by, and consenting vnto his death, and kept the raiment of them that slew him.

21 And he said vnto me, Depart: for I will send thee farre hence vnto the Gentiles.

22 And they gaue him audience vnto this word, and then lift vp their voices, and said, Away with such a fellow from the earth: for it is no reason that he should liue.

23 And as they cried and cast off their clothes, and threw dust into the aire,

24 The chiefe captaine commanded him to be brought into the castle, and bade that he should be scourged, and examined: that he might know wherefore they cried so on him.

b We may not deny it at Rome, nor at Antioch the citizens inherent enioy the priuiledge of the citie of Rome, & were counted as Romanes.

25 And as they bound him with thongs, Paul said vnto the Centurion that stood by, Is it lawful for you to scourge a man that is a [b] Romane, and vncondemned?

26 When the Centurion heard that, he went and told the chiefe captaine, saying, Take heede what thou doest, for this man is a Romane.

27 Then the chiefe captaine came, and said vnto him, Tell me, art thou a Romane? He said, Yea.

28 And the chiefe captaine answered, With a great summe obtained I this freedome. And Paul said, I was free borne.

29 Then straightway departed from him they which should haue examined him: and the chiefe captaine also was afraid after he knewe that he was a Romane, and because hee had bound him.

30 On the morow, because he would haue knowen the certainty wherfore he was accused of the Iewes, he loosed him from his bands, and commanded the high priests and all the counsell to come together, and brought Paul forth, and set him before them.

The xxiij. Chapter.

1 Paul commeth before the counsaile. 2 Ananias causeth him to be stricken.

AND Paul earnestly beholding the counsaile, said, Men and brethren, I haue liued in all good conscience before God vntill this day.

2 And the high Priest Ananias commanded them that stood by, to smite him on the mouth.

3 Then saith Paul vnto him, God shal smite thee thou [a] painted wal: for sittest thou & iudgest me after the law, and commandest me to be smitten contrary to the law?

a Paul doth not curse the high Priest, but denounce harply the punishment of God, which should light vpon him, in the way of prophecying. b It is thought that Paul in mockerie thus reuiled him, as though eyther he should say, I see nowthing in this man worthy the office of the high Priest. Exo. 21.18. Phil. 3.5. act. 24.22.

4 And they that stood by, said, Reuilest thou Gods high Priest?

5 Then said Paul, I will not, brethren, [b] that he was the high Priest: for it is written, *Thou shalt not curse the ruler of thy people.

6 But when Paul perceiued that the one part were Sadducees, and the other Pharisees, he cryed out in the counsaile, *Men and brethren, I am a Pharisee, the sonne of a Pharisee: of the hope and resurrection of the dead I am iudged.

7 And when he had so said, there arose a debate betweene the Pharisees & the Saducees: and the multitude was diuided.

8 *For the Saduces say that there is no resurrection, neither Angel, nor spirit: but the Pharisees confesse both. Mat. 22.23.

9 And there arose a great cry: and when the Scribes which were of the Pharisees part arose, they stroue, saying, We finde no euil in this man: but if a spirit or an Angel hath spoken to him, let vs not striue against God.

10 And when there arose a great debate, the chiefe captaine fearing least Paul should haue bene plucht asunder of them, commanded the souldiers to goe downe, and to take him from among them, and to bring him into the castle.

11 And the night following, the Lord stood by him, and said, Be of good cheere, Paul: for as thou hast testified of me in Hierusalem, so must thou beare witnesse also at Rome.

12 And when it was day, certaine of the Iewes gathered themselues together, and made a [c] vow, saying that they would neither eat nor drinke till they had killed Paul.

c The word properly signifieth cursing, as when a man either sweareth, voweth, or wisheth himselfe to die, or to be giuen to the deuill, except he fulfil his purpose to passe.

13 And they were more then fourtie men, which had made this conspiracie.

14 And they came to the chiefe Priests and elders, and said, We haue bound our selues with a vowe, that wee will eate nothing vntill we haue slaine Paul.

15 Nowe therefore giue yee knowlege to the chiefe captaine, and to the counsaile, that he bring him foorth vnto you to morow, as though ye would knowe something more perfectly of him: and we, or euer he come neere, are readie to kill him.

16 And when Pauls sisters sonne heard of their laying awaite, he went and entred into the castle, and told Paul.

17 And Paul called one of the vnder captains vnto him, and said, Bring this young man vnto the high captaine: for he hath a certaine thing to shew him.

18 And he tooke him, and brought him to the high captaine, and said, Paul the prisoner called me vnto him, and prayed me to bring this yong man vnto thee, which hath a certaine matter to shew thee.

19 Then the high captaine tooke him by the hand, and went with him out of the way, and asked him, What is it that thou hast to tell me?

20 And he said, The Iewes are determined to desire thee, that thou wouldest bring foorth Paul to morow into the counsaile, as though they would enquire somewhat of him more perfectly.

21 But follow not thou their mindes: for there lie in wait for him of them moe then fourtie men, which haue bound themselues with a vowe, that they will neither eate nor drinke, till they haue killed him: and now are they readie, and looke for a promise from thee.

22 The chiefe captaine then let the yong man depart, & charged him, See thou tell it out to no man, that thou hast shewed these things to me.

23 And hee called vnto him two vndercaptaines, saying, Make readie two hundred souldiers to goe to Cesarea, and horsemen threescore and ten, and speare men two hundred, at the third houre of the night:

24 And deliuer them beastes, that they may set Paul on, and bring him safe vnto Felix the high deputie.

25 And he wrote a letter after this maner,

26 Claudius Lysias, vnto the most mightie ruler Felix, sendeth greetings.

27 This man was taken of the Iewes, and should haue bene killed of them: Then came I with an armie, and rescued him, and perceiued that he was a Romane:

28 And when I would haue knowen the cause wherefore they accused him, I brought him forth into their counsaile.

29 Whom I perceiued to be accused of questions of their law, but hauing nothing layd to his charge worthy of death, or of bonds.

30 And when it was shewed me how that the Iewes laid wait for the mã, I sent him straightway to thee, & gaue commandement to his accusers, that the things which they haue against him, they should tell before thee. Farewell.

31 Then the souldiers as it was commanded them, tooke Paul, and brought him nigh to Antipatridis.

32 On the morow, they left the horsemen to goe with him, and returned vnto the castle.

33 Which when they came to Cesarea, and deliuered the Epistle to the deputie, presented Paul also before him.

34 And when the deputie had read the letter, he asked of what prouince he was. And when he vnderstood that he was of Cilicia:

35 I will heare thee, said he, when thine accusers are come also. And he commanded him to be kept in Herods iudgement hall.

The xxiiij. Chapter.

Paul being accused, answereth for his life and doctrine.

AND after fiue dayes, Ananias the hie Priest descended with the elders, and with a certaine Orator, named Tertullus, which appeared before the deputie against Paul.

2 And when Paul was called forth, Tertullus began to accuse him, saying, Seeing that we haue [a] obtained great quietnes by the means of thee, and that many good things are done vnto this nation through thy prouidence,

3 That allow we euer, and in al places, most noble Felix, with all thankes.

4 Notwithstanding, that I be not tedious vnto thee, I pray thee, that thou wouldest heare vs of thy curtelie a few words.

5 For we haue found this man a pestilent fellowe, and a mouer of debate vnto all the Iewes in the whole world, and a maintainer of the sect of the Nazarites.

6 Which also hath gone about to pollute the temple: whom we tooke, and would haue iudged according to our law.

7 But the high captaine Lysias came vpon vs, and with great violence tooke him away out of our hands,

8 Commanding his accusers to come vnto thee, of whom thou maiest, if thou wilt enquire, know the certaintie of all these things whereof we accuse him.

9 And the Iewes likewise affirmed, saying that these things were so.

10 Then Paul, after that the deputie himselfe had beckened vnto him that hee should speake, answered, With a more quiet mind doe I answere for my selfe, for as much as I vnderstand that thou hast bene of many yeres a iudge vnto this nation:

11 Because that thou mayest knowe, that there are yet but twelue dayes, since I went vp to Hierusalem for to worship.

12 And they neither found mee in the temple disputing with any man, neither raising vp the people, neither in the synagogues, nor in the citie:

13 Neither can they proue the things whereof they accuse me.

14 But this I confesse vnto thee, that after the way which they call [b] heresie, so worship I the God of my fathers, beleeuing all thinges which are written in the Law & the Prophets,

15 And haue hope towards God, that the resurrection of the dead, which they themselues looke for also, shall be both of the iust and vniust.

16 And herein study I, to haue alway a cleare conscience toward God, and toward men.

17 Now after many yeres, I came & brought almes to my nation, and offrings:

18 *In the which they found me purified in the temple, neither with multitude, nor yet with vnquietnesse.

a Felix by his diligence hath taken Cilicia, & thus the captaine of the murderers, and put the Egyptians to flight, which raised vp rumours in Iury. For thus the Orator paints him: of some lawes he was both cruell and couetous.

b No marueil though in one land Gods true religion be called heresie, seeing it was counted of the vngodlymen in the beginning of Charles kingdome.

Act. 21.27.

fol. Gggg1v

19 Howbeit, there were certaine Iewes out of Asia,

20 which ought to be here c present before thee, and accuse me, if they had ought against me.

21 Or els let these same here say, if they haue found any euill doing in me, while I stand here in the Councel, 22 Except it bee for this one voice, that I cryed standing among them, *That of the resurrection from the dead, am I iudged of you this day.

23 And when Felix heard these things, he deferred them: for he knewe very well of that way, and sayde, When Lysias the captaine is come downe, I will knowe the vttermost of your matter.

24 And he commanded an vndercaptaine to keepe Paul, and to let him haue rest, and that he should forbid none of his acquaintance to minister vnto him, or to come vnto him.

25 And after certaine daies, when Felix came with his wife Drusilla, which was a Iewesse, he called forth Paul, and heard him of the faith which is toward Christ.

26 And as he reasoned of righteousnesse, temperance, and iudgement to come, Felix d trembled, and answered, Goe thy way for this time, when I haue a conuenient season, I will send for thee.

27 He hoped also that money should haue bin giuen him of Paul, that he might loose him: wherefore he sent for him the oftner, and communed with him.

28 But after two yeres, Portius Festus came into Felix roume: and Felix willing to shew the Iewes a pleasure, left Paul bound.

The xxv. Chapter.

2 The Iewes accuse Paul before Festus. 8 He answereth for himselfe.

Then when Festus was come into the prouince, after three dayes he ascended from Cesarea to Hierusalem.

2 Then enfourmed him the high priest, and the chiefe of the Iewes, against Paul, and they besought him,

3 And desired fauour against him, that he would send for him to Hierusalem, laying waite in the way to kill him.

4 But Festus answered, that Paul should be kept at Cesarea, and that he himselfe would depart shortly thither.

5 Let them therefore, said he, which among you are able, come downe with vs, and accuse him, if there be any fault in this man.

6 And when he had taried among them more then ten dayes, he went downe vnto Cesarea, and the next day sate downe in the iudgement seate, and commanded Paul to be brought.

7 Who being come, the Iewes which were come from Hierusalem, stood about him, and laide many and grieuous complaints against Paul, which they could not a proue,

8 While hee answered for himselfe, that neither against the lawe of the Iewes, neither against the temple, nor yet against Cesar, haue I offended any thing at all.

9 But Festus willing to doe the Iewes a pleasure, answered Paul, and said, Wilt thou go vp to Hierusalem, and there be iudged of these things before me?

10 Then said Paul, I stand at Cesars iudgement seat, where I ought to be iudged, to the Iewes haue I done no wrong, as thou very wel knowest.

11 For if I doe any wrong, or haue committed any thing worthy of death, I refuse not to die: but if there be none of these things whereof they accuse me, no man may deliuer mee vnto them, I appeale vnto b Cesar.

12 Then spake Festus with the Councell, and answered, Hast thou appealed vnto Cesar? vnto Cesar shalt thou goe.

13 And after certaine dayes, king Agrippa and Bernice, came vnto Cesarea, to salute Festus.

14 And when they had beene there a good season, Festus rehearsed Pauls cause vnto the king, saying, There is a certaine man left in bondes of Felix.

15 About whom, when I came to Hierusalem, the high Priests & the Elders of the Iewes enformed me, and desired to haue iudgement against him.

16 To whom I answered, It is not the maner of the Romanes, for fauour to deliuer any man that he should perish, before that he which is accused, haue the accusers face to face, and haue licence to answere for himselfe concerning the crime laide against him.

17 Therefore when they were come thither, without any delay, on the morow I sate on the iudgement seate, and commaunded the man to be brought forth.

18 Against whom, when the accusers stoode vp, they brought none accusation of such things as I supposed:

19 But had certaine questions against him of their owne superstition, and of one Iesus, which was dead, whom Paul affirmed to be aliue.

20 And because I doubted of such manner of questions, I asked him whether hee would goe to Hierusalem, and there be iudged of these matters.

21 But when Paul had appealed to bee kept vnto the knowledge of Augustus, I commanded him to be kept, till I might send him to Cesar.

22 Then Agrippa said vnto Festus, I would also heare the man my selfe. To morow, said he, thou shalt heare him.

23 And on the morowe when Agrippa was come and Bernice, with great pompe, and was entred into the counsaile house, with the chiefe captaines, and chiefe men of the citie, at Festus commandement was Paul brought foorth.

24 And Festus saide, King Agrippa, and all men which are here present with vs, yee see this man, about whom all the multitude of the Iewes haue entreated me, both at Hierusalem, and also here, crying that he ought not to liue any longer.

25 Yet found I nothing worthy of death that he had committed: Neuertheless, seeing that he hath appealed to Augustus, I haue determined to send him,

26 Of whom I haue no certaine thing to write vnto my Lord: Wherefore I haue brought him forth before you, and specially before thee, c These accuse Iesus but vpon false reports, which the bellowes of Satan han blowen abroad, and durst not for shame appeare themselues. Acts.23.7.

O king

d Such is the might & force of Gods beauenly word, that it causeth the very wicked to tremble and quake.

a Whiles Paul liued vnder the law like other Iewes, his conuersation was perfect and notable, and after his conuersion vnto Christ, he became a more notable example of innocencie: but it is a common case, that the ministers of God are euill spoken of for their well doing.

b The iniquity of the iudge, who contrary to equitie, willing to pleasure the Iewes desired how to betray Paul, hauing Paul to appeale, which is the vttermost remedie for such as by wrong iudgement are oppressed: and this appellation by Gods prouidence, was a meane that Paul shoulde testifie of Christ at Rome also.

O king Agrippa, that after examination had, I might haue somewhat to write.

27 For mee thinketh it vnreasonable for to send a prisoner, & not to shewe the causes which are layd against him.

The xxvj. Chapter.

1 King Agrippa heareth Paul. 25 Pauls modest answere against the iniurie of Festus.

THen Agrippa sayde vnto Paul, Thou art permitted to speake for thy selfe. Then Paul stretched forth the hand, and answered for himselfe.

2 I thinke my selfe happy, king Agrippa, because I shall answere this day before thee of all the things whereof I am accused of the Iewes:

3 Namely, because thou art expert in all customes and questions which are among [a] the Iewes: wherefore I beseech thee to heare mee patiently.

4 My life that I haue led of a child, which was at the first among mine owne nation at Hierusalem, know all the Iewes,

5 Which knewe me from the beginning, (if they would testifie) that after the most straitest sect of our [b] religion, I liued a Pharisee.

6 And now I stand, and am iudged for the hope of the promise made of God vnto our fathers:

7 Vnto which promise our twelue tribes instantly seruing God day and night, hope to come: For which hopes sake, king Agrippa, I am accused of the Iewes.

8 Why should it be thought a thing incredible vnto you, that God raiseth the dead?

9 I also verily thought in my selfe, that I ought to doe many contrary things, cleane against the name of Iesus of Nazareth:

Act.8.3.

10 * Which thing I also did in Hierusalem, and many of the Saints did I shut vp in prison, hauing receiued authoritie of the high Priests, and when they were put to death, I gaue the sentence.

11 And I punished them oft in euery synagogue, and compelled them to blaspheme, and was yet more mad vpon them, and persecuted them euen vnto strange cities.

Act.9.8.

12 *About which things as I went to Damascus, with authoritie and commission of the high priests,

13 Euen at midday, O king, I saw in the way a light from heauen, aboue the brightnes of the sunne, shine round about mee, and them which iourneyed with me.

14 And when we were all fallen to the earth, I heard a voice speaking vnto me in the Hebrew tongue, and saying, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou mee? It is hard for thee to kicke against the prickes.

15 And I said, Who art thou, Lord? And he said, I am Iesus whom thou persecutest.

16 But rise and stande vpon thy feete, for I haue appeared vnto thee for this purpose, to make thee a minister and a witnes, both of these things which thou hast seene, & of those things in the which I will appeare vnto thee,

17 Deliuering thee from the people, and from the Gentiles, vnto whom nowe I sende thee,

18 To open their eyes, that they may bee turned from darknesse to light, and from the power of Satan vnto God, that they may receiue forgiuenesse of sinnes, and inheritance among them which are sanctified by faith that is in me.

19 Wherefore, O king Agrippa, I was not disobedient vnto the heauenly vision:

20 But shewed first vnto them of Damascus, and at Hierusalem, & throughout all the coasts of Iurie, and then to the Gentiles, that they should repent and turne to God, and doe such workes as become them that repent.

21 For this cause the Iewes caught me in the Temple, and went about to kill me.

22 Seeing therefore that I haue obteined helpe of God, I continue vnto this day, witnessing both to small and great, saying none other things then those which the Prophets and Moses did say should come:

23 That Christ should suffer, and that hee should be the first that should rise from the dead, and should shewe light vnto the people, and to the Gentiles.

24 And as he thus spake for himselfe, Festus sayde with a loude voyce, Paul, thou art beside thy [c] selfe, much learning doth make thee madde.

25 But he said, I am not madde, most noble Festus, but speake forth the words of trueth and soberneſſe, 26 For the king knoweth of these things, before whom also I speake freely, neither beleeue I, that any of these things are hidden from him, for this thing was not done in a corner.

27 King Agrippa, beleeuest thou the Prophets? I wote well that thou beleeuest.

28 Then Agrippa said vnto Paul, Somewhat thou perswadest [d] me to be a christian.

29 And Paul said, I would to God, that not onely thou, but also all that heare mee to day, were both somewhat, and also in a great deale such as I am, except these bonds.

30 And when he had thus spoken, the king rose vp, and the deputie, and Bernice, and they that sate with them.

31 And when they were gone apart, they talked betweene themselues, saying, This man doeth nothing worthy of death, or of bonds.

32 Then saide Agrippa vnto Festus, This man might haue bene let loose, if he had not appealed vnto Cesar.

The xxvij. Chapter.

1 Paul shippeth toward Rome. 3 Iulius the captaine entreateth him courteously.

AND when it was concluded that we should saile into Italy, they deliuered both Paul and certaine other prisoners, vnto one named Julius, an vndercaptaine of Augustus band.

2 *And we entred into a ship of Adramyttium, and loosed from land, appointed to saile by the coasts of Asia, one Aristarchus out of Macedonia, of the countrey of Thessalonica, tarying still with vs.

2.Cor.11.22.

3 And the next day we came to Sidon: And Julius courteously entreated Paul, and gaue him libertie to goe vnto his friendes, and to refreshe himselfe.

4 And when we had launched from thence,

[a] He knewe not, but hee failed in the right applying of his knowledge as they doe which be wise in their owne conceits onely, and haue the zeale of God, but not according to knowledge.

[b] He calleth the sect of the Pharisies to be perfectest, because their doctrine was better then the other sects. The Sadducees denied the resurrection of the dead. The Essees gloseing in straitnesse of life, litle regarded true doctrine.

[c] Festus being inwardly troubled with Pauls declaration, and hauing nothing to say against it, yet would not yeelde vnto it, but clamorously condemned it as wicked and superstitious: For worldlings are loth to be cumbred with godly matters and couet all such foolish that trouble themselues therewith.

[d] He saw a little light, but it was soone out, like vnto those that hearing a sermon, are for a time well minded, but after returne to their olde trade.

we sayled hard by Cyprus, because the windes were contrary.

5 And when we had sayled ouer the sea of Cilicia and Pamphylia, we came to Myra a city which is in Lycia,

6 And there the vndercaptaine found a ship of Alexandria sailing into Italy, and he put vs therein.

7 And when wee had sayled slowly many dayes, and scarse were come ouer against Gnidum, because the winde withstood vs, we sayled hard by ‖ Candie, ouer against Salmone, ‖ Or, Creta, which was an high hill of Candie.

8 And with much worke sayled beyond it, and came vnto a place which is called the Faire hauens, nigh whereunto was the citie of Lasea.

9 When much time was spent, and when sayling was now ieopardous, because also that the fast was now already past, Paul put them in remembrance,

10 And sayd vnto them, Sirs, I perceiue that this voiage wil be with hurt and much damage, not of the lading and ship onely, but also of our liues.

11 Neuertheless, the vndertaptaine beleeued the gouernour and the master of the shippe, more then those things which were spoken of Paul.

12 And because the Hauen was not commodious to winter in, many tooke counsell to depart thence, if by any meanes they might attain to Phenice, and there to winter, which is an Hauen of Candy, and lieth toward the South west and North west winde.

13 And when the South winde blew softly, they supposing that they had obteined their purpose, loosed vnto Asson, and sailed past Candie.

14 But not long after, there arose against their purpose a flaw of winde out of the Northeast, which is called Euroclydon.

15 And when the ship was caught, and could not resist the winde, wee let her goe, and were driuen with the weather.

16 But we were caried into an Ile, which is called Clauda, and had much worke to come by a boate, 17 Which they tooke vp, and vsed helpe, and made fast the ship, fearing least they should fall into the Syrtes: and so they let downe a ‖ vessel, and were caried.

‖ Some reade, the sailes,

18 The next day when we were tossed with an exceeding tempest, they lighted the ship:

19 And the third day wee cast out with our owne handes the tackling of the ship.

20 And when neither the sunne nor starres in many dayes appeared, and no small tempest lay vpon vs, all hope that wee should be saued was then taken away.

21 But after long abstinence, Paul stood forth in the middes of them, and said, Sirs, ye should haue hearkened vnto mee, and not haue loosed from Candie, and to haue gained vnto vs this harme and losse.

22 And now I exhort you to be of good cheere: for there shall be no losse of any mans life among you, but of the ship.

a The graces and blessings which God giueth to his children, passe many times the enemies, which are vnworthy to receiue the fruit thereof.

23 For there stood by me this night the angel of God, whose I am, and whom I serue, 24 Saying, Feare not, Paul, thou must be brought before Cesar, and loe, God hath giuen thee a all them that sayle with thee.

25 Wherefore Sirs, be of good cheere: for I beleeue God, that it shall be euen as it was told me.

26 Howbeit, we must be cast into a certaine Iland.

27 But whē the fourteenth night was come, as we were sayling in Adria about midnight, the shipmen deemed that they drewe neere to some countrey:

28 And sounded, and found it twentie fadomes: and when they had gone a litle further, they sounded againe, and found it fifteene fadomes.

29 Then fearing least we should haue fallen on some rocke, they cast foure ankers out of the sterne, and wished for the day.

30 And as the shipmen were about to flee out of the ship, when they had let downe the boat into the sea, vnder a colour as though they would haue cast ankers out of the foreship,

31 Paul said to the vndercaptaine, and to the souldiers, Except these abide in the ship, yee b cannot be saued.

b Paul would vse such meanes as God had ordeined, least he should seeme to haue tempted him.

32 Then the souldiers cut off the rope of the boate, and let it fall away.

33 And when the day beganne to appeare, Paul besought them all to take meate, saying, This is the fourteenth day that ye haue tarried, and continued fasting, receiuing nothing at all.

34 Wherefore, I pray you to take meate, for this no doubt is for your health, for there shal not c an haire fall from the head of any of you.

c By this Hebrew speech is meant, that they should be in all points safe and sound.

35 And when he had thus spoken, he tooke bread, and gaue thankes to God in presence of them all: and when he had broken it, he began to eate.

36 Then were they all of good cheere, and they also tooke meate.

37 And we were altogether in the ship, two hundred threescore, and sixteene soules.

38 And when they had eaten ynough, they lighted the shippe, and cast out the wheate into the sea.

39 And when it was day, they knew not the land: but they spied a certaine Hauen, with a banke, into the which they were minded, if it were possible, to thrust in the ship.

40 And when they had taken vp the ankers, they committed ‖ themselues vnto the sea, and loosed the rudder bandes, & hoysed vp the maine saile to the winde, and drew to land.

‖ Or, the ship.

41 And when they fell into a place which had the sea on both sides, they thrust in the shippe, and the forepart stucke fast and moued not, but the hinder part brake with the violence of the waues.

42 And the souldiers counsell was to kill the prisoners, lest any of them, when he had swom out, should runne away.

43 But the vndercaptaine, willing to saue Paul, kept them from their purpose, and commaunded that they which could swimme, should cast themselues first into the sea, and scape to land:

44 And the other, some on boords, and some on broken pieces of the ship: and so it came to passe, that they escaped all safe to land.

AND when they were escaped, then they knew that the Ile was called Melita.

2 And the barbarous people shewed vs no little kindnesse, for they kindled a fire, and receiued vs euery one because of the present raine, and because of the cold.

3 And when Paul had gathered a bundle of sticks, and layd them on the fire, there came a Viper out of the heate, and caught him by the hand.

4 And when the strangers sawe the beast hang on his hand, they sayd among themselues, No doubt this man is a [a] murtherer, whome though hee hath escaped the sea, yet Vengeance suffereth not to liue.

5 And he shooke off the Viper into the fire, and [b] felt no harme.

6 Howbeit, they waited when hee should haue swollen, or fallen downe dead suddenly: but after they had looked a great while, and sawe no harme come to him, they changed their mindes, and sayd that he was a [c] God.

7 In the same quarters were possessions of the chiefe man of the Ile, whose name was Publius, which receiued vs, & lodged vs three daies courteously.

8 And it came to passe that the father of Publius lay sicke of a feuer, and of a bloody flixe, to whom Paul entred in, and prayed, and layd his hands on him, and healed him.

9 So when this was done, other also which had diseases in the Ile, came, and were healed:

10 Which also did vs great honour, and when we departed, they laded vs with such things as were necessary.

11 And after three monethes we departed in a ship of Alexandria, which had wintered in the Ile, whose badge was [d] Castor and Pollux.

12 And when we came to Syracusa, we tarried there three dayes.

13 And from thence wee fet a compasse, and came to Rhegium, and after one day the South winde blew, and we came the next day to Puteolus:

14 Where we found brethren, and were desired to tarrie with them seuen dayes: and so wee came toward Rome.

15 And from thence, when the brethren heard of vs, they came to meete vs at Appii forum, and at the three tauernes: when Paul sawe them, he thanked God, and wared bold.

16 And when we came to Rome, the vndercaptaine deliuered the prisoners to the chiefe captaine of the host: but Paul was suffered to dwel by himselfe, with a souldier that kept him.

17 And it came to passe, that after three daies, Paul called the chiefe of the Iewes together. And when they were come together, he said vnto them, Men and brethren, though I haue committed nothing against the people or lawes of the fathers, yet was I deliuered prisoner from Hierusalem into the hands of the Romanes.

18 Which when they had examined me, would haue let me goe, because there was no cause of death in me.

19 But when the Iewes spake contrary, I was constrained to appeale vnto Cesar, not that I had ought to accuse my nation of.

20 For this cause then haue I called for you, euen to see you, and to speake with you: because that for the [c] hope of Israel I am bound with this chaine.

21 And they sayd vnto him, We neither receiued letters out of Iurie concerning thee, neither any of the brethren that came, shewed or spake any harme of thee.

22 But we wil heare of thee what thou thinkest: for as concerning this sect, we know that euery where it is spoken against.

23 And when they had appointed him a day, there came many to him in his lodging, to whom he expounded and testified the kingdome of God, perswading them concerning Iesus, both out of the lawe of Moses, and out of the Prophets, euen from morning to night.

24 And some were perswaded in the things which were spoken, and some beleeued not.

24 And when they agreed not among themselues, they departed, after that Paul had spoken one word, (that is to say,) Well spake the holy Ghost by Esaias the Prophet, vnto our fathers, 26 Saying, * Goe vnto this people, and say, With your eares shall ye heare, and shall not vnderstand, and with your eyes shall ye see, and not perceiue.

27 For the heart of this people is waxed grosse, and their eares are dul of hearing, and their eyes haue they closed, lest they should see with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and vnderstand with their hearts, and should be conuerted, and I should heare them.

28 Be it knowen therefore vnto you, that this saluation of God is sent vnto the Gentiles, and they shall heare it.

29 And when hee had layd these wordes, the Iewes departed, & had great reasoning among themselues.

30 And Paul dwelt two yeeres full in his owne hired house, and receiued all that came in vnto him, 31 Preaching the kingdome of God, and teaching those things which concerne the Lord Iesus Christ, with all confidence, no man forbidding him.

Here endeth the Acts of the Apostles.

a Such is the peruerse iudgement of men, that they condemne them whom they see in any affliction.

b By this miracle, God performed his promise made to his disciples, that neither serpents should hurt them, and also by the same, was confirmed the Gospell of his sonne Iesus Christ, which Paul preached vnto the world.

c Behold the extremitie of Infidels: for after any rage and errour, they fall forthwith into the contrary.

d These the Painims fained to be Iupiters children gods of the sea.

c That is, for Iesus Christ, whom they had long looked for, to be the reuerence of the world.

The Epistle of the Apostle Saint Paul to the Romanes.

The first Chapter.

1 Paul sheweth to whome and to what purpose hee is called. 16 What the Gospel is. 18 The vengeance of God vpon the wicked. 20 The vse of the creatures. 24 The ingratitude and punishment of the wicked.

PAul the seruant of Jesus Christ, [a] called to be an Apostle, seuered vnto the Gospel of God,

2 Which hee had promised afore by his Prophets in the holy Scriptures

3 Of his sonne, which was made of the seede of Dauid after the flesh:

4 And hath bene declared to be the sonne of [b] God, with power after the spirite that sanctifieth, by the resurrection from the dead, of Jesus Christ our Lord:

5 By whome wee haue receiued grace and Apostleship, that obedience might be giuen vnto the faith in his name among all Heathen.

6 Among whome, yee are also the called of Jesus Christ:

7 To all that bee in Rome, beloued of God, saints by calling: Grace to you, and peace from God our father, and the Lord Jesus Christ:

8 First verely I thanke my God through Jesus Christ for you all, that your faith is published throughout all the world.

9 For God is my witnesse, whome I serue with my spirite in the Gospel of his sonne, that without ceasing I make mention of you:

10 Praying alwayes in my prayers, that by some meane at the last, one time or other, I might make a prosperous iourney by the will of God, to come vnto you.

11 For I long to see you, that I might bestow among you some spirituall gift, that yee might be established, 12 That is, that I might haue consolation together with you, eche with others faith, yours and mine.

13 I would that yee should knowe, brethren, how that I haue oftentimes purposed to come vnto you (and haue beene let hitherto) that I might haue some fruite also among you, as among other of the Gentiles.

14 I am detter both to the Greekes, & to the [c] barbarous, both to the wise and to the vnwise.

15 So that as much as in me is, I am ready to preach the Gospel to you that are at Rome also.

16 For I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Christ, because it is the power of God vnto saluation to all that beleeue, to the Jewe first, and also to the Greeke.

17 For by it is the righteousnesse of God opened from faith to faith: as it is written, The iust shall liue by faith.

18 For the wrath of God [d] is reuealed from heauen, against all vngodlinesse and vnrighteousnesse of men, which [e] withhold the trueth in vnrighteousnesse, 19 For that that may bee knowen of God, is manifest among them, because God hath shewed it vnto them.

20 For his inuisible things, being vnderstanded by his workes, through the creation of the world, are seene, that is, both his eternall power and Godhead, so that they are without excuse:

21 Because that when they knewe God, notwithstanding they glorified him not as God, neither were thankfull, but waxed full of vanities in their imaginations, and their foolish heart was blinded.

22 When they counted themselues wise, they became fooles:

23 And turned the glory of the vncorruptible God vnto an Image, made not onely after the similitude of a corruptible man, but also, of birdes, and foure footed beasts, and of creeping beasts.

24 Wherefore God gaue them vp vnto vnclenesse, through the lustes of their owne heartes, that their owne bodies should be defiled among themselues.

25 Which changed his [f] trueth for a lye, and worshipped and serued the creature, more then the Creatour, which is to bee praised for euer, Amen.

26 Wherefore God gaue them vp vnto shamefull lustes, for euen their women did chaunge the naturall vse, into that which is against nature.

27 And likewise also, the men left the naturall vse of the woman, and brent in their lustes one with another, and men with men wrought filthinesse, and receiued in themselues the reward of their errour (as it was according.)

28 And as they regarded not to knowe God: euen so, God deliuered them vp vnto a lewde minde, that they should doe those things which were not comely:

29 Being full of all vnrighteousnesse, fornication, craftinesse, couetousnesse, maliciousnesse, full of enuie, murther, debate, deceit, euill conditioned, whisperers,

30 Backebiters, haters of God, despitefull, proud,

a By this he declareth that he came not into the office of the Apostleship vp into some arrogancie, but by the calling of God, whereby hee differeth from the false Apostles.

b Three manner of wayes Paul sheweth here Christ to be declared the sonne of God. First, by power & working of miracles. Secondly, by the holy Ghost appearing in visible signes. Thirdly, by his resurrection from the dead.

c All those that were not Jewes, by a common worde were called Heathen. And here they are deuided into Greekes and Barbarous. By Greekes, he vnderstandeth those that were learned, ciuill, and of good liuinging vp. By Barbarous, he vnderstandeth rude and sauage people, with whome no man could well haue to doe.

d Which appeareth the world knoweth nothing of. For in the light of God all men are godlesse, sinners, and the children of wrath, & when they know any thing of God, yet they be nought, because they neither thanke him nor serue him, and therefore plagues are powred vpon them from heauen.

e They hold or the trueth in vnrighteousnesse, which vnderstand the trueth, and doe not expresse the same in their deeds and life.

f By his trueth here he vnderstandeth the glory of God, and his true religion: and a lye he calleth idols, because the idolaters kept about to take a piece of wood & stone that which they were, thinking them to be neither wood nor stone, but certaine true to them that they were not, that is, diuine power and nature.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Gggg5v

proud, boasters, bringers vp of euill things, disobedient to father and mother:
31 Without vnderstanding, couenant breakers, without naturall affection, truce breakers, vnmercifull.
32 The which knowing the righteousnesse of God (howe that they which commit such things, are worthie of death) not onely doe the same, but also haue pleasure in them that doe them.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Gods iudgement vpon the hypocrites. 13 All men are sinners.

Mat.7.1. a Saint Paul speaketh here against those men only, who being themselues filled with all wickednesse and iniquitie, yet he of all other most busie and curious in noting and reprehending other mens faults: not of any godly zeale, but to iustifie themselues, and to bring other mē into hatred and contempt.

THerefore art thou vnexcusable, O man, whosoeuer * thou bee that a iudgest: for in that same wherein thou iudgest another, thou condemnest thy selfe. For thou that iudgest, doest euen the same things.
2 But wee are sure that the iudgement of God is according to the trueth, against them which commit such things.
3 Thinkest thou this, O thou man that iudgest them which doe such things, and doest the same thy selfe, that thou shalt escape the iudgement of God?
4 Either despisest thou the riches of his goodnesse, and patience, and long sufferance, not knowing that the goodnesse of God leadeth thee to repentance?
5 But thou, after thy stubburnnesse & heart that cannot repent, heapest vnto thy selfe wrath, against the day of wrath and declaration of the righteous iudgement of God:
6 *Which will reward euery man according to his b deeds:
7 To them which by continuing in well doing seeke for glory, and honour, and immortalitie, eternall life:
8 But vnto them that are contentious, and doe not obey the trueth, but obey vnrighteousnesse, shall come indignation and wrath,
9 Tribulation, and anguish, vpon euery soule of man that doeth euill, of the Iewe first, and also of the Greeke:
10 But glory, and honour, and peace, to euery man that doeth good, to the Iewe first, and also to the Greeke:
11 *For there is no respect of persons with God.
12 For whosoeuer hath sinned without law, shall also perish without lawe: and as many as haue sinned in the lawe, shall be iudged by the lawe,
13 (For in the sight of God, * the hearers of the law are not righteous: but the doers of the law shall be iustified.
14 For when the Gentiles which haue not the law, doe of nature the things contained in the law: they hauing not the law, are a law vnto themselues,
15 Which shewe the workes of the law written in their hearts, their consciences bearing them witnesse, and their thoughts accusing one another, or excusing)
16 At the day when God shall iudge the secrets of men by Iesus Christ, according to my c Gospel.
17 Behold, thou art called a Iewe, and d restest in the law, and makest thy boast of God,
18 And knowest his will, and allowest the things that be excellent, instourmed by the law:
19 And beleeuest that thou thy selfe art a guide of the blinde, a light of them which are in darkenesse,
20 An instourmer of them which lacke discretion, a teacher of the vnlearned: which hast the forme of knowledge, and of the trueth in the lawe.
21 Thou therefore which teachest another, teachest thou not thy selfe? Thou preachest a man should not steale, yet stealest thou?
22 Thou that sayest a man should not commit aduiterie, breakest thou wedlocke? Thou abhorrest idoles, and yet committest sacrilege?
23 Thou that makest thy boast of the lawe, through breaking the lawe, dishonourest thou God?
24 For the name of God is euill spoken of among the Gentiles through you, as it is written,
25 For circumcision verely auaileth, if thou keepe the lawe: but if thou be a breaker of the lawe, thy circumcision is made vncircumcision.
26 Therefore, if the c vncircumcision keepe the ordinances of the lawe, shall not his vncircumcision be counted for circumcision?
27 And shall not vncircumcision which is by nature, if it keepe the law, iudge thee, which being vnder the letter & circumcision doest transgresse the lawe?
28 For he is not a Iew, which is a Iewe || outward. Neither is that circumcision, which is outward in the flesh.
29 But he is a Iewe, which is one || inwardly, and the circumcision of the heart, which consisteth in the spirite, and not in the letter, is circumcision, whose praise is not of men, but of God.

Mat.16.27. b Not that our workes be of such merit that they deserue reward: but the scriptures vse this kinde of speaking, that thereby it may prouoke and stirre vp men vnto good liuing, whereby our faith may ring the more agreeable, which good workes God of his free grace doth reward.

2.Par.19.7. acts 10.34.

Iam.1.22.

c It is his Gospel, both for the seruent loue and zeale that he beareth to it, and also for the great paines that he hath taken in setting forth the same.

d Or awaketh the Iewes which were careles & secure though a certaine securitie and confidence in the law.

c By this word be meaneth all the people, of what countrey or nation soeuer they be, which haue not receiued the signe of circumcision, according to the law of Moses. ||Or, openly.

||or, secretly

The iij. Chapter.

1 The Iewes haue a prerogatiue, 24 All are iustified by grace through faith, and not through workes.

WHat preferrement then hath the Iewe? Or what profite is there of circumcision?
2 Much euery way. First, for because that vnto them were committed the words of God.
3 What then though some of them did not beleeue? Shall their vnbeliefe make the a faith of God without effect?
4 God forbid: Yea, let God be true, and euery man a lyar, as it is written, That thou mightest bee iustified in thy sayings, and ouercome when thou art iudged.
5 But if our vnrighteousnesse setteth forth the righteousnesse of God, what shall wee say? Is God vnrighteous which taketh vengeance? (I speake after the manner of men,)
6 God forbid: for how then shall God iudge the world?
7 For if the trueth of God hath more abounded through my lye vnto his glory, why am I as yet iudged as a sinner?
8 And not rather (as we be slanderously reported, and as some affirme that wee say) let vs doe euill, that good may come thereof? whose damnation is iust.
9 What then, are we better then they? No, in no wise: for wee haue before accused both a Which is the performance of Gods promise. For faith is taken after two sorts, both for our beliefe, when we assure our selues that God will performe his promise, & also for the faithfulnesse of Gods promise to his people. For although some of the Iewes did not beleeue, yet Gods truth neuer failed.

fol. Gggg6r

Iewes and Gentiles, that they are all vnder sinne:

Gal.3.22. 10 As it is written, *There is none righteous, no not one:

Psal.13.2, & 52.3. 11 *There is none that vnderstandeth, there is none that seeketh after God.

12 They are all gone out of the way, they are all become vnprofitable, there is none that doth good, no not one.

13 Their throate is an open sepulchre, with their tongues they haue deceiued, the poyson of Aspes is vnder their lips.

Psal.9.7. 14 *Whose mouth is full of cursing and bitternesse:

Prou.1.16, esa.19.7. 15 *Their feet are swift to shed blood.

Psal.16.1. 16 *Heartes griefe and miserie are in their wayes:

17 And the way of peace haue they not know'en.

Psal.36.2. 18 *There is no feare of God before their eyes.

19 Now we know that what things soeuer the lawe saieth, it saieth it to them which are vnder the law: that euery mouth may bee stopped, and that all the world may bee endangered to God.

b He includeth here the whole law, both the ceremoniall and morall, whose workes cannot iustifie, because they be imperfect in all men.

20 Because that by the deedes of the [b] lawe, there shall no flesh be iustified in his sight: For by the law commeth the knowledge of sinne.

21 *But now the righteousnes of God without the law is made manifest, being witnessed by the law and the Prophets.

Rom.2.17. 22 The righteousnes of God commeth by the faith of Iesus Christ, vnto all, & vpon all them that beleeue. There is no difference:

23 For all haue sinned, and haue need of the glory of God,

24 But are iustified freely by his grace, through the redemption that is in Christ Iesus:

c Which is a pacifying of Gods displeasure. & that whereas wee were sometime bondslaues to sinne, God made his only sonne Christ Iesus a sacrifice for our sinnes to reconcile vs againe by faith into Gods fauour.

25 Whome God hath set forth to be a [c] propitiation, through faith in his blood, to declare his righteousnesse, by the forgiuing of the sinnes that are past,

26 Which God did suffer, to shewe at this time his righteousnesse: that hee might be iust, and the iustifier of him which beleeueth on Iesus.

27 Where is then thy boasting? It is excluded. By what lawe? Of workes? Nay: but by the lawe of faith.

28 Therefore, we hold that a man is iustified by faith, without the deeds of the lawe.

29 Is he the God of the Iewes only? Is he not also of the Gentiles? Yes, euen of the Gentiles also.

d Meaning, that the Iewe & the Gentile are both iustified by one meanes, which is by faith.

30 For it is one God which shall iustifie the circumcision by [d] faith, and vncircumcision thorow faith.

31 Doe wee then destroy the lawe through faith? God forbid: but we rather maintaine the lawe.

The iiij. Chapter.

7 Iustification is the free gift of God, as it appeareth by Dauid and Abraham, 13 and also by the office of the law and faith.

WHat shall wee say then that Abraham our father, as pertaining to the flesh, did finde?

2 For if Abraham were iustified by workes, then hath he wherein to boast, but not before God.

3 For what saieth the Scripture? *Abraham beleeued God, and it was counted vnto him for righteousnesse. Gen.15.6. gal.3.6. iam.2.23.

4 To him that worketh, is the reward not reckoned of grace, but of dutie.

5 To him that worketh [a] not, but beleeueth on him that iustifieth the [b] vngodly, his faith is counted for righteousnesse.

a That is, which neuerneth not to obtaine saluation through the worthinesse of his workes.

b God is sayd to iustifie the vngodly, because he pardoneth his sinnes, and of a wicked man maketh him good.

6 Euen as Dauid describeth the blessednes of the man vnto whome God imputeth righteousnesse without workes:

7 Saying, *Blessed are they whose vnrighteousnesse are forgiuen, and whose sinnes are couered. Psal.32.1. The Epistle on newe yeres day.

8 Blessed is that man to whome the Lorde will not impute sinne.

9 Came this blessednesse then vpon the circumcision onely, or vpon the vncircumcision also? For we say that faith was reckoned to Abraham for righteousnesse.

10 How was it then reckoned? when he was in the circumcision, or when he was in the vncircumcision? Not in the circumcision, but in vncircumcision.

11 *And he receiued the signe of circumcision, as the [c] seale of the righteousnes of faith, which he had yet being vncircumcised: that hee should be the father of all them that beleeue, though they bee not circumcised, that righteousnesse might be imputed vnto them also. Gen.17.11

c So was Abrahams circumcision called, because thereby was sealed the righteousnesse that through faith was imputed to him before his circumcision.

12 And that he might be father of circumcision, not vnto them onely which came of the circumcised, but vnto them also that walke in the steppes of the faith that was in our father Abraham, before the time of circumcision.

13 For the promise that he should be the heire of the world, was not to Abraham, or to his seed through the law, but through the righteousnes of faith.

14 For if they which are of the law be heires, then is faith but vaine, and the promise made of none effect:

15 Because the law causeth wrath: For where no law is, there is no transgression.

16 Therefore by faith is the inheritance giuen that it might bee by grace, that the promise might be sure to all the seede, not to that onely which is of the lawe, but to that also which is of the faith of Abraham, which is the father of vs all.

17 (As it is written, *I haue made thee a father of many nations) before God whome yee beleeued, which restoreth the dead vnto life, and calleth those things which be not, as [d] though they were. Gen.17.4.

d In the creation of the world this appeared: For when he commanded any thing to be, forthwith it was.

18 Who contrary to hope, [e] beleeued in hope, that he should be the father of many nations: according to that which was spoken, * So shall thy seed be.

e That is, which beleeued and hoped for those things which God did promise, when as to mans reason they were without hope.

19 And he fainted not in the faith, nor considered his owne body now dead, when hee was almost an hundred yeeres olde, neither yet the [f] deadnesse of Saraes wombe. Gen.15.5.

f For that she was past child bearing.

20 Hee staggered not at the promise of God through vnbeliefe: but was strong in faith, giuing glory to God,

21 And being full certified, that what hee had promised, hee was able also to performe.

22 And therefore was it reckoned to him for righteousnesse.

23 Neuertheleſſe, it is not written for him
onely, that it was reckoned to him:
24 But also for vs, to whome it shall be reckoned, so that wee beleeue on him that raised vp Iesus our Lord from the dead,
25 Which was deliuered for our sinnes, and was raised againe for our iustification.

The v. Chapter.

1 The fruite of faith. 12 From whence commeth death, and from whence life.

a By peace, which is the fruit of faith, is meant the incredible & most constant ioy of minde, our conscience being quiet, and established in Gods grace. Ephe. 2. 23. Iames 1. 3.

THerefore beeing iustified by faith, wee are a peace with God, thorow our Lord Iesus Christ:
2 *By whome also wee haue had an entrance by faith, vnto this grace wherein we stand, and reioyce in hope of the glory of God.
3 Not that onely: *but also wee reioyce in tribulations, knowing that tribulation worketh patience:
4 Patience proofe: proofe hope:
b Both for that the hope of the godly is not vile pointed of, which they hope for, & also for that they are not a shamed of any affliction in this world, as the worldly minded be: but constantly abide without shame, what so euer trouble God doth send to them.
5 And hope maketh not b ashamed, because the loue of God is shedde abroad in our hearts by the holy Ghost, which is giuen vnto vs.
6 For when wee were yet weake, accordyng to the time, Christ died for the vngodly.
7 Now scarce will any man die for the righteous: yet peraduenture for the good, some man durst die.
8 But God setteth out his loue toward vs, seeing that while wee were yet sinners, Christ died for vs.
9 Much more then now, wee that are iustified by his blood, shall be saued from wrath thorow him.
10 For if when we were enemies, wee were reconciled to God by the death of his sonne: much more, seeing we are reconciled, we shalbe saued by his life.
11 Not onely so, but wee also ioy in God, thorow our Lord Iesus Christ, by whome we haue now receiued the atonement.
12 Wherefore, as by one man sinne entred into the world, and death by sinne: euen so, death entred into all men, in so much as all haue sinned.
13 For vnto the Lawe was sinne in the worlde: but sinne is not imputed when there is no law.
14 Neuertheleſſe, death reigned from Adam to Moses, ouer them also that had not sinned with like transgression as did Adam, which was the figure of him that was to come.
15 But not as the sinne, so is the free gift. For if through the sinne of one many be dead: much more the grace of God, and the gift by grace, which is by one man Iesus Christ, hath abounded vnto many.
16 And not as by one that sinned, euen so the gift, for the sinne entred by one offence into condemnation: but the gift of c many sinnes into iustification.
c For by Christ we are not only deliuered from the sinnes of Adam, but also from all such sinnes as we haue added thereunto.
17 For if by the sinne of one, death reigned by the meanes of one, much more they, which receiue abundance of grace and of the gift of righteousnesse, shall reigne in life by the meanes of one, Iesus Christ.
18 Likewise then, as by the sinne of one, sinne came on all men to condemnation: euen so, by the righteousnesse of one good came vpon all men to the righteousnesse of life.
19 For as by one mans disobedience many became sinners: so by the obedience of one, shall many be made righteous.
20 But the law in the meane time entred in, that sinne should increase. But where sinne was plenteous, grace was more plenteous.
21 That as sinne hath reigned vnto death: euen so might grace reigne through righteousnes vnto eternall life, by Iesus Christ our Lord.

The vj. Chapter.

Newnesse of life followeth iustification, to the which he exhorteth.

WHat shall we say then? Shall wee continue in sinne, that grace may abound? God forbid.
2 Howe shall wee that are dead a to sinne, liue any longer therein?
3 Know ye not, that all we which haue bene baptized into Iesus Christ, haue bene baptized b into his death?
4 Wee are buried then with him by baptisme into his death, that like wise as Christ was raised vp from the dead by the glorie of the father: euen so wee also should walke in newenesse of life.
5 For if we be graft together by the likenesse of his death: euen so shall wee be partakers of the resurrection:
6 Knowing this, that our olde man is crucified with him also, that the body of sinne might vtterly be destroyed, that henceforth we should not serue sinne.
7 For he that is dead, is iustified from sinne.
8 And if we be dead with Christ, wee beleeue that we shall also liue with him:
9 Knowing that Christ beeing raised from the dead, dieth no more, death hath no more power ouer him.
10 For as touching that he died, he died concerning sinne once: And as touching that he liueth, he liueth vnto God.
11 Likewise reckon your selues to bee dead vnto sinne: but aliue vnto God, through Iesus Christ our Lord.
12 Let not sinne therefore reigne in your mortall body, that ye should thereunto obey by the lusts of it.
13 Neither giue ye your members ‖ as instruments of vnrighteousnes vnto sinne: but giue your selues vnto God, as they that are aliue from the dead, and your members ‖ as instruments of righteousnes vnto God.
14 For sinne shall not haue power ouer you, because yee are not vnder the c lawe, but vnder grace.
15 What then? shall wee sinne, because wee are not vnder the Lawe, but vnder grace? God forbid.
16 *Know ye not how that to whomsoeuer ye commit your selues as seruants to obey, his seruants ye are to whom ye obey: whether it be of sinne vnto death, or of obedience vnto righteousnesse?
17 But God be thanked, that ye were the seruants of sinne: but yee haue obeyed with heart the fourme of doctrine, into the which yee were brought vnto, 18 Being then made free from sinne, yee are a He vseth to sinne, in whom the strength of sinne is broken by the power of Christ.

The Epistle on the vj. Sunday after Trinitie.
b That is, that sinne through Christs death may be abolished and die in vs: and that as we are made cleane our wardly with water in our baptisme, so inwardly our sinnes may be washed away, & cleansed by the blood of Christ.

become the seruants of righteousnesse.

19 I speake after the [d] maner of men, because of the infirmitie of your flesh. For, as yee haue giuen your members seruants to vncleannesse and iniquitie, vnto iniquitie: euen so now giue your members seruants to righteousnesse, vnto holinesse.

20 For when ye were the seruants of sinne, ye were free from righteousnesse.

21 What fruit had ye then in those things, whereof yee are now ashamed? For the ende of those things, is death.

22 But now yee being made free from sinne, and made the seruants of God, haue your fruit vnto holinesse, and the ende euerlasting life.

23 For the rewarde of sinne is death: but the gift of God is eternall life, through Iesus Christ our Lord.

The vij. Chapter.

The fight betweene the lawe of the flesh, and the Law of the Spirit.

KNowe yee not brethren (for I speake to them that knowe the [a] Law) how that the Lawe hath power ouer a man, as long as he liueth?

2 For the woman which hath an husband, is bound by the Lawe to her husband, as long as he liueth: but if the husband be dead, she is loosed from the law of her husband.

3 So then if while her husband liueth, shee couple her selfe with another man, shee shall be ‖ counted a wedlocke breaker: but if her husband be dead, she is free from the Law, so that she is no wedlocke breaker, though shee couple her selfe with another man.

4 Euen so, ye also my brethren, are dead concerning the Law by the [b] body of Christ, that ye should be coupled to another, who is raised from the dead, that wee should bring foorth fruit vnto God.

5 For when we were in the flesh, the lusts of sinne which were by the Lawe wrought in our members, to bring foorth fruit vnto death.

6 But now are we deliuered from the Law, and dead vnto it whereunto wee were in bondage, that wee should serue in newnesse of Spirit, and not in the oldnesse of the letter.

7 What shall wee say then? Is the Lawe sinne? God forbid. Neuertheless, I sinne we not sin, but by the Law: for I had not knowen lust, except the Law had said, Thou shalt not lust.

8 But sinne taking occasion by the Commandement, wrought in mee all maner of concupiscence. For without the Law sinne was dead.

9 I once liued without Law: but when the Commandement came, sinne reuiued,

10 And I was dead: and the very same Commandement which was ordeined vnto life, was found to be vnto me an occasion of death.

11 For sinne taking occasion by the Commandement, hath deceiued mee, and by the same slew me.

12 Wherefore the Law is holy, and the Commandement holy, and iust, and good.

13 Was that then which was good, made death vnto mee? God forbid: But sinne, that sinne might appeare, by that which was good to worke death in mee: that sinne by the Commandement might be out of measure sinfull.

14 For we know that the Law is spirituall: but I am carnall, solde vnder [c] sinne.

15 For that which I doe, I allow not: for what I would, that do I not: but what I hate, that do I.

16 If I doe now that which I would not, I consent vnto the Law that it is good.

17 Now then, it is not I that do it: but sinne that dwelleth in me.

18 For I know, that in mee (that is to say in my flesh) dwelleth no good thing. For to will, is present with me: but I finde no meanes to performe that which is good.

19 For the good that I would, doe I not: but the euil which I would not, that do I.

20 And if I doe that I would not, then is it not I any longer that doeth it, but sinne that dwelleth in me.

21 I finde then by the Lawe, that when I would do good, euill is present with me.

22 For I delite in the Lawe of God, after the inward man.

23 But I see another lawe in my members, rebelling against the law of my minde, and subduing me vnto the law of sinne, which is in my members.

24 O wretched man that I am: who shall deliuer me from the [d] body of this death?

25 I thanke God through Iesus Christ our Lord. So then, with the minde I my selfe serue the Lawe of God: but with the flesh, the lawe of sinne.

The viij. Chapter.

1 The assurance of the faithfull. 6 The fruits of the holy Ghost.

THere is then no damnation to them which are in Christ Iesu, which walke not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

2 For the Law of the [a] Spirit of life, through Iesus Christ, hath made me free from the law of sinne and death.

3 For what the Lawe coulde not doe, in as much as it was weake through the flesh, God hauing sent his owne Sonne, in the similitude of sinfull flesh, euen by sinne, [b] condemned sinne in the flesh:

4 That the righteousnes of the Law might be fulfilled in vs, which walke not after the flesh, but after the Spirit.

5 For they that are carnall, are [c] carnally minded: but they that are Spirituall, are spiritually minded.

6 To be carnally minded, is death: but to be Spiritually minded, is life and peace:

7 Because that the fleshly minde is enmitie against God: for it is not obedient to the Lawe of God, neither can be.

8 So then, they that are in the flesh, cannot please God.

9 But ye are not in the flesh, but in the Spirit, if so be that the Spirit of God dwell in you. If any man haue not the Spirit of Christ, the same is none of his.

10 And if Christ be in you, the body is dead because of [d] sinne: but the Spirit is life for righteousnesse sake.

11 But if the Spirit of him that raised vp Iesus from the dead, dwel in you: euen he that raised vp Christ from the dead, shall also quicken

[a] Before the comming of Christ, all men were married and bound to the law, which did them none other seruice but disclosed their sinne and wickednesse, forcing them to seeke helpe for their sinne elsewhere. Now then the Law being abolished for her imperfection, and they clensed through Gods grace, are spoused vnto Christ their new husband, him to serue in newnesse of life.

‖ Or, called.

[b] Because the body of Christ is made an offering and a sacrifice for our sinnes, wherewith God is pleased, and his wrath appeased: and for Christ's sake the holy Ghost is giuen to all beleeuers, whereby the power of sinne is in vs dayly weakened: we are counted dead to the Law, for that the Law hath no dominion ouer vs.

[c] Like as bond men are vtterly thrall, bonded, & ouermoyed, as it pleaseth their cruel maister; So are wee through heaps of sinnes drawen to many euil doings, which we do neither like nor allow.

[d] It is called the body of sinne, for that it is an whole lumpe of sinne, rotting and forrotting the whole man, and plucking him from God, where by plagues and miseries are heaped on, and man liueth as he were in the middest of death.

[a] The Law of the spirit and the lawe of sinne, is here taken improperly for the power and strength of the law and sinne: and it is called the Spirit of life, because it quickeneth and giueth life.

[b] God through the sacrifice of sinne, which Christ his only Sonne offered vpon the crosse in his flesh, hath condemned and abolished sinne, which reigned in our mortall flesh.

[c] φρόνημα and φρόνησις, Greek words do not so much signifie wisedome and prudence, as affection, carefulnesse, and minding of any thing.

[d] Albeit we haue a body which is dead vnto all goodnes, by reason of sinne, which so strongly reigneth in it, yet when we are grafted in Christ, his Spirit of life giueth vs life, and iustifieth vs.

your mortall bodies, because that his Spirit dwelleth in you.
12 Therefore brethren, we are detters, not to the flesh, to liue after the flesh,
13 For if ye liue after the flesh, ye shall die: but if ye through the Spirit, doe mortifie the deeds of the body, ye shall liue.
14 For as many as are ledde by the Spirit of God, they are the sonnes of God.
15 For ye haue not receiued the spirit of bondage againe to feare: but yee haue receiued the Spirit of adoption, whereby wee cry, Abba, Father.
16 The Spirit it selfe beareth witnesse to our spirit, that we are the sonnes of God.
17 If we be sonnes, then are we also heires, the heires of God, and ioynt heires with Christ: so that we suffer together, that wee may be also glorified together.

The Epistle on the iiij. Sunday after Trinitie.

18 For I am certainely [c] perswaded, that the afflictions of this time, are not worthy of the glory which shalbe shewed vnto vs.
19 For the earnest expectation of the creature abideth, looking when the sonnes of God shall appeare:
20 Because the [f] creature is subiect to vanitie, not willing, but for him which hath subdued the same in hope.
21 For the creature it selfe shall be made free from the bondage of corruption, into the glorious libertie of the sonnes of God.
22 For we know that euery creature groneth with vs also, and trauaileth in paine with vs, euen vnto this time.
23 Not onely they, but wee also which haue the first fruites of the Spirit, and we our selues mourne in our selues, waiting for the adoption, euen the deliuerance of our body.
24 For we are saued by hope: But hope that is seene, is no hope. For how can a man hope for that which he seeth?
25 But and if we hope for that which we see not, then do we with patience abide for it.
26 Likewise, the spirit also helpeth our infirmities. For we know not what to desire as we ought: but the Spirit it selfe maketh great [g] intercession for vs, with gronings, which cannot be expressed.
27 And hee that searcheth the hearts, knoweth what is the meaning of the Spirit: for hee maketh intercession for the Saints, according to the pleasure of God.
28 For wee know that all things worke for the best, vnto them that loue God, to them which also are called of purpose.
29 For those which hee knew before, hee also did predestinate, that they should bee like fashioned vnto the shape of his Sonne, that he might be the first begotten among many brethren.
30 Moreouer, whom hee did predestinate, them also hee called: and whom he called, them also he iustified: and whom he iustified, them also he glorified.
31 What shall wee then say to these things? If God be on our side, who can be against vs?
32 Which spared not his owne Sonne, but gaue him for vs all: how shall hee not with him also giue vs all things?
33 Who shall lay any thing to the charge of Gods chosen? It is God that iustifieth:
34 Who is he that condemneth? It is Christ which died, yea rather which is raised againe, which is also on the right hand of God, and maketh intercession for vs.
35 Who shall separate vs from the loue of Christ? shall tribulation, or anguish, or persecution, either hunger, either nakednesse, either perill, either sword?
36 (As it is written, * For thy sake are we killed all day long, and are counted as sheepe for the slaughter.) Psal.43.23.
37 Neuertheless, in all these things wee ouercome, through him that loued vs.
38 For I am sure, that neither death, neither life, neither Angels, nor rule, neither power, neither things present, neither things to come,
39 Neither height, nor depth, neither any other creature, shall be able to separate vs from the loue of God, which is in Christ Iesu our Lord.

The ix. Chapter.

Paul declareth his feruent loue toward his nation.

I Say the trueth in Christ, I lie not (my conscience also bearing mee witnesse by the holy Ghost)
2 That I haue great heauines, and continual sorow in my heart.
3 For I haue wished my selfe to bee cursed from [a] Christ, for my brethren, my kinsemen as pertaining to the flesh,
4 Which are the Israelites: to whom pertaineth the adoption, and the glory, and the couenants, and the Law that was giuen, and the Seruice of God, and the promises:
5 Of whom are the fathers, and of whom as concerning the flesh Christ came which is God, in all things to be praised for euer. Amen.
6 And it cannot bee, that the word of God hath taken none effect. For they are not all Israelites, which are of Israel:
7 Neither are they all children, that are the seed of Abraham: but in Isaac shall thy seed be called.
8 That is to say, They which are the children of the flesh, these are not the children of God: but they which be the children of promise, are counted the seed.
9 For this is the word of promise, * About this time will I come, and Sara shall haue a sonne. Gen.18.10
10 Not onely this, but also * Rebecca was with childe by one, euen by our father Isaac. Gen.25.21.
11 For yet the children were borne, when they had neither done good, neither bad, (that the purpose of God by [b] election might stand: not by reason of workes, but by the caller)
12 It was said vnto her, The elder shall serue the yonger.
13 As it is written, Iacob haue I loued, but Esau haue I hated.
14 What shall wee say then? is there any vnrighteousnesse with God? God forbid.
15 For hee saith to Moses, I will shewe mercie, to whomsoeuer I shewe mercie: and will haue compassion, on whomsoeuer I haue compassion.
16 So then election is not of the willer, nor of the runner: but of God that taketh mercie.
17 For the Scripture sayeth vnto Pharao, * Euen for this same purpose haue I stirred thee vp, that I might shewe my power in thee, and Exod.9.16.

[a] He saw the soules destruction of his whole nation, falling to farre from Gods true Religion: he considered how sore God should be dishonored, when his wonderfull benefites and blessings bestowed vpon his people, should take none effect, but vtterly be defaced: which so mightily moued him, that he wished rather to be cut off frō Christ, then those things should come to passe.

[b] The wil and purpose of God is the cause of the election and reprobation. For his mercie and calling though Christ are the meanes of saluation, and the withdrawing of his mercie, is the cause of damnation.

[c] Aquitsaus signifieth to weigh, or to consider. But because the matter was certaine, and S. Paul nothing doubted thereof, it is thus made, I am perswaded.

[f] The creatures shall not be restored before Gods children be brought to their perfection. In the meane season they desire, grone, and waite.

[g] The right name and affection of prayer, commeth by the holy Ghost, who maketh intercession for vs, not that hee prayeth and commeth: but that he stirreth our hearts, that we lift them vp to heauen earnestly and feruently, which is the true prayer.

26 * And it shal come to passe, that in the place where it was said vnto them, Ye are not my people: there shall they be called, The children of the liuing God.

Esai.10.22.

27 And Esaias cryeth concerning Israel, * Though the number of the children of Israel be as the sand of the Sea, yet but a remnant shall be saued.

c The word here is taken for a thing of nought. The Lord diminished his people by sundry plagues, persecutions, and banishments, and brought them to a very few. Likewise meaneth Paul, that a few of them shall be saued, which few notwithstanding shall abounde in righteousnes to the glory of God.

28 For he finisheth the c word, and maketh it short in righteousnesse: for a short word will the Lord make on earth.

29 And as Esaias said before, Except the Lord of Sabboth had left vs d seed, we had bene made as Sodoma, & had bene likened to Gomorrha.

d The seed is Christ Iesus, sowen abroad by his Apostles and disciples.

30 What shal we say then? that the Gentiles which followed not righteousnesse, haue obtained righteousnesse: euen the righteousnesse which commeth of faith:

31 But Israel which followed the Lawe of righteousnesse, hath not attained to the Law of righteousnesse.

32 Wherefore? Because they sought it not by faith, but as it were by the workes of the Law: For they haue stumbled at the stumbling stone, c Christ doeth iustifie vs by faith without workes, which thing the Iewes and Iusticiaries cannot beleeue. Therefore they stumble at Christ, and are offended with him.

33 As it is written, Beholde, I put in c Sion a stumbling stone, and a rocke of offence, and whosoeuer beleeueth on him, shall not bee confounded.

Gen.21. a Thus is the Scripture of the Gentiles to be ingrafted in the stocke of the elders and vnprofitable braunches, from whence they were broken, and restored to the stocke againe. Rom.11.

The x. Chapter.

BRethren, my hearts desire & prayer to God for Israel is, that they might be saued.

2 For I beare them record, that they haue a a zeale of God: but not according to knowledge.

a That is, a certaine affection, but not after knowledge: For no zeale, nor good intent can be acceptable vnto God, but only that which is grounded vpon faith, and the knowledge of God.

3 For they being ignorant of Gods righteousnes, and going about to stablish their b owne righteousnesse, haue not bene obedient vnto the righteousnesse of God.

b It is called our righteousnes, when wee refuse the righteousnesse which commeth by Christ, and imagine another righteousnesse which commeth by our owne workes and deuices. c That is, Christ hath fulfilled the whole Law, and therefore whosoeuer beleeueth in him, is counted iust before God, as well as he had fulfilled the whole Law himselfe.

Exod.20.

4 For Christ is the ende of the Lawe, c for righteousnesse to all that beleeue.

5 For Moses writeth of the righteousnesse which is of the Law, howe that the man which doeth those things, shall liue by them.

6 But the righteousnesse which is of faith, speaketh on this wise: Say not thou in thine heart, Who shall ascende into d heauen? that is to fetch Christ downe from aboue.

d For faith teacheth vs that Christ is ascended vp into heauen, to take vs with him, and hath descended into the depth of death to destroy death, & to deliuer vs.

7 Either who shall descend into the deepe? that is to fetch vp Christ againe from the dead.

8 But what sayeth hee? The word is nigh thee, euen in thy mouth, and in thy heart. This same is the word of faith, which we preach.

9 For if thou shalt knowledge with thy mouth the Lord Iesus, & shalt beleeue in thine heart that God raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saued.

The Epistle on S. Andrewes day.

10 For with the heart man beleeueth vnto righteousnesse, and with the mouth confession is made vnto saluation.

11 For the Scripture saith, Whosoeuer beleeueth on him, shall not be confounded.

12 There is no difference betweene the Iew and the Greeke: for the same Lord ouer all, is rich vnto all that call vpon him.

13 For whosoeuer shall call on the Name of the Lord, shall be saued.

14 How then shall they call on him, on whom they haue not beleeued? How shall they beleeue on him, of whom they haue not heard? Howe shall they heare without a preacher?

15 And how shall they preach, except they be sent? As it is written, How beautifull are the feete of them which bring good tidings of peace, and bring good tidings of good things?

16 But they haue not all obeyed the Gospel: for Esaias saith, Lord, who hath beleeued our sayings?

17 So then faith commeth by hearing, and hearing commeth by the word of God.

18 But (I aske) haue they not heard? No doubt, their sound went out into all landes, and their words into the endes of the world.

19 But I demand whether Israel did know, or not? First Moses saith, * I will prouoke you to enuie by them that are no people, and by a foolish nation I will anger you.

Deut.32. 21.

20 And Esaias is bolde, and sayeth, * I haue bene found of them that sought me not: I haue bene made manifest vnto them that asked not after me.

Esay.65.1.

21 But against Israel he saith, * All day long haue I stretched out my handes vnto a people that beleeueth not, but speaketh against me.

Esay.65.12

The xj. Chapter.

29 God repenteth him not of his gifts. 33 The depth of Gods iudgements.

I Say then, hath God cast away his people? God forbid. For I also am an Israelite, of the seede of Abraham, of the Tribe of Beniamin.

1.King.19. 10.

2 God hath not cast away his people which hee knew before. Wote yee not what the Scripture saith of Elias? how he maketh intercession to God against Israel,

3 Saying, * Lord, they haue killed thy Prophets, and digged downe thine a Altars, and I am left alone, and they seeke my life.

a Those altars he meaneth whereupon Abraham, Isaac, and Iacob did offer sacrifices in times past, vpon the which it was lawfull for the Iewes to doe sacrifice, vntil the building of the Temple.

men, which haue not bowed the knee to the image of Baal.

5 Euen so at this time there is a remnant, according to the election of grace.

6 If it bee of grace, then is it not nowe of workes: for then grace is no more grace. But if it be of workes, then is it now no grace, for then worke is no more worke.

7 What then? Israel hath not obteined that which hee seeketh for, but the election hath obtained it, the remnant hath bene ‖ blinded.

‖Or, hardened.

8 (According as it is written, * God hath giuen them the spirit of [b] remorse: eyes, that they should not see, and eares, that they should not heare) euen vnto this day.

Esai. 29.10 mat. 13.14.

9 And Dauid saith, Let their table be made a snare, and a trap, and a stumbling stocke, and a recompence vnto them.

b That is, pricking and vnquietnesse of conscience.

10 Let their eyes bee ‖ blinded, that they see not, and bow thou downe their backes alway.

‖Or, darkened,

11 I say then, Haue they therefore stumbled, that they should fall? God forbid: but through their fall, saluation is come vnto the [c] Gentiles, for to prouoke them withall.

c That is, for that the Iewes contemning the Gospel of Christ, fell away frō God, the preaching of the Gospel came vnto the Gentiles, which is their saluation.

12 Now if the fall of them, be the riches of the world, and the minishing of them, the riches of the Gentiles: how much more their fulnesse?

13 For I speake to you Gentiles, in as much as I am the Apostle of the Gentiles, I magnifie mine office, 14 If by any meane I may prouoke them which are my flesh, & might saue some of them.

15 For if the casting away of them, be the reconciling of the world, what shall the receiuing of them be, but life from the dead?

16 For if the first fruites bee holy, the whole lumpe also is holy. And if the roote be holy, the branches also.

17 And if some of the branches be broken [d] off, and thou being a wilde Oliue tree, wast graft in among them, and made partaker of the roote and fatnesse of the Oliue tree:

d These broken branches, were the vnbeleeuing Iewes which for their vnbeliefe were cut off from the promise of God in whose stead was the wilde Olive, that is, the Gentiles grafted through faith.

18 Boast not thy selfe against the branches. For if thou boast thy selfe, thou bearest not the roote, but the roote thee.

19 Thou wilt say then, The branches are broken off, that I might be graft in.

20 Well: because of vnbeleefe they were broken off, and thou stoodest stedfast in faith. Be not high minded, but feare.

21 For seeing that God spared not the naturall branches, take heed lest it come to passe, that he spare not thee.

22 Beholde therefore the kindenesse and rigorousnesse of God: on them which fell, rigorousnesse: but towards thee, kindenesse, if thou continue in kindenesse: or els thou also shalt bee hewen off.

23 And they, if they bide not still in vnbeliefe, shall be grafted in: for God is of power to graffe them in againe.

24 For if thou were cut out of a naturall wilde Oliue tree, & were grafted, contrary to nature, in a true Oliue tree: how much more shall these which bee the naturall branches, bee grafted in their owne Oliue tree?

25 For I would not, brethren, that ye should be ignorant of this mysterie, (lest yee should bee wise in your owne conceits) that partly ‖ blindenesse is happened in Israel, vntill the fulnesse of the Gentiles be come in.

‖Or, hardnesse.

26 And so all Israel shalbe saued, as it is written, * There shall come out of Sion he that doth deliuer, and shall turne away vngodlinesse from Iacob.

Esai 59.20,

27 And this is my Couenant vnto them * when I shall take away their sinnes.

Esai. 27.9.

28 As concerning the Gospel, they are enemies for your sakes: but as touching the Election, they are loued for the fathers sakes.

29 For the free gifts and calling of God, are without repentance.

30 For as yee in time past haue not beleeued God, yet haue ye now obteined mercy through their vnbeliefe:

31 Euen so now haue they not ‖ beleeued the mercie shewed vnto you, that they also may obteine mercy.

‖Or, obeyed.

32 For God hath shut vp all nations in vnbeliefe, that he might haue mercy on all.

33 O the deepenesse of the riches both of the wisedome and knowledge of God: howe vnsearchable are his Iudgements, and his wayes past finding out?

Sapi. 9.13. esai. 40.13. 1. cor. 2.16.

34 For * who hath knowen the minde of the Lord? Or who hath bene his counseller?

35 Either who hath giuen vnto him first, [c] and he shalbe recompensed againe?

c By this the Apostle declareth that God by his free will and election doth giue saluation vnto men, without any desertes of their owne.

36 For of him, and through him, and for him, are all things: to whom be glory for euer, Amen.

The xij. Chapter.

How euery man should walke in his seuerall calling.

The Epistle on the first Sunday after the Epiphanie.

I Beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercifulnesse of God, that ye ‖ giue vp your bodies a quick [a] sacrifice, holy, acceptable vnto God, which is your reasonable seruice.

‖Or, present.

a The Iewes in Moses Law were commanded to offer vp the dead carkeises of beastes: but Christians should exhibite their own liuely bodies for a sacrifice to God, in mortifying their carnall lusts, and framing themselues by faith to godlinesse and charitie.

2 And bee not yee fashioned like vnto this [b] world: but be ye changed in your shape, by the renuing of your minde, that ye may proue what is the good, and acceptable, and perfect will of God.

b The world hath diuers significations in the scriptures, but here it is taken specially for the nature and disposition of men in the world, which lined after their lusts and pleasures, & serued not God in holinesse of life, and godly conuersation.

3 For I say, through the grace giuen vnto mee, to euery man that is among you, that no man esteeme of himselfe, more then hee ought to esteeme: but so [c] esteeme himselfe that he behaue himselfe discreetly, according as God hath dealt to euery man the measure of faith.

c Two things are required if we wil esteeme or iudge soberly of Gods gifts in vs: The one, that we do not arrogate to our selues ? which we haue not: the next, that we boast not of our gifts, but reuerently and soberly vse them to Gods honor & glory.

4 For as wee haue many members in one body, and all members haue not one office:

5 So wee, being many, are one body in Christ, and euery one, members one of another.

6 ✝ Seeing that we haue diuers gifts, according to the grace that is giuen vnto vs: either prophesie, after the measure of faith:

7 Either office, in administration: or he that teacheth, in teaching:

8 Or hee that exhorteth, in exhorting: hee that giueth, in singlenesse: he that ruleth, in diligence: he that is mercifull, in chearefulnesse:

9 Loue without dissimulation: hating euil, cleauing to good:

10 Affectioned one to another with brotherly loue, in giuing honour, going one before another.

11 Not lither in businesse, feruent in spirit, seruing the Lord.

12 Reioycing in hope, patient in trouble, instant in prayer.

13 Distributing to the necessitie of Saints, giuen to hospitalitie.

18 *If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, liue peaceably with all men.

19 Dearely beloued, auenge not your selues, but rather giue place vnto wrath. For it is written, Vengeance is mine, I will repay, saith the Lord.

20 Therefore, if thine enemie hunger, feede him: if he thirst, giue him drinke: for in so doing, thou shalt heape [d] coles of fire on his head.

21 Be not ouercome of euill, but ouercome euill with good.

The xiij. Chapter.

1 Of obedience to the rulers, which beare not the sworde in vaine. 8 Charitie must measure all our doings.

The Epistle on the iiij. Sunday after the Epiphanie. Sapi. 6.4.

LEt euery soule be subiect vnto the higher powers: For *there is no power but of God. The powers that be, are ordeined of God.

2 Whosoeuer therefore resisteth the power, resisteth the ordinance of God: and they that resist, shall receiue to themselues damnation.

3 For rulers are not fearefull to good workes, but to the euill. Wilt thou not feare the power? Doe well, and thou shalt haue praise of the same.

4 For he is the minister of God for thy wealth. But if thou doe euill, feare, for he beareth not the sworde in vaine: for he is the minister of God, reuenger of wrath on him that doeth euill.

‖Or, wrath. 5 Wherefore ye must needes be subiect, not onely for feare of ‖ punishment: but also because of [a] conscience.

6 And for this cause pay ye tribute, for they are Gods ministers, seruing for the same purpose.

7 Giue to euery man therefore his duetie, tribute to whom tribute is due, custome to whom custome, feare to whom feare, honour to whom honour belongeth.

8 Owe nothing to no man, but to loue one another: (For he that loueth another, hath fulfilled the lawe.

9 For this, *Thou shalt not commit adulterie, thou shalt not kill, thou shalt not steale, thou shalt not beare false witnesse, thou shalt not lust: *and if there be any other commandement, it is in fewe wordes comprehended in this saying: Namely, Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe.

10 Charitie worketh no ill to his neighbour, therefore the fulfilling of the lawe is charity.)

11 And chiefly considering the season, howe that it is time that we should now awake out of sleepe: For now is our saluation [b] neerer then when we beleeued.

12 The night is passed, the day is come nigh. Let vs therefore cast away the deeds of darknes, *and let vs put on the armour of light. Luk, 21.14.

13 Let vs walke honestly, as in the day, not in rioting and drunkennesse, neither in chambring and wantonnesse, neither in strife and enuying.

14 But put ye on the Lord Iesus Christ, and make not prouision for the flesh, to fulfill the lusts thereof.

The xiiij. Chapter.

One ought to beare with anothers conscience in charitie.

HIm that is weake in the faith receiue, not to doubtfulnesse of [a] disputations.

a That is, not to this end, contentiously to dispute with him in matters of religion, whereunto the weakenesse of faith he cannot as yet attaine, lest he should depart with a greater scruple of conscience, or bee offended with vncharitable reasoning.

2 One beleeueth that he may eate euery thing: another which is weake, eateth herbes.

3 Let not him that eateth, despise him that eateth not: and let not him which eateth not, iudge him that eateth. For God hath receiued him.

4 What art thou that iudgest another mans seruant? To his owne master he standeth or falleth: Yea, he shall be holden vp, for God is able to make him stand.

5 This man putteth difference betweene day and day. Another man counteth all dayes alike. Let euery man be fully perswaded in his owne [b] minde.

b We must be assured in our conscience by Gods word in all things that we doe, that if we be strong, we may know what is our liberty: and if we be weake, we may learne to profit dayly.

6 He that esteemeth the day, esteemeth it vnto the Lord, and he that esteemeth not the day, to the Lord hee doth not esteeme it. Hee that eateth, eateth to the Lorde, for hee giueth God thankes: and hee that eateth not, eateth not to the Lord, and giueth God thankes.

7 For none of vs liueth to himselfe, and no man dieth to himselfe.

8 For if we liue, we liue vnto the Lord: and if we die, we die vnto the Lord: Whether we liue therefore, or die, we are the Lords.

9 For to this end Christ both died, and rose, and reuiued, that he might be Lord both of dead and quicke.

10 But why doest thou then iudge thy brother? Either, why doest thou set at nought thy brother? *we shal all stand before the iudgment seate of Christ. 2.Cor.1,10

11 For it is written, *I liue, saith the Lord, and all knees shall bow to me, and all tongues shall giue praise to God. Esa. 45.23. phil.2,10.

12 So shall euery one of vs giue accompt of himselfe to God.

13 Let vs not therefore iudge one another any more: but iudge this rather, that no man put a stumbling blocke, or an occasion to fall, in his brothers way.

14 For I knowe, and am perswaded by the Lord Iesus, that there is nothing common of it self, but vnto him that iudgeth it to be common, to him it is common.

15 But if thy brother be grieued with thy meat, now walkest thou not charitably: *destroy not him with thy meate, for whom Christ died. 1,Cor.8,11, 16 Let not your good be euill spoken of.

17 For the kingdome of God is not meate and drinke: but righteousnesse, and peace, and ioy in the holy Ghost.

18 For he that in these things serueth Christ, pleaseth God, and is commended of men.

19 Let vs therefore followe those things a For either thou shalt win him to thy benefite, or els his conscience shall beare him witnes, that Gods burning wrath hangeth ouer him.

b The further we go, the neerer are we to the end. Now therefore our perfect and full saluation, is neerer vnto vs, then when wee first began to beleeue.

which make for peace, and things wherewith one may edifie another.

Titus 1.15.

20 Destroy not the worke of God for meates sake: *all things are pure, but it is euill for that man which eateth with offence.

c Faith is here taken for a full perswasion of the christian liberty in things indifferent. d The sentence, both Augustine & Origene doe take to be generally meant of all mens works whatsoeuer they be which proceed not of a right conscience, and an assured faith, grounded vpon the worde of God.

21 It is good neither to eate flesh, neither to drinke wine, neither any thing whereby thy brother stumbleth, either is offended, or is made weake.

22 Hast thou c faith? Haue it with thy selfe before God. Happie is he that condemneth not himselfe in that thing which he alloweth.

23 For he that maketh conscience, is damned if he eate, because he eateth not of faith: for whatsoeuer is not of faith, is d sinne.

The xv. Chapter.

14 Paul sheweth his zeale toward them, 30 and requireth the like of them.

a To edifie, signifieth to ioyne all manner of matters to our neighbour: either to bring him to Christ, or if he be won that he may go forward to vertue.

WE which are strong, ought to beare the infirmities of the weake, and not to stand in our owne conceits.

2 Let euery man please his neighbour in that that is good to a edifying.

3 For Christ pleased not himselfe, but as it is written, The rebukes of them which rebuked thee, fell on me.

4 For whatsoeuer things haue bene written aforetime, were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the Scriptures, might haue hope,

The Epistle on the ij. Sunday in Aduent.

5 The God of patience and consolation, *grant you to be like minded one towards another, after the ensample of Christ Iesu:

6 That ye all agreeing together, may with one mouth praise God, & the father of our Lord Iesus Christ.

7 Wherefore receiue ye one another, as Christ receiued vs, to the glory of God.

8 And I say, that Iesus Christ was a minister of the circumcision for the trueth of God, to confirme the promises made vnto the fathers:

13 The God of hope fill you with all ioy and peace in beleeuing, that ye may be rich in hope, through the power of the holy Ghost.

14 I my selfe am perswaded of you, my brethren, that ye also are full of goodnesse, filled with all knowledge, able also to exhort one another.

15 Neuertheless, brethren, I haue somwhat more boldly written vnto you, as putting you in remembrance through the grace that is giuen to me of God,

16 That I should bee the minister of Iesus Christ to the Gentiles, ‖and should minister the Gospel of God, that the offering of the b Gentiles might be acceptable, and sanctified by the holy Ghost.

‖Or, sacrificing.

b He calleth here the office ring of the Gentiles, the people of the Gentiles, whom he won to God by preaching of the Gospel.

17 I haue therefore whereof I may reioice through Christ Iesus, in those things which pertaine to God.

18 For I will not be bold to speake of any of those things which Christ hath not wrought by me, to make the Gentiles obedient with word and deed,

19 In mighty signes and wonders, by the power of the spirit of God, so that from Hierusalem, & the coasts round about vnto Illyricum, I haue fully preached the Gospel of Christ.

20 So haue I enforced my selfe to preach the Gospel, not where Christ was named, lest I should haue built vpon another mans c foundation.

c Another mans foundation he calleth here the Churches that were taught and instructed of other Apostles.

21 But as it is written, *To whom he was not spoken of, they shall see: and they that heare not, shall vnderstand.

Esa.52.15.

22 For this cause I haue bene oft let, that I could not come vnto you:

23 But now hauing no more to do in these countries, and also hauing a great desire many yeeres to come vnto you,

24 Whensoeuer I take my iourney into Spaine, I will come to you: For I trust to see you in my iourney, and to bee brought on my way thitherward by you, after that I be somewhat filled with you.

25 But now go I vnto Hierusalem, to minister vnto the d saints.

d That is, to carry to the poore saints that liued at Hierusalem, the almes that he gathered for them among the Gentiles where he preached.

26 For it hath pleased them of Macedonia and Achaia, to make a certaine common gathering for the poore saints which are at Hierusalem.

1.Cor.9.11.

27 *It hath pleased them verily, and their detters are they. For if the Gentiles bee made partakers of their spirituall things, their duetie is to minister vnto them in carnall things.

28 When I haue performed this, and haue c sealed to them this fruit, I will come by you into Spaine.

c That is, when I shall faithfully deliuer it to the as it were sealed most surely. By fruit, he meaneth almes, which is the fruit of the faith of those that had receiued the Gospel.

29 And I am sure that when I come vnto you, I shall come with abundance of the blessing of the Gospel of Christ.

30 I beseech you brethren for the Lord Iesus Christs sake, and for the loue of the spirit, that ye helpe me in my businesse with your prayers to God for me:

31 That I may be deliuered frō them which beleeue not in Iurie, and that this my seruice which I haue at Hierusalem, may be accepted of the saints:

32 That I may come vnto you with ioy by the will of God, and may with you be refreshed.

b This was a figure of antiquitie among the Iewes, which S. Paul wolleth to be holy, that is, that it come from a minde full of godly charity.

c There are two markes to know the false apostles by: the one is, when they leade Christ, & serue their belly: the other, when they regard not the holy scripture but preach lies, and their owne fantasies.

R. E.

The first Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians.

The first Chapter.

1 Hee praiseth the great graces of God shewed toward them, 10 exhorting them to concord and humilitie.

PAul called to be an Apostle of Jesus Christ through the will of God, and brother Sosthenes:

2 Unto the Church of God which is at Corinthus, to them that * are sanctified in Christ Jesus, [a] Saints by calling, * with all that call on the Name of the Lord Jesus Christ in euery place, both of theirs and ours:

3 Grace be vnto you, and peace from God our father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

4 I thanke my God alwayes in your behalfe, for the grace of God which is giuen you in Jesus Christ,

5 That in all things ye are enriched in him, in all vtterance and in all knowledge:

6 As the testimony of Jesus Christ was confirmed in you.

7 So that ye are destitute of no gift, waiting for the appearing of our Lord Jesus Christ,

8 which shall also [strengthen you vnto the end, that ye may be [b] blamelesse in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 *God is faithfull, by whom ye haue bene called vnto the fellowship of his sonne Jesus Christ our Lord.

10 Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speake one thing, and that there be no dissentions among you: but that ye be perfectly ioyned together in the same minde, and in the same meaning.

11 For it hath bene declared vnto me, my brethren, of you, by them which are of the house of Cloe, that there are contentions among you.

12 This I say, that euery one of you sayth, I am of Paul, and I am of *Apollo, and I am of Cephas, and I am of Christ. Acts 18.24

fol. Hhhh4v

13 Is Christ diuided? was Paul crucified for you? either were ye baptized in the name of Paul?
14 I thanke God that I baptized none of you but * Crispus and Gaius:
15 Lest any should say that I had baptized in mine owne name.
16 I baptized also the houshold of Stephana: Besides, I knowe not whether I baptized any other.
17 For Christ sent mee not to baptize, but to preach the Gospell: * not with wisedome of c wordes, lest the crosse of Christ should be made of none effect.
18 For the preaching of the crosse is to them that perish, foolishnesse: but vnto vs which are saued, * it is the power of God.
19 For it is written, I will destroy the wisedome of the wise, and will cast away the * vnderstanding of the prudent.
20 Where is the wise? where is the scribe? where is the disputer of this world? Hath not God made the wisedome of this world foolish?
21 For after that in the wisedome of God, the world through their wisedome knew not God, it pleased God through foolishnesse of preaching, to saue them that beleeue.
22 For * the Iewes require a signe, and the Greekes seeke after wisedome.
23 But we preach Christ crucified, vnto the Iewes a stumbling blocke, & vnto the Greekes, foolishnesse:
24 But vnto them which are called, both Iewes and Greekes, Christ, the power of God, and the wisedome of God.
25 For the foolishnesse of God is wiser then men: and the weakenesse of God is stronger then men.
26 Bycthren, yee see your calling, how that not many wise men after the flesh, not many mightie, not many noble are called.
27 But God hath chosen the foolish things of the world, to confound the wise: and God hath chosen the weake things of the worlde, to confound the things which are mighty:
28 And vnnoble things of the worlde, and things which are despised hath God chosen, yea and things which are not, to bring to nought things that are:
29 That no flesh should glory in his presence.
30 And of him are ye in Christ Iesus, which of God, is made vnto vs wisedome, and righteousnesse, and sanctification, and redemption:
31 That according as it is written, * Hee that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord.

The ij. Chapter.

He putteth for example his maner of preaching, which was according to the tenor of the Gospel.

AND I, brethren, when I came to you, * came not in ‖ gloriousnesse of wordes, or of wisedome, shewing vnto you the a testimonie of God.
2 For I esteemed not to know any thing among you, saue Iesus Christ, and him crucified.
3 And I was among you in weakenesse, and in feare, and in much trembling.
4 And my wordes and my preaching * was not with enticing wordes of mans wisedome, but in shewing of the spirit, and of power:
5 That your faith should not stand in the wisedome of men, but in the power of God.
6 And we speake wisdome among them that are perfect: not the wisedome of this world, neither of the princes of this worlde which come to nought:
7 But we speake the wisedome of God in a mysterie, euen the hid wisedome which God ordained before the world, vnto our glory.
8 Which none of the princes of this worlde knewe: for had they known it, they would not haue crucified the Lord of glorie.
9 But as it is written, * The eye hath not seene, and the eare hath not heard, neither haue entred into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for them that loue him.
10 But God hath reuealed them vnto vs by his spirit: for the spirit searcheth all things, yea the deepe things of God.
11 For what man knoweth the things of a man, saue the b spirit of man which is in him? Euen so the things of God knoweth no man, but the spirit of God.
12 And we haue not receiued the spirit of the world, but the spirit which is of God, ♆ we might know the things which are giuen to vs of God.
13 * Which things also we speake, not in the wordes which mans wisedome teacheth, but which the holy Ghost teacheth: comparing spirituall things with spirituall things.
14 But the naturall man perceiueth not the things of the spirit of God, for they are foolishnesse vnto him: Neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned.
15 * But he that is spirituall, discerneth all things, yet he himselfe is iudged of no man.
16 * For who hath known the minde of the Lord, that he might instruct him? But we haue c the minde of Christ.

The iij. Chapter.

3 Paul rebuketh the sects and authors thereof. 13 Christ is the foundation of the Church.

AND I could not speake vnto you brethren, as vnto spirituall, but as vnto carnall, euen as vnto a babes in Christ.
2 I haue nourished you with milke, and not with meate: for ye then were not strong, neither are ye as yet.
3 For ye are yet carnall: Seeing then there is among you enuying, and strife, and sectes, are ye not carnall, and walke as men?
4 For while one saith, I am of Paul, and another, I am of Apollo, are ye not carnall?
5 For what is Paul? what is Apollo? but ministers by whom yee beleeued, euen as the Lord gaue to euery man.
6 I haue planted, Apollo watered: but God gaue the increase.
7 So then, neither is hee that planteth any thing: neither he that watereth: but God that giueth the increase.
8 He that planteth, and he that watereth, are one: * and euery man shal receiue his reward according to his labour.
9 For we together are Gods labourers, yee are God husbandrie, ye are Gods building.

12 If any man build on this foundation, gold, siluer, precious stones, timber, hay, or stubble:

13 Euery mans worke shalbe made manifest. The day shall declare it, because it shall be reuealed by the fire, and the fire shall trie euery mans worke what it is.

14 If any mans worke that he hath built vpon, abide, he shall receiue a reward.

15 If any mans worke burne, he shall suffer losse, but he shall be saue himselfe: yet as it were, through fire.

1.Cor.6.19 16 *Know ye not that ye are the Temple of God, and that the spirit of God dwelleth in you?

‖Or, destroy 17 If any man ‖ defile the temple of God, him shall God destroy: for the temple of God is holy, which temple ye are.

18 Let no man deceiue himselfe: if any man among you seeme to himselfe to be wise in this world, let him become a foole, that hee may be wise.

19 For the wisedome of this world, is foolishnesse with God: for it is written, * He compasseth the wise in [c] their owne craftinesse.

Iob.5.13. c When they themselues are entangled in the same snares which they layd for others.

20 And againe, The Lorde knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they be vaine.

21 Therefore let no man glory in [d] men, for all things are yours:

d But in God, who worketh by his Ministers to his owne glory, and the comfort of his Church.

22 Whether Paul, or Apollo, or Cephas, either the world, either life, or death, whether things present, or things to come, all are yours:

23 But ye are Christs, and Christ is Gods.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 After that he had described the office of a true Apostle, 3 seeing they did not acknowledge him such one, 4 he appealeth to Gods iudgement.

The Epistle on the iij. Sunday in Aduent.

LEt a man so esteeme of vs as the ministers of Christ, and disposers of the secrets of God.

2 Furthermore, it is required in the disposers, that a man be found faithfull.

3 With me it is but a very small thing that I should be iudged of you, either of mans iudgement: yea, I iudge not [a] mine owne selfe.

a Whether I haue gaeat gifts or little, few or many.

4 For I know nothing by my selfe, yet am I not thereby iustified: but he that iudgeth me, is the Lord.

Mat.7.1. rom.2.1. 5 *Therfore iudge nothing before the time, vntill the Lord come, who will lighten the hidden things of darkenesse, and open the counsels of the hearts: and then shall euery man haue praise of God.

6 And these things brethren, I haue figuratiuely applied vnto my selfe and to Apollos, for your sakes: that ye might learne by vs, not to be wise aboue that which is written, that you swel not one against another for any mans cause.

b To wit, frō other men, and preferreth thee?

7 For who [b] separateth thee? And what hast thou, that thou hast not receiued? If thou hast receiued it, why doest thou glory as though thou hadst not receiued it?

8 Now are ye full, now are ye rich, ye haue reigned as kings without vs, and I would to God yee did reigne, that wee also might reigne with you.

9 For me thinketh that God hath set forth vs which are the last Apostles, as it were men appointed to death. For wee are made a gazing stock vnto the world, and to angels, and to men.

10 We are [c] fooles for Christes sake, but ye are wise in Christ. We are weake, but ye are strong: Ye are honourable, but we are despised.

c By this bitter taunting, in abrecting himselfe, and exalting the Corinthians, hee maketh them ashamed of their vaine glory.

The v, Chapter.

1 He reproueth sharply their negligence in punishing him that had committed incest, 3 willing them to excommunicate him, 7 to imbrace puritie, 9 and flee wickednesse.

2 Doe ye not know that the ſaints ſhall iudge the world? If the world ſhalbe iudged by you, are ye vnworthy to iudge the ſmalleſt matters?

3 Know ye not how that we ſhall iudge the angels? How much more, things that perteine to this life?

4 If then ye haue iudgement of things perteining to this life, ſet vp them to iudge, which are leaſt eſteemed in the Church.

5 I ſpeake it to your ſhame. Is it ſo, that there is not a wiſe man among you? no not one that ſhalbe able to iudge betweene his brethren?

6 But brother goeth to law with brother, and that vnder the vnbeleeuers?

12 All things are lawfull vnto mee, but all things are not profitable: all things are lawfull for me, but I wil not be brought vnder the [b] power of any.

[b] For we are ſubiect to thoſe things which we can not want.

13 Meats for the belly, & the belly for meats: but God ſhall deſtroy both it and them. Now the body is not for [c] fornication, but for the Lord: and the Lord for the body.

[c] They abuſed meats both in that they offended other therby, & alſo prouoked their owne luſts to vncleannes.

14 And God both hath raiſed vp the Lord, *and alſo ſhall raiſe vs vp by his power.

The vij. Chapter.

The Apoſtle anſwereth to certaine queſtions which the Corinthians deſired to know.

NOwe as concerning the things wherof ye wrote vnto me: It is [a] good for a man not to touch a woman,

[a] By expedient, becauſe marriage (though many corruptions, and not by Gods inſtitution, bringeth cares and troubles.

1. Pet. 3. 7.

2 Neuertheleſſe, to auoid fornication, let euery man haue his owne wife, and let euery woman haue her owne husband.

3 *Let the husband giue vnto the wife due benenolence: Likewiſe alſo the wife vnto the husband.

4 The wife hath not the power of her owne body, but the husband: And likewiſe alſo the husband hath not the power of his owne body, but the wife.

5 Defraud you not the one the other, except it be with both your conſents for a time, that ye may giue your ſelues to faſting and prayer: and afterward come together againe, that Satan tempt you not for your incontinencie.

6 This I ſay ‖ of fauour, and [b] not of commandement.

‖ Or, by way of ſuffrance.

[b] We theweth that he commaundeth not precisely to marry, but that God hath granted this remedy vnto them which cannot liue chaſte.

7 For I would that all men were euen as I my ſelfe: but euery man hath his proper gift of God, one after this maner, another after that.

8 I ſay therfore to the vnmaried & widowes, It is good for them if they abide euen as I.

9 But if they cannot abſtaine, let them marry: for it is better to marry then to burne.

10 Vnto the married command, not I, but the Lord, *Let not the wife depart from her husband:

Math. 5. 32. and 19. 6.

11 But and if ſhe depart, let her remaine vnmarried, or be reconciled to her husband againe: And let not the husband put away his wife.

12 But to the remnant ſpeake I, not the Lord, If any brother haue a wife that beleeueth not, and ſhe conſent to dwell with him, let him not put her away.

13 And the woman which hath to her husband an infidell, and he conſent to dwell with her, let her not put him away.

14 For the vnbeleeuing husband is ſanctified by the wife, and the vnbeleeuing wife is ſanctified by the husband, elſe were your children vncleane, but nowe are they [c] holy.

15 But if the vnbeleeuing depart, let him depart. A brother or a ſiſter is not made ſubiect in ſuch things: but God hath called vs in peace.

16 For how knowest thou, O woman, whether thou shalt saue thy husband? or how knowest thou, O man, whether thou shalt saue thy wife?

17 But as God hath distributed to euery man, as the Lord hath called euery one, so let him walke, and so ordaine I in all Churches.

18 Is any man called being circumcised? let him not adde vncircumcision: Is any called in vncircumcision? let him not be circumcised.

19 Circumcision is nothing, and vncircumcision is nothing, but the keeping of the commandements of God.

Ephe.4.1. 20 *Let euery man abide in the same calling wherein he was called.

21 Art thou called a seruant? care not for it: neuertheless, if thou mayest be made free, vse it rather.

22 For hee that is called in the Lord, being a seruant, is the Lords free man: likewise also he that is called, being free, is Christs seruant.

1.Pet.1.20. 23 *Ye are bought with a price, be not ye the seruants of men.

24 Brethren, let euery man wherein he is called, therein abide [d] with God.

d Or, sincerely, as in the presence of God.

25 Now concerning virgins, I haue no commandement of the Lord: yet giue I counsell, as one that hath obtained mercy of the Lord to be faithfull.

26 I suppose therefore that it is good for the present necessitie, that I say, it is good for a man so to be.

27 Art thou bound vnto a wife? seeke not to be loosed. Art thou loosed from a wife? seeke not a wife.

28 But and if thou marry, thou hast not sinned, and if a virgin marry, she hath not sinned: neuertheless, such shal haue trouble in the flesh: but ‖ I beare with you.

‖Or, spare you.

29 But this I say brethren, because the time is short: it remaineth that they also which haue wiues, be as though they had none:

30 And they that weepe, as though they wept not: and they that reioyce, as though they reioyced not: and they that buy, as though they possessed not:

31 And they that vse this world, as not abusing it: for the fashion of this world goeth away.

32 I would haue you without care. He that is vnmarried, careth for the things that belong to the Lord, how he may please the Lord:

33 But he that hath married, careth for the things that are of the world, how he may please his wife.

34 There is difference betweene a virgin and a wife: the vnmarried woman careth for the things that are of the Lord, that she may be holy both in body and in spirit: but she that is married, careth for the things that pertaine to the world, how she may please her husband.

35 This speake I for your profit: not that I may cast a snare vpon you, but for comelinesse sake, and sitting fast vnto the Lord without separation.

36 But if any man thinke that it is vncomly for his virgin if she passe the time of marriage, [e] and need so require, let him do what he will, he sinneth not: let them be married.

e That is, that thee should marrie and auoth fornication.

37 Neuertheless, he that standeth stedfast in his heart, hauing no need, but hath power ouer his owne will, and hath so decreed in his heart that he will keepe his virgin, doth well.

38 So then he that giueth in marriage doth well: but he that giueth not in marriage, doth better.

39 *The wife is bound to the ‖ law as long as her husband liueth: but if her husband be dead, she is at liberty to be married to whom she will, onely in the Lord.

Rom.7.1. ‖Or, by the law of marriage.

40 But she is happier if she so abide, after my iudgement: *and I thinke verily that I haue the spirit of God.

1.Thes.4.8.

The viij. Chapter.

He rebuketh them that vse their liberty to the slander of other, in going to the idolatrous sacrifices.

AS touching things offered vnto idols, we know that we all haue knowledge. Knowledge maketh a man swell: but charitie edifieth.

2 If any man thinke that he knoweth any thing, he knoweth nothing yet as he ought to know.

3 But if any man loue GOD, the same is ‖ known of him.

‖Or, taught.

4 As concerning therefore the eating of those things that are offered in sacrifice vnto idols, we know that an idole is nothing in the world, and that there is none other God but one.

5 And though there be that are called gods, whether in heauen or in earth (as there be gods many, and [a] lords many:)

a Which being idoles, yet are esteemed of men as Lords and Dyetyes. Iohn 13.13 1.cor.8.5.

6 Yet vnto vs there is but one God, which is the father, of whom are all things, and wee in him, *and one Lord Iesus Christ, by whom are all things, and we by him.

7 But there is not in euery man that knowledge: for some hauing conscience of the idol vnto this houre, eat as a thing offered vnto idols, and their conscience being weake, is defiled.

8 But meat doth not commend to God: for neither if we eat, haue we the more: neither if we eat not, haue we the lesse.

9 But take heed lest by any meanes this libertie of yours become a stumbling to them that are weake.

10 For if any man see thee which hast knowledge, sit at meat in the idols temple: shall not the conscience of him that is weake, be [b] boldened to eate those things which are offered to idols, b By thine example without any ground of doctrine.

11 And through thy knowledge shall the [c] weake brother perish, for whom Christ died?

c Which eateth against his conscience.

12 But when ye sinne so against the brethren, and wound their weake conscience, yee sinne against Christ.

13 Wherefore, *if meat offend my brother, I will eat no flesh while the world standeth, lest I should offend my brother.

Rom.14.21

The ix. Chapter.

He exhorteth them by his example to vse their libertie to the edification of others.

AM I not an Apostle? am I not free? haue I not seene Iesus Christ our Lord? Are not ye my worke in the Lord?

2 If I be not an Apostle vnto other, yet doubtlesse am I vnto you: for the [a] seale of mine Apostleship are ye in the Lord.

3 Mine answere to them that aske mee, is this,
4 Haue we not power to eat and to drinke?
5 Haue wee not power to leade about a [b] sister a woman, as well as other Apostles, and as the brethren of the Lord and Cephas?
6 Is the liberty of not labouring ‖ taken from me and Barnabas onely?
7 Who goeth a warfare any time at his owne cost? who planteth a vineyard, and eateth not of the fruit thereof? or who feedeth a flocke, and eateth not of the milke of the flocke?
8 Say I these things after the maner of men? or saith not the law the same also?
9 For it is written in the lawe of Moyses, Thou shalt not muzzell the mouth of the ore that treadeth out the corne. Doth God take care for oxen?
10 Either saith hee it not altogether for our sakes? For our sakes no doubt this is written: that he which eareth, should eare in hope: and that he which thresheth in hope, should be partaker of his hope.
11 If wee haue sowen vnto you spirituall things, is it a great thing if we shall reape your carnall things?
12 If others be partakers of their power ouer you, wherefore are not we rather? Neuertheless, wee haue not vsed this power: but suffer all things, lest wee should hinder the Gospel of Christ.
13 Do ye not know that they which minister about holy things, eat of the things of the temple? and they which wait at the altar, are partakers with the altar?
14 Euen so hath the Lord ordeined, that they which preach the Gospel, should liue of the Gospel.
15 But I haue vsed none of these things. Neuertheless, I wrote not these things, that it should be so done vnto me: For it were better for mee to die, then that any man should make my ‖ reioycing vaine.
16 For if I preach the Gospel, I haue nothing to ‖ reioyce of: for necessity is laid vpon me. But woe is vnto me, if I preach not the Gospel.
17 For if I do this thing with a good will, I haue a reward: but if against my will, the [c] dispensation is committed vnto me.
18 What is my reward then? Verily that when I preach the Gospel, I may make the Gospel of Christ free, that I misuse not mine authority in the Gospel.
19 For though I be free from all men, yet haue I made my selfe seruant vnto all men, that I might win the more.
20 Vnto the Iewes, I became as a Iew, that I might win the Iewes: to them that are vnder the law, as vnder the law, that I might win them that are vnder the law:
21 To them that are without law, as without law (when I was not without law as pertaining to the law of God, but was in the law of Christ) that I might winne them that are without law.
22 To the weake became I as weake, that I might win the weake: I am made all things to all men, that I might by all meanes saue some.
23 And this I do for the Gospels sake, that I might be partaker thereof.
24 Know ye not that they which runne in a race, runne all, but one receiueth the reward? So runne, that ye may obtaine.
25 Euery man that prooueth masteries, abstaineth from all things: and they do it to obteine a corruptible crowne, but we to obtaine an incorruptible crowne.
26 I therefore so runne, not as at an vncerteine thing: so fight I, not as one that beateth the aire:
27 But I tame my [d] body and bring it into subiection: lest by any meanes that when I haue preached to other, I my selfe should be a castaway.

The x. Chapter.

1 Hee feareth them with the examples of the Iewes, that they put not their trust carnally in the graces of God, 14 exhorting them to flee all idolatrie, 23 and offence of their neighbour.

BRethren, I would not that yee should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were vnder the cloud, and all passed thorow the sea:
2 And were all baptized ‖ vnto Moyses in the cloud, and in the sea:
3 And did all eate of the same [a] spirituall meat:
4 And did all drinke of the same spirituall drinke: (For they dranke of that spirituall rocke that followed them: & that rocke was [b] Christ.)
5 But in many of them had God no delight: for they were ouerthrowen in the wilderneſſe.
6 These things verily are our ensamples, that wee should not be lusters after euill things as they also lusted.
7 Neither be yee idolaters, as were some of them, as it is written, * The people sate downe to eat and drinke, and rose vp to play.
8 Neither let vs commit fornication, as some of them committed ‖ fornication, and fell in one day three and twenty thousand.
9 Neither let vs tempt Christ, as some of them tempted, and were destroyed of serpents.
10 Neither murmure yee, as some of them murmured, and were destroyed of the destroyer.
11 All these things happened vnto them for ensamples: but they are written [c] for our admonition, vpon whom the endes of the world are come.
12 Wherefore, let him that thinketh he standeth, take heed lest he fall.
13 There hath no temptation taken you, but such as followeth the nature of man: but God is faithfull, which shall not suffer you to be tempted aboue that you are able: but shall with the temptation make a way to escape, that yee may be able to beare it.
14 Wherefore my dearely beloued, flee from idolatrie.
15 I speake as vnto them which haue discretion: iudge ye what I say.
16 The cuppe of blessing which we blesse, is it not the partaking of the blood of Christ? The bread which we breake, is it not the partaking of the body of Christ?
17 For we that are many, are one bread, and one body, in as much as we all are partakers of one bread.
18 Beholde Israel which is after the flesh: are not they which eat of the sacrifices, partakers of the altar?

5 But euery woman that praieth or prophecieth bare headed, dishonesteth her head: for that is euen all one as if she were shauen.

11 Neuertheless, neither is the man without the woman, neither the woman without the man, in the Lord.

12 For as the woman is of the man, euen so is the man also by the woman, but all things of God.

13 Iudge in your selues, whether it be comely that a woman pray vnto God bareheaded?

14 Doth not nature it selfe teach you, that it is a shame for a man if he haue long haire?

15 But if a woman haue long haire, it is a praise for her: for her haire is giuen her for a couering.

16 If any man lust to striue, we haue no such custome, neither the Churches of God.

17 This I warne you of, and commend not, that you come together, not for the better, but for the worse. The Epistle on the Thursday ne xt before Easter.

18 For first of all, when ye come together in the Church, I heare that there be dissentions among you, and I partly beleeue it.

19 For there must be also heresies among you, that they which are ‖ approoued among you, might be knowen. ‖Or, tried.

20 When ye come together therefore into one place, ‖ you can not eat the Lords supper: ‖Or, this is not to eate.

21 For euery one preuenteth other in eating his owne supper: and one is hungry, and another is drunken.

22 What, haue yee not houses to eat and to drinke in? Or despise ye the Church of God, and shame them that haue not? What shall I say vnto you? shall I praise you? in this I praise you not.

23 That which I deliuered vnto you, I receiued of the Lord, that the Lord Iesus the same night in the which he was betrayed, tooke bread:

24 And when he had giuen thanks, he brake it, and said, * Take ye, eat ye, this is my bodie which is broken for you: this do in remembrance of me. Mat.26.26. mar.14.22. luke.22.17.

25 After the same maner also he tooke the cup when hee had supped, saying; This cup is the New testament in my blood: this doe ye, as oft as ye drinke it, in remembrance of me.

26 For as often as yee eat this bread, and drinke this cup, ye doe shew the Lords death till he come.

27 Wherefore, whosoeuer shall eat this bread, and drinke this cup of the Lord [b] vnworthily, shalbe guilty of the body and blood of the Lord. [b] By perverting the true and pure vse of the same. 2.Cor.13.1

28 *But let a man examine himselfe, and so let him eat of this bread, and drinke of this cup.

29 For he that eateth and drinketh vnworthily, eateth and drinketh damnation vnto him [c] selfe, making no difference of the Lords body. [c] But as though these holy mysteries of the Lords body & blood were common meates, so without reuerence he commeth vnto them.

that ye come not together vnto condemnation. The rest will I set in order when I come.

The xij. Chapter.

1 The diuersitie of the gifts of the holy Ghost, ought to be vsed to the edifying of Christes Church, 12 as the members of mans body serue to the vse one of another.

The Epistle on the iiij. Sunday after Trinity.

OConcerning spirituall gifts, brethren, I would not haue you ignorant.

2 Ye know that ye were Gentiles, carried away vnto dumbe idols, euen as ye were [a]led.

3 Wherefore I declare vnto you, that *no man speaking by the spirit of God ‖ defieth Iesus: * also no man can say ‖ that Iesus is the Lord, but by the holy Ghost.

4 There are diuersities of gifts, but it is the selfe same spirit.

5 And there are differences of administrations, but it is the selfe same Lord.

6 And there are diuers maners of operations, but it is the selfe same God, which worketh all in all.

7 The manifestation of the spirit, is giuen to euery man to profit withall:

8 For to one is giuen by the spirit, the word of wisedome, to another the word of knowledge, by the same spirit:

9 To another is giuen faith, by the same spirit, to another the gift of healing, by the same spirit:

10 To another power to doe miracles, to another [b]prophecie, to another discerning of spirits, to another diuers kindes of tongues, to another the interpretation of tongues.

11 *But these all worketh euen that one and the selfe same spirit, diuiding to euery man seuerally, euen as he will.

12 For as the bodie is one, and hath many members, and all the members of that one bodie, being many, are one bodie: euen so is Christ also.

13 For by one spirit are wee all baptized into one body, whether wee be Iewes or Gentiles, whether we be bond or free: and haue all dronke of one spirit.

14 For the body is not one member, but many.

15 If the foot doe say, Because I am not the hand, I am not of the body: is it therefore not of the body?

16 And if the eare doe say, Because I am not the eye, I am not of the body: is it therefore not of the body?

17 If all the body were an eye, where were then the hearing? If all were hearing, where were the smelling?

18 But now hath God set the members, euery one of them seuerall in the body, as it hath pleased him.

19 If they were all one member, where were the body?

20 Now are there many members, yet but one body.

21 And the eye cannot say vnto the hand, I haue no need of thee: nor againe, the head to the feet, I haue no need of you.

22 Yea rather a great deale those members of the body, which seeme to be more [c]feeble, are necessary:

23 And vpon those members of the body which we thinke to be lesse honourable, we owe [d]more honour: and our vncomely parts haue more comlinesse.

24 For our comely members need it not: but God hath tempered the body together, hauing giuen the more honour to that part which lacked,

25 That there should be no strife in the body: but that the members should haue the same care one for another.

26 And if one member suffer, all the members suffer with it. If one member be honoured, all the members reioyce with it.

27 Yee are the body of Christ, and members [e]in part.

28 *And God hath ordeined some in the Church, first Apostles, secondarily Prophets, thirdly Teachers, then them that doe miracles: after that, the gifts of healing, helpers, gouernours, ‖ diuersities of tongues.

29 Are all Apostles? are all Prophets? are all Teachers? are all doers of miracles?

30 Haue all the gifts of healing? do all speake with tongues? do all interpret?

31 Couet after the best gifts: And yet shew I vnto you a more excellent way.

The xiij. Chapter.

Because loue is the fountaine and rule of edifying the Church, he setteth forth the nature, office, & praise thereof.

The Epistle on Quinquagesima Sunday.

THough I speake with the tongues of men, and of [a]Angels, and haue not charitie, I am as sounding brasse, or as a tinckling Cymbal.

2 And though I haue prophecie, and vnderstand all secrets, & all knowledge: yea, if I haue all faith, so that I can remoue mountaines, and haue not charitie, I am nothing.

3 And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poore, and though I giue my body that I should be burned, and haue not charitie, it profiteth me nothing.

4 Charitie suffereth long, and is courteous: Charitie enuieth not, charity doth not frowardly, ‖ swelleth not,

5 Dealeth not dishonestly, seeketh not her owne, is not bitter, thinketh not euill,

6 Reioyceth not in iniquitie, but reioyceth in the trueth:

7 Suffreth all things, beleeueth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things.

8 Though that prophecyings faile, either tongues cease, or knowledge vanish away, yet charitie falleth neuer away.

9 For our knowledge is ‖ vnperfect, and our prophecying is vnperfect:

10 But when that which is perfect is come, then that which is vnperfect shalbe done away.

11 When I was a childe, I spake as a childe, I vnderstood as a childe, I imagined as a childe: but assoone as I was a man, I put away childishnesse.

12 Now wee see in a [b]glasse, euen in a darke speaking: but then shall we see face to face. Now I know vnperfectly: but then shall I know, euen as I am knowen.

13 Now abideth faith, hope, and charitie, these three: but the chiefe of these is charitie.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth to charitie, commendeth the gift of tongues, and other spirituall gifts. 5 But chiefly prophecyings.

FOllow after charity, and couet spirituall gifts: but most chiefly, that ye may prophecie.

2 For he that speaketh with an vnknowen tongue, speaketh not vnto men, but vnto God: for no man [a] heareth him: howbeit, in the spirit he speaketh mysteries.

3 But he that prophecieth, speaketh vnto men to edifying, and exhortation, and comfort.

4 He that speaketh with an vnknowen tongue, edifieth himselfe: but he that prophecieth, edifieth the Church.

5 I would that ye all spake with [b] tongues, but rather that ye prophecied: for greater is he that prophecieth, then hee that speaketh with tongues, except he expound it, that the Church may receiue edifying.

6 Now brethren, if I come vnto you, speaking with tongues, what shall I profit you, except I shall speake to you either by reuelation, or by knowledge, or by prophecying, or by doctrine?

7 And euen things without life, giuing sound, whether it be a pipe, or an harpe, except they giue a distinction in the sounds, how shall it be knowen what is piped or harped?

8 For if the Trumpe giue an vncertaine sound, who shalbe prepared to the warre?

9 So likewise you, except ye vtter words by the tongue easie to be vnderstood, how shall it be knowen what is spoken? for yee shall speake in the [c] aire.

10 There are happily so many kindes of voices in the world, and none of them are without signification.

11 Therefore if I know not the meaning of the voice, I shall be vnto him that speaketh, an aliant, and he that speaketh, shall be an aliant vnto me.

12 Euen so ye, forasmuch as ye couet spirituall gifts, seeke that yee may excell vnto the edifying of the Church.

13 Wherefore, let him that speaketh with tongue, pray that he may interpret.

14 For if I pray with an vnknowen tongue, my spirit prayeth, but my vnderstanding is vnfruitfull.

15 What is it then? I will pray with the spirit, and will pray with the vnderstanding also: I will [d] sing with the spirit, and will sing with the vnderstanding also.

16 For when thou shalt blesse with the spirit, how shall hee that ‖ occupieth the roome of the vnlearned say, Amen, at thy giuing of thanks, seeing he vnderstandeth not what thou sayest?

17 Thou verily giuest thanks well, but the other is not edified.

18 I thanke my God, I speake with tongues more then ye all.

19 Yet had I rather in the Church to speake fiue words with my vnderstanding, that by my voice I might teach other also, then tenne thousand words in an vnknowen tongue.

20 Brethren, be not children in vnderstanding: howbeit, as concerning naughtinesse be ye children, but in vnderstanding be perfect.

21 In the Law it is written, * With men of sundry tongues and sundry lippes, will I speake vnto this people: and yet for all that, will they not heare me, sayth the Lord. Esay 28.11.

22 Wherefore tongues are for a signe, not to them that beleeue, but to them that beleeue not: but prophecying serueth not for them that beleeue not, but for them which beleeue.

23 If therefore all the Church be come together in one place, and all speake with tongues, and there come in they that are vnlearned, or they which beleeue not, will they not say that ye are mad?

24 But if all prophecie, and there come in one that beleeueth not, or one vnlearned: he is rebuked of all men, he is iudged of all men.

25 And so are the secrets of his heart made manifest, and so hauing fallen downe on his face, he will worship God, saying that God is in you of a trueth.

26 How is it then brethren? when ye come together, euery one of you hath a Psalme, hath a doctrine, hath a tongue, hath a reuelation, hath an interpretation: Let all things be done vnto edifying.

27 If any man speake with tongue, let it be by two, or at the most by three, & that by course, and let one interpret.

28 But if there be no interpreter, let him keepe silence in the Church, and let him speake to himselfe, and to God.

29 Let the Prophets speake two or three, and let the other iudge.

30 If any reuelation be made to another that sitteth by, let the first holde his peace.

31 For ye may all prophecie one by one, that all may learne, and all may be comforted.

32 And the [e] spirits of the Prophets are subiect to the Prophets.

33 For God is not the author of confusion, but of peace, as in all Churches of the saints.

34 * Let your women keepe silence in the Churches: for it is not permitted vnto them to speake: but they are commanded to be vnder obedience, * as sayth the law. 1.Tim.1.12. Gen.3.16.

35 If they will learne any thing, let them aske their husbands at home: for it is a shame for women to speake in the Church.

36 Spring the word of God from you? either came it vnto you onely?

37 If any man thinke himselfe to be a Prophet, either spirituall, let him know that the things that I write vnto you, are the commandements of the Lord.

38 But if any man be ignorant, let him be ignorant.

39 Wherefore brethren, couet to prophecie, and forbid not to speake with tongues.

40 Let all things be done honestly, and in order.

9 For I am the least of the Apostles, which am not worthy to be called an Apostle, because I persecuted the Church of God.

10 *But by the grace of God, I am that I am, and his grace which is in mee, was not vaine: but I laboured more abundantly then they all, yet not I, but the grace of God which is with me.

11 Therefore, whether it were I or they, so we preach, and so haue ye beleeued.

12 If Christ be preached, how that hee rose from the dead: how say some among you, that there is no resurrection of the dead?

13 If there bee no rising of the dead, then is Christ not risen.

14 If Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vaine, and your faith is also [b] vaine.

15 Yea, and wee are found false witnesses of God, because we haue testified of God, how that he raised vp Christ: whom he raised not vp, if so be that the dead rise not.

16 For if the dead rise not, then is not Christ risen.

17 If it be so, that Christ is not risen, then is your faith vaine, ye are yet in your sinnes:

18 But also they which are fallen asleepe in Christ, are perished.

19 If in this life only we haue hope in Christ, then are we of all men most miserable.

20 But now is Christ risen from the dead, he is become the [c] first fruits of them that slept.

21 For since by man came death, euen so by man came the resurrection of the dead.

22 For as by ‖ Adam all die, euen so ‖ by Christ shall all [d] be made aliue.

23 But euery man in his owne order. The first fruits is Christ, afterward, they that are Christs at his comming.

24 Then commeth the end, when he shal haue deliuered vp the kingdome to God the Father, when hee shall haue put downe all rule, and all authoritie, and power.

25 For he must reigne *till hee shall haue put all his enemies vnder his feet.

26 The last enemie that shall be destroyed, is death.

27 *For he hath put downe all things vnder his feet: But when he sayth, All things are put vnder him, it is manifest that hee is excepted which did put all things vnder him.

28 When al things shalbe subdued vnto him, then shall the sonne also himselfe be subiect vnto him that put all things vnder him, that God may be all in all.

29 Els what shall they do which are baptized for the dead, if the dead rise not at all? Why are they then baptized for the dead?

30 And why stand wee in ieopardie euerie houre?

31 I protest by our reioycing which I haue in Christ Iesu our Lord, I die dayly.

32 If I haue fought with beasts at Ephesus, after the [e] maner of men, what aduantageth it me, if the dead rise not? *Let vs eat and drinke, for to morow we die.

33 Be ye not deceiued: Euill wordes corrupt good maners.

34 Awake to righteousnesse, and sinne not: for some haue not the knowledge of GOD, I speake this to your shame.

35 But some man will say, How are the dead raised vp? With what body do they come?

36 Thou ‖ foole, that which thou sowest, is not quickened, except it die.

37 And that which thou sowest, thou sowest not that body that shal be, but bare corne, it may chance of wheat, or of some other corne.

38 But God giueth it a body, as it hath pleased him, and to euery seed his owne body.

39 All flesh is not ‖ the same flesh, but there is one maner of flesh of men, another flesh of beasts, another of fishes, and another of birds.

40 There are also celestial bodies, and bodies terrestriall: but the glory of the celestiall is one, and the glory of the terrestriall another.

41 There is one glory of the [f] sunne, and another glory of the moone, and another glory of the starres: for one starre differeth from another star in glory.

42 So is the resurrection of the dead. It is sowen in corruption, it riseth in incorruption.

43 It is sowen in [g] dishonour, it riseth in honour. It is sowen in weakenesse, it riseth in power.

44 It is sowen a naturall body, it riseth a spirituall body: There is a natural body, and there is a spirituall body.

45 And so it is also written: The first man *Adam was made a liuing soule, and the last Adam was made a quickening spirit.

46 Howbeit, that is not first which is spirituall, but that which is naturall, & then that which is spirituall.

47 The first man is of the earth, earthy, the second man is the Lord from heauen:

48 As is the earthy, such are they that are earthy: and as is the heauenly, such are they also that are heauenly.

49 And as wee haue borne the image of the earthy, we shall also beare the image of the heauenly.

50 This say I brethren, that flesh and blood can not inherit the kingdome of God: neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.

51 Beholde, I shew you a mystery. We shall not all sleepe, but we shall all be changed, 52 In a moment, in the twinckling of an eye, *at the last trumpe (for the trumpe shall blowe) and the dead shall rise incorruptible, and we shal be changed.

53 For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortall must put on immortalitie.

54 When this corruptible shall haue put on incorruption, and this mortall shall haue put on

The second Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Corinthians.

The first Chapter.

Hee declareth the great profit that commeth to the faithfull by their afflictions.

Paul an Apostle of Iesu Christ, by the will of God, and brother Timotheus, vnto the Church of GOD, which is at Corinthus, with all the saints which are in all Achaia:

2 Grace bee with you, and peace from God the Father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ.

3 *Blessed be God the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which is the father of mercies, and the God of all comfort:

4 Which comforteth vs in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort them which are in all manner trouble, with the comfort wherewith wee our selues are comforted of God.

5 For as the [a] afflictions of Christ are plenteous in vs: euen so is our consolation plenteous by Christ.

6 Whether wee bee troubled, it is for your consolation and saluation, which saluation is wrought by the suffering of the same afflictions which we also suffer: or whether we be comforted, it is for your consolation and saluation, and our hope of you is stedfast:

7 Knowing that as ye are partakers of the afflictions, so ye shall be partakers also of the consolation.

8 For we would not, brethren, haue you ignorant of our trouble which came vnto vs in Asia: that we were grieued out of measure, passing strength, in so much that we were in great doubt, euen of life.

9 But we receiued the sentence of death in our selues, that we should not put our trust in our selues, but in God, which raiseth the dead:

10 Who deliuered vs from so great a death, and doeth deliuer: in whom we trust that hereafter also he will deliuer vs:

Ro.15.30. 11 *You also helping together by prayer for vs, that for the benefits bestowed vpon vs by the meanes of many persons, thanks may be giuen of many on our behalfe.

12 For our reioicing is this, the testimonie of our conscience, that in simplicity and godly pureneſſe, not with fleshly wisedome, [b] but by the grace of God, we haue had our conuersation in the world, and most of all to you wards.

b Thing that is from heauen.

13 For we write none other things vnto you then that ye read, and also that ye acknowledge: and I trust ye shall acknowledge vnto the end.

14 Euen as ye haue acknowledged vs partly, that we are your reioicing, euen as yee [c] are ours in the day of the [d] Lord Iesus.

c Because we haue won you to Christ.

15 And in this confidence was I minded first to haue come vnto you, that ye might haue had ‖ one pleasure more:

d Which shall abolish all worldly glory.

‖ Or, the second benefice.

16 And to passe by you into Macedonia, and to come againe out of Macedonia vnto you, and to be led foorth of you into Iurie.

17 When I therefore was thus minded, did I vse lightnesse? or minde I [e] carnally those things which I minde, that with me should bee yea, yea, and nay, nay?

e Not to affirme one thing, & then to denie it, which is a signe of inconstancie.

18 Yea [f] God is faithfull, for our preaching to you, was not yea, and nay.

f He taketh God to witnesse that hee preacheth the truth.

19 For Gods sonne Iesus Christ, which was preached among you by vs, euen by me and Syluanus, and Timotheus, was not yea and nay, but in him it was yea.

20 For all the promises of God in him are yea, and are in him, Amen, vnto the glory of God through vs.

21 And hee which stablisheth vs with you in Christ, and hath anointed vs, is God:

22 Which hath also sealed vs, and hath giuen the earnest of the spirit in our hearts.

23 I call God for a record vnto my soule, that to spare you, I came not as yet vnto Corinthus.

24 Not that we be lords ouer your faith, but are helpers of your ioy: for by faith ye stand.

The ij. Chapter.

Paul reioyceth in God for the efficacie of his doctrine.

BUt I determined this in my selfe, that I would not come againe to you in heauinesse.

2 For if I make you sorie, who is he that maketh mee glad but the same which is made [a] sory by me?

a Which was giuen to Satan, but now hath repent.

3 And I wrote this same vnto you, lest when I came, I should take heauinesse of them of whom I ought to reioice, hauing confidence in you all, that my ioy is the ioy of you all.

4 For in great affliction and anguish of heart, I wrote vnto you with many teares: not that ye should be made sory, but that yee might perceiue the loue which I haue most abundantly vnto you.

5 But if any man hath caused sorowe, the same hath not made me sory, but partly, (lest I should ouergrieue) you all.

6 It is sufficient vnto the same man that he was rebuked of many.

7 So that now contrariwise yee ought rather to forgiue him, and comfort him, lest the same person should be swallowed vp with much heauinesse.

8 Wherefore, I pray you, that you would confirme your loue towards him.

9 For to this ende also did I write, that I might know the proofe of you, whether ye be obedient in all things.

10 To whom ye forgiue any thing, I forgiue also: For if I forgiue any thing, to whom I forgaue it, for your sakes forgaue I it in the [b] sight of Christ, b That is, truely & from mine heart, euen as in the presence of Christ.

11 Lest we should be circumuented of Satan: for we are not ignorant of his deuises.

12 Furthermore, when I came to Troada, to preach Christs Gospel, and a doore was opened vnto me of the Lord, 13 I had no rest in my spirit, because I found not Titus my brother, but when I had taken my leaue of them, I went away into Macedonia.

14 Nowe thankes bee vnto God, which alwayes causeth vs to triumph in [c] Christ, and openeth the sauour of his knowledge by vs in euery place.

c In working mightily by vs, hee maketh vs partakers of his victory and triumph.

15 For we are vnto God the sweete sauour of Christ in them that are saued, & in them which perish.

16 To the one are wee the sauour of death, vnto death: and vnto the other, the sauour of life, vnto life: * And who is meete vnto these things?

Rom.11.16

‖ Or, of Christ,

The iij. Chapter.

Paul exalteth his apostleship against the brags of the false Apostles.

DOe wee begin to commend our selues againe? Or needе we, as some other, Epistles of commendation vnto you? or letters of commendation from you?

2 Yee are our Epistle written in our hearts, ‖ vnderstood and read of all men:

‖ Or, knowē

3 For as much as ye are manifestly declared that ye are the Epistle of Christ ministred by vs, written not with inke, but with the spirit of the liuing God, not in stony tables, but in fleshly tables of the heart:

4 Such trust haue wee through Christ to Godward:

The Epistle on the xij. Sunday after Trinitie.

5 Not that we are sufficient of our selues, to thinke any thing, as of our selues: but our sufficiency is of God:

6 Which hath made vs able Ministers of the New testament, not of the letter, but of the spirit: for the letter killeth, but the [a] spirit giueth life.

7 But if the ministration of death in letters figured in stones, was with glory, so that the children of Israel could not stedfastly behold the face of Moses, for [b] the glory of his countenance, which glory is done away:

8 How shall not the ministration of the spirit be much more in glory?

9 For if the ministration of condemnation be glory: much more doeth the ministration of righteousnesse exceed in glory.

10 For euen that which was glorified, was not glorified in this behalfe, because of the exceeding glory.

11 For if that which is put away, was glorious: much more that which remaineth, is glorious.

12 Seeing then that we haue such hope, we vse great boldnesse of speech:

13 And not as Moyses, [c] which put a vaile ouer his face, that the children of Israel should not stedfastly looke vnto the end of that which is abolished.

14 But their mindes were ‖ blinded: for vntill this day remaineth the same vaile vntaken away in the reading of the Olde testament, which vaile is put away in Christ.

15 But euen vnto this day when Moyses is read, the vaile is layd vpon their heart.

16 Neuertheless, when it shall turne to the Lord, the vaile shalbe taken away.

17 *The Lorde is the spirit: and where the spirit of the Lord is, there is libertie.

18 But we all beholding as in a [d] mirrour, the glory of the Lord, with his face open, are changed vnto the same image from glory to glory, euen as of the spirit of the Lord.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 He declareth his diligence and roundnesse in his office, 17 shewing what profit commeth thereby.

THerefore seeing that we haue such a ministerie, as we haue receiued mercie, we faint not:

2 But haue cast from vs the cloakes of vnhonestie, walking not in craftinesse, neither handling the word of God deceitfully, but in opening of the trueth, cõmending our selues to euery mans conscience in the sight of God.

3 If our Gospel be hid, it is hid in them that are lost:

4 In whom the [a] God of this world hath blinded the mindes of them which beleeue not, lest the light of the Gospel of the glory of Christ should shine vnto them, (which is the image of God.)

5 For we preach not our selues, but Christ Jesus the Lord, and our selues your seruants for Jesus sake.

6 For it is God that *commanded the light to shine out of darknesse, who hath shined in our hearts, for to giue the light of the knowledge of the glory of God, in the face of Jesus Christ.

7 But we haue this treasure in earthen vessels, that the excellencie of the power may be Gods, and not of vs.

8 We are troubled on euery side, yet are we not ‖ without shift: We are in pouertie, be not in extreme pouerty.

9 Wee are persecuted, but are not forsaken therein: wee are cast downe, but wee perish not:

10 Wee alwayes beare about in the body the dying of the Lord Jesus, that the life of Jesus might also be made manifest in our body.

11 For wee which liue, are alwayes deliuered vnto death for Jesus sake, that the life also of Jesus might be made manifest in our mortall flesh.

12 So then, death worketh in vs, but life in you.

13 Seeing then that we haue the same spirit of faith (according as it is written, *I beleeued, and therefore haue I spoken:) We also beleeue, and therefore speake:

14 Knowing that hee which raised vp the Lord Jesus, shall raise vp vs also by the meanes of Jesus, and shall set vs with you.

15 For all things ‖ do I for your sakes, that the plenteous grace by thanksgiuing of many, may redound to the praise of God.

16 Wherefore we are not wearied: but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day.

17 For the momentany [b] lightnesse of our tribulation, prepareth an exceeding and an eternal weight of glory vnto vs:

18 While we looke not on the things which are seene, but on the things which are not seene: for the things which are seene, are temporall: but the things which are not seene, are eternall.

The v. Chapter.

Paul proceedeth to declare the vtilitie that commeth by the crosse.

FOr wee know that if our earthly [a] house of this tabernacle were destroyed, we haue a building of God, euen an habitation not made with handes, but eternal in heauen.

2 For therefore sigh we, desiring vpon our clothing to be further clothed with our house which is from heauen.

3 If so be that we *being clothed, shall not be found naked.

4 For we that are in this tabernacle, sigh, beeing burdened, because wee would not put off our clothing, but vpon the same put on more, that mortalitie might bee swallowed vp of life.

5 He that hath ordeined vs for the selfe same thing, is God, which hath also giuen vnto vs the earnest of the spirit.

6 Therefore wee are alway of good cheare, and know that as long as we are at home in the body, we are absent from the Lord.

7 (For we walke by faith, not after outward appearance.)

8 Neuertheless, we are of good comfort, and had rather to be absent from the bodie, and to be present with the Lord.

9 Wherefore, whether we be at home, or from home, we endeuour our selues to be accepted vnto him.

10 *For we must all appeare before the iudge-ment seat of Christ, that euery man may receiue the workes of his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad.

11 Knowing therefore the feare of the Lord, we perswade men, for wee are [b] knowen vnto God: I trust also that wee are knowen in your consciences.

12 For wee commend not our selues againe vnto you, but giue you an occasion to glory on our behalfe, that yee may haue somewhat against them which glory in the face, and not in the heart.

13 For [c] if wee be too feruent, to God are wee too feruent: Or if wee keepe measure, for your cause keepe we measure.

15 And hee died for all, that they which liue, should not henceforth liue vnto themselues, but vnto him which died for them, and rose againe.

16 Wherefore henceforth know wee no man after the [d] flesh: Insomuch though wee haue knowen Christ after the flesh, now yet henceforth know we him no more.

17 *Therefore if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: Olde things are passed away, behold, all things are become new.

18 And all things are of God, which hath reconciled vs vnto himselfe by Iesus Christ, and hath giuen to vs the ministery of reconciliation.

2 ‖ Receiue [b] vs: wee haue wronged no man, wee haue corrupted no man, we haue defrauded no man.

3 I speake not this to condemne you, for I haue shewed you before, that ye are in our hearts to die and liue with you.

4 I vse great boldnes of speech towards you, I glory greatly in you: I am filled with comfort, and am exceeding ioyous in all our tribulation.

5 For when wee were come into Macedonia, our flesh had no rest, but wee were troubled on euery side: without were fightings, within were feares.

6 Neuertheless, God that comforteth the humble, comforted vs by the coming of Titus.

7 And not by his comming onely, but also by the consolation which hee receiued of you, when hee told vs your behement desire, your weeping, your feruent minde towarde mee: so that I reioyced the more.

8 For though I made you sory with a letter, I repent not, though I did repent: For I perceiue that ỹ same Epistle made you sory, though it were but for a season.

9 I now reioyce: not that ye were made sorie, but that yee were made sory to repentance: for yee were made sory to Godward, that in nothing ye might be hurt by vs.

10 *For godly sorow causeth repentance vnto saluation, not to be repented of: but the sorow of the world causeth death.

11 For beholde, this selfe same thing that yee were made sorie to Godward, how much care-fulnesse it hath wrought in you: yea what c clearing of your selues, yea what indignation, yea what feare, yea what vehement desire, yea what zeale, yea what punishment? for in all things ye haue shewed your selues that yee were cleare in that matter.

12 Wherefore, though I wrote vnto you, I did it not for his cause that had done the hurt, neither for his cause that was hurt: ‖ but that your good minde to vs-ward, might appeare among you in the sight of God.

‖ Or, but that our care towards you in the sight of God, might appeare vnto you. So hath Codex Cõplutensis, Ambrosius, and Theophilactus, and so readeth the old translation, & the translation of Stephanus.

13 Therefore we are comforted in your comfort: yea and exceedingly the more ioyed wee for the ioy of Titus, because his spirit was refreshed by you all.

14 But if I haue boasted any thing vnto him of you, I haue not bene shamed therein, for as we speake all things vnto you in trueth, euen so our boasting which I made vnto Titus, is found a trueth.

15 And his ‖ inward affection is more abundant toward you, while he remembreth the obedience of you all, how with feare and trembling ye receiued him.

‖ Or, his bowels are.

16 I reioyce that I haue confidence in you in all things.

The viij. Chapter.

1 By the example of the Macedonians, 9 and Christ, hee exhorteth them to continue in releeuing the poore Saints, commending their good beginning.

MOreouer, we doe you to wit, brethren, of the grace of God, which was giuen in the Churches of Macedonia,

2 How that in much triall of affliction their ioy abounded, and their deepe pouertie abounded into the riches of their liberalitie.

3 For to their powers (I beare them record) yea and beyond their powers, they were willing of themselues:

4 Praying vs with great instance, that we would receiue this a grace and societie of the ministerie which is toward the Saints.

a Grace here signifieth benefolence or almes.

5 And this they did not as we looked for: but gaue their owne selues first to the Lord, and after vnto vs by the will of God.

6 That wee should desire Titus to accomplish the grace among you also, euen as hee had begunne.

7 Now therefore, as yee are plenteous in all things, in faith, and in word, and in knowledge, and in all feruentnesse, and in loue, which yee haue to vs: euen so, see that yee be plenteous in this grace also.

8 This say I not by commandement, ‖ but because of the feruentnesse of other, and proouing the vnfainednesse of your loue.

‖ Or, reade, but thorow the feruentnesse of other, prouoking also the perfectnesse of your loue.

9 For ye know the grace of our Lord Iesus Christ, that though hee was riche, yet for your sakes hee became poore, that yee through his pouertie might be made rich.

10 And I giue counsell herein: for this is expedient for you, which haue begunne not to doe onely, but also to will a yeere agoe.

11 Now therefore performe to do it also: that as there appeared in you a readinesse to will, euen so there may appeare a readinesse to performe, of that which ye haue.

12 For if there bee first a willing minde, it is accepted according to that a man hath, and not according to that he hath not.

13 Truely, not that other bee set at ease, and you burdened:

14 But of like condition now at this time your abundance supplieth their want, that their abundance also may supply your want, and there may be equalitie:

15 As it is written, * Hee that had gathered much, had nothing ouer, and he that had gathered little, had no lacke. Exo.16.18.

16 Thankes bee vnto God, which put the same earnest care for you in the heart of Titus.

17 Because he accepted the exhortation: and being the more carefull, came of his owne accord vnto you.

18 Wee haue sent with him that brother b whose praise is in the Gospel throughout all the Churches:

b In preaching the Gospel. Some vnderstand Luke, other, Barnabas.

19 (And not that onely, but he was also chosen of the Churches to bee a fellow with vs in our iourney, concerning this ‖ grace that is ministred by vs vnto the glory of the same Lord, and declaration of your ready minde,)

‖ Or, beneficence.

20 Eschewing this, that any man should rebuke vs in this plenteous distribution that is ministred by vs:

21 Making prouision for c honest things, not only in the sight of the Lord, but also in the sight of men.

c His well being is appointed before God and man.

22 We haue sent with them a brother of ours, whom wee haue oftentimes proued diligent in many things, but now much more diligent, for the great confidence ‖ which I haue in you.

‖ Or, which he hath.

23 Whether any do inquire of Titus, he is my fellowe and helper concerning you: or of other which are our brethren, they are the messengers of the Churches, and the glory of Christ.

24 Wherefore shew yee vnto them the proofe of your loue, and of our boasting on your behalfe in the sight of the Churches.

The ix. Chapter.

The cause of Titus and his companions comming to them.

FOr of the ministring to the saints, it is superfluous for mee to write vnto you:

2 For I know the readinesse of your minde, whereof I boast on your behalfe vnto them of Macedonia, that Achaia was prepared a yere agoe: and ‖ your zeale hath prouoked many.

‖ Or, zeale in you,

3 Yet haue I sent the brethren, lest our boasting of you should bee in vaine in this behalfe, that (as I haue said) ye may be prepared.

4 Lest happily if they of Macedonia come with me, and finde you vnprepared, wee (I will not not say, you) should be ashamed in this boldnesse of boasting.

5 Therefore I thought it necessary to exhort the brethren, that they would come before vnto you, and prepare your forepromised beneficence, that it might be ready as a beneficence, and a not as auertoztion.

a That is, as a thing extorted, or violently wring from you.

6 This yet I say, he which soweth sparingly, shall reape sparingly: and he that soweth bountifully, shall reape bountifully.

7 *Euery man according as hee purposeth in his heart, so let him giue, not grudgingly, or of necessitie: *for God loueth a cheerefull giuer. Rom.12.8. Eccl.35.11

8 God is able to make you plentifull in all grace, that ye in all things hauing alwayes sufficient vnto the vttermost, may bee plentifull in euery good worke.

Psal.112.9. b Dauid speaketh of the man which feareth God, and loueth his neighbour.

9 As it is written, *Hee hath [b] dispersed abroad, he hath giuen to the poore, his righteousnesse remaineth for euer.

10 Moreouer, I beseech him that ministreth seed vnto the Sower, to minister bread also for food, and to multiply your seede, and to encrease the fruits of your righteousnesse:

11 That in all things yee may bee made rich vnto all bountifulnes, which causeth through vs thankes giuing vnto God.

12 For the administration of this seruice, not onely supplieth the want of the Saints, but also is abundant by the thankes-giuing of many vnto God.

13 (Whiles by the experiment of this ministration, they glorifie God for the obedience of your consenting to the Gospel of Christ, and for your liberal distributiō to them, and to all men:)

‖ Or, are greatly affectioned toward you. 14 And by their prayers for you, which ‖ long after you for the abundant grace of God in you.

15 Thankes bee vnto God for his vnspeakeable gift.

The x. Chapter.

He toucheth the false apostles, and defendeth his authoritie, exhorting them to obedience.

NOw I Paul my selfe beseech you by the meekenesse & gentlenesse of Christ, which in presence am lowly among you, but am bolde toward you being absent.

‖ Or, wherwith I mean to be bold, 2 I beseech you, that I may not need to bee bolde when I am present, with that same boldenesse, wherewith I ‖ am supposed to haue bene bolde against some, which repute vs as though we walked according to the flesh.

3 For walking in the flesh, yet wee doe not warre according to the flesh,

4 (For the weapons of our warefare are not carnall, but mightie through God, to the ouerthrowing of strong holds,)

5 Wherewith we ouerthrow counsels, and euery high thing that is exalted against the knowledge of God, and bring into captiuitie all imagination to the obedience of Christ:

6 And hauing in a readinesse wherewith to take vengeance on all disobedience, when your obedience is fulfilled.

7 Looke ye on things after the vtter appearance? If any man trust in himselfe that hee is Christs, let him consider this againe of himselfe, that as he is of Christ, euen so are we of Christ.

8 For though I should boast somewhat more of our authoritie, which the Lord hath giuen to vs for edification, and not for your destruction, I should not be ashamed,

9 Lest I should seeme as it were to make you afraid by letters.

a Meaning, a certaine man among them, which thus spake of Paul. 10 For the letters [a] (sayeth hee) are sore and strong: but his bodily presence is weake, and his speech nothing worth.

11 Let him that is such a one, thinke on this wise, that as we are in word by letters when we are absent, such also are wee in deed when wee are present.

12 For wee dare not number or compare our selues with certaine which praise themselues: neuertheless, while they measure themselues with themselues, and compare themselues with themselues, they vnderstand not.

13 But we will not boast aboue measure: but according to the [b] measure of the rule which God hath distributed vnto vs, a measure to reach euen vnto you.

b That is, the gifts and vocation which God hath giuen him to win others by. 14 For wee stretch not out our selues beyond measure, as though wee reached not vnto you: For euen to you also haue we come with the Gospel of Christ:

15 Not boasting our selues out of measure in other mens labours: but hoping when your faith is increased, to be magnified among you according to our measure abundantly,

16 That I may preach the Gospel in those regions which are beyonde you: and not glory of those things which by another mans measure are prepared already.

17 *But let him that glorieth, glorie in the Lord. Iere.9.24. 1.cor.1.31.

18 For hee that commendeth himselfe, is not allowed, but whom the Lord commendeth.

The xj. Chapter.

2 He declareth his affection toward them. 5 The excellencie of his ministerie, 9 And his diligence in the same.

WOuld to God ye could suffer a little my foolishnesse, and indeede suffer mee.

2 For I am ielous ouer you with godly iealousie: for I haue coupled you to one man, to present you a chaste virgine vnto Christ.

3 But I feare lest by any meanes, that as the *serpent beguiled Eue through his subtiltie, euen so your mindes should bee corrupted from the singlenesse that is toward Christ. Gen.3.4.

4 For if he that commeth, preacheth an other [a] Iesus, whom we haue not preached: or if ye receiue another spirit whom ye haue not receiued: either another Gospel which yee haue not receiued, you would well haue suffered him.

a That is, more perfect doctrine concerning Iesus Christ. 5 Verily I suppose that I was not behinde the chiefe Apostles.

6 But though I be rude in speaking, yet not in knowledge: but in all things among you we haue bene well knowen to the vttermost.

7 Haue I committed an offence because I submitted my selfe, that yee might bee exalted, because I preached to you the Gospel of God freely?

8 I robbed other Churches, taking wages of them to do you seruice.

9 And when I was present with you, and had neede, *I was chargeable to no man by my idlenesse: for that which was lacking vnto me, the brethren which came from Macedonia supplied: and in all things I haue kept my selfe not chargeable to you, and so will I keepe my selfe. 2.Cor.12.13.

b Let not the enuery of Iesus Christ be thought to be in me, if I suffer my toy to be shut vp, which I haue conceiued of Christ. 10 [b] The trueth of Christ is in mee, that this boasting shall not be shut vp against me in the regions of Achaia.

11 Wherefore? because I loue not you? God knoweth.

12 But what I do, that wil I do, that I may cut away occasion from them which desire occasion: that they might bee found like vnto vs, in that wherein they glory.

13 For such false apostles, are deceitful workers, transformed into the Apostles of Christ.

14 And no marualle: for Satan himselfe is transformed into an angel of light.
15 Therefore it is no great thing if that his ministers also bee transformed as the ministers of righteousnesse: whose ende shall be according to their workes.
16 I say againe, Let no man thinke that I am foolish: or else euen nowe take yee mee as a foole, that I also may boast my selfe a little.
17 That I speake, I speake it not after the [c] Lord, but as it were foolishly in this boldnesse of boasting.
18 Seeing that many glory after the flesh, I will glorie also.
19 For yee suffer fooles gladly, seeing ye your selues are wise.
20 For ye suffer, if a man bring you into bondage, if a man deuoure, if a man take, if a man exalt himselfe, if a man smite you on the face.
21 I speake concerning reproch, as though wee had bene weake: Howbeit, wherein soeuer any man is bolde (I speake foolishly) I am bolde also.
22 *They are Hebrewes, euen so am I: they are Israelites, euen so am I: they are the seed of Abraham, euen so am I:
23 They are the ministers of Christ, (I speake as a foole) I am more: in labours more abundantly, in stripes aboue measure, in prison more plenteously, in deaths [d] oft.
24 Of the Iewes fiue times receiued I fortie stripes saue one.
25 *Thrise was I beaten with rods, *once stoned, *thrise I suffered shipwracke, a night and a day haue I bene in the depth:
26 In iourneying often, in perils of waters, in perils of robbers, in perils of mine owne nation, in perils among the Heathen, in perils in the citie, in perils in the wildernesse, in perils in the Sea, in perils among false brethren,
27 In labour and trauaile, in watchings often, in hunger and thirst, in fastings often, in colde and nakednesse,
28 Besides the things which outwardly come vnto mee, the trouble which priuily conspireth against mee dayly, is the care of all the Churches.
29 Who is weake, and I am not weake? who is offended, and I burne not?
30 If I must needs glorie, I will glorie of the things that concerne mine infirmities.
31 The God and Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which is blessed for euermore, knoweth that I lie not.
32 In the citie of Damascus, the gouernour of the people appointed by King Aretas, layde wait in the citie of Damascus, desirous to haue caught me:
33 And at a windowe was I let downe in a basket thorow the wall, and escaped his hands.

The xij. Chapter.

1 He reioyceth in his preferment, 5 but chiefly in his humblenesse.

IT is not expedient doubtlesse for me to glorie, I will come to visions and reuelations of the Lord.
2 *For I knew a man in [a] Christ, aboue fourteene yeeres agoe (whether in the body I cannot tell, or whether out of the body, I cannot tell, God knoweth) taken vp into the third [b] heauen:
3 And I knewe the same man (whether in the body, or out of the body, I cannot tell, God knoweth,)
4 How that he was taken vp into [c] paradise, and heard vnspeakeable wordes, which is not lawfull for man to vtter.
5 Of such ‖ a man will I glory, yet of my selfe will I not glorie, but in mine infirmities.
6 For though I would desire to glory of them, I shall not bee a foole, for I will say the trueth, but I now refraine, lest any man should thinke of me aboue that which hee seeth me to be, or that he heareth of me.
7 And lest I should bee exalted out of measure, through the abundance of the reuelations, there was giuen to mee a pricke to the flesh, the messenger of Satan to buffet mee, because I should not be exalted out of measure.
8 For this thing besought I the Lord thrise, that it might depart from me.
9 And he said vnto mee, My grace is sufficient for thee: for my strength is made perfect in weakenesse. Most gladly therefore I will rather glorie in mine infirmities, that the power of Christ might dwell in me.
10 Therefore haue I delectation in infirmities, in rebukes, in necessities, in persecutions, in anguishes for Christes sake: for when I am weake, then am I strong.
11 I am become a foole in glorying, yee haue compelled mee: for I ought to haue bene commended of you. For nothing was I inferior vnto the chiefe Apostles, though I be nothing.
12 Truely the signes of an Apostle were wrought among you in all patience, in signes, and wonders, and mightie deedes.
13 For what is it wherein yee were inferior vnto other Churches, except it bee that I was not chargeable vnto you by my idlenesse? forgiue me this wrong.
14 Beholde now the thirde time I am readie to come vnto you, and yet will I not bee chargeable vnto you by my idlenesse. For I seeke not yours, but you. For the children ought not to lay vp for the parents, but the parents for the children.
15 I will very gladly spend, and will be spent for your soules, though the more abundantly I loue you, the lesse I be loued againe:
16 But be it, that I was not chargeable vnto you: [d] neuertheless, being craftie, I caught you with guile.
17 Did I pill you by any of them whom I sent vnto you?
18 I desired Titus, and with him I sent a brother: Did Titus defraude you of any thing? Haue we not walked in the same Spirit? not in the same steps?
19 Againe, thinke you that wee excuse our selues vnto you? We speake in Christ in the sight of God: but we do all things, dearely beloued, for your edifying.
20 For I feare lest when I come, I shall not finde you such as I would, and that I shall bee found vnto you, such as ye would not: lest there bee debates, enuyings, wraths, strifes, backbitings, whisperings, swellings, and seditions:
21 And that when I come againe, my God

22 But they had heard onely, that hee which persecuted vs in times past, now preacheth the [d] faith, which before he destroyed.

23 And they glorified God in me.

d That is, the Gospel, which is the doctrine of faith.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Confirming his Apostleship to be of God, 3 hee sheweth why Titus is not circumcised,

THen foureteene yeeres after, I went by againe to Hierusalem with Barnabas, and tooke Titus with me.

2 I went vp by reuelation, and I declared vnto them the Gospel which I preach among the Gentiles: but priuately with them which were esteemed the chiefe, least by any meanes I should runne, or had run in vaine.

3 But neither Titus which was with mee, beeing a Greeke, was compelled to bee circumcised:

4 And that because of incommers, beeing false brethren, which came in priuily to spie out our libertie which we haue in Christ Iesu, that they might bring vs into bondage.

5 To whome, no not for an ‖ houre, we gaue place by subiection, that the trueth of the Gospel might continue with you.

b Christ, they taught me not but approoued my doctrine perfect in all points.

7 But contrariwise, when they sawe that the Gospel of the vncircumcision was committed vnto mee, as the Gospel of the circumcision was committed vnto Peter:

8 (For he that was mightie in Peter to the Apostleship of the circumcision, the same was mighty in me toward the Gentiles:)

9 When they perceiued the grace that was giuen vnto me, then James, Cephas, and John, which seemed to be pillars, gaue to me and Barnabas the right handes of fellowship: that wee should be Apostles vnto the heathen, and they vnto the circumcision.

10 Only ‖ that we should remember the poore: wherein also I was diligent to doe the same.

‖ they admonished.

11 But when Peter was come to Antioch, I withstood him [c] to the face, because hee was to be blamed.

c Meaning before all men.

12 For before that certaine came from James, hee did eate with the Gentiles: but when they were come, hee withdrew, and separated himselfe, fearing them which were of the circumcision.

13 And the other Iewes dissembled likewise with him: insomuch that Barnabas also was brought into their simulation.

14 But when I saw that they went not the right way to the trueth of the Gospel, I sayde vnto Peter before them all, If thou beeing a Iewe, liuest after the manner of the Gentiles, and not as doe the Iewes: why compellest thou the Gentiles to liue as doe the Iewes?

15 Wee which are Iewes by nature, and not [d] sinners of the Gentiles, d For so the Iewes called the Gentiles in reproch.

16 Knowe that a man is not iustified by the deedes of the lawe, but by the faith of Iesus Christ: and wee haue beleeued on Iesus Christ, that we might be iustified by the faith of Christ, and not by the deedes of the law: because by the deedes of the law no flesh shalbe iustified.

17 *If then while we seeke to be made righteous by Christ, wee our selues also are found sinners: Is therefore Christ the minister of sinne? God forbid. Rom. 3.19.

18 For if I build againe the things which I destroyed, then make I my selfe a trespasser.

19 For I, through the lawe, am dead to the law, that I might liue vnto God: I am crucified with Christ.

20 Neuertheless, I liue: yet now not I, but Christ liueth in me: and the life which I now liue in the flesh, I liue by the faith of the sonne of God, which loued me, and gaue himselfe for me.

21 I reiect not the grace of God: For if righteousnesse come of the lawe, then Christ is dead in vaine.

The iij. Chapter.

1 He rebuketh them sharpely, 10 and prooueth by diuers reasons, that iustification is by faith.

O foolish Galathians, who hath bewitched you, that yee should not obey the trueth: to whome Iesus Christ was before [a] described before the eyes, and among you crucified?

a To whome Christ was so liuely preached as if his liuely image were set before your eyes, or els had beene crucified among you.

2 This onely would I learne of you, whether yee receiued the spirite by the deedes of the law, or by the hearing of the faith?

3 Are yee such fooles, that after yee haue begun in the spirit, ye would now end in the flesh?

4 Haue ye suffered so great things in vaine? if it be yet in vaine.

5 Hee therefore that ministreth to you the spirit, and worketh miracles among you, doeth he it through the deedes of the lawe, or by hearing of the faith?

6 *Euen as Abraham beleeued God, and it was alcribed to him for righteousnesse. Gen. 15.6. rom 4.3. iames 2.23.

7 Know ye therefore, that they which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham.

8 For the Scripture seeing afore hand that God would iustifie the heathen through faith, shewed before hand glad tidings vnto Abraham, saying, *In thee shall all nations be blessed. Gen. 22.3. eccl. 44.20.

9 So then, they which be of faith, are blessed with the faithfull Abraham.

10 For as many as are of the [b] deedes of the law, are vnder the curse: for it is written, *Cursed is euery one that continueth not in al things which are written in the booke of the law, to do them. Deu. 27.26.

b Which think to be iustified by them.

11 But that no man is iustified by the law in the sight of God, it is euident: *for the iust shall liue by faith. Abac. 2.4. rom. 1.17.

12 And the law is not of faith: *but the man that doth them, shall liue in them. Leuit. 18.5.

13 Christ hath redeemed vs from the curse of the lawe, being made a curse for vs: For it is written, *Cursed is euery one that hangeth on tree: Deu. 21.23

14 That the blessing of Abraham might come on the Gentiles through Jesus Christ, that we might receive the promise of the spirite through faith.

15 Brethren, [c] I speake after the manner of men, * though it be but a mans testament, yet if it bee allowed, no man reiecteth it, or addeth thereto.

16 † * To Abraham and his seede were the promises made. Hee sayeth not, To the seedes, as of many: but, To thy seede, as of one, which is Christ.

17 This I say, that the lawe which beganne afterward beyond foure hundred and thirtie yeres, doth not disanull the testament that was confirmed afore of God vnto Christward, to make the promise of none effect.

18 For if the inheritance be of the lawe, then not nowe of promise. But God gaue the inheritance vnto Abraham by promise.

‖ The Law.

19 Wherefore then serueth the law? It ‖ was added because of transgressions, till the seede should come to whome the promise was made: and it was ordained by angels in the hand of a mediatour.

20 A mediatour is not a mediatour of one, but God is [d] one.

d Constant, & alwayes like himselfe.

21 Is the lawe then against the promise of God? God forbid. For if there had bene a law giuen which could haue giuen life, then no doubt righteousnesse should haue bene by the law.

Rom.3.4.

22 * But the scripture hath concluded all vnder sinne, that the promise by the faith of Jesus Christ should be giuen vnto them that beleeue.

23 But before faith came, wee were kept vnder the lawe, and were shutte vp vnto the faith which should afterward be reuealed.

Rom.10.4.

24 * Wherefore the law was our schoolemaster vnto Christ, that wee should bee iustified by faith.

25 But after that faith is come, wee are no longer vnder a schoolemaster.

26 For ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus.

Rom.6.3. ‖ Some reade, All ye that are baptized into Christ, haue put on Christ.

27 * For ‖ all yee that are baptized, haue put on Christ.

28 There is no Iewe, neither Greeke, there is neither bond, nor free, there is neither male nor female: for ye are all one in Christ Jesus.

29 If ye be Christes, then are yee Abrahams seede, and heires according to the promise.

The iiij. Chapter.

Hee sheweth wherefore the ceremonies were ordained, which being shadowes, must end when Christ the trueth commeth.

The Epistle on the ij. Sunday after Christmas.

AND I say, That the heire as long as he is a childe, differeth nothing from a seruant, though he be Lord of all:

2 But is vnder tutors and gouernors, vntill the time appointed of the father.

3 Euen so we, when we were children, were in bondage vnder the [a] rudiments of the world:

a That is, the law, which hee cal-leth a schoolemaster.

4 But when the fulnesse of the time was come, God sent his sonne made of a woman, and made vnder the law,

5 To redeeme them that were vnder the lawe, * that wee might receiue the adoption of children.

Rom.8.15.

6 Because yee are sonnes, God hath sent forth the [b] spirite of his sonne into your hearts, crying, [c] Abba father.

b For our adoption vnto Christ is ealed by him.

c He interpreteth both Iewes and Gentiles to call God their father in euery language, so that none are excepted.

7 Wherefore thou art no more a seruant, but a sonne: if thou be a sonne, thou art also an heire of God, through Christ.

8 Notwithstanding, when yee [d] knewe not God, yee did seruice vnto them which by nature are no gods.

9 But now after that ye haue knowen God, yea rather are knowen of God, how turne yee againe vnto the weak and beggerly rudiments, whereunto againe yee desire afresh to be in bondage?

d When ye refused the Gospell yee were idolaters therefore it is shame for you to refuse liberte and become seruants, yea, and seeing the Iewes desire to be out of their seruitude.

10 Yee obserue dayes, and moneths, and times, and yeeres.

11 I am in feare of you, least I haue bestowed on you labour in vaine.

12 Brethren, I beseech you, be as I am, for I am as ye are: Ye haue not iniured me at all.

13 Ye know how that through infirmitie of the flesh, I preached the Gospel vnto you at the first:

14 [e] And my temptatiō which was in my flesh yee despised not, neither abhorred: but receiued me as an Angel of God, euen as Christ Jesus.

e That is, the troubles and vexations which God sent to trie me while I was among you.

15 What is then your felicitie? for I beare you record, that if it had bene possible, yee would haue plucked out your owne eyes, and haue giuen them to me.

16 Am I therefore become your enemie, because I tell you the trueth?

17 They are iealous ouer you [f] amisse: Yea, they intend to exclude [g] you, that yee should be feruent to them ward.

f For they are but ambitious g They would turne you from me, that you might follow them.

18 It is good alwayes to bee zealous in a good thing, and not onely when I am present with you.

19 My little children, of whome I trauaile in birth againe, vntill Christ be [h] fashioned in you.

h And imprinted in your hearts, that ye loue one another.

20 But I desire to be present with you now, and to change my voice: for I stand in doubt of you.

21 Tell me, ye that desire to be vnder the law, doe ye not heare the law?

The Epistle on the iiij. Sunday in Lent. Gen.16.15 Gen.21.1.

22 For it is written, that Abraham had two sonnes: * the one by a bondmaid, * the other by a free woman.

23 But hee which was of the bondwoman, was borne after the flesh: but hee which was of the free woman, was borne by promise.

24 Which things are spoken by [i] an allegory: for these are two testaments: the one from the mount Sina, which gendreth vnto bondage, which is Agar:

i By an allegorie, that is, an other thing is meant.

25 For ‖ Agar is the mount Sina in Arabia, and bordereth vpon the citie which is now called Hierusalem, and is in bondage with her children.

‖ Or, reade, for Sina is a mount in Arabia.

26 But * Hierusalem which is aboue, is free, which is the mother of vs all.

Esai.45.2.

27 For it is written, * Reioyce thou barren that bearest no children, breake forth and cry, thou that trauailest not: for the desolate hath many moe children then she which hath an husband.

The v. Chapter.

2 He laboureth to draw them away from circumciſion, 7 and ſheweth them the battell betwixt the ſpirit and the fleſh, and the fruits of them both.

Acts 15.1. STand * faſt therefore in the libertie wherewith Chriſt hath made vs free, and be not intangled ‖ againe with the yoke of bondage. ‖ Or, contrariwiſe.

2 Beholde, I Paul ſay vnto you, That if ye be a circumciſed, Chriſt ſhall profite you nothing. a For we are of the Church of Chriſt, which is our mother, & not of the Synagogue, which is ſeruant vnder the law.

3 For I teſtifie againe to euery man which is circumciſed, that he is a debter to do the whole lawe:

4 Chriſt is become but vaine to you, as many of you as are iuſtified by the lawe, are fallen from grace.

5 For we through the ſpirite, waite for the hope of righteouſneſſe by faith.

6 For in Jeſus Chriſt, neither is circumciſion any thing worth, neither yet vncircumciſion: but faith which worketh by loue.

7 Yee did runne well, who was a let vnto you, that ye ſhould not obey the trueth?

8 This perſwaſion commeth not of him that called you.

1.Cor.5.6. 9 * A little leauen leaueneth the whole lumpe of dough.

10 I haue truſt toward you in the Lord, that ye will be none otherwiſe minded: but hee that troubleth you, ſhall beare iudgement, whatſoeuer he be.

11 And brethren, if I yet preach circumciſion, why doe I yet ſuffer perſecution? Then is the ſlander of the croſſe ceaſed.

12 I would to God they were cut off, which trouble you.

13 For brethren, ye haue beene called vnto liberty: only * let not liberty be an occaſion to the fleſh, but by loue ſerue one another. Rom.13.9. mat.22.39. mar.12.31.

14 For all the lawe is fulfilled in one worde, which is this, * Thou ſhalt loue thy neighbour as thy ſelfe. Leui.18.19 iacob.2.8.

15 If ye bite and deuoure one another, take heed leaſt ye be conſumed one of another.

The Epiſtle on the xiiij. Sunday after Trinitie. Rom.13.14 1.pet.2.11. 16 * Then I ſay, walke in the ſpirit, and yee ſhall not fulfill the luſts of the fleſh.

17 For the fleſh luſteth contrary to the ſpirit, and the ſpirit contrary to the fleſh: theſe are contrary one to the other, ſo that ye cannot do what ye would.

18 But and if ye be led of the ſpirit, then are ye not vnder the law.

19 The deedes of the fleſh are manifeſt, which are theſe, adultery, fornication, vncleanneſſe, wantonneſſe,

20 Worſhipping of images, witchcraft, hatred, variance, emulations, wrath, ſtrife, ſeditions, ſects, 21 Enuyings, murders, drunkenneſſe, gluttonies, and ſuch like, of the which I tell you before, as I haue tolde you in time paſt, that euen they which doe ſuch things, ſhall not inherit the kingdome of God.

22 But the fruite of the ſpirite is loue, ioy, peace, long ſuffering, gentleneſſe, goodneſſe, faith,

23 Meekeneſſe, temperance: againſt ſuch there is no law.

24 They truely that are Chriſtes, b haue crucified the fleſh, with the affections and luſts. b Chriſt hath not onely remitted their ſinnes, but ſanctified them vnto newneſſe of life.

25 If wee liue in the ſpirit, let vs alſo walke in the ſpirit.

26 Let vs not be deſirous of vaine glory, prouoking one another, enuying one another.

The vj. Chapter.

1 Hee exhorteth them to vſe gentleneſſe toward the weake, 2 and to ſhewe their brotherly loue and modeſtie, 6 alſo to prouide for their miniſters.

BRethren, if a man be preuented in any fault, yee which are ſpirituall, reſtore ſuch a one in the ſpirite of meekneſſe, conſidering thy ſelfe, leſt thou alſo be tempted.

2 Beare ye one anothers burden, and ſo fulfill the law of Chriſt.

3 For if any man ſeeme to himſelfe that hee is ſomewhat, when hee is nothing, the ſame deceiueth himſelfe in his owne fantaſie.

4 But let euery man proue his owne worke: and then ſhall hee haue a reioycing onely in his owne ſelfe, and not in another. a For his reioycing is a teſtimony of a good conſcience. 1.Cor.3.8.

5 * For euery man ſhall beare his owne burden.

6 Let him that is taught in the worde, miniſter vnto him that teacheth him, in all good things.

7 Bee not deceiued, God is not mocked: for whatſoeuer a man ſoweth that ſhal he alſo reap.

8 For he that ſoweth in his fleſh, ſhall of the fleſh reape corruption: but hee that ſoweth into the ſpirite, ſhall of the ſpirite reape life euerlaſting.

9 Let vs not be weary in well doing: for in due ſeaſon we ſhall reape, if we faint not.

10 While wee haue therefore time, let vs doe good vnto all men, eſpecially vnto them which are of the houſhold of faith.

11 Ye ſee how large a letter I haue written vnto you with mine owne hand. The Epiſtle on the xv. Sunday after Trinitie.

12 As many as deſire with outward appearance to pleaſe ‖ carnally, the ſame conſtraine you to be circumciſed: onely leſt they ſhould ſuffer perſecution for the croſſe of Chriſt. ‖ Or, in the fleſh.

13 For they themſelues which are circumciſed, keepe not the law: but deſire to haue you circumciſed, that they might glory in your fleſh.

14 God forbidde that I ſhould glory, but in the croſſe of our Lorde Jeſus Chriſt: whereby the b worlde is crucified vnto me, and I vnto the world. b By the worlde he meaneth all outward pompes, ceremonies, and things which pleaſe mens fantaſies.

15 For in Chriſt Jeſu, neither circumciſion auaileth any thing, nor vncircumciſion, but a new creature.

16 And as many as walke according to this rule, peace be on them, and mercie, and vpon the c Iſrael that is of God. c That is, vpon the Jewes, as Rom.11.

17 From henceforth let no man put me to buſineſſe: for I beare in my body the markes of the Lord Jeſus.

18 Brethren, the grace of our Lorde Jeſus Chriſt be with your ſpirit, Amen.

The Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle vnto the Ephesians.

The first Chapter.

After his salutation, 4 hee sheweth that the chiefe cause of their saluation standeth in the free election of God through Christ. 16 He declareth his good will toward them, giuing thanks, and praying God for their faith. 21 The maiestie of Christ.

1.Cor.1.1. PAul * an Apostle of Jesus Christ by the will of God, to the saints which are at Ephesus, and to the faithfull in Christ Jesus,

2 Grace be with you and peace frō God our father, & from the Lord Jesus Christ.

1.Cor.1,3. 2.pet.1.2. 3 *Blessed bee God the father of our Lorde Jesus Christ, which hath blessed vs in all spirituall blessing in heauenly things by Christ:

2.Tim.1.9. Col.2.29. 4 *According as hee had chosen vs in him, before the foundation of the worlde, *that wee should bee holy, and without blame before him through loue.

a Whereas we were not the naturall children, he receiued vs by grace, & made vs his children. 5 Who hath predestinated vs into the adoption of a children by Jesus Christ vnto himselfe, according to the good pleasure of his will:

6 To the prayse of the glory of his grace, wherein hee hath made vs accepted in the beloued.

7 In whome we haue redemption through his blood, the forgiuenesse of sinnes according to the riches of his grace,

8 Wherein he hath abounded toward vs in all wisedome and prudence.

9 And hath opened vnto vs the mysterie of his will, according to his good pleasure, which he had purposed in himselfe,

10 That in the dispensation of the fulnesse of the times, hee might gather together in one all things in Christ, both which are in heauens, and which are in earth, in him.

11 In whome also we are chosen, being predestinate according to the purpose of him who worketh all things after the counsell of his own will:

12 That wee should be vnto the praise of his glory, which before beleeued in Christ.

13 In whome also yee hoped after that yee heard the word of trueth, the Gospel of your saluation: wherein also after that ye beleeued, yee were sealed with the holy spirit of promise, b Though we be redeemed from the bondage of sinne by the death of Christ, Rom.6. yet we hope for this second redemption, which shal be when we shall possesse our inheritance in the heauens, whereof we haue the holy Ghost for a gage, as Chap.4. 14 Which is the earnest of our inheritance, vnto the b redemption of the purchased possession, vnto the praise of his glory.

15 Wherefore I also, after that I heard of the faith which ye haue in the Lord Jesus, and loue vnto all the saints,

16 Cease not to giue thanks for you, making mention of you in my prayers,

17 That the God of our Lorde Jesus Christ, the father of glory, may giue vnto you the spirit of wisedome and reuelation, in the knowledge of him,

18 The eyes of your minds being lightened: that yee may know what the hope is of his calling, and what the riches of the glory of his inheritance is in the saints:

19 And what is the exceeding greatnesse of his power to vs ward which beleeue, *according to the working of his mighty power, Col.2.19.

20 Which he wrought in Christ, when he raised him from the dead, and set him on his right hand in heauenly places, 21 Farre aboue all rule, and power, & might, and dominion, and euery name that is named, not onely in this world, but also in the world to come.

22 And hath put all things vnder his feete, and gaue him to be the head ouer all things to the Church,

23 Which is his body, the fulnesse of him that filleth all in all.

The ij. Chapter.

To magnifie the grace of Christ, which is the onely cause of saluation.

AND hee quickened you that were *dead in trespasses and sinnes: Col.2.13.

2 In the which in time passed ye walked, *according to the course of this world, after the gouernour that ruleth in the ayre, the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience. Ephe.6.11.

3 Among whome we all had our conuersation also in time past in the lusts of our flesh, fulfilling the will of the flesh, and of the minde, and a were by nature the children of wrath, euen as other:

a Not by creation, but by Adams transgression, and so by birth.

4 But God which is rich in mercie, for his great loue wherewith he loued vs,

5 Euen when we were dead by sinnes, hath quickened vs together with Christ, by whose grace ye are saued,

6 And hath raised vs vp together, and made vs sit together in heauenly things in Christ Jesus,

7 That in ages to come he might shewe the exceeding riches of his grace, in his kindnesse to vs ward, through Christ Jesus.

8 For by grace are yee made safe through faith, and that not of your selues: it is the gift of God.

9 Not of workes, least any man should boast himselfe:

10 For we are his workemanship, created in Christ Jesus vnto good workes, which God hath before ordained, that wee should walke in them.

the flesh, made by hands:
12 That at that time ye were without Christ, being aliants from the common wealth of Israel, and strangers from the *Testaments of promise, hauing no hope, and without God in this world.
13 But now in Christ Jesus, ye which sometime were farre off, are made nigh by the blood of Christ.
14 For he is our peace, which hath made both one: and hath broken downe the [b] middle wall that was a stop betweene vs,
15 Taking away in his flesh the hatred, euen the *law of commandements conteined in ordinances, for to make of twaine one new man in himselfe, so making peace:
16 And that hee might reconcile both vnto God in one body through his crosse, and slew hatred thereby:
17 And came and preached the glad tidings of peace to you which were afarre off, and to them that were nigh.
18 For through him wee haue both an entrance in one spirit vnto the father.
19 Now therefore, ye are no more strangers and forreiners: but fellowe citizens with the saints, and of the household of God,
20 And are built vpon the foundation of the Apostles and Prophets, Jesus Christ himselfe being the head corner stone,

The Epistle on the Epiphanie.

FOr this cause I Paul am a prisoner of Jesus Christ for you heathen:
2 If yee haue heard of the dispensatiō of the grace of God, which is giuen me to youwards:
3 For by reuelation he shewed God the [a] mysterie vnto me (as I wrote afore in few words,
4 Whereby when yee reade, yee may vnderstand my knowledge in the mysterie of Christ.)
5 Which mysterie in other ages was not opened vnto the sonnes of men, as it is nowe reuealed vnto his holy Apostles and Prophets by the spirit:
6 That the Gentiles should be inheritours also, and of the same body, and partakers of his promise in Christ by the Gospel:
7 Wherefore I was made a minister, according to the gift of the grace of God, which is giuen vnto mee * after the working of his power.
8 Vnto me which am lesse then the least of all saints is this grace giuen, that I should preach among the Gentiles the vnsearchable riches of Christ,
9 And bring to light to all men what the fellowship of the mystery is, which from the beginning of the world hath bene hid in God, which made all things through Jesus Christ:
10 To the intent that now vnto the rulers and powers in heauenly things might be knowen by the [b] Church, the very manifold wisedome of God,
11 According to the eternall purpose which he wrought in Christ Jesus our Lord:
12 By whom we haue boldnesse & entrance in the confidence by faith of him.
13 Wherefore I desire that ye faint not for my tribulations for you, which is your glory.
14 For this cause I bow my knees vnto the father of our Lord Jesus Christ,
15 Of whome all the familie in heauen and earth is named:
16 That he would grant you according to the riches of his glory, to bee strengthened with might by his spirit in the inner man,
17 That Christ may dwell in your hearts by faith: that yee being rooted and grounded in loue,
18 Might bee able to comprehende with all saints, what is the breadth, and length, & depth, and height:
19 And to know the loue of Christ, which excelleth all knowledge, that ye might be filled with all fulnesse of God.
20 Vnto him that is able to doe exceeding abundantly aboue all that we aske or thinke, according to the power that worketh in vs,
21 Bee glory in the Church by Christ Jesus throughout all ages, worlde without end, Amen.

Col. 3. 8.

e That is, all the naturall corruption that is in vs.

23 To be renued in the spirit of your minde,

24 And to put on that new man, which after God is shapen in righteousnesse, and holinesse of trueth.

25 * Wherefore, putting away lying, speake euery man trueth vnto his neighbour: forasmuch as we are members one of another.

Rom. 6. 4, col. 3, 8.

26 * Be ye [f] angrie, and sinne not: let not the sunne goe downe vpon your wrath.

Psal. 4. 5.

f If so be that ye be angry, to moderate your affection, that yre burn not out into reuenge, but be soone appeased.

27 Neither giue place to the deuill.

28 Let him that stole, steale no more: but let him rather labour, working with his hands the thing which is good, that he may giue vnto him that needeth.

29 Let no filthy communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good to edifie withall, as oft as neede is, that it may minister grace vnto the hearers.

30 And [g] grieue not the holy spirit of God, by whom yee are sealed vnto the day of redemption.

g So behaue your selues, that the holy ghost may willingly dwel in you, and giue him no occasion to depart for sorow, by your abusing of Gods graces.

31 Let all bitternesse, and fiercenesse, & wrath and crying, and euil speaking, be put away from you, with all naughtinesse.

32 Be ye curteous one to another, mercifull, forgiuing one another, euen as God for Christs sake hath forgiuen you.

The v. Chapter.

He entreateth of corporall mariages, and of the spirituall betwixt Christ and his Church.

The Epistle on the iij. Sunday in Lent. Iohn 13. 24

BE ye therefore followers of God, as deare children.

2 * And walke yee in loue, euen as Christ hath loued vs, and hath giuen himselfe for vs, an offering and a sacrifice of a sweete smelling sauour to God.

Col. 3. 5.

3 * But fornication, and all vncleannesse or couetousnesse, let it not be once named among you, as it becommeth saints:

4 Neither filthinesse, neither foolish talking, neither iesting which are not comely: but rather giuing of thanks.

5 For this ye know, that no whoremonger, neither vncleane person, nor couetous person, which is a worshipper of images, hath any inheritance in the kingdome of Christ, and of God.

6 * Let no man deceiue you with vaine wordes: for because of such things commeth the wrath of God vpon the children of disobedience.

Mat. 24. 4. mark. 13. 5. luke 11. 8.

7 Be not ye therefore companions of them.

8 For yee were sometimes darkenesse, but now are ye light in the Lord: walke as children of light.

9 (For the fruit of the spirit is in all goodnes, and righteousnesse, and trueth,

10 Approuing what is acceptable vnto the Lord.)

11 And haue no fellowship with the vnfruitfull works of darkenesse, but rather euen rebuke them.

12 For it is shame euen to name those things which are done of them in secret.

13 But all things when they are ‖ rebuked, are made manifest of the light: for al that which doeth make manifest, is light.

‖Some read rebuked of the light, are made manifest.

The Epistle on the xx. Sunday after Trinity. Col. 4. 5. Rom. 12. 2, 1. thes. 4. 3.

17 * Wherefore be ye not vnwise, but vnderstanding what the will of the Lord is.

18 And be not drunke with wine, wherein is excesse: but be filled with the spirit,

19 Speaking vnto your selues in Psalmes, and hymnes, and spirituall songs, singing and making melodie to the Lord in your hearts:

20 Giuing thankes alwayes for all things vnto God and the Father, in the name of our Lord Iesus Christ:

21 Submitting your selues one to another in the feare of God.

22 * Wiues, submit your selues vnto your owne husbands, as vnto the Lord:

23 * For the husband is the head of the wife, euen as Christ is the head of the Church, and he is the sauiour of the body.

1. Cor. 11. 3.

24 But as the Church is subiect vnto Christ, likewise the wiues to their owne husbands in all things.

25 * Ye husbands loue your wiues, euen as Christ also loued the Church, and gaue himselfe for it, b Baptisme is a token that God hath consecrated the Church to him selfe, and made it holy by his word: that is, his promise of free iustification in Christ.

27 That he might present it vnto himselfe a glorious Church, not hauing spot or wrinckle, or any such thing: but that it should be holy, and without blame.

28 So ought men to loue their wiues, as their owne bodies: hee that loueth his wife, loueth himselfe.

29 For no man euer yet hated his owne flesh: but nourisheth and cherisheth it, euen as the Lord the Church:

30 For wee are members of his body, of his flesh, and of his bones.

31 * For this cause shall a man leaue father and mother, and shalbe ioined vnto his wife, and two shall be made one flesh.

9 And ye masters, doe the same things vnto them, putting away threatnings: *knowing that your master also is in heauen, neither is respect of person with him.

10 Finally, my brethren, bee strong in the Lord, and in the power of his might.

11 Put on all the armour of God, that yee may stand against the assaults of the deuill.

12 For wee wrestle not against [a] blood and flesh, but against rulers, against powers, against worldly gouernours of the darkenesse of this world, against spirituall wickednesse in heauenly places.

13 Wherefore take vnto you the whole armour of God, that yee may be able to resist in the euill day, and hauing finished all things, to stand fast.

14 Stand therefore, hauing your loynes girt about with the trueth, and hauing on the brestplate of righteousnesse:

9 And this I pray, that your loue may abound yet more and more in knowledge, and in all vnderstanding:
10 That ye may discerne things that differ: that ye may be pure and without offence till the day of Christ,
11 Being filled with the fruites of righteousnesse, which are by Iesus Christ, vnto the glory and praise of God.
12 But I would yee should vnderstand, brethren, that the things which came vnto mee, haue come rather vnto the furtherance of the Gospel.
13 So that my [d] bondes in Christ are manifest throughout all the iudgement hall, and in all other places.
14 And many of the brethren in the Lord, being incouraged through my bonds, dare more plentifully speake the word without feare.
15 Some preach Christ of enuie and strife, and some of good will:
16 The one preach Christ of strife, not sincerely, supposing to adde more affliction to my bondes:
17 But the others of loue, knowing that I am set to the defence of the Gospel.
18 What then? so that Christ be preached any maner of way, whether it be by pretence, or by trueth, I ioy therein, and will ioy.
19 For I know that this shal turne to my saluation through your prayer, and ministring of the spirit of Iesus Christ,
20 According to my earnest expectation and my hope, that in nothing I shal be ashamed: but that with all boldnesse, as alwayes, so now also Christ shalbe magnified in my bodie, whether it be by life or by death.
21 For Christ is to me life, and death is to me aduantage.
22 But whether to liue in the flesh, this be the fruit of my labour, and what I shall chuse, I wote not.
23 For I am in a straite betwirt two, hauing a desire to depart, and to be with Christ, which is much farre better.
24 Neuertheless, to abide in the ‖ flesh, is more needfull for you.
25 And this I am sure of, that I shall abide and continue with you all, for your furtherance and ioy of faith:
26 That your reioycing may be the more abundant in Iesus Christ for me, by my comming to you againe.
27 Onely let your conuersation * be as it becommeth the Gospel of Christ, that whether I come and see you, or els be absent, I may yet heare of your matters, that ye continue in one spirit, in one soule, holding together in defence of the faith of the Gospel,
28 And in nothing fearing your aduersaries, which is to them a token of perdition: but to you of saluation, and [c] that of God.
29 For vnto you it is giuen for ‖ Christ, not onely this, to beleeue on him: but also this, to suffer for his sake,
30 Hauing the same fight which ye sawe in me, and now heare in me.

The ij. Chapter.

3 He exhorteth aboue all things to humilitie, whereby pure doctrine is chiefly mainteined.

IF there be therefore any [a] consolation in Christ, if any comfort of loue, if any fellowship of the spirit, if any compassion and mercie:
2 Fulfil ye my ioy, that ye be like minded, hauing the same loue, being of one accord, of one mind.
3 Let nothing be done through strife or vain glory, but in meekenesse euery man esteeme one the other better then himselfe.
4 Looke not euery man on his owne things, but euery man also on the things of others.
5 Let the same minde be in you, which was in Christ Iesus:
6 Who being in the forme of God, thought it no [b] robbery to be equall with God:
7 *But made himselfe of no reputation, taking on him the forme of a seruant, and made in the likenesse of men, and found in figure as a man:
8 *He humbled himselfe, made obedient vnto death, euen the death of the crosse.
9 Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and giuen him a name, which is aboue euery name:
10 That in the name of Iesus euery [c] knee should bow, of things in heauen, and things in earth, and things vnder the earth:
11 And that euery tongue should * confesse that the Lord is Iesus Christ, to the glory of God the father.
12 * Wherefore, my dearely beloued, as ye haue alwayes obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, worke [d] out your owne saluation with feare and trembling.
13 For it is God which worketh in you, both to will and to doe, of good will.
14 Doe all things without murmuring and disputing:
15 That ye may be blamelesse and pure, the sonnes of God, without rebuke, in the middes of a crooked and peruerse nation, among whom shine ye as lights in the world,
16 Holding fast the word of life, to my reioycing in the day of Christ, that I haue not runne in vaine, neither laboured in vaine.
17 Yea, and though I be offered vp vpon the sacrifice and seruice of your faith, I reioyce, and reioyce with you all.
18 For the same cause also doe ye reioyce, and reioyce with me.
19 But I trust in the Lord Iesus, to sende *Timotheus shortly vnto you, that I also may be of good comfort, when I know your state.
20 For I haue no man like minded, who will naturally care for your state.
21 *For all seeke their owne, not the things which are Iesus Christs.
22 Ye know the proofe of him, that as a sonne with the father, hee hath serued with me in the Gospel.
23 Him therefore I hope to send, as soone as I know my state.
24 But I trust in the Lord, that I also my selfe shall come shortly.
25 But I supposed it necessary, to send to you Epaphroditus my brother and companion in labour, and fellow souldier, but your Apostle, and the minister of my neede.

The iij. Chapter.

2 He warneth them to beware of false teachers, 3 against whom he setteth Christ.

MOreouer, my brethren, reioyce in the Lord. It grieueth me not to write the same thinges often to you, for to you it is a sure thing.

2 Beware of [a] dogs, beware of euill workers, beware of [b] concision.

3 For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirit, and reioyce in Christ Iesus, and haue no confidence in the flesh.

4 Though I might also haue confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that hee hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more:

5 Circumcised the eight day, of the kinred of Israel, of the tribe of Beniamin, *an Hebrue of the Hebrues, after the law a Pharisee.

6 Concerning feruentnesse, persecuting the Church: touching the righteousnesse which is in the law, I was blameles.

7 But the things that were bantage vnto me, those I counted losse for Christs sake.

8 Yea, I thinke all things but losse for the excellencie of the knowledge of Christ Iesus my Lord: for whose sake I haue lost all thinges, and doe iudge them but ‖ doung, that I may win Christ,

9 And bee found in him, not hauing mine owne righteousnesse, which is of the law: but that which is through the faith of Christ, the righteousnesse which commeth of God through faith:

10 That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his passions, being made conformable vnto his death,

11 ‖ If by any meanes I might atteine vnto the resurrection of the dead.

12 [c] Not as though I had already atteined, either were alreadie perfect: but I follow, if that I may comprehend, wherein also I am comprehended of Christ Iesus.

13 Brethren, I count not my selfe as yet that I haue atteined: but this one thing I say, I forget those things which are behinde, and endeuour my selfe vnto those things which are before.

14 And I presse towarde the marke, for the price of the high calling of God in Christ Iesus.

15 Let vs therefore, as many as be perfect, be thus minded: and if ye be otherwise minded, God shall reueale the same also vnto you.

2 I pray Euodias, and beseech Synteches, that they be of one accord in the Lord.

5 Let your patient mind be known vnto all men. The Lord is at hand.

6 Be carefull for nothing: but in all things let your petition be manifest vnto God, in prayer and supplication, with giuing of thankes.

7 And the peace of God which passeth all vnderstanding, shall [b] keepe your hearts and minds through Christ Iesus.

8 Furthermore, brethren, whatsoeuer things are true, whatsoeuer things are honest, whatsoeuer things are iust, whatsoeuer things are pure, whatsoeuer things pertaine to loue, whatsoeuer things are of honest report: if there be any vertue, and if there be ‖ any praise, thinke on these things:

9 Which ye haue both learned, and receiued, and heard, and seene in me, those things do: and the God of peace shall be with you.

10 But I reioyce in the Lord greatly, that now at the last ye are reuiued againe to care for me, in that wherein ye were also carefull, but ye lacked opportunitie.

11 I speake not because of [c] necessitie: for I haue learned, in whatsoeuer estate I am, therewith to be content.

12 I know how to be low, and I know how to exceede: euery where and in all things I am instructed both to be full, and to be hungry, both to haue plentie, and to suffer neede.

among the Gentiles, which is Christ in you, the hope of glory:
28 Whom we preach, warning euery man and teaching euery man in all wisedome that we may present euery man perfect in Christ Iesus.
29 Whereunto I also labour, striuing according to his working which worketh in mee mightily.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Hauing protested his good will toward them, 4 he admonisheth them not to turne backe from Christ.

FOr I would that yee knew what great fight I haue for you, and for them that are at Laodicea, and for as many as haue not seene my face in the flesh:
2 That their hearts might be comforted, being knit together in loue, and in all riches of certaintie of vnderstanding, to know the mysterie of God, and of the Father, and of Christ:
3 In whom are hid all the treasures of wisdome and knowledge.
4 This I say, lest any man should beguile you with perswasion of words.
1.Cor.5.3. 5 *For though I be absent in the flesh, yet am I with you in the spirit, ioying and beholding your order, and your stedfast faith in Christ.
6 As ye haue therefore receiued Christ Iesus the Lord, so walke ye in him:
1.Cor.1.5. 7 Rooted and built in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye haue bene taught, *abounding therein with thanksgiuing.
8 Beware lest any man spoyle you through [a] philosophie and vaine deceite, after the tradition of men, and after the rudiments of the world, and not after Christ:
9 For in him dwelleth all the fulnesse of the Godhead bodily:
10 And ye are complete in him, which is the head of all principalitie and power.
11 In whom also ye are *circumcised with circumcision made without hands, by putting off the bodie of the flesh subiect to sinne, by the circumcision of Christ:
Rom.2.29. Ephe.1.19. 12 *Buried with him in baptisme, in whom ye are also risen againe through the faith [b] of the operation of God, who hath raised him from the dead.
13 And ye being dead in your sinnes, and the vncircumcision of your flesh, hath hee quickened with him, hauing forgiuen all your trespasses,
14 And when he had blotted out the hand writing of ordinances that was against vs, and that was contrary to vs, euen that hath he taken out of the way, hauing fastened it to his crosse:
15 And hauing spoyled all principalities and powers, hath made a shew of them openly, triumphing ouer them in himselfe.
16 Let no man therefore iudge you in meate or in drinke, or in part of an holy day, or of the new Moone, or of the Sabboth dayes:
17 Which are shadowes of things to come, but the body is of Christ.
18 Let no man beguile you of [c] victorie, in the humblenesse and worshipping of angels, intruding himselfe into those things which hee hath not seene, causelesse puft vp with his fleshly mind:
19 And holdeth not the head, whereof all the body by ioyntes and bandes, hauing nourishment ministred, and knit together, increaseth with the increase of God.
20 Wherefore if ye be dead with Christ from the rudiments of the world: why, as though liuing in the world, are ye led with traditions, 21 Touch not, taste not, handle not?
22 Which all ‖ be in corruption, in abusing after the commaundements and doctrines of men:
23 Which things haue a shew of wisedome in voluntarie religion and humblenesse of minde, and in not sparing of the bodie, not in any honor ‖ to the satisfying of the flesh.

‖Or, do perish in abusing, Erasmus.

The iij. Chapter.

1 He sheweth where we should seeke Christ. 5 He exhorteth to mortification, 10 to put off the old man, and to put on Christ.

IF yee then be risen with Christ, seeke those things which are aboue, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God:
2 Set your affection on [a] things aboue, not on things on the earth.
3 For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God.
4 Whensoeuer Christ which is our life shall appeare, then shall ye also appeare with him in glory.
5 Mortifie therefore your members which are vpon the earth: *fornication, vncleannesse, inordinate affection, euill concupiscence, and couetousnesse, which is worshipping of images:
6 For which things sake, the wrath of God commeth on the children of disobedience,
7 In the which ye also walked sometime, when ye liued in them.
8 *But now put ye off also all wrath, fiercenesse, maliciousnesse, blasphemie, filthy communication out of your mouth.
9 Lie not one to another, seeing that ye haue put off the old man with his workes:
10 And haue put on the new man, which is renued into knowledge, after the image of him that made him,
11 Where is neither Greeke nor Iew, circumcision nor vncircumcision: Barbarian, Scythian, bond, free: but Christ is all, and in all.
12 *Put on therefore (as the elect of God, [b] holy and beloued) bowels of mercie, kindnesse, humblenesse of mind, meeknesse, long suffering,
13 Forbearing one another, and forgiuing one another, if any man haue a quarell against any: euen as Christ forgaue you, so also doe ye.
14 And aboue all things put on charity, which is the bond of perfectnesse.
15 And let the peace of God haue the victorie in your hearts, to the which also wee are called in one bodie: and see that yee be thankefull.
16 Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisedome, teaching and admonishing your owne selues, in Psalmes, and Hymnes, and spirituall songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord.
17 *And whatsoeuer ye doe in word or deede, doe all in the name of the Lord Iesus, giuing thankes to God and the father by him.
18 *Wiues, submit your selues vnto your owne husbands, as it is comely in the Lord.

The firſt Epiſtle of Saint Paul the Apoſtle to the Theſſalonians.

The firſt Chapter.

2 He thanketh God for them, that they are ſo ſtedfaſt in faith and good workes.

Paul and Siluanus, and Timotheus, vnto the Church of the Theſſalonians which is in a God the father, and in the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, Grace be vnto you, and peace from God our father, and the Lord Jeſus Chriſt.
a For there is no Church which is not ioyned together in God.
2.Theſ.1.3. 2 *We giue thankes to God alwayes for all you, making mention of you in our prayers
3 Without ceaſing, calling to remembrance the worke of your faith, and labour of loue, and patient abiding in the hope of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, in the ſight of God and our father,
4 Knowing, brethren beloued, your election of God.
5 For our Goſpel came not vnto you in worde onely, but alſo in power, and in the holy Ghoſt, and in much certaintie, as ye know after what manner wee were among you for your ſake.
6 And ye became followers of vs, and of the Lord, hauing receiued the word in much affliction, with b ioy of the holy Ghoſt:
7 So that ye were an enſample to all that beleeue in Macedonia and Achaia.
b To beleeue, and to be fully perſwaded to haue the gifts of the holy Ghoſt, & ioyfully to ſuffer for Chriſts ſake, are moſt certaine ſignes of our election.
8 For from you ſounded out the worde of the Lord, not onely in Macedonia and Achaia, but alſo in euery place your faith to God ward is ſpread abroad, ſo that we needs not to ſpeake any thing.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Hee commendeth his diligence in preaching, 13 and theirs in obeying.

FOr ye your ſelues, brethren, know our entrance in vnto you, that it was not in [a] vaine.

2 *But euen after that we had ſuffered before, and were ſhamefully entreated as ye know at Philippos, we were bold in our God, to ſpeake vnto you the Goſpel of God, in much ſtriuing.

3 For our exhortation was not of deceit, neither of vncleannesse, neither in guile:

4 But as we were allowed of God to be put in credit with the Goſpel, euen ſo we ſpeake, not as pleaſing men, but God, which tryeth our hearts.

5 For neither at any time vſed we flattering words, as ye knowe, neither cloke of couetouſneſſe, God is record,

6 Neither ſought we prayſe of men, neither of you, nor yet of others:

7 When wee might haue beene in ‖ authoritie, as the Apoſtles of Chriſt, but were tender among you, euen as a [b] nurſe cheriſheth her children.

8 So, being tenderly affected toward you, our good will was to haue dealt vnto you, not the Goſpel of God only, but alſo our own ſoules: becauſe ye were deare vnto vs.

9 For ye remember, brethren, our labour and trauaile: *for we labouring night and day, becauſe we would not be chargeable vnto any of you, preached vnto you the Goſpel of God.

10 Ye are witneſſes, and God alſo, how holily, and iuſtly, and vnblameably, we behaued our ſelues among [c] you that beleeue.

11 And ye know how that as a father his children, ſo haue we exhorted, comforted, and beſought euery one of you,

12 That yee would walke worthie of God, *who hath called you vnto his kingdome and glorie.

13 For this cauſe thanke we God alſo without ceaſing, becauſe when yee had receiued the word of God which ye heard of vs, ye receiued it not as the word of men, but (as it is indeede) the word of God, which effectuouſly worketh alſo in you that beleeue.

14 For ye, brethren, became followers of the Churches of God, which in Jurie are in Chriſt Jeſus: for ye alſo haue ſuffered like thinges of your countreymen, as they haue of the Jewes:

15 Who both killed the Lorde Jeſus, and their owne prophets, and haue perſecuted vs: and God they pleaſe not, and are contrarie to [d] all men:

16 And hinder vs to ſpeake to the Gentiles, that they might be ſaued, to fulfill their ſinnes alway. For the wrath of God is come on them to the vttermoſt.

17 Foraſmuch, brethren, as we are kept from you for a ſhort ſeaſon, in perſon, not in heart, *we enforced the more to ſee you perſonally with great deſire.

18 And therefore we would haue come vnto you (euen I Paul) once and againe: but Satan hindered vs.

19 For what is our hope, or ioy, or crowne of reioycing? Are [e] not ye it in the preſence of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt at his comming?

20 Yea, ye are our glory and ioy.

The iij. Chapter.

2 He ſheweth how greatly he was affectioned toward them, both in that he ſent Timotheus to them, 10 and alſo prayed for them.

WHerefore, ſince we could no longer forbeare, we thought it good to remaine at Athens alone:

2 *And ſent Timotheus our brother and miniſter of God, and fellow labourer in the Goſpel of Chriſt, to ſtabliſh you, concerning your faith:

3 That no man ſhould be mooued in theſe afflictions: for ye your ſelues know that we are appointed thereunto.

4 For verely when we were with you, we told you before, that wee ſhould ſuffer tribulation: euen as it came to paſſe, and as ye know.

5 For this cauſe when I [a] could no longer forbeare, I ſent him to know your faith, leſt by ſome meanes the tempter had tempted you, and our labour had bene vaine.

6 But now lately when Timotheus came from you vnto vs, and brought vs good tidings of your faith and charitie, and how that ye haue good remembrance of vs alwayes, deſiring greatly to ſee vs, as we alſo to ſee you:

7 Therefore, brethren, we were comforted ouer you in all our aduerſitie and neceſſitie, becauſe of your faith:

8 For now we [b] liue, if yee ſtand faſt in the Lord.

9 For what thankes can we recompence to God againe for you, for all the ioy wherewith we ioy for your ſakes before our God,

10 *Praying night and day exceedingly to ſee you perſonally, and repaire the wantings of your faith?

11 Now God himſelfe, and our father, and our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, guide our way vnto you.

12 And the Lord increaſe you, and make you abound in charitie one toward another, and toward all men, euen as we alſo toward you:

The iiij. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth them to holineſſe, 6 and innocencie, 9 loue, 11 labour, 13 and moderation in lamenting for the dead.

FUrthermore wee beſeech you, brethren, and exhort you by the Lord Jeſus, that ye increaſe more and more, as ye haue receiued of vs, how ye ought to walke and to pleaſe God.

The first Epistle vnto the Thessalonians, written from Athens.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Llll2r

The second Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Thessalonians.

The first Chapter.

3 He thanketh God for their faith, loue, and patience. 11 He praieth for the increase of the same, 12 and sheweth what fruit shall come thereof.

PAul and Siluanus, and Timotheus, vnto the Church of the Thessalonians, in God our father, and the Lord Jesus Christ:

2 Grace vnto you, & peace from God our father, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

1. Thes. 1.2. 3 *We are bound to thanke God alwayes for you, brethren, as it is meete, because that your faith groweth exceedingly, & the charitie of euery one of you towards another aboundeth:

a Which proceedeth of your faith, as a most notable fruit.

4 So that we our selues reioyce in you in the Churches of God, for your [a] patience & faith in all your persecutions and tribulations that ye suffer.

b The faithful by their afflictions, are as in a cleare glasse, made of Gods iust iudgment, when as they shall reigne with Christ which haue suffered with him: and the wicked shall feele his extreme wrath and vengeance.

5 Which is a [b] token of the righteous iudgement of God, that ye may be counted worthy of the kingdome of God, for which ye also suffer.

6 For it is a righteous thing with God, to recompence tribulation to them that trouble you:

7 And to you which are troubled, rest with vs, in the reuelation of the Lord Jesus frō heauen, with the angels of his power,

8 In flaming fire, rendring vengeance vnto them that know not God, and that obey not the Gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ,

9 Which shall be punished with euerlasting damnation from the presence of the Lord, and from the glorie of his power:

10 When he shall come to be glorified in his saints, and to be made marueilous in all them that beleeue (because our testimony toward you was beleeued) in that day.

11 Wherefore also we pray alwayes for you, that our God would make you worthy of the calling, and fulfill all good pleasure of goodnesse in the [c] worke of faith in power:

c Faith is Gods wonderful worke in vs.

12 That the name of our Lord Jesus Christ may be glorified in you, & ye in him, according to the grace of our God, and the Lord Jesus Christ.

The ij. Chapter.

3 He sheweth them that the day of the Lord shal not come, till the departing from the faith come first, 9 and the kingdome of Antichrist, 15 and therefore he exhorteth them not to be deceiued, but to stand stedfast in the things that he hath taught them.

WE beseech you brethren, by the comming of our Lord Jesus Christ, and by our assembling vnto him,

2 That ye be not suddenly moued from your mind, nor be troubled, neither by [a] spirit, nor by word, nor yet by letter, as from vs, as though the day of Christ were at hand.

a As false reuelations or opinions.

3 *Let no man deceiue you by any meanes, for the Lord shal not come, except there come a falling away first, and that that man of sinne be reuealed, the sonne of [b] perdition. Ephes. 5.6.

b Who as he destroyeth other, shall be destroyed himselfe.

4 Which is an aduersarie, & is exalted aboue all that is called God, or that is worshipped: so that hee as God sitteth in the temple of God, shewing himselfe that he is God.

5 Remember ye not, that when I was yet with you, I told you these things?

6 And now you knowe what withholdeth, that he might be reuealed in his time.

7 For the mysterie of iniquitie doth alreadie worke, onely he which now letteth will let, vntil he be taken out of the way.

8 And then shall that wicked bee reuealed *whom the Lord shall consume with the spirit of his mouth, and shall destroy with the brightnesse of his comming. Esai. 11.4.

9 Euen him whose cōming is after the working of Satan, in all power and signes, and wonders of lying,

10 And in all deceiueablenesse of vnrighteousnesse, in them that perish: because they receiued not the loue of the truth, that they might be saued.

11 And therefore God shall send them strong delusion, that they should beleeue lies:

12 That all they may be damned which beleeued not the truth, but had pleasure in vnrighteousnesse.

13 But we are bound to giue thankes alway to God for you, brethren, beloued of the Lord, because that God hath from the beginning chosen you to saluation, in sanctifying of the spirit, and in faith of the trueth.

14 Whereunto he called you by our Gospel, to the obteining of the glorie of the Lord Jesus Christ.

15 Therefore, brethren, stand fast, & hold the ordinances which ye haue bene taught, whether it were by our preaching, or by our Epistle.

16 Our Lord Jesus Christ, and God our father which hath loued vs, and hath giuen vs euerlasting consolation, and good hope in grace, 17 Comfort your hearts, and stablish you in all good saying and doing.

The iij. Chapter.

He desireth them to pray for him, that the Gospel may prosper.

FVrthermore, brethren, *pray ye for vs, that the word of the Lord may haue free passage, and be glorified, euen as with you: Ephe. 6.19. colos. 4.3.

3 But the Lord is faithfull, which shall stablish you, and keepe you from euill.
4 And wee haue confidence in the Lorde to youward, that ye both do, and wil do the things which we command you.
5 And the Lord guid your hearts to the loue of God, and to the patient waiting for Christ.
6 We command you, brethren, in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that yee withdraw your selues from euery brother that walketh inordinately, and not after the [b] institution which he receiued of vs.
7 For ye your selues know *how ye ought to follow vs: *for we behaued not our selues inordinately among you,
8 *Neither tooke we bread of any man for nought: but wrought with labour and sweate night and day, because we would not be chargeable to any of you.
9 Not because we haue not authoritie, but to make our selues an ensample vnto you to follow vs.
10 For when we were with you, this wee warned you of, that if any would not worke, the same should not eate.
11 For we heare that there are some which walke among you inordinately, working not at all, but be busiebodies.
12 Them that are such, we command, and exhort by our Lord Jesus Christ, that they working in quietnesse, eate their owne bread.
13 And ye, *brethren, be not wearie in well doing.
14 If any man obey not our doctrine, signifie him by an Epistle, *and haue no company with him, that he may be ashamed.
15 Yet count him not as an [c] enemie, but warne him as a brother.
16 Now the very Lord of peace, giue you peace alwaies, by all meanes. The Lord be with you all.

c The end of excommunication is, not to driue from the Church such as haue fallen, but to winne them to the Church by amendment.

The first Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle vnto Timothie.

The first Chapter.

He exhorteth Timothy to waite vpon his office, namely, to see that nothing be taught but Gods word.

PAVL the Apostle of Jesus Christ, by the commission of God our sauiour, and Lord Jesus Christ, which is our hope,
2 Vnto *Timothie a naturall [a] sonne in the faith: Grace, mercie, & peace from God our father, and Jesus Christ our Lord.
3 As I besought thee to abide still at Ephesus, when I departed into Macedonia, so doe, that thou command some that they teach no other doctrine:
4 Neither giue heede to fables, and endlesse genealogies, which breede questions, more then godly edifying, which is in faith.
5 But the [b] ende of the commandement, is charitie out of a pure heart, and of a good conscience, and of faith vnfained.
6 From the which things, some hauing erred, haue turned vnto vaine iangling:
7 Coueting to be doctours of the lawe, not vnderstanding what they speake, neither whereof they affirme.
8 But we know that the law is good, if a man vse it lawfully:
9 Knowing this, that the law is not giuen vnto a righteous man, but vnto the lawlesse and disobedient, to the vngodly, and to sinners, to vnholy, and vncleane, to murderers of fathers, and murtherers of mothers, to manslayers,
10 To whoremongers, to them that defile themselues with mankinde, to manstealers, to liars, to periured, and if there be any other thing that is contrary to wholesome doctrine:
11 According to the Gospel of the glory of the blessed God, which is committed vnto me.
12 And I thanke Christ Jesus our Lorde, which hath made me strong: for he counted me faithfull, putting me into the ministerie,
13 Who was before a blasphemer, and an oppressour: but yet I obteined mercie, because I did it [c] ignorantly, in vnbeliefe.
14 Neuertheless, the grace of our Lord was exceeding abundant, with faith, and loue, which is in Christ Jesus.
15 This is a faithfull saying, and by all meanes worthy to be receiued, *that Christ Jesus came into the worlde to saue sinners, of whom I am chiefe.
16 Notwithstanding, for this cause was mercie shewed vnto mee, that in me the first Jesus Christ might shew all long suffering, to the example of them which should beleeue on him to life euerlasting.
17 [d] Now vnto the king euerlasting, incorruptible, inuisible, vnto God onely wise, be honour and glory for euer and euer, Amen.
18 This comandement commit I vnto thee sonne Timotheus, according to the prophecies which went before vpon thee, that thou in them mightest fight a good fight:
19 Hauing faith and good conscience, which some hauing put away, as concerning faith, haue made shipwracke.

Act 16.2.
a So called because he followed the simplicitie of the Gospel.
b Because these questionists preferred their curious fables to all other knowledge, & beautified the with the law of God: S. Paul sheweth that the end of Gods law is loue, which cannot be without a good conscience, neither a good conscience without faith, nor faith without the word of God: For their doctrine, which is an occasion of contention, is worth nothing.
c Not knowing that I fought against God.

1.Cor.5.5. c Excommunicate, or cast out of the Church.

The ij. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth to pray for all men, 4 wherefore, 8 and how. 9 As touching the apparell and modestie of women.

I Exhort you therefore, that first of all, prayers, supplications, intercessions, and giuing of thankes bee made for all men:

2 For kings, and for all that are in authoritie, that we may leade a quiet & peaceable life, in all godlinesse and honestie.

3 For that is good and acceptable in the sight of God our Sauiour,

4 Who will haue all men to be saued, and to come vnto the knowledge of the trueth.

5 For there is one God, and one mediatour of God and men, the man Christ Iesus:

a He sheweth that there can be no mediatour, except he be also the redeemer.

6 Who gaue himselfe a a ransome for all, a testimonie in due times:

2.Tim.1.11 7 *Whereunto I am ordeined a preacher and an Apostle (I tell the trueth in Christ, and lie not) a teacher of the Gentiles in faith, and verity.

8 I will therefore that the men pray euery where, lifting vp holy hands without wrath and reasoning.

2.Pet.3.1. 9 *Likewise also the women, that they aray themselues in comely apparell, with shamefastnesse and discreete behauiour, not in brayded haire, either golde, or pearles, or costly aray:

10 But (that becommeth women professing godlinesse) through good workes.

1.Cor.14. 34. 11 *Let the women learne in silence with all subiection.

12 But I suffer not a woman to teach, neither to vsurpe authoritie ouer the man, but to be in silence.

Gen.1.27. 13 *For Adam was first formed, then Eue.

Gen.3.6. 14 And Adam was not deceiued, *but the woman being deceiued, was b in the transgression.

b That is, guilty of the transgression.

15 Notwithstanding, through bearing of children she shall be saued, if they continue in faith, and charitie, and holinesse, with modestie.

The iij. Chapter.

2 He declareth what is the office of Ministers, 11 and as touching their families. 15 The dignitie of the Church, 16 and principall point of the heauenly doctrine.

THis is a faithfull saying: If a man desire the office of a Bishop, he desireth a good worke.

Tit.1.6. 2 *A Bishop therefore must be blameles, the husband of one wife, watching, sober, comely apparelled, a louer of hospitalitie, apt to teach,

3 Not giuen to ouermuch wine, no striker, not greedie of filthy lucre: but gentle, abhorring fighting, abhorring couetousnesse:

4 One that ruleth well his owne house, hauing children in subiection with all gravity,

5 (For if a man know not to rule his owne house, how shall he care for the Church of God?)

6 Not a yong scholler, least he, being puffed vp, a fall into the condemnation of the deuil.

a Least being proud of his degree, he be likewise condemned as the deuill was for lifting vp himselfe by pride.

7 He must also haue a good report of them which are without, lest he fall into the rebuke and snare of the deuill.

8 Likewise must the ‖ ministers bee graue, not double tongued, not giuen to much wine, neither greedy of filthy lucre:

‖Or, deacons.

9 b Holding the mysterie of the faith in a pure conscience.

b Hauing the true doctrine of the Gospel, and the feare of God.

10 And let them first be proued, then let them minister, being blameles.

11 Euen so must their wiues be graue, not euill speakers, sober, faithfull in all things.

12 Let the deacons bee the husbands of one wife, and such as can rule their children well, and their owne households.

13 For they that haue ministred wel, get them selues a good degree, and great libertie to speake in the faith which is in Christ Iesus.

14 These things write I vnto thee, hoping to come shortly vnto thee:

15 But if I tarie long, that thou mayst know howe thou oughtest to behaue thy selfe in the house of God, which is the Church of the liuing God, the pillar and ‖ ground of the trueth.

‖Or, stay.

16 And without doubt, great is that mystery of godlinesse: God was shewed manifestly in the flesh, was iustified in the spirit, was seen among the angels, was preached vnto the Gentiles, was beleeued on in the world, and was receiued vp in glorie.

The iiij. Chapter.

2 Hee teacheth him what doctrine he ought to flee, 6.8.11 and what to follow, 15 and wherein hee ought to exercise himselfe continually.

NOwe the spirit speaketh euidently, that *in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giuing heede vnto rites of error, and doctrines of deuils,

2.Tim.3.13 1.pet.2,3. iude 1,18.

2 Which speake false in hypocrisie, hauing their a conscience seared with an hote iron:

a These dull consciences first seared hard, then after, cenher and corrupted hyed therin: last of all, it was burnt off with an hote iron, so that be meaneth such as haue no conscience, Eph.4.

3 Forbidding to marrie, and commanding to abstaine from meates which God hath created to bee receiued with giuing thankes, of them which beleeue and know the trueth.

4 For euery creature of God is good, and nothing to be refused, if it be receiued with thanksgiuing.

5 For it is sanctified by the word of God, and prayer.

6 If thou put the brethren in remembrance of these things, thou shalt be a good minister of Iesus Christ, which hast bene nourished vp in the words of faith, and of good doctrine, which thou hast continually followed.

2.Tim.2.23 titus 3.9. 7 *But cast away prophane and olde wiues fables, and exercise thy selfe rather vnto godlinesse:

8 For bodily exercise profiteth little, but godlinesse is profitable vnto all things, hauing promises of the life that is now, and of that which is to come.

9 This is a sure saying, and by all meanes worthy to be receiued:

10 For therefore we both labour, and suffer rebuke, because wee haue hoped in the liuing God, which is the Sauiour of all men, specially of those that beleeue.

11 These things command and teach.

12 Let no man despise thy youth: but be thou a paterne of the beleeuers, in word, in conuersation, in charity, in spirit, in faith, in chastitie.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Llll3v

13 Till I come, giue attendance to reading, to exhortation, to doctrine.

14 Deſpiſe not the gift that is in thee, which was giuen thee [b] through prophecie, with the laying on of handes, by the authoritie of the eldership.

[b] A reuelation of the holy Ghoſt.

15 Haue a care of theſe things, and giue thy ſelfe vnto them, that it may be ſeene howe thou profiteſt in all things.

16 Take heede vnto thy ſelfe, and vnto doctrine, and continue therein: for in doing this, thou ſhalt both [c] ſaue thy ſelfe, and them that heare thee.

[c] Thou ſhalt faithfully doe thy duetie, which is an aſſurance of thy ſaluation.

The v. Chapter.

1 Hee teacheth him how he ſhall behaue himſelfe in rebuking all degrees. 3 An order concerning widowes.

REbuke not an Elder, but exhort him as a father, the yonger men as brethren:

2 The elder women as mothers, the yonger as ſiſters, in all chaſtitie.

3 Honour widowes, which are widowes in deede.

4 But if any widowe haue children or nephues, let them learne firſt to rule their owne houſes godly, and to recompenſe all their elders kinſfolkes: for that is good and acceptable before God.

5 And ſhe that is a widow [a] in deede, and left alone, hopeth in God, and continueth in ſupplications and prayers night and day.

[a] Which hath no maner of worldly meanes to help her ſelfe with.

6 But ſhe that liueth in pleaſure, is dead, being aliue.

7 And theſe things command, that they may be blameleſſe.

8 But if any prouide not for his owne, and ſpecially for them of his houſhold, he hath denied the faith, and is worſe then an infidel.

9 Let not a widow bee choſen vnder threeſcore yeres old, hauing bene the wife of one man,

10 And well reported of in good workes, if ſhe haue brought vp children, if ſhee haue lodged ſtrangers, if ſhe haue waſhed the ſaints feete, if ſhe haue ‖ miniſtred vnto them that were in aduerſitie, if ſhe haue bene continually giuen to euery good worke.

‖ Or, helpen them.

11 But the yonger widowes refuſe, for when they haue begun to wax wanton againſt Chriſt, they will marrie:

12 Hauing damnation, becauſe they haue caſt away their firſt faith.

13 They learne to wander about from houſe to houſe idle, yea not idle onely, but alſo tatlers and buſibodies, ſpeaking things that are not comely.

14 I will therefore that the yonger women doe marrie, to beare children, to guide the houſe, to giue none occaſion to the aduerſarie to ſpeake ſlanderouſly.

15 For certaine of them are already turned backe after Satan.

16 If any man or woman that beleeueth haue widowes, let them ſuſtaine them, and let not the Church be charged, that it may ſuſtaine them that are widowes in deed.

17 The Elders that rule well, let them bee counted worthy of double honour, moſt ſpecially they which labour in the word and teaching.

18 For the Scripture ſaith, *Thou ſhalt not muzzel the Oxe that treadeth out the corne: and, *The labourer is worthy of his reward. Deut. 25.4. Mat. 10.10.

19 Againſt an elder receiue none accuſation, but vnder two or three witneſſes.

20 Them that ſinne, rebuke before all, that other alſo may feare.

21 I teſtifie before God, and the Lorde Jeſus Chriſt, and the elect Angels, that thou obſerue theſe things without haſtineſſe of iudgement, and do nothing after partiality.

22 Lay hands ſuddenly on no man, neither be partaker of other mens ſinnes. Keepe thy ſelfe chaſte.

23 Drinke no longer water: but vſe a little wine for thy ſtomacks ſake, and thine often diſeaſes.

24 Some mens ſinnes are open before hand, hailing before vnto iudgement, and in ſome [b] they follow after.

[b] Theſe ſinnes follow, which for a time haue deceiued the godly, & after are detected, as Saul, Iudas and other hypocrites.

25 Likewiſe alſo good workes are manifeſt before hand, and they that are otherwiſe, cannot be hid.

The vj. Chapter.

1 The duetie of ſeruants toward their maſters. 3 Againſt ſuch as are not ſatisfied with the word of God.

LEt as many ſeruants as are vnder the yoke, count their maſters worthy of all honour, that the Name of God and his doctrine be not blaſphemed.

2 And they which haue beleeuing maſters, let them not deſpiſe them, becauſe they are brethren, but rather let them do ſeruice, for as much as they are beleeuing and beloued, and partakers of the [a] benefit: Theſe things teach and exhort.

[a] That is, the grace of God.

3 If any man teach otherwiſe, and conſenteth not vnto the wholeſome words of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, and to the doctrine which is according to godlineſſe:

4 He is puft vp, knowing nothing, but doting about * queſtions, and ſtrifes of words, whereof commeth enuy, ſtrife, railings, euil ſurmiſings, Chap. 1.4.

5 Vaine diſputations of men of corrupt mindes, deſtitute of the trueth, thinking lucre to be godlineſſe: From ſuch be thou ſeparate.

6 Godlineſſe is great lucre, if a man be content with that he hath.

7 *For we brought nothing into the world, and it is certaine that wee may cary nought away. Iob. 1.21.

8 But hauing foode and rayment, wee muſt therewith be content.

9 For they [b] that will be rich, fall into temptation and ſnares, and into many fooliſh and noiſome luſtes, which drowne men in perdition and deſtruction.

[b] That ſet their felicitie in riches.

10 For loue of money is the roote of all euill, which whyle ſome luſted after, they ‖ erred from the faith, and [c] pierced themſelues through with many ſorowes.

‖ Or, haue miſſed the marke concerning the faith.

[c] For they are quiet, neither in ſmile nor body.

11 But thou, O man of God, flee theſe things, and follow after righteouſneſſe, godlineſſe, faith, loue, patience, meekeneſſe.

a So that the paine must goe before the recompence.
6 The labouring husbandman a must first be partaker of the fruits.
7 Consider what I say: and the Lord giue thee vnderstanding in all things.
8 Remember that Iesus Christ, of the seede of Dauid, was raised from the dead, according to my Gospel:
9 Wherein I suffer trouble as an euill doer, euen vnto bondes: but the word of God is not bound.
10 Therefore I suffer all things for the elects sakes, that they might also obtaine the saluation which is in Christ Iesus, with eternall glorie.
Rom.6.5. 11 It is a faithfull saying: * for if we be dead with him, we shall also liue with him.

15 Studie to shew thy selfe approued vnto God, a workeman not to be ashamed, rightly diuiding the word of trueth.
16 But prophane voyces of vanitie passe ouer: for they will increase vnto greater vngodlinesse.

20 But in a great house are not onely vessels of golde, and of siluer, but also of wood and of earth: some to honour, and some to dishonour.
21 If a man therefore purge himselfe from these, he shall be a vessel sanctified vnto honour, and meete for the vse of the Lord, and prepared vnto euery good worke.

1.Cor.1.2. 1.Tim.1.4. 23 * But foolish and vnlearned questions put from thee, knowing that they doe but gender strife.
24 And the seruant of the Lorde must not striue: but be gentle vnto all men, apt to teach, suffering euill, a He meaneth not this of the Apostates or heretikes, whom he willeth to flee: but of them onely which as yet are not come to the knowledge of the trueth, and fall through ignorance. 25 In meekenesse instructing them, which are c contrary minded, if God at any time will giue them repentance, to the knowledge of the trueth:

4 Traitours, headie, high minded, louers of pleasures more then louers of God:
5 Hauing a forme of godlinesse, but denying the power thereof: Turne away from these.
6 These are they which enter into houses, and leade captiue simple women laden with sin, caried with diuers lusts:
7 Euer learning, and neuer able to come vnto the knowledge of the truth:
Exod.7.11. 8 * For as Iannes and Iambres withstood Moses, so doe these also resist the truth: Men of a corrupt minds, reprobate concerning the faith:
a Which can iudge nothing aright. 9 But they shal preuaile no longer. For their madnesse shall be manifest vnto all men as also theirs was.
10 But thou hast followed my doctrine, fashion of liuing, b purpose, faith, long suffering, charitie, patience, b Not onely what I taught and did, but also what my will and mind was. 11 Persecutions, afflictions, which came vnto me at Antioch, at Iconium, at Lystra, which persecutions I suffered patiently: & from them all the Lord deliuered me, 12 Yea, and all that will liue godly, in Christ Iesus, shall suffer persecution.
13 But the euill men, and deceiuers, shall waxe worse and worse, deceiuing, and being deceiued.
|| Or, wherein also thou hast bene confirmed and perswaded, 14 But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned, || which also were committed vnto thee, knowing of whom thou hast learned them.
15 And that from an infant thou hast known the Scriptures, which are able to make thee wise vnto saluation, through faith which is in Christ Iesus.
2.Pet.1.20. 16 * All scripture is giuen by inspiration of God, and is profitable to doctrine, to reproue, to correction, to instruction which is in righteousnesse, c Which is content to be gouerned by Gods word. 17 That the c man of God may be perfect, instructed vnto all good workes.

The iiij. Chapter.

He exhorteth Timotheus to be feruent in the word, and to suffer aduersitie.

TEstifie therefore before God, and the Lord Iesus Christ which shall iudge the quicke & the dead at his appearing, and in his kingdome:
a Leaue none occasion to preach, and to profit. 2 Preach the word, be a instant in season, out of season, improoue, rebuke, exhort in all long suffering and doctrine.
3 For the time will come, when they shall not suffer wholsome doctrine: but after their owne lusts, shall they whose eares itch, get them an heape of teachers:
4 And shall turne away their hearing from the trueth, and shall be turned vnto fables.

The Epistle of Saint Paul vnto Titus.

The first Chapter.

1 He aduertiseth Titus touching the gouernment of the Church. 7 The ordinance & office of ministers. 12 The nature of the Cretians, and of them which sow abroad Iewish fables, and inuentions of men.

PAul a seruant of God, and an Apostle of Jesus Christ according to the [a]faith of Gods elect, and the knowledge of the truth, which is after godlinesse:
2 In the hope of eternall life, which God that cannot lie, *promised before the world began:
3 But hath made manifest his word at the time appointed through preaching, which is committed vnto mee according vnto the ordinance of God our Sauiour:
4 To Titus a naturall [b]sonne after the common faith, Grace, mercie, and peace from God the father, and the Lorde Jesus Christ our Sauiour.
5 For this cause left I thee in Creta that thou shouldest reforme the things that are left, and ordaine elders in euery citie, as I had appointed thee.
6 *If any be blamelesse, the husband of one wife, hauing faithfull children, not accusable of ryot, or vntractable.
7 For a Bishop must bee blamelesse, as the steward of God: not stubborne, not angrie, not giuen to wine, no striker, not giuen to filthie lucre.
8 But a louer of hospitality, a louer of goodnesse, sober, righteous, godly, temperate:
9 Holding fast the faithfull worde which is according to doctrine, that hee may be able both to exhort in wholesome doctrine, & to improoue them that say against it.
10 For there are many vnruly and vaine talkers, and deceiuers of mindes, specially they that are of the [c]circumcision:
11 Whose mouthes must bee stopped, which subuert whole houses, teaching things which they ought not, for filthie lucres sake.
12 One of themselues, euen a Prophet of their owne, sayd, The Cretians are alway lyars, euill beasts, slow bellies.
13 This witnesse is true: wherefore rebuke them sharply, that they may be sound in the faith,
14 *Not taking heed to Iewes fables, & commandements of men, turning from the trueth.
15 *Vnto the pure are all things pure: but vnto them that are defiled and vnbeleeuing, is nothing pure, but euen the mind and conscience of them is defiled.
16 They confesse that they know God: but with workes they denie him, seeing they are abominable, and disobedient, and vnto euerie good worke reprobate.

a That is, to preach the faith, to increase their knowledge, to teach them to liue godly, that at length they may obtaine eternall life.
Rom.16.25
b For respect of faith, which was common to them both, for that hereby they are brethren: but in respect of the ministery, Paul begate him as his sonne in faith.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Hee commendeth vnto him the wholesome doctrine, and telleth him how he shall teach all degrees to behaue themselues, 11 through the benefite of the grace of Christ.

BVt speake thou the things which become [a]wholesome doctrine.
2 That the elder men be watching, graue, sober, sound in faith, in charitie, in patience:

3 The elder women likewise, that they be in such behauiour as becommeth holinesse, not false accusers, not giuen to much wine, teachers of good things:

4 That they may make the yong women sober minded, to loue their husbands, to loue their children, b Not running to and fro without necessary occasions, which is a signe of lightnesse.

5 To be discrete, chaste, b housekeepers, good, *obedient vnto their owne husbands, that the word of God be not blasphemed.

Ephe. 5.23.

6 Yong men likewise exhort, to bee sober minded:

7 In all things shewing thy selfe a patterne of good workes, in the doctrine, vncorruptnesse, grauitie, integritie,

8 Wholesome word, vnrebukeable, that he which withstandeth, may bee ashamed, hauing no euill thing to say of you.

Ephes. 6.3. 1.pet. 2,18. col.3,22.

9 *Exhort seruants to be obedient vnto their owne masters, and to please them in all things, not ‖ answering againe:

‖ Or, gainesaying.

10 Neither pickers, but shewing all good faithfulnesse, that they may adorne the doctrine of God our sauiour in all things.

1. Cor. 1.1. col.1.22.

11 *For there hath appeared the grace of God, which is c healthfull to all men, c Of what condition or state soeuer they be.

12 Teaching vs, that denying vngodlinesse, and worldly lustes, wee should liue soberly, and righteously, and godly in this present world:

13 Looking for that blessed hope and appearing of the glory of the great God, and our sauiour Iesus Christ,

14 Which gaue himselfe for vs, that he might redeeme vs from all vnrighteousnesse, & purge vs a peculiar people vnto himselfe, zealous of good workes.

15 These things speake and exhort, and rebuke with all authoritie: Let no man despise thee.

The iij. Chapter.

1 Of obedience to such as be in authoritie. 9 Hee warneth Titus to beware of foolish and vnprofitable questions, 12 concluding with certaine priuate matters, 15 and salutations.

Rom. 13,1.

2.Cor.6.11

3 *a For wee our selues also were sometime foolish, disobedient, deceiued, seruing diuers lustes and voluptuousnesse, liuing in maliciousnesse and enuie, full of hate, hating one another.

a For let vs consider what we our selues were when God shewed vs fauour.

2, Tim. 1.9.

4 But after that the kindnesse and loue of our sauiour God to manward appeared,

5 *Not of workes that be in righteousnesse which wee haue wrought, but according to his mercie hee saued vs, by the b fountaine of the regeneration and renewing of the holy Ghost, b Baptisme is a signe of our regeneration, which is wrought by the holy ghost.

6 Which he shed on vs richly through Iesus Christ our sauiour:

7 That wee iustified by his grace, should be made heires according to ỹ hope of eternall life.

8 This is a faithfull saying, and these things I will that thou affirme constantly, that they which haue beleeued in God, might bee carefull to maintaine good workes: These things are good and profitable vnto men.

1, Tim. 1.4. 2.tim, 2.23.

9 *But foolish questions, and genealogies, and contentions, and strifings about the lawe, auoid: for they are vnprofitable and vaine.

10 A man that is an heretike, after the first and second admonition auoid:

11 Knowing that hee that is such, is subuerted, and sinneth, being damned of himselfe.

12 When I shall send Artemas vnto thee, or Tychicus, be diligent to come vnto me vnto Nicopolis: for I haue determined there to winter.

13 Bring Zenas the lawyer, and Apollos on their iourney diligently, that nothing be lacking vnto them.

14 And let ours also learne to maintaine good workes to necessary vses, that they bee not vnfruitfull.

The Epistle of Saint Paul the Apostle to the Hebrewes.

The first Chapter.

1 He sheweth the excellencie of Christ, 4 aboue the Angels: 7 and of their office.

The Epistle on Christmas day.

GOd which in time past, at sundry times, and in diuers manners spake vnto the fathers in the Prophets,
2 Hath in these [a] last dayes spoken vnto vs in the sonne, whome hee hath appointed heire of all things, by whome also he made the worlds.
3 *Who beeing the brightnesse of the glory, and the very image of his substance, vpholding all things with the worde of his power, hauing by himselfe purged our sinnes, ‖ hath sit on the right hand of the maiestie on hie.
4 Beeing so much more excellent then the angels, as hee hath by inheritance obtained a more excellent name then they.
5 For vnto which of the angels sayd hee at any time, *Thou art my sonne, this [b] day haue I begotten thee?
6 And againe, I will be to him a father, and he shall be to me a sonne? And againe, when hee bringeth in the first begotten sonne into the world, he sayth, *And let all the angels of God worship him.
7 And vnto the angels he sayeth, *Hee maketh his angels [c] spirites, and his ministers a flame of fire:
8 But vnto the sonne he sayth, Thy seate, O God, shall be for euer and euer: the scepter of thy kingdome is a scepter of righteousnesse.
9 Thou hast loued righteousnesse, and hated iniquitie: therefore God, euen thy God, hath annoynted thee with the oyle of gladnesse aboue thy fellowes.
10 *And, Thou Lord, in the beginning hast layde the foundation of the earth, and the heauens are the workes of thy hands:
11 They shall perish, but thou endurest: and they all shall ware old as doth a garment,
12 And as a vesture shalt thou folde them vp, and they shalbe changed: but thou art the same, and thy yeeres shall not faile.
13 But vnto which of the angels sayd he at any time, *Sit on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footestoole?

8 Thou hast put all things in subiection vnder his feete. In that he put all things vnder him, hee left nothing that is not put vnder him. But nowe wee see not yet all things put vnder him.

Phil.1.8. 9 *But him that for a while was made lesse then the angels, wee see that it was Iesus, who through the suffering of death, was crowned with glory and honour, that he by the grace of God, should taste of death for all.

10 For it became him for whome are all things, and by whome are all things, after hee had brought many sonnes vnto glory, that hee should make the captaine of their saluation perfect through afflictions.

11 For both hee that sanctifieth, and they which are sanctified are all of one: for which cause, hee is not ashamed to call them brethren,

13 And againe, I will put my trust in him. And againe, Behold here am I, and the children which God hath giuen me.

d Not the nature of angels, but of men. 16 For hee in no place taketh on him the dangels: but the seede of Abraham taketh hee on him.

17 Wherefore in all things it became him to be made like vnto his brethren, that hee might be mercifull, and a faithfull high priest in things concerning God, for to purge the peoples sinnes.

18 For in that hee himselfe suffered, and was tempted, hee is able to succour them that are tempted.

The iij. Chapter.

1 He requireth them to be obedient vnto the worde of Christ, 3 who is more worthy then Moses.

a Take heede to his woords and heare him. WHerefore holy brethren, partakers of the celestiall calling, aconsider the Apostle and high Priest of our profession Christ Iesus,

Num. 12.7. 2 Being faithfull to him that appointed him, as also *Moses was faithfull in all his house.

3 For this man was counted worthy of more glory then Moses, in as much as he which hath builded the house, hath more honour then the house.

4 For euery house is builded of some man, but he that builded all things is God.

5 And Moses verely was faithfull in all his house, as a seruant, for a witnesse of those things which were to be spoken after:

6 But Christ as a sonne hath rule ouer his owne house: bwhose house are we, if wee holde fast the confidence and the reioycing of that hope vnto the end.

b For in obeying the sonne, we are made the house of God.

7 Wherefore, as the holy Ghost sayth, *To day if ye will heare his voice,

Psal.95.8. 8 Harden not your hearts, as in the prouocation, in the day of temptation in the wildernesse:

9 Where your fathers tempted me, prooued me, and saw my workes fourtie yeeres.

10 Wherefore I was grieued with this generation, and sayd, They doe alway erre in heart, they verely haue not knowen my wayes.

11 So that I sware in my wrath, c*If they shall enter into my rest.

c Here note the Hebrewe phrase, meaning that they shall not enter.

12 Take heed brethren, lest at any time there be in any of you an euill heart of vnbeliefe, to depart from the liuing God:

13 But exhort yee one another daily, while it is called to day: least any of you be hardened through the deceitfulnesse of sinne.

14 For wee are made partakers of Christ, if wee keepe sure vnto the ende dthe beginning of the substance.

d Which is by faith to embrace and holde fast the true doctrine of Iesus Christ.

15 ‖So long as it is sayd, *To day if yee will heare his voice, harden not your hearts, as in the prouocation.

‖ Or, while. Psal.95.8.

16 For some when they had heard, did prouoke: ‖howbeit, not all that came out of Egypt by Moses.

‖ the Lord.

17 But with whome was he displeased forty yeeres? Not with them that had sinned, whose carkeises fell in the desert?

18 And to whome sware hee that they should not enter into his rest, but vnto them that were not obedient?

19 And wee see that they could not enter in, because of vnbeliefe.

The iiij. Chapter.

2 The worde without faith is vnprofitable. 3 The Sabboth of rest of the Christians. 6 Punishment of vnbeleeuers, 12 The nature of the word of God.

LEt vs feare therefore, least at any time by forsaking the promise of entring into his rest, any of you should seeme to be defrauded.

2 For vnto vs was the Gospel preached, as well as vnto them: but the worde which they heard, did not profit them, not being coupled with faith to them that heard.

3 For wee which haue beleeued, doe enter into this rest, as hee sayde, *Euen as I haue sworne in my wrath, If they shal enter into my rest: although the workes were made perfect from the foundation of the world.

Psal.95.11. a Although that God by his rest after the creation o this worlde, & mystied the spirituall rest of the faithfull: yet he ment to giue rest in Chanaan, which was but a figure of the heauenly rest, and vsed that for a time.

would he not afterward haue spoken of another day.

9 There remaineth therefore yet a rest to the people of God.

10 For hee that is entred into his rest, hath ceassed also from his owne workes, as God did from his.

11 Let vs studie therefore to enter into that rest, lest any man fall ‖ after the same example of disobedience. ‖ Or, into,

12 For the word of God is quicke and mighty in operation, and sharper then any two edged sword, and entreth through euen vnto the diuiding asunder of the [c] soule and the [d] spirit, and of the ioynts, and the marow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and of the intents of the heart. c Where the affections are. d Which containeth will and reason.

13 Neither is there any creature that is not manifest in the sight of him: but all things are naked and open vnto the eyes of him of whom we speake.

14 Seeing then that wee haue a great high Priest, which is entred into heauens, Iesus the Sonne of God, let vs hold fast this confession.

15 For we haue not an high Priest which cannot bee touched with the feeling of our infirmities: but was in all points tempted like as wee are, and yet without sinne.

16 Let vs therefore come boldly vnto the throne of grace, that we may obteine mercy, and finde grace to helpe in the time of need.

The v. Chapter.

1 Hee compareth Iesus Christ with the Leuitical priests, shewing wherin they either agree, or dissent.

FOr euery high Priest taken from among men, is ordeined for men, in things perteining to God to offer [a] gifts, and sacrifices for sinne: a He sheweth that man can haue none accesse to God without an hie Priest, because that of himselfe he is prophane and sinfull.

2 Which can sufficiently haue compassion on the ignorant, and on them that erre out of the way, forasmuch as hee himselfe also is compassed with infirmitie.

3 And for the same infirmitie hee is bound to offer for sinnes, as well for himselfe, as for the people.

4 And no man taketh the honour vnto himself, but he that is called of God, *as was Aaron. 1.Chro.23.13.

5 Euen so Christ also glorified not himselfe to be made the high Priest: but hee that said vnto him, *Thou art my Sonne, to day haue I begotten thee, gaue it him. Psal.2.7.

6 As hee saith also in another place, *Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech. Psal.10.4.

7 Which in the dayes of his flesh, when hee had offered vp prayers and supplications, with [b] strong crying and teares vnto him that was able to saue him from death, and was heard in that which he [c] feared: b He meaneth the most earnest prayer which Christ prayed in the garden where he sweat drops of blood. c Being in perplexitie, and fearing the horrors of death.

8 Though he were the Sonne, yet learned he obedience, by these things which he suffered:

9 And being perfect, was made the author of eternall saluation vnto all them that obey him:

10 And is called of God an high Priest after the order of Melchisedech.

11 Of whom wee haue many things to say, and hard to be vttered, seeing yee are dull of hearing.

12 For when as cõcerning the time, ye ought to be teachers, yet haue ye need againe that wee teach you the first principles of the beginning of the word of God, and are become such as haue neede of milke, and not of strong meate.

13 For euery one that vseth milke, is vnexpert of the word of righteousnes, for he is a babe.

14 But strong meate belongeth to them that are perfect, euen those which by reason of vse, haue their wits exercised to discerne both good and euill.

The vj. Chapter.

1 He proceedeth in reprooving them, and exhorteth them not to faint, 12 but to be stedfast and patient, 18 for as much as God is sure in his promise.

THerefore leauing the doctrine of the beginning [a] of Christ, let vs goe forth vnto perfection, not laying againe the foundation of repentance from dead workes, and of faith toward God, a Whereby may appeare that you are fully perswaded of life euerlasting.

2 Of the doctrine of Baptismes, and of laying on of hands, and of resurrection of the dead, and of eternall Iudgement.

3 And this will we doe, if God permit.

4 *For it cãnot be that they which were once lightened, & haue tasted of the heauenly gift, and were become partakers of the holy Ghost, Mat.12.45. 2.pet.2.20.

5 And haue tasted of the good word of God, and the powers of the world to come:

6 And they fall away, should bee renued againe into repentance, crucifying to themselues the Sonne of God afresh, and making a mocke of him.

7 For the earth which hath drunken in the raine that commeth oft vpon it, and bringeth forth herbes, meete for them by whom also it is tilled, receiueth blessing of God:

8 But that ground which beareth thornes and briers, is reprooued, and is nigh vnto cursing, whose ende is to be burned.

9 Neuertheless, deare friends, wee are perswaded better things of you, and things which accompany saluation, though we thus speake.

10 For God is not vnrighteous, to forget your worke and labour of loue, which yee haue shewed toward his Name, hauing ministred to the Saints, and do minister.

11 Yea, and wee desire that euery one of you doe shew the same diligence, to the full assurance of hope vnto the ende,

12 That yee faint not, but bee followers of [b] them, which through faith and patience inherite the promises. b As the holy fathers, Prophets & Patriarchs that were before vs.

13 For when God made the promise to Abraham, because he could sweare by no greater, hee sware by himselfe,

14 Saying, *Surely, blessing, I will blesse thee, and multiplying, I will multiply thee. Gen.12.2.

15 And so after that hee had taried patiently, he obteined the promise.

16 For men verily sweare by the greater, and an othe of confirmation, is to them an ende of all strife.

17 Wherein God willing more [c] abundantly to shewe vnto the heires of promise the stablenesse of his counsell, confirmed by an othe: c Because of mans wickednes, which will not beleeue God, receiue he sware.

18 That by [d] two immutable things, in which it was impossible for God to lie, we might haue a strong consolation, which haue fledde to holde fast the hope layed before vs: d Gods word and othe, are two things in him vnchangeable.

19 Which hope wee holde as an anker of the soule both sure & stedfast, an entring in into that thing which is within the vaile:

20 Whither the forerunner is for vs entred, euen Iesus, after the order of Melchisedech made a Priest for euer.

The vij. Chapter.

He compareth the Priesthood of Christ vnto Melchisedech, 11 also Christs priesthood with the Leuites.

Gene. 14. 18.

FOr this *Melchisedech King of Salem, Priest of the most high God, who mette Abraham returning from the slaughter of the Kings, and blessed him,
2 To whom also Abraham gaue tithe of all things: first being called by interpretation King of righteousnesse: and after that also, King of Salem, which is, King of peace,
3 Without [a] father, without mother, without kinne, hauing neither beginning of dayes, neither ende of life, but likened vnto the Sonne of God, continueth a Priest for euer.
4 Nowe consider howe great this man was vnto whom also the Patriarch Abraham *gaue tithe of the spoyles.
5 And verely they which are of the children of Leui, which receiue the office of the Priesthood, haue a commandement to take tithe of the people, according to the Lawe, that is, of their brethren, though they came out of the loynes of Abraham.
6 But hee whose kinred is not counted among them, receiued tithe of Abraham, and blessed him that had the promises.
7 And without all controuersie, the lesse is blessed of the better.
8 And here men that die, receiue tithes: but there hee receiued them of whom it is witnessed that he liueth.
9 And (to say the trueth) Leui also, which receiueth tithes, payed tithes in Abraham:
10 For he was yet in the loynes of his father, when Melchisedech met Abraham.
11 If therefore perfection was by the Priesthood of the Leuites, (for vnder that Priesthood the people receiued the Lawe) what needeth it furthermore that another Priest should rise after the order of Melchisedech, and not to bee called after the order of Aaron?
12 For if the Priesthood be translated, of necessitie also there is made a translation of the Law.
13 For hee of whom these things are spoken, perteineth vnto another tribe, of which no man gaue attendance at the Altar.
14 For it is euident that our Lord sprung out of Juda, of which tribe spake Moses nothing concerning Priesthood:
15 And it is yet a farre more euident thing, if after the similitude of Melchisedech there arise another Priest,
16 Which is not made after the Lawe of the carnall Commandement, but after the power of the endlesse life.
Psal. 110. 4. hebr. 5. 6.
17 For hee thus testifieth, *Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech.
18 For there is truely a disanulling of the commandement going before, for the weaknesse and vnprofitablenesse thereof.
19 For the Lawe made nothing perfect, but was the bringing of a better hope, by the which we draw nigh vnto God.
20 And inasmuch as that was not without an othe, (for those Priests were made without an othe:
21 But this Priest with an othe, by him that said vnto him, *The Lord sware, and will not repent him, Thou art a Priest for euer, after the order of Melchisedech,) Psal. 110. 4.
22 By so much was Jesus made a suretie of a better testament.
23 And among them many were made priests, because they were forbidden by death to endure:
24 But this man, because he endureth euer, hath [b] an vnchangeable Priesthood.
25 Wherefore he is able also euer to saue them to the vttermost, that come vnto God by him, seeing he euer liueth, to make intercession for them.
26 For such an high Priest became vs, which is holy, harmelesse, vndefiled, separate from sinners, and made higher then heauens.
27 Which needeth not dayly, as those high Priestes, to offer vp sacrifice, *first for his owne sinnes, and then for the peoples: for that did hee once, when he offered vp himselfe. Leu. 16. 11.
28 For the Lawe maketh men high Priestes which haue infirmitie, but the word of the othe which was after the Lawe maketh the Sonne, which is perfect for euermore.

[a] So called, because that Moses maketh no mention of his parents or kinsfolkes, but as he had bene suddenly sent of God into the world, to be a figure of Christ our euerlasting Priest, & shortly taken out of the world again. So Christ as concerning his humanitie, had no father, and concerning his diuinitie no mother. Gene. 14. 20.

[b] Therefore all others are blasphemous, that either make themselues his successours, or pretend any other sacrifice.

The viij. Chapter.

6 Hee proueth the abolishing aswell of the Leuiticall Priesthood, as of the old couenant, by the spirituall and euerlasting Priesthood of Christ, 8 and by the new Couenant.

BUt of the things which we haue spoken, this is the summe: Wee haue such an high Priest, that sitteth on the right hande of the throne of the Maiestie in the heauens,
2 A minister of holy things, & of the true tabernacle, which the Lord pight, and not man.
3 For euery high Priest is ordeined to offer gifts and sacrifices: wherefore it is of necessitie, that this man haue somewhat also to offer.
4 For he were not a Priest, if he were on the earth, seeing that there are Priestes, that according to the Law offer gifts,
5 Who serue vnto the example and shadowe of heauenly things, as Moses was admonished of God, when he was about to finish the Tabernacle: *For see, saith hee, that thou make all things according to the paterne shewed to thee in the Mount. Exo. 25. 40. acts. 7. 44.
6 But nowe hath hee obteined a more excellent office, by howe much also hee is the mediatour of a better ‖ Couenant, which was confirmed in better promises. ‖Or, testament.
7 For if that first couenant had bene faultlesse, then should no place haue bene sought for the second.
8 For in rebuking them, he saith, *Behold, the dayes [a] come, saith the Lord, and I wil finish vpon the house of Israel, and vpon the house [b] of Iuda, a new Couenant: Iere. 31. 31.
9 Not like that, that I made with their fathers, in the day whe I tooke them by the hand, to leade them out of the lande of Egypt: because they continued not in my Couenant, and I regarded them not, saith the Lord.
10 For this is the Couenant that I will make with the house of Israel after those daies,

[a] That is, when Christ shall remit our sinnes by the preaching of the Gospel.
[b] Signifying that there should be no more diuision, but all shall be made one Church.

saith

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Mmmm2r

saith the Lord: giuing my Lawes into their minde, and in their heart I wil write them, and I will be to them a God, and they shall be to me a people.

c Men shall not in the time of the Gospel be ignorant as they were before: but shall know God much more perfectly then now Christ.

11 And they shall not c teach euery man his neighbour, and euery man his brother, saying, Know the Lord: for all shall know me, from the litle of them, to the great of them.

12 For I will be mercifull to their vnrighteousnesse, and their sinnes and their iniquities will I thinke vpon no more.

13 In that he saith a new Couenant, hee hath worne out the first: for that which is worne out and waxed old, is ready to vanish away.

The ix. Chapter.

1 How that the ceremonies and sacrifices of the Law are abolished, 11 by the eternitie and perfection of Christes sacrifice.

THE first Couenant then had verily ‖iustifying ordinances, seruings of God, and worldly holinesse.

‖Or, ceremonies of seruice. Exod.26.1.

2 *For there was a tabernacle made, the first truely wherein was the candlesticke, and the table, and the Shew bread, which is called holy.

a That is, on the inward side of the vaile which was hid from the people.

3 But after the a second vaile, was a tabernacle, which is called Holiest of all:

4 Which had the golden censer, and the arke of the Couenant ouerlayde round about with gold, wherein was the golden pot hauing Manna, and *Aarons rodde that had budded, and the *Tables of the Couenant:

Numb.17.10. 1.King.8.9. Exo.25.22.

5 *And ouer it the Cherubims of glory shadowing the Mercie seat: Of which things wee cannot now speake particularly.

6 When these things were thus ordeined, the Priestes went alwayes into the first Tabernacle, accomplishing the seruice of God.

7 But into the second went the high Priest alone, once euery yeere, not without blood, which hee offered for himselfe, and for the ignorances of the people,

b So long as the high Priest offered once a yeere for his owne sinnes and for the peoples, and also while this earthly tabernacle stood, the way to the heauenly Tabernacle, which is made open by Christs blood, could not be entred into.

8 The holy Ghost this signifying, that the b way of holy things, was not yet made manifest, while as yet the first tabernacle was standing:

9 Which was a similitude for the time then present, in which were offered gifts, and sacrifices, that could not make the worshipper perfect as perteining to the conscience,

10 With onely meates and drinkes, and diuers washings and iustifyings of the flesh, which were layde vp vntill the time of reformation.

The Epistle on the fift Sunday in Lent.

c The Leuitical Priests offered beastes blood: But Christ the true and eternall Priest, offered his owne blood, which was most holy and pure. The Leuitical priest offered yeerly, and therefore did onely represent the true holinesse: but Christ by one onely sacrifice hath made holy for euer them that beleeue.

‖Or, testament.

11 But Christ being come an high Priest of good things that should bee, by a greater and more perfect tabernacle, not made with hands, that is to say, not of this building, 12 Neither by the blood of goats, and calues: but by his owne blood he entred in once into the holy place, and found eternall redemption.

13 For if the c blood of oxen and of goats, and the ashes of a yong Cowe, sprinckling the vncleane, sanctifieth to the purifying of the flesh:

14 How much more the blood of Christ, which through the eternall Spirit offered himselfe without spot to God, shal purge your conscience from dead workes, to serue the liuing God?

15 And for this cause is hee the mediatour of the newe Couenant, that through death, which was for the redemption of the transgressions that were vnder the first ‖ Couenant, they which are called, might receiue the promise of eternall inheritance.

16 For whereas is a testament, there must also of necessitie bee the death of him that made the testament.

The Epistle on the wednesday before Easter.

17 For a testament is confirmed when men are dead: for it is yet of no value, as long as hee that made the testament is aliue.

18 For which cause also, neither the first testament was dedicated without blood.

19 For when Moses had spoken euery precept to all the people according to the Lawe, taking the blood of calues, and of goats, with water, and purple woll, and hyssope, hee sprinckled both the booke it selfe, and all the people, 20 Saying, *This is the blood of the testament, which God hath enioyned vnto you.

Exo.24.8.

21 And likewise he sprinckled with blood both the tabernacle, & all the vessels of the ministerie.

22 And almost all things are by the Law purged with blood, and without shedding of blood is no remission.

23 It is neede then that the paternes of heauenly things bee purified with such things: but the heauenly things themselues be purified with better sacrifices then are those.

24 For Christ is not entred into the holy places made with hands, which are paternes of true things: but into heauen it selfe, now to appeare in the sight of God for vs.

25 Not that hee should offer himselfe d often, as the high Priest entreth into the holy places, euery yeere in strange blood, d Therefore to make any other offering or sacrifices for sinne, after that Christs body was once offered, is blasphemie.

26 (For then must he haue often suffered since the foundation of the world:) but now once in the ende of the world hath he appeared, to put away sinne, by the sacrifice of himselfe.

27 And as it is appointed vnto men once to die, and after this the Iudgement:

28 *Euen so Christ once offered to take away the sinnes of many, the second time shall be seene without sinne, of them which wait for him vnto saluation.

Rom.5.8. 1.pet.3.18.

The x. Chapter.

1 The old Law had no power to cleanse away sinne, 10 but Christ did it with offering of his body once for all.

FOr the Lawe hauing the a shadow of good things to come, and not the very fashion of the things themselues, can neuer with those sacrifices which they offer yeere by yeere continually, make the commers thereunto perfect.

The Epistle on good Friday.

a Which was as it were the first draught and portraict of the liuely patterne to come.

2 For would not then those sacrifices haue ceassed to haue bene offered, because that the offerers once purged, should haue had no more conscience of sinnes?

3 Neuertheless, in those sacrifices is mention made of sinnes euery yeere.

3 For it is not possible that the blood of buls and of goates, should take away sinnes.

5 Wherefore when he cōmeth into the world, he saith, *Sacrifice and offering thou wouldest not haue: but a body hast thou ordeined me.

Psal.40.7.

6 In burnt sacrifices and offerings for sinne thou hadst no pleasure.

7 Then said I, Loe, I come, (In the beginning of the booke it is written of mee) to doe thy will, O God.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Mmmm2v

8 Aboue when hee saith, that sacrifice, and offering, and burnt offerings, and offerings for sinne thou wouldest not, neither haddest pleasure therein (which are offered by the Lawe:)

9 Then said he, Loe, I come to doe thy will, O God: He taketh away the first, [b] to stablish the [c] second.

b That is, sacrifices. c Which is the will of God, to stand contrary with Christes sacrifice.

10 In the which will we are made holy, euen by the offering of the body of Iesus Christ once for all.

11 And euery Priest standeth dayly ministring, and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can neuer take away sinnes:

12 But this man, after hee hath offered one sacrifice for sinnes, is *set downe for euer on the right hand of God,

Heb.1.13.

1.Cor.15.25.

13 From henceforth tarying *till his foes be made his footestoole.

14 For with one offering hath hee made perfect for euer them that are sanctified.

15 And the holy Ghost also beareth vs record: For after that he had tolde before, Iere.31.33. ‖Or, testament.

16 *This is the ‖ Couenant that I will make vnto them after those dayes, (saith the Lord) giuing my Lawes in their heart, and in their mindes will I write them:

17 And their sinnes and iniquities will I in no wise remember any more.

18 And where remission of these things is, there is no more offering for sinne.

19 Hauing therefore, brethren, libertie to enter into holy places in the [d] blood of Iesus, d We by Christ haue that libertie which the ancient fathers could not haue by the Lawe.

20 By the newe and [e] liuing way, which hee hath prepared for vs through the vaile, that is to say, his flesh:

e The blood of Christ is alwayes fresh and liuely before the father, to ingender and quicken vs.

21 And seeing we haue an high Priest ouer the house of God:

22 Let vs draw nigh with a true heart, in assurance of faith, hauing our hearts sprinckled from an euill conscience, and washed in body with pure water.

23 Let vs holde the profession of the hope without wauering, (for hee is faithfull that promised:)

24 And let vs consider one another, to prouoke vnto loue and good workes,

25 Not forsaking the assembling of our selues together, as the maner of some is, but exhorting one another, and so much the more, as yee see the day approching.

Hebr.6.4.

26 *For if we sinne willingly, after that wee haue receiued the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sinnes:

27 But a fearefull looking for of iudgement, and violent fire, which shall deuoure the aduersaries.

28 He that despiseth Moses Law, dieth without mercie *vnder two or three witnesses:

Deut.19.15.matth.18.16.1.cor.13.1.

29 Of how much sorer punishment suppose ye shall he be worthy, which hath troden vnder foot the Sonne of God? and hath counted the blood of the Couenant, wherein he was sanctified, an vnholy thing, and hath done despite vnto the Spirit of grace?

Deut.32.35.rom.12.19.

30 For we know him that hath said, *Vengeance belongeth vnto me, I will render, saith the Lord: And againe, The Lord shall iudge his people.

31 It is a fearefull thing to fal into the hands of the liuing God.

32 Call to remembrance the former dayes, in the which after ye had receiued light, ye endured a great fight of aduersities:

33 Partly while yee were made a gasing stocke, both by reproches and afflictions, and partly while yee became companions of them which were so tossed to and fro.

34 For yee suffered also with my bondes, and tooke in worth the spoyling of your goods with gladnesse: knowing in your selues how that you haue in heauen a better and an enduring substance.

35 Cast not away therefore your confidence, which hath great recompense of reward.

36 For ye haue need of patience, that after ye haue done the will of God, yee might receiue the promise.

37 For yet a very little while, and he that shall come, will come, and wil not tary.

38 And *the iust shall liue by faith: And if he withdraw himselfe, my soule shall haue no pleasure in him.

Abac.2.4. rom.1.17. galat.3.11.

39 We are not of them which withdraw our selues vnto perdition: but wee pertaine vnto faith, to the winning of the soule.

The xj. Chapter.

What faith is, and a commendation of the same.

FAith is the ‖ground of things hoped for, the euidence of things not seene. ‖Or, representation.

2 For by it ‖the Elders [a] obteined a good report. ‖Or, our forefathers. a Whose bene approued, and so obtained saluation.

3 Through faith wee vnderstand that the *worlds were ordeined by the word of God, and that things which are seen, were made of things which were not seene. Gen.1.1.

4 By faith, Abel *offered vnto God a more excellent sacrifice then Cain, *by which he was witnessed to be [b] righteous, God testifying of his gifts: by which also he being dead, yet speaketh. Gen.4.24. Mat.23.35. b Because God receiued him to mercy, therefore he imputed him righteous.

5 By faith was *Enoch translated, that he should not see death: neither was hee found, for God had taken him away: For afore hee was taken away, hee was reported of to haue pleased God. Gen.5.24. eccl.44.14.

6 But without faith it is impossible to please him: for he that commeth to God, must beleeue that God is, and that hee is a rewarder of them that diligently seeke him.

7 *By faith, Noe being warned of God of things not seene as yet, moued with reuerence, prepared the Arke, to the sauing of his house, through the which Arke he condemned the world, and became heire of the righteousnesse which is by faith. Gen.6.13.

8 By faith, *Abraham when he was called, obeyed God to goe out into a place which hee should afterward receiue to inheritance: and he went out, not knowing whither he should goe. Gen.12.4.

9 By faith, he remoued into the land of promise, as into a strange country, when hee had dwelt in tabernacles, with Isahac and Jacob, heires with him of the same promise:

10 For he looked for a citie hauing a foundation, whose builder and maker is God.

11 Through faith also *Sara her selfe receiued strength to conceiue seed, and was deliuered of a childe when shee was past age, because shee iudged him faithfull which had promised. Gen.21.3.

12 And therefore sprang there of one, euen of one which was as good as dead, so many in multitude as are the starres in the skie, and as the sand which is by the sea shore innumerable.

13 These all died according to faith, not hauing receiued the promises, but when they had seene them afarre off, and beleeued, and saluted, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth.

14 For they that say such things, declare that they seeke a countrey.

15 Also if they had bene mindful of that countrey, from whence they came out, they had leasure to haue returned:

16 But now they desire a better countrey, that is, a heauenly: wherefore God is not ashamed of them that be called their God, for he hath prepared for them a citie.

Gen. 12,10 eccl.45.15. c For it might seeme to the flesh, that the promise was contrary to the commandement, to sacrifice his sonne.

17 *By faith Abraham offered vp Isahac when hee was c proued: and he that had receiued the promises, offered vp his onely begotten sonne,

Gen. 21.12

18 To whom it is sayd, * That in Isahac shal thy seede be called.

19 For hee considered that God was able to raise the dead vp againe, from whence also hee receiued him in a certaine similitude of the resurrection.

Gen,27.28,

20 *By faith did Isahac blesse Jacob and Esau concerning things to come.

Gen,41,13

21 *By faith, Jacob when hee was a dying, blessed both the sonnes of Joseph, and worshipped ‖ toward the top of his sceptre.

‖Someread, leaning vpon his staffe.

Gen,10.24.

22 *By faith, Joseph when hee died remembred the departing of the children of Israel: and gaue commandement of his bones.

Exod,2,1. acts 7.2.

23 *By faith, Moses when hee was borne, was hid three moneths of his father & mother, because they saw he was a proper childe, neither feared they the kings commandement.

Exod,1.12.

24 *By faith, Moses when he was great, refused to be called the sonne of Pharaos daughter:

25 Chusing rather to suffer aduersitie with the people of God, then to enioy the pleasures of sinne for a season:

26 Esteeming the rebuke of Christ, greater riches then the treasures of Egypt: for he had respect vnto the recompense of the reward.

Exod,12,2.

27 *By faith he forsooke Egypt, fearing not the wrath of the king: for he endured, euen as though he had seene him which is inuisible.

Exod,12,2.

28 *Through faith hee ordained the Passeouer and the effusion of blood, lest he that destroyed the first borne, should touch them.

Exo,14.21.

29 *By faith they passed thorow the red sea, as by drie land: which the Egyptians assaying to doe, were drowned.

Iosu,6,20.

30 *By faith the walles of Jericho fell down, after they were compassed about seuen dayes.

Iosu,2.1.

31 *By faith the harlot Rahab perished not with them that were disobedient, when shee had receiued the spies with peace.

32 And what shall I more say? for the time would faile me to rehearse of *Gedeon, of *Barac, and of *Samson, and of *Jepthay, *of Dauid also and Samuel, and of the Prophets:

Iud,6.11, Iud,4.6, Iud.13,24. Iud,11,1, 1.Reg.1.20 and 13,14.

33 Which through faith subdued kingdomes, wrought righteousnesse, obteined the promises, stopped the mouthes of the Lions,

34 Quenched the violence of fire, escaped the edge of the sword, out of weaknesse were made strong, waxed valiant in fight, turned to flight the armies of the aliants.

35 The women receiued their dead raised to life againe: Other were racked, not looking for deliuerance, that they might receiue a better resurrection.

36 And others were tried with mockings, and scourgings: Yea, moreouer, with bonds and prisonment:

37 They were stoned, were hewen asunder, were tempted, were slaine with sworde, wandered about in sheepes skinnes, and goats skinnes, being destitute, afflicted and tormented:

38 Of whome the world was not worthy: They wandered in wildernesse, and in mountaines, and in dennes, and caues of the earth.

d They had not such cleare light as wee: for they looked for that which we haue, therefore it were shame for vs, if at the least we haue not as great constancie as they.

39 And these all through faith, hauing obteined good report, receiued d not the promise:

40 Whereas God hath prepared a better thing for vs, that they without vs should not be made perfect.

The xij. Chapter.

1 An exhortation to be patient and stedfast in trouble and aduersitie, vpon hope of euerlasting reward.

25 A commendation of the new Testament aboue the olde.

Wherefore, seeing that we are compassed with so great a cloud of witnesses, all *layd away, that a presseth downe, and the ‖ sinne that hangeth so fast on, let vs runne with patience vnto the battell that is set before vs:

Ephe. 4.24.

a As riches, cares, and such like, and to be borne Christs disciples by denying our selues, and taking our crosse to follow him.

2 Looking vnto Jesus the ‖ captaine and finisher of our faith, which for the ioy that was set before him, endured the crosse, hauing despised the shame, and is set downe on the right hand of the throne of God.

‖Or, that so lightly vpō euery circumstance or occasion taketh hold of vs.

3 Consider therefore him that endured such speaking against him of sinners, least you should be wearied, fainting in your mindes.

4 Ye haue not yet resisted vnto the shedding of blood, striuing against sinne.

‖Or, beginner.

5 And yee haue forgotten the exhortation, which speaketh vnto you as vnto children, *My sonne, despise not thou the chastening of the Lord, neither faint when thou art rebuked of him.

Prou.3.11,

6 For whom the Lord loueth, he chasteneth, and scourgeth euery sonne that he receiueth.

7 If ye endure chastening, God tendreth you as his sonnes: for what sonne is hee whom the father chasteneth not?

8 But if ye be without chastisement, whereof all are partakers, then are ye bastards, and not sonnes.

9 Furthermore, wee haue had fathers of our flesh, which corrected vs, and wee gaue them reuerence: shall we not then much rather be in subiection vnto the father of spirits, and liue?

10 For they verely for a fewe dayes chastened vs after their owne pleasure: but he, for our profite, that wee might be partakers of his holinesse.

11 No chastising for the present seemeth to be ioyous, but grieuous: neuertheless, afterward it bringeth the quiet fruit of righteousnes, vnto them which are exercised thereby.

10 We haue an altar, whereof they haue no right to b eate, which serue in the tabernacle.

11 For the bodies of those beasts, whose blood is brought into the holy place by the high Priest for sinne, are c burnt without the tents.

13 Let vs goe forth therefore vnto him out of the tents, bearing his reproch.

14 For here haue we no continuing citie: but we seeke one to come.

21 Make you perfect in all good workes to do his will, working in you that which is pleasant in his sight, through Jesus Christ, to whome be glory for euer and euer, Amen.

22 And I beseech you, brethren, suffer the word of exhortation, for I haue written vnto you in fewe wordes.

The Epistle of Saint Iames.

The first Chapter.

2 He exhorteth to reioice in trouble, 6 to be feruent in prayer with stedfast beleefe, 17 and to looke for all good things from aboue.

The Epistle on S. Philip and Iames day.

IAmes a seruant of God, and of the Lorde Iesus Christ, to the twelue tribes which are scattered abroad, Greeting.

2 My brethren, count it all ioy when yee fall into diuers temptations,

Rom. 5.5. 3 *Knowing this, that the trying of your faith worketh patience,

4 And let patience haue her perfect worke, that yee may bee perfect, and sound, lacking nothing.

5 If any of you lacke wisedome, let him aske of God, that giueth to all men indifferently, and casteth no man in the teeth: and it shall bee giuen him.

Mat. 7.7. mar. 11.24 luke 11.9. 6 *But let him aske in faith, nothing wauering: For hee that wauereth, is like a waue of the sea, tost of the winde, and caried with violence:

7 Neither let that man thinke that he shall receiue any thing of the Lord.

8 A double minded man is vnstable in all his wayes.

9 Let the brother of lowe degree, reioice in that he is [a] exalted:

a That he is called to the company of Christ and his Angels. Esa. 40.6. eccl. 14.18. 1. pet. 1.14 10 Againe, the rich, in that he is made lowe: *because as the flower of the grasse he shal passe away.

11 For as the Sunne hath risen with heate, and the grasse hath withered, and his floure hath fallen away, and the beauty of the fashion of it hath perished: so also shall the rich man fade away in his wayes.

Iob 5.17. 12 *Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receiue the crowne of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that loue him.

b He meaneth now of inward temptations, as of our disordred appetites, which cause us to sinne. 13 Let no man say when hee is [b] tempted, I am tempted of God: For God cannot be tempted with euill, neither tempteth he any man.

14 But euery man is tempted, when hee is drawen away, and entised with the baite of his owne concupiscence.

15 Then when lust hath conceiued, it bringeth forth sinne: and sinne, when it is finished, bringeth forth death.

16 Doe not erre, my deare brethren.

The Epistle on the xij. Sunday after Easter, c Seeing all good things come of God, we ought not to make him the author of euill Pro. 17.1. 17 Euery good [c] giuing, and euery perfect gift is from aboue, and commeth downe from the father of lights, with whom is no variablenesse, neither shadow of turning.

18 Of his owne will begate hee vs, with the word of trueth, that we should be the first fruits of his creatures.

19 Wherefore, my deare brethren, *let euery man be swift to heare, slowe to speake, slowe to wrath.

20 For the wrath of man worketh not that which is righteous before God.

21 Wherefore lay apart all filthinesse, and superfluitie of ‖ naughtinesse, and receiue with meekenes the word that is graffed in you, which is able to saue your soules.

‖Or, malitiousnesse.

22 And *be ye doers of the word, and not hearers onely, deceiuing your owne selues.

The Epistle on the fifth Sunday after Easter, d So Gods worde is a glasse, wherein we must behold our selues and become like vnto him. 23 For if any be a hearer of the word, and not a doer, he is like vnto a man beholding his bodily face in a [d] glasse.

24 For he hath considered himselfe, & is gone his wayes, and hath forgotten immediatly what his fashion was.

25 But who so looketh in the perfect lawe of libertie, and continueth therein, he being not a forgetfull hearer, but a doer of the worke, shal be blessed in his deede.

‖Or, religious. 26 If any man among you seeme to be ‖ deuout, and refraineth not his tongue, but deceiueth his owne heart, this mans ‖ deuotion is vaine.

‖Or, religion. 27 Pure deuotion and vndefiled before God and the father, is this, To visit the fatherlesse and widowes in their aduersitie, and to keepe himselfe vnspotted of the world.

The ij. Chapter.

1 He forbiddeth to haue any respect of persons, 5 but to regard the poore as well as the rich.

Leu. 19.1. pro. 24.24. MY brethren, *haue not the faith of our Lorde Iesus Christ the Lord of glorie, [a] with respect of persons.

a As esteeming faith and religion by the outward appearance of men. ‖Or, congregation. 2 For if there come into your ‖ company a man wearing a gold ring, in goodly apparel, and there come in also a poore man, in vile raiment:

3 And ye haue respect to him that weareth the gay clothing, and say vnto him, Sit thou here in a good place: and say to the poore, Stand thou there, or sit here vnder my footestoole:

4 Are ye not partiall in your selues, and are made iudges of euill thoughts?

5 Harken, my deare beloued brethren, Hath not God chosen the poore of this world, that they might bee rich in faith, and heires of the kingdome, which hee promised to them that loue him?

6 But ye haue despised the poore. Doe not rich men oppresse you by tyrannie, and draw you before the iudgement seates?

b The name of God & Christ, whereof you make profession: and in that they dishonour them not were that you are children ignoble vnworthy of them. Mat. 22.39. 7 Doe not they blaspheme that good [b] name, by the which ye are named?

8 If ye fulfil the royall law according to the Scripture, *Thou shalt loue thy neighbour as thy selfe, ye doe well:

9 But if ye regard one person more then another, ye commit sinne, and are rebuked of the law as transgressors.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Mmmm4v

Leu.15.19.

10 *Whosoeuer shall keepe the whole Lawe, and yet faile in one point, he is guiltie of all.

11 For hee that said, Doe not commit adulterie, said also, Do not kill. Though thou do none adulterie, yet if thou kil, thou art become a transgressour of the Lawe.

12 So speake ye, and so doe, as they that shall be iudged by the Law [c] of libertie.

c By the mercie of God which deliuereth vs from the curse of the Law.

13 For he shall haue iudgement without mercie, that hath shewed no mercie: and mercie reioyceth against iudgement.

14 What profiteth it, my brethren, though a man say, he hath faith, and hath not deedes? can that faith saue him?

Luke 3.11. 1.iohn 3. 17.

15 *If a brother or a sister bee naked, and destitute of dayly food,

16 And one of you say vnto them, Depart in peace, bee you warmed and filled: notwithstanding, yee giue them not those things which are needfull to the body: what shall it profite?

17 Euen so faith, if it hath not deedes, is dead in it selfe.

18 But some man will say, Thou hast faith, and I haue deedes: shewe mee thy faith by thy [d] deedes, and I will shewe thee my faith by my deedes.

d Were deedes are considered, as ioyned with the true faith.

19 Thou beleeuest that there is one God, thou doest well: the deuils also beleeue, and tremble.

20 But wilt thou know, O thou vaine man, that that faith which is without workes is dead?

21 Was not Abraham our father iustified through workes, when hee had offered *Isahac his sonne vpon the altar?

Gene.22. 10.

22 Seest thou not howe that faith wrought with his deedes, and through the deeds was the faith made perfect?

23 And the Scripture was fulfilled, which saith, *Abraham beleeued God, and it was reputed vnto him for righteousnesse: and he was called the friend of God.

Gen.15.6. rom.4.3. galat.3.6.

24 Ye see then, howe that of deedes a man is iustified, and not of faith onely.

25 Likewise also, was not *Rahab the harlot iustified through workes, when she had receiued the messengers, and had sent them out another way?

Iosua 2.1.

26 For as the body without the spirit is dead: euen so faith without workes is dead also.

The iij. Chapter.

2 He forbiddeth all ambition to seeke honour aboue our brethren. 3 Hee describeth the propertie of the tongue.

MY brethren, bee not many maisters, knowing how that we shal receiue the greater damnation.

2 For in many things wee sinne all. *If any man sinne not in [a] worde, the same is a perfect man, and able also to bridle all the body:

Eccl.14.1. a He that is able to moderate his tongue, hath attained to an excellent vertue.

3 Beholde, wee put bittes in the horses mouthes, that they may obey vs, and wee turne about their whole body:

4 Beholde also the shippes, which though they be so great, & are driuen of fierce winds, yet are they turned about with a very small helme, whithersoeuer the lust of the gouernour will:

5 Euen so the tongue is a little member also, and boasteth great things: behold how great a matter a little fire kindleth.

6 And the tongue is fire, euen a worlde of wickednesse: so is the tongue set among our members, that it defileth the whole body, and [b] setteth on fire the course of nature, and it is set on fire of hell.

b The intemperancie of the tongue is a flame of hell fire.

7 All the nature of beasts, and of birdes, and of serpents, and things of the Sea, is meeked and tamed of the nature of man:

8 But the tongue can no man tame, it is an vnruly euill, full of deadly poyson:

9 Therewith blesse we our God, and Father: and therewith curse wee men, which are made after the similitude of God.

10 Out of one mouth proceedeth blessing and cursing: My brethren, these things ought not so to be.

11 Doeth a fountaine send foorth at one hole sweete water and bitter also?

12 Can the figge tree, my brethren, beare Oliue beries? either a Vine beare figs? so can no fountaine giue both salt water, and fresh also.

13 Who is a wise man, & endued with knowledge among you? let him shewe his workes out of a good conuersation with meekenesse of wisedome.

14 But if ye haue bitter enuying and strife in your heart, glory not, neither bee liers against the trueth.

15 For such wisedome descendeth not from aboue: but is earthly, sensuall, and deuilish.

16 For where enuying and strife is, there is sedition, and all maner of euill workes.

17 But the wisedome that is from aboue, is first pure, then peaceable, gentle, and easie to be entreated, full of mercie and good fruites, without iudging, without simulation.

18 Yea, and the fruite of righteousnesse is sowen in peace, of them that make peace.

The iiij. Chapter.

4 Hee exhorteth them to loue God, 7 and submit themselues to him.

FRom whence commeth warres and fightings among you? Come they not here hence, euen of your lustes that [a] fight in your members?

a For the Law of the members continually fighteth against the Law of the minde.

2 Ye lust, and haue not: yee enuie, and haue indignation, and cannot obtaine: Yee fight and warre: yee haue not, because yee aske not.

3 Ye aske, and receiue not, because ye aske amisse, euen to consume it vpon your lustes.

4 Yee adulterers, and [b] adulteresses, know you not howe that the friendship of the worlde is enimitie with God? whosoeuer therefore will be a friend of the worlde, is made the enemy of God.

b Ye calleth adulterers here after the maner of the Scriptures, them which preferre the pleasures of the world, to the loue of God.

5 Either doe yee thinke that the Scripture saith in vaine, The [c] spirit that dwelleth in vs lusteth to enuie?

c The imagination of mans heart is wicked.

6 But the Scripture offereth more grace, and therefore saith, *God resisteth the proud, but giueth grace vnto the lowly.

1. Pet.5.5. pro.3.34.

7 Submit your selues therefore to God: but resist the deuil, and he will flie from you.

8 Draw nigh to God, and he wil draw nigh to you: cleanse your hands ye sinners, and purifie your hearts ye double minded.

9 Suffer afflictions, & mourne, and weepe: let your laughter bee turned to mourning, and your ioy to heauinesse.

10 *Humble your selues in the sight of the Lord, and he shall lift you vp.

1.Pet.5.6.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Mmmm5r

11 Backebite not one another, brethren: He that backbiteth his brother, and he that iudgeth his brother, backbiteth the law, and iudgeth the law: but and if thou iudge the law, thou art not an obseruer of the law, but a iudge.

Rom.14.4. 12 There is one lawgiuer, which is able to saue, and to destroy: *what art thou that iudgest another?

d We ought to submit our selues to the prouidence of God. 13 Go to now ye that say, d To day and to morow let vs go into such a citie, and continue there a yere, and buy, and sell, and win:

14 (And yet can yee not tell what shall happen on the morow: For what thing is your life? It is euen a vapour that appeareth for a little time, and then he vanisheth away)

1.Cor.4.19 15 For that ye ought to say, *If the Lord wil, and, If we liue, let vs do this, or that.

16 But now ye reioyce in your boastings: All such reioycing is euill.

17 Therefore to him that knoweth how to do good, and doth it not, to him it is sinne.

The v. Chapter.

1 He threatneth the wicked rich men, 7 exhorteth vnto patience, 12 and to beware of swearing.

GO to now ye rich men, weepe, and howle for your miseries that shall come vpon you.

2 Your riches be corrupt, your garments are motheaten:

3 Your golde and siluer is cankered, and the rust of them shall be a witnesse against you, and shall eat your flesh as it were fire. Ye haue heaped treasure together in the b last dayes.

a And kindle the wrath of God against you. b To suffer till the end of the world.

4 Beholde, the hire of the labourers which haue reaped downe your fields, which hire is of you kept backe by fraud, crieth: and the cries of them which haue reaped, are entred into the eares of the Lord of Sabboth.

5 Ye haue liued in pleasure on the earth, and beene wanton: Ye haue nourished your hearts, as in the day of slaughter.

6 Ye haue condemned and killed the iust, and he doth not resist you.

7 Be patient therefore, brethren, vnto the comming of the Lord: beholde, the husbandman waiteth for the precious fruit of the earth, and hath long patience thereupon, vntill he receiue the early and latter raine.

8 Be ye also patient, and settle your hearts: for the comming of the Lord draweth nigh.

9 Grudge not one against another, brethren, lest ye be damned: behold, the iudge standeth before the doore.

10 Take, my brethren, the Prophets for an example of suffering aduersitie, and of patience, which spake in the name of the Lord.

11 Beholde, we count them happy which endure. Ye haue heard of the patience of Iob, and haue seene the end of the Lord: For the Lord is very pitifull and mercifull.

12 *But aboue all things, my brethren, sweare not, neither by heauen, neither by the earth, neither by any other othe: Let your c yea, be yea, and your nay, nay, lest ye fall into condemnation. Mat.5.34.

c That which must be affirmed, affirme it simply, and without othes: likewise that which must be denied. By this he taketh not from the magistrate his authority, who may require an othe for the maintenance of iustice, iudgement & truth.

13 Is any among you afflicted? let him pray. Is any merry? let him sing Psalmes.

14 Is any diseased among you? let him call for the Elders of the Church, and let them pray for him, and *anoint him with oile in the name of the Lord: Mark.6.13.

15 And the prayer of faith shall saue the sicke, and the Lord shall raise him vp: and if hee haue committed sinnes, they shalbe forgiuen him.

16 Knowledge your faults one to another, and pray one for another, that ye may be healed: For the feruent prayer of a righteous man auaileth much.

17 *Elias was a man vnder infirmities, euen as wee are, and hee prayed in his prayer that it might not raine: and it rained not on the earth by the space of three yeres and sixe moneths. 1.Reg.17.1 luke 4.25.

18 And hee prayed againe, and the heauen gaue raine, and the earth brought foorth her fruit.

19 Brethren, *if any of you doe erre from the trueth, and another conuert him, Mat.18.15.

20 Let the same know, that he which conuerteth the sinner from going astray out of his way, shall saue a soule from death, and shall hide the multitude of sinnes.

The end of the Epistle of Saint Iames.

The first Epistle of Saint Peter the Apostle.

The first Chapter.

2 Hee sheweth that through the abundant mercie of God, we are elect and regenerate to a liuely hope, 7 and how faith must be tried.

PEter an Apostle of Iesus Christ, to a them that dwell heere and there as strangers thorowout Pontus, Galatia, Cappadocia, Asia, and Bithynia:

a Which were Iewes, to whom he was appointed to be an Apostle.

2 Elect according to the b foreknowledge of God the father, vnto the sanctifying of the spirit, thorough the obedience and sprinckling of the blood of Iesus Christ: Grace and peace be multiplied vnto you.

b The free election of God, is the efficient cause of our saluation: the materiall cause is Christes obedience: our effectuall calling is the formall cause: and the finall cause, is our sanctification.

3 Blessed be God the Father of our Lord Iesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy, begat vs againe vnto a liuely hope, by the rising of Iesus Christ from the dead, through faith vnto saluation, ready to be shewed in the last time.

6 In the which ye reioyce, though now for a season (if need require) yee are in heauinesse through manifold temptations:

7 That the triall of your faith being much more precious then golde that perisheth, though it be tried with fire, might be found to be vnto you vnto laud, honor, and glory, at the appearing of Iesus Christ,

8 Whom ye haue not seene, & yet loue him, in whom euen now though ye see him not, yet do ye beleeue him, and reioyce with ioy vnspeakable and glorious:

9 Receiuing the end of your faith, euen the saluation of your soules.

10 Of which saluation haue the prophets enquired and searched diligently, which prophecied of the grace that should come vnto you:

11 Searching when or what time the spirit of Christ, which was in them, should signifie, which spirit testified before the passions that should happen vnto Christ, and the glory that should follow after.

12 Vnto which Prophets it was also reueiled, that not vnto themselues, but vnto vs, they should minister the things which are now shewed vnto you of them, which by the holy Ghost sent downe from heauen, haue in the Gospel preached vnto you the things which the angels desire to behold.

13 Wherefore gird vp the loines of your mind, be sober, and trust perfectly on the grace that is brought vnto you by the reuelation of Iesus Christ:

14 As obedient children, not fashioning your selues vnto the former lusts of your ignorance:

Luke 1.71. 15 But as he which called you, is holy, * euen so be ye holy also in all maner of conuersation.

17 And if so be that yee call on the Father, Deu.10.27. rom.2.11. galat.2.6. * which without respect of person iudgeth according to euery mans worke, see that ye passe the time of your dwelling here, in feare,

18 Forasmuch as ye know how that ye were not redeemed with corruptible things, as siluer and golde, from your vaine conuersation, which ye receiued by the tradition of the fathers:

Heb.9.14. 1.iohn 1.7. apoc.1.5. 19 * But with the precious blood of Christ, as of a Lambe vndefiled and without spot:

c When Christ appeared vnto the world, and when the Gospel was preached. 20 Which was ordeined beforehand, euen before the world was made, but was declared in the c last time for your sakes:

21 Which by his meanes doe beleeue on God that raised him vp from the dead, and gaue him glory, that ye might haue faith and hope toward God:

Rom.12.10. 22 Euen ye which haue purified your soules, through the spirit in obeying the trueth, * with brotherly loue vnfained, see that ye loue one another with a pure heart feruently:

23 For ye are borne anew, not of corruptible seed: but of incorruptible, by the word of God, which liueth and lasteth for euer.

Esay 40.6. ecci.14.18. iam.1.10. 24 * For all flesh is as grasse, and all the glorie of man is as the floure of grasse: the grasse withereth, and the floure falleth away.

25 But the word of the Lord endureth euer: and this is the word which by the Gospel was preached vnto you.

The ij. Chapter.

4 To whom ye come as vnto a liuing stone, disallowed of men, but chosen of God, and precious.

5 And ye as liuely stones, be you made a spirituall house, an holy Priesthood, for to offer vp spirituall sacrifice, acceptable to God by Iesus Christ.

Esay 28.16. rom.9.33. 6 Wherefore it is contained also in the Scripture, * Behold, I put in Sion a stone to be layed in the chiefe corner, elect and precious, and he that beleeueth on him, shall in no wise be confounded.

Psa.118.22 mat.21.42. acts 4.12. 7 Vnto you therefore which beleeue, he is precious, but vnto them which beleeue not, * the stone which the builders disallowed, the same is made the head of the corner, 8 And a stone of stumbling, and a rocke of offence: which stumble at the word, and being disobedient, vnto the which thing they were ordeined.

Exod.19.9. 9 But ye are a chosen generation, * a royall Priesthood, an holy nation, a peculiar people: that yee should shew forth the vertues of him that called you out of darknesse into his marueilous light.

Osee 2.23. rom.9.25. 10 * Which in time past were not a people, but are now the people of God: which sometime had not obteined mercy, but now haue obteined mercy.

Rom.13.1. 13 * Submit your selues therefore vnto all maner ordinance of man for the Lordes sake: whether it be vnto the king, as hauing the preeminence.

14 Either vnto rulers, as vnto them that are sent by him for the punishment of euil doers, but for the laud of them that do well.

15 For so is the will of God, that with well doing ye may stop the ignorance of foolish men:

16 As free, and not as hauing the libertie for a cloke of naughtinesse, but euen as the seruants of God.

The iij. Chapter.

1 How wiues ought to order themselues toward their husbands, 3 and in their apparell.

Ephe.5.22. colos.3.18.

LIkewise *ye wiues, be in subiection to your husbands, that euen they which obey not the word, may without the word be woon, by the conuersation of the wiues:

2 After that they haue beholden your chaste conuersation coupled with feare.

1.Tim.2.9.

3 *Whose apparell, let it not be that which is outward, with braided haire, and hanging on of gold, either in putting on of gorgeous apparell:

4 But let the hid man, which is in the heart, be without all corruption, of a meeke and quiet spirit, which spirit is before God a thing much set by.

5 After this maner in the old time did the holy women also, which trusted in God, tire themselues, being obedient vnto their husbands.

1.Cor.5.1.

7 *Likewise ye husbands, dwell with them according to knowledge, giuing honor vnto the wife, as vnto the weaker vessell, & as vnto them that are heires also of the grace of life, that your prayers be not hindered.

The Epistle on the fifth Sunday after Trinity, ‖ Meeke.

8 In conclusion, be ye all of one mind, hauing compassion one of another, loue as brethren, be pitifull, be ‖ courteous,

9 Not rendring euill for euill, or rebuke for rebuke: but contrariwise blesse, knowing that ye are thereunto called, euen that ye should be [a] heires of the blessing.

a God hath made vs when we were his enemies, heires of his kingdome: and shall not we forgiue our brethren a small fault? Esay 1.16.

10 For he that doth long after life, and loueth to see good dayes, let him refraine his tongue from euil, and his lips that they speake no guile.

11 *Let him eschew euil, and do good, let him seeke peace, and ensue it.

12 For the eyes of the Lord are ouer the righteous, and his eares are open vnto their prayers: againe, the face of the Lord is [b] ouer them that do euill.

b To take vengeance on them.

13 Moreouer, who is it that will harme you, if ye be followers of that which is good?

Math.5.10. esay 8.12.

14 Yea, *happy are ye, if any trouble happen vnto you for righteousnes sake, be not ye afrayd for any terror of them, neither be ye troubled:

15 But sanctify the Lord God in your hearts. Be ready alwayes to giue an answere to euery man that asketh you a reason of the hope that is in you,

16 And that with meekenesse and feare, hauing a good conscience: that whereas they backbite you as euill doers, they may be ashamed that falsely accuse your good conuersation in Christ.

17 For it is better, if the wil of God be so, that ye suffer for well doing, then for euill doing.

The Epistle on Easter Euen. Rom.5.6. heb.9.15.

18 *Forasmuch as Christ hath once suffered for sinnes, the iust for the vniust, to bring vs to God, and was killed as pertaining to the flesh, but was quickened in the spirit.

19 In which spirit he also went and preached vnto the spirits that were in prison,

20 Which sometime had beene disobedient, when once the long suffering of God abode in the dayes of Noe, while the Arke was a preparing, wherein few (that is to say) eight soules were saued in the water.

21 To the which also the figure agreeth that now saueth vs, euen baptisme, (not the putting away the filth of the flesh, but in that a good conscience maketh request to God) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ:

22 Which is on the right hand of God, and is gone into heauen, angels, powers, and might subdued vnto him.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth all men to cease from sinne, 7 to be sober, and apt to pray.

FOrasmuch then, as Christ hath suffered for vs in the flesh, arme ye your selues likewise with the same mind: for hee which suffereth in the flesh, ceaseth from sinne:

2 That he henceforth should liue, as much time as remaineth in the flesh, not after the lusts of men, but after the will of God.

3 *For it is sufficient for vs that wee haue spent the time that is past of the life, after the will of the Gentiles, walking in wantonnesse, lusts, in excesse of wines, in excesse of eating, in excesse of drinking, and abominable idolatry.

Ephe.4.23.

4 And it seemeth to them a strange thing, that ye runne not also with them vnto the same excesse of riot, & therefore speake they euill of you:

5 Which shall giue accounts to him that is ready to iudge quicke and dead.

6 For vnto this purpose verily was the Gospel preached also vnto the [a] dead, that they should be iudged like other men in the flesh, but should liue before God in the spirit.

a Although the wicked thinke this Gospel new, and urge you that inhabite it, yet hath it beene preached to them of time past, which now are dead, to the intent that they might haue bene condemned as dead to sinne in the flesh, and so might haue liued to God in the spirit, which two are the effect of the Gospel.

7 †The end of all things is at hand. Be ye therefore sober, and watch vnto prayer,

8 But aboue all things haue feruent charity among your selues: for charity shal couer the multitude of sinnes.

9 Be ye harberous one to another, without grudging.

10 As euery man hath receiued the gift, euen so minister the same one to another, as good stewards of the manifold grace of God.

11 If any man speake, let him talke as the word of God: if any man minister, let him doe it as of the abilitie which God ministreth vnto him, that God in all things may be glorified through Jesus Christ, to whom be praise and dominion for euer and euer, Amen.

† The Epistle on the Sunday after Ascension day.

12 Dearely beloued, thinke it not strange concerning the fiery triall, which thing is to trie you, as though some strange thing hapned vnto you, 13 But reioyce, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christs passions: that when his glory appeareth, ye may be mery and glad.

Math. 5.10. 14 * If yee be railed vpon for the Name of Christ, happy are ye: for the spirit of glory and of God resteth vpon you: on their part hee is euill spoken of, but on your part he is glorified.

15 See that none of you bee punished as a murderer, or as a thiefe, or an euill doer, or as a busie body in other mens matters.

16 If any man suffer as a Christian man, let him not be ashamed, but let him glorifie God on this behalfe.

17 For the time is come that iudgement must begin at the house of God. If it first begin at vs, what shall the end be of them which beleeue not the Gospel of God?

18 And if the righteous scarsely be saued, where shall the vngodly and the sinner appeare?

19 Wherefore, let them that are troubled according to the will of God, commit the keeping of their soules to him with well doing, as vnto a faithfull Creator.

The v. Chapter.

The duty of pastors, is to feed the flocke of Christ, and what reward they shall haue if they be diligent.

a By Elders, he vnderstandeth all them, which preach, teach, or minister in the Church.

THe a Elders which are among you I exhort, which am also an Elder, and a witnesse of the afflictions of Christ, and also a partaker of the glory that shalbe opened:

2 Feed you Gods flocke which is committed vnto you, taking the ouersight of them, not as compelled thereunto, but willingly: not for the desire of filthy lucre, but of a chearefull minde:

3 Not as though ye were lords ouer Gods heritage: but that yee be an ensample to the flocke.

4 And when the chiefe Shepheard shall appeare, ye shall receiue an incorruptible crowne of glory.

The Epistle on the third Sunday after Trinity. Iames 4.6.

5 Likewise, ye yoonger, submit your selues vnto the elder: submit your selues euery man one to another, decke your selues inwardly in lowlinesse of mind: * for God resisteth the proud, and giueth grace vnto the humble.

Iames 4.10 math 6.25. luke 12.24.

6 *Submit your selues therefore vnto the mighty hand of God, that hee may exalt you when the time is come.

7 Cast all your care vpon him, for he careth for you.

Luk 21.31.

8 Be sober, and watch: * for your aduersary the deuill, as a roaring lion walketh about, seeking whom he may deuoure.

9 Whom resist stedfast in the faith: knowing that the same afflictions are accomplished in your brethren that are in the world.

10 But the God of all grace himselfe, which hath called vs vnto his eternall glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye haue suffered a little affliction, make you perfect, settle, strengthen, and stablish you.

11 To him be glory and dominion for euer and euer, Amen.

12 By Siluanus a faithfull brother vnto you (as I suppose) I haue written briefly, exhorting and testifying, how that this is the true grace of God, wherein ye stand.

13 The Church that is at Babylon elected together with you, saluteth you, and so doth Marcus my sonne.

14 Greet ye one another with a * kisse of charitie. Peace be with you all which are in Christ Jesus, Amen.

Rom. 16. 16.1.cor. 16.20.

The second Epistle of Saint Peter.

The first Chapter.

Forasmuch as the power of God hath giuen them all things perteining vnto life, hee exhorteth them to flee the corruption of worldly lusts.

SImon Peter, a seruant and an Apostle of Jesus Christ, to them which haue obtained like precious faith with vs, through the righteousnesse of our God and Sauiour Jesus Christ:

2 Grace & peace be multiplied vnto you, through the knowledge of God and of Jesus our Lord,

3 According as his godly power hath giuen vnto vs all things that perraine vnto life and a godlinesse, through the knowledge of him that hath called vs vnto glory and vertue:

a The summe of our saluation and religion is, to be led by Christ to the Father, who calleth vs in the Sonne.

4 By the which are giuen vnto vs excellent and most great promises, that by the meanes thereof, ye might be partakers of the godly nature, if ye flee the corruption of worldly lusts.

5 And hereunto giue all diligence, in your faith minister vertue, in vertue knowledge,

6 In knowledge temperance, in temperance patience, in patience godlinesse,

7 In godlinesse brotherly kindnesse, in brotherly kindnesse charitie.

8 For if these things be among you, and be plenteous, they make you that ye neither shalbe idle, nor vnfruitfull in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

9 But he that lacketh these things, is blind, and cannot see farre off, and hath forgotten that he was purged from his olde sinnes.

10 Wherefore, brethren, giue the more diligence for to make your calling & election b sure: for if ye do such things, ye shall neuer fall.

b Albeit it be sure in it selfe, forasmuch as God can not change: yet we must conferme it in our selues by the fruites of the Spirit, knowing that the purpole of God electeth, calleth, sanctifieth and iustifieth vs.

11 Yea, and by this meanes an entring in shall be ministred vnto you abundantly, into the euerlasting kingdome of our Lord and Sauiour Jesus Christ.

12 Wherefore I will not be negligent to put

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Nnnn1r

you alwayes in remembrance of such things, though ye know them your selues, and be stablished in the present trueth.

13 Notwithstanding, I thinke it meete, as long as I am in this Tabernacle, to stirre you vp, by putting you in remembrance:

Ioh, 21.19. 14 Knowing that shortly I must put off this my tabernacle, *euen as our Lord Iesus Christ hath shewed me.

15 I will euer also giue my diligence, that ye may haue wherewith to stirre vp the remembrance of these things after my departing.

1.Cor,1.17 16 *For we haue not followed deceitfull fables, when we opened vnto you the power and comming of our Lorde Iesus Christ, but with our eyes we saw his maiestie:

17 Euen then verely when he receiued of God the father honour and glory, and when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory: *This is my dearely beloued sonne in whom

Mat.17.5. I delight.

18 This voice we heard come from heauen, when we were with him in the holy mount.

19 We haue also a right sure word of prophecie, whereunto if yee take heede, as vnto a light that shineth in a darke place, yee doe well, vntill the day dawne, and the daystarre arise in your hearts.

20 So that ye first know this, that no prophecie in the Scripture is of any priuate ‖ motion.

‖ Or, interpretation. 21 For the prophecie came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spake as they were mooued by the holy Ghost.

The ij. Chapter.

Hee prophecieth of false teachers, and sheweth their punishment.

THere were false prophets also among the people, euen as there shall be false teachers among you, which priuily shall bring in damnable heresies, euen denying the Lorde that hath bought them, and bring vpon themselues swift damnation.

2 And many shall followe their damnable wayes, by whome the way of trueth shalbe euill spoken of:

a That is euidently seene in the Pope and his Priests, which by lyes and flatteries sell mens soules: so that it is certaine that he is not the successor of Simon Peter, but of Simon Magus.

3 And through couetousnes shall they with fained words make [a] merchandize of you, whose iudgement now of long time ceaseth not, and their damnation sleepeth not.

Iob 4.12. Gen.7.1. 4 For if * God spared not the angels that sinned, but cast them downe into hell, and deliuered them into chaines of darknesse, to be kept vnto iudgement:

5 *Neither spared the olde worlde, but saued Noe the eight person, a preacher of righteousnes, and brought in the flood vpon the worlde of the vngodly,

Gen.19.24. 6 And turned their cities of * Sodome and Gomorrhe into ashes, ouerthrew them, damned them, and made them an ensample vnto those that after should liue vngodly:

7 And iust Lot, vexed with the vncleane conuersation of the wicked, deliuered he.

8 (For he being righteous, and dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soule from day to day with their vnlawfull deedes.)

9 The Lorde knoweth howe to deliuer the godly out of temptation, and to reserue the vniust vnto the day of iudgement for to be punished.

10 But chiefly them that walke after the flesh in the lust of vncleannesse, and despise authoritie. Presumptuous are they, and stand in their owne conceit, which feare not to speake euill of them that excell in worship.

11 When the angels, which are greater both in power and might, giue not [b] rayling iudgement against them before the Lord.

b Albeit the Angels condemne the vice and iniquitie of wicked magistrates, yet doe they blame not the authority and power which is giuen them of God.

12 But these as brute beasts, led with sensualitie, and made to be taken and destroyed, speake euill of the things that they vnderstand not, and shall perish through their owne corruption,

13 And receiue the reward of vnrighteousnesse: they count it pleasure to liue deliciously for a season: spottes they are and blots, [c] delighting themselues in their deceiuings, in feasting with you:

c For in your holy feasts, they sit as it were of the Church, inherentes as though they be but spots & so preuent you. ‖ Or, couetousnesse.

14 Hauing eyes full of adulterie, and that cannot cease from sinne, laying baite for vnstable soules: hearts they haue exercised with ‖ robberie, they are cursed children,

15 Which haue forsaken the right way, and are gone astray, following the way of Balaam the sonne of Bosor, which loued the reward of vnrighteousnesse:

Num.22, 25. 16 But was rebuked of his iniquitie. *The dumbe beast, and vsed to the yoke, speaking with mans voyce, forbade the madnesse of the Prophet.

Iude 21. 17 *These are welles without water, clouds that are caried with a tempest, to whom the mist of darknesse is reserued for euer.

18 For when they speake the great swelling words of vanitie, they entice through lusts with the baite of wantonnesse of the flesh, them that were cleane escaped from them, which are wrapped in errour:

19 While they promise them libertie, whereas they themselues are the bondseruants of corruption: *For of whom a man is ouercome, vnto the same is he brought in bondage.

John 8.34. rom.6.20.

Heb.6.4. 20 *For if they, after they haue escaped from the filthinesse of the worlde, through the knowledge of the Lord and the sauiour Iesus Christ, are yet tangled againe therein, and ouercome, then is the latter end worse with them then the beginning.

21 For it had bene better for them not to haue known the way of righteousnesse, then after they haue knowen it, to turne from the holy commandement that was giuen vnto them.

Prou.26,11 22 But the same is happened vnto them that is vsed to be spoken by the true prouerbe, *The dogge is turned to his owne vomite againe, and the Sowe that was washed, is turned againe to her wallowing in the myre.

The iij. Chapter.

3 Hee sheweth the impietie of them which mocke at Gods promises, 7 After what sort the ende of the worlde shall bee. 8 That they prepare themselues thereunto. 16 Who they are which abuse the writings of Saint Paul, and the rest of the Scriptures, 18 Concluding with eternall thankes to Christ Iesus.

which were tolde before of the holy Prophets, and also the ‖ commaundement of vs, which be Apostles of the Lord and Sauiour:

‖ Or, doctrine.

3 *Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last dayes mockers, walking after their owne lusts,

1. Tim. 4. 1. 2. tim. 2. 1.

4 And saying, Where is the promise of his comming? For since the fathers fell asleepe, all things continue alike from the beginning of the creation.

5 For this they know not (and that a wilfully) how that the heauens were of olde, and the earth consisting of the water, and by the water, by the word of God:

a He meaneth them which had once professed Christes religion, but became afterward contemners and mockers, as Epicures and Atheists.

6 By the which things the world that then was, perished, being then ouerrun with water.

7 But the heauens and earth, which are now, be kept by his word in store, and reserued vnto fire against the day of iudgement, and perdition of vngodly men.

8 Dearely beloued, be not ignorant of this one thing, *how that one day is with the Lord as a thousand yeeres, and a thousand yeeres as one day.

Psal. 90. 4.

9 The Lord that hath promised, is not slack (as some men count slackenesse) * but is patient to vs ward, forasmuch as he would haue no man lost, but will receiue all men to repentance.

1. Tim. 2. 4.

10 Neuertheles, * the day of the Lorde will come as a thiefe in the night, in the which the heauens shal passe away with a great noise, and the elements shall melt with feruent heate, the earth also, and the workes that are therein, shall be vtterly burned.

Mat. 24. 43. 1. thes. 5. 2. apoc. 3. 3.

11 Seeing then that all these things shall perish, what manner persons ought ye to be in holy conuersation and godlinesse,

12 Looking for, and hasting vnto the comming of the day of God, ‖ by whome the heauen shall perish with fire, and the elements shall melt with feruent heate.

‖ Some read, wherein.

13 *Neuertheles, wee, according to his promise, looke for a newe heauen, and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousnesse.

Apoc. 21. 1. esai. 65. 17.

14 Wherefore dearely beloued, seeing that ye looke for such things, be diligent that ye may be found of him in peace, without spotte, and vndefiled:

15 *And suppose that the long suffering of the Lorde is saluation, euen as our dearely beloued brother Paul also, according to the wisedome giuen vnto him, hath written vnto you:

Rom. 2. 4.

16 Yea almost in euery Epistle, speaking of such things, amōg which are many things hard to be vnderstood, which they that are vnlearned and vnstable, peruert, as they doe also the other Scriptures, vnto their owne destruction.

17 Ye therefore beloued, seeing ye be warned afore hand, beware least ye also, being led away with the errour of the wicked, fall from your owne stedfastnesse:

18 But grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord & sauiour Iesus Christ: To whome be glory both now and for euer, Amen.

Here endeth the second Epistle of Saint Peter.

The first Epistle of Saint Iohn the Apostle.

The first Chapter.

1 The true witnesse of the euerlasting word of God.
7 The blood of Christ is the purgation of sinne.
10 No man is without sinne.

The Epistle on S. Iohn the Euangelists day.

THat which was from the beginning, which wee haue heard, which we haue seene with our eyes, which wee haue looked vpon, and our handes haue handled of the word of life:

2 (And the life appeared, and we haue seene, and beare witnesse, and shew vnto you that eternall life which was with the father, and appeared vnto vs:)

3 That which we haue seene and heard, declare wee vnto you, that yee also may haue a fellowship with vs, and that our fellowshippe may be with the father, and his sonne Iesus Christ.

a The effect of the Gospel is, that we all being ioyned together in Christ by faith should be the sonnes of God.

4 And these things write we vnto you, that your ioy may be full.

5 And this is the tydings which wee haue heard of him, and declare vnto you, *that God is light, and in him is no darkenesse at all.

Iohn 8. 12.

6 If wee say that wee haue fellowship with him, and walke in darkenesse, we lie, and do not the trueth.

7 But if we walke in the light, euen as hee is in the light, then haue wee fellowshippe b one with another, * and the blood of Iesus Christ his sonne cleanseth vs from all sinne.

b That is, Christ with vs, & we with our selues. Heb. 9. 28. 1. kin. 8. 46. 2. Chr. 6. 36

8 *If we say that we haue no sinne, we deceiue our selues, and the trueth is not in vs:

9 If we knowledge our sinnes, hee is faithfull and iust to forgiue vs our sinnes, & to cleanse vs from all vnrighteousnesse.

10 If wee say that wee haue not sinned, wee make him a lyar, and his word is not in vs.

The ij. Chapter.

1 Christ is our aduocate. 10 Of true loue, and howe it is tryed. 18 To beware of Antichrist.

MY little children, these things write I vnto you, that yee sinne not. And if any man sinne, we haue an aduocate with the father, Iesus Christ the righteous:

2 And hee is the atonement of our sinnes, not for our sinnes onely, but also for the sinnes of all the world:

3 And hereby wee are sure that we a know we a That is, by faith, and to obey him: for knowledge cannot be without obedience.

him,

him, if we keepe his commandements.

4 He that sayth, I know him, and keepeth not his commandements, is a liar, and the ‖ veritie is not in him.

‖Or, trueth.

5 But whoso keepeth his word, in him is the loue of God perfect indeed: Hereby know we that we are in him.

6 Hee that sayth hee abideth in him, ought himselfe to walke, euen as he walked.

7 Brethren, I write no new commandement vnto you, but an olde commandement which ye haue heard from the beginning. The olde commandement, is the word which yee haue heard from the beginning.

8 Againe, A new Commandement I write vnto you, that is true in him, and the same is true also in you, for the darknesse is past, and the true light now shineth.

9 He that sayth how that he is in the light, and yet hateth his brother, is in darknesse, euen vntill this time.

10 *Hee that loueth his brother, abideth in the light, and there is none occasion of euill in him.

1.Ioh.3.14.

11 He that hateth his brother, is in darknes, and walketh in darknesse: and cannot tell whither he goeth, because the darknesse hath blinded his eyes.

12 Babes, I write vnto you, because your sinnes are forgiuen you for his names sake.

13 I write vnto you fathers, because ye haue knowen him that is frō the beginning. I write vnto you yoong men, because ye haue ouercome the wicked.

14 I write to you little children, because ye haue knowen the father. I haue written to you fathers, because yee haue knowen him that is from the beginning. I haue written vnto you yoong men, because ye are strong, and the word of God abideth in you, and ye haue ouercome the wicked.

15 See that ye loue not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man loue the world, the loue of the Father is not in him.

16 For all that is in the world, as the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but of the world.

17 And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that fulfilleth the will of God, abideth for euer.

18 Little children, it is the last time: and as yee haue heard how that Antichrist shall come, euen now there are many Antichrists: whereby we know that it is the last time.

19 They went out from vs, but they were not of vs: For if they had bene of vs, they would no doubt haue continued with vs: But ‖ that it might appeare that they are not all of vs.

‖ Or, this commeth to passe.

20 Neuertheleſſe, yee haue an [b] ointment of him that is holy, and ye know all things.

b The grace of the holy Ghost.

21 I haue not written vnto you as though ye knew not the trueth: but because yee know it, and that no lie is of the trueth.

22 Who is a liar, but he that denieth that Iesus is Christ? the same is Antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Sonne.

23 Whosoeuer denieth the Sonne, the same hath not the Father: But he that knowledgeth the Sonne, hath the Father also.

24 Let therefore abide in you, that same which yee heard from the beginning: if that which yee haue heard from the beginning shall remaine in you, ye also shal continue in the Son and in the Father.

25 And this is the promise that hee hath promised vs, euen eternall life.

26 These things haue I written vnto you, concerning them that deceiue you.

27 And the anointing which yee haue receiued of him, dwelleth in you: and yee need not that any man teach you, but as the same [c] anointing teacheth you of all things, and it is true, and not lying: and as it taught you, yee shall abide in it.

c Christ communicateth himselfe vnto you, and teacheth you by the holy Ghost and his ministers.

28 And now [d] babes, abide in him: that when he shall appeare, we may be bolde, and not be ashamed ‖ of him at his comming.

d By this name he meaneth the whole Church of Christ in generall.

‖Or, before.

29 If ye know that he is righteous, know also that euery one which doth righteousnesse, is borne of him.

The iij. Chapter.

1 The singular loue of God toward vs, 7 and howe we againe ought to loue one another.

BEholde what charity the Father hath shewed vs, euen that wee should bee called the sonnes of God: for this cause the world knoweth vs not, because it hath not knowen him.

2 Dearely beloued, now are we the sonnes of God, and yet doth it not appeare what we shal be: But we know that when he shall appeare, we shalbe like him: for we shall see him as he is.

3 And euery man that hath this hope in him, purgeth himselfe, euen as he also is pure.

4 Whosoeuer committeth sinne, transgresseth also the law: for sinne is the transgression of the law.

5 And ye know that he appeared to * take away our sinnes, and in him is no sinne.

Esay 53.5. 1.pet.2,22.

6 As many as bide in him, sinne not: whosoeuer sinneth, hath not seene him, neither knowen him.

7 Babes, let no man deceiue you: hee that doth righteousnesse, is righteous, euen as he is righteous.

8 *He that committeth sinne, is of the deuil: for the deuill sinneth since the beginning: For this purpose appeared the sonne of God, to loose the works of the deuill.

Iohn 8.44.

9 Whosoeuer is borne of God, sinneth not: for his seed remaineth in him, & he cannot sinne, because he is borne of God.

10 In this are the children of God knowen, and the children of the deuill: whosoeuer doeth not righteousnes, is not of God, neither he that loueth not his brother.

11 *For this is the tidings that yee heard from the beginning, that ye should loue one another.

Ioh.13.34.

12 Not as * Cain, which was of the wicked, he slew his brother: And wherefore slew he him? because his owne works were euill, and his brothers righteous.

Gene.4.8.

13 Maruell not, my brethren, if the world hate you.

The Epistle on the ij. Sunday after Trinity.

14 Wee know that wee are translated from death vnto life, because we [a] loue the brethren: he that loueth not his brother, abideth in death.

a This loue is a speciall fruit of our faith, & a certaine signe of our regeneration.

eternall life abiding in him.
16 Hereby perceiue we loue, becauſe he layed downe his life for vs: and we ought to lay down our liues for the brethren.
Luk.3.11. 17 *But whoſo hath this worlds good, and ſeeth his brother haue need, and ſhutteth vp his compaſſion from him: how dwelleth the loue of God in him?
18 My babes, let vs not loue in word, neither in tongue, but in deed and in verity.
19 Hereby we know that we are of the truth, and ſhall aſſure our hearts before him.
20 For if our heart condemne vs, God is greater then our heart, and knoweth all things.
21 Dearely beloued, if our heart condemne
Mat.21.12. vs not, then haue we boldneſſe toward God.
iohn 15.7. 22 And *whatſoeuer we aſke, we receiue of him, becauſe wee keepe his commandements, and doe thoſe things which are pleaſing in his ſight.
Iohn 6.29. 23 *And this is his commandement, that we ſhould beleeue on the Name of his ſonne Ieſus Chriſt, and loue one another, as he gaue vs commandement.
Ioh.13.34. 24 *And he that keepeth his commandements dwelleth in him, and he in him: and hereby we know that hee abideth in vs, euen by the ſpirit which he hath giuen vs.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 Difference of ſpirits. 2 How the Spirit of God may be knowen from the ſpirit of errour.

Dearely beloued, beleeue not euery ſpirit, but prooue the ſpirits, whether they are of God or not: for many falſe prophets are gone out into the world.
2 Hereby ſhall ye know the Spirit of God: Euery ſpirit that confeſſeth that Ieſus [a] Chriſt is come in the fleſh, is of God:
a Who being verie God, came from his father, & tooke vpon him our fleſh. He that confeſſeth, or preacheth this truth, hath the ſpirit of God, or els not.
3 And euery ſpirit which confeſſeth not that Ieſus Chriſt is come in the fleſh, is not of God, and this is that ſpirit of Antichriſt, of whom yee haue heard how that he ſhould come: and euen now already is he in the world.
4 Little children, ye are of God, and haue o-uercome them: for greater is hee that is in you, then he that is in the world.
5 They are of the world, therefore ſpeake they of the world, and the world heareth them.
Iohn 8.47. 6 *Wee are of God, hee that knoweth God, heareth vs: hee that is not of God, heareth vs not. Hereby know we the ſpirit of veritie, and the ſpirit of errour.
The Epiſtle on the firſt Sunday after Trinity. 7 Dearely beloued, let vs loue one another:
for loue commeth of God: and euery one that lo-ueth, is borne of God, and knoweth God.
Iohn 3.16. 8 He that loueth not, knoweth not God: for God is loue.
9 *In this appeared the loue of God to vs-ward, becauſe GOD ſent his onely begotten Sonne into the world, that wee might liue through him.
10 Herein is loue, not that we loued God, but that he loued vs, and ſent his Sonne to be the agreement for our ſinnes.
11 Dearely beloued, if God ſo loued vs, we ought alſo to loue one another.
1.Ioh.1.12. 1.tim.6.16. 12 *No man hath ſeene God at any time, If we loue one another, God dwelleth in vs, and his loue is perfect in vs.
13 Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and hee in vs: becauſe hee hath giuen vs of his Spirit.
14 And we haue ſeene, and do teſtifie that the Father ſent his Sonne to be the Sauiour of the world.
15 Whoſoeuer confeſſeth that Ieſus is the Sonne of God, in him dwelleth God, and he in God.
16 And wee haue knowen and beleeued the loue that God hath to vs. God is loue, and he that dwelleth in loue, dwelleth in God, and God in him.
17 Heerein is the loue perfect in vs, that we ſhould haue boldneſſe in the day of iudgement:
for as he is, euen ſo are we in this world.
18 There is no feare in loue, but perfect loue caſteth out feare: for feare hath painfulneſſe. He that feareth, is not perfect in loue.
19 We loue him, for he loued vs firſt.
20 If a man ſay, I loue God, and yet hate his brother, he is a liar: for how can he that loueth not his brother whom he hath ſeene, loue God whom he hath not ſeene?
21 *And this commandement haue wee of him, that he which loueth God, ſhould loue his brother alſo.
John 13.34 and 15.12.

The v. Chapter.

Of the fruits of faith.

Whoſoeuer beleeueth that Ieſus is Chriſt, is borne of God: and e-uery one that loueth him which begat, loueth him alſo which is begotten of him.
Mat.12.57. 2 *By this wee know that we loue the children of God, when we loue God, and keepe his commandements.
3 For this is the loue of God, that we keepe
1.Cor.15. 57. his commandements: and *his commandements are not grieuous.
The Epiſtle on the firſt Sunday after Eaſter. 4 For all that is borne of God, ouercommeth the world: and this is the victorie that hath o-uercome the world, euen our faith.
5 Who is it that ouercommeth the world, but he which beleeueth that Ieſus is the ſonne of God?
6 This Ieſus Chriſt is he that came by water and [a] blood: not by water only, but by water and blood: and it is the ſpirit that beareth witneſſe, becauſe the ſpirit is [b] trueth.
a The water and blood that came out of his ſide, declare that we haue our ſinnes waſhed by him, and he hath made full ſatisfaction for the ſame.
b Which teſtifieth to our hearts, that we be the children of God.
7 For there are three which beare record in heauen, The Father, the Word, and the Holy ghoſt, and theſe three are one.
8 And there are three which beare record in earth, The Spirit, and Water, and Blood, and theſe three agree in one.
9 If we receiue the witneſſe of men, the witneſſe of God is greater: For this is the witneſſe of God, which he teſtifieth of his Sonne.
10 *He that beleeueth on the Sonne of God, hath the witneſſe in himſelfe: Hee that belee ueth not God, hath made him a liar, becauſe he beleeued not the record that God gaue of his Sonne.
John 3.37.
11 And this is the record, that God hath gi-uen vnto vs eternall life, and this life is in his Sonne.

that hath not the Sonne of God, hath not life.

that beleeue on the name of the sonne of God, that ye may know that ye haue eternall life, and that ye may beleeue on the name of the sonne of God.

14 And this is the trust that we haue in him: 1.Iohn 3.22 that *if we aske any thing according to his will, he heareth vs.

15 And if we know that he heare vs, whatsoeuer we aske, we know that we haue the petitions that we desire of him.

16 If any man see his brother sinne a sinne which is not vnto death, he shall aske, and he shall giue him life for them that sinne not vnto death. There is a sinne vnto death: I say not that yee should pray for it.

17 *All vnrighteousnesse is sinne: and there is sinne not vnto death. Mat.12.31, mark.3.29.

18 We know that whosoeuer is borne of God, sinneth not: but hee that is begotten of God, keepeth himselfe, and that wicked toucheth him not.

19 Wee know that wee are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickednesse.

20 We know that the sonne of God is come, and hath *giuen vs a mind to know him which is true: and we are in him that is true, through his sonne Iesus Christ: This same is very God, and eternall life. Luke 19.45

The second Epistle of Saint Iohn.

1 He writeth vnto a certaine Lady, 4 reioicing that her children walke in the truth, 5 and exhorteth them vnto loue.

THe elder vnto the elect Lady and her children, whom I loue in the [a] truth, and not I only, but also al that haue known the trueth:

a According to godlinesse, and not with any worldly affections.

2 For the trueths sake which d'welleth in vs, and shalbe with vs for euer:

3 Grace be with you, mercy, and peace from God the father, and from the Lord Iesus Christ, the sonne of the father in [b] trueth and loue.

b We cannot receiue ȝ grace of God, except wee haue the true knowledge of him, of the which knowledge loue proceedeth.

4 I reioiced greatly that I found of thy children walking in the [c] trueth, as wee haue receiued a commandement of the father.

c According to Gods word.

5 And nowe I beseech thee, Lady, not as though I wrote a newe commandement vnto thee: but that same which we haue had from the beginning, that we should loue one another.

6 And this is the loue, that we should walke after his commandements: This is the commandement, that as ye haue heard from the beginning, ye should walke in it.

7 For many deceiuers are entred into the world, which confesse not that Iesus Christ is come in the flesh. This is a deceiuer, and an Antichrist.

8 Looke on your selues, that we lose not that we haue wrought: but that we may haue a full reward.

9 Whosoeuer transgresseth, and abideth not in the doctrine of Christ, hath not God: He that endureth in the doctrine of Christ, hath both the father and the sonne.

10 If there come any vnto you, and bring not this learning, *him receiue not to house, neither bid him God speede. Rom.16.17

11 For he that biddeth him God speede, is partaker of his euill deedes.

12 Hauing many things to write vnto you, I would not write with paper and inke: but I trust to come vnto you, and speake with you mouth to mouth, that our ioy may be full.

13 The sonnes of thy elect sister greete thee, Amen.

The third Epiſtle of Saint Iohn.

2 He is glad of Gaius that he walked in the trueth, 8 and exhorteth to be louing vnto the poore chriſten in their perſecution.

THE elder vnto the welbeloued Gaius, whom I loue in the trueth.

2 Beloued, I wiſh in all things that thou proſpereſt and fareſt well, euen as thy ſoule proſpereth.

3 For I reioiced greatly when the brethren came, and teſtified of the trueth that is in thee, how thou walkeſt in the trueth.

4 I haue no greater ioy, then for to heare how that my ſonnes walke [a] in veritie.

5 Beloued, thou doeſt faithfully whatſoeuer thou doeſt to the brethren, and to ſtrangers:

6 Which haue borne witneſſe of thy charitie before the Church: whom if thou bring forwards on their iourney after a godly ſort, thou ſhalt doe well:

7 Becauſe that for his names ſake they went forth, taking nothing of the Gentiles.

8 We therefore ought to receiue ſuch, that we might be helpers to the trueth.

9 I wrote vnto the Church: but Diotrephes which loueth to haue the preeminence among them, receiueth vs not.

10 Wherefore if I come, I will declare his deeds which he doeth, ieſting on vs with malitious wordes: and not content therewith, neither he himſelfe receiueth the brethren, and forbiddeth them that would, and thruſteth them out of the Church.

11 Beloued, follow not that which is euill, but that which is good. He that doeth well, is of God, but he that doeth euill, hath not ſeene God.

12 Demetrius hath good report of all men, and of the trueth it ſelfe: Yea, and we our ſelues alſo beare record, and yee know we that our record is true.

13 I had many things to write: but I will not with inke and pen write vnto thee.

14 I truſt I ſhall ſhortly ſee thee, and we ſhall ſpeak mouth to mouth. Peace be vnto thee. The louers ſalute thee. Greete our friends by name.

The Epiſtle of Saint Iude.

Saint Iude admoniſheth all Churches generally to take heede of deceiuers, which goe about to drawe away the heartes of the ſimple people from the trueth of God.

The Epiſtle of S. Simon and Iudes day.

IUDE the ſeruant of Ieſus Chriſt, the brother of Iames, to them which are called and ſanctified in God the father, & preſerued in Ieſus Chriſt.

2 Mercie vnto you, and peace, and charitie be multiplied.

3 Beloued, when I gaue all diligence to write vnto you of the common ſaluation, it was needful for me to write vnto you, exhorting you that yee ſhould earneſtly [a] contend for the faith which was once giuen vnto the ſaints.

4 For there are certaine vngodly men craftily crept in, which were before of olde ordained to this condemnation, turning the grace of our God vnto wantonneſſe: & denying God, which is the onely Lord, and our Lord Ieſus Chriſt.

5 My minde is therefore to put you in remembrance hereof, foraſmuch as ye once know this, how that the Lord after that he had deliuered the people out of Egypt, * deſtroyed them which afterward beleeued not. Num. 14. 37. 2. Per. 2. 4.

6 * The Angels alſo which kept not their firſt eſtate, but left their owne habitation, hee hath reſerued in euerlaſting chains vnder darkneſſe, vnto the iudgement of the great day.

19 Write therefore the things which thou hast seene, and the things which are, and the things which shalbe fulfilled hereafter.

20 The mystery of the seuen starres which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seuen golden candlesticks. The seuen starres are the Angels of the seuen Churches: and the seuen candlesticks which thou sawest, are the seuen Churches.

The ij. Chapter.

1 He exhorteth foure Churches 5 to repentance, 10 to perseuerance, patience and amendment, 14 20 23 aswell by threatnings, 7 10 17 26 as by promises of reward.

VNto the Angel of the Church of Ephesus, write, These things sayeth he that holdeth the seuen starres in his right hand, and that walketh in the midst of the seuen golden candlesticks:

2 I know thy workes, and thy labour, and patience, and how thou canst not forbeare them which are euill: and hast examined them which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars:

3 And hast suffered, and hast patience, and for my Names sake hast laboured, and hast not fainted.

4 Neuertheless, I haue somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first loue.

5 Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and doe the first workes: or els I will come vnto thee shortly, and will remoue thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent.

6 But this thou hast, because thou hatest the deeds of the Nicolaitans, which deeds I also hate.

7 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirit sayth vnto the Churches: To him that ouercommeth, will I giue to eat of the tree of life, which is in the middest of the Paradise of God.

8 And vnto the angel of the church of Smyrna, write, These things sayth he that is first and the last, which was dead, and is [a] aliue:

9 I know thy workes, and tribulation, and pouertie, (but thou art [b] rich:) and I know the blasphemie of them which call themselues Iewes, and are not, but are the Synagogue of Satan.

10 Feare none of those things which thou shalt suffer: beholde, the deuill shall cast some of you into prison to tempt you, and ye shall haue tribulation ten dayes: be thou faithfull vnto the death, and I will giue thee a crowne of life.

11 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirit sayth vnto the Churches. Hee that ouercommeth, shall not be hurt of the second death.

12 And to the Angel of the Church of Pergamos, write, These things sayth he which hath the sharpe [c] sword with two edges.

13 I know thy workes, and where thou dwellest, euen where Satans seat is, and that thou holdest fast my Name, and hast not denied my faith, euen in those dayes, when Antipas my faithfull martyr was slaine among you, where Satan dwelleth.

14 But I haue a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that maintaine the doctrine of *Balaam, which taught ‖Balac to put a stumbling blocke before the children of Israel, that they should eat of meat sacrificed vnto idols, and commit fornication.

Num.24.14. ‖Someread, taught in Balac.

15 Euen so hast thou them that maintain the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate.

16 Repent, or els I will come vnto thee shortly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth.

17 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the spirit sayth vnto the Churches. To him that ouercommeth, will I giue to eat Manna that is hid, and will giue him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth, sauing he that receiueth it.

18 And vnto the Angel of the Church of Thyatira, write, These things sayth the Sonne of God, who hath eyes like vnto a flame of fire, and his feet are like fine brasse:

19 I know thy workes, and thy charity, seruice, and faith, and thy patience, and thy deeds, which are moe at the last then at the first.

20 Notwithstanding, I haue a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman Iezabel, which called herselfe a Prophetesse, to teach, and to deceiue my seruants, to make them commit fornication, and to eat meat sacrificed vnto idols.

21 And I gaue her space to repent of her fornication, and she repented not.

22 Beholde, I will cast her into a bed, & them that commit fornication with her into great aduersitie, except they repent of their deeds.

23 And I will kill her children with death, and all the Churches shall know that *I am hee which searcheth the reines and hearts: and I will giue vnto euery one of you according to his workes.

Iere.11.20. and 17.10.

24 Vnto you I say, and vnto other of them of Thyatira, as many as haue not this learning, and which haue not known the deepenesse of Satan, as they say, I will put vpon you none other burden:

The iij. Chapter.

Hee exhorteth the Churches or miniſters to the true profeſſion of faith, and to watching.

AND write vnto the Angel of the Church that is at Sardis, Theſe things ſaith he that hath the ſeuen Spirits of God, and the ſeuen ſtarres, I know thy workes, euen that thou haſt a name that thou liueſt, and thou art dead.
2 Bee awake, and ſtrengthen the things which remaine, that are ready to die: For I haue not found thy workes perfect before God.

7 And write vnto the Angel of the Church of Philadelphia, Theſe things ſaith hee that is Holy and True, which hath the key of Dauid, which openeth, and no man ſhutteth, and ſhutteth, and no man openeth.
8 I know thy works: behold, I haue ſet before thee an open doore, and no man can ſhut it: for thou haſt a little ſtrength, and haſt kept my ſayings, and haſt not denied my Name.
9 Behold, I will make them of the ſynagogue of Satan, which call themſelues Ieweſ, and are not, but do lie: behold, I will make them that they ſhall come and worſhip before thy feete, and ſhall know that I haue loued thee.
10 Becauſe thou haſt kept the wordes of my patience, therefore I will keepe thee from the houre of temptation, which will come vpon all the world, to trie them that dwell vpon the earth.
11 Behold, I come ſhortly, holde that faſt which thou haſt, that no man take away thy crowne.
12 Him that ouercommeth, will I make a pillar in the Temple of my God, and he ſhall goe no more out: and I will write vpon him the Name of my God, and the name of the Citie of my God, which is new Hieruſalem, which cõmeth downe out of heauen from my God: and I wil write vpon him my New name.
13 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit ſaith vnto the Churches.
14 And vnto the Angel of the Church which is in Laodicea, write, Theſe things ſaith Amen, the faithfull and true witneſſe, the beginning of the creatures of God.
15 I know thy workes, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou were cold or hot.
16 So then becauſe thou art luke warme, and neither colde nor hot, I wil ſpew thee out of my mouth:
17 Becauſe thou ſayeſt, I am rich, and increaſed with goods, and haue neede of nothing: and knoweſt not how that thou art wretched, and miſerable and poore, and blinde, and naked.

22 Let him that hath an eare, heare what the Spirit ſaith vnto the Churches.

The iiij. Chapter.

1 The viſion of the Maieſtie of God. 2 He ſeeth the Throne, and one ſitting vpon it, 8 and foure and twentie ſeates about it, with foure and twentie Elders ſitting vpon them, and foure beaſtes praiſing God day and night.

The Epiſtle on Trinitie Sunday.

AFter this I looked, and behold, a doore was open in heauen: and the firſt voyce which I heard, was as it were of a Trumpet, talking with me, which ſaide, Come vp hither, and I will ſhew thee things which muſt be fulfilled hereafter.
2 And immediatly I was in the ſpirit: and behold, a Throne was ſet in heauen, and one ſate on the Throne.
3 And he that ſate was to looke vpon like a Jaſper ſtone, and a Sardine ſtone: and there was a rainebow about the Throne, in ſight like vnto Emeralde.
4 And about the Throne were foure and twentie ſeates, and vpon the ſeates I ſaw foure and twentie Elders ſitting, clothed in white raiment, and they had on their heads crownes of golde.
5 And out of the throne doe proceede lightnings, and thundrings, and voyces: and there were ſeuen lampes of fire burning before the Throne, which are the ſeuen Spirits of God.
6 And before the Throne there was a ſea of glaſſe, like vnto Chriſtall: and in the middeſt of the throne, and round about the Throne, were foure beaſtes full of eyes before and behinde.
7 And the firſt beaſt was like a Lion, and the ſecond beaſt like a Calfe, and the third beaſt had a face as a man, and the fourth beaſt was like a flying Egle.
8 And the foure beaſts had eche of them ſixe wings about him, and they were full of eyes within, and they had no reſt day neither night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almightie, which was, and is, and is to come.

9 And when those beasts gaue glory and honour, & thankes to him that sate on the Throne, which liueth for euer and euer,

10 The foure and twentie Elders fell downe before him that sate on the Throne, and worshipped him that liueth for euer and euer, and cast their crownes before the Throne, saying,

Apoc. 5.12. 11 *Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receiue glory, and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasures sake they are and were created.

The v. Chapter.

1 He seeth the Lambe opening the booke, 8. 14 and therefore the foure beastes, the foure and twentie Elders, and the Angels praise the Lambe, and doe him worship, 9 for their redemption and other benefits.

AND I saw in the right hand of him that sate on the Throne, a booke written within, and on the backe side, sealed with seuen seales.

2 And I sawe a strong Angel preaching with a lowd voyce, Who is worthy to open the Booke, and to loose the seales thereon?

3 And no man in heauen, nor in earth, neither vnder the earth, was able to open the booke, neither to looke thereon.

4 And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open, and to reade the Booke, neither to looke thereon.

5 And one of the Elders sayeth vnto mee, Weepe not: behold, that Lion that is of the tribe of Iuda, the roote of Dauid, hath obteined to open the Booke, and to loose the seuen seales thereon.

6 And I beheld, and loe, in the middes of the Throne, and of the foure beastes, and in the mids of the Elders stood a Lambe as though he had bene killed, hauing seuen hornes and seuen eyes, which are the seuen Spirits of God, sent into all the earth.

7 And hee came, and tooke the Booke out of the right hande of him that sate vpon the Throne.

8 And when hee had taken the Booke, the foure beastes and foure and twentie Elders fell downe before the Lambe, hauing euery one of them harpes and golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of Saints:

9 And they sung a newe song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the Booke, and to open the seales thereof: for thou wast killed, and hast redeemed vs to God by thy blood, out of all kinreds, and tongues, and peoples, and nations:

1. Pet. 2.9. 10 And hast made vs vnto our God *Kings and Priests, and we shall reigne on the earth.

11 And I beheld, and I heard the voyce of many Angels about the Throne, and about the beastes and the Elders, and heard thousande thousands,

12 Saying with a lowd voyce, Worthy is the Lambe that was killed to receiue power, and riches, and wisdome, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing.

13 And all the creatures which are in heauen, and on the earth, and vnder the earth, and in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, honour, glory, and power be vnto him that sitteth vpon the Throne, and vnto the Lambe for euermore.

14 And the foure beasts said, Amen. And the foure and twentie Elders fell vpon their faces, and worshipped him that liueth for euermore.

The vj. Chapter.

The Lambe openeth the sixe seales, and many things follow the opening thereof.

AND I sawe when the Lambe opened one of the seals, and I heard one of the foure beastes say, as it were the noyse of thunder, Come and see.

2 And I saw, and beholde, there was a white horse, and hee that sate on him had a bow, and a crowne was giuen vnto him, and he went forth conquering, and for to ouercome.

3 And when he had opened the second seale, I heard the second beast say, Come and see.

4 And there went out another horse that was red: and power was giuen to him that sate thereon to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was giuen vnto him a great sword.

5 And when he had opened the thirde seale, I heard the thirde beast say, Come and see. And I beheld, and loe, a blacke horse: and he that sate on him had a paire of ballances in his hand.

6 And I heard a voyce in the middes of the foure beasts say, A measure of wheat for a penie, and three measures of barley for a penie, and oile and wine see thou hurt not.

7 And when he had opened the fourth seale, I heard the voyce of the fourth beast say, Come and see.

8 And I looked, and behold a pale horse, and his name that sate on him was death, and hell followed with him: and power was giuen vnto him ouer the fourth part of the earth, to kil with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beastes of the earth.

9 And when he had opened the fifth seale, I saw vnder the Altar the soules of them that were killed for the word of God, and for the testimonie which they had.

10 And they cried with a lowde voice, saying, Howe long tarriest thou Lord holy and true, to iudge and to auenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth?

11 And long white garments were giuen vnto euery one of them, and it was saide vnto them that they should rest yet for a little season, vntil their fellow seruants, & their brethren that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled.

12 And I beheld when hee had opened the sixth seale, and lo, there was a great earthquake, and the Sunne was as black as sackcloth made of haire, & the Moone waxed all euen as blood.

13 And the starres of heauen fell vnto the earth, euen as a figge tree casteth her vntimely figs when she is shaken of a mightie winde.

14 And heauen vanished away as a scrowle, when it is rolled together, and all mountaines and Iles were mooued out of their places.

15 And the Kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chiefe captaines, and the mightie men, and euery bond man, and euery free man, hid themselues in the dennes, and in the rockes of the hilles:

and hide vs from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lambe:
17 For the great day of his wrath is come, and who is able to endure?

The vij. Chapter.

4. 9 He seeth the seruants of God sealed in their foreheads, out of all nations, and people, 15 which though they suffer trouble, yet the Lambe feedeth them, leadeth them to the fountaines of liuing water, 17 and God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes.

AND after that, I saw foure angels standing on the foure corners of the earth, holding the foure winds of the earth, that the winde should not blow on the earth, neither on the sea, neither on any tree.

The Epistle on al Saints day.

2 And I saw another angel ascending from the rising of the Sunne, hauing the seale of the liuing God: and he cried with a loud voice to the foure angels to whom power was giuen to hurt the earth and the sea,

3 Saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, neither the trees, till we shal haue sealed the seruants of our God in their foreheards.

4 And I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed an hundred and fourtie and foure thousand, of all the tribes of the children of Israel.

5 Of the tribe of Juda were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Ruben were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelue thousand.

6 Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Nepthali were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelue thousand.

7 Of ꝑ tribe of Simeon were sealed twelue thousande. Of the tribe of Leui were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelue thousand.

8 Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Joseph were sealed twelue thousand. Of the tribe of Beniamin were sealed twelue thousand.

9 After this I beheld, and loe, a great multitude which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lambe, clothed with white garmentes, and palmes in their hands:

10 And cried with a loud voice, saying, Saluation be ascribed to him that sitteth vpon the throne of our God, and vnto the Lambe.

11 And all the angels stood in the compasse of the throne, and of the Elders, and of the foure beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, 12 Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisedome, and thanks, and honour, and power, and might, be vnto our God for euermore, Amen.

13 And one of the Elders answered, saying vnto mee, What are these which are arated in white garments? and whence came they?

14 And I said vnto him, Lord, thou wotest. And he said to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and haue washed their long robes, and made [a] them white by the blood of the Lambe.

a That is, the said long robes.

15 Therefore are they in the presence of the throne of God, and serue him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth in the throne will dwell among them.

16 * They shall hunger no more, neither thirst, neither shall the Sunne light on them, neither any heate. Esai.49.10.

17 For the Lambe which is in the middest of the throne shall feede them, and shall leade them vnto liuing fountaines of waters: * ꝓ God shall wipe away all teares from their eyes. Esai.25.8. apoc.21.4.

The viij. Chapter.

1 The seuenth seale is opened, there is silence in heauen. 6 The foure angels blow their Trumpets, and great plagues follow vpon the earth.

AND when he had opened the seuenth seale, there was silence in heauen about the space of halfe an houre.

2 And I saw the seuen angels which stood before God, and to them were giuen seuen trumpets.

3 And another angel came and stood before the altar, hauing a golden censer, and many odours were giuen vnto him, that he should offer with the prayers of all Saints vpon the golden altar which was before the throne.

4 And the smoke of the odours which came of the prayers of Saints, ascended vp before God, out of the angels hand.

5 And the angel tooke the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth: and voices were made, and thunderings, and lightnings, and earthquake.

6 And the seuen angels which had the seuen trumpets, prepared themselues to blow.

7 The first angel blew, and there was made haile and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast into the earth, and the thirde part of trees was burnt, and all greene grasse was burnt.

8 And the second angel blew, and as it were a great mountaine burning with fire was cast into the sea, and the third part of the sea turned to blood.

9 And the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, died, and the third part of the ships were destroyed.

10 And the third angel blew, and there fell a great starre from heauen, burning as it were a lampe, and it fell into the third part of the riuers, and into fountaines of waters:

11 And the name of the starre is called Wormwood, and the third part was turned to wormewood, ꝓ many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

12 And the fourth angel blew, and the third part of the Sunne was smitten, and the third part of the Moone, and the third part of starres, that the third part of them should be darkened: and the day was smitten that the third part of it should not shine, and like wise the night.

13 And I beheld, and heard an angel flying through the mids of heauen, saying with a loud voice, Woe, woe, woe to the inhabiters of the earth, because of the voices to come of the trump of the three angels which were yet to blow.

The ix. Chapter.

12 The first woe is past. 14 The foure angels that were bound are loosed. 18 And the third part of men is killed.

Bodleian Library Arch. A b.18

fol. Nnnn6v

AND the firſt angel blew, and I ſawe a ſtarre fall from heauen vnto the earth: and to him was giuen the key of the bottomleſſe pit.

2 And hee opened the bottomleſſe pit, and the ſmoke of the pit aroſe, as the ſmoke of a great fornace, and the Sunne and the ayre were darkened, by the reaſon of the ſmoke of the pit.

3 And there came out of the ſmoke Locuſts vpon the earth, and vnto them was giuen power, as the Scorpions of the earth haue power.

4 And it was commanded them that they ſhould not hurt the graſſe of the earth, neither any greene thing, neither any tree: but onely thoſe men which haue not the ſeale of God in their foreheads.

5 And to them it was giuen that they ſhould not kill them, but that they ſhould be vexed fiue moneths, and their paine was as the paine that commeth of a Scorpion, when he ſhall haue ſtricken a man

Eſai. 2.19. oſee 10.8, 6 *And in thoſe dayes ſhall men ſeeke death, and ſhall not find it, and ſhall deſire to die, and death ſhall flee from them.

Wiſd. 26.9. 7 *And the ſimilitude of Locuſts was like vnto horſes prepared vnto battell, and on their heads were as it were crownes like vnto golde, and their faces were as it had bene the faces of men.

8 And they had haire as the haire of women, and their teeth were as the teeth of Lions.

9 And they had habergions, as it were habergions of iron, and the ſound of their wings was as the ſound of charets when many horſes runne to battell.

10 And they had tailes like vnto Scorpions, and there were ſtings in their tailes: and their power was to hurt men fiue moneths.

11 And they had a king ouer them, which is the angel of the bottomleſſe pit, whoſe name in the Hebrewe tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greeke tongue hath his name Appollyon, that is to ſay, A deſtroyer.

12 One woe is paſt, and beholde, two woes come yet after this.

13 And the firſt angel blewe, and I heard a voice from the foure hornes of the golden altar, which is before God,

14 Saying to the firſt angel which had the trumpe, Looſe the foure angels which are bound in the great riuer Euphrates.

15 And the foure angels were looſed, which were prepared for an houre, and a day, and a moneth, and a yere, for to ſlay the third part of men.

16 And the number of the horſemen of the armies were twenty thouſand times ten thouſand: And I heard the number of them.

17 And thus I ſaw the horſes in the viſion, and them that ſate on them, hauing fierie habergions of a Jacint colour, and brimſtone, and the heads of the horſes were as the heads of Lions, and out of their mouthes commeth fourth fire, and ſmoke, and brimſtone.

18 And of theſe three was the third part of men killed, that is to ſay, of the fire, & of the ſmoke and of the brimſtone which proceeded out of the mouthes of them.

19 For their powers be in their mouthes, and in their tailes: for their tailes were like vnto Serpents, hauing heads, and with them they doe hurt.

20 And the remnant of the men which were not killed by theſe plagues, repented not of the deedes of their hands, that they ſhould not worſhip deuils, *and idols of golde, and ſiluer, and braſſe, and ſtone, and of wood, which neither can ſee, neither heare, neither goe: Pſa. 113.4 & 134.15.

21 Alſo they repented not of their murders, and of their ſorceries, neither of their fornication, neither of their theftes.

The x. Chapter.

1 The Angel hath the booke open: 6 He ſweareth there ſhalbe no more time: 9 He giueth the booke vnto Iohn, which eateth it vp.

AND I ſawe another mighty Angel come downe from heauen, clothed with a cloude, and the rainebowe vpon his head: and his face as it were the Sunne, and his feete as it were pillars of braſſe.

2 And he had in his hand a little booke open: and he put his right foote vpon the ſea, and his left foote on the earth:

3 And cried with a loud voice, as when a Lion roareth: and when he had cried, ſeuen thunders vttered their voices.

4 And when the ſeuen thunders had vttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heauen, ſaying vnto mee, Seale vp thoſe things which the ſeuen thunders vttered, and write them not.

5 And the angel which I ſawe ſtand vpon the ſea, and vpon the earth, lift vp his hand to heauen,

6 And ſware by him that liueth for euermore, which created heauen and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the ſea, and things which therein are, that there ſhould be no longer time,

7 But in the daies of the voice of the ſeuenth Angel, when he ſhall begin to blowe, and the miſterie of God ſhall be finiſhed, as he declareth to his ſeruants the Prophets.

8 And the voice which I heard from heauen ſpake vnto me againe, and ſayd, Go, and take the little booke which is open in the hand of the Angel which ſtandeth vpon the ſea, and vpon the earth.

9 And I went vnto the Angel, and ſaid vnto him, Giue me the little booke. And he ſayd vnto me, Take it, and eate it vp, and it ſhal *make thy belly bitter, but it ſhalbe in thy mouth as ſweet as honie. Ezech. 2.9.

10 And I tooke the little booke out of the angels hand, and ate it vp, and it was in my mouth as ſweete as honie: and as ſoone as I had eaten it, my bellie was bitter.

11 And he ſayd vnto me, Thou muſt prophecie againe among the people, and nations, and tongues, and to many Kings.

The xj. Chapter.

1 The Temple is meaſured. 3 Two witneſſes raiſed vp by the Lord, are murdered by the beaſt.

AND then was giuen me a reed like vnto a rod, and the Angel ſtood by, ſaying, Riſe, and mete the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worſhip therein.

2 But the court which is without the temple cast out, and mete it not: for it is giuen vnto the Gentiles, and the holy citie shall they treade vnder foote forty and two moneths.

3 And I will giue power vnto my two witnesses, and they shall prophecie a thousand, two hundred, & threescore dayes, clothed in sackcloth.

4 These are two Oliue trees, and two candlesticks, standing before the God of the earth.

5 And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouthes, and consumeth their enemies: and if any man will hurt them, thus wise must he be killed.

6 These haue power to shut heauen, that it raine not in the dayes of their prophecying: and haue power ouer waters, to turne them to blood, and to smite the earth with all manner plagues, as often as they will.

7 And when they haue finished their testimonie, the beast that commeth out of the bottomlesse pit, shall make warre against them, and shall ouercome them and kill them.

8 And their bodies shall lye in the streets of the great Citie, which spiritually is called Sodome and Egypt, where also our Lord was crucified.

9 And they of the people, and kinreds, and tongues, and they of the nations, shall see their bodies three dayes and an halfe, and shal not suffer their bodies to be put in graues.

10 And they that dwell vpon the earth shall reioyce ouer them, and bee glad, and shall send gifts one to another: for these two prophets vexed them that dwelt on the earth:

11 And after three dayes and an halfe, the Spirite of life comming from God, entred into them: and they stood vpon their feet, and great feare fell vpon them which saw them.

12 And they heard a great voice from heauen, saying vnto them, Come vp hither. And they ascended vp to heauen in a cloud, and their enemies saw them.

13 And the same houre was there a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the citie fell, and in the earthquake were slaine names of men seuen thousand: and the remnant were afraid, and gaue glory to the God of heauen.

14 The second woe is past, and behold, the third woe commeth anon.

15 And the seuenth Angel blewe, and there were made great voices in heauen, saying, The kingdomes of this world are our Lords, and his Christes, and he shall reigne for euermore.

16 And the foure and twentie Elders which sit before God on their seats, fell vpon their faces, and worshipped God,

17 Saying, Wee giue thee thankes, O Lord God almightie, which art, and wast, and art to come: for thou hast receiued thy great might, and hast reigned.

18 And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead that they should bee iudged, and that thou shouldest giue reward vnto thy seruants the Prophets and Saints, and to them that feare thy name, small and great, and shouldest destroy them which destroy the earth.

19 And the Temple of God was opened in heauen, and there was seene in his temple the arke of his testament, and there followed lightnings, and voices, and thundrings, and earthquake and much haile.

The xij. Chapter.

There appeareth in heauen a woman clothed with the Sunne, &c.

AND there appeared a great ‖ wonder in heauen, a woman clothed with the Sunne, and the Moone vnder her feete, and vpon her head a crowne of twelue starres: ‖Or, signe.

2 And shee beeing with childe, cryeth, trauailing in birth, and pained ready to bee deliuered.

3 And there appeared another woonder in heauen, for behold a great red Dragon, hauing seuen heads, and ten hornes, and seuen crownes vpon his heads.

4 And his taile draweth the third part of the starres of heauen, and he cast them to the earth: And the Dragon stood before the woman which was ready to bee deliuered, for to deuoure her child as soone as it were borne.

5 And she brought forth a man child, which shall rule all nations with a rodde of yron: and her sonne was taken vp vnto God, and to his throne.

6 And the woman fled into the wildernesse, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feede her there a thousand two hundred and threescore dayes.

7 And there was a battell in heauen, Michael and his angels fought with the Dragon, and the Dragon fought and his angels, The Epistle on S. Michael and all angels.

8 And preuailed not, neither was their place found any more in heauen.

9 And the great Dragon, that old Serpent, called the Deuill and Satanas, was cast out, which deceiueth all the world: and he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him.

10 And I heard a loude voice saying in heauen, Now is come saluation, and strength, and the kingdome of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast downe, which accused them before our God day and night.

11 And they ouercame him by the blood of the lambe, and by the word of his testimony, and they loued not their liues vnto the death.

12 Therefore reioyce ye heauens, and ye that dwel in them. Wo to the inhabiters of the earth, and of the sea: for the deuill is come downe vnto you, which hath great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time.

13 And when the Dragon sawe that he was cast vnto the earth, hee persecuted the woman which brought forth the man childe.

14 And to the woman were giuen two wings of a great Eagle, that she might flee into the wildernesse into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and halfe a time, from the face of the Serpent.

15 And the Serpent cast out of his mouth water after the woman, as it had bene a flood: that he might cause her to be caried away of the flood.

16 And the earth holpe the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed vp the riuer which the Dragon cast out of his mouth.

17 And the Dragon was wroth with the woman, and went and made warre with the remnant of her seed, which keepe the comman-

The xiij. Chapter.

1. 8 The beast deceiueth the reprobate, 2. 4. 12 and is confirmed by another. 17 The priuiledge of the beastes marke.

AND I saw a beast rise out of the sea, hauing seuen heads, & ten hornes, and vpon his hornes ten crownes, and vpon his heads, the name of blasphemie.

2 And the beast which I sawe, was like a Leopard, & his feete were as the feete of a Beare, and his mouth as the mouth of a Lyon: and the Dragon gaue him his power, and his seate, and great authoritie.

3 And I sawe one of his heads as it were wounded to death, and his deadly wound was healed: and all the worlde wondred after the beast.

4 And they worshipped the Dragon which gaue power vnto the beast, and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like vnto the beast? who is able to warre with him?

5 And there was giuen vnto him a mouth, speaking great things, and blasphemies, and power was giuen vnto him, to doe fourtie and two moneths.

6 And hee opened his mouth vnto blasphemie against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heauen.

7 And it was giuen vnto him to make warre with the Saints, and to ouercome them: And power was giuen him ouer all kinreds, and tongues, and nations.

8 And all that dwell vpon the earth, shall worship him, whose names are not written in the booke of life of the Lambe, which was killed from the beginning of the world.

9 If any man haue an eare, let him heare.

Gen.9.6. mat.26.5.

10 *He that leadeth into captiuitie, shall goe into captiuitie: Hee that killeth with a sworde, must be killed with a sword. Here is the patience and the faith of the Saints.

11 And I beheld another beast comming vp out of the earth, and hee had two hornes like a lambe, and he spake as did the Dragon.

12 And hee doeth all that the first beast could doe in his presence, and he causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worshippe the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed.

13 And he doeth great wonders, so that hee maketh fire come downe from heauen on the earth in the sight of men,

14 And deceiueth them that dwell on the earth, by the meanes of those signes which hee had power to doe in the sight of the beast, saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an Image to the beast which hath the wound of a sword, and did liue.

15 And he had power to giue a spirit vnto the Image of the beast, that the Image of the beast should both speake, and should cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast, should be killed.

16 And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poore, free and bonde, that hee should giue them a marke in their right hand, or in their foreheads.

17 And that no man might buy or sell, saue he that had the marke, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name.

18 Here is wisedome. Let him that hath wit, count the number of the beast: For it is the number of a man, and his number is fiue hundred threescore and sixe.

The xiiij. Chapter.

1 The notable companie of the lambe, 6 One Angel announceth the Gospel, 8 Another the fall of Babylon, 9 And the third warneth to flee from the beast. 18 Of the Lords haruest.

AND I looked, and loe, a Lambe stood on the mount Sion, and with him an hundreth fourtie and foure thousand, hauing his fathers name written in their foreheads. The Epistle on Innocents day.

2 And I heard a voyce from heauen, as the sound of many waters, & as the voice of a great thunder: and I heard the voice of Harpers, harping with their Harpes:

3 And they sung as it were a newe song before the throne, and before the foure beasts, and the Elders, and no man could learne that song, but the hundred and fourty and foure thousand, which were redeemed from the earth.

4 These are they which were not defiled with women: for they are virgines: These are they which follow the Lambe whithersoeuer he goeth: These were redeemed from men, beeing the first fruits vnto God, and to the Lambe.

5 And in their mouth was found no guile: for they are without spotte before the throne of God.

6 And I saw another Angel flee in the middest of heauen, hauing the euerlasting Gospel, to preach vnto them that dwel on the earth, and to all nations, and kinreds, and tongues, and people,

7 Saying with a loude voice, *Feare God, and giue glory to him, for the houre of his iudgement is come: *and worshippe him that made heauen and earth, and the sea, and fountaines of waters. Psal.146.6. Acts 14.15.

8 And there followed another Angel, saying, *Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great citie, for shee made all nations drinke of the wine of the wrath of her fornication. Esa.21.8. ierem.51.8.

9 And the third Angel followed them, saying with a loude voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receiue his marke in his forehead, or in his hand,

10 The same shall drinke of the wine of the wrath of God: yea, of the pure wine which is powred in the cup of his wrath, and hee shall be punished in fire and brimstone, before the holy Angels, and before the Lambe,

11 And the smoke of their torment ascendeth by euermore: And they haue no rest day nor night which worship the beast and his image, and whosoeuer receiueth the print of his name.

12 Here is the patience of the saints: Heere are they that keepe the commaundements of God, and the faith of Jesus.

13 And I heard a voice from heauen, saying vnto mee, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord. Euen so sayeth the spirit, that they may rest from their labour, and their workes followe them.

fol. Oooo2r

14 And I looked, and behold a white cloude, and vpon the cloude one sitting like vnto the sonne of man, hauing on his head a golden crowne, and in his hand a sharpe sickle.

15 And another angel came out of the Temple crying with a loude voice to him that sate on the cloud: *Thrust in thy sickle and reape, for the time is come to reape, for the * haruest of the earth is ‖ ripe.

Ioel 3.13. Mat.13.39. ‖ Or, dryed.

16 And hee that sate on the cloude thrust in his sickle on the earth, and the earth was reaped.

17 And another Angel came out of the Temple which is in heauen, hauing also a sharpe sickle.

18 And another Angel came out from the altar, which had power ouer fire, and cryed with a loude cry to him that had the sharpe sickle, saying, Thrust in thy sharpe sickle, and gather the clusters of the vineyarde of the earth, for her grapes are ripe.

19 And the Angel thrust in his sharpe sickle on the earth, and cut downe the vineyard of the earth, and cast it into the great winefatte of the wrath of God.

20 And the winefat was troden without the citie, and blood came out of the fat euen vnto the horse bridles, by the space of a thousand and fiue hundred furlongs.

The xv. Chapter.

The song of them that ouercome the beast.

AND I saw another signe in heauen great and marueilous, seuen Angels hauing the seuen last plagues, for in them is fulfilled the wrath of God.

2 And I saw as it were a glassie Sea, mingled with fire, and them that had gotten the victorie of the beast, and of his image, and of his marke, and of the number of his name, stand on the glassie sea, hauing the harpes of God.

3 And they sing the song of Moses the seruant of God, and the song of the Lambe, saying, Great and marueilous are thy workes, Pfal.141.6. Lorde God Almightie, * iust and true are thy wayes, thou king of saints.

Iere.10,7. 4 *Who shall not feare thee, O Lorde, and glorifie thy name? for thou onely art holy: And all Gentiles shall come, and worship before thee, for thy iudgements are made manifest.

5 And after that I looked, and behold, the Temple of the tabernacle of the testimony was open in heauen:

6 And the seuen Angels came out of the Temple, hauing the seuen plagues, clothed in pure and bright linnen, & hauing their breastes girded with golden girdles.

7 And one of the foure beasts gaue vnto the seuen Angels seuen golden vials, full of the wrath of God which liueth for euermore.

8 And the Temple was full of the smoake of the glorie of God, and of his power, and no man was able to enter into the Temple, till the seuen plagues of the seuen Angels were fulfilled.

The xvj. Chapter.

1 The Angels powre out their vials full of wrath, 6 and what plagues follow thereof. 15 Admonition to take heed and watch.

AND I heard a great voice out of the Temple, saying to the seuen Angels, Goe your wayes, powre out the vials of the wrath of God vpon the earth.

2 And the first Angel went, and powred out his viall vpon the earth, and there fell a noysome and a sore botch vpon the men which had the marke of the beast, and vpon them which worshipped his image.

3 And the second Angel shedde out his viall vpon the Sea, and it turned as it were into the blood of a dead man: and euery liuing thing died in the sea.

4 And the third Angel shedde out his viall vpon the riuers and fountaines of waters, and they turned to blood.

5 And I heard the Angel of the waters say, Lorde, which art, and wast, thou art righteous and that holy one, because thou hast giuen such iudgements:

6 For they haue shed out the blood of saints and Prophets, and therefore hast thou giuen them blood to drinke: for they are worthie.

7 And I heard another out of the altar, say, Euen so Lorde God Almightie, true and righteous are thy iudgements.

8 And the fourth Angel powred out his vial on the Sunne, and power was giuen vnto him to burne men with feruent heate of fire.

9 And men boiled in great heate, and blasphemed the name of God, which hath power ouer these plagues: and they repented not to giue him glory.

10 And the fifth Angel powred out his viall vpon the seate of the beast, and his kingdome waxed darke, and they gnewe their tongues for sorowe,

11 And blasphemed the God of heauen, for their sorowes, and for their sores, and repented not their deeds.

12 And the first Angel powred out his viall vpon the great riuer Euphrates, and the water thereof dried vp, that the way of the kings of the East should be prepared.

13 And I saw three vncleane spirites like frogges, come out of the mouth of the Dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet.

14 For they are the spirits of deuils working miracles, to goe out vnto the kings of the earth, and of the whole worlde, to gather them to the battell of that great day of God Almightie.

15 *Behold, I come as a theefe. Happie is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, least he walke naked, and men see his filthinesse. Mat.24.44. luke 12.39.

16 And hee gathered them together into a place, called in the Hebrue tongue Armagedon.

17 And the seuenth Angel powred out his viall into the aire: and there came a great voice out of the temple of heauen, from the throne, saying, It is done.

18 And there followed voices, thunderings, and lightenings: and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were vpon the earth, so mightie an earthquake, and so great.

19 And the great citie was diuided into three partes, and the Citie of the nations fell: And great Babylon came in remembrance before God, *to giue vnto her the cuppe of the wine of Iere.25.15.

the fiercenesse of his wrath.

20 Euery Ile also fled away, and the mountaines were not found.

21 And there fell a great haile, as it had bene talents, out of heauen, vpon the men, and the men blasphemed God, because of the plague of the haile: for the plague thereof was exceeding great.

The xvij. Chapter.

3 The description of the great whore, 8 and her sins, and punishment.

AND there came one of the seuen Angels, which had the seuen vials, and talked with mee, saying vnto me, Come, I will shew vnto thee the iudgement of the great whore, that sitteth vpon many waters:

2 With whom haue committed fornication the kings of the earth, and the inhabiters of the earth are drunken with the wine of her fornication.

3 So he caried mee away in the spirit into the wildernesse: and I saw a woman sit vpon a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemie, hauing seuen heads and ten hornes.

4 And the woman was araied in purple and scarlet colour, and decked with golde, precious stone, and pearles, hauing a cup of golde in her hand, full of abominations and filthinesse of her fornication.

5 And in her forehead was a name written, a mysterie, great Babylon, the mother of whordome and abominations of the earth.

6 And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the Martyrs of Iesus: and when I saw her, I wondred with great maruell.

7 And the Angel said vnto mee, Wherefore marueilest thou? I will shew thee the mysterie of the woman, and of the beast that beareth her, which hath seuen heads, and ten hornes.

8 And the beast that thou sawest, was, and is not, and shal ascend out of the bottomlesse pit, and goeth into perdition, and they that dwel on the earth shall wonder (whose names are not written in the booke of life from the beginning of the world) when they beholde the beast that was, and is not, and yet is.

9 And here is a meaning that hath wisedome. The seuen heads, are seuen mountaines, on which the woman sitteth: they are also seuen kings.

10 Fiue are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come: And when he commeth, he must continue a short space.

11 And the beast that was, and is not, is euen the eight, and is one of the seuen, and goeth into destruction.

12 And the tenne hornes which thou sawest, are ten kings, which haue receiued no kingdom as yet: but receiue power as kings at one houre with the beast.

13 These haue one minde, and shal giue their power and strength vnto the beast.

14 These shal fight with the Lambe, and the Lambe shall ouercome them: * For he is the Lord of Lords, and the King of Kings, and they that are on his side, are called, and chosen, and faithfull. 1.Tim.6.15 apoc.9.16.

15 And he saith vnto me, The waters which thou sawest where the whore sitteth, are people, and folke, and nations, and tongues.

16 And the ten hornes which thou sawest vpon the beast, are they that shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate, and naked, and shall eate her flesh, and burne her with fire.

17 For God hath put in their hearts to fulfill his will, and to doe with one consent, for to giue their kingdome vnto the beast, vntill the words of God shall be fulfilled.

18 And the woman which thou sawest, is that great citie which reigneth ouer the kings of the earth.

The xviij. Chapter.

3.9 The louers of the world are sorie for the fall of the whore of Babylon: 20 But they that be of God, haue cause to reioyce for her destruction.

AND after that, I saw another Angel come from heauen, hauing great power, & the earth was lightened with his glorie.

2 And he cried mightily with a strong voyce, saying, * Great Babylon is fallen, and is become the habitation of deuils, and the hold of all foule spirits, and a cage of al vncleane and hatefull birdes: Esai.21.9. ierc.51.8.

3 For all nations haue drunken of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth haue committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich of the abundance of her pleasures.

4 And I heard another voice from heauen say, Come away from her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sinnes, and that ye receiue not of her plagues.

5 For her sinnes are gone vp to heauen, and God hath remembred her wickednesse.

6 Reward her euen as she rewarded you, and giue her double according to her workes, and powre in double to her in the same cup which she filled vnto you.

7 And as much as she glorified her selfe, and liued wantonly, so much powre yee in for her of punishment and sorow: for she said in her heart, I sit being a queene, * and am no widowe, and shall see no sorow. Esai.47.8.

8 Therefore shall her plagues come in one day, death, and sorow, and hunger, and she shall be vtterly burnt with fire, for strong is the Lord which iudgeth her.

9 And they shall bewaile her, and the kings of the earth shall lament for her, which haue committed fornication with her, and haue liued wantonly with her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning:

10 Standing afarre off for feare of her punishment, saying, Alas, alas, that great citie Babylon, that mightie citie, for at one houre is thy iudgement come.

11 And the marchants of the earth do weepe and waile ouer her, for no man buyeth their ware any more.

12 The ware of gold, and siluer, and precious stones, and of pearles, and raines, and purple, and silke, and scarlet, and all Thyne wood, and all maner vessels of Yuorie, and all maner vessels of most precious wood, and of brasse, and yron, and marble.

13 And Cynamome, and odours, and ointments, and frankinsence, and wine, and oile,

and

and fine floure, and wheate, and beastes, & sheep, and horses, and charets, and bodies and soules of men.

14 And the apples that thy soule lusted after, are departed from thee, & all things which were daintie, and had in price, are departed from thee, and thou shalt finde them no more at all.

15 The merchants of these things which were wared rich, shall stand afarre off from her, for feare of the punishment of her, weeping and wayling,

16 And saying, Alas, alas, that great citie, that was clothed in raines, and purple, and scarlet, and decked with gold, and purple, and precious stones, and pearles:

17 For at one houre so great riches is come to nought. And euery ship gouernour, and all they that occupie ships, and shipmen, and as many as worke in the sea, stoode afarre off,

18 And cried when they saw the smoke of her burning, saying, What citie is like vnto this great citie?

19 And they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping, and wailing, and saying, Alas, alas, that great citie, wherin were made rich all that had ships in the sea, by reason of her costlinesse, for at one houre is she made desolate.

20 Reioice ouer her thou heauen, and ye holy Apostles and Prophets, for God hath giuen your iudgement on her.

21 And a mighty Angel tooke vp a stone like a great milstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, With such violence shall that great citie Babylon be cast, and shall be found no more at all.

22 And the voice of harpers, and musitions, and of pipers, and trumpetters, shal be heard no more at all in thee: and no craftsman, of whatsoeuer craft he be, shalbe found any more in thee: and the sound of a mill, shall be heard no more at all in thee:

23 And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee: & the voice of the bridegrome and of the bride shall bee heard no more at all in thee: for thy merchants were the great men of the earth: and with thine enchantments were deceiued all nations.

24 And in her was found the blood of the Prophets, and of the Saints, and of all that were slaine vpon the earth.

The xix. Chapter.

Praises are giuen to God for iudging the whore.

AND after these things I heard a great voice of much people in heauen, saying, [a] Alleluia: saluation and glory, and honour, and power be ascribed to the Lord our God:

a That is, praise ye God, because that Antichrist and all wickednesse is taken out of the world.

2 For true and righteous are his iudgments, for hee hath iudged the great whore which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath throughly auenged the blood of his seruants of her hand.

3 And againe they said, Alleluia: and her smoke rose vp for euermore.

4 And the foure and twenty Elders, and the foure beasts fell downe, & worshipped God that sate on the throne, saying, Amen, Alleluia.

5 And a voice came out of the throne, saying, Praise our Lord God all ye that are his seruants, and ye that feare him, both small and great.

6 And I heard as it were the voice of much people, euen as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of strong thundrings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

7 Let vs be glad and reioice, and giue honour to him: for the marriage of the Lambe is come, and his wife hath made her selfe ready.

8 And to her was granted, that she should be arayed with pure and goodly raines: for the raines is the righteousnesse of Saints.

9 And he said vnto me, Write, *Happie are they which are called vnto the supper of the Lambes mariage. And hee said vnto me, These are the true sayings of God. Mat.22.2, 10 And I fell at his feet, to worship him: And hee said vnto me, See thou doe it not: for I am thy fellow seruant, and of thy brethren that haue the testimony of Jesus. Worship God: for the testimonie of Jesus, is the spirit of prophecie.

11 And I sawe heauen open, and beholde a white horse, and he that sate vpon him was called faithfull and true, and in righteousnesse hee doeth iudge and make battell.

12 His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crownes, and hee had a name written, that no man knewe but he himselfe.

13 *And hee was clothed with a vesture dipt in blood, & his name is called the word of God. Esa.63.2, 14 And the armies which were in heauen followed him vpon white horses, cloathed with white and pure raines.

15 And out of his mouth goeth a sharpe sword, that with it he should smite the heathen: *and he shall rule them with a rod of yron: and hee treadeth the winefat of the fiercenesse and wrath of Almightie God. Psal.2.15.

16 And hee hath on his vesture, and on his thigh a name written, *King of King, and Lord of Lords. 1.Tim 6.16 apo.17.14.

17 And I saw an Angel stand in the Sunne, and he cryed with a loud voice, saying to all the foules that flie by the mids of heauen, Come and gather your selues together vnto the supper of the great God:

18 That yee may eate the flesh of Kings, and the flesh of high captaines, and the flesh of mightie men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all free men, & bondmen, and of small and great.

19 And I sawe the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies gathered together to make battell against him that sate on the horse, and against his armie.

20 And the beast was taken, and with him that false prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceiued them that receiued the beasts marke, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast quicke into a pond of fire, burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant were slaine with the sworde of him that sate vpon the horse, which sword proceeded out of his mouth: and all the foules were filled with their flesh.

The xx. Chapter.

2 Satan being bound for a certaine time, 7 and after let loose, vexeth the Church grieuously.

that old serpent, which is the deuill and Satanas, and bound him a thousand yeres,
3 And cast him into the bottomlesse pit, and he shut him vp, and set a seale on him, that hee should deceiue the nations no more, till the thousand yeeres should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed for a little season.
4 And I saw thrones, and they sate vpon them, and iudgement was giuen vnto them: and I sawe the soules of them that were beheaded for the witnesse of Iesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had taken his marke vpon their foreheads, or in their hands, and they liued and reigned with Christ a thousand yeres.
5 But the other of the dead men did not liue againe vntill the thousand yeeres were finished. This is the first resurrection.
6 Blessed and holy is hee that hath part in the first resurrection: for on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be the Priests of God, and of Christ, and shall reigne with him a thousand yeeres.
7 And when the thousand yeres are expired, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison:
8 And shall goe out to deceiue the nations which are in the foure quarters of the earth, Ezec. 39.2. *Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battell: whose number is as the sand of the sea.
9 And they went vp in the plain of the earth, and compassed the tents of the Saints about, and the beloued citie: and fire came downe from God out of heauen, and deuoured them:
10 And the deuill that deceiued them, was cast into a lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet shall be tormented day and night for euermore.
11 And I saw a great white throne, and him that sate on it, from whose face fled away both the earth and the heauen, and their place was no more found.
12 And I sawe the dead both small and great stand before God: and the bookes were opened: and another *booke was opened, which is Apoc. 3.5. and 21.17. the booke of life: and the dead were iudged of those things which were written in the bookes, phil. 4.3. according to their deedes.
13 And the sea gaue vp her dead which were in her: and death and hell deliuered vp the dead which were in them: and they were iudged euery man according to his deeds.
14 And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire: this is the second death.
15 And whosoeuer was not found written in the booke of life, was cast into the lake of fire.

2 And I John saw the holy citie new Hierusalem, come downe from God out of heauen, prepared as a bride garnished for her husband.
3 And I heard a great voice out of heauen, saying, Behold, the Tabernacle of God is with men, and he wil dwell with them, and they shall bee his people, and God himselfe shall bee with them, and be their God.
4 *And God shal wipe away all teares from their eyes: and there shall be no more death, neither sorow, neither crying, neither shall there be any more paine: for the former things are gone. Esai. 45.19. apoc. 7.17
5 And he that sate vpon the throne, sayde, *Behold, I make all things new. And he sayd vnto me, Write: for these wordes are true and faithfull. Esa. 43.19.
6 And he sayd vnto me, It is done: I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. *I will giue vnto him that is athirst, of the well of the water of life freely. Apoc. 1.8. and 22.13.
7 He that ouercommeth, shall inherite all things, and I will be his God, and he shall be my sonne.
8 But the fearefull, and vnbeleeuing, and the abominable, & murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall haue their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death.
9 And there came vnto mee one of the seuen Angels, which had the seuen vials full of the seuen last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shewe thee the bride, the lambs wife.
10 And he caried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountaine, and shewed me that great citie, holy Hierusalem, descending out of heauen from God,
11 Hauing the glory of God: and her shining was like vnto a stone most precious, euen like a Iasper, cleare as Chrystall:
12 And had a wall great and high, and had twelue gates, and at the gates twelue Angels, and names written, which are the names of the twelue tribes of Israel.
13 On the East side three gates, and on the North side three gates, and towards the South three gates, and from the West three gates.
14 And the wall of the citie had twelue foundations, and in them the twelue names of the Lambes twelue Apostles.
15 And he that talked with me, had a golden reede to measure the citie withall, and the gates thereof, and the walles thereof.
16 And the citie lieth foure square, and the length was as large as the breadth: and he measured the citie with the reede, twelue thousand furlongs: and the length, and the breadth, and the height of it are equall.
17 And he measured the wall therof, an hundred, and fourtie, and foure cubites, by the measure of man, that is, of the Angel.
18 And the building of the wall of it was of Iasper, and the citie was pure golde, like vnto cleere glasse.
19 And the foundations of the wall of the citie were garnished with all maner of precious stones. The first foundation was Iasper, the second Saphir, the third a Chalcedony, the fourth an Emerald,
20 The fift Sardonix, the sixt Sardius, the seuenth Chrysolite, the eight Beryl, the ninth a Topas, the tenth a Chrysophrasus, the eleuenth a Iacinct: the twelfth an Amethyst.
21 The twelue gates were twelue pearles, euery gate was of one pearle, and the street of the citie was pure gold, as it were shining glasse.
22 And I sawe no temple there in: for the Lord God Almightie, and the Lambe, are the Temple of it.

Esai.60.19. 23 * And the citie hath no need of the Sunne, neither of the Moone to lighten it: for the glory of God did lighten it: and the Lambe is the light of it.

Esai.60.3. 24 * And the nations of them which are saued, shall walke in the light of it: and the kings of the earth doe bring their glorie and honour vnto it.

Esai.60.11. 25 * And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shalbe no night.

26 And they shall bring the glory, and honour of the Gentiles vnto it.

27 And there shal in no wise enter into it any vncleane thing, neither whatsoeuer worketh abomination, or maketh lies: but they only which are * written in the lambes booke of life.

Phil.4.3. apoc.1.5. and 20.12.

The xxij. Chapter.

1 The riuer of the water of life. 9 The Angel will not be worshipped.

AND he shewed me a pure riuer of water of life, clearer as Chrystall, proceeding out of the throne of God, and of the Lambe.

2 In the middest of the streete of it, and of either side of the riuer was there wood of life, which bare twelue maner of fruits, and gaue fruite euery moneth: and the leaues of the wood serued to heale the people withall.

3 And there shall be no more curse, but the throne of God, and the Lambe shall be in it, and his seruants shall serue him.

4 And they shall see his face, and his name shalbe in their foreheads.

Esai.60.19. 5 * And there shall be no night there, & they needs no candle, neither light of the sunne, for the Lord God giueth them light, and they shall reigne for euermore.

6 And he said vnto mee, These sayings are faithfull and true. And the Lord God of the holy Prophets sent his Angel to shewe vnto his seruants the things which must shortly be fulfilled.

7 Behold, I come shortly: Happie is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophecie of this booke.

8 I John saw these things, & heard them. And when I had heard and seene, I fell downe to * worship before the feete of the Angel, which shewed me these things. Apo.19.10.

9 Then saith he vnto mee, See thou doe it not: for I am thy fellow seruant, and the fellow seruant of thy brethren the Prophets, and of them which keepe the sayings of this booke: but worship God.

10 And he saieth vnto me, Seale not the sayings of the prophecie of this booke: for the time is at hand.

11 He that doeth euill, let him doe euill still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

12 And beholde, I come shortly, and my reward is with me, * to giue euery man according as his deedes shall be. Rom.2.6.

13 I am Alpha and Omega, * the beginning and the end, the first and the last. Esai.41.6. and 44.6.

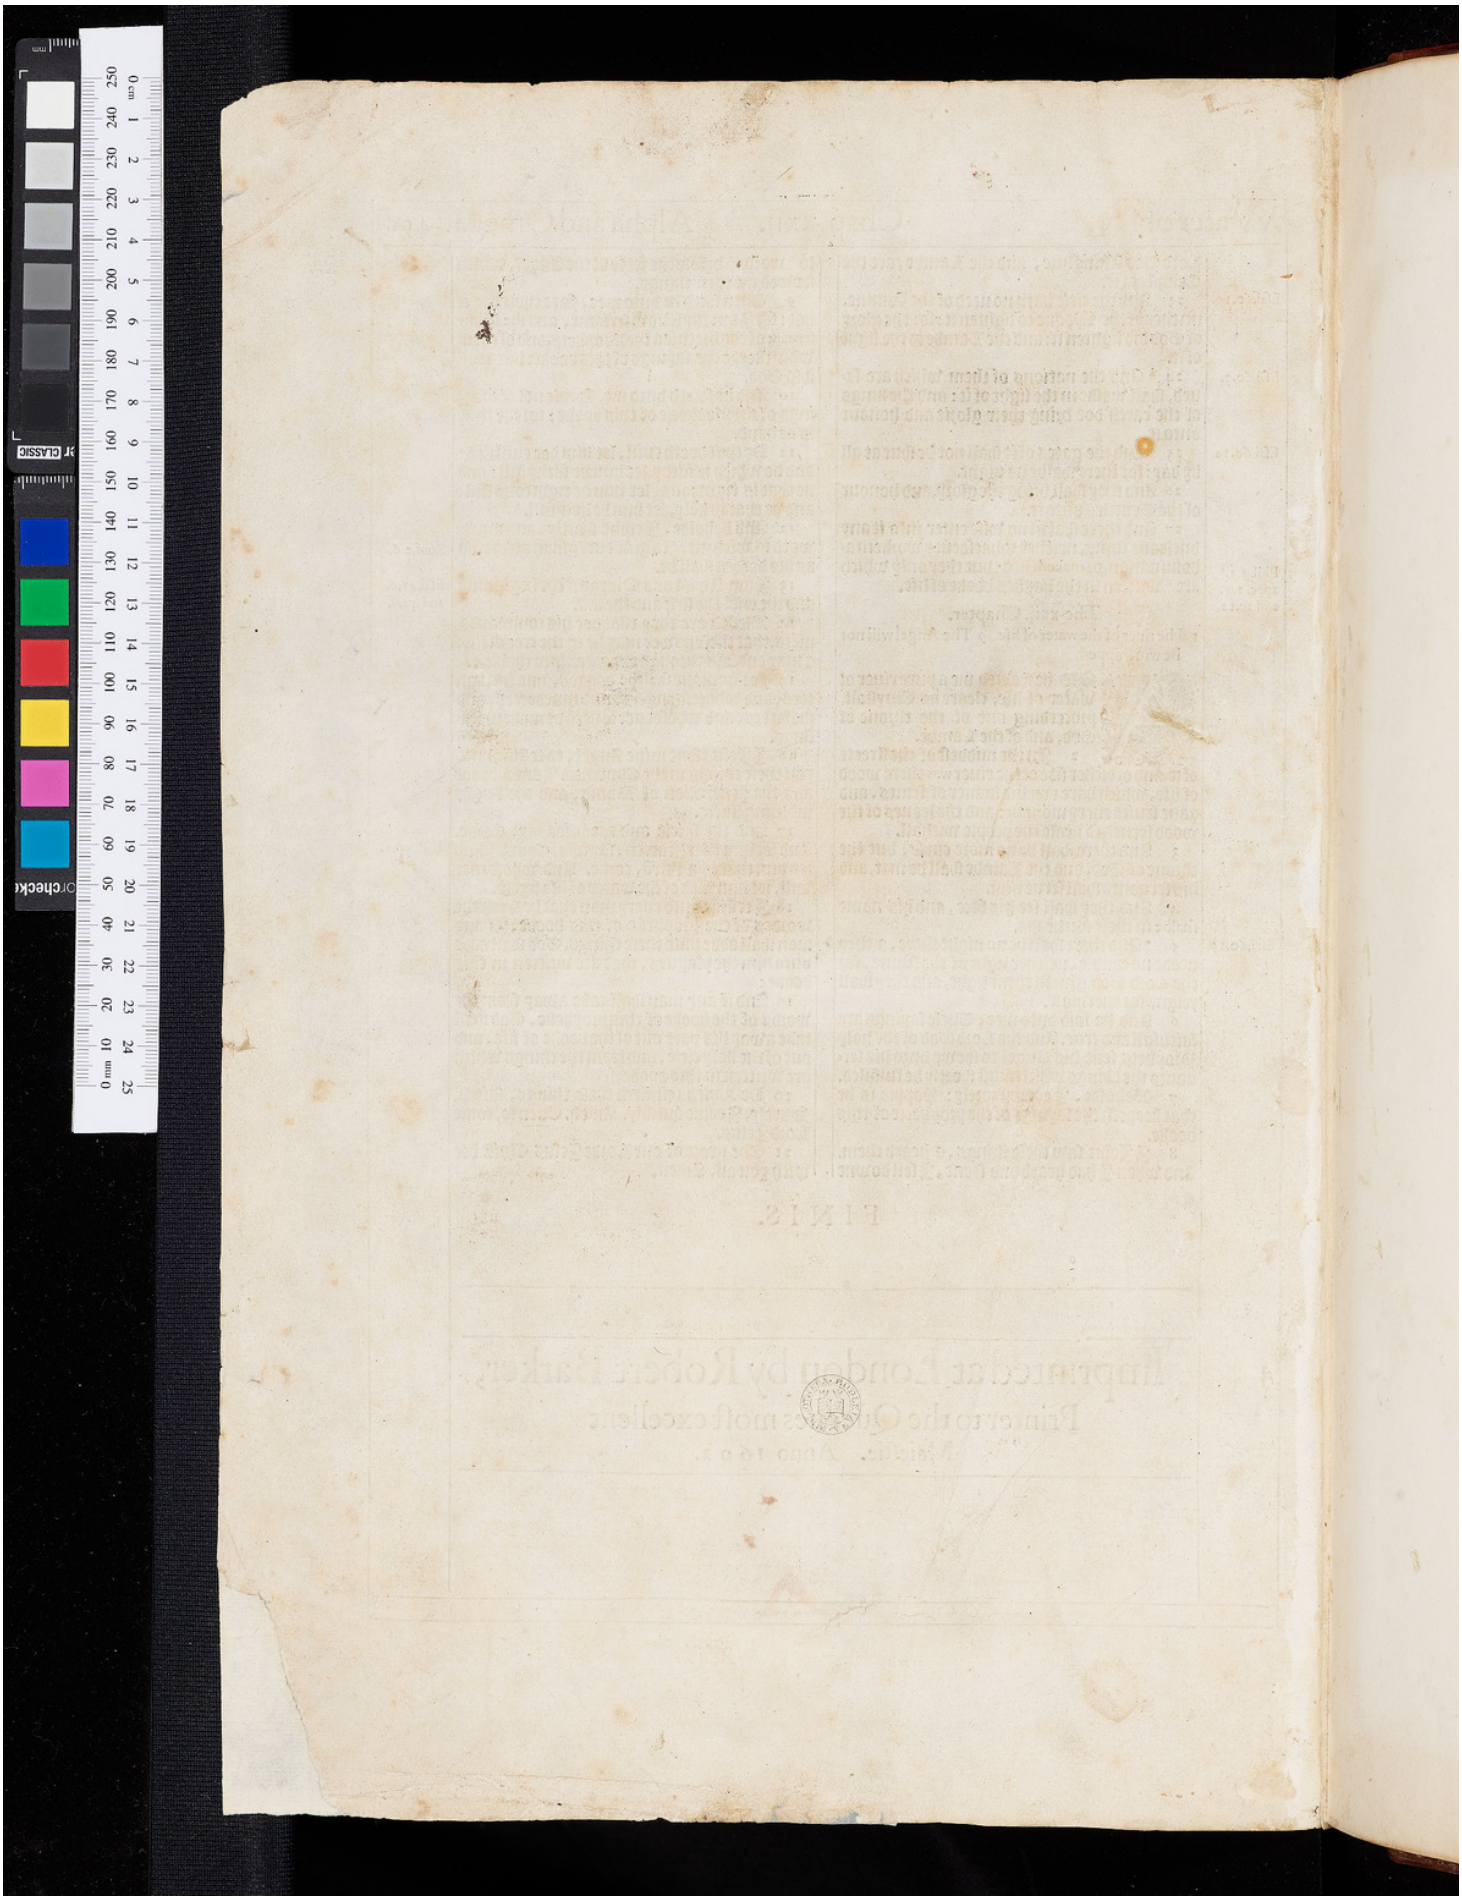
14 Blessed are they that doe his commandements, that their power may be in the tree of life, & may enter in through the gates into the citie.

15 For without shall be dogges, and inchanters, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoeuer loueth or maketh leasings.

16 I Jesus sent mine Angel, to testifie vnto you these things in the Churches. I am the root and the generation of Dauid, and the bright morning starre.

17 And the spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth, say also, Come. * And let him that is a thirst, come. And whosoeuer will, let him take of the water of life freely. Esai.55.1.

18 I testifie vnto euery man that heareth the words of the prophesie of this booke, If any man shall adde vnto these things, God shall adde vnto him the plagues, that are written in this booke:



19 And if any man shall take away from the words of the booke of this prophesie, God shall take away his part out of the booke of life, and out of the holy citie, and from the things which are written in this booke.

20 He which testifieth these things, saieth, Surely, I come quickly. Amen. Euen so, come Lord Jesus.

21 The grace of our Lorde Jesus Christ bee with you all. Amen.
